It's funny how Fernie people come into the limelight sometimes. Over in West Kootenay there are three former Fernieites trying to bring order out of the Doukhobor trouble over the school question. Bill Dunwoody and Phil Sheffield are representing the provincial government and Max Baskin is acting for the Doukhobors. The Dooks don't like the school proposition and threaten a nude parade, but Bill has a fine remedy for that kind of thing which he used with good effect on a previous occasion—a good stout whip. Talking about whips, if the government would authorize Bill to turn loose with a whip on a lot of those parents who refuse to allow their children to go to school, it might have a wonderful effect.

A strange automobile accident took place on the road between Newgate and Eureka last Saturday evening, which resulted in the death of one of the American immigration officers stationed at Roosville. Two of the officers were driving to Eureka in a Ford car early in the evening, and the occupants of a car which followed them shortly afterwards discovered the Ford facing in the opposite direction, the steering gear smashed to pieces, one wheel torn off and the hood and top crushed in. The driver, whose name was Riley, was found under the steering wheel unconscious and the other man in a dazed condition in the back seat. Riley, whose back was broken, was rushed to Spokane, but died upon his arrival there. The dazed man was unable to give any lucid account of what took place, but the car, which apparently was travelling very fast, must have turned completely over two or three times ad finally swung around in the opposite direction to which it was going. It is also surmised that the man in the rear seat had been thrown out, but had crawled back into the car while in a semi-conscious condition.

IRONY OF FINANCE

"American Wealth and Allied Debts: Ironies of History" is the subject of a special article in the London Daily Mail by its New York correspondent. The article in full follows :

America will be rich, prosperous and wealthy as a result of this war. We shall have made untold millions of this wealth out of the woe and swelter of Europe. The money which has come to us from these people is money in trust, and unless America recognizes this trust she will pay dearly and bitterly for its possession.—Mr. Hoover, at New York, Feb. 1, 1917.

The debates in congress on the allied debts to America are mainly a negation of Mr. Hoover's now forgotten speech. With few exceptions the senators vie with the popular cartoonists who depict Uncle Sam during the war handing out to a beseeching France gigantic bales of dollars, and France after the war cynically refusing to return them.

According to the senators America has behaved with extreme generosity to Great Britain and she is prepared to extend an equal generosity to France ; but she cannot in justice to her ratepayers remit "one red cent" of the debts incurred by those countries, because both of them acquired "incalculable riches" in the form of vast territorial possessions while the United States emerged from the war gloriously empty-handed.

Quite unintentionally the census bureau at Washington has furnished a sensational and highly disconcerting counterblast to these arguments. It has issued a chart illustrating the comparative wealth of nations before and after the war. From this it appears that in the decade ending in 1922 America increased her wealth by the austounding total of £26,-900,800,000, or by nearly as much as the combined wealth of the United Kingdom and France in 1912. As marshalled by the National City Bank, the figures translated into pounds sterling are :

United States,	£64,160,600,000
United Kingdom	17,768,000,000
France	13,542,000,000
Wealth of 1912
United States	£37,259,800,000
United Kingdom	15,859,400,000
France	11,415,000,000

In the same period American industrial equipment on which for three of the years under review the savings of the allies were squandered, is shown to have increased 159 per cent.

In contemplating these amazing figures the editorial writers of America exhibit some traces of embarrassment. They dwell on the fact that the dollar to-day has only about half its purchasing power of 1912, and they profess to believe that if there had been no war the wealth of America would have grown even more rapidly than it has. One of them a well known humorist, evidently realizes that, if the figures are correct, America is collecting from Great Britain a debt for war materials amounting to about one-eighteenth of her total national wealth. He whimsically suggests that the information embodied in the statistics ought to be withheld from the knowledge of the European debtors.

Apart from these considerations the glittering figures are,naturally, a source of jubliant national congratulation. Yet in revealing the gigantic stature of American wealth, they also disclose one of the most colossal and dramatic ironies of history ; for they carry the story through vistas of economic triumphs backwards to the decades immediately following the civil war.

America then was a debtor nation and according to the North American Review of 1884, twelve of her great commonwealths, containing one quarter of her population, had been guilty of repudiating on the flimsiest pretexts State bonds, held largely by British and European investors to an amount exceeding sixty million sterling. In every quarter of the country, to quote from the same eminent authority, "the black flag of repudiation" was being hoisted—by municipalities, townships, and county authorities as well as by the Southern States.

The amount of dishonored bonds the North American Review estimated in that year to be :

Alabama	£7,762,400
Arkansas	4,161,400
Georgia	2,716,000
Florida	1,056,000
Louisiana	6,423,000
Minnesota	1,192,000
Mississippi	4,520,000
North Carolina	9,670,000
South Carolina	3,900,000
Tennessee	5,970,000
	61,815,800

The Review added many pages of picturesque narrative describing how these States defrauded their creditors —how Georgia, which by the way has to-day on the American Debt Funding Commission a representative with very stern and insistent views on the allied debts—appointed a commission made up entirely of her own citizens, who, without according even a hearing to the investors cast aside "bonds representig millions of money ;" how Arkansas "lifted a great burden from its shoulders" by depriving those who invested in her railways and levees (river embankments) of millions of dollars, on the ground that a technical formality had been omitted when the bond issue was voted ; how Tennessee compelled her creditors to accept fifty cents per dollar by telling them through her governor that if they refused, "then the bond holders may rot;" how Louisiana after inducing the bond holders to accept sixty cents per dollar changed her constitution to enable her to reduce the rate of interest to two instead of four per cent. ; how South Carolina passed an act to reduce the volume of the public debt and funded the remainder at 50 cents per dollar ; and how North Carolina in 1879 issued new bonds for old at one-quarter of the face value.

Other authorities describe how Virginia after "readjusting her debt" many times in two generations finally settled at the rate of £3,800 for every £5,600 that could be discovered in 1891 and issued new bonds "payable in one hundred years with interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum for the first ten years and three per cent for the remainder of the time."

But of all these offenders of an earlier generation against the principles which Congress is now enforcing against the allies, the most flagrant is Mississippi whose people voted in 1875 a new constitution, forbidding the state to ever pay bonds to the amount of £1,400,000, held largely by British investors. Mississippi was pilioried a few years ago by the Corporation of Foreign Bondholders, which admonished her to "take a lesson from the republic of Liberia, which although it defaulted on its foreign debt, never repudiated its obligation to pay."

The admonition, however, did not prevent Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi from adding to the ironies of history by rising in the Senate the other day and flaying France with the most ferocious eloquence for her delay in funding her debt to the United States.

The observer of America's amazing prosperity and of the contrast between the views of her legislators as creditors and debtors cannot but be struck by the insistence of The North American Review, in 1884, that practically all the repudiated debts were incurred for constructive works and that the prosperity of the defaulting states was such as to enable them to meet their obligations with ease.

The reviewer accuses the congress and administration of his day of aiding and abetting the repudiators in every possible way. He also insists that the United States government ought in equity to have assumed responsibility for the debts. What however, is even more interesting to the student of historical ironies is the response of the American press of the time to his arguments. Its comments are full of most delightful pleas for repudiation.

But it is on the towns and municipalities of this generation that the North American Review writer lavishes most of his humor. He says : "The losses or claims against the smaller communities probably exceed the total of dishonored indebtedness of the States.—A Kansas county, threatened with suit on bonds, elected officials upon the understanding that they were to keep in hiding during their term of office. When public business demanded their presence at the county seat they entered it after darkness had fallen and departed before the morning had dawned.

"The managing officials of a Missouri county similarly situated were accustomed to meet only when their town was carefully picketed against the approach of strangers.

"Everybody has heard of the shift of Memphis, Tennessee, when it wanted to rid itself of its debts, in committing corporate suicide by having its charter repealed by the legislature of the state and its territory relegated to a taxing district.

"But a youthful city in Kansas displayed the keenest tact and enterprise. Having incurred all the debts it could, it secured a section of the prairie adjoining its corporate limits, quietly moved its houses to it, and left the old deserted site to the mercy of its creditors—literally running away from its debts."

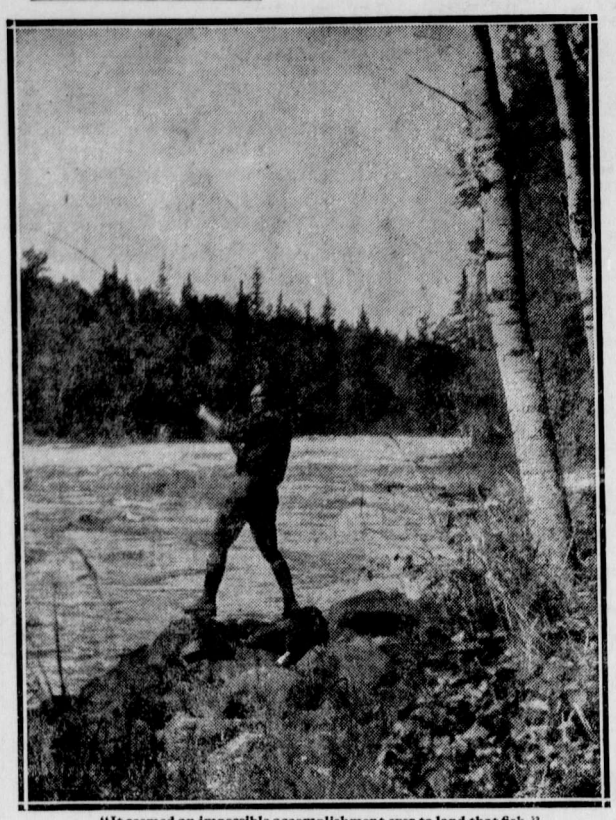
Those picturesque days and conditions have developed into the present splendid era. To-day it is evident that the vast majority of the American nation desire to insist, in the words of the Republican platform, that, "Great nations cannot recognize or admit the principle of repudiation. To do so would undermine the integrity essential for international trade, commerce or credit.

"My Greatest Thrill In Sport"

Being an Account of an Adventure Which Overtook Ozark Ripley On the Nipigon.

OZARK RIPLEY

For many years I have hunted and killed all kinds of big game on the American Continent except polar bear, and I have taken most kinds of fresh and salt water game fish. But the greatest thrill I ever experienced during my thirty years' devotion to outdoor sports came to me this summer in July on the Nipigon River in the rapids just below the Canadian Pacific bridge at Nipigon, Ont.



It all happened late in the evening. The trout at this point are the most famed and largest brook trout in the world. But just at that time they were not striking as usual on account of the exceedingly cold night. However, I decided to go to the river to try out a little split bamboo bait casting rod, 2¾ ounces, that I had made for casting very light lures. It would be a revelation to myself and other anglers to take trout in this manner, when fly casting is the vogue.

The water under the Canadian Pacific bridge, and below for a quarter of a mile at least, flows like a millrace. I attached to my line a small weighted feather casting minnow, just to see if the little rod would shoot it. At the first try I shot the lure at least 125 feet across the water toward the west bank and in the opposite edge of fast water.

The very instant that the tiny lure struck the water the second of the only two large rainbow trout that up to then had ever been taken out of the Nipigon rose and seized my lure. He was a monster. It seemed an impossible accomplishment ever to land that fish with the little rod and the fine nine-pound test casting line. The thrill that came in that approaching darkness was incredible. The killing of moose and grizzly bear was tame in comparison.

I worked in a bad light nearly an hour, and in danger of falling into that deep, swift reach, trying hard to lead that fish out of the fast water where the current would not aid it into the long upstream swirl on my side. The only thing that helped me in that fight was the generous supply of filled line I had in store on my reel to help perfect thumbing of it.

I worked up and down those rapids in despair and hope, and as the whims of the strong leaping fish directed. Yet the thrill of trying to land that whopper leaping rainbow with that tiny rod was something I had never conceived possible.

"It seemed an impossible accomplishment ever to land that fish."

It began to grow darker. Suddenly on the left bank I saw a big black bear take to the water and swim deliberately toward my fish, despite that terrible current. Evidently he took it for a cripple. Right off, that rainbow sensed his presence and darted for the east bank as fast as I could real in slack, and the bear kept his course direct for him.

The rainbow heading straight for the upstream water, with occasional leaps from it, finally gained the stretch of upstream current, with the bear only a few yeards behind him. That bear did not become apprised of my presence until he made a lunge for the fish, missed it as it leaped out of the water, and then scrambled for the bank to get a better survey of his expected prey. That very moment he got a whiff of the man scent, wheeled and scrambled as fast as he could for the thicket of spruce along the sheer hillside.

And then the thrill of thrills occurred in the darkness as I roughed that spent rainbow, and brought him along the coarse, narrow sand bank where, as he was far too large for my landing net, I fell on top of him and held him captive with my hands and knees until his strength was entirely exhausted.—New York World.

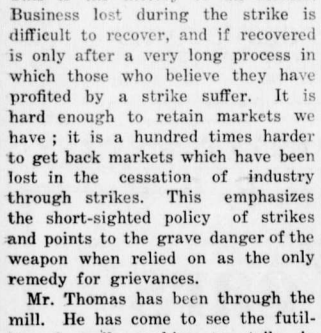
SANE STRIKE LEADERS

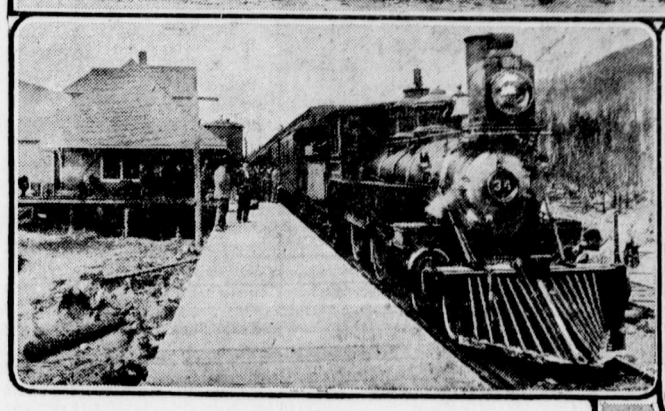


Labour today is in need of sane leaders, men who with wide experience and knowledge are able to render wise counsel in the interests of those who class themselves as belonging to labour, and so to prevent them from being led away by the will-o-the-wisps of the extremists who urge extreme action. Labour today has much need of the well-balanced and far-seeing mind. There are labour leaders of this kind but, unfortunately, the loud-tongued and the more assertive extremists have a sway which hinders rather than helps the industrial situtation.

Great Britain to-day has a sane Labour leader, a man who by his restraint and commonsense has earned the respect of all, and this without in any way surrendering the rights of labour. This man is Mr. J. H. Thomas, M.P., the leader of the British railwaymen, and formerly in the Cabinet of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald when the Labour Party was in power. In a speech recently delivered Mr. Thomas said he was not going to disguise the fact that he was very troubled, very apprehensive, and had very grave anxieties as to the difficulties of the industrial situation. But he was never a pessimist. He only wanted to warn railwaymen against one thing, that was to keep the strike as the last resort. Railwaymen were going to get over their difficulties because they were going to stand together as they had done in the past. They were not going to make the foolish mistake of shouting that every little difficulty must mean a strike. They were not going to take notice of the people who wanted to strike twice a day and six times on Sunday, or who said that the power of the strike was a weapon that the working classes must always keep in the fore-front.

Mr. Thomas is a man who is in the position to speak whereof he knows, and his views of the strike as a weapon needs to be spread throughout the ranks of labour. With the economic losses which strikes entail, no matter who wins it is a loss. This is the history of all strikes. Business lost during the strike is difficult to recover, and if recovered is only after a very long process in which those who believe they have profited by a strike suffer. It is hard enough to retain markets we have; it is a hundred times harder to get back markets which have been lost in the cessation of industry through strikes. This emphasizes the short-sighted policy of strikes and points to the grave danger of the weapon when relied on as the only remedy for grievances.

Mr. Thomas has been through the mill. He has come to see the futility of madly rushing to strike in what his own organization has accomplished under his leadership and with the views he holds. In the speech mentioned he said:



"Thirty years ago I worked as an engine fireman. I worked twelve hours a day for three shillings a day. My wife reared our two eldest children with twenty-four shillings a week. When you railwaymen present just compare the fact that we used to do a 72 hours' week for eighteen shillings a week, not allowed to wear our medallion, not allowed to call ourselves trade unionists, afraid even to declare our politics, with the railwaymen's position today, it will give you some idea of the remarkable change that has taken place. It not only gives you an idea of the change that has taken place, but it enables you to appreciate, when some folks were in doubt what my future career might be that they only have got to remember that I had something to do with bringing about these changes. I saw my organization grow from 50,000 to 500,000; I saw my funds grow from £200,000 to £3,000,000."

WRIGLEY'S

TWO events make 1925 notable in the annals of rail transportation. It marks the centenary of the locomotive engine and the fortieth anniversary of the completion of Canada's first transcontinental, the Canadian Pacific Railway's main line from Montreal to Vancouver. The first opened a new chapter in the history of the world; the second a new chapter in the history of Canada.

Looking back over the events of the intervening century it will readily be agreed that the introduction of the locomotive was one of the most important events in modern history. It has enriched the life of the Old World by delivering to it at low cost the products of the ends of the earth; while it has brought within the reach of the pioneer on the frontiers of civilization highly finished products which can be developed only where a numerous population makes possible a minute division of labor. It has given the settler in Northern Alberta, over 5,000 miles distant from London, a market in that great metropolis just as certain as that enjoyed by the English farmer. It has also made the same settler as much a customer of London as are the people of near-by countries.

The locomotive engine made its first appearance in Canada in 1837 on the Champlain and St. Lawrence Railroad. This road was only 16 miles long, and ran between the town of La Prairie on the St. Lawrence River and St. John's on the Richelieu. This railway was opened in 1836, being operated by horses during the first year.

However, it was not until with the incorporation of the Grand Trunk Railway in 1852 that the railway era in Canada really began. While a beginning had been made in 1837, still during the next fifteen years only 50 miles of line were added. The Grand Trunk linked up Ontario and Quebec, and gave both provinces direct connection with the Atlantic coast through Portland. It also laid the foundations for direct connection between that port and Chicago. Much railway building followed in Ontario. The next project of importance was the building of the Intercolonial, which was begun in 1868, and completed in 1876. This gave Ontario and Quebec direct connection through Canadian territory with a Canadian port on the Atlantic open all the year round. In the meantime an agitation for the building of a railway to connect Ontario and Quebec with the Pacific Coast culminated in the incorporation of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

On November 7th, 1885 at Cragellachie in Eagle Pass, a gorge in the Gold Range, British Columbia, Sir Donald A. Smith, afterwards Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, drove the last spike in the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, thus connecting Montreal with Vancouver. This was a notable event, not only in the history of Canada, but of the British Empire. By the connecting of the Pacific Coast with Montreal Canada secured its first transcontinental railway. Indeed, it was the first real transcontinental on this continent, for while in 1869 the east coast of the United States was connected with San Francisco by rail, and several other such connections have been added, still even now no single railway in the United States extends from Coast to Coast as does the Canadian Pacific in Canada. November 7th was also a notable day for the British Empire in that the Canadian Pacific provided a short cut from Britain to the Orient. As Sir Charles Tupper in his Reminiscences has pointed out, it brought Yokohama three weeks nearer to London than it was by the Suez Canal.

The history of the Canadian Pacific Railway is the history of Greater Canada. When it was first proposed there were only four provinces in Confederation, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Between 1870 and 1873 Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, and British Columbia entered, the last mentioned on the express condition that it would be connected with Eastern Canada by a line of railway. At that time Manitoba was a mere postage stamp in dimensions, and the regions between it and the Rockies were unorganized territory.

The promise of the Canadian Pacific not only brought British Columbia into Confederation, and gave Canada a window on the Pacific; but the building of it, by establishing direct and quick communication between the east and the west fixed the destiny of the vast regions west of the Great Lakes and north of the 49th parallel. The ties of sentiment were thus strengthened by the economic link of steel. Fifty years ago it was by no means certain that the territories between Lake Superior and the Rockies would not pass into the hands of the United States. The shortest route from Eastern Canada to Fort Garry, now Winnipeg, was via Chicago and St. Paul. Trade moved north and south rather than east and west, so that political absorption seemed likely to follow American economic penetration.

It is with the development of Western Canada that the fortunes of the Canadian Pacific have been indissolubly linked. As it has expanded the West has grown. In 1885 there were hardly more than 180,000 people in the whole country west of the Great Lakes. As a result of the Riel Rebellion the country was also in a state of utter confusion. Still the year 1885 marks the real beginning of the period of western development. The country continued its policy of aggressive construction by adding feeders to its main line. This encouraged settlement, for settlers felt themselves secure as long as they were not too far from the railway. Note how the population on the plains began to increase. In 1885, when there were not more than 1,000 miles of railway there were only 130,000 people in that vast territory between Winnipeg and Calgary and Edmonton, one-half of whom were located in Manitoba. Within the next 20 years, the prairie provinces, with about 4,500 miles of railway, had a population of 800,000. By 1923 these provinces had 20,000 miles of line, of which 8,500 belonged to the Canadian Pacific, and their population was 2,000,000.

The driving of the last spike at Craigellachie also marked the opening by the company of the most aggressive and sustained immigration and colonization campaign that Canada has witnessed. From that time to the present the company has spent nearly $70,000,000 on its immigration and colonization activities. And it got the immigrants too. During the years preceding the incorporating of the company immigrants were coming to Canada at the rate of only 36,000 a year. This was a very light inflow, for away back in 1832 as many as 52,000 were received; but during the period 1881-91 immigration was very nearly trebled; that is it came at the rate of 92,000 a year. Indeed, during the last two decades of the last century the Government seems to have left immigration pretty much to the company, for during the 1882-1902 period, the total expenditure on immigration was only $5,475,000, as compared with an appropriation of $3,400,000 this year. Through the company's agencies have come the greater proportion of the over 5,000,000 immigrants received during the last 40 years.

Coincident with the driving of the last spike at Craigellachie the company launched out as a promoter of foreign trade and transoceanic travel. In this department not only has it been by far the most important factor in Canada, but one of the most important within the British Empire, which is saying a great deal, when it is recalled that the latter is the greatest commercial unit that the world has ever seen. Within less than nine months after this spike had been driven there arrived at Port Moody, the then terminus of the Pacific, a brig with the first cargo from Japan for the railway. That little brig the "W. B. Flint" of 800 tons, has grown into a great fleet of over 400,000 tons, sailing on two oceans, and linking Europe, America, Asia, and Oceania. In 1887 a regular trans-Pacific service was established, and in 1902 a similar service was launched on the Atlantic. Begun originally as a feeder to the freight department of the railway, the passenger feature of these steamship services has now become of chief importance. As an evidence of how the trans-Pacific trade has grown it may be said that in 1885 Canada sold to China only $5,972 worth of product and to Japan only $21,780 worth. whereas during the 12 months ending October, 1924, her sales to China were $14,612,482 and to Japan $26,870,63[illegible]

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

Cumberland Islander—"That hard times mean nothing to a hen; she just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs regardless of what the newspapers say about conditions. If the ground is hard she scratches harder. If it's dry, she digs deeper. If she strikes a rock she works around it.. But always she digs up worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits as well as tender broilers. Did you ever see a pessmistic hen? Did you? Not on your life. She saves times were hard? Did you ever know of one starving to reath waiting for worms to dig themselves? Did youNot on your life. She saves her breath for digging and her cakles for eggs.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head

COAL CREEK NOTES

Mrs. D. Kirkwood and family have returned to camp after a visit to Calgary.

The school children up here are undergoing a vaccination ordeal.

The wanderlust has entered the minds of Joe Parker and George McNay, who have left camp, and whose parents are seeking their whereabouts.

Bob Hartley has had a radio established at his residence.

Deaconess Whyte, of Toronto, will occupy the pulpit at the United Church here on Sunday evening next.

Good Friday being an agreement holiday, the mines up here will be idle that day.

The schools disbanded for the Easter recess this afternoon.

A. Kielty had the misfortune to break his finger on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. McVittie, of Nova Scotia, C. P. R. coal inspector, was in camp during the week in his official capacity.

Mrs. Glass is spending the Easter recess in the Spokane district.

Mrs. J. Fawley and Mrs. G. Larmont left for Kimberley to spend the Easter vacation.

Tom Gaskill and Jimmy Cartmell returned to camp on Wednesday night, having secured their discharge from the U.S. army.

The road between here and Fernie is now open for motor traffic.

The Fernie branch of the G.W.V.A., in common with all the branches throughout Canada, will celebrate the 8th birthday of the G.W.V.A. on April 15. All ex-service men invited. Particulars will be posted later.

THE FORD IS MY CAR

The Ford is my car; I shall never want another.
It maketh me to lie down in wet places.
It soileth my soul.
It leadeth me into the paths of ridicule for its name sake.
It prepareth a breakdown in the presence of my enemies.
Yea, though it runneth down valleys I tow it up hills.
I fear much evil when it is with me.
Its rod and its engine discomfort me.
It annointeth my face with oil.
It's tank runneth over.
Surely the thing won't follow me all the days of my life,
Or I shall dwell in the house of the insane forever.

SAFETY FIRST ITEMS

If hurry interferes with safety, don't hurry.
An artificial arm is better than none. But your own is better still.
In crossing a street look both ways before crossing.
Cross only at intersections. Don't jay walk.
Take time to be careful. Better spend a little time in being careful than a long time in the hospital.
Never run in front of a passing car. Let the driver have the right of way.
Two-thirds of accidents are due to carelessness and ignorance.
Three-fourths of the deaths by accidents may be prevented.
Keep a clear head and a keen eye.
A crutch is a poor substitute for a leg.
A ride in an ambulance is no joy ride.

ANOTHER LONG SESSION

The city council had another busy session last evening, keeping them in session until close to midnight. The mayor occupied the chair and all the aldermen were present.

Fire Chief Johnson's report on the fire at 139 Lindsay Avenue on April 9 was read and tabled.

Ald. Dicken requested information as to what action was taken by the fire department in case of fire outside the city limits. He was advised that the regulations governing the department made it necessary for the brigade to turn out to every call but proceed no further than the city limits unless life was in danger.. After some discussion it was decided that if persons living outside the city limits organized and brought a petition before the city council showing a willingness to pay an amount to be arranged for protection, the council would discuss the matter with them.

The City Clerk read twelve applications for the position of fire chief, but as further references were required it was decided to call a special meeting at a later date, when these were obtained, to make the appointment.

Thirty-eight applications were made for the position of city electrician. The Fire, Water and Light Committee, who had considered these applications at a special meeting, recommended that the position be given to Aaron Blackie, of Hillcrest, at a salary of $160 per month. This was adopted.

A letter from the Kootenay Telephone Co. stated that the directors' the council to discuss the telephone question on or after April 30.. The committee would be able to meet city clerk was instructed to advise the company that the council would be pleased to meet them at the next council meeting on May 7.

The council was requested by the Hospital committee to appoint their member of the Hospital Board.

Ald. Tully was appointed a member of the Health Board.

G. F. Johnson was appointed city auditor for 1925 at a salary of $400.

The following lots owned by the city were reported as sold: Lot 4, Block 37 to J. Pascuzzo for $110; Lot 7, Block 4 to the Knights of Pythias $200, and Lot 1, Block 78 to T. D. Brunton for $45.

The city ambulance was ordered repaired and Mr. Baldrey will do the work.

It was decided to write the coast cities regarding bylaws governing Chinese laundries.

Instructions were given to have health area notices posted in prominent places immediately.

Complaints regarding stables in the city were considered and owners must place manure in covered receptacles and have them cleaned regularly.

Tenders will be called for the replacing of 500 feet of 6 inch pipe leading from Baker Avenue to the Park.

The rate bylaw for the year 1925 went through three readings and will come up for final ratification at the next meeting.

The street repair question came up for discussion. It was decided to immediately procure a road scarifier and scarify the roads and re-mecadamize them.

PRETTY WEDDING

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at Christ Church Wednesday morning, the Rev. H. U. Oswald, officiating, (when Miss Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stephens, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Ernest Harrison, also of Fernie.

The bride, who was attired in an ensemble costume of sand color with hat to match, was supported by her sister, Miss Alice Stephens, while Oscar Okell supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents on Dalton Avenue. The young couple were the recipients of many useful and beautiful gifts. They left on the morning train for Spokane, St Maries and other Washington points.

C. J. DIGBY PASSES AWAY

C. J. Digby, one of Fernie's real old timers, was reverently laid to rest in St. Margaret's cemetery this afternoon with complete Odd Fellow honors. Rev. W. F. Burns conducted the service at the United Church.

Mr. Digby, who was 66 years of age, died on Wednesday morning last, following an acute attack of heart trouble only a few days previously. He was born in Sherbrooke, Quebec, in 1859, and came west with the C.P.R. construction crew to the Crow's Nest Pass in 1897, being employed as a bridgeman with that company. The following year he had charge of a C.P.R. sawmill which was then operating at Cokato, two miles west of Fernie. In 1899 he came into the city and operated a sawmill for the C.N.P. Coal Co. here, and in 1904 he started in the contracting business for himself and built many of the first residences in the city. In 1906, in partnership with Mr. Walde, he built the first C.P.R. depot here, and since that time these two partners have carried on a contracting business in the city.

Mr. Digby is survived by his wife, and two married daughters, Mrs. A. Matheson of Vancouver, and Mrs. E. Armstrong of Calgary, who have the heartfelt sympathy of the Fernie people in their sad bereavement.

COLEMAN SIGNS UP

Coleman, April 15.—Coleman miners went to the polls last night and in no uncertain terms voiced their desire to go to work at a lower wage than that provided for in the District 18 U.M.W. of A. agreement. The agreement offered by the managements of the two Coleman operating companies, carrying the Blairmore wage scale, was overwhelmingly accepted which means an open break with the United Mine Workers of America and a probable amalgamation with the newly-launched Canadian Federation of Mine Workers.

The result of the balloting at the two mines was as follows:

McGillivray Creek: For the agreement, 208; against the agreement, 78.

International Mine: For the agreement, 172; against the agreement, 35.

Practically every miner in the camp voted, sa that the result is atrue indication of the feeling of the men. The strong vote piled up for a settlement was something of a surprise, as the majority was not expected to be so large. This clear-cut mandate is welcomed by local mine leaders as it will strengthen their hands and also be a reassuring note to the operators.

The miners will meet to-day, when the scale agreement with the operators will be ratified. The whistles will blow to-night, it is expected, announcing work at the mines Thursday. There is general rejoicing here to-day with the prospect ahead of an early return of good times with the opening of the mines. They are reasonably certain of work five days a week.

This week-end will see over 1,200 miners working in the steam coal mines of the Crow's Nest Pass following the ratification by the Coleman miners of the wage terms offered by the operators there. The mines at Blairmore and Bellevue are now working, and, as mentioned, Coleman will resume Thursday. Hillcrest is now the only camp tied up. What action the men there will take is as yet in doubt, but a settlement seems inevitable in view of the course pursued in the other camps of the Pass bituminous coal areas.

The vote at Coleman is looked upon as a smashing blow to the international organization and virtually means the loss of their last stronghold in the Crow's Nest Pass. The effect, if any, of the "Pass revolt" against the U.M.W. of A. in the domestic coal camps is as yet problematical. Time alone will reveal that. Work there in the mines is dwindling steadily, the men being now down to about one day a week due to the scarcity of orders.

Bellevue, April 15.—The mine at Bellevue started work on Monday morning with the usual number of men. As far as is known, everything is going along smoothly, and in the course of a few days the mine will be working to capacity. It is thought there will be at least five days aweek for some time, as large coal orders are now available.

PRICES COMPARE FAVORABLY

A special meeting of the local Board of Trade was held in the Council Chamber on Tuesday evening with President Harry Douglas in the chair and about twenty-five members present.

A big budget of correspondence was read and taken care of. A large number of the communications were from eastern cities asking for maps and tourist literature.

The Secretary was instructed to write Mr. Brown, the secretary of the Tourist Association, and ask him for particulars about literature for circulation, also what the program for this year will be in regard to advertising. Since Fred Spalding gave up the secretary job, Fernie seems to have lost touch with the Tourist Association and the members are anxious to know just what they are to receive for their subscription of six hundred dollars a year.

A committee of H. Bryant, E. Rutledge and R. Phillips, on behalf of the Hospital Committee, waited on the Board and asked the members too do all in their power to assist those in charge of the business of running the hospital. They would like very much if the business men of the city would approach their employees and endeavor to get them to subscribe ninety cents a month each for hospital service. R. Phillips, the principal spokesman of the committee, outlined the crying need for better hospital equipment and this could only be secured through the active support and financial assistance of every business man in Fernie.

The Board discussed the matter at considerable length and decided to leave the question over until the regular monthly luncheon in about two weeks' time, when there would probably be a much larger attendance. All those present seemed to be very willing to assist the miners in every way in order to make the Fernie Hospital the best equipped in the interior.

A committee appointed by the Boadr a couple of months ago to investigate the high cost of living, submitted the following report:

The Board of Trade, Fernie, B.C.

We, the committee appointed to investigate the cost of living in Fernie, after having prices submitted from Vancouver, Trail, Kimberley, Nelson, Cranbrook, Natal, Lethbridge and Calgary, and comparing them, find that the prices at Fernie compare favorably with any quotations received. The committee called for quotations on:

62 articles of groceries,
22 articles of meat and dairy products,
20 articles of boots, shoes, dry goods and men's furnishings,
24 articles of patent medicines.

Fernie, B.C., April 9th, 1925.

Harry Douglas reported that the President of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia was very anxious to have the Fernie Board affilate with them. After a lot of discussion pro and con, it was decided to send a delegation to the annual meeting of the Board in Cranbrook with a view to surveying the work the Association are doing. The local Board will not join the association at the present time.

Tom Prentice suggested a business men's excursion from Fernie to visit Kimberley. This suggestion was well recieved and it will be given serious consideration at a future meeting.

Some discussion also took place wiht a view to approaching the Government in regard to biulding a road around the cut bank hill. It was represented that the road over the hill was at certain times of the year almost impassable. Mr. tewart said he would take the matter up with the road superintendent and the Liberal association.

WILL HAVE GOOD YEAR

The Coal Company baseball team is getting down to business early this season, the boys having several good outs on the Victoria Park diamond during the past week.

Gordon McTeer has been appointed playing manager for the season and expects to have one of the finest ball teams this year that Fernie has ever possessed. He has practically the whole of last year's team wth only a couple of places on the line-up vacant. These he expects to fill very shortly from a number of new comers to the city.

The club are still the holders of the Calgary Brewery Cup, having held it without having been called upon once to defend it since they captured it from the Rockyford team at Calgary early last season. It is expected, however, that several Alberta Clubs will travel to Fernie during the coming season in search of this splendid trophy.

Fernie is in a peculiar position geographically and for the past few seaons have affiliated with the Alberta Amateur Athletic Association, as Alberta Clubs were easier reached from this city than the British Columbia Clubs, playing the same class of ball. To retain the right to hold the Brewery Trophy the club will continue its affiliation with the Alberta Association, but in order to participate in the play-offs for the British Columbia Amateur Championship the club will also affiliate with the British Columbia body, and it is believed that the Coal Company Club will be well up in these competitions before the season closes.

A good ball club is a big advertisement to the city and to keep up the class of ball that Fernie has been giving during the past few years the hearty support of the citizens is urged.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The basketball season closed on Thursday, April 9, after almost continuous playing since last October. The games were staged in the somewhat limited floor space of the Scout Hall and the interest worked up was curtailed only by the want of a proper gynasium. At the beginning of February an inter-class play-off was drawn up for the girls and resulted as follows:

	P.	W.	L.	Pts.
Third Year	9	7	2	14
Second Year	9	4	5	8
First Year	9	4	5	8
Public School	9	3	6	6

Mr. Chell had charge of the coaching and refereeing.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association a vote of thanks was extended to J. Chell and L. Rushcall for their generous assistance in refereeing and coaching.

Mike Fetzko and Clifford Uphill have left High School to take positions in town.

The Easter exams. will be held April 27 to May 1.

G.W.V.A. CELEBRATE

In common with other branches of the G.W.V.A. the local branch celebrated the 8th anniversary of the founding of the association in the Vets rooms on Wednesday evening. President Bowen occupied the chair and welcomed the members and visitors. Capable stewards supplied refreshments. D. Markland gave a brief resume of the activities of the local branch. Dr. Corsan and Dr. Bonnell also spoke, the latter making a very impressive speech and calling for more enthusiasm. Tom Uphill also addressed the gathering in appropriate terms. Wm. Howarth kindly placed a radiophone at the disposal of the assembly to receive speeches broadcasted from various centres, the titbit of the evening being provided by Bill Young (Harry Lauder) with his company of The King's Own Homers.. The experience of this regiment on the blood-stained battlefield of Morrissey was received with great enjoyment, a fitting climax to this turn being the "March Past" of the troops headed by Piper Strachan. The Vets famous quartette drew forth well merited applause. A spirit of enthusiasm was awakened which will result in similar reunions being held more frequently.

James Broley has the contract for moving two steel structures which the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. recently purchased at Hosmer. One will be erected at Michel and the other moved to Fernie.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

To those who are interested in the question of the teachers' salaries the following from the Toronto Globe will be of interest :

"The National Educational Association of the United States has published a study of teachers' salaries in that country. It is asserted that the average salary of all teachers in the large cities is now just 97.8 per cent. of what it was in 1913, judged by what it will purchase. In Ontario teachers have been treated more generously, though few of the people contend that they have been overpaid. If the salaries of the female teachers in Ontario cities are placed on the same basis, the present average salary is 112 per cent. of what it was in 1913, judged by what it will purchase. This means taking the cost-of-living index figure at 160as compared with 100 in 1913. The average salary of a female teacher in Ontario cities is now $1363. Were the standard of pay in force as in the United States the present average would be $1,124.

The United States authorities assert that average real wages of all teachers in the country have increased 40 per cent. for the period mentioned, or from $515 to $721. The average salary for one-teacher schools is now $955. In Ontario one-teacher schools the average for the male teacher is $1,144, an increase from $566 in 1913. For females the average increase has been from $493 to $987. In this Province the comparatively few teachers with third-class certificates recieve an average salary of $855, as compared with $458 before the war.

The United States National Education Association says with truth that the teachers salary schedule, in the long run, more than any other factor, determines the quality of the people attracted to the teaching profession. Also the salary schedule to an extent determines the quality of preparation for teachers and their disposition to remain in the profession. We do not believe that Ontario would care to return to the old days of "starvation wages" for teachers. The schools in this Province are now in excellent hands, as a general rule. Boys and girls are being better equipped for life's work, and the processes of instruction have been so changed as to make school more attractive and more interesting for them. To some measure such conditions must be attributed to the increase in teachers' salaries. The pay standards of the United States are too low for this province.

MINERS' WAGES

Dr. J. E. C. Weldon, the Dean of Durham, makes some pertinent remarks relative to the demands of the British Coal Miners for increased wages. The Secretary of the Miners' Federation in recent speech said that the miners "were going to get a living wage, by reason he hoped, and by force if necessary." The Dean asks him to say how and to whom the force would be applied. The mining industry in England is approaching a crisis. In the county of Durham no fewer than forty-three collieries in which 23,000 men and boys are ordinarily employed have been closed down. The Dean points out that so long as the wages of miners are higher and their hours of work shorter in Great Britaain than elsewhere it is difficult to see how British mines can successfully compete in the markets of the world with mines upon the continent of Europe, and most of all in Germany.

Bishop Weldon admits at once that the miners deserve all the remuneration that can be given to them for their services. The only question is not what it is desirable but what it is possible to pay them. When mines are closed, wages, and still more, increased wages cannot be paid out of the profits of mining. The nationalization of mines will not prevent foreign competition or enable Britain to meet it any more successfully. On the other hand nationalization, as in many other cases, would probably mean bad management, political agitation for wage increases and smaller and smaller profits—if any at all—in the industry. Bishop Weldon says that a general strike in the industries of Great Britain of which a threat has been made, would be a Godsend to the foreign rivals of Britain's trade. That, no doubt, is the method of employing force to which the miners' secretary alludes. That kind of force, however, will not bring about higher wages. What it will ensure is greater unemployment and widespread loss of trade.

The King of Siam must have been keeping track of the Teapot Dome case. Aa expert geologist told his majesty the other day that there was no oil in his country, and the King said feverently, "Thank God for that."

Our misconceptions as to what true democratic government should be is probably often enough explanatory of the types of men who secure office. The spirit of political unrest which prevails is the reflex of those types. Here is comment from the Detroit Free Press on the subject, and doubtless dealing with politicians in the American field: "The typical aspirant for even high elective office to-day is, at its best, a thick-skinned individual, who has much more thought for his own advancement than he has for the advancement of the country. At his worst, he is a blatant demagogue, given to the most petty and unworthy reactions, and apparantly devoid of more than the most rudimentary idea of what constitutes genuine public service." The politicians are coming more and more to regard elective office as a means of livelihood, to the exclusion of the higher duties which it should involve, is found in the greed for sessional indemnities and the tactic agreements made fram time to time to provide increases in these.

Here and There

During 1924 the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association sold 2,600,000 pounds of wool, making a total of 25,343,504 pounds handled since its organization seven years ago. Wool was first exported in 1922.

Filings on oil land in South Alberta are drawing near the E.P. ranch, owned by the Prince of Wales. The ranch is said to lie on a Benton outcrop and portions of it may have been staked out by oil seekers before the spring is far advanced.

Caribou are coming back to New Brunswick, says the Chief Game Warden of that province. This is regarded as a testimony to the protective methods employed by the guides who are fully aware that the best means of protecting their livelihoods is to see that hunting of big game is not carried to excess.

"Relations between France and England were never more cordial than they are to-day," said Hon. W. C. Nichol, Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, interviewed on his return to Canada from a visit to France. Referring to his own province His Honor said there was every indication of British Columbia being swamped with tourists this year.

Lauchlan McLachlan, of Toronto, after serving nearly fifty years on the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been retired on pension at his own request. He was presented at leaving with an embossed address and gold watch and chain, which were handed to him by B. W. Scott, superintendent of Toronto Terminals, on behalf of his friends and associates.

The Prince of Wales, just before setting out for his tour of South Africa and South America, took a lightning trip to the Wembley Exhibition grounds. His Royal Highness was especially delighted with the children's section of the Park, Treasure Island, the main attraction of which is a Canadian Pacific model train in which the kiddies will "tour the Rockies."

The Canadian Pacific S.S. "Montroyal" docked at New York recently after her second and final West Indian cruise of the season with a veritable zoo on board, collected by passengers and to be taken inland as souvenirs. It included 500 parrots, and love birds, several monkeys, a deer and a Mexican tiger. Some of these are destined for various cities in Canada.

Saskatchewan can boast of a family of six generations. Mrs. Odell, of Hanley, 93 years of age, has a great-great-great-granddaughter of six months. Her eldest daughter is 76. She has 33 grandchildren, 45 great-grandchildren, seven great-great-grandchildren and the little lady first referred to. Mrs. Odell still reads and sews without eyeglasses.

Immigrants who chanted and sang their happiness at arriving in Canada were witnessed recently at the Montreal Windsor Station when a batch of fifty canaries in six cages were housed there for a time waiting conveyance by train. They had already travelled over 3,000 miles from Liverpool and had a further prospect of another 4,500 until they reached their destination either at Vancouver or in some cases San Francisco.

FORGING MORTGAGES

Forging of mortgages is one of the latest forms of activity on the part of get-rich-quick adventurers. Recently there have been several cases encountered in Eastern Canada where bogus documents have been successfully employed in the raising of money.

Advice has also been forwarded here, warning officials of the situation.

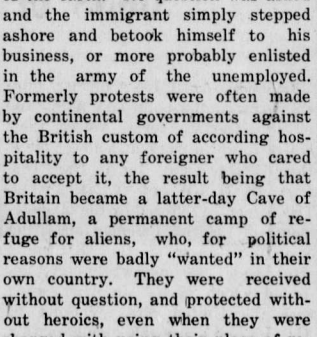
One method which has proved successful has been in the forgery of the mortgage discharge. In one case a mortgage was properly secured on certain property.

Then a discharge of the mortgage was forged and duly registered. The next step was to borrow on another mortgage, and so long as interest was paid on both mortgages their was little chance of having the misrepresentation detected.

The exposure came when the property was sold.

In another case a mortgage loan was secured by Mr. A. on property owned by Mr. B., who had left the city. Mr. A. forged the name of Mr. B. and in this particular case was able to produce the title deeds to the property. Both first and second mortgages were taken out on the property in this way, and there was no detection until interest was not paid. The question arises in this case as to whether there was collusion between A. and B.

The mortgage companies are giving serious consideration to the matter.



ALIENS IN BRITAIN

Adelaide Chronicle—Alien immigration is just now a much agitated question in Australia, and it is occupying a good deal of attention in Great Britain. Time was when the mother country was an asylum for people belonging to all the nations of the earth. No question was asked and the immigrant simply stepped ashore and betook himself to his business, or more probably enlisted in the army of the unemployed. Formerly protests were often made by continental governments against the British custom of according hospitality to any foreigner who cared to accept it, the result being that Britain became a latter-day Cave of Adullam, a permanent camp of refuge for aliens, who, for political reasons were badly "wanted" in their own country. They were received without question, and protected without heroics, even when they were charged with using their place of retirement for plotting against the governments of the countries from which they had fled. But it is not this class of refugees, whose arrival is now in question, but those who are looking for a new sphere of livelihood now that the golden land of plenty in the Western Hemisphere is closed to them. There own government, so far from resenting their departure, are glad to be rid of them for the same reason as has driven Britain to abandon her traditional policy and subject continental arrivals to the strictest scrutiny and to the severest restrictions.

The thing that puts the finishing touches on a model home is to have it occupied by a model family.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Local Druggists Have Modern Remedy for Colds

A Vaporizing Salve which is Rubbed Over Throat and Chest for Colds.

When Vicks VapoRub, the "external" method of treating sore throat, bronchitis, deep chest colds, or croup, is applied over throat or chest, the ingredients are released as vapors by the body heat.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath carry the medication directly to the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and relieving the congestion.

At the same time Vicks acts as a counter-irritant, stimulating the skin, and thus helps the vapors inhaled to break up the inflammation.

Colds are usually relieved over night.

Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

HEADACHES, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are Nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If this is allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

THE SCARE OF SMALLPOX

Rossland Miner: The Oliver regime at Victoria is busy once more. This time the powers that be have issued a universal vaccination order throughout British Columbia. Never stopping to consider that such an order will not only inconvenience many and that the danger, if any ever existed, for a general epidemic of smallpox—a cold weather disease—is past, the order has gone forth. The penalties are very severe for non-compliance. Industries will be crippled and business generally badly upset. Not even at the coast, where there appears to be a few mild cases, do the authorities agree with the government that an order as drastic as this one should be issued, and we congratulate the Victoria, Nelson and other councils who have gone on record against the damfool order-in-council.

Not anywhere in the Interior are there any cases of smallpox so far reported, and when they are then it should be time to take action and not now. We hope the Rossland Council will follow in the footsteps of the other cities and go on record as opposed to the order.

NEEDS CANNON FODDER

Excess of births over deaths in France last year was only some 72,000, as against 95,000 the year before. The rate in Germany is declining, too, but the excess is still over 300,000 a year. Whereat the French are, as usual, greatly concerned.

If the world were civilized they would not need to worry at all. They do not, in fact, worry in regard to the nations with which their relatios are on a civilized basis. The tremendous preponderance of America they do not regard as a menace. If America gets two hundred millions and they have only forty, America may have a five to one advantage commercially, but America will also have five times as many people to support with her greater wealth, and the French will be quite content to support well whatever population they have.

The fear is not the legitimate rivalries of commerce, but the illegitimate one of war.

If that one were removed, France would no more fear the greater population of Germany than Nevada fears the population of California, or Canada that of the United States.

But now the danger is that these 300,000 extra German babies, 20 years from now, may have to be stopped at some new Verdun by a fourth of as many French babies.

War demands cannon fodder, and France is not raising it. What the alarmists do not realize, is that long before these babies grow up, either Europe will have learned to do without cannon fodder, or else no conceivable birth rate would give France enough of it.

The world must raise babies for a better purpose than that or it might as well not raise them.

WHEN TAXES ARE UNFAIR

Kansas City Times—Nobody enjoys paying taxes. But people have shown that they will pay with a degree of cheerfulness whatever taxes they feel are necessary for the economical administration of public business. What arouses them is to be asked to pay high taxes to support superfluous office holders and to carry on the government extravagantly.

SHALL WOMEN SWEAR

On the other hand an anti-swearer comes across with this compellinging argument: It just won't do at all because it distorts the face. Cussing must be done forcibly to be effective. This hardens the mouth, wrinkles the brow and brings on premature age. An angry face is never beautiful. Men have used strong language since the beginning of time. That is why there are so few good looking men,. That should settle the question. On the face of it the negative wins. I can only offer as a clincher, this modest addendum to the argument: "With all a man's swearing, at life, at fate, fortune, accident, misery, women and things in general, what has it got them?"

All play and no work makes Jack too fast.

Mountain-Grown Teas Best

The tea plant grows best in the pure cool atmosphere of a mountain tea garden. The higher the garden, the finer and more delicious the flavour of the tea. This is partly due to the clear sunshine on a high mountain side, partly to the more invigorating air, partly to the more frequent rainfall and perfect drainage. The largest and roughest leaf grown at an elevation of 7000 feet is much superior in flavour to the tiniest tip grown only 2000 feet above sea-level. All teas used in the "SALADA" blends are grown from 4000 feet to 7,500 feet elevation. The trademark "SALADA" is a guarantee of quality.

Insured Milk Insures Good Baking

Market milk is uncertain at times, isn't it? Many a dish is spoiled by nearly fresh milk.

Good cooking demands known milk values and you make milk a known quantity in your cooking when you use insured milk—Carnation Milk. Always fresh and sweet and pure, every can you buy is like every other can. Good cooks say that milk dishes made with Carnation Milk are delightful in flavor and texture.

For Carnation is just pure, fresh milk, evaporated to double richness, kept safe by sterilization.

You, too, should try insured cooking with Carnation Milk.

From your grocer—order several tall (16 oz.) cans or by the case of 48 cans.

Mary Blake's Carnation Recipe Book is of special assistance in large families where economy is stressed. Over 100 wholesome and tasty dishes given that can be prepared at low cost. Beautifully illustrated, this book is gladly sent free on receipt of the coupon below. Try these recipes.

PIE CRUST

¾ cup flour; ¼ cup shortening; ¼ teaspoon salt; 3 tablespoons water. Sift flour and salt into bowl, make a hole in center of flour, put shortening and water in this and work all together well. Roll on floured board. If this is cooled thoroughly before rolling, it is easier to handle. This recipe makes one crust.

LEMON CREAM PIE

¾ cup flour; 1 cup sugar; 1¼ cup boiling water; 2 tablespoons butter; 3 egg yolks; 4 tablespoons lemon juice; ½ cup Carnation Milk; ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind. Mix flour and sugar, add boiling water while stirring. Cook five minutes, add butter, beaten egg yolks, Carnation, lemon rind and juice. Pour into baked pie crust, cover with meringue made of three egg whites beaten stiff with four tablespoons powdered sugar beaten into them. Brown in slow oven.

COURIER CANDIDATES

According to the Cranbrook Courier, there will be no scarcity of Conservatives candidates for the next Dominion election, whenever it is called, which will be some time within the next twelve months. The names of Dr. Rutledge and H. B. Hicks are quietly mentioned as probable canditates, while the name of T. D. Cavin, veteran war horse of the Conservative party in East Kootenay, is openly advocated as the Conservative standard bearer. Fernie, Golden, Invermere and many of the lumber camps of the district advocate the candidature of Mr. Cavin.

There will undoubtedly be a labor candidate in the field, probably two, one from Cranbrook and the other a prominent labor leader from Fernie. Locally Tom Bronsdon, who opposed Hon. Dr. King in the Dominion bye-election is the favorite in the race for the Dominion House. His support is mainly from the radical element of labor, with a goodly sprinkling of lumberjacks, Mr. Bronsdon having played an important part in the strike of the lumber workers of this district. While labor is insisting that Mr. Bronsdon enter the field, that gentleman is said to have expressed a willingness to retire should Mr. T. D. Cavin become the Conservative candidate, otherwise he will enter the field as a straight Labor candidate.

While nothing official has come about as to the Liberal candidate, our tum tum is that the Hon. Dr. King, Dominion minister of public works and the member for this district, will again be the candidate. Coast papers are stopping at nothing to have the Doctor stand for Vancouver or New Westminster, but interior Liberals are equally pronounced in their views that Dr. King must stage his battle on home grounds, where he has resided since construction days and where he has spent most of his life. When the time arrives we believe Vancouver will have to relinquish any claim it may have on the Minister of Public Works.

The editor of the Courier may be right so far as the consensus of opinion in the Cranbrook district is concerned, but so far as Fernie is concerned the people here are not worrying about candidates very much, if the Hon. Dr. King succeedes in having the Dominion Government reimburse the Home Bank depositors, why the citizens of this end of the district will be quite willing to give him an acclamation or any other old thing he might want.

FISHING SEASON OPENS MAY 1

Owing to adverse criticism made of the proposed change in the fishing season in the Kootenay, the chief inspector has decided to make no changes for the present year, C. H. Robinson, fisheries overseer has announced.

That is, the regulations whish have just arrived from the department of marine and fisheries at Vancouver, show that trout fishing opens in the waters of the West Kootenay, including the Boundary district, on April 1st and closes November 14th, boh days inclusive.

In East Kootenay—Cranbrook, Fernie and Columbia electoral districts trout fishing opens May 1, and closes November 14, both days inclusive, with a few exceptions. Trout fishing is permitted in Premier Lake, for example, from April 15th to November 15th.

Summit Creek, flowing into Kootenay River in the vicinity of Creston is closed to trout fishing every year up to and including June 30th, until further notice.

Waters closed to all fishing for an indefinite period are Fish Lakes, 7 miles northwest of Cranbrook, including the Outlet Creek for one mile from the foot of the first lake, and Rock or Stevens Lake in the vicinity of Wasa.

"COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN"

It is seldom that the citizens of Fernie have the opportunity of seeing a really first rate play. On Wednesday and Thursday nights, however, they had the privilege, when the Fernie Players, under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Connick, presented a copyright play by A. E. Thomas, entitled "Come Out of the Kitchen." The play would have tested the capacity of professional players and we may congratulate ourselves in having in our midst talent capable of attempting and putting on successfully such a big event. The play is a happy mixture of pathos and comedy and held the interest of the audiences throughout. It is based on a story of the same name by Alice Duer Miller and is centered in the home of the Dangerfields in Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Dangerfield have gone to Europe for the sake of Mr. Dangerfield's health. They have left in the home their sons Paul and Charles and daughters Olivia and Elizabeth. Owing to straightened circumstances the children decide to rent the old house for six weeks during the hunting season to a rich Northern gentleman for $6000. Servants are specially engaged from the city for the occasion but they fail to arrive and the young Dangerfields decide to take the place of the servants.

Act 1, Scene 1 opens with the decision of the Dangerfield family to take the place of the servants and the arrival of Mr. Crane, the Northern gentleman.

Scene 2 introduces Mr. Crane's guests, Mrs. Falkener and her daughter and Mr. Solon Tucker, Mrs. Falkener's brother, who is Mr. Crane's attorney., Mrs. Falkner takes up the charge d'affairs of the household.

Act 2 shows a scene in the kitchen two days later. This act is full of incident and was very well done.

Act 3 opens with a dance scene and closes with the engagement of Miss Olivia Dangerfield and Mr. Crane.

Mrs. J. C. Connick as Olivia Dangerfield and later on as the cook, had quite a big scope for her varied talent of gravity and wit. Her acting was of a very finished nature and her charming manner captivated the audience.

J. C. Connick as Mr. Crane had quite a large place and filled it admirably.

Miss Corsan played the terrible Mrs. Falkner to perfection, and Mrs. B. Kirkpatrick as her daughter was very good.

George Mead as Randolph Weeks, agent of the Dangerfields, had quite a lively time and acquitted himself very well.

Wesley Owen as Crane's attorney, caused much mirth in the role of domestic amour and gormand.

Chas. Hunsley, as Paul Dangerfield and then as the butler, Smithfield, showed quite a lot of talent.

R. D. Lovell as Thomas Lafferty, statistical poet and sister to Mrs. Falkener, filled his part very well.

Miss D. Nelson as Elizabeth Dangerfield and later as Araminta, the housemaid, put quite a little life into things.

Lastly, Jack McPhee made quite a bit of his part and gives great promise.

The cast was very good and too much praise cannot be given them. We congratulate the Fernie Players and look forward to their next event.

On Wednesday night there was a little delay in changing scenes owing to the fact that the dress rehearsals in the afternoon did not give sufficient time to prepare for the evening and also the helpers were not accustomed to the props. However, on Thursday evening we saw what could be done and everything went off pun-c tually.

The players are to be congratulated on having two full houses and are assured of hearty patronage in the future.

Mrs. J. C. Connick was presented with flowers each night. At the conclusion of the Thursday night's performance the Fernie Players were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lawe at their home.

It might be added that the appropriate and beautiful scenery was made by the Fernie Players and the excellent work and effects produced may be taken as an indication of the enthusiasm and zeal of the Fernie players.

During both evenings the Commons' orchestra supplied the music and rendered appropriate and delightful music.

$5000.00 IN AWARDS TO BOYS AND GIRLS

Join Bauer & Black's First Aid Legion at this Store.

This is Boys and Girls First Aid Week at this store.

We invite the Boys and Girls of this community to be our guests this week and see the instructive exhibits of first aid and materials used to prevent minor cuts and wounds becoming serious injuries.

During this event, we are accepting enrollments for Bauer & Black's Junior First Aid Legion. 12c. makes you a member of this valiant order—and brings you a complete pocket kit of first aid supplies—a handsome membership button—and a hand book of First Aid instruction.

Bauer & Black will award five hundred ten-dollar gold pieces to the 500 boys and girls who render the best first aid service in 1925. A membership in the Junior Legion will give you the first aid knowledge to compete and perhaps win one of these ten-dollar gold pieces.

Mrs. W. R. Wilson, who has been visiting in the city for several weeks, left this morning for Vancouver.

The C.P.R. has had the big engine shed at Fernie torn down and moved away.

Mrs. J. Boulanger, of Natal, purchased a Star Special coupe from Wm. Johnston this week.

Mrs. R. E. Winnett has left for Spokane, where she will spend several months visiting with her daughters.

The annual meeting of the Fernie Tennis Club will be held in the council chamber on Monday, April 20, at 8 p.m. All those interested are cordially invited to attend.

Al. Rizzuto wires from Phillipsburg, Mont., where he is heavily interested in a gold and silver-lead proposition, that they have just struck a very rich vein.

Philip Carosella has a large quantity of strawberry plants for sale at $2 per hundred. He also has a quantity of seed oats at $1 a bushel and seed wheat at $2.50 per bushel.

Don't forget the whist drive and dance at the Catholic Hall, Friday, April 24. Cards from 8 to 10.30. Dancing 11 to 1. Refreshments. Admission 50c.

Ralph Budd, president, announced that the Great Northern railway will proceed imediately to electrify 30 miles of its main line over the summit of the Cascade mountains in Washington State.

The Hospital Commmittee expect to have the hospital in order ready to receive patients in about a week. Mrs. James Marshall has consented to act as lady superintendent for the time being.

The city magistrate this week fined Leroy Taylor $10 and costs for cruelty to animals. He was driving a horse which was lame. The police warned him, but he paid no attention.

The Ladies Guild of the English Church, Coal Creek, will hold a whist drive and dance in the Club Hall, on Thursday evening, April 23. Cards from 8 to 10. Dancing 10.30 to 2.30. Admission 50c. Refreshments.

Miss Doreen StDenis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. StDenis, Chatham street, Fairview, left Sunday morning for Fernie, where she has taken a position with Herchmer & Mitchell, a law firm. She will reside with her sister, Mrs. Charles Edgar.

John Hurst, formerly of Fernie, who has been in the Kamloops Sanitarium, died on Wednesday. The body will be brought to Fernie for interment on Saturday. Deceased was a returned soldier and the funeral will be held under the auspices of the G.W.V.A.

At the next Board of Trade luncheon several important questions will cmoe up for discussion. The hospital committee have asked the business men of the city to get behind them in an effort to raise sufficient money to regularly support the hospital and also raise enough to thoroughly equip the institution is the most up-to-date manner. This is a worthy cause and one in which every man with a stake in the city should be deeply interested in. The miners of this town have been carrying the big end of this hospital work for a long time, so let everybody turn out and see what can be done to help. These Board of Trade monthly luncheons are becoming very popular but it is up to the members to see that they do not altogether develope into knife and fork affairs.

A. B. Hogg, barrister and Vice-president of the Lethbridge Board of Trade, was the principal speaker at the last Board of Trade luncheon. He is an orator of no mean ability and was listened to with keen attention by all members present. He took as his subject, "Reasons for the Existence of a Board of Trade," and pointed out the wonderful work that could be accomplished by an active organization of this kind.

In connection with the midgets baseball park, next to Ingram's residence, Mr. Ingram desires to state that the land where the boys play does not belong to him, but is mostly city property and anyone contributing any labor toward putting the ground in shape is doing so entirely in the interests of the boys. Mr. Ingram is dong a fine work for the boys in making this little park and any assistance that can be given him will be greatly appreciated by the little fellows.

We have received a communication from a citizen of Fernie this week signing himself "Tolerance," which deals at length with the dispute between the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. and those former employees who were refused work under the new agreement between the Coal Co. and the B.C. Miners' Association. While the spirit of the communication is far from being radical on this question, we feel that no good purpose can be served by stirring up this matter further at the present time. In fact we are very much of the opinion that if Mr. Thos. Uphill and one or two others had kept out of this dispute, a number of the men in question would have been working long before this. We are personally of the opinion an employer should have perfect freedom to hire whom he pleases.

The Kings Hotel beer parlor was the last of the six granted licenses to open. This stablishment, which opened Saturday night is not one whit behind the others in its appointments. Up to the present time there is no great indication that any of the parlors will make a fortune out of their new business. In fact, according to inside information there is every indication to believe that not more than one or two will be able to make a stand-off. The license of five hundred dollars in the first place is altogether too high for the amount of business in sight, and then the regulations are so strict that it is almost a necessity to employ two men all the time, even when business is quiet. One of the proprietors figured it out that the least business that he could get along on and make a stand-off on at all was $25 a day, and that was only figuring on the employment of one bartender.

A GENUINE BUSINESS CO.

The gigantic structure at Bogalusa, Louisiana, is a memorial to the wastefulness that once prevailed there in lumbering operations, and still prevails in certain sections of our country. The inscription painted on it reads as follows: Bogalusa Company, Refuse burner. Born Oct. 1, 1908, died July 4, 1924. Every day during my life of sixteen years I consumed 560 cords of waste wood, or a total of 2,688,000 cords. I cost $75,000, but my fire has destroyed $10,344,000 worth of what was formerly considered waste. The complete utilization of the saw-mill refuse in the manufacture of paper has my fire forever extinguished."

The Outlook goes on to comment as follows:

"It has been the policy of this lumber company from the time it started operations in the South to make the city that grew up around the lumber operations a permanent one. This is being done by utilizing all the waste. which includes tree tops and limbs, and also the sawmill waste in the manufacture of various kinds of paper and pulp. As the mill has a hours of a million feet a day, there is a tremenduous amount of saw-that can not be utilized for fuel at the sawmill. This is consumed by a paper mill at Bogalusa. Now all the sawmill waste is being utilized, and this put the large burner out of business. In figuring the value of the material as represented by its use to-day, the burner destroyed during its lifetime nearly a million and a half dollars' worth of waste material which is now being used in the paper mill.

"Forty-five hundred men are given employment at the plants. Mr. W. H. Sullivan, Mayor of Bogalusa, and general manager of the Great Southern Lumber Company, insisted upon planting a million young pines when foresters mentioned planting in terms of thousands. This number has now been increased to 10,000,000. They now have 78,000 acres in process of reforestation. They are planting their trees 800 to the acre, using 500 for pulpwood, and in less than twenty-five years they will have logs from these plantings for the mill. There mills can run forever, and the people of Bogalusa will have permanent occupations and permanent homes."

WAR SPIRIT NOT DEAD

Kamloops Sentinel—There have been allegations from French sources, which have been vigorously denied, again asserted and then officially negatived, that Germany is still the same old war crazy nation, despite ruination by the lust six and a half ago. Now we have press despatches to the effect that fifty at least of the Reichswehr have been drowned while attempting to cross an improvized bridge in full field equipment.

Surely there is proof here that when the allegedly bankrupt country of Germany is indulging in army field manoeuvres, that the old war spirit is again in flower. Germany has undoubtedly no right, under the Versailles treaty to carry out such training, and one can well understand the fear of the French, so often pronounced as baseless by other countries, that Germany will never rest until she has made another attempt through force to regain what she has lost.

Possibility of a decline in the craze for public ownership will be enhanced when more people view such a craze from the standpoint of the Brandon Sun, which says on the subject: "There is a vital point usually overlooked by unthinking talkers for every sort of public ownership. Any and every citizen is compelled to put up his home and belongings to furnish collateral or guarantee to borrow moey for something he nows nothing about. This loan establishes a business usually placed in the hands of amateurs, enthusiasts, politicians and theorists who are never trained to its needs. The home-owner with property is enforced to put up his savings and enterprise and security for a loan to start a doubtful public experiment under a management of irresponsible publicists, who could not be trusted to administer any private business and who itch to direct one of which they know nothing at all.'

Headline says: "University President Stops Flirting." Quite right that he should at his age.

STICKERS NOT ALLOWED

Local police authorities in the past few days have been warning automobile drivers against a breach of the Motor Vehicle Act, which states that stickers shall not be placed on the windshields or rear windows of the car. The clause was only last week inserted in the Motor Vehicle Act regulations.

The new clause reads:

"No windshield sticker, paper, or other obstruction shall be placed over or affixed to any part of the upper half of the glass of the windshield or any part of the rear window of any motor vehicle."

There has been considerable trouble in the past owing to car drivers' views being obstructed by bathing beauties and other such stickers plastered across the windshields. The local police have been busy in the past few days, and as a result many car drivers who had stickers on their windshields have removed them.

Similar amendments to the Motor Vehicle Act deal with the use of horns by motorists. Under the new amendment it is unlawful for a person to use a horn which gives a signal composed of the same note or notes, or combination of notes as the signal assigned by the superintendent for the use of provincial police.

Every motor cycle under the new regulations, shall be equipped with a reflector or lamp mounted on the rear thereof capable of reflecting or displaying a red light toward the rear. The light shall be kept lighted during the period from one half hour after sunset and one half hour before sunrise.

DOUKHOBORS AND THE LAW

It is not so much what the Provincial Government can do but what it will do to enforce the law against the Doukhobors. The latter are refusing to send their children to school and to that extent violating a law of the country. They are passive resisters to certain legislation. They are tax-payers and it may be that they will continue paying school taxation even though their children do not benefit from the expenditure. The Doukhobors are of the type of settlers that do not assimilate with the Anglo-Saxon stock. They are industrious settlers, none more industrious. They have done well for themselves inCanada and they have done well for the country in the way of industrial development. They have however,, in some respects, and particularly in their attitude towards the educational laws, been a source of trouble to the Government. We believe that by painstaking effort and by a spirit of tolerance their objections to sending their children to school could have been overcome long before this, but it is not clear that the authorities have dealt with the situation sufficiently in this spirit.

When the question of segregating Chinese in the schools of Victoria became an issue the local Chinese, or at least a large portion of them, boycotted the schools. There was never any attempt, so far as we have heard, to visit the inflictions of the law on these Chinese because of their attitude. The matter was arranged in a spirit of compromise. It is true that in the local situation the guidance of affairs was in the hands of the municipal authorities and the Provincial Government did not interfere. Where the Doukhobors are concerned it is with the Provincial Government that they have got to deal and it will be interesting to note if the outcome is as satisfactory as it was in the case of the local Chinese. What should be avoided is the creation of any impression that any sect or natioality can be discriminated against or persecuted in a community within the Empire. It is admitted that all sects and all nationalities should obey the laws of the country in which they reside. The point is that only by a spirit of toleration is it possible to encourage immigration and deal with the polyglot immigrants when they come here in such a manner as will direct their energies into those channels which are best for the country's social and industrial well being.—Victoria Colonist.

Just for a joke he gave his friend a drink of alcohol
He thought the prank, though some what rough, would hurt no one at all.
But when his friend fell to the floor, it wasn't quite so thrilling,
And as an end to all his fun he found his joke was killing.

A Score of New Results Emphasize The Difference

If a year ago the Chrysler Six had been merely another new car, its first-year production of over 32,000 cars—the largest ever recorded—would not have been required.

But the Chrysler Six is an entirely new type of car, built on a new kind of engineering which produces results radically different from any yet registered.

The difference of Chrysler engineering is emphasized by the fact that its 3-inch motor develops 68 horse-power, a speed of more than 70 miles an hour and 24 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

The difference is further emphasized by the fact that you can drive comfortably at 60 miles an hour over cobbled streets, that side-sway is eliminated, that it possesses an oil-filter to cleanse all motor oil as the car runs and an air-cleaner for the carburetor.

Everything that Chrysler advanced design means in the operation, comfort and high quality of a motor car will be made clear in a half-hour's driving. We are eager to prove that Chrysler is the best built car you ever drove.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan. Chrysler dealers and superior Chrysler service everywhere.

CHRISTIANITY ASLEEP

Christian churches in Africa are issuing grave warnings about the spread of Mohammedanism in that continent Islam has commenced a collossal missionary drive, and millions of black men are being drawn into that faith.

If it were solely a question of leaving black Africa in paganism or seeing it go to the Moslem faith, the latter alternative would be preferable. Mohammedanism has moral precepts better than those of voodooism. It tends to turn a higher type of man than the primitive religions of Africa.

But Mohammedanism is a menace to the world, not because its moral structure is unsound, but because it provokes inter-racial bloodshed.

A growing Mohammedanism can only hasten what many believe to be the world's inevitable clash of color.

The task of Christianizing the world's peoples, therefore, has become more than an act of obedience to Divine command. It has become an essential act of self-preservation.

No sensible people can fully believe that a Christianized world would necessarily be a world permanently at peace. The Christianity of Germany and France made little difference to those nations when they were ready to fly at each other.

But the Christianizing of the world or at any rate, of the world's most primitive peoples, while not guaranteeing peace, would, at least, remove one element that guarantees war.

Th success of Islam in Africa is an instance of how a second rate religion, with virility and zeal behind it, can out-strip a first-class religion lacking that virility and zeal.

Christianity is asleep. It is getting soft. Upon the ability of the christian people to recharge themselves with the zeal, the romance and the crusading spirit of religion, will depend the future relationship between the white and colored races of the world.—Vancouver Sun.

WOMEN IN POLITICS

Los Angeles Times—There are intimations from Washington that the Administration is likely to incite the larger use of women in the public service. There is even hinting that appointments in the Department of Justice may be expected. When a woman is appointed to the Federal bench the recognition of the sex would be complete. In some of the aisles of justice the intutitions of woman might be a powerful aid in the interpretation or the law.

SUN'S HEAT AND WEATHER

There seems to be evidence to show that very moderate changes in the sun's heat, without much affecting the average temperature of the world as a whole, may yet make the difference between prosperity and failure in some localities here on earth. Dr. Charles Greely Abbot, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, who contributes an article on this subject to Science Service's Daily Science News Bulletin (Washington) is described as keeping the closest watch on the sun of any man on earth. He points out the immense practical possibilities in knowing the exact effect of variations in energy given out by the sun. Writes Dr. Abbot :

"The studies of H. H. Chayton, an American meterologist, shows that major changes of the barometer and temperature in the United States come from solar variations. About ten years ago, Mr. Clayton, then chief forcaster for the Argentine Government, began a long, thorough investigation of just what exactly happens to barometers, thermometers, and rain gages all over the world when the sun's heat changes. By 1920, he was actually employing solar meaasurements of the Smithsonian Institution to make public official forcasts a week in advance for the temperature and rainfall of Buenos Aires. These weekly forcasts are still maintained.

"At first sight the matter is very simple. You would all probably say that if the sun sends more heat, the weather would grow warmer ; if less heat, cooler. But the subject is more complex. A place tends to be warm or cold as its prevailing winds come from tropical or polar directions. In the atmosphere there are regions of low and of high barometer. In the United States the winds blow counter-clockwise all around the low centers, and clockwise all around the high centers. Meterologists call these effects cyclones and anti-cyclones.

"If now the system of cyclones and anti-cyclones is shifted north, south, east or west, by any cause, there will be a change of wind and consequently a change of temperature. Rainfall also is modified. According to Mr. Clayton's researches this is exactly what happens when the sun's heat changes. The barometric highs and lows move a few hundred miles, and alter the wind directions, and with them the weather.

"Data from stations all over the world and for all seasons for many years must be compared with recorded solar changes before meterologists will be in shape to begin predicting from the state of the sun's heat. The great work is only begun. This is why our Weather Bureau does not use these methods.

"The part of the Smithsonian Institution in this new movement is to secure regularly accurate measurements of changes in the sun's heat. We began to make these studies over twenty years ago in Washington, but soon found it necessary to move to clearer skies. We discovered that the sun's heat varies, and after years of research that took us to three continents we established in 1918 an observatory in the nitrate desert of Chilie where it almost never rains, where there is neither animal, insect, reptile, nor vegetable life, and where all water and supplies must be hauled many miles. From this observatory, nearly 10,000 feet above sea level, and at another station on a mountain in Arizona, over a mile high, daily solar observations are made and daily telegraphic reports are sent to the Smithsonian Institution."

There is great difficulty in making observations accurate enough, Dr. Abbot says. The sun's changes seldom exceed three per cent, though sometimes reaching five per ent. or more. Mr. Clayton's results indicate that solar changes as small as 1 per cent. or less are yet great enough to produce noticeable effect on the weather. It is only lately that the investigators have succeded in refining methods to this degree of accuracy. But for about two years past the two stations, over 4,000 miles apart, have agreed together to about one-half of 1 per cent. on the average of all good days and have agreed in showing solar changes of from 1 to 5 per cent. For over two years they have indicated that the sun's heat has been enerally from one to two per cent. below normal, but at present it is nearly up to normal again, and apparently seems marching toward higher values. Dr. Abbot proceeds :

Between summer and winter and between night and day, enormously greater changes than three to five per cent. occur, and we adjust ourselves to them .Why should we concern ourselves about seemingly small changes in the sun's heat ?

"The aanswer is that the food plants, the great cities, and others of the most important things in the world are found exactly where they are because they are all adjusted to exactly the climatic conditions which prevail. Why do palms grow in Southern England, which lies as far north as our bleak Labrador coast, for instance, and why do people winter in the south of France, as far north as Ottawa, while in America people go to Florida or Southern California to get mild winters ?

"What I am driving at is that a little change in the quantity of solar heating might alter the distribution of heat over the earth in such a way as to produce perfectly astounding changes. One per cent change of heat available to warm the air over the enormous area of the tropics may be of little effect, but may easily produce much larger effects towaard the poles. For the areas of the zones grow less toward the poles. It is like the tides. On the open oceans they oscillate only a foot or two, but in the bay of Fundy the tidal wave is over 40 feet high.

One looks forward to a time when daily telegrams shall come to a central station from at least four solar radiation stations instead of from two as now, and the condition of the sun shall be broadcasted for the use of meterologists the world over. For after all the temperature and all life on the earth hangs on the sun's rays. They ought to be thoroughly investigated so that we may be informed in advance what we are to expect as the consequences of the sun's changes."

DIFFERENCE BY AIR AND SEA

Manchester Guardian—We are at the beginning of a brisk and expensive development of the aircraft and anti-aircraft forces which will be attached to every squadron in the future. Whether aircraft can control the fortunes of a battle no one can say, but their chances of doing so are so good that everyone is going to take great care they have their chance, or, so far as the enemy are concerned, have no chance at all. Every fleet is going to have with it aircraft to scout, to spot, to fight, to bomb, to protect the bombers, and in short, to secure control of the air before a battle opens. These things mean aircraft guns, increased armor, aircraft carriers, heavy ships to protect the carriers, and the like.

Bringing the West to the East

1—Empress Hotel, Victoria, with dome of Houses of Parliament on right; 2—Airplane view of Lake Louise and Chateau; 3—Crossing the Wolverine Pass in the Rockies; 4—Trail Riders in the Yoho Valley.

Not the smallest part of the education of a Canadian Teacher should be a knowledge of the Dominion, derived from personal contact with its vast areas. When in addition the West is brought home to the East by a tour covering most of the former's points of interest, commercial, agricultural and scenic, then a very valuable addition to one's knowledge of one's own country has been consummated.

This is the object of the 21-day tour of Canada which is now being arranged by the Canadian Teacher's Federation in repetition of their very successful similar trip last summer. The party will leave Toronto westbound July 20 and will be back in that city August 10. It will be under the personal direction of Professor Sinclair Laird, Dean of the School for Teachers, MacDonald College, Quebec. The journey out and return will be over Canadian Pacific Railway lines, motors and boats and stop-overs will be arranged at points of interest.

Starting from Toronto in the afternoon, the train passes through a land of beautiful lakes, the Muskoka region, reaching Sudbury and continuing through the big game district of Northern Ontario and skirting the shores of Lake Superior for many miles before arriving at Port Arthur and Fort William, the twin cities where most of the western grain is stored. A day is spent in Winnipeg, the centre of the greatest grain marketing and inspection point in the Empire. Half a day is spent in Regina and Moose Jaw is reached the same day. Then on to Calgary where the last of the prairie country is covered and the foot hills of the Rockies commence. Passing next day through the Gap, the gateway of the Rockies, where the roadway is hewn through the solid rock, Banff is reached on the first Saturday of the trip.

At this point the traveller enters fairyland. Banff is the headquarters of the Rocky Mountains Park, a region of 2,751 square miles, covering rivers, lakes and mountain scenery of unsurpassed grandeur. The weekend is spent in this district. Drives and automobile trips here make a pleasant contrast with the train journey and the wonderful sights will live long in memory. There is Lake Louise, an exquisitely colored limpid mirror of glaciers and snow-crowned peaks and the brilliant blue of the sky with its argosies of fleecy clouds. Mounts Stephen, Chancellor and Sir Donald rise into view as the Great Divide is crossed and the marvelous Yoho Park is traversed. Canyons, caves, valleys, deep gorges, passes twinkle past the train in its journey which is sometimes slowed up to admit of a more lasting impression. The scenery is so perfect that to avoid missing any the train does not travel at night and continues its journey at dawn. For 250 miles it passes through the Great Canyons of the Thompson and Fraser Rivers and the long day of fifteen hours is one unbroken pasture of delight. Vancouver is at last reached and a short but interesting boat trip is made across the straits of Georgia to Victoria with a panoramic view of beautiful islands, bays and rocky headlands and the snow-capped mountains of the Coast ranges and the Olympics as a background.

The return journey takes us through the Cascade Mountains and the Kelowna Valley to Nelson, commercial centre of the Kootenay district. An overnight journey ends at Lake Windermere where after a trip to the Camp there is a motor run of 104 miles over the newly completed Banff-Windermere Highway through awe-inspiring scenery. Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—four full days—are taken up with the above. Then commences the trip across the prairies to the head of the lakes which is reached via Edmonton and Saskatoon to Lake of the Woods district. A full 24 hours is spent among the sights of this wonderful Lake district and then the trip goes on to Fort William. From this point the journey is continued by boat through Lakes Superior and Huron to Port McNicoll whence Toronto is reached four hours later, and the trip completed.

It is difficult to conceive of a more healthy or a more diversified holiday than the one outlined above. In addition it brings home to the participant the glory of Canada in a way that is unequalled in so short a time. No one can take such a trip and not return from it bigger, wiser, more conscious of Canadian nationhood. And such an experience must of necessity be invaluable for those whose profession it is to teach the next generation of Canadians.

EMPIRE COMMUNICATIONS

The Round Table—Inter-Imperial communications to-day are less efficent and less fully developed than international communications. There are telegrams and despatches, but practically no personal touch between qualified people of experience, except at times of Imperial Conference. If Great Britain and the Dominions continue to go along blindfold, each in its own groove, there is bound to be a long series of dangerous collisions and disputes, such as have occurred recently, all of which could perfectly well have been avoided by a little common-sense consultation before hand. The key to the problem of the foreign diplomacy of the Commonwealth is the establishment of a sensible system of diplomatic relations between its own members.

PROF. SCHOFIELD ON MINERALS

Keen interest was taken in the lecture on "Origin of Ore Deposits," given by Prof. Schofield, of the University of B.C., in the Public School auditorium on Friday evening last. The large hall was well filled and judging by the questions put after the lecture all seemed to be intensely interested.

Mr. Schofield explained that the old mountain chains, such as those in Ontario, which were among the oldest in the world, had ore bodies, but that young mountain chains had none.

"This is true the world over," he said, "and it is an important point to remember in prospecting."

Millions of years ago, the speaker said, granite was a molten mass in the folds of the rocks which had been forced up out of the sea, and this, as it cooled and solidified, squeezed the metals it contained into the surrounding rocks. Therefore, the place to look for ore was in the rocks that surrounded the granite.

Such mines as the Basin, Alaska, Anyox, Surf Inlet, Tyee Copper, Britannia, and Marble Bay were instanced to show the presence of a big copper deposit along the western side of the coast range .

On the eastern side, Mr. Schofield said, one found such gold and silver mines as the Engineer, Premier, Dolly Varden, or Silver Standard, which was silver-lead.

In the Kootenays he instanced such mines as those at Rossland and Copper Mountain, and the deposits around Ainsworth, Sheep Creek, and in the Slocan, to show that there was the same distribution of minerals on the western and eastern sides of the Selkirks. He said silver, lead and gold could usually be worked with small capltal, but that copper usually required a large outlay of money.

Speaking of the occurrence of ore bodies he said that granite occupied the largest area in B.C. of any single rock, but had few ore deposits. Limestone contained more ore deposits than any other rock, he said, and instanced such mines as the Marble Bay, at the coast, the Blue Bell, No. 1 Silver Hoard and the Cork Province, and other mines in the Ainsworth Slocan as good examples of mines in limestone.

Slates contained ores in the Slocan, but not in the Premier country. He described the great slate belt in the Slocan, that started from Ainsworth, ran through the Lardeau and crossed the main line of the C.P.R. for 100 miles in a northwesterly direction.

The Britannia was a good example of ore deposits in schistose prophyry, said the speaker, and the Premer was another. Therefore, the miners' saying that the most valuable mines were in schistseo quartz prophyry was a very good one.

Part of the ore bodies of the Premier, the Dolly Varden and the Highland were in greenstone, he said, as well as some of the ore bodies of the Florence at Ainsworth.

Summing up this portion of his address, Mr. Schofield said that in order of importance, taking into consideration their real extent, with the number of mines that occurred in them, the rocks were schistose quartz porphyry, limestone, quartz, greenstone, slates and granites.

Describing the forms of mineral deposits he said that contact deposits were very valuable ; that limestone was noted for replacement deposits ; and that fissure veins were simply cracks in the earth that had become filled with ore. These fissures, he had found, trend in an northeasterly and northwesterly direction in British Columbia, and were often occupied by river valleys. Therefore, it was important to prospect up creek beds.

The methods by which certain ores, such as gold and silver, were deposited in certain strata in the ground, often at what was known as the ground water level, or the level at which water would stand in a well, was described.

In speaking of the importance of stripping a vein from wall to wall in a mine, Mr. Schofield instanced the Premier and Britannia Mines formation. He also touched on placer deposits saying that natural erosion in the hills caused metals to concentrate in stream beds.

Mr. Schofields slides showed mines and rock formation in Mexico, Nevada, Spain, the desert country around Miami, and in British Columbia.

At the close of his address he answered many questions from the audience.

LADIES GOLF CLUB

Watch for notices every week.

The ladies in charge of the competitions are Mrs. A. I. Fisher and Mrs. Roy Kirkpatrick.

The draws for the different competitions will be posted in the windows of the Trites-Wood Co., N. E. Suddaby and A. C. Liphardt. The draws will be made from all members as the competition committee have in the past had a great deal of trouble in getting these competitions arranged owing to ladies who were unable to play not notifying the committee. All ladies who cannot take part in a competition are asked to please notify the committee.

THE ANNEX IN DANGER

Few Fernie people are aware that the Annex and West Fernie are in serious danger of being flooded by the Elk River changing its course and cutting through across the lower part of the golf course and forming a new channel close to the original high bank. The river for the past few years has gradually been working its way along these lines and unless some action is taken to combat the situation the first real high water will cause a disaster which will destroy thousands and thousands of dollars worth of property and many lives may be lost.

Two years ago with only comparatively high water, land along this channel was covered with several feet of water for nearly a mile almost to the Great Northern tracks. What would have happened in a real flood season is not hard to realize. The old channel of the Elk is being gradually filled up with gravel and unless the city takes some action to reopen it the situation will be a serious one.

This season there is at least six or eight feet more snow in the mountains than for many years and sudden hot weather would create a flood without a question of a doubt. We suggest that the city council have a competent engineer make a study of the river conditions for a mile or so north of the town and report on the matter at once. A month from now may be too late.

GOLF CLUB MATTERS

The executive committee of the Golf Club has decided to start a mixed fousome for every Wednesday, and it is hoped that all members will enter these competitions.

A number of the golfers can get down to the golf course on Wednesday afternoons at 2.30 and there are a number who will not be able to play before 4.30, and the committee is arranging that these different parties will be accommodated as to time.

It is practically impossible for the committee to see each member every two weeks to ascertain if they will play, and it has been found that by calling for entries that very few enter, consequently all members will be drawn and it is hoped that everyone will use his or her best endeavor to be down on the course and be prepared to play at the hour mentioned.

The draw for next Wednesday will be placed in the store windows of the Trites-Wood Co., and also on the board at the Club.

Should it be utterly impossible for a member to play as drawn, it is hoped that he or she will immediately call up Sherwood Herchmer or the Secretary so that other arrangements can be made.

Some golfers are somewhat backward about going into these competitions as they are only beginning, but they should enter as the competitions are primarily being gotten up for their benefit.

Mr. Smith, the instructor, intends to devote Monday, April 27, to the mending and fixing of golf clubs and any member who has any club requiring attention may leave them at the Club House or with Mr. Smith. It is recommended that a tag be attached to the club with the owner's name.

HIGH COST OF GOVERNMENT

The Rotary Club listened with keen attention on Monday last to an address delivered by Dr. E. Gee on the timely subject, "The High Cost of Government.' He said in part:

In the early French and British regime the revenues of Canada consisting of Seignorial dues and proceeds from the sale of Government timber and land were reserved to the crown, while the rights of levying taxes and of regulating the trade and commerce of the colony was after 1763 vested in the British Parliament. By the Quebec Act of 1774 certain duties on spirits and molasses were imposed to be expended by the crown in order to provide a revenue toward the expenses of the administration of justice and the support of the civil government of the province. Then in 1778 the British Government by the Declaratory Act renounced forever the right of taxing the colonies to provide for the regulation of Imperial revenue, but maintained its claim to impose duties considered necessary for the regulation of trade, the proceeds to go toward defraying the expenditures of the colonial administration. After the Constitutional Act of 1791, the customs duties remained under the control of the Imperial Government, their revenue as well as territorial revenue coming to the executive administration independently of the Legislative Assembly, and thus making the executive power largely independent of the Legislature. As time went on, however, the Crown revenues became more and more inadequate to meet the increasing expenditure, while the wave of economy, after 1815, in Great Britain, made it impossible any longer to supplement these revenues from military sources. The power o fthe purse thus began to pass into the hands of the Legislatures, and in 1831 the British Parliament passed an act placing the customs duties at the disposal of the legislatures.

Under the Act of Union a consolidated revenue fund was established. All appropriation bills were required to originate in the Legislative Assembly, which was forbidden to pass any vote involving the expenditure of public money unless the same had been recommended by a written message of the Governor General.

At the interprovincial conference which took place prior to Confederation, it was decided that the new Dominion Povernment, which was to take over permanently as its chief source of revenue, the customs and excise duties, that had yielded the greater part of revenues of the separate provinces, was also to assume provincial debts, and to provide out of Dominion Revenues definite cash subsidies for the support of the provincial governments. Until the great war which madeother taxes necessary, the customs and excise revenue constituted the chief resources of the Dominion Government for general purpose—the post office and railway receipts which properly speaking, are not taxes at all, being mainly absorbed by the expenses of administration. Indeed, for many years prior to the war,customs and excise duties, together with the revenue secured by the head tax on Chinese immigrants, were the only items of receipts which were classified by the Department of Finance as taxes. In the last fiscal year of grace these two items totalled $125 million, out of total receipts of $160 million. As both custom and excise taxes were indirect, the Average Canadian felt but little the pressure of taxation for Federal purposes.

The war enormously increased the expenditure and this increase had in the main to be be met by loans. This meant increased taxation to meet interest charges and to provide a sinking fund for their ultimate extinction.

In 1915 this war taxation was begun in Canada within the first few weeks of the war, when in August, 1914, increases were made on excise duties on various commodities such as coffee, sugar, liquors and tobacco.

New internal taxes were also imposed on bank circulation, income of trust and loan companies, certain forms of insurance, telegrams, railway tickets, checks, postal notes, letters and post cards.

In 1917 the income tax was imposed, and in 1918 was increased, and again in 1920. In that year, too, the sales tax was introduced, which according to business men was the most objectionable and unfair tax we have. This was increased in 1921

ELKS' SECOND ANNUAL BALL

Fernie Elks will celebrate their second annual ball in Victoria Hall on June 2nd. The dance commitee are busy making final arrangements and promise to put on one of the most brilliant affairs of the season.

In June the roads are usually good which will give the out-of-town Elks and their many friends a chance to drive in from distant points.

Notices will appear from time to time in the personal column keeping you informed on the coming event.

HENDERSON ON THE JOB

Toronto, April 21.—The Globe today publishes the following:

"Toronto depositors of the Home Bank are watching for the close of the budget debate in Ottawa, when action is expected to follow immediately on the legislation to reimburse the depositors in the Home Bank. W. T. Lee, chairman, and Mayor Henderson, of Fernie, B.C., are continuously in Ottawa, guarding the interests of the depositors.

"A member of the committee who had been in Ottawa on private business said he had interviewed a couple of senators, and they had expressed resentment over a speech delivered here by a law partner of one of the executive. The speech strongly criticized the senate. This member of the committee said he also regretted to see members of the executive taking part in political meetings in Toronto, which had a tendency to make reimbursement more or less of a political matter."

PASS MINES ALL WORKING

Blairmore, April 21.—Between 8 and 9 thousand tons of coal is being mined daily now in the mines in the Crow's Nest Pass. The two mines at Coleman, the mines at Blairmore and at Bellevue, are rapidly getting in stride. The output there is 5500 to 6,000 tons. At Fernie mines the daily output is about 3500 tons a day.

There is no change in the situation at the Hillcrest mine. This is the only mine in the Crow's Nest Pass that is not working.

Robert Livett, special representative of the U.M.W. of A., who returned to Calgary on Tuesday from the Crow's Nest Pass, stated that the output of coal mentioned in the foregoing dispatch would be approximately correct. The men were still idle at the Hillcrest colleries. The reason for this he said, was that the operators there wanted a different contract to that which was now in operation to the other mines.

William Sherman, president of the U.M.W. of A. and Robert Peacock, the secretary-treasurer, he said were now in the Crow's Nest District. William Ryan, the vice-president, and R. McDonald, the international board member, were now in the north.—Calgary Herald.

The latest from Hillcrest is that 60 men are now working.

"YOU AND I."

"You and I," the spring play of the University of B.C., will be presented in the Grand Theatre on May 26 under the auspices of Mt. Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E. This is the 10th annual performance of the Players Club and this year they are playing in more places than ever before. "You and I" won the $500 prize at Harvard University and is considered the best piece of play writing ever entered into competition, a competition extending over ten years. It was produced in New York and ran for six months at the Belmont Theatre.

The Players Club are to be congratulated on being able to procure the western rights of this great comedy, and the people of Fernie will appreciate this play. Played to capacity houses in New York city with H. B. Warneras the leading player.

The play is staged under the direction of F. G. C. Wood, assistant Professor of English.

The first beer license to be suspended in the province was that of our old townsman, Con. Whelan, who runs the Travellers' Hotel in Vancouver. The suspension is only for sixty days. Con. is appealing to Mr. Hugh Davidson to rescind the suspension. He claims no knowledge of an infraction of the law, unless it was the recent arrest of a man in the wash room with a bottle of whiskey. Mr. Davidson says infractions will be drastically dealt with.

and in 1922, but in 1924 was slightly decreased.

The result of these war taxes was that in the fiscal year ending March 1921 customs duties were for the first time displaced from their position as chief factor of Canadian revenue; war taxes yielding $170 million, customs $160 million. From the war taxes in 1922—income tax totalled $78 million—in 1923, $59 million and $52 million in 1924.

These figures are very significant and prove either that the taxpayer—averagae Canadian—is becoming moer expert in doging the tax collector, or that he is actually making less through being taxed to death

From an examination of the Government statistics we find that the big decrease in revenue from the income tax during the current three years is on the large incomes—bearing out President Coolidge's assertion that when the tax rate is too high large incomes disappear, leaving all the burden of taxation on the wage earners and people of small allowance.

Now the question arises—is it necessary to raise such enormous loans from taxation? What are other countries doing in that regard?

In the United States a surplus of $372 is expected for the fiscal year 1926, the Coolidge administration dedicating itself to the task of decreasing federal expenditure and reducing taxation each year. President Coolidge's policy in the civil service is one of getting more work done with fewer employees. The result of this and other economies is that federal taxation in the United States to-day is $25 per head per annum compared with $45 in Canada. President Coolidge recently said: "We cannot finance the country, we cannot improve social conditions, through any system of injustice, even if we attempt to inflict it upon the rich. Those who suffer the most harm will be the poor. The wise and correct course to follow in taxation and all other economic legislation is not to destroy those who have already secured success, but to create conditions under which every one will have a better chance to be successful."

Aggressive young men are leaving the country by the thousands for the United States because governmental policy over there advertises to our people that it is pre-eminently the land of opportunity. Before we can obtain any results from any immigration policy we must find a means of keeping our own citizens at home, and that only can be done by lessening taxation, thereby reducing the whole cost of living.

For in addition to the direct taxation payable to the Federal Government, the Provincial and Municipal Governments, we pay out a considerable portion of every dollar we spend in indirect taxes through the operation of the sales tax, business profit tax ,etc.

The Vice President of the Vancouver Board of Trade pointed out recently that taxes in Canada take one-seventh of the gross production of Canada, and about one-fourth of the annual net production.

It means that out of every dollar's worth of goods produced in Canada our various taxing authorities take 25 cents, and as long as the cost of living and taxation is lower in the United States, there will be a big movement in that direction.

A comparison between the federal income tax in Canada and the United States reveals these differences on a net income:

On a net income of:
$3000 U.S.	$ 7.50
Canadian Tax	$40.00
$4000 U.S.	$22.50
Canadian Tax	$80.00
$5000 U.S.	$ 37.50
Canadian Tax	$126.00
$10,000 U.S.	$207.50
Canadian Tax	$619.00
$20,000 U.S.	$1017.50
Canadian Tax	$2089.50

In other words a man in the United States pays less federal taxes on $5,000 income than a man in Canada pays on $3,000.

In 1922-23, Canada with a population of under nine million paid in taxes, Federal, Provincial and Municipal, $561 million. This total was 19 per cent. of the year's total net production of all Canadian industries, including mining, fishing and agriculture. It was almost half of the agricultural production and exceeded the combined gross production of forests and mines. It was 50 per cent of the net manufactured products that year.

In our own Province in 1923 the per capita taxation for federal purposes was $38.22, for municipal $7.30, and for provincial $15.06 or a total of $80.00.

Comparing the per capita taxation by provinces for municipal purposes we find that B.C. shows up favorably with the other western provinces, with a per capita expenditure of $27.30, as against Alberta's $23, Sasketchewan's $30 and Manitoba's $28.

But comparing per capita taxation for provincial purposes we find our province makes a very poor showing.

Per capita taxation for provincial needs in 1923 were as follows:

Prince Edward Island	$ 3.70
Nova Scotia	2.79
New Brunswick	3.03
Quebec	2.97
Ontario	5.80
Manitoba	6.55
Alberta	6.31
British Columbia	15.06

In other words, the per capita taxation for B. C. for provincial purposes was equal to and greater than the combined per capita taxation of the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario.

Coming right home to Fernie the percentage of government cost to us would work out as follows: Municipal $41, Provincial $33.24, federal $46.96. A total of $121.19

Let us see where the cost of government could be reduced. Economies in municipal government, at least as far as Fernie is concerned are being well taken care of and no comment here is necessary.

The cost of provincial government itself would would take sufficient time for a talk, but a consideration of the revenue and expenditure of Dominion Government for the last fiscal year might prove of interest. The average statement of the country's finances is usually so cluttered up with political expediences as to make it unintelligible to the average citizen. A simple statment of revenue and expenditure for the last fiscal year was recently drawn up by Mr. Herbert Marler, K.C., M.P., who has made a close analytical study of Canada's finances.

Revenue
Ordinary sources	$165,345,546
War Taxes	204,862,739

	$310,194,598

*Excludes railway expenditure — 1924 deficit $54,000,000.

Our net national debt as per statment issued by the Government now stands at $2,417 million.

These, however, unfortunately, are partisan figures, without any reflection on the government in power.

The trouble with our financial statements, however, is that from early days they have been prepared from a partisan standpoint; more election is in sight. Experience has particularly is this true when an shown that almost every Canadian Government thinks it a duty to itself to show how light the country's burdens are, rather than to disclose the facts. The motive of course is apparent, but the truth of the matter is that the Canadian Government does not face the debt question like either the British or American Govments. In this country we talk about the net debt. The gross or interest bearing debt is ignored. Debt statements issued by the United States Government always relate to the gross or interest bearing debt. Today it is given as slightly under $22,000 million. Figured out on the basis that is so popular to our politicians, allowance would be made for interest bearing assets that would reduce it to the net figure of $17,000 million. But apparently Uncle Sam des not delude himself that way for he does not even make a deduction for the debt due by Britain—yet we scrape together a few paltry dollars due from Romania and Greece and include them in our statment of assets. But with the Americans the debt is reduced only as it is paid off.. Now the same is true of the British Government's treatment of its debt. The British have had such long experience in finance that they consider it good policy to look their full commitments full in the face.

Undoubtedly it would be better policy for the government to include guaranteed railway bonds in its debt statment. The total of these securities is $525 million. Then there is another $85 million of bonds guaranteed by the provinces, on which the Dominion also comes through.

There is also another $268 million of unguaranteed securities, which, however, are a stronger moral obligation than the home bank depositors' claims.

In other words the total of these railway bonds for which the Government is legally and morally responsible amounts to $875 million. Add this amount to the net debt and the total interest bearing debt is considerably over $3,000 million.

Now taking our total interest bearing debt as over $3,000 million we find that it is made up as follows:

Capital cost of war to date	$2000 m
Railway indebtedness	875 m
Total	$3,240 m

The question that now arises is how we can actually have our federal revenue exceed our total expenditure, so that a certain amount of the national debt could be liquidated each year.

This is a much bigger problem than at first appears, and it is obvious that revenue produced from customs and taxation cannot be increased, since it is now so high that it is producing the opposite effect. Many financers believe that by lowering taxation, business would expand and a greater revenue would accrue to the government. It is apparent, however that the C.N.R. is preventing us from reaching our goal, and already President Beatty, of the C. P.R., and Sir Henry Thornton are taking steps to eliminate duplication of services. There is litle doubt however, that the experience of other governments in operating railways should indicate that the Dominion would be well advised to dispose of the C.N.R. as soon as it can do so without too great a loss.

Other remedies that have been suggested by public men in Canada from time to time include the following (they may or may not have merit):

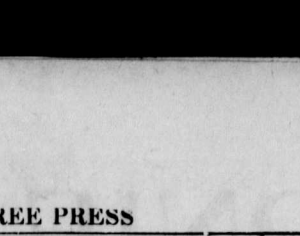
1. Saving of one million a year by reducing the sessional indemnity of members to pre war level.

2. Merging of the provinces was suggested by a member in the House a few days ago, as follows, three maritime provinces, Ontario and Quebec, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, four provinces.

3. Issuing of serial bonds when government financing has to be done—that is a certain number of bonds maturing each year with a sinking fund to take care of them.

4. When so much agitation is abroad for the reform or even the abolition of our Senate, it might be pointed out that it saved the country millions of dollars last year by vetoing bills authorized by the House for railway construction.

5. The example of the Montreal Board of Trade protesting in the interests of economy against the government proceeding with a fifteen million dollar bridge over the St. Lawrence to connect the city with the south shore, might well be followed by other constituencies.



Sir Herbert Holt's annual address before the directors of the Royal Bank contained a few sentences on taxation and cost of government, which sum it all up nicely. He said: "Foremost among problems is our taxation. I am going to pass this question over to-day with a few conventional remarks on the necessity of reducing our tax burden, because the situation, to my mind, is very serious indeed. We have in Canada a frame work of railroads and cities and municipalities, a country-wide organization which must be supported by more people and greater activity in industry if failure is to be avoided. Our policy should be to encourage development and to make Canada an attractive place to live and do business in, yet, in fact, we are allowing ourselves year by year to sink into a less and less favorable position, as compared with other countries, notably our neighbors to the south. While Great Britaim and the United States are steadlly reducing taxation, Canada makes no progress, continues to spend too much money and struggles under a burden of Federal, provincial and municipal taxes of all kinds. I am aware that the receipts of the Federal Governmnt are now barely sufficent to cover current expenditures, but that does not mean that nothing can be done. The Geddes committee in Gt. Britaain instituted drastic economies, while the budget system installed in the United States by General Dawes has literally cut Federal expenditure in half in the course of three years and reduced their debt by over five thousand million, and this in a country where the necessity for economy is far less pressing than in Canada recommend in this country the establishment of a Central Budget bureau similar to that in the United States, directed by an efficient and non-partisan officer who would understand that so long as many of our citizens and companies are struggling to make both ends meet, public funds must be spent on bare necessities alone.. I must repeat that we are drifting into a very serious situation, and that unless economy soon becomes a fact rather than a vague promise, the damage to the country will be almost irreparable.

The effect of the Sales Tax on the cost of living of the people is such that a reduction in the rate is very desirable. The bad effect of high income taxes must also be given proper consideration.

Let me emphasize here that it is not the wealthy that are the greatest sufferers from high surtaxes, but the rank and file of the people who find it difficult to secure employment when industry is stagnating, and those who should be investing their money in new entrprises find no incentive to do so. Such a situation can only end in capital leaving Canada to find employment in the United States or elsewhere. In my opinion not only should the taxes referred to be reduced, but a way should be found by all public authorities to lower the taxes of all kinds which are handicapping business. We cannot afford to delay action in this matter."

INTERNATIONAL CO-OPERATION IN OIL

Springfield Republican: (Doheny has sold out his oil properties in Mexico and South America.) The most interesting phase of this transaction in oil is international. British oil interests are represented in the syndicate that bought out Doheny. No secret is made of the fact that the British interests are those of the British-Mexican Petroleum Co., Ltd., of which Lord Inverforth is the directing mind. His inclusion in an American group taking over the Doheny Latin-American oil properties, has a special bearing on the rivalry between the United States and Great Britain for control of the oil resources of the world. It means that, to some extent at least, co-operation has taken the place of competition beween American and British interests.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head

DO WOMEN TEACHERS SMOKE?

Toronto, April 17.—Flappers and women of the "idle rich" are not the only classes of female who smoke. Women teachers are at it and in public too. So declared Miss Susan Lawrence, of London, Ontario, acting president of the elmentary section of the Ontario Educational association which has just concluded its annual convention in this city. "To-day to be smart, some women, bobbed or shingled, consider it necessary to smoke cigarettes," she said. "You may think that this does not apply to teachers, but there are women teachers who have not only smoked, but have done it in public." The alfresco toilet performance by the modern girl has also found its place in the curriculum of the women school teachers, she said.

Genius goes for years unrecognized, but the easy mark is soon spotted.

SUASION WITH TRUNK STRAP

The good old-fashioned lickin' of our forefathers has, of course, not entirely died out in the land. Here and there a subdued young man may still be observed returning meditatively from the woodshed. Here and there a tempestuous female child still experiences the soothing ffect on complexes wrought by a little switch on fat ankles. Nevertheless it dos seem to be more agreed that corporal punishment no longer takes the prominent place it once held in the home as a leading indoor sport. From the vague theory that "lickin" makes 'em tougher, modern practice seems to have advanced to all sorts of ideas tending to let young wills "express" themselves.

That there still remains a strong conservative sentiment in favor of the hand that does not spare the rod is obvious. The stern satisfaction with which a public licking of a public nuisance is ocassionally viewed proves this. Here is a case in point which we take from the Pittsburg Chronicle Telegram :

"In Philadelphia, the other day, a 15-year-old boy arrested for repeated theft was taken to the cellar of the Juvenile Court building by his father, at the direction of Judge Raymond Macneille, and given a vigorous old-fashioned thrashing with a strap, while his howls reverberated through the building. The boy had been sentenced to the Huntingdon Reformatory but on the plea of the youth's father, the court relented and imposed a flogging sentence, ordering that the youngster be thrashed until the court could see the marks.

"This may sound like harsh treatment for the lad, whom the court denounced as a 'dressed up dude with a yellow streak.' But here was a youth who had been repeatedly arrested for taking what did not belong to him. While information concerning all that happened in the court room is lacking, no doubt the court was impressed with the thought that the parents were entirely too indulgent with their son, and did not exercise proper control. The father having pleaded with the court to give the boy one more chance, it is evident that the jurist concluded that if the father would take his son in hand and administer punishment he would remember, it might redound to his everlasting benefie. In any event, the instance brings up the question as to whether parents nowadays exercise sufficient control over their children. Probably too many parents do err on the side of leniency. Discipline, as one of the rising generation says, is 'going out. It is time it were restored, even the heroic measures are nescesssary."

"Spank 'em in moderation," is the advice of Dr. Rudolph M. Binder, professor of Sociology in New York University, on the proper raising of children. As we quote him from the New York Herald Tribune, he says, "spanking is a natural physical cure for the tense nervous cause and reaction of misbehavior." Too many mental instructions are a refined form of cruelty, often resulting in lasting resentment. But children who are taught to accept a spanking naturally "are more ready to resume good relations with their parents."

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 4

The Two Types of Tea

There are two distinct types of tea, namely Black Tea and Green Tea. Both are made from the same bush and both are equally pure. The difference is in the process of manufacture which gives each a different flavour. Black Tea after it is plucked is withered and partially 'fired' or dried, then allowed to oxidize by being exposed to the air. This gives Black Tea its dark reddish colour when drawn. Green tea is immediately steamed after plucking, which prevents oxidization. There are delicious blends of "SALADA" in both of these types and also a unique blend of Black and Green Tea Mixed. All are sold in four qualities.

"SALADA"

Most headaches due to lack of internal cleanliness

WHEN you are constipated, poisons form in the accumulated food waste and are carried to all parts of the body. Headaches follow. Biliousness, insomnia, lack of energy, all result from constipation, which if unchecked will lead to serious results.

Avoid Laxatives—Say Doctors

A noted authority says that laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition.

Medical science has found in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative, and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

EDITORIAL ECHOES

We used to think that a man was selfish who would pass a fellow on the road with an empty car and let him keep on walking, but have decided here of late that he is a wise man rather than a selfish man. When the crooks have all the guns and the honest folks have none, then he will be still wiser. It seems that our folks want to make the roads safe for the bandit and extremely dangerous for the citizen. Any crook can stop your car on the pretence that he is an officer and you can't have a gun and the danger is great. It is time to put a muzzle of the heaviest kind on fanatics.

The time for you to swat the fly is now. A little cleaning at this season will do much to prevent a plentiful supply of flies a little later.

Eradicating possible breeding places for flies now will be much easier than to kill the crop when it appears a few weeks hence. To that end all rubbish piles or other attractive spots for fly culture should be destroyed or removed at this time.

A swat at the fly now means a whole lot towards his control at the height of his season. Stopping the fly before he gets started is a good method to pursue in handling him. A sharp offensive against him is the best defense against him.

Destroy his potential breeding places now and insure against his flourish a little later. Look about your premises and see what you can do to stop him before he gets the jump on you.

HOME BANK PROSPECTS

Ottawa, April 21.—Those in charge of the liquidation of the Home Bank have reported here that there is little prospect of more than five or ten per cent. additional being salvaged from the assets. Even this is contingent upon the favorable issue of suits at law now in progress and other things whose result cannot with accuracy be forecast. Already there has been one dividend of 25 per cent.

The principle of government assistance has been settled, but pending this report of the liquidator as to the assets, there has been no decision as to the amount of it. Depositors want 60 cents on the dollar, which with what they had before would make 85 per cent.

They would take a chance on the remaining 15 cents. If more were secured it would be returned to the government.

The general belief is that the government measure of relief will not exceed fifty cents on the dollar and the legislation is expected soon after the blockade which the budget creates is out of the way.

ELKO NOTES

The Sunbeams held a delightful tea at the home of Mrs. F. H. Ingham on Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 6. Mrs. Ingham received the guests in a beautiful gown of black silk canton with touches of real lace and beads. Mrs. Stanley Todhunter poured tea. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with house plants and cutflowers. Olive Wood and Inez Brewer answered the door, and Eileen Wilkinson, Isobel Duncan, Agnes McKay, Florence Sheridan, Julia Winsor and Verna Thompson assisted in serving. The children are indebted to Mrs.Ingham for her kindnnss in giving them the use of her home.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE TENNIS CLUB

The annual meeting of the Fernie Tennis Club was held in he city hall on Monday, April 20, at 8 p.m.

Quite a number of enthusiasts turned out and with a view to enlarging the club and in order to accommodate more players, it was decided that two courts should be used. It was also felt that everyone should be encouraged to play, and as the fees are not high for ladies, gentlemen or High School children, it is hoped that a good many will join.

Work is being started on the courts immediately and they will be ready to play on within a very short time.

Any information may be had from the following: J. Chell, Geo. Auld, Harold Cann and C. Hunsley.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

J. Warren Kerrigan, who has the role of Captain Blood in Rafael Sabatini's famous novel of the same name, which will be the attraction at the Orpheum theatre next Monday and Tuesday, has lost his beautiful curly locks and joined the Shaved Headed Men's Club. For several years Kerrigan's hair has been admired by the fair sex and it was with regret that he allowed Director David Smith to shave his pate for the production.

Kerrigan is a true artist and willing to go to great personal sacrifice for art's sake. In several sequences he even allows his beard to grow and his hair to become unkempt. In others he appears without a visible hair on his head, save his eyebrows, lashes and goatee. During the major portion of the production, however, his head is graced with a curly wig hanging over his shoulders.

The story is set in the period of 1685 when men wore wigs, the custom originating in France in the 14th century when an elaborate curled wig graced the head of Louis XIII to cover baldness. It was adopted as a distinctive figure of court dress by Louis XIV and was introduced in England under Charles II. Wigs are still used in Great Britain as part of the official regalia of the Lord Chancellor and of the speaker and clerks of the House of Commons. It is the professional dress of judges and barristers in Great Britain and Ireland. The judge's wig gives to his decisions a weight and sacredness they would not have were he bareheaded.

Mrs. R. Robertson is visiting with friends in Calgary.

W. R. Wilson left on Wednesday morning on a business trip to the coast.

Mrs. Pitts, of Invermere, is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Owen.

Mrs. G. G. Moffatt returned home from Vancouver this week, where she has been visiting her brother, who has been seriously ill.

It is expected that the Fernie Hospital will re-open in a few days. The building has been thoroughly overhauled and put in good shape.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin returned on Saturday from Penticton, where Mr. Martin attended a meeting of the B.C. Teachers' Association.

There will be a special meeting of the Ladies Aid of the United Church on Sunday next after the close of the evening service.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cummings returned on Saturday from Rochester, Minn., where Mrs. Cummings underwent a serious operation at the Mayo institution.

Don't forget the whist drive and dance at the Catholic Hall, Friday, April 24. Cards from 8 to 10.30. Dancing 11 to 1. Refreshments. Admission 50c.

The opening game of football will be played on Sunday next, April 26, starting at 3 p.m., between Coal Creek and Michel, on the Coal Creek grounds.

Drs. Bonnell and Asselstine are moving their offices on May 1 from the Nurses' Home to the Harper Block on Victoria Avenue, next building to the King Edward Hotel.

Don't make a date for Tuesday evening, May 26, as you are going to the play "You and I" in the Grand Theatre under the auspices of Mount Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E.

The Spring Assize Court will open in Fernie on May 19. There are no criminal cases on the docket. In fact there has not been a criminal assize case in Fernie for many years. There is at present one civil action and two divorce cases to come before His Lordship.

A. Rizzuto returned on Tuesday from Phillipsburg, Mont., where he is interested in a valuable mining property. The company have had a large force of men at work prospecting all winter and last week succeeded in locating a valuable showing. It is a silver, gold and copper proposition and on a 30-foot seam averages $15 to the ton. Al. is feeling very jubilant.

The residence of Dr. Pickering was pilfered on Saturday afternoon and a purse with some money was stolen. Two days later Chief Anderson discovered the culprit while investigating a charge of pocket picking laid by Wm. Dickenson. The guilty party was a young lad from the Annex. The case did not come before the magistrate but the Chief will keep an eye on the boy in future.

