German Raider Is Off The New England Coast

Nantucket Lightship Reports Enemy Craft Seen This Morning—Warning Sent to Shipping

Newport, R.I., April 7.—A German sea raider was officially reported off Nantucket at 7:40 o'clock this morning. The deputy collector of customs warned all shipping not to leave port until further notice.

The raider, according to information received by Deputy Collector of Customs Wolcott, was bound west.

Word that the raider was approaching the New England coast caused great activity in naval circles, although plans for dealing with the enemy were not made public. The collector of customs made every effort to get in touch at once with shipping agents at other ports to warn them of the danger.

The name of the ship or station which sent the report was not revealed. Some destroyers are on patrol off the coast.

Boston, April 7.—The following message was received today at the Boston Navy yards from the Nantucket Lightships: "Commerce raider passed Nantucket Shoals Lightship boom west at 7:20."

Newport News, Va., April 7.—The presence of a German raider off the Virginia Capes was officially reported here today. A sea-going tug has been dispatched to sea to warn all outgoing and incoming vessels, and to order all outgoing vessels to turn back. The tug is equipped with wireless and is expected to reach all ships in the danger zone.

Washington, April 7.—The navy department was advised early today by the Nantucket Shoals Lightship by radio that an unknown ship had passed near that vessel. No information as to the character of the ship was given.

Boston, April 7.—Naval officials here reported that the raider had two masts a large stack and was painted slate color. Her size was reported as about 10,000 tons.

Stars and Stripes Flying Over City Hall, in Ottawa

CONCERTED ACTION

Rio Janeiro Newspaper's Views—
Text of Resolution Which Will Bring Cuba Into War on Side of Allies

Rio Janeiro, April 6.—The entrance of the United States into a state of war with Germany, says the Jornal Do Commercio means for all American nations the beginning of concerted action in support of the United States. The newspaper adds: "American nations must choose between the only two possible attitudes: to side with the perpetrators of the crimes or with the defenders of liberty. The United States has exercised on this continent a decisive influence which has established for all other American nations an obligation of solidarity. Old Europe is fighting for liberty, justice and right. All the destinies of humanity are at stake. The United States vainly attempted to maintain neutrality. Three years of temporization did not avail in saving the life of the Brazilian Republic. It is for us an indefeasible duty not to leave the United States alone in this decisive hour. Our chancellor must give up its present position. To act in a different way would be equivalent to a disgraceful suicide."

A. Raza declares that Brazil is greatly pleased with the attitude of the United States and the people of Brazil are as enthusiastic as though they themselves were taking part in a similar action.

In Cuba.

Havana, April 6.—The following resolution will be presented to a joint committee tomorrow afternoon by Representative Alfredo Betancourt Mandulay for consideration: The Congress of the Republic of Cuba declares that there has been created and exists a state of war between the United States and the imperial German government and authorizes the chief executive of the nation to adopt all measures necessary to maintain and defend Cuban territory, provide for the security of its inhabitants and co-operate with the United States of America and the other allied nations in the defense of the liberties of the seas, of the rights of neutrals and of international justice.

Representative Jose Estrampes will present at the next session of the house a resolution authorizing the president to organize and place at the disposition of the war department of the United States a contingent of 10,000 men to assist in the military operations of that country in the European conflict. Representative Estrampes, who was a colonel in the Cuban army of liberation, will offer his services in connection with the proposed Cuban contingent.

Sao Paulo, Brazil, April 7.—Great crowds paraded through the streets of the city today singing the national hymn and waving flags. The paraders gathered in front of the newspaper offices cheering for Brazil and for the allies. The crowds dispersed without disorder after listening to patriotic speeches.

WASHINGTON NEWS CHEERED ON THE CANADIAN FRONT

Soldier Lads Welcome United States Into War and Proceed to Give Enemy the Information

With the British Armies in France, April 6.—Via London, April 7.—(From a staff correspondent of Associated Press.)—The news of the action of the United States senate in voting for war with Germany reached the far-flung western battle line today and was hailed with cheers. Nowhere was the satisfaction greater than along the section of the front held by the Canadians with whom many thousands of Americans are serving. Many Canadian and British companies were busy preparing signs to hold up over the trenches, telling the Germans the tidings from Washington. This is the favorite plan of the Tommies to convey all sorts of bad news to their enemies across No Man's Land.

German prisoners taken today had not heard of President Wilson's address and knew only in a vague way of the breaking of diplomatic relations in February. Some of the trench signs which were prepared included a brief translation into German of the president's statement that the United States was entering the fight against the German government and not against the German people. Others included the latest slogan: "No peace with the Hohenstollers," which still others read: "Get rid of your Kaiser."

The British army as a whole has regarded the United States as practically in the war since the severance of relations. It was said then that active participation was only a matter of time.

The president's address was just reaching the front trenches today in its entirety. The gist of the speech had been sent out by wireless and also by telephone and telegraph but the soldiers generally preferred to wait for congressional action before spreading the news to "Fritz." The weight of America thrown into the war scales just at this juncture in what is regarded as the critical year of the struggle has sent a renewed thrill of confidence all along the front.

Toasts were drunk to America at many a front line dugout tonight. The British look forward eagerly to the participation of the United States, thus helping completely to outwit German militarism. It can be truthfully said that the khaki clad army faces the foe tonight with renewed determination to bring about a quick and decisive result. There was a note of joyous confidence at the British and Canadian cannon hurled tons of shells against the German positions.

RUSHING TO GET READY FOR COMBAT

Munitions Speeded Up In The United States

SEIZED SHIPS FOR GOVERNMENT USE

Sixty German Government Believers Dangerous Are Ordered Placed Under Arrest—All Radio Stations Seized and Closed— Naval Motor Boat Patrol Mobilized

Washington, April 7.—The second day of war with Germany found every government agency in action, along production lines with congressional committees at work on the new army bill and finance measures.

The navy and its newly organized power boat coast patrol squadrons were being mobilized and naval militia and naval reserves were complying with orders to join the colors. From many cities came word that United States marshals had carried out orders of the department of justice for arrest of sixty Germans whom the government believes to be dangerous to allow at large.

Officials had also determined to seize the German merchant ships, nearly 100 of which have been seized, for government service, though no announcement was made whether they would be confiscated or paid for at the close of the war.

Government seizure of all radio stations and the closing of all except those needed for naval communication, was authorized by President Wilson.

Both the war and navy departments were arranging with contractors to furnish enormous quantities of supplies; steel manufacturers agreed to furnish the navy their product at last year's prices, affecting a saving of $18,000,000 in the navy's 1917 steel bill. The treasury department devised means of raising funds, subject to congressional authorization, for the purchase of agricultural products on a movement to increase and conserve the nation's supply of foodstuffs and to simplify distribution. Many other activities were being set on foot on a movement to increase and conserve the nation's supply of foodstuffs and to simplify distribution. Many other activities were being set on foot on a movement to increase and conserve the nation's supply of foodstuffs and to simplify distribution.

"Imminence of Meaning."

London, April 7.—The morning papers today devote their chief editorials to the American congress' adoption of the war resolution against Germany and President Wilson's formal declaration of a state of war. The disinterestedness of the United States in coming forward "to defend right against wrong, not moved by greed, ambition or hate," is emphasized and President Wilson's conduct through today's crisis and events leading to it receive warm tribute. But the main note struck is recognition of the vital importance to the interests of the world of the American democracy's entry into the war.

"The intervention of America as the champion of right in the European controversy," says the Times, "is an event so great in itself and so pregnant with incalculable results for the whole world that it baffles understanding on both sides of the ocean."

The Daily Telegraph says: "A prodigious week in the world's history ends with an accomplished fact which though foreseen, scarcely yet reveals its immensity of civilization for the future of this war and mankind."

GERMANS REFUSE TO GIVE UP INTERNED WAR CRAFT; BLOW HER UP

Washington, April 7.—The interned German gunboat Cormoran, at Guam, refused to surrender to American forces which went to take possession of her and was destroyed by her crew.

Two German warrant officers and five enlisted men of the crew were killed in the explosion. Twenty officers, twelve warrant officers and 821 enlisted men were taken prisoners.

ARTILLERY IN HEAVY WORK ON WEST FRONT

Paris, April 7.—Violent cannonading went on during last night on the French front south of St. Quentin, in the region of Dallon and Graugies. The artillery of Dallon and Graugies was very active also northeast of Berry-Au-Bac.

German reconnoitering forces caught under the fire of the French guns were dispersed. South of Villeau Bois a German machine was repulsed.

