SURPRISING RESULTS OF STATISTICS One-fourth of New York City's Wage-earners Are Women AVERAGE YEARLY $250

An Old Story Stirred Up—Raising Funds to Help Forer Stage Favorite—How Fortunes Dwindle—Emigration Matters

Special Correspondence of The Times-Star New York, Sept. 22.—Some surprising statistics respecting the capacity of wage-earning women in this city have been gathered by the Committee on Women's Work of the Sage Foundation established by Mrs. Russell Sage.

Where these wage-earners are able to cooperate with other members of their family who are working, Miss Van Kleef says they can take out a semi-comfortable existence on plain food and plain clothes.

These figures are the result of a study of the average working girl in New York with a restricted earning capacity.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE MORNING

By Daniel Webster Richmond, April 29, 5 a. m., 1847.

Whether it be a favor or an annoyance, you owe this letter to my habit of early rising. From the hour marked at the top of the page, you will naturally conclude that my companions are not now engaging my attention, as we have not calculated on being early travelers today.

This city has a pleasant seat. It is high; the James river runs below it; and when I went out an hour ago nothing was heard but the roar of the falls. The air is tranquil, and its temperature is just what I need.

Beautiful descriptions of the morning abound in all languages; but they are the strongest, perhaps, in those of the east, where the sun is so often an object of worship. King David speaks of taking to himself "the wings of the morning." This is highly poetical and beautiful.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL ACHIEVEMENT

Interesting Address Delivered Last Evening by Professor Mitchell Carroll, Ph. D., in Natural History Society Rooms

The Natural History Society's lecture room was filled last night with a large and representative audience when Prof. Mitchell Carroll, secretary of the Archaeological Institute of America, lectured on "Thirty Years of Archaeological Achievement."

Prof. Mitchell Carroll. Dr. W. W. White, president of the St. John branch, was in the chair. The lecture which was copiously illustrated by beautiful slides thrown on the canvas by Wm. McIntosh, permanent curator of the Natural History museum, was an interesting resume of the discoveries made by the institute and affiliated schools on the classic sites of Greece, the Roman colonies and Asia Minor.

Thus the mission of the Institute is three-fold—scientific, humanistic and educational. It seeks the accomplishment of these broad aims through various agencies: (1) The Affiliated Societies. (2) The Schools of Archaeology. (3) The System of Lectures before Societies. (4) Publications, and (5) Archaeological Excavations and Explorations.

A PRACTICAL LETTER ON TREE PLANTING AND ORCHARD CULTURE

To the Editor of the Times-Star.
Sir.—There has been a good deal of late talk about planting trees in the city, and since I have lived here, now nearly fifty years, the same subject has come up for discussion and effort to succeed every few years, but nearly always with failure.

After the great fire of 1877 we found ourselves located near the Marsh bridge, in what is now called Forest street. On the north side of the street there were no houses, but a strip of land about ten feet wide, facing the houses on the south side for its whole length. It was covered with every kind of rubbish, old wagon wheels, hayricks, pieces of various kinds of rotten lumber, etc., the whole making a very sorry sight to any lover of order and cleanliness. For our own use we cleared a piece of ground across the street fronting our house, and planted a tree and a passer-by and neighbor, dwelling on the same street, thought it would be nice to plant a whole street. This was James Millican, with a neighbor, dwelling on the same street, we worked together to fill the street with trees on the side next the I. C. R. and the present tree growth there is the result the only one in all St. John that has such a number of trees growing vigorously.

We think the mayor if he gives the business a fair amount of his intelligence, will become the first brainy tree planter the city has ever produced and will be himself a missionary to the city through an ever growing tree movement than by any other.

The proposed amalgamation of the Montreal Street Railway Company with the Montreal Heat, Light and Power Company if carried out, will create a monopoly in the grip of which the city will be practically helpless. PREMIER BOTHA AND COALITION

A coalition government for the Union of South Africa would probably have been the best inauguration of the new order of affairs in the south of that continent, tending to wipe out racial distinctions. Such a coalition having been seemingly impracticable, the success of the party headed by General Botha is the best thing that could have happened. It would have given to a large proportion of the Boer population the idea that the rest of the people aimed to take an undue advantage of them. Botha having been the most moderate and fair of the Boer leaders and deserving most of the consideration of the new Union. This feeling might have rankled in South African politics to a far greater extent than it does now.

