With all due reverence, it can be asserted that the Bible is a religious book, and yet containing some strong passages. Besides, by attempting to put down such books as these of Paine and Voltaire, their circulation is only increased. We are still of opinion that the law which Mr. Patton thinks he is vindicating was meant for books and papers that are obscene and indecent in themselves, such as quacks' pamphlets, improper prints and photographs, and the penny dreadfuls sold as reading matter to children, but not for books which, though containing indecent passages, are primarily a discussion of re-

In arranging the affairs of the late Earl of Airlie, who died in Colorado recently, it comes to light that his estates, extending over a considerable part of Forfarshire, and stretching into Perthshire, yielded a rental of about $130,000 for the crop of 1879, representing an increase within the last twenty-five years of about $50,000. This was due to the recelamation of land from moor and to the large amount expended in building, draining and fencing operations under agreements entered into by proprietor and tenants at the commencement of the leases.

MONEY AND TRADE.

New York, Oct. 12.—Over 1000 brick-layers have quit work, and building was stopped at many points in the city. Among the men who stopped work were those employed by Richard Deeves, B. & E. > SQUABBLE, SQUABBLE. The Congregation of Cooke's Church at it Again
> —A "Painful" Meeting Last Night.

They're at it again. Who are? The people of Cooke's church. Peace and harmony have not reigned there since the days of the organ question, the court proceedings over which will still be fresh in the minds of our readers. The church began to run down after that. A great many left while a number of those who remained gave but a luke-warm support to the church. Finances became low, bickering about the "kist'o whistles" continually cropped up, the session did not al-bickering about the "kist'o whistles" continually cropped up, the session did not always agree, and in fact the general condition of the church was anything but encouraging. At last things arrived at such a pitch that something had to be done to check, if possible, the process of demoralization that had set in. And just at this stage the period of the annual congregational meeting arrived.

This meeting was held in the basement of the church last night. Ladies predominated in the comparatively small attendance. When one remembers the crowds that filled the basement in former years on such occasions the contrast is painfully striking, and much to be regretted. Pastor Kirkpatrick presided and opened the proceedings with devotional exercises. The finances of the congregation were discussed. It was reported that money

The street of the congregation were discussed. It was reported that money is badly wanted. The revenue has fallen off over $4700 in two years. This alarm ing decrease is accounted for in two ways. In the first place the communicants have lessened fully one-half in two years, numbering now only about 220. Secondly, a great many of those who stayed reduced their contributions to almost nothing. The church is suprosted whelly stayed reduced their contributions to almost nothing. The church is supported wholly by volunteer contributions. Where a member used to give $2 or $1 a week, as the case may be, he now only gives fifty cents or tweaty-five cents, and where the contribution was twenty-five cents, ten cents is now the rule. (Members make no secret of having reduced their subscriptions, but say they will not raise them till the trouble ceases.) The finances being therefore low, a proposition was made to cut down the salaries of the precentor and sexton by $200 each. The discussion turned on this proposition, but it was very irregular and unparliamentary. That everlasting organ would group and

There was a very fair attendance last night at the Royal, where Barry and Fay's comedy company succeeded in keeping the andience in boisterous spirits during the evening. The company is an excellent one, and perhaps the best in the variety business in the world. This evening, Jarrett and Palmer's company will present "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Boston criticism of Rossi is extravagant, and some readers might think it funny. One writer assures us that the audience gering on the sidewalk. On hearing a crash the scribe looked up and saw that the man had fallen through a pane of glass in Mr. Schmidt's store. The man ran up Elizabeth street and was lost to sight; a short time afterwards a policeman collared him and recognized him on account of some small pieces of glass that were on his shoulder. POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Malcolm McVean was charged with highway robbety. The facts of the case will be remembered from yesterday's paper. A boy named Woods was crossing the vacant lot in the rear of the Royal opera house, when he was knocked down and his pockets gone through by McVean and others. The fact that Woods had nothing in his pockets stands in the way of McVean being charged with highway robbery. The magistrate discharged the prisoner with a causiliant.

I was a superficient saint obsecute. The HAMILTON SPECTATOR misses the point when it says the books were seized for their infidelity; therefore its reference on this point is not appropriate. It, however, says that if the books were seized also Rabelais, and Tom Jones and Addison's Spectator. There are two kinds of obscenity: the alleged indecency of a Venus de Medici and obscenity of the flash photographs of Paris; one should be stamped out, the other permitted. But the Spectator does not say in which of these classes Paine is to 'be placed.

THE IMMORALITY OF PAINE.

To the Editor of The Toronto World.

SIR,—The Mail, in attempting to justify James Armstrong, alias McAllister, was caught in the act of breaking open a box in a freight car. He was remanded until toof Reason :"-" It is coarse, imp blasphemous." I have carefully read the book and I pronounce, unhesitatingly, that the charge is untrue, and furthermore, it is so glaringly untrue, that no one in his senses would formulate it after reading the book, except for some special purpose in some other interest than the sacred one of from a religious, or anti-religious stand-point if you would, and not to supply ob-scenity. This was the grand distinction between them and the ordinary indecent books; the latter were obscene per se, the former were primarily discussions of reli-gious discussions, and it was on account of the religious discussions. glous discussions, and it was on account of the religious discussions contained therein that men read Paine and Voltaire, and not on account of their obscenity. The free-thinker produced a Bible, wherein he had a number of passages marked, and which he claimed were as much entitled to be suppressed for indecency or immorality as Paine and Voltaire.

—The latest style of overcoating for the fall season is the "fancy napped tweed." A large variety of the above can be seen a J. M. Maloney & Son's, merchant tailors, 89 Bay street. They have also on hand a complete new stock of colored worsteds, west of England trouserings, &c.

THE TELEPHONE SERVICE reat Improvements in Toronto-Commu tion with Hamilton-A Reliable Service

onsiderable dissatisfaction has been ex ced at the service promised to subaribers in this city by the Bell telephone company. The World yesterday investi-gated the matter, and found that while there has been ground for complaint, this The action of Collector Patton of this city in seizing a package of books consisting of Paine's "Age of Reason" and Voltaire's "Pocket Theology," has excited considerable comment. Mr. Patton was interviewed by The World, and from his remarks below it will be seen that he rests on the order which prohibits the importation of immoral and indecent literature. He contends

CONNECTION WITH HAMILTON. In Hamilton the company has over 250 subscribers. In Dundas about 50. Two them. He has no instructions to seize in-fidel or atheistical works, and did not seize Hamilton and Toronto, and now the six the books in question on account of their hundred subscribers in these three placehing in this direction. The Globe has are able to converse with one another asylum at Hamilton, and The World gave an item to the Hamilton Times. THE TORONTO OFFICE.

The delay in the service here has been

The delay in the service here has been caused by the removal of the wires to the new quarters of the company. The wires are now all moved, a single wire is to be given each subscriber, and when delays occur hereafter it will be found that it is the subscribers who are to blame and not the company. There are thirty employees THE INTERVIEW.

A World reporter yesterday afternoon waited upon the collector of customs for information about the seizure. Mr. Patton was very courteous and quite ready and willing to talk.

Willing to talk. rangements necessary to accommodate 700 wires have already been provided. The cab orders average from 1100 to 1200 a month.
