ALLIED WARSHIPS TRAIN GUNS ON CONSTANTINOPLE AS TROOPS TAKE POSSESSION OF THE CITY

Arrival of Allied Forces Causes Little Excitement — Four Thousand Marines Landed From British War Vessels—Italian Detachments Have Some Moslems in Ranks.

Constantinople, March 17.—Allied troops have occupied this city, and the great guns of the British dreadnought Benbow and other giant Allied warships, moored to quays or anchored in the Golden Horn, command both sides of the Bosphorus. Every ship is cleared for action. The actual arrival of Allied forces caused little alarm, nor were there any signs of panic, except in Stamboul. Shopkeepers near the war office there closed their places of business when it was heard that the Allies were coming, but the troops inspired confidence, and the stores were soon reopened. All the Allied powers participated in the movement, being under orders from the British commander-in-chief here, the Italian contingents including detachments having Moslems on their rosters.

Four thousand bluejackets and marines were landed by the British warships.

EQUALIZE ASSESSMENT AND INCREASE BUSINESS PROPERTY

Mayor Says That Every Effort Will Be Made To Adjust Matters This Year—Residences Paying Full Share, But Much Valuable Property Is Not Assessed Enough.

"Every effort to equalize assessment in London will be made this year," said Mayor E. S. Little today. "Now that the tax rate has been struck the council will have a little more time to give to this matter, and an attempt will be made to bring about an improvement. Of course it is absolutely impossible to entirely equalize assessment to the satisfaction of everyone, but things can certainly be a lot different than they are now."

This statement from the mayor today bears out the belief that need for a radical revision in the rate of assessment is necessary. It is understood that aldermen expressed themselves strongly about it Monday night when dealing with the estimates, and will support the mayor in a demand for a change.

The general claim is that residential properties of from $2,000 to $5,000 in value, are assessed to almost 100 per cent of their value, while large business properties are assessed very low in comparison with their present value.

Recent sales in the business district indicate that the assessment is far too low, it is claimed, sometimes being less than 50 per cent of the actual price paid. On the other hand Assessment Commissioner Grant claims that these sales cannot all be taken as a basis for assessment, as abnormal conditions are the cause of the high prices paid for the property. The surrounding property will not be permanently affected by these conditions.

MANY PETITIONS TO BE PRESENTED TO LEGISLATURE

One Will Ask For Earlier Date For Municipal Elections.

TO CENTRALIZE CONTROL

Request Regarding Commission Government Also Coming Up for Consideration.

Mayor Little and Ald. John Bridge left for Toronto today to appear before the Legislature regarding a number of petitions being made by London and other municipalities. An impression has been abroad that the City of London bill would be taken up by the Legislature tomorrow. This is not the case, Mayor Little said just before leaving the city.

"Some of the petitions we are making may also be included in the London bill, but the bill will not come up until later," he stated.

Representatives from more than 20 Ontario municipalities will also be in Toronto Thursday, together with London's representatives. They will meet at the King Edward Hotel in the morning before going to the Legislature. The Londoners will likely be chosen to present the case for some of the petitions.

To Change Date.

Among the petitions being presented is one to change the date of municipal elections to one earlier in the year. Another petition will ask that provision be made for travelers to vote before the regular date of election if they expect to be out of the city on that day.

Another important change in existing legislation which will be asked is permission for members of the city council to sit on other commissions, such as the board of health, the railway commisson, town planning commission and similar bodies. This was possible until two years ago, when an amendment was inserted in the municipal act forbidding it. Because of this the council did not form a town planning commission this year, as it would have no control over it. Instead it formed a town-planning committee, on which the council has four representatives. It is felt that control should be centralized by the council having representation on all these bodies.

Commission Government.

Permission for municipalities to have commission form of government if they desire will be another petition.

Remission to the municipalities of a portion of automobile license fees and police court fines will be asked also.

No definite announcement has been made as to when the City of London bill will come before the Legislature. It is understood that Dr. H. A. Stevenson, the member for London, is endeavoring to have it brought in this week, but it is doubtful if it will be ready in time.

Working on Bill.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith is working on the bill. It has been advertised in a more or less "skeleton" form. As the advertisement occupied nearly two columns of newspaper space the "skeleton" is regarded as a fairly "fleshy" one. It is quite possible that the actual bill will not be as large as the advertisement.

It is possible to strike out portions of the bill while it is not possible to add anything to it once it has gone to the Legislature. The general practice is to give notice that application is being made for everything which may be included in the bill. Some of the clauses may be struck out later, but they are advertised, so that they may be included in the bill if the council thinks it necessary.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

Port Natal, March 17. — Arrived: Steamer New Georgia (British), St. John.

BRITISH STEAMER IS WRECKED ON ROCKS NEAR NEWFOUNDLAND

Crew Takes to Boats — Chances of Rescue Are Slight.

Halifax, March 17.—The British steamer Tewkesbury piled up in St. Mary's Bay, Nfld., during last night. The ship broke up almost immediately, the crew of 30 taking to the small boats, with small chance of rescue owing to the precipitous cliffs which lined the shore.

WATER SURROUNDED HOUSES AT ST. MARYS

[Special To The Advertiser.]

St. Marys, March 17.—The turn to cooler weather has averted what threatened to be perhaps the most serious flood here in years. The long-looked-for breakup on the Thames and Trout Creek came yesterday afternoon. Huge blocks of ice came down. The rush of the waters was so great that the dam and the river below were on a level and almost reached the top of the stone wall of the C. P. R. abutting the railway tracks. Had there been rain along with the thaw it would have been serious. On the east side of Thomas street, below Victoria bridge, several residences were surrounded by water.

YESTERDAY'S BUSINESS IN BRITISH COMMONS

London, March 17.—(By Canadian Press).—The Commons yesterday returned to the debate on national expenditure and high prices while discussing the civil service estimates. An amendment to make a big reduction in one of the votes was defeated.

The House of Lords read a second time a bill to amend the criminal law, which was sent, with two other measures on the same subject, to a special committee. Second reading also given to war emergency laws continuance bill. Bill's object is to facilitate the enforcement of maintenance orders in the United Kingdom, and the dominionsa rendered desirable by the many cases of persons liable having absconded overseas. The bill originated in a resolution of the imperial conference in 1911, and all dominions, except some Canadian provinces, have accepted the principle and promised reciprocal legislation.

FORCE COUNCIL TO RESPECT WISHES OF LONDON RATEPAYERS

Labor Men Declare They Will Make Every Effort They Can.

RESENT PRESENT ACTION

Mass Meetings Will Be Held To Arouse Interest of Citizens.

Mass meetings, deputations and resolutions are only the first steps in a fight that will be carried on to the last ditch, to force the city council to respect the will of the people as expressed at the last civic elections, according to several prominent labor men when interviewed today. Combined labor organizations in this city are prepared to carry on an active campaign to protect the rights of the people which they allege are being flagrantly violated by means of the London bill.

With one accord the labor men bitterly resent the adding of items to the municipal bill which they claim are contrary to the expressed will of the people, in spite of protests and resolutions opposing such a step made by the different labor organizations to the council. The most recent step of the council in cutting the estimates for the playgrounds from $20,000 to one-half that amount after the citizens definitely stated they desired to spend such a sum when the vote was taken, has added fuel to the fire.

Take Active Steps.

According to the secretary of the Independent Labor party, that body is intending to take active steps. At the last Sunday meeting the matter was gone into thoroughly, and as a result the L. L. C., the standing convention for delegates from all labor and soldier organizations in the city, was asked to send a deputation to Toronto to fight the matter through labor members. On next Sunday, he said, the question would be taken up again. The matter would not stop there, for the I. L. P. of Ontario was to hold a convention in this city in June, and it was expected that eleven labor members of Parliament would be present and the matter would be brought before them.

Outside Help.

Joseph Marks of Toronto, the editor of the Industrial Banner, is visiting at the home of J. F. Thompson today. Mr. Thompson, who expressed indignation at the attempts of the council, said that he would take the question up with Mr. Wood and ask him to use his influence when he returns to Toronto tonight with the labor member of the House. He, too, said that the I. L. P. intended to actively fight the council.

Two weeks ago the trades and labor council forwarded a resolution to the council, asking them not to add anything to the bill that had been voted upon by the people. The matter will probably be taken up at their meeting tonight.

Defying People.

Henry B. Ashplant said that the council was guilty of impertinence and that they were absolutely defying the will of the people. The fight would be carried on so hard that even though the bill carried through the House he felt that public sentiment would be strong, and the opposition from the labor parties so great that the council would be forced to let all the propositions drop. He said that it did not necessarily follow that the council would take these steps even though permission had been gained from the Legislature.

William Tite, who is to head the deputation that is to go to Toronto, said that the action that the city council has taken in cutting the playgrounds would be brought to the attention of the members of the House as further proof of their alleged disrespect of the people's will.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT TO FURNISH NEWSPRINT TO BRITISH NEWSPAPERS

Stockholm, March 17.—The Bolshevik Government in Russia has authorized its local agent, Strom, to furnish to the London Daily Herald, organ of the Laborites, 500 tons of print paper at the Soviet Government's expense. It is asserted that this arrangement was made by George Lansbury, editor of the Herald, who recently visited Russia.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES OF HIS OWN

GERMAN INDEPENDENT SOCIALISTS FAVOR SOVIET REPUBLIC AND AN ALLIANCE WITH THE RUSSIAN REDS

London, March 17.—Independent Socialists and Communists in Germany have commenced a violent agitation in favor of a Soviet republic and an alliance with Soviet Russia, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

TWO FLEETS OF U. S. NAVY TO TEST STRENGTH IN BATTLE OFF WEST COAST OF PANAMA

Washington, March 17. — The Pacific and Atlantic fleets will meet off the Pacific coast of Panama next January in their first joint manoeuvres, designed to keep the navy "on its toes" during peace time.

This was decided today at conferences between Secretary Daniels and Admirals Rodman and Wilson, the fleet commanders, who will work out details. It is practically certain that a mimic battle between the fleets, approaching as nearly as possible actual warfare, will be arranged. It may also serve as an actual test of the Panama Canal as an element of naval strategy.

After the practice is at an end, the combined fleets will visit the principal Pacific coast ports of the United States so as to give the people there an opportunity to see the nation's full naval fighting force. It will be the first time that the entire battleship strength has visited the Pacific coast since the Atlantic fleet made its memorable cruise around the world in 1907-08.

The fleet which will steam out of Panama Bay for San Francisco next year will be many times as large and as powerful as that which the late Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans took through the Golden Gate in 1908 after a voyage around Cape Horn. There will be sixteen battleships of the dreadnought class—the same number that circled the globe—perhaps a dozen second-line battleships, eleven cruisers, and all the supporting units of destroyers, submarine and auxiliaries.

Among the second line ships will be a number that made the cruise around the world. But they will go to the Pacific before that time, as six of them, including the Connecticut, which was Admiral Evans' flagship back in 1908, have been assigned to take the midshipmen from Annapolis on June 8 on a cruise which will carry them to Hawaii and to several Pacific ports. The voyage will end August 28.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN MADE ATTEMPT TO VISIT THE EX-KAISER

Leaves a Bouquet for Wilhelm After Being Denied Admittance.

Amerongen, March 17.—Considerable excitement was caused here on Sunday by an attempt by a mysterious German woman to visit former Emperor William. She appeared at the gates of Bentinck Castle, but was denied admittance, and later had a conversation with the steward at the castle, leaving a bouquet of flowers for Count Hohenzollern.

There were rumors that her name was Kapp, which is the name of the chancellor of the new German Government, but there is no confirmation of this report as yet. The former emperor is still engaged in sawing wood, and is not permitted to leave the castle, even for a visit at Doorn, since Saturday.

DAKOTA EXPERIENCING WORST BLIZZARD IN THE STATE SINCE 1888

Bismarck, N. D., March 17.—The blizzard which has gripped North Dakota for two days, with a loss of at least four lives, is the worst since 1888, according to reports to the weather bureau. No freight trains were running in the state last night, and several passenger trains were reported stalled in the snow.

The four frozen to death were the small sons of Gus Wohlka, a farmer, near Rider.

LOSES JOB BECAUSE OF CONNECTION WITH THE GROCERS' INQUIRY

Arthur S. Porter of Hamilton Announces He Has Nothing To Regret.

Hamilton, March 17.—Arthur S. Porter, Hamilton manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, has lost his position through his connection with the grocers' inquiry. Mr. Porter confirmed the report today.

"I firmly believe that I acted as a gentleman and a Canadian citizen in placing the information which I did at the disposal of the crown," said Mr. Porter. "I have no fear of accepting any consequences which any action of mine may entail as long as that action has the approval of my conscience. I still believe I acted in the best interest of the community.

Porter is the man who really started the grocers' proceedings. When he got word of what he suspected was a combine he promptly got Premier Drury on the long-distance phone and unfolded his story.

AGED INDIAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

[Special To The Advertiser.]

Moravian town, March 17.—Isaac Hill, an aged Indian, was burned to death in a blaze which completely destroyed his home last night. Neighbors noticed that the house was on fire about 10:30, but when they arrived the log building was burning so fiercely they could do nothing. Only a few bones were found in the ashes. Coroner Stewart of Thamesville is looking after the case. Hill was about 80 years old.

He has one son living here.

In his younger days he attended the Institute at Muncey, and was a member of the Methodist Church for many years.

SUMMARY OF LATEST EVENTS IN GERMANY

[By the Associated Press.]

The Kapp administration of Berlin, realizing the futility of attempting to hold the reins of power, has decided to give up its short-lived dictatorship. At 1 o'clock this afternoon Chancellor Kapp decided to resign, according to official advices from the German capital.

Expressions of confidence in the speedy restoration of the Ebert Government to complete control come from the headquarters of that Government in Stuttgart. Minister of Defence Noske is quoted as declaring he expects, with the aid of his troops, to secure the return of normal conditions in six or eight days.

Meanwhile, however, the forces of extreme radicalism are asserting themselves in various German centres. There are increasing Spartacan disorders and growing talk among the radicals of the possibility of utilizing the present disturbed conditions to establish soviet rule. The list of killed reported from numerous German towns and cities in clashes between demonstrators and troops is mounting into the hundreds.

There has been no direct confirmation of Tuesday night's reports of 400 killed in a bombardment of Kiel by a warship, but there are apparently various reports of 100 killed and 300 wounded at Dresden, probably more than 100 killed in Berlin suburbs, and the killing of from a half dozen to a score of persons in others of the 24 or more German centres where clashes have been reported.

RAILWAY COMMISSION INTIMATES DECISION WILL BE MADE SOON

U. S. Railways Expected To Accept Prepayment of Freight.

COMPROMISE ADVISED

Chief Commissioner Carvell's Plan Is Favorably Received.

Ottawa, March 17. — By the Canadian Press.—An early decision by the railway commission in the complaint of the Canadian shippers against the non-prepayment regulation of the railways was indicated this morning, following argument by the railways in support of their regulation. Chief Commissioner Carvell requested that any interested parties who had decided to submit written statements should do so without delay. Both sides completed their case before the board this morning. The chief commissioner at the close of the case remarked that he hoped for a decision next week. The situation as it stood was causing a great deal of trouble, and the sooner the board was able to define its attitude in the matter the better.

It was intimated at the hearing this morning that the United States railways would probably accept prepayment of freight for export from American ports. W. S. Pillson of the Montreal Board of Trade stated that negotiations along these lines were now under way, and it seemed likely that the railways across the line would consent to lose the difference in exchange in order to obtain the Canadian export business. The reason for this was that they would otherwise run the danger of losing a great deal of business to Canadian ports, such as St. John, Halifax, and, at the opening of navigation, Montreal.

Chief Commissioner Carvell suggested that a compromise might be effected on the situation by fixing the rate of exchange every Monday. A Canadian shipper going into an office would be required to pay a certain percentage of the freight rate in Canadian funds, and the exchange would be added to the remaining percentage. This suggestion appeared to be regarded favorably by some of the shippers.

OLDEST ORANGEMAN IN CANADA IS DEAD

Ex-Alderman Joseph Tait of Kingston Expires.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kingston, March 17.—Canada's oldest Orangeman died this morning at 2 o'clock, in the person of ex-Ald. Joseph Tait. He was in his 94th year, and had been a member of the Orange Order for 73 years, and during that time only missed two annual parades. He joined the order at McConrill's Hall, County Armagh, Ireland, in June, 1845. He had been a resident of Kingston for 73 years. He served in the city council for several years, and carried on the business of a mason contractor. He had been in failing health for some time, but had only been confined to his bed for one week. Although one of the old boys in years, he was one of the young boys celebrating the glorious 12th, as he was always enthusiastic. Deceased is survived by his son, Robert, of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Napoleon Newell of this city, and Mrs. S. C. Masterson of Walla Walla, Washington. The funeral, to be held on Friday afternoon, will be of a public nature, conducted by the Orange Order.

THREATENED WITH VIOLENCE FROM ARMED GERMAN WORKMEN, DR. KAPP DECIDES TO RELINQUISH HIS POWER

Decision of New German Dictator Is Reached After Stormy Interview With Independent Socialists — General Strike Reported To Be Effective in All Parts of German Empire.

SPARTACAN RISING FEARED.

Paris, March 17.—The news that came through during the night from Berlin and other German points, telling of sanguinary clashes at Essen, Dortmund, Leipsic, Mannheim, Frankfort and Brunswick, together with a report that a council of workmen had assumed power at Chemnitz, has given the impression here that there is more to be feared from a revival of the Spartacan movement than from the activities of the Kapp Government in Berlin.

According to the latest dispatches, the military government has resulted in bloodshed in twenty-four German towns. The Spartacans are reported to have risen in Dresden, where a clash with troops is declared to have resulted in a casualty list of 100 dead and 300 wounded. Fighting in Breslau, Hamburg and Kiel also is reported.

Paris, March 17.—Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the new German chancellor, and Gen. von. Luettwitz, his military lieutenant, have decided to retire from the direction of the German governmental affairs unconditionally, according to a dispatch received here from Frankfort, quoting advices to the Gazette of that city. It is said this decision was reached after negotiations with Independent Socialists, led by Dr. Cohn, in which the latter had threatened to attack the new government forces with armed workmen. A Wolff Bureau dispatch from Berlin states Col. Bauer, confidential adviser of Gen. Ludendorff, has been assassinated. The general strike is effective over nearly all of Germany.

