WHITE PRESHADOWS ACQUISITION OF OLD GRAND TRUNK

GERMANY STANDING ON VOLCANO'S VERGE

Fate of Present Government Rests on Two Counteractive Factors—Dependable Troops Not Sufficient to Quell the Simultaneous Risings—Sitting on Lid in Berlin.

Paris, April 3.—Competent German and foreign observers are chary of making any definite predictions of what will come out of the writer of political and economic disorders and developments in revolutionary Germany. To borrow an epigram of Count von Bernstorff, "Nothing in Germany now is certain except the uncertainty of the morrow."

As to the peace treaty, the members of the government and their publicists are announcing firmly, perhaps sincerely, that no preliminary treaty not in accord with their interpretation of President Wilson's armistice terms will be signed, particularly if it involves the alienation of what is called purely German territory. This announcement probably is correct so far as the cession of the Saar district, the political alienation of the west bank of the Rhine outside of Alsace-Lorraine and, perhaps, the incorporation of Danzig in Poland, are concerned, but the pressure of public opinion, which would not easily understand or accept any failure to obtain peace, and the desperate food situation probably will force the government to modify this recalcitrant attitude in case of need and sign any terms of peace presented by the allies except those mentioned above.

Pressure, already exerted, in effect at the renewal of the armistice in March when the government had actually determined to refuse to sign the conditions of the renewal. The government, however, was forced to reverse its decision upon hearing from the representatives in the national assembly who were in closer touch with the people.

The fate of the present government rests largely upon two counteracting factors. On the one hand the government is itself by no means strong or effective in establishing itself more and more by the mere force of continued existence. It is also developing a certain inertia of possession as the people come to regard it more as a regular establishment than as an experiment or a government of expediency. Its recognized authority is growing the longer it is able to keep in the saddle.

On the other hand, each of the successive local strike uprisings strains the ability of the government to restore order. The dependable troops which Noske has called upon to quell Spartacist attempts at Berlin, perhaps, fifty to sixty thousand men in all. This number is far too few to garrison all the centres of disorder simultaneously and a government of defense has been compelled to move them from one scene of disorder to another, keeping the troops almost constantly on the move.

Revolution May Triumph.

The appearance of force given by the disciplined troops of Minister Noske has caused time meant the collapse of the uprising, but the time may come when either simultaneous outbreaks in too many places, or the exhaustion and discouragement of the Noske volunteers may spell the triumph of the second revolution. About 30,000 of these troops are reported to have been concentrated in the Berlin district to put down the insurrection in March, the men being withdrawn at considerable risk from other danger points. The troops are still sitting on the lid in Berlin, but many of them must be withdrawn if or when the insurrectionary movement breaks out elsewhere.

The government is not able to finance even the bare necessities of its volunteer contributions from industrial and financial concerns. The owners of Berlin factories, for instance, passed the last week ago and in an afternoon raised a fund of 5,000,000 marks for the troops. Big Berlin banks produced an equal contribution. This was only one of similar instalments raised at various times and places.

Republican Guards a Menace.

The republican guards, other popular military organizations, although nominally supporting the government, are rather a menace than an asset as they are poorly disciplined and largely infected with Spartacist ideas. Considerable numbers of them may be counted upon to go over with their arms to the insurrectionary movement which may develop. These organizations are very jealous of the Noske units, and this antagonism led the republican guards to join the Berlin uprising last month. During the uprising Minister Noske announced his intention to disband the entire force, but ultimately went only half way in carrying out his decision.

PROVIDE FOR CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAY CO.

Ottawa, Ont., April 3.—Formal notice has been given by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways, of a resolution and bill providing for the incorporation of the Canadian National Railway Company. The company, as its name signifies, will have control of the Canadian Government railways. Provision is made for the appointment by the government of not less than five or more than 15 directors of the company, and which will control the government system.

SELF-DETERMINATION DELAYING FRONTIER PROBLEM PROGRESS

One of the Fourteen Points Cause of Holding Up Settlement.

WILSON STANDS IN WAY

French Demands on Rhine Thought to Aim at More Than Military Security.

Paris, April 3.—President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando, continued their discussion at President Wilson's residence today. Other peace conference organizations also met. All the conferences tended to unravel the tangled issues still standing in the way of another wave of apprehension spreading thru the conference over lack of any tangible results after the council of four had labored continuously for ten days.

This was accomplished by well-founded reports from those close in touch with the council of four, showing that the situation, while not desperate, was at least serious, because of radical differences on some fundamental issues in the settlement of Germany's western, the Franco-German and the Polish eastern frontiers. One of the experts who is constantly being consulted in various quarters before the council, gives the following glimpse of what is going on behind the scenes:

"The situation is extremely difficult, particularly as regards the western frontier of Germany. President Wilson, in a conciliatory spirit has (Concluded on Page 7, Column 5).

OLEOMARGARINE IS BOOSTED WHILE BUTTER PRICES SOAR

behaves an intelligent democracy to grasp the problem at once. The fact that the largest agricultural country in the world, unimpaired by civil or foreign war, pays the ever-increasing price of butter should inspire the common people to take this question out of the hands of both the students of industrial economy and the packers and demand an investigation and an explanation from the government.

"How long a docile people like the Canadians will stand for a government that evidently fears to investigate the withdrawal of the industrial magnates is a matter of doubt; but when the servility of our people reaches the point where the manipulators can use them at their will, it will be safe to assume that we can never be a great nation. When it is proved that the profits are reasonable, we can settle down to bear conditions, but the sinister feature of the present itself that the manipulators seek to rid themselves of large stocks of oleomargarine. Hence a strong agitation from householders, men and women, should be inaugurated with the view of forcing the government to investigate a serious situation."

Rather Eat Dry Bread.

"I would rather eat dry bread than use oleo," said D. McCarthy, secretary Danforth Park Ratepayers' Association, who added that there is positive evidence of a combine to put the butter out of sight in order that the people will be compelled to use the substitute, and the government should be immediately requested to form a commission to investigate the situation.

At tonight's meeting of the Riverdale Horticultural Association a deputation of women will be appointed to interview the government at Queen's Park regarding the matter.

Kington, April 3.—Some of the Kington grocers have stopped handling butter they would have to sell at 70 cents per pound. They hate to take the money. Some dealers are selling New Zealand butter at 63 cents, competing with local butter.

CONDONE MURDER OF CAPTAIN FRYATT

Investigating Commission Holds That International Law Was Not Violated.

Berlin, April 3.—At the continuation today of the investigation into the execution of the British mercantile marine captain, Charles Fryatt, by the Germans in 1916, Professor Shuecking, a member of the investigating commission, explaining the grounds on which the verdict of death was based, declared there was no obligation under international law to grant the request of the American embassy to appoint a defender for Captain Fryatt. The foreign office, Professor Shuecking said, made endeavors in this direction, but various circumstances rendered such action impossible.

Professor Shuecking argued that there was in existence a principle of war usage, making a private person assailing a part of a belligerent force liable to the death penalty for war treason.

The commission decided that the shooting did not violate international law. The commission, however, expressed regret at the rapidity with which the sentence of death was carried out.

RETURNING SOLDIERS

Instructions have been issued to all affiliated sections of the Ontario Branch, A.A.U. of C., to notify athletes of the importance in first ascertaining the nature of all competitions before entering. While considerable attitude was allowed during the past few years, those conditions do not now exist to the same extent, and stricter supervision will now ensue. A membership campaign is in progress and any new sections desiring affiliation should apply to the secretary, W. J. Smith, 22 College street.

HUGE CONVENTION IS LIBERAL PLAN

Arranging for Over Eleven Hundred Delegates at National Gathering.

Ottawa, April 3.—A calculation based upon the announcement made today by the parliamentary Liberal party covering the plan of representation for the national Liberal convention to be held in Ottawa during the first week in August gives approximately 1130 accredited delegates to the gathering. The representation of three from each of the Dominion constituencies will provide an attendance of slightly over 700. Then there will be 425 members of the commons and defeated candidates at the last general election, 37 Liberal senators, nine provincial premiers or leaders of the opposition in provincial legislatures and nine presidents of provincial Liberal associations. To these must be added delegates to the number of one-fourth of the total membership of the nine provincial legislatures, which works out at about 130.

Today's announcement was received with considerable interest as there was some speculation as to the attitude the opposition would assume towards the Liberal-Liberal in regard to the convention. The point is carefully avoided in the announcement which simply states that delegates may include: "All the members of the senate and of the house of commons who desire to co-operate with the Liberal party." This is naturally taken to mean that should any Unionist-Liberal or senators turn up at the gathering they will be welcomed.

