EX-PREMIER CLEMENCEAU SAYS GERMANS CANNOT INVEST PARIS

BULLETIN - Paris, Sept. 1.-11.45 p.m. - The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:-" On our left wing, as a result of the turning movement of the German army and in order not to accept battle under unfavorable conditions, our troops retired toward the South and Southwest. In the region of Rethel our forces have arrested the enemy momentarily. In the centre and on the "FOR ALL WE HAVE AND ARE" German Officers in Charge of Turkey's Army right the situation remains unchanged."

Berlin's Claim of Sweeping Victory is Apparently Baseless-Combined Armies of Austria and Prussia Offer Stubborn Resistance, But Russian Host is Gaining Ground.

WASHINGTON. Sept. 1.—The report given out by the German embassy late today of a sweeping German victory and the capture of 70,000 Russians, which the embassy declared was received from Berlin by wireless, is not given official credence here, as it is impossible for the Sayville radio station on Long Island to communicate with Berlin under present conditions.

Canadian General Electric is HAS FINE RESPONSE Sending Men to Handle Searchlights.

Altho no official orders have come from Ottawa providing for the immediate mobilization of the militial, military circles would not be surprised if affairs took such a turn before long. It is recognized that the department is anxious to stimulate recruiting in all centres and to increase the general efficiency of those now enrolled. A general mobilization would accomplish these ends in speedy fashion. The first drill of the "legal" squad took place at the armories yesterday afternoon. This newly-formed organization, known as the Osgoode Hall Rifle Association, is determined to make a good showing and will spend several hours a day at the drill sheds.

Searchlight Men.

Word has come to the Canadian General Electric Company to send the men, volunteered, to different points. Eight will go to Quebec, Halifax and Esquimait, with the understanding that they will be employed in handling searchlights. Capt. Hazen Ritchie will be in charge.

TURKEY PREPARES TO FIGHT.

ROME, Sept. 1.—Turkey's army is being mobilized, according to a despatch received here from Berlin. The army will consist of a first line of 200,000 men, all Mohammedans. This is in accordance with the advice of Field Marshal Baron Von Dergoltz, the German commander and advisor to Turkey.

That Turkey apparently means to go to war and will take the side of Germany, is indicated by the fact that 72 officers, comprising the kaiser's military mission at Constantinople, have been placed in the sultan's army and will serve in case of hostilities.

SOMETHING IMPORTANT HAPPENING.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Something of a very important nature is happening in the war zone. This was indicated this afternoon when the censorship became more severe, and by order of the government, many despatches recounting operations in France and elsewhere were gressing near La Fere, about 75 miles from Paris in a northeasterly direction. The morale of the troops is said to be excellent and the losses have been made up everywhere.

GERMANS CANNOT INVEST PARIS.

"The Germans cannot invest Paris, its size is too vast," says George Clemenceau, former premier of France, in an interview printed by The Daily Mail.

"We are fighting," he adds, "for a great cause which is worthy of great sacrifice. We know our frontier would be invaded somewhere. We are still resisting and have many troops in reserve for the big battle which will follow this one." PARIS BOMB EXPLODED.

It now appears that the bomb dropped into Paris yesterday afternoon by a German aeroplane actually exploded. A despatch received here from the French capital says that when the projectile fell in the Porte St. Marion quarter the people in the neighborhood, thinking the noise due to gas explosion, ran out from all sides. In a few moments the fire brigade was on the scene as well as the mayor, the commissary of police and representatives of the French aviation

It is added that Paris is not taking these bomb attacks very seriously.

