ANTI-JAPANESE DEMONSTRATION IN VANCOUVER ENDS IN RACE RIOT

RECORD SCORING FOR PALMA TROPHY

U. S. Team Win After Marvelous Shooting Made by All the Four Teams Entered.

(By Captain Scott-Harden.)
OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—The Palma trophy was regained today by the team of riflemen representing the United States, after the most wonderful of competitions. The final scores were:
United States ..... 1712
Canada ..... 1671
Australia ..... 1653
Great Britain ..... 1534

The Centennial Trophy, known as the Palma, inaugurated in the United States in 1876, when the people of the States subscribed to present a massive shield for competition, open to the riflemen of the world, was shot for the sixth time.

In 1876, at Creedmoor, Long Island, the United States won by 22 points over the Irish team, Scotland, Australia and Canada also competing—1877 the United States again won it, and in 1878 they claimed it by default, as no foreign teams entered.

No further competition was held until 1901, when the Canadians competed at Sea Girt, and brought the valuable $5000 prize to Ottawa.

In 1902, at Rockcliffe, the British team came over and beat the Americans by 12 points, and the following year at Biele, when teams from Great Britain, Australia, United States, Canada, Natal, Norway and France competed, the States, with a margin of 15 points, were declared the winners. A misunderstanding, however, as regards the conditions resulted in the match being declared off and the trophy was returned to England by the United States.

That is, briefly, the history of the shield and the competitions. The conditions for firing are that the men must use the national military arm of the country they represent, fitted with their service regulation sights.

Weather Favored U. S.
This morning the Palma stood against the walls of the D.R.A. station at Rockcliffe, draped with the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, waiting for the captain of the winning team to carry it. The day was bright and clear, with a light breeze from the west. Street cars began running from the capital, every one with riflemen making their way to the ranges. There was hardly a breath of wind, and the sun came out and cleared the sky, showing that the day was for shooting would be ideal. One of the first to arrive at Rockcliffe was the captain of the British team.

Dr. Nesbitt "Unfortunate" in His Choice of Business Ventures; License Board Clean, Tho Mr. Defoe Should Not Continue as at Present; Inspector Purvis to Resign.

THE LICENSE REPORT
PAID BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS RECOMMENDED
SUGGESTS SOME METHODS OF REFORM

The long-awaited report of J. R. L. Starr, who, acting as commissioner for the Ontario Government, early this year investigated the situation as it existed in Toronto concerning the trafficking in licenses, was made public to the newspapers yesterday. It will prove disappointing to anyone who expected something bitter in the way of criticism.

Hon. Mr. Hanna, provincial secretary, was out of town yesterday, and so was Mr. Starr. Dr. Wilson, chairman of the license commission, who comes thru the ordeal very well indeed, declined to discuss the report in any of its phases. So did D. M. Defoe, one of the commissioners, who, the report says, should not be allowed to continue in the board while he profits by commissions on insurance placed by hotelmen. Inspector Purvis, who the commissioner understands is to resign at an early date, "seemed somewhat surprised last night when asked if he was considering tendering his resignation. He said that he had not had communication with Mr. Starr since last winter, when the investigation was on."

"Then you haven't decided to resign?" "I haven't given any notice of the kind," returned the inspector, who would not say that he had any intention of doing so in the future. He did not care to go further into matters until he had seen the report.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt received the report for the first time with a calm philosophy, tempered somewhat by resentment at the imputation that he had been willing to barter political influence for money. He said that he had no objection to the commissioner's comment on the endorsement of J. F. Hynes' $1000 note by L. J. Cosgrave, he said: "I am sure that the endorsement was made at the time that he endorsed Hynes' note, it was as nearly as my memory serves me, over a year after I had resigned from politics, so that it would not be presumed to have any influence in that direction."

"Further than that, Mr. Cosgrave was obliging. Hynes, for, if Hynes had not obtained a settlement with me of our real estate transaction, he was liable to criminal prosecution for not paying over money into the hands of the receiver on our joint account."

It will be recalled that at the investigation Dr. Nesbitt testified he had endorsed a note by Mr. Hynes for $1000, to enable the latter to obtain an option on a property on the west side of Yonge-street, south of Melinda-street, in 1884. The candidate for the position in South Toronto O. A. Howland (Cons.) and Hon. Charles Moss (Lib.) and in West Toronto Hon. Thomas Crawford (Con.) and G. G. S. Lindsay (Lib.)

Contributed to Campaign Funds.
In taking up the political branch of the investigation the commissioner epigrammatically remarked that if there had been such a formidable enemy as the liquor traffic—formidable enough in itself—in politics they had a double enemy to encounter. The minutes of the Licenseholders' Association in Toronto disclosed that they were a political association, and that they actually took part in politics. In proof of this fact he quoted from their minutes under date of June 1, 1894, and then continues that contributions were at this time made to the Liberal campaign fund in South and West Toronto. The general trend of the evidence showed that where the licenseholders had anything to sell or purchase in any way they approached directly the licenseholders and the brewers were not above making the approach. Dr. Wilson, since his appointment as chairman of the board had received many professional calls from hotelkeepers through the city, but had always refused them, except in some cases where they were apparently entrapped into the matter.

The License Report

SOLUTION:
That the administration of the whole license system of Ontario should be thru an independent salaried board of license commissioners, with chief inspectors for various provincial districts.

RECOMMENDATIONS:
That a percentage system be adopted in determining the amount of license fees, based on the value of the license put up at public tender at stated periods.

That four-fifths of the proceeds of license sales should go to the province and one fifth to the licensee, the government's share to be used for educative purposes.

That the license board should be able to promise a license to a man who could promise a suitable building.

That it solicitors were prevented from appearing before the board the appearance of evil would be prevented.

That the license commissioners are absolutely clean, but that so long as Mr. Defoe is in receipt of insurance commissions from licensees he should not be allowed to sit at the board.

That the crown attorney should look into the incidents connected with the Parkdale Hotel license sale.

FINDINGS:
That Hynes' $1000 cheque, endorsed by L. Cosgrave, a Liberal, was "a straight purchase of Dr. Nesbitt's political influence, or political friendship, whichever we choose to call it," and that Dr. Nesbitt must have known what Cosgrave was doing. The commissioner is "not aware of any law or policy that would restrict his (Nesbitt's) business operations," but "he was unfortunate in the line of business into which he ventured."

