EXPERT IN SWITCHING OF BALLOTS REVEALS TRAIL OF ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS TELEPHONE RECEPTIONS WERE STOLEN

Sensational Evidence Given in London Bribery Case By Pritchett of West Elgin Fame, Who Makes a Clean Breast of the Organization By Which Ballots Were Spoiled or Stolen.

PREMIER SCOTT A WITNESS ENTERS POSITIVE DENIALS

The searchlight has seldom been turned more clearly and effectively upon corrupt methods in matters political than was the case yesterday before Magistrate Denison on the re-summation of the investigation into the charges of wholesale corruption in connection with the London by-election of June, 1905.

It was J. G. Pritchett who supplied the pictant details of the manner in which the Liberal party machine has operated in Ontario for many years back, and up till about five years ago, when the author of the disclosures, to which a crowded court listened with breathless interest for several hours, abandoned his adventurous career. He did so, it may be mentioned, just after the West Elgin revelations, in which it will be recalled, he played no unimportant part as the deputy returning officer who switched no inconsiderable number of votes.

The witness told his story thruout in a convincing manner. He was reluctant a number of times to answer questions, but, on getting the court's ruling, shutting off evidence to him, straight forward replies. He is of middle age, and of medium height, with curling, fairly dark hair and moustache. His manner is quiet and self-contained.

Premier Walter Scott of Saskatchewan occupied the hour for an hour during the afternoon. His examination yielded little beyond persistent denials that he knew of any conspiracy, and having been used in the election, and his equally firm refutation of the suggestion that he had been in the habit of holding conversation with O'Gorman and others. He did so in the face of Mr. DuVerne's intimation that he would produce witnesses who would testify otherwise.

Premier Scott's manner was equable almost thruout. Only once or twice did he show slight signs of being persistently queried on certain points. His attitude carried out his reputation for democracy. He showed no pretensions at style, it was almost careless.

A number of London voters told the familiar story of envelopes containing money being delivered thru the agency of Jerry Collins or Serviss. In practically every case the assistance was made by the witness that he would have voted Grit anyway. Several witnesses showed the effect of the Premier's statements on the Premier's examination. It was stated by the counsel for the plaintiffs that the witnesses to be offered to-day had not been decided upon. It is probable, however, that Pritchett will again adorn the stand.

The understanding is that Pritchett will appear on Monday to hear the evidence of the witnesses aluded to by Mr. DuVerne. Hon. Mr. Lyman is also expected to give evidence on Monday.

Pritchett on the Stand

Pritchett admitted to Mr. DuVerne that he was acquainted with O'Gorman and Mulroy, and that he had worked with the former, whom he had known for about twenty years in a number of election contests for some years back. He intimated that the Walker House had been something of a rendezvous for some of the O'Gorman. At this point Mr. Robinette objected to the enquiries going back further than the year 1904, and quoted from the warrant issued against O'Gorman. No scope was provided for such investigation, he said, but the court held that a conspiracy years back to interfere with elections is shown conspiracy leading up to the present charges and was admissible.

In the debate Mr. Robinette declared that if the enquiry was to be so widened a royal commission should be appointed. Mr. DuVerne replied with warmth, that the whole machinery of criminal law had been stopped against the work of conspirators, while they went up and down the country with their operations, and that there was indubitable evidence to be given.

Further enquiry was then made by Mr. DuVerne into the happenings at the Walker House. He transported the witness also met Tom Lewis there, and Smith, a Liberal organizer. Asked who had held the money, witness demurred. "Have I to answer?" he appeared to the court. He was told yes.

"Who held the money, and who was my master?" was reiterated.
"O'Gorman, so far as I know."
The money was for voters. He himself had not been entirely neglected.

MILLION DOLLARS DAMAGE TO NIAGARA FRUIT TREES

Unprecedented October Snow Storm Works Havoc in Many Districts—Sixteen Inches of Snow Falls at Strathroy.

The storm yesterday and the night both have almost completely prostrated the telegraph and telephone wires in the Niagara district. The Niagara World was unable to call Buffalo by telephone. The C. P. R. had no wire connection with Buffalo. The G. W. Telephone Co. maintained a connection. Associated Press despatches reached Buffalo by way of Boston and New York.

St. Catharines, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—It is estimated that over a million dollars' loss has been sustained in the Niagara district by the heavy rain, snow and sleet storm of the past few days. Shade trees suffered in every locality, large branches being blown to the ground.

There will be no loss to fruit-growers so far as crops are concerned, as the fruit season is practically finished, except for apples, and that fruit when blown from trees can be utilized. The damage to fruit trees, however, will be very heavy, as there is scarcely an orchard that has not suffered the loss of many trees. St. Catharines suffered less than Niagara, and Niagara less than Falls, where the snow was much heavier.

Electric railway, telephone and telegraph wires were down in every direction, and the city was shut off from communication until night, when it was partially resumed.

RUIN AT NIAGARA FALLS.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 11.—From all parts of Stratford and Niagara townships come reports of wreck and ruin, and the fruit growers count their losses in thousands of dollars. The peach orchards were still in full leaf, after a series of heavy rains during the past week. A snowstorm set in last evening, probably a foot of snow having fallen, and half of it has melted.

The fruit trees caught the snow and were soon loaded beyond their strength. When morning broke great peach orchards had been converted into acres of stumps and brush. The brittle limbs of the trees snapped under the load of snow and trunks were split to the ground. Apples, pears, cherries, plum and other fruit trees suffered severely, but the peach trees were damaged most. A lot of late fruit was lost. It will take years to repair the damage, for new trees will have to be grown.

