WOMEN ORGANIZE POLITICAL BODY

Women's Liberal - Conservative Association Decide on Central Headquarters.

An enthusiastic mass meeting of the Women's Liberal and Conservative Association was held at the Masonic Temple last night, when it was decided to form a central association, the members of which would consist of the members of the ladies' organizations in the seven wards in the city, and three other members of each ward. These officials, it is understood, will meet at some future date in order to draw up a constitution on the same lines as the men's and will work hand-in-hand with the male organization for the good of the cause.

Several ladies suggested that what was really required was education on the political topics of the day, and requested that some big party speaker be brought to the city in order to tell the women what the policy of the government was, while another lady said she was fed up with local speakers and asked if it was not possible to get Mr. Meighen, the prime minister, down to Toronto to address a purely women's meeting.

Dr. F. Sheard, M.P., addressed the meeting and outlined the various subjects of the Conservative platform which would be discussed on Monday and a new plank which would alter the present system of representation in the house, and declared that he knew of a gentlemen who had a seat in the house with only 3,000 voters in his constituency, while the city of Toronto, with its half-million of people, only had seven members. This, the prime minister had stated, would soon be rectified and a system of representation by equal constituencies would be adopted. Dr. Elizabeth Brien, secretary of the chair, while Major Alex. Lewis, Robert Starr and Miss Boulton also spoke.

Mr. Drury told of conditions which brought about the election of his government in Ontario, a year ago. Since that time, he said, the government had grown in strength and in the confidence of the whole people. When the legislature was in session, he said, the opposition was asked to participate in the shaping of legislation, and they did.

"I believe ninety per cent. of the people of Canada desire fair and honest administration. They want to do away with favoritism and class privileges. I believe any government which embodies these things commands the support of the people and holds its own."

Trusty By Labor Men. Premier Drury said in Ontario the farmers and labor men had found that they could unite on a great deal of things, he said. "The union of the labor men and farmers, I found, was not to tear down, but to build up, not to put on the statute books such things as would be destructive in the seven wards in the city, and three other members of each ward. These officials, it is understood, will meet at some future date in order to draw up a constitution on the same lines as the men's and will work hand-in-hand with the male organization for the good of the cause."

SHANTUNG QUESTION ALL IN GOOD TIME

Chinese Delegate Says Matter Will Be Dealt With When Time Is Opportune.

Geneva, Dec. 10.—Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese representative at the League of Nations assembly, today said that the question of Shantung ultimately would be brought up before the League of Nations.

"We will discuss the Shantung question at the proper time and in the proper place," he said, "to say in the League of Nations, said the Chinese statesman. He said he had not the time to discuss the matter at the next meeting of the council, but at the next meeting, but at any rate it will be as soon as the opportune moment arrives."

Dr. Koo was replying to questions relating to an interview given by Baron Hayashi, head of the Japanese delegation, and published in the local papers in which the baron asserted that Japan was getting ready to hand back Shantung to China, but was unable to get China to open negotiations. Dr. Koo said he did not care his own opinion, he could say nice things about it.

With regard to Shantung, he said public opinion in China was aroused. There had been student strikes and other manifestations in the city. "At the same time," he added, "we realize that the League of Nations is occupied with its organization and we cannot expect it to undertake a great problem of this nature before perfecting some of its machinery."

WRANGLER'S FORCES REACH DALMATIA

Considerable Feeling in Fiume Over Arrival of Several Troopships.

Trieste, Dec. 10.—Gabriele D'Annunzio today boarded the destroyer Espero, which yesterday escorted the regular Italian forces and joined D'Annunzio's squadron. He congratulated the crew on their action and presented the officers with 10,000 lire, assuring them that his cause would be victorious.

Feeling has been aroused over the arrival of several troopships, said to have on board a large party of D'Annunzio's forces, along the Dalmatian coast. There is much speculation among the regular Italian forces over the mission of these vessels, some of them believing the troops will act as reinforcements to the Serb Army should there be an attack on Fiume. The general belief, however, is that the arrival of the troops has no special significance.

WILL TAKE FOUR YEARS TO DISTRIBUTE MEDALS

London, Dec. 10.—It is understood that the distribution of the 1914-15 Victoria War Medal and the 1914-15 Victory Medal will probably require four years. Already 3,000,000 medals have been distributed to individuals and to the various dominions, home and to the overseas dominions and colonies for distribution. This distribution includes 1,400,000 1914-15 Stars, over 800,000 British War Medals, and 80,000 Victory Medals. The approximate number of British War Medals required is 9,000,000 and the Victory Medals 5,500,000. After deducting the number already distributed, about 12,500,000 remain for distribution, and it is estimated that these latter will be distributed at the rate of about 3,000,000 per annum.

A correspondent of The Daily Mail declares that the Victory Medal now in course of issue is so incredibly cheap that the distribution of the 1914-15 medals will probably require four years. # CENTRAL BODY TO DEAL WITH FUNDS

(Continued From Page 1). bodies with a view to effecting a solution of the present problem. He stated that a prominent business man in a letter had suggested the possibility of a central body to deal with the funds. This body would be composed of representatives of the various organizations and would be charged with the duty of collecting and distributing the funds.

Mr. Cameron expressed the opinion that the city should carefully in the selection of employment cards where issued in order to protect the interests of the city proper as against those of outside provincial and United States points.

Miss Berkeley, of the Social Service Commission, pointed out that the city had machinery to deal with cases from outside points and could send them back to their home towns.

Upon this point Captain McElhinney stated that too drastic steps along this line would be taken. He stated that the government employment bureau, Miss Berkeley and Miss Jackson, and Edward Dickie, president of the board of trade, Mr. H. H. Hopkins and J. A. Gibson, of the Rotary Club, F. G. Morley, of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Hastings, Commissioner of the Board of Trade, were among those who were interested in the matter.

Over five hundred returned soldiers registered for work at the bureau opened in the city yesterday morning. There were also fifty applications for assistance in purchasing food.

A conference will be held next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the parliament building between the cabinet and representatives of banking, commercial, building, labor and other organizations, to discuss the problem of unemployment.

Says Onus is on Ottawa. "The responsibility of the unemployed must definitely be placed upon the shoulders of the Dominion government, no matter how hard they may try to shift the onus on the municipal and provincial governments. The system of unemployment relief is to be commended only to the extreme urgency of the case, but at the same time will be found far from satisfactory if forced, through circumstances, to be continued through the winter months," said Fred Marsh, Dominion secretary of the G.A.U.V., in summing up the situation in The World's last night.

