Prime Minister Says Aim of Party is to Cut Cost of Living
FACTS OF LONDON SIGNED TODAY

LIBERAL POLICY AGAIN EXPLAINED BY PREMIER KING
It is to Reduce Production Cost and the Cost of Living.
GO HAND IN HAND
The Debt Reduced $35,000,000, He Says, and Outlook Improved.

Warton, Ont., Aug. 29.—The Liberal Party has two great objectives before it, declared Premier King to a crowd of over two thousand people of the riding of North Bruce, here this afternoon. "One is to reduce the cost of production and the other is to reduce the cost of living to the people. The two go hand in hand."

The Liberal Party, he continued, had taken the sales tax off certain articles that the producers and consumers might be relieved of a large measure of direct taxation, and production from the country's natural resources might be increased.

Vienna, Aug. 30.—It is reported from Moscow that it is now the practice to take flashlight photographs of the audience at night cabarets, especially the most expensive, without the knowledge of the visitors, which can easily be done when the lights are constantly changing for "advanced" dancing displays, and then to assess the persons photographed for income tax at a fantastic rate.

ROSS PERFECTS ALUMINUM SOLDER

Arthur Ross of Durham street, who after years of experimenting succeeded in working out a formula for hardening copper and aluminum, has now perfected an aluminum solder, which is said to be the only known solder which can be used for any and every use in connection with this metal. The solder adheres so firmly to the aluminum that the metal itself will tear before it can be removed. Not only can the solder be applied with any ordinary iron but has withstood the boiling test for hours. The solder discovered by Mr. Ross can be applied so quickly and easily that the thousands of cooking utensils, which are now thrown away because of small leaks or tears, could be repaired.

CANADA WILL NEED A NAVY OF HER OWN

As Her Trade Develops She Will Perceive the Need, Says Field. Canada must have a navy of her own, declared Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Field, commanding the special service fleet of the British navy, in the course of a brief and informal speech made to the directors of the Exhibition on Saturday. Sir Frederick qualified his remarks by stating that the Canadian people would decide that question for themselves when the time came. He also took care to say that he had been quoted as saying that he had not said much of his speech was a tribute to the British mercantile marine.

PARIS TASTES EVENING BANQUET

So, "corn on the cob" has appeared in Paris! And, as might really be expected, it was an enterprising gentleman farmer who has raised it and is supplying the Paris restaurants. It has heretofore been contended that this favorite American dish could not be grown in France, but once more a theory involving the limitation of corn's capabilities has been disproved. Only last year this same farmer began supplying Paris and London with Vermont asparagus from his plantings in the French capital, and, by the way, he sends his corn also to London by airplane. Perhaps, with all his ingenuity, he will even grow the St. John river, which is said to supply genuinely fresh eggs in the near future.

MUST STOP DEAD AT RAILWAY CROSSING

The suggestion is made in Portland, Maine, that at the next session of the Maine legislature the proposition will be advanced that Maine adopt a law similar to that recently enacted in North Carolina and which penalizes the motor car driver who fails to bring his car to a dead stop within 50 feet of any railroad crossing. It is said that the law has worked well in North Carolina and that the number of accidents at crossings has been reduced since its institution.

Taking in The City Sights

One of the show places of St. John, without equal in the Maritimes, is the Furniture House of Marcus. Furniture of a class and choice found only in the largest cities draws daily visitors from the four corners and an occasion of ever-changing interest to local people. The Marcus selections of Furniture form more than an education of the ways and means of the Home Beautiful—they are there to be sold, and to sell well in these parts, prices must play a part equally with lasting beauty. The larger nature of the Marcus operations permit prices none approach—and they ship freight free, anywhere in the Maritimes.

PLAYGROUNDS CHILDREN TURN OUT
A VARIETY OF CREDITABLE WORK

Work and Play Neatly Combined in Exhibit at Big Show.

Sunshine and cool breezes have aided the St. John Playgrounds Association in its purpose to carry on a greater amount of play in its six recreation centres this season. With trained leaders, under the direction of efficiently trained supervisors, the ideals of healthful exercise have been met with a fine result in ruddy faced children, lithe of body and graceful in the pretty games and dances they have learned in the seven weeks of supervised play.

That they have not played too much, their exhibition of handcraft will show by the cleverly fashioned work that will astonish the visitors to the women's section of the exhibition building, in the south wing. There will be full display of a high order and knitted work that has been done neatly and firmly by small girls. One Afghan in gay colors has been completed by a girl of 14, aided by some of the younger girls, and is a work of art, as well as a very comfortable article for a cosy corner. A luncheon table, with handpainted dishes, favors, place cards and all the fixings, will be a special feature in the booth.

Practical Articles.
One of the leaders told how she had to learn to turn the heel of a sock and to shape mittens, because it was decided that these would be practical articles to fashion with the yarn donated this season by leading merchants. Toques and scarves were also knitted. All these articles are to be exhibited at the playgrounds' booth.

The girls have fashioned hats for themselves and one for the exhibition to be sold, if desired. The same rule holds good for the knitted articles. They brought their own materials for their own work and the association, through donations and some purchases, supplied the materials for exhibition purposes. A special course was given the supervisors prior to the opening of the playgrounds, by experts in the various kinds of handcraft.

Exhibit of Play.
The success of the emphasis on play has been so encouraging that the association requested permission from the exhibition entertainment committee to put on a 15-minute show of folk dances, games and marches, which will done between the regular professional numbers. grounds will be under the direction of the special play leaders, Miss Hazel McCready and Miss Jenny Wilson.

Miss Emma I. Heffer, general superintendent of the summer work and of the East End Boys' Club, is general director and will present some good ideas in the booth in the building, to show what an ideal playground should be. She will be on hand to answer any questions of visitors and she will have for the evenings, alternately, Miss Ethel Hawker and Miss Beatrice Moomay, two of the senior supervisors of the recreation centres.

This Year's Staff.

The staff for this season was composed of Miss Hawker, Miss Moomay, Miss Alice Dever, Miss K. O'Neill, Miss Eugenia Kelly and Miss Marlon Hamilton, supervisors; Miss Elizabeth Stanley assistant and play leader; Miss Eileen Davis, handicraft assistant and six young men leaders for boys' games; Harold Barker, Arthur Burns, Maurice Fowler, Robert Langstroth, Edward Dalton and Rae McMurray. Miss Wilson and Miss McCready led in play on two grounds respectively. The male leaders led in baseball. The friendly rivalry between the various grounds was an impetus to the leaders and to the boys.

Those who have worried lest it might lead to sorry consequences to teach children how to play will see through his report and at the exhibition that much work is accomplished under the guise of play. It will also be apparent that playground work is not a paradoxical term, but really a strenuous job for leaders and for those who have control of the conduct of the centres from year to year.

Play, which is the natural expression of the healthy child, has made its place as one of the leading factors in completing the health programme of the province. It is essentially to be set forth at the exhibition this season. The manner in which teaching is leading will be demonstrated, showing how the child is led to unconsciously become responsible for its own action, and thus enters the first lap of citizenship.

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 30, 1924

THE EXHIBITION

The arrangement by which the addresses at the formal opening of the Exhibition will be delivered in the Armory will make many more people desire to hear President Dwyer and Sir Douglas Hazen.

The citizens will no doubt attend in large numbers, not only because they will desire to hear the message of Sir Douglas, but because this is a community effort, whose success ultimately depends on local patronage.

The directors have worked very hard and with a fine public spirit to gather together such exhibits and features as will interest, educate and amuse, and they deserve such support as will guarantee the Association against financial loss.

No doubt many who live in the suburbs will devote tomorrow evening to the Exhibition, to show their interest and their desire to aid in creating the spirit at the outset which will carry the fair through the week with success.

There will be many excursionists from other parts of the province on Monday, Labor Day, and exhibitors should put forth every effort to have everything ship-shape in their booths, so that there will be no unfinished corners to tell of a lack of enterprise on their part.

The citizens generally may again be reminded that the city should be made as outwardly attractive as possible next week, to impress visitors and remind everybody that St. John's annual gala week has come.

