BULGARIA HAS TAKEN FIRST STEP TOWARD WITHDRAWAL FROM THE CENTRAL POWERS

Accepts Terms Imposed by Allies For an Armistice in Token of Her Eagerness to Quit War--German Chancellor and Foreign Secretary are Reported to Have Resigned

By Courier Leased Wire.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—An armistice has been concluded between the Allies and Bulgaria on the Allies own terms.

This announcement was made officially today.

FERDY PLEDGES LOYALTY

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 30.—King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has telegraphed to Emperor Charles of Austria, assuring him of his loyalty to the quadruple alliance, according to The Neue Freie Presse, which is quoted in dispatches reaching here.

AMERICAN PLAYED PART

LONDON, Sept. 30.—An American said to be the United States charge d' affaires at Sofia, accompanied the Bulgarian delegates to Saloniki to confer with the Allied command, relative to an armistice, according to a Berlin telegram here by way of Copenhagen. It is said by the telegram that "he apparently played a very important part in recent events."

NEGOTIATIONS PROCEEDING

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Negotiations are proceeding between the Bulgarian delegates and the Allied command at Saloniki regarding the terms of the armistice proposed by Bulgaria, according to a Reuter telegram from Saloniki.

It is pointed out that the fact that M. Radoff, former member of the Bulgarian cabinet and former Bulgarian minister at Berne, has been added to the delegation, shows that the Bulgarian Government is in earnest in its offer. M. Radoff is one of Bulgaria's most skillful and experienced diplomat, and is an eminent writer and politician.

HERTLING AND HINTZE QUIT

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 30.—(Bulletin.)—Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Secretary von Hintze have tendered their resignation to the Emperor, The Vossische Zeitung of Berlin says it understands.

Bulgarian representatives agreed to an armistice—probably the first step in Bulgaria's withdrawal from the Alliance with the Central Powers—a few days less than three years after she entered the war on the side of Germany. It was on October 3, 1915, that Bulgaria issued a manifesto announcing her decision to cast her lot against the Entente Alliance. She has been 15 months in deciding her course.

In the manifesto issued at the time of her entrance into the ranks of the belligerents, the Bulgarian government declared that her trade interests and economic rights were inseparably bound up with Turkey, Germany and Austria. It was added that Germany had offered Bulgaria, in return for her neutrality the whole of Macedonia, including Uskub, Monastir and Ochrida. A still greater territorial expansion at the expense of Serbia was said to have been offered as a condition of active military assistance.

FOCH FIGHTING FIVE BATTLES AT ONE TIME

Unparalleled Feat in History of War Now in Progress; Five Armies Supporting one Another in Joint Effort

By Courier Leased Wire

Paris, Sept. 30.—Marshal Foch is fighting five battles simultaneously and successfully—a feat unparalleled in the history of the war. Each battle is so timed and placed that each army supports another, all forming an indispensable part of the whole effort.

There are five battles to-day; there may be more to-morrow, all inter-related and working as smoothly as the cylinders of a well adjusted automobile engine. All are directed to the same end—to wear down the enemy's strength. Marshal Foch alone knows when the Allies will strike the decisive blow. The enemy is still fighting well. He is still offering splendid resistance west of Argonne, but how long can he keep it up?

Expert commentators agree that the enemy's withdrawal to a shorter line, probably that of Antwerp, Brussels, Metz and Metz, is imminent. Some believe he has hung on too long and that he will have great difficulty in preventing his retreat from degenerating into a rout. "For Foch as for Napoleon," says Major De Oliveira in The Matin, "to conquer is not to push back an enemy behind the lines previously fixed upon, but gripping him everywhere, to break the integrity of his forces and then hurl him disjointed and destroyed on the road to irreparable defeat. Like all great dramas which have changed the face of the world, the one which is being played during these fateful hours will bring triumph. Victory is in sight."

An examination of one section of 22-mile front on which General Gouraud is attacking in the Champagne will give an idea of the German wastage. On the eve of the attack General Lindendorf, feeling uneasy, reinforced the defenders with two or three divisions. After two days fighting he threw in ten more divisions. Thus twelve or thirteen divisions have been used up on a front of 22 miles only. From this the speed at which the Germans strength is being whittled away may easily be calculated.

The soberest and most conservative observers here considered that yesterday marked the first step in the decisive phase of the war. The Belgians are close to Roulers, the British marching up the Lys, will outflank Lille; the Stegried line is going to pieces at two vital points, namely, General and St. Quentin, the fall of which places is considered a question of hours. Le Cateau, the central pillar of the Hindenburg system, is outflanked; General Mangin is driving the enemy north of the Chemin des Dames. Gouraud is at the gates of Chalons on his way to Vouziers, "the key to the lateral railroad communications of the Germans. Moreover, during the last week the Allies on the western front have taken more than 50,000 prisoners.

DISCUSSION PROPOSED Amsterdam, Sept. 30.—A proposition that the president and vice presidents of the parliaments of belligerent and neutral states shall be invited to meet for an unbinding discussion of the basis of peace has been introduced in the lower house of the Austrian parliament. The motion, says a Vienna message, was introduced by Herr Neumann, a Liberal deputy. It would empower the president of the Chamber of Deputies to convey the invitation to the parliaments of the belligerents and neutral states. The meeting would be held at a place agreed upon.

ATTACK IN CHAMPAGNE IS RENEWED BY FRENCH

Battle Begun Again at Daybreak — Gouraud Crosses Alin Brook and Captures Heights Above the Marne

By Courier Leased Wire

Paris, Sept. 30.—General Gouraud's army attacked this morning on the western slopes of Bellevue Heights, Mont Cavallet and Bonconville. Alin Brook, which flows northeast toward Chalons, has been crossed and heights dominating the village of Manre, on the west side of the Brook, have been taken.

ATTACK RESUMED

Paris, Sept. 30.—French troops in the Champagne resumed their attack at daybreak to-day, the War Office announced. The Germans violently counter-attacked last night south of St. Quentin, the Arrillers region, in an attempt to recapture Hill 88. All these efforts were broken up by French defence.

The text of the statement reads: "In the course of the night the Germans delivered a violent counter-attack in the region of Arrillers (south of St. Quentin). All their attempts to capture Hill 88 were broken up by the French fire.

"Rather violent artillery fighting occurred between the Ailette and the Aisne.

"In the Champagne there was no infantry action during the night. The battle began again at daybreak."

RESISTING DESPERATELY

With the French Army on the Champagne front, Sept. 29.—(Reuter's).—German forces are resisting with desperate energy the further advance of General Gouraud's army. Yesterday's fighting was of the bitterest character, the Germans clinging with determination to the ridge north of the Py. River and the village of Hornoise. Furious counter-attacks were made at every opportunity, the enemy command bringing reinforcements into the fight recklessly.

Ten fresh enemy divisions were identified in the fighting and defended their positions with undeniable bravery and tenacity. General Gouraud's soldiers, however, proved to be more than a match for the Germans, whose counter-attacks failed to regain an inch of ground.

FRESH ATTACK ON HINDENBURG LINE SUNDAY

The British and American Troops Assailed Strongest Point in the Line

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT Forty-Eight Hours of Artillery Fire Preceded the Infantry Drive

British Headquarters in France, Sept. 29.—Striking at the strongest point of the Hindenburg line between St. Quentin and Le Cateau, British and American troops launched a terrific attack at six o'clock this morning. Forty eight hours before the infantry advanced against the German lines, the British artillery had maintained a terrific fire against the enemy positions. For the last ten hours of this bombardment gas shells by the thousands were hurled against the Germans, causing a comparative silence to fall over the enemy lines.

