Retail Merchants Will Press For Installment Plan, Says President

DAVID MAGEE, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, says he has read with interest The Times-Star symposium of discussions of the present system of civic assessment and the observations upon taxation matters generally made by officials and citizens interviewed. The whole thing has been educational to the public at large, but Mr. Magee figures only the surface is scratched yet. A concerted movement might now ensue through co-operation of citizen bodies and the method of collecting taxes be brought up-to-date. This should insure a clean-up of each year's levy and prevent the accumulating load of bad accounts, which he thinks is due in a very large measure to old-fashioned methods.

THE R. M. A. president would like to have it clearly understood the agitation of the merchants was not directed against the Saint John Assessment Act as a legal instrument or against City Hall as a seat of government. The Association had one specific change in mind, the installment collection of taxes, so that business houses, feeling the pinch of the times—in fact heavier taxpayers generally—might distribute this burden over a definite period and not be called upon to go to serious lengths in paying the full amount at once. While the time was perhaps too short to make the change this year, Mr. Magee thinks the Retail Merchants' Association will press its proposal so that the proper steps may be taken to have the matter carefully considered for 1927.

CASE IS STRENGTHENED

SINCE the R. M. A. suggested installment taxes, scores of loyal, reputable citizens have volunteered evidence that strengthens the case for the plaintiff. Many a man taxed from $50 upwards could pay the levy at stated periods, while it would be a distinct hardship, perhaps an impossibility, to demand it of him at once. He is forced to accept the penalty of added interest and constable's fees as well as to bear the ignominy of enforced collection. During Mr. Magee's conversation, cases were cited where men on comfortable incomes find it necessary to pay their recurring insurance premiums, etc. by consolidating them and remitting in installments. Much of the household economy nowadays, as well as commerce, is financed by new methods in keeping with the exigencies of the times.

PRESIDENT MAGEE abhors radicalism in local affairs, and says that he is not a fascist. But he does emphatically claim City Hall should try to make its taxing plans co-operate as closely as possible with the people who have to pay the money. If it requires legislation to alter matters so that citizens will be helped to pay their annual fee, this simple thing should be attended to at the next session of the House. There is no inordinate law in such matters. Cities must keep pace with the times, especially with the money conditions that dominate commerce and private purse. It is sheer stubbornness and shortsightedness to argue otherwise, he said.

TO KEEP ISSUE ALIVE

THE R. M. A. president promises while he is in the chair to keep this idea of installment taxes in the forefront of the organization's movements. He proposes enlisting the co-operation of the Board of Trade. If the idea is properly worked out much chronic delinquency will disappear, he thinks; to allow Saint John to go on from year to year with an increasing load of bad debt amongst those to whom the system of collection is oppressive, is one of the stumbling blocks to the city's progress. As far as the argument concerning overdrafts, etc., goes, Mr. Magee claims that is largely offset by interest charges on overdraft taxes.

N. B. TEACHERS LEAVE ENGLAND TO TOUR ERIN

Will Sail From Queens-town Next Week

HOST'S FAREWELL

Lord Beaverbrook Gives Dinner to Visitors in Editorial Sanctum

Canadian Press
LONDON, July 27.—The 40 New Brunswick high school teachers who have been touring Scotland and England as the guests of Lord and Lady Beaverbrook, have left London for Ireland to spend the last week of their overseas visit in that country. They were accompanied by Lady Beaverbrook and her daughter, the Hon. Janet Aiken, and Lord Beaverbrook was at the station to see them off.

FAREWELL DINNER

The teachers spent their last day in England at Sutton Place the famous Tudor residence in Surrey of the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland. They were given a warm welcome by the Duke and Duchess, who, during the course of the afternoon, escorted them through the beautiful rose gardens and related to them something of the history of their home which was built in the time of King Henry the Eighth and holds today one of the finest collections of paintings and tapestries in England.

Justice Crockett said that what the visitors had seen of Lord Beaverbrook and his newspapers during their tour had proved beyond any question the "unbounded generosity of which his Lordship is the greatest benefactor of our time."

HOST SAYS GOOD-BYE

In bidding farewell to the party, Lord Beaverbrook said that nothing in his life had ever given him more genuine pleasure than being able to service these men and women of the Canadian province in which he formerly lived to come over and see something of the mother country and of the British Empire.

Roaming Snake Causes Panic In Chicago Street

CHICAGO, July 27.—A six-foot python crawling leisurely up State street, near Madison, "the world's busiest corner," caused a panic yesterday as hundreds ran to safety. The reptile, used by a dancer in her act, escaped from a hamper in which she was carrying it. Hot Western Weather Hastens Wheat Crop

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 27.—The hottest weather of the year is bringing the 1926 harvest in rather too rapidly, the Herald's fourteenth weekly crop report indicates. Spring wheat fields are beginning to turn, and harvest will be general in two weeks, unless there is a general rain in the meantime.

Bootleggers Must Pay Income Tax, Declares Privy Council

LONDON, July 27.—Bootleggers must pay Dominion income tax, the same as persons engaged in lawful business, according to the decision of the Privy Council, given today in the appeal of the Canadian Minister of Finance against the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in the case of Cecil R. Smith, of Windsor, Ont.

The appeal was allowed and the respondent, Cecil R. Smith, was ordered to pay the costs of the appeal. Their Lordships, in giving judgment on the appeal from the Supreme Court's declaration that income received from illicit transactions, such as bootlegging, is not subject to the Federal income tax, state that they find no valid reason for holding that the Dominion Parliament intended to exclude such dealers from the operation of the income tax. They state that this is particularly the case as such exclusion would result in increasing the burden of taxation on those people throughout Canada who are engaged in lawful business.

It does not seem natural for persons to defeat taxation through their own wrong doing, Their Lordships said.

36 Million U. S. Autoists To Spend 3 Billion This Summer

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Nine million automobiles, carrying 36,000,000 passengers on vacation trips, are seeking the open road this year, the National Touring Board of the American Automobile Association announces. This estimate was based on reports from the touring bureaus of 815 motor clubs.

"Of this total," the association's statement said, "3,000,000 cars will carry camping equipment and extend their outing to 33 days. Two-thirds of the caravan have not yielded to the canvas lure and will depend on hotels. The latter class will spend an average of 10 days on tour."

While it is impossible to determine exactly how much money the motor tourists will spend, the touring board asserted that $3,000,000,000 is a conservative estimate, this being nearly $500,000,000 more than was spent during the 1925 touring season. The statement continued: "Ten dollars a day for each car is a fair estimate for the canvas brigade. Three million of them out for 33 days will mean $9,900,000 day tours at the cost of $10 a day, or approximately $1,000,000,000. It is safe to assume that the other group, while on the road for only about one-third as long as the campers, will have about three times the daily expenses, so that $2,000,000,000 for the 6,000,000 cars is a conservative estimate. This would only allow $7.20 a day for each occupant of a car carrying four passengers, which is the average number carried while touring."

It is therefore safe to assume that the resorts, hotels, garages, filling stations and other agencies catering to motor travel will benefit to the extent of $3,000,000,000 for this year's crop of motor yachtsmen.

Her screams brought Mrs. Sarnarquette, but the child had been badly lacerated before the cats were bested.

