

TORONTO CHOIR APPLAUDED AS FINEST ON WESTERN HEMISPHERE

A despatch from Philadelphia says:—Once more the mighty Ninth Symphony of Beethoven conquered on Thursday night in what was undoubtedly the finest performance of it in Philadelphia for 25 years. This result is due to the combination of the finest chorus in the Western Hemisphere and the finest orchestra, under a leadership which was little short of inspired—and the Ninth demands all if it is not to become monotonous. The novelty was the work of the Oratorio Society of Toronto, which included the choral section. There can be no question that this is the finest choir in this continent. The singers who came to Philadelphia numbered 234, but apparently every one was a picked voice; there was no "dead wood" in the organization which sang Thursday evening. They sang perfectly, and that is all that need be said as to the general performance. Larger choral organizations have appeared here, but none so perfect in every detail of singing as this one. In quality of voice, balance of parts, shading, above all, volume when required, instant response to the leader, whether it was Mr. Stokowski or Mr. Fricker, unanimity of dynamics and all of the thousand and one other details which go to make up perfect choral singing, the Toronto organization is at the very top. Here is a chorus which can really sing the Ninth Symphony, and nothing more need be said.

NOVA SCOTIA MINERS REFUSE WAGE SCALE

Settlement Recently Made Repudiated by Vote of Two to One.

A despatch from Halifax says:—The coal miners of Nova Scotia voted almost two to one in Thursday's referendum against the new wage scale negotiated last month at Montreal between the representatives of District No. 26, United Mine Workers, and the British Empire Steel Corporation. The vote was 5,617 against and 3,145 for ratification of the new scale, totalling 8,762.

The repudiation of a contract carrying with it an increase in wages, negotiated by the responsible officials of the district and the international representatives, has created a situation that is without parallel in the history of the United Mine Workers' Association.

Provincial Executive will place the matter before President Lewis and the International Executive Board at once.

Ancient Shrine of St. Alban Found in Danish Village

A despatch from London says:—A recent despatch from Copenhagen tells of the discovery of the remains of an ancient shrine in the village of Tjaerborg, near Eesbjerg, dedicated to St. Alban. The frontispiece of the shrine is richly ornamented with allegorical carvings of the Charlemagne period. The shrine is believed to have been taken to Denmark by the Danish Vikings, to pass into private possession early in the seventeenth century.

Canada from Coast to Coast

Halifax, N.S.—During the year 1923, 3,380 tourist automobiles entered the Province of Nova Scotia, according to the annual report of the Nova Scotia Tourist Commission. Altogether 63,000 tourists visited the province and distributed a sum estimated at $6,000,000. A comprehensive advertising campaign had been conducted by the Government and this had brought gratifying results.

Fredericton, N.B.—The survey, recently completed by the provincial department of lands and mines, shows that during the period from November 15th to December 15th, 99,389,885 feet of lumber was cut on the Crown Lands of the province, almost a third of the total estimated season's cut of $14,000,000 feet. The survey also estimates the cut from Crown Lands by counties and showing in Restigouche leading with an estimate of 110,000,000 ft. Northumberland is second with an estimate of 60,500,000 feet.

Montreal, Que.—Word has been received at McGill University that the Dept. of Architecture in the Faculty of Applied Science, has now been recognized by the Royal Institute of British Architects as a "Recognized School." This recognition has been granted to only four architectural schools outside of Great Britain, of which McGill is one.

Toronto, Ont.—For the first time in Ontario, an attempt will be made in the spring to organize a voluntary egg pool. Arrangements for the undertaking have been completed by the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., and it is hoped to control absolutely the egg market in the province. Collections will commence April 1.

Winnipeg, Man.—For the purpose of serving the Blingo mine a hydro electric plant will be erected on Grass River, 110 miles northeast of the Pas. In addition a 100-ton mill for treatment of ore will be built. It is stated that British capital is largely responsible for the proposed new installations, as the company has now largely passed into British hands.

Regina, Sask.—The honey crop will soon be of considerable importance in Saskatchewan judging from the great interest taken in bee keeping and the success of Saskatchewan bee keepers in securing good yields of honey of high quality. The University of Saskatchewan has employed R. M. Muckle, formerly provincial apiarist in Manitoba, who is giving lectures on bee keeping in any district sufficiently interested to arrange for a meeting.

Calgary, Alta.—The expenditure by the Dominion of 425,000 on the Banff-Windermere Highway brought in 240,000 of American tourists' money and 120,000 of Canadian tourists' money the first year the road was used through the mountains, according to the chief engineer of the Banff National Park.

Vancouver, B.C.—Vancouver is to have coal bunkering facilities for deep-sea vessels almost immediately. It was announced that temporary means for providing coal bunkers would be undertaken immediately, and as soon as trade warranted, permanent coal bunkers would be erected. The Harbor Board is willing to spend up to $500,000 for bunkers, if warranted.

TWO MORE DEATHS FROM SMALLPOX

No New Cases Reported in Windsor—One Victim in Raleigh Township.

A despatch from Windsor says:—Two deaths from smallpox were reported at Amherstburg, the victims being a 14-month-old baby and Adolph Shaw. No new cases were reported in this city for the past 24 hours and health officials are inclined to take a more optimistic view of the situation. A despatch from Chatham says:—A case of smallpox has developed in Raleigh Township according to Dr. J. C. Bell, health officer for the township. The Health Board of the municipality held a meeting at Merlin at which strict measures were decided upon. The case is said to be of a malignant type.

Cornish Language May be Revived in England

A despatch from London says:—A seventh language will be added to the collection of distinct languages, aside from dialects, now spoken in the British Isles, if the effort being made to revive the use of Cornish as a living tongue is carried out successfully. It was generally believed that the language formerly spoken in Cornwall, the most southwesterly county of England, had died out, but speakers at a meeting of the London Cornish Association, held here, claim it is still used in remote parts of the county, and steps are being taken to develop it. The languages already spoken in the British Isles are, aside from English, Irish, Scottish, Welsh and Manx—spoken on the Isle of Man—and the old Norman French, spoken on the Channel Islands.

Bodies of British Soldiers Still Found on Western Front

A despatch from London says:—According to the report of the Imperial Graves Commission for 1922-1923, bodies of British soldiers are still being found along the western front, where the fiercest fighting took place during the war. Since November, 1921, 6,107 isolated bodies have been discovered and reburied in cemeteries, 1,054 being identified at the time, but others were identified subsequently here through a study of the effects found with the remains. The number of these bodies found is decreasing, but they still are discovered in the Ypres salient, on Vimy Ridge and in the Somme, particularly in the regions of Thiepval, Mouquet farm, Delville and Hangard wood. More are expected to turn up when the French have cleared Bourdon, Trones and High Woods, at present impenetrable on account of the dense undergrowth and the presence of considerable quantities of unexploded ammunition.