The secretary of the Michel FootballClub wants to know what Fernie and Coal Creek are doing about football for this season. Michel team is the holder of five cups, viz., the League, Graham, Mutz, Liphardt and Cowley, and is quite prepared to defend them against all comers. He says the Michel boys crave action, and they would like to see some move being made by the two clubs at this end of the line. We understand our boys are lining up here and Michel may get all the action it wants.

Speaking of Home Bank affairs, the Calgary Herald says: If the Dominion government does not come to the aid of depositors in the Home Bank affair they will fare badly. Five or ten per cent additional is all that is in prospect and that is contingent upon the outcome of lawsuits. It looks as if it were up to the government.

A lot of prairie people laugh at Rainmaker Hatfield, but he seems to make a nice living just the same. On Friday last he drew his second $8000 for rainmaking operations in Southern California. He filled his contract and collected his money as he did a year ago when he broke a drought in the same region. He must have the goods or else he is pretty lucky, as he nearly always gets the money.

The current week—known as "Save the Forest Week"—has been well observed throughout the Fernie district. Fernie spellbinders visited nearly all the schools and addressed the children on the subject of "Forest Fires." S. Herchmer spoke in four Fernie schools; Harry Douglas in the schools at Cokato and Morrissey; R. Phillips at Coal Creek; A. I. Fisher at Michel and Natal; and Fred Regger, of Corbin, at Corbin. Geo. Schupe, provincial forest ranger, visited all the other schools.

The Fernie Players take this means of publicly thanking all friends who so freely contributed to the success of "Come Out of the Kitchen" staged last week. Special thanks are due to Mrs. J. D. Quail and the Crow's Nest Trading Co. for furniture and props; Joe Longdon for the spendid electrical effects; Wm. Hunter and staff for their unfailing courtesy; Colin Commons and associates, who provided such delightful music; and officials of the M.F. & M. Railway, through whose kindness in re-arranging the train schedule, large numbers from Coal Creek were enabled to attend. The efforts of the ushers, stage hands and the many others who assisted in various ways also are highly appreciated, while the Club feel deeply indebted to the public of Coal Creek, Fernie and surrounding district for their unstinted patronage.

NOTHING BUT WORDS, WORDS

For weeks in the Federal Parliament debate on the budget has been progressing and no one seems to know just when it is likely to end. Usually there is a debate almost as tedious on motion for the adoption of the speech from the throne. Fortunately this session the throne speech talkfest was brief ; had it been as long as is customary the budget debate might be only now starting. Canada's legislators at Ottawa have been in session since Feb. 5th—two and a half months—and thus far little in the way of serious and important legislation has been undertaken. It seems that all important business must wait the convenience of members who desire to play politics and have themselves recorded in Hansard.

Just now at the capital they are talking of revising house rules to have a time limit set upon his freedom of speech in the house. Something of the sort seems to be necessary, particularly in these days of numerous parliamentary groups, each one desiring to be represented in the records. However, it is doubtful if anything will rsult from the revision talk. Every year or two we hear talk on the subject of speech limitation at Ottawa, but nothing ever happens except more and longer speeches.

The idea of limiting the length of speeches in debates, except in the cases of leaders or ministers, may be well intentioned but is likely to meet with serious opposition. It draws distinctions which may be resented by the rank and file. There is another way out, but probably the rank and file would object as strenuously if it were suggested. During the progress of the debates referred to above it is customary for members to maintain little more than a mere quorum in the chamber. A quorum in our federal parliament is a ridiculously small number—somewhere in the twenties. Now if the house rules were amended so as to require attendance of members of parliament in the chamber, the talk evil might be cured. Even the fellows who are anxious to talk would not be so anxious if they knew they would have to sit out the speeches of the other fellows.—Calgary Herald.

Hugh Keenleyside, a University of British Columbia graduate in arts '20, has been appointed research secretary of the American National Council for the Preservation of World Peace. Mr. Keenleyside specialized at the B.C. University and then held fellowships in several other eastern universities, being professor of modern history for two years at the University of Syracuse. His duties will involve search into subjects as to the origin of wars, the revelopment of international arbitration and international law. His headquarters will be in Washington, D.C.

THE WORLD IMPROVING

London, April 20.—Emma Goldman, the one-time anarchist, deported from the United States in1919 told a London audience last night that the report of the British trade unionists who recently visited Russia was "from beginning to end a travesty of the actual truth."

This report of a delegation to the British Trade Union Congress placed the situation in Russia in a most favorable light with reference to public health, housing and the prison system and declared that the Soviet government was achieving remarkable results.

Emma Goldman declared that the Soviet government had used every effort to hypnotize the delegates and make them take "stage mummery for reality," from the very moment of their arrival. "No one," she asserted, "who went to Russia as an official guest was able to meet the Russian people or even remotely see what was happening to them.

VANCOUVER CAUGHT NAPPING

This tremendous smallpox quarantine fiasco, from which Vancouver is just now painfully extricating herself, must never be allowed to occur again.

While actual conditions in this city never warrnted the stringent quarantine, the embarrasing and annoying incident should serve to call the attention of the city, and indeed the whole Dominion to the continual danger that lies in lax health regulations.

Canadian health laws are no less thorough than those of the United States. Yet this ridiculous quarantine can only be laid to the failure of health authorities to rigidly enforce these laws.

If a law exists to deal with smallpox cases and to prevent the spreading of smallpox, it should be within the power of the health officer to enforce that law without submitting the matter to a dozen council meetings or waiting for authority from Victoria.

The truth is that, in this quarantine affair, Vancouver was caught napping. It must not happen again. Vancouver Sun.

STANDARD OF TEACHERS

Included in the variety of educational problems being discussed in Britain is that of obtaining a better grade of teachers than now prevails. This was the subject of discussion at a meeting of memebers of organizations affiliated with the Conference of Educational Associations. There was a relization at this gathering that there was room for hundreds more well trained teachers. Several teachers urged that the standard of qualification for admission to the teaching profession should be raised and the standard of remuneration raised in proportion. It was also urged that every teacher should go through university. Other suggestions centered on the taking out by each teacher of a secondary school course and one year of professional training.

Perhaps the most valuable contribution to the discussion was the emphasis laid on the need of personality in teachers. It was also pointed out that "narrow specialization" and the "fetish of the honors degree" were not leading to the development of the best character of teachers. In this connection it was urged that breadth of outlook, general culture and variety of interest were precious possessions as compared with highly refined scolarship in one or two subjects. It was held to be a weakness that men and women teachers could remain in the same school and even in the same classroom for all their teaching lives. This handicap, it was said, could be overcome by the transfer of teachers from one school to another and by arrangements whereby British teachers might have opportunities for travel and practice of their profession in the Overseas Dominions.

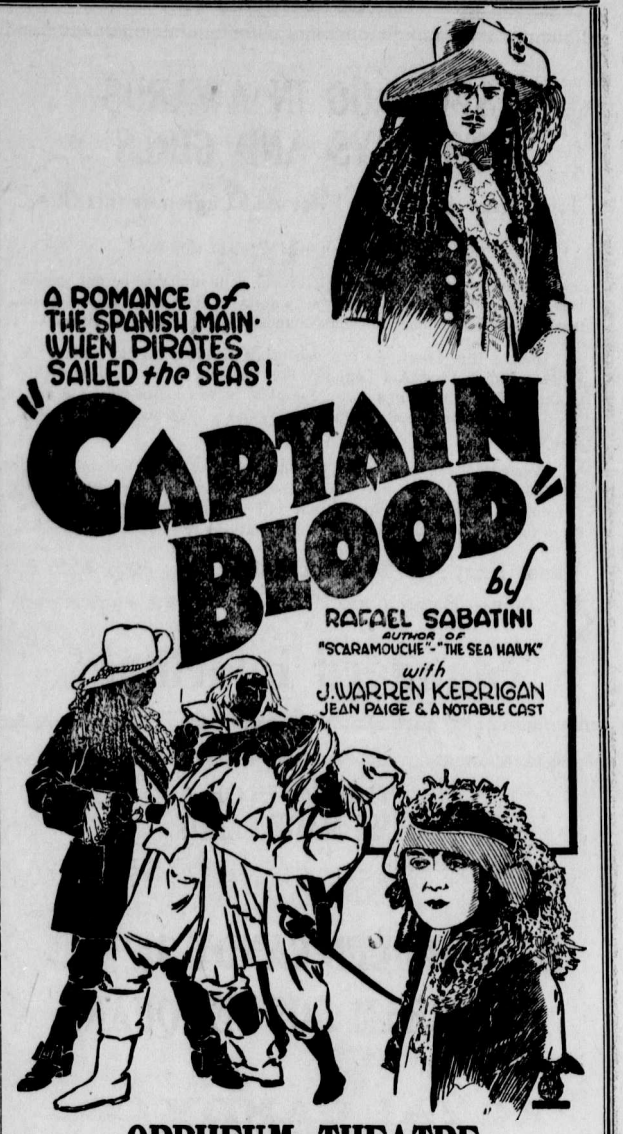
The whole question of developing a higher standard in the teaching profession is difficult where the problem of state education is involved. The rewards are now insufficient and since those rewards come out of the taxpayers' pockets there is the difficulty of persuading the mass of people that only by a greater expenditure in this direction can a higher standard of education be achieved. It is questionable how far such a standard might develop the masses. Perhaps the difficulty that seems to exist can be overcome by a reform in the educational system itself, by the diversion of moneys now expended on comparatively wasteful impedimenta into more useful channels. One aim should certainly be kept well to the fore, namely, that of raising the standard of the teachers because according as it is raised the better will be the results derived from state education.—Colonist.

WORK OF THE G.W.V.A.

After seven years the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada can look back with feelings of pride knowing that it has a record of work well done. So long as it continues to operate along the lines it has so followed, that work will go on and the value of it enhanced.. That is the reason that members of the organization throughout the Dominion will celebrate a notable anniversary on Wednesday—the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Great War Veterans' Association.

It has not been any easy road that the association has trod since its formation in 1918. Obstacles have been placed in its way from unexpected quarters. Yet the association has survived this and is stronger today than ever before..

There can be no question but that the association has kept faith.



The close and kindly ties of mutual service in the great war have been perpetuated by the establishment of nearly 900 branches in every centre of any consequence in all parts of the country.

Perhaps in the third object the G. W. V. A. has devoted more of its energy than to the others. Since the conclusion of the great conflict the care of the sick, wounded and needy among those who served, has been pressed unremittingly upon the legislators of the nation. To this association ex-service men and women of Canada owe, to a great extent, the re-establishment measures which have assisted them becoming placed again in civillian life. Provision has also been secured to take care of the widows and orphans.

There are few people in Canada who realize the extent to which the Great War Veterans' Association has carried out another of its objects. Loyalty to Canada and to the Empire has been the dominant note of all its undertakings.

The Great War Veterans' Association is approaching the eighth milestone of its progress ; but its work is by no means completed. So long as there are disabled veterans or dependents with claims upon this country, and so long as there are problems which vitally effect the interests of the country to be settled by popular mandate, an organization recruited from the manhood of Canada which went overseas when democracy was threatened, will have a role to play. All those familiar with the achievements of the association will sincerely hope and wish that it will celebrate many more anniversaries and that it will increase in strength and wisdom as time goes on. —Calgary Herald.

ONE SHOW EACH NIGHT—Starts 7.30.

Much of men's progress in life depends upon the impression they create. One of the easiest ways to make a pleasing impression is by being punctual. The slight effort necessary in arriving on time is soon forgotten and few things will assist as greatly in putting us in tune with our work and in causing the day to pass smoothly and pleasantly. Punctuality creates confidence, and causes others to feel that the one on time is trustworthy.

30 Miles to the Gallon

Startling good news to tens of thousands—the first announcements of the new good Maxwell's amazing results. Never since the Chrysler took the country by storm has the automobile industry known such whole-hearted response—such a dramatic and decisive triumph.

Not content with designing into this car power and pick-up equaled only in the higher priced fields, Chrysler engineering genius and fine manufacturing facilities enable the new good Maxwell owner to enjoy these performance advantages with unparalleled economy.

In almost sensationally low cost of operation and maintenance—as in speed and acceleration—this great car has written a wholly new page in motor car achievement, and in the accomplishment of the great organization which builds the Maxwell.

We await with eagerness your permission to prove in a demonstration drive that the new good Maxwell is the greatest value in the field of fours.

ONLY BUNCH OF FREEBOOTERS

Paris, April 20—Katherine Breshkovskaya, known throughout the world as the "grandmother of the Russian revolution," who spent 50 of her 82 years in Siberian prisons as a consequence of her work for the overthrow of the Czarist regime, regards the Soviet regime as the "greatest plague which has ever descended on Russia and the civilized world."

Freed from a lifetime of torture in the icy wastes by the advent of Kerensky, Madam Breshkovskaya, left Siberia in 1917 and went to the United States, landing at Seattle, and was acclaimed on her journey to New York by enthusiastic throngs, seeing in her the emboidment of real Russian freedom.

When she got back to Russia after her journey around the world, millions of peasants and workers hailed her as the incarnate spirit of liberty.

But her triumph was short-lived. With the arrival of Lenine and the signature of the Brest-Litovsky treaty her hopes fled once more, and once again she took the road to exile.

She is now living in Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, cheered only by infrequent visits from Kerensky, who is publishing a Russian language newspaper in Berlin. A friend of both of them told a United News correspondent that they regard the Soviet leaders are freebooters preying on the sympathy of the radicals all over the world.

"The fight between Trotzky and Zinovieff," she said, "is nothing but a dispute over spoils. They are fighting for the domination of Russia. Trotzky is a dictator by temperment. Zinovieff is a good fellow. He suffered many privations and is now intoxicated with what he believes to be liberty.

SEX BY CHOICE

Mrs. Monteith Erskine of London declares she has discovered the secret of sex determination before birth. She says that within five years all parents will be able to control the sex of their offspring. The choice of sex, she says, lies entirely with the woman. The man has nothing to do with it.

Very happily, Mrs. Erskine is probably all wrong.

Discoveries for the control of sex appear every year. Not one has yet proven sound.

And it is a good thing for the world they have not. Nature preserves a rough balance between the male and female on the earth.

If the choice lay with man that balance would be utterly destroyed. It would mean that instead of the population of the earth being divided into 60 per cent. girls and 40 per cent boys, it would become 10 per cent girls and 90 per cent. boys.

It is the natural inclination of humanity to produce sons. With few exceptions the girls are accidents. In Mrs. Erskine's discovery, in which the woman has sole control, that tendency would be emphasized. A full 99 per cent. of all women would infinitely rather produce boys than girls.

Nature's methods are sometimes crude. Sometimes they work hardships on individuals. But there are things that the Old Dame had better look after, herself, for a few thousand years yet.

Some men build their fortunes with gold bricks.

STABILIZE COAL MINING IN B.C.

For lack of orders, Vancouver Island coal mines are reducing the number of their shifts and generally cutting down operations, says a news despatch to Vancouver. High or fluctuating prices in any industry are due to the spurts and starts with which that industry works. And it is lack of stabilization of operations that is responsible for coal prices in British Columbia.

If these coal mines could work at one even pitch all the year around, coal users could obtain a low stabilized price. But that stablization of work and price can never be obtained without the co-operation of the Vancouver and British Columbia public. Ii will, perhaps, never be possible to persuade all householders to buy their winter coal while they are enjoying a balmy spring or sweletering in hot summer weather. It is not in the nature of things.

But it should be very possible for a good percentage of householders to put in their orders ahead for next winter's coal, delivery not necessarily immediate, so that local dealers could hand on the orders to the mining companies and so permit the latter to estimate the demand and partly supply it during the summer. A stabilized coal industry means minimum prices to the consumer.—Vancouver Sun.

INCREASE IN CANCER TOLL

Cancer is costing the American people 125,000 lives and an economic loss of 625 million dollars yearly, according to Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the institute of cancer research at Columbia University, in a report submitted to the Gorgas Memorial Institute of Tropical and Preventive Medicine.

Of this number Dr. Wood estimates that probably 15,000 could be prevented annually if cancers were treated by reputable physicians within a few weeks of formation.

"Everyone," according to Dr. Wood, "especially those more than forty years old, should keep watch for anything resembling a tumor, and if one is found a reputable physician should be consulted regarding its nature.

"It would appear that cancer is increasing each year, according to available statistics. The reason for such an apparent increase is, I believe because of the fact that the life span has been increased to fifty-eight years, and cancer is a disease of the middle or old age.

"Another reason is that in the past, before the dayas when thorough examinations were possible, hospitals were not equipped to detect obscure cases. This means simply that the more carefully we study cancer, the more better the equipment, the more cases competent the physicians and the of cancer are diagnosed.

"So far the only adequate treatment for cancer is surgery. X-rays and radium arrest growth and delay the progress of the disease, but eventualy it returns. In cases were sugery is applied at least a quarter fully recover.

"Cancer is not hereditary, nor is it contagious or communicable. Its chief cause is irritation.

Cancer remains one of our great medical mysteries. Men of science are not satisfied that it is merely irritation that causes cancer, so they are working to learn if it is irritation plus as yet undiscovered germs. Once scientists find the germ the way to cure and prevention is opened."

ATHEISM IS PASSING

A little healthy optimism makes a pleasant change from the lugubrious texts which are so common today. Bad as things are , they have been worse, and it is probably they will be tomorrow. That is the conclusion of Dr H. Tweedy, who mindful of the political corruption recently exposed, remembers there was a time when corrupt practicses were indulged in openly, when men bought not only kingdoms, but bishoprics, together with indulgences and wives. What is true of morals is also true of religion, writes Dr. Tweedy in an editorial in the Yale Divinity News. There is no blinking the fact that multitudes of our young people are growing up with no conscious intelligent religious training whatever, he admits. Many are frankly indifferent toward the church and claim to be uninterested in reglion. A few openly attack both the church and religion, "nor can one wonder," adds Dr. Tweedy, "when he takes into account the arranat nonsense talkek from certain pulpits and the mummied medievalism which now and then masquerades as the mind and message of Christ."

"But we have made tremendous advances beyond the time when a few priests could preach, when sermons were in Latin, which the common people could not understand, when men brawled around the communion table and flew falcons during the services, when prelates blessed daggers before a massacre, when a Spanish conqueror and loyal Catholic burned thirteen Italians in honor of Christ and the twelve apostles, and the Bishop of Dunkeld could exclaim merrily, 'I thank God I never knew what the Old and New Testament were!' Moreover, no one can sojourn long with college students to-day and not be convinced that when the religion of Jesus is fairly and effectively presented, this younger generation is intensely interested in it and attracted by it ; and when that generation has a chance to discuss religious problems fearlessly and frankly, it will sit up with any competent and inspiring leader far into the night. At heart the youth of to-day is not more irreligious than its forebears. It does not state its life in the language of the ancient creeds nor always find adequate expression for it in the ancient forms, and it ought not to ; but it is no foe to real religion and is hungry for the life which is life indeed."

Reports from professors and from students indicate, says Dr. Tweedy, that there is an encouraging and vital interest among a large body of men in such interpretations of Christianity as those given by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick and Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin. A hundred years ago and more atheism and agnosticism were rife in the colleges. Bishop Meade of Virginia is quoted as having said in 1811 that the College of William and Mary was a hotbed of infidelity, and that for many years he expected to find an infidel in every educated man. Certainly nothing like that is true of any college or any body of students to-day. Furthermore, Dr. Tweedy's impression is that there is more religious work done in and by our colleges, that Christianity is more strongly presented, and thata the response to it is in some respects more encouraging, than during his own college days. He goes on :

"Certainly the immense progress in religious education, that reformation in the Sunday School which is just beginning, marks an encouraging advance over the old-time Sunday School, which often merely indocterinated the child's mind with ideas which life later forced it to discard, and made it familiar with facts, real and supposed, which left it still far from the Kingdom of God. The special services when discussions of Christian fundamentals pack college chapels and halls, and fill parlors for open forums which close only with the warning bell ; the large and representative student gatherings, such as those which are held at Silver Bay, Blue Ridge, Estes Park, and in other parts of our country ; the Christian causes which are supported entirely by students ; the encouraging, even if inadequate, number—fewer from New England, to our shame be it confessed, than from the South and Middle West—who are going into Christian work—all this may well hearten the lovers of the church and the prophets of the Kingdom. For multitudes of our youth the Christian philosophy of life is rationally the most satisfactory, practically the most efficient, and esthetically the most beautiful. The mind of Jesus is recognized as the norm of righteousness, and heroic, adventurous, self-forgetful love is acclaimed a king. What is needed is more of the most highly trained religious leaders, men of prophetic passion and divine wisdom, personalities radiant in their power and compelling in their beauty, on college faculties as well as in pulpits, in which the youth of to-day may vision the incarnation of the gospel of the Kingdom.

"Meanwhile let all Christian workers thank God and take courage! In social, industrial, racial, and political ideals the world is moving, often at a snails pace, toward the mind of Jesus. To be sure there are plenty of conditions which must be changed. Sane criticism, and even drastic, is sorely needed. Such criticism, furthermore, should be welcomed and utilized, while our critics, social and religious, who have risked crucifixion, deserve not so much crosses as crowns.. But criticism should be followed by construction. If we must wail over the lamentable condition of Jerusalem, let's rebuild it. Whatever ought to be changed can be changed. What the age is calling for is men, who, with the ability and courage to criticize, have also the ability and courage to work.

Relic of Quebec's Fall to Return to Canada

According to press despatches from London, Lord Willingdon, 1st Viscount Ratton, who was scheduled to sail from Liverpool on April 9th by Canadian Pacific steamship "Montroyal" as special emissary from the Hastings Corporation to the Quebec City council, has postponed his visit for some time owing to the illness of Viscountess Willingdon.

His Lordship's official mission, which will be carried out when the Viscountess recovers, will be to return to the City of Quebec the shield which was taken from its gates when it was captured by General Wolfe in 1759 and which was presented to the Hasting's Corporation by General Murray who was present on that memorable occasion.

Since that time the shield has hung over the door of the Council Chamber in the Town Hall at Hastings and Quebec has endeavoured to obtain its return, for years in vain, but at last Hastings has relented.

Viscount Willingdon will be accompanied by his wife who before her marriage was the Hon. Marie Adelaide, daughter of 1st Baron Brassey, together with his son the Hon. Inigo Brassey Freeman-Thomas and his wife.

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church will hold a tea and sale of home cooking in the basement of the church on Saturday afternoon, May 16.

Mrs. Charles King, Sr., met with a bad accident one day early in the week. While housecleaning she slipped off a chair and fell, striking her head on a sharp corner, causing a nasty cut which necessitated several stitches.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gash, Sr., of Calgary, formerly of Fernie, are leaving in a few days for England on an extended visit. Mrs. Gash has been in poor health for a long time and it is thought the trip may benefit her health.

The Fernie Mercantile Co., a local organization, with which two well known Fernie citizens, Thos. Prentice and Guy Johnston, are identified, will open its doors in the Haddad building, opposite the King Edward Hotel, on or about the first day of May. The new firm will handle groceries exclusively. The store building has been thorouhly overhauled and painted and refitted with new fixtures.

Mrs. Ed. Gibson, who has been a resident of Fernie for over twenty years, passed away at her home on Cox street on Wednesday afternoon following an illness of nearly three years duration. She was 63 years of age, having been born at Parton, Cumberland, England, in 1862, and is survived by her husband and three sons. The funeral service will be held from Christ Church at 1.30 p.m. tomorrow, Saturday.

The installation of officers of the Loyal Order of Moose will take place on Monday next at 7.30 p.m. A social evening will be held after the ceremony. All members and their wives are requested to attend.

The funeral of the late John Hirst, whose demise we reported last week, will take place on Sunday uder the auspices of the G.W.V.A. Service will be held in Christ Church at 2 p.m. All Veterans and ladies of the Women's Auxiliary are requested to meet at the Vets Hall at 1.30 p.m.

Miss Isabel Morrison, from the Crescent Mapeline Factory, will demonstrate Mapleine in cake frosting, uncooked fudge and syrup on Saturday and Saturday evening at the Crow's Nest Trading Co. store. Tried recipes will be given away to everyone who calls at the demonstration.

The name of Miss McAllister was inadvertently omitted in our account of the play "Come Out of the Kitchen" last week. She delighted everyone in her part of Amanda. Miss McAllister made the Black Mammy a real one and gave quite a lot of color to the scene.

The Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. will shortly commence the erection of a large addition to the M.F. & M. machine shops. The new building will be of concrete with a steel roof, and will be 50 by 140 feet. A new addition is also being added to the shop at Michel but no tso large a one as that at Fernie.

Mrs. Nellie Meadows, wife of Jas. Meadows, of Fernie Annex, died suddenly at her home last Saturday morning from a severe attack of influenza. Mrs. Meadows was 45 years of age and has been a resident of this city for over four years. She is survived by her husband, one son and one daughter. The funeral services were held from Christ Church on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. H. U. Oswald officiating.

BURNING FATALITY

On Monday last a wire was received by Mr. and Mrs. R. Derbyshire conveying the information that their daughter Ethed was an inmate of the Cranbrook Hospital suffering from severe burns. Upon arrival they found the poor girl in a critical condition. It appears that on Monday morning Miss Derbyshire, who was employed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Small, whilst endeavoring to get a fire burning after it had seemingly gone out, took up a can which she thought contained coal oil, and poured the liquid on the fire. An explosion took place and the flames enveloped the girl, setting fire to her clothing. She was immediately taken to the hospital, where she succumbed about 4 p.m. on Thursday. Her mother was with her during her illness in the hospital. The deceased was of a very joyful nature and well liked by all. Deep sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The President was appointed as League representative.

Ingram's will be headquarters of the club for the season.

Geo. Goule was appointed trainer.

The next meeting will be held on Sunday, May 3, at 8 p.m. in Ingram's Hall.

MOOSE INSTALL OFFICERS

A large herd of "Moose" of both sexes assembled in Victoria Hall, on Monday night, when initating officer James Wilson installed the following officers for the year 1925 : Dictator, J. Sweeney ; Vice-Dictator, R. Billsborough; Treasurer, R. Sampson; Prelate, J. Hughes ; Sergeant at Arms, T. Bennett ; Inner & Outer Guards, R. Mitchell and V. W. Savage ; Trustees, J. Davidson and J. Lowe.

The degree staff of the Ladies' Chapter performed the task of conducting the candidates in a creditable manner. After the ceremony, Bro. Wilson presented Bro. Sweeney with an emblematic jewel as a token of appreciation for past services.

Songs and musical numbers were rendered by Bros. Pickford and Sims, and Sister Tar. Miss T. Thompson delighted the assembly by the clever manner in which she performed Spanish, Butterfly and Tamborine Dances.

Refreshments were liberally served. The culinary abilities of Bro. Murray recieving high commendation. The light fantastic was enjoyed until midnight, Miss Wilson and H. Harrison supplying the music.

CANMORE IS THINKING

Banff, April 27.—Following the decision of the miners of the Crow's Nest Pass to make an agreement directly with their employers, negotiations are now under way to effect a similar one at the Canmore steam coal mines.

This mine, like those in the Crow, until the new agreement was made was only working one or two days a week. Now that the Crow mines are working steadily the miners at Canmore, who have been looking into matters very closely, are prepared, it is stated, to fall into line in order to secure similar steady work.

There are about 250 men employed at the Canmore mine, which has a nominal output of of about 250,000 tons. It is in direct competition with the Crow's Nest Pass mines. The Canadian Pacific Railway takes the larger part of the output at Canmore.

MILITARY FUNERAL ON SUNDAY

The local branch of the G.W.V.A. again demonstrated their true comradeship by the large turnout of Veterans and members of the Women's Auxiliary to attend the last rites due Comrade John Hunt. Headed by the local detachment of the R.C.M.P. under Sergt. Hanna, the parade left the Vets' rooms and proceeded to the undertaking parlors and from thence to Christ Church, where the Rev. Oswald conducted the service.

The hymns were known to the troops, "Oh God our Help in Ages Past" and "Nearer my God to Thee," were sung. On arrival at the "Soldier's Plot" Rev. Oswald gave the committal after which Pres. Bowen called the Veterans to attention and aftgiving the last charge called for one minute of silence. The firing squad then performed its duty and the "Last Post" was sounded.

The family of the late comrade desire to thank the G.W.V.A., the local detachment of the Mounted Police and the Coal Company for their kindness in their sad bereavement.

A. B. Trites, of Fernie, and Col. Robt. Leckie, of Vancouver, have recently secured an option on some valuable mining property in the Grand Forks district. If half the mining property which Mr. Trites has purchased or secured an interest in during the past couple of years, turns out well, he will soon have to start a smelter of his own.

BILL WILL TRY TO ORGANIZE

That efforts would be made to reorganize the Crow's Nest Pass district at an early date, was the statement made to the Calgary Herald on Monday by William Sherman, president of District 18 of the United Mine Workers' of America. He added that a meeting would be held inColeman on Sunday next, when the matter would be discussed. "We are determined as an organization to remain in District 18," he said.

Sherman is proceeding north on Monday night and will visit Mountain Park and Cadomin to look over the situation at those camps. He declared that the men there and at Nordegg and Saunders field were standing pat with the U.M.W. of A.

Asked if the re-organization would be on the basis of the scale of wages now in force throughout the whole of the Crow's Nest Pass, Mr. Sherman said that at the moment, they were concerned with actual re-organization work, after that was completed they would deal with the wage scale.

With regard to the forthcoming coal mining investigation instituted by the Provincial government. Mr. Sherman said he had no statment to make at the present time as to whether the U.M.W. of A. would participate in it or not.

CONCERNING MINING STOCKS

Kimberley Press : The increased earnings of the reputable mines in this district and in other parts of British Columbia have long attracted attention, and lately Kimberley has been visited by pests who try to sell shares in mining property which investigation has proved contain no high grade ore. But those unscrupulous agents industriously spread the idea that fortunes are to be made by all who invest in a few shares of those so-called mining stocks,, but which are actually wild-cat schemes.

There are lots of people here and elsewhere in British Columbia who have made big money out of mining properties. This is emphasized by the glib agent and is also liable to cause some people to be reckless and invest without first investigating.

Before investing money in any mining proposition presented by some stranger, local residents should at least get the advice of some reliable mining man who has had afairly extensive knowledge of mining properties and mining companies in this province.

The poor "boob" who buys mining stock from an itinerant salesman is backing a long shot. Before giving your money to the smooth tongued artists who come in from outside, your rent should be paid and your larder nicely stocked. And even then the only stocks that should be touched are those concerning which the fullest information is available for the public.

Talking about Sherman's proposal to reorganize the U. M. W. of A. in the Crow's Nest Pass, the Colemen Journal says: "Does this mean that Mr. Sherman is just talking in order to keep his and the other officials' salary cheques coming regularly every month, or are the officials of the U.M.W. of A. really in earnest in endeavoring to bring back the nightmare of high wages and no work through which we have recently passed? One would imagine that after what has taken place in The Pass during the past year under Sherman, that now the fetters have been broken, the average sane miner would think twice before again enrolling under his banner. A purely Canadian organization, embracing the steam coal fields of The Pass, would appear to be far more advantageous to the mine worker here, than to again link up with this foreign organization. Mr. Sherman and others connected with the U.M.W. of A. told you that a reduction in wages would not give you more work. Were they right? Don't be caught again !"

Alec. McCool, a well known old timer of these parts, who has in late years been located at the other end of the Crow's Nest Pass, around Natal, was in the city this week in connection with some mining claims he has recently staked in the vicinity of Kingsgate.—Cranbrook Herald.

HILLCREST SIGNS UP

Hillcrest, April 24.—Things have come to some kind of a head here at last. The miners' union after holding two meetings a day for the last threee days, agreed yesterday to take a secret ballot as to the advisability of accepting the proposed agreement. The vote was taken to-day resulting in a majority for acceptance. As far as can be learned the actual count was 181 to 93 for acceptance with nine spoiled ballots.

Although the miners have agreed to go back to work the situation is not a bed of roses yet. A committee was appointed to inform Manager Stevenson of the result of the balloting.

The answer they received was that there were no orders and that the only men who would be required at the mine Saturday were the boiler house crew, engineers, tracklayers, etc. He said all the men could do would be to go to the mine and sign on, adding that they would be employed as they were required. It may thus be some time before the mine is working normally.

GERMANY STILL MILITANT

New York, April 27.—The German people, including the women of Germany, have voted for another war. The election of Von Hindenburg to the presidency of the land of the war lords is notice to the world that the men and women across the Rhine want to try again for world domination. The most disquieting factor in Von Hindenburg's return to power is the proof it affords that the women of Germany are not for future peace. Von Hindenburg's plurality came from the women.

Had they repudiated the war lord at yesterday's election militarism would have received a crushing blow.

The fraus of the fatherland, however, have shown that they are still thrilled by the goose step and that military hero worship continues to be the ideal of German womanhood.

Yesterday's election thus demonstrated that the world war defeat has brought no change of heart in Germany.

FERNIE GOLF CLUB

The first competition of the season took place Wednesday last, when 84 players stepped on the tee to take part in the bi-weekly competition. The weather was perfect and the course in excellent shape. The great interest taken in this competition would indicate that it is a popular one. It is already known that many players have stated that the scores (admittedly high in many cases) are no criterion of the class of golf they are able to play, and it is expected that new records will be made in the next game.

Jimmy Corbett, with a good 37 net, was only five short of capturing the jewelry, and if he continues to hit the ball from the first tee the way he did it lastWednesdayhisxz did it last Wednesday his handicap is certainly going to be reduced.

Mrs. Dr. Kelman and Mrs. Moses tied for first place for the ladies, with a score each of 27 net.

Ed. Martin and E. Colton tied for first place for the men with a score of 32 net.

It will be necessary for these players to play another nine holes in order to decide the winners.

Prizes of golf balls are to be donated to the lady and gentleman winning these competitions.

The boys and girls who took part in this competition made an excellent showing and the scores turned in by them shows that it will not be long before they give a good account of themselves in these events.

The next competition of this kind will be held on Wednesday, May 13, and all members will be drawn for this event except those who notify the secretary of their inability to take part.

The committee sincerely hope that members will take an interest in these games and take part in them on every possible occasion.

WHO IS GUILTY IN NOVA SCOTIA?

J. E. McLurg of the British Empire Steel Corporation, is reported to have said that his company is not considering the question of again reopening any of its Cape Breton coal mines. A conference between the provincial premier, the steel company officials and officials of the mine workers, held recently, resulted in nothing. The proposal of the premier that the company should reopen its mines on the 1924 wage scale, submitting the question of a reduced scale in the meantime to arbitration, was refused by the company.

Meanwhile the miners of the Nova Scotia field are in starving condition and their dependents are forced to look to charity for food, clothing and housing. Nor has this state of affairs resulted altogether from the strike. So spadomic had been employment previous to the closing down of the mines that many of the workers were then in a distressful condition; their present condition can be beter imagined than described. And all told there are about twelve thousand of these mine workers.

The Ottawa Citizen suggests that neither the company nor the government at Ottawa is altogether free from responsibility. For the amount of production in this field there are too many workers, with the result that the work divided among the many, gives not enough to any and poverty results. According to the Citizen the company contributed to this surplus of workers by importing miners from Great Britain. Having brought these men to the field some responsibility would seem to attach to the company in the matter of providing support for them. And the Dominion government having permitted the importation, becomes a partner, morally at any rate, in the responsibility. The mine situation in Nova Scotia is acute. It is no credit to any of the powers involved that it as ever permitted to develop. And the government of Nova Scotia, which owns the mines, leasing them to private companies, cannot escape responsibility if there is not an immediate betterment.

THE STRUGGLE IN CAPE BRETON

Some weeks ago in conversation with a representative of the Canadian Press, J.E. McLurg, Vice-President of the British Empire Steel Corporation, in refering to the miners, stated: "We hold all the cards" and "They can't stand the gaff."

At the conference held in HHalifax between representatives of the Provincial Government, the United Mine Workers and the British Empire Steel Corporation, R. M. Wolvin, the President of that great industry, leaving the conference, stated: "We'll do our dirtiest."

The Halifax Herald quite properly observes that the above statements —one from the President of the British Empire Steel Corporation and the other from the Vice-President of the British Empire Steel Corporation, should give the people of that city and Province food for thought. The question that is being asked to-day the Herald says, is: Are the great national resources of this province in capable hands?

It is only a natural question. The British Empire Company, apparently needs a spring house-cleaning. There is a bad smell around now and the public does not like it.

The Most Rev. Clarence L. Worrell, D.D., Archbishop of Nova Scotia, summed up the conditions among Nova Scotia coal miners, in the course of his charge to the Synod of the Diocese of Nova Scotia last week, when he said: "In the present case either the mines are not worth working or the miners should be able to have decent homes and adequate provision for food and clothing, and recreation; if the mines won't stand the cost of working, let them be closed. But, if as we believe, they are one of the most valuable assets of the country, let them be worked by fairly treated men even if the dividends are less."

Certainly the British Empire Steel Corp. has not been able to obtain much public sympathy for its attitude in the present industrial struggle. The impression exists that it is a corporation without a soul.

ABANDON BOAT LINE

Remarkably fine time is being made this season by the two C.P.R. trains engaged on the hauling of fill material from a point five miles east of Creston to the long trestle at Kootenay Landing, an average of 70 cars of filling being hauled over the 40 miles of round trip.

The work will continue to about July, by which time it is figured the entire trestle will be completely earth worked, after some four years of filling effort. The report persists that with the fill complete, next year will see a start made to connect up the steel between Kootenay Landing and Proctor and to do away with a 30-mile barge transport of freight between these points, as well as rendering unnecessary the boat passenger service from the Landing to Nelson.

With a resumption of coke shipping and the ever-increasing tonnage of concentrates from Kimberley the handling of freight is becoming a serious question on the present system. For the putting in of the steel it is estimated an expenditure of $100,000 a mile will be necessitated.

A REAL GOVERNMENT

A provincial election is in prospect in Saskatchewan. Nomination meetings are being held and the usual fanfare of speeches heard. Government cadidates defend the course and the record of the Dunning administration. The opposition is finding difficulty in devising an effective attack.

Looking at the situation from a distance another success at the polls for the present government seems certain. That the present government has failed to realize its obligations to the farming class, to which the government of an essentially agricultural province owes a primary duty, cannot be alleged. In all forms of agricultural effort the government has followed a progressive policy and it has fostered co-operative enterprisees and aided the wheat pool. Saskatchewan is several years ahead of Alberta in its constructive highway program. The Dunning goverment has been generous and far-seeing in its educational policy.

In the matter of taxation supporters of that government have more excuse for pointing with pride than thus elsewhere in the West. The amusement tax was first applied as a war measure. The other western provinces still collect it. Saskatchewan government abolished it some years ago. What this means may be seen from the following figures: British Columbia takes $198,000 a year from the people of that province in amusement tax; Manitoba's tax yields $280,650, and from the people of Alberta the Greenfield government collects $205,950. The people of Saskatchewan contributes nothing in this form of taxation.

In 1923, the governments of British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba respectively collected $78,687, $241,266 and $140,327 in gasoline taxation; the Dunning government did not ask the people of Saskatchewan to pay any gasoline tax.

In the same year a comparison of the total expenditures of Alberta and Saskatchewan shows that the government of Alberta spent $18.06 per capita and Saskatchewan's governmentment spent only $13.04.

Viewing these facts and figures, one can understand why the Dunning government has a strong hold upon the confidence of the people of Saskatchewan.—Calgary Herald.

In these times when hours of labor are very short, people should have plenty of time to make their places more attractive. One of the easiest ways of beautifying a home is to plant shrubbery around it. Once you get a bed of shrubs well started, they need little attention.

A little spading, trimming and perhaps fertilizer, and these sturdy and independent little bushes take care of themselves and ask no favors from anyone. At their appointed time, every shrub in a well selected arrangement will burst into a rich mass of bloom. If correctly chosen, the bank of shrubbery should have some bloomers at every period of the season. It transforms a bare and cold-looking dwelling into a cheerful center of radiance and beauty. Every home in Fernie should be adorned with pretty shrubs.

CRITICIZES ALBERTA COAL

C. W. Paterson, who was deputy fuel controller during the war, thinks the Ontario market for Alberta coal is a pleasant pipe dream. Mr. Paterson presents, in an interview given the press, the other side of the Ontario market question. He also claims that Calgarians should think about using lignite coal in producing electric power, claiming this can be done cheaper than by harnessing hydro power. Geographicical difficulties stand in the way of Alberta's enterance to the coal markets of the world.

Says Mr. Paterson: "In agitating for the development of a market for Alberta coal in eastern Canada, and at the same time, declaring in favor of a hydro electric proposition for Calgary we are in a measure taking up somewhat incostitent attitudes. Furthermore, in urging that both these projects be undertaken at public expense, while insistently demanding rigid economy in govrnment expenditure, we once more fail to be consistent. It might be well to realize that outside the mountain section proper, we have no true coal in Alberta. We have only lignites, which may be described as coal in process of formation. These range all the way from a fairly satisfactory domestic fuel to one which is little better than wood. As we proceed north and east these lignites become more and more soft and friable with proportionately limited keeping qualities. This is obviously a very serious disability in the domestic market.

"The idea of a market in Eastern Canada for our prairie lignites seems to me more or less of a pleasant pipe dream. Even with a $7 freight rate we cannot land coal or lignite in the east which can successfully compete against the Pennsylvania article. Aside from that, the eastern domestic consumer has been for many years educated to the use of the world's finest fuel, namely, Pennsylvania anthracite. His heating equipment, and even his chimneys, are constructed for this class of coal. He is not going to scrap all this investment unless he can be shown an extraordinary saving in cost or convenience and that we are wholly unable to offer.

"Business blocks in the east use the southern bituminous coals, which are about the same class as our Crow's Nest coals, but much more economically mined. The whole incidenceof transportation is dead against a scheme to carry coal eastward, half way across the continent. The traffic is in the wrong direction. Solid train loads of coal in gondola cars, electrically loaded and unloaded, run between the Pennsylvania fields and Lake Erie points. There is not a moment of wasted time or effort. It is a highly specialized traffic developed to the nth degree of speed and efficiency.

"Coal destined for Manitoba points and Eastern Saskatchewan is carried from there to the head of the lakes as return cargo in grain boats. The rate is low as the choice is to go in water ballast or take this low paying traffic. There is not half enough available to give all the grain carriers with return cargo. After being stored at the lake head it is carried further west as return freight in grain cars, which would otherwise go back empty. As against this, we propose to ship our Alberta coal in the same direction as our grain traffic and with the peak at the very season of the year when the railroads are straining every nerve to keep the wheat moving eastward and are at their wits' end to find motive power and rolling stock to handle the grain trade. The proposal looks fantastic to me.

"During the war every effort was made to secure the eastern Saskatchewan and Manitoba markets for our western coals and lignites even to the extent of severly limiting by regulation the importation of Pennsylvania coal, the distribution of which was at that time entirely in the hands of the Canadian fuel controller. Great strides were then made and our western fuels were beginning to make a name for themselves in their natural market. But every time success was in sight, there would be an increase of miners' wages and a consequent boost in the price of coal and the equilibrum was shattered. I still believe that the eastern prairie market can be secured and held, but our coals will have to meet competition from the south in price and quality. Up to date, however, we have not apparently made any spectacular progress in supplying the Manitoba market. Such being the case what is the use of looking so much further afield?

"Our lignites are an enormous asset in supplying our rapidly growing towns and cities, our treeless prairie farms and our railways with fuel and that will, in all probability, always be their chief destiny, and will in time be a task of enormous proportions. It is also fairly obvious, that with that class of fuel practically underlying the whole country, we should go slow before we commit ourselves to any costly hydro-electric development. Figures have appeared in the press lately tending to show that steam power will compete successfully with the proposed Spray Lake development. These representations are entitled to the most careful investigation. Anything that would create a steady market for our lignites in our midst is not to be lightly dismissed. Such a market is vastly preferable to an imaginary one thousands of miles away.

"I read a proposal the other day to utilize lignites for coking purposes. This, of course, is absurd. The only coals that lend themselves to successful coking are the bituminous coals of the Crow's Nest Pass and if the idea was to utilize by-product ovens, which I assume, was the case, only metaliferous coals would serve the purpose and of those we have only one or two veins, as far as I am aware. Nevertheless, the by-product oven will probably be one of the solutions of eastern Canada's fuel problem. On account of the prevalence of natural gas here, it is not likely ever be a factor in Alberta. Strides have been made in the use of pulverized coal and great fuel economies have been effected. All these matters should be expertly investigated before we ask the government to commit itself to any costly hydro-electric project.

"I might add a word in respect to the mining of our lignites. In the old days we were untroubled by strikes and unions. It was recognized that lignite mining was essentially a seasonable occupation. The worker was a farmer in the summertime and a miner in the wintertime. He generally owned some land and some livestock in the vicinity of the mine that afforded him winter employment. Economically this was the ideal arrangement and it still would be. We have no place in our scheme of lignite mining for the professional miner, who will work at no other occupation and then demand a wage for winter employment which is calculated on a basis of keeping him in idleness half of the time. There will probably never be steady work in a lignite field all the year round. Our only possible chance of an export market lies in producing cheap fuel. One would think that both miners and employers would see the situation as it really is and meet it in the only manner in which it can be met."

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

EDUCATIONAL SURVEY

In any school system the mortality factor alone invariably reduces the proportion of pupils enrolled in the advanced grades. Economic, social and personal factors must also be taken into account. If all these facts were inoperative the school records would show an equal distribution of the pupils throughout the grades; and in a system composed of ten grades each grade would include ten per cent. of the enrolment. It is clear therefore, that the number of pupils in the three high school grades of such a system operating under ordinary conditions will be considerably less than thirty per cent. of the total, although in very favorable circumstances the number might approach that figure. In Victoria 15 per cent of the total enrolment, in Vancouver 13 per cent., in Nanimo 12 per cent., in Nelson 14 per cent., and in New Westminster 21 per cent. are in the high school grades, the average for the province bing just under 10 per cent.

Similarly, under unusually favorable conditions the number of pupils enrolled in the grades above the fifth year might approach 50 per cent. For the five cities above mentioned, it ranges between thirty and forty per cent. Throughout the province as a whole nearly one-half of the pupils enrolled are on the registers of the first three school years. In the larger centres the proportion is near an average of 40 per cent.. It is evident that the ideal which many cherish of a school for every school child is still along way off. A few years ago it was usual to point with pride to every increase in the proportion of pupils attending the higher grades of the school. Latterly the average ratepayer has been carrying a pretty heavy burden and the spectacle of a steadily increasing and slowly moving crowd of pupils in the advanced grades does not exactly fill him with unalloyed delight.

Many pupils do not move forward from one grade to another as they should, but remain behind to repet the year's work .About the fourth or fifth year of school life a considerable number of pupils are older than their grade. Repeaters cost money. If the average boy can go through the ten grades in ten years the system may be presumed to be working economically. If the average rate of speed is twelve years there is a loss that few business men would tolerate. A few years ago the Russel Foundation estimated the cost of repeaters in some fifty-five cities as 15.4 per cent. of the whole expenditure. One of the most important problems before us is to find out to what extent retardation is due to waste by idle and unwilling pupils, incapacity on the part of others, defects in the teaching staff. The expected report of the Educational Commission will no doubt throw some light on the matter.

According to the annual report for 1924 of the Canadian Branch of the St. John's Ambulance Assoc., there is a growing interest in the subjects of first-aid and home nursing. This is interest in the right direction and should be encouraged. There is the virtue of self-help and individual resource inculcated, which is worth a great deal.

COMMUNISTS WATCHED

London, April 30.—Col. Cecil L'Estrange Malone, a former coalition Liberal member of Parliament, who has just returned from the Balkans, quotes Chief of Police Schober, of Viennaa, as declaring that all the police departments of Europe have agreed upon a general round-up of Communists and the expulsion of suspected aliens, within the next few days.

Great Britain at least contemplates some such steps as that outlined by Lieut.-Col. Malone, according to the Morning Post, which states that the government will take direct action against Communist activities here almost immediately.

The methods to be followed are not disclosed but the paper says one of the first steps will be to amend the law, and that it is assumed another will be to cut off the financial supplies which have nourished Communist activities here. It adds: "So long as the immunity confered upon the soviet representatives here by the late government, an immunity which extends to the Soviet mail bag, exists, this (the cutting off of the financial support) is impossible."

Mr. John Singer Sargent, greatest of modern portrait painters, who died some days ago, exercised an influence on modern art which will probably be felt for many decades. He was born in Italy. His parents were American. His childhood and youth was spent in Italy and Germany. It was at Paris that he took up the study of painting. It was in Britain, however, that his art was appraised at its full value, and it was there that his career was cast. One of the outstanding qualities of that art was both technique and skill in the psychological interpretation of characters in his portrayals. He did this with an economy of pigment which few artists could imitate. His work was to this extent largely impressionistic, depicted in brilliant coloring and sharp contrasts. Before he died he earned his title among the great painters and it is a title which time will consolidate.—Colonist.

What 'Orange Pekoe' Means

Many buyers of tea have come to ask for 'Orange Pekoe' believing that it signifies fine quality. This is not, however, necessarily the case. In the trade 'Orange Pekoe' is only a name given to the first leaf below the bud or tip on any Indian or Ceylon tea bush. An 'Orange Pekoe' leaf grown at a high elevation usually possesses a very fine flavour. If, however, the plant is grown at a low elevation, it may still be 'Orange Pekoe' but also be of very poor quality. The consumer's only safeguard is to buy a tea of recognized goodness. High grown 'Orange Pekoes' comprise a large part of every blend of "SALADA" and give to "SALADA" its unequalled flavour.

"SALADA"

75% of disease avoided through internal cleanliness

WHEN you are constipated, poisons are formed in the accumulated food waste, and reach all parts of the body. The first results, headaches, biliousness, a feeling of "heaviness", etc., serve as warnings of graver diseases to follow if this intestinal poisoning continues unchecked.

This is why intestinal specialists state that constipation is the primary cause of three-quarters of all illness, including the gravest diseases of life.

Physicians Advise Lubrication for Internal Cleanliness

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste, and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless. Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

International Council of Women

In connection with the Quinquennial Conference in Washington, May 4th to 14th, sixty-five delegates from Great Britain and Europe of the above organization sailed on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Montcalm from Liverpool this month. Delegates from South Africa, New Zealand and Australia are also included. Among those from Great Britain are Lady Trustram Eve, Lady Salvesen, Lady Nott Bower, Lady Adam Smith, Lady Egerton and Mrs. George Cadbury.

The French delegates sailed about the same time on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Marburn from Cherbourg and are shown in the photograph from left to right, standing: Mme Heimann Founder of the French Association for Blinded Soldiers; Mme Odette Arnaud, the well known painter and Mlle Annette Fougeirol of the transmigration service of emigration. From left to right, sitting: Mme Emilie Fougeirol, Mme Lucienne Bernheim, Mme Pichon-Landry; Mme Avril de Sainte Croix, President of the French Association, Member of the Legion of Honour, and delegate to the League of Nations; Mme Legrand, widow of the well-known French general; and Mme Evard, Chevalier of the Legion of Honour and General Inspector of Public Instruction.

These ladies will be given official reception in Canada and will visit Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Falls as guests of the Local Councils prior to attending the conference in Washington.

SOME MORE CANDIDATES

The Cranbrook Courier is still busy digging up candidates for the next Dominion election. It says: In the Columbia District Mr. A. M. Chisholm, Conservative candidate for the provincial house in the last election, is receiving the endorsation of a large number of up-country Conservatives, who claim that Columbia riding should share in Dominion honors ,and are losing no time in making a canvass for his candidature. Cranbrook's chances have somewhat diminished during the past week, due largely to the plethora of prospective candidates. From the Coal City comes the name of A. B. Trites, millionaire mining man and oldtimer of Fernie.

Locally, however, Dr. Rutledge still holds the spot-light, being recognized as the candidate for Dominion honors, since he made room for Mr. Wallinger in the provincial bye-election some three years ago. Dr. Rutledge's popularity in this section of the riding is stronger than that of any other prospective candidate, but the division in the Conservative party may cost him the election.

Cranbrook Liberals will unquestionably have Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works and member for this district as their candidate. Vancouver, New Westminster, St. John City and other Pacific and Atlantic ports have made an aggressive canvass on his behalf, but are beginning to realize that the people of East Kootenay are insisting that the Doctor run in this riding.

IMPERIAL RADIO ORCHESTRA TO VISIT FERNIE

Lovers of good music are to have the immediate opportunity to listen to Western Canada's cleverest musicians. At the termination of their engagement at the Plaza Cabarets in Calgary these artists have been touring Canada from coast to coast. While playing Winnipeg they accepted an offer to play Winnipeg Beach this summer, and will be back from Vancouver in time to open the season there. They have made spontaneous hits wherever they have played and no doubt the Fernie people will be anxiously awaiting their appearance here. They are to play for a dance at Victoria Hall on Wednesday, May 6th.

THE APPEAL OF SMITH

Toronto, April 27.—When one of his colleagues asked this morning in the appeal court when the Home Bank had become insolvent, Chief Justice Sir William Mullock replied, "when it was born." The court continued its hearing of the appeal of Col. Clarence F. Smith, Home Bank director of Montreal, against his sentence and conviction in the county criminal court.

D.L. McCarthy, K.C., crown counsel, continued his review of bank affairs telling of the various loans, including $452,000 loaned without security.

Justice Hodgins commented that somebody's versatile mind had been very busy in the bank in 1921 and 1923 and that it would be a good thing to find out who it was.

Mr. McCarthy said a list of loans would have shown $8,000,000 in bad and frozen loans and if asked for have shown the position of the bank loans made before Col. Smith's time ?", asked Justice Hodgins.

Mr. McCarthy admitted many of them had been.

"Well, what would have happened if he had seen this statement of loans ? asked Justice Hodgins.

"He would not have concurred in the annual statment," replied Justice Ferguson.

"If he had known he would have made it public and closed the bank. That would be a Director's duty," said Justice Hodgins.

Mr. McCarthy took up the matter of the Western Canada Pulp and Paper Company. He was asked at what directors' meetings of this company Smith was in attendance. Mr. McCarthy said he was present at the last meeting and the next to the last.

"Was he present at the meeting at which the company went into liquidation.

Mr. McCarthy had not completed his answer when Justice Magee broke in : "I don't think there is any doubt that there was negligence. The question is has the crown brought it home ?"

The meeting of the Fernie Football Club held on Sunday night shows that that organization is badly in need of funds. Last year was a disastrous one for football finances and now the club is in need of an entire new outfit. A subscription list will be money, and it is hoped that everybody started with a view to raising this will do what they can to help along the cause. The miners of Fernie and Coal Creek take a big interest in the game, but are not in a position to help very much at present, but would like to see this end of the district have at least one winning team.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Jane Gibson wish to thank all who were so kind to them during their their bereavement; also the management of the M.F. & M. Ry. for special train service.

LOCAL & GENERAL

The city road gang are busy this week on Howland avenue.

Mrs. C. O'Neil left this morning for Spokane, where she will spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Marsham returned during the week from a trip to Spokane.

Max Belecky is having a new cement sidewalk placed on the north side of the Napanee Hotel.

Don't forget the whist drive and dance in the Catholic Hall on May 1st, (Friday).

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Benevolent Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Asselstine on Tuesday, May 5, at 3.30 p.m.

Mrs. Annie Clowers was discharged from the Fernie Hospital last week end, where she had been undergoing an operation.

Donald Mitchell, of the firm of Herchmer & Mitchell, and F. C. Lawe, of Lawe & Fisher, were in Nelson this week on business in connection with the White Spruce Lumber Co.

The regular monthly meeting of the Robert Black Chapter of the I.O. D.E. will be held at the home of Miss Dorthy Dicken, Monday, May 4th, at 8 o'clock sharp.

Owing to counter attractions, the whist drive and dance in Coal Creek Club Hall scheduled to take place on Wednesday next, has been postponed until May 20th.

Mrs. M. Sorkie, of Hosmer, who has been sick for the last five weeks in the Cranbrook Hospital, has returned to her home and is able to be around again.

A meeting of the C. N. P. Football League will be held in Michel on Sunday, May 3, and it is anticipated that a full league will be in operation this season.

At a special meeting of the city council on Friday evening last Adolph Goodman, of Fernie, was employed by the city as fire chief at a salary of $125 per month and quarters.

John Garbutt, of the M. F. & M. railway staff, left on the C.P.R. westbound on Wednesday for coast points to demonstrate the qualities of the coal from these mines.

Messrs. Herchmer & Mitchell have opened an office in Kimberley under the name of Herchmer, Mitchell & Lilly. The new member of the firm, A. R. Lilly, of Halifax, N.S., will have charge of the new office.

Rev. Wm. Burns returned last evening from a trip to Creston. He reports conditions in Creston, so far as the fruit crop is concerned, very dismal. The December frost utterly destroyed a large percentage of the apple trees in that neighborhood. It will be years before Creston recovers from the disaster.

The city sprinkling cart should be a little more in evidence these windy days. In past years it has been the custom of the city authorities to run this cart very spasmodically. The public would like to see it kept busy nearly all the time. One dust storm would destroy more merchandise than would pay the cost of sprinkling for a whole season.

Word was received here on Sunday, that Mrs. Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, of this city, had passed away in Cranbrook Hospital, after giving birth to a child. Deceased resided with her husband in Kimberley. The body was brought to Fernie for interment, and the funeral was held to-day (Friday). There many friends extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thornton, of West Fernie, left on Saturday morning for the coast where they will reside in future.

The Fernie Hospital opened this morning for patients. Dr. Lamb, of the B.C. Government Health Dept., is in the city making an inspection of the institution.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid of the United Church will be held at the home of Mrs. M. A. Kastner on Monday evening, May 4, at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist Church will hold a sale of home cooking on May 2, in the basement of the church, from 3 to 6 p.m. Afternoon tea will also be served. A17-3

Don't forget that Monday is the date of the regular Board of Trade luncheon at 12 o'clock at the Fernie Hotel. An important program is being arranged and the question of assisting the Fernie Hospital will come up for discussion.

The C.P.R. telegraph bulletin this afternoon carries a dispatch from Ottawa that the budget carried this morning after an all night session. The following vote was cast: For the Conservative amendment 48; against 164. For the budget 123; against 86.

G. F. Johnson, of the C.N.P. Coal Co. staff, will leave tomorrow morning for Vancouver, where he will take charge of A. B. Trites' mining office in that city. Mr. Johnson, who is also city auditor here, is not yet sure whether he will be able to take care of the city business or not.

The Grand Chancellor of the B.C. Domain Knights of Pythias, will pay an official visi t to the local lodge on Friday next, May 8th. All local members and visiting brethren are requested to attend at 7 p.m. sharp. A social evening will be held to which all members and their wives and Pythian Sisters are invited. Ladies to assemble at 9 p.m.

Through the generosity of A. B. Trites the Rotary Club has at its dis posal the sum of $150 for prizes for "Fernie Beautiful" contest. More prizes will be given and consequently the amounts of the individual prizes will be smaller than last year. However, the great range of classes will give opportunity for a larger number of entries than formerly. Full particulars will be announced in our next issue.

A report from Vancouver states that Thos. Uphill, M.P.P., was there interviewing the government regarding certain ex-employees of the C. N.P. Coal Co. who have not been able to secure employment under the new agreement. Tom is making strong recommendations to the Attorney General and he may be able to secure them positions on the government staff. Of course since the Grand Forks election the Liberals do not need Tom's support so much and he may find his influence waning at Victoria.

At a special meeting of the city council held on Friday evening last the question of river bank protection was discussed at length. The mayor and several of the aldermen had visited the dangerous places north of that it was too late to accomplish anything in the way of protection the town, and it was their opinion before high water this year. However, it is the intention of the authorities immediately to take up the matter with the government, the C.N.P. Coal Co. and the G.N. railway, and arrange for joint action in the matter of protection for the future. Some years ago the government and the G. N. railway offered to pay 25% each of the cost of some river protection work, and if this offer is still open it will be taken advantage of.

WOULD DESTROY ALL VALUES

The Single Taxers in America and the labor dictators in Russia tried to destroy the value of real property. Those two elements succeeded in lowering the value of real property, but they did not completely succeed in destroying the value of it.

The ultimate object of single tax was to make ownership of real property unprofitable and throw it into the hands of the municipalities representing all the people—to make real estate common property.

Single tax achieved its object in a measure. It compelled many property holders in every city which adopted it to forfeit their lands rather than meet the heavy taxation imposed upon properties. Sufficient lands were thrown into the hands of the municipalities to demonstrate the impracticability of Single Tax. Now a very interesting experiment is at an end and the municipalities which speculated in Single Tax are trying to induce private individuals to invest in the property which came into their hands as a result of that speculation.

The Russian dictators took a more direct method of achieving their end. They decreed natioalization of the land. In nationalizating the land the dictators destroyed the value of it, because the peasants forseeing that if they ploughed and sowed and reaped under state ownership there would be no assured reward for their labors. Under the system of nationalization all the crops produced became the property of the government, to be disposed of according to the will of the dictators, who represented only a small minority of the people.

The Russian peasants wanted something tagible as a reward for their toil, and as they had no assurance of anything of the kind they refused to till the soil. Therefore, Russia during the past year did not produce sufficient food to sustain her own population, although that population has suffered a great decline under Soviet rule.

Therefore the land in Russia has been delivered to the peasants. The attempt to destroy land values, like the attempt to destroy capital, has failed. Russia is under private capital again and the dictators are offering inducements to capitalists to invest in Russian enterprises.

The result of those experiments, one in Russia and the other much nearer home, are interesting. They have restored real property to its long established position as gilt-edged security and the safest of all investments. The cities which have experimented with Single Tax have paid dearly for their experience, but there are the very best of reasons for believing that the tide in their affairs has turned. The reverted land problem created by the Single Tax will solve itself in due time by natural business processes.

GREAT VOYAGE OF DISCOVERY

Captain R. P. Bishop, recently in the British Columbia provincial survey, has succeeded in locating the very spot from which Sir Alexander MacKenzie looked at the Pacific after crossing the continent, one hundred and thirty-two years ago.

He has identified the rock on which MacKenzie inscribed these words :

"I now mixed up some vermillion in melted grease, and inscribed in large characters on the south-east face of the rock, on which we had slept last night, this brief memorial : 'Alexander MacKenzie, from Canada, by land, the twenty-second day of July, seventeen hundred and ninety-three.'"

A monument is to be erected to the great explorer on that spot by the Historic and Monuments Board of Canada, which is doing excellent work in marking appropriately, and preserving, the places that are of significance in the history of this country.

Canada's record of contributions to the opening up of new country to the uses of man, is a notable one. MacKenzie was one of the most courageous, persistent and successful of the Canadian exployers. With MacKenzie's the name of Hern and Douglas stand high on the list. Earlier still there were the LaVernadrys, first to see the Rockies ; Father Hennedin and Joliet, who explored the upper reaches of the Missouri, Joliet subsequently exploring to the north as far as Hudson Bay ; LaSalle, whose amazing voyages through the Great Lakes and down the Missippi are amongst the most daring and productive of the vayages of discovery of all time.

We have a world of romance in our history but unfortunately our children in our schools learn more about the voyages of the men of other nations than about those of our own land.

Never judge a woman by her rosy complexion.

Simla, India, April 27.—It has been definitely established that man originated from apes, according to the opinion expressed here to-day by Dr. Alex Hrdicka, of Washington, D.C., who has headed expeditions of the United States National Museum of Anthropology to many parts of the world. He is here to examine the discovery recently made of five different species of fossils of anthropid apes in the Shivalki hills.

He expressed the belief that previous researches have already shown definitely that all human races, including African negroes and whites, had the same origin from anthropoid apes.

TROUBLE TO SELL LABRADOR

The settlement of the Labrador Boundary dispute has so far failed and it seems as if the problem will eventually have to be decided by the Imperial Privy Council. Newfoundland first offered to sell the whole territory for $30,000,000, which Quebec considered beyond her means. Then Newfoundland offered to sell all except a three-mile strip alog the coast to be retained for use as a base for Newfoundland fishermen. It was refused by Quebec, and the refusal was concurred in by the Dominion authorities. The Newfoundland government is not in a position to offer a better bargain. The Ottawa authorities favor the acquisition by Canada of the entire territory. No doubt the Privy Council will shortly be asked to give a decision on what course should be adopted.

Sydney Bulletin : Sydney, wellwooded once, is now one of the treeless cities of the world. It may be that in new countries a race memory of pioneering struggles with the bush persists. To the first settlers the wild woods are an enemy harboring hostile natives and denying foothold. As the bush gets beaten back it ceases to affright, and when it has been completely subjugated if not entirely destroyed men begin again to look upon it with friendly eyes, and allow it to invade their streets again. In Europe, which has lost its horror of the woods, the street is a place to live in, and it is generously lined with trees. In this country, even when we have ideal boulevards, like King William Street in Adelaide, we decorate them with tramway standards and electric light poles, and leave them otherwise naked to the dust storm.

DEATH PENALTY IN WAR

After much obviously earnest consideration an interdepartmental committee on army discipline has just pronounced against the abolition of the death penalty for numerous military offences committed by soldiers on active service. In time of peace the committee recommends that it should be abolished for everything except mutiny, but for war very few alterations are suggested in the list of military crimes which carry with them the liability "to suffer death or such less punishment as in this act mentioned." The argued conclusions of the committee on this subject will be found to be interesting, but the general effect of them is to put aside any possibility of imprisonment and penal servitude as an effective deterrent on men who are obliged to be facing death in any event, and to insist on the retention of that ghastly business with a firing party as "the power in reserve" to support discipline on active service. The power is of course, much more often reserved than used ; of the death sentences passed during the war 89 per cent. were reduced by one or other of the competent revising authorities. But it remains as the last resort. From 1914 to 1918 it was many times carried out as the last resort, and the present committee (which thinks that no alleged miscarriages of justice in the matter of the death penalty have been substantiated) is convinced that it must be retained as the last resort because it enforces on the troops the lesson that complete self-sacrifice is demanded by military duty in war." Those who remember how blindly (to put it at the best) that complete self-sacrifice was often apportioned will perhaps smile a little grimly as they reconsider the ironies, the confusions, and, sometimes the baseness and "wrangling" which are inseparable from warfare on the grand scale. But there is the official position to be assailed with difficulty, on the death penalty—it must be kept because it cannot be spared. Those who are shocked by its retention should remember the real evil is war itself. The firing party and its victim is a cruel and hideous thing, but no more cruel and hideous than the soil from which it springs. —Manchester Guardian.

NEW CHEVROLET

The New Chevrolet is Six Years ahead. All of the new features embodied in this year's car have been tested and tried out by much higher priced cars for the past six years, therefore when you buy a Chevrolet you are buying a car that is far beyond the experimental stage. You know that every feature has proven its worth before being adopted by the Chevrolet Motor Co.

WHY TAKE A CHANCE

We invite you to come in and let us explain and demonstrate this wonderful New Chevrolet to you.

THE DOLE DENOUNCED

Brighton, England--A sweeping condemnation of the dole that is being given to the unemployed in this country was made by Sir Joseph Cook, Australian high commissioner in London, at a concert given by the Institute of Handicraft Teachers here yesterday. Sir Joseph spoke of the pernicious and vicious effects the dole was having on the youth of the nation and he dealt particularly with its grave handicap to empire emigration.

Sir Joseph said that since the dole to boys and young men had been increased, the difficulty of obtaining suitable emigrants for the dominions had been made infinitely greater. The people of England complained because Australia wanted only the best manhood of the country, Sir Joseph said, and he added : "Believe me, we cannot get them and do not expect to. If we could we would be glad, but we never shall while they can sit at home and do so wonderfully well for themselves. Few of the young men from the British cities are any good as emigrants because their minds are occupied by the dole and the picture shows, and this is closely related to the unemployed. They are not quite up to shifting for themselves."

Sir Joseph concluded by saying that sound training in technical trades would do more to increase the potentialities of the empire of the future than any other form of education.

Providence Journal : (Donald MacMillan is urging the Washington government to claim the lands near the North Pole.) The Canadian government has asserted its soverignty over the great northern islands west of Greenland, but we have been slightly indifferent to the potential value of all these white wildernesses. And yet Americans have comprised the most distinguished company of artic adventurers. Who is so wise as to say that United States territory at the pole may not be worth something to us some day under the new system of globe circling transportation that will eventually become a commonplace ?

Writing on the subject of "being on time," in attendance at theatres M. J. H. Benard says in the Montreal Gazette : The traveling public are forced to be courteous to the time-table by being on time, and a train does not wait for passengers, not even those of the parlor car class. Can we not be willingly courteous to the great artists who are visiting us if not for the sake of the artists themselves, for the sake and respect of the great masters like Chopin, Mozart, Bach, Beethoven whose music is interpreted in such masterly fashion by Casals, Corrot, Paderewski, dePachman, Hoffman, etc., and this by being on time for the sake of the immortals, let us be on time for the sake of the artists or let us be on time for the sake of those who are on time.

Greece is anxious to reconstruct its Parthenon and in this connection the proposal is made that Britain should return to that country the Elgin Marbles. The sculptures of Phidas are now a British possession. The moulds are in Britain as well as the replicas in plaster, which are sufficient to reveal their sculptural excellence. It is maintained that the Parthenon cannot be restored or reconstructed perfectly as long as Britain has the sculptures which belong to that structure. The suggestion of the restoration of these Elgin Marbles has come from a British source. It has not been asked for by Greece.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

Movie-Making in Canadian Rockies

1—Directing an Alaskan drama in Alberta. 2—A Northern villain hiding in the Rockies. 3—A scene from "The Alaskan" featuring Thomas Meighan and screened near Banff. 4—Thomas Meighan.

While it may be true that in the making of moving pictures Canada lags a trifle behind the United States, there is at least one particular in which American producers are becoming more and more dependant upon the Dominion for the proper production of their super-films. And that particular is—scenery.

They may have their stars, their mechanical contrivances, their experience and their wealth, but during the past few years they have learned that for sheer beauty of scenery and splendor of "settings", the Canadian Pacific Rocky Mountains are unsurpassable. That this discovery was made at all is due mainly to one, Mr. Ernest Shipman.

Two or three years ago it occurred to Mr. Shipman (who has produced some notable pictures in his time) that there were certain spots in the Rocky Mountains, such as Banff, Lake Louise, Emerald Lake and their environs, which were, on account of their singular beauty, admirably adapted to the production of Northern dramas. So he marshalled his forces, placed his beloved megaphone securely under his arms and embarked, via the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the Rocky Mountains

Here, with Henry MacRae directing, he proceeded to film "The Foreigner" near the shores of Lake Louise, with the magnificent mountains for a background, and, for a stage, one of the most exquisite spots on earth. The result was that, not only did he produce a splendid picture but that the Rockies sprang into instant popularity as a setting for northern dramas.

Since then scores of other "super-films" have been produced and many villains have paid the penalty of their foul deeds, many modest maidens have yielded to the wooing of strong, silent men; many dauntless heroes have faced the nameless terrors of the Alaskan wilds, on the peaceful shores of Emerald Lake and the innocent highway between Banff and Windermere.

Among the most notable pictures screened entirely or in part, with the Rockies for a background, are "Back to God's Country", "The River's End", "The Alaskan", "Empty Hands", "The Sky Pilot", "Glengarry Schooldays", "The Man From Glengarry", "The Valley of Silent Men", "Frivolous Sal", "Strongheart" and "The Foreigner".

The chances are, then, that when you sit in your favorite movie house and gaze in silent admiration on the forbidding beauty of Alaska, the hills of Shasta or the still Sierras, you are, in reality, gazing at something far nearer home, not nearly so forbidding and infinitely more beautiful—the Rocky Mountains themselves.

So, America may have her Hollywood and her monopoly of the industry, but now that the value of the Rockies as a place where people may shoot the rapids, kill each other, make love, win fortunes and indulge in the other pleasant pastimes peculiar to moviedom, has been realized, it is to be hoped that Canada's position in the realm of the silent drama will shortly become more prominent than it has been in the past.

The Rockies are now easily accessible, there are Canadian Pacific hotels at some of the most attractive points, the light, atmosphere and other conditions are good, and there is no reason in the world why they should not eventually become a veritable "Hollywood of the Hills."

RETARDING CANADA

The immigration quota law adopted by the United States Congress apparently has not accomplished the object for which it was ostensibly designed—or possibly it would be more correct to say that the quota law has accomplished the object for which it actually was designed. It has not reduced the number of immigrants entering the United States. It has increased the number of immigrants entering the United States from some countries and reduced the number of immigrants entering from other countries.

The United States Bureau of Immigration has published an explanation of the situation. It points out that the quota allotted to the British Isles, Germany and other countries of Northwestern Europe were greater, in some cases very much greater, than the normal immigration from those countries. Reckoning on the basis of immigration during the 25 years preceding the adoption of the act, the quota law put a severe restriction on the great movements from countries of south and eastern Europe and the near east, but left the way open for substantial increases from north and west Europe. Under the operation of the act the immigration from the favored nations has been considerably greater than in normal times previous to the adoption of the quota system. Therefore the United States is not reducing the volume of its immigration ; it is selecting its immigrants.

The most interesting part of the report to Canadians says : "Meanwhile the admissions from British North America have increased from 86,136 in 1914 to 200,690 in 1924." The federal government claims that many of those immigrants from Canada are coming back. We trust that is true. Possibly we might induce them all to come back, with others added to their number, if this government or any other government could be induced to adopt a policy for the stimulation of industries in Canada instead of maintaining and feeding and filling industries in the United States. For example it would to find out definitely how many people have gone from Vancouver Island to the States across the water and have found employment in industries that under a sound systm might just as well be established on Vancouver Island. But we are told that it would be a dangerous thing for Canada, that it might be a disastrous thing for Canada, to attempt even in a modified degree to follow the example of the United States. Yet the system adopted in the United States has produced the richest, the most prosperous and the most powerful nation in the world. Immigrants are being turned away from the doors of the United States. Canada is offering inducements to immigrants, and they will not come into the country in satisfactory numbers.—Colonist.

Some writers make quite a job of ridiculing Boards of Trade, Rotary Clubs, Kiwanis Clubs, and other like organizations because they exist to boost their home communities. But after all aren't some of these self appointed guardians of culture a bit superficial ? The editor is of the opinion that a broad view of this serving characteristic—pride in the home town—will convince one that it has a very definite and valuable place in the upbuilding of a better country.

Before we can have improvement we must have pride. The old well known saying might be changed to read : "Pride goeth before improvement." And boosting is merely an expression of pride. Think what it means to have thousands of of small cities scattered throughout the length and breadth of the land all boosting to build themselves up industrially, commercially, and intellectually, because before we can have culture we must have prosperity—before a nation can set about the task of improving itself mentally, its citizens must first be prosperous and comfortable.

So to those citizens of Fernie who are proud of the town and ready to boost everything that makes for progress we say : Keep on. You are contributing your bit to the improvement of our town—and to the growth and upbuilding of British Columbia.

Mr. Justice Murphy, in his very able talks on the history of British Columbia, has more than once urg-textbook on that subject for use in textbook on that subjec tfor use in the schools of the province. It is a good sound suggestion. The children of British Columbia can never be expected to take a maximum interest in the development of this province until their imaginations are fired by the romance of the province history. There is nothing like the glamour of history to make any place or spot interesting. And, unless such a spot has interest and an appeal to the imagination, it can never hold the young nor enlist the wholehearted aid of the young in its development. A good historical textbook for use in B.C. schools would have a real dollars and cents value such men as Professor Mack Eastman and Mr. Justice Murphy himself available right here in the province there shouldn't be any insurmountable difficulty in the way of creating such a textbook.—Vancouver Sun.

CANADIAN NATIONAL PROMOTES RESOURCES

SINCE its organization, the colonization and development department of the Canadian National Railways has given attention to the development of the natural resources of the territory traversed by Canadian National lines; and, in order to give greater effect to the activities of this branch of the department, it has been decided to place a representative in charge in the western region, whose chief duty will be to gather information and promote further the development of these resources, more especially in the provinces of British Columbia and Alberta. In this way, the facts obtained can be brought to the attention of those interested, with capital.

The office for this district will be at Edmonton, in charge of R. C. W. Lett, now General Agent, Colonization and Development Department, Canadian National Railways, who is well fitted for the work, having had considerable experience in connection with mining and lumbering, and during the past few years has made a very close study of the natural resources of British Columbia and Alberta.

Singapore Free Press : If other nations sincerely desire to further the peace cause in Germany, the most foolish thing they can do will be to try and effect some plan for ringing in Germany and branding her as a dangerous criminal. Such a course would inevitably achieve that unity in Nationalist reaction which is at present lacking. What has to be done is to find some method of assuring France safety which, at the same time, will give the war factions of Germany no opportunity for winning the peace factions over to their side. That method has not yet been found, but it is early yet to despair of it ever being found.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal says :"The average income is what the average man has to live on ; his necessities should be governed by the amount of that income ; luxuries may be indulged in if the amount of the income is greater than the amount required for necessaries. And we know that extravagance and waste are the resultof trying to put up a front or make a show in an effort to impress others. The high cost of living is not a myth, but the fellow who revised it to read the cost ofhigh living was more of a philosopher than a humorist.

FINANCIAL DANGERS

France is facing the danger of going through the same ordeal with the decline of the purchasing power of the franc as Germany experienced with the mark. The orthodox remedy of deflation which would mean the closing up of many prosperous French industries. Millions of French workers would be thrown out of employment as they have been in Germany and Austria under the control of international finance. But there is no statesman in France with sufficient political power to put the French people through the ordeal of deflation. Premier Herriot came the nearest to it.

Any successor whose term of office depends upon the support of Raymond Poincare must be prepared to follow more militant paths of relief for France. Nor is the French natio to be blamed for declining to take the leap into trade depression and unemployment. It is still doubtful whether British trade can recover from the financial policy of the last five years, without revolutionary changes in the control of finance. The prospects of French recovery, once the descent is made, would be still more doubtful. The possible alternative under militant French administration may be disturbing to the powers in other lands, but it is one of the consequences of persisting in trying to turn the hands of the clock back to normal rather than undertake any radical policy of reconstruction along paths that lead away from economic warfare.

THE GOLD COAST COLONY

Among the more conspicuous of the news reports over the week end were those telling of the visit of the Prince of Wales to the Gold Coast. But it is safe to assume that not one in a thousand knows more of the the Gold Coast, than that it stands out conspicuously on the map of west Africa, somewhere between Sierra Leone and Nigera. What it contributes to the British Commonwealth, how it became a colony and other information of that kind is probably known to but few.

The whole of the Gold Coast colony, which includes Ashanti and Northern Territories, is almost twice as large as Newfoundland. Three quarters of the country is covered with primeval forests and jungle, but it does a considerable trade in gold, palm oil, cocoa and rubber. More than a hundred years ago it was the scene of a big slave trade. The latter was at its height in 1750, when 10,000 were exported annually. Successively British, French, Dutch, Portuguese traders have exploited the Gold Coast. A hundred years ago the British government abandoned it to the British traders there. The latter, however, maintained the forts and appointed an administrator, George McLean. He settled the current disturbances and brought order, and Britain extended its jurisdiction over the colony again in 1844.

As observed, though comparatively few know much regarding the colony, and the colony itself remains inconspicuous in the ordinary course of events. Yet one day the Prince of Wales visits it, and the spotlight is turned on. For a few glorious days it occupies a conspicuous place in the day's news.

Britain's Radium Institute, which has been open for fourteen years, has had 14,500 patients who have been given 103,000 treatments. A general statment has now been issued on results as follows : "Great symtomatic relief and prolongation of life, accompanied not infrequently by 'apparent cure'of the condition, are seen in many cases of malignant disease ; but even though some such patients have been in good health for periods ranging from seven to thirteen years, it would be extremely unwise to perdict that any or all of them would remain free from recurrence indefinitely. The repute of radium therapy has suffed severly from the irrational enthusiasm and unthinking expectation whish so often attend the appearance of a new remedy ; but none the less, it is impossible to deny that radium is a thrapeutic agent of great and in some respects, unique power. With increased knowledge and improved technique it may be hoped that the time will come when the word 'cure' may be used deliberately and justi fiably with regard to the radium treatment of a constantly increasing number of cases of malignant disease.

Energy for Men in Fry's

A DAILY cup of FRY'S Cocoa will do wonders in giving that energy of body and clearness of mind, you need for a good day's work.

To read the analysis of FRY'S Cocoa is readily to believe the claims of Dr. Andrew Wilson, F.R.S.E., Dr. Robt. Hutchison and many other scientists, that it is the nearest thing to "liquid energy" that exists in the world to-day. Food for every department of the human body, and Nature's kindliest stimulant for heart and nerve—theobromine—is found in FRY'S. Tea and coffee are mere flavours but FRY'S is a complete food.

FRY'S has that delicate "chocolaty" flavour that comes only from a blend of the choicest cocoa beans and the experience of 200 years.

CITY COUNCIL HOLD SESSION

The city council held their first May meeting last evening with all the aldermen present and Mayor Irvine in the chair.

A resolution from the Fernie branch of the G.W.V.A. was read protesting against the recent appointment to the fire chief vacancy and requesting that preference be given to returned soldiers when filling vacancies. The council voiced the opinion that all other things being equal, returned soldiers would receive preference in future.

A circular letter from Premier Oliver requested the council to express their opinion upon the proposed change in the Municipal Elections Act, which would change the date of civic elections to some date in December each year instead of in January as at present. The council by motion favored the amendment.

A motion was passed that all owners of horses and cattle must within the next two weeks provide tightly covered boxes in which all manure must be placed and the box cleaned out weekly.

A petition from property owners adjacent to the city limits to the north end of the city requested that they be given fire protection by the city, the fee to be mutually agreed upon. The council will meet a delegation of the petitioners to arrange this matter.

The directors of the E.K. Teleprone Co. attended the meeting to discuss the council's request that their contract with the city be fulfilled. A. K. Leitch, addressing the council, stated that this contract had been made in 1908, and that while they had not come to the council to question the validity of the contract, they stated that it had been drawn up at a time when the cost of material, staff, etc., was nearly 100 per cent less than at the present time and that if the company were compelled to follow the contract and reduce the present rates they could not exist. He also stated that the telephone rates in existence at the present time are not higher than those in effect in adjacent cities. Asked as to the Cranbrook rate, Mr. Leitch stated that the Cranbrook rates were exactly the same as in Fernie. The Cranbrook rate had been lower, but in 1920 the company had applied to the Public Utilities Board and had been granted an increase, which brought the rates up to the same as Fernie. He also quoted prevailing rates in a number of B.C. and Alberta cities, showing Macleod to be the only town having a slightly lower rate.

The company, he added, since its inception in 1908 had only paid two cash dividends of 6 per cent. There had been stock dividends which did not bring the total dividends paid to over 7 per cent. Dollar stock in the company had been offered at 65c and refused. He stated that the company was run very economically to keep down expenditure, and that should any reduction in rates be made the entire profit would be wiped out and the company eventually forced out of business.

The delegation then withdrew and the council decided to leave the matter over until next meeting.

J. L. Gates complained against the flat charge of $5 made for beer parlors for water service. This matter was also laid over pending information from other cities.

The new city electrician reported that he expected to proceed immediately with a thorough inspection of the city lighting system.

The B. C. Equipment Co. were given exclusive selling rights for the city power house machinery for six months, the selling price to be confirmed by the city and a commission of 10 per cent paid.

The parks committee reported that the making of a football ground in the city park was impracticable but recommended that the fence at the park be repaired as early as possible and that tenders be called for the work.

The purchase of 440 feet of 6 inch De Laval cast iron pipe was authorized, to replace the 6 inch wooden water main leading from Victoria avenue to the Park.

The levying of rates bylaw was up for final consideration and passed.

Bylaws confirming recent sales of property reverting to the city from tax sales passed three readings and were finally passed.

The two best places to eat — at home and at the Waldorf Cafe.

WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN DIES

Ivor Hughes, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hughes, of West Fernie, passed away at his home early Tuesday morning, following an illness of only five days' duration.

The young lad had been injured at his work in the Coal Creek yard about two weeks previous to his illness but had not mentioned anything about it to his parents. Last Thursday morning he complained of a pain in his side and the doctor was called. On examination he was found to have two ribs broken. The next day he became seriously ill and the doctors found that pneumonia had set in and gave out very little hope for his recovery.

Ivor has been a member of the Fernie Boy Scout Troop for many years and was held in high esteem by the boys.

The citizens of Fernie extend their heartfelt sympathy to his family in their great loss.

The funeral will be held from the family residence on Sunday afternoon.

W. R. WILSON AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver, May 1.—Interference with private business which came as a war measure put a stop to negotiations which would have given British Columbia the first unit of a steel plant, according to Mr. W. R. Wilson, president of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, in an address to the mining bureau of the Board of Trade here.

The subject was broached by Mr. Wilson in the course of his remarks on the coal market situation. At Fernie, he said, they are mining the best coal in America for certain purposes. Its coking qualities attracted attention. Mr. Wilson interested capital in a proposal for the construction of a steel plant within easy reach of the raw material. Mr. C. P. Hill located iron areas near the British Columbia-Alberta boundary and Mr. Wilson had arranged for a class of iron ore which mixed with the local product, would have made an excellent iron for steel manufacture.

The deal fell through when, on account of the war demands for coal, Mr. Wilson's company could not guarantee a minimum coke production over a period of years.

"We were not asking any government support for this steel project," remarked Mr. Wilson.

BOARD TRADE WILL ASSIST

The regular monthly luncheon of the Board of Trade was held at the Fernie Hotel on Monday last. Robt. Johnstone and R. Phillips appeared before the Board requesting the members to take an active interest in raising funds for hospital purposes.

Mr. Johnstone gave a lengthy talk on what had already been done. The hospital was now in good running order, with a matron and four nurses, and the equipment, while not the best, was still in fair shape. The entire cost of running the hospital would be in the neighborhood of $1500 per month. The available revenue in sight would possibly raise a trifle over this amount. The 800 employees of the C.N.P. Coal Co. were each contributing 90 cents a month, the balance being made up by government subsidy, liquor profits, compensation cases and other city cases. While it looked as if there would be enough money in sight to keep the hospital going, Mr. Johnstone said there would be nothing left for the upkeep of equipment, or for emergency purposes, and he suggested the sale of hospital tickets at $10 each to raise money for this purpose, and asked the Board to get behind the movement.

R. Phillips also spoke at considerable length on the hospital question. He would like to see a magnificent hospital in Fernie equipped with all the latest scientific appliances known to man, and have an institution that would be known all over the west. He saw no reason why this should not be acocmplished in the next few years.

A motion was passed by the Board that the executive select a committee to assist in raising money for hospital purposes.

Hello fellows! See your girl at her best at the Elks second annual ball, in Victoria Hall, June 2.

OUR COAL REJECTED

Two or three years ago the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company made a a strong effort to put our coal on the Winnipeg market, but they met with very stiff opposition from a lot of the dealers who evidently for reasons of their own did everything they could to keep it out of the field. Recent investigations on the part of the Dominion Government have revealed a line of graft on the part of some of the said dealers which thoroughly explains the difficulty which our company was up against at that time. A writ was issued the other day at Winnipeg in the Court of King's Bench on behalf of His Majesty the King against the Canadian Coal Sales Company, claiming payment of $160,028, alleged to have been overpaid by the government on contracts by the defendant company for the supply of coal of specific name to the Tuxedo military barracks since 1920. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, is named as prosecutor of the action on behalf of His Majesty.

The statment of claims set forth that by document in writing dated June 10, 1920, the defendant offered to deliver to the barracks in Winnipeg 6,500 tons of Blairmore mine run coal at $13.50 a ton which offer was accepted. The defendant, however, delivered only 3,176 tons of the coal named, it is alleged, and presented invoices for 6,500 tons for which payment ws made by which it is alleged the defendant received $44,200.30 beyond the amount for which he had delivered coal of the kind specified in the contract.

A further claim is made that by a contract made in 1921, calling for the delivery of 7,650 tons of Yoghioghany steam coal, the defendant charged and was paid for 7,649 tons, although it is alleged only 5,128 tons of the coal were actually delivered and the government as a consequence overpaid the the defendant $23,327.50.

It is further alleged that under three additional contracts for a supply of coal made in 1922 and 1923 the defendant charged and was paid for 9996 tons of coal although only 3333 tons were delivered and the government overpaid the contractor $63,668.

It is also alleged that from April 1 to December 1921, the contractor charged the government for 2,499 tons of coal, although 611 tons of coal mentioned in the contract were delivered and the contractor was overpaid on this deal $19,737. A further charge sets forth that between January 1, 1924 and May 31 the contractor charged the government with 2903 tons of coal but delivered only 1961 tons and was overpaid $9,696.42 in this connection.

Archibald C. Campbell, K.C., is the solicitor for the plaintiff.

From the above it will be quite easy to understand what chance an honest concern trying to sell coal on its merits would have with dealers of the type of the above mentioned Winnipeg concern.

BERT BEATTIE PASSES AWAY

Cranbrook, May 5.—News of the sudden death of Robert Ethelbert Beattie, Vancouver harbor commissioner, in Spokane today was received with profound regret in this city, where he resided for more than 25 years.

Mr. Beattie came to this city at the time of railway construction in 1898, and was in business here until his removal to Vancouver two years ago.

He was born at Oak Lake, Man., about 53 years ago and his father is still living in Portage la Prairie with a daughter. A brother, George Beattie, formerly of this city, now resides on Vancouver Island, and another member of the family is residing in Minneapolis.

Three daughters remain in Mr. Beattie's immediate family, the Misses Elsie, Mary and Jean. He was predeceased by his wife three years ago, Mrs. Beattie being buried here.

The late Mr. Beattie had extensive interests in this city and in the East Kootenay. He owned a large drug store business here which he disposed of a short time ago, and only last week sold his drug business in Creston. He was also a large holder in the Kootenay Telephone Lines of Cranbrook and Fernie, and in the Cranbrook Electric Light company, which was taken over by the city of Cranbrook. He had a ranch at St. Mary's Prairie, near here, and another producing grain farm in Alberta, and was also interested in the Gamble mining properties at Fort Steele, as well as lumber concerns and other undrtakings in this city, Kimberley and elsewhere.

In 1921, at the general election, he was elected Liberal member for East Kootenay, after being unsuccessful at the election of 1917, but he resigned his seat to make way for Hon. J. H. King, who was a lifelong friend.

Mr. Beattie left here Saturday for Spokane, after having closed the deal for the disposal of his drug store business at Creston. He was a past master of Cranbrook lodge, A.F. & A.M., and was also a member of the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, Knights of Pythias and Native Sons. Contingent upon the wishes of his family, it is expected he will be buried here, being given a Masonic funeral.

ALBERTA COAL COMMISSION

Holding its first public sitting on Tuesday at Calgary, the Alberta Coal Commission, consisting of Messrs. H. M. E. Evans, (chairman), R.G. Drinnan, of Edmonton, and F. W. Wheatley, of Blairmore, heard from Prof. J. W. Allan, provincial geologist and head of the department of geology at the University of Alberta, that the coal resources of Alberta, to a depth of 1,000 feet, were 62 billion tons, with approximately one-half of this recoverable.

They also heard from John T. Stirling. provincial chief inspector of mines, that from 1905 to 1919 $10,000,000 of capital had been lost through abandoned coal mines in Alberta, and from 1919 to date, $2,000,000, a total of $12,000,000 in 20 years.

Mr. Stirling gave as one of the reasons for this huge capital loss lack of markets.

Dr. Allan added that in his opinion, proper survey of areas proposed to be developed, if undertaken by competent geologists before any capital expenditure was undertaken, might have saved capital loses in many of these cases.

Howard Stuchbury, provincial trade commissioner, gave evidence at the afternoon session on coal marketing.

The evidence of Mr. Stirling related chiefly to statistics supplied by his department relative to coal mining costs, wages, output, etc., and he has undertaken to supply additional information asked for by the commission along various lines.

Dr. Allan took the commission through an interesting geological class morning, tracing the geological growth of Western Canada through the ages and describing the changes which had taken place since the period before there were any Rocky Mountains.

Asked as to the statment that Alberta coal was of low grade as compared with the world's coal supply, Dr. Allan did not agree. Germany Japan, China, South America and other countries all had much coal which was below that in Alberta in quality he stated, adding that the figures given in the "Coal Resources of the World" publication gave a wrong impression of Alberta's resources, both as to quantity and quality.

PLAYERS CLUB OF THE UNIVERSITY OF B.C.

The Players' Club is giving 20 performances of "You and I" this season.

Speaking of the Vancouver performance, when the play ran three nights at the Orpheum theatre before capacity houses:

The Star remarks: "It was a packed house that greeted the Players on the opening night, and a thoroughly delighted audience viewed the performance. The play is clevely written and at no time is interest allowed to drag."

The Province: "The individual acting is far beyond the average."

The Sun: "It is better to build fine minds than to present fine plays. The Players' Club of the U.B.C. is happy in being able to do both.

The Nanaimo Herald endorsed the play as follows: "The Varsity Players scored a greater hit last night than in former years. The insistent comedy evidently delighted the patrons as demonstrations to that effect were continually manifested."

The Dominion government will contribute 75c a ton toward paying the freight rates on 25,000 tons of Alberta coal being shipped to Ontario.

PERVERTED MORALS

Forgery, gambling and cheating are the common and accepted practise among a large percentage of high school pupils in New York City ; under their perverted code it is only he who is caught who is guilty of an offense. It is not immoral to cheat, but it is inexcusable to be found out. This is from the report to the New York City Board of Education of its Committee on Character, which for a year has been making a special survey of moral conditions in high schools. The report bears out in startling degree the findings in the article on juvenile delinquency appearing in the Liteary Digest of Mar. 28, under the title of the "Juvenile Jazz to Jail," which has been widely commented on in the press. The great age of jazz then is damned by its fruits. Morality, in its wider sense is placed in the attic of the mind, along with the discarded philosophies of a primitive age, and youth meanders down the primrose path, careless of immediate perils and oblivious of the path which waits it at the end. In the New York high schools we have an example as ominous for the future as any that has been brought to public attention, and, dangerous as the literary vice of repetition is, this survey of lamentable conditions in the country's greatest metropolis must be listed with all those others which have been dinned into our ears. To begin with the authors of the report, who have gone about their duties with painstking care and the zeal of crusaders, are forced to admit that at present the church, as a direct moral agency, touches the lives of only a small proportion of our youth —a charge too often brought—and that "those who teach in ew York City know too well how sadly lacking is the moral influence in many homes to-day"—further evidence of the sin of omission committed by parents. These teachers know that in many homes the parent is no longer the controlling and direct influence. It may not be surprising, then, that the investigators find that the character of the student body has radically changed in the past twenty years and no longer represents the select group preparing for college. As we read the printed report :

"A cosmopolitan high school is a cross-section of the great city itself, including every element of society, every race, every color, every creed. As a result, the school disciplinarian has to deal with every conceivable kind of crime. He must frequently call upon the police for help. To maintain law and order he needs the training of a detective ; he often wishes he had a finger-print expert, a psychologist and a psychiatrist.

"Fortunately this element constitutes but a small fractional part of our high school population. The rest are interesting young people to know and work with, full of enthusiasm and energy and responsive to leadership. It is true that some of them are loud, ill-mannered and over-confident. Others are of the flapper type, with the bobbed locks and ever-ready mirror, rouge and powder puff. But this is only the exterior development of their environment. They are in reality, warm-hearted, generous-minded boys and girls, full of initiative, surprisingly free from prejudices and remarkably loyal in their devotion to an ideal to which they are pledged.

"But," says the committee, "the shock comes when we learn their code of morals." For the investigators discovered that—"These same delightful young people believe that it is all right if they can get away with it. They lack respect for parents and for authority. To copy home-work is entirely honorable if they are not caught. Forging a signature is a simple way of saving a lot of trouble. 'Cutting' is to be commended if they can 'get by.' Theiving is a matter of almost daily occurrence. Cheating is no disgrace if the offender is not detected.

"Shooting craps" is an ordinary pastime among boys. When called to account they are seldom sorry that they have offended, but they are extremely sorry that they got caught.

"Now this characterization does not apply to the whole high school student body by any means, but it does apply to a large percentage of our boys and girls. They have adopted the code of the street because they have never learned a higher code of morals."

"In the face of these facts the committee believes that there is urgent need of moral instruction in the high schools. We must give definite, positive instruction as to questions of right and wrong. The school program must provide opportunity for frank discussions of matters of conduct and behavior. The aim should be to develop clear-cut conceptions of positive virtues, to present the principles of right living that will govern boys and girls in making moral decisions, rather than to stress the negative, 'Thou shalt not.' "

Admitting that such a program will require radical changes of present-day educational aims and practices, the committee says that the high schools have hitherto regarded intellectual attainment as the chief aim and that character-building and training for citizenship have been very much relegated to the background. The committee, however, opposes the proposed plan to excuse pupils from school in regular hours to attend church schools for religious instruction, maintaining that there is ample time outside of school for religious instruction. Here is a summary of recommendations for character-building in the school.

1. The formation and adoption by students of ethical codes and their use as the sanction of school collective opinion for standards of rights.
2. The use of section and general assemblies for instructional and inspirational work in character education.
3. The training of students in responsibility for standards of conduct, manners and taste, through student organizations.
4. The use of citizenship, or character, ratings on the permanent records and on the reports to parents.
5. Discipline, based on sympathic understanding, with attempt to change student's attitude. Services of psychogolists for better understanding of abnormal pupils.
6. Sympathetic cooperation with the home and with welfare agencies.
7. Revision of wording on diplomas to include both character and scholarship qualifications.
8. Emphasis on demands of colleges and business firms for credentials of good character.
9. That the position of Dean be established in high schools, for direction of character education.

The revelations made in the committee's report bring a shock to many editors, too, and they pause, in writing of more worldly things, to say a good word for the committee's recommendations, and to lament that there is such dire need of them. "Certainly it may be said that it would be better by far for the proper development of citizenship to give elementary and fundmental moral instruction in the schools than to seek the desired end by early instruction in civics or in the political conditions and problems of the country," comments the Springfield Union. "The principles of civics should properly come after proper principles of individual conduct has been taught and mastered. Thinking morally is a prime requisite for thinking accurately." In the opinion of the Brooklyn times, "We have jammed our curricula with every kind of material science ; we have crowded out of it the most important of all sciences." And the New York Telegram and Evening Mail notes that the revelations "cannot be dismissed as an effort to draw an indictment against the whole high school population. It is simply a case of describing a stream of tendency in no uncertain terms, and the warning of the board of survey should be attended to."

The Providence News says : There is a terrible seriousness in the result of the Literary Digest's attempt to get at more fundamental causes. In doing so it has published a survey which ought to make every American father and mother sit up and think whether they are doing their duty by those forthe growth of whose tender minds and bodies they must bear the first responsibility.. With the immensity of the problem confronting us, says the Cleveland Catholic Bulletin, "the mind is staggered by the thought of what is in store for the future—when the irreligious, unmoral youth of to-day become the fathers and mothers of the children of the years to come."

Possibly some parents would defend themselves by saying that their children have gotten beyond control, remarks the Pittsburg Gazette Times, "This may be true in some instances, but on whom is the blame ? It is the duty of the parents to preserve authority over their children. If this is done with wisdom it is not likely to be unfruitful." The Pittsburg Press thinks that everybody should ask himself, "What kind of a home am I making for my children—what are the ideals taught there ?" Juvenile delinquency is not an isolated phenomenon, remarks the Springfield Republican, but a symptom of a deep-rooted social disorder which has been felt throughout the civilized world since the Great War, "and it can not be doubted, largely because of it. But even though part of a large whole, juvenile delinquency is a challenge to parenthood, officers of the law, school authorities, the churches and organizations maintained for social betterment, but to all good citizens." Perhaps the saving hope in the situation, observes the Boston Transcript, lies in the fact that it is receiving increasing attention.

VACCINATION EFFECTIVE

Before the discovery of vaccination by Dr. William Jenner, smallpox caused one-tenth of the deaths in ordinary times, one-half in epedemics, and destroyed maimed or disfigured one-quarter of mankind. The evidence that vaccination at the present time practically prevents smallpox is overwhelming.

Countries that are most efficiently vaccinated suffered least from the scourge. Germany, where vaccination is obligatory, has been free from the disease for more than forty years while the adjacent nations are never free. Systematic vaccination by the surgeons of the army of the United States in six provinces of the Phillipines, having an approximate population of one million reduced the annual mortality from smallpox from six thousand to nothing ; during the succeeding five years there was not a death from this disease in this region of a vaccinated person.

In 1885 smallpox broke out in Montreal, the upper classes protected themselves by vaccination and escaped ; the ignorant classes refused and three thousand perished.

MEDICAL RESEARCH

A new discovery is claimed to have simplified the whole technique of the treatment of disease by radium. The gas called radon given off by radium ras been captured and in a condensed and purified form bottled in glass vessels about the size of a bean. These capillary tubes can be applied in any form that clinical conditions dictate for irradiation of any part, however large or small of the human body. There is a chance that this discovery may be effective in certain cancer cases which up to now have resisted treatment. There are three rays thrown off by radium—the alpha, beta and gamma rays. Up to now only the gamma rays, which penetrate nearly all substances, have been used on patients. By utilizing radon instead of radium the beta ray can be brought to bear, and the effect of this ray on the tissue is known to be profound. Greater results still may be expected from the conjunction of both the beta and gamma rays. The "seeds," as the tiny glass capsules of radon have been named, lose their strength in about a week, but the stock of radium from which the gas is derived is semi-everlasting, so that fresh "seeds" can be obtained continuously. The new process was discovered at the Middlesex Hospital.

'TIS A DOG'S LIFE

To the Oriental the dog is a thing of contempt. That is perhaps the reason why there is nothing good about dogs in the bible. Bpt it is doubtful if even oriental contempt ever put the dog as low as the newest reported fashion from Paris of insisting that the pet dog be the same color as the costume it is worn with.

They will be changing husbands next, from fat to slim, to match the changing styles of "silhoutette." A dog is nothing if not an individual. That is scarcely the quality that makes dogs so human. To de-personalize a dog is a worse insult than to abuse it. It may brutalize you, but it can scarcely spoil the dog's heriditary character. But don't subject it to the indignity of being dyed to "match a costume."

All that wrinkle are not rolled.

NOW everyone, anywhere, can have the conveniences and savings of electric light and power. This new Delco-Light plant is offered at an amazingly lower price than any Delco-Light plant was ever offered before. It can be bought on terms so easy that no farm family need be without the wonderful benefits of electricity any longer.

A Revolutionary Low Price

This new Delco-Light plant is a genuine Delco-Light—backed by the satisfaction of over a quarter-million Delco-Light users. It is a non-storage battery plant, equipped with a standard Delco starter and an economical starting battery. It has full 600-watt capacity—is strong, sturdily built, economical in operation. And its price is only $255 f.o.b. Toronto—the most sensational price and the most startling value ever offered in a Delco-Light plant.

Made Possible by Delco-Light

For months we have been working on the development of this new Delco-Light. Our years of experience as the world's largest manufacturers of farm electric plants have enabled us to design a plant which will give dependable electric light to any home. And our enormous manufacturing facilities enable us to build this plant at the lowest possible cost and to sell it at an amazingly low price.

A Small Down Payment—Balance on Easy Terms

This new Delco-Light Electric plant can be paid for on terms so easy that anyone can take advantage of them. Even though the cost is only $255 f.o.b. Toronto, you need make only a small down payment.

Never before has such an opportunity been presented. Never before has Delco-Light cost so little and been so easy to buy. It means that any farm home—your home—can have Delco-Light today.

Send Coupon Immediately

This Lassie Has Her Colds "Rubbed Away"

The mother of this attractive little girl, Mrs. E. E. Emmans, of 215 Seventh Ave., N. E., Portage La Prairie, Man., is one of the many Canadian mothers who are enthusiastic about the vaporizing salve, Vicks VapoRub, for treating children's colds. Mrs. Emmans writes: "My little girl had croup at night pretty badly and Vicks did her a lot of good. I have also used it with very satisfactory results for head and chest colds."

Vicks is just "rubbed on" for sore throat, tonsilitis, bronchitis, croup or deep chest colds. When so applied, Vicks has a double direct action: internally medicated vapors are inhaled while, at the same time, externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin.

Canadian cities invested $317,994 in public recreation during 1924, according to the Playground and Recreation Association of America, which has just issued its year book of recreation statistics. This sum, reported by fifteen cities in eight provinces, is three times as much as the expenditure reported for this purpose by Canadian cities ten years ago.

HOME BANK AFFAIRS

Toronto, May 4.—A bank director is entitled to a complete true statement furnished him by the bank's general manager and has no duty imposed on him to inform himself of the affairs of the bank, beyond the transactions at the board meetings, except in the case of a request being made for special information, it was argued this morning by N. W. Rowell, K.C., in seeking of the first divisional court quashing of the conviction by Judge Coatsworth of J. F. M. Stewart, a director of the Home Bank, for negligence in concurring in a false report.

There was no duty on the director, Mr. Rowell claimed, to manage or investigate the details of the bank's business, but only to exercise a general control.

Mr. Stewart was convicted by Judge Coatsworth some weeks ago and sentenced to four month's imprisonment with an additional four months indeterminate. His appeal is the third of the directors to come before the court. In the other two judgment has been reserved.

Mr. Rowell argued that the trial judge had erred in various ways in arriving at a decision in the case. He claimed the judge erred in his view of the law as to the duties of directors and that that error was fundmental. He had erred in his view of the offence for which Stewart was tried, and had found him guilty of general negligence in the performance of duty, of which the judge had set the standard.

The crown, argued counsel, had given no evidence to show that Stewart had concurred in the bank report. He submitted that both on law and evidence that accused should have been acquitted.

ST. EUGENE TO REVIVE

Construction work is to commence almost immediately at the old St. Eugene mine at Moyie upon a plant to treat the tailings on the dump of that famous old East Kootenay producer, it is officially confirmed from the offices of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, at Trail.

The plant will be a mill of 500 tons capacity, which as mills go in the Kootenay, is a large one, though exceeded in size by the one at Trail, and a mere infant of course to the one at Kimberley. It is estimated that the small plant, as it is referred to in Consolidated circles, has three or four steady years' operation before it in treating the St. Eugene tails. "It is a very simple process," admitted T. W. Bingay, comptroller of the company, "nothing difficult about it, and nothing much to say except the step is going to be taken."

For years the St. Eugene mine was the big source of silver-lead ore for the Consolidated's lead smelter, and year in and year out turned out ore and concentrates on a scale to vie with the company's copper-gold operations at Rossland. At various times it seemed to be playing out, but came in again with new depth. Finally, before the war, the end of its commercial operation was reached, the big mill was dismantled, and the old workings being a happy hunting ground for lessees.

But the years of operation left a heritage in a large dump, and this is now to be made to yield up its accumulation of values, for a world that at the present time appreciates lead, in comparison with the former days.

The Province of Ontario last year organized an aircraft service for the purpose of forest patrol work. In 1924, 595 incipient fires were detected and extinguished by the forest patrols. Although the government of Ontario has purchased hydroplanes and equipment for its service it spent during 1924 a sum of $208,000 less for the purpose than in 1923. This would indicate that the use of aircraft is economical as well as effective.

His Hearing Restored

The invisible ear drum invented by A. O. Leonard, which is a miniature megaphone, fitting inside the ear entirely out of sight, is restoring the hearing of hundreds of people in New York city. Mr. Leonard invented this drum to relieve himself of deafness and head noises, and it does it so successfully that no one can tell he is a deaf man. It is effective when deafness is caused by catarrh or by wholly destroyed natural drums. A request for information to A. O. Leonard, Suite 436, 70 Fifth Ave., New York City, will be given a prompt reply. [Adv.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 6

Appearance of Tea No Guide

The only way to test tea is to taste it. Many people have the idea that a finely rolled and tippy tea is superior in flavour to a large rough leaf. In reality this is not of necessity the case. The altitude at which the tea plant grows determines the amount of essential oil and alkaloid theine in the leaf. The essential oil gives tea its flavour; the theine contributes the stimulating value. The only way to insure always receiving a uniform quality is to insist upon a skilfully blended and scientifically sealed tea like "SALADA" whose reliability, goodness and delicious flavour have become a household word.

EDITORIAL ECHOES

Mother's Day, the second Sunday in May, is at hand, and we cannot let this gentle occasion pass without attempting to pay a tribute to the sweetest of God's gifts, Mother.

Where is the man who can put his soul on paper that all may gaze? Your editor has not the gift of words to express what is in his heart, but he does know that in the soul of each of us there is a tender longing again to kneel at Mother's side, as you and I did years ago, and, looking into her eyes, say, "Mother I love you."

If you who have your mother still with you, will do just this simple little act, it will bring tears of joy and pride to many a Mother's eyes grown dim through years of loving, nursing and denial.

Many of us cannot be at home on Mother's Day. Let each of us who is away that day kneel for a few minutes and pray to God in his infinite wisdom to make each of us better and worthier sons and daughters.

If all of us could go home, and kneeling at her side, say, "Mother, I love you," she would understand all that words fail to say.

To describe the love of a child for its mother, indeed, we must be possessed of the speech of angels.

On this day be sure and wear a red or white carnation, a simple and mute but beautiful tribute to your mothers. And each of us might do well to pause and consider the words which were breathed from the cross: "When Jesus therefore saw his mother and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, He saith unto his mother, Woman behold thy son!" "Then saith He to the disciple, Behold thy mother. and froh that hour that disciple took her unto his own home."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Oakley are spending a few weeks at Kansas City.

Dr. Pickering returned on Saturday from Invermere, where he spent a week on business.

Geo. Spears, of Vancouver, organizer for the $2500 Club, an insurance institution, is in the city today.

Yes, everybody is going to the Grand Theatre on Tuesday evening, May 26, to be present with "You and I." tf

Thos. Spears, on oldtimer in Fernie, arrived from the coast last week and secured a position at the Coal Creek mines.

Wm. Coates, of Vancouver, who worked at Coal Creek some 15 years ago, is back here again and is working at Coal Creek.

Hello girls! Are you getting ready for the Elks second annual ball, to be held on Tuesday evening, June 2, in Victoria Hall. Are you going to get one of their souvenirs?

E. S. H. Winn, chairman of the B.C. Compensation Board, and Dr. Ney, visited Fernie and Michel yesterday on an official visit of inspection. They spent several hours at the Fernie Hospital.

Archie Cartwright and Kenny Stewart motored from Vancouver early in the week with W. R. Wilson's new Marmon car. This is the first real car that has been owned in Fernie and it sure is a peach.

The Ancient Order of Foresters will hold another of their whist drives and dances in the I.O.O.F. Hall on Monday night, May 18. Cards commence at 8 p.m. Evans orchestra. Refreshments. Admission 50c. 8-2

It will take a lot of real work yet to put the hairpin bridge and the fill-in at that spot in proper condition for travel. The provincial government can spend a lot of real money at that point without hurting it a bit.

The Salvation Army Self Denial will take place from May 10 to 17. This effort is for Home and Missionary work ;also for local purposes. We would like to solicit the kind co-operation of all Fernie citizens in responding to our needs.

At a meeting of the Fernie Board of Trade held this week it was decided to discontinue monthly luncheons during the months of June, July and August, unless business of importance came up for discussion that would necessitate a function of this kind.

The monthly meeting of the Fernie District Rod and Gun Club will be held in the city council chamber on Tuesday evening next, May 12, at 8 p.m. All members are requested to be present as very important business is to be discussed at this meeting.

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church will hold a tea and sale of home cooking in the basement of the church on Saturday afternoon, May 16. There will also be a table of handicraft from the Foreign Mission School, including filet lace, oriental embroidery and beads.

The first football game of the season will be played in Fernie at the North End grounds on Sunday afternoon, May 10, at 4 p.m. The local team has a number of new players and it looks as if they would be able to hold their own with their opponents, the strong Michel aggregation. Be sure and turn out. The boys need your assistance.

Few people have any idea how much money goes out of this town every year under the levies of the B.C. Compensation Act. In 1923 the C. N. P. Coal Co. paid over $100,000, or 4 per cent of their total payroll. It would be interesting to know just what percentage this district contributes to the entire collection for the province.

Gordon Campbell, of the Kevin-Sunburst oil field, well known oil company promoter, was on Wednesday sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and a $1000 fine on a charge of fraudulent oil promotion and using the mails to defraud. A lot of Fernie money has been invested at different times in Campbell's ventures.

In recognition of the efforts being put forth by the Cranbrook Board of Trade in the direction of publicity for the district, the Cranbrook Retail Merchants have voted $500 to defray the cost of advertising the natural resources and scenic values of East Kootenay. The resolution was passed at an executive meeting of the association held last week.

Three more Fernie hotels have been granted beer licenses during the past week, viz., the Fernie, the Royal and the Roma. They will open just as soon as the carpenters can put their parlors in shape. The provincial government have shown considerable judgment in not playing any favorites in the granting of beer licenses.

After being in existence for almost six years the Creston post of the R.C.M.P. was closed on Thursday last, Inspector Bruce coming from Fernie for that purpose, and Corp. Hanna, who has been in charge since Corp. Smith left, proceeded to headquarters at Lethbridge, Alta.—Creston Review.

FERNIE GOLF NOTES

The men's bi-weekly foursome competition took place on Wednesday last. The weather was all that could be desired and a large number of players took part in this event. Tommy Wilson won the competition with a net score of 65 for the 18 holes. A noteworthy feature in Tommy's game was his consistent and accurate long driving. Players are reminded to turn in their cards after their games. The winner in these events will be determined only from the score cards turned in.

GREAT WESTERN DRAMA IS COMING

One of the most romantic phases of the world's history, and certainly the most spectacular period in American chronicles, is slowly vanishing. The passing of the old American West, the cowboys, the cattle, and the hardy pioneers who invaded and conquered a great empire, these are the highlights of "Sundown," the First National production, which comes to the Orpheum Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

Earl Hudson's story, as presented in "Sundown," has raised the question in the minds of Americans as to the future meat supply of this nation. During the last two decades the great cattle owners of the West have been gradually forced to seek new grazing lands. This condition was brought about by homesteaders who were apportioned small sections of land by government grants.

