

JALHOUSIE HEARS HOW TO BATTLE TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Townsend, of the Jordan Sanitarium, Tells of Prevention and Cure.

Dalhousie, N. B., Jan. 23.—Dr. Townsend, of the Jordan Sanitarium at River Glade, Westmorland county, spoke in St. Mary's hall here on Wednesday evening last on tuberculosis. Every available seat was occupied. In the absence of Dr. A. G. Ferguson, chairman of the Restigouche County Board of Health, Hon. C. H. LaBelle occupied the chair.

The chairman, in opening the meeting, referred to a visit to the sanitarium by Mr. and Mrs. Jordan at River Glade a few years ago in company with Hon. C. W. Robinson and Hon. L. P. Farris and what grand buildings he had seen there, and he paid a high tribute to the generosity and patriotism of Mrs. Jordan who had donated this beautiful property to the people of New Brunswick to be used as a sanitarium for the cure of consumption.

Dr. Townsend said that while children inherited a predisposition to the disease, there was no proof that the disease itself was hereditary. The speaker would not recommend change of climate for consumptives. The treatment needed was perfect ventilation. People should sleep with windows open or in the open air. There should be open air schools for consumptive children. Those who follow the rules could be cured of consumption, if it was not advanced stages. There was no need to be alarmed about it. Consumption was, when care is taken, not more than half as prevalent as it was years ago. There should be rigid inspection of factories, workshops, churches, schools, etc., to see that fumes of health, concerning fresh air, sunlight, ventilation, etc., are properly carried out.

The speaker answered many questions. Rev. J. H. Kirk and Rev. R. J. Coleman made brief addresses. Dr. Townsend was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

HOPEWELL HILL NOTES

Miss Gertrude Stiles Becomes the Bride of Archibald Downing—Death of Mrs. Vernon Brewster, Harvey—W. E. Reid to remove to Vancouver.

Hopewell Hill, Jan. 21.—The death occurred at Harvey on Friday of Mrs. Brewster, wife of Vernon Brewster, of that place. Mrs. Brewster was formerly Miss Copp, and was thirty-five years of age. Death was due to consumption. The funeral took place this afternoon, the service being held in the Baptist church, Rev. Markham officiating.

Mrs. Roy Fullerton, who has been seriously ill at her home at Albert, is recovering.

The marriage took place on Wednesday morning of Miss Gertrude L. Stiles, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Stiles, of Albert, and Archibald M. Downing, eldest son of Conductor Downing, of the S. & A. railway. The happy couple left on the morning train for Moncton, where they will reside.

W. W. Wright, B. A., son of Secretary-Treasurer W. O. Wright, of Hopewell Cape, left on Friday for Boston. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Burgess.

The assistant keeper at Grindstone Island light station was able to get off to the mainland on Saturday and get the mails, a change of wind having made a temporary clearing of the ice that has filled the bay for some time.

It is considered a cause for great regret that W. E. Reid, for years a well known resident of Riverside, has decided to remove, with his family, to Vancouver, to locate. His furniture has already been shipped, and he and his family are expected to leave in about a week. Mr. Reid is an architect by profession, and has also been secretary for ex-Governor MacLean, his brother-in-law. His family will be greatly missed. Mr. Reid's oldest son will graduate in architecture at McGill University in the spring.

Capt. B. C. Bacon, of Moncton, was in the village on Friday.

ALMA PERSONALS

A MILLIONAIRE'S RESOLVE

Frederick Townsend Martin, one of the most prominent of New York's 400 millionaires, announces that he will henceforth devote his life to the salvation of the poor, downtrodden, and unfortunate. "My future mission," he says, according to the Daily News, "is to try to abolish crime, solve the problem of poverty, and banish misery. I am tired of puzzling my brains to devise means of entertaining the idle rich, and I shall count myself supremely happy to be known as the poor man's friend." He says there are three fertile fields for his activities, the Whitechapel district of London, the Bowery, New York, and the slums of Chicago. Mr. Martin goes to Europe every year, and is widely known in London, Paris, and Rome. So far as London is concerned, he will study the East End next season.

In cooking broilers all the juice is saved and much of the flavor otherwise lost is retained by completely brushing over the fowl with olive oil before submitting it to the flames.

