

Labrador Fishing Has Failed And 25,000 Face Food Famine

Coast Still Packed With Ice and no Signs of Disintegration present to Bring Needed Relief

Continuance of These Conditions will Result Either in Starvation or Call Upon Government.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 8.—Advisers from Labrador, through the fisheries cruiser Plover, which arrived here today, report the failure of the fisheries off the coast, owing to the ice blockade. Unless this barrier is removed a serious situation to 25,000 men and their families is inevitable. These men compose the crews of the 1,600 vessels which usually are engaged in the Labrador fisheries. Their average catch constitutes about one-third of Newfoundland's total and while the loss may be made up to a small extent by seeking fish on the west coast and on other grounds, it is certain to cause a general shortage. A continuance of the existing ice-bound conditions must result either in starvation or a call upon the Government for relief.

Petawawa Camp, Ont., Aug. 8.—The forecast of Mr. John McCurdy that a flight of Baddeck No. 1 would occur on Saturday afternoon turned out to be previous, as also did his statement that a flight would take place on Sunday. ROYAL INTERFERENCE HAS FAILED TO AID SITUATION

Stockholm, Aug. 8.—The tie-up of business as a result of the general strike is so serious that King Gustave has intervened in an endeavor to secure a compromise. His Majesty today sent a message to the parties at conflict urging an early agreement and advising arbitration of the disputed questions.

After King Gustave's message had been read and approved at a cabinet meeting Saturday, His Majesty summoned to the palace the two leaders of the warring factions, Director Von Sydew, of the Employers' and Svanström, president of the Federation of Trades Unions, for a conference. Apparently His Majesty's efforts were of slight effect for tonight it was announced that the printers would strike tomorrow and the National Labor Union issued a proclamation that beginning tomorrow morning every

Lords Prepared to Battle With Asquith Says Lansdowne

Opposition Leader in England's Upper House Throws Down The Gauntlet.

London, Aug. 7.—The vexed question as to whether the House of Lords would interfere with the budget, which the radicals declare would be unconstitutional, appears to be settled by the pronouncement of Lord Lansdowne, leader of the Opposition in the Lords, in a speech at Calne, Wiltshire, tonight. Declaring the belief that the working classes desired tariff reform and not the taxation of capital, and the expropriation of property, Lansdowne suggested that the House of Commons may no longer represent the will of the people.

FINDING OF DEAD BODY ENDS SEARCH

Hardwick, Vt., Aug. 8.—The search for Joseph Pascal, the slayer of Chas. Perkins, ended today, when a body with an ugly bullet wound in the head, was found in a pasture not far from the scene of the crime in South Walden. A rifle lay beside the body, indicating suicide. It is believed that the fugitive, for whom a hundred men and boys have been searching the woods and guarding the highways, remained concealed near the Perkins house and finding that all avenues of escape were cut off, took his own life. The top of his skull was fractured by the rifle bullet. The medical examiner thought from the condition of the body that Pascal had been dead two days at least.

Sutton, Jr., of the United States Marine Corps will be continued at the Naval Academy tomorrow morning when Mrs. Sutton, his mother, and Mrs. Parker, his sister, will continue their efforts to clear from his name the stigma of suicide which was placed upon it by the finding of the first board of inquiry sitting immediately after the tragedy.

THE NEW AMERICAN TARIFF IS MISUNDERSTOOD IN CANADA -- DUTIES RAISED

(Toronto News). The bearing of the new American tariff on Canada seems to be generally misunderstood in this country. When consideration of the Payne Bill was begun in the House of Representatives it was stated that the maximum duties would not apply to a colony discriminating in favor of a Mother Country. Hence it was represented that the British preference would not subject us to the higher scale of duties.

Preference Not Permitted. No such provision, however, was made by the Senate, or appears in the Bill as now reported by the Conference Committee. There also seems to be a complete misunderstanding of the powers reserved to the President under the measure. It has been understood that the maximum schedules will not apply to any country until an investigation has been made and it is clearly established that the tariff of such country discriminates against the United States, when by proclamation of the President the higher duties may be imposed.

