TOWN TOPICS.

"A chit's amang ye, takin' notes, An' faith he'll prout it."

Geo. Stewart still turns out first class work in the photographic line. Call and have your picture taken at his parlor studio.

A Good Press—The most useful gift you can make is to give a Wirt Pen. Apply to D. McHillicuddy, agent, Goderich.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union met in the basement of North-st. Methodist church Tuesday afternoon. Prayer meeting at 7:30 o'clock.

See that your drains and water services are in good condition by getting your plumbing done by Saunders & Sons. They follow the most approved sanitary methods and prices will be as low as is consistent with good work.

Happy are the possessors of a water-proof cloak this week. These without one are liable to take cold this damp weather. To all such we would say, "Be wise and buy a smokeproof F. and A. Pridham's, and thus save a doctor's bill."

Many people are at their wits' end to find a suitable gift to present to a friend. A gift that will be valued and which will enable the recipient to keep the donor fresh in the memory, is a true-to-life, well-finished photograph. R. R. Saunders does work of this kind, and he can also make the gift more beautiful by framing it with some of his handsome mountings.

BRIEFLETS.

Miss Lizette Hyalop has returned home from Hamilton.

Miss Annie Campbell spent Thanksgiving day in Seaford.

The High School was given a holiday on Friday of last week.

Miss Maggie Wilkinson, of Galt, was in town on Thanksgiving Day.

The regular meeting of the town council will be held this (Friday) evening.

The fishing fleet returned last Saturday from a season's work at the north.

Dr. McDonagh will be in Goderich for consultation on the first Saturday of every month.

Rev. B. L. Hutton preached an interesting and impressive thanksgiving sermon to a large congregation in Victoria-st. Methodist church on Sunday evening.

Dr. M. Nicholson, the West-st. dentist, makes the preservation of the natural teeth a specialty. Gas administered from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for the painless extraction of teeth.

Mr Robt. McLean was in Toronto last week.

Mrs Saults returned from a visit to Bluevale last week.

Mr Harry Parsons, of Hamilton, is visiting his parents in town.

Mr and Mrs Jas. Gordon, of St Thomas, were visiting the former's parents, Mr and Mrs D. Gordon, last week.

We are pleased to be able to state that Mr P. Adams, who has been laid up with congestion of the lungs, is recovering from the attack.

The Scottish entertainment by the Rankin Company, which was to have been held on Thursday evening, was cancelled by the management.

A gospel temperance meeting will be held in the temperance hall on Tuesday evening next, under the auspices of R. T. of E. Goderich. A full attendance is requested. The service will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

AN IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT.—The new Soft Stop and Practice Pedal attachment to a Newcomb Upright Piano serves the nerves of the listener or performer, when practicing, as well as the instrument from wear, and preserves the tone.

Of the Harvey dramatic company, which will appear next week in the Grand Opera House, the Godefrich says: "The bill was 'Under the Greenleaf,' and although this play has been on the boards in Guelph before, the large audience present were universal in declaring that it had never been presented in so excellent a manner."

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold an open temperance meeting in the Temperance Hall, next Tuesday evening, the 19th inst. Rev. D. G. Cameron, of Dunnacree, will give an address, and a good program of music and recitations will be presented. A collection will be taken. Doors open at 7:30 p. m. to 10 o'clock at 8.

A MATHEMATICAL PUZZLE.—A furniture dealer has on hand at the beginning of the year furniture valued at $4,935 55. He bought during the year $7,428 40, and sold during the year $8,420 90. Five destroyed furniture costing $1,049, and he recovered insurance $825. His stock book at the close of the year showed furniture on hand $5,620. What was his gain or loss?—Wade's Fibre and Fabric.

CLOSING AUCTION SALE AT THE OLD STAND.—On Saturday next John Knox, the people's auctioneer, will hold the last great sale for bargains at the old Storey stand, Hamilton st., and will offer a lot of household furniture and other valuable articles on the occasion, which will be sold out for whatever they will bring. There will be no holding over, and if you want to get bargains be on the ground early on Saturday afternoon.

A GREAT CHRISTMAS SOUVENIR.—Although no public announcement has been made regarding it, the trade has found out that the coming Christmas number of the Montreal Star is to be the most superb Pictorial Christmas Souvenir ever seen in this country. The demand for it is simply immense, many dealers ordering a thousand copies each. Parties in the States are endeavoring to secure the exclusive sale in that country. It will be ready early in December.

An exchange gives the following, which should be remembered by all, as it might be the means of saving life and property:—"Fires resulting from burning oil are inextinguishable with water, but may be readily smothered by throwing flour on the burning oil. If clothes are set on fire by spilling oil or by the bursting of a lamp, a handful of flour thrown on immediately may be the means of quenching the flames and thus saving life."

AN OLD ACQUAINTANCE.—The Palmerston Telegraph says:—"Mr J. D. Elyhurst, formerly of Palmerston, has charge of a department in one of the largest dry goods houses in London, as manager and buyer. The firm may be congratulated on securing the services of so experienced a gentleman as our former townsmen." The gentleman in well known in Goderich, having been an employee of the Messrs Dettlor of this town, and is son-in-law of the late Samuel Platt Esq., of the same place.

ST. ANDREW'S NIGHT.—At a meeting of the Caledonian Society held at the office of Cameron, Holt & Cameron on Wednesday evening last, on motion of Mr Hutchison, seconded by Mr Garrow, it was decided to hold a St. Andrew's dinner on the evening of Friday, Nov. 29. A committee consisting of Messrs D. C. Strachan, S. Malcomson, M. Hutchison and G. Drummond was appointed to make arrangements for the dinner. Another committee, consisting of Messrs W. Proudfoot, A. P. McLean, D. McHillicuddy, D. McDonald and W. L. Horton was chosen to get up the program for the occasion. The meeting then adjourned to meet again on the evening of Friday, Nov. 22.

THE BOOT BLACK ORATOR.—A fair house greeted the boot black orator, J. R. Clark, on Wednesday evening in the Grand Opera House. Mr Clark is a master of word painting, and although free from provincialisms and peculiarities of pronunciation, has that peculiar magnetic influence which makes an audience susceptible to his every touch. His imitative powers are excellent, and his manner of telling a story or painting a moral is very effective. His treatment of England in his reference to that country was happy in the extreme, and the reference to her great men was of a most stirring nature. What he said of Ireland was good in its way. Many references to the men that Ireland has produced which omits the names of Robert Emmet, Henry Grattan, Daniel O'Connell, Isaac Butt, Charles Stewart Parnell, and other whose lives have been bound up with the history of Erin, and whose deeds are enshrined in the hearts of her people, cannot be taken as an adequate representation. Scotland, too, was represented with an exclusion of some of her most illustrious intellectual and gallant sons. But on the whole, the two hours and a quarter, occupied in the delivery of the lecture on "The Rose, Shamrock and Thistle," was well taken up, and the work painting well portrayed.

SALLOWS' REALISTIC TRAVELS.—This well-known and popular entertainment will be given in Knox church, Goderich, on Thursday evening, Nov. 21st. Proceeds in aid of the library fund. Good music will accompany the presentation of the views, as the choir has been specially secured for the occasion. It is not necessary for us to dwell largely upon the necessity for a good turn out on the occasion. The exhibitions given in town by Mr Sallovs last year were well appreciated, and with his additional experience and the increased number of views, together with the latest and best improvements in the way of presentation, the entertainment cannot be otherwise than pleasing and instructive. Everybody, go.