DRASTIC RESOLUTION BY BRITISH LABOR

London, April 3.—A resolution demanding the withdrawal of all British troops from Russia, the raising of the blockade, the withdrawal of the military bill from parliament and the liberation of conscientious objectors was adopted by acclamation today by the senate and the house of commons. The resolution, which was moved by Mr. Smillie, the leader of the miners, in moving his resolution, declared the miners would strike for the removal of conscription and the raising of the blockade.

Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, announced in the house of commons today that the government had decided to liberate conscientious objectors who had served two years in prison.

SHACKLETON AWAKES BRITISH TO IMMINENT PERIL IN RUSSIA

London, April 3.—The curtain was raised for the British public on the position of the allied armies in North Russia for the first time this afternoon. The serious situation in the Murmansk region and the attempt by the Bolsheviks to drive the allied troops on the Archangel front into the sea are the cause of much anxiety.

The London afternoon papers circulated posters thru the streets with startling phrases, of which "The British Army Imperilled" was typical.

The public bought the papers eagerly, having no idea which army was in close touch with the allies extended but by no means strong, front.

DOMINION TO ACQUIRE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

Sir Thos. White, in Commons, States He Expects Government Acquisition of G. T. R. Will Soon Result From Negotiations Now in Progress With President Kelly.

Ottawa, April 3.—"My view is that the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada will soon come into the possession of the Dominion government."

This was the keynote of a brief, but impressive message delivered to the house and the country this afternoon by Sir Thomas White. Sir Thomas told the house, in effect, that the negotiations for the purchase of the old Grand Trunk had been expedited, and were now being carried on at Ottawa between the acting premier and President Kelly of the Grand Trunk. He more than intimated that in the not distant future, the nationalization of the Grand Trunk and of the Grand Trunk Pacific would be accomplished.

The announcement of the acting premier was made when the house was in committee upon the government's bill to validate the receivership of the Grand Trunk Pacific. Sir Thomas explained that the government had to act quickly, because the Grand Trunk Pacific Company had given notice that it intended to cease operating its system between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert. Indeed, it was clearly impossible for the company to carry on unless it received financial aid from the government. The fixed charges of the Grand Trunk Pacific for the current year will be $8,000,000, and $4,000,000 more will be required for operating expenses and the balance of the year merely dealt with the Grand Trunk Pacific, but in the course of the discussion Sir Thomas dealt with the old Grand Trunk and with the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Richardson, Unionist member for Springfield, said that public ownership had been forced upon Canada. The government, in his opinion, had no option but to nationalize the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific. He alluded to the "press conspiracy" in England and in Canada to hoodlum the nationalization of the Grand Trunk.

Had I threatened Canada, in reply Sir Thomas White said, in reply to certain English papers, had I threatened Canada with loss of credit in the London market in case the government took over the Grand Trunk. This did not mean, he said, a little bit. The imperial government had claims against the Canadian government, but the Canadian government had larger claims against the imperial government, and the chartered banks of Canada had been asked to renew a loan made to the imperial authorities of one hundred million dollars.

Opposition members were somewhat flabbergasted by the bold announcement of the acting premier. There was some criticism of the bill before the house by Mr. Cahill (Pontiac) and Mr. Vign (L'Orignal), but it aroused no further discussion.

Mr. Nicholson, Unionist member for West Algona, and a student of the railway problem, warned the government of the heavy task it had undertaken in operating, and improving the gigantic national railway system, which will soon be greatly expanded by the absorption of the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Questioned by Mr. Lencot in this house this afternoon, Hon. Martin Burrell said that Sir Charles Fitzpatrick was entitled to a pension as a retired judge of $6,666. Sir Charles, however, had renounced the pension during the term of his office as lieutenant-governor of Quebec.

Mr. Tobin asked how many class I registrants under the M. S. A. had been ordered to report in the different provinces.

M. S. A. Draftees.

Hon. Arthur Meighen replied that they were as follows: Alberta 8,810; British Columbia 7,000; Ontario 470, New Brunswick 6,661, Nova Scotia 7,877, Ontario 44,786, Prince Edward Island 1,121, Quebec 48,104, Saskatchewan 1,078.

In reply to Mr. Harold, Major Mowbray said that bodies of officers and soldiers might be brought back from the United Kingdom, but not at public expense.

Sir Thomas White, at the request of Mr. D. M. McKenzie, amended his motion to begin Wednesday evening sittings of the house on April 9, and the first Wednesday evening sitting will be on April 23, after the Easter recess. This was carried.

Postmen in Toronto.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux enquired if there was anything new in the threatened strike of postmen in Toronto. Hon. Mr. Howland made no information, but would make inquiries. He understood that it had some relation to the situation in western Canada. Representatives from the west would be in the city next week to confer with the government.

Mr. W. D. Euler, of North Waterloo, asked regarding the Canadian trade credit to Rumania and what policy the Canadian government would adopt with Bolshevism in force in that country.

Hon. A. K. Maclean replied that there would be no formal undertaking by Canada until political conditions in Rumania were such as would justify granting the credits.

Sir Sam Hughes said that when he was in Detroit the other day, he saw that a number of young Canadians had to pay a tax on going into the United States. He believed that the sale of some of our natural resources money was placed in deposit with the American authorities as a guarantee of the return of these people to Canada, and he asked if Canada adopted a similar course.

Hon. J. A. Calder said that Canada had no law of that kind.

Hon. Arthur Meighen introduced a resolution providing for an amendment to the Dominion lands act to increase the rate of interest charged by the Dominion on deferred payment of money due to the crown for the sale or lease of natural resources such as land, mining or timber rights.

The resolution was carried.

Act for G.T.P. Control.

The second reading was given to the act confirming the order-in-council whereby the G.T.P. was placed under control of the minister of railways as receiver, and the house then went into committee on this bill. Major Thomas A. Vain said: "The government in taking over the G.T.P. did exactly what they wished to avoid. I contend that this action has absolutely relieved the Grand Trunk of its liabilities

YONGE ST. DILEMMA NOW AT DEADLOCK

City and Hydro Officials Still at Variance Over Metropolitan Situation.

A deadlock exists between the city and the provincial Hydro as regards the Yonge street-Metropolitan situation. Finance Commissioner Bradshaw and Works Commissioner Harris refuse to accept Sir Adam Beck's suggestion that they abandon the deal negotiated by them with the Metropolitan and put city tracks down the middle of Yonge street. They are willing to carry out the deal, perhaps with modifications, that they made with the company, sanctioned by the municipal and railway boards.

Unless some compromise be effected, it is almost certain that Sir Adam Beck will tell the city that it is bound to make no agreement outside the terms of their present agreement.

Mayor Chubb's suggestion to be in line with Sir Adam Beck and is expected to try to get the board of control this morning to substitute the Beck plan for the Harris-Bradshaw plan.

There was no sign of harmonizing the two sides last night.

May Buy Out Metropolitan.

The North Toronto ratepayers went to see Hon. George Henry, their member in the legislature, yesterday. He offered his good offices, but had no definite proposal of his own, other than that he thought the Hydro might buy out the whole Metropolitan. That may be a sensible cure.

Sir William Mackenzie is expected sometime the residents of North Toronto at the Metropolitan offices would undertake, yesterday, to speak for him. Mr. W. H. Moore was silent; so was the company's counsel.

A prominent man said yesterday that he still believed it was possible to clean up all the power and traction issues between Sir William and Sir Adam, but he did not see how the two men could be brought together. But he did know one man who was big enough, and thoroughly conversant with the situation who might be got to intervene. It was an issue that threatened to become a feud and had to be treated from that point of view.

Up to Mayor and Council.

The World went over the whole situation again late last night and saw little lead to a settlement. In the meantime the residents of North Toronto are greatly disappointed, determined, however, to press for immediate and substantial street car relief.

But the issue is fairly and finally up to the mayor and the board of control to decide what policy is to be followed when Sir Adam Beck submits the plans he has promised for the laying of the civic tracks immediately on Yonge street from Farnham avenue to the city limits.

GERMANS IN SPANISH RIOT

Paris, April 3.—The French foreign office is advised that 200 Germans have been arrested in Barcelona and Seville. They are charged with participating in the riots in those cities.

SHACKLETON AWAKES BRITISH TO IMMINENT PERIL IN RUSSIA

London, April 3.—The curtain was raised for the British public on the position of the allied armies in North Russia for the first time this afternoon. The serious situation in the Murmansk region and the attempt by the Bolsheviks to drive the allied troops on the Archangel front into the sea are the cause of much anxiety.