The Public Are Told To Have More Confidence and Optimism

Editor World: Possibly others than myself have been greatly instructed by you as to the financial aspect arising out of the European war. Your articles form a populareducational series. Noone can now remain in ignorance of the Canadian banking system. What it is, why it is, and how it should function in the interest of the country, as well as in its own, is so lucidly expressed that it is to be hoped the whole series will be published in pamphlet form and distributed broadcast: containing, as it would, the fundamentals for a complete understanding of details so necessary in commercial activities if

That you have reached a position as instructor of the public is clearly shown by the fact of your having pierced the pachydermatous hides of financiers, witnessed by the extracts you print today from The Montreal Financial Times, Aug. 29. Good. Having got the range, continue shelling their position until surrender becomes inevitable; a national ourrency established; with the disappearance of the numerous bank notes; and Dominion ones

To be the means of creating a public demand for such a change in the banking system is a role to be envied, even by a demagog.

Editor World: Don't make any mistake; every business man in Toronto and the rest of Ontario is reading your articles on banking. The one paper that everyone buys in the morning is The World. And let me say that if there is not much public expression of approval, there is widespread appreciation, as your circulation figures must show. Next to the war your deliverances are the talk of the town.

We begin our discussion of the financial situation today with the above letters two of many received. They prove that the public are at last showing interest in system. The remarkable thing is that, whereas every other country has for years been discussing the question of banking, and especially the question of ncy, Canadians have been nursed in the belief that their currency and banking is the best possible, that it could not be improved, and that to revise our methods in the light of what other countries are doing would be a waste of energy. As a matter of fact, we have few public men or public newspapers that pay attention to comparative politics. The best that most of the papers in Canada will do is to say a good word for public ownership and public service in some other country. They have a parcel post system in the States and our papers gave a good deal of attention have a parcel post system in the States and our papers gave a good deal of attention to it, but they are very slow in comparing our system with the system they have in the States, and the magnificent work that is being done across the border. They are afraid to discuss banking by comparing our system with others. At last the people of the United States are versed in banking; their public men have been talking it for years; their newspapers have been expounding it; their progressive newspapers have been especially elect in telling the whole story, including the merits of banking in Burope, and the result is that the United States is reaching toward a system based on modern practice. More text books on banking and politics and the science of government have been sold in the United States during the last four or the years than in all the rest of the world put together!

five years than in all the rest of the world put together!

Ign't at about time that Canadians wakened up, and the writer of the above letter seems to think so, too? Why not hold some meetings?

When the member for South Tork discussed the banking question in the house of commons the other day he got an average report of less than ten lines in the news spers, and if it had not been for The World the public would have been absolutely egnorant of what he tried to say; and when, over a year ago, he brought the question of currency before the banking committee, he was told time after time to sit down by members who were anxious that the Banking Act should go thru without any amendment, and just as the bankers wanted it to go thru. But the great change is

In the meantime we take the liberty of reproducing and black-liming a portion of an article in The Mail of yesterday: CANADA'S PATRIOTIC BANKS

Editorial, Toronto Mail, Sept. 1. In an incredibly short time the large sum of $320,000 has been subscribed to the Toronto and York County Patriotic Fund. . We think it not out of place to refer to the handsome contributions from the banks. The generous subscriptions of these institutions ought to be heartening to trade, The patriotism which prompts them to give so freely to she fund for the families of the men who are to serve abroad can be depended upon to keep them very loyal to the trade and industry of the country. Thereby in a very signal way can they serve the commonwealth. It is not to be expected themselves not wanting in the precious quality of confidence. Their example in that particular will be of the highest public value. Of over-confidence there is no need to bid naem, of all business interests, to beware. It is rather under-confidence against which they may need to be stiffened. Confidence, under-confidence against which they may need to be stiffened. Combence, the happy mean, is what is wanted. Of all the securities well regarded by banks, general trade confidence is worth mest. Without it the values of the most gilt-edged bonds become more or less voiatile. And if there is not warrant for confidence in the general business situation of this country, where in all the world is there warrant for it?