The cost of raising hard spring wheat in the United States last year ranged from 85 cents to $1.19 a bush, while in Canada it ranged from 53 cents to $1.19, the U. S. Tariff Commission found in its investigation in connection with the application for an increase in the wheat tariff.

Ferry Route Organized Across the North Sea

A despatch from London says:—The first North Sea train ferry will commence operating about March 15. This long-heralded project which, it is argued, should in expanded form make the proposed Channel tunnel less of a need, will connect Harwich on the English coast with Zeebrugge in Belgium. The distance is eighty-four miles, and the voyage will require nine to ten hours. The ferries, of which there will be three to start with, can each accommodate fifty-four of the short European type of freight cars. It is estimated that the cost of loading the boats will be about $1 per ton, instead of $3 to $5 per ton, when the contents of each individual freight car have to be transferred between train and boat. The principal goods reaching England through Harwich at present are vegetables and dairy produce. The cheaper transport should, make some difference in prices because of bringing perishable goods to the markets in fresher condition.

French Heroes of Seine Floods Honored by Country

A despatch from Paris says:—This year's Seine flood provided Paris with a little known epic, but none the less heroic, comparable with the legend of the Dutch boy who plugged a hole in the dike with his thumb. The French heroes were two husky laborers, Beraud and Regnier, who, when the Seine embankment collapsed, letting the water in to the tunnel of the Invalides Railway, worked for twenty-eight hours running, carrying 100-lb. sacks of sand to build a new rampart, preventing damage to adjoining property which would have cost millions of dollars. Beraud was dragged from his post half asleep and Regnier collapsed while arguing with his comrades to keep the work going. He died in hospital. The Municipal Council has proposed a gold medal for Beraud and a pension for Regnier's widow.

English Smiths Must Adopt New Methods to Earn Living

A despatch from London says:—The village smith, according to no less an authority than the Rural Industries Intelligence Bureau, will soon be down and out unless he adopts modern methods.

"The smith," says Mr. J. Wedgwood, secretary of this bureau, "those at least, who try to make their living by shoeing horses, are dying out. The wheelwrights are in even a sadder plight. We are endeavoring to show the blacksmith how he can extend his trade. What we feel is that as the age is getting more and more mechanical, so village mechanics ought to be getting busier and more numerous, rather than dying out. The motor trade is putting horsed traffic into the background, but the employment of power and mechanical appliances by the agriculturist is also greatly on the increase."

The only way to have a friend is to be one.

PICTURESQUE ANCIENT CEREMONY PERFORMED AT TOMB OF EGYPTIAN PHARAOH

Two Bulls Slaughtered to Appease Old Gods of Nile When Tutankhamen's Sarcofagus is Exposed to Public View.

A despatch from Luxor, Egypt, says:—The re-opening of the tomb of Tutankhamen on Thursday for inspection by some 200 visitors, guests of the Egyptian Government, was preceded by the picturesque ceremony, following the custom in the days of the Pharaohs, of sacrificing two bulls in the centre of the tomb. The first party, made up of Ministers and high officials, were present.

Thousands of natives and sheikhs, in gorgeous costumes, crowded the gaily beflagged streets, singing to the accompaniment of Egyptian instruments. After the sacrifice a Government party was entertained by feats of horsemanship performed by the sheikhs.

The whole party, including the foreign diplomats, members of Parliament and Commissioner Allenby, were then taken across the Nile on a Government steamer and to the Valley of the Kings in automobiles.

Should be Thin After 60, Says British Doctor

A despatch from London says:—"If you're fat and can't get thin there's no help for you." That is the verdict of Dr. Edwin Lancelot Ash, who holds that week-end golf will not provide an antidote for middle-aged persons inclined to grow stout. But a certain amount of fat before an individual is 60, Dr. Ash contends, is a reserve in case of sudden strain or illness, though, in his view, it is better to be thin after 60. "There is fallacy in the idea that health is a matter of feeling well," Dr. Ash insists. "One very seldom comes across a man or a woman who says he or she is thoroughly well; and, curiously enough, even the physically well often are troubled with some nervous or mental ailment." The doctor says walking is the best form of exercise.

Baronial Country House Reconstructed into Small Homes

A despatch from London says:—A new use for English country mansions, which rapidly are becoming a drug on the real estate market, due to the inability of present-day owners to find means to keep up these homes in style, is forecast by an experiment being tried out in Rolleston Hall, the fine baronial mansion near Burton-on-Trent. A syndicate which has purchased the former consists mostly of old families, and as Rolleston is situated in the heart of the Meynell hunting country, plans are being made to convert the hall into six separate houses. The partitioning, which is unprecedented in the case of such a palatial mansion, will be carried out vertically, and not horizontally, resulting in reconstruction into houses and not flats.

The man who says the right thing at the right time is a man who says nothing at all when in doubt.

A story illustrating the profit of tree planting is told by The Welland Tribune and Telegraph. George Beckett of Effingham, in Welland County, planted a black walnut on his farm there fifty years ago. A bolt of lightning stripped the bark from the tree and it was cut down. It yielded sawlogs representing 1,600 feet of black walnut, which the Welland paper values at $150, from an investment of almost nothing. This is an object lesson of what might be one with tree planting on a large scale.

KINCARDINE LADY FOUND LYING IN THE SNOW

The culmination of a long illness came on March 4th when Mrs. James Rowe, who lived on Dunham street, Kincardine, was found frozen to death in a field on the Dahmer farm near the south line road, a little over a mile from the town.
Mrs. Rowe, who was about 60 years of age, had been ill for years, and suffered frequent lapses of memory. On above date, while her husband was asleep, she wandered from the house scantily clad. Almost immediately, Mr. Rowe waking, aroused the neighbors and search parties were formed. No trace of the missing woman could be found.

The next day the Boy Scouts joined the search, and shortly after noon Jack Anderson and Samuel McLean, members of the first Kin-cardine Boy Scout troop, discovered a trail which they followed through a snow-filled gully, across the river,
up a steep hill and across two fields.
Near the middle of the third field
they found the body of the unfortunate woman. In her hand he clutched a pail which she had carried from the kitchen of her home.
McLean went for aid and Coroner Dr. J. Ferguson, who was called, ordered the removal of the remains to Morrison's undertaking parlors. He decided that no inquest was necessary. Mrs. Rowe is survived by her husband, three daughters and a son.