In the city the damage is great. The Bell Telephone Company being the heaviest loser. On the Victoria-avenue every pole for 2000 feet of the main trunk line is broken, and the wreckage blocks the street from West-avenue to Morrison-street. The street railway is tied up and the fire alarm and electric light system paralyzed. Several factories are tied up for lack of power. Residential streets watch boasted fine-shaped trees are to-day filled with brush and the trees are ruined.

FRUIT TREES DAMAGED.

Strathroy, Oct. 11.—This locality has been visited by one of the heaviest and most destructive snowstorms ever known here. It started snowing about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and kept it up all night, during which time fully 15 or 18 inches of snow fell.

This morning some streets were almost impassable with broken branches, a great many beautiful shade trees being ruined.

Reports from the country state that fruit trees and some orchards are raked with the apples still on the trees are utterly ruined.

MAYOR JUDD STOPS CARS LONDON BRIDGE UNSAFE

J. W. Moyes Finds Numerous Broken Rails on Trolley Line— Railway Board Inspects.

London, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Mayor Judd & day two ago engaged Engineer J. W. Moyes of Toronto to inspect the street railway plant prior to the sitting of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, which began to-day.

Mr. Moyes reported, received to-day, stated that the Wellington-street bridge was entirely unsafe for traffic, nearly half of the ties were rotting or rotten, as well as numerous guard timbers.

The mayor immediately ordered traffic to cease on the bridge, and the company agreed.

The commission visited the bridge, and confirmed the report of its unsafe condition. They also decided to have their engineer visit London at an early date.

Engineer Moyes also reported numerous broken rails on the car line.

THE MACHINE" EXPOSED.

The sensational testimony of Pritchett, contractor and secretary of the plasterers' section of the board of trade of London, and with a "past" as regards elections, in the police court yesterday had a fairly direct bearing on the special case under enquiry, as stamping Lewis and O'Gorman, principals in the case, as being tried veterans at the game of defrauding electors of their votes. O'Gorman seems to have figured extensively in the role of paymaster, while Lewis did pecuniary service as a briber. But Pritchett's own specialty was the switching of ballots, and he seems to have pursued it with marked success. It was the common practice for pliable deputy returning officers to be brought to him, and he made his selections of likely men and gave instructions.

Pritchett occupied the witness box during the whole of the morning session, while the told of how deputes were trained to substitute ballots, and to work the "thumb nail" trick, devices which he confessed to having learned in the States.

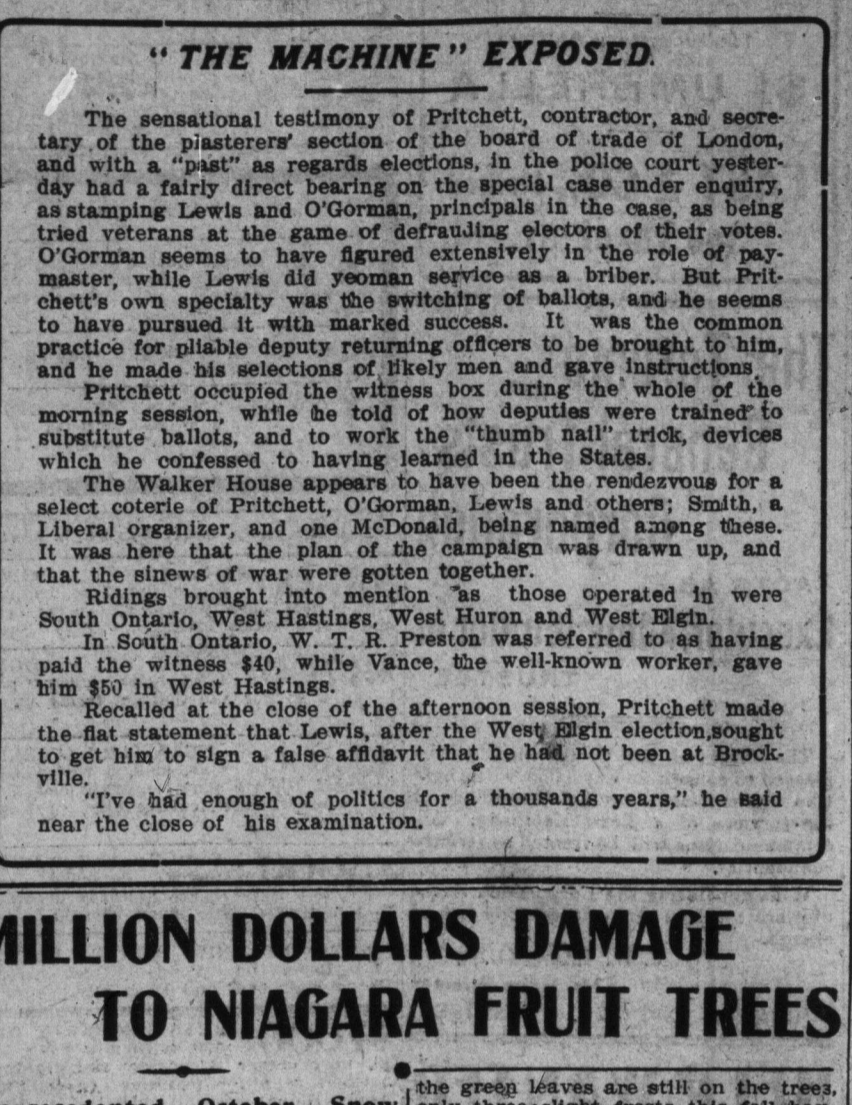

The Walker House appears to have been the rendezvous for a select coterie of Pritchett, O'Gorman, Lewis and others; Smith, a Liberal organizer, and one McDonald, being named among these. It was here that the plan of the campaign was drawn up, and that the sinews of war were gotten together.