When the war is over Canada will spring to the front. The volunteering of British money will be as spontaneous as the volunteering now of Canadian troops. The mother country and her investors will then show confidence in us. In the meantime, let us show our confidence in ourselves, our banks setting a strong example,

We, too, want to testify to the patriotic contributions of the banks; we wish could also testify on what they are doing to help business; but all we can see in The Mail article is this discussion about confidence and the bouquets thrown at this peculiar quality of the human mind. It is very much like what we copied in yes. terday's paper from The Globe of the day before, and we again print a portion of maisoned. Toronto Globe, Aug. $1,

The Dominion Government has taken the steps necessary to sustain stadit and confidence. It remains for men in every line of enterprise to keep an estimatic outlook and continue in articipation of a normal volume of business. Confidence is an essential of business. Credit is the main dependence of many enterprises. It hankens see evidences of public timidity they protect themselves by reducing credits. This means that all the manufacturers demendent on hank credit must reduce that all the manufacturers demendent on hank credit must reduce that all the manufacturers demendent on hank credit must reduce that pendent on bank credit must reduce their scale of operations, dismiss some of their employes and practice many discouraging economies. Thus the less of confidence brings hard times without a failure or the possibility of any fine of confidence brings hard times without a failure of the possibility of any fine ancial calemity. The government has made timely concessions to the banks, and thru them to the business community. Confidence and optimism are the only other essentials. There are ne grounds for clarm, or even timidity, and the practicing of needless economies is certain to shrink business, obstruct industry and cause general depression.

What we can't quite make out from these two articles is whether the lack anddence is in the bankers or in the public, and if in the bankers whether it is lack of confidence in their nuctomore; We almost imagine that the public are to blame, and that they are too timed in asking any help from the banks in these trying times, and that the banks are just waiting to help customers out that need help! At all events, it is very fine writing and it looks almost as if the two articles had been sleeping in the same bed before they appeared in two different papers. In fact, as we said yesterdey about The Globe, Geess and Pampey are very much alike, but especially Casser; and having read the two spicing we now say the same thing of them. But what we regret is that, with all this fine talk about confidence, there is not more information about the real questions: if, for instance. Finance Minister White has deposited aftern millions of gold (thirty tons of it) in the banks, what banks have it, and under what terms are they lending it out; and why the minister chose to take it from the gold reserve in proference to borrowing from the panks here or elsowhere; and why there is a scaroity of currency and credit in Canada; and what banks, if any, are applying for the use of Dominion notes, as against securities in order to belp out the timid public? Also about the question relied by The World as to the merits of Dominion notes in place of bank otes; and if bank notes are tegal tender why they do not go in the clearing louse? But on this point we notice that Colonel Wilkle, president of the Banker tation, takes the floor in a despatch in The Montreal Star of Monday:

Toronto, Aug. 81 .- There is no objection to banks paying their ances in bank notes rather than Dominion notes, as has been the custom in ordinary times," said D. R. Wilkie, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, as he discussed the strenuous objections made by a morning paper to the action of the cleaning house in continuing to settle balances in "bank legals" rather than bank notes, altho the latter have been declared

This is lordly talk-a little like the way the kalser talks

The World bolieves that this question came up again yesterday in the local haps now the minister of finance will intervene. Notwithstanding the claim in the despatch, it is a matter of public interest. There are two kinds of banks of above despatch, it is a matter of public interest. There are two kinds of banks of this situation: (1) those who want to keep strong and yet afford little relief to customers needing it; (2) those who'd like to help customers and whose freedom it this respect would be greatly facilitated if clearings could be made in bank notes—in other words, that the banks accepted and paid out one another's notes. The pressure of protecting a bank's own notes, and meeting any withdrawals of deposits in these days is a serious affair and consumes energy, and forces the managemen to be more concerned in protecting itself in the clearing house than in serving and helping the public. The attitude of the banks of the first class is to greatly nimize any good effects of the recent legislation of the minister of finance Therefore he must threaten to name the hold-back banks like Lloyd George

An Appalling Financial Situation in the United States.

Further on the line of our discussion of the financial situation in the Unit States—and it has a lesson for us—let us first print another editorial: WHY NOT A STATEMENT FROM THE LEADERS?

