CATTLE EMBARGO PERMANENT

MR. GARDNER DECIDES THAT THE PROHIBITION MUST STAND.

The Official Report Published: The Cattle Board has published the official document concerning the prohibition of Canadian cattle. Mr. Gardner, President of the Board, has decided that the prohibition must stand.

The documents comprise the evidence of seven experts and a minute containing the Board's deductions.

No one testified positively that the cases were not cases of contagious pleuropneumonia. Many confirmed the decision of the officers of the Board. The Board considers that the evidence negatives the suggestion that the disease is catarrhal or contagious pleuropneumonia.

Messrs. Hunting and MacQueen favored the theory that it is a disease which is not contagious.

The Board expresses the opinion that the next step lies with the Canadian veterinarians, and in the meantime it is beyond question that a disease occurs in Canadian cattle which many of the best and qualified veterinarians in Great Britain declare to be contagious pleuropneumonia, and which even those holding the opinion that it is not contagious disease cannot deny.

The Board also expresses the opinion that the next step lies with the Canadian veterinarians, and in the meantime it is beyond question that a disease occurs in Canadian cattle which many of the best and qualified veterinarians in Great Britain declare to be contagious pleuropneumonia, and which even those holding the opinion that it is not contagious disease cannot deny.

HUNTING THE CHINESE FLEET.

Japanese Battleships' Fright Quest—Both Countries Floating War Loans—End of the Kow-Shung Affair.

London, Aug. 17.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News says that by special imperial decree the Japanese Government has authorized a loan of $50,000,000.

The Japanese Government has promised Admiral Fremantle, who commands the British squadron in East Asiatic waters, to give 48 hours' notice in case the Japanese fleet bombard Wei-Hai-Wei or Chee-Foo.

The eight vessels that passed Chee-Foo westward bound, on Aug. 14, were the Chinese fleet, which were fleeing from the Japanese cruisers. The fleet went to Luikung-tow, northwest of Chee-Foo, where it has been left undisturbed by the Japanese.

Ending of the Kow-Shung Investigation.

The finding of the court in the official investigation at Shanghai of the sinking of the Kow-Shung is that the steamer Kow-Shung was sunk on July 25 by a Japanese naval vessel, and that Captain Kow-Shung showed great coolness and judgment under the trying conditions.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Times confirms the supposition that the Japanese visit to Wei-Hai-Wei and Port Arthur, was merely a reconnaissance for the purpose of drawing fire and getting angles. The Japanese vessels have since been cruising in the Gulf of Pechili, seeking the Chinese fleet.

Battle Near Seoul Expected.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 17.—When the steamship Empress of Japan, which has just arrived here, left Yokohama, reports of war and rumors of blockade filled the air. All along the Chinese coast, Japanese troops are being removed. Railway and telegraph lines were being hastily constructed in both China and Japan.

SECRETARY GARLISLE MAY RETIRE

Tariff Bill Wilson Named As His Successor—The Senate is Ready to Give Hearings.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The rumor is freely passed around at the Capitol that Secretary Garlisle would retire from his position in Toronto, developed the fact that his prosecutors were more desirous of having the young man sent back to Canada because of his failure to carry out a promise made to the Senate.

A motion, or resolution, for the appointment of Senator Wiley (Dem. Cal.) to fill the vacancy of the Finance Committee occasioned by the death of the late Senator Vance of North Carolina, occupied the attention of the Senate during most of the brief period (an hour and 45 minutes) that it was in session.

The House bill for the repeal of the clause in the new Tariff law, allowing a rebate in the tax on alcohol used in the arts, went over as did also a resolution to amend the old Tariff law, declaring that there should be no further tariff legislation at this session.

The Republicans in their conference this afternoon decided to endorse Mr. Murphy's resolution declaring it impracticable to have any more tariff legislation at this session of Congress.

AN HOTEL MAN'S STORY.

THE PROPRIETOR OF THE GRAND UNION, TORONTO, RELATES AN INTERESTING EXPERIENCE.

Suffered Intensely From Rheumatism—Six Doctors and Mineral Springs Failed to Help Him—How He Found a Cure—His Wife Also Restored to Health—Advice to Others.