WINGHAM PAPERS
AMALGAMATE

What publishers of town newspapers have expected for some time has come about over at Wingham—the two printing offices have become one and Wingham has become a one-paper town. The past two years has seen quite a number of such amalgamations, and we have not heard of one new office opening in a town or village.

Mr. W. G. Colgate who had the Wingham Times for the past two years found the going too hard, and the business went back to Mr. H. B.
Elliott from whom he had bought it.
But Mr. Elliott has a good book and stationery business, and to handle the paper as an extra was out of the question.

Last week he announced that he had disposed of The Times to Mr.
John Joynt, of Lucknow, who in turn made it over to Mr. A. G. Smith who has had the Advance for the past nine years.

WINGHAM SCHOOL DAMAGED BY FIRE

A serious fire was averted in Wingham on the afternoon of Friday, Feb. 29th, by the prompt action of the fire department when the high school took fire about 1.30 o'clock in the garret. The eastern part of the roof was destroyed by fire and the ceilings of the adjoining rooms, with all the furniture to the ground floor, were badly damaged by water. A diligent search was made to find the cause of the fire, but it is a great mystery as the chimney is in good order. The damage will amount to about $1500, fully covered by insurance. This is the second fire within 18 months. The building is valued at $33,000.

ISSUES WRIT AGAINST CONSTABLE

Messrs. R. T. Kemp & Son, coal merchants of Listowel, have issued a writ for $5000 damages against Constable F. Wilson. The case which will be heard in the supreme court, is the sequel to a recent action by the town constable, who ordered a certain load of coal for the corporation, weighed on the town scales. It will be remembered that Mayor Kemp, senior member of the coal firm, and the town constable had a lively clash at a recent meeting of the council and at that time Mr. Kemp made the announcement that the case was in the hands of his lawyer, Mr. H. E. Morphy, and would be settled in the courts.

ONE REASON FOR FAILURE

The average man holds a job eleven months, and then takes a crack at some other job. In about forty per cent. of such cases the drifters goes into something entirely new and something he knows little or nothing about. He bluffs his way into the new job and then has to spend so much time fourflushing to hold his job that he finds it impossible to get down and learn his duties thorowly. About twenty per cent. of all men hold their jobs longer than one year.

More than 6000 cars are owned by liveries and public garages, and are at the disposal of those who require them.
Some 4000 cars are owned by contractors, and if any one needs to save time in travelling about from one construction job to another, it is the contractor.
The police of Ontario have 600 cars at their disposal, yet there is continual criticism about the lack of a sufficient number of high-powered machines to enable the authorities to effectively pursue criminals.
Commercial travellers account for 4000 cars and, as a result, they are enabled to visit as many as half a dozen towns in one day instead of two or three as would be the case
if they had to await railway connections.
No less than 5000 motor vehicles are owned by Ontario merchants and tradesmen, and they are used practically 100 per cent. for business purposes.
If Colonel Fraser and other critics would become more specific instead of generalizing, and would say what class of people should have cars and what class should not have cars, they would be more to the point. Perhaps they might not approve of the fact that 7000 Ontario cars are owned by those who register themselves as laborers, but we find that the laborer utilizes his $50 or $100 used car to take himself a few miles out of the city to a little plot of ground upon which he erects
a modest dwelling, and his family are enabled to escape living in the slums, raise their own fruit and vegetables, and be in a much better position from every point of view than they were before acquiring a car.

THE CAR—A LIABILITY OR AN ASSET

(From Canadian Motorist)
"Nothing is proved by saying something costs a lot of money, as it might cost more munny to get along without it," said an official of the Ontario Motor League, commenting on the attack which Col. J.
Z. Fraser, of the U. F. O. Co-Operative Company, launched at the company's annual meeting against what he described as the "motor bug," and which he considered to be an economic disadvantage to the people of Ontario.
"He admits that the farmer should have automobiles and make good use of them, pointed out the O.M.L. official. He might have added that they cannot get along without them, especially in marketing produce and saving time, which is money to the farmer. I bring him within fifteen minutes to an hour of his market, instead of from an hour to half a day or more, as was formerly the case. That accounts for the fact that 75000 or 25% of the cars registered in Ontario are owned by farmers.
We find that 4000 Ontario cars are owned by doctors. Who would suggest that the physician should go back to the horse and buggy or travel on foot when human life is at

After all, life is not just a matter of dollars and cents, meat drink and clothing. People buying a car buy transportation, recreation and health, and this increases the economic productivity of the population, which in turn, reacts on industry, and together the tendency of the automobile is to lift the people to a high plane of living and to hold it there.
Time is money in business, and if a business man can cover two the ground in a day with a car than without it, he has got two days work done in one. Every citizen should have a chance to cash in on Ontario's handsome investment in its highways system, and the only way they can get the full value of that expenditure is by getting out on the roads.
The poor man needs it far more than the rich man, as the rich man has a hundred ways of getting recreation to the ways that are open to the poor man. When out on the road everyone is on a basis of equality, insofar as motoring is concerned.
City people who own cars use them to great advantage in many ways. For instance, probably one of the best uses is getting out into the country and visiting their friends on the farm, where they can get fresh eggs, while at the same time renewing their youth. The head of a family who owns a car can take the over-worked and tired mother out for a day of enjoyment and sunshine without her being played out with the journey.

SHOULD COUNCILLORS BE PAID?

Quite a lively discussion has developed in Goderich out of the action of the Town Council voting pay to its members. The mayor, the reeve and one councillor voted against the "salary grab," as some are calling it, but a majority was in favor, and members will be paid this year. However, many of the ratepayers are much opposed to the payment, and it looks as though those who put the motion through will have a poor chance of re-election.

The question of payment has been at Hanover, Barrie, Collingwood and Elmira. The Elmira Council decided to accept pay, while the other towns turned down the proposition.

The Goderich Councillors argued that a service should be paid for in the towns as it is in the townships. Perhaps if times were more prosperous, there would be less opposition to this view, but at present the tendency appears to be all in the direction of economy.

Even village reeves and councillors do a great deal of work for the municipality, and the town councillor must do a great deal more. And generally the village business is well attended to, not as well as private business, perhaps, but on the whole village and town councils are thoughtful, economical and honest.