TO COMBAT IGNORANCE

An important forward step in world affairs is the appointment of a world-wide commission to consider the removal of illiteracy in all countries.

The commission consists of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart of Kentucky, chairman; Pampilio Ortega, president of the Central Normal School at Tegucigalpa, Honduras; Princess Santa Borga of Rome, Italy; Dr. P. W. Kuro, president of Southeastern university, Shanghai and Nankin, China; Princess Hansa Mehta of Baroda, India; H. W. Huntley, Winnipeg; and Madam Tetsuko Yasui, president of the United College for Women, Tokio.

Discussing the subject, Dr. Thomas, Commissioner of Education in Maine, said this week: "The Crown Prince of Japan has appropriated a million yen and placed it in the hands of the Japanese Educational Association for the purpose of wiping out illiteracy in that country in ten years.

Mrs. Stewart, chairman of the Commission, is passing a few days in Maine, in conference with Dr. Thomas planning the world programme of universal education. Such movements, while much less widely heralded than the doings of the statesmen, have an important influence in drawing the nations into closer sympathy.

The more they discuss their common problems the broader their views on all international questions will become.

CANADA IS ALL RIGHT.

Sir Henry Thornton is an uncompromising optimist, so far as Canada's future is concerned. In a speech at Pembroke, Ontario, this week, after his tour of the west, he said that more and more as he visited the various sections of the Dominion the greater was his optimism for Canada's future.

A BETTER OUTLOOK.

The tension is again relaxed. The German Reichstag has approved of the London agreement. It was feared the Nationalists would prevent the necessary two-thirds vote, but at the last they decided Germany could not afford to isolate herself in such a manner.

The settlement of the reparations dispute lends new interest to the meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations, next Monday, when Premier MacDonald and Herriot will be in attendance. The accord between Britain and France and the more accommodating attitude of Germany now seems to impend. However, this experience the long-neglected revival of confidence, with a proportionate improvement in the industrial and commercial world.

Just as conditions are improved in Europe comes word that rival aspirants for power in part of China are at each other's throats and that serious trouble may result. So long as it is impossible to reconcile rival ambitions for leadership, that country cannot progress, and there seems no early prospect of the rise of a leader who can bring order out of the chaos which now seems to impend.

However, this is a family affair, and the only part other nations can take is to afford protection to their own nationals. The world at large is far more deeply interested in European affairs, and the outlook in that quarter has vastly improved.

PORTS AND TRAFFIC.

The relation of the Peace River country to the growth of British Columbia coast cities is attracting a good deal of attention in Vancouver and Victoria. Mr. E. S. Farr, of the Victoria High School faculty, has been studying the question and in a recent address painted a very rosy picture. He said the Peace River country was the natural hinterland of British Columbia. It contained fifteen million acres of arable land, situated partly in British Columbia and partly in Alberta.

The greater part of this country was ready for the plough, the forested areas being comparatively small, with poplars predominating. The agricultural possibilities of this tract of land were equal, he declared, to those of the Province of Manitoba.

Of course the great need of the Peace River country is a railway service. There are two routes, either of which would bring the region within thirty-six hours of Vancouver. When the country is thus opened up it will provide traffic for the Pacific ports and a market for manufactured goods. Referring to the appeal to Ottawa to provide railway communication, Mr. Farr made some observations which will be heartily approved in the east. He said he did not add with the idea that the east was opposed to western development or the western movement of grain. He claimed there was no call for such an attitude on the part of the east, because of all the grain that passed through the Great Lakes the greater part was diverted to American ports.

The east is not envious of the west. The Pacific ports must get an increasing share of the grain trade because trade with the Orient is growing, and because the Panama Canal has changed the whole problem of transportation across the Pacific. The eastern provinces should be content to get the traffic that goes to American ports, and yield to the Pacific ports whatever business their position and advantages may give them. The chief competitors of St. John, for example, are American and not Canadian ports.

The brief visit of the Prince of Wales to the United States has aroused a remarkable public interest, and to no representative of another country would the American people accord so warm and hearty a welcome. His democratic manner and very evident desire to mingle with people as a man rather than as a Prince appeals to a people who pride themselves on their democracy, and the association of Americans with the British in the war and in the recent international negotiations, not forgetting the visit of the members of the American bar to the Mother Country and the reception accorded them, have had a powerful influence on American sentiment toward England and Englishmen.

The American fliers have been delayed by severe storms around Labrador, but there is every reason for confidence that they will win through to their goal.

The men of the American cruiser have made a fine impression in St. John, not only by their appearance but by their courtesy to all visitors. They are very welcome visitors to the port.

Press Comment.

ENDORSES POPE'S ACTION.

To the Editor of The Toronto Globe: In The Globe of Aug. 15 there appeared a letter from the Rev. F. G. Scott, rector of St. Matthew's, Quebec, in which he proclaimed the year 1925 a holy year. "During which the Roman Catholic Church exercises a deep and earnest striving to bring its members closer to God by deeper consecration of individual lives, more frequent attendance at services and the exaltation of Christ as the Saviour of the world."

Canon Scott suggests that all Christian bodies in Canada should in their own way act according to their own methods, and unite in this spirit of revival and make 1925 a holy year. I write to express sympathy with Canon Scott's suggestion with which I doubt not the vast majority of Protestant Churches in Canada would approve. Whatever difference may exist in denominations of the Roman Catholic Church none will question the world's need and the Church's hunger for a larger and fuller life, and the unexplored possibilities of prayer.

"Look! look! They kneel," cried one of the nobles of the Third of France, when he saw his antagonists fling themselves on the ground. "Yes, my lord," a veteran answered. "And when the Huguenots kneel they comprehend how to fight."

Now, when after the deadly conflict, would powers be joining hands in pursuit of peace, would it not be a proper and beautiful thing if Churches for centuries at war should find a common standing ground and unitedly seek in their own way to signalize 1925 as a holy year?

As how proceed is another question. When the Israelites came up to the Red Sea the next step was not clear. In due time the sea dried and the Captain of our salvation all things are possible. Let us follow where He leads and this suggestion of an ecclesiastical holy year seems to be His leading.

ALSO HON. DR. BAXTER.

(Bystander in Toronto Globe.) Ability to speak in French is so rare an accomplishment among English-speaking public men in Canada as to call for comment. The point is raised in a letter from Dr. George H. Locke, Toronto's Public Library chief, in connection with the death of Hartley Dewar. "In all the notices of his life there was one thing strangely omitted," says Dr. Locke. "He was the only politician in Ontario—I mean English-educated and English-speaking—who could make a first-class address in French. We hear a great deal of talk about such things being desirable, but I doubt there is more than one who can do it. I heard him at the Reform Club in Montreal four or five years ago."

Dr. Locke's point is well taken, at least so far as Ontario is concerned, though there are some exceptions from other provinces. Sir George Foster, though latterly a resident of Ontario, was born in New Brunswick, where he might have gained some of the knowledge of French which he occasionally uses in his public addresses. Sir Robert Borden learned French after he became Conservative Leader, in sufficient degree to make an occasional speech to French-Canadian audiences. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen has followed the example of his predecessor and sometimes ventures in the tongue of the sister Province. Premier MacKenzie King and Hon. N. W. Rowell have made brief excursions into the same tongue, but with less confidence and facility, it is said.

Among the men whose mother tongue is French those who speak in English is quite common, and it is often done with much discretion. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a shining example, and he had excellent followers in such men as Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Senator Belcourt and Hon. Charles Marcell, all of whom have occupied the Speaker's chair in the House.

Which leads memory back to the devotion to duty shown by the late Hon. Dr. Sproule, some time Orange Grand Master, who when Speaker went so far as to learn to read the opening prayers of the House in French as well as English.

BEING OVERHAULED.

While hauled out on the railway the steamer had her bottom scraped and painted and all undergear repairs were made. The ship is to undergo a thorough overhauling and the work will be continued all next month.

ENGLAND.

