Eczema on Baby's Ear.
Mrs. F. Clarke, Belmont, Man., writes: "My baby had eczema on her ear. The sore was very bad and nothing seemed to do her much good. Hearing of the remarkable cure Dr. Chase's Ointment was making, we sent for some, and after the first application the sore began to heal. I am glad to say that it is quite well now and we give the credit to Dr. Chase's Ointment. We cannot recommend this preparation too highly."

A Topeka, Kas., preacher tells this story: "I had occasion one time to hold Christmas services in a little town not far from Topeka. The choir was composed of two old maids and two bachelors. When the chorus to the Christmas hymns was reached the old maids sang, 'Unto us a child is born!' and the bachelors followed this up with 'Wonderful! Wonderful!' Then some wag in the front row had to sneaker. That settled it. The choir quit abruptly."

Fast Horses for Halifax.
L. R. Acker, of Halifax, the theatrical manager, has returned from New York with four fast horses with records of 2:14. He purchased a handsome trotting stallion, 6 years, "Master Timely," for F. C. Redding of Sydney.

Charles R. Smith, of Halifax, has purchased a magnificent colt at the recent Fasig Tipton sale. The dam of Mr. Smith's colt is Bertha Guy by Guy Arxworthy, a 2:08-1, who was sold at the Garden sale for $20,000 and is the sire of Lee Arxworthy, 1:58 1/4. This colt was foaled in 1915, and his sire, J. Malcom Forbes, had a record of 2:08 at 4 years. J. Malcom Forbes was sired by Bi gen, who is the sire of Uhlans, the fastest living trotter. It will thus be seen Mr. Smith has secured a splendid animal.

AN IDEAL TONIC

When your head is dull and heavy, your tongue furred, and you feel done-up and good for nothing, without knowing what is really the matter with you, probably all that is needed to restore you to health and vigor is a few doses of a reliable digestive tonic and stomachic remedy such as Mother Seigel's Syrup.

Take it after each meal for a few days and note how beneficial is its action upon the stomach, liver and bowels—how it restores tone and healthy activity to these important organs, and by so doing enables you to gain new stores of vigor, vitality and health.

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP

The new 1.00 size contains three times as much as the trial size sold at 50c per bottle.

Where the Cattle Come to Drink.

At evening, where the cattle come to drink, Cool are the long marsh-grasses, dewy cool The alder thickets, and the shallow pool, And the brown clay about the trodden brink.

The pensive afterthoughts of sundown sink Over the patient acres given to peace;

The plowman rests and homeward to the quiet center, And the warm day relaxes link by link.

A lesson that the open heart may read Breathes in this mild benignity of air,

These dear, familiar savours of the soil.— A lesson of the calm of humble creed, The simple dignity of common toil, And the plain wisdom of unspoken prayer.

How Alsace Was Lost to France.

It is just over forty-six years ago that the city of Strasbourg, the key of Alsace, capitulated to the Germans in the Franco-Prussian War. It was on August 9th, 1870, that siege operations were commenced against this city of vital importance, and it must be admitted that the Germans had no very difficult task to perform, on the fortifications were extremely old, the citadel having been constructed nearly two hundred years before.

Nevertheless, the garrison, numbering 17,000 men, under General Uechter, held out with remarkable heroism, despite the continual bombardment and a lack of provisions for the long period of seven weeks before surrendering.

After the general bombardment of the city, during which the Germans did not trouble to avoid shelling the beautiful cathedral, a determined attack was launched on Lunette 53, which was carried.

The ditch protecting Lunette 53 was, being 62 feet in width and 6 ft. to 8 ft. deep. From a neighboring brewery the Germans obtained a number of casks. A soldier swam across in the darkness and fixed a cable; then the casks, filled with saddles to form piers, were boomed along the line of the cable. In two hours, and before the besieged French were aware of what was happening, the bridge was finished. It was only when the troops were crossing it that the alarm was given, and the French poured a fire on the Germans that cost them about fifty men.

Fever.
The human body is continually producing heat and just as continually using it up in its various activities. When the balance of gain and loss is disturbed, the temperature of the body either falls below or rises above the normal—98.5 degrees. When the body heat is excessive, we call the condition fever.

Fever is not a disease in itself, but a symptom of many diseases. It ranges from the slight rise that accompanies an attack of indigestion, or a "feverish cold," to the long, high fever of typhoid or the raging temperature of pneumonia. In former days the medical fact that there was fever caused great consternation, and the only thought of patient, physician and friends was to reduce the temperature at all costs. For that purpose a great many drugs of an antipyretic nature were used. Those drugs did often serve to beat the fever temporarily; but as they rarely did anything to combat the real cause of the fever it naturally came back again.

