A Meditation.

Think that the grass upon thy grave is green; Think that thou seest those own empty chair. The empty room where thoughtfully hast laid head. Think that the line, the window, and the wood. The mountain summit, know thy feet no more. Nor the lost thoroughfare, nor sounding shore. All mere blank space where thou thyself hast stood.

The Purser's Story.

ly in hand when I was interrupted by a slight tap at the door. I at once opened it, and there stood Mrs. Melburn's Canadian maid, with flushed face and nervous agitated manner. "Mrs. Melburn's compliments, sir, and would you come down to her stateroom immediately?" She was about to make some eager statement, but pulled herself up suddenly and tripped along the deck without another word.

I locked the door and hurried away after her. When I got to Mrs. Melburn's stateroom, I saw at once that something had occurred to cause serious anxiety. The berth, the couch, and even the door were littered with the contents of cabin trunks and handbags. In the midst of the confusion stood the lady herself looking decidedly perplexed and annoyed.

"This is very singular, Mr. Morse," she said, pointing to an empty jewel case which lay open on the upper berth. "My diamond ornaments are missing."

"You don't say so!" I exclaimed in sheer amazement. "How did it happen?" "I cannot possibly tell you. At dinner this evening I happened to mention to Mrs. Latimer that I had picked up a curious crescent shaped brooch on the continent. She expressed a wish to see it. When the table was cleared I came in here, took out the brooch, and left the jewel case lying on the berth. I was careful to lock the door, but when I came back the case was empty."

"How long were you absent?" "Not more than half an hour." "You are sure you had the key in your pocket?" "Positive. I never let it out of my hand while I was in the saloon."

I examined the lock carefully, but there was nothing to show that it had been tampered with. I could hit upon no better suggestion than that Mrs. Melburn had mislaid the jewels. This had the sole effect of exasperating the lady to such a degree—that she had already searched every hole and corner in the cabin—that I was glad to bring a retreat in order to lay the matter before the captain.

I had just got to the head of the saloon stairs when I heard someone knocking upon my door. I turned and saw Mr. Carter, who had made several previous voyages with us. "I say, Morse," he said taking me confidently by the arm, "you have got some queer customers on this ship. Someone's walked off with my silver cigarette case, a couple of rings and a pair of gloves."

"The dice!" "Well, it looks as if that individual had a hand in the business, for I don't see how any ordinary mortal could get into the cabin, with the door bolted on the inside, unless he squeezed through the porthole."

"Tell me exactly what has happened?" "You see, I went to my stateroom after dinner, feeling a bit drowsy, I bolted the door—I can swear to that case, ring and a pair of gold sleeve links on the upper berth. Then I stretched myself upon the couch and had a downright good snooze. When I got up about five minutes ago, I found my trinkets had vanished."

"Are my most things were beginning to look serious, and no mistake! I lost no time in hunting up the captain."

"I hurried down into the saloon, where most of the passengers congregated. I went straight to a young American gentleman, who I knew had a great many trinkets in his stateroom, and was rather careless, too, in the way he left them lying about. "Don't suppose you saw any surprise?" I asked, glancing around at the occupants of the saloon, "but might I ask whether your stateroom is locked?" "It is."

"I should think so. I don't want to find the place as stuffy as the engine room when I go to turn in." "Well, just pass my your key, and I will try an experiment. Wait till I have finished then stroll up on deck. Let me see—oh, but don't say too close either. No anyone you may notice anything there."

"I remained in that cramped compartment until my limbs fairly ached, and I was half inclined to give it up as a bad job. But suddenly, as I glanced at the porthole, my blood ran cold, and in all my life I never had such a difficulty to keep down a yell. In the light came long, thin, hairy arm thrust through the opening. The next moment a small black hand had fastened upon a leather case lying close to the window and withdrew almost as quick as thought. I sprang to my feet and bolted out into the passage. I dashed up the saloon stairs and made for the lower deck. There, just above the spot where I judged the stateroom to be situated, I came face to face with the Brazilian, De Castro. In spite of the heat he was wearing his long cloak with the deep cape, and had his eyes fixed upon me with an air of frank surprise, and I looked at him with an air of profound suspicion. Suddenly a happy thought flashed through my mind. I turned round and sprang down the saloon stairs, running full tilt against the chief steward, who was standing at the bottom. "Nuts!" I cried, without giving him time to recover from his surprise. Really, he looked at me with such utter consternation, I verily believe he was convinced I had taken leave of my senses.