How a group of big cattle owners gathered their vast herds and made a final and sensational drive across the border into Mexico; the mountains; the bitterness existing between the cattlemen and the "nesters" who have come to encroach upon the land they pioneered; these are some of the outstanding points of "Sundown." Interwoven with the theme is a beautiful love story.

OPINION OF THE PRESS

The Providence, R.I., Journal says : "There is such a thing as a nation exceeding its taxable capacity. Russia has done it. Industry there no longer exists in free form. What little does thrive is kept alive by artificial stimulation. Our own experience has demonstrated clearly that the taxable capacity of large incomes has been exceeded. Larger incomes and most of them in the class above $100,000, when the maximum surtax was 50 per cent. in addition to the normal rate yielded less revenue than was paid by the same class of incomes when the surtax rate was much lower. Nations used to perish because of political excesses. In the future if the present trend continues, they may die through economic excesses.

New York Commercial : Much time is wasted by a large number of people in this and other countries in efforts to get by means of special statutes things which have not as yet come by any process other than that of toil. Politicians say a great deal about the necessity of this or that measure and lay great stress upon the importance to the individual of some particular law, but if any man will sit down and try to think of some particular statute that has served to lighten the burden of his toil or increase his income he will discover that he cannot recall any such measure. After a government has made provision to protect its citizens in their lives, persons and possessions it cannot, except in a very general way, do much more for them.

Aucland Weekly News : Great cities and great industrial areas, rationed from a distance, cannot be provided always with milk fresh from the cow, vegetables or fruit just plucked, and meat killed only long enough to have cooled properly. It is not true that dependance on artificial preservation is entirely a modern development. Bacon and salt beef are as old as Saxon times, and in both the principle of artificial preservation is very clearly involved. With modern developments there has, however, been a vast extension of the process, while increased knowledge of chemistry has multiplied infinitely the number of preservatives, many tasteless, colorless and odorless, at the disposal of the provision dealer.

Glasgow Herald : Germany lost the war and we are properly supposed to have won it. No matter which country won or lost, the result has been much the same, in so far as each country is poorer to the extent of the money spent in the five years during which the war was waged. The difference between Germany and ourselves is that she has recognized that she is poorer and is adapting herself to the altered circumstances, while we continue to delude ourselves that we have gained something and lost nothing. We are pursuing a standard of living which we cannot afford, and no matter how much it may be argued that this standard is no more than decency demands, it does not in any way alter the broad principle that it is too high if it is beyond our purse.

London Daily News : It is the airplane which threatens to supersede the surface ship as the dominating factor in war; and if we are to increase substantially our resources in the air which would be an infinitely less costly form of insurance, it must be at the expense primarily and progressively of our naval establishments. Sooner or later some British Government will be compelled to fight the Admiralty openly on this issue, and to face the fact that, until France consents to some general measure of air armaments limitation, the chief military menace which Great Britain has to meet is no longer from the sea or from under the sea, but frome the heights above.

—o—

Louisville Courier Journal : Two former British Labor M.P.'s are out of jobs in necessituous circumstances. Politics as a livelihood is seldom profitable. To honest men, not independent in money, the rewards of public office are often insufficient to make both ends meet. To dishonest men the scanty compensation of political place is an ever-present temptation to be oblique and even corrupt. By and large, however, the most corrupt men in public affairs have not been those of scant financial means.

Boston Globe :The steel manufacturers are complaining bitterly that the rates of the Fordney-McCumber law do not afford protection from foreign producers. This position is supported by considerable evidence. For instance, when bids were received recently by New York City for a supply of pipe it was found that a French firm had made the lowest offer. It is claimed that Germany is able to place steel on the American market at prices making it impossible for our manufacturers to compete, and that Germany could still do this if the tariff was raised 50 per cent, as might be done under the last provisions of the present law. Low-cost production abroad and exceedingly cheap ocean freight, as opposed to high railroad charges in this country, have caused the steel-makers here to claim that their market along the Atlantic seaboard is imperriled.

Times of India : The Iraq Government has at last done the sensible thing in signing a convention with the Turkish Petroleum Company for the exploitation of the oil which is present, though its extent is not yet known, in the Mosul area. Iraq has started on its career a bankrupt country. It cannot balance its budget or pay its share of the Ottoman debt ; still less can it finance the irrigation works and schemes for wheat and cotton growing whereby the country might in a few generations become another Egypt. The only asset through which it can raise money to develop its resources is the Mosul oil, and, but for the bickerings in the Cabinet and the hesitation of some nationalists to sign an agreement of which they could not altogether forsee the effects, the convention would have been signed much sooner.

Those Labor members of the British House of Commons who are "horrified" at the manner in which Communist plots were stifled in Bulgaria, rave not a single word of reproach for conditions created by Communism in Soviet Russia. Of these conditions the London Morning Post says : "The state of the Ukraine and the Southern Provinces grows more and more desparate. There are all the signs of an impending famine in the richest wheat lands of Europe. The oppression of the peasants has resulted in a state of chronic and sullen mutiny, in which the Soviet Commissars are murdered whenever opportunity affords. The Red Army is none too well affected, and no doubt the first pre-occupation is to fill the insatible stomach of the tiger which the Soviet is forced to ride, and from which to dismount is death. The Soviet system is obviously in a desperate situation, but it would be unwise after all that has hppened to predict that it is approaaching its end. Its methods of Terrorism and Espionage are ruthlessly and successfully used to crush every insurrection before it gathers head and to exterminate those whom it has reason to distrust. The parisite may only die with the death of the animal on which it preys."

Some People Have Funny Ideas

What do you think Carnation Milk is like?

Do you think it is "thick as molasses in January"? It isn't. Do you think it is syrupy sweet? It isn't. Do you think it has a funny taste? It hasn't. Do you think something is "put in" to make it keep? There isn't. Do you think some of the food value is taken out? It isn't.

Pure Milk in a modern package—that's all

Carnation Milk is just pure milk with part of the natural water content taken out by evaporation.

All the food value of full-cream milk is left in. No artificial sweetening or other preservative is added.

Each can is hermetically sealed and sterilized to keep its contents pure, sweet, and utterly safe.

Carnation Milk is a great aid to better baking because of its convenience, safety and richness. Always ready for use on your pantry shelf—none is wasted because it keeps sweet for several days when opened. Sold by grocers everywhere—order several tall (16 oz.) cans or by the case of 48 cans.

CARNATION BREAD

1½ cups water, ⅔ cup Carnation Milk, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons shortening, 7 cups flour, 1 cake compressed yeast, 2 teaspoons sugar, Soak yeast in a small amount of lukewarm water. Measure the salt, sugar and shortening into a mixing bowl. Add the scalded milk and water. When lukewarm add the yeast and mix thoroughly. Then add the flour gradually. When stiff enough to handle, turn the dough on a floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Put into a bowl, cover and let rise in a warm place about one and one-half hours or until double its bulk, then make into loaves and put in baking pans. Cover, and again let stand in a warm place about one hour or until it has doubled its bulk, then bake about forty-five minutes. This makes two loaves of bread.

SUNSHINE CAKE

5 egg yolks, 1 cup sugar, 7 egg whites, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup flour, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon orange or lemon extract. Beat the yolks of eggs thoroughly. Sift flour twice, sift sugar once. Beat whites until foamy, add cream of tartar and beat until stiff. Fold sugar in lightly, add beaten yolks, then add flavoring and cut and fold in flour. Bake about fifty minutes in a moderately hot oven. This serves twelve to fifteen people.

Type Your Laundry Tickets on This

This, ladies and gentlemen, is a picture of the only Japanese typewriter in captivity. It is known as the "Hobun" typewriter. It inhabits the offices of Shanghai, Tokio and other Oriental cities; is quite harmless but somewhat difficult to control. It is more complicated than the Theory of Relativity, runs as smoothly as a tank crossing the Rockies and makes more noise than a duet by a boiler factory and a Salvation Army band.

Its function is that of typewriting the Japanese language. It was invented by an Irish mechanic named Kiota Sugimoto and was on the market in 1915. As a piece of machinery it is infinitely superior to the 'typewritia Americana'. The latter very seldom has more than 40 keys, the Hobun has three thousand; the Americana prints a total of 84 characters, and the Hobun nearly four thousand. Then again, anyone can operate the American variety but how many of our stenos could run a Hobun, with its thousands of keys and hundreds of levers.

It has (as we suspected) a unique key-board arrangement. In fact, it has no key-board at all. The type is arranged face upward and serves the dual purpose of key-board and printing-type. To one side of the platen is a lever which, when depressed over the desired character, affectionately picks the character up, rubs it gently on an ink-roller and finally conveys it up to the platen on which the paper is rolled and thus, triumphantly prints the character.

We have stated that the machine is complicated but really it is simplicity itself — you merely learn the Japanese language and a few thousand of ideographic Chinese characters; familiarize yourself with the Hobun's three thousand keys, acquire mastery over its multiplicity of levers and then — go ahead and type.

The specimen shown above was captured by Canadian Pacific officials in China and now occupies much of the floor space of their office in Shanghai. The expert Chinese stenographer seated in front of it, has been known, when a rush is on, to produce as much as one whole page of neatly typed Chinese ideographs a day on his Hobun. This record has not yet been beaten.

U. S. HAS 17,500,000 CARS

New York, May 4.—Automobiles caused 19,000 deaths and injuries to 450,000 persons in the United States States in 1924, statistics made public by the national bureau of casualty and surety underwriters revealed today. This represents a daily average of 52 dead and 1260 injured.

Notwithstanding the death total, the largest ever reported, the bureau found signs of encouragement in a very pronounced falling off in the rate of increase of accidents. The increase in the number of deaths in 1923 over figures for 1922 was 20 per cent. while the increase in 1924 over the preceding year was only 4 per cent. This reduction in the rate of increase was attributed to organized campaigns to reduce accidents.

A comparison of the automobile death rate with the number of cars registered shows a steady decrease, the bureau reported. In 1915 the number of deaths for every 10,000 automobiles was 24, each succeeding year showing a decrease until the figures for 1924 indicate only 9.6 deaths for every 10,000 cars. There are now 17,500,000 cars registered in the United States.

Grade crossing accidents took a toll of 1688 deaths, a decrease of 71 from the 1923 total.

Since 1908 the death rate due to motor car accidents has increased steadily, until to-day automobiles cause more deaths than all the other vehicles, including trains and street cars combined.

CANADA LOOKED POOR

The following clipping from the British weekly "Truth" of some years ago will give some idea of certain opinions of Canada in that country previous to the building of the C.P.R.

"The C.P.R. will run if ever finished, through a country frost-bound 8 months of the year and one about as forbidding as any on the face of the earth. British Columbia is barren, cold and mountainous—not worth keeping. Fifty railroads could not galvanize it into prosperity. The Canadians are not such idiots to part with one dollar of their own for this scheme. They come to England. Canadians know that the road will never yield one red cent of the money sunk in it. People cannot stand the cold of Manitoba. Men and cattle are frozen to death in astonishing numbers. Manitoba's street nuisance kills the people with malaria or drives them mad with plagues of insects.

"It is through a death dealing land of this kind that the railway is to run. Canada is one of the most overrated colonies that we have. Ontario is the only sound province and the only one where you can lend money and ever hope to see it back. One of these days Ontario is certain to go over to the States. When that day comes the Dominion will disappear. The province and the city of Quebec are both notoriously bankrupt. Once the country is thoroughly committed to this railway, I see nothing but bankruptcy ahead of it. This Dominion, in short, is a fraud and bound to burst up like any other fraud."

Canadians can only hope that the writer of the above article is alive to realize what a bum prophet he really was.

A cheery disposition is like air in a tire. There really doesn't seem to much of it, but it makes the going easier and happier for everybody. The rougher the road the more you need it.

Giddap!—Here lady take my seat.—Yes, sir.—Yes, woollen ones please—What'll you have?

TO RESTORE HEARING

To sensitize the ear instead of attempting to amplify the sound waves—that is the novel idea underlying the device for aiding the deaf invented by Byron E. Elred, D.Sc., and described by him in an article in Popular Radio (New York). The idea originated in the observation that a deaf friend of the author regained practically normal hearing when riding in a closed automobile. While the motor was operating, a whisper could be heard, in lieu of the shout ordinarily required. By stopping and starting the car repeatedly, Dr. Eldred endeavored to judge of the probable frequency of the air wave vibration that produced this striking effect. He concluded the air wave to be one of substantially inaudible frequency, either above or below the limits of normal hearing. His next step was to develop an apparatus that would generate such inaudible air waves. Various experimental instruments were used, the essential parts of an installation for a small room being a driving motor, low frequency alternator, and a vacum tube oscillator. One form of apparatus resembles a radio loudspeaker; in effect, it is a loudspeaker so adjusted as to produce amplified air waves too long or too short to produce the sensation if sound. These are the sensitizing waves that in some mysterious way render the ear drums of a certain number of deaf persons receptive to ordinary sounds which they can not interpret without this aid. The inventor is careful to state that not all cases respond. He wishes above all things to guard against arousing false hopes. Yet he feels the results already attained prove the value of the principle. Indeed, he declares that "its truth has been demonstrated irrefutably in many cases, even in creating good hearing and normaltoned speech in a child of six, who had been classed as a deaf mute." Results so nearly miraculous must be exceptional; the general uses of the sensitizing wave, as at present studied, may be judged from the author's cautiously phrased yet confident statements in the article under review. Referring to the sensitizing wave as a "sustained air wave of suitable predetermined character and of inaudible frequency, or one approaching the limits of normal hearing," he says:

When such a wave is generated in a room, church or theater, many persons of defective hearing located within the area find their ears responsive to reception of sounds such as are provided for persons of normal hearing. The effect of the wave, while unnoticed by either the deaf persons or others, is to sensitize deaf ears to the reception of sounds which would not otherwise be heard, or which if heard would be unintelligible, like the confused jumble of distorted radio reception.

The wave is preferably of low frequency and of suitable amplitude to suit the peculiar case of deafness that is to be relieved; but for applications in churches or theaters a wave of suitable average character is supplied. When the application of the wave is made to an individual case, the peculiar condition should be carefully studied to obtain the best results. The wave best suited for a particular condition of hearing is determined by experiment and test, and prescribed as the oculist prescribes lenses for defective vision.

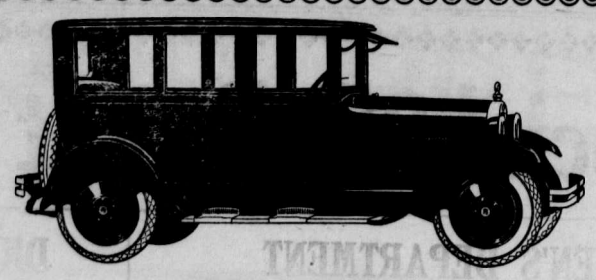
The wave generators are then installed at the office or home of the deaf purson for use as the special case demands. A remarkable result that is evidenced in some cases is that the relief afforded by the sensitizing wave persists as "carry-over" effect. Many deaf people leave the the presence of the wave in their home (for shopping expeditions, for example, or to attend a theater) and again reach home before the return of deafness. As a general rule the use of the sensitizing wave is for half hour periods, and is discontinued until deafness returns.

The "carry-over" phenomenon, while gratifying in the extreme, offers a confusing problem. This odd effect lasted as long as forty-eight hours in one case; in another case a woman who was profoundly deaf, after an hour under the wave influence, traveled by train the entire night and next day reported hearing her baby's voice for the first time.

After extended research I was impressed with the fact that each case requires special attention to produce best results. A difficult problem was presented in making accurate tests of defective hearing, while it may be perfectly evident to others present, the deaf person hears or does not hear and can not quite be satisfied that hearing ability is not due to increased magnitude of the voice.

A test that quite convinces deaf persons was fortunately suggested by Professor Robert W. Wood, of John Hopkins University, whose hearty cooperation has provided many valuable suggestions. We placed two persons (deaf) before a phonograph that reproduce a spoken record descriptive of an opera. After allowing the subjects to become thoroughly familiar with the record, and to seat themselves in front of the phonograph at distances which they determined as the maximum for distinguishing words clearly, measurement showed these respective distances as five and a half and six feet.

The chairs were then removed six inches farther and both people reported that no words were audible. The wave was then turned on and clear reception of sound was immediately experienced by the two deaf subjects of the test. The two persons were then asked to move away from the phonograph to distaces at which they could again just distinguish the sounds clearly. The result was that they moved to the end of the room, which was twenty feet long.



The greater distance at which the subjects demonstrated reception ability shows more than 1,000 per cent. increased audition for this particular volume of sound. Such a test affords an accurate measure, because sound waves decrease in inverse proportion to the square of th distance.

A peculir unexplained condition of hearing in deaf persons has long been recognized but not satisfactorily explained. In fact many aurists have recently endeavored to set aside the idea of this condition by refusing to admit its existence as a fact. This condition is designated by the name "parcusis," a term that has been accepted to describe the ability of certain deaf persons to hear while surounded by noise or vibrating conditions, such, for example, as when they are riding in a train or in an automobile. Any person with defective hearing who experiences this sensation may be confident of relief by a suitably adjusted sensitizing wave.

In making a study of the condition that is called paracusis, I have yet to learn of a case where increased hearing ability persisted after the person affected was removed fsom the influence. Although my studies poin convincingly to the conclusion that the sensitizing wave funitions similarly to the vibrations of the train and motor, I can surmise that the quality of the sensitizing wave is responsible for the carry-over effect.

No harm can possible be done to deaf persons by the application of the wave because it is one that human ears are always unconsciously receiving. The value of the wave can be fully obtained by intelligent application. Especial attention will be paid to devising means which will allow aurists to fit the wave with the degree of satisfaction that the oculist derives from fitting lenses for correcting defective vision.

It is anticipated that many aurists will misunderstandingly disagree with my theories, but I feel compelled, because of results obtained and the cooperation of several eminent authorities, to give to the world an idea which I fully recognize as requiring further effort to obtain ultimate results. While I have experienced the greatest satisfaction from results obtained, it must be understood that there have been accompanying disappointments. Above all things I do not wish to arouse false hopes. Many prominent otologists have made the same remark to me when discussing the invention: "It seems too good to be true." But its truth has been demonstrated irrefutably in many cases even in creating good hearing and normal-toned speech in a child of six, who had been classed as a deaf mute.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

WATCHING THE REDS

London, May 4.—Moscow is directing a world-wide plot to enforce communism in every country, by violence if necessary, and the British Government is prepared to fight the Red menace with every weapon. Sir Wm. Joynson Hicks, home secretary, declared in a special statment yesterday to the Sunday Times.

"I am satisfied of the existence in Europe of a definite effort to enforce Communistic ideas and propaganda in every country, even by riot if necessary," said Sir William. "I might have said revolution, but that is too strong a word for the moment, yet ultimately, that, is percisely what the Bolshevists intend.

It is clearly the aim of the Communists in this country to subvert the existing order of things. This definite object on the part of the political party, however, shall carefully be considered by the government and myself. Almost daily I receive and consider reports of Communistic activities here. I feel if more people read Bolshevist literature they would be more alive to the real aims of these people. The government is fully cognizant of the present state of affairs, and will take the necessary steps for protection.

This statment from a responsible cabinet minister is regaarded as an official confirmation of the Red peril, and the British challenge to it.

LADIES GOLF CLUB

The Wilson Cup will be played for on Tuesday, May 12. Draws will be posted Monday.

All members are requested to get cards at the Club House and write name and handicap plainly on card and hand to the competition committee (Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Kirkpatrick) or leave them in charge of the caretaker. Handicaps are posted in the Club House.

COAL CREEK NOTES

Saturday last was payday at the mines here.

The local leather chasers journeyed to Michel on Sunday to play a return engagement. Michel proved too strong, winning out by a score of three to nothing.

One was reminded of Hollywood at Coal Creek depot on Monday, when the Trites-Woods Co delivery wagon got entagled with the M.F. & M. train and smashed things up generally. Fortunately horse and driver escaped injury, but the wagon is under extensive repairs.

A whist drive and dance will be held to-night (Friday) in the Club Hall. The proceeds are to be in aid of the local football team. A good time is expected.

Deaconess Whyte, of Toronto, occupied the pulpit of the United Church up here on Sunday last.

Rev. Oswald will hold the usual fortnightly service in the English Church here on Sunday next.

A large number of autoists took in the football game at Michel on Sunday last.

All Dokays are requested to attend rehersal at the I.O.O.F. hall on Sunday at six o'clock.

There are a large number of men up here daily looking for employment.

Jack Caufield is the prowd owner of a new automobile.

ROD & GUN CLUB MAKE APPEAL

The monthly meeting of the Fernie District Rod and Gun Club was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening and was well attended by local sportsmen.

Some very important matters affecting this district were discussed, chief of which was another extensive program of restocking local waters with game fish, as was undertaken by the club last year with such great success, when close to half a million fish were placed in the streams and lakes of the Fernie district. This was made possible by the financial support given by our local citizens and membership dues of the Club.

It was unanimously decided to again appeal to the public for financial assistance in this important undertaking, which is one from which the whole community will benefit and will be the means of attracting more tourist traffic to this district than any other advertising. Considerably in excess of half a million fish will be planted in the Fernie district during the next few months and a strong appeal is made to the public and all local sportsmen to help along the good work.

Several matters in connection with the game regulations were also discussed, and it was decided to draw up a strong resolution requesting certain amendments to the Game Laws of this district respecting deer, which will be immediately forwarded to the Game Conservation Board.

Get behind the boys when they come along with their subscription list. This is a worthy cause and is deserving of all the help you can give. So here's for more fish.

REGULATE BARBER SHOPS

Victoria, May 8.—New health regulations governing customs in the barber shops suggested by Hon Wm. Sloan, as Provincial Secretary and chairman of the Board of Health, require that all razors, scissors, combs and other instruments shall be sterilized before being used on each customer. Mr. Sloan further urges that the prevention of skin eruption is so important that customers were possible should have their own razors, soap and brushes.

Before passing from one customer to another, the barber or hair dresser, shall wash his hands, using soap, preferably carbolic, and a nail brush, Mr. Sloan orders.

The use of the alum stick, frequently used to stop the flow of blood, shall be discontinued, and replaced by calcined alum, a powder which can be applied on cotton wool, which shall be thrown away immediately after.

Sponges shall not be used.

Razor strops shall only be used for a razor which has been previously disinfected.

The hair cutting wrapper shall be placed only around the shoulders of customers, and fastened with a safety pin or other device at the back, and clean towels shall be used about the neck to prevent the hair falling down.

All barbers and hair dressers shall wear a coat of washable white material.

No person suffering from any skin or infectious disease shall be employed in any barber shop. No barber shall serve a person afflicted with any contagious or infectious disease.

WOULD BE GOOD FOR FERNIE

London, May 11.—A substitute for gasoline may be distilled from ordinary coal in the near future if researches now being made at Birmingham University fulfil the confident expectations of those engaged in the work.

During the process of hydro-generation of a quantity of coal in the laborities the coal was converted into an oil-like liquid which is said to have all the essential qualities of gasoline, so far as motive power is concerned. In some cases 40 per cent. of the coal treated was thus converted. Britain is now looking forward to the day when the coal fields of Britain will become the oil fields of the world with immense profits to the nation and the solving at a single stroke of many of the country's industrial difficulties.

FUNERAL OF IVOR HUGHES

The funeral of Ivor Hughes, the young West Fernie lad who died so suddenly last week, was held Sunday afternoon. The cortege was escorted from the family home in West Fernie by the Fernie Boy Scout Troop, West Fernie citizens, members of the B.C. Miners Federation and a large number of Fernie citizens, to Olivet Baptist church, where Rev. Tapscott, of Cranbrook, gave a very touching funeral service.

The remains were viewed in the church and then conveyed to their last resting place in St. Margaret's cemtery, where Rev. Mr. Tapscott pronounced the last benediction at the graveside. At the conclusion of the ceremony the Boy Scouts paid their last tributes to their departed brother by standing at the salute while Bugler Smith sounded the Last Post.

CANMORE SIGNS UP

Canmore, May 11.—The mine workers at the Canmore mine have now negotiated a separate agreement with the company and started work on Monday morning. Tht new agreement is on a similar basis to the separate contracts already agreed to in the Crow's Nest Pass.

The only steam coal mines that have not followed such an action are the Luscar, Mountain Park and Cadomin mines in the north.

BOY SCOUTS REORGANIZED

The Fernie Boy Scout Troop have undergone a complete reorganization during the past two weeks and are now working under what is known as the Patrol system. This system tends to bring out the initiative among the boys. The different patrol leaders and their seconds are given a greater responsibility in handling their patrols and on them rests the greater part of the instruction of the boys under them in the scout work.

At the present time the local Scouts are going through a review of the entire course of scoutiny, beginning with the tenderfoot work and gradually working their way through the various stages until they again reach their standing at the close of last year. This being the case, any boys of scout age who are contemplating joining the troop, should immediately do so, so that they may receive the benefit of this work review.

Plans for a gigantic summer camp are under way at present, and it is expected that the Michel, Fernie, Cranbrook, Creston and Windermere scouts will be under canvas at one centrally located camp with two scouting experts from the coast in command. District Commissioner Hicks, of Cranbrook, in a communication to the local Association, stated that arrangements necessary for such a camp had practically been completed and that he would write them at a later date giving full particulars.

BRAZEAU JOINS PROCESSION

Calgary, May 8.—The employees of the Brazeau collieries at Nordegg have signed a new agreement with the company on the same terms as the wages and conditions as the agreement made in the Crow's Nest Pass district.

This followed the decision of the men at a mass meeting at which the proposed action was decided upon by a favorable vote of 192 to 134.

This company, of which the General Manager is John Shanks, president of the Western Coal Operators Association, produces annually between 300,000 and 400,000 tons of coal and employees about 400 men. The production is steam coal and largely goes to the National Railways.

The Nordegg mine west of Red Deer, capable of producing 2,000 tons daily, has signed up on the Crow's Nest rate.

BIG TIME AT COAL CREEK

On Wednesday next, May 20, all roads will lead to Coal Creek to the big D.O.O.K. Whist Drive and Dance. Don not miss this. It is going to be good. The novelty of the evening will be the making of D.OK.K.'s of all present.

FERNIE BEAUTIFUL

The Fernie Beautiful Contest is enlarged in scope this year. As in past years, this popular contest is again made possible through the donation by A. B. Trites of $150.

The Rotary committee in charge, viz., Chas. Bennett, M. A. Kastner and N. E. Suddaby, have arranged prizes to cover the following classifications:

1. For the house and grounds of best appearance in the City of Fernie east of the G.N. Railway—1st $12; 2nd $8.00; 3rd Hon. Mention.
2. For the house and grounds of best appearance in Fernie Annex — 1st $12; 2nd $8.00; 3rd Hon. Mention.
3. For the house and grounds showing greatest improvement during the season in the City of Fernie east of the G. N. Railway—1st $12; 2nd $8.00; 3rd Hon. Mention.
4. For the house and grounds showing greatest improvement during the season in Fernie Annex—1st $12; 2nd $8.00; 3rd Hon. Mention.
5. For the house and grounds of best appearance in West Fernie—1st $9; 2nd $5.00; 3rd Hon. Mention.
6. For the house and grounds showing the greatest improvement during the season in West Fernie—1st $9; 2nd $5; 3rd, Hon. Mention.
7. For the best vegetable garden in the City of Fernie east of the G. N. Railway—1st $9; 2nd $5; 3rd Hon. Mention.
8. For the best vegetable garden in Fernie Annex—1st $9; 2nd $5; 3rd Hon. Mention.
9. For the best vegetable garden in West Fernie—1st $9; 2nd $5; 3rd Hon. Mention.

Rules.

1. There will be three inspections by the judges, the final one before Sept. 1.
2. Points will be awarded for clean streets, improved boulevards, tree planting, painting of houses, for neat fences in good repair, for flowers, shrubbery, trees and well kept lawns.
3. No member of the Rotary Club may enter this contest.
4. Entries to be made not later than June 30.
5. Any Public or High School pupil will give you an entry form or one may be had from any member of the committee.

FOOTBALL NOTES

The Fernie football team will go to Coal Creek on Sunday, May 17 in the opening game of the C.N.P. Football League. The following players are requested to go to Coal Creek by the 2 o'clock train: Sofko, Booth, Culverhouse, G. Kennedy, Robertson, Johnson, A. Thompson, Thornton, J. Riley, J. Thompson, Pennington, Dicken and Geo. Davidson.

It is intended to revive the City Football League this season and a meeting for this prpose will be called next week. Football fans will thus be assured of seeing plenty of action this season.

The first half of the C.N.P. Football League schedule will be printed in next week's issue.

The Michel team will go to Coleman on May 16 for their opening League game of the season.

ALBERTA COAL COMMISSION

Calgary, May 11.—That more than 90 per cent. of the steam coal in Alberta was produced by eleven companies who had been in operation since 1896, and that some 40 per cent. of the domestic coal production came from 17 companies whose operations have been continuous since their inception, was the evidence given by John Shanks, general manager of the Brazeau Colleries at Nordegg, at the opening of the Calgary sitting of the Alberta Coal Commission here on Monday in the court house.

John Shanks, who until the other day, when his men broke away from the United Mine Workers of America in District 18, and negotiated a seperate agreement with the company, was the President of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association, roundly castigated a map that had been produced by the coal mines' branch, and which he said was very misleading. It showed that from 1908 to 1924, 244 mines have been temporarily closed and 617 mines abandoned, and that 840 mines had been opened. Most of these mines had been opened by farmrs, inexperienced, that there was no mining inspection, and that they should be prohibited. Witness also took exception to a recent statement of Dean Boyle, that the coal industry in Alberta "was an enormous transgression." He claimed that the coal industry as represented by the 11 companies in the steam col fields, and the 17 companies in the domestic fields, which produced the bulk of the coal, was managed as capably as any other industry in Alberta. Mr. Shanks further took exception to various remarks of Prof. J. W. Allen, of Alberta University. No company worth the name would think of commencing operations without employing a geologist, he said, but there were certain mining engineers, that no company would pay 10 cents for their advice, he added.

At the commencement of his evidence, Mr. Shanks remarked that he had been president of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association for three years, adding, "or I was up to a few days ago."

In reply to F. W. Wheatly, he said that he meant by the latter remark his resignation was now in the hands of the association. The employees at this mine had now negotiated a direct wage agreement with the company, and the latter had withdrawn from the operators' association just in the same manner as the men had withdrawn from the United Mine Workers of America.

He explained that the objects of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association were to negotiate wage agreemnts with the Mine Workers in District 18 and to protect the interests of the industry in other ways. There was no price fixing. "That of course would be illegal," he said.

Replying to a frther qestion by Mr. Wheatley, he said he could not say what might happen in the future as to any re-organization of the Association. The agreement which had just been negotiated at the

Brazeau Colleries was on similar terms to the new Blairmore contract, he said.

In reply to the chairman in connection with any suggested mining conditions in Alberta, he said that no company should be allowed to operate that had not a minimum of $75,000 cash when starting mining. Many mines, he said, were opened on a shoe string and kept thir men waiting for their wages.

Witness said that the mining of coal in Alberta was more costly than in the United States owing to physical conditions. In the United States generally speaking, the conditions were much better, with the result that labor costs were less. Again much machinery could be used in the United States mines which could not be used in Alberta owing to the seams not being of sufficient thickness. Mr. Shanks quoted extensively from articles in the Coal Age to prove his point. Operators in Alberta were willing to install machinery so long as it could be used to advantage. Machinery when successfully operated would reduce the cost of production.. In connction with the seasonal occupation of miners in the lignite fields, witness urged that the miners should combine their mining with farming.

There was much land near many of the domestic mining districts that was available. He advocated that the miner should seek to own his farm and not merely work as a farm hand.

He stated in reply to a question that the average yearly earnings of contract miners in his company's mine had been between $10.50 and $11 a day. They had worked 233 days in the year.

He said that the cost of living at Nordegg was not higher than at other mining camps. Witness in again referring to the Mines' Act said there was too much motherly or paternal legislation. He suggested that before any mining legislation was adopted in the province, that mine managers should be consulted.

The assertion was made by Geo. P. Saunders, coal dealer of Winnipeg, that if the miners, the oprators, and boards of trade got solidly behind the movement, American coal could be driven from the Winnipg market.

Mr. Saunders spoke particularly in connection with steam coal, which he handled principally. Outside of the railroads there were, he said, close to half a million tons consumed yearly in Manitoba, and that 99 per cent. of this at the present time came from the American mines. Canadian mines only produced in the neighborhood of 50 per cent of the domestic coal trade while the steam coal business, so far as Canadian mines were concerned, had dropped practically to nothing.

Witness stated that owing to certain conditions in the American fields in 1921, much more Canadian coal was used in Manitoba but since then the Americans have succeeded in regaining much of the market.

"I have always maintained that in Western Canada there was coal equal to the best in the United States," said Mr. Saunders.

In reply to a question he said that it was useless trying to make a living on a question of patriotism, that in order to compete successfully against the American product there should be a differential of about one dollar a ton in favor of Canadian coal. Pocohontas mine run, he said, now sold at Duluth at $5, and slack at $4. The freight to Winnipeg was $3.30 and the duty 40 cents making the price favor the mine run coal delivered at Winnipeg $8.80 and $7.80 for the slack. The coal costs the consumer in wagon loads $10.25, and the slack $9.35. With larger contracts the prices varied. Some of the coal was sold at a margin of 5 cents a ton in car loads, and team loads as low as 5 cents. With regard to Alberta steam coal, he said he could not give much information as such a small quantity had been handled. Some time ago they were paying $5 a ton, and the average freight rate was $5.10. The securing of the Manitoba market for Alberta coal would depend on three things, he said: First, a dumping clause which meant something; second, proper protection, which they did not receive; and thirdly, a little concession of rail freights.

Witness in further referring to the suggested differential of one dollar a ton in favor of Alberta coal, remarked that he would himself take 20,000 tons of steam coal at any period of the year at which the railroads could haul it, even in July, if there was a lower freight rate and he believed that such would be the action with other dealers right along the line.

In replying to the chairman, witness said that the biggest saving in domestic coal would be in getting the consumer to take the coal as it came in the car. Owing to forking of the coal and selling the slack at any price they could get for it, there was a spread of between 50 cents to one dollar a ton.

Mr. Saunders stated that the coal dealer in Winnipeg was willing to do his share, it was safe to say the operator would do his share, and the coal miner would have to realize that he would have to do his. It was possible that the government would give sufficient protection against dumping and the railroads would reduce their freight rates. He felt sure the time would come when western Canadian coal would be fully used in Manitoba, but everyone would have to get behind the thing and push.

Robert Peacock, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America in District 18, read a communication from that organization, one of the main points in which was the advocacy of the nationalization of mines. Witness said he did not favor the combination of farming and mining in the domestic fields. He said if farmers staid on their farms there would be more work for the miners.

FUNERAL OF R. E. BEATTIE

Cranbrook, B.C., May 8.—Flags in this city flew at halfmast to-day while the largest funeral ever witnesed here was taking place, when the late R. E. Beattie was laid to rest this afternoon. Representatives from the Vancouver Harbor Board were present and from almost every point in the East Kootenay, friends coming from Kimberley, Fort Steele, Moyie, Fernie, Lumberton, Invermere, and elsewhere.

The funeral was under the auspices of the Cranbrook Masonic Lodge, of which order the late Mr. Beattie had long been a member, and the Masons turned out in force, and with strong representations from the Odd Fellows lodge and Knights of Pythias, close on 200 men were in the funeral cortege, and more than sixty cars.

Mr. Beattie's body lay in state at the Presbyterian Church. Services were conducted by the Rev. A. G. James, of Creston, and at the cemetery the Masonic service was conducted by the master of the lodge, E. T. Cooper. The church was crowded, but not half the people gained attendance that desired to attend.

At the cemetry the Masons formed a square around the open grave in the plot where Mrs. Beattie was buried three years ago.

Among the family mourners was Mr. Beattie's father, 82 years of age, who came from Portage la Prairie. The pallbearers were all brother Masons and old friends of many years standing, Harry White, A. A. McKinnon, E. Home, Mayor T. M. Roberts, E. Small and Dr. F. B. Miles.

INTERNATIONAL TOLERANCE

John H. Rodd, K.C., Windsor lawyer, perdicts serious international complications if United States pursues its high handed methods in the pursuit of rum-runners in Canadian teritorial waters.

There is no doubt that the United States has on more than one occasion overstepped the mark. There is a recent case right off this coast in which highly provocative methods were used by the American agents.

But it would be a very great pity if the good feeling between these two great sister nations should be destroyed over such a back-alley, disreputable, out-law thing as the rum-running business.

United States has a perfect right to go as dry as the Saraha Desert if she wishes to. Canadians may not agree with her law. They may believe it to be incapable of enforcement. But so long as that law stands on the statute books of the United States, Canadians out of general respect for law and order, should endeavor to help Americans enforce it.

Officially Canada can do very little of a positive nature to help. So long as bootlegging is made profitable it will probably continue.

But by a little stretch of national tolerance, Canadians can refrain from embarrassing United States in its endeavors by howling to high heaven every time an American cutter happens to fire off a gun 2.99 miles from Canadian soil.

Since about 99 per cent. of the runners engaged in the business are Americans, anyway, Canada does not stand to imperil the safety of her subjects much by showing a little courtesy and privilege to American prohibition officers.

Peace on this North American continent is too valuable a thing to be jeopardized over a few cases of illicit booze and the skins of a few degenerate booze-runners.

LETHBRIDGE WORRYING

The following article from the Lethbridge Herald shows that the citizens of that town are seriously worried over the slack times in the local coal industry:

The Lethbridge Herald's news columns on Friday revealed, in figures from official sources, a situation in the Lethbridge coal field that needs remdying immediately if the industry is to be stablized and more regular employment provided for the miners As far as the Herald is concerned it is not interested in this instance in the viewpoint of the miners or the operators on agreements as to wages and working conditions. It wants to keep away entirely from that delicate question. On the other hand it does desire to emphasize a serious condition and urges that the miners and operators get together to solve it. Lethbridge coal is rapidly losing the Manitoba and Winnipeg market because coal produced in the United States is not only able to compete with it but to undersell it. What's the use of talking about an Ontario market if Alberta coal cannot hold the markets that are so much closer to it.

The figures published in the Herald show that there is an alarming reduction in the working days in the Lethbridge field mines in the summer months, and the total yearly production in the Lethbridge field is dropping very noticeably. This should be a matter of immediate concern to all interests in Lethbridge. Coal mining has been one of the city's mainstays Are our citizens going to sit idly by and allow this industry to diminish, its markets to be lost and its value to the city of Lethbridge to be destroyed.

It is surprising to us that our miners are not more vitally agitated about the situation which these figures establish. If production is to fall off, if markets are to be lost, if working days are to decrease, the miner suffers fully as much as the operator. Common sense should be applied in searching for the remedy. The loss of market is real, and the cause of the loss of these markets is known. Concessions must be made if the lost markets are to be regained, and new markets found, if working days in the quiet months of the year are to be increased and steadier all year round employment offered to the miners.

What is Lethbridge going to do about it? Isn't it about time that a movement was undertaken in a public spirited way to enable our coal industry to provide more permanent employment? Nothing would stablize Lethbridge so much as permanency of employment in our coal mines. This employment can only be assured by a demand for the product of the mines. This demand can only be expected when Lethbridge coal can be offered to the consumer at an inducement in competition with other coal.

Not only should the citizens of Lethbridge be aroused to action, but coal miners who are fonder of work and wages than agitation should make approaches at once to get in on a round table conference with the operators, and ascertain if it is not possible to bring about four days a week employment, rather than four days a month."

Kamloops Sentinel: Surely nothing but good can come of the proposal of the Vancouver Police Commission to invest private citizens with the powers to check up automobile speeding, giving certain individuals considerable legal rights and badging them so that they may carry out their powers in bringing law infractors to justice. There are so many possibilities of speeding motorists escaping, or going undetcted that the new idea should corral any who otherwise would go undetcted.

It will be remembered that it was largely due to the powers of the members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals that the public was eventually educated to the rights of dumb creatures and the suppression to a very large extent of evil treatment of horses and other animals on British highways.

Speeding is doomed, the mad rush to nowhere in particular, to the danger of pedestrians and other motorists is taboo and those who endanger the rights of others must be treated as we treat other dangerous criminals—be deprived even of their liberty, to teach the lesson of ordinary humanity.

"THE ARAB," A BRILLIANT SUCCESSOR TO "SCARAMOUCHE"

"The Arab," the Rex Ingram production for Metro, which is coming next week to the Orpheum theatre, is hailed as a worthy success to Ingram's last triumph, "Scaramouche."

Mr. Ingram in planning the picture, decided to go to Northern Africa to get the correct atmosphere and the natural backgrounds. He took his company abroad and spent four months among the native tribes and in the streets and old houses of Tunis; it was the first time any American company ever made a picture in this vicinity.

Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry again have the chief roles in Ingram's newest film, and this time they appear as a handsome young Bedouin and the daughter of an American missionary. The remainder of the players were chosen from famous continental actors and the mobs include thousands of Arab and Berber tribesmen.

HOMES OF 5000 YEARS AGO

Chicago, May 11.—Pictures of the home life, struggles and vanities of the men and women, who, 5,000 years ago built a mighty empire in the now barren sands of Mesopotamia, were contained in a report to Stanley Field to-day from Prof. S. H. Langdon, of the Field Museum-Oxford University expedition, excavating at Kish.

Women's boudoir jewels, children's toys, art works, contents of the palace of the first kings of Kish, copper razors and even a fish hook, found by one expedition, furnished the material for Prof. Langdon's interpretations.

Conrerning that fish-hook, whish may make necessary a change in the history of fishing, the report says:

"One find was, beyond dohbt, a fish-hook. Fishing with a hook and line was supposed to be virtually non-existent in Babylon and Assyria, this is in fact, the explicit statement made by writers on the history of fishing. So this is the oldest fish-hook ever discovered and the evidence for the discovery of fishing by hook and bait before 3000 B.C.

Detailing the complete excavation of the Somerian palace, "greatest and oldest residence of ancient times," the report recites a rich harvest of beautiful copper utensils, implements, jewels, and ornaments of precious stones, "found in the burial places, including objects to help make the women of Kish models of fashion."

A fine copper hand mirror of a woman about 3,000 B.C. is recorded and the report continues:

"The most unique discovery from female burials are copper vanity cases containing manicure sets. They consist of pincers, tongs and sometimes nail files, paint dishes and remains of brushes for coloring lips.

"Obviosly the women of the leisure classes at Kish from the earliest times were models of fashion and arbiters of modes and elegance. A beautifful silver statutte of an elegantly dressed Babylonian lady was found in her clay coffin in the city ruins of the age of Nebuchednezzar. We also found additional copper hairpins with lapis lazuli heads."

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

MOTHERS LIKE TO TREAT COLDS WITH VAPORS

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Inflamed Air Passages.

It is no longer necessary constantly to dose the children in treating croup, bronchitis, sore throat, or deep chest colds. Many Canadian mothers now use the "outside" remedy, Vicks VapoRub, for the cold troubles of all the family, because it is just rubbed over throat and chest—there is nothing to take. When so applied Vicks gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled directly into the inflamed air passages, loosening the phlegm and making the breathing easier.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster and thus aids the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.

PACIFIC MILK PROVES IT

Self-confidence is one of the puzzles of life. Every one wants it and as Pacific Milk proved there is a way to attain it. This illusive thing, it was learned, concerns itself primarily with detail. Know your job and you'll have it. When the discovery was made, years ago, that we had arrived at the way to make Pacific Milk as good as evaporated milk can be made, self-confidence troubles no more. It came, found satisfaction and remained.

COMPENSATION REPORT

The annual report for the B.C. Compensation Board for 1924 states there were 25,576 accidents which required more than first aid treatment, and of these 246 resulted fatally. In 10,000 cases only payment for medical care was necessary, while in 13,540 it was necessary to pay compensation as well.

Slightly over half the injured men were married, and 76 per cent. were British or Canadian.

The total sum paid out during the year in compensation was $1,213,297. Medical services and hospital care took $602,732.88; pensions to dependents of men killed $705,413.03; compensation to 563 men permanently injured $629,399.49 and burial expenses $18,584.

From the report it appears that there were more firms operating in British Columbia in 1924 than ever before, there being a net increase in this regard of 314 firms over 1923. The payroll amounted to $162,000,000 which figures contrast with $78,725,992 in 1917. The total wage loss during the year due to accidents is estimated at $1,719,269.

The cost of operation of this board has been going down steadily, and in the year lately closed $97.11 out of every $100 collected bythe board went to workmen or their dependents. The chairman of the board, Mr. Winn, in making his report to the Government, comments upon the confidence which both employers and workers repose in the board and the hearty co-operation which has been received by the board from them.

THE COST OF LIVING

Everyone who has taken the trouble to study household menus knows that the tastes engendered by the war, and in some cases the reaction occasioned by the diet of the war, have been responsible to no small degree for the present high cost of living. In the process of domestic economy there is nothing more remarkable than the growth of the use of luxuries in the homes of those who cannot, by the standards set in the old days, afford their use. The government taxes our pockets to pay for the war and for the modern day reckless expenditure of being governed. We tax our pockets for comestibles and methods of living which were eschewed as altogether out of proportion to our incomes in the old days. Incomes have grown, perhaps in the mass, but they are nowhere near the point where they justify us in becoming a luxury partaking people. Our tastes have become complex where they should be simple. The plain oatmeal porridge has now a dozen or more variants. There are new frills being added every year to domestic economy and they all cost money. We pay the price and esteem what we receive for it as in the nature of necessities, just as everything that comes to be assimilated by the process of custom comes to be regarded eventually as something which we cannot do without. This process in our domestic economy is being brought into prominence in the evidence being given before the food Commission now in session in Britain. In commenting on it the London Daily News says :

"Before the war," says a housewife, "men were content with stew and things like that, but nowadays they want roasts and vegetables. They wont put up with what they used to." When the lovely smell of roast veal and bacon was wafted from the cook house to the parade ground or crept from under the lids of dixies brought into the front line trenches, no soldier thought that a taste was being engendered which, after the war would make the household budget a serious economic problem. This is an example of the bad effects of enjoying luxuries for nothing.....But the point is not that the war did or did not give a man a desire for chops and steaks instead of stews, but that something still to be discovered makes the price of them too high. The problem for the housewife is the high price of food—not the husband's tastes. Who is going to solve this for her ?

The Advent of Tea to England

Tea was not used to any extent in England till about the middle of the seventeenth century, although knowledge of the wonderful qualities of the beverage had reached Europe as early as 1517. During the seventeenth century, all tea was imported from China and cost from $25.00 to $50.00 per pound. Not until 1836 did any tea reach England from India. In that year the first shipment was made from the now famous tea growing district of Assam. India today supplies fully half the world's tea requirements and provides some of the finest teas grown. The rich body of "SALADA" is due to the select India teas used in the blend.

The mineral, fish and land resources of British Columbia will again be extensively advertised at Wembley this year at a cost of $18,000 or $19,000, according to a statement by Premier Oliver.

The Universal Film Company is perfecting its plans for filming the Calgary Stampede this summer as part of a forthcoming production in which Hoot Gibson will star. This will involve an expenditure of about $100,000.

Canadian exports to France in 1924 were valued at 482,826,000 francs as against imports from that country of 333,264,000 francs. There has been a marked increase in trade of late years which is attributed partly to the Treaty of Commerce and the propaganda work of the Canadian Pacific Exhibition train.

S. Frank Mussard of the South African Irrigation Association, Johannesburg, who has just completed an independent investigation of the agricultural conditions throughout Canada has stated that he is "perfectly satisfied with the possibilities Canada has to offer the right type of settler."

"Mountie" the lead dog of the famous Chateau Frontenac husky team realized $1,200 during the Humane Society tag-day at Toronto recently. He collected on behalf of this organization throughout the city and the tag that was sold was decorated with his portait.

Broadcasting of copyright songs in the United States is declared subject to copyright fees or royalties just as much as publication by other methods of performance. This decision, which has considerable bearing on the Canadian Copyright Bill now under discussion in Ottawa was reached as a result of a recent test case in the United States.

Approximately five millions dollars will be spent in maintaining and constructing new highways within the Province of Quebec during the present year. At present there are 2,586 miles of highway in the province stretching into all parts of Quebec and linking up with main roads in the U.S. and the sister provinces to the East and West.

According to a report prepared by the Merchants Exchange of Vancouver, forty-two regular steamship lines are now operating out of that harbor, the gross tonnage for last year being 14,473,518 which is over a million tons in excess of the 1923 figures. The Canadian Pacific Railway is now erecting a new pier there which will be one of the finest and largest on the continent.

The Campbell River Company of White Rock has purchased the entire holdings of the James Logging Company of Vancouver which include 35,000 acres of timber lands, containing over two billion feet of logs, a saw mill with a capacity of more than 50,000 feet of lumber a day, three large tugs and a complete logging outfit. A sum of more than five millions dollars is said to be involved.

"Yes,, my friends" said the theological lecturer, "some admire Moses, who instituted the old law ; some Paul who spread the new. But after all, which character in the bible has the largest following ? As he paused, a voice from the back bench shouted : "Ananias !"

WEEKLY GOLF NEWS

The tournament held on Wednesday, which was a two ball foursome, was a great success ,and some very good scores were turned in, Mrs. R. Colton and Mr. Watson winning with a net score of 30.

Last week it was suggested in the paper that any golfer who would be unable to play should notify the secretary and his name would not be drawn. On Tuesday the draw was made, which included all the golfers with the exception of those who had signified their intention of not playing, but after the draw was put up a great number of those drawn reported that they were unable to play, and this caused a great deal of inconvenience to the committee and to a number of players. It is hoped that in future those who are unable to play will take steps to notify the draw committee before the draw is made.

Next Wednesday the competition will be held for men and will be a four ball competition and the draw will be made at 12 o'clock on Tuesday, and it is urgently requested that those members who are unable to play will telephone to Sherwood Herchmer's office not later than 12 o'clock noon Tuesday. The following Wednesday there will be a two ball mixed foursome, and these two competitions will alternate every Wednesday.

The committee again impresses upon the members the necessity of telephoning if they cannot play, as when people are drawn and cannot play it is a great inconvenience to those who turn up and find that they have no partners, and if the competitions are going to be continued successfully those who find themselves unable to play must co-operate and take the trouble of calling up, so that they will not be drawn.

THE HIGH COST OF GOLF

We have heard quite a few remarks locally about the amount of money being spent on the Fernie golf course, a perusal of the following despatch from New York will no doubt make most of us think that we have been getting off mighty easy in our golf fees and assessments:

New York.—So much has been said about the high cost of golf and the up-keep of courses that the United States Golf Association, determined to find out what all the shouting was about and recently conducted an investigation into the cost of maintaining an eighteen and a nine hole layout.

To obtain the proper data, 100 clubs throughout the country were selected haphazard and inquiries were addressed to those clubs with a view to finding the approximate expenditure. Sixty-two sent in the desired information.

Results showed that the average annual expenditure of thirty-nine 18 hole courses for a year was $20,679; twenty-three nine hole courses, $8,886. Highest expenditure reported by any one club was $46,500; for a 9 hole layout, $25,000. The lowest annual expenditure reported for an 18 hole course was $6,000; nine-hole, $1,180. Under the heading of expenditure was included the cost of labor, supplies and maintenance equipment. The average annual green-keeper's salary on a full sized course was $2,264; for a nine-hole course, $1,423.

Total of annual expenditures for seed and fertilizer for 39 eighteen-hole courses $41,246; twenty-three 9 hole courses $7,612. Highest annual cost of seed and fertilizer, $3,300; lowest annual,$111. Greatest number of men employed by any club twenty-one. Least numer employed by any club five. Highest rate paid per day, $5.50, lowest, $2.25; average, $3.92.

Two clubs with eighteen-hole course spent between $40,000 and $50,000 annually; six spent between $30,000 and $40,000; eleven between $20,000 and $30,000; eight between $15,000 and $20,000; ten between $10,000 and $15,000 and two between $3,000 and $5,000.

"YOU AND I"

Under the auspices of Mt. Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E., the Players Club of the University of B.C. will present the Havard prize play "You and I," on May 26.

It has been said that we enjoy a play most in which we can visualise ourselves as the characters we see before us, in which their thoughts, emotions and problems are ours, in which their joys, sorrows and disappointments are only those with which we are familiar, and at which we can sit back and live for two hours in their make-believe world.

In writing his play Mr. Barry achieved this effect so well that it is only fitting that he should have named it "You and I."

A part of the work carried on by this great body, the I.O.D.E., is education. Their memorial to perpetuate the memory of the men and women who gave their lives in defence of the Empire in the great war is intended to be of great educational value to the youth of Canada. The I.O.D.E. pledged itself to raise $500,000, which, when accomplished, will provide the establishment of bursaries in Canadian universities for children of deceased soldiers, annual post graduate scholarships in British universities and distribution of libraries and pictures to 1000 public schools in which are children of foreign parentage. Also secondary education of soldiers' children, Canadianization of the foreign born, arrangement of essays and historical competitions. This memorial will last as long as Canada lasts. Surely it is a fitting one.

Mount Fernie Chapter would greatly appreciate the support of the people of Fernie and district in regard to this play in the Grand Theatre on Tuesday evening, May 26.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

A very interesting debate on "A High School Course is Desirable," took place between the first and second years at the last literary meeting. The Affirmative side was taken by Alice Haigh, Eddie Pennington and James Strachan (leader) from second year. The negative by first year students, Dorthy Bean, Cyril Steele and John Carlson (leader). The judges, Miss Charlebois, Dorthy Corrie and Billie Duncan, had a difficult time in determining the winners of the debate, which ended in favor of the Affirmative for argument and the negative for delivery.

A High School hike was held on Saturday afternoon.

The tennis players are eagerly looking forward to the development of the plans for tennis courts for the High School.

The baseball season has opened. In the future the High School will use the baseball diamond Thursday and Friday of each week. The supplies for the remainder of the term arrived the other day.

Billy Wilmot, who suffered a slight stroke about a week ago, is slowly recovering. He is in the Fernie Hospital.

A special meeting of the W. A. of the G.W.V.A. will be held in the Vets Hall on Tuesday, May 19, at 7.30 p.m. All members please attend.

F. L. Archer, representing the London Life Insurance Co., is opening up offices in Fernie over McLean's Drug Store.

Robt. Strachan, government mine inspector, who has been ill with blood poisoning in the Fernie hospital for the past week, is getting along nicely.

The plans have been completed for the Fernie swimming pool and tenders will be called for at once. It is expected that the work will be completed by July 1.

Don't make a date for Tuesday evening, May 26, as you are going to the play "You and I" in the Grand Theatre under the auspices of Mount Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E. tf

Michel defeated Fernie at football on the local grounds on Sunday last by a margin of two goals. However, the local team have some new material which is steadily improving and the future looks brighter.

One of the big events of the year in Fernie is the bazaar of the Catholic Women's League, which will be held this year on Saturday, June 27. Nothing is being left undone to make it the best ever.

M. W. Bro. Stephen Jones, of Victoria, Grand Master of the British Columbia Masonic Lodge, was a Fernie visitor on Friday last and was entertained at a special meeting of the local lodge held that evening.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Steves on Saturday last, when Mr. Waldo Watmough was united in marriage to Miss Mae Hudson, Rev. Wm. Burns performing the ceremony. The young couple, who are popular members of the Fernie younger set, left on the evening train for Calgary, where they will spend their honeymoon.

E. Martin, Principal of the Public School gave a very able talk at the Rotary luncheon on Monday on the big question of immigration. He is very much in favor of a strong government policy favoring immigration to Canada, particularly of those who are willing to go on the land. Canada has only two settlers for every square mile of land that is suitable for agricultural purposes, and presents the most wonderful opportunities for the young man who is willing to take a chance as a farmer.

As there will no doubt be a Federal election some time in the near future, it would be well to make sure that your name is on the voters list. The Federal voters' list is the same as that compiled for Provincial purposes. Those who failed to vote at the last Provincial election cannot vote at the forthcoming Federal election unless and until they register again. We are inclined to think that this fact is not sufficiently widely known. There are those who think that because they voted at the last Dominion election they can do so again, and they labor under the belief that once being registered for Federal purposes they are automatically on the list as long as they reside in the city. That is not the case. We would ask everyone at once to take the trouble to ascertain whether or not his or her name is on the list. The Provincial Court of Revision will be held in Fernie on the 18th of this month and after that if you are not on the list it will be your own fault.

COAL INDUSTRY OVER MANNED

According to the statement of William Walker, president of the Edmonton Miners' Union, there are too many mines and too many miners to ensure for all workers a reasonable annual total of finance on the present scale of demand for coal. If Mr. Walker's contetion is right, it would appear that the same conditions he speaks of as affecting the coal industry in Alberta, are also affecting the industry in the United States, so far as the miners are cocerned.

Not long ago the New York Herald Tribune referred to like conditions spoken of by Mr. Walker as being present in the States. Commenting editorially on the situation, it said that a great industrial readjustment is being attempted in Indiana, one of the chief coal-producing States of the nation, where approximately 17,000 idle miners in the southwestern part of the State are to be reallocated to the steel industries of the Calumet region in the north. It is significant, it observes, in that it is in recognition of the fact the law of supply and demand is forcing the coal industry to retrench permanently, which has been inevitable since the close of the World War.

During the war every vein that offered the possibility of profit under high prices was opened, regardless of operating costs, with the result that the industry is the most over-manned and over-developed in America. Slowly the pinch of competition has forced mine after mine to the wall, until, when the last Federal report was compiled in December, it was found that 30.6 per cent. of the country's mines were closed, unable to mine and sell coal at a profit, most of them. The same report shows that approximately 10 per cent. of the mines were operating 24 hours a week and only 18.9 per cent. were operating 48 hours.

The total number of miners in Indiana, is approximately 32,000. About 15,000 of these are employed and the remainder are at mines now closed which have little prospect of re-opening. Indeed, a number of consolidations of mining properties, meaning further retrenchment if anything, are contemplated.

The situation in Indiana is pretty fairly indicative of that to be found generally in coal fields over the country, according to John L. Lewis, President of the United Miners of America, the headquarters of which are in Indianapolis. Mr. Lewis says frankly that about half the miners in the United States must seek other employment if they and the other half remaining are to make a comfortable living.

One hundred and twenty thousand miners and their families are now receiving the necessities of life through benefit funds of the United Mine Workers. Strikes and lockouts are responsible for some of the unemployment, but in general the trouble is that nearly 750,000 men are employed in an industry that has room for only half the number.

Any other industry thus overmanned and over-developed would have righted itself with much more facility than the mining industry. High cost plants, forced to shut down when the bottom temporally dropped out of the market, would find it extremely difficult to re-open in better times because their old employees would have found other jobs. But the occupation of mining, opines the New York paper, is bred in the bone, handed down from father to son, and it takes the absolute closing of a mine, with no prospect at all of re-opening, to make most miners look elsewhere for work.

THE EARTH'S CRUST

Dr. A. Vening Meinesz has been giving the Roral Geographical Society some account of experiments in the determination of gravity at sea which he conducted in a Dutch submarine during a voyage to Japan. This question of gravity has often been the subject of experiments, as results, it is believed, will give important contributions to many scientific questions concerning the figure of the earth and the constitution of the earth's crust. That crust is generally believed to be a relatively thin layer of some sixty miles and that thereafter the crust begins to show the properties of fluids, with a very high viscosity. Dr. Meinesz says that under stresses acting during a short time the fluids behave like solids, but when the stresses are contiuous they give away even when the stresses are small.

It appears that oceanic observations give data for the investigation of a great and still only slightly known part of the earth's crust. They permit the examination of that part of the crust where there is no erosion going on and only a small sedimentation. Mr. Harold Jeffreys, in his book on the earth, clims the earth's crust tends to bend because of the cooling of the deeper layers, and as this coling is going on more quickly under the oceans than in the continents, this bend is taking place shiefly in those parts of the crust first. This illustrates that there are problems to the settlement of which the determination of gravity at sea may contribute.

Dr. Mienesz carried out his observations with a Stuckrath apparatus containg four half-second pendlums swung by pairs in the same plane. The two planes of oscillation are perpendicular to each other, and the apparatus is placed so that these planes make angles of 45 degrees with the axis of the boat. The four pendulums swing all together and record photographically. This is necessary because the method requires the observation of the pendulums at exactly the same moment. For each pendulum the record is effected by a ray of light reflected in a mirror of the pendulum perpendicular to the plane of swing and parallel to its vertical axis. By a system of fixed prisms and mirrors the four recording rays are all directed toward the same recording apparatus, placed at a distance of four feet in the axis of the boat, and containing a horizontally moving band of photographic paper.

Here and There

"Canada has a fine record of musical and artistic students who work under the auspices of the Royal College of Music," says Sir Hugh Allen, director of the London institution, who is making a tour of Canada in the interests of the College.

Canada exported 148,592,500 pounds of woodpulp during February, of which 138,891,000 went to the United States and to Great Britain, none. Our newsprint exports had a monetary value, in the same month of about seven and a half million dollars.

Two hundred and sixty thousand acres of land in central and northern Alberta will be settled by the British Land Settlement Corporation, it is announced. They are located north of Edmonton and from north of Vermilion to Wabuman, west of Edmonton.

Approximately 750,000 tourists, apart from delegates to conventions, visited Montreal last year by railway, steamer and automobile, according to an estimate compiled by the Montreal Tourist and Convention Bureau. It is anticipated that the influx for the current year will be even greater.

Geraldine Farrar, famous prima donna, who gave a recital of Carmen in Ottawa and Montreal recently, had a run in with the U.S. Customs at the border on her return to the United States. It was claimed that champagne and fine wines were found stored in the piano of her sumptuous private car, but the great singer says it was only near-beer.

England's great military spectacle, the Aldershot Military Searchlight and Torchlight Tattoo, which is held annually in aid of the Aldershot Command Charities, is being presented this year from the 16th to the 20th of June and will, as usual, be contemporaneous with Ascot Week. The special feature is to be a Pageant of Battle which will recall some of the famous engagements of the British Army. Nearly 100,000 patrons attended last year.

To enable French-Canadian students to become acquainted with Western Canada, the Universite de Montréal has organized a 28-day trip to the coast from Montreal next July. They will pass through Winnipeg, Regina, Moose Jaw, Calgary, Edmonton, Banff, Vancouver and Victoria, with stop-overs at Lake Louise, Field, Glacier, the Fraser Canyon and other beauty spots of the Canadian Rockies.

Student tours, operated by the Canadian Pacific in conjunction with McGill University, are to be extended this summer to include students from the British Isles. Heretofore, these tours have been restricted to scholars in other parts of Canada and in the United States. As Montreal is regarded as an ideal centre for the study of the French language, it is anticipated that the new project will attract many visitors to the Canadian metropolis.

The body of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, President of Southern China lay in state in a wonderful blue-tiled old Temple near the "Altar of Heaven," during the long drawn out ceremonies at Peking attendant upon his interment. Through the courtesy of the government the bier was viewed by a large party of Canadians and Americans touring the world on the Canadian Pacific S.S. "Empress of France." They were also invited to attend the final burial rites which, with a wealth of colorful Chinese ceremony took place later in the Western hills.

WORLD IS IMPROVING

Contact with students of fifty nations which he has recently toured, convinces Dr. John R. Mott, General Secretary of the International Committee of the Y.M.C., that youth is testing the Gospel and turning from religious indifference to a study of the realities of religion. In the welter of new ideas on the campuses of the world he finds dissatisfaction and questioning as to the verity and efficacy of the Christian religion, but he accepts this as a challenge to Christianity and is refreshingly optimistic as to the outcome. In an address to the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York city published in the New York World, Dr. Mott describes the colleges as "the great battle ground in which ideas are being examined. What we would put in the life of a nation, he says, we must first put into the schools—"and this student world has by no means been brought under the sway of Jesus Christ." Rather, he goes on, "The present generation of the undergraduates of the world do not yet adequately acknowledge his sway. It is keenly dissatisfied with the past in the life of mankind, and I fancy that most of us agree with them. It is very much dissatisfied with the present, and again may we not place ourselves by their sides ? The are also very critical—but is that not a much more hopeful sign than the older inerta and indifference and unresponsiveness of not many years back ? They are examining all sources of authority.

"Are not these needed processes ? They are asking questions that may lead into the greatest realities provided they have a sufficient number of wise guides and teachers. They hate sham and hyprocisy.

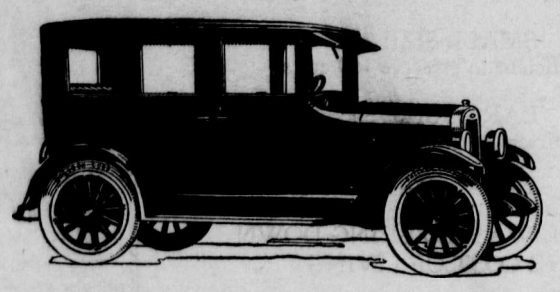
"All this affords the opportunity of the ages for the christian religion to furnish a clear, convincing and a satisfying apologetic. It is stimulating, as no other influence working among men to-day is stimulating, a study of the person and the teachings of the program of Christ.

"May we not thank God that we have a Gospel that will satisfy the penetrating passions that come forth from these multitudes of studying youth across the breadth of the world.

We are on the threshold of the greatest war the world has ever known —a war against ignorance and poverty and disease and sin, against bitterness and hatred and strife. It calls for the highest order of heroism and self-sacrificing devotion. Therefore it is a matter of great significance that we have a generation filled with the spirit of adventure, standing ready to pay great prices ; and the church can not afford not to have surging through her veins increasing streams of this tide of youth.

America's duty to the 14,000 foreign students here is outlined in a report of the Commission on Survey of Foreign Students. In the New York Times we read that among these foreigners there is a tendency to criticize American Christianity because it does not conform to the Christianity of the missionaries. Much of this criticism, says the report, is unquestionably sincere. Some of it comes from intolerence and from lack of energy in appropriating what is offered.

Boston Transcript : The tornado, because it takes its victims by the hundred in the twinkling of an eye, causes the public to pause and shudder. But this morning's announcement that seven children and five adults were killed on the highways of this state last week, coupled with the knowledge that such killing will continue week after week, shows that the path of the tornado fall far short of rivaling the highway as an avenue of death.



London Morning Post : The power of hurting an enemy is the best way, human nature being what it is, of keeping the peace. That power we should resume and should declare ourselves ready to use. It is the paradox of this question that if we are ready to make war in the cause of France, we shall not be required to make it, but if we parade an anxious isolation in the cause of peace, we shall not be allowed to keep it.

BEAUTY SPOTS IN NATURE'S WONDERLAND

FOR the lover of natural beauty, no place on the North American Continent holds more charm than does Jasper National Park, the 4,400 square mile playground set aside in the Canadian Rockies for the benefit of Canadians and their guests. Here lake and river blend with towering snow-clad peaks and provide a scenic setting which is unexcelled. In this great natural park, wild life has been protected and as a result the animals have become friendly with mankind and are not only increasing in numbers but are also becoming very tame. Elk, deer, bears, mountain sheep and mountain goats may very frequently be seen by visitors as they drive or ride along the highways or bridle paths which radiate from Jasper Park Lodge, the bungalow camp hotel of the Canadian National Railways.

MANSON CONFIDENT

The Victoria Colonist says : Mr. A. M. Manson, the Provincial Attorney General, says that the Liberal Goverment of British Columbia represents from 60 to 70 per cent. of the electorate. His method of reasoning is that the Provincials are Liberals, since out of sixteen divisions in the legislature last seession the three Provincial members voted fifteen times with the Government. He further contends that the Laborites in the Legislature are supporters of the Liberals, and, indeed, constitute the radical wing of the party. On the basis of what happened in the Legislature last session Mr. Manson has grounds for his method of reasoning, but the conclusion is undoubtedly farfetched. During the election campaign the Provincials were the most bitter critics of the Government. It is quite true that after the election and when the House was in session the three Provincial members with a docility that was hardly susceptible to diminution, followed and supported the docterines and polices of Mr. John Oliver, whom they had impaled on the prongs of criticism in the election campaign. The explanation of this development has never been forthcoming.

The support of the Labor members in the Legislatre, is, in the main, given to the Government. This is indisputable. One or two of these Labor members are known to be trusty henchmen of the party in power, and to be in continual collaboration with the Ministers. The circumstances which have brought about these conditions are not necessarily those which indicate that the Laborites give their support to the Government without quid pro quo. As to the Provincials, we do not know how their support was secured. In whatever way the pact was made it has had the effect, to all intents and purposes, of destroying the Provincial party as a political unit in British Columbia. The followers of the party, or rather those who were the followers prior to the late election have expressed themslves as not in accord with the actions of their members in the Legislature.

If Mr. Manson's estimate is correct, to the effect that the Liberals control from 60 to 70 per cent of the vote in the province, it would be entirely unnecessary for that party to have employed the tatics which it engaged in during the late Greenwood Grand Forks and Nelson by-elections. Those tactics were reprehensible. They have emphasized an impression that has long existed that the time is ripe for a clean-up in British Columbia politics. Moreover, if the Liberals control such a heavy proportion of the vote of the provice it is not understandable why Vancouver should be still without Cabinet representation. The party in power, which expresses so great certainty of its popularity, should not hesitate to give Vancouver the representation which is so long overdue. The place in the Cabinet occupied by Dr. K. C. McDonald has not been filled, so that a vacancy may be said to exist. The Government is holding the vacancy open for a Vancouver representative, but apparently believes that the time is not yet ripe for a by-election in the chief commercial center in the province.

The Government has created the impression that the Provincials and Laborites are Liberals in everything but name. If they are not it is for the members of those parties to clear up the situation with their constituents. We are well aware that the Government whose distinctly labelled supporters only secured 33 per cent. of the vote of the last provicial election, is doing more than whistle to keep up its courage. Its tactics at Nelson and Grand Forks-Greenwood show this. The statment of Mr. Manson, however, is in the nature of the whistling mentioned. He is astute enough to know that exaggerated claims are the fodder for party platform speeches and that their susceptibility to proof is a minor consideration. The truth of the matter is that in the last provincial election careful manipulation spilt asunder the opposition to the Government, and following the election, when the Legislature met, further manipulation secured as adherents for that Government those who had nothing bad enough to say about the administration and its policies while the campaign for votes was in progress.

BREAKING THE ATOM

Scientists in the University of California, studying the atom, expect to succeed before long in breaking up the atom and in deriving a tremendous energy the like of which was never known on the earth before.

They say that success in their line will render gasoline, steam and electricity totally out of date.

Meanwhile they give some interesting facts to the public.

They find that although twenty quadrillion atoms would scarcely fill a thimble, each one represents our whole solar system. A varying number of electrons, from two to ninety, revolves about a central nucleus just as the earth and the other planets revolve about the sun. The speed of each electron is about 18,600 miles a second.

So that the chair you sit on, the clothes on your back, and the very food you eat, are not dead, inert substances, but living, whirling masses of universal life. The human thought that has been stimulated by science through these discoveries in the past twenty years, has generated an intellectual force fully as powerful as any industrial force that might be released through the breaking up of of the atom.

MODERN GOLF

In most discussions on the modern game of golf it is experts who are engaged and their talk hinges on the advisability of curtailing the length of golf courses and the distance to which a ball can be propelled. There is, however, a tendency among many players on both sides of the Atlantic to believe that the experts do not speak for the majority of golfers. It is experts who are engaged in the laying out of golf courses, and in practically every case they lay them out for experts in the game, instead of for the majority of players who are not experts, or at the best indifferent players. In Britain it is estimated that 75 per cent. of all the members of golf clubs, are on the shady side of 40 and have handicaps of 18 or over. One writer says that those constituting this majority have taken to golf because age and other disabilities have compelled them to abandon strenuous forms of amusement. The same writer, under the psudonym of "Senex," in a letter to the London Times, explains what he believes to be the views of the majority of golfers as follows : e

We object not at all to the long flight of the modern ball ; in fact we would welcome a ball that flew further. Neither does the length of the modern course worry us particularly, for we find that we can get around the most of them in from two hours to two and a half hours, and we can without undue fatigue, manage two such rounds in a day. We have a few causes for complaint, but they are not those already referred to.. We would prefer short holes not to exceed 140 yards, not long holes 440 yards. We dislike rough in front of the tees or when guarding greens. We think the only fair dog-legs are those where the big "carry" is required at the second shot. We do not see the justice of having to play our superiors at three-quarters of our handicaps insted of the whole. The above are, I believe, the only objections that 75 per cent. of golfers have to the modern game, and I suggest that the outcry against length emanates entirely from the other 25 per cent, who by reason of their skill, have made the game too simple for their own enjoyment.

Los Angeles Times : Twenty-one years ago a chestnut tree in the New York Zoo contracted a strange blight disease. The disease has since searched out and killed nearly all the beloved chestnuts in the United States. A few saplings have survived, and G. A. Zimmerman, the well-known tree doctor, says these have acquired immunity. It is almost too much to expect, however, that these saplings will ever be able to replace the great groves the blight destroyed.

In burning rubbish in the furnace housewives will remember that happier results will be obtained by eliminating rubber overshoes.

SEARCHING FOR OIL

Artificial earthquakes, produced by detonating large charges of explosives, are the latest aids invoked by the oil geologist in his search for petroleum-bearing rock formations. Dr. L. Mintrop, a German seismologist, is the originator of the method. Says Science Service's Daily Science News Bulletn (Washington), "Oil pools are usually found in or under the ridge of an anticline or inverted V-shaped fold of deeply buried rock. It is important therefore to know the direction and degree of slope of the layers in a rock formation where oil is to be sought. Dr. Mintrop's method depends on the fact that earth tremors, upon striking a massive layer or rock, are reflected in much the same manner as waves in a pool striking the shore, or like sound waves striking a cliff and producing an echo. A heavy charge of explosive is fired and the resulting sound waves are recorded by portable seismographs set up at suitable distances. The characteristics of these reflected waves, particularly the amount of extra time they have required to reach the instrument as compared with the waves that have traveled direct without reflection, furnish data for calculating the inclination of the rock strata."

A new record in salt-dome discovery has just been made in Texas by this "earthquake" method. Within the space of a week, two new salt domes were drilled into and proved, says the Mining Journal-Press (New York). During recent years the discovery of even one new dome was a great development in the coastal gulf region, for all of these formations that were well marked on the surface had long since been picked up. When it is considered that each dome is a potential oil field possibly containing up to 100,000,000 barrels of oil, the discovery of two such domes in one week is an event of great importance to the petroleum industry, and a record in the history of the Gulf Coast. We read : "Will this record stand ? Possibly not, for it is due not to chance but to scientific discovery, which has solved the problem of finding these hidden structures. One method of search employs the Eotvos balance, an extremely sensitive instrument that detects small changes in the force of gravity caused by masses, in the earth's crust, of greater or less specific gravity than the surrounding rocks.

"A second method of search is conducted with an instrument operating on the principle of the seismograph. Minature earthquakes are produced by the explosion of large charges of dynamite. The charges are set off singly, at regular intervals along coordinate lines, with the instrument placed on the line of firing. The vibrations caused by the detonations are recorded by the instrument. If no dome is present, one set of vibrations is registered ; if a dome intervenes between the seismograph and the blast, a second set of vibrations are recorded. From the interpretation of these photographically recorded vibration lines, it is claimed and apparently proved, the position of a salt dome can be determined positively. Not only that, but the depth to the cap of the salt plug can be accurately predicted and the cap-rock contours drawn."

A crook smuggled an old saber into his cell and in the early hours of the morning vainly tried to hack his way through the bars with it, but he aroused the guard and was given an extra year for disturbing the peace and mutilating government property. Moral—The pen is mightier than the sword.

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

SHORT SESSION CITY COUNCIL

The city council met on Thursday evening with Mayor Irvine in the chair and all aldermen present with the exception of Ald. Stewart.

The tender of J. G. Todhunter for one of the city horses was accepted, and the purchase of another horse from J. Colterri authorized at a price of $100.

Thirty-eight fire inspections of properties in the city by the fire chief were tabled.

The city electrician reported that he was inspecting the city power lines. He had found the primaries all in good condition and was now inspecting the secondaries.

The swimming pool committee requested the council to close for traffic the section of roadway where the committee propose to erect the pool, and asked that the slough near the site be drained.

The city will purchase 24 inch glazed sewer pipe to take care of the water from this slough and connect it to the storm sewer system.

Water and sewer connections for the swimming pool will be made at the city's expense.

A bylaw was passed to close a portion of the road intersection at Dalton avenue and Bethune street, in order to provide an area for the purpose of erecting a swimming pool.

The Swimming Pool committee are authorized to erect a pool on this site and free water and sewers were also granted.

The contract for repairing the city park fence was awarded to H . A. Wilkes at a price of $210, the work to be completed before June 15.

The matter of water rates charged against beer parlors was brought up and the city clerk quoted prices charged in several B.C. towns and cities which showed Fernie to be well in line and the council decided to make no change in the present ratings.

An amendment to the bylaw makes it compulsory that all sewer connections made to the city system in future must be inspected by the city engineer and must pass a water or smoke test before being filled in.

NO AGREEMENT AT HILLCREST

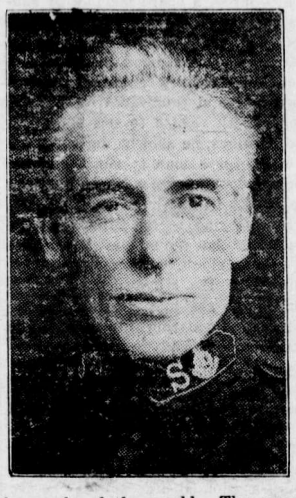
Blairmore, May 21.—It came out in the evidence of Hillcrest miners before the Alberta Coal Commission, Thursday morning, that the Hillcrest Colleries are operating without an agreement with the employees and that there are on the so-called "black list," 23 men, who repeatedly have been refused work not only at the Hillcrest mines, but at other camps from Michel to Bellevue. One witness said he had been refused work at one camp because the management were "leary" of Hillcrest men.

Eight witnesses, all former mine workers at Hillcrest, were heard voicing bitter criticism of the management at Hillcrest and charging discrimination. James Stobbs, secretary of the Hillcrest local of the U.M.W. A., declared to day: "We are a bunch of outlaws discriminated against from one end of the Pass to the other. Conditions are very bad at Hillcrest, the worst I have ever seen at any camp in respect of the relations of the management and the men." Stobbs claimed the operators at the camp ignored the U.M.A. local.

The witnesses heard were Thomas Price, John Maddison, James Stubbs, Thomas A. Dawson, Benj. Carter, George Iwasluk, Frank Pearson and Thomas Hughes. These miners all charged discrimination.

Questioned, these Hillcrest men admitted they were among the pickets who were on duty at the mine after the total shutdown six weeks ago but denied there was violence.

RUBEN EAST PASSES AWAY



The funeral took place at Calgary on May 18 of Ruben East, aged 39 years, who passed away at the Holy Cross Hospital on May 16. Interment took place in the Union cemetery, Canon Robinson officiating. Deceased was for several years a highly respected resident of Maidstone, Saskatchewan; later of Etonia and Alsask in the same province, and more recently of Fernie. Floral tributes were sent from his brothers, Ted and Syd, his aunt, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McIntyre.

Mr. East was only a new comer to Fernie but he had made many friends during the short time he lived here. He was employed by J. L. McIntyre, barber. He was a young man of sterling qualities, rather of a retiring disposition, always cheery and ready to help with any worthy cause. He was a member of the United Church choir. Deceased had been ill for some time but had continued working up until three weeks before his death. Much sympathy is felt for the immediate relatives of the young man.

COMMISSIONER IS COMING

Commissioner Charles Rich, the head of the Salvation Army in Western Canada, will visit Fernie, Sunday, May 31st, and will give a public address dealing with the work of the Salvation Army and the great service it is rendering to humanity.

Before coming to Canada last year he was the chief secretary for the work of the Army in Great Britain, and in this capacity was in close touch with the work of the organization. He is said to be an extremely effective public speaker with a gift of humor, and a sincere appreciation of the needs of the world. The army now has twenty separate social institutions in Western Canada, including hospitals, homes for children, etc., and a part of the time of the Commissioner is devoted to the consideration of the needs of these institutions. His chief work, however, he says, is in the spiritual realm which is the basis of all the other work of the Army. On his trip through Western Canada the Commissioner will be accompanied by Ensign T. Mundy, who is one of the pleasing vocalists and instrumentalists in the Army service. The ensign is also a composer and it is understood will sing one of his compositions in the meeting here.

BIG ELK IS COMING

Colonel Royal Burritt, D.S.O., Croix de Guerre, was born in the City of Stratford, Province of Ontario, and moved to Winnipeg in 1907. His business is located at 201 Donalda Blk, and is that of general insurance and real estate broker. During the years 1914 to 1919 he served in the Great War, and was mentioned several times in British and French despatches and and for excellent service to the Allies was awarded the D.S.O. and Croix de Guerre. After leaving Valcartier Camp in command of the 11th Battery, C.E.F., he was transferred to the Imperial General Staff, and later served on the General Staff of the 9th Army Corps which became part of the British Army of Occupation. He is a director of Winnipeg Realty Exchange; secretary of Winnipeg Lodge No. 10, B.P.O. Elks, secretary of Fort Garry Lodge No 130, G.R.M., A.F & A.M., member of the Board of General Purposes of the Grand Lodge of Manitoba, A.F. & A.M.; Past District Deputy Grand Master, A.F. & A. M, ; President of Gyro Club, of Winnipeg ; Past President Service Clubs' Council of Winnipeg ; Past Governor Middle West District International Association of Gyro Clubs, and member of the Manitoba Club and Norwood Golf Club.

Col. Burritt will pay an official visit to Fernie Elks' Lodge on Friday, May 22nd.

CAR ACCIDENT NEAR MICHEL

Advice reached this city last evening of a motor accident just east of Michel in which it is feared that Denis Fleming, traveller for the Western Canada Wholesale Co. of this city, lost his life.

From the meagre information available, it appears that Fleming was riding in a roadster driven by a Mr. Wood, of Michel, and that another man was seated on Fleming's lap. The car left Michel about five o'clock yesterday afternoon and had just proceeded about one hundred yards out of the city when the car went over the bank and tumbled into Michel Creek. Only the rear end of the car went into the creek. The men were thrown out of the car and when Wood picked himself up Fleming was missing. The Michel Creek was at flood tide and is full of boulders, and it is believed that Fleming must have been catapulted into the creek and stunned. He has not yet been found.

Fleming, who resides at Blairmore, where he has a wife and two young children, is a native of Cape Breton, and is a veteran of the Great War.

MAY BE SURPRISED

Windsor, Ont., May 19.—Speaking at a Liberal rally held last night at Ford City, in the interests of Edward G. Odette, candidate for East Essex, Chief Liberal Whip George Kyte, M. P., for Cape Breton, expressed the opinion that the depositors of the Home Bank would be given a pleasant surprise when the government announced its legislation regarding indemnification.

DANGER OF HIGH WATER

A drizzling rain falling continuously here during the past 24 hours, while greatly reducing the forest fire hazard, has been responsible for a rapid rise in the waters of the Elk River. At various points along its course to the east of Fernie the water has risen above the banks, while on the city side of the West Fernie bridge the water has overflowed and the south side of Dalton avenue, which runs behind the skating rink, is covered with water. The water guage on the West Fernie bridge this morning recorded 8.6 feet above low water mark or just 1.6 feet below the high water mark reached in 1923. There is still tremendous deposits of snow in the surrounding mountains due to the heavy fall of snow during the past winter, and unless some quick change in the weather takes place shortly, a repetition of the big flood of 1916 is feared.

OIL BURNERS VERSUS COAL

Fernie citizens, who are keenly interested in the fight between oil and coal, will be pleased to learn that the latter has scored another round in that hard battle. The Spokesman-Review of Tuesday contains the following news item:

Forty oil-burning freight locomotives between Havre, Mont., and Spokane on the Great Northern railroad, are being changed to burn coal as the result of a rise in the price of crude oil, it was announced yesterda by railroad officials.

The locomotives from Havre to Spokane burn Montana oil, which has been rising in price, but west of Spokane, California oil, which is relatively cheaper, is used. For this reason oil will continue to be used in the freight service on the line from here to the coast.

The line to the east of Havre has always been equipped with coal-burning freight engines.

The locomotives were originally coal burners and were converted to oil burners, so that they can readily be adapted for coal burning again by removing the oil feeding apparatus and putting in grates.

The conversion of the oil burners will be completed by July 1.

PUT THE HIGH SCHOOLS UNDER PROVINCE ?

Victoria, May 20.—Hon. J. D. McLean, minister of education, today declined to discuss a rumor that the government is to take over control of the high schools of the province.

Discussing schools for Esquimalt last night, Chairman Elrick advised delay, saying that the Putman report would recommend revision of the curriculum of the high school, and transfer the preliminary grade of high school pupils to the graded schools, placing the two senior years of the high school on a self-sustaining basis or that they be taken over completely by the government.

Dr. MacLean says the Putman report has not been received.

Drumheller, May 14.—Jessie Gouge, one of the principal coal operators of Drumheller, was the star witness appearing befor the Alberta Coal Commission at the opening of its sittings at this mining town on Thursday.

This witness strongly denied the statement made in some quarters that the coal mine industry was badly handled. He said he had never given serious consideration to those statements because usually they were made by people not experienced themselves and had not sufficient information about the management of mines.

Witness added that during the time the industry had been increasing they had paid the highest wages in any industry and he thought they were still doing so.

Asked by the Commission if he considered that there were too many mines in the district. Mr. Gouge said that theretically and economically there was never too much of anything in the way of industrial development.

In reply to a question Mr. Gouge said that personally he could not see how the mines at Drumheller could operate continuously. There were many reasons, he said, why that could not be. In Drumheller they were not operating nearly as much as they could. It was a question of extending the boundaries of their market and getting business that now went to somebody else.

At the present time, he said, the Drumheller mines were practically out of the Manitoba market. That had to be recovered. At one time the Manitoba market took 25 per cent. of their coal. There were many causes that had brought that about. People in Winnipeg, for instance, were buying cheaper coal from Carbon. Witness said he did not favor any pooling arrangement in the coal industry.

Mr. Gouge said there was a possibility of developing the Spokane market and also a market in British Columbia for Drumheller coal.

In reply to chairman Evans regarding pool suggestion, Mr. Gouge said he was satisfied that domestic coal could not be graded. So far as "distress coal" at Winnipeg was concerned, he thought that such conditions were temporary and would remedy themselves. He said he was seriously thinking of opening his own retail agency in Winnipeg to sell his own coal.

"It has been suggested as a remedy, that fifty per cent. of the mines here be closed," said chairman Evans, "and that those that continue working compensate those closed up, and that something of that kind would cheapen production, give steadier employment and increase the prosperity of the industry generally."

"It is a paternalistic idea, which is not economically sound," said Mr. Gouge. "If that day happens I want to be among the fellows compensated.

Regarding wages he said that a reduction would not produce more days duction would increase that market could be increased. However if a reduction would increas that market the miner would benefit by the reduction. It was the only debatable question between the operator and the miner.

Asked by the commission what his general attitude towards labor was Mr. Gouge said he was not unfriendly toward labor unions. He had come to the conclusion that no big industry such as the coal industry, would ever be operated without a recognition of a labor organization of some sort.

ORGANIZE AGAINST REDS

London, May 18.—The London Daily Herald's Berlin correspondent presents reliable authority for the statement that Great Britain has proposed to the allies to send a joint note to the Soviet government demanding absolute repudiation of the Communist International and expulsion of the headquarters of the International from Moscow.

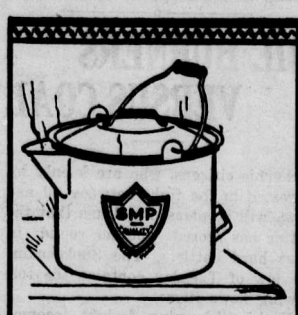
Commenting on the dispatch, the Herald says, that such a proposal, if successful, must lead to disaster for the whole world, as it may easily rekindle the fires of war.

The paper, which is the Labor organ, characterizes the alleged proposal as gross interference with another nations autonomy and an act of calculated hostility.

London, May 18.—Whether Great Britain is contemplating conversations with France or other allies looking to a rupture of diplomatic relations with Russia, was the question Ben Smith, Laborite, proposed to put this afternoon in the Commons to Austin Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary. Mr. Smith's proposed move was the upshot of a story in the Labor journal, the Daily Herald, from Berlin, to the effect that Britain was aiding a new world-wide offensive against Russia.

The Berlin report, credited to an absolutely reliable authority, claimed a joint allied note to Russia was planned, wherein the Russian government would be asked to repudiate the Communist International, with expulsion of its headquarters from Moscow.

London, May 18.—What to do with Russia is the problem which is puzzling European statesmen, especially the British.



The agitation against Bolshevist activities here following the Sofia outrage and further evidence that Moscow is behind all the Communist movements in Europe, has caught the British government in two minds.

Sir William Joynson Hicks wants full powers to expel all members of Soviet deegations because they are suspected of plotting with British Communists, and already many permits have been cancelled or suspended and in some cases consideration of these certificates have been postponed.

This has given the govrnment a certain measure of control over the Communist activities, but further effort in this direction is held up by the attitude of Mr. Chamberlain, foreign secretary, who maintains that Britain is bound by her trade treaty with Russia to grant these permits and cannot cancel them without good cause. Now the report comes from Berlin that Britain proposes to start a diplomatic offensive against Russia. Officials of the foreign office, this morning would not directly deny this rumor, but they frown upon circulation of such a report.

It is evident, however, that some move has taken place and it is likely that Germany will embrace the opportunity of serving the Allies in any campaign of this kind against Russia, providing she is allowed a corresponding opportunity of rectifying her eastern frontiers as the price of her support.

"There's very little going on here today," remarked the life guard on the crowded bathing beach of a fashionable sea-side resort.

The Right Way to Boil Potatoes

Put the potatoes in an SMP Enameled Potato Pot. Cover with water. Add salt to taste. Boil until soft. When finished, drain off all the boiling water through the strainer spout. No danger of steam scalding the hands because the handle securely locks the cover on. If your family uses potatoes, you require one of these.

"It might not be this organization or that organization, but it will be some organization," he said, "and this is not only inevitable, but I think that experience has proven that it is desirable," he added. "The kind of union you have and the men you have at the head of it, is a very important factor," he said.

Opinion among Drumheller coal operators appears to be sharply divided as to the benefits that might be derived from some pooling arrangement or system whereby the black diamonds of the valley might be sold more cheaply. This was brought out in the evidence submitted to the Alberta Coal Commission here Thursday. The question of the closing of fifty per cent. of the mines was also a point that was sharply debated, in view of the fact that other mines might spring into existence even if that were accomplished.

The whole of Thursday was given to the operators to express their views On Friday the representatives of the men were given a chance to express themselves.

At the outset Chairman Evans made it is clear that information was being secured as to the costs of production and profit on coal. This was stated by the chairman when one of the miners' organization, P. Conroy stated, that the miners' organization was taking but little interest in the commission, as it was understood the two points mentioned did not come within the scope of the inquiry.

P. Conroy, a board member of subdistrict five of the United Mine Workers of America, in the course of his evidence, recommended the establishment of advisory councils between operators and representatives of the men. With regard to seasonal work at the mines, he said he did not think it right for a man to run round the country looking for work and leaving his family behind him.

In referring to the Mines Act, he suggested that the miners should have a thoroughly experienced man appointed by the mines department in addition to the local inspection committee and existing inspector. The latter he said had too much responsibility.

Replying to the chairman, he said the cost of the second inspector would be an additional charge on the industry. There was room also for better representation on the Workmen's Compensation Board, so far as the miners were concerned.

Conroy, who is secretary-treasurer of the Atlas local, complained that up to the past two or three months housing conditions at some of the camps had been far from desirable. Witness said that during the past year or fifteen months, there had been from 100 to 110 cases of typhoid fever. In reply to the commission he said there had not been any specific investigation into the outbreak.

Housing conditions in the town itself were satisfactory, but only 30 or 35 per cent. of the miners lived in the town proper.

With regard to wages and working conditions, the 'bone question" had been a source of trouble between the miners and operators for many years.

Witness claimed that the short season in the domestic coal industry was due to competition between the miners themselves. There were three months of intensive work, and nine months of intensive laziness, he said.

Asked what was his immediate solution of the existing difficulties was he replied "nationalization."

"But that would take time, suggested the commission. Witness agreed and thought the lessening of competition imposed upon the average miner would help, but would not be sufficient to keep the miner occupied the whole of the year. He did not think there was any other class of work that a miner could adapt himself to with success.

In reply to a further question on the point of machinery, he said he was not opposed to labor saving devices.

In further replying to the chair, Mr. Conroy said he believed in expropriating the mines without compensation, with certain reservations for the small investor.

Asked by Frank Wheatly if a closer system of control would improve conditions, witness said he could not recommend any such control. Then you go beyond the suggested nationalization of mines in Britain, quizzed the chair. "I might," said witness, "but the basis of nationalization in Britain might be changed."

"Would you nationalize the farming industry?" witness was asked by the board. "Yes it could be operated by the state," said Mr. Conroy, without hesitation, who added in reply to another question that he would compensate a farmer who had a family with a quarter section.

Lethbridge, May 19.—That 80 per cent of the contract miners in the Galt mines were receving less than the day men and that the minimum wage clause was not lived up to by the operators in No. 6 Mine, was the contention of Alex. Robertson, secretary of the local union, in giving his evidence before the coal commission this morning.

He further alleged that 50 per cent. of the contract miners recieve less than the minimum wage. Witness said that in making this statement he did not include machine men, who contravened the Mine Act, with the encouragement of the company.

The chairman pointed out that figures in the pay roll, as given in detail, did not exactly bear out the contention of the witness. Witness, however, held to his statement, going on to say that where there were abnormal conditions, the payment of 62 cents a yard for bone prevented the miners from making the minimum wage and that the company did not pay the minimum wage.

John Thass, the manager of a small mine four miles north of the city, found fault with the provision in the Workmen's Compensation Act which did not allow an appeal from the decision of the Board. He considered that this worked a hardship and that the act should be amended to allow of an appeal. He considered it arbitrary that the final decision should be left in the hands of three men.

Allegations made by Alex. Robertson, secretary of local union 574, before the coal commission this morning, that the provisions of the Mines Act covering the settlement of disputes are ignored by the operators, were hotly repudiated by Lewis Stockett, general superintendent of the Galt Mines.

Slowly but surely, cemetery by cemetery, the meek inherit the earth.

The course as constructed will offer

OUR PRO. AT LACOMBE.

The Lacombe Leader says: The work of laying out the golf course of the Lacombe Golf and Country Club has been finished this week by Robert Smith, an expert golf course constructor from Carnmoustie, Scotladn, who is working in Western Canada, laying out a number of important contracts, constructing courses for several towns in the west. The work of Mr. Smith has been highly successful and the promoters of the golf course are going the right way in giving the town a real sporting course, and an asset which it is hoped will be supported by every business and private enterprise in town. The town to-day that cannot offer golf facilities to the visitor and tourist will simply be passed by and other towns reap the benefit.

The course as constructed will offer to the exponents of the game a full championship length course of 3145 yards, with holes varying in distance from 185 to 515 yards. Work is proceeding apace with the clearing and gtting the ground in shape with the object of having some play for the summer months.

WHO TEACHES VICE TO YOUTH ?

The recent suicide of the Northwestern University student who squandered his last days in orgies of drinking and vice caused a splash wider than the lake in which he drowned himself, and the discussion over the moral frality of modern youth goes on at seemingly futile length. If modern youth, as partly exemplified by this boy, is more wicked than the generation which went before, why is it, and who is responsible? Why is it that this boy, who might have been suported to his end by Christian faith, though there was no cure for his bodily ailment, went to his death with despairing soul? Much ink has been expended in fixing the responsibility for the spiritual recklessness of modern youth which in this collegian reached such a sensational climax. But less energy, some of his own age observe, is being expended in bringing a reformation where it is most needed. The young editors of The Cornellian, a semi-weekly published by Cornell College, Iowa, admit "it is quite possible that the state of affairs is a great deal worse than ever before. The escapades may be far more immoral than those of their ancestors." It is a changing world these students learn from the depths of their experience. We go forward or backward, they say, nothing is stationary, and to these young observers it "is evident that the morals of the young people of to-day are going down." Then they ask us "But—who owns the resorts where the shameless parties take place? Who is in charge of the booze smugglers who get into this country the liquor which graces the hip-pockets of the mbodern youth? Who controls the indecent amusements and publication of obscene literature? Who writes the books and stories depicting life so luridly that upon reading them the younger generation goes out of its way to imitate their vices? If we are going to condemn, let us get down to the fundamental causes."

Here and There

Under the joint Canadian-British Government scheme, 3,000 families are being brought to Alberta this year and the first party of families will arrive in April. They will first be guaranteed employment and later will take up their own land.

Henry E. Suckling, Treasurer of the Canadian Pacific Railway since 1908, died recently at Atlantic City after an illness of several months. He was born at Gibraltar in 1851 and had been associated with railways in a treasury capacity since his early manhood.

J. C. Mitchell, of Dahinda, Sask., known as the "world's champion wheat grower" returned home recently from a lecture tour of the British Isles. "Go West, young man, go West," is his advice to all who wish to try their fortunes in the Dominion.

Speaking at Toronto, Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines for Ontario, said that the estimated output of the mines of the province this year will be around $75,000,000. In regard to gold he stated that by 1928 Ontario was expected to top the total production of the United States.

A new Silver Trophy donated by the English Football Association to the Dominion of Canada Football Association for annual competition among Canadian clubs has arrived in Canada and will be on exhibition at Canadian Pacific stations at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and right across the West.

An expedition which will try to climb Mount Logan (19,359 feet) in the Yukon, the loftiest peak in Canada, is to leave Vancouver in April. It will be headed by A. H. McCarthy and Col. W. E. Foster, of Vancouver, and six other gentlemen, including a representative of the English Alpine Club, will complete the party.

Agricultural products in the Province of Manitoba during the year 1924 reached a total estimated value of $164,312,857, according to figures issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. This amount is nearly double that of the previous year and is accounted for largely by the big upturn in the price of wheat.

The shield which was taken from the gates of Old Quebec when the city was captured by General Wolfe, and now in the possession of the town of Hastings, will be returned to the Ancient Capital. The Hastings Council have decided to return the shield which was presented to them by General Wolfe Murray, a descendant of the famous soldier.

Miss Ethel Loginska, temperamental pianist, gave another taste of her quality when she lectured a socially prominent audience for coughing in the middle of a concert at Englewood, N.J. "If you can't control yourselves, please don't stay here," she remarked. About fifteen disgruntled members of the audience left the hall indignantly.

Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies have developed the idea of using snow shoes for horses over the heavy snow tracks of that region. In this way great quantities of supplies are brought considerable distances across trails that would otherwise be impassable to heavy loads. Trail Orders are holding their second great Pow-Wow early in August next.

Devising a new kind of motion picture camera with a built-in motor that is almost noiseless in operation, Burton S. Moore, proprietor of the Nictau Camps in New Brunswick, has succeeded in taking about 4,000 feet of film of wild life in action which will be shown in due course on Canadian and United States screens. He has been particularly successful in depicting every motion in that special phenomenon by partridges known as drumming.

Over half of last year's western grain crop was handled by the Canadian Pacific Railway according to data just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Of the total grain inspections numbering 172,856 cars during the seven months to February 28 last, 99,237 cars were on the company's lines, representing 57½ per cent, while of the 130,157 cars delivered at Fort William and Port Arthur during the same period 68,690 or 52.8 per cent are credited to the company.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 8

The Consumption of Tea

Tea as a beverage is used in nearly every country in the world. It is estimated over 200 billion cups are consumed annually. Australia leads in tea drinking with an annual per capita consumption of about nine pounds, which means that every Australian consumes from six to eight cups of tea every day. The consumption per capita in England is 8½ lbs., and in Canada nearly 5 lbs. In the United States, it is less than 1 lb., but this is largely because Americans have not been able to get fine teas until comparatively recently. "SALADA" is considered one of the choicest blends on the market, and is the largest selling tea in either United States or Canada.

Had it ever occured to you—That the more he labors to help his community, the more are his motives questioned?

That if he takes a hand in local politics, he is accused of being crooked?

That if he does not, he is accused of being a coward.

That if advocates public improvements, he is condemned and his motives are under suspicion?

That if he stands for law and order, he is charged with trucking to the preachers??

That if he takes a stand for prohibition, he is denounced as a fanatic?

That if he advocates light wines and beer, he is branded as a drunken sot?

That if he roasts the mail-order house, he is told to mind his own business, that the people have a right to buy where they please?

That if he prints the mail-order advertisements, the merchants land on him with both feet?

That if he tries to discuss fairly the merits of public utility corporations, he is accused of being owned by them?

That the life of the average editor is exceedingly pleasant?

That if the people would only realize the truth, they would boost the editors?

That the growth of your city means your success?

That you need him as much as he needs you?

That without him your community would soon be numbered among the dear departed?

Regulations which came into effect on May 1 in connection with the administration of liens under the income tax act bid fair to blocade business throughout Canada, according to financial and legal men throughout the country. The regulations provide that the department of customs and excise under which the income tax is administered will according to law, hold a first mortgage on all properties real or personal in arrears for their income tax payments. This means that no land transaction of any consequence can be considered closed until the purchaser makes certain that the seller has paid his income tax, and it will be the duty of the purchaser to demand a certificate certifying that such income tax has been paid.

ASSOCIATED BOARDS

While Fernie did not send any accredited delegates to the meetings of the Associated Boards of Trade in Cranbrook this week, four representatives from the local Board attended in the persons of Harry Douglas, E. K. Stewart, C. Bennett and M. A. Kastner, for the purpose of securing information as to the workings of that body.

Many years ago when Fernie was endeavoring to get on the map as a coal producing centre the Associated Boards passed resolutions which were very detrimental to our industry and this so antagonized our citizens that they refused to have any dealings with that body up to the present time. However, times have changed since then and our local Board of Trade may reconsider the matter and again join in with the boosters from the metaliferous districts further west.

A Cranbrook correspondent sends out the following report of the meetings: With sixty six accredited delegates from points in the eastern parts of the province and elsewhere, the twenty-fifth anniversary meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia opened on the 19th inst.

Hon. Wm. Sloan, Minister of Mines, was in attendance, and also R. Randolph Bruce, of Invermere, who had just returned from England.

Ivan Poole, Vice-President of Nelson, took the chair in the absence of Noble Binns, Trail, who was unable to attend through sickness.

W. H. Wilson, President of the Cranbrook Board of Trade, extended a warm welcome to the delegates at the anniversary gathering, recalling the successful meeting at Nelson a year ago and hoping that much benefit would result from this meeting. He outlined the plan for the outing at Kimberley on Wednesday, at the invitation of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., which would be of special benefit to those interested in mining.

The report of the President for the past year was then read, following which F. A. Starkey, commissioner, presented his report. The treasurer's report on finances showed an income of $2,046.77 and expenditures of $1,887.94, with some obligations still to meet.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted in the same being elected to hold office as follows:

Noble Binns, Trail, president; I. R. Poole, vice-president, Nelson; F. A. Strkey, Nelson, secretary; R. H. Hinton, treasurer, Nelson; finance committee, J. P. Fink, Cranbrook; L. Campbell, Rossland; W. H. Burgess, Kaslo.

The resolutions committee was named to consist of Messrs. W. H. Wilson, Cranbrook; C. B. Garland, Creston; T. W. Bingay, Trail; L. Campbell, Rossland; R. H. Hinton, Nelson.

They reported on a number of resolutions some of which were dealt with by the convention.

A Slocan resolution, asking for a railway up Slocan Lake, which has been proposed before, was endorsed, and also another resolution from Cranbrook, urging the suppression of the I.W.W. and a cessation of the circulation allowed to its literature and propaganda, considering the revolutionary attitude it takes to the recognized order of society and the disruption it has caused in the industrial situation in East Kootenay.

Another resolution originating from Nelson, urging a lower scale of taxation, particularly for the large revenue producing mining companies, was referred back to the committee for reconsideration.

A proposal to put a tax on incoming coal was not considered favorably, neither was a resolution from Princeton urging the government to build the Hope-Princeton road, the view being taken that work had already commenced on the Fraser canyon route.

The session of the Associated Boards was followed by a meeting of the mining association of the interior, attended by many representative mining men from the Kootenays.

COAL CREEK NOTES

The local leather chasers entertained the Fernie eleven up here on Sunday last. Gaining experience from the reverses of the past two weeks, the local aggregation put up a better brand of play and ran out winners over the visitors by 4 goals to 1.

Ernest Neidig, tipple foreman, is sojourning on the family ranch near Lethbridge. Steve Zuffa is filling his position.

Sandy Phillips had the misfortune to break his leg on Monday and is an inmate of the Fernie Hospital.

The sympathy of the residents goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cairns in the loss of their baby girl.

Mrs. Tom Manning returned home from the Fernie Hospital, where she has been undergoing treatment.

Mrs. Phil Simmons received a wire notifying her of the serious illness of her sister in Vancouver and left on Wednesday for that city.

A series of game is being staged at the Club Hall for the members. Billiards, Pool, Whist, Cribbage, Seven-Up, Dominoes, Quoits and Snap are the games scheduled.

The Dokays are to be complimented on the successful time held here on Wednesday evening. Twenty tables were occupied for whist, and the following prizes were awarded: Gentlemen: 1 J. Wilson, 2 Ross Workman, 3 Wm. Walls; ladies, 1 Mrs. Corlett, 2 Miss Magielka, 3 Mrs. Gaskell. Booby: O. Corrigan and Mrs. Dingwall. A large number from Fernie and several from Michel were in attendance. Dancing was kept up until 3.30 a.m. The committee desire to thank those who contributed refreshments, the Coal Co. for train service and all who assisted in any way.

The annual children's sports will be held here on Monday, commencing at 2 p.m. A lengthy program has been prepared. A refreshment booth in charge of the the Ladies Aid of the United Church will be on the grounds. All children under 13 years of age will receive a cash donation at 1 p.m. at the depot. Events are confined to children of the C.C.L. & A. A. There will be a dance in the Club Hall in the evening after the sports.

Phil Shimmins left on Thursday morning for the Kootenay Lakes to demonstrate the coal from these mines.

Harry Murray received severe injuries to his head on Thursday on the tipple. He was removed to the Fernie Hospital.

Sam Maluzi got in the way of his partner's pick in No. 2 mine on Thursday and it peneterated his thigh. He was taken to Fernie for medical attention.

J. A. Broley and son left this week on a motor trip to the coast.

Thos. Fitzgerald brought in a new Studebaker car from Calgary this week for Stafford Wilson.

Harry Miard left this morning for coast points on examination work in the coal mining areas.

The Hospital Committee will meet Saturday night at 7 o'clock in the Miners' Committee Rooms.

Robt. Kerr has the contract for the erection of the new machine shops at Michel and Fernie.

Sandy Watson cut down the local record for the golf course this week to 66 for 18 holes. He made each round in 33, which is going some.

Tenders are in for the swimming tank. It is expected that the contract will be let tomorrow. A rush job is called for.

Owing to Victoria Hall being engaged on Monday evening, the LO.O. M. will meet on Tuesday evening at 6.30. Initiation.

Jack Sweeney and J. F. Rudnicki left on Wednesday for Kamloops to attend a convention of the Knights of Columbus.

John Garbutt arrived back in town on Saturday last from the coast, where he has been demonstrating Fernie coal.

Don't forget the whist drive and dance at the Catholic Hall tonight, Friday, May 22. Cards from 8.30. Dancing 11 to 1. Refreshments. Admission 50c.

Blairmore golf team are expected to visit Fernie on Monday. It is to be hoped that the local boys will give them a better battle than upon the last occasion.

The Fernie District Rod and Gun Club have placed a quarter of a million cut throat trout eyed eggs in streams tributary to the Elk River during this week, in the immediate vicinity of Fernie.

The late Dominico Scarpino, aged 30 years, who died in Exshaw, Alta., on May 15, was buried from the Roman Catholic church here yesterday morning. The funeral was one of the largest held in Fernie for many years.

One dollar will place one thousand cut throat trout in our local waters. Membership fee in the Fernie District Rod and Gun Club is only $1 per year. Become a member now and help along the good work. See the Secretary, F. Denison.

The local baseball team are arranging for a splendid series of games to be played here during the next four or five weeks. On Sunday and Monday next Troy, Montana, club will be in the city to provide a two game series, to commence at 2.30 each day. The Troy club are not newcomers here and the fans know they can rely on real snappy ball from them. Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary Athletics and Sand Point, Ida., clubs are all expected to play in Fernie during the next six weeks, while all challenges for the Calgary Brewery Cup must be played in Fernie, so a good season of baseball is practically assured.

The Misses Mabel and Mary Barton are visiting in Calgary.

Bert Brerton, manager of the Fernie Motor Car Co., was in Calgary yesterday on business.

Tommy Biggs has purchased a Star touring car from Wm. Johnston.

R. Billsborough is back in the city after spending a few days at the coast.

Yes, everybody is going to the Grand Theatre on Tuesday evening, May 26, to be present with "You and I." tf

The Al. G. Barnes circus is billed to appear in Fernie on June 1. It is three years since this big show played here.

There will be a whist drive followed by a musical program, on Thursday, May 28, commencing at 8 p.m., in the basement of Christ Church.

Do not forget the G.W.V.A. annual dance in Victoria Hall on Monday, May 25. Refreshments. Dancing from 9 p.m.

Only 11 days left now to get ready for the Elks' 2nd Annual Ball, the event of the season, Victoria Hall, Fernie, B.C., Tuesday evening, June 2nd.

The engagement of Miss Florence Billsborough, of this city, to Phillip Broster, of Elko, is announced. The wedding will take place about September.

There has been a lot of kicking about the dust on Victoria avenue. It is the intention of the council when the road is resurfaced to have it properly oiled and thus eliminate dust as far as possible. In the meantime the sprinkler will be kept busy.

The Management Committee of the Fernie Co-Operative Women's Guild desir to thank the helpers and workers that contributed so largely to the success of the recent sale of work and home cookery as well as the patrons.

Last Monday evening Mrs. H. Lindsay and family left Fernie on a six months' visit to her home in Workington, Cumberland, England. A large number of friends attended at the depot to wish the travellers bon voyage. The trip is being taken on the liner Montroyal.

Word was received here yesterday that Bert Grainger, who was for some time in charge of the Salvation Army corps here, died Wednesday morning in the General Hospital, in Winnipeg. He had been a patient in that hospital since last October, suffering from Bright's disease.

At the home of the bride's parents, West Fernie, on Monday, May 18, George Arnold Follett and Isabel Boardman were united in marriage, Rev. W. F. Burns officiating. After the marriage ceremony, breakfast was served and the happy couple took the Great Northern train for Spokane, where they will spend a brief honeymoon. Both bride and groom are well known in this city and carry with them the best wishes of all.

Rev. W. F. Burns, pastor of the United Church, leaves for the east early next week. While away he will attend the General Assembly meeting in Toronto and also the first meeting of the General Council of the United Church, as well as the Rotary International Convention in Cleveland. A supply committee has been appointed to arrange for the services in the United Church. Rev. Frank Dingle will supply the pulpit on May 31.

Ernest Frederick Frey, late of the staff of N. E. Suddaby, Fernie, B.C., has graduated from the Ontario College of Pharmacy with first class honors, winning the gold medal for proficiency and the John Roberts scholarship. He headed the class of 150 students, which is certainly a high honor in the leading school of pharmacy in the Dominion. Ernest's many Fernie friends extend congratulations. It is expected that the young man will remain in the east, where he has been offered a fine position with one of the largest drug establishments in Hamilton.

THE EVILS OF HIGH SOCIETY

The sins of some of England's idle rich recently aired in the courts and newspapers are causing some penitential heart-searching, both inside and outside the charmed circle. It is bad enough when lords and ladies and lesser lights of the great galax go wrong, but it is infinitely worse when one considers that public opinion is apt to generalize and to conclude that all English high society is rotten. Said Justice Shearman, in summing up the latest of his celebrated cases which, in salacity, have equalled, if they have not surpassed, any of the famous American cases, the notriety given to these cases conveys a wholly false and misleading impression of what English social and family life is, and I hope you will dispose of this case at once so that it will be buried and forgotten." Before they forget, the London papers are considering the social consequences of the publicity attendant upon these glaring misdeeds. The Conservative press is exercised chiefly over the possible impetus to socialism that may come from the revelations. The London Daly Mail and the London Morning Post, although proclaiming that these stories of intrigue, blackmail and infidlity do not faithfully represent the state of affairs among the upped classes, warn their readers of the sinister figures of Bolshevism lurking in the background, only too anxious to utilize such revelations to their own advantage. To which the London Daily Herald, Labor's chief organ, retorts, "the tone of the world in which these people move is lower probably than that of any previous period in our history." The London Daily Chronicle, answering the question, "Why publish this stuff if you so much deprecate its publication ? replies with the old standby, "the public demands it, and so long as others print it, we must too." This paper, however, makes the point that "people who are among the most decent and clean living in the whole world are branded as if they were the foulest, not because they really have more dirty linen than have others, but because we alone must insist on washing it in public."

A particularly poignant protest against the criticisms heaped against high society as a whole is voiced by Countess Bathurst,, who until recently was proprietor and active editorial manager of the Morning Post and who is frequently referred to as the most influential woman in the greatest of British political parties—the Conservative party. Lady Bathurst replies in The Evening Standard to articles in the same newspaper by Canon Donaldson of Westminster Abbey, who is well known for his socialist views. She asserts that the Church did not raise its voice against the slayings in Ireland when the country was in the throes of revolution and that it was silent when two particularly revolting crimes by mmbers of the middle class were brought to light, and observes :

"The working classes, of course, commit murders and other crimes daily, vide the papers, but as they seldom having leading K.C.'s engaged in the most dramatic and sensational fights over their misdeeds, the working classes also escape denunciation.