"Every returned man who is able or willing to work is entitled to expect from his local municipality and provincial government suitable salary, or unemployment insurance if found impossible to obtain work. He should be provided with a home, or at least a place to live, and if he cannot get a job, the necessity of which is an insult to those who sacrificed their health and prospects for advancement on behalf of this government. Hon. Mr. Cameron and Senator Robertson, that veterans must now be treated as ordinary citizens and be given their responsibility during the winter months. The city of Toronto is to be commended for its generosity in offering temporary relief until the federal authorities realize that the veterans who have been so long in the hands of the government should be forced to accept charity through no fault of their own. Very soon the veterans will object to being forced to register with Major Creighton at the city hall to be given a ticket to the Salvation Army, where they will be investigated as to whether charity is necessary or not."

TAKEN FROM JAIL; HANGED TO TREE

Three California Desperados Pay the Penalty of Their Crimes.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Dec. 10.—George Boyd, Terrence Fitts and Charles Valento, accused of having murdered Sheriff James A. Petray of Sonoma county and Detectives Miles Jackson and Lester M. Dorman here Sunday afternoon last, were taken from the county jail here early this morning and hanged.

Fifteen machines carried the party. They moved quickly down the street to a cemetery, three blocks beyond the city limits. Ropes had been prepared. The men were taken from the machines and hanged to an oak tree inside the cemetery.

Headlights of three automobiles were used to light the tree selected for the hanging.

Members of the mob were stationed to prevent intrusion. These guards and many of the mob were armed.

Not more than five minutes was required by the mob to enter the jail, overpower the officers and remove the prisoners. Within 15 minutes the three alleged gangsters and murderers had been lynched.

For another 15 minutes, while the bodies dangled from the oak tree in the glare of the automobile headlights, the mob waited at the scene to make certain their grim task was completed. Then its members departed, leaving the bodies swinging in the darkness.

Was a Concerted Job. Two attempts to take the men from jail here were made last Sunday night, a few hours after they had been arrested. One was broken up by officers and the other failed when Mrs. Petray, widow of the slain sheriff, begged friends not to countenance mob violence.

Last Sunday when the three men were arrested, a mob of hundreds surrounded the jail and attempted to secure the prisoners. The actions of the mob today indicated plans had been laid beforehand. The members of the mob moved to the jail without hesitation. A cordon was thrown about the structure of granite, concrete and steel.

Twelve men were detailed to approach the door. Six entered. Sheriff John Boyes, appointed after the death of Sheriff Petray, was in the private office at the right with four deputies. The six were armed. They "covered" Boyes and his deputies and made them put up their hands. The officers were disarmed and the keys to the jail taken.

Boyes pleaded with them, but the men said not a word. They made him lean over a chair. While some of the men inside the jail guarded the officers, others went immediately to the cell of Boyd.

Boyd, suffering from the wound inflicted by Jackson, had been kept in a cell because the officers feared to send him to a hospital for treatment on account of feeling against the three men.

There had been no confusion, no hurry and no opposition. Even the nooses were tied with the expert hangman's knot.

Mr. Wade declared that the allegations concerning Canadian cattle were untrue. If protection was the real reason for the embargo it was time to stop the defaming of Canadian cattle before the world.

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly.

At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys, and stimulate them to normal activity also to neutralize the acids in urine, so if no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drug-gists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in preventing kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

GERMANY MISAPPLYING MONEY FROM FRANCE

Paris, Dec. 10.—Large sums of money turned over to Germany by France for the purpose of ameliorating the material situation of miners in the Ruhr region, have been misappropriated by the Berlin government, it was found at a meeting of the committee of foreign affairs of the French parliament yesterday, says The Matin. Premier Leygues is said to have declared Germany was not fulfilling her engagements towards France, remarking that the French budget of 1921 provides for advances on the account of Germany amounting to 16,000,000 francs.

The French premier has explained the situation to Premier Lloyd George, who has admitted the justice of his conclusions, it is said.

Premier Leygues informed the committee that another Franco-British conference would be held in two or three weeks.

HARD TO REMOVE CATTLE EMBARGO

Can Only Be Effected by Legislation by Both Houses of British Parliament.

London, Dec. 10.—Lord Lee, president of the board of agriculture, today received the representative of the Canadian Associated Press, who drew his lordship's attention to a despatch to The Times, quoting Premier Drury of Ontario, as saying before an enthusiastic meeting of cattle breeders and farmers at Guelph, Ont., that he would go to England himself if necessary, and endeavor to secure the removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle, and that Canadian farmers were determined to get justice in this matter.

Lord Lee told the Canadian Associated Press that the question of removing the embargo on Canadian cattle had been pressed upon the ministry of agriculture, and the British government for several years past by the Dominion government, and frequently by personal representations on their behalf by the Canadian high commissioner, Sir George Perley. His lordship said that he did not propose to discuss the question of the embargo on its merits, but he pointed out that its removal could only be effected by fresh legislation which would require the assent of both houses of parliament. In the meantime, any further representations regarding the matter which might be addressed to him by the Dominion government thru their high commissioner would, of course, receive most careful consideration, Lord Lee added. But it would be impossible for him to deal directly in matters of this kind with the government of Ontario, or any other province, which would, no doubt, adopt the usual course of transmitting their views thru the central government at Ottawa.

Speaking at the close of the Canadian Association dinner last night here, Agent-General Wade, of British Columbia, said the empire could not be made at the banquet table, Canada had led the way in preferential treatment of British trade, but had received in return an embargo against its cattle, and government control of salmon, fruit and bacon marketed in the old country.

Mr. Wade declared that the allegations concerning Canadian cattle were untrue. If protection was the real reason for the embargo it was time to stop the defaming of Canadian cattle before the world.

Mr. Wade also protested against what he called the stupid and unpatriotic practice of certain British firms, which insisted on doing business with Canada thru New York agents, thus making Canadian business pay tribute to Americans.

BRITAIN TO PAY HER BILL BY 1924

U. S. Will Recover Amount Paid for Silver Sold During War.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Under an agreement with the British government, the debt of $122,000,000 due this country for silver purchased during the war, will be paid by 1924, according to details of the plan made public today by Secretary Houston.

During the war the treasury arranged to sell the British government bullion obtained from melting silver created, it is to be paid in equal relief the silver shortage in India. Of the $122,000,000 owed the United States for purchases of silver, $17,633 has been paid with interest.

The remaining $104,367,000, the secretary said is to be paid in equal annual installments in the years from 1921 to 1924, in the proportions of sixty per cent. on April 15, and forty per cent. on May 15 of each year, with accrued interest at five per cent from April 15, 1918.

Until payment in full of the principal with interest, the secretary added, the British government will permit the treasury to make tenders to purchase rupee credits offered by the Indian government on the same terms with British Nationals. This, he explained, was an opportunity for United States citizens to obtain rupee credits at the same cost as those credits are offered British subjects.

The quantity of liquor a person might have in his possession after a date to be fixed, was recommended. Mr. Raney explained, with a view to preventing bootlegging. One gallon of spirits and five of ale or porter had been suggested as the maximum amount. All future importations should be allowed only on permit and those in possession of a quantity of liquor should be required to pay an annual tax.