There is no good reason why men should not be paid for this service, although so far men have been willing to serve from patriotic motives, or for the honor which attaches to the position.

There are those who think that as good men would not offer their services for pay as do now for honor; or rather these meaner-minded men might seek the position for the sake of the pay.

The view surely is unwarranted. There is no guarantee that the man who seeks office for the honor of it is likely to be a good business man and such a pay as has so far been offered would not induce any man to seek office. It would merely be a compromise between full pay and no pay. Township councillor's pay ranges from $30 to $90, but no busy farmer can regard this as sufficient reward for the time he as a member of the Council loses in connection with municipal affairs.

BRUCE TO HAVE ONE RIDING

It is, which has long been sending five members to the House of Commons at Ottawa, will, after the next election, which may be soon, send only one lone representative to the Dominion parliament, the new Redistribution Bill having decapitated one of our indemnity drawers, who will pass off the political stage when his present term is over.

Hereafter the Townships of Carrick, Calross, Kinloss and Huron, with the villages of Mildmay, Teeswater and Lucknow will be separated for election purposes from the rest of the County, and what is left after these are sliced off will comprise what is known as the Bruce constituency. In other words all the rest of the county will be resolved into one riding, and extending from the head of the Bruce peninsula right down to Walkerton will comprise the long-tail constituency in the Province of Ontario. Between bush-whackers, fishermen, farmers, laborers and suffragettes, there will be so many elements to cater to that a representative will earn his pay playing to such a gallery. The Bruce riding, as composed, should be strongly Conservative, and hence the Grit Malcolm and the Progressive Findlay will cease drawing indemnity after the next election. There will be no tears shed that we are aware of and a lot of good money will be saved to the ratepayers. The four townships and three villages that are to be cut off of Bruce will be merged into a section of Huron, the combination to be known as the Bruce Huron constituency. It looks like anybody's riding on paper, but as the country is fast swinging to the Conservatives in order to stop the further flow of our young men to the States, we will put it for election prediction purposes in the Conservative column.—Herald-Times.

A DISCOUNT

At a certain church in a southern town it is the invariable custom of the pastor to kiss the bride after the ceremony. Now, one young woman, who was about to be married in his church did not relish the prospect, and instructed her prospective husband to advise the minister that she did not wish him to kiss her.

When the young man returned she asked: "Henry, did you tell the minister that I did not wish him to kiss me?"

"I did, Florence."

"What did he say?"

"He said that in that case he would charge only half the usual fee."

CLIFFORD

Henry Seng, of No. manby, is going around with his head bandaged up. While working at saw logs near Palmerston, limos from a tree struck him, causing wounds.

An engineer from the Hydro with Fred Locking, commenced this morning at Harrison to stake out the Connecting line to Clifford. F. Locking will start digging holes and erecting poles right away.

Mr. Dan. Hollinger, of Minto, met with a serious accident this morning while doing some chopping. His right hand in some way got into the machine, making quite a gash, which required a number of stitches to close. It will be quite a handicap for him on the farm at this time of year.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. John Heinecker of the village, which took place Tuesday morning. An operation for the removal of gall stones was gone through successfully a few weeks ago, from which the patient showed every sign of recovery. However another trouble, cancer of the liver, threatened which fully developed on Sunday last, and the patient succumbed.

Mr. P. Jacques took possession of the grist and chopping mills on the 1st of March. There is a large family, some of whom are assisting at the mill. A span of horses reminds us of the old times when John Milligan used to team to and from the railway station. We understand John's long and faithful connection with the mills is ended, and the expert teamster has to go, as the new proprietor has help enough inside the family.—Express.

UNDER SUSPICION

One afternoon a stranger disembarked from a train at a bustling town in the West and headed up the street. Finally he met a man who looked like a native.

"Pardon me," said the stranger, "are you a resident of this town?"

"Yes sir," was the ready rejoinder of the other. "I have been here something like fifty years. What can I do for you?"

"I am looking for a criminal lawyer," responded the stranger. "Have you one here?"

"Well," said the native, reflectively, "we think we have, but we can't prove it on him."

A clock is the only thing we know of that keeps on working after it has struck.

Why Ford Predominates

A Triumph of Mechanical Simplicity

The Ford is without superfluous parts, yet has everything needed for efficient operation. Like all great engineering accomplishments, it has progressed through simplification—the reduction to fundamentals. This process of simplification has brought into being many of those distinctive features which are found exclusively in Ford cars. The Ford planetary transmission and three-pedal control are among those features.

Experts agree that they are ideally suited to the small, light car. Another feature is the Ford magneto, so remarkable in principle and so successful in practice that a complete unit was recently presented—by request—to the Smithsonian Institution. There are many such features, but these are sufficient to indicate the sound foundation upon which engineers have pronounced the Ford to be a triumph of mechanical simplicity.

BOOTLEGGER'S CARGO SEIZED.

A local citizen intimating to Constable George Hendry that what looked awfully like a boot-legger's outfit had pulled in at the Arlington Hotel barn led that limb of the law to make an investigation about four o'clock on Saturday afternoon last with the result that three one gallon jugs and a number of bottles of "stingo" were found after the seat of the cutter had been removed and a sheet iron top which was packed to the box had been pried off. The bootlegger, who it is alleged hails from Kincairdine Twp., had stabled his horse and was evidently away soliciting orders for his wet goods when the constable swooped down on the cutter. A youth, however, alleged to be the bootlegger's son, appeared on the scene and after giving the constable considerable lip for his interference claimed an overcoat that was in the cutter, but denied knowing who the outfit belonged to as he had only been given a ride to town from a short piece in the country. Securing a horse from King's livery, Constable Hendry had the cutter driven to George's feed store, his place of employment, where he deposited the booze and drove the cutter into the American garage. Sometime later, however, the bootlegger got wind of where his cutter was and securing his horse he went to the garage, hitched up and sneaked out of town. It is alleged that it was this same gent who was in town about two weeks previous and peddled the hooch that caused so many young boys to lose their suppers at the rink. Sometime Saturday following the seizure Constable Hendry claims that one or more of the bottles were stolen out of the warehouse of the feed store where he had the hooch hid. License Inspector White, who was in town on Monday, instructed Constable Hendry to have the liquor destroyed as there is no real proof as to who the cutter belonged. It would appear that somebody bungled.—Fort Elgin Times.

