Town and County News

CARRIAGE AND WAGON MAKING.—Mr. W. Rawlin has purchased the carriage and wagon shop of Mr. R. E. Harris, and will commence the business at once.

Mechanics' Institute.—The annual meeting for the election of officers for the present year, will be held this evening, in the Town Hall.

An Horticultural Association has been organized in Orangeville under circumstances that augur well for the success and future usefulness of the society.

A MEETING will be held in the Town Hall, to-morrow, at nine o'clock, for the election of a school trustee for each Ward, in place of the four trustees who retire this year.

A MEETING of the Ancient Order of Foresters, to receive the brotherhood from Hamilton and Toronto, will be held at the Temperance Hall, on Wednesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

The festival held in St. Mark's Church, Orangeville, on New Year's evening, was in every way a great success. Tea was served in the basement, and the musical part of the festival was given in the Church, every seat being occupied.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.—The anniversary services of the M. N. C. Church will be held on Sunday, the 25th inst., Rev. J. Medcalf preaching morning and evening, and Rev. J. R. Gundy in the afternoon. The tea meeting in connection therewith will be on Monday evening 26th inst.

CHEESE FACTORY.—Having obtained pledges that the necessary amount of milk will be supplied, Mr. Alex. Rogers, of the County of Leeds, will erect a cheese factory here in the spring. Mr. Rogers has considerable experience in this business, and we trust meet with a hearty support from the farmers.

JOHN'S TURN.—The last Grip cartoonists the South Simcoe village, John A., as a schoolboy, is denouncing a "South Simcoe" pie, accompanied with a bottle of "Boulton Sauce" whilst the defeated candidate is weeping retiring into obscurity. One of the "moral maxims" hung on the walls states that "Every Dog has his Day."

A MEAN TRIFLE.—Last night between half-past six and seven o'clock, some cowardly thief or thieves stole the martingale, rings and tie-straps, from John Bink's horse, at his shop door. The rings were cut off, and the tie-straps unhooked, leaving the horse untrammelled. Though a spirited animal he stuck to his post until discovered by his driver in the position mentioned.

ORANGE SOCIETY.—The members of L. O. L. No. 1321, held their first annual soiree, at Shelburne, on Thursday, on the occasion of the opening of their new hall in that village. The attendance was large and respectable. Mr. T. Ferguson, District Master, presided as chairman, and after the company had partaken of an excellent collation, the Rev. Mr. Campbell delivered an eloquent and interesting address on "The Rise and Progress of Orangeism." Mr. T. G. Deceatur also addressed the company, and the proceedings were agreeably interspersed with music by the Greenwood family. Dancing until dawn concluded the evening's enjoyment.

School Board.

The Board met on Monday. Present, Mr. Peterson, in the chair, Messrs Kennedy, Harvey, Knowles, Newton, Inglis, Murton, Bell, Raymond, Stevenson, Dr. McGuire and Keating.

RESIGNATION.
A communication was read from Miss Jackson, teacher of the West Ward School, tendering her resignation, as her parents wished her to reside nearer home.

The Secretary reported that after having seen Miss Jackson and consulted with members of the School Management Committee, he had advised for her successor.

ACCOUNT.
An account from Mr. Howard of $58.73 was referred to the Finance Committee.

CENTRAL SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE.
Mr. Raymond, chairman, presented a report from this committee, stating that he had received from the architect of the Central School House a certificate for work done during December by Mr. Dobbin on his contract for the sum of $400, and a bill of $4 from the Globe for advertising. The committee recommended that $200 be paid to the architect on account.

On motion of Messrs Raymond and Stevenson the report was received and adopted.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.
A letter was read from Mr. Brunner, French and German master, in reference to proposed changes in the teaching staff. He stated that after careful consideration he would rather decline the appointment of assistant teacher of the High School, although he was willing to obey whatever the Board might decide. His reasons were that his foreign accent might prejudice the efficiency of his instructions; that he had not had practice in teaching other branches than French and German during the last five years, and it would consequently be a difficult task for him to commence teaching English branches. He asked to be re-engaged as teacher of French and German at $500 per annum.