One of the most popular officers at the recent meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada was Rev. L. A. Betts of Brockville, Grand Chapter No. 2893-94. While on his way to Grand Lodge Rev. Mr. Betts spent some time in Toronto, and among other points of interest visited "The World" office. It seems natural to talk Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to an advocate of the home of that world-famous medicine, and incidentally the conversation with Mr. Betts turned in that direction, when he told "The World" that he had that day met an old friend whose experience with the medicine was an able one. The friend alluded to is Mr. John Soby, for many years proprietor of one of the leading hotels in Toronto, but now a resident of Toronto, and proprietor of one of the Queen City's newest and finest hotels, the Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Union depot. "The World" was impressed with the story Mr. Soby told, and decided to interview Mr. Soby and secure the particulars of his case for publication. Mr. Soby freely gave his history, and the following is done him by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few years ago rheumatism was pains fastened upon him, and he was forced to retire from business. "The report," said Mr. Soby, "I suffered and could find no relief from doctors or medicines. The disease was always worse in the spring and fall, and last year I was almost crippled with pain. From my knee to my shoulder shot pains which did not let me rest. Then all my limbs would be affected at once. Half-a-dozen doctors, one after the other, tried to cure me, but did no good. The rheumatism seemed to be getting worse. As I had tried almost every medicine the doctors could suggest, I thought I would try a little prescription on my own account and purchased a supply of Pink Pills. The good effects were soon perceptible, and I purchased a second supply, and before these were gone I was able to do a man's day's work. I was not put out an end to it. I have recovered my appetite, and the rheumatism in my life, and I give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills credit for this transformation. My wife, too, in just as much of a case as I am. A sufferer for years she has experienced to the full the good of Dr. Williams' invaluable medicine, and recommends it to all women.

"From what trouble was your wife suffering?" asked the reporter. "Well, I can't just tell you that," said Mr. Soby. "I do not know, and I don't think she did. She was sick with all the women. They are sick, weak and dispirited, have no appetite and seem to be fading away. There is no active disease at work, but something is wrong. That was just the way with my wife. She was a martyr to dyspepsia, never in perfect health, and when she was in the hospital she was made in me she tried them. The marvelous improvement was just as marked in her case as in my own. The way that her whole system is built up, and that the dyspepsia and sick headaches have vanished. She, as well as myself, seems to have regained youth, and I have not the slightest hesitation in pronouncing the remedy one of the most valuable discoveries of the century. Let the doubters call and see me and they will be convinced.

These pills are a positive cure for all troubles arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or a shattered nervous system. Sold by all dealers or Dr. Williams' Medical Preparation Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y., at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. There are numerous imitations and substitutions against which the public is cautioned.

A Splendid Structure.

A good sign of the progressive spirit which actuates the citizens of Toronto in providing the very best accommodation in order to attract business to the city, and a good indication of the improvement in business which has set in, may be seen in the two magnificent new stores, No. 38 and 38 1/2 Front street west, recently erected by Mr. Geo. Peare. The building, which has a frontage of 67 feet and a depth of 180, is of the very best construction, and presents on the exterior a most striking and handsome appearance. The front of the lower story is of iron work, with a heavy cornice of copper. The interior is three upper flats is of Don Valley pressed brick and Credit Valley stone, with smaller cornices of copper. The interior is arranged most conveniently, with two tiers of stairways and an electric elevator. The entire building is supplied with the most approved form of steam heating appliances, and on each flat is a fireplace of steel vault. The shipping yard in the rear and the lane are floored with granite pavement, and the drainage is so arranged that the heaviest rainfall will prove no inconvenience. The building has been erected and designed with so much care, skill and eye for architectural effect, that it is not likely to remain long vacant, offering, as they do, such evident advantages to the merchant.

Large Checks.

Concerning large checks London Tit-Bits says: "The Great Indian Penitentiary Railway Company, it is reported, recently drew a check on the London and County Bank for £1,250,000. This might well be thought the largest ever drawn, but such is said not to be the case, as at the Clearing House checks for equal if not larger sums are occasionally seen. In 1879 a check for over £3,000,000 was paid through the Clearing House. It was drawn on Messrs. Glyn & Co., and was paid to the Bank of England."

