NOTE FOR THE BY-LAW AND FOR CHEAPER LIGHT, GAS, AND STREET CAR FARES

COCKBURN NEVER TRIED SOME EVIDENCE WASN'T PRESENTED SO CONSEL AFFIRMED

How Frank Arnoldi Defends His Charge of $7500 Against Ex-President—Dwells Upon Importance of His Own Work in Case.

ALSO USED HIS INFLUENCE IN SOME OTHER DIRECTIONS

The first examination of Frank Arnoldi, K.C., for particulars in his suit against G. R. Cockburn, ex-president of the Ontario Bank, for services during the police court proceedings, has hitherto never been made public. As given below it throws some added light on the proceedings. It also shows Mr. Arnoldi as expressing some rather startling opinions. For instance Mr. Hodgins asked: "In a letter you make the remark that there are matters you think would be highly improper to disclose to a judge?"

Mr. Arnoldi: "Yes."
"What does that refer to?"
"Do you want me to tell you?"
"That is what I am asking you to state?"

"First of all, at the time of the first proceedings before the magistrate, Mr. Cockburn was never tried at all; the enquiry was wholly directed to Mr. McCall; it never was directed to Mr. Cockburn, and Mr. Cockburn stands to-day, without ever having been tried upon the charge which was put up against him; proper evidence was not even, nor was the matter put in shape to try him. That is one thing. The next thing is there was a whole legion of evidence which did not come before the magistrate at all, which I estimated as of a most dangerous character, and I think it would have been a very serious matter for Mr. Cockburn altogether. It was then and would be now."

Why $2500 Was Added.
After stating that he had rendered two accounts for his services in defending Mr. Cockburn, the second being in great about March 8, 1907, the examination continued in part as follows:

"When I sent the first account I told Mr. Cockburn that it would be placed at $2000, hoping that he would accept it at once, and that I considered I was entitled to a great deal more. The second account was not treated as an addition, but as rendering the original claim. There were no further services."

Mr. Hodgins: How do you justify the advance?
Mr. Arnoldi: Because the first amount was not what I was entitled to by half. I did further service, but that was not the basis of the increase.

"How would you describe it?"
Says he: "I described as a claim rendered to rectify the account rendered in the first place, which had been rendered at the lesser figure out of consideration for Mr. Cockburn."

"Then the consideration had disappeared between the rendering of the accounts?"
"He had refused to acknowledge any liability."

"Was that the reason for $2500 increase?"
"Yes, he had refused to accept my generosity."

"What do you mean by saying that he refused to accept your generosity?"
"He came into my office and abused me. He said he thought my account very excessive and that he did not want to harm me by making it public. I felt insulted. I had heard after the last bill was sent that a second prosecution might be instituted, and even then I was concerned for Mr. Cockburn's welfare. I sent for him to discuss the matter. I told him it was foolish to be before the public and that he had better go away and stay away for 12 months and let all unpleasantness be buried and passed out of people's minds, and that he should obliterate himself as far as he could. I think that was at the same interview that he insulted me. He accused me of trying to scare and frighten him into paying me."

"You have not charged for that interview?"
"No."
"Is there something still to come?"
"No, I think not. I should be paid for it. I said if he did not act decently I would charge full fee, 10,000. Mr. Cockburn said he could not pay it. I knew this to be untrue. I never rendered a detailed bill under the Solicitor's Act. I was not acting as a solicitor."

"How were you retained?"
"Simply as a barrister. He had no other."

ANOTHER MINE HORROR

Thirty Men Entombed in New Mexico Coal Mine.

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 31.—A special to The Herald says that in an explosion in the Carthage Mine, near San Antonio, New Mexico, thirty miners were entombed. It is supposed all are dead.
Nine bodies have been taken out already.

No Word of Mount Royal.
ST. JOHN, N. B., Dec. 31.—(Special.)—No word has yet been received of the overdue steamer Mount Royal.

BOOR BRAST ON HOME EXCHANGE

Eighteen Persons Hurt in the Outrage and Troops Rush to Rescue.

ROME, Dec. 31.—A dynamite bomb exploded in the Stock Exchange of this city to-day. Up to the present time it has been ascertained that eighteen persons were wounded. Some of the injured are buried under portions of the building, which have collapsed. Firemen, policemen and troops have been hurried to the scene and are now engaged in calming the excitement and conducting the work of rescue.

It is supposed that the bomb was thrown with the intention of preventing the customary end of the month liquidation.

The roof of the court yard of the exchange collapsed with the force of the explosion, which occurred shortly before 4 o'clock.

The stock exchange is situated in the centre of the city. The people in the vicinity of the buildings were thrown into a state of consternation. The explosion was followed at once by cries of desperation from within the exchange. A large crowd, numbering several thousand, began to gather outside the building. When police and troops arrived they took charge of all the approaches.

The fear of other outrages suddenly possessed the throng and the people fled. In the mad rush there was great danger of loss of life and limb. The stock exchange building is close at once swung to and helped to the maintenance of relative order inside the exchange.

Ambulances and doctors have been summoned, and the latter cared for the wounded as they were brought out.

The Stock Exchange of Rome is situated in one of the finest remains of the ancient city. The temple was built by Hadrian, and is notable for its six columns in the Corinthian style of white marble, each one forty-one feet high. The centre portion was built by Agrippa. The temple was destroyed by fire, but was supported by these famous columns. They were assembled for this purpose by Pope Innocent XII.

POLICE CLUBS QUELL RIOT

Midnight Disorder in City
Hall Square Necessitate Calling Out Reserves.

Police reserves numbering 28 men were called out shortly before 23 last night to disperse a mob of some 2500 people who packed the city hall square and jammed Queen-street from Teravale to Yonge-street.

Some of the crowd engaged in the throwing of stones, ice and broken bottles at the few constables from the neighboring beats who were unable to handle the great throng.

The mob had its beginning in a small row which took place in Yonge-street after the hotels closed at 11 o'clock.

Still fighting and gathering numbers from street hoodlums and the lily white of this crowd made its way south to Queen and Yonge-streets, where it was met and partially dispersed by four patrolmen under P. S. Irwin. But its numbers grew past handling as it made its way along Queen to the city hall steps, where it became violent and turned upon the police.

A hurly call was sent to the Court and Agnes-street stations. Reserves of 15 men under P. S. Reeves were sent out from the former in the patrol wagon, while 13 men under Sergt. Armstrong came down from Agnes-street. Several of the police were struck by flying missiles, but batons were drawn and at five minutes past midnight the scene was cleared of the mob.

A portion of the dispersed roysters proceeded up Yonge-street, and amused itself by breaking signs. They were followed by the police in reduced numbers and gradually dispersed before a considerable damage had been done.

CUSTOMS REVENUES.

The total customs duty collected at Toronto for the month of December, 1907, was $73,372.20, a decrease of $67,100.21 over December of 1906.

The total duty collected for the year ending Dec. 31 is $11,611,267.23, an increase of $1,661,974.68 over 1906.

At Montreal the customs collections for 1907 total $16,884,939, an increase of $2,740,000; the largest receipts in the history of the port.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE MOTORMAN IS CHARGED

Police Will Prosecute in Case of Sunday Night's "Almost-an-Accident."

George C. Smith, 95 Beconfield-avenue, motorman of the Queen-street car which struck a southbound G.T.R. train at the Riverdale crossing at 11:15 o'clock Sunday night, will appear in police court Thursday morning, charged with criminal negligence, endangering the lives of 12 persons, who were passengers in the car.

The summons was drawn up at the residence of the defendant yesterday. Detective Nat. Guthrie served it on Smith at his house yesterday afternoon. Smith has been under suspension by the company.

