Commercial Summary.

It is proposed to form a joint stock company with a capital of $100,000 for starting waggon-works in St. Thomas.

The Acadia Fire Insurance Company of Halifax has declared a dividend of five per cent. on the past half year's business.

The revised regulations in connection with the cigar and tobacco industries have been approved of by Order-in-Council at Ottawa.

AMERICAN capitalists, as well as Canadian are evincing an increasing interest in asbestos mining, and several sales of lands have recently been reported.

The Bank of Halifax has declared a dividend for the current six months at the rate of seven per cent per annum.—Owen Sound, Ont., has been made a port of entry for tobacco also.

The Canada Worsted Factory, at Quebec, has been leased to the Riverside Worsted Company for five years. The lessees have already commenced work, and will turn out large quantities of goods.

The shareholders of "The Chambly Cotton Co.," with a capital of $100,000, are applying for letters patent. The original promoters were:
Messrs. John Rankin and John Beattie, of Montreal, and S. Greenwood, James Walsl. and
W. J. R. Beattie, of Chambly.

On May 31st the amount in the Government Savings bank to the credit of depositors was $11,916,862, or an increase of $1,076,220 over that on the 31st December last. The Department says this increase is a testimony of the prosperity of the people.

The tinware stock of James Chalmers of Strathroy, Ont., was sold by auction in London last week for 50 cts in the dollar, the purchaser being Mr. Wm. Wyate, London, for Mr. Chalmers. Having got another start we hope he may now go on and prosper.

Messrs. Costello Bros., grocers and lumber dealers, Renfrew, Ont., have held a meeting of creditors, with a view to arranging a compromise.—T. H. LOCKINARON, furniture dealer in Toronto, lately assigned, and the assets have been advertised for sale by the trustee.

At a recent meeting of railway managers in St. John, N.B., Manager Burpee offered $100,000 for the Fredericton railway, but this was declined by Mr. Temple, who appears to be the principal owner of this line. He was willing to sell, but asked between $200,000 and $300,000.

"TRADE dollars" are at a discount of about fifteen per cent in parts of the United States. Banks and other institutions refuse to take them except at a considerable reduction.—Coal dealers in this city have advanced prices of Anthracite from $6.10 to $6.25 for furnace; and from $6.25 to $6.50 for stove coal.

It is rumored that the Northern Railway will shortly begin the construction of an extension from Gravenhurst to South-east Bay on Lake Nipissing. There appears to be a large area of superior timber-land in the vicinity of the bay; the total cut last winter is not less than one million cubic feet. A number of farms have already been taken up.

Mr. H. McNaughton of Yarmouth, N.S., has discovered in the course of a year that there is not enough business in that place to make a living for himself and family at the bakery business; nevertheless he is endeavoring to settle with his creditors, with the view of making a fresh trial. Liabilities about $1000; assets nominally about $700.

E. T. RORDAN & Bro., hardware brokers, Toronto, recently assigned in trust, and one of the partners is reported to have left for parts unknown. They commenced business only about a year ago.—John Howlett & Co., builders, Parkdale, Ont., have also assigned in trust—E. W. Rosevear, dealer in boots and shoes, Orangeville, have been sold out by the sheriff.

Messrs. Nichols & Co., of Chicago, who closed out all their deals during the late trouble consequent on the failure of McGeoch & Co., have decided to call another meeting of their creditors, which leads to the supposition that they are unable to pay in full. A number of Montreal merchants are interested in this estate through a local broker, whose Chicago agents were Messrs. Nichols & Co.

The corner-stone of the Halifax Sugar Refinery at Woodside, Dartmouth, N.S., was laid last Tuesday by Mrs. Geo. Gordon Dustan, wife of one of the foremost promoters, in the presence of about 500 people. Mr. Dustan was supposed by many to have accomplished his mission on the establishment of the present tariff. The public will not be surprised, however, at his coming more practically into view. Better late than never.

At the adjourned meeting of creditors of H. G. Levetus, this city, jewelry importer and manufacturer of optical instruments, previously referred to, he showed liabilities of $85,000, with assets about $35,000. Levetus, who attributes his difficulty mainly to losses in Manitoba, offered 25c unsecured in 6, 12 and 18 months, or 17½c cash. The meeting was disposed to accept the 17½c, and gave Mr. Levetus until the 16th July to get the signatures of the other creditors. The estate shows about 50c on the dollar, estimating the assets at cost, but the stock is said to be very poor, and the books have also been loosely kept.

Mr. DAVID BURKE, of Hamilton, Ont., general manager of the Life Association of Canada during the last half dozen years, is about to take up his residence in Montreal as manager of the New York Life Assurance Co., which has concluded to re-open business in Canada. Mr. Burke was formerly connected with the New York Life under the management of his brother, the late Walter Burke of this city, well-known as one of the most successful life insurance managers in this country.

There appear to be good prospects at last of an agreement among the insurance companies by which paying rates may be secured. A Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association has been formed, with the following gentlemen as officers: G. F. C. Smith of the Liverpool and London and Globe, president; James Taylor of the Caledonian and J. J. Kenny of the Western, vice-presidents, and Robt. McLean, secretary. Tariffs for the different Provinces and districts are under advisement. As in the past, it will probably be found difficult to accomplish all that is desired without some means of detecting and adjudging upon cases of violation of the tariffs.

The Quebec Government has at length taken a step in the right direction, by dismissing a number of supernumeraries whose salaries could ill be spared from the resonant public chest. At such a time as this, when willing hearts and hands are wanted to help with the opening up of our new territories, such a step, although probably not agreeable to the parties chiefly concerned, will doubtless prove to be a blessing for those who are made of the right stuff. We hail this long-looked-for indication that the honest and high-minded treasurer is determined to make the country "live within its means." It is to be hoped that this is merely the beginning of a series of economical reforms.

A. McLAREN, dealer in boots and shoes, Winnipeg, having been sued recently, has made an assignment. He has nearly always been regarded as slow pay, and is said to be possessed of little business capacity. The largest creditors are Toronto wholesale firms.

M. WHALLEY, of Welland, recently referred to, has effected a settlement with his creditors and opened out again under a partnership as M. Whalley & Co.—D. McConachie of Welland has opened a dry goods store at the town of Niagara Falls.

REPORTS are current concerning a shortage in the Chinese raw silk supply, and it is probable that an advance of at least 20 per cent. will be effected in the course of a month or so. Messrs. Belding, Paul & Co., of this city, have bought their supplies of raw silk at the prices heretofore prevailing.—T. F. Hoxey & Co., silk manufacturers, Paterson, New Jersey, have failed.

R. K. Rose & Co., boot and shoe manufacturers and tanners, Hebron, N.S., have suspended. They offer a compromise of 40 cents in the dollar,—25c. secured, 15c. unsecured—in 6, 12, 18 and 24 months without interest, and creditors will probably accept it. They show liabilities of about $10,000; assets about $4,000. The deficiency is attributable to losses and misfortunes.

At a meeting of creditors in this city last Friday of Messrs. Costello Bros., grocers and lumber dealers, Renfrew, Ont., an assignment was made, and an inventory of their stock is being taken, with a view to submitting a state-

Mr. EML Poliwka of this city, recently referred to, returned to town last Saturday, about the time that his stock in trade was sold, at 52½ cents on the dollar, to Mr. A. Higginson, a relative of Mr. Higginson of the firm of R. C. Jameson & Co., and an employe of that firm. Mr. Poliwka will probably resume business under another name, pending his discharge. Mr. Poliwka's chief mistake was in leaving town; nobody thought of questioning his integrity.

They also stated that the land account shows a balance of £119,801, which enables them to make, as already intimated, a return of £1 per share, reducing that balance by £100,000. The price of

The sewing machine trade will be interested to learn that the well-known house of H. B. Goodrich, Chicago, has sold out the entire business and good-will to Foley & Williams of Cincinnati. Wm. C. Foley of the firm is one of the many young Canadians who have made their mark in Chicago. Entering as an office boy in 1879 with the wholesale house of H. B. Goodrich, he advanced by degrees till, at the end of five or six years, he became a partner in the business, and with Mr. D. Williams bought out the Cincinnati branch about four years ago. And now the original firm has been bought out by the former employes. Mr. Goodrich retires from business.