That members of the License Holders' Association in Toronto took part in politics and contributed to the campaign fund of the Liberal candidates in South and West Toronto in 1894; and that where a commissioner had anything to sell or could be approached indirectly the licensee and brewer were not above making the approach. "The licensee," says the report, "was really a creature of the political system and felt he must fight in his own way to protect himself." A change of politics of licensees, with a change of government, is held to have been proven.

That Chairman (Dr.) Wilson is to be commended for refusing to allow his business interests to be involved with license holders; that Commissioner Defoe's one lapse of soliciting business was improper.

That Inspector Purvis is to blame for his indiscretion in appearing so much with S. W. Burns. The inspector, it is stated, is to resign at an early date.

That little importance is to be attached to Hon. Dr. Pyne's interview with Mr. Flavell, but that Mr. Flavell's "high standard of political ethics" is certainly a safe one.

That the executive of the Second Ward Conservative Association have, altho not shown by the evidence, laid themselves "under the imputation that they were trying to run the commissioners."

COMMENTS:
That former License Inspector Hastings permitted a deplorable condition of affairs to exist during his time of office.

That the brewers use demand notes as a "club over the head of the unfortunate licensee."

MAY SEND ARMY OF 50,000 MEN

Large Franco-Spanish Force to Go to Fez, if Necessary.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The Echo de Paris' Madrid correspondent says it is rumored in military circles that France has proposed to Spain to send a Franco-Spanish army of 50,000 men to occupy the Moroccan ports and to go as far as Fez, if necessary. The correspondent says it is stated that Premier Maura and Gen. Martineau, chief of the headquarters staff, are opposed to this plan, but that the minister of war, Gen. Primo-Rivera, supports it. The Echo's Madrid correspondent says that Great Britain's influence contributed to a modification of Spain's attitude toward Morocco, Britain persuading her to co-operate effectively with French action and to conform to her rights and obligations as recognized by the treaty of Algeciras.

The correspondent at Madrid of The Matin says it is believed Spain will decide to send 5000 infantry and 500 cavalry to occupy Tangier, Tetuan and Larache, and establish a police force here.

Ready to Arbitrate.
A ray of hope for a possible solution of the vexing Moroccan problem came from the Moorish empire last night in the shape of an announcement that the tribesmen were ready to negotiate for peace. Vice-Admiral Philbert confirms this news in an official cablegram, stating that a delegation from the warring Arabs had asked Gen. Druce for an armistice pending a settlement of peace terms.

No great expectations are based upon this announcement, for there is some suspicion that the move may be a trick of the Moors to gain time to bring in reinforcements.

Premier Clemenceau announced tonight that he had summoned a cabinet meeting for Monday to consider the Moroccan question in all its phases.

"The situation is as good as possible," remarked the premier.

Acetylene Explosion at the Exhibition
To avoid misunderstanding and possible misrepresentation as to the explosion of acetylene at the annex building, Canadian National Exhibition, last Friday afternoon, the Siche Gas Co., Limited, begs to announce that this year, through pressure of other business, it had no Siche gas machines on the grounds, and made no exhibit. Siche gas having been exhibited in the annex building in 1902, when it took bronze medal and diploma, in 1903, with same awards, in 1904, when it was awarded silver medal and diploma, in 1905, when it took the only gold medal ever granted in Canada for a gas generator, and in 1906, when it took the special medal and diploma. It is identified with the annex building, hence the above explanation is necessary, as some might suppose that the recent explosion in silver medal and diploma building was caused by Siche gas, whereas it was not. There has never been an explosion or any other trouble with any machine manufactured by our company. The Siche Gas Co., Limited, 81 York-st., Toronto. Write for catalog and prices. Why use an old-fashioned, dangerous system of illumination such as "acetylene," when you can use Siche and be safe?

Wm. Stubbs, Ex-M. P., Believes Recent Change in Track at Caledon Aided in Disaster.

Wm. Stubbs, ex-M.P., of Caledon, in replying to a criticism concerning last week's disastrous wreck, incidentally makes mention of a hitherto unreported point, in that the C.P.R. recently lowered the outside rail of the horseshoe curve by three inches. Coroner Johnson a day or two ago had been attending to the same thing, and was arranging to call witnesses to learn the cause of the change and its possible effect on down traffic. It is understood that the alteration was made to facilitate up-bound freight traffic.

Mr. Stubbs' letter reads: "I see an article in The World of the 5th ult., as a communication from Mr. Andrew Dods, a solicitor of the City of Toronto, corroborated by Mr. Angus MacMurphy, counsel for the C.P.R., tending to the rescue of the C.P.R. and referring to the sad accident at the horseshoe curve at the Caledon Mountain, and trying to place the blame on me as the parliamentary representative of the constituency. The article states as follows: 'About three years ago the C.P.R. applied to the government for leave to change their route so as to join the Credit Valley line at Inglewood, and cut out this dangerous curve, but the government refused to allow it at the solicitation of William Stubbs, the member for Cardwell. Now, this was a case where the people's representative prevented the railway from avoiding the danger, and the railway is not to blame for the trouble. The curve is extremely dangerous and should be abandoned.' Angus MacMurphy, counsel for the C.P.R. last evening corroborated the above."

The Facts of the Case.
"Now, Mr. Editor, while giving Mr. Dods credit for his legal talent and ability, I am surprised at his audacity and also his ignorance on this question. And still more so at Mr. Angus MacMurphy, as he is the legal adviser for the C.P.R., and is in a position to know that these statements are not true."

"Now, in the interest of truth and my own reputation I am forced to give the facts. The C.P.R. never applied to the government to change this curve; neither by bill, motion, nor resolution in the house of commons. Therefore, the government could not be induced by my solicitation."

"What the C.P.R. Company did was to make an application to the railway committee of the privy council, asking leave to deviate by constructing a line from Mono-road station on the Toronto Grey and Bruce, to Inglewood station on the Credit Valley Railroad; and leave to lift their track from Mono-road to Melville Junction on the Bruce, thereby depriving the Village of Caledon of railway facilities."

"And as our municipality of Caledon Township held a bond for $45,000 against the company, binding said company to maintain a station within half a mile of the Village of Caledon, then the present one, these levels were not accepted. Mr. Robinson emphatically condemned the curve; and on commencing at the high level of the mountain, and succeeded in getting a line free from curves and of less gradient than the present one. These levels and recommendations should be in the possession of the C.P.R. Company. These not being accepted by the company, Mr. Robinson handed in his resignation, as he would not be responsible for this part of the line."