"Oh, don't I know," said Mrs. Casey. "Sure, I'd change places with you any day, for while I'm workin' over a hot cook stove all day I'm thinkin' 'iv the fine picnic ye're havin' workin' down there in that nice cool sewer."—National Monthly.

A CURE

"Yes, sir, I was totally cured of a serious case of dyspepsia during my vacation." "Fine!" Exclaiming daily and sleeping in the open air was what did it, I suppose? "No, I couldn't eat any of the stuff they put on the table at the place where I spent my two weeks, and the rest was what my stomach seemed to need."—Chicago Record-Herald.

ONE BETTER

"When I met a young girl," titters the first old lady, "one of my beaux hugged me so hard he broke one of my ribs." "Humph!" exclaims the second old lady, adjusting her glasses and smoothing back her hair in conscious pride. "When I was a young girl one of my beaux hugged me so hard he broke one of my arms."—Life.

PREMIER BOTHA AND COALITION

A coalition government for the Union of South Africa would probably have been the best inauguration of the new order of affairs in the south of that continent, tending to wipe out racial distinctions. Such a coalition having been seemingly impracticable, the success of the party headed by General Botha is the best thing that could have happened. It would have given to a large proportion of the Boer population the idea that the rest of the people aimed to take an undue advantage of them. Botha having been the most moderate and fair of the Boer leaders and deserving most of the consideration of the new Union. This feeling might have rankled in South African politics to a far greater extent than it does now.

IN A NICE COOL SEWER.

It was a hot evening following a regular old scorcher of a day and Casey and the family were sitting out on the front porch trying to keep cool. "Sure, 'twas an awful day in the kitchen," said Mrs. Casey. "I have 'em smile when I hear ye complain' about the heat, for as a matter of fact ye don't know what heat is," said Casey. "Oh, don't I know," said Mrs. Casey. "Sure, I'd change places with you any day, for while I'm workin' over a hot cook stove all day I'm thinkin' 'iv the fine picnic ye're havin' workin' down there in that nice cool sewer."—National Monthly.