M. A. McLEAN, wholesale grocer and liquor dealer, Winnipeg, has been compelled to suspend payment, and, we are told, has decided to assign in trust. This failure may probably bring down two or three other respectable grocers in that city who have been operating more or less with McLean in real estate. Mr.

McLean has generally been rated for some time past by fair business firms, and among others his bankers, as worth a surplus of $75,000; it is hoped, therefore, that the estate will ultimately pay in full; yet real estate is so utterly stagnant in Winnipeg now that if forced to a sale, as assets of this class undoubtedly are, under an assignee, the loss to merchandise creditors may be heavy.

A DESPATCH says: Wm. T. Strong, a London, Ont., druggist is being sued on behalf of the Society for the Prevention of Vice to recover the $7,500 prize he won at the recent Masonic lottery, the money being forfeited under the statute. Mr. Strong pleads that he was only trustee for Mr. Thomas H. Brunton, the manager of the lottery, who was the beneficial owner of the ticket, and that, having paid over the money to Brunton, he (Strong) is not liable to be sued in this action. Brunton makes a statement to the effect that he received $50 from his brother, William A. Brunton, of Chicago, with the request that he should purchase a book of tickets. He did so, and handed the book over to Mr. Strong, and asked him to take care of the tickets for his brother William.

Mr. R. H. Kilby, who has carried on business in this city for upwards of twenty years past as a wholesale dealer in fire-arms, has at last been obliged to suspend. Finding himself in debt beyond possibility of recovery, he made an offer of compromise to his creditors some few months ago, and succeeded in procuring the consent of all except his factors, Keep Bros. of Birmingham, Eng., who held out for full payment of the amount of their claim, some $1,500. Mr. Kilby, through a friend, had succeeded in arranging this matter, when one of his three bankers, with whom he had opened an account some six months ago, refused to accept less than 50 cents in the dollar, or double the offer made the creditors. This compelled him to make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors generally. The total liabilities are about $120,000, of which nearly $70,000 is due to his bankers,—about $30,000 each to two of them, and about $7,000 to the third; the balance being due in England and the United States. Mr. Kilby is a son-in-law of Mr. T. H. Judah of this city, and his handsome English face and figure, reminding one, though much younger, of the picture of Col. Newcome in the illustrated edition of Thackeray's celebrated novel, are well-known to our citizens, especially to all Canadian sportsmen. He has taken considerable interest in the Game Protection Society, and has been promoter of several retail enterprises in his line of business. His venture in Winnipeg turned out unfortunately, and this, with other losses in trade, precipitated the failure which we regretfully announce.

A MEETING of the creditors of Alexander & Bryce, Winnipeg, Man., was held in this city last Wednesday. The offer of seventy-five cents in the dollar, payable in 4, 8 and 12 months, secured, was not satisfactory to the meeting, and an adjournment was made till next day to allow Mr. Alexander time to consider whether he could not amend his proposal. On Thursday a further offer of fifteen cents in the dollar, payable in 18 and 24 months, but without security, was made, and, on motion, was unanimously accepted, Mr. Brock of Messrs. Wyld, Brock & Darling, representing the Toronto creditors, giving his consent and agreeing to recommend it to the other Toronto creditors. The offer appears to come exclusively from Mr. Alexander; but the reflection must arise that, when a firm has been obliged to offer ninety cents in the dollar, it would require but little greater effort to enable them to pay the other ten cents, even if spread over additional time. The difference between a compromise and an extension, of whatever degree, were surely worth that amount, and we should not be surprised if Mr. Alexander himself were to volunteer such an opinion practically. The creditors were doubtless influenced in no little degree by consideration for other Winnipeg

A WORD ON CREDIT'S.

There is probably no country in the world in which the credit system is practised to such an extent as it is in Canada, and matters do not appear to be improving in this respect. Some two years ago wholesale dealers were accustomed to speak of a new state of affairs among their country customers. Many of these after making out their order and cutting prices to the lowest figure used to greet the traveller with the question, "How much will you throw off for cash?" Some of these cash customers no doubt still preserve their independence, but many of them have bargained it for distant investments, and have meantime fallen back to the credit system in its extreme condition, and hug themselves with the hope that their investments will eventually make them rich. Thus, instead of watching more attentively the tendency of market prices, their eyes are chiefly bent on the settlement of the North West or other enterprises that may affect their investments. We know of an otherwise sensible and worthy young man in this city who once won a few dollars in a lottery, and who has since spent as much many times over in the hopes of winning the grand prize. Wishing lately to borrow a small sum at a high rate of interest, and being asked what security he could give or what hope he had of repaying the loan, he answered with an independent air, among other things, that he had a share in a lottery ticket, and that if he got what he expected, he could pay the whole back in a month or two. numbers of retailers, of the middle class,—those who usually work along comfortably and maintain a fair or good credit,—who have been carried away by the reports of fortunes made by one or two speculative acquaintances, and accordingly determined to invest the money laid by to pay maturing notes,—or they paid part of their notes, and got an extension for the balance. As these form a considerable proportion of the trading community, the effect of such ventures has had a damaging effect upon business. By the law of average not more than one-half of all gambling ventures can succeed; many of these dealers have necessarily gone from bad to worse until the number of retailers now carried along by wholesale houses is large enough to startle one acquainted with its proportion. The amounts of money advanced by smaller banks to the lesser manufacturers or wholesale dealers to keep the ball rolling is suggestive enough. "The double discounting" thus enforced is not a safe game in the long run, and is not likely to be practised extensively by the shrewd bankers driven to it for a temporary convenience. When prudence begins to put a period to the number of such customers, or begins to curtail the ever-increasing wants of a few, the trouble begins; these people do not pay their small accounts, and as their credit with the grocer, the baker, the tailor, the coal merchant, even to the milkman and the laundry, is not usually any the less because they have an account at the bank, the mischief spreads, and traders become disheartened, and begin to cast about for saving apparatus that they may not be themselves thrown on the street. It is not every dealer who, with a multitude of such bad debts facing him, will continue the fight till his own indebtedness has been reduced to a small fraction of his usual liabilities, as was recently exemplified by a prominent wholesale firm of this city who afterwards obtained the consent of their creditors to their offer of nearly half their liabilities. The firm in question might have suspended to far better advantage for themselves had they given way before previous losses, and compelled a greater number of creditors contribute to the settlement; but honor forbade, and hope told the usual flattering tale under the general improvement in business.

There may be no more occasion for moralising on this theme now than during the last year or two, but, as the evident tendency to too great expansion of credit has not received sufficient check, notwithstanding the cautionary signals from high places, these remarks may not echo in vain.

THE FUTURE OF OUR YOUTH.

It seems to be born in the flesh and bred in the bone that, with advancing years, man should throw around prior generations and his own youth, lights and shades of brighter or deeper hues than those which set off present life. "It was not so in my day," is a household word with which perhaps few English-speaking domestic circles are not familiar. Usually the comparison is made to the disparagement of the past as to its comforts and pleasures, its social life and business opportunities, but not always. Some, and their number is not few, maintain that prior to the telegraphs, railroads, steamboats and labor-saving machinery which have revolutionized the occupations of the masses within the memory of the present generation, life was more enjoyable, livelihood was easier gained, opportunities for preferment were more frequently offered, and, in a general way, the possessions and attainments which to many minds constitute the great prizes of life were more readily acquired.