Some Uncertainty May Develop Unless the Public is Frankly Informed About Conditions.

From The New York Financial World, Aug. 29.

The financial crisis, as the result of the war in Europe, has been upon American hankens business men and men of affairs, for a full month. It has dislocated and wrenched accepted standards of trade and commerce to an extent never before dreamed of. It has forced the issuance of emergency, currency, clearing house certificates and other expedients familiar to business men, to an amount approximating $300,000,000 and forced an invasion legal surplus reserves of all the banks of the country to an extent that would be classed at any other time as sheer recklessness. In short, a state of semi-paralysis has developed. The most fantastic schemes for relief are being proposed and some of them are excit-While those who are close to the situation know that the above imper-

This uneasiness is quite likely to grow and it is also quite likely to be the agent for the creation of other and wilder alarms. wholly unjustified. We are not prepared to state what the remedy for this dislocation of finance is, but we do say that if there is any leadership in finance in New York or elsewhere it should be exercised,
We have never seen the American people scared by the facts. They have never been frightened by frankness. If we were at war and a great mili-tary disaster overtook us the people could be filled with the wildest alarms if the attempt were to be made to suppress the details, but they would instantly cease worrying or asking whether the government was capable of continuing its existence, if all the facts, even the worst, were laid before them. They are a self-governing people. They do not want others to do

It is the same way with finance, and the present crisis. We say, therefore, and with deliberation, that this is the time for a frank declaration of the entire financial situation, from Maine to California, and from the great lakes to the guif. Let there be no concealment of anything, tell the good and the bad and trust the good sense of the American people to shoulder the burdens or take heart from the promises. Told the best or the worst, they will in the good American way bravely face the storm and stress, if conditions herald such things, and get busy. To say that "everything is all right" is begging the question,

As long as the people would buy, or there was hope that they would buy these securities at inflated values by these crops all was well, and the United State, could keep her end up in business with the rest of the world. But today the people there are being asked to give their crops and their profits in manufacturing for securities now nigh worthless. This they refuse to do, and the real trouble outlined in The Financial World is that nobody in the United States from the president down, including the financial institutions, have the courage to tell the real facts Millions of money have been lest on these stocks, and much of it went into ex-travagances; the rest of it in the way of profits gald to European buyens of these

It's Here---Children's Day

Children's Day, the most glorious event of the year in the life of the wee tots— that's today. They will be up bright and early, for they would not miss a single item in teday's program at the Ex.

All arrangements have been completed in anticipation of a completed in anticipation of a great number of little folks.

The five-cent piece will be the popular medium of exchange. Special officers will be on duty to see that care is exercised and that none of the young people are neglected. Exhibitors have a big stock of souvenirs on hand to meet the heavy demand which is bound to come with the arrival of the "kiddles."

Rain or shine, the boys and girls can be depended upon to make the very most of the day, and nothing will be left which would in any way contribute to their pleasure on this their own day of the big fair.

Whatever rain the weather man thinks should descend during the Exhibition days is being compressed into one parcel. Yesterday a fair-sized crowd had entered the grounds and the prospects for a large attendance were bright. A commencing shower, which developed later into a substantial rain, proved detrimental to anything approaching an average number of vistermittent showers prevented the usual acknowledgment of what would otherwise have been one of the best days of the Exhibition. Nevertheless, it must be said that every effort was made by the directorate to provide against losing her heart to each entertainment for all present.

Many Representatives.

Not one of the speakers failed to touch on the war situation in Europe, which is far superior to anything yet and this seemed to be uppermost in minds of all present. Not only would death benefits be paid, even the dues are not up to date. But also they were told that they need not worry about dues when fighting for their country. Many of the societies, he said, had even gone so far as to offer the payment of medical or hospital fees in case of injury or sickness when abroad.