Clothes will not dry out so quickly if sprinkled and packed in a tin boiler the night before ironing day. They should be packed as tight as possible and the top placed on the boiler.

TORY AMBASSADOR HAS BEEN TO ROME?

Hon. Geo. H. Perley the Delegate

Said to Have Been Sent by Government to Sound the Pope

Bill to Dismiss Three Transcontinental Commissioners Made Little Progress—W. F. McLean Declines to Withdraw Motion About Railway Rates at Borden's Request.

Special to The Telegraph.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The government is still having trouble with its followers. The bill to do away with three Transcontinental Railway commissioners produced the first evidence of this today.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier suggested the government should follow the course adopted when the annuity lecturers were retired and allow the three commissioners three months' salary.

Then in spite of ministerial disapproval, Mr. Meighan and Mr. Middlebrooke insisted upon coming to the rescue of the ministers with speeches.

This led to Liberal reprisals. The afternoon was consumed and the bill finally had to be held.

In the evening W. F. McLean, moved an amendment to Mr. Borden's motion to go into supply. The amendment declared there should be no differentiation in the railway rates in Eastern and Western Canada for the same length of haul.

Mr. Borden tried to get Mr. McLean to withdraw his motion, but Mr. McLean, true to his motto that of his leader, he refused to withdraw.

Tory Ambassador to Rome? It is understood that Hon. George Perley of Argenteuil, minister without portfolio, made his trip to Europe for the purpose of representing the Borden government before the Vatican and discussing with the pope certain embarrassing questions in Canada in which the church is interested, and with which the Canadian government is concerned.

The government did not wish it to be generally known that they were negotiating with Rome, and therefore Mr. Perley, besides he took with him letters from the government and ecclesiastical authorities in Canada. His trip to Rome was made unostentatiously, and he is now in the way back to report the result of his mission.

NEW HAVEN ROAD ENGINEERS PLEAD GUILTY TO FRAUD

Six Confess in Boston Court of Conspiracy to Pad Pay Rolls—Others in the Toils.

Boston, Jan. 25.—Six engineers of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of conspiracy to defraud the railroad and ended the trial of the ten cases involving that charge in the Suffolk superior court. William M. Call, of South Braintree, an engineer, was on trial yesterday when the jury was excused for the day to allow the district attorney and counsel for the defence to settle the matter. This morning Call pleaded guilty to so much of the larceny charges as included conspiracy, and five of his fellow engineers made the same admission of guilt. The five were: Charles B. Blair and Albert W. Blair, of Dorchester; Joseph E. Cross, of Middleboro; William A. Sears, of South Braintree, and Charles F. Westgate, of Bourne.

Edward V. Acherley, time clerk of Taunton; John H. Murray, fireman; Arthur A. Hommel, fireman, and Charles V. Brown, engineer, the other four defendants in the case, pleaded guilty to conspiracy charges before Call was placed on trial. The New Haven road claims to have lost about $10,000 by the padding of its time sheets. Six more engineers and firemen have pleaded guilty to similar charges at Taunton. The disposition of the latter cases has been postponed to next month, and it is probable that the Suffolk county cases will be disposed of at the same time and in the same way as those at Taunton.

STEEL AND IRON TARIFF BILL PASSES COMMITTEE

Washington, Jan. 25.—The Democratic Iron and Steel Tariff revision bill was favorably reported to the house today by Chairman Underwood of the Ways and Means Committee. The Republican members of the committee were given the right to file an adverse report. The committee had adopted the bill by a strictly party vote.

SASKATCHEWAN HOUSE OPENS

Speech from the Throne Indicates Much Progressive Legislation

BOON TO PEOPLE

Government, With Aid of Three Big Railways, Will Bring Water from Saskatchewan River to Southern Dry Districts—Will Ask Ottawa for Management of Public Lands—Premier Scott Absent in Bahamas.

Canadian Press.

Regina, Sask., Jan. 25.—The provincial legislature opened today. In the absence of Premier Scott, who is in the Bahamas for his health, Hon. J. A. Calder will lead the government though it is hoped the premier will be back, restored in health, before the house rises.