Storage Rates Go Down Again.

The Netherlands-American S. S. Co. are the next to make a cut in storage rates. This magnificent line of steamers are now carrying storage passengers from New York to Southampton at the very low rate of $10, everything being supplied for the ocean passage. Equally low rates to any point in Ireland, England or Scotland. Intending passengers should secure accommodations early, as these rates may last but a short time. Tickets and all information may be had at W. A. Geddes' office, 69 Yonge-street.

Gravenhurst Wants a Bank.

Mr. D. E. Willie, Toronto, cashier of the Imperial Bank, was up to see the Windermere regatta on Monday. In the evening he was interviewed by a number of our business men on the subject of organizing a bank here. It is too early to state what the result will be, but it is to be hoped that Gravenhurst will soon have the boon of a chartered bank.

POINTS FROM THE BICYCLE.

A Revolution in Steam and Electricity May be Brought About—Consequences Which Are Neglected.

For many years man has attempted the construction of a successful road machine to be propelled by the rider, says The Scientific American. The first signs of real success came in the application of crank propulsion to the old velocipede. The next development was the introduction of elastic tires of India rubber. Then came the last and greatest improvement, the pneumatic tire. Men took the proportions and details of the machine were constantly changing, until the wheel of to-day was evolved, with its ball bearings, wherever possible, and with air-inflated tires. Where he has to propel himself, man naturally has done everything to facilitate the work. The principal bearings of a bicycle, all except those of the chain gearing, work on hard steel balls, running with a minimum of friction and readily adjustable for end shake. The old solid rubber tire enabled the average rider to make high speed; the modern pneumatic tire adds three or four miles an hour more to his rate. But while man has effected these improvements he has not neglected his own individuality. He has not done it, he has neglected to extend his ingenuity to the horse, steam and electricity-propelled vehicles. As a result, the bicycle has progressed all the time of the constructor and inventor of improvements in vehicles. A few solid rubber-tired carriages, still fewer pneumatic-tired vehicles, are seen upon our roads and streets. The pneumatically used on the race track is a safe issue. Roller or ball bearings are a rarity among carriages and on railroads. It is unquestionably that, if it could be done, a veritable revolution in steam and electric transportation might be brought about by the further application of these principles to the steam railroad car on pneumatic tires. But light, short cars could certainly be carried on elastic tires of some kind, which would do away with the greater part of the noise and injurious jarring of iron wheels against steel rails. The friction of the car wheels is greatly diminished by roller or ball bearings. By every improvement in the direction of preventing jarring, lightness of construction would be favored. The whole system of transporting passengers in vehicles operated by steam or electricity is subject to radical modifications. The rail car, as now used, is open to criticism in many respects. Possible the whole system of operating railroads may yet be changed, and it is hard to believe that the lesson taught by the bicycle cannot be of use to the railroad engineer. Elastic tires, light construction, roller or ball bearings, should have some place in his economy.

To Stack Clover as Silage.

Select a dry place for the stack, cover the bottom for 2 feet in depth with straw and stack green grass upon the straw. When done, cover or veneer the entire stack from the earth up with straw, marsh hay, or old hay. The whole system is built up, and that the heat generated within the stack will decompose the straw or veneer, and the more juicy the better. Put up in silo or in air-tight barns it will retain its juices. Put into stack before the juices are dried out, and all within the stack will be generated within the stack. In all the years I have made hay, in all the barns filled and seen filled I never had a case of spontaneous combustion or loss of heat. It has not been so in the case of one that have had and look to have the mows get too hot for trunks to sleep in them. It is no objection to clover hay nor to other kind to mow-burn because of its own juices—dry off all water, retain all juices.—Farm and Home.

A Bank of England Director.