JOHN SIDLE Sr. PASSES

Mr. John Sidle, Sr., one of the earliest settlers of this section, passed away on Tuesday noon on the farm about a mile south of the C. N. R. station, which he had cleared over sixty years before, and where his son, Mr. John Sidle, Jr. now resides. The deceased, who was about 86 years of age, had been a sufferer for the past twenty-five years with rheumatism, but had only been bedfast about three weeks. He was a tall, imposing figure in his younger days and was possessed of a strong rugged constitution. Born near Hamilton he came up to this section when but 21 years old and staked out a home in the Queen's Bush on the townline of Brant and Carrick, about a mile south of Walkerton, which he cleared from the primeval forest and converted into good farm property. After erecting a log house on his wooded estate he returned to Hamilton and secured a life-partner by leading to the altar Miss Catherine Deagle of Kingsville. After residing on the homestead they had redeemed from the wilderness for upwards of forty years, they retired to a small property that Mr. Sidle purchased in town near the C.N.R. station. Here they continued to reside for about twenty years. Mr. Sidle passing away in January, 1922. The following November, Mr. Sidle returned to the old homestead, where he resided with his son, John, until the end. The deceased was a staunch Liberal in politics and a Roman Catholic in religion. He was a man of pronounced views and in many ways a most interesting character. He is survived by two sons, Joseph of Buffalo, who has been here for the past month, and John on the homestead, and three daughters, (Mary) Mrs. Wm. Lebarre of Toronto, (Annie) Mrs. Ernest Harris of Buffalo, and (Victoria) Mrs. George Obright of Walkerton. He also leaves four brothers and two sisters. The funeral takes place this Thurs-

WHY TOWNS DO NOT GROW

(Forest Free Press)
Why do so many of the small towns not grow nor make any material progress is a question frequently asked but very seldom answered in a satisfactory way. In most cases the simple and correct answer would be that the citizens of the town and the neighborhood do not patronize their home town, but send their money away to build up the cities.

The Meaford Mirror, in discussing this vital question says: "If Meaford shopped at home, the local stores would be so busy that they would have to employ extra sales help and more employment would be given. They would have such a turnover that the percentage required to pay interest be so small on each dollar's worth sold as to permit of much 'closer' selling, with added advantage to the purchaser. That all seems fairly logical." The Winchester Press states that $500 worth of mail-order catalogues were sent to that village one day last week, and points out that that amount would not be spent in advertising there unless it paid to do so. The sending out of these catalogues shows that the merchants in the big cities are not satisfied if they could get all the trade of their own communities.

At a Weekly Press Association meeting in Toronto some time ago it was suggested that the country printers should retaliate by going into Toronto for orders for certain lines of printing, which are done at lower prices in the small towns than in the city. Two of the country printers at once went out to canvass city firms. The first firm did not need anything. The second firm needed letter heads and envelopes, and was quoted less than city prices, but when the manager learned that the work was going out of Toronto he said, "No sir, I'm spending my money where it will help to build up my own town, and help to pay our city taxes." The canvass ended right there.

OUR RETIRED FARMERS

Editor Farmers' Advocate.
You often hear the question asked what benefit is the retired farmer to any town or village, should he have a place with town people, or should he be let live at all? And you often hear the answer given: Well, the retired farmer is a hindrance to any town, for he is a "tight wad" and a knocker. That is the cry.

When all is said and done, I think that there is no asset to any small town or village so great as the retired farmer. Where can you see a more God fearing, praise-worthy and noble set of men assembled in a village store or shop than a bunch of these retired farmers, with their white locks of hair and shoulders stooped from their honest toil, enjoying the discussion of how they pioneered this fair Canada, and the good old days when man was just with man and life was real.

Now, when the evening of his life has come and his days of real activities are nearly ended, he takes his place in the little village where he has spent a large portion of the revenue of his toil during his life in the vicinity. He now buys a property and spends his money to improve it.

He is the man who has the money to pay his way, and a man that knows how he got it, for he had to start at the bottom of the ladder and work up. So when he comes to town he should not be expected to spend his money as if he had picked it off the trees.

He also is a man who is willing to take a fair rate of interest on a property loan, as an investment, with any spare money he has, but the big business man has no reaching out for the big stuff with the big interest rate, and the little business man, struggling for an existence, has no chance with the big fellow and finds that the retired farmer comes to his rescue.

Again, the retired farmer, when he makes a purchase, always has the cash and settles then and there; and the fellows who do the most crying about those retired citizens are the ones from whom it is the hardest to get settlements.

In the civic life of the villages who have a greater knowledge of affairs than these retired men, and who could spend money more judiciously than they? Or who are more capable of making civic improvement than they?

It has never been my privilege to live on a farm, but it has been my privilege to live in towns in Canada and the United States, and I find no greater asset to any town or village than the venerable retired farmer. Middlesex Co., Ont. Don. H. Love

UNION STOCK MARKETS TORONTO

Cattle receipts at the Union Stock Yards for the opening market of the week were heavier than have been received lately and tended to slow up trading. The quality of the offering was none too good, and the demand for beef also appears to be slowing down as a result of the Lenten season. Only about half of the receipts had passed over the scales at 2 o'clock, and trading was then slackening. In the later trading prices were inclined to be lower, although butcher classes held about steady earlier in the day. The export demand was none too good and prices were down 25c per cwt.

Several hundred head of cattle were still unsold when trading ended. The demand was slow all day with the principal activity in the butcher classes. Exporters took a few heavy steers at $7.25 to $8, and some rough offerings sold from $6 to $7. Odd lots of choice killers sold from $7 to $7.25, medium to good from $6 to $6.75 and common from $5 to $5.75. A few heifers were taken for export from $7 to $7.10.

Some of the best cows and bulls were bought for the overseas market at a standstill. Exporters paid from $5 to $6 for fat cows and from $4.50 to $5.25 for bulls. The bulk of the good butcher cows sold from $4 to $4.75 and fair to good ones from $3 to $4. Bologna bulls sold from $3 to $3.50. A few feeders were taken for export from $7 to $7.35, while a local buyer took a load of short-keeps at $6.50.

The return to the market of a number of the Jewish buyers failed to improve the calf trade. A few sales were made at $11 per cwt., with the bulk of the choice at $10. Medium quality calves sold from $7 to $9.50, and common from $4 to $6.50, including some heavies.

Four decks of Western lambs were received and they made up the bulk of the supplies. Prices paid for lambs were generally off 50c per cwt., as the supplies are now too heavy to bring the recently prevailing high prices. The Western lambs sold from $14 to $14.50, while a few small bunches of native lambs sold at $15.50 and $16. A couple of spring lambs brought $15 each. The supply of sheep was light and prices strong. Choice light offerings sold from $8 to $8.50, with odd lots at $9. Heavy sheep sold from $5 to $7.50.