"Second, and also, for what scientific or practical reasons the C.P.R. Company recently lowered the outside rail on this horseshoe curve three inches? For I believe this to be one of the recent causes of Tuesday's sad fatality."

Caledon, Sept. 7, 1907.

R. L. BORDEN AT CHATHAM.
"The telephone above other business to be a success must be a monopoly. It should therefore be a department of the government. This is entirely feasible and I think it is bound to come and to come very soon in Canada."

Police Appeal to the Japanese to Refrain From Attacking Their Assailants --- Revolvers, Broken Bottles, Knives and Stones Used in the Affray.

CROWD BEGAN BY BURNING EFFIGY OF LIEUT. GOVERNOR

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 8.—For five hours during Saturday night Vancouver was riot-ruled by a mob. It was daylight this morning before the crowds were dispersed.

Police records show that the Chinese and Japanese parts of the city were wrecked and great damage done. Seven men only were placed under arrest, while a dozen persons, stabbed and bruised, became subjects for the hospital.

The Japanese, attacked, were so fierce in their self-defense that they were entreated by the police not to take the offensive but to merely resist attacks on themselves and their property, and not to take to the streets and fight openly.

In one case, when they did begin a determined fight, they forced the rioters to flee. The rioters, however, armed with sticks and bottles, and even knives, they charged the mob. "Bannai" filled the air. In five minutes the Japanese had cleared the street.

The rioting followed an anti-Japanese demonstration. Hundreds of whites had formed a procession, which ended at the city hall, where a meeting was to be held to bring to the attention of the federal government the need of stopping altogether Oriental immigration.

Long before the parade reached the meeting place the auditorium was crowded to overflowing. To find entertainment for itself the overflow of the crowd, seven or eight thousand strong, then sought diversion by cleaning out "Chinatown."

Dunsmuir Burned in Effigy.
But before this occurred there took place a disgraceful incident. The effigy of the chief of the Asiatic Exclusion League, lieutenant-governor of the province, none too popular at any time with the labor people, was burned in front of King Edward in British Columbia building himself into particular disfavor with the working men of the city last week, when two men declining to assent to the anti-Japanese legislation.

Their blood enflamed and taking courage in their numbers, the mob then headed for the Japanese and Chinese quarters. Probably the rioting in Washington State last week, when the mob of Hindoos were mobbed, suggested the attack.

Hundreds of the mikado's subjects, however, came to town early in the day to witness the parade and demonstration of the evening, and their passions were aroused. They were lighting a battle in the streets. If it had occurred it would probably have resulted in many fatalities.

But responding to the appeals of the police, who were powerless, in only one case did they make a determined fight. Then they put the rioters to flight.

It was early in the morning that this battle occurred, at the corner of Westminster-avenue and Powell-street. Four blocks along the latter thoroughfare are lined with Japanese stores.

Police Powerless.
Profiting by their experience in Chinatown during the evening, the police had stretched lines of appeals of the mob to make one effort to defend the entrance against all comers.

At this corner are three handsome Japanese general stores, and when thousands men surged around this point they suddenly, from away up the street, came the sound of the smashing of glass, as a plate glass front was stove in.

Instantly a hundred bricks flew from all directions at the corner stores; and in 15 seconds a thousand dollars of damage was done.

The Japs then could stand it no longer. From the stores from hallways, and from roofs they hurried into the street.

Up Powell-street a volley of pistol shots were heard, and the crowd, alarmed, turned its attention to this new scene of fighting.

The Japanese pursued, and the white men fled, only to take up the fight in another place where the little brown enemy were not nearly so well organized.

Fought Violently.
The Nipponese, however, had been well prepared for this street-corner attack. They used broken bottles to perfection, grasping in their hand the neck of a broken bottle, the Jap would jab it into the face or body of the nearest rioter, and many nasty wounds were inflicted. Knives, too, were used.

Two white men were so badly injured that they had to be carried away by the crowd.

By 2 o'clock this morning the crowd had begun to become thinner in places, and one by one seven rioters were gathered in. But even then police had literally to fight with the captives' friends for every step of the way to the station, which stands only two blocks away from the Japanese district.

As often as a rioter was laid hold of for heaving a brick thru a window, or assaulting a Chinaman, three or four dozen of his comrades would rush forward and snatch the arrested man from the police.

At one time, the fire department was called out to prevent the mob from setting fire to the Chinese and Japanese sections.

Thrown into Water.
At the C.P.R. wharves a dozen Japs were thrown into the water, but were rescued. Three white men were stabbed by Japs, and two others cut with broken bottles.

A newspaper man going home was held up by a Jap and when the latter was taken to the police station a search revealed a murderous looking knife. All night hands of armed Japs walked the streets, keyed to a high pitch by the excitement and bent on revenge. They were restrained, however.

It was a coincidence that Mr. Tahiti, imperial envoy of the Japanese Government, sent to investigate the whole question of immigration, arrived last night on his mission.

His worship the mayor expressed keen regret that such a riot should have taken place, and the morning paper, The News Advertiser, editorially points out that this occurrence will do more to harm the cause of exclusion than anything else.

To-day there is a distinctly nervous feeling.

Meeting Passed Resolutions.
The meeting in the city hall was under the auspices of the Asiatic Exclusion League. The speakers, however, counseled peace and moderation in any action that might be taken to secure legislation to exclude Orientals, and keep this a white man's country.

A resolution was passed to ask the Dominion Government to allow the National bill to become law, and that a resolution was also passed, asking Premier McBride to explain certain indefinite charges made against him by a party to the disallowance of this bill by an arrangement with Ottawa.

It was after this that the mob stormed Chinatown. Street orators gathered crowds, who even swarmed up telegraph poles.

While the speaking was going on, the music of breaking glass was acclaimed with joyful yells by hoodlums.

A SERIOUS SITUATION.
What effect will the anti-Japanese riots in Vancouver have in Toronto? If the comparatively slight disturbances in San Francisco created such an intense feeling of resentment, how will news of the attack by an ally's people be received?

"The fact is that this yellow-skinned invasion must cease, and to the people of the east must raise themselves and pay the most careful attention to their arguments and appeals in reference to this most important matter. This must learn that this is not a trivial, but on the contrary, a most serious and determined agitation, and the extreme west will take no denial of their legitimate claims and demands."

It is now a question for London to consider also.

Consul-General Noss, who represents Japan at Ottawa, not long since stated emphatically that his government would afford due protection to the Japanese in Canada.

"There is a treaty between Japan and Canada, which both nations are required to respect for our mutual advantages," he stated.

