HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH CHARGED WITH DESERTION

W. J. Lemmon Says Wife Left His Bed and Board—She Says He Deserted Her Cruelly In a Strange Land.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

My wife, Lillian M. Lemmon, having left my bed and board without lawful excuse, I do hereby give notice to all persons that I will not be answerable for any debts contracted by her after this date.

W. J. LEMMON.

Above is a notice which appeared in last night's Star but like most stories it has two sides and Mrs. Lemmon herself telephoned to this office last night to tell her side of the story.

Mrs. Lemmon when seen this morning wished to strongly deny the statement which the notice contained and showed papers and letters which she considers will prove to a certainty that she did not leave her husband's "bed and board" but that without a moment's notice he left her penniless in a little town in Maine near the New Brunswick border, in which town they had been residing for a few months and that to get to her friends in St. John she had been forced to sell a cow and a lot of household furniture at a great deal less than their value.

away from friends. After staying two weeks through the kindness of strangers and her husband not having turned up, the deserted wife sought refuge at the home of Mr. Riley, where she has been ever since.

The two children she left with her husband's mother, Mrs. Lemmon Albert street, North End, thinking that as the mother got letters and money from the missing man she should support the children.

Mrs. Lemmon was broken-hearted about the way her affairs had become entangled, but hoped that things might come out for the best. The climax was reached however when a few days ago Mr. Lemmon, coming to the city, took the little boy from his mother and having inserted the above notice in this paper, left the city. The little girl is still at Mr. Lemmon's mother's home but Mrs. Lemmon has been taken to her husband's sister, Mrs. Gray, of Petticoat, where he is working on a farm. The little boy is only seven years of age.

WELL KNOWN WRESTLERS COMING TO ST. JOHN.

The recent boxing exhibitions in this city have evidently attracted outside attention and as a result a number of St. John will be given an opportunity to pass judgment on a sport new to this city, but one that is very popular in all the large cities of the world, namely, wrestling.

William Coleman, a manager who has handled some of the best boxers and wrestlers in America, arrived in the city today from Montreal to make arrangements for the appearance here on the 18th of this month of Maupas, the celebrated French-Canadian wrestler, who is considered one of the most scientific men in the business. Maupas will be opposed here by either Kublik, the great Assonet wrestler, or Patie Hedger, celebrated German athlete. The bout will be for the best two out of three falls, and Mr. Coleman is in hopes that the sport will please. If it does he will bring other noted wrestlers here from time to time.

Mr. Coleman says he would like to match Beausy, the crack Canadian welterweight against McLeod. Beausy boxes at about 145 pounds. While here he will look into the local situation and believes from what he has heard that there is a good opening here for first-class sport.

Mr. Coleman will arrange in a day or so for Halifax to leave for an exhibition there.

SHOOTING AFFRAY MAY END FATALLY.

GRAND FALLS, Oct. 4.—A shooting affray that promises to have a fatal termination occurred on Monday night in the parish of Drummond.

Chas. Cole was entertained at a number of friends with card games with apples for stakes when his son and one Joseph Chamberlain had a dispute. Young Cole is said to have followed Chamberlain and his sister home, and upon being refused admittance the son had fired a shot through the closed door, the contents lodging in Chamberlain's groin. Two physicians are attending the injured man, whose recovery is doubtful.

When asked about being charged with assault by James Brennan, Chief of Police Clark said this morning to the Star that last Saturday the Chamberlain had requested the presence of a policeman, so great was the disorder of persons wishing to pay their taxes. A policeman was put on duty in the chamberlain's office, and it was relieved.

SCHOONER SUES TUG

Before His Honor Judge McLeod, in the admiralty court this morning, the case came up of the owners of the schooner Malabar, which was wrecked near Musquash on the 22nd of August, against the tug Lily, which had the schooner in tow at the time of the disaster. The plaintiffs, John Read & Co., of Summerside, P. E. I., claim that there was carelessness on the part of the captain of the tug, who did not go down the channel of the Musquash River as Captain Read of the schooner recommended, and as a result the schooner was wrecked and so badly damaged that when brought to the city she was sold for $20, when she had been valued at $2,000. At the time of the disaster the boat was loaded with 48,000 laths. This morning Captain Read was examined. Weldon & Lean for the plaintiffs and C. J. Coster for the defendant.