Receipts of hogs were heavier and prices eased 25c per cwt., sales being made at $8 on the fed and watered basis.

The villagers of Tobermory, at the head of Bruce Peninsula voted on the question "Shall we have a poolroom?" The majority emphatically said "no."

BREAKS OPEN BANK TO DEPOSIT PAPERS

Because he arrived at the Union Bank at Hepworth between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening, after the bank had closed, and he had some valuable papers and bonds to deposit, Henry Ros of Park Head is alleged to have broken the window of the bank and thrown the papers inside for safe keeping. He was taken before Police Magistrate McCaigney of Warton, who has ordered an examination of Ross. The result will be announced early this week. Ross is at Warkerton.

KEEP GOING

"Be Sure You Are Right; Then Go Ahead."

This was a favorite motto of David Crockett, but if good old Davie had followed his own advice he would have stood as still as a frightened spider. We fallible humans can never be quite sure that we are right. What is right or wrong is, in many instances, largely a matter of opinion and the opinion of the other fellow may be quite as good as our own.

The best we can do is come as near to the right as we know how and then go ahead in the faith that honest effort will not be unavailing; but there is no call to be dogmatic about it. Folks who are dead sure that they are right are generally a nuisance to the neighbors. The old Puritans were sure they were right and enacted Blue Laws to compel other people to conform to the Puritan standard. Most of us are now convinced that they were wrong.

It is fine to do what we honestly believe to be right, but if we are going to claim infallibility and usurp the frictions of infinite wisdom, we may have occasion to remember the other proverb—"pride goeth before a fall."

David Crockett's motto will not suit us. We cannot stand still until we are sure. We shall have to go ahead, sometimes make mistakes and suffer for them, just as we have always done. In short it is better to adopt this for a motto: "Be sure you're wrong before you quit."

ANIMAL-EATING PLANT

A most unusual plant that reverses the natural order of things by eating animals, has recently been put on display at the London Horticultural Hall in England.

This extraordinary meat-eating plant is a native of the Tropical East Indies. Its principal prey are mice which are attracted to it by a very pungent odor emanating from the mouth of the blossom, formed into almost a perfect hole. The mice crawl into this opening and natural instincts as it makes an attempt to escape.

Digestive juices similar to those secreted in the stomach of animals are given off, and the victim is slowly consumed.

It has long been known that plants breathe and sleep, eat and drink much the same as animals; but this is the first instance we have ever had of a plant eating meat.

Shelley's "Ozymandias of Egypt."

The name of Percy Bysshe Shelley is one of the greatest in English literature. His finest works are "The Centaur" and "Prometheus Unbound," but the best-known are his "Ode to a Sky-lark" and "Ode to the West Wind."

Shelley was drowned while yachting in the Gulf of Spezia. His body was washed ashore a fortnight later, and, in accordance with the quarantine laws of Italy, burnt on a pyre in the presence of Byron, Leigh Hunt, and Trelawny.

The following is one of the finest sonnets in the language, and to-day has peculiar interest:

I met a traveller from an antique land
Who said: "Two vast and trunkless legs of stone Stand in the desert. Near them on the sand,
Half sunk, a shattered visage lies,
whose frown
And wrinkled lip and sneer of cold command
Tell that its sculptor well those passions
had seen
Which yet survive, stamped on these faceless things,
The hand that mocked them and the heart that fed.
And on the pedestal these words appear:
"My name is Ozymandias, king of kings:
Look on my works, ye mighty, and despair." Nothing beside remains. Round the decay
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare,
The lone and level sands stretch far away."

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE CAN FIND RELIEF

By Enriching Their Blood With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Rheumatism attacks people when the blood is clogged with impurities, thus setting up an inflammation of the muscles and joints. Cold or wet weather may start the tortures of rheumatism, but it is not the cause, as was once supposed. The cause is thin or impure blood. Rubbing with liniments or applying hot applications may give relief, but that is all; the pains are soon back again. You must treat the trouble through the blood to get rid of it. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is proved by the following statement. Miss Margaret M. Callen, writing on behalf of her grandmother, Mrs. A. McEwen, Ormstown, Que., says:—"My grandmother, now 85 years of age, was, some years ago, a great sufferer from rheumatism. She tried many remedies, but found none that did her any good until she began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These she used for some months until every trace of rheumatism disappeared. Since then she has taken the pills at intervals, and they have kept her in the best of health. It is marvellous how well and active my grandmother is. She cooked the dinner for the threshers last fall, and she gives the credit for her good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She is anxious that her experience with this splendid medicine be given for the benefit of others."

If you are suffering from any trouble due to poor or watery blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help you. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere, or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

No Man's Island.

A house, consisting of one room, which stands in two states, three counties, and four towns at one and the same time is the proud possession of a dance-hall proprietor in the U.S.A. This unique building stands on a tiny island on the borders of Vermont and New Hampshire.

Although the building was once used as a dwelling-house, it is now given up entirely to dancing. Standing in the middle of the dance floor, the visitor finds himself in nine different places at once. Beneath his feet is the meeting point of the boundaries of the two states, of the counties of Grafton, Caledonia and Orange, and of four towns, Ryegate, Newbury, Bath, and Haverhill.

Locally the place is known as "No Man's Land," and is very popular as a summer dancing pavilion. But the river is slowly eating its way into the centre of the little island, and it seems likely that before long it will bore a way right through both islet and house. Meantime, the proprietor thanks his lucky stars that only one of the towns, Haverhill, sends along the tax collector.

Small minds are captivated by trifles. Every man's face is the ledger of his good and of his evil accounts.

HERE'S WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT TANLAC

"If it had not been for Tanlac I would still be a sick, discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good," says Mrs. Edward Gibbs.

All the advertising in the world and all the sales efforts combined could not have made the great success for TANLAC that has been attained, unless this reconstructive tonic possessed merit of the greatest degree. Over 40 Million Bottles of Tanlac have been sold and the demand to-day is greater than ever before.

That TANLAC possesses merit and has brought relief to hundreds of thousands of persons is attested by the great number of testimonials that have been received by the company from people in every state of the Union and every province of Canada. There are over 100,000 such statements on file with the company, all ringing with sincere praise for TANLAC and what it has accomplished.