This is the fourth and probably the last session of the present legislature and with dissolution in early prospect, hard fighting will be the order of the day.

The speech from the throne was exceedingly lengthy. After referring to the coronation and census returns, which had put Saskatchewan in fourth, if not in third place, among the provinces, and the large crop harvested, reference was made to the application to the federal government for a transfer of the natural products of the province, regarding which a conference has been requested of Premier Borden.

Measures are promised to relieve the scarcity of farm laborers and farm servants, to improve the status of the home shipping industry and to make better provision for the protection of farmers from the ravages of hailstorms. Further branch lines railway legislation will also be submitted.

Other bills promised deal with the greater regulation of insurance companies; to empower rural municipalities to purchase and distribute seed grain; for the control of motor vehicles; to redistribute electoral representation; and amend the electoral law.

Possibly the most important feature of the speech is the announcement of a plan whereby the government, in conjunction with three great railway companies, intend to deliver water from the south branch of the Saskatchewan River over as large an area as possible of southern Saskatchewan for the benefit of those communities where water in sufficient quantity or suitable quality is not readily obtainable.

INNOCENT NEGROES WERE LYNCHED

At Least Three of Georgia Mob's Four Victims Had No Part in Murder.

Hamilton, Ga., Jan. 24.—Developments following the lynching here on Monday night of four negroes, one of them a mulatto girl, for the alleged murder of Norman Hadley, indicate that the mob certainly put at least two innocent persons to death and probably three, and there is no convincing evidence that the fourth negro had anything to do with killing Hadley.

It is certain that Bertha Hatheway, the girl, was innocent, and it is said that John Cruikshank and Herbert Henderson, two of the three men lynched, could have established alibis.

Hadley was an unmarried planter and it is said he was infatuated with the girl Bertha Hatheway. He had been pursued by the girl and had been warned to keep away from her. He disregarded the warning, however, and on Sunday afternoon went to the girl's home and tried to get her to come out to meet him.

While Hadley was at the girl's home he was shot, but no one knows by whom. Henry Anderson, one of the negroes lynched, is said to have wanted to marry the girl, and it is possible that he shot her in the young planter's defense.

Bertha Hatheway said Hadley was shot by some one in ambush while he was calling to her to come to him. The detectives have caused great indignation and a determined effort will be made to ferret out the members of the mob. Bertha Hatheway was only twenty years old and comely.

The negroes are stirred and a number have left the country. As a result farmers are having trouble getting laborers.

FRANCE PLANS A STRONGER NAVY

Cabinet Will Ask Chamber of Deputies to Discuss the Programme of the Government.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The cabinet has decided to ask the chamber of deputies to discuss the French naval programme at an early date.

Great interest is manifested not only in Paris but throughout France in the nature of the proposals which will be placed before the deputies by Theophile Delcasse, minister of marine, who on Nov. 17, in the chamber of deputies, declared that the battleships Jean Bart and Courbet, which displace 23,500 tons each, were the forerunners of a new and stronger fleet. The ministerial declaration made by the new cabinet on Jan. 16 also hinted that the strength of the navy would receive special attention.

MORSE TOO ILL TO BE MOVED

His Doctor Says There is No Hope for His Recovery.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 25.—Charles W. Morse is still at the post hospital at Fort McPherson, too ill to be moved. Ever since President Taft commuted his sentence last week Mr. Morse has pleaded with the hospital to have him removed to a private hospital.

"While Mr. Morse has been mentally uplifted by the president's action in his case," said Dr. A. L. Fowler today, "his physical condition is such that it would be dangerous to attempt to move him now."

Dr. Fowler said that there was no hope for Mr. Morse's recovery. Mr. Morse has been so ill that Dr. Fowler would not permit his attorney, Thomas B. Peider, to see him.

EFFORTS TO SAVE PHELPS, BOSTON MURDERER, FAIL

Boston, Jan. 25.—The long fight to save Boston's Phelps, who was charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Haskins from the electric chair, finally failed this afternoon, when the executive council refused to commute the death sentence. Phelps will probably be executed early tomorrow and certainly before sunrise Saturday.