A correspondent, "Agricola," in a recent letter expresses this view, and laments the tendency of the times towards the concentration of business in the hands of large capitalists, monopolies, and so on. He instances the fact that in 1858, with a population of only 100,000, there were nine prominent wholesale dry goods houses in Chicago, while in 1880, with a population of 400,000, there were but four, and in this connection, referring to a visit to one of the four establishments, he says:

"Among the vast variety of articles of taste and utility, the most interesting and suggestive spectacle that met my view was the countless number of young men and boys fixed in their places like the horse in a treadmill. It took me back to the period when, a merchant's clerk myself, now more than half a century ago, I was cheered with the hope and expectancy which gilded the hill-tops of my future that I would ultimately become a principal in a business of my own. It was possible at that period to commence a business and follow it successfully with a capital that would now be utterly inadequate. I mentally asked myself, what can be the basis of these hundreds of boys' expectations of ever becoming principals? The prospect of toiling as hirelings until their heads shall be frosted with age is not one pleasing to contemplate. A very small proportion of merchants' clerks receive salaries sufficient to justify marriage, and, being hampered by difficulties, some of which I have enumerated, which prevent them from becoming principals, the present state of things must tend to the increase of celibacy, which is hostile to a high state of civilization. Entertaining ideas here expressed, you will not be surprised to find me congratulating myself that I have not to fight over the battle of life under the present order of environments."

To us it appears that "Agricola" here generalizes from a single standpoint, and arrives at a conclusion that he might not have reached if a wider view of even the single field to which he limits his observation had been taken. What were the aggregate earnings of a similar body of "hundreds of boys" in the days with which comparison is suggested? What their expenditures under like habits of economy? How much could the boys of that day have laid aside per annum, and how much those of this? While plodding along towards the goal of their business ambition, whether in that day the possession of a farm, or a saw mill, or a country store, if such be the plane of life from which the clerks of the present time have been taken; or in this day a chief clerkship, a partnership or a monopoly, which pathway will be found bordered with the better opportunities for social enjoyment, moral culture, physical and mental advancement? We do not assume that these inquiries would all be answered favorably to the present time, but merely suggest them as pertinent and necessary to any investigation which proposes to discover how far the present state of things is "hostile to a high state of civilization."

Perhaps the weakness and error of all this is a proneness to institute comparisons where comparisons are impossible. The passing generation in its youth had its difficulties, its advantages, its duties, its pleasures. Were they not well and fitly measured to the capabilities, the resources and the ambition of that time? The present generation has a different set of obligations, a different order of battle with life, and a different character of victory to achieve, but who can say that these are not nicely adapted to its ability to perform, to endure, to enjoy?

We cannot ask the youth of to-day to take a despondent view of the life that is set before him, even if it be that of a clerkship unending, nor would it be well for him to fancy that in the olden time life was hard, and success only to be attained by an expenditure of energy not now required. The wiser way would surely be to do with his might that which his hands find to do, reasonably confident, from the history not of one but of every generation whose achievements are recorded, that man is not taxed beyond his strength, and that abundant rewards are in attendance, now as formerly, upon the practice of honesty, frugality, assiduity, steadfastness and cognate business virtues.

THE VICE-ROYALTY.

The Canadian press has of late been devoting a good deal of attention to questions arising out of the appointment of a successor to the Marquis of Lorne as representative of the Crown in the Dominion. There seems reason to believe, judging from several articles in leading London journals, that the appointment of the Duke of Albany was originally suggested by the Canadian High Commissioner, and of course under instructions from the Canadian Ministry. The leading political organs at Toronto, the Mail and Globe, have both expressed themselves as disapproving of such an appointment, which clearly open to many objections, and the Globe has called on the late High Commissioner for explanations, which, it must be sufficiently obvious, it is wholly out of his power to give. There seems no doubt, however, that some suggestions must have been made to the Duke of Albany, and that they were favorably entertained. The very fact that the communications were made to one of the Royal Princes, without the knowledge of the Premier, or of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, would alone have been sufficient to prevent the nomination taking place. One journal, the Ottawa Free Press, heads a long article on the subject, "Do we want a Governor-General?" and this is apparently by way of deprecating the opposition made by the Irish national party to the appointment of the Marquis of Lansdowne as Governor-General. We are told that the office of Governor-General of Canada "has ceased to be of any political importance since the dismissal of Mr. Letellier." This is a serious error, which ought not to be allowed to pass without notice. It is based on the alleged recommendation to the present Governor-General "to act on the advice of his Constitutional Ministers." The advice, whatever may have been its precise terms, was based simply on the opinion of the Imperial Government, that its interference was unnecessary and uncalled for, and that the Governor-General must deal with the question in accordance with Canadian public opinion. That is very far indeed from holding an opinion that the Representative of the Crown is to have no opinion.

The question at issue was really one, as to the constitutional power of the Lieut.-Governor, as the Representative of the Crown in the Province of Quebec, to act independently in the discharge of his functions, as was evidently contemplated by the Union Act. It was hoped that the point would have been referred to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council for its opinion as to the Constitutional power of the Lieut.-Governor, and several English statesmen, including two of great eminence and of opposite parties, were favorable to such a reference. In point of fact the decision, strange as it may appear to unreflecting people, was virtually a decision in favor of Mr. Letellier. For the same reason, that the Imperial Government refused to interfere between the Representative of the Crown and his constitutional advisers, the Dominion Government should have refused to interfere between the Lieut.-Governor of Quebec and his advisers. The theory of our system of Government is, that within the limits prescribed to them by the Imperial Act, the Provincial Legislature and Ministers and Lieut.-Governors, are just as independent of the Dominion Government as the latter is of the Imperial authorities. As was more than once pointed out at the time, the right of the Crown to interfere with the action of Ministers was proved by the highest authorities, as well Ministers of both parties, as constitutional writers. There was an attempt made to draw a distinction between Lieut.-Governors and the Governors-General, but no attempt was ever made to answer the conclusive argument that if power be taken away from a Lieut.-Governor it necessarily follows that it is simply transferred to his ministers, who would then have more power within their sphere of action than either Dominion or Imperial Ministers. That since the introduction of ministerial responsibility to Parliament the power of the Crown has been materially diminished, is an admitted fact, but, on the other hand, it is equally certain not only that it exists, but that it is frequently brought into exercise.

It is of the greatest importance not only that the functionary invested with this power should be strictly impartial, but that the people of all classes and parties should feel that he is so. Such has been uniformly the case with our Governor-General, but since the Letellier dismissal no Provincial Lieutenant Governor can feel that he is independent of Dominion control. The cause of this is obvious. The same political parties exist in the Local Legislatures and in the Dominion Parliament, and are actuated by strong party feelings, whereas no member of the Imperial Parliament takes such an interest in Dominion politics as would lead him to think of interfering. There is no doubt whatever that the Governor-General thought the interference with the independent action of the Lieutenant Governor to be contrary to the intention of the "British North America Act," and that such was the opinion of the most enlightened statesmen in England, including the very Minister who refused to interfere, is beyond doubt. That opinion however is quite consistent with a refusal to interfere between contending parties in Canada. The precedent set by the Canadian Government of the day is a most unfortunate one as bearing on Provincial autonomy, and may possibly be found a bad precedent on some future occasion. Those fond of making "forecasts" would be almost sure to predict that the Quebec Bleus, who in their party zeal brought about the dismissal of M. Letellier, are precisely the party most likely to regret hereafter the establishment of such a precedent.

We have been led into a rather long digression from the subject to which we specially meant to call attention, which was the unjustifiable course of those who, contrary to all established precedent, have based an attack on our new Governor-General on his political course as a member of the Imperial Parliament. To such an extent has this opposition been carried that an Evening contemporary has actually interviewed Irish nationalists, and has elicited an opinion that Canadians had cause to dislike the appointment, "not having been allowed any say in the matter." The present is the first occasion on which even a suggestion has been made that Canada should be consulted on such a subject, and we observed with satisfaction that Mr. Gladstone entirely repudiated the idea of such consultation. The only party in Canada that could be applied to for advice is the Ministry, and it must be obvious that a considerable section of the population would feel distrust of a Governor-General recommended by any Canadian Government.

THE CATTLE TRADE.