Complete Fall of Master Soviet Propagandist Now is Predicted

By HERBERT BAILEY
British United Press
LONDON, July 27.—The dismissal of Zinovieff from the chairmanship of the Soviet political bureau is a prelude to the complete fall of the master Bolshevik propagandist at an early date, according to information brought here from Moscow by prominent British labor leaders just returned from a visit to Russia.

They report that Zinovieff has come to be regarded by the Soviet leaders as a nuisance and a handicap rather than a help in promoting Soviet schemes. The real occasion of his declining powers, however, is the dislike he has inspired over Russian leaders by the scandals of his private life. While the Soviet adherents profess no rigid morality, the leaders like to pose for the Russian people as men of particular purity, and Zinovieff's profligacy has become notorious.

MIAMI, Fla., July 27.—High wind and waves of a tropical hurricane, swept out of the Caribbean Sea last night an despatch their fury on Florida's lower east coast. Damage in shipping, to water front hotels and to residences was the toll of the storm. Several small steamers plying between Miami and the Bahamas, were reported missing.

At Pompano, midway between Palm Beach and Miami, fishermen reported eight men were drowned when their boat sank in the Gulf Stream.

STRAIMER HELPLESS

The Italian steamship Ansaldo San Giorgio second, wallowed helplessly with a broken rudder 80 miles off shore, while the Ward liner Orizaba stood by.

At Palm Beach, workers reinforced the new Breakers Hotel under construction with sand bags to protect it from the pounding seas. Wreckage of trees and small boats was strewn along Ocean Boulevard, society's winter playground.

No word has come from the 78-foot yacht Canada, which cleared here on Saturday with 10 men aboard for Bimini, of the Bahamas group. The Soletta, a 65-foot motor boat of Brunswick, Ga., which left here yesterday for the Bahamas, with 25 persons aboard, also was unaccounted for late last night.

SHIPPING SUFFERS

Shipping suffered considerable damage when the gale lashed the inner harbor.

Two small tugboats sank, two pleasure craft were destroyed by the terrific battering of the waves, and three houseboats were demolished at their moorings, rendering several families homeless.

A large houseboat with two persons aboard, was carried several miles southward in Biscayne Bay, before being taken in tow by a coastguard boat. Storm warnings kept all craft in port last night and early today.

A message from the United Fruit Company's steamship Uina, was picked up in Norfolk, Va., late last night. The steamer which operates between New York and Panama, reported she was "towed to and heading north of Cape Caravel."

A strong easterly gale was blowing and conditions in the Florida Straits were said to be impossible.

CROW'S NEST RATES ASKED ON MARITIME TRAFFIC

DIFFERENTIAL ASKED ON TRADE GOING WESTWARD

Li-Col. Phinney Continues on Case Before Royal Commission

BLAMES OFFICIALS FOR FREIGHT DIVERSION

Alleges Some Strove to Have Canadian Goods Go to U.S. Ports

Canadian Press. HALIFAX, N. S., July 27.—That the principle underlying the Crow's Nest Pass agreement schedule should be applied in facing westbound freight rates on the basic products of the Maritime Provinces; that a general differential should be set up covering all westbound traffic on the basis of a complete blanket on all Maritime ports based on a Saint John-Montreal rate equal to the Toronto-Montreal rate; and that the arbitrators existing prior to 1914 should be restored, were among the contentions urged by Lieut. Colonel E. C. Phinney today in presenting the freight rates case before the royal commission, investigating the situation of the Maritime Provinces.

WOULD SPREAD COSTS

Other points stressed were that, for the purpose of fixing rates, operating costs of the additional 250 miles built into the Intercolonial as a result of military considerations be disregarded, that local rates be fixed at Montreal and all tariffs issued from Montreal, that certain charges now made against the Atlantic region be assessed against the Canadian National System as a whole and in general that the Intercolonial end of the National Railway System be operated on the basis promised at Confederation, "permitting a free interchange of products between the Central and the Maritime Provinces, due regard being had for the geographical handicaps under which Eastern Canada labors."

West winds probably are bringing the smoke this way.

The magistrate expressed some surprise at the apparent ignorance of some about the operating of cars with dealer's tags. Comes Home for Visit From States With Four Children

When the Boston train discharged its passengers at the Union Depot today Henry Ferris of Waterborough, Grand Lake, Queens county, experienced a thrill that very few people are privileged to enjoy. A daughter whom he had last seen when she was a toddling tot of four—28 years ago—rushed into her father's arms in joyous reunion. Then she introduced to their grandfather her four children, ranging in years from five to 12. Mrs. John Carr of Syracuse, New York, the comely wife of a railway official in that city, is Mr. Ferris' daughter. Upon the death of her mother she was taken to the States to live with an aunt and has resided there ever since. This is the first time she and her father had been brought together although they were in close touch through correspondence. Mrs. Carr and children will visit at the old homestead for several weeks.

In some manner he came in contact with current and sustained serious burns to an arm. He also was rendered powerless to move and had to remain where he was for 20 minutes. He was brought down safely and soon recovered.

GILLWELL CAMP IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

Assistant Instructor Eli Boyaner Reports Training Period Was Excellent

That the Boy Scout Gillwell Training Camp for scoutmasters held at the mouth of the Keswick River, was the largest yet held in the Maritime Provinces and one of the largest ever held in the Dominion, was the impression brought home from the camp by Eli Boyaner, one of the assistant instructors at the camp.

Mr. Boyaner said that the course opened on July 18 and ended on the 23rd. There were 27 at the camp and they represented various parts of Canada.

Gaudy Blue Lobster Sent to Aquarium

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 27.—A brilliant blue lobster, a rarity among crustaceans, was shipped recently to the New York aquarium.

The lobster was nearly a foot long and was found in a pot off Seaview Avenue by Levy Hennessy. It was secured from people living about the district, and in this way the "route" had to be found by one's own ingenuity, relying solely on the compass.

At night council fires were held and these proved very enjoyable and instructive.

Prospects of the apple and other crops this year are splendid, said Mr. Willis. Crops generally had been held back by the cool spring, but the excellent summer weather had enabled them to make up the disadvantage of a late start.

A few years ago there were a number of mortgages on the property, but the representatives of the Willis Company assured the president that conditions had been so good practically all mortgages had been paid off.

Mr. Willis said there was no desire for annexation to the United States, or to the Canadian Confederation.

Mr. Willis said that the bank clearings for June, 1926, showed that Halifax and Saint John had a higher percentage of increase over June, 1925, than any other cities in Canada.

In the matter of education, attention was drawn to the successful effort by King's College and Dalhousie University in the raising of $225,000 during the past winter and spring.

Three invalids were confined to their beds in two of the doomed houses but all were safely removed from both of the fires.

Scores of citizens and members of the fire department were in progress at the time of the fire and for the time the situation assumed a very grave aspect.

The auxiliary reservoir was opened here, however, and abundant streams of a high pressure assisted in getting the fire under control.

The curling rink, one of the finest in the Maritimes, was totally destroyed. It was valued at $100,000 with about $90,000 insurance.

Squads of firemen are still engaged at the scene of the blaze as a freshening wind is making the burning shingles a source of anxiety in that neighborhood.

Assumedly upon his orders, the Interior Department started an inquiry into the pastoral letter ordering cessation of all rites in Mexican territory.

Should the investigations determine the letter to be in violation of the constitution, the department of justice would be notified with a view to halting the signers to court.

