I am going to build a church and a school house. On behalf of the Company I subscribed $50 towards the furnishing of Church with organ, books, etc., and for myself $10. So far we have over $100 subscribed.

I trust this will be satisfactory to you. Last night I had a meeting of a few of the leading lights, and we decided to call a meeting of the citizens on Saturday night and elect a "board of trade" and "board of health."

We are going to get a charter, if possible, for Masonic Lodge. Any information about this you can get will be acceptable. Am going to publish a paper each week. The saw mill is now in good shape and can cut 7 to 10 thousand per day.

Yours truly,
F. A. MULHOLLAND,
Superintendent at Bartle.

Fortunes Made in Oranges

Orange groves in Cuba come into bearing in the third year and produce from half a box to a whole box of marketable fruit per tree. Compare that with your apples here, where you have to wait ten years before a tree is bearing properly. Orange groves are known in Florida, where the frost has not struck them, to be 300 years old and still bearing. An orange grove of 10 years old is estimated to yield a net profit of $1,000.00 per acre. An orange grove will pay for the land it is growing on, pay the cost of planting and caring for it for 5 years in the third, fourth and fifth years' crops. Future crops are all profit. Why not have a small grove at Bartle, where you don't have to fertilize and where you have abundance of rain?

Native corn grows abundantly, three crops per year, and pays an average $1 per bushel in the ear. Can be grown between orange trees for first five years.

Vegetables for New York.

Is there money in them? Here are some of the prices being paid on the ground in Cuba:
Tomatoes $2.00 to $2.60 per bushel.
Cabbage $3.00 to $3.50 per dozen.
Irish Potatoes $3.00 per bushel.
Asparagus $8.00 to $9.00 per dozen.
Sweet corn, carrots, radishes, spinach, onions, strawberries and others bring high prices. Vegetables are planted in September and are ready for marketing in January.

Price of Lands $50 Per Acre. Town Lots $150 Each.

NOT ALL SMOOTH SAILING TO EFFECT REORGANIZATION

Shareholders of Toronto Roller Bearing Co. May Not Assist Henderson Creditors.

The directors of the Toronto Roller Bearing Co. held a short but stormy meeting yesterday to consider the proposition made to them by the reorganization committee in regard to the plan of reorganization of the Henderson Roller Bearing Manufacturing Co., of which they are the largest shareholders.

The plan submitted by the reorganization committee was as follows: Upon payment to the Toronto Roller Bearing Company of $5000, now past due, the patent rights for Canada held by the Henderson Roller Bearing Manufacturing Company, Limited, are to be transferred to and vested in the reorganization committee for transfer to the new company. The sum of $20,000—which is additional liability to the Toronto Roller Bearing Company if the Henderson Roller Bearing Manufacturing Company, Limited, is wound up—is to be assigned to the reorganization committee for the new company, so that the shareholders will not be called upon to pay this amount or any part thereof. The right of forfeiture as to the patents which now exist in case of insolvency is to be upon payment of said sum of $20,000, and the patents are to be vested absolutely in the new company. In case the Toronto Roller Bearing Company acquires or becomes entitled to acquire any improvement in Canada, must be assigned to the new company without further payment.

It was finally decided that a meeting of the shareholders of the Roller Bearing Co. be called this week to consider the new scheme. All the directors but one were in accord with the scheme to give the new company a start.

It was feared from outside sources that many shareholders of the company will side with the director, who will oppose the scheme of reorganization, both at the shareholders' and at the annual meetings. Secretary Frank Adams of the reorganization committee has issued a circular to the shareholders of the Henderson Roller Bearing Manufacturing Co. setting forth the plan in detail. The committee have entered into an agreement known as the "reorganization agreement" with the Trusts & Guarantee Company, whereby the Trusts & Guarantee Company agree to act as trustees for the shareholders and the committee in carrying out the said plan, and all shareholders depositing their certificates of stock with the Trust Company under the terms of the agreement become parties to the agreement and entitled to its benefit.