"The Japanese government has never entertained an idea of imposing immigration upon its good friend where they are not wanted."

"I trust, seeing that there is a strong feeling of friendship and amity on the part of the Canadians towards their neighbors across the Pacific, that things will soon be settled, and that this agitation may speedily belong to the things of the past. All we expect from the Canadians is fair play, nothing more, and I have every confidence that we can depend upon it."

POLICEMAN ATTACKED BY GANG OF RUFFIANS

Baton Broken Over His Head and He is Left Unconscious - A Case of Smallpox

HAMILTON, Sept. 8.—(Special).—Constable May was the victim of a murderous assault this afternoon at the hands of a number of ruffians, who attacked him at Brown's Wharf. The officer was relieved of his baton and rendered unconscious for half an hour. He is confined to his home tonight, under the doctor's care. May was doing plain clothes duty to-day, looking for crap shooters. He went to the wharf, where a gang was said to have been in progress, and found there about a dozen men. They were evidently engaged in a crap game, and the officer pounced on them suddenly in an attempt to arrest some of them. When the crowd saw that the officer was alone, they set upon him and beat him in a frightful manner. May drew his baton to defend himself, but the gang took this away from him and broke it over his head. He was rendered unconscious by the blows and left lying on the ground. The officer's assailants then ran away and about half an hour afterwards a passerby found May. He took him to the police station, from where he was removed to his home. Asides at the scene, Constable May said that he thought he could recognize some of his assailants. There is considerable indignation among the members of the police force over the fact that May was sent out alone on such an errand.

Minor Accidents on C.P.R. Tie Up Traffic at Several Points.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—The C. P. R. was blocked between Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning by two engines running off the rails. The first was when the electric car services from Hull parallels the track coming into Ottawa Central Depot. Shortly before 4 o'clock the east-bound trans-continental No. 2, coming from Hull, was derailed at the crossing. The engine got on the tracks, but the passengers were unhurt. The engine was considerably damaged and some telegraph poles knocked down. An auxiliary from Smith's Falls pulled the cars out after four hours' delay. Early Sunday morning an outbound freight got stuck on the Stittville grade, a draw casting was broken in trying to get away and the cars from Toronto trains were held up for hours at Carleton Junction.

VALUE OF A GOOD NAME

Trade Marks First Invented When Few People Could Read. Trade marks were first invented in the olden days when men would rather fight than read. When St. Crispian made the first leather shoe the shopkeeper did not put his name on the shoe, but he displayed some symbol or sign, so that he who ran might read. These symbols were afterwards stamped on the goods, and in time were recognized as the mark or trade mark of the merchant. Pictures are the basis of the universal language. As a means of identification, trade marks have sometimes been accepted in modern commerce as more effective than a firm name. The trade mark is registered, patented, copyrighted by government, and no other firm can use or sell goods bearing any marks nearly like the registered one, without being subject to a heavy penalty. In times, a trade mark which becomes known by everybody on sight, or a name which grows to be a household word, has a large monetary value. This is termed "Goodwill Value." An unworthy article, like an unworthy man, will change its name, and hide its face marks; while the Mark won by merit is proudly displayed. In Great Britain and the United States there are scores of valuable trade marks which would be worth as much as $100,000, while others are unobtainable. The development of the Canadian industries, which dates from 1878, has brought many valuable trade marks to the front. Perhaps the best known of these is the simple sign of a shoe slate, the trade symbol adopted by the Slater Shoe Company years ago, and since stamped on every shoe they make. The name "Slater" is always on the slate. It is not the intricacy nor the artistic style of a trade mark which counts. Its value is in what it stands for with the public. If a man or woman learns by experience that the trade mark is trustworthy and dependable, the value of the mark grows each year. The simpler the mark the easier it is to recall it. The Slater D. M. shoe, recently appointed to Normal School.

Dr. Hamilton Speaks of Caring Pimples

Gives Common Sense Advice that Every Person Can Employ at Home. "I believe all skin diseases such as pimples and eruptions originate through the failure of the eliminatory organs to pass certain poisonous wastes from the body. There is at all times a large accumulation of foul matter in the system, which, if not destroyed, gets into the blood. Germs and disease producing matter are thus circulated through the body. Ultimately they force their way through the pores of the skin, produce pimples, swelling, blotches and often eruptions horrible to look upon. I usually found the primary cause to be with the kidneys and bowels—these organs are too slow. My Pills of Mandrake and Butternut contain very active vegetable extracts that act on these organs instantly. They give strength, tone and vigor to the eliminatory organs that positively ensure a clean healthy body. A course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills puts the system in perfect order, they cleanse the system inside as soap and water does outside, they remove all poisons and poisons that block the avenues of health and life, make the skin smooth, restore roses to the cheeks and that brightness to the eye that denotes good health. Because Mild, Safe, Efficient, anyone can use Dr. Hamilton's Pills with perfect result."

Commissioner Spain's Verdict in 'Collision of Lake Steamers.'

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Considerable surprise has been evinced in Quebec circles at the severity of the judgment handed out by Wreck Commissioner Spain in the case of the sinking of the sailing barge Germaine by the steamer Imperial belonging to the St. Lawrence Navigation Company.

The steamer was leaving port when it suddenly swung from the centre of the river and rammed the barge which was tied to her deck, sinking her at once.

Writes Anxious Relatives He'll Explain It All Later.

Arthur Worfolk's relatives are no longer uneasy over his non-appearance at home.

They received a letter from him on Saturday which stated that he was in Fort William and had gone there on a 'dare' from some chums.

He said he would explain things more fully later and would be home in a few days.

Worfolk, who is 24 years old and a decorator, disappeared last Monday.

Marvelous.

This was the verdict of all roller skaters in reference to the large attendance at the Excelsior Roller Rink on Saturday evening.

The World reporter called on Mr. A. Butler, the manager, on Saturday evening, and was somewhat surprised to see the rink packed to its full capacity by lovers of the whirly-gig art, owing to the special attractions on the island oval and the exhibition.

Mr. Butler accepted the large attendance as a matter of course and remarked that the rink had not known a poor session to date.

'I understand you have the best floor surface in Toronto, Mr. Butler?' asked the reporter.

'Yes, we have,' was the reply, 'and we also have the finest equipped rink in Toronto. Come this way and I'll show you the ladies' room and the gentlemen's smoking room.'