TRADE RELATIONS BETWEEN CANADA AND AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 23.—Efforts to expand trade relations between Australia and Canada are engaging the close attention of W. H. Ross, Canadian trade commissioner.
In Victoria, Southern Australia and Tasmania, Mr. Ross has been interviewing the minister of customs with the object of inducing him to appoint an Australian, stationed at Vancouver, whose business it will be to develop commerce generally between the two countries.
Mr. Tubb, the minister, is indisposed to send an Australian to Vancouver to undertake the duties, but he hopes to see his way clear to induce the cabinet to appoint a commercial man, resident in Vancouver, to represent the Commonwealth. The matter will be placed before the ministers for decision.
It is considered unlikely the Victorian government will go into its own state to find a successor to Mr. Tubb, who has resigned his post of chairman of the state railway commission. In some circles it is taken for granted that Mr. Fitzgibbon, a colleague of Mr. Tubb, will secure the vacant position. Mr. Fitzgibbon has had a remarkable career. He entered the railway service in the capacity of a porter's messenger and has risen by his native shrewdness to the place at present he holds.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON
I HAVE evolved a slogan for housewives to be used during the fall housecleaning. Housekeepers who observe that festival, please attend. I don't know whether you'll like it or not, but here it is: "Clear house as well as clean house!"
How does that appeal to you as a slogan? It seems to me if every housewife in the land would adopt that for her fall housecleaning it would be a happier land.
A newspaper friend of mine was recently sent out to get up an article on the necessity or non-necessity of this fall upheaval.
Some of the women whom she interviewed indulged. Some didn't. One who didn't, in explaining her freedom from the habit, let fall such a pearl of wisdom—no, "nugget of good common sense" would describe it better—that I borrowed it.
"In our house we aim to keep clean not to become clean," she said, "and one of our methods of keeping clean is not to have the house cluttered up with any unnecessary things. I thoroughly believe that if thinking women would make up their minds to have nothing in their houses but what is useful and those of value because of association, so-called drudgery would diminish to the vanishing point, and this semi-annual upheaval would not be needed."
"Now, however, please don't just say: 'Here is some more of that housekeeping talk from someone who doesn't know anything about it,' and refuse to read any further. Please be open-minded and unprejudicedly consider if it isn't possible that the lady was very right, and then query how well your house stands her test. That is, how much there is in your home besides useful things and those that have associations?
Useful, of course, ought to include beautiful, for beauty is certainly useful. A well-made chair rests your body. A truly beautiful object rests your eye. With that definition of useful, test one room in your house. If it's an average house, I know just about what the results will be. Why not make the object of the fall cleaning to make it capable of passing that test?
I know a very sensible woman who one day decided that she was being possessed by her possessions instead of possessing them. Thereupon, she went through her house, and standing before each object, asked herself if she were getting her troubles' worth of utility and pleasure out of it. If she had to say so, she got rid of the object, and according to her testimony, she lived happier ever afterwards. One of the greatest tendencies of our life is accumulation. In many ways it is a good tendency. In other respects it is bad and needs to be checked, and this is one of them.
To know how to throw off, as well as accumulate, is one of the needs of a happy life. If you lack that ability, why not try this very fall to acquire it?
In other words, instead of letting your housecleaning be the regulation taking out and putting back, why not make it a new beginning?
"Clear house as well as clean house."

Daily Hints for the Cook

FIG CAKE.
One cup sugar, half cup butter, two eggs, half cup milk, one and one half cups bread flour, measured before sifting, one and one half teaspoons baking powder, half teaspoon vanilla.

Add the yolks of two eggs, beaten with 1/2 cup sugar. Stir well together. Lastly, add juice and grated rind of 1 lemon. Place in dish and bake slowly in oven. When done, spread over the top, the whites beaten with 2 tablespoons sugar. Brown in oven. A cup of raisins may be added just before baking.
SWEET-TOMATO-PICKLE.
One peck of green tomatoes, 4 onions. Slice and add a cup of salt and let stand overnight. In the morning drain, then add 1 quart of vinegar and 2 quarts of water. Boil 15 minutes the drain again. HON. WM. PUGSLEY WILL APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT
Ottawa, Sept. 23.—The Telegraph correspondent interviewed Hon. William Pugsley today regarding the decision of Chief Justice Barker on the bill filed by him against the New Brunswick Coal & Railway Company, et al. In his taking of the account of the receipts and disbursements by the company, Dr. Pugsley made the following statement:
"I have read the judgment, as published in The Daily Telegraph, and have written to my solicitor instructing him to appeal to the supreme court. The chief justice holds that a director is not entitled to have an account taken. But for this decision and for the great respect which I have for the learning and ability of the chief justice, I would have supposed that a person who had been, as I was, a director of a company, and had ceased to have connection with such company, would be entitled to have an account taken of the receipts and disbursements by the company and a full statement of the period of such directorship. However, the question is sufficiently important to warrant me in obtaining upon it the opinion of the full court.
"I am disappointed at the result because I hoped to have a full and complete investigation, and not a partisan and unfair enquiry, such as took place before the commissioners, where every effort was made to suppress the truth and distort the facts, and which resulted in a false report prepared, largely by Mr. Powell, the counsel for the provincial government.
"I had gone to considerable expense in employing a skilled accountant who has examined the books of the various banks and other financial institutions where the company kept its accounts, and whose testimony as to the large sums paid out for interest, wholly omitted by the commissioners from their report, would have corroborated the statement which I made in parliament when I showed to the complete satisfaction of every impartial listener the thorough unreliability and worthless of the commissioners' report."