DOMINION SHORTHORN BREEDERS.

20th Annual Meeting Finds Affairs in Good Shape.

The twentieth annual meeting of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association was held in the St. George's Hall yesterday. W. G. Pettit was in the chair. The president in his report was glad to say that instead of the balance being on the wrong side, as he very much feared it would be, by the moving of the record office to Ottawa, the business done had resulted in a very large increase, and everything now pointed to that increase being continued in the present year. Farmers and breeders of America had a prosperous year, all records of former years having been broken. The breeding of the shorthorns was now on a firmer foundation than it had ever been since the association was incorporated, the sale being the favorite to all best producing countries in the world to cross on the common native cattle.

Speaking of the foreign trade, he regretted that this was so small, and although fully aware of the many obstacles to be encountered in shipping to the different countries, yet thought, considering the excellent conditions that prevailed in the present year, such as regards climate, feed and absence of any contagious diseases, that more should be done in this line.

The report of the registrar showed 11,788 registrations, 13,920 certificates, 238 transfers, and fees collected $11,275. The twenty-first volume of the Herd Book containing 490 bulls and 3290 cows, or a grand total of 3780, of value of 115,800 pedigrees. The Herd Book closed on Dec. 31 contains 12,000 pedigrees.

The report of the secretary shows that during the life of the association $24,000 has been granted to the members for the benefit of the breed. The following grants were approved for exhibition purposes: New Brunswick, $400; Regina, Sask., $200; Winnipeg, Man., $500; Ontario, $2000 (provisional); Sherbrooke, Que., $200; Halifax, N.S., $100; Charlottetown, P.E.I., $100; Fredericton, N.B., $100; Winter Park, Ont., $500, of which $200 is to be devoted for special prizes for the encouragement of shorthorn breeding. The total grants are about $1500 in excess of any previous year.

There are 228 members, from whom $4400 fees were received. The amount paid in prizes was $2350. The receipts were $20,775, and disbursements about $18,000.

TEMPLEMAN FOR VICTORIA

RILEY, M.P., FOR THE SENATE

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—After the installation of the two ministers this morning they were congratulated by the non-general and the prime minister and his colleagues and then proceeded to the sitting of the tariff commission, where they took part in the discussion of the tariff commission. Mr. Templeman will resign from the senate and run for Victoria, B.C., at present represented by George T. McMillan. The latter will be appointed to the senate in succession to Mr. Templeman.

Suits Are Settled.

The Toronto Railway Co. have settled for $2000 the suit brought by Ida Lewis, to whom a jury awarded $10,000 for injuries sustained by the explosion of a car. The company appealed, and the court suggested a settlement at $5000 or a new trial. Wm. McIlroy, suing for $5000, accepted $1000.

More Pupils at School.

That the attendance in the public schools is rapidly increasing is shown by Mr. Hughes' comparative statement between last year and this. The registered attendance for Jan. 1906 was 997 greater than a year ago, and the average attendance was 1582 more.

NATIONAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION. Asked if There is Objection to Shoot at Ottawa.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, Feb. 6.—Lord Chelmsford, president of the annual meeting of the N.R.A. today, said a letter had been received from the American N.R.A. asking if there was any objection to the Palma Trophy competition taking place at Ottawa. Lord Chelmsford replied there would not be on the part of the N.R.A., but the Ottawa authorities were the ones which should be consulted. He said no doubt the N.R.A. would be asked to issue a team to compete for the Palma Trophy, but whether the N.R.A. would send a team or not would have yet to be discussed. When the election of vice-presidents was proposed, a member moved that the names of Walter Winans, the American shot, should be removed from the list of names. The vice-president proposed, the objection to Winans being on account of the article he had written to a London journal claiming that a shooter at Bisley was no good in war time. The member, after some discussion, withdrew the motion.

Men, It's Free!