The report of the School Management Committee was presented by Mr. F. Venson. The committee recommended that Mr. Brunner's salary for 1874 be increased to $500, and that his services be under the supervision of the High School; that Mr. Simpson be appointed to the South Ward School at a salary of $600 per annum, and that he instruct in the usual branches taught in the same; and that the teacher, and those of the Senior Department of the Superior Girls' School, as High School assistants, instruct in such High School or other branches as the High School principal may designate, and that these departments form part of the Guelph High School. The committee had only two applications for the two schools rendered vacant by the resignation of Miss Hutchinson and Miss Jackson, and as the schools were required to be open before the meeting of the Board they engaged Miss Maddock and Miss McTaggart for the present year, and await the sanction of the Board. The committee once more called attention to the school law requiring a teacher to be at their posts at least fifteen minutes before opening time, which they hoped would be adhered to.

The Board went into Committee of the Whole upon the report, Mr. Bell in the chair, and considerable discussion ensued.

Mr. Harvey and Mr. Peterson objected to the Board interfering with the Senior Girls' School.

Mr. Peterson moved that the report of the committee be amended by striking out the portion of it in reference to the Senior Girls' School.

The Council resumed, and the report was adopted as amended, on motion of Messrs Stevenson and Murton.

MONEY FOR BUILDING PURPOSES.
Mr. Raymond moved, seconded by Mr. Knowles, that the chairman of the Board be instructed to notify the Town Council that $15,000 will be required for Central School building purposes during the year, and a portion of it immediately.

Carried.

After a good deal of desultory conversation, which resulted in nothing, the Board adjourned at 9.30.

Dahomy Helping Advance.
A King-Shooter Escaped.
Disaffected with Cushing.
French Government Sustained.
Liberal Successes in Berlin.

Paris, Jan. 12.—In the French Assembly, this evening, after a long and violent debate on the Ministry for its Monarchical tendencies, a vote of confidence in the Government was adopted by a majority of 58. The Ministers have in consequence withdrawn their resignations.

Berlin, Jan. 12.—The additional returns of the elections for the Reichstag are largely in favor of a Liberal Parliament, especially in Bavaria, Wurtemberg and Baden.

London, Jan. 12.—Special advices to the Standard from Cape Coast Castle report that the King of Dahomy has sent heavy reinforcements to the Ashantees.

Rome, Jan. 12.—Mannal Pastor, who fled at King Victor Emmanuel, in 1872, has escaped from prison.

New York, Jan. 12.—The Times' Washington special says the delay is undoubtedly working against Cushing's confirmation. Editorially the Times says: In three respects this nomination is eminently unfit to be made—character, reputation, and loyalty to the Constitution. What remains, great as it may be, weighs little against this three-fold union of essential unfitness.

Ontario Legislature

On the order of the day being called the debate on Mr. Bonlives' Amendment to the Address, in reply to His Excellency's Speech was resumed. Mr. Bonlives' Amendment is to the fifth paragraph. It expresses regret that His Excellency had advised to reserve for the assent of the Governor-General the Bills for incorporating the Orange Associations, as the subject matter of these bills was according to the 72nd section of the British North American Act, within the executive power, competence and jurisdiction of the Provincial Legislature; and states that his Honor's address, have thereby withheld from a large class of Her Majesty's subjects rights and privileges to which they are entitled, and inflicted a serious blow upon the power and authority of the Legislature of Ontario.

An Amendment to this Amendment had been moved by Mr. Bell, on the Government side, as follows:—That the words in the proposed amendment after "the" be struck out, and the following substituted:—"I beg to assure your Honor that in advising your Honor to specially reserve the Bills for the incorporation of the Local Orange Associations of Eastern and Western Ontario, for an expression of the opinion of his Excellency the Governor-General, the Executive Council of this Province was justified by constitutional usage."