"Do you hear?" I went on excitedly. "Get me a handful of nuts—quick!" With that I brought them, I hurried back on deck. The Brazilian had moved away a little toward the stern. I went close up, stood right in front of him, and then began to crack the nuts.

He regarded me with a pitying sort of look, but I paid little attention to him. I was watching that cloak of his. Presently I saw a corner of the cape drawn aside and a pair of small gleaming eyes fixed greedily upon me. It was enough. My suspicions were confirmed. I flung the rest of the nuts into the sea, and walking straight up to De Castro, said:

"I must ask you to accompany me to the captain's cabin."

"I'm not going," he cried. I took him by the shoulder, when his cape was suddenly pulled aside and out flew a monkey that went at me tooth and nail. I also saw the gleam of a knife in the hands of the Brazilian but before he could use it I let him have my fist straight between his eyes, and he measured his length upon the deck.

The quarter master came running up and the nasal was dragged off to the captain's cabin. When searched there, Mrs. Melburn's diamonds, Mr. Carter's jewelry and miscellaneous collection of other valuables were found upon him. In his stateroom we discovered a perforated box, apparently intended for the use of the monkey, who was evidently quite as accomplished a thief as his master.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are Bringing Health to Weak, Dependent People.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, towns, villages and farms where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other they have brought back to breadwinners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and new strength. You have only to ask your neighbors and they can tell you of some nerve-shattering man, suffering anaemic grief who one present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Their wonderful success is due to the fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red, strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain.

Mr. Joseph Lacombe, Quebec City, says:—"Today I weigh about forty pounds more than I did a year ago, and am in every way in much sounder health. For upwards of two years I had been studying hard to pass my examinations and my health had completely given away under the strain, and I had lost my appetite, my strength and my nerves were greatly weakened. I was obliged to abandon my studies and was in a state of complete exhaustion. I consulted a physician, but as I was daily growing weaker I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had often heard very highly spoken of. The beneficial effects were indeed remarkable for I had not used more than a couple of boxes when I could feel an improvement, and I was returned. I continued using the pills for some weeks longer, with the result that my strength increased daily and I was soon able to take over my studies and work with about as much energy as I had ever done. To-day I am in perfect health and I attribute my recovery solely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Manitoba wheat contains more food value than any other. It makes the most wholesome, most nutritious Bread and biscuits. But it contains so much Gluten (Nourishment) that the dough won't rise properly, and the bread is both heavy and gray. That is the reason, too, why Manitoba wheat flour does not yield good pastry.

Beaver Flour

is both a bread flour and a pastry flour. It is a blend of Ontario Fall Wheat. It contains just the right proportion of each to make the most nutritious Bread—the whitest Bread—and the lightest, most delicious Pastry of all kinds.

Beaver Flour also yields MORE Bread, etc., to the barrel, than any other.

No matter what other flour you are using, you are not getting the best results because you are not using the best flour.

Order a trial sack of Beaver Flour. The first baking will prove its quality.

The following—from the Fairfield, Maine, Chronicle, is neatly done and has a wide application outside of Maine. "He was the manager of a church fair, and one morning he walked into the newspaper office and said: 'What is this morning?' 'Of course,' replied 'the editor, whereupon the visitor laid the following note upon the table: 'The ladies of the Street Church will give a festival at their vestry hall next Friday evening. Literary and musical entertainment will be provided, and a supper will be served to all who desire. We prefer to have it go in the local column, in such matters as this we ought to be willing to help each other.' 'When the editor read it, he said: 'Oh, I see, an advertisement.' 'No, not an advertisement. We prefer to have it go in the local column,' replied the manager. 'And seeing that the editor looked skeptical, he continued: 'It will interest a great many of your readers and help a good cause; besides we have spent so much money in getting up our entertainment that we can't afford to advertise it without increasing the price of the tickets. In such matters as this we ought to be willing to help each other.' 'The visiting brother asked notice, and the editor wrote and handed him the following: 'The Weekly Chronicle for the coming year will be the best and cheapest family paper in Maine. Its proprietor has had much experience and has all the helps which a large outlay of money can secure. His paper has a larger circulation than any other in the country and is to be furnished at only $2. It is certain that no one can spend that amount to a better advantage. Be sure to take the Chronicle, and subscribe for your friends.' 'The manager hemmed and hesitated, and then said, solemnly, that he doubted whether it would be judicious to read such a notice, suggested that if it were printed, copies of it might be distributed at the door on the evening of the entertainment.' 'Yes,' said the editor, 'but it might attract more attention in the middle of a sermon. It will interest a large number of your congregation and help a good cause, and besides so much money is spent on the Chronicle that the owner can't afford to print hand bills to advertise it without increasing the subscription price. In such matters as this, we ought to be willing to help each other.' 'Liberty will not descend to a people; a people must raise themselves to liberty.—Colton.