Everything is certainly up to date. The building is designed and built especially for roller rink skating, and therefore affords many advantages, such as perfect ventilation, spacious, nicely furnished waiting and smoking rooms that the ordinary rinks cannot present.

The patronage at the Excelsior is excellent and none of the objectionable element are permitted to enter the rink.

The management are out to secure the best people to skate on the best floor in the finest rink in Toronto.

Tuesday night they hold their first contest for ladies and gentlemen skating in couples. A record crowd is anticipated.

PLAIN TALK FROM THE DOCTOR.

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder troubles, stated that the following prescription is due a great deal of his success:

One ounce fluid extract dandelion.

One ounce compound salutar.

Four ounces compound syrup sarsaparilla.

Mix and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, drinking plenty of water.

This medicine, he says, positively cures any diseases arising from weak, clogged or inactive kidneys, and will assist these organs to cleanse the blood of the poisonous waste matter and acids, which if allowed to remain, cause lumbago, lame back, rheumatism and sciatica, and at the same time will restore the kidneys to healthy normal action. The ingredients, which are purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can be procured from any good druggist and mixed at home at very little cost.

This advice will undoubtedly be much appreciated by many readers.

WONDERFUL NUGGET advertisement with text: 'One of the most remarkable discoveries on record is being shown at the exhibition. The people wonder at seeing a shoe polished with the "Nugget" polish immediately afterward washed. The water runs off the shoe "like water off a duck's back" and the shine is not destroyed, which proves that this polish is a waterproof polish. The demonstrator then proceeds to dry the shoe on a clean towel, but the polish does not rub off and so it, which is conclusive evidence that it will not come off on the clothes in wet weather.'

Political Intelligence

Le Canada (Lib.) thinks that Mr. Borden is adding to his burden by asking Rufus Pope to re-enter public life. It submits that he over-estimates the credulity of the Canadian people.

SHAM FIGHT IN GERMANY.

80,000 Men Engaged—Kaiser is Chief Umpire.

CASSEL, Germany, Sept. 8.—The imperial army manoeuvres opened today. The general initial idea is that the Red army was attacked by the Blue army Sept. 5-6, between Duesman and Lutzen, and driven back towards Teutoburger Wald. Lieut.-Gen. Count von Moltke is directing the manoeuvres, while the Emperor William is the chief umpire.

It was announced originally that the manoeuvres would engage fewer men than usual this year, but nearly 80,000, including 10,000 cavalry, will take part. Besides, there will be several thousand teamsters, mechanics, etc., engaged.

The foreign military attaches, representatives of the various royal houses, and British, American, Dutch and Austrian officers, who were especially invited, are witnessing the operations.

CHURCH'S WORK IS MISSIONARY

The Bishop of London Preaches Inspiring Sermon at Quebec on Duty of Church.

QUEBEC, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The Lord Bishop of London preached his first Canadian sermon in the cathedral here to-day, to a crowded congregation, which included the Governor-General, Lady Grey and staff.

Taking for his text the words: "A City That is Upon a Hill Cannot Be Hid," he said it was almost impossible for those whose lives had been spent in Quebec to quite enter into the feelings with which a new-comer from across the seas catches his first glimpse of the city set upon the hill of Stadacona.

He remembered, however, when he lived at Oxford, people passed the martyr's memorial and other historic sites without any special realization of what was so near to them, and so he would like to be allowed to express the almost exaggerated enthusiasm of the man who finds himself for the first time in Quebec.

He must needs think of Cartier, who, if he had achieved nothing else, had planted here the cross of Champlain, who taught the Indians the glorious Jesuit missionaries, and all they did and suffered, and of those heroic nuns who, in the early days, carried on the work of teaching, with their lives in their hands, and nursed the sick for the glory of God.

Here, too, one saw for the first time in his life the historic plains where the great Montcalm and the glorious Wolfe fought in mortal combat. No city could be more fittingly described as a city that is upon a hill than Quebec, not only because of its majestic natural situation, but also because of the pinnacle of its deathless renown.

It was one of the most famous spots of the world, and, therefore, coming to them to-day, as a brother from across the sea, to say some brotherly words of cheer to the workers here, he felt that he could not do better than ask what our Saviour meant by the words of the text. It was an intimation that the world had its eye upon those to whom the words were addressed, and hence the preacher pointed out what Quebec and what Canada might be expected to accomplish. Would they remain religious in an age when new ideas were endeavoring to fret away the Christian faith, just as the St. Lawrence was fretting away the base of the mighty rock? Then he pointed out the great mission of fusing two nations into one, which Canada was expected to accomplish. He referred to the touching scenes witnessed among the steerage passengers bound for the great west, and the Victorian, for whom Quebec was the gateway to hope of future homes and happiness.

The church in Canada was set upon a hill at the present time, and should be before all other churches a missionary one, determined that every one of the new citizens of the Northwest should have the privileges of church and sacraments.

He urged the fact that each individual Christian faith, just as the St. Lawrence and appealed to Canadian churchmen to keep their lights burning, that hundreds might find their doorway to that land of promise, that city without foundations, whose maker and builder is God.

Warton—Past and Present

The Legend of Spirit Rock—The Industries and Business of a Future City.

It is not so very long ago that Warton was not, and the picturesque site upon which it stands was a wilderness of rock and woods surrounding the commodious land-locked bay. Its first log shanty, built by a James Lennox, dates only from 1864, when the bay was called simply the portage by the white men, and the bay by the Indians.

It stands at the eastern base of that peninsula which divides Georgian Bay from the bay of the straits, and its waters on the east, was a favorite hunting and fishing paradise for the aborigines. Pressed north, up the peninsula by the invading whites, what were left of them were located at Cape Croker, under the protecting wing of the government, there the first white man's happy past, while the strenuous white signs for a happy future, while he transforms the locality into a paradise of the west.

The memory of the aborigine, however, still lingers in a tradition that clings to the "Spirit Rock," which can be seen from the bay, and which, in the native elements have chased the heroic features of an Indian maiden. "Time was when the Indian tribe claimed ownership of the territory, and the aborigine, who envied their red brothers the possession of such a favored country. In one of their contests, the aborigine tribe carried off a captive, the "Flower of the West," a lovely daughter of the chief of the tribe, and devoted her to a life of slavery.

Another resource, the supply, as at Owen Sound, being unlimited, is marl, and the material is utilized by the local cement Co., whose output is 1000 barrels daily, which it expects soon to double.