Equivalent and Reciprocal. But this is not the reading of section two of paragraph 323. It is there provided that from and after the 31st day of March 1910, there shall be levied, collected and paid on all articles when imported from any foreign country into the United States, the rates of duty prescribed by the schedules and in addition thereto twenty-five per cent, which rates shall constitute the general tariff of the United States. But whenever after that date, and so long thereafter as the President shall be satisfied, in view of the character of the concessions granted by the minimum of the United States, that the government of any foreign country imposes no terms or restrictions, either in the way of tariff rates or provisions, trade or other regulations, charges, exactions or in any other manner, directly or indirectly, upon the importation into or the sale of such foreign country or any agricultural, manufactured or other product of the United States or the products thereof, and that such foreign country accords to the agricultural, manufactured or other products of the United States, treatment which is reciprocal and equivalent, the President may issue a proclamation to that effect and thereafter all articles when imported into the United States or any of its possessions from such foreign country shall be admitted under the terms of the minimum tariff.

A Wide Power of Exclusion. It is further provided that the proclamation issued by the President and the application of the minimum tariff thereupon may in accordance with the facts as found by the President extend to the United States or any foreign country, or may be confined to or exclude from its effects any dependency, colony or other political subdivision having authority to adopt and enforce tariff legislation, or to impose restrictions or regulations, or to grant concessions upon the exportation or importation of articles which are to be imported into the United States.

It is also provided that whenever the President shall be satisfied that the conditions which led to the issuance of the proclamation hereinbefore authorized no longer exist, he shall issue a proclamation to that effect and thenceforth the provisions of the general tariff shall be applied to the importation of articles from that country. The provisions of the general tariff under such circumstances will apply to the products of that country when imported directly from the country of production or otherwise. To secure information to assist the President in the discharge of the duties imposed upon him by the bill he is authorized to employ such persons as may be required to make thorough investigations and explanations into the production, commerce and trade of the United States and foreign countries and all conditions affecting the same.

Higher Duties Against Canada. The plain reading of the bill, therefore, seems to be that if Canada gives preferential treatment to British goods, maximum schedules of the American tariff will apply to this country. It is certain that the provisions of our treaty with France will subject us to the higher American duties. It is even probable that the restrictions imposed by Ontario on the exportation of sawlogs and pulp wood will make the general tariff operative against the products of this province. Moreover, the general tariff goes automatically into effect against any dependency, colony or any other political subdivision of any country which does not give equivalent or reciprocal treatment to the products of manufactures of the United States and does not, as has been understood, depend upon any Presidential proclamation. It seems impossible to reach any other conclusion than that this country must radically alter its fiscal system in so far as it bears upon the United States, or from March 31st, 1910, the American duties against us will be raised by twenty-five per cent.

WRITE MEAT ORDERS.

Scheme for Graft on C. P. R. Dining Cars Troubling the Officials.

Montreal, Aug. 4.—A system of graft, the extent of which cannot be estimated, is being carried on in the dining car service of the different railways of Canada, on which an a la carte system is in vogue. The officials know of it and are puzzled how to stop it. The system, while a simple one, is one which calls for considerable cunning on the part of the dining car employees, as a single slip would expose the whole matter, and result in the dismissal of a great many dining car employees, as well as rob them of their graft, which adds several dollars to their weekly wages.

The game cannot be played unless the waiter, conductor and chef are in the game, which makes a three-cornered divy. When a passenger enters the dining car he is thoroughly scanned by both conductor and waiter and if he looks "easy" or has the appearance of being in a hurry, he is handed a menu but no order blank on which to write his order, which is taken verbally, and he is served; the waiter takes the whole matter, and result in the dismissal of a great many dining car employees, as well as rob them of their graft, which adds several dollars to their weekly wages.