Here are excerpts from a few of the 100,000 statements on file:

Mrs. Edward Gibbs, Lancaster, Pa.: "For 2 years indigestion deprived me of nearly all the pleasure of living. It had not been for TANLAC I would still be a sick and discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good."

Mrs. Mary A. Benson, Seattle, Wash.: "Following an operation my stomach and nerves seemed to give way and I became almost helpless. As a last resort I tried TANLAC. I began to improve from the very first, gained 25 lbs., and to-day am feeling fine."

O. E. Moore, Kansas City, Mo.: "My stomach seemed to pain me constantly; food seemed to do me no good, I would hoist up with gas, lost my strength, and could not sleep or rest. I was on the down-grade all the time. Tanlac corrected my troubles and put me in excellent shape."

Thomas Lucas, Peterboro, Ontario: "Well, sir, buying TANLAC was the best investment I ever made, for it built up my health and strength to where I haven't a complaint in the world."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kaake, Detroit, Mich.: "For more than a year our three children, ages 2, 4 and 6, had been so peaked and lifeless that we were worried about them. Their stomachs were upset, appetites poor, the color had left their cheeks, their nights were restless and during the day they would just mope around, taking no interest in play or anything else. They began to improve with the first dose of TANLAC, and to-day there are no more healthy children in Detroit."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 40 million bottles sold. Accept no substitute.

Mirror Magic.

The primitive man looking at his own reflection in a still pool beneath a phenomenon he could not explain. He saw something which was not himself, but which must be so closely related to himself that there was no joke in it.

What is known as sympathetic magic always regarded a close connection as existing between a person and his "counterfeit presentment." We know better now, but who is there who can see a looking glass accidentally broken without experiencing a secret feeling of uneasiness?

The smashing of the mirror destroys the reflected image—his counterfeit self or a surface which has borne it, as it has also borne the images of other members of his family. Therefore he himself, or some member of his family, whispers the haunting voice of despaired, forgotten, but inherited belief in sympathetic magic, is in danger. All of which accounts for the superstition that if you break a looking-glass there will be a death in the family within the year.

God's Little Things.

I love the little things of God—
The foamy scent of fresh-turned sod,
The fleecy white clouds in the sky,
The peeping of the south winds by,
The darting flash of bluebird's wing,
And all the sights and sounds of spring.

I love the days when summer fades,
The scarlet tinge in forest glades,
The wild grapes, purple on the vine,
The crisp air, heady as old wine,
The hint of snow in grayling sky,
To warn us that old winter's nigh.

—Hazel Blair.

Surnames and Their Origin

BYARD.
Variations—Baird, Beard, Bird.
Racial Origin—English.
Source—A nickname.

Here is a family name derived from an adjective which to-day is applied almost exclusively to horses, but which in the Middle Ages was in rather wide usage, denoting a color.

To-day you'd hardly refer to a "bay" dress or a "bay" complexion, though you would speak of a "bay" horse. Fifty years from now the word may die completely, unless the horse finds a new excuse for existence and avoids the doom with which the automobile is threatening him.

The medieval English for "bay" was "bayard." A man might have been called "Roger le Bayard" or "Udo le Bayard" either from the color of his hair, the general impression of his complexion, or perhaps from the color of the clothing which he usually wore.

Baird is a fairly usual contraction of Bayard, though the family name of Baird does not in all instances trace back to the other. Likewise Beard and Bird are often logical developments, though, particularly in the case of Bird, it does not follow that Bayard is always the original form of the name.

Hubert—"I am wedded to my art."
Shubert—"Your wife seems to be a great sufferer."

GUARD THE BABY AGAINST COLDS

To guard the baby against colds nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild laxative that will keep the little one's stomach and bowels working regularly. It is a recognized fact that where the stomach and bowels are in good order that colds will not exist; that the health of the little one will be good and that he will thrive and be happy. The new sales tax will not increase the price of Baby's Own Tablets, as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the Tablets through any medicine dealer at 25 cents a box, or by mail, post paid, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Money Left to Monarchs.

Not many men have chosen to leave their fortunes to members of the Royal Family in the manner of the late Lord Farquhar. Under the terms of his will, Prince George receives $10,000 and Princess Maud or Lord Carnegie $250,000, while other royal beneficiaries are the King and Queen, Queen Alexandra, the Princess Royal and Princess Arthur of Connaught.

The largest gift ever willed by a subject to a British sovereign was that of $2,500,000, which fell to Queen Victoria on the death of one John Camden Neild, who died in 1852.

SKINNER
Racial Origin—English.
Source—An occupation.

There is a wealth of knowledge to be gained through a study of nomenclature of the industrial as well as of the social conditions in England during the Middle Ages.

Virtually every occupation of any importance in that period has been preserved to us in one or more family names, and if you know an occupation or profession which has not so been commemorated, it is only because the occupation did not exist at the period of family name formation, or because it is known to-day by a comparatively modern term. Thus we have no family name "Dooctor" or "Physician," though we do have "Leech." We have no family name "Automanufacturer," though we have "Cartwright."

Tanning and leathermaking, however, were among the most important industries of Medieval England, like the various branches of the textile industry, particularly those handling woolen fabrics.

"Le Skynner" ("the skinner") was quite naturally the surname most often conferred by his neighbors on the man who made his living by stripping skins from the carcasses of animals.

Acceptance of the same for her sole use and benefit.

Another man who remembered the sovereign in his will was Sir Ernest Cassel, who, on his death in 1921, left property to the value of thirty million dollars. His London residence, Brook House, Park Lane, may one day become a home of the Royal Family, for Sir Ernest directed that in the event of the death without issue of his daughter, the house and its contents should be offered as a gift to the then reigning sovereign.

Plumber's Harvest.
Teacher—"Now, Bobbie, tell us when is the harvest season?"
Bobbie—"From November to March."
Teacher—"Why, Bobbie, I am surprised that you should name such barren months. Who told you they were the harvest season?"
Bobbie—"Pa. He's a plumber."

Elderly People Need More Iron in the Blood

To Give Added Strength, Vitality, and Greater Power of Resistance Against Disease.

IRON is constantly leaving the body, especially toward the period of middle age and you must make up for this iron deficiency if you want to escape disease and be strong and well. When the iron in your blood runs low, signs of old age creep into your system. If there is not enough iron circulating the blood-stream becomes thin, pale and watery, the body weak and run-down. In such cases ordinary iron-containing foods seldom supply a sufficient quantity of this important element to make up for the loss. So that many physicians now prescribe a concentrated form of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which contains iron like that in your blood.