During the night a preliminary infantry attack developed between Maroilles and Manieres against the main Hindenburg line and met with satisfactory success. Under a creeping curtain of flame, the main assault was launched. A large force of American troops shouting "Lusitania" advanced in the first waves with splendid dash, their war cry being a ringing slogan. A large number of tanks went out with the first wave being directed against a front of 6,000 yards south of Venault, when the St. Quentin canal passed through a tunnel.

The weather was fine and cold with a light frosty mist that served to hide the Allies' movements from the enemy. It has been learned from prisoners that the enemy had nine divisions in close reserve as the prolonged bombardment gave him ample notice of what was coming. The Allies anticipated stiff resistance. Using the Vendhuile gap as a bridge, the Americans stormed forward deploying fan-wise as they went. One British division swam across the canal. The men shaking themselves and laughing as they reformed their line on the eastern bank. Then under steady machine gun fire advanced forward into the village of Bellignies.

At 9 o'clock the prisoners were streaming back in droves. By this time the first phase of the attack had ended and after a pause the advance was resumed. Then one of the most dramatic incidents of the battle occurred. The Americans, tired and besplashed but in hearty spirits, opened their ranks and Australian units, moving up in support, swept through them and became the first wave of the renewed attack. The storm of cheering that greeted this manoeuvre rose high above the roar of the conflict.

There was hard fighting at many places where the Germans had established redoubts of extraordinary strength. American battalions which advanced so rapidly at first that some were checked by their own barrage fire, met with some resistance. An immensely strong machine gun position at the entrance of the subterranean canal, gave much trouble but was subdued by the aid of tanks. New Zealand regiments drove a deep dent into the enemy's line at a point directly south of Cambrai, and took 1,000 prisoners.

Early in the morning Canadians approached Ramilles, north of Cambrai, and at some points were astride the more important lines of communications there. As morning advanced it became clear that the battle was developing into a victory. Progress through the Zigzagged network of trenches was naturally slow, but the Allies troops succeeded almost everywhere. East of the canal, the German opposition seemed unable to arrest their advance. The enemy artillery fire was for the most part desultory and then from long range. Much personal equipment abandoned by the enemy appears to be quite new.

Le Cateau, the key position to the whole sector between Bellignies and Benteux was unofficially reported in Allied hands by noon. Good news came in all day. The Allies appear

CONGRATULATIONS SENT TO GREEK GOVERNMENT BY FRENCH COMMANDER

By Courier Leased Wire

Athens, Sept. 29.—General Franchet De Sperry, the commander of the Allied forces in the Macedonian campaign, has sent the following telegram to the Greek Government: "At the moment of the success of the offensive movement on the Macedonian front I wish to express to you the entire satisfaction with the brilliant conduct which has marked the Greek participation in the battle. I wish particularly to mention a division which attacked west of Lake Doiran over ground that was very difficult. It covered itself with new glory and carried positions which were extremely formidable and sharply defended, capturing a large number of prisoners.

"Certain of the Greek units have added materially to the magnitude of the victory. One of these, the recently arrived 35th Regiment of Infantry, united with the French in capturing the important Massif of Preslap and the village of Zhorsko. All of the Greek troops engaged have rivalled in endurance and spirit and all have won new laurels."

SUBURBS OF CAMBRAI ENTERED BY BRITISH

Progress Continued Last Night by the British, American and Australian Troops; Four Thousand Prisoners Taken Yesterday

By Courier Leased Wire

London, Sept. 30.—British, American and Australian forces pushed forward last night on the front between Bellicourt and Gonnelieu in the face of severe opposition. Field Marshal Haig announced today.

Four thousand prisoners were taken by the Allied forces yesterday to the north of St. Quentin and forty guns were captured there.

British forces have entered the northern suburbs of Cambrai. On the front northwest of Le Cateau, German counter-attacks pressed the British back to the outskirts of Villers-Guislain, while to the southwest of Le Cateau similar pressure sent Field Marshal Haig's troops back to the edge of the Village of Bony.

On the front southeast of Douai the British have withdrawn from Arisieux and Aubencheuil-au-Bac. The text of the statement reads: "In the operations yesterday north of St. Quentin the Midland division alone took 4,000 prisoners and 40 guns.

"Between Bellicourt and Gonnelieu the enemy resistance yesterday was obstinate. Australian and English troops had heavy fighting until late evening. In spite of strong opposition they gained ground and took many prisoners."

"Heavy fighting also occurred yesterday afternoon on the left of the battle front. Our advanced troops who had taken Aubencheuil-au-Bac and had entered Arisieux were compelled to withdraw from these villages.

"West and northwest of Cambrai the enemy was unable to prevent the progress of our troops whose advanced detachments reached the junction of the Arras-Cambrai and Bapaume-Cambrai roads and entered the northern suburbs of the town.

"Heavy losses were inflicted upon the enemy in the repulse of determined counter-attacks that were launched in this sector. "Heavy rain has fallen during the night and the weather is still stormy."

ALEXANDRA SCHOOL LEAGUE HELD ITS ANNUAL MEETING

Reports Showed Good Year's Work — Officers for 1919 Elected

The annual meeting of the Alexandra School League was held at the school on Friday afternoon. That a good deal of interest is being taken in the work of the league was manifest by those present, among whom were trustees Miss Collier and Mrs. Ballachey, who spoke encouragingly.

Principal Foster asked the members not to forget the main object of the league, which was to bring the parents and the teachers into closer co-operation for the benefit of the pupils, and asked for suggestions. Some valuable hints were given. He said that complaints from parents were fortunately very few, and they never came from those who understood and were working with the teachers.

Tea was served, during which three of the senior girls, Phyllis Moore, Kathleen Kerr and Doris Shears, played piano solos very acceptably. Mrs. Frank, the first vice-president, occupied the chair. The secretary-treasurer's report showed total receipts for the year to be $24.02, of which $17.75 and $28 pair box were given for war purposes. Much credit for the success of the year's work was due to the untiring efforts of the retiring president, Mrs. James Cox.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Frank.
First Vice-President—Mrs. Hodge.
Second Vice-President—Mrs. T. Lyle.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Foster.
Assistant Secretary—Miss Howden.

CORNERSTONE OF NEW PARISH HALL WAS LAID

Impressive Ceremony at St. Jude's Church Saturday Afternoon

The corner stone of the new parish hall was "well and truly laid" on Saturday afternoon by the Grand Master of Canada, W. H. Wardrop, K.C., of the A.F. & A.M. The latter body paraded in full regalia to the service, and formed a fitting body to be in charge of the laying of the corner stone. At 4 o'clock, the members of the Masonic lodges gathered on the floor of the new building, which was then under construction.

An address of welcome to the Grand Master was read by the Rev. E. C. Jenkins, after which the preliminaries of the laying were begun. Rev. Mr. Jenkins asked the Grand Master to perform the ceremony of laying the corner stone, according to the custom of the A.F. & A.M. He then, on behalf of the members of St. Jude's church, presented the Grand Master with a silver trowel, which was used with the good wishes of the people for him. The Grand Master replied briefly, stating his appreciation of the invitation in asking him to be present on such an auspicious occasion, and thanking the members of St. Jude's church for the presentation he had received.