Ridings brought into mention "as those operated in were South Ontario, West Hastings, West Huron and West Elgin.

In South Ontario, W. T. R. Preston was referred to as having paid the witness $40 while Vance, the well-known worker, gave him $50 in West Hastings.

Recalled at the close of the afternoon session, Pritchett made the flat statement that Lewis, after the West Elgin election, sought to get him to sign a false affidavit that he had not been at Brockville.

"I've had enough of politics for a thousands years," he said near the close of his examination.

SETTLEMENT MUST BE FINAL LAURIER TELLS PREMIERS

Agrees to Liberal Increase in Subsidies, But There Must Be an End to the Eviscerating Business of Asking For More.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—There is nothing to give out," said Chairman Gouin of the conference of provincial delegates, pointing out the importance of determining the subsidy issue once and for all, and impressing upon the provincial delegates the inadvisability of reserving certain unsatisfied claims for future arrangements. To accomplish a complete adjustment Sir Wilfrid is believed to have agreed to the demand for a straight increase, but to have submitted a proposition in amendment to the resolution embodying his views as to the finality of the arrangement.

The provincial representatives took this suggestion into consideration this afternoon, but no decision was arrived at, according to one of the representatives, and the discussion will be continued to-morrow. The compromise proposed by the prime minister is said to be acceptable to the representatives of all but one of the older provinces.

ing, but were not present in the afternoon, and it is believed that Sir Wilfrid has given his final regarding the subsidy issue.

The prime minister is known to favor a settlement which will have the element of finality, and accordingly, he is said to have so informed the conference, pointing out the importance of determining the subsidy issue once and for all, and impressing upon the provincial delegates the inadvisability of reserving certain unsatisfied claims for future arrangements. To accomplish a complete adjustment Sir Wilfrid is believed to have agreed to the demand for a straight increase, but to have submitted a proposition in amendment to the resolution embodying his views as to the finality of the arrangement.

SUMMERSIDE, P. E. I., SCOURGED ONE MILE OF BUILDINGS BURNED

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The Town of Summerside, on the western end of Prince Edward Island, forty miles west of Charlottetown, was scourged by a fire last night which caused a loss of $200,000 and the destruction of about 60 buildings.

Of the population of 4000 many would be homeless were it not for the hospitality of those who fortunately escaped the destroying flames.

The whole town had a narrow escape from destruction. A fortunate change in the wind saved it.

The conflagration started in the railway freight shed, from what cause is as yet unknown. Fanned by a southeasterly gale, the flames spread rapidly, cutting out a path among the wooden buildings of the town.

At 6:30 this morning the courthouse and fall were the last buildings to go. A section from 300 to 400 yards in width, about a mile in length extending from the freight-shed to the courthouse, had been burned. The courthouse and jail, electric light station, three churches, hotels, lumber yards with over fifty other buildings, were destroyed.

It is estimated that about 25 per cent. is covered by insurance.

Summerside has only one steam engine and two hand engines for fighting fire.

The arrival of the Charlottetown fire brigade by special train saved the Presbyterian Church. Had the wind not changed the whole of Summerside would have been laid in ruins.

There were no fatal accidents, but James Kenny had his arm broken by being run over by a team.

JOHN A. COOPER TO BE EDITOR OF A NEW ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

A new weekly illustrated paper, of first-class character, and embracing the widest national, political, literary, and artistic fields, is the latest addition to the development of Canadian life.

John A. Cooper, at present well known as the editor of The Canadian Magazine, told The World last night that he had decided to try and establish a first-class journal.

Whatever Mr. Cooper says, I'll stand by it," he remarked.

The Canadian Magazine is owned by a joint-stock company, in which T. H. Best, Dr. John Fergusson and Thomas Mulvey, assistant provincial secretary, are the largest shareholders. Mr. Best stated last night that, while they were sorry Mr. Cooper was leaving, after eleven years of very pleasant relations, the event would not affect the standing of the magazine at all, as they were determined to get a first-class man as editor, and were in no hurry about making an appointment until they got such a man.

"The magazine has 17,000 circulation, and is doing well financially and from a literary standpoint," said Mr. Best, who is business manager.

It is thoroughly established, and the business has been so successful it placed the editor in a position to secure the best contributions.

The new venture will probably not see the light before the first of the year, and Mr. Cooper will continue to edit The Canadian Magazine in the meantime.

RESPECT COLONIAL RIGHTS PROMISE TO PREMIERS BY W. S. CHURCHILL

Under Secretary Says They Are Assured Liberal Ministry Means to Cherish Their Interests—But Alas, Newfoundland!

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Oct. 11.—Winston Churchill, at Glasgow, remarked that the time would come when a united, federated, free South Africa would take its place beside Canada and Australia in the shining constellation of the British empire.

Mr. Churchill also said the colonies and the great states of Canada and Australia were now fully assured that the Liberal ministry meant to cherish their interests and respect their rights. He promised the colonial premiers a true British welcome and a fair and patient consideration of every question they raised.

Canada will be represented at the decoration of the Nelson column by a large maple leaf shield.