Our United States contemporaries are discussing with great earnestness the alleged enormous profits which have been made by the owners of the Texas ranches; and as some of our enterprising Canadian capitalists have gone into the same line of business in the North-west, it may not be out of place to consider the question on its merits. It is alleged that the "Cattle Kings," as they are termed, have been able, by holding back supplies from particular points, and thus creating an artificial scarcity, to make the prices just what they please. It is likewise asserted that, notwithstanding the great resources of the country, animal food is about as dear to-day in America as in the European countries, where the pastures may be said to be worn out. In reply to such arguments it may be urged that there is an enormous export of cattle from America to Europe, and that in cases where no duty on the imports is imposed, as in the case of the United Kingdom, the prices are likely to range about the same, taking freight and charges into account. We have not seen any proposition for restraining the legitimate profits of those engaged in the cattle trade, but if the profits be so exorbitant, then it will be for the interest of the public that new ranches should be established in every suitable place, and from what we have been able to learn our Canadian raisers of cattle will find ample encouragement for the prosecution of their enterprises. We learn from the New York Bulletin that the statistics of the trade establish that the profits in the State of Texas have averaged 100 per cent. in the past five years, while in some cases they have reached 500 per cent. There is probably a good deal of exaggeration regarding the average annual profits, especially as in the first and second years of the five the profits are very small, and there is always considerable risk of disease and other casualties. Whatever may be the profits the ordinary established rules of supply and demand will regulate prices, and we may be well assured that if the profits should be excessive they will soon be reduced by competition to a proper standard.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF RIGHT HON. SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD.

It may well be imagined that a book with such a title as we have prefixed to these remarks will create considerable interest in every part of the Dominion, even among those who are not familiar either with the name of the author or with his merits as a writer. The work has been published in Toronto by the "Rose Publishing Company," the author being Mr. J. E. Collins, a Canadian by birth, and, we presume, a young man. We are told that "this is our first book," and we rather infer that it was found necessary to canvass for subscribers. It is to be feared that Montreal was not looked on as a likely place to encourage such an enterprise, as it is within our knowledge that several persons have been trying to obtain copies of the book, but without success. It is not to be found on our principal booksellers' shelves, and enquiries are met by a statement that the book can only be supplied to subscribers. We have, however, succeeded, after considerable delay and trouble, in procuring a copy, which we consider well deserving of notice.

Mr. Collins has shewn evidence of great sagacity in his choice of a subject. He is evidently devoted to the cause which, throughout the volume, he takes every suitable opportunity to advocate. That cause is the separation of Canada from Great Britain, and the establishment of an independent republic. The work is dedicated to Professor Goldwin Smith, who is, in the opinion of its author, "the greatest English living writer," and whose praises he has sounded in his chapter on "Thought and Literature." We are under the impression that the latest "forecast" which has been made by the distinguished essayist referred to, has been that we are destined to be annexed to the Great Republic to the south, a destiny, that in case, owing to any cause which at present we confess ourselves unable to foresee, separation from the United Kingdom should be forced on us, we implicitly believe would necessarily follow very shortly after separation. There is no evidence, so far as we can judge, that Mr. Collins has contemplated any other change than an independent republic, but he is not only strongly opposed to the subsisting connection, but he labors under the conviction that the young men of Canada have a similar bias.

We have acknowledged the great sagacity displayed by Mr. Collins in his choice of a subject, through the medium of which he could most effectively advocate Canadian nationalism. No better proof of the correctness of our opinion can be given than a reference to the opinions of the press which the publisher has supplied. We find ten of these in the Bystander, and, with scarcely an exception, no reference whatever is made to the ostentatious advocacy of independence in the life of Sir John A. Macdonald, who has always professed devoted attachment to British connection. The Mail extract is simply, "To all Canadians who desire to appreciate at their true value the services rendered to this country by Sir John A. Macdonald we commend Mr. Collins' biography." The St. John Evening Times says: "The book merits, and will certainly receive, a very extensive perusal." The Hon. Wm. Elder styles it, "a most careful personal and political biography of Sir John Macdonald," but makes no allusion to its advocacy of independence. Mr. Elder could hardly have done less, as Mr. Collins styles him "a politician who might take rank among our foremost public men." Of Mr. George Stewart, jun., Mr. Collins says that his various contributions have long delighted a large circle of readers, that his style thrills with life, that his literary career has been one of increasing activity crowned with success. Of Mr. Collins, Mr. Stewart says, "there is not a dull chapter in the book, but there are many chapters of energetic writing, and a hundred passages can be selected which are very brilliant indeed. His style is pictorial and eloquent. Mr. Collins' book is full of interesting reading from the first page to the last." Not a single allusion to the advocacy of independence! The Hamilton Tribune, Kingston News, and Toronto Globe all recommend the work, but if any of them have adverted to "independence," the publisher has suppressed the remarks. In the case of the Toronto World, a national paper, it is admitted that the work "contains much sound nationalist doctrine," and Mr. G. Mercer Adam, in a long and eulogistic article, admits that in the closing pages, "the sentiment presents itself in a pronounced Nationalism, which, likely enough, both political parties will sneer at, though the feeling is obviously dictated by patriotism." He adds that "his words have a curious convincing force, and the swaying influence of patriotic ardour." Mr. Collins styles Mr. Roberts of Fredericton "beyond any comparison our greatest living poet," and has devoted considerable space to his laudation. In the notices is a long contribution from Mr. Roberts to the St. John Telegraph of a most laudatory character, but as there is no reference to independence it is fair to notice that he had only received a few of the earlier chapters of the work.

It may be admitted that, as a rule, the advocates of independence are young men, who, with the enthusiasm of youth, look on all those who are advanced in years as in their dotage and incapable of forming sound opinions on the particular subject under discussion, or perhaps on any other. They, however, ought to bear in mind that there are other young men who are perhaps equally enthusiastic in their loyalty to their Sovereign, or, if such loyalty be sneered at as a mere faded sentiment, we will say attachment to monarchical institutions, and free Parliamentary discussion, where responsible ministers have to defend every act of the Government, with the full knowledge that their tenure of power is dependent on the popular will.

Mr. Collins is entitled to the credit of having displayed great sagacity in making use of the name of a popular living statesman, whose admirers must naturally desire to possess a sketch of his life written in the most flattering terms, but who the author doubtless hopes will imbibe at least a portion of the double-distilled poison which he has prepared for them. One of the institutions of Canada which is specially denounced by our author is the nominated Senate, and it is doubtless open to criticism. No living man is more responsible for that institution than Sir John A. Macdonald. At the period of confederation the question of the expediency of having two Legislative Chambers was very fully considered, as well as the mode of constituting the second Chamber. The late Senator Brown had strongly opposed the introduction of the elective principle in the old Legislative Council and his aid in substituting nomination by the Representatives of the Crown was cordially given. Mr. Collins should bear in mind that whatever may be the defects of the present system it was adopted at the desire of the people of Canada themselves. As we have referred to the political views of Mr. Collins we ought in fairness to enable our readers to judge for themselves as to the correctness of our description. He expresses the opinion: "that a change must soon come in our political status no one whose opinion is of any value will now deny." We should imagine that Mr. Collins must attach great value to the opinion of Sir John Macdonald, and yet although he has published very strong opinions of that Right Honorable gentleman in direct opposition to his own views he coolly declares that "they are of no value whatever." However we must proceed: "To the speculating mind one of three courses will be open. Federation with the Empire, a scheme which is the birth of a disordered poetic imagination; annexation with the United States, a proposal for which we have not the remotest sympathy, and which we believe would be unwelcome to the people, and Canadian Independence. We need not repeat what we have expressed so often that for this latter scheme are we heart and soul; that no other change will satisfy the manly yearning spirit of our young Canadians, and that it is our duty now to bestir ourselves, to organize, and to tire not, nor rest till our colonialism shall have become a thing of the past, and our Canada stand robust, and pure, and manly, and intelligent, among the nations of the earth."

Such is the medicine or poison, as people may consider it, that the admirer of Sir John A. Macdonald has administered in frequent doses throughout the interesting book, which the attached followers of the Premier will naturally desire to be possessed of; and we cannot but acknowledge the sagacity of the author who has chosen such a mode of disseminating his views. There are, moreover, some rather broad insinuations as to the durability of Sir John Macdonald's loyalty. Mr. Collins tells us that Sir John "has always, and to a far greater extent than we could wish, sought to instil a feeling of loyalty among Canadians to the British Empire." He then proceeds to give his idea of Sir John's loyalty. He thus describes it: "we should be loyal to Great Britain, we must be loyal to Canada," * * "to our own selves we must be true. * * " He has taught us the adjective national and he has "given us a national policy." * * Referring to the well known expression of opinion in the Toronto Mail the author says: "A newspaper, voicing his sentiments, replied," Then so much the worse for British connexion. It may be observed that all the above italics are so printed by Mr. Collins, who after stating that Sir John is "ten times more popular with the young men than either his late or present rival," adds that this is owing to "the policy of Canadian loyalty to Canadian interests which he has adopted." We must here pause for the present, but we shall on future occasions notice the most important passages in Mr. Collins' work.