Large Membership. Eulogizing the part that societies lay in Canadian life, Mr. Banks said that last year three million dollars had been paid by Canadian orders in death benefits. He estimated the number of men belonging to the societies in the country at 750,000 and their annual fees at twelve million dollars. In To-ronto alone there are 45,000 members.

Mighty Influence. Hon. James Duff, minister of agriculture of Ontario, described the fraternities of Canada as the great fraternity of gentlemen. "They are exerting a mighty influence for good," he declared. Touching on the war, he said that it had certainly created sadness, but expressed the hope that it would not deter anyone from attending

The stables are equipped with modern steel stable equipment metal windows, metal clad doors, special ventilating ducts and auto watering bowls. Back of the barn is a ready-made dairy building. if the real causes behind the economic situation were not ventilated, the people would attribute the prevailing conditions to the war alone, which would in consequence be unpopular. There should be an endeavor to promote a conscious patriotism, and all the governments should be compelled to take stronger measures than they have yet had courage to do. What was wanted was not charity, but continued employment, and this point was emphasized by a letter from Sir Algernon Firth, which Mr. Gundy read. It

The general view appeared to be that the factories offered the best means of employment, and that it was the closing of these which caused most distress. The mayor of Welland opened this phase of the question by throwing the blame on the banks. He mentioned one factory, employing 56 men, which had to reduce its staff to 12, and would soon have to close up altogether. Another had arranged for to be done here.

The result had been very satisfactory. The mayor of Preston complained of the banks also. The banks in his town had shut down on the factories, not because conditions were not right locally, but because orders had been sent out from headquarters.

Mr. Gundy, as president of the board of trade, said there was one sugges son he could make as the result of an informal meeting that day at the National Club, when a number of the members had pledged themselves, beginning with the first of October, to during a period to be determined by the

You have in mind chiefly the working man, who, in pursuance of what you pro-perly call a laudable ambition, has purchased for himself, during the past few years, a home on which an unpaid bal-ance is secured by mortgage under which interest and instalments may fall due. Your proposition is that the payments, both of principal and interest, be delayed could deal England such a blow as the repudiation of this interest, even the the repudiation should take the form merely of a delay, because in the present emergency and in the present state of public credit delay may be tantamount to repudiation. It seems to me that the duty of every Canadian citizen in the present crists is, as far as he has opportunity to produce food supplies and to pay his debts. Unless these two things are done to the full power of Canada, her other efforts are vain.

Your suggested course is open to a further objection that while you propose a moratorium as regards mortgage interest and principal nothing is proposed as regards rent. In what way is the position of the man who owns his house and is called on to pay interest, more worthy of consideration than that of the man who leases a house and is called on to pay rent?

has at least revealed the gnowth of higher standards of national and international morality. When the rupture came between Britain and Germany the German chancellor scems to have been stricken with amazement that "a scrap of paper" should have contailed so direful a result. That difficulty arises out of the second posi-tion, it is probably because somebody has been speculating, and has nothing to do with the war.

Editor World: Why does not the government declare a moratorium? Great Britain has found it necessary to do so, and why not here? Great Britain, the money market of the world, has found it necessary. Are times better here? Where are we to borrow meney on mortsages coming due? Shall we be at the mercy of the mortgagees? There has been thirty writs issued for foreclosure of mortgages in Toronto in one day, and there will be many more within the next few months. People will see their life savings invested in a house or two swept away if the government does not aid. Loan companies will not be greatly affected if instead of principal being paid interest only is paid for the time being.

What are builders to do? Mahy have arranged loans, have about completed their buildings, and have had their loans cancelled with absolutely no redrees. Many have made commitments, given promissory notes, and have sold their buildings, and not only find it impossible to complete the same, but will likely have to go into bankruptcy before many weeks.

SEVERE REPRIMAND FROM HEALTH BOARD

Muskoka Hotel Proprietor Threatened With Prosecution for Disobedience.