(Dorothy M. Hobbs, in Poetry.) Not a god of England do I own; Nor would I! For my England is not bought; And sold for gain like any common thing; It is to me no earth, no measured span Of numbered acres bounded by a sea; It is not here; these mellow hills and slopes Of moving tree-tops, winding lanes and grass; And quarried chalk; the shingle beaches looped In little bays; the jutting headlands bold; Fit workmanship of never-resting waves That beat the rhythm of all a thousand storms— I love them for the memory enshrined Of noble thoughts and deeds; that of here were spent The mortal hours of those whose lives have faded.

These hills and valleys England; but to me Where'er one stands boldly forth against a lie, Where Truth works undismayed Against a thousand odds; there lives and breathes The spirit of England. England cannot be But in the love of those who call it selves Her sons and daughters; in their strength she grows, And by their faith that makes them bold to live.

As well as die for her, she flourishes. This knowing let me live, and living If so perchance I may by patience aid One line to England's stature, loving her In simple truth and strong sincerity, That whatsoever soul my foot shall tread, My life shall be in England, so at one With her in thought and deed, that in my heart, Shall throb the very beat of England's life. And I shall know, not England is my own, But I, even I, am England.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

"Always Alert." On a Kentish country road a motor-car left the highway and dashed into a copple. It is presumed that the highly trained machine scented a brace of pedestrians lurking in the undergrowth.

"Unduly Alarmed." Terrified Bride—George, the ocean's getting smaller. "Merely the ebb tide, dear." "Oh, thank goodness. You know you just said you'd love me till the ocean went dry—and I was beginning to get scared."

Diplomatic. Sue—I can't help it if I'm not perfect. There's only been one perfect little girl. "Who's that?" "Oh! And who was that?" "Sue—You, mummy, when you was little."

A Masterpiece. Mrs. Brown was almost speechless as she beheld the Grand Canyon. "Isn't it wonderful?" she gushed. "I'll say so," responded Mr. Brown, who mixed contracting with politics. "Boy, that was some excavating job."

Taking It Easy. "John, I don't see how you can be so satisfied to lounge around when there's so much to be done." "Oh, well, my dear, it's all in the day's shirk."

Too Cheap. Rastus—Here's dat quatiah ah borrowed from yuh last year. Sambo—Yuh done kept it so long dat ah don't know if it's wuff while for me to change mah 'pinion of yuh jes' for two bits.

There, But Where? The salesman had just turned in his traveling expense account. "Huh!" growled the boss, eyeing critically the neat suit the salesman wore. "Is that in the expense account?" "Yes," snapped the salesman. "But you'll have a darned hard time finding it."

Chatman, N. B., Aug. 29.—The Northumberland-by-election is becoming a mixed-up affair even before the candidates are actual in the field. The campaign to give the Liberal nomination to W. B. Snowball, of Chatman, which was inaugurated as soon as the late Hon. John Morrissey died, is in danger of running on the rocks.

Feeling that it is a case of the man seeking the office rather than the office seeking the man is said to have grown to such an extent that friends of Mr. Snowball are said to be fearful of what the result will be.

Meanwhile John S. Martin, Labor member of the Legislature but a staunch Liberal, is looming up as the popular choice. One of his friends said today that he has seen young many, many times during the last few days to allow his name to go before the convention.

So far Mr. Martin has declined to enter the field, but he is leaving here on Monday for Ottawa as New Brunswick's representative, appointed by the Provincial Government, to attend the Federal interprovincial labor conference; and it may be that even in his absence his friends will press his nomination before the convention at Newcastle next Tuesday.

Others who are looming up as Mr. Snowball's chances appear to fade are G. P. Burchill, son of the late Hon. John P. Burchill, and Will Sinclair. Meanwhile Mayor Hickey, of Chatman, seems to have the conservative nomination pretty well clinched.

MADE IN ST. JOHN EXHIBIT WILL BE NEW FEATURE OF SHOW THIS YEAR

120 Local Manufacturers Will Show Wares in Machinery Hall.

The "Made in St. John" exhibit will be one of the features of this season's St. John's Exhibition, the display taking up the entire north side of Machinery Hall and occupying a total of 2,700 square feet of floor space. There will be in the exhibit 120 local manufacturers and producers represented and a great many lines of goods will be on show.

It is properly one of the various products of the city a three-tiered table giving 1,200 feet of display surface has been erected and will be used for the goods which can be placed to advantage on it. A considerable amount of floor space will be available for heavier articles.

The exhibit space is 112 feet long and the big table will be 80 feet, leaving 10 feet on each end. The tiers of the table will be respectively 2, 3 and 4 feet from the floor and will each be five feet in width.

The number of manufacturers taking part is in excess of that expected, several new firms having been discovered during the campaign for the exhibit. All the goods will be grouped to give the best possible effect and a considerable amount of leeway is being allowed the individual contributors in the way of table covers and signs.

The committee in charge of the booth has arranged to have a grey sheathing paper covering but this may be varied by the exhibitors. Those taking part have been assessed a small fee in order to pay expenses which have been considerable. Among the items which have had to be paid for are salaries of attendants and watchmen, cards and cotton signs for the exhibit and insurance on the goods shown for the whole time they are on display.

Working members of the committee have gone into the matter in great detail and have spent a good deal of time on the work. A folder itemizing the various articles manufactured in the city has been prepared and will be given away at the exhibit. The list is as follows: Artificial limbs, art glass, automobile parts, awnings, anchors, baking powders, biscuits, boxes (wooden), bottled beverages, brass founding, brick, brushes, brooms, butter, book binding, bags, boilers, bolts and nuts, cans (oil), candlesticks (wooden), chocolates, confectionery, cotton piece goods, canned fish, chicken foods, clothing, coffee, cigars, corn meal, doors, eye lenses, engravings, extracts, extension ladders, electric lamps, electro plating, enamel, fishing rods, fishing flies, fur clothing, furniture (to order), fire escapes, flavoring extracts, gutters and eaves troughs, gold plating, harness, hats, hosiery, hat shapes, ice cream, iron founding, lime, ladders, lead pipe, loose leaf systems, measures (liquid), monuments, mattresses, millinery, nails, plating, pottery, pickles, pie fillings, pork packing, picture frames, patent medicines, paper, paper bags, rugs, roofing, rubber stamps, saws, sugar, sheet metal, saubages, shingles, stove lining, signs, spices, stoves, tin plate, stoneware, stationary sweeping compounds, street cars, tents, tiles, twines, tea, trunks, valves, vinegar and woodworking.

MARTIN ASKED TO ENTER FIELD

Rumors Mention His Name as Possible Liberal Candidate

Chatman, N. B., Aug. 29.—The Northumberland-by-election is becoming a mixed-up affair even before the candidates are actual in the field. The campaign to give the Liberal nomination to W. B. Snowball, of Chatman, which was inaugurated as soon as the late Hon. John Morrissey died, is in danger of running on the rocks.

CHASE DISTURBERS. The police were called to the corner of Britain and Carmarthen streets late Thursday night to disperse some men who were creating a disturbance. An officer was called to the King Square about 11:15 o'clock last night to disperse two men and two women who were complained of as acting disorderly.

PIPE CAUSED FIRE. Hugh H. McEellan, provincial fire marshal, returned yesterday from Bath, N. B., where he attended an investigation into the recent fire in a hotel there. He said that the fire had been found to be accidental and to have been caused by the overheating of a stove pipe where it passed through a wall or partition in the building.

BOY DROWNED AT A PICNIC

Kentville, N. S., Aug. 29.—Willard Kinsman, a Hillaton youth, was drowned while attending a Sunday school picnic at Starrs Point today. While bathing he got beyond his depth and having a weak heart was drowned before he could be rescued. His body was recovered.

TINY TOTS WANDER FAR FROM HOMES

Numerous lost children are found in the streets by police constables, taken to police headquarters and there looked after by parents. The number found since last spring is about 75. Yesterday morning at 11:45 o'clock William Burton, aged two years, was picked up in Charlotte street by Police Constable Cooper. The little fellow was taken to headquarters and later called for by his mother, Mrs. Martha Burton, 4 Chubb street. Chubb street commences at Rockland road and ends at Moore street, so the lot had quite a walk before being found.

Last night about 9:30 o'clock Police Constables Ross and Coughlan found two little boys, George Petrie, aged three years, and Henry Russell, aged four years, wandering about Prince Edward street. A large number of people collected but despite all kinds of petting and questions the kiddies were unable to tell who they were or where they lived.