FISH INSPECTION.

Government fish inspectors and dealers will be interested to know the result of the suit instituted some months ago by Messrs. Verret, Stewart & Co., of this city, against Neil McAuley, Government Inspector of fish for the counties of Grey and Bruce, Ontario, for loss through alleged negligence on the part of his deputy, G. S. Miller, in examination of goods bought by plaintiffs. The goods in question consisted of 194 packages of white fish and trout, bought by the plaintiffs in November last, and shipped to Montreal from Owen Sound. On arrival the goods were discovered to be quite different from what they were branded. The purchasers accordingly made complaint, but Inspector McAuley failing to appoint a person or persons to look into the matter and have the fish re-inspected, plaintiffs, to establish amount of loss, had L. E. Morin, Government Fish Inspector, this city, re-inspect the 194 packages, and his inspection showed 59 packages or half-barrels unfit for food, tainted; 12 packages or half-barrels rusty; 117 half-barrels No. 1 and 2 half-barrels No. 2, 4 half-barrels having been used or taken to make up short weight. Half-barrels, by Inspection Act, should contain 100 lbs. of fish, exclusive of salt and brine, yet in this lot some half-barrels only weighed 85 lbs. Some half-barrels branded No. 1 trout contained trout and white fish mixed, showing clearly that the fish had not been turned out, sorted, classified and weighed as should have been done. Inspected packages should bear name of place of inspection, inspector or deputy inspector's name, the month and year of inspection, with weight, quality, and kind or description of fish. Judge Osler of Toronto awarded the plaintiffs $370 and costs.

SEWER-GAS.—Chicago paper.—Of appliances for prevention of the results of sewer-gas the old-fashioned trap in the pipes is the most used, being simple and somewhat servicable. But that it is perfect no one will insist. The water confined in the trap will become impregnated with the noxious gases, which escape into the house to the detriment of its inmates, and leaks in the pipes under the house will allow the sewage to percolate into the ground underneath with a like result. The use of various deodorizers and disinfectants is more in the line of dealing with symptoms than with the primary cause of the difficulty. A young plumber in Chicago has invented and patented a device by which he claims to shut off the sewer entirely from the house and render the escape of sewer-gas impossible. A large six-inch pipe connects the basin of the water closet with the sewer. In the horizontal section of the pipe, underneath the house, are two large valves about twelve feet apart, which are operated by a water motor. When the handle of the water-closet is lifted, the contents flow down to the first valve, and a quantity of water from a flush box is admitted, which carries every particle of matter with it. When the stream meets the first valve it is opened allowing it to flow into the section between the valves. The first valve is then closed, and the second one opened, another quantity of water from the flush box forcing it into the sewer. When the whole contents of the pipe are discharged, the second valve is closed. It will be seen that when the machine is not in operation both valves are closed, and at no time are both of them open at once, so that the separation of the house from the sewer is complete and perfect, while the large quantity of water from the flush-box which flows into both pipes keeps them clean and sweet. The operation of the valves in the manner stated is controlled by a cam-wheel rotated by a water motor, one revolution of which, occupying about a minute of time, does the whole business. The inventor says it meets with the unqualified approval of every sanitary engineer who inspects it.

SUBSTITUTES FOR HOPS.—Considerable commotion has been raised in the beer-brewing and beer-drinking world by a letter published, written by a firm of drug-brokers in London, England, with reference to the substitution of drugs possessing bitter flavor and tonic qualities for hops. They state that, in consequence of the failure of last season's crop of English hops, columba-root, camomiles, cassia, and cheretta have greatly advanced in price, thereby implying that these substances are likely to be largely employed in producing the flavor dear to the palate of the consumer of "bitter." The great firms of brewers have, in consequence, unanimously protested that they never use anything but hops to produce the bitter constituent of their beers, and therefore practically deny the inferences to be drawn from the published statistics. This doubtless is the fact: but if the case were otherwise, and the drugs named were used in the brewing of bitter beer, no possible injury, but rather benefit, would result to the beer-drinking public. Few old Indians, or many persons suffering from the possession of a "liver," but know the good effects of columba; quassia is also one of the most efficient vegetable bitters known to pharmacists. The same may be said of cheretta and camomiles. So that, even if the hop crop were deficient, it is certain that the public health would not suffer, and drinkers of bitter beer would not detect any difference of flavor in their beverage.—Med. Journal.

COMMERCIAL travellers are not idle across the lines if the following from a Trenton (N. J.) paper be an indication.—A commercial traveller, with several heavy cases in hand, panted into a barber-shop, adjoining the State Street House, to-day. One side of his face had a seven days growth of whiskers, while the other side was perfectly smooth. He threw himself into a chair. "Shave me," he said, brusquely. The astonished barber began to adjust the cloth about his neck, looking at the drummer's face meanwhile with eloquent curiosity. "Been in the barber chair once this morning, haven't you?" queried the barber. "Twice," said the stranger, correcting him: "once at Philadelphia and once at Bristol. Got my face lathered in Philadelphia and then saw I couldn't make my train unless I started. Got the barber to wipe off my face, and I ran and got on just as the train was moving. At Bristol I thought I'd have time to do some business and get shaved and catch the next train. Got through with my business, ran into a barber-shop, got lathered again, and got half my faceshaved, when I heard the train coming. Jumped up and paid the barber, and again had my face wiped off, and struck for the depot and got the train just as it was moving. People on the train looked at me and then turned away and whispered. They thought I was an escaped lunatic. I want a close shave, please, and take your time to it. I'm going to make up for this helter-skelter business in the morning."

RETURNS which have been published by the British Board of Trade containing the emigration statistics for the past year, show that 51,399 persons left the United Kingdom for Canada direct during that period; 38,361 were of British origin and 12,038 foreigners, the former showing an increase of 65 per cent. over 1881 and 90 per cent. over 1880. These figures do not include persons sailing from Bristol and some Irish ports, nor those who travel to the Dominion by the New York route. Although the population of the United States is about 12 times larger than that of Canada, the emigrants to the former country were only a trifle over four times as numerous as those proceeding to the latter, and the emigration to the United States for the year was only 34 per cent. in excess of the number in 1881, as against an increase of 65 per cent. in the case of Canada. Irish Emigration to the Dominion has doubled during the past year according to the statistics, which, however, do not include persons sailing from Galway, or from Queens-town via American ports. From the inquiries that are being received respecting Manitoba and other parts of Canada, there is every reason to expect a still larger emigration during 1883.

PRELIMINARY. [Wall Street News].—Last fall a narrow-gauge road twenty-two miles long was planned, and a company organized in Wisconsin, and an eastern man who scented a chance for profitable investment called upon the President to make some enquiries. "How is the new line getting on?" he asked, after some general conversation.—"Splendidly; we have the right of way for the first five miles, and have taken steps to gobble it for the other seventeen."—"How much stock have you issued?"—"Two hundred thousand dollars."—"And how much has been sold?"—"Well, you see, it has all been preliminary thus far. We have sold enough stock to buy blue uniforms for all the general offices, furnished up several rooms with mahogany desks and moquet carpets, and as soon as we can work off sufficient to purchase horses and carriages for President, Secretary, and Treasurer, and furnish the Superintendent with a yacht, we shall begin the real serious work of building up a Grand Air line."

