Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The expectation which the members have been cherishing that they would get away at the end of this week is not likely to be fulfilled. There is apparently enough still on the government programme to last through next week.

The matter of the Grand Trunk seems to have taken a new and unexpected turn. Negotiations between the government and the company have been very long drawn out, but it was generally expected that they would come to an arbitration as soon as later, at parliament.

It is also the matter of the new temperance legislation, which is being received very coldly in the house. The majority of the members of the house are certainly not prohibitionists; but have not the courage of their convictions. They will not even speak out in caucus, although it is reported that at yesterday's government caucus some of them tried their courage and their voices, and protested against going on with the legislation at the present time, which would give the government the power to deal with the taking over of the road. It is predicted that it will be fought to the point of closure.

OUR DEBT NEARLY $65,000,000 MORE THAN IT WAS IN AUGUST

Stand Now at Billion and Quarter; Before the War It Was $336,000,000

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—A disappointing situation in regard to the dominion finances is revealed in the money balance sheet of the finance department. During last month the net debt of the dominion increased by nearly $65,000,000 as compared with an increase of a little over $20,000,000 for September last year. The net debt now stands at $1,750,000,000. Before the war it was $336,000,000. As compared with September, 1913, ordinary revenue shows an increase of $460,000. It totals for the month $26,000,000 more than the ordinary expenditure. In September, 1918, ordinary revenue was $22,632,281, but ordinary expenditure was $9,440,000. Pensions and interest on loans are included in ordinary expenditure.

Revenue from customs and excise for the month both show an increase. In September, 1918, the customs revenue was $10,948,000; last month it was $13,228,500. In September, 1918, excise revenue was $2,658,500; last month it was $3,223,000. Revenue from direct taxes—business profits and income—increased in comparison with September last year, about $230,000. Expenditure on capital account in the month of war, last month, was $4,152,000. In September, 1918, it was $2,007,000.

FIGHT WITH WINDS
FORCED A LANDING

Atlantic's Gas Supply Gave Out

Airship Only 95 Miles From Destination—All Went Well on Passage—Clever Work of Pilot in Making Landing in Dark

Greenport, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The Handley-Page plane flying from Parrboro, N. J. to Mineola, N. Y., was forced to land here a little after eleven o'clock last night because of a shortage of gasoline. The machine made a perfect landing. The Atlantic coasted the air on a farm about a mile north of this village. Major H. Brackley, of the Royal Air Force, who piloted the big machine, was accompanied by a committee of experts had spent weeks in selecting it.

The field is ninety-five miles from New York and is on the tip of Long Island. The Atlantic encountered strong head winds during the entire trip, which used up the fuel supply expected to carry her to Mineola with ease. Aside from running out of gasoline the ship functioned perfectly.

Minneapolis, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Aviators and mechanics, based on Mitchell Field to test the plane, were informed of the accident with relief when they received word that the machine had landed safely at Greenport. These brave aviators were anxious for they knew that soon her gasoline supply would be exhausted. Three great headlights were kept sweeping the skies to guide the aerial travelers.

BOSTON CARMEN GET
$500,000 BACK PAY

Boston, Oct. 10.—The $500,000 back pay due under the Endicott arbitration award to the 8200 or more employees of the Boston Elevated Company was paid today, said Business Agent William Timmins yesterday. The back pay will total about $100 to each member of the Boston Street Carriers' Union. The award settled the four-day strike of the carmen last July and gave a wage of from 50 to 60 cents an hour, retroactive to May 1, 1919.

MASS DRESSES IN RUSSIA.

Women Also Use Leaves for Clothing in the South.

Paris, Aug. 30.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—People in some of the villages of southern Russia are wearing dresses made of leaves or grass sewn together with bamboo fibre, owing to the difficulty in obtaining cloth, says Major G. M. Towse, who is in charge of the Red Cross activities along the shores of the Black Sea.

It is an ideal costume for the summer when southern Russia has a temperature like that of the Garden of Eden; said Major Towse, "but I shiver when I think of what will happen to those little girls when the snow begins to fly."

The Red Cross is expected to distribute a shipment of clothing in southern Russia before autumn.

MORE THAN $700
The Round World Fair held under the auspices of the City Cornet Band in St. Andrew's Kirk, was officially closed last evening and was reported to be a grand success. It was said this morning that more than 900 persons attended last night and the proceeds would be more than $700 and will be sent to the Orangetown fire sufferers. This is regarded as an excellent showing and the members of the band deserve great credit. Several donations were made including some from W. F. Hatheway Company, Northrup and Company and the Corona Company, Limited.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "did you see the big plane flying over the city yesterday?"

"I did," said Hiram, "an' I watched it out right. Great wasn't it? Oh, we'll hev lots of 'em himbeby. It was just thinkin' how small we must've looked to anybody lookin' down at us from there airship. An' I s'pose a lot o' people was lookin' up the thought the world couldn't git along without 'em."

"But you must remember," said the reporter, "that the world is looking so small when seen from an airship that you must put that down to the credit. The airship itself looked small."

"That's so, too," said Hiram. "An' if everybody was busy at somethin' useful they'd be a lot more things done that kind done. That's the pint. They's too many lookin' at the clock—yeh, air."

"In the words of the poet, if I remember them correctly," said the reporter, "The heights by great men was won and kept. Were not attained by sudden flight. But while their companions slept. Were toiling upward in the night."

"Jist so," said Hiram. "I often think of old Horace Greeley layin' down by the fireplace steddin' books without even a candle—when he was a boy. Them's the fellows that does things in the world. How's them night school gittin' along? Got 'em goin' in 'Portland an' 'not yet," said the reporter. "I don't think they have enough students yet."

"An' you must put that down to the credit of the government," said Hiram—"an' a lot of other things that takes up too much of some young people's time. They's too many of 'em improvin' their minds—yeh, sir."

"Not yet," said the reporter. "I don't think they have enough students yet."

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—While maintaining its attitude that the striking policemen should not be restored to their old jobs, the Boston Chamber of Commerce directors have appointed a committee to assist the former patrolmen to obtain positions in civil life.

The directors stand squarely upon the principles enunciated by the various public authorities and believe that the policemen should not be reinstated. It is evident, however, that many of the police were skilled—and did not have a clear idea of their duty to the public, and that their action in leaving their posts came, at least in part, for these reasons. In other respects they are men whose qualities can be of service to the community.

The irony of the situation is being emphasized every where police officials are being asked to furnish recommendations to former policemen who joined the police force in the first place. Notwithstanding warnings from J. Austin Chamberlain, chairman of the exchequer, and others, relative to the danger of the situation, national expenditures, the writer says during July, August and September actually exceeded those of the previous quarters, and the government was continually forced to borrow money. He cites an instance in which the government was obliged to raise £30,000,000 by an overdraft on the Bank of England last week to meet interest on war debt and pay off exchequer bonds.

The writer asks "whether the government intends to follow the same method in repaying £200,000,000 more of exchequer bonds, falling due in the next eight months," and urges greater economy to enable the revenue to cover expenditures. He says the public is conscious that it is being done, "the result of a clear rearing up loan will be very different from the meagre response to the recent Victory Loan drive."

Austin Chamberlain, chairman of the exchequer, and others, relative to the danger of the situation, national expenditures, the writer says during July, August and September actually exceeded those of the previous quarters, and the government was continually forced to borrow money. He cites an instance in which the government was obliged to raise £30,000,000 by an overdraft on the Bank of England last week to meet interest on war debt and pay off exchequer bonds.

