A BIT SERIOUS IN SOUTH AFRICA

One Report Says Situation Nears Crisis.

Strikers Urge a Republic in Pretoria—Another Account Says the Solidity of the Strikers Has Been Broken.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Feb. 6.—The strike situation in South Africa appears to be working toward a crisis, according to Johannesburg messages. Despatches to the Exchange Telegraph Company and the Central News say that amid wild cheering a huge meeting of mine strikers on Sunday passed a resolution requesting those members of parliament not in Pretoria to proclaim a provisional government and declare a republic.

At a mass meeting held in the town hall the chairman intimated that, despite the progress with Premier Smuts, all the strikers must obey orders and "pull out" all strike-breakers. Another speaker warned the officials who were working the essential services that they were "pulled out" on Monday.

A Pretoria despatch states that Premier Smuts, with P. B. Nalen, the minister of mines and industries, is conferring with deputations of the industrial federation and the chamber of mines in an attempt to reach a settlement of the labor dispute which has tied up the Rand Gold Mining district for the better part of a month.

A Different Story. London, Feb. 6.—The solidarity of the strikers in South Africa has been broken, says a despatch to Reuters from Johannesburg, by the action of the moderate strike committee in repudiating their strike leaders and asking Premier Smuts to receive a deputation to consider the appointment of an arbitration court.

It is now announced that the workers' federation has decided to accept the invitation of the government to use the government machinery for the purpose of investigating a way out of the labor dispute.

Picketing Do Damage. London, Feb. 6.—(Canadian Press.)—The South African strike situation is given a somewhat different complexion by the organization of so-called commandos or picketing parties. A concerted effort is being made to damage the railways and other properties during Sunday night and also removed officials from the railway tracks near Springs Station.

The government, according to Mr. Flett, takes the stand that to incorporate in government contracts a clause insisting upon wages and conditions prevailing in the locality in which the work is being done would be "slavery."

It is considered that the commandos are becoming a menace to the government. Women are also participating and in some cases rivaling the exploits of the men, notably when a petty thief, 220,000 man, was charged through the police and seized an official. The police have persuaded the women to withdraw, and that the car was afterwards took together.

$20,000 IN SIGHT FOR UNIVERSITY. War Memorial Hall Canvas to be Concluded Soon—Frederick's Sick.

(Special to Times.) Fredericton, Feb. 6.—The campaign for the fund for the War Memorial Hall at the University of New Brunswick is progressing steadily. $20,000 in Fredericton and immediate vicinity is believed to be in sight. The work of canvassers has not been completed but probably will be in the near future.

Cardinal Ratti, the Archbishop of Milan Is New Pope, Pius XI

ELECTION CONCLUDED BY THE SACRED COLLEGE THIS MORNING

Smoke at 11.33 o'clock Showed that Selection of New Pontiff Had Been Made—Was Created Cardinal Only Last Year—Proceedings Following the Election.

(Canadian Press Cable.) Rome, Feb. 6.—Cardinal Achille Ratti, Archbishop of Milan, was proclaimed elected Pope, in succession to the late Benedict XV this morning. He has taken the name of Pius XI. The thousands waiting in front of St. Peter's for the wisp of smoke which would tell of the election of a new Pope or the failure of the Sacred College to reach a decision gave a mighty shout at 11.33 when a thin wisp of smoke came from the chimney leading from the Sistine chapel. It was then known that the Catholic Church had once more a duly elected Pontiff.

After the Vote. So soon as the two-thirds vote for Cardinal Ratti had been verified, Cardinal Vanuttelli, as dean of the Sacred College, arose and proceeded to the throne of the chosen one, accompanied on either side by Cardinals Logue and Bialelli, respectively deans of the cardinal priests and the cardinal deacons.

Then the purple canopies over the thrones of the cardinals were laid down, one by one, until only that of the new pontiff remained. This was done to show that the whole Sacred College rendered obedience to the new head of the church. Cardinal Vanuttelli thereupon asked the new incumbent what name he chose to take during his pontificate, and upon his reply "Pius XI," Monsignor Sincero, secretary of the conclave, verified his election to the papal chair.

The new Pope was then escorted to the ante room within the Sistine chapel where he discarded his cardinal robes, assisted by the ecclesiastics, and the papal vestments, which had been held in readiness since the opening of the conclave, were placed upon him. These included the white cassock, white surplice, white stockings, red slippers, a red and gold mozzetta, and finally the papal tiara, worked with gold.

The pontiff, fully vested in the papal garb and accompanied by his cardinals, thereupon returned to the throne he had extended in the Sistine chapel.

First Blessing. There the cardinals, according to their rank, and headed by Cardinal Vanuttelli, making his first act of reverence to His Holiness, kissing his feet and then his hands, after which the Pope bestowed upon him his first apostolic benediction.

"The Fisherman's Ring" was placed on his finger and he left the chapel, the whole assembly wending its way through the Sala Ducal and the Sala Regia, along the loggia to the Sala Clementina, the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile the dean of the cardinals, Cardinal Bialelli, followed by several cardinals, repaired to St. Peter's, from which the election of scores of hopes have been officially proclaimed to the world, and solemnly announced to the great crowd awaiting expectantly below.

"I announce to your great joy the election of the Pontiff. This confirmed to the throngs in St. Peter's square the election which had been indicated by the thin stream of white smoke which came from the metal steeple projecting from the roof of the Sistine chapel when the voting papers with the labor group to tell it. It was a striking scene as Pope Pius made his first appearance at the front of St. Peter's. As His Holiness gave the benediction the troops assembled there presented arms, while the crowd acclaimed the new pontiff.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeum, "I have been thinking about myself."

"Just what do you mean by that?" he asked the reporter. "Times," said Hiram, "when we can't think about nothing with while."

"Now, Hiram," re-monstrated the reporter, "you are quite wrong. When the people of the town want something really inspiring to think about they think about me."

"I wouldn't mind that if they think they'd like to do to me," said Hiram. "They think that they'd like to do to me, but I don't think they'd like to do to me."

Three Events in Extra Races if There Should be a Tie at Lake Placid.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 6.—That there may be absolutely no doubt as to who will be the "winner" of the "American" at the conclusion of the Lake Placid diamond trophy championship, the world's best take place here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, officials in charge of the meet announced today that, in the event of a tie for the highest number of points won, the skaters tied would be re-raced, and three events, a 220 yard dash and a three-quarters mile and one mile race, would be run.

FAIR WAGE CLAUSE. Toronto, Feb. 6.—The provincial government will not agree to the insertion of a fair wage clause in all contracts in which the government is interested.

NEW ITALIAN CABINET. Rome, Feb. 6.—The task of forming a new cabinet was officially offered to Enrico De Nicola, president of the Chamber of Deputies, by King Victor Emmanuel today. Signor De Nicola accepted the task in principle, stating that he would give his majesty an official reply this evening.

land as the representative of the Holy See. That country was then torn with the estrangement from religion brought about by the communistic propaganda from Soviet Russia, and Archbishop Ratti counteracted the spread of radicalism. He also won the esteem of Polish Catholics by his efforts in behalf of destitute children orphaned by the war.