An appeal on the part of a defendant in an O. T. A. case should be allowed, suggested Major Tolmie. With the fines as high as they are and the possibility of a prison term, there should be provision for an appeal. It was allowed in all other cases.

Rev. Edgar Watson. Why is an appeal not allowed to the defendant. Dr. Godfrey: It's just an arbitrary provision.

Major Tolmie moved and C. F. Swazey seconded a resolution that the committee recommend the legislature to permit appeals as a matter of ordinary justice.

The attorney-general asked if this would not still further congest the business of the courts by permitting bootleggers to continue an appeal. It was desired to give everybody a fair trial, and at the same time prevent the wheels of justice being clogged.

Liberal Leader Approves. H. H. Dewar could not understand why the right of appeal should not be allowed under the O. T. A. He would also allow county judges more latitude in imposing fines. This, he thought, would be an incentive to magistrates to do their duty more carefully, because they would then know that they were liable to have their decisions heard by a county judge.

The attorney-general told Mr. Dewar that such instructions had been issued by him to magistrates to impose jail sentences for first offences under the O. T. A.

The committee finally agreed to recommend the right of appeal to defendants.

Dr. Forbes Godfrey complained that the committee had not, as it was understood they would, received any report of an inquiry into the county judge affairs at Windsor. The Spracklin shooting should not have put a stop to things.

"By the way," inquired Mr. Dewar, "why was not a charge of murder or manslaughter laid against Spracklin?" Mr. Raney: It is that part of the scope of this committee.

The chairman: No. Mr. Raney: Then I won't discuss it. Spracklin is on trial. I don't want anything to go from this committee which would tend to prejudice his case. The charge against Spracklin is "shooting and slaying."

Major Tolmie criticized the attorney-general for not inquiring into affairs at Windsor, and along the border outside of the Spracklin shooting altogether.

The attorney-general thought such an inquiry was unwise in view of the upset state of public opinion at present.

Officers Are Corrupted. The statement was also made by Mr. Raney that the chief of United States preventive officer at the Windsor border, had stated that if he appointed 1,000 officers in an effort to stop the liquor traffic, 900 of them within a week would be corrupted.

"The fact is generally felt," remarked Mr. Dewar, "that there has been a general falling down on the part of the department in the matter of enforcing the O. T. A., and I can understand why the attorney-general does not wish to hold an inquiry."

Because the system of what selling on the border had been changed did not indicate that the department had fallen down, maintained Mr. Dewar: I am willing to abide by Mr. Tolmie's idea. He is the man from Windsor. This closed the matter. Mr. Raney told Dr. Godfrey that the government had not considered the suggestion that the amount of liquor prescribed by a doctor should be limited to six ounces.

Police and O. T. A. Major Tolmie, in view of what Superintendent Rogers had said, thought it unwise to use the provincial police force in the administration of the O. T. A., and moved that the committee express itself as being of the same opinion.

Dr. Godfrey protested against amateur detectives being engaged in the enforcement of the law, and the indiscriminate use of firearms. Major Tolmie's resolution was not pressed.

He had evidence that this was not intoxicating, and by allowing the increased strength the government would be proceeding along truly temperance lines. Mr. Roif also protested against the passage of the order-in-council confining the sale of temperance beer to standard hotels. Such a step would throw many men out of work.

Gas Costs Cause and Effect

WITH gas at $1.25, the dividend and interest charge upon our capital is less than 12 1/2% per thousand cubic feet.

Years ago, when coal, gas-oil and labor cost one-half to one-third present day prices, and gas was then sold at $1.25, the dividend charge was equal to 40c per thousand cubic feet.

The increased market for gas has enabled the Company to treble its efficiency in supplying the market, and to reduce its operating costs in the ratio of three and a-half to one.

The only factor that makes gas cost $1.25 in Toronto to-day, is the enormous price paid for coal and gas-oil and the necessary increases in wages to the staff.

When coal and gas-oil prices decline, the benefit will be given to the consumer.

Our shareholders do not benefit from increased prices for gas—because dividends are fixed by law, and all surplus must go to reduce costs to the consumer.

ACTIVE YEAR'S WORK

Decline to Make Further Connections for Sewers With the Township.

Reports presented to the final meeting of the year of the committee on works yesterday showed that the works department has had a most active year.

Engineers Barber and Winn-Roberts waited on the committee and asked for connections for 21 sewers in the south-west section of the township which they would proceed at once to build.

The assessment commission will be asked to report on the cost of extending Langemark avenue to Rushmore Drive.

Changing Street Names. The result of the poll taken on Keele street showed that the residents on Keele south of Bloor were in favor of the proposal to change the name of the street to Parkside drive.

A deputation from the south end of the street urged the committee to recommend the change.

Ald. Singer said the city had for years been changing names in order to bring continuous streets under one name, and it would be unwise to reverse this rule.

Ald. Blackburn suggested that the name south of Bloor be changed to Keele boulevard, and the deputation accepted this suggestion and the change will be recommended.

C. W. Kerr, representing land interests in North Toronto, asked the committee to deal with the contract, which he said should have called for the construction of sewers at the expense of the city.

A deputation from Ward Eight complained that water had been backed up on the property of R. Pew, bordering on the upper reaches of Simla's pond by the building of a culvert which was too small to carry away the water.

SHOULD DO WORK FOR CROWN ONLY

Police Court Interpreters Say Working for Both Sides is Unfair.

That official court interpreters should work for the crown only was the contention of three of that body in the case, thus putting them often in an uncomfortable position.

The three interpreters, Mrs. Grace Bagnato, Alex. Markowitz and Mr. Shontoff, admitted that they were sometimes used by the defence lawyers to go to the jail and interpret for them, and when crown officials asked for information along these lines it was their duty to disclose it.

Mrs. Grace Bagnato admitted that the interpreters often obtained valuable information for the police.

Mr. Gregory then wanted to know whether the prisoners knew that this was done.

Asked by Inspector McKimney if he had disclosed confidential information to any detective, the interpreter denied that he had.

Both witnesses and Court Interpreter Alex. Markowitz agreed that the interpreters should not go to the jail on outside work.

Mr. Markowitz denied absolutely that he had ever given confidential information to the detectives, and would refuse to give it to a detective if he were asked.

Superintendent Dyson, of the board of education, said that the $2,000,000 granted by the city council would cover the cost of the completion of the high school of commerce and finance so far as the class rooms were concerned.

The trustee Bell wanted the first work to be alterations in the auditorium required to render the gallery satisfactory.

Trustee Bell said that there was a danger of too much centralizing which might delay the erection of the branch high school in the east end.

MAYOR USES BIG GUNS ON HUGHES

Reports Used to Show City Cannot Afford School "Frills."

Mayor Church has delivered a broadside in the general direction of J. L. Hughes, former inspector of Toronto schools, in support of his contention that the board of education is wasteful and that the city can't afford the proposed heavy school building program, his worship has caused to be compiled numerous reports.