We have the amplest evidence that no great institution was ever happier in the character of those who presided over its birth and directed its earliest years. The original directors of the Bank of England were among the leading merchants and the most influential citizens of London. No fewer than 7 of the 24 were chosen between the years 1696 and 1719, to fill the office of Lord Mayor; two others were members of Parliament. There could not have been found anywhere a body of men better qualified to conduct the new institution. It was the moneyed men of the community; they were thoroughly skilled, by daily practice, in matters of commerce and finance; and they knew, as well as any could know, with which of the merchants and traders of London it was safe and desirable to do business.

That Tired Feeling.

So common at this season, is a serious condition, liable to lead to disastrous results. It is a sure sign of the general health tone, and that the blood is impoverished and impure. The best and most successful remedy is found in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Which makes rich, healthy blood, and thus gives strength to the nerves, clarifies the vision, vigor to the brain and health to the whole body. In truth, Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the Weak Strong.

A Well-Known Hamilton Merchant.

Says that Lactated Food Saved His Baby Boy.

'Tis the Only Food that 'Saves Babies' Lives.'

Mr. F. Chester Fearman, the well-known merchant of Hamilton, Ont., gives strong and positive testimony regarding the superiority of Lactated Food over all other brands now sold.

Dear Sirs,—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. O'Brien, Hamilton.

SIMPLE REASONS.

The Why and Wherefore of Many Familiar Things.

A soap bubble is round because every part of its surface is equally pressed by the atmosphere. Sheep thrive best in a pasture infested with moles, because of the better drainage of the land. Boiled water tastes flat and insipid because the gases it contained have been driven off by heat.

Red hair is of that color because it is supposed to have a larger proportion of sulphur than black hair. A heavy dew is the precursor of rain because it shows that the atmosphere is saturated with moisture. Iron bedsteads are safe during a thunderstorm because, being good conductors, they keep the electricity from the body.

White clothing is cool because it reflects the heat of the sun; black clothing is warm because it absorbs both heat and light. A burning gas jet is unhealthy in a bedroom because one gaitlight gives out as much carbonic acid gas as two sleepers. The flesh under the nails looks red because the nails are almost transparent, and thus the color of the tissue beneath is visible. Swallows fly low before a rain because the insects they pursue are then near the ground to escape the moisture of the upper air.

Sea shells murmur because the vibrations of the air, not otherwise observable, are brought to a focus. A spoon in a glass filled with hot water prevents the breaking of the glass because the metal readily absorbs a large part of the heat of the water. Flies can walk on the ceiling because their feet are natural air-pumps and form a vacuum, so that the body is supported by atmospheric pressure. A plumb-line by the side of a very large building inclines a little from the perpendicular because the weight is attracted by the mass of the edifice. A red sunset foretells dry weather because it indicates that the air toward the west, from which direction rains will generally be expected, contains little moisture.

Lightning travels in a zigzag course because it passes through different strata of the air, and being resisted in its passage turns from side to side to find the easiest path. A man feels drowsy after a hearty dinner because a large part of the blood in the system goes to the stomach to aid in digestion and leaves the brain poorly supplied. The twinkling of the stars forebodes bad weather, because it shows that there are great currents of different temperatures, thus probably indicating atmospheric disturbances. Woolen goods are warm because wool is a poor conductor of heat, and the goods made of wool contain within their substance large quantities of air, also a poor conductor.

Hogs carry straw in their mouths on the approach of bad weather, because of a hereditary instinct. Wild birds make a comfortable bed when rain is coming on. A boy's marble placed in a kettle prevents the steam from escaping, and the marble attracts the particles of lime and so prevents their adhering to the sides of the kettle. People wink because the eye must be kept clear and moist, and by the action of the eyelids the fluid secreted by the glands of the eye is spread equally over the surface of the globe. The voice can be heard to a greater distance through a speaking tube than through the air because the sound is confined to the air within the tube and the tube itself is a good conductor. The perfume of flowers is more clearly perceived just before or just after a rain because the air is laden with moisture, thereby conveys the essential oils that constitute the perfume. The day after a heavy snowfall is usually very clear because the snow in falling brings down with it most of the dust and impurities of the air and leaves the atmosphere exceedingly pure. A closed room is bad for sleeping, because air once loosed parts with sixths of its oxygen and contains an equivalent amount of carbonic acid gas, which is breathed six times will not support life. The snow huts of the Esquimaux are the warmest dwellings that can be constructed in polar regions, because snow is the poorest conductor of heat that can be found there, and keeps the warmth of the fire within.