THE BRITISH EMPIRE

(Toronto News)
The world-wide heritage which our fathers have left us is worth preserving, and worth making ourselves for. This is the conviction, and not a partisan and unfair citizens, but also of the other races that shelter beneath its flag. The Eucharistic Congress at Montreal constituted the latest concrete proof of the wide liberty guaranteed by British rule. Under its aegis all peoples and religions, and all creeds are free to march together along the highways of progress.
Who would not be proud of an empire that for ages has been the chief secular factor in the promotion of civil and religious liberty and of civilization throughout the world? Who can escape the thrill of loyalty to a thousand-year-old state that has given into a series of sister states engulfing the world, and compelling the admiration and affection of all peoples?
Who would not be solicitous for the permanence of an empire that inspires the attachment of men who ten years ago were its bitterest enemies? What wonder that to be witnessed in South Africa! Louis Botha asking the imperial government to lend him Lord Kitchener or Lord Methuen to help organize the world's "the best defence force in the world"! History records nothing like it.
We have often wondered why so many girls bait their hooks with piano chords, and why so few of them use tried coils.

PARIS FASHION HINT

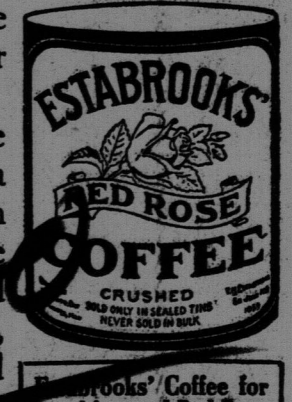

THE WORD "SAUCE"

What are the first essentials of a Sauce? Many professors of cookery and eminent chefs have, from time to time, set forth their views on this subject, but the point seems to have been completely decided. Many solid varieties of food, soluble only by digestion, are not rarely dry in substance, but are somewhat unattractive and insufficiently flavored. A sauce is intended, amongst other things, to lubricate dry food, and thus increase its palatability, by the addition of flavors or the production of contrast. A sauce is intended to stimulate the organs of taste, and to promote the salivary secretion. Thus, by enhancing the appetite, and augmenting the juices capable of digestion, it increases the pleasure of eating, meanwhile assisting the mechanism of nutrition. The preparation of a sauce suited to one special dish is, in general, a simple affair, by the making of a hot sauce, capable of fulling the requirements of the dish, is a matter necessitating great experience and aboriginal skill. A sauce is now obtainable, it is reported from England, where it is produced in the largest Malaga vineyard in the World, and is known as "H. P. Sauce," and takes its title from the initials of the "House of Parliament," where it is used on the dining table, both in the house country and in Canada. The makers tell us that its delicious flavor is obtained by blending together the choicest Oriental fruits and spices with pure malt vinegar by a secret process, and we are sure our readers will find that a personal trial will convince them of its merits.
Hubby—"The old saying is true: It is only fools who get married."
Wife—"That's how Providence takes care of them."
Hubby—"How?"
Wife—"By giving them wives to look after them."
Suffragette—"We believe that a woman should get a man's wages."
Married Man—"Well, judging from my own experience, she does."

In Air-Tight Tins until it reaches your home. Why?

Because coffee, after it is roasted, whether bean, ground or crushed, must be kept in absolutely air-tight packages. Otherwise it quickly loses flavor and strength. This is one of the reasons why we never sell coffee in bulk to be ground in the store when you buy it. It must be protected from the air from the very start.
Our tins are double sealed. First there is a band put on the seam where the cover joins the tin, then over this band the label is placed, doubly sealing it and making it absolutely air-tight.

RELIGIOUS OUTLOOK

In Undelivered and Unpublished Address by the Late Goldwin Smith

Note by Arnold Haultain A few years ago Mr. Goldwin Smith was asked by the pastor of the Unitarian church of Toronto, Canada, to deliver an address to the congregation at a meeting held shortly before the pastor was called away to another charge.