The writer asks "whether the government intends to follow the same method in repaying £200,000,000 more of exchequer bonds, falling due in the next eight months," and urges greater economy to enable the revenue to cover expenditures. He says the public is conscious that it is being done, "the result of a clear rearing up loan will be very different from the meagre response to the recent Victory Loan drive."

HOW ENGLAND SAVES HER CHILDREN

Measures have been adopted in England to conserve infant life which deserve particular attention in Montreal, where infant mortality is so alarmingly high. Statistics prove that in a great many English cities death among children up to five years of age have been very greatly reduced.

ENGLISH PROFITERS.

They are looking sharply in England after the profiteers in the building trade. Sir Kingsley Wood, M. P., parliamentary secretary of the Ministry of Health, speaking at Brighton said that the ministry of health had to face the staggering cost of house building today and at the same time to have regard to the vital matter of infant mortality.

RECENT DEATHS

News has been received in Annapolis, N. S., telling of the death of Captain James W. Dunham in Liverpool, England. He was eighty-two years of age, and a native of Digby, N. S. His wife and several sons and daughters survive, all residing in England. His last Canadian ship was the Alexander Yeats of St. John. He had sailed from various ports for a great many years and was a very well known mariner.

A tramp asked a gentleman for a few cents to buy some bread. "Can't you go into any business that is more profitable than this?" "I'd like to open a bank if I could only get the tools," answered the tramp.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Barnett-Pettie.
On Thursday afternoon, October 9, at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. R. P. McKim, Main street, Miss Mary Isabel Pettie and Christopher C. Barnett were married. The bride looked charming in a dress of navy blue, satin with white hat and white fox fur. Her traveling suit was of navy blue serge. The groom's present to the bride was a gold pendant set with diamonds and pearls. Mr. and Mrs. Barnett motored to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary J. Pettie, South Clones (N. B.), where they will spend a few days.

Lehrle-Wedderburn.
Hampton Village, Oct. 9—A quiet wedding took place at the bride's home here on Wednesday afternoon when Miss Ethel Fraser Wedderburn, daughter of the late Judge Wedderburn, became the wife of L. W. Lehrle of this place. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bride, who was becomingly attired in a gown of brown crepe de chene and satin, with black picture hat and white fox fur, was given away by Mrs. W. S. Morrison. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Gordon C. Lawrence. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue with hat to match. Mr. Lehrle is a popular commercial traveler and both bride and groom have many friends here who wish them happiness and prosperity. They left on Wednesday evening to spend a short honeymoon in St. Stephen and St. Andrews.

Mrs. Margaret Gulliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Roy, of Newcastle, was united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. E. A. Kinley, to John Cooper also of Newcastle, on October 9.

GIVES SLOW POISON TO HER CHILDREN

Detroit Mother Had Quarrel With Husband About Going on Stage

Detroit, Oct. 10—Mrs. Hazel Leukart, 27, of Royal Oak, has confessed that she poisoned her two golden-haired little girls, aged eight and six, on the night of Sept. 29, and sat at their bedside until morning "hoping and praying they would die."

The act, she said, followed a quarrel with her husband, who refused to permit her to go upon the stage. The confession was made to George A. Setton, Oakland County jail in Pontiac.

The children were given a slow, insidious poison that paralyzes its victims and steals with slow march upon the head, which it finally stills. Those doomed so to die feel no pain but a great lassitude. They retain consciousness to the end.

In her confession she said: "I have had the poison in the house for years and knew it would cause a slow lingering death from which there is no escape. Mr. Leukart and I had quarreled over the stage. I wanted to be an actress, he would not permit me to leave the children."

"I love my little girls dearly. It was my great love that prompted me to believe them better off dead. I know I must pay the penalty for this deed, that perhaps may be imprisonment for life but I am reconciled to my fate."

School Journeys.

School journeys are in future to form an important part of the educational work of the English schools. Under the provisions of the new educational act the London county council intends to arrange this summer about 4000 children are to participate. The journeys are planned to extend over a fortnight. Traveling expenses are to be paid jointly by the board of education, the London county council and the parents.

Is it not possible, asks a Toronto Globe writer, for the nine provincial governments in Canada to do the same kind of thing? It has been suggested that the governments arrange with the Canadian railways for parties of Canadian teachers to tour Canada during the summer vacation. It would be a wise investment of public funds and a step in the broader Canadianization of our people.

HON. DR. ROBERTS HOME

Speaks of Dominion Health Council Meeting in Ottawa

After having attended meetings of the Dominion Council of Health in Ottawa this week, Hon. W. F. Roberts, M. D., minister of public health, returned to the city at noon today. He said the work of the council was expected to prove of importance in matters pertaining to the general health of the dominion as it had been a representative gathering and its programme filled with subjects of current interest.

Regarding the question of recurrence of the "flu," Doctor Roberts said that it was the feeling of those at the conference that should this happen this winter the province would be better able to cope with it and it would not be expected to be so widespread if some cases did occur.

New Brunswick is the only province in Canada which has a minister of health upon its legislative executive, which gives it a decided advantage in dealing with general health matters, but the doctor said that Ontario and British Columbia were now establishing a health ministry. They saw the advantage of having such an office. United States was adopting legislation to provide for an under secretary with authority on health matters but New Brunswick could take the credit of being the first in the field in this respect.

REVIVE PLAN FOR BOULEVARD

Road Engineer Has Suggestion for King Street East—Ornamental Strip Down Centre

When the city gets around to dealing with paving problems in King street east, as it must before very long, the road engineer will have an attractive proposition to submit for consideration. This is, naturally, one of the finest streets in the city, with a stretch of one hundred feet from side to side, but no effort has been made to take advantage of its fine proportions, and sidewalks and roadway are in a condition which has called forth vigorous complaints at regular intervals.

On account of its width, with a sixty-foot roadway and twenty-foot sidewalks, the cost of keeping up the surfaces has discouraged the various public works heads from attempting anything adequate, and it has been neglected consistently.

In order to eliminate as large a proportion as possible of both the first cost of permanent pavement and subsequent upkeep, as well as to improve the appearance of the street, the boulevard system has been advocated.

Wherever the engineer has outlined in his spare moments calls for an ornamental strip twenty feet wide, running down the middle of the street, except at street intersections, cut with foot paths at several places in each block. This would be surrounded by concrete curbing and could be sown with grass and planted with shrubs, adding greatly to the attractiveness of the street, eliminating that much paving, and leaving that much less room for the development of weeds.

On each side there would be a twenty-foot roadway, which would be more than sufficient for the traffic, as the vehicles would be traveling only in one direction on each side of the street.

For the sidewalks, there are alternative plans, either a walk placed in the middle of the side area with grass on either side, or a sidewalk located next to the curb with the remainder of the area forming a fair-sized lawn between the sidewalk and the buildings. The latter plan would make it easier to keep traffic off the grass, would give each household a plot worth taking care of and, by having any trees which might be planted inside the sidewalk, there would be nothing to obstruct the light from the street lamps.

SANITARY INSPECTORS ARE ADDED TO STAFF

Appointments at Minto and Chipman—Dr. J. F. L. Brown Speaks of Conditions

Dr. J. F. L. Brown, district medical health officer, returned yesterday from Minto and Chipman. This morning he said there was some typhoid in Minto, and the prospects were that there would be more. He said he was visiting the fifth case in one family. There had been two deaths from the disease in that family. He said that the sanitary conditions, water supply and drainage in Minto were not as satisfactory as they might be. He said owing to the efforts of E. C. Alexander, a member of the Queens County board, he had succeeded in getting William Lyton appointed sanitary inspector for the Parish of Canning, resident in Minto. It is expected that sanitary conditions will be improved.