"I Owe My New Life to Paine's Celery Compound."

Testimony of a Toronto Gentleman Written in Verse and Set to Music.

STANLEY—11.11.11.11

I once was a sufferer, was burdened with woes, Dizziness and Headaches my terrible foes; From day unto day I was tormented with pain, My efforts and prayers for relief were all in vain. My friends recommended new nostrums each day, I foolishly tested what each had to say; But instead of improving, I really got worse, Each draught and each pill proved a snare and a curse. Wrapp'd up in despair and quite tired of life, I hearkened unto the voice of my wife; She said: "My dear Ned, I have found the true cure, For all your afflictions, 'twill conquer I'm sure."

RUPTURE. We know of no class more humiliated than those who are ruptured. They too readily accept the flimsy advertisements of truss vendors, who claim to have the only reliable truss in the world. The only way to have comfort and security is to have a truss made by a practical firm, and have it properly drawn, $20 have applied trusses to patients of a few days old 95 years of age. We warrant every truss to prove satisfactory or the money refunded.

A SUBURBAN EPISODE.

For ten years Hugh Markleham had been a wanderer upon the face of the earth. Financially speaking he had been successful, but for all that period of time he had been literally homeless. Now he was proceeding to a home of his own.

"The first road to the left beyond the bridge," mused Mr. Markleham to himself, "and the first house. The directions are plain enough, I am sure."

And he repeated his memorandum book, wherein Moses Gibbs, the house agent, had jotted down sundry items regarding his new purchase.

He paused half hesitatingly in front of a low wicket gate, marking by one hinge, from which a shrub-grown path wound up through untrampled woods to a one-story dwelling.

"Nonsense!" he muttered to himself; "it can't be that shabby a place. A desirable cottage" was what Gibbs said, situated in the midst of a charming grounds. And, by Jupiter, this is the very spot.

He swung open the gilded iron gate of a wicket little inclosure, where the gravelled paths alone were visible. He stepped across the path, and the gravelled paths alone were visible.

"Yes, yes," he murmured to himself, as he strode up the path, "I shall be as comfortable as possible here. But what is this? A fire burning as I live! Well, this is thoughtful of Gibbs."

His countenance expanded into broad smiles as he pushed open the door and entered a pretty room on the left of the main entrance hall, carpeted in Brunel, and curtained to correspond, with a glowing fire of coal cast ruddy reflections through the whole room, and cushioned armchair stood close to the velvet rug.

qualitance, even after this unusual fashion. "I beg your pardon, Miss Wynman, but our hero is turning scarlet. 'I don't see how I came to make such a ridiculous mistake? What an egregious donkey you must have taken me for!'"

And a cold perspiration broke out round the roots of his hair as he recalled the off-hand manner in which he had addressed his supposed domestic.

"You will do no such thing, Mr. Markleham," she said, "my brother will be here presently, and you shall stay and spend the evening with us, and learn to laugh at your own mistake."

So Mr. Markleham stayed until Tom Wynman came home from the city in the evening train; and as he afterwards said, "he never spent a pleasanter evening in his life."

BLOW-GUN AND JAGUARS. So many treasures valuable to the naturalist in tropical countries are scattered to the four winds by the first breeze that blows from the sea, that it is not only possible to find a gun, but a jaguar, in a most uncomforable groove.

It was not the danger of sleeping too soon but of sleeping too long that troubled me. It must have been well on towards morning when I was awakened by the sound of a gun.

With this gun, firmly wrapped with pla-fiber thread and more or less decorated, in the artistic taste of its maker, is furnished a bundle of delicate, needle-pointed arrows made from the hard marle of the cocoon shell and raw cotton as to fit tightly in the bore of the gun.

"Why, Lizzy," cried the shorter one, stopping suddenly at the door on the table, "there is some one in the parlor!"