Dust is a danger your home shouldn't endure
The floor that is coated with the glass-like, germ-proof, seamless finish Floorglaze gives us dust practically no dust. That ought to mean much in your home.

Nearly every malignant disease finds dust its best messenger. And this floor-finish, in any of its ten eye-pleasing shades, deprives dust of its chief stronghold—the floor. Floorglaze costs little—a gallon covers 800 square feet. Anyone can apply it right. It just CAN'T wear off—tho' it does dry hard in a single night. THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 26, 1908.

Mr. John Donaldson.

It is certainly to be regretted that Mr. John Donaldson could not see his way clear to accept the unanimous nomination of the Kings County Temperance Alliance and become their candidate at the ensuing federal election. Mr. Donaldson would have been an ideal candidate in every respect, notwithstanding the opinion of the editorial writer of the Western Chronicle. It is true he has not had all the experience of that writer. He has never experienced a good sound beating at the hands of the respectable electorate of this county. Neither has he ever had an opportunity of disgracing the title 'honorable' or of sitting in the halls of the provincial legislature, where the news of his defeat at the hands of his constituents was received with undignified satisfaction. He has not had the honor of assisting in the hanging of poor Robinson, or of heaping insults upon a poor wretch at the foot of the gallows. It will become the Chronicle scribe to sneer at a man like John Donaldson, but on the other hand Mr. Donaldson is to be congratulated that he is not counted among those who fall down and worship the 'golden calf.' We will venture the opinion that even Sir Fred Borden would be glad to have among his political supporters an educated, progressive farmer and cultured gentleman like Mr. Donaldson, and we can believe that he would be only too glad to have him as a companion in his canvases of the county and with him on the platform in his future public meetings; but we doubt if all the money in the Dominion treasury, all the influence and sentiment of old political associations would elect even Sir Fred if he had as his companion and 'public assistant' this sneering, discredited, short-sighted editorial writer of the Kentville organ—and we are persuaded that Sir Fred is no fool. B. H. Dodge, M. L. A., A. E. McMahon, Warden, W. E. Ruscoe, K. C. and other respectable and influential supporters will be brought into communion when the federal contest opens, but we venture the prediction that Mr. John Donaldson's sneering critic, will be given other and less creditable employment.

Shortening the Distance.

It was in 1851 that the Hon. Joseph Howe made his famous prediction that Canada would have a transcontinental railway and that the people would be able to cross Canada quite comfortably in a week. It required more than thirty years to fulfill the prophecy that it was done. And since 1886, the date of the fulfilment, much more has been accomplished.

Last year the C. P. R. entered into an arrangement with the British Government to run a mail train from Yokohama via Canada on a twenty-five day schedule. Only once in a full year has that 'Overseas Mail' been late—a truly remarkable performance. Whether the service will be continued is a matter to be decided by the British Government, but certainly the Canadians who undertook the work have carried out their contract in both the letter and the spirit.

Again, it is startling to hear that since June 15th trains are run from Toronto to Winnipeg over the new C. P. R. line via Sudbury in thirty-six hours. This is quite a change from the day when the Red River Expedition of 1870 spent weeks crossing this stretch of land, and quite different too from the days when the troops went west to quell the Rebellion of 1855. When the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific get their lines completed between the Rockies and the East, which will be done within five years, it will be possible to travel from Quebec and back in less than a few short days. In fact, journeys between the cities of eastern and western Canada will be no more tiresome nor lengthy than were the journeys between Ontario and Nova Scotia a few short years ago.

Keep Little Ones Well.

If you want to keep your children healthy, rosy and full of life during the hot weather months give them an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine prevents deadly summer complaints by cleansing the stomach and bowels. The mother who keeps this medicine on hand may feel as safe as if she had a doctor in the house. The tablets are equally as good for the new born baby as the well grown child. Mrs. W. H. Switzer, Elfrid, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and have always found them just what was needed to keep them well." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It is understood that the Prince of Wales will cross the Atlantic in the new armored cruiser Indomitable. The vessel chosen to represent the British Navy at the celebrations are the battleships Albatross, Duncan, Ramona, and Russell, and the protected cruisers Arrogant and Venus, all of which belong to the Atlantic Fleet. These vessels will be despatched to reach the St. Lawrence before the Prince of Wales, whom they will receive with a royal salute.