A number of years ago, what was expected to be a large and profitable iron works, but which was largely and profitably stalled. The buildings of the plant, with its machinery and appliances, still stand on the east side of the bay. Into it, apart from other capital, went some of the aid of an expert, into the ground. Now it is mooted that a company contemplate the purchase of it for a distillery. Of course, the industries named warrant an iron works, and a factory of the kind, and a clear & son's foundry and machine shop meets the requirements, but only in part. It is not mentioning that half a million railroads ties are shipped yearly from here.

There is located here also, by the Dominion Fish Co., the largest storage house in the province. To recapitulate, the bay is largely and profitably invested here, in additional sawmills, and all kinds of wood-working concerns, and there is a special need for increased foundry and machine shop facilities.

Two steamers, carrying freight and passengers, call weekly on a route via Owen Sound, to the Manitowish, or Fish Islands, and its southern line of transport is the G. T. R. A number of tug steamers are in daily use. The town here is especially noted for its waterworks plants, and all the usual lines of business in a town of 3000 inhabitants are represented, with good stocks—several in each line. There are, in addition, a public library and a board of trade that is really an active organization, which cannot be truthfully said of many Canadian towns.

It consists of business men, Mr. Johnston, secretary. These, together with the Hon. Mr. William McEwan, Town Clerk, W. J. Ferguson, Norman Robertson, county treasurer, and B. E. Miller, police magistrate, together with the business men generally, show a lively interest in the town's prosperity. By way of marking the rapid change in all things terrestrial, the first drug store opened in the village by the pioneer, James Peterson, is the only surviving business enterprise of that period.

This sketch would be incomplete without reference to the resort of Oliphant, seven miles across the peninsula, on Lake Huron, where there are some 75 summer cottages, a shallow, white sand shore, numerous small islands that render it attractive, and fish galore. Three miles away, too, is Bedford Lake, a body of water clear as crystal and abounding in bass. W. J. S.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE ON NEUTRALS AND WAR. Opposition to British Proposal Spoken of as a "Master-stroke."

THE HAGUE, Sept. 8.—Baron Marschall von Bieberstein in belligerent territories at yesterday's sitting of the peace conference caused a sensation in the conference and the proposition on the subject was referred to the committee by 88 votes to 3, the United States, Cuba and Brazil forming the minority.

It was understood that reservation to the proposal which Great Britain had been working very hard to carry thru. Great Britain proposed in one article, that "belligerent cannot require from a neutral services which make directly for war," while foregoing cannot be applied to "persons belonging to the army of a belligerent country, according to the laws of such country," thus practically nullifying the first article.

Baron Marschall von Bieberstein's unexpected declaration in a plenary sitting of the conference, instead of regarding as a master stroke against Great Britain. The German delegate in the course of a private conversation, said that Germany never would allow the millions of German subjects spread all over the world in foreign countries, to be obliged to take up arms for the country where they reside, and, perhaps, be forced to fight against the fatherland.

The Venezuelan delegates were not present at yesterday's sitting. The real important work Saturday was outside the plenary session, and was found in the meeting between Joseph H. Choate and James Bryce, the Americans; Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, Germany; M. Neldoff, Russia; Count Tornielli, Italy; M. Bourgeois, France; Dr. J. B. de Wet, South Africa; and M. de Torny, Hungary, a committee appointed to solve the matter of the allotment of judges for the permanent court of arbitration.

They agreed upon two principles, the equality of all states in the election of judges and the selection of judges free from all consideration of their nationality.

I mean to start a big demonstration in Japan for the development of Canadian trade there.

Under the arrangements made some years ago the Japanese government agreed to limit the number of Japanese arrivals in Canada to five or six hundred, and this agreement has been kept. Honolulu, however, have come in via Hawaii and the United States.

What Canada is desirous of doing and what the Ottawa authorities have hoped to succeed in doing is to get an arrangement with Japan so that the number of arrivals in this country will be limited to 500 or 600 a year, no matter whether they come from Honolulu or Japan, instead of saying that only that number will leave Japan for Canada.

Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the interior, a few weeks ago made a trip to the coast to investigate the state of matters. In an interview on his return he said: "It is only this spring that the great influx has taken place, and its suddenness has alarmed the people. An important feature of the case is that the immigrants are not coming from Japan, but the Sandwich Islands, and although they are Japanese citizens, the Japanese Government has no legal control over their movement. There is no restriction to the movement to the Sandwich Islands, and after they obtain permission to go there they may go whither they choose."

"I cannot quote my authority—but people who are landing in British Columbia hold passports to the Sandwich Islands dated only this spring. If their passports were dated years ago it could be readily conceived—so it is argued—that the conditions of the labor market there might be the cause of the present influx. The idea is practically confined to the coast cities. Japanese in numbers have not penetrated the up-country district, but I have no doubt that if the same conditions should become evident to the minds of the inhabitants there similar feelings would be evoked. If the Japanese Government could show its adherence in spirit as well as letter to the understanding of some years ago I think there would be comparatively little cause of complaint."

What was the remedy? Suggests Remedy.

Mr. Borden then took up the scandalous extravagance of the Laurier government. He recalled the startling graft involved in the expedition of the Arctic. Why had the government paid $1.34 a pound for tobacco when they could have bought it for 67 cents? Why did they pay $10,000 for 8000 pounds of pemican when it could have been purchased from Wm. Davies Co. for $2000?

Mr. Borden then exposed the schemes by which favorites of the Dominion Government were enabled to buy for a few hundred dollars, timber limits and land and grazing leases worth $200,000, $300,000 and even $500,000. He reviewed the Balmorais land deal, the Saskatchewan Valley land grant and other scandals.

Election frauds were then taken up and Mr. Borden charged that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues had so condoned ballot stealing, ballot burning, ballot switching and the like, that in 1898 there had been a carnival and orgy of electoral corruption. Elections were rapidly coming to a mere show-down of the money on hand, on both sides.

What was the remedy? Suggests Remedy.

Referring to the fiscal issue, Mr. Borden declared himself a strong protectionist. He had our raw material and this raw material must be transformed into finished product by the labor of Canadian workmen. Let our tariff be extended so as to protect the farmer and insure for him the entire home market.

Mr. Borden then touched upon the subject of immigration. Allied to this subject was the subject of public lands in Saskatchewan and Alberta. These lands had been retained by the Dominion Government temporarily, and later subsidies paid to the provinces in lieu thereof. It was the policy of the Conservative party to cede these lands to the provinces and refund the provincial subsidies accordingly. Mr. Borden is opposed to the bonus system, and declared himself as preferring quality to quantity in the matter of immigration.