Talk With Taft Was Purely Formal

Duke Called at Press Club and Got Uproarious Welcome

His Royal Highness Started His Strenuous Day with a Ride Under Hudson River in Cab of Electric Locomotive with the Driver.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The Duke of Connaught went to the "American place" in his visit to the national capital today. Arriving late in the afternoon he was whirled first to the British embassy, where he was received by President and Mrs. Taft, was then motored back to the embassy, where he was the guest of honor at a dinner to which most of the prominent members of the diplomatic corps were invited, visited the National Press Club, and then, tired but delighted, as he expressed it, sought his private car. He left about midnight for New York.

The duke, the first royal visitor to Washington in many years, spent forty minutes in the White House and President Taft returned his call at the British embassy.

Altogether the chief executive of the United States and his vice royal visitor went together for a little more than an hour. The duke had no official messages to bear from England, and the president had none to give. Their conversation was made up of the general character, and the duke's formal welcome to his royal highness was extended to him when he left his private car at the Union station, by Major A. W. Butt, President Taft's personal aide.

Short Call at White House. The reception in the White House was unceremonial as state department officials and the British ambassador could make. The duke was presented to the president by Ambassador Bryce, and then Mr. Taft presented him to Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen Taft. The members of the cabinet and their wives were presented by Major Butt.

Following the formal reception tea was served in the red room of the White House by Miss Helen Taft.

At the Press Club the duke made the first and only public speech of his visit to the United States. On being introduced to the assembly of newspaper men he said: "I assure you it is a pleasure to meet you gentlemen, who hold positions of such influence in this country. I hope you will always use it for the good of the world. I hope, also, that England and the United States will be always the best of friends for the good of the world."

The visitor, who was accompanied by Ambassador Bryce, had been assured that his visit to the press club would be informal. He was received with an uproarious welcome, and seeing some members smoking, turned to the nearest, "I am glad to see that this really is informal," he said. "May I ask for a cigarette?"

He chatted with the members for some time and then signed his name in the guest book. He did not use his title, but jotted down "Arthur, the Governor-General of Canada."

Duke Rides in Electric Engine. New York, Jan. 25.—There was a little ceremony as possible about his royal highness's departure for Washington today. He was escorted to the Pennsylvania station by Ambassador Reid and Lieut.-Col. Leithman, making the run from the Reid mansion in one of his host's limousines. The usual following of executives, containing reporters and photographers trailed along, but there was no curious crowd to force a way through as at several points in the royal visitor's wanderings yesterday. The private car "Signal" had been provided for the duke's use and attached to the express leaving the depot at 11:08.

The royal visitor was very curious and wanted explained to him. When he got to his train he wanted to learn just how it was made up. Arriving at the big, double bogged electric locomotive, he was introduced to Motorman Bartlett and entered the cab. Here there was more explaining and at last the duke was asked if he would care to run the big engine. His royal highness was delighted at the prospect, and he set out on one to learn the uses of every little appliance in the cab of the locomotive. Co. Lowther remained with the duke in the cab throughout the run to Manhattan transfer when they both returned to the private car after shaking hands with the motorman and thanking him.

TARIFF COMMISSION SCHEME OUTLINED

Hon. Mr. White Introduces Measure in Parliament Providing for Three Commissioners to Inquire Into Trade Matters—Salary of Chairman $7,500, and Others $7,000 Each—Will Have Wide Powers.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, has given notice of the government resolution providing for the appointment of a tariff commission and defining its scope and powers. The resolution is as follows: "Resolved, that it is expedient to provide for a tariff commission consisting of three members, to be appointed by the government, whose duty it shall be: 1. To make, under the direction of the minister of finance, in respect of any goods produced in or imported into Canada, inquiry as to: (a) The price and cost of raw materials in Canada and elsewhere, and the cost of transportation thereof from the place of production to the place of use or consumption, whether in Canada or elsewhere. (b) The cost of production in Canada and elsewhere. (c) The cost of transportation from the place of production to the place of use or consumption, whether in Canada or elsewhere. (d) The cost, efficiency and condition of labor in Canada and elsewhere. (e) The prices received by producers, manufacturers, wholesale dealers, retailers and other distributors in Canada and elsewhere. (f) All conditions and factors which effect or enter into the cost of production and the price to the consumers in Canada. (g) Generally all the conditions affecting production, manufacture, cost and price in Canada as compared with other countries, and to report to the minister. 2. To make inquiry into any other matter which the minister may deem it expedient to refer to the commission, in relation to any goods which are brought into Canada or produced in Canada and are subject to or exempt from duties or customs, and to report to the minister. 3. To hold, when empowered by the government-in-council, an inquiry under Section 12 of the Customs Tariff, 1907, and in the same manner as the judge of the exchequer court or any other judge there-in referred to may hold inquiry when so empowered. 4. To inquire into any other matter or thing in relation to the trade or commerce of Canada which the government-in-council sees fit to refer to the commission for inquiry and report. The commissioners are to be given power to summon witnesses and to take evidence. The chairman of the commission is to be $7,500 and the other two members $7,000. The secretary is to be paid not more than $3,000.