Dr. Brown at Chipman found everything satisfactory. Also in Chipman Alexander was instrumental in having Harry C. Darrah appointed sanitary inspector for the parish of Chipman, resident in Chipman.

One of the objects of Dr. Brown's visit was to see the milk situation. It seems that some of the milk dealers on the line were not allowed to ship their milk to St. John on account of unsanitary conditions and it was thought that perhaps they would send the milk to Moncton. In order to make this impossible, Dr. Brown conferred with Mr. Northrup, of Moncton, and all necessary steps will be taken to put a stop to it should this happen.

The typhoid situation in Alma, Albert County, is much improved. Dr. Brown said he was in communication by telephone with H. B. Coonan, secretary of the board in Albert and he said that there was no typhoid there, but a short time ago there had been a few cases.

The health regulations in the southern district are being well carried out and much benefit is already being felt from the new act.

CINCINNATI TAKES MORNING TO REJOICE

Half Holiday is Welcome to World Champions

Man Says Sox Game But Outclassed—Gleason Says It Was Greatest Series and Believes His Team Best Club

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 10.—Hilarious Cincinnati rose this morning to celebrate a "public holiday" from 8 o'clock till noon the triumphal return of the Reds from Chicago where they won the baseball championship of the world yesterday from the White Sox.

Joy was at flood tide last night, and while impromptu processions formed and marched through all sections of the city, representative men of affairs met at the Business Men's Club and appointed committees and made final arrangements for the "official celebration" of the homecoming of Manager Moran and his athletes.

Moran Happy Man

Chicago, Oct. 10.—"The Reds are the champions and I am the happiest man in the world tonight," said Manager Pat Moran of the triumphant Cincinnati club last night. "I cannot praise my players too highly. They played remarkably well, fought every minute to win and here never was a time when they lost confidence.

"Eller got himself in a couple of bad holes but he recovered quickly and had the Sox at his mercy. I want to say that the Sox are not quitters. They are a lot of players. They fought to win but were outclassed, in my opinion. The series ended as I thought it would. I must admit that the Sox gave us a scare."

"If Williams had shown some 'stunt' in the first inning it would have been a different story to tell tonight," said Manager Gleason of the Sox. "I am sure that I still believe in a desire to beat the Reds. That first inning, when the Reds scored four runs, was a real test. We were handicapped at the start of the series in pitching, but I was confident that we could pull through. The Reds were lucky to win these early games. However, they beat us in one of the greatest series ever staged, and my hat is off to them. I still believe the Sox is the better ball club."

START WORK ON CITY HOUSES

Rourke & Griffiths Promise to Have Them Ready by May 1

Rourke & Griffiths, who have been awarded the contract for the erection of the city housing commission's dwellings in West St. John, have made a start on the work and promise to have all the houses ready for the occupants by May 1 of next year. Their contract calls for four self-contained cottages and eight semi-detached.

Mr. Rourke said this morning that advances in the prices of materials which have occurred since the tender was submitted would make it impossible to erect other houses at the same figure, particularly as they expect to make a very small profit on this contract. Shingles have advanced $1 a thousand in the last week, doors have gone up and other materials are showing the same tendency.

The contractors discovered a peculiar situation when they started to purchase supplies and found there was not a single barrel or bag of cement for sale in the city. They have ordered a supply from Montreal and expect it here on Monday. The rough lumber required has been purchased through a local dealer from a place near Digby, N. S., and is now in the way here.

A prominent citizen, speaking today of the start made by the commission, said that if this effort is successful it should encourage private individuals to erect dwellings either for their own use or for rental. He said that he would be glad to build one himself just to aid in relieving the congestion.

HOLD BUTLER
IN BOMB PLOT

Former Employee at Wanamaker

CONFESSION, SAY POLICE

Explosive Sent to Merchant's Home
Intended for Maid, According to His Story—Package Aroused
Mrs. Wanamaker's Suspicion

New York, Oct. 9.—An attempt to injure Mrs. Rodman Wanamaker, wife of a Special Deputy Police Commissioner, by means of a bomb sent through the mail by a discharged butler, Ernest Albert Gustav Kurth, a German subject, the police say, was frustrated by the suspicion and caution exercised by Mrs. Wanamaker in opening the package. Second Deputy Police Commissioner William J. Lacey of the Detective Bureau said Kurth had confessed to mailing the bomb. He had been under arrest as a suspect, but was held on the charge of larceny and had been sent to the medical ward at Bellevue Hospital for observation and treatment.

The bomb was sent from the post office substation at 182 Fourth Avenue, near the Wanamaker store so that suspicion might be directed from himself to some employee of the store. Kurth declared that he had not intended that Mrs. Wanamaker should personally receive or open the package, but had intended the package for Mary O'Brien, a maid, who he believed was responsible for his dismissal from his position as butler in the Wanamaker city home at 37 West Fifty-sixth street.

According to Kurth, the maid had opened all packages sent to the house and he had supposed she would open his bomb package. Mrs. Wanamaker, however, received the package at her country home, Tuxedo Park, N. Y., on Sept. 27. Although she recognized the wrapping paper as similar to that used in the Wanamaker store and noted that her name and address on it were on a printed label kept in the establishment for her the Wanamaker home in Kurth's rooms, which included a revolver, several bottles of wine, an electric fixture and linens.

At that time the police did not question Kurth about the bomb, but had him held in $5,000 bail by Magistrate Douras in the Yorkville Court on the charge of grand larceny. After he had been in the Tombs a short time he was sent to Bellevue.

When the police had completed the bomb investigation yesterday and began to question Kurth he sent for Lacey, it was said, and made a confession. Kurth said, according to Lacey, that he sent the bomb to revenge himself on the maid, but he was silent when he was asked why he had not addressed the package to Miss O'Brien.

Kurth is 33 years old. He is a native of Germany and has been here thirty years. He has been a butler for the Wanamakers for two years. He said he had since obtained employment as superintendent of the apartment house at of it very carefully. Looking through this tiny opening she saw grains of black powder, a piece of sandpaper with the head of a match resting against it.

Sent Package to Police

Mrs. Wanamaker ceased further investigation and sent the package to Headquarters by her husband's valet, George Ellis. There it was found that the bomb, consisting of a piece of blasting, was filled with gunpowder, pieces of brass and packed with cotton, so that when the box was opened from the top the match would be ignited. It was said the bomb would probably not have caused the death of any person opening the box, but would have caused severe injuries to face and hands and perhaps the loss of eyesight.

plays in the search for the sender of the bomb. Then they sought for evidence at the city home of the Wanamakers. Kurth, before he was discharged had a workshop in the basement for making household repairs. The police say they found several matches, whitened like those in the package, which they rescued from rubbish on the work shop floor. They also found a piece of a newspaper, which matched the torn portions packed around the bomb.

Madis in charge of the house told Detectives Cooper and Newman that Kurth had been there several days previously to get mail, and he was expected to call again in a day or two. On Thursday Kurth appeared and was arrested. He said he was living with his wife and child at 249 East Seventieth street. Cooper and Newman asserted they had found some stolen articles from

CANADA'S PROSPERITY RESTS WITH YOU

Continued Business Activity and Good Wages Depend on Canada's New Victory Loan

DURING the past four years Canada's prosperity has been due largely to orders from Great Britain and our Allies.

Canada was able to obtain these orders because she advanced credit to these countries.

Canada was able to give this credit only because you bought Victory Bonds.

Great Britain, with France, Belgium, and other Allies, are now prepared to place large orders with us for the products of our factories, farms, forests and fisheries—provided Canada again gives them credit.

