When Asepto Gives a Helping Hand, Washing Labor is Halved.

ASEPTO is the right sort of a wash-day helper. Use it with hot water and you will find it a most useful and economical household article. A tablespoonful to a bucket of water is plenty. Leave the clothes in this preparation for two hours. And attend to other household duties. After the time is up, you will be amazed to see how rapidly the dirt dissolves—and without the use of the destructive wash-board.

ASEPTO cleans better than soap—is a harmless, odorless, antiseptic soap powder. Costs but 5c. a package, at all discerning grocers.

THE WHEEL O' FORTUNE

By LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," "The Captain of the Kansas," etc.

(Copyright, 1908, McLeod & Allen, Toronto)

The Italian needed no urging. Dick advised Mr. Fenshawe to send out two men on horseback in order to locate the Hadenowas, Hussain, who was acquainted with country, volunteered for this duty, and he and his companion were in the saddle at midnight with the depressing report that Alheri and his three-boaters were not to be found on the main track to Sultan's Well.

By this time not only Fenshawe and Irene, but Stump and Abdur Kad, when called into council, shared Dick's foreboding. It was impossible to do anything before dawn, and the sole difficulty that remained was to decide whether they should march when the first streaks of light showed in the sky, or await the hour fixed for the interview with Alheri. They resolved to wait until the first streaks of light showed in the sky, and a few trusty men at the oasis, with instructions to remain there until eight o'clock. If Alheri kept his word, they were to give him a letter, written by Irene, which asked him to follow and join the expedition. Otherwise, they were to report his non-arrival.

So Dick and Irene missed that agreeable watch under the stars, and their thoughts, instead of being given to each other, were centered on the unlikely fortune hunters whose accident or design had separated them from the rest of the party. Yet, when the sun arose over the desert, it was exhilarating enough to find themselves riding side by side once more. The order of march was simple but well designed. Abdur Kad, in command of a mounted Arab, led a mile in front. Fenshawe, Royson and Irene, with some of the soldiers, formed the advance guard. Then came the pack animals, with the remainder of the Aphrodite's crew, under Stump's charge, as a rear-guard. They had halted for breakfast, and were preparing for another long march before the heat of the sun forced a rest, when Hussain overtook them. At eight o'clock, Alheri had not visited the rendezvous, and he was to be seen an hour later from the summit of the last hill which gave a view of the oasis.

All news is little the better because it is expected, and every eye was watchful to desert as quickly as possible. But the desert was inexorable in its limitations. Great speed means great exhaustion, and consequently greater demand for water. Nevertheless, the party pushed on, and despite Irene's protests against being left behind, Royson and Abdur Kad, with the Aphrodite's men, and Abdur Kad, at the head of thirty picked Arabs, went on at a sinking rate. They were now on the actual caravan path, having reached it by a cross-country line. According to the sheikh's calculations, they were ten miles from the Well of Moses at four o'clock, and sunset would take place at half-past six. The road was a bad one, and their camels were beginning to lag, but they continued on reaching the ancient camping-ground about half past five. Abdur Kad was the first to discover recent signs of a large kafilah having passed that way. He it was, too, who raised a warning hand when they emerged from a wide valley and crossed a plateau, which, roughly speaking, was three miles from the Well.

thus see three successive waves of resistance, each apparently stronger than its predecessor, coming from the only direction whence success was possible. Alheri and his followers were well aware already of the strength of Mr. Fenshawe's expedition. If they imagined that it was advancing in its full numbers, they might be so deceived as to attempt a frontal attack. Abdur Kad and Abdulla had most strange orders not to pursue the banking parties, which they would certainly drive in on the main body. They were to converge towards the hillocks, where Royson would, by this time, have brought hope and renewed courage to their hard-pressed friends. Then, granted that the Hadenowas dared a general attack, the whole force, rescuers and rescued, were to fall back, converting the struggle into a rear-guard action, and compelling the Hadenowas to relinquish the advantage of the higher ground. Once they came into the open, Royson counted on the superiority of the latter government—all marksmen of the Royal Navy—to turn the scale unmistakably in his favor, and he felt sure of the certainty of knowing that each mile they gained in the retreat brought them nearer the powerful caravan in the rear.

SPEAKER SUTHERLAND IS HEARD IN DETROIT

He Declares That the Initiative in Better Trade Relations Between U. S. and Canada Must Come From United States.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 27.—R. F. Sutherland, speaker of the Dominion of Canada House of Parliament, addressing the quarterly meeting of the Wholesalers' Association of Detroit, last night, at the Hotel Cadillac, declared that if there were to be any improvement in trade relations between Canada and the United States, the initiative must come from the United States, Canada, he said, had done her part and it was owing to the attitude of the United States that the Dominion had adopted the preferential tariff and given Great Britain and the other colonies trade advantages in Canada.