The information by the police is that Smith jumped from his car, which was running at a reckless rate. This was after the car had jumped the derailing dogs.

It is understood that Smith admits the excessive speed, but says that he did not leave his car, but ran back into the body of the car from the vestibule when he saw that a collision was inevitable. It does not appear that the brakes refused to work.

Edward Hogan, 1718 West Queen-st., conductor upon the car, will be among the witnesses in police court, as will a number of the 12 passengers and members of the train crew and the gate-tender at the crossing.

TORONTO GIRLS! LOOK! HERE'S A HUBBY FOR YOU

Owns "Honeymoon Flat" and Wants a Toronto Girl to Marry Him—Want 'Im?

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 31.—(Special.)—Joseph Keening, a wealthy real estate owner of Brookline, Mass., wants a wife, and to get one will resort to advertising in Toronto. He tried it about a year ago, and had a big bunch of answers, but none suited.

Now he has had printed a number of circulars bearing his picture, which will go in the mails to Toronto to a list of claimed eligibles, and it being leap year he expects this time to be successful.

Mr. Keening is the owner of "Honeymoon Flats," a fine apartment house, near the parkway in Brookline, and this will be the home of the bride. The circulars bear a large black head-line, reading, "Rich Brookline Man Wants Wife, the centre being adorned with a large photographic likeness of the advertiser.

Death of Mr. Rimer.
WINNIPEG, Dec. 31.—(Special.)—Francis W. Rimer of Kilgour, Rimer & Co., died to-day.

NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Jan. 1, 1908.
Municipal elections.
Vote for the power by-law.
Services at Presbyterian Churches, 10 a.m.
Methodist Sunday Schools, rally, Massey Hall, 10.30.
Poultry Show—St. Andrew's Market, 10 a.m.
Canary Show, King Edward Hotel, afternoon and evening.
Reception at government house, 4 to 6 p.m.
Salvation Army supper to children, 5 p.m.
Massey Hall, popular concert, 8 p.m.

The World wishes its 65,000 readers of to-day a Most Happy and Prosperous New Year.

In regard to watch-night services, it is worthy of note perhaps that the time used in each railway zone is not really true time in any place except at one point. Now, Toronto time is just 17 minutes and 38 seconds faster than true time, and as the hour when the service is announced to close at St. James' Cathedral last night is 12:15, the new year was not actually begun when the celebration of its advent has already been concluded. This, by some may be considered a small matter, but when an event is being observed and people are taking some trouble to observe it, it is too much to ask that no attempt should be made to run the universe on railway time, convenient and commendable as it is for the ordinary purposes of life? For instance, when the end of the 19th and the beginning of the 20th century was celebrated, the congregation left St. James' Cathedral at 12:15 exactly, if the clock was accurate, or, at all events, somewhere about two minutes before the true time. A former porridge and bread complaint was investigated by the Dominion government and found to be without foundation.

"I don't believe it," said the director. "Camp three is well provisioned. It is one of Chandler's own camps and they get fresh meat, pie, cake, fresh bread, first-class diet. I expect these men loafed around and were dismissed by the foreman, as they admitted, and then made up a story to save their face."

"This is the first time we have been able to induce a railway contractor to take English labor, and it will probably be the last."

The department considers that in view of the fact that 70,000 men were located in Ontario in 1907, the complaints have been exceedingly few.

CONFESSION DENIED.

Rochette Made No Statement Whatever to Police.

MONTREAL, Dec. 31.—(Special.)—Detective McCaskill, who reached here this evening with Omer Rochette and his wife, en route for Quebec, denies emphatically the report that Rochette confessed to him that he had poisoned his former wife. So far neither the man nor woman has made any statement whatever.

CAN NOT SEE PRISONERS.

A deputation of women of the Free Methodist Church waited on the police commissioners at the city hall yesterday, asking that missionaries be allowed to visit prisoners in the cells before their appearance in court. This was refused.

The chief's annual report showed an increase of $500 in street pedlars', billiard, pawnshop and second-hand licenses for 1907 over the previous year.

WANT DR. BATES.

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 31.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. Bates has been asked by the authorities of McMaster University to act as agent for the university in presenting its claims through the province.

The congregation will decide the matter Sunday.

BELL WILL SELL TO MANITOBA

Province Will Pay $3,750,000 for Business as a Going Concern.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 31.—(Special.)—The death knell of the Bell Telephone Co. west of the lakes has been sounded, as to-night Premier Roblin gave out an interview announcing that the government has concluded a bargain with the Bell and has bought its plant and business for $3,750,000. In addition the government purchases supplies and equipment to the amount of $100,000.

The government pays for the property by forty-year four per cent. debentures of the province at par value. The premier said that they were endeavoring to have all necessary documents completed by Jan. 15.

He stated that it was the intention to operate the system by a commission, so as to be entirely free from partyism.

A special meeting of the shareholders of the Bell Telephone Co. will be called for Jan. 10 to ratify the arrangement.

The meeting is merely a matter of form as the parent Bell Telephone Company of the United States owns fifty-one per cent. of stock in the Canadian Company, and have already ratified the action of President C. F. Sise, who carried through the negotiations with the representatives of the Manitoba Government.

With some matters still to be adjusted, the purchase price, it is estimated, will be $3,750,000, compared with $4,000,000, which the Bell asked, when the negotiations were opened. The transaction looks like a very profitable one for the shareholders of the Bell Telephone Company, and it would be very easy for the company to pay them a very handsome bonus out of profits of the transaction.

SEVERAL C.N.R. CHANGES.

Retirement of General Manager Spicer followed by Announcement.

Several important changes in the officials of the Canadian Northern Railway go into effect to-day.

Frederick M. Spield, superintendent of the Canadian Northern Ontario Railway, has been promoted to the position of general superintendent of the Canadian Northern Quebec Railway. In this position he succeeds A. J. Gorrie, who has resigned.

Mr. Spald's former position with C.N.O.R. will be taken by A. J. Hill, formerly chief clerk in the Canadian Northern Railway offices here.

The position held by Mr. C. W. Spencer, general manager of the MacKenzie and Mann lines east of the Ontario Provinces, controlled by the Canadian Northern, and will make his headquarters at Halifax. The Ontario and Quebec divisions, however, will be directly to the head office in Toronto, an arrangement in accordance with the policy of the company to centralize its offices in Toronto.

PRINCE CONFESSES TO MURDER

Sensational Climax to Shooting of Mayor Von Schoenbeck.

ALLENSTEIN, East Prussia, Dec. 31.—Prince Von Goeben, a distinguished officer in the Prussian branch of the German army, has caused a sensation in military circles by confessing that he is the author of the mysterious murder of Major Von Schoenbeck, a brother officer, who was shot dead on Christmas Day.

Von Goeben will be tried by court-martial, and if found guilty he will be executed by shooting in his own garriçon.

Major Von Schoenbeck, returning home at a late hour, Christmas night, heard some one descending the stairway leading from his wife's room. Drawing his revolver he went to meet the intruder and fled to shoot him. The revolver, however, missed the major, and Von Goeben then killed the major and made his escape.

HURT IN ISLAND TUNNEL.

Andrew Prouski, a Pole, who comes from Niagara Falls, a workman in the city end of the waterworks tunnel at the foot of John-street, was slightly injured yesterday afternoon by being jammed between the hoist buckets and the side of the shaft. His legs were injured. He was taken to St. Michael's Hospital.

THE RIGHT SORT.

"A New Year's message," said J. L. Englehart, chairman of the T. and N. O. commission last night. "Certainly, A Happy New Year to everybody and vote for the power by-law."