Grenade fighting in the region east of the Meuse river was continuing in the French. In the region west of the Meuse German trenches were successfully raided by French troops.

DR. N. R. COLTER DEAD IN CAPITAL

Former Post Office Inspector Passed Away Today After Illness of Only Two Days

After two days' illness from pneumonia, which developed from a cold contracted while attending his brother's funeral, Dr. Newton R. Colter, former post-office inspector, passed away this morning in Frederick. News of his sudden death came as a great shock to the community, and expressions of regret are heard on all sides.

Dr. Colter was a son of the late Alexander Colter, and was born in Sheffield seventy-one years ago. He studied medicine at Harvard, Edinburgh and London, and, after graduation, located at Woodstock, where his energy and skill soon acquired for him a lucrative practice.

In 1891 he was elected to the House of Commons as a Liberal and was re-elected at a bye-election. In 1899 he was defeated by the late Fred H. Hale, and in the following year he was appointed postoffice inspector, holding the office until the beginning of the present month.

He was a keen sportsman and a keen sportsman and took a great interest in turf events.

He is survived by his wife, daughter of the late George Hatt, of Frederick, and four daughters, Marion and Eleanor of St. John; Mrs. Horace Painter and Jennie, of Vancouver; one sister, Mrs. Thomas Murray, and one brother, Recorder Colter, who resides in Frederick. The body will be interred in the capital on Monday, funeral at three o'clock.

AUSTRIA MAKES BREAK WITH UNITED STATES; HER ALLIES TO DO LIKEWISE

New York, April 7.—News received here today by cable announces that Austria has taken the bit between her teeth—probably at the dictation of Berlin.

Von Tarnowski is in Washington. The official of the American Embassy at Vienna has been handed their passports, it is announced and the Austrian ambassador to the United States, Von Tarnowski, has been instructed to ask for his. Turkey and Bulgaria are believed to be following suit.

The public opinion in Washington. He has not yet been received by the American government and now it is highly probable that he will ever be. Indeed it is held here that he never has been formally recognized by the United States as Austria's envoy at Washington.

The dispatch says that Bulgaria and Turkey have also decided to break off relations with the United States and that Holland will probably look after Austrian interests in Washington and American interests in Vienna.

ARREST OF AMERICAN VICE- CONSUL BY GERMANS REPORTED

London, April 7.—Julius Van Hee, American vice-consul at Ghent, and recently connected with the Belgian relief commission, has been arrested by the Germans and sent to Germany, according to an Amsterdam despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The despatch quotes a frontier correspondent as its authority.

TOASTS KAISER, IS HANGED Man in Wyoming Then is Cut Down and Driven From Town

Thermopolis, Wyo., April 7.—A stranger, believed to be a German, shouted "Hoch der Kaiser!" as he stood drinking at a saloon bar here, narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of Thermopolitans.

As the stranger lifted the glass to his lips after shouting his toast, he was knocked down by a miner, a rope appeared as if by magic and in a moment the dazed man was hanging from a beam.

His life was extinct, however, the counsel of cooler heads prevailed, and he was cut down by the city marshal. He was revived with cold water, forced to kneel and kiss the American flag and then was warned to get out of town. He did.

PRUSSIAN PREPARE TO BEND BEFORE STORM

London, April 7.—An Amsterdam despatch to Reuters says that the Koelnische Volks Zeitung reports that preparatory steps for a reform of the Prussian electoral system are imminent.

The paper says that a bill will be introduced immediately after Easter.

MORE TROOPS ARRIVE IN CITY

Men of Two Battalions From the Prairies Given Hearty Welcome

Again there is a martial air about the city. This morning more than 800 khaki clad lads from the rolling prairies arrived in this city, where they will be temporarily quartered. The units are the 217th Battalion from Regina and the 210th Battalion from Moosejaw.

The first section of the 217th arrived at 9:30 o'clock and they were closely followed by the first section of the 210th. The strength of these sections were about 400 men each. The soldiers were met at the station and recruited in Moosejaw. The total strength is 500.

The unit has two bands, a bugle and brass. The commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel W. E. Seaborn, has had a wide military experience. He has been connected with the Canadian militia for several years. The section that arrived this morning was in command of Major O. M. Mainland.

GETTING NEAR TIME FOR TOURNAMENT FOR THE BOWLING CHAMPIONSHIP

Considerable interest is being taken in local bowling circles in the tournament for the Brunswick-Balke-Coleman trophy, which is to take place in Calais on the 24th and 25th of this month. The silver pin is held by Black's alley team and they will take it to the border town and defend it. Mr. Black's idea in doing this is to create a still greater interest in the competition for the championship of the maritime provinces and eastern Maine and by defending it on strange alleys give other teams a chance to capture the highly prized trophy.

Black's team will be composed of the five highest men in the city league. To date several players are grouped and it will be two weeks before it is definitely known who will win. Thomas Wilson is almost sure to make the team as he is leading by a good margin, while Blake Ferguson, Clarence Lumley, Allen Bailey, Albert Covey, John Coughlan and a few others will have to fight it out for a place on the team.

There is some talk of the Victoria alleys sending a team to Calais to participate, although definite arrangements have not yet been completed.

THE NEW TAX RATE

Owing to a misunderstanding an erroneous impression may have been conveyed by the Times report on Thursday relative to the outlook for the next tax rate. It is pointed out by the Times informant that he did not refer to the rate as existing last year when making his observations, but to the rate that was anticipated for the present year.

Owing to the inclusion of the patriotic fund and other large expenditures in this year's civic budget the concurrence of opinion was that the rate this year would be anywhere from $2.35 to $2.50. The Times is assured that the new rate will not approach anything like this figure and will be much below the figure generally anticipated by the rate payer, but will not be so low as the item in Thursday's Times would suggest.

THE EASTER MARKET.

There is an abundant supply of everything in the local country market this morning. The usual Easter Saturday business was in evidence and there were many purchasers out. Eggs were down to thirty-five cents a dozen this morning and reported strictly fresh at that figure. Roast beef is very high, selling for eighteen to thirty-two cents a pound. Pork is also reported high, twenty-five to thirty cents a pound. Easter flowers bedeck the stalls today.

ANOTHER RELIEF SHIP SUNK?

New York, April 7.—A cablegram received here by the Belgian Relief Commission today reports that the commission's steamer Ants Fostens, which left New York on March 8 via Halifax for Rotterdam, had been sunk. The message read: "Trevier and Anna Fostens sunk off Holland."

The loss of the Trevier, a Belgian relief ship, topped without warning, and of the Feistein, also a relief ship, presumably by a mine, was announced several days ago. The possibility of the announcement being late is due to the fact that the message alluded to the Feistein, owing to the similarity of names.

NEW VENTILATION GIVES THE GEM PURE, SWEET AIR

System Carries Off Used Air Through Great Funnel to Roof—Result Most Effective

One of the Gem Theatre's problems has been that of ventilation, because of the fact that the building is in the centre of a block. The problem has now been solved after various experiments, though none of the previous ones have been quite up to the manager's desires. What he has now done is at once interesting from a scientific standpoint and also to the patrons of the house.

There has been cut out of the centre of the ceiling a section about fifteen feet square. Corresponding to this a square of ten feet has been taken out of the roof and the space between has been shrouded at an angle which converts it into a funnel of great suction power, drawing up from the auditorium the air that has been used and making way for a constant fresh supply of pure oxygen. The present vents add to the effectiveness of the air-cleaning process, which is continually in operation.

For protection against storm, the open space in the roof has been built over with substantial boarding and on each end of the four sides of this two sets of swinging doors have been made, one set above another. These are opened, one side or another, according to the prevailing weather conditions and the result is a continuous drawing off of the used air from the theatre, while a fresh, pure supply is constantly being received through the ordinary channels. The result is strikingly noticeable and the Gem now is one of the best ventilated of the city's theatres—a fact equally satisfactory to the management and the patrons.

Not long since a prominent young business man was granted $5,000 insurance in The Imperial Life.

He passed the rigid medical examination required, and so expected to enjoy many years of good health.

A few days later he was drowned, and in less than a month from the day his insurance was issued his father had been paid the proceeds.

Perhaps you expect to live for many years—and you may. But suppose you die next week. Will your widow then have to face a life of drudgery? Or, will you, while still have the opportunity, provide for her an income as long as she lives?

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store, and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Or Join the Democracy of Europe In Fighting Germany?