Any Weak, Puny Man Can Have My Electric Belt Free, Without the Payment of One Cent.

I make this offer to weak men, particularly those men who have spent their earnings for years on dope (the drugs that make them feel like a young colt one day and like an old, broken-down hack the day after), those men who have tried so many things that they are tired of feeling and want a cure. Those are the men I appeal to, and I am willing to give my Electric Belt free, without a cent of cost to you, if you will secure me.

Man with small, flabby muscles, thin-shouldered, dull-eyed, short of breath, without endurance, are WEAK MEN. If they were not born weak I can make physical giants of them.

How do I do it? By filling the blood, the nerves, the organs and muscles with electric energy—that is what Nature gave them at first—that is what they have lost when they break down.

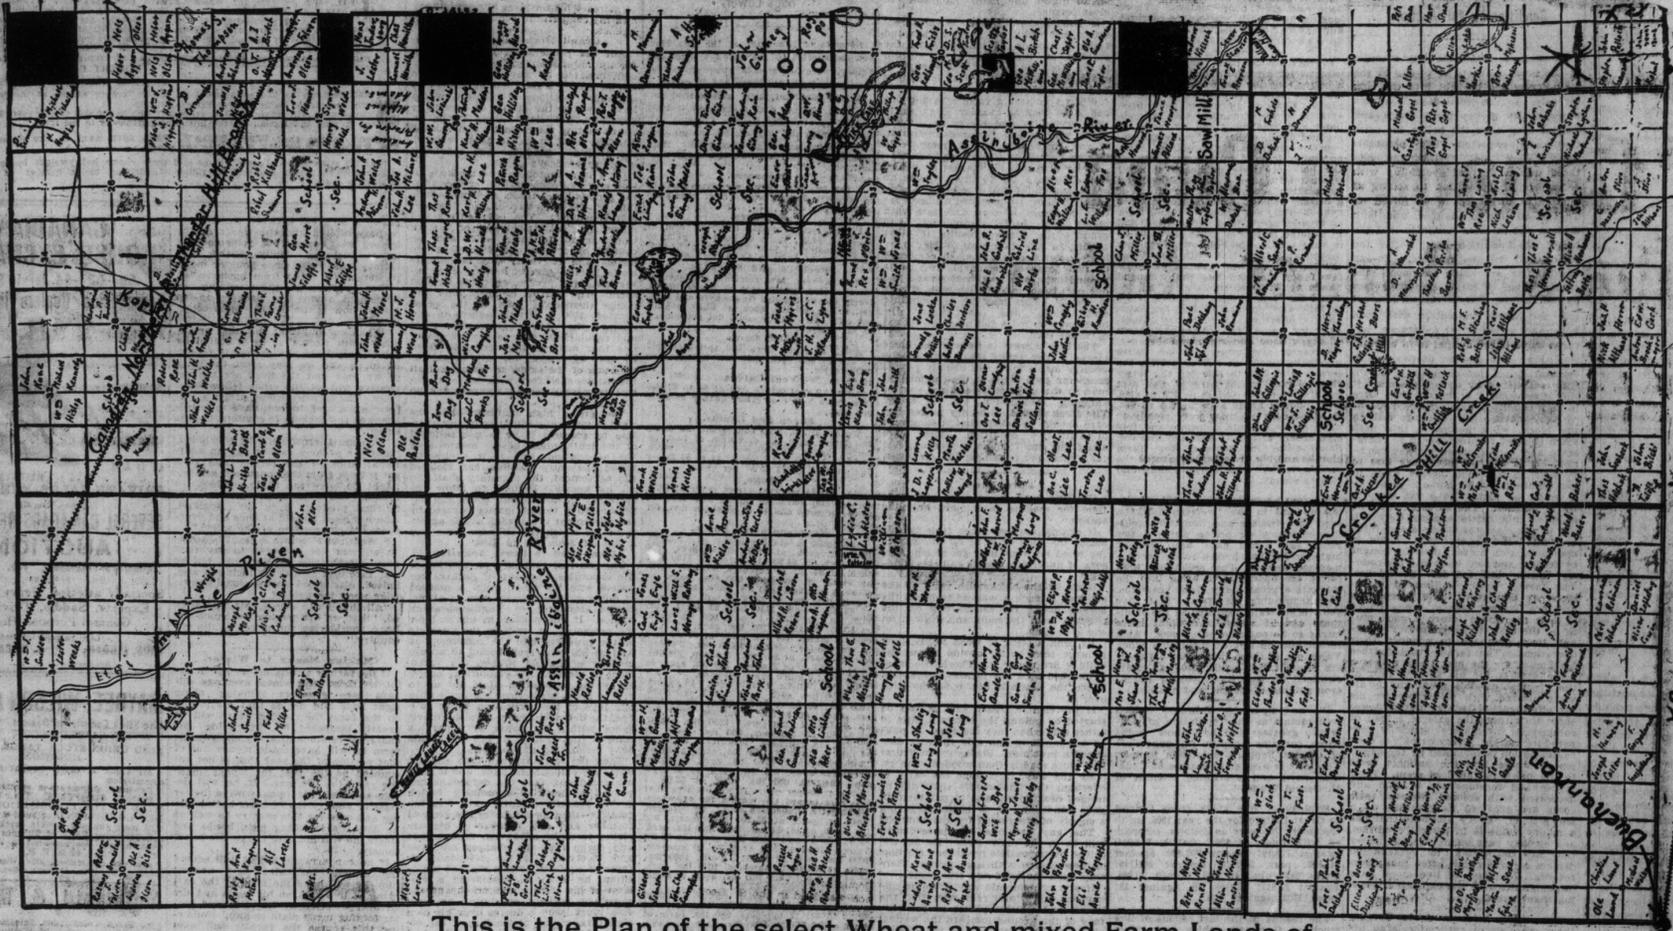

My Belt is easy to use; put it on when you go to bed; you feel the glowing heat from it (no stinging or burning, as in old-style belts), and you feel the nerves tingle with the new life flowing into them. You get up in the morning feeling like a two-year-old.

Wherever you are, I think I can give you the name of a man in your town that I have cured. Just send me your address and let me try. This is my twenty-fourth year in the business of pumping new life into worn-out humanity, and I've got cures in nearly every town on the map. I've got cures in every man's case. If you will come and see me I'll fix you up. If you can't call let me send you my book, full of the things a man finds in spring to strength and courage. Free if you send this coupon.