President Calles also has announced he will take steps to determine whether the propaganda of the National League for the Defence of Religion in Mexico has been seditious, especially where it relates to a proposed economic boycott.

On the whole the country has remained calm under the stress of the events of the last few days.

Except for unusual large assemblies at the larger churches, there was no indication in the streets of the larger cities yesterday or Tuesday of the momentous developments.

OPTIMISM SEEN IN MARITIMES BY MONTREAL MAN

A. P. Willis Comments On Crops, Lifted Mortgages and Education

MONTREAL, July 27.—Pessimism in the Maritimes is confined largely to certain politicians and to a few people constitutionally prone to lament their conditions no matter what they are.

That is the conviction of A. P. Willis, president of Willis & Company, Limited, after a three weeks' trip to the Maritimes.

A native of Pictou, N. S., himself, Mr. Willis was better able to form an estimate of conditions, and he has come back with a strong impression of the optimism of the people in the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

While in Pictou, Mr. Willis encountered one of the pupils he formerly taught in school, who has become a hardware merchant, with branches in four cities. He did a business last year of $1,500,000, said Mr. Willis, and was an optimist for the Maritimes.

CROP PROSPECTS GOOD. Prospects of the apple and other crops this year are splendid, said Mr. Willis. Crops generally had been held back by the cool spring, but the excellent summer weather had enabled them to make up the disadvantage of a late start.

$70,000 LOSS IN BLAZE AT CAMPBELLTON

Stetson, Cutler Shingle Shed and Seven Houses Are Destroyed

CAMPBELLTON, July 26.—Campbellton is tonight in darkness as a result of a fire which broke out in the shingle shed of the Stetson Cutler Co., here, caused a loss of approximately $70,000, and for a time threatened the east end of the town.

The blaze which caught from the shingle mill started about 5.40 p. m. today and in less than half an hour the huge shingle shed, the Campbellton Curling Rink and some seven or eight dwellings were in flames.

In most cases the damage is only partly covered by insurance. Early in the confagration the Hydro Transmission lines between the town and the power house went down, and, as a result, Campbellton will be without electrical power for at least 24 hours.

THREE INVALIDS SAVED. Three invalids were confined to their beds in two of the doomed houses but all were safely removed from both of the fires.

Take Care What Kind of soap touches your face

The kind beauty experts use themselves—how to use

To endanger a good complexion with an unproved soap is a folly. The only kind of soap to use on your face is a true complexion soap.

Some soaps that are excellent in many ways are too harsh for the skin.

Laundry, scrub, with any soap you wish. But if guarding a good complexion is your aim, take care. Use a soap made to protect it.

Thus Palmolive is so widely used... a soap made solely for one purpose: to protect the complexion.

A soap made by experts in beauty to be used freely and lavishly on the skin.

The accepted beauty method today is the simple rule that follows—Nature's formula is "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion." Leading skin experts urge. Thousands of beautiful complexions prove its results.

Follow this rule one week—Note the improvement that comes

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on overnight. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Get real Palmolive. Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto, 316c.

Court Action Threatens Archbishop and Seven Other Officials

MEXICO CITY, July 26.—President Calles struck again today in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church in Mexico.

Official Ban Placed on Lemonade Stands

EVANSTOWN, July 27.—The great juvenile industry of vending "ice-cold lemonade in the shade and stirred with a spade," has been placed in the same category as outright bootlegging. Declaring that dirty little fingers and the too casual washing of glasses were unsanitary, health officers here have issued orders closing down all front yard "lemon" stands. Police have been instructed to arrest enterprising young dealers who are found doing a public business in lemonade without proper pure food certificates.

Children favored by husky bodies sometimes surprise their mothers by caving in under sickness or getting down in strength. A strong body—and yet? A puzzle.

Likely a case of a lively spirit using up its strength in over-exertion. The energy it gets out of its food not enough to support both high activity and healthy growth. Because they are so much richer in energy and growth and so much easier to digest, Robinson Health Breads served generously make up what was missing in other food.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 27, 1926.

MR. DUNNING'S HUMOR

Sometimes the jest or the witticism of a politician is like a knife with two edges and cuts both ways. The Hon. Charles A. Dunning, former Minister of Railways, in accepting a nomination at the hands of his constituents in Regina, showed a keen sense of humor and a keen sense of the expense of the Maritime Provinces. Had he penetrated the outer reaches of this Confederation to the eastward and become acquainted with us and our problems, or had he even read history aright, assuredly he would have emulated his Regina speech with some other form of gaiety.

Mr. Dunning, it appears, was devoting some attention to his successor, the Hon. Mr. Black, quite a usual exercise in politics, and a compliment which Mr. Black will doubtless return in due season. As to these exchanges between the honorable gentlemen in the political arena of the hour, we are not particularly concerned, but when one of the combatants takes a sly shot at the Maritime cause and in so doing betrays his ignorance of the fundamental issues, even if only in attempting to throw his audience into a paroxysm of mirth, it becomes necessary to orient one who has had, or never discovered, the guiding stars in a world of hard facts.

Mr. Dunning at Regina appears to have sought the pinnacle of humor in two statements, chiefly. These are they: "I believe it is correct to say that in the Maritimes there is a number of matters of importance. The first is being born, the second is a free ride on the Intercolonial, the third is marriage, and the last is death. This is not to their discredit; it is political railway from the start."

"It was a very good way to run a railway, and it piled up deficits year after year." The importance of being born in the Maritime Provinces needs no emphasis. There is no better place in which to marry, or in which to die. The Maritimes do not want any free rides on the Intercolonial. Rather the people here are asking that their fellow-Canadians elsewhere, through an awakened sense of justice and broad Canadianism, shall abandon the many free rides they have so long enjoyed at the expense of the Maritimes, including the free canal transportation which we have for a generation assisted to finance liberally for them, or, to come closer to Mr. Dunning, that the Dominion, in considering the Maritime case, shall give thought to the financial obligations of which we and the other eastern provinces relieved Saskatchewan and the six other provinces when the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern were taken over.

In the case of Mr. Dunning's own province, for example, the bonds which he guaranteed, and which were taken over by the Dominion, amounted, including accrued interest, to $18,830,214. Mr. Dunning would be one of the first to recognize how necessary it is for a public man to keep the record straight and to preserve a just sense of proportion even when dealing with the affairs of those benighted Canadians, to the number of a million or more, dwelling down here by the sea. When he talks of free rides on the Intercolonial he gives ample proof that he has been listening to the idle talk in which too many people in the Central Provinces indulge when they attempt to discuss the position of the Maritimes in relation to this Confederation.

We come now to Mr. Dunning's statement that the Intercolonial piled up deficits year after year. According to evidence in preparation for the Duncan Commission the total deficits on the Intercolonial from the time it was built down to the present day amounted to $7,000,000—a fleebite annually if distributed over the lifetime of the railway—whereas if Mr. Dunning will make enquiry, or will scan the official records, he will discover that the deficits on the Central Vermont—a part of the Canadian National system which Canadians pay to maintain—amounted in a single year recently to $3,500,000, or just half the total deficit on the Intercolonial since the day of its construction. Here again is material strongly suggesting the need for that close knowledge of the facts and that invaluable sense of proportion without which no public man's equipment is sufficient for the purposes in hand.

Mr. Dunning, notwithstanding the fact that it was his misfortune not to be born in Canada, knows his West. It is his misfortune and ours as well that he does not know the Maritimes. He should come among us, first fortifying himself by a study of many matters to which, as his speech indicates, he has not yet found time to give adequate attention.