Shall the United States send an overseas army to join the Entente Allies? Is it best for Uncle Sam's Navy to co-operate in destroying German submarines? Will unlimited financial assistance to the Allies prove most effective? Or shall the American Republic wage war with Germany independently of her other antagonists?

On these questions editorial opinion throughout the United States is sharply, though far from evenly, divided, most of the press seeing in the European war a conflict of principles, a struggle between absolutism and democracy, declaring that the United States should cast its lot with the Allies on the firing line of democracy. The "go-it-alone" side of the argument is concisely stated by the Leavenworth Times: "This is an affair of our own with Germany. To be sure, the fact that Germany is having trouble with us probably will be of material assistance to the Entente Allies, but in their fight with Germany we still are neutral."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week (the issue dated April 7th) presents the consensus of editorial opinion throughout the country on the steps that should be taken in the present situation. All view-points are given.

Other timely articles on the war, and other subjects of world-interest, in this number of THE DIGEST are:

Perspective the Only Key to Perfect Understanding

There is an old proverb to the effect that the onlooker sees most of the game. The player's conception of it as a whole, that is as removed from his individual effort or experience, is bound to be blurred and clouded by the dust and noise of the struggle. The observer notes the movements of all the players, grasps the massed combinations, and surveys the ebb and flow of the contest with cool understanding. The reader of THE LITERARY DIGEST has the benefit of such observation. "GOD SAVE AMERICA"

Hats off to the President and Congress of the United States. We have said, with some bitterness, that the great democracy seemed to have forgotten its principles and the sterner virtues of its youth, and to be content to grow rich while freedom suffered and bled in a titanic struggle for its very existence.

Not lightly or wantonly, nor yet in half-hearted fashion does the United States enter this war. The spirit that flamed at Lincoln's clarion call responds to Wilson's clear-cut summons to the greatest adventure in the nation's history.

The momentous decision was not made, even at the last, without opposition from some quarters; and when we learn that no less than fifty members of the House of Representatives voted against a declaration of war, in the face of all the recent developments of German submarine warfare, we are better able to understand the difficulties which confronted President Wilson in the earlier stages of the great struggle.

But now the die is cast, and the voice of protest will be hushed, and swift punishment meted out to any who dare to play the traitor's role. When a nation of a hundred millions swings into action, with no thought of material gain, but inspired by the loftiest motives of humanity, none need despair of its future, or fear that its utmost power will not be exerted to bring a more speedy triumph for the cause it has espoused.

Those who believed at the outset of his career that President Wilson would prove to be one of the greatest of the nation's presidents, but whose belief was shaken after the war broke out and since, will now be disposed to re-adopt their first estimate, even if they would still like to be able to set down to his credit the protest which should have been put on the record when Germany violated Belgium.

The far-reaching significance of the decision cannot now be measured. It brings the United States into the realm of world-politics, and forges another link in the closer relations of the great democracies. Events will march more swiftly now. We can all feel something of the thrill which ran along the trenches on all the battle-fronts when the news came that another had been added to the sisterhood of nations pledged to crush the last vestige of Prussian militarism and all it represents.

And when the war is over Mr. Lloyd George will have his wish, which was that the United States might have a voice in fixing the final terms of settlement. Moreover, Canada and her nearest neighbor will be closer in friendship than ever before. The "tail-twister" will vanish from the United States, and the Yankee-hater from Canada.

"Canada," exclaimed Colonel Roosevelt, when asked by a Toronto Globe correspondent last week if he had a message for the Dominion. "A grand country, Canada; and a grand people, Canadians. They've made themselves immortal in this conflict for liberty and right. My hats off to them. Tell them I look forward to the honor of serving side by side with them."

Let us hope the Colonel will get his army division, and that Mr. Bryan, who (wonder of wonders) has promptly offered to serve as a private, may also find a suitable outlet for his unbounded but too often misdirected energy. The heart of the great nation is all right. God Save America! We can sing that and then now.

A SENSATIONAL CHARGE. It was found by a Royal Commission that Mr. J. K. Flemming, while premier of New Brunswick, took "by compulsion" the sum of $2,000 from a railway contractor.

mission. The people of the province, remembering former evidence at an enquiry into Valley Railway affairs, will want to know all about this particular transaction. If Mr. Nagle got the money they will want to know what he got it for, and what became of it. If he did not get it, they will want to assist him in having his skirts entirely cleared of suspicion. It is their money that went and is going into the Valley Railway, and they are entitled to a full accounting.

The constant reiteration of charges of graft in connection with public contracts has created a most painful impression, and the assurance given by the new government that it will probe to the bottom of every suspicious transaction is welcomed by every citizen who desires honesty in the administration of public affairs.

If there is any truth in the charge that contractors had first to settle with favorites of the government before securing contracts, the whole story of every such transaction should be spread on the records.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT. The temperance people of New Brunswick will now see how unfounded and how grossly unfair was the charge made by the Murray government press and speakers that the opposition would enforce the prohibition law. Ex-Premier Murray himself stands condemned, for repeatedly on the public platform he made that charge. It is not always safe to make unfounded charges. Mr. Murray did not dream that his government would be beaten, and he felt quite safe. How does he feel now? The poster government has named as chief constabulary, a gentleman who has been the trusted and honored agent of the Alliance in this province and who has been engaged in labor connected with prohibition in other provinces as well as in New Brunswick. Nor will the government interfere with the work of the new inspector. A member of the old government is said to have intimated that he would expect to be dictator in his constituency, but the poster government proposes to enforce the law, and to that end will back up its chief inspector.

It is now the duty of all good citizens also to get behind the inspector, and to do their utmost to make New Brunswick bone dry. If it is found the law needs strengthening, that can be done when the new legislature meets. But in the meantime the duty of the people is clear and urgent. The law should be enforced to the hilt, and the storm centre will not be around the saloon men of today, but the boot-leggers and dive keepers of the period after the first of May.

The poster government has promptly acceded to the reasonable and proper request of the Social Service Council that this province pay $200 per year for the care of each delinquent girl sent to the Maritime Home at Truro. The sum of $150 was quite inadequate. The other two provinces are understood to have promised to make the same increase in the grant. The Home in Truro is doing a splendid work, and has effectively aided the Children's Aid Society of St. John.

The Standard says there are "journalists" in Canterbury street which "snap at the heels of decent men." It may be so. But an occasional yelp from the direction of Prince William street would seem to confirm the suspicion that a member of the canine species down there had been disturbed at his bone.

Let something of self-denial enter into the observance of Easter. Let us not forget the kind of Easter they will have in Belgium, nor the devotion and sacrifice made by the soldiers and the sailors. The silent messenger is in every home in St. John today. Let it carry away a substantial message of love and hope.

The Cubans are about to settle all their own differences by turning against the common enemy of all democracies. Their island will not become a centre of German intrigue, although many Germans are said to have gone there from the United States in the last few months.

If Mexico goes to war with the United States she may have to reckon with some of the South American republics. If the Mexican people will not settle their own differences their neighbors may have to do it for them before this war is over.

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advises the Use of "FRUIT-A-TIVES," the Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBERG.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-tives.' I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, music, brought about a kind of intestinal paralysis—with nasty Headache, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-tives,' and now for six months I have been entirely well.

I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-tives,' and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive." LIGHTER VEIN

A certain country school teacher, in endeavoring to explain to his class what compressed air was, brought his bicycle into the room and leaned it up against the wall.

"Now," he remarked, "under the outer covering of that back wheel there is a hidden force. What is it?" "A little rubber," said one smart youth. "No. Try again."

The boy tried again, as did nearly every member of the class, but without success. At length one of the youngsters, who had been making a close inspection of the machine, turned on the teacher with a beaming face.

"I have it," he exclaimed. "It's wind—'jest wind.'"

After commending the youngster, the teacher asked how he discovered the "hidden force."

"Why," was the astounding reply. "I've just stuck my knife in it to see!"

Amazing Power of Bon-Opto To Make Weak Eyes Strong Doctor Says It Strengthens Eyesight 50 per cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses and those who wear glasses will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who were wearing glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. I could not see anything without my glasses, and my eyes do pain dreadfully. I have worn glasses for several years. It was like a miracle to me. A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without my glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes, which induced severe headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the type-writing on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street, now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reason-

GERMAN SPIES EVEN IN STATE DEPARTMENT

Significance of President Wilson's Warning to Congress is Emphasized

Washington, April 7.—The significance of President Wilson's warning of German spies "even in our offices of government" became apparent when it was learned that on several occasions trails of the German secret service have been discovered within some of the most closely guarded precincts of the executive departments.

