THE LAST STRUGGLE.

The shattered and emaciated remains of what was once the "Great Conservative Party" in Canada, are making a kind of trembling effort to come together in order to put forth one great, last struggle in behalf of the time-hallowed corruptions of tottering Toryism. The intention may be laudable so far as an indomitable spirit of opposition is concerned. It shows a determination to die hard, but the success of even " making a muster" is very doubtful. Pure unsophis ticated selfishness is the moving principle of Torvism ; this is its prominent characteristic all ages, and in all countries. Whether in the District Council, in a Bench of Magistrates, or in a national Legislature, Toryism can be easily distinguished by the supreme attribute of selfishness; this is, in fact, the essential thing itself. And so long as there is sufficient scope that is, so long as the entire interests and revenue of a nation or a community are within the grasp of the faction, the selfishness acts in a combined and simultaneous manner. watch-word then, seems to be " There is enough for us all." The people-the mass-the mob, is a large, an almost inexhaustible subject for common dissection and common plunder. But when the prospect of distinction darkens-when the of emolument or aggrandisement be comes narrowed, as in Canada at present, then selfishness or Toryism gets narrowed in proportion, and assumes a variety of individualities the words we and us are no longer found in its vocabulary; the pronouns all become singular, and the watch-word then is "Take good care of number One. It appears that the first step preparatory to the "great struggle" is the choice of a "Leader," and here the individualities of selfishness are exhibited in conflicting atoms of different forms and under various appellations .-There is no unanimity, no sympathy offeeling as would have been manifested under more prosperous circumstances. They have no faith in each others honesty; they are aware that hones ty formed no part of their common creed, and they can much less expect it in their individualities. Hence, each fraction of the shattered cor-poration bawls loudly for the Leader whose proximity of residence, or friendship, or interests is likliest to benefit itself. Sir Allan McNab-Ogle R. Gowan-Tom Thumb-Col. Gugy, and Henry Sherwood, have each their able advocating admirers, all equally clamorous and fervent in advancing the claims, and extoling the merits of their respective favorites, and all lead, the Hamilton Spectator will turn Radical; and if Sir Allan is to lead, the Brockville Statesman will come out for "annexation." Tom Thumb has been through the United States and savors of republicanism, and if he is elected Leader, it is absolutely certain that Colonel Gugy will neither stay in Montreal nor any other place. Henry Sherwood is a clever, cunning sort of gentleman, but he is what the cockfighters

He was born a Loyaliet—the detestation of democracy is inherent in his very nature; and an aristocratic contempt for the liberty of the Press in protecting the "rights of the people," was bequeathed to him with his first breath. Have all his splendid talents, as a District before the Tories had any Press, and statesman, evaporated with his Inspector Generalship? We think this neglect of the Member ralship? We think the appearance of an on the Bank. Nobody calculation the for Huron, has very much the appearance of an We have never yet received sixpence from the insult. And as nobody seems disposed to nominate him to the honorable office of Leader, we have some little interest in the matter as he is says, we dig with the wrong foot! The Court our Representative, and we shall entile ourselves to a vote of Tory thanks, by reminding the fragments of the "Great Conservative" party, that the Hon. William Cayley is just the same Conservative that he used to be-that he is just prepared to vote for the endowment of Sectarianism, and for every other measure having a tendency to establish class supremacy and Family Compactism, the same as formerly.

It is true, the Honorable Francis Hincks made rather an unpleasant exhibition of Mr. Cayley been entrusted with the affairs of the Frovince,

MAGISTRATES WANTED!