R. L. BORDEN AT OPERA HOUSE. OPENS ONTARIO CAMPAIGN

Good Reception to Conservative Leader at Depot and Enthusiastic Meeting in Opera House-Macdonell and Clements Other Speakers.

CHATHAM, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The inauguration of the Ontario tour of R. L. Borden here to-day was, on the whole, quite gratifying to his friends. Bad weather and a belated train were not without their effect, but Mr. Borden's reception was hearty and he made a very good impression. His references to public ownership elicited more applause than anything else.

Mr. Borden was accompanied by A. Claude Macdonell, M.P., and a number of newspaper correspondents. At the station a large crowd had assembled and hearty cheers greeted Mr. Borden. There was a band and a procession formed and the meeting assembled at the opera house, J. M. Pike presiding. The opera house was well filled, but not crowded, perhaps 1000 people being present.

The night meeting was not so well attended, for the weather was quite stormy and inclement. Matthew Wilson, K.C., took the chair at 8.15 p.m. and spoke at considerable length, the main summarizing Mr. Borden's speech this afternoon. Among those present to-night was Hon. Dr. Reaume, G. W. Sulman, candidate for the provincial legislature, appealed to his friends, who had elected him mayor of Chatham, to now elect him the local member.

Mr. Sulman spoke eloquently upon the school book reform. He is a stationer by trade and lamented that under the Ross government he was compelled to charge for a 20-cent school book. That was no longer necessary under the Whitney government.

Mr. Borden was then introduced and received quite an ovation. He complimented the ladies upon their attendance and their interest in the country. "We began this tour," said Mr. Borden, "at Halifax. Hence we proceeded to busy Cape Breton, and from there to the Town of Middleton in the Annapolis Valley."

Mr. Borden then took up the scandalous extravagance of the Laurier government. He recalled the startling graft involved in the expedition of the Arctic. Why had the government paid $1.34 a pound for tobacco when they could have bought it for 67 cents? Why did they pay $10,000 for 8000 pounds of pemican when it could have been purchased from Wm. Let our tariff be extended so as to protect the farmer and insure for him the entire home market.

Mr. Borden then touched upon the subject of immigration. Allied to this subject was the subject of public lands in Saskatchewan and Alberta. These lands had been retained by the Dominion Government temporarily, and later subsidies paid to the provinces in lieu thereof. It was the policy of the Conservative party to cede these lands to the provinces and refund the provincial subsidies accordingly. Mr. Borden is opposed to the bonus system, and declared himself as preferring quality to quantity in the matter of immigration.

Management of I. C. R.

Referring to public ownership and railway corporations, Mr. Borden criticized the administration of the I.C.R. He thought that great system should be managed by a non-partisan commission. Such a commission, he would ridicule government ownership. If so, then the Conservative party stood ready to extend a state-owned railway

Dr. Orr Will Start Upon a Campaign at Once to Improve the Facilities for Those Who Attend.

The weather of Saturday wasn't the best that might have been provided for the closing day of the exhibition, but also skies were dark and rain was threatened more than 40,000 people are stated to have found their way into the grounds, which had, once again, a nickel was a passport.

While the attendance in the grandstand for the afternoon, when a really good card of sports supplemented the variety show, was disappointingly small, a very fair crowd, but a large one, as it is now stated, that the increase will only be about $500. However, Dr. Orr says the advance in grandstand receipts is a very heavy surplus this year will, it is said, be only about $10,000.

The intention expressed at Saturday's luncheon of the directors that a new eastern entrance is absolutely required, was echoed by Dr. Orr last night.

"I intend to start right in Monday morning to fight for the entrance," he announced, adding, "it will have the effect of doubling the attendance." The most noticeable thing about this year's fair was the number of strangers. Toronto people, as a rule, only make a life to see the exhibition, and the crowding for the cars was enough."

As befitted the occasion the wind-ward side of the 1907 exhibition, the remarks of President W. K. George at the concluding luncheon were of the character of a general review.

While the exhibition had turned over to the civic government an average of from $30,000 to $50,000 during the last few years, this was a very small portion of the benefit derived by the city. The railway stated that they brought in between 400,000 and 500,000 people to the fair, and at an average expenditure of $10 per capita, the city and the civic government are enriched by $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

The exhibition had some important needs, and among the reasons for the pressing was that of a new transportation building. The transportation interests were very great, and in past years the exhibition had been the scene of the most attractive, but there had not been sufficient time to erect a building to replace the one destroyed by fire. It is a building which will be on the grounds next year.

"In order to erect it, we will have to readjust our present entrance," pursued Dr. Orr, "and we will have to make a new entrance in keeping with the character of the exhibition. The entrance we have to-day is almost the last relic of the same, our big, old, cheap and poor looking to do us credit. These are two things for which we should have as soon as possible plans made out and contracts let."

More Car Facilities.

And Canadian, Australian and American car facilities, such as the omnibuses, should come none of us would have to change our ideas, and none of us would then have cause to feel anything but pride in our brothers in arms.

"In peace we may be much to each other. Indeed, we must be much to each other. The Anglo-Saxon blood which stirs within our veins should not leap the less quickly to aid each other in war than in peace. Our interests are the same, and we must stand together as we are and must always be friends."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was present at the banquet and warmly congratulated the victors.

Mr. Borden then took up the scandalous extravagance of the Laurier government. He recalled the startling graft involved in the expedition of the Arctic. Why had the government paid $1.34 a pound for tobacco when they could have bought it for 67 cents? Why did they pay $10,000 for 8000 pounds of pemican when it could have been purchased from Wm. Davies Co. for $2000?

Mr. Borden then exposed the schemes by which favorites of the Dominion Government were enabled to buy for a few hundred dollars, timber limits and land and grazing leases worth $200,000, $300,000 and even $500,000. He reviewed the Balmorais land deal, the Saskatchewan Valley land grant and other scandals.

Election frauds were then taken up and Mr. Borden charged that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues had so condoned ballot stealing, ballot burning, ballot switching and the like, that in 1898 there had been a carnival and orgy of electoral corruption. Elections were rapidly coming to a mere show-down of the money on hand, on both sides.

Good Reception to Conservative Leader at Depot and Enthusiastic Meeting in Opera House-Macdonell and Clements Other Speakers.

CHATHAM, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The inauguration of the Ontario tour of R. L. Borden here to-day was, on the whole, quite gratifying to his friends. Bad weather and a belated train were not without their effect, but Mr. Borden's reception was hearty and he made a very good impression. His references to public ownership elicited more applause than anything else.

