SITUATION AT MUKDEN.

Has Kuropatkin 300,000 Men? Both Sides on Alert--Capt. Cullen's Statement--Kamimura Goes Back.

Tokio, Jan. 24.--In well-informed quarters here it is said that the Russian army at Mukden was recently reinforced by four divisions. Its present strength is estimated at nine army corps, or 300,000 men of all arms. General Kuropatkin's headquarters are at Fong Mountain in close touch with the Mukden-Pushun line. The Russians lately have been heavily strengthening their defences. At present two and a half divisions are facing General Oka, two corps are before General Nodzu, and the greater strength of three corps confronts General Kuraki and guards the coal mines in the vicinity of the Fuhua valley. Between the opposing armies is a network of trenches. Kuraki's outposts are within 500 yards of the Russians, entrenched along the line of ridges near Kwan-tai Mountain. Cannonading and rifle firing are constantly taking place, but owing to the intense cold, there seems to be no immediate likelihood of a great battle.

Kamimura Goes Back.

Tokio, Jan. 24.--Vice Admiral Kamimura left yesterday to rejoin his fleet. It was recently announced that the Russian fleet in the Sea of Japan was believed to have been repaired and it was thought it might come out at any moment. The navy department is strenuously preparing for the second stage of the war.

Is This a Fairy Tale?

The Russian agents here offered Captain Cullen fifty thousand dollars to go to Paris to testify before the North Sea commission that Russia had reason to fear torpedo boats or submarines, but he refused.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTION IS THREAT TO C.

St. Petersburg is uneasy in Anticipation of Further Trouble --- Ten thousand Men on Strike in Moscow--Newspapers Suspend Publication and Printing Works Close --- Residents Fleeing for Safety---More Strikes.

Proclamations.

The correspondent of the Associated Press, notified several men distributing proclamations. The people formerly were shy of accepting such documents, now they eagerly accept them and have nicknamed them "Lantotke" (swallows) an allusion to the spring which has become a synonym of revolution. The correspondent assured a number of copies. They were all signed by "The Russian Social Democratic Labor Party." One proclamation dated January 22, reads: "Comrades--So long as autocracy exists no improvement in our condition is possible. Therefore we continue to inscribe on our banners the following demands:--

The immediate cessation of war.

"The summoning of a constituent assembly of representatives of the people elected by universal and equal suffrage, and direct secret ballot.

The removal of race and class privileges and restrictions.

"The inalienability of the person and domicile.

Freedom of conscience, speech, the press, meetings, strikes and political operations.

A second proclamation dated Jan. 23--"The proletariat of all countries are united. Citizens who yesterday witnessed the official proclamation of the autocratic government. You saw blood flowing in the streets. You saw hundreds slaughtered defenders of the cause of labor. You saw the death of heard the groans of the wounded, women and defenseless children. The blood and brains of workmen were spattered around where their heads had been laid. You directed the soldiers to aim their rifles and fire bullets at the breasts of the laborers?"

"It was the emperor, the grand dukes, the ministers, the generals the nobles of the court. They are the ones who have done this."

"To arms, comrades. Seize the arsenals and the arms at the depots and at the gunsmiths, say 'long live the people and in no way improve the situation or put a stop to the growth of the revolutionary spirit. All the newspapers comment on occurrences at St. Petersburg as extremely serious and deeply significant and the movement of the people of St. Petersburg toward the winter palace is compared to the march of the people of Paris on Versailles in 1789, it is declared the Emperor's answering the people's petition with the bullet and sabre of his soldiers will irretrievably bind the breach between him and his subjects."

A special constable on duty at the embassy witnessed the act but was unable to get to the spot in time to arrest the man who eluded pursuit. The incident is regarded as simply the act of a common thief.

Austrian Opinion.

Vienna, Jan. 24.--The occurrence of the Russian Revolution here made the deepest impression here up on all classes and are practically the whole topic of discussion in the principal cafes, club and diplomatic and official circles. The feeling prevails in anti-Russian quarters that open revolution has begun and that there is no telling when it will end.

Deplorable circles here are deeply concerned over the St. Petersburg news. It is believed however, that the present disorder will soon be put down by the troops now in St. Petersburg but in some quarters it is thought that so doing will only increase the bitterness of the people and in no way improve the situation or put a stop to the growth of the revolutionary spirit.

DEATH IS PREFERABLE TO PRESENT SUFFERINGS.