Cardinal Ratti as the Archbishop of Milan presides over one of the most important archdioceses in Italy. The city being a great industrial centre, one of its main requirements is that the cardinal shall possess a thorough knowledge of political and social problems. He is big physically and is reputed to have liberal tendencies.

The new Pontiff was created a cardinal early last year. London, Feb. 6.—Cardinal Ratti was elected Pope by receiving thirty-eight votes in the conclave in the Sacred College, says a Central News message from Rome this afternoon.

Boundaries Question Up at Downing Street

No Word of Agreement Up to Noon, However—Names of Those Attending.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Feb. 6.—Negotiations on the Irish situation arising from the boundaries question and other points in the Anglo-Irish treaty were resumed at No. 10 Downing street, Premier Lloyd George's residence, this afternoon.

Arthur Griffiths president of the Dail, Michael Collins, head of the provincial government and others of the Irish leaders, met Lloyd George and other members of the original British representatives on the Irish committee of the cabinet.

The conference lasted an hour and a half, but up to noon no intimation was given as to whether an agreement had been reached on the questions discussed. The official statement regarding the meeting read as follows: "A meeting was held at No. 10 Downing street today between British and Irish representatives to agree upon the procedure for giving the treaty effect."

Reference to the Work of Sir Robert Borden at Washington.

(Canadian Press.) Washington, Feb. 6.—Canadian bore no inconspicuous part in the Washington conference. Although Sir Robert Borden was a member of the British empire delegation, he was appointed upon the recommendation of the dominion government. This might have caused him some uneasiness, but he was appointed upon the recommendation of the dominion government.

Another Effect of Meeting. London, Feb. 6.—(Canadian Press.) As a result of the Washington arms conference, further curtailments in department of the admiralty are announced. They include the closing after July 1 of the industrial establishment for the training of artificer apprentices at Devonport. The Devonport signal school will also close, and seven hundred stokers at the royal dockyards have been offered their free discharge on application.

SHARK'S BITE FATAL THOUGH BOY TORN FROM MONSTER'S JAWS. BATTING TODAY IN ONTARIO BY ELECTION.

Returned Soldier Dives in and Battles Monster to Rescue Lad. (Canadian Press Cable.) London, Feb. 6.—While swimming at Coogee, a seaside resort near Sydney, Australia, Michael Coghlan, aged sixteen, was attacked by a shark and both arms were almost severed, says a Reuter despatch from Sydney.

Returned soldier, Jack Chalmers, although dazed by a fall from a diving rock, with magnificent courage, swam to the rescue and dragged Coghlan from the monster's jaws. Eye-witnesses assisted Coghlan ashore, but he died on the beach in view of thousands of horrified spectators.

BACK TO START IN SEARCH FOR SLAYER

Deep Mystery in Death of Movie Director.

(Canadian Press.) Los Angeles, Feb. 6.—Efforts of the police and the sheriff's office to solve the motion picture puzzle of the slaying of Wm. Desmond Taylor, director, brought the officers early today to a "cut back" to the beginning—a re-checking of the dead man's papers in the hope of obtaining a better clue than any yet evolved.

Last night the word went forth that an unnamed motion picture actor had been taken to the county jail for questioning as a "suspect" and that his connection with the case was considered so important that he had been hustled from the motion picture "lot" where he was at work with such speed that he had not the time to remove the makeup from his face. At the same time, two other picture employes, one a camera man, also were taken to jail as possible material witnesses.

These actions resulted from a report that the actor's automobile, a distinctive constructed and painted machine, had been seen near the Taylor apartments on the night of the murder.

The actor was questioned for two hours, and then, still unable it was said, to tell definitely where he was at the time Taylor was killed, was hurried to the dead man's apartments for a re-examination of the crime as the officers had reconstructed it.

But residents of the same building court, who previously had given statements that they had seen a man skulking about the Taylor home the night he was killed, were unable to identify the actor as the man. He was released, but with instructions to keep in touch with the officers. The man taken as possible material witnesses also were given their freedom again.

Yet, as officers said, the actor had admitted ownership of the auto in question. While these matters were developing, tales came to the police of the alleged possession by Taylor of woman's slippers, one pink and one white, a pink night robe, was reported missing from his apartment since his body was found. One witness was said to have stated, but not to the police, that this particular robe bore the embroidered initials of a motion picture actress.

Search for a durg peddler upon whose trail the police said they were "getting warmer" was also a development. It was hinted the only peddler had sought through Taylor to make delivery of a medicine to an actress, who found it in her apartment since his body was found. The initials of the actress connected with this phase of the case were said to have been as those on a night robe reported missing from the Taylor apartments.

New York, Feb. 6.—Stanislav Zhyzsko, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, who is nearing fifty, in years, will defend his title tonight against a former champion, Earl Caddock, who is two decades his junior. Caddock, who is two decades his junior, will be recognized under the laws of the state.

Stranger Lewis, another former champion, will defend his title against Renato Gardini, Italian heavyweight, in a one-hour limit bout, one fall to decide.

TAKES UP HARBOR MATTERS WHILE ON OTTAWA TRIP. H. R. McLellan returned today from Ottawa. To a representative of The Times he said he had interviewed the minister of marine and fisheries regarding some amendments to the Harbor Commission Act. He also conferred with the minister of public works regarding the extension of Negro Point breakwater. As a result of his consultations, he said, he is hopeful of results. In a few days he will make a detailed statement, and citizens will be given an opportunity to consider amendments to the present act. He said if such amendments were made he would favor harbor commission.

HOTEL CASE IN POLICE COURT

Chinese Pleads Not Guilty to Disorderly House Charge —Women Testify.

During the conduct of the case which was before the magistrate this morning as a result of a raid on the Asia Hotel early Sunday morning, His Honor took the opportunity to compliment Sergeant McLeese and his men on the good work they had done.

Lee Shue, proprietor of the Asia Hotel pleaded not guilty to a charge of keeping a disorderly house. George Clarke, Ronald Nolan, Myrtle Healey and Hazel Carpenter pleaded guilty, and Leslie Conen pleaded not guilty to a charge of being inmates of a disorderly house.

Policeman Coughlan testified that a couple of girls were staying there. He warned the proprietor three times to turn them out but he did not. About three o'clock, in company with Sergeant McLeese and Policemen Hughes and Lewis, he went into the hotel and into a couple of the rooms. The Healey girl was in one of them with Conen and another they found the Carpenter girl with Nolan. Miss Carpenter said she had come into the hotel with Clarke and had registered as Mr. and Mrs. Campbell from St. Stephen. They arrested all five of them.

Policeman Lewis and Sergeant McLeese gave corroborative evidence.

Myrtle Healey said she had known Conen about two weeks. She had been in the hotel several times, twice registering under her own name and other times being registered as the wife of other men. She had never taken any baggage with her or never been questioned as to whether she was married.