GERMANY FACING BOLSHEVIK REIGN FROM SOCIALISTS

London, March 17.—Machine gun firing was heard in Berlin between 11 and 12 o'clock last night, says a message to the Exchange Telegraph Company today from the German capital.

During the day a detachment of soldiers passed through the Brunnenstrasse, headed by a band playing "Heil Dir Im Siegerkranz." Workmen immediately charged the troops and a skirmish ensued, in which a number of men were killed and others wounded, the message adds.

At Spandau 69 persons, nearly all workmen, were reported killed, and the fighting is continuing.

The correspondent reports that big trucks are constantly passing through the streets, loaded down with armed soldiers, who point their guns in the direction of the sidewalks.

The message reiterated the report that Field Marshal von Hindenburg had sent a telegram to Dr. Kapp asking him to resign immediately in the event the old government agreed to hold new elections.

"The excitement in Berlin and in the rest of the nation is increasing. Berlin has been rather quiet up to the present, nevertheless the troops tonight fired upon the population. Yesterday in a clash in front of the palace at Potsdam twelve persons were killed and many others wounded. In a similar clash at the town hall in Schonberg twelve persons were killed.

"The Kapp Government is still endeavoring to view the situation with an optimistic eye, but everyone is convinced that the strike will be successful, that both the socialistic parties are working together, and that military action by the laborers is probable within a few days.

"The number of Independent Socialists is increasing daily. The final result will be that they will come into power, and then Bolshevism will threaten Germany."

NOSKE IS CONFIDENT HE CAN BRING ABOUT ORDER IN FEW DAYS

London, March 17.—A military patrol of Goerlitz, Prussian Silesia, having been driven back by a crowd, fired and killed two civilians, according to a dispatch from Berlin under Monday's date.

The Government of Mecklenburg and Schwerin have signed a declaration that they are ready to retire in order to avoid bloodshed, the dispatch says:

Gen. Watter, commander of the Deichawehr in the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region, has convened the workmen's councils to aid in maintaining order.

Gustav Noske, minister of defence in the Ebert Government, is confident of his ability to restore normal conditions in Germany within a comparatively brief time, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch, quoting an interview with him at Stuttgart.

"Large contingents of imperial defence troops are at our disposal," Noske is quoted as declaring. "I am confident, we will succeed in restoring order.

REFUSE TO NEGOTIATE.

London, March 17.—Gen. Merker, Dr. Karl Wilhelmheine of the Prussian ministry and others arrived at Stuttgart from Berlin late on Tuesday, according to a Stuttgart dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. Members of the Ebert cabinet conferred for a long time, and decided not to enter into negotiations with the delegation.

59 KILLED AT TREVES.

Paris, March 17.—Fifty-nine persons have been killed and upwards of 100 wounded in disorders at Treves, in the American zone of occupation, southwest of Coblenz, according to advices received here. Revised figures for the casualties in the fighting at Dresden are said to show that more than 100 were killed and 300 wounded.

Disorders were caused at Bonn yesterday, when a French military truck accidentally injured several person while crossing a street, according to a Berlin dispatch to the journal. The mines in the Ruhr district of Germany are reported to be in the hands of workmen favoring the Ebert Government.

EBERT REMAINS FIRM.

Copenhagen, March 17.—President Ebert, head of the German Government, driven from Berlin last Saturday morning, stands firm to his determination not to have any relations with the new regime at the capital, says a short telegram received here from Stuttgart. President Ebert declares: "I am in complete accord with the imperial government. We have not so far deviated from the declarations we made on Friday night as to reply to the insurgents' ultimatum. There can be no question of an understanding with the perjured enemies of the German constitution."

MAY PREVENT MEETING.

Stuttgart, March 17.—It is doubtful if the German National Assembly will be able to meet here today, as planned. Because of the railroad strike a great many members will be unable to reach this city in time for the opening of the session, which was set yesterday for 4 o'clock this afternoon.

NEW GOVERNMENT NEAR END.

Amsterdam, March 17.—"The present Berlin Government will not be maintained much longer," the Berlin correspondent of the Handelsblad today telegraphed to his newspaper. "Gen. Merker's efforts at conciliation may be considered to have failed.

"Field Marshal von Hindenburg yesterday sent a telegram to Chancellor Kapp, demanding the immediate withdrawal of the Kapp troops and the establishment of a constitutional government. He sent a similar telegram to President Ebert."

EBERT CONTROLS HAMBURG.

Copenhagen, March 17.—Hamburg and its western suburb, Altona, are now definitely in the hands of the followers of the Ebert Government of Germany, according to a dispatch to the Social Democraten.

PHONE COMMUNICATION SEVERED

Amsterdam, March 17.—German telephone communication with Berlin was stopped again last evening, the Berlin correspondent of the Handelsblad telegraphed that this was done at the order of Chancellor Kapp for the purpose of cutting off all opportunities of uncensored communications.

WORKINGMEN PROCLAIM RULE.

Basle, Switzerland, March 17.—A dispatch from Chemnitz, the industrial centre in Saxony, with a population of more than 200,000, says a republic of workingmen's councils has been proclaimed there. A committee of action has been formed, comprising ten Communists, six Independent Socialists, four Majority Socialists and one Democrat.

All the bourgeois papers in the city have been suppressed, the dispatch adds.

It is stated that he will likely be in Ottawa about May 1. As the session is expected to continue for a couple of weeks after that date the expectations are that the premier will be in his place in the Commons chamber before prorogation.

"BOARDING HOUSE FOR BABIES" TO OPEN IN CITY VERY SHORTLY

Matron Will Be Appointed by Those in Charge Next Week.

With the appointment of a matron next week the establishment of a "boarding-house for babies" in London will be well under way. The use of a house owned by the city at 824 King street has been granted, and the project has been taken up by a number of local women.

They have advertised for applications for a matron and a cook. Volunteer help will also be asked, in addition to these two permanent officials.

Mrs. A. T. Edwards is one of those chiefly interested in the work. The need of such an establishment was brought to her attention in connection with her experience as a school trustee. It was found that many children were being kept home from school because their mothers had to work for a living and could not give them the necessary attention.

The plan which is now being considered will permit mothers who have to work to leave their children at the "boarding-house." Here they will be properly cared for. Those who are old enough will be sent to school. They will be given dinner at noon, and will return to the house after 4 o'clock, where they will be cared for until 6 o'clock. They will be given their suppers before being sent home.

This will entirely relieve the mothers of all responsibility, and in addition will insure the children receiving a proper education. A charge of 25 cents a day will be made for looking after each child. Where there is more than one child from one family 5 cents will be charged for each additional one.

IS ORDERED TO LEAVE HIS MOTHER'S HOME

Lawson McGuire appeared in police court today for being disorderly in his mother's home and was warned by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon to leave the house. The case was adjourned for two weeks, during which time, if any trouble occurs, the accused's mother will notify the police, in accordance with advice given her by the court.

When questioned by the magistrate the defendant stated that he had been working at one firm for the past eight months. He hesitated to reply when asked if he paid any board. His mother stated that he paid for his keep, but only once in a while.

"You are apparently sponging on your mother," remarked the magistrate. "You will have to leave the house."

URGES DESTRUCTION OF ENGLISH SPARROW

An interesting lecture on "Spring Migrants," was given by W. E. Saunders of this city before the Hamilton Bird Protection Society in Hamilton Monday evening. The lecture, besides covering the migration, gave an insight to the habits of the birds.

One of the most interesting things Mr. Saunders mentioned about the feathered clans' habits was the most vulnerable part of the birds to act on when trying to make friends with them. This, he said, was their stomach, and keeping their stomach full was about the only way a bird could be kept in the vicinity unless caged. The destruction of the English sparrow was urged by Mr. Saunders during his lecture, although he wished the Government to stop the carrying of guns on the roads during the spring and summer months, when a large number of harmless birds are wantonly shot.

TRACKS UNDER WATER AT JEANETTES CREEK

The Grand Trunk tracks at Jeannette's Creek are flooded, but the trains are still running through. Jeannette's Creek is a short distance west of Chatham. Should the water rise much higher, it may be deemed advisable to run all Detroit trains around via Port Huron. It was hoped today, however, with cooler weather, that this would not prove necessary. No great delays in train time have resulted yet, but all precautions are being taken by running trains slowly at points where washouts are liable to occur.

DID SOMEONE GIVE A WRONG NAME TO GOVT. AGENTS?

Fred Bissell Pleads Not Guilty To Charge of Selling Whiskey.

Fred Bissell in police court today pleaded not guilty to selling whiskey, but after part of the evidence had been heard the case was adjourned until Friday in order that three witnesses who are to arrive from out-of-town may be heard. This was done with the consent of the crown attorney, J. B. McKillop, who was conducting the prosecution.

Roy Cutts and Cyril Henry, two Ontario Government agents, who laid 22 charges of bootlegging in this city in December, swore that they had purchased a bottle from the defendant on Sunday, December 28, at the home of Charles Cox, 165 Horton street. The price paid was said to be $9. The only other time they had seen him was on December 21. He was then at 165 Horton street.

A local girl swore that she had met Bissell in September. On November 16 he left for Bedford, a suburb of Cleveland, Ohio. He returned to this city on December 2, and left again on Sunday, December 21. During his absence from the city he had written her several letters, which she produced.

Bissell stated that he never had met Cutts and Henry, and did not know Mr. Cox. In fact, he had never been on Horton street since his return to the city. He knew that a warrant was out for his arrrest, but he would not leave town, because he was innocent.

On Friday his mother, brother and sister will be here from Cleveland to swear that he was at his home at the time that he was said to have sold the liquor.

GRATUITY PETITIONS FOR $2,000 REACH HOUSE OF COMMONS

OTTAWA, March 16.—(By Canadian Press.)—The J. Harry Flynn proposals for a $2,000 cash bonus to soldiers who served in France are not dead; they were introduced in the House of Commons again today with some elaboration in the form of two petitions. These documents, one with some 250 names of soldiers attached, and the other with some 300 names, a large number of which are women's, were introduced by R. C. Hocken (Toronto West).

The signatures are very largely of Toronto people. The petitions renew the demand for a further cash bonus of $2,000 for service in France, $1,500 for service in Canada, and similar bonuses for naval men.

Turley, Toronto, reached here this afternoon and immediately went into committee.

CITY IN DARKNESS WHEN HIGH WINDS CUT POWER CIRCUIT

Lights Went Out Just As the City Tax Rate Was Decided.

Light and power circuits in London were shut off completely for several minutes last night as the result of the windstorm. Trouble occurred on the main supply lines, which put the whole city in darkness for a brief space.

Citizens were at a loss to account for the complete shut-down. Telephone wires were almost burned out when hundreds of people attempted to get in touch with the hydro station to see what was the matter.

One call even came to the committee room at the city hall.

"What's the matter with the lights at 1002 Elmwood avenue?" asked a voice.

"Guess they must be out on a sympathetic strike. All the lights up here are gone, too," replied the facetious alderman who had answered the call.

Superstitious councillors could have found an omen in the episode. They just finished setting the 1920 tax rate at 40 mills. The work was no sooner completed than the lights flickered and went out.

TELLS OF UNREST HERE IN THE EARLY DAYS

Diary of Rev. Wm. Proudfoot Recounts Troubles of 1837.

Unrest that was not unlike that following the great war prevailed in the district around London in the months that followed the uprising of 1837-8. The record of a man who lived through the period, was himself mixed up in the troubles to some extent, and who undoubtedly took risks for what he regarded as the right, is contained in the diary of Rev. William Proudfoot, further extracts from which were read by Miss Priddis at the Historical Society's meeting in the public library last night. Portions of the diary have already been published by the society, and it is the intention to publish further extracts from the portions that have been presented.

Bitter Animosities.

The hatreds and bitter animosities that prevailed in the village of London in 1838 and 1839 were doubtless typical of the state of things in the country generally. Man's hand was raised against his fellows. On the part of the element that sympathized with the family compact there was a state of feeling which Mr. Proudfoot himself describes in his diary as a "savage lust of blood."

No less than six men were hanged in London, and there was considerable brutality in the treatment accorded the prisoners during the time that they were in custody before their leath.

Found His Nephew.

Mr. Proudfoot had the bitter experience of finding his own nephew, James Atcheson, jailed along with others, and he records the efforts he made on behalf of the young man who apparently ultimately escaped death. Mr. Proudfoot carried his plea direct to the governor, Sir George Arthur, who came to London at the height of the trouble. He records in his diary that he interviewed the governor, and apparently made some impression, but immediately he had left a delegation, representing the ultra-Tory party, interviewed the governor and presented a black case against Atcheson. The young man lingered in prison for some time, and was then removed with others to Toronto. The trial of Atcheson, held in London court house, the writer of the diary, is described as having been a regular farce as far as justice was concerned. The judge advocate, in summing up, presented every scrap of evidence that could be turned against him and then dismissed all that had been said in his favor as unreliable.

Mr. Proudfoot was of the opinion that the Tory element in London were really after his own scalp, but that failing to get him they were venting their spite on the nephew. Altogether it is a black picture of the period that his diary records, and the whole record forms a most unique document of a time that shook the colony to its very foundations.

ARGUMENT IN CASE OF COMMERCE BOARD FINISHED AT OTTAWA

Decision of Supreme Court To Be Given Shortly.

OTTAWA, March 16.—(Canadian Press.)—The status of the Board of Commerce as a superior court of Canada, challenged by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, the Attorney-General of Alberta, and many private firms, chief of which is Price Brotners and Company, paper manufacturers, will be decided forthwith by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Argument for all these contestants on one hand, and for the Attorney-General of Canada on the other, was concluded in the supreme court in the hearing to decide whether the combines and fair prices act was ultra vires in its prohibition of the accumulation of manufactured goods by the manufacturer, and in its appointment of a tribunal such as the Board of Commerce to decide, first, what commodities shall be forced on the market at a price to be fixed, and then to proceed against merchants who refuse to carry out their orders.

The arguments pro and con lasted two days. The decision of the supreme court will be handed down in due course.

TO BE! OR NOT TO BE! VACCINATED, THE QUESTION

United States Official Has No Instructions Re Lifting of Ban.

SARNIA, March 16.—Speaking on the vaccination question here tonight, Dr. George M. Kesle of the United States Public Health Office, when told of the Sarnia dispatch revoking the vaccination order, said that he had received no such instructions, and that to the best of his information now the vaccination order would continue effective. Dr. Kesle said that a letter which he had received advised him that there appeared no signs of rescinding the order in the immediate future.

Word was received in Sarnia from Ottawa stating that the United States Health Department had notified the Canadian officials that the vaccination ban at all borders would be lifted at midnight on March 19, and that Canadians could then enter the U. S. A. without undergoing the vaccination scratches.

FOUR-MILE ICE JAM AT MOUTH OF THAMES; MUCH LAND FLOODED

Ice On Lake St. Clair Reported Still Intact and Three Feet Thick.

CHATHAM, March 16.—The inevitable jamming of the ice in the vicinity of Prarie Siding has occurred, as a result of the general break-up of the ice on the Thames River yesterday. One jam extends for four miles, and the river has overflowed its banks in many parts. Low-lying lands are inundated, particularly at the mouth of the river, where for some distance inland the water is reported two feet deep on the average. The ice on Lake St. Clair is still reported to be intact, and in places is three feet thick. The Chatham Chamber of Commerce is taking action with a view of having the proper authorities arrange to dynamite the jammed ice.

City Engineer Adams today issued a plea to the citizens to conserve the water supply. As a result of the freshet, the water at the taps is a dark brown. He stated that the plant was taxed to the limit this morning, which he attributed to the fact that people allowed their taps to run in the hope that the water would clear.

G. T. R. RENEWS LEASE OF CANADIAN LINES TO WABASH RAILWAY

Grand Trunk Officials To Discuss Increase of Passenger Service.

DETROIT, March 16.—It was announced here today that the Grand Trunk Railway has renewed for 21 years the lease held by the Wabash Railway on the line between Windsor and Black Rock. The announcement of the lease renewed came as a surprise to local Wabash officials who understood that the Wabash was negotiating with the Nickel Plate for an American outlet to the East. A few years ago it is understood the Wabash paid $180,000 a year, together with certain stipulations regarding maintenance of way and other charges for running rights over the Grand Trunk.

EMBARGO RAISED.

The Canadian roads have largely raised their embargo on box cars entering United States, according to General Agent J. H. Burgis of the Grand Trunk. About a month ago over 35,000 Canadian freight cars were being held in this country.

Grand Trunk officials will meet in Montreal within two weeks to learn the views of the passenger men on improvements needed. It is estimated that 60,000 car miles of additional passenger service will be asked for," said Mr. Burgiss.

ARMENIANS TO SEND ARMED AID TO HODJIN

ADANA, Asia Minor, March 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Armenians have closed their shops here and informed the French that they will send armed Armenians to the relief of Hadjin, northwest of Marash, where the Turks are reported to be terrorizing the populace, if the French do not despatch their troops.

The villages of Romloo and Yerebakar have been overrun and the Armenian inhabitants have fled to Hadjin.

A telegram sent from Hadjin by one of the Armenian relief workers says all is well there, but the populace expects to be cut off from communication shortly.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

IRISH IN BRITISH FORCES.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Noticing your interesting clipping from John Bull, which showed that Ireland sent 181,000 men to the war, I would ask your favor to add an explanation. I wish the reader to remember that Sir John Thompson, registrar-general for Ireland, reported in 1915 that the men available for all purposes in Ireland numbered 547,000. He estimated that 150,000 were available for war services. I also wish to draw readers' attention to the remarkable fact that there are almost as many Catholic Irish in Scotland, England and Wales as there are in Ireland, and the 250,000 men of Irish blood who joined the London Irish, Liverpool Irish, Tyneside Irish (five battalions), etc., and were so numerous in all British battalions, are included in the English, Scottish and Welsh figures. Readers will see the reasonableness of this truthful explanation, which gives Ireland a credit which the figures obscure. GARRETT O'CONNOR.

WOMAN AND THE CIGARETTE.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Sin is a violation of the laws of God. Those laws are completely contained either directly or indirectly in the ten commandments (according to all Christian theology). I would like some of the Christian women who have been writing to the newspapers to explain under which one of these laws all cigarette smokers are going to be condemned to hell. And if they can't do it, they themselves may be "bearing false witness against their neighbors," which certainly does come under one of these ten commandments. But the vast majority of Canadian women are not so degenerate that they must be confronted with a condemnation to hell in order to prevent them from adopting an unrefined, undesirable and exotic habit, all of which cigarette smoking amongst women seems to be. It is probably the same amongst men, but it has been our happy lot in Canada at least for men to look up to women in matters of refinement, and it seems too bad that this whole standard of aesthetics should be threatened by a few adventurers hungry for something novel and "smart."