Word has been received here of the death in California of the Rev. William B. Bradshaw, A.M., D.D., of P. E. C. He leaves three children settled in the west, and a wife, who was Miss Mary McWhorter, D.D., sister of Mrs. W. H. Warren of Bridge Cove.

The Universal Family.

Said Mazzini, in that splendid work of his on 'The Duties of Man,' that ought to be a text book on the higher patriotism in our Canadian schools. 'Your task is to found the Universal Family. When each of you, loving all men as brothers, shall reciprocally act like brothers; when each of you, seeking his own well-being in the well-being of all, and his own interest with the interest of all, when each shall be ever ready to sacrifice himself for all the members of the common family, equally ready to sacrifice themselves for him; most of the evils which now weigh upon the human race will disappear, as the gathering vapors of the horizon vanish on the rising of the sun.'

Wonderful words are these, and worthy of being given deed and large where every Canadian citizen might see them, and seeing them, be stirred to nobler deeds. Splendidly they declare the principle upon which any nation can make real progress toward the goal of real success. They hold for their reader the truth that lies at the heart of things, at the base of being, at the hub of progress, at the very core of civilization. They define that patriotism that may most truly be accounted real and good, and most conducive to human good.

They state, with incomparable clearness and beauty, the ideal toward whose fulfillment every Canadian should struggle with unabated ardor and complete devotion. That ideal is the Universal Family. The thought is not new, save in its civic and economic interpretation and application. But the application is of supreme importance. The brotherhood of man is more than a religious rhapsody, a thing to dream of and plan for in some far away ethereal realm, a pretty jingle of words to soothe the harshness of the economic and social discord. It should be recognized as an ideal to be realized here. It should be incorporated into the industrial relations of man to man. It should be sought as the sublime culmination of the age-old struggles of the progress of the race.

The definite acceptance by the Canadian people at this early stage in national development of such an ideal as that set forth by Mazzini will be of untold gain to us in the future. To set it clearly before us the only ideal that is worth while, and to bend our energies intelligently toward its realization, will give us a vast advantage over all the nations that have ever been in the past. Without exception they have had other and lower ideals, accepting the class idea, the industrial conflict, the separatist struggle, an inevitable and of good purpose.

But higher, better, truer, is the ideal of the Universal Family. The one great fact that daily grows more clear is that of the unity of man, the solidarity of the race, the oneness of humanity. Upon that fact must build the nations that shall be the nations of the future. The law whose national transgression brings its inevitable penalty of disaster and death. If Canada simply adds one more to the long list of nations that suffered class to feed on other class, and permitted a gulf-barred aristocracy and proletariat, her progress can only be progress toward the common fate, ultimate extinction. Division will mean death.

Let it be proposed here that we, as Canadians, set forth on our national way as a Universal Family. Let the self-seeker be henceforth branded as the traitor to the state. Our interests are one, and where one gains at other's loss, there is no real gain, but only a loss of sympathy and fellow faith. Whatever other nations may have done, let us be true to this greatest of all laws, the laws of unity in love.

More About the Aboiteau.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ACADIAN.

DEAR EDITOR.—The loss sustained by the proprietors of the Wickwire Dyke for a century is a strong argument in favor of the proposed aboiteau across the Cornwallis River from Wolfville to Star's Point. Since the dyke was first built the tides of the river have cut away at the rate of an acre a year of reclaimed land. The condition of the dyke is so deplorable at the present time that it is proposed to ask the government for $3000 to spend on breakwaters to protect the pier, and to assess the dyke for the same amount to supplement this protective work. Few persons have faith in the proposed work as it is shown that the pier itself has been a cause of damage to the bank of the river alongside. As the long outer curve of the Cornwallis River is forced along the Wickwire dyke for a mile or more the water is driven against the pier, and the loss heavy. Star's Point dyke is being extended and built up in consequence. This loss of land causes other and more serious losses, viz: (1) loss of portions of dyke which have to be replaced with new work and the consequent cost of this; (2) the loss of salt marsh which would otherwise make good dyked marsh; (3) loss of the productive powers of the land taken by the tide; (4) loss of rateable property; (5) damages awarded to owners of dyked land upon which new dykes are built; (6) low valuation of the whole Wickwire dyke because of the cost of maintaining the dykes; (7) poor security and high rate paid on loans; (8) heavy yearly expense for labor, causing extremely high rates year after year.