Among the numerous sore evils under which he neglected county of Huron is laboring, there s perhaps none more palpable nor more presssing an the want of a number of active and efficient Magistrates; men who would endeavor to attend to the business of the District, and discharge the office with promptitude and fidelity. In a late number of the Signal we recorded the fact that the sixteen J. P.'s, who assembled on the 21st ult .. District to take care of itself! Now this is exactly what any reasonable man acquainted with the circumstances would expect. Magistrates two of these are liberal men, and twenty-six are good staunch bona fide Tories !! This startling disparity in numbers, we suppose, was the effect of mere chance ! It would be equally determined not to be led by any candi-cruel and uncharitable to think it resulted from date but their own. They will not agree; and any "political feeling!" The Tories are never therefore, it is doubtful if the "great struggle" actuated by political feeling in making appointcan ever take place. If Ogle R. GODERICH, Dec. 13, 1848. DEAR SIR,-I regret to be constrained to natter, but as a statement made by me in your paper of the 24th November, has received from he Editor of the Gazette a most unqualified denial, and as that denial could only proceed upon the authority of one person, that is the Gentle man with whom I had the conversation, I feel it necessary to produce such evidence of the transaction as I think, will to all unprejudiced minds prove most conclusively, the truth of what I so doing you will much oblige your obd't serv't, and myself had the conversation alluded to, but

Ordinary note:—

Godden, 9th Dec., 1648.

Dear Sin.—Having been indiposed since Wenesday forencon I have been prevented from doing what I promised to you and Mr. Fletcher; and in order that you may be at liberty to do as you think best, I hereby admit that I cannot state verbatim, what passed in conversation on Friday evening, the 10th November, but am morally certain that you never made use of the term "madman;" neither did Mr. Gites make the denial on my authority, nor did you meet me in the Post office that morning, nor did I ever hear any conversation between you and Mr. Kydd on the subject.

I feel very much agreived that you should have no concern; it can in my opinion be for no other-purpose than to do me harm, and thereby confirming the report I got from Montreal—or if I were to allow what you want me to do, it would only be to strengthen the evidence against you, that you wish to do harm to Mr. Kydd.

I trust you will be careful in future in mentioning my name, for the whole matter resistent—he denies it. I have nothing to do with it and will have nothing further to do with it.

I appeal to the public and yourself, if it would not have been as easy for the Reverend Gentleman, and as much in keeping with his position as a Clergyman, to have written Mr. Giler promised to get published, as writing the above note to me. I think it required something more than ordinary indisposition to justify the breaking of a promise deliberately given. I appeal to the Rev. Mr. Fletcher for a statement confirmatory of such parts of the transac tion as are within his knowledge, and I leave the public and yourself to say whom you believe I declare upon my honor, that to the best of my knowledge and belief, I did, in conversation with the Reverend Alexander McKid, use the word. His Excellency learns from the statements made The public and yourself will remark from Mr. in the Petition, that the security required G. CHAMBERS' MISCELLANY. OF USEFUL AND ENTERTAINING KNOWLEDGE. Edited by Robert Chambers, author of Cyclopedia of English Literature : With Elegant Illustrative Engravings. Price 25 cents per GOULD, KINDALL & LINCOLN are

COULD, KINDALL & LINCOLN are happy to announce that they have completed arrangements with Mesers. Chambers, of Edinburgh, for the re-publication, in semi-monthly cumbers, of Chambers Miscellany.

The design of the Miscellany is to supply the increasing demand for useful, instructive, and eatertaining reading, and to bring all the aids of literature to bear on the cultivation of the feelings of the people—to impress correct views on important moral and social questions—suppress every species of strike and savagery—cheer the lagging and desponding, by the relation of tales drawn from the imaginations of popular writers—rouse the fancy by descriptions of interesting foreign scenes—give a zest to every-day occupa-

The publication has already commenced, and will be continued semi-monthly. Each number will form a complete work, and every third number will be furnished with a title page and table of contents, thus forming a beautifully illustrated volume of over 500 pages of useful and entertaining reading, adapted to every class of readers. The whole to be completed in THIRTY NUMBERS, forming Ten elegant Volumes

NOTICES OF THE PRESS. From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser. From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

We are glad to see an American issue of this publication, and especially in so neat and convenient a form. It is an admirable compilation, distinguished by the good taste which has been shown in all the publications of the Messrs. Chambers. It united the useful and the entertaining. We hope its circulation here will be large enough to supplant, to a good exteat, the namby-pamby and immoral works which have so long been too widely circulated.

This work can be sent by mail to any part of the country. A direct remittance to the publishers of Six Dollars will pay for the entire work. This liberal discount for advance pay will nearly cover the cost of postage on the work. Those wishing for one or more sample aumbers can remit them accordingly.