As a former and perhaps prospective Minister of Railways, he ought to be able to see that the obligations of which Saskatchewan and the other Western Provinces were relieved have a very direct bearing upon—for one example—the problem of the Valley Railway here. When either party at Ottawa is asked to do for us in the matter of the Valley Railway what was done for the Western Provinces in the matter of their railway bond guarantees, both Liberals and Conservatives betray a noteworthy lack of enthusiasm. Yet, if all the provinces are to march toward power and plenty together, what is sauce for the goose must be sauce for the gander likewise. Otherwise—what?

If he will study our case in relation to Confederation and then come here and make our acquaintance, we apprehend that there will be no difficulty in modifying his transports of humor and converting him into a powerful and valuable ally.

In the interval, it would do him no harm to recall that when a certain Canadian statesman of another period referred to the Maritimes as "the shreds and patches of Confederation" that reference did no particular good to the party and forever stamped the author of the phrase as one who, whatever his stature in Central Canada—and it was great enough—showed himself a Little Canadian when he came to deal with the problems and aspirations of those Canadians living by the Atlantic on the one hand and the Pacific on the other.

SETTLERS WITH MONEY

Last year's good crop in the Canadian west and the promise of another this year, and the cheaper lands north of the border are attracting farmers from the States. An Ottawa despatch to the Manitoba Free Press says: "Marked activity in the movement of settlers from the United States to Canada is noted by the department of immigration and colonization. In the month of June the Canadian government agency at Fargo, North Dakota, was instrumental in moving to Canada 195 settlers, with their wives and families, representing 312 people, bringing with them cash and effects valued at $495,850. These settlers were almost entirely from the states of North Dakota and Minnesota, and were destined to Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia and Ontario. They are practical farmers, attracted by the advantages which Canada offers to agriculturists. Forty of these families made the trip to their new Canadian homes by automobile."

A native of Saint John, already eminent as Chief Justice of Canada and some time ago appointed Privy Council and visible sign of the honor, was sworn in at the Privy Council held by His Majesty. Once again we are able to congratulate ourselves in congratulating him.

Python escapes and takes a walk in Chicago—there is no accounting for tastes—causes panic until recaptured by its fair owner. Somewhat paradoxical over by the Dominion, amounting, including accrued interest, to $18,830,214. Mr. Dunning would be one of the first to recognize how necessary it is for a public man to keep the record straight and to preserve a just sense of proportion even when dealing with the affairs of those benighted Canadians, to the number of a million or more, dwelling down here by the sea. When he talks of free rides on the Intercolonial he gives ample proof that he has been listening to the idle talk in which too many people in the Central Provinces indulge when they attempt to discuss the position of the Maritimes in relation to this Confederation.

Queer Quirks of Nature

HE TRIES TO SCARE HIS ENEMIES. By AUSTIN H. CLARK.

A SURPRISE is in store for you the first time you meet with this butterfly alive. The first one I ever met was in a tree and flew at me, making as it came a loud crackling noise. That was in Venezuela in a grove of coconut palms, on the trunk of which this butterfly, which is mottled gray in color, delights to perch, head downward. Quite a number of butterflies, including several of our common ones, are noise makers, but usually the noise they make is a rather faint grating or rustling sound, more rarely a sharp crackle. This butterfly makes the loudest noise of all. In Brazil there is a bird with a sharp beak and abnormally big mouth called the Surama, which is very partial to this butterfly and at once attracted by its whip-cracker crackle. It forsakes the branch on which perhaps it has been perching half an hour without having given the

POEMS I LOVE

"Say Not," by A. H. Clough. THESE optimistic lines may have some of the flavor of Longfellow, but that is certainly nothing against them as poetry. One might find fault with them for teaching too evident a lesson, holding that exalted serenity should not fare into that trivial and dangerous province; still, I like them tremendously. Say not, the struggle naught availeth, The labor and the wounds are vain, The enemy faint, but not the soul, And as things have been they remain. If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars; It may be, in you smoke concealed, Your comrades chase e'en now the fliers, And but for you, possess the field. For while the tired waves, vainly breaking, Seem here no painful toil to gain, Far back, through creeks and inlets making, Comes silent, flooding in, the main; And not by eastern windows only, When daylight comes, comes in the light, In front the sun climbs slow, how slowly, But westward, look, the land is bright. COMBINES AND THE CONSUMER

The best way for combines to disarm prejudice is to give the consumer the benefit of promised economies from large-scale operations. They have been granted much leeway, though often there is distrust of their financial set-up and doubt whether what savings are effected by them find their way to the consumer's pockets. In other words, they are being allowed to get into their hands power which may be readily abused and should watch their step.

PHINNEY SAYS N. S. BEARING UNFAIR SHARE OF C. N. R. COSTS

Case For Lower Rail Rates Presented To Duncan Commission

HALIFAX, N. S., July 26—Continuing the presentation of Nova Scotia's case before the Royal Commission investigating the situation of the Maritime Provinces within the Canadian Confederation, Lieut.-Col. E. C. Phinney today reviewed the claims of the province with respect to Federal grants and debt allowances, western lands, and boundary extensions, and introduced the subject of railway freight rates.

Lieut.-Col. Phinney confined his arguments this afternoon to an outline of what the province would lay before the commission to support its claim that Nova Scotia had not benefited in the matter of transportation facilities as had been expected under railway agreements, entered into and that the province was bearing an unfair share of the burdens that should be carried by the entire Canadian National System as a whole.

CROW'S NEST RATES

The Crow's Nest pass rates were based on demands of the grain growers of the west for rates that were really below the cost of transportation. The loss resultant from those low rates was borne by the entire system and therefore in part by the Atlantic Region.

DOG IS SHOT

An alreado dog owned by Mrs. Thomas Murphy, on orders from Police Magistrate Henderson was shot yesterday morning by Police Constable Walsford. The dog had bitten a child on Sunday.

RATES STANDARD UNFAIR

It was not fair, Col. Phinney declared, that a standard of rates should exist in Canada, preventing separate treatment to certain localities with special requirements. The changes in rates on imports and exports had taken away from Halifax, he said, the advantage of its natural proximity to Europe and open harbor.

EASTBOUND RATES LOW

Lt.-Col. Phinney submitted that east-bound rates were low and contributed in making the deficit while benefitting only the shippers in central Canada, and adding to the burden to be borne by the Atlantic Region in the way of deficit.

CONCRETE FACTS ASKED

The chairman asked that concrete evidence of instances in which Nova Scotia had suffered as a result of changes in freight rates be produced and it was told that such evidence would be brought forward.

CONCRETE FACTS ASKED

Concluding the introduction to the transportation section of the case, Col. Phinney said it would be admitted that when the transportation control in the Maritime Provinces was transferred to central Canada it worked a distinct disadvantage to the industrial, manufacturing and agricultural life of Nova Scotia.