THE CHIEF AND JAMES BRENNAN

When asked about being charged with assault by James Brennan, Chief of Police Clark said this morning to the Star that last Saturday the Chamberlain had requested the presence of a policeman, so great was the disorder of persons wishing to pay their taxes. A policeman was put on duty in the chamberlain's office, and it was relieved.

FOTIS STORIS, WHAT WILL BE HIS FATE?

He Must Leave the County Jail Soon.

Asylum and Almshouse Refuse Him Admission and the Magistrate Washes His Hands of the Case.

What will now become of Fotis Storis, the insane Greek boot-black? The last chance of having his own and the public's safety looked after has been decided on by the provincial government members who met yesterday and refused him admission to the provincial asylum.

The insane Greek has for some time past been an inmate of the jail only through the kindness of Sheriff Ritchie, who, on finding that the man had been refused admittance to the Alms House, took him from the police station cell and gave him a place of abode in the jail, where he could be better cared for. When the sheriff performed this act of charity it was thought that at the meeting of the government the man Storis would probably be taken to the provincial Lunatic Asylum, but as the case now stands the poor fellow is on the hands of the sheriff until such time that he will send him away from the jail to wander about the street, a dangerous character, not only to himself, but to the citizens.

Chief Clark said this morning that should the Greek be sent away from the jail and been roaming about the streets he would undoubtedly be taken in by an officer on the charge of vagrancy, the charge he was last arrested on. Magistrate Ritchie was asked this morning what he would do about the case should the man be re-arrested on the same charge, and he said he did not know just what would be done, but that he was all through with the case. He had sentenced the man to a term in the Alms House for vagrancy, and that ended his participation in the affair.

Sheriff Ritchie is not in the city, being on an official duty, and being his return the demented Greek will have peaceful quarters in one of the newest cells under the care of the county jailors. Gus Mentis, the Mill street boot-black, says a Star reporter this morning, and after reading the account of the government meeting in the Sun, said this was not a Christian government, or it would put Storis in the Provincial Hospital for a time and try and cure him. Continuing Mentis said: "Christian Bibles says, 'No man kill himself, or kill any other person.' By allowing Storis liberty he will kill himself, or me, or any person. It would be better for police or someone to throw Fotis in a river than allow him liberty."

Mentis said that yesterday he took clean, new underwear to the jail and offered it to Storis for a change. It was refused, and Storis said he wanted a pistol or something, so he could kill himself. The Mill street boot-black then asked the reporter to find out what he was to do if Storis was allowed to go free on the street, being in such a dangerous frame of mind. Mentis said he was afraid of his own life, and that he wished to have Storis ought to get home some time to see his wife and child in Greece. He called on Attorney General Pugsley this morning, but was told by that official that nothing could be done for Storis.

Mentis said he received a letter last night from Storis' brother-in-law, Nicki Gianopoulos, of 200 Washington street, Boston, Mass. Gianopoulos said that he would come to St. John and get his brother-in-law and take him to Greece if the United States immigration officers would permit. This offer might be accepted by the U. S. officers, and if St. John will get clear of the case which has been on its hands since June.

With Attorney General Pugsley, Gus Mentis attempted to have another interview with Attorney General Pugsley at noon, but Mr. Pugsley was busy and refused them admittance.

At present it looks as if the demented Greek will be discharged from jail, where he is only being kept through the kindness of the sheriff, and if he does not commit suicide will be re-arrested by the police, and as the magistrates through with the case and the Alms House commissioners refuse him admittance, he will receive his often repeated wish, "Let me die here," viz. in a cell in the police station.

OLD RAILWAY MAN RETIRES

Wm. Watters, a section foreman on the Westfield district of the C. P. R., arrived in the city this morning and is going on a visit to Boston. On the first of the present month Mr. Watters retired from the service after being a faithful servant in the railway employ for the past twenty-five years.

"It was when the European and North American Railway broke ground that I went to work on that district," said Mr. Watters, "and I have seen many hard days' work and many changes since then."