An education under such conditions is indeed a great asset.—Educational Review for February, 1909.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 7.—In a cell at the White Plains jail, Harry K. Thaw awaits the decision that will hold him sane or declare him a lunatic.

Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, the prisoner's mother, with her daughter, Alice, the former Countess of Arundell, and her son, Harry Thaw, were present at the hearing.

Thaw's mother and his brother and sister have not missed a day in court since the hearing began and Mrs. Thaw's statements show that it is likely she will see her son, who she will lose no time in trying to free him by other means.

An appeal to this tribunal from a decision of the appellate division upholding Justice Mills' refusal to try the question of Thaw's sanity before a jury is now pending.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

The Natural History Society had a great day on Saturday.

Our name is an indication of our character. It is not everything in some names. Strictly and scripturally speaking, there has been but one temple of honor on this earth.

The Long Reach Outing Association enjoyed perfect weather for the second series of water sports on Saturday afternoon.

The winners of the different events were: Race—Dr. J. H. Barton, first; Frank Elliott, second; R. A. Sinclair, third; Dr. J. H. Gilchrist, fourth.

The passage from Drury Cove got damaged and the existing channel captured its monopoly.

POSSUM THE WINNER IN BEVERAGE CUP RACE

Secured First Place From Vagabond by Four Minutes—Latter Broke Spinaker Boom.

The Beveridge cup yacht race took place from the club house wharf at Millidgeville, Saturday afternoon and was won by the Possum, with the Vagabond a four minute second.

The race started promptly at three o'clock with a gentle south-wind blowing. The Vagabond at once took the lead, but broke her spinaker boom and although still ahead lost some ground.

The Vagabond kept ahead until she reached Boat's Head, when the Possum closed up and took the lead.

The race will start in front of the grand stand on the grounds in order to give the spectators a chance to see the handicap given, and to also see the different contestants on the first lap around the track.

It is the policy that has already placed THE STANDARD in the first ranks, and it is destined for a circulation second to none in the Maritime Provinces. THE NEW AMERICAN TARIFF IS MISUNDERSTOOD IN CANADA -- DUTIES RAISED (Toronto News). The hearing of the new American tariff on Canada seems to be generally misunderstood in this country. When consideration of the Payne Bill was begun in the House of Representatives it was stated that the maximum duties would not apply to a colony discriminating in favor of a Mother Country. Hence it was represented that the British preference would not subject us to the higher scale of duties.

Preference Not Permitted. No such provision, however, was made by the Senate, or appears in the Bill as now reported by the Conference Committee. There also seems to be a complete misunderstanding of the powers reserved to the President under the measure. It has been understood that the maximum schedules will not apply to any country until an investigation has been made and it is clearly established that the tariff of such country discriminates against the United States, when by proclamation of the President the higher duties may be imposed.

Equivalent and Reciprocal. But this is not the reading of section two of paragraph 323. It is there provided that from and after the 31st day of March 1910, there shall be levied, collected and paid on all articles when imported from any foreign country into the United States, the rates of duty prescribed by the schedules and in addition thereto twenty per cent, which rates shall constitute the general tariff of the United States. But whenever after that date, and so long thereafter as the President shall be satisfied, in view of the character of the concessions granted by the minimum of the United States, that the government of any foreign country imposes no terms or restrictions, either in the way of tariff rates or provisions, trade or other regulations, charges, exactions or in any other manner, directly or indirectly, upon the importation into or the sale of such foreign country or any agricultural, manufactured or other product of the United States or the products thereof, and that such foreign country accords to the agricultural, manufactured or other products of the United States, treatment which is reciprocal and equivalent, the president may issue a proclamation to this effect and thereafter all articles when imported into the United States or any of its possessions from such foreign country shall be admitted under the terms of the minimum tariff.