In a letter to The World accompanying this mass of information, the mayor says in part:

"While mistakes may have been made in the past on both sides, there has been for the past thirty years a continual dispute between the school board and the city council, the latter body being responsible to the taxpayers for the size of the tax rate."

"No building was done during the war practically all the time, the contentment, owing to the high cost of money, land and materials, and the rate of exchange."

"I have always been in favor of paying liberal salaries to the teachers, and improved working conditions which have not always been satisfactory in the past."

"As Mr. Bradshaw says, 'If one department of the city is to get the bulk of the money, there will be no money left for the other services, such as railways, sewers, water, police and fire protection, and other civic services.'"

"You will note from the annual budget that the city collects twenty-five million dollars from all sources, nineteen millions of which is what is known as 'uncontrollable expenditure,' over which the city council has no control, such as the board of education and other matters. The controllable, under the city council, only amounts to ten millions, and they have to offset this with ten million dollars otherwise than from taxation."

"We are faced with the heaviest commitments in the history of the city. Many people are out of work, and our tax rate is high. We will drive industry from the city, notwithstanding the fact that we now have an abundance of power in sight, if our tax rate is to remain as it is. We are at the parting of the ways in this connection."

"Dr. Hughes has written a letter saying that the board asked for four millions this year. This is wrong, as Mr. Bradshaw's letter sets out. This amount was to be spread over a number of years, and the board agreed to accept $1,280,000 for this year, and made the arrangement with Mr. Bradshaw. Since that time they have got a million dollars extra capital in July of this year, and $424,000 in October for increased accommodation."

"A survey was made of the properties they have in the county, namely, Kitchener, Glenholme and Humberwood, built by the board of education, and they have bought a farm as well west of Lambton Mills, and have other vacant lots in the county and the city not built on."

"The city council did not place the children in portables. They have been there for over fifteen years. The board of education themselves are responsible for this policy and waste of money."

"When J. L. Hughes was inspector he did not hesitate himself to crowd 100 or 125 into one room, which was deplorable."

"Better business management, more efficiency, the completion of the three-quarter million dollar program which the city council has given them, and a little economy and a spirit of co-operation by the board of education will produce results, instead of the present ill-adviced publicity campaign by a section of the board of education, who desire to 'spend money like water.'"

As the result of a rousing appeal by Charles D. Gordon, at yesterday's luncheon at the King Edward Hotel, the Rotary Club decided to undertake to carry "Christmas cheer" to from 800 to 500 needy families this year.

Mr. Gordon mentioned a number of instances where the need of assistance in making the holiday a time of joy and gladness was great and urged a personal effort on the part of each member to see that such help was not lacking.

"Don't simply give another fellow five dollars to spend for you in this work, but go yourselves, and get in personal touch with those people," said Mr. Gordon. "There is no better investment than this, not even stocks and bonds, for it is an undoubted truth that 'He that taketh pity on the poor lengtheneth to his Lord.'"

Personal Banking Service. "Personal Banking Service" is simply a development of one of the Sterling Bank fundamentals—courteous service to everyone with whom we come in contact. As courteous consideration of each client's business made us more intimately acquainted with that business, we became better able to offer friendly counsel and intelligent advice. And the material thus gained—accumulated from greatly diversified lines of business—has placed in our hands a fund of knowledge which could be obtained in no other way. WILL MAKE REPORT ON HARBOR CONTRACT

A statement will be given out by the harbor commission reporting the facts in connection with the issue of the big harbor contract to the Canadian Stewart Company in 1913, pertaining to which certain insinuations have been afloat.

It is understood the statement will contain the minutes of all meetings held at which this contract was dealt with from the time tenders were called for down to the signing of the contract six months later, and that it will be shown that every step was carried out in a regular manner.

It is also stated that the commissioners are entirely in the dark as to what the services were to which Mr. Magee referred. They know nothing other than what they have seen in the newspapers.

FOUNDED 1850. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company, of Toronto, Limited. H. J. MACLEAN, Managing Director, World Building, Toronto, 40 West Richmond Street.

Our National Marine.

That gloomy dean of Canadian journalism, The Montreal Gazette, corps and cavit at the Canadian government's merchant marine. It is compelled to admit that our national fleet last year made a profit over operating expenses of $1,406,000. But it reminds us that the cost price of a ship, constructed in Canada, is considerably more than its market price, in the outside world. This, in a way, is beside the point. Owning and operating a merchant marine is one policy, developing a shipbuilding industry is another.

For ourselves we are glad that the government fleet is composed of ships built in Canada, constructed from Canadian material, by Canadian workmen, operated by Canadian crews, and carrying the commerce and the flag of Canada to every corner of the world.

But wherever the ships are built we must have a national fleet to work in conjunction with our Canadian National Railway system. The Canadian Pacific can make a thru route from Toronto to Liverpool, from Toronto to any port in the world, because they have their own vessels waiting for cargo at our Atlantic and Pacific ports. The Canadian National, in order to compete, must have a similar equipment. Are their trains to carry our freight to seaboard and meekly turn it over to the C.P.R., or bargain with some "sea-framp" to forward the freight?

The Gazette does not suggest that the Canadian Pacific should scrap its vessels; why, then, does it object to the government railways also stretching across the sea? It says instead of building ships to open up new trade routes and carry Canadian exports to foreign lands, we should grant subsidies to shipping companies, that it would probably be cheaper to do so. The Gazette regards itself as a staunch supporter of the National Policy, yet apparently it desires to kill off the shipbuilding industry in this country and to abandon that vigorous policy of trade expansion so essential to the well-rounded development of Canadian industries.

Our merchant vessels built in Canada, manned by Canadian crews, serving primarily the interests of Canada, may not roll up the same profits as ships not built or registered in Canada, which buy their stores and hire their crews in the cheapest market, and follow only those trade routes most certain to yield an immediate return. But the goal of our Canadian merchant marine is service, not profit. Its ambition is to benefit this country, to expand the trade of Canada, and serve the Canadian people. Where is the Gazette going to land?

Wedding Bells Across the Sea. It is the good fortune of some men to never grow old. The press despatches announcing the wedding of Sir George Foster say he is "turned seventy." He has, indeed, turned seventy, but he is, turned fifty, for that matter, but he is headed toward youth not toward age. He is growing younger, not older every day. It is a way they have in New Brunswick. You see the waters of a mighty river rushing thru rapids and falls on their way to the sea, then the incoming tide seizes the falls in its grip, the waters run on instead of down, and the astonished river is hurried back toward its source instead of rushing on to the ocean.

Of course, Sir George, in the house and on the stump, often pretends to be growing old. He affects for the moment to believe in the "unreliable calendar." Now we are glad he has thrown aside the mask, and we join with the rest of the Canadian people in wishing long life and happiness to Sir George and Lady Foster.