Now we have learned not to waste our time fighting fever, and have even found out that fever is really a friend. It signifies that nature is doing the best it can to burn up the poisons—waste matter, bacteria, whatever they may be—they are the real cause of the illness. Of course like a fire anywhere else, it must be watched, and if possible checked when it grows too fierce; for if high fever is allowed to rage unchecked the tissues of the body as well as the poisons that the fire was originally lighted to consume must go to leek.

Small deviations from the normal constantly occur and are of no importance. People who get "hipped" on the subject of fever and live with thermometers in their mouths make a great mistake. A fever that is serious enough to be taken into account will declare itself unmistakably. Many people of nervous temperament and most children have a feverish temperature on very slight provocation; that is only nature's effort to adjust the balance, and it is often owing to dietary errors. In long continued fevers the treatment is a matter for the physician, and is directed chiefly to maintaining the nutrition and the strength of the patient.

Temperance Act Enforcement.

A SERIOUS SITUATION IN NOVA SCOTIA.

The Temperance Act is generally enforced in the Province. In certain municipalities, however, a not serious condition of affairs exists as a result of non-enforcement.

In the city of Halifax thanks to the vigilance of the police and the work of the Halifax Temperance Alliance and their solicitor, the law is well observed.

That prohibition is not being a fair trial. The City Council has refused to appoint an Inspector, and on this account the police are at a disadvantage. The Alliance has more than once brought this fact to the attention of the government and although the Act provides the government to appoint an Inspector, for the past four months no appointment has been made.

The Government fails to exercise the power and thus we have not the satisfactory measure of enforcement which the law demands. This surely is a matter that calls for indignant protest from all good citizens.

Again, prohibition is not having a fair trial in some other municipalities because of incompetence and the petty of officials, and also because in these places the government does not seriously deal with the situation.

We reported a few weeks ago that it appeared an attempt was about to be made by the government to provide for better enforcement. Early in September the premier gave a declaration to understand that he would do what he could to remedy this condition.

If a short time there was a show of activity but during the past few weeks the old liquor situation is settling into a disance. A state of lawlessness prevails.

APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE.
We now appeal to the people and request the pulp and the press to urge the government not to longer neglect its function of compelling obedience to law. The liquor business should be destroyed. It can be destroyed by proper enforcement of the law. It is for this purpose the Temperance Act was placed on the statute books.

As humanitarians we wish to do all in our power to prevent further suffering by this nefarious traffic. The coming Christmas season will for hundreds be a carnival of debauchery and a time of consequent heart-breaking in many a home if liquor dealers have a free hand.

As patriots we should do all in our power to destroy a traffic which makes a mockery of the efficiency of our manhood when national service calls for that fitness, physical, mental and moral which drink destroys.

POWER OF PUBLIC OPINION.
It is our purpose to carry on a campaign of publicity in reference to the enforcement of law or rather the non-enforcement of law in parts of the Province. It was public opinion that constrained the government to enact the prohibitory law, and it is becoming more evident every day that there must be an insistent demand upon the government by the public for vigorous and honest enforcement of the law if the object of the law is to be obtained.

H. R. GRANT,
Gen. Sec'y Temperance Alliance.

Farming Practice.

Farm periodicals and books offer a splendid medium for gaining knowledge regarding improved methods in the various branches of farm work. But often a farmer, even one who studies the questions concerning his work, lacks the courage to put his acquired knowledge into practice.

This is a failing of the human race the world over and the Nova Scotia farmer is no exception to the rule. "I met a man who does it this way or that," has a greater effect upon us than reading. Men who really have experimented and can state results and answer questions are the ones who count. At the Farmers' Short Course to be held at Truro the opening weeks of January, will be found a staff of experts who have conducted many experiments, the results of which are invaluable to the farming community. These men are at your service. Attend the short course, meet them and discuss your farm work and difficulties with them. It is a rightful privilege supplied you by the State and the farmer should take advantage of it; it is needless to enumerate them; their names are familiar in every community and honored for the assistance they have been to the farmers of Nova Scotia. It will repay any farmer to take a fortnight off and attend this course. The holiday will do him good, the intercourse with his fellows from another county be beneficial. Write for descriptive circular to Prin. M. Cummings, Agricultural College, Truro.

Many remain indifferent to great things, while enthusiastic about trifles.

High Blood Pressure

When your case becomes complicated and medicines fail, the doctor makes a test of the blood pressure, fearing that there may be something wrong with the condition of the kidneys and the action of the heart.