Dr. W. O. McLaughlin, 138 Yonge St., Toronto, Canada. Please send me your book, too. NAME: ADDRESS: Office Hours—9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wed. and Sat. until 8.30 p.m. Consultation Free.

GIRL UNDER HYPNOTIC SPELL HAS VANISHED FROM HOME

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 6.—A mysterious case is being investigated by the police. On Saturday evening Maud Newberry, a girl of 18 years of age, left the house where she was employed to go to her mother's residence, a few blocks away. Nothing has been heard of her since.

Miss Newberry was subject to strange hallucinations, alleging that she frequently heard voices whispering to her, and that she was subject to some hypnotic influences.

WILL BACK KEENE'S JUMPER IN GRAND NATIONAL CHASE

Racing and Other Sporting Gossip
 From Across the Water—
 Women in Hockey.

London, Feb. 6.—Foxhall Keene's horse, 'Hooper' III., will carry a good deal of American money for the Grand National Steeplechase, which is to cross-country racing what the Derby is to flat racing. The American horse is in good; his impost is 145 pounds, while the top weight, 125 pounds, will be carried by Lester. It is true the students of racing do not think much of 'Hooper.' They rarely do of American horses before a race. The American contingent very generally will play him for the sake of patriotism, and it may be said that stranger things have happened than their cashing their bets.