Declines to Give Up Captured Turks

Offers to Submit Matter to the Hague and Pay Indemnity if Wrong—Cites Kitchener's Act in Egypt as Justification for Their Act.

Rome, Jan. 24.—The subject of the detention of twenty-nine Turks said to be members of the Red Crescent Society by the Italian authorities who captured them on the French steamer Manouba was fully discussed at conferences today between Premier Giolitti, Foreign Minister Di San Giuliano and the French ambassador to Italy, Camille Barrer. The conferences are said to have been very cordial but the Turks are still held under arrest at Cagliari Island, off Sardinia.

Italy maintains her right to capture and search ships of neutral nations suspected of carrying contraband of war. This has been the course followed not only in the case of French steamers but also with British, German and Austrian vessels. It is pointed out that other nations have acted similarly in recent years and that Italy is ready to submit the cases to the Hague tribunal and pay indemnity if an error has been committed.

Italy does not, however, admit any limitation of that right. It is her intention to protect her army before the enemy. So far as the Italian side is concerned the examination of the Turks in question seems to have proved that both doctors and nurses were included in the group of prisoners, but it is suspected that the object of their presence was to distract attention from others who are believed to be Turkish officers, as they were in possession of official quarters and a check for a large sum of money.

Italian officials call attention to the fact that another alleged Red Crescent expedition was once halted in Egypt by General Kitchener and sent back, as it was composed of belligerents. Italy admits that France is exercising her duty admirably as a neutral power, but urges that France should not resent the wish on the part of Italy, even if a mistake is made, to exercise what she considers to be her right, as neither France nor any other nation can guarantee that in applying all possible measures to observe strict neutrality she may not be deceived.

The result of the conferences has been reported to the French government and so far the two countries have been animated by such a conciliatory spirit that it is expected a satisfactory solution will be found.

Paris, Jan. 23.—A despatch from Rome says that the Italian government has given orders that the Turks taken from the French steamer Manouba shall be released. No confirmation of this has been received in official quarters.

It is understood that as a result of the inquiry conducted by Italian experts into the detention of the Turkish prisoners captured by the Italians on board the Manouba, who are now at Cagliari in Sardinia, the Italian government probably will require the Red Crescent. There are four physicians among them and the remainder are known to be hospital attendants.

Insuring Against War.

London, Jan. 24.—The Times says that one or two large insurances were affected yesterday at Lloyd's in connection with the determination of the Italian government in Northern Europe. Five per cent was accepted to cover the risk of an outbreak of hostilities between France and Italy, and this country within the next six months. The premium on the possibility of a break between Great Britain and France and Germany, although there is no apparent reason for such an outcome, was six per cent.

The activity of Italian war vessels in the Mediterranean and Red seas, is causing increasing uneasiness in shipping insurance circles and this is the cause of the insurance effected on a possible outbreak of hostilities between France and Italy.

The Italian action in stopping steamers irrespective of their nationality and searching them for Turkish officers and contraband, is believed to be an evidence of the determination of the Italian government to put an end to Turkish existence in Tripoli as speedily as possible. It is thought, however, that the Italian activity may give rise to complications over those European powers whose shipping is put to inconvenience.