The loss of too acres in a century represents about $8,500. The loss in dyke rates cannot be less than $2,000 the acre, making $10,000, and the loss of hay alone to the owners has been $60,000 estimating one ton and a half to the acre. The other losses are difficult to approximate but enough is shown to make it evident that something must be done if this serious loss is to be checked.

The dyke has lost so much of its salt marsh a graver danger faces the owners as the whole remaining dyke is nearer the river every year. The force of the current of the river must be stopped. This is the only security. To effect this the aboiteau across the river is necessary and the sooner the better.

The cost of the proposed aboiteau divided into three parts could be reasonably borne by the three interests concerned, viz: the county generally, the owners of the reclaimed marsh, and the owners of dyked land which would be benefited. The estimated cost of the aboiteau, $120,000, at four per cent, $4,800, makes $1,600 only to be paid yearly by each of the three interests concerned. The benefit and advantage would be so great and the need is so urgent every effort should be made to have the aboiteau built and the further ravages of the tide stopped.

Recently two counties had voted against it but he believed that this was chiefly due to the defect which he proposed to cure. The debate was quite lively. Finally the bill was passed. It makes it unlawful to send liquor into a Scott Act county.

Sen. McGregor in the Senate on Thursday on the second reading of the bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act said that 12 out of 18 counties in Nova Scotia had for many years enforced the act.

Death's Doings.

Passed away peacefully, after a lingering illness of six months, which she bore with Christian patience, Janie, beloved wife of Frederick Blahop, at the age of sixty-four years, of heart trouble. She leaves besides a husband, six children to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother. The children are: Mrs. F. M. Sharp, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. John Harrington, Coldbrook; Mrs. Frank Forsythe, Wolfville; Mrs. Arthur Coldwell, Wolfville; Mrs. Fred Bishop, Kentville; and William with whom she resided at New Minas.

One of those to our hearts has gone. The voice we loved is still.

The place made vacant in our home Can never more be filled.

Our Father in his wisdom called. The hour his love had given.

And though on earth the body lies The soul is safe in heaven.

The death occurred on Sunday last at Westport of Arthur Wellley Southern, of that place, aged 37 years. Southern was known to many in Wolfville, having spent last summer here at the Acadia Seminary Hotel. Possessed of a lovely disposition and kindly manner, he was great beloved, and the community at large mourn with the family his early death. When only a boy he aided with the Baptist church, and has led a most consistent Christian life. For months he felt the end drawing near, but for him death had no terrors. He leaves a widow and three little boys, beside two brothers and one sister, Mrs. F. P. Rockwell, of this town.

Gleaned by the Way.

A little nonsense now and then brings relief to a lot of men.

There are two periods in a man's life when he is unable to understand women. One is before marriage and the other after.

'How's your machine going?' 'Tell you better later,' replied the reformed automobilist. 'It's to be sold at auction tomorrow.'—Philadelphia Ledger.

Where the Bile is Needed. Biliousness—too much bile in the blood. Constipation—too little bile in the intestines. When the liver is weakened to action by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, it filters bile from the blood and pours it into the intestines. The result is a cleansing of the system, purer blood, better appetite, improved digestion, no sweats and good health.

It takes a couple of sweats at a decidedly long time to say goodby, even if they are parting for only a few hours.

'Much adieu about nothing, eh?' 'You don't believe in divorce, then?' 'No, sir; I've got too much sport in blood.'

'What has that to do with it?' 'I believe in a fight to the finish.' 'I went to the opera last night.' 'What did you hear?' 'That Mr. Browning is going to get a divorce. Mrs. Biggs has a dog and a new baby, and the Hattons are going to live in India.'

'All my friends say I made a mistake in marrying you,' cried the shrill woman. 'We were never meant for each other, for you're just as different from me as you can be.'

'Ah,' retorted her husband, 'you better me.'

Two Kinds of Headache. Bilious or sick headache results from sluggish liver action and constipation and is quickly overcome by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Nervous headache is usually accompanied by weakness, depression and exhaustion, and is due to a run-down nervous system. Thorough cure is obtained by building up the system with Dr. Chase's Brain Food.

'We put the motto back on the coins, anyhow,' said the Congressman. 'Yes,' answered the constituent, 'and in view of what you fellows have accomplished during this session that motto affords our only consolation.'—Chicago Tribune.

Piles. To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Pile Ointment is the best and most reliable cure for all forms of hemorrhoids, see the testimonials in the daily press and ask your druggist how they stand in it. You may have had it for many years but it will not cure you until you use Dr. Chase's Pile Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment. Towne—Old Skinner declares it does all he can to further the natural progress of all men.