CONCRETE FACTS ASKED

Another point operating against the successful operation of the Atlantic Region was the 200 miles extra length of haul resulting from the fact that the railway was originally built with an eye to military necessity and, therefore, that much longer than was geographically necessary. It seemed unfair, Lt.-Col. Phinney thought, that so much additional burden should be borne by the Atlantic Region. Touching briefly on differentials, Col. Phinney said that it was a fact that Canadian railways treated the United States much better in this respect than the

N. S. Claims Presented To Commission

Canadian Press

HALIFAX, July 27—Following are the three alternative claims on the government submitted on behalf of the Province of Nova Scotia by Col. E. C. Phinney to the Duncan Royal Commission hearing yesterday:

(1) An allotment of 25 per cent of the revenue from the customs and excise received by Canada for provincial administration, to be distributed as follows:

A fixed grant to each province, payable half-yearly in advance—Where the population of the province is under 150,000, of $200,000; Where the population is 150,000 but does not exceed 200,000, of $300,000;

Where the population is 200,000 but does not exceed 400,000, of $400,000; Where the population is 400,000 but does not exceed 500,000, of $500,000;

Where the population is 500,000 but does not exceed 800,000, of $600,000; Where the population is 800,000 but does not exceed 1,000,000, of $650,000;

Where the population is 1,000,000 but does not exceed 2,000,000, of $750,000; Where the population exceeds 2,000,000, of $750,000.

And the balance of the amount to be estimated and paid half-yearly pro rata on basis of population, the payments to be adjusted at end of each account period; or,

(2) An allotment of 25 per cent of the revenue from customs and excise received by Canada for provincial administration, to be distributed as follows:

A fixed grant to each province, payable half-yearly in advance—Where the population of the province is under 200,000, of $200,000; Where the population is 200,000 but does not exceed 400,000, of $400,000;

Where the population is 400,000 but does not exceed 800,000, of $750,000; Where the population is 800,000 but does not exceed 1,000,000, of $800,000;

Where the population exceeds 1,000,000, of $850,000. The balance of the amount available to be paid to the province at the following rates per head of the population of the province:

Where the population of the province is under 500,000, at the rate of $5 per head; Where the population of the province is 500,000 but does not exceed 1,000,000, at the rate of $4 per head;

Where the population of the province is 1,000,000 but does not exceed 1,500,000, at the rate of $2 per head; Where the population of the province is 1,500,000 but does not exceed 2,500,000, at the rate of $1 per head;

Where the population of the province exceeds 2,500,000, at the rate of 60 cents per head; and the remainder of the allotment, if any, to be divided equally among the provinces of Canada. If no balance remains, the grants given ratable per head of the population to be proportionately reduced; or,

(3) In the alternative, and until such alteration is made in subsidy allowances to replace present per capita basis, an additional special allowance to Nova Scotia of $2,000,000 per annum for a period of 15 years, when same may be readjusted after census of 1941.

Girl, 15, Is Drowned In Westmorland Co.

SACKVILLE, July 26—Ruth Wheeler, aged 15, daughter of William J. Wheeler, Sackville, was drowned at Wood Point Beach at 1:30 today, and two other girls, Marion Anderson and Audrey Ford, had narrow escapes. The three girls, who were with a picnic party, had gone in for a swim and were suddenly taken beyond their depth, when they stepped into a hole.

Russell Snowdon, of Wood Point, saw the girls struggling in the water and went to their assistance. He succeeded in saving two of the girls. The body of the other girl was recovered later.

Deaths

Captain L. Bishop

Captain Laurie Bishop, aged about 82, in charge of the Carleton corps of the Salvation Army, passed away at the General Public Hospital last night following an operation on Saturday.

His death is a grave loss to the local work of the Army and will be keenly regretted by many friends throughout the city and the Maritime Provinces where the captain has been stationed. He was born at Shelburne, N. S., and during the war he served overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force. He had been an officer in the Salvation Army for two years and had served as lieutenant at Amherst, Fredericton and Lewisville.

On July 1 of this year he was promoted to captain and was appointed to take charge of the Carleton corps which has its headquarters in Rodney street. He was a faithful and devoted officer, well esteemed and most efficient and was considered one of the most promising of the younger officers in this district. His fiance, Ensign Ida Leach, who is at present stationed in Bridgetown, N. S., has been called to the city by his death.

Major T. A. Burton, district commander, last night spoke in terms of warmest commendation concerning the service rendered the Army by Captain Bishop and expressed much sorrow in his sad and unexpected death.

Thomas O. Bailey

FREDERICTON, July 26—Thomas O. Bailey died suddenly this morning at the Waverly hotel in this city where he was a guest. He had an attack of pneumonia last winter and since that time had been in ill health. A clot of blood on the brain is said to have caused his death and he fell back suddenly on the bed where he was sitting.

He was a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. James E. Bailey of Newcastle, Queen's county, and is survived by two sisters and one brother. The sisters, Miss Lido and Miss Margaret Bailey of Saint John were called to Fredericton this evening. The brother is H. B. Bailey of Newcastle Bridge.

The funeral service is to be held at Newcastle Creek Baptist church yesterday with solemn and most impressive services.

Solemn high mass was celebrated at 8:30 when Rev. Austin McGuire C. S. R. was celebrant; Rev. Joseph O'Hara, C.S.S.L., was deacon and Rev. Francis Kearney, C.S.S.R., was sub-deacon. After the mass the relic of the Saint was venerated. In the evening there were devotions in honor of the Saint, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and veneration of the relic.

DINING CAR DERAILS

It was learned yesterday that the dining car attached to the Blunstone, Dominion Atlantic Railway train, which runs between Halifax and Digby, jumped the rails near Kentville Saturday morning.

No one was injured, but passengers in the diner at the time of the accident were considerably shaken up. A fair-sized amount of crockery was smashed. Several feet of rail were torn up but a wrecking crew soon made repairs.

Special Demonstration THE SAVAGE WASHER and DRYER

The Shortest, Easiest Route From Clothes Hamper to Clothes Line

How to accomplish this — you fill your Savage Wringerless with warm water by means of the "Spin Rinse" hose. Place the soiled clothes in the aluminum spinner-basket; touch the switch and for fifteen minutes, rest or occupy yourself with other household duties. In using other types of washers, it is well to note, you are in constant attendance upon them—working with them every minute of the time. The Savage works all the time for you. A big difference!

How is it possible? It is simplicity itself. The fresh, pure hot water from the faucet is whirled through and through the fabric at 20th Century speed; the speed of the spinner, not the force of the water does the work. No drop is used over again. Only two minutes suffice to rinse everything thoroughly. Now, you are ready to "Spin Dry!"

To do this it is only necessary to turn off the water. In one minute more the entire load is dry for the line. Only one operation to rinse and dry, one to wash and blue. That's all. To empty your Savage, a touch of the foot starts the AUTO-MATIC PUMP EJECTOR—which in two minutes forces out the water into the sink or drain. This pump, by the way, is driven by the washer motor.

Your Savage is today the only washer which comes complete with filling and emptying equipment. There are a host of other advantages besides "Spin-Rinse, Spin-Dry." Come in any afternoon this week and have it demonstrated to you.

Easy To Gain Weight With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast With Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

Thin, run-down and underweight men, women and children can now improve their health, increase their energy and regain normal weight in a surprisingly short time.

A new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but until we perfected "Ironized Yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportion to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to take, therefore better

Special Advice to Homely Girls Who are Wall-Flowers... The Desperate Young Man who is Held by a Written Marriage Proposal to a Woman He No Longer Loves—Should a Young Woman Dare to Pop the Question?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Did you ever stop to think how a homely girl feels? I am one. I dress well and have a good education, but what are brains compared to beauty? I try to be agreeable and a good sport, but I can't seem to attract men and I seldom have a date.