"You were about to seek me in the forest of this high tower, were you not, Hugh de Cressi and Richard Archer? Foolish thought, in truth, and a sinful, so sinful that it would have served you well if I had let you go. But your stratagem was not such a common one. Therefore I have come to others whose names were written in my book. And being half human after all, I do not see your deed till you after I was born of Sin—I rejoice that it is given to me to protect those who would have protected me when I seemed to stand helpless in the hands of cruel men. Nay, thank me not. What need have I of your thanks, which are due to God alone? And question me not, for why should I answer your questions, ever if I know their answers? Only do my bidding. This night, when you will in Avignon, but tomorrow ere the dawn ride away, for we three must meet again at a place appointed before this winter's snows are passed."

"O dread Lord of Death, one thing only," began Hugh. But Murgh held up his white-gloved hand and replied: "Have I not said that I answer no questions? Now go forth into the world, and the promptings of your heart till we meet again."

Then, gliding to the head of the stair, he vanished in his shadow. "Say, what shall we do?" asked Hugh in a mazed voice. "Matters little what we do or leave undone, master. We are fore-fated men, who, as I think, none can harm until a day that will dawn tomorrow, nor yet awhile. Therefore let us wash ourselves and eat and borrow new garments, if we can find any that are not soiled. Then, if the horses are unshaken, we will mount and ride from this accursed Avignon for England."

"Nay, Dick, since first we must learn whether, or no, we leave friends behind us here."

"Aye, master, if you will. But since yonder Murgh said nothing of them it is in my mind that they are either dead or fled."

"Not dead, I pray, Dick. Oh, I am sure, not dead, and I left living! When Red Eve and I met, Murgh had been with her and promised that she would recover and, if strong, answered Hugh bravely, although there was a note of terror in his voice."

"Red Eve has other foes in Avignon besides the pest," muttered Gray Dick, adding: "Still, let us have faith; it is a good friend to man. Did not yonder Helper chide us for our lack of it?"

"They forced a way down the dead-cumbers tower stair, crawling through the darkness over the bodies of the fallen. They crossed the hall that also was full of dead, and of wounded, whose pitiful groans echoed from the tiled roof, and a dim light shone from another stair to their chamber in the gateway tower."

Here from a spark of fire that still smoldered on the hearth, they lit the lamps of olive oil, by the light of them washed of the stains of blood and refreshed themselves with food and wine. These things Dick returned to the hall and presently brought thence a couple of armor and some cloaks which he had taken either from the walls or from the slain. In these they disguised themselves as best they could, as De Noyon had dismissed himself as Cressi's attendant.

his mind to such things. Say, did you hear anything else?"

"Aye, Dick; I heard two days ago that the French lord Catrina, whom Sir Hugh was to have fought at Venice, had left Avignon; none knew why or whether he went."

"Doubtless because of the plague and he wished to go where there was none," answered Dick.

"But Hugh groaned again, thinking to himself that Accor would scarcely have left Avignon if Eve were still alive within his walls."

After this they went on in silence, meeting very few and speaking with none, until they passed the city through which they passed seemed to be almost deserted. Indeed in this quarter, the pest was so feared that all who remained alive would do so by hiding elsewhere, leaving behind them only the sick and those who hunted houses.

"One thing I forgot to say," said David presently. "The Accor would scarcely have left Avignon if Eve were still alive within his walls."

"One thing I forgot to say," said David presently. "The Accor would scarcely have left Avignon if Eve were still alive within his walls."

"After this they went on in silence, meeting very few and speaking with none, until they passed the city through which they passed seemed to be almost deserted. Indeed in this quarter, the pest was so feared that all who remained alive would do so by hiding elsewhere, leaving behind them only the sick and those who hunted houses."

his mind to such things. Say, did you hear anything else?"

"Aye, Dick; I heard two days ago that the French lord Catrina, whom Sir Hugh was to have fought at Venice, had left Avignon; none knew why or whether he went."

"Doubtless because of the plague and he wished to go where there was none," answered Dick.

"But Hugh groaned again, thinking to himself that Accor would scarcely have left Avignon if Eve were still alive within his walls."

do the will of Heaven, to that I come as the widow, me long ago," he said, and was silent.

Murgh stretched out his hand, and he touched the girl's forehead, and as he touched it, she smiled a sweet and wondrous smile.