Following this the laying of the corner stone took place. It was gradually lowered into place by one of the workmen, while the Grand Master performed the ceremony of laying the stone in accordance with the rules and customs of the Masonic lodge. Enclosed in stone was a manuscript containing the names of the leading movers and shakers at the time of the commencement of the building. His Majesty King George the Fifth being the King of the British Empire, His Royal Highness the Duke of Devonshire, being the Governor-General of Canada, His Excellency Sir John Hendrie, being the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario, the Right Hon. Sir Robert Laird Borden, being the Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada, Sir William Hearst, being the Premier of the Province of Ontario, His Worship, M. M. MacBride, being Mayor of the City of Brantford, Rev. E. C. Jenkins, being the Rector of the church, and the names of the two church wardens.

Included in the manuscript was the name of Grand Master of Canada, W. H. Wardrop, K.C., of the Ancient Order of Free Masons, and with the name of the various officers of the Masonic Lodges in the city. Then one of all the Canadian coins at present in circulation were deposited in the stone, followed by the current issue of the local newspapers. The top of the stone then received the customary tines, corn scattered on it, in token of plenty, wine poured on it and oil in anointing. The stone was sealed and a hymn was sung by the members of the lodge, of whom there were about one hundred and fifty present. The Grand Master then made a fitting address to the assembly, which had gathered to witness the ceremony after.

Grandmaster W. H. Wardrop, K.C., the layer of the stone, declared it "Well made, well laid, and well proven." He then performed the ceremony according to the Ancient Order of Masons. The stone had been laid according to the traditions of the Ancient Order of Masons and the building that is being erected here shall spread peace and good will among the people of the earth. The craftsmen had done their duty well and with uniformity. The beautiful building which had been thus begun should become the centre of the parish, and would radiate a great moral influence and moral activity everlasting would be the result. Religious life of the future generation would probably have its origin in the building at which so capable a commencement had just been made. Those who attend here in this building should exert an influence that there may radiate the truths of the lessons taught here by the Rev. Mr. Jenkins, and all his assistants and teachers. The speaker expressed the wish that the children who in future might enter the building for spiritual instruction may be blessed and receive a good start for a pure life. The children should be taught the great ideal of obedience to God, which is the key to all of man's happiness. He also hoped that all work carried on the future Parish Hall might prosper and wield a great influence with all with whom it might come in touch. The memory of this gathering in the opinion of the speaker will long remain in the minds of all present as a milestone in the history of the church. He then congratulated the officials of the church, for which the building was being built, on the auspicious commencement of operations and he hoped that the work would be pursued to a speedy and successful finish.

Following this address Rev. G. A. Woodside led in prayer, after which the strains of the National Anthem brought the ceremonies to a close. The members of the Ancient Order of Free Masons then paraded to their lodge room. A very remarkable fact was that the Grand Master was forced to leave immediately for Hamilton for a service there.

REV. W. E. BOWYER SAID FAREWELL

Pastor of Calvary Baptist Church Preached Final Sermon Last Night GOES TO DETROIT

To a congregation that filled the Calvary Baptist church, Rev. W. E. Bowyer preached his farewell sermon last night from the text "If any man would come after me let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me." The subject chosen by Mr. Bowyer was "Carry On," and was an earnest appeal made by the retiring pastor for the church to continue to labor in the strength and power of God.

"Sentences and phrases are expressions of thought, born in various times, and pass into common currency sometimes they are humorous, tender, brilliantly intellectual, or soul-stirring. Such a phrase is 'Carry On'; expressive as it is of determination on the part of our soldiers to win the present war. The men who have coined and used it are heroes of the great stamp. Never age of romance or chivalry; never knight in armor of the Lion hearted."

Charge, Chester charge, On Stanley on these last words of Marmion," brave and noble they were, have in substance been duplicated a thousand times in the present war by leaders, who struck down by shell or bullet, have passed on to what I do believe is that many a soldier has in the stress and peril of the battle, perished, caught the true meaning of the Christ of the scripture. "If any man would come after me let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me." How shall we characterize these beautiful and numberless ministries? The armchair critic who sits snugly at home and tells how the war ought to be won, etc., may have his opinion, but for ourselves we prefer to think that they are inspired by the noblest motives.

Herein may be the reason why this war has been permitted. I do not certainly know. I will not go as far as to say that which is practically the gist of the German thinkers and writers, that war is elemental and necessary, but I will say that we have been selfish and unworthy, but let us match their splendid service by our self-denying and cross bearing in the name of the Master.

This is my closing word and prayer for this church and community, "Carry On." Myself and family have spent eight years of happy association and fellowship with you. We have met with uniform kindness. We have a lasting affection for you. We have co-operated in temperance, social, educational and religious work. I have associated with the ministers of the city of all denominations, there could not be a finer lot of men for they are not made any better. I ask you of other churches to rally round your ministers. I have enjoyed the benefits of the Y.M.C.A. It is doing a noble part.

I lay down my work here with a feeling of gratitude, that it is in splendid shape for another minister to take up. I ask your loyal support for him whom God shall choose to lead you. For 1900 years men have been carrying on the glorious work of Christ since His coming. It demands the best of heart, soul, and strength. It can only be successful as you and all give your per-

How charged with punishment the scowl. I am the master of my fate. I am the captain of my soul. A glance at the text will show how broad and universal it is. "If any man" rich or poor, small or great, and herein lies much of its power and beauty, for we who minister that so to the average person, not to any exclusive class, nor must we make the mistake of saying it is only to those who are poor, for much as the Master loved "the common people," he did not shut out the rich. Many a rich man is more lonely and forsaken than the man of more moderate means. The "Carry On" message is for all.

That the thought also grips the present age and time is evident, there are some truths which are eternal, this is one. The greatest investment that we can make is to invest our lives in the service of the Christ of Calvary.

THE SITUATION.
Achievements on part of the Allies are piling up these days with a rapidity and continuity which is almost breathtaking. Deep down in the hearts of most wherever, or somehow, the Hun would record a come back; that he had something up his sleeve which would serve as a check to the on-war progress, but nothing of the sort has happened, or seems likely to do so. The plain truth of the matter is that the Teutons at all points are being out-matched and out-generalled.

Their superior power in men and equipment, and their long years of preparation to the very last buckle, gave them, during a period of four years, the appearance almost of invulnerability, but since August, all that has been changed. The Allies, while holding the foe in check, have built up an even greater war engine than his, and they have now struck a pace against which the enemy finds it impossible to make a stand. There is nothing of a walk-over about it, and the fighting is tremendous and heroic, but John Bull and his colleagues are not to be denied. On a battle line of 250 miles, they are smashing their way through the most elaborate German defences, and steadily forcing the invader out of both France and Belgium.

Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, French, Americans, and men from the British Isles are all in it with every ounce of vim and determination, and even the much harassed Belgians have recorded an advance between Ypres and Dixmude with some thousands of prisoners to their credit. It is without any doubt the beginning of the end, but when that end will be is of course still a matter of conjecture. Bulgaria has been granted an armistice on the terms of the Allies, and Turkey will probably be the next with Austria attempting to crowd to a foremost place in the suppliant line. The course of human liberty and democracy is at long last definitely in the ascendant, and it would seem that the finish of the pariah of the nations can now be definitely counted in months at the most.