THE NEW YEAR.

Start it right. Keep it right and it will end right. This is the new year. The best wishes of Dineen's, the hat-makers and furriers, go with you to the end of it. Happiness and prosperity are almost synonymous terms, and the best wish Dineen's can extend to you is every one of you a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

CATARACT CO. ANXIOUS APPOINT SCRUTINEERS

Mayor Urges Electors to Support Power By-law—Will Save City $22,000 a Year.

HAMILTON, Ont., Dec. 31.—(Special.)—As proof that the Cataract Power Company, in spite of its boasts to the contrary, dreads the introduction of cheap government power, Mayor Stewart stated at a meeting this evening at the Twenty-first Century Club that the company had applied to the city clerk this afternoon to have a scrutineer appointed for every polling booth in the city to watch the vote on the power by-law in the interests of the company.

The mayor urged the electors to pass the by-law, claiming that the city would save at least $22,000 a year by installing its own power and lighting plant. Ald. Sweeney presided at the meeting and several aldermanic candidates spoke. They all favored the passing of the by-law. Those who spoke were: Ald. Dickson, Farrar, McLachlan and W. O. DOES THIS INTEREST YOU?

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, attributes a great deal of his success to the following simple vegetable prescription:

One ounce Fluid Extract
Dandelion;
One ounce Compound Sals-
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla.

Mix, shake well, and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Your druggist can supply the ingredients, and the mixture can be prepared at home at very little expense.

This, the doctor says, acts directly on the kidneys, assisting them to filter the poisons from the blood and expels same in the urine, at the same time restoring the kidneys to healthy, normal action.

We feel that a great many readers will be pleased to test the simple prescription, and knowing the ability of the physician whose formula it is, we do not hesitate to recommend it to any sufferer.

HIS LIFE WAS THREATENED.

So Bertie Gregory Alleged, in Suing W. R. Travers.

An action for $10,000 damages was yesterday commenced by "County" Bertie Gregory against W. R. Travers for alleged conspiracy to injure him in his business.

Gregory claims that he entered into an arrangement with Travers, as manager of the Farmers' Bank, whereby Gregory was to buy horses and Travers was to honor his cheques and share in profits.

Gregory alleges that Travers suggested a scheme to purchase horses throughout the country and by dishonestly his notes to deceive his vendors of their purchase money. Because he refused to do so, he earned defendant's ill-will and has been harassed in every conceivable way. His affidavit says:

"On one occasion I was at my home when a man enquired for me and said, 'I am sent by Travers to say that he will have your life or your freedom.' The next morning I received an anonymous postcard saying, 'You have swindled one of our judges. We shall either have your life or freedom. Death to the Jesuits, or freedom you don't want. I verily believe the said handwriting is that of the defendant Travers.'

"Two of three days afterwards I received a note in what I believe is the defendant, Travers', handwriting, stating, 'You are watched until death. You are still in my power. If you leave to-day, forever, Canada, we shall be lenient and forget you; if not your life. We stand so high that no one will hurt us and all the money your sister may send you will be for her life.'

"The said defendant has instigated the police to prosecute me and I have been watched through Inspector Duncan, that if I preferred any charge against the said defendant I would be arrested for vagrancy."

NEW SAYING OF CHRIST RECOVERED IN EGYPT

Fragment Belongs to 16th Chapter of St. Mark—Destruction of Sin at Hand.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The Daily News to-day says: A new saying of Christ's lost to the world for thirteen centuries and found in Egypt, was given to the world to-day by Prof. Henry A. Sanders, of the University of Michigan, addressing the members of the Archaeological Institute, now in session at the University of Chicago. The fragment is part of an old Bible dating back to the Moslem conquest of Egypt and on its face so authentic as to disarm hostile criticism.

The long lost fragment belongs to the sixteenth chapter of the Gospel of St. Mark and follows the fourteenth verse. It relates to the story of Christ's appearance, following his death, to seven of his apostles in Jerusalem.

With the new verse as the fourteenth in the Gospel of St. Mark the Bible reads:

"And they answered saying that this age of unrighteousness and unbelief is under the power of Satan who does not permit the things which are made impure by the (evil) spirits to comprehend the truth of God and His power. For this reason, 'reveal thy righteousness now,' they said to Christ, and Christ said to them: 'The limit of the power of Satan has been fulfilled, but other terrible things are at hand, and I was delivered unto death on behalf of those who turn their backs on the truth and sin no more to the end that they may inherit the spiritual, indestructible glory of righteousness which is in heaven.'"

This newly discovered paragraph was known to Jerome and the first few lines of it are cited in Latin translations. It has long been claiming to be Mark xvi, 8-20, was an addition to the gospel borrowed from some other unknown gospel near the end of the second century. This new manuscript probably presents the original form of that part of the lost gospel which, mutilated, was added to Mark's text. The fragment is quite apparent, as the new verse contains the statement that the destruction of sin in the world is near at hand.

"This idea is found in the Epistles of Peter and Paul, but the four gospels do not have it, and it is avoided by the later church writers."

Prof. Sanders declared that the new found manuscript also contains what is known as the liturgical ending of the Lord's Prayer.

The text was found, he said, by Charles L. Fraser, of Detroit, who was traveling in Egypt and searching for additions to his art collection.

LAW GOES TO TRIAL

Further Evidence Taken Concerning Construction of Company.

Frank Law of Law & Co. was sent up for trial on a charge of conspiracy by Magistrate Kingsford in the afternoon court yesterday. Bail of $20,000 was renewed.

Howard Beatty of St. Catharines knew the Highland Mary claims, Gordon Hodgins had sent him to Larder Lake to arrange the stake, but he found that the claims were not properly staked. He had spent $500 or $600 on the deal, but had nothing out of it. He did not know of any sale to Law & Co., nor had he received any money for these from any one. He still retained his right and title to the properties.

Walter Abendroth was recalled. He explained a cheque for $200 he gave to the Ontario Mining News in June, as an advance made to the paper by Lockhart Russell.

A large number of letters from clients enquiring about Highland Mary were put in as exhibits.

Edward B. Stockdale, assistant manager of the Trusts and Guarantee Co., said that his firm had acted as registrars and transfer agents of the Blue Bell stock.

The monies received from the sales of this stock went into Law & Co.'s special account, which amounted to $100,000 and were disbursed by cheques made by Law & Co.

Mr. Stockdale then went into the agreement with Law & Co. regarding the sale of Lucky Boys' stock. One million shares of this mine were put on the market at 6 cents a share. The sale of Lucky Boys' stock amounted to $57,750, which was also drawn out by Law & Co. within a short time after the sale of this money had gone to the Lucky Boys Mining Co. The company had an agreement with the Silver Bird Mining Co., also which provided for one-third of the treasury stock to be sold, and two-thirds of the well-mined stock. The mine was owned by W. L. Russell stock. The mine was capitalized at $1,500,000, of which Russell owned $1,000,000; $500,000 worth of Silver Bird was bought up. Three accounts opened, one for Russell, one for Law & Co., and one for the Silver Bird Mining Co. The cheques made by Russell against the Silver Bird Company were produced.

"Did the public know about these inside deals regarding these mines," asked his worship. "If they did and went into it blind it is their own fault."

Crown Attorney Price argued that he did not think the public were aware of this, but Mr. Lennox explained that the advertisements showed that these treasure stocks amounted to 200,000 shares.