Two hundred Canadian children left Faddington Station to-day for Canada.

Referring to the British preferential treatment by Australia, The Telegraph says in the city some doubt is entertained whether the objection of the board of trade goes only to the proviso under which no British goods receive preferential treatment unless imported in British ships manned by whites, or whether the criticism of the board goes to the root of the whole policy of preference. The latter is regarded as the preferable interpretation.

The Scotsman referring to the Newfoundland affair, questions if the executive has power to suspend clauses of an act which has received the royal sanction against the wishes of a self-governing colony. It says the terms of the modus vivendi call for explanation.

The Glasgow Herald says Newfoundland's indignation is not easy to understand as the arrangement is merely provisional. It advises Newfoundland to federate with Canada.

FOWLER, M.P., HAS ARRIVED IS PROMPTLY HANDED A SUBPOENA

And What's Worse, Asked to Show Cause Why He Shouldn't Be Jailed—Says He Huried, Too—On Stand To-Day.

At last George W. Fowler, M. P. (King's and Albert) has arrived. He reached the city last night from Winnipeg. The train was about eight hours late, but his wife and daughter caught an eastbound train for home, and Mr. Fowler went at once to the King Edward.

He is a member of the insurance commission, and served him with a formidable legal document, which requires him to appear and testify before the insurance commission this morning, and also to show cause why he should not be fined or imprisoned for contempt.

"Isn't it cheap?" was Mr. Fowler's comment.

"Political Politics!" he exclaimed. "The insurance commission has to work overtime to counterbalance the London election, which requires him to appear. 'Why are you so late in arriving?' was asked.

"But I am not late," he protested; "indeed I hurried thru important business to get here.

I will testify before the commission to-morrow, and I have nothing to conceal. Indeed, this thing does not bother me a particle. After all, the Royal government is after Fowler. I am a mere pawn on the chess-board.

"By the way, how delicate Mr. Shepley was with Senator Cox! How easily he glided over the evidence of the insurance commission! Well, the report of the commission will come before the house. I have nothing to say there now."

"Will you, in the house?"

"I hope so."

Respecting the testimony before the commission, and the charges, Mr. Fowler said he would refrain from making any statement until he does so under oath.

Mr. Irwin came thru with Mr. Fowler, and went on to Toronto.

Mr. Fowler will be here for several days. He is in excellent health and spirits, and greatly interested in the revelations from the London election case.

"No wonder they are desperate," he said. "I would not be the first man to be imprisoned for political offences."

The insurance commission has decided to meet in St. Catharines, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

THIRD GAME TO WHITE SOX NINE WALSH SCORED A SHUT-OUT, 3-0

With Bases Full in Sixth Inning and Two Out, Rohe, Substitute Infielder, Made a Three-Bagger—21 Batsmen Struck Out. The Standing. Won. Lost. P.C. Americans (Sox) 2 1 .633 Nationals (Cubs) 1 2 .333

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Today's game between the Chicago teams of the National and American Leagues was a battle royal between pitchers and the American League team won, 3 to 0. Twenty-one batsmen struck out; for 12 of these the credit goes to Walsh. In addition he gave only one pass and allowed but two hits, both in the first inning.

A doctor was called and O'Neill went to have his hand and fingers on the home plate. The bases were now full, with nobody out. A pandemonium of cheers from American League sympathizers broke loose.

After the first inning when Hoffman singled and Schulte doubled, the Nationals never gave a hint of danger on the home plate. Walsh held them comparatively at his mercy, apparently growing stronger and sturdier by every inning.

When the game began the Nationals swung viciously at his offerings, but before the contest was half thru were fishing for the ball, seemingly trying merely to touch the ball, while the Nationals were looking good, but mostly when they did not strike out, they rolled puny grounders to second or short and were out.

him the other day, let fall a valuable hint when he observed that if the tendency now apparent for British capital to invest in Canada does not increase it will be largely the fault of Canadian themselves. The vigorous campaign carried on at the instance of the Dominion Government has succeeded in advertising Canada as a dumping ground for the unemployed, but, in Mr. Barrett's view, the effect on the writer was not exactly favorable.

the merits of the factory controversy open for future discussion, the it prejudicial to the case for Newfoundland to would not be wise to do, and which certainly neither will ever attempt to do if they have the cause of imperial union really at heart. And the matter of subordinating local interests to the real or assumed diplomatic necessity of the moment, and without the concurrence of the local government, is now emphatically one of these things.

British capital, as Mr. Barrett indicated, means the creation of local industries. What most interests and attracts the investor of England at the present moment is any good industrial enterprise, provided it is managed and largely directed in Canada. He does not think that an enterprise controlled in London would appeal to the investor there—must have men on the ground—a strong Canadian board.

the merits of the factory controversy open for future discussion, the it prejudicial to the case for Newfoundland to would not be wise to do, and which certainly neither will ever attempt to do if they have the cause of imperial union really at heart. And the matter of subordinating local interests to the real or assumed diplomatic necessity of the moment, and without the concurrence of the local government, is now emphatically one of these things.

When George Laid, Col. Hughes, Sam Barker, E. D. Smith and other Ontario Conservatives felt called upon to defend the Laurier government for not establishing a maximum passenger fare of two cents a mile, they rely principally upon an argument addressed to the farmer vote. This argument is to the effect that lowering passenger fares will raise freight rates; therefore, the farmer, who pays more freight than he does passenger fare, will, in the end, be supposed to lose out by paying its way at a charge two cents a mile. Col. Hughes has a supplemental argument, peculiarly his own, to the effect that farmers can ride on excursion trains if they want to ride, and thus get nearly the two-cent rate; but the principal argument is the one before mentioned.