The London afternoon papers circulated posters thru the streets with startling phrases, of which "The British Army Imperilled" was typical.

in respect to the G.T.P." Mr. Vien argued also that the government in not forcing the Grand Trunk to lease the National Transcontinental had by implication admitted the contentions of the Grand Trunk in regard to the N.T.R. He believed that the Grand Trunk had a good case in law and could claim that, as the G.T.P. had been taken over, the Grand Trunk was now relieved of any responsibility in respect to it.

Press Conspiracy.
R. L. Richardson said there was almost a "press conspiracy" in this country to try to help the Grand Trunk. He resented the suggestion that the Grand Trunk should be treated with generosity.

Mr. Richardson stated that national ownership and operation had been tried out and successfully so in Europe. He remarked that if the fares were raised to equal those on other Canadian railways the Intercolonial would probably eventually become a paying proposition.

The government, said Mr. Richardson, must not continue pouring millions into the exhausted maw of the railroads. There was nothing else for it but public ownership. "The babies had been left on our doorstep and we had to nurse them."

Sir Thomas White said that under the receivership the government would not pay interest guaranteed by the Grand Trunk or by any of the provinces. The government would only pay enough money to operate the system and that on receiver's certificates, authorized by the cabinet.

The government of Canada, he said, had been paying everything. The Grand Trunk was paying nothing.

Acquisition of G.T.P.
In answer to a question by Frank S. Cahill, the acting prime minister said that he thought the probable outcome of the situation would be the acquisition by the government of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada. He suggested other alternatives to which the government might resort if necessary, in the line of foreclosure or suit. He could not state definitely what the outcome would be.

Mr. Cahill asked for a more definite statement from the minister, but Sir Thomas replied that it was not expedient to comply because of negotiations which are proceeding.

Hon. Charles Murphy declared that in view of the negotiations it was unreasonable to expect the house to proceed with the legislation, but Sir Thomas argued that the government was simply asking parliament to validate the arrangement made regarding the receivership. What policy the government would pursue would be decided later.

G. B. Nicholson, Algoma East, said it seemed to him an effort was being made to jockey the government into a wrong position regarding the G. T. P.

McKenzie's Contentions.
Mr. D. D. McKenzie contended that a receiver should have been appointed in the ordinary way. They could call the minister of railways a receiver or anything they pleased, but he was still the minister of railways in charge of this property, and the people of this country were paying the cost of operation. This was a company in default, an insolvent concern, and it ought to be sold.

Mr. McKenzie said that part of the trouble which the G. T. P. found itself in was due to the breaking of bargains by the government. The government, when it came into power, started to put in wooden bridges where there should have been steel bridges and it had changed the grades. "Let us own this road and run it like any other property in a businesslike way," concluded Mr. McKenzie.

Mr. Meighen mentioned that the question had been asked what the next step would be, and the speaker made that it should come from the Grand Trunk. This, he said, was what had taken place. The company had asked for negotiations.

Mr. R. L. Richardson explained that while he had stated earlier in the day he was opposed to the building of the G. T. P., he did not take the position that the west did not need railway accommodation.

After some further discussion, the bill was reported and the house adjourned.

LIEUT. SCOTT WELCOMED BY ALEXANDRA SCHOOL

The staff of the Queen Alexandra School gave a dinner Wednesday evening at the St. Charles Hotel in honor of Lieut. F. M. Scott, recently returned to Toronto, after three years of service overseas. After dinner a toast to the king was proposed, and ably responded to by the singing of the national anthem.

Lieut. Scott, who was presented with a diamond and platinum scarf pin, gave an interesting account of his overseas experiences.

Among the guests present were: Mrs. Scott and Bruce Scott, mother and brother of the lieutenant; Mr. and Mrs. Bryce, Mr. W. E. Lavry, Mr. Miss M. Wallis, Mr. Nicholson, Mr. Garbutt and Hugh Watson.

HAMILTON NEWS

Hamilton, April 3.—Butter is being manipulated here by certain produce merchants and food speculators for the purpose of making "dollar butter" an actual reality. It is not thought that the move is part of any arranged combine, but is being worked quietly by a number of food pirates.

With congratulations flowing in from all parts of the Dominion and the United States and overseas, Postmaster Adam Brown is today celebrating his 33rd birthday.

W. Semford Evans of Ottawa will be the guest of honor at the past presidents' night to be held by the Canadian Club of Hamilton on Monday evening. Invitations have been sent to ministers of the crown.

The third big day in honor of Hamilton's returned soldiers was held tonight in the L. O. O. F. Temple. Three hundred war veterans attended the dinner.

No action will be taken for a few days in regard to the request of the G.W.V.A. for the appointing of a local housing commission, but City Clerk Kent has been requested by the board of control to present a report on the local housing problem.

Organization of an Italian workers' union to be affiliated with the A. F. of L. is causing considerable comment in local union circles. While only a preliminary meeting has been held, the trades and labor council will go thoroughly into the matter on Friday night.

FIREWORKS GALORE AT LABOR COUNCIL

Records Itself Against Board of Control Concerning Soldier Positions.

NO PRIVATE FRANCHISE
Strong Resolution Passed Reflecting on Metropolitan Deal.

There were fireworks galore at the meeting of the District Trades and Labor Council last night when the council started to discuss the motion of Delegate James Gunn, that the council record itself as being against the motion recently adopted by the board of control whereby only those returned men who had served in front lines were to be allowed to hold civic positions.

The hot stuff was opened by several members, but the real hot shot of the evening was delivered by James Simpson, who declared that this action on the part of the board was to play to the "dirty Tory" machinery machine which was trying to create schism between the returned soldiers and the labor party.

"Those banquets," said Mr. Simpson, "are not for love of the soldier; they were to form these men into a party which would ensure the return of the present government to Ottawa." After some hot and a half hour of discussion the resolution was finally changed to an amendment calling on the secretaries of the G.W.V.A. and the G.A.C. of the city to attend a meeting of the council in order that a better understanding might be arrived at between the soldiers and the labor party.

The council endorsed the action taken by the Federated Lumber Carriers' Association in which the latter petitioned the government for better working conditions, and increased wages.

Got Hot Drilling.
James Gunn, the well-known labor man, a member of the commission which recently investigated the grievances of the Toronto police force, came in for a hot drilling at the hands of several of his fellow delegates, when he was appointed, along with other members, to represent the council on a committee which will act with the board of control in connection with a memorial to soldiers who have lost their lives at the front. It was claimed that Mr. Gunn had violated the constitution by not attending several meetings and therefore had no right to take his seat in the council or on the committee.

In answer to the attacks made by him, Mr. Gunn stated that he was prevented from attending by urgent work and sickness of his family.

After motions to seat him, and both being declared out of order, Mr. Gunn finally stood appointed to the committee.

W. J. Hevey that the labor and makers were still locked out from formation to an independent delegate from the Typographical Union, to move that printers, pressmen and other allied trades refuse to work on the advertisement of these non-union factories. The motion was ruled out.

Metropolitan.
Some idea of the feeling of the council on the proposed taking over of the Metropolitan and Toronto railway systems was the resolution introduced by James Simpson, which was carried, and by which the council declared itself against allowing private corporation a perpetual franchise over the city streets.

The municipal committee was empowered to memorialize the city council to pass a bylaw in order that the $2,000,000 set aside by the provincial government for workers' houses, be taken advantage of immediately.

OLD RESIDENT DIES IN MRS. J. MITCHELL
Mrs. James Mitchell, Bellevue avenue, who died suddenly at her home yesterday morning, aged 70, was a resident of Toronto for 45 years and came to Canada from her birthplace, Perth, Scotland, 50 years ago in the company of her husband who preceded her six years ago.

The late Mrs. Mitchell was one of the original members of College Street Presbyterian Church and an active member of the Women's Presbyterian Foreign Missions.

Deceased is survived by a daughter, Ellie C., who lives at home, and a son, George A., of the Dunlop Tire Company. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

CHARGES FELLOW ROOMER.
Charged with stealing $50 from some time ago, Miss Soloway, 17 McCaul street, was arrested by P. C. Greenlee last evening. It is stated that the two men were rooming together when the theft took place.

RIVERDALE
PAPE AVENUE LINE.

In connection with the work of construction on Pape avenue car line Alderman H. Honeyford has been just informed by Works Commissioner R. C. Harris that there is no response to the request for tenders for the contract for the works department up to the present.

ST. JOHN'S BANQUET.
St. John's Presbyterian Church, Simpson-street, Broadview-avenue, was crowded to capacity last night when a banquet and reunion for the returned soldiers was held. Rev. J. McP. Scott, minister, presided, and the veterans were served with a delightful bill of fare and a warm welcome some extended. Hon. Justice Sulherland and Rev. Professor Webster, of Beyrou, Syria, delivered interesting addresses and a musical program was rendered by local artists. An enjoyable time was spent by all present.