Recalled again Mr. Abendroth said that the last meeting of the executive of Silver Bird was held last February. There had not been any general meeting of the shareholders since. Witness said that $15,000 was deposited to the credit of Silver Bird Cobalt Mining Co. in the Bank of Commerce at Cobalt. FARMER BRUTON MURDERED

Room Where Body Was Found Scene of Terrible Struggle.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Dec. 31.—John Bruton, a farmer living four miles north of Churchville, was found dead to-day under peculiar circumstances, and the entire village is aroused, and believes that it will ultimately prove to be a case of murder.

The room in which the body was found shows signs of having been the scene of a terrific struggle. Furniture was broken, everything was in disorder, and in the midst of the wreckage lay the body of the dead man.

VOTE FOR THE COMMON GOOD.

Every qualified voter who has a spark of civic patriotism should not fall to-day to cast his ballot in favor of the power bylaw. It is a duty he owes himself and his fellow-citizens, whose cause is involved in the issue now submitted. The agencies that are flooding Toronto with frantic appeals to turn down the power policy of the provincial government are not in the game for public motives or for the public good. They are simply the hands open or unopened of the electric ring, who are this morning trembling in their shoes in fear that the bylaw will receive the imprimatur of the citizens.

Electors who have sided up the situation for themselves and who are free from personal bias cannot but recognize that an overwhelming weight of argument has been offered in favor of the bylaw. Indeed, no serious attempt has been made to meet the contention that before the city council can negotiate on equal terms with the Toronto Electric Light Company the citizens must unequivocally declare themselves resolved, in default of a fair and reasonable arrangement, to have a municipal distributing plant established. Without authority to do that the city will be no better off than it has been, and its efforts to secure cheap electric light and power will be equally inefficacious.

Let the voters remember that if the Electric Light Company had been thrust out as willing as it now professes to be to enter into negotiations with the city, there was nothing whatever to prevent it. But the game the electric ring was playing did not permit of this. Its one object has been to prevent confirmation of the government's power policy by securing either withdrawal or defeat of the bylaw. Filled in the first, it has concentrated its efforts on the second, conscious that the affirmative vote of the electors will deprive it of the advantage it has hitherto enjoyed. There is no public man of standing and independence who has not advised, in the strongest possible way, that the bylaw should be carried. The opponents of the bylaw are the electric ring, its subject companies and their multitudinous hirelings. Those who vote for the bylaw vote for the common good—those who vote against it themselves with the monopolists that seek to sew up the city for private profit.

SECOND CHAMBERS IN EUROPE.

In connection with the proposed reform of the house of lords, the house of commons in July last ordered a return showing the manner in which second chambers are constituted in other European countries, particularly those into which the hereditary principle enters. A White Paper recently issued by the foreign office in pursuance of that order contains a number of reports made by British representatives abroad respecting the composition and functions of second or upper chambers, and it is curious to notice that while Britain leads Europe—Switzerland excepted—in the democratic character of its constitution, it is alone in the almost exclusively hereditary basis of its second chamber. But the limitation or elimination of the hereditary principle does not apparently relieve the relations between the two houses. In all countries there have been and are disputes and in not a few a prolonged struggle over a matter long ago settled in British communities—the command of the national exchequer.

In Austria the upper house consists of from 248 to 268 members, and of these not less than 150 or more than 170 must be like peers, nominated by the emperor, who have distinguished themselves in politics, art, science, or rendered any signal service to church or state. There have been practically no friction between the two houses. In case of disagreement, a joint committee is formed.

As to Hungary, the upper chamber consists of hereditary peers, members who sit by right of office (including Roman Catholic, Greek Church and Protestant bishops), and those who sit by right of royal appointment. There have been no recent disputes between the two chambers. Cabinet ministers have seats in both houses.

The Belgian Senate is elected by the people as to 53 members, 27 members being returned by the county councils. Any disputes that have arisen have been settled by compromise and the exercise of common sense.

In Denmark the second chamber of 66 members consists of 54 members elected for eight years, and 12 members nominated by the king for life. The King of Italy appoints for life as senators men proposed by his ministers and selected from 21 categories. The senators now number 241. There have been disputes, but never a conflict between the two chambers.

The Netherlands upper house consists of 59 members elected by the provincial states. In Prussia the upper house consists of hereditary peers, elected representatives of the lesser landowners and ecclesiastical chapters, representatives of the universities and larger towns and life peers nominated by the king.

AT OSGOODE HALL

Writes issued at Osgoode Hall. A. McDougall & Co. have issued a writ against M. Krystal of Toronto, to recover $22.12, upon the balance of an account for merchandise sold.

Three promissory notes amounting in all to $2098.42, are the cause of an action begun by the Trust and Guarantee Co. against John Ferguson.

Abraham Charwinsky of Toronto is claiming $2000 damages from S. Teperman, for alleged defamation and slander to goods.

Peter Ryan is asking the court to have an account taken of the partnership dealings between himself and Joseph Ruse of Calgary, and David J. Johnston of Toronto, and also to have the affairs of the partnership wound up.

John H. Vivian has been made defendant in an action brought by the Bank of Montreal to recover $308.78, on certain overdue promissory notes.

H. S. Laycock of Halleybury has taken proceedings against Frank M. Perry of Toronto, to recover $252.60, for certain services rendered.

A QUARTER CENTURY OF "THE MESSIAH"

Notable Incidents of the 25th Rendition of This Famous Oratorio.

The 25th rendition of the Messiah under the direction of Dr. F. H. Torrington in Massey Hall on Monday evening last, was marked by several notable and distinctive events. The large audience assembled is worthy of note—a compliment to the musical talent of Professor Torrington and his fine body of musicians. The solo singing of Mr. E. C. Towne of Chicago and Mrs. Shanna Cumming of New York, and none the less that of our own local artists, Mrs. Grace Carter-Merry, and Mr. H. Ruthven McDonald, were outstanding features of the program. The presence of His Worship Mayor Coatsworth towards the close of the performance and his presentation to Professor Torrington on behalf of the city council of an illuminated address, expressive of the great appreciation of Toronto citizens for this father of music, was a happy break in the program. Then followed the presentation of a second address and a handsome easy chair, by Mr. E. W. Schuch, on behalf of the musicians of Toronto. This was something likely to be forgotten by Professor Torrington. In no small measure, holding a first place in the eyes of the audience, who watched one feature after another in the program, was the splendid assistance given to the whole program from start to finish, through the use of a fine concert grand piano of Heintzman & Co. The pianist of the evening was Miss Dottie Blair, who did creditable work on the venerable piano—one that is never in the choice of leading artists, not even in Toronto, but in the various musical centres of the Dominion.

NOT DOMINION RADIATOR CO.

Regrettable Confusion of Names Which Might Lead to Harm.

A regrettable error in the legal reports of yesterday confused the name of the Dominion Radiator Company with that of the Canada Radiator Company, in the report of proceedings to enforce a guarantee in favor of the Canada Radiator Company. The World hastens to retract and apologize for the mistake. The Dominion Radiator Company, Limited, is one of the most widely and favorably known and solidly established industries in the country, but the substitution of the word "Dominion" for the word "Canada" in the report, a mistake brought about by the Bank against certain guarantors for the Canada Radiator Company might give rise to inferences and impressions that would be altogether unjust to an industry which occupies the high position of the Dominion Radiator Company, Limited. The World regrets that the name of the Dominion Radiator Company, Limited, has been dragged into a report of litigation which involved the affairs of another industry.

TO PREVENT ADULTERATION.

The executive of the Ontario Retail Hardware Merchants' Association decided yesterday to hold a convention in Toronto, Feb. 11 to 14. It was decided to ask the manufacturers of paints and leads to plainly label their products as to quality, so as to prevent adulteration.

Gough Bros.' Clearing Sale.