The bracing air of the Alps has not been without effect upon our delegates at Geneva. We have had more than one eloquent speech from Hon. Mr. Rowell. Judge Doherty made the hearts of the bitter-enders rejoice by moving to strike out Article Ten. Our people, of course, were interested, yet a vague uneasiness pervaded the country. Men were asking one another what had happened to Sir George. Had that master of speech become suddenly silent? All the time this crafty Ulysses had a card up his sleeve. He knew when the cables flashed the news of his wedding that nothing else would be talked about. A few thoughtful people may be laboriously discussing the future of the world; but every man, woman and child in Canada is talking about the wedding. Mr. Rowell may rage and Judge Doherty imagine vain things, but the newly married pair get all of the limelight. When the Canadian delegates return at the opening of the session all eyes will be turned upon Sir George and upon the lady in the Speaker's gallery who put Geneva on the map.

No Par Value Paper Stocks!

The World again returns to the subject of company capitalization and particularly to the American methods introduced into this country by the paper and pulp companies. This new and up-to-date method consists in the issue of stock-market valuation. The latest exponent of this wonderful system of making paper profits as well as paper is the Wayagamack Pulp and Paper Company. The capital of this concern (and nobody doubts that it was made enough when letters of incorporation were first taken out) consisted of 50,000 shares with a par value of $100 a share. After the meeting on Thursday, it was decided to increase the share capital stock by five times to 250,000 shares. These shares, however, have no par value, and to make the change attractive two of the new shares are being given for one of the old. The other 150,000 shares are being held by the company for future use, when the public investor has saved up some more money to put into the paper stocks. In the meantime, Wayagamack shares go on the market in competition with other shares which have a par value of $100, and the buyer, well posted, will think he is getting a stock with an asset value of some kind of $100 behind each share of stock.

The Globe, which has ever been solicitous for the welfare of the speculator and investor, and prides itself on this particular, steadfastly refuses to either endorse or condemn this modern method of stock watering. Mr. Jaffray, chief owner of The Globe, is an expert stockbroker, and spent some years in that business. He is qualified in the highest degree to give advice on the no par value shares, but refrains from doing so. Perhaps Mr. Jaffray has not yet had his attention drawn to the subject, or he may have been on holiday; so again The World asks The Globe to explain the advantages of the no par value stock to the community at large, and the prospective investor in particular.

In the meantime, The Globe deplores or seems to deplore the deal with E. W. Backus, by which he gets "an empire in pulpwood" on the English River from the Drury government. It also records that the Brompton Paper Co. (one of the no par value stock concerns), is getting 634 additional square miles from the Quebec government. Where is all this exploitation of limits and watered paper stocks to end? Especially when the Globe also announced yesterday that the newspapers will be asked to pay seven cents a pound for the first six months of 1921. Some papers are now getting it at five cents; others are paying six and half cents. The companies are also asking for a continuation of the present tariff duty on imported paper!

Mr. Drury may have something to say about the Backus deal and about the price of paper to Canadian papers. Is there any preference being shown by the paper mills to Canadian newspapers that have pulled out from the newspaper publishers' agreement to hold together for better treatment and equality of treatment?

Remarked in Passing.

Seems about the only thing to do is to make D'Annunzio king of Fiume and let it go at that.

A resolution is before the League of Nations assembly that, Esperanto be taught in the public schools. We may hear next that the delegates are discussing the best way to cook onions.

Chicago's police are fighting criminals with ammonia gas grenades. First thing we know the crooks will protest to the League of Nations against such barbarous methods of warfare.

The recommendation of the committee on temperance enforcement is making a move in the right direction when it recommends that the O.T.A. be amended to allow convicted persons to appeal. On this point the law is unfair and unjust.

As a result of a demonstration on Wednesday last by Moros in the Philippine Islands against compulsory education, thirty natives were killed and several wounded by the constabulary. Now, had that happened in India we should never have heard the end of it.

ROWELL'S REMARKS LIKE BOMBHELL IN ASSEMBLY

London, Dec. 10.—The correspondent in Geneva of The Times remarks that the incidental mention by Hon. N. W. Rowell of the commonplace fact that the statement of the mother country have no voice in the management of the affairs of Canada, produced the amusing effect of a bombshell upon many of the foreign delegates and journalists who appear not to have had the faintest conception of the relations existing between Great Britain and the Dominion.

TO HELP THE UNEMPLOYED

Just Sit Down and Figure Out if There Is Not Some Work to Be Done.

FEDERAL LABOR AID TO BE NATION-WIDE

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—(By Canadian Press).—Unemployment among returned men was laid, in striking fashion, before members of the government today. The problem was presented primarily as from Toronto—whence today's delegation came—but the discussion turned on the general situation; and the prime minister made it clear that anything done in Toronto would have to be done elsewhere. The Dominion government would consider a problem only from the national point of view.

There was a tendency in each centre, Mr. Meighen said, replying to the delegation, to consider its own situation as the worst. If grants were made to an organization in Toronto, organizations throughout the country would ask for the same treatment and soon there would be organizations in every village. "Just keep in mind," said the prime minister, "that whatever is done by us must be Canadian-wide."

The problem of unemployment had been before the Dominion government for some time. "In so far as the problem is one of the returned men suffering from the results of war," Mr. Meighen continued, "it is our problem. But in so far as the returned man is as physically able as anyone else to get employment then he belonged to the same class as other citizens."

To Co-operate, Mr. Meighen proceeded, had been given to the general problem by the minister of labor, who favored co-operation with the provincial authorities. He cannot think of any other plan on which we can proceed," Mr. Meighen added. The returned man should be able to work something out in this regard and would do whatever was possible. "We are prepared to do our part," Mr. Meighen said, "but it must be by means of the operation and on the part of the man who is physically fit man has got to function in this country."

The delegation consisted of Col. C. Williams, representing the G. W. V. A. in Toronto; W. W. Parry, and A. A. M. in Montreal; and Hon. J. Tom Wallace, Mr. C. Macdonell, Ottawa, general secretary of the G. W. V. A. A delegation was received by the prime minister, Hon. J. G. Guthrie, and Hon. J. A. Calder.

Request Federal Grant. The delegates represented that there were from 15,000 to 18,000 unemployed at present in Toronto and that of these 9,000 were returned men. They asked for a federal grant to unemployed returned men of $12 a week when unmarried, of from $22 a week for married men, according to the number of children to support. Returned men, it was emphasized, were on the side of procedure by constitutional means. The Red Cross or institutional methods, and would never countenance anything which would bring discredit on the country.

Mr. Parry, who is a member of the O.T.A., said that he was in the hospital. He believed this was a very good idea, and that it would be a very good idea to have a safety valve, and the time may come when that safety valve will be blown off. The returned man was on the side of law and order, but desperate times bred desperate measures.