Hazel Carpenter told of registering as the wife of four different men within a few weeks. She had never had any baggage or never been asked if she was married.

The case was postponed until tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

J. A. Barry appeared for Lee Shue, and E. J. Henneberry for Conen. The men charged with being drunk, pleaded guilty and were remanded. Conen put up a deposit of $200 for his appearance at the trial. He was allowed to answer a charge of selling beer alleged to be over the strength allowed by law. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution and E. S. Ritchie for the defence.

Quick Reading.
The best way of reading books with rapidity is, to acquire that habit of selective attention to what they contain that perpetually confines the mind to the single object it has in view. When you have read enough to have acquired the habit of reading without suffering your mind to wander, and when you can bring to bear upon your subject a great store of previous knowledge, you may then read with rapidity; before that as you have taken the wrong road, the faster you proceed, the more you will be sure to err.—Sydney Smith.

A NORTH END PROPERTY CASE

Hearing was begun this morning in the case of Austin et al. vs. McCaskill et al, an action arising from the question of title to certain properties formerly owned by Alexandrina Clarke, deceased. The case has been in legal process for some time and was commenced before Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hazen this morning. Evidence was given by F. McMunnell, G. L. Short and Dr. J. B. Campbell, K. C.

Mrs. Clarke was a former member of the congregation of St. Matthew's Presbyterian church, Douglas avenue, of which the defendant, Rev. J. J. McCaskill was pastor.

In 1910 the defendants slipped into one of Mrs. Clarke's houses and she later went to live with them, continuing so to do until 1915, when Mr. McCaskill went overseas with a Montreal unit. During her stay with them Mrs. Clarke transferred to them six leasehold properties owned by her. Upon her death it is said Mrs. McCaskill got a Victory Bond worth $20. The ownership of this as well as the ownership of the properties is now disputed by the heirs and next of kin of Mrs. Clarke, who claim the title is not binding. The defendants claim valid consideration.

The counsel for the plaintiffs are Dr. P. R. Taylor and W. R. Scott, and for the defendants, M. G. Teed, K. C., and G. H. V. Belyea, K. C. Adjournment was made till this afternoon.

IMMIGRATION NEEDED.
The Royal Bank Bulletin sounds the following hopeful note with regard to Canada's outlook for recovery from business depression:

"Although, for Europe, recovery necessarily will be a slow process, it does not follow that it must be so for Canada. On the contrary, it will be rapid, provided that immigration comes back to the figures of 1915, when over 400,000 new settlers entered this country. At that time, instead of having to look for them abroad, Canadian business men had between three and four hundred thousand fresh customers brought to their doors each year. The most recent figures of the Department of Immigration show that the total fell to 146,000 in the year ending November 30, 1920, and still further, to 104,000, in 1921. It is to be hoped that this marked the low point, and that from the spring of 1922 on, circumstances will permit of a constant increase in the number of desirable new settlers coming to this country. These immigrants would bring with them cash to a very large aggregate. They would develop our resources, increase our production and ensure better business for the whole country."

THE INTERCOLONIAL

The Moncton Transcript very properly presents the suggestion that the people of the maritime provinces in the matter of the Intercolonial Railway are merely seeking a return of patronage. We quote: "It is unfair to say that the representations that the maritime provinces are making to the government with respect to the Intercolonial, have for their purpose the managing of the road on anything but a business-like manner. These representations have for their object the remaining of the government and the country that the Intercolonial was built for a special purpose, and on the understanding that in its management the unusual conditions that brought it into existence should be remembered through all time. It is no exaggeration to say that if in 1867 the people of the maritime provinces had had any idea that these conditions would be ignored, the road would never have been built. Some of the other provinces have the idea that the Intercolonial was built solely for the maritime provinces. In this they are mistaken, as a reading of speeches of the fathers of Confederation shows, as prominent individuals among whom was pointed out that, without such a line of railway connecting the upper provinces with the sea, the latter, during the winter, would have no direct communication with British ports on the Atlantic. The undesirable nature of such a situation presented itself so strikingly to some of the Canadian leaders that they declared that the railway must be built."

Not only did the leaders at the time of Confederation recognize the national strategic value of the Intercolonial, but in Parliament after the union they recognized the obligation of Canada as a whole to see that the railway rates were not made so high as to be a burden upon the people of these provinces, and the deficits were absorbed by the country at large. The war proved the strategic value of the Intercolonial, not only to Canada but to the Empire. If New Brunswick were not a member of the confederation there would be no Canadian route to the Atlantic in winter. These provinces gave up much to give the central provinces a road to the sea. What have they got in return?

WHAT IT MEANS. The New York Evening Post directs attention to the significance of the "ambitious provisions" of the treaty for the limitation of naval armament which has been agreed to at the Washington conference. Not only has competition in naval armament been ended, but the principal that all the nations are concerned in what one may do has been established. We quote: "These stipulations that if any contracting power, under the stress of war, shall feel compelled to suspend its obligations under the treaty, the other contracting powers shall consult together with a view to agreement. Or, if, outside of war, changed circumstances necessitate in the view of any one power a modification of the treaty, all the signatory powers shall again consult together. Or again, in view of possible changes arising from technical and scientific developments, a conference of revision shall convene after eight years from the signing of the treaty, whose duration is fixed at fifteen years. In other words, there is embodied in the treaty a fact—limitation of armament, and a principle—that armament henceforth is not exclusively a national concern but a matter of concern for the world at large."

Mr. Hughes declared that in making this treaty the powers concerned were "making perhaps the greatest forward step to establish the reign of peace," and the Post remarks: "Peace among the nations is conditioned upon two things: the desire for peace and the machinery for giving expression to that desire. For lack of such machinery the will to peace has frequently been frustrated. Both things, the will to peace and the machinery for its realization, are embodied in the treaty on naval armament. It is a step forward. There will be other steps."

It is not easy to measure the grain to the world resulting from this forward step. A great burden has been lifted from the taxpayers of the great powers. Suspicion and fear have been lessened or removed, and a great object lesson has been given to the world. Hereafter the international conference will be a great servant of humanity.

WILL MAINE LEAD US? In Maine they have no minister of health, but there has been organized a Public Health Association which has framed a health programme covering three years, designed to revolutionize health conditions in the state. The following summary of what it is proposed to do is given in an August letter to the Bangor Commercial:—"One of the most important phases of the Health Plan for Maine contemplates organizing the remaining 70,000 school children in the Modern Health Crusade. The Health Plan provides for the development of sentiment for public health nursing until every community in the state is covered. Industrial nursing in large factories is to be encouraged, the Modern Health Crusade to be developed in Maine physicians, clinics are to be held for the control of cancer, tuberculosis, social diseases, mental diseases and for the conservation of vision and preservation of the teeth, are to be conducted on a state-wide basis. An educational campaign is to be accomplished by which every club, grange, mothers meeting, union, lodge and club meeting will be addressed on health matters by means of lectures, public speakers, stereopticon slides, and the moving pictures."