Actual tests show that a tremendous amount of iron is lost in the blood. If you are not sure of your own condition, go to your doctor and have him take your blood-count and see where you stand. He also make the following test yourself: Stand on one foot on work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test again and see how much you have gained. By enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells Nuxated Iron strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to install renewed energy and power into the whole system.

Unlike the older inorganic iron products, Nuxated Iron is easily assimilated, does not irritate the stomach, does not upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee satisfaction and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Viking, Alta.—"From the time I was 15 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk the floor. I suffered in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I surely am glad I tried it for I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles."

ODELIA HOLMBERG, Box 93, Viking, Alta.

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it.

UNION STOCK MARKETS TORONTO

Cattle receipts were light for the opening market of the week at the Union Stock Yards and, although trade was slow in starting, it became brisk before noon and salesmen were able to effect a clean up before the close. The slow opening was largely due to salesmen asking higher prices. On the whole prices were steady with last week's close, but values strengthened 25c per cwt. and spots for the best killers.

Highly active export trade was in evidence, but the demand was not as good as usual. Feeders were not good, but light stockers were not wanted. Cows sold at lower prices, but bulls were slightly higher. At 2 o'clock about 2000 calves were offered over the scales, and the trading ended a fair clean up and most effected.

The top prices for heavy steers was $8.30, this price being paid for two loads by one of the abattoirs, while exporters paid from $7.25 to $8. Choice butcher cattle were a little stronger, the top load bringing $7.75, while there were a few loads from $7 to $7.50. Medium to good stuff sold from $6 to $6.55, with common from $5 to $5.75. A few good heifers were taken for export from $7 to $7.25.

A couple of kosher cows brought $6.50 per cwt., while exporters paid $5.25 to $5.50 for some fat animals. The bulk of the good butcher cows sold from $4.25 to $5, with fair ones from $3 to $4. A few bulls were taken for export from $4.50 to $4.75. Medium bulls sold from $3.50 to $4, and bologas from $2.50 to $3.25. There was no activity in feeders brought from $5.35 to $6.40. The quality of the calves offered for sale was poor and prices were easy. Half a dozen tops made $11 per cwt., with the bulk from $8 to $10. Common calves sold from $6 to $7 per cwt.

The top for lambs was $15.40, paid for a load of ewes. The best offering was a load sold by Dunn & Levaik. Bucks brought $13.90 per cwt. A few other good lambs sold at $15 per cwt., and a dozen spring lambs from $10.75 to $16.50 each. Sheep had a strong trade due to a light supply. Good light sheep sold from $7 to $9, with a few heavies at $6.

The hog market strengthened slightly with fed and watered shipments making $8.25 per cwt., while off-car sales were made at $5.75. The run of hogs was a light one.

OLD BOYS GATHER AT BRUCE COUNTY DINNER

Bruce County Old Boys held a reunion dinner Saturday March 15th, 1924, in the Marlborough, with an attendance of 400. A short toast list with a musical programme, followed by dancing, cards, a program and the congregating of small groups in the parlor room filled out an enjoyable occasion.

William Thornburn, president of the Bruce County Old Boys' Association, proposed the toast to the county from which most of the gathering had come. Bruce was a county to be proud of and one from which a great number of the prominent men had come to the west. Rev. Dr. John MacKay, principal of Manitoba college, was the first to respond to the toast, telling of the days of early Bruce, the struggles and joys of the settlers in that portion of Ontario and relating anecdotes from the experiences of himself and others present, in a manner which held the greatest attention.

Chief Justice Mathers replied to the toast in a reminiscent manner, telling of early recollections and later experiences. He was pleased to see so many familiar faces gathered and hoped to see the occasion repeated.

Judge McPherson also spoke to the toast in a similar manner.

Hon. Edward Brown told that the hard times that people were coming through in Manitoba today was a mere detail when the hardships combated by the early settlers of Bruce county were considered. The boys in the county of Bruce in the old days had been brought up on the shorter catechism and porridge. That treatment had made sturdy and upright men and women.—Winnipeg Free Press.

THE FARMER'S EASY JOB

Some people get the idea that to be a farmer all one has to do is to be able to handle horses and stock and plough and harvest. Here is how one intelligent farmer answered the oft-repeated query, "What must one know to be a farmer?" A farmer must know about soils, soil drainage, soil chemistry, soil physics, the relation of crops to soil and climate, the rotation of crops, fertilization, best ways of handling and selling crops, how to feed and care for live stock, how to handle live stock in relation to soil and climate, how to repair broken machinery, how to handle various gasoline engine vehicles, and power plants, how to do carpentry and plumbing and blacksmithing, must be a good buyer and seller, a good manager, should know enough about bookkeeping to compute costs, must have executive ability, should have the stamina to do 14 or 15 hours' work a day, and if frost or hail or drought or flood brings the year's work to naught, must have the courage to take a drink of water and a cold bath and start over again.

An investment in courtesy always draws dividends.

Unity in a community is the secret of progress and success.

A flat pocket book and a flat tire are about the worst combinations.

A man is but a worm of the dust—he comes along, wiggles about a while and finally some chicken gets him.

The Ebenezer hockey team defeated Warton High School by 5 to 4 in the final game for the championship of the North Bruce League.

Sunday morning last a woman driving a country rig appeared at the Owen Sound market with a load of butter and eggs. After waiting some time, she inquired if something had happened to the town, and where purchasers were. She was much astonished to learn that it was Sunday, and that the market had finished 24 hours ago. The woman had driven something over 15 miles in, under the impression that it was Saturday.

Proper merchants really have the proper appreciation of what advertising means to them. A writer in an exchange aptly puts it in this way: "If a man spoke to his wife only once a month or every two months she wouldn't recognize his voice. Yet some business men advertise once a month or every two months and then wonder why they don't get more business. Advertise every week. Remember 'the used key is always bright'. The store that tells the public what it is doing every day is the store that gets 'here in the end'.

With a view to utilizing it in the public service and in public school dental work, Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, provincial minister of health, has investigated what he declares to be a wonderful new discovery of treatment of pyorrhea, perfected by Dr. Harold Box, of Toronto. In layman's language, Dr. Box has discovered that the dread pyorrhea commences in the lining membrane of the tooth socket following the effects of unequal pressure of the teeth that inflammation originates before the disease. His cure, which has been successfully effected, states Dr. Godfrey, on scores of sufferers, is to correct the uneven pressure of the teeth, and grow new bone where the bone has commenced to devour.