Previous to being found a report of the children being lost had been received by the deskman at police headquarters, and on their arrival at the latter place the very tired youngsters were returned to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Petrie, and Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Russell, all of 12 St. Andrew's street.

MORE CANADIANS TURN HOMEWARD

In Four Months 18,870 Came Back to Dominion From The States.

A pronounced return movement of Canadians from the United States is indicated in immigration figures made public at Ottawa this week. During the four months of April, May, June and July of the present year a total of 18,870 Canadians returned to Canada from the United States. Of this total 16,166 were Canadian-born citizens, 1,660 were British subjects who had acquired Canadian domicile, and 1,058 were classed generally as "Canadian citizens." In July alone the total number of admissions of returning Canadians recorded at the international boundary line was 5,127, while in each of the four months more than 4,000 admissions were recorded.

Immigration figures for the four months show an increase of 17 per cent. over the same period last year. The total number of immigrants entering Canada from all countries during April, May, June and July was 64,023, as compared with 54,912 during the same months of 1923. Of this total 38,248 came from the British Isles, 7,008 from the United States, and 23,770 from "other countries."

For July alone there was a decrease in total immigration from 13,960 in 1923 to 10,778 in July, 1924. Immigration from Great Britain dropped from 7,040 in July, 1923, to 4,759 last month.

JEWELS ROLL IN STREET AS MAIL TRUCK BLAZES

Patrolmen Guard Car While Firemen Pour Water on Sacks.

New York, Aug. 30.—Twenty bags of registered mail, one of which, at least, contained jewelry, were destroyed by a fire which started among the bags while they were in a mail truck.

There were fifty bags of registered mail aboard the truck. William Frazer, a negro, was the driver. He was taking his valuable freight from Station A, in Greene street, to the Varick street station at Beach street.

Looking back, he saw smoke pouring from the body of the vehicle. He stopped the truck and signaled to Cohen, who sped back to a fire alarm box a block to the north.

Firemen found the interior of the mail truck a mass of flames. A stream of water soon beat down the flames, but as the fireman began pulling the charred remnants of mail sacks out with their hooks it became apparent that heavy damage had been suffered.

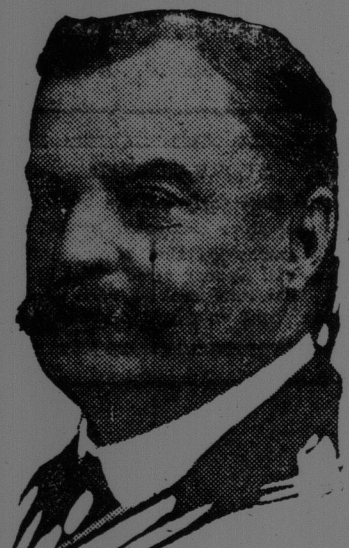

Patrolmen were sent from the Charles street police station to stand guard about the truck while the firemen were at work. One fireman picked up a blackened package which had burst open, spilling bracelets set with diamonds, a lavaliere and other pieces of jewelry.

Battalion Chief McKenne turned this over to the postoffice men. He said that it appeared to him that the origin of the fire was in one of the mail sacks. Thirty sacks remained intact, it was said, and were taken on to the Varick Street station. All fifty of the sacks were part of a trans-Atlantic consignment. Postoffice authorities declined to make any estimate of the value of their contents.

Until late at night idlers of the vicinity, young and old, searched the gutters and the pavement for stray valuables.

NO SICKNESS

End of sickness is on the way, according to Dr. David C. Bruce, of the governing board of the Lister Institute of Preventive Medicine, who says the possibility of virtually eliminating disease in all civilized countries is not far away.

NO BEER BY GLASS SOLD IN MANITOBA

New and Drastic Regulations to Be Enforced by the Government.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Drastic regulations governing the sale of beer in the province have been recommended to the Government by the Manitoba Liquor Commission, and the Cabinet at a meeting this week passed an order-in-council bringing the new recommendations into immediate effect. In future no beer can be sold except in glass bottles, the sale of draft beer being entirely cut out. A permit holder is prohibited from the purchase of not more than 24 quarts or 48 pint bottles of beer per week, or in alternative he will be permitted to purchase 72 quarts or 120 pint bottles of beer per month.

Regulation two, which forbids the sale of draft beer, will likely be questioned, as some doubt has been expressed as to whether the Government has power to make such a regulation. The regulations, however, will be enforced, and prosecutions will follow any infringement of the new rules.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

WEENY SAVES THE CIRCUS

Then he started to wait.

All the wood folk and meadow folk and barnyard folk sat down on the grass to see the circus that Weeny, the elephant, and Nancy and Nick, the Twins, and Toby, the dog, and Prince, the pony, were having.

Next Nancy came out and Weeny lifted her onto his back.

Next Prince the pony came trotting in.

And his act was to run zig-zag in and of Weeny's four legs, this way and that, while the elephant stood still.

After that Toby came out and jumped on Prince's back. And he rode around and around on the pony's back without saddle or bridle.

Next Toby and Prince ran a race. First Prince was ahead, then Toby was ahead, and then they were a tie. But finally Prince won, and every clapped.

After that Nick came in and did some somersaults. Then he did a lot of cartwheels, and handspings. It was really quite exciting.

Everybody was so interested in the circus acts that they never thought of another thing.

"My goodness!" said Daddy Cracknuts. "It's worth six cents. Don't you think so, ma?"

"I should say so," said Mrs. Cracknuts. "I wouldn't begrudge seven cents, even. It isn't every day that one sees an elephant. It is one of the best circuses I ever—"

But she didn't finish. All at once a great creature made a jump over the bushes where the circus was and stood right before them gnashing his teeth and grinning, his long red tongue licking his nose hungrily.

"Ah, ha!" said Mr. Fox, for that's who he was. "So foxes are not allowed in! Well, I'm in, and I'm hungry, and I'm going to have a good dinner! I don't know whether to have squirrel pie, or rabbit soup, or roasted woodchuck, or—"

But he never finished, for at that minute Weeny's long trunk reached over a bush and grabbed him.

And then he threw him so far away that I think Reddy Fox must be going yet. At least he never came back. And the circus people were safe once more. (To Be Continued.)

FABLES ON HEALTH First Teeth Important

First teeth! How many parents realize their importance?

They are known technically as deciduous teeth.

They arrive about the fourth month of a baby's life, or thereabouts. They should be shed between the age of 6 and 12 years.

There are a great many people who attach little importance to them. Oh, they'll lose them, anyway, the parents say.

But this is why they are important: The period of most growth with a child is the period in which the deciduous teeth are used. This is the period in which a child should have 100 per cent. chewing power. They are used for anywhere between six and ten years.

They are quite as important as permanent teeth and in health or disease they have an important influence on the growth of the child's body and mind.

Don't neglect the "first teeth."

IS PROFESSOR NOW.

An interesting visitor in the city is Wilfred Dawson, M. A., of Mount Allison University and B. A., of Oxford University, England, from which he graduated in 1922, being one of the Rhodes Scholars for that year.

Mr. Dawson is professor of physiology in the Women's College Hospital, Philadelphia. He is here enjoying a day with Mr. and Mrs. W. Grant Smith en route to Halifax, where he will visit his brother, Kenneth Dawson. Professor Dawson was overseas, going to the war in 1916, where he had a splendid record. He went to Oxford in 1919, graduating with a fine record. He is the son of the late Rev. John Dawson, M. A., and Mrs. Dawson, who formerly resided in St. John, where Rev. Mr. Dawson was pastor of Centenary church for three years.

FRENCH CANADIAN DOMINATION IN U.S. IS WRITER'S THEME

Some Comments on Recent Article in World's Work Magazine.

AMERICAN VIEWS

French Speaking Canadians a Bulwark Against Annexation to U. S.

John R. Bone in Boston Transcript. Toronto, Aug. 30.—A census taker called at a home in the Province of Quebec and was met at the door by a young looking woman, perhaps twenty-five years old. "How many children in family?" asked the census taker.

"Fifteen, sir."