GRAND CONCERT.—The Chautauque Orchestra Concert Company, of Toronto, will visit this town on Friday, December 6th, and in the evening will give a grand concert in the Opera House, which will, without doubt, be the musical event of the season. The Orchestra numbers 12 professionals, with Mr Arthur Dupes as conductor, musical director and pianist. The orchestra will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Dickson, soprano soloist; Dr. Wild's church, Toronto, Miss McMillan, alto soloist; and Delarue gold medalist, of Chicago, and Mr Will E. Ramsay, Toronto's refined humorous vocalist, who has been specially engaged for this concert. Mr Herbert L. Clarke, the celebrated cornet soloist, and Mr Fred Smith, Euphonium Soloist of the Queen's Own Band, Toronto, Mr Joseph Thornton, solo clarinetist of the Academy of Music, Toronto, and Signor F. L. Napolitano, violin soloist, are among the number, 16 artists in all, the largest concert company that has visited our town for some time and by far the richest program will be presented that evening that our town has ever had the opportunity of listening to. This orchestra has been an organization for the last two years at the Canadian Chautauque, Niagara-on-the-lake, and any one hearing them will form an idea of the class of entertainments given there each season for the benefit of those who choose that place for a summer resort. Particular attention was given in next week's paper in reference to artists, price of reserved seats and general admission, etc.

NORTH STREET METHODIST HARVEST HORN.—The Harvest Horn concert given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of North-st. Methodist Church, which was held on Thursday evening, last week, was as usual one of the drawing events of the season. A regular thanksgiving dinner was furnished in the large lecture room from 6 to 8 o'clock, which an adjournment was held in the body of the church, where the feast of reason and flow of well-music awaited the large assemblage. The church was handsomely festooned with evergreens, the central figure being a large evergreen representation of a cross. On the platform were profusely strewn the program and appropriate, making a very pleasing and appropriate display for a harvest thanksgiving festival. The chair was taken by the pastor, Rev. Geo. Robertson, who, after thanking those present for their attendance, and explaining the objects of the gathering, called upon Rev. Dr. Ure to lead in prayer. The following program was then presented, and we need only say that the numbers presented gave great satisfaction to the lovers of music present: Part I.—"Praise to the Lord of the Harvest," choir; "All Among the Barley," choir; "Gloria," orchestra; "The Beautiful Gate and Golden," Miss M. Acheson (a lovely song, well sung, and deservedly so); "The Lord's Prayer," choir; recitation; "The Folan's Cell," Mrs. Dettlor, who showed that the star of her power on the platform is still in its zenith; "Canadian Boat Song," choir. Part II.—"Nunc Spargit Autumnus," choir; "Gloria in Excelsis," orchestra; "Gates of the West," with guitar accompaniment, Miss M. Graham and Mr J. Porter, (very finely rendered, and enjoyed); address, Rev. W. H. Hincks, L. B.; "Calm be Thy Slumbers," choir; "God Save the Queen." Miss Trueman acted as accompanist in a highly creditable manner. The address by Rev. Mr Hincks was specially adapted to a thanksgiving entertainment, and made a good impression on the audience. The effect of the address was somewhat marred by the incessant chattering of a few foolish young people in the audience, who evidently had not sufficient intelligence to enjoy the intellectual part of the program. The chairman was forced to draw attention to these disturbers publicly. In every other respect the gathering was a decided success, and reflected credit upon its promoters. We learn that the proceeds amounted to over $140.

GODERICH B. B. C. BALL.

The Second Annual Ball Under the Auspices of the Club.

The second annual assembly of the Goderich Baseball Club took place Wednesday evening of last week and was a brilliant success. The directors very kindly allowed the committee the use of the organ factory building, and certainly no better place could have been obtained, the second floor providing abundant space for both ball-room and supper, the offices being used as dressing rooms. The rooms were handsomely decorated with lustrous evergreens and hanging baskets, and a platform erected at the side for the musicians and one at the end for the patronesses, but as the latter was rather dimly lighted and had a nice, comfortable sofa, it was taken possession of by a few couples for a nice, quiet flirtation. The Harpers of London furnished the music. The supper was contributed by the ladies, and was a decided success, but was rather marred in the first course by the non-arrival of an important part of the program, viz., knives and forks, which caused no small amount of amusement, one young lady being seen wrestling with a carving fork and jelly; but this mistake was quickly remedied and all the guests took it very good-naturedly. The Starford gentlemen, however, do not intend to be caught again in that way and each one promised to bring a knife and fork with him next time.

Among so many pretty ladies it would be a difficult thing to decide the belle, so we leave that to our readers. About sixty guests were present from a distance, among whom we noticed Misses Farron, Mr H and Miss Rance, Mr H and Misses Coombe, Messrs Peto, Koelle, and W Jackson, Clinton; Messrs E C and T Coleman, A C Wilson, R S Hays, Seaford; T J Andrews and C O Henderson, St Thomas; W Ormiston, Mitchell; W G Owens, F G Fawcett, J McKay, D McKenzie, London; D Mc Intyre, Lucknow; Dr McKinnon, Mr Tanner, Blyth; Messrs E L Dickinson and G Duffield, Wingham; J G Galbraith, J Bert Brayley, Toronto; Mr and Mrs James Brantford; J D Barnett, W F P Hibbert, Jas Watson, J Wade, W K McLean, G Tiffin, J H Hudson, H S Patterson, Stratford; W J Tanner, Listowel.

One of the features was that the number of gentlemen was more than that of ladies, something new in Goderich.

The Club is to be congratulated on its success, and indeed, as was remarked by one of the guests that evening, if it were not for this club we don't know how our town would be for this kind of entertainment, as they seem to be the only ones willing to come forward and undertake the trouble.

The Goderich Baseball Club wish to return their most hearty thanks to those who so kindly came forward and helped them.

AUCTION SALES.

All parties offering their sale bills printed at this office will get a free notice inserted in this list up to the time of sale.

The farm stock and implements of Mr Walker Knight and Mrs McNeil will be sold on Thursday, Nov. 28th, on Block "D," con. 3, Colborne, commencing at 12 o'clock a. m. John Knox, auctioneer.

The stage for Worcester and Gorrie now leaves Brussels at 8:30 a. m. instead of in the evening. It returns between 6 and 7 p. m. This change will hold good until sleighing, probably.

The Alexander family, Brussels, will make their home in Toronto henceforth. Miss Rachel and her brother Willie left Brussels on Tuesday and Mrs Alexander will follow shortly.

Miss Lottie Smith left Brussels Friday noon, the 1st inst., for Waterford, where she purposes making her home for a while with her brother Hendy. On Thursday evening a large number of her friends held a sort of farewell reunion.

Mrs Wm. Dawson left Seaford a few days ago for Seattle, Washington Territory, where she intends to join her husband, who has a good situation with the Cable Car Company of that city.

As an indication of the healthfulness of this locality we may state that the interments in the Maitlandbank Cemetery during the past year have been fewer by fifty per cent. than in any year since the cemetery was opened.—Seaford Expositor.