Credit must be given if we are to have any guarantee of good times and good wages. But our workers on these orders must be paid their wages in cash; so, much of the money that you invest in Victory Bonds will go out in wages to Canadians.

You will be absolutely protected—you will get a good rate of interest and all of your money will be paid back at the time stated in the Bond.

Every cent will be spent in Canada, and ultimately circulate to the benefit of all.

Canada can give this credit only if you again buy Victory Bonds.

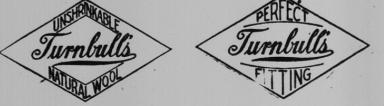

If Canada is not able to give this credit, other countries will.

Therefore Canada's continued prosperity rests with you.

Standard for Over 60 Years

We began knitting underwear in Canada over 60 years ago. Quality has been our slogan all these years.

To us it means more than a phrase. It is a symbol of all that is best in underwear. It expresses the mission of this business—the standards of manufacture.

Correct styling, correct fit, correct finish, we must have at all times.

But QUALITY stands out pre-eminent and dominates the field of underwear.

Lady Allan Regrets Canadian Volunteer Workers Not Recognized By Decorations

Back After War Work — Was Commandant of Moor Court Convalescent Hospital Which Harbored Canadian Officers

Montreal, Oct. 9.—After an absence of more than four years Sir Montagu and Lady Allan and Miss Allan are once more in residence at "Ravenscrag." After serving for the last two years in England as commandant of Moor Court Convalescent Hospital for Officers at Sidmouth, Devonshire, Lady Allan closed that hospital on Aug. 1, and has been visiting Lady Minto in Scotland, while Miss Allan was taking a motor trip through that country.

Moor Court, during the last two years, harbored 1,000 officers, mostly Canadian, with a few Americans. A great number of the officers were of the Royal Air Force who enjoyed the attractions and comfort of this beautiful spot in Devonshire. Only thirty could be accommodated at one time, including from ten to twelve bed cases. It was a rest house, situated on a fine golf course, with fishing and sailing facilities and no rationing.

Before taking up her work at Moor Court, Lady Allan was a worker at the American officers' hospital, where she was a captain of the diet kitchen and wards and had a great deal to do with food economy, in which she has always been interested. She was also concerned with the canteen work at the Maple Leaf Club, London.

No Chevrons for Service.

Lady Allan, who was made an honorary serving sister of St. John of Jerusalem, a decoration given for personal service during the war, spoke of the service rendered by the volunteer workers. She regretted that so far the Canadian volunteer workers were not allowed to receive recognition for their services by decoration. Her ten V. A. D.'s wore no chevrons for service, although they had done wonderful work, while the British volunteers were given credit for service.

The Duke of Connaught cherishes a great affection for Canada, said Lady Allan, who dined with him at Baginbott Park a little while before she left England. Lady Patricia Ramsay, she said, is now living in Paris where the Hon. Alexander Ramsay is naval attaché at the embassy.

Miss Martha Allan, who returned with her mother, has driven for the Canadian Red Cross and the Moor Court hospital, as well as being supernumerary at No. 3 McGill General Hospital in France. Lieut. Hugh Allan, R. N. A. S., was killed in action after having been in France for five months. He was twenty years old.

England is facing a hard winter, said Lady Allan, though to the casual observer it would seem prosperous. Meat, sugar and coal are still being rationed. "I am glad I am Canadian, and always said so," said Lady Allan, "though I have left some dear friends in England." Lady Allan intends to collect her V. A. D. workers and keep them united in settlement work or baby welfare work, the plans for which will be decided later.

THE MIGHTY TASK OF THE EMPIRE

Britain and the Dominions Stand in Relation of Trusteeship TO DEPENDENT STATES

These Are in Every Stage of Constitutional Development — The Dependent Empire is a Trust — Dominions Share Its Responsibility

(From an Address by Lord Milner.)

"Among the members of the British Commonwealth the United Kingdom carries the burden of a vast dependent Empire—territories, protectorates of the most varied size and of an infinite diversity of conditions, and a social, political. They are in every stage of constitutional development. In the greatest of them all, India, momentous changes in the form of government are impending. In others, such as Egypt, a regular form of government has still to be devised. To speak in general terms of countries so numerous and conditions so various is manifestly impossible. Still there are some general principles to guide us through the maze and the greatest of these, which we may now regard as the foundation of our policy—it has taken years to evolve it—is that the relation of the United Kingdom to all these communities is a relation of trusteeship. We must approach all questions affecting them that attitude of mind. We must exercise our power over them for the advancement of their people, not for our own benefit, though in the process we do undoubtedly, in many though not in all cases, derive great and legitimate benefit ourselves.

"This is obviously true in the material sphere. In developing their material resources, we increase our commerce, we find investments for our capital. Of the increased production, which good government renders possible and the loan of our resources promotes a considerable proportion falls, and justly falls, to our share. This constitutes a substantial part of our national wealth and with a bolder policy of development might be enormously augmented.

Policy of Development.

"And here let me say in passing that it is absurd to denounce this policy of development as one of exploitation. I do not say that colonies and protectorates are not often grossly exploited by the powers that possess them, or that we have not ourselves in some cases exploited our dependencies in the past. But I regard our policy emphatically, that our present policy is rigorously directed to the prevention of such abuses. We are concerned even to limit with respect to projects of development for fear of being accused of exploitation. It is not by important claim. It is our duty to the inhabitants of these territories to use our natural resources, often immense and almost inexhaustible, to their benefit. It is that a reason for abstaining from the exercise of our trusteeship is unquestionable, there is not also a moral duty to us to guard against the dangers in the exercise of power over dependent races. We have not handed the exercise of such powers when controlled by a high sense of responsibility, is a school of character, which has few equals. I am proud to think that, as a general rule, the men of our race who have been entrusted with this charge and in that effort have striven to raise the people entrusted to themselves become better men, and that the Nation as a whole has gained much from their experience and their example.

"But when I say that, do not let me be supposed to think that, satisfied with our own performance, we should discourage or suppress any genuine capacity for self-government among the people of the dependent empire. On the contrary, we should by every means in our power seek to encourage it. That is the greatest, as it is the most difficult, of our duties of trusteeship. There can be no standing still in this matter. In every part of the dependent empire, even the most backward, there is some stirring of the waters. Our business is to guide and direct the natural desire of human beings to be their own masters not to run counter to it. We may even to some extent have to sacrifice efficiency of administration in order to promote contentment, though trustees, we cannot, as trustees, afford to sacrifice it too much. It is a matter of delicate judgment in every case to know how far we can go in that direction. But, speaking generally, I should say that where native self-governing institutions exist, however primitive in form, we should be very slow to interfere with them. Where no such institutions exist, we should try gradually and carefully to create them.

Future Development of Commonwealth.

"Only one thing more. In the future development of the commonwealth there should be a closer connection than at present exists between the self-governing dominions and the dependent Empire. At present they do not affect each other much, but when they do touch, problems arise which are of great difficulty and even danger to the future of the commonwealth. I am thinking especially of the color question and of the troubles which constantly arise, especially in South Africa, over the treatment of the dependent Empire in self-governing dominions. These troubles place the British government in the most painful dilemma. If it attempts to protect the Indians it lays itself open to the charge of tampering with the independence of the dominion. If it abstains from interference, it may appear to fall in its duty to its Indian subjects. In playing the role of a mediator, which it is bound to do, it gets no support from the public opinion of the commonwealth as a whole, because the importance of the question is not generally recognized.