"You don't mean to tell me you have fifteen children? You're a very young-looking woman for that," exclaimed the census taker.

"Oh, yes, sir," was the reply. "We had three two times, two three times and one ever so many times."

The incident gives point to an alarmist and not too good tempered article which appears in the World's Work for August and which has created much comment and some resentment in Canada. The article is called "Fifty-Fifty Americans."

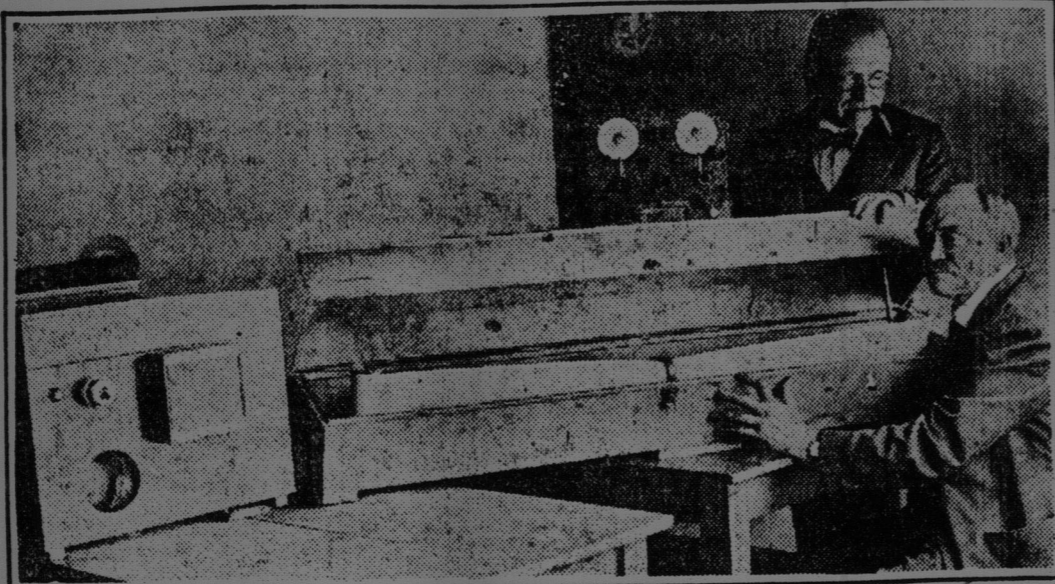

The "fifty-fifty Americans" are the French-Canadians who have moved down from Quebec to New England. They are already one million strong and are increasing rapidly.

The writer emphasizes the high birth rate of French-Canadians, which he declares is an example of social control exercised in Quebec through the Church and national organizations, both of which advocate or even insist on early marriage and large families. The result is a "proliferation of expansion," "French-Canadians," declares the writer, "hope ultimately to occupy and dominate the United States east of the Mississippi."

Prediction Far-Fetched.

The prediction may seem far-fetched and the writer's alarm quite unfounded. Yet it must be remembered that at the time of the conquest of Canada by the British the total French population in the country was estimated at only sixty thousand. That was only ten years ago. There has been in the interval practically no immigration of French people from France, but the sixty thousand French Canadians who were in Canada in 1759 have now grown to a population of four million souls, with the parent mass in the Province of Quebec, with a million overflow in the New England States, and perhaps another million scattered through other provinces and States. It is, as has been said, a "proliferation of expansion" which, whatever may have been the case in ancient times, has no parallel among modern races.

The stock of 1759, according to these figures, has multiplied sixty-six-fold in 160 years. If the four million now in existence multiplies sixty-six times in the next 160 years it will be a question whether the World's Work writer was conservative in indicating that they might dominate the United States only as far west as the Mississippi.

Americans Object.

The writer in the World's Work admits the value of French Canadians to New England industry. They perform heavy manual labor uncomplainingly and for low wage. What he objects to is that they refuse to be 100 per cent. Americans. He regards Quebec as a bit of medieval France with the New England group an offshoot from it. He complains that the French Canadians in New England have even brought their own church with them, refusing to be absorbed into the American Roman Catholic Church, and quotes the Massachusetts Labor Bureau of Statistics in a pleasant remark: "With some exceptions the Canadian French are the Chinese of the Eastern States."

It would be folly to affirm that in Canada there is no friction between the French and English-speaking sections of the population. Many English-born resent the privileges in which the French-Canadians were entrenched when their country was taken over by the British and which has resulted in the preservation of their church and language. But most English-speaking Canadians are content to make the best of the situation. They have ceased, or are ceasing to regard the French as a conquered race and have in many instances a real affection for them as fellow-Canadians.

As a matter of fact the French are in some respects the best Canadians in Canada. Their families have been on the soil for 400 years. Unlike many English-speaking Canadians they have their birth and of their forefathers. Footish Attacks. At all events there is no vindictive animosity concentrated on the land of ness against the French-Canadians in Canada such as is being fanned in the United States by those who agree with the writer in the World's Work. If the French-Canadians in New England are made sufficiently uncomfortable to incline them to come home again they will get a hearty welcome, observes the Montreal Star.

Canadians will, however, watch with interest any attempt of the United States authorities to turn these so-called "Fifty-fifty" Americans into one hundred per centers by trimming away their special characteristics and absorbing romantic, natural colors in the dull gray of their surroundings.

Acute observers point out that American attacks on French-Canadians are an insurance against the possibility of Canada's ultimate absorption by the United States. It is represented that if Canada was annexed and if the Republic found within its confines a State such as Quebec with an alien language and far-reaching special privileges, there would immediately be such a rip-roaring campaign as would make the Ku Klux movement look like a Sunday school picnic. Quickly Quebec would be turned, as Louisiana was long ago turned, into a romantic memory.

Whether such predictions are justified or not there is no question that any serious movement in Canada looking toward annexation with the United States would arouse most serious opposition from the entire French-Canadian population. It is this fact that makes this alien population one of the strong bulwarks in Canada of the British Crown.

DEVELOPMENT OF ALL FAIRS TRACED THROUGHOUT HISTORY BY AMBITION FOR KNOWLEDGE

Throughout the ages, and growing in importance with each successive century, the idea of a fair or exhibition has been one that has seized on the imagination of mankind.

Historians relate that fairs go back to the time of Ahasuerus, and that the "riches of his kingdom" were displayed to his friends.

Originally, it is said, fairs were associated with religious festivals or holidays, and in the days of the Romans their usefulness had become so generally recognized that it became customary to grant them certain privileges.

Other earlier examples of fairs were the exhibitions held by the Greeks in conjunction with sternships, for political purposes, while in the tenth century fairs for the sale of slaves were common in the north of Europe.

In tracing the evolution of fairs a European authority has recently written: "We find a series of legitimate steps, always advancing in the same direction and tending toward the same grand result—the spread of knowledge among the different peoples of the earth concerning the advancement made by each in the arts and in the arts of design and in the culture and

MACHINERY HALL WILL BE ONE OF SHOW PLACES AT EXHIBITION

Demonstrations of Working Plants Will be Larger Than for Years.

With its fascinating big electric dynamo in action, rotaries in motion, the latest models of automobiles, gasoline engines of all kinds, a demonstration of custom tailoring, oil burning furnaces and last but not least the great "Made in St. John" exhibit, the Machinery Hall promises to be one of the most alluring attractions at the Exhibition. The thousands who are expected to visit this section, will be sure to find something of unusual interest.

On the northern side will be an exhibit of H. L. MacGowan & Son, showing various types of ladders built by this firm. Next comes the great "Made in St. John" exhibit, which promises to be of unusual interest; then comes an automobile display by Dyleman & Company. On the eastern end will be an exhibit of the M. & M. Motors, who will have three or four models of automobiles. In the centre Hayden & Co. will have an automobile exhibit as well as an aeroplane engine and may also show his great speed boat, which has been attracting attention by its great speed on the Kennebecasis river.