This is the Cry of the Russian Strikers--Full Text of Their Appeal to the Czar--Father Gopon, Leader of the Strike.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—There were no disturbances in the city last night. The military had complete control of the situation. Conditions appeared to be ominous when, shortly after dark, the workmen in two electric light plants walked out, refusing triple pay to remain, and plunged the city into utter darkness, including the Nevsky Prospect, which is in the fashionable residential quarter. The water supply also was cut off, and a veritable panic ensued.

and official robbery, which are stifling the people. Order and law will be made Russia happy and glorious, and inscribe your name forever in the hearts of your people and their posterity, whilst should you repulse and reject our prayer, we will die in this square before your palace. We have nowhere else to go. Only two paths are open to us, either towards liberty and happiness, or to the grave. Should our lives serve as a holocaust for suffering Russia we shall not regret the sacrifice, but shall bear it willingly.

Gopon, Leader of Strike.

The priest, George Gopon, is an interesting personality. He is idolized by the workmen, who since the beginning of the strike have furnished him with a bodyguard. He has been accompanied everywhere by a score of laybrothers, and has not been sleeping at his own home for a week for fear of the very contingency of arrest by the police which is reported to have happened last night. As a peasant swineherd when a boy he showed such capacity for learning that he was sent to the Paltava Ecclesiastical Seminary to be educated as a monk. His leaning towards politics led to his exclusion from the seminary, and this exclusion prompted a desire to get along to the people and share their lot. He was determined to become a priest, in distinction from a monk, and overcame many obstacles, finally being graduated from the St. Petersburg Ecclesiastical Academy. He then took up work among the laboring classes, whose leader he speedily became. He shows an evident genius for organization. Father Gopon is believed to be the heart and soul of the whole movement.

Strike in Moscow.

Moscow, Jan. 23.—8 p. m.—Employees of the Bromley metal works to the number of 1,000 met this afternoon and declared that they were unable to continue at work because their St. Petersburg comrades had asked them to strike. They immediately left the works, formed a procession, marched through the streets and begged their fellow workmen in all industrial establishments to join in the movement. A majority of those who were thus requested to quit work complied. Afterwards the strikers visited the Stetin printing works, the largest establishment of the kind in Moscow, and belonging to the millionaire publisher Sytin, and induced the men employed there to strike. The works closed at 5 p. m.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—The general strike in Moscow is proceeding on exactly the same lines as the St. Petersburg strike. The organization and methods are identical.

London, Jan. 23.—A despatch from Moscow to Reuters' Telegram Company says:

"The deputy prefect has issued a proclamation warning the public, in view of the strike, to avoid assemblies and processions, otherwise the same severe measures will be adopted as at St. Petersburg. The following is the text of the strikers' petition to the emperor: 'We, workers, inhabitants of St. Petersburg, of all classes, our wives, children and indigent parents, come to you, our sovereign, for protection. We are poor, persecuted, burdened with labor beyond our strength. We have no other means of support but as slaves, who ought to bear their cruel fate in silence. We have suffered, but are being plunged deeper in the mire and deprived of our rights. Uninstructed, stifled by destitution and injustice, we are perishing. We have no strength left. Sir, we have arrived at the extreme limits of endurance, when death is to be preferred to a continuation of our intolerable sufferings. We have left our work and informed our employers that we will not resume until our demands are conceded. We have not asked anything we have asked but for means of livelihood, without which life is a burden and labor continual torture. Our first request is that our masters should investigate our case. They have refused. We have been denied the right to put forward our claim, it being held that such right is not recognized by law. Any one of us who dared raise his voice in the interests of the people of the working classes has been thrown into prison or transported. Kindness and good feeling have been treated as a crime. The bureaucracy has brought the country to the verge of ruin by a shameful way. It is luring it to its downfall. We have no voice in the heavy burdens imposed; we do not know for whom or why this money is wrung from an impoverished people, and we do not know how it is expended. This state of things, contrary to divine laws, renders life impossible. It were better that we should all perish, we workers and all Russia. Then, good luck to capitalist and exploiters and poor, corrupt officials, robbers of the Russian people. Assembled before thy palace, we plead our salvation. Refuse not thine aid and raise thy people from their tomb. Give them means of working out their own destiny. Rescue them from intolerable oppression. Throw down the wall that separates; free thy people; order that they may rule the country with thee. Create for thy people the happiness wrenched from us, leaving us nothing but sorrow and humiliation. We pray our majesty graciously to receive our demands, which are inspired by a desire for your majesty's and our welfare and the consciousness of the necessity of escape from an intolerable situation. Russia is too great and her needs are too varied and numerous for officials only to rule. National representation is indispensable, as only the people themselves know the country's real needs. Refuse not thy aid, but order a convocation of representatives of all classes, including workmen. Let all be free and equal in the elections, and to this end permit the election of a constituent assembly by general secret ballot. That is our chief demand, in which all else centres. It is the sole basis for our wounds, which will otherwise speedily bring us death. A single measure, however, will not heal all our wounds. Therefore, we acquaint you frankly and openly on behalf of the whole of the Russian working classes, as to a father, with our further demands. There, Sir, are our principal needs: satisfaction wrenched from Russia from slavery and misery, make her prosperous and enable workmen to organize in defense of their interests against the capitalist, exploitation