"This is a striking instance of the need of some definite means of close and constant consultation between all the members of the Empire in fact. Certain it is that we must endeavor by all means in our power to increase the interest of the dominions in the dependent Empire, and even, as opportunity offers, to associate them in our trusteeship.

The Dependent Empire.

"And to some extent they are already disposed to take over some of the burden. Canada is becoming increasingly interested in the West Indies, as Australia and New Zealand always have been in the islands of the Pacific. South Africa will certainly claim in time to take charge of certain native territories that are contiguous to the Union, and provided that existing native rights and forms of self-government are insured there is no reason why she should not do so. Indeed, all these tendencies are to be welcomed, but on one condition. It is essential that the dominions, if they take over any part of the dependent Empire, should do so as trustees on behalf of the whole commonwealth. They must treat them as simple additions to their own possessions. We may see a hint here from the mandatory principle which has emerged in connection with the League of Nations. The dependent empire is a trust. The particular self-governing state, be it the United Kingdom or one of the dominions, which control any part of the trust, it has full powers of administration, but it is bound to exercise them in accordance with certain principles which represent the policy of the commonwealth. It is responsible for their proper exercise to the commonwealth as a whole.

The report for the week ended September 20, 1919, follows:

The employment service of the department of labor reports that returns from the domain and provincial offices of the employment service of Canada for the week ended September 20 show an increase in placements as compared with the returns of the preceding week. During the week the eighty-nine offices reported that they had referred 9333 persons to regular positions, and that 8,947 of these had received employment. This represents an increase of 577 over the previous week, when 7,970 persons were given regular employment. In addition 1,288 casual jobs were supplied as compared with 1,274 of the week ended September 13.

During the week 10,366 applicants were registered, of whom 748 were women and 9,618 were men. This shows an increase of 536 over the previous week when 9,880 applicants were reported. The number of vacancies notified by employers totalled 12,214, of which 1,211 were for women, and 11,003 were for men. This represents an increase of 674 over the preceding week when 10,540 vacancies were notified. Of the placements in regular employment 440 or 4.7 per cent were women workers, and 8,907 or 94.7 per cent were men. The number of soldiers reported as placed was 2,494 or 26.7 per cent of the total.

Of the placements in regular work nineteen were reported by Prince Edward Island, a decrease of seven; 135 by Nova Scotia, a decrease of nine; 238 by New Brunswick, an increase of thirty-eight; 729 by Quebec, an increase of ninety-six; 2,289 by Ontario, an increase of 228; 1,583 by Manitoba, an increase of 17; 1,023 by Saskatchewan, a decrease of 224; 910 by Alberta, an increase of 126; 1,156 by British Columbia, an increase of 152.

He told elaborately of his own success, and then ended: "What you have to do now is to talk a little bit more about yourself and the things you do. Just then a subtitle was flashed on the screen and everyone around the two men laughed heartily. It read: "A whale never gets into trouble till he begins to blow."—Indianapolis News.

REPORTS FROM EMPLOYERS

Word to Employment Service of Canada

Substantial Increase in Volume During Week Ended September 20, But Little Change in Maritime Provinces in Week

Reports from employers to the dominion headquarters of the Employment Service of Canada, Department of Labor, indicate that, apart from unemployment due to strikes there was a further substantial increase in the volume of employment during the week ended September 20.

The returns for that week show that 4,818 firms reported to the Employment Service of Canada, of which 824 were in the maritime provinces, 1972 in Ontario, 98 in Quebec, 698 in the prairie provinces and 426 in British Columbia. These firms reported a pay-roll of 682,202 persons during the week ended Sept. 20, as compared with a pay-roll of 682,551 during the week ended Sept. 13, an increase of 350 persons, or 0.5 per cent. An increase of 2,102 persons, or 0.3 per cent was anticipated for the week ending Sept. 27th.

Reports for the week ended Sept. 13 showed that 4,650 firms with 594,606 persons on pay-roll reported to the service, which firms showed an increase of 3,100 persons, or 0.5 per cent. These firms anticipated an increase of 3 per cent during the week ending Sept. 20th, which the actual figures for the week show to have been more than realized.

The plus industries—those that registered net increases in the number of persons employed, with their respective percentage increases: Building and construction, 8.1 per cent; commercial and mercantile, 8 per cent; clay, glass and stone, 5 per cent; chemicals, 1.9 per cent; leather and leather products, 5 per cent; metals, 3 per cent; pulp paper and printing, 3 per cent; textiles, 1.9 per cent; vehicles, 3 per cent; woodworking, 1 per cent; quarrying and mining, 2.7 per cent; railway construction, per cent; and railway operations, 2 per cent. Food, drink and tobacco registered very little change. Quarrying and mining with an actual increase of 984 persons, made the greatest gain, while metals, textiles and building and construction made substantial numerical increases as well. With the exception of vehicles and food, drink and tobacco all groups anticipated further increases to their staffs during the week ended Sept. 27. Vehicles anticipated a decrease of 4 per cent.

The only minus groups—those that registered net decreases in the number of persons employed during the week ending Sept. 20, with their percentage decreases, were: Lumbering, 6 per cent; and miscellaneous, 7 per cent. These groups have been showing weakness during the week ended Sept. 27. Vehicles anticipated a decrease of 4 per cent.

An anticipated increase of 1.7 per cent in lumbering more than compensated for the decrease in that group during the week in question.

Summarizing the returns by districts, the maritime provinces show very little change in the number of persons employed, a nominal increase of 1 person only being registered. An increase of 2 per cent was anticipated during the week ended Sept. 27. Slight increases were registered in building and construction, chemicals, food, drink and tobacco, leather and leather products, metals, woodworking, quarrying and mining and railway operations, while vehicles, textiles, lumbering, commercial and mercantile, and clay, glass and stone registered decreases.

Ontario firms reported an increase of 4 per cent during the week ended Sept. 20, and anticipated an increase of 6 per cent for the following week. With the exception of lumbering, leather and leather products, textiles, building and construction, railway operation and miscellaneous, all groups reported substantial increases. The decreases in the groups mentioned were not great. The increases for the week ending Sept. 27th were expected in practically all groups.

Quebec firms alone reported an increase of 3 per cent for the week ended Sept. 20, and anticipated an increase of 2 per cent for the week ended Sept. 27. Vehicles with an increase of 2.6 per cent registered the greatest gain, while metals, chemicals, textiles, building and construction, leather and leather goods, pulp paper and printing and woodworking registered substantial increases as well. Decreases were registered in commercial and mercantile; lumbering, clay, glass and stone, and quarrying and mining. Nominal changes only were reported in railway construction, food, drink and tobacco, railway operation and miscellaneous.

Reports from the prairie provinces show an increase of 2 per cent to have taken place during the week ended Sept. 20th and a further increase of 3 per cent to have been anticipated for the week ending Sept. 27th. Quarrying and mining shows a further increase of 6.1 per cent in the number of persons on pay-roll, this group having shown strong tendencies during the past six weeks. Railway operation with an increase of 1.7 per cent and commercial and mercantile with an increase of 1.4 per cent made the only other appreciable gains. Decreases in food, drink and tobacco, metals, pulp paper and printing, vehicles and railway construction were noticeable while other changes were nominal only.

British Columbia firms reported an increase of 3 per cent for the week ended Sept. 20th, and an anticipated increase of 5 per cent for the week ending Sept. 27th. Quarrying and mining with an increase of 6.6 per cent made by far the greatest gain while railway construction with an increase of 18.4 per cent made the next most substantial numerical increase. A further decrease of 2.9 per cent was registered in vehicles, while other groups reported minor changes, being anticipated an increase of 2.5 per cent during the week ending Sept. 27th and vehicles a further decrease of 5.2 per cent.