And who are these novelty seekers? Occasionally, of course, there is the poor widow here and there who thinks she needs the little consolation of the weed, and it would be a mean person who would deny it to her. And then there are the near-widows, whose husbands on the one hand are wife beaters or on the other are nincompoops, who almost owe their existence to their smart wives, and these classes need a few puffs to console them; also as well as those who are a little aged and are nearly married and anxious to be, but are never likely to be. They are the people who have no over scrupulous desire to burden themselves with clothes at dances and dinners, or with children on any occasion. Let it not be supposed that there are many of these people, yet, or even that these remarks apply to all cigarette smokers, only to the majority and the minority have more or less innocently allowed themselves to slip into an undesirable position which they, no doubt, will get out of as soon as they can conveniently.

The Hacking Cough

STRAINS THE LUNGS

The terrible, hacking lung-racking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E. I., writes: "Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night, and did not think I could ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me, and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief, and by the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

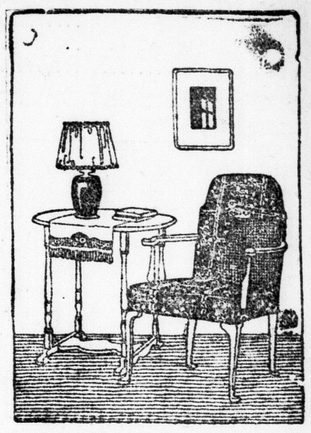

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores, so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advt.

ASKING $5,000 FOR ALLEGATIONS MADE AGAINST CHARACTER

Richard Raycraft Claims He Has Been Held Up To Ridicule.

Alleging that he has been accused of stealing and has been held up to the ridicule, execration and contempt of his fellow-citizens, Richard T. Raycraft of Biddulph, has entered suit against W. J. McFalls in the county court for $5,000.

The plaintiff, who is a farmer, claims that on December 31, 1918, in Coursey's Hotel at Lucan, the defendant "falsely and maliciously spoke and published of and concerning the plaintiff, to Clarence Westman, "anyone who will vote for Raycraft is just as bad as he is," to which Westman is alleged to have replied, "Do you mean to tell me that Raycraft defrauded the township out of that money?" The defendant is said to have replied, "That is what I mean to say."

On January 7, 1919, the defendant is said to have stated while in Granton that "if you vote for the other man, you are just as bad a thief as he is."

The defendant denies the allegations, but stated that if he did make the statements which the plaintiff claimed that he had, that he made them on privileged occasions and without malice.

This case, which is the fifth jury one to be entered, was postponed from the winter assizes because of the illness of one of the witnesses.

J. M. McEvoy is acting for the plaintiff, and Meredith & Meredith for the defendant.

All together four non-jury cases and five jury cases have been entered for trial next week.

Indian Medicine Men

In the Indian tribe, one finds the "Medicine Man"—one versed in the healing art of roots, herbs, leaves and barks. In these he discovers emollents, astringents, laxatives and tonics, all of which are prepared and offered to sufferers among the tribe. To such good, old-fashioned roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most efficient remedy in the world for female ills, owes its success. For forty-five years it has been restoring the women of America to health, until it is now recognized as the standard remedy. b

Flu Germs So Light They Travel Miles by Aid of Air Currents

Budapest, March 17.—That "flu" germs are so light they can travel hundreds of miles on air currents is the statement of Professor Detruss, head of the medical faculty of Budapest University. He calls upon meteorologists to organize a system of notifying the world during influenza epidemics of the direction of air currents, and thus aid in combatting the disease.

CREAMERY MEN IN CONFERENCE HERE TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Grading of Butter and Pasteurization Temperatures Under Consideration.

Proper temperature at which cream should be pasteurized for buttermaking was the chief point of discussion at the district conference of creamerymen in session at the Tecumseh House today. J. H. Scott of the dairy branch of the department of agriculture, Toronto, was the chief speaker in the morning, but the conference for the most part will be of an informal nature, just a get-together meeting of the buttermakers to discuss the care and pasteurizing of cream, the grading of butter and other points of similar interest.

Got Good Results.

Creamerymen who were present gave degrees of temperature varying from 140 to 175 as the points at which they pasteurized their cream with good results. The most generally accepted opinion appeared to favor 170 degrees as necessary to insure efficient pasteurization Mr. Scott cited the instance of one large company which widely advertises its butter as a pasteurized product, although it pasteurizes its cream at a temperature of only 120 degrees. This low temperature in the opinion of most of the creamerymen was inadequate to insure efficient pasteurization.

Elected Chairman.

George Medd of Exeter was elected chairman of the conference. He is a representative of the Western Ontario Dairymen's Association. The Canadian Creamery Association is represented by Malcolm Waddell of Strathroy, and W. C. Jackson, of Silverwoods, Limited.

Many of the points in discussion are largely technical, the chief item of public interest being the problem of producing butter that will retain its freshness and flavor unimpaired for a longer period of time. A similar district meeting between creamerymen and departmental representatives from Toronto was held yesterday at Brantford, and another meeting will be held Friday at Harriston.

DEPUTATION WILL INSPECT WATERWORKS

London will be again visited by a deputation from St. Thomas to see how public utilities are operated here. The visitors are expected to arrive Friday. They will be shown the waterworks, electrical, parks and other departments under the control of the public utilities commission.

The utilities in St. Thomas are under the direction of several bodies. A movement is under way there to bring them under central control as in London. A delegation visited the city some time ago. Further information is now being sought.

DIAMONDS ARE SCARCE AND WILL GO HIGHER

Diamonds are scarce and will go higher, a local jeweler stated to The Advertiser today. The reason for the shortage is the great demand in the United States. The South African government has also announced that the labor situation in that country is affecting the working of the mines a great deal and has cut the production.

Gold goods are not expected to take another jump, although no hopes are held out for a lowering of the present prices as the Canadian government still refuses to sell gold. This has forced the jewelers to go to New York for their gold, with the result that they are forced to pay the exchange and consequently raised their prices.

Shipments of manufactured articles are becoming more regular than they were some time ago. This is due largely to the Canadian jewelers buying home-made articles. Outside of a few lines which are not made here, the local jewelers are using principally goods made by the London manufacturers, who they state are turning out most creditable products.

Silverware, it is expected, will remain at the same prices for the spring and summer.

ESTHONIA IS PLACED UNDER A QUARANTINE OWING TO TYPHUS

Red Cross Officials Have Taken Charge of the Situation.

Reval, Esthonia, March 17.—Because of the rapid spread of the typhus epidemic, the whole country has been placed under strict quarantine, and the Red Cross officials have been given authority by the Government to take any measures, political or economic, which they consider necessary to fight the disease. No one is permitted to travel without a special permit from the Red Cross, which has practically taken over the government of the country.

WANT CANADIAN FLAX TO BE GRADED NO. 1

Flax Growers Pass Resolution To Be Sent To Government.

At the meeting of the flax growers of Western Ontario, held this afternoon at the Tecumseh House, a motion was made and carried that all Canadian flax be graded as number one, with a percentage test of 90, and number two, with a test of 85 to 90 per cent.

This motion will be present to the house during the present session for approval. The reason for the above action being taken, it is alleged, was that the Canadian seed was receiving a bad reputation on the other side owing to the laxness of some of the Government inspectors and the political pull some of the growers had, which got their seed past at export testings.

The part of S. Frank Glass' resolution concerning the carrying out of propaganda for the expansion of the flax business was thrown out. The growers present stated that they did not feel inclined to have a number of green men come into the trade at the present time, as they were having a hard time living down the reputation they have at present in Ireland, for sending over poor seed.

The reputation, they claim, was entirely due to men who either did not know the business or else underhand work. One grower claimed this had brought a very unsavory reputation in some parts of the old country, to the Ontario seed.

LONDON LEADER FOR WHITE WYANDOTTES

A large number of the breeders of White Wyandottes met last night in the People's building to hear a lecture by Richard Oke and also to have some of their birds judged by William Cadman of Tillsonburg. Many fine pullets and cockerels were among the exhibits. There were no prizes awarded, as the members brought the birds up simply to gain information concerning them.

Mr. Oke mentioned, in his lecture, that London, which is the headquarters for the White Wyandotte breeders of Ontario, has the largest and most enthusiastic crowd of farmers he has yet seen. The association, which has been running for the last two years, with Edwin Smith of this city as president, has flourished greatly.

FLAX GROWERS TO DISCUSS REGULATIONS

Among the delegates to the Canadian Flaxmen's convention here today are J. J. Merner, M.P. of South Huron; James McMurchie of Blyth; Thomas Tombyll of the Flax Harvester Company, and James McCaul, proprietor of large spinning mills at Yale, Mich.

The chief item of discussion will be the legislation which S. F. Glass, M.P., is seeking to put through the Dominion Commons to establish flax experimental stations, regulations for grading of seed and hemp, and other steps to encourage the flax-growing industry in Canada. Resolutions will be passed and sent at once to Ottawa, where the bill proposed by Mr. Glass will be voted upon within the next several days.

SPANISH PRESS DEMANDS EXCAVATIONS OF RUINS OF ANCIENT ROMAN CITIES

Madrid, March 17.—The newspapers are demanding of the Government credits for the commencement of excavations in the province of Leon to unearth Roman cities, which are believed to be buried there, and which tradition says contain great quantities of jewels and money and antiquities of great value. The newspapers desire that the task be assigned to experts, who would be capable of making a success of the undertaking.

The old province of Leon was a mediaeval kingdom soon after the invasion of Spain early in the tenth century by the Saracens. In 1037 it was united with Castile, but 29 years later the two became separated only to join hands again in 1230.

Leo Stevens, chief of the United States army department of aeronautics, announced at the Prince George Hotel last night a project to rise above the earth's atmosphere in a huge anchored balloon of new type, in order to conduct astronomical, meteorological and pathological observations.

McGILL AUTHORITIES ARE CRITICIZED FOR LETTING PROFESSOR GO

Montreal, March 17.—"A direct insult to every McGill graduate, to every returned soldier, to every patriotic citizen, and to the community in general," was the way one of the speakers expressed himself at a meeting last night of the Imperial Sons of the Empire, which met to discuss the action of the McGill authorities in accepting Dr. J. M. Elder's resignation.

Dr. Elder resigned as assistant professor of surgery on account of a German being appointed to the position of professor of pathology. There was great indignation and the language at times became so strong that the presiding officer was compelled to request several of the members to restrain themselves.

BRYAN WILL TRY TO PREVENT COMPROMISE BY DEM. SENATORS

Making Every Effort To Bring About Treaty Ratification.

Washington, March 17.—W. J. Bryan arrived here today from Florida, and immediately became a participant in the eleventh-hour negotiations of Democratic senators working for a compromise on the peace treaty.

Although Mr. Bryan said he did not intend to visit the senate nor intervene in the treaty situation, Democratic senators began to consult him before he had finished his breakfast. Mr. Bryan gave out another statement urging ratification of the treaty.

"For Democratic senators to join with irreconcileables in defeating the treaty," he said, "is unthinkable in advance of its being actually accomplished, and it would be unspeakable afterwards."

Mr. Bryan said it would be "suicidal" for the Democratic party to deny the right of a majority of the senate to declare the senate's policy.

"We have the right to appeal to the people to reverse the action of the majority," he said, "but we have no right to resist that majority to prevent the people speaking through their representatives."

MAY DROP ATTEMPT TO SETTLE PROBLEMS BY DIRECT APPEAL

Street Railway Matters May Not Be Dealt With by Legislature.

Attempts to settle street railway problems by an appeal to the Legislature may be dropped. Notice has been given by the city that it intends to apply to the Legislature for power to take another vote on the matter of increased fares. But this by no means makes it certain that a clause will be inserted in the London bill to this effect.

The original intention of the council was to insert a clause in the bill asking that power be given the council with the assent of the electors to purchase the London street railway franchise, if a price satisfactory to the council could be secured, or for the operation of the road on cost principles subject to a satisfactory agreement between the city and the company covering service, which would not affect the provisions of Bylaw 916. This relates to capital expenditure for pavement construction and other matters and operation generally.

This was changed at a special meeting of No. 1 committee in the city solicitor's office to a request to authorize the city to make an agreement with the street railway to increase fares after a bylaw had been submitted to the people.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith is obtaining further information on the question. A final decision as to what action will be taken will be made next week probably.

LEGAL BATTLE ON AT OTTAWA ABOUT PREPAYING FREIGHT

Shippers and Railways Advance Arguments.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 16.—(By Canadian Press.)—The battle between Canadian shippers and Canadian railways over the regulation whereby the latter have instructed their agents to refuse prepayment on freight consigned to points in the United States, was opened this morning before the railway commission. Before the hearing had been long in progress it become evident that Chief Commissioner Frank Carvell was far from being satisfied that the railroads were not justified in taking the ground that they should not be called upon to suffer by reason of the adverse exchange rates existing for Canadian money in the United States.

The chief commissioner remarked at the outset that he had been making inquiries and had failed to find a single lumberman or potato-grower in his home province of New Brunswick who had prepaid freight on his shipments to the United States previous to the new regulation.

"I would like to find the pulp manufacturer who prepaid his freight previous to this resolution," he said.

Insist on Prepayment.

A number of manufacturers, notably William Davies Company, the Harris Abattoir Company and the Ford Motor Company, through their representatives, insisted that they prepaid freight on the shipments to the United States and had done so previous to the institution of the new regulations, which became applicable on the first of March.

R. A. Pringle, K.C., appearing for the Toronto Board of Trade, asked if it was a fact that the United States railways were demanding that their proportion of transportation charges should be paid in American funds. Mr. Flintoft, representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway, replied that they were. They had notified the Canadian lines that they were going to stand firmly for payment in United States money.

Suggest Compromise.

Mr. A. D. Huff of the Riordon Pulp and Paper Company, suggested a compromise whereby the shipper could pay in Canadian money to the border, and in United States money for the mileage in that country.

Chief Commissioner Carvell advanced the view that the railways had not changed their freight tariffs. They were simply demanding payment at the point of destination rather than at the point of shipment. The shipper was not losing anything. He was simply not making the profit which he would make through a favorable rate for United States money. Shortly before 6 o'clock the sitting was adjourned until tomorrow morning. It is understood that the question of shipments through the United States for export will be considered. The argument today was based largely on goods shipped to that country for consumption in the United States.

PETROLEA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HOLDS ITS FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET

PETROLEA, March 16.—The first annual banquet of the Petrolea and District Chamber of Commerce, held in the town hall tonight, was a splendid success. Over 300 citizens were present and the proceedings were marked by an enthusiasm and get-together spirit which would be difficult to surpass.

The program was opened by the chairman's address, followed by the reading of letters of regret at inability to attend from Roy Brownell, district attorney of Flint, Michigan; J. M. Webster, M.P.P.; A. M. McQueen, vice-president of the Imperial Oil Company; Senator E. D. Smith of Winona; J. E. Armstrong, M.P., and Major G. O. Fairbanks. Mr. Hay was followed by Mayor Preston, who welcomed the guests.

F. McClure Selanders, trade commissioner of the border municipalities of Windsor and Walkerville, the principal speaker, dealt with the rise, development and purpose of the Chamber of Commerce. The rapid growth of any community, he said, is directly due to a live, enthusiastic, co-operative chamber of commerce, which has the hearty and aggressive support of every citizen.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER WON FOR CANADA STATUS AS A NATION

Liberal Chieftain Tells Where Country Holds—Discredits Borden for Securing Nationhood. Credit Belongs for Place Rowell's Effort to Praise

OTTAWA, March 16.—Without a division, the House of Commons tonight approved the peace treaty with Bulgaria. The debate, which lasted throughout the afternoon and evening, brought the important announcement that negotiations were under way to empower the Dominion Parliament, with the concurrence of the provincial legislatures, to amend the Canadian constitution.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, March 26.—In a clear and trenchant manner, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, this afternoon laid down the Liberal attitude upon Canadian nationhood, and placed the credit where it was due for the present status of the Dominion within the Empire and in the eyes of the world. For the past year or so Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council, in season and out of season, in parliament and in the country, has never tired of imputing to Sir Robert Borden and his colleagues at the peace conference the credit for Canada's "new" place among the nations of the world. Today Mr. King disclosed the emptiness of these claims.

"Some question," he declared, "has been raised in this House, as well as outside, as to whether the status of the Dominion is in any way the new thing which my honorable friend would lead us to believe it is, or whether it is a recognition of something that was achieved long before the administration of which he is a member had anything to do with the matter one way or another. I say that it is one thing to proclaim Canada a nation today; it is another thing to proclaim Canada a nation 25 years ago in the heart of the British Empire over across the seas.

Laurier Did Not Wait.

And that is what Sir Wilfrid Laurier did. He did not wait; he spoke; he blazed the way. There at the Queen's Jubilee, when all nations were looking on, he took the position, and from that time steadily fought to maintain it in every particular and to see that it was maintained.

The leader of the Opposition thereupon proceeded to invoke no less an authority for this contention than the president of the privy council. In November of 1912 Mr. Rowell had delivered a speech in Montreal, in which he had declared in unequivocal language that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party under him must be given the credit for Canada's advance from the colonial status to that of complete nationhood—"a nation within a galaxy of nations." For Sir Wilfrid's efforts toward this end, Mr. Rowell declared in his 1912 speech that Sir Wilfrid had been called a "separatist" by the followers of Sir Robert (then Hon. R. L.) Borden.

Makes Position Plain.

"So," said Mr. King, "to make plain the position that we, on this side take in regard to the question of status, and what has happened in the last few years, we would say that the change that has taken place—and there has been in the last few years an emphasis which there has not been for many years previously—in Canada's status as a result of the war, has not been any change in the nature of our status, but has been as regards the British Empire and relations within the British Empire, a clearer defining of a status which already existed. As regards the world there has been an international recognition of that status such as never existed hitherto in the history of the British Empire, and for that international recognition we are first and last, and shall always be most indebted to the services of Canada's armies across the seas."

Proposed Amendments.

The leader of the Opposition is prepared to go even further than the Government in establishing Canada's nationhood. He referred to two proposed amendments to the British North America act, which now stands on the order paper. In each of these resolutions the prayer was not to the King, but to the British Parliament to amend the Canadian constitution.