WILLIAM CUMMINGS, harnessmaker, Strathroy, Ont., has been overshadowed by the sheriff, who is now in possession of the stock, the issue of an execution held by the father, Wm. Cummings, sen. The amount of the execution is $500. Davidson & Co, Toronto, hold a claim for $1,400. Total liabilities about $3,000. The assets will amount to about $600, or equal to the father's claim. Cummings, who has been in business about seven years, commenced with little means, but instead of giving the business his full attention, he attached himself to the band of the town, and as drum major, attired rather unlike a harness-maker. In addition to this, a penchant for the horse rather than for the harness tended to bring about the present state of affairs, in which 15 cents on the dollar is apparently the best he can offer to his creditors.

Market Reports.

MONTREAL WHOLESALE MARKETS.

THURSDAY, 5th July, 1883.

Midsummer dullness characterizes nearly every department of trade, and the week's business has, moreover, been greatly curtailed by the holiday influences attendant upon the celebration of Dominion Day in Canada, and Independence Day in the States. Many of the leading merchants and other business men of the city are about leaving on their annual vacation at the sea-side, and little activity is expected for some weeks to come. The improved condition of the crops, under the influence of favorable weather, has stimulated confidence in the future; from present appearances a good Canadian harvest may reasonably be expected. The dry goods travellers are out on their Fall trip, but have not had time yet to give an account of themselves. Remittances continue fair. There is no change to note in local financial affairs. Loans on stocks can be had at from 5 to 6 per cent., but the demand for money is light. Commercial paper discounted at 7 to 8 per cent., and gilt-edged bills at a shade lower rate. Business on the Stock Exchange has been very light. There was no session from Friday till Tuesday last, and since the re-opening the daily volume of business has been small; Richelieu has been the most active, and has advanced 1½ per cent. for the week, selling to-day at 80½. Bank of Montreal has advanced ½ per cent. to 198½, at which sales were recorded to-day; buyers closed at 198½. For other stocks values show little change. See table on another page.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Trade still rules quiet though, under the influence of the warmer weather, the outlook is more promising. Orders for Fall goods are beginning to come forward, and remittances are generally fair.

DAIRY PRODUCE.—There has been rather more doing in Butter the past week, but shippers are not yet in a position to operate any more freely, and under increasing receipts and accumulating stocks, the market is decidedly easier all round than last week. The arrivals of Western have been more liberal the past few days, and sales have occurred at from 15c to 18c as to quality, for round lots. There has been little movement in Townships, which are quoted here at 19c to 20c, but latest advices from the Eastern Townships are to the effect that farmers are commencing to accept concessions, and are less inclined to hold stocks; a good-sized lot of fine Townships was reported sold at 18c, at point of shipment. Creamery, for which there are few buyers at present asking prices, is quoted at 20c to 21c. Brockville and Morrisburg at 17c to 19c, and Western at 15c to 18c as to quality. The local Cheese market is decidedly dull and weak; at a considerable decline on last week's prices. Several well-known factories of fine white make were offered here yesterday at 9½c, with 9½c the best bid. For a choice lot of colored 10c would probably have to be paid. Prices may be quoted at from 9½c to 10c for fair to finest; white is offering freely at 9½c; French colored cheese was offered yesterday at 9½c. It is said that a number of French factories will be offering here in a few days. The present unsettled state of the market is mainly owing to unsatisfactory advices from England and a further decline in New York. At Ligersoll this week, two factories registered 323 boxes cheese, June make, and sold 250 at 10½c and 73 at 9½c; 10 buyers and 11 factory-men present, June cheese being all sold. Cable 5-15 6d. At Little Falls, 10,000 boxes sold: 3,000 at 10½c, two lots at 10½c; 6,000 at 10c. Market—feeling of uncertainty. At Utica, 12,000 boxes sold; ruling price 10c; 3,000 boxes consigned; small cheese, 10½c.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.—We have no change to report in prices this week. Business continues quiet, without much prospect of improvement for some little time. The English Chemical market is in a very depressed condition, and manufacturers complain of losing heavily at present prices.

FISH.—Fresh Salmon having become scarce, prices have advanced, several sales being made this week of lots to arrive, at 16c per lb. The demand for salmon continues good, but nothing doing in other kinds of fish.

FREIGHTS.—Rate firm, under a fair demand, at 3s. 6d. to London, 2s. 6d. to Liverpool, and 3s. 3d. to Glasgow, for heavy grain.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.—English Wheat markets have ruled dull and drooping during the week, and imports in the United Kingdom for the week show the large decrease of 75,000 bbls flour, 100,000 qrs. wheat, and 325,000 qrs. corn, and yet the supplies are reported excessive. To-day Liverpool was cabled quiet and unchanged. Spring-sown crops in England, especially pease, have materially improved. Chicago has ruled quiet, with an advance on Tuesday for No. 2 Spring Wheat, but there was no shipping demand; the New York and Chicago Exchange has been closed for the last two days. With the exception of a few cargoes of corn, sold at 56c, delivered here from the West, there has been no business doing in the local grain market, which remains uncommonly dull and flat. Values are, therefore, purely nominal, but the tendency is downward. The Flour market quiet, not much demand, but daily receipts small, and stocks rapidly decreasing. In the absence of an active enquiry sellers cannot obtain any advance on last week's quotations.

FRUITS.—Wholesale dealers are quite busy, Canadian Strawberries and Lemons commanding the chief attention. Receipts of Canadian berries this week have been heavy, and prices have ranged from 8c to 10c per quart, fluctuating in proportion to the supply and condition of the fruit. Lemons, of which receipts have been small, have been in active request, at $5 to $6 per box; cases are quoted at $7 to $8, but have been arriving in bad order, and not much wanted. Oranges scarce, but demand slow, at $12 to $13 per case, repacked. No new Apples in the market yet, and the season is about over for last year's fruit. Cherries selling at $1.50 to $2 per basket; not many received yet. Cocoanuts, white, worth $5 to $5.50 per hundred. For Pineapples and Bananas the season is about over, hence reliable prices cannot be quoted. A carload of new harvest Apples is en route to this market from the South; prices will of course be governed largely by the quality and condition of the fruit on arrival. Some small lots of new apples have already been received in this market.

GROCERIES.—Sugars.—There is an active demand for Yellow Refined at steady prices. Granulated is in fair request at previous quotations. Business in West India Grocery Grades is light. Teas.—Only moderate enquiry, and mostly for actual wants. The range of values is but little varied for the week. Young Hyson, Gunpowder and Black Teas continue dull. Molasses.—Some Barbadoes held on wharf has been stored rather than accept lower figures. Advices from the Island show some reduction in value, but freights are not believed to be readily procurable at moderate rates. Syrups quiet. Rice.—Demand has slackened, and a slight reduction in price. Coffees.—Choice qualities steady, some sales of the lower kinds about 10 cents for quantity. Spices.—Pepper moderate enquiry, but held with some firmness. Ginger keeps up. Nutmegs steady. Pimento dull. Cassia inactive. Fruits.—Valencias not at all active, and rather easier. Malaga Raisins in small request. Currants firm at slight advance, with sales for quantities in vicinity rather under 6 cents. Figs, Prunes, Sultanas dull. Filberts, Walnuts and Almonds unchanged.

HARDWARE AND IRON.—Payments are again reported fair, but of course trade remains quiet, there being only the usual amount of business passing at this time of year. Cable advices received Tuesday last report the English markets steady with prices firm but unchanged. A fair movement is reported in Bar Iron at from $1.90 to $2, and an increased business has been done in Tin Plates at $5.25 for the best grades of Charcoal, but some round lots of Alloway are said to have been placed at as low as $5.15; Colces rule firm at $1.40. This being the season for Canada Plates a good demand is being experienced at from $3.10 to $3.25, as to kind and quantity. Cut Nails, Tin and Copper, and Window Glass steady and unchanged, at the figures quoted last week. For Pig Iron the market has developed no new feature; buyers for the most part are still holding off, and sales are chiefly of small lots, to arrive. Receipts continue light, and there are no stocks on hand to speak of. Some round lots of Calder have changed hands during the week, at about last week's quotations, which may be called steady. See table of "prices current" on another page.

HIDES AND SKINS.—The market is devoid of any new features. Offerings of native Hides, are comparatively light, but about sufficient for the demand, and values are unchanged, all round. Not many Lambskins offering yet, but they are worth about 40c each. Clips bring 30c to 35c. Calfskins scarce at 12c per lb., the season being nearly over.