OLD BOYS' CONCERT.
The third annual concert in connection with the Bridgewater and District Old Boys' Association, was held last night in Riverdale, at the corner of Gerrard street. A musical program was cleverly rendered by local artists and the building was well filled. The proceeds will be devoted to the benefit of the members returning from overseas.

E. J. Drake, senior, president, occupied the chair.

EARLSCOURT
The monthly show of the Earlscourt Progressive Society was held on Wednesday at 1233 St. Clair avenue. A good attendance of poultrymen was present. Alex. McGee, spoke on the free settings of eggs to returned soldiers, and gave $10 towards this end, and quoted Riverdale as an example. Mr. Skinner gave three settings, Mr. Burrows three, Kirby three, Mr. Day three, Mr. Monkman one setting, Mr. Wainwright one. Mr. McGee stated that a prize would be given for the issue of this year.

The prize-winners were: Brown Leghorns—Mrs. W.V.A. have arranged to hold a concert at the Royal George Theatre, corner Dufferin and St. Clair, next Thursday, to raise funds for the new home for the veterans at the corner of Edmond and St. Clair avenues. Miss Richards' concert party and other talent are giving their services, and the theatre has been donated for that night by Manager McCulloch. It is expected that the building will be started soon, as the plans have already been passed. Alex. MacGregor, barrister, is acting in a legal capacity for the veterans.

The question of a public library for Earlscourt has again come to the front, and Chief Librarian Dr. Locke is in favor of a branch library if the board of education will make a sufficient grant of about $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a suitable building. It is figured that a grant of $35,000 to $50,000 will be needed. A meeting has been called by the British Imperial Association, Tuesday evening, in the Earlscourt Public School to arrange a representative committee to take the matter in hand. The delegates will probably be appointed to wait on the education board at an early date.

St. Mary's Dramatic Society, in connection with the G.W.V.A. has arranged a concert in the lecture hall, proceeds of which are to go to the choir vestment fund. Rev. A. J. Reid is recitor.

PROPERTY OWNERS OF YORK TOWNSHIP VOTE FOR BOTH THE HYDRO. ELECTRIC BYLAWS ON SATURDAY NEXT, APRIL 5TH, 1919.
POLLS OPEN AT 9 O'CLOCK A.M., AND CLOSE AT 5 O'CLOCK P.M., STANDARD TIME.

THE VOTE ON HYDRO.

Tomorrow the ratepayers of York township will declare themselves in favor of the most progressive municipal measure ever submitted to a township vote. The people of York have always been pioneers in the matters of municipal finance and we are sure that the bylaws will pass the polls on Saturday, with few, if any, dissenting votes. It is almost unnecessary to enumerate the advantages accruing to any district from public ownership. The people own and operate the plant; erect their own extensions, as increasing population and prosperity demand, and only voters, perhaps most important of all, will be able and power for cost, when previously they paid cost plus high dividends to capital.

In the present scheme about to be adopted by York, the purchase price and all incidental expenditure will be paid for entirely by revenue.

It is the duty of every voter in the township to register his vote for the scheme at the polls on Saturday. While we are aware that almost every ratepayer in the municipality is enthusiastic over the project, we are equally sure that not every voter will carry it. Therefore, everyone who is entitled to vote on the question should make a point of doing so. Let no one forget that every vote counts.

The purchase price and all expenditures incidental to operation will be paid entirely from the revenue acquired from the system, and it is inconceivable that progressive York will let the opportunity slip past.

We wish to remind the voters that the polls will be run on old time; i.e., they will open at 8 o'clock and close at 4 p.m. new time.

The slogan of the township has for a long time been "Progress," and we hope that the people will adopt that cry on Saturday and vote for Hydro power.

SHOULD BE STANDARD.
Dr. E. A. McDonald, president of the North Riverdale Ratepayers' Association is a strong advocate for a standard measurement in the sale of cordwood. COMMONS DEBATE
IRISH QUESTION
Irish Secretary Says Country Must Be Freed From Shackles of Terrorism.

London, April 3.—The house of commons debated the Irish question this evening. Liberal members endeavoring to elicit some indication of the government's policy. The most notable point in the debate was reported when Sir Edward Carson urged a postponement of the question until the end of the war and declared that at present he regarded the question of reconstruction in Ireland with education, health, housing and similar matters as being more important than "the raising of old controversies over home rule."

Joseph Devlin, a Nationalist leader, said he thought Sir Edward's speech was "the most powerful" of British rule in Ireland.

Capt. William Archer Redmond of Waterford said: "Ireland is almost on the verge of a revolution, and the government is responsible. Let it intend to repeat the home rule act. Sir James Ian MacPherson, making for Ireland, replied to the criticisms indicating that measures were proposed to improve educational facilities."

"The political unrest in Ireland is unabated and outrages of the most cruel and unfortunate kind are occurring. That is why it is necessary to have military force there to maintain order. Ireland is one of the most prosperous countries in the world, but she must be freed from the shackles of terrorism. The men and women of Ireland are suffering from wanton oppression—is an enemy of constitutionalism and progress. There can be no self-determination on constitutional lines under Sinn Fein rule."

DEBIE "INTERVIEW" PRONOUNCED FAKE
More "Special Correspondence"—Alleged Views of Ex-Kaiser Officially Repudiated.

London, April 3.—The articles in The London Chronicle by Harold Begbie, describing his visit to Amerongen, quoting the former German Kaiser's alleged state of mind, charging Russia with responsibility for the war and asserting his own innocence of any guilt, have attracted wide attention. The London bureau of the Associated Press today received the following telegram:

"Amerongen, April 3.—Harold Begbie has not had an interview with the former emperor. His written questions remain unanswered. He did not receive any authorization to publish the emperor's views and no statement was given to him. He never saw the emperor, neither did he enter the castle gates."

"Carlo's Bentinck." The signer of the foregoing telegram is Count Carlo Bentinck, son of the late Count Bentinck, who is serving as host to the former Kaiser at the request of the Dutch government. The young man is the passport and manages the establishment during the absence of the Kaiser.

ARMORIES BANQUET WAS GREAT SUCCESS
Peter Wright Speaks at Fourth Entertainment of Veterans.

Returned soldiers were given a splendid reception and entertainment at the fourth of the series of banquets being given at the armories in their honor, under the auspices of the Citizens' Republic League. The host of last night, Edmund Bristol, who provided the fine menu, was unfortunately absent thru ill-health, but a telegram expressing his regret at not being present, and hoping that the men would exercise the same civility to re-establish themselves in military life.

The armories were in gala array as on other occasions, being bright with colors and features with hundreds of white uniformed girl volunteers ready to wait on the soldiers and their kin. A noticeable difference on this occasion was the large number of men who have gone back to "muff" uniforms being somewhat rare among the guests seated at the tables. An in-the-kitchen of 23 members of the waitresses' union, who, in charge of Mrs. Johns, served from the kitchen, and gave assistance to the entertainers. Friends as usual filled the galleries as well as those seated with the men on the floor. A number of gathering the most some-like possible.

The musical program was provided by the resident military band, a group of 60 numbers on various instruments, and Donald C. MacGregor sang "The Death of Nelson" in splendid style. Miss Vera Watson danced the Spanish rhapsody, and Miss Brown danced the Highland Fling, and four Highlanders danced a "reel" to the accompaniment of flying plaid and sporrans. Eight girls from the Somers' School contributed the Sailors' Hornpipe. All numbers were heartily enjoyed and accorded to the echo. Forty-eight women who were represented by the women who were in the tables, headed by their captains and under the direction of Mrs. Albert Brown and Mrs. L. A. Burnett.

ALBERTA OIL FIELDS MAY NOW BE OPENED UP
Calgary, April 2.—The papers here are again discussing the Alberta oil fields. They say the Royal Dutch Shell syndicate is now more or less in partnership with the British government and pressing for concessions from Ottawa to exploit the Alberta fields. The Imperial Oil Company of Canada is also scouting the country with the same object in view. Perhaps these two companies are the sources of most of the rumors that are going.

GENERAL BATTUE OF LONDON BILLS

CITY COMMISSIONERS As Ruling Civic Body is Disallowed in London.

Yesterday was a big day in the private bills committee. Hon. I. B. Lucas makes an efficient chairman and gets thru the work rapidly.

London was equally unlucky in seeking to borrow $200,000 for the erection of a new city hall.

Ottawa had a big depot of its municipal talent. It got thru bills for expenditures aggregating $700,000, but was turned down for the chairman of the 20-year debentures for public works and also in asking for power to issue new debentures for paying Pooley's bridge, upon which debentures had been issued in 1910.