"I express myself with caution lest I should be mistaken to vibrate reason, which is indeed the only faculty we have, when we judge concerning anything, even revelation itself, or be mistaken to assert that a supposed revelation cannot be proved to be of divine origin, for it may contain clear immoralities or contradictions and either of those would prove it false."

It is inconceivable that the author of our nature should tell us one thing through the only faculty of judgment which he has given to us, another by supernatural communication. It is inconceivable that he should tell us through our reason that the earth goes around the sun, by revelation that the sun goes round the earth. It is still more inconceivable, if possible, that he should inspire one morally in our hearts, and by revelation sanction the opposite, as passages in the Old Testament, if we believed them to be dictated by Deity would do.

How can we meet the crisis? How but by going that which Butler says, is the only faculty which we have for judging anything, with perfect freedom, and at the same time with caution, with mutual charity, with reverence toward that which has long been sacred to all and is still sacred to many? We have to guard ourselves against the rush of new discovery. Materialism has not yet made good the saying of its leader that the three great obstacles to our welfare are our belief in God, immortality and free will. Without God, most freedom or hope beyond the grave, what would man and his life be? Frankly let us give up what has been clearly disproved, however dear, in so doing we are only salvaged. Of what we give up, let us not try to fill the place with figments. When first geology proved that the Mosaic story of creation was mythical, orthodox fell back upon a theory that the days were not days but aeons, the Fourth Commandment expressly says that they were days, grounding its ordinance thereon. Even so great a man as Mr. Gladstone could take refuge in accommodation of this kind, in effect making the Creator in giving an account of His own creation approximate to truth. Since the discovery of evolution and the physical origin of man the Mosaic account of the fall must be laid aside; but in its place to support the dogmatic creed is put an imaginary fall of some mysterious kind.

That the demoniac was healed," he says, "that in the terrible final paroxysm which usually accompanied the deliverance from this strange and awful malady a herd of swine was in some way affected with such wild terror as to rush headlong into the water of the lake, and that in the minds of all those present, including that of the sufferer himself, this precipitate rushing of the swine was connected with the man's release from his demoniac thrall, thus much is clear."

Stacks of crates of melons, carloads of peaches, tons of grapes from across the lake, great arrays of peaches in baskets from Niagara, mixed in with early apples and vegetables, covered the grounds of the big building, making the air fragrant with their mingled odors.

Colorado Peaches It is about the height of the season for Canadian fruit. Shipments from the States have begun to fall off. And yet here was fruit that surpassed one. Imagine grapes from far-away Colorado being able to invade our market and to successfully compete with our home-grown and supposedly unrivalled product.

What was it that divided the states of the German Empire between Lutheranism and Calvinism, and kept them bound in those divisions? Was it conviction? Was it the treaty called the Peace of Westphalia, which perpetuated the results of military and political, of the Thirty Years' War.

IS IT THE HAIR OR THE FACE THAT MAKES THE WOMAN?

If you think it is the face, take another look at the two heads pictured here. One shows a girl which the most critical would pronounce beautiful.

While her features are fairly perfect her greatest charm lies in a mass of her lustrous hair. The opposite picture is identical as to features and other detail except that the wealth of hair is wanting.

Both of these ladies would attract attention anywhere but each for a different reason, one on account of her superb beauty and the other on account of her comical appearance.

The hair makes all the difference. A woman loses her good looks in exact proportion as she loses her hair.