"I would like to submit to my honorable friends," he said, "that perhaps it would be more in accord with the status which Canada has as a self-governing dominion or nation within the British Empire, instead of presenting an address to his majesty to ask his majesty's consent to the Parliament of the United Kingdom amending the British North America act in the two particulars mentioned, the Government should consider the advisability of an address being presented to his majesty to have powers given the Parliament of Canada, subject to the concurrence of the several provinces of the Dominion, to amend the constitution of Canada in such particulars as may be agreed upon as a result of that conference between the provincial and federal authorities, and approved by this Parliament and the Legislatures of the different provinces."

DEMOCRATIC CONTROL.

OTTAWA, March 16. — (Canadian Press.)—During the discussion of the approval of the Bulgarian peace treaty, Hon. Mackenzie King asked why when Parliament had already approved the League of Nations and the labor clauses of the peace treaty its time should be taken up again. He thought, however, that failure to approve the treaty might create a wrong impression.

Mr. King proceeded that all were agreed on the general principles laid down by Mr. Rowell, such as democratic control of foreign policy. Why, therefore, was there need to reaffirm that agreement? He referred to the treaty with Czecho-Slovakia as having been ratified by the authority of an order-in-council. Was ratification by order-in-council, Mr. King asked, "evidence of democratic control on the part of Parliament?"

"I think," he said, "we are willing to go as far as to say that we would like to have had an expression of opinion by this House to the effect that Canada should not be bound by any treaty or agreement in matters of external relations in which Parliament has not been fully informed. We on this side of the House maintain that while there has been a redefining of the status of Canada, a recognition of that status—which the general services of the Canadian armies have gone to make permanent—it is a status which we had intended to maintain.

"The Dominion still had to go to the Imperial Parliament for amendment to the Canadian constitution. Australia and New Zealand both had the right to amend their own constitution. Should not the Canadian Parliament have the same power?"

Amendments To Act.

In asking for amendments to the British North America Act by the Parliament of the United Kindom the Parliament should consider the advisability of an address being presented to the king to have power granted the Parliament of Canada, subject to the concurrence of the province, to amend the constitution of Canada in such particulars as might be agreed upon as a result of a conference "between the provincial and federal authorities, and approved by this Parliament and the Legislatures of the different provinces."

At great length the leader of the Opposition referred to the speech of Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, made on November 11, 1912, in which speech Mr. Rowell paid eloquent tribute to the work of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier in establishing the status of Canada as a nation within a nation or nation among the galaxy of nations which formed the British Empire.

He asked if the words were not as true today as they were when uttered.

Hon. Mr. Rowell replied: "I say they are undoubtedly true today. I also say that what was true of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is equally true of Sir Robert Borden, and the men associated with him in maintaining Canada's status as a nation." (Loud applause from the Government benches greeted this reply).

Mr. King: "It is absolutely true of Sir Robert Borden. I am in absolute accord with that. He and those with him did their duty. If they had not done their duty they would have been deserving the censure of the House. But they did it and are deserving of the thanks of this House and the people of this country."

Reads From Speech.

Mr. King proceeded to read from Mr. Rowell's speech of November 11, 1912, and quoted a passage that the welcome given to Sir Robert Borden in England on several occasions was due to the splendid work done in previous years by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. (Opposition members cheered this sally to the echo.)

Hon. Mr. King concluded: "We are not concerned about any return to the old status which was spoken of by my honorable friend the other day, or his alternative of making Canada completely independent. But what we do fear is that there is a danger of swinging to the other extreme and developing a form of centralized imperialism, which we think would be most objectionable so far as the interests of this country are concerned.

"We do not want a condition brought about whereby the full autonomy of this Parliament will be in any way impaired or by which we will not be able to continue our status as a free-governing nation, which status we are priviliged to enjoy at the present time.

Clear Definition Only.

"There is no change in our status from last year but a clear definition of that status. So far as the world is concerned, there has been an international recognition of our status such as has never before existed. But for that international recognition, we are first, last and all the time indebted to the services of the Canadian army overseas. We are glad Sir Robert Borden did his duty. So long as in the last analysis all matters relative to Canada's external affairs are subject to the approval of this Parliament, so long as no action can be taken of which Parliament does not approve, we shall feel to all intents and purposes that we are a nation in the truest sense of the word. But let the sovereignty of this Parliament be impaired, either as regards imperial or international relations, and we shall feel that the position of this country, as a nation, has been menaced to that extent."

Hon. C. J. Doherty congratulated the leader of the Opposition most heartily on his address, especially, he said, after the tale told at the last session. He thought, however, Mr. King had built up an imaginary person who was seeking to take credit for work in which many Canadian statesmen had played a worthy part.

Twinkling of an Eye.

"I take my hat off to no man in my respect of the work which the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier did," he said. "But Mr. King wants to set up a quarrel with some imaginary person who has set up the claims to have made Canada a nation in the twinkling of an eye. We claimed our position as a free nations among the commonwealth of nations last year, but some of our friends opposite did not agree with us. I congratulate them that they now agree with us."

The minister of justice impressed upon the House that the treaty was not binding until it had been ratified.

Replying to Mr. Fielding, the minister said that the treaty had not yet been ratified by His Majesty. The King took the stand that he must be advised by the ministers of each of the self-governing Dominions before he ratified any treaty affecting the Empire. If Canada refused to ratify the treaty it would only bind such parts of the Empire as were agreeable to it.

Mr. D. D. McKenzie questioned the cable which Lord Milner had sent advising the ratification of the treaty with Germany. Hon. Mr. Doherty replied that Lord Milner had receive his answer to that cable, which answer was to the effect that Canada had ministers who would decide such questions. Lord Milner afterwards admitted the justice of that stand.

Mr. Doherty was questioned by Dr. Beland as to what the effect would have been had only four out of the five nations in the British Empire approved the German treaty.

Not Constitutionally Binding.

"In my opinion," Mr. Doherty replied, "it would not have been con-

CONSTIPATION OR COSTIVENESS

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill-health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings street east, Vancouver, B. C., writes: "I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

H. W. BORING, a well-to-do Kansas farmer, says he has gained twenty pounds in weight and is in better general health than he has been in years since taking Tanlac.

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past," was the straight-forward statement made a few days ago by H. W. Boring, a prominent and well-to-do farmer living at Overland Park, Kansas.

"During the two years I suffered I tried everything I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac. My appetite was poor and my digestion was so bad I could hardly retain my food. Nothing agreed with me; in fact, I was almost a confirmed dyspeptic. My whole system seemed to be out of shape. I would have pains across the small of my back so bad at times I could hardly move around.

"My nerves were all unstrung and I would become upset at the least little thing. I seldom slept well at night, and, finally, became so weak and rundown that I lost weight rapidly. I was also troubled a great deal with catarrh and of mornings had to spend a half hour or more clearing up my head.

"This is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac and it certainly has been a blessing to me. It just seemed to be made especially for my case. I improved from the very first. My digestion now is perfect and regardless of what I eat I never suffer any bad after effects.

"The pains across my back have entirely disappeared. The catarrh has left me, too, and my head is perfectly clear. I am no longer nervous and rest well every night. I have regained my lost weight and am feeling better and stronger than I have in years. I am going to keep Tanlac in my house, so it will be handy at all times."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

$1365 F.O.B. CHATHAM WAR TAX EXTRA GRAY-DORT

When the Gray-Dort was designed, our engineers had two definite orders.

"Build an economical, simple, low-priced car."

"Build a light car at least 50% stronger and finer and greater value than light-car purchasers have been getting."

The original Gray-Dort was built to these orders. Every improvement and refinement since that time has been in line with this policy.

And yet the price is only $1365. Note what you get in to-day's Gray-Dort for $1365.

A big motor—3½-inch bore and 5-inch stroke—finely finished and smooth running. A forty-pound crankshaft, against the usual twenty-five pounds or so. Three-ringed pistons, instead of two-ringed. Cellular radiator, instead of tube and finn. Newly improved Carter carburetor. Improved Connecticut ignition. The starting and lighting system is Westinghouse, a big-car feature.

We designed a bigger and better rear axle for light cars—and we are having it built exclusively for the Gray-Dort here in Chatham. We solved the spring problem in the same way—and you'll realize what we've done when you see the long, cantilever rear springs of the Gray-Dort. We've set a new standard of safety by using Thermoid brake-lining. We've increased safety by building a steering gear 50% bigger and stronger. We've put in a bigger gas tank—and put it in the rear, with a vacuum feed system.

Your comfort in driving or riding has been attended to. With a shorter cowl, there is more room in the driving department. There are several inches more leg-room in the tonneau. The side-curtains open with the doors. You sink into the seats at the most comfortable angle. The top is really a one-man top. The gears can be shifted with two fingers' pressure. The emergency brake is now on a lever. The instruments are handy.

The Gray-Dort is just as outstanding in appearance. Its lines are the lines of the really fine big cars—reduced in proportion. It has big car style. There is not a line nor an angle which is extreme. And it has what no other car ever can have—the wonderful Gray-Dort finish which had its beginning 60 years ago in our body plant.

There are other style touches—many of them new this year. French-pleated upholstery. A hood with many long, narrow louvres. A particularly smart top, hand-tailored in our own shops. Lamps raised to a new location. Short, smart cowl. Straight top-edge to the body.

So much does the Gray-Dort dominate the field, that our production, doubled this year, will probably not meet the demand. We would advise you to see the Gray-Dort dealer now.

PRICES

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger car, finished in Gray-Dort green and black, and with standard equipment, is $1365 f.o.b. Chatham. War tax extra.

The roomy 2-passenger roadster is the same price.

The Gray-Dort Special

For the man who wishes something a little extra in his car, we have built the Gray-Dort Special. Maroon body, with brown rayntite top. Plate-glass rear window. Gipsy curtains. Rookie tan wheels. Motometer. Tilting steering wheel. Real leather upholstery. Mahogany instrument board. Just the touches which lift this car above the ordinary. $150 extra on the standard.

And the Ace!

The Gray-Dort Ace—the most beautiful light car of to-day. Sapper green body with handsome California top to match.

Trouble lamp and bull's-eye flashlight. Electric cigar lighter. Rear-vision mirror. Plate-glass windows. Over-size grooved-tread tires. This is the de luxe car for the man who does not wish to pile up a tremendous operating cost. $255 extra on the standard.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

What It Is and How It Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force In Two Weeks' Time In Many Instances

SHOULD BE PRESCRIBED BY EVERY DOCTOR AND USED IN EVERY HOSPITAL

SAYS EDITOR OF "PHYSICIANS' WHO'S WHO."

Take plain bitro-phosphate is the advice of physicians to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, if we judge from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Clinical tests made in St. Catherine's Hospital, N. Y. C., showed that two patients gained in weight 23 and 27 pounds, respectively, through the administration of this organic phosphate; both patients claim they have not felt as strong and well for the past twelve years.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Physicians and hospitals everywhere are now recognizing its merits by its use in ever increasing quantities. Frederick Koile, M. D., editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Joseph D. Harrigan, Former Visiting Specialist to North Eastern Dispensatory, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anaemic, or rundown, take a natural, unadulterated substance such as bitro-phosphate and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve energy, strength of body and mind and power of endurance."

Bitro-Phosphate is made entirely of the organic phosphate compound referred to in the National Standard Dispensatory as being an excellent tonic and nervine and a preparation which has recently acquired considerable reputation in the treatment of neurasthenia. The standard of excellence, strength and purity of its substance is beyond question, for every Bitro-Phosphate tablet is manufactured in strict accordance with the U. S. Pharmacopoeia test requirements. Bitro-Phosphate is therefore not a patent medicine and should not be confused with any of the secret nostrums, so-called tonics or widely advertised "cure-alls."

CAUTION—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties it should not be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

DRURY FAVORS REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR IMPORT

In Maiden Speech Premier Announces Policy On Temperance.

CRITICISES FERGUSON

Accuses Tory Leader of Causing Animosity—Tolmie For Pensions.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 16.—Ontario will go completely dry by the referendum route, if it ever does go dry. Premier Drury, in the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne, practically announced the temperance policy of the Government. He could not see the wisdom of the Government taking steps which by law they had no right to take in amendments to the O. T. A. to stop all liquor traffic. He called upon the temperance forces of Ontario to get together on a program and to make a request for a referendum and let the people decide again upon the question. The principle of the referendum, he said, was good. The present O. T. A. could not be enforced under present conditions of inter-provincial trade, and the Government was anxious to get to that stage where it could be enforced properly.

Replies to Criticism.

Premier Drury replied effectively to the criticism of both old party leaders. He took Hon. G. Howard Ferguson severely to task for making remarks to stir up international animosity. He denied H. H. Dewart's allegation that the farmer movement sprung from dissatisfaction at Ottawa over the conscription issue.

The premier's address was rather unique in parliamentary history. It was his maiden speech in any house of parliament, and he made it as premier of his native province. Major J. C. Tolmie, Liberal member for Windsor, followed the premier.

While it was quite true that in the elections of 1911 he and Mr. Dewart were on the same platform, Premier Drury declared, "My friend was on the platform because the party had taken up the cause. I was on the platform because I had been in the cause before any party took it up." He went on to interpret the votes of the people last October as a desire for action, rather than promises, adding, "We hope to be strong, not on promises, but on performances."

Defends Movement.

"I want at this stage to defend this movement and the organization from which it has sprung up, from the insinuation that the United Farmers of Ontario sprung from anti-conscription field. That is not true. The organization was flourishing and was built on solid foundations, long before the conscription issue came into view. My own attitude on conscription is very well known. In 1917, when I found myself unfortunately a candidate by what was really a people's convention and in a position from which I could not with honor retire, my own attitude was that Canada was at that time committed to conscription and the thing had to be carried through."

He read from a manifesto issued by him to the press at that time in which he declared, that to his utter astonishment he had been informed that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had indorsed his candidature. "This was done," he wrote, "without my knowledge or consent, and indeed in direct opposition to my wishes. I cannot follow Sir Wilfrid Laurier if he proposes to repeal the military service act or abandon our military forces at the front."

Charges Ungrounded.

He characterized as "ungrounded" the charges levied that the U. F. O. was a class movement. "When you find this Government proposes any class legislation," he declared, "it will be time enough to make that charge."

"We have made an honest attempt to get rid of patronage," he went on. "We are going to make a further attempt. We believe we can. You cannot get rid of the evils of patronage while you leave the recommendation in the hands of the member for the constituency. If the angel Gabriel represented the purest constituency in Ontario he could not recommend in a manner disinterested a man for public appointment. (Applause from both sides of the House.)

"I would very gladly go so far," the premier continued, "as to make the Government an executive and transfer very largely, as largely as may be, the legislative functions to the House as a whole. I believe in doing that we are restricted by Parliamentary procedure."

Invite Co-Operation.

"We invite the co-operation of the gentlemen on the other side of the House," Hon. Mr. Drury went on. "This Government is not going to put itself in the position that any one can say we are shirking our responsibility for our measures. But gradually, by building up precedent on precedent, we can find ourselves in the position where Governments can take advantage of all legislative ability in the House. Finally we may reach the position where the Opposition is not bound to oppose nor the Government bound to support the Government side."

Thunderous applause from the U. F. O. seats greeted his criticism of Hon. Mr. Ferguson for emphasizing and enlarging upon issues which tended to create an agonism between this country and the great friendly nation to the south. "Speaking most seriously," he said, "I regard it as one of the greatest of political faults that can be committed, amounting almost to a political crime, that any man or group of men for political purposes should endeavor to stir up international animosity. I hope for the credit of this that no more reference will be made to anything that will stir up that feeling that is too easily stirred up, international antipathy."

Act In Bad Position.

He reviewed the position of the Ontario temperance act, declaring that on January 1, last, "without any warning, without demand, the Dominion Government saw fit to withdraw that order-in-council and immediately the act upon which the people of Ontario passed so manifestly found itself in a bad position."

"Frankly I am not satisfied with conditions as they exist at the present time. I believe the Ontario temperance act is unenforceable under present circumstances I do not think we can settle it, as suggested by stepping over the bounds of law and taking to ourselves powers that do not belong to us. But I do believe that if the temperance people of this province will come together in the matter, and will agree to ask for something, and if they will consider carefully the measures that have to be put forward to bring about proper enforcement, and decide a program that this government can do something, and that the people of this province may well be appealed to, to pronounce once more on inter-provincial trade. Frankly I would like to see action taken along this line. I believe the principle of referendum to the people is very well established. It is right that the people should also pass by popular vote on the principle of prohibition of inter-provincial trade necessary to enforce the Ontario temperance act. I do not believe this government or any other government once having dictated the principle of referendum should step beyond the will of the people. I would like to see some means by which this great question can be referred to the people, and be got through with once and for all."

Justify Actions.

Then the premier proceeded to justify the actions of the Government in the granting of warehouse permits, quoting legal opinion to substantiate their course. The Government, he said, could not help the establishment of warehouses. Mr. Dewart interrupted to ask if the premier realized that in granting these certificates, the Government was creating inter-provincial trade between Manitoba and Ontario and the west. Mr. Drury replied that the Dominion Government could grant the permits in any case, to which the Opposition leader responded: "Then, why not let the Dominion take the responsibility?"

Premier Drury—"If we refuse the bonded warehouses, then we still have the unbonded warehouses to face. Our legal opinion, secured from Mr. Saunders, if he is a good legal adviser."

Mr. Dewart—"I think he is not."

Mr. Ferguson asked if the premier were not aware that the Government could effectively cope with the drink question by legislating the amount of drink a man might have in his possession, but Premier Drury was impelled to proceed with his address by the impatient "Go on's" of his followers behind him.

Government Road Policy.

Premier Drury then dealt with the road policy of the Government. The 18,000 miles of provincial county highways, he said, would not be "joy" roads. A policy of constructive maintenance which keeps them passable and built up to permanence would be inaugurated. The general scheme was a linking up of "market roads" to get a good road to every farmer's gate. It was not extravagance, he said, to build up a system of roads that served the commercial needs of the farmers, the villages, the towns and cities of the province.

Defending the establishment of a separate department of mines, the premier said that other provinces with that industry of less importance than it is in Ontario had separate departments. He pointed out that Sir James Whitney had suggested it, but that the idea had been dropped. The forestry policy of the past had not been conducive to a perpetuation of the forests nor of prevention of fire losses. The protection of the forests, the replacing of the pulpwood trees and the harvest of timber wealth from the provincial reserves, instead of allowing it to rot, would be a big job. In the mining department he thought it possible to increase the revenue and yet stimulate that industry. The department of health he thought was doing very well, coupled with the department of labor.