A Wide Power of Exclusion. It is further provided that the proclamation issued by the President and the application of the minimum tariff thereupon may in accordance with the facts as found by the President to the whole of any foreign country, or may be confined to or exclude from its effects any dependency, colony or other political subdivision having authority to adopt and enforce tariff legislation, or to impose restrictions or regulations, or to grant concessions upon the exportation or importation of articles which are or may be imported into the United States. It is also provided that whenever the President shall be satisfied under the conditions which led to the issue

NEW CAVALRY SWORD.

Weapon for British Horse Soldiers Has a Straight, Tapering Blade.

(Fall Mail Gazette.)

The pattern of the new cavalry sword has now been approved for manufacture. It differs from those of previous patterns chiefly in being fitted with a straight tapering blade to facilitate thrusting. The guard is shaped to afford more protection on the left side, and the grip is formed to fit the hand, a recess for the thumb being cut in the back. The scabbard is a straight taper from end to end and made of steel. The weight of the sword is about two pounds fourteen ounces, and of the scabbard one pound six ounces.

Historically, the Times observes, the adoption of a thrusting sword is of interest as being a reversion to the single-edged rapier of the seventeenth century, the period when, according to some of our most eminent authorities, the qualities of a fighting sword were best understood, armor being practically out of use and firearms being still very imperfect. Such an authority as Captain Hutton is understood to object to a sword specialized for thrusting, on the contention that a man cannot fight his way into a crowd with it. It may, however, be objected that the sword is comparatively heavy, but that may be due to the British trooper's well known prejudice in favor of a certain amount of weight.

WRITE MEAT ORDERS.

Scheme for Graft on C. P. R. Dining Cars Troubling the Officials.

Montreal, Aug. 4.—A system of graft, the extent of which cannot be estimated, is being carried on in the dining car service of the different railways of Canada, on which an a carte system is in vogue. The officials know of it and are puzzled how to stop it.

The system, while a simple one, is one which calls for considerable cunning on the part of the dining car employees, as a single slip would expose the whole matter, and result in the dismissal of a great many dining car employees, as well as rob them of their graft, which adds several dollars to their weekly wages.

The game cannot be played unless the waiter, conductor and chef are in the game, which makes a three-cornered victory.

When a passenger enters the dining car he is thoroughly scanned by both conductor and waiter and if he looks "easy" or has the appearance of being in a hurry, he is handed a menu but no order blank on which to write his order, which is taken verbally, and he is served; the waiter states the amount of his bill which is paid and no record whatever is kept of it, the amount being divided among the dining car employees.

INVENTOR DEAD.

LATEST IN MOTORS.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—A motor inspection car, interchangeable to an automobile, has been built by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway for the use of one of its divisional superintendents. The car has flanged steel wheels like an ordinary rail car, for use while running on the rails. These may be replaced by pneumatic tires.

POLICE COURT.

WOLFVILLE, N. S.

What impressed the writer was the admirable system that prevailed in the management and in every department of work; that kindly personality and tact, the influence of which is so grateful to young people; the general sympathy in the relations between teacher and pupil, and the interest which each one seemed to feel in the work of the other. An education under such conditions is indeed a great asset.—Educational Review for February, 1909.