This argument assumes that lowering the rate will lower the receipts of the road. Some people have the same idea about the tariff. The fact is that lowering the duties will increase the revenue, just as reducing the postage increased the revenues of the government. Reducing railroad fares has a tendency to increase the receipts of the road.

The matter has just been most thoroughly tested in the State of Ohio. A two-cent fare bill was passed, and became effective last March. It has now been in force for one full year. The railroad companies themselves report that their receipts have largely increased and they attribute the increase to the reduction in fares. Until this reduction was made, the trolley lines were getting all the local business. Now a large part of that business is going back to the steam roads. More people travel, more trips are taken, and the roads are making more money. And, in spite of the two-cent rate being established by law, round trip tickets and excursion tickets are more advertised and sold.

Ohio is fairly covered with a network of electric railways, so that a large portion of the burden of local travel is taken from the steam roads. Were the steam roads not relieved by the electric roads, they could not carry the people. Thanks to their "raincoat charters," most of our electric roads in Ontario charge prohibitive rates, and therefore compete with little with the steam roads. Were the steam roads to reduce their maximum fare to two cents a mile to-morrow, the increase of travel would be so large and unexpected, that they would have rolling stock to accommodate the public.

It is up to the Conservative defenders of the Laurier government to think up another argument.

WESTON FAIR: A special feature of Weston Fair on Saturday, Oct. 14, will be the marriage by the Rev. Dring Chub. You can get to the fair grounds by special train on the C.P.R., leaving the Union Station at 1.30, or by street car, at single fare.

MR. SOMERS RESIGNS: G. T. Somers has resigned as vice-president of the Continental Life Insurance Co., and has been succeeded by M. Rawlinson.

Attacks the Conveyance: A case from the County of Essex engaged the attention of the division court yesterday. Oliver Grandmason made a conveyance of certain property on Wyandotte-street, Windsor, to Agnes Grandmason, on Jan. 15 last. Frances E. Nelson, the executrix of the last will and testament of Alex. W. Nelson, deceased, wants a declaration that the transfer is void, as she claims it was made to defraud Grandmason's creditors, among them being the plaintiff. She further asked that the interest of Oliver Grandmason should be sold to satisfy the amount due under her judgment, obtained in the county court. Chief Justice Falconbridge tried the issue and dismissed it without costs. The appeal to the division court has been dismissed, with costs to be set against the husband's debt to plaintiff.

The enquiry shifted to Brockville, and Pritchett owned that he had spent twelve days there and had superintended the switching while Lewis saw to the bribery. Signs of an deputy returning officers were brought to him.

The witness gave an insight into one of the methods employed. He said that the scrutineers tipped it off to the returning officer when a Tory voter entered, and the deputy returning officer would have another ballot in the palm of his hand. He would change the ballots in tearing off the counterfoil of the one handed in. A supply of these other ballots was kept on hand. Pritchett said the returning officers were paid by O'Gorman in a room into which he conducted them, he advising O'Gorman how much to pay in each case after the ballots had been brought in to the witness.

"Who were these men?"

"I don't know; I never kept their names."

"What local men did you meet in connection with this?"

"The deputies."

"Good deputies as Prefers?"

"Then the deputy had to bring the ballot back to you before he could get his money?"

"How many were there?"

"Some had as low as three; some, I think, from twelve to fifteen."

taught switching.

"What was your part? Switching the ballots?" prompted his examiner.

"I instructed others to buy votes," Pritchett's admission, which opened way for some interesting disclosures touching the work of the machine in election.

The work of the witness was to instruct the deputy returning officers how to do the switching. This was cheaper than buying votes. He owned that this was "defrauding voters to a certain extent." O'Gorman handled the money used in this work. Witness had discussed bribing of voters with O'Gorman. He saw Mulloy in different ridings, and knew that he was a worker, but "never saw him do anything."

"The meetings were sometimes held twelve days before an election, and witness decided how far the attempt to win returning officers over to do 'switching' should extend. These were brought to him by different workers, including O'Gorman, and it was his work to train them in it."

"You've switched ballots yourself?"

"Yes."

"How many?"

"Twenty-five or twenty-seven."

Pritchett had been commissioned to go to West Elgin by a brother of O'Gorman. There a Conservative majority of thirteen was turned into a Liberal of twenty-seven. Sometimes eight or ten returning officers in a riding were given instructions, and sometimes half that number, the reward held out being $5 a ballot. All the officer had to do was to reverse the vote in calling in the ballots.

THE CHURCH TAKES A HAND IN THE POLITICS OF SPAIN

Fight for Ancient Prerogatives May Oust the Liberal Cabinet.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—Upon the reassembling of the cortes, Oct. 20, the Vatican and the Liberal government of Marshal Lopez Dominguez will cross swords over the church issue.

While the actual question of the separation of church and state in Spain, the stronghold of Catholicism, is not to be immediately raised in France, the program of the Liberals is distinctly anti-clerical, and if it progresses successfully it is sure ultimately to lead to an open fight for the severance of the ties which bind the Vatican and the Bourbon dynasty.

Meanwhile the political world is much interested as to whether the Vatican merely wishes to fight for the re-establishment of its prerogatives which it has allowed to fall more or less into abeyance, or if it has a deeper plan to precipitate the downfall of the Liberal cabinet and the return of the reactionary party.