Twitted Government.

Major J. C. Tolmie (Windsor), who followed the premier, twitted the Government about going outside the elected members to get a minister of agriculture when it had over forty farmers elected to choose from. However, he would not be critical if the new minister made "the wilderness blossom as a rose."

Speaking of helping the returned men, Major Tolmie said: "If we feel that the Dominion is not doing its full share toward the returned men it is up to us to supplement what is done by the federal authorities. Regarding this Kaspuskasing affair, it makes my blood boil to think that such treatment was given the boys who went over and fought for us. It is a downright, crying shame that this terrible blunder should have been made. This is not the way to treat the men who were told on the recruiting platforms that they would be looked after and would get anything they wanted. The whole thing is rotten and ought to be cleaned up."

The Opposition, he said, were the constitutional critics, but they were not for captious, fractious fault-finding, but came as other constructive critics—to point out improvements if possible. (Government applause.)

Hon. Mr. Doherty moved the adjournment of the debate.

Eight-Hour Day.

The opinion expressed by Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, in the House of Commons that the Dominion could not pass eight-hour-day legislation was brought up in the Legislature today by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader. He wanted to know if the Government had decided upon any action.

Premier Drury in his reply said the Government could not be guided by opinion expressed in debate in the House. "We will not be stampeded into being hasty and unadvised on this subject," continued Mr. Drury. "There is the closest co-operation between the two wings of the Government on it."

"You have wings then," interrupted Mr. Ferguson.

"You got yours clipped," shot back a farmer member, and the House had a laugh at the expense of the Conservative leader.

LAURIER WON FOR

stitutionally binding upon the entire Empire."

Mr. Doherty added that he could think of no attribute of a nation which Canada did not possess. She was on a basis of equality with other nations in the Empire; and Canada's nationhood had been manifest to the world.

"There remained for us," Mr. Doherty went on, "to be introduced into the society of nations as a nation among nations. That is what was done on the other side."

He was in agreement with Mr. King on the point that the Dominion Parliament, with the concurrence of the provinces, should have the power to amend her own constitution. In fact, Mr. Doherty said, before the matter arose in the House he took it up with attorney-generals of the different provinces and in discussing the motions on the order paper for amendment of the British North America act with members on the Opposition side he had mentioned to them his negotiations with the provincial attorney-generals.

"I don't know if that is the way the idea came back," Mr. Doherty observed with a laugh, "but it shows how great minds agree."

Spoke Last Year.

Dr. Beland—"The leader of the Opposition spoke to me about it last year."

Hon. Mr. Doherty concluded with a plea that all Canadian leaders since Confederation had been worthy men, and Sir Robert Borden had once said that Canada would never agree to become the adjunct of any nation, not even the British Empire. "But let us be fair and recognize that the heritage of Canada lies in part in the great men she has given us, and some of whom remain with us today. Let us see that at least on this great question we can meet on one common ground to rejoice that we can take our place among the nations of the world when they meet to discuss what is best for the world and for mankind. Let us take a leaf from the book of the mother country, where big external questions are kept out of the realm of party politics. Let us ever be grateful to the men who have helped to build up Canada and those who have helped to maintain the position of which we, as Canadians, now are justly proud."

The House then took recess.

Foster Took Floor.

In the evening Sir George Foster took the floor. Speaking with vigor and often applauded by men on both sides of the House, Sir George pleaded for unity in Canada. He declared that there was no ground for Mr. King's fear of imperialistic centralization. Canada is the master of her own fortunes and does not care what any isolated man in England or anywhere else may think. There were cranks in England as anywhere else, but Sir George added he had never heard any responsible British statesman hint at imperial centralization.

Hon. W. S. Fielding could not believe that the Government had read the treaty nor could he believe that the Government deliberately went into it. In his view it originated in the fussy mind of some man in another part of the Empire, and Canadian delegates were too weak-kneed to prevent themselves being dragged into "this foolish attempt to mix up with the richer parliaments of the world."

Mr. Cockshutt of Brantford also thought there had been too much talk of Canada's changing status and too little of the additional responsibilities incurred under the covenant of the League of Nations.

The debate was closed by Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell.

"Pape's Diapepsin" by neutralizing the acidity of the stomach, instantly relieves the food souring and fermentation which causes the misery-making gases, heartburn, flatulence, fullness, or pain in stomach and intestines.

"Pape's Diapepsin" helps regulate disordered stomachs so favorite foods can be eaten without causing distress. Costs so little at drug stores.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

THE CITY OF LONDON BILL.

There is likely to be a clause in the City of London bill this year authorizing the city of London to issue debentures for $100,000 or more, to be charged to capital account, and expended for purposes of the London and Port Stanley Railway.

In this it is quite consistent with previous legislation. It is consistent with the bill authorizing the electrification of the railway, and subsequent bills increasing the original amount. The total outstanding debentures are fast approaching double the amount originally asked for and granted, $700,000. All these expenditures are ultra vires in the Legislature.

The British North America act, the act of Confederation, the act that defines the rights and powers of the Dominion, and of each province, places municipal law exclusively within the jurisdiction of the province.

The city of London is a municipal corporation. The Dominion Parliament incorporated the London and Port Stanley Railway and made it a Dominion railway. The Provincial Parliament can legislate within its limits for the city of London. The London and Port Stanley Railway is beyond its jurisdiction. The city of London cannot be empowered by the Provincial Legislature to issue debentures, and expend the proceeds on the railway. Debentures so issued would be illegal, and any legislation authorizing such issue would be ultra vires.

The Drury Government is starting with a clean slate. We hope it will keep it clean. If there is any difference of opinion between the Attorney-General, Mr. Dewart and Mr. Ferguson regarding the illegality of the proposed bill, or those that went before it, let the question be submitted to Sir Allan Aylesworth of Toronto, or Mr. John S. Ewart of Ottawa, or both. Sir Allan Aylesworth and John S. Ewart are recognized as not lawyers merely, but constitutional lawyers and jurists.

Questions of much less importance in earlier days involving provincial rights were fought out between Sir John Mcdonald and Sir Oliver Mowat. The question does not affect the city of London and the London and Port Stanley only, but affects the legality of the hydro-radial scheme. The undertaking of the city of Hamilton is beyond its powers and the legislation authorizing it is ultra vires.

The mayors and councils of London and Hamilton have as much right to issue the proposed debentures without any legislation as they have after it is passed. Such legislation is void.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

In all the world there probably is no national day of celebration more wholeheartedly and devotedly observed than this, the seventeenth day of March, sacred to the memory of Ireland's patron saint, whom history credits with first carrying the message of the Christian faith to the Emerald Isle. Holidays may be decreed by act of parliament and popularized by press, pulpit and platform propaganda. But no act of parliament is needed to make St. Patrick's day a day of earnest and enthusiastic observance, a day rich in heart-stirrings significance to all true sons of Erin (and all of Erin's sons are true sons, despite their political and credal differences).

It is the one day of all the year when Ulsterite, Sinn Feiner and Nationalist declare a truce and walk together in the procession that follows the irresistible strains of "the wearing of the green."

No race on earth is more truly democratic than the Irish, no hearts are more generous, no souls more freedom-loving. And with all their desire for their own freedom and their love of personal independence, no race of men is more tolerantly inclined, more richly blest in that rare human attribute of granting to others the same rights and privileges they themselves demand, in a word, in the practice of "minding one's own business" and letting other people mind theirs. But when aggression has been made, where there are flagrant wrongs to right, the Irish are ready to respond. It is characteristic of them that they are as ready to champion the losing as the winning side. They acclimatize readily anywhere the world over and readapt themselves quickly to changed conditions, but whatever may be said of them, they are never opportunists in the modern meaning of the designation. That they fail to look to see on which side their bread is buttered before they start to overturn the kitchen furniture is probably the worst thing that can be said of them. But this in the eyes of an opportunistic world that worships far too fondly at the altar of expediency is a very damming thing to say.

Perhaps, as a people or nation, the Irish are too much inclined to grieve over ancient wrongs committed against their ancestors. Perhaps, it might be said that they are supersensitively inclined. They are never puffed-up or haughty with overburdening sense of their racial importance, but they do demand "a place in the sun," neither too conspicuously to the front or back. They have a really creditable sense of reverence for old traditions, romance, the sacred imagery, color and music of the past. They produce more poets than iconoclasts, more scholars than mining and structural engineers. Less thrifty than their Celtic kinsman on the British mainland, their too-generous spirit is safeguarded by an opulence of faith in the ultimate goodness and kindness of Omnipotent Providence. And the faith that is strong enough can move mountains.

Let it be hoped this seventeenth of March that this year's day of celebration may mark the dawn of recompense for the sufferings and trials of Ireland in the past. May her national dreams and hopes materialize for the best and most utilitarian good of the Irish themselves and all other human kind. Long have the Irish held firm in the faith and dream of a happy restoration of their language, racial freedom and nationality. So far as Britain is concerned, home rule has never before been so near within the reach of Ireland. Let every Celtic heart and lover of Irish traditions, as he pins to his coat-lapel today the sprig of shamrock, the bit of green ribbon or the ensign of the harp, utter a simple, fervent prayer that Ireland's dreams will happily and peacefully come true within the year. Let Sinn Feiner and Nationalist draw closer together and yet both try to better understand the Ulsterite, and the latter try to sympathize and co-operate with his neighbors who differ with him in political or religious viewpoints. Let all try earnestly to spread out the St. Patrick's Day spirit to cover the entire year.

MORE TROUBLE FOR THE ALLIES.

Cables from Beirut report that Syria and Mesopotamia have declared their independence, and named kings, and that a great Arab federation is about to be formed. By some this is believed to be part of a German-born conspiracy to start a new world conflagration in the near east. It is considered significant that the revolution in Syria and Mesopotamia occurred simultaneously with the German counter revolution, the rebellious attitude of the Turks towards the supreme council's decisions and the advance on Persia of two Bolshevik armies. It is to be noted that some of the men who were amongst Germany's leaders when she plunged the world in war, are heading the counter-revolution at Berlin. They are men such as Bernstorff, junkers to the end, who will stop at no infamy if they think it will help towards restoring the old Germany. At the very moment when they are calling loudly for allied assistance against the Bolshevik, Kapp and his friends are quite capable of plotting with Lenine and Trotzky for the promotion of a new war, and the records of the Red chiefs makes it certain that they would be willing tools.

Probably this trouble, whether it be the result of German intrigue, or just another of the political upheavals epidemic the world over, could have been avoided had peace negotiations been wound up a year ago. The prolonged wrangling at Versailles lost to the Allies a good deal of the respect formerly held towards them by the Balkan nations, and the withdrawal of large bodies of troops from the eastern campaign at the demand of the Allied public, left openings for the agitator and the professional trouble maker. On top of all this, the failure of the United States to accept the peace treaty undoubtedly convinced the Near East peoples that the Allies are hopelessly split and that as a consequence any decisions made by the supreme council can be ignored without incurring much danger. Had peace been made rapidly and the League of Nations permitted to get under way, the war-weary world would have accepted the terms without much questioning, especially while powerful forces were at hand to see the conditions were carried out. For the new crisis in the Near East the Allies are themselves largely to blame.

STEADY JOHN BULL.

John Bull continues to live up to his reputation for weathering the roughest storms. There is no blow so severe but that he makes a rapid recovery. Immediately following the conclusion of the war things looked dark for the British people. The stupendous expenditure of money and men required to win the struggle had left the nation exhausted, weak from the greatest effort a nation ever made. A huge debt had piled up, many industries were crippled, credit abroad in any large sense had come to an end. Above all, extremists had secured control of large sections of the organized workers, and revolution along Bolshevist lines was in the air. Today, however, we see the whole industrial situation rapidly improving, steadying down. The pound sterling is slowly but surely climbing up to its normal figures, factories and mills are rushing at capacity. Best of all is the fact that labor in the United Kingdom has decided overwhelmingly against any progress that cannot be made along constitutional lines. The great Trades Union Congress held at London gave the deathblow to direct action, while daily labor bodies of all kinds are resorting to the recently-formed Industrial Court for the settlement of differences with capital. The strike is disappearing, to be replaced by methods of conciliation and negotiation. John Bull is coming back, thanks to his robust common-sense, courage, tenacity and resourcefulness. In war or peace he is unbeatable.

From Here and There

THE BALANCE.

[Edith M. Thomas in New York Times.]

"The Father then a golden balance swung."
—Homer.

I dreamed of it—how in the heavens, swung wide,
A Balance in a Hand that could not err,
Where weighed were all things mundane—power and pride,
Thrones (golden, too), and majesties that were;
Weighed, also, those who drew the ascendant lot,
Uplift to splendors from conditions mean.
And desert lands a-bloom, and lands forgot,
As Time decreed, were in that Balance seen.
So sank Atlantis where she sunless lies,
That a great continent might pierce the deep;
That Hellas might awake with shining eyes,
Dusk Egypt veiled her face and turned to sleep.
Nor did this chance from one or other's meed—
It was but as the Balance had decreed.

And then I dreamed, if I the Flower of Joy
Shall pluck, and set it on my fortunate breast,
Some other sees the frost's keen blade destroy
The tended plant he loved beyond the rest;
Or, if my gallant ships, from either Ind,
Ride in with nectared fruit or silken bale,
Some other suffers loss, and wave and wind
This self-same hour have caused his ships to fail!
Or, if I may have gone about, and won
Great store of Love, some soul of rich desert
Love's loss has met, and, bankrupt, is undone.
While every touch and look of Earth shall hurt—
If thus our Fates were in the Balance weighed,
Must not one be of Happiness afraid?

THE RICHEST YOUNG MAN.

[Minneapolis Tribune.]

Capt. Marshall Field, grandson of the great Chicago Merchant, and without doubt America's richest young man, after a two months apprenticeship with Lee, Huggingson & Co., Chicago brokers, where he had embarked on a commercial career as a bond salesman, has finally taken hold of the vast holdings of the Field estate, and is now virtually in control of Chicago's largest property holdings owned by an individual estate. It is estimated that his fortune, when he comes into the millions of his grandfather, will be close to $1,000,000,000.

WHY MILLIONAIRE BOUGHT SPATS.

[Forbes' Magazine.]

The millionaire head of one of America's very prominent business organizations is a virile, masculine, unfrilled member of the human species, who made his mark in the rough-and-tumble of college athletics, and who detests every form of frippery and dandyism. For years his wife had tried in vain to get him to wear spats. Recently he returned from a long trip to Europe.

A very few days later he blossomed out with a pair of spats.

"Ha, ha!" triumphed his wife, "so you learned in Europe that spats are the thing."

"For a moment her teasing made me feel foolish," he said, "until I explained matters. I was so deeply impressed with the poverty and want that I saw in Europe that I came home determined to do anything and everything I could to lend a helping hand. I needed winter shoes, but the prices asked were so outrageous that I refused to buy a single pair. I made up my mind there and then that I would buy a pair of spats and make my low shoes do for the winter. I paid a dollar and a half for the spats, and I figured they will save me having to buy $30 or $40 worth of shoes this winter."

THE EXACT SPOT.

[London Referee.]

Mrs. Hughes, wife of the Australian premier, is very fond of children, and has a fund of anecdotes concerning a visit she paid to a certain elementary school in Melbourne, shortly before starting for England. Among the questions put by the mistress to her little pupils was the following: "Suppose we had boarded a ship last night, and steamed a hundred miles due southwest, where should we be now?" the correct answer being, of course, "Off the coast of Tasmania." There was a momnet of breathless silence, and then a tiny girl in the front row, who had just recently returned from a rather rough and stormy sea trip, piped out shrilly: "In the cabin, ma'am, sick!"

ROMANCE OF COTTON.

[London Daily Chronicle.]

Should it prove true that cotton has been discovered growing wild in what was believed to be an Australian desert, the future may open up vast possibilities of new fortunes. The past of cotton is strewn with El Dorados—except for many of those inventors whose ingenious machines of the eighteenth century have made riches for modern Lancashire. Arkwright is the only conspicuous instance of reward following merit. Most of them, like Hargreaves, died in poverty. It is only in our own times that vast fluctuations in the price of cotton have taken place, and that, of course, is due to the amazing ingenuity of the men who made the human-like machines that now do the work of a thousand men. When machinery was first applied in this country, one of these more fortunate inventors boasted that he had reduced the price of a specially fine kind of cotton from 20 guineas to 15 shillings for a quantity sufficient to make a lady's dress. We need him now.

ON ENTERING A NEW HOUSE.

[Herbert M. Hopkins in New York Times.]

Peace to this house where we shall enter in!
Here let the world's hoarse din
Against the panels dash itself in vain
Like gusts of autumn rain;
Here, knowing no man's sway
In the brief pauses of the fight,
Let music sound, and love and laughter light
Refresh us for the day.

The window waits where I shall sit me down
And sing a quiet song,
When sleep descends upon the darkening town,
And winter nights are long.
Then with the dawn I'll fling the casement wide,
And o'er the brimming tide
I'll send it forth, as Noah sent his dove
Across the world of waves on wandering wings of love.

THE GOVERNMENT IN A QUANDARY.

[Montreal Herald.]

"Japhet in Search of a Father" is not nearly as amusing as "An Administration in Search of a Leader." It is now some months since Sir Robert Borden announced his resignation as head of the Government of Canada. The search for a successor commenced immediately, if indeed it had not already begun. It proved fruitless. Sir Robert then probably said: "I'll go away. Perhaps my prolonged absence will bring home the fact that I'm through."

The leader was next heard of as sailing among the West India Islands; afterwards as in attendance at the opening of parliament in London, and the society editor of the Daily Mail wrote that the Canadian premier was observed, alone and unnoticed, strolling through Bond street. A few days ago he was expected in Halifax, but soon afterwards landed in New York. Now he is said to be on his way South.

His reputed choice as successor, Mr. Calder of Saskatchewan, met him in New York, and reports Sir Robert's health as being improved and his intention to return to Ottawa "before the end of the session," which will last in all probability until July. The only official statement we have, however, is that made by Sir George Foster, the acting premier. "It depends on Sir Robert Borden's health," he said, "whether he shall lead this government again."

It is quite clear that the members of the administration are still "up in the air," and several persons in Ottawa, outside as well as inside the council chamber, are flying kites. If the prime minister's resignation is in the hands of the Governor-General, his excellency can send for whom he pleases, but the chances are that the name of the new leader will be handed out from caucus.