Photographs have reached London showing the Prince of Wales standing over a tiger he has shot. The prince's friends are surprised to learn that he has developed into a mighty, fearless hunter of big game. A whisper comes from India that the hospitable Indian maharajah whom the prince visited arranged it so that the prince would be in no danger from the tigers he shot. It is hinted that the wily humors of the maharajah's suite captured the tiger alive, drugged them, penned them and released them in the jungle just about the time the 'dooped' maharajah had no chance to escape and the prince had no chance to miss his target. Indian maharajahs are renowned for their hospitality—and cunning.

One rather curious result of the Russian-Japanese war is the demand for thoroughbred horses for breeding purposes. The weakest point in the Japanese army was in the cavalry arm, and this solely because of their lack of cavalry horses. The government has already taken steps to remedy this defect by going into the breeding of horses on an enormous scale. Already Japanese officers are at work making a careful study of the breeding establishments in Great Britain, the United States, France, Austria and Germany, and when the little brown men get ready to get to work they will probably teach Europe and America something about horse-breeding. The Japanese have taught the west lessons about warfare. I understand the Japanese plan to contemplate the expenditure of something like $10,000,000 in the business.

An Argentine breeder has offered Mr. Edmond Blanc 24,000 guineas (about $25,000) for 'Val d'Or,' the horse to be delivered at the end of the coming racing season. The offer was declined. A vain effort has also been made, I understand, to purchase Jarry.

The defeat of the British golfers at the Mexican tournament by the American experts seems to have been complete and convincing. While it has caused some astonishment here, it will probably have some commensurate features. It may lead to the sending over of a strong contingent of American amateurs and professionals next

PROFESSIONAL HOCKEY GOSSIP.

Chicago to Have Team Next Winter, Also Winnipeg and Buffalo.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 6.—Hod Stuart, captain and organizer of last year's Calumet team, which won the hockey championship of the world, will organize a club to represent Chicago in the International Hockey League next winter.

Capitalists practically have agreed to furnish sufficient money to start up a modern ice rink in Chicago, and Stuart admitted while in Calumet with the Pittsburgh Club that he was scheduled to take charge of a professional hockey club there next year.

With the admission of Chicago, another club will be taken into the International League. According to present plans, Buffalo will be the other new member. The Pittsburgh Club will play a series of exhibition games in Buffalo in the near future, and if the game proves popular there, it is believed it will be Buffalo will have a professional hockey club.

Another new member of the league next winter will be Winnipeg. Manager W. J. Holmes of the Auditorium ice rink of that city wired an application for the admission of a team this year, but he was too late. The annual meeting of the league had the most of the schedule adopted, as it was deemed inadvisable to go to the expense and trouble of rearranging the plans for this season. The Manitoba capital is a great centre for hockey, and it is believed an international league club would prove a big money-maker there.

The next winter's international teams undoubtedly will be as stated, with the present clubs retained, making an eight-club circuit.

There has been a slight change in the standing of the league teams during the last week. Portage Lake, which has been idle, holds first place by a narrow margin. The American 'Soos' has moved up to second place again, and Pittsburgh dropped to third. Calumet and the Canadian 'Soos' bring up the rear in the order of play. The American 'Soos' team outplayed the Pittsburgh boys in the order series on the former's ice. 'Hot' Stewart, left wing, put up a great game for the eastern club, but the absence of Garret Sixsmith, who has an injured knee, and the crippled condition of Capt. Art Siskind, the plucky little player, worked havoc with the combination players of Smoky City men. While the Pittsburgh

THE BILLIARD CHAMPION.

Willie Hoppe Instinctively Knows How to Make Difficult Shots.