The church opposes the municipal control of cemeteries, and demands that the practice of cutting portions of the cemeteries to Spaniards and foreigners who do not subscribe to the state religion be discontinued.

Most of the time we were out of sight of the earth, chiefly because there were heavy banks of clouds below us as well as above. Even when we were so near the earth that we felt the jarring of our drag ropes as it struck trees and hills that we were passing we could not see a single thing below us.

Two Cuban Generals Who Fight for Country and Not for Spoils. Havana, Oct. 11.—Confidential agents of the late Cuban government today reported to Governor Taft that at the meeting of rebel leaders at the home of General Castillo last night, Castillo urged that Gov. Taft be called on to declare his attitude towards the men who were responsible for overturning the Palma government, and that Mr. Taft should show his gratitude by ordering the Moderates from office.

One of the celebrities included in a set of letters, entitled "Science and Medicine," reproduced from Vanity Fair in the original colors in The World to-day is Darwin, of whom the chronicler says: "In his autobiography, Darwin confesses that as a little boy he was much given to inventing delusions, falsehoods, and this was always done for the sake of causing excitement.

AERONAUTS' PERILOUS FLIGHT AT MERCY OF GALE IN CLOUDS

Dr. Samuel J. Ottinger, of Philadelphia, Tells Thrilling Story of Aerial Trip During Which His Life and That of Companion Were Many Times in Balance.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—With the horrors and dangers of their six-hour flight, through the air from the grounds of the Philadelphia Aero Club to a point four miles from Rockaway, N.J., fresh in their minds, Dr. Samuel J. Ottinger and Arthur H. West returned last night to this city after having made the most perilous and exciting balloon trip in the history of ballooning in this country.

For nearly six hours the aeronauts were at the mercy of a gale blowing from the north by the force of ten miles an hour, huddled in above and below by solid banks of dense rain clouds, the moisture of which condensed against the big gas bag and poured down in steady streams all thru the trip, drenching them both to the skin. Through their long journey the dark balloons were speeding along at a distance above the earth ranging from three quarters of a mile to a mile.

Below them the personal story of Dr. Ottinger, who had charge of the trip and to whose care and precaution the aeronauts were in the due.

Perilous Trip. Our trip was the most perilous and exciting I have ever taken in years of my life. It was, in every respect, a dramatic episode, and at a moment, after leaving Point Breeze did we encounter favorable conditions.

Cherished by the breeze, we were buffeted by heavy rains and conflicting winds, whose velocity ranged from fifty to seventy-five miles an hour.

At the last ascent the dizzy height of five miles was reached. This time we were two miles below this mark, but height was not one of our objects. We had selected an unfavorable day expressly for the study of the upper air and its effect upon man during the progress of a severe storm.

The danger we encountered and the risks we ran are lost sight of in the success which attended our trip. From the moment the gas and the general signal success, and it ranks among the longest coal-gas balloon trips ever taken from this city.

We were traveling at sixty miles an hour, a speed maintained throughout nearly the whole voyage. Of course, the balloon, our 500 pounds of ballast, and our instruments, all in a balloon out of sight of the earth, slow and steady as a rock, were sinking in the basket. Thereafter we ascended slowly until we reached the altitude of 2000 feet, which was maintained until we had passed the lower atmosphere of Doylestown.

Slowly in the black night the balloon descended, both of us fearing a collision with the cliffs at any moment. But the collision did not come off.

Five minutes after we had landed, and while we were still congratulating ourselves on our escape, a storm of rain and sleet broke over us.

Malta-Vita

Always Ready to Eat—No Cooking

It is good to eat. Anyone who has ever eaten it knows that it is true. It is healthful and strengthening, giving new vigor to the body and mind.

These three distinctive qualities make Malta-Vita the most popular cereal food. Scientists call it "The Perfect Food."

Malta-Vita is rich in the nutrition of best whole-wheat and pure barley malt extract, and is so easy to digest because the malt extract, when mixed with the cooked wheat, converts the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar.

IN A SUDDEN EMERGENCY WHAT COULD CANADA DO?

Lord Dundonald Says Imperial Defence is Worth Being Well Done.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, Oct. 11.—Commenting on A. B. Carman's article in "Canada" on Canada and imperial defence, Lord Dundonald, in a letter to "Canada," says: "If anything in this world is worth doing at all, it is at any rate worth doing well. If the empire, therefore, is worth defending, it is necessary to inform those specialists who are entrusted with the preparation of schemes for its defence, exactly how many troops will be available on the outbreak of war."

These troops, if they are to be of real value, must be ready, not only in willingness to serve the empire, as every Canadian is ready, not only in spirit, courage and endurance, qualities which, from having had Canadian troops under my command in war time, I know them to possess to the fullest possible extent; but ready in arms, equipment, in an adequate supply of ammunition and material of war, with a personnel under the command of highly-trained leaders.

How many men Canada could, at once put into the field under this latter condition is known to those who are responsible for her military defenses, and her place amongst the nations, and should be known and considered by every patriotic Canadian.

Australia Preference. A Melbourne cablegram says, after the senate, by 17 votes to 5, had rejected the amendment of the house of representatives to the bill granting a preference to British goods, which proposed the deletion of the provision that such British goods should be imported in British ships manned by white labor, and had returned the bill to the house, which will not come into operation until next August.