THE RISE IN PRICE OF SILK HATS.

[London Daily Chronicle.]

The theatened rise in the price of silk hats will cause little excitement, but among the reasons for this advance is one which may arouse interest. Shellac, it appears, is the key to the mystery. There are few imported commodities, Men's Wear reminds us, which have been exploited like shellac, which is largely used in stiff hat manufacture. Dealers in the past have often been made and ruined in a few days over speculations in this line. Shellac is expected soon to reach ten times its pre-war quotations.

Love of the Wild

By Archie P. McKishnie

"You won't find any of us hard to get acquainted with, Colonel. We're a queer lot in some ways, but I guess we all know real men. You come along with me, and I'll show you."

"What are we going to do with this crazed wretch?"

Hallibut pointed down at Broadcrook. Boy did not answer at once. He stood looking at Amos thoughtfully.

"What made you try to kill the Colonel?" he asked sternly.

"Smythe and Watson told me he was goin' t' set the hounds after me," groaned the man, "an' I thort if I got his horse I would get across the border too quick fer 'em. Oh, I've been in hell, I tell you; shut up in the dark room for three long months. I guess I was crazy."

"Here are Declute and Peeler," cried Boy. "We'll let them bring Amos back with them. You and I'll go on, Colonel Hallibut, if you're ready?"

The Bushwhackers came running up, their faces showing their surprise. In a few words Boy explained everything, and leaving the two men to look after the captive, they passed down the trail the Colonel riding and Boy leading the way. As they passed into the open of Totherside the Colonel pointed to the mill.

"That's got to come out of there," he said. "There aren't going to be any more mills or school houses in these parts till you people want them. Then you're going to get what you want."

Boy did not answer. He could not answer. But there was a crushing, choking joy in his heart. They stabled the horse in widow Ross's barn. The place was strangely silent. The Rosses were over at Bushwhackers' Place.

The ice in the creek was breaking up and running out fast. The creek, fed by the rivulets of the wood, was swollen now as to make crossing by boat comparatively easy. This accomplished, Boy led Colonel Hallibut up to the house.

"Come in," he invited.

The Colonel stepped inside and bowed low to the body of astonished people who watched him. Boy waved his hand for silence then he stated the true facts of the case.

"Now," he cried, "let every man shake hands with Colonel Hallibut."

They surged about the big man joyfully. Hands were extended, and the Colonel with a laugh made as though to speak, but, instead, he stood gazacross at a tall girl clad in soft deerskin skirt and jacket. She was gazing back at him from eyes that he had known long years ago in that playground far back.

"So like!" he whispered. "Same face, same hair, same great, glorious eyes."

He leaned against the wall, trembling.

"Phoebe," he said at length, and held out his arms.

Gloss leaned toward him.

"That was my mother's name," she said. "Did—did you know my mother, sir? See, this is her likeness in this little locket about my neck."

She ran over to him and he took the locket from her hand and opened it. For a brief moment he gazed on the face of the little picture, then he raised it to his lips.

"Little girl," he said simply, "I did know your mother: she was my dear sister."

Then, with a dry sob, the man clasped her in his shaking arms. She stroked his grey hair with her hand, her soul claiming him and clinging to him, and as she looked into his face she said softly:

"I'm so glad; so very glad. I had so much before you came and now I have you—you."

The Colnel attempted to speak. The tears were streaming down his cheeks. Paisley walked from the room blowing his nose on his red handkerchief. Peeler, his back to the others, whistled a tuneless dirge and looked through the window. As for the women, they were one and all behaving like foolish women must behave on such occasions. Only Boy stood unmoved, watching, thinking, waiting. It came at last.

"All I have in the world belongs to you now, little girl,' said Hallibut gently. "I give it all to you for the sunshine you have let into my gloomy life. You will never leave me again, now I have found you, Gloss, will you?"

Then Boy went out into his dark-blue open and sought his woods again. Thank God he was strong and able to fight. It was all over now—his newly found dream of happiness. His hope was dead, buried and put away forever. But even a grave may feel the warmth of sunshine. The sunshine of a girl's new happiness would alone waken in the forest. It is the nature of a hurt wild thing to creep away into the dark and heal its wounds or die alone. When Boy returned that night his scar was hidden, and no one guessed that he had fought and conquered for love's sake.

CHAPTER XXX.

The Dawn of a New Day.

Colonel Hallibut did not return to St. Thomas that night as had been his intention. Indeed, in his great and newly found happiness he forgot that he had cautioned Dick, his man, to come and look for him in case he did not return within a certain time.

And then the great-hearted Bushwhackers absolutely would not let him go so soon, now they knew him as he was.

"God bless us," laughed the Colonel, "it's so human of us to miss the worth while things that might be secured by simply reaching out for them. Here you good people have been for years, and over there I have been for years—lonely, God knows, and hungry for such companionship as I am now enjoying. And to think—to think that I have not understood until now!"

So the Colonel stayed at Big McTavish's and all the Bushwhackers came over in the evening to make merry, and make merry they did, for had they not reason to be glad?

And after the neighbors had gone Big McTavish sat with Hallibut before the fire and they talked of Gloss's mother until the purple glow of another spring morning bored its way through the fragrant wood mists. The Colonel sat with bowed head while McTavish told the story of the brave little woman he had known in Arizona; how she had endeared the rough cattlemen to her; how unwavering and unselfish she had been; and finally how she had intended to come to live with his family in the new Canadian Wild, and how they had looked for her coming in vain!

At the conclusion of his narrative the Colonel sat caressing a little gold locket. The tears were running down his seamed cheeks.

"I used to think that God had made fewer noble men and women than He did dogs," he said huskily, "but I don't think that now. He made you and your wife, McTavish. I can't thank you for what you have done. I know my thanks don't count, anyway. But, look here, I have always been a rich man, and, Mac, if I were asked to choose between this new happiness I've lately found and all my lands and money d'ye know which I would choose?"

McTavish smiled.

"Us bush-folks believe that best and most lastin' joys are always close to us and easy found," he said.

Hallibut arose and paced to and fro across the room.

"McTavish," he said abruptly, "I know the man who sent little Gloss to you."

Big McTavish looked up quickly.

"You do? Then, who is he?"

"Paisley told me tonight that Watson had reminded him of somebody, and only recently did he recollect who. Paisley says that Watson's real name is Watts, and Watts has five thousand dollars of my sister's money. He stole it, McTavish; stole it from a dead mother and a helpless baby. I'll tell you the story."

Hallibut seated himself and related the story which had been told him by the Sandwich fisherman.

"What are you goin' to do with him, Colonel?" asked McTavish after Hallibut had finished.

The Colonel drew in his breath quickly. His eyes were on the tall, dark-faced girl who had just entered like a breath of spring. The set look faded from his face and the flashing eyes grew tender as he held out his arms. She came to him and patted his face caressingly.

THE MORON WOMAN—III.

A young man with great prospects met a social butterfly, a dolifaced girl, frivolous, attractive in a sensual way, but nevertheless a moron—her mind was that of a child of ten. He admired her, became infatuated, and made her his wife.

The young man made rapid strides in his career. He won a fine reputation in his particular calling, stepped higher and higher up in the world—but all the time there was a millstone around his neck. The butterfly wife never developed mentally. Her reading, pastimes, occupations, were all frivolous, shallow.

Children came. The first boy worried along until the second term in high school, with considerable outside tutoring, which normal lads do not require. Then one day he "eloped" with a girl of the street—his equal.

The next boy did a trifle better in school, but cigarettes got him by the time he was 17, and not long afterward he learned to drink. Of course, venereal disease soon completed the triology, and the young man went to the devil.

The third child was a girl, who is a little less competent mentally than her mother. She has figured in some sorry escapades with the "society people" she cultivates.

Young man, keep clear of the moron woman.

It is easy to detect her. She may be physically attractive, healthy-looking, in a way pretty with her doll-face and her air of girlish innocence. But it is from the eyebrows up that she is defective. Her mind is more childish than her physical appearance. She is incapable of serious thinking. She can't discuss political or world events. She hasn't the grey matter. In school she is a failure—she seldom goes all the way through. Her reading, if she does any, is trashy. Her music, if she can play or sing at all, is generally as shallow as her conversation.

Good looks should by all means be desired by a man in the mother of his children. Good looks are best obtained through hygiene and good health. But the woman who is to mother a man's children ought to have something besides good loks.

Young man, beware the moron woman!

If you're thinking of tying up, pick a girl who can make her own clothes, bake good bread, teach school or do something else with her brains.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Bed-Spring Backache.

Can you tell me whether sleeping on one's back is sufficient to cause a backache low down a few hours after rising? I find that I do not have this morning backache if I sleep on my side, but I do if I turn on my back.—G. M. E.

Ans.—If the bed springs or mattress sags in the middle, a strain is placed upon the sacro-iliac joints (joints between the base of the spine and the hip bones), and this is a not uncommon cause of backache. The springs and mattress should be flexible and comfortable, but there should be no sagging in the middle. Health efficiency makes any reasonable investment in good springs and good mattresses real economy.

Dyeing the Hair.

Please tell me what harm it does a person to color the hair, if it makes a person look twenty years younger.—H. B. A.

Ans.—If the dye itself is not poisonous no harm is done. I'd dye my hair nile green if I thought it would make me any happier.

Onion.

I've heard if one cuts an onion in halves, and lets one raw half stand till next day before eating it, it is not healthful.—A. E. R.

Ans.—Well, send your unused halves over to our house next day and we'll dispose of 'em for you. The cut onion is as wholesome, so kept, as any other vegetable—but the aroma of onions stimulates the imagination of many, hence the various onion superstitions.

POPULARITY WILL FOLLOW DIGNITY.

Here's a word of cheer for exasperated housewives. The ministry of labor is arranging for training classes in the various branches of domestic work, and it is expected that this will encourage the right type of girl to go into domestic service. The factory and the store have long been claiming the services of girls who are really adapted to domestic service, but wno prefer the definite hours and freedom which the position of "maid" has so far failed to guarantee. However, if household workers are graduates of classes which put them under the category of skilled labor, they may claim definite hours and dignity for their profession.

And once their profession has attained dignity, it will become popular. Even from a selfish point of view, it should be the policy of every housewife to help this profession along to such a state of dignity.

VICTORIAN OR ORIENTAL? THAT IS THE QUESTION.

Fashion's dictator is still swinging from side to side between a revival of the fashion of the Victorian 'Eighties, and the adoption of clothes inspired by the near east. Both tendencies are noted in the designs of the great costumers and it will be milady's choice which shall settle the question. Is she going still farther along the way of the barbaric east, shedding what little there is left of her womanly reserve, to splendor forth in the bold gorgeousness and pantaloons of the Orient? Or is she tired of her venture forth into the land of brief skirts and seductive draperies? Is she willing to cast away her cigarette and hide her twentieth century heart beneath a fascinating, but modest kerchief?

Only she knows, and only time will tell.

There's just one other thing she might do, and, oh, how I hope she won't, for it would be sacrilege, indeed. She might decide to favor hoops and panniers with (oh, horrors!) the cigarette in her mouth.

Paris and New York are fighting as usual as to the length of skirts, but it is expected that the fracas will end in a compromise, for the skirts of Paris women are gradually becoming longer, while those in New York are tending to become shorter. There is another war on as to whether fashion shall decree the pointed, long-vamp shoe, so necessary to the neatness of the American foot, or whether the little French lady, with her small feet, shall triumph and make it a round-toed, short one. Here again the two extremes are coming together, and a medium shoe will no doubt be the result. America still clings to her tailored-looking tuck-in-at-the-waist blouse, while Paris thinks the overblouse, which we consider sloppy, to be quite chic. Each is, however, educating the other to its way of thinking, and before the season is far advanced harmony will prevail.

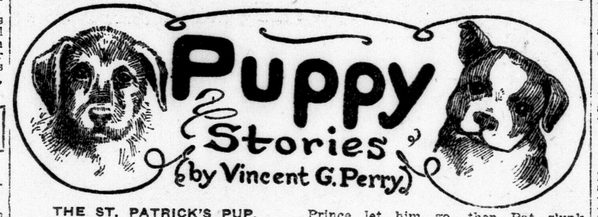

HOME ECONOMICS

LAXATIVE COOKIES FOR CHILDREN.

All children love any kind of little cakes or cookies, and it is possible to utilize this liking to give them laxative foods, which are better for them than doses of fig syrup, or the final, dreaded dose of castor oil.

Raisins, prunes, dates, figs, nuts, oatmeal, bran and molasses, all have a laxative effect, and can all be put into palatable cookies. During the winter and spring months, when fresh fruits are almost prohibitively dear, and when the dried and preserved fruits must to some extent take their place, these cookies are both an economy and a resource. Raisins, dates and figs sweeten oatmeal and bran cookies and save some sugar. Prunes can be soaked in cold water until they are soft enough to be mashed to a sweet paste to be spread on Graham crackers or between brown bread and butter. Nuts go a long way in cookies and make them much more desirable. Here is a sort of composite recipe for such cookies, and there are few households that have not the necessary ingredients for at least one of the possibilities. Take one-third cup of shortening, two-thirds cup of sugar, one egg, one-fourth cup of milk, two cups of flour or one and a half cups of flour, with half a cup of bran or rolled oats; one-third cup of raisins, or dates, or figs or prunes, cut in small pieces; one-third cup of nutmeats, walnuts or peanuts, cut in small pieces; two teaspoonfuls of baking-powder, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, and one-fourth teaspoonful each of salt, ground cloves, mace and nutmeg. Work the sugar into the shortening, add raisins, nuts, egg well-beaten, and milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, and add to first mixture. Roll out about one-quarter inch thick, cut with a small round shape, and bake until brown in a hot oven. In place of sugar and baking-powder half a cup of molasses and a quarter of a teaspoonful of baking-soda may be used, with enough extra flour to roll out the dough.

THE ST. PATRICK'S PUP.

Because he was born on the 17th of March, his mistress had named him Pat. Pat was Irish, too—a homely, little Irish terrier with a very bristly coat, and a hot, hot temper. So when the next St. Patrick's Day came, and Pat was celebrating his first birthday he thought he was to do something special.

Now, it was a bright spring day this St. Patrick's Day, so Pat decided to have a party. He summoned all the dogs of the neighborhood to gather on his front lawn, and then when they had all arrived he led them to the backyard and confessed where he had hidden all his bones. It was quite safe to make the confession for the ground was still hard with frost, and the dogs could not have uncovered any of them if they had tried.

"Humph, is that all you invited us here for," sniffed Tips, the fox-terrier. "I'm going home."

"Oh no, stay. Perhaps we can have some fun," said Teddy the Spaniel. "Let's play a game."

"But what game should we play on St. Patrick's Day?" asked one of the other dogs.

"Most holidays are parade days," spoke up old wise Tige, the bulldog. "Why not have a parade?"

Of course, Pat fell right in line with that, for he was a vain little dog and delighted in showing off. So the party formed into line and headed by the Irish terrier started down the street.

"There is an Orange Pomeranian!" shouted Tips the terrier. "Orange is the color the Irish don't like. If you are a true Irishman you will thrash that Pomeranian."

Now, Pat felt very much Irish, and although he had never heard that the Irish did not like orange, he jumped out of the parade and took after the poor, wee Pomeranian.

"Please, Mr. Pat, I haven't done anything," whimpered the little Pomeranian, when Pat grabbed him by the neck.

"You are Orange and I am Irish—that is enough." Pat said grimly, as he gave the little fellow a hard shake.

"And so am I Orange," cried a burly voice. There stood Prince, the big orange-colored collie.

"He's Orange, too. If you want to be a true Irishman you will have to fight him also," cried Tips, the quarrelmaker, that he was.

Pat was very much afraid, for Prince was a full-grown dog and a strong one, but he knew he dared not run away, or he would be called a coward by the other dogs. With one spring he was at the handsome collie's throat. But Prince was too quick for him. Before Pat could get a grip, the big dog had him by the back of the neck, and was shaking him until the Irish terrier almost lost his breath. At last Prince let him go, then Pat slunk away, beaten and ashamed.

When he was alone he thought it over. It served him right, he told himself. He should not have attacked poor wee Piffles, the Pomeranian. He went right back to tell Piffles how sorry he was.

Piffles was very much afraid when he saw Pat coming, but when Pat explained why he had come, the little dog invited him to play. Soon Piffles' mistress came out, and when she saw what great friends the two dogs had become, she called them both in and gave them some good things to eat. So you see, Pat learned that there was much more fun in being a peaceful dog than a quarrelsome one, and that Irish dogs are really good-natured.

It had been a glorious St. Patrick's Day after all, and Pat had learned something worth while.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

EVELINA.

(Copyright, 1920, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Ins.)

The feminine names beginning with "Eve" are legion, yet each, curiously, is a separate name and possesses a different meaning. Eva, for instance, signifies life, while Evelyn means hazel nut, and Evelina or Eveline is translated "pleasant."

Eveline made its appearance among the No'mans before the marriage of the Ea l of Pembroke. Aveline, said to be i , equivalent, was the name of the sister of Gunnar, the great-grandmother of William the Conqueror. The Lady of the Garde Doulourease in "The Betrothed" was called Eveline.

Aveline seems to have been more popular than its equivalent in early times, since old chronicles record more instances of the former name than the later. The wife of the last Earl of Lancaster was called Avelina de Longo Campo. Her daughter, Eveline, was heiress to the great County of Lancaster.

Before Miss Burney's popular novel presenting Evelina—a name which she herself invented as an elaborated form of Eveline—was published, Eveline had almost disappeared in England, but there was an immediate revival of the name. The new fashion of adding a final "a" was followed, of course, and Evelina was established in popularity for many years. Unfortunately for Evelina, the tendency was to confuse her with Evelyn, especially when the craze for names containing a "y" made its appearance.

Evelina's talismanic gem is the agate. It promises her courage, guards her from danger, and cures insomnia, it is said. Thursday is her lucky day and 6 her lucky number. The wild rose is her flower.

COMFORT OF DINER DEPENDS ON HOW THE TABLE IS SET

But Few Homes Boast Perfectly-Laid Table.

Nothing is so attractive as a well-set table, snowy with linen and glistening with silver and glassware, each piece in its proper place for the comfort of the diner. Yet very few perfectly laid tables are found, even in well-ordered homes.