"The St. John and Maine was the next name on the card," said the old section boss, "then the New Brunswick Railway and now the C. P. R. There is talk of giving me a superannuation and if it is coming I would indeed be pleased to receive it."

The old gentleman very well known by the boys on the road and looks almost as hearty as the first day he laid his rail and drove a spike. When the latter that the chief went on duty, Brennan wished to take the place of other citizens in the line of retirement, and it was when he was kept in his proper place that he made an outcry, called names and made such a disorder that the chamberlain called for order. The chief is not worrying much over the charge made against him.

Life's Expense—Other Sensational Evidence in Insurance Enquiry.

PRESIDENT JOHN A. McCALL, OF NEW YORK LIFE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—That John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., borrowed $50,000 from the New York Life Insurance Co. at 11-1/2 per cent. interest, a rate below the market rate, was brought out in the insurance investigation last week, but today President John A. McCall of the N. Y. Life Insurance Co. testified that he in turn borrowed $15,000 from the Metropolitan at the same rate. This was in January, 1903; the loan was renewed in January, 1904, and ran until March, 1905, when the rate of interest was advanced to 2 per cent., at which rate it is still running.

Mr. McCall testified that he was a director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., but not a stockholder. The fact of his being a director, McCall said, did not deter him from procuring a loan at as low a rate of interest as possible when it was to his interest to do so.

WITNESSES SWEAR COLE WAS WITH STEEVES THE DAY OF THE MURDER

(Special to the Star.)

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 5.—At yesterday afternoon's session of the Cole murder trial evidence was received from the doctors who performed the autopsy and from residents at Falmouth, who identified Cole as the man seen with Steeves the day of the murder. This morning's session was devoted to a further identification of the prisoner as one of the men seen in Falmouth on the day of the murder. As in yesterday afternoon's hearing, several residents of Falmouth were called, all of whom testified positively that Cole was one of the two men they had seen that day near the spot where Steeves was afterwards found.

A new branch of evidence was begun later in the morning, when Hardard Stewart, a friend of the two men who were put on the stand, and testified that he had met them together in Portland on the morning of April 19th, and they were on good terms, that he had asked Steeves if he had a job yet and that Steeves replied that he had had one but had got through and that his money was running low and he would have to get home soon if he did not get work.

An interesting feature was the first identification of the stick produced in court with which the state claims the blow was struck that stunned and perhaps killed Steeves.

"TREASURE TRAIN" NEARLY IN RIVER. Locomotive and One Car Hang Over Bank of the Thames in New London for Four Hours.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 4.—When the "million dollar treasure train" in railroad circles known as the Adams Express, came thundering into New London at ten minutes after three o'clock this morning, from Euston, the locomotive and one car left the rails just as the train was about to pass over the Thames River bridge. Both hung suspended over the bank for four hours, until a wrecker arrived from New Haven. The engine driver says he did not see the signals set against him.

Officials of the Consolidated Railroad have started a thorough investigation of the wreck, as the "treasure train" cargo is more valuable than that of any other train between Boston and New York.

DENMAN THOMPSON'S GREAT DRAMATIC TREAT. Next Monday evening brings to the Opera House Denman Thompson's splendid stage story and picture of rural and city life entitled "The Two Sisters." The scenes of the "Two Sisters" have been carefully copied from the very places on which they are based. In act one there is a representation of a New York hotel office with its busy action. Act two is a splendid copy of a favorite part of Central Park. The third act shows a thrilling study of the "roof tops" of New York.

Canada is to read that Fort McPherson is nearly five thousand miles distant from Ottawa, and is farther from the north than New Orleans is from New York.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 5, 1905.

A WARNING TO ST. JOHN.

The frank admission made yesterday by Mr. Young, of the Grand Trunk Pacific commission, that in spite of the conditions under which the New transcontinental is being built, the bulk of the western export traffic will go to American ports, is dangerously confounding to the fears expressed by this paper since the project was first mooted in parliament.

True, Mr. Young's statement was only made with reference to the summer grain traffic, which he declared would go by the Buffalo route, but the fact that a member of the commission, who is to construct a line to be handed over to a company with the agreement that it is to be used to develop Canadian ports—the fact that a man with such authoritative knowledge would admit that this agreement can be openly evaded, is shattering the foundation upon which maritime ports have chieflly built their hopes of handling the new traffic.