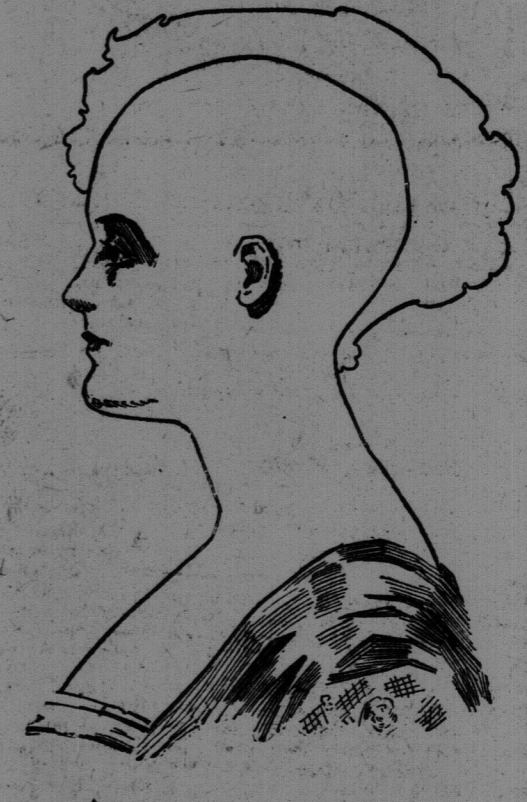

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE Saves The Hair

There is nothing which is so destructive to the hair as dandruff. This annoying trouble to which everyone is more or less exposed is due to the working of an invisible growth or microbe called the Dandruff Germ.

It robs the hair of the natural luster of health, burrows down into the follicle and eventually loosens the hair allowing it to fall out. Newbro's Herpicide applied regularly and intelligently kills this germ, keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

Falling hair is thus prevented and the hair follicles have not become atrophied, a new growth of hair may be anticipated.

The life and luster of Herpicide hair is beautiful to the eye. An abundance of fluffy, glittering hair is woman's chief beauty and to permit its needless destruction is unpardonable.

FRUIT FROM WEST INVADING THE EAST

Carried 2,000 Miles to Compete With Ontario—A Lesson to Canadian Farmers

California Apples "We get from $2.25 to $2.50 a box for these," said another dealer trying the lid of a case of California apples. He unwrapped a beautifully marked Gravenstein. "They are just twelve dozen apples in each box, so you see they come high. But they are all choice fruit and they're certainly good keepers."

From British Columbia "One of the salesmen at the Exchange had the disposal of the fine collection of British Columbia fruit, which everyone greatly admired at the exhibition. "I went for a song," said my informant. "The crab-apples and peaches were about dead-ripe, and I pretty nearly gave them away. But for the apples I got fair-a-good prices. Each box contained about 2 1/2 pecks, and I sold them at $1.40."

From Desert Land Outside of the samples displayed at the Exhibition, no British Columbia fruit has been sold here, but dealers predict a good future for it in this market. In taste and appearance it is almost identical with that imported from the western states. Practically all fruit from the far west is grown in arid climates, where horticulture without the aid of artificial watering would be impossible. The mountainous irrigation ditch is the sole means of applying moisture to orchards in nearly all the large fruit-growing districts, and Torontoians who have travelled through the Okanagan Valley in British Columbia are familiar with the toy, flung-up, orange-red, and the olive-brown barbed wires.

An Object of Pity

That part of our nature which we call the emotional is much more highly developed in women than in men. They are more sensitive, more tender, more sympathetic, more pronounced in their likes and dislikes, more susceptible to the extremes of pleasure and pain, and these qualities mental and moral are less than those of form and feature, make up the atmosphere of attractiveness and charm which always surrounds a woman.

The continued existence of the mind, the engaging womanly characteristics depends to a very large extent on the condition of the womanly organs and the condition of the womanly organs is in turn dependent on the condition of the womanly system. The womanly system is the source of the womanly life, and the womanly life is the source of the womanly health.

What makes the case so pitiful is that she is so naturally lost, in addition to this, she has also to endure the most distressing and agonizing of all the agonies of the human mind, the agonies of the heart, the agonies of the soul, the agonies of the spirit.

As these disorders are due to the altered condition of the womanly organs, it is evident that to effect a cure these organs must be restored to normal condition; or, in other words, the circulation, which is the source of life, must be improved so that the womanly matter will be expelled, and the womanly system will be restored to its normal condition.

The remedy known as ORANGE LILY will positively restore normal circulation in the womanly system, and it is an applied or local treatment, and it is applied to the womanly system, and it is applied to the womanly system, and it is applied to the womanly system.