Mr John Hannah has rented the Johnson farm in Tuckersmith, two hundred acres, to Mr Hugh Grieve, of Dakota, for a term of five years, at an annual rental of $550 a year. We shall be glad to welcome Mr Grieve back to this district again.

The farm of Mr Duncan McEwen, on the 7th concession of Turnberry, has been sold to his neighbor, Mr Thos Powell, for $3,100. The farm contains 100 acres and has on it a frame house and frame barn. It is within three miles of Wingham. Mr McEwen thinks of going to the city of Kent.

Last Friday Judge Doyle opened the court for revision of the Dominion Voters' List for this township, at the township hall. Objections being taken by the date of filing appeals the judge reserved decision and adjourned the court. Lawyers Wade, of Brussels, and Johnston, of Blyth, looked after the interests of the Reformers and Conservatives, respectively. It is hinted that if the Reformers get even fair play they will need to keep their eyes open. Some of these revising barristers are too partisan by half.—Brussels Post.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETING.

The Question of the Milling and Testing of Wheat.

The meeting of the West Huron Farmers' Institute held in the Town Hall on Wednesday of last week was not so largely attended as it should have been, owing doubtless to the backward state of the fall work. President Kernighan occupied the chair, and after the opening address, called on the first paper, which was on "The Feeding of Steers for Market," by Mr Isaac Fisher. The writer urged taking two-year olds to begin with, weighing perhaps 1000 pounds, and these with proper care could in six months be turned out from 1,300 to 1,400 pounds each.

John Aikenhead, V.S., read a paper urging the cultivation of a good walking gait in the draught horse. This could be secured by having a team properly matched as to gait—never have a fast horse and a slow one together. In training a colt, put it with a good walking horse, and in this way develop his walking qualities.

Mr A. H. Clutton then read an interesting paper on "Agricultural Progress," which was much appreciated.

The main subject for the session was a discussion of "The Milling and Testing of Wheat." Mr Flewes, Secretary of the Dominion Millers' Association, appeared to present the claims of the millers for an equalization of the duties on flour with that of wheat. He first explained the testing method adopted by the millers, and the apparatus prescribed by Government regulation for weighing and determining the grade of wheat. In answer to complaints as to the quantity of flour, etc., returned to the farmer for his grain, Mr Flewes stated that by the roller process of grinding the returns per bushel to the farmer could be only 37 lbs. flour and 13 lbs. offal; there were from 1 1/2 to 2 lbs. waste in each bushel, and the miller's share was about 3 lbs. flour, 2 of low grade, and 4 of bran—in all worth about 12 cents, which was practically the charge for grinding a bushel of wheat. It costs 40 cents a barrel to manufacture flour. After giving comparative figures of the price of wheat in Liverpool and Canada points, and the cost of transportation and other charges, Mr Flewes made a strong appeal to the farmers to assist the millers in getting redress for their grievances in the flour duty. The miller's complaint was that while 15c. a bushel duty on wheat kept out American grain, the duty of 50 cents a barrel on flour allowed the American miller to ship into Canada in competition with our own millers to such an extent that the inevitable result would be that but a few of our leading and wealthiest millers would have to close down. He made a strong presentation of the millers' claims with great clearness, and asked for the passage of a resolution approving of the millers' demand upon the Government that the duty upon American flour be raised to one dollar a barrel, the same as the Americans charge upon Canadian flour.

Some discussion on the question here took place, several members of the Institute objecting to such a resolution being passed.

Eventually, a resolution moved by Mr John Washington, seconded by Mr Isaac Fisher, was carried to the effect desired, and a vote of thanks was tendered Mr Flewes for his presence and the information given by him.

At a directors' meeting held at the close of the regular proceedings, it was decided that the next general meeting of the Institute be held in Dunnacree, and the directors in each township agreed to endeavor to hold local meetings in their respective townships during the winter season.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Mr E. C. Russell, formerly of Goderich, the Recipient.

From the Orlilla Daily Times.

A very pleasing incident took place in the office of the Georgian Bay Consolidated Lumber Company, Waubesa, on the 31st of Oct., when a number of the friends of Mr E. C. Russell assembled for the purpose of presenting him with the following address:

To Eben C. Russell, Esq., Waubesa.

DEAR SIR,—We, the undersigned, a few of your many friends in Waubesa, desire to express to you, on this day of your departure, the very warm esteem and respect in which you are held amongst us. Your intercourse with us during the time which you have spent amongst us has always been courteous, kind, and obliging, and while deeply regretting your departure, we rejoice to know that you are leaving only because of your having secured a much better situation. We trust that your new position will prove exceedingly agreeable and very advantageous to you; and that you may have something before your eyes to remind you of us, we beg your acceptance of the accompanying piece of silver plate. We also desire to express our good wishes and most kindly feelings towards Mrs Russell, and that you and she may have many years of happiness and prosperity before you. We remain your sincere friends,

A M DODGE. J SCOTT.
J W HARTMAN. J BRADSHAW.
W A WRIGHT. D M GRANT.
J I D LAFLANTE. G F HALL.
W W WALKER. W H F RUSSELL.
Wm. LOBE. THOS. BLANCHARD.
J O ELLEN. CAPT W O'DONNELL.
C P FISHER. C P STOCKING.
W J SHEPARD. H L LOVERING.
G MURRAY.

The address, which was read by Mr J Scott, was accompanied by a handsome silver tray bearing the following inscription:—

Presented to Eben C. Russell, Esq. A Souvenir from his many friends. Waubesa. Oct. 31st, 1889.

Mr Russell was completely taken by surprise, and in a few feeling words expressed his appreciation of the honor done him, and of the kindly wishes for his own and Mrs Russell's welfare. He spoke of the many pleasant hours he had passed with those whom he was leaving, and of the pleasant memories which he would always look back upon, during his sojourn in Waubesa.

Mr and Mrs Russell left on the 4 o'clock train for Walkerville, where Mr Russell has accepted an appointment as manager of the lumber department of Messrs. Hiram Walker & Son's business.

LEEBURN.

From our own correspondent.

The familiar form of D. McLaren, of Goderich, with his stout staff of workmen, not forgetting their house-moving apparatus, was up Butternut Row this week, moving a building for H. Chisholm. Also, last week Daniel with his staff did the carpentering work on the foundation of the barn he moved for J. O. Stewart. During this summer he put in the stalls in tip-top order, in the most improved style, and it would be well for those intending to make changes in their stalls for the winter to copy his methods.

The thanksgiving service at the church on Thursday of last week saw a good attendance, and an impressive sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Anderson, in which he spoke of the first act of Columbus when he discovered America in 1492, which was to offer a special thanksgiving on the shore of the new continent. Later the custom was adopted by the Governor of New England, and now in our land it is becoming a general custom. This year our own country, Canada, was happy and prosperous, and in unity and harmony, while other countries had suffered from floods, famine and other troubles.

The recent session of the Farmers' Institute in Goderich was attended by E. N. Shaw, John Horton, A. H. Clutton (who read a paper—subject, "Agricultural Progress"), and John Linklater, who is one of the directors.

Burrows' steamer is finishing up the threshing for this year. The yield is not as good as the grain returns of previous years.

Professor Cooke, of Goderich, recently repaired the church organ, which was visited by the friends of this time. The Professor was not alone; having been again added to the married forces. Mrs Cooke was well pleased with the scenery around Leeburn.