Although officials do not believe that access has been gained by the foreign agents to any information of great importance, they are understood to be convinced that not even the state department, with its highly confidential diplomatic facilities, has been free from invasion. No evidence on which prosecutions can be based has been found, it is said, but enough has been revealed to prompt a sweeping official investigation and precautions which the department believes will safeguard its interests more adequately in the future.

In his address to Congress the president laid particular stress on the activities of German spies, and a stringent spy law will be one of the first measures requested of congress by the administration. At the last session an espionage bill drawn by the department of justice was passed by the senate, but failed to reach a vote in the house. It was reintroduced by Chairman Cullerson of the senate judiciary committee.

Since the European war began the justice department's bureau of investigation, charged with the prosecution of foreign agents and disloyal citizens, has been enlarged several times. It now is expected to receive much wider facilities and powers and to become an increasingly important part of the federal government.

ITALY REJOICES AT AMERICAN ATTITUDE

Believes United States Will Produce Great Results in the War

Rome, April 7.—The Tribuna says: "The American democracy, which is democracy in the purest form, joins the Russian democracy, the youngest, and the French and Italian, which are the oldest, and all now united in arms to overthrow the last bulwarks of dying autocracy."

Senator William Marconi says: "America, the greatest unit of free peoples which ever existed, the greatest republic of the world, recognizes the justice of our cause by taking arms against Prussian militarism. This causes us to rejoice most sincerely. In addition to the moral effect of her participation, America will draw all closer the circle surrounding our enemies."

General Riccortti, son of the Italian patriot, said: "America will give us not only moral and financial assistance, but a large contingent of indomitable fighters. American volunteers, if well organized, and only led, will produce in this war results as important as American volunteers in past wars."

TAXED HIS NERVE
Western Judge Shaved by Man He Sent to Prison.

The utter helplessness of a man tilted back in a barber's chair, while a deft-fingered tonsorial artist wields a gleaming razor about his face, no doubt has occurred to most men.

The sensations of a judge in a similar position when he discovers that the barber is a man he sentenced to a term in the penitentiary were described in a measure recently by Federal Judge Van Fleet for the benefit of the jury in the trading company cases. He used it to point a moral, but the moral doesn't matter now.

"Before I went on the bench," he said, "I had been a member of the state prison board, and after I became a judge I retained my interest in the prisons of the state and often visited them."

"I was at the penitentiary on a visit and had spent the night there. In the morning I asked the warden if there was a barber in the prison, and he said he had a most competent one. An attendant pointed out to me the door of the barber shop and I entered and got into the chair without particularly noticing the barber, except that he was a colored man."

"He had lathered my face and was stropping his razor, while I was lying back in the chair, with my eyes closed. Neither of us had spoken. Then I guess you don't remember me, Judge," he said.

"I told him I didn't believe I did."

"You sent me there," he said, and reminded me of the case.

"Oh, yes, I remember you now," I said.

"It always felt like you were pretty severe on me," he told me. I detailed my reasons for my action as well as I could remember them. He finished shaving me and I left the shop.

"But it wasn't a pleasant sensation by any means to have that convict, who believed he had a grievance against me, working over my face and neck with a keen-edged razor."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

A TREATMENT FOR NERVES

Wesley D. N. Y. - "I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it." - Mrs. DEWITT SNEBAUGH, West Dunby, N. Y.

LOCAL NEWS
SERIOUSLY ILL
The many friends of James C. Doherty will regret to hear that he is seriously ill at his home in Padlock street. When on his way home on Thursday evening he suffered a paralytic stroke.
ELEVEN DEATHS
Eleven deaths were reported to the board of health this week as follows: Uraemia, endocarditis, erysipias, septicaemia, enterococcus, acute indigestion, accidental burning, Bright's disease, intestinal obstruction, carcinoma of stomach, and foreign body in the larynx, each one.
THE HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE
The Housewives League is becoming a vigorous organization. An effort to get Miss Helen Leah Reed of Boston to come and address the league and the citizens has failed at present, but Miss Hazel Winter, so well known in connection with Women's Institute work will lend a hand, and will soon give an address on what women can accomplish individually and collectively.

MRS. JESSIE CHALONER
The death of Mrs. Jessie Chaloner, widow of Edwin Chaloner, occurred suddenly at her home at Hampton River after an illness of only a few hours. She is survived by one son, John D., and one daughter, Mrs. Leonard W. Hannan both of Hampton River; also five sisters and one brother. Mrs. Chaloner was a daughter of the late Douglas and Susan Fairweather of Kingston.
THE POLICE
Policeman Corner has already entered upon his duties as day deskman at central station in view of Policeman Hopkins going back to street duty. The latter, however, is about the station today making the new man familiar with his duties. Policeman Hopkins has been most active while at police headquarters. Along with the work of keeping the day books he also carried out successfully the task of taking fingerprints and pictures of prisoners arranged on major charges. Just who will act in this capacity is not yet known. Policeman Beniot has handed his resignation to Chief Simpson. The vacancy has not yet been filled.

ST. JOHN IS IN GRIP OF STRONG EASTER SPIRIT
Almost Every Denomination in City Participating in Some Special Effort - Closely Allied is Big Patriotic Movement
The city of St. John is in the grip of a religious sentiment, perhaps not equaled before in years. The Catholic church and the Anglican church are observing Holy Week, while a city-wide mission is in progress among other denominations. The Jews are participating in the observance of the Passover, so that there is scarcely a religious denomination in the city that is not making some sort of special effort this week. The observance of the religious observances is being carried out in a more profound realization of the principles of christianity than ever before. Linked up with the religious observances is the big effort of the Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. O. F. in its self-denial day scheme, which is closely allied in principle with the religious movements in the city. Seldom if ever before, has an Easter been observed in the Loyalist City, which has been marked with such a religious sentiment and a realization of the meaning of the occasion, as this, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen.

The special services being held in Main street Baptist church in connection with the city-wide mission have resulted in much good. They have been well attended. Last night, in spite of very wet conditions, about 200 persons were present. A deep interest has been taken in the work and the services will be continued another week at least. This week fourteen converts have been secured and these will receive the baptismal rites in the near future. The Boy Scouts were in attendance at last night's meeting. This morning at nine o'clock the usual Holy Saturday exercises were carried out in the Cathedral. Following the blessing of the water, and the Paschal candle, Rev. William M. Doke celebrated high mass, assisted by Rev. Miles P. Howland as deacon and Rev. H. L. Coughlan as sub-deacon, and Rev. Francis Walker master of ceremonies. Last evening at 7.30 o'clock the tenebrae was chanted. Father Howland was the preacher and gave a powerful and eloquent sermon on the death of our Lord. Yesterday morning the mass of Pre-sanctified was said by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, assisted by the priests of the cathedral.

CITY COMMISSIONER AND OFFICIAL MAY JOIN 62ND REGT.
Such Action Bound to Create New Stimulus in Recruiting Circles; Business Men May be Included in Report
Some idea of the excellent response which the re-organized 62nd Regiment will receive when recruiting is officially begun is shown in the fact that a prominent city commissioner and city official have expressed the intention of joining the unit and doing their drill during the evenings.
These gentlemen believe it is their duty to show their desire to assist in some practical way in the present conflict and in the carrying out of their convictions they are of the opinion that this can be done in no better way than joining the 62nd Regiment under Lieut. Colonel McAvity. Recruiting officers are of the opinion that the coming out of such men as a city commissioner and one of the officials will do much to inculcate a new spirit of patriotism among the young men of the city.
There is little doubt that men of this calibre, by enlisting in the 62nd for home defence purposes, will have a large following not only among the younger set but the staid business men of the city. Recruiting for the 62nd will be officially opened in St. John in the near future.

NEW SHED AT POINT IN USE
Unsuccessful Attempt to Install New Gates Under Marsh Bridge—General Clean Up by Public Works Department
Shed No. 16, the latest addition to the shipping facilities at West St. John, is being used for the first time. It has for its first tenant, goods brought from the old country by a royal naval transport which succeeded in sinking a German U boat on her last trip to this side of the water.
An attempt was made this morning, by the water works department, to install the three new gates under the Marsh bridge. The first one was installed some days ago and since that time the workmen have been busily engaged constructing the new ones. The effort this morning proved unsuccessful owing to high wind. The attempt was finally abandoned and the new gates will in all probability be installed on Monday morning, providing weather conditions are still favorably engaged in the water works department continues to "carry on" with routine work.
General Clean-up
A general clean-up for Easter Sunday was being carried on today by the public works department. The recent rain storm, which still threatens the wonders of the city's Easter bonnet, is assisting the department materially in the removal of ice from the streets. The department is still busily engaged in the removal of ice and this will continue until it has entirely disappeared. The programme calculated to simplify and systematize the dumping conditions in the city is being pursued by the department and will in all probability be completed in the near future.