Willie Hoppe, world's champion winder of the subtle cue, is the meekest of all title-holders. He came into Hoboken on the Kaiser Wilhelm, crossed the river on a ferry-boat like any ordinary citizen and went straight to his home in 99th-street, says a New York exchange. There his father and mother and brothers and sisters were waiting for him, with dinner on the table. Willie Hoppe was 18 years old on the last 14th of October. He is only a boy and he looks like a boy—a good, healthy, smooth-faced boy. There's nothing prematurely wise or old or wrinkled about him. His list of triumphs, and even this latest one over Vignaux, the great French champion, has left his natural boyish modesty untouched.

A friend shook hands with Hoppe. His hand was surprisingly soft. It is a strongly muscled hand, yet so flexible that it seemed absolutely boneless. The skin was soft and white, the fingers smooth and round. No knuckles showed. Playing billiards is a gentleman's game, and this is true.

"I had a fine trip this time," said Hoppe. "This was my third, and the Frenchmen treated me very nicely. No man likes to be beaten, but after the games Vignaux came and shook hands with me. 'If I must be beaten, I would much rather lose to you than any one else,' he said. He took his defeat like a gentleman. He said he'd like to meet me again in June—just in a match—not for the championship.

"Did you train hard for the tournament?"

"No," said Willie. "I never really train. Of course I play a great deal, and every morning here at home I go out for a long walk. That keeps my eyes clear and my nerves steady. I never drink or smoke, so I am always in condition."

"Do you study the plays out carefully?"

"No, I never study."

"He plays instinctively," broke in Mr. Hoppe. "Willie must have inherited some of the knack for both his mother and I were professional billiard players. Willie began when he was six years old. When he was nine he could beat anybody. We took him down to Princeton to give him an exhibition before the professors. They were astonished. One of them said to me, 'I can only explain it by saying Willie has a peculiar faculty for measuring angles.' Willie is an instinctive player. He never had to study. The instant he looks at the table he sees his play and makes it immediately, without stopping for any calculation. Slosson stops and looks at each ball, calculates all the angles carefully, thinks out the necessary force to use and then plays carefully. This is study. Willie seems to have a subconscious mind that does all the work for him. He never seems to think about it at all. That's genius. The man who studies has a limit, but the man who knows what to do by instinct has no limit."

"It does come easy to me," Willie agreed. "It never seems hard to make long runs. In the first two games with Vignaux I ran 144 twice in two innings, and ran out the 200 in the third. In the third game I ran 200 in two innings. In the fourth I ran 42 in the first inning and 168 in the second. Vignaux won the fifth."

Doan's Kidney Pills CURED HIM

Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald, Hazelton, Ont., writes us as follows: "I was a great sufferer from kidney trouble for eight months. I had terrible pains across the small of my back. I would have to stay in bed for three days at a time and could not do any work. I tried several remedies but of no avail, and also plasters but they were of no use."

One day a neighbor of mine advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I was so much discouraged I told him I was tired of trying so I purchased one, and before I was through using it, I found a change for the better so I got five boxes more, and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since. I would not be without Doan's Pills in my house."

THE WEATHER AND WINTER

Just what influence this season's unusual winter weather is going to have on the coming crop has been and is engaging the attention of agriculturists and those closely connected in handling farm products. The unusual mildness of the larger portion of the winter was not viewed with any serious alarm, as precedents were cited where similar winters had resulted in a full average crop of the following season. With the coming of a severe cold spell, and an almost utter absence of snow, the situation has taken on a new aspect and murmurs of a possible injury to winter wheat have already been heard. It is, of course, impossible to estimate the value of a snow covering, but experience has always found it a helpful factor, both as a protective mantle to the dormant plant and as a splendid supplier of moisture in the early spring. In the southwestern states it is stated that winter wheat has already made some spring development under the enticing rays of the mild winter's sun, and that the now cold weather is liable to injure the plant because of this development, just as has been experienced by sudden changes in the spring. The danger to the wheat crop now, however, is not nearly as great as it once was, for seeding was in effect. Drill seeding, by providing deeper soil for the plant, has lessened the possible injury from frost, and to this extent the results of seasons of two or three decades ago are not to be trusted. No damage is yet suspected in Ontario, but a general snowfall would be welcomed for reasons that it is believed that it would be beneficial even to the crops now in the ground.