LEATHER.—In this branch business is reported very quiet, more so than usual at the beginning of the month. None of the various kinds are in special demand, consequently there are no round lot transactions to note, and, while prices are no higher, the tendency is to a firmer market, if anything. The period is rapidly approaching when manufacturers will require to lay in increased supplies, and for some time past receipts from tanners have been falling off. There is no other noteworthy feature in the market to note, but of course the week has been very short, owing to the intervention of holidays.

LUMBER.—Trade is moving along quietly; there is not the same activity as last season. Prices, so far, rule about the same, with some inclination to drop on common grades. Stocks of common lumber in this city are pretty large and trade is somewhat slack, owing to the comparatively small number of buildings being erected.

OILS.—Market for Cod rather weaker, owing to the prospects of the new oil arriving shortly. Seal oils of all kinds have advanced, in consequence of light stocks and good demand in England. Steam Refined now quoted at 72c to 75c, and Straw Seal at 65c to 70c. Round lots have changed hands at a shade under these figures. Linseed rules very quiet, and values remain unchanged. Spirits of Turpentine has declined about 3c per gal., in sympathy with Southern Markets, from whence this market is supplied.

PROVISIONS.—The feeling in the Chicago market for both Pork and Lard continues distrustful. Yesterday being the 4th July, and a holiday in the States, no American Market report were received. The local market has continued quiet and weak, in sympathy with the unsettled feeling in the West, and values for pork and lard show a considerable decline compared with a week ago. Sales are restricted to jobbing lots at $20.50 to $21 for Western Mess Pork and 12c to 13c for Fairbanks Lard, in barrels. There is no Canada lard left in the market, and Canada Short Cut Mess Pork is also about exhausted. Hams in good request at 14c to 15c; other smoked meats steady and unchanged. Receipts of Eggs rather light, and, though they are still quoted at 16c to 16c, the market seems easier.

WINES AND LIQUORS.—Travellers are forwarding orders for Fall delivery, but trade on the whole is rather dull. No change in price-list. Payments fair.

WOOL.—The market continues seasonably quiet, with few quotable transactions occurring, and values remain nominally unchanged. In the early part of the week a mixed lot of Canadian Supers changed hands at within the range of our quotations, viz., from 25c to 33c.

TORONTO WHOLESALE MARKETS.

(Revised by Telegraph.)

Toronto, July 5, 1883.

Notwithstanding an admitted dullness in nearly all branches of trade there is no deep complaining. And while the prospects for a good business during the remainder of the summer are not brilliant there is still no opinion expressed that the year is going to be a bad year. A period of partial stagnation, if it should come, will be borne by the great bulk of the farmers of Ontario with some reserves, and the times cannot be very bad. With a continuance of the weather which has set in during the past few days, the crops will be better than they were hoped for, and the ordinary course of trade will correspondingly be above the level of depression. The attitude of the banks gives a color to this opinion. Money is still obtainable at latest reported rates, and there is no increased strictness about securities. Loans on collaterals are made at 7 per cent; and commercial paper is discounted at 7 per cent for gilt-edge, with higher rates for inferior securities, with a limited demand for accommodation. Sterling exchange is quiet at 109 and 109½ between banks, and 109½ to customers for 60 days; and demand bills $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ higher. Gold drafts on New York are drawn at par between banks, and customers pay $\frac{1}{4}$ premium. Bank stocks and other securities have been quiet, and values generally scarcely more than steady. There is really no buying on speculation; and men with money seem slow to buy as investments. There is scarcely a feature in stocks that possesses any prominence; at the same time the market has not shown any signs of depression. The following are bids to-day compared with those of last Thursday:

FLOUR AND MEAL.—The changes in the West during the week have not operated on this market further than to check the course of business somewhat. The position of flour has been lower comparatively than wheat all through the year. And if the price of flour, during the recent decline in values has not been so marked in decline as that of wheat, its present nominal value is not too high in comparison with wheat. Quotations during the week have been steady at about \$4.65 for Superior Extra, and \$4.55 for Extra, with bids occasionally $\frac{1}{2}$ lower, that was the position at Tuesday's meeting. At the market to-day there was no change in quotations, and business was not entered into. Stocks are low. On Monday last there were in store here 2,795 brls. against 3,095 on June 25, and against 3,775 July 3, 1882, and 1,500 barrels July 4, 1881. Oatmeal is quoted at about \$5.20 for standard, and \$5.35 for granulated. Cornmeal nominal, at \$9.75 to \$9.80 per barrel. Bran is quoted at \$9 to \$9.50 on the track. Shorts quoted at \$16 to \$17 according to quality.

WHEAT.—The market here has not shown any very decided weakness. There has been a downward tendency, but it was not of the same kind that has been operating in Chicago. And if prices in Liverpool had not given way to the extent of about 1d per bushel the prices here would not have given way even so much as they have done. But the reports of the harvests are generally more favorable both in Europe and America than was looked for a month ago, and the prospects for prices advancing are not good. There has been very little doing, and neither buyers nor sellers appear anxious to do business, either for cash or futures. On Tuesday No. 2 Fall was quoted at $1.03, and No. 2 Spring at $1.05, and No. 3 both varieties about 2c. below these figures. Goose Wheat is quoted about 99c to $1. At this day's market there was nothing doing. Outside markets were not reported, and neither buyers nor sellers desired to trade. Stocks in store on Monday last were 189,368 bushels, against 286,332 bushels June 25; and 175,745 July 3, 1882; and 165,203 July 4, 1881.

COARSE GRAINS AND SEEDS.—Quotations for Barley are purely nominal at 75c for No. 1; 68c for No. 2; and 50c for No. 3. Stocks on Monday last were 49,202 bushels; against 66,190 bushels June 25; against 5,011 bushels July 3, 1882; and 17,921 bushels July 4th, 1881.

Oats are easier: Western are offered at 44c, and Eastern at 42c in car lots f.o.c., and sales are slow. Stocks are small: on Monday there were 1,000 bushels in store, against 2,909 bushels July 3, 1872; and 14,521 bushels July 4, 1881. Peas are not asked for, but prices are steady at 80c to 81c for good No. 2. Stocks are nearly cleaned out: on Monday last there were 272 bushels in store; against 7,504 bushels June 25; against 4,578 bushels July 3, 1882; and 30,049 bushels July 4, 1881. Rye is not in the market, and is quoted nominal at 63c. Stock on Monday last was 235 bushels, against 5,324 bushels July 3, 1882; and 125 bushels July 4, 1881.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—There is no improvement in business. Orders are still very light for even Summer goods, and dealers in the country are slow in giving orders for Fall and Winter goods. Manufacturers here are working, but not nearly on full time. It is said that the prospect for Fall and Winter trade is not so good as it was found twelve months ago, and that the diminished manufacture is entirely regulated by reports of the wants of the trade outside.

DRY GOODS.—The situation is not improving. The ordinary dullness of June and July has been shaded by the weeks just closed. The ordinary sorting-up orders of these months have been small and few compared with an average year. Stocks of dry goods in country stores are reported large; and the poor crop prospects have a depressing effect on traders. It is not too much to suggest to the wholesale trade that it would seem proper to instruct their travellers not to press goods on their customers. There is certainly nothing in the future of the present season to lead to hopes for a successful business in selling goods.

DRUGS.—There is reported a slight improvement in business during the past few days. Quinine is reported firmer, and the demand is likely to sustain this for some time to come. Opium is quiet at the recent decline, $4.60. Chamomile flowers are still 50c; Quassia, 10c per lb; Gentian root, 12c to 15c; Colombo root, 25c, used in room of hops.

GROCERIES.—There is very little improvement to report in trade. Prices are also entirely unchanged. Tens are in moderate demand and prices are steady. Sugars are steady, and a larger trade is looked for immediately, when there may be a slight advance in some grades. Fruits are very quiet, and buyers would find an easier market. General quotations are steady.