"Of course it is ridiculously unfair to generalize and abuse any one class for the misdeeds of a few and more than unfair, it is a crime to do so at a time when the Prime Minister is doing his best to heal class warfare and promote good feeling.

"As one of the "idle rich" I confess that it fills me with disgust when I think of my numerous friends once well to do and now impoverished by war, being classed either as idle or rich. Most of them after paying income tax on all kinds of property which brings in no income, have to pay a supertax on income they have never had and on income which has gone to the Government. They then have extortionate rates (local taxes), all for the benefit of the poorer classes.

"They pay higher wages, plus insurance, to all their employees, and if anything is left, churches, hospitals, village halls, boys and girls' clubs, nursing associations, infant welfare bazaars, blind and disabled soldiers, etc., make daily demands upon them And when they have given all—time money and health—what is their reward ? They are held up to scorn as idle rich who all lead dissolute luxurious lives.

"If the worm turns and if the kind of people I am thinking of grow tired of work, working for others, perhaps their downward course is greatly hastened by such comments as those."

Some moralizing is indulged in on this side of the Atlantic, too. As to the comparative virtues of the working classes and the aristocracy, the New York Times thinks "it is not so much an inferiority in natural virtue on the part of the rich, as their opportunities, their temptations, through command of wealth, to indulge in practises that are disgusting and degrading, which makes up the main differences morally. If the English aristocracy were fairly represented by the debased creatures that have just prepaded their shame in the English courts, it would have sunk into the pot long ago." The Nashville Banner comments :

"It all lends more interest to the contention of those who have claimed steadily ever since the war that there has been a tremendous let-down in ideals and practise. It may happen that the leaders of labor in Great Britain will make capital out of scandal.

"At any rate, it will be interesting to observe what the reaction of Great Britain is. It is no more fair to judge a people by the acts of a few undesirables on the other side of the Atlantic than it is for the British to persume that all Americans are vulgar and talk through their noses merely because a few of our most noticeable new rich have made a poor impression."

A TALK ON LIGHTNING

Not because of its terrific energy, but because of its enormous power and uncertain habits, we are told. The "uncertain habits" part of the statement is clear enough, but for the average layman the remainder of the statement needs explaining. Energy and power, pass current in every day speech as synonyms. How they really differ is explained by Mr. F. W. Peck, writing in the Chicago Manufacturers' News, who tells also how the destruction of power lightning is measured. We read :

"The distinction between energy and power is that energy is measured in kilowatt-seconds or kilowatt hours, while power is measured in kilowatts.. Kilowatts measure the rate at which work is being done. If energy is being dissipated in a very short time the power is large and the result is an explosion.

"When lightning strikes an object, great damage is generally done. However, it is not necessary for lightning actually to strike an object to cause damage. A discharge to earth may cause sparks in distant oil tanks or power magazines, or destructive voltage on transmission lines. Voltages that occur by this wireless action are said to be induced.

"The artificial lightning was produced by a lightning generator which supplies 2,000,000 volts above ground, higher than most voltages induced on transmission lines. The discharge from the generator is explosive and the power is of the order of millions of kilowatts for a few mollionths of a second. Currents as high as 10,000 amperes have been obtained. The voltages increase at the rate of millions of volts per second.

"In common with natural lightning, artifical lightning can split and blow apart large wooden posts, and puncture metals. When a sandy spot is struck, a tube of sand fused into glass with tree-like branches is produced. Such tubes are called fulgurites. Because of the explosive nature of lightning some quite unexpected phenomena frequently happen. The lightning generators consist of high capacity condensers, just as in the case of clouds only the insulation consists of glass instead of air and it is relatively more compact. As in the case of cloud lightning, the electricity is stored at a relatively slow rate and discharged at an enormously rapid rate in a few millionths of a second.

"The lightning generator has been of considerable help in gaining knowledge of natural lightning. In fact it has afforded a means of estimating the voltage of a real lightning stroke. The means were very simple and will be cited as an example of the general method of the research, which was to observe natural lightning and then observe artificial lightning on models built to scale in the laboratory.

"The voltage of a real lightning stroke can not be directly measured by placing a meter between cloud and earth. However, for any given flash, the lightning voltage induced on a transmission line can be measured. The length of the flash and the cloud arrangement with reference to the line can be estimated closely. A model cloud and line were constructed to scale for a case were the measured voltage on the real line was 1,000,000 volts. Discharges were produced on the model from the lightning generator. The voltage on the model cloud could be measured, as could be induced voltage on the transmission line. It was found that under these conditions one per cent. of the lightning was induced on the line. If the million volts induced on the real line was one per cent. of the lightning voltage, the voltage of the flash must have been 100 x 1,000,000 or 100,000,000 volts. Of course lightning voltages vary, but this gives a good idea of the order of a severe lightning stroke. It is estimated that the current was about 60,000 amperes, and the energy 13,000 kilowatt-seconds or 3.6 kilowatt-hours. The flash occurs when the voltage along the discharge is 100,000 volts per foot. The voltage of lightning is thus about one million times the voltage of the ordinary lighting circut, or one thousand times the voltage of of very high voltage transmission lines. The energy in a good flash is sufficient to operate an automobile about five miles, or an electric toaster for a day."

The writer then points out that the electric energy that manifests itself in the lightning flash has been stored in the surrounding air for a considerable distance, up to the very instant of discharge. A very small portion of this energy may be stored in the air immediately around a distant observer, and an induced current may flow in his body when the flash occurs. The discharge takes place when the voltage between the earth and cloud becomes high enough to break down the insulation of the intervening air. The electrical energy is then changed into heat, light, sound, and chemical energy,—made tangible in the flash, the thunder of air waves, the destruction of material objects, and the odor of ozone due to disruption and recombination of molecules of ozygen in the air(the normal two-atom molecule becoming a three-atom molecule) Danger to an individual is proportionate to the nearness to the point at which the insulation break occurs—subject, however, to certain modifying conditions, regarding which Mr. Peck writes :

"Research in the laboratory show that lightning from a cloud overhead does not always strike the highest object or rod unless the hight of that object is more than 2.5 per cent. of the cloud height. The division of hi[illegible] is about equal between cloud and ground when the rod is 1.1 per cent. of the cloud height. The chance of being struck is less when the cloud is not directly overhead. There is a protected area around the rod equal to four times the height of the rod where no ground hits occur.

"These researches show that a man standing directly under a storm center at sufficient voltage to cause a discharge would be hit fifteen times out of 100 strokes, while a man flat on the ground would be struck about once in a hundred strokes. A twenty-five foot building would be struck every time. The chance of a thunder cloud of sufficient voltage to cause a discharge being over any particular object is small. The chance of any particular object being struck is thus generally very small indeed.

"The lightning rod seems to be of real value for the protection of buildings. Except for buildings in exposed positions or in special cases, as magazines, the cost of a rod, unless low, is not always warranted from the standpoint of the cost of insurance."

"I just missed being in a train robbery.

"Is that so ?"

"Yes, but I decided not to eat in the dining car."

Visitor—How old are you Jennie ?

Jennie—I'm five and mother says if I'm good and eat lots of cereals I'll be six my next birthday.

Here and There

The Good Roads Department of Manitoba expects to complete the Trans-Canada Highway through that province by October the first. This will complete the road from Brandon west to the Saskatchewan boundary.

The city of Halifax, N.B., is planning to re-establish its Provincial Exhibition this coming fall according to Mayor Murphy. The fair has only been held once or twice since the war prior to which it was an annual event.

The Canadian Trade Commissioner at Liverpool, England, is taking steps to interest Canadian business men in the export of crushed oyster shells to Great Britain. The United States exports 20,000 tons of crushed shells annually to the British Isles.

The official opening of Crystal Garden, Victoria's latest and finest Amusement Park will take place on June 26th. Celebrations, including a ball, processions, and sports, will mark the occasion and are scheduled to continue until July 1st.

Navigation on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence is now open and has provided employment for hundreds of men from Montreal, Toronto and other cities who have been idle during the winter. Shipping circles are optimistic concerning the season just commenced.

It is announced that the Banff, Alberta, Pow-Wow and Indians Day celebration which takes place annually, will be held this year, July 23 and 24 in the Yoho Valley. On these days the Stoney tribe of Indians in full regalia, hold their Pow-Wow and compete in contests of every kind.

There are approximately 2,200,000 persons attending school in this country. Of this number, 1,600 are at institutions for the blind and mute; 81,000 at vocational schools or classes; 14,000 at Indian schools and the remainder attend colleges, universities, subsidized and private schools and institutions for training teachers.

MAKE MAPS BY AEROPLANE

Photographs from cloudland have long since ceased to be a novelty. It is obvions enough that a series of such photographs, patched together, would make a crude map; but equally obvious that such a map would be a caricature of the landscape rather than a truly acurate portrait. Even if the plate were held perfectly level at the moment of exposure, there would be distortion toward the edges of the picture; every tilt of the plate and tilting is unavoidable, would produce other distortions; and at best all elevated surfaces, being nearer the camera, would give enlarged images, in contrast with diminished images of lower surfaces. For example, a river flowing down a steep incline into a valley might seem to diminish in size as it progressed; just as tall buildings, in familiar air-plane protographs of city views, seem to be built on the plan of inverted pyramids, becoming smaller and smaller toward the ground. Such defects being inherent in the nature of picture-making with a lens, the difficulties in the way of making an accurate map by photographing the landseape from an airplane would seem to be insuperable. Yet it appears from a detailed report in the Engineering Record, that these difficulties have been overcome—not indeed, directly, but through the development of methods and instruments for correcting the series of photographs, so that not only are distortions eliminated producing an accurate map, but, by comparison of overlapping pairs of plates, elevations are measured—in other words, a contour map is made ; and the contours, we are told can be located with confidence in their accuracy within limits of one foot, plus or minus. The developed method by which this seeming impossibility is accomplished is known as the Brock process. As to the general principles involved, we are told :

"In its essential nature the Brock process is sterophotographic. In each step two photographs, taken from different positions of the air-plane but having overlapping fields, are used in conjunction, to determine the position and elevation of points in the area being surveyed; thus plates A and B are used in conjunction, and similarly B and C. Steroscopic vision is not used as a means of measurement but only as an auxiliary.

"Certain information requires to be obtained on the ground, in order to give scale, and to permit of adjusting and co-ordinating the plates. This information comprises (1) a known base line at beginning and end of survey network), or at intervals of 15 to 20 miles in a long network, and (2) the differences of elevation of four points in the field of each pair of plates. All other data are derived from the photographs. It is not necessary that the actual elevations of the four points on each plate be known but rather their differences of elevation.

"The process makes use of photographs taken in approximately horizontal position (camera axis approximately vertical). Its characteristic feature is (1) a determination of the error in horizontality, or the tilt, from the plates themselves by diffences of displacement (or parallax) of the control points followed by (2) correction of the plates to true horizontality. This part of the process is based on a recognition of the fact that the absolute angular position of the camera on the air-plane at the moment of taking a picture can be determined by level readings or the like—since a bubble is affected by accelerations just as is the suspended camera—and that also it is not feasible to maintain verticality of camera even by gyroscopic devices. On the other hand, the data from which the tilt of plates can be determined are contained in the pictures themselves and comparative measurements on a pair of plates based on a few datum points give a means of determining the tilt of each plate. After correction of the original plates to horizontality, measurements of the same kind as those first used in determining tilt are then applied to determining the elevation of all the points of the survey area. This step is most conviently carried out by locating consecutive points on the contour line, then on another contour, and so on. Finally the contoured plate, which is a conic projection and therefore not uniform in scale, is transformed by an ingenious replotting method to a true scale orthographic projection, or map.

"It is not generally possible to make air-plane pictures with camera axis vertical (plate horizontal). Careful construction, and delicate anti-friction gimbal suspension of the camera succeeded in keeping the camera very close to vertical, but nevertheless very slight movements occur, which have the effect that each exposure may be at a different (and unknown) tilt from the horizontal. This tilt is of very small amount—not more than a few degrees in extreme cases—but it is sufficient to distort the relation between ground surface and picture. In order to obtain usable survey data from the air pictures, then, it is necessary to determine the tilt with great accuracy, and make correction for it."

This is done by examining two consecutive plates and comparing the apparent elevation of some object, say a hill, with the known elevation. Correction must thus be made for both longitudinal and transverse planes of the plate. The plate is then fixed at the angel of tilt determined (that at which it was when the negative was exposed), and re-photographed ; the result of this ingenious procedure being that the new negative is just what the original one would have been had the camera been aimed in the exact perpendicular. Pairs of plates thus corrected are then placed on the steroscope table for measurement of all desired elevations and drawing of contours. In practice, the original plates are exposed with the air-plane at the height of about 5,000 feet and each plate covers a land area of about 480 acres. Contour mapping by this method is claimed to have the advantage of superior accuracy, speed economy and completeness of detail over ground surveying. Of a map made in the basin of Green River, North Carolina, it is said :

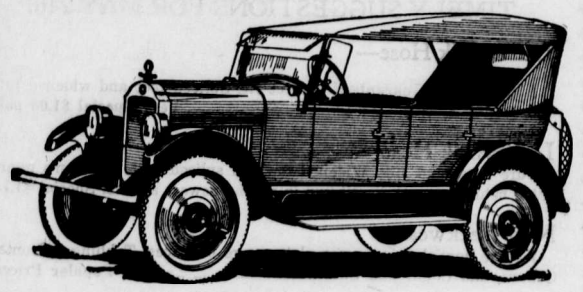
"The country is of bold relief and heavy forest cover, which would have greatly delayed ground surveys, but offered no obstacle in this process. With steroscopic vision it was a simple matter to see between the trees and contour the ground. The flying was done late in 1923 and about 55 square miles were photographed. In all, 40 square miles were finished on the contour map. Contour intervals of 25 and 50 feet were shown, to different elevations, as needed.

"In another job in a different state an interesting check on the ground work was obtained. The control measurements were supplied by the engineers of the company purchasing the map. Reduction of the photographs indicated clearly an error in a linear ground measurement. The company was asked to check the distance measured and telegraphed a correction agreeing in amount with that already indicated by the steroscopic work and plotting."

The public highway between Cranbrook and Wardner is now in better condition than ever before. Subsidence of the more recently constructed grades and splendid work on the part of the sectionmen has worked wonders in that the district now possesses a bit of motor road of which it may well be proud. A feature of the work which commends itself to the asthetic sense and incidentally safeguards the woods from fire is the burning of bush heaps along the road margins. Good work.—Cranbrook Courier.

OLD TIMERS WERE WISE

'Treacle and brimstone," a favorite medicament of our fathers, may be good for us after all. Its administration may have been based on sound nuitritional philosophy, although the principles affecting it were yet in the womb of time. Our ancestors knew perfectly well what was good for them in any number of cases, although they had never heard of a vitamin. Of molasses as a food, an editorial contributor to the Journal of the American Medical Association Chicago), says that the old fashioned kind has largely gone out of use. Under a variety of names it has had a long and varied history in connection with human nutrition. There was a time not many generations ago, when treacle was regarded as a panacea for a diversity of bodily ailments. It was mixed with various medicaments to provide supposed tonics or otherwise effective remedies. He goes on to say : "Formerly molasses was the mother liquor remaining after the removal of one crop of sugar crystals from the boiled down juice of the sugar cane. As the separation of cane sugar by one crystallization is far from complete, the molasses thus secured was rich in sucrose and contained also much the greater part of the other components of the cane juice. The introduction of modern methods into sugar house practise has tended steadily to remove the sucrose more and more completely, with the result that the amount of molasses is decreased, its sugar content is lowered, and its content of impurities is increased. Sherman has pointed that the term 'impurities,' is somewhat misleading, since the components other than sucrose which cane juice naturally contains are unquestionably of food value ; in fact, the molasses is a much less one-sided food than the sugar removed from it. Blackstrap, as the by-product of the manufacture of cane sugar is often popularly termed, is much relished by farm animals. Molasses and molesses feeds have been extesively used for many years with outstanding success in stock feeding ; in fact, while the popularity of treacle as a human food has waned, the use of blackstrap in animal rations has waxed.



Perhaps, aft all, molasses of one sort or another really has nutrient virtues that have not been adequately appreciated. The annimal feeder, long ago, suspected that the residual components of the plant juices, out of which sucrose is crystallized, may have a real food value. And now investigators of the Iowa State College in Ames, have demonstrated that molasses is a source of vitamin B, regarding which students of nutrition are at present somewhat solicitous. With a liberal infusion of the crude product known as blackstrap in the ration of experimental animals, maintenance and growth were satisfactory without any additional supply of vitamin B. Cane molasses is much richer in this vitamin than is either beet molasses or sorghum."

The Detroit driver who was fined because he could not spell "stop," was not so much worse than a lot of drivers who may be able to spell it but have no idea what it means.

Stoney Indians Prepare for Celebration

1. Stoney Mountain Indians gathering in the hotel yard at Banff for the distribution of the Pow-wow prizes.
2. An Indian encampment scene. Insert: The Duke of Connaught as a Tschantoga chief.

These are Tschantoga or Stoney Mountain Indians—"people of the woods". Time was when they were a blood-thirsty lot, with a partiality for white men's scalps and an unpleasant habit of slaying anybody they did not happen to approve of. But look at them now. Their war-like glory has departed and they realize that the white-man is not such a bad sort of chap after all. Big Chief Powderface is as friendly as a Rotary president, and he and his six hundred braves come over every year to Banff, all decked out in their gala attire, and celebrate the burying of the hatchet by a two-day carnival and Pow-wow.

The occasion is called an "Indian Day and Pow-wow' and consists of a series of parades, sports and encampment scenes and events. It always takes place on the third Monday and Tuesday in July, falling this year on the 23rd and 24th.

The individual in the insert is not, and never was, blood-thirsty nor fond of scalps. It is the Duke of Connaught in his regalia as an Honorary Chief of the Stoney Mountain Tribe. The picture was taken on the occasion of His Excellency's visit to the Rockies when he was Governor-General of Canada during the war.

This year's Pow-wow and Indian Day will be the thirty-third since its inauguration. After the field events, the members of the Tribe meet in the yard of the Banff Springs Hotel for the distribution of prizes. The big picture above depicts the scene which usually follows the prize distribution

Amended Certificate of Approval.

1. Whereas on the 23rd of December, 1924, the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, was granted a further certificate of the approval of its undertaking relating to its application for a licence to divert and use for power purposes, 100 cubic feet of water a second of the water of Line Creek, a tributary of Fording River, and to store 15,000 acre feet of the said waters in Grave Lake ;

2. And whereas by the said further Certificate of Approval the times for commencement and completion of the works for the diversion, storage and utilization of the water were limited to the 31st day of March, 1925, and the 31st day of December,1925, respectively ;

3. And whereas, in pursuance of the said application and of the said certificate, Authorization No. 927 to make surveys was duly issued to the said Company on the 28th day of January, 1925 ;

4. And whereas, by its petition filed the 11th day of March, 1925, the said company prays that the times limited by the said Certificate and Authorization may be extended for a period of one year on the grounds, among others, that it has met with unforseen delays and difficulties in the prosecution of its surveys through the project being situated in a new country, the character of which is little known, and that the season and weather have been unfavorable for field work;

5. And whereas the period within which objections to the said petition may be filed has expired and no objections have been filed ;

6. And whereas it is deemed advisable in the public interest that the prayer of the said petition be granted;

7. This is to certify that the Further Certificate of Approval of its undertaking granted to the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, on the 23rd of December, 1924, is amended by striking out the figures 1925 where they occur in clause 7 of the said Certificate and substituting therefor the figures 1925.

This Certificate shall not in any way be deemed to be an approval of the plans of any works covered by the proposed undertaking, or to authorize the construction of any such works, but shall have the effect only of a certificate issued under the provisions of section 36 of the Water Act, and shall be subject to such provisions.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers up to ten head.

FERNIE WINS BALL GAME

In the opening game of the baseball season played on the local diamond Michel lost by four runs to two. Although there wasn't the snap of mid-season baseball about the game it only required one hour and forty minutes to complete it. Jacobs, Fernie's new pitcher, went on the mound for Michel and pitched a fine game, holding the Fernie sluggers to nine hits, many of which however, should have been easy outs. He had seven strike outs and accepted ten fielding chances for ten perfect assists on outs at first. Zeke Sikora, of last season's juniors broke into the senior class, and turned in a good win. He was remarkably steady all the way through and looks good for Fernie's second string pitcher this season.

Fernie ran up a score of four runs in the first four frames, getting one across in each inning. Shand scored the first getting to first on a fielder's choice, advancing when Zeith fumbled McTeer's drive and scoring on Ruschal's double. Bishop scored in the second by singling, going to second on Colten's sacrifice and coming home on Hovan's single. McTeer hit a two-bagger in the third and scored on Barger's single. In the fourth Estabrook fumbled Bishop's drive, paving the way for him to score when Hovan smashed out a long three-bagger. This completed the scoring on Fernie's side. Michel scored their first run in the initial opening frame, Zeith connected for two bases and scored when Shand let Tortorelli's drive go through him. Their only other run was scored in the sixth inning, Tortorelli connecting for a single, advancing when Jones was retired at first and scoring on Estabrook's long single to centre.

MAY RESIGN

Ottawa, May 21.—Rumors of the resignation from the government of Hon. S. E. J. McMurray, solicitor-general, are current here. It is stated that Mr. McMurray will resign because of obligations which the legal firm of which he is a member have to the Home Bank. Mr. McMurray's firm was a debtor to the bank for a considerable amount when the crash came, and it is understood that the debt has not been cleared away. Consequently it is stated he will resign in order to relieve the government of any embarrassment which might result from this condition of affairs. The government plans to introduce legislation for the reimbursement of Home Bank depositors at an early date.

ROYAL BANK PURCHASES THE UNION BANK

The Minister of Finance has given his consent to the purchase of the assets of the Union Bank of Canada by the Royal Bank of Canada, and the amalgamation of these two banks becomes effective upon ratification of the purchase by the shareholders of each bank.

At the present time the Royal Bank has 536 branches in Canada and 110 branches outside of Canada. The Union Bank has 327 branches and only competes with the Royal at 50 different points.

When the merger becomes effective the Royal Bank will have 813 branches in Canada and including their branches outside of Canada will have a total of 923 branchs.

The paid up capital of the Royal Bank is $20,400,000 and the reserve fund is $20,400,000 or equal to the paid up capital. The paid up capital of the Union Bank is $8,000,000 and the reserve fund is $1,750,000.

The total assets of the Royal Bank amount to $605,5527,604, and the Union $115,316,741. The combined assets of the two banks therefore is $720,844,345.

CONTRACT LET FOR POOL

Within the next week an event will slip by almost unheralded and unsung. At least in the eyes of the juvenile of our city the turning of the first sod of the swimming pool is worthy of a grand procession headed by a big band. The eventful sod should be dug by a golden shovel in the hands of no less a person than our popular Prince of Wales. Such pomp and splendor becomes the occasion, but pomp and splendor require money and money is very scarce.

For several years a public spirited committee has been raising funds for a swimming tank. The proceeds of the annual July 1st celebration has been each year placd in the bank. The necessary amount was almost reached when the Home Bank crashed and left all their hopes in ruins. A new start was again made so that today the committee have enough funds to build the tank only. It has been decided to construct a pool 105 feet by 35 feet, similar to a swimming pool in Edmonton, which has proved very satisfactory. All auxiliaries such as heating, disinfecting, housing, etc., will have to be of the most primitive nature until the committee can procure more funds. The basin, however will be of first class reinforced concrete of A1 design, so built that other up to date requirements may be added without change.

Bids were called for the construction of this pool last week and contracts awarded this week to the lowest bidders. Wilson & Paterson of Fernie, secured the excavation work, and Mr. McDonald, of Calgary, the construction work.

The swimming pool committee are buying all the material required, as by so doing they were able to save considerable money. In letting a portion of the contract to an out of town contractor, the committee aceed wih a view to making present inadequate funds go as far as possible toward the building of a fully equipped pool. Mr. McDonald comes to us recommended as a reinforced concrete builder.

Hartley Wilson and Alf. Cummings, the committee's engineers, have staked out the pool on the ground, and Wilson & Paterson are waiting until the city lay the storm sewer pipe which is to carry the present open stream which flows across the pool site. This will be done in a day or two and it is hoped the excavation will commence next Monday.

It is planned to make the site of the swimming pool one of the beauty spots of Fernie. Trees will be planted and the grounds improved.

This new addition to our city comforts will be more patronized than most public benefits, by young and old. Its cost to the city is very little. The pool will stand as a monument to the public spirited efforts of the committee and its supporters.

On Wednesday next at 8.30 p.m. in the council chambr will be held a public meeting to organize for the sports on July 1. Let everybody come.

"YOU AND I" PLEASES LARGE FERNIE AUDIENCE

One of the most enjoyable plays ever given by the players of the University of B.C. in Fernie was presented Tuesday night at the Grand Theatre, when under the direction of F. G. C. Wood, associate professor of English, "You and I," a comedy by Philip Barry, was put on.

The play is a Havard prize play, and the clever situations, as well as the amusing lines, with their modern slang, delighted the large audience.

Peter Price as Maitland White, the business man who longs to be an artist, gave a finished performance, while Miss Clegg played the attractive part of his wife. Kenneth Caple as the son Roderick, who wanted to be an architect, but was willing to give it up for Veronica Duane, was exceedingly good, and Miss Baillie was charming in one of the most difficult parts of the play, that of Veronica, who refuses to allow Kenneth to give up his chosen work. Tommy Taylor, well known in Fernie through two former visits with the Players, played the part of the novelist, Geoffrey Nichols. The part of maid, Etta, was ably taken by Miss Pumphrey, whose scenes, particularly the one with Nichols, were the most amusing in the play.

Mount Fernie Chapter, I.O.D.E., under whose auspices the play was presented, greatly appreciate the splendid support of the people of Fernie, Coal Creek and Fernie district in regards to this play.

SPENDING $4000 ON CEMETERY

It was in the year 1911, shortly after his arrival in Fernie, that W. R. Wilson was approached by two mothers in an effort to locate a couple of graves of sons who had been interred some years before in the Fernie cemetery. Upon investigation he found the Fernie cemetery in such a deplorable condition that it was almost impossible to locate definitely any unmarked grave. He was so shocked with the unkempt condition of the place that he spent nearly $2000 of his own money in having it put in shape.

The Company have from time to time done considerable work to beautify the place, but this year they are spending some $4000 in cutting new roads, moving graves and removing a lot of objectionable shrubbery. The whole cemetery plot is being extended in three directions, making it almost double its former size. Water connections have been put in and there are now five taps where water can be secured for flowers and trees. The spot has now been made one of the most beautiful cemeteries in the country. The Company have asked the city and the government to co-operate in having the roads graded and improved permanently, and it is sincerely hoped that they will take some definite action in the matter in the very near future.

There are a number of fences around old graves which are falling to pieces and we would suggest that some public body in the city appoint a committee to take care of these or draw the attention of the relatives to the exising condition. If this were done St. Margaret's cemetery would be a beautiful spot indeed.

SALVAGE FALLEN TIMBER

A party of Fernieites spent the week-end at Mr. Mowry's abandoned homestead on the Wigwam. What most impressed them during their stay was the frightful havoc worked by the storm of December 15th in that neighborhood. A large part of the timber of that section, including many trees up to two feet in diameter, have been prostrated by the storm. In many places scarcely a tree has been left standing and the trees lay in windrows, as though mown with a giant scythe.

Prompt action should be taken to secure the removal of this timber as soon as possible, either through portable sawmills or some other method by which they can be turned into lumber or ties. Their number must run into the hundreds of thousands. If left untouched for two years they will become worm-eaten and worthless. Nor is this the greatest evil. Once dry, they will form an enormous fire trap and it will be but a short time before all the forests of that section will be fire swept. With such great quantities of inflammable material on he ground, no precautions would avail to prevent utter destruction of the forests in that portion of the country.

In view of the great and impending danger and the tremendous loss of wealth which a fire would mean, it would seem that special inducements and concessions should be resorted to by the government to interest prifate capital in the removal of this unprecedented wndfall.

W. R. WILSON ENTERTAINS

W. R. Wilson was the host at a dinner and concert held in Michel on Wednesday evening of this week, with over one hundred invited guests present. The affair was given in honor of the First Aid and Mine Rescue members who had obtained certificates.

Among the guests present was a concert party of about twenty from Fernie, who assisted in the program.

The dinner was held in the Michel Hotel, after which the party adjourned to the opera house, where the concert program took place, the following program being rendered:

Opening piece by Orchestra.
Chief Anderson—Solo.
Mrs. Tim Lawes—Solo.
A. Watson—Violin Solo.
Wm. Riley—Solo.
Fernie Quintet—Classic.
Dunn and Hunter—Duet.
Mr. Crutchley—Tenor Solo.
Master Jones—Boy Reciter.
Mrs. A. Watson—Solo.
Mr. Devolter—Solo with guitar accompaniment.
Mr. McCrone—Solo.
B. Caufield—Ten minute address.
Rev. Frank Dingle—Solo.
Chief Anderson—Solo.
Orchestra.

In responding to the vote of thanks offered him for the interest he had taken in providing the banquet for the candidates that had been successful in obtaining First Aid certificates and their friends that had gathered with them at the repast, stated that there was two things in evidence at the dinner and at the concert gathering that more than compensated him for the dinner he had arranged for, which recompense may be explained as follows: The services of all those that had voluntarily assisted in the arrangements, both in connection with the dinner and the concert. Second, the sense of real appreciation that all those present had shown, both for the hours of refreshment and for those that had entertained them at the concert.

Mr. Wilson then went on to further state that the two preceding speakers who had spoken so fully on the subject of First Aid and had dealt with this subject in such a thorough manner, that it was, at this late hour of the pleasant evening, unnecessary to dwell further on the subject, other than to state that he hoped everyone present at the gathering would through their attention to what had been stated by the previous speakers leave the meeting impressed with the idea that each member of the community should take a more acive interest in this worthy undertaking. That we should all work together for a better general understanding of matters of this kind for an improved knowledge thereof, which make each and all better qualified to render deserving human service should an emergency at any time call for such aid.

In conclusion, he stated that he seriously hoped that a broader interest would be taken in this good work and thereby make it congenial for us to have more gatherings of this kind with larger numbers present. He thanked all for making the pleasant evening they had spent together.

John Haney proved himself a very worthy chairman for the occasion.

GOLF NOTES

The mixed foursome and men's four ball games held on alternate Wednesdays have not been the success that was anticipated on account of the fact that a number of the players drawn have failed to turn up, thus causing considerable inconvenience to many who were on time. So as to obviate this inconvenience in the future it has been decided not to make a draw in advance, but all those who wish to play at 2.30 and are down at the Club House at that hour will be drawn.. The late draw formerly held at 4.30 will be made at No. 1 tee at 5 o'clock.

As a vast majority of the players enjoy these competitions it is hoped that as many players as possible will put in an appearance.

Nert Wednesday, June 3, will be a four ball match.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE ASSOCIATION CERTIFICATES

The secretary of St. John Ambulance Association has received certificates for First Aid for the undermentioned, all but one receiving distinction, and arrangements are being made for distribution:

Second Year—Mrs. F. M. Parsons, Mrs. B. Taylor, G. Bell, D. Dunsire, J. Jerue, E. Morrison, G. Shorthouse, F. Woodhouse.

Third Year—Mrs. M. M. Stewart, A. F. Williams.

AL. G. BARNES CIRCUS

The greatest movie star of them all is to visit Fernie on Monday, June 1st. This illustrious member of the studio stars carries his own physician with him in the person of Dr. Robert Gunning and a graduate nurse, Miss Elsie Munson. The star in question is making its first personal appearance and is no less a one than Joe Martin, himself, which is one of the features of the Al. G. Barnes Big Four Ring Circus.

Joe is said to be the most valuable animal in all the world, and no less than four persons are constantly engaged looking after Joe's comfort. A specially designed wagon fitted with hot water heat and fans has been provided by the mechanics of the Barnes circus and Joe will lead the life of a real star during his tour of America this year.

A collosal dramatic presentation of the events in the life of the only American Princess forms the outstanding feature of the Al. G. Barnes Big 4 Ring Circus which is coming to Fernie on Monday, June 1st. Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne, is the title of the all new spectacle presented by Barnes this year. The story is one of which all school children are familiar and it is presented upon a scale of magnificence unusual under canvass. Three tribes of real Indians add historical color to the pageant and one tribe in particular, the Esconidoes, have never been off the reservation befor. They are the tribe in which the girls' faces are tatooed in certain ways to denote if they are married or single. Special permission was granted by the government for the Al. G. Barnes circus to engage this tribe for the season's tour. Many new animal features will be presented and critics who have seen the show decare this season's performance to be Al. G. Barnes' best effort.

THE BASEBALL GAMES

Troy, Mont., proved a disappointment to baseball fans and the Fernie club, over the holiday in a two game series, with the result that the local boys had a runaway victory in both clashes, the first ending 23 to 5 and the second 11 to 1.

The games put up by the Troy club during the past two or three years were always closely contested and in procuring them for the holiday, the Fernie management expected to provide some real classy entertainment for the fans. It must be stated, however, that the Fernie club are playing much better ball this season, especially in their batting. Neizling, who pitched for Troy on Sunday, is not unknown to Fernie fans and on several occasions has contributed to the downfall of the Fernie team, was given scant courtesy and his offerings pounded to all corners of the lot, while Jacobs only allowed one scratch hit in the first six innings. After that innings the Fernie club got somewhat listless and a flock of errors let Troy get their five runs.

In the Monday game Fernie put up a real snappy exhibition behind Sikora, and Zeke was rather unlucky not to have secured a shut out, Troy's only run coming in the 8th innings, Noel scoring on snappy base running. Irwin started out strong for Troy, holding Fernie scoreless for three frames but on their second time to bat the locals got to him and runs started to show on the scoring column.

ELKS 2nd ANNUAL BALL in VICTORIA HALL, Fernie, B.C., Tuesday June 2

RESULTS OF THE WAR

The London Observer has been publishing a remarkable series of articles on "Europe After the War," by Philip Kerr, who was private secretary-in-chief to Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George from 1917 to 1921 and had therefore unexampled opportunities for observation.

The two greatest political events born of the war were the disappearance of the two historic dynasties, that of the Romanoffs of Russia and the Hohenzollerns in Germany. The collapse of the Hapsburg dynasty in Austria was less significant for it was tottering before the war began and would probably not have survived the death of Franz Josef. Space forbids a summary of all the wise and well-informed things that Mr. Kerr has to say about changed circumstances in Russia and Germany, and the potentialities involved herein. It is to be hoped that his papers will be published in book form shortly, as is no doubt the author's intention.

With regard to Russia, Mr. Kerr emphasizes the fact the seizure of power by Lenin was an overthrow of democracy. In all its history Russia has enjoyed but seven months of democratic rule. That was from March until October, 1917. Then the Liberal revolutionists Miliukoff and Kerensky were thrown out by Lenin and his Bolsheviks. He thinks it idle to assume that the Bolshevist oligarcy is week simply because it is undemocratic. In the minds of the Russian people it represents something quite differnt from the ideal of political freedom—that of economic freedom. In Western civilizations the battle for political freedom has been won ; that was settled in Flanders in 1918, but the workers are everywhere in revolt against what they term industrial slavery, and the unocratic domination of the heriditary owner of land and capital in the modern age, against the contrast between the chronic slum-dum and unemployment of the dispossessed and the flaunting luxury of those who live on interest and rent. They dream, says Mr. Kerr, of a world in which all will be able to earn enough to keep themselves and their children in security and comfort, in which humanity will be a brotherhood and no longer a hierarchy of classes separated and estranged by great differencs of wealth, in which the worker will be self-governig in the economic sense as he is to-day in the political.

It is this dream which makes the workers of the rest of the world so sympathetic toward the Russian experiment, and Mr. Kerr warns Great Britain that the Soviet regime rests on secure foundations because the preponderating millions of peasants regard it as the safeguard of their newly acquired holdings in land. He says that all revolutions teach the world something and Russia's experience has been valuable in that it has demonstrated the failure of Communism even to Russians themselves. But the reaction has been to State Socialism, still, with the same aim of economic freedom for the masses. Mr. Kerr believes that Lenin was easily the first of the world's great revolutionary strategists. The art of subverting order from below is now as well known and as carefully taught in Communistic circles as is the art of war in war colleges of the general staff. Lenin did for revolution what Napoleon and Moltke did for war. The rulers of Russia to-day are, he says, in their very nature hostile to all that the allies fought for in the great war, because they believe the road to their great dream is through violence, and terror, and autocracy, and not through constitutionalism and popular govvernment.

Mr. Kerr believes that the gradual but certain recovery of strength by Russia will have an important bearing on the future of Germany, which has also abolished the form of dynastic rule. Germany is to-day a nation of sixty million. In a few years 70,000,000 and later 80,000,000. She is very highly industrialized and has great organizing ability so that while economically she has a very hard row to hoe, she is supremely confident of her future. If the other nations want Germany to remain disarmed they can only achieve that end through a policy of general disarmament. Those who believe it will be possible to keep Germany for ever disarmed while France, Czecho-Slovakia, and Polland stand over her with drawn swords are, he says, living in a fool's paradise. If necessary she will fight for equality and freedom as other peoples would do under similar circumstances. In any case Russia, as soon as she recovers her strength, can end the present preponderance of the Allies, and by forciny a new political alignment set Germany free. And in a self-determined continent of twenty-five relatively small states, Germany will loom larger than even she was in Bismarck's day. She will be the most powerful state in Europe.

With regard to democracy nobody can yet say which way Germany is going to go ; since the inner moral battle for that cause has still to be fought and won ; and the advocates for continued occupation of the Ruhr and the Rhine country deliberately help the case of the reactionaries. But there is a deeper issue still. One of the contributary causes of the great war was the inability of the world at large to find a place in the sun, which would satisfy Germany ; and that problem still persists. But the place in the sun which Germany will need is not so much territorial as economic, the right to the open door, to raw materials, to entry to markets; needs also esseneial to the British. The question is whether Germany is going to be content with these legitimate aspirations, and if so is the world going to permit her to have them ?

Mr. Kerr's observations may not be pleasant reading for many of us, but it is as futile to persist in ostrich tactics with regard to the European situation as to cherish the exploded fallacy that the ambitions and character of nations can be altered or destroyed by military effort. Those who are talking of another war might as well understand that in such a catastrophe, Germany and Russia would be the ultimate victors.

Here and There

According to the Alberta Provincial Department of Agriculture nearly a quarter of a million bushels of oats were shipped from that province to New Zealand for seed purposes last winter.

The Quebec Provincial Automobile Bureau estimates that well over 100,000 automobiles will be registered in that Province during the year. This will mean an increase over the 1924 registration of about 15,000 cars.

The 1924 exports of live cattle to Great Britain exceed the 1923 figures by over twenty-two thousand heads, according to the official Canadian returns. Exports to the United States also showed a slight increase.

Four small wooden vessels to act as tugs and feeders from Coronation Gulf to Herschel Islands, in the Arctic, are being built at Vancouver, B.C., to the order of the Hudsons Bay Company. They will be well powered and sheathed in iron bark.

There is now only one mine in the Crow's Nest Pass district idle. Between eight and nine thousand tons of coal are being mined there daily and the mines at Colemar., Blairmore and Bellevue are rapidly striking their stride, their output being about six thousand tons.

Although the chief beneficiaries under the new British preference proposals will be Canadian sugar, tobacco and automobiles, it is stated that Canadian wines and silk goods will also benefit to a certain extent. In the sugar preference an increase of about 25%, and in tobacco of from a fourth to sixth has been made.

By a recent Order-in-Council of the Lieutenant-Governor, premiums for clearing land, which had previously been set at $6 an acre, were increased to $8. The Order also provides that the premium will be paid for a maximum of twenty acres of land and, as a result of it, a settler may obtain a grant of $160 from the Government as a reward for his work.

The annual invasion of Canada by anglers from the United States has commenced. F. N. Peet, secretary of the Izaak Walton League of Chicago, with other members of the League is catching salmon at Cains River, N.B., while a party of prominent newspapermen from New York is at Lake Archambault, in the Laurentians, in quest of the elusive trout. Mr. Peet holds the world championship for casting a fly.

Walter Lindley-Jones, editor and founder of the Mercantile Guardian, of London, Eng., and an authority upon commercial matters in general, recently passed through Canada on the last lap of a journey around the world, by Canadian Pacific steamships and trains. Mr. Lindley-Jones states that a terrific boom is due in China as soon as hostilities cease there and that Great Britain and Canada will be the chief beneficiaries.

A man reached the station platform just as the 5.15 was pulling out. A little burst of speed netted him fifty feet in overcoming the train's handicap, but the best he could do thereafter was to run a losing race. He quit at the end of the long platform and returned. "Miss your train, sir?" enquired the porter cheerfully. "No, my friend," he replied, "Oh, no! I was just chasing it out of the yard. "You oughtn't to allow it around here. Don't you see the tracks it has left?"—From "Rail Life," by Alfred Price.

MOUNTIES OBJECTING

The Calgary Herald says : "Members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have been amused or annoyed —according to their mood at the time —at moving picture representations of their alleged lives.

"Commissioner Starnes has told the international police conference at New York that the 'movie' version of the Mounties 'is a lot of rubbish.' He added that they 'got their man' when they could, and that the only difference between them and other police is they work in a different environment. They often work miles from civilization, and develop a resourceful independence. The courage of a man working in the north by himself is probably pretty much the same courage that the policeman in the large city displays and possibly the latter's work is more dangerous.

"Moving picture directors, staging scenes in which mounted police engage, should at least be careful to portray the mountie in action that does not make him ridiculous. One picture displayed in Calgary showed a member of the force paddling his canoe from the front bar, with his pack in the rear. In such a position he bravely went after the villain.

"The Canadian Mounted Police are regular men who do their job to the best of their ability. They have a fine record of success in their work. Let an Amreican magazine writer come to Calgary during the Jubilee and talk with the veterans of the force who will then be assembled here and he will have much difficulty inducing a single one of them to recount any tale of adventure, much less of personal bravery. The merry life of the barracks seems to remain in their memories and nothing of the hardship of the trail. What they did lies entombed in the matter-of-fact reports at headquarters at Ottawa."

Auckland Weekly News : No empire can be kept together by a map or even by a statute book. What tells in these things is human, intenesly human. Fear of a common foe, love of one ancient homeland, speech in a shared language, ideals nutured by a unifying religious faith—these things make nations, as history unequivocally witnesses ; and that they flourish most as men keep living touch. Our agents general and high commissioners, our Imperial conferences, our squadrons paying fraternal calls, the tours of our princes and our statesmen are but the modern counterpart of the ancient embassies that welded people into close alliance.

Washington Post : It is well to reflect that revolutions never go backward, and that nothing is more difficult than to take power away from the people once they have acquired it. Before Germany could re-establish the Imperial regime it would be necessary to crush the spirit of liberty throughout Germany. That is a task too big for any element in Germany. The die-hards if they are pinning their hopes upon Von Hindenburg are likely to be badly dissapointed.

PLANS FOR LARGE APARTMENT HOUSE

Negotiations are being made with English and Scotch capitalists by Mr. James H. Falconer for the erection of a large apartment house on property at the northeast corner of Victoria drive and Venables street, which he purchased recently. The land has a frontage of 132 feet on Victoria drive and 150 feet on Venables street.

The apartment house, which will be three stories and basement, will cost at least $100,000, states Mr. Falconer, and he expects that a company to handle the venture will be incorporated soon. The parties with whom negotiations are being made have other investments in this city and in other parts of the province.

Mr. Falconer states that as a result of the recent great improvement in the exchange situation much British capital will probably be invested in B.C. and in Canada generally.

LIFE FOUND IN OLDEST ROCKS

Proof that life existed on the earth when the oldest of known rocks were formed, is claimed by Dr. John W. Gruner, of the geology department of the University of Minnesota, we are told in Science Service's Daily Science News Bulletin (Washington) He has shown that traces of blue-green algae, very primitive microscopic plants, are present in rocks of the Archaean age, which have hithehto been thought to be devoid of all fossil remains. In the past, indeed, many geologists believed that most of these rocks were formed by direct cooling of a molten earth, which would, of course, have meant a temperature too high for any life. We read :"The rocks in which the new life-traces were discovered have in the course of ages been subjected to immense pressure, partial solution, and recrystallization processes, to such an extent that the exact nature of the plant remains can not be stated with certainty; but botanists at the University have no doubt that they were some kind of algae.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

England is alarmed at the prevalence of that strange malady known as sleeping sickness, which has just carried off the distinguished Viscount Milner. It is probably a serious situation from a medical standpoint.

But the kind of sleeping sickness Britain needs to worry about most is not the medical kind but the kind the British Government has injected into its people with the vicious dole system.

This mysterious malady which has killed Lord Milner may result in hundreds of deaths. But the lethargy and apathy that have been thrown over British Workmen by Government doles may paralyze the whole future of England and eventually kill by starvation thousands of British people.

It was less than a generation ago that the British workman stood for all that was best in craftsmanship. He was a skilled workman, proud of his products ambitious and devoted to his work.

To-day the spirit of the British workman has so degenerated that a man with four or five children can and will make more money by sponging on the country than by getting out and earning his rightful wages.

This is the real sleeping sickness that has infected England. It is a malady that, unless it is checked, will pull England down, and, with her, every dominion with whom she is politically affiliated.

WORLD'S DUMPING GROUND

The Vancouver Sun says: Because Canada has entered into a foolish preferential trade agreement with Britain this Dominion is becoming the commercial dumping ground of the world.

In the old days of British industrial supremacy, the preference was worth something. But that day seems to be gone.

A few months ago, British firms needed five ships. By having these five ships built in Germany, a saving of $15,000,000 was effected.

This difference in cost was investigated. The British investigator, looking over the whole situation, found that while labor was a little cheaper per hour and hours in Germany were a little longer than in England, neither was the real factor.

The big consideration was the modern manufacturing methods of Germany as compared to the out-of-date methods in England.

For instance, the investigator found that these ships were being built by a firm which was really assembling the product of five big firms that specializen in various materials and processes. Decentralization of industry, with all its saving in transportation costs, had already been accomplished.

For years, England has been satisfied to waste effort and waste labor simply because she was turning out a product with which the customer was content and at a price at which the customer could pay. To-day she seems to unable to adjust her manufactures in order to meet competition by modern methods. And the industrial crash has come.

British firms themselves know it. Only recently, a British firm operating in Newfoundland placed an order for a million dollars' worth of rails. Austria's price was $150,000 cheaper than that of England. Germany's price was $200,000 cheaper than England's. Germany got the order.

So that while English firms themselves are able to go out side and buy their ships and rails in the cheapest markets, Canada, because of our British preferential tariff, must still patronize and pay for the obsolete, expensive firms of England.

Unless Canada wants to continue to be the dumping ground of the world and become even more of a dumping ground as world over-industrialization increases, she had better get rid of that British preference as soon as possible.

A flea lost his way on a dog's back and after wandering about for a time crawled up to the dog's ear and called in for directions. But the dog misunderstanding the message, knocked the flea off and ate it. The moral is don't always trust even close friends.

THE SIMPLE DIET

Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, probably knows more about cancer and its causes than anyone else. He agrees with all the experts in the belief, in fact, in the knowledge, that cancer is on the increase, but he says that if certain habits formed as a result of civilization could be eliminated the disease would be as rare as leprosy in a hundred years. In effect his theory is that if people ate properly there would be no cancer except the extremely rare chemical and X-ray cancers. Regarding diet here is his advice in bald language. He says that fresh meat, milk, butter, eggs, fruits, vegetables, and whole meal bread, supply not only an abundance of nutriment but also sufficient roughage for the large intestine to work upon. On the other hand he says that canned meat, sterilized milk margarine, egg substitutes, fruits of the bottled, tinned and dried sorts, and hily milled cereals, such as white bread, ought to be avoided as far as possible.

Regarding the latter Sir William says that the effect of the preservative and refining processes in food is to destroy certain vital substances in them which are absolutely essential to health. During the last century civilization has gradually thrust upon us a wide variety of elaborately prepared foods, highly cooked or highly refined or highly milled. The body has not been designed for such foods. It is not equipped to rid itself of their refuse. "The result," points out Sir William, "is that people do not die painlessly in their sleep after living out there three score and ten years. The clock no longer simply runs down and stops, as it normally should. Instead, the body begins breaking down in middle age, and succumbs prematurely to one of the many diseases which are peculiar to civilization. Cancer is only one of these, but it is by far the most incurable and the most fatal.

EDITORIAL ECHOES

It depends entirely upon how you read the book of life whether the world is upside down to you or right side up. There is enough general cussedness going on all the time so that it makes it comparatively easy for one to become a confirmed pessimist, provided of course one naturally sees blue instead of white, but when you stop to think it over what really is the use of getting all stirred up over the flood, the way Cain treated his brother Abel, or the war of 1877 ? Sufficient unto the hands are the warts thereof.

This morning after having partaken of our prunes and toast, we went out into our yard and when we looked at friend wife's flowers and shrubs, all of them fresh and smiling, and then as we faced the street we were greeted by boys and girls on their way to school, and by men and women who were on their way to work, and everything and everybody seemed so happy, we said to ourselves, "This certainly is a fine world and we are glad we are living in it."

We reached our office and picked up our mourning paper. In black type clear across the front page, we read, "Bomb Wrecks Business Place," "One Man loses His Sight," and then a little further down the page we read where two policemen (guardians of peace) engaged in a fight and one of them was dangerously wounded ; in fact the entire front page was given over to the re-counting of all kinds of crime, and once more we said to ourself, "This is awful, what is this world coming to anyway ?"

We put aside the paper, and then we dumped it into the waste paper basket for fear we might unguardedly pick it up again, and we turned our thoughts to all the good in the world and to the thousands of fine folks we know, and we visualized the flower gardens and the churches and the schools and all the agencies for world betterment, and then for the third time we talked to ourself and said, "It's upside down if I lose my head, but its rightside up if I maintain the proper prospective."

Basic industries are expanding, employment is increasing and there is continued confidence in business. Resistance to price adance is recognized as widespread and in consequence the prospect of any prolonged rise in the general price level is daily growing more remote. Stiff competition and stable prices certainly offer no promise of easy profits but the situation at least seems to be one in which moderate forward commitments can be made with fair assurance, a condition which has not prevailed heretofore since the World War. The spirit of artificial optimism so much in evidence a few weeks ago has been largely eliminated and the outlook to-day is satisfactory for all except those whose idea of good business is the promise of speculative profits.

Here's a live merchant : He's a man who knows the value of window displays, who knows the value of advertising, and advertising material supplied by the manufacturer without cost to the retailer and who puts his advertising material on top of the counter instead of under it. He is the man who is always busy, anticipating the customer's wants. He is the man who keeps his counters and shelves clean, orderly and attractive. He is a man who always has a welcome, sincere smile—whether its a customer, a manufacturer, wholesaler, broker or salesman that enters the door. He is the man who knows the value of co-operation with salesmen. He is a man who wins—in cash, friendship, health and reputation. He is good—he is more than a good live retailer—he is a good citizen.

FERNIE ELKS HONOR GRAND EXALTED RULER

On Friday evening, May 22, what was pronounced by those present to be one of the best banquets ever put on here was given by Fernie Lodge, B.P.O.E. in the dining room of the Napanee Hotel in honor of Col. Royal Burritt, Grand Exalted Ruler of the B.P.O.E. of Canada and Newfoundland.

Between 150 and 175 Elks and ladies were present. The tables were tastefully delorated by wives of the Elks, who surpassed themselves on this occasion. After the wants of the inner man had been most satisfactorily attended to, a short program followed:

Toast to the King—W. J. Thomas, Exalted Ruler.

Song—Mrs. Suddaby.

Address—J. S. Irvine.

Song—Mrs. Watson.

Toast to Our Guest—Dr. Pickering, Past Exalted Ruler.

Response — Col. Royal Burritt, Grand Exalted Ruler.

"God Save the King."

Accompanist—Miss Charlebois.

Col. Burritt's remarks were confind chiefly to the aims and ideals of Elkdom, which he outlined with great eloquence. For the benefit of the ladies he also touched on "The Order of Royal Purple," which is a ladies auxiliary to the Elk Lodge, and the ladies here will no doubt get busy in the near future and have such an organization instituted in this city.

Shortly after his arrival in the city on the morning train, Col. Burritt was entertained at luncheon by the officers of the lodge, togther with Mayor J. S. Irvine, A. A. Klauer, president of the Rotary Club, and H. E. Douglas, president of the Board of Trade.

A fursome at golf was then proposed, in which the Grand Exalted Ruler, Milt Kastner, N. E. Suddaby and N. D. Sanford took part.

A trip to Elko was provided for the afternoon in order to give the visitor a view of our wonderful mountain scenery. While in Elko he was taken through the plant of the E.K. P. Co.

Col. Burritt declared that his visit to the local lodge had given him great pleaure and thanked all the members for the courtesy and hospitality they had shown him during his stay.

He also complimented all who took part in the work of initiation in the lodge room on the excellent and perfect manner in which the work was exemplified, when three new candidates were initiated into the mysteries and beauties of Elkdom, and expressed the hope that Fernie Lodge would continue to increase in strength and numbers in the future as it had in the past.

The lodge wishes to express its thanks and appreciation to all those who, by their unselfish assistance, helped to make the event a huge success.

Here and There

Agents specializing in Irish business in Canada and the United States look for a big boom in steamship passenger traffic, according to reports received from steamship companies. The present outlook is said to be for the highest level of emigration to Canada since the war.

Sir William S. Glyn-Jones, Secretary of the British Pharmaceutical Society, is touring Canada under the auspices of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association with a view to explaining the workings of the Proprietary Articles Trade Association of Great Britain. He is opposed to "cut-rate" methods of selling drugs.

With 3,600,000 milch cows, 300,000 dairy farmers, 1,500 creameries and many thousand cheese factories, Canadians are the greatest butter eaters in the world with an annual average per capita consumption in 1923 of 27.43 pounds, according to D'Arcy Scott, secretary and treasurer of the National Dairy Council of Canada.

The shield taken from the gates of Quebec City when the Ancient Capital was taken in 1759 and which was donated to the City of Hastings by one of the conquerors, General Murray, will be returned to Quebec after an interval of 165 years. Lord Willingdon, First Viscount Ratton, will be the special emissary who will bring the Shield back to Canada.

Salmon-fishing in the Eastern Townships of Quebec will be one of the attractions of that region when the Gaspe salmon eggs brought to the provincial government hatcheries at Lake Memphremagog are developed. A number of trays packed in ice and holding some thousands of eggs recently passed through the Canadian Pacific Railway warehouse on the Montreal Windsor Station for St. Paulin and Mont Tremblant.

Miss P. Carlisle, an English authoress of repute, who recently took up ranching near Calgary, has become so enthusiastic about the West that she is planning to bring out girls from the Old Country to follow her example. She found plenty of them willing to try out this plan. She herself harvested 7,000 bushels last year from the 250 acres under wheat on her 800 acre ranch.

By winning the New Brunswick Provincial Trophy Competition of the St. John Ambulance Association in March last the Canadian Pacific Railway First Aid team from McAdam, N.B., now have a chance to compete this year for the Montizambert Trophy emblematic of the championship of Canada in First Aid. The team has a record of four championships to their credit since last June.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Harvey Brown is on the sick list.

M. A. Kastner was in Michel on business yesterday.

E. K. Stewart attended the funeral of the late Dennis Fleming at Blairmore on Wednesday.

James Marshall has purchased a Chevrolet sedan from the Fernie Motor Car Co.

The 6th annual dance of the local G. W. V. A. was held in Victoria Hall on Monday evening last and was an enjoyable affair.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A. will be held in the Vets Hall on Wednesday, June 3, at 7 p.m.

Defective electric connections caused two fire alarms at Coal Creek last night, one at No. 3 hoist and another on the tipple. No serious damage was done.

Word has been received that upon the arrival of Mrs. H. Lindsay, of West Fernie, in England, she was the recipient of £8000 left her by a relative who recently passed away.

Wilfred Murray has resigned his position with the Trites-Wood Co. and in partnership with N. Danilak has leased the cigar store and pool room in the Fernie Hotel block.

Remember the whist drive and dance in the Catholic Hall tonight, Friday, May 29. Cards at 8.30. Dancing 10.30 to 1. Refreshments. Admission 50c.

According to George Scott, a well known mining man of Nelson, who spent a a few days in Cranbrook last week, considerable activity in mines is developing in the Slocan district. Mr. Scott himself is interested in the Sloaan country.

Chief Anderson has been head of the police department in Fernie for over three years. In that time not one criminal case has come before the Supreme Court sittings, which speaks well for Fernie as a law-abiding community.

A bush fire in the park on Wednesday evening caused a little excitement but resulted in nothing serious. Go. Schupe and Asst. Fire Ranger Parsloe were early on the job and soon had the blaze fenced off with trenches.

On Monday morning last the body of Denis Fleming, of Blairmore, was found near Natal at 7 o'clock by two boys, about two miles and a half below where the drowning accident took place. An inquest was held at Michel on Wednesday and a verdict was returned exonerating anyone from any blame in connection with the accident.

Justice Murphy held the Supreme Court sittings at Cranbrook on May 27 and at Fernie on May 28. A divorce case was heard at Cranbrook, being Cameron vs. Cameron, and a similar case, Basstt vs. Bassett, was heard in Fernie. Herchmer & Mitchell acted for the petitioners in both cases. Decrees were granted to the petitioners.

A double header in baseball for Sunday is scheduled between Fernie and Whitefish, Mont., the first game to start at 2 p.m. and the second at 6 p.m. This will be the first appearance of the Whitefish team on the local diamond and the Fernie management have been assured that they are bringing an exceptionally strong line up with them. It was only on this condition that arrangements were completed as the club want to provide first class games for the Fernie fans.

One of the most widely known and, probably, one of the oldest members, in point of long service, of the Provincial Police, Constable Arthur C. Collins, is now stationed here on special duty. He is attached to the Provincial Forestry Service for the duration of the present fire season. Mr. Collins prior to his going overseas with the C.E.F., was in charge of the police station at Waldo and also in this city. It will be remembered that he was assigned to special duty within the neighboring district before his leaving for the coast two or three years ago.—Cranbrook Courier.

Private wires from Ottawa would seem to indicate that the government do not intend to reimburse the Home Bank depositors for more than 35c on the dollar. Why this should be is hard to understand. The Commissioner that investigated the matter reported that the government was morally responsible for the depositors' loss. Had the Dominion government taken action at the time they were first notified of the condition of affairs it is admitted the depositors would not have lost a dollar. How they can get out of that moral liability by saying, here we will give you 35c on the dollar is a conundrum. However, the matter has not yet been definitely settled and let us hope that our Ottawa correspondent has been misinformed.

Prof. Wood, who was in charge of the B.C. University Players on their route through B.C., was a Rotary guest on Monday and gave a fine address on the history of the B.C. Univrsity. He told of the wonderful campaign put on by some 300 students to induce the government to take some interest in the erection of suitable buildings. He told of the success that crowned their efforts until now the handsome new buildings at Point Grey were providing educational accommodation for nearly 1500 students. True, up to the presnt there was no dormitory service and no auditorium which could seat the pupils, but these things would all come in time and it would not be long before B.C. would have every reason to be proud of its higher educational facilities.

TRIALS OF THE MINISTER

The Minister is everybody's target, but to be generous with him as we are supposed to be with the devil and give him his due, he has cause to be different from the average man, to fall sometimes, into a state of unconscious hypocrisy. Few outside the parsonage doors, however, realize the terrible strain involved in being all things to all men, exhibiting joy and sympathy within the same half-hour, in emptying the reservoir of emotions and still trying to drain out something for a wedding, a funeral or a birth. One who describes himself as a descendant from a long line of clergymen, and lets it go at that, gives us some insight into what the ministry does to the man who enters it, in an article in the Century Magazine. He ponders the question whether we do not blame the minister for the things are due to the function rather than to the man, whether the ministry has not some indelible marks from which few of the calling escape. To begin with, this anonymous clergyman tells us that the minister is spiritually taxed beyond mercy. To quote :

"He is compelled by the nature of his function to share in the joys and the sorrows of his parishioners. He must go from a wedding to a funeral, not only the same day, but sometimes the same hour. He is expected to perform the most sacred and the most sensitive office at each of these highly sharged moments. Theroetically, at least, he must participate emotionally in the thing he does; he must not only have the appropriate word, but the appropriate emotion, the proper intonation of the voice, the proper look on the face, the proper gesture. He must actaally appear sorry at the funeral and joyful at the wedding, and actually to appear that he must be so. That, however, is a drain upon the emotions which few men can sustain.

"One would have to be an emotional genius to share spontaneously the feelings of the folk to whom one is ministering. Most people are not gifted that way. The function, therefore, tends to become a formal matter. Inevitably and despite the minister's sincerity, it becomes a thing of surface, a maifest or manifested thing, a facial matter. The cartoonist who draws the expressionless long face, with its absence of lines, only exaggerates; but the exaggeration speaks the fact that lies at th bottom."

Probably only second in importance to the emotional drain upon the minister, says the writer, is the significant fact that he is expected to preach a docterine of perfecttibility that is mainly negative, an elaboration of a long system of don'ts. He becomes the standard for all that is perfect. Really he is a kind of scape-goat for the man in the pew. The parishoner achieves goodness, forgiveness, morality, salvation at the hands of the minister, but largely through the apparent life and teachings of the minister. It is a kind of vicarious salvation, vicarious morality, vicarious perfectibility. The minister becomes self-conscious, and finally has to pretend, involuntarily, that he posses all the virtues he is assumed to have. Also to be considered is the fact that he is every man's friend. He is every man's man. He must be at the beck and call of every one and 'people have no mercy.' He must always smile, always be gentle, no matted how he feels. He is looked up to as an authority on all things. He must pass judgment upon everything, and do it with a degree of authoritativeness that is bad for the minister because the demands that are made upon him are so varigated that no one could speak with authority or even helpfulness on all of them. This we are told , is particularly noticeable in the addresses the minister has to make. In addition to his reular duties :

"Every social function of importance in the town makes a demand upon the minister. He is the one person who has to be heard from. He is expected to be clever, entertaining, informing, inspiring, and above all authoriative. Every public subject is his subject. Every matter of great concern is hisconcern first of all. He must possess both wisdom and knowledge and be profound and incisive beyond other men. But the point at issue is more than that. He is so busy talking that he has not the time to learn the things he is talking about. Superficality is inevitable. Even more deadly than this, however, is the simple fact that he must depend upon words and sound for his effectiveness, and the only thing that one can do under the circumstances is to be superficial, general and touching; that is sentimental. By being sentimental, I mean he must appeal to those things about which the community's sentiment is closely knit. That makes him platitudinous. Having to say so much, he can say only very little, and that a repetition of things said before. I am far from enumerating all these things and chronicling them as failings of the minister. I am simply indicating the fact if the minister were much greater than he generally is, much more learned, much more full of energy, much more aggressive, he could not do all of the things, or half of the things that he has to do, and do them effectively, sincerely and usefully. He is drained, overtaxed and overstrained. He is sacrificed to the community and is its scapegoat.

"All of these factors tend to conspire to give the minister an unreal prespective life. He is so much driven in upon himself, he is compelled to draw upon his own resources to so great a degree, that he turns his eyes, so to speak, upon himself, and seeks for inspiration from some internal fountain. He becomes both subjective and isolated. It drives him to exaggerating the significance of inspiration, contemplation, self-analysis, calling upon his own spiritual resources, and tends by hat much to make him withdraw from the world, and the further he withdraws, the more dogmatic and simple become his judgments of it. In a sense he becomes saintly, leaves he conflict, and retreats to an even unruffled spiritual state of being which is compressed into a formula—and then he passes judgment upon a world of which he knows little. It is natural that just because he knows so little he behaves as if he knew so much. It is this fact that gives he minister the general reputation of being unpractical and unreal in his judgment of the world about him."

This says the writer, "is the price a man must pay for the profession of ministering to the sins of the community." Those who escape "are hose who have lent themselves to the newer movements in the church for positive social service."

DO ANIMALS THINK?

No one can tell, but it seems very unlikely that we shall soon cease to puzzle over the connection between the mental and the nervous aspects of our behaviour, writes Prof. J. A. Thompson in bohn O' London's Weekly. We know in ourselves the inner life of thinking and feeling, and we infer that the higher animals have something analagous. They certainly look as if they had ; and if you deny that your dog has a subjective or conscious life, you will find it very difficult to prove it for your neighbor. But we are not only sure of the reality of our conscious life—we know that it counts. If we deny the practical reality of "purpose" we have lost the clue that makes sense of our life.

As Hegel wisely said : "Ideas have hands and feet." But while this is true, we do not need to go far to find that a great many effective activities go in our body that do not, to all appearances, require the mind at all. They take place, as we say, automatically and the progress of physiology is showing us that even man is much more automatic than was suspected.

It is so characteristic of man to stand erect that we commend these whom we admire as being "straight" and "upright." The erect posture is maintained by the co-operation of many muscles, and these muscels are commanded by appropriate nerves to slacken or to become taunt as the situation may require. But how are the nerves instructed so to speak ? Certainly not by intelligence or by conscious thought. As Sir Charles S. Sherrington says :—

Even in absence of those portions of the brain to which consciousness is adjunct the lower nerve centres successfully bring about and maintain all this co-operation of muscles which results in the erect posture.

It has been shown by Professor Magnus and Dr. De Kleijn, of Utrecht that this comes about as a beautifully automatic response to movements in the head and neck. What is true for the body as a whole is true also of special parts; thus the posture of the eyeball is automatically adjusted to compensate for movements of the head.

In connection with the cavity or labyrinth of each inner ear, and firmly embedded in the bone frame-work there is a minute fluid-filled vesicle, in each of which there is a tiny crystalline stone attached to the delicate processes of a path of well-innervated cells. If the head be tilted to one side the resulting slip of the 2 minute stones on their respective nerve-patches makes the stimulation unequal.

And from that slip there results exactly the right unsymmetrical action of the muscles to give the unsymmetrical pose of limbs and neck required for stability.

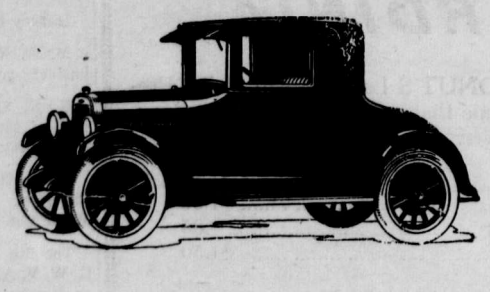
There is a second pair of tiny gravity bags, as Sir Charles Sherrington calls them, in which the stones hang rather than press; these have to do with posturing the head on the neck, and with the adjustment of the eyeball by means of its muscles.

Which ever way the head turns, slopes, or is tilted, these adjust the eyeball's posture compensatingly, so that the retina still looks out upon its world from an approximately normal posture, retaining its old verticals and horizontals.

For instance, if we turn our head to the right, the eyeball's visual axis untwists from the right.

When a cat loses its footing on the roof of a barn and tumbles back downwards towards the ground, it has not fallen far before it has righted itself in the air, so that it stands on its springy feet, which is at any rate better than landing on its back. Now we know in detail how the cat moves its hind legs and tail and forlegs during its quick fall so that it regains the normal posture; and we also know the methmatical formula that puss illustrates ! But what Professor Magnus and his colleagues have proved by their investigations of the last fifteen years is that the cat's regaining of its right-side-upness is quite automatic. It does not require the higher brain at all; it depends upon non-mental adjustments comparable to those which enable us to maintain our erect posture in walking and running, or which help us recover ourselves when we have slipped on a piec eof orange peel.

But it would be a mistke to suppose that all the careful adjustments which an Alpine climber makes in a ticklish corner are not mental ! You ask him. He often puts in several seconds of hard thinking. He could not get on without his automatisms, but neither could he get on without his mind.



Automatisms extend higher up than used to be thought, and we are reminded of Spinoza's warning that no one can yet say what the body as body may not be able to do.

From the humble animals like worms upwards, it has been part of nature's tactics, so to speak, to enregister profitable capacities of action in the framework of the body, so that the "mind" is left more free for fresh experiments and initiatives. Chains of sensory nerve-cells, adjustor nerve-cells, motor never-cells, and muscle cells are welded in the course of ages; the concatenations become part of the normal inheritance; they form the basis of reflexes, tropisms, and automatisms. They form the physiological side of instinctive behaviour. But the result of all forms of automatization is to leave mental activity less burdened, to give it more freedom to experiment, should clamant needs arise. Just as the busy man cultivates habituations so that he can direct his mind to something else, so the more reflexes there are in the body, the more chance of reflection by the mind. Automatisms like those that secure right-side-upness save the mind from drudgery.

Wireless For Lifeboats

The Cunard Liner Ascania, constructed for Canadian service, is equipped with motor lifeboats fitted with wireless installation. Each one of these boats is capable of travelling at a speed of 8 knots, with 10 ordinary lifeboats in tow. The Ascania is due at Montreal on her maiden voyage Sunday evening, May 31.

Low Springs -- 88 Per Cent. Of Wheel Base

Long semi-elliptic springs of chrome varadium steel—rear springs underslung. Total length of one rear spring and one front spring equalling 88 per cent of the wheel base of the car—the longest spring suspension of any car on the market near the price of the New Chevrolet. These extra long springs make for riding comfort that is unsurpassed.

This is but one of the many features that make for riding comfort in the New Chevrolet—new from radiator to rear axle to provide a new value that is astonishing everybody.

Drop in and let us demonstrate the wonderful New Chevrolet.

VENEMOUS SNAKES

It is extremely unlikely that you will ever be bitten by a snake. It is improbable that ou will even see a snake during your vacation tour. Yet venomous reptiles do exist, even in regions long settled, to say nothing of the out-of-the-way resorts open to thetourist; and even if you should have the misfortune to be bitten, the peril is so great that your medical kit should provide the simple means of treatment, and yould should be prepared by knowing how to make an intelligent application of the treatmentment. So argues C. P. Fordyce, writing in Motor Life (Chicago), and he goes on to give a clear and succinct account of the treatment in question. Similar rules have been published many times, but the directions are worth repeating at least once a season, and the essentials should be memorized by every one who goes touring or camping. Says Mr. Fordyce :

"In treating snake-bite, the rules of procedure are simple and few, only one portion of the method being necessarily drastic (remember it is a case of saving a life, and no measure should be disregarded). The victim must keep calm. Don't hurry or run, for this heats the blood and speeds up the circulation, which rapidly disseminates the poison. If you are going into a snake country, have one of the little "snake-kits" in your outfit and familarize yourself with the use of it. The steps in treating a snake bite are :

"1. Restrict the circulation of the limb. Keep the venom where it was introduced through the fangs. Apply a constrictig band (called a tourniquet) around the limb, above the wound and between the wound and the heart; tie this band (consisting of a bandage, necktie, rope or rubber tnbe) into a loose loop, insert a stick, placing a pebble or any object with some thickness under the band and over the artery and twist the loop tlightly to stop theflow of blood. This is to remain so for twenty minutes.

"2. Produce bleeding of the wound. The bite is 1-8 to 1-4 inch deep. Now, although drastic, it is absolute essential to incise or cut into the flesh deeper than the fang puncture, making a cross incision (X) with a razor blade, a lance or a sharp knife over the fang punctures. Some authorities advise inserting a hot iron or burning brad when in extremis, and we have record of complete amputation of a finger or toe with a knife, axe or bullet to get rid of the member loaded with poison and to keep it from entering the general circulation.

"3. Remove the poison. It does no good to try to eytract the poison by way of fang punctures, for they are needle-like and swell shut. Soak the wound in hot water, milk it out, squeeze it—any way to promote the exit of venom-laden blood. If you or another person have no open canker sres in the mouth, you can safely suck the snake-bite wound which has been opened with the lance and then spit out the fluid. It will do no harm if you accidently swallow some of the fluid.

"4. Neutralize the poison which remains after efforts have been made to bleed it out by introducing some potassium permaganate in the crystal form, which can be carried in a small corked vial. Sprinkle the crystals on the wound and rub in well. Stejneger in 'Poison Snakes of North Americ,a,' advises the injection with a hypodermic syringe in and around the wound of potassium permaganate solution in the strength of one part to one hundred parts of water, which has been boiled. This is about one grain to six ounces of water, and the one-grain tablets are procurable for the purpose. With the average person, however, who has neither the syringe nor the ability to use it, the use of the crystals directly on the wound are suggested.

"5. Loosen the tourniquet for a few seconds at the end of twenty minutes, and then again tighten. The purpose of loosening it is to restore limb, otherwise mortification of the limb would result. If upon the second release of the tourniquet no depressing symptoms appear, take it off entirely, but if symptoms appear later, reapply the constriction. The system can handle muchpoison if it is entroduced slowly into the circulation.

"6. Stimulate the patient. A large amount of stimulant is needed by a person bitten by a venomous snake to offset the effects of the poison. The best stimulant is aromatic spirits of amonia. It is rapid in effect and perfectly safe, and used by the Red Cross and most of the armies of the world. Give a half-teaspoonful in a half-glass of water every half-hour. Begin using it when the patient becomes dizzy or pale, and con tinue until the pulse is normal. Strong black coffee is also effective, a half-cupful every hour. If a hypodermic syringe is in your kit, use it instead of the amonia, a thirtieth of a grain of strychnine sulfate every half-hour. Whiskey is effective on venom action action, and as a stimulant is surpassed by the amonia. Loading the patient with whiskey is a time-honored recommendation, but incorrect—the patient is lucky to get well in spite of its use. Moreover good whiskey is scarce. It might have been used at times as a preventive of snake-bites. It is a good plan to give the patient much milk to drink for it neutralizes the poison in the stomach and causes vomiting.

"An antidote against snake venom has been produced by almette of Paris. It is called 'anti-venine,' but is rarely obtainable when most needed. The Moqui Indians of the Southwest evidently havea real antidote against the venom, for during the dances many members of the tribe are bitten, but recover. No one has been able to find out what it is.

"7. Dress the wound antiseptically with gauze or cotton soaked in a solution of permanganate of potassium; repeat frequently until healed."

Mr. Fardyce is careful to point out that most reptiles common to the United States are harmless, or even of service to the farmr in destroying small animal life; and that the venomous snakes will usually get out of your way if they can, striking only in self-defense. All poisonous snakes with which you are likely to come in contact havequite similar markings, and belong to the group of so-called "pit" vipers, with a prominent pit back of the nostrils. The head is triangular, with massive musclar development of the jaw; the neck slender, the body relatively thick; and the pupil of the eye is elliptical, instead of round as in non-poisonous snakes. Harmless snakes have teeth "like those of mice," only the venomous ones have the two long needle-like fangs in the upper jaw, which fold back out of the creature's way when the mouth is closed. After stating that there are about seventeen kinds of rattlesaakes in the United States, and ten other venomous species including copperheads, moccasins, the sonoran coral, and the harlequin, the writer continues :

"The venom of all these snakes acts alike, disintergrating the blood and paralyzing the nerves of the victim. The lethal power is the snake's defense and their means of procuring food. When a venomous reptile expends its ammunition from the poison sac, striking a victim, hours and even days are necessary to refill it. If you ar bitten during this time the hazard is not great. The bite from a large snake is more dangerous than that from a small one. A cool climate lessens the peril.

"Snakes are sluggish in their movements, and travel only short distances slowly. In striking, the snake must be at least partly coiled, and when at rest it lies in this position; if moving, it takes a little time to coil. It can not strike an object directly above, but at an angle, delivering a scraping blow and producing a scratch-like wound if impeded by clothing. On the bare skin the fangs sink in their full length, producing only insignificant punctures—in fact people have been bitten and did not know it until the symptoms developed.

"The location of the wound in snake bite has a direct bearing on recovery; in gneral, the danger is less the farther the wound is from the large blood vessels and nerves; it is least dangerous on the lower limbs, because this part of the body is usually well clothed. Sixty per cent. of the snake-bites are on the lower limbs, thirty per cent, are on the arms or hands and five per cent on the trunk or face, which are the most vulnerable places. The clothing covering the body is a definite protection against th introduction of snake venom. Ordinarily boots and shoes generally give adequate protection. In experiments the venom did not reach a piece of blotting- paper held beneath two thicknesses of flannel cloth Any type of closely woven soft cloth is resistent. Rubber is practically impenetrable.

"Venom has its highest virulence in midsummer and in the extreme south. It is a thin, greenish-yellow fluid with a distinctive ordor, and contains two elements—venom peptone, which destroys the clotting or fibrin elements of the blood, and venom globulin, which paralyzes the victim's nerves having to do with sensation and muscular movements.

"Various estimates as to the percentage of fatalities among snake-bitten persons have been advanced, one investigator placing it as low as twelve per cent. and others much higher. The average case has about half the symptoms enumerated here, but we shall consider the typical symptoms presented by an extreme case and the treatment.

"After the fangs have punctured the victim's skin and the venom has been deposited, there is a pain locally like a sting or burn which radiates from the wound. Swelling and discoloration follow. Immediate first-aid is necessary to keep the poison from spreading.

"If the venom gets into the circulation system and is carried over the body it acts as a hear t accelerator and increases the rate of breathing. Learn to get the normal pulse rate from the wrist and count the movements of the chest in breathing. Within a few minutes to an hour after the first effect on the heart and lungs the heart slows down and nausea, vomiting and a profuse sweating follow, the patient staggers, and he gradually falls into a stupor. The appearance of nervous shock is one of gravest danger. Within three or four hours paralysis follows. If properly treated the symptoms gradually subside, but the victim suffers a general debility, with skin eruption and ulcers from poisoned blood."

JOE MARTIN, Famous Gorilla Man, coming to Fernie with the Al. G. Barnes Circus, Monday, June 1.

"You seem to forget, my dear, that the dollar I earn is worth only 65 per cent of the dollar your father earned."

"Well why don't you earn better dollars."

Here and There

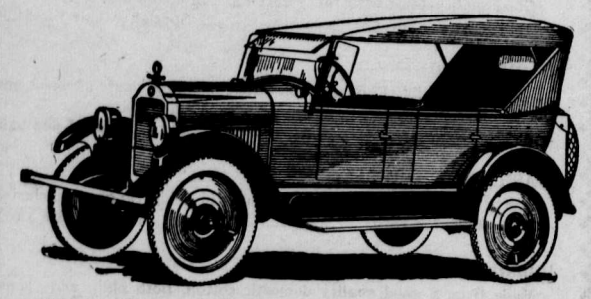
It is expected that the present year will break all records in the movement of Eastern trans-atlantic travellers. It is estimated that over a quarter of a million Americans and Canadians will travel to Europe during the season.

The supply of farm hands for Western farms is not equal to the demand and the shortage is becoming more pronounced as the season progress, in spite of the large number of immigrants coming from Europe for this purpose.

During the eight months ending March 1925, 187,798 cars of grain were passed by the government inspectors for the western provinces. This number has only been exceeded four times in the past twenty-four years. Of the total for this year 105,555 were on Canadian Pacific lines.

According to a statement issued by the Bureau of Statistics, Canada's production of commercial fruits for the past year showed a decrease of $8,902,912 in value as compared with 1923. The total value of fruits grown in 1923 was $33,169,343 and in 1924, $24,266,431.

There has been a decided increase in the first quarter of this year in the ordinary life insurance written in Canada as compared with that of the corresponding period in 1924. The increase in March over February was from twenty-eight to thirty-five million dollars.



According to the first weekly report issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway, the crop acreage this year will be slightly less than last. It is estimated that Manitoba will sow about 2,643,000 acres this year, Saskatchewan 8,555,183 and Alberta 2,721,689 making a total area of 13,919,872 as compared with 14,-153,905 in 1923.

Very encouraging reports as to the general agricultural outlook in Southern Alberta have been received from Canadian Pacific Agents around Calgary. Much more progress has been made with seeding than was anticipated and conditions are described as either "splendid", "fine" or good and in every case plenty of moisture in the ground is reported.

The country is being beseiged by moving-picture stars. Mary Pickford, Viola Dana, Tom Mix, Harold Lloyd and others have passed through within the last few weeks, and explored the Rocky Mountains and other Canadian attractions. The latest is Hoot Gibson, who is bringing a large company of movie people here to film the Calgary Stampede as an incident in a "super" drama.

Lord Aberdeen and Temair, former Governor-General of the Dominion and Lady Aberdeen passed through Canada recently with the British delegates to the seventh Quinquennial conference of the International Council of Women, of which the Marchioness is president and founder, at Washington. On the bridge at Niagara Falls Her Ladyship was presented with a golden key symbolic of free entry into the United States.

WATER RIGHTS BRANCH

Amended Certificate of Approval.

1. Whereas on the 23rd of December, 1924, the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, was granted a further certificate of the approval of its undertaking relating to its application for a licence to divert and use for power purposes, 100 cubic feet of water a second of the water of Line Creek, a tributary of Fording River, and to store 15,000 acre feet of the said waters in Grave Lake ;

2. And whereas by the said further Certificate of Approval the times for commencement and completion of the works for the diversion, storage and utilization of the water were limited to the 31st day of March, 1925, and the 31st day of December,1925, respectively ;

3. And whereas, in pursuance of the said application and of the said certificate, Authorization No. 927 to make surveys was duly issued to the said Company on the 28th day of January, 1925 ;

4. And whereas, by its petition filed the 11th day of March, 1925, the said company prays that the times limited by the said Certificate and Authorization may be extended for a period of one year on the grounds, among others, that it has met with unforseen delays and difficulties in the prosecution of its surveys through the project being situated in a new country, the character of which is little known, and that the season and weather have been unfavorable for field work;

5. And whereas the period within which objections to the said petition may be filed has expired and no objections have been filed ;

6. And whereas it is deemed advisable in the public interest that the prayer of the said petition be granted;

7. This is to certify that the Further Certificate of Approval of its undertaking granted to the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, on the 23rd of December, 1924, is amended by striking out the figures 1925 where they occur in clause 7 of the said Certificate and substituting therefor the figures 1925.

This Certificate shall not in any way be deemed to be an approval of the plans of any works covered by the proposed undertaking, or to authorize the construction of any such works, but shall have the effect only of a certificate issued under the provisions of section 36 of the Water Act, and shall be subject to such provisions.

Dated at Victoria, B.C., this 11th day of May, 1925.

"T. D. Pattullo,"
Minister of Lands.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

The few cold nights over the week end have effectually put a stop to any danger of high water this year. Only exceptionally wet weather could bring the water back to its high peak again. Providence has been good this year to the people living in the Annex and West Fernie, but it does not do to depend too much on providence. Prompt co-operative action should be taken this fall for proper river bank protection.

The Spanish prisoner letter made its appearance in Fernie last Friday, when A. Carolla received the old pleading letter asking for financial assistance to get out of prison and promising the usual fortune should the money be forthcoming. The letter asked for a cable answer to Pedro Furull, Lista Tarrcoo 395, Organa, Spain. Citizens are advised to pay no attention to these letters. They are simply an age worn scheme to get money under false pretences.

Extremely reticent as to the extent of their discovery, prospectors who have recetly locatend a group of mieral claims near Goatfell have, however, somewhat guardedly admitted their discovery of hematite ore. The men were in the city the other day. There are good grounds for believing them to be the reprsentatives of certain well known business men of Alberta and the city of Fernie. No one other than the parties concerned, have any information in respect of probable preliminary exploration of the new discovery this summer. The number of claims recorded wiuld indicate, however, that the property must be of considerable importance from the angle of the prospectors.—Cranbrook Courier.

The Cranbrook Courier states : The name of William Sherman, president of District 18 United Mine Workers of America, is prominently mentioned in and around Fernie as a likely candidate for Dominion honors. Mr. Sherman has been active of late in the various mining camps where his followers few in number, are nevertheless pushing him forward as the logical man to carry the banner in the fight for labor's right. It is said he has the whole-hearted support of Tom Uphill, Labor member in the Provincial Legislature, and a tower of strength in the ranks of those holding fast to the principles of the United Mine Workers, which body prompted the long drawn out strike almost put Fernie in the municipal cemetery and obliterated the town from the map of British Columbia. With Tommy dictating provincial matters and Willie in control of Dominion affairs, Fernie would be between the devil and the deep sea.

COAL CREEK NOTES

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. John Eckersley, a daughter.

The Coal Creek football team played against Fernie on the Fernie grounds on Sunday last. The Creek boys held 90 per cent of the play but were unable to find the net, the game ending a draw.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith returned from an extended trip to New York and other eastern points on Wednesday.

Owing to counter attractions the L.O.O.M. will not hold a lodge session on Monday night.

Our football team will play Michel at that place on Sunday next. Michel beat Coleman 4 to 1 last Sunday.

Local auto owners are making a big kick about the state of the roads between here and Fernie.

All local Dokays are requested to meet at the I.O.O.F. Hall on Sunday evening next at 7.30 for degree practice.

The vehicle of transportation used by two of our leading lights up here recently reminded one of "Muldoon's Picnic."

An enjoyable dance was held in the Club Hall after the sports on Monday, to which a free invitation was given to all residents of the camp.

Harry Sharpe says you may stop the creek by damming it but you cannot stop the Dokays from moving.

Supt. Caufield was a guest at a dinner and concert held in Michel on Wednesday.

CARDS OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, of Michel, B.C., wish to thank their many friends for their kind sympathy and floral tributes during their sad bereavement.

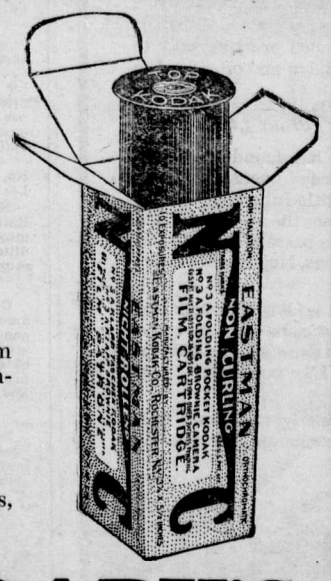
THE FERNIE ELKS SECOND ANNUAL BALL

One of the most brilliant events ever held by the Elks took place last Tuesday evening at the Elks' second annual ball, held in Victoria Hall.

Private parties attending the affair arrived early from Eureka, Waldo, Elko, Coleman, Michel, Natal, Coal Creek and other distant points.

The hall was tastefully decorated in the Elk colors, purple and white. Quite a number of the brother Bills, in their natty white costumes, along with the beautiful gowns worn by the ladies, made it a very pleasing looking event.

Well over 30 cars lined both sides of the street and all the parties stayed until the finish, which seemed entirely too early to close an affair of this kind.



Two hundred Elk pennants were presented to all attending ladies and were well received as a lasting souvenir. The second annual ball will be inscribed in the records as a huge success.

FERNIE WILL CELEBRATE

At a well attended meeting held in the city hall on Wednesday evening, it was decided to hold a monster celebration on July 1st, the proceeds to be devoted to the swimming pool.

Ward Thomas occupied the chair. The minutes of the last meeting, held on June 9 of last year, were read and adopted.

Financial statement for last year was also placed before the meeting, showing the amount of money turned over to the swimming pool fund.

The election of officers for the current year then took place. Ward Thomas was elected president; A. J. Carter, secretary; and A. Klauer, treasurer.

The chairmen of committees for the celebration were then appointed as follows:

Parade—T. Prentice.
Publicity—J. R. Wallace.
Grounds—J. S. Irvine.
Refreshments—A. L. Walker.
Dance—J. E. Dicks.
Sports—E. K. Stewart.
Amusement—J. Sweeney.

Each chairman was given authority to select his own committee.

It was decided to hold a carnival queen contest and also a page contest for boys under seven years of age. The latter was the suggestion of Principal Martin of the Public Schools, who said that idea had been carried out very successfully in Nanaimo. Ward Thomas will have direct charge of these competitions with the assistance of Principal Martin.

The Secretary and Sherwood Herchmer volunteered to canvas the town for subscriptions.

In the matter of the sale of tickets for the queen contest it was decided to provide three valuable prizes for lucky ticket holders, instead of a percentage of the money received being given in one cash prize.

An effort will be made to secure the very best baseball attraction for the day that can be provided. It has been suggested that Salty Ault bring his team from Couer d'Alene, but this may be rather too expensive. However, it was the opinion of the meeting that a real game should be provided for the program.

In regard to football Paddy Hughes said he thought there would be no trouble in securing Michel team for the day if sufficient inducement were offered. As Michel seems to be the strongest team in the league it was suggested that they play a combination team from Fernie and Coal Creek, but Mr. Hughes said he thought they would object to that. However, this will be lined up in the next few days and an effort will at least be made to secure two well balanced teams for the occasion.

The usual program of races, etc., will also be presented. A complete program will be published just as soon as the sports committee have it lined up.

As the entire proceeds are to be devoted to the swimming pool fund it is up to everyone to get in and assist in making this demonstration a real success. The work on this project has already commenced and while there is sufficient money in sight to give it a good start, the committee do not intend to pause in their efforts until Fernie has the most complete affair of the kind to be found in any part of the country.

NEW YORK CAPITAL BUYS THE WIND PASS

Vancouver, May 31.—The Province today states: "Control of the Wind Pass mine, near ChuChua, in the Thompson river area, has passed to New York capital, which is backing B. N. Shard of Spokane, who is now completing details of the transfer with A. B. Trites and associates. The terms of the transaction have not been made public.

NEW LIGHTS FOR STREETS

The first June meeting of the city council was held last evening, with Mayor Irvine in the chair and all the aldermen present.

After considerable discussion on the assessment roll, Aldermen Kerr and Dicken and the City Clerk were appointed a committee to go over the roll thoroughly and bring in a report as to the advisability of a reassessment.

Fire inspection reports on 26 additional city properties were placed on the table for review.

The chairman of the committee of works reported that work on the roads was proceeding very satisfactorily, and that the cost to date was about $250 per block.

The mayor and chairman of the works committe reported that they had authorized a supply of gravel for the cemetery roads to be delivered at the city's expense.

A letter from the Union of B. C. Municipalities, suggesting the incorporation in the civic bylaws of a bylaw governing the procedure at council meetings, was tabled.

An account from the Provincial Home for $600 for the city's indigents in that institution was O.K'd and placed in the June accounts.

Mr. Golightly will repair the doors of the city warehouse and put in new partitions.

The amendment to the sewer bylaw was finally passed.

The city clerk was instructed to procure data and prices on electrical fittings suitable for a better street lighting system in the business section of the city.

EQUALITY WITH MEN IN DIVORCE CASES

Ottawa, June 4.—By a majority of 51 votes the House of Commons passed the third reading of a bill placing women in the four western provinces on an equality with men in so far as the grounds for divorce are concerned.

WILL GET 35 PER CENT

Ottawa, June 1.—That depositors in the Home Bank will only receive from 60 to 65 per cent of their holdings, even if the government grants them the sum of $5,450,000, was the statement made today by G. G. Henderson of Fernie, one of the inspectors appointed by the liquidators of the defunct bank. Mr. Henderson is in the city in connection with claims of local depositors.

He pointed out that the statement had been made that the government had already advanced moneys to the depositors, when as a matter of fact not a cent had yet been received from the government.

Up to date the only amount received was 25 per cent of the value of the deposits, from realization of the bank's assets. This had been advanced by the Canadian Bankers' association, and most of it had been paid back to that institution from the collectable assets of the bank.

If the government advanced $5,450,000, it would represent another 35 per cent of the whole deposits, or 60 per cent in all. If the depositors were able to collect another 5 per cent from the assets of the bank, he thought they would be very lucky.

COLEMAN VS. FERNIE

Playing in a Crow's Nest Pass Football League fixture here Sunday evening, Coleman, Alberta, and Fernie soccer clubs gained one point each, the game finishing with the score tied two goals each.

Coleman won the toss and took advantage of a slight east wind and were soon in the neighborhood of Fernie goal. Two corners against Fernie came in quick succession, but both were cleared. Coleman continued to press and after forcing another corner, Beddington sent in a hard shot from close in but Sofko brought off a fine save and cleared. Fernie then got away and with the finest piece of combination in the game, Taylor sent over a perfect square to J. Thompson who ran in and scored the opening goal for Fernie. Coleman took up a strong offensive but lost many opportunities by wild shooting and half time came with Fernie leading one to nothing.

Coleman opened in a determined fashion in the second half and after five minutes play Yates scored the long overdue equalizer when he hooked the ball into the net from a scrimmage in front of the Fernie goal. Fernie was awarded a penalty when Booth handled within that area. Culverhouse took the kick and scored with a terrific drive. With only five minutes to go Coleman took on a desparate spurt and forced a corner, the ball came out to Jackson, who steadied himself, and drove the ball into the top corner of the net for the equalizer.

The line-up : Fernie : Sofko, Culver-McGraw, Taylor, Sompkins, J. Thomson, Thornton and A. Thomson.

Coleman : Yorko, Mitchell, Booth, Ford, Jackson, Lyth, Pryde, Beddington, Yates, Dunlop, and Gardner.

Referee : Oakley, of Coal Creek.

CORBIN FORMS FOOTBALL CLUB

A well attended meeting was held in the G.W.V. Club Rooms on Thursday evening at Corbin for the purpose of organizing a football club. The following officers were elected :

Hon. Pres., Geo. Watkins Evans.
Hon. Vice-Pres., E. L. Warburton.
President, James Doran.
Vice-President, R. D. Thornton.
Secretary, R.H. Hincks.
Executive: G. Elmes, John McDonald, E. Metcalfe, R. Baxter, M. Leper, J. Turney.
Captain, David Grieve.
Trainers, W. Gibbons, Louis Hoffman.
Referee, J. Turner.

Black and gold were chosen as the Club Colors, and a trial game, (possibles vs. probables) was arranged for Sunday afternoon.

The secretary was instructed to get in touch with neighboring clubs and arrange matches at once, and as quite a number of new players have arrived in camp lately, it is hoped that the Corbin Football Club have a long and successful season before them.

Any team wishing to arrange home and home games, is requested to write R. H. Hincks, Secretary, Corbin, B.C.

BRITISH WILL NOT EVACUATE COLOGNE

London, June 5.—The Allied note to Germany announces that that country has failed to comply with 13 disarmament conditions of the Versailles Treaty. Britain advices that she will not evacuate Cologne Bridgehead until Germany reduces her police force from 180,000 to 150,000, her army to 100,000 and suppresses the general staff.

MAJORITY TAKE CUT

With the agreement now arranged between the domestic coal miners at the Galt Colleries, Lethbridge, and their employers, the great majority of the mines formerly under the jurisdiction of the U.M.W. of A., have now direct contracts with the operators.

The mines that have thus broken away are the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., at Fernie and Michel; McGillivray Creek Coal Co. and the International Coal Co. at Coleman; the West Canadian Colleries at Bellevue and Blairmore; Hillcrest Colleries at Hillcrest; also the Canmore Coal Co. at Canmore; and the Brazeau Colleries, Nordegg. These now only leave the domestic coal mines at Drumheller, and the steam coal mines at Luscar, Mountain Park and Cadomin, on the Canadian National Railway, west of Edmonton, that are still affiliated with the U.M.W. of A.

The number of men that are employed by the companies that have broken away from the miners' union represent approximately 3500, while those that are in the other union camps amount to about half that number.

On the basis of tonnage in past years, the mines, where separate agreements now exist, turn out about 3½ million tons a year, while Drumheller and the mines mentioned on the Canadian National line, average something like two million tons in a year.

GOLF NOTES

In the men's weekly competition held on Wednesday last Sherwood Herchmer was the winner with a magnificent score of 35, with a handicap of 6. His net score was 29 for the nine holes.

In the mixed foursome competition held on May 27, J. Chell and Mrs. Martin were the winners with a score of 48 minus 20 handicap, the net score being 28.

Blairmore golfers will meet Fernie on June 14. The following team has been picked to play them. These players are requested to be out Sunday morning at 10 a.m., June 7, for a practice game: Watson, Herchmer, Mitchell, Hayne, Irvine, Stewart, Sanborn, Gates, Suddaby, Kastner, Wallace, Martin, K. Stewart, Kelman, Corbett, S. Wilson, Sanford, Diamond, Chell, Zimmerman.

LADIES GOLF CLUB

The following is the draw for the President vs. Vice-President match on Monday, June 8, the name first mentioned in each case playing for the president:

Mrs. Kastner vs. Mrs. Aune.
Miss Wolfenden vs. Miss E. Bean.
Miss D. Kelman vs. Mrs. J. S. Irvine
Miss N. Douglas vs. Miss Charlebois.
Mrs. Sanborn vs. Mrs. Corbett.
Mrs. Lawes vs. Miss F. Macdonald.
Miss E Johnston vs. Miss Herkins.
Miss M. Irvine vs. Miss K. Westby.
Mrs. Black vs. Mrs. Moses.
Miss Giegerich vs. Miss D. Nelson.
Miss M. Duncan vs. Miss B. McLeod.
Miss Jean Corsan vs. Mrs. Martin.
Mrs. Mackie vs. Miss C. O'Neil.
Mrs. Fisher vs. Mrs. Gates.
Miss J Cody vs. Mrs. Wm. Johnston.
Mrs Colton vs. Mrs. R. Kirkpatrick.
Miss F. Hammill vs. Mrs. Herchmer
Miss J. Strachan vs. Miss Bailey.
Mrs. Walker vs. Mrs. J. McDonald.
Miss McGregor vs. Miss Grace Douglas.
Mrs. G. Kelman vs. Mrs. B. Kirkpatrick.
Miss M. Brown vs. Mrs. Watson.

Prize, one ball for the best net score.

Mrs. J. S. Irvine's cup will be played for on Tuesday, June 9. Draws will be posted Monday in the Trites-Wood window and at the Club House.

SCIENTIST SUICIDES

New Haven, Conn., May 30th.—The scientific world will have to wait another while before it learns the secret it has puzzled over for years now, a key to the atomic theory.

For Eustace Cuy, the man who bade fair to solve it and upon whose work physicists and chemists the world over have been hanging with almost abated breath, is dead—dead by his own hand.

The discovery on which Eustace Cuy, Ph. D., graduate student at Yale University and research assistant in the chemical labatory nere, had been working for two years before he took his life, was to have been great. It was to have startled the scientific world—to have thrown new light on the question over which scientists have worked and debated—that of the relation of the atom and the molecule.

A very trying problem to scientists although its solution would not mean much in the lives of the warkaday folks who make up the majority of the world. And there it is believed lay the rub that caused the student's death. He wanted fame and success and a big place in the world. While the authorities of Yale University, his colleges and numerous chemists and physicists granted his work was great and might revolutionize science, all was well. He toiled night and day.

But when the realization came suddenly that the solution of the problem on which he came to study at Yale would have no great practical application in the life of every day, he became discouraged and drank potassium cyanide. That was the end of the work on the discovery with whose importance the university had been sufficiently impressed to give him a special laboratory where he could work uninterrupted.

The experiments Cuy had been conducting had small interest for the small mind. But scientists in these parts fairly beam and rub their hands with enthusiasm when they consider what it might have meant to their work. And they sigh at the thought they are done. Young Cuy had been working with crystals, debating the problem raised recently as to whether they are made up of molecules or atoms—the smallest unit of matter. Night and day he had poured over his test tubes, creating X-rays to see their constituents. So far only the very simple crystale had been studied—salt and other like forms. But Cuy had gone deeper into the more complex forms. His answer—atom or molecule—might have been applied in the making of medicines and dyes and innumerable products.

The books had been started on the subject to be finished when his work was through and distributed throughout the world. Great men had written the Yale man urging that he hurry his work since on his findings depended work they wanted to do.

And the chemistry department of Yale, when he expounded his problem, was so properly impressed with its importance that it assigned to him a private room and offered the cooperation of the head of the department, Professor John Johnstone.

"Cuy had great ambitions," Professor Johnstone said in speaking of the death of the scientist here today. "He wanted a big position in some big public field. His discovery was important but when he realized that it would not be regard by the public as such, who could not understand, he became discouraged. I think that is what caused him to take his life."

The death of Eustace Cuy was the strangest thing which has occurred in Yale or New Haven within memory. The horror of it grips the people hereabouts. Cuy was a Greek, whose home was Pittsburg. He had friends here in numbers. He was cheery with a winsome manner, active sense of humor and a rare capacity for work.

He decided that there was but one solution to his problem. It lay in death. He called newspaper reporters asking them to be at his laboratory at 4 o'clock. Then he invited a group of friends—to number 13 in all—and ordered ice cream and cake. There happened in an extra one, according to the story of those present and then young Cuy announced: "We must have just 13 this afternoon. I cannot ask a guest to leave, so I shall go myself."

Calmly he gave a letter to the reporters who came at his request, telling them of his plan. And just as calmly he poured himself a drink of cyanide of potassium and washed it down with water while his friends chided him about "being tight with the drinks." Then Eustace Cuy lit a cigarette and toppled dead at their feet.

Pardon me! We are not acquainted.

Yes, I know, but I thought it might be all right. You see, I'm an Elk and it seemed to me you were a dear yourself.

POLITICS AND FINANCE

London Times: No one has watched with a sympathetic if critical eye the financial fortunes of our friendly neighbor and has marked the steady and gradual deterioration of French finance, as the result of over-spending would attribute the financial difficulties of France to any one political party. The remedy and the time of its application, are matters solely for the decision of the French people. But for us the experience of France in the past five years contains a highly instructive lesson, especially for those who are inclined to suppose that in the nationalization of banks and banking is to be found a cure for our economic troubles.

Here and There

The popularity of the Nova Scotia apple is rapidly growing in Europe. 1,103,980 barrels and 8,693 boxes were shipped in 1924-25 to ports in England, Scotland and Germany. Shipments also went to Newfoundland, West Indies, Central Canada and the United States.

Production of sugar beets in Canada during 1923 amounted to 159,200 tons, valued at $1,922,668, and grown on 17,941 acres, according to the Bureau of Statistics. 6,000 acres have been planted to beets this year in Southern Alberta, due to the establishment of a sugar beet factory.

Milton Sills, the well-known movie actor, with a company of 32 other screen artists, passed through Montreal recently to take scenes in "The Come Back" in which he is featured. The party went to Beauhesne, in Northern Quebec. Travelling by another train was a mother skunk and five kitten skunks which will also figure in the picture.

The 286 passengers on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of France completed their 30,000-mile tour of the world on Saturday, May 23, when the vessel docked at New York. At their last stop at Havana, President Machado of Cuba invited the passengers to attend his official inauguration and to witness the unveiling of a statue to the preceding President.

Another aristocratic rancher recently passed through Montreal on a return visit to the ancestral estates in Transylvania, Hungary. This was Baron Josef Csavossy who, with his brother Andre, took over a 1,600-acre ranch last March near Cochrane, Alberta, on the Bow River. Incidentally the Baron was a passenger on the Trans-Canada on its first return trip of the season from Vancouver.

The Indian Day Celebration at Banff, it is announced, will take place as usual this year on the third Thursday and Friday in July. Preparations are already under way for this event, which enjoys an enviable population as an Indian show. The Stoney Indians arrive in large numbers from their reservation to take part in the ceremonies, which are the 23rd annual celebration of the function.

Edward G. Taylor, one of the best known game fishermen on the continent is authority for the statement that New Brunswick is losing none of its lure as a fisherman's paradise. Just back from a trip to the Cains River, N.B., Mr. Taylor said salmon were steadily increasing in numbers and size in the province. He added that he had caught on this trip a salmon 42 inches long and weighing 24 lbs. In the autumn such a fish would likely weigh up to fifty pounds.

The following story is told of Sir William Van Horne, first president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and a Major Rogers, who was in charge of the supplies for men working along the track. Van Horne said: "Look here. Major, I hear your men won't stay with you, they say you starve them." "T'aint so, Van." "Well, I'm told you feed 'em on soup made out of water flavored with old ham canvas covers." "T'aint so, Van, I didn't never have no hams."—From "Canada's Great Highway," by J. H. E. Secretan.

The Western railways of the United States comprising 67 roads serving Chicago and the West, have petitioned the Inter-State Commerce Commission for permission to advance rates. They state that for the years 1921 to 1924 inclusive, the average rate of return on capital was 3.55 per cent., which they claim is so small as to render it impossible for them to secure working capital for extensions and improvement of service by the sale of stock or issue of bonds at reasonable terms. They ask for rates that would give them a net return of 5¾ per cent., which it is generally admitted is what railways should have.

TEACHERS TO TOUR

The Overseas Education League is sending a party of English school teachers, numbering 150, to this Dominion in July next for a tour. It is the tfirs time such an organized party has been got together, although parties of Canadian teachers have bee going to England ever since 1910. The object is to show the English teachers the country so that they may learn something about its rich heritage and its social outlook. The teachers will come to the Pacific Coast, as it is the object to show them all that is possible to be seen during the time at their disposal. There have been interchanges of teachers between this country and Britain for certain definite periods but those who have derived benefits in this way have been mostly young teachers. It is not easy to make this arrangement where the older teachers—those who have settled down in life—are concerned, and yet it is those who would, very often, benefit most from the experience.

The school teachers can do an excellent work in spreading abroad a knowledge of the Empire, and it is a knowledge which they should have at first hand. Every intelligent man and woman derives benefit from travel and it is conceivable that those in the teaching profession will benefit more than others because of their education. It is certain that those of whom they have charge will also benefit, since the teachers on their return will be all the better equipped to spread a common knowledge of the Empire. It is a matter of increasing the proficiency of their profession. It is an enlargement of the idea of Imperial citizenship. It is the promotion of a new link of Empire and one of a very vital sort because the teachers deal in ideas. By travelling in the Overseas Dominions they will be enlarging their sense of history and accumulating a variety of other information. Those teachers who are coming here, when they return to England, will be able to make Canada understood to a wide circle of students. They will, to this extent, be factors in strengthening Imperial unity.—Colonist.

STRANGE TAXES

Every generation has its own troubles in the matter of taxation. Our own are heavy enough, but our fathers submitted meekly enough to taxes which we should find frankly intolerable in form, if not in amount.

It is hardly more than a century since Pitt placed a tax of 5s on every clock or time-keeper by whatever name the same shall be called, and 10s on every gold watch or gold time-keeper used for the purpose of a watch, and 2s 6d. for any silver or metal watch.

The so-called "Act of Parliament clock," owes its name, if not its origin, to this tax. Innkeepers placed large clocks in their bars and parlors for the benefit of their customers who had parted with their watches. Those who did not possess suitable clocks bought them, and the form generally adopted was a large painted wooden dial (sometimes black with gold figures), with no glass over it, and a wooden trunk long enough to hold the pendulum.

The seventeenth century was so prolific in taxes that we should feel an intolerable encroachment on our liberty. The hearth tax (the direct ancestor of our Inhabited House Duty) was imposed after the Restoration in 1662. France, that home of unpleasant taxes, had submitted to it from the fourteenth century, but the only form of hearth penny ever before paid in England was the literal penny a hearth paid for "Peter's Pence," by which Pope Clement V. substituted in 1306 for the lump sum of £201 9s. formerly paid—more or less irregularly—by England to Rome.

Soon after in 1689, it was declared to be "not only a great oppression of the poorer sort, but a badge of slavery on the whole people." But the whole people had only six years in which to enjoy their freedom from this slavery. In 1689 the coinage of the realm was found to be so universally debased by clipping, paring, and other devices that some means had to be found to make good for the deficiency. So once more, the Exchequer cast an eye on the homes of the people. It was hardly possible to reimpose the hearth tax after having repealed it as a badge of slavery. But there were other necessities besides fires—windows would serve admirably.

So the new imposition began as a tax of from 2s to 3s., according to the width of the window. The result is seen to-day in the old houses, many of which have windows built up or narrowed to lighten the burdens of taxation.

Clocks and hearths and windows fade into insignificance as "badges of slavery" by the side of the Birth and Death taxes of 1694 which were levied "to prosecute the war against France with more vigor."

The poor paid 4s. for the privilege of dying, while a duke or duchess was taxed £50. A duke was also taxed £30 for the birth of his eldest son, and £25 for every other child. The tax for all persons not receiving alms, was 2s. for the birth of each child.—John O'London's Weekly.

Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

HEADACHES, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are Nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If this is allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Mothers especially like it for children as it takes the place of internal medicines.

Local Druggists Have Modern Remedy for Colds

A Vaporizing Salve which is Rubbed Over Throat and Chest for Colds.

When Vicks VapoRub, the "external" method of treating sore throat, bronchitis, deep chest colds, or croup, is applied over throat or chest, the ingredients are released as vapors by the body heat.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath carry the medication directly to the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and relieving the congestion.

At the same time Vicks acts as a counter-irritant, stimulating the skin, and thus helps the vapors inhaled to break up the inflammation.

Colds are usually relieved over night.

LIKED THE HIGHLAND GIRLS

The following reports are extracts from the Cranbrook papers on the performance of Bill Thompson's troup of dancers during the Empire Day celebration held at Cranbrook:

"True to tradition the morning parade signalled the opening of the big frolic. And it was more than an ordinary parade, that pagent of Monday last. It was as a small boy remarked, "a whale of a parade."

That small boy's sharp eyes had caught sight of the two little bear cubs on the big red fire truck lumbering along in the wake of the scarlet-coated member of the Royal Mounted who led the procession. After the fire truck came the floats, motor and horse drawn, and behind the floats came all manner of interesting features. For instance, there were the imported pipers from Fernie, and their ranks swelled by local talent, and a blawin' wi' micht an' main the bonnie inspiritin' strains o' Auld Mither Scotland's martial airs, wi' the drummers dirlin' ott the time wi' herty crun, as Rabbie Burns micht ha' said. And at the heels of the pipers and the drums marched nine of Caledonia's daughters, tricked out in all the bravery o' Hielan' tartan, carrying drawn swords and bravely stepping it out to the lilt of the pipes. These dainty little nymphs of the glens and the heather hills were the Highland dancers, little Miss Tina Thompson, Mary Corlett, Martha Corlett, Belle Smith, Martha Smith, Nan Arbuckle, Gladys Arbuckle, Irene Reid and Rose Stewart, whose dancing at intervals during the afternoon and at the community dance during the evening took the people by storm. They are beyond all suspicion of doubt, as clever and sprightly a company of little lassies as ever put foot into a Highland brogan.

And now for the titbit, the delicious performance of the wee hielan' lassies from Fernie. Wedged in between the events of the afternoon were the dances which everyone is discussing in terms of praise. The Highland dances by the little Fernie girls was an afternoon entertainment in itself, as witnesseth the following program:

Opening Number—Highland Laddie Foursome Reel, Sword Dance, Highland Fling, Irish Jig, Seann Tribbuis, Sailor's Hornpipe.

The Thompson trope of Highland dancers from Fernie, nine in number, under the direction of Miss Tinie Thompson, gave an exhibition of Scotch dances at the Fair grounds which won the admiration and applause of all present. This youthful leader is possessed of marked ability as a leader, as was evidenced by the performance of the young troupe under her direction. When it is considered that she is but a girl of only thirteen years her work is all the more laudable. The medals which she displayed on her tunnic speak for themselves however, so far as praise is concerned.

The patrons of the dance in the evening were also favored with exhibitions by some of the troupe, consisting of Tambourine Dance, Spanish Dance and Butterfly Dance by Miss T. Thompson. Sword Dance by Misses G. and M. Arbuckle. The Thompson troupe will always be welcome in Cranbrook.

COCAIN ADDICTS STOP SOOON

"Human beings can not continue taking cocain indefinitely, nor can a tolerance to this dangerous drug be built up as is commonly supposed. Prof. A. L. Tatum, of the University of Chicago has found this as a result of experiments and observations in the university laboratory of physiological chemistry and pharmacology, we read in the Daily Science News Bulletin:

"Taking cocain away from an habitual user has no more disastrous effect than taking tobacco away from a confirmed smoker, Dr. Tatum maintains, since the body does not require the continuance of the drug, once it has been withdrawn. The contrary is true of morphine, the drug to which cocain addicts often turn. Experiments recently completed on laboratory animals show that cocain addicts after a considerable period of time, suffer from a poisoning which produces tissue degeneration, causing painful physiological reactions that force them to abandon the habit. Cocain administred to laboratory animals develops an increased sensitivitity towards the drug, Prof. Tatum explains. This is in confirmation of results obtained by other investigators. Cocain poisoning over a considerable length of time produces tissue degeneration. Similar degenerative changes produced by other means such as phosphorous—or chloroform-poisoning increase the sensitivity toward cocain. Consequently it is our view that the increased sensitivity in laboratory animals has its basis in cell injury. Addicts cured of the cocain habit can go back at once to the dosage used at the height of their so-called addiction with no excessive or exaggerated effects, contrary to morphine addiction, in which case after a cure the subject must begin again with a small dosage with gradually increasing dossages as he re-develops a tolerance. Cocain addiction is usually of relatively short duration, estimated from one to three years, when the subjects voluntarily stop the use of cocain because of the undesirable effects. The absence of a developed human toleranee, lack of abstinence symptoms on withdrawal, and the short course of the addiction, all point to a similarity of bodily effects on man and laboratory animals; man and laboratory animals differ essentially in their physic reactions, which is the basis of the human addiction. The lower animal counterpart of the human cocain psychosis has so far never been discovered."

With a view to arranging a new trade and transportation agreement between Canada and the British West Indies a conference is to be held at Ottawa in June which will be attended by representatives of the Governments of Canada, Bermuda, Leeward and Windward Islands, Barbadoes, Trinidad, British Guiana, Jamaica and British Honduras.

The gold mines of northern Ontario are said to have yielded a higher income during the first quarter of 1925 than in any similar period in their history. Estimates place the income of mining companies in the Porcupine district at nearly six million dollars and in the Kirkland District at one and a quarter millions.