The railroads are alive and bright, because old hockey starts tonight. It is the first game of the year, and so the fans all madly cheer, and will be on the mass to see the Granites battle Aura Lee. A battle-royal will be staged, where in both sides become enraged, and "neath their skates the ice will fly, as they begin "to do or die." They'll work like fury, for their fates, right from the time they put on skates, until they hear the final gong, when one will sing the victor's song.

Admits Embezzlement From Minneapolis Firm. New York, Dec. 10.—John M. Hartman of Minneapolis, arrested last night as a fugitive from justice, was said by the Canadian press today to have taken $26,000 from the firm of Hartman and Company, of Minneapolis, of which he was chief bookkeeper and cashier. The prisoner turned $3,100 over to the police, they said, and added he had lost about $24,000 thru speculation. Hartman's wife and a 19-month-old son of his, and a six-year-old son were to have sailed today for Selje, Norway.

Red Cross Visitors. Editor of The World: What has happened to the Canadian Red Cross visitors? This is a question upon the lips of every returned patient in the Christie Street Hospital, for, with the outgoing about a month ago of the Canadian Army Medical Corps and the incoming of the D.S.C.R., this valued service has terminated.

What's his pet name? It is just why this change has been brought about. Further, a most vital question at the moment is, what organization is now equipped and ready to step in to take the place of the Canadian Red Cross? The Red Cross is a noble organization, but its deep-seated love for the returned soldier, and its proven desire for service?

EX-CONSTABLES GIVE TESTIMONY

Committee of 100 Hears Three Men Who Claim That They Resigned. Washington, Dec. 10.—Three former members of the Royal Irish Constabulary, each of whom said he had resigned as a "protest against British misrule" and later fled Ireland in fear of attack by former comrades, presented today to the "commission of inquiry" of the committee of one hundred, investigating the Irish question, their accounts of the alleged operations of the British military forces in the Emerald Isle.

Each of the three, John J. Cadden, John Tangey and Daniel F. Crowley, told of raids in which they said they had been forced to participate as members of the constabulary and of the alleged receipt from British commanders of orders to destroy life and property.

The commission also heard details of the killing of Lord Mayor McCormack of Cork from Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister of Terence MacSwiney, successor to Mayor McCormack, what purported to be an eye-witness description of a military raid on a small County Clare town from P. J. Guilfoyle of Pittsburg, Pa., and a description of conditions in Ireland in September as seen by Mrs. Thomas Murphy of New York. The commission adjourned its hearings until next Wednesday.

Baby in Peterboro Is Burned to Death. Peterboro, Ont., Dec. 10.—Sitting in a chair in the kitchen of his parents' home at 84 Dublin street here, Russell Shier, the 19-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Shier, was burned to death this afternoon by fire of unknown origin. The child had been left in the care of his grandmother, Mrs. Martha Shier, who went out to a nearby store, leaving him sitting in a high chair in the kitchen. She returned ten minutes later to find the child enveloped in flames and the child practically cremated.

Hard Labor for O. T. A. Offender. Beville, Dec. 10.—(Special).—Robert Burke, of this city, was sentenced by Magistrate Masson to six months hard labor in jail, having been found guilty of selling liquor. It being his second offence, a brother of Burke is now serving a similar term for a like offence. A considerable quantity of liquor taken was ordered to be turned over to the department at Toronto.

The Toronto World's Weekly Novel

THE WOVEN BALL

By C. C. HOTCHKISS. Copyright, 1920.

(Continued from Yesterday's World.) The captain disappeared. After a short interval of silence there was a sudden renewal of the shouts on deck, as if the crew were applauding some speech, and almost immediately the wings of the skylight were lowered. Hardly had they settled into place when the whole affair was beaten in, the fragments of stained glass flying into the saloon in a shower; a moment later the work of art lay scattered on the floor and nothing but the bars opened entrance from overhead.

After a deal of jabbering a spar appeared over the opening, its end being lowered to engage a ring. Then came a word of command. In an instant the powerful lever tore out both bars and frame, and with their own out went the hope of holding the cabin, there now being nothing to prevent a dozen men from leaping thru the opening hole.

Catching Mow-Sing by the arm, Laurens ran across the cabin into his own room in order that from his door he would have his enemies in front. It would be his last stand. Laurens concluded that for strategic reasons no assault would come thru the skylight until the passage deck, for he had broken down and a rush made from practically two directions, and by the regular and heavy strokes of what seemed to him a spar used as a ram, he knew that it would soon be accomplished.

Finally it went, and as it collapsed with a crash and splintered, it half jammed against the body of the young girl, who fell and prevented a clear opening. As two or three men squeezed thru and rushed down the passage Laurens saw the first man fall and as Mow-Sing let go a shot the others turned and fled in safety, standing beyond the opening and yelling as only excited Chinamen can yell. But Laurens thought he had repulsed the invaders for good he was mistaken. The shots and the shouting appeared to act as a signal to the crew, for hardly had the American recovered from the stunning effect of the explosion in close quarters when he saw three men leap thru the skylight. As they struck the table, Mow-Sing leaped to his feet, drew his revolver and fired, but the boys' revolver bark at the same moment, Laurens was struck in the forehead; the third man appeared uninjured, and as Laurens covered him again pressed the trigger, he saw another batch leap down from the deck. Both he and Mow-Sing fired again, but the boys' pling to mark result, then both defenders became aware that the passage was filled with others bearing down on them.

Knowing that in an instant he would be overwhelmed by the force of the boys' bayonet back into the room and slammed the door, bolting it just as the devil outfit "washed" in. In a moment he had piled against it every piece of movable furniture in the cabin, and at length stood panting in the middle of the room and awaiting the last act. Josephine had thrown herself on the floor and lay still, her face buried in her hands.

After a few thumps on the heavy door the attack ceased, but to those in the cabin the fact brought little hope; it was only an interval of a moment, and the boys could be heard to bear on the door. In the ensuing silence, a silence so profound that it seemed to be a void, the alleged receipt from British commanders of orders to destroy life and property.

The commission also heard details of the killing of Lord Mayor McCormack of Cork from Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister of Terence MacSwiney, successor to Mayor McCormack, what purported to be an eye-witness description of a military raid on a small County Clare town from P. J. Guilfoyle of Pittsburg, Pa., and a description of conditions in Ireland in September as seen by Mrs. Thomas Murphy of New York. The commission adjourned its hearings until next Wednesday.

ATHLETICS REVISING LAWS AT WINNIPEG

MEET AT WINNIPEG

Reports Presented and Many Delegates for Betterment of Canadian Sport.

Winnipeg, Dec. 10.—With nearly fifty delegates on hand, all armed with the necessary material to make a stiff fight for what they consider the best interests for amateur sport throughout the Dominion, the most important meeting in the history of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada got under way here this morning.