SWEEPING CHARGES BY TRUSTEE BELL

Tells Justice Lennox Monstrous Blunders Perpetrated in Various Buildings.

SCHOOL OF COMMERCE Mains Uncovered, Boiler Room Flooded and Specifications Unfulfilled.

Monstrous blunders were perpetrated in the plans and erection of the high school of commerce and finance, also in the case of the colossal new Park School, according to the charges levelled against the board of education building department by Trustee W. Bell yesterday.

Trustee W. Bell is the chief critic of the building department on this year's board of education. He is vigorous in dealing his blows, which have invariably been of the nature of direct sweeping charges.

Trustee Bell testified yesterday that in visiting the high school of commerce and finance he found a deplorable condition of affairs, owing to defective construction and equipment.

"Oh, You Do Look So Strong and Well"

"AND why shouldn't I?" "You always wrote about how well you were, but we never thought you would be so hearty-looking as you are after all the hardships of camp and trench life."

"Oh, we had our share of hardships, all right, but except on rare occasions we had plenty of good, wholesome food and lots of fresh air and exercise. That is what makes a person strong and well. But I don't think I have it much over you. What have you been doing to look so hearty?"

"Didn't I tell you I was using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?" "You don't mean to say that has made such a difference. You were so thin and pale when I went away."

"Yes, it certainly has, and after you went away I had a regular break-down, and was in a bad state for some months."

I had nervous headaches, could not sleep, and grew down-hearted and discouraged. Mother got after me to try the Nerve Food, and I am so glad I did, for I did want to be well to welcome you home."

"It is a joy to me to find you so well. And now that we have such a good start surely we can keep well and enjoy life. My experience overseas has caused me to place a greater value on life and health than I ever did before, and your experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food convinces me that you women folks need not be pale and weak and nervous if you will but use it when you feel tired out and run down."

UNPARDONABLE SIN AT ALLEN THEATRE

Is Extraordinary Epic of German Bestiality, Starring Blanche Sweet.

Surpassing in importance any previous moving picture event in the history of Toronto is the engagement of "The Unpardonable Sin," Harry Garson's extraordinary epic photoplay starring Blanche Sweet, under the personal direction of Marshall Neilan, at the Allen Theatre this week.

Those who are familiar with the important books which have been published during the past couple of years will identify the big Garson picture as an adaptation from the powerful story by the same name, written by Major Rupert Hughes, the most powerful tales of love and adventure which has ever been written, and review of the country pay high tribute to Director Marshall Neilan, when they say that here

"Canada is the only country to live in," said one of the men who arrived at the Exhibition Camp yesterday afternoon at 4.30 from the west coast of Canada, when asked by The World what was the "old land."

Man of the men spoke of the fine treatment they had received since arriving in Canada and the adverse conditions which had existed in England. They said that the riots had, however, materially improved the lot of the returning soldiers, gaining for them a better recognition of their just dues.

Quite a crowd congregated in the transportation building to see the men who were marched in loaded with their kits. Marching from the train they were led by the C. G. R. band while the M. C. cadet pipe band brought up the rear of the parade.

About 50 of the men were from Hamilton. Twenty-nine officers and a number of cadets were also on board. When the men were informed by Col. Gibson that they pay cheques and discharge certificates were awaiting them at the dispersal area he was greeted with loud cheers, which spoke volumes for the soldiers' desire to leave the army forever.

Brig-General Gunn, Mayor Church, Rev. Canon Dixon, and other civic and military officials were on the station platform when the train drew in.

TORONTO LEGISLATION DEFERRED SOME DAYS Mayor Church, three controllers and several heads of civic departments waited on the private bills committee at the legislature which was to introduce the city's legislation yesterday. At 12.30 it was announced, however, that they would not be touched as the Ottawa and Bowmanville bills had precedence over them. In all probability Toronto's bills will be introduced on Tuesday next.

Max Helpman was committed for trial in yesterday's police court on a charge of manslaughter on evidence taken at an inquest.

TEN THOUSAND DEAD IS INFLUENZA TOLL

Syphilis, Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria Are on the Increase.

As a result of the influenza epidemic and its attendant diseases, since the first of October, 1918, the toll paid by the province of Ontario amounts to scarcely less than ten thousand lives. This statement is based on the figures of the provincial health officer. Pneumonia was on the increase in the month of March, there being 123 more deaths from that cause than from influenza. Toronto's mortality from these two causes for the month of March amounts to 56. It is said that influenza is dying out. Other diseases on the increase are syphilis, gonorrhoea and chancre, together with scarlet fever. There are also a considerable number of smallpox cases scattered thru the province, and diphtheria prevails to a much greater extent than at the same time last year.

WILLS AND BEQUESTS. George E. Dies, a commercial traveler who died in Toronto, on Feb. 11, 1919, left his entire estate, valued at $24,695, to his widow, Mrs. Georgina Louise Dies, so long as she remains unmarried. At her remarriage or death, the estate will revert to his daughter, Dorothy Dies.

Jacob Greenberg, a cap cutter, who died intestate on March 5, 1919, left an estate valued at $7353, Mrs. Gittel Greenberg, while the residue will be divided between his children, Rose, Esther, Tillie, Harry and Ben Greenberg.

Myrtle and James Heaton Shaw, widow and son, respectively, will inherit the estate of Merton Shaw, a farmer, who died in East Gwillimburgh, March 5, 1919. The estate is valued at $6903.

Robert Marritt, a fish dealer, who died intestate on Jan. 20, left an estate valued at $528, which will be divided between his widow, Mrs. Emma Ann Marritt, and her children, Robert and Sarah, all of Toronto.

Pte. Ralph Madill, a farmer who went overseas with the 116th Battalion, and who was killed in action Aug. 9, 1918, left an estate valued at $108, which will go to his mother, Mrs. Sarah Madill, of Green River Point.

CLAIMS PROHIBITION AIMS AT R. C. CHURCH Hon. N. Seguin Declares Methodists Think It Would be Coup de Grace to Roman Catholic Religion.

Montreal, April 3.—Prohibition is intended as a death blow to the Roman Catholic church in North America by the Methodists, Hon. Napoleon Seguin, minister without portfolio in the provincial government, told an audience at the Garneau-Taschereau Club last night. He said: "We learn from good sources that during the jubilee celebration of Cardinal Gibbons at Baltimore in the course of last autumn, at a meeting of the bishops of North America which was held, an important bishop in the United States submitted to his conference the original of a letter which was intercepted, and which was written by a high dignitary of the Methodist church, and which letter declared could be realized in all America, the only de grace would be given to the Catholic religion."

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from a surred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, such acidity and call it indigestion, when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes New York physician.

AFTER THE WAR—CANADA FIRST

The creation of right relations between wage-earner and employer is our most important duty. Honest co-operation between these two must mean good times for all of us who live under the British flag. Nobody who thinks wants to see industrial discord.

Labor can stand on its war record, for in none of the Allied countries did organized labor come more quickly to the support of the government than here. The co-operation of labor means more to industry than any other one factor. And it is a co-operation that is above price, for we are fortunate beyond all other nations in the character and the skill of our workmen.

United We Stand---Divided We Fall

Today the morale of the Canadian wage-earner is higher than ever before. He is as eager as any capitalist to enter upon an era of harmonious industrial relations.

We in this country are making many articles that were not made here before the war.

The first thing to do is to preach a new crusade of co-operation and fair dealing; after that, put these teachings into effect and create a lasting economic brotherhood.

FRIDAY MORNING APRIL 4

A Spirit of Understanding.

There is a general effort among all those interested to place the relations between capital and labor on a basis of reason and with a view to the elimination of friction. The results of hostility as demonstrated in the great war and subsequent events, are sufficient evidence for sane and intelligent men that there are better ways of solving the rat problem than by burning down the house. The details of our industrial system have been becoming more apparent, and the war, which did so much to reveal new military principles, has done no less for the enlightenment of industrial effort. The one thing that comes out of all these is the necessity for cooperation.

The plan first suggested by an English M. P., Mr. Whitley, has been widely adopted in England, and Senator Robertson has proposed some modification of the plan for use in Canada. There is a greater tendency to centralization here, perhaps, than in England, and it must not be forgotten that the success of the Whitley system has depended on its adaptability to all kinds of local conditions. If centralization interferes with this adaptability, then it is handicapped just to that extent.