Commencing on Thursday morning Messrs. Gough Bros. inaugurate one of the biggest and most important clearing sales that have ever taken place in this city. Over $50,000 worth of goods must be cleared in a few weeks. There will be a single item in the big stock that will ensure the determination of the firm to reduce in price. Clothing, gents' furnishings, boots and shoes, furs, etc., must all go. There is no help for it, says the manager. The stock is double what it should be in January, and the money is better to us than stock, even at half its value. Every day from now on will see extraordinary price cuts, and no man or woman can afford to miss the great opportunities this mammoth sale offers. On Thursday morning the great event will start. See advertisement in another column.

The National Life Assurance Company of Canada.

The year 1907 was a prosperous one for the National Life Assurance Company of Canada. The business written was over $2,100,000 (two million one hundred thousand dollars), the largest business in the history of the company. Business in force is about $7,000,000. The assets now amount to $900,000. The interest earnings more than paid all death claims, and not a dollar of death claims approved was unpaid. No interest, principal on any of their investments was unpaid or overdue.

Happy New Year To You TO-DAY --New Year's Day--The Store Will Not be Opened

Linens and Cottons Swing Into Line

This section, one of the departments that organized the January Sale, takes upon itself the pleasure of offering extraordinary values for the first day of the sale, that things may go with a swing and a rush.

And every housewife should heed the warning that present market prices give. We know that the piles of linens and cottons that go into this "keep busy" January Sale, cost us considerably less when ordered last February, than they would have done to-day, or last month, or six months ago.

And we've cut them to a price that no thoughtful woman will ignore. Everyone of these first day's offerings is a truly sensational one—any woman will readily see this who cares to examine. We've marked the quantities, too—some will probably go with a rush, so it is wise on this great opening day to shop at 8 o'clock, isn't it? And these are but few from many you'll be guided to by the price tickets.

The sentences carry with them the loss of all political rights.

RECEPTION AND BANQUET.

President of Massey-Harris Co. Guest at Pleasant Function.

The home-coming of the Hon. L. Melvin-Jones, president of the Massey-Harris Co., after a three months' trip in Europe, was the occasion last night of a reception and banquet, tendered to Mr. Jones by the directors of the company, who took this occasion of bringing together the heads of the various departments in the offices and factories, including the foremen from both Toronto and Brantford works. Nearly 100 sat down.

C. D. Massey, honorary president of the company, occupied the chair. J. Kerr Osborne, vice-president, proposed the health of the president, which was replied to at length by Mr. Jones, who related his experiences on his recent trip, which extended far into Russia, and which resulted in the securing of some very large orders for machines to be used in Siberia, a part of the world which is practically new ground to the Massey-Harris Co.

Mr. Jones took occasion to say much that was practicable as to the requirements in agricultural implements of the various countries he visited, and also as to the great responsibility that rested upon the foremen and employees themselves to see that only the best material and the best of work entered into the construction of machines that are not taken out of the boxes into which they are put in an apparatus until they reach the farms many thousands of miles in the interior, and often many miles from a railroad.

In addition to the directors and employees of the company there were present as representing the shareholders Dr. Elmore Harris of this city, Lloyd Harris and W. S. Winner of Brantford, and J. D. Patterson of Woodstock.

taught all the politics they knew by himself. "If there is anything I want for the people, you can guarantee I'll stay on the job and get it somehow," he declared, as he discussed the power by-law, and his record in the legislature. He had been fighting for years for cheap power and other public advantages. He had been fighting the electric ring and the gas company, and that was why the Globe opposed him now. He said the objection that he thought they would be able to get together on the Electric Light Company's plan after the by-law was passed.

Geary at Ayre's Hall.

Majority Candidates Geary addressed 150 of his supporters at Ayre's Hall last night. The meeting was called for the purpose of arranging for the naming of the polls to-day, of the evening was taken up with that work. Those Gearing presided. He said the real fight was between Geary and Oliver, and that the Oliver vote in the power platform was to be feared. It was not a political struggle, the Mr. Oliver had issued a card appealing for votes as the Liberal candidate, the Mr. Geary said he relied on the quiet, solid vote of the citizens. There had been a tremendous slump in the past two days from two to three o'clock. He said the people would not be deceived by the candidate who laid his whole bulk on the power platform. He had the support of such men as Cecil B. Smith and A. C. Pratt, M.L.A., who had given a great deal of study to the power question.

A Freak Bet.

There may be a funny sight along Queen-street to-morrow afternoon. It has been bet that the mayor, Freeman, a barber, at 1208 West Queen-street, and G. R. Coboy, waiter at the Hotel Gladstone, that if Oliver elected mayor, Coboy will wheel Freeman in a wheelbarrow along Queen-street to Yonge, down Yonge to The World office, leaving the Gladstone at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and if Nesbitt is elected Freeman will wheel Coboy. Fred Donovan of Foxley-street will furnish the wheelbarrow and retrograde.

Up to the Retail Merchant.

E. M. Travers, secretary of the Toronto branch of the Retail Merchants' Association, has issued a statement, saying: "For years in Toronto the retail merchants have been paying the big end of the Toronto Electric Light Co.'s receipts. They have been the largest users of light and have received very little consideration from the company. Most of the large public buildings and a few of the very large retail stores produce their own light, which they claim costs them about half what they would have to pay to the Electric Light Company. This makes competition all the keener and adds to the expense of doing business. But, notwithstanding that in the aggregate the retail merchants pay over three times what all the other classes pay, and in so doing they help to lighten up our dark streets with electric signs and window displays, which charge a high rate, than those householders who use little and who are scattered about at long distances from one another, and which do not produce their own light. The retail merchant has had to pay a handsome price to secure light to exhibit his goods, and the company, who they understand, the merchants as their best friends, seem to have regarded them as creatures for their convenience and looked upon them as the right class to charge high rates. When complaints have been made of the high rate charged, they offer a reduction at the rate of 10 per cent. on a five-year contract, which is evidence on the face of it that the rate could be made less if they so desired."

IMMIGRANTS COMPLAIN.

Teal Chatham Board Kind of Work They Want.

CHATHAM, Dec. 31.—When the Chatham Board of Trade filed up their chapters in the market building last night they found their quarters already taken possession of by between 25 and 30 immigrants. These men claimed that they could not get work, and seemed to take a great deal of pleasure out of abusing this country. They said that they were told before coming out here that they would get a shilling an hour for every hour they worked. On arriving here they found that a shilling in this country only amounted to twelve and one-half cents, whereas they understood the same as it is in England. When some of the board suggested that these men look for work on the farms surrounding Chatham they became quite indignant, and said that they did not come to this country to work on farms. They said that the manufacturers of Chatham would have to hire them before spring, or there would be a small revolution in this section of the country.

AN INCIPIENT RIOT.

Crowd Attempts to Release Prisoner From Military Guard.

Private Joe Green, R.C.D., was engaged last evening in seeing out the old year in such a hilarious manner that Patrolman Robson (307) found it necessary to lock him up in No. 1. The fort was notified and Corporal Mansfield with a detail of men came to look him in charge. They were passing down Bay-street when the Gaiety let out. The crowd immediately surrounded the prisoner and broke away from his captors. A continuous running brawl then occurred, the crowd continuously growing as they moved down Bay from the assistance of two patrolmen, succeeded in getting the prisoner into The Mall office. Green, who is a Frenchman, and has a personal feud with Mansfield, several epithets, struck Mansfield repeatedly in the face before he could be overpowered and handcuffed. After considerable excitement he was taken to the fort in a cab.