Dear Mrs. Currah—I am very grateful to ORANGE LILY for what it has done for me. I had been suffering from a very bad case of the womanly system, and I had been suffering from a very bad case of the womanly system, and I had been suffering from a very bad case of the womanly system.

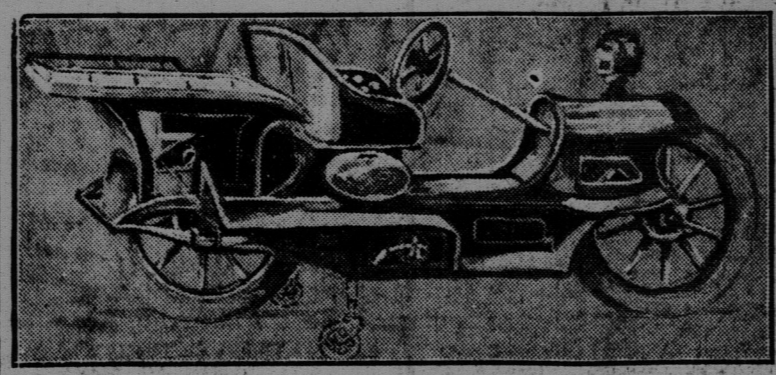

Free to all Sufferers. In order to enable every woman suffering from any form of female disorders to test the merits of ORANGE LILY, I will send to everyone who will send me ten cents, a small bottle of ORANGE LILY, and I will send to everyone who will send me ten cents, a small bottle of ORANGE LILY.

KNOWLEDGE DISPELS PREJUDICE

The Montreal Gazette Discusses the Recent Eucharistic Congress and the Challenge of Father Vaughan—Much to be Learned by Both Protestants and Catholics

(Montreal Gazette). There seems to be a disposition on the part of some of the doctors of Protestantism to accept the challenge of Father Vaughan and, for the most part (in Montreal, at least), it has been accepted in a generous and tolerant spirit. Protestantism has to claim an important share in the diffusion of the spirit of civil and religious liberty. On the other hand, we are often reminded that it was in a Roman Catholic colony (that of Maryland) that the New World found the first example of religious freedom.

There is more Catholicism in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven entirely to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.

Early next week the Canadian Club is to be addressed by Mr. J. Butler, general manager of the Dominion Iron & Steel Company, Sydney (N.S.), on the subject of transportation. Mr. Butler is now a business traveler in Ottawa, but a visit is expected from him in a day or two announcing details of the date for his address.

The Socialist party will hold its regular convention in Montreal at the Hotel, 141, Mill street, commencing at 8.15 p. m. sharp. The speaker will be F. Hyatt.

After a most bitter squabble between counsel the priest was permitted to take the stand, and gave testimony as to what took place in the death chamber while he had not the secret story about his wife. The priest declared that John Mazark, knowing himself to be dying, told him that he had shot himself with intent to kill, that he had been driven to the act because he had not had any work for three months, that he had been afflicted with sore feet and could not get out to work.

Old Folks Should Be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine

Suprising Results of Statistics. (Continued from page 1.) Inner secrets of a certain class in this city than any man living. Following his conviction many of those who formerly looked upon the friendship of the lawyer as an acquisition worth having, turned their backs on him and averted their faces when he walked by. Helping Clara Morris. Through the generosity of those who admired her in the zenith of her fame as an actress, Clara Morris, now a half-blind and harassed by privation, will be spared the added humiliation and hardship of eviction from her old home on the Hudson. Because of her physical infirmities the once popular star has for years been unable to work, and her profession and has been obliged to depend for her living upon her earnings as a special writer, who she always has done with precision and unerring accuracy. In this plight she was unable to meet the interest on a mortgage, which she had contracted home the long in her days of affluence.

APER CONSUMED IN NEW YORK CITY

Seven hundred and fifty tons of white paper are used daily in New York City. The paper mills consume some 3,000 acres of rest are cut down each day to print the newspapers, magazines and periodicals that are sent broadcast every hour during the day. The paper trade journal, and it is but a small percentage of the total consumption in the United States.