In order to finance its programme the Association and its local societies will Health Seals and Bonds at Christmas time. They are sold all over the state, and nearly all the money comes from this source. Thousands of workers are interested and the Association also has the active co-operation and financial assistance of the leading organizations in the state—including the Associated Industries of Maine, the State Federation of Labor, the State Grange, the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the State Department of Health, the State Department of Education as well as prominent individuals among whom are lawyers, doctors, editors, bankers and ministers."

The governor of the state has given the movement his hearty approval, and a letter to the Association says:—"I wish you every success in the programme that you have adopted for it will much to the state. In carrying on the health work everything should be done to make the individual realize that he owes a duty to the community to take care of his health. This responsibility rests upon every citizen, and parents should be taught that the future happiness of their children depends to a large degree upon the way they start out in life."

THE ASSOCIATION aims to make Maine the healthiest state in the union. Its programme has aroused interest all over the United States and in Canada as well. Letters of commendation have come in from health associations in many states as well as from federal organizations. It is worth while to consider what New Brunswick's neighbor is doing, in view of the fact that in this province there are so many who are vociferously protesting against an expenditure by the provincial health department of an average of $125 per family to make New Brunswick a healthier province. The remarks made by the governor of Maine as much to the people of this province as to those of Maine. There is a duty to the community which no individual should shrink and there is the still stronger appeal of self-interest; for no man knows where an epidemic, once fairly started, will strike; and every parent should have a very keen interest in what makes for better health and therefore greater efficiency of children starting out in life. This province has a better system than that of Maine, but it lacks the necessary sympathy and co-operation of many municipal authorities and great numbers of people. New Brunswick can be made the healthiest province in Canada if the partisan politicians will forget their partisanship when they consider matters relating to health, and if the taxpayers will bear in mind that the burden on them is only about $125 per family per year. The field of operation must be broadened until public health services are quickly available in every locality in the province. That is the aim of the department, and only by hearty co-operation can it be achieved.

AUTOS FOR THE MASSES. Alfred Reeves Says 94 Per cent. Retail Below $2,000. Chicago, Feb. 6.—It is no longer a question of how many persons can afford to own an automobile, but how many can afford not to own one. Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, told members of the Chicago Rotary Club in an address here. Mr. Reeves traced the growth of the automobile industry in the United States from twenty-five years ago, when there were four automobiles in this country, until now, when there are 3,000,000. He said that the third manufacturing industry in the country. "While the recreation value of an automobile is great, it is important to know that 70 per cent. of all the automobiles made last year retailed under $2,000," he said. "Of the 10,000,000 vehicles now registered, more than 3,000,000 are owned by farmers; about 1,000,000 by doctors, and thousands of others by salesmen and contractors. "The truck and bus have excellent prospects, not as a competitor, but as an ally of the railroads, which should include trucks and buses as auxiliaries to their transportation facilities. Railroad men should not fight the bus and truck, but should hasten to make use of their advantages. "There are now thirty-five railroads using buses, including twelve roads that have buses equipped with flanged wheels for use on tracks."

THE END OF A PERFECT DAY

It was a Glorious Battle While It Lasted, but Oh! the Morning After.

There were thirteen unlisted cripples in the city on Sunday, following an alleged hockey game which was staged on the East End hockey rink on Saturday afternoon, in which an aggregation from the office of Furness, Withy & Co. took the measure of several members of the staff of the Telegraph and Times to the tune of 8 to 2. It happened this way. One of the newspaper men got a new pair of hockey skates, so by the principle of the association of ideas he became, in his own mind, a hockey player. The possession of a hockey stick helped to carry out this desire. So he gathered together some of his confederates and flung the gauntlet in the teeth of the steamship representative as he first they pleaded that they had no team, but when they learned the composition of the 17 and T. bunch, their list of volunteers for the engagement was greatly over-subscribed, and the struggle was arranged.

Struggle is right! It was a struggle for most of the contenders to keep their feet; they struggled to manipulate the hockey sticks; they struggled here, they struggled there, and yesterday morning it was a supreme struggle to get them out of the net of feathers. But it was a wonderful day for somebody (somebody else, not me). The struggle was staged in three ten-minute spurs, during which the members of the contending factions wheeled and dodged, and down the ice—and up and down through the air—wheeled and skidded, slashed at the ice where the puck was—hit somebody's feet with—generally gave a clever exhibition of what Canada's national winter game is NOT. And when it was all over they cheered—because it was over. There were no individual stars—unless such term might be applied to the contemplations which emanate from one when his head comes into close and violent contact with the icy—very members of both sides was as good as his neighbor—mark you, as GOOD as his neighbor—and to make the record complete, here they are: T. and T.—Clarke, Walsh, Jennings, DeWolfe, McLeod, Dunlop, P. W.—E. Hansen, Blum, Nicholas, West, Scott, Mealy. Spares—Telegraph and Times: Lowe, R. Hansen, Johnson.

KEEP SPORT CLEAN, SAYS THE AMHERST NEWS

(Amherst News Editorial) Sport has of late been found its way from sport pages to front page and in many cases to the editorial page—significant of the fact that what happens at the rink, the baseball park or some other place where athletic supremacy is striven for is a matter of general interest and not something of interest to "the fans" alone. Or in other words we are all fast becoming "fans." If we were to say during the days of the war this special interest that is now being taken in our athletic pastimes is far from a matter of regret. It is as it should be. There is no getting away from the fact that play has a very important part in our existence. There is the old adage, "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." There are all kinds of play, the right kind, develops character. The name for fair play has made the University of Oxford famous. With Oxford men, as with many others too, it is a case of win fairly or not at all. It is the largely interest that is now surrounding sport and the value of clean sport need no enlargement here. It would be well to stress in particular is the effort that is being made by those who are at the head of our Maritime Amateur Athletic Union to clean sport. The effort, we take it, that is being made by the Maritime president and his associates is to rid amateurism of hypocrisy, to separate those who are in sport for the development of physique, morals, and character from those who foster games, of one kind or another, simply for the sake of making money. We have no quarrel with a man who wants to go into either class. That is his right. But there must be on the part of those interested in clean sport, the strictest opposition to the one who would pose as an amateur while in reality he is a professional. If we are, as we play, and such is borne out by observation, then it is of the utmost importance that we play fairly and honestly. Let us be what we pretend we are. Sport is more than a game; it is a very large life itself. Honest is one honest in the other. Let us all realize this. Those entrusted with the leadership of our amateur athletics have our endorsement in their effort to bring about the end of hypocrisy and the ushering in of honesty. We deem it the duty of all athletic leaders to work for honest play, for without it there cannot be honest players. And players are but men. To win is but secondary. To develop men is the primary objective. To that latter end let us make all our athletic endeavor. Then there will be justification for the widespread interest that is now being taken in things athletic. Success to those who are endeavoring to make things clean.