BUG TIPPET TO WINNIPEG
Will Attend Meeting for Organization of Returned War Veterans
President Bud Tippett of the European War Veterans' Association, left on Thursday night's train en route to Winnipeg as a delegate to a dominion convention of returned soldiers to be held there on April 10, 11 and 12 for the purpose of forming the War Veterans' Association of Canada and to obtain a dominion charter. This promises to be the starting of the biggest organization of returned soldiers in Canada. It all goes well in time it will number somewhere around 400,000 or 500,000 members.
The association has secured five new members, Captain A. E. Barton of the famous 8th Moncton battery, lately promoted to colonel, and a D. S. G. Toome, Doran, McDonald and Coakley. The sum of $15 was received from the Hibernal Lodge, No. 8, A. F. O. U. M., as a donation to the benevolent fund, which is proving a success as a relief to those in need of assistance.
A big church parade will be held soon as a memorial for Canadians who have fallen in action. The association expects to have a large parade of the units to be held in the city at the time. All returned officers and men, also the nursing sisters, if it can be arranged. The public will have a chance to pay their respect to the fallen heroes of St. John by attending Trinity church on that date, the anniversary of the day the 1st Canadian division barred the road to Calais and saved the situation which at that time looked very serious. This date will be recognized throughout the dominion for the same purpose whenever there are returned soldiers to hold a parade.

MRS. JOHN KEMPT DEAD.
Many friends will learn with deep regret of the death of Mary, wife of John Kemp, of St. Newman street, which occurred in the Infirmary this morning. She had been under treatment in the Infirmary for three months and, pneumonia setting in, she had not the strength to rally. Mrs. Kemp was a native of New York, but had lived most of her life in Boston, although she and her husband had lived for a time in many cities, including Victoria, B. C. She had visited St. John from time to time, her husband being a native of St. John, and for the last three and a half years had made her home here. She was a woman of most kindly nature, thinking more of the comforts of others than her own. Besides her husband one daughter, Valerie, survives. Mr. Kemp has been for some years active in labor circles, and has just been elected presiding officer of St. John Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose. Very many friends extend sympathy to the stricken husband and daughter.
The funeral will take place on Monday at 2.15 o'clock, with service at the Mission Church at 2.30 o'clock.

IT HAS ANSWERED ITSELF.
During the election campaign the Standard asserted over and over again that a vote for Foster candidates was a vote against prohibition. Today's Standard says:
The committee of officers (of the Dominion Alliance) which during the afternoon met the government in session returned and reported to the council. Their report was very hopeful that the new administration would give an earnest effort to enforce the prohibitory act and that an efficient inspector would be appointed. The general feeling of the council was that the new law coming into operation would receive fair treatment from the hands of the new administration.

REV. JOHN HARDWICK. 11 a.m.—Communion Service. 7 p.m.—"Christ's Message to the World at Easter, 1918." The greatest event in history was the resurrection of Christ. The most tragic event in history is that of the World War now raging. Mr. Hardwick in an imaginary story relates how Christ appeared to the world at Easter, 1918. The great war is ended, and conditions are transformed. The passions of men and nations still run high. Millions of hearts are heavy, tens of thousands of home circles are broken. Religion has lost its grip on men's lives. The brotherhood of man is not recognized. National and international problems still press heavily upon the shoulders of statesmen, and the burden of life for all is heavy. In the midst of this Christ appears and announces to the world that the era of peace and goodwill amongst men is about to be ushered in. Easter Music. Easter Hymns. Seats Free.

THE calls upon you have been many, and doubtless you have given generously of your means to the Red Cross and the many patriotic causes. But while we in Canada are living in comfort, we cannot afford to forget those whom the war has left homeless and almost hopeless.

How About SERBIA?

What has been done for the brave Serbians? All the world knows the story of their sufferings, how they were driven out of their homes over the frozen mountains and how they had to seek refuge with their allies. Kent Flour is Some Flour. KENT MILLS GOLD MEDAL FLOUR. QUALITY STANDARD FOR 30 YEARS. From a small beginning thirty years ago, but with a fixed purpose—and that was that the product of the "Kent" mills should be the finest flour that the finest of Canadian wheat could produce—the output of Kent Flour has increased from a few barrels a day by the old millstone process to an output of over two hundred thousand barrels a day by the most improved machinery known to millers to-day. In a generation the demand for Kent Flour has increased from a most limited local sale to a trade that includes all Canada; from the time when all customers could be supplied in a short haul by the local mill delivery to a sale in 1916 that means train loads east, west, north. "Quality" has been the keynote to a success and reliability and uniformity that have made Kent Flour a household word. Kent Flour has always been ground from the finest blends of Canadian wheat—and always will be—and that is why it produces bread, cakes and pastry, that are a delight to the housewife. All reliable dealers sell Kent Flour. Sold in 24, 48 and 98 lb. sacks. Half Barrels and Barrels. There's a treat waiting for you when you use "KENT" Flour. The Canada Flour Mills Co. IN THE MAPLE SUGAR SEASON

An Interesting Sketch of the Sugar Maple and the Gathering of Sap Since Indian Times

(Canadian Forestry Journal, by Maul Goring, author of "Our Field and Forest Trees," McClung & Co., Chicago.)

SPRING IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine is a Necessity at This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all year round tonic, blood-builder and nerve-restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months.

pull, hung at its side. When the sun warms the tree, in the middle of the day, so that the sap "runs well," about seventy drops fall into the pail every minute.

As soon as the maple leaves begin to unfold the sap becomes less sweet, and the sugar made from it is darker and has less of the peculiar maple flavor.

Maple sap used to be boiled down in a large caldron swung gipsy-fashion over an open-air fire. Warm, flickering lights played over the snow, the lilac-gray trunks of the maple trees, and the busy workers stirring the pot and feeding the flames.

The Indians were the first makers of maple sugar. Indeed, before the white man came, bringing the sugar-cane and the honey-bee, this was the richest sweet the red man knew.

The Iroquois used to hold a public festival every spring to celebrate the tapping of the maples. "It consists," says a government report, written thirty years ago, "of a war dance which will, it is hoped, bring on warmer weather and cause the sap to flow."

Now that cane sugar can be bought so easily and cheaply, even at traders' stores in the wilderness, the Indians boil less sugar than they did, and some of them are forgetting how to boil it at all.

The sugar-boiling season was opened by the arrival of the first crows, flying back from the south. It was eagerly expected, and became a holiday for everybody.

They liven the liver and bowels and straighten you right up.

provided herself with a number of sap pans and buckets, made of four-cornered sheets of birch bark, with their edges turned up and their corners folded in.

When the crows appeared, everyone was on the lookout. As soon as the necessary camp outfit and sugar-making utensils could be gathered together each family moved to its own sugar bush.

Sometimes we hear the Indians called lazy, but there is a Menomoni story of the maple and the sap, which shows how hard the red men work to get their work good for the soul.

The first maker of maple-sugar—so runs this story—was Nokomis, the earth, grandmother of Manabush, who was the hero of many Indian fairy tales.

When Nokomis had cut holes in the trees, one for each vessel she had made, Manabush looked into the sap, which saw that they were filling with thick syrup.

"My grandmother," said he, "it will not do to have these trees produce syrup in this manner. The people will not have any work, if they make sugar so easily; they must cut wood, and boil the syrup for several nights to keep them busy; so that they may not form bad habits."

Manabush climbed to the tip top of a maple and scattered water over all the trees, so that the sugar should dissolve and flow from the tree in the form of sap.

This way people always have to work hard when they want to make sugar. Wood must be cut, vessels must be made, and the sap that is collected must be boiled for long while, otherwise the people would spend too much time in idleness.

So, thanks to Manabush's kind interest in Indian morals, the sap of maples has nowadays less than four per cent. of sugar.

The sugar-maker is helped by a series of warm, sunny days, followed by sharp, frosty nights. March rains help him in the travel of the tree. Darwin, the great student of life and its laws, caused a twig to drink some water containing a strong dye, and then he could follow the travel of the sap as it mounted through the wood.

most twig of a gigantic tree, water may have to travel a distance of three or four hundred feet. For much of this distance it must climb straight up, and all the journey is through tubes as fine as a hair.