Robert Johnston, John Charlton and Joseph Coates pressed one hundred bales of hay in four hours and a-half, there being seven tons in the hundred bales. Oats and tea were served from the well laden tables under the charge of Sisters Gordon, Green, and Linfield. After refreshments were served the program followed. Readings were given by Bros. A H Clutton, S B Williams and Linklater, the latter giving several songs. A lively dialogue, "The Bunktown Lyceum," by a company of nine, was well received with roars of laughter and much merriment from the audience. The recitations of Sister Green and Bro. Hilley Horton were well rendered. Instrumental music was played on the mouth organ by James McManus, supported on the organ by Miss Horton, the latter singing several songs which were well received. Bro. John Horton supported in violin instrumental music by Miss Maggie MacPhail, of the South Star Lodge, Porter's Hill, who also in her first appearance before a Leeburn audience was deep and marked applause in singing several songs. Her duet with Bro. Potter was well received, as also a reading from Sister Ella MacDonald. The last two being from the South Star Lodge, our members extend to them a hearty vote of thanks for their kindness on being present and assisting with the entertainment, and hope that they, with others of their fellow workers, will come again to assist our lodge with other entertainments during the coming winter. John Eyer, from near the Nile, gave one of his popular songs, which was favorably received. At the close the chairman, S B Williams, said there would be monthly entertainments held and the Lodge would like to see more join them. The proceedings ended by all singing the closing ode of the order. All were well pleased with the program and bill of fare, particularly the pancakes.

On Sunday of last week a party was found in full bloom in James Turnbull's garden, John Street, Brussels. That's not bad for Nov. 3rd.

Mrs Frank Le Bon, Brussels, got a sewing needle in her finger Saturday week before last, and on Tuesday of last week she fell and sprained her elbow. Truly troubles never come singly.

THE ENFIELD COURT ROBBERY.

IN TWO CHAPTERS.—CHAPTER II.

Upon further investigation, it was found that while the robbery at Enfield Court had been most carefully planned and premeditated, the fire had evidently been an accidental part of the thieves' program, a hastily done up bundle, containing some valuable articles, was discovered just outside the supper-room window, as if dropped in a hurry. Happily, the fire had been subdued in time to save the greater portion of the house; but the damage done, to say nothing of the immense loss caused by the robbery, was very considerable.

In due time, the two detectives came down from London, and the excitement continued unabated in the neighbourhood whilst they remained; but nothing transpired. They maintained an amount of stolid reticence which to the curious was most provoking; and finally they departed without having apparently done anything towards solving the mystery far less securing the thieves.

Gradually things seemed to settle down, and the robbery at Enfield was replaced in my mind by my entire absorption in Amy's engagement, to which I had given a qualified consent on condition that Mr. Mauleverer's family were satisfied with the connection, and that pecuniary matters were properly adjusted. Now that he had actually declared himself, I felt emboldened to ask questions and ascertain everything I possibly could as to the antecedents of the man who was to be my darling's husband.

He was, as his mother was, a man of great wealth, and lived in great seclusion at his own property, which was situated in Yorkshire. He was reputed to be rich; but on this point I could gain no definite information. Still, remembering Lady Desant's "very well off," I was not much troubled on the score of money matters. I had felt it incumbent upon me to invite him to spend a few days with us before he left for Yorkshire, and it seemed natural that he should come to us. I told him frankly that Amy had very little money of her own—something less than two thousand pounds; but, at my death, I intended to leave her everything, which I felt sure he would approve of being tied up and strictly settled upon herself.

I thought his expression changed a little when I mentioned this, and still more so when I casually asked him in a friendly way if he always meant to be an idle man; for he had left the army, it appeared, and I was anxious, for Amy's sake, to see some symptom of his wishing to get an appointment or occupation of some kind. Meanwhile, Amy seemed satisfied; but my doubts—born of my extreme affection for her—began to arise, and refused to be silenced.

Mr. Mauleverer had written to his father announcing his engagement; but as yet neither line nor message from the old gentleman had reached us. It was not treating Amy properly; and though Amy's entreaties to me to be patient, and off-repeated assurances that Alfred said everything would be all right, silenced me for a time, I was fully resolved to see matters either ended or placed on a satisfactory footing before much longer time elapsed.

In the meantime, Mr. Mauleverer received one morning a telegram, which he informed us contained the news of the illness of an old friend of his in London. He must start immediately, if he wished to see him alive. If I did not mind, he would leave his heavy luggage behind him, and take only a small portmanteau. Unless something very special happened to detain him, he would be with us again in a couple of days. His advice seemed hurried, but imperative. He seemed really sorry to leave Amy, who was, however, enabled to bid him a cheerful good-bye on the strength of his speedy return.

had seen; and after a few minutes—to me such seemed an hour—I moved toward the door, and summoned one of my servants. I mentioned the circumstances to her, and enjoined extra care that night as to our bolts and bars. Though we had neither gold plate nor diamonds to attract thieves, still there was enough silver to satisfy moderate cupidity, and it was wonderful how such facts got abroad. After the Enfield Court robbery, one could not be too careful.

Very soon Margaret, my servant, had secured all the shutters, drawn the curtains, and I sat down to my solitary tea, wishing most fervently that Amy were safely within doors again. A sudden storm had come on; the wind had risen to a hurricane, and began to continue during the night. About eight o'clock, a message arrived for me from Lady Desant, telling me that as the storm was so severe, they had ventured to detain Amy for the night; in the morning, she would be with me early.

I was both glad and sorry—that Amy would not run the risk of encountering any lurking individuals in the darkness; that she was safely at Enfield; but sorry for my own sake, I felt so solitary and, truth to tell, so strangely nervous. The evening wore on slowly, and as ten o'clock struck I went to my room. It was directly over the spare room. Next to mine was Amy's; and on the other side of the landing was the spare room, which had so recently been occupied by Alfred Mauleverer. Above slept the servants. I heard them go up to bed, and while I could hear them moving about overhead, I was tolerably comfortable; but soon stillness reigned over the Wren's Nest. My domestics were asleep. The best thing I could do was to follow their example, which after a time I suppose I did, for I was awakened by a noise, a distant sound from the hall below. I scarcely breathed, I could hear my heart beating as I lay listening with strained ears, and recalling with horrified terror the face I had seen at the window.

I need hardly say that I was thoroughly awake. Every nerve was strung to such a pitch of tension that if a pin had been dropped, I feel sure I should have heard it. It came again—the sound from below—dull, this time but distinct; and presently I heard stealthy footsteps coming rapidly and quietly up-stairs—evidently shoeless feet, but none the less audible to my ears. Never since I had lived at the Wren's Nest had I locked my bedroom door, nor had I heard of doing it; and despite my nervousness on this occasion, I had not departed from my rule. It was too late to attempt to accomplish it now. Besides, looking back, I think a sort of temporary paralysis had come over me. I heard a hand laid upon the handle; it was turned cautiously, and the next moment, from my curtained bed, I distinguished a man bearing some sort of small lamp—his face concealed by a mask—enter.