CANADA AND THE BACON HOG

There is a prospect that the Canadian farmer will resume hog raising, but it is not yet clear that the bacon kind is the one to be resumed. The Canadian farmer has not produced, nor does he contemplate producing, a hog which must inevitably meet the competition of the United States farmer, who by his cheaper corn feed can produce fat pork at a much less cost than the strictly bacon article can be raised. The Canadian farmer has been exercised by the fact that his hog prices have been unduly compressed at times, but he has not yet shown that such disposition which is usually understood as "cutting at his nose to spite his face." He will continue to raise hogs on the standard that has gained him notoriety in the British markets, and more so now that he is satisfied that the unfair competition of the American hog has been removed by the withdrawal of the landing privilege.

FARM BUTTER MAKING

While the principles of butter-making on the farm can be easily understood, they are not appreciated, as a rule, as shown by the great amount of poor butter one meets with in the country. Not enough care is taken in the production of the milk from which the butter is made. The care of the cow, the stable, the utensils, the person of the milker are all very important in the making of good butter. There must be a careful consideration of the milk from the time it leaves the cow's udder until it is churned into butter, watching that affecting conditions are not present. Bacteria are the source of all decomposition, but they are also needed in butter-making, and their presence must be controlled. Cleanliness is the foe to bacteria and is the principal instrument for the dairymen to use in fighting them. When the milk is taken from the cow's udder it is as near pure as it is possible to get it, and from that time on it should be the care of the dairymen to keep the bacteria from getting into it until needed. Probably the sources from which milk is most often contaminated are in the existing methods of milking and the care of the utensils. The cow is often milked when her side is coated with manure and particles of this scale off into the pail, together with other foreign matter, and carry with them large numbers of bacteria. The pails are often made of cheap tin, which soon corrodes and forms a good place for the growth of bacteria. Some persons have the habit of using wooden pails or vessels for the milk. These are impossible to clean and are regular germ breeders. Only the best of tin, and that kept clean and bright, should be used for milk pails and the cow before milking should be cleaned and the udder wiped with a damp cloth. "Cleanliness" should be the watchword of the dairymen, which, together with care and judgment, will be sure of producing good butter.

Smoking Hams

A method for smoking hams without a smoke house is given as follows: Dig a hole in the ground one foot in diameter and one foot deep, and put three blocks of green wood or stones a foot high on the edge of it. Then take an empty barrel and bore holes in the bottom through which to pass the strings into little sticks through the loop, and fasten the barrel up on the blocks and start fire, and it will smoke in a short time.

TODAY'S HORSE MARKET SALES LARGE, PRICES LOWER

Looks as if Supplies Were Being Rushed in Too Rapidly—As to Conditioning for Auction.

There is a noticeable improvement in the horse markets of to-day in the way horses are brought into the ring for sale. In the olden days it almost appeared as if the more rough and rugged they were the better the price that was expected. The profitable features were not forthcoming, and the corresponding opposition to selling at auction at all except when forced to. To-day all this is changed, and both dealers and farmers recognize that the better the condition the better the price that will be realized. To-day also efforts are made to smooth the conformation of all classes of horses by the operations of commercial callers nearly as great as it once was, for seeding was in effect. Drill seeding, by providing deeper soil for the plant, has lessened the possible injury from frost, and to this extent the results of seasons of two or three decades ago are not to be trusted. No damage is yet suspected in Ontario, but a general snowfall would be welcomed for reasons that it is believed that it would be beneficial even to the crops now in the ground.

Export of Live Stock

The results of the last census of live stock in Germany, taken in 1905, on Dec. 1, 1904, show that the number of horses is 4,287,000, an increase of 87,300 per cent. since 1900, or an increase of 22.33 per cent. in 1905, a decrease of 68.37 per cent. in 1904, and an increase of 148.50 per cent. in 1905.