Brown—Yes his idea of natural progress is for rich men to get richer and the poor men poorer.

Smythe—I intend Harry for the bar. Would you advise his beginning on such old works as Coke and Blackstone? Tompkins—No, I would prefer by grounding him even further back. Smythe—Indeed! In what Tompkins—The Ten Commandments.

Litigant—You take nine-tenths of the judgment? Outrageous! Lawyer—I furnished all the skill and eloquence and legal learning for your cause.

Litigant—But I furnished the cause. Lawyer—Oh, anybody could do that!

I was cured of Rheumatism and Arthritis by MINARD'S LINIMENT. L. E. P. J. MRS. A. LIVINGSTON. I was cured of a severe attack of Rheumatism by MINARD'S LINIMENT. JOHN MADER. I was cured of a severely swollen leg by MINARD'S LINIMENT. JOSHUA A. WYNACHT.

O'Flanagan came home one night with a deep head of black crabs around his hat.

'Why, Mike?' exclaimed his wife, 'what are ye wearin' this mournful thing for?' 'I'm wearin' it for yer first husband,' replied Mike, firmly. 'I'm sorry he's dead.'

Rheumatism. Eats Up Strength, Bends the Joints, Prevents Sleep.

UNCHECKED, it finally strikes the heart and kills its victim.

It originates in the blood and destroys most quickly in the system of persons who are run down and lacking in vitality.

The only specific of ALL forms of Rheumatism is Ferruzone, which is perfect solvent from uric acid and a splendid stimulant for the kidneys and liver.

No remedy is so successful as Ferruzone. It has never failed to cure, because it attacks the cause of the disease in the blood. It neutralizes the uric acid poison, quickens the sluggish circulation, and relieves the system of all irritating matter.

Every distressing symptom is cured, swollen muscles and aching joints are relieved of their pain. The disease will not return if once cured by Ferruzone, which does its work thoroughly. Its cures are lasting.

Unless other treatments, Ferruzone does not depress the heart, weaken the stomach, or irritate the bowels. It relieves the system, promotes better health, establishes good appetite, sound sleep and freedom from sickening pains and aches. The perfection of all rheumatic remedies is found in Ferruzone. It is the best, most easy to take, convenient to carry, guaranteed to cure, and costs only one penny per box, or six boxes for $5.00 at all druggists that sell the Ferruzone.

Minard's Liniment for sale every where.

'Cruel Slaughter.'

It is not too much to say that if the farmers were not assisted in keeping down insects by the birds agriculture would become impossible in many districts and extremely difficult in others.

The result would be a sudden and almost ruinous advance in the price of food-stuffs. It is plain, therefore, that we all have a good deal at stake in the preservation of these birds. Yet a London dealer receives single shipments of 30,000 dead humming birds to adorn ladies' hats. A million rail and bobolinks were killed near Philadelphia in one month. An article in Forest and Stream says that one little village supplies 20,000 dead birds to New York milliners. It is estimated that the workers of the United States require 100,000,000 birds a year to decorate their hats, while 150,000,000 are used annually in Europe. This is monstrous, especially when we reflect that those responsible for the slaughter are gentle women, and not male savages.

New Theory About Rheumatism. This disease is constitutional—caused by virus in the blood that circulates to all parts of the body. To cure, you must use a constitutional treatment. Nothing so completely dispels the poison from the system as Ferruzone. It purifies and renews the blood, clears it of every taint. The system is vitalized and strengthened and thus enabled to fight off threatened attacks. Not only does Ferruzone relieve at once—it cures rheumatism, gout and lumbago permanently. Results guaranteed. 50c. boxes at all dealers.

Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge enemies by trying to please everybody! If such an individual succeed pass him over this way that we may have a look at his mortal remains ere he vanishes away, for surely this earth cannot be his abiding place. Now we know that one should be going through this world trying to find beams to knock and thump their heads against, disputing every man's opinion, fighting and elbowing and crowding all who differ from him. That again, another extreme. Other people have their opinions, so have you. Don't fall into the error of supposing they will respect you more for turning your coat every day to match the color of their. Wear your own colors in spite of wind and weather, storms and sunshine. It costs the trite ten times the trouble to try to wind and shuffle and twist than it does honest, manly, independence to stand.