BUDGET OF INTERESTING NEWS FROM NEW YORK--HONESTY, CRUELTY AND A HEN DETECTIVE

New York, Aug. 7.—There is a proverb almost forgotten in this part of the country which says that honesty is the best policy, and in spite of the overwhelming evidence to the contrary presented by 99 per cent. of our multi-millionaires and politicians, a few unsophisticated devils are still on the left who steadfastly believe in the truth of this ancient proverb. Cases which tend to corroborate the truth of this superannuated maxim happen just often enough to keep the proverb from becoming altogether discredited. One of these happened here the other day, when a poor brakeman on the Long Island railroad found in one of the coaches a woman's handbag containing $30,000 worth of jewelry and money and turned his find over to the office of the railroad company. The valuable property belonged to a wealthy woman who was so favorably impressed with the honesty of the brakeman that she arranged with the railroad company to reward him for his act of honesty with a complete outfit of clothes, but also for the offer of a month to the honest fellow. He accepted the offer of a life position, saying that $100 a month was not an inducement for an ambitious young man. He hopes to advance to a chosen profession and hopes to earn a great deal more than $100 a month. It may be added that the young man, who seems to be made of the right kind of stuff, has advanced one big step already toward the aim of his ambition, by being promoted to the position of collector. The railroad management evidently thought that a man of such tried honesty was a good man for position of collector. Men of finance and some who are not but would like to be, were cruelly disappointed the other day when the papers published a story under the date of Cleveland, stating in the headlines that John D. Rockefeller, in an address before a Sunday school class had given golden advice concerning the best investments. Such advice from a man like the oil king could not but be of the greatest value to all who would like to get rich quick—honestly, if possible, but rich at all events. One may imagine the disappointment of the readers when they found Mr. Rockefeller had advised the children to do something every day to cheer others, and told them in his remarks that he considered it all seriousness he considered that the best investment might have impressed many as a cruel joke, when they recalled how the distinguished speaker throttled a rival company one day and raised the price of oil to such a point that Mr. Rockefeller added the open confession that somehow or other he could never remember the truths once learned at the proper moment. That explains a great deal in Mr. Rockefeller's career. It is incredible how cruel and inhuman some persistent efforts of the S. P. C. A. and other similar organizations. The other day the manager of a shirt waist factory in this city, where about two hundred young women are employed, posted a rule pro-

London, Aug. 6.—At East Leisham John Pike, who has a small holding, has been interviewed by an interesting reporter with cereals. LOWER CABLE RATES. A Pressing Need, Says Sir Joseph Ward.

London, Aug. 6.—Sir Joseph Ward, interviewed by the Chronicle, said the reduction of cable rates was one of the most pressing questions of the hour. The cables should be state owned. He was hopeful that the existing conditions would not last much longer. Sir Joseph also said he would like very much to see the all red route established.

Minneapolis, L. I., Aug. 5.—Glenn H. Curtis, who was to have made a flight in an aeroplane here this morning, abandoned the effort because he had the wind was too high. The large crowd which had come out from New York city over night to witness the proposed flight, gave the aviator a noisy send-off when he started for New York by train to sail on the French steamer La Savoie to re-appear in America in the International aeroplane contests in Rheims, France.

MONKEY DUMPS DOES SUICIDE ACT

(New York Herald.) There was a chain of tragedies in animal circles in the Bronx Zoo Thursday according to Dr. W. Reed Blair, one death was due to deliberate suicide, though no official verdict has been entered as yet. The trouble began when one of the two hyena dogs recently imported from Africa died of distemper in the animal quarantine. After observing the monkeys in an adjoining cage, leaped to the top of that compartment and then plunged to the bottom with such force as to cause injuries from which the animal died soon afterward. The mate of this monkey was added to the death list a few hours later. The second simian died of a broken heart, in the demise of its mate. Dr. Blair last night, "and the death of the hyena dog aggravated the distemper from which its mate is suffering, so that another victim probably will be added to the list."

RILL RIPPLES IN ANNAPOLIS DESPITE ACT

Annapolis Royal, N. S., Aug. 6.—Annapolis Royal agitated over the Scott Act and its enforcement. Annapolis has long been an open town, and the Scott Act was a dead letter. But the advent of the new mayor and council in February changed this. The old inspector was dismissed and a new one appointed. For a few weeks things waxed warm. Barrs were closed, the bottle business was stopped, and prosecution followed prosecution. The hotels were dry, the proprietors were crying for quarter. They threatened to close their houses if the Scott Act enforced. Then the house of the inspector was fired. And now the rill is rippling in Annapolis. The town before the Scott Act became a terror. What is agitating Annapolis is in a manner in which the Scott Act is enforced. It is a policy of the States. Every infraction is laid for the fact that in many cases the defendants have been convicted previously. Second and third convictions in the case of a third offence are never proceeded to. This may be a source of revenue, but it is not curtailing the sale of liquor.