New York, Oct. 9.—A woman was held in $5,000 bail in the Jefferson Market court on the charge that she had attempted to hold up a pedestrian with a pistol in front of the Hotel Chelsea in West Twenty-third street on Saturday night.

The complainant was a man hardly five feet tall, who described himself as Herbert Boyd, residing clerk in a commission house at 281 Washington street.

As the woman started away Boyd shouted "Murder," attracting the attention of Policeman John J. Kearns of the West Twentieth street station.

The woman pleaded not guilty, as did her companions, but the magistrate held them in $5,000 bail each for examination on Thursday.

HOUSE TO ADJOURN TILL NEXT TUESDAY

Wheat and Butter Discussed in Commons—Oleomargarine is Allowed.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The time of parliament today was wholly taken up with those two great food staples, wheat and butter. In the afternoon Sir George E. Foster gave a very long but interesting speech on the grain situation in connection with the second reading of his bill respecting the Canadian Wheat Board.

In the evening discussion reverted to the oleomargarine bill and again very strenuous opposition developed from the farmers' members led by Messrs. Sutherland and Clark. This was too much for Michael Clarke, who perhaps he was spurred on by a note from the gallery to himself and Mr. Cresser, calling attention to the cross benches and to the fact that the principle of free trade was a stake.

Mr. Clarke arose and made a strong speech in favor of the bill, as one which no free trader could fail to support and was followed by Mr. Cresser in the same strain, who suggested that proper care should be taken to see that oleomargarine was properly marked as such.

Mr. Glass moved an amendment that the bill be given the three months' heat but the motion carried.

The house adjourned at 11 o'clock. Parliament has abandoned all idea of finishing business this week. It has been decided to adjourn on Friday until over Thanksgiving Day, and to proceed with business on Tuesday next.

"I'm going to take the bull by the horns and get busy and do things—tomorrow."

"I've fooled around all day, and yesterday, too, and the day before, but things are going to change—tomorrow."

"I've had an idea for some time that this or that would be a cracking good thing, and I'm going to try it out—tomorrow."

"I need a better and more attractive display for the goods in my store, and I'm going to take that question up in earnest—tomorrow."

"I've felt for a long time that this store needed brightening up, needed ginger, and I'm going to do it for all its worth—tomorrow."

"I've been losing business or standing still, for I'll be darned if I know how long, but you watch my store—tomorrow."

"I've been getting a lazy, no-account example around this store, I set like a hookworm and talk like a clam; I'm going to get a face on me like an affidavit, and every clerk in the place looks like his last friend was dead, but you watch me—tomorrow."

"I haven't shown myself much of a manager. I haven't kept up my lines. I haven't felt there was much call for goods and I haven't believed hereof in getting in the line, but you watch me begin to get ready to start to commence to prepare to undertake to study to decide to finally get a move on—tomorrow."

"But not today. Lord, no! Not today."

Queer "Customers" of the Credit Man

Few positions in retail stores offer more opportunity for a study of human nature and close range than does that of the credit man.

All the vicissitudes of life seem to pass in a kaleidoscopic review before him when people of every station daily approach him for aid in solving their myriad pressing problems.

The extension of credit rests on the principle that 99 per cent of the people are proverbially honest, after all.

"See said the manager of a prominent retail institution in discussing this troublesome feature of a merchant's life, 'I've seen, of course, modern safeguards—such as reports from mercantile agencies, private information and other things—but the statement that any of all these credit ratings make the granting of credit a surety is far from being correct."

"My experience has taught me that the extending of credit may be likened to a sixth sense in business; for if I were to ask how I protect this vast business from losses, I would really be unable to tell. There is one thing which I have found it pays to insist upon in granting credit to small accounts, and that is that a bill must be three-quarters paid before another is undertaken. I have found that when person acts in good faith along these lines, further extension of credit is advised."

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa.—"I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now I am as well as I ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did."

—Mrs. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

people in all walks of life. If a person is rated as a good risk for say, $50, and you trust him for three times that amount, it is almost certain you will lose the money and the customer at the same time, for the patron becomes hopelessly involved and much annoyance results therefrom.

"Therefore if you would keep your credit claims out of court, keep your purchases within reason. Do not depend too much on 'tips.' Rather use your own judgment, size up the applicant, watch how bills of small amount are paid, and if you have some good, common-sense rules to follow in extending credit—without which no business can thrive or prosper."

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try lying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

ASK YOURSELF

Are you logical in your use of medicine? When your stomach is ailing you take something that reaches the stomach, but when the trouble is in your lungs or breathing passages, do you take something that gets there direct? This is where so many people make a mistake. They swallow remedies into the stomach in a vain attempt to cure an ailment which is of the lungs! Then they wonder why they receive no benefit.

For ailments of the lungs and breathing passages the logical treatment is the use of a remedy that is breathable and therefore capable of reaching the lungs directly.

Peps is that kind of remedy—a breathable remedy in tablet form. When Peps are dissolved in the mouth medicinal vapor is released and breathed to all parts of the bronchial tubes and the minute air cells of the lungs, soothing the inflammation and consequent irritation, healing the sore places and ending the cough.

Next time you are troubled with a cough, sore throat, bronchitis or laryngitis, take Peps and prove for yourself the superiority of the direct treatment. All dealers 60c.

Y. M. C. A. CLASSES NOW ALL STARTED

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening and transacted a great deal of business. The president, G. L. Warwick, was in the chair and there was a full attendance of directors. After the reading of minutes a report of a commission on reconstruction was read and passed. It urged closer relation and co-operation with the church, particularly in boys' work. The financial budget for the year was presented, discussed and adopted with a few alterations.

The general secretary's report stated that T. C. Armour, physical director, had succeeded in getting all his classes started. Repairs had been made to the gymnasium apparatus and other equipment had been installed.

He reported that more than 100 boys had been examined for classes by local physicians, who expressed their willingness of carrying out the same work for any of the seniors who desired it. The classes had been started on September 29 and were increasing rapidly. The bowling alleys had been put in a good state of repair and were being largely patronized.

F. I. Woodworth, new boys' secretary, had taken hold of his work and was getting along well with it. He has arranged for a meeting of all Sunday school superintendents who are interested in boys' work for next Tuesday. The boys' work in the building had been taken over by Basil Robertson.

The dormitory rooms were all filled and had been cleaned and painted. The plumbers had almost completed their work of retubing the hot water boiler used in connection with the swimming tank, replacing it with a steam system and an additional tube heater was installed to keep the water in the tank at a more even temperature.

It was also reported that the Bible class under the direction of Rev. R. P. McKim had been commenced and it was expected that other classes would be begun in the near future. The general secretary forecasted a very successful season.

NEED HOME FOR FEEBLE MINDED

The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held last night in the children's home, 68 Garden street, with Mrs. David McLellan in the chair. Among other matters the pressing need of a provincial home for the feeble-minded was discussed and a committee will be appointed to secure information and present a memorial to the government on the matter. The monthly report of the agent, Rev. George Scott, contained the following statistics of work done: Visits made, 50; letters and post cards sent, 36; people called, at house, 14; telephone calls, 21.