Badly Sprained Ankle Cured. Three years ago our daughter sprained her ankle and had been suffering terribly for two days and nights—had not slept a minute. Mr. Stallings, of Butler, Tenn., told us Chamberlain's Pain Balm. We went to the store that night and got a bottle of it and bathed her ankle two or three times and she went to sleep and had a good night's rest. The next morning she was much better and in a short time could walk around and had no more trouble with her ankle.—E. M. BARNETT, Hampton, Tenn. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Rand's Drug Store.

'I wonder,' exclaimed the wrathful woman witness, 'that the lawyer on the other side can lie easy in his bed!' 'He can, probably,' replied her husband, 'but he prefers to do it in court.'

The Roman soldier keeps himself in perfect fighting condition on a diet of nuts. He eats only twenty a day, but they are nuts of a very nourishing kind.

Pish that is to be fried should be ordered to be sent early, as it cooks much better if previously rolled some time in a clean cloth to insure perfect dryness.

WIND ON THE STOMACH. HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION. Wind on the stomach is just what you need. Constipation comes of sluggish liver, and the impurities in your blood cause headache. Mother Seigel's Syrup cures all these by strengthening stomach and liver, and enabling you to digest your food.

SEIGEL'S SYRUP. See that plenty of fresh air is admitted to the pantry and fruit closet to prevent fermentation, and remember that all cupboards and wardrobes where clothes are kept need frequent airing. Choose a sunny day and leave the doors wide open for several hours.

Sweating in England.

Mr. Thomas Holmes, known throughout England as a police court missionary, has been giving evidence before a select committee of the House of Commons on the subject of home worker's wages. He exhibited to the committee a lady's costume, including skirt and coat, which had been made by a mother and daughter for 10s. and which was sold in the shops at a price varying from 20s to 30s. These two industrious, intelligent women, working together, would make seven such costumes in two days, working from nine o'clock in the morning until half past twelve at night. His only hope for cases such as these was the establishment of wages boards. He looked to combination in conjunction with wages boards to raise the condition of these people.

How to Improve Health. No better way than to purify the blood—cleanse and enrich it—give it nourishment and strength. This can be quickly done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills which have a vitalizing, purifying effect that is unequalled in any other medicine. With lots of pure, rich blood circulating to all parts of the body, with snap and vim running through every vein and artery, robust health is inevitable. No cleansing, nothing more is so good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold by all dealers.

The Courage of Failure. All honor to the man or woman who knows no such word as defeat; who follows the pathway of a consistent purpose and in the line of duty, even with the dark shadow of failure obscuring the way. To have the courage of one's convictions at all times, and under all circumstances requires no small degree of character and determination. It is better to go down to ultimate overthrow in a cause which one believes to be just and right than to profit by any compromise with conscience or suffer the lowering of the moral tone which must come to all who lose the consciousness of adherence to their duty rather than wear the laurels of honest defeat.

Do You Belch Gas? This is a disagreeable result of food fermentation that Nerviline stops at once. Takes the edge of Nerviline in sweetened water. The stomach is warmed and soothed, digestive troubles corrected, the rising of gas ceases and you are well. When such a simple remedy does so much it is foolish to be without it. For indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and sick headache you'll find nothing half so efficient as Polson's Nerviline. Get a 25c. bottle from your dealer today.

'Daughter, is your husband amiable?' 'Well, ma, he's just exactly like pa. When he gets his own way about everything he's perfectly lovely.'

'One feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Third, worst-out nerves leave us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the general than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a falling appetite, aids digestion, restores the nerves and kills off all the "spring fever" and brings new life, strength and animation to you in a few days and is convenient. A. V. Rand.

Born in Iowa. Our family were all born and raised in Iowa, and have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy (now known as Doan's) for years. We know how good it is from long experience in the use of it. In fact, when in El Paso, Texas, the writer's life was saved by the use of this remedy. We are now engaged in the mercantile business at Narcoossee, Fla., and have introduced the remedy here. It has proven very successful and is constantly moving in from Florida. Doan's Remedy is for sale by Rand's Drug Store.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO READ THE STORY OF THE FURNACE?—Just how correct principles say it should be constructed?—Just why no other plan of construction will do?—Just wherein lies its ability to be easy on fuel, quick in action, simple in operation?

The story is briefly told in a little booklet called "Furnace Facts." It is an advertisement. No furnace name is mentioned, and you can read the whole story in 5 minutes.

To the party contemplating purchasing a furnace it points out the traps and pitfalls, and shows exactly what to demand of an architect, contractor or dealer in furnace construction and installation.