JUSTIFIED.
Mayor MacBride is quite right when he protests against anonymous and underhand criticisms of the municipal coal system. The Courier knows that the Mayor has devoted a great deal of time to this important matter and that he has surrounded himself with able coadjutors. There should be hearty co-operation and knocking tactics call for severe reprobation. Indications are that Brantford will fare as well as can be expected in connection with the fuel crisis, and perhaps a little better. Meanwhile there should be no place for innuendo or covert attacks in connection with an objective to which Mr. MacBride and others have devoted so much careful and painstaking attention.

NOTES AND COMMENTS
Life for the Hun these days is just one darn falling back after another.

There are all kinds of washouts on the Hindenburg line.

The news from the front is spelling another kind of noose for the too ambitious hopes of the all highest.

A citizen wants to know if the recent increase in city water rates has been the cause of so many Baptist ministers leaving Brantford.

BELGIANS IN FIGHT
Havre, Sunday, Sept. 29.—The Belgian and British armies defeated the Germans today in heavy fighting on the Flanders Ridge, and on the Messines-Wytschaete position, according to the official statement issued by the Belgian war office tonight.

The Messines-Wytschaete ridge has been occupied and the Germans have been defeated in efforts to defend the approaches to the River Ley.

British and Belgian troops on Saturday and Sunday took more than 9,000 prisoners. They also captured more than 200 guns, some of a heavy calibre as well as a very considerable quantity of other war material.

King Albert's forces at dusk this evening were attacking the Germans at St. Pieter on the Roulers-Menin road, and at Collemenshoek two and a half miles west of Roulers.

SELECTING A CHURCH.—A father of a young physician asks if he did right to select a church for his son to attend, which he thought would be the greatest help to him in his profession. This father did right to plan for the success of his son professionally, but if in doing this he did not plan for the spiritual and moral progress of the young physician he was very much to blame. The functions of a church are moral, and spiritual, and hence social; membership in a church should not primarily be for commercial reasons.

Sex in Heaven.—John A. asks my opinion whether there will be procreation in heaven. Jesus seems to have answered a similar question when he said, that in heaven, "they neither marry, nor are given in marriage," but this does not fully answer your question. If trees and flowers grow in heaven and reproduce themselves, and if grapes grow there and wine is made from them, and if there are horses in heaven, all of which seems to be indicated in the book of Revelations, I see no reason why children may not be born to human beings in that ideal country; but I do not know, and no other person knows.

OLD BOYS BEAT COLLEGIATE TEAM

B. C. I. Graduates Proved Too Heavy for Younger Rugby Team

SEASON'S FIRST GAME
The B. C. I. rugby team went down to defeat Saturday afternoon at the hands of the Collegiate Old Boys by the score of 42-6. The game was one-sided owing to the heaviness of the senior team. Captain Smith was well aware of this important fact when Big Bill Moffat sat upon him in the first quarter. The game was delayed in starting owing to the late arrival of some of the members of the team but a quick start was made and the game proved an exciting one.

The First Half.
started off with the old boys making good headway at the kick-off. The teams then remained at logger heads for some time near the B.C.I. goal. Finally a touchdown was scored for the old boys by Kew. With the second kick-off the ball went down towards the Old Boys' goal where an exciting encounter was staged followed by a heavy buck from the B.C.I. team which carried through but on account of a foul made by the one of the Old Boys did not count and a kick was made for the goal. This kick was far short of its intended destination and in the moments that followed before the call for quarter time, the ball was held close to the ten yard line. Quarter time was called with no more scoring.

Second Half.
The second half was a very one-sided affair, the Old Boys apparently letting out their weight for the first time in the game and carrying everything before them. The B.C.I. team were forced back so quickly to the touch-down line that they lost heart and the official score keeper could not keep track of the score. The Old Boys' end mounting so fast, and the game closed with something like 42 to 6.

The Old Boys' team was decidedly too heavy for the present team and they were greatly handicapped by this circumstance. The teams that they will play with in future will be more of their class.

WEDDING BELLS RING AT PARIS

Pleasing Playlet Presented by St. James' Dramatic Club

OTHER NEWS OF PARIS

From Our Own Correspondent.
Paris, Sept. 30.—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Sacred Heart by Rev. Father Holden, when Miss Agnes Eccles, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Eccles was united in marriage to Mr. W. H. Tucker, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tucker of Paris. They were attended by Mr. Joseph Crompton of Toronto, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nellie Tucker, sister of the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held and wedding breakfast served. Later Mr. and Mrs. Tucker left on a short trip to points east. Upon returning they will reside in Paris. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful gifts from her many friends.

Police Notes
On Saturday night John Dapasquale and James Pedro, Italians, employed at the Shell Works, were summoned for assaulting James Ross, a fellow employee. It transpired that Ross and Dapasquale had had a few words regarding their work, and in course of same the Italian was charged with striking Pedro with a file. He then was fined $5.00 and costs, while the charge against Pedro was dismissed. Three local men were charged by Chief Rutherford with being drunk. They appeared before Magistrate Paterson and were fined $10.00 and costs. The annual Rally-Day was observed in all the Sunday schools yesterday. The services in the Methodist church yesterday were especially interesting. In the morning, Rev. (Chaplain) Kerby of Calgary, a former pastor of Brant Avenue Methodist church, Brantford, preached a very impressive and helpful sermon. At the evening service a musical program was rendered from pieces composed by the organist. The service was much appreciated. The annual harvest home services in the Congregational church yesterday were well attended. Rev. Mr. Paley delivered two very appropriate sermons, while the musical portion of the services by the choir were in keeping with the occasion. The church had been very prettily decorated with flowers, fruits, vegetables and grain, as also a quantity of canned fruit.

play was exceedingly well given, and frequently applauded by the large audience. Those taking part were: Mrs. H. Billings, the Misses Ida Goss, Annie Billings, Frances Astle, Dorothy Blackhurst, Doris Senior, Kathleen Glass, May Daniels and Margaret Mills. Vocal solos were rendered between the acts by Mrs. L. Cotton, E. Hughes and H. Vickers, whilst Mr. K. Tennant, Miss Stewart and Miss Senior ably acted as accompanists. Encores were freely demanded and cheerfully responded to. All present voiced the affair a most decided success.

A special request the entertainment will be repeated on Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Paris branch of the Red Cross society.

The marriage is reported of Miss Anna Vicla Papple of South Dumfries to Mr. Earl H. Butler of Brantford. The bride is well known in Paris and vicinity, and her many friends will join in hearty congratulations.

Paris, Sept. 29 (delayed).—The text of the official statement issued by the War Office to-night reads: "South of St. Quentin our troops have attacked on the front from Urville to Oerisy. The enemy, who made an energetic resistance, was ejected from these two villages, which are in our possession. We have crossed the St. Quentin-La Fere road, and 500 prisoners have been actually counted.
"Between the Ailette and the Aisne we to-day realized an advance of about two kilometres along the Chemin des Dames and have occupied Fargny-Plain and Ostel.
"On the Champagne front, our troops have continued their attacks and have obtained important results. Upon the right we have passed the village of Bouconville and hold the positions north of this village. Further west we have taken Mont Cuvel, which was strongly defended by the enemy. Our troops have pushed further north and taken the village of Sechat, progressing about two kilometres in the direction of Chalange. Further west we have taken Ardouillet-Montauxelles and Vieux and carried our lines toward Aure.
"Upon our left we have penetrated the village of St. Marle-o-Ty.
"Eastern theatre, Sept. 28. During the course of the day the left wing of the Allied armies in the east continued their advance toward Kichovo. The enemy rearguard have retreated to the heights north of Resna and the village of Orchrida. The Serbian army has gained ground to the north and northeast of Veles and Kachana. They have advanced toward Uskub and Kumanado. Serbian cavalry have reached the Bulgarian frontier.