WAS BORN HERE

Dr. R. Withers Had a Notable Career—Was Prominent in Sport.

(Annapolis Spectator.)
The whole town and countryside were grieved to learn of the death of Dr. Russell Withers, which occurred about noon on Sunday, Jan. 29, and although he had considerably exceeded the fourscore mark, was always so active and such a cheery, familiar figure about town that he will be sincerely missed.
Doctor Withers was one of the oldest practicing physicians in Nova Scotia, and had enjoyed quite an eventful career before settling down in Annapolis Royal, which he did forty-five years ago, and was ever since been a prominent citizen. He was born in St. John, N. B., on February 22, 1836, the anniversary of Washington's birthday, which often led him to remark that he should have been an American. Indeed his long residence in the United States gave him an affection for the republic which he never sought to eradicate and to the day of his death he was an active member of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. and A. M. of New York City, a membership which was fully appreciated by the lodge, from which he was the recipient of cords of remembrance every Christmas and two years ago of a handsome Masonic pin. This being the oldest Masonic lodge in the United States, he was naturally proud of the membership and refused to demit to the local lodge.
The parents of Dr. Withers were James Withers and Jane Longmire, who had been born in England, but when he was about two years old they moved from St. John to Granville with relatives of the same names. As a young lad he was delicate and at the age of

Thousands of men and women have found relief from various digestive disturbances by using Fleischmann's Yeast.
It is human nature to want to find out "why." So far as science can tell us this is the reason:
Fleischmann's Yeast is a food abundant in certain elements which are necessary to health and life itself. It promotes the flow of bile and of pancreatic juice. It has a remarkably beneficial effect on the whole digestive process. It cleans a coated tongue.
Try Fleischmann's fresh yeast in orange juice or in milk. Men like it in milk shakes and malted milk. Women like it spread on bread or crackers.
Keep your digestion in the pink of condition and your tongue clean and healthy by setting 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals. Be sure to use Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer today.

eight he was thought to be not sufficiently rugged for farm life, so accepted an offer of an uncle, Dr. Jas. Cox, who conducted a drug store at 12th street and 8th avenue, New York City, to live with him. He naturally required a knowledge of the drug business and won his pharmaceutical degree at the age of eighteen, but being still far from strong he was advised to go to sea, which he did as physician's assistant on passenger ships and made several long voyages to Africa and Europe, residing also for a time on the famous island of St. Helena. On his return to New York he went in for athletics, while also taking the regular course in medicine and surgery at Columbia University, where he graduated in 1865, in the same class as the late Dr. E. Farrell of Halifax. His athletic ambition and skill soon developed him as a leader, especially in the Atlantic Coast Club of New York City, the first club of its kind that won fame on the Harlem River. The doctor won also many events single as an oarsman and was representative of the club in rowing contests in England. He had a large collection of medals and prize trophies, including a watch that cost $600, and other valuable souvenirs. A photo in his study shows him as stroke of the four-oared international crew, the other members of which were Edward Smith, Alexander Handy and T. VanRaden, the picture bearing the name of J. O'Neill, photographer, 840 Broadway, New York City, and taken about 1868. He was also an expert with the Indian club, and had a special pair made for his use, each weighing about twenty-five pounds, and which he used to hold out at arm's length and manipulate like toys. As a pedestrian and in all other healthful exercises the doctor was also a keen participant and took an active interest in legitimate sport as long as he lived. A fine, straight figure of a man about five feet nine and weighing about 175, his fearless and commanding presence and cheery blue eye inspired respect and confidence wherever he went, and it was no wonder that he easily attained popularity.

Dr. Withers married in New York a sister of Charles and Edgar McCormick and Mrs. E. Halliburton of this town, many years and up till two years ago town health officer. He had been confined to his house only a few days, but sank steadily and at the last lost his power of speech, although he did not seem to suffer. He leaves, besides his widow, four children, all of whom were with him at the last: William of the Imperial Oil Co. in Halifax; Frank of the Postal Mail Service; Miss Annie and Miss Letitia. Also a brother, Charles, in Granville Centre.
During the great war, Dr. Withers and Dr. Robinson, both more than four

PHYSICAL STANDARDS FOR THE CHILDREN

United States Public Health Service Making an Important Study.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The U. S. Public Health Service has for a long time been occupied in various parts of the country in an investigation of physical standards for children.

Before relief can be fairly applied to children it is necessary to know whether or not a particular child really needs it. Of course, many children show their need plainly, but many others whose need is even greater may not show it to casual inspection until it is too late wholly to prevent the consequences.

The common test of a child's health development, and about the only test that can readily be applied to children in mass, is to ascertain by some standard table of age-weights prepared for the purpose, whether or no they weigh as much as they should at their age. If the child is 10 per cent, or more under standard and is treated accordingly.

This, however, may or may not be the case, for the standard tables are largely approximations. Nevertheless they serve a useful purpose, pending the establishment of more accurate and scientific standards, by calling attention to individual children and causing a more careful examination to determine whether the substandard weight is due to a remediable cause.

Some of the age-weight standards used in the United States are merely averages of all classes of children, including with the well those who have hampered physical defects and those who are actually undernourished. They probably never did apply to all parts of the United States and quite possibly they no longer apply even to the particular part for which they were originally devised.

Immigration may have worked great alteration in the population; the region may have changed from agriculture to industrial or other changes may have occurred.

The population of the United States is very varied. It comprises lanky New England fishermen, short, strong Italians, heavy, broad-shouldered Germans, small, little Cockneys, and men of many other racial strains (not to mention a few ancestral Americans)—and blends of them all. Moreover, it lives under many different climatic conditions, wet or dry, cold or hot; and it lives on diets that in one section depend largely on meat, in another on sea food, in a third on cornmeal or less local and all tend to produce children whose physique conforms to a local and not to a general standard.

In view of this the Public Health Service is making studies of the physical development of normal children in different states and is accumulating data that may serve as a basis for a possible (though unlikely) general standard or for a number of standards which may apply to more or less homogeneous parts of the country and may indicate, far more accurately than any existing standard, the physique of the normal child by which the condition and nutritive needs of the particular child may be judged.

These studies comprise the making of physical measurements of all children and of collating them according to race, sex, age, habitat (city or country), and ancestry (native born of American born parents, native born of foreign-born parents, or foreign-born of foreign-born parents). The data obtained should help to determine the influence of the different racial types and of immigration as a whole on the national physique.

In this work the Public Health Service has obtained the co-operation of several of the largest cities of the educational and health authorities and in many rural counties of the state director of child hygiene. The work and association will be extended in other states in the near future.

One state where such an investigation is being made by the Public Health Service in co-operation with the State Board of Health is Florida, where the population is largely homogeneous—lives under similar climatic and food-supply conditions and is largely native born. A state-wide investigation, now in progress, concerning children's problems, particularly the effects of physical defects and septic mouth conditions on nutrition and development, is being supplemented by careful physical examinations and measurements in two counties of all school children; and from this it is hoped that a standard for the state and the region may be framed.