In Sweden the cost of smelting is $12 a ton, but in his report Dr. Haanel will say that with the abundance of water powers in Ontario and Quebec the cost in Canada should be much lower.

LOVE ROMANCE IN CHATHAM NOW ENDS IN DISASTER HERE

Mrs. William Mahoney Whose Marriage Led to Husband Serving Two Months in Jail for Breaking Quarantine Regulations -- Tells of Unhappy Wedded Life--Climax Came Yesterday When Husband left to go to Maine.

If the assertions of his wife be true in consequence he was obliged to serve his term. "From the first," said Mrs. Mahoney to a Standard reporter last evening. "We were not happy. Will was either bad-minded or jealous minded. I could not go out at all, and could hardly speak to one of my friends. He got to work all winter and it was a very hard season in Chatham. He stayed around the house and I looked after and sold them to keep things going. "In May he wanted the money to take him there. When he got to work up there he did well, but only sent me two dollars the whole two months he was away. Then in July he came home and told me he had got the money for the land grant and I thought all our troubles were over. "Mrs. Mahoney went on to relate that since the family moved to St. John on July 15, things had gone from bad to worse. Her husband, she said, had remained away from home most of the time and had taken all the money out of the shop. He had broken up the furniture and had taken a thing in the house. Her husband came back yesterday, she continued, packed his things and left about 4 o'clock saying he was going to Maine on the boat. "If he does not write and send some money," she added, "I don't know what I will do. My little boy, who is 12 years old, worked in the pulp mill at Chatham and supported us when my husband was in Campbellton, and I suppose he can do the same here. "Mrs. Mahoney's story seems a bad ending to the pretty romance portrayed by the Chatham correspondents of the St. John papers. She is quite proud of her husband's medal won for service in South Africa. It is engraved "Roberts Horse, with three bars representing campaigns in Transvaal, Orange Free State and Cape Colony.

ARRESTED ON HER WAY HERE FROM MISPEC

Florence Davidson, Fell into the Clutches of Detective Killen on Saturday—Is Charged With Stealing $11.

Florence Davidson, aged 23, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Detective Killen after enjoying her liberty a few weeks. She is charged with stealing the sum of $11 from the house of John McIlveen, at Mispec. The exact amount of money missing was found on her when arrested. The woman under arrest has an unenviable record, according to the police. They say she was sentenced to a term in Dorchester penitentiary for a misdemeanor committed in Halifax, and while incarcerated made the acquaintance of Amelia Frances. When she was released she found her way to St. John and made her home with Frances for some time. In June she was arrested on the Balmain wharf and was sentenced to a term of six months in the Salvation Army Rescue Home. She did not stay very long however, and went out to Mispec where she secured employment in the home of a family named McDonald. All went well until Saturday morning when the money was missing from John McIlveen's home. Her name and suspicion fell upon the woman. The police were notified and Detective Killen drove out towards the village. The detective had an easy capture, arresting her when he met her way to the road. She was searched at the central station and the sum of $11 was found concealed.

WHARVES DAMAGED BY DREDGING SCOWS.

City Claims Compensation From Government for Injury To No. 6 Berth, Piling Smashed And Fenders Broken.

The city has sent in a claim to the Dominion Government for damage done by the scows of the Marine Dredging and Construction Company to wharf property on the West Side. The scows, which are of steel construction, have been moored at night against No. 6 wharf and have been doing considerable damage to the piling. A number of posts have been smashed at the eastern end of No. 6, and some of the fenders inside the slip have also been injured. The scows are towed in by a tug and it is contended that water of care in mooring coupled with the heavy weight of the scows has done the damage. The Public Works Department has already been billed for $68 on this account, and a further communication has now been sent to Mr. G. G. Scovill, superintendent of dredging, calling his attention to the matter.