He realizes that when the kidneys fail to filter the poisons from the blood that there will be a hardening of the arteries, and when the pressure of blood comes on they will snap like so much deteriorated rubber-tubing—the result is a clot of blood on the brain, hemorrhage in the heart, or wherever the weak point may be.

But why allow this condition to be reached when you can so readily regulate the action of the liver and kidneys by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Troubles of this nature have their beginning when, from over-eating or lack of exercise, the liver goes wrong, and throws an undue burden on the kidneys. Headaches, biliousness, constipation and indigestion give due warning, and by the timely use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills there need be no further trouble.

The liver is awakened to action, the bowels regulated, and the kidneys strengthened in their all-important work by purifying the blood and thereby preventing pain and serious disease. This is the greatest of family medicines, because of the host of ills that are relieved and prevented by keeping the liver, kidneys and bowels healthy and active.

10,000,000 Letters a Week

ARE SENT TO BRITISH SOLDIERS FIGHTING IN FRANCE.

It seems almost incredible that something like 10,000,000 letters and 750,000 parcels are sent every week to British soldiers fighting in France.

These astounding figures make one realize the wonderful organization which has been set up. When a letter is posted in England to one of our fighting men it leaves for France the following morning, and as a rule, if he is in billets, it will reach him in three days, and only a day longer if he is in the trenches.

All letters, no matter whether they come from Lind's Red John or Groats or the wilds of Concomera, are first dealt with in London. They are sorted into mail-bags, of which there is a separate one for each military unit, and then they are made up into mail parcels on the various fronts, such as France, Egypt, Salonica and other parts of the world where fighting is taking place.

No fewer than three special trains are run every day in London for Army mails alone. Five million letters are sent home from soldiers in France every week, and the sorting of these is also done in London, before they can be sent to their various destinations.

Women, of course, do most of the sorting nowadays, and although they carry out the duties in an admirable manner it is open to question whether the quickest woman worker quite comes up to the speed attained by the male sorters.

Whoooping Cough.
Mr. Arthur Haings, Ashton Farm, Poxley, Sask., writes: "Two years ago whooping cough was very bad in this part of the country, our eight-year-old boy caught it and had a very severe attack. A neighbor advised the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine and we gave it and nothing else, with splendid results. When the older brother took the whooping cough we used this medicine promptly and prevented serious trouble as the cough passed off in two or three days."

A Stump Eliminator.
If the device of a Lumberman invents or proves what is expected of it, no more stumps in the United States will be dynamited, burned or pulled. They will be removed by a set of rotary knives working on the simple principle of the sugar, and the first shavings will be automatically taken up and automatically packed for shipment to the nearest water-way paper mill or turpentine still.

This remarkable device will be used out within the next few days by the Great Lumber Company of Business. Its success is considered assured. The machine weighs 40,000 pounds.

That happy land has never been found where all is bright the whole year round.

Be thankful, then, for all the good You find within your neighborhood.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., DEC. 15, 1916

Editorial Brevities.

The efficiency of the boycott as a means of reducing prices has been demonstrated by the women of Chattanooga, Tennessee. By an organized boycott of milk the women have forced a reduction from seven to five cents the pint in the price of this commodity.

Dates for the British Columbia by-election for the return of the Cabinet Ministers have been fixed as follows: Nominations, December 16th; polling, December 23rd. There are nine by-elections and several at least will be by acclamation. The Legislature will convene February 22nd.

Canadian Exhibits Abroad.

Canadians when they go abroad invariably come home with a higher appreciation of Canada. This is partly due, no doubt, to the real advantages Canada offers, but it may also be attributed in part to the excellent representation of Canadian things that has been made in foreign countries. The Dominion Government, for instance, has the reputation of showing collections of Canadian products at the leading international fairs, which for excellence of products exhibited and artistic presentation are rarely equalled by any other country.

The Canadian Pacific Railway also has carried on a very important work in making Canada's resources known in other lands and particularly in the neighboring republic. Not only at such international events as the Panama-Pacific Exposition a year ago, but also in exhibits of a more local nature, the Canadian Pacific Railway has lost no opportunity of representing Canadian resources in a manner which the citizens of this country may well be proud. Handsome displays of Canada's resources including minerals and fruit, but more particularly the products of western farms, are maintained at a number of the chief centres throughout the United States and never fail to excite favorable comment.