HARDWARE.—Business is not so good as it might be even at this dull period, but dealers make less of the matter than those in other branches. It is certain that the aggregate trade done will be considerably less than that of 1882. The business has had the advantage of being steady both in operation and in prices. Quotations for leading articles are not changed, but it is thought that prices of iron will advance next month. Present prices are: Bar iron, Nova Scotia, \$2.50 to \$2.60; ordinary, \$2 to \$2.10. Hoops, cooper's \$2.50 to \$2.60; band, \$2.60 to \$2.60. Lead, bar, 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ c; Sheet, 5c to 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. Steel, cast 12c to 13c; boiler plate 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ c to 4c. Tin, bar, 26c to 28c; ingot, 24c to 25c.

HIDES AND SKINS.—There are some changes in quotations, and prices are generally firm. Green hides are buying at 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ c for cows, and 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ c for steers, No. 1, and 1c lower for No. 2. Cured held at 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ c to 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ c for No. 1 cows, and sales have been made at these figures, although the outside figures are considered extreme. Calfskins buying at 13c for No. 1, and 11c for No. 2; selling cured at 15c for No. 1, and 13c for No. 2. Lambskins are advanced 5c, buying now at 35c; and pelts also advanced, buying at 25c.

LEATHER.—The market is rather duller than could have been expected some time ago. The depression that has settled on boots and shoes, and the manufactures, has been felt in the leather trade as a simple consequence. The country dealers and shoemakers report trade very dull also. Tanners complain of the situation in which they are placed. Raw material of every description has been increased in cost, and the price of leather has not responded. The prices quoted are those charged for small lots to country dealers:—Spanish sole 25c to 30c; Buffalo sole 21c to 23c; hemlock harness 28c to 33c; oak harness 45c to 50c hemlock belting 34c to 43c; kips, French, 75c to 95c; English, 70c to 75c; Chicago, 65c to 70c; splits, 28c to 33c; buff, 16c to 18c; pebble, 14c to 18c; calf, French, $1.10 to $1.40; hemlock, light, 60c to 70c.

LIVE STOCK TRADE.—The supplies reaching this market have been rather small in the aggregate, and very irregular. Last week receipts were below the actual requirements, but as butchers are not selling briskly there was no embarrassment. At Tuesday's market there were again a fair number of cattle—about 200 head, averaging in weight from about 1,100 lbs. to 1,300. They were all in good condition, and were all taken for the local market and for shipment east. Prices were firm at from \$5.50 to \$6.25 per 100 lbs., live weight. Sheep were only few in offering, and were all taken at 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ c to 6c per lb., live weight. Lambs sold readily at \$3.50 to \$5, according to quality. Calves on the street are selling variously at \$8 to \$22, according to size and condition.

PROVISIONS.—The decline in Chicago has operated a weakening of prices of meats here. It is thought the prices given might be shaded to a good customer. Bacon is very quiet; long clear quoted at 11c for round lots, and 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ c to 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ c for ton and box lots; Cumberland cut is 1c lower; bellies, smoked, 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ c; canvassed 14c. Hams steady at 14c for smoked, and 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ c for canvassed. Pork quoted at \$20; Beef at \$16 for prime, and \$17 for mess. Lard easier, tinnets quoted at 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c, large pails, 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c small pails 13c. Butter unchanged at 14c to 16c for fair to good, and 12c to 13c for ordinary. Cheese steady, medium selling at 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ c; finest jobbing at 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ c to 12c. Eggs selling at 15c to 16c, according to quantity. Beans almost nominal at \$1.60 to \$1.85 per bushel, according to quality. Dried Apples very quiet, quoted at 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ c for American; 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ c to 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ c for Canadian, and 16c to 17c for evaporated.

OTHER PRODUCE.—Hogs nominal at \$9. Potatoes scarce at 70c to 75c for car lots, per bag. Silk, Liverpool, 65c per bag in car lots, and 80c delivered; Canadian, \$1.40 in car lots, and \$1.50 delivered, per barrel. Hops single bales No. 1 selling at 65c. Pressed Hay nominal at \$11 to \$12 on the track. Tallow easier, buying rendered at 8c, selling at 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ c to 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ c.

WOOL.—The market is exceedingly dull. Dealers say they have had no enquiries from the United States this season, and that prices here are generally lower than they have ever been known. Trading is only of jobbing proportions, and offers from the country are very light. Prices are not changed, and the best opinion seems to be that there is no immediate improvement possible, or at least till it should occur that there is some demand from American buyers. Cotswold fleece is quoted at 17c to 18c; Leicester at 19c to 20c. South-down is worth 24c to 25c, and taken readily at these figures, or perhaps higher. There is only a moderate demand for pulled wools, from the factories; prices are: supers selling at 26c to 27c; extra supers at 31c to 32c.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

MALLEABLE IRON—We have been shown some extraordinary specimens of malleable iron castings which the Hall Company (Oshawa) are turning out at their new works. Pieces weighing as much as 66 lbs. have been thoroughly annealed, as well as small work. We saw a cast malleable wrench yesterday, the end of which had been drawn out into horse shoe nails, and the opposite end contained the portion which is used upon the nut of the bolt. The various specimens we have seen are really wonderful. Castings have been doubled and flattened without even cracking the skin; others have been twisted more than once around, in the shape of an auger, without breaking. In fact, very little wrought iron besides Lowmoor and Swedes or Norway could be treated in the same way without breaking or cracking the skin of the metal. In quality the goods are superior to any malleable goods ever before made in Canada, and equalled but by a very few makers in the United States.—Oshawa, Ont., Reformer.

CENTRAL BANK OF CANADA.

The promoters of the Central Bank of Canada, in presenting this enterprise to the public, do so in the belief that the great increase of general business throughout the Dominion renders the present period extremely favorable for the formation of a new bank.

The stocks of all the banks doing business in Toronto stand at a high premium, on account of the large rests they have accumulated, the satisfactory dividends they pay, and the great demand existing among our moneyed classes for such investments.

At no time in the history of the Dominion has the country made such rapid progress as it is now making, and is likely to make for some years to come. The construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway and other railways and public works—the rapid opening up and settlement of Manitoba and the great North-West—the establishment of new industries of many kinds in all parts of Canada, and the large influx of immigrants, many of them possessed of money, and who are settling to a considerable extent in Ontario—render necessary enlarged facilities for business by the provision of additional Banking Capital.

The standing, character, and reputation of the Provisional Directors of the CENTRAL BANK OF CANADA, and of the gentlemen selected by them to take the management of the bank, warrant the belief that its initiation will be received with favour, and that under cautious, wise, and prudent management its success will not be less marked than that of the other prosperous institutions of a similar kind.

It is the intention to place the whole Capital on the market, and when the requisite amount has been subscribed, and 20 per cent. paid in, to commence operations. Ten per cent. to be paid on subscription, and ten per cent. on allotment, and further calls as business may require; provided that such calls shall be made at intervals of not less than thirty days, and not to exceed ten per cent. of each share subscribed. If more than the authorized capital is subscribed, allotments will be reduced pro rata.

Calls on Stock are to be paid at the Bank of Montreal and its Agencies, with whom arrangements for this purpose have been made.

Suitable premises for the bank have been secured on Yonge street, immediately north of the Bank of British North America.

Stock Books have been opened at the offices of the under-mentioned, where further information respecting the Banks, copies of prospectus, and forms of application for shares can be obtained.

To Messrs W. F. Lewis & Co
Montreal

August 12-1878

Gentlemen

I have carefully examined the sample of your hand made snow mask Whiskey "Crop 1874" sent me by you; I now report it to be free from fuel oil, and all other such harmful compounds injurious to health; and that it is in every respect a sample of a choice spirit, and of such a nature as I can recommend for use medicinally when an alcoholic stimulant is indicated.

As I give you permission to publish this certificate, I reserve to myself the right to analyze and report upon samples from time to time purchased by myself for comparison with standard samples which I retain.

Yours truly

John G. Wood

1. Liberty to travel anywhere without extra.
 2. Liberty to engage in any occupation without extra.
 3. Thirty days of grace for premiums.
 4. Policy may be revived within a year after lapse.
 5. Paid up policies given for definite amounts after three years.