During the slight depression now existing in the market many persons heretofore accustomed to indulging on New Year's Day in champagne feel they must doar themselves with such, they are offered an excellent substitute for champagne will be of interest, the following is the recipe: Get some "Fisherman" Scotch whisky, rye whisky, place some quart bottles of radkey water on the ice for several hours before uncorking, place rye and Fisherman in different bottles, filling with radkey water. The mixture, served in thin hock or claret glasses, will be just as much appreciated as champagne.

COCKBURN NEVER TRIED

solicitor, and I did no solicitor's work."

"Basis of Claim."

"Your claim is wholly as counsel fees."

"Yes; my charge is dependent on the whole work and the results obtained."

"It sort of grew from time to time?"

"Yes, with the importance of the work. The entries do not cover the work."

"Then there is no way of checking your work?"

"Counsel's accounts are impossible to check."

"What was Mr. Cockburn paying for?"

"His defence, my qualifying to defend him and getting his discharge."

"Interviewing?"

"Yes, that was what I was asked to do. I went to police court and got the information on Oct. 18."

"What persons did you see?"

"One I know, that I saw was Mr. Corley. That is distinct to my mind. I saw him to ascertain the course of the prosecution. If my client had properly appreciated my services, he would have sent me a cheque for $10,000. I was personally obliged, for reasons which may appear later, to keep my own counsel all through the defence with regard to things I did which had to be done."

"I should imagine he hardly knew what you were doing?"

"Yes, he did, because he used to come into my office from time to time and say, 'For God's sake, Arnoldi, do the best you can for me, and you have a chance of making your reputation forever if you get this thru. He used to cry and all that sort of stuff nearly every day.'"

"Often Stopped on Street."

"The day the fact that I had been retained was announced in the papers, I could not walk in the streets without meeting people who wanted to talk to me; that was part of my duty."

"That is charged for?"

"Yes; I felt grave responsibility. I felt that if they touched a hair of Cockburn's head it would send him to his grave. It was a case of a man in a high position and anxious to hold it. That was one of the first duties he imposed on me, to try and leave him in a position where he could hold the presidency of the Consumers' Gas Co. and the London and Canadian Loan and Agency Co., and others. 'Give me the very best you can, Arnoldi,' he would say."

"Were you retained as counsel or as a sort of family friend?"

"I have told you I don't say anything of a family friend part of it."

"You were retained also to help him hold the presidency of the London and Canadian Co.?"

"Yes. He wanted me to use my position to back him up. I was solicitor of the company. I was acquainted with the whole board and could give an opinion that he would be acquitted and minimize the charges."

"And did you give that opinion?"

"I did."

"In writing?"

"Yes. I want to say here that when it came to the question of having any actual intercourse or dealing with the affairs of the London and Canadian Co., or any actual relations with the board, I refused to act for him, as the docket shows."

"Did you spend any time interviewing people to help him retain the presidency of the London and Canadian Co.?"

"At his request, I did. I had a short talk with Mr. Wadsworth; of course I was solicitor of the company, so that I did speak to the company in that capacity where Mr. Cockburn stood."

"Not representing Mr. Cockburn?"

"Oh, yes."

"And who else?"

"I can't recall. How do you mean?"

"There was nothing professional in that case, because I declined to act in that respect and have not charged for that. When I found it conflicted with my duty as solicitor of the company I refused to act."

"Is it an element in the charge?"

"I think it is a consideration that I was used as a family friend to ascertain where Mr. Cockburn stood. I may have seen others, too, but only to find the feeling."

"That did not amount to much, did it?"

"No, but it satisfied him, and he asked it."

"Saw Mr. Kingsford."

"You make a charge, Nov. 3, where Mr. Kingsford's name is mentioned?"

"Yes."

"I went specially to Mr. Kingsford's house, if I recollect aright. I wanted to know the exact practice followed in the police court in respect to several points. Mr. Kingsford was assistant magistrate and I thought it quite proper for me to ask the charges usually followed. One question I discussed was the proper time to elect and generally in what cases to elect, and the condition of the whole matter in the case court, etc."

"Was that a charge?"

"Yes."

"It was not mere education in police court practice for you?"

"No, I could read police court statutes as well as Mr. Kingsford."

"And why did you see Mr. Kingsford?"

"Because I was in doubt whether it would prejudice him, if I did not elect at that stage."

"Why consult him, and not some lawyer skilled in criminal work?"

"Just as you would go to the master in chambers. I would have asked Col. Denison that same day without hesitation, except that he wasn't in the city, and Mr. Kingsford's house is near mine."

"What is all that took place in Mr. Kingsford's house?"

"Yes."

"Consultation or practice?"

"And expediency and tactics?"

"Case Not Discussed."

"How could you discuss that without discussing the case?"

"It was not necessary to discuss tactics with him. I was discussing that in my own mind. Mr. Kingsford was instructing me in tactics. He was telling me the actual facts of his experience in the police court, that was all."

"HAVE YOU A HORSE?"

If you want to keep him in shape, never let him suffer pain. Rub on "Nerviline"—it is noted for curing strains, swellings and stiffness and sore muscles. For internal use in curing cramps and colic. Nerviline is a perfect marvel. In every good training stable you'll find Nerviline because it keeps horses fit and reduces the veterinary bill. Farmers, stockmen and all horse owners should buy Nerviline and prove how invaluable it is. Good for man or beast; 25c. for bottle at all dealers.

"He was not trying the McGill case, was he?"

"No."

"And you think it a fair charge?"

"I don't include it as a charge. You may as well drop that. There is no specific charge."

"Interviews with Messrs. Walmesley, Flatt, Ferry and Glass appear in your bill?"

"Yes."

"The same charge in the bill to directors, including Mr. Cockburn?"

"I am not aware of it; they are not charges, but entries."

"On Nov. 12 you entered under Cockburn in your docket, 'watching McGill case all day. At 11 this morning with Walmesley, Flatt, Ferry and Glass, in county attorney's room, in consultation with F. A. and retaining him.'"

"Yes."

"Does the directors' bill duplicate? Is it all charged to Mr. Cockburn?"

"Cockburn is charged for the benefit he derived."

"On the 18th you put in particulars of interview discussing the publication as to loan to the defendant from the bank. What connection had that with the charge?"

"It was prejudicing the defendant."

"With whom?"

"Everybody, particularly with the magistrate."

"How do you know that?"

"I was in court and heard what took place. Questions had been asked, despite my protest, which gave a complexion of a loan transaction on some shares of Mr. Cockburn from the bank, which made it look like downright fraud. The papers got hold of it and magnified it next day. I asked permission to contradict the witness, but was not allowed to interfere. Mr. Corley or the magistrate suggested that I formulate a set of questions for Mr. Corley to put to witnesses, and I did this. Mr. Cockburn asked me to get proper story in papers. I saw the reporters and did so after considerable trouble."

"What was your interview with Mr. Corley, about Nov. 14?"

"I was in relation to asking these questions."

"Drafted a Speech."

"Nov. 19, consultation about preparing a speech made for Mr. Cockburn. That does not look like counsel work? Do you consider it so?"

"I should think it was. He was to make a speech in public on these very matters relating to the charge against him covering the whole ground. I prepared this for him."

"You had an interview on that day with Mr. Corley. What was that about?"

"That had something to do with going on with the case, or with the relation of one case with the other. There was always something of that kind cropping up."

"What is the interview with George Taylor Denison about?"

"The conduct of the cases; to the time fixed; to the relation of one case to the other. I was exceedingly anxious to manoeuvre it so that Mr. Cockburn's case should come behind McGill's, and I had many interviews with that in view. I would see Col. Denison one day and talk with him about an interview I saw Mr. Corley about, or perhaps sometimes I would see them both together and find out their intentions, but never with the suggestion from me as to what they should do."