The Two Glasses. (By Miss Wheeler Wilcox.) There sat two glasses filled to the brim, One was ruddy and red as blood, And was clear as the crystal flood. Said the glass of wine to the paler brother, 'Let us tell tales of the past to each other; I can tell of banquet and revel and mirth, And the proudest and grandest souls on earth. Fell under my touch as though struck by lightning, Where I was king for a rule in mirth, From the heads of kings I have torn the crown, From the heights of fame I have hurled men down; I have blasted many an honored name, I have taken virtue and given shame, I have tempted the youth with a pipe-a-tale, That has made his future a barren waste. Far greater than any king am I, Or than any army beneath the sky, I have made the arm of the driver fall, And sent the train from the iron rail; I have made good ships go down at sea, And the shrieks of the dead were sweet to me. For they said, 'Behold how great you be! Fame, strength, wealth, genius, before you fall, And your might and power are over all. Ho, ho, pale brother,' laughed the wine, 'Can you boast of deeds as great as mine?' Said the water glass, 'I cannot boast At a king dethroned or a murdered host; But I can tell of hearts that were sad, By my crystal drops made light and glad. O! thirst I've quenched and brows I've laved, Of hands I have cooled and souls I have saved. I have leaped through the valley, dashed down the mountain, Slept in the sunshine and dropped from the fountain, I have burst my cloud-fetters and dropped from the sky. And everywhere gladdened the landscape and eye; I have eased the hot forehead of fever and pain, I have made the parched meadows grow fertile with grain. I can tell of the powerful wharfed of the mill That ground out the flour and tumbled at my will; I can tell of manhood debased by you, That I have lifted and crowned anew; I cheer, I help, I strengthen and aid, I gladden the heart of man and maid; I set the chained wine-captive free, And all are better for knowing me.'

Look After the Children. (Lady Henry Somerset, in the "Temperance Review.") How well I remember the case of a drunken mother who turned on her own sickly little child, and said, 'I hate you! The child turned its face, pale face to its mother, and said, 'Mother, I did not ask you to harm me.' Some years ago I was passing along a great thoroughfare at the hour of midnight, and I saw a little boy sitting on the curb and anxiously looking at the illuminated clock at the end of the street. I asked him what he was waiting for. 'I am waiting to bring mother home,' said he. Every night that little boy, eight years of age, went there and waited for his drunken mother to come out of the public-house, so that he could conduct her to the place they called home. We must look after these children, or England will disappear with that great crowd of nations which have passed away in disgrace and ruin. —Temperance Leader.

A Governor With a Backbone. It does one good to read the utterances of a public official who dares to say what's what concerning the enforcement of law.—It seems like half the battle to have men sworn to enforce the law declare that the law shall be enforced.

Governor Haskell of the new state of Oklahoma, in his Christmas Day address, said: 'They will tell you "prohibition won't prohibit." Don't you believe a word of this. When the Legislature has given us a plea, emphatic law, Aggravated Piles ITCHING, BLEEDING. Women are particularly subject to piles or hemorrhoids before and after child-birth, because of pressure on the portal vein which interferes with the circulation of the blood. Many thousands of women have proven the efficacy of Dr. Chase's Ointment under such circumstances.

The torments of piles is almost beyond endurance, but it matters not whether they are of the itching, bleeding or protruding variety, they can be cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

From the first application this treatment, by its marvelous soothing power, brings relief and comfort. Protrusion and swelling will heal the ulcers and bring about thorough and lasting cure. 50c. a box, at all dealers or Edmonson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I suffered the keen distress of itching, bleeding and protruding piles for eleven years, and through failure of doctor's treatment lost all hope of cure. Dr. Chase's Ointment, however, relieved at once, and soon healed the ulcers. This was five years ago and I have never been troubled since.

you will see that prohibition does prohibit. They will also tell you that it will cost the taxpayers money to enforce this law. Certainly it will, just as it costs the taxpayers money to capture and convict horse thieves or any other criminals, but it won't cost to enforce prohibition five percent of what it will cost to punish criminals, keep orphans, paupers, and criminals in the whiskey traffic created.'

That is the way to talk it. Tell the truth. The liquor traffic is criminal. It is unconstitutional. It is legalized vice. It ought to be put down: It can be put down. Three cheers for the governors who dare say so! —Michigan Christian Advocate.

No Need of Suffering From Rheumatism. It is a mistake to allow rheumatism to become chronic, as the given can always be relieved, and in most cases a cure effected by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Even in cases of long standing this liniment should be used on account of the relief which it affords. 25c. and 50c. sizes for sale by Rand's Drug Store.