One little girl, 10 years old was taken to the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Diseases by Miss Ross, the police matron. Two children were taken out of our home by their father he having found a home for them. Another Kings county case was brought to the attention of the agent during the month, in which un-

LIST OF GIFTS THAT WILSON RECEIVED WHILE IN EUROPE

Acting upon the express direction of the President and Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty has made public a statement containing an itemized list of presents received by them while in Europe. Mr. Tumulty's statement follows:—

"While on his western trip the president's attention was called to the resolution of Representative Houshens, of Illinois, and the statements of Senators Penrose and Sherman in regard to gifts received by the President and Mrs. Wilson, while they were in Europe.

"Senator Sherman indicated the basis of the various stories touching this matter when he said that 'cloak room gossip' laid the values of these gifts at half a million dollars. Senator Penrose said he had been informed that the presidential party 'brought back to this country presents from crowned heads and foreign governments amounting to several million dollars'.

"Here are the facts:—

"Outside of a considerable number of small gifts, such as books, walking sticks, an old silver dish found in the ruins of Louvain, war souvenirs made by soldiers or out of war material and numerous medals sent to him in his honor, the following are the only important gifts received by the president in Europe:—

In England.
Photograph of the King and Queen of England.
A book relating to Windsor Castle. The freedom of the city of London, presented in a gold casket by the Lord Mayor at Guildhall.

In Italy.
A water color picture, on bronze easel, presented by the Queen of Italy.
A bronze figure presented at the capitol of Rome (a gift from the people).
A figure of "Italia Victoria" sent to the train at Genoa, either by a school or by the citizens of Genoa.
A set of books from the citizens of Genoa.
A mosaic presented by the Pope.

In France.
A bronze figure presented by a body of students.
The president also received numerous honorary degrees from all the countries of Europe, and many resolutions of respect and gratitude.

"Allowing that there is a constitutional inhibition against the president receiving gifts from foreign rulers or states, the president, after consulting the secretary of state, was preparing a list of the presents he intended to ask the permission of congress to retain just before he started on his western trip.

"In addition to the gifts received by the president, the following tokens were presented to Mrs. Wilson while she was in Europe:—

In France.
A pin of Parisian enamel with tiny diamond chips, presented in Hotel de Ville by the City of Paris.
Linen hand-embroidered lunch set fortunately nothing could be done. A home for the little baby girl who was found in the vestibule of No. 1, Coburg street, was advertised for but unfortunately it never recovered from the effects of the drug which had been given and died yesterday.

DOCTOR PRAISES ZAM-BUK

"For sixteen years," writes Dr. A. P. Shibley of Washington, D.C., "I have used Zam-Buk in my practice, and am convinced that there is nothing to compare with it for skin troubles, from roughness and irritation to chronic skin diseases. Zam-Buk, without a doubt, has wonderful curative properties, and when I have occasion to recommend a balm to my patients, I always recommend Zam-Buk. I have found the results from its use to be perfectly satisfactory."

Members of the medical profession are noted for their caution in recommending a remedy—only doing so when they have absolute confidence in it. The fact that Zam-Buk is so highly recommended by doctors the world over, and that in Dr. Shibley's experience it has stood the test of sixteen years' constant use, puts it, undeniably, in a class by itself.

In the home, in the office, shop and factory, on the farm and when travelling, Zam-Buk should be kept always handy. It is indispensable for all sores, eczema, boils, ulcers, blood-poisoning and piles, as well as for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds. All dealers 50c. box.

TALENTED LECTURER SPEAKS ON IRISH POET, A HERO IN WAR

Miss Katherine Greany Greatly Pleases Large Audience With Story of Francis Ledwidge

The story of an Irish soldier-poet, Francis Ledwidge, who gave his life in Flanders at the age of twenty-six years, was told in charming and fascinating manner last evening in the St. Vincent's auditorium by Miss Katherine Greany. It was her first public appearance as a lecturer and she made a most pleasing impression upon an audience which almost filled the handsome new theatre in Cliff Street.

Miss Greany, who is a native of the Catholic Girls' Guild, whose president, Miss Marie Dolan, occupied the chair and expressed the appreciation of those assembled for the educational and pleasing discourse, following a vote of thanks moved by M. E. Agar and seconded by Mrs. D. P. Chisholm. Music by the Misses Lynch and Hogan and two solos by Mrs. Kathleen Furlong Schmidt were additional features well received.

A great many in the audience had never known the name of the life of the young Irish poet until last evening. But those with a fondness for Irish poetry came away resolved to know more of him and of his works, because of the interest aroused in his writings and life in the lecture by Miss Greany. She described his love for simple things, his passion for life away from the turmoil in the cities, told how he gloried in the peasant life and of his contentment in that sphere with no ambition to rise above it. He had been thrilled with love for his native land and continually sang of her beauties.

Through Lord Dunstaney the young poet first secured publication of his poems, the last collection of which were entitled "Songs of Peace," though they were written amid the stirring scenes of war.

Francis Ledwidge had been a peasant, a miner, a grocery clerk, and finally a soldier, a lance-corporal in the Royal English Fusiliers. He saw service on many battle-fronts. He was killed in Gallipoli and finally in Flanders where he met his death in action in July, 1917. He had then served in the king's uniform for three years. It was strange, Miss Greany said, that the different spheres of war, amid the desolation and ruin which surrounded him, Ledwidge could not see. He was in the heart of the horror and sorrow he poured out his lyrics in the quietude of his home.

NAME JUNE 24 AS DATE FOR CUP RACE

Lipton Challenge Specifies Two-Day Interval Between Events For Yacht Classic

London, Oct. 9.—The first race in the 1920 series for the America's Cup will place June 24, 1920, if the challenge submitted by Sir Thomas Lipton is accepted. The challenge specifies that the first race should take place upon that date and the others at intervals of two days.

Charles D. Nicholson, Southampton, designer of Shamrock IV, who is considered England's foremost producer of racing yachts, is now in America to see about refitting Shamrock IV, now in dry dock in Brooklyn.

Mr. Nicholson has called to Sir Thomas Lipton that the Shamrock, which has been carefully stored in dry-dock in Erie Basin since her belated arrival in America during the war, is in perfect condition.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 6.—Frank Kramer, who has been riding in a sensational manner for the last month or more, not losing a race, was finally stopped at the Velodrome here on Sunday, when Arthur Spencer's Toronto star, defeated him in two out of three heats of a one-mile match race. Kramer has been riding so good that he probably went state. He won the first heat of the match by riding around Spencer on the last lap and nipping him at the line by inches. It was a great victory and the fans gave the veteran a hearty ovation.

Kramer did not switch his tactics a bit, however, and tried to ride around Spencer again in the second and third heats, but failed each time, being about six inches in the rear in the second heat and half a length back in the third. Kramer did not sprint in either of these heats until the last half lap was reached, and this is just the sort of race Spencer likes, etc. where all the going is in the last half lap. A great many thought that Kramer had been Spencer for a full hard lap in the last heat he would have had the decision.

"Of course, I don't know, began the sarcastic boarder, but it strikes me this chicken."

"Now, what's the matter with the chicken?" interrupted the landlady.

"O, nothing," answered the boarder. "Only it is evidently the offspring of a hard-boiled egg."

SYNOD URGES $1,000 MINIMUM FOR TEACHERS

Fredericton, Oct. 9.—A resolution in favor of a minimum salary of $1,000 for school teachers was adopted by the Presbyterian synod today. The resolution first applied to all the maritime provinces but was amended to exclude P. E. Island at the request of delegates from that province.

When the report of the committee on religious education was presented, Rev. Dr. Robertson gave a lengthy address upon the forward movement particularly emphasizing the suggestion that the committee on Sunday schools and young people's societies be placed in the hands of the synod for the common work to be done. Rev. R. W. Ross also spoke on the forward movement.