Nature's Way Is Best Nature's laxative is bile. If your liver is sending the bile on its way as it should, you'll never be constipated.

Keep the liver tuned right up to its work. Take one pill regularly (until only if necessary) your bowels act regularly, freely, naturally.

Genuine bears Signature! Colorless faces often show the absence of iron in the blood. Carter's Iron Pills will help this condition.

CATARRH IS DANGEROUS

To be able to breathe freely, hear plainly, smell, taste and arse in the morning refreshed and strong with head and throat clear and free from phlegm conditions that make life worth while.

No victim of catarrh can enjoy life if they should. The effects of this ravaging, disgusting disease are too plainly felt and yet, few people realize what a serious disease catarrh really is.

Left to itself catarrh slowly and surely undermines the general health. Being a disease of the blood it should be treated through the blood to secure results. Sprays, inhalers, and ointments can never cure catarrh.

Below we print an old-fashioned recipe, that can be made up in your own home for a few cents and which has been used with good results in cases of catarrh.

Go to any drug store and get an ounce of purgine, about 75c. worth. Take it home and put in into a syrup of 1/4 pint of hot water and four ounces of granulated sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

When the Leaves Breathe

Later in the year, when many leaves are spread wide in the sunshine, water is breathed away from the upper part of the tree. Some of the cells up there part with so much moisture that their sap becomes thickened, and this causes a suction which draws more water up through the wood from below.

When summer is here, and growth is active, there are, furthermore, little bubbles of gas in the sap, and these, as they rise, help to bring the sap up with them.

NO POLITICS IN B. C. FOREST SERVICE! (Canadian Forestry Review.) The lumbermen of British Columbia took an important step recently when they appointed a deputation of their members to wait upon Premier Brewster at Victoria and urge that the Forest Service of the province be so administered in future that politics shall play no part in it.

The deputation was composed of C. D. McNab, president of the Mountain Lumbermen's Association; H. R. MacMillan, Hugh Davidson, and R. H. Alexander, of the Coast Lumber & Shingle Association; and Mark Reeler and W. B. W. Armstrong of the B. C. Loggers' Association.

In order that the forest services might be taken entirely out of politics these gentlemen suggested to the premier that a commission be placed in the hands of a commission composed of five members—two representatives of the Mountain Lumbermen, and the minister of lands.

Premier Brewster said that when taking office his government had determined to make efficiency their guiding principle when making appointments, and believed the objects aimed at by the lumbermen would be fully safeguarded in this way, but he was prepared to promise very careful consideration of the commission plan on the part of himself and colleagues, their earnest aim being to handle the forest resources of the province in a way that would yield the highest possible revenue while conserving the supply of timber and guarding the future growth.

On March 27 in the 80's, a child was born to Mrs. Pauline Gerber; on March 27, 1907, she married a brother of her first husband, then deceased, and on March 27 in this year the woman was granted a divorce decree from her second husband.

LEGISLATURE TO MEET ON MAY 10; THE CHIEF INSPECTOR UNDER PROHIBITION IS NAMED

The N. B. Legislature is to meet on May 10.

The government has been busy since being sworn in. The Valley Railway finance matters have gone into. Rev. W. D. Willson, secretary of the New Brunswick Alliance was appointed chief inspector under the prohibition act.

The question of refunding the public debt which is under consideration in other provinces was taken up, and Premier Foster, Hon. C. W. Robinson and the provincial secretary were delegated to take up the matter.

It was decided to employ an expert accountant of dominion-wide reputation to examine into the financial affairs of the province and report upon the same.

The Gleason contract for printing the Royal Gazette was ordered cancelled, and another contract was entered into for the work with the Mail Printing Company.

Hon. C. J. Osman was appointed a commissioner of the Jordan Sanitarium in place of ex-Governor McClean, deceased.

The grant for the Maritime Home for Girls was increased to $200.

Messrs. Foster, Roberts, Robinson, Dugal and Byrne were appointed the Provincial Hospital Commission.

The board of works consists of the minister, Hon. Mr. Veniot, and Messrs. Murray and Smith.

The premier and Hon. C. W. Robinson, with the provincial secretary-treasurer, compose the treasury board.

Premier Foster was assigned the place of Hon. Mr. Baxter upon the board of the Boys' Industrial Home, the latter having resigned.

Albion Foster was appointed sheriff for Carleton county.

The contractor for the Perry Point bridge was ordered to be notified not to go ahead with the work, the government giving as its reasons that so large a contract should not have been given out by a government who had lost the confidence of the people, that the loyal people of Kingston and Rothesay had expressed a willingness that so large an expenditure should not be incurred during war time, and that a free ferry at Goudale Point and the usual ferry privilege at Perry Point with a short road along the shore would fulfill present conditions.

Moreover, the state of the provincial finances is not such that so expensive a structure can be prudently undertaken at this time.

Arrangements were made to pay the February and March estimates of the Valley Railway Company.

Premier's Fine Beginning.

The opinion of those at the council board expressed at the close of the session was that Premier Foster made a vigorous and energetic president of the council and evinced a grasp of public business remarkable for one who has had no experience in governmental affairs.

Ministers Working Hard.

Today, Good Friday, Hon. Messrs. Veniot, Byrne and Tweeddale remained in the city attending to such departmental matters as required their prompt attention. Hon. Dr. Smith returns early in the week, and the other ministers will all be at their desks preparing for the session.

Their friends have assured them that they will not take any more of their time than is necessary for the by-elections.

GENERAL MAUDE AN ATHLETE.

General Maude, whose successes on the Tigris have surpassed all sober expectations, has a reputation for being extraordinarily careful and circumspect in his preparations. He is no lover of speculative enterprise. Unless he clearly sees his way, the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says, he does not like to accept the responsibility of attacking. But when he strikes he strikes like lightning. That is the judgment passed on him by a highly experienced officer who has served under him. No general could ask for a more flattering certificate. General Maude, being a considerable athlete, is generally vigorous against exhaustion. When he was at Woolwich he performed the feat of winning the half mile, mile and three miles on the same day against Sandhurst—a record I should think not likely to be beaten.

enormously. Altogether about a million men are now employed by this organization. Its representatives are spread all over the world. Still Prince Lvoff has not changed his habits, remaining as democratic as ever. Shunning the limelight and fame, he worked ceaselessly and tirelessly in the Zemstvo organization up to the days of the revolution.

Prince Lvoff is now about fifty years old. He is strong and healthy, both physically and spiritually. It is hard to imagine a man more fit for the responsible post of Russian prime minister in this period of transition from absolutism to democracy. His presence at the head of the new government is a guarantee of the fulfillment of the announced programme of reforms and of the firm establishment of liberty and democracy in Russia.

DISAPPEARING BED HIDDEN IN CEILING OF ROOM

For those who own small bungalows or cottages which lack guest rooms, some form of disappearing bed usually is convenient when emergencies arise. Certain advantages are apparently to be found in one described in the April Popular Mechanics Magazine, which is hidden in the ceiling of a room when it is not in actual use. This arrangement does not usurp wall, closet, or floor space. Two false panels are employed, so that the place of concealment is always covered. When the bed is lowered to the floor one of these panels descends and seals the opening. The other one, which is held below the bed, fits into place when the latter is raised. The bed is held in a box installed between the ceiling and the floor above. Cables attached to its four corners pass around pulleys mounted in the retaining box, extend through channels cut in the joists, and are made fast to a winding drum fitted in one of the side walls. Access to this is given by a small, neat door and by turning a crank the bed is raised or lowered.

PRINCE LVOFF A MAN OF THE PEOPLE

Russia's Prime Minister a Thorough-Going Democrat

He is Very Popular — Strong and Healthy, Physically and Spiritually — Right Man in the Right Place

(By Alexander N. Sakhovskoy)

Prince George E. Lvoff, the new Russian prime minister, is a member of one of the oldest Russian families, which hail from Rurik, the prince who created in the ninth century the kernel of the future great Russia. Thanks to his original connections and innate talents, Prince Lvoff could have succeeded in any field of endeavor. The way was open before him to any government post.

But he did not wish to utilize his connections for the upbuilding of his own career. His was not to bow before court favorites in search of favors. The glitter of the Czar's court did not attract him. Being an aristocrat by birth, he is a democrat in spirit. After graduating from the university he settled on his estate in the province of Tula, where he was soon elected to the local Zemstvo.