Fred Campbell, 32 Duke street, west end, slipped between two boxes in No. 3 shed yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock while working on the unloading of the C. P. S. Ltd., liner Empress of France and received a severe gash in his left leg. He was carried over to the emergency hospital, where his wound was dressed and he then proceeded home.

MONTREAL'S RECORD

Exports for Season Just Closed are Largest in the Port's History.

The closing of the port of Montreal with the termination of navigation on the St. Lawrence brought to a close the most remarkable season in the history of that port. Shipments of agricultural products, not only of Canadian but also of United States origin, exceeded by a wide margin all previous records, tending the capacity of the harbor to the limit. The chief cause for this unusual movement is attributed to the existence of the emergency tariff, which virtually cut off the export of Canadian agricultural produce by way of the border and diverted the voluminous products of the Western prairies to the Atlantic for shipment overseas.

The total of grain by boat and rail into the port of Montreal from May 1 to Dec. 1, reported by the Secretary of the Montreal Board of Trade, reached 140,036,445 bushels, a volume in excess of all other Atlantic ports combined from Halifax to Philadelphia and Newport News, including the port of New York, according to a bulletin issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

A total of 64,559,360 bushels of grain arrived by lake boats and 76,557,089 by rail, continues the bulletin. Total wheat accounted for 56,632,609 bushels; corn, 45,233,443 bushels, and oats 22,289,667 bushels. Shipments of wheat to Montreal from the United States rose from 11,648,250 in 1920 to 27,226,000 in 1921, and corn from 85,816 bushels to 178,081.

"The total export of grain of all kinds from Montreal in the season was 119,692,135 bushels, the significance of which is realized when compared with the previous year's total of 53,145,935 and the previous record of the port of 75,613,029 in 1914. Though wheat showed a substantial increase, the most remarkable development was in corn, which, from shipments of about 800,000 bushels in 1920, jumped to more than 43,000,000 bushels in 1921.

"The shipment of cattle to the overseas market did not commence aggressively until the season was well advanced, yet in the course of the seven months of open navigation 35,000 head left for Liverpool and Glasgow, whereas shipments via the St. Lawrence in the previous years have been negligible.

"There are other developments, as usual, and projected, in the port of Montreal, deeply significant of the general appreciation of the importance of its future. Many shipping companies, for instance, are reported to be asking for docking rights in the harbor, and the coming Spring on the St. Lawrence should see a movement of unparalleled activity. According to the plans of the steamship companies, nearly twenty additional transatlantic passenger steamers will be using Montreal as their western terminal in Atlantic traffic. An increase in cargo vessels is naturally forecasted. Already the St. Lawrence River carries more than one-third of Canada's national trade to and from the port of Montreal, the annual volume of which exceeds $750,000,000, and prospects are that both the volume and the proportion will increase.

"Montreal is already the second port of the American Continent, its fifth city in respect of population and the greatest inland port. It is the principal point on the American Continent for the export of grain and other agricultural produce, and now the greater part of the enormous harvest of the Western prairies is finding its outlet by way of the St. Lawrence instead of across the international border.

"The work of developing the accommodation and capacity of the harbor is a continuous work, progressing unceasingly. To date, at a cost of more than $30,000,000, the harbor provides 109 steamship berths from 300 to 750 feet in length, with a depth of water from 23 to 35 feet. There are two large elevators at which 9 vessels can be loaded with grain simultaneously, 60 miles of harbor railway and a total wharfage of about 12 miles. Montreal has trade relations with every country of the globe. During 1921 12 of the world's greatest shipping lines used the port as a terminal, while the number of vessels arriving yearly approximates 1,000.

Madame makes Pastry that is good as my own" — says the Pastry Cook

The milk and cream have everything to do with it.

And this is why!

Ordinary milk varies as to richness. To-day it may contain much butter-fat! To-morrow very little! Madame has learned that to have uniform success in her baking she must have uniform quality of milk! Always the same high butter-fat content.

The cream adds a rich, delicate quality and flavor—imparts a rare, light "fluffiness".

And she gets such results always, by using the one, old established and unequalled St. Charles Milk "with the cream left in".

The annual printed report of the St. John Protestant Orphans' Home is off the press and is a highly interesting statement as well as being a pictorial of the homes in Britain street and West St. John and their youthful inmates.

The usual booklet form of report has been abandoned this year to allow for showing the eighteen photographic reproductions of the children at play, at work in their home-training tasks, in school, their sleeping quarters, playgrounds, nurseries, hospital and when picnicking outside.

It is safe to assume this illustrated report will introduce to the people of New Brunswick for the first time a view of the Protestant orphans as domiciled in their well-conducted homes and should convey a clear idea of the scope and importance of the work, now in its sixty-eighth year.

After giving a brief historical sketch of the institution, the report presents much information useful to those interested in the institution. Dr. W. S. Morrison, managing director, gives a resume of the year's (1920-21) work, during which about 110 children were in residence. Seventeen were taken out of the orphanage for adoption, apprenticeship and by widowed mothers or widower fathers.

Twenty babies under professional care were in the infant department. A kindergarten has been opened in the West St. John home. The treasurer, H. C. Rankine, reports receipts for the twelve-month at $25,866.79, with more than an equal amount of expenditure, which included $5,440.80 for general staff and trained nurses, $1,068.89 for fencing and otherwise equipping the West St. John grounds, and substantial payments for fuel (two buildings), heating plant changes, the equipping of extra rooms and electrical extensions, in addition to the current household disbursements.

Mr. Rankine's statement further explains receipts from bequests, sale of property, insurances, bonds, etc. Struan Robertson and J. King Kelley are the auditors.

Miss Mabel Sidney-Smith, acting secretary, gives a splendid outline of the year's activities, chiefly from the ladies' committee viewpoint. The large printed sheet bristles with timely topics akin to the orphanage work, including the Knights of Pythias' annual collection, the Baptists of the province devoting a special offering to the home, etc.

Referring to the "Great Ultimate Object" the report says: "A new provincial orphanage institution in a suitable location is a very live determination among those who have the work closely at heart. Since the first suggestions along these lines were made the war intervened, and then resultant money stringency and high cost of everything. These years have been no suitable time for launching a project that may consume several hundreds of thousands of dollars.

So those who are prime movers in the plan are simply awaiting the loosening of the money market and the return of normal 'times' to start the campaign that will surely erect a modern orphanage sufficient to the needs of the province for years to come. A competent committee has the early details in hand and much information has already been gleaned and is on file.

The report is somewhat delayed this year, owing to suspension of Printer's work, while the proposed orphanage amalgamation proposals were under consideration.

This Clinic takes no child above the age of 6 years, featuring especially rational prophylactic and preventative measures in infant life and in early childhood and concerning their with parental conditions as related to oral hygiene and tooth nutrition in the offspring. Nutritional requirements of the teeth are featured quite as much as sanitary requirements.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe, thousands give it to babes in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 82nd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

From a recent portrait of Dr. W. B. CALDWELL, Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, Born Shelbyville, Mo., 1839

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, and the use of these certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, and the use of these certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning.