The Dunbar Engine & Foundry Company will also occupy a space in this section and will have some machines in motion. J. E. Wilson will show a number of the most modern type of gasoline engines, while J. J. McCutcheon will exhibit wagons for those interested. In addition there may also be an exhibit of the Wright Radio Company of Moncton. On the southern side the Standard Oil Company will occupy a space, while adjoining that exhibit will be one of the Besco, the British Empire Steel Corporation showing a demonstration of coke burning in furnace and range. The next in line will be an exhibit of R. M. Hallett who will demonstrate oil burning furnaces. The Peerless Machine Company will show a number of modern gasoline engines, while the Red Cross Memorial Workshop exhibit adjoining is sure to attract special attention. The Oxford Foundry Company will have a rotary in motion as well as other machines, and in the extreme southern end will be a booth where local tailors will demonstrate their art with the scissors and needle.

So varied are the attractions that it is taken for granted that few people who plan on attending the exhibition will miss an opportunity of seeing this section.

The firm of Kane and Parker, St. John, were yesterday awarded the contract for building two cottages in connection with the quarantine station at Partridge Island. The amount of the contract is about $12,000. D. J. Barrett was awarded the contract for the heating. Tenders had been called for by the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

Minard's Liniment for Rheumatism.

GRAIN EXHIBITS WILL BE LIGHTER

Other Entries in Agricultural Section, However, Will Make Up.

The Agricultural Hall this year will contain the usual grain, root and seed exhibits. This has been a comparatively poor year for roots and grains, so this exhibit is not expected to equal those of some of the previous fairs. However, a good entry list has been received in garden vegetables and this feature display is expected to be a real attraction and to make up for the poorer exhibit in grains.

The floricultural department for 1924 will be exceptionally good. It is under the direction of H. E. Gould of Sussex. Mr. Gould has introduced some novel ideas to show off this exhibit, and it will undoubtedly be one of the real beauty spots of the show. The cut flowers are expected to exceed any previous effort of its kind for any exhibition. The dahlias enthusiasts are especially keen this year and the competition for premier honors will bring out some splendid arrays of this flower.

Dairy Exhibits.

Another interesting feature which always attracts considerable attention is the dairy show. Canadian butter and cheese are famous the world over and some real examples of the best in these lines will be shown at this year's display.

The butter will be judged this season by a scale of points in conformity with the recently adopted score card for Canadian dairy products, as follows: Flavor, 45; texture, 15; incorporation of moisture, 10; color, 10; salting, 10; and packing, 10. The cheese will be judged according to the same standard by the following scale of points: Flavor, 45; texture, 25; closeness, -5; color, 10; finish, 5.

The regular exhibit of honey and apiculture supplies will again be shown this season. In this display will be the comb of honey in sections; liquid extracted from the honey; granulated honey; honey prepared for the market; large displays of articles of diet, etc., into which honey may enter as a component part; samples of cakes, pastry, canned fruits, etc., in which honey has been used as a substitute for other sweetening; pure beeswax and also a fine exhibit of honey bearing plants, all carefully mounted, named and the season of appearance given.

Colonies of Italian bees and black bees in observation hives in different stages of development will be another feature of this educational exhibit.

PLAN FOR BOOTHS AT PROVINCE FAIRS

Arrangements for the St. John Amalgamated Association booths at the provincial fairs were discussed at a meeting of the council of the association in the Health Centre yesterday afternoon. Walter Allison, president, was in the chair. Others present were Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, Dr. James Magee, Cortland Robinson and Miss Irene Barber. Dr. Magee reported that the St. John centre would take charge of the booth in the local exhibition and the committee in charge would be Mrs. Travers, convener, assisted by Mrs. A. M. Rowan, Miss Dorothy W. Purdy, Miss Jean Daniel and Miss Barber.

For the booth at Fredericton fair, Miss K. M. Stewart was to be in charge with an efficient committee. Arrangements for booths at St. Stephen and Woodstock were satisfactory but other details in connection with their management were not completed. Reference was made in the loss the association had suffered in the recent death of Lord Ashburnham, first vice-president of the council and president of Fredericton Centre. A resolution of sympathy was to be sent to the Countess of Ashburnham.

In the death of Dr. J. A. McCarthy the association had lost another friend who had kindly acted as instructor. Regret was expressed at the passing of Dr. McCarthy.

THE BENEFIT FROM THE DOLLAR AT PAR

Helps Canadians in Trading With United States—Some Interesting Figures.

The return of our dollar to approximately par with the funds of the United States is a source of satisfaction to Canadians generally, says the Toronto Mail and Empire, for, in the first place, it indicates that our dollar shares with that of the United States the distinction of being at a premium in practically every country of the world, and, in the second place, it removes a trade handicap which has bothered Canadian importers to some extent throughout the period since the close of the war. For a premium on the New York dollar is tantamount to a tariff impost of like percentage, which the Canadian buyer must pay on all goods purchased in the United States in addition to the normal tariff duties imposed by the Government of the country. With currencies at practical equality this barrier is removed and the interchange of goods may be conducted with less handicap.

Home Buying
A factor largely responsible for the improvement in Canadian exchange in addition to the buying of Canadian dollars in New York against grain bills has been the later tendency displayed by Canadians to buy more sparingly of goods produced or manufactured outside the country, while at the same time increasing the export of their own raw materials or manufactured products. This situation is well illustrated in the latest trade reports issued by Ottawa. During the twelve months ending with July Canada's imports from the United States exceeded exports by $145,085,000, while in the previous twelve months the excess amounted to the sum of $188,265,000. Figures of actual exports were $422,210,000, an increase of approximately twenty millions over the previous year, and imports from the United States, $565,898,000, a drop of thirty millions.

Other Markets Too
A similar tendency is noted in a survey of Canada's trade with all parts of the British Empire, the totals of exports for the twelve months ending with July showing an increase of ten millions over the previous year, while our imports during the same period were down four millions. These figures indicate the growing importance of Canada as a producing market, from which the nations of the world may draw supplies, and illustrates further the growing tendency to greater independence of outside markets that is growing in this country. With Canada shipping out more than she is importing a corresponding increasing demand for Canadian funds with which to finance the excess of exports, with a constructive reflex upon the Canadian dollar in the exchange markets of the world.

Removes All Teeth Stains Quickly—Safely!

A new dental discovery, called Bleachodent Combination, consists of a safe mild liquid which softens and loosens the staining substances on the teeth and a special kind of paste which gently removes the softened stains. Safe to use, as its mild ingredients are intended to act only on surface stains—not on the enamel. "Whiteoak stains disappear almost 'whiteoak wait.' If you want sparkling white, pearly teeth get Bleachodent Combination (containing both liquid and paste) today. Small cost at all good dealers such as E. Clinton Brown, R. W. Hawker & Sons, W. Beautifully Curly, Wavy Hair—on Hot Days, Too

Girls, have you tried the shimmering method of curling your hair? It's simple, natural-looking curls and waves—keeps the hair soft, silky and glossy and nothing harmful or messy about it. The curls will last the longest time, in spite of heat, wind or dampness. You won't have to continually fix and fussing with loose flying hair. It's foolish to singe and blister and deaden your tresses with a hot curling iron and altogether unnecessary now. Liquid shimmering is pleasant to use, being neither sticky nor greasy. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Follow the simple directions—the first trial will make it your steadfast friend.

FOUND $1,250,000 IN BARS OF GOLD

Were in Secret Locker in Ship Sunk by German Submarine.

London, Aug. 29.—The discovery of an unexpected store of gold in the forepart of the liner Laurentic, which has been lying in 80 feet of water since she was sunk by a German submarine in 1917 at the mouth of Lough Swilly, on the northern Irish coast, has enabled divers to rescue £250,000 worth of gold bars which had been given up for lost.
The divers have been working intermittently for six years to recover from Davey Jones' locker the consignment to United States bankers of £7,000,000 in gold and silver bullion. Operations by divers had about suspended, as it was supposed only a few gold bars were left which were not worth the cost of another season's work. But at the last moment another storage place was discovered.
The whole consignment of treasure in the Laurentic has been now recovered, and, despite the perils attending what is claimed to have been the greatest salvage feat on record, there was only one accident in which a diver suffered a broken leg.

E. NELSON BLOCKS WAY FOR SAINTS

Royals Star Southpaw Holds St. John Baptists to 2-All Tie.