One of the exhibits recently established at the Bureau of Industry and Agriculture conducted by the Chicago Herald on the second floor of the Ashland block, corner of Clark and Randolph streets, Chicago. At this Bureau are exhibits showing the resources of many of the states of the United States and also of Canada. Canadians visiting Chicago are invited to call at the Bureau at the address given above and make themselves known to the attendant in charge of the Canadian Pacific Railway exhibit there. All our readers having friends in the north who are likely to visit Chicago during the winter can do their country a good turn by suggesting that these friends take advantage of their visit there to see for themselves what Canada has to offer. The Bureau is open every week-day and motion pictures illustrating the different districts represented are run in a special feature hall. No charge is made for admittance either to the exhibit or to the motion picture hall.

Canada's Mineral Wealth.

Some observations made by the President of the Canadian Mining Institute in a recent address before the Empire Club, Toronto, are worthy of more than passing attention at a time when every country in the world is thinking seriously of how to develop natural resources and secure a larger share of world trade. After pointing out that only a small portion of Canada's mineral wealth was yet known the suggestion was ventured that Northern Ontario, from Cobalt to the Arctic Circle, offered better chances of obtaining valuable mineral deposits than any other country on the globe. When it is remembered that geologists in government reports published many years before the Cobalt riches were discovered made the same prediction, its value is not lessened, but increased. To-day Canada leads the world in the production of coal, asbestos, nickel, talc, feldspar, mica, graphite, silver and gold, but Canada is not getting the full benefit that might be derived from some products. For instance, mined in Canada, but smelted in the United States. A closer co-operation between mining and manufacturing leading to a still larger development of the Canadian mining industry is demanded if Canada is to reap the full benefit of a wealth already providing, according to Mr. Cole, more freight for Canadian railroads than either Canadian manufacturers or Canadian agricultural products. Whether the undiscovered mineral wealth of Canada is greater or less than the known mineral wealth, there can be no two opinions on the importance of what is already known, giving Canada the benefits to be derived from this development and eliminating the possibility, now known to exist, of an enemy being able in times of dire necessity to secure a valuable mineral. Germany, recognizing the value of minerals, directed her military operations along lines which gave her the coal areas of Belgium, the iron mines of Lorraine and the oil fields of Roumania. So long as she can hold these so long will Germany be able to maintain her military position. Without the coal and iron she would soon be forced to seek peace. That is why military critics regard the West as the war's centre of gravity, where fighting must be continued until the mineral wealth of Belgium and France is recovered. Now is the time for the adventurer, the prospect or to look for what is hidden in the unexplored regions of Canada.

Kings County Agricultural Society Dinner.

On the evening of Friday, the 8th inst., the Kings County Agricultural Society assembled at Evangelist Hall, at Horton, to celebrate the one hundred and twenty-seventh anniversary of its formation.

A dinner was provided for the occasion by the ladies of the Grand Pre Woman's Institute and served to the members of the society and invited guests, by the ladies. The abundance of good things provided testified to the ample stores present in a farming community upon which a draft can be made at short notice for an occasion of this kind, as well as to the ability of the ladies to prepare it tastefully.

After the dinner, of which over one hundred partook, those present assembled in the hall above where after brief introductory remarks by the President, Mr. Oscar Harris, the program of the evening was carried out. The President of the Agricultural Society was ably supported in his conduct of the meeting by the President of the Woman's Institute, Miss Annie Stuart, whose remarks at appropriate occasions were highly appreciated.

Miss Jennie Fraser, organizer of Woman's Institutes, first addressed the meeting, telling in an interesting manner of the growth of Woman's Institutes in the Province, their aims and objects, and the immense amount of work done by their members in Red Cross and relief work of this character during the period of the war, to which during the last two years their main energies had been directed.

Prof. Haycock was then called upon for a paper on the history of the Society during the one hundred and twenty-seven years of its existence, which covers nearly the whole time from the colonization of the locality after the expulsion of the Acadians up to the present. This very interesting paper will appear in the columns of THE ACADIAN in the near future.

Prof. Blair, of the Experimental Farm, Kentville, next addressed the meeting on agricultural matters pertinent to the times, advocating greater production of food to meet the greater needs of the time and showing how, in various ways, the soil could be handled so as to yield greater crops with the same or but slightly increased efforts. His remarks were highly appreciated by the farmers present and cannot but be of value to them in ensuing years.

The Reverend gentlemen, Hockin and Miller, were called on for remarks and responded with short, witty, and pleasing contributions to the evening's instruction and entertainment.

The veteran farmer, Mr. James Hamilton, was present and responded to the call of the chairman in his usual manner.

Miss Stuart then gave an interesting account of how to ascertain which neighbour's hens were foraging in your garden, followed by general remarks from others present.

Music at intervals was furnished by a choir of male voices, Mrs. Stuart Trenholm presiding at the organ. The meeting dispersed after joining in the National Anthem and the participants wended their way homeward through the mud feeling well repaid for the time spent in thus celebrating the anniversary and planning for bigger and better things in future.