Certainly, the white paper question is an important one, not only important to the consumer, but of vast importance to the public in general. With careless indifference the American public refuses to consider the question of what is to become of its forests.

With one city among a strip of 100,000,000 or more requiring the nation of 3000 acres, how long can we expect the supply to last?

FREIGHTS ON RIVER BOATS HEAVY NOW

Much Produce Being Brought Down These Days AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Passenger Traffic, However This Season Has Been Below the Average, Say Steamship Owners—Service About the Same As Other Years

The heavy season for freight on the river has begun with a rush which bodes well for a prosperous fall traffic, almost every day now sees farm and dairy produce in very large quantities coming down the stream on all the boats of the different lines. This week was really the start of the fall season from the boat owners' point of view, as there was a great increase in freight, particularly barrelled goods, such as potatoes, apples, and crates of various kinds. Last week was a good one in this regard, however, many of the farmers being early with their fall shipments.

From now until the close of navigation, which will probably be about the middle of November, the steamboats will be kept busy bringing to the city markets the products of the farm and the fruits of the orchard, and it is expected that, in the quantity of such commodities shipped, the standard of other years will be eclipsed. This has been the case thus far this year, freights being far heavier than last summer, and indications point to a continuance of this order of things.

While shipments of goods to and from the city have been extra large, it cannot be said that the same is the case with the passenger traffic, as this end of the steamship business on the river has been behind the standard of last year, although an average year, when compared in this connection with seasons previous to 1909, which was a particularly good year for tourist travel.

"The weather this year has been a drawback to tourist travel," said F. W. Corey, of the Star Line Co., yesterday, "and the class of people who did take outings seemed to be below the general standard of tourists who usually take passage up the river during the summer months. Last year was one of the best known for a long time in the number of passengers on the river steamers, but this season will not nearly come up to it. Of course, it may well be attributed to a certain extent to the weather, which on days when there were numbers of tourists in town, was too disagreeable to appeal to them for a trip on the river."

The steamboat accommodation was as good as in former years, and there were few, if any, complaints about the service. Large numbers of citizens took advantage of the late Saturday afternoon trips to spend Sunday in the country, returning in time for their work on Monday morning. Many new cottages were erected along the river and travel by local people was well up to the mark.

FEWER CASES OF DESEASE IN CITY THIS YEAR

Board of Health Record Shows an Improvement of Conditions—Better Sewerage System a Help

It is a matter of much gratification to the board of health that during the past months of this year, there have been few cases of contagious disease in the city, and that at the present time, while there are a few cases of typhoid and scarlet fever, there are none of diphtheria, and practically a clean bill of health is reported. This condition of affairs is a great improvement over other years, when typhoid and scarlet fever, and diphtheria were quite common even at times, ranging to epidemics in some neighborhoods.

It is considered that the change has been wrought by the improved sewerage system, and the stringent measures taken by the board in the matter of public health facilities on all premises in the city. Many of the cases of fever reported this year, are considered by those who should know to have been caused by visits of the common house fly, which it has been found, is the source of much disease, carrying germs from filth to places unobserved.

During the coming year the sewerage system of the city will, it is expected, be fully in operation, and this will help greatly in the prevention of disease. Residents of Chesley street in particular feel the need of a sewer, and the board of health is with them in the matter of having one installed.

POLICE COURT

For the first time in five years, Joseph Murphy, formerly an habitual frequenter of the police court, appeared before Judge Ritchie this morning on a charge of drunkenness, pleaded guilty and had a fine of $8 stand against him. Murphy has been working at St. Martins and promised to return there. John Lindy was fined $8 and Michael Manning $4 on the same charge.

Herbert Blois, was remanded on a charge of being drunk and using profane language to Frank Wallace in Sydney street. Wallace said the man came into his store and used bad language, besides tearing his scarf.

Herbert Macumber, a young Greek, pleaded guilty to stealing articles valued at about $5 from the store of John de Angelis, King street, where he was employed. The property consisting of brushes, shoe polish and two footstools, was found in his boarding house. He was remanded.