Earl Nelson once more blocked the path of the St. John Baptists in their quest for league honors in the South End League last night when he held the Saints to a 2-all tie before a crowd of 1,800 and more. The game went eight fast innings and was a thriller every minute, being thoroughly enjoyed by all present. "Tuck" Dalton was on the mound for the Saints and had several close calls, but Nelson himself fared little better when he breaks the game favoring one and then the other. The result forces the league issue into next week and last night's game probably will be re-played. The league executive could hardly do otherwise in view of their recent decision to re-play tie games that affect the league title.

Helpless Before Nelson.

For four innings, Nelson held the Saints helpless. In the fifth, they got to him for two runs. They were lucky to get these as Callaghan's fly to centre would have been fisted by a fast outfielder instead of going for an error, two runs coming over. The Royals tied up the score in the sixth inning and had a great chance to win the game, but Dalton rose to the occasion and fanned two in a row.

In the final inning, Callaghan's fly was gathered in by Harper. Moore hit safely and stole second. Moran's grounder was not fielded properly and with two men on and one out, Dalton got back for Nelson. Dalton lifted a weak fly over Nelson's head that dropped safe and after considerable argument, Umpire Sproul ruled it an infield fly, which it certainly was. With the winning run on third the best Devine could do was a hard grounder that Tynes fielded.

In their half of the eighth, the Royals just missed winning out. With McAlister and Price disposed of, Harper slashed out his third hit of the game and stole second with Nelson at third, but the best Nelson could do was long fly to Moore, who gathered it in right at the edge of the field and one of the best games of the season was over.

Both Nelson and Dalton were effective in the pinches with Dalton getting the better support. Nelson had eleven strikeouts and Dalton had ten. Nelson allowing one more hit than Dalton. Fielding features were Harper's save of a hot liner that was deflected off Nelson's glove and a one-hand stab of a stazer by Nelson. Gaynes at short scooped up several hard ones. The genial Tynes was welcomed back to first base for the Royals and turned in a good game. Umpires Sproul and Brittain handled a difficult game well.

As one result of effective pitching by Nelson, Leslie Kerr still leads the batting procession in the race for the Lingley Cup with .428. Lenihan still in second. By getting two hits in four times up, Fraser boosted himself into third position with .415, while Harper moved into fourth position with .402.

LAW OBSERVANCE (Dearborn Independent.) It is essential to the proper government of any country that the laws should be obeyed. If the people think that they are not good laws, they should remedy at the polls, but while these laws are allowed to remain and are considered necessary by the majority for good government, it is the duty of every citizen to obey them. Bootlegging flourishes upon what it feeds; it is fostered and nourished by the people who accord it support, not from any altruistic or generous motive, but merely for their self-gratification. This is selfishness, and selfishness is one of the characteristics that men most despise, for it lies at the root of much of the misery in the world. Let a more generous spirit prevail, and let the good of the whole be considered—not the indulgence of the few.

FREDERICTON BALL PLAYERS INJURED

Wheel of Automobile Came Off and They Crashed Into Fence.

(Moncton Transcript.) Six of the Fredericton players had a narrow escape from serious injury Thursday afternoon when the right front wheel on the car in which they were driving came off as they were nearing the top of Hoeyman's Hill, on the Salisbury road. The automobile plunged off the road and into a wire fence, which held it up.

At the spot where the accident occurred there is a drop of 30 feet and it was only the fence that saved the players from serious injuries and possibly death. As it was, Cole was cut about the head, McCourt had his stomach torn off and a bone broken in his right hand, while Duke had his throwing arm, his left, cut.

McCourt was the only one thrown out of the car, and he sailed over the fence. The others were McBeth, Connors and Ward, who was driving at the time.

Lefty Fallon drove from the city to the scene of the accident and brought his teammates in in time for the game that evening.

VETS OFF TODAY FOR ST. STEPHEN

Border Team Will be the Stellar Attraction Here Labor Day.

There will be no professional baseball games here today, due to inability on the part of the Vets' management to secure a good attraction. The team left this morning at 11 o'clock for St. Stephen, where they will play one game this afternoon. It was expected that Ray Hansen would be on the mound for the locals and that Shields would twirl for the border town team.

On Monday the St. Stephen team will be here for two games and will undoubtedly prove one of the stellar Labor Day attractions. The first game will start at 10:30 a.m., and the second at 3 p.m. Shanahan and McCarthy are expected to pitch for the locals, with Shields and Davidson for the visitors.

The St. Stephen team has a strong line-up this season and the Vets will be forced to work hard to vanquish them. They are fast fielders and dangerous hitters and will undoubtedly work hard to clinch at least two out of the three-game series.

NATIONALS TAKE LEAD FOR TITLE

Defeat Canucks in Second Game of Series—The Details.

The Nationals again took the Canucks into camp last evening in the second game of the intermediate championship of the city, which was played on the Neshawak diamond. The score was 2 to 1. The airtight pitching of Armstrong, backed by sensational pitching, proved too great a stumbling block for the Canucks to overcome and two hits were all they were able to register. Last night's win places the Nationals within one game of the championship.

The box score and summary follows: Nationals—A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. Canucks..... 3 1 0 1 1 1 1 Sherwood, ss..... 2 0 0 2 0 0 0 Baxter, 1b..... 2 0 0 2 0 0 0 Snodgrass, c..... 2 0 0 2 1 0 0 Burgess, p, if..... 1 0 0 0 2 1 0 Nelson, if, p..... 2 0 1 0 0 0 Phillips, 2b..... 2 0 1 0 0 0 Lester, rf..... 2 0 0 0 0 0 Cougle, cf..... 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 McManus, 3b..... 1 0 0 3 1 0 0

Summary—Struck out by Burgess 6, by Armstrong 10. Bases on balls, off Burgess 3, off Armstrong 3. Passed balls, Snodgrass 2, Wittlien. Left on bases, Nationals 6, Canucks 3. Stolen bases, Webster, Sherwood 2, Phillips. Two-base hits, Chessman, Armstrong. Umpires, Fitzgerald and Black. Score, Adams.

DANCERS FIGHT DUEL

Two little Parisian dancers, Augustine Levenes and Blanche Camp, were close friends, sharing the troubles and joys of life until one day "Beau Pierre" appeared on the scene and turned the friendly affection into jealous hatred, which finally ended in a regular duel which was fought on the Boulevard Poissonniere during the night.

Beginning with knives and scissors for weapons, these were soon exchanged for revolvers, and but for the little dancers' ignorance of the use of firearms, the encounter might have ended tragically. Fortunately, neither was hit, nor the startled spectators were hit, and when the police appeared the duellists, already thoroughly scared, did not resist.

"Beau Pierre," who was the complacent prize fought for by the duellists, declared he did not want either. A fatherly police commissioner, after a severe admonition, sent the dancers home reconciled, "Beau Pierre," however, receiving the hospitality of the police, being wanted for various minor offences.

You'd laugh hysterically, too, if someone promised to give you $50,000 to fill a glove date with an English heavyweight, especially a fast one like Jack Bloomfield. And you'd frown plenty if the said promoter paid you only $15,000 of the promised amount after the fight. That was Tommy Gibbons' recent experience in London.

ONCE ST. JOHN BOY NOW IN CALIFORNIA BOOSTER FOR CITY

Glad to See St. John Becoming Active Again, and Makes Suggestions. MANY ADVANTAGES Former Citizen Able to Draw Comparisons, Having Seen East and West.

K—Former St. John boy, who health demanded a change of climate—the potentialities of New Brunswick and the Maritime—writes a particularly interesting letter in a friend's care. The letter is so frankly discursive of some of the ambitions and problems at present in the minds of prime movers here in town and round about us, that it is well worth printing.

The writer was formerly in business here and has an intimate knowledge of business conditions throughout the Maritime group. He is a student of public affairs and in his new western abode can naturally draw comparisons which it is assumed he finds not unfavorable to this well-favored East.

You will note that I am now in San Francisco, having moved from Los Angeles on Jan. 1 of this year. I have just read of the successful endeavor to drive new hotel in St. John. I am very pleased indeed to see that proposition go through, as its being built there, at this time, means much in the way of a vote of confidence in the future of the good old town. I have been in cities that have actually been made by up-to-date hotel. I mean that the hotel attracted visitors or rather detained them and in stopping off at the place, they the visitors found many undeveloped natural resources awaiting development that lacked only capital.