REV. G. E. LLOYD'S COLONY GOOD YEAR IN KENTVILLE, N. S.

English Settlement at Lloydminster Doing Remarkably Well.

Alexander Sutton, a member of the original Barr colony, which to the number of some two thousand, was set up in the North-West, but which experienced some trouble at the start, and subsequently became the Lloydminster colony, is on his way to England to bring out some relations in the spring. Mr. Sutton stated to the Montreal Witness that the colony was doing remarkably well. The location at Saskatoon and thereabouts was rather far off from the main line of railway, but branches would speedily tap the place. He had travelled about a bit, and was much impressed by the ready manner in which the workmen called the 'foreigners' adapted themselves to their new condition. The Galicians, especially, made good settlers, and so did the Norwegians, the best of all were the Americans. In this sense that they had nothing new to learn. They had done a similar sort of farming, they spoke the English tongue, they had been accustomed to they have with sword modelled upon those of Great Britain. These people became immediately prosperous. Large American capitalists were last buying up great blocks of land, and he would consider it his duty when he reached England to persuade those with a little money to come-out while yet there was land to spare.

Board of Trade So Reports--Gravensteins in Cold Storage--Social and Other News.

Kentville, Jan. 23.—At the annual meeting of the Kentville Board of Trade a membership of 80 was reported, and the report of trade compares favorably with that of former years. The Nova Scotia Carriage Company have had an especially good year. Sixty sleighs have been put on the market, and the demand exceeds the supply. In 1899, the number of sleighs manufactured was 40. Other manufacturing companies report a good year. Matters of interest to the town were then discussed and the following officers elected: President, W. E. Porter, vice-president H. M. Bain, Secretary-Treasurer, F. C. Rand. At the close of the meeting the members of the Board were given a treat of splendid gravenstein apples which had been kept in cold storage by Dr. W. S. Woodworth. These apples are usually supposed to lose their good flavor, quite early in the season, but these were said to be as crisp and juicy, and with as fine a flavor, as in the early fall. Dr. Woodworth believes that the apples can be kept good until April. A. E. Calkin entertained the members of the evening whist club on Thursday last. The party drove to Wolfville and had supper at the Acadia Villa Hotel, after which they had their usual games of whist in the hotel parlors. On Friday evening the members of the evening whist club on Thursday last. The party drove to Wolfville and had supper at the Acadia Villa Hotel, after which they had their usual games of whist in the hotel parlors. On Friday afternoon, the students of the Kentville Academy drove to Wolfville and visited the manual training school in connection with Acadia University. Mr. F. Elitch and son of Verdun, Manitoba, are visiting in Wolfville. Mr. Elitch went west about twenty years ago, and last visited his home about five years ago. He now has a farm in Manitoba, consisting of about 1000 acres, and his wheat crop of last year brought high prices. Like most western men, Mr. Elitch has great faith in the future of the great prairie country and believes that for the man who wants plenty of room to grow, that is the place to live. The marriage of Augusta Agnes Burgess and James Manning-Lambert took place at the house of the bride's father, E. J. Burgess of Kentville, January 18. Mr. and Mrs. Auel Vaughan who have been for some years in Manitoba, have returned to their home in Steam Mill Village. A somewhat unique and very interesting entertainment was given at the Methodist parsonage, Kentville, on Thursday evening. It was advertised as a "lower wedding tea" and each person who purchased a ticket was presented with a card on which were written questions, each to be answered with the name of a flower. The name of the bride of the groom, and all the interesting details of a wedding were given, and at the close of the evening the answers were read aloud, affording much amusement. The receipts of the evening amounted to about twenty-five dollars. Mrs. (Rev.) Turner received the sad news this week of the death of her only sister, in England. Her mother, who is an invalid, was being cared for by the sister, who died very suddenly. Mrs. Turner's sympathy is extended to Mrs. Turner in her trouble.