ARMAMENT RESTRICTION

World's Work : It is easy to criticize the results of the Washington Conference—such criticism, indeed, is widespread; yet, leaving aside all points of detail this conference established one precedent new in the international relationships, the effect of which can hardly be exaggerated. This is that the armament of an individual nation is not its own exclusive affair, but is a matter in which its neighbors and possible antagonists, have a right to be consulted. This conception is so new and revolutionary that is is perhaps not yet properly estimated as the greatest achievement of the Conference.

FOOTBALL NOTES

The following players have been picked to represent the Fernie football team in their game with Coleman at Coleman on Saturday, June 6 : Sofko, Blackie, Culverhouse, Robertson, Joinson, McGraw, Taylor, Sumpton, Thornton, J. Thomson, A. Thomson, W. Thomson and Dicken. Cars will leave town promptly at 3 p.m. Cars will be at Coal Creek at 2 o'clock in the afternoon to pick up players working on day shift. Players are asked to arrange to meet these cars.

At a meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Football League held in the Michel Hotel, Hillcrest Football Club made an application for admission to the league.

Corbin have organized a football club and are desirous of entering the league. The Fernie executive are in touch with Corbin endeavoring to arrange a game for Sunday evening, June 7. If this is arranged posters will be put up announcing the time of the game.

The local tennis club are quite proud of the way their court is boosted by out of town visitors.. Last week the Vancouver University Players said it was the finest court they had played on in the interior of B.C. Two fine new courts are in course of construction for the use of the pupils of the Fernie High School. The school board is sparing no expense to put them in splendid shape. There are more tennis players in the game in Fernie this year than ever before, and those interested in the sport are looking forward to some real matches before the season is over.

Success sometimes turns a fellow's head, and the first thing he knows he's going back the other way.

LETHBRIDGE JOINS WORKERS

Lethbridge, June 3.—By a majority of 165, with 264 for and 99 against, the miners of No. 6 Galt Colleries decided in the voting which took place yesterday to accept the wage reduction proposed by the mine officials. The result was not unexpected, as the feeling among the majority of the men has been an anxiety to get to work with more regularity than in the present arrangement. The decision will enable the C.P.R. to arrange contracts for future delivery of coal in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, which has been held back owing to the uncertain conditions prevailing in the mine. This will at least ensure the men more opportunity for regular work.

Whether the decision arrived at will mean a break with the U.M.W.A. remains to be seen. Among the men themselves, in views expressed, it is a beginning of the end of what have been strained relations ever since 1919, when there was an attempt to break away from the international and join the O.B.U. These relations have been further strained in the matter of relief during the last strike. This was considered inadequate when the union dues paid amounted to $3 a month.

It is significant that in the present instance the mine officials have dealt directly with the men instead of through the U.M.W. of A. as previously insisted on.

There is a general feeling of relief on the settlement of a situation which has been growing acute, and the prospects are regarded as rosy for the expansion of the local coal industry.

The Lethbridge Herald in commenting on the new settlement, says:

By the substantial vote by the miners in favor of accepting the proposals submitted by the mine officials there must be the satisfaction that a basic industry connected with the city has at least been allowed to function with, it is to be hoped, benefit to the miners in giving them stable instead of unstable occupation. There has been a fine spirit of compromise shown in the decision come to, which should augur much for the future of an industry with which the welfare of the city and the mine workers is associated.

The decision come to by the miners has without doubt been arrived at after giving the situation the full deliberation it deserved. In the working interests of the men it can be said to be a decision which has wisely not been delayed in view of the necessity of entering into contracts by the mine for the future supply of coal in markets which would have been lost had no arrangement been come to. This at any rate, is good business on the part of the miners in making regular work at the mine more assured.

The Herald will be only expressing the views of the people of Lethbridge when it looks with hopefulness to the future of the coal industry here, with mutual benefit to the industry itself and to those who are engaged in it. With the cost of production lowered, as argued, there should be an expansion of the coal industry locally with more and regular work making ample compensation for what may be regarded to have been lost in the reduction of wages agreed to. That the miners will be the ultimate gainers in accepting the working arrangement offered will be a community wish.

The name of "Sandy" Watson, who pleased the crowd with a violin solo at the Elk banquet, was, through an oversight, omitted from the program published in last week's issue.

Capt. and Mrs. McCormack, of Winnipeg, arrived in town this week to take charge of the local corps. Capt. Dove has been transferred to Nanaimo.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will be held on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. Ewart Gee.

Mining Engineer Robt. Wilson was in the city yesterday. He has just returned from Montana, where he has been inspecting several mining properties.

The monthly meeting of the Fernie District Rod and Gun Club will be held in the council chamber on Tuesday next, June 9, at 8 p.m. All members are requested to be present.

Coleman Journal: Allan Penman, of Fernie, arrived in Coleman Monday night and will take up residence in town. Mr. Penman is taking over the leadership of the recently organized Pipe Band.

The funeral of the late Sister Emily Clowers will be held from the United Church on Sunday, June 7, at 2.30 p.m. All members of Esther Rebekah Lodge are requested to meet at the I.O.O.F. Hall on Sunday, at 1.45 p.m..

Word was received today of the death of Harry Benson, of Blairmore, who died from the result of a kick from a horse which he received last Wednesday. Deceased was well known in Fernie, having married a Miss Annie Winstanley here some years ago.

Fernie Public Hospital—A public meeting of th ecitizens of Fernie and Coal Creek will be held in the Isis Theatre on Friday, June 12, at 7.30 p.m. for the purpose of organizing and appointing a permanent board for the Fernie Public Hospital. Everyone is invited.

Miss Millie Littley returned on Sunday last from Winnipeg, where she attended the funeral of the late Captain Granger. Her sister, Lieut. C. Littley, of Winnipeg No. 2 Corps, of the Salvation Army, accompanied her on her return, to spend a month's holiday in Fernie.

Fernie baseball club have received two challenges from prairie points for the Brewery Cup, one from the Calgary Athletics and the other from Staveley. As the cup has to be won, best two out of three, we can look forward to some real games in the near future. The game advertised with Whitefish for Sunday last was called off on account of the threatening condition of the weather.

The Catholic Church Boys Club sent their baseball team, known as the "Crusaders," to Cranbrook on Wednesday to meet the Cranbrook High School team. Fernie was defeated in a hard game by a score of 6—3.

Coleman will hold a celebration on Dominion Day as will also Kimberley. The latter is endeavoring to secure the Fernie baseball team for the occasion, but of course with our own town celebrating this is out of the question.

Calgary Herald: William Sherman, president of District 18 U.M.W. ofA., left on Wednesday for Coleman, with the intention of endeavoring to reorganize the miners in the Crow's Nest Pass who broke away from the union some little time ago and entered into a direct agreement with the operators.

It having come to the notice of the Minister of Lands that more logs are being cut at present than the market will absorb, he has notified the Loggers' Association that the government has no intention of relaxing its regulations with regard to export, and that should the market become glutted by reason of operations carried on with the knowledge that there is no market to absorb the product, export to relieve the congestion will not be allowed. Hon. Mr. Patullo states that permits for the export of logs from timber licences are only half of last year's figures. He adds that the present situation proves the absurdity of the contention that mills were being constructed across the line for the purpose of cutting logs taken over from this province.

"My Wife Handles the Money"

The wife deposits —so a business man writes us. "She can do it better than I. Each pay day she always deposits our savings first. We never buy anything unless we have the cash to pay for it and each year our savings are growing."

In a joint account A Joint Account in the name of husband and wife allows the wife to deposit or withdraw money during her husband's absence or when he cannot get to the bank during business hours.

For the children, too A Savings Account for the children will teach them the value of keeping their money, thus helping them to form the habit of saving.

PULVERIZED SOFT COAL

What would you be tempted to say if you saw a gang of men dressed in spick and span white duck suits, engaged in firing a group of very large steam boilers with dusty soft coal ?

This is just what you would see if you were to visit the great electric power plant at the Ford Motor Company's factory at River Rouge, near Detroit. This plant is fired with powdered coal.

Henry Ford is not burning coal powder, ground at considerable expense to the fineness of flour, merely for the sake of cleanliness, however, but because of its many decided advantages. It was learned long ago that best combustion of fuel is obtained when it is in finely divided form. This is chiefly due to the fact that the access of oxygen to the fuel is vastly faciliated when it is divided into minute particles. Each individual particle burns within one or two seconds, while still in suspension in the air. But the stream of arriving particles is constant and thus the fire is maintained much as is a fire of gas or atomized fuel-oil.

Within ten years, but principally within the last three years, this interesting method of burning fuel has advanced by leaps and bounds. This advance has taken place chiefly in the electric power industry where pulverized fuel is already being employed in a large number of those really great power stations of the type which supply electric energy by the hundred thousand horsepower.

Let us get an idea of the several processes that the coal or other fuel —sometimes it is lignite—goes through between the time that it arrives at the boiler room in freight cars and the time it is finally burned.

First, the coal is crushed to about the size of a hickory nut. Then it is usually dried in order to faciliate the process of fine grinding. Next it is ground to a coal flour in special mills. It is now either stored in bins from which it is later withdrawn, or it goes directly to the furnace. The coal powder is not in any case permitted to reach the open air on the way. It goes through closed pipes, perhaps to a distance of hundreds of feet, moved either by screw conveyors or blown along by air.

The coal powder is steadily discharged into the furnace through a series of special nozzles. It quickly takes fire, burns at once and delivers a maximum of heat to the boiler.

The combustion is complete, the particles are burned in suspension in the air and there is therefore no grate and the ash disposal problem is comparatively simple. About one-third of the ash finely divided, goes up the stack and is never heard from again. The rest, in the form of finely divided ash powder, is generally flushed away by means of jets of water.

A great advantage in burning fuel in the form of powder is the fact that you can turn it on, turn it up, turn it down, or turn it out just about as easily and quickly as you can manipualte a gas flame in your kitchen range. This feature which is a mere convenience in your kitchen, becomes very much more important in the case of the great power station which supplies a city with elecricity for light and for driving electric motors.

For example, if you were to spend a day and a night at any large electric light power station you would soon discover that the demand for electricity is far from uniform. First there is the great load due to the lighting of electric lamps at dusk. Other fluctuations are due to corresponding fluctuations in street car service and in the demand for electric power in the various industries.

In your power station you would find that in order to meet these fluctuations every day, as well as to be prepared for emergency demands of the kind that come unexpectedly, such as sudden thunder storms which darken the skies and cause thousands of people to switch on lights within 15 minutes, it is necessary to keep extra boilers hot with fires banked, ready to steam up on brief notice. This costs money.

If your power station has installed equipment for burning powdered coal, however, it will not have to keep a slow fire under the stand-by boilers. When more steam is suddenly demanded it is only necessary to light the powdered coal. Within a few minutes the steam is being generated.

Of all the advantages of powdered coal the one which gives the engineer independence of the coal operators seems to please him most. If you own a home you know how hard it is to get coal of uniformly good grade from year to year. But the engineer who has charge of a great power plant generally experiences altogether more difficulty of this sort than the home owner.

If, however, he is equipped to burn his coal in the form of powder he discovers that he cannot only use many different grades of coal under the same boiler, but he can also switch from a good grade to a bad grade, from a grade having a high heat value to one having a low heat value, even from a high quality of bituminous coal to brown coal or lignite, within a few minutes, without any diminution of steam pressure whatever. If the new coal is poorer he simply accelerates the screw feeder and injects more fuel to make up the difference.

In preparing the coal for use as powder it is first passed over a strong magnetic separator. This removes the few pieces of iron that always find their way into large shipments of coal, and thus protects the crushing machinery from harm. After the coal has been crushed to such a size that it can be handled conveniently by the fine grinder it goes, in some cases, to the dryer. Coal always contains moisture in varying amounts, and while the presence of this moisture has no effect on the burning qualities of the fuel, it will cause trouble in the grinding and subsequent handling operations if there is enough of it in the fuel. The cost of grinding the coal averages from about thirteen cents to sixty cents a ton.

There are two methods of introducing the coal powder to the furnace, either by a horizontal nozzle or by a vertical nozzle. In the latter case, which seems to be more efficient, the coal is wafted into the top of the furnace and burns as it falls.

The air which brings the powder through the pipes to the furnace is insufficient for combustion ; in fact if it were sufficient there would be danger of premature explosion. Therefore most of the air necessary for combustion is introduced through secondary openings in the furnace wall near the nozzles. By previously passing this secondary air through the hollow walls of the furnace it becomes preheated. This increases the recovery of energy from the fuel, at the same time cooling the inside walls of the furnace and cutting off heat losses caused by radiation.

There are now at least three hundred installations for burning pulverized fuel in the United States, and they are all large, for as yet this method has not been applied to small installations.

Of all the many large installations, that of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company (Milwaukee, Wisconsin) is the pioneer, the leader, and the classic example among engineers. This great power plant, known as the Lakeside Station, because it is situated on the shore of Lake Michigan, generates 174,000 horsepower and furnishes the entire eastern part of the state of Wisconsin with electric energy. Its great furnaces consume more than a thousand tons of coal per day.

This enormus power station was built in 1921 and began operation with a consumption of about one and one-third pounds of powdered coal for each horsepower hour of electrical energy generated.

By careful supervision this amount of fuel has been consistently crowded down until less than one pound of a rather low grade of bituminous coal now suffices for the generation of one horsepower.

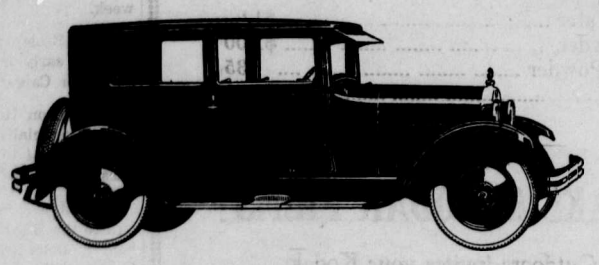
ARCTIC EXPLORATIONS

Artic exploration has added many poignant as well as glorious pages to the record of human achievement. Courage and endurance seem to have inevitably marked these explorers who have tempted the Artic and the Antartic wastes before and since the time when Sir John Franklin and over 100 souls mysteriously vanished from the sight and knowledge of man. There was the Jeanette expedition which sailed from San Francisco for Bering Straights in the summer of 1879, which became jammed in the ice and swept away in a northwesterly direction far from its goal. Winter and another summer found the ship drifting helplessly at the mercy of the pack. On June 12, 1881, in a hurricane the Jeanette was smashed in two and the crew were left shelterless some hundreds of miles from land.



The crew of the Jeanette struck southwards for the new Siberian Islands with five boats and nine sledges carrying sixty days provisions. Bennet Island was reached in 13 days and the the Liakov Islands 11 days later. Fhom there across wind-lashed open water, the party embarked in three open boats for the Siberian coast. One of these boats foundered and all on board were lost. The other two reached the Lena delta, those on board having to wade to land waist deep through miles of loose floating ice. From there one party of nine men under Commodore Melville reached a Siberian settlement, but when they returned with aid to their companions it was only to find their stark and frozen remains half buried in the snow.

Another Artic expedition was that of Lieutenant Greely and a party of twenty-four officers and men who were landed by the sealer Porteus at Discovery Harbor in July 1881. In the summer of 1882 the party reached Fort Conger, were sledge journeys were continued northward and penetrated Grinnell Land, ascending its highest peak 4,500 feet above the sea. They returned to wait for the relief ship Porteus and throughout the summer of 1883 they waited in vain. On October 15 the last camping ground was reached, with clothing in rags, no fuel and only forty days' rations, although no vessel could be expected for 250 days, for the long polar night had already begun. The men lay in cold and semi-darkness throughout that terrible winter and died off one by one from scurvy, starvation and insanitary surroundings. By the month of June only fourteen were alive. It was June 21 when a steamer's whistle was heard and by then only seven half-unconscious survivors of the Greely expedition were saved. The rescue was effcted by Scottish whalemen.

The search for the Franklin expedition is a matter of history. One of McClintock's parties, found an old boat wherein was revealed the sad and awful secret. Of the find McClintock wrote : "There was that in the boat which transfixed us with awe. It was portions of two human skeletons. One was of a slight young person, the other of a large, strongly-made, middle-aged man. The former was found in the bow of the boat, but was too much disturbed to enable Hodgson to judge whether he had died there ; large and powerful animals, probably wolves, had destroyed much of this skeleton, probably that of an officer. The other skeleton was in a more perfect state, and was enveloped in clothes and furs; it lay acrosst the boat, under the afterthwart. Close beside it were found two watches, and there were two double barrelled guns—one barrel in each gun loaded and cocked—standing muzzle up against the boat's side. Five or six small books were found, all of them devotional, except the Vicar of Wakefield. Mr. McClintock returned to England in 1859, bringing with him a written memorandum of the death of Franklin and of the abandonment of the ships, together with certain evidences of the ghastly death of the whole party.

Of Captain Scott's expedition to the South Pole and its tragic end the memory is still fresh. He reached the Pole only to find that Amundsen had won through before him, and he and the members of his party died amid terrible privations on their way back to their base. Of all the records of Artic and Antartic research none is more treasured and none more poignant in its details of the hardships that have to be endured than the diary left by Captain Scott. It is that record and what it contains which impresses the popular imagination most in speculation about the fate of the Amundsen-Ellsworth expedition, a fate which is now arresting and enthralling world interest. Because of many of the surrounding circumstances and the fact that relief expeditions in the present instance can be speedily assembled it is believed that if the latest Artic explorers are still alive they can be rescued.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

ELIMINATE DEAF MUTES

The total abolition of Deaf Mutism is a goal set before preventive medicine by Paul Becquerel, Paris. He believes that it may be reached, not by teaching deaf mutes to talk, as we are already doing with so large a measure of success, but by striking more deeply at the root of the trouble by ascertaining and combatting its ultimate causes. How this is being done he explains to us :

"Deaf-mutes are extremely common. In France alone there are 35,000 cases. In the United States Graham Bell, who invented the telephone in the hope of enabling his deaf-mute wife to hear, estimated their number at more than 90,000. In general there is one deaf-mute for every 1,000 persons, and consequently 1,000,000 now living.

"And in this estimate we do not include temporary deaf-mutes, the mentally insufficient and the thyroidians, whoses organs of hearing are intact. The real deaf-mute is not diseased, as is too commonly imagined, nor is he mentally weak. He is a normal person whose mental faculties are as well developed as ours. He is dumb because he cannot hear; he does not know how to use his organs of speech, nor to imitate the vocal sounds of those who speak to him.

"Now noting these facts, numerous observers, since remote antiquity using various artifices, have succeeded in making deaf-mutes talk. But it was not until the eighteenth century that a general method of instruction, both rational and effective, was devised. According to this method by reading the formation of words on the lips, it is possible to hear with the eyes, and with practise, to imitate these formations and so pronounce words. To-day the oral method of demutization is wonderfully perfected. Through out the world 4,000 instructors are teaching it to more than 35,000 pupils.

"To this method has now been added that of the cinematographic projection discovered by Marey. The first chronophotograph of speech was taken in 1891 by Marichelle. The cinema has thus become one of the most valuable aids in instruction. Thanks to it, geography, history, the natural sciences and knowledge in general are acquired with astonishing facility.

"Finally to complete their education and give them the means of earning a living, deaf-mutes are taught a manual trade or a liberal profession, according to their aptitudes. Afterwards, societies for placement and mutual aid—alas ! too few and too poor !—assure them work and protect them against the increasing difficulties of existence.

"But all this admirable progress in making happier the lives of these unfortunates is not enough. Science demands more. To eradicate this evil it must be attacked at its root. Now what is it that cause deaf-mutism ? We know today that it is due to lesions, produced at berth or in early infancy, which have their seat in the ear near the labyrinths and acoustic passages. What are their causes ? According to an investigation made by M. de Parrel of the most carefully recorded cases, we find that two-thirds are due to microbian diseases that attack the new-born infant. Hereditary syphilis is responsible for 25 per cent., cebro-spinal meningitis for 20 per cent., otitis and pharyngitis of the nursing child for 12 per cent., after-effects of scarlatina, typhoid, roseola and grippe for 11 per cent.

"The remaining third are due to various causes, of which consangtinity and familial deafness account for 15 per cent., and injuries, tumors and indetrminate accidents, often of syphilitic origin, for 17 per cent.

"These statistics are extremely interesting, for they indicate the method to be followed in removing these causes.

"Already we have the most effective weapons against syphilis, which is responsible for one-third of the cases. Not only can we detect it easily in the expectant mother and in new born infants by serum dignosis, which is becoming more and more exact, but we can cure it rapidly with intravenous arsenical injections.

"As for meningitis and other infectious diseases, it will be easy to limit their spread, and even to suppress them, if we supply antiseptic methods to them at the outset. There remain then, the cases of hereditary deaf-mutism due to inheritance, consanguinity and familial deafness. To eliminate these, as Parrel tells us, social measures are necessary—that is, to regulate the marriage of syphilitics, near relatives, and the descendants of families in which deafness is common.

"In the light of these facts, we may then forsee our racical future with confidence. The methodical organization of hygiene and of the social prophylaxis being perfected, cases of deaf mutism will become rarer, and science will some day, let us hope, finally conqueor this evil that she has already so greatly alleviated."

THE FACTORIES ACT

London Daily Mail : When the British electors by a veritable landslide of votes last year turned out Mr. MacDonald and put the present Government into power they wanted to be rid of socialism and its incessant meddling and waste. What they are getting from the present Government, where they are getting anything at all, is a blend of sloppy socialism and half baked sentimentalism which threatens to be deadly to industry. A wise government, realizing that the difficulties which confront our manufacturers are not to be conjured away with words, would months ago have set to work to to review and revise existing Acts which have a harassing and crippling effect on trade throughout the country. Instead of passing a new Factories Act it would now be examining the workings of those already in existence.

Here and There

During 1924 the 1,800 bee-keepers of Manitoba marketed 1,302,000 pounds of honey, valued at $195,000, according to official returns by the Provincial Apiarist.

Prof. J. A. Allen, Provincial Geologist of Alberta, declares in an official statement that sixty-two billion tons of coal, half of which is recoverable, lie beneath the surface of Alberta soil.

Seymour Backus, Vice-President of the Backus-Brooks Company, of Winnipeg, states that the largest producing pulp mill in the world will be in operation at Kenora, Ont., before the end of 1925.

It is estimated that Vancouver will ship approximately 25,000,000 bushels of grain of the 1924 crop. Shipments already total 21,188,000 bushels. Commitments for almost 1,000,000 additional bushels have been made.

The special train operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway and known as The Trans-Canada Limited, which makes the journey across the entire country in eighty-eight hours, recently commenced its season, the seventh since its inception.

According to a bulletin issued by the Bureau of Statistics Alberta's foreign population is in excess of 180,000 with approximately 100,000 American included in the total. About 5,000 Americans reside in Calgary.

When Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary paid their official visit to the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley shortly after the reopening, they boarded the miniature Canadian Pacific train and made a trip around "Treasure Island" and expressed great interest in all they saw.

An effort will be made this year to transplant Swiss mountain roses in the Canadian Rockies. These roses, which were brought from Switzerland by Dr. Huebscher, late Swiss Consul at Montreal, are extremely hardy and only thrive above elevations of 3,000 feet. They will be planted in the gardens at Lake Louise and Banff.

The first trip of the Canadian Pacific S.S. Princess Kathleen from Vancouver to Seattle via Victoria was recently made under most successful conditions. The people of Seattle are so enthusiastic over the increased coastwise service that they have tendered an address of thanks to Captain Troup, manager of the Canadian Pacific Coastal service.

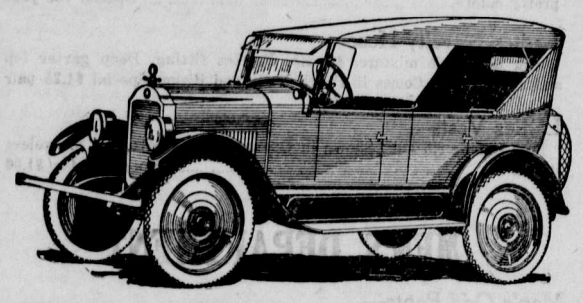
There is every possibility that the Provincial Government of British Columbia may this year complete the construction of the scenic highway connecting Golden on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway with the summer resorts of Banff and Lake Louise. When this link, much of which was built during the past two seasons, is completed it will make one magnificent triangle through the heart of the Canadian Rockies.

Building permits issued in Canada during the first quarter of 1925 were 10.2% and 1.2% greater than in the first three months of 1924 and 1923, respectively. There were also 5.5% greater than in the first quarter of 1922, 46.5% higher than in 1921 and 4.3% above the 1920 total. The aggregate value of building permits issued for the first quarter of 1925 was $19,672,637, compared with $17,846,969 for 1924 and $19,441,159 for 1923.

FRENCH REVOLUTION AND RUSSIAN RUIN

My Magazine : The French Revolution made sudden changes, but the economic effects were good, precisely because they were directly opposite to those forced on Russia by a handful of theroists, who care not what suffering and sacrifice and ruin are involved. The French Revolution established on the soil of France a land-owning peasantry. It fixed exactly the conditions which it has been the aim of the Red Terror in Russia to overthrow. It made rural France intensely conservative and Napoleon made good his power over the land by sterotyping that conservative change. The rural Frenchman became an individualist in practice, whether he was a Republician or an Imperialist in theory.

OUTSIDE THE UNIVERSE



Whether there can be more than one universe is perhaps a matter of definition rather than of fact. But in any event, it appears, according to the newest reports of the astronomers, that there are other systems of suns lying millions of light years beyond the confines of of the galactic system that we earth-bound mortals formerly supposed to represent the universe. This, after all, is only a reversion to the interpretation of nebulae that was made by the elder Herschel, pioneer star-gazer of the latter part of the eighteenth century. But the matter has been much in dispute in astronomical circles ; so the new evidence gathered at Mount Wilson, as reported before the American Phisophical Society recently, is regarded by Watson Davis, Managing Editor of Science Service, as having newest interest. The observer is introduced by Mr. Davis as "the man who has penetrated the depth of space further than any one else, living or dead." We read:

"He is Dr. Edwin H. Hubble, astronomer, who, with the aid of the largest telescope in the world, the great 100-inch, on Mount Wilson, California, has proved that minute patches of light, most of them not even visible to the naked eye, are actually great universes of stars similar to the Milky Way, that can be seen crossing the sky on a fine clear night. That great eight-foot mirror, collecting faint light from distant nebulae and imprinting it on photographic plates, has demonstrated that these seemingly gaseous clouds are in part composed of stars, many of them more gigantic than our sun.

"Dr. Hubble's researches furnish us with the material for reconstructing the history and development of our own stellar system, in which the earth is a mere dull dot and the sun but a faint insignificant light. First, if we may judge by these other stellar systems, just discovered by the astronomer, our universe was an irregular conglomeration of stars and nebulosity. As the universe grew older it became more regular, it took on a spiral form, great arms of stars shot out in a sort of pinwheel shape, and finally the great mass of stars assumed a disk-like shape similar to that of our Milky Way. Out in the great laboratory of the heavens such processes are now going on.

"Dr. Hubble said that in the great nebulae in the constellation of Andromeda twenty-three new stars had blazed forth in the last two years, indicating that things are moving faster there than in our system."

MOUNTAINS TEMPT LOVER OF OUTDOORS

ONE of the finest Alpine territories to be found anywhere on the North American Continent is that surrounding Mount Robson, (13,068 ft.), highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. Here the visitor finds magnificent peaks, awe-inspiring glaciers and delightful Alpine valleys with their magnificence of wild flowers to charm the heart of the nature lover. In 1924 the Alpine Club of Canada held its annual camp on the shores of Berg Lake, shown above, and members of that organization, many of whom have climbed in different parts of the world, were unanimous in declaring that Canada held no more splendid Alpine and scenic territory than this.

Nor is it necessary that the visitor be an experienced Alpinist to enjoy the beauties of the Mount Robson district, for there are within a short distance of the Berg Lake bungalow, splendid peaks which are easy enough in ascent for the tyro and yet offering splendid views of the surrounding Alplands.

The photograph shows Mount Robson, the monarch of the Canadian Rockies, and Berg Lake, so named because of the icebergs which are constantly floating on its surface. Beneath is one of the Swiss guides from Jasper Park Lodge, coiling his rope in preparation for leading an ascent on Mount Robson, while to the right he is shown making his way round one of the difficult ice peaks of the climb.

Ponies and guides are available at Mt. Robson station to conduct tourists from there over the magnificent Robson Trail to Berg Lake, where comfortable bungalows are maintained, which provide an excellent starting point for many wonderful excursions into the higher passes. —C.N.R. Photos.

Fernie will play Coleman football tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon on the Coleman grounds. Things are beginning to warm up in this sport. Fernie has been strengthened considerably in the last couple of weeks, as was evidenced by the play last Sunday afternoon.

Fernie Public Hospital—A public meeting of th ecitizens of Fernie and Coal Creek will be held in the Isis Theatre on Friday, June 12, at 7.30 p.m. for the purpose of organizing and appointing a permanent board for the Fernie Public Hospital. Everyone is invited.

The Al. G. Barnes circus played to two big crowds in Fernie on Monday last. This show is much larger and better than it has been on former occasions when it appeared here. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, produced by last year's strike, there seemed to be lots for the circus, which took in some $5000. The schools declared a holiday on Monday afternoon in order to give the children a chance to attend.

Tennis courts in the city were kept busy all day last Sunday when a team of tennis players came here from Coleman and played a tournament with local players The Coleman team was in fine fettle and when the tournament ended and the scores were tabulated it was found that Coleman had cleaned up the Fernie team in practically everything, the locals only winning one double and one single in the whole series.

The local Miners' Union are arranging for a monster picnic to be held at Hosmer on July 2nd. Several good live committees have the matter in hand and no effort will be spared to make the affair a real success. Up to the present time 1700 persons have signified their intention of taking in the picnic. Everybody is hoping for fine weather.

Thos. Letcher, of Roosville, has been in the city for several days this week. Tom says that the damage sustained in the South country by the heavy frosts of last winter was very considerable, but that a lot of the pine trees and fruit trees are slowly recovering from the shock and that in a couple of years will be back to normal. This is certainly good news, for it was indeed a sad sight to see thousands of fine trees, both in forest and orchard, apparently killed by the frost.

John Sweeney and J. F. Rudnicki returned on Friday from Kamloops, where they attended the annual provincial gathering of the Knights of Columbus. During their stay in that city they visited the Old Men's Home and shook hands with the Fernie contingent who reside there. James Wallace, George Dorenbecker and Sam Marks wish to be remembered to their old Fernie friends. The delegates spoke highly of the institution and say all the old sports seem to be quite happy and contented.

THE QUEEN COMPETITION

At a Dominion Day celebration committee meeting on Monday evening it was decided to put up a $250 purse for the football tournament on July 1. Paddy Hughes was of the opinion that this sum would be sufficient inducement to bring in several good teams.

N. E. Suddaby was appointed chairman of the Parade committee, with Chief Anderson, Tom Prentice, Jack Diamond and Dave Zimmerman as members. This live committee guarantee a real parade for the occasion.

In connection with the Queen competition, the Canadian born members of the general committee challenged the foreign born to put up a candidate for queen. The challenge was taken up and Mary Hughes, of the N. E. Suddaby staff, was selected by the foreign born as their standard-bearer, while Dorothy Corrie, a High School girl, was chosen by the Canadians.

This arrangement was changed the following day when the Italians suggested they would like to put up a representative and suggested Mary Megale of the Trites-Wood staff as their candidate. This was agreed to, so the big fight for queen is on. Each candidate has a strong committee behind her and they are all working hard. From now until the competition closes the keenest interest will be taken by everybody in this fight, which promises to bring in some real money for the swimming pool.

Nothing definite has been decided yet about the baseball program. A. Klauer is in communication with several American teams. The Couer d'Alene team, with our old pitcher Salty Ault, would like to come, as would also the Great Northern team from Spokane. The Whitefish team, who are billed for a double header here on Sunday, might like to come back for the 1st. But whatever arrangement is made we can look forward to a real baseball game for the big celebration.

The sports committee, with E. K. Stewart as chairman, are arranging for a fine program of other attractions and it will be published just as soon as completed.

Jim Corbett will have charge of all games of chance on the grounds, and he promises to provide a line of amusement that will be entertaining and yet give everyone a good run for his money.

ROD AND GUN CLUB

The monthly meeting of the Fernie District Rod and Gun Club was held on Tuesday evening and was fairly well attended by the sportsmen of this district. Many matters pertaining to the fish and game of this district were discussed, chief of which were the regulations regarding deer in this district, and the following resolution has been forwarded to the Game Conservation Board of B.C.:

"That owing to the fact that a great number of the hunters of this district have noticed the growing scarcity of bucks among the deer herds throughout the district, although deer are more numerous than ever, the number of does are greatly in predominance; and

"That the large increase in the numbers of deer in this district is due to the fact that they are able to range from the international boundary on the South to the Main line of the C.P.R. on the North, and outside of the residents along the Crow's Nest line of the C.P.R., and a few lumber camps on the Bull River, they are practically unmolested; and

"That the game warden of this district is also of the opinion that the bag limit should include one doe, which is what this Association recommended in the recommendation forwarded to the Board this spring; also Mr. Wallinger, M.P.P., for Cranbrook, spoke a short time ago on this matter in the House at Victoria as to what the result would be should the buck law be continued;

"Therefore, this Association strongly recommends that the game regulations for this district be amended to include one doe in the bag limit for deer this year."

ELKO OLD TIMER PASSES AWAY

The news of the passing of Mr. Wm. Robinson, of Elko cast a gloom over that burg. Bill, as he was known to all, was a native of England and came to the United States in 1881. He then came to Canada and purchased a ranch at Burmis, Alta., moving to that place in 1885. After a number of years he sold out and selected this part of B.C. as a residence place for himself and wife to spend their declining years, where he passed away on Monday at the age of 68 years. The funeral was held at Pincher Creek on Wednesday, Messrs. Tom Duncan, A. Birnie and Wm. Morrison accompanied the casket on Tuesday evening. Sympathy is extended to the widow.

COALHURST TAKES CUT

Lethbridge, June 9.—With a vote of 94 to 24 by the Coalhurst miners registered yesterday, endorsing the new wage agreement, in line with that adopted by the Galt miners, the whole Lethbridge domestic coal field is now working under the new wage schedule.

There is now a far more encouraging outlook for stability in the industry locally than has been visible for some time, and the assurance of a large payroll.

As a result of the voting at Coalhurst, the North American Colleries there, it is believed, will provide steady work for all the miners in the camp, numbering about 200.

The Galt Mine No. 6, Lethbridge, is now employing fully 500 men with four days a week practically assured, and more employment promised in the fall with the movement of coal to Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The Diamond Consolidated Mine at Diamond City is operating under the new scale, although no agreement has been entered into with the management, owing to the small number of men being employed in the mine, which is in the process of development.

G.W.V.A. NOTES

The local branch of the G.W.V.A. are a live wire bunch, as evidenced by the keen interest they take in the administration of affairs, municipal, provincial and Dominion. Matters of importance to the Vets cause are kept before the membership. A strong protest was laid before Supt. Hayne on the employment of an American citizen on the road section at Morrissey while returned men were walking about seeking work.

The action of the senate in its connection with the administration of the G.W.V.A., with its implications against Sec.-Treas. C. Grant McNeil, came in for vigorous protest at the meeting of the local branch and a strongly worded resolution was ordered to be sent to Premier King and Dr King.

The action of the board of school trustees in the employment of Chinamen on the newly constructed tennis courts was strongly criticized and a resolution of protest was sent to the authorities.

D. F. Markland will represent the local branch of the G.W.V.A. at the Dominion convention to be held at Ottawa on June 27 and following days.

FERNIE VS. WHITEFISH

Whitefish, Montana, Baseball Club will be Fernie visitors on Sunday next to play the postponed double header against the Fernie Club. The games will be called at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. and should provide an excellent afternoon's sport for the fans.

The visiting club was guaranteed expenses by the Fernie Club only on the understanding that they had a strong team which could guarantee a couple of classy games against the locals. Shoaf, the Whitefish manager, who is an exmajor league player, replied that they had a splendid team and could assure Fernie two real ball games on Sunday. With this arrangement Fernie was satisfied and will look forward to some real live sport.

With the advent of warm weather it is expected that there will be a heavy baseball card during the next couple of months. It is understood that the Calgary Athletics and Satvely clubs have entered challenges for the Brewery Trophy which will give at least four and probably six games here. Lethbridge and Medicine Hat Typos are also expected here shortly for exhibition games in home and home series. Couer d'Alene, Idaho, the club managed by Salty Alt in the Spokane League, are expected here on July 1, and should provide a sensational game.

Several of the strongest clubs in Alberta have made overtures regarding the challenging for the Brewery Cup, but have requested a guarantee for expenses but these clubs have been told that Fernie does not intend to deviate from the rules laid down by the trustees, which stipulate that gate receipts at these games shall be devided sixty per cent. to the winner and forty per cent. to the loser. Fernie took this chance when they went after the cup and lost a considerable amount of money in expenses even though they took the big end of the receipts. These clubs may reconsider their decisions and challenge for the cup if they see that Fernie fans are giving their club strong support and take the chance of covering their expense by the percentage of gate receipts that they could expect at Fernie, and thus give local fans all the baseball they want this season.

WIND PASS MINE BONDED

Tuesday's Spokesman-Review contains the following article on the bonding of the Wind Pass mine, a property in which local capitalists are interested :

A bond of $250,000 on the Wind Pass gold mine in British Columbia has been obtained by B. N. Sharp, mining engineer of Spokane, from Wilson, Trites and Wood, of Fernie, B.C. associates of R. K. Neill in the development of the Premier gold mine in the same province, according to H W. C. Jackson. Mr. Sharp has transferred the bond to Charles V. Bob and associates of New York, who will resume the development under Mr. Sharp's management.

"The transaction results from negotiations instituted by me last February," said Mr. Jackson yesterday. "Mr. Sharp was manager of the Richmond mine of the Couer d'Alene region when it was a large producer and a dividend payer

"The bond on the Wind Pass is for four and a half years with an initial payment of $50,000 on or before Dec. 1st, 1926. Its terms require the continuous employment of a minimum of 20 men and the ultimate equipment of the property with an arial tramway two and a quarter miles long and a cyanide mill of at least 50 tons daily capacity.

"Mr. Bob was formerly a resident of Spokane and engaged in mining in the northwest with L. A. Levinsaler and others He has been prominent in New York mining promotions for several years and is the organizer and executive head of the well-known Comstock Merger and also, among other successful ventures of the Engineering Gold Mines, operating the famous Engineer Mine on Atlin Lake in Northern British Columbia

"The Wind Pass mine consists of 36 claims, averaging nearly 50 acres, each and mostly crown granted, nine miles by wagon road and trail from

The Provincial Summer School for teachers will open in Victoria on July 16th and continue until August 7th. The courses are free to all certificated teachers of elementary and high schools in the Province and there will be no allowance for transportation this year, but teachers from a distance will be able to take advanage of such summer fares as the railways offer. Courses offered, provided there are at least six applicants, are in rural science, manual training, home economics, health, penmanship, art, vocal music, civics and citizenship, geography, English literature and reading, primary grade teachers course. There will be an elementary school of five divisions operated at the Victoria High School for the purpose of demonstrating the latest methods of teaching.

HOME BANK RELIEF PASSES

Ottawa, June 8.—By a vote of 100 to 20, the House of Commons tonight adopted a resolution providing $5,450,000 for relief to Home Bank depositors, and subsequently gave first reading to the bill. Of the 20 only two were Liberals—F. N. McCrea, of Sherbrooke and Roch Lanctot, of La Prairie-Napierville. The remainder were from the ranks of the Conservatives and Pogressives.

Altogether there were three votes, although as the House was in committee at the time, in no case were the names of the individual members recorded. First came votes on an amendment and a sub-amendment. J. W. Kennedy, of Glengarry, had an amendment which would have divided the vote between Home Bank depositors and Farmers Bank depositors. To this Roch Lanctot moved a sub-amendment, which would also have given a share to depositors in the Banque Ville Marie and the Banque de St. Jean. Mr. Lanctot's sub amendment got only three votes. Mr. Kennedy's amendment was defeated by 100 to 15. Then came adoption of the main Government resolution.

Discussion practically monopolized the day and was productive of some sharp incounters. In particular there was the reading by Premier King of a letter from Senator Robertson to W. T. Lee, chairman of the Home Bank depositors relief association. The letter was dated February 27 of the present year, and, at the time, Premier King stated, Senator Robertson was acting Conservative leader in the Senate. Premier King declared that in the letter Senatro Robertson had intimated that if the Government proceeded by way of a bill, the bill would be defeated in the Senate. What right, Premier King sharply queried, had Senator Robertson to say what action the Senate was going to take on a public matter. "Having regard to a threat such as that," added Premier King, "the Government had no alternative, even had it wished to take any other course, than to proceed in the manner in which it has proceeded at the present time."

This interpretation of Senator Robertson's letter was warmly contested by Mr. Meighen, Conservative leader. The letter, Mr. Meighen declared, did not contain a word nor a syllable of any such assertion of authority by Senator Robertson.

During the discussion, Hon. T. A. Crerar, former Western director of the Home Bank, observed that he wished to disassociate himself entirely from criticism of Sir Thomas White. Mr. Crerar thought that if vigorous management had taken hold of the bank at the time, the tremendous loss and failure that occurred would not have taken place.

During the debate that preceded the adoption of the motion, J. W. Kennedy, Progressive of Glengarry, pointed out that this action of the Government would likely be followed by requests for full reimbursement. He was of the opinion that if a Minister of Finance had been in error, the Dominion of Canada as a whole should not be held responsible. Mr. Kennedy then moved his amendment.

The chairman ruled the amendment in order. Mr. Robb then read a letter addressed to the Premier, dated May 29, 1925, signed by the representatives of the national committee of the Home Bank depositors' association.

Troops have been called out as a result of trouble in the Cape Breton strike area.

The letter, which followed an interview between the representatives of the depositors and Mr. King and Mr. Robb, stated that the amount of $5,450,000 which had been suggested by the two ministers was "fair and reasonable in view of the existing circumstances."

R. B. Hanson, Conservative, York-Sunbury, was opposed to the measure.

William Irvine, Labor, Calgary E., suggested that the deposits up to $1,000 should be paid back in full and the balance distributed among the larger depositors.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Center, asked the assurance that the Government would guarantee every dollar voted would reach the depositors and that not one cent should go to legal help or liquidators' fees.

Mr. Robb said that the Prime Minister and he had emphasized that fact upon the committee of the depositors. The money would be paid directly to the authorized liquidator.

Sir Henry Dayton defended Sir Thomas White, former Minister of Finance, and read evidence taken before Judge McKeown, royal commissioner appointed by the Government to conduct the Home Bank investigation, in support of his contention.

Premier King, speaking of the amendment of Mr. Kennedy, said that the Farmers' Bank matter had been before both Houses, and the Senate had rejected reimbursement already. Premier King said the Government rather than pass judgment on a political opponent, Sir Thos. White, had removed the question from politics by creating the royal commission. In good faith the Government had brought down the present legislation under discussion with the Home Bank liquidator. It had been brought in as a bill rather than as a vote in the estimates, for if the latter step had been taken the Government would have been charged with denying the Senate the right to consider the matter.

Another reason for bringing the matter in as a bill, said Mr. King, was that the depositors' committee had said that a threat had been made that if the Government did not bring in the Home Bank relief in the form of an estimate it would be rejected by the Senate.

Senator Robertson, who was leading his party in the Senate, told the national committee of depositors that if the Government proceeded by the method of bringing in a bill it would be defeated in the Senate, said the Premier.

With that threat in view the Government took the steps which resulted in the present measure.

Mr. King declared that he had at times taken the attitude that the powers of the Senate should be modified. He had never, however, taken the position that the Senate was not a second chamber of this parliament.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen pointed out that it had always been the practice that in the two chambers of parliament there should be no attacks made by honorable members of one chamber on another. Any attack made on Senator Robertson was absolutely without justification.

The Government had taken the ground that there was a moral claim in equity based on the report of the commission on banking and commerce. Mr. Meighen disputed that there was a moral claim. There was also another claim which was made, a legal claim. He could hardly agree that there was such a claim. Judge McKeown had not found an error or breach of duty on the part of Sir Thomas. All that could be asked in this case was a compassionate allowance. If the Government had brought in a bill for compassionate allowance a year ago, it would in all probability have passed the house with very little opposition. Insofar as a moral claim was concerned, he thought the depositors of the Farmers' bank had been a stronger one.

Hon. T. A. Crerar thought if reports which he had received from certain sources of the speech of Sir Henry Dayton, made in his (Mr. Crerar's) absence from the House, were correct, that Sir Henry had not done him justice. He understood that Sir Henry had left the impression that the representations made by him (Mr. Crear) had stayed the hand of Sir Thomas White when he was Minister of Finance, with the result that no public inquiry was conducted into the affairs of the bank. Any statement, declared Mr. Crearer, which he had made to Sir Thomas White, was an unimportant factor.

In 1914 he and his colleagues had come to Toronto and asked for certain information, and had found that the board of directors had not been informed as they have been by the then general manager.

A change in the management was sought by them, but they were unable to secure the support of the eastern directors. The matter was then taken up with the Minister of Finance, and subsequently the management was displaced. About that time the opinion was expressed by Z. A. Lash, K.C., who was counsel in the matter, and others, that to conduct a public inquiry would precipitate affairs. Therefore, at the request of Mr. Lash, he had written to Sir Thomas White, pointing out that a change of management had taken place, and suggesting that an inquiry could better be conducted from within rather than from without.

Mr. Crerar declared that he considered that Sir Thomas White was warranted in acting upon the opinion of Mr. Lash.

J. T. Shaw, Independent, West Calgary, said that there was no legal claim on behalf of the Home Bank depositors The Government could not be sued without its consent, and therefore there could be no legal claim.

Mr. Shaw quoted Sir Thomas White's evidence before the Home Bank inquiry, in which he stated that as Minister of Finance he would not have allowed a bank to fail. It was clear, said Mr. Shaw, that it was due to the war that the depositors lost. Therefore they had a basis in equity for compensation. There had been a rumor that those promoting relief for depositors outside parliament were to get 5 per cent. of the reimbursement.

"If that can be proven, I will withdraw the bill," interjected Mr. Robb.

Here and There

Canada spent $49,056,179 last year for pensions and re-establishment of Veterans of the Great War, according to a report recently issued from Ottawa by the department in charge of this work.

Without a dissentient voice over 4,000 cattle owners in 200 districts have voted to make Prince Edward Island a disease-free area under the Department of Agriculture arrangement which calls for a two-thirds vote of all cattle owners.

Two thousand young buffalo from the Wainwright herd will make a 700-mile trek northward this summer to the buffalo reserve on the Slave River where they will be turned loose to mingle with the wood bison which roam that area.

"In all parts of Canada and the United States," according to Robt. G. Hodgson, editor of the Fur Trade Journal of Canada, "Muskrat farms are being established, mostly on a large scale and they are rapidly turning what was once marshland of little value into the most productive part of the farm," Mr. Hodgson adds.

The record established recently at Acme when 114 horses worked in one field at one time seeding the crop of Mrs. C. W. King, has been broken at Gadsby, Alberta. When the neighbors of J. B. Ball who recently suffered a broken arm, put in his 100-acre crop, 39 outfits were at work on one day and 175 horses. The crop was put in in a single day.

Minnedosa from Southampton on October 8, stay a short time in the Dominion, and sail from Vancouver for China on the S.S. Empress of Australia, October 29.

Rebuilt in nine months after the fire that destroyed it last October, the Chateau Lake Louise hotel opened for the current season on Sunday, May 31 as the Trans-Canada train arrived from its cross-continent run. The hotel was rebuilt under exceptionally difficult conditions in temperatures as low as fifty degrees below zero during which a wooden wall heated by stoves had to be erected about the construction works.

Following the opening visit by Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary to the Wembley Exhibition, the Duke and Duchess of York also went over the grounds. Their Majesties were especially delighted with Treasure Island, the Paradise of children, and travelled over the miniature Canadian Pacific train that runs around the Island, passing en route the replica of Banff Station and the reproduction of the Canadian Pacific Rockies.

Canada will be well represented at the New Zealand and South Seas International Exhibition to be held at Dunedin between November, 1925 and April, 1926. Both the Dominion Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have announced their intention to send well-appointed exhibits to the Exposition. It is probable that the provincial governments and many Canadian manufacturers will follow suit.

Chu Chua, forty miles north of Kamloops, B.C., on the Canadian National Railway The property is traversed by two parallel shear zones half a mile apart known as the Wind Pass and Sweet Home ledges. Development on the Wind Pass ledge is by a tunnel attaining a depth on the first ore shoot of 150 feet.

"Two upraises connect this tunnel with the surface and from it two winzes have been sunk. These workings have proved an ore body 145 feet long, five feet wide and 180 feet deep on the dip, containing upward of 13,000 tons of high grade ore. Groove samples every two and a half feet in this ore body across six feet showed an average gold content of more than $30 a ton. A carload shipped to the Trail smelter last fall yielded $72 to the ton.

"The Sweet Home vein has been traced on the surface by almost continuous cuts and shafts for 600 feet and by a shaft sunk 60 feet. Sampling of these workings shows an average width of more than two feet of ore averaging more than $27 in gold to the ton. The mine is equipped with an air compressor and everything necessary for an immediate resumption of development."

Mr. Shaw, who has devoted the last three months to negotiating the deal expects to leave for Chu Chua in a few days to take charge of operations.

"Although the main tunnel is at an altitude of 5,300 feet the proposed millsite and tram terminal is 2,900 feet lower, while the railroad at Chu Chua is only 1,400 feet above the sea level. Al. Harris and his brother Duke will be interested with Mr. Sharp and me in the new company which Mr. Bob will organize to operate the Wind Pass mine."

His Hearing Restored

The invisible ear drum invented by A. O. Leonard, which is a miniature megaphone, fitting inside the ear entirely out of sight, is restoring the hearing of hundreds of people in New York city. Mr. Leonard invented this drum to relieve himself of deafness and head noises, and it does it so successfully that no one can tell he is a deaf man. It is effective when deafness is caused by catarrh or by wholly destroyed natural drums. A request for information to A. O. Leonard, Suite 436, 70 Fifth Ave., New York City, will be given a prompt reply. [Adv.

THAT SCHOOL NURSE

The Trail News says: The School Nurse is a hobby of ours, because we believe that with more safeguards around our children there will be less loss from school. This is not only a matter of what is best for the growing boys and girls, but what is best for the pocket books of the taxpayers. For after all the taxpayer is the only man who really pays, and by taxpayer we include the man pays rent as well as the man who owns the property.

Getting back to fundamentals education costs just so much for each given amount—compute it as you may—and the more overhead, which includes loss of time, the more it costs to educate the growing population.

At the school board meeting Wednesday night it was practically decided to take up the question of a nurse or a doctor with full time pay to act as health officer for the City of Trail as well as for the combined schools.

While this man would be quite expensive in the way of salary yet the News is convinced that it will be money economically spent and will prove a good investment.

We are not interested so much in the matter of whether the board hires a doctor or a nurse, so long as there is someone designated to give us better service than is now provided. If that is done the News will feel that its efforts have not been in vain.

NORMA TALMADGE AT THE ORPHEUM NEXT WEEK IN THE ONLY WOMAN

Many of the scenes, depicting a thrilling shipwreck in mid-ocean, called for unusually rigorous action on the part of the pair. As the picture will show, they are forced to cling to the frail railing of a yacht which is being tossed about like a feather while huge ocean waves sweep over them. The danger lay not only in being swept overboard, but also in exposure to the cold salt water.

All one night the couple battled a fierce squall fifty miles out from Los Angeles and finally were compelled to abandon the yacht, which was washed up on the rocks of Catalina Island and was fast disintegrating.

As a result of being soaked to the skin both Norma and O'Brien caught severe colds, as well as other members of the company of sixty which participated in the scenes. Eugene was threatened with pneumonia, and it was necessary to postpone the filming of the picture for a week, pending his recovery.

More hard luck followed when, later an iron cable slipped from its fastning in the United Studios and struck Norma. Her injury was painful, but not serious, and after treatment at the Community Hospital she was enabled to continue at her work.

"The Only Woman," a First National picture produced by Joseph M. Schenck, will be shown at the Orpheum Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

FOOTBALL NOTES

A little incident occurred in the the game between Fernie and Coleman last Saturday, when Sim Weaver, of Michel, gave Coleman a penalty kick for some fanciful grievance against Fernie. The Coleman players realized this and when h e signalled the kick-off one of the Coleman players promptly boosted the ball toward the corner flag. Several teams of the C.N.P. League have come to the conclusion that he is a doubtful commodity judging from the exhibitions he has given.

The following players have been picked to represent the Fernie Football Club in their game with Michel club at Michel, on Sunday, June 14: Sofko, Blackie, Culverhouse, Robertson, W. Thomson, D. Thornton, Joinson, Taylor, Sumpton, J. Thomson, McGraw, Dicken, J. Riley. All players are requested to meet at Ingram's Gym. Cars will leave there at 1 p.m. sharp. The kick-off has been timed for 2.30.

The Fernie football team travelled to Coleman last Saturday in a C.N. P. League game and were very unlucky to lose the points by a score of 1-0. On the run of play Fernie should have brought home the bacon, and as it was with the last kick of the game only a miraculous save by the Coleman goaltender they would have at least shared points.

BEER CRAZY

In spite of the protests of merchants and business men, Liquor Commissioner Hugh Davidson declares he will licence 60 beer parlors in Vancouver.

This is a breach of faith with the public and with beer parlor proprietors.

It is a breach of faith with the public because the public voted for beer-by-the-glass as a measure of moderation—to limit alcoholic consumption, not to encourage it.

It is a breach of faith with existing proprietors, because, having paid a good fat licence for the selling privileges, they are entitled to reasonable protection from unlimited competition.

The only way to keep beer parlors under control is to hold licenses at a premium—to make them so rare and valuable that proprietors will not risk their cancellation by permitting unseemly conduct nor undesirable characters on their premises.

To throw around licenses like dirt is to cheapen the whole system and to discard any measure of control that the Liquor Commissioner might be able to exercise over the parlors.

Vancouver cannot afford to go beer crazy. Commissioner Davidson cannot afford to encourage it.—Vancouver Sun.

COAL CREEK NOTES

The many friends of the late Mrs. W. Clowers, whose funeral took place last Sunday, took advantage of the special train provided by the company from here to Fernie. The deceased lady was an old-time resident of this camp and highly respected.

Owing to unforseen circumstances the visit of the Rev. W. H. Vance, scheduled for this camp on Sunday last, had to be cancelled.

Miss Alice Millar arrived back in camp on Tuesday from the coast, where she was successful in her examinations at Normal School.

Our local leather chasers entertained the eleven of the sister camp of Michel on Sunday last in the Crow's Nest Pass League. Tom Bennett, of Fernie, as Knight of the whistle, handled the game in a credibtable manner. A win of 4 clear goals against such formidable opponents speaks volumes for the local team.

The Ladies Guild of the Anglican Church up here are holding a whist drive and dance in the Club Hall on Friday evening, June 19. Cards at 7.30 sharp. Refreshments.

Orders for lumber for the purpose of building garages given into the Coal Co. office uphere bespeaks a boom in the auto business.

Charlie Johnstone and J. Hopwood arrived in camp on Tuesday from the Old Country. Charlie says there is quite a change in the camp since his last sojourn here in 1912. Where are the boys of the old brigade?

Jim Hall is off work with an injured foot.

Bill Young is building a garage on Railway Terrace for the accomodation of his recently purchased Ford-Royce.

The achelor Boys will hold a dance in the Club Hall on Tuesday night. Brasch's orchestra will provide the music.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Young and Mr. Wm. Clowers wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and those who were so kind during their recent sad bereavement.

Dr. Young, who has been associated with Drs. Kelman here, left this morning for the coast.

Rev. H. U. Oswald, Dr. Corsan, and Tom Beck left for Nelson on Tuesday Synod being held in that city.

Mrs. W. E. Haslam, of Cranbrook, was the guest of Mrs. J. H. Duncan this week.

Vote for Mary Megale, the Independent candidate for Dominion Day Queen.

The suit of Wm. Vanburkirk against the Fernie Literary & Athletic Association for $727 has been discontined.

Don't forget the social and whist drive in the Catholic Hall tonight, Friday, June 11. Cards at 8.30 p.m. sharp. Come and have a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thrasher, of Bull River, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Couldry, of Invermere, were Fernie visitors today.

The Ladies Guild of the English Church, Coal Creek, will hold a whist drive and dance in the Club Hall on Friday evening, June 19. Cards 7.30 to 9.30. Admission 50c. Refreshments.

On Sunday, June 21, a musical service will be held in the United Church at 7.30 p.m. The choir will render several special pieces and there will be solos, quartettes and duets.

A general meeting of the B. C. Miners Association will be held in the Isis Theatre on Thursday, June 18, at 7 p.m., when final arrangements for the picnic will be made. All members are requested to attend.

We are clearing up the balance of our children's and misses' hats at a big reduction; also a special reduction in all trimmed millinery, ready to wear, etc., at Mrs. Colton's, upstairs over A. C. Liphardt's store. 4

A real game of baseball will take place on Saturday at 2 o'clock between the Cranbrook Juniors and Father Ehman's Crusaders, at the Fernie park. Come out and see the home boys win.

The Cranbrook High School will not hold a fourth year term next year, as the expense of holding a fourth year is estimated at $2500, and there were only eight students who made application. It was decided to abandon the idea.

On June 24, under the auspices of St. John Ambulance Association, the following pictures will be shown at the Isis Theatre: "When a Man's a Miner," "When Wages Stop" and "Safety First in a Petroleum Industry."

It has been arranged that Mrs. McVannel, Mrs. Gurr and Mrs. Frearson will take charge of the regular monthly tea of the United Church. The tea is to be held at the home of Mrs. McVannel, McEvoy Street, on Tuesday, June 16, from 3.30 to 6.

W. B. Beaudry and Art Davies, two of Ferne's big game hunters, have just arrived back from an unknown valley near the head of the Elk river, and had the good luck of getting a large silver tip bear. They report game of all kinds as numerous.

The funeral of the late Mrs Clowers, whose demise was reported last issue, took place on Sunday last and was largely attended. Service was held in the United Church. The service at the grave was held under the auspices of the Esther Rebekah Lodge. Many floral tributes were received.

The B.C. Councillors of the Imperial Daughters of the Empire elected at the annual convention held in Ottawa last week were: Mrs. O. L. Boynton and Mrs. Edgar Lee, of Vancouver; Mrs. Curtis Sampson, of Victoria; and Mrs. R. W. Wood, of Fernie.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Miss Dorothy Corrie on Monday last when, after the business of the meeting of the Robert J. Black Chapter of the I.O.D.E. had been completed, the members held a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Violet Coughlan. After the mock wedding ceremony a tastefully decorated wheelbarrow was wheeled into the parlor, laden with beautiful gifts for the bride-elect. Dainty refreshments were served and dancing was indulged in.

The Evening Standard (London, England) of Wenesday, May 20, says: "Tomorrow night the first Court of the season will be held at Buckingham Palace. Though those who attend it are largely representative of the diplomatic corps there will be, too, many overseas visitors present. Among them Mrs. R. W. Wood, of Fernie, B.C., wife of a prominent mine owner, and sister-in-law of E. R. Wood, a well known Canadian financier. For her, Mr. Ross, of 14 Grafton St., designed a most beautiful gown. The material is white satin and the decoration embroidery in silver-lined crystal bugles and diamanet, the beads and diamante being applied to the main body of the gown, as also to the narrow strands of the material that form a species of fringe on the straight frock. The net train is embroidered in silver, lined with tulle and bordered with silver galon." The Standard contains a large sketch of the beutiful gown.

THE RUSSIAN ATTITUDE

If a Roman from the days of the Kings, or a Chinaman from a period long before Confucius could suddenly appear among us, he would be no more foreign spiritually it is remarked, than a true Russian. These words are said to distinguish the real Russian from the superficial and fundmentally ridiculous idea of that vast country as a modern European state, which is held by the majority who are decieved by the surface Europeanism of the upper or middle-class Russian. This declaration is made by a contributor to the Contemporary Review (London)' who says that in this distinction between the real Russian and the Europeanized Russian the key to the true meaning of Bolshevism lies hidden. The reason for the failure to understand Russia and its historical development, he maintains, is to be found in the utter inadequacy of the historical measuring rod used by most Western thinkers, and we read :

"Our civilization with its immense material and scientific progress is looked on as the criterion of human development. By the civilization of a country or a race we mean its approximation to European conditions, its ability to use our political nostrums (parliaments and ballot-boxes) and our mechanical conjuring-tricks, (motor cars and electricity). All our newspapers, reviews, history books and the like are crammed with examples of this superficial philosophy, which renders impossible a true and objective appreciation of historical movement.

"The accepted view of the reign of Peter the Great is that with it began the real civilization of Russia. Peter the Great began the Europeanization of the country, and in the minds of most thinkers Europeanization is a synonym for civilization. It is not realized that it may be in the highest degree injurious to the best interest of a collective organization to force it into a mould which is foreign to it. Minerologists have a name for this process; they speak of pseudo-morphosis, and this term has been applied by a recent writer to historical development. A historical pseudo-morphosis takes place when an old civilization exerts such a powerful influence upon the land in which a young civilization is struggling to develop, that the evolving organism not only does not succeed in producing its own natural forms of expression, but cannot even arrive at a consciousness of its own independent nature."

The possibility of such a pseudo-morphosis in the development of Russia, we are told, appears during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. IvanIII, who became Grand Duke of the Russias in 1462, we read, succeeded in destroying the Tartar domination by 1480. He consolidated and aggrandized his dominions, welcomed foreigners, and entered into relationship with many Europeans, among others, the Germans, the Venetians, and the Pope. We read further, that this process was continued by his successors Vassili and Ivan the Terrible, that during the whole period from the fall of the Tartars until Peter the Great there was a struggle between the old Russian party supported by most of the fedual Boyars, and the friends of Westernism. This contributor to The Contemporary Review, goes on to say :

"St. Petersburg, the window by which Russia looks at Europe, was founded in 1703, and this date is capital. With it begins the new era determined by the ability, energy and character of Peter the Great. This remarkable man forced a civilization just beginning to develop on its own lines into the utterly unsuited political and intellectual mould of an eighteenth-century European state, complete with cabinet government, European foreign policy, Prussianized army, and so on. At his accession in 1669 two possibilities lay open to him. He could govern according to Russian tradition or according to Western ideas. He decided for the latter alternative and his successors continued his policy. Russia was henceforth to form part of Europe.

"This decision was fateful. A people, which left to itself would have undergone for generations a very slow process of historical development was brought by force into an artificial and unreal whirl of historical happenings, the real meanings of which were completely incomprehensible to it. The yearning toward the holy south, Byzance and Jerusalem, says Spengler, which lay deep-rooted in the soul of all true believers, was transformed into a world-wise diplomacy with its eye on the West. Modern Western art and science were introduced, together with social ethics, materialism and now Marxism, although in these early days of civilization religion is the only speech in which a people can understand itself and the world. Modern towns sprang up like mushrooms, with great blocks of flats, factories and warehouses, towns which seem in the highest degree artifical and unnatural in the midst of the untouched country-side with its primitive and deeply religious pesantry. Petersburg is the most abstract and artificial town that exists, remarks Dostoievsky. He felt as though he might wake up any morning and find that the town with its quays, its Winter Palace, its barracks and squares, the Nevsky Prospect, and the Peter and Paul fortress, had disappeared in the morning mist. Thus must Christ have looked upon the Greco-Roman towns in Galilee."

The true Russians, we are told, did not understand fully the import of what had been done, yet they hated all that represented the Europeanization of their country, feeling it to be artificial, almost satanic. Petersburg represented enforced Westernization, and this informant again quotes the famous Russian novelist Dostoievsky as saying that the people were the true Russians, for the ruling and intellectual classes had become detached, artificial and EEuropeanize. This separation of the ruling and intellectual classes from the great masses of the people, which remained almost unaffected by the so-called civilization of the upper strata of society, is said to be one of the most significant facts in Russian history. A Russian ultra-nationalist is quoted as having said long ago, "if only Russia could be put back one hundred years," and this contributor to the Contemporary Review remarks :

"His wish has been fulfilled. Soviet Russia, as far as at least the great masses of the peasantry are concerned, is as it was before the accession of Peter the Great. One of the first acts of the Communists after the revolution was to transfer the seat of government from St Petersburg to Moscow. It is said that Lenin wished to choose a town much further east than even Moscow, such as Ekaterinburg, to be the capital, but he was overruled. The action was of the greatest importance and symbolized the return to the sixteenth century.

St. Petersburg is now in consequence a dying city, and its slow decay moves parallel to that gradual destruction of the whole work of its founder which is the result of Bolshevism. Bolshevism is purely nilistic and destructive in its action, as all those who have had personal experience of Soviet rule will agree. Only sympathetic Socialist idealists invited by the government and shown the various model institutions set up by the Communists—homes for children, clubs for the Comsomol, or Union of Communistic Youth, and so on—while every effort is made to prevent them seeing the widespread misery and ruin, think otherwise. But what is not realized is that the nihilism and destruction correspond to the deepest instincts of the people."

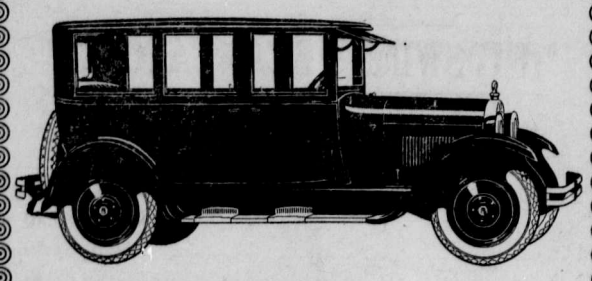
Bad as condiions have been in Russia during the past year, this writer tells us that there is an extraordinary almost religious resignation on the part of the people to all suffering, past, present and future. One Russian of the middle classes told him that "he felt as though the Russian nation, and especially the late ruling and middle classes, were expiating a great sin." The Contemporary's contributor thinks that this best explains the state of mind of the great non-munist mass of the Russian people. The Communists, he tells us, on their own showing number only about 400,000 and he goes on to say : "The Russians feel the present to be a time of trial to be borne patiently. No one is contented, neither bourgeoisie, nor workingmen, nor peasants. And yet one would say they felt instinctively that some great good was coming out of the misery and tragedy of this moment. They have a boundless confidence in the future of their country which nothing can shake. The great mass of the people would not have the revolution undone, and hardly anyone wishes for the return of the Romanoffs and their bureaucracy. Nor does the general desire seem to be a democratic regime on the western model—which all agree would be absurd in Russia. The Russians are just waiting paitently and resignedly, but with a great confidence, for what may come."

Glacier National Park, Great Scenic Playground, Open June 15

Glacier National Park is one of the most convenient of the great national parks for the tourist to reach, being on the main transcontinental track of the Great Northern Railway. Its marvelous scenic attractions and opportunities for varied recreation have increased its popularity year by year, and 1925 is to bring a record number of visitors.

The photograph above shows "Many Glacier Region" in Glacier National Park. This scene is taken from Mt. Altyn and shows Many Glacier Hotel, the big rustic resort with accommodations for 500 people, located on the shore of Lake McDermott. The peak across the lake from the hotel is Stark Peak. In the center is Mt. Gould and Grinnell. At the base is Lake Josephine. Here, at the end of the auto road extending for 55 miles from the park's main entrance, is the focal point for many saddle horse and camping trips, fishing, hiking and mountain climbing. The Great Northern's "Oriental Limited" and "Glacier Park Limited" trains unload directly at the park's gates.

TREASURE OF THE GUELPHS



The magnificent collection of pictures and works of art belonging to the House of Hanover, known in Germany as the Treasure of the Guelphs, and now the property of the aged Duke of Cumberland, living in retirement in Austria, will come into the market in Berlin and be offered for auction on the last day of the present month.

As reported in the London Observer in a recent issue, there have been endless rumors surrounding this collection, which posses an historic interest for the British Royal Family, as well as for the Province of Hanover, and the greatest pressure has been brought to bear upon the present head of the house to prevent buyers from abroad carrying away property of national importance. It now transpires that the present Duke of Brunswick, husband of the ex-Kaiser's daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, acting for the old Duke, assented to a proposal giving the Province of Hanover an option of purchase for its national museum, among them the so-called Golden Tablet, the work of an early German master, from the Mishaelis Church in Luneburg, in this wild moorland district of North Germany, which has resisted the influence of time and change most successfully.

Many treasures of early masters have been found and included in the royal collections ; Hanover has decided to keep three hundred of them. But the most valuable picture of all is the portrait of King Edward the Sixth, as a baby, painted in 1539 and given by Holbein as a present to Henry the Eighth, with a long and solemn Latin dedication painted upon it. To keep this picture in Germany, where its existence in a provincial museum has been known hitherto only to a few, the leading authorities on art have added its name to the list of "Works of Art of National Interest." This makes it an affair of State and punishable if a private owner attempts to sell it abroad.

In spite of these restrictions, connoisseurs are expected to be fully represented at the auction.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

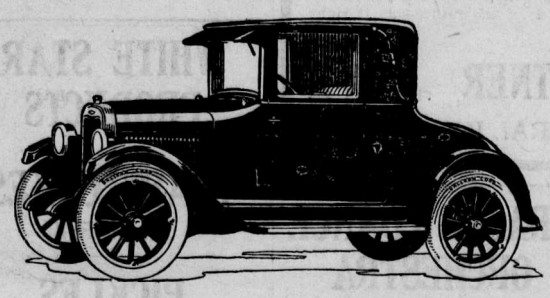
PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.



LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

BRITAIN'S AIR DANGER

Man's boast of his great achievements in science is said to blind him to the fact that some of his discoveries bear in their train more evil than beneficial results. For instance we are told that in learning how to fight in the air, mankind has let itself in for a pretty bad thing, and although this is not generally realized by the public at large, the Manchester Guardian says it is a growing conviction among the experts. Sir Hugh Trenchard, the Chief of the British Air Staff, who is described as "the strongest mind and character devoted to air fighting in the war," is quoted as saying: "The air might be more of a blessing for this Empire than for any other country in the world, but all the good it could do in civil life could not balance the harm that might be done by it in war." If he had a casting vote, he added, he would say abolish the air. Now this Manchester daily says:

"If one tries to imagine how much evidence it would take to make a great fighting admiral want to abolish the sea, one may get some measure of the enormity of the evil possibilities which the famous Air Chief Marshal forsees for his country in the event of another great war. He was not speaking like those pre-war orators of the Navy League and the National Service League who used to try to make our flesh creep with visions of the dreadful things that would befall us if we did not adopt conscription or build eight super-dreadnaughts in a year. Whatever price we might pay, he had no safety to promise us. His point was one which now torments the mind of every one acquainted with the nature of air warfare—the terrible extent to which the means of air attack have outdistanced the means of air defense since combatant flying began. Sir Hugh Trenchard believes that more bombs could now be dropped on London in one day than were dropped on it in the four years of the Great War. They would be bombs of far more lethal and general destructive character. And he does not conceal his belief that, however, strong we may be in the air, we could not prevent this visitation."

The Guardian goes on to quote Col. Lockwood Marsh as stating that there are three possible kinds of attempted defense against air attack. All such visions as "death rays," and Jules Vernean tricks for putting distant engines out of business may be disregarded for they are "such stuff as only sensational journals are made of." We read then:

"There is the anti-aircraft gun; there is the baloon 'apron'; and there is the fighting air-plane. The anti-air-craft gun can certainly inconvenience assailants. But it can never keep them off if they have determination. Military and naval gunners do miriacles in scoring hits on distant targets which may be moving in two planes. But where the trget can move in three planes, as an air-plane does, the limits of practicable miracle are passed and a hit becomes more of a fluke than a feat. Even the most elaborate air barrage can never build so dense a wall of shell bursts across the air that a nimble airman will have less than an even chance of flying safely through it. Then there is the balloon apron, first used in 1917—a chain of kyte balloons, connected to each other by cables, with wires hanging down from the cables at short intervals, to entangle the propeller of any airman flying through. But cables and wire are heavy, and so no apron can be rigged high enough to make an insurmountable arial wall round a city. Thus there remains only the third mode of defense—by fighting air-craft, sent out to attack the raiders in the air."

A few brilliant and lucky strokes of this kind, we are told, greatly stirred the public immagination during the war. When a British airman first shot down a Zeppelin, or, even when one of them brought down an enemy air-plane over England, people began to feel that the problem was solved. But it was not, declares the Guardian, for just once or twice a gamble against long odds had come off.

The odds have remained long, it is said, as the nicked and chipped walls of Lincoln's Inn and the Temple visibly testify. Now they are longer, and we are reminded that:

"The bombing air-plane of the war period was a mere unarmored barge of the air, a defenceless wagon-load of high explosive. The boming machine of to-day is far more easily controlled, far faster, and far better equipped for hitting back—especially if the existing open question as to the relative merits of the fixed machine gun, firing only in the direction of the plane itself, and those of the swivel-mounted machine-gun that can be trained in any direction, should be decided in favor of the latter. And all the time there remains, almost undiminished, the counter-attacking airman's extreme difficulty, even on a moonlit night, in finding his enemy, however much he may be aided by searchlights and sound locators on the ground. Col. Marsh's conclusion is that there is no effective defense against well organized air attack properly pushed home by determined raiders. For Sir Hugh Trenchard a position of great responsibility perhaps renders it difficult to speak as sweepingly. But there can be no doubt what is in his mind. While the air-plane, he said, is the most offensive weapon that has ever been invented, it is a shockingly bad weapon of defense against the air-plane.

With effectual self-defense so far past hope, The Guardian thinks that any future war between the Great Powers must take the form of an immediate and ernormous competition in the destruction of civilian life and property, each state trying desparately to quell and numb the enemy nation's will by the approach of extermination before a similar process of depopulation has broken the spirit of its own. Any available air-forces, it is held, would so obviously go further in offense than in defense, that defense would scarcely be attempted, and this daily continues:

"The only hope of victory would lie in superior powers of inflicting national attrition by bomb-fire, poison, and incendiarism; and capital cities would be left at the mercy of countless enemy bombers because every plane capable of leaving the ground would be employed in the greatest military advantage in killing every soul in some enemy town. It has been noticed for a long time that we moderns have immensely increased the physical appliances at our command, and especially our means of hurting one another, without any corrosponding improvement in our characters. And now an ironical fate would seem to have put a climax to this kind of evolution by giving nations an unthought of freedom to murder other nations and taking away from them most of their former power to keep murderers at a distance from themselves."

Incidentally the London Times calls attention to the air exhibit at the Wembley Exposition and tells us that the Air Ministry, the Air Survey Committee, the Ordnance Survey Department, and private firms have combined to show graphically what can be accomplished in the way of arial survey both in civilized and in uninhabitated areas of the country.

CANADIAN EXILES

Ministers of the Government and the propaganda mill of Ottawa keep on denying that there has been anything in the nature of an exodus of Canadians to the United States within the last few years. While they deny this, the Minister of Labor has taken occasion to announce in the House of Commons that last year 48,000 Canadians returned from the United States to this country. If there had been no exodus, it is reasonable to suppose that there would have been no point in speaking of returned Canadians. The present Minister of Labor, in this as in other matters, takes a somewhat naive view. When he spoke on the budget he attempted to show that the United States is suffering from commercial and indusrial depression, whereas Canada, under tariff reduction, is really more prosperous than her neigbor. That, of course, is apparent to no one, save the Minister of Labor, and if reduced tariff makes for prosperity then why the failure of the Government to effect any further reductions in the latest budget?

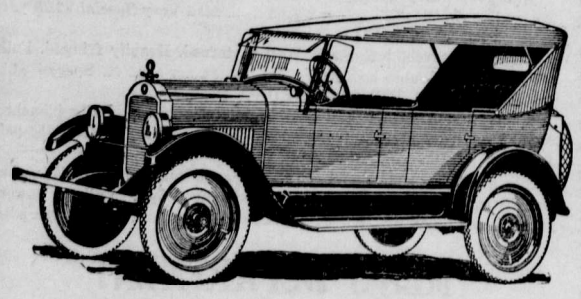
What the Minister of Labor failed to say in speaking of the return of some exiles who have left Canada was what caused them to leave. It was simply lack of work here. The Government, of which the Minister of Labor is a member, is not pursuing policies favoring its own people, or, if it were, there never would have been any necessity for an exodus of Canadians. Why there has been depression in the Dominion is because the tariff odds are against the people of Canada. They have not sufficient participation in their home markets. It is the protection of those markets for the Canadians themselves that is the keynote of Canada's prosperity. It is the Government's failure in this respect, through its tampering with the tariff and its subserviency to the influence of the Progressives, that has been responsible for an exodus of Canadians to the United States.—Victoria Colonist.

QUAKE PROOF SUBWAY TOKIO

Within a decade subway tains will be thundering beneath the streets of Tokio while lumbering oxen teams and prespiring coolies will be pulling burdens through the surface highways.

For after ten years planing, the Department of Railways, undaunted by earthquakes and reconstruction debts, have approved plans for an extensive subway system that will place a subway station within easy walking distance of almost any part of the city. The plan adopted provides for four subway lines, one to intersect the city in a general north and south direction and the the other two to be U-shaped. The system is so arranged that any point in the city can be reached by subway by transferring not more than once.

The plans call for construction of from fifty to fifty-five miles of underground railways, to cost approximately 200,000,000 yen, or about 4,000,000 a mile. The financing plan, which has not been approved, provides for a bond issue of 222,000,000 yen to pay 7.9 per cent interest annually. Every year from 12,000,000 to 22,000,000 yen of this issue will be used and bonds of the city to that amount will be sold. The bonds will eventually be retired through income from subway fares, taxation and special assessment.



It is estimated that it will require from twelve to fifteen years to complete the project.

Experiments conducted by engineering experts in Japan are said to indicate that a subway system would be capable of withstanding earthquake shocks.

Do You Know?

THAT nine-tenths of the grouchy sour-faced people in the world are stomach sufferers? If these people would go to their Drug Store and get a package of Jo-To the world would be a brighter, happier place. Jo-To stops all stomach misery in two minutes. All Drug Stores.

How Teachers Federation Will Tour Canada

(1) One of the Great Lakes steamers which will convey the party from Fort William to Port McNicholl.
(2) The ferry boat "Motor Princess" plying between Vancouver and Vancouver Island.
(3) The Special Train which makes a record run across the entire country.
(4) An open observation car used on all trains passing through the Rocky Mountains.
(5) A Lake Kootenay steamer.
(6) An automobile awaiting to take passengers over the famous Banff-Windermere Highway.
(7) Sight-seeing bus used at various interesting points of the trip.

Robert Louis Stevenson crossed the Pyrennees on a donkey. He even enjoyed the trip. Whatever physical discomforts he had to put up with were more than compensated for by the amount of knowledge he accumulated and by the deep pleasure he derived from coming into close contact with the beauties and wonders of nature. But the donkey, whatever his good points may be, is not now regarded as the most satisfactory means of transportation and we in Canada have a decided preference for the more comfortable and rapid conveyances depicted above.

The picture illustrates the general system by which the various points of the Dominion have become linked up with one another by Canadian Pacific steamers, trains and automobiles. It also shows the means by which Dean Laird's special party of school-teachers will make their educational trip across Canada, from coast to coast, leaving Toronto on July 20th, arriving at Vancouver July 27th, and returning to Toronto early in August. A special train, (No. 3 in the illustration) will be utilized, and reduced rates are being offered to teachers who desire, as it were, to complete their own education by increasing their personal acquaintanceship with the country about which it is their duty to instruct the rising generation. Although the tour is arranged primarily for the benefit of school teachers, it is not restricted to them, and other professional and business people are taking advantage of the opportunity to make this combined pleasure and educational trip across the country.

The party will travel by rail, with several stop-overs, to Vancouver, and from there will cross to Vancouver Island by a Canadian Pacific ferry boat (No. 2). From there by train they will proceed from Vancouver to Nelson, B.C., and thence via steamer (No. 5) over Lake Kootenay to Kootenay Landing. By rail again on to Windermere, from where the automobiles (No. 6) will convey them over the famous Banff-Windermere Highway to Banff. Entraining once more, the party will go on to Edmonton, returning from there to Fort William, from which point they travel by one of the Canadian Pacific Great Lakes Steamers to Port McNicholl (No. 1) and complete the tour from there to Toronto by rail.

Pete Marchenik, of the Royal, returned on Monday from a business trip up the Columbia Vallley.

The Masonic order will attend Divine service at Christ Church on Sunday evening, June 14, at 7.30.

A meeting of those interested in the work of the Fernie Hospital is called for tonight at the Isis Theatre at 7.30 p.m.

Jack Sweeney was elected a state warden and district deputy, with territory covering East and West Kootenay, at the recent state convention of the Knights of Columbus held at Kamloops.

Joseph Perry has secured a license to sell beer in the Grand Central Hotel. He is having the necessary alterations made in the building to comply with the regulations.

Kasmere Woodyga desires to thank the management of the Coal Company, and the officials and men who donated toward the collection taken up for him a short time ago.

A dance will be held in the Club Hall at Coal Creek on Tuesday, June 16, from 10 p.m. to 2.30 a.m. Music by Commons' orchestra. Eeverybody welcome

Misses D. Reid, C. Tully, E. Harvie, and S. Polak have returned from the Victoria Normal School after having successfully passed the required examinations.

The Women's Auxiliary of the G. W.V.A. has completed and handed in the equipment for a bed in the Fernie Hospital. Other associations are busy on the same kind of work.

Don't forget the Whist Drive and Dance under the auspices of the Women of Mooseheart Legion on Tuesday evening next. A good time is assured. Refreshments.

Jim Terris, referring to a man's picture in a shop window, said: Sisters and brothers I have none, but that man's father is my father's son. What relation is that man in the picture to me?

A slight accident and cave-in in No. 2 mine yesterday closed operations in that mine for the day. Again this morning the breaking of a rope in the haulage system caused the men in No. 2 to come home at 12 o'clock.

On June 24, under the auspices of St. John Ambulance Association, the following pictures will be shown at the Isis Theatre: "When a Man's a Miner," "When Wages Stop" and "Safety First in a Petroleum Industry."

Visitors to the C.P.R. depot on Saturday evening were rewarded by seeing a monster sturgeon, which came in the mail van of the east-bound passenger. The fish in question was seven feet six inches in length and from the hook trailed on the floor of the mail car. The weight was 164lbs. and it was caught by R. Cosman, a mail clerk employed by the C.P.R. from the steel span at Kootenay Landing. This is the first of its kind to be caught on the Kootenay Landing side of the lake. Beef bait and the twine used by the mail clerks were used in the capture.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Philip, of Hamilton, Ont., are quietly spending the 50th anniversary of their marriage with their son in the city of Toronto. Dr. and Mrs. Philip are well known in this locality and are the parents of Mrs. Fred W. Adolph, of Baynes Lake.

A number of Alberta oil company promoters were in the city this week trying to separate some of our local capitalists from their bank roll. Fernie people have been hard hit in the oil game in the last few years and they are beginning to look with grave suspicion on anything that even smells like oil.

That Billy McKay, of Elko, has met the needs of that community by the erection of a new dance hall, was fully evidenced by the large turnout at the inaugural ceremony held on Friday evening last. Visitors from Fernie, Rooseville, Wardner, Jaffray, Bull River and Cranbrook being present. The hall was tastefully decorated, speaking volumes for the artistic abilities of the committee in charge. Evans orchestra from Fernie provided the music, which delighted the patrons. Refreshments of high standard were served during the evening. The crowd were enjoying themselves so much that an extension of an hour's time was secured from the orchestra and the affair did not break up until 3.30 a.m. The success attending this first effort has decided the management to hold one of these delightful dances every Wednesday night.

ACCIDENT AT COAL CREEK

Loud cries for help was heard on Tuesday in No. 1 East mine. On investigation it was found that Archie Gilmour, tracklayer's helper, but who was at the time of the accident filling the duties of trapper, was entangled in a trip of cars. He was rescued from his perilous position and conveyed to Fernie hospital, where it was found that he had sustained serious injuries. It is not known yet whether the base of the skull has been fractured. On enquiry at the hospital we were informed that he is doing as well as can be expected. He has only been here about three months, coming from Glace Bay.

HOME BANK BILL GETS SECOND READING

Ottawa, June 18.—Without dividing, the senate last night gave second reading to the Home Bank bill. It will be considered by the senate in committee of the whole on Friday. Amendment to the motion for second reading was withdrawn to permit of discussion in committee, it being understood that second reading was not an acceptance of the principle of the bill.

$250 FOR PARADE PRIZES

The Dominion Day Celebration Committee met in the city hall on Tuesday evening with about twenty members present.

N. E. Suddaby, chairman of the parade committee, suggested that a larger donation be made for prize money for the parade, and it was decided to apportion $250 for this purpose. The prize money will be distributed as follows:

Best Dressed Auto—$20, $10, $5.
Best Business Float—$25, $10.
Best Society Float—$35, $15.
Best Comic Float—$20, $10.
Best Dressed Bicycle Turnout—$7, $5, $3 and $2.
Best Individual Clown—$5, $3, $2.
Best Representative Group, Boys or Girls—$15, $10.

It was also decided to hold a pet parade for children, each child to be dressed in some fancy costume and leading his or her pet. There will be six prizes in this event, viz., $5, $4, $3, $2, $1 and 50c. This parade will take place at 9 o'clock and promises to be a very interesting part of the day's performance.

The big parade will not start until 10.45, in order to give the people from the eastern part of the district, who will arrive on the morning train, a chance to see it. The committee in charge are making a strong effort to have as many car owners as possible in the parade and are particularly anxious for every one to do his part. This is one of the big events of the program and only by the people taking an active interest can it be made the success it should be.

The pet parade is a big event in many of the towns in the old country and while it never has been tried out here, Tom Prentice and Jimmy Corbett, who are organizing it, are confident that it will be one of the most unique features of the day. Any further information required about this event can be secured from these gentlemen.

Sherwood Herchmer repoted fom the subscription committee that nearly $700 had been subscribed already, but that there were quite a number of business men yet to see. He hoped that they would be able to secure at least $1000 for prize money.

Chairman Ward Thomas and Sandy Watson were appointed a committee to secure music for the parade and the grounds. It was thought that a brass band might be secured in addition to a large pipe band.

E. K. Stewart on behalf of the sports committee, reported that they were waiting for definite information about the baseball attraction before geting the programs printed.

A further meeting of the committee will be held on Tuesday evening next at 8.30 in the city hall.

HOSPITAL MEETING

A public meeting for the purpose of organizing a board of management in connection with the Fernie Hospital was held on Friday evening last. H. E. Douglas occupied the chair.

Robt. Johnstone, of Coal Creek, gave a detailed report of the work accomplished.

The question of a representative of the ladies on the board was discussed and Mrs. E. K. Stewart was elected to a position on the board.

The other members of the board were elected as follows: Jas. McLean, M. A. Kastner, R. Johnstone, C. McNay, Ed. Morrison, H. A. Bryant, Andrew Lees, A. J. Carter, E. C. Cope, Matt. Tully and H. E. Douglas

Immediately after the adjournment of the meeting the board met for organization. Robt. Johnstone was appointed chairman, M. A. Kastner treasurer, and H. E. Douglas will carry on as secretary for the present.

A further meeting of the board was held on Monday evening in the provincial building, when detail work in connection with the hospital management was discussed.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

The regular meeting of the city council was held last evening with the Mayor and Aldermen Lees, Stewart, Kerr and Tully present.

A communication from the Children's Aid Society regarding Rosie Sprovieri was received and read.

G. G. Moffatt wrote regarding a reduction in insuranre rates in the M. F. & M. loop.

Chief Anderson made a report regarding manure boxes at stables.

A large number of accounts were passed and ordered to be paid.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE PAGE COMPETITION

The page competition for Dominion Day is creating a lot of interest and the little fellows are doing a lot of hard rustling. This competition will close on Friday, June 26. The vote up to last night stood as follows:

HOSPITAL LIST CLOSES JUNE 30

The Fernie General Hospital Board have decided to offer to the citizens of Fernie and district membership tickets in the hospital at $10 per year in advance, on the same basis as employees of the C.N.P. Coal Co. and other contracts.

This covers hospital accommodation for a man, his wife and his family up to a working age, public ward. The difference of $2.00 per day is charged if private ward is used. Full particulars of membership and restrictions can be obtained from the Board.

It has been decided to close the list June 30 for those now residing in the district, and any that desire to become members should sign up before that date. This is very low hospital protection, and could only be offered on account of the large number of contract miners now signed up.

Those desiring to become members can hand their names in to Robert Johnstone, president; Harry Douglas, secretary; or any member of the Board.

Hospital accommodation only is covered by the above, and does not cover medical attention by the doctors.

Folowing is a list of citizens who have already subscribed $10 for the hospital:

H. E. Douglas, N. E. Suddaby, S. Herchmer, J. E. Gee, E. K. Stewart, T. Prentice, M. A. Kastner, J. R. Wallace, P. Bean, W. H. Pickering, D. Nicoletti, M. Belecky, J. J. Harrington, D. Harvie, A. C. FOR DOMINION DAY QUEEN

Who will be Dominion Day Queen is the question which is agitating a lot of people in the city of Fernie right now. From all reports it is said that Miss Mary Megale has the united support of the Italian colony from Michel to Kimberley and this means the backing of at least three strong Italian societies. If this is true the chances are that their representative will wear the crown on that day.

However, the supporters of Miss Mary Hughes, who represents most of the foreign civilized world and Scotland, say that they will put across their candidate with flying colors. Right now Mary has a big lead on the other two and is confident of the result. One strong factor which will help her a whole lot is the fact that the football clubs of the Pass seem to be taking a keen interest in the fight and are prepared to go the limit for Mary.

But what about our own Canadian candidate, Miss Dorothy Corrie? Dorothy is a real hustler, but is tied up with her High School examinations and cannot devote very much time to the contest. However, are Canadians going to stand by and see a "foreign" representative carry off the honor on our own natal day? Most Canadians hope not, and Ed. Stewart and Jack Wallace are going to make a personal call on as many of our Canadian citizens as possible in the next few days on behalf of Dorothy. It is thought and hoped that when Canadians realize what it means they will not allow a foreign queen to reign over them on our big Canadian holiday.

The tiny artists, Master Howard Thomas and Master Joe Nicoletti, as soloist and pianist, respectively, charmed their audience and were proud to respond to an encore.

Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was brought to a close, everybody feeling that knowledge well applied was certainly worth while.

ALBERTA TEAMS ARE COMING

Vulcan, leaders of the Southern Alberta League, will be seen in action on the local diamond on Sunday, June 21, at 2.30 p.m. sharp. They are reputed to have one of the strongest teams in Alberta, having a pitcher from Minneapolis who has won for himself a reputation as strikeout king throughout Alberta.

On the following Sunday, June 28, the Calgary White Sox, leaders of the Calgary City League, will come to Fernie to try and carry back the Calgary Brewery trophy, which is at present held by the local team. Two games will be played Sunday, the first game starting at 2 p.m. sharp and the second at 5.30 p.m. If a third game is necessary it will be played at 5.30 p.m. sharp on Monday, June 29.

The local team have been handicapped by the lack of games owing to the bad weather, but are now rounded out into first class shape and fans can rest assured that they will give a good account of themselves.

The Sports committee are at present dickering with the Upstairs Price Club of Spokane, leaders of the Idaho League, for a game to be played on July 1. Nothing as yet has been definitely arranged.

PROPOSED BONUS ON COKE

Ottawa, June 16.—A bill is being brought down in the House of Commons by Hon Charles Stewart, minister or the Interior, to encourage the construction of works for the production of coke from coal mined in Canada The assistance given will be an annual sum not exceeding three per cent. of the cost of the work

Ottawa, June 16.—Government aid in the construction of works and the production of coke in Canada will be granted under legislation which will be introduced in the House of Commons by Hon. Charles Stewart. The amount payable for works conducted under the proposed legislation, it is provided, shall be annually a sum not exceeding three per cent. of the cost of the work each year during a period not exceeding fifteen years from the time the government has determined that the work has been completed. The cost on which the amount payable will be calculated shall be fixed by the government on the advice of an engineer appointed by the minister of mines

The resolution on which the bill to provide aid for coke ovens will be based, points out the importance of reducing the cost of fuel to Canadian consumers, of avoiding fuel famines in Canada, and encouraging the use of Canadian coal The construction of works for the production of coke would, it is stated, largely contribute to these results.

It is provided that any company entering into an agreement with the government under the proposed legislation, must present detailed plans of the works which it intends constructing, estimates of the cost, including necessary machinery, plant and site, to be verified by a government engineer. The construction of the works shall be under the supervision of the mines department.

Parties entering into an agreement with the government under the legislation must undertake to use Canadian coal, or if other coal is used, to pay the government one dollar a ton for every ton of coke produced from other than Canadian coal. They must undertake to sell the coke produced at fair and reasonable prices and such prices shall be subject to control by the Dominion fuel board or by such authority or person that the government may determine.

Companies before receiving the first payment under legislation and annually thereafter must file with the minister a verified statement as to their financial condition.

If the Dominion would just provide cheap enough freight rate Ferine can supply them with all the coke they can use without investing a dollar We still have three or four hundred coke ovens not working that can produce quite a lot of coke. It would seem that the government are putting so many strings on their paltry little three per cent. bonus that no sane company in Ontario would enter into an agreement with them.

RUSSIAN REDS IN TROUBLE

London, June 16.—Moscow is menaced by a savage counter revolution from the united peasants and industrial workers threatening to wreck the Red Republic, because, while they are starving, the Soviets are squandering huge sums of money aiding the Chinese, Danish and other foreign strikers.

This prediction of Russia's immediate future was made to-day by the weekly newspaper "The People," which says that uncensored messages revealing the the truth about Russia have just been smuggled in from Moscow by its correspondent.

According to this paper the Soviets are now menaced for the first time by a prospective union of peasants and workers, the first time in history.

The dread of the uprising now secretly seething, and likely to break at any moment has greatly worrried the red dictators. While the government officials are getting free houses, automobiles, servants, entertainments and funds, 1,369,000 industrial workers are unemployed.. Of these only 15 are unemployed.. Of these only 15 per cent. are receiving state relief.

In the meantime the Chinese strikers are receiving large grants from the red war chests. The All Russian Trade Union Council has also decided to rush $5,000 to the Danish workers affected by the latest industrial dispute.

The local branches of the Soviet commission for fighting unemployment have openly revolted against Moscow, protesting that more than 60 per cent. of the registered Moscow unemployed are not getting support from the government or from the unions, although there is plenty of money available for foreigners.

Orpheum, Monday and Tuesday, June 22 and 23.

ALL ROADS TO GOD

Te Vancouver Sun says : With the exception of a few thousands who did not care to break the ties that bound them to the old churches, the Presbyterians, Congregationalists, and Methodists of Canada are now united into one church.

All roads that lead to God are good. And, perhaps, to transform three of these roads into one broader and finer avenue to salvation will remove some preplexity and some confusion from the way.

But the chief significance of church union is that it marks a new tendency to subordinate dogma to the more universal phases of Christianity.

The words of Jesus presented no dogmatic difficulties to the Christians of early days. They were plain words then, simple and direct.

But, for two thousand years, man has so philsophized about Christianity that he has confused it. He has divided the way of the cross into a thousand little paths that differ from each other other only in the disputatious mind of man himself.

Mankind has tried to ride to Heaven on the backs of a million theological hobby-horses.

And somehow or other these hobby-horses have become mixed up in our minds with God himself. To worship dogma or creed is just as idolatrous as to set up images to Baal.

Church union represents the convictons of thousands of Canadians that there is something deeper in religion than creed, something more fundmental than differences in theological opinion. It represents the growing tendency to discover that theological hobby-horses do not satisfy the universal craving for moral progress.

CAPE BRETON RIOTING

The situation that has arisen in the Cape Breton mining district of Nova Scotia is not only unfortunate, but intolerable. At New Waterford the miners have taken the law into their own hands. The news dispatches on the subject of the rioting have reported the circumstances correctly, as is borne out by the government's admission that it has received exactly the same reports. What has led to the employment of the strong hand by the miners is briefly this. The strike was in danger of collapsing. The authority of the United Mine Workers of America in prolonging the strike was at stake and an attempt was made to force the issue by picketing the mines and preventing the officials from taking the places of maintenance men withdrawn by the union. Such action would have led to the flooding of the mines and consequently their being put out of commission for a considerable period.

About a week ago the district secretary of the United Mine Workers made a statement to the effect that "considerable outside influence has been brought to bear upon some of our members in order to have them return to work. With this in mind the executive has reached a decision that a more vigorous policy will be introduced." That policy, however originally intended, developed into one of bloodshed. It was adopted to intimidate the owning company, or else the provincial government. In fact, the probability is that the riot was staged to embarrass the government since an election campaign is at present in progress in Nova Scotia. The union officials may think that the government will take no drastic steps while electioneering, but in this conception they will find that they are laboring under a mistake. Law and order must be maintained and they have been woefully violated in the Cape Breton area. The government of Nova Scotia cannot afford to show weakness in the face of rioting, nor can it permit anyone to take the law out of its hands.—The Colonist.

Premier Mackenzie King has informed the House of Commons that Canada is not a party to the British-French-German security pact. He does not, however,say that officially his government is opposed to that pact. Like the King of the Tonga he intimates his neutrality to the world at large.

Satisfaction is expressed in government circles at Victoria over the re-introduction at Ottawa of a bill to give British Columbia control over the import of liquor. On two occasions the senate has voted down such a measure, but there is reason to believe that its attitude will be favorable to the present bill.

Under both prohibition and government control the free importation of liquor, which is a matter under Federal jurisdiction has gone on, and bootlegging is thus rendered easy.

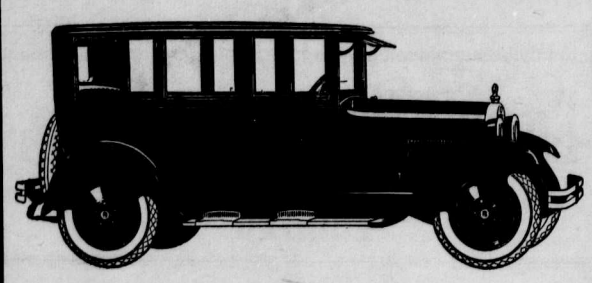
On this continent there is a widespread belief, and no doubt that belief is encouraged in the schools, that the phase "Government of the people, by the people, for the people," was coined by Abraham Lincoln. As a matter of fact it appears in the preface by John Wwcliffe to the first English translation of the Bible, which was written 480 years earlier than Lincoln's Gettysburg speech. In that Wycliffe said : "The Bible is for the government of the people, by the people, and for the people." Some doubt is even expressed as to whther or not Wycliffe first used this phrase, for there is a claim of something akin to it which appeared in one of the versions of the Bible itself.

THE POLAR QUESTION

Uncle Sam claims the North Pole. He says one of his boys found the Pole and nailed the national colors to the mast. Canada claims all the aproaches to the Pole and says that no "national" of a foreign country can traverse her territory without official permission to do so.

We sincerely hope that there will be no strife between Canada and the United States over this matter. For after all it is a trival matter. We do no take very seriously the statement of a distinguished American journalist that the territory surrounding the pole may become very valuable some day as a result of a notable scientific achievement. The distinguished journalist says it may be possible by scientific methods to convey the hot air generated in the neighborhood of the equator up to the Pole and to distribute it over the ice fields and the slush, thus converting a frozen wilderness into a fruitful and opulent country.

That would indeed be a wonderful scientific achievement. It would have a startling effect on the musk oxen, the Polar bears, the walrus, and the whale, and all the inhabitants of the Artic regions. We suspect that the Esquimaux would not approve of it. We fear it would completely upset "the balance of nature." When men and creatures have been ordering their ways according to an established system for countless numbers of years, a sudden revolution in the natural order frequently has a disastrous effect. The conversion of a frozen country into a tropical one in the twinkling of a eye, while it might be interesting, even exciting, might not be in the best intersts of all concerned. We know that the Esquimaux when persuaded to visit southern latitudes, does not like the change. Our climate does not agree with him. He droops and withers, and if he is not speedily restored to his natural enviornment, he dies.



Therefore, in the best interests of all concerned, perhaps it would be well for Canada and the United States to get together and effect a compromise on the matter. Let Uncle Sam have this Pole if he really wants it. Then Canada can prove her claim to the territory surrounding the place where the pole used to be, develop that territory and grow rich upon the resources of it. If the Aurora Borealis is of any value, it belongs to us. But, above all things, "let us have peace," as we believe a distinguished American remarked one time.—Colonist.

Those who are studying the evolution of democracy know that one of its weaknesses lies in its apparent inability to produce leadership. Here is what the Sydney Bulletin says on the subject : "The charge against modern democracy is that it fails to produce outstanding leaders. The broadening of the franchise in many lands has made this more and more evident ; and it has even been a matter of propagnnda in certain political circles. That men in office need not be statesmn or leaders as long as they will blindly obey the orders of political organization as expressed by the vots of conferences has been the idea ; and in practice it has failed a little more lamentably than many short cuts to perfect government."

He (haughtily) I can go with any girl I please.

For Lasting Service

Two things account for the popularity of Barrett Sheathings: their uniformly high quality, and their low cost per year of service.
Barrett Tarred Sheathings are unexcelled for siding, for lining under roofs and floors—for all purposes demanding a rugged, wind-proof sheathing that is proof against rot, mildew and vermin.
Barrett Dry Sheathings are equally satisfactory for use wherever a tarred sheathing is not required.

CAN SHERMAN EXPLAIN?

The Calgary Herald of Saturday last has the following comment on the war time scale of wages in the coal industry : About ten days ago William Sherman, president of District 18 U.M.W. of A., announced that steps were being taken to reorganize the miners in the steam coal fields that had broken away from the union. On Wednesday, three large mines in the Crow's nest Pass voted by a majority of 450 to organize a Canadian federation of mine workers. President Sherman is either somewhat out of touch with the rank and file of the miners in District 18 or is still unable to guage the effect of the policy of his organization during the past three years.

In the United States the districts controlled by the United Mine Workers of America are in many cases today idle, and in other instances have passed from the control of that organization to a non-union basis. Information from a variety of sources concurs in the opinion that not more than twenty-five per cent. of the membership of the U.M.W. of A. two years ago remain in that union to-day. The Jacksonville scale, or, in other words, the high war-time scale, maintained against all opposition, has proved a boomerang to the coal miners and has resulted in the shutting down of hundreds of mines and the throwing out of employment of thousands of men, while the business went to the fields which were able and willing to adjust themselves to the changed conditions of industry

The breaking away of mines in District 18 from the United Mine Workers, and the action of the Coal miners in the Crow's Nest Pass on Wednesday, are as much a result of the Jacksonville policy as anything that has happened in the States, and reflect the objection of the rank and file to following indifinitely a course which is barren of results in either work or wages.

EDITORIAL ECHOES

Peripatetic salesmen of doubtful dubious and dangerous bond issues have been the subject of more than prior warning in the columns of Canadian Finance. Information forced upon our attention, however, makes reiteration of these warnings imperative. The good, stable bond has no need to be peddled and the man who attempts to foist stocks in street corner sorties or door-to-door calls has some motive that means no good to his prospective victim. Canada recently has been made the dumping ground for all too many of this ilk who have been forced to stage hurried exodus from the United States owing to effective teeth having been inserted in "blue sky" enactments there.

A friend who had sold his grocery business with a view to investing the proceeds in a farm provided a counter-offensive recently against one of these chaps that should prove a model. Approached by the vendor of pretty cirtificates, he said: "My neighbor is western manager for a mortgage concern and they have ample funds for investment. He may want to get in on your ground floor, too."

Recognizing that his true worth was appreciated, the high-voltage salesman started to move off on his devious career, but not to interview the man of mortgages.

The man he had attempted to victimize sought information respecting the authority upon which the salesman worked and queried: "Have you a provincial licence to dispose of this stock?"

As he passed out into the night, the erstwhile exponent of sauvity snarled back: "No we couldn's be bothered with your hick government. We have a Dominion charter."

After the salesman had gone, the man who had been canvassed inquired introspectively, wondering how it was that he had been placed on a "sucker" list within a few hours after he had received the funds for the establishment. The fact that he was approached, and approached so soon, merely demonstrates the need of guarding against this particular rabid type of shyster.

Further if there methods whereby concerns that are unable to convince provincial officials of their bona fides and, through more laxity in regulations, they are able to obtain with ease Dominion charters or licenses to sell stock, a situation exists that should be rectified at once. In the meantime, should you feel yourself being hypnotized by the blandishments of one of this type, just keep on wondering why, if the stock offered is so good, it is for sale.

AMUNDSEN REPORTED AS HAVING RETURNED

New York, June 18.—The North American Newspaper Alliance announced today that Ronald Amundsen the explorer, has returned to Spitzbergen from his North Pole flight.

Bernon S. Prentice, brother-in-law of Lincoln Ellsworth, co-leader of the expedition, said he had received word that all six members of the expedition had returned safely to Spitzbergen.

CALGARY-FERNIE CHARTER RENEWED

Ottawa, June 17.—In spite of opposition by J. T. Shaw, independent, West Calgary, a bill to renew the charter of the Calgary & Fernie railway company for two years, passed

Mr. Shaw pointed out that the original charter had been issued to the the raiway committee this morning. company in 1906. He did not think a dollar had been spent on construction but the company appeared at regular intervals to request a renewal of the charter. "I don't think parliament should act as a cloak," Mr. Shaw said.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor.

Sir.—Will you kindly give me space in your paper for the following communication to employers of labor in Fernie. Great credit is due to the live wires in Fernie for rustling up sports and amusements to raise funds for a swimming pool for the kiddies. This I am sure every parent appreciates and also we of Fernie are proud to have one of the best and most spacious schools and grounds for their education and recreation, all brought about by our best intentioned men and women of Fernie. But then they seem to stop thinking of their future, and after giving them an education of the best, and they leave school they are no more thought of.

Now what I want to draw to your mind is the great mistake made in regard to these boys, in as much as the leading men of the city do not appear to take sufficient interest in them after they leave school to see that they are properly employed. His parents are good citizens and good ratepayers and have helped to run this city through fire, floods and epidemics and still stay with it, so why not give their sons the preference when there are any jobs to be handed out instead of giving them to strangers.. I am aware that there are not jobs enough for all the boys, but the few instances I will menttion has determined me to write and show the unfairness handed out to some of these lads. I know of parents who have been in Fernie for the pst ninteen or twenty years who are recognized as good citizens and have worked nowhere else only in Fernie. There children some of them born in Fernie are now grown up to manhood, sturdy young men some of them, and since leaving school they never have been able to secure a steady job in the city. As each summer comes along they pack some clothes in a sack and away they go to some lumber camp or sawmill to get a paltry three or four months work, and when the camp closes down for the winter they are back home again to idle the winter months away. I know some steady Fernie boys from eighteen to twenty years of age who want and have tried hard to get steady work in their own town, boys who can do a good days' work too, after being turned down in their home town have gone across to the States to get a job in the camps and mills there, and they have told me that they knew that the same time they were asking for work in Fernie that strangers were coming into this town and getting steady jobs which they themselves could fill as well or better. This subject should be given serious consideration. It is these boys in time who may have to take their fathers' places when they are gone. It is these boys who we will have to call upon to fill vacancies in first aid and mine rescue work. It is these boys who will have to handle city affairs in the future and not strangers. These boys we will have to depend upon are boys who have their homes in Fernie and naturally will take more interest in the affairs of Fernie than any strangers would. So why not get a list of these young men and find steady jobs for them and and find steady jobs for them and make them contented in their home town. For the benefit of Fernie consider giving preference to our own boys.

I am, yours respectfully,
Thomas Kennedy.

He will then traverse the Windermere and then take train fo Edmonton, where he will embark by the Canadian Natioial for the coast. Ten days from now he will be in Vancouver again.

Complimenting Miss Ruth McLean, a popular bride-elect, Mrs. G. Davidson Mead was hostess at a luncheon and cup and saucer shower this afternoon. Covers were laid for eleven and the table decorations were pink rose buds with candles and tulle of the same shade, while tiny kewpie brides marked each place. The table was centered with a large wedding cake in which was hidden the cups and saucers, and attached to each cup was a fortune written by the donor. Those present were: Miss Ruth McLean, Miss Flo Hammil, Miss Margaret Herkins, Miss Jeanette Cody, Miss Katie Hughes, Miss Daphne Todd, Mrs. Russell Colton, Mrs. B. Asselstine, Mrs. Roy Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Rene Robertson.

A pretty, but quiet, wedding took place at the Holy Family Rectory on Wednesday last, Rev. Father Ehmann officiating, when R. Commons and Miss Violet Mary Coughlan, both very popular locally, were united in marriage. The bride looked very beautiful in white satin draped with silver lace, and wore a shell-pink hat with tulle scarf falling from it around her shoulders. She carried a boquet of pink roses and carnations tied with pink tulle; she wore a rope of pearls, the gift of the groom. Miss Beatrice Coughlan, as bridesmaid, wore a coral pink dress with hat to match, and wore her gift, a braclet set with jade. She carried a beautiful boquet of pink carnations. The groom, who is well known in hockey circles, was supported by Mr. John Hovan as groomsman. The presents were beautiful and numerous, coming from a wide circle of friends. The honeymoon will be spent in Spokane, Seattle and Portland. The bride's travelling dress was a rosewood ensemble with hat to match.

POISONOUS GASES

The first nation to resort to poison gas warfare is one of the first to announce its willingness to ban future use of the deadly stuff. While the subject of poison gas is not on the agenda of the arms traffic conference at Geneva, the German delegate declared on May 25th that Germany was ready to participate in any international conference agreement for the complete suppression of chemical and poison gas warfare. Furthermore we are reminded by the Camden (N.J.) Courier, "this offer does not come from the Imperial German Government that tore up the treaty on Belgian neutrality ; it comes from Germany's Republican Government."

Germany's offer, notes the Albany Knickerbocker Press, is in accordance with the declaration which representative Burton, representing the United States at the Geneva conference, is trying to obtain from the other delegates. To date, however, the outlook has not been bright, although the other delegates seem willing to call a special conference for the purpose of solving the poison-gas problem. But the proposal to call such a conference, says an Associated Press dispatch from the Swiss city, "was inspired by Germany's announcement." The declaration made by Herr von Eckhardt, "was like a bombshell and brought enthusiastic applause." To the Philadelphia Inquirer, it was a declaration "of transcendent importance." For "Germany has the equipment for the manufacture of poison gas to a greater extent than any of her neighbors. Her willingness now to pledge herself against its use is the best evidence she could give of a desire to live in peace with them.

"There is no reason to doubt the sincerity of Germany in coming to the conclusion at last that such rules must be enforced. She suffered less from the war on her own soil than the Allies did. But were another conflict to break out during the life of the present generation, she would not be so secure. Retalitation is, in fact, inevitable, as was shown when the Allies adopted German methods in self-defense. That is why the time for averting a repetition of superfluous destruction is now, while peace gives men a chance to discuss the matter camly. Germany has removed the most important obstacle to an understanding.

"Germany's expression of willingness to cooperate in out-lawing this death-dealing instrument of war helps to simplify the problem," observes the Asheville (N.C.) Times, continuing :

"That poison gas should be outlawed by civilization is almost universally conceded. Unless it is effectively prohibited, the next conflict will be a war of extermination. Whole non-combatant populations will be asqhyxiated. If the war assumes world-wide dimensions, then the destruction of life will be hideous and civilization will hardly survive the frightful experience."

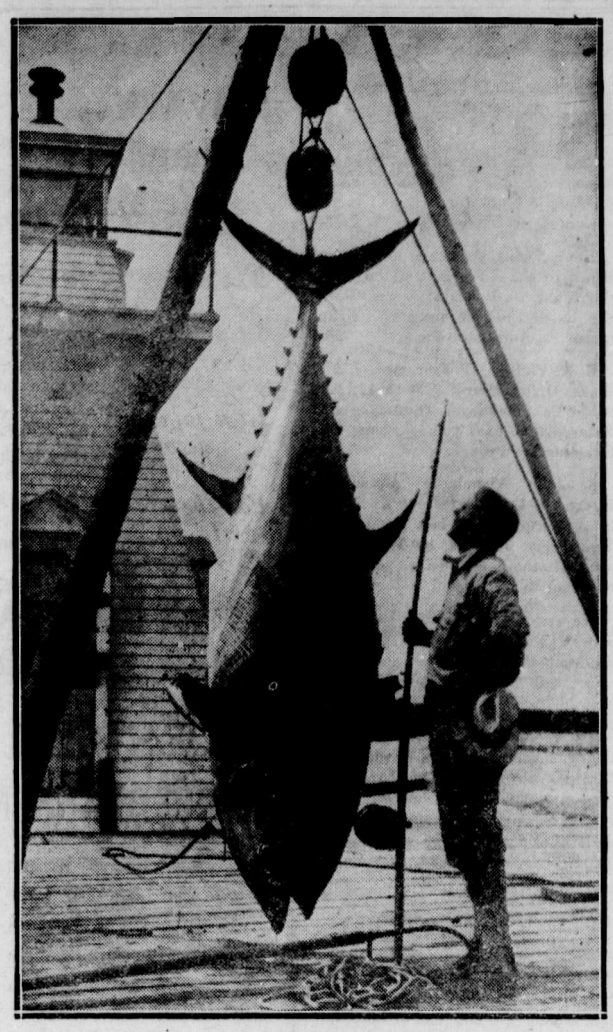
"German is to be congratulated," remarks the Providence Journal, which believes "the German Government could perform hardly any act of repentance that would be more appreciated by civilization." In the Journal's opinion :

"Gas warfare should never be recognized as a legitimate weapon in militry contests. In barbarity it ranks with the methods of torture used by savages. The time to place a permanent ban on its use is now, when its effects are all too plainly visible on many of the men who saw action in France and Belgium. There should be no repetition of such an abominable method of fighting."