"The Anglo-Greek forces are moving forward north of Strumitza in the direction of Pescevo. They are advancing toward Petrich along the valley of Strumitza. The number of guns captured in the present offensive now is more than 350."

MURPHY ORDERED BACK

By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, Sept. 30.—Dominick Murphy, American consul-general in Sofia, who, accompanied by Bulgarian plenipotentiaries to Saloniki, where they arranged the armistice, has been ordered back to his post by the state department. No criticism of Murphy is made here, but it is made plain that he had no instructions to participate in the negotiations, and probably acted only as an observer.

PERSHING'S COMMUNIQUE.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, Sept. 30.—General Pershing's communique of Sunday received to-day at the War Department reads:
"Our troops have continued to meet with determined resistance on the part of the enemy who has been forced hastily to bring up and engage divisions from other parts of the front. Between Clerges and the valley of the Aire we have met and repulsed heavy counter-attacks."

MET HIS DEATH WITHOUT PAIN

Flight-Lieut. F. S. Schell Killed While Sleeping in Dug Out

The following letter to Mrs. Schell, Brant Ave., gives particulars of the recent death of her son, Flight Lieut. Stanley Schell:

130 Heavy Battery, R.G.A. Dear Mrs. Schell,—It is with the deepest regret that I have to tell you that your son, 2nd Lt. F. S. Schell was killed in action, on August 22nd.

He and 2nd Lt. Oakden, who had been training in England with him and had joined us at the same time, had been on duty the previous night and had gone to sleep in a dugout a stray round from an enemy 21 cm. obtained a direct hit on the dugout, killing your son and 2nd Lt. Oakden outright. It is a blessing that neither of them could have felt the least pain, nor, being asleep, could have received the smallest shock. As the major had been sick since the time of their joining the battery, I was in command all the time they were with us. Your son had been specializing in observation work and was at the time of his death, taking the place of a reconnaissance officer, who was on leave, and has 15 years' service. And very ably he was doing the work.

This letter gives you some idea of the opinion we had of his military capacity. From the time of joining us his keenness and genial companionship soon endeared us to him. They were buried a day after they were killed, our own chaplain taking the service. I want to convey to you the deepest sympathy, both from myself and also from the other officers of the battery. We, knowing our own loss, can realize how great must be your own.

I remain, Yours sincerely, Geoffrey H. Gaskill, Capt.

RALLY DAY SERVICES

Sunday Schools of Many City Churches Held Special Services

A big success, as usual, was the rally day service held in Wesley church yesterday afternoon. This yearly event is looked forward to by members of the Sunday school and those of the congregation as well. An objective of $90 had been set for the attendance, and this was exceeded, as was also the objective of $50 set for the offering. Mr. A. E. Day, first assistant superintendent, presided, assisted by Mr. Albert Wedlake and the pastor. Mr. Wedlake gave a brief but interesting address on the work of the Sunday school, touching on the usual interest by all. Miss Gladys Garvin delighted all by her singing. The ceremony of baptizing members of the Cradle Roll was formally observed. The attendance was very large, and the collection highly satisfactory. The orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. W. G. Darwen, gave special musical selections.

MEMORIAL SERVICE WAS HELD

The Memory of Two Young Heroes Honored at Marlboro Street Church

A memorial service was held in Marlboro St. Methodist church last night, in honor of two members of the church recently killed in action, Ptes. Arthur White and Spencer Linnnton. The pastor, Rev. J. E. Peters, spoke from the text, "Fear No, I am He that liveth and was dead, and behold, I will live forever." Mr. Lamb, Supt. of the Sunday school, and Mr. Isaacs, teacher of the young men's bible class, also spoke in appreciation of the lives of the two heroes. Letters regarding the death and burial of the two young men were read from a chaplain and two other officers. The shield containing the church honor roll was decorated with bunting and flowers, and draped with purple ribbons, bearing in gold letters the regimental numbers of the two fallen heroes. These were after presented to their families. The choir sang "My Peace I Give to You," Mrs. Swayze sang "Nothing Shall Ever Grow Old," and Mr. Telfer, the choir leader, by request, "The Christian's Good Night."

LAI D AT REST

CHAS. BOYES

The body of the late Charles Boyes, 153 Campbell street, who, after a serious operation, suddenly passed away last Thursday at the general hospital, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Mount Hope. The deceased was born in Malton, Yorkshire, fifty-two years ago. He spent several years when a young man in Britain's Royal Marine service, and saw many distant lands in his travels. He and his bereaved wife, came to Canada 11 years ago, and but for a few months had spent all that time in Brantford. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, an employee of the Grand Trunk railway, and was much respected by all who knew him. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn his departure, two sisters, Mrs. Foster and Miss Elizabeth Boyes, and one brother, Mr. Richard Boyes, all at home in England, and his bereaved and stricken wife, who has the sympathy of the entire community in her day of sorrow. Rev. David Alexander, acting pastor of First Baptist, conducted the funeral service at the family residence and the grave before a very large concourse of people, and delivered a comforting message from I Timothy 4: "I am now ready to be offered and the time of my departure is at hand." The pall-bearers were all workmen from the Grand Trunk: J. L. McIntyre, H. Vadam, W. Corrigan, A. Knight, M. K. Abbey, W. Moore. There was a wealth of floral tributes as follows: Wife, a cross; nephew and niece, spray; Cecil, Phyllis and Violet, a spray; C. T. R. employees, a harp; Hamilton Brotherhood Railway Carmen of America, a broken wheel; Mrs. S. White, Gilbert and Kathleen, a wreath; Mr. and Mrs. Childs and family, an anchor; Mr. and

MALLEABLES WON REPLAYED GAME AT HAMILTON SATURDAY

Defeated Beavers 6-2, Before Crowd Which Again Used Rough House Tactics Against the Visiting Team.

Once more Hamilton's vaulting ambition has overreached itself. "On to Kitchener" was the cry raised in the Ambitious city and it had been for two little things, baseball and British fair play, the Hawks might have got away with their dishonorable honors. But after Saturday's game, they are singing another tune in the hazy by the mountains, for Roy Webber's masterful Malleables fell on Pitcher Sullivan at the Beavers in the seventh and ninth innings, with one of those dull sickening thuds you read about, and when the smoke of battle had cleared, Brantford was on the long end of a 6-2 score which places them on an even footing with the Beavers in the contest for the O.E.A.A. championship. And when the two teams meet on Wednesday of this week, to break the tie, it may not be in Brantford, but in front of the Hamilton, and therefore the Malleables' chances will be one hundred, if not one hundred and fifty per cent, better than on Saturday.