His extraordinary energy, ability and disinterested ambition to work for the good of the people soon distinguished him from the rest of the Zemstvo workers, and about 1898 he was chosen the head of the Tula Zemstvo. In this post he gained universal government respect. The masses worshipped him for his reforms and liberal views. On the other hand, the bureaucrats hated him as their bitterest opponent.

Forced Him Out of Post.

In 1908 the government nullified the Tula election, thus forcing Lvoff out of his post. He returned to his estate, where, with the utmost energy, he continued to promote the welfare of the peasantry, opening schools and establishing hospitals, all on his own resources. However, he could not long remain outside of the current of national activities.

During the Russo-Japanese war Prince Lvoff organized a series of sanitary and feeding stations for the army. Backed by the Zemstvos, he went to Manchuria, where he personally conducted this work. Upon his return to Russia the Czar offered him the title of Chamberlain and a high order, but he refused both. He did not consider it possible to accept gifts from a reactionary government. After that all roads to social work were practically closed to him, and he was under suspicion.

He made a trip to Europe and America. In the latter country he studied the life of the immigrants. He attracted no attention, because he avoided notoriety and sought no acquaintances in banking and merchant circles.

In 1912 an attempt was made to entice the prince into large social work. The Moscow Duma elected him mayor of the city. But the government again refused to recognize the election, not wishing to allow a man of such radical ideas to be mayor of Moscow.

Headed National Committee.

Then the world war, which shook all Russia to its foundations, broke out. The Zemstvos could not remain indifferent to the new conditions, and almost immediately after the outbreak of the war the Moscow Zemstvo issued a call to all the national Zemstvos to unite in aiding the wounded soldiers and the suffering population. In August, 1914, a convention of the Zemstvos was held in Moscow, and a national committee was formed, with Prince Lvoff at its head.

It is impossible to describe fully all the activities of the Zemstvo Union. Beginning with medical aid, it developed into an organization which did more for the supplying of the army than the government itself. Later the Union of Cities joined the Zemstvos in their national activities. The two expanded into a powerful force, forming the real backbone of the army. The traitorous government saw in this patriotic organization a menace to itself. It therefore inaugurated a campaign of repression against the Zemstvo Union. The social workers, led by Prince Lvoff, did not, however, abandon their patriotic activities, although the government did its best to make them do so.

The organization under Lvoff grew

Self Poisoning by FOOD advertisement with illustration of a man and woman at a table. Text: 'The food which is taken to nourish the body and keep up vigor and strength becomes a poison to the system when digestion fails. You feel drowsy after meals, lose appetite, suffer from constipation, have pains in the bowels and through the body. Instead of being digested, the food ferments and gives rise to gas or wind on the stomach, which crowds about the heart, causing suffocating feelings and derangements of the heart's action. Here lies the cause of indigestion and dyspepsia, and neglect only leads to chronic and complicated derangements, which destroy all comfort and shorten life. The ideal treatment for indigestion is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because they promptly and positively remove the cause of trouble. Acting directly and specifically on the liver, kidneys and bowels, they cleanse the system of all impurities, and their occasional use keeps these filtering and excretory organs regular and active. The blood is purified, pains and aches disappear, and such derangements as indigestion, constipation, biliousness, backache and kidney derangements are cured. ## The Facts of the U-Boat Peril

(Commander Bellairs, M.P., naval expert, in interview.)
The effect of the intensified U-boat warfare is to change the admiralty attitude towards the submarines; the change is all to the good. Hitherto the tendency has been to concentrate on the development and perfection of underwater craft and, incidentally only, to bring under close study the problem of the destruction of the submarine. Naval brains have been attracted rather by the evolution of the submarine as an offensive weapon than by the evolution of its antithesis, the anti-submarine contrivance.

Today it is clear that the most important task of the admiralty is the improvement and expansion of anti-submarine measures, and of the two the admiralty is more concerned to destroy the U-boat than to devise an E-boat better than the existing types.

The U-boat peril is serious. No good can be served by disguising that fact. It is serious because it is attended with certain results which, while falling far short of German anticipations, do considerably complicate the security of tonnage. Our own shipping sails the seas as usual, losing a small but not unimportant percentage each week; but neutral shipping remains for the present timid in its harbors, and the Atlantic ports of America are congested with steel and other vital products bought by the Allies, owing to the refusal of America and other neutral shipowners to allow their vessels to sail. To that extent unlimited piracy has scored.

On the other hand Allied steamers come and go as usual, despite the U-boats which the Germans are supposed to have at sea and the mines which they have sown broadcast in the trade lanes, and in the archives of Whitehall the ledger containing the list of German submarines that will never return has many new entries.

For some weeks we shall need to preserve "a square jaw" over the depredations of the submarines. It takes time to discover their newer tactics, and the arming of the merchantmen, which was so tardily undertaken, is a progressive work. But the more merchantmen that we send to sea adequately armed the less chance we give the U-boats of securing victims.

The newest of the German submarines, it is calculated, can remain at sea from fifty to sixty days, particularly if they rest at frequent intervals on the sea bottom, which is their usual custom. The admiralty then can figure out pretty accurately when the stores of the U-boats will have become so exhausted that they must return home. That is the best time for making gaps in their numbers.

The U-boat is to be fought by a happy combination of offensive and defensive measures. The most vulnerable craft, it hides from the destroyer and the quick-moving patrol ship, and fears that it looms like an under-water Zeppelin when aircraft are about. The more active and numerous our destroyers and patrols the more we compel the submarine to remain submerged, and to face the complicated factor of its low endurance for under-water propulsion.

Experience has proved that the U-boat elects to attack the merchant ship on the surface and the warship below the surface.

There is, of course, a very good reason for this. The submarine carries only eight torpedoes at the maximum. If she relies on the torpedo to sink a merchantman she will soon have exhausted her supply and then is useless; she must return home to replenish. The U-boat, as we tell when she is attacking an armed or an unarmed ship.

Our shipping is helped by the seal with which the destroyers in their lairs, and air attack the U-boats in their lairs. The remorseless hunt suggests itself as the best policy. On the defensive side the use of stronger and more widely spread nets, mining and electrical, will undoubtedly have received full consideration at the hands of the admiralty.

I am very much in favor of the employment of seaplanes to spot the submarines. In fine weather from a height their outline can be seen under water, and, as mentioned in a French paper, they can then be bombed by a delay-action bomb which sinks to the adjusted depth before exploding. To be effective, however, it does seem to me that we should require hundreds and hundreds of seaplanes. Whether we have them or not is not for me to say.

So far my remarks about anti-submarine measures have been in general terms. These in the main are the steps that any nation would take to fight the peril, but over and above these measures are steps suggested by experience and contrivances devised by ingenious brains as to which the admiralty wisely chooses to remain silent. Warring with the U-boat is a much more complex business than the public imagine. We do not succeed by the mere use of force, not because of any one measure but by the employment in co-operation of a hundred and one measures constantly added to and improved upon.

In the Napoleonic wars our shipping was in much the same danger, and we enjoyed scarcely the same advantages as today. Our sailing ships were the worst designed in the world, and our warships inferior in build to the French. The best battleships we possessed were those we captured from the enemy. But for all that we overcame the menace, as under God we shall overcome it in the present emergency.

I notice much emphasis is being laid on the wisdom of the convoy system. The fault for this system is that it reduces the speed of the fastest vessel to that of the slowest, with the consequence that what we gain by way of extra precaution we lose by the longer immobilization of tonnage, especially as the convoy system requires waiting until the vessels to be convoyed are ready to sail. I do not like it. The target offered is large. Far better for two armed merchant ships to sail together. Then one protects the other.

SAGAMORE AND 61 LOST

Warren Liner Destroyed by Mine Off Irish Coast — Two Boston Men Perished

(Boston Globe)
Information regarding the fate of the crew of the Warren Liner Sagamore, which left here on Feb. 21 for Liverpool and never arrived at her destination, reached this country yesterday when the steamer Bay State arrived from Liverpool and some of her crew reported that Capt. Patrick Cummins and his entire crew of 60 men, including Michael Hallway and John Henry, firemen of Boston, perished.

The steamer was blown up by contact with a mine off the Irish coast, it was stated.

Capt. Alexander Fenton commanded the Sagamore for 25 years, but remained ashore during the trip that terminated so tragically.

office, and German reports have not included the Sagamore in the list of the steamers destroyed by U-boats.

According to the men on the Bay State, the Irish Sea and the English Channel are strewn with mines, and many vessels reported torpedoed are in reality destroyed by striking mines.