But it seems that opposition exists even to a ban on poison gas in warfare. Says the Chicago Evening Post for example :

"We are not impressed by the wisdom of this proposal. It seems to be rather a concession to sentiment than a carefully considered and scientifically sound contribution to the lessening of either the danger of war occurring, or the horrors of war when it occurs. It is urged, probobly, because of the prevalent popular opinion that poisonous gas is a barbarous method of warfare, fraught with extraordinary horrors. As a matter of fact it is no more barbarous than bayonets, machine-guns, grenades and high explosives, and not nearly so deadly. For most sorts of it the mask affords satisfactory protection —a much better protection than any that has been devised against boom and shell. To prohibit traffic in gas and permit it in T.N.T., for example, is like forbidding the sale of meat-skewers while allowing commerce in saw-edged bayonets.

"As long as war remains internationally lawful, and armed defense against it is considered a necessary part of every national program, it seems to us an emotional ignoring of realities to attempt to mitigate its possible horrors and destructiveness.



"Nor would prohibition of the use of poisonous gas—to our way of thinking an absurdity as long as every form of explosive is countenanced, and war itself is recognized—prove of any practical value. Methods of warfare will never be controlled by international agreement. Neccessity, opportunity and effectiveness in the actual conduct of war will alone control them."

Still another view-point is found in the Detroit Free Press, which reminds that—

"It is right and proper, and highly desirable for the delegates at Geneva to arrive at any understanding regarding the outlawry of poison gas in war it may be possible to reach; but it will be a delusion to imagine that a mere paper pledge among those concerned will amount to anything. Some way of insuring the enforcement of the pact by making effective provision for heavy penalty when it is disregarded must be devised before it will amount to anything, and how to do that will be a very big puzzle. Meanwhile, the prudent nation will make virtuous resolutions, but will take care to keep itself in a position where it can protect itself against treachery."

It is the conscientious nation that will be at a disadvantage if an agreement to ban poison gas is signed at Geneva, thinks the Chicago Tribune, which recalls that—

"Gas was prohibited by international convention, before the late war, but under stress of circumstances it was used. It is too useful to be ignored by a nation which feels its life or its vital interests at stake. The more conscientious the signatory is, the greater disadvantage it will suffer. Furthermore, the demand for restriction is founded, in our opinion, upon a sentimental fallacy as to the inhumanity of gas. But the strongest argument against an anti-gas treaty is that it would be broken by the more desparate or the more unscrupulous combatant."

Monster Tuna Taken in Canadian Waters

As a writer of stirring tales of the Border and the mid-western states in the early days, Zane Grey has made an enviable record for himself, but now along he comes with another—a fish story—and better still, presents the proof in photograph, so that his yarn does not take on the semblance of a dream or a good bit of story-telling.

Tuna, weighing nearly half a ton, are the reward of ambitious anglers who fish in Nova Scotian waters, particularly in St. Ann's Bay, off Cape Breton. Three mammoth tuna have been taken from this locality, each holding the world's record in turn. Captain Laurie D. Mitchell's 710 pound tuna held a record for a number of years, till along came J. K. L. Ross of Montreal, well known as an owner of racing horses, director of the Canadian Pacific Railway and his skill as a fisherman. He landed a tuna after a 3¼ hours' fight, that measured 9 ft. and 2 in. in length, and 6 ft. in girth, and tipped the scales at 712 lbs. thus winning the honour of record tuna fishing from Captain Mitchel by 2 lbs.

His record seemed secure, when along in August, 1924, came Zane Grey and his brother, R. C. Grey, eager to catch big tuna. They used a Nova Scotian-built schooner, a staunch little craft admirably adapted to their plans and needs. They got three tuna, weighing respectively: 638, 684, and then as a climax, the biggest tuna ever landed, weighing 758 pounds. Had they gone in for anything larger, it would have required a C. P. R. freight car to haul it to the cannery at St. Andrews. The time taken to land the first was 6 hours and 10 minutes, for the second, 38 min. which was caught by R. C. Grey, and 3 hours and 10 min. were spent to conquer the record breaker with which Zane Grey is said to have wrested the palm from the C.P.R. director and won the title of champion tuna fisherman.

Other big fish of various species taken in various Canadian waters, include a record pike caught in Big Lac Nominingue in the Laurentians of Quebec, weighing 58 lbs.: a 38½ lb. muskellunge caught in 1924 in French River, Ontario, by Samuel W. Franklin of New York City; the world's record speckled trout, weighing 14½ lbs., taken from Nipigon River by Dr. J. W. Cook of Fort William; and a great Northern pike, 4 ft. long with a weight of 21 lbs. which gave Harold Sweester of New York a 45 minute fight on the Nipigon.

Canada's infinitude of rivers and lakes are filled with a vast wealth of fish, many of them of record measurements and weight. The foregoing are sportsmen's records.

HUMAN INTELLIGENCE

Some scientists in the University of California have got themselves into a peck of trouble by announcing that the human race has made no mental progress in the last 3,000 years. There claim is that the race as a whole stands on the same level of human intelligence as did those who lived in Babylon. They go further and say that the intelligence quotient of the great mass of the people is far from the plane attained by the Greeks in the age of Pericles.

One of the tests employed before these conclusions were reached is interseting. It was found, for instance, that of 977 California teachers, 875 had absolute faith in a total of 7,176 superstitions and many of these superstitions were of an exceedingly trite and superficial character. It is also contended by the scientists in question that the writings of the ancients, if familiar names and places be substituted, might readily, be confused with the writings of modern intellectuals.

The claims made by these scientists are, of course, being ridiculed because it is pointed out that mankind has made great advances in the sciences. What mankind has not improved in is the arts. Some thousands of years ago men built more enduring monuments than any of recent construction. The ancients wrote at least as well as modern intellectuals. They had knowledge in a variety of directions which seems to have been lost to modern times, just as we have knowledge to-day of which they probably never dreamed. It is a dubious process drawing parallels between the present and the past because of the different types of civilization, though candor compels perhaps a grudging acknowledgement that there is at least a grain of truth in what the California scientists maintain.

Here and There

The entire Province of Prince Edward Island and adjacent islands have been leased for oil prospecting purposes to Henry L. Doherty & Company, according to an announcement by the concern. The lease has been taken on option.

Indications are that 1925 will be one of the best tourist seasons ever experienced by Montreal. It is estimated that 750,000 people from all over the continent visited Montreal last year, while this year the number is placed at a million.

It is understood that a contract has been let for the laying of a submarine cable from Vancouver Island to Suva, Fiji Islands, by the Pacific Cable Board. This is part of the "All-red" cable and wireless route which is being established between British possessions the world over.

In order to facilitate the work of the air force patrol radio stations are being erected at the Pas, Norway House, Victoria Beach, and Fort Osborne Barracks, Winnipeg. The stations will be completed shortly and will have, it is stated, a radius of communication all over Canada.

"Judging from the amount of sound business activity noticeable here, British Columbia is launching into an era of constructive development which augurs well for her future prosperity," comments Grant Hall, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who recently spent ten days on the Pacific Coast.

"So long as the Canadian Pacific Railway has a dollar left in its treasury, it will fight for the ideals, uphold the faith and maintain the precious heritage of confederation," said E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when addressing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at their annual convention held at Hamilton recently.

Eleven hundred pounds of speckled trout, gray trout and pike were the trophies taken back to New York recently by seven members of the Caughnawaga Hunting and Fishing Club, private preserves near Montreal, after a two-week stay on the fishing grounds. The catch included a 19-lb. gray trout and the average weight worked out at around eight pounds.

Frank W. Ashby, secretary of the Australian Manufacturers' Association, visiting here recently, said the impression in Australia was that Canada was the back door to the North Pole. People in the Antipodes think that Herschell Island and Baffin's Bay are linked up municipally with Montreal and Winnipeg, he said. He was surprised to find the Dominion had a delightful climate and cities more modern than those in Australia.

What is stated to be the biggest log jam in sixty years recently occurred on the Montreal River in a gorge through which the river flows into Lake Temiskaming. 300,000 logs were piled up to a height of 80 feet with a width of 250 yards, choking the river for 300 yards down at the point where the jam took place. An army of 100 men, working night and day for three days, at last succeeded in breaking the jam with dynamite.

A three-week tour of Canada by teachers and their friends, under the auspices of Dean S. Laird, of Macdonald College, will leave Toronto July 20 on the Canadian Pacific Railway. The party will travel by train to Vancouver and Victoria, and will return by way of Southern British Columbia, across the northern end of the Prairie Provinces and by boat from Fort William east. Stops will be made at all the principal points of interest.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you.

NEW CHEVROLET

How long has it been since you went out in your car just for the sheer love of driving ?

Are you one of the thousands who have about come to the conclusion that there is no longer any satisfaction in driving a car ?

WATER RIGHTS BRANCH

Amended Certificate of Approval.

1. Whereas on the 23rd of December, 1924, the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, was granted a further certificate of the approval of its undertaking relating to its application for a licence to divert and use for power purposes, 100 cubic feet of water a second of the water of Line Creek, a tributary of Fording River, and to store 15,000 acre feet of the said water in Grave Lake ;

2. And whereas by the said further Certificate of Approval the time for commencement and completion of the works for the diversion, storage and utilization of the water were limited to the 31st day of March, 1925, and the thirty-first day of December, 1925, respectively;

3. And whereas, in pursuance of the said application and of the said certificate, Authorization No. 917 to make surveys was duly issued to the said Company on the 28th day of January, 1925 ;

4. And whereas, by its petition filed the 11th day of March, 1925, the said company prays that the times limited by the said Certificate and authorization may be extended for a period of one year on the grounds, among others, that it has met with unforseen delays and difficulties in the prosecution of its surveys through the project being situated in a new country, the character of which is little known, and that the season and weather have been unfavorable for field work ;

5. And whereas the period within which objections to the said petition may be filed has expired and no objections have been filed ;

6. And whereas it is deemed advisable in the public interest that the prayer of the said petition be granted;

7. This is to certify that the Further Certificate of Approval of its undertaking granted to the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, on the 23rd of December, 1924, is amended by striking out the figures 1925 where they occur in clause 7 of the said Certificate and substituting therefor the figures 1926.

This Certificate shall not in any way be deemed to be an approval of the plans of any works covered by the proposed undertaking, or to authorize the construction of any such works, but shall have the effect only of a certificate issued under the provisions of section 36 of the Water Act, and shall be subject to such provisions.

Dated at Victoria, B.C., this 11th day of May, 1925.

"T. D. Pattullo,"
Minister of Lands.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

WILL MOVE TO TROPICS

Great tropical empires may become an actuality in the near future we are told, for "already there is a great pressure of population" and the healthy spots selected by man for his future civilization and society are crowded. So, in course of time, unhealthy spots will have to be made healthy and habitable ; in other words the tropics will have to be reclaimed.' "Since the days of Herodotus, five centuries before the Christian era, eyes of white men have been turned toward the tropics," remarks the Modosto Herald (Cal.) which goes on to say :

Down there is the veritable land of milk and honey. It was and is a land of inexhaustible fertility. But the odds were great. Death lurked on every hand. Hostile natives, wild beasts and huge poisonous reptiles beset the path. In addition to these and far worse, was an insect life, which made ventures of white men into the tripics perilous in the extreme. Ferocious beasts could be hunted out in their liars and destroyed. Small insects and animals were far too numerous, and they led a mysterious and hidden existence. So the white man built his homes and his cities in higher and cooler climates, principally in territory north of the equator. He left the low lands of the tropics in their primeval state of darkness, danger and mystery.

Then came Gen. William Crawford Gorgas, and the Panama Canal, and from Gorgas's triumph, evolved a plan of making the tropics a fit habitation of man, and a dream of new empires, richer than any yet established, was brought forth.

The Canal Zone had been known for 400 years, and was regarded as the most unhealthy spot in all the tropical world. With cool courage Gorgas battled the swarms of yellow- fever-bearing misquitoes. He cleaned out their breeding places, and saved the United States government $80,000,000 and 70,000 human lives in the construction of the canal. At the same time he made the canal zone a tropical paradise.

As the Herald believes, General Gorgas's success at Panama can be repeated anywhere in the tropics and provide an outlet for the excess population of the temperate zones. Meanwhile it will help to solve a problem that is steadily becoming more serious—the food problem.

The population of the world has doubled in the past century—since the beginning of the age of industrialism. If another century brings proportionate increases, the demand for food producing territories will force development of hitherto unproductive spaces on the face of the globe. Econonomists agree that this problem must be faced. And what better solution can be found than the converting of the disease-infested tropics into safe and productive lands ?

These large areas, waiting the advent of man with his inventive genius according to Dr. Wellington Jones, University of Chicago professor, are in the low altitudes of America, Africa, Asia, and East Indies and Australia.

The lowland areas included are all hot, but in rainfall they range from rainy all the year to a short season of rains and a long dry season. The highlands, except those of extreme elevation, are never cold, neither are they very hot.

An example of what can be accomplished is to be seen on the gold coast of Africa. There, under the efficient and sensible management of the British Government, the indigenous population is working under the direction of the white man. So successful are these native farmers, that they have captured the cocoa trade of the world. All are rolling in wealth. Another example is in the Malay peninsula, where under similar conditions the crude-rubber industry has been developed. Even now, with development scarcely started, a trip to the grocery store reveals many products which come from the tropics. Half of the sugar production of the world now comes from the equatoral regions, along with cocoa, spices, bananas and coffee. There are hundreds of tropical fruits, now unknown in temperate climes, but which could be made available if produced under modern mbethods of civilization.

Twenty-three million cubic feet of wood are taken from our forests every year. We grow about six million. Precious woods, such as teak and sal, can be found only in the regions of plentiful rainfall and warm temperatures. Other woods, which may come into commercial use, are now being surveyed by American foresters, who are attempting to solve the problem of utilizing the vast timber supply of the tropical regions.

As for the mineral resources, little is known, because explorations according to Dr. J. Harlan Bretz, professor of geology of the University of Chicago, along this line have never been extensive. The pioneers have been more concerned with finding trails through the jungle than searching for the riches that underlie the land. It is definitely known, however, that in southeastern Brazil, one of the greatest iron ore deposits in all the world lies untouched. If these tropical territories disclose other mineral wealth, there is prospect that with the coming civilization of the tropics, there will be huge industrial centers, where blast-furnaces will drain the metal from the ore, where rolling-mills will fashion it into commercial forms.

The abundance and fertility of the land is such that it would certainly support populations as dense as found anywhere else on the globe. Thus could the pressure of population be taken care of for centuries to come.

In the United States, meanwhile, free land is gone. The filling in of the empty places is measurably accomplished. The United States imports as much food-stuffs as it exports.

City population exceeds the rural and is rapidly increasing. How are hungry mouths going to be fed if the population keeps on increasing ? Already over100,000,000 people must have their three meals a day.

The possibility of wresting from the soil more food from this increased population will becom more difficulty. Food supplies, from other territories, for many of our ordinary wants must be considered. Population has increased elsewhere. The food sources of other countries are likewise being diminished.

With the decreasing supply of food the war against the dangers of the tropics must be launched, with all the skill and ingenuity that scientific men possess ; fighting along the lines laid down by General Gorgas. Just as he stamped out yellow fever in Havana, where it had been rampant for 150 years, and in Panama, where his cleaning out of the pest-hole of the tropics constitutes an epoch in the annals of preventive medicine, so must the warriors who invade the tropics carry on their battle.

The menace of yellow fever which rides swiftly on the wings of the deathly messenger, the mosquito, must be faced. The dread tsetse fly, whose bite brings on sleeping sickness, must be annihilated. Bubonic plague, leprosy, dysentery, malaria, cyclic fevers, of which little is known; sprue, a mysterious intestinal disease and other diseases caused by parasitic insects must be met in a battle to the death.

These enemies of the white man are foes formidable enough to strike terror to the hearts of valiant men. Poison gases, high explosives and all the terrible machinery of modern warfare, are to be even less feared than these who know no armistice, no end but victory or death.

Alexander, sighing for new worlds to conquer, never dreamed of such a warfare against the savagery of nature. War lords, who plan their battles so carefully on paper, have never been called upon to exercise the strategy necessary to cope with such enemies.

Difficult as the work appears, the mode of operation as outlined and exemplified by General Gorgas is ready and waiting. There will be swamps to drain, underbrush to be cleared, and sanitary methods to enforce.

Serums for immunizing of workers must be developed. Antitoxins for the cure of the afflicted must be devised for these strange diseases, caused by life in the tropics and by insect bites.

The successful invasion of the tropics dates directly from the time when Gorgas put into effect his idea of sanitation and health. The white man never knew before how long he could survive the pestilence of the region. Because he did not have the knowledge that Gorgas has given to the world.

When the invasion starts in an organized way to build new empires for the white man, medical science will be ready because of the plans of the Gorgas Memorial Institute.

At Panama the corner-stone has already been laid for the scientific laboratories of the Institute. The Panama government, in recognition of the work of Gorgas in transforming the zone from a pest-hole to one of the most healthful places in the world has donated the site for the Institute's buildings. It will be located on a point of land which projects into the bay of Panama and commands a view of the heights of Balboa, Ancon hospital, and the far away hills and mountains bordering the canal.

It lies in close proximity to the new $2,000,000 Santo Tomas hospital, all occupying a generous tract of land on the old exposition ground. The Gorgas Memorial Institute building will cost $750,000. The government of Panama has floated a bond issue to finance its construction.

In addition to the buildings there will be jungle farms on the eleven acre site where cages will be maintained for the study of insects, and where animals will be kept to be used in connection with scientific research.

A fund is being raised to carry out Gorgas's ideas in the United States.

There are two phases of the work. The first is the dissemination of health information, so as to increase the span of life from the present average of fifty-eight years to threescore and ten.

The other is tropical research to be carried on under the direction of Dr. R. P. Strong of Harvard University. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial Institute are established in the Wrigley building, Chicago, where work of educating the public to ways of personal health is being done.

The perpetuation of Gorgas's methods, used in cleaning up the anal zone and in keeping the United States army in trim during the world war, will be a preparation of America for the coming battle of the tropics.

The first Lord Waleran, formerly Sir William Waldron, who was Unionist whip in the British House of Commons for two decades, has just died. He enjoyed the unique reputation of having sat in the House of Commons for 25 years and never having made a single speech. Those constituents who elected him evidently believed in his silence. He did not waste the country's time.

Laxatives do not overcome constipation

LAXATIVES and cathartics provide temporary relief only. Their continued use leads to permanent injury. In time, says an eminent physician, an almost incalculable amount of harm is done by the use of pills, salts, mineral waters, castor oil and the like.

Physicians advise lubrication for Internal Cleanliness

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt the habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

Wm. Sherman was in town last week end visiting his mother.

J. Miller, o fthe C.P.R. telegraph office, has been transferred to Golden, B.C.

Frank Newnham, of Calgary, accompanied by his daughter Dorothy, is in town today renewing acquaintances.

A list of those who have received writing certificates (Coal Creek School) is crowded out this week but will appear in the next issue.

James Mavor, of the B.C. Government staff of the Forestry Department, Victoria, is ill in the Fernie Hospital. Mr. Mavor, who is well known in the city, was a member of the C.N.P. Coal Co. staff for several years previous to 1911, when he went to Victoria. While serving in the Great War he lost an arm.

The B.C. Miners Association have arrangements well under way for their picnic to be held at Hosmer on July 2. Strong committees have been working on the sports program for the children. The refreshment committee are at work to provide ice cream, lemonade, coffee and tea. Dancing will be held all day at the school grounds. At the swimming pool greasy pole and pillow fighting will be staged. Arrangements are now being made for train service. Upwards of 2000 intend taking in the picnic. Look out for program and announcement of train service in next week's issue.

MINERS TAKE CUT OF FIFTEEN PER CENT

Calgary, June 17.—Details of the contract signed at noon yesterday between the heads of the United Mine Workers of America, district 18, and the mine operators of the Wayne and Drumheller fields, are now available and show that while the miners took a cut of 15 per cent from the former union rate on tonnage and dead work, they got one concession which they have been trying for during the past three or four years. The mine operators agree to give preference of employment to those of their men who leave during the summer slack season and come back later in the fall to work.

COMMUNICATION

Sir—As a resident of Howland avenue I wish to protest vigorously against the speed of the motor rars using this avenue and the dust raised by them. The children of the people living on this avenue run the risk of being suffocated, and, if they escape that, of being run over by cars which travel at anything from 25 to 45 miles an hour. The dust can be controlled easily enough, but it is hard to instil sense in the asinine brains of a number of car drivers. To them this avenue is a speedway created for their especial benefit. The only thing to check them is a heavy fine, or, better still, a term of imprisonment without the option of a fine and deprivation of license. A few examples in police court should be sufficient. If examples are not now made we may expect an inquest or two followed by manslaughter charges. This is little comfort to the child killed or to its parents. Prevention is the thing. A fool's brains are apparently in his pocket. A heavy fine might prevent where words of warning would be laughed at. Verb. sap.

COAL CREEK NOTES

Owing to the inclement weather prevailing on Saturday last the football game between our local eleven and Coleman at Coleman, had to be postponed.

Uncle Smith has left camp and taken up his residence in Fernie.

Mrs. T. Oakley was admitted to the Fernie hospital last week end to undergo an operation.

Coal Creek patrons of the whist drive and dance given by the Women of Mooseheart Legion on Tuesday last complain of the late start.

Mrs. A. Arrowsmith was admitted to the Fernie hospital on Thursday.

Votaries—Don't forget the rehearsal on Tuesday evening next.

Mrs. Phil Shimmins arrived back from Vancouver on Wednesday, at which place she was attending her sister, who was seriously ill.

The success of the recent Dokay dance up here has led to the query: When are they going to pull another off?

C. McNay, overman at No. 2 mine, received injuries to his eye last week while motoring.

Bob Johnstone has been elected as chairman of the newly formed hospital board.

The Vancouver Saturday Tribune says: "It is announced from Toronto that the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., with the object of utilizing its coke; may make an effort to get into the iron and steel business. A dividend of three per cent. has been declared on the stock of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, Limited, payable to shareholders of record May 12. Latest advices from the colleries are to the effect the Company has been working steadily into a more favorable position. A daily output of 3,000 tons of coal has been maintained recently since the settlement of the labor difficulties, and shipments have been practically uninterrupted since the resumption of work."

The Liberal Government was wiped out in the Nova Scotia general election yesterday. Evidently it was a complete landslide, the result being 40 Conservatives and 3 Liberals.

ST. JOHN'S PICTURE SHOW

The St. John's Ambulance Association received a great boost on Wednesday when the local branch showed the pictures: "When a Man's a Miner,' and "When Wages Stop."

The Isis Theatre was crowded to capacity, many ticket holders being unable to gain admission and for whose benefit the pictures were reproduced on Friday afternoon. Ted Hesketh, as master of ceremonies, performed his duties creditably. The pictures depicted most vividly the perilous occupation of the miner, made more so by gross carelessness and ignorance on the part of some, and proved the great benefit a knowledge of first aid to help others.

Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. T. Lawes, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, W. Owen. Sandy Watson also proved a great favorite with the audience in his violin selections.

Mr. W. R. Wilson in a neat and appropriate address, presented certificates of competency to the following: 1st year, John Payne, John Yates, Norman Reid, John Ridyard, William Shorthouse, Lindsay Doree, William Marsh, Thomas Cotch, Chas Beebe, Frank Beale, J. W. Ashmore, R. Y. Dunbar, M. Robichaud, Louis Rushcall, Jack Skilling, Mrs. Dufour

2nd year Certificates—David Dumire, Joseph Jerue, George Shorthouse, Fred Woodhouse, G. G. Bell, Wm. M. Parsons, Bessie Taylor.

Medallions—Mrs. E. K. Stewart, Mr. A. R. Williams.

Instructor's Certificate— Ed. Hesketh, William Green.

Life Membership—Dr. Wm. Workman, Coal Creek.

Before the assembly dispersed Mr. W. R. Wilson declared that he was prepared to provide a banquet and social evening for the successful candidates. The secretary was instructed to make out the list of names.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROMOTIONS

The following is the promotion of the City Public Schools for the term ending June 30th, 1925.

A number of pupils are promoted on trial, which means that although they have not satisfactorily completed the work of their present grades, they are being given a chance to time during the school year.

The Principal reserves the right under the authority of the Department of Education to transfer a pupil to a higher or lower grade at any time during the school year.

In some cases pupils have been promoted two grades, it being thought that they will be able to do the work of the higher grade and thus save a year in school.

All promotions are published in order of merit.

In the case of Grade 8 (Entrance) pupils, as only 60 per cent. of those recommended get through without the examinations, while the remaining 40 per cent. are compelled to write, only the names of those not writing are published. The results of the examinations will be published by the Department of Education in July.

Grade 8 to Grade 9.—Thomas Miard, Olga Belecky, Jack Corrie, Willie Tanner, George Elliot, James Fisher, Gladys Wilson, Mildred Kastner, Donald Harvie, Mary Campbell, Jos. Hilton, Margaret Brown, Emil Aiello, Jack Baker, Jean Liphardt, James Galloway, Mary Haigh, Joan Peake, Joseph Chubra, Frances Gallagher, Mildred Woodhouse, Harold Austin, Thomas Wilson, Annie Boardman, John Kubinec, Dora Starr, Kate Flood, Arthur Hesketh, Elizabeth MacDonald, James Scott, Wm. Baldrey, Philip Jones, Peter Steliga, Marian Mangan, Victoria Hamer, Mary Phillips, Lillian Hughes, Gladys Shorthouse, Minie Wilson, Paul Williams.

Div. 4—Grade 7a to Grade 8.—Virgina Cummings, Daisy Drew, Hannah Mogielka, Verna Balok, Melba Allen, Emma Wilson, John Peterson, Eleanor Lowe, Margaret White, Wilfred Woodhouse, Agnes McCormick, Elizabeth Payne, Margaret Moon, Annie Kasmar, Walter Owen, Rena Hutcheson, Vernon Uphill, Helen Ruschall, George Corrie, Eleven Borelli, Mary Kisisaluski, Vincent Phillips, Henry Elliott, Wilma Jones, Kenneth Parsons, James Atkinson, Annie Dragon, Caterina Megale, Josephine Rizzuto.

On Trial—Fred Constanzo, Janet

SHERMAN'S TROUBLES

Drumheller, June 23.—Miners in the Red Deer Valley coal field, Drumheller and Wayne, broke away from the U.M.W. of A. on Sunday by voting heavily in favor of formation of a new Canadian union.

The vote was:

For new union	683
For U.M.W. of A.	132
Spoiled ballots	7

Many miners did not go to the polls. It is estimated that there are 1,800 men working in the valley at the present time, and only 822 votes were cast.

Nacmine, Midland, Atlas, Rosedale and Star locals voted at Drumheller; at Wayne, Commercial, Rosedale and Jewel voted.

Calgary, June 22—Wm Sherman, President of District 18, of the United Miners of America, declared in the course of an interview on Monday that the attempt of the workers party element to stampede the majority of the Drumheller and Wayne miners into leaving the U.M.W. of A. turned out to be a fizzle as only about one-third of the men at present in those fields voted.

The present situation in Drumheller has been developing for some time, he said, outside influence working through an organization known as the Workers' Party have strenuously tried to destroy the U.M.W. of A., and their activities have been so guarded as to prevent expulsion from the organization. The district officers of the U.M.W. of A. have maintained for the past two years that the Workers' Party was conspiring to destroy the international trade union movement. Our policy has been to force them into the open with their activities and the present situation at Drumheller is the final outcome of such a policy.

Mr. Sherman remarked that the international trade union movement for the past two years in the United States and Canada had been hampered by the same influences, and their recent open attempts to destroy the the trade union movement in Drumheller would be reported to the Canadian congress and all trade unions interested in Canada and the American Federation of Labor so that they may be able to formulate a policy to combat such elements and which would result in harmony prevaling in trade union ranks.

BIG JULY FIRST PARADE

Those taking part in the procession are earnestly requested to gather at the Central School square not later than 10.15 to give the judges a chance to award the $250 at their disposal.

The parade will begin promptly at 10.45, led by the R.C.M.P. and will proceed up Victoria Avenue, thence along McEvoy St. and Riverside Ave., turning back down Victoria Ave and Cox Street, where it will turn to the Court House Grounds.

Here the crowning of the Queen will take place.

The school children, boy scouts and cyclists taking part in the parade are requested to gather at the school square at 10.15.

An area before the dias will be reserved for school children where they will take part in the singing under the leadership of Chief Anderson.

The monster parade on Dominion Day will be a spectular pageant featuring the Queen, her Ladies in Waiting and Pages.

Three fine bands will captivate the crowds, one from Coal Creek and two from Fernie. Many magnificent floats as well as beautifully decorated cars will be exhibited. A good turnout of business and comic floats is assured. Numerous clowns will enliven the proceedings.

SENATE WINS

According to the latest wires from Ottawa to-day, the Commons and Senate have reached an agreement on the Home Bank Bill. The amount to be devoted to reimbursement is $3,000,000 instead of $5,450,000. Religious, charitable, labor, and all organizations, as well as Provincial governments, municipalities, members of the Federal Parliament, and Senators are exempt from the benefits of the Bill. No claim of more than $500 will be recognized.

Riding in Canadian Rockies: A Growing Summer Diversion

TRAIL RIDERS IN CANADIAN ROCKIES

TOM WILSON IN BRONZE.

Lake O'Hara will be the scene of three events this summer. The organizations that will meet in this wild, romantic spot in the Canadian Rockies are: Mountaineering Club of British Columbia; Alpine Club of Canada's annual camp from July 27 to August 8, inclusive; and the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies on August 9th.

The special expedition to climb Mt. Logan, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, headed by Capt. Albert H. MacCarthy, will return in time to report to the Alpine Club.

Lake O'Hara has been painted by the late John Singer Sargent and by Carl Rungius and Richard M. Kimbel, the two latter are New York artists and members of the artist colony that summers at Banff. Lake O'Hara threatens to rival Lake Louise whose close neighbor it is.

The Alpine Club's main objective this year is to climb Mt. Goodsir, the highest peak visible from the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the ascent will be made from a sub-camp.

Last year's initial Pow-Wow of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies was held in Yoho Valley near Field, B. C. Two days of trail riding and social gathering in a big lodge in the evenings were enjoyed by more than 200 members and novices, the latter qualifying for membership, one of the requirements of which is to have ridden fifty miles over Canadian Rockies' trail. Dr. Charles D. Walcott of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C., is the honorary president of the Trail Riders' order.

Several hundred trail riders are expected to take part in this year's meeting, which will be held Aug. 8-10 inclusive. The start will be from Banff and Lake Louise by motor to Marble Canyon where the horses and guides will be in waiting for the three days' ride. Program is as follows: first night, tent camp on Goodsir Plateau, 6,500 feet above the valley; second night, tent camp on the shore of Lake O'Hara, rivalling Lake Louise in beauty, but of a wilder type; third night, Tipi Camp beside Lake Wapta and Pow-Wow held in Sun Dance Lodge. There will be a sing-song each night in camp.

Riders must bring either a sleeping-bag or two warm blankets. A change of underwear and warm coat or mackinaw for the hours around the camp fire, is all the equipment that is necessary. No grips will be accepted. One pack horse for each three riders. A word of caution, unless one is prepared to rough it he should not ride; but if one delights in the feel of a saddle and pony, he, or she, may be a Trail Rider.

The Rocky Mountains Guides' Association, an organization of all the guides in this territory, with headquarters at Banff, is looking after the arrangements for horses and guides.

GOVERNMENT LIQUOR ACT

Notice of Application for ..... Beer Licence

Notice is hereby given that on the 20th day of June next, A.D. 1925, the undersigned intends to apply to the Liquor Control Board for a licence in respect of premises being part of the building known as the Hosmer Hotel, situated at Hosmer, in British Columbia, upon the lands described as Lots Numbers One (1) and Two (2), in Block Number Six (6), Map Number 772A (Kootenay), Nelson Land Registration District, in the Province of British Columbia, for the sale of beer by the glass or by the open bottle for consumption on the premises.

Dated this 22nd day of May, A.D. 1925.

Domenico Civitarese,
M22-5t Applicant.

WATER RIGHTS BRANCH

Amended Certificate of Approval.

1. Whereas on the 23rd of December, 1924, the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, was granted a further certificate of the approval of its undertaking relating to its application for a licence to divert and use for power purposes, 100 cubic feet of water a second of the water of Line Creek, a tributary of Fording River, and to store 15,000 acre feet of the said water in Grave Lake ;

2. And whereas by the said further Certificate of Approval the time for commencement and completion of the works for the diversion, storage and utilization of the water were limited to the 31st day of March, 1925, and the thirty-first day of December, 1925, respectively;

3. And whereas, in pursuance of the said application and of the said certificate, Authorization No. 917 to make surveys was duly issued to the said Company on the 28th day of January, 1925 ;

4. And whereas, by its petition filed the 11th day of March, 1925, the said company prays that the times limited by the said Certificate and authorization may be extended for a period of one year on the grounds, among others, that it has met with unforseen delays and difficulties in the prosecution of its surveys through the project being situated in a new country, the character of which is little known, and that the season and weather have been unfavorable for field work ;

5. And whereas the period within which objections to the said petition may be filed has expired and no objections have been filed ;

6. And whereas it is deemed advisable in the public interest that the prayer of the said petition be granted;

7. This is to certify that the Further Certificate of Approval of its undertaking granted to the East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, on the 23rd of December, 1924, is amended by striking out the figures 1925 where they occur in clause 7 of the said Certificate and substituting therefor the figures 1926.

This Certificate shall not in any way be deemed to be an approval of the plans of any works covered by the proposed undertaking, or to authorize the construction of any such works, but shall have the effect only of a certificate issued under the provisions of section 36 of the Water Act, and shall be subject to such provisions.

Dated at Victoria, B.C., this 11th day of May, 1925.

SENATE MAKES DYING KICK

Ottawa, June 20.—The Senate has fellen hard on the Home Bank bill. Had there been a vote the first afternoon the matter was discussed, there was considerable indication that the bill would havepassed,intact, but the more it was discussed the more objections were found, and ultimately these resulted in reference to a committee. And the committee has proceeded to apply the carver so extensively that not a great deal is left of the bill.

Roughly speaking, it is proposed to apply the relief measure to depositors up to $500, while above $500 it will be necessary for the depositors to establish their claims to benefit from government assistance. The principle adopted is the relief of need by compassionate allowance, not the concession of a moral claim. Having regard to the somewhat emphatic majority the bill had in the house, the Senate's action comes as a severe disappoinment to the Home Bank depositors, whose committee complained bitterly.

Their feelings are not assauged at all by the fact that on the previous night a loan of five millions was approved by the Senate to increase the facilities of the Quebec Harbor. Any action taken by the Senate in regard to the bill has to go back to the house for concurrence, but unless a conference between the two chambers results in some compromise, as rarely happens, there will be the alternative of taking the bill as amended by the Senate or having no bill at all. On the principle of the half loaf, it is presumed that the action of the Senate will be accepted.

The main changes in the bill are :

(1) The total amount of reimbursement is reduced from$5,450,000 to $3,000,000.

(2) Deposits not exceeding $500 are to be reimbursed outright to the extent of 35 per cent. of the claim without investigation by the commissioner.

(3) Claims for reimbursement on deposits of more than $500 will be heard by the president of the exchequer court, who, as commissioner, will make awards not exceeding 35 per cent. of the deposit, in cases were special need is proven.

(4) The bill denies any moral responsibility on the part of the government.

(5) The following are excluded entirely from the benefits of the bill : Directors of the Home Bank ; senators and members of the House of Commons, the government of any province, city, town, country, municipality, parish, school boards, educational instutition, or other similar corporation or institution ; any corporation, association, society, partnership, club, friendly or mutual benefit society, religious or church corporation, labor association or similar organization or association.

(6) Any creditor failing to take advantage of the act within twelve months of its passing will be barred from receiving any benefit under it.

(7) The Ministr of Finance must annually submit to parliament within 14 days of the opening of the session, a detailed statement showing the names of all persons who have received aid under the act, and the amount.

PRACTICAL RULES FOR MOTHER

Every normal mother in the world strives earnestly to give her children the food she supposes to be "good" for them, and nowadays the elements of dietetics are pretty generally understood; and yet we are authoratively assured that many a child develops bad food habits through fault of a mother who perhaps is blissfully unaware of her own responsibllity for conditions that give her no end of worriment. According to Dr. Douglas A. Thom, writing in Hygeia (Chicago), every mother may advantageously ask herself certain questions calculated to reveal her possible mistakes. Here are the questions, with corrective hints that merit careful attention :

1. Do you fret about what your child eats and whether he is getting enough ? If so, very likely at every meal-time you make him star actor in a little drama, and every child likes to be the center of attention.

2. Do you talk about his eating habits to other persons in his presence ? If so any child would feel important and want to keep up being different.

3. Do you insist on feeding him after he is old enough to feed himself, just because it is easier than to teach him ? Better let him spill a little until he learns, than to become dependent and fr ful.

4. Is some on else in the family very particular about his foods ? Of course a child likes to imitate older persons.

5. Do you choose plain, nourishing, easily digested foods and cook them well ?

6. Do you let your child taste everything that grown persons have ? A child used to having tea, coffee and highly seasoned foods and too many sweets has lost a healthy appetite.

7. Do you serve foods as attractively as you can and not in too large quantities ?

8. Do you feed your child regularly? A crild can not go along without food, but eating between meals means that his little stomach is overworked.

9. Do you find that he sleeps poorly, is irritable, has violent tempers or strange fears ? If so, not only his eating but his other habits are probably disarranged.

10. Do you know that a child who is angry, fearful or worried cannot digest food properly ? Overcome the emotion first and then let him eat.

11. Do you create an unpleasant scene in an effort to make him eat ?

12. Do you create jealousy by del nying to one child what another has ? The child who is refused what other children have should know why.

13. Do you try t o show your authority by making a child eat anything just because you say so ? It is better to show that you are reasonable and expect him to be; that you consult his preferences when you can, but if a food is needed for health he must try to learn to like it.

14. Do you suggest to the child your own doubt as to whether he is going to eat ? A child is quick to refuse if he senses that you expect him to, and as quick to eat what is offered without question.

15. Are you so afraid of your child missing a meal that when he refuses what you give him, you provide something else ? Missing a meal will not hurt him. Leave the food twenty or thirty minutes and then take it away and give nothing else until the next meal.

HON. DR. KING FOR DEPOSITORS

The Hon. Dr. King, speaking in the recent debate on the Home Bank Question, said: "Tis is a claim made by the depositors, many of whom lost their all in the unfortunate occurrences that took place in the years 1916 to 1918. Without laying any blame at the door of anyone, there were conditions existing in the country that did create moral claims, and many moral claims have been assented to by this government. As far as the constituency I have the honor to represent is concerned, I know the people resident there. Many of them come from the eastern provinces, from the Maratimes, many of them come from the Old Country, Scotland and Wales and many of them from the continent of Europe. I had close associations with these people for a number of years and they are not the type of people who appeal for compasionate allowances. I have seen them under great trials and tribulations. I was in the City of Fernie following the explosion where one hundred of the husbands and sons of the mining people had been killed in one blast. I have seen them when fire destroyed their homes, practicaly wiping out the city completely, so that they were required to move out for a period. I have seen them also during the periods of epidemics, when there was sickness in every household and death at their doors. I refer to the epidemic of 1918. I know the fortitude of these people and I know that they accepted the situation on every occasion as something beyond their control, but thy met it standing up. When I visited the City of Fernie on New Year's day in 1924 I found a body of men and women of an entirely different mind and disposition from that which they possessed under other trials and tribulations. I think Mr. Chairman, that this is one case probably in the history of this country when we can take a different view without establishing a precedent, because I hope in our time and generation we never will have conditions existing in Canada such as we experienced during the war period when it was necessary for ministers on account of the war and conditions then existing, to do probably what they would not have done under normal conditions. I do not think the amendment should be considered for a moment. This subject was under discussion in parliament in 1914. The legislation for the relief of the Farmers' Bank passed passed this house on that occasion, but unfortunately it did not receive the support of the upper chamber.. However, those conditions were not comparable with the conditions existing in 1916 and 1917 and I quite agree with my honorable friend from Calgary (Mr. Shaw), and as the representative from East Koootenay, I say that it would be agreeable to me to see their total loss made good to the depositors. The depositors' committee I think have shown good judgment and forsight in the fact that they have, considering all conditions surrounding the claim and the circumstances connected with it, indicated that if the government of Canada or Parliament will vote $5,450,000 to be expended in liquidation of their claims, that should be accepted as reasonable and fair compensation for their losses in this connection. I trust that this resolution will receive the same support this evening as was accorded it this afternoon. I find in every part of the house a dsire on the part of members that there should be some measure of relief, and I trust the bill will carry successfully through this house and through the upper chamber.

Canada's Affairs Discussed at Railway Meeting

A glimpse at a corner of the big room in which Canadian Pacific Shareholders gather to hear the annual address of Chairman and President E. W. Beatty on national business conditions and the Company's affairs.

The annual shareholders' meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway is one of the important financial events of the year as naturally follows from the position held by that company as a great national institution the activities of which touch every branch of Canadian life. On the first Wednesday in every May the shareholders gather to hear the president tell of the company's past year and to elect directors to carry on its great work. At these meetings are always to be found many of the country's leaders in industry, commerce and finance representing all parts of the Dominion, and the president's report is looked upon as an epitome of business conditions throughout the whole of Canada. Of course, all the shareholders cannot attend, they are far too many and they are too widely scattered, particularly in recent years when the holding of Canadian Pacific stock or bonds has greatly grown in popularity among the small investors of the country. If all were present the gathering would be a great mass meeting and the country towns, villages and even the farming districts of Canada would be represented to a surprising extent.

The meeting was this year held on May 6 and the chairman and president, Mr. E. W. Beatty, drew attention to the company's lessened earnings during 1924 which had resulted from a decrease in the movement of manufactured articles and a smaller crop movement for the year. These conditions, he said, had continued during the first three months of the present year, but during the month of April the decrease in gross earnings were appreciably less which gave ground for the belief that conditions were slowly improving. With a good crop, particularly in Western Canada, there was cause for confidence that he results of the year's operations would be reasonably satisfactory. He pointed out, however, that neither rail nor ocean traffic had reached normal proportions and that until they did so the company's expenditures for capital, maintenance and general operation must be curtailed so far as may be without impairing the high standard at which the property has always been maintained. Mr. Beatty referred to the government proposal to subsidize a line of freight steamers on the Atlantic under the proposed Petersen contract and pointed out that particularly during the past 2 years Atlantic shipping operations have been conducted with very unsatisfactory financial returns. He said the companies felt they had been placed on trial and therefore were making the fullest disclosures of the traffic conditions and of the results of the operation of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Ltd.

Attention was drawn to the need of an aggressive immigration policy and the unsatisfactory results so far this year when 10,792 immigrants came to Canada as against 23,880 during the same period of the previous year. Mr. Beatty pointed out there was nothing fundamentally unsound in Canada's immigration laws, but there was an apparent lack of concerted and definite policies in Great Britain and on the continent. There was encouragement in the fact that emigration from the British Isles was becoming more active, enquiries from the United States were becoming more numerous and the continental field showed considerable promise.

In this address Mr. Beatty felt impelled by the prominence which the general railway situation has recently been accorded in parliament and through the country generally to make some references thereto. He noticed and welcomed an awakening of public interest quite contrary to the disinterested apathy heretofore displayed by Canadians towards transportation matters. Mr. Beatty drew attention to the statement often heard that the present railway situation in the Dominion was due to the failure in former years of private undertakings, the inference being that defects of private ownership and administration resulted in the establishment of public ownership. Mr. Beatty pointed out that the principal causes of the present unsatisfactory conditions "was undoubtedly the formation from time to time of policies of extensive new construction and duplication of existing lines, in most, if not all cases by the government or with government assistance and in anticipation of a much greater development than the country has enjoyed."

Failure was almost inevitable, Mr. Beatty continued, since the undertakings were so far in advance of the country's existing or immediate future requirements, and it did not to him seem material whether the over-ambitious projects were launched by the government of the day or were conceived by individuals or companies. In each case these undertakings received the financial support of the government and the approval of the people of Canada, without which they could not have been completed, but in neither case could their break-down be attributed to private ownership.

In consequence of the existing conditions, there was, said Mr. Beatty, a general and deep-rooted desire for railway economies, for the elimination where possible of intensive competition and duplicate services and the utilization where feasible of joint instead of separate terminal facilities. In this connection the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway pointed out that the position of his company was unique. He stated that many of the lines of railway now forming the National System were not constructed as part of one railway conception, but were conceived and designed to compete with each other as separate transportation units, while each of them, in addition, was in competition with the Canadian Pacific system.

The consolidation of the National System had, he said, brought, in consequence under one administration, lines which were originally designed to be competitive and in no sense part of a unified system. On the other hand, the Canadian Pacific Railway had been conceived and constructed as one system, had been extended from time to time always as a single system, each part of which was planned to support the other. There had further been heavy expenditure of public monies with a view to bringing the national system lines to a higher state of efficiency, in particular by the addition of much modern equipment and power. Since little new traffic had been developed in Canada in the last five years and a very moderate amount of new territory opened, the expenditures were aimed to take from the Canadian Pacific Railway as much as improved service and large expenditures could accomplish.

As to the larger question of the future relations which the two systems would bear to one another, Mr. Beatty said: "We propose to work in the greatest possible harmony with the National Railways consistent with the interests of your property and of its owners. I am convinced that the vast majority of Canadians, especially the business interests of the country, do not desire to see the company either absorbed or menaced..... I should add, too, that no proposals of any kind from the company to the Government or from the Government to the company have been made save those to do with the question of reducing economic waste through the elimination so far as possible of duplicate services."

SOLVING THE PROBLEM

Commenting on the statement of Sir John Aird that the best solution of the railway problem in Canada was the addition of five milion persons to the population in the next few years, the Canadian Gazette, published in London, Eng., declarse that this need of population is a very serious issue in the Dominion. It stresses the fact that if Great Britain, with its great army of unempoyed and its millions of pounds paid in doles, cannot or will not send settlers to Canada, then such settlers must come from European countries, which is a matter which concerns this country quite as much as it does Canada. The Gazette concludes—"The question arises, would it not be better to spend money training men to fit them for life overseas than to expend it in doles?" A fair question this and if it is answered in the affirmative, stipulation should be made that these men be trained for life on Canadian farms and that such training should be given in Canada rather than in the Old Country.

Within the past week an official of a religious institution, active in British immgration work, made the statement that it was now difficult to get young men to come to Canada from Britain, the reason being that so soon as they finish with school and enter the labor field they are entitled to the "dole," In other words they are more than content to remain in England in idleness, collecting from the government the pittance that makes existence possible, rather than come to a country where an independent future is possible for them. If the virus of the iniquitious "dole" system has gone that far in Britain it is surely time that the authorities planned such limitations of it as will at least save the youth of the country from the effects of its debasing and degrading influence.

Admitting everything that may be said in favor of unemployment relief for the out-of-works of Britain, one may not with safety close one's eyes to the danger attending wholesale and more or less permanent state aid which enables men and women to live in idleness. The British Government recognizes this danger and so far as possible has met it by proceeding with new public works to the limit of its financial means. It might consider the proposal of the Gazette with seriousness as a further aid in getting away from the great "dole" evil that now faces it.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to 10 head.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

G.W.V.A. EXONERATED

The Calgary Herald says : A special Senate committee investigating administration of canteen funds and soldier disablement funds has reported that the sale of poppies on armistice Day by the Great War Veterans' Association has been commericalized, the Association having profited thus o he exent of $25,148.15. In the language of the street, what does the Senate committee mean—commercalized.

The poppies sold by the G.W.V.A. on Armistice Day are made by disabled veterans who are well paid for their work. The Armistice Day tagging is one of the few tag day occasions when the people enjoy being tagged. They know the funds thus raised are used for legitimate purposes among the veterans of the Great War and their dependents. Knowing this they are generous with their offerings and rejoice rather than worry the higher the percentage of profit made on the sale of these poppies by the association. As a matter of fact the people do not buy the poppies, they are given to them to wear as evidence that they have fittingly celebrated Armistice Day by contributing to the relief funds of the G.W.V.A.

Either the Senate committee has a wholly erroneous conception of the Armistice Day poppie business, or is driven to dire extremity in an effort to produce some results calculated to justify the investigation it has been conducting. If this is all it has to report as out of gear or improper, the association officials are to be congratulated upon the clean record of their organization.

DESTRUCTION OF GAME BIRDS

The Spokesman-Review, commenting on the destruction of game birds in the north-west, asks the question : How long will our game birds survive? It goes on to say : Washington with its miles of seashore, its forests, uplands, lakes, streams, mountains and marshes, is a paradise for bird life. S. F. Rathbun, supervisor of the Washington department of fisheries and game, told the Western Outdoor Life conference in Spokane that the State has 400 varities of bird life, 100 being classed as game birds.

But they are rapidly becoming exterminated and some species will soon be as extinct as the wild pigeon is to-day in the midle west. True lovers of birds, not the hog variety of sportsman who wants to fill his bag with the limit as often as he can during the season, are apprehensive concerning the future of our birds. Mr. Ratrbun spoke feelingly about it and with cause.

Washington to-day has 28 varities of ducks, and of 12 varities of geese in the United States, Washington possesses eight. Washington has 35 out of 68 known breeds of shore birds, eight species of grouse, three of quail and many varities of other species, The state should be proud of them and preserve them.

The automobile is an easy means to a fatal end for the game birds, enabling the hunter to cover distances to reach them in abundance that were out of his reach a few years ago. Modern guns and improved ammunition are putting the odds all against the birds. Mr. Rathbun warns that present shooting methods will soon wipe out some species.

Every warning that is contained in the above statement regarding the State of Washington applies with equal force to British Columbia, and it is time the B.C. Government took a keener interest in the subject.

Here and There

"Barring accidents, we are in for the greatest wheat crop in the history of Canada," says Andrew Kelly, of the Western Flour Mills. Mr. Kelly thinks the prairie wheat crop this year is off to the best start it ever had.

The first lot of Scottish boys enrolled as farm apprentices for Canada arrived recently on the Canadian Pacific Liner "Metagama." They were brought out under the auspices of the British Immigration and Colonization Association in cooperation with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Canada's progress in the world of letters is illustrated by the fact that there is a Canadian literary section as one of the features of the Canadian pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley. It presents French-Canadian and English-Canadian literature from the earliest dates down to 1924.

Ten conventions, comprising almost 3,000 delegates, will be held in Montreal between now and August 31, according to an announcement by the Montreal Tourist and Convention Bureau. It is hoped to obtain the 1926 Kiwanian Convention for this city which would mean that some 7,000 Kiwanians will visit Montreal next summer.

The Crystal Gardens, the splendid new pleasure resort for the city of Victoria, B.C., will be opened at the end of June and will form one of the unique attractions of that city. It will be both a winter and summer garden and possesses a salt water swimming tank, claimed to be the largest on the continent. Citizens of Victoria are already using the Gardens prior to its official opening.

Screening at the Capitol Theatre, Montreal, of the scenes through which the University of Montreal across-Canada trip and the similar journey of the Teachers' Federation of Canada will pass, attracted a large and appreciative audience. The film was a revelation of the beauty of Canadian cities and scenery. The University of Montreal trip will start from that city July 7 and will return July 28. The trip of the Teachers' Federation will commence July 20 and will conclude August 10.

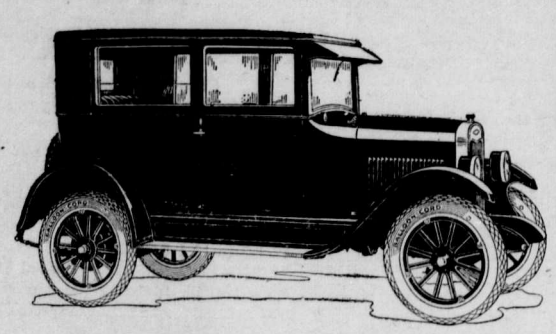
Frank W. Ashby, secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of Australia, a recent visitor at Banff, said he found Canada to have a most delightful climate and "cities which are more modern than our own." Mr. Ashby said the impression in Australia had been that Herschell Island and Baffin's Bay were linked up municipally with Montreal and Winnipeg, and thought that the best way to correct these geographical misconceptions was to encourage more tourist travel from other parts of the Empire.

That 4.4 beer now selling in the Province of Ontario had met with approval and was considered quite satisfactory by people of the province was the statement of Premier G. Howard Ferguson prior to his departure recently for England on the Canadian Pacific Liner "Empress of Scotland." Mr. Ferguson will endeavor to interest British and foreign capitalists in the industrial development of Ontario province.

W. J. Uren, Assistant General Superintendent, Quebec District, Canadian Pacific Railway, recently presented thirty employees of the system with certificates of First Aid, covering first to fourth year work. Mr. Uren said about thirty per cent. of Canadian Pacific Railway employees had passed examinations in First Aid and he was gratified to think that no accident could occur on the system without the high probability of there being some person on the spot who could afford expert First Aid.

UNEMPLOYED IN BRITAIN

Seven years after the signing of the armistice comes official announcement from London that the number of unempoyed in Great Britain increased in the week ending June 6th by 60,778, the most formidable addition in along time ; and that Great Britain's unemployed now total 1,247-300—244,385 more than a year ago. What's the reason ?



The major cause is the restrictive attitude of British labor—its stubborn refusal to recognize the economic penalties of the war and its adherence to a false doctrine of restricted output that was hard for British industries to carry in peace and now is almost impossible. As a result of that policy, blindly enforced by the labor unions, British trade can not compete successfully with other industrial countries. Wages in Great Britain, though only one-half those paid in the United States, are still much higher than those paid in any other competing country.

British industry, perhaps, could carry that handicap, but when the labor unioists add the additional handicap of a shorter working day and ruthless requirements of restricted output, the results are manufacturing costs that are largely prohibitive of trade extension.

The other cause of unemployment is the dole paid out of the public treasury to the unemployed. That system carried on now for several years is still another handicap on the country's manufacturers.

So the unemployment problem is the modren "Old man of the Sea," as throttling as the fabled incubus of the Arabian Nights that mounted and clung to the shoulders of Sinbad and could not be shaken off.—Spokesman-Review.

For Lasting Service

Two things account for the popularity of Barrett Sheathings: their uniformly high quality, and their low cost per year of service.

Barrett Tarred Sheathings are unexcelled for siding, for lining under roofs and floors—for all purposes demanding a rugged, wind-proof sheathing that is proof against rot, mildew and vermin.

Barrett Dry Sheathings are equally satisfactory for use wherever a tarred sheathing is not required.

Barrett SHEATHINGS

We recommend Barrett Sheathings. We know that they're 100% right—always give satisfactory service.

There is a Barrett Sheathing and a Barrett Roofing to meet every building requirement. Come in and talk it over.

BASE BALL EXCITEMENT

The baseball game between Vulcan and Fernie last Sunday did not come up to expectations, as Vulcan turned in a very listless game, probably due due to their strenuous week in which they played eight games.

Fernie ,on the other hand, played their usual consistent game, the Fernie batters going on a batting rampage at the expense of Manning, the Vulcan pitcher, garning 21 hits for a total of 34 bases.

Jacobs, for Fernie, held Vulcan well in hand during the full game, allowing two singles and walking one.

Vulcan	1	2	6

On Tuesday the Coal Co. ball team played their return game with Michel, this game officially opening the new park at that place. After a few preliminary remarks by Mr. W. R. Wilson on sport he walked out to the pitcher's mound and showed the fans that he still had the zip on his fast one by striking out Mr. Geo. Fisher, of Michel.

The game proceeded after the official opening and in one of the fastest matches seen at Michel this year the Fernie team won by a score of 11-8. Jacobs and Sikora did mound duty for Michel and tamed the Fernie sluggers to a considerable extent. Bishop, pitching his first game this season, did as well as could be expected in his initial start. The Fernie team played errorless ball behind him.

On Sunday, June 28, the Calgary White Sox, leaders of the Calgary City league will try and carry back to Calgary with them the coveted Brewery trophy. This is the first team to challenge for the trophy since the Fernie team won it from Rockyford last year, and the baseball fans of Fernie should turn out en masse on this occasion. Michel have called off their football and Base games and are coming to Fernie 100 per cent. strong. The probable batteries for the game which starts at 2 p.m. sharp are, Calgary, Walker and Henderson; Fernie, Jacobs and McTeer The second game will start at 5.30 sharp and if a third game is necessary it will be played on Monday, June 29th, at 5.30 p.m. Come out and boost.

For the First of July the Sports Committee have lined up one of the fastest independent teams in the country, and one that Fernie fans had the pleasure of looking over last year, "Billy Wilson's Miners" from Great Falls, Mont. There is a certain rivalry between the two teams, and Fernie is anxious to avenge last year's defeat.

On July 5th Whitefish are booked for a doubleheader, and on the 4th of July it is rumored that Vulcan will come back after the Brewery Cup, providing Fernie wins over Calgary.

On the 19th of July, Kimberley, with an unbeaten record in the East Kootenay League, will be seen in action here. Turn out and see these games. It will be worth your while.

FERNIE WINS AT TENNIS

The Coleman Tennis Club played a return match with the Fernie Club on June 21st. The Fernie Club was successful in winning 6 of the 10 events played, so honors are again even between the two clubs. Miss Robertson, of Coleman, was unfortunate in spraining her ankle during a game, but apart from this accident no untoward happening marred the day. A very recherche tea was served by the ladies of the Coleman Club, which was greatly appreciated by all the players.

Mixed Doubles: Miss Geigerich and Hunsley of Fernie defeated Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham, Coleman, 6-3, 6-1

Ladies' Singles—Miss Geigerich, Fernie , defeated Mrs. A. Graham, Coleman, 6-3, 6-1.

Men's Doubles—Lindoe and Barnes, Coleman, defeated Auld and Chell Fernie, 6-3, 6-2.

Sanborn and Hayne, of Fernie, defeated McDonald and Kasney, Coleman, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Rippon and Zarnke, Colman, defeated Hunsley and Stewart, Fernie, 2-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Men's Singles—Hunsley, Fernie, defeated Barnes, Coleman, 6-2, 6-1.

Auld, Fernie, defeated McDonald, Coleman, 6-3, 5-7, 9-7.

Chell, Fernie, defeated Graham, Coleman, 9-7, 4-6, 6-4.

Kwasney, Coleman, defeated Sanborn, Fernie, 6-3, 6-3.

FERNIE GIRL WEDS.

On Tuesday morning, June 30th, a quiet but very pretty wedding took place at Christ Church, when Miss Ruth McLean only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McLean, of Fernie, was united in marriage to Mr. Donald S. Dewar, son of Mr. D. J. Dewar, of Drumheller, the rector, Rev. H. Oswald, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with oriental poppies, lillies and ferns, with peonies on the altar.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, looking very charming in an ensemble costume of tan crepe, with hat to match, and carrying a boquet of roses and lillies. She was attended by Mrs. Harper, as matron-of-honor, wearing a smart frock of peach crepe and carrying a boquet of roses and iris. Mr. Harper acted as best man and Mrs. Meade presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride and groom left by motor for a honeymoon trip, Mrs. Dewar going away in a Beige dress with coat and hat ensuite.

CELEBRATION BIG SUCCESS

Wednesday, July 1st, turned out to be a beautiful day for the local celeration and every item on the program was carried out on schedule.

The pet parade, fathered by Tom Prentice, was in many ways the most unique feature that has ever been pulled off on a local sports' day in Fernie. There were only about twenty-five or thirty kiddies turned out with their animals, but many of them had the most interesting and pleasing ideas and they sure delighted the large crowd which turned out at an early hour to see them parade. The judges were so pleased with the little ones and their pets that after awarding the six prizes advertised for the competition they decided that every child who turned out in the pet parade should be awarded 50 cents.

The novelty of the parade has created so much interest that this promises in future to be an annual event at the Dominion Day celebrations.

Following is a list of the prize winners in this unique contest :

Frank Hicks, 1st prize, James Stree, second ; Jack and James Carnwath 3rd ; Thomas Wilson, 4th ; Crissy Machin, 5th ; John Cunliffe, 6. The following others received 50 cents each ; A. Unis, Margaret McGladery, Delphine Denison, Phylis Lawrence, Robert Puckey, L. Woodhouse, Agnes Hynds, Robert Derbyshire, P. Street, A. Coutt, Elsie Whitehouse, Bernard Moffatt, John Minton.

Immedately after the pet parade the bicycle races took place on Howland Avenue and both were keenly contested.. The race for boys under 16 was won by Louis Maffioli, Billy Hinton coming in secod, and Billy Brown third.

Gustave Peters got first money in the race for boys under 13 , Jack Connick second and Douglas Corrie 3rd.

The big parade turned out to be the real attraction of the day. With over a hundred decorated cars and many beautiful floats it was hard indeed for the judges to reach a decision as to whom the prizes should be awarded to.

However, in the best decorated car class, they finally picked out Dave Zimmerman's driven by Alfred Thompson. Mrs. N. E. Suddaby was awarded second and Harry Wilkes third. The other winners in the parade were Business Floats—1st, Fernie Meat Market ; 2nd, City Fire Truck.

Societies—1st. Tokio Girls ; 2nd, Elks ; 3rd, Robt. J. Black Chapter I.O.D.E.

Comic Float—1st Geo. Goole.

Bicycles—1st Lillian Puckey, Wm. Lawrence, 2nd.

Clowns—J. T Puckey, first ; Wm. Lawrence, second.

Special Prize—Hilda Minton, Brittannia.

The parade committee certainly did wonderful work and they got results as it was by far the best affair of the kind that Fernie has seen for many years.

At the conclusion of the parade the large crowd drew together at the Court House grounds to witness the crowning of Miss Mary Hughes, the queen elected for the day. This beautiful ceremony was carried out after Mr. Sherwood Herchmer had made the inaugural address for the occassion, in which he gave a brief outline of the history of the campaign to raise money for the children's swimming pool.

The queen was crowned by Miss Dorthy Corrie assisted by Miss Mary Megale, the two candidates who participated in the contest. The gowns worn by the three young ladies were magnificent.

Rowland Harrison and Gordon Perry looked very proud in their beautiful page costumes as they came forward to make the draw for the prizes for their competition. The winners were :

1st Prize—Ticket No 1560 held by Jacobits.

2nd Prize—Ticket 1759, held by E. Colten.

3rd Prize—Ticket No. 6093, held by C. Stevenson.

The queen and her two maids of honor drew the ballots out for the winners in their competition. The lucky ones were :

1st Prize—Ticket 17,362, held by P. Ruschal.

2nd Prize—Ticket 18,798, held by W.A.I.

3rd Prize—Ticket 6,168, held by Dr. Rice.

SUCCESSFUL COMPETITIONS

Both competitions for raising funds for the children's swimming pool were successful beyond the committee's most extragavant dreams.

The page competition with nine candidates brought in some $457. Principal Ed. Martin, who was the originator of this idea, is to be congratulated on its success. The committee voted each child in the contest $250 and $12.50 to each of the winners. Little Arthur Harrison and Gordon Perry were the happy kids who carried off the honors.

The queen competition was very keenly contested and to realize the work done by these young ladies and their friends one has only to look at the magnificent total of over $3,000 garnered in for the good cause. The contest was always in doubt, there being only a paltry $80 between the winner and the low candidate when A. J. Moffatt, who had charge of the count, announced the result.

All the young ladies appeared to enter into the spirit of the fight with the best of good feeling and the losers were the first to congratulate the winner.

Too much praise cannot be given the Italians for their magnificent effort on behalf of Mary Megale, who was the last candidate to enter the field.

The Canadians fell down a little in their loyalty, but Dorthy and her close friends did wonderful work and only lost by some $17

We extend hearty congratulations to Mary Hughes and her hustling friends who carried off the honors of the fight. They won by hard work pressed rigt along to the last minute.

The Committee were so pleased with the result of the queen competition that they voted $100 to the winner and $75 each to the losing candidates to be used in supplying their Dominion Day robes.

The sincere thanks of the citizens of Fernie is hereby extended to these three young ladies who spent so much time and worked so hard to raise funds for this worthy community enterprise.

FERNIE HOLDS BREWERY CUP

Fernie had a real baseball game at the local park on Sunday last when the Calgary White Sox went down to defeat in an effort to capture the Calgary Brewery trophy, which our local team annexed a little over a year ago. The visitors, who are supposed to be the strongest aggregation in Alberta, arrived in town considerably strengthened by additions from other clubs, for they were determined to win. The game , which was to be double header, went 16 innings, and was such a nerve- wrecker from start to finish and lasted so long that the second game was postponed until Monday at 5 p.m.

It will be a long time before Fernieites will have the opportunity of seeing another such fight as that staged on Sundey for the simple reason that they don't happen only about once in a life time. Both teams were up on their toes from start to finish and thecrowd were keyed up to the highest pitch throughout. Calgary players went home completelysatisfied that Fernie has a real ball team.

It was a pitcher's battle from start to finish, the famous Walker, of Calgary and our own stalwart Jacobs, hurling air-tight ball. Two singles and two sacrifice hits by the White Sox in the third brought in the first run. In the fifth, Ruschal, of Fernie, the first up, got to first base by being hit by a pitched ball, went to third on a wild throw by the catcher trying to put him out at second, and scored on Morgan's single.

From the fifth to the fourteenth innings it was close ball, although on numerous occasions Walker seemed to be weakening, but always seemed to recover in time to save the situation. In the fourteenth Gerlitz reached first on an error, the only one made by Fernie in the 16 innings. He was sacrificed to second, and scored on Borgeans' single after two men were down. In Fernie's frame the score was again tied, Bishop of Fernie, reaching first on an error ; Jacobs sacrificed and Hovan singled, driving in the runer. In the last half of the sixteenth innings, Bishop again singled, Jacobs sacrificed and Bishop scored the winning run when Shand's liner thrugh third was too hot to handle, after two men were down.

The second game of the series, while a good exhibition of ball, was not anything like the struggle of the previous day, both sides showing the effects of Sunday's prolongued battle. Zeke Sikora, our junior pitcher, occupied the mound for Fernie, and Lucas, of the Calgary Hustlers, for the White Sox. Zeke is only a beginner at the game but with the exception of the first inning when he appeared to be suffering a little from stage fright, he pitched fine ball and won a grand victory for the home team. There is a lot of credit coming to Zeke as this is the first time that he has pitched against a team from the out side.

The score in the second game was 7-11, Fernie thus retaining the trophy.

MINERS BIG PICNIC

The British Columbia Miners Federation of Fernie are responsible for the making of a red letter day of Thursday, July 2nd, for the kiddies of all ages in this city. For the first time in many years the Fernie miners held a picnic for their families and made it the finest outing ever staged in this locality.

Early Thursday morning two special trains left Fernie for the picnic grounds at Hosmer, and during the day those who were unable to leave by these trains were taken in autos until well on in the afternoon. A conservative estimate of the number of people present was placed at 3,500 constituting a record for a gathering of its kind in this district

On arrival of the special trains in the morning, Mr. T. Hesketh, chairman of the picnic committee and Mr. H. A. Bryant, president of the federation, spoke briefly to the picnicers and formally opened the sports. A program of all kinds and for all ages was immediately commenced and carried through to the last item, prizes far too numerous to mention were awarded to successful competitors in the various events.

A swimming hole had been specially prepared in a nearby creek and a great number of picnickers spent th day in bathing suits disporting themselves in the cool waters of mountstream. An orchestra supplied music for dancing continuously throughout the day and the dancing green was well patronized.

Ice cream, fruits, soft drinks, tea, coffee and cocoa were supplied to the entire gathering free of charge by the Miners Fereration and when it is stated that 25,000 ice cream cones alone were given away, some idea of the tremendous undertaking of such a picnic may be understood.

The special trains returned to Fernie about seven o'clock in the evening bearing a tired but happy and enthusiastic throng, back to their homes.

FERNIE GIRL WEDS.

On Tuesday morning, June 30th, a quiet but very pretty wedding took place at Christ Church, when Miss Ruth McLean only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McLean, of Fernie, was united in marriage to Mr. Donald S. Dewar, son of Mr. D. J. Dewar, of Drumheller, the rector, Rev. H. Oswald, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with oriental poppies, lillies and ferns, with peonies on the altar.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, looking very charming in an ensemble costume of tan crepe, with hat to match, and carrying a boquet of roses and lillies. She was attended by Mrs. Harper, as matron-of-honor, wearing a smart frock of peach crepe and carrying a boquet of roses and iris. Mr. Harper acted as best man and Mrs. Meade presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride and groom left by motor for a honeymoon trip, Mrs. Dewar going away in a Beige dress with coat and hat ensuite.

CELEBRATION BIG SUCCESS

Wednesday, July 1st, turned out to be a beautiful day for the local celeration and every item on the program was carried out on schedule.

The pet parade, fathered by Tom Prentice, was in many ways the most unique feature that has ever been pulled off on a local sports' day in Fernie. There were only about twenty-five or thirty kiddies turned out with their animals, but many of them had the most interesting and pleasing ideas and they sure delighted the large crowd which turned out at an early hour to see them parade. The judges were so pleased with the little ones and their pets that after awarding the six prizes advertised for the competition they decided that every child who turned out in the pet parade should be awarded 50 cents.

The novelty of the parade has created so much interest that this promises in future to be an annual event at the Dominion Day celebrations.

Following is a list of the prize winners in this unique contest :

Frank Hicks, 1st prize, James Stree, second ; Jack and James Carnwath 3rd ; Thomas Wilson, 4th ; Crissy Machin, 5th ; John Cunliffe, 6. The following others received 50 cents each ; A. Unis, Margaret McGladery, Delphine Denison, Phylis Lawrence, Robert Puckey, L. Woodhouse, Agnes Hynds, Robert Derbyshire, P. Street, A. Coutt, Elsie Whitehouse, Bernard Moffatt, John Minton.

Immedately after the pet parade the bicycle races took place on Howland Avenue and both were keenly contested.. The race for boys under 16 was won by Louis Maffioli, Billy Hinton coming in secod, and Billy Brown third.

Gustave Peters got first money in the race for boys under 13 , Jack Connick second and Douglas Corrie 3rd.

The big parade turned out to be the real attraction of the day. With over a hundred decorated cars and many beautiful floats it was hard indeed for the judges to reach a decision as to whom the prizes should be awarded to.

However, in the best decorated car class, they finally picked out Dave Zimmerman's driven by Alfred Thompson. Mrs. N. E. Suddaby was awarded second and Harry Wilkes third. The other winners in the parade were Business Floats—1st, Fernie Meat Market ; 2nd, City Fire Truck.

Societies—1st. Tokio Girls ; 2nd, Elks ; 3rd, Robt. J. Black Chapter I.O.D.E.

Comic Float—1st Geo. Goole.

Bicycles—1st Lillian Puckey, Wm. Lawrence, 2nd.

Clowns—J. T Puckey, first ; Wm. Lawrence, second.

Special Prize—Hilda Minton, Brittannia.

The parade committee certainly did wonderful work and they got results as it was by far the best affair of the kind that Fernie has seen for many years.

At the conclusion of the parade the large crowd drew together at the Court House grounds to witness the crowning of Miss Mary Hughes, the queen elected for the day. This beautiful ceremony was carried out after Mr. Sherwood Herchmer had made the inaugural address for the occassion, in which he gave a brief outline of the history of the campaign to raise money for the children's swimming pool.

The queen was crowned by Miss Dorthy Corrie assisted by Miss Mary Megale, the two candidates who participated in the contest. The gowns worn by the three young ladies were magnificent.

1st Prize—Ticket No 1560 held by Jacobits.

2nd Prize—Ticket 1759, held by E. Colten.

The queen and her two maids of honor drew the ballots out for the winners in their competition. The lucky ones were :

1st Prize—Ticket 17,362, held by P. Ruschal.

2nd Prize—Ticket 18,798, held by W.A.I.

3rd Prize—Ticket 6,168, held by Dr. Rice.

SUCCESSFUL COMPETITIONS

Both competitions for raising funds for the children's swimming pool were successful beyond the committee's most extragavant dreams.

The page competition with nine candidates brought in some $457. Principal Ed. Martin, who was the originator of this idea, is to be congratulated on its success. The committee voted each child in the contest $250 and $12.50 to each of the winners. Little Arthur Harrison and Gordon Perry were the happy kids who carried off the honors.

We extend hearty congratulations to Mary Hughes and her hustling friends who carried off the honors of the fight. They won by hard work pressed rigt along to the last minute.

The Committee were so pleased with the result of the queen competition that they voted $100 to the winner and $75 each to the losing candidates to be used in supplying their Dominion Day robes.

The sincere thanks of the citizens of Fernie is hereby extended to these three young ladies who spent so much time and worked so hard to raise funds for this worthy community enterprise.

A swimming hole had been specially prepared in a nearby creek and a great number of picnickers spent th day in bathing suits disporting themselves in the cool waters of mountstream. An orchestra supplied music for dancing continuously throughout the day and the dancing green was well patronized.

Ice cream, fruits, soft drinks, tea, coffee and cocoa were supplied to the entire gathering free of charge by the Miners Fereration and when it is stated that 25,000 ice cream cones alone were given away, some idea of the tremendous undertaking of such a picnic may be understood.

The special trains returned to Fernie about seven o'clock in the evening bearing a tired but happy and enthusiastic throng, back to their homes.

CELEBRATION HUGE SUCCESS

At the City Park the opening event was the first round of the football competition played between Hillcrest and Fernie's league team, the former winning by a score of 4-2 Michel and Fernie's Knights of Pythias team then went on the field to decide who would oppose Hillcrest in the final, Michel emerging successful by a score offive goals to two.

At three o'clock Fernie and Great Falls, Mont., baseball clubs took possession of the diamond and staged a very exciting game of baseball, the visitors finally winning the encounter by a score of five runs to three thus breaking the local club's chain of successive victories since the beginning of the season

Corey, who pitched for the visitors, was in great form and was rarely in trouble although Fernie's batters managed to connect at opportune times in three innings. He struck out thirteen batters, the highest number of strikeouts registered against Fernie this season

Blair on the mound for Fernie, was up against a hard proposition, the Great Falls team being one of the heaviest hitting teams in the North West. Good support behind him, however, saved him time and again. An error, however, was responsible for the visitors breaking into the scoring column in the fifth innings, when they scored three runs to take the lead. Fernie had scored a run in the first, Hovan scoring after singling, being sacrificed to second and coming home on Barger's three bagger. With three men down in the fourth frame Ruschal connected for a long two bagger and scored Fernie's second run on Morgan's hit. Fernie tied the score in the seventh innings, Ruschal again connected for two bases and scored when Blair's drive went through the Great Falls shortstop, The visitors, however, came back in the next innings and drove a couple of runs across the plate and then held Fernie hittless and scoreless to the end of the game.

Immediately after the baseball game, Hillcrest and Michel football teams took the field for the final game of that competition, the latter winning easily by a score of four goals to one.

During the afternoon an interesting program of juvenile folk dancing kept a large audience enthusiastically interested and keen competeition among the little dancers for the splendid prizes offered, was apparent.

The day was wound up with the usual Dominion Day Dance in Victoria Hall, a feature of the program which is always welcomed by the citizens and visitors alike.

CORBIN NOTES

School closed on Friday for Summer vacation. In the afternoon Miss S. G. Timaeus, principal of the school gave a demonstration of the work of the different grades before the school trustees and the parents of the children. Both the teachers and the children are to be congratulated upon the receipt of a first prize in Group B. for Physical Training by the Strathcona Trust.

Miss Louise Reynolds, of the school staff left for her home in Fernie, on Monday.

On Saturday evening, the school children are puting on an entertainment in the Club Hall. In view of past entertainments of this kind this is bound to be a huge success.

The newly organized football team travelled to Hillcrest on Saturday with a weak team owing to the mines being at work that day and suffering from lack of practice and were decisevly beaten by the score of 6-0. We are informed that the team were suffering from stage fright at the time though all admit that Hillcrest have a first class team. The return match will be held at Corbin on Sunday afternoon whe we expect to turn the tables on Hillcrest at that time.

A smart piece f work was pulled off by Constable Yearby last week when he raided two bootlegging joints and also a gambling game. Monday evening Bill Roznowski was found guilty of selling liquor and of being the owner of a common gaming house and five players were found notice of appeal on the liquor charge. Alex Gellety was also convicted on a charge of allowing drunkenness on his premises and fined. This should prove a warning to th eremainder of he fraternity who had begun to take chances on the absence of a policeman from the camp for about a month, Constable Yearby having relieved Constable Brindley of Natal, for two weeks and being on leave of absence for another two weeks.

The mines are working on an average of five days a week though they were held up two days last week on account of shortage of cars.

Dr. Rose and party of the Geological Survey passed through the camp duringthe week on his way to Flathead Townsite. We understand that he is correlating the Cretaceous series as far as the Internationalboundary completing the work left unfinished in 1917.

Mrs. R. H. Hincks and family have returned from Lethbridge, where her daughter Margaret underwent a very serious operation. We deeply sympathiz with Mr. and Mrs. Hincks and trust that their little girl's complete recovery will be very soon.

Miss Ellen Almond was the winner of a special prize on local general knowledge at the recent examinations at the school. This prize was kindly donated by Dr. Robert Elliot.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

FINAL H·BANK ARRANGEMENTS

Ottawa, June 27—At daybreak this morning the house of commons concluded the work of the session. During the last few minutes of the sitting, the commons concurred in the Home Bank amendments made by the senate. The supply bill to provide for all the public services for the financial year ending March 31, 1926, was given third reading and minor amendments made by the senate in the Dominion Elections Act were accepted. It only remained for the ceremony of prorogation to terminate the fourth session of the fourteenth parliament of Canada.

The amendments to the Home Bank bill were agreed to at 4.20 in the morning. The effect of the bill as finally passed is to make the amount of reimbursement $3,000,000 instead of $5,000,000. On deposits of $500 or less, 35 per cent. will be paid and claimants having larger deposits will be required to prove straitened circumstances before the president of the exchequer court of Canada. All organizations members of parliament and senators are excluded from the benefits of the bill.

DRUMHELLER TROUBLE

DRUMHELLER, June 29.— The police used a tearbomb on Monday morning in orded to disperse a crowd of about 40 men and women, which had congregated in front of the New castle village hall on the street running through the village.

The usual pickets were standing and lying along the railroad embankment near the crossing leading to the A. B. C. mine. Therewere about 14 of them. The pickets then left the embankment and walked across the road, halting along the houses on the north side of the street.

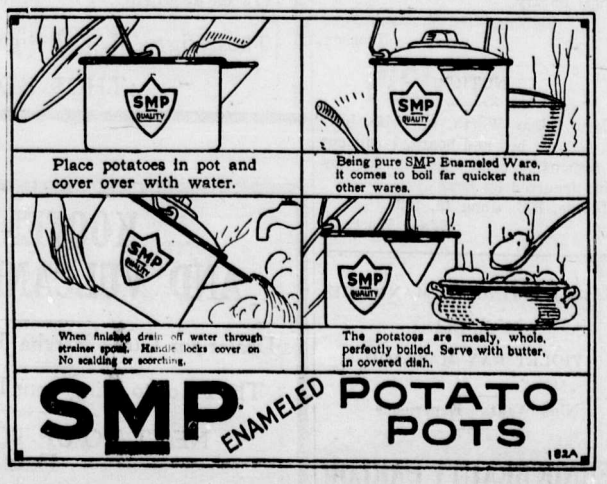
The police marched up to them and halted a little to the west of them. Inspector Nicholson stepped forward and told the crowd that the A. B. C. mine was not working that morning and asked them again to go.

Then he broke he tear bomb, the fumes of which a wind from the west drove into the crowd, which ran shouting. The police then kept the crowd moving along the north side of the road, the picket becoming a perambulating one.

The authorities are evidently working on the assumption that the new miners' organization is not lawful one and therefore has not the right to picket.

OLDHAM BY-ELECTION

In a straight contest with a Laborite, Mr W. M. Wiggins has been returned as theLiberal member for Oldham, a seat in which a by-election became necessary because of the appointment of Sir Edward William Grigg to be Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya. Sir Edward Grigg, who was the Liberal member for Oldham, has to his credit a remarkable record in the war and a wide experience in dealing with men and affairs in other fields. He received the D.S.O. in 1918. the C.M.G. in 1919, and the K.C.V.O. in 1920. Since he was appointed to the office of Governor of Kenya by the Baldwin Government that Government frowned upon the idea of a Conservative candidate being put into the field in the constituency from which he resigned his seat. The local Conservatives of Oldham decided that by putting one of their party intothe contest it would only mean in a triangular fight that the Laborite would be certain of election. It was, therefore, decided that the Liberal would not be opposed and Conservatives were urged to vote for Mr. Wiggins to prevent Mr. W. J. Tout, the Labor candidate, from securing election, Mr. Wriggles won by upwards of 5,000 votes and the result brings about no change in the state of parties in the British House of Commons.



GAMES AND BETTING

London Daily Chronicle: It is just as well that the bookmakers who appeared on a golf course last week royal and ancient game cannot altogether avoid being a spectacle for were promptly expelled from it. The non-players to watch; but it may hope to escape becoming one for them to bet on.

Baltimore Sun: The most practical question for the average man and woman today is not how to make the world safe for dehocracy, but how to make the automobile safe for the world. We have invented something which has become essential to modern life. But we have invented something which takes a high toll of life every day, which has virtually remade the land transportation systems of civilization, and which at the same time has made peace almost as destructive as some wars in its slaughter of human beings.

COMMUNICATION

In the parade Dominion Day there were many beautiful representations. But the best of all, I think, was the representation suggested to one's mind by the first three formations at the head of the parade, Mounted Police, Salvation Army, little children. A most beautiful represetation of Law, Grace and "A Little child shall Lead Them." I think the person who formed the parade should have had the prize.

DIRECTORS ACQUITTED

Home Bank directors, convicted by a county judge, have been acquitted by judges of the appeal court of Ontario. Right of further appeal to the Supreme Court of the Dominion still remains if the crown should so decide. It is not likely there will be any further appeal.

In the convicting Home Bank directors the county judge assumed that their business as directors of the bank was something more important than that of the rubber stamp—a convenience for the general manager. In his judgment it was their duty to have personal knowledge of statements to which their signatures were appended—something more than the mere sayso of the paid official who actually prepared the statements. In the appeal court judgment mere lack of such personal knowledge does not make a bank director liable in case the statement he signs is false and misleading.

Quoting from the judgment we learn that "the utmost that can be demanded from directors is that they shall not be ignorant because of wilfully shutting their eyes to the facts before them." If that is good law, almost anybody should be able to qualify as a bank director.

The judgment emphasizes this view of the case by adding the following: "The popular conception of a bank director's position centres around the word chosen to describe them. It is a complete misnomer and the sooner it is altered the better. H does not and cannot irect as the world is usually understood. The idea that a dozen men can each be and act as general managers to conduct affairs of the bank is absurd."!

With this interpretation of what a bank director is not, officially set before us, we may well wonder just what a bank director really is, and to what degree he serves any useful purpose in the organization. Also it must become evident, in view of the Home Bank affair and its outcome in the courts, that need is emphasized for more rigid supervision of Canadian banking institutions by federal government from whom their charters to do business come. Canada their general managers all stand high has few chartered banks today, and in public esteem. If, however, under the law, they are to be regarded as the only resources actually responsible fo rofficial statements correct or incorrect, there is surely need for some official scrutiny, keen and far reaching, which will in the interests of the public make certan as t othe reliability of the manager's statements.

PUTTING THE CLOCK BACK

Charleston News and Courier: Somebody said the European war would put the clock of civilization back a hundred years. And it must have done so. Else why are folks debating evolution as a new topic and proposing the idea of secession as a brand new remedy for sectional discordances?.

PRIVATE IMPORTATION

The Senate has again been the means of preventing the Government of British Clumbia having a monopoly of the liquor traffic by postponing any amendment to the Canada Temperance Act which would prohibit the importation of liquor by private persons in territory where there is government sale. The Senate has done well, for there is no real occasion for preventing persons from buying for consumption what is permitted to be consumed, where they will. The amendment proposed would have been in the nature of a new restriction on personal liberty, and in all conscience there are enough in operation. To say that the restriction proposed would act as a check on bootlegging is all poppycock. On the contrary, it would have promoted the canvassing of even more devious ways and means for the evasion of governmental regulations in respct to the liquor traffic.

The Government knows, and it has been advised again and again, that the specific way to stop bootlegging is simply to sell its own wares at prices with which the botleggers cannot compete. Surely that is simple and logical advice. If the Government will forgo some of its huge profits it is making out of its present control of the sale of liquor it will be surprising how soon infractions of the law will disappear. To say, as it does, that it must have an absolute and monopolistic control of the liquor trade thru all its avenues, if it is to enforce the law, is tantamount to saying that it wishes to create a condition of affairs which will justify it in maintanng the present profiteering prices.

A monopoly implies high prices. The Government has been criticized again and again for its charges for liquors and it is these charges which make "bootlegging" profitable. Private importation is permitted under the Federal law and if it were not permitted then there would be in effect a method to restrain trade between the provinces and between British Columbia and elsewhere. It is a doctrine of sectional and governmental greed that would decree the amendment to the Canada Temperance Act which the Senate has frustrated.—The Colonist.

MUSSOLINI AND THE LADIES

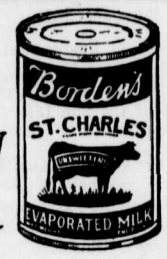
Westminster Gazette: Mussolini has, we may imagine, been impressed by the recent statement that it was the women who made Hindenburg President of the German Republic; and he appears to have reassured the wavering Fascist deputies that all women who love their husbands will vote with them. This would presum-Opposition can scarcely hope that ably double the Fascist vote, and the their wives will pass the tests imposed by the election officers. So that if the next Italian elections should go against the Fascisti the world will know not only that the women have done it, but that they no longer love their husbands.

There s one thing that is constant in this world of ceaseless change and that is the joke about the travelling salesman.

ECONOMY IN WRONG PLACE

Zeal for economy has broken out in a new place at Ottawa. It is now endeavoring to slack its thirst by trying to prevent the public from getting hold of public documents. The country's business is to be promoted, it seems, by making it as difficult as possible for the people to find out what is being done. The latest example of the results of this parsimonious enthusiasm has even stirred the parliamentary waters. To such a height has the process of shutting off publcity gone that even Senators have been refused copies of reports of a House of Commons Committee, and there was actually a debate on the subject in the Upper Chamber.

The Conservative leader in the Senae, Sir James Lougheed, brought up the matter, and said that Senators had been refused copies of the report of the daily proceedings of the McMaster committee on ocean rates. It seems that a Senator had applied to the clerk of the committee, who had had instructions from the chief clerk of committees, who had instructions from the new clerk of the Commons; and the net result was that the Senator could not get a report of what was being done in a committee of the other branch of Parliament.



Of course, the upshot was that the Senators got their copies of these reports. That was settled the next time McMaster committee met. But the incident was merely one of a large number this session that have brought out clearly the desire of some of the officials to prevent public. The same principle of suppressing publication in the name of economy has been applied also in regard to departmental reports. Thousands of dollars have been, more than once, spent by departmental officials in investigation and collection of information for the public benefit; and then an official has done his best to prevent the public getting the results of all that investigation just with the idea of saving one per cent. or less of what had already been spent with the sole object of informing the public. Economy is a most excellent thing, but secrecy in the transaction of public business has not been considered a virtue for a good many generations, at least in the British Empire.—Saturday Night.

At a recent meeting of the Royal Society of Canada a gold medal for outstanding achievement in science was awarded to Charles Saunder for his discovery and development of "Marquis" wheat. It is claimed that this variety has raised the Dominion to its present position as a wheat-growing country and has added millions of dollars to the pockets of farmers here and in the United States.

Exiled from Hungary of which he had been president, after the Communist revolution of 1919, Count Michael Karolyi toured the United States in March and April but was forbidden to address meetings or explain his political views in that country. He returned to London where he now lives, with Countess Karolyi, passing through Montreal and sailing on the Canadian Pacific S.S. "Montclare" from St. John. Interviewed in Montreal he expressed a great admiration for Canada and said he had once been on the point of settling either in Montreal or Toronto.

Nowadays a man certainly is a no-account who is not able to get more credit than is good for him, says —the reward of internal cleanliness.

Health and good looks

IF YOU do not keep clean internally your looks and health are undermined together. A clogged intestine breeds poisons that reach every part of the body. These poisons ruin the complexion and undermine health. Constipation brings on such ailments as headaches, bilious attacks and insomnia, each of which saps your health and vitality.

Avoid Laxatives—say Doctors

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition.

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

London, June 29.— A motion of censure moved by Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader against the government for failure to solve the unemployment problem, was voted down in the house of commons tonight 373 to 143.

The motion declared that the government 'after a lengthy period of industrial depression and confronted by an alarming growth in the number of unemployed, has failed to take measures to deal with the situation of unprecedented gravity."

The debate had a strong flavor of ment speakers having the easy retort political controversey, the governthat the late Labor government had equally failed to solve the same problems. The debate further demonstrated that the govrnment had no heroic measures to propose.

Premier Baldwin, in a long speech argued that except in the coal, iron, steel, ship building and engineering industries, which were more affected than others, unemployment was not much greater than a year ago when Labor was in office. Moreover, it should be remembered that the population had increased and emigration had been greatly restricted while the difficulties were aggravated by the growing foreign tariffs against British trade.

The premier laid stress on the fact that the British foreign policy was unswervingly devoted to fostering peace in Europe—an absolutely essential concomitant of any industrial progress at home and in this connection he said the government hoped for much from the efforts to secure an agreement between France, Germany, Belgium and Great Britain, which would go far to make a big electricity scheme in contemplation, but the premier could say nothing about it until the committee had presented its report.

Mr. Baldwin then came to his chief point when he said the governmen had been considering and asked the house to consider the possibility of subsidies to industries which at the moment seemed to be beaten down into a position of helplessness. He suggested bounties on protection, or subsidies on specific contracts and orders mainly for export, or subsidies in especially distressed district in aid

He admitted the difficulties were of local rates and railway freights. great, but thought them not insurmountable.

Asked whether this applied to coal, he rplied that he did not propose to touch the coal stuaton pending a settlement of the present dispute in that industry.

An interesting point dealt with by the premier that the film industry, proving that the recent agitation against United States film preponderanc had influenced the government. He declared that the time had arrived in the national interest, to inquire into the possibility of providing that a majority of the moving picture films exhibited in Britain should be of British make.

He made no specific proposal on the subject, but only suggested an examination of the question, having regard for the enormous power of the film developed for propaganda country and the empire sugjected themselves if they allowed this purposes and the danger to which the method of propaganda to remain entirely in the hands of freign countries.

BLIND MEN HELP DEFEND

London, June 27.— Interesting details as to how blind men were called in at one phase of the Great War to assist in the defense of London were made public recently in connection with a campaign carried out by the combined forces of the air, army and navy to stimulate recruiting for reserves for th e defense of the English metropolis in the event of another emergency. One of the inventions on display in various parts of the city was a sound locator, a very complicated instrument, and one of the most interesting of the many anti-aircraft devices showed to Londoners.

In the early days of the war the only sound locator was, of course, the human ear. Commander Rawlinson, Royal Navy, then in charge of the scanty air defenses of the city, found the ordinary man's sense of direction by hearing too inaccurate. One day he astonished the unimaginative officers and officials of Whitehall by asking that several detachments of blind men from the various institutions be sent to his headquarters. Their keenness of hearing, it was shown, was of great assistance in locating Zeppelins on their way to London. In numerous cases it was the blind men on duty at the outposts far from the noises of London, who often distinguished the hum of the raider's motors from ten to fifteen minutes before they were picked up by other listeners among the regular soldiers.

BULLYING LAWYERS

The dignity of courts and of law administration as a whole would be better preserved were the judges to keep a tightr rein on th intimidating mthods so often employed by counsel. The practice of bullying and hectoring witnesses in the course of cross examination is too common. Judges are to blame for permitting it and it is not the judges of any particular land that are in error for what is complained of here is especially prevalent in the United States and it has been the cause of very adverse comment in Great Britain as well. The following comment from The Scottish Field aptly sums up the situation, and the criticism could be justly applied to the courts of the Dominion where the need of reform is just as urgent as it can possibly be in any part of Britain.

"Recent cases in the Law Courts have once more called attention to the bullying of witnesses when under cross-examination. All too often he or she is treated as a person whose main desire is to prevaricate, to hide the truth, and, in brief, to defeat the ends of justice. This kind of thing could easily be stopped by judges, but nine times out of ten they will allow a barrister to insinuate anything he likes against a witness and to do all he can to make any evidence which does not suit his client abhortive. If the witness dares to retaliate he is almost sure to be snubbed or reprimanded by the judge and to be told to treat counsel with "proper respect," but that the witness is also entitled to some measure of respect does not occur to his lordship, or if it does he takes no action. One wonders whether judges are the victims espirit de corps for members of their own profession, or whether some of them are not afraid of the loud-voiced, truculent, biassed, and big-fee'd barristers who are permitted every license an doften domineer over the entire court. Why should a witness show respect for a counsel who is paid by his opponent and who is doing all he can to discredit him, to confuse him to hold him up to obloquy or derision? It is all a game of spoof and all too often the jury, ignorant of law, are carried away by the low cunning and high rhetoric of a clever but unscrupulous counsel instead of being guided by fact and reason. Sergeant Buzfuz is by no means dead; he is still alive and kicking, and he is to be found in nearly every court of law in which an imporatant case is being tried. It may be that some of the leading barristers have a preposterous sense of their own importanc which is fostered by extravagant fees out of all proportion to their work. Let us hope that some day a judge will arise who will prevent witnesses in his court from being subjected to insolence and unfair treatment."

THE FORBEARING SCOT

London Morning Post: Englishmen, after their experience of Ireland in the last two decades, cannot help liking Scotsmen for certain negative virtues. It is true that too often the Scots have looked upon No. 10 Downing Street, the two Archbishops, the City of London and a considerable portion of Fleet Street as more or less national perquisites, but on the other hand they have refrained from assassination and civil war and have preferred an empire and brotherly co-operation to a parish and a gospel of murder and hate.

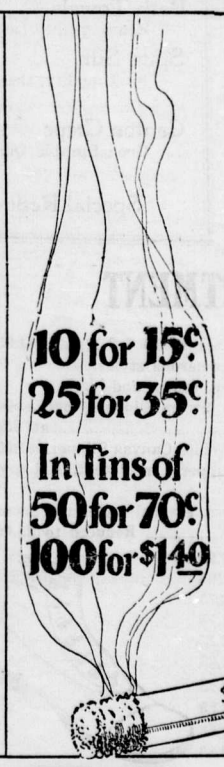
Any fountain pen's usefulness depends upon three things—the nib, the ink supply and the flow.

The nib must conform—the ink supply must be generous, the flow must be steady and continuous.

There is a Waterman's nib to suit every possible style of handwriting. The ink supply in every Waterman's is greater than that of any other pen of similar size. The "spoon" feed—exclusive to Waterman's—is the one method by which a steady flow of ink is assured.



It is because of these features — because of its ability to write properly at all times—that there are more Waterman's in use than all other makes of fountain pens combined.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Henderson returned on Wednesday from the east where Mr. Henderson spent several months working with the Home Bank Depositors Committee who were endeavoring to secure compensation from the Government for those whom they represented. While Mr. Henderson and the committee were disappointed at the final results, yet it was almost entirely due to their efforts that the Government were persuaded upon to act in the matter at all. Mr. Henderson has given up a large part of his time to this hard fight in the past two years and he deserves the thanks of the depositors and the community at large for his untiring efforts on their behalf.

A warning has been issued to beer parlor licenses by the Liquor Control Board that they must be more strict in the enforcement of the regulations for the sale of beer by the glass. It is intimated that licenses will be suspended or cancelled altogether unless this is done. The Board is not satisfied with conditions in some beer parlors, and it is believed that some of its rules are being ignored.

BOARD TRADE MEETING

A meeting of the Fernie Board of Trade was held on Monday evening with Hary Douglas in the chair. A lot of correspondence was read and filed. Numerous enquiries were received from tourists asking for maps and literature relating to the district.

The secretary said that he had written twice to the secretary of the tourist asociation at Medicine Hat asking for information about literature and maps but up to date had received no reply.

The general opinion of the meeting seemed to be that Fernie should drop out of the Tourist Association and conduct an advertising campaign of its own. The idea will be taken up later as the season is too far advanced at present to do very much effective advertising.

The secretary was instructed to write the Provincial Government requesting them to commence the construction of the new road into McBains Lake at once as a lot of property had been sold recently around the lake and numerous cottages were being erected and conditions of the present road was the only thing preventing the lake from becoming a very popular sumer resort.

The matter of finishing the road repair work at the hairpin turn was also under discussion. It was reported that work had been resumed at that place. Lack of necessary appropriations has held up the work for some time and the Board of Trade is very anxious to see the completion of the job as i n its present condition the road is not only bad but very dangerous.

The secretary was also instructed to write the Government informing them that the Fernie Board of Trade was very much opposed to recent legislation compelling foreign car drivers passing through the province to take out a driver license. Interior towns were spending thousands of dollars to bring tourists into the country while the Government with its new auto license law and fishing regulations seemed to be doing everything possible to keep them out. The law requiring Alberta travellers working in B.C. to register and license their cars, also come in for a lot of criticism.

The secretary reported that the local tourist camp was in fine condition. The new janitor, C. Stephenson, was doing good work, although up to date his remuneration has been small.

The question of raising funds to meet current expenses and to provide for an advertising campaign was discussed and it was decided to let the matter stand over until next month as local business men had been deluged with subscription lists during the past two months,

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Mount Fernie Lodge No. 47 and Esther Rebekah Lodge No. 20,I.O.O.F. held a joint installation of officers at their lodge room on Wednesday evening. District Deputy Grand Master Ward and President Woodhouse, with a full staff of Past Grands assisting, performed the ceremonies. The following officers were duly installed :

CROW'S NEST PASS COAL CO. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

At the Annual Meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company held to-day at the head office of the Company in Fernie, the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. W. R. Wilson, Mr. A. H. MacNeill, Mr. W. H. Robinson, Dr. G. W. Howland, Mr. Ellis P. Earle, Mr. J. T. Maher, Mr. J. F. Edgar, Mr. L. C. Gilman, Mr. Andrew Haydon, K.C.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, the following officers were elected : President, Mr. W. R. Wilson, First Vice President, Mr. A. H. MacNeill; Second Vice President, Mr. A. H. Robinson; Treasurer, Mr. A. Klauer; Comptroller Mr. G. H. Hess, jr. ; Secretary, Mr. J. S. Irvine.

Following is the report of the anual meeting :

Director's Report for the year 1924.

To the Shareholders :

Your directors for the year 1924 respectfully submit their twenty-eighth annual report showing statement of the Company's assets and liabilities on the 31st day of December, 1924, accompanied by figures which show the Profit and Loss Account for the year ending on that date.

The balance at the credit of the Profit and Loss Account brought forward from 1923 was $14,275.94.

To this has been added $775,360.16, which represents the amount which was arbitrarily written off plant and equipment and real estate and development in 1915. Your directors in 1924 decided that this item should be reversed. From the total of these two items, $14,275.94 and $775,360.16, or $789,636.10, there was deducted the net loss on the year's operations of $257,939.64, leaving a credit of $531,696.46. From this amount your directors have paid three dividends of one and a half per cent. each, making total of four and a half per cent. for the year, and amounting in all to $279,517.50, leaving a balance at credit of Profit and Loss Account to be carried forward to 1925 of $252,178.96.

The operative profit of the subsidiary company, the Crow's Nest Pass Electric Light and Power Co., Ltd., for the year was $11,233.68, which amount was carried forward to reserve for depreciation. The operations of the other subsidiary company, The Morrissey, Fernie and Michel Railway Company, resulted in a loss of $459.15

During the year, the Coal Company spent on improvements $27,679.38. There was recovered from abandoned mines, material to the value of $17,555.04, leaving a net expenditure on improvements and developement for the year of $10,124.34. During the year, the Morrissey, Fernie and Michel Railway Company spent on improvements (equipment) $15,636.59.

The coal mined during the year amounted to 275,329.05 tons as against 775,336.17 tons in 1923, and the coke produced was 30,615.00 tons as against 65,990.07 tons in 1923; the loss in tonnage being due to the seven months' strike.

All of which we respectfully submit.

"W. R. Wilson,"
President.

The President's Address

In moving the adoption of the report it may be in order to remark that I regard my duty in so doing as anything but pleasant. Through a misconception of the basic factors that since the termination of the war have been slowly but surely manifesting themselves between 1918 and the beginning of 1925, those responsible for the guidance of labor in the fundamental problems that constitute the basic claims that labor and other economic interests have in the coal mining industry, led to a cessation of the Company production and operations on April 1st, 1924, which misunderstanding of the circumstances or strike, continued until October 20th, 1924, when a patched up agreement was made between District No 18 of the U.M.W. of A. and the Western Coal Operators' Association, which understanding implied that the employees of the District engaged at contract work would accept a reduction of $1.17 per day, and all men and boys working on day wages would accept a general reduction in wages that would average about 12 1-2 per cent.

Between the years of 1914 and 1924, contract wages in the district had increased through the various changes in the modes of payment to contract employees, and through direct increases to 1914 contract prices to the average extent of about 135 per cent. at the Company's mines. The day

It is being poined out the licenses are under no legal obligation to sell beer to undesirable characters and that they must be particularly careful in regard to the class of people they admit to their establishments. Undesirable women must not be allowed to patronize beer parlors. Drinking by licenses or employees while performing their duties will not be tolerated. Emphasis is placed upon the necesity of keeping premises scrupulously clean.

FERNIE WINS FROM WHITEFISH

The Fernie Baseball club are having a hard time securing opposition to provide close competition in exhibition games here although they are paying out heavily in guarantees to visiting teams, bringing in the best clubs that can be secured within a reasonable distance from Fernie, to give the local fans a run for their money.

Whitefish, Mont., one of the best teams in the northern part of that state, came here last Sunday for a doubleheader, but were outclassed by the locals in both games, Fernie shutting them out in the first game by 9 runs to 0 and winning the second, a seven innings affair, by 12 runs to 2.

Jacobs hurled shutout ball all the way thru the first game and Whitefish never looked like scoring until the ninth innings when the first man up connected with a two-base hit, went to third on a fielder's choice, but snappy infield work cut him off at the plate when he tried to come home when Jacobs was throwing out the next man up at first, Morgan shooting the ball home for Stinert to cut the runner off at the plate.

Mathews was rather unsteady on the mound for the visitors and issued no less than five passes to first, these coupled with timely hitting by the locals piled up nine runs against him.

The Fernie infield had a great day, only one error. Only one ball went through the outfield during the entire nine Whitefish innings and this was grabbed by Blair who ran from centre to close behind second base to get it on the fly.

The second game announced before the game as a seven innings encounter, was rather a tame affair. Price went on the mound for Whitefish and was batted out of the box in four innings but not before Fernie had piled up eleven hits and a total of 12 runs. Gabbert replaced him in the fifth, only six batters facing him in the last two innings.

Zeke Sikora was in good form for Fernie and in the first six innings only allowed two hits off his delivery. In the seventh innings however, he weakened slightly and Whitefish scored a couple of runs on a triple, a single and a two-bagger.

Summary :

2 base hits: Baker, Jacobs; 3 base hits: Gabbert, McTeer; sacrifice hits; Bishop, Morgan; double play;Jacobs to Morgan to Steinert; left on bases: Fernie 7, Whitefish 7; Wild pitch: Matthews; hit by pitcher: by Matthews: McTeer; earned runs: Whitefish 0 Fernie 5; time of game 1 hour 45 minutes; umpires : Scanlon and McLeod.

Edmonton, July 7.—Employees of the Marquis mine, some eighty in number, are meeting this afternoon to consider an offer from the operators. The mine owners have proposed that the men return to work in order to turn out the Edmonton quota of four thousand tons for the Ontario shipment of 25,000 tons and agree to maintain the old scale of wages for an indefinite period. The strike, which has been in progress among the tie peelers at the local creosoting works, was settled this morning, and 130 men will return to work on Wednesday morning. The men will receive five cents per tie, an increase of half a cent, and their working conditions will be improved.

The Vancouver Sun: This evolution fight is going to result in casualties for everybody and victory for none.

Nobody in this year of grace, 1925, can decide within miles of the truth whether a man is a product of evolution or creation. All the courts in the world can settle nothing. The balance of evidence may be on one side or the other, certainly, no convention of preachers, no Tennessee court, nor no gathering of scientists, anywhere can even yet begin to unravel the mystery of life. We are still in the guessing stage.

And after all what difference does it make?

Bryan says the theory of evolution destroys religion.

Does it attempt to amend the Ten Commandments?

Does it affect, by one jot or tittle, one word of the Sermon on the Mount?

Does it tarnish the Golden Rule?

Does it detract, one iota, from the character of Jesus of Nazareth?

And if religion still has these things, what more can religion want?

—o—

Penticton Herald: One good outcome from the Duncan report into the operation of the alleged Nash-Mutual combine has already resulted in an amendment to the criminal code, passed by the Dominion Parliament, making it an indictiable offense to make a false return with respect to the sale or disposition of goods unless proved there was no intent to deceive. The fine reaches a maximum of $4,000 and directors are involved should they condone the act. Prior to the enactment of the amendment, Parliament was told how, in the words of the Minister of Labor, "$103 was improperly retained by brokers" on the sale of 65 crates of tomatoes. It is not surprising that members of Parliament were astounded that the criminal code as it previously stood did not cover such operations in respect to companies. "The amendment was quickly passed. Such legislation will be invaluable in affording protection to growers."

"Education," says The Cape Argus, "does not produce mind. But it is the mind upon which the education works, a truth which is often forgotten by those who have set up the little tin god of efficiency and utiltarian dexterity as to the educational ideal. No amount of education will stuff knowledge and ideas into a mind that is incapable of receiving them. Education works no miracles or feats of magic; it is strictly limited and conditioned by the material it has to work with."

Mr. L. D. Huntoon, of New York, engineer, predicts that Canada will surpass the United States in gold production by 1928. Sir Richard Redmayne expresses the belief that this country will lead the Rand in gold at some not far distant date. At present in the standing of countries Canada is third in the production of gold and silver and first in nickel. Already Ontario has passed California as a gold producer. The Hollinger mine alone is now producing $1,000,000 a month. The only disquieting fact of the mining development of the country is that less than 5 per cent. of the stock is held by British investors.

wages, when the shorter hours of work granted to surface day wage men and boys are taken into consideration, were increased from 120 per cent. to 198 per cent.

In comparing the higher wages granted to the coal mine workers of the district from 1914 up to 1924, with the reduction in wages finally accepted by the men in October 1924, after about seven months' strike, and at the same time taking into consideration the basic claims of other co-dependent organizations, such as Smelters, foundries and other kindred institutions, who had already adjusted themselves to wage schedules that were in harmony with economic possibilities, such consumers, because they could not afford to do so, discontinued to take fuel of the different kinds from this Company at the prices we were able to sell at, and go on paying the now slightly reduced wage scale as hereinbefore set forth. I might here state that this Company fully realized the seriousness of this, and strictly objected all through the broken periods of the discussions of the new wage scale for 1924. The employees of the Company, some two months after the acceptance of the new agreement by the district and after holding several mass meetings to consider all the intricate problems in connection with the industry, and with other co-dependent industries and wages paid therein, finally decided that they could only do real justice to themselves and to all other nterests concerned by adjusting themselves to basic and economic claims of the circumstances that surrounded them, which they did, their action finally making it possible for the Company to recover sufficient business to justify the sacrifices the employees of the Company had made, to meet the current situation.

Following is submitted a brief outline reference to the operations for 1924:

Coal production .....275,329.05 tons.
Coke production .....30,615.00 tons.
Total days worked:
Coal Creek.....58
Michel.....118
Michel Coke Ovens 137

During December, 1924, we started to prepare 120 ovens for work at Fernie.

Relevant to the foregoing production, the following classes and quantities of development work was done in and about the different mines:

Coal Creek Mines, narrow work driven ..... 7,035 ft.
Michel Mines..... 10,495 ft.

Total Coal Development work 17,530

The foregoing figures which indicate the actual development work done in new coal recoveries during the year show a considerable excess development of narrow coal work driven over what was actually required to maintain normal production.

During the year we have driven a prospect tunnel 200 feet to recover a new seam of coal below No. 8, on west side of valley at Michel, which coal we hope to find especially suitable both for steam and general domestic purposes.

Since the employees of the Company agreed to accept a general scale of wages that is reasonably commesurate with the consistent claims of purchasing industries, and the expectations of the buying public, the mines have been working reasonably steady, or averaging from 4 1-2 to 6 days per week, the result being that nearly all the employees of the Company appear to be more content than they have been for some time. The community also appears to look upon things with brighter prospects. I therefore, trust that the Company, with other interests, will find it possible to look into the future with a greater measure of certainty than they have experienced in the last few erratic years that have passed.

Auckland Weekly News—Those who have scornfully spoken of the need to find the Prince "a job" have their answer. He has one, and he does it so well that no other man would like to take it from him. Theoretically, the unity. Above party, apart from Parliaments, drawing the homage of all Throne is the great focus of national classes, it is the rallying centre of national sentiment. This theory of the Empire's accepted constitution has living, practical embodiment in the service of the Prince. Everywhere he has gone it has been the same. Britain has had no finer ambassador in its relations with other States, and within the Empire he has been a splendidly unifying influence. Whenever the assets of Empire are computed he takes a foremost place. Wherever he has gone, the Throne has ceased to be a shadowy fiction of text-writers, and become a living, loved reality.

New Republic (New York): Sensible men laugh at the probias of Mr. Arthur Brisbane, who tells his audience of twenty millions every few days that Japan is preparing to attack us from the air. They know that such a war as he predicts would be physically impossible, insane folly in a military sense, and for Japan economic suicide. Yet let enough Brisbanes in Japan and here say this sort of thing enough times and it can be made to come true, not in terms of an unfeasible transpacific ariel attack, but in those of a disastrous unnecessary naval struggle.

ENTIRE NEW ROLE PLAYED BY LLOYD IN LATEST COMEDY

In his latest feature Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy," which will be seen at the Orpheum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Harold Lloyd once more demonstrates his remarkable versatility before the camera. Lloyd's role in this new fun-film is said to be so entirely different from any he has ever attempted to portray, that he debated a long time before tackling the part.

The locale of "Girl Shy" is for the most part a small town, although toward the end of the picture the action is staged in the city.

Lloyd will introduce a real novelty to the screen in this picture, and he has carefully guarded his secret because it is his own idea and to have it known before the showing of the fun-film might rob it of some of its appeal.

As is usual with the Lloyd Pathe-comedies, there is only a small cast in "Girl Shy." Jobyna Ralston is again see as Harold's leading woman. Richard Daniels, Carlton Griffin, Priscilla King and Dorthy Dorr are also prominent in the support.

Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor directed "Girl Shy" from a story by Taylor, Tim Whelan, Ted Wilde and Tommy Gray.

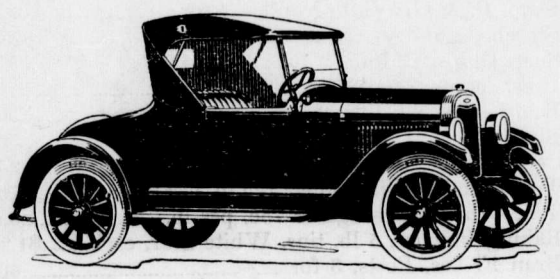
The Victoria Colonist: All over the world and perhaps more particularly in countries bording the Pacific Ocean, there should be consummate care exercised at this time lest the sparks that have been let loose in China should blow up into a conflagration. The strike in Shanghai is in reality a protest that China should have the right to administer justice in her own land. It might develop swiftly enough into a determination by China, to rid her country of all foreigners, and it is to prevent brute force being employed in that particular that the utmost discretion should be observed so as not to exacerbate feelings which are already uncomfortably on edge.



The problem of China grows more serious with the years. There has been political chaos in the country, chiefly due to the ambitions of rival leaders, but, in reality there is national unity, and there can be no question that the Chinese possess a national spirit and that is everything in the long run in a country with a capable and hard working populaton of nearly 400,000,000, a population which is now stirring through contact with Western civilization. Japan within half a century, made her fifty millions of people into a first-class power. It is a matter of logic to estimate what China may and probably will do with her population of four-hundred millions. The serenity of her people will not last for ever.

The invisible ear drum invented by A. O. Leonard, which is a miniature megaphone, fitting inside the ear entirely out of sight, is restoring the hearing of hundreds of people in New York city. Mr. Leonard invented this drum to relieve himself of deafness and head noises, and it does it so successfully that no one can tell he is a deaf man. It is effective when deafness is caused by catarrh or by wholly destroyed natural drums. A request for information to A. O. French Canada Celebrates Its History

June 24th of every year is the great day of the French-Canadian. In every city and every hamlet of Quebec Province and in the cities and centres of the New England States and in those parts of Ontario and the West where he has migrated St. Jean Baptiste Day is never overlooked. It is well that it should be so and it introduces into Canada an Old-World seventeenth century atmosphere that Canadians as a whole could ill afford to lose, either artistically or historically. Our pictures show some interesting features taken from floats exhibited on this occasion. There is the heroic 17th century farmer defending gun in hand his crops which his father and women folk are reaping. The children on their way to school watch the housewife baking her bread in the old-fashioned oven which is still in extensive use in Quebec Province. The making of maple sugar, an industry developed from the researches of Dr. Sarrazin in 1685, is yet another popular float which always figures in the celebrations.