The principle of the Whitley plan is the meeting of employers and representatives of the employees on the same level, with the same interests, and with joint jurisdiction over the industry they are dealing with. The representatives of the men can understand the facts laid before them. They can understand that the cost of material, the overhead, the wage question, has to be balanced with a more or less controlled money market. The employer may have as great difficulty raising the money for his wage bill as the employee has in raising the money for his groceries account. Knowledge of this kind disseminated thru the ranks of labor must have its effect, and, on the other hand, knowledge of the conditions of their workmen's lives, their homes, their leisure, their welfare, their troubles, would probably do more to help matters than many strikes. At any rate, it has been found to work out so in England, wherever it has been fairly tried. The experiment of the Standard Oil Company democratizes that corporation to an incredible extent, and the Imperial Oil Company of Canada are following suit. The marine federation governing the ship yards, the furniture factories and others, desire to proceed on some such plan as the Whitley scheme or Senator Robertson's proposal offers. If the employers act in good faith they may be assured of being met with as hearty a spirit of co-operation. Cordial relations are to the advantage of both parties.

The Scare Artists at Work!

The Canadian people are about fed up with special newspaper stories of European Bolshevism, the Reds, Spartacists, and other real or imaginary organizations supposed to be disrupting all the interior of Europe, and cutting the throats of each other when the balance of the population is not near at hand.

We think that there is considerable unrest in Germany, Austria and Russia and some other countries, but if the true state of affairs could be known we believe that the people of these countries are more concerned in fitting their bellies than they are in cutting each other's throats. Some of the Canadian dailies are devoting half of their pages to these supposed facts. Scores of so-called editorial correspondents are sending out daily articles, the continual rehash of which cannot but have a bad effect upon our Canadian people. We are more concerned here in getting down to business and opening up channels to employ our returning men who have done such noble service. Let them riot in Berlin and Vienna if they will, and the stronger they go the quicker will they come to the conclusion that they had better settle down and accept the situation.

A Soldiers' Adjusting Bureau.

After all the discounts have been made there remain serious charges against bureau management in Britain of military affairs. It remains a general and unrefuted charge that the remedying of a grievance was and still is surrounded by an amount of red tape that is positively disheartening to those unfamiliar with the ways of a circumlocution office. Soldiers are given documents to sign and instructed how to fill them and do so in good faith and find out later they have signed away their rights. Men are shipped across the ocean with instructions and expectations and find, on arriving home, that the reality is quite different. Subsequent orders have canceled what they depended upon, and their plans are canceled without recourse. Occasional rectifications are made for those who have energy or influence enough to compel attention, but these are only a trifling fraction of those who submit because they have already experienced the futility of protest.

Men like General Gunn have a proper appreciation of the need of cutting red tape and sweeping away all the official obstacles to justice, but the adamant wall of bureaucracy is at all times difficult to scale and everyone has not access to the postern door.

In the big stores they have an adjusting bureau, and in big factories and institutions they have a "trouble department." Why can't the army have some such plan conducted not by green subalterns or ancient martinetts, but by competent, courteous men who know every turn and twist of army methods, King's regulations, and every line of all the latest orders that affect a man proceeding towards discharge. In most cases the discharge proceedings have been admirably managed, but in the exceptional cases where from one cause or another injustice has been done, the sufferer, sometimes a disabled man, should not be compelled to chase from pillar to post until he has to abandon the task in despair.

A central adjusting bureau with quick-fire methods would fill a want which shrieks loud enough at times in the newspaper offices where victims resort for redress.

IDA RE SOLDIERS' INSURANCE

By IDA L. WEBSTER.

We have received so many letters re the soldiers' insurance, and its unfairness, that we are publishing with this article today a sample. The following letter will show you better than anything we might be able to say, just what a mess has been made of the whole affair.

The city has shifted the responsibility of keeping the promise made to the boys who paid the supreme sacrifice, by putting the deciding of this issue on the shoulders of three city hall officials who are already burdened down with their own departments, or if they are not, then they should not find it necessary to employ so many clerks.

There is no legitimate reason on earth in the theory of commissioning should be appointed to a committee to pass upon the paying of what really belongs to the dead men's half a dozen amendments to the act after the money had been paid to several beneficiaries—certainly you could not call them dependents in matter how far your imagination would stretch, because there were at least two different thousand dollars paid to people who could pay and sell half the citizens in Toronto.

This trick of having a law for one, and another one for another, is not quite the right thing for the reconstruction period. If there is going to be democracy, then it must be city wide, and not just for a few, who would be able to fight it thru all the courts in the Dominion of Canada if need be.

And at that if this case was taken before the high court it is altogether likely that the city of Toronto would not only be told that they were to be liable because of their negligence in trying to evade paying the insurance, but they would be ordered to hand over the money to the rightful heirs of every man who came under the act as it was drawn up. If this money was paid, it would only mean a very few cents more to each taxpayer, and for that matter a few of the bills might be cut out on something else. In any event the thousand dollars should be paid at once, so that Toronto could once more get back on a footing with regular cities.

The letter we refer to reads: "I would like to thank you for the interest you are taking in the matter of the soldiers' insurance. I would like to tell you my experience. My husband enlisted in January, 1915, went overseas in June, and was in the trenches July, 1915. The following June 13, 1916, he was severely wounded, and died on June 18, same year. We came to Toronto in October, 1917, and have lived here ever since. The year before he died we broke out we bought property in the township (just twenty-five feet over the city limits) and have resided there ever since. Before the war, several councilors, aldermen, etc., but also all promised to do what they could, nothing has ever been done."

"When my husband was killed his small private insurance would not cover the mortgage on my home (which was left uncompleted). I have three children, all at school, and at the present have a good position, but this is only temporary. And as expenses are at present, I find it extremely difficult to keep them at school, and quite impossible to complete the building of house. If you can help in any way, please do so for my own sake, and on the behalf of others, that you will be successful. Thanking you, I remain yours gratefully."

GERMAN FORCES MOVE ON FRANKFORT

Coblenz, April 3.—German troops opposite the Coblenz bridgehead began moving early Thursday toward Frankfort, where a Spartan revolt has been causing disorders. Before the town of Frankfort, which is the neutral zone beyond the French bridgehead based on Mayence, the German military authorities had to obtain permission from the French 10th army. Many persons are reported to have been killed in the fighting in Frankfort Monday and Tuesday. In the street fighting Tuesday which lasted several hours, four women are known to have been killed and a large number of civilians are reported to have been wounded.

HARD SLEDDING, EXCEPT AT THE TOP

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

By JANE PHELPS.

Barbara Objects to Entertaining Neil's Business Associates.

CHAPTER I.

I tried to sleep, but was restless and uneasy all night. I had "kicked" Mr. Frederick immensely after I had become better acquainted with him. He had impressed me as wonderfully dependable and straightforward. He had long ago warned me to try to stop Neil in his attempt to make money so quickly—and so much of it. Evidently he now had tried to warn Neil.

I wished I knew something about Mr. Black. Frederick had said that "540 per cent. men" never got off with their crooked deals—whatever he meant by "540 per cent. men"—and had then added, "To be frank, they are no worse than the deals you and Black are putting over."

I was sorry I had listened. To know a party of anything is almost an aggravation. One is so inclined to try and guess the rest, or in lieu of that, to put a wrong construction upon it. I could not help but feel that the latter was what I was doing, consequently I had a feeling of guilt toward Neil.

Another thing that added to that feeling was his generosity and kindness to me. I had learned to be did, luxury only a little less than he did. I had spent money recklessly to gratify my now extravagant tastes. No one would have dreamed I was the same girl who, a few years before, had been satisfied with a home-made trossseau and who had bought the most of the hotel bill on her honeymoon.

I had learned to have the same careless feeling about money that Neil had. I sometimes wonder, as I look back upon our lives together, which is the worst attribute of the two—to be a miser, or to lack perspective where money is concerned. I have since learned that men of Neil's type, the careless, easy-going kind, where money is concerned, are usually lovable characters in themselves; and also that they are easily a prey to the professional hangers-on who, not being successful themselves, are always ready to receive all the benefits possible from those who are financially successful.

But I neither knew nor saw anything of this class at that time. Of the other, however—the coarse, vulgar, money-loving class—I saw many. I had been with an apology that Neil had brought Mr. Scott home. And he also had been a bit shamefaced when he brought others of his kind, and asked me to "be nice to them." But after a time he ceased to be apologetic. He simply stated the fact that a couple of men would dine with us, sometimes adding:

"Look as well as you can. A good front means a lot to these fellows." "Play up to these fellows. They think a lot of the kind of wife a man has. If she puts on a lot of style, yet is affable to them, it flatters them and makes them open up." I hated this. Often I argued with Neil against his making a business deal to know all about that business. I would not have objected, had he brought only refined, companionable men home with him, but cultured men were the exception, the other kind, the rule—men who talked loudly, who drank too much, who ate vulgarly, but who had great wealth. I won't sit at the table with such men. "Not even to help you boys," I once said when he had brought home a man a little more objectionable than any of the others I had met. "Not even to help you boys," I had grown censorious. I was just beginning to have social aspirations. Little Robert was growing up. There was plenty of women who would be glad to have had his enigmatic reply.