The Craze for Jet. Never has the craze for jet been so extravagant as it will be this season. A few years ago a brooch and chain of jet were looked upon as an atrocity which only the landlady of a second-rate boarding-house would dare to exploit, and these are the times when jet is introduced right across the jaws, from waist to hem. A large butterfly is used as hair decoration, and one of two are repeated on the corset, both correspond. Such a form of adornment is particularly becoming to a fair woman, and the same might be said of these same effect on the corset of a woman of mature years.

Some of the parures for evening wear are so immense as almost to cover the décolletage, and are set with pearls and jet alternately, while jet "dogcollars" and tiaras are by no means confined to mourning. Many black net gowns are, besides, covered with jet, and these, taken in the form of a lattice work, and finished with a jet fringe, and in cases such as these the same effect on the corset is produced by means of a bolero of jet.

High Spanish combs, which will be sold lavishly this winter, will be carried out in jet, and will be worn with a white mantilla, long hanging jet earrings completing the effect.

Members of Parliament and Western Land Deals

Public sentiment is evidently becoming aroused to the necessity of stamping out corruption in public life without regard to party.

very evident of late. How unctuously and plausibly indignantly people get when revelations of political rascality are being made--if it touches the other party, but when it touches their own--is an indifferent and preoccupied.

Of the carnival of corruption which reigned in London last year, which is now being investigated, the Presbyterian does not mince words, but backs deep, let the chips fall where they may.

The Sentinel, in the revelations, finds a cause for Orangetown being gratified at that at least two members of Mr. Borden's western party did not become involved in the land scandal.

A serious situation is created when members of parliament accept favors of this kind from railway contractors, and Mr. Fowler and Mr. Lefurgey have placed themselves in a position that cannot be defended.

It is a significant fact that these things, which remind us of some of the darkest days in our Canadian history, are taking place in the period of the greatest material prosperity which the country has ever known.

The Weekly Sun speaks trenchantly of the land deal in which Messrs. Fowler, Bennett and Lefurgey figured was not an ordinary private speculation.

The members of parliament to whom Sir Thomas Shaughnessy promised the best that was going and to whom Dan Asann gave private information worth thousands of dollars.

Speaking of directors who do not decline to accept corporate gifts, the Presbyterian says: One of the grave abuses revealed by the insurance investigations is the presence on corporation boards of directors who do not direct.

Committee Take a Stand on Leuty Avenue and Dufferin Grove Proposals.

"Expropriation" is the new toy the aldermen have to play with, as was shown at the meeting of the parks and exhibition committee yesterday.

There was quite a deputation to advocate the purchase of the piece of property known as Dufferin Park, or Pine Grove. This has been discussed in committee and council for the past two years.

A petition, asking that the land bounded by Leuty-avenue, Bernard-avenue, Wells and Osborne-streets be purchased for a park, was received.

The Carnation Society was granted the use of the assembly hall in the city hall for the purchase of the park.

Sub-committee of the Board of Works has considered the advisability of constructing a spur line into Ashbridge's Bay district.

Mr. Forman is not in favor of the purchase of Knox College site for a park. It is too expensive.

WILSON'S PROFIT $25,000

According to Arrangement—Also Received Gift of $2500 From Mr. DuVernet.

The story unfolded by Matthew Wilson, K.C., before the insurance commission yesterday, of the sale of the Union Trust Company last June to himself, E. E. A. DuVernet, acting for English capitalists, and Messrs. Gurney and O'Grady, of the Crown Bank, was the distinct feature of the sitting.

Mr. Wilson, together with Mr. DuVernet, took $200,000 worth of stock in the Union Trust Company to be distributed among English capitalists at a profit of $25,000 to him. A mysterious cheque given to Mr. Wilson, and the gift of $2500 to him by Mr. DuVernet, was the subject of earnest examination by Mr. Shepley. Mr. Wilson could not remember who signed the cheque, and whether he had been given the $2500 the same day as he endorsed the cheque.

Mr. Shepley then read the resolution which he designated as "beautifully specific." "Can you suggest a reason otherwise than undue recollection of the bonus stock would have been handed over by the directors at the meeting?" asked Mr. Shepley.

"I was offered the management at $10,000 a year, but did not want to leave Chatham. I accepted the position of president at $7000, which $2500 was paid by Mr. DuVernet."

Fatality Near Markham—Davisville Local Option Case—Toronto Junction Health Board.

Toronto Junction, Oct. 11.—The board of works of the town council met to-night in the council chamber and discussed the question of purchasing the cement mixer. It was finally decided to pay Mr. Guttridge, the owner of the mixer, $300 as rental. The mixer, it was considered, was not perfect enough to become a valued asset of the town. The board of health met to-night. A communication was received from the secretary of the Union Stock Yards, requesting a permit for the operation of the Martin & Levack abattoir, the permit to be granted subject to the opinion of the solicitor at a special meeting, to be held on Monday evening. There are no contagious diseases. The H. I. is recommended more attention to sewer connections and the disposal of garbage, and that legal action be taken against the owners of two houses on Pelham-avenue to compel them to connect with the sewers. He also called the attention of the board to the unsanitary condition of St. Clair-avenue.

The packing house and abattoir, which Gunn & Co. commenced to build about one year ago, is nearing completion. Messrs. Gunn are to be congratulated upon having erected one of the most complete plants in every respect throughout which, when finished, will have few to equal and none to surpass it on the continent.

The old man was exceeding in age, and he had not seen the approaching train, which whistled constantly. If he had looked up he could have easily seen the train before it came upon him. TYPHOID IS PREVALENT.

Greater Than For Years, According to Official Returns.