REFOUND IT

Just a Recommendation. "I bought a fifty cent package of Pyramid Pile Cure from my druggist, and have used two dollar packages since. I find them just as you recommended them to be. I have not felt the least sign of piles since using your remedy three months ago. If you want to use my name you may do so, as I feel like a new man. I have had no trouble with the dreadful, aggravated disease. I meant to write you sooner, but thought I would wait until I was cured. I thank you for your wonderful Pile Cure. I have a great sufferer from piles." Frederick, R. F. D. 4, New Jersey.

Seldom, if ever, is there any doubt about the effect produced by the use of Pyramid Pile Cure, as is shown by the experience given above. The proprietors of this remedy have thousands of similar letters on file, and surely no better proof of the merit of the preparation could be asked, when it is borne in mind that these notices are wholly unolicited, there is certainly cause for pride in the remedy. Pyramid Pile Cure is sold in druggists for fifty cents a package, and if you haven't it, you will get it for you if asked to do so. Do not be misled by cheap imitations. There is no other remedy "just as good". Everyone is urged to write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book describing the cause and cure of piles, as it affords much useful information and is sent free for the asking.

A second night school will be opened on Monday evening next. This action has been rendered necessary by the large number of applications for permits. The new school will be in the Central school building on Brussels street, and will probably be placed in charge of Edwin B. Ross, who until Christmas was in charge of Fairview school. There is now a law student. It is quite probable that it will be found necessary to open a third school, as considering the number of permits issued the second Canadian night school will probably be found insufficient to the demand.

A MAN'S PROPHET.

(Said Late Thomas) J. M. Carter, the well known architect of New York, was talking about malapropisms the other day at luncheon. "Once," he said, laughing, "I went to the country to look at an opera house that was to be enlarged and altered. The owner of the place stood on the stage, and I walked about the auditorium. We talked in loud tones, but though I was only half way back, I could hardly hear the acoustics. 'What are you saying?' 'The acoustics are bad here. Let's go outside.' 'What?' 'The acoustics are bad.' 'Indeed?' 'I don't smell anything said the owner, smiling about."

The White Plague Follows Colds

NEGLECT THE COLD AND CONSUMPTION FINDS AN EASY STARTING POINT—YOU CAN CURE THE COLD BY USING

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE.

Consumption begins with a cold. If you check the cold you prevent consumption. By the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine you can cure the cold and avoid the risk of serious developments. It lessens the coughs, aids expectoration, clears the choked up air passages, heals the raw and inflamed membranes and thoroughly cures the cold. There are many newer medicines than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, but few that have been so long before the public, and none with such a grand record of success—of success in curing disease and consequent enormous sales. Especially in the treatment of croup, bronchitis and severe chest colds this great prescription of Dr. Chase has easily taken the lead. It is far more than an ordinary cough mixture, and can be depended on even in the most serious cases. Don't be satisfied with new and untried remedies, when you can obtain Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine from any dealer at 25 cents a bottle. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Teamsters Say They Will Fight to a Finish.

SOME TEAMS WORKING

Should a Big Storm Come the Street Railway Would be Completely Blocked—A Serious Situation.

Market Square presented an unusual sight at seven o'clock this morning. It was almost empty, and the teams by one's and two's could be seen making their way to the open space behind the fountain, and taking up positions in close order. As the light became stronger they came upon the scene in greater numbers until at least a hundred teams were congregated. There was a keen wind blowing off the slip, and the men were eager to get to work but no snow was forthcoming as yet.

As was stated in yesterday's issue, the strike was caused by the action of the Superintendent, in not discharging two non-union teamsters. Arrangements have been made, however, for Robert Garnett to become a member but the men will not agree to having Howe in their ranks. A meeting of the teamsters' union was held last night and the matter discussed. Ald. Holder was present and spoke briefly. The chairman of the board of works told him that the two men were rejected. The chairman of the board of works told him that the two men were rejected.

The secretary suggested that the men all appear on the square with their teams at seven o'clock this morning, ready to go to work if the difficulty is not with the adjusted. This idea met with the approval of the meeting.

The teamsters are still out, and according to the expressions of opinion heard on Market square this morning they intend remaining in the fight to a finish. A Times reporter happened to casually drop around among the strikers this morning and in approaching one of the party inquired:—"What do you intend to do about the matter anyway? Will you stay out or go to work?"

"We're no quitters, young man, and although our union is local we will fight it out. We will not stand for such an infringement on our rights by a certain representative of the city council. We are union men and as such will stand by one another."