For it has always been obvious that it would be to the advantage of the G. T. P. Company to divert traffic from this and all other Canadian Atlantic ports. Not only is St. John, which is nearer to the source of supply than any other suitable maritime port, considerably farther away than Portland, but the company has still further inducements to use the latter in the fact that they have already a line leading there and extensive facilities already provided. Against this, those who made the deal, and their supporters have maintained that the contract between the company and the government was so framed as to force the company to use Canadian channels and Canadian ports and to prevent them absolutely from diverting the traffic in the direction most profitable to them.

But Mr. Young, who from his residence in the west, should know what the western shippers want to do, and from his intimate information as railway commissioner is in a position to know what they will be able to do, smashes this claim and decides unmistakably that the traffic will go by the cheapest route, which, during the summer at any rate, will be the American route, regardless of all agreements and contracts to the contrary.

THE ALTERNATE ROUTE.

The declaration of the G. T. P. commissioners that the choice of the route through New Brunswick must be left to the engineers should be satisfactory to all. In the construction of a road of such vast extent general interests must be considered before local desires and in this case the whole usefulness of the eastern section depends upon its shortness and the ease of its grades and curves.

But the intention of the commissioners that they intend to order another survey is encouraging to those who favor the route down the St. John River valley. It is certain, that had not the energetic men of Carleton and York counties brought the advantages of that alternative before the commission, the central route would have been selected upon the evidence on hand, now admittedly insufficient. The engineers undoubtedly entered upon their work predisposed in favor of the cross-country line and that the data furnished concerning the other were meagre and carelessly gathered is evident from the necessity of a second survey, the results of which will be awaited with great interest.

Reports from authoritative sources indicate that Hon. C. H. Lablouis is practically certain of one of the vacant senatorships and that Hon. Abner McLellan has the best financial claims on the other. Apparently Mr. Emmerson thinks Mr. McKenna has not yet done enough work for the party to entitle him to so rich a reward.

OCTOBER.

Now hath the summer reached her golden close, And lo! amid her cornfields, bright of soul, Scarcely perceives from her divine repose How near, how swift, the inevitable goal;

Still, still, she smiles, though from her careless feet The bounty and the fruitful strength are gone, And through the soft, long wondering days goes on The silent, sad decadence, sad and sweet.

Where the tilted earth, with all its fields set free, Naked and yellow from the harvest lies, By many a loft and busy granary The hum and tumult of the thrushes rise; There the tanned farmers labor with till till twilight deepens round the spouting mill, Feeding the loosened sheaves, or with force will pitching vast deep upon the dusty stack.

In far off russet cornfield, where the Gray shocks stand peaked and withering, half concealed In the rough earth, the orange pumpkins lie Full ribbed; and in the windless pasture field The sleek red horses o'er the sun warmed ground Stand patiently about in companies; While all around them from the motionless trees The long, clean shadows sleep without a sound.

Thus without grief the golden days go by, So soft we scarcely notice how they wend, And like a smile half happy, or a sigh, The summer passes far her quiet end; And soon, too soon, around the cumbered ways Sly frost shall take the creepers by surprise, And through the wind-touched red-dening wood shall rise October with the rain of ruined leaves. —Archibald Lampman.

THE MODESTY OF HOKUSAI.

(The Art Journal). Young artists, not gaining distinction early, have had various instances to quote as showing that masterly performance often came late in life. In Dora Amisden's excellent little book on Japanese art, it is set forth that this is what the celebrated Japanese artist, Hokusai, wrote about himself: "From the age of six I had a mania for drawing the forms of things. By the time I was fifty I had published an infinity of designs, but all I have produced before the age of seventy is not worth taking into account. At seventy-five I learned a little about the real structure of nature—of animals, plants and trees, birds, fishes, and insects. In consequence when I am eighty, I shall have made still more progress. At ninety, I shall penetrate the mystery of things; at a hundred I shall certainly have reached a marvellous stage, and when I am a hundred and ten, everything I do—be it but a line or dot—will be alive. I beg those who live as long as I do to see if I do not keep my word." Hokusai died in 1849, at the age of eighty-nine.