Although played under conditions far better than those of a week ago, the game was not ideal. The field was patrolled by a dozen constables, who were about as much use as the same number of Brantford's silent policemen would have been, in restraining the fans from their epithets of abuse. Actual demonstrations of physical violence against the visiting team were not marked as the previous Saturday, but the players left the field amid a shower of green apples, intermingled with a few stones. But of course, by this time one should know enough to expect nothing better, from Hamilton.

"Bunk", "Bunk", "mush heads", "rough necks", and "yellow dogs" were among the mildest of the epithets hurled at the Malleable team and its accompanying cortege of fans. The remainder of the verbal abuse flung would not bear publication. Canada is a country of free speech, it is true, but when free speech descends to such a depth of vituperative vilification as that heard at the close of Saturday's game, it is time that one begins to long for drastic restrictions. All in all, the reception given the Brantford was on a par with that which the Bulgarian peace proposals must have received in Berlin. A mob followed the team from the field and swarmed about the doors of the dressing room, and the police were in no danger of over-estimating themselves by the speed with which they dispersed the gathering. Even when the Malleables had donned their street clothes, and put in an appearance to catch the cat home, they were hooted by the sprinkling of the most virulent fans who lingered expressly to discharge that pleasant duty. But, hard words break no more than might have been expected from the bunch of sore heads in Hamilton who dub themselves sportsmen. So far as the "yellow" taint, attributed to the crowd, and the Malleables, is concerned, it looks as if the best were on the other foot. Courtesy to visitors is evidently a trait extinct—if it ever existed—in Hamilton.

The field was surrounded, several rows deep, with spectators, before the game began, but the improved police protection kept the crowd

KING GEORGE AND KING EDWARD SCHOOL FAIRS

Splendid Exhibits of Work Done by Pupils, Held on Friday

THE PRIZE WINNERS

On Friday afternoon, Sept. 27 at 3.45 the first school fair of the King George school opened. Much organized effort had been displayed in preparing for, and placing the numerous exhibits in the short time at the disposal of the workers. The difficulties of judging had been met by capable judges, who in their painstaking care in placing the prizes found it impossible to complete their work at the opening of the doors at 3 o'clock.

The usual classes of products were present and beautifully arranged in the convenient and commodious quarters of the school. Vegetables, Jr. and Sr. competition, and boys' handicraft in Room 10; flowers, writing, and seed and weed collections in Room 8. Tea and coffee were served in Room 7. The exhibits were all of a very high standard and the just pride of the community was shown by the three hundred parents and friends who inspected and enjoyed the display, many remarking that it was the finest they had ever seen. The judging was ably conducted by the following:

Vegetables and weed and seed collections by Inspector E. E. C. Kilmer and Mr. A. Coulbeck.
Writing and Boys' Handicraft by Rev. Jenkins and Rev. Peters.
Fancywork, Baking, Preserving and Flowers by Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Rogers.
Poultry, Rabbits, Pigeons and Pets by A. C. Montgomery.
Though the prize list had been made as long as possible, with such a large number of entries in each class the opportunities seemed too few. The judges frequently remarked on this and would regretfully point to worthy exhibits to which they could give no prize.

A small admission fee was charged, and a sale of vegetables conducted, the proceeds of which, with the grant offered by the Board of Education will substantially help in defraying expenses. The balance of the expenditure will be borne by the School League, to whose hearty cooperation towards the success of the fair the school owes much.

Before breaking up an opportunity was taken to publicly thank the judges for their able assistance; those who had loaned poultry cages, lumber, tables, etc., for their kindly interest; Mr. Ham, Mr. Cocksbutt and Mr. E. Moulie, who assisted with special prizes, and the parents and friends of the school who had given their loyal support.

The prize list is as follows:

Vegetables, Sr. Competition.
Potatoes—Oliver Stenhouse, Evelyn Cook, Harry Mitchell, Vahdrola Sovereign, Eleanor Killeleagh.
Carrots—Evelyn Cook, Vahdrola Sovereign, Eleanor Killeleagh.

PORTLAND MAN GAINS 24 POUNDS

Was Hardly Able to Work Before He Began Taking Tanlac

"When I started taking Tanlac I was so weak I could hardly do anything at all, and it has not only made a new man of me, but I have gained twenty-four pounds besides," said Charles B. Shaffer, an employe of the Grant Smith-Porter Shipbuilding Company, living at 508 West Charleston street, Portland, Ore, the other day.

"A little over a year ago," he continued, "I suffered from a bad case of a gripe that pulled me down till I was hardly fit for a thing. I lost my appetite and what little I managed to force down soured on my stomach and felt as heavy as a lump of lead in me, and I was miserable night and day. Then several weeks ago I had an awful attack of tonsillitis that had me so bad I couldn't swallow a bit of nourishment for ten days, and it came near putting me out of business. I felt tired and worn-out all the time and lost every spark of energy I ever had. When I went to bed I would find I had lost so much weight that I couldn't get up. In fact, I haven't been able to sleep much in the last three or four years, and I always got up in the mornings feeling just as bad as when I went to bed. I lost considerable in weight and got so weak and rundown that at last I just had to quit working altogether.

"I read so much about the good Tanlac was doing others that I decided to try a bottle, as I began to pick up right smartly from the very first, and in a little while I had my appetite back and was eating and enjoying my meals, and everything now agrees with me. I get as hungry as a bear in three days after eating a hearty breakfast, and my food is building me up something wonderful. I sleep like a log all night and get up in the mornings feeling just fine and dandy. I am fast getting back my old time energy, and have already got a number of my friends started on Tanlac and expect to keep on boosting it."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson's Drug Store, in Paris by Apps Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by A. Yocmans, in Middleport by William Peddie, in Onondaga by Nell McPhadden.

HARMLESS ENOUGH

A clergyman was grieved to find his services for men were poorly attended. He expressed his regret to the verger one evening when, as usual, they were the only two at the meeting.

"I really think they ought to come," he said sadly.

"That's just what I've sed to 'em over an' over again," said the verger, consoling. "I sez to 'em: 'Look at me, I sez: 'look at me. I goes to all them services, I sez, 'an' wot 'arm does they do me?'" —The Presbyterian Advance.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM BACKACHE?

When your kidneys are weak and torpid they do not properly perform their functions; your back aches and you do not feel like doing much of anything. You are likely to be dependent and to borrow trouble, just as if you hadn't enough already. Don't be a victim any longer. The old reliable medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, gives strength and tone to the kidneys and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar combination of roots, herbs and minerals. No other medicine acts like it, because no other medicine has the same formula or ingredients. Accept no substitutes, but insist on having Hood's, and get it fast.