THE DAY AT OTTAWA

By TOM KING

Ottawa, April 3.—More perhaps by his manner than by his precise words, Sir Thomas White led the house of commons to believe this afternoon that the nationalization of the old Grand Trunk (and with it the Grand Trunk Pacific) would soon be an accomplished fact. He read the resolution passed by the stockholders of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, at their recent meeting in London, which pronounced the government's offer as "inadequate." He expressed the hope that a satisfactory understanding would soon be arrived at. They had despatched President Kelly to Canada and he had delivered the resolution to the acting prime minister. The negotiations for the purchase of the Grand Trunk had been resumed and were now in progress. For obvious reasons, Sir Thomas did not think it advisable to state to the house just how far these negotiations had proceeded, but he certainly left the impression that they were getting on swimmingly and that a satisfactory conclusion might soon be reached.

If, after all, the negotiations fail, Sir Thomas intimated that the government's program was already mapped out. He spoke as a man well satisfied with the situation in England and doubt but that he is sanguine that success and not failure will soon crown his efforts to acquire the ownership and possession of the old Grand Trunk.

R. L. Richardson, Unionist member for Springfield, and editor of The Winnipeg Tribune, was in the midst of a vehement speech urging the government to lose no time in nationalizing, with ramifications in England and Canada to prevent the nationalization of the Grand Trunk. He had no patience with the talk about the government dealing generously with that corporation. The directors of that company, he said, had involved the government in a scheme which would cost the people of Canada as much as a billion dollars. Now they wanted to unload all the losses of their mad adventure upon the government, and make it more attractive. Their talk should be met out to the shareholders of the Grand Trunk, according to the member for Springfield.

As six o'clock approached it was believed that one of the government whips, after a few words with the acting premier, stroled over in the direction of Mr. Richardson. Perhaps he whispered a few words as he passed. However, that may be, the gallant member stroled over in the full tide of his eloquence, suddenly resumed his seat. Then Sir Thomas spoke, and in a few impressive sentences, gave the house to understand that the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific would soon be absorbed in the government railway system of Canada.

Sir Thomas explained to the house why he had a little bit of a scare about Canadian credit being injured in London. We borrowed a great deal of money in London from time to time, but always on a business basis, and the average profit was as much as the borrower by the transaction. We wanted to keep our credit high in London, in New York, and everywhere else. And the house would be glad to know that the credit of Canada was never higher than it is today. One of the London financial papers, a short time ago, had announced that Canada would be called upon to pay some treasury bills for $25,000,000 maturing June 1, and held by the imperious government.

"This rather amused me," Sir Thomas continued, "for at that very moment I was doing my best to get the chartered banks of Canada to renege a loan they had made to the imperial government of $100,000,000."

However, Sir Thomas cabled the British ambassador of the exchequer about the newspaper story and received a reply which ran substantially as follows: "We will be glad to renew that $25,000,000 loan, but Britain owes a great deal more than that to us. Britain, we will also be glad, if you desire, to reduce our indebtedness by crediting that lot to your account."

Mr. Vien of Lotbiniere made an ingenious argument in support of his proposition that the government had relieved the Grand Trunk of all its commitments in respect to the Grand Trunk Pacific. He said that when the National Transcontinental between Winnipeg and Moncton was under construction, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company had protested against certain breaches of contract on the part of the government, and claimed that these breaches of contract had relieved the Grand Trunk Pacific from its obligation to royal assent to the interim supply bill and other bills passed at the present session. He arrived on time, proceeded to the speaker's chair and ascended the throne. To his surprise the senate chamber was empty. Even the gentleman usher of the black rod was nowhere in sight. His lordship pulled out his watch and saw that it was well past 3.30 o'clock, but he waited in vain for his majesty's dutiful commons to appear before him. Finally, being an old member of the house, Sir Louis strolled over to see what was going on in the green chamber. Here he found the speaker's chair empty, the members all absent, and a few of the pages holding a mock parliament.

By this time the hands of his watch indicated 3.45 p.m. and yet neither house was in session. Then he asked a policeman what was the matter and learned to his astonishment that parliament was still running on the old time. However at 3.30 p.m. parliament time (4.30 supreme court time) everyone was in his proper place, black rod summoned the dutiful but somewhat related commons to the senate chamber, and the royal assent was graciously given.

Ottawa, April 3.—Three lives were lost and property damage estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000 was caused by an early morning fire at Hull, which gutted what is known as the Dorion block on the corner of Main and Leduc streets, consisting of a social club and three stores in the heart of the business section of the city. The dead are: Misses Marie Dorion, aged 40; Gracia, aged 32, and Blanche, aged 10.

EGGS IN GERMANY ARE STILL COSTLY

Berlin, April 3.—Altho the rationing of eggs in Germany ceases Tuesday by official decree, the card system by which the purchaser theoretically could obtain one every once and a while being abolished, it is not expected that the visible supply will increase or prices drop.

Eggs ostensibly have been costing 7-1-2 cents a piece, which is the official maximum price, but with the increase in underground methods of disposing of food they have almost disappeared from the market, almost entirely obtainable at from 30 to 45 cents each from private sources. Many eggs have been withheld from the making of Easter cakes, and it is expected by the optimistic that there will be some what less scarce and less costly after the Easter season.

GRANT HABEAS CORPUS TO CAPT. J. A. GOULET

Quebec, April 3.—Captain J. A. Goulet, implicated in an alleged military exemption scandal, dealt himself another hand today in his fight with the military authorities to escape the jurisdiction of the court-martial that is insisting on taking him for trial notwithstanding the fact that he is to be tried next week before the court of King's bench. This morning he applied for a writ of habeas corpus, which Judge Pelletier granted the writ which will be returnable this afternoon when Goulet will be produced in court by the military authorities.

EXTEND MORATORIUM

Bill to Be Brought Down During the Present Session.

In moving the second reading of a bill standing in the name of the minister of education, Premier Hearst announced for the first time yesterday in the legislature, the illness of Hon. Dr. Cody. He said the minister is not yet out of his room, but his improvement is such that, the house would be glad to learn, he would soon be out. The bill provides for an extension of the government representation in the council of the College of Arts, under the title of an act to revise and amend the college of arts act.

Hon. Mr. McGarry introduced a bill repealing the war tax, and all its amendments.

Replying to a question by W. J. Lowe (Pse.) Hon. Mr. Macdiarmid said the total cost of the Hamilton highway up to January 31, 1919, for construction, was $1,085,017, exclusive of extra cost of widening roadways, storm sewers, etc., to be paid by the radial railway and local municipalities.

The house went into committee on the bill to amend the factory act and office building act.

Not Without Permit. Mr. Proudfoot asked for an explanation of the clause in the bill affecting cities having a population of over 50,000, providing that no person shall receive for manufacture, alteration or improvement any garment, article of clothing, wearing apparel or material from which clothing can be made, until a permit has been obtained from the inspector.

Hon. Mr. Macdiarmid replied that the clause is aimed at sweat shops. Allan Studholme said labor had long demanded sanitary provision in shops where clothing is manufactured.

The second clause says no person shall set out for manufacture, alteration or improvement any garment, article of clothing, wearing apparel or material from which clothing can be made, until a permit has been obtained from the inspector.

Bill to go before a judge. But if the Macdonald bill were to pass people who are behind in annual instalment payments would find themselves in a bad way. The new moratorium legislation will have to deal with the spreading of such arrears of annual payments. But until the soldiers are all back, at least for another year, the moratorium will have to be extended. He asked that the bill be withdrawn. Mr. Proudfoot: Will the bill extending the moratorium be brought down this session?

THE 19th BATTALION.

While no definite announcement has been made as to the point of departure of the 19th Battalion, on their arrival in Canada, it is probable that the demobilization of this unit will take place in Hamilton. Nothing official is known as to this at military headquarters. The battalion's original commander, Col. John MacLaren, A.A.G., is also unaware as to the place of dispersal.

The present commander of the battalion is Lieut.-Col. L. H. Millen, of Hamilton, and it is understood that his views of demobilization will point toward his home city, Hamilton is also considered a fairly central point for the men to proceed to their homes, and the views expressed thereon by the city ought to be given an opportunity of paying this respect to at least one returning battalion. A rumor has been started that Bradford is anxious to have the chance of welcoming the battalion, but it is believed that the decision will rest with the O. C. of the battalion.