"You weren't there simply to find out what their ideas were?"

"A Point in View."

"As to what their attitude was, and then I would take the position on certain facts or circumstances or appointments or something of that kind to gain my point—keeping Mr. Cockburn's case behind McGill's."

"That is not to have it tried until McGill's was disposed of?"

"Yes, and there was a danger of its being otherwise several times. You know that as well as I do. In trying to arrange it I found that the more pressure I brought on Mr. Cockburn to have that done the more he resisted it. I had a very delicate business to perform."

"Then on the 29th what was your object in seeing the magistrate?"

"To find out what he proposed to do and when he proposed to try the case and what his intentions were."

"Did you say you did not disclose your object?"

"I did not discuss more than the possibility with him and then I laid my own plans accordingly afterward."

"What possibility?"

"As to when he would reach the case."

"And what do you mean by 'laying your plans accordingly?'"

"I would be here at one moment and there at another. I would see a witness wasn't there. I had an abstract of the proceedings in the police court from Mr. Corley and kept in touch with all that took place."

"And neither Mr. Corley nor Mr. Denison knew what your object was?"

"No."

"Services Beyond Measure."

"Apparently the first date you appeared on the trial was Nov. 1."

"Yes. I may say that nothing Mr. Cockburn could possibly do for me would measure the services I rendered him, because the case went before a judge. Mr. Cockburn would not be in the next world."

"You told me the other day that you were manoeuvring in the police court before Col. Denison and that he didn't know you were manoeuvring? How would the police court proceedings disclose it?"

"I say I kept the case from going before the grand jury; that was the effect of it."

"Who were they you saw with reference to his retaining or losing the office of president of the Gas Co.?"

"I saw one or two people. I also saw Sir Mortimer Clark. I went specially to the government house to see him one evening. I also saw Mr. Blaikie."

"Did he have any knowledge that you were going to see these gentlemen?"

"I conveyed the information to him as gracefully as I could."

"After the case was over, and he was discharged, had you changed your opinion from the opinion you gave on Nov. 6?"

"I had found out certain things that were very dangerous to him."

"I would like you to explain."

"They are not capable of explanation."

"You say that on March 1 there was a reason for his withdrawing himself?"

"Yes."

"What was the reason?"

"For the reason that I had heard that the crown officers had been discussing the question."

"Did you hear anything from anyone else as to a further prosecution?"

"I did, in an anonymous way. I can't recall how it was, but there was something stirring up. You must remember that I was the centre of a continuous flow of people that wanted to talk to me."

AS ONE OF YOUR ALDERMEN

To My Fellow Workmen

There never was a time in the history of Toronto when it was so imperative for the workingman to have strong representation in the City Council of Toronto as now.

We are informed by the city press that our factories are daily laying off their employes. If this continues, what will happen? Untold hardship. To counteract this, the workingmen must be represented in the City Council by men of personality and action, men who can grapple with any question in the interests of the workingman in case of crisis. The workingman does not want charity; he wants work—and it is for our City Council to see that he gets what he wants in case of lack of employment. On the other hand, there was never a time in the history of the workingmen, when they had such a favorable opportunity to prove to our Manufacturers and their employes that the workingman is their best friend.

I call upon the workmen of Ward 6 to stand by their employers this winter. You may have many and just grievances, but tide them over till the spring. Do not be misled by agitators, who may be only seeking cheap notoriety, at your expense. Many of your employes at the present time, owing to the stringency of the money market, are hard set enough without any further trouble to divert their minds from solving the problem of how to keep their factories running and their full staff employed. Stand by your employers this winter and help them by making them feel that you are their best friend. You will find that, at the proper time, you will accomplish and procure your just dues. Being a strong protectionist, I further call upon you to purchase this winter as much of your personal requirements as possible from your own Canadian Manufacturers. Do this and help to stimulate home trade, by creating a large demand for the products of our country, and thus, perhaps, create a position for one of your now idle workmen. Be sure you get the right brand, "Made in Canada," with the stamp of the Union Label.

proceedings, and then attending Bicknell and Bain and others; looking into matters; and ascertaining what is immediately contemplated. "There was a question of H. J. Scott starting some proceedings; he was acting for somebody." "Civil proceedings?" "Yes, I understood that he was instructed by a committee of shareholders. There were two sets of people who were continually coming to me; there were some people who sympathized with my efforts to help Mr. Cockburn, and there were others who seemed to be inclined to torture Mr. Cockburn as much as they could, and Mr. Cockburn unfortunately couldn't keep his own mouth shut the greater part of the time. He was always giving something to the newspapers, starting people up. I tell you candidly I was mortally afraid of a second prosecution of Mr. Cockburn. I don't know that anything gave me so much distress in my life. I thought he was clear when he was acquitted, but he wasn't 24 hours out before it was borne in on me that he might be brought up again. "You had learned nothing in connection with the prosecution, which would lead you to change your opinion, which you had expressed, that he

WE MUST CARRY THE POWER BY-LAW IN ORDER TO HAVE A BASIS FOR NEGOTIATION.

The Workingman Must Have Work, Why?

Because Labor is no beggar; it asks no charity. It finds its claims on justice and equity. It will be content with no less; and that it is entitled to receive.

Am I Right or Am I Wrong? It is For You to Say on January 1st.

I want the electorate of Ward 6 to protect their own interests in the coming Civic Election by casting their vote for such candidates as believe in the policy of favoring Toronto's Manufacturers, Industries and Merchants, when purchasing Civic Supplies and awarding Civic Contracts. This is a matter of Vital importance to the future welfare of the city. It means our own work for our own people; and keeping the people's money in local circulation.

Finally, I would like to state that, if the ideas I have advanced meet with your approval, I want you to express your approval by using your influence in the cause of the things I advocate. Get out amongst your friends and work in my behalf. I believe my election is assured; but this is not enough. I want to see that the ideas which you may believe in are represented at the head of the poll in Ward 6. I want volunteer electors to work for my election.

My Head Downtown Committee Room is 192 West King Street, Telephone Main 4469. I want all my supporters to rally there on New Year's Night. My residence, 65 Jameson Avenue, Telephone Park 949, will be used for the convenience of all electors who wish to work in my behalf. So now, if you are in sympathy with me, rally to my standard, and do not stop working until the last trench is captured.

Newspapers' Concert a Success. The Toronto newspapers' grand benefit concert at Massey Hall last night was a big success. The audience was large and enthusiastic and the program the largest and most varied of any popular concert ever given in Toronto. There were 51 numbers on the program. The platform was filled with 500 school children, who gave dances, choruses of the most prominent entertainers in the city, who volunteered their services.

ELECTION NOTES.

W. A. Douglas is a candidate for alderman in Ward 2, and according to his friends he will be the possessor of that title this year. Mr. Douglas is well known throughout the city, and his ideas on the questions of the day are pretty generally and favorably known. He is particularly ardent in his support of the power by-law. He is strongly recommended by many of his friends as being well qualified since he has had a long business experience, and has a special knowledge of civic affairs. Mr. Douglas may be depended upon to look after the voters in Ward 2 in every way that he possibly can.

If Ald. T. L. Church's friends only exert themselves any to-day he should head the poll to-day for alderman in Ward 2. He has a splendid record in the city council, and is progressive and capable. He is the candidate of the young men of the ward, and his three years' excellent record in council should ensure a big vote for him. He is one of the fathers of the cheap power policy in council, having two years ago carried thru council successfully a bill to expropriate the Electric Light Co., which was before the legislature last summer, and he stands for progress and efficiency.

workingman and his views as to a Greater Toronto warrant his election as alderman for Ward 6.