Our New Hotel. The city should now "tell the world" in print of its new hotel, possibly cause some people who sail from and to St. John by ocean liners to remain over in St. John. In my opinion plans could be made now to induce as many St. John people who are living in other cities as possible to visit St. John for opening of hotel and make it an Old Home Week.

It's time they did a little boasting back East. I regard Dr. Addy and Roberts as two live ones, and our friend Frank Potts has got lots of pep and will no doubt make good mayor. I am somewhat familiar with the crop conditions of Western Canada and have estimates that are said to be correct, showing a backwardness in Alberta and Saskatchewan, so there will not likely be any great need of St. John or N. B. men to harvest crops this year.

St. John's Chance. I believe there is now a great chance for St. John to pull up. Industries are needed and if in their selection they were considered their standpoint of export markets they must succeed. That St. John should "try to manufacture much product to be shipped west of the Quebec boundary is my personal opinion but instead seek the manufacture of products that can be put on its wharves and then carried cheaply in steamships to many countries. For instance export of canned fish from the coast of the Pacific runs into millions and the fish is really inferior to that of our home coast because it comes at cost of water that is too warm to refer to packing plants located in south California.

If you should ever be active in discussing new industries I would suggest that you become familiar with future possibilities and establishment of plants for producing newspaper paper. U. S. A. must have vast quantities of Canada's pulpwood. If it cannot get pulpwood it must have paper in a few years this country panics, such as International Pulp and Paper Company must build plants in Canada. Why does not St. John get these?

Quebec's provincial laws on pulpwood, like their liquor law, are framed to produce revenue, that is they prohibit export of pulpwood from crown lands. The result is two thriving and bustling paper sites—Shawinigan Falls and Three Rivers. St. John people should visit those places, and while in Quebec get figures on their recent reforestation campaign.

I must offer an apology for writing so busy a man at such length, and so far as my opinions are concerned you may dismiss them from your thoughts if you wish. They are purely personal. I am pleased to see activity at home and you know nothing succeeds like success so watch for a change for better times and try and get some real boosters and tie a can to some who travel and knock.

TO BE MARRIED IN WESTERN CANADA About thirty friends of Miss Mary Wallace gathered at the home of Miss Augusta McGrath, 72 Waterloo street on Thursday evening and tendered Miss Wallace a lovely shower in honor of her approaching marriage. Little Miss Denis and Master James Murphy, niece and nephew of Miss Wallace, in the costumes of bride and groom, brought into the drawing room a small curt containing a handsome array of gifts which were presented to the prospective bride. The cart bore the sign, "For My Little Grey Home in the West" significant of the fact that Miss Wallace is going to Western Canada to make her home next month. A most delightful time was enjoyed in music and games and delicious refreshments were served.

"Nig" Smith, The Dog That Fishes. Of course hero dogs are best. Watchdogs, dogs that do errands, go for the cows, tread the churn-mill and other duties, come next perhaps, but equally interesting are dogs that do extraordinary things as a habit. Here's one right here in St. John that goes fishing on his own terms.

"Nig" is Bliss Smith's thoroughbred retriever. He lives near the foot of Leinster street and is not much more than a year old as dogs go in age. He came from very poor parents in Nebraska, the master being one of St. John's ardent dog fanciers.

Wherever this "Nig" fellow got the idea of fishing nobody seems to know, but it would hand you a real laugh to see him swim out into the river at Goodola Point or wherever his master's family may happen to be picnicking in the water. Quite a distance from shore and every once in a while give for fish, possible it dawn and go after another. "Nig" will stay out in the water for hours if he would be allowed to do so. He paddles around, makes no noise and seems bent on catching as many fish as possible. It's highly amusing to watch him. Dog owners think him a great novelty and nobody has heard of a similar stunt by a canine hereabouts.

EXCAVATION WORK AT HOTEL FINISHED

Steam Shovel is Moved Off Lot—Walls Start to Rise.

The first stage of the big construction job, the Admiral Beatty Hotel, virtually came to a close this forenoon when the steam shovel was taken off the lot under its own steam and sent back to its scow in South End for re-shipment to the drydock plant at East St. John, from which equipment it was hired.

The shovel has done wonderfully fine service in clearing the site for the celars at the southeast corner, where the boiler-room and mechanical centre of the hotel is to be. What remains to be done of this excavating is chiefly trimming off ledges and fitting in concrete box-forms.

Much concrete has already been poured. The walls of the boiler-room are up and a number of central pillars and bases are moulded. A large crew of carpenters is engaged in shaping the box-forms for the additional basic work. In fact in a very short while the new building will rise from the ground in quite definite shape and sewer and piping for steam and water, and electric conduits, etc. will be laid out.

Superintendent Engineer Sterling and his assistant Mr. Tilley are straining every faculty to get the hotel far enough advanced to assure continuous indoor work when the frost arrives.

From now on new classes of work will be introduced new classes of workpeople and shortly the building trades will be pretty well represented on the big contract.

SPECIALS NAMED FOR EXHIBITION. Twelve special constables were selected by Chief of Police Smith and yesterday afternoon they were sent to do duty at the exhibition grounds during the big annual fall fair. They were: Messrs. H. H. McCluskey, W. S. Watters, Leo J. Donovan, James H. Graves, Clarence E. Harrison, Edward Hart, John Cople, James Wananaker, Joseph Shanks, George W. Titus and Thomas Larkins. John Hamm was sworn in to do special duty in the dining hall.

GOOD SUPPLY AT THE CITY MARKET. The market was well supplied with vegetables and green stuffs of all kinds this morning and bright with a large display of flowers offered for sale. Prices held firm. Lamb sold for 22 to 25 cents, veal for 25 to 30 cents, pork 20 to 25, fowl for 40 cents and chickens 45 to 60 cents per pound. Butter was higher and sold at 40 to 45 cents per pound and eggs sold at 40 to 50 cents per dozen. Corn was quoted at 40 cents per bushel for golden bantam and 25 cents a dozen for white. A few strawberries were on sale at 25 cents per box.

THIS SCHOONER IS BOXERS' PARADISE. The schooner Harriet B., which sails this evening for New York, with lathis, is a boxer's paradise. She has a complete gymnasium outfit for boxers, and captain, mate and two members of the crew do the gloves.

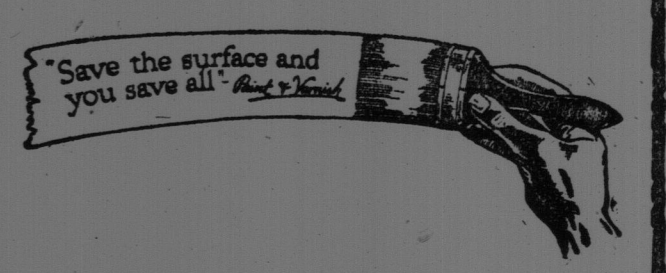

Capt. Bryn Bradford, weighs in at 125 pounds and has boxed as "Kid" Bradford. The mate, Jim Kendry, 138 pounds, has boxed to a draw with Gordon Paris, Young Stanley, 118 pounds, and Pat Dyas, 155 pounds, complete the team. These four, with a Chilean and the cook comprise the crew. H. A. Brels informs The Times-Star that he is arranging for an entertainment by these men in Pythian Hall, on their return in October.

I callate if a feller goes there an' haint got his nose too big in the air he kin learn a hull lot by usin' his eyes an' sakin' questions. This here idea that you kin go through at a gallop an' see everything wath white aint right. I don't s'pose I'd make much of a list of jodgin' the art show—but if I can't learn somethin' about farmin' an' dairyin' an' stock-raisin' I orto hev my head examined. I want to hear Hiram this evenin'. I bet he'll say somethin' about old Noo Brunswick that'll make us all feel better. Me an' Hanner gonto hev a little exhibit too. Don't you fergit to come round an' see it. I bet you'll want some of Hanner's preserves—an' some of her fancy work too—By Hen!"