President McDonald, in his report to the union, made a strong plea for the maintenance of the amateur spirit in sport. Referring directly to the suggestion that the union be split into eastern and western divisions, Dr. McDonald viewed the movement with alarm, and hoped that no such step would be taken.

From British Columbia came an appeal for consideration on the grounds of "isolation" by Davidson of the University of British Columbia, who urged the payment of expenses of delegates and athletes to representative meets. An extension of the prerogative of the union to the individual branches regarding reinstatement of professionals under clause B of the amateur rules, was asked, and a hope expressed that associations claiming national significance should be national.

In this connection, the Intercollegiate Union was mentioned, Dr. Davidson stating that this body should throw its membership open to western universities.

Speaking on behalf of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, W. M. Noble of Winnipeg called the attention of the delegates to the peculiar situation brought about by the migration of players, and the recent scandal in Alberta hockey ranks.

Ontario—Dr. Bruce McDonald, president of the A.A.U. of C. N. Merrick, secretary A.A.U. of C. J. Merrick, chairman of the Canadian Olympic committee.

SHIP BROKE IN TWO, BUT CREW WERE SAVED

Halifax, N.S., Dec. 11.—Captain Pay, officers and crew of the Norwegian steamer Romsdal, which struck the ledge early this morning and became a total wreck off Sambro, N.S., arrived here by automobile late today. It was learned that the ship was over twenty days out from Norway, having loaded her cargo of iron ore at Lerwick, and was bound to Baltimore. Shortly after three o'clock, as the ship was proceeding at full speed, the look-out reported a red light on the starboard bow, which he thought was about a mile distant. The man at the wheel also saw this light and told the captain, who was about to use his glasses when the ship struck. Within a few minutes number one hold was half full of water, while there was no water in number two. Later, however, the ship broke in two and is a total loss. The men lost all their belongings, and were three hours in the ship's boats before reaching land.

TIP O'NEIL LEADS BATTING AVERAGES FOR ALL TIME

Woodstock Player Only Few Points Below Five Hundred, With Comiskey's St. Louis Browns—Canadians in Big League Baseball.

A Detroit paper contained an article on Canadians in baseball that has many errors of omission and some of slight commission. He forgets to name the late Tip O'Neill, who leads the big league batting averages for time, and calls Jimmy Archer, the catcher, an Irishman. He was born in Toronto, not a stone's throw from Stanley Park.

Russell Ford, who made a sensational record in 1910 and 1911, while on the pitching staff of the New York Americans, was born in Manitoba, Canada. Ford is credited with being the inventor of the so-called emery ball, a delivery which was a deep mystery to all but those who faced the boy from the northwest. Then there is Big Jack McLean of New Brunswick, who cut into the limelight while catching for the New York club of the National League in 1913 and 1914. "Big Jack" reached the crest of his career, which was short, but very brilliant, when he batted .500 in the world's series of 1914.

Many other old-timers were sent across the border from Canada, such stars as Tim Lincecum, who was with Detroit, Nationals and Washington; Pete Wood, pitcher with the Buffalo and Philadelphia clubs back in the late eighties, and Mickey Jones, the Hamilton southpaw, who worked for the Louisville club when that team was in the National League. Bob Becher of London was a sensation in the big show for many seasons.

Frank Owens, the late Conroy Snyder and Bill O'Hara of Toronto, and pitcher Charley Maddocks, who played for the Guelph Maple Leafs in the '70s, also should be mentioned in the despatches.

DRASTIC MEASURES TO END DISORDERS

Wise was desirous of peace and a fair settlement of the questions at issue.

Will Treat With Sinn Feiners.

To this end, the premier declared that the government would treat with Sinn Fein members of parliament who had not been involved in the commission of serious crimes.

These Sinn Feiners, he added, would be afforded full protection. The government, he said, would not grant safe conducts to London to such Sinn Fein members of parliament as had been involved in the commission of serious crimes.

In expressing the determination of the government to put down disorder in Ireland, the premier declared it had no option but to continue to intensify its campaign against the small, but highly organized and desperate minority in Ireland, which was "using murder and outrage in order to attain the impossible," and which could bring peace neither to Ireland nor to Great Britain.

While denying that the cabinet had opened negotiations with the Sinn Fein members of parliament, he reported that it was in touch with intermediaries, apparently referring to the Right Rev. Patrick Joseph Cullen, bishop of Perth, Australia, with whom the premier has had interviews recently.

Will Meet Leaders.

The names of Sinn Fein members of the commons whom the government will meet will be published, and every facility for protection given them, as it was very important, the premier said, that there should be no suspicion of any breach of faith if a meeting took place. It would be very unfortunate, he remarked, if the members of the Irish parliament met under the impression that they were exempt and then were arrested. It was difficult, added the premier, to know to what extent those who came to see the government could really speak on behalf of men who mattered, but "we must give them every opportunity, because peace is very important."

The premier said he regretted that the men who were promoting murder have not given any indications that they are prepared to surrender upon the only terms the country could possibly accept, consistent with its self-respect or with the prospect of an enduring peace in Ireland; and the government determined to break up these terrorists, who are more or less organized, because otherwise it is not thought possible for Ireland to recover public confidence which is essential for peace.

Then, referring to the intention to declare martial law in certain areas, Mr. Lloyd George said:

"What is the position, more particularly in the southwest of Ireland? These organized insurgents force until recently dwell in something approaching complete immunity. But they were forced to the hills, whence they attacked the police and intimidated their own people. It is necessary that they should be captured or broken up. It is difficult to capture them, as they are dressed either in civilian clothes or in captured British uniforms."

FORMER I.C.R. CHIEF HITS RADIAL PLANS

Believes Present Railways Can Deal With Any Extra Requirements.

POINTS TO HIGH COSTS Considers Estimates Submitted by Hydro Commission Beyond All Reason.

Claiming that the estimates and figures of the Toronto Eastern Railway were extravagant and that the proposed system of Hydro radial railways could only get a negligible amount of business when it commenced to compete with existing roads, Guelinus, former manager of the Intercolonial Railway, and now vice-president of the Hudson and Delaware Railway, also held in his submission yesterday that the submitted figures and estimates were beyond reason when compared with the Albany Southern Railway, whose mileage was on a par with the Toronto line and yet did not require like the proposed Hydro traffic, and further the Albany line had no competition.

The witness, who appeared on behalf of the government, pointed out that the proposed Hydro radial line to St. Catharines and Port Credit, would run in competition with the government railways, and urged that it seemed strange to him that a provincial concern would attempt to compete with the federal government.

Mr. Guelinus said the costs were excessive and agreed with Mr. Murray that if any further facilities in traffic were needed the present companies could deal with it. He further mentioned that the present dollar was only 50 per cent. of the working expenses of a company, and the competitors of the Hydro would have an expense on a 50 per cent. basis. Witness further claimed that to get Hydro going it would have to issue bonds, which interest was bound to be paid, and pointed to the fact that electric bonds in the States were practically unsaleable as securities.