To begin with the table should be in the centre of the room with the tablecloth smooth and straight. The articles with straight lines should be placed in accord with the lines of the table, either parallel, or at right angles to it. The silver, napkin and plate belonging to one cover should be placed equally distant from the edge of the table, about one inch.

As a rule the silver is placed in order of serving, the first used being farthest from the plate. Exceptions to this rule are first, the oyster fork, which is placed to the right of all the silver, and second, the dinner knife and fork, which come next to the plate.

When a number of courses are to be served, calling for the use of much silver, it is best to place the silver for later courses at the time of serving.

A cover for each person consists of the plate, silver, bread and butter plate, napkin and glass. Twenty inches in width is the space that should ordinarily be allowed and on formal occasions thirty inches. Fifteen inches in depth will allow enough room for the silver and china.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Help for Wash Day.

To Mail-Box Readers,—I have received help from the Mail-Box, so I thought turn about fair play. I would send in a good washing fluid. It may help some. It will save many hours of hard work over the washtub. The following ingredients: One tin of lye (about ½ pint), 2½ ounces of borax, 1 ounce washing soda, ½ ounce powdered alum, and 1 gallon soft water. These ingredients are mixed in a granite-ware dish or pail, and when mixture is cold add 1 ounce of spirits of ammonia, and mixture is bottled. One-third cup of the fluid is added to half tub of warm water. Dissolve soap, the usual amount, and put clothes in, the white ones first. I hope I have made this plain, so it will help someone. I would like to hear from someone that would like a good home and reasonable wages. Woman or girl. I will leave my address with Miss Grey, and in reply send name and address, and I will answer all. 1, 2, 3.

Ans.—Your helpful suggestion passed on to readers. I will keep your address here re home for woman or girl.

How Long Should Her Skirt Be?

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a newcomer to the Mail-Box, and hope to be successful. I enjoy reading your Mail-Box very much.

1. How long should a girl of 18 wear her skirts, not being very tall? They wear them real long around here, but I don't care for it, so please tell me your advice.

2. What would be nice for a wedding present for a girl friend about my own age, not too dear or too cheap?

I hope I haven't taken up too much room in your interesting Mail-Box, and hope to see this in print, if you think it is worth putting in. I will sign my name, TORMENT.

Ans.—To the shoe-tops.

2. A small piece of silver, spoon or knife, a bright little picture for the new house, or a piece of linen. You are quite welcome to the Mail-Box.

Answer for A Troubled Mother.

Ans.—With regard to question contained in your letter, which has been delayed owing to heavy mail, I would say that it is entirely indiscreet. Why not find a good woman friend in whom one could confide? Your whole interest should be centred in your two children. Make pals of them and you will never have regrets. Write me again if I can be of further service to you.

Who Has This Song?

Dear Miss Grey,—I see were Hubby is asking for a few songs, and as I have two of what she is asking for, I am inclosing a copy of each, hoping they are all right. I would like to ask for the song called "The Letter Edged in Black." Inclosed please find self-addressed envelope for same, and if also you would please inclose Shut-in's address, I have quite a lot of good novels that might help to pass the time away, as I know it is very hard to be shut up like that. Here is a good recipe for salad dressing: Two eggs, 5 tablespoons vinegar, 5 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Cook until it thickens, keeping well stirred. Let cool. Then can be used.

FLEUR-DE-LEE.

Ans.—Won't somebody please hunt through the music pile, and find this song, for Fleur-de-Lee? Addresses forwarded.

Wants Seeds.

Dear Miss Grey,—Saw in today's paper where Katherine had a castor plant and she would supply seeds for 10c, so will you please send me her address, so I can send for same. Will inclose stamped, addressed envelopes.

Think it was M. Miller, who asked for crochet patterns of novelty braid. If she will send some novelty braid and insertion I will crochet her the pattern I have, as I have both the insertion and lace for pillowcases. My address will be with Miss Grey.

WOODCHUCK.

A Reader, Please Note.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have a friend who is very deaf, and I saw this some time ago in your column; I cannot tell in what paper, but I will inclose clipping. I hope we will be able to locate The Reader and perhaps do something for this lady. Will you kindly give this your attention, Miss Grey, and you will do us all such a favor. Yours with kindest wishes, MRS. J. H. M.

Ans.—I have asked A Reader to send in name and address, and I will send it on to you when received.

Happy-Go-Lucky.

Dear Cynthia,—I saw in your Page where Lonesome Barnardo Boy, aged 20 years, wants someone of his own age to correspond with him, so I thought I would. If you have any daisy yoke patterns left, and also the stocking-foot pattern, I am sending a stamped envelope for them. Wishing you and all the readers good luck.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY.

Ans.—I haven't the name and address to which you refer, but if I receive it will mail it to you. Pattern mailed.

Grows Like a Weed.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have never written to you before, so I don't know how to begin. I would like the stocking-foot pattern. Am inclosing stamped, addressed envelope. Mother says something has to be done. Inclosed find 10 cents for Children's Hospital fund. I wish it success. I am 14 years old, but am rather tall for my age. I guess I am a bad weed; anyway, I grow like one. Am very fond of reading and just love going to the show. I would like to see every picture that comes here. I read the book "Anne of Green Gables," and saw it at the show. Thought it was fine. Could you tell me what day November 25, 1905, fell on? Also November 9, 1903? I hope I have not intruded. Please don't feel offended at LASS O' ABERDEEN.

Ans.—Pattern mailed. Thanks for dime. Offended? Not a bit of it; by all means don't let this be your last appearance. Don't run awa' wi' that idea. Wednesday, Tuesday.

Wants Asthma Cure.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am an interested reader of your splendid Page, but have never written before. I saw where Mrs. Home-at-Times had a cure for asthma, and was willing to give her cure to Little Chafterbox's mother, and I was wondering if she would mind giving it to me. If I would send a stamped, addressed envelope?

A few little hints that may be helpful: I find if I put one sewing machine stitching across the end of new flannelette sheets right through the needlework that it keeps the needlework from ravelling, which it so often does, and the sewing machine stitching does not show up very much. Those who have a lot of nickel on their ranges will find this helpful: We have had our stove for some time, and the nickel is as bright as ever. I just use plain newspaper (not magazine paper; it scratches) dipped in clean water, and rub the nickel with that and polish until dry with the same paper, but if paper becomes too dirty, take a fresh piece, but be sure to dampen or it will scratch. I saw where someone wanted a mitt pattern. I have one I will send to you. It may help someone, for it makes cheap mitts. I use overalling and line with flannelette. I sometimes use two plies of flannelette. It makes them warmer. It is a man's size, but can be made smaller.

Well, Miss Grey, this is my first call, but I am afraid you will hope it will be my last. You need not print all or any of it if you don't think it of any use, and I will not be disappointed. Every good wish for your splendid Page. I will sign myself,

FARMER'S WIFE 26.

Ans.—I have asked Mrs. Home-at-Times to send me the asthma cure, and I will send your letter on to her as soon as I hear from that party. No, indeed, don't let this be your first and last call. Our receiving hours are unlimited, so slip into the Mail-Box any time.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

One of the most unique church teas that has ever been held in the city will be the St. Patrick's tea to be given by the Women's Association of Knox Presbyterian Church, South London, this afternoon. The tea will take the form of an apron shower, invitation cards with tiny green and white aprons attached having been extended to the women of the congregation. Each card has a blank in which the guest must write her waist measure before she is admitted to the tearoom. The apron is in the form of a bag, and into this she will place her offering. The St. Patrick's idea is also being carried out in the decoration scheme.

"How old are you?" is the question which many a woman will be trying to avoid at the St. Patrick's tea to be held by the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this afternoon. Invitations to this tea were extended to the women of the congregation some time ago and with each invitation a tiny bag in which a copper for every year should be placed. The Ladies' Aid hopes to take in a very large offering by this device, for the Scotch are canny enough not to disclose their proper age, and yet too conscientious to put in less than the requested amount. They hope that each bag will therefore contain very many more coppers than have been counted on.

The tea is to take the form of a great birthday party, and rumor says there's to be a magnificent cake with lights glowing all over the top.

London Is Back On Hockey Map

This Year's Hockey Has Shown City's Possibilities in Game With Prospects of 1920-21 in New Arena and Much Talent.

With the official end of the hockey season for London marked by the finals in the Manufacturers' League on Monday night, a resume of the season shows beyond question that the game is right back on the map as far as this city is concerned, and hardly any plans for next winter could be considered too ambitious.

From the Intermediates down to the junior church league teams, all had a following, and every team had its share in bringing back some of the old spirit that once made London one of the best hockey teams in Western Ontario.

The Intermediates had little to do with the London fans until near the end of the season. Their district traveling did not interest the fans a great deal, but they swung back into favor once they started into the semi-finals. Although the trip was not a long one, their one great effort against the Seaforth Highlanders will be remembered as one of the bright spots in London hockey history.

The juniors right from the start off had a hard district to get through, but all the way through it and into the semi-finals, they received the best of support from the fans.

The Manufacturers, Church and School Leagues probably showed up more talent this year than they ever have in past years. In the first named league, there were an unusually large number of youngsters playing this year who loom up as intermediate possibilities. The last two circuits will undoubtedly round out the nucleus of this year's junior aggregation when they take the ice next season.

With a new arena wherein hockey room will be available at all times and a glance over the talent coming to light through the medium of the various leagues this winter, the city's prospects for 1920-21 must look to the average fan like the three-mile limit to a thirsty voyager.

Varsity Wins Over Quebec Irish, 6--4

Form of Either Team in First Game of Allan Cup Elemination Put Them Out of Running.

TORONTO, March 16. — Toronto University defeated Sons of Ireland of Quebec by 6 to 4 in the Allan cup elimination game here tonight. If the form displayed by both teams is any indication of their real strength both can safely be counted out of the running for the championship. Varsity did not show anything of the skill that carried them to the top in the intercollegiate senior race. With Laroche back in the line-up the visitors are expected to overcome the lead in the second game tomorrow night. The attendance was small, considering the importance of the game.

Varsity back-checked with better results than did the Quebec team, but they were away off in their passing and shooting.

The line-up:

Morency	Def	McIntyre
McDonald	Def	Ramsay
McNaughton	Centre	Gouinlock

Western Drilling Hard For Crucial Game On Friday

One-Point Lead of Central 'Y' Should Not Be Hard To Beat.

Western U. put in a hard workout last night for a short time on the floor and then spent a lot of time on signal work, in preparation for their second clash in the semi-finals with Central Y. five, here Friday night at their own gymn.

There is only one point to tie the series up, and the locals figure that they have every chance of traveling further under these circumstances. The Toronto papers gave the locals creditt for being a clever and fast machine, and thought the Queen City team were lucky to get away with the game.

TUXIS CAMPAIGN FOR CLEAN SPEECH AND CLEAN LIVING

Eight Hundred Boys in Effort Which Will Commence Sunday.

The three C's campaign under the auspices of the Tuxis boys and the Trail Rangers of the Y. M. C. A. will start Sunday. The campaign which is for clean speech, clean living, and clean athletics, will have some eight hundred boys working.

The boys' council met last night, and Mayor Charles Foulkes led off the campaign, by signing the pledge card and receiving his button. Cards will be given to all the boys, who on signing them, will be given a button for the purpose of distinction.

It is hoped that all members of the groups will be signed by the end of the week. When a group is fully signed up, the boys of that group will become missionaries, and will then be allowed to go out and try for the betterment of a large number of non-members around the city. It is expected they will have thousands of followers.

The closing day of the campaign, April 11, will be a banner day. The boys of all the groups will go to their own churches, where there will be special services conducted for them. In the afternoon they will meet in the "Y," where they will be addressed by prominent speakers on the three subjects for which they are carrying out the campaign.

The speakers for the occasion have not been chosen as yet, but one of them will be Bobby Kerr, the Marathon runner, who will speak on clean athletics. This lecture, it is hoped, will do much for the making of better sportsmanship in the field days and athletic meets all through the year.

CHAMPION WRESTLING MATCHES ARE TO BE HELD IN OTTAWA

Mat Artists From All Parts of Dominion of Canada to Participate.

Ottawa, March 17.—At a meeting last night of the Ottawa boxing and wrestling commission and the newly-organized Ottawa Wrestling Club, it was announced that the Canadian wrestling championships had been awarded to Ottawa, and that they would be conducted here in the near future. They will likely take place at the Rideau rink. The dates haven't yet been set, but will be fixed in a few days. The championships will attract wrestlers from all parts of Canada, and will no doubt be a big boom for the game in Ottawa. As the capital is also to be the scene of the Canadian boxing championships next month, there will be great activity among the knights of the ring and those of the mat.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

XXVIII.—Alice's Confession

XXXIII.—ALICE'S CONFESSION.

I could scarcely believe the evidence of my own ears, so astounded was I over Alice's announcement!

It was obvious that she didn't notice me. She was much too intent on Tony, and her meeting with that worthless youth, to have eyes to spare for his companion.

When I emerged, then, from the shadows, materializing by Tony's side, she gave a small, affected scream.

"Good heavens, Helene! How you did startle me!" Embarrassment and a hint of anger mingled in her tones. "I—I didn't see you—"

"Quite evidently not!" I naswered. I was tired of Alice's ridiculous intrigues. With a handsome, kindly husband, who adored her, her flirtations simply couldn't be condoned. And Tony Lascelles was such a worthless object!

"I—I just wanted to tell Tony about our patient," stammered Alice considerably disconcerted. "I thought he'd be interested—"

"He will be!" I emphasized my words. "I think that Tony is more interested in the patient—and with more definite reason—than either you or I, Alice!"

My voice held a mysterious note. Tony, no doubt, would guess that I knew more than I cared to say. I wished to keep his mind on tenterhooks. I had him in my power now, and I meant to use that power for his discomfiture.

"Helene, what do you mean?" Alice cleverly seized on my remark to draw attention from her own compromising position. "What on earth are you insinuating?" The baby—stare—of which she was past mistress—came into her blue eyes again. Her voice held a childish note.

"Ask Tony," I said briefly. "And don't let me interrupt your little tete-a-tete!"

I sped across the lawn toward the lighted door from which fair Alice had but recently emerged.

The hall was empty. I crossed its spaciousness, and ascended the shallow staircase to the upper floor.

Involuntarily my feet led me toward Jim's room. Oh, how I yearned for him, my husband!

Alas! The door was closed. His mother and his nurse were with him—and I, his wife, shut out!

A mist of foolish tears blinded my eyes. I hurried down the corridor toward my own apartment. Dinner would be ready presently—and I must dress for it. I shut my bedroom door behind me, and was quite alone.

"Helene Beauclaire—Helene St. Aubyns," I remarked to my tearful image in the looking-glass. "For heaven's sake, do be cheerful! Make the best of things! Buck up!"

But naturally I am not philosophic. My heart rules my head—in the most foolish, painful way.

No woman who is in love can be quite logical. I'm no exception to my sex. I'm not strong-minded, resolute. On the contrary, I'm dreadfully feminine.

And so I yearned for Jim. I wept. I saw no light ahead. Everything was dark and dreary and impossible.

Except the one outstanding fact that Jim was on the mend. . . .

When I give way to tears I am no longer pretty. My nose takes on a pinkish hue. In fact, I look ridiculous.

But cry I did—torrentially.

Oh, the queer kinks and twists of fate! I—who through my own unreasoning folly had lost my husband's love—adored him still! And Alice Anstruther—loved by a splendid husband—could yet stoop to flirt with a ne'er-do-well like Tony!

"It's a hateful world," I bitterly remarked to the tear-swollen image in the looking-glass; "I wish that I were dead!"

A light knock sounded on my door.

"Helene, dear—open! It's only Alice!"

Only Alice!

"No, don't come in! Please don't!" I cried. I was in no mood for confidences. Besides, I felt I hated Tony and Alice and their miserable flirtation. Together, they had spoiled my happiness.

"Helene!" Before I could prevent her, Alice had popped her head inside the room. "Great guns! Whatever is the matter?"

Alice had reason for her exclamation. For indeed I looked a sight! Swollen nose and reddened eyelids, and a trickle of tears still on my much-flushed countenance.

She slipped across the room, real consternation in her eyes.

"Helene, you care for Tony! I know it! You—you're angry—because I'd planned to meet him for a moment—"

I swung around to face her. I was furious now.

"You little sentimental goose!" I cried. "What do I care for either you or Tony! You two can flirt to your heart's content for all I mind! Just because you happen to admire a worthless man is no reason why I, too, should suffer the same hallucinations! Please make a note of that!"

This terse criticism pulled Alice back to earth. She flushed uneasily.

"Helene, please don't be spiteful!"

"I'm not spiteful—only truthful!" snappily I answered. "Alice, you make me sick and tired! I don't give two pins for Tony—never did—and never shall!"

My words carried conviction. A relieved look came into Alice's blue eyes. But she remarked, inquisitively:

"Then what on earth are you crying over?"

"The general rottenness of life," I answered grimly, wiping a few refractory tears away. "One must be an idiot sometimes, I suppose."

"And you don't care for Tony?" Alice asked, with eagerness.

"Of course not—goosey!"

Alice sank down on my bed. With a weary little gesture, she put a hand across her forehead.

"Helene," she said. "I'm awfully frightened! Tony's got me in his power!"

CZECHO-SLOVAKS ARE WORRIED AS RESULT OF GERMAN TROUBLES

Would Join Allies If Fight Is Made Against Pan-German Element.

London, March 16.—Prague advices say the revolution in Germany is producing anxiety in Czecho-Slovakia which is surrounded by Germans on two sides. The Czech newspapers state that should allied military action against the Pan-German junkers be decided upon, Czecho-Slovakia probably would join the allied troops as the establishment of a Pan-German military rule would mean sooner or later an attack on Czecho-Slovakia, which forms a barrier to a Pan-German advance eastward.

WOMAN WAITS AND WEEPS FOR SPOUSE

Judge Expressed Sympathy for Wife of Convicted Man.

Detroit, March 17.—Silent except for subdued weeping and occasional crooning words to still the cries of her 5-months-old baby in her arms, a woman has sat for two days in the corridors of the county building, or wandered about carrying the child. She is the wife of Joe Kushno, one of the members of the alleged "New Boston gang," who, with two confederates, was convicted by a jury in Judge George P. Codd's court last week of robbery while armed.

Mrs. Kushno appeared at the county building on Monday with the baby. She was expecting that her husband would be sentenced by Judge Codd, the court having remanded him and his companions at the conclusion of the case. Judge Codd did not pronounce sentence Monday, and in the afternoon, Tuesday, persuaded Mrs. Kushno to go home with her baby and get needed rest. She was assured by Judge Codd, who has expressed a deep sympathy for her, that no action in her husband's case will be taken until she is informed, so that she may be present in court.