Mr. Merrick dissented from the position taken by the Government, that the disallowance of a similar Bill in Prince Edward's Island warranted them in reserving the Bill under consideration. He could not accept the general measure suggested in the Speech. Such a reservation as that of the Orange Association required a special Act, and before passing such an act we had to enquire into the constitution and principles of that body. He attacked the Government for not bringing forward a measure on the marriage license question.

Dr. Clarke contended that the agitation of this question was unwise, and tending to maintain the unseemly strife that prevailed in the mother land. He thought there was no need of the Orange organization, save as a friendly and charitable society. It perpetuated prejudices that should have no existence in this country.

Mr. Meredith made a futile attempt to clear Sir John A. Macdonald from blame in the matter of the Orange Bills.

Hon. Mr. Crooks dismissed all the legal aspects of the question. It would have been improper, he said, for any Minister to do otherwise, considering the instructions of Her Majesty, than to advise the Lieut. Governor to reserve the Bill for Her Majesty's pleasure. He considered that Mr. Bonlives should have framed his amendment so as to ensure the Ottawa Government for advising the Governor-General to send back the Bills, for there lay the true responsibility. He concluded by showing that the Ontario Government had acted strictly in accordance with constitutional usage, and how that, under all the exceptional circumstances attending legislation on this question, the Dominion Government were bound in duty to advise the Governor-General to allow of a similar Bill.

Mr. Gifford spoke against the Government for being divided in opinion when the Bills were under discussion, and made some unseemly remarks on the Hon. Mr. Mowat's position in descending from the bench and assuming the reins of Government.

Mr. Sexton showed that the Government were bound to act cautiously with measures that seemed in any sense inimical to Imperial policy and Imperial legislation. He considered it very strange that the Opposition should bring up this question in this form, when the leaders of their party at Ottawa were alone responsible for the Bills not being made law.

Mr. McCull asserted that it was within the jurisdiction of the Ontario Government to advise that these measures should become law. He would, in consequence vote for Mr. Bonlives' amendment.

Mr. Giles thought that the Orange question was finally settled last session, and was sorry to see it brought up again. He thought also that Mr. Clarke's remarks were strange. He considered they were a highly respectable body of citizens, and should have their Act of Incorporation granted.

Mr. Scott reviewed the leading clauses in the Address. Amid the laughter of the House, he declared his opinion, that the ballot would aid in the return of more Conservatives. He preferred the special Act of Incorporation to the general measure promised by the Government.

After recess, Mr. Lander took the floor and opened his speech with comments on the changes in the Cabinet, having special reference to the Crown Lands Department. He represented that Mr. Scott had to resign by reason of his unwise policy in the administration of his office. He brought forward the absurd suggestion that the Government should send the Bills a second time to Ottawa, and have their allowance advised by the new Dominion Government. He concluded by an attack on the general policy of the Government.

Hon. Mr. Farlee replied to Mr. Lander in terms of keen humor and sarcasm, characterizing the member for South Grey as so full of self-sufficiency that he imagines himself fit to represent more than half the constituencies in the country. He warmly defended the Crown Lands policy of the Hon. Mr. Scott, and held that his policy was approved of by the country. He strongly denounced the course of the Opposition as being directed by a factious and party spirit, and not with the true interests of the country at heart. They are not the true friends of the Orange question of this country, but are using them for making political capital in the country. He strongly denounced the course of the Opposition as factious, unwise, and inconsistent, and expounded the hollowness of their pretensions with regard to the cause of the Orange-men.

A division was finally called for. The amendment of Mr. Bonlives, and the amendment to the amendment, submitted by Mr. Bell, were voted upon. The latter was carried, the vote being 38 Yeas, 23 Nays; majority for the Government, 15.