ANSWER: I suppose there isn't a woman in the world who, if given her chance between beauty and brains, wouldn't take beauty. For she would argue that if she had beauty, she wouldn't need brains, whereas no amount of brains in a woman ever atones for her lack of beauty.

So it's no wonder that women crave beauty above everything else in the world. And the tragic part of it all is that it is nothing that they can acquire for themselves. It is a gift of the gods, and whether they get it or not is a mere matter of luck.

Of course, volumes and volumes have been written telling women how to be beautiful though ugly, and a great majority of them try to develop a synthetic beauty, but this is mainly lost motion and wasted energy.

In reality, about the only thing that the homely girl who is unattractive to men can do is to accept the situation and interest herself in something else, instead of vainly trying to intrigue some youth into making a date with her.

After all, the world is full of a number of things besides parties and jazzing and love-making and marriage. There are books and study and travel, and the interest and thrill in following a career and climbing up the ladder of success. There are fine friendships with worth-while men and women and stimulating companionship—millions of things in which a girl with brains can interest herself.

I admit that it is hard for the young girl who wants to do what other girls are doing to accept this philosophy, but it is not so hard and bitter as it is to be a wall flower to be a language round at parties, and know that every man who asks you to dance does it out of pity, or because he is covered by his hostess. So I advise the plain girl to save her face, as the Chinese say, by not running in competition with her more favored sisters.

And I would remind her, by way of consolation, of two things. First, that while the beauties have the most beaux they do not always make the best marriages. Many admire them abstractly and like to be seen with them, but when they come to pick out a life partner they are far more apt to choose for a wife a woman who is not so showy, but who looks as if she will wear better in matrimony.

And the homely girl's second bit of consolation is this: That transitory of all charms—beauty, in the nature of things, lasts only a few brief years. And then she, whose whole stock was in her young windows, is bankrupt, while the woman who was a plain girl is often an exceedingly handsome middle-aged woman.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a young man of 32. When I was 25, I lived in a certain town of the West where I met a good-looking, pleasant and friendly young woman, who often invited me to her house. Then I was moved to another town, where I knew no one and was very lonely. Under the influence of this loneliness I wrote to this lady and proposed marriage. She accepted. No sooner had the letter gone than I repeated of what I had done, realizing that I had made a mistake. I have told this woman so and that I did not care for her, but she holds me to my engagement and says that she will sue me for breach of promise if I do not marry her. What can I do? A DESPERATE MAN.

ANSWER: I would certainly risk the breach-of-promise suit rather than marry a woman I had ceased to care for and who has shown herself so wanting in all womanly delicacy of feeling.

The worst that she could do would be to force you to pay her a little money, and that would be a thousand times better than having your whole life ruined by being tied to such a creature.

The only disgrace in a breach-of-promise suit is reflected on the woman who tries to force a man to marry her against his will. The woman whose heart is really hurt doesn't exhibit it in public, and try to heal her wound with a position of greenbacks. She hides it from the world.

It is, of course, a cruel and a cowardly thing for a man to woo a woman and win her affection, just to amuse himself and tickle his vanity. But no blame attaches to him in a case where his intentions were honorable. If, later on, he finds that he was mistaken in his sentiments, for no man can rule his heart and love at will.

So when either a man or a woman finds out that he or she has fallen out of love the only honorable thing is to break the engagement. To marry the one of whom you are already weary is to precipitate misery not only upon yourself but upon the man or woman you marry.

DEAR MADAM DIX—Does a girl have the same right as a man to propose? I have been going with a man for four years whom I love, and who often tells me that he loves me, but never pops the question. He is amply able to support a family. Dare I play the leap-year girl? JEANNE.

ANSWER: Why not? You would at least clear the situation and find out how much his love talk means, and whether you are wasting your time upon him or not.

Personally I believe that there is nothing so silly and so foolish as the convention which prevents women from openly seeking their mates and asking the men they want to marry them.

The courageous women who break down this idiotic tradition will deserve to rank with Susan B. Anthony and the other emancipators of their sex. Copyright by Public Ledger.

SEE-SAVING BROADWAY

THE "gay white way" of New York's vast east side begins at Stuyvesant Square, a spot easily reached by east-side subway or elevated train. This little belt of glaring arc projects itself like some glittering barrier, along Second Avenue. The "easy spender" of the foreign quarters may be found gazing about here at night. Excursions are numerous as upon a populous corner a crude and salacious "girl show."

NOW walk down the avenue a few blocks of a summer evening and you come upon a sidewalk coffee house—the Cafe Royal. The tables are partly hidden by green lattices and those seated about them sit chatting and watching the passing crowds. If one closes his eyes to the surroundings this might be Vienna or Budapest.

Here gather scores of artists and writers of the "foreign language" papers and magazines. The "old timers" have regular tables at which they appear with the accuracy of a time clock puncher in a department store.

Actors from the Yiddish theaters are to be found there just before theater hour, joined by young dramatists and writers—Hungarians, Germans, Russians. A dozen tongues being spoken.

On the walls, in the languages of the world, are little cards announcing recitals, dances, new foreign books, musical attractions.

You walk along amusing photographic studios. In great show cases, brilliantly lighted and mounted above the regular show windows are full life figures of wedding parties. Most of them chronicle in titling and stiff as the photos of grandpa in the old family album.

AT Ninth street look westward and you will see the Greek Orthodox Church. A priest is entering. He has a heavy beard and a little rithmas hat of some silken material. The crowds that make their way there of Sundays are strange mixtures of the American and the Balkan lands. The sermon is given in Slavonic.

All about the streets blaze with invitations to dine at picturesque eating places. Most of them are Rumanian, Hungarian or Austrian, with a sprinkling of Yiddish and Russian.

"Little Rumania" begins just off Ninth Street and Second Avenue. You'll know you are there when you pass the "Marble Cemetery," where many of the historic folk of early New York-days are buried. Now the boundary line of one of the colorful foreign colonies.

Shops of all sorts. Windows filled with exotic jewelry, sprinkled with cheap American imitations from the factories. Shops displaying women's fashions. Mostly in the latest American mode. Music shops from which blare the loud speakers of the radio. Yes, it's some overworked song hit from Broadway, but inside you will find records in the music of all climes.

MUSIC shops from which blare the loud speakers of the radio. Yes, it's some overworked song hit from Broadway, but inside you will find records in the music of all climes.

HOUSTON STREET marks the virtual end of the "bright lights" and following it toward the river, the "native cafes" will be found scattered between Second and First Avenues. The "leading cafe" is crowded at almost any hour of the evening with coffee sip-pers listening to sissy music. The whole neighborhood is there some evenings, with a few "up-towners" lost in the crowd. Newspaper men, in particular, drop down. And some celebrated musicians.

The Rumanians, by the way, are the "real ascenders" of the foreign legion in Manhattan. Also most of them are of more than average intelligence. On Rivington street there is a Carnegie library, the shelves of which are filled mostly with the work of "native" writers. And next door a famous settlement house. It was the first on the east side, and one of its pioneers was the prominent "millionaire-liberal," J. Phelps Stokes. Half the notables of the world have lectured there.

Thereafter a maze of shops and discouraging looking upstairs factories. And suddenly comes Orchard street, with its incredibly colorful parade of pushcarts. You have passed out of the "heart of Rumania"; a little slice of America dipped in the ether of a Bohemian land.