"Well, what do you think of it?" said another. "Look up King street. There are thirty men working in the city today who belong to the Laborers' Union. Why they should have to go to work under the circumstances is certainly surprising. I am not calling them scabs, for that is criminal, but I will express my opinion that they are worse than the scab. These men are union men, but though not affiliated with us, should stand out for unionism like men."

Such expressions of opinion were frequent among the strikers. After leaving the last gentleman the scribe communicated with a city official's office, whence he received the information that as far as learning the matter stands in statu quo, or in the English interpretation of these words, "unchanged."

Fifteen teams are at work and there is a full complement of men," said the official "but if the citizens make a kick generally about the removal of the snow then a meeting of the common council will have to be held to decide as to what will be done."

The Times reporter in further investigating the case found that the street railway was in such a position

GORDON BROWN RESIGNS AS NEPTUNES CAPTAIN.

Apathy on the Part of the Members and Alleged Interference Are His Reasons—An Intermediate Organization Goes to Sackville—News Creates Much Comment.

There is a large sized rupture in the Neptune hockey team. Gordon Brown, captain of the team has resigned that position. He has not been satisfied with the way things have been going for some time. He contends that certain members are endeavoring to run the team and consequently has decided to let them run it.

Mr. Brown was seen this morning, and said he had had considerable trouble with one or two of the players and that matters had not always been harmonious. "The team started out with a good line-up," he said Mr. Brown, "but in the last two games, two of the members had not played, and this weakened them considerably."

The players complained of are Billiard and Howard. These two members started out with the team, and according to Mr. Brown, should have continued, or else they should never have started.

The situation at present is just this; at practice last night only one member was on hand. Mr. Brown who had to work until after seven o'clock was unable to get to practice, (which started at seven), and so he claims this absence is excusable. The team which it is intended to send to Sackville today to play the leaders of the league is composed almost entirely of intermediate players.

owing to the excessive snowfall that it was handicapped. In consequence of this information, R. J. Chambers, track foreman, of the street railway was interviewed. The travelling public will have to have transportation and in this regard the Street Railway has taken a decisive act.

Continuing Mr. Chambers intimated that work removing the snow was proceeding along with James and Wentwood streets, and between the two bridges on City road. The strikers in way of help in our out."

"The road has to be cleared up," said Mr. Chambers, "and in order to do so we must have to help in our out."

"The action of these teamsters is certainly appreciated by the Street Railway for if another such storm set in 'Shank's Mare' would make a record."

The question has been asked whether, if the city discharged the teams other teamsters. Mr. Howe fell in with the suggestion. Mr. Howe would not have an action against the city. A lawyer informs the city could not be taken, such an action could not be taken, but in his opinion Mr. Howe would have a clear case against the other teamsters.

There were three drunks before the magistrate this morning. John McGill, stated that he lived near the Bay Shore and had come over to purchase a medical device for his boy who is ill. He fell in with some friends last night, and promised to take the pledge for a year if allowed to go. He had never been at the court before and hoped it would be the last time.

He was allowed to go on suspended sentence. Desire Brunet, stated that he was a baker by trade. He wanted to go home to England, and he informed the court that he could work his passage on a steamer that will sail in a couple of days, and was allowed to go.

Wm. Dunn, drunk on King street east, deposited $5.

Police Reports. A cigar holder found on Union street, was taken to the central police station. A kid mitten found on Prince street, was taken to the central police station. The police were called upon last night, to quiet a disturbance on a steamer lying at the I. C. R. terminus.

A hitching rope found on Main street, can be had by the owner at the north end police station.

At the St. Andrew's rink this morning, the lady curlers played a club match. Mrs. Hazen defeated Mrs. Helly 16-9, and Miss Inches defeated Miss Smith 12-10. Next Wednesday the ladies will play the men a return match.

LIQUOR CASES.

Those Against Messrs. Caples and McArthur Go Over to Friday.

The case against Wm. J. Caples, for having a second entrance to his room, was resumed before Magistrate Ritchie this morning and several witnesses were examined. The evidence showed that the bar room may be reached by one door on Prince Wm. street, and two on Water street. The door on Water street nearest Market Square is used by J. & A. McMillan to occupy the ground between the street and the building. In order to reach the third floor it is necessary to go through the bar room. If the entrance nearest Market Square be closed, the McMillan's could reach the lower floor by descending the stairs from the Prince Wm. street entrance. No dispute about these entrances last night, but the authorities decline to disclose either their names or the nature of the offenses.

Two more liquor dealers have been reported for violating the liquor law, but the authorities decline to disclose either their names or the nature of the offenses.