It was a matter of life or death to me to remain quiet. Through my mind flashed a resolve to deliver up everything I was possessed of—family plate, my mother's emeralds, all my small valuables to this robber, in exchange for my life, should he demand them. But no such intention appeared to be his. He approached the bed, raised his lamp, flashed it for a second on my closed eyes; and then withdrew it, apparently satisfied that I slept. It must have been a cursory glance, for I could not have sustained the deception for more than a moment. He gave a keen look round the room. Only the lower part of his face was covered, so I could see his eyes, small, dark and piercing, with something familiar to me in them, even then. My watch—a legacy from my mother—lay by the pillow-table, but he overlooked it. Evidently mine was not the room he meant to rifle. Almost noiselessly he vanished out of it, and I heard him proceed into Amy's room next—thank God, it was empty—then into the spare room, where he remained.

All at once it flashed across me that by a little courage I might save everything, and secure the thief. In the former days, my spare room had been a nursery, and the windows were barred, so as to make all exit from them impossible. If I could slip out of bed, get across the passage, in one second I could lock the door, and secure from any attack, raise an alarm.

The agony of fear I was in was such that I felt equal to any effort. Without losing a moment, I glided out of bed; a moment's pause acquainted me with the fact that the mask was busy; I heard him throwing out things all over the floor. He was searching Mr. Mauleverer's portmanteaus; they were quite at the far end of the bedroom; so I calculated that I could safely close and lock the door before he could possibly prevent me. Like a ghost, I moved out of my room on my perilous errand. I beheld a man kneeling in front of the larger of the portmanteaus, rifling it with a rapidity and intensity which secured my being for the present undisturbed. I had intended to seize the door the instant I reached it, but something made me pause in the darkness and peer with terrified eyes into the bedroom. He had moved to my side, and as one thing after another was hurriedly thrown upon the floor.

the moment, and enabled me to rouse my three servants, who must at first have thought I had gone temporarily out of my mind, when I tried to make them comprehend our position. It was two o'clock in the morning, still blowing a gale, and as dark as Erebus. But assistance must be got. The man within our spare room might have accomplished without our danger might be beginning. With an alarm-bell; that must be wrong. Four trembling women, we proceeded in a group to the outer back court, where the bell hung, only to find the rope severed. I had snatched up a cloak, and arrayed myself in my slippers and a skirt. The servants were as little dressed as myself. But it was no time to hesitate; I immediate action must be taken. We near of the gardener, who lived a considerable way from the house. Through the dark dripping shrubberies we flew at every step expecting to be dragged back by some lurker; but no one stopped us. In safety, we reached the cottage; and in a few minutes, my three trembling women, and general factotum of our midst.

He cottage was within a short distance of several others; and though he wished to go straight to the house, fearing lest the man should have escaped, or been liberated by accomplices, I would not hear of it. I insisted upon getting a notion of men to accompany him, a precaution for which I saw Arkwright's nice little wife was very grateful. This caused some delay; but it had not enabled the man to escape. The hall door was found open, and everything just as we had left it; the spare room door was unlocked by my orders, it was found to be unlocked when the police arrived. Several volunteers had hastened to summon them; and while we were awaiting their arrival, I had time to think a little of the horror of the position. How had Lady Desant's diamond necklace found its way into Alfred Mauleverer's portmanteau? Could he be some awful impostor; or some villain in the guise of a gentleman, whom I had harboured in my house, and to whom I had meditated giving my niece? The shock would almost kill Amy. Even I felt as if I should never get over it.

Who was the man I a dreadful tightness came over my heart when this question presented itself, a suspicion too horrible. It made the suspense almost too terrible. I heard the policemen arrive, and while they were ascending the stairs to the spare bedroom, I felt almost choked with an apprehension for what I should next hear. The door was unlocked, and there was the thief. His man, the man who had been in my house, and to whom I had meditated giving my niece? The shock would almost kill Amy. Even I felt as if I should never get over it.

Even I felt as if I should never get over it.

When the detectives came down to Enfield, it became imperative upon him to hit upon some safe place for the diamonds. Mr. Mauleverer was blessed with an over-abundant wardrobe; and during his visit to Enfield, this butler had chosen to consider him under his particular care, laying out his clothes, arranging and setting things generally for him. The idea of temporarily depositing the precious gems within the lining of one of that gentleman's portmanteaus, struck him as a brilliant one. His intention of course was to withdraw them directly Mr. Mauleverer's departure was about to take place, and he would of course have the best opportunity of doing so while packing his trunk; but he had a user change unaccounted for, and he had the mortification of seeing the portmanteau leave Enfield with the diamonds still safely secreted within it.

Mr. Mauleverer's temporary absence from our house afforded to good an opportunity to be missed; hence the visit to the Wren's Nest, which very shortly terminated my existence, for the shock and exposure secured my being on an island from which, for long, it was not expected I should recover.

Any was my tender nurse all through it, and it was from her lips I heard all the particulars of the robbery, in the sequel to which I had been called on to play so prominent a part. Happily for both our sakes, she never knew of the terrible suspicions I had for a brief time entertained regarding Mr. Mauleverer. That gentleman made his appearance, in due time at the Wren's Nest, bearing his father's letter, which informed me not only of his willingness to welcome Amy as his daughter, but to settle an income upon the young couple of the most satisfactory description. Shortly afterwards, the butler was placed upon his trial, and I was called on, despite my weakened condition, to give evidence against him. This, however, I was happily spared as the prisoner, acting on the advice of his counsel, pleaded guilty. Indeed, I was doubly relieved, Mauleverer's character was thus vindicated. As the wretched prisoner was being removed, he vowed he would "pay Miss Courtenay a visit again when his term of imprisonment expired." However, ten years' penal servitude may bring about a change in his intentions. Lady Desant amused me very much by the comforting view she took of the matter. "Do not trouble your head, my dear Miss Courtenay, about anything the wretch may have said; in the course of nature, you will be beyond his reach long before then."

AT LAST!

A Wonderful Vegetable Discovery That Removes the Terrible Results of Overwork.

A True Invigorator.

Weakness and prostration of the nervous system surely follow that overwork and worry which brings sorrow and suffering to so many Canadian homes. The terrible results of nervous weakness, are seen on every hand. Pains in the back, poor and unrefreshing sleep, lack of appetite, dyspepsia, and lost energy and strength, are the first symptoms of more serious and dangerous trouble. This is the way that Paralysis, Paresis and Insanity begin. Do not delay a moment longer, for some time it will be too late to regain your lost health and vitality. Use Paine's Celery Compound now, and the dull eyes will regain their brilliancy, the cheeks will grow rosy, the brain become clear, the nerves strong and steady, your sleep restful and refreshing, appetite good, and health and happiness will take the place of misery and suffering. A. Sabiston, the well known lithographer of Montreal, writes: "In the summer of 1888 I had to work very hard, and was troubled considerably with insomnia (sleeplessness). I resolved to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking the contents of two bottles, felt like a new man. A good night's rest gave me strength for the duties of the day, and instead of starting out to business in the morning feeling as if I had completed a day's work instead of being about to commence one I started out in good spirits, feeling fresh and strong. My wife and various friends, to whom I recommended the medicine, have been benefited greatly, and in fact 'Paine's Celery Compound' is a household word in our family."

Spurgeon, the eminent Baptist preacher, never makes any preparation for a sermon. It is his habit to choose some text on Saturday evening to be used on the morrow. Thirty minutes, and no longer, he devotes to looking up references. Of these references he jots down a few notes, and with nothing else in hand he steps into the pulpit on Sunday morning without manuscript or thought of his text other than that given during the half-hour's study of the previous evening.