Travelling on a Narrow Gauge in France and Belgium

The light railway has contributed greatly to the success of the Allies' operations in France and Belgium. The narrow-gauge is the "friend" of the tired soldiers coming out of the front line trenches after a long time knee-deep in mud and slime. The narrow-gauge, in the building of which many Canadian Pacific Railway engineers and "gangers" have contributed, has been a real boon to the armies on the western front. Every returned soldier speaks in terms of praise of the work carried out by the Canadian railway troops. I remember well one particular night travelling over the narrow-gauge because my horse could not be located, to reach the battalion billets. I had been acting as adjutant this trip, and the medical officer and I decided to "go out" at the line after the departure of the men who were to be relieved early in the evening by another battalion of our brigade. Well, we had planned that our horses be at a certain point at the foot of Vimy Ridge at a certain hour. But the Quartermaster's orders to the groomer miscarried—unknown to us. About two o'clock in the morning we, the medical officer and I, left the trench system and made for the point decided upon, and where our horses were to be waiting for us. But we could find no trace of horses belonging to our battalion. After waiting around under shell fire for half an hour or so, we decided to "carry on"—to walk to the billets, some 10 miles away. Well, we dragged our weary limbs along and climbed to the top of Vimy Ridge, hoping to find our horses on the other side. But we were surely out of luck that night. Every other battalion had horses there waiting for the battalion staff, but ours could not be located. There was but one thing to do then—walk! We did not at all relish the idea and curses left and strong were showered on the missing groomer. But after a time, down in the valley, we struck that wonderful little road—the narrow-gauge. My, our hearts were cheered somewhat, but was there any train running at that hour of the morning? We asked one another. So, instead of striking the road again, we took a chance and continued along the narrow-gauge tracks towards the junction. After a time we heard voices and a party of men, marching on the road, struck the track and were soon hurrying along towards the junction we were heading for. We halted the officer in charge and we ascertained that they were late for their train, but hoped that a train had been held up. Well, the medical officer and I hurried along behind the party and half an hour's tramp along the track brought us to the junction, and what did our hearts good was the sight of a miniature train still alongside the platform—ready to pull out. We did not think any more about the horses gone astray, but climbed immediately into the rear truck, where we found some of our own men who had reached the junction after the main body of the battalion had "pulled out" for billets. We sure did bless the narrow-gauge that night, for a tramp of another eight miles after a tiresome tour in the line with little sleep would not have improved our already very ruffled tempers. Soon we were away, the little engine "puff-puffing" away in great style along the valley—to rest! I did not take long to settle down in the truck. All the trucks on these narrow-gauge roads are open, as they carry troops and munitions, and supplies. But a Standard Sleeper on the C. P. R. could not have been more inviting under the circumstances. The night was cold and I was overheated by the tramp over the ridge with all kinds of paraphernalia strapped on to me, but, notwithstanding, I curled up in a corner of the truck and soon was fast asleep! Tired, but happy, and dreaming of loved ones far away across the Atlantic. When I woke, day was breaking, and I was cold and stiff, but the engine was still puffing away, we were out of the valley and rumbling along familiar spots which made us feel good, for we were nearing our place of rest. At last a dry spot to stretch our legs! All due to the narrow-gauge—built by Canadian railwaymen!

On Rafts and Mats, English Division Crossed the Scheldt Canal

SPLENDID ATTACK

London, Sept. 30.—An English division crossed the Scheldt Canal on lifebelts, mats, rafts and improvised bridges, and stormed the main Hindenburg defenses around Belligiz and captured the whole German position. Canadian troops have fought their way into the outskirts of Cambrai and beaten off heavy attacks of American troops at the Hindenburg line on a front of nearly three miles to-day, capturing Bellcourt and Nauray.

During the past three days the British have taken over 22,000 prisoners and over 300 guns on the Cambrai-St. Quentin battle front. Sir Douglas Haig's official report follows:

A Magnificent Attack
"At dawn this morning the battle was successfully developed southward to the neighborhood of St. Quentin. It now extends over a front of nearly thirty miles, from that town to the Seneze River, north of Cambrai.

"On the extreme right the Twentieth Corps launched an attack at 5:50 a.m. across the Scheldt Canal from Belligiz inclusive, northward. The 46th North Midland Division, provided with lifebelts, mats, portable bridging material and rafts and under cover of a concentrated artillery and machine gun fire, stormed the main Hindenburg defenses, which here run along the eastern bank of the canal.

"Notwithstanding the depth of the water, the breadth of the canal and the strength of the enemy's defenses, which included the village of Belligiz and numerous tunnels and concrete works, this division succeeded in capturing the whole German position opposed to them. They then pressed forward with great bravery and determination up the slopes of the hills beyond the canal, taking many prisoners in the course of their advance.

"Bellcourt, Lahaucourt and Magny-la-Fosse are now in our possession.

"In conjunction with this brilliant operation other English troops advanced in the bend of the canal south of Belligiz, covering the southern flank of the division.

Americans Did Their Share
"Further north, at the same hour, American troops, under command of Major-General G. W. Read, United States Army, attacked the Hindenburg lines on a front of five thousand yards where the Scheldt Canal passes through the tunnel.

"With great dash the American troops pressed forward against these defenses, and on the right captured Bellcourt and Nauray.

Victories at Every Point
"On the left bank fighting is taking place in the neighborhood of Bony in the centre of our attack. English troops captured Villers-

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles andblemishes disappear and how clear and white the skin becomes. Yes, it is harmless.

Gutelan, New Zealand troops cleared the Welsh Ridge, breaking up a hostile counter-attack, and pushing on, captured La Vaequerie and the spur leading from Bonavis to Masnières.

"Meanwhile the Sixty-second Division, having secured crossings of the Scheldt Canal, continued to advance. After fighting in the western outskirts of Masnières and Les Russes Verkes, they captured both of these villages and carried the defensive system covering Rumilly, reaching the western outskirts of the latter and has advanced over one and a half miles up the rising ground to the east of the canal line.
Canadians and Naval Men There.

"On their left the Second Division crossed the canal about Noyelles, the Sixty-third Naval Division having forced a passage east of Cantaining has reached the southern outskirts of Cambrai.

"On the left of the attack Canadian troops have passed through the defensive system covering Cambrai on the northwest, and have fought their way forward into the outskirts of the town.

"Further north they captured Sancerre, where heavy German counter-attacks have been beaten off. English troops have cleared the slopes south of the Seneze Canal.

"During the past three days over 22,000 prisoners and 300 guns have been captured by us on the St. Quentin-Cambrai battlefront.

A Fierce Battle
"At 5:50 o'clock this morning British and American troops attacked northwest of St. Quentin. The battle is proceeding fiercely on the whole front from St. Quentin to the Scarpe.

"Heavy fighting took place yesterday about Gonnelleu and the Welsh Ridge. Our troops made progress on the high ground southwest of Gonnelleu, but at Welsh Ridge were pressed back slightly. We renewed the attack on this sector at an early hour this morning, and made progress, taking prisoners.

GIRL'S COAT.

By Anabel Worthington.

This smartly tailored coat for the school-girl shows the military influence in the inverted pleat at the back and the patch pockets. It is an excellent general utility coat and will look well if made up in a tweed or one of the new coatings which resemble the cloth used in the army. It is in double breasted effect and the large pockets have pointed flaps buttoned at the top. The collar is convertible and forms a notched effect where it joins the revers. The coat may be made with or without the cape, but in either case the belt is used.
The girl's coat pattern No. 8672 is cut in six sizes, 4 to 14 years. As on the figure the 8 year size requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch, or 2 yards of 54 inch material. Price 40 cents.

MEMORIAL TABLET WAS UNVEILED

Memory of Late Mr. and Mrs. John Mann Honored Yesterday

Colborne St. Church yesterday morning was the scene of a very touching scene when a bronze tablet, dedicated to the memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Mann, two former ardent Christians in that church, was unveiled. Dr. T. S. Linscott was in charge of the services and brought the attention of the congregation to several passages of scripture, very fitting in tribute to the deceased. Rev. R. J. Treleaven, D.D., of Hamilton, delivered an inspiring sermon on the subject, "A Man of God." Mr. Frank Leeming and Mr. James Harley, two of the older members also spoke briefly on the loyalty, faith, and the perseverance of the deceased couple.