BOOTLEGGING UP NORTH

Allegations were made recently by a visitor from the north-eastern par t of the province that that district is not receiving sufficient attention from the Provincial Police, and that as a result there is much selling of liquor to Indians and bootlegging of furs.

A statement from the Attorney-General's Department denies these assertions. In order to more adequately police the north country a new post was established at Finaly Forks last year and there is complete coordination between the Provincial and Royal Canadian Mounted Police forces. The Provincial detachment is equipped with motor-driven canoes and covers a large area along the Parsnip, Finlay and Peace Rivers. The detachment has been very successful in suppressing the selling of liquor to the Indians and has been of great service to the trappers, besides which valuable assistance has in connection with the prevention or been rendered to the Forest Branch extinguishing of forest fires.

EDUCATTIONAL SURVEY

Victoria—Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education announces that the report of the Education Survey Commission is being printed in full and copies of the report will shortly be ready for distribution to all who are interested in it. A brief summary of the commission's findings is being prepared for publication in the newspapers in the course of the next week or so.

says, "We feel also that the people spent a good real of money to get this report we should make as much use of it as possible." Dr. MacLean says, "We feel aiso that thet people of the province who are interested should have ready access to the commission's findings. For that reason we are going to distribute it widely. In the meantime of course, it would be out of place to discuss the contents of the report."

SPRUNG A SURPRISE

The Fernie Football Club sprang afternoon Fernie Football Club sprang the surprise of the season last Sunday after when they visited Michel in a Perri Cup game and inflicted upon Michel their first home defeat in four years, Fernie winning by a score of two goals to one. The Fernie team had four new men on their line-up, three forwards and a left back. The rejuvenated forward line were a set of youngsters fast and nippy on the ball and beat Michel at their own short passing game. Taylor, who has been playing out side rght all season, went into center and his speed showed up to good advantage both of the Fernie goals coming off his foot. Yates scored the only goal for Michel.

The Perri Cup is being played for on the home and home system total points to count as in the league contest. Coal Creek comes to Fernie in Sunday in one of these games. Practically the same line-up will represent Fernie as defeated Michel last Sunday.

London Morning Post: Very many empires have risen out of valor and virtue and crumbled under sloth and forgetfulness. We do not presume to answer the puzzling question of why, if peace be the crowning good as our moderns so firmly believe, Providence should have so designed the world that armed strength is a perpetual clause in all charters of Empire? Certain it is that man is no exception to the universal struggle of natural law, and that weakness will not be counted to us for righteousness.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband father, Fred Roo, who passed away at Elko, B.C., July 12, 1920.

There is someone who misses you sadly,
And finds time long since you went;
There is someone who thinks of you always,
and tries to be brave and content.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear;
Tis sad, but true, we wonder why,
The best are always the first to die.
Inserted by his wife and daughter, May.

NOTICE.

Mrs. Edgar Worth, my wife, having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible after this date for any debts incurred by her.

Fernie, B.C., June 12, 1925.

Edgar Worth.

A meeting of the Fernie local Conservative Association will be held in Victoria Hall, Fernie, on Friday evening, the 10th inst., at 8.30. The purpose for which the meeting is called is to elect delegates to a convention to be held at Cranbrook on July 15th for the selection of a candidate to contest the East Kootenay constituency in the next Federal election. All those interested are requested to attend.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. Marshall, 64 Chipman Ave, when her eldest daughter, Iris, was united in marriage to Mr. Oscar Okell, both of Fernie, B.C., the Rev. H. U. Oswald officiating. The room was artistically decorated for the occasion wtih pink and white canterbury bells. The bride, who was attired in ivory satin and carried a boquet of roses and carnations, was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Harry Harrison. Miss Edith Marshall acting as bridesmaid, wore a dress of shell pink silk and also carried boquet of roses and carnations, while Mr. Jack Okell supported the groom. After a dainty supper the happy couple left by motor for Calgary, Banff and other points.

ADDS PACIFIC TO WATER

Mrs. M. Lesher, one of Pacific Milk's first users, often writes something of interest and value.

In a letter early this week, she says we speak of using half Pacific Milk and half water in recipes. She points out that the milk should be poured into the water rather than put water into the milk.

A TIP FROM THE SOUTH

The Financial Post says : "Canada's tourist industry is bringing millions of new money into the country. We doubt if any other business returns such a satisfactory margin of net profit in relation to the drain upon the country's resources. Tourists are usually satisfied to look at our natural attractions without depleting them—even the activities of the enthusiastic fishermen and hunters are not serious in relation to the total population of our streams and forests—and they are more anxious to exchange their dollars for service and entertainment than for raw materials.

The tourist business is only in its beginning for Canada—if the proper methods are employed to encourage it. Undoubtedly we can learn some things from experiences of other countries. The following is from a Florida newspaper :

'The tourist can be a profitable person, indeed. The only thing that must be avoided is the overcharging of the willing spenders. This is indeed all too prevalent and will always react, sooner or later, to the detriment of the resort so overcharging. Auto tourists, especially, are a clanish bunch, and once a location gets the reputation of 'milking' the passing public, then the tourists avoid that locality as the plague."

This is a tip from Florida which should be taken seriously in Canada. Not only do we want our visitors to come back, but the most effective advertising our resorts can have is the spoken good word of those who have been there. And on the other hand, nothing will be more effective in killing off the tourist crops if our visitors go away disgruntled and spread the story that they have been overcharged for supplies or entertainment.

Duke of Northland in the Nation Review.—The League's supporters have always included two opposing elements—those who belive in the use of force to make good the League's decisions, and those who regarded the League as expressing merely a noble and Christian ideal to which all nations should be invited to aspire; and these held that the mere mention of force or compulsion would mar the beauty of the picture. The framers of the Covenant belonged to the first category, and hence that document was always held by the purer sort of idealists to be defective. Between the grim realism of Lord Cecil, who proclaimed his hope that the League would one day be able to launch its air squadrons against recalcirtant populations, and the gentle, if nebulous, idealism of Lord Parmoor, there could be no real or last compromise.

All Set For the Calgary Stampede

1. Cowboys in the Parade. 2. "Bucking Sally." 3. Cowboys in the making. 4. The old coach resurrected. 5. Hoot Gibson and Sergt. Kendall, late of the R.C.M.P. 6. The Old Chief. 7. Roy Hutchison does his stuff. 8. "Coyote" Frank gets dumped. 9. The Covered Wagon.

The Jubilee Historical Pageant and Stampede commemorating the 50th anniversary of the coming of the Mounted Police to Calgary and the birth of the city will be the centre of attraction of the West for all Canada, and commences July 6 lasting to July 11. It will furnish the chance of a lifetime for tourists to get something entirely out of the ordinary from the usual trip to the West and the Mountains. Among the attractions there will be Hoot Gibson, the well-known movie cowboy star, who will be making special motion pictures of the celebrations, and who will be supported by fifty of a staff from California. In the Historical Pageant some 18 to 20 Floats will be used representing different periods in the history of the West and Calgary's development. The plan for the Pageant involves the representation of twenty episodes which show in colorful detail the history of the West before and after the coming of the white man. There will be the pre-civilization Indian period, then the coming of the Explorers, Fur Traders and Adventurers of the 18th century, the arrival of the Catholic Fathers, the lawless period of the first settlers, the coming of the mounted Police, the Riel Rebellion, the coming of the railway, the intensive development of the West, the Great War call to arms, and finally Calgary and the West as they are to-day, the Granary of the World.

The high lights of the Stampede will be the individual exhibitions of buck-jumping by the best cowboy riders of the West who will gather from far and near to the celebration. Somewhere around 1,500 horses will be used in the Grand Parade, which it is estimated will be about five miles long. Universal Film Company are making a rousing Western feature out of the Show and will aim at producing a Canadian "Covered Wagon" from the spectacle. The Stampede will undoubtedly be the high light of the West and will surely stand as a great record achievement for many years to

M. C. Keane, editor of The Press, London Daily Mail : New Zealanders love and respect the spirit of England, and while they fully understand the extent of the overseas Dominions' efforts in the Great War, including their own, they understand just as clearly the magnitude of Britain's sacrifices and the great courage and unselfishness of her policy since the ending of the war. "Britain is good enough for me," is a phrase I heard from the late Mr. Massey many a time, and is the sentiment of most people in this dominion.....One doubts whether Mr. McKenzie King or Mr. Stanley Bruce would ever say, "Britain is good enough for me," unless with annihilating qualifications. And here I think is a fundamental difference between New Zealand and the other States of the Empire.

THE JURY SYSTEM

Earl Birkenhead has been describing in the London Evening News the methods of British conduct of criminal trials and saying something of the traditions of British jurisprudence. These methods have been imitated and the traditions revered throughout the empire and it is because of this that law within the empire is better administered than in any other lands. Earl Birkenhead is a particularly staunch supporter of the jury system and it is in what he says that there is food for thought, especially for that handful of people who would take out of the constitution that most precious safeguard of the right of juries to return a general verdict. Earl Birkenhead writes thus on the conduct of criminal trials :

"They depend upon the broad and simple principle that what twelve ordinary men (and I suppose I must add ordinary women) think of the facts is, on the whole, more likely to be right than a very highly instructed legal functionary. And I believe this view to be well founded. I suppose I was employed in litigation for nearly twenty years, and very largely in jury cases. I cannot remember, in the thousands of cases which I suppose I must have argued before juries, more than three in which was absolutely certain that the juries were completely wrong. And even in these three the value of my judgment is diminished by the fact that I was an advocate. But the fact that I only found three may perhaps be accepted as showing that even where I was an advocate, I was not unsuccessful in maintaining a spirit of critical fair-mindedness. The liberties of England require in the ultimate resort to be construed, not by technical persons, very highly instructed, but by ordinary men—where the issues are those of fact—who lead ordinary lives and think the ordinary thoughts of ordinary people. This conclusion is profound, because upon it depends the liberties of Englishmen, the freedom of our institutions and the correlation of law with popular

Trail News : We are fully convinced that the best managed and happiest home is the one in which the wife is given a weekly allowance sufficent to permit her to pay the household expenses and to reward her thrift with an opportunity to save on her own account. Both husband and wife should contribute to the household treasury or there is something radically wrong with the accepted plan of domestic ethics. It is humiliating to the wife to be made practically a dependent upon her husband and the shame of it doesn't lie with the women who suffer, but with the men who inflict. It is the bad husband's fake logic that the wife's services are not entitled to monetary consideration which makes this social and economic blot.

For the rest, all women and fair-minded men know that the daily life of the domestic woman helps the joint treasury along, quite as truly as the work of the husband, at bench, in cactory, behind the plow or counter, or in the manerigal seat of the mighty. In fact, one doesn't have to be a sentimentalist to conclude, after a survey of her duties and cares and worries, the number and persistance of them, that the man who goes out to work has the less fretted time.

Your doctor advises internal cleanliness

HE WILL tell you that the first results of constipation — headache, sleepless nights, biliousness, backache, etc.—warn that the body is flooded with intestinal poisons. In time these poisons may cause the breakdown of health and lead to serious disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. For sale by all druggists.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers up to ten head

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

TUTIN TRAVELS TO FAR NORTH

The personnell of the R.C.M.P. party under Inspector Wilcox are Sgt. Joy of Ottawa Const. E. Tutin of Fernie. Const. Bain of Ottawa and Const. Timbury of Vancouver who are to establish a new post as far north as it is possible to get.

The controversy that has been aroused by statements in the press regarding the claim of Canada to land between Meridians 60 and 142, and the attitude of American explorers and Government officials towards this, having regard to the excursion now being made by Donald MacMillan to the Northland, makes this year's voyage of the Canadian Government Steamer 'Arctic" to Baffin Bay and Ellesmere Island one of more than ordinary interest. When the veteran shipmaster, Captain J. E. Bernier, sails out of Quebec Harbor Monday on his twentieth trip to the Arctic Regions, he will carry with him not only supplies for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police posts that have been established for years on Ellesmere Island, Devon Island and Baffin Island, thus establishing Canadian sovereignty by right of occupation, and incidentally preventing a great deal of furs from leaving the country by unauthorized channels without paying duty but he will also take with him Inspector Wilcox of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who will possibly establish new posts, G. P. MacKenzie, formerly Commissioner of the Yukon, who has charge of the expedition, and Dr. Weeks, of the Geological Survey Department at Ottawa.

Little has been made known of the voyages that Captain Bernier and his men have made to the icebound Northland, and there are few boats that travel the icy waters of Baffin Bay that are so suited to withstand the pressure of ice as is the egg-shaped "Arctic." While other expeditionary boats are limited in regard to the distances they may travel among the ponderous shifting bergs, the Arctic is able to travel far up Smith Sound and Kennedy Channel, beyond Etah and Cape Sabine, and, if the necessity arises to Bache Peninsular.

This year, as last, the "Arctic" is more than a supply boat, for while it is within the Arctic Circle important experiments will be carried out with specially designed wireless apparatus, and two of the leading "hams of the Canadian Division of the American Radio Relay League will be in continuous communication stations on the Continent during the three months' trip of the boat.

For the information of those "hams" who with their low wave, home-built sets may pick up the call of 'V.D.M." (which will be the Arctic's call letters), the radio equipment of the Arctic will be as follows: For transmitting the boat is equipped with three sets—one standard half kilowat 600 meter spark set, one 1KW 2,100 meter ICW set and one 2KW short wave experimental set. This latter set will be equipped to work on wave lengths of from 40 up to and including 120 meters and it is with this latter set that the boat will maintain contact with the members of the Canadian Branch of the American Radio Relay League.

For receiving the boat will be equipped with two special Canadian Westinghouse Receivers, one for a range of fifteen to 45 meters and the other with a range of from 40 to 125 meters. In addition to these the Westinghouse Company have loaned to the Radiotelegraph Branch of the Federal Government, a special experiment-short wave received with a range of 35 to 95 meters. This set wa s specially designed for experimental short wave reception for re-broadcasting in Australia, but in the meantime it is being loaned temporarily to the Dominion Government.

In addition there will be a standard Canadian Westinghouse Broadcasting Receiver which will probably be installed in the dining room to entertain the expedition and also to test what results can be obtained on regular broadcast wave lengths. The Federal Government is also providing the boat with a long wave receiver to pick up the commercial telegraph stations.

The wireless station will be in charge of Robert McAuley Foster, of Montreal and his assistant will be R. S. Finnie, of Ottawa, son of O. S. Finnie Director of North West Territories at Ottawa, and who is making his second journey to the North.

The establishment of wireless communication between the Arctic and Canadian and American posts was last year an accomplished fact, for not only were messages constantly received by the amateur radio enthusiasts, who are members of the American Radio Relay League, and who as a rule penetrate the continuous daylight of the Arctic summer with very low power transmitters, but the Canadian Government, through the co-operation of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, sent on a regular schedule message through the short wave high poer experimental station KDKA (8xS) from East Pittsburgh, and the log of the operator shows that everyone of them was received. This year two more short wave experimental stations have been added to the Westinghouse group, one of 49 metres, and the Radiotelegraph Branch of the Dominion of Canada this year arranged a schedule whereby transmissions to the Arctic are to take place on Monday and Friday nights at 10:30 to 11 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on either 55 meters, 49 meters or 24 1-4 meters, and owners of short wave length instruments of which there are many scores throughout the North American continent, will be able to "listen in" for the news from the Arctic which has sailed the wintry seas for nearly a quarter of a century.

The Arctic is one of the few, if not the only boat in existence today, that was built especially for Arctic exploration. The majority of them are either converted Norwegian whalers, or whalers form New Bedford. Boats engaging in Arctic exploration have to be so constructed that they can winter in the ice if necessary, and steel boats would be absolutely useless for this, as the ice pressure is so great that the plates would buckle, the seams open up and cause the foundering of the boat in short order.

The Canadian Government steamer Arctic was built in Germany nearly a quarter of a century ago, and the design was the result of a world-wide contest for a boat most suitable for polar work. She was constructed for a German antarctic expedition and was originally named the Aus. The Canadian Government were desirous of obtaining a boat that would stand the strain of Arctic exploration, and they acquired the Aus in 1903, and renamed her the Arctic.

The Arctic is a three-masted schooner with an auxiliary steam engine. The fore and mizzen masts are approximately sixty feet high, and the main, or centre mast, 92 feet high. Her strength lies in the construction of the hull. A glance at the accompanying photograph gives the reason for this. She is constructed somewhat in the shape of an egg, with the result that when subjected to heavy ice pressure the boat rises on the ice. The sides are something like thirty inches thick, consisting of an outer layer of ten-inch pitch pine, a second layer of ten-inch green heart, and an inner layer of ten-inch oak, the whole three layers being braced inside by heavy oak beams, while between each layer is placed heat insulating material, and between the decks there is about six inches of heat insulating material to prevent heat radiating from the boat.

The annual voyage of the Arctic is something like 7.000 miles, so that it has to rely a good deal on sail, the small capacity, owing to lack of space to carry a big coal supply. That it is safe and comfortable is proven by the fact that it has spent eight complete winters frozen in at various points well above the Arctic circle, and on some occasions has wintered as far west as Melville Island, which is half way across the Arctic Ocean toward Alaska. The doors of the cabins opening into the hold are several inches thick, with heavy insulation beween the inside and the outside layers.

Captain J. E. Bernier, who has been sailing the seas of the globe for over half a century, is, despite his 73 years, one of the sprightliest of seafaring men. In his career he has commanded 107 vessels and made 257 voyages covering a distance of 483,-660 miles. Captain Bernier comes from three generations of seafaring men, as both his father and grandfather were captains ahead of him. For the last 21 years he has been commanding the Arctic, and it is through his expeditions to the Northland that claim is laid by Canada to something like 500,000 miles of this territory. Captain Bernier was the recipient of the gol medal for the Quebec Geographical Society last March in recognition of his services to the Dominion, and later in the year was honored by a grant from the Royal Geographical Societyj of London.

His grandfather, Jacques Bernier, was born in France in 1633, and came to Quebec and was married there in 1656 at the Chateau St. Louis in the time of Governor Lauzon. Then he went to live at Chateau Richer, later moving to St. Famille, on the Island of Orleans. The family was shortly afterwards driven out by the Iroquois and went to live at Cape St. Ignace, Jacques Bernier dying there in 1713. Captain Bernier was born on New Year's Day, 1852, and was a master mariner in 1869 at the age of 17 years and as previously stated, has commanded over a hundred vessels and made some 39 expeditions into the Arctic regions.

The expedition will be in charge of Geo. P. MacKenzie, formerly Gold Commissioner of the Yukon. Captain J. E. Bernier will be master of the ship, with L. D. Morin as First Officer, L. Lemieux, Second Officer; and A. Theriault, Chief Engineer. All these officers have been North several times before. Dr. L. D. Livingstone will be Medical Officer, and Harwood E. Steele, Secretary and Historian. Inspector C. E. Wilcox will represent the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and visit the several posts established in the North. The Inspector has spent two winters in the North. Dr. Weeks, of the Geological Survey accompanies the expedition as geologist.

British Ministers hereafter are not to be allowed to write for the press. There is nothing that can be done, apparently, about the journalistic indiscretions of ex-Ministers, but one safeguard that could be established would be to pension Prime Miinisters and put them beyond the temptation of keeping their names constantly before the public, and often retailing information which would be better locked up in the recesses of their memory.

Surrey Gazette—A bankers convention in the states purposes that trust companies administer the proceeds of life insurance policies paid to beneficiaries, on the grounds that 75 per cent. of life insurance money is dissipated or lost within four years after payment. The bankers want to protect the widows and orphans from fake promoters and get rich quick schemes to which such life insurance beneficiaries are so often subjected. It would seem the bette rpart of wisdom to enforce more vigorously the laws and regulations against financial fakirs. And will not intelligent people resent the idea of not being able to spend their own money.

Grand Forks Gazette: With the warm season now fully upon us, conditions will soon be ideal for forest fires, and too much cannot be said about exercising utmost care in districts where there is valuable timber to be protected. Make the trip to Rossland over the new highway and one gets a vivid idea of the great damage which has been done to forests by fires. Considering that British Columbia's timber stand is worth dollars and cents to every person in this province, the fellow who takes chances with matches and cigarettes is just as foolish as though he touched a match to his own pocketbook.

Mrs. William Reid of Corbin received the following account of the death of her cousin, Percival Jones.

Sussex Gazette—Mr. Percival Chas. Jones, only son of Captain Percival Jones (who holds an appointment in India in connection with the British Indian Navigation Co.) and of Mrs. Jones, of New Park Road, has been reported missing at sea from the P and O passenger liner, s.s. "Mooltan," on which he was fourth officer. A message to this effect is all Mrs. Jones has received at present. The P. and O. authorities in London intimate that no details may be expected for some weeks. The "Mooltan" was in Australian waters at the time, near Freemantle, her next port of call. The young officer was a pupil at Midhurst Grammar Sshool, and was very popular with his school mates. He had many friends in Chichester. It was his first voyage in the "Mooltan," which is one of the largest of the P. and O. fleet.

DISCUSS LIGHTING

The City Council met in the Council chamber last evening in regular session, with Mayor Irvine in the chair. Aldermen Kerr and Dicken were absent.

A communication from W. I. Bishop Company requesting settlement on a disputed balance outstanding on their account, was read. The Council instructed the City Clerk to notify the Company that they were of the opinion that the items in dispute were not chargeable against the City.

The City Clerk reported that he was in receipt of a check from the Deputy Minister of Finance for $3,464.95, being the amount granted the City from the Motor Vehicle revenues, this money to be used on street improvements in the municipality.

An application from John Bossio for permission to build a one-storey building on the lot between P. Burns Co. block and Ross Colgur's store was read and permit granted providing the by-law governing same was adhered to.

Mr. W. J. Thomas, on behalf of the Elks' Lodge, made application for the use of the city park on Wednesday August 5th, for the purpose of holding their annual Children's Flag Day. This was granted.

A letter from the Medical Health Officer stating that there were conditions prevaling at the city dumping grounds which should be remedied at once, was read and it was decided to have a layer of ashes placed on the top of all refuse dumped there.

The Fire Chief submitted a report on the fires at the city park, also a number of fire inspection reports on various places of business in the city.

The usual file of accounts were passed for payment.

Mayor Irvine reported that a car of oil had been received for street work and that he expected the work of oiling the streets would commence in a few days.

Street lighting for the business section of the city again came up for discussion, the fact that the decision of the Government regarding the Home Bank payments, which ap arently means that the City will not receive anything from the Government, being taken into consideration. After lengthy discussion it was decided to obtain prices on twenty standard lights and capable to run from the Central Hotel to the Jaffray St. intersection and from the King Edward Hotel to the C.P.R. Station, also to ascertain the cost of instalation bfore taking any further action.

MICHEL BUSH FIRE

A big bush fire has been burning fiercely during the past week just a few miles east of Michel, causing considerable anxiety to the residents of that town. Last Monday afternoon the blaze assumed alarming proportions and fire fighters were rushen from Michel in an effort to stop the spread of the flames.

The area over which it was burning had been practically logged off and the large accumulations of slashings which had been dried to tinder by the intense heat of the past few weeks, kept the fire travelling at a furious speed. At one time ninteen of the fire fighters were trapped when flames cut them off from the rest of their party but after several hours of hard fighting they managed to break through and reach safety.

On Tuesday afternoon the fire fighters managed to stem the progress of the flames towards the town of Michel and get that section under control by extensive back firing. This work was then started all over the fire zone and now the whole fire is practically under control.

Although over three hundred acres has been swept by the fire very little damage has been done to standing timber, the flames being confined almost entirely to logged-over country in that district. The fire, however, in crossing the highway at Erickson Creek, destroyed the stringers of the bridge over that creek and caused a delay to traffic through the Crow for a few hours until the Government bridge crew from Fernie were able to make the necessary repairs.

Airplanes from the Alberta Government Station at High River have flown over the fire area several times during the week and their last report stated that there were four different fires burning but they appeared now to be much quieter than when first observed.

GIRLS IN CUSTODY

Two young American girls, Alice Lyons, age 18, and June Brecks, age 19, are detained in the police station here by the Mounted Police pending the decision of the Immigration authorities, following a rather thrilling adventure.

The two girls arrived in Fernie in the early part of the week from Calgary where they had been working in a concession with the Ruben Cherry shows at the Stampede. They were without funds and applied to the officer in charge of the Salvation Army for assistance. The officer took the matter up with the City Police, who on ascertaining that the girls were from across the line referred the matter to the Mounted department.

In questioning the girls, the Mounties learned that they had entered Canada illegally crossing the border at Coutts, Alberta on June 1st, evading the Immigration officers at that port. The police stated that the girls must be detained pending instructions from the Department of Immigration and at the request of the Salvation Army Captain they were placed under his charge, rather than have them detained at the police station and he secured a room for them at the Waldorf Hotel here.

The kindness of the Salvation Army however, does not seem to have been appreciated, for during the night the two girls left the Waldorf Hotel and hopped abord a west bound freight train, but on reaching Wardner they were confronted by a Provincial Police officer and taken off the train and returned to Fernie. They had discarded their girls' clothing and rigged themselves out in male attire. On their return here they were lodged in the city jail and when asked what they had done with their clothing they stated that having found the mens' clothing in a bundle near the tracks they had changed clothes and burned their own outfits in the coke ovens.

HOME BANK AFFAIRS

Ottawa, July 13.—Conferences have taken place between Hon. Justice MacLean, president of the exchequer court of Canada, a commissioner under the Home Bank Creditors' Relief act, and the liquidators of the Home bank, in reference to the procedure to be adopted in considering the claims of specified creditors of that bank in excess of the amount of $500, and who are entitled to relief under the act mentioned. The office and staff of the liquidators of the Hom e bank will be used by the commissioners to circul late among claimants a printed form of declaration which will require items of information from the claimants.

It is stated that no progress, however, can be made in this direction until the liquidators of the bank have completed payments of amounts of $500 and under, due creditors of the bank under the legislation passed at ened circumstances by reason of the suspension of the Home bank are entitled to relief.

Depositors in the sum of $500 or less, of which there are about 46,000, need not have their claims approved by a commissioner, under the recent act of parliament, and it is understood that the liquidators of the bank are now taking steps to pay such claims as quickly as possible.
the last session of parliament.

It is understood that there are about 7000 depositors of amounts in excess of $500. Of this class and number, only those who can show that they are in special need or in strait-

The B.C. Miners Association wishes to thank all the fraternal societies who loaned them boilers, tubs, etc., for their picnic, also to thank the manager of the Crow's Nest Trading Co. for his donation towards the swimming pool events also the 750 chocolate bars that were so much enjoyed by the children.

DR. RUTLEDGE THE CHOICE

CRANBROOK, B. C., July 15.—At the Conservative federal nominating convention for the East Kootenay riding held here today, Dr. J. W. Rutledge of this city was chosen as the candidate to contest the seat at the next Dominion election. There were 54 delegates present, from the three provincial ridings of Cranbrook, Fernie and Columbia, and in the first ballot Dr. Rutledge received a clear majority.

The other name advanced was that of Major H. H. Hicks of Cranbrook, who was until recently in charge of the District Water Rights' office, till it was abolished by the Government.

Dr. Rutledge's name was proposed by A. A. Robertson of the concentrator, Kimberley, and was seconded by Mrs. W. C. Marshall, of Cranbrook, while Major Hicks was nominated by Major G. G. Moffatt, of Fernie, and seconded by Capt. Bell, of Kimberley. The result of the vote was 31 for Rutledge and 23 for Hicks.

Mr. Robertson, in nominating Dr. Rutledge, mentioned the indefatigable service the latter had performed in the interests of the party, and the strenuous organization work he had always carried out, as well as his wide acquaintance all through the entire riding. This was also enlarged upon by the seconder of the nomination.

Major Hicks' proposer and seconder referred to his record, not only in his office, but also during the war years, when they were associated with him in France.

A. M. Chisholm, of Windermere, who was the chairman of the nominating convention, considered that the riding was fortunate in having two men of such caliber to select from for the honor of bearing the party standard in the election now pending.

Dr. Rutledge, in acknowledging the honor bestowed on him, promised he would put forth every effort to insure success for the cause at the election. To help accomplish this, he urged that everything possible be done in the local organization work, to have things ready when an election should be called.

He refrred to some of the outstanding problems facing the Dominion today, especially the continual increase of debt, and consequent increase of taxation, and the continual stream of emigration to the States, where a high tariff policy seemed to have made the country a great deal more attractive to the workman. He urged one single policy on broad lines to cater to every section of the country, instead of trying to please parts by differing policies on the same questions.

Major Hicks also spoke, saying that to judge by the provincial results in some of the recent elections in different parts or the country, the Liberals were due for defeat in both the federal and provincial elections.

Sherwood Herchmer of Fernie acted as secretary of the convention.

At the close of the nomination proceedings, reorganization took place, officers being elected for the East Kootenay Conservative Association for the coming year as follows, President, A. A. Robertson, Kimberley; vice-presidents, A. C. Bowness, of Cranbrook, S. Herchmer, of Fernie, A. M. Chisholm, of Winderemere; secretary, W. Stewart, of Cranbrook; treasurer, F. H. Dezall, Cranbrook; executive, Capt. Bell, Kimberley; W. F. Attridge, of Cranbrook; D. G. Harvie, of Fernie; M. McLean, of Michel; F. Richardson, of Athalmer; H. Parsons, of Golden.

Dr. Rutledge, the candidate elected, has been a practicing veterinary surgeon in the district for the past 15 years.

KIMBERLEY VS FERNIE

Kimberley Baseball team, winners of the Cranbrook District League, will visit Fernie on Sunday, and for the first time this season the local fans will have a chance to see a club with the same record as Fernie in action. The Kimberley Club have gone thru their entire schedule this season with only one defeat and a report from Cranbrook states that our neighbors feel sure they can "knock over" the Fernie boys. That however remains to be seen, the Fernie club are certainly stronger than ever and feel confident they can win. The game is not for any title as the local club are affiliated with the Alberta Association while Kimberley are in the B. C. Association but a home and home series between these two clubs will show which is the best club in the East Kootenay.

BOY SCOUTS WILL CAMP

The East Kootenay Boy Scout camp will commence on Monday, August, 3rd, with Assistant Provincial Commissioner Scarret of Victoria in charge, he will be assisted by a Scoutmaster from one of the Victoria troops and the camp will be run on Gilwell Scout Training lines.

This will be the first opportunity the Fernie Boy Scouts have had to attend a camp where such conditions existed and parents who have boys in the Scouts should not miss the chance of giving them a real two weeks outing.

The camp is to be held at Peckham Lake, between Fort Steele and Bull River, and it is an ideal spot. The lake is a safe swimming place with a wide pebbled beach, close to it there is a large open space for games, etc., and it affords a wonderful opportunity for the various scouting activities.

Cranbrook, Fernie and Michel troops will attend the camp and it is expected that well over one hundred boys will be under canvas for the two weeks.

INVESTIGATE IRON MOUNTAIN

The Vancouver Province of a recent date contains a despatch from Creston, B.C., which states: Hope for the establishment of a steel industry in East Kootenay is revived by word reaching here to the effect that a crew of men has been put to work clearing out the trail to the claims on Iron Mountain, above Kitchener and ten miles east of Creston, and getting things in shape generally for a visit of inspection by W. R. Wilson, General Manager of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company at Fernie.

According to Mr. Wilson, negotiations were well along in 1914 for such an undertaking, but the outbreak of the war caused the capitalists interested to withdraw.

The supposition is that negotiations have been successfully reopened and that, if the inspection of Mr. Wilson shows that there is a likelihood of sufficient ore, diamond drills will be put to work to definitely ascertain just how extensive the iron ore deposits are at this point.

The claims to be looked over are owned by C. P. Hill and associates, prominently identified with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The active interest of the Coal Co. is due to the fact than an iron industry would give a big market for the company's coal, which is specially adapted for coking.

The plant itself would of necessity be located at Fernie rather than in the neighborhood of Iron Mountain, because lime and other raw materials used in steel manufacture are more readily obtainable in the Fernie district.

The reported visit of Mr. Wilson is viewed with satisfaction here as a number of claims, which are as likely as those owned by Mr. Hill, have been worked on by local prospectors.

The B.C. Iron Company, in which Winnipeg and Nelson capital figures, also have a group of claims in the Iron Mountain area, assays of which show a very high grade of magnetite.

On July 1st, Mary, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bough of this city, was married to Archie Fleming of Coal Creek, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming of Strathcona, Scotland. The wedding took place in Christ Church, the Rev. H. U. Oswald officiating. The bride who wore a grey suit with hat etc. en suite, was attended by Miss Elissa Piolla as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by his brother, Wm. Fleming. After the ceremony the wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents and a very enjoyable evening was spent. On July 2nd the happy couple left for a three weeks honeymoon at Vancouver and other coast cities.

EDUCATIONAL SURVEY

The report of the Educational survey is being printed and it is understood that there will be a pretty general distribution throughout the province. A summary of the report has been handed out by the minister of Education. The Minister has stated that he will regard the report as suggestive rather than mandatory and the Education Department will introduce changes in line with the report from time to time where these are considered advisable.

School financing was thoroughly discussed. The chief recommendattion is that a tax of not less than one per cent. should be levied on all incomes not now taxed and be used largely to reduce the present school tax on real property in the province whether within a school district or not; that a larger share of the cost of buildings be borne locally; that provincial grants be re-arranged on a basis of ability and effort to pay rather than the number of teachers employed; that an intermediate school or junior high school be established that would permit pupils to specialize along broad general lines that are fundamental to vocational, scientificc or cultural programs of study; that manual training, domestic science and technical education be continued and extended; that by a system of bonusing successful rural school teachers should be encouraged to remain in country schools.

The Commissioners oppose any suggestion that Boards of School Trustees should be committees of committees of Municipal Councils or be in any way subservient to them. They favor the continuance of the present relations.

In regard to religious instruction the commissioners favor this but they hesitate to recommend that the teaching of religion be made a part of the school curriculum, until such time as the churches themselves can agree on what portions of the Bible should be taught.

The Commissioners oppose the imposition of high school fees. They recommend that were children from rural districts without high school attend high school in a municipality tuition fees be paid by the Government. The Commissioners give the Department of Education credit for the progress made in recent years in modernizing the system. They praise the personnel of the staff of inspectors and recommend more frequent inspection, especially in rural schools. They also have favorable comment for the Normal School staffs. In the opinion of the Commission no student should be admitted to Normal before the age of eighten.

—o—

Information reaching the Minister of Education as to the effect that the new leader of the British Columbia Doukhobors, who is expected in the Province in the course of the next two weeks, has sent forward instructions that the school laws must be strictly be complied with by the community. The building of four new schools has been decided upon to replace some of those which were burnt down and the erection of others will be discussed when the leader arrives.

Then You Will Want One for Your Own Kitchen

The very feel of it will make you want to own it. It balances so nicely, seems to be just right. The handle is rigid and does not tip around like a hinged handle. That means no slipping, scalded hands or accidents. See how you fill it? You lift the hinged lid and can fill it right under the tap or by dipper because the opening is at the side, not the centre.

Most headaches due to lack of internal cleanliness

WHEN you are constipated, poisons form in the accumulated food waste and are carried to all parts of the body. Headaches follow. Biliousness, insomnia, lack of energy, all result from constipation, which if unchecked will lead to serious results.

Avoid Laxatives—Say Doctors

A noted authority says that laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition.

Medical science has found in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative, and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

SPECIALIST SERVICE

If your heart is misbehaving, and your local doctor thinks it well to get the opinion of a specialist, this may be done, thanks to modern electrical methods, in about seven minutes though you chance to be in Atlantic City, N.J. at the time, and the heart specialist is in his office at Chicago, almost a thousand miles away. Merely a case of utilizing the electric telephone wire. The stethoscope makes the heart beat audible, while the oscillograph gives graphic presentation of its action, in the form of "stethogram" that may be transmitted by the new method of sending pictures by wire. So the specialist out there listens to your heart, checks his auditory findings by visual study of the diagram, and telephones his dignosis while you wait. All this naturally, on the assumption that your local physician is equipped with the necessary apparatus for putting heart-sounds and heart-picture on the wire. And we may assume that he soon will be so equipped, for the official stamp of approval was put upon the method, and a demonstration of its possibilities publicly made at the recent meeting of that augus body, the American Medical Association, when, according to the press accounts, fifteen hundred physicians attended what the New York Times describes as a long-distance clinic on the Steel Pier. The Times correspondent continues:

"Two photographs of heart-beats which had been sent to Chicago by the new telephoto process for diagnosis were shown on a screen while the gathering listened to a Chicago physician's diagnosis coming over a thousand miles of telephone wires and amplified so that the voice could be heard throughout the entire hall. It was announced as the first event of its kind in history and as bearing great possibilities for development in the quick diagnosis of cases when the diagnostic specialist is many miles away from the patient.

"One of the photographs represent-the heart-beat of a patient who was examined with a stethoscope here this morning. By means of a new apparof Columbia University and the Bell atus developed by Dr. H. B. Williams Telephone Laboratories a 'stethogram' or chart of his heart-beat was produced here. This was mailed to the American Telephone and Telegraph office in New York City, where it was communicated to chicago by the new method of sending pictures by wire.

"Dr. James R. Greer, of Chicago, made the diagnosis this afternoon. Shortly after six o'clock tonight, after the stethogram had been thrown on the screen here, Dr. Samuel W. Lambert, the New Yorkheart specialist, called up Dr. Greer from a telephone in the hall. Although separated by 1,000 miles the two physicians and the patient and the physicians attending the clinic were virtually brought together by the long-distance clinic.

The stethogram was discussed at length by Drs. Lambert and Greer. Dr. Greer gave his dignosis as irregularity of every other beat, with a bad prognosis, unless the irregularity was caused by the use of digitails.

"The two physicians also conferred about a stethogram showing a systolic murmur of the heart, which had been sent by telephoto process to Chicago earlier in the week. In this case, Dr. Greer's diagnosis had been written out, photographed and sent back to New York by the telephoto process, and it was thrown on the screen along with the stethogram.

Dr. Lambert agreed with Dr. Greer in each case. It was explained that it had taken only seven minutes to send each stethogram from New York to Chicago. The audience appeared much impressed by the demonstration and applauded it vigorously."

A bulletin from the Bell Telephone Laboratories gives further information as to the nature and use of the equipment used at the Atlantic City Demonstration. We read: "The basic elements of the electric stethscope include a vacum tube amplifier, similar in a general way to those which speed your voice over long-distance telephone lines; a group of wave filters which eliminate undesired sounds, and transmitter and receivers of special design design. In the telephone plant, filters are extensively used to enable more than one conversation to be carried over the same long-distance circuit. Differing in the requirement that it must pick up sounds from the body rather than from the air, the stethoscope transmitter hardly resembles the familiar telephone transmitter. Its rubber button is pressed against the patient's body; a rubber rim cuts down vibration from the hand which holds it. Since extreme quiet is essential to pick up the tiny sounds of greatest importance room noises are shut out by fitting the receivers with stethoscope tubes which enter the physicians ears in the familiar manner.

"To assemble and coordinate all these elements, several of them entirely new designs, has been the responsibility of Halsey A. Frederick, D. G. Blattner and their associates in the Bell Telephone Laboratories, in collaboration with Dr. H. B. Williams, prominent cardiographer of New York. Principally due to the latter is a device for making permanent records of the sounds. Passing through a wire lying in a magnetic field, the amplified sound currents set the wire into vibration and move a spot of light across a photo film. The wavy line traced on the film gives positive evidence of most abnormal conditions. Physicians have found records made at intervals of value in tracing the progress of treatment.

"However the latest and perhaps the most impressive application of the stethoscope is in connection with the cathode ray oscillograph which makes it possible to actually see the graphic representation of the pulsating heart. Aside from the spectacular aspect of this feature, it promises to become an invaluable aid in auscultatory diagnosis. It will enable the diagnosing physician, or group of physicians, to check hearing against sight. Simultaneously with hearing the heart-beats they may see the pulsations and detect the variations in time and intensity, if any, with more certainty than by hearing alone.

"A further and very important use for the electric stethoscope is in connection with physicians whose hearing has become somewhat impaired. It has been found that when people reach the age of about forty that in many cases some impairment of hearing begins, and this impairment usually increases with advancing age. By the time physicians have acquired some experience and have developed some judgement in auscultation, they often find that they have some impairment in hearing and can not be sure that they are able to hear all the heart and chest sounds that they should hear in auscultatory diagnosis."

Buy Milk Evaporated to Double Richness—
CARNATION

One and three-fourths pints of water are in every quart of market milk you buy.

The Carnation milkman takes some of this natural water out by evaporation.

But he leaves in the concentrated food value of milk. That is why Carnation is doubly rich—and safe—because sterilized in hermetically sealed cans.

Is there any wonder, then, Carnation Milk adds rich smoothness and texture to every dish in which you use it—improves the flavor of coffee and fruit and cereals?

From your grocer—order several tall (16 oz.) cans or by the case of 48 cans.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM

4 cups Carnation Milk, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 eggs, 2 squares Baker's Bitter Chocolate. Put milk and sugar into double boiler, let come to a boil, have eggs well beaten, and stir briskly while pouring into milk. Dissolve chocolate by putting in bowl and stand in hot water. When thoroughly dissolved, pour custard slowly into chocolate, stirring all the time. Freeze in regular manner. This serves ten people.

DEVILS FOOD CAKE

½ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup water, ½ cup Carnation Milk, 1½ cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 2 squares chocolate. Cream butter and sugar. Add yolks of eggs, water and Carnation Milk alternately with sifted flour and baking powder. Add melted chocolate, beat well, fold in beaten whites of eggs. This makes two layers.

AN ENGLISH DIET

The controversey on diet and disease continues to rage in Britain, and the medical fraternity generally is recommending a greater consumption of green vegetables and the displacement of white by whole wheat bread. There seems no general agreement, even among the "experts," as to what constitutes the ideal diet. We suppose that must remain a question according to the individual constitution. Everywhere and at all times there will always be individuals who will choose their own diet irrespective of medical advice, and this is illustrated by the reply of one English correspondent to advice tendered as to what should be eaten for breakfast:

For myself, I am an old man (seventy-five), and from childhood I have regularly taken for breakfast some variety of meat or fish, brown bread and butter and about a pint of good strong English ale (not bitter or lager), and I should be very sorry to change this diet for ay "fatty" substitute. As supplements, fruits and salads are pleasant and desirable, but as a staple for the average Englishman, most disastrous. Mr. Wyatt's notion (the vegetarian breakfast) is only one of many "fads" like teetotalism, responsible for the modern prevalence of nervous exhaustion and general debility. Ages of experience have shown a vegetarian diet to be excellent for natives of tropical climes, and have equally proved that good beef and good ale are essential for the well being of the native Englishman.

THE SITUATION IN ENGLAND

London, July 13.—The mining dispute assumed an entirely new phase today with the governments' announcement of its intention to institute a board of inquiry into the dispute under the International Courts act. The terms of reference are "to inquire into the causes and circumstances of the dispute in the coal mining industry."

The question and answers following upon Premier Baldwin's announcement of this decision in the house of commons seemed to indicate that the ministers arrived at the decision without first obtaining the acquiescence of either mine owners or the miners' federation. But it is believed that there will be no strong opposition to the government plan.

The only doubt is whether the miners' conference, now sitting at Scarborough, will back up the federation's insistence that the "mine owners" association shall withdraw the recent notice terminating the national agreement."

The proposed court will be entirely independent. It will consist of only three members—Rt Hon. Hugh Pattison MacMillan, lord advocate of Scotland, as chairman; Sir Joseph Stamp, who was British representative on the Dawes reparation commission on currency and finance in 1924; and W. Sherwood, trade union leader, and organizing secretary of the Municipal Workers' union.

The court will hear witnesses on both sides, and make recommendations, but will have no power to enforce its findings.

The government's chief aim is said to be to place all the facts impartially before the public, to enable the country to form an independent judgment and doubtless also to avert a grave labor trouble, as there are growing indications that the railway men and other unions will be disposed to give active support to the miners.

It has just come to the attention of the Liquor Commissioner that cards are being distributed at the International border to American motorists advertising four particular brands of liquor and giving the addresses of the liquor vendors' stores where they can be had. While the cards have the usual note at the bottom that this advertising is not done by the B.C. Government or the Liquor Control Board there is a false impression created that the Government is adopting this means to increase liquor sale to American tourists. The Commissioner has given instructions to vendors between Vancouver and the Boundary Line to remove from their shelves the brands mentioned on the cards until further notice.

The Quebec Chronicle, which was recently merged with the Telegraph of that city, was Canada's oldest newspaper. It was the lineal descendant of the Quebec Gazette, founded in 1764. The Chronicle was the morning paper of Quebec and The Telegraph is the afternoon paper, Since there are only 9,000 persons of British origin in the city the difficulty of keeping two English-language papers in circulation can well be imagined. The merger was the business-like course, though regret will be felt that it should mark the disappearance of a paper which was coeval with the taking over of Canada by the British.

Christ's Return Soon Manifest

"Millions now living will never die"
Judge Rutherford

That there will be a personal, second coming and presence of Jesus Christ is generally believed by Christians, but as to the object of his coming and the manner in which his presence will be revealed there is almost universal confusion. Indeed, few ministers care to discuss the subject.

Jesus did not leave his followers without information, however. He gave certain, clearly defined signs which should be looked for as indications of his presence in the world, and left the injunction: WATCH!

DO YOU KNOW that most of these signs are either already fulfilled or are in process of fulfillment?

DO YOU KNOW that most of the problems which mankind has vainly ought to solve (many of them them ages old) Christ himself has come to solve during his second presence?

DO YOU KNOW that the second presence of Christ means that there are millions of people living today who will never go into the tomb, but will live on the earth forever?

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor, Free Press:

It is gratifying to see the swimming pool near completion. I think that Mr. Herchmer deserves a good deal of credit for his part in the public meeting about this time last year. But since the construction of the swimming pool began, there have been discussions with regard to the rules to be enforced when the pool is ready.

One of these topics deals with the children and the adults. Will the children have certain swimming hours, during which time no adults will be allowed to swim? I hope, with others, that such is not the case. It would seem unnatural to have no children among adults. There is a great source of joy in being among children in the swimming hole. The objection might be raised that the pool would be too crowded. Those who advance this argument must remember that the swimming craze will last only about two weeks. It will then be merely a matter of eough room for the steady swimmers. Those of us who have seen about fifty people at once down by the Coal Company barn in the Coal Creek stream, have no fear of there being enough room for all, after the swimming craze is over. Besides, there will always be many people resting. All will not swim at once. Furthermore, we youths who are old enough to be called adults, do not want to be swimming exclusively with older people. We want also to be among those who are only a few years younger than ourselves.

Another topic of discussion deals with males and females. Will the males have one day and the females the next day? I think this would be unpopular with the majority of swimmers in town. We want the pool to be natural like an ordinary beach. You can hardly visit a swimming hole in town without seeing boys and girls there. This has been the case for quite a few years back. There will, then, be no novelty in allowing males and females to swim together. With one or two supervisors, there should be no question as to morals.

Summing the situation up, I think I may say, on behalf of most of the steady swimmers, that we would like to see the swiming hole open to men, women, boys and girls at any time of the day.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I sign myself

"A steady swimmer."

CORBIN F. C. LOSES AND WINS WITH HILLCREST

On Saturday, June 27th, the Corbin Football Club journeyed to play their first game in the Perri Cup series. Something happened and the boys came back on the short end of a score of 6-0.

However, on Sunday, July 5th, Hillcrest returned the visit, and after a hectic struggle, Corbin emerged from the fray victorious by 1-0, Baxter scoring the only goal, after the goal keeper had fumbled Grieve's shot. The game was fairly clean up to the last few minutes, and Hillcrest had hard luck in not scoring on several occasions. Corbin however scored another goal, (Baxter heading in a centre from the right wing), which was disallowed by the referee on the ground of offside. The spectators did not agree with his decision. Rather an unfortunate occurrence marred the end of the game. The referee was notified by the linesman that the game had already gone 1 minute overtime. He acknowledged the notification, turned round and went on with the game. Directly after this, in a scrimmage around the Corbin goal, the ball was handled by a Hillcrest player who knocked it forward onto a Corbin defender's hand. The referee immediately blew his whistle and awarded Hillcrest a penalty kick. This was protested against by the Corbin players and the game was finally called by the referee as "Unfinished."

It was too bad to spoil a game in this manner but after being notified that time was up, the referee should not have continued the play. When the penalty was given, time hadbeen up for three minutes. The crowd did not think much of the referee's decisions and as he is a member of the Hillcrest executive, some harsh things were said about him.

For Corbin the defence put up a great game. Dave Grieve, Miller and Campbell doing very fine work, while A. Grieve in goal was unbeatable. The forwards did not get going as well as they should have done, but improvement is looked for in the next game.

Here and There

Conditions in the fruit areas of British Columbia are reported as satisfactory. Weather conditions have been good and the trees are healthy.

According to recent reports general conditions in the Maritime Provinces are normal. Potato seeding is about complete. Trees in the Annapolis fruit districts are in good shape and estimates point to a normal crop.

A consignment of lumber from South Westminster, B.C., arrived recently at Dorval, Quebec, on the Canadian Pacific lines, consisting of twenty-nine logs of Douglas Fir, some of which were so long that three flat-cars were required to carry them.

Field Marshal Earl Haig and Countess Haig travelled through western Canada to the Pacific coast over the Canadian Pacific Railway recently, after attending the conference of the British Empire Service League at Ottawa.

"Western Canada has never had better crop prospects than which exist now," stated Ernest G. Cook, of E. Cook, Ltd., Crop Insurance Co., of Moose Jaw, Sask., who recently spent two weeks at Banff, after touring the West and studying crop conditions.

According to "Agricultural and Industrial Progress in Canada" the Department of Trade and Commerce has issued the following comparative statement for 1924 and 1925 trade in the Dominion:—

	1924	1925
Total trade .	$1,902,130,164	$1,878,294,180
Impts. .	893,366,867	796,932,537
Expts. .	1,058,763,297	1,081,361,643
Fav. Bal.	165,396,430	284,429,106

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics the annual consumption of standing timber for use, amounts to about 2,600,000,000 cubic feet. The loss by fire, insects and fungi about doubles this depletion, and it is estimated that Canadian forests are depleted at the rate of upwards of five and a half billion cubic feet per annum.

For the first time in the history of Canada upwards of three thousand redskins from the four western provinces and Montana journeyed to McLeod, Alberta, early in July, and held an all-Indian celebration and formed a league of plains Indians. Five thousand white people attended the ceremony and watched the Indians stage their spectacular mounted war-dance.

THE DOLE SYSTEM

In the British Parliament recently Premier Baldwin suggested that bounties might be given to distressed industries in place of unemployment doles. It is to be hoped that the Government will be able to work out some programme on this or similar lines, anything to get away from the dole system, which is proving itself a menace and a curse. A curse because it is nursing a nation of idlers, and a menace because it is draining the country of millions that should be employed in furthering industry.

There can be no thought of cutting off the dole without substituting something. It cannot be done, and with that idea the best thought in England arises. At the same time there are many thousands in the British Isles that could work if they would, but prefer to live at the Government's expense. With all these thousands of unemployed, the people on the land lack the necessary help. The English newspapers have latterly been filled with specific instances where both men and women have idled about looking work in the face but refusing to take it as they were on the dole. For instance, a lusty young son, a miner, who refused to stir a hand to put his widowed mother's farm in order because he was "on dole" as an unemployed miner; and if employed by her would lose his benefits.

Latterly there has been an alarming increase in the number receiving doles. For instance, in June, 1924, the official total of unemployed numbered 1,027,000. In June, 1925, the number had risen to 1,291,000. This, however, is by no means a record, for as late as January of this year the out-of-works officially numbered 1,307,000.

The answer seems to lie in the fact that the British Isles are over populated, and those who are best informed in Britain lend no hope to the country ever being able to employ its present population to the full. Owing to mechanical improvements, the growth of technical efficency, and the introduction of more machinery the output is greater with a small expenditure of labor than was the case some years ago, say before the war. Add to this the very real competition of the continental countries, together with excessive taxation, which they are escaping, and we have perhaps the real causes for the position in which Great Britain finds herself.

Travelling about the British Isles the conclusion forced itself upon the writer that many changes must take place. First, as already stated, there are to many people for the work at hand. Take the railways for instance. They are overstaffed. Everywhere you meet with two or three men trying to keep busy doing one man's work. In consequence the railways are letting into a bad position financially. They are not hauling the tonnage of old, but are keeping on the staffs, because to date they have been unable to come to any adjustment with the men as to how staffs may be decreased and expenses cut. And a cut in staffs just now would mean that many more added to the dole.

Another outstanding menace to British prosperity is the labor union, which on all sides is blocking real progress in its fight for what it considers its rights. But this is another story and will be taken up later on.—Saturday Night.

Kamloops Sentinel. Canada contains nearly 3,730,000 square miles of which over 3,600,000 square miles is land. How much of this area have you seen? This question is asked by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service for the Department of the Interior. Canada has all the attractions that any one could wish to see. There are quiet spots where those wanting a real rest may find their heart's desire; there are rivers, lakes and the sea where he who delights to hear the whirr of the reel may secure the finest of game fish; throughout large portions of the country the canoe routes beckon to those who would get away from the nerve-straining conditions of present day civilization, and camping sites await those would live in the open.

As a preliminary to prorogation at Ottawa on June 27 Premier King hoisted the Union Jack on the main tower of the Parliament Buildings—the first flag to fly on the main tower since the fire. It will be recalled that on one occasion Sir Wilfrid Laurier was asked why the flag of Canada was not flying over the Parliament Buildings. His reply was that it was flying there, that "the Union Jack is the flag of Canada."

The Soviet official press is bringing every pressure to bear to prevent Germany from joining the League of Nations. Germay is also being urged to have nothing to do with the proposed Security Pact. The hint is broadly stated that if Germany does not follow this advice Soviet Russia will seek allies elsewhere. This attitude would tend to illustrate that Russia herself has no intention of joining the League.

INCREASING LIFE SPAN

Living long and living well are not necessarily the same, decrees Louis A. Hansen in Life and Health (Washington, D. C.), but he goes on to say that disease prevention does more than lengthen life by decreasing the death-rate.

It increases the usefulness and enjoyment of life. It enlarges our possibilities, adds to our accomplishment, and makes for progress in every way. It greatly adds to the happiness of life itself, and makes life worth living." If this estimate be accepted, we may well applaud the triumph of preventive medicine that vital statistics record. Here are certain details as Mr. Hansen presents them:

"In 1800 the average length of life was thirty-three years, in 1855 it was forty years, and in 1920 it was fifty-eight years. Eighteen years have been added to the average duration of life since 1855. From 1910 to 1920 the increase in the life span was four years.

"It is generally considered that the larger part of the world's burdens is borne by men above forty years of age. Thus in 1800 the average man died seven years before he reached the age of his greatest usefulness. In 1920 the average man lived eighteen years beyond this age.

"If we take the age of twenty-one as the time that men reach their productive period, we can see that in 1800 the average man had but twelve years of productive life ahead of him, while in 1920 he had thirty-seven years of splendid usefulness before him.

"These figures are for the United States. Five or six countries are ahead of the United States in the expectancy of life. New Zealand has an expectancy of sixty years. In 1910 Australia, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Holland were from one to six years in advance of this country in their average of life expectancy. India stood lowest, with an average life expectancy of about twenty-two and a half years.

"In 1911 a death-rate of 117 per 1,000 was generally accepted as normal. Deaths above this rate were considered abnormal or unnatural.

"In 1923 the rate was reduced to 12.3 per 1,000 for the registration area of the United States, and for 1924 the estimated rate is still lower, 11.6 per 1,000. Thus in a decade have standards had to change, showing a possibility in life-saving that is very remarkable."

We are warned that such conquests of disease have been the result of knowing what to do, and doing it, that the basis of all health work is education of intellect and conscience, and that the great desideratum is "temperance in eating, drinking, work, play, and all the conduct of life."

The Springfield Republican says: "It is easy to scoff at the comparative failure of the Geneva Conference to place under regulation the international traffic in munitions, yet thus far the traffic in pistols which every year boosts the American murder rate, has been beyond the reach of effective regulation. Chicago has a murder a day, year in and year out, while the annual total of homicides of all degrees in the country reaches the staggering figure of 10,000. The automatic pistol is the favorite weapon of the American gunmen."

VETERANS WILL UNITE

In paving the way to complete unity among Canadian war veterans, Field Marshal Earl Haig has performed a service to this Dominion that merits the grateful appreciation of every true citizen. For years several of the rival associations have been wasting their strength in petty jealousies and disagreements and thereby alienating that public sympathy which was at first so readily extended to them. They have shown a tendency to let themselves be degraded into mere centres of discontent and agitation, and every citizen who understands the part played by Canada's soldiers in the war has been sorry for it.

Now, however, the iniative of Earl Haig and the public-spiritedness of the Great War Veterans' Association, which led the way in placing itself at the Field Marshal's disposal, seem to have ended this unhappy situation. Four veterans' associations in Canada have already pledged themselves to the establishment of an united organization, as the result of a series of conferences held since the arrival of Earl Haig in Canada, and representatives of several other national and local bodies have pledged themselves to carry the proposal for a complete union to their memberships and to obtain a decision as soon as possible. It is hardly to be expected that any association of importance will wish to stay out. In the past the various organizations have largely nullified each other's efforts by their disagreements, and the benefits to be obtained through unity will be apparent to all.

It is proposed that the united associations shall be known as the British Legion in Canada, and that the latter shall be afiliated with the British Legion, in Great Britain, which also owes its existence as such chiefly to the efforts of Earl Haig. The British veterans, since their union, have succeeded in carrying through many movements for the public good, and there is no doubt that Canadian veterans, if they likewise decide upon fusion, will enter upon a sphere of usefulness to themselves and the public generally that will be worthy of the part they played in war.

J. A. S. in the Westminster Gazette: It is unfortunately not according to human experience that the power of spending money inclines the majority of people to be more active and industrious in the daily toil of producing things; and the Socialist State which paid out high wages in the faith that this consequence would follow would almost certainly find itself in a very short time with a debased currency and an impoverished people. Bolshevism begins by inflation and ruin and endeavors to correct the consequences by an iron despotism to enforce production. When this fails, there is nothing for it but to return to the hated system of trading for private profit.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

New "Baby City" of Ontario

(1) North Bay's Main Street. (2) The Canadian Pacific Station, North Bay. (3) The Post Office.

An Old Home Week Celebration to celebrate the attainment of City status will be the big attraction for Northern Ontario the first week in August. North Bay, to-day the largest Town in the Province, with a population officially estimated at 13,011, will become the Baby City of Ontario on Sunday, August 2nd. For the following six days, it will be a case of "open house" with all the well-known hospitality of the North Country.

Special services in all the City churches, conducted in most cases by former pastors, who were identified with the early history of the Town, will inaugurate Old Home Week. The following day officialdom takes charge with "Civic Day", when the formal presentation of the City Charter will be made at Memorial Park and representatives of the Federal and Provincial Governments will extend their congratulations to the Gateway City of the North.

A race track has had to be practically rebuilt, two privately owned parks have had to be taken over for the year and other large expenditures incurred, but the citizens are behind the celebration movement and are determined to make it something that will be long remembered in the Northland.

The history of North Bay is one that is not generally known to all Canadians, even though the name is familiar from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as a great railroad centre. North Bay was originally discovered by Samuel de Champlain in 1615 and was a post on the old trail from the Ottawa to the Great Lakes in the time of the great French explorer.

The first settlements here are recorded as in 1882, with the coming of the first train over the Canadian Pacific Railway. North Bay was never incorporated as a village. Like Topsy, it just grew and became officially a town in 1891. In 1895, the population was 2,024, in 1905 it was 3,813, and in 1915 it was 10,041, and the last municipal census placed it at 13,011, while the rapid growth of the town this year indicated that it will be at least 15,000 when it takes its position as a City next August.

The Canadian Pacific paved the way for North Bay. The old Grand Trunk followed with its first train in June, 1888. Next was Northern Ontario's own railway, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario, which was built north to the mining areas from North Bay in 1904, the first train being operated out of here on January 12th, 1905. The Canadian Northern was the fourth line to come in here, their first train arriving on September 14th, 1915.

Three and a half tons of gold bullion pass through North Bay every month from the Northern Mines, together with 13 tons of silver bullion, 503 tons of high-grade silver ores, 6,030 tons of pulp and 12,450 tons of paper. It makes a formidable array when checked up.

NEW MAPS FOR CANADA

Twenty-three revised sheets of the Sectional Map of Canada have now been issued by the Topgraphical Survey, Department of the Interior, covering generally speaking, the more populous parts of Western Canada between Winnipeg and the Rocky mountains. The Donald and Banff sheets (Nos. 163 and 164) recently issued are prepared on the same basis as all the rest of the series but are of special interest to tourists, alpinists, hunters, fishermen, and naturalists because they cover a large portion of the very finest scenery in the Rocky and Selkirk mountains. The topographical information is very complete. To the basic topography of mountain and stream have been added the improvements of man, such as the built-up portions of towns and cities, motor campsites, golf links, etc. Four classes of roads are shown and also the pack-trails and bridle-paths. The alpinist will find the maps of great value because of the accurate location and altitude of all the peaks and contours, indicating the best climbing routes. The ice-fields and glaciers are prominently shown, and also the wooded areas.

Calgary is shown at the southeast corner of the Banff sheet and Mount Revelstoke National park at the south-west corner of the Donald sheet, which adjoins the Banff sheet to the west. The entire areas covered by Yoho and Glacier National parks are shown and the northerly portions of the Rocky Mountains and Kootenay National parks. Within a few months it is expected that the Calgary sheet (No. 114), will be issued, covering the country south of the Banff sheet, including the remainder of these parks. In the meantime a map of the Rocky Mountains National park on nearly the same scale provides the best information obtainable.

The Calgary-Windermere road, now of international importence as part of the 4,000-mile Grand Circle tour of Canadian and United States National parks, is of course prominently shown in a broad, red line. The three other classes of roads may be readily picked out, and what is of perhaps greater impartance is the great number of pony or pack-horse trails shown.

These maps cover the best known Rocky and Selkirk mountains, including the finest of Canada's alpine regions, altogether over 6,000 square and most attractive scenery in the well known tourist haunts coveredz miles of mountains. Among the very Banff, Lake Louise, Moraine lake and valley of the Ten Peaks, Paradise valley, lake O'Hara, Yoho valley, Takakkaw and Twin falls, the great Wapta ice-field and glacier, and Emerald lake, all in the Rocky mountains; and the most easily reached glacier on the continent, the great Illecillewaet, the Asulkan valley, mount Sir Donald, and Albert canyon in the Selkirk mountains.

The scale is one inch to three miles. Each sheet is printed in eight colors and covers an area of about 4,300 square miles. For public demand these are supplied at the nominal price of 25 cents for each copy on thick or thin paper, or in a pocket folder for 50 cents.

PROVIDING CHEAP LABOR

The facts on which the ensuing commentary on Russian marriage conditions is based do not come from any outside source, but from the celebrated "Pravda" of Moscow; and evidently passed the Soviet censorship. They show how the free divorce laws introduced by Lenin and his followers, by which any man may put away his wife when he is through with her, are utilized for the exploitation of women. "Kulaks" or peasant profiteers, tho now tolerated in Russia as an economic necessity, are subject to reprobation in many articles and cartoons in the Russian press. And in condemning them th "Pravda" shows how they are using Soviet divorce laws to their own advantage. The Soviet is said to protect the interests of the working man, though it sees to it that he works; but protection of labor does not extend to wives who, among the Russian peasantry, have always been more or less enslaved. Thus a peasant employer in the spring secures a field hand by marrying a vigorous young peasant girl, and after making her work all summer evades the necessity of keeping her all winter by divorcing her in the autumn. He escapes paying casualty insurance and wages and compliance with other regulations such as those which the Soviet imposes on employees with regard to hours of labor. As a wife she cannot strike and personal chastisement of wives who loaf is still as much a Russian custom as it ever was. The summer-wife has thus become an economic institution in rural Russia; but what do the lady "pinks" among the intelligentsia of this continent think of the system of which she is the product ?—Saturday Night.

DOMINION ROAD GRANTS

Under the Canada Highways Act, the federal legislation intended to encourage the building of highways, agreements have been entered into for the construction of approximately 8,000 miles of good roads in the different provinces, and at the close of the working season of 1924 nearly 6,000 miles had been completed. By the terms of the above-mentioned Act there was appropriated from the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada the sum of $20,000,000 to encourage the building of highways, this amount being divided among the provinces in proportion to population. The aid has gone towards the making of the best highways possible with local materials, upon main trunk arteries. Of the cost of approved projects, under this plan, the Dominion Government has paid 40 per cent and the province concerned 60 per cent. The total length of the road systems to which this contribution has applied is 25,000 miles. The mileage in each province, completed with federal aid, is as follows:

Province	Miles
Alberta	177.00
British Columbia	263.71
Manitoba	958.20
New Brnswick	350.00
Nova Scotia	474.78
Ontario	564.88
Prince Edward Island	670.50
Quebec	954.66
Saskatchewan	1,551.20
Total	5,964.93

In the above table it will be noted that some of the more populous provinces have a smaller mileage than less populous provinces. This is due to the fact that roads which are satisfactory for the light traffic of, say, Prince Edward Island can be built for $3,000 or $5,000 per mile, whereas roads to carry the heavy traffic in parts of Ontario and Quebec cost from $25,000 to $75,000 per mile.

All of the provinces, except Alberta which was the last province to enter upon this highway work, have now under agreement enough highway construction to take up the whole of their allotments under the Act. There remain in the aggrgate in the different provinces, however, about 2,000 miles under agreement that must be carried forward to completion before the necessary certificates can be issued by the Highways Division of the Federal Departmet of Railways and Canals, that the work has been done at a reasonable cost and in accordance with the plans and specifications. For this reason the period during which total federal grant may be taken up has been extended to March 31, 1928. By this time all roads must be completed and under maintenance patrol.

Highways are now familiar sights in every province and it is recognized that motorways are necessary for the accomodation of motor traffic. Hence, notwithstanding wide financial stringency, there have been during the past five years as a result of a forward-looking attitude on the part of provincial legislatures, splendid achievements in highway making to the credit of every province of the Dominion. Advance with caution and due regard to the future has been the watchword. This attitude has resulted in the building of real highways, though as yet largely unpaved, of generous dimensions, wide, straight, elevated at curves, well drained, and with fair surface conditions.

In regard to highways two things have to be considered: their use by our own citizens, and by visitors from abroad. The tremendous increase in the use of motor vehicles in Canada in the past few years is scarcely realized. In 1914 the number of motor vehicles registered was 69,547; in 1924 it was 650,231—nearly ten times as great. The increase in 1924 over 1923 was 75,152. On the other hand there was the motor traffic from the United States. Looking merely at the total number of tourists' motor cars entering Canada there is a decrease from 1,936,600 in 1923 to 1,898,859 in 1924, but this decrease is entirely in the number of cars entering Canada for twenty- four hours. The number of cars brought into Canada for one to six months rose from 1,956 to 2,344, and those brought in for two to thirty days increased from 272,444 to 361,630. It will thus be seen that the aggregate number of days spent by tourists in the country was increased greatly in 1924. This resulted in a growth in the estimated revenue from tourists from $118,000,000 in 1923 to $143,000,000 in 1924. Great as this sum is the direct and indirect benefit to Canada from increased transportation facilities for its own citizens and in the way of improved international relations are even greater.

The United States is figuring on bringing about a reduction in taxes in its next budget of $400,000,000. The specific proposals are the scaling down of the surtaxes to 25 per cent and a possible decrease in the present normal tax of 2 per cent. President Coolidge believes he can do nothing of greater service to the country than to force down taxes, a process which will permit business to expand and will afford needed relief to the masses of the people. That the United States has been in a position to make substantial decreases in its tax bill during the last few years is due in part, and in great part, to its having resolved itself into the most highly protected country in the world.

Writing on the subject of the agitation of certain minds in this country in favor of a new flag, The Manchester (Vermont) Leader says: "Australia has a flag, so Canada should have one, they are saying. Australia, as an outpost of the white race in the South Seas, would have a much greater moral power if it proclaimed to the undeveloped races that quietly menace its existence the fact that it was an integral part of the great British Empire. In unity there is strength and a common flag is a notice to all that this unity exists. To the man outside New Zealand and Australia it is somewhat prouder thing to be part of the British Empire than to be a citizen of a commonwealth of a scant million people in Maori land, or one of the five millions or so that fringe the sea coast of the island continent. The more Australia and Canada detach themselves from the Empire, the less heir importance in the world. Whatever conduces to such a detachment conduces to a lessening of the power, wealth and prestige of these Dominions. When they lower the proud and ancient emblem of mighty Britain—and raise some new devising with no history back of it, they have done an ill-advised thing. The meteor flag has a halo, is bathed in an aura of the immemorial glories of a great race that no new flag of new branches of that race can have."

Now that interest in Mah Jongg and cross word puzzles has petered out, the Cuss & Spit Club is thinking some of sponsoring a Finger-nail Biter's contest between local devotees of this sport in order to enliven the dull days ahead.

The law officers of the Dominion Government have given the opinion that the provinces have complete authority to provide money for an old age pension system. In other words, this is tantamount to saying that the Dominion Government will not institute such a plan. It is for the provinces to decide a future course of action and this will be one of the subjects discussed at a forth-coming meeting of provincial premiers. It is estimated that the total cost of an old age pension system to cover all Canada would be $22,000,000 per annum.

COAL AND PETROLEUM NOTICE

Fernie District of South-east Kootenay

Notice is hereby given that within sixty days (60) from date hereof I intend to apply to the Minister of Lands for a licence to prospect for coal and petroleum on the following described lands, Lots Nos. 7284, 7285, 7286, 7287, 7136 and 11952. South-east Kootenay.

Dated the 13th July, 1925.

J 17-5t. C. J. Wallingford.

WATER NOTICE

Diversion and Use.

Take notice that Charles E. Letts, whose address is Bull River, B.C., will apply for a licence to take and use 200 acre feet of water out of Horse-shoe Creek, which flows westerly and drains into sinks on S. L. 14 of Lot 111, and 400 feet east from west line of S.L. 14.

The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about 1200 feet S.E. from the N.W. corner of S. Lot 16, and on S.L. 16 of Lot 311, and will be used for irrigation purpose upon the land described as S. Lots 14 and 15 of Lot 311.

This notice was posted on the ground on the 15th day of June, 1925.

A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act, 1924," will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Fernie, B.C.

Objections to the application may be filed with the Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., appearance of this notice in a local within thirty days of the first newspaper.

CHARLES E. LETTS,
Applicant.

The date of the first publication of this notice is Friday, June 19th, 1925.

J19-5

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Isn't One Roofing Bill Enough?

Don't buy a roof that's going to keep on costing you money after it's laid. Put down a roof that will last.

Barrett Smooth-Surfaced Roll Roofing gives you this kind of a roof. This sturdy, dependable roofing is easy and economical to lay—will never rot or rust. And it's fire-safe—sure protection against flying sparks and embers. Just the thing for barns, sheds and garages.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Rev. Wm. Burns entertained the Rotary Club at their luncheon on Monday last with a very fine report of the big International Convention which he attended at Cleveland. Mr. Albert Sanborne, of Wisconsin, was also a speaker at the luncheon.

The installation of officers of the local lodge K. of P. was held on Tuesday evening. A social evening was held afterwards to which the wives of members and Pythian Sisters were invited.

Another old timer severed his connection with Fernie on Thursday morning in the person of Bill Hartwell, for many years coachman to Dr. Bonnell, owing to going blind for the past six months. He has been removed to a home at Marpole, B.C.

At a meeting of the local Conservative Association held in Victoria Hall last Friday night the following were chosen as delegats ta attend the nominating convention which was held in Cranbrook on Wednesday: G. G. Moffatt, H. Minton, D. Nicoletti, S. Herchmer, N. McCallum, Dr. Corsan, and D. Harvie.

The results of the Highland dancing competition held at the sports ground July 1st were as follows:

Sword Dance, Open—1st Nan Arbuckle, 2nd Rose Sewart, 3rd Bell Smith.

Highland Fling—1st Hazel Skilling, 2nd Martha Smith, 3rd Irene Reed.

Highland Fling—1st Irene Reed, 2nd Martha Smith, 3rd Hazel Skilling.

Dr. Jean Martin, the supreme regent for Canadian territory of the Women of Mooseheart Legion, visited the local chapter on Tuesday evening in her official capacity. A very interesting discourse on Mooseheart and Moosehaven was listened to by the assembly after which refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was spent in social gathering. Vocal and instrumental items and Scotch dances by the Misses Thomson and Reid contributed to a pleasant evening. Bro. and Sister Tarr provided the music for the light fantastic.

RUNAWAY LASSIES

The two young girls who were detained by the Mounted Police in the Fernie City jail following their trip to Wardner on a freight train last week, have now been identified as Marion Kroning, aged 15, and Dora Peterson, aged 16, who ran away from the Mount View Home at Calgary for dilinquent and dependent girls on July 6th. This information was disclosed when a letter was received from the superinendent of the Home who had read the story of their last week's escapade in the Calgary Herald, giving a full description of the two girls who had run away from that institution. The description was identical to that of the girls in custody, but when at first confronted with this information they maintained for a time that their story told the police that they were Americans and had beat their way across the border, was correct. After some questioning, however, they finally admitted they were the girls who had ran away from Calgary, and the Mount View Home was communicated with to that effect.

The Calgary Herald says : The Kroning and Peterson girls have run away from the Mount View Home here on three previous occasions, according to Miss Johnston, superintendent of the institution. It will all depend on Supt. McLeod, head of the Children's Aid Society for the Province, whether or not the girls will be brought back to the Mount View Home. Miss Johnston says the girls disappeared from here in the early morning of July 7th.

ANOTHER DAY FOR KIDDIES

Fernie lodge of Elks will celebrate their first annual flag day on Wednesday, August 5th, in the City Park.

The parade of 2,000 kiddies will form on the grounds back of the 41 Market at 1.30 p. m. sharp, marching down Victoria Avenue to the City Park.

Each child will be presented with a flag free and at the Park entrance all children under 15 years will be given five tickets each, entitling them to two ice cream cones, two soft drinks, and a bag of salted peanuts.

Now children get in the parade. You sure can't let a chance like this go by. The Elks will act as escorts to the children at the park and a large program has been arranged for the enjoyment of the parents and children. No admision charges, free gate, every body welcome.

$100 in prize money. There will be grounds. Grand challenge football, ball game and all kinds of races, highland fling dances. Music at the grounds. Grand challenge fotball game married men vs single men. Respective captains A. Klauer and M. Berigan. Losers to buy supper. Married men to wear bathing suits, single men hobble skirts. Refreshments at the booths and everything. Watch next week's paper.

C. V. Asselstine, of Bellevue, was a Rotary guest at their luncheon on Monday last. Mr. Asselstine, who is a brother of Dr. Asseltine of Fernie, is spending a few weeks in the city. The Lethbridge Herald contains the following news item from Bellevue regarding the visitor : "C. V. Asseltine, B. Sc., for six years principal of the Bellevue High and Public Schols, has accepted a position on the Crescent Heights High School staff Calgary. Mr. Asselstine came to Bellevue school as his first teaching appointment after the war, in which he served as a member of the Signal Corps, and he taught here ever since. Before the war he taught at Castor, Alberta. The Bellevue schools have grown under Mr. Asselstine's principalship—to twelve rooms, four being added last summer when the Maple Leaf ward school was completed. Besides superintending the activities of the whole school, Mr. Asselstine taught the mathematics and science of the tupper grades.

Mrs. Asselstine has also been a public figure during her stay in the Pass town, and in church and Ladies' Aid work has given continual assistance in the public welfare work of the town. She and their little daughter Jean, will also be sorely missed when the family take their departure for the Foothill City.'

GEN. MANAGER AT CANMORE

The Calgary Herald of Saturday says R. M. Young, Commissioner of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association, has been appointed general manager of the Canmore Coal Company.

When seen on Friday morning Mr. Young informed The Herald that this statement was correct and that he would be terminating his engagement with the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association at the end of August.

Mr. Young was appointed Commissioner of the Western Canada's Coal Operators' Association in April, 1921, coming here from the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. at Fernie, with which company he had been for 17 years.

The Canmore Coal Company operates mines at Canmore, Alta., on the main line of the Canadian Pacific, 15 miles east of Banff. The company employees between 300 and 440 men and produces some quarter of a million tons of steam coal annually.

At the present time this company is proceeding with the construction of a briquetting plant, the product from which it is expected will be on the market this fall.

In reply to a question, Mr. Young stated that no action had been taken by the Association yet as to the appointment of a successor.

"He will certainly be well fitted for his new position," was the remark of William Sherman, president of District 18 U.M.W. of A., when advised by the Herald that R. M. Young was resigning the Commissionership of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association to become General Manager of the Canmore Coal Company. "We have always found Mr. Young a most competent man to deal with, and he is well able to handle his new position," said Mr. Sherman.

Wm. Sherman, President of District No. 18 U.M.W. of A., was assulted on Thursday morning at Drumheller by alleged members of the Communist party. Sherman was walking on the road between the railway track and the Ukranian labor temple when he was accosted by a number of men. The first reports were that he was seriously injured, but later in a telephone conversation with Wm. Ryan, stated that he hand not been seriously injured and that he was remaining in Drumheller valley to address four meetings. Mr. Ryan said that seven arrests had been made in connection with the affair.

BEGINNING TO TAKE NOTICE

The Southern Alberta sport scribes are beginning to comment upon Fernie's chances in the Alberta Amateur Baseball championship play-offs and appear to figure them as strong contenders, judging by the following comments :

The Medcine Hat News says :—Alberta may enjoy the unhappy sensation of having a British Columbia baseball team crowned champions of Alberta. The Lethbridge Herald says that it is understood Fernie will be admitted to the senior play-offs of this province.

Lethbridge Herald :—It is understood that Fernie will be admitted to the play-off for the Alberta championship this year. If this is true it will likely mean that the Clubs, supposing they win the Southern Alberta League, will meet the miners in the first round of the play-downs. Considering the status of the Fernie nine the Southern Alberta representatives couldn't get a much tougher layout. But someone has to play them if they are admitted and the teams will be forced to take them as they come.

Chicago, July 24.—Less than four hours before he was to be executed, Russel Scott, former Canadian company promoter, was saved from the gallows when the Judge issued a writ of habeas corpus. It was also announced that Scott's brother, Robert, missing since the murder of the druggist, for which Russel was to hang, has been located at Port Huron.

FERNIE BEATS KIMBERLEY

Playing in the first of a home and home series here Sunday afternoon Fernie defeated Kimberley, winners of the Cranbrook District Baseball League, by a score of 12 runs to 4. The return game will be played at Kimberley on Sunday next which will be Fernie's first away game this season.

Jacobs did not appear to be in his usual form even although he struck out ten batters and only allowed 8 longer hits off him than any team has this summer. His own batting however, was the feature of the game, hitting the first home run on the Fernie diamond that has been scored for many seasons, and then the next time up he hit the right field fence for a three-bagger, which could easily have been stretched to a circuit. Barger also knocked a clean home run and drove in two runs ahead of him in the eighth innings.

"Scotty" Mitchell and Vaughn, the Lumberton battery, worked for Kimbedley and held Fernie down pretty well during the first few innings but when runs were required the locals appeared to be able to get them with timely hitting. Errors by the Kimberley infield were responsible for quite a number of the runs Fernie scored.

Kimberley opened the scoring in their first innings, Rochon scoring after he drew a pass and Mitchell hit safely. Shand scored for Fernie in their half of the first even-up. Kimberley took the lead in the third again when C. Musser made the circuit. Fernie assumed the lead in their half of the third, Hovan and Steinert scoring, and from then on were never headed, adding one run in the fifth, two in the 6th, one in the seventh and five in the eighth while Kimberley were only able to add a couple of runs in the seventh.

CRANBROOK VS FERNIE

Cranbrook Courier — Wednesday afternoon, a junior ball team from Fernie made its appearance in Cranbrook. They are known in Fernie as "Ingram's 150 Juniors." They won the admiraion of the Cranbrook fans and team, and might properly be called the Fernie Midgets, as most of them were under fourteen years of age. The class of ball put up, however, was not in keeping with their age, however, for both at the bat and in the field the youngsters played like veterans. An instance of this was seen in the catch made by W. Ross in the fourth inning, which would be hard to beat. This was a long fly made by Ray Beech that looked too difficult for the diminutive fielder to catch, even if he could get under it. The game youngster ran, however, and picked it up in front of him, about at his shoe tops . The Cranbrook fans gave him a good cheer for his feat.

The final score was nine to eight in favor of Cranbrook, and the game should be an incentive to more of the younger boys to get out and practice. If a bunch of Fernie youngsters can become so proficient at the game, there is no reason why Cranbrook cannot. Mr. Ingram, who it is understood is responsible for this young team, should feel proud of the youngsters and also Johnny Hovan, who is their manager. He did a lot to help the boys by the manner in which he directed them from the bench. The teams were as follows :

Fernie—Ross, lf; Ingram, rf; Harvie, pitcher; Ross, 2b; Gettins,c; Coma, cf; Misisco, 1b; Eastwood, ss; Telip, 3b.

Cranbrook—Pascuzzo, ss; J. R. McDonald, rf; Leask, 2b; Lewis, c; Parker, cf; Linnell, lf; Lawrie, 3b; Shankland, 1b ; Horie, p.

W. Doran acted as referee and Angus McDonald, as base umpire.

SPIRITUALISM A FAKE

Communication between the living and the dead is still the fond hope of uncounted hosts,, and, as all of us know, there are scientists, writers and people of affairs who maintain not only that it is possible, but that it is a matter of frequent occurrence. Yet the greatest necromancer of the age—perhaps of all time—asserts that the whole accomplishment is nothing but trickery and illusion and advises seekers after truth not to search for it in spiritualism but to turn to real religion. Houdini, who astounds even his confreres in the magician's art, asserts that mediums employ tricks in the seance room which have deluded scientists of world-wide reputation but which would not deceive an amateur magician. Disguised, and accompanied by detectives and a reporter, he recently exposed a medium in New York after she had brought from the beyond the spirit of a son Houdini never had, and called forth the reporter's father who is still alive. It was also noted that the "spirits" made the same grammatical errors which the otherwise practised medium committed in her preliminary lecture. The seance was conducted in darkness, and at the psycholoyical moment Houdini turned on a flashlight and exposed the paraphernalia of trumpets with which the medium disguised her voice when speaking as a "spirit." A stampede of the victims of the fraud followed, and the woman and her assistant, who collected the "donations," were arrested.

Houdini himself possesses faculties which enable him to perform astonishing feats of legerdemain which other members of the magician's fraternity have been unable to see through or to explain. He has spent much time in "exposing" mediums, some of whom had well-nigh persuaded scientific observers that they were possessed of occult powers, and recently demonstrated in the college of the New York Police Department how a seance is conducted, to the satisfaction of the observers and the stuefaction of those he was using at the seance table. He has been criticized for his war on spiritualism, but he regards his exposes as a duty, the "greatest work" of his life. When, therefore, Edward H. Cotton interviewed him on the question of spiritualism, Houdini sat in his dressing-room and talked frankly and, as the interviewer tells us, revealingly. As we quote from Mr. Cotton's interviewer, printed in The Christian Register (Unitarian), Houdini spoke regretfully of the "many people who are beside themselves over this spiritistic craze." and said :

"For thirty years I have been studying spiritualism, because it belongs in the same classification with mysticism, my profession, and I have a complete library on the subject. In my youth I held seances as an independent medium, but as I grew older the feling came over me that I was trifling with the serious and reverent. Then came the time when I lost one dear to me, and would have paid large sums to get answers from spirit land. I explored the whole field of alleged spirit communication, and let me say to you, I have never in twenty-five years of earnest effort had an atom of proof that the dead talk with the living. Again and again I have detected tricks, many of them so childish, tho they had deceived the elect, that no magician who valued his reputation would employ them. The medium must work in the dark, which is unfortunate. Understand me, I do not say that the dead can not talk with the living. What I do say is that such conversation has never taken place in my presence.

"I was chosen to serve on a committee selected by The Scientific American to investigate the 'Margery' case. The editors had offered $5,000 to the 'person' who could succeed in producing certain varieties of supernormal phenomenia to the satisfaction of the committee.' That was the way the proposal was worded. I was present at five seances, and detected Margery in tricks each time. Here, take this booklet; it describes exactly what happened.

"In the course of my life, I have made solemn compacts with more than a score of my friends to the effect that whoever died first would come back and communicate with the other if that were possible. I made the first compact twenty years ago; the last one ten days ago. Several of my friends have died, but no communication has followed.

"Look here, not one of the mediums who for seventy-five years have been duping honest folk and taking their money which could better be devoted to worthy causes has ever done one thing which I can not do better by purely mechanical means. Look !"

Houdini thrust a muscular left hand to within three feet of his interviewers face, seized his lef thumb with his right forefinger and thumb, and, says Mr. Cotton, pulled it away from the hand, so that three inches of space were revealed beween thumb and hand. He held it thus a moment and then replaced it. Continues Mr. Cotton :

"While I was still looking at him with mystified eyes, he repeated the performance. Our chairs were not four feet apart, but there was the thumb detached from the hand. 'You took your thumb away from your hand,' I returned, doggedly; 'and I want to know how you did it ?'

"He leaned back in his chair and smiled. 'You didn't suppose I would really tell you? I will say this. I never performed any trick in my life save by physical means. The business of us magicians is to mystify. We study our book as Sir Oliver Lodge and the other scientists study theirs. We know legerdemain when we see it, as they know science when they see it. And it is about time that people awoke to the fact that mediumistic phenomena is not a subject for the scientist, but for the magician. It is not science—far from it. It is magic.

"How do you get out of trunks, packing-cases, and boilers,' I asked, 'if the spirits do not help you ?'

"'By such physical means as a necromancer may employ who is master of his art. We earn a living by mystifying. I can divulge no more.'

"'But Sir Conan Doyle declares you are in league with a spirit power.'

"Houdini again clasped his hands back of his head and smiled. 'Sir Arthur is a great man in his field, but he and Sir Oliver Lodge are no better than children when it comes to a contest of wits between them and the wizards of the seance room who have bags of small tricks readily used in the dark. At one of my performances Sir Arthur called a trick of mine one of the most remarkable demonstrations of deception he had ever witnessed. Since then I have been showing audiences how I did it, simply that they may see how simple the whole thing is.'

"'But you believe in immortality ?'

"'I do, certainly.'

"'Where do you expect to go when you die ?'

"'I hope to meet my mother.'

"'Will you come back if you can ?'

"'I will, but not to ring bells. I believe in the Almighty. I try to live a good life; and I go to church when I can. Tell the people that all I am trying to do is to save them from being tricked in their griefs and sorrows; and to persuade them to leave spiritualism alone, and to take up some genuine religion.

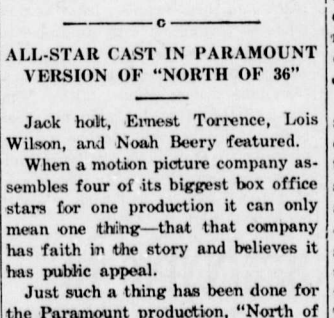
ALL-STAR CAST IN PARAMOUNT VERSION OF "NORTH OF 36"

Jack holt, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, and Noah Beery featured.

When a motion picture company assembles four of its biggest box office stars for one production it can only mean one thing—that that company has faith in the story and believes it has public appeal.

Just such a thing has been done for the Paramount production, "North of 36," produced by Irwin Willat, which will be the feature at the Orpheum Theatre for two days opening on Wednesday next.

Jack Holt, as Dan McMasters, plays a roll that will hold one enthralled, the role of a stern and fearless man—yet underneath the gentle qualities that go to make him beloved by all.



Ernest Torrence, scout of the covered Waggon," has fully as interesting a part in this picture. As Jim Nabourss ranch forman, he is given an opportunity for a characterization entirely different and far superior to anything he has done in his entire career.

Lois Wilson, as the orphaned ranch owner, Taisie Lockhart, offers a characterization that is a combination of sincerity, loveliness, determination and grit.

Noah Beery, playing Sim Rudabaugh, the villanious state treasurer, is a type exact in every detail.

All the above appear in featured roles in the production. A few of the big names playing in support include David Dunbar, Stephen Carr, Guy Oliver, Wm. Carroll, Clarence Geldart, George Irving and Ella Miller.

The picture is an adaptation by James Hamilton of the popular novel by the late Emerson Hough, author of the "Covered Wagon."

MODERN LITERATURE

The Associated Booksellers' Association met at Liverpool recently and asked two well known novelists to address them. They took every advantage of their opportunity, as readers will see by the report of the function which appears in the Liverpool Post. The straight talk on evil fiction is well worth pondering.

Dr. R. W. McKenna, who resides at Liverpool and whose books are widely read, said : "The good bookseller was not necessarily the best salesman, but he did something more with books than sell them; he read and loved them. Personally he would listen more respectfully to the advice of such a bookseller on the quality of a book than to some of the criticisms which appeared in the modern reviews.

"The bad bookseller was a man who was no more interested in the books he sold than he would be in chunks of coal. This was deplorable, for the bookseller who was more closely in touch with the reader or publisher owed a serious duty to the public.

"There is," he went on, "a very large body of fiction—written for young decadents by young decadents, which unfortunately has a tremendous vogue at the present time. It is not necessarily indecent, but it is unsavory and unwholesome and it is not true to life. It exhibits only one ugly corner of life, but by its insistence on that corner is likely to produce a most deleterious effect on the mind of uninstructed youth. It deals only with a scar of life, with its pathological side.

"And, as a doctor, it has always seemed to me to be a grotesque anomaly that whereas I am not allowed to prescribe, nor a chemist dispense, an infinitesimal dose of morphia for a patient dying of cancer, without observing a hundred and one most absurd, irksome and gratuitous regulations, you booksellers are allowed to sell as much moral poison as you like with nobody to say you nay.

"Now, it is the booksellers who make the reputation of a book in a larger measure than any other body of men. You could if you would, set your faces against this unhealthy fiction. You could kill it all within twelve months, and if you did it you would confer a great benefit on English literature. The sad thing is that so many men who started by writing really decent, clean wholesome books have discovered that it pays them, in the monetary sense, to write stuff of this kind.

"Many of them have degenerated and are dabbling in this filth, and the reviewers, many of whom are young men with equally decadent minds, instead of denouncing this stuff, and telling the people what rubbish it is, have applauded it and acclaimed as the authentic voice of genius what is nothing more nor less than the gruntings of a pig wallowing in its own mire.

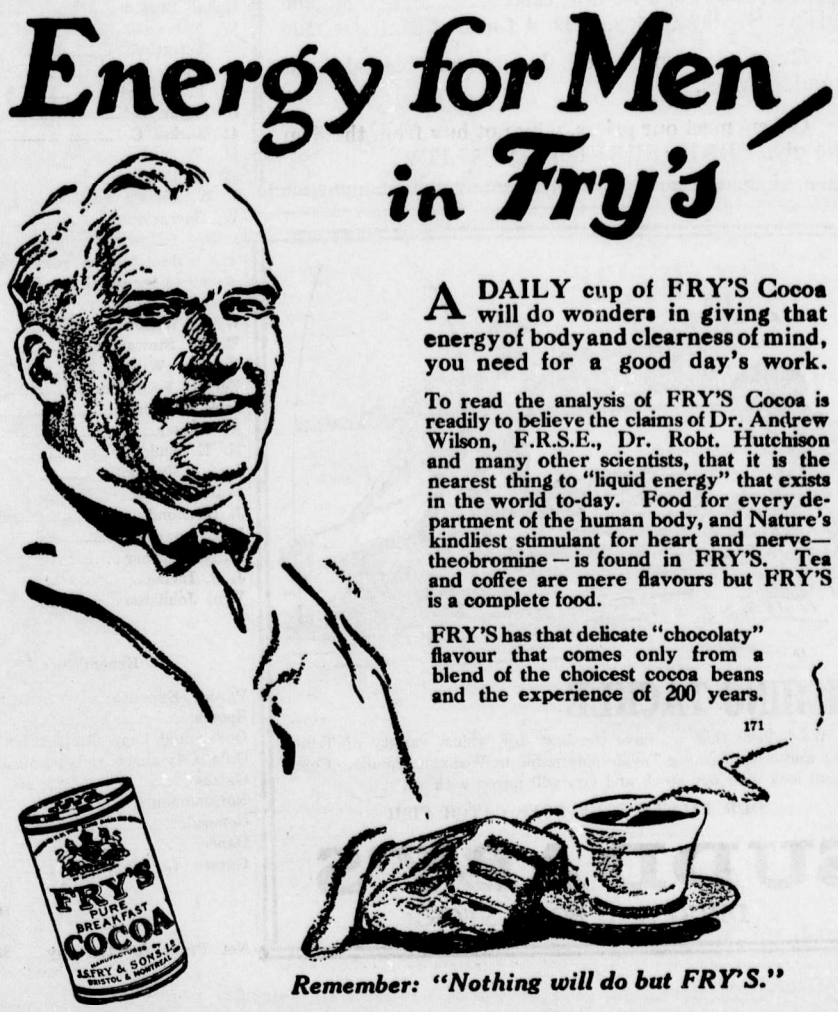
Mr. W. B. Maxwell said : "We have as our splendid birthwright, the finest literature in the world, and I have not the smallest doubt the glories of its future. Hopeful signs are many, and the most striking is the enormous increase in the number of readers. During the war hundreds of thousands of young people acquired the habit of reading, and it is spreading rapidly.

"The future welfare of literature lies to a great extent, in the hands of the booksellers. All these young people who come into their shops are aware of their ignorance and eager to learn. They want to be taught to appreciate good work, and they have no help at school. I have been astonished and delighted at the intelligence and good taste frequently shown by booksellers' assistants, and have been helped by them again and again. Our duty is to see that you get assistants who have the root of the matter in them."

TURNING NIGHT INTO DAY

The abolition of night in our cities is among the predicted advances of the not distant future, according to a distinguished scientist of the University of Cambridge, Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, who declares that "the alteration of day and night is a check on the freedom of human activity which must go the way of other spatial and temporal checks." Cheap electricity, he prophesies, will work the miracle—electricity costing only about one-fiftieth its present price. At present, he says, "to light a lamp as a source of light is about as wasteful of energy as to burn down one's house to roast one's pork." The comment is quoted with approval by G. E. Tripp, in an address before the Southwestern Public Service Association Convention at Houston, Texas, as reported in a bulletin of the Westinghouse Electrical and Manufacturing Company; the explanation being that only about 5 per cent. of the energy expended in an incandescent lamp is converted into light. Mr. Tripp himself enters the field of prophecy with the suggestion that "imagination can conceive a cold light obtained by activating certain substances by electrical influence; as, for example, activating the paint on the walls of a room by radio waves." He even hints at the possibility that light, heat, and energy may in the distant future be stored in some form, and electricity not used at all, adding that "phosphorescence, the glow-worm, and radiums are indications of these possibilities." In the nearer future, electricity may be produced directly from the heat of the sun or of the interior of the earth; and even to-day about 90 per cent. of the energy of falling water can be diverted into electrical force—whereas the most modern and efficient steam-turbine engine turns out about 16 per cent. only of the theoretical power contained in the heat units of coal. He continues :

"Even to-morrow there may be discovered a cheap fool-proof and durable storage battery which would revolutionize the electric light and power industry by enabling it to store electricity as gas is now stored in a gasholder or oil in a barrel.



"Concerning this Mr. Haldane says that he thinks in England may be ultimately solved somewhat as follows: 'The country will be covered with rows of metallic wind-mills working electric motors which in their turn supply curent aot a very high voltage to great electric mains. At suitable distances there will be great power-stations where during windy weather the surplus power will be used for the electrolytic decomposition of water into oxygen and hydrogen. These gases will be liquefied and stored in vats, vacuum-jacketed reservoirs, probably sunk in the ground. If these reservoirs are sufficiently large, the loss of liquid due to leakage inwards of heat will not be great; thus the proportion evaporating daily from a reservoir 100 yards square by 60 feet deep would not be 1|1000 of that lost from a tank measuring two feet each way. In times of calm, the gases will be recombined in explosion motors of working dynamos which produce electrical energy once more, or more probably in oxidation cells.' "

HOME BANK DEPOSITORS

"While approximately 45,000 Home Bank depositors under the Home Bank Act, as finally passed by the Senate, will receive all that they would have received under the bill as it was sent up by the House of Commons, the settlement is very unsatisfactory to several thousands of depositors who will receive nothing under the settlement," declared H. H. Higginbotham, who returned on Saturday morning from Ottawa, where for the past five months he has been attending at the House of Commons and the Senate in support of the legislation for the relief of the Home Bank depositors.

"The bill as finally passed by the Senate provides for the payment of 35 cents on the dollar from the government treasury to all the individual depositors of amounts $500 or under," Mr. Higginbotham continued.

"The liquidators are now working on the lists of these smaller depositors who will likely receive payment within the next two or three weeks. These payments will be made by the liquidators through the banks which have already been used to pay the dividend of 25 per cent., which was distributed out of the assets of the bank a few months after the failure. This dividend was paid in Fernie by the Royal Bank of Canada.

The original relief measure as introduced by the government and passed by the House of Commons provided for a total sum of $5,450,000 to be distributed among all the depositors equally on a pro rata basis of their deposits, and this would have worked out to 35 cents on the dollar. The Senate by its amendments, reduced the total amount to be paid under the relief measure to $3,000,000. The Senate also expressly exempted certain classes of depositors from receiving any benefit under the act.

"These classes which are still excluded include municipalities, school boards, local improvement districts, telephone districts, churches, associations or any similar corporation or society. In other words all public organizations are barred from benefit. The excluded classes also business corporations or partnerships.

It will be seen that the Senate amendments divide the depositors into three groups. These consist of those who are excluded entirely; depositors under $500 who collect 35 cents on the dollar on their deposits from this fund, and a third class consisting of individual depositors of amounts over $500, who, within the meaning of the act, can collect from the fund an amount up to 35 per cent. providing they can show the commissioner appointed under the act that they are in special need or in straightened circumstances at the present time by reason of the suspension of the bank.

Under this provision, if the act is liberally interpreted a substantial measure of relief should be afforded to all necessitous cases. It is within the latter class that a large number of border line cases will be found where the distribution of relief to some and not to others may cause dissatisfaction among this class of depositors.

The administration of relief to the third class of depositors will be in the hands of Mr. Justice McLean, of the Exchequer Court, Ottawa. Those who know Mr. Justice McLean, believe that no better man could appointed to handle this difficult ask. In order to simplify the procedure a questionnaire is being prepared which will be mailed to all the depositors coming within this third class. They will be required to give a sworn statement of their affairs, on the basis of which further consideration will be given.

There will be about 6,000 of these cases which will require a great deal of investigation. It is not thought that any of these cases will be dealt with before the middle of September and I have been asked by the liquidators to ask the depositors within this class to exercise patience. Every depositor coming within this section will be given an opportunity to file his claim.

The depositors intend to continue their organization, in effect, to assist in presenting these claims and watching the interest of the depositors in the further process of the liquidation of the bank's assets," Mr. Higginbotham concluded.

It lasted such a little while and then you went away,
I wrapped the memory of you in jassimine and rue;
I wonder when I take it out—if I shall know it's you!

The "Always E-Z Corset Company" attributes its success to such a procedure:

1. Got out a form letter.
2. Created an elastic demand.
3. Stayed with their dealers.
4. Hooked up with some good capitalists.
5. Covered the territory well.
6. Put forth a straight-laced proposition, having no strings attached.
7. So far their figures look pretty good.

Here and There

This year's receipts from motor vehicles licenses in New Brunswick already amount to $422,000. This amount is larger than the total for any year, except last year when the gross receipts for the whole twelve months were $452,489. The estimate for the present year is half a million.

The mines and quarries of the Province of Quebec produced to the value of $18,952,896 during 1924, according to the final report issued by the Provincial Department of Mines. Building materials account for $11,380,977; other non-metallic minerals $7,191, and metallic minerals $380,804.

"In the Cascades and falls of the Canadian Rockies there is enough hydro-electric power to supply the American west with all the electric energy it will need for ages to come," declared W. Paxton Little, treasurer of the Niagara Falls Power Company, who recently visited Banff with a party of distinguished American electrical magnates.

BUSINESS METHODS

The Vancouver Sun says: Last month a local mining broker wrote two letters in connection with a certain British Columbia property.

His first letter was to a British firm. His second to an American firm. Both were written with the idea of interesting capital in the development mentioned the terms desired for a sale.

Last week replies were received to both letters. The British firm's reply was a lecture. It said that the amount required in cash was too large and that Canadian mining men would have to learn to be more modest in their requests for cash if they hoped money from British financial sources.

The American firm's reply was that its engineer was on the way to examine the property.

The people who must learn how to do business are not Canadian mining men but the British investors who hesitate and bargain over terms, while the Americans, closer to the Canadian mining field are working fast and taking out real money.

The time is past when Canadian natural resources should have to plead and coax for development. Every dollar that goes into reputable British Columbia mines is a dollar working night and day for its owner.

We are not asking favors of outside investors at all. We are simply calling their attention to an opportunity in which both themselves and British Columbia can make money.

Great Britain should realize that today it is in competition with American capital, and, so far as B.C.'s natural resources are concerned, the highest bidder sets the pace.

In Britain there are probably not one-half the number of interferences with personal liberty and habits that there are on this continent, yet in Britain a large section of the population thinks there are by far too many legislative incursions into the domestic routine. The Saturday Review, for instance, says that the British live under "an immensely complicated system of asinine regulations." There is "fiddling control" there as here, and in both lands it is the result of small-minded meddling with the little things of life. The trend of modern law-making has been to hedge round the lots of mankind with petty restrictions.

The fewer the laws there are and the greater the voluntary respect there is for those enacted the better a country is. The present system is the largest possible number of laws and regulations, and, in the accumulation of these, there is bound to arise a scene of derision on the part of the people. No doubt since members of Parliament are paid for their services, they acquire a belief that they must do all that it is possible for them to do so as to give a nation its money's worth. That perhaps, accounts for the cluttering up of the statute books with inhibitions. If legislators were not paid at all and if their duty of legislating were regarded purely as a patriotic one it is likely that there would be fewer laws, more freedom, and in consequence, far greater happiness.

The trouble with legislation in the main is that it has departed from the fundamental idea of government, which is to enforce order and put up a barrier against evil. Legislation is becoming more and more paternal, and, therefore, more and more irksome. The more laws there are the more money is required for their enforcement, and so it is that taxation is continually on the increase and respair is being bred in the hearts of the people. Democracy and democratic forms of government may or may not be to blame, but in the promotion of happiness, Democracy has yet to prove its title to be the ideal form of government. After all, the happiest people are the best governed and, conversely, the law-ridden and tax-ridden community pays the price as well in lack of contentment and lack of security against legislative interference.

Record catches of mackerel are reported from Yarmouth, N. S. and nearby fishing villages. One man at Cranberry Head took over 150 barrels of fish from one trap and another fisherman at Burns Point reported over seventy-five barrels from a single trap.

Thirteen ships with a total of 7988 head of Canadian cattle left Montreal during May and three more ships left during the first week of June. Canadian cattle are now stated to be in strong demand in the British market despite Irish and English competition.

The reconstructed Basilica at Ste. Anne de Beaupre which was destroyed by fire in 1923 will be open to the public on the second Sunday in September according to a recent report and it is expected that the huge pilgrimages to the famous shrine will shortly be resumed.

A remarkable wave of interest in Canada is sweeping Great Britain at the present time and all sorts of information is being sought by British firms as to conditions in the Dominion according to F. W. Mottley superintendent of the Dominion Express Company of Canada for Europe who arrived here recently for a trip across the country.

Canada's third largest industry, its tourist traffic showed an increase of 60,000 in the National Parks for 1924, according to a report issued by Commissioner J. B. Harkin. Banff and Lake Louise, in the Rocky Mountains, showed a combined advance of 15,000 visitors. At Banff 1,693 camping permits were issued.

Robert E. Barlow, manager of Walter Hagen, announces that the British Open Championship winner will make a golf tour of Western Canada this summer visiting Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and the famous Rocky Mountain course at Banff. Hagen has won the British Open Championship twice and the United States Open Championship once.

Arrangements have been completed for staging the biggest Indian Pow-pow ever held on the North American Continent at Macleod, Alberta, early in July. Thousands of Indians from the Bloods, Blackfeet, Peigans, Crows, Crees, Stonies, Sioux and representatives from the Six Nations, in the East will take part in the historic and picturesque pageant.

A Canadian Pacific Railway freight train was recently held up near Lemberg, Sask., by a swarm of tent caterpillars which interfered with the functioning of the drive wheels on the greasy rails, where the insects had gathered in millions. All efforts to plow through or remove the swarm were unsuccessful and no progress could be made until half the cars were discharged.

Preparations are practically complete for the 1925 Calgary Exhibition and Stampede. It is anticipated that the stampede this year will be the biggest ever held. It has been extensively advertised in Canada and the United States, and a large number of inquiries have been received from interested parties, who anticipate being present. Entries have been received from all the best known riders and ropers on the continent, and the large number of valuable prizes offered for competition ensures that the spectator will see the best that can be offered in the way of broncho breaking, roping, wild steer riding, etc.

Being exceeded only by Mexico and the United States, Canada now ranks third among the silver producing countries of the world. Records of Canadian production have been kept since 1858 and show a total recovery of 451,000,000 fine ounces to the end of 1923. In 1924 production was slightly in excess of 20,000,000 ounces. During 1858-1923 the value of production totalled $290,705,532, while for last year it amounted to $13,519,043.

The first lot of buffalo, numbering some 200, to be transferred from the Wainwright Park to the new Buffalo Park, north of Edmonton, left Wainwright, Alberta, recently. For some time past the herd at Wainwright had been growing too rapidly and the Federal authorities decided to ship a number to the Buffalo Park to determine whether or not they can acclimate themselves in the new district as they did in the southern area. Altogether two thousand buffalo, in lots of two hundred each, will be shipped to the Buffalo Park.

Joseph Austin, C.P.R. agent is in the east on a business trip.

J. R. Laurie, of Creston, is relieving Operator Winters at the C.P.R. station for a couple of weeks.

Rev. Wm. Burns visited the Windermere country early in the week on church business.

Harry Wilkes has the contract for the erection of a summer cottage for Hartley Wilson at McBain's Lake.

A petition with nearly 500 names on it has been forwarded to the Provincial Government asking foran appropriation for a road into McBain's Lake.

Do not forget the wrist drive and dance in the Catholic Hall to-night, Friday, July 24th. Cards at 8.30 sharp. Dancing 11 to 1. Admission 50 cents. Come and have a good time.

A football game will be played on the northend grounds on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock, Corbin vs. Fernie. A list of the Fernie players will be posted at Ingrams.

Chas. Potter, of Vancouver, is acting agent for the Dominion Express during the absence of Jimmy Stark, who is spending his holidays at the coast.

The local G.W.V.A. are reorganizing their band. There will be a practice in the Vets' rooms on Tuesday, at 7.30 p.m. All interested are requested to attend.

Mrs. Workman, who motored to Calgary and Banff with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dorer, Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver, returned home this week.

Geo. Winters and George Vines, with their families, left Fernie last Wednesday afternoon on a two weeks' automobile trip around the Banff-Windermere Road.

The kiddies are longing for the announcement of the opening of the swimming pool. A. B. Sanborne and Wm. Johnson were added to the committee this week to see if they can not inject a little speed into the work of securing equipment.

It now looks as if Fernie was at last going to have some real streets. The work down on Howland Avenue is standing up well under the traffic. This week the north end of Victoria Avenue has been put in shape and will be oiled. It is to be hoped that the good work will continue down Victoria Avenue to the business section.

Keen interest is being displayed by the G.W.V.A. members in the projected Labor Day celebration and sports. Appeals have been sent out to the various fraternal societies for support in the parade. The Dokays will sure be on parade.

A big baseball game will be played on Sunday next, July 26th, between the Cranbrook Seniors, who will make their first appearance on the diamond here this season, and the Fernie Intermediates. The boys are all home grown and are working hard to get in shape for this game so come out and give them a hand.

A meeting of the First of July Sports Committee will be held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, July 28th, at 8 o'clock, to wind up the business for the year. Following this meeting there will be an election of a Board of Trustees to take charge of the operating of the swimming pool. These meetings are for the general public, and as all citizens are interested in the successful operation of the pool a large attendance is requested.

The Coal Creek "Midgets" Baseball Club wish to thank T. Furneaux and F. Atherton for so kindly providing transportation for them on their recent trip to Michel, also Dan Oliver for the coaching instruction he has given them and the Coal Creek Club and various residents of Coal Creek whose kind donations made it possible to meet their expenses of organizing and outfitting a team. They are also indebted to the Coal Company ball team for borrowed outfit.

Calgary baseball players are suffering from a bad state of fright. They have a local city league there made up of three or four teams that have competed all summer against the field, but recent defeats at Fernie have shown them that they are not quite cock of the walk, so they will pick up an all star team from the entire city league and call it the Calgary White Sox. This team will meet all out of town competitors for the championship Alberta. Calgary is sure showing its old live hog town sporting spirit.

The district while congratulating Mr. Asselstine on the promotion to a city school and assuring him of their hearty wishes, are sorry to lose a teaiher who has always handled the school with marked success and who always won the respect of his pupils. His relations with the staff and with the administrative officials of the school have always been ideal in nature, and he will go away leaving behind a whole community with the feeling that they are saying 'good-bye' to a good sport, an efficient teacher and disciplinarian, and an asset to the town. Mr. Asselstine's successor has not yet been named, but in the meantime he is making preparations for early moving to Calgary.

Bob Young has the hearty congratulations and best wishes of a host of Fernie friends in his appointment to the position of general manager of the Canmore Coal Co., Ltd. Bob is one of those enterprising young men who are bound to make good. Twenty-one years ago he came to Fernie looking for work. He had not been long in the country at the time. His uncle had secured him a position in the C. P.R. office at Winniqeg when he came out from Scotland but promotion was too slow in that department and he came west taking a position with the Coal Co. at Frank. The big slide at that place in 1903 practicaly put that company out of business and Bob come on to Fernie, where he secured a position as stenographer for Mr. G. G. S. Lindsay, manager of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. Mr. Lindsay was quick to recognize the ability in his new clerk and he was shortly afterward sent to Toronto, where he became secretary of the Company. Later he was again promoted by Mr. W. R. Wilson to a responsible position at Fernie and five years ago he was offered the position of Secretary of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association, which he accepted and has filled to the general satisfaction of all concerned—which is saying a whole lot. From a meagre salary of $50 a month, which he received as clerk for the C.P.R. at Winnipeg, Bob will probably be drawing down something like $1,000 per month, or nearly as much as he received for a year's work when he first came out from Scotland—and more than that Bob will earn every cent of it.

LAWRENCE IN ARABIA

Mr. Lowell Thomas, who is well known as a lecturer on the exploits and achievements of Colonel T. E. Lawrence in Arabia, during the period when he persuaded the desert tribes to co-operate with the King of the Hedjas and the Emir Feisal in helping the British to defeat the Turks in Palestine and Syria, has embodied the substance of his lectures in book form (With Lawrence in Arabia, by Lowell Thompson)' in such a way as to make a readable and agreeable chronicle of a remarkable campaign. His book is illustrated with many admirable and very characteristic portraits of Colonel Lawrence in his picturesque and impressive Arab robes, and it is only fair to the original of these, who is one of the shyest and unassuming of men, that the author should explain that they appear as trophies of an ardent photographer's skill, for Lawrence had to be stalked for the purpose of getting these pictures, in every one of which he was taken unawares. Indeed, the whole book, like the lectures, owes nothing to its subject's conscious assistance, and the author and the publishers unite in making it clear that Colonel Lawrence is in no way responsible for the record of his work, which, in itself, is widely recognized as being one of the most remarkable indvidual achievements in British history. Even in the long chronicles of Arabia there seems to be no other instance, for some thirteen centuries, of any one man being able to assuage the feuds and jealousies of the tribes for so long a time and to such good purpose—for combination and co-operation on so large a scale among so many of the tribes of Arabia appear to have been unprecedented since the time of the Prophet and the first Caliphs.

Mr. Thomas explains the difficulties of effecting this unusual coalition, and describes the value of the consequent co-operation of the Arabs with the British in their advance through Palestine and Syria. As told by the author it is a pictursque story, and the central figure is even more picturesque. Colonel Lawrence is by inclination a classical scholar and a student of archacology, in pursuit of which he has wandered far and wide over Abria, the Levant, and even far Sumatra. While still an undergraduate at Jesus College, Oxford, he devoted a hot long vacation to a walking tour through Syria. In the course of this he was entertained in peasant huts and obtained his first Hittite cylinders, only to be robbed of them and left for dead by Kurds near Aleppo. In spite of this he returned to Syria and helped in the Carchemish excavations, when he was a near neighbor of the Germans building the Jerablus Bridge across the Euphrates for the Bagdad railway. Even then the difference between his methods in dealing with the inhabitants and those of the Germans and Turks was apparent, and the author shows that on one occasion the Germans owed their lives to Colonel Lawrence, who rescued them from the effects of their own kultur on Kurdish workmen. If he found that brigands as being careful men and painstaging over details, made admirable archeological excavators, he found that Bedouin Arabs, whose ideas of meum and tuum are just as lax as those of the Kurds, could be trained as map makers. A hurried perusal of Mr. Tomas' pages might even produce the impression that Colonel Lawrence introduced the practice of horticulture among the Bedouin, but closer examination shows that the tulips which he so assiduously planted exploded instead of blooming, and it is recorded that with these lethal bulbs he blew up no fewer than seventy-nine bridges and "killed" any number of running trains. These fire-works strongly appealed to the minds of the Bedouin, and Colonel Lawrence took care to arrange what he called "cinema-shows" to keep them amused and supplied with loot. For the Bedouin were held together by ties neither of discipline nor of loyalty; at best their loyalty was a purely tribal affair depending upon the politics for the moment of thier tribal sheik, and their hatred, which Colonel Lawrence strove to keep focussed upon the Turks, might at any moment turn against a neighbor on account of a personal slight or a hereditary blood feud.