A new order has been issued at military headquarters in regard to the wearing of military uniforms by respective of army duties. The following are the occasions on which it is permissible to wear the khaki: On state occasions, at naval and military funerals and weddings. On naval and military parades, at lectures and addresses, fetes and celebrations, entertainments and reunions of a naval and military character.

As a result of intervention by the West Toronto G. W. V. A., who made representations to the pension authorities, Mrs. Birch, widow of the late Pte. Thomas Birch, will receive $62 a month for herself and family. In addition to which she will receive $223.20, two months gratuity adjustment. Pte. Birch died three weeks after his discharge from the army, and his wife and family were left practically nothing.

NO COMMISSIONS.

W. J. Black, chairman of the soldier settlement board, has issued a statement that no commissions will be paid on the purchase of land by soldier settlers. The land will be purchased direct from the owners and commission men will not be considered.

In this manner the board proposes to give the settler the benefit of every method that can be employed to save him money. Land will be sold at its real value and it is that value which the soldier will pay.

A meeting will be held tonight at 9 o'clock in the Military Institute, University avenue, to further prepare plans for the reception of the famous 15th Battalion, the service members of the 48th Highlanders. All officers of the 48th are asked to be present as important business in connection with the reception will be taken up in order to make this the biggest reception accorded a military unit in the history of Toronto.

The regular monthly meeting of His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans was held in the Sons of England Hall Wednesday night. Various topics affecting the association were discussed, and the association has written to Ottawa to secure permission to hold a large number of sporting events were being arranged for the coming season both for the veterans and the citizens of Toronto.

Kayvanagh, Torrence and Gendron are charged with the theft.

FINAL MEETING OF RED GABLE CLUB

Splendid War Work Done by Society in Countless Fields.

Reports read at the final meeting of the Red Gable Workers, Mrs. H. D. Warren presiding, told of splendid work done during the war. All the meetings had been held at the home of the president and members came weekly and sometimes daily, to work for various war needs. At the time of the influenza epidemic, the organization made a record in the making of numerous jackets, every call being answered.

The secretary's report read by Miss Constance Laing, showed that during the war 78,898 articles, many of which were pyjamas and tank tops, were made for the war effort. Also 13,165 books in magazine form and with attractive covers and sent to the men overseas in hospitals. An auxiliary club of working girls, the Hesters' League, who met at the Red Gables weekly, had raised $682 and made 572 articles for soldiers comforts and other needs.

A number of appreciative letters from the men and nurses overseas were read by Mrs. McMurich. President's Address. In her address, the president, Mrs. Warren, thanked all the members for their splendid work and said that the spirit of the Red Gables was still being spread by the members who continue their activities in other channels, pointing out missionary needs and the need of the hour for the comfort of soldiers at 72 Carlton street. The treasurer, Mrs. Barron, reported the total of $1,048.75, raised by the association. Votes of thanks were offered to Mrs. Warren, the officers and conveners.

An interesting address on life in German prison camps was given by Davidson Ketchum. Unanimous regret was expressed that the assembly of members closed with the meeting.

POSTAL CLERKS WAIT ANSWER TO WESTERNERS

The question of sending representation to Ottawa in the near future should any invitation be forthcoming, was discussed at the executive meeting of the Postal Clerks' Association, held Wednesday night. This arose when it became known that the western postal employees have accepted the government's invitation to a conference at Ottawa next Monday.

As the situation stands, nothing is likely to be done of a drastic nature until after next Monday, when the answer, which the government gives to the western delegates will decide the position for the postal employees for the Dominion.

SOCIETY

Conducted by Mrs. Edmund Phillips.

The last meeting of the War Workers of Red Gables took place yesterday afternoon when Mrs. H. D. Warren, the president, was in the chair. The fourth report was an excellent one, and the number of garments mentioned in the report seemed almost incredible. The $5756 raised during the war in various ways was entirely spent on material for comforts. Thousands of story books were made out of short stories from the magazines bound in paper with a picture on the outside and a joke inside; these books were a boon to men in hospital, as they were light to hold and passed thru many hands. They were posted in parcels, the Rotary Club generously paying the postage.

What Mrs. Warren did not do to help the workers is hardly worth mentioning, and her motor did all the expensive work. The small balance left in the bank was voted towards something for the soldiers' children in the club on Carlton street, which in receiving the men's wives and children and spending on their way, is doing invaluable work for the Dominion. Mr. Davidson Ketchum, who was a prisoner of war in Germany for four years, spoke at the beginning of the meeting and told something of their life at Ruhleben Camp. He played the national anthem and the doxology. At the close of the meeting tea was served in the dining room. Mrs. Rae and Mrs. A. P. Burritt pouring out the tea. The table decoration was very unusual and pretty; a carved blackwood table was covered with a green Japanese plate on which was an enamel bird cage with a bird in it, surrounded with vases of exquisite half blown roses. Mrs. Warren, who is a charming hostess, assisted in looking after the guests herself. Some of those present included Mrs. Cecil Horrocks, Miss Constance Laing, Mrs. Graham Thompson, Miss Foulkes, Mrs. Louis McMurray, Mrs. A. P. Burritt, Miss O'Brien, Mrs. J. B. Tyrrell, Mrs. J. B. MacLaren, Mrs. Kirkland, Mrs. Gladstone, Mrs. W. W. Miller, Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. Spencer, Miss Barton, Miss Mickle, Mrs. R. C. Brown, Miss Strathay, Miss Chappell, Mrs. Gressor, Mrs. E. M. G. G. Baldwin, Miss George, Mrs. Campbell Humphreys, Mrs. Mavor, Mrs. Fred Plumb, Mrs. Ball.

Many congratulations to Madame Pantazzi, formerly Miss Ethel Greening, who has had the Order of the Star of Rumania conferred on her by the Rumanian government. Her splendid work during the war. The decoration is generally conferred on men only so this is a special honor. Madame Pantazzi escaped from Bucharest with her children just before the German invasion and went to Russia. She returned to the captivity after the armistice and is now in Paris, where her husband, Mr. Pantazzi, is working for the peace conference for the Rumanian government, and expects to come to Canada in June.

MORAL EFFICIENCY IS SCHOOL DEMAND

Mrs. Courtney Makes Significant Motion for Careful Vigilance.

Does Toronto need a vigilance committee? An affirmative answer was conveyed in a significant notice of motion presented to the board of education last night by Mrs. A. C. Courtney. The motion, which was read by the management committee, reads: "That the board of education declares its purpose of demanding the highest standard of moral efficiency in every department of school life, and that a special committee of one representative from each ward be appointed to consider the reorganization of any school or department of work, or has been questioned.

The cut in half of the double advance to newcomers, the $25, so that all would get an advance limited to $100 was adopted. This adversely affects 22 teachers.

COAL SITUATION WILL BE SERIOUS

Says Assistant-Deputy Administrator at Coal Dealers' Association.

The Canadian Associated Coal Dealers held their second annual session of their 15th annual convention yesterday. R. M. Yeomans, assistant deputy administrator of the province of Ontario, issued the warning that the coal situation would again be serious in Canada. "Roughly speaking the United States railways have a deficit of over a billion dollars," he said.

The following resolutions were carried: (1) "The board of railway commissioners of Canada be requested to give consideration to the inconvenience suffered by the coal dealers, and attempt to adjust their claims in a definite period of time. (2) That the government be urged to continue the office of fuel controllers in the interests of the general public. (3) That the association endeavor to secure the same scale of rates for the future and a minimum fee of $25. This fee was only $10 last year. (4) That the dealers watch carefully for impurities and demand compensation from the shippers, that the government fix the amount of impurities possible, and state it in the Year Book."

President J. A. Harrison and Secretary-Treasurer B. A. Caspell were re-elected and the following executive was chosen for next year: M. F. Craig, Guelph; J. A. McLean, Wingham; J. F. Fowles, Cambridge; G. H. M. Maker, Lindsay; Ed. Browne, Port Hope; G. A. Stanley, Lucan; G. F. Rogers, St. Catharines.

"EMPIRE FIGHTERS" AT MASSEY HALL

Is Refreshing Change From Populace. Refreshingly Pictured American Soldiers.

In the picture, "With the Empire's Fighters," screened for the first time in Toronto, Torontonians have at this opportunity of viewing an all-British film taken by British and Canadian photographers, who asked their lives behind the battle lines the heroic self-sacrifice of the armies who fought for freedom.

It is refreshing that at last we are able to see a true picture of the field and Canadian armies in the fight and eliminating "Americanism," which unfortunately has almost excluded all British achievements from