Mr. G. N. Crocker sang a suitable solo entitled "Crossing the Bar."
Dr. Linscott told of the good work and faithfulness of both Mr. and Mrs. Mann and of the part that in their death a truly Christian couple had passed away.

Mrs. John Mann had the respect of the entire community, the love and admiration of all who knew her, and she enjoyed the confidence, the filial Christian affection and, in later years, the veneration, of all the members of this Colborne St. Methodist church. It was however, in the home that her light shone brightest. She was, in the highest sense of the term, an ideal wife, and a mother devoted to the interests of her large family. She ruled her household with a wand of wisdom, with firmness and maternal love.

Mr. John Mann was an outstanding Christian, a leading citizen of Brantford, and a charter member of this Colborne Street Methodist Church. He was a member of the building committee of the church; a member of the official board, until his passing away. He was the Superintendent of the Sunday school for 19 years and the honorary superintendent to the end of his earthly life. He excelled as a class leader; he kept up the interest and the attendance of his class from the opening of the church until his call to the better land, notwithstanding all the rest of us class leaders found it impossible to do so. Brother Mann was as a by the church, and we are indebted to him for much of our present prosperity.

Up to the time when his sun began to set in the western sky, he attended his morning class, the morning and evening services and Sunday school, with scarcely a break. He was found in his place, and he was most regular in his attendance at the official meetings of the church. He was a liberal giver, and absolutely dependable in any relation in connection with the work of the church. Brother Mann had the gift of song in an unusual degree; he always depended upon, without an instrument, to pitch the tune off-hand, for any metre, and carry it to the end of the service. He revelled in hymnology, and had an extensive knowledge of the Methodist hymn book. It was a delight to be in his company and hear him quote his favorite hymns, and sing them in his own voice.

John Mann was, and is a brother much beloved. Even in his last days, when I heard his memory was failing, I have marvelled when at his class meeting, to hear him quote Scripture and poetry quite correctly and with pathos and skill. It is a privilege to have a memory given. His memory for the things that count most never failed him, and his soul grew young with the passing years. He was, I think, next to the persons of the church, more independent in training the children of the church and the adults, so far as they attended his class meeting, than any other.

We shall miss him; we do miss him; and yet we see his work on all sides, and we feel his influence like a delightful perfume enveloping us. We are looking forward to meet him again in the morning in the land where the inhabitants never die.

Rev. Mr. Treleaven spoke from the text, "There is in this city a man of God." The speaker brought home to the audience strongly the meaning of being a man of God. To have the spirit with one in one's actions and to work in God's way, to do every day as He has commanded and always be willing to obey Him. "These are the traits of a man of God," declared the speaker. Everyone should be out and out for God. If this were so, it would have a great effect on the world. The state of Brantford, Ontario, or Canada will never attain its highest degree until this has been done. No one will ever rise to his highest unless he is out and out for God. The only way to make one's influence felt and to get to one's right places is to get right with God. A man should be a man of God first by all for his own sake in order that success may follow him. "God claims me," declared Mr. Treleaven "should be an inspiration and a power to every man to help do that which is right."

Everything that is read in the scripture is for man's good. Every man should read and obey the scripture, and become a man of God for the sake of himself and his chance in life. Life is what one makes it and what one makes it depends upon the choice one takes in regard to the character of his or her actions. Every person should be truly good for his own sake and for the sake of his home. A Christian spirit should be instilled into the home for the sake of the nation and the world, and for the spirit of its homes. "You cannot afford to be ungodly because of your children and their future." It is the duty of every father to give his son a good start in life and the

ENEMY DEFENCES ARE SMASHED ON 250 MILE FRONT
Four Great Drives in Past Week - Over 100,000 Prisoners Taken
ENEMY DRIVEN BACK
London, Sept. 30.—Over a front of more than 250 miles from the North Sea to the Alps, the allies are smashing the German defenses on four wide and important sectors, and important strategic points are being taken from the enemy by the sledge-hammer blows of the French, British, American and Belgian forces. In the region west of Le Catelet, the capture of Cambrai by the British would appear to be near if it has not already fallen. From the west the British are within 24 miles of Cambrai at two points, and all natural obstacles have been overcome. The Canadians are actively fighting in the outskirts of the city. Meanwhile the night of the German in the Cambrai sector has been aggravated by loss of valuable railway communications. The enemy in that region is now in a serious position, and with one alternative, that of abandoning the Hindenburg line, which already has been pierced at four points.
Looked upon as the keystone of the enemy defence system between Ypres and the sea, the village of Gheluvelt, the key to the Ypres-Menin road, has also been taken, the prisoners totalling 6,000. The new thrust of the Anglo-Belgian armies was a complete surprise to the Germans. It is being made against territory held by the enemy since 1914.
In the north the British are pushing forward rapidly. South west of Cambrai, Field Marshal Haig's men are fighting for crossings of the Scheldt Canal.
Douai Also Threatened
Douai, the German base northeast of Arras and one of the outlying defenses of the great fortress of Lille, also is threatened by the Cambrai operation. The British have crossed the high road between Douai and Cambrai and the railroad connecting them is useless to the Germans. Southeast of Douai the British have taken Avesnes.
Belgian troops entered the great offensive Saturday by beginning an operation in conjunction with the British in the Dismude-Ypres area. The allies pushed forward rapidly, fighting their way through to Houthouster Forest, which has been captured.
New Thrust for St. Quentin
British and American troops launched an attack Sunday morning north west of St. Quentin, and as a result the British are astride the St. Quentin-Cambrai railway.
Friend (leaving the office with the boss): I say old man, you didn't lock your safe.
Boss: No I never do. I cost three hundred dollars, and I don't want burglars to run it for the little I have in it.—Christian Register.

Pigeons as Life-savers.
British soldiers and sailors are making frequent use of carrier pigeons as a life-saver. Many a man, says Current History, has been saved from death by the speed of the homing pigeon.
Capt. Thomas Crisp, who had won the Victoria Cross and who died at the wheel under fire from a German submarine, lived long enough to dispatch a message by pigeon. The bird sped away with his last request for help for his son and crew, and they were saved—but only through the timely arrival of their pigeon messenger.
On another occasion a flying boat (a boat with airplane wings) and a hydro-airplane (an airplane with floats in place of landing wheels) both got into difficulties in stormy weather, and it seemed that all lives must be lost. A message for help was sent out by pigeon. In the teeth of a fierce wind the gallant bird fought it way home, only to die from exhaustion on arrival. But its message had been delivered, assistance was sent with all speed, and the lives of both crews were saved.

Aesthetics and Health.
"The connection between individual health and beauty, though seldom recognized in theory, is intimate in practice," says the New York Medical Journal. True, extravagant ideas of what is beautiful have caused much nuisance and harm in the way of absurd and unhealthy fashions of dress, but it is to the aesthetic instinct of people that we owe most of sanitary improvement. The removal of filth, so important to public health, and cleanliness in general, are due in a large part to a dislike for ugliness.
Medical science is coming more and more to the idea of enforcing sanitary measures by fostering a public sense of aesthetics. The Journal concludes with rare sense: "One of the chief means for the furthering of public health consists not so much in preaching the need of sanitary conditions as in awakening the sense of BEAUTY."