Further advice from eleven towns and cities to the provincial board of health indicate an even greater prevalence of typhoid fever than at first stated, and more than for many years past. In the eleven municipalities referred to with an aggregate population of 50,000, 108 cases occurred with 6 deaths. As a rule physicians and householders fail to notify the local health authorities, so that the figures given do not indicate the worst conditions existing.

It is to be noted that failure to report cases renders the negligent person liable to fine. Dr. Hodgkins points out the danger in sick patients is attended by one who afterwards may attend to the cooking of meals.

The replies to enquiries sent out by the provincial health department regarding milk supplies in certain towns and cities are coming in.

A number point out that the several acts referring to this matter are inefficient, and better provision should be made for the inspection of milk and dairies, and in the regulation of the use of diluents and preservatives.

SHOULD EMPLOY MANITOBA IN THE FLYING OF OUR FLAG

Empire Club Profers a Suggestion to Premier Whitney and to Others.

At the weekly luncheon of the Empire Club yesterday the subject of flags and their proper display was a theme for discussion.

E. M. Chadwick outlined the legal aspects of the case with respect to the flying of the British flag. On no occasion ought the American flag to be placed on the same staff, even in a subordinate position. Under proper conditions, however, there could be no objection to the display of a foreign flag.

H. C. Osborne deprecated undue haste in criticism in respect to the matter, and counseled moderation. Premier Roblin's proposed legislation, however, was recommended to stimulate loyalty, and was commended to the consideration of Premier Whitney.

The resolution was finally adopted: "The members of the Empire Club of Canada desire to take this first opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the proposed legislation of Premier Roblin and the government of Manitoba, to encourage the flying of the Union Jack over the school buildings of that province during school hours."

We would further express the hope that Premier Whitney and the government of Ontario will consider whether some action along similar lines could not be adopted in this province as being a patriotic and commendable act.

In view, also, of the meeting of provincial premiers at Ottawa, we would take the liberty of suggesting for their consideration the desirability of united action in this respect.

It is further hoped that every Canadian will resent the wrongful use of our national emblem in connection with commercial and trade enterprises by refusing to patronize the article or object so advertised.

It would be regrettable to the members of this club in this general connection that the time has come for organized efforts to be taken by our patriotic commercial and trade enterprises, by encouraging the flying of our own flag in proper appreciation, but in severely deprecating the use of foreign emblems without permission having been obtained from the proper authority or except upon special occasions when they may be used in a friendly international way with the Union Jack in the place of honor, and we further express the hope that individuals as well as organizations throughout Canada will discourage the too free use of any foreign flag.

Finally, when national standards and their general use will promote more and more, a sturdy patriotism and dignified independence amongst our own people.

At last night's meeting of the U. E. Loyalists, the question of the raising of the American flag at the exhibition was brought up. On motion, a strong resolution was ordered to be drafted and presented to the exhibition authorities, which was carried by a large vote. A paper was read by Miss Merritt and another by Miss Wade.

SALVATION ARMY GROWING MORE BARRACKS NEEDED

Sites in Suburbs Secured for Extension of Work About Toronto.

Purity was the keynote to an address given by Commissioner Cousins at the inauguration of the barracks campaign held at the Salvation Army Temple last night. Fully eight hundred delegates and friends of the council were present.

In the afternoon Staff Captain Mandan of Toronto, who has charge of the immigration work in England for the coming year, addressed a special meeting of the council on the work in Canada.

Canada's contribution to the evangelization of the West Indies will be Ensign and Mrs. L. Cook, who were dedicated under the army flag for work in Trinidad.

The reports for the past year show progress in every branch of the work. Toronto has 1600 Salvationists, an increase of 125 over last year.

Several suburban lots have been bought, with a view to erecting more barracks. There are ten army citadels in the city at present, and the staff officers think that, as soon as the necessary funds are raised, the new ones will be in demand. The Temple on Albert-street is to be enlarged, also.

CAR LINE THRU OLD FORT.

Board of Trade Committee Recommends Bathurst St. Route.

At a meeting of the council of the board of trade yesterday the railway and transportation committee reported that they had visited the old fort and looked over the routes of the proposed car lines to the eastern entrance of the exhibition grounds, and concluded that the utilization of the Bathurst-street bridge route thru the old fort is the most feasible and economical, and the one to urge on the city to adopt.

It is felt, however, said the report, "that in constructing the line, as they had visited the old fort and looked over the routes of the proposed car lines to the eastern entrance of the exhibition grounds, and concluded that the utilization of the Bathurst-street bridge route thru the old fort is the most feasible and economical, and the one to urge on the city to adopt.

WINS NURSE IN HOSPITAL.

Discharged Soldier Coming to Toronto to Wed Miss Jarkway.

New York, Oct. 11.—Sergt. James J. McCarthy, who for four years has been stationed at the United States recruiting office, Jersey City, was honorably discharged yesterday.

He immediately started for Toronto to marry next Monday Miss Charlotte Jarkway, a trained nurse, whose acquaintance he made when he was sick in a Rochester hospital.

He was a sergeant when he returned from the Philippines in 1900, broken down by fever, which, for weeks, threatened his life. When he was in the hospital Miss Jarkway, then fourteen years old, and learning to be a trained nurse, had sympathy for the soldier, and gave him fruit, flowers and smiles.

After his recovery he got leave of absence from Philadelphia and visited Miss Jarkway, who had moved with her family to Toronto. He laid aside his uniform for plain clothes yesterday, and told the few to whom he said good-by that he believed himself the happiest man on earth.