The fifth clause of the Address was then declared carried, as were also clauses 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11.

The 12th clause being read, Mr. M. C. Cameron rose and moved an amendment of a similar bearing to the amendment of

The strange fatality in the Topping family of Ontario, which culminated in the murder of Mrs. Topping and almost the entire family, and the attempted suicide of the husband, has had another incident added to it. It will be remembered that Mr. Dodge, a brother of the murdered Mrs. Topping, was killed, by being thrown from his cutter, while returning from his sister's funeral. Now it transpires that his wife, while conveying the dead body of her husband home for burial, was also thrown from a cutter and so seriously injured that she is lying at the point of death.

"Some one has blundered" to the tune of 25,000,000 slipping in the little matter of the purchase of the railway telegraph lines in Great Britain by the Government. The Government seems to have fancied that it had acquired a freehold and absolute title to these lines; but it now turns out that it got only leasehold rights, and that now the companies are asking 25,000,000 for the freehold. The claims have been referred to arbitration, but there seems to be no doubt that the companies will get the money.

On New Year's Day the Brampton Band entered "Norval" with a four horse sleigh. After "discovering" the town and making things lively, the "Norvalites" treated them in a handsome manner.

The Rival Clansmen

A Scottish Vendetta.

CHAPTER XV. IAN M'KENZIE AGAIN RAFFLED—REUNITED—A LAST COUNSEL—DEATH OF OLD M'LEOD.

"An' the bairn, Jeannie; hoo is the bit thungie noo?" asked Gordon, aware that by the simple question he would please his sister, and give her joy to think "he took an interest in her babe, as it would have driven her to the depths of anguish and despair had he looked coldly on it.

The meeting between M'Leod and his sister did not give joy to either. Anne M'Leod was startled by the spent and haggard appearance of her brother, whose limbs shook beneath him as he stood before her.

"What ails you, my brother?" she gasped. "What has happened? Where are the clansmen?"

The questions caused the old man's heart to bleed afresh, and with a stifled groan he tottered past his sister and entered the Castle, sinking heavily on a seat just within the door. With troubled looks the others followed him.

"Ay," he exclaimed, rising to his feet and, feeble as he was, stamping wildly on the floor—"Ay, M'Leod is humbled today. When before had man or woman occasion to put me to the question, What ails you? or ask me where were the clansmen when I returned from the fight? The thought of it is overpowering—I cannot bear it."

He again sank upon the seat, bowing his head and covering his face with his hands, while he sobbed aloud. Hector and Gordon and the women bent tenderly over him and endeavoured to cheer him up; but their words gave no comfort to the proud old clansman, who had suffered so much, not by the superior power of his enemies, but by their diabolical cunning. He told them, begged of them, one and all to leave him for a time. He would retire to a room at hand, and would soon join them. As he spoke he rose, and, tottering forward, his limbs feeble, his face pale, wild, and haggard, opened a door and passed into a room, securing the door behind him. The others regarded him with strange and mixed feelings. There was something dreadful about the old man's grief; it seemed to have fixed itself upon him with a fatal gripe; but they yet felt he was strong, and they did not desist from him.

Why then they ascended the staircase, and all were soon seated in an upper room of the Castle, where, after food had been placed for and partaken of by the two well-nigh exhausted travellers, they told the story of what had befallen them. The congratulations upon the return were then intermingled with lamentations because of the calamity which had come upon the house. Over these let us draw the curtain. The feelings and the emotion which found expression, and which were disclosed by look and gesture as much as by speech, at this hallowed reunion are too sacred for the common gaze, and too difficult of portraiture for others to make manifest. Let us say in a word that, as Hector and Flora sat again side by side, telling each other in tender accents of what they had endured and passed through since their separation, they felt that now they had reached an end of all their trials and sufferings; that those who persecuted them had been baffled; and that now nothing lay between them and the realization of the scene of their happiness. The words we are about to pen we know to be harsh ones, but, as the sequel will show, their trials had little more than begun. They had yet to learn more of the desperate character of the men whose fury they had inflamed against them, and whose interests would be interferred with were they now to be allowed to consummate their union.