GILBERT SWAN. A very enjoyable time was spent on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid, 22 Millidge street, when they entertained in honor of the third birthday of their little daughter, Marion. A dainty supper was served and the table was centered with a birthday cake with three candles. Many gifts were received by the little guest of honor. Mrs. Reid was assisted in serving by Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. C. A. Bridger, Mrs. H. Northrup and Miss Kathleen Flynn.

Clearing Film from Teeth Whitens Surprisingly Quickly restores cloudy teeth to clearness

Please accept full 10-day tube of this new dental achievement, urged by world's authorities. Note the difference in the color of your teeth and health of your gums when film is cleared off in this new way.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel a slippery, viscous coating. That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color," dingy and unattractive. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack. Gums by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and decay.

Old ways won't clear it off. Ordinary dentifrices and cleaning won't fight film successfully. For it is now with your tongue. Note how your present cleaning method is failing in its duty.

Thousands go through life with clouded teeth, needlessly. Dental science proves this true. Cloudy teeth now are restored to sparkling clearness. A way found that clears the dingy film coats from teeth that old-time dentifrices failed to combat successfully. One's whole appearance is often changed. Please accept 10-day tube to prove those results to yourself. You can work a transformation in your mouth. Can lighten your teeth remarkably, firm your gums to healthy coral tint. That stubborn film... enemy of pretty teeth and firm gums. Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles to a germ-laden film that forms on teeth.

AUTO OVER BANK

Parking of automobiles on each side of Sydney street near the Court House, leaving only a narrow space for two cars to pass, is believed to be the cause of a collision about 8.20 o'clock last evening.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads—Dissolve Them. Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of peroxide powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, moist face for a few seconds—wash off, and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left smooth and the pores in their natural condition.

POLICE FINDS The articles reported at police headquarters as picked up yesterday follow: Pocket book containing a small sum of money and ferry tickets picked up on bench on the western side of King Square; a man's leather gaiter glove on Prince William street; a pair of ladies' gloves on King street; and a 24-pound bag of flour on Bond street. The owners of these articles can receive the same on application at police headquarters day or night.

Social Notes of Interest

The social events of the week-end at Westfield were most enjoyable and were attended by large numbers of the summer residents of the community as well as many visitors. At the golf club tea in the afternoon the hostesses were Mrs. J. Hammond Evans, Mrs. George Warwick, Mrs. Percy Humphrey and Mrs. Frank Robertson. The long table was very daintily arranged and looked charming with its centre decoration of white and mauve peonies and blue lilies. The pouring at tea were Mrs. Stephen McAvilly and Mrs. A. R. McIrose. Those who assisted in serving were Miss Sallie Collins, Miss Nora Stewart, Miss Helen Ewing and Miss Marjorie Evans. Those attending the tea numbered about 100 and included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stewart, of Sherbrooke, Que.; Mrs. W. Fenlon, Mrs. F. T. Harbour, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sanctor, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Puddington, Mrs. A. C. Puddington, Miss Puddington, Mrs. D. R. Arnold, Miss H. Dyerman and Miss Ethel Hasen Jarvis.

The dance at the Westfield Golf Club on Saturday night was a very delightful event. The orchestra provided excellent music and the ideal weather favored a large attendance. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ledingham, Mr. and Mrs. Percy McAvilly, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fenlon, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burpee, of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Kenney Coddington, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rankins, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Abramson, the Misses Ewing, Miss Florence Warwick, Miss Dorothy Evans, Miss Edythe Mitchell, Miss Margaret Hall, of Fredericton, Mr. Richard Warner, Mr. George Drew, Mr. George Ramsay, Mr. Leslie Creighton and Mr. Roy Crawford.

Mrs. G. S. Macdonald was hostess last evening at an informal and greatly enjoyed dance held at her residence, King street east, in honor of her guest, Miss Amy deBrixy, of Toronto.

Mrs. D. W. Ledingham entertained most delightfully on Friday afternoon at a bridge party at the Sign of the Shippe at Gondola Point. Mrs. Ledingham motored a number of her guests from Westfield to the club. There were five tables and there were prizes for the lucky winners. Delicious refreshments were served.

A DANCE, a sheer gown to be worn; a difficult hygienic situation. You need no longer give this complication a second thought.

The hazards of the old-time sanitary pad have been supplanted with Kotex. It is called "KOTEX" five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads. Absorbs and deodorizes at the same time. Thus ending ALL fear of offending.

You discard it as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. You get it for a few cents at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." Women ask for it without hesitancy.

Try Kotex. Comes 12 in a package. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

This Range Does All The Slaving

THE DRUDGERY demanded of the housewife by other stoves is performed on its own by the Moffat Electric. It looks after itself—requires nobody to nurse the heat up. On the minute turn the handle. Up higher or lower or out altogether the minute you turn the handle. The heat stays put. Put in meat or baking, turn off the current and let the oven cook away on half-in heat while you go wherever you wish. Stay away hours if you please. Moffat Electric cooks by the clock—never any doubt—never any failure. Clean as a whistle always. Ready for instant action always. Saves hours every day. Saves $5 to $10 monthly in heat economy alone. Easy payments, bargain prices.

HON MR MEIGHEN ATTACKS KING'S KEYNOTE SPEECH

Declares Talk of Constitutional Question Chatter and Nonsense

SYDNEY, July 26.—"On constitutional matters, the late Prime Minister enjoys 'bad health,'" declared Premier Meighen here tonight, dealing with the campaign keynote speech of Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King.

"Mr. King complained," went on Mr. Meighen, "that we insulted parliament by securing dissolution without completing the business of the session and having formal prorogation. If this is the formal prorogation, no finishing of business—the members learned of dissolution in the corridors and on the streets. No one then complained of parliament being insulted because there was no one in parliament at that time who voted on constitutional philosophy. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's course was perfectly proper; so was ours."

JUST CHATTER.

"Had Mr. King got his dissolution when he asked for it on Monday, June 29, the result to parliament would have been exactly the same, and Mr. King and everyone who has the slightest knowledge of parliamentary affairs knows it. Mr. King would like the country to believe now that all he asked the governor-general for was an assurance that some time later he could get dissolution; that is, after the session's work had been completed and formal prorogation had taken place. This, in fact of the record, is just chatter of nonsense. In the first place a prime minister would scarcely resign because he couldn't get a prorogation of session and the vote itself to announce his resignation."

WHAT KING TOLD HOUSE.

"In the next place, Mr. King told Parliament on June 28, that he had asked His Excellency that day at noon to grant a dissolution; and that His Excellency had refused. He told Parliament also on June 29, that he had the day before presented to His Excellency an order-in-council dissolving parliament, which order-in-council he said he was unable to assent to. If His Excellency had assented to that order-in-council by that act he would have delivered it to Mr. King, and Parliament would have been dissolved. It is a little late now to tell us that he really intended His Excellency to sign and deliver the order, but that it was only presented as a mere formality."

Eyes Strengthened 50% by Proper Eye Care, Says Doctor

Suggests Simple Home Treatment Which Quickly Relieves All Irritation and Stagnant Vision.