TWO VISIONS NEEDED.

(Hartford Courant). The late Bishop Williams, of the Episcopal diocese of Connecticut, was a confirmed bachelor, and had a deep-seated antipathy for becoming entangled in Cupid's net. Once he was visited by a rather erratic maiden lady of his acquaintance, who was also his student admirer. "Well, Bishop," she remarked, after some unimportant preliminary stammering, "I have had a vision from the Lord that you and I are to be married." The Bishop looked at her, overcome with consternation and amazement. "But only for a short time was he at a loss to be replied: "Splendid, splendid. Just as soon as I have had my vision, I will communicate with you."

HIT A GOOD MAN.

(London Tit-Bits). The other day a careless mason dropped a brick from the second story of a building on which he was at work. Learning over the wall and looking down he saw a respectable citizen with his hat jammed over his eyes. The mason in tones of apprehension, asked: "Did the brick hit any one of these?" "Yes, sir, it did; it hit me." "That's right!" exclaimed the mason, in tones of undigested admiration. "I would rather have hit rather have wasted a thousand bricks than have you tell me a lie about it!"

FIELD'S MODEST WANTS.

(New York Times). Rev. Minot J. Savage, on being introduced to speak before a large Boston assembly a short time since, told a story about Eugene Field and vouched for its truth. Field sat down at a table in a New York restaurant, and presently was approached by a voluble waiter, who began to rapidly enumerate the articles on the menu—"Coffee, tea, chocolate, ham'n hash'n-beans," etc. Field looked at him with fixed eye and solemn visage, and said with marked deliberation: "I want none of these things. All I desire is one orange and a few kind words."

ATTRACTIVE PLANS FOR FALL CARNIVAL.

Only four members of the carnival committee attended yesterday's meeting. No business was transacted but it is expected the committee will get together shortly.

The attractions so far in view include a parade of the finest horses and carriages that St. John possesses. For this purpose traffic will be stopped in Charlotte and Rodney streets from Princess to Union. The idea is that the procession will pass around King Square, and will therefore be seen from all sides. As St. John has some stylish turnout, to say nothing of many good horses, the parade should be a splendid one.

A citizens' reception is also suggested this to be held in the Opera House. Another feature is a motor boat race on the harbor.

The committee have under consideration the loop-the-loop attraction, as seen at the Fredericton exhibition; this will probably take place in one of the city rinks. The committee are also in communication with some outside football teams, the intention being to have games here with the Beavers and Neptunes. Other ways of entertaining the visitors are being worked out by the committee, and as the railways, C.P. R. and I. C. R., are to give fine rates there should be a big influx of people.

The programme as outlined will give some idea of the elaborate plans the committee have for entertaining their guests.

SIR FREDERICK DEFENDS HIS MILITIA POLICY.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—A special London cable says: Sir Frederick Borden's article in the United Service Magazine is regarded as his answer to Lord Dunsford's aspersions on the administration of the Canadian militia. He enters upon an elaborate proof of the Canadian government fulfilling its promise to the British ministry of 1902 to relieve the British taxpayers from some of the burdens they now bear. He stoutly contests the assertion, which by the way is the assertion of a purely voluntary militia, that the British ministers, Hon. William Brodie and Hon. Hugh Arnold-Forster, that it is impossible to make a purely voluntary militia effective and efficient. He estimates that the Canadian militia must be supplemented by at least $200,000 before the end of the year.

When the Canadian revenue reaches the $100,000,000 mark Canada will probably spend $5,000,000 annually on the militia, says Sir Frederick. He announces that several artillery and machine gun makers have been inquiring of the Canadian government with a view to establishing works in Canada, and he aims to make Canada independent of British supplies necessary to place the army on a war footing. He makes her militia a self-reliant, self-contained force, the system of the exchange of officers being approved by the only remaining military association with Great Britain.

THE READY AMATEUR ACTOR.