When the synod resumed this afternoon, Rev. John McIntosh, of Sydney, discussed the question of marriage between Protestants and Roman Catholics laying particular stress upon the necessity of a Roman Catholic opinion or a second marriage by a Catholic priest if the ceremony is performed by a Protestant clergyman. The reason advanced by Catholic church for such second marriage, he claimed, was a violation of the laws of the church.

Discussion on the sections of the social service report relating to prohibition being continued, Rev. J. H. McLean, declared that the decision of Quebec regarding the sale of beer and wines should not influence the other provinces. He believed all other provinces favored prohibition. The United States asked before there was any expression of opinion by the several states. The synod should favor total prohibition for Canada and not put on kid gloves before speaking to the law-makers either.

The sections were adopted. The public education committee which recommended a minimum annual salary of $1,000 for public school teachers, Dr. Thomas Fullerton of Charlottetown, said the action taken by the teachers of Prince Edward Island was in the least interest of education. The minimum asked there, however, was $400, not $1,000 which he considered too great as conditions differed in various parts of the three provinces.

Rev. J. A. Nicholson favored the $1,000 minimum which, he said, would induce many former teachers to re-enter the profession. The section was amended by making it not apply to Prince Edward Island and was passed.

The same was done with the section relating to the abolition of lotteries whether conducted by churches or not.

Rev. Dr. Robertson was heard in connection with the report on religious education which required the value of the Presbyterian Widdess. He dealt in particular with the recommendation regarding the law-makers either.

Mr. Hirsch will consult with District Attorney Swann next Monday morning. "In my opinion, crimes have been committed, and if so those guilty will be brought to justice," Mr. Hirsch said, in commenting upon the matter. "Bolshevism, unrest and anarchy are increasing rapidly because of the activities of these so-called anti-religious societies, and a stop must be put to their work."

"All the tenant gets by joining one of these organizations is loss of money and trouble. Some of them are already beginning to realize this, and it was largely through their complaints that our attention was called to the existing conditions. None of these conditions are warranted, as the committee is fully able to handle any complaints, which distressing tenants may make."

“CAVE OF THE WINDS” THRILLS ROYAL PAIR

The King and Queen of the Belgians and their son, the Duke of Brabant, were enthralled by the magnificent cataract of Niagara. They overstayed by two hours, the time allotted for their visit there, and even then were reluctant to leave. "Marvelous!" exclaimed Queen Elizabeth at each new wonder. The King was wearing the Falls for the second time, but was evidently happy at the opportunity to show them to his wife.

The royal party saw all there was to see, and saw it thoroughly. To gain a more comprehensive view of the American side they crossed over into Canada for half an hour as the guests of the Dominion Government.

As a courtesy to the Canadians, the American officers attached to the Belgium stopped in the middle of the International Bridge where the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack wave side by side. They declined the invitation to cross into Ontario, so that the Reception Committee, headed by N. W. Rowell, President of the Party, Council and Secretary of State for External Affairs, might devote all their attention to their Majesties. With Mr. Rowell were Sir Joseph Pope, Assistant Secretary; Major Gen. Elmsey, Commander of the Military District; Brig. Gen. Hill, and Brig. Gen. Mitchell.

When the royal party returned to the middle of the bridge, officers in American, Belgian, and Canadian uniforms, all veterans of the great war, saluted gravely and shook hands warmly in parting.

Exploring the "Cave of the Winds" was probably the most thrilling experience Her Majesty had had since she left the safe lines. It was an event not on the program and was the subject of an animated discussion at the breakfast table as the royal special neared Buffalo.

"I am going," the King announced. The Queen declared that if his Majesty went she would, and Prince Leopold announced an emphatic determination not to be left behind. They donned oil skins, but the king wore brown overalls, as there were no snow trousers long enough for him. When he was dressed the attendant who was helping him announced "All right, King, you're ready," and His Majesty smiled.

Once into the cave the king stalked ahead tramping through pools of cold water without noticing them. Gusts of wind blew showers of spray into the faces of everyone in the party and the roar of the cataract over their heads was deafening. The queen was guided by H. D. Wight, and when the trip was over he exclaimed admiringly: "She's

P. L. HIGGINS IS NEW PRESIDENT OF THE R. M. A.

Moncton, N.B., Oct. 9.—The work of the Dominion Board of Commerce, which is conducting an inquiry into the high cost of living, was pronounced unsatisfactory by the New Brunswick branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada in annual convention here today. The retail merchants believe that the operations of the Board of Commerce will not be carried out satisfactorily until the work of the board is placed under the direction of "competent commercial men."

The concluding session of the convention was held this afternoon, when stirring speeches were given by J. A. Beaudin, Dominion president, and others. A resolution was passed favoring Thanksgiving Day as a permanent day for the celebrating of peace and that Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day be observed on Monday. The convention recommended that a special committee be appointed to gather full information concerning the advisability of a fire insurance department, similar to that now in operation by the Saskatchewan provincial board.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of Percy L. Higgins, of Moncton as president; F. W. Daniel, St. John, vice-president; W. G. DeWolfe, St. Stephen, second vice-president; A. A. McIntyre, St. John, treasurer; and H. W. Rising, provincial auditor. A. O. Skinner was made an honorary president of The New Brunswick association and mem-

INVESTIGATE RENT STRIKE ORGANIZERS

New York Mayor's Committee Sees Soviet Tactics and Will Start John Doe Proceedings—Hylan Suggests Action

(New York Times.)

In an effort to put an end to the activities of organizations which have been engaged in instigating rent strikes among tenants, regardless of the existence or absence of grievances against the landlord, Nathan Hirsch, chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Rent Protesting, announced yesterday that, in compliance with a letter from Mayor Hylan, John Doe proceedings would be begun immediately to place the facts on record. The committee claims that it has in its possession evidence of a sensational nature which it will place before District Attorney Edward Swann for action.

The committee has for some time been conducting an investigation into the activities of "certain east side organizations which have been operating on Bolshevik and Soviet lines in an effort not only to prevent landlords from legitimately raising rents, but from maintaining the schedule of rents which has been in force during the last year." To cope with this evil, Mayor Hylan suggests action be taken immediately. In the letter which he sent to Mr. Hirsch yesterday he said, in part:

"My attention has at various times been called to the fact that a number of organizations in this city are operating along lines which create dissensions between landlords and tenants, even to the extent of fomenting so-called rent strikes and advising people to damage property. "If any tenant has a grievance, your committee is ready to listen to every complaint, and there is no need for people to organize rent strikes or attempt to take the law in their own hands. "As chairman of the Mayor's committee on Rent Protesting, I wish you would confer immediately with the Hon. Edward S. Swann or any other of the district attorneys in the various counties, to the end that John Doe proceedings may be held publicly, that the facts may be spread on public record, and, if it develops that crime has been committed, the perpetrators shall be properly prosecuted.

Mr. Hirsch had submitted a memorandum to the mayor in which he noted certain facts resulting from the investigation conducted by the committee. The inquiry showed, according to Mr. Hirsch, that a coterie of men had been imposing upon tenants by indiscriminately creating conditions which led to rent strikes.

they content to board their special for Buffalo. The train was stopped at Terrace Station and the party stepped from their car to a landing platform which led to a temporary receiving stand where they were greeted by Mayor Buck and a committee of citizens. Albert responded briefly to the welcoming address, saying that he had come to America to thank the people of the nation for their services to his country.

The queen, who had worn a raincoat and a waterproof hat at the Falls, was gowned in yellow silk, a long brown velvet coat, with furs and hat to match. It was her first formal appearance in America except in white.