Mr. Guelinus also pointed to the fact that in the case of bonds, dividends were bound to be paid, while a company that had issued stocks need not pay any dividend in lean years.

Questioned regarding the shipping of goods, witness stated that a ship could only control the routes of his freight over such lines as were open for thru shipments, but the question in this case was "can the Hydro-Electric obtain a rate for thru routing from the big companies who after all were the Hydro competitors?" He very much doubted whether the government or any company would do it. The big companies since they held a monopoly would be the last people from whom Hydro should expect help in the matter of thru routing.

Answering the chairman, Mr. Guelinus said he could not see how the Hydro could obtain new freight business, but it seemed to him as if they meant to poach on the traffic of existing lines. Regarding the freight business between Niagara and St. Catharines the only people to suffer would be the government.

Taking up the question of less than carload lots, witness stated that this business was unprofitable, except when carried over 100 miles, after which it became profitable. Under that distance it was a loss since terminal expenses swallowed up the charges. He urged that while the Hydro plans were the best he had ever seen, he thought they were overestimating the business, especially in the cities where private concerns had their own railway sidings, into which their traffic could be run, while the idea of a new company stepping in would be practically impossible.

Turning to the matter of existing small railways, witness said that the Leona and Port Stanley line earned 42 cents per mile; Hudson Valley, 32 cents; Connecticut, 33; Albany Southern, 33 cents per mile, and pointed out that these railways had a mileage of practically the same dimension as the Toronto Eastern Railway, while the estimates for the Toronto Eastern were away above the lines mentioned.

Witness then declared that Mr. Guelinus' figures of 80 cents per car mile were not correct, and not a reasonable estimate of suburban radial business, in fact, declared Mr. Guelinus, it was double what it ought to be, adding that if a man could construct a railroad on an eight per cent. basis he was worth his weight in gold.

CLUE IN SMALL CASE? MITCHELL GOING WEST

Former Steamship Employee Tells Detective of Peculiar Interest in Small's Disappearance Shown by Two Foreigners—Aid of Scotland Yard and Russian Police May Be Invoked.

Montreal, Dec. 10.—A new clue is thought to have been unearthed in the Ambrose Small case by Detective Sergeant Mitchell of Toronto, who has been looking for him for some time.

The witness, who appeared on behalf of the government, pointed out that the proposed Hydro radial line to St. Catharines and Port Credit, would run in competition with the government railways, and urged that it seemed strange to him that a provincial concern would attempt to compete with the federal government.

Mr. Guelinus said the costs were excessive and agreed with Mr. Murray that if any further facilities in traffic were needed the present companies could deal with it.

EARLY SPRING WILL SEE BIG CLEAN-UP

Sir Adam Beck left yesterday for his home in London and, with Lady Beck, sails Sunday for England. He will return about January 20.

"The big clean up," said Sir Adam, "cannot be completed before March or possibly April. The municipalities interested in the Scarborough, Metropolitan and Port Credit radials will not have an opportunity to vote on the acquisition of the out-of-town parts of those roads until some time later. This morning I have been asked whether there is any chance of the double-tracking of the line down to Step 20, some miles out of the city, but that is questionable. In any case, the standard gauge might be adopted in certain the city part of the Scarborough line over to the Hydro as the way were a private company. We represent the public and our only object is the public good. The Kingston road should be widened, but the government is doing that."

"The Hydro might lay two tracks and give the civic transportation commission running rights or we might lay one track and the city the other and both of us have running rights and be responsible for the maintenance of our particular line. I have no objection to the slightest doubt that we can agree."

"Of course, we will be changing the radial gauge to standard gauge. I don't know whether the street car system will accept the standard gauge if a large proportion of the system has to be renewed anyway, but the change to standard gauge might be advisable. ### POLICE CHANGE UNION INTO AN ASSOCIATION

Dislike Idea of Name Suggesting a Labor Body.

The Toronto Police Union has changed its name. It will now be called the Toronto Police Association. This was decided at yesterday's session of the association held in Victoria Hall.

"We changed the name because we wanted to get completely away from the idea of a labor union," explained President P.C. Ennis to The World. "We are not connected in any way with the labor organization, and it is therefore misleading to call our association a union. We are simply a fraternal and mutual benefit association and wish to be recognized as such."

The name union has been found to be misleading and has been changed to association. The association held a smoker last night at which it was decided to hold their annual concert some time during the latter part of next January. There were about 150 members present.

The strangest part of the story followed a few days after which time the steamship employe had been sent to Russia from England, always working for the same company.

While there he told Detective Mitchell that he met for the third time in a year the two foreigners, whom he had seen first at Winnipeg, then at Detroit, and again in Russia. He had read considerable about the disappearance of Small, and when the two foreigners again asked whether they had found the murderer, he plied them with answers and questions intended to draw them out. Whether he succeeded in his quest and discovered important clues was not divulged, but it is known that the Toronto detective left this city for the west and it is presumed that he is following the lead given him by the man who met him at the court house and told the above story to him.

He had read considerable about the disappearance of Small, and when the two foreigners again asked whether they had found the murderer, he plied them with answers and questions intended to draw them out.

Whether he succeeded in his quest and discovered important clues was not divulged, but it is known that the Toronto detective left this city for the west and it is presumed that he is following the lead given him by the man who met him at the court house and told the above story to him.

The strangest part of the story followed a few days after which time the steamship employe had been sent to Russia from England, always working for the same company.

While there he told Detective Mitchell that he met for the third time in a year the two foreigners, whom he had seen first at Winnipeg, then at Detroit, and again in Russia. He had read considerable about the disappearance of Small, and when the two foreigners again asked whether they had found the murderer, he plied them with answers and questions intended to draw them out.

REQUEST BOARD ON ORDER OF RAILWAY

Barrister Is Named for Brotherhood Regarding Men Entering Politics.

Daniel Campbell, barrister, Winnipeg, has been selected as the nominee of the members of the Brotherhood of Railwaymen, Division No. 4, who have asked the minister of labor at Ottawa to appoint a board under the Industrial Disputes Act, to determine the validity of order 42 of the Canadian National Railway, prohibiting employes of the system from engaging actively in politics.

This decision was reached at a meeting held at the Labor Temple yesterday.

It will be recalled that this was the order which practically dismissed J. Higgins, Toronto, and others in the Dominion, from the service of the Canadian National Railway. Division No. 4 took the matter up with Mr. Hanna during the past week. At first Mr. Hanna had apparently taken a hopeful view of the situation promising to give his final decision by Monday. This he did, but it was an adverse decision, as he refused to in any way change this order. It at least stated Mr. Barker yesterday.

This means that negotiations between the federated committee of C.N.R. employes and the system management have ceased, and that they only recourse which the men will now have to redress what they state is an unfair situation, will be the board failing to recommend its cancellation of the order.