Eugene Cowles saved two women from drowning last month in Lake Memphremagog. In making this rescue, Mr. Cowles braved his arm—lost a rock as he dived in. Pointing to the bruise the other day, the actor said: "When I got that bruise, I felt like a young Chicagoan named Littledale, who played with me in amateur theatricals in my early youth. "Littledale, in one of our shows, had to leap into a river in order to escape from a wild beast. "The stage was so arranged that the river was invisible. Littledale was to leap and disappear, striking a soft matress in the wings, and at the same time a rock was to be dropped in a tub of water to create a splash. "But, though the leap worked all right in rehearsal, on the night of actual performance it went wrong. There was neither matress nor tub then. When poor Littledale jumped, he fell eight feet and landed on an oaken floor with a crash loud enough to wake the herons Littledale, equal to the occasion, silenced them. "The audience, expecting to hear a splash, and hearing instead the thunderous impact of Littledale's bones on the oak set up a titter. But the heroic Littledale, equal to the occasion, silenced them. "Heavens!" he shouted from below, "the water's frozen."

A SCOTCH REBUKE.

A good instance of a double reproof occurred in a Scottish church. A lady named Merryweather was very inattentive during the service, greatly to the annoyance of the minister. His father always composed himself for a nap directly the sermon was well under way, so that the boy could do as he liked without parental reproof. The minister could stand it no longer one Sunday, so he stopped suddenly in his sermon, and said: "John Merryweather, if you continue to act in such an unseemly manner during divine worship I shall tell your father. He would tell him now, but he happens to be asleep." From that day Merryweather's senior and junior were model listeners.

Short Talks on Printing

In looking over the advertising pages of the leading magazines one invariably runs across a sentence something like this: "Illustrated booklet sent on request," "Catalogue Free," or "Send for Booklet!" How many manufacturing industries, business houses, or business institutions in St. John follow up their advertising in this manner? Very few, and it's the few that are reaping the harvest. Think this over, and if it interests you, call us on Phone 23, and we will call on you with samples of Catalogues and Booklets we have printed—which have proved profitable business-bringing investments.

BIG SALVATION ARMY MEETING THIS EVENING.

Col. Sharp of the Salvation Army returned recently from Toronto, where he went to meet Commissioner Coombs on business relating to the officers' council to be held in St. John on the 25th of this month. The final arrangements have been made for a big army meeting in St. Andrew's Rink on Saturday evening, 28th. This meeting, which will be open to the public, promises to be one of the most interesting army meetings ever held in St. John. The officers attending the council, in all between 120 and 130, will be present, and purpose giving to the people an entertainment of a somewhat original nature. The purpose of this service is to show up what is being done in the different departments of the army's work, and to show how each is being carried on. The officers in charge of the various branches, as for example, the prison gate work, the rescue work, the men's shelter, etc., will have prepared living tableaux illustrating briefly how these departments of the work are carried on. The army look forward to having a large audience at this service.

Col. Sharp leaves again for Toronto on Monday to attend the annual court of Ontario officers. While there he will have arranged the full programme for the council meetings, and also for the commissioner's services. On Friday and Saturday, the 27th and 28th, cheap excursions will be run from Halifax and Sydney to St. John. The rates from Sydney and return will be $5.15, while corresponding rates will be given from all intermediate points.

RECENT DEATHS.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 4.—John Gibson, a prominent farmer at Kilmarnock, this county, who has been in the hospital for some days, attended by Dr. Hand, suffering from acute Bright's disease, died at 5:30 this afternoon, aged 69 years. The deceased is survived by his wife, formerly a Miss Wetmore, and one child, Viola. Mr. Gibson was born in this county, but resided in the west for some years, returning about 10 years ago.

CAPT. HARRY SHAW. ST. STEPHEN, Oct. 4.—Capt. Harry Shaw, of Milltown, master of the schooner T. W. Allen, died yesterday after a very brief illness from a tumor on the brain. He will be buried on Thursday afternoon under the auspices of the Foresters. As he was a native of St. Andrews and a member of the Court of Foresters there, a delegation of members of the order will come from the shore town to attend the funeral.

RICHARD T. ALLEN. SACKVILLE, Oct. 2.—The death of Richard T. Allen occurred at his home, Sackville, on Saturday morning after a short illness of inflammation of the bowels. Deceased was sixty-two years of age. He was twice married.