A pair of pigeons started a home in a large chandler in the council chamber of the city hall at New Albany, Ind. When found, the female was sitting on two eggs in the nest. The pigeons were really destroyed by striking mines.

WILL CANADA'S MILITIA ACT BE ENFORCED IF NEW CALL FAILS?

Government Has Almost Unlimited Power in Matter of Calling Out Able-Bodied Men of Country for Its Defence—Militia May be Sent Overseas

(Toronto Star Weekly.) If the attempt to raise 50,000 volunteers for the Canadian militia to release an equal number of soldiers for overseas service fails, there is no recourse but for the government to enforce the Militia Act. In fact, in some quarters, optimistic as to the good intentions of the government, it is prophesied that the present call is intended as a necessary prelude to the enforcement of the Militia Act. Just what is the Militia Act which N. W. Rowell and others less prominent politically have been calling upon the government to put into effect. That the militia of Canada may be sent overseas at the will of the governor-general-in-council, contrary to the belief of many, is clearly set forth in section 69, chapter 41, of the Militia and Defense Act of Canada. In the first place, section 19 of the

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-dick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of mucus, a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and your little gentry moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

ECZEMA ON FACE Was So Bad Had to Stay in House

All skin diseases such as eczema or salt rheum, itching or burning rashes, eruptions, ulcers, boils, pimples, etc., are all caused by bad blood, and while not usually attended with any fatal results, may sooner or later develop into some serious blood trouble, and the entire system become affected. Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and well-known remedy, will cleanse the blood of all its impurities, and by this means cure all skin diseases and other blood troubles. Ernest Andrews, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "My face was covered with eczema and was so terribly bad I had to stay in the house. I had ten different doctors but got no relief of their treatment that I went and bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it helped me so I kept on taking it. Now I am cured and have a lovely skin. "People who used to see me when I was so bad and see me now will not believe it, but always tell them that nothing cured me but Burdock Blood Bitters." Why Giants Are Picked To Win

Imposing Batting Order is Made Up of Hard and Timely Hitters

New York, April 2.—It is seldom in major league baseball that such unanimity of opinion as to the eventual winner exists in the case of the National League as this season. North and South and east and west the critics are picking the New York Giants to win the flag. This being the situation, there are several angles which are worthy of notice. In any branch of sports, as a general rule, it is the champion who is the favorite before the battle begins. Yet when it comes to figuring the winner in Gov. Tenney's organization the championship Brooklyn team with its fine pitching staff and its heavy hitting ability hardly is considered. The reason for this vicinity expect McGraw's men to win in a walk. The fans of other cities are beset by the gnawing fear that the Giants now will be headed off by the season's true Little Napoleon has put together a formidable machine. The main thing that the enthusiasts remember about McGraw's club of last year is that during the early part of the season it won seventeen games in succession away from home and that in New York it won twenty-six consecutive games before undergoing a defeat. The team that won the twenty-six games was not the same team that won the seventeen. Hoelke was at first instead of Merkle, Herzog at second in place of Doyle, Zimmerman replaced McKean at third, and Sallee had been added to the pitching and McGraw a freshly built team which swept through every team in the National League and broke existing records for consecutive victories. It is the same team which has been the barrier to the Giants' progress. A great team it is. Many good judges have called it the greatest ever gathered together. It certainly offers an imposing batting order for any pitcher to face. Leading off is George Burns, who, if he had a little more aggressiveness, would be even more widely recognized for the great outfielder that he is. A good waterer, a dangerous hitter and a fine baserunner, he scored more runs in last year than any man in his league. Next at bat comes Charley Herzog, the most valuable infielder in baseball. Herzog is a player who has made a real study of the game. He knows the batters and their weaknesses, and there is no better man to encourage, advise or steady a pitcher. McGraw's men are batted only 264 last season, he is one of the few men who can be depended upon to hit to right field with a man on base, or at the ball players put it, hit behind the runner. Then comes Dave Robertson, called by many the Ty Cobb of the National League. Robertson probably is the fastest man in the country in getting to first. He is a .300 hitter, and more than that, he is a clean-up hitter. He may not be the best judge of a fly ball in the world, but his tremendous speed enables him to cover an immense amount of territory. After Robertson, comes the one and only Heine Zimmerman. Zimmerman is another slugger, a good base runner, and one of the most great players in the game. He has been called a slow thinker, but he showed few evidences of it with the Giants last year, and he makes plays that few other third basemen can make. Fletcher has long won his place as a truly great shortstop. There is no man who can do deeper for a ball and get an opponent at first. He and Herzog work perfectly together around second base. He hit .286 last season, and he is one of those batters who is dangerous in a pinch. Benny Kauff is one of the picturesque figures of the game. He did not lead the National League in batting last season, and probably will not lead it this year, but for all that he is a wicked free-wheeling hitter, and is apt to be a much-improved ball player after his last year's experience. He, like his brother outfielders, has a fine throwing arm. Walter Hoelke was one of last season's sensations. In 111 times at bat he compiled an average of .261, leading the league in hitting. He is of a fine physique, and should this year become a polished ball player. While he may not hit as well as he did last year, he is a natural. This, outside of the batteries, is McGraw's regular line, and it is hard to pick a weakness in it. Behind the bat he has McCarty, who hit .299 in eighty games last year, and tied for the league lead in fielding. He also has Rariden, the veteran Gibson, and Koscher, a fine substitute.

MANY INSTRUMENTS COMBINED IN MOVIE ORGAN

The special musical needs of the motion picture theatres have been largely responsible for the development of an instrument, made in California, which, under the direction of a single operator, can produce the soft tones of a piano, or a symphony orchestra, or it can be changed instantly to give forth the crashing harmony of a brass band. The instrument is a combination of a player piano, a pressure steel organ, and pipe producing the effect of an orchestra, and has in addition a large number of special attachments. It is operated electrically, uses ordinary 88-note roll music, and is equipped with a patented device whereby the operator can shift instantly from one musical roll to another. If preferred, the piano or the organ can be played alone, manually or mechanically, or as many of the orchestral and band attachments can be introduced as desired. A skilled operator can produce music having no suggestion of mechanical playing, and by pulling and releasing certain cords, which terminate above the keyboard, he can introduce at will such features as the sound of horses' hoofs, cow bells, an automobile horn, the whistle of a bird, and the like.—From the April Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Mr. William Wood of Hadlington, Ont., is added to the list of Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. Hadlington, Ont., April 6.—(Special)—Mr. William Wood, a well-known farmer living near here, is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He claims they cured him of two of the most painful and dangerous forms of kidney trouble, bladder trouble and gravel. "Yes, I was troubled with gravel and bladder trouble," Mr. Wood said, when asked about his cure. "But since I took Dodd's Kidney Pills my troubles are gone. I also had heart flutterings and shortness of breath. These were flushed off and specs before my eyes and I was very nervous. All these troubles have gone, too, since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills." Others in his neighborhood have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and found that they are the greatest of all remedies for kidney troubles of any kind. Dodd's Kidney Pills are specialists. They cure sick kidneys and that is all they claim to cure. The reason they are given credit for curing rheumatism, lumbago, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease is that all of these diseases are caused by sick kidneys.

DOOM OF THE DUG OUTS

Whatever else our trench raids may have accomplished, they appear to have sounded the doom of the German dug-outs. All accounts agree that the enemy are finding these elaborate subterranean cellars veritable traps. In the case of a successful trench raid there is often no escape except by surrender. What happens, says the London correspondent illustrated by the instruction I heard a sergeant giving to a bombing party that was going to clear its route of training—"If they don't come out of the dug-out, fling a bomb in amongst them," he said. "And when you hear a few Jews by with another one. Then there ought to be silence, but it's just as well to give them a third to make dead."

HURRYING DOCTORS FOR SERVICE IN WAR

New York, April 7.—Following news made public that Columbia University proposed to erect a great emergency hospital on Columbia Oval in the Bronx came the announcement that the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia would graduate its senior class in January next instead of May. Dr. Samuel W. Lambert, dean of the college, said the move was part of the university's programme of co-operation with the government. "The trustees decided and I was officially notified," he said. "The College of Physicians and Surgeons would be kept open all summer so that the class which would ordinarily graduate in May might be pushed to graduation next January. This means that more than 100 young doctors with excellent training will be released at the beginning of next year for hospital or field work." It was at the suggestion of Dr. Lambert that the decision of the trustees was made. A tramp asked a Pittsfield woman for a lunch, and a shirt the other day. She was thanked heartily for the lunch, but the shirt she offered him was declined because it had a stiff bosom.