A Weekly Digest of the County News...

Mr W. Herbison, of Goderich township, had the misfortune to lose a $30 bill in Clinton the other day.

Miss C. Martin, of Bayfield, has been secured for S. S. No. 3, Stanley township, instead of Goderich township, as stated, at a salary of $250.

Mr Jos. Gibson, of Vancouver City, B. C., who has been visiting friends in Ontario this summer, is at present at Mr H. Gibson's, on the 9th con., Turberville.

The Seaford football club scored a grand victory at Berlin on 28th ult., beating the celebrated Rangers of that town by a score of three to two.

Mr Will Wallace, formerly of Clinton, but more recently a commercial traveler, has settled down to business in Toronto, where he has opened out for himself.

Wm Scott, Brussels, who has been laid up for several weeks with a broken leg, started to work last Monday. He is employed at Smith & Malcom's factory and is a first-class mechanic.

Last Sunday afternoon Arthur, the four-year-old son of Andrew Crozier, Brussels, fell on the road while going to Alex McLaughlin's and broke the small bone in his left arm near the elbow.

Mr George Lewis, of the Huron Road, Goderich tp., has leased his farm to Mr R. Lawson, at an annual rental of $90. George moves his family into what was known as the Calhoun house.

The death of Mrs J. Anderson, near Belgrave, was very sudden, week before last. She went to the pump for water, and there she died. Her son, who is living in Wingham, had the same day gone home with a wounded hand.

Mr George J. Connell has rented his farm, being lot 32, on the 9th concession, Goderich township, to Mr Wesley Hearn, of the 4th concession, for three years, at an annual rental of about $275 a year.

Mr Henry Carter, late of the 9th concession, Goderich township, has bought the farm formerly owned by Mr Thomas Jervis, on the Bayfield line, consisting of 125 acres. About 80 acres cleared, but no buildings. The price at which it was bought for $28 an acre. He is now busy erecting buildings thereon.

Mr W. Yungblut, Auburn, who had been confined to his bed for some months with a cancer, died on Saturday night, the 26th of October, and was buried the Wednesday afternoon following, in Ball's cemetery. He leaves a large family, who have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

Mr S. S. Cooper has completed his contract on the new Baptist church, to the entire satisfaction of the Building Committee. The building is yet to be seated, when it will be ready for dedication. A meeting concerning the recent internal difficulties was held here on Tuesday, several Baptist representatives from outside being present, but what course will be pursued has not been learned.—Clinton News Era.

Mrs Robert Mitchell, Clinton, who of late has been suffering a great deal with one of her eyes, resolved to have it taken out on Thursday, the 31st ult. Dr Gardner, of the Diamond Medicine Co., performed the operation. As her health would not permit of her taking enough drugs to deaden the pain, her sufferings were very great. We are glad, however, to state that she is doing as well as could be expected.

Just imagine your wife not being able to speak for ten days. What a change there would be in the house! What an unnatural silence! Another has been added to the long list of burning accidents. Mrs Jos. Johnston, of Westfield, went to one of her neighbors on Tuesday forenoon of last week, to make a short call, leaving her little girl at home. The little girl, while playing near the stove had her dress set on fire by a spark from it and ran to the pail of water to plunge in her arm, but there was no water in it. Catching sight of her mother approaching the house she ran out to meet her, her dress by this time being in flames. A doctor was summoned, but all that could be done was to alleviate her pain. At two o'clock death ended her misery.

Wullie McAndrew's Courtship. From Grip.

Wullie McAndrew was a young, and needless to say pushing, Scotchman, who after some years' experience of Canadian rural life, had invested in a farm in Eldersville township, Bruce county. The only thing that was wanting to complete his outfit was a wife; and Wallie, after a cautious mental survey of the eligible girls in the neighborhood, fixed upon Katrina Gumpenjerfer, the daughter of a well-to-do German farmer, as the one most likely to suit. Anxious to have the affair settled he called one day when he had reason to believe the old folks would be away. The door was opened by Katrina.

"Good mornin', Katrina. How's a' wi' ye?" said Wullie.

"Der vash nopedy mit me; I vash all alone minesself," replied the Dutch damsel, looking encouragingly at Wullie.

"See muckle the better. I'd like to hae a crack wi' ye yer lane."

"Oh yav—yu likes to crack some boddertun, mebbe. But I dinks ve ton't haves some alreety."

"Nits! Wha said onything about nits? Na, na, lassie, I jist want a wee bit conversation, ye ken."

"Vell, Mianter Mianter, jist gum der haus in und sit der fire by," said Katrina.

Wullie complied and sat for a minute or two considering how best to open the ball. Sentimental wasn't greatly in his line, but some sort of sentimental preliminary to his offer was, of course, the right and conventional thing. Finally Katrina gave him a lead.

"Dot was a beautiful flog, don' didd'?" "Aye, weel my say ye thon. Deed, it mids me 'x' the days of lang syne, when I was a wee hards' laddie on the braes o' Aberneshinnell, whaur the bonnie burnie's split amang the 'knows,' an' the larkock liltit i' the lift abuse." Here he heaved a sigh of tender regret.

"Vell, vell," said Katrina, sympathetically, "und did id hurt yu mooch?" "Hurt me—did what hurt me?" "Vy all dose—dose dings vat yu mentioned. I remember me ven I had a boil on me yust so bigger like a hen's ock. Mine grastus, it vas bair-foot."

The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor.

Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited.—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.

I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health.—Miss Thirza L. Cresser, Palmyra, Md.

My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved.—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from marital exposure in the arm. I was in a very bad condition, but a few bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health.

I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies.—F. A. Finkham, South Molunox, Me.

My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect.—Rev. S. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va.

I suffered from Nervous Prostration, with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.—Lucy Moffitt, Killington, Conn.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, so Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

HURON SIGNAL

FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1889.

TROUBLE ABOUT WATERWORKS

Mr E. C. Sornborger, of Buffalo, N. Y., has been in town during the past week on behalf of the Gordon Steam Pump Co., of Hamilton, Ohio, endeavoring to close up the business in connection with the waterworks pumping engines.

The railway agitation goes bravely on. Goderich is at last out strongly for competitive service. Everyone of spirit is taking an interest in the matter, and the "crackers" have turned their faces to the wall.

DURING the regime of Hon John Haggart in the Post Office Department, there have been more post office officials qualified for the penitentiary than under any half dozen of his predecessors.

There are few people in Canada who do not see this entertaining annual.

do not see this entertaining annual. It has just made its appearance for the eleventh year; and in many respects the new book is ahead of any predecessor.

At Sarnia, on Monday, Mr Chas Mackenzie, Liberal, Mr Robert Fleck, Conservative, and Mr J. McCree, Third Party, were nominated for the seat in the Legislature made vacant by the death of the late T. B. Pardee.

ONE of the principal planks of the Third Party platform is the resistance of clerical interference in matters political. Well, what's sauce for the goose should also be sauce for the gander, and why is Rev Dr Sutherland and a host of other clerical lights now on the political stump, and why are many pulpits now turned into platforms for political harangues?

THE time for bringing on the Ontario elections is now agitating the public mind, and the press is taking the question up for discussion. The Mail is of opinion that the day is close at hand, while organs supposed to be in the confidence of the Government place it as far in the rear as June, 1890, or even September of that year.