Mr. Borden was accompanied by A. Claude Macdonell, M.P., and a number of newspaper correspondents. At the station a large crowd had assembled and hearty cheers greeted Mr. Borden. There was a band and a procession formed and the meeting assembled at the opera house, J. M. Pike presiding. The opera house was well filled, but not crowded, perhaps 1000 people being present.

The night meeting was not so well attended, for the weather was quite stormy and inclement. Matthew Wilson, K.C., took the chair at 8.15 p.m. and spoke at considerable length, the main summarizing Mr. Borden's speech this afternoon. Among those present to-night was Hon. Dr. Reaume, G. W. Sulman, candidate for the provincial legislature, appealed to his friends, who had elected him mayor of Chatham, to now elect him the local member.

Mr. Sulman spoke eloquently upon the school book reform. He is a stationer by trade and lamented that under the Ross government he was compelled to charge for a 20-cent school book. That was no longer necessary under the Whitney government.

Mr. Borden was then introduced and received quite an ovation. He complimented the ladies upon their attendance and their interest in the country. "We began this tour," said Mr. Borden, "at Halifax. Hence we proceeded to busy Cape Breton, and from there to the Town of Middleton in the Annapolis Valley."

Mr. Borden then took up the scandalous extravagance of the Laurier government. He recalled the startling graft involved in the expedition of the Arctic. Why had the government paid $1.34 a pound for tobacco when they could have bought it for 67 cents? Why did they pay $10,000 for 8000 pounds of pemican when it could have been purchased from Wm. ### BALMY BEACH CITIZEN MEETS DEATH ON TRACK

Junction Lacrosse Player is Seriously Hurt While Playing Game—County Items.

EAST TORONTO, Sept. 8.—William J. Townley of Birch-avenue, Balmy Beach, a member of the firm of Townley & London, decorators, 19 Richmond-street, city, and well-known in East Toronto, met with a tragic death on the G.T.R. tracks a short distance east of the pumping station on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Townley on Saturday had taken a walk up past the golf grounds, and crossing over the G.T.R. tracks, crossed for some time with Mr. Newlands, the engineer in charge of the G.T.R. pumping house. After leaving the latter, it is supposed he was making his way back along the tracks, intending to return home, when he was struck by a westbound freight and thrown on the other track, where the body was again struck by the transfer engine running west. Both legs were crushed, and his skull fractured.

Coroner Britton ordered the removal of the body to Cobblefield's undertaking rooms, where a jury was empaneled, and an inquest opened. The jury subsequently went down to the scene of the accident.

Dr. Walters last night performed a post mortem, and the inquest will be reopened on Tuesday night in the town hall. The body was to-day removed to his late home on Birch-avenue, from which place the funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon to Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, and will be under the auspices of King Solomon Lodge, A. F. and A. M.

Deceased was also a member of William Johnson, L.O.L., Royal Arch Lodge, and of Capital Lodge, A.O.U.W. Mr. Townley was about 50 years of age.

Before he was associated in the firm of Townley & London he was for many years in the employ of the Elgin Co., West King-street. He is survived by a widow, one married daughter, Mrs. Dunn, and two daughters and two sons at home. William J. Townley of the Bolton-avenue fire department is the eldest son of the deceased, and Frank Smith, district chief of the fire department, Capt. William Smith of truck 1, and Capt. John Smith of loss 10 are brothers-in-law.

Deceased has a brother in Vancouver, and his aged mother is now absent on a visit there. The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. E. A. McIntyre, St. Alder's Church.

John West, an old and highly respected resident of Scarborough Village, died on Saturday night in his 77th year. Deceased was well-known throughout the township, and is survived by a daughter and two sons.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson of Main-street died yesterday. The funeral will take place to-morrow to St. John's Cemetery, Norway.

LAMBTON MILLS.

Great Concourse Attend Funeral of Popular Young Man.

LAMBTON MILLS, Sept. 8.—The funeral of the late George Atkinson, the young market gardener who was killed on Wednesday evening last, took place yesterday afternoon in the cemetery of St. George's Church, Islington. Long before the funeral procession arrived, the church grounds were filled with people, mostly neighbors, showing the esteem in which the young man was held by all who knew him. Expressions of sympathy were heard on every side for the family. The most pathetic figure in the little group of mourners was Mrs. Atkinson, his mother, who was overcome with grief, and had to be supported on her way from the carriage into the church. The coffin was completely covered with flowers, and there were many additional floral tributes received from the Foresters and from friends.

The Islington Lodge of the Independent Order of Foresters, of which deceased was a popular member, attended in a body, and conducted a short burial service at the graveside. The church service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Tremayne of Mimico. The chief mourners were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, Miss Elsie Atkinson, sister, and Joseph Atkinson, brother of deceased. The funeral was held at 2 p.m., when a committee from the Foresters and William Tomlinson, Archie, Edward and Chester Thompson and Norman Winters. There were five mourners' coaches and about twenty-five rigs in attendance at the funeral.

A new bridge is about to be elected across the Humber at Lambton Mills, and the new one is built in part of the old one.

at the city hall on Saturday before Detective Inspector Rogers, assisted by Acting Crown Attorney Monahan.

Rose Palmer, who was arrested on suspicion of having set fire to several places, was present, accompanied by his solicitor, S. H. Bradford.

J. E. Matthews, Nellie Nowell, D. Burke, Sarah Mullock, Maria Tyler, F. Rose, S. McCormick, W. Hollifield and W. Wilson, all residents of the district, testified but the evidence they gave threw little additional light upon the mystery. Rose and Mrs. Tyler, who are brother and sister, were expected to make some very damaging statements with regard to an alleged conversation with Palmer, but both emphatically denying having heard him say anything out of place.

William Wilson of Dixie, Palmer's brother-in-law, proved a very obstinate witness, and was repeatedly cautioned by Inspector Rogers to be more careful in his statements. Attorney Monahan pushed the matter forward, and Palmer, who was closely associated with Palmer, brought a strong protest from Mr. Bradford.

David Burke, who lives next door to Palmer, asserted that on the night of the fire at the latter's house he wanted to break in the door and save some of the furniture, when Palmer restrained him, saying, "Don't do it. It is insured. Let it go." Burke recalled Palmer should do it himself. He replied: "I would not risk my life for a few dollars. The enquiry closed and Inspector Rogers stated that he would make his report to the clerk of the peace of the county."