Mrs. Kushno swooned at the conclusion of the case last week after the jury had brought in a verdict of guilty.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE BY BLIZZARD THAT SWEEPS OVER WEST

Storm Passes to South and Is Now Central Over States.

Winnipeg, March 17.—The storm which has crossed the prairie provinces since last Sunday has passed to the south and is now playing havoc over the border. It has left in its trail considerable damage, but the full story cannot yet be told, as the west is still cut off from communication with Winnipeg. It is known that some of the Saskatchewan cities are still badly tied up from the effects of the blizzard. Between this city and Brandon some 900 telegraph poles are down on the Canadian Pacific Railway lines and other services are in as bad a condition.

BRICKLAYERS' WAGES $1.25 AN HOUR.

Port Arthur, March 17.—The Building Trades Federation has notified local contractors that wages this year will be $1.25 per hour for bricklayers and $1.10 for carpenters.

MISSIONARY RELEASED.

Peking, March 11.—(Delayed).—The Rev. Dr. Skelton, a missionary of the Disciples of Christ Church, who was captured by bandits in January at Laoyakuan, near Yunnan-Fu, has been released through the efforts of the American legation and is proceeding under escort to Yunnan-Fu, where he is due to arrive next Monday. Simultaneously with advices of the release of Dr. Skelton, came news of the capture by the same band of bandits of a British missionary named Metcalfe, belonging to the China Inland Mission.

CITY EDITOR'S CASE WILL BE TAKEN TO HIGHEST U.S. COURT

Chicago, March 17.—One of the highest principles of the newspaper profession—that of refusing to betray a confidence in revealing a source of information—will be brought before the highest court of the country, as the result of the holding in contempt of court here of Hector H. Elwell, city editor of the Chicago American.

Because Mr. Elwell refused to break his word in declining to answer questions concerning the source of a news story, put to him by a federal grand jury, Federal Judge George Carpenter fined him $500 and ordered that he be confined in jail until he answer them. On the request of Mr. Elwell's attorney a stay order of ten days was granted, to perfect an appeal.

"The point involved is so important to newspapers generally that we intend to carry the case to the highest court," said Roy D. Keehn, Mr. Elwell's attorney.

Chicago, March 17.—Reports of bubonic plague in Argentina brought about higher prices here today for corn, but selling to realize profits led soon to a setback. Moreover, bears contended that owing to the recent big rise of the corn market, the feeding of the cereal to hogs was no longer remunerative. Much notice was taken of the fact that since February 9 there had been an extreme bulge of 32c. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1c higher, were followed by declines all around to below yesterday's finish.

Oats were governed by the action of corn. After opening ⅛c to ½c up, the market scored an additional upturn, but then lost all the advance and more.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 17—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Industrial shares were buoyant at the opening of today's stock market as a result of the 50 per cent stock dividend declared yesterday by the Crucible Steel Company. The initial transaction in Crucible consisted of a block of 1,200 shares at 242 to 240 a maximum advance of 9½ points, but the stock soon reacted to 235. In the motor and oil divisions first quotations showed gains of 1 to 4 points. Rails and railway equipments were firm to strong, Baldwin Locomotive leading those groups at an extreme rise of 4 points. American Woolen, International Paper and Industrial Alcohol embraced the strong specialties.

Noon.—Crucible Steel forfeited virtually all of its advance in the first hour, and other leaders, especially oils, motors and equipments, fell back 2 to 3½ points. Consistent strength was shown by Baldwin Locomotive, American Woolen, United States Rubber and American Can, but in general the market reflected the cautious attitude of speculative interests. Dealings diminished to marked extent before noon, and traders were plainly disposed to pay more attention to the uncertain money market. Call loans opened at 8 per cent, a slight concession from recent initial rates, but time funds continued extremely scarce.

The Dominion Savings and Investment Society

DIVIDEND NO. 96

Notice is hereby given that a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent per annum for the three months ending 31st March, 1920, upon the paid-up capital stock of the society has been declared, and that the same will be payable at the offices of the society, Dominion Savings Building, Richmond Street, London, on and after the 1st day of April next, to shareholders on record at the close of business on the 13th day of March, 1920.

By order of the board

NATHANIEL MILLS, Manager.

London, March 12, 1920.

Where does your salary go?

THE months go by with dizzy rapidity and you find at the end of a hard working year, that you are no better off than you were at the beginning.

Year after year it will be the same if you don't take immediate steps to stop the outward flow of your earnings.

Cultivate the saving plan. Try opening a savings account in The Bank of Toronto. It will be surprising how little you will miss what you lay aside, and how quickly your savings, together with the interest they will earn, will accumulate to a substantial sum.

Eyes human and spiritual

ORIENTAL people suffer greatly from diseases of the eye.

TWENTY years ago, Dr. Wille, a most eminent Danish oculist, gave up all the honors and financial rewards of his European reputation to join this organization, and consecrate his life and skill to the eye-afflicted people of Java and other Oriental countries.

HIS labors have been wonderfully crowned, for they have enabled the Salvation Army to spread the knowledge of Christ in places and among peoples that were in outer darkness, literally and spiritually.

At The Theaters

"THE WOMAN THOU GAVEST ME" AT ALLEN.

Like a slave in the market place, sold to the highest bidder, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," played by Katherine MacDonald, passes through the most terrible experiences that could befall a good woman. Yet she finally overcomes them and wins a measure of happiness. This wonderful story, starring the noted American beauty, is shown at the Allen for the last time today.

Presented at the Allen tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, will be a special double program, with the famous Ziegfeld Follies' Boy, Will Rogers, in "Jubilo," and Mary Pickford's picture, "Amarilla of Clothesline Ally," is the added feature.

"THE DRAGON PAINTER" AT THE MAJESTIC.

Presented at the Majestic tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, will be the wonderfully picturesque Japanese production, "The Dragon Painter," starring Sessue Hayakawa with an all-Japanese support. A picture of charming scenes of the Japanese interior, a country little seen by white people, it has a universal appeal to every different taste.

ENGLAND PRODUCES HER FIRST BIG ATTRACTION, "TWELVE-TEN."

The propaganda to have more British-made pictures shown in Canada continues to gain strength, "12-10," the first of the output of the New Mammoth British and Colonial Studios, will make its first Canadian appearance in London next week at the Majestic Theatre.

The theme of "Twelve-Ten" is entirely different from anything yet produced, while Marie Dore returns to the screen in the biggest hit of her entire career. The all-British cast is said to be excellent. The Capitol Theatre, New York, the world's largest playhouse, showed "Twelve-Ten" to capacity audiences on its first engagement in America. "Twelve-Ten" will be shown the entire week with a special matinee daily at regular prices.

TYRONE POWER IN "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

What promises to be the greatest theatrical event of the present theatrical season will be the appearance of the distinguished English actor, Mr. Tyrone Power, in his original character part of "The Drainman," in Charles Rann Kennedy's greatest play of the generation, "The Servant In the House," which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. Mr. Power will be supported by a specially selected company of distinguished English actors, such as Mr. Harvey Hays, Mr. Walter Edwin, Mr. Edward Foster, Mr. Harold DeBecker, Miss Alma Chester, Miss Chela Knight and others. "The Servant In the House" will be the first production under the personal direction of Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, the new all-Canadian organization, who are now controlling theatres throughout the entire Dominion. Seats now on sale.

AT LOEW'S.

Julian Rose, in his Hebrew monologue, is creating one of the biggest hits of the season at Loew's the first three days of this week. Mr. Rose puts over a line of patter in his own Yiddish style that provokes one long laugh from the time he makes his appearance until the close of his turn. Johnson Brothers and Johnson are making a strong bid for honors with a novel minstrel offering. The trio offer some new jokes and dances, and their singing numbers are a rare treat. Russell and Devitt offer some eccentric dances and tumbling. Jesson and Jesson, in harmony and dance, and Murphy and Kline in Tinkering Tunes, provide an excellent program.

The feature film attraction, "Victory" and "Fatty" Arbuckle, with Loew's Weekly, complete a bill of merit. An entire new program will be presented tomorrow, the headline attraction being Constance Binney, in "Erstwhile Susan."

E. G. HOGARTH, advertising manager of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, Ford, Ontario, and a director of the Association of Canadian Advertisers, recently resigned his position with the Ford Company to reassociate himself with Messrs. McConnell & Fergusson, advertising agents of this city.

Mr. Hogarth spent two years with the local agency several years ago and was later placed in charge of their Windsor branch. From this he took a decided forward step and for the past two years has had complete charge of advertising motion picture and photographic department of the Ford Motor Company, handling the above work for Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Africa, D. E. Indies and other British overseas possessions.

On account of his broad knowledge of all phases of advertising his advice has been constantly sought by many outside manufacturing and advertising concerns. The local organization is to be congratulated therefore on securing Mr. Hogarth. b

UNIONIST DECIDE TO SHELVE CANADA'S NAVAL ISSUE AGAIN

Government Puts Off Action —Postpones Announcing Borden's Policy.

OTTAWA, March 16.—In full Government caucus assembled this morning it was decided to further shelve the naval question and to once again postpone announcement as to Canada's "permanent" policy which was promised by Sir Robert Borden as far back as 1912. Much dust, it may be predicted, will accumulate upon the report and recommendations of Admiral Jellicoe (compiled at heavy expense) before any of the recommendations are put into effect by the present Government. In fact, it may well be that the vessels and units which he has recommended shall be obsolete before the Government has made up its mind.

As a compromise, however, the caucus this morning decided that an air force should be established in conjunction with the military services. When the war closed Canada's splendid aerodromes were dismantled, her training grounds were closed down and many million dollars worth of valuable machines and equipment were sold at "scrap" prices.

Drifted Elsewhere.

Men who had battled with honor over the battlefields across seas came home and were told that their services could not be utilized. So they drifted elsewhere and found field for their valient youth in places where flying has long been recognized as one of the most important of modern efforts.

In other words the Government allowed a splendid opportunity to slip away. And now it has decided to endeavor to retrieve the opportunity lost. It proposed to open camps at various of the Dominion and to make an initial expenditure of $800,000 to $1,000,000 in establishing air service.

Legislation This Session.

Legislation for this purpose will likely be brought before the House this session.

Consideration of political expediency, finance, etc., weighed with members in rejecting the proposal to engage upon even a modest program of naval defence this session. Even when it was pointed out that Great Britain would provide the ships free and that Canada's burden of expense would be confined to maintenance, a majority was opposed.

APPRECIATES HIS WELCOME

Does the Proprietor of the New Semi-Ready Store.

"Whilst I have been busy superintending and helping in the reconstruction of my new store on Dundas street," said Leo Watson, "I have been greatly pleased with the kindly welcome given to me by callers, who came in to tell me how glad they are to again have a Semi-ready store, and how pleased they are to see me come back to my old home town.

"I appreciate the welcome and also the kindly words of advice and encouragement, and you may be sure I will do my very best to deserve every word spoken.

"There is nothing which so heartens a man in his work as to feel that he has friends who take an interest in him. Particularly do I esteem the friendly comment on my endeavor to give expression to the policy and the service which I intend shall reflect the atmosphere of my shop when I throw open the doors very shortly.

"Even though I may have my coat off, and, hammer in hand, helping to speed the preparations, I am always glad to see visitors," he concluded.—Advt. b

WEEK-OLD BRIDE IS BELIEVED TO HAVE KILLED HER HUSBAND

DETROIT, March 16.—Willard Rice, 23, former army sergeant, is dead from a bullet wound in his head, thought to have been inflicted by his wife, Dorothy, to whom he was married a week ago.

Rice was found this morning lying unconscious across his bed, while his young wife, who admitted their married life had been quarrelsome, lay by him in a faint. Rice died at noon in the Receiving Hospital.

It was said Rice had been suffering from a wound sustained in battle, and that prior to the shooting he had threatened to kill another young woman with the same weapon with which he was shot. Mrs. Rice is being held by the police.

TAX RATE FOR 1920 FIXED AT 40 MILLS BY CITY COUNCIL

Rate Is Higher Than in 1919 by Seven and One-Half Mills—School Rate Is 14.6372, General 24.6579 and For Patriotic Expenditures .7049.

Forty mills on the dollar will be London's rate of taxation this year.

The city council at a special meeting last night gave final consideration to the estimates, and fixed this rate as necessary to raise the city's 1920 revenue. The total expenditure for the year will be $1,660,312.58.

The rate struck is higher by seven and a half mills than that of 1919, when the rate was 32.50 mills.

Details of the estimated expenditure are contained in a report submitted to the council by City Treasurer James Bell and are as follows:

Total expenditure		$2,062,662 32
Less receipts other than taxes		402,349 74
		$1,660,312 58
EXPENDITURES FOR OTHER THAN GENERAL PURPOSES:
Patriotic expenditure	$ 31,178 53
Collegiate Institute	100,421 92
Public schools	433,208 28
Separate schools	34,147 11
Technical School	53,343 37
	658,299 21
To raise in general tax		$1,002,013 37
Less annex		528 27
		$1,001,485 10

RECAPITULATION.

School rate	14.6372 mills, yielding—	$ 627,120 68
Patriotic	.7049 mills, yielding—	31,178 53
General	24.6579 mills, yielding—	1,001,485 10
Tax rate	40. mills, yielding—	$1,660,312 58

The Council's Share.

Of the total increase of seven and a half mills, the city council accepts responsibility for only 1.3259 mills. The total increase is made up as follows: Schools, 2.7884 mills increase; Victoria Hospital, .6470 of a mill; police commission, .5521 of a mill; board of health, .1561 of a mill; playgrounds, .2462 of a mill; city council, 1.3259 mills. This gives a total of 5.7157 mills.

Mayor Little pointed out that the year 1919 had commenced with a surplus equal to 1.0028 mills, and the repeal of certain bylaws had saved .7815 of a mill. If 1919 business had been conducted without these helps last year's rate would have been 35 mills, which would mean that the increase this year was only five mills. If this were not taken into consideration the increase this year was 7.50 mills.

The school rate is divided as follows: Collegiate Institute, 2.3439 mills, yielding $100,421.92; public and separate schools, 11.0482 mills, yielding $473,355.39; technical, 1.2451 mills, yielding $53,343.37.

This is the earliest date on which taxes have yet been struck. Last year the rate was determined on March 30, and the first installment of taxes was collected July 2. This year the first installment will be due June 15.

The rate of taxation in the annexed districts is fixed at 15 mills. When the full school rate is subtracted from this it leaves only .3628 of a mill for general purposes, or $528.27.

Another noticeable feature is that only .2462 of a mill is provided for playgrounds purposes, or about $10,000. The vote in January authorized half a mill expenditure, or about $20,000. Mayor Little said it was absolutely impossible to carry out this authorization. The limit of taxation for general purposes is 25 mills. The general rate is now 24.6579, so that there is a very narrow margin on which to work.

"GRIPPE LEAVES KIDNEYS WEAK

The epidemic of colds and grippe that has been sweeping the country has seemingly left even a greater number of people than ever in a weakened, run-down condition from which there is but a slow recovery. Much of this after weakness affects the kidneys and bladder, making it difficult for them to perform their natural functions. Sufferers have to get in and out of bed half a dozen times a night, their backs are weak and painful, sick headaches and dizziness are common symptoms. No serious trouble may exist, but the time to check such symptoms is at once before matters grow worse. No complicated treatment may be needed if a few doses of a good safe kidney regulator like Solvax is taken right away. Solvax straightens out an ordinary case of weakened kidneys in about twenty-four hours in many instances, sifts out and neutralizes poisonous uric acid and drives the clogged-up, poisonous kidney waste from the body, so that you can begin to feel better right away. Solvax is harmless, contains no alcohol or habit drugs, and leading druggists agree to refund its full purchase price if in any case it fails to give entire satisfaction. If your druggist cannot supply you, write, inclosing 50 cents, to Booth's Hyomei Company, Postoffice Box No. 388, London, Ont.

IF AFTER EATING YOU HAVE PAIN, STOMACH NEEDS AID

Specialists who have devoted their lives to the treatment of stomach ailments now tell us that many people who complain about their stomachs have no stomach ailment at all.

You may suffer from bloating, gas, sourness and other unpleasant symptoms. If so your best course is to tone up the bowels with a reliable vegetable remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. This old-time family medicine is a wonderful corrective of all digestive and stomach disorders.

There is no mystery about the quick effect you get from Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They simply supply the additional aid required by the system to enable it to do its work correctly.

You'll enjoy your meals, digest everything you eat, look better, feel better, be free from headaches, constipation and indigestion, all these benefits come to all that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Every man or woman with a stomach ill is advised to spend 25c on a box of this wonderful vegetable remedy.

Have Curly, Wavy Hair Like "Nature's Own"

Women who have trouble keeping their hair in curl, or of securing the desired wavy effect—and especially those who realize the harm that the hot iron does to the hair—will do well to try the new silmerine method. In no other way can they acquire such pretty waves and curls, having all the appearance of "Nature's own." And the hair, instead of being singed, ragged or dead looking, has such a lively lustre and wholesome beauty. The curliness is more quickly acquired than when a waving iron is used, and it lasts considerably longer. When the hair is combed out it is nice and fluffy. The hair will be quite manageable, no matter in what fashion it is done up.

If one will get a bottle of plain liquid silmerine at any drug store and follow the accompanying directions, she will be simply delighted with the result. This product is, of course, perfectly harmless, and there is nothing sticky, greasy or unpleasant about it. It is also prized as a splendid dressing for the hair. As so small a quantity is required at a time, a few ounces will last for months. —Advt.

LIBRARIAN LANDON ADVISES BOYS WHAT BOOKS TO READ

"What To Read" was the title of an interesting address by Public Librarian Fred Landon before the Tuxis boys' groups of the Y. M. C. A. last night. Milton Walker, grand pretor, presided, and following the address, the various groups were given tests by their mentors on books they had read during the past year.

Boys between fifteen and eighteen years of age read less than any other period of life, stated Mr. Landon. They should read more, and along three different lines, vocational books, dealing with the work and subjects along the line of their prospective calling in life. They should read inspirational books showing how other men have succeeded in life, and they should also read recreational literature, fiction, humor and other light reading. To develop the mind fully, ample reading along all three lines should be undertaken, and none of the three classifications of reading should be overlooked entirely.