Great Britain Exported 30,854 Horses

The news of the amalgamation of two great horse-dealing establishments, that of W. D. Grand of New York, and M. T. Tichenor & Co. of Chicago, comes somewhat as a surprise, as the two concerns have apparently had a monopoly of the trade in the eastern and western states. The Tichenor & Co. firm will be styled the Tichenor-Grand Co. It has already a large piece of property in New York, and plans are being made for the erection of a new and commodious structure which will house over a hundred horses. As the Tichenor & Co. firm is one of the most important and successful of the American horse business, and in its territory an upward trend of commercial affairs.

Shortage of the Carriage Horse

The shortage of the carriage horse supply, says a well-known authority, is attributable mainly to two things: First, the financial depression of the past few years caused the farmers to curtail their breeding operations by sacrificing their surplus stock, and, secondly, a strong foreign demand sprang up as a consequence of our depression and the resulting shortage of horses in this country. The new-found export trade, followed by improved business conditions, caused the demand for this class of horses to exceed the supply. The British purchase of 150,000 horses of American origin stock was a clever riddance from a breeding standpoint, and the general standard has been, as is well known, raised by these exportations. The trade in the United States since 1889 to 1904 has been very profitable to the horse and foreign buyers. From 1889 to 1904 the average price of horse stock on the Chicago market has increased as follows: Draughts, $22; carriage horses, $25; drivers, $18; horses for general use, $25; harness and teamsters, $25; saddlers, $10, and other chucks, $15.

The Highest Price Paid for a Trotter

The highest price paid for a trotter at the recent Chicago sale was $3500. The animal was the trotter, Axcyell, 2:10.14, and the purchaser was for Hubinger of New Haven, Conn. Monday's Sale of This Week at the Canadian Horse Exchange

Monday's sale of this week at the Canadian Horse Exchange was not as brisk as it has been for some time past. The cold snap seemed to be the main reason for the quiet market. The sale of the horses offered for sale was of a grand heavy sort and the big weighty kind with good bone and some power. The supply was greater than the demand. After the sale Mr. Carroll sold two cars privately to a gentleman from the Northwest, who is shipping to Winnipeg and to Southern Manitoba, who will offer these horses for sale. Among the buyers on Monday were E. R. Hunter of Milton, Ont., who purchased a pair of mares, a horse, a bay mare, five years old, and a black gelding seven years old; also two good drivers, one of which was from 1850 to 1900 lbs., suitable in every way for farm work. H. Eckardt of the National Horse Exchange, who purchased a pair of bays, shipped them to the Exchange by J. C. Irving of Arthur, Ont., and S. S. Smith of Hamilton, Ont., who purchased from the shipper, Wm. Duncan, by private sale, a Welsh pony, half-bred seven years old, imported one year ago by Thos. Hubinger, proprietor of the C.P.R. Hotel, Peterborough, Ont. It is a mile every way, fast, is quiet and kind, and is very well adapted for all purposes, and has always been handled by small children.

Country Feasters

If you think "feasting" their heads off," you are probably that kind of fowl, either by nature or thru your own fault.

It is estimated that it costs twice as much to keep a "valler" dog as to keep a half-dozen hens, yet a good many people prefer to keep a "valler" dog than a half-dozen hens, and a good many people prefer to keep a "valler" dog than a half-dozen hens, and a good many people prefer to keep a "valler" dog than a half-dozen hens.

When you hear a farmer saying one hen is as good as another, don't waste time trying to find his name, among those who attend farmers' institutes. If you don't find him at home he is probably in the city, and you can find him there.

Every bird sold for a good price, no matter how small, is a good thing. If you are a farmer, you should be sure to have a good supply of birds, and you should be sure to have a good supply of birds, and you should be sure to have a good supply of birds.