No longer is there any excuse for most of our eye troubles, unless you have perfected a simple but specialist effective treatment which not only relieves burning, itching, smarting, aching eyes, but also banishes eye headaches, eye-strain and blurred vision. This simple treatment is called the Boite Ophtalmique and is now being prescribed by physicians and specialists everywhere. It is a scientific, scientific discovery. Scientists have recently proved that 90 per cent of all eye troubles are due to weakness in certain little muscles which adjust the eyeballs. These muscles, when they are tired, do not strengthen themselves through direct to them, but through the Boite Ophtalmique, and soon restore them—and therefore the eyes—to their old-time strength and vigor. Don't neglect your eyes. The doctor should be in every home. Your eyes are more important than your teeth, and often as you use your teethbrush, you should take your eye-bath. Results guaranteed. Money back without question. If you are not delighted with the improvement in your eyes and sight, Bo-Opht is sold by good druggists everywhere.

Modern Pavements Make Feet Tired

The miles and miles of hard surface roadways and sidewalks are very wonderful, but, being hard, non-resilient, and excellent conductors of heat and cold, they torture our poor feet unmercifully. It has been found that if tired, sore feet are bathed in warm water containing a few drops of Absorbine Jr., they will be delightfully cooled and refreshed.

But this is not the only use for Absorbine Jr. It is a liniment, antiseptic, and germicide in open cuts and sores, hastening the healing—not only does it limber up new fractures, tired, stiff muscles, but as a mouth wash, throat spray or gargle it protects you against wandering disease germs and leaves behind a pleasant, clean taste and odor. $1.25 a bottle or you might.

He's "Benton" Fooling Father Time

By NORMAN E. BROWN
BACK in the minor leagues, with the "has been" tag on him after spending the greatest part of 15 years in the major leagues, John "Rube" Benton laughs derisively at Father Time and opines that he will take at least one more whirl at the majors.

A vain hope is father to the thought. But it's a natural hope, even for a left-hander like Benton, who was awarded to New York and proceeded to join that club.

Benton stuck with the Gotham team through six campaigns. His best work was done in 1919 when he won 17 and lost 11 games. Toward the close of the League in 1910 and that very season was given a chance by the Reds. They kept him through part of the 1911 campaign and then loaned him to Chattanooga. They recalled him the next season and he saw real duty, winning 45 games and losing exactly the same number in the three years.

In the spring of 1915 the Reds sold Rube to Pittsburgh, but the New York Giants put in a claim for him and after he had appeared on the mound just once for the Pirates, he was awarded to New York and proceeded to join that club.

BIG RACE MEET TO COMMENCE NEXT FRIDAY

High Class of Horses Indicates Racing Will be Best in Years

NEW YORK, July 27.—Between $425,000 and $450,000 will fall to the horsemen supporting the August meeting at Saratoga, which will begin next Friday to run for twenty-six days. The average distribution will be about $17,000 a day and will top that of any previous meeting. Some 1,600 thoroughbreds of various ages and kinds have assembled to divide the money. There are about 500 top mares, and the presence of this surplus is both surprising and embarrassing. Richard T. Wilson and his associates in the management of the popular racing New York offers from season to season hoped that the competition of Coney Island (Cincinnati) and Chicago would forestall congestion. But it seems that every one who is anything in racing or ever hopes to be still wants to come to Saratoga, so Saratoga has had in any season past, better certainly than has been seen anywhere in the country this year, is indicated by the class of the horses of various ages ready to compete for Saratoga's great stakes—renewals of the Flash, Spinaway, Grand Union, Hopeful, United States and Sanford, three-year-olds; the Alabama, Travers, Miller, Test, Huron and Saratoga for three-year-olds; the Saratoga Cup and the Saratoga, Merchants and Citizens, Champlain and Delaware handicaps, for three-year-olds and over; and the Shillelagh, Beverwyck, North American and Saratoga Sweepstakes, for three-year-olds and over.

Fair Vale-Rothsay Series Starts Tonight

The opening game of the annual Fair Vale-Rothsay baseball league will be played tonight on the Fair Vale diamond, according to an announcement made last night by George Dobbin, manager of the Fair Vale aggregation.

The series will consist of nine games, a cup emblematic of the championship of the league will, it is thought, be donated to the league executive, for presentation to the winner of the series for longer.

Manager Dobbin said last night that Fair Vale would have their strongest lineup on the field tonight. Powers is the probable pitching choice. His team will be Higgins, a veteran backstop. Either Graves or Thomson will pitch for the Rothsay outfit. Short is the probable catching choice. With Rothsay out to win the opener and get away to a good start, a thrilling game is anticipated.

Motion Picture Programmes Enjoyed By Many At Local Theatres

NEW YORK TRIO HIT AT IMPERIAL

Mordelia Musicians Delight Large Audiences—Fine Picture Bill Also

Overflow crowds were surprised and heartily regaled with the Imperial's surprise musical package, the Mordelia Trio, yesterday, especially in the evening when, in spite of the lovely weather and the band concert in King Square, the Centre was packed to the rafters. A good deal had been read in the Halifax papers about this Mordelia act and the theatre staff as well as the public were waiting for a nice offering. They sure got it. Signor Mordelia, who is a master of the huge piano-accordion—an instrument capable of any composition—has brought with him Nina Spaulding, a youthful violinist, whose excellent technique, masterly style and excellent appreciation of her art made her an instant favorite. Helen Mahler, talented as a pianist and doubly talented as a vocalist, with a perfectly modulated soprano voice, sweet, of wide compass and sympathetic. The Mordelia Trio rendered a varied array of numbers. Their opening piece was "The Bridal Rose" overture, a dainty, exquisite composition Signor Mordelia's work on the big accordion with the violin and piano supporting it, gave the effect of a whole orchestra. Then Miss Spaulding played and responded to an encore in which the Imperial's full orchestra accompanied. The accordionist next rendered that trickiest of all old numbers the overture to the "Benevolence". Miss Mahler sang an operatic aria with coloratura effect to Signor Mordelia's accompaniment and the finale was both instrumental and choral, the lifting Neapolitan song "Funiculi, Funicula". STRIKING PLAY AT QUEEN SQ. THEATRE

"Siberia" Gripping Melodramatic Picture of Old Russia With Alma Rubens in Lead

More than twenty-five years have elapsed since Bartley Campbell's sensational play, "Siberia," was first produced on the stage; therefore, to the younger generation, at least, it is new. Victor Schertzinger, who directed the Fox Film version, which was shown for the first time yesterday at the Queen Square Theatre, has retained all the original melodramatic flavor, with the added advantage of scenic realism which was impossible on the stage.

"Siberia" is a tale of Russia in the days when Czar Nicholas was at the height of his power. It deals with the efforts of the downtrodden to throw off their imperial shackles and pictures the fate of those leaders who were so bold as to champion the cause of freedom.

Beautiful Alma Rubens has the role of Sonia, daughter of Andrei Vronsky, a tyrannical overlord. She and her brother Kyrill, resolved to bring about better conditions. So she became a school teacher, only to see her little school burned by brutal Cossacks and herself arrested as a revolutionary agitator.

Sonia becomes involved in a perfect maze of political intrigue. The role of Sonia affords Miss Rubens every opportunity to display her ability as an emotional actress. Edmund Lowe plays Leonid Petroff, the young lieutenant and Lou Tellegen has the role of Igor Kaplan, a flaming revolutionary. Other notable names in the cast are Tom Santschi, Paul Panzer, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gaudet have become the new proprietors of the Cyr Hotel, at St. Leonard's.