Miss Mabel Sidney-Smith, acting secretary, gives a splendid outline of the year's activities, chiefly from the ladies' committee viewpoint.

Harry C. Green, who conducted delicatessen store in Charlotte street, has made an assignment to the Canada Permanent Trust Company, St. John.

Recent experimental work has shown how readily teeth may be influenced by giving too little of the vitamins found in milk, leafy vegetables or even in whole wheat bread.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

"Advertising Made Me."

Admits Paul Rogers.

Starting business four years and a half ago in a fifteen-foot front establishment, with $17 stock of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco, his location far off the beaten track of downtown trade and with little or no knowledge of the smoke-shop business, Paul Rogers today has two retail tobacco stores in Los Angeles, sells 30,000 cigars at every day and maintains what is probably the most successful mail-order tobacco business in the country.

Rogers, known throughout the Pacific southwest as "Oh, Boy!" left a railroad job with the Southern Pacific to buy out the diminutive tobacco shop of a bankrupt merchant whose place on South Main street was not getting enough business to keep the sheriff away. Though he didn't know the tobacco business, Rogers was "sold" on advertising. He had been watching it with a connection with many products and he believed that if he advertised his shop, telling the public he was working on a small-profit, quick-turnover basis, he could make it pay.

Many argue that in a large city, where the rates of a metropolitan daily are necessarily rather high because of large circulation, it is not profitable, nor can it be made profitable for small dealers, drawing from a neighborhood territory, to use the newspapers. Rogers didn't believe that. He appropriated a sum from his savings for a six months' campaign in the largest morning paper, using 1000 space at almost twice the daily rates. His ads were rather small. The first six months took out more money than he still each day than his gross earnings amounted to each week, and Rogers started to figure out what was wrong.

He finally decided that his ads weren't big enough to attract attention, so he doubled his appropriation, and then then on, as he says himself, "Advertising made me."

Some of the figures Rogers gives are very interesting. The $17 has grown to a $50,000 stock that moves almost too rapidly for replacement. It would take ten years' gross profits of the average Los Angeles tobacco shop to pay for the fixtures in Rogers' two places of business. He would take the daily gross receipts of seven of the same average shops to pay his daily advertising appropriation.

Rogers sells one widely advertised cigarette at the rate of 50,000 a week. He sells half the pound and hamper tobacco sold in the City of Los Angeles, and five times more pipes than the next largest dealer. He sells cigars regularly from as far away as India and Alaska, Kansas City, North Dakota, and, in fact, all over the United States.

DRIVE HERE TO HELP RUSSIANS

Committee Makes Offer to Premier King—So far $50,000.

Winnipeg, Feb. 6.—The Canadian famine committee for the drought stricken in Soviet Russia last night forwarded by telegram to Premier King an offer to launch a dominion-wide drive for relief to Soviet Russia in co-operation with the government. The committee, in the message, states that it will gladly handle through the Soviet Red Cross any relief supplies "you would donate or any funds appropriated for that purpose, and trusts that the dominion government will make immediately a liberal grant for this purpose."

STATE OF TRADE IN THE DOMINION

(Bank of Commerce Letter)

The reports presented at the annual meetings of all kinds of commercial organizations during January have been of a reassuring character. In the case of the year's business has been up to the average, and they have passed the usual dividends. On the other hand industrial corporations have presented statements on the whole better than anticipated. In some cases dividends have been passed and others reduced, and balance sheets indicate that a policy of caution is being generally followed. That strong cash resources are being maintained. Traders and manufacturers have apparently realized that trade is only possible when people are willing to buy, and that to bring this about prices will have to be lowered. Important reductions in price have already been made, and others may be expected as a result of the adjustment in wages now taking place. Retail way employees have formally withdrawn their protest against the reduction made in 1921. The building trades are giving serious consideration to the best means of reviving business this spring, and it is significant that the federal minister of labor has advised employers and workers engaged in this industry to enter into all agreements for the current year by March.

The casualties among manufacturing concerns in 1921 were serious, as to both number and extent of liability, and although this is not conducive to optimism as to the near future, there is ground for hope in the fact that the necessity for lowering the cost of production is now frankly acknowledged, while to bring this about both employers and employees are now co-operating more effectively. In the meantime stocks of merchandise are being liquidated by consumption, and a demand is being created by the need of replenishing empty shelves. Tangible evidence of this may be found in boot and shoe factories, textile mills and various wholesale warehouses. As yet, however, buying continues to be of a day-to-day character, and few will venture to place orders for the summer or fall trade until the prices of agricultural produce become steeper and the goods required in accordance with the value of what he carries. About half the population of Canada derives its income from the land, and this income has contracted during the past six months at an unprecedented rate. Farmers have therefore had to limit their purchases to actual necessities, and even then have reluctantly to renewals and for extensions of credit.

STAGE-DOOR JOHNNY

High Cost of Entertaining Has Abolished the Curb Line of Former Days—Liousines Now in Waiting.

(N. Y. Times)
"Dad" Packard, who guards the inner mysteries of the Music Box from the eyes of curious outsiders, stepped onto the stage door just before curtain time for the last act to get a breath of fresh air. He looked toward the curb, but at sight of a figure standing there in a silk hat and fur coat, motionless like a statue or a sentinel, he bobbed back into his little hallway with popping eyes as though he had seen a ghost. He hastened back stage and clutched Norton, the house manager, by the arm.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold however slight. If you do it can have but one result: it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY FINE SYRUP will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, roots and bark promptly eradicate the bad effects, and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.
Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of troubles, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; if you have severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, severe backache, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison out of your child and waste out of the bowels. You have a well, playful child again. Millions of mothers know California Fig Syrup's handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine California Fig Syrup, which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must try "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Corns? —just say Blue-jay to your druggist

Stops Pain Instantly
The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a colorless, clear liquid (drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same. Blue-jay is a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

NEW MOVE RE QUEBEC LIQUOR

Further Restrictions Sought—May be Plebiscites.
Quebec, Feb. 6.—A deputation representing the Anti-Liquor League of the Province of Quebec waited upon Premier Taschereau on Saturday and asked for the abolition of all taverns as well as of permits to sell alcoholic beverages in clubs, dance halls, cabarets and gardens. The only concession suggested by the league was the sale of beer by the bottle and that only through a salaried agent who would have no financial interest in the transaction.

POLICEMAN AND HIS PRISONER IN TUSSELE

Louis Daley was arrested early Sunday morning by Policeman McInnis in Prince Edward street on a charge of drunkenness and violently resisting an officer of the law. The policeman said he saw Daley and another man approaching along Prince Edward street, both apparently under the influence of alcohol and attracting attention. He spoke to Daley and asked him what he was doing but said he received an offensive answer. Daley then struck the officer on the nose with his fist and the officer, who was wearing a helmet, fell to the ground. Daley's relatives are indignant over the treatment as they claim that injuries received while in France and liquor are responsible for his condition. A lawyer has been retained to take care of Daley's interests. The accused resides at 23 St. Patrick street.