Mr. Egan says Toronto needs a Napoleon and he will endeavor to imitate the example of Europe's greatest conqueror. He will fight with the tenacity of the man who crossed the Alps, while others laughed at his anticipated failure. Mr. Egan will bend his efforts towards watching the interests of the workingman as did Bonaparte. "A fearless electorate casting a fearless vote for a fearless candidate" is Mr. Egan's battle cry, and it is expected that Ward 6 will stand shoulder to shoulder to a man in the interests of T. Yates Egan. One of Mr. Egan's unique ideas, providing he is elected alderman, is to hold monthly meetings of the electorate at which all important questions of the day concerning the interests of Ward 6 and the city in general will be discussed and the ideas of his electors carried out.

W. D. EARNSEY Alderman Candidate in Third Ward.

In Ward 5 Ald. R. H. Graham has a record which stands out pre-eminently. He has helped to deal with many of the large questions which have come before the council during past years. He considers the most important this year will be the power by-law, viaduct, pure water and reorganization of departments. Let the electors see that his election is assured.

One of the candidates for the position of alderman for 1908 in Ward 5 is J. T. V. May. He has had considerable municipal experience in the County of Ontario. As a builder and contractor he has had a wide and varied business experience, which should be of great value to him in helping conduct the city's affairs, should he be elected.

"I thought that Mr. Cockburn could have been put, on the first prosecution, into very great danger. I didn't try him; I don't say whether he was guilty or not. In my mind Mr. Cockburn was never tried."

"Due to you, I suppose?"

"Yes."

"That did not, of course, I suppose, prevent you sending your account to him when the matter was over?"

"Could Have Got $50,000 Once."

"No. I thought the account should have been paid in an instant. If I had asked Mr. Cockburn at that time $50,000 for his acquittal, he would have given it without a moment's hesitation."

"I worked like his devoted slave all the way thru. I never worked so hard in my life and you have the reward."

"What sort of services and who were the people?"

"The whole public. Every man I met wanted to take Cockburn. Everybody wanted to say a word against Cockburn, and some attacked the magistrate; some people went so far as to say that Cockburn had bribed the magistrate; and I had to take great care to keep Cockburn's skirts clean as long as I was in his service. Everybody wanted to say that Cockburn had done something improper and I had to answer those charges."

"How did you answer those charges?"

"Simply by saying that they were untrue, and pointing out the impossibility of them and giving my assurances."

"Value of His Counsel."

"You speak in the second letter, of the 12th, about having saved Mr. Cockburn."

"I think it is true, absolutely true."

"Without you he would have gone down?"

"Or some other counsel of sufficient ability."

"You put it in that letter that it was not the strength of his counsel that saved him?"

"Yes, it certainly was his counsel."

PUNY MEN

"Cedarville, Ont., Aug. 17, 1907. "Dr. McLaughlin: "Dear Sir,—I now write to tell you what your Belt has done for me. The pains in my back have ceased altogether, and I have had no emesis since wearing your Belt. I feel like a new man, and I thank you a thousand times over in fixing me up in so short a time. Yours truly, "EDWARD HARDY." "Your Belt cured me of Reluctia in exactly three months. I do not now feel an ache or a pain. "MRS. JOHN FLEURY, North Bay, Ont."

"I received the Belt all right and am very pleased with it. It has done me a lot of good, and I would not be without it now. I only wish I could have got it before. "E. MAJOR, Fort Dalhousie, Ont." "I am writing to let you know that your Belt that I bought from you a year ago did all that you claimed for it. It cured me of all my troubles. "LEON RALFE, Lams Ridge, Que."

Don't you want to feel the glow of new-born life in your blood and ares, to feel the bubbling spirit of youth again? Don't you want to have a strong heart, courage, nerves of steel, self-confidence, strength in every organ, ambition, energy, grit and endurance? Don't you want to be rid of the "come-and-go" pains, the Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Weak Back and General Debility?

will cure all these weaknesses of men. It will make the nerves strong, the eyes bright, and will fill the body with that fire, that vim, that snap which denotes perfect youthful manhood. No pain or debility can exist where the body is full of electricity, for this is the source of vitality of manhood and womanhood. Twenty-six years I have spent in developing the best means of curative electricity. I know every pain and weakness that man is subject to, and have so succeeded in my remedy as to bring peace, mental or physically, or overtaxing vital forces, are quickly and lastingly cured by my method. Many suffer from a breaking down of vitality, which never yields to medicine. My belt restores this energy. Every man would like to be happy and make others happy. There's a lot of the "Good Samaritan" about every man, but he can't radiate much happiness and sunshine if he suffers from pain or weakness. If you are suffering from Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, a Lame Back, Insomnia (Sleeplessness), if your Blood Circulation is bad; if you lack Energy and Courage; if Manhood's power is below the proper standard; if you suffer from Headaches, Nervous Debility, any of those manifold evils that result from dissipation—excess—overwork and worry, make your mind that some of the organs of your body, some of the bodily functions are weak in action; your system lacks NERVE POWER—ELECTRICITY. This is my doctrine, and it's sound, for it's founded upon Scientific Fact.

If you are sceptical, all I ask is reasonable security for the price of the Belt, and

YOU NEED NOT PAY UNTIL CURED.

You apply it about your waist when you retire. It works while you sleep. The patent regulator makes the current strong or mild. There is no shock or vibration. You feel a warm glow passing through every nerve of your body. It exhilarates you, makes you feel light-hearted, and you awaken in the morning feeling as if you could get out and take a ten-mile run. It's as good for women as for men. Worn while you sleep, it causes no trouble. You feel the gentle heat in its constant, but no stinging, no burning, as in old-style belts.

GENERAL STOESSEL'S TRIAL

These Against Surrender Were Far thrust From the Firing Line.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 31.—The trial by court-martial of Lieut-Gen.

Stoesel for the surrender of Port Arthur fortress to the Japanese entered upon its final stage to-day.

A number of witnesses testified to the indignation with which the proposal to capitulate was received by the council of war, but certain officers from the firing line intimated that the boldest counsels against surrender were given by those who were stationed farthest from the enemy. The troops were discouraged and sick almost to a man, with scurvy, and it was declared, and the fortress would have fallen before the first vigorous attack of the Japanese.

PARENTS' RIGHT TO CHILD.

Whether a parent has the right to refuse to have a deformed child cured by hospital treatment is a question raised by J. J. Kelso as the result of a communication from a rural

Children's Aid Society. The father in the case is earning good wages, and the authorities suggest prosecution for crUELty.

100,000 Pieces of Underselling Whitewear

We started our January Whitewear Sale with over one hundred thousand pieces. We doubt if in all that vast assortment you would find a bit of lace or embroidery that deserved the epithet "coarse" or "common." If it's common, it's not Simpson's.

The prices are such as we have made January famous for. Economy was never more happily wedded to taste and refinement, and in this Whitewear Sale of ours we can give you but little idea of it in print. Come and see, and come soon. It's a great mistake to wait, because the first of the sale gives you the full, complete wealth of choice.

So you will be able to save on the average about 25 per cent. on the goods if you buy now.

Extraordinary Reductions in Ladies' Furs

Never since the mild winter of 1897 have people had such a favorable season to buy furs. Jack Frost is the person who regulates the matter, and so far this winter he has failed to "sustain the market."

We are going to clear out furs at manufacturer's cost in many cases—furs that you can rely on, every garment and skin perfect in style and condition. As an investment, fur is as good as gold. So now is the time to buy.