It must have been rather like dealing with the truculent feudal magnates of the Early Middle Ages when Colonel Lawrence arranged the co-operation of sheiks in support of the Hashimite leaders of the Arab cause, for some of these, though willing to co-operate in theory, and even in practice under certain conditions, could not be brought into contact with each other for fear of instant bloodshed and the consequent disruption of the uneasy desert entente which was so delicately balanced that a word misspoken might have upset it. Mr. Thomas, in describing Colonel Lawrence's work among the Arab sherifs and sheiks, is able to give pleasing little character sketches of some of them—The Emir Feisal he shows to be a humorist as well as a diplomatist, statesman and warrior. One sheik, the Arab "Robin Hood," a mighty plunderer before the Lord, never had more than four wives at a time, but, so busy had death and divorce been in his harem, he had had twenty-eight ladies to wife, and only one of his many sons had survived the hazards of desert warfare. Another sheik cultivated lice in his hair as indicative of a superior mentality; another would not clean his rifle for a religious reason, another fed his horses on goats' flesh. All were accustomed to receive their subventions by plunging an eager hand into Col. Lawrence's bag of sovereigns and drawing out as much as it could grasp. This lordly, but inexact, method appealed to by the Arabs, who are impressed by generosity and display—which accounts for the elaborate richness of Col. Lawrence's Arab robes— and are so eager for plunder that they have been known to loot their own base stores, and so joyous and reckless that they frequently loosed off all their ammunition at nothing, or fired at the aeroplanes or motor cars of their allies "because they were going so fast that it was a shame not to try to hit them,' although they knew what they were doing and would apologize afterwards.

Of such material did Colonel Lawrence and his colleagues (for the author is careful to enumerate them and to describe their work) build up the Arab army with which the Emir Feisal did such valuable work beyond the Jordan, and inflame Arab nationalism to such an extent that the Emir was able to fill his ranks with deserters from the Turkish army, of all ranks from generals to privates, and to feed them largely upon stores captured by Colonel Lawrence's enthusiastic raiders from the enemy along the harassed Hedjas Railway.

Along the Banff-Windermere Highway

(1) Entrance to Kootenay Park from Canadian Pacific Camp at Sinclair Canyon.
(2) The Banff-Windermere Road from Sinclair Canyon.
(3) Bungalow Camp at Vermilion Crossing.
(4) Mountain goats sampling salt provided by Parks Department, to entice them down to the border of the Road.

This is the Banff-Windermere Highway. It really needs no introduction for it is numbered among the most famous and most perfect Motor highways in the world. Above are the latest pictures of some of the country it passes through and some of the mountain goats one is sure to encounter just outside Banff.

Here is what the "Motor News" says about it: "This wonderful highway, wide and smooth and hard and level as any the old Romans or the modern Americans ever built, is in the Canadian Rockies. For 114 miles it twines its tortuous way through unbelievably magnificent mountain scenery, from Banff, the world-famous resort in Alberta, to Lake Windermere, in British Columbia, clinging to the brim of sheer precipices, cleaving through sheer canyons, skirting giant mountains, spanning giant rivers, overlooking giant valleys and affording the most soul-shaking views of rivers and valleys and mountains stretching away and away, ever so far, ever so deep, ever so high, for ever and ever, amen."

The mountains goats and sheep, incidentally, are quite tame and little groups of the mild-mannered creatures not infrequently make themselves at home in the middle of the roadway and gaze wonderingly at the Lord of Creation who wait impatiently in their cars for permission to pass.

Here and There

During July thousands of osteopaths and members of allied professions gathered in Toronto from all parts of the United States and Canada to attend the International Convention of Osteopaths. Several of the visitors toured the country in the interests of osteopathy.

Final figures showing the total live lobster catch on the Nova Scotia coasts, for the season ending June 1st., show a total of 8,585,900 lbs. valued at $1,364,141, an increase over the 1924 season of 3,687,400 lbs., in quantity and approximately half a million dollars in value.

During his tour of Western Canada over the Canadian Pacific lines, Field Marshal Earl Haig was received on all sides by cheering and enthusiastic crowds. At towns in northern Ontario and elsewhere he shook hands and exchanged reminiscences with local ex-service men, many of whom he recognized.

Having concluded his visit to the Pacific Coast, His Excellency Lord Byng, Governor-General of Canada, has returned East. Before leaving the West His Excellency stayed off for a few days at Banff to meet Earl Haig, and the two famous soldiers spent some time together talking over old times.

Considerable interest has been aroused in London, England, over the arrival there of 8,000 peony blooms for exhibition in the Canadian Pacific pavilion at Wembley. The peonies were grown by W. Ormiston Roy of Montreal, and have been sent to England to dispel the belief that Canada's climate is excessively cold.

A delegation of prominent newspaper proprietors and journalists from Great Britain passed through Canada recently on their way to attend the Third Imperial Press Conference to be held at Melbourne, Australia, during September. Besides the delegates from the British Isles, representatives of Canada and the other Dominions have been invited and will attend the conference.

Two automobile accidents occurred in Montreal over the week-end at railway crossings, in both of which it was proven that the car struck the train. In the first accident the car ran into the first car behind the engine and in the second struck the side of the engine itself. Public attention has been directed to these accidents as illustrative of the results of negligent driving.

Early in July a party of one hundred French-Canadians associated with the University of Montreal departed from Windsor station on a three-weeks educational tour of the country under the auspices of the University. Mayor Duquette of Montreal, Monsignor A. V. J. Piette, rector of the University and Professor E. Montpetit one of his associates accompanied the party. They were seen off at the station by E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and other officials.

"I hear you sent your daughter abroad to take voice culture," remarked the noisy neighbor, "Rather expensive isn't it ?

"Well," replied Watt A. Longbroug, "it's true that she has gone to Europe to study—but the neighbors made up the money to send her."

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

LAW AGAINST FREE SPEECH

A decision has recently been given out by the United States Supreme Court at Washington, validating an almost forgotten statute passed by the New York State Legislature in 1902, which involves the right of free speech. This statute made it a criminal offence to advocate the overthrow of organized government by unlawful means. No prosecution was entered under it for eighteen years, but in 1920 it was invoked against one Benjamin Gitlow, at that time a Communist member of the New York State Legislature who had written a pamphlet advocating the use of force to overthrow the capitalistic form of government and establish the rule of the proletariat,—the fiction under which Lenin seized power in Russia. Gitlow was prosecuted under the old statute and convicted. He appealed on the ground that his conviction, and the law under which it was obtained, violated the constitutional guarantee of free speech. After five years of various legal processes the care has finally been disposed of by the Supreme Court at Washington.

The circumstances under which the Act of 1902 was framed and adopted at Albany were these : In September of 1901, Hon. William McKinley, President of the United States, was assassinated at Buffalo by a young anarchist named Czolgosz, and the circumstances showed that he, a youth of hysterical tendencies, had been incited to the crime by editorials in the "New York Journal" conducted by William Randolph Hearst, in which assassination had been suggested as the people's remedy against dominant capitalism. The statute was mainly directed against the anarchistic doctrines then being preached by Hearst. Its mere existence proved effective in causing a cessation of incitements to violence in the press of New York State, so that there was no need to invoke it. That the law was made broad enough to cover pamphleteers as well as the editors of yellow journals was shown by the subsequent conviction of Gitlow. At the time it was passed it was considered a proper check on the anarchistic propaganda then rife in the United States and its legality remained for twenty years unquestioned.

In validating the law Chief Justice Taft and a majority of his colleagues hold that "It cannot be said that the State is acting arbitrarily or unreasonably when in the exercise of its judgment as to the measure necessary to protect to the public peace and safety, it seeks to extinguish the spark without waiting until it has enkindled the flame or blaze into a conflagration."

A minority judgment was filed by Justice Brandeis and Holmes. Their finding does not in essence assail the original law, but suggests that Gitlow's act in writing his pamphlet did not lay him open to its penalties. They say : "If in the long run the beliefs expressed in proletarian dictatorship are destined to be accepted by the dominant forces in the community, the only meaning of free speech is that they should be given their chance and have their way."

The real question involved is whether a proletarian dictatorship can be established by means other than violence. The majority of the supreme court holds that it could not, and if need be they could justify their position from the literature of the Third International at Moscow, and the Communist agents in all parts of the world. The overthrow of Government by violence, as the only method, is an accepted part of the Communist plan of campaign everywhere.

Such being the circumstances of to-day it is well that the law should remain on the statute book. But like all laws, it can only be used if wisely and tolerantly enforced. For some years the United States has been suffering from a wave of intolerance which at times renders its claim to be a free country ridiculous. The Republic is infested with all sorts of organizations seking to persecute opinions different from their own. And it is not difficult to forsee that self advertisers and professional patriots might easily make such a law an instrument of opression. It is rather in the temper of the more blatant elements of the community than in the law itself that the danger lies ; and it is to be hoped that in retaining their safeguard the people of New York State will not attempt to abuse it.—Saturday Night.

WHAT EARTH IS MADE OF

That the earth is a big iron-cored meteorite is the belief of Dr. Hery S. Washington, of the Geophysical Laboratory, Washington, D. C., as expressed in The Scientific American (New York).He has analyzed hundreds of specimens of rocks from all parts of the world, and he supplements the knowledge thus gained with critical examination of data from other the earth. He discards the old idea that the earth's center is a molten mass, conditions the crust would not withchiefly on the ground that under such sources bearing on the constitution of stand tidal pull of moon and sun with out cracking; noting also that a molten earth would not spin equably as our earth does; nor would it transmit transverse vibrations or waves from earthquakes to make the distant seismographic records that are familiarly known. The nature of the substance composing the earth's core is of necessity inferential; but it must be far heavier than the average surface rocks, since the total weight of our globe is known to be about five and half times that of a globe of water of the same size. Surface rocks could not be compressed to anything like the requisite weight. If the core of of the earth were chiefly of iron, however, the observed phenomena would be accounted for, together with the fact that our globe is a huge magnet; and the assumption is sustained, analogically, by observation of meteorites, supposedly fragments of some large planetary mass, which fall to the earth to the extent of about 40,000 tons a year, and which are preponderantly composed of iron, alloyed with nickel. Says Dr. Washington :

"For all these, and some other reasons, we now feel reasonably sure that the earth as a whole resembles a huge meteorite, or rather such a body as that of which the meteorites are fragments. We now conceive the earth to be constituted as follows :

"At the center is a huge sphere of metallic iron or nickel-iron, which extends rather more than half-way to the surface. Near its outer border particles of stony matter occur scattered through the metal. These gradually increase in quantity, while the amount of metal decreases, until the material is about half metal and half stone. From this depth outward the amount of metal decreases and that of stone increases, until the material is stone peppered with small and few specks of metal. Finally the iron disappears and the material is wholly stone at a depth of about one thousand miles.

"The stone or rock is not uniform. It changes its character outward, the deepest layers or shells being of very heavy, dense rock, which passes gradually into lighter rock, similar to the floors of the ocean. The very light, granitic rocks are at the top. The layers of limestone, sandstone, shale, coal, soil, and other such materials, are relatively so thin that their masses are quite negligible when the composition of the earth as a whole is being considered. The same is true of the ocean waters and the atmosphere.

"In estimating the thickness of these different shells or zones, the study of two waves from distant earthquakes, which traverse the earth at great depths, gives us much information.

"Having estimated, by the help of earthquake waves, the average thickness of the several shells and of the core, and combining hese with what we know of the composition of meteorites, we can arrive at a pretty fair idea of the chemical composition of the whole earth. It is found that iron is the most abundant element, making up 40 per cent. of the whole earth. After it in abundace come oxygen silicon, and magnesium, in the order named. These four elements together make up about 91 per cent. of the earth. With three others, nickel calcium, and aluminum, they make up 98 per cent. Indeed, twelve elements constitute 99.8 per cent. of the earth, leaving only two-tenths of one per cent. for all the seventy or more other elements, among them some of our used and most common metals, such as copper, lead, tin, and zinc.

"All these common and useful metals are present, even in the surface crust, in such small amounts that they cannot be detected in most rocks and are made availuable for our use only by processes of natural concentration into what we call ores. Civilization is dependent in some great part on infinitesimal proportions of some of the elements in the earth."

Lay Roofs that won't Rot or Rust

Leaky roofs are a big trial. Every rain means worry about hard-won crops and expensive implements. Then, too, there is the frequent trouble and expense of patching.

Rugged and durable, Barrett Roll Roofings insure lasting weather-tight protection—give that well-kept look to barn, implement shed, garage or chicken-house. Soundly economical, they're easy and inexpensive to lay—never rot or rust—lowest in cost per-year-of-service.

Barrett ROOFINGS

Finally, Barrett Roll Roofings are fire-safe—proof against flying sparks and embers.

Call at this store and let us show you the different types of Barrett Roofings,—Roll and Shingles. You'll find the prices surprisingly reasonable.

COMING TO ORPHEUM THEATRE

That the Province of Quebec abounds in historic and romantic material for the construction of popular novels, is the judgment of two popular writers—James Oliver Curwood, author of scores of best sellers, and Edwin Balmer, well-known short story writer—who have recently toured the province and Western Canada in quest of "local color."

There has been an unusual distinction conferred upon Prof. Camille Couture, a Montreal musician, who, besides being a violinist is also a maker of violins. He has been honored with a medal and diploma from the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley for a magnificent violin of his make, which he exhibited there.

In order to dispel the existing impression in England regarding the coldness of the Canadian climate, five thousand peony blooms are being distributed at the Canadian Pacific Railway Pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition. These plants were produced by W. Ormiston Roy, of Montreal, who states that peonies are the best landscape flower and can be grown in all parts of Canada, irrespective of climatic conditions.

Hon. W. G. Nichol, Lieut.-Governer of British Columbia, and D. C. Coleman, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, opened Crystal Gardens, the new and unique indoor salt-water swimming pool at Victoria, B.C., recently. This amusement centre, which has two dancing floors, a gynasium, art gallery and tea-rooms, is regarded as the largest and finest of its kind on the continent.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

COAL CREEK NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor arrived back in camp after their enjoyable trip to California.

The local leather chasers gave a splendid exhibition of the game of football against Fernie eleven on Sunday in the Perri Cup Competition, running out winners by four goals to nothing. The large number of spectators were highly pleased with the display. Referee T. Bennett, of Fernie, handled the game in a creditable manner.

First aid classes are being held twice a week in the club hall up here.

All the members of the Dokays are requested to attend rehersal in the club hall on Sunday afternoon, at 2.30.

Miss G. Larmont celebrated her 21st birthday on Wednesday with a very enjoyable social event.

Freeson Yearby, provincial constable at Corbin, came through the camp this week. He was on his way back from the Flathead.

The Coal Creek Junior Baseball team with Dan Oliver as trainer journeyed to Michel on Wednesday evening to play the juniors of that town. They were defeated.

Ed. Benning and wife and family, of Post Falls, Idaho, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ferriough this week.

Harry Wilson and family have left Coal Creek to take up their residence in Fernie.

POOL NEEDS MORE MONEY

The public meeting called for on Tuesday evening in the city hall to discuss the swimming pool acairs, was not largely attended but the usual crowd of fifteen or sixteen active workers for the pool were all on the job with Ward Thomas in the chair.

The following financial statement was submitted by A. Klauer, the treasurer, showing the amount collected and the amount spent to date:

1919 Sports	$1,210.76
1920 Sports	1,000.00
1921 Sports	1,196.60
1922 Sports	1,098.81
1923 Sports	2,652.48
1924 Sports	1,656.12
1925 Sports	3,676.00
	$12,489.77
Interest	605.42
Total Net Accumulated	$13,095.19
Less Paid acct. Swimming P.	6,680.42
	$6,414.77

Funds distributed as follows :

War Loan	$1,000.00
Imperial Bank	701.57
Royal Bank	256.67
Home Bank	4,588.85
	$6,414.77

A. Cummings gave a detailed account of the work done to date explaining why some $1,600 was spent in addition to the contract price. The excavation for the pool as originally planned, was found to be a couple of feet short of the solid gravel and this entailed a lit of extra work. A complete equipment of sewer and water connection had been put in and a frame building had been erected for a cement house which could be used for a dressing room when the tank was in Commission. At the present time all the available money had been used with the exception of a little over $2,000 and there was still the heating plant, a motor pump, a board fence and several buildings to erect which were absolutely necessary in his opinion before the pool could be used. However, he estimated this additional work would not run over $2,500. Mr. A. B. Sanborne had kindly loaned the committee an electric pump for temporary use, but he thought the water of Fairy Creek was much too cold to use without heating and he suggested that the heating plant be put in at once. The necessary work still to be done would use up more than the available money on hand and it was up to this meeting to consider ways and means to raise more cash and also provide sufficient for running expenses for the balance of this year and at least to the first of July of next year.

The meeting discussed at length the question of finance and it was finally decided to ask the City Council to make a temporary loan up to $1,000 to meet the situation, as everyone present seemed to be emphatically of the opinion that the balance of the work must be completed at once.

The committee were instructed to rush the balance of the work and Mr. Cummings was asked to get prices for the installation of boilers and the erection of the heating plant at the earliest possible date as it was the general opinion that the water would be much too cold to use without being heated.

Mr. Sherwood brought up the question of control of the swimming pool after it had been completed. He was very much of the opinion that it should be handed over to the city, but with no obligation on the part of the corporation to meet the running expenses. He thought that a board of trustees should be constituted, one appointed by the City Council, one from the School Board and three others elected at the annual municipal elections from the ratepayers of the city, this board to have absolute control of the pool.

A committee consisting of Rev. Wm. Burns, A. Watson and S. Herchmer was appointed to draw up rules and regulations to be submitted to the general committee at a meeting to be held on Friday, evening August 7, in the Council Chamber.

Mr. Cummings was also asked to have all necessary figures re heating plant on hand for this meeting.

Mayor Irvine and City Clerk Moffatt were asked to take up the matter of a loan with the City Council at its meeting on August 6th so that the meeting of the committee on Aug. 7th would be in a position to know where they were getting off financially.

The meeting then adjourned.

MINE RESCUE COMPETITIONS

On Saturday morning, August 1st, the Mine Rescue and First Aid Competitions, conducted under the auspices of the East Kootenay Mine Safety Association will be held at Fernie near the Government Mine Rescue Station.

Keen interest is always taken in these annual competitions by the miners of the entire Crow's Nest Pass district and it is expected that there will be a large number of out of town teams here to compete for the valuable prizes offered by the Association.

The mine rescue competitions will commence promptly at 9.30 and the first aid in the afternoon at 1.30.

There will be three prizes in the Mine Rescue competition which will be open to teams of five men who shall have been employed under ground in coal mines and trained in the use of self-contained breathing apparatus.

There are also three prizes in the First Aid competition, teams to consist of five men, holders of recognized Ambulance Certificates and employed in and around coal mines.

There will also be a Ladies' First Aid Competition to consist ofteams of five members. Tprizes are ocered for this competition.

The fourth event of the big day will be the Junior First Aid Competition, also for two valuable prizes, teams to consist of five boys, not over 18 years of age.

We understand that there have been a large number of entries for the above events and an interesting and instructive day is in store for the people of Fernie.

GETTING AFTER JACK DEMPSEY

New York, July 28.—Jack Dempsey's heavyweight championship title will be declared vacant by the New York boxing commission, and Harry Wills and Gene Tunney will be asked to fight it out to decide the successor if the champion ignores the commission.

Dempsey has been given until August 4 to return before the commission or to notify the board members what plans he has to accept the Wills challenge. This period of grace was granted by the commission in response to the plea of the champion that he had to go to California to protect some business interests that were endangered by his rupture with Jack Kearns, his manager.

Since then, it was learned today, the commission has heard from reliable sources, that Dempsey does not intend to return to New York in the near future, that he does not intend to fight any dangerous opponent and that there is some bunk in the verbal bout he has been staging with Kearns.

The commission is being panned severely for the silk glove methods it has been using in handling the heavyweight championship situation and it has been pointed out that no other champion could get away with what Dempsey has without inviting the wrath of the dukes. The commission, however, is up against it because Dempsey has not a New York license and officially is not under the jurisdiction of the New York board.

It is rather interesting to observe that not only the public has turned against Dempsey, but that most of his closest friends in past years among the boxing writers are putting him on the pan.

The situation will be discussed at today's meeting of the commission, it is understood.

FERNIE SUFFERS 2ND DEFEAT

Fernie went down to the second defeat this season last Sunday afternoon at Kimberley when the homesters won by a score of seven runs to four.

Kimberley are rather elated over their victory and are coming back here on Sunday next, with the voiced intention of showing the Fernie fans that they can trim Fernie on their own ground. The Fernie Club will be out to avenge the defeat and will all go out to win, so a real baseball battle should be witnessed.

In last Sunday's game Pennington, first man up for Kimberley connected for a three base hit and scored their first run when he came home on Coen's sacrifice hit. Fernie evened the count in the third innings, Morgan getting a base on balls and scoring on Hovan's two-bagger. Kimberley, however, came back in their half of the third and scored two runs on a couple of singles and a two-bagger. There was no further scoring until the last half of the seventh when Rochon got to first on Ellison's error, Vaughan singled and then Pennington drove the ball right through Morgan's legs scoring Rochon and Vaughan. Coen sacrificed then Mitchell bounced the ball on the plate and Pennington scored. Jacobs struck out Crearer but Rogers connected for a two bagger, allowing Mitchell to score Kimberley's seventh run.

From the third innings to the ninth Fernie rarely showed any of their batting prowess, although practically the entire team were hitting the ball, they hit right into Kimberley's's fielders mitts. In the ninth innings, however, they came back strong, McTeer, first man up going right on to second when Penington threw wild to try to catch him at first. Barger took a mighty swat at the ball and it looked at least good for three sacks, but Rogers made a wonderful running catch and held McTeer at second. Rushcall connected for a two base hit a Texas leaguer, but Musser ran nearly out to center field and pulled off another "robbery" catch. Bishop batted for Ellison and came through with a single to score Ruschal. Morgan connected for another two-bagger and Bishop came home. Jacobs hit to Pennington who threw him out at first for the third out and the game was over.

ANTHRACITE QUARREL

The perennial anthracite quarrel, as the New York Evening Post remarks wearily, is on. The coal operators swear they will not grant the demands of the unionized miners, and the head of the United Mine Workers insists that the miners' terms be met. The weather of the Atlantic City conference between the operators and miners for the first few days, was "squally, increasing to storms, with much thunder and heat lightning," notes this paper, and President Coolidge was reported as studying all the angles of the threatened coal strike, to be prepared to exert his influence to prevent "a public calamity." Mr. Lewis, for the miners, and Mr. Warriner, for the operators, shot ostensibly at each other, observes the New York World, "but all the arrows lodged in the neck of the innocent bystander." This continues The World, is just another way of saying that, "whatever they agree on, we, the public, will pay for it: if they move the wage scale up or down, or leave it alone, we shall pay for that; if they wrangle a while before they agree, we shall pay for that; and if they fail to agree and have a strike, we shall pay for that."

The present contest began early this month with demands by the miners for a two-year contract, beginning September 1; an increase of 10 per cent. for contract miners and $1 for day men; the "check-off," by which the operators would deduct union dues from pay envelopes, and hold them for the union; equalization of day rates of pay, and so forth. Two years ago, it will be recalled, the operators and organized miners were engaged in a similar controversey over wages and working conditions. Finally, Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, where virtually all the anthracite mines are located, succeeded in bringing about an agreement where by the miners obtained , generally speaking, a 10 per cent. increase in wages, recognition of the eight-hour day and of the right of collective bargaining. The present wage scale, therefore, is 10 per cent. higher than that of war-time. In real earnings—earnings as measured by purchasing power—points out the Boston Transcript, "miners' wages have increased 76 per cent. since 1914 as against 45 per cent. among railroad workers and 38 per cent. in manufacturing industries." Furthermore, declares the St. Paul Pioneer Press, "there has been no general advance in the cost of living to justify another increase." To grant the 10 per cent. rise demanded by the union and the changes in working conditions, maintains Samuel D. Warriner, spokesman for the operators, "would add $100,000,000 to the present labor wage bill of the industry." Moreover, he adds, "the industry will not absorb the increase because of the competition of gas, coke, oil, bituminous coal, and electriciy for heating and cooking."

The miners, on the other hand, assert that their wages are insufficient for their needs, and that the difference between the estimated cost of producing a ton of anthracite, $4.50, and "the price of $16 a ton now being paid by the consumer," is pocketed by the operator, the middleman, the railroad, and retailers. "It has long been the motto of coal operators to get all they could while the getting was good," agrees the Richmond Times Despatch. President Lewis, of the Mine Workers, also stresses the dangers of coal mining.

The operators and the miners have represenatives to speak for them at their biennial conferencse, but it remains for the newspapers, it seems, to take part of the public. First, we are warned by the Scranton Times, which is published in the heart of the anthracite region, "any increase in wages to the miners will mean a proportionate increase in the cost of coal, for the operators will add to this increase an extra profit for themselves." In fact, there is a suspicion on the part of the Philadelphia Public Ledger that "both the operators and miners go through this performance every two years because it allows the mine owners to boost prices and the workers to maintain or increase their wage scale." As we are informed by the Minneapolis Journal:

"The difficulty with competition in anthracite lies in the fact that the fields are so restricted in area that concentration of ownership is easy. 8 large companies now control 70 per cent. of the production. The consumer ought somehow to have a voice in the price-making, but legislative and judicial efforts to enforce competition will never get it for him. There is, however, another sort of competition that may help to hold the operators and miners in check. That is the substitution of some other fuel."

The United Mine Workers are also said by the New Haven Register to have a "strange-hold" on the State of Pennsylvania. It works in this fashion:

"Pennsylvania has a Miners' License Law, and that law is so drawn that none but members of the union can secure licenses. Under the provisions of the law, the beard that controls the issuance of licenses is composed exclusively of union members, because none but licensed miners are eligible for membership on the Board. Thus a condition is created that means the supremacy of the union in all matters over which the Board has control, or in which it has influence.

"In Governor Pinchot this union seems to have a supporter. His idea two years ago appeared solely to give the miners every penny of increase in the matter of wages that he could force the operators to accept, under such threats as a Chief Executive of a State could make."

Still another item in the price of anthracite, points out John J. O'Leary, Jr., in a New York World article, is the 10 per cent. tax which the State of Pennsylvania collects upon anthracite production. It is thus clear to this expert writer on labor topics why Governor Pinchot "has more than an academic interest in keeping the mines going."

"The threatened strike in the anthracite mines may not happen," notes the Washington Star, "but its shadow is already looming on the horizon. Meanwhile, the suggestion that coal prices will go up because a strike is 'threatened' should be scotched. An increase of prices at this juncture would be an attempt in advance to compel the public to pay losses which the operator anticipates from a failure to manage his own business. If there should be no suspension of mining in September, this would be 'velvet' for the mine owner. It would in any case be profiteering in one of its worst forms."

Figures made public by the provincial Department of Labour show that there were nine labour disputes in the province in 1924, involving 3,470 workers and causing th eloss in the industrial life of British Columbia of 223,-876 working days. The chief area of trouble was the southwest portion of the province, where serious disputes broke out in the logging and coal-mining industries. During the year several differences between employers and employees were settled through the mediation of the officials of the provincial Department of Labour, some of which had developed into strikes.

In the process of building up its military power for the future the Soviet Government has drafted a decree introducing compulsory military training into the regular syllablus of all the higher educational establishments. It includes a compulsory three months' camping with the regular army. From the Autumn of this year military studies will also be compulsory at the middle schools. Communism is perfecting its militaristic plans with even greater ingenuity than did Prussia in the years preceeding the Great War.

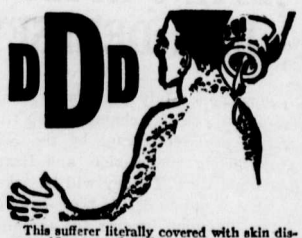
TOO MANY CO. CHARTERS

A vigorous protest comes from Winnipeg respecting the habit of the Dominion Government granting charters to various concerns that the provinces have after due investigation "turned down" as not being of a character that they could recommend.



Nothing daunted, these people having been shown the door by the proincial authorities, proceed to Ottawa, there to receive their charter. Then back they go to the provinces that have refused them admission and under their Dominion charter proceed to pry open the public purse.

Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba have done through "blue sky laws" what they could to keep these rascals out. But they are well-nigh helpless so long as the Dominion Government makes charter granting a mere formality.

A member of the Manitoba Public Utilities Commission stated recently that one of the companies that had obtained a Dominion charter for stock selling purposes was reputed to be a million dollar concern, but when this company issued a check for $90 it was returned marked "N. S. F.", and the salesmen had to get busy and sell a poor Winnipeg victim a couple of shares in this high and mighty concern in order to cover the check.

Quite recently an Albertan oil company that had been turned down by the provincial authorities journeyed on to Ottawa and there obtained a charter which, under quite recent court decision, allowed them to sell shares in the very province that had failed to give them the necesary permission.

There should be better team work and a closer understanding between the authorities at Ottawa and those of the various provinces in respect to the granting of charters. If such were the case the provincial authorities that are honestly endeavoring to keep the skin games out of their territory would be able to make some headway. In cases where a corporation has failed to pass the provincial authorities in charge of the Sales of Shares Act, or whatever it may be called, the least the Federal authorities could do would be to get a report upon the corporation in question from the provincial authorities who have investigated and take this into due consideration before granting a charter.—Saturday Night.

This sufferer literally covered with skin disease—15 years of suffering—then his whole body cleared off in 45 days—a new skin grown—no pain, no itching, no irritation.

This story seems incredible as do hundreds of other cases relieved by the powerful liquid for the treatment of skin diseases.

Japanese Alpinists Climb at Jasper

HEADED by Yuko Maki, under secretary of the Japanese Alpine Club, six noted Japanese Alpinists have left Jasper Park Lodge, at Jaspèr, Alberta, for a twenty-five days' trip into the Columbia Icefield, one of the least-known portions of the Canadian Rockies. Their trip will take them to the headwaters of the Athabasca and North Saskatchewan Rivers, and an endeavor will be made to climb Mount Alberta, a virgin peak which has so far defied all efforts to conquer its higher slopes. Members of the party state that if the territory lives up to their expectations it will attract hundreds of Japanese Alpinists annually. The expedition is elaborately equipped scientifically and the equipment includes still and motion picture cameras and a complete dark room with which pictures will be developed in the field. Three Swiss guides, Heinruch Fuhrer, Hans Kohler, and Jean Webber, from Jasper Park Lodge, are accompanying the party and five guides and forty horses from the outfitting stables of Fred Brewster, are being used on the trip. This is the largest party which has left the Lodge this year, and the first party of Japanese Alpinists to tackle some of the untried fields of the Canadian Rockies.

The party is shown ready for the start from the Brewster ranch. Left to right—N. Okabe, M. Hatano, Y. Mita, S. Hashimoto, Y. Maki, Fred Brewster, Outfitter; H. Fuhrer, J. Webber, H. Kohler, Swiss Guides.

LYTELL PLAYS PART OF SHEIK

Bert Lytel is the latest famous screen actor to become an Arabian sheik.

Not only that, but he went all the way to the Sahara desert to do his sheiking.

The role in which he reveals his histronic talents along these popular lines is the principal male part in "A Son of the Sahara," the First National picture to be produced in Algeria by Edward Carewe and coming to the Orpheum Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

Bert has the part of Raoul le Breton, who, taken captive as an infant, is brought up as the son of a sheik of an outlaw desert tribe.

When the old sheik is killed in an attack on a French garrison the hero succeeds to his place as the head of is tribe and swears vengeance against the French officer commanding the post.

But his plans for revenge receive a setback when he captures the daughter of the old Colonel and in true sheik fashion falls in love with her.

Clara Windsor has the leading feminine role as Barbara.

"A Son of the Sahara," is adapted from Louise Gerard's thrilling novel.

The cast also includes such celebrities as Walter McGraill, Rosemary Theby, Montague Love and Paul Panzer.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

The standard of Quality for over 50 years

Dealing with the trend of professionalism in sport Blackwood's Magazine of Edinburgh says: "Whether we get the better of our competitors on the tennis court or running path matters, we believe, not at all. Although we invented the games which all men play today, we did not invent the base spirit of professionalism, which, fostered by the thing called international sport, will in the end destroy sport itself. Until the rivalries and the jealousies, the trickery and the foul play which were introduced by the Olympic Games, had put an end to the ancient spirit of sport, we had nothing to complain of. Our athletes were content to run and jump as well as they could; and if they lost, to lose without bad temper; if they won, to win without vain glory. The glory was still for them what they cared for most."

The patent office in Washington took in fees last year aggregating $30,000,000—and of the thousands of inventions submitted there was not one satisfactory substitute for work.

VICTORIA RUMBLINGS

Victoria—Premier Oliver expresses himself as impressed with the extent of the coalfield at Hat Creek, fifteen miles east of the Pacific Great Eastern line, but he intimates that before a spur line is discussed the government will have to consider many important factors, such as the quality of the coal, the cost of mining and marketing it, the quantity which could be marketed and the extent to which existing collieries are getting rid of their output. It is understood that very complete assays and analyses will be made by government experts in order to determine the quality of the coal, of which there are enormous deposits.

Owing to the modern and efficient methods adopted by the Department of Public Works during the past few years the cost of supervision of roads has been reduced materially, and in most cases it is now lower than the percentage of total expenditure which the engineering profession consider reasonable in the case of private works. In a letter just received by the Department from a prominent Vancouver business man on his return from a motor trip which took him as far as Alberta it is stated that the roads of the province are in excellent condition. As compared with the sister province, the worst roads here are better than the best there, he told the Department.

An order-in-council has been approved of authorizing the expenditure of $15,000 for the purchase and distribution of poison, to be supplied to the farmers in the districts threatened by the swarms of grasshoppers which are invading many parts of the interior. Reports reaching the Department of Agriculture are to the effect that in some places these insects are stripping the soil bare of anything green and leaving the trees without a leaf. The dry weather is responsible for the extent of the trouble, but satisfactory progress is being made by farmers in united efforts to cope with the plague.

The government has decided to ask for a decision by the Court of Appeals as to the validity of the provincial tax on fuel, oil, which tax the large consumers like the railways have been refusing to pay or paying under protest. An appeal to the federal government to disallow the act was made by a number of these consumers, but disallowance was refused and the matter was left to the courts for decision. In government circles confidence is felt that the courts will declare the tax perfectly good, as it was not imposed until the question had been carefully looked into by the Attorney-General's Department.

Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Cox, of Vancouver, are the guests of M. and Mrs. Wm. Dicken.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hunsley arrived home on Thursday last from their honeymoon trip. They have taken up their residence in the city.

A subscription of $20 by the Fernie Meat Market to the Dominion Day sports was omitted from the published report in last week's paper.

Mrs. T. Lawes and Mrs. B. Kirkpatrick, who have been holidaying in Vancouver, returned home on Thursday.

The local lodge L. O. O. M. held a special meeting on Friday evening to make final arrangements for the forth coming visit of Maple Leaf Legion Frolic team, who will be here on Aug. 10 and 11. See further announcements.

There was a bad car accident at Elko on Wednesday when a new Nash car containing four tourists overturned on a bad piece of road. All of the passengers were more or less injured and the car was a complete wreck. On the same day a Ford car was badly wrecked when it ran over the Mott Hill.

M. A. Kastner returned the latter part of last week from the coast where he spent a month's holidays. Mr. Kastner while at the coast attended the big convention of the Sun Life Insurance Co agents at Victoria.

Miss Isabel Dicken, of the Public School teaching staff, writes from Scotland, wher she is spending the holidays, that she is having a most enjoyable time. Miss Dicken intends to spend some time on the continent before returning.

Mrs. Elsie Mowat, formerly Miss Elsie Hugall, obtained her divorce in Seattle courts on July 29th, 1925, from Mr. William Mowat, constable at Lethbridge, Alta. in which Mrs. Elsie Mowat also obtained custody of the child, Miss Ilene Mowat, age 4 years 6 months.

The President of the Alberta Baseball Association says that it is very doubtful if the Calgary all-star team will be permitted to enter the final competitions for the chmpionhip of that province. He says there is being a lot of objection raised by competing teams.

The two young ladies who were inmates of the Fernie jail for a couple of weeks and who were taken back to a home in Calgary from which they escaped, are again in the limelight according to the Calgary Herald of Wednesday. Clad only in their night gowns, Marion Kroning, Dorhhy Pederson and Clara Renny, inmates of he Mountain View Home, escaped from the institution after smashing down a door, on Tuesday morning. They were found by Detective Cox and Driver Charles Simmons of the city police in the Nose Creek district a short time after and they are being held at headquarters. The girls were being held in a detention ward after being brought back from Fernie and the Renny girl was with them. The girls, however, battered down the locked door and cleared out of the building. The authorities have experienced a lot of trouble with these young ladies and are in doubt as to what to do with them.

KIND WORDS FROM SPOKANE

Howard L. Brownlee, one of the editors of the Spokesman-Review, who recently spent a couple of weeks in Fernie, the guest of J. L. Gates, writes a long article in his paper of Sunday last descriptive of this district as a fisherman's paradise. The article contains several fine cuts of Fernie's public buildings. Mr. Brownlee says in part: "Fernie has become famous as a meca for fishermen and hunters, but not until my visit there this month had I heard of trout so numerous and so eager to be caught that in leaping for the hook they form a sort of piscatoiral front-line of a musical comedy show.

This nature lore tale left me in almost as much doubt as did the song of an old colored man when I was a boy in Missouri: When I went down the muddy, muddy road I met the tarpon and the toad, and when the toad began to sing the tarpon cut the pigeon wing." However Matthew Tully, Scotchman, and 'champion dry fly fisherman of Fernie,' assured me that the above condition is true and that at mosquito flats, near by, he amazed a New York sportsman by catching a six pound trout with a piece of packing cord to which he had attached a hook, before the fishing tackle had been undone.

Our vacation motoring trip to Fernie this year was largely due to some knowledge of the fishing possibilities of that district and to the fact that for ten years we have enjoyed annual outings in the mountains of British Columbia, Montana and Idaho, and each year have followed a different from and to Spokane and practically all of the trips within a radius of 500 or 600 miles of this city.

Fernie is justly proud of its fishing and hunting, but the sport is not kept up without effort. At Fernie I met C. H. Robinson, fish overseer for East Kootenay. He directs the planting of game fish fry and sees that the game laws re obeyed.

Fred Dennison, secretry of the Fernie District Rod and Gun Club, told me the club now has 178 members whose dues go toward stocking the streams. In 1923 the club planted 27,000 Kamloops trout and 25,000 cutthroat trout; in 1924 it planted 150,000 eastern brook trout, 205,000 cut throat and 60,000 Kamloops; in 1925, to date ,260,000 eastern brook trout,, 250,000 cutthroat and three lakes are being stocked with 100,000 Kamloops trout.

(To be continued next week).

IN LOVING MEMORY

In loving memory of Norvel Pauline Cosgrove, died July 27th, 1924.

Flowers may wither, fade and die,
Some may forget you, but never will I,
We have lost, heaven has gained,
One of the best the world contained.
From her loving mother, fathers, sisters and brothers.

IN LOVING MEMORY

In loving memory of our beloved daughter, Dorthy Cheston, who departed on the 27th day of July, 1924.

A light is from our home gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our hearth
Which never can be filled.
But each hour of waiting,
Closer brings the day
We shall meet again.
Inserted by her loving mother, father, sister and brothers, Mr. H. S. Cheston and family.

A CHAPTER ON GLANDS

A chapter on the internal secretions of glands could not have found a place in a treatise on psychology a half century ago. And yet the temperament —even perhaps the character—of an individual may be determined for good or ill by the presence or absence of these secretions. Let them be interfered with, and the bright child may become dull, the witty stupid. Reviewing the chapter on these newly discovered influences in a recent French work on psychology by George Dumas, Henry de Varigny calls attention in the Journal des Debats (Paris) to their bearing on our theories of education and especially of criminology. Shall we put a man in jail for conduct due simply to the stoppage of an internal secretion? Writes Mr. Varigny:

"Dumas and his co-laborers have gone further than most. He has even bestowed special attention on what he calls a new chapter in psychology,' which terminates his authoritative work and treats of the psycho-physiology of the endocrine glands.

"It was considered a scandal when a physiologist once described thought as a secretion of the brain. That was of course the crude expression of an uneducated mind. It was also a scandal when another physiologist proclaimed, 'Without phosphorous, no thought!' It was true, however; and the same thing could be said of twenty other chemical elements. The brain functions normally only when it has a certain chemical composition; and the same is true of all other organs or tissues.

"Shall we now proceed to find it unbecoming that a psychologist says that good working of the mind depends not only on the integrity of the brain, but also on the secretions of various glands? Possibly, but we should be wrong; and internal secretions would continue to play a considerable part in affecive psychology. Instead of denying and contradicting it, we should spread the news, and we shall see that the 'new chapter of psychology' is a necessary one.

"We owe to Claude Bernard the conception of glands of internal secretion. He showed that the liver secretes bile externally—that is, in the intestine, which is in each of us a prolongation of the outside world—and internally, in the blood, glycogen. And he announced that the other glands of external secretion probably had also similar internal secretions.

"Next, Brown-Sequard discovered a second example of internal secretion, and he added a new idea by stating his belief that through these internal secretions the different elements of the organism possess a solidarity of a different kind from that conferred on them by the nervous system. The physiologists at once took up this new question and arrived experimentally at some interesting conclusions.

"The internal secretions vary much in nature and action. That of the liver is nutritive; othres, known as 'hormones,' are stimulant or regulative; some have a depression action. The psychologist is interested only in those of the second category.

"Doubtless we do not yet know all of them, and the question of their action on the nervous system and its reaction on them, is a complicated one. But the concern of psychology with disorders of the internal secretions is evident. Every cretin proves it. The thyroid gland, through its internal secretion, exerts a considerable influence on the mental functions as on the physical, and there are many victims of disorders of this organ—innocent victims, we ought to realize; sick persons, in the real sense of the word, and not perverse nor vicious.

"Very curious facts are to be noted in this connection. Dumas tells us of a fifteen year-old girl sufferingfrom myxoedema; treated with thyroid extract she is lively, intelligent and interested; if the treatment is stopped for eight days she becomes indifferent and apathetic.

"All the internal secretions have extremely varied reactions—on the physiology, the nutrition, even the anatomy, of the body; they also affect the mind forcibly and inevitably, and more and more numerous observations furnish evidence of this. What is very clear is that troubles of this or that gland affect the sexual nature and thus are reflected in the mentality. The further we go, the more we find facts giving the impression that Freud was perhaps not so far wrong in making sex play so considerable a part in his system.

"Evidently the internal secretions play a great part in the functions of intellect and character. In animals also their influence is considerable, and Dumas is right in reminding us of the curious endocrine conception of maternal instinct elaborated by a distinguished biologist, Rabaud.

"What connection is there between the tendencies or emotions, and the operation of one or another gland of internal secretion? This has not been definitely ascertained, but it doubtless exists. And we see that some trouble with a secretion may exaggerate emotional sensitiveness, for example; while another may cause it to become unbalanced or disappear.

"Surely it is an exaggeration to assert, as do certain American authorities quoted by Dumas, that personality is determined by the predominance of some secretion—that Napoleon was a pituitary, Darwin an anterior pituitary, a hyperthyroidian and a deficient surrenal. This would lead to the belief that by a combination of injections or grafts we might correct the mind through the intermedia of temperament and thus—as Wells suggests —elaborate a select humanity, as Voronoff proposed to do with swine and sheep. Dumas says with propriety, 'the field opened to us by the study of the glands of internal secretion is so vast and so rich that there is no need of enlarging it or enriching it by fantasy.'

"Certainly we must take account of the new notion in our way of conceiving of free choice and responsibility. That is necessary. It is evident that there are many disordered persons—much too many. We can not with justice punish them for their misdeeds; we had much better treat them, and prevent their errors."

Here and There

That a new market has been found for Canadian lobsters, is shown by the report that twenty-six hundred cases of lobsters, valued at about $78,000, were shipped to Sweden from Halifax, N.S., during the first week in July.

The gold mines of Northern Ontario are now realizing aggregate profits of a million dollars a month, according to estimates compiled at Timmins, Ont. There was a gross income of $2,650,000 during the month of June.

Six hundred and twenty-four families from Great Britain and other European countries settled in the West on 187,000 acres of land, sold in the fiscal year ending May 31st, according to the records of the Canada Colonization Association.

Quebec is this year enjoying the greatest influx of tourists it has known for a considerable time. Hundreds of motorists, the majority from the States, are camped in and around the city, and the Chateau Frontenac reports capacity bookings.

During his tour of Western Canada Field Marshal Earl Haig passed through the town on the Canadian Pacific Railway which was named for him several years ago, for the first time. The Field Marshal, on learning his connection with the town, looked as pleased as though he had just won another famous victory.

According to the report of the Department of Agriculture, livestock marketings in Canada during the past year were the best experienced for many years. There were 975,020 cattle, 355,179 calves, 3,094,291 hogs and 485,606 sheep marketed in 1924, as compared with 882,921, 315,522, 2,363,402 and 512,390 respectively in the previous year.

According to J. M. Gibbon, secretary of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, who recently left Montreal for the West, the annual cross-country ride and pow-wow undertaken by that organization, is becoming so popular that lovers of the outdoors from England and Australia are attending this year, in addition to the members from the United States and Canada.

The "Beatty Boys," four British youngsters, brought out here by E W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to study Canadian farm methods, arrived in Canada on the "Montcalm" this month. They are expert farmers selected by the Minister of Agriculture from the members of the Young Farmers' Club of Great Britain and will remain in Canada for two months as the guests of Mr. Beatty.

That elk, in the Panther River country, not far from Banff, are rapidly increasing in number and may possibly become a menace, is the opinion of Belmore Brown, an artist of New York who recently returned from a painting tour through the Rocky Mountains. Mr. Brown is regarded as an authority on wild animals and states that there will be, ten years from now, 10,000 elk in the district, unless steps are taken to decrease their numbers.

French-Canadian agricultural experts, theologians, students and others, touring the country under the auspices of the University of Montreal express unanimous amazement at the agricultural development of British Columbia, the scenery of Alberta, the prairies of Manitoba, the beauties of Northern Ontario and the vastness of the country in general. A similar excursion left Toronto recently under the auspices of the Teachers' Federation of Canada also over Canadian Pacific lines, and will return the middle of August.

A Cambridge under-graduate, writing in The Nineteenth Century, says: "Atheism on a large scale and in fully developed minds would be a serious disease, but at a university atheism is only an ailment comparable to measles or mumps at school. One has to go through it, and it probably will not happen again. Indeed it is a sign that the mind is growing up. For until a boy comes to the university his mind has not had the chance of being independent, even if it were capable of becoming so."

Although tubercle bacilli such as infest humans may be transplanted into birds, the bacilli will not multiply. Birds seem to have a natural immunity from tuberculosis. The resistance is perfect and not even local infection develops as in some animals.

Prize Winning Canadian Peonies Exhibited In London

This unique picture shows the much discussed Canadian Peonies grown in Montreal by Mr. Ormiston Roy and shipped to England in cold storage in a Canadian Pacific vessel, on exhibition in the window of the Canadian Pacific offices in London, England. The Royal Horticultural Society has presented the Banksia Silver Medal to Mr. Roy and several London papers have remarked editorially upon the extraordinarily perfect condition of the blooms after their long sea voyage. An interesting feature of the picture is that in the window may be seen the reflection of the new Canadian Building which stands almost directly opposite the Canadian Pacific Offices and was recently opened by the King and Queen.

Laxatives do not overcome constipation

LAXATIVES and cathartics provide temporary relief only. Their continued use leads to permanent injury. In time, says an eminent physician, an almost incalculable amount of harm is done by the use of pills, salts, mineral waters, castor oil and the like.

Physicians advise lubrication for Internal Cleanliness

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt the habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES — IT PAYS

BRITAIN'S NOBLE DEAD

Not far from the main line of travel to Paris and the south of France, among the sand dunes of Etaples, are buried 11,000 British soldiers. This is one of the largest English cemeteries in France and is visited every day by scores of tourists making the rounds of the battlefields and cemeteries.

Probably no country among theallies has taken such pains as Great Britain to honor the memory of the men who who died in her defence. In every part of the world, on every continent, on every island where the Great War was fought, lie Britain's dead, and to the Imperial War Graves Commission has been entrusted the task of perpetuating the last resting places of more than a million sons of the Empire.

According to the latest calculations of the Commission made public in a report a short time ago, 1,019,882 members of the various arms of the British war forces were killed in the war or died shortly after the Armistice as a result of their war service. Of these men, 197,790 remain unidentified. Not only on the battle fields of France, where men died by the thousands and the corpses were piled in heaps and buried wholesale under fire of enemy guns, but also in far flung spots servants of the King laid down their lives and their names were lost.

In Denmark, Holland, Norway, Sweeden, Finland, Esthonia—indeed in all the countries of Europe—are both identified and unidentified British dead. And in places further from the main theatre of war they are found too. In Palestine more than 12,000 soldiers are entombed, all the way from Haifa to Beersheba. In Galipoli are 22,213 dead, and of these more than 13,000 are unidentified. In the heavy and unsucessful fighting on the peninsula there was rarely time for proper burial. More than once funeral parties paused to bury pallbearer as well as the original dead, and wholesale burial was the rule.

In the Cape Verde Islands, Malta, the islands of the Agean and Ionian groups, rete, Cyprus, Ceylon, and all the islands of the Caribbean and the Oceanic archipelagos, British soldiers and sailors are buried. Some are entombed in Argentia, Guatemala, Brazil, Chilie and Peru. Others in French, English, Spanish, Belgian and former German colonies in Africa. St. Helena, prison home of Napoleon is the burial ground of four British sailors, and one warrior of the Empire lies in the Phillippine Islands.

In the United States itself there are the graves of 246 British war dead, and Canadian cemeteries contain 6002 Syria, Iraq, Aden, Perisa, China, Japan, Australia, Greece, Gibraltar—there is hardly a single political division which does not give eternal home to the remains of some wartime follower of the British flag.

Under the direction of the Imperial War Graves Commission, the work of improving and beautifying the cemeteries throughout the world has been goin on for eight years. It was on the suggestion of the Prince of Wales that the Commission was first established. Among those who serve on it now are Rudyard Kipling, the Secretaries of State for War, the Colonies and India, and the High Commissiones for Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Newfoundland.

The work of the Commission has assured to the British dead of the late war what was once the right only of Generals and great statesmen permanent sepulture. The work of engineers and architects among the most prominent in the Empire has gone into the task of making stable and durable the graves of the million dead warriors.

To assure permanency of the individual graves, the land used for cemetries has been turned over to England, to hold in perpetuity, by the countries in which the soldiers are buried. Keeping to a promise made during the war to her soldiers, England has made no attempt to gather the bodies together in one large cemetery. Wherever they lie, they shall remain, in almost 8,000 separate cemeteries. And in them all there is a uniformity typical of the army system. Each headstone stands two feet and eight inches above the ground, is one foot and three inches thick. On each headstone is inscribed a reproduction of the badge worn by the dead soldier on his cap. The name, age, and military rank are engrrved on the upper part of the stone. In the middle is a cross or other religious emblem, such as a six-pointed Star of David for a Jewish soldier, or a crescent. Below this is a personal tribute chosen by relatives.

Almost 200,000 of the graves, however, bear no such elaborate decoration. These show simply a cross, and the tragic legend. "A Soldier of the Great War—Known Unto God." These are the graves of the thousands of unknown soldiers, blood brothers of him at Westminister Abbey, as well as of him at Arlington Cemetery.

In all cemeteries is the reproduction of the great Cross of Sacrifice, designed by Sir Reginald Blomfield—"a carven stone and a stark sword brooding on the bosom of the cross," as it was described by Rudyard Kipling in a poem commemorating King George's pilgrimage to the war cemeteries three years ago. The design of this cross has taken a firm hold on the public imagination. The cross is executed in shining white stone, and the symbolism of the Bronze sword flashing before it is appealing. In each of these cemeteries, from that at Soissons to that on the Mount of Olives itself, stands the great Cross of Sacrifice, and in the larger cemeteries a companion memorial.

This is the Stone of Remembrance, designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens, England's great architect. In his plans Sir Edwin called for a "great fair stone of fine proportions," and today the large burial grounds contains this stone, and on it the words, "Their name liveth for evermore." Under the direction of landscape gardeners, trees and shrubs are being laid out to beautify the cemeteries. In those places where the dead hail from some distant part of the Empire, trees and shrubs from the homeland are transported thousands of miles to lend a touch of home beauty to the burial plots of soldiers who crossed seas and continents to die.

On the Macedonian front are cemeteries far from any human habitation. Here the cross is replaced by a cairn, designed by Sir Robert Lorimer. On the Gallipoli Peninsula the thirty-one cemeteries are all either in Mohammedan territory or in uninhabited country. Here the graves are marked by slabs instead of upright blocks. In Lone Pine Cemetery, at the very top of what Gallipoli veterans still call Anzac Ridge, is a fifty-foot pylon, on which are engraved the names of hundreds who died but whose bodies were never found. Pink Farm, Twelve Tree Copse, Lancashire Landing and V Beach all give sepulture to thousands who died in that brave but hopeless attempt. The high water mark of the British advance is marked by the ring of cemeteries.

A memorial is being built to the dead at Gallipoli, high above Cape Helles, where it may be seen from every ship passing through the Dardanelles. At Port Tewfik, the southern entrance to the Suez Canal, is being erected a monument to Indian troops, a great square obelisk or a large stone platform. On it will be engraved the name of the dead. On Colonial Hill, in Macedonia, is another memorial to the dead of the Salonika force.

At Menin, Gate., near bloody Ypres in France, will be a plaque reading: "To the armies of the British Empire who stood here from 1914-1918 and to those of their dead who have no known grave."

At Chatham, Portsmouth and Plymouth, in England itself, are memorials to the dead of the navy. A tablet to the dead is also in the Church of Notre Dame, at Paris. Others of lesser note are scattered throughout the world. All have become the object of pilgrimage on the part of Englishmen to pay a tribute to the Unknown Soldier. The King and Queen, Cabinet Ministers, groups of Parliament members, delegations from the Colonies and Dominions and tourist parties have visited every cemetery.

THE DRUG TRAFFIC

All the arguments about personal liberty go by the board when prohibition is applied to the illicit traffic in narcotic drugs. Nobody ventures to suggest that government stores for the sale of narcotics would yield a handsome revenue to the province. Public opinion is wholly behind the vigorous methods of the federal police in suppressing the horrible business.

The policy of the narcotics division of the department of health is to strike at the source of supply. In conjunction with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the department has been working for months to find out where such drugs come from. They have not concerned themselves so much with apprehending the lowly addict, who is the victim of the traffic, but have endeavored to get the men at the head of it. Most people will agree that the government officers are following the right course.

The latest uncovering of illicit drug agencies in Hull must cause people to wonder who the customers are for narcotics. It is stated that many thousands of dollars worth of drugs have been smuggled into Ottawa and Hull by agents from Montreal. The increase in drug usage "especially among the younger set" is said to be apparent.

There may be young people in Ottawa who never take part in outdoor sports, never play tennis, go canoeing, or swimming, but they must be comparatively few. It is difficult to imagine members of the younger set who enjoy hiking through the woods, or skiing in winter over the Gatineau trails, becoming victims of narcotic drugs.

Your Garage Deserves a Good Roof

Once the garage roof begins to leak, the best thing to do is to put down a roof that will last.

Barrett Mineral-Surfaced Roll Roofing holds staunch and weather-tight. And it's handsome—surfaced with natural slate in fadeless colors—red, green and blue-black. This roofing never rots or rusts—never needs painting or staining. Moreover, it's fire-safe—proof against sparks.

Barrett ROOFINGS

We stand squarely behind Mineral-Surfaced Roll Roofing because it has demonstrated its durability and economy on all types of steep-roofed buildings.

Come in and see the different types of Barrett Roofings. There's a roofing suitable for any building.

Alice Discovers New Wonderland at Wembley

"The animals went into the Ark in case it should rain." "Long John Silver was also there."

"I know what we'll do," said Alice, "let's go to Wembley." "What do you want to go to Wembley for?" asked the Walrus, who was always asking foolish questions anyway.

"I want to see the sailing ships and sealing-wax and cabbages and kings," replied Alice.

"Ha, ha," laughed the Walrus, "you won't see any sealing-wax there, it's all at Madame Tussauds and I have my doubts about the cabbages, too."

"Well, I shall see lots of sailing ships and kings," said Alice starting to cry, for she was very fond of cabbages, "and, anyway, if you go to the Exhibition alone you won't be able to get in to Treasure Island as they don't admit adults unless they are escorted by children."

"Oh, all right," said the Walrus, who, being 182 years old, no longer regarded himself as a child and had secretly wanted to go to Treasure Island all the time.

So away they went.

When they arrived at Treasure Island they found a real train—not a very big one, it is true, but, nevertheless, the realest train in the world—puffing like a grampus, at a little station labelled Banff, as if anxious to get on its way around Wonderland.

"Look," said Alice, "there's Peter Pan."

"That ain't Peter Pan," said the Walrus, whose education had been sadly neglected, "that's a Canadian Pacific engine."

"I don't care," answered Alice, starting to cry again, for, like all modern children, she hated to be contradicted by her elders, "it's called Peter Pan because it goes everywhere and never gets old or tiresome." This sly reference to his age effectively subdued the Walrus, who now relapsed into silence, and didn't say another word until they were seated in the little train and slowly pulling out of Banff.

It would take too long to describe all the things they saw or all the wonderful people they met, but they had such an interesting time that Alice soon forgot all about her cabbages and sealing-wax.

There was Long John Silver, with his one eye and wooden leg and piratical disposition; and there were Mother Goose, Sir Francis Drake, Robinson Crusoe and Man Friday, Humpty Dumpty, Little Bo Peep, Jack and Gill and all the other fairyland people Alice had read about but never met before. And they saw the animals going into the Ark which Noah had provided for them in case a rainy day should come along and wash off all their paint.

Of course, they saw lots of other things, too — the Rocky Mountains, for instance, and the Golden Hind.

"While we're about it," said Alice, when they had seen all there was to see at Treasure Island, "we might as well go in and see the "Canadian Pacific Pavilion. Everybody goes there, you know." So in they went, and saw all the good things to eat and wear and work with that they have in Canada. They were shown around the building by a big man in blue who had "C.P.R." on his epaulettes, and explained to them that the initials meant Canadian Pacific Railway, and that they had put up this building and made Treasure Island in order to let the boys and girls in England know what a fine country Canada is. But it presently began to get dark and Alice had to take the Walrus home and give him a bath before he went to bed.

"Well, that's that," remarked the Walrus, when they got outside.

"Of course, it is,' 'replied Alice' ,what else would it be?" "I mean it's all over now," grumbled the Walrus who had been annoyed because Alice had refused to allow him to go into the Ark with the other animals, "and you didn't see any sealing-wax or cabbages, and not many kings either."

"That's quite true," replied Alice patiently, "but I've found out a lot about Canada and I've had a jolly good time, so you may grouse as much as you like—I'm quite satisfied."

And so they went home, and the funny part of it is, Alice did not wake up—for she had not been dreaming at all.

COAL AND PETROLEUM NOTICE

Fernie District of South-east Kootenay

Notice is hereby given that within sixty days (60) from date hereof I intend to apply to the Minister of Lands for a licence to prospect for coal and petroleum on the following described lands, Lots Nos. 7284, 7285, described lands, Lot 11952, South-east Kootenay.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers up to ten head.

COAL CREEK NOTES

Robert Brown, of Stockett, Mon., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. Caufield.

Isaac Rotherway left camp on Sunday enroute to his old home in Cumberland, England, having received a cable notifying him of the illness of his father.

The band was out on Sunday evening to serenade Mr. and Mrs A. Fleming, who have returned from their honeymoon spent at the coast.

Mrs. W. Joyce has arrived here from England to join her husband. Thev have taken up their residence in Welsh Camp.

Lon Benning has built a fire proof garage on Coyote St., the envy of the camp.

All Dokays are requested to be at Fernie depot on Sunday evening to meet the Royal Vizier, Secretary, and a number from Spokane, who will be passing through enroute to the Imperial Palace at Providence.

Mrs. J. Fawley and family arrived back in camp on Thursday after a vacation spent in Kimberley.

Sounds of merriment permeated the atmqsphere around the home of the home of the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fleming, on Thursday evening. Investigation proved that a number of the K. P's. and Pythian Sisters were holding a surprise party there. A number from Fernie were present and singing and parlor games were enjoyed until a late hour.

Harry Wilson andfamily have taken up their residence in Fernie.

A number of local K.P's have signified their intention to cross the burning sands on Labor Day.

Louis Burnetti and family have moved to Fernie.

Fred Reevse returned from the prairie with a bunch of horses for work in the mines.

There would be a lot more successes if people worked as hard as they talk about working.

Everything was perfect in the Garden of Eden. There was no lawn mower.

COMMUNICATION

Calgary, July 27th, 1925.

Dear Sir.—Permit me to extend through the medium of your paper my thanks to the people of Fernie for the provisions they have made for tourists in the camp site. We spent a most enjoyable holiday, received every attention and courtesy, and came away with the feeling that your townsfolk know how to do things and do them right. Such camps advertise your town and the very sterling qualities of the people responsible for same. Please let me convey my thanks to your most efficient custodian, Mr. Stevenson.

Yours truly,
E. Newnham.

VETERANS TO CELEBRATE

The local branch of the G. W. V. A. are staging Amateur Athletic Sports on Labor Day, Sept. 7th, and are looking forward to being one of the seasons events in this City. Already inquiries are being made from outside points for information as to said event coupled with the D. O. K. K. ceremonial. This should bring large crowds into the City, there being no counter attractions in the district on that date.

Some of the Fraternal Orders have expressed their willingness to take part in the monster parade which they are endeavoring to put on in the morning prior to said sports. The Knights of Pythias Lodge have also donated a silver cup to be competed for by the various lodges.

From the experience of the past two years, the parade has been the unfortunate feature of the day's proceedings, and it is to be hoped that by a concerted effort on the part of the citizens of Fernie, that this difficulty may be overcome.

A special appeal is made to all public bodies and citizens in general to render every possible means to make the day a successful one, in doing so they will be assisting a very worthy cause.

Since the formation of the local branch, it has been endeavoring to secure remedial measures, so that the Pension Act and its administration might be in consonance with the desires of the people, had the G. W. V. A. been a selfish institution seeking only the advancement of its own membership, no financial difficulties would be encountered, such a course however, would have at once deprived it of its present high standing, respect and value in the life of the nation, and in the hearts of ex-service men and dependents throughout the Dominion.

It being an established fact that ninety- five per cent. of the claims in which the association has been successful in having adjusted by various government departments, were claims from non-members, in other words, it has actually jeopardized its very existance through voluntary services to all who needed help irrespective of financial support or moral obligation, but the organization does not begrudge this form of assistance to those outside its ranks and will continue to render such service if ways and means can be provided.

Had not the G. W. V. A. shouldered the burden in the past, the responsibility, the obligation, the expense, would directly have fallen upon the Country as a whole. To any fair minded person it is apparent that the public owes much to the unselfish activity of the association on behalf of those who appeal for help could not be disregarded.

True, mistakes have been made by the organization but even these were only the result of over zeal that was perhaps fanned by the actual knowledge of much injustice.

By reason of its wide experience no other agency could replace the service that is still rejuired by thousands of war sufferers unaided by its Dominion wide organization many would be at a complete loss in securing adj justment to claims, particularly is this true of the widows and orphaned children of the fallen. Hence it devolves upon all as a solemn duty to preserve intact the full measure of service heretofore given, for in it we have a potent power for good, not only for those who are members, but for all who served their country in time of need, in this every citizen should take a share, and I am confident that with this object in view, all will rally to so worthy a cause. The sports meetings will be open to those citizens interested and their assistance will be greatly appreciated. Watch the boards for notice of meetings.

HON. DR. KING VISITS FERNIE

The Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works for the Dominion, spent Tuesday in the City, coming in on his private car with Mrs. King.

Quite a number of the faithful were on hand to receive the Doctor and every effort is being made by local Liberals to convince him that East Kootenay is the logical place for him to represent at the forthcoming Dominion election, the date of which has not yet been fixed.

Speaking of Home Bank affairs the Honorable Doctor expressed deep regret that the Senate had taken the action they had in connection with the bill, but as the Hon. Arthur Meighen had taken a stand against the measure the House of Commons had little option in the matter as it was almost essential that the relief bill be put through in the regular way. However, he was firmly of the opinion that the vast majoriy of the depositors would have no trouble in securing the 35 per cent. as provided by the Act.

Speaking of the prospects of a steel indusry for Fernie, Mr. King was of the opinion that should the promoters desire any assistance from the Government they would receive every consideration at Ottawa as the MacKenzie-King Government was pledged to foster the natural resources of the country in every possible way. He was thoroughly of the opinion that there was a mountain of iron ore in the Kitchener district which only awaited enterprise of the necessary capital.

During their stay in the City the Hon. Doctor and Mrs. King were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lawe, who enter-

An old Fernie boy died a couple of weeks ago in the Toronto General Hospital in the person of William Bromley, who for many years was an employee of the Fernie-Fort Steele Brewing Co. in this City. Deceased who was well known in the city and a prominent member of the Fernie Club, was a veteran of two wars. As a young man he fought all through the Boer trouble and enlisted with the first contingent from Fernie, who left here in August, 1914 for Val Cartier to serve in the Great War. He put in three years in the front line trenches when he was wounded and invalided home to England. After recovering he was taken on the clerical staff at headquarters were he served for the balance of the war. Deceased left Fernie a couple of years ago for Toronto, where he resided until the time of his death. He was suffering from a mastoid and died while undergoing an operation.

Chief Anderson left the city Wednesday evening for Red Deer, Alberta, where he will spend his two weeks vacation.

KIDDIES DAY BIG SUCCESS

The Elks first annual Flag and Kiddies Day was a knock-out.

The largest aggregation of kiddies ever assembled at one time in Fernie marched down Victoria Ave.

Led by the Pipers Band, fully two thousand kiddies, each carried a flag and a happy smile, the Elks acted as a body guard dressed in their white and purple uniforms and made a very pleasing appearance on their way to the City Park.

Ten thousand tickets were handed to the kiddies and they consumed four thousand ice cream cones, four thousand cups of lemonella and two thousand bags of peanuts.

A grand rush for the refreshment booths kept the committees in charge busy fully two hours before the rush was over.

Rev. Burns gave the Flag Day address in his usual good style after which the games started.

Bill Thompson had his hands full with his dancing girls and different races.

At 2.30 p. m., Coal Creek Jr's. showed Fernie how to play football, however, in baseball the 150 team came back strong and won their game making it a 0-50 break.

The burlesque football artists were now ready and captains Klauer and Berigan lined up their respective warriors on the field of battle in every conceivable costumes from silk bloomers (where did you get yours Mickey) to sack skirts, and captain Klauer sure wore that bathing costume.

Commandeering the pipers, they staged their parade around the grounds, before the battle royal. During the battle Teddy Hesketh was kept busy giving first aid to the fallen warriors.

There was a nigger in the wood pile somewhere, it looked like the game was framed to end in a draw. How-about that supper, eh ?

Bill was still busy with his races and the greased pig event was put on after 5 p. m. Mr. Porker had a hard time getting a clear field but made a good run for it when he got started, however, Bob Williams got a strangle hold on him and will have pork chops for breakfast.

The other events were all fully enjoyed as a continued ha! ha! came floating over our way.

The Elks wish to thank Rev. Burns, the Pipers' Band, Dancing girls Ted Hesketh, first aid, the Coal Co. for donating a special train to bring down the Coal Creek kiddies, and all others who helped to make their first annual Flag Day such a huge success.

Elko kiddies came in cars decorated for the event.

CITY FATHERS DISCUSS LIGHTS

The City Council met in regular session at the Council Chambers last evening with Mayor Irvine in the chair, Aldermen Tully, Markland, Sewart and Lees present.

An application from the G. W. V. A. for the use of the City Park for the purpose of holding sports on Labor day was read and a motion passed granting this request.

The City Clerk, in accordance with instructions given at a previous meeting, submitted an estimate of $3,200 as the approximate cost of placing 17 electric lights on the four business blocks in the city. The council thoroughly discussed this question and finally decided that in view of the heavy roads improvement program undertaken this year that it was practically impossible to finance the proposed lighting improvements at present. The City Clerk was instructed to place all data he had procured on file, so that any future council wishing to open this question at any time would have all particulars before them.

The City Electrician in his monthly report stated that transformers, which were supplied both lighting and electrical heating equipments in dwelling houses at several points in the city were considerably over-loaded and recommended the purchase of several new transformers and meters at an approximate cost of $366. 78 to remedy this defect in the system.

A motion was passed authorizing the City Clerk to purchase the necessary equipment.

A check from the July 1st Sports Committee for $65.00 was accepted by the Council in full settlement against an outstanding account against that committee for their portion of the expenditure incurred in 1923 in building a temporary swimming pool at the City Park.

Mayor Irvine reported that he had been requested by the Swimming Pool Commitee to place before the Council a request from that body for a loan of one thousand dollars so that they might be able to complete the swimming pool this year. The committee had on hand at present some $2,000 but $3,000 was required to complete the work and should the council see their way clear to grant this request, the Committee would undertake to refund the money to the City from the proceeds of the Dominion Day Sports next year. The Committee had also suggested that a governing body of five members should take charge of the swimming pool upon its completion, one member to be appointed from the City Council, one from the School Board and three to be elected at the annual Civic Elections.

A motion was passed that the City advance to the July 1st Sports Committee the sum of $1,000 at the rate of six per cent. interest. The Trustees of the Fund to sign a note on behalf of the Committee.

Considerable discussion came up on the matter of electing three members of the governing body at the civic elections and it was finally decided to advise the Swimming Pool Committee that the Council did not favor the adoption of this suggesion.

A motion was passed that Alderman Tully be appointed a member of the Swimming Pool Committee.

A communication from Premier Oliver together with a copy of the proposed Ton Planning Act was discussed and a motion passed giving the Act the Council's formal endorsation.

GOVERNMENT MAY ACT

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4.—The anthracite wage scale negotiations were broken off at 6.30 o'clock tonight.

The motion to adjourn sine die was proposed by C. J. Golden, president of district No. 9, United Mine Workers; was seconded by several operators and passed by the joint committee. The conferees reported they were in complete disagreement on the miners' demands and that further negotiations appeared useless.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, submitted a reply to the letter he received yesterday from Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the anthracite operators' conference, in which the miners' leader said in part:

"The mine workers' representatives deeply regret that the anthracite operators have seen fit publicly to announce their refusal to negotiate upon a basis of fact. Public statements of W. W. Inglis and yourself obviously preclude any agreement. The public advertisements of the anthracite operators, given out while the negotiations were in progress, demonstrate that the operators do not propose to make any constructive proposition toward the success of the conference. With these facts in mind, the mine workers' representatives are of the judgment that it is utterly futile to continue further in these wage scale negotiations."

The operators went into a secret caucus for 50 minutes and upon their return they asked Mr. Lewis: "Are we to understand from your letter that in view of our opposition to an increase in wages and the check off you refuse to continue negotiations?"

Mr. Lewis answered yes, according to the account given by Mr. Inglis, chairman of the operators' committee.

"In view of the differences between us," came a second question "do you flatly reject the proposal that all matters in dispute be submitted to impartial arbitration under conditons ensuing, adjudication fair to all parties concerned, and work to continue at present wages pending the result of such arbitration?"

Lewis replied, according to Inglis, quoting from his letter to Warriner to the effect that arbitration would not be accepted.

Mr. Inglis later charged Mr. Lewis with deliberately wrecking the wage conference.

"Mr. Lewis came into this meeting today," said Inglis, "with a fixed intention of breaking off negotiations. His letter to Mr. Warriner was the basis prepared in advance."

Philadelphia, Aug. 4. (A.P.)—With the breaking off in Atlantic City tonight of the anthracite wage negotiations those in close touch with the situation expressed the belief that a suspension of hard coal operations would be ordered by officials of the United Mine Workers upon the expir-August 31, unless there is intervenation of the present wage agreement tion which is not at present apparent.

The situation tonight is virtually the same as in 1923, when, after the wage negotiations in Atlantic City had failed, a suspension was ordered Pinchot intervened. Both sides then and remained in effect until Governor agreed to arbitration and as a result the mine workers received a 10 per cent wage increase.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 4. (A.P.)—When Governor Pinchot was informed by the Associated Press tonight of the break in the anthracite wage negotiations at Atlantic City he indicated keen interest in the news, but declined to state what action he would take in the matter.

"DEUTSCHLAND UBER ALLIES"

John Bell in the Fortnightly Review: If there is one characteristic of the German race which stands out above all othres it is its faith in its superiority. This faith was never lost in the darkest hour which followed military defeat. The average German still believed that his country was uber Alles. The head of the Reich might be a Socialist, half of the Reichstag might be composed of Socialists, but this did not mean that Germans in the mass had foresworn the lesson they had learnt and that henceforh they would be mild and docile and return to the same state of mind as before the German Empire was founded. On the very morrow of defeat and national humiliation there were influenced at work to dissipate despair and to imbue the people with a greater faith than ever in their destiny.

The girls who paint their faces are usually interested in the boys who paint the town.

LIGHT TREATMENT

The proposed solarium for crippled children to be established on Vancouver Island is really in pursuance of the good results that have been discovered from clinical experience and observation in treatment by light. Even children's mentality improves under the stimulus of light. At the well known institution at Alton it has been demonstrated that a definitely increased response of mental intelligence has followed exposure to light. Sir Henry Gauvain has been describing the action of light on the body. It has, he says,, a direct or local effect on the part on which it is impinged. There are also remote effects on deep seated lesions which are most important and are being extensively studied. There is an instance of light rays having entirely removed asthma. All sorts of effects are being produced by the light treatment and some that are not anticipated and cannot be forseen.

Professor Carl Stone, of Copenhagen, says that light has an absolutely certain effect on rickets, both on spontaneous rickets in man and on the experimental rickets in animals. On tetany light has also a favorable effect. It is curative in the matter of certain forms of tuberculosis and particularly on the so-called surgical tuberculosis. The most favorable effects are experienced from judicious exposure, whereas there may be unfavorable results following excessive doses of artificial light. That is the reason that the movement in favor of a solarium is growing. The experiments have been carried to an extent which show that it is a definite and certain act of mercy which is involved in the provision of homes where the open air treatment can be practised under favorable conditions. Vancouver Island is particularly suitable and the movement for a solarium should be rapidly advanced in the interests of the crippled children of Western Canada.

The British coal crisis has been temporarily solved by the decision of the Baldwin Government to give a subsidy to coal mining pending such time as there is a full injuiry into all the conditions in the industry. This step, an uneconomic one, has been adopted simply because the Government could not permit the paralysis of transport and industry at the present time. The facts of the situation, so far as they have been brought into relief, appear plain. The miners refuse to submit to any wage reduc tions. They want a minimm wage, and they want to name what it should be themselves. Meantime Britain cannot compete with foreign collieries for the export trade because of her cost of production. Scores of collieries in Britain have been closed since they cannot be carried on without loss.

The inquiry that is to be held during the next six months or so, while a subsidy will be in operation, probably will determine little more than is known at present. While miners in France and Belgium work for lower wages and work longer hours than the British miners, the conditions which brought about the crisis in the British industry will continue. The subsidy plan is now being adopted and it is an exceedingly difficult thing to know how, when once established, it will come to be abandoned. If the coal mining industry can be subsidized there is no legitimate reason why the same bonussing principle should not be applied to agriculture. It is dangerous precedent, one that the taxpayers may tolerate in an emergency but one to which it is exceedingly doubtful they will become accustomed and accept with equanimity. —Colonist.

COKE PRODUCTION

Production of coke in Canada during the month of June receded to 109,-694 tons from 130,068 tons in May and 131,484 tons in April. The output in June was 16 per cent. less in May, whereas May showed a decline of 1 per cent. from April. A loss in output was reported by all provinces.

Owing to the difficulty of obtaining Canadian coal in Eastern Canada,, particularly in Nova Scotia where the coal mines have been closed down for several months due to a strike, the consumption of Canadian coal in the manufacture of coke amounted to only 1,122 tons out of a total of 56,775 tons charged to the ovens. Throughout the industry the consumption of domestic coal in June was reported as 19,565 tons as against 44,481 tons in the previous month and 75,873 tons in April. Foreign coal charged to coke ovens totalled 141,650 tons in June.

Although exports fo coke from Can ada fell from 4,968 tons to 3,567 tons and imports rose from 45,954 tons the apparent consumption of coke in June amounting to 161,963 tons was 9,091 tons less than in May owing to the loss in output. Coke sales for June at 31,395 tons showed little change from the 31,067 tons in May but the quantity of coke used by the reporting plants or delivered to their associated metallurgical works dropped to 3,364 tons or 12 per cent. under the 93,787 tons reported in the preceding month.

For the first half of the year, 308,-081 ton of Canadian coal and 786,474 tons of imported coal were converted into 713,847 tons of coke giving an average yield of 1,304 pounds of coke or 65.22 per cent. per short ton of coal used. During the same period there was imported into Canada 341,056 tons of coke, making a total supply of 1,054,903 tons but exports totalled 26,052 tons, leaving 1,028,851 tons available for use in Canada. During the month Canadian coking plants used 126,156 tons, delivered 349,691 tons to their associated metallurgical works and sold 246,370 tons, making a total disposition of 722,217 tons.

Coke charged to iron blast furnaces in Canada during the first half of the year totalled 322,502 tons.—Saturday Night.

WICKED NOTES

"Indecedent music" is forbidden by the statutes of the District of Columbia. The ordinance has been in effect for a long time, but has not been enforced. As a matter of fact, the Washington police were somewhat taken aback when, lately, it was discovered that they were supposed to suppress indecent music. Policemen have troubles enough without having to decide on the comparative respectability of different kinds of music.

Nevertheless, the Washington police agreed that something must be done. An ordinance is an ordinance, and has got to be enforced. So immediate steps were taken to find out what is meant by indecent music. Presumably the author of the ordinance is unknown or inaccessible, or he would settle the question in short order. The only thing to do was to secure the expert opinion of connoisseurs of music.

This, the news items indicate, was done. Different persons explained what they understood by "indecent music."

"You know what I mean," said the assistant corporation counsel, 'that hootchy-kootchy sort of intonation."

"I refer," said the head of the D. C. policewomen, "to that tom-tommy sort of oriental music that makes men forget home and babies."

A police captain said: 'Any music played on a saxophone is immoral."

And so on. It looks as though the saxophone will have to get a lot of character witnesses. It has a bad name, and when there is a scandal in music the saxophone automatically falls under suspicion. It is at least possible that the District of Columbia will presently become the one saxophoneless spot in the United States.

The cancer germs just discovered are so small that they never can be seen with the naked eye even when they are present in enormous numbers in a test tube. The fluid in the tube can never become turbid or milky as occurs in ordinary bacteriological work. The cancer germ is described as appearing as tiny rings "spheroidal bodies," from the sides ofwhich like gems in a setting, small buds grow—"particulate bodies." These buds may extend from the original ring just as flowers extend from the ground on their stalks. The belief is now entertained that such germs belong to a huge family, many members of which cause diseases. The first cousin of the cancer germ causes the pleuro-pneumonia of cattle and there is reason to think that the germ of influenza, or sleepy sickness, of smallpox and even of measles belong to this group.

LOOKS LIKE STRIKE IN U. S.

Washington, Aug. 3rd.—Threats of another strike in the anthracite coal field, along with talk of a bituminous strike, have served to direct attention once more to the question of what the Federal Government purposes to do about it if there is a strike. It is currently said that if a strike develops the government will do its utmost and that the President will exert the full power of the executive to settle the strike.

The truth of the matter is that if a strike develops the Government and the public will be found in the same situation as in the past. This is a situation of more or less helplessness. The chances are the strike will be composed after some authority, either the Federal Government or the State of Pennsylvania, has set in motion some form of mediation. This is better than nothing, but in the past it has not proven very satisfactory from the standpoint of consumers of coal. They have paid for it in shortage of coal in the fall and early winter and in higher prices.

The Government hss ample power to deal with the coal situation but it will not exeht it, if the course taken in the past is any criterion and it apparently is. Congress has repeatedly neglected or refused to legislate. And the executive authority is by no means inclined to go the limit of its power. It is probable Mr. Coolidge will be as conservative about using his power to stop a coal strike if it comes as his predecessors have been.

Congress is handicapped by decisions of the courts that say mining is not interstate commerce. Hence it is a subject for state regulation. Nevertheless there are things that Congress and the administration could do on the coal question. The Government could obtain and distribute accurate information about coal prices and supply. It could reduce freight rates, could in various ways regulate the movement of coal in interstate commerce, could shut impure and unfit coal out of interstate commerce, and could act in other ways.

It has been repeatedly suggested that it would be entirely feasible for the Government, through the War Department or some other agency, to build up great stores of coal at important centres and that these could be used in time of crisis at once to protect from coal famine and to hold down the level of prices.

But the cry of the conservative influences that the Government must stay out of everything in the nature of business prevents it from taking any action which would go to the root of the trouble.

If it were really believed that the Government would exert the large powers it actually has to stop a strike there would not be the slightest likelihood of one.

Complaint often is made, says the Los Angeles Times, that the rising generation goes in less and less for higher education. But every father who is still receiving bills his student children contracted during the past school year knows that the steadfast aim of the rising generation is to make education higher and higher and higher.

The falling market for British coal is a falling market at home as well as abroad, but at home it is because of the more widespread use of fuel oil. In 1923, South Wales supplied to the Navy 1,697,250 tons and in 1924 the figure had fallen to 273,750 tons.

FISHING AT FERNIE

The following is a continuation of Howard L. Brownless's talk in the Spokesman-Review, on his fishing trip to the Fernie district:

"During the 12 days we were at Fernie my host, John L. Gates, of the King Edward Hotel, 'champion wet fly fisherman of Fernie,' and I fished ten days. Effort was made each day to different fishing spot. Mother and I usually spent the forenoon in motoring and sightseeing trips near the town. Fishing jaunts usually started at one or two in the afternoon and lasted until dusk, trips to the fishing localities being made by motor.

Every trip we made was enjoyable, although I learned two or three times that the mountain goat's ability to climb has nothing on these Fernie fishermen. To reach the whirlpool and the big Dolly Varden trout south of Elko we went down a flight of 300 wooden steps cleated to the side of the mountain in a proposed power site project. From there, with teeth, toes and eyebrows we got down the remaining two hundred feet to the fishing spots. On the opposite side of the Elk River the mountain wall was still more precipitous. Coming out, Bob Nolan, sawmill man of Flagstone, who was with us, said it was not necessary to climb the steps, that we would cling to the wall going around the shoulder of the mountain. I watched him do this stunt until he was out of sight, but could not see where he put his hands and feet to make the trip. The mountain seemed to go straight up on the one side and the whirlpool was straight under him. I decided I would rather be a live newspaper man in Spokane than a drowned human fly in the Elk River, and climbed the steps. I was wet as a rat with perspiration, had to stop two or three times to rest and was never more tired in my life than when I reached the top, but I consoled myself with the thought that I was still alive. We motored around to meet Nolan at the bridge below, where he, grinning, was awaiting us. The elevation of that region is more than 3,000 feet against 1,800 feet at Spokan and that helped to shorten my breath.

"Another time on Morrissey Creek, Gates and Ross Constanzo 'the Valentino' of Fernie, famed as a hunter and fisherman, scaled the mountain to reach a better fishing site and I went in below and in two hours caught so many trout I quit fishing, ate my lunch, smoked and loafed along until they arrived with no more fish than I had.

"On another trip I had brought home to me the treacherousness of the Elk River. To cross one of the channels, the men clasp hands, the end men armbed with long sticks to help support them in the torrent. It was in this fashion two years ago the young son-in-law of Matthew Tully, lost his life. Three of them clasped hands to cross the channel, the younger man being on the end. His grasp was torn loose by the current and he was swept to his death. Regarding the affair, Mr. Tully, his eye tear dimmed, said :'Poor boy, he could swim but little, the current wss too much for him. We recovered his body.'

"This day Tully and I clasped hands each armed with a stick. Before I knew it the power of the current had swept me from my feet, torn the stick from me and Tully was slipping. But he regained his foothold, braced his powerful six feet of brawn, held to me and we got out. Gates, who had crossed higher up, viewed the scene in alarm. From his side of the river he got a better view of the channel we tried to cross and said five feet further the curren was going at least 15 miles an hour. I remained on the safe side of the river for the rest of the day, where the fishing was not so good, and I made no more efforts to ford the Elk River.

"We caught fish on every trip, although the luck was much better some days than others, and had fish to give away. Briish Columbia laws prohibit the shipping of game fish out of the Province. Montana also prohibits the shipment of game fish out of the state, without the consent of the game warden. At Libby I found much dissatisfaction because their game warden for Lincoln county resides at Eureka, more than 60 miles away, although Libby is the county seat, a condition that practically prevents visiting fishermen coming into the region unless they are willing to take home only such fish as they can transport with them.

"Wild life is in abundance in British Columbia and Montana, judging by evidence seen in touring. Fresh deer tracks are seen along the streams. Repeatedly I saw grouse and peasant. South of Rexford on a beautiful stretch of forestry road, some buck deer disputed the road with us in mid-afternoon. One planted himself in the middle of the highway, surveyed the approaching car with much interest, bounded across a wide ditch and again gave us the 'once over' before disppearing in the underbrush. Near Noxon a pestiferous badger persistently ran down the road ahead of the car, slowing our speed and ruffling up his fur to scare us while he glanced sideways to see if we were coming. I did not want to run over him and finally he disappeared in the underbrush.

"British Columbia roads are so good that the Jewett car took all the grades on high. Near Libby I found a stretch of several miles where we had to slow down to five to ten miles an hour, and the same was true for several miles on the road between Troy and Noxton. At Noxton I met a man touring in a large Sedan with his wife and two grown daughters. He told me the roads were fierce to the east and he had come in low from Flathead Lake, was headed for Spokane to have his car overhauled. My experience was that by watching the spark plugs and keeping them clean, no motor trouble need be feared. My total car expense on the trip was 75 cents for having the carburetor and distributor readjusted.

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" WILL LIVE FOREVER

Some books are read, and then thrown away. Some pictures are seen, and then forgotten. The life of an ordinary movie—the society drama or comedy, is about two years. Classics of literature like "Hamlet" and Emersson's "Essay on Compensation" live throughout generations and are read again and again. "The Ten Commandments" has a theme so great, a sweep so large, and is so elaborately produced that it is one of the small group of films which will never die. As a fine book can be read over and over again, so a picture like this can be looked at more than once without losing its flavor. Cecil B. DeMille's cinema-masterpiece will be shown at the Orpheum Theatre soon.

Mount Fernie Lodge I. O. O. F. and Esther Rebekah Lodge held their annual joint decoration day here Wednesday evening. The members of the two lodges met at the Oddfellows Hall and proceeded to St. Margaret's cemetary, where, after the preliminary service, floral tributes were placed upon the graves of the departed brothers and sisters of both lodges.

318 auto tourists passed through the Fernie auto camp during the month of July and it is very gratifying to read some of their remarks put in the camp register. Fernie may well be proud of her camp and the citizens should do all the ycan to support the Board of Trade which organization is responsible for the camp upkeep. The tourists certainly appreciate the work done and it is very interesting to read their remarks in the register. This of course is open to the inspection of all visitors and the citizens are asked to kindly take an interest in this work, which brings added revenue to the merchants of the city.

The Fernie Intermediate baseball team revenged their defeat here two weeks ago when they played the Cranbrook seniors at Cranbrook last Sunday and won by a score of five runs to four in an exciting game of baseball. Sofko hurled for Fernie and Findlay for Cranbrook.

The M.F. & M. Railway have this week added a new motor car to their equipment. The new car will seat about sixty passengers and will be used on the line for special trips. This is the third time that the Company have put on a car of this kind, but hitherto they have not been a success owing to missrepresentation on the part of the manufacturers, however this car is equipped with 200 horse power engines and it is thought that it will be able to make the hill.

Last Sunday's thunderstorm put a crimp in the baseball game between Fernie and Kimberley. The teams on the ground and a fairly good crowd gathered to see the game when the storm broke but after delaying the game about an hour an attempt was made to play.

Kimberley were retired in quick order in their half of the first and then Fernie scored two. In the second innings the rain started to come down in torrents and the fielders were having a hard time to hold their feet on the ground. Kimberley scored four runs before they were retired. Fernie came to bat and with only one man out had scored three runs and had three more on bases when the umpire called the game. The score then stood five runs to four in favor of Fernie.

There will be a meeting to-night of those interested in swimming pool business at 8 o'clock in the Council Chamber. The City Council have decided to borrow the money for the committee to finish the work so everything should be soon rushed to completion. The city will charge the committee the regular rate of interest. It is quiet evident that the City Fathers do not intend to assume any monetary responsibility in connection with the pool. Just at the present time with the Home Bank liability to take care of there is of course every excuse for this attitude, but in a few years time when that is taken care of there is no excuse in the world why tht City should not assume the full responsibility for its operation. Be sure and be on hand at the meeting to-night at eight o'clock.

Staff Wilson and a number of players of the local ball team motored to Lethbridge to lookover the baseball prospects in that city. There was a double-header on the boards that day between the Stavely and Lethbridge teams and as Fernie is supposed to be lined up against the champions of that particular district in the Alberta championship matches the boys were anxious to find out how well they will have to play to win out. Lethbridge won both the games in question and a match was arranged with their team for Sunday, August 16th. There is a lot of trouble in baseball circles in Alberta over the Calgary combine and a number of the teams have signified their intention to drop out of the fight, among them is the Lethbridge aggregation, and the result is the game played here on the 16th with the team from that city will only be an exhibition match.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE

Who is responsible for the increase of juvenile delinquency in Canada ?

The parents.

So says Mr. Justice A. K. Dysart, of the Court of King's Bench for Manitoba, and a resident of Winnipeg. Chiefs of Police in various Canadian centres, viewing the problem from different angles, reach supporting conclusions. A famous western Roman Catholic educationist, Brother Joseph, of St. Boniface, corroborates them.

Judge Dysart used pointed words in buttressing the keen and most understandable ananlysis of criminal statistics that has been worked out in Canada. He says :

"They, the young, are gaining very rapidly over all elements of our population, in contributing to crime, and are creating a problem of national importance. The oncoming citizenship of our country seems much more criminally inclined than the out-going. I am convinced that it is not "society" but the homes that are to blame.

Pursuing this view, he asks : "In what particular has the home failed ? and answers himself with this : "I would say in relaxation of paternal discipline, and in the neglect of personal supervision over the rising generation. The so-called emancipation of women from the 'bondage of the home' has been followed by a corresponding emancipation of the children from the control and discipline of the parents, and is one of the most potent factors in the growth of those conditions from which youthful delinquency and crime develop. This body of conditions, this criminal matrix (if I may use such a term), is fostered if not actually created by the indifference, the lassitude, the neglect, or what you might call it, the failure of parents to fully perform their duties."

In coming to figures Judge Dysart uses those of 1923, the latest year for which he could get complete detailed records. He pays little attention to terms the "innummerable petty offences which come up daily in the police courts." These constitute nearly 90 per cent. of the crimes in Canada, over 135,000 of them being recorded for the year. There has been a rapid increase 'in these offences in recent years, owing largely to the multiplication of petty by-laws and the increased activities of the police forces.

It is to the major crimes that he directs special attention, and here, it may be remarked, that his figures, in all instances, relate to convictions for specified crime. They take no account of crimes recorded but in which there were withdrawal of charges, failure to make charges for lack of sufficient evidence, or failure to prove accused persons guilty. Of these major crimes there were 15,188 in which adults were charged, and 4,165 committed by juveniles, that is by people under 21 years of age. Of the total 25 per cent. were crimes of impulse or passion committed on the spur of the moment and 75 per cent. were crimes of deliberation, carried out after more or less planning. "The crime of theft predominates," the judge says. "Simple theft, that is theft unaccompanied by violence, constitutes 52 per cent. of all serious crime committed by adults and 84 per cent. of juvenile crime. If the thefts accompanied by violence are added the total runs up to 58 per cent. for adults and 94 per cent. for juveniles.

Nine out of ten of the criminals are men, and the younger males contribute the greater portion of these. To emphasize his point he works it out in a number of tables and figures. Condensed these figures show that the proportion of criminals among juveniles ten to sixteen years of age is one to 87 of population; among youths 16 to 18 years of age one to 75; while among men 20 to 40 years of age, it is one to 108, and among men 40 to 100 years of age, one to 245.

He still gives another survey of it in these words : "Forty per cent. of our male criminals are under 20 and 50 per cent. are under 25 years of age. Sixty per cent. of them are unmarried, 80 per cent. of them are from our towns, and sixty per cent. of them seem to have no regular business. There are nearly as many actual criminals in the eight boyish years between 12 and 20, as in the 20 adult years between 20 and 40, and more in the four years immediately under 20 than in the sixty years immediately following 40."

Judge Dysart, as in the quotations already made, is insistent in the placin gof the responsibility for the bringing about of a better state of affairs. The 'society' that some so glibly blame for conditions he urges is the aggregate of the units which compose it, the families of the land, and he goes on "The influence of family is, or should be, strong to guide the children for some considerable time after they have left home to enter into the world of affairs. Charged as they are by the laws of God and nature, to thain their children in the way they should go, parents have a responsibility and cannot escape it. The laxity of all other parents is not an excuse. Each pair of parents is responsible primarily for the upbringing of their own offspring."

Chief Constable A. G. Shute, of Edmonton, in a paper read before a recently held convention, took the same ground. The prevention of crime is a favorite topic with him; one of his cardinal theories is that preventive work should begin with the young. "There is," he said, "a tendency on the part of the parents to leave their children too much to themselves with-any any supervision over their actions in their spare time." He advocates inculcating a love of clean sports, but adds that the parents and other adults who undertake to train the youngsters physically and mentally, must set good examples themselves in right living. "Many boys," said Chief Shute on an earlier occasion, "can trace their start in a career of crime to a lack of respect for other people's property. This, which in the begining really amounts to nothing more than mischief, is not corrected, with the result that the child goes from bad to worse." He is a great believer in the work of many of the friendly and social organizations formed in the last few years by business men and having definite aims and objectives in respect to work among boys in particular.

Staff Inspector McKinney, of the Toronto force, who has had a long experience, reaches a similar conclusion. "Respect for the rights of others" has often been emphasized by him as a principle, the teaching of which is abrogated to the Sunday and secular schools. In the former, he said on one occasion, the time is so limited and the precentage of attendance is so small, that it is impossible for children to get the necessary amount of instruction, and in public schools that form of instruction is not on the program."

Chief of Police Chris. H. Newton, of Winnipeg, in his last annual report while stating that the general increase in crime was slight, declared that there was a marked increase in crime committed by women during the year. He also comments upon the increase in juvenile delinquency, a total of 410 boys and 139 girls between the ages of 16 and 20 years faced the police magistrate in the year. "The average criminal to-day is the boy of 17 and 18, at the most either 20 or 21 court rooms sit girls of even more tender years, boasting to their friends and parading themselves in an effort to show how closely they can stick to their criminal pals."

Rev. Brother Joseph, spoken of previously, addressing a gathering of police chiefs, was not inclined to put much weight on the claim sometimes made that children were by heredity addicted to crime. His experience was that environment had much to do with it. "Why do we need police chiefs?"he asked "because often times the home, sometimes the school, and sometimes the church itself do not do their full duty, and then the police chiefs have to do the larger share."

D. A. Noble, of Sydney, Nova Scotia, Chief of the British Empire Steel Corporation police, believes that in his district a principal cause of growing lawlessness among the young 'the chief offenders being mere lads,' is due, 'apart from the neglect of the home,' to the teaching of revolutionary doctrines in the Communist Sunday Schools. "This;" he added, "is a free country, but I do not think that freedom of that kind allows the youth of our land to be taught disloyalty to our King and country, is the kind that our forefathers, and many of the present generation fought and died for."

The statement of a veteran official in the Tombs, New York, that the greatest change in that famous prison in the last thirty years, is the youth of the inmates, has furnished the text for homilies by a number of Canadian newspapers. The young of Canada, says Mr. Justice Dysart, are gaining very rapidly over all elements of of our population in contributing to crime, and are creating a problem of national importance.

It is not the only absurd story in the world.

WON'T STAND FOR NUDE

Geneva, Aug. 4.—Indignant burghers of St Gail, a tiny vilage on the shores of Lake Constance, have been molified by the finding of the Steckburn magistrate that the cult of nude sunbathers which has risen in their midst is not the immoral association of wantons that the poor burghers suspected it to be.

Forty members of the Club of Eden, some men and some women, recently were herded together by the police, compelled to don some clothes and then were taken away to the magistrate to be judged for the crime of going about sans clothes or shame, to the extreme embarrassment of less natural citizens of the community. It developed at the hearing that the club is religious and of Protestant creed, and that its members freely preach a return to nature.

For some months the club has grown unmarked by the St. Gail villagers but just before the arrests occurred the members discarded discretion along with their garments, and promenaded boldly on the more frequented paths that wind about the lakeside hills. Club meetings occurred on weekends only and the holiday had brought others to the paths. These others, well dressed themselves, were shocked at the spectacle of of nude men and women strolling arm in arm through the forests and the cult was exposed to the police.

When arraigned for trial, the 40 were unrepentant. They explained that entire familes belonged to the club and indulged in is hites which were designed to realize a heaven on earth. Their peaceable reunions, it was explained, consisted of prayers and fervent sermons.

So far as abandoning covering for their bodies was concerned, the 40 respectfully referred the magistrate to the Bible and then provided their own interpretation of the Book of Genesis to prove that garments are useless.

The defendants earnestly endeavored to obtain judicial sanction for future nude gatherings, but they finally admitted it would be best to wear clothes.

WATER NOTICE

Use and Storage

Take notice that Simon Taylor, whose address is Cranbrook, will apply for a licence to take and use one cubic foot per second and to store 20, 000 cubic feet of water out of Maguire Creek, which flows westerly and drains into sinks on lot 36.

The storage-dam will be located at S.W. corner of lot 361. The capacity of the reservoir to be created is about 20,000 cubic feet, and it will flood about one acre of land. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about N.E. corner Sub. Lot 9, Lot 361, and will be used for domestic, steam and log pond purposes upon the land described as Sub. Lot 4 of 361.

This notice was posted on the ground on the 30th day of July, 1925.

A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act, 1914," will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Fernie, B.C.

Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria B.C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper.

The date of the first publication of this notice is Friday, August 7th, 1925.

Simon Taylor,
Applicant.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

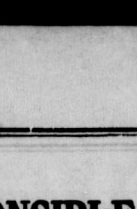
Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES



For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES—IT PAYS

PHYSICIAN GIVES ADVICE

Physicians to the body sometimes give advice to the soul from out their large experience, and of these was "the Grand Old Man of British Medicine," Sir Clifford Albut, the Regius Professor at Cambridge University, who went decently to prove his belief in God and a hereafter. His writings, we are told, won him a wide reputation. Once, after he was eighty years old, he ventured into the pulpit of St. Edward's church in Cambridge, and of the sermon he preached then the following notes were printed after is death. We quote from the Churchman (Episcopal):

"I desire from the retrospect of a long life, to give you some thoughts on religion from a layman's point of view. Comparing the religious teaching I used to hear when young with that I hear today, it seems hardly possible that both could be put forth by the same church. The change is largely due to an alteration in te relations of religion to science. To me as a scientific man the supposed conflict between science and religion never caused any alarm. It would be wicked to forget that reason is a faculty given to us by God Himself, and that Christianity itself must move with the great current of human thought and development. We feel(even when we have no emotions that rise into rapture) a stirring within our hearts, continuous and certain, which claims to rule our lives. Like the inborn gifts of skill in art or music, it may be developed by cultivation or extinguished by neglect. If we cultivate it, we come to recognize in it the influence of an indwelling God. Even outside the pale of Christianity that inner influence is felt by many holy men.

"If Christendom will abandon its two-thousand-year-old habit of internal controversy, and concentrate itself upon developing this inborn sense of the indwelling God, it will attain to its ancient and fundamental aim of Christian unity.

"In the slums of London I have wandered through crowds of unruly and profane people, and have asked myself if such as they could be children of God. I have afterwards learned fro mSalvation Army officers that many of these slum people would give their last shilling to a friend in distress, or would take in a sick neighbor and support him out of their own earnings.

"Religion, thus, is not a matter of rites and ceremonies. I concede that there are many persons to whose feelings of devotion these are helpful or indispensable. Yet many others, like myself, find within the plain walls of a whitewashed room a more direct access to God. Prayer is not a thing only for fixt hours or for sacred places. In the street or the railway station or the market-place you may breathe a momentary prayer, and you will feel happier for a whole hour afterwards. There is nothing incongruous in a silent aspiration raised to God whilst you are selling ribbons in a shop or advising clients in an office or prescribing at a patient's bedside."

A naturalist, too, found nothing incongruous between his branch of learning and faith in God. In the Washington Evening Star we read that the late Prof. Henry Oldys, a naturalist connected with the Smithsonian Institution, wrote in his will:

"In leaving this world I do so with the prayer and hope that some day it may appreciate the priceless legacy bequeathed to it by Jesus, and thus be led to that perfect system he offered, whose basis is love and faith, whose keynote is entire abandonment of self-interest, and whose object is the establishment upon earth of the highest ideal of social organization—the Kingdom of God."

Victoria—A new record in the salmon pack of British Columbia is set by the figures for 1924, contained in the annual report of the Commissioner of Fisheries just issued. The pack last season totalled 1,745,313 cases, 400,000 cases larger than any pack in the last five years and exceeding the previous record of 1918 by 129,156 cases. This increase is due almost entirely to the pack of pink and chums, constituting 77% of the whole. There was a slight increase in the pack of sockeyes.

The value of the fishery production of the Province for 1923 amounted to $20,795,914 out of the Dominion's total of $42, 565,545 or almost forty-nine per cent. The output was two and one half times as much as that of Nova Scotia, the second in rank. The value of the halibut fisheries in 1923 was $2,353,552 more than in 1922, and as the catch of 1924 was 2,979,200 pounds larger than that of 1923, the figures of value, when prepared, will show a great increase . The pack of dry salted herring in 1924 also exceeded that of the previous year by over 10,000 tons.

LARGEST LOCOMOTIVE

The world's largest locomotive for passenger-car service has just been completed at the shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company at Mount Clare, and put on exhibition along with an engine built at the same shops in 1809, contrast with which will illustrate the advance of thirty-five years in locomotive construction. The older engine, a notable vehicle in its day, is a pigmy beside the modern giant, which has a total wheel base, including tender, of 89 feet and weight of 659,000 pounds with driving wheel more than six feet in diameter. An official bulletin gives sundry technical details of construction, and adds:

"When put into use this new locomotive will be operated over the mountain divisions between Washington and Grafton, West Virginia, and between Washington and Pittsburgh, hauling heavy passenger-trains that now require auxiliary or helper engines on the steep grades. It will be the only engine that can haul twelve passenger-cars over the steep mountain-grades, and it is expected that through the use of this new type of locomotive, the necessity for using pusher or helper engines will be obviated.

"The actual design of this engine was started about the first of the current year, and orders were placed for the material required in its construction. It required only thirty working days to build this new 'Man-of-War' of the railroad, work being started on it May 16 and it was completed last Saturday, June 20.

"All of the most modern devices so far successfully developed are embodied in the engine's construction, such as power reverse gear, air-operated cylinder cocks, pneumatic bell-ringer, duplex stoker, superheater, low-pressure compound air-pumps, drifting valves, pneumatically operated fire door, etc.

"The finished locomotive presents a beautiful appearance and is representative of the highest class design, material and workmanship. It is the opinion of experts who have seen the engine that no better-looking locomotive was ever turned out by any of the largest locomotive-building companies in the United States."

TRUE HEROES

Wickham Steed in the Review of Reviews (London): There are undoubtedly critical days and years in store for the country. Transition periods are always marked by the strain discomfort and loss that accompany processes of readjustment. But we believe that there is no warrant for imagining that the country is necessarily going downhill or that the native virtues of the people have deteriorated. If, in June, 1914, any seer had predicted that this country would be capable of the sacrifice and the sustained effort which it bore and made between August, 1914, and November, 1918—which, in truth, many sections of the people are still bearing and making with almost unconscious heroism—he would have been laughed at as a dreamer of wild dreams. Little by little, the people will realize what has to be done for their own and the country's salvation, and little by little they will do it, grumbling or joking as is their wont, until other nations find that, in every branch of human endeavor, England still holds a place second to none.

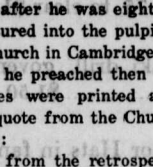
Senator Hubert, writing in Revue Hebdomadaire, of Paris, says: "The Japanese appear to have lost all recollection of their prestine warlike valor and achievement. It is true that every effort is being made to revive the military spirit, but it would seem that only a menace from the outside will ever succeed in unifying the disintegrated national elements. Whence will that menace come? It would seem that Nippon is preparing for it. Since 1924 the Army and the Navy have been reorganized at all points. Reductions in man power have corresponded with increases in material, and if the Japanese Navy has only 350,000 tons in dreadnaughts (?) their quality and capacity are undeniable, while her efforts to construct a great aviation arm are not less than heroic.

A report presented to the minister of Labor by the general superintendent of Government Employment Service states that unemployment was not as prevalent during the early part of 1924 as in corresponding periods of previous years. While later on many conditions led to the congregating of large numbers of unemployed men in the coast cities and some distress, conditions were not such as to necessitate any extensive relief measures.



The arrangements for sending men to the harvest fields of the prairie and to the fruit growing districts of this province and described as having proved very satisfactory. With reference to the handling of fruit crops the superintendent states that the problem of labor is a serious one. The low prices obtained by growers has compelled a low rate for fruit-pickers. Where the work is close to the homes of the pickers and they can live there the problem is not so great but where pickers have to camp or board they expect a much greater return for their labor than the industry is able to pay.

THE MAN IN THE STREET

La Patrie: The City Council has just put into force the new traffic regulations, certain provisions of which have for their object the prevention of accidents. It is obvious that these provisions can have no effect unless the municipal authorities take the necessary steps to ensure respect for them. There is the stipulation, for example, hat at those places where they can cross the thoroughfares, namely the street intersections, the pedestrians have the right-of-way over vehicles. This is the reverse of the current practice. It is common knowledge that the motorist has come to regard the road as his own preserve, and that he will not turn aside, much less slow up for the passage of a pedestrian. It will be interesting to see the practical effect of the proclamation on the rights of the pedestrians.

Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

HEADACHES, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are Nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If this is allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

SETTLEMENT AGREED UPON

Halifax, Aug. 5.—The miners of Nova Scotia employed by the British Empire Steel corporation agreed by a majority of 1133. In a plebiscite today, to return to work under the proposals of the provincial government. There were 6693 votes polled, many of the miners abstaining from the balloting. The directors of the corporation, meeting in Montreal today to consider the same terms characterized by the government, when they were presented last Friday as "final proposals" adjourned to meet again tomorrow.

It is still undecided, therefore, whether or not there is to be an early resumption of work, which, as proposed by Premier Rhodes and his cabinet, will be under an interm six months' contract pending a thorough investigation of the industry. Wages paid will not be those of 1922, or a reduction of 6 to 8 per cent. from the 1924 rates, and working conditions would be those of 1924. The government would rebate one-fifth of the coal royalties, and the controversial checkoff system of union dues being collected by the company would be submitted to a referendum held by the government.

Final figures will probably show some slight changes, but the approximate results were given by the United Mine Workers' headquarters in Glace Bay tonight. The large southern areas of Cape Breton, New Waterford excluded, gave a majority of about 700 for the proposals. New Waterford turned them down by about 160 votes and Pictou county did likewise by a narrow margin of 10. Cumberland county gave a majority of 384 votes, and the northern Cape Breton areas a majority of 151. A notable vote against was that at Reserve, in the southern area, 69 for and 313 against.

The local School Board are having some trouble in securing a teaching staff for the High School. The Board should spare no pains to secure the best talent available as Fernie does not want to take a back seat in the matter of education.

In the use of the telephone, which is indicative both of quickening up business and social relationships and of talkativeness, in proportion to population, Canada ranks second only to the United States. There are 1,022,782 telephones in Canada, or more than one to every nine persons in the country. British Columbia's proportion is exceedingly large, for there are 89,310 in this Province, which is an average of one to every seven persons.

FERNIE DEFEATS KIMBERLEY

In the third game of a friendly series to decide who were top-notchers in East Kootenay, Fernie defeated Kimberley at Kimberley, Wednesday afternoon by a score of six runs to one, thereby winning the series, two games to one.

Blair, although still limping, went into the box for Fernie and held Kimberley to seven well scattered hits, and with Fernie giving him excellent support, well merited his victory. Jahren, ex-Wycliffe hurler, on the mound for Kimberley, with the exception of the second innings, pitched steady ball and struck out ten of the heavy hitting Fernie batters. In the second innings, however, Fernie staged a regular swatfast, two three baggers, three singles and a couple of walks, netting them five runs. Incidently, this is the first game Fernie have ever won on the Kimberley diamond.

Score by Innings :

Fernie	050	100	00x	—6
Kimberley	000	000	10x	—1

Summary— 3 base hits Steinert, Barger, Rushcal; Sacrifice hit: Steinert; Stolen bases: Vaughn, Morgan; left on bases : Fernie 10; Kimberley 5 ; Bare on balls: off Jahren 4; Strike outs: by Blair 9, by Jahren 10; Earned runs Fernie 6, Kimberley 1; Umpire Griffiths. Game called at end of eight innings on account of darkness.

FERNIE LEGION 53 HOLDS A FROLIC

The above Legion was inaugurated on Monday and Tuesday of this week. Deputy Supreme Dictator F. E. Hill and Herder Legionare L. H. Brown, of Vancouver, put on the ceremonies of initation and installation in a creditable manner. After the ceremony a supper was served, and a frolic staged. Eeryone enjoyed the evening and hoped that another frolic would soon be the order. The officers and members of the Legion took the opportunity to thank Legionaries Wilson, Iannuice, and McQueen for serving supper.

The following officers were installed : North Moose, J. Sweeney; South Moose, H. Harrison ; East Moose, R. Sampson ; West Moose, T. Bennett ; Assistant Herder, J. Wilson ; Treasurer, A. E. Hughes ; Guiding Moose, J. Lowe ; Custodian, W. Savage ; Argus, M. Tully, jr.

Nelson News.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Andrew Barclay was held from the Standard Undertaking parlors Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. J. H. Wright, of Trinity church officiating. Pall bearers were William Ramsay, S. J. Gridley, J. A. Curran, R. D. Hall, James Forbes and E. Y. Brake.

The late Mrs. Barclay, who died in the Kootenay Lake General hospital last Sunday, after a lingering illness, was born at Lintrathen, Scotland, 77 years ago. She had lived in Canada 17 years before the time of her death, and until a year ago was a resident of Fernie.

She leaves four children, two sons and two daughters, who are John Lundie of Nelson, Mrs. T. Howden of Calgary, Mrs. A. Milligan of Belfast, Ireland, and Alex Lundie of St. Paul, Minn. Peter Lundie, late of Fernie, is a brother.

Dr. Bukley, of Michel, who recently won a brand new Chevrolet coupe with a dollar ticket in a drawing at Blairmore, practically put it out of business last night when he ran it full tilt into the railing on Fairy Creek bridge last night. The doctor was driving a little too fast to make the turn right and crashed head on into the railing,. Fortunately no one was injured but several of the occupants have not recovered from the shock yet. Clare Fierheller says it was the first time for quite a while that he offered up a prayer.

NOTICE

A public meeting will be held in the Council Chamber on Tuesday, Aug. 18th, at 8 p.m., for the purpose of selecting three members to fill the swimming pool committee of five members. This is a very important matter and all citizens are urgently requested to attend.

A despatch from Vancouver this afternoon states that continued rainfall at the coast had greatly reduced the seriousness of the forest fire situation along the coast and on the Island.

Effective last Monday, the Fernie police were instructed to regulate the hours of the beer parlors as laid down in the act, according to local time. Up to Monday the parlors had been governed by Pacific Coast time. The change means that these premises are now opening at 10 a. m. and closing at 11 p. m.

Mike Fitzen and a party of joy-riders very nearly connected with paradise on Saturday night when he failto make the turn at the top of the hill just this side of the White Spruce Lumber Co's mill. The car ran over the thirty foot embankment and turned over three or four times, but the lusk which usually follows John Barleycorn, was right with them and with the exception of a broken collar bone which one of the party received, they all escaped serious injury.

Although the Lethbridge Clubs withdrew from the Championship Baseball Series, they are playing exhibition games along the schedule drawn up by the Association and having defeated Stavely are soming to Fernie to tangle with the local club, who have been next in line, in an exhibition game Sunday afternoon. The Cubs have a big reputation in Southern Alberta and this will be the first real test of strength between the champions of that District and Fernie. Jacobs will be the likely selection for mound duty by the locals, Goldsworth or Gogehegan will throw for Lethbridge.