THE EDITOR'S TABLE. A Word or two About New Publications. The November Wide Awake is likely to be much sought, read and preserved, on account of its portrait of Helen Hunt in her young womanhood; it is engraved from the charcoal by Miss Bartol made of the charcoal by Miss Bartol made of the charcoal by Miss Bartol.

THE family of Mr Hunt, cooper, left Seaford last week for Midland, Michigan, where Mr Hunt has been employed for some time. Mr W. H. Boyd has disposed of his baking business in Seaford to Messrs. Clarke & Ingram, and intends going to Clinton to start in the same business there.

FOR delicate, sickly children Scott's Emulsion is unequalled. See what Dr C. A. Black, of Amherst, N. S., says: "I have been acquainted with Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, for years, and consider it one of the finest preparations now before the public. Its pleasant flavor makes it the great favorite for children, and I can highly recommend it for all wasting diseases of children and adults. Sold by druggists, 50c and $1."

PARIS EXPOSITION.

Sights and Scenes Presented to "The Signal" Readers.

How the Frenchmen Make it Pay—Large Attendance—The Eiffel Tower—Machinery Hall—The Habitations of Man from Earliest Ages.

The Paris Exposition was brought about to celebrate the centenary of the great revolution, and the credit of bringing it about is due to M. Alphand, one of France's most eminent engineers.

A number of banks made a new arrangement with the Government, by which they took over all liabilities in return for thirty million tickets and the exclusive rights of running a lottery on a gigantic scale.

THE ATTENDANCE is greatest sometimes exceeding 350,000, and the average attendance for week days is over 150,000.

THE CHINESE PAVILION is particularly interesting from its great variety of carvings in wood.

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC AND CHILL. For originality of style and beauty the Argentine pavilion takes first place.

EDISON'S COURT. His exhibits occupy a thousand square yards; in fact, nearly one half of the American space in the Machinery Hall seems to be covered by this enterprising inventor.

THE HISTORY OF HUMAN HABITATIONS, beginning with the caves of the cave-dwellers—sorry looking houses they are—and continuing through the pre-historic, as well as historic period of man's for welding metals by electricity. The process is simple. Two bars of any kind of metal are placed close together, held by clamps, one movable the other stationary.

THE CITY OF THE SUN, the name given to the Oriental streets and bazaars. Without a doubt, there is a truthful representation of an Egyptian street in the city of Cairo.

THE INDIAN PALACE, with all its gaudy Hindoo colorings and carvings. It is laid out as a bazaar. Under the central dome you can get an exquisite cup of Indian tea.

FORETHOUGHT OF FAMILIES. The work is a typical case—made the first both winter and summer; in cold weather the husband remained to bed until the room became warm.

PARISIAN BALM. A delightfully perfumed preparation for Chapped Hands, Cracked Lips and Roughness of the skin.

HELPFUL HINTS. We had a pleasant time having last summer, because of first-class help.

GREAT SALE OF DOLLS & ALBUMS! FRASER & PORTER'S.

Buy at once and save money, as we are going to sell for two weeks only at prices so that everyone can afford to buy. Both lines are new and clean—not old truck that will only sell by auction. Our reason for selling the above goods without profit is not merely to advertise to catch custom, but to make room for other Xmas goods arriving. Besides these two lines we will sell for the same length of time Silverware, Wallpaper, Pocket Books and Pipes, of which we have by far the largest stock in town, at a reduction of 20 per cent. Be wise and purchase from us, as we mean straightforward business. Central Telephone Exchange, North side of Square.

DUNGANNON.

From our own correspondent. The municipal council of West Wawanosh, in pursuance to notice, met on Saturday, 9th inst. All the members were present, and considerable municipal business was transacted. Weather at present and for some days past has been all that could be desired at this season of the year. John E Tom, Esq., inspector of public schools, officially visited Daugannon school on Friday, the 8th inst., and put the pupils through their various exercises in a pleasing, practical and thorough manner. There were present on that occasion Rev A Potter, J M Roberts, and your humble correspondent. At the close of the examination, and after the inspector had made some remarks as to the progress of the pupils and other matters pertaining to education, as also his satisfaction with the state of the school, with a few exceptions, the rev gentleman who was so kind as to favor the school on that occasion with his presence and influence made some appropriate remarks as to the pleasure he experienced in being present, also highly complimented the inspector on his efficient, thorough and practical system of conducting the examination. Mr Roberts expressed himself pleased with the state of the school in so far as he had seen the pupils put through the exercises. The inspector further expressed great pleasure at the appearance of the school premises. Messrs Holt and Proudfoot, barristers, Goderich, visited our hamlet last week on (as we have been informed) important business. Owing to favorable showers, the fall wheat crop is improving in this section of country. Quite a quantity of coarse grain is being shipped at Lucknow from this locality. Mr Thos Durin is erecting a good, large stable on his new premises, which he recently purchased from Jos Smith. Railway matters are still in the foreground. Messrs Stevens & Sallows held the entertainment, as previously announced, on Friday, the 8th inst., in the Orange hall here. Quite a number were present. As the ceiling is low and the room is not spacious enough, they could not exhibit the scenes to advantage. However, under the circumstances those present were apparently satisfied. Rev A Potter acted as chairman on the occasion.

NORTH ASHFIELD.

From our own correspondent. Miss Eliza McKenzie has gone to visit her sister, Mrs D McLean, at Lake Linden. Mr and Mrs W G Murdoch have moved into Lucknow. They were great favorites, and we are sorry they have left us. Mr Finlay McGinnes, our popular chessmaker, has closed the general work of the factory for this season. The make this season has been very large, thus showing the farmers of this vicinity are full of enterprise. Inspector Campbell visited the school last week. Mrs McKenzie, who was hurt last May, is, we are sorry to say, not improving. Mr Alex McLean is visiting his uncle, Mr Peter McKenzie. A number of the members of Dewdrop Lodge visited Lochalsh Lodge last night of meeting, and expressed themselves highly pleased with the manner in which they were treated.

DUNLOP.

From our own correspondent. Mr and Mrs Fisher visited friends in Clinton this week. Miss K Fritzel, of Saltford, spent Thanksgiving Day with her cousins, Alice and Ethel Cumming, of this place. PERSONAL.—Howard A Cox and Geo Cookman, of Goderich, ate their Thanksgiving dinner in Dunlop, having an excellent day's sport in shooting, made remarkable by a keen chase after a fox which was wounded but not captured. When the snowflakes fall they will be out again to track Reynard. Thanksgiving Day was observed by some of our residents by attending church in Leeburn, and others attending the Thanksgiving supper at the North-st. Methodist church in Goderich. CHANGED HIS LOCATION.—For nearly a year our popular blacksmith, C Fisher, has carried on the blacksmith business in the old stand of H J Horton, who last year gave up the business on account of ill-health and rented his house and stand to Mr Fisher. The latter now has changed his quarters to the large shop of A C McDonald and altered it into a live smithy and will work there at his trade. The old stand may again have its former owner resuming his trade in our burg—so it is rumored.

PORT ALBERT.