The afternoon had well-nigh passed, and it was no small relief to the anxiety which had begun to be felt for his safety when the old Chief entered the room. He had had a fierce conflict with the feelings and the passions which had been raging within his breast—of this there were traces in every lineament of his face; but now he appeared to be calm, but such a calm as showed that the disturbing elements had not yet departed from him, but were suppressed by the force of his iron will. Without trusting himself to utter a word, he approached and imparted a kiss on Flora's white brow, then turning away, in hasty tones requested his sister to set some etables before him. This was quickly done; but after partaking of a few mouthfuls, only, he rose, and motioning to Hector to follow him, left the room.

BREAKFAST.—FOPE'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion, and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Fope has provided our tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labelled—"James Fope & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London."

EX-SHERIFF BRENNAN, of New York, and one of his deputies, named Shields, have been sentenced to a fine of $250 and thirty days in gaol for contempt of court. They had disobeyed the order of the court to convey H. W. Genet to the Tombs prison after his trial, and their disobedience led to his escape. The Orangeville Wesleyan Sabbath School Anniversary, held in the town-hall on New Year's Day, was a great success. The church anniversary will be held on February 8th and 9th. Hon David Christie has been appointed Speaker of the Senate, and Hon B. W. Scott has been sworn in as Secretary of State.

In consequence of the election the meeting of the Dominion Board of Trade is postponed till the 24th of Feb.

C. E. PEIRCE & CO., Hepburn's Old Stand, Wyndham-st., Guelph. Guelph, December 17, 1873.

Mr. Boulbee. He held in opposition to the views of the Hon. Mr. Mowat, that the Bills were still under the control of the House, and would be so until the Lieutenant-Governor sent a message to the House concerning them. He then quoted from the Confederation Act, from 1867, and others to point out that he considered the duty of the Ministers, and held they were bound constitutionally to advise the assent of the Lieutenant-Governor to the Bills. He went over the same source of argument as had been used and reiterated in the debate just closed. The amendment was seconded by Mr. Merrick.

The Hon. Mr. Mowat, in reply to Mr. Cameron, said that he accepted the presentation that he was trying to make friends with the different sections of religionists in the country. He certainly wished to stand well with all classes in the country, and he was proud to be able to secure the good opinion and good-will of all. The leader of the Opposition was unworthily raising the Protestant cry, and promoting strife for a paltry, temporary, political purpose. He (Mr. Mowat) was as good a Protestant as any in this House, and he was well known to be such all over the country, but yet he had no fear on account of Roman Catholicism in this Province. In vigorous terms he upheld the position taken by the Government as being constitutional duty, and they sent the Bills to the political Chief of the present Opposition, and he shirked his duty. Yet, with strange inconsistency the Opposition applauded the course adopted by their chief, and then they turn round, and blame us for doing a simple, constitutional duty.

The question of the amendment being in order was put by the Hon. Mr. Fraser, when the Speaker ruled it out of order. Mr. Boulbee was not satisfied, however, with the time already wasted on the debate, and moved another amendment with the same object in view as the previous ones but carefully worded so as to escape the ruling of the Speaker. It was seconded by Mr. Laurier.

Mr. Prince characterized the amendments of Mr. Cameron and Mr. Boulbee as absurdities and inconsistencies, and they declared in substance what had been already voted down.

Messrs. Laurier, Fraser, M. C. Cameron, and Mowat spoken, the amendment was put and carried by a vote of 40 to 22.

The result was received with loud cheers. The Address was then adopted, and the formal motion in connection therewith passed.

Mr. Cameron inquired whether it was the intention of the Government to adjourn the House during the ensuing Dominion election.