Snipers.

The work of Snipers at the front is graphically described in that very interesting little book "Kitchener's Mob." The author says: "Snipers have a roving commission. They move from one part of the line to another, sometimes firing from carefully concealed loopholes in the parapet, sometimes from Snipers' nests in trees or hedges. Often they creep out into the tall grass of No Man's Land. There with a plentiful supply of food and ammunition they remain for a day or two at a time, lying in wait for victims. I talked with many Snipers at different parts of the line. It was interesting to get their different points of view, to learn what their reaction was to their work. The but-nuts were very few. Although Snipers invariably took pride in their work, it was the sportsman's pride in good marksmanship rather than the love of killing for its own sake. The general attitude was that of a Corporal whom I knew. He never fired hastily, but when he did, pull the trigger his bullet went true to the mark. 'You can't 'elp feelin' sorry for the blighters,' he would say, 'but its us or them, so every one you knock over means one of our blokes saved.'

Profitable Gleaning.

According to the Kansas City Star the wheat farmers of Kansas are too prosperous to trouble themselves about the few hundred bushels, more or less, that may be wasted in harvesting the grain. They do not cut the fields clean. That affords opportunity for outsiders to profit. The Star says that a gleaner eighty years old, after the wheat harvest in Pawnee county last year, went over the wheat fields with a waggons, a rake, a brush and a shovel and swept up the wheat left on the ground by the threshers. He gathered nine hundred bushels in forty days, sold the wheat at one dollar a bushel, and went south to spend the winter in Texas. He was back in Pawnee county last summer, gleaning the grain that the rich wheat farmers spill and do not bother to gather up.

A few things took place or happened in our village last week. On Monday, Dec. 4th, our old-time friend, the Rev. John W. Meisner, pastor of the Baptist church at Chezoquin, Yarmouth county, N. S., arrived in town, accompanied by his mother and sister Violet, of St. John. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nawnhiny also arrived at the same time, to be present at the Meisner-Gates wedding on Wednesday, Mrs. Nawnhiny being a sister of the bride. The groom's numerous friends were pleased to learn of his ordination at the Charlotte street Baptist church, St. John. Mr. Meisner was a student at Newton last year.

On Monday evening a "surprise shower" was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Gates for their niece, Miss Gertrude Gates. The shower consisted of cut glass silverware, dainty pieces of china, linen, kitchen utensils, and a handsome quilt, woven by a friend. Rev. J. D. Hall presented the gifts. Mr. Charles Campbell gave a short address, referring to the high esteem in which Miss Gates was held by the community.

On Wednesday afternoon the wedding of Rev. John Meisner and Miss Gertrude Gates took place at the Baptist church. In spite of the dull day the church was filled with friends, many coming from Wolfville and Kentville. The brown-eyed bride looked very pretty and dainty and the groom never looked better. We prophesy much happiness and prosperity in their church work.

The victims of the late tragic fire at this place Mr. and Mrs. Harley Eis-

Wedding Bells.

MEISNER-GATES.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Baptist church, Port Williams, on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 6th, when Rev. John Walter Meisner, B. A., (Acadia 1914) St. John, N. B., now of Cheggogin, Yarmouth Co., and Miss Nettie Gertrude Gates, Port Williams, were united in marriage.

Shortly after two o'clock the bride's sister, Mrs. Mawhinney, of St. John, took her place at the organ and to the strains of gladsome music the bridal party advanced to the altar, halting under a pretty arch of evergreen and white ribbons. Rev. A. J. Prosser, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. W. R. Robinson, of the Laddow St. Baptist church, St. John, N. B., being the bride's pastor for several years, she being a stenographer, having graduated from Acadia Business College. The impressive double ring service was used.

After the ceremony the bride and groom received the good wishes and congratulations of many friends in the vestry, before repairing to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kempton Gates, where refreshments were served and the many usual and decorative presents were viewed and admired. Among them was a number of cut glass dishes presented to the bride before her departure from St. John six weeks ago, by the choir pastor, Sunday School and B. Y. P. U., (the bride was made a life member of the latter over two years ago) of the Laddow St. Baptist church, St. John. The groom's present to the bride was a set of lyox furs.

The bride was gowned in a dainty dress of chormeuse satin with pearl trimmings, Juliette cap with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses combined with maiden-hair fern. Her travelling suit was navy broadcloth trimmed with panne velvet and white fur, with hat to match.

Rev. and Mrs. Meisner go to their church in Cheggogin accompanied by the good wishes of all their friends.