MISS LOTTIE WHITE. SACKVILLE, Oct. 4.—The death of Jesse Tingley, a respected resident of Shemogue, occurred at his home, Great Shemogue, on Sunday. Deceased had been ill for some time, so his death was not unexpected. He was in the seventy-fourth year of his age, and was well and favorably known. In religion he was a follower of the Baptist denomination. He is survived by a widow and four daughters.

THOMAS H. FOUNTAIN. CHATHAM, Oct. 2.—Another old resident has been removed by death, Thomas H. Fountain having passed away at the ripe age of 88 years. An Englishman, he came to Canada as an imperial soldier in 1837, and was on duty at the time of the Papineau rebellion. Taking his discharge, he came to Chatham about the year 1853, where he has ever since resided. He was identified with the militia of Canada for a number of years, having been sergeant-major of the 3rd Regiment. Mr. Fountain conducted a general store and eating house on Duke street, and many will miss the genial and familiar figure which for many years might have been seen during the summer occupying a seat in the park.

FRED THOMPSON. CHATHAM, Oct. 2.—Fred Thompson died at the Hotel Dieu yesterday from an attack of typhoid fever. He was taken ill in the woods and had to be a great part of this distance having to be traversed by a sled team. He belonged near Doaktown, was 22 years of age and unmarried.

Yale, 27; Wesleyan, 6. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—Yale defeated Wesleyan at football today in the first test for the varsity. Yale won the game by a score of 27 to 6.

Yale's work in the first half was ragged and gave no encouragement to the army of coaches at the field, but in the second half great improvement was shown. Four touchdowns being made in the 15 minute half.

Yale scored but one touchdown. Long runs by Stevenson and Jones were the feature. Captain Eberly did not play, as he has a lame ankle.

Harvard, 16; Bowdoin, 6. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 4.—Harvard defeated Bowdoin by the score of 16 to 6 in a game which was characterized by frequent fumbling and poor plays by both teams.

Harvard's line-up for the game was: Line-up for Harvard, and this in a measure showed up the work of the crimson players.

Bowdoin won the toss and took the field. Brill kicked off for Harvard, and Bowdoin, finding the Harvard line firm, kicked to mid-field. From that point Harvard carried the ball to Bowdoin's goal line, and sent the ball for the first touchdown. Conitt missed the goal.

Class of Bowdoin kicked off, and the ball hit Conitt, who was in the line. After an exchange of kicks, the half ended with the ball in Bowdoin's possession on the 15 yard line.

Squires went over the goal line in the second half play of both teams fell off badly. Bowdoin kicked off and Newhall ran the ball back to the 15 yard line. Hill kicked to Bowdoin's 30 yard line, and Blair (Bowdoin) got it to the 15 yard line. Harvard got it, and Squires went over the goal line on the first play and White kicked the goal.

When play was resumed, Harvard fumbled the ball four times, and in addition was penalized four yards for holding, but the ground thus lost was regained by a fumble by Bowdoin, two end runs and a quarterback run, and Newhall went over for the third touchdown. The game ended a moment after the kick-off.

The Pandora Reservoir

The Pandora is the only range with a reservoir stamped in one single piece of steel and enamelled. It is the only reservoir without seams, rivets or places to catch dirt. It has no sharp angles. All angles are made with rounding curves, and the whole reservoir is beautifully enamelled. McClary's are the only range makers in Canada with a plant for making enamelled steel reservoirs, and that is why the Pandora is the only range that has a one-piece reservoir.

He said that practically all the streams of New York state are contaminated with sewage and continued: "Practically typhoid fever comes from polluted water. A small percentage comes from milk, flies and oysters. Typhoid fever is insensational. As has been said, it is an hygienic crime. Lowell and Lawrence teach an instructive lesson. Lowell discharges its sewage into the Merrimack River. Nine miles below Lawrence, the water is still discharging. Lowell's deaths were 170 per 100,000, Lawrence swelled to 184. Next year the upstream city dropped to about 100 and the down current settlement went to 119, while another slight reduction above resulted in a drop to 88 below. Faced with this, Lowell put in a filtering plant. The rate dropped the first year to forty-eight and is still diminishing. Lowell also stopped using the Merrimack water and resorted to a driven well supply, with a reduction of about 75 per cent on typhoid cases."