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.
Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:
"I give me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicine, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at night for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch like as if I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

HEARTBURN A SEVERE CASE

Many people are troubled with heartburn who really do not realize just what it is.
In cases of this trouble there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by disturbed appetite. It is generally caused by acid acidity of the stomach, and whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and becomes extremely sour, causing heartburn. In such cases vomiting often occurs, and what is thrown up is sour and sometimes bitter.
The one way to get rid of heartburn is to keep your liver active by using MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles such as constipation, jaundice, water brash, floating spots before the eyes, coated tongue, lack of breath, etc.
Miss Agnes Cutting, Shallow Lake, Ont., writes: "I have had heartburn for a long time. I used two trials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of my heartburn. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine."
Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or sent direct on receipt of price to T. M. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In 8 Days Feels Like New Woman

Simple Intestinal Antiseptic Does Wonders With Mrs. Hill
"For two years I suffered from backache and tired feeling (due to gas on the stomach). After taking Aderika (intestinal antiseptic) EIGHT DAYS I feel like a new woman. I can't praise it too highly."
Intestinal Antiseptic
There is now offered to the public a preparation having the DOUBLE action of an intestinal antiseptic and a COMPLETE system cleanser. This preparation, known as Aderika, acts as follows:
It tends to eliminate or destroy harmful germs and colon bacilli in the intestinal canal, thus guarding against appendicitis and other diseases having their start here.
It is the most complete system cleanser ever offered to the public, acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel and eliminating all matter which poisoned the system for months and which nothing else can dislodge. It brings out all gases, thus immediately relieving pressure on the heart. It is astonishing the great amount of poisonous matter Aderika draws from the alimentary canal—matter you never thought was in your system. Try it right after a natural movement and notice how much more foul matter it brings out which was poisoning you.

S. S. THYRA ONCE MORE IS ADRIFT
Rudderless in Atlantic After Second Attempt to Tow her to Halifax.
Halifax, N. S., Feb. 6.—The Swedish steamer Thyra, rudderless in the Atlantic for more than a week, is adrift again after being in tow of the British oil tanker Suwanne for a couple of days. This word was received in Halifax from the tanker.
The Canadian government steamer Lady Laurier left Lunenburg this morning to attempt the rescue of the Thyra. The Thyra lost her rudder on January 29. Two attempts have been made to tow her to Halifax by the Red Cross liner Rosalind and the tanker Suwanne. The Rosalind was forced to run to Halifax with almost exhausted fuel supply after more than thirty hours' endeavor to tow the helpless steamer in the face of monstrous seas. She reported that the Thyra was well supplied with food and fuel and was in no danger.

EVERY BOY AND GIRL READ THIS

When the hard times set in some weeks ago and many men and women were temporarily thrown out of work, a nineteen year old lad living in this city decided to try his fortune in the United States.
So pluckily enough he and an older chum started out. The far-away hills looked very green to them, and home was a poor place, they thought.
Well, sir, the youth's parents were greatly worried at not hearing from him at all. They had tried to persuade him that other cities were as badly off as St. John, but no, he knew it all.
A few days ago a letter written on a dirty piece of paper reached the distracted mother. It was to inform her that her son—the prodigal—was in jail in a town hundreds of miles away in the States. She could answer care of the jail warden, giving name, etc.
Francis with fear lest her boy had become a criminal—though he never was—had younger as boys go—the aged parent sought a business friend who dashed off a wire to know why the St. John wanderer was in prison.
After two days of tearful suspense for the mother and her household, a letter bearing official marks came to hand, saying that Master So-and-So was held a prisoner under the American immigration laws, because—now listen boys and girls, get what this means—because he could neither read nor write!
Do you get the point?—he was undesirable as a new citizen of the United States. He was below standard, would be a hindrance to himself and the nation. So much so, in fact, that they were going to the expense of shipping him back to little old St. John!
There is no room in any place nowadays for healthy boys and girls, men or women who cannot read or write—who hated school and were allowed to grow up in ignorance, except, of course, as the cheapest and most menial laborers.

ARRESTED ON FORGERY CHARGE IN FREDERICTON
Sydney Man Said to Have Attempted to Cash Bogus Checks—Other Allegations.
(Special to The Times.)
Fredericton, Feb. 6.—Fred Doucet, aged about twenty-two, hailing from Sydney, was arrested here today by Chief of Police Findlay on a charge of forgery. The man has not been about Fredericton very long.
This morning Doucet is said to have appeared in the Royal Bank of Canada and presented a check for $10 signed with the name of E. O. McDonald. The staff telephoned Mr. McDonald, who denied issuing such a check. Doucet hurriedly left the bank.
Chief Findlay began a search and located Doucet on King street and put him under arrest. A search for the man revealed two other forged checks already drawn, one was signed with the name E. O. McDonald and the other with some other name. Inquiry revealed the fact that Doucet raised five dollars in easy fashion on Saturday last. He is said to have purchased on instalments a valuable gramophone from E. O. McDonald, paying $7 down. Doucet took the gramophone to a second hand shop and sold it for $12, it is said.

BELFAST TURNING ON LLOYD GEORGE
Morning Post Sees Annihilation and Defeat in Boundary Commission.
(Special Cable to The New York Times and Montreal Gazette.)
London, Feb. 6.—The Morning Post says editorially:—
"To enter a boundary commission with a minority of one against a combination of Collins and Lloyd George would be to accept annihilation and defeat."
Next week the full Ulster representation will be in London for the meeting of parliament, and it is understood that they will then decide on the best means of raising in both houses this latest aspect of what they regard as a betrayal of Ulster.
The Morning Post's Dublin correspondent says:—
"Mr. Lloyd George declares his view of the boundaries question is substantially that enjoyed by Michael Collins, Great Britain is likely to find, not one, but two republics roosting cozily on her seaward doorstep. Already they have stopped singing 'God Save the King' in Belfast, not because they harbor hard feelings either against the king or empire, but because the British people apparently insist on regarding loyalty to the king as necessarily involving obedience to the priceless cogwheels of green goods men, bunco steers, circus roundabouts, quick change artists and tinhorn gamblers, that comprise the Coalition government."
The Daily News' Dublin correspondent says that Belfast is turning its anger not upon Collins but upon Lloyd George. The Daily Telegraph's Belfast correspondent says: "The demands of Michael Collins as set out by Sir James Craig are simply impossible, and any northern government that gave way to them would be turned out at the first opportunity. The Unionist public are absolutely united in this matter, and their firm opposition to any substantial alteration of status as allotted to them in the Government of Ireland Act is expressed in all of the strongest terms. The prevailing feeling is one of anxiety, because the state of affairs in Ireland is much worse than is realized in England."