"Good and faithful servant," he said, "thy work is done on earth. Now I, whom all men fear, I thank thee for thy deed, and I bid thee to call home. Look up and pass!"

The old priest obeyed. It seemed to Murgh as though the radiance of the face of Murgh had fallen on him also. He smiled, he stretched his arms upward as though to clasp what they might not see. Then he bowed his head, and lay upon a bed, and lay white and still in the white, still snow.

The Helper turned to the three who remained alive.

"Patience for a little while," he said. "I must be gone. But when we meet again, as meet we shall, then fear me not, for have you not seen that to those who love me, I am as a friend?"

Now Hugh de Cressi and Red Eve made no answer, for they knew not what to say. But Gray Dick spoke out boldly.

"Sir Lord, or Sir Spirit," he said, "I have seen thee here, and I have seen thee burst upon my string, I never feared you. Nor do I fear your gifts," he pointed to the grave and to dead Sir Andrew, "and I have seen thee, as thou art, out of the world, as we of Dunwich know. Therefore, I dare to ask you one question ere we part for a while. Why do you take one and leave another? It is because you must or because every shaft does not hit its mark?"

Now Murgh looked him up and down with his sunken eyes, then answered:

"I have seen thee here, and I have seen thee burst upon my string, I never feared you. Nor do I fear your gifts," he pointed to the grave and to dead Sir Andrew, "and I have seen thee, as thou art, out of the world, as we of Dunwich know. KINGS COUNTY'S FINANCES IN A HEALTHY STATE

To assess for $210 in payment for laying out of a new road and for indebtedness account. Special assessments of $200 on Springfield and Waterford parishes were ordered and several unexpended balances were transferred.

Councillor Murray, of Cardwell, asked for exemption from taxation for the McQueen Lumber Company for five years. The company manufactures laths for shipment to Great Britain. Exemption was granted.

The assessments for pauper lunatics were ordered as follows: Cardwell, $68.35; Hampton, $130; Havelock, $118.75; Kars, $65; Kingston, $130; Rothery, $88.55; Studholm, $120; Sussex town, $4.25. The school fund was fixed at $6,700, contingent, $8,000.

It was decided to have no semi-annual meeting of the council. Fred Ball was heard with reference to heating the jail. He recommended placing a steam boiler under the court house building and running pipes into the jail to heat it with low pressure steam.

Judge McIntyre reported for the municipal home receipts of $3,408.68 and expenditure of $3,344.18. He said that the amount in the home was greatly increased owing to illegitimacy.

The following assessments were ordered for the municipal home: Cardwell, $137.68; Greenwald, $181.50; Hammond, $141.10; Hampton, $280.60; Havelock, $200.73; Kars, $35.50; Kingston, $181.27; Norton, $373.20; Rothery, $194.72; Springfield, $410.11; Studholm, $68.37; Sussex town, $428.11; Sussex parish, $144.69; Upham, $136.29; Waterford, $146.23; Westfield, $66.13.

At the afternoon session it was ordered that the municipal home accounts should be submitted for auditing on or before Jan. 1 of every year. Residents of Smith's Creek presented a petition against the construction of a new road laid out from Newtown to Jordan Mountain. The petition was accepted and no action taken towards completing the road.

The buildings committee was empowered to install the heating plant as recommended by Mr. Barr. It is deemed advisable to install a heating plant in the new school building. The town of Cardwell, N. B., has been referred to the forward movement in New Brunswick, pointing out that Kings county should have many new settlers in order to develop the county.

A special assessment of $405.75 was ordered on Sussex parish to defray indebtedness incurred previous to 1908. The payment of $3 to members of the finance committee who attended the July meeting was ordered.

Coun. Gilbert then asked for a revaluation of Rothery parish in order to remedy what he claimed was an unfair discrimination against the property holders there. When the last valuation was made, he said, he had protested against the business of the Thomsons, who had opened an office at Rothery, being valued at $20,000, as he intended to see that the office was removed from the parish. Now this had been done and the rest of the people had to make up the balance of the $20,000 debt that the valuation was so high that their rate proportionately was really twenty cents higher than the rest of the county.