"Nonsense!" said Lizzy, who, although she was eight or nine and twenty, was exceedingly rosy and fair to look upon, and a little black nose slightly turned up. "The cat and the crickets may be there, but on my earth besides!"

PROGRESS ON THE FARM. PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS IN MANY IMPORTANT MATTERS.

Value and Use of Wood Ashes-Dropting and Rainfall-The Cucumber Crop-Scotch Staff for Squash Bugs-Speards for Celery-Corn Clover.

Potash is an essential substance in the soil, and enters into the composition of all plants. Its place cannot be filled by soda, for though potash and soda are somewhat similar in many respects, yet they differ widely so far as their uses as plant food have been considered and demonstrated.

Every farmer knows the uses of wood ashes, and their benefit to crops cannot be denied. The value of wood ashes, however, depends upon the amount of actual potash contained. Analyses have shown that in addition that two samples of wood ashes are alike in composition, and it is difficult to arrive at an average.

ROUND ABOUT THE FARM. Uses of Skim Milk-Irrigation by Windmills-The Skim Milk from one cow is estimated to be worth $20 a year. So far as its actual proportion of nutritious matter is concerned, it is more valuable than cream, because it contains the protein and mineral matter.

More clear an acre can be raised for the silo. It tends to increase the fertility of the farm by the increase in the amount of stock kept. It educates the dairyman himself in the value of fodder and the worth of feed and in the study of ways to make the most of it.

Droughts have prevailed both this year and last. Up to the period of the excessive rains of last May the rainfall during the winter, which is usually the most abundant in this section, was not up to the average. Since the over-crop of rain has been so abundant, it would not have been long before the drought would have been broken by the third of the blood of the winter.

It is claimed that there are 18,000 miles of irrigating canals and their laterals in the world, the estimated cost being $37,000,000. This is about one-twelfth twice of India.

The butter-maker who puts her product on the market as good as it is, does herself an injustice. Make the butter first-class, and put it on the market in such a manner as to make it show for all it is worth.

if it grow dark before I disengage any signs of my way. I did not mind camping out alone if I could find a dry, clear space in the moisture-soaked forest, for I had some scraps of dried monkey meat and some boiled tortilla eggs left over from my lunch, and in my excitement I always had some cocones leaves to chew in case exhausted nature demanded a dose of that most powerful invigorator.

In ordinary circumstances such a bed would have been far from satisfactory, but the fire of half-dry wood that succeeded in drying the ground so that it was beyond the smouldering stage when my scanty supper was finished, and the effects of the loss of blood manifesting themselves in a most uncomforable groove.

It was not the danger of sleeping too soon but of sleeping too long that troubled me. It must have been well on towards morning when I was awakened by the sound of a gun.

With this gun, firmly wrapped with pla-fiber thread and more or less decorated, in the artistic taste of its maker, is furnished a bundle of delicate, needle-pointed arrows made from the hard marle of the cocoon shell and raw cotton as to fit tightly in the bore of the gun.

"Why, Lizzy," cried the shorter one, stopping suddenly at the door on the table, "there is some one in the parlor!"

"Nonsense!" said Lizzy, who, although she was eight or nine and twenty, was exceedingly rosy and fair to look upon, and a little black nose slightly turned up. "The cat and the crickets may be there, but on my earth besides!"

"No, sir," Miss Wynman answered demurely, "you're in my house, and an Elizabeth Wyman, your future neighbor, very happy to make your acquaintance, even after this unusual fashion."

"I beg your pardon, Miss Wynman, but our hero is turning scarlet. 'I don't see how I came to make such a ridiculous mistake? What an egregious donkey you must have taken me for!'"

And a cold perspiration broke out round the roots of his hair as he recalled the off-hand manner in which he had addressed his supposed domestic.

What Troubled Him. The habit frequently has of traveling inoag, prostrates causes suffering which it is least expected to be of the Emperor Joseph II. that once while traveling in this fashion he put up at an inn kept by an Englishman.

The Emperor and Home Production. Napoleon forbade the use of cotton or of foreign wool for the furniture of the imperial palaces; he desired that the people who were to be the drawing rooms at court should dress in silk, so as to encourage the Lyons manufactures.