A hard jolt was handed out recently by the provincial board of health to delinquent and defiant hotel proprietor in Muskoka. The man was told that unless certain steps prescribed by the department were taken in short order his place would be placarded to warn the public of danger, and that proceedings would be taken against him under the act within 24 hours. It is understood that he is now following out instructions. The case, according to Dr. R. W. Bell, provincial inspector, is one of three years' standing. The hotel in question is one of the largest and most popular on the Muskoka Lakes, and every year has 300 persons at a time on the guest roll. Nevertheless the water supplied to the tables is sub-ject to the most serious manner of contamination, and the repeated warn contamination, and the repeated warnings of the department have produced no change for the better. It appears that the refuse water from a large laundry in proximity to the hotel is emptied into the bay within sixty feet of the intake pipe. The board claims that such a situation is dangerous, and would rapidly deplete the number of would rapidly deplete the number of tourists if it were understood.

FARMERS' BARNS GIVE UP WHEAT

Disposition to Release the Hoarded Grain Caused Dip in Quotations.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Reports that farmers were showing a disposition to sell more freely than has recently been the case had considerable to do with a downturn in the price of wheat today. The market closed unsettled, %c to I%c under last night. Corn showed a net decline of %c to %c, and oats off %c to %c. In provisions, the outcome varied from a drop of 55c to T%c advance.

Indiana and Ohio millers were referred to as vouching for the assertions in regard to an apparent change in the attitude of farmers, who, of late, had been represented as almost unanimous in holding wheat back for higher prices, expected because of the war. Country offerings to Chicago houses were also reported as having increased, and Kansas City was said to have loaded 350,000 bushels for shipment here, the Kansas City market being on a full shipping basis.

More Timely Rains.

General rains had a bearish effect on corn, and so also did a decided increase of available supplies. Speculation, however, was inactive.

A big trade was on in cats. Heavy deliveries to holders of September contracts depressed the market, but the seaboard became a free buyer on the decline. Shipping sales aggregate 300,000 bushels. Export call showed no let-up. Provisions averaged lower on account of September deliveries being on a larger scale. Higher prices for hogs were virtually ignored.

MAKE FRANTIC DENIALS THAT TURKEY WILL FIGHT

MONTREAL. Sept. 1.—Prices on the local grain market were unchanged, with very little doing. Oats over the cable were unchanged, but no business was reported. Demand for flour from over the cable is good several enquiries being received for full cargoes for shipment to outside ports, in addition to orders for round lots of all grades from London; but, as millers at present are taxed to their full capacity, no business resulted. The local market is very active and firm. Milited is scarce and wanted.

PARIS, France, Sept. 1. — Three convoys of prisoners arrived at Chalons-sur-Saone today. In one were 14 German staff officers and in another the mayor of Chateau Salins (Alsace-Lorraine), who, it is charged, laid an ambush for French troops and held them as hostages. In the third convoy were 400 soldier prisoners and a woman spy

WINNIPEG Sept. 1.—Wheat prices opened irregular this morning and weakened generally later in sympathy with markets south of the line. Opening figures were %c lower to %c higher for wheat, and it to 4c for flax, while oats were unchanged.

Receipts show a rapid increase. Inspections Monday, 392 cars, including 276 of contract grade.

WASHINGTON. Sept. 1 .- The de partment of commerce announced toby the extension of the British moratorium and a slight hardening of foreign exchange. Acknowledgement by the chancellor of the exchaquer that it would be unwise to attempt to resume specie payments at this time coincided with private advices received here regarding financial conditions in London.

The recurrent rise in exchange was once more attributed to the reported advance of the German army towards the French capital. Raliway Earnings.

Several of the important raliway systems submitted July reports today. That of the Union Pacific shows a moderate net decrease, but the New York Central reports an increase of $202,000 in net revenue, due to a heavy decrease in expenses. Both roads made a vasity better showing that the Pennsylvania, whose revenues cast and west of Pittsburg reflected reduced tomage.

Routine developments included a statement from the stock exchange clearing house indicating that all but one per cent.