THE RAILWAY QUESTION. We notice by THE SIGNAL of last week that a committee has been appointed by the town council to take decisive steps to prosecute the G. and W. J. scheme. And by a sprightly got up handbill we observe that a meeting will be held in Dungannon this coming Thursday, which will be addressed by the best railway oratorical talent which the county town can provide. Well, we haven't the slightest objection. In fact, we give the people of Goderich credit for every effort, every endeavor, every trick, every gaudy game and underhand scheme they can possibly make to prevent Port Albert from getting a railway. For that's what all this fuss is about. So we wish the deputation from the county town, who will on Thursday get down on their marrow bones to the people of Dungannon, a merry ride to that village, and will sincerely hope that, let the result of their mission be what it may, they will not establish the truth of the old proverb: "Put a beggar on horseback and he'll ride to the devil." We have received the following communication from Brussels: BRUSSELS, Oct. 31st, 1889. DEAR SIR,—Will you please let me know by return mail the price of your faithful Tory and oblige, Yours faithfully, GEORGE E. We deeply regret that our correspondent was not more explicit. If by the expression "your truthful Tory" our correspondent alludes to our world renowned book entitled, "The Sins of a Lifetime, or a Truthful Tory," we hasten to reply that the price is fifty cents in paper and one dollar in cloth. But if, as we are almost led to believe from the phraseology of his letter, our correspondent is engaged in starting a museum and is under the impression that we have a real live specimen of the above mentioned vices in our possession, we must sorrowfully admit that we have not, nor neither do we know where one could be procured. Indeed, after reading the leading editorials in the Conservative press throughout the Dominion, and also the opinions of the Reform papers upon the matter, we have come to the conclusion that the species is now almost, if not entirely, extinct. However, if George E. is of the opinion that his "monster aggregation" would not be complete without one of these specimens, and is not above taking a little advice upon the matter, we would advise him to attend the next session of the Dominion parliament, watch closely, and it is just possible that he may secure the required article. He must, however, exercise the greatest caution, as there is another "collector" who is always in the field, one who has a bitter hatred of these creatures, and will not, if possible, allow one to enter the building. We allude to John A. If at any other time we can be of any assistance to our correspondent in the way of obtaining information or otherwise we will only be too happy to render it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The Methodists of Goderich District Meet at Holmesville. The Methodist Sunday School Convention for the Goderich District was held on Wednesday, 6th inst., at Holmesville. It was opened at 8.40 a.m. Rev. George Richardson occupied the chair, and Mr J E Tom, I.P.S., was appointed secretary of the morning session. After a service of praise and prayer, an interesting paper on the importance and the right method of questioning in the S.S. was read by Mr Tom. So highly was this paper appreciated by those who heard it, that Mr Tom has been earnestly requested by the Convention to send it to the press, that those who are not privileged to hear it may have the opportunity of reading it. An interesting paper on the importance and best method of teaching the catechism. Teachers themselves should be examined on it. A part of every Sunday should be devoted to it. The qualifications of the teachers should be lifted up, which would be the case if they were required to pass an examination before becoming teachers. Parents should aid teachers in this important work. Specialists might be employed to teach the catechism on the blackboard. By writing a question on the blackboard every Sunday, so that all might have it before them, and be impressed upon the memory that the superintendent would have little difficulty at the close of the session in getting the whole school to recite it. The relation of children to the Kingdom of Christ was introduced by Rev. B. L. Hutton, in a very able paper. The topic of an interesting and instructive part of the program. The lesson was that of the previous Sunday, on "Abraham." The whole was closed by a teachers' fellowship meeting, during which superintendent and teachers told of the spiritual good they had derived from teaching in the Sunday school. The topic of "Common Errors in S.S. Work," was introduced by Mr Thomas Dostow, and subsequently taken up by Mr Manning, and a general discussion followed. Among other errors the following were dwelt upon: Dwelling upon the historical part of the lesson to the exclusion of the spiritual; not living constantly during the week; being absent when you ought to be present; giving too much attention to querulous persons. Two books were recommended as valuable aids to S.S. teachers: "Bible Difficulties Dispelled," by Dr. Sexton, and "Five Hundred Passages Explained," by Dr. Cooke. The importance of good literature in the S.S. was introduced by Rev. J. E. Hill. He was very down on all novelistic literature. The chairman thought we were to distinguish between the novel and fiction. The subject of "Temperance in the S.S.," was introduced by Rev. J. Edge, in an eloquent and stirring address, in which he specially emphasized the thought that nobody wanted the drunkard. The stewardkeeper did not want him as a clerk; the railway company did not want him as an employee; the family did not want him as a husband, or a father, or a son; nor was he wanted as a wife or mother; the State did not want the drunkard. Then why does the State license the business of making that which is nowhere wanted? A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the friends at Holmesville for their kindness in entertaining the convention, while they in turn as heartily thanked the District Meeting for the privilege of having it in their midst, and expressed a hope of its coming there again soon. In the evening the question drawer was opened and a number of important and interesting questions were read out by Rev J. Edge, and answered in the name of the convention by Rev J. Harris, as follows: A class may consist of from six to sixty pupils, according to circumstances and the ability of the teacher. Where verses are recited every Sunday the class should not be large. Where there is a convenient room the Bible class should be allowed to continue with its own teacher while the superintendent reviews the school. The superintendent of a circuit has no right, in the Sunday school, to take the place of the superintendent of the school unless requested to do so by the latter. It is sometimes advisable to employ young persons as teachers even when the heads of families unemployed in the school. We do this constantly in day school—why not in the Sabbath school? A person that smokes may be employed as a teacher under certain circumstances, though if a young person refuses to give up the habit, and another who does not smoke can be procured, the latter should be preferred—as we teach by example. It is right sometimes to use unconverted persons as teachers if they are moral and religious. Always use the best material available. The Sabbath school is the right arm of the church, and should in no case be conducted independently of the church. Samuel meant that Saul would be in Hades, or numbered with the dead, was he said "Tomorrow thou shalt be with me." Rev Jas Livingstone gave an earnest address on Parental Obligation, and the chairman followed with an address in which he summed up the whole of the day's proceedings. At the close Mr Sallows, of Goderich, gave a specimen of his realistic travels in Egypt, Sinai and the Holy Land, by an exhibition of diawling views, which were greatly appreciated.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS!

THE OLD AND RELIABLE FLOUR AND FEED STORE HAS CHANGED HANDS. The public are hereby notified that the flour and feed business formerly carried on by A.E. OULLIS has been purchased by THOS. J. VIDEAN, who will carry it on in all its branches at the old stand, East-st., near the Square. Under the management of former proprietors this business has been the most successful in its kind in town, and as the new proprietor has been identified with it for over twenty years, there will be no falling off in the energy formerly exhibited in keeping it in the front rank. Goods delivered to all parts of the town. The latest and best lines of flour and feed always on hand and choice seeds in season. THOS. J. VIDEAN.

FINE TAILORING

FALL SUITS AND OVERCOATS FOR GENTLEMEN. $15, $18 AND $20.

Butler says, "A gentleman's taste in dress is upon principle the avoidance of all things extravagant; it consists in the quiet simplicity of equal to richness." My new fall suitings and overcoatings are very attractive, of Cassimere, plain and wide, and Black Cheviots and Worsted. These goods are carefully handled in their manufacture, and are properly cut and trimmed. No city merchant tailor turns out handsemer, better fitting or more durable business suits. Come at once and see the goods and prices. B. MacCormac.