Some of the councillors expressed the opinion that the other parishes were paying more than their share and that the Rothery rate should be increased rather than lowered. The matter was not pressed to a vote, however, and will be taken up again today.

It was getting dark and some of the councillors had risen to go when the warden rapped for the council to adjourn. There had an important motion, moved by Coun. Hanford Price and seconded by Coun. Murray. This was to the effect that the council request the provincial government to remove Dr. F. H. Wetmore as chairman of the county board of health, and appoint Dr. H. G. Folkins, of Norton.

GREAT FACTORY FOR ALBERT COUNTY LIKELY

As a result of the visit of British experts now on the ocean on their way to New Brunswick to finally report on the cement possibilities of the Albert county deposits.

The Telegraph is informed on reliable authority that the product will not be less than 2,500 barrels a day and that, necessarily, a very large payroll will be sustained.

As there is no plant of importance in the Maritime provinces and there is an increasing demand for cement for construction purposes, it will be very easy to find a market for the large product of the factory which has been developed and expected in the cement district.

NORTON WOMAN HAD CLOSE CALL

Norton, N. B., Jan. 23—As the result of taking carbolic acid, it is said in mistake for medicine, Mrs. Ernest Myers, of this village, hovered between life and death this morning, though it is believed that she will now recover.

Mrs. Ernest Myers has been in ill health for some time, and about 10 o'clock this morning, it is told, she took a dose from the bottle containing the deadly poison, which was among other bottles near by.

Dr. H. G. Folkins was hastily summoned and worked for some time over the unconscious woman. For a time her life was despaired of but at a late hour last night she had regained consciousness and it was considered that she would recover.

Mrs. Myers is the wife of Ernest Myers, a carpenter, and she is the mother of eight children. Her husband, who is about twenty and the youngest about four.

"I see another one of your patients is dead." "Yes; and I am greatly perturbed over his case. I gave him two kinds of medicine, and I don't know which one it was that killed him,"—Judge.

RESTIGOUCHE COUNTY COUNCIL

Smallpox Bill of More Than $2,000 Ordered Paid—Against Rebuilding Lock-up in Campbellton—Other Matters

Dalhousie, N. B., Jan. 25.—The municipal council of Restigouche concluded its January session yesterday afternoon after routine business largely taking up the attention of the councilors. The following comprise the new council: Durham—John Lawlor, Archie Murenie, Elton—William Copeland, Murdoch Firth.

Building and lands committee—Councilors Mawhinney, Mowatt and Lawlor. Delegates to union of municipalities—Councilors Mawhinney and Arsenault. A valuation of the county was taken during 1911 by W. W. Doherty, Campbellton; Timothy Robinson, Dalhousie; John J. Arsenault, Balmora. The report of the board of valuers was accepted by the council last week.

The county value of real property, and personal as shown by the recent valuation amounts to $2,672,982.30. The bills submitted by the board of health for the stamping out of smallpox, etc., in the county for last year and voted to be paid amounted to $2,081. The only vexatious question that the council had to deal with outside of smallpox bills was the proposition submitted by Councillor Mowatt of Campbellton that the county rebuild and maintain a lock-up in the town of Campbellton. Considerable discussion took place and finally a majority decided that no action be taken.

The town of Campbellton is such an important part of the county and pays such a heavy share of county taxation, that no doubt this matter will come up again for consideration at an early date.

CEMENT PROPERTIES ARE ALSO INCLUDED WITH OIL SHALES

Albert County Deal Likely to Be Put Through Soon—Another Deal of Interest

Tuesday, Jan. 23. Negotiations which have been in progress affecting the Albert county oil shales also include, it is understood, the cement properties which are in process of development there. The deal is being put through in London and word of its completion is expected at any time. The announcement of the purchase will be received with much interest in the province.

It was also reported yesterday that a large block of the stock of the Moncton Tramway, Electric & Gas Company had been sold to a syndicate of experienced New York and Pittsburgh men. This deal, it is said, does not take in the oil wells, as they are controlled by the petroleum company, but affects only the distribution and sale of the gas and the introduction of American capital will help to more rapidly bring about the utilization of the natural gas for industrial purposes.

The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock from her late residence, 46 Mill street, to the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception for requiem mass.