THE PANGS OF SCIATICA Can Be Cured by the Fair Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Fierce, darting pain. Pains like red hot needles being driven through the flesh—in the thigh, perhaps down the leg—to the ankles—that sciatica. None but the virtuous can realize the torture of this scourge. But the sufferer need not grow discouraged for there is a cure. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills enrich the blood, feed the starved sciatic nerve and thus drive out the pain. Mrs. Joseph J. Brown, Wilmet, N. S., was a victim of sciatica for a year. It was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:—"For a year I was laid up with sciatica from my back to my feet. I could not touch my foot to the floor and had to hobble about with a cane. My right leg was drawn up, and in this way I felt the most of my pain. I was attended by other family doctor, and tried several other remedies, but with no benefit, and I felt very much discouraged. One day I read of the cure of a similar sufferer through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to try them. I got six boxes, and by the time I had taken them I was completely cured, and have not had the slightest return. I am now as well as ever, and a very enthusiastic friend of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are the best medicine I have ever used for sciatica. They purify the blood, enrich the system, and reach the root of the disease. That is why they cure such common ailments as anemia, impure and indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis and the irregularities in health growing out of being in a circle. Consult all medicine dealers for $2.50, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

An all-enveloping cape is a useful adjunct to the wardrobe of the woman who has many evening engagements. It should be made of a fabric not too light in color, for it should not be too dainty or too conspicuous for street car wear. A feature of new evening capes is the arrangement for draping. Three big buttons on the lower right front, when the cape is thrown, throw across the shoulder, fasten to three big buttons at the back.

A Very Bad Case That Was Cured By Persevering With An Old Time Remedy.

"I got the idea into my head that although the pain was in my joints, the rheumatic poison was in my blood. My doctor said I didn't know that. I had a blood tonic and I began to use it. At first it didn't help at all, only change was a better appetite and more strength. Not being a doctor I didn't know that Ferrone was all the while working at the root of the disease. I kept right on with Ferrone, and in three months was cured. There is no more stiffness, no pain, and I am as limber as forty years ago."

PARLIAMENT IS EXPECTED TO ASSEMBLE JANUARY 9TH

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Will Return on Sunday to Prepare for the Session—French Religious Society Objects to Paying Taxes on a Sawmill.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Parliament has been prorogued pro forma until January 9. It is announced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has benefited so much by his stay in New York that he has decided to cancel his proposed visit to Virginia and return to the capital on Sunday. Preparation of the session programme will be begun next week.

About four years ago a branch of the order of the Holy Ghost, which left France owing to the law of associations, came to Ottawa and purchased for $70,000 the Alonzo Wright estate on the Gatineau River. The fathers started a saw mill and engaged in other paying industrial enterprises. They are being sued for $200 for school taxes by the township of Cantley, but claim exemption on the ground that theirs is primarily an educational institution.

Application will be made to parliament next session by the Alberta Central Railway Company for power to extend its line from the westerly terminus to the Grand Trunk Pacific at Yellow Head Pass, and easterly to Saskatchewan.

Members of the committee which is inquiring into the pulp and paper conditions in the United States paid a quiet visit to Ottawa today. They inspected the pulp and paper mills at the Chaudiere Falls, and had a conference with several lumbermen with a view to ascertaining the position of the industry in Canada and the views of Canadian manufacturers upon the question of removal of the United States tariff. The members were James R. Mann, chairman; W. H. Stafford, Milwaukee; V. H. Ryan, Buffalo; and C. E. Steinberg, Chicago. They left for Washington by afternoon train.

The prevalence of accidents in the Northwest due to coal oil explosions has caused the officials of the customs and inland revenue no little worry, and investigations are now proceeding with the object, if possible, of probing the suspicious cause of gasolines or naphtha in the inferior quality of oil. So far the official investigations have failed to discover that the casualties are attributable to other cause than carelessness in pouring oil up on fires. The contention that the violence of the explosions is traceable to the presence of gasolines or naphtha in the oil while not positively refuted is regarded by the authorities here as extremely improbable.

As a matter of fact the price of gasoline in the Ottawa valley is about four cents higher than that of coal oil. "Why therefore gasoline should be added to the cheaper oil is difficult to understand, unless done with criminal intent," observed one experienced officer at departmental headquarters today. "It is almost incredible," he added, "that it should be done by a dealer to ruin the reputation of a rival supply concern."

The kerosene used in the localities where the disasters have occurred is imported from America, oil. All such is supposed to be inspected by customs officials at the port of entry before being allowed to go into circulation. The inspection of domestic coal oil is very strict. There are but two refineries in Canada, and at each there are stationed officers at departmental revenue department who, although they may be positive that the tanked oil is to the revenue, still insist that it be allowed a single consignment to be shipped until the oil has been tested in the barrel. Under the Canadian coal oil must stand a flash test of 85 degrees Fahrenheit.

Are You Aware That—

There's an old-fashioned recipe for cleaning the inside of a rusty kettle which directs that it be filled to the brim with water. Boil the water then for several hours, adding more as needed.

By adding one teaspoonful of butter or a half-cup of cream to the batter pancakes can be baked without greasing the griddle.

Paraffin used on the tops of preserve glasses can be saved until the next season by washing in cold water and putting in a tin box with an airtight lid.

If the fruit is first covered with cold water and allowed to come to a boil, more juice can be extracted from a lemon or an orange.

Soaking over night is essential to the excellence of every cereal. All of them, with the exception of rice, need a good deal of cooking. Oatmeal is good if boiled four hours. It is more palatable if cooked eight hours, and most delicious if boiled 24 hours.

Chloride of lime, moistened with vinegar and water in equal parts, is a handy disinfectant for the household.

It can be kept in the cellar, and, in case of sickness, a few drops scattered around the room will purify the air.

A luncheon dish very popular in Mexico is made by warming large, square salted crackers in the oven and placing on each cracker a large tablespoonful or two of baked beans and catsup, heated with butter and highly seasoned.

A few slices of raw potatoes placed in the soup while cooking will prevent its being too salty. The potato absorbs the surplus salt.

Everything She Ate SEEMED A BURDEN TO CARRY.

HAD STOMACH TROUBLE FOUR YEARS.

When your food has not been properly digested, your body has not received the benefit it should. The exertion of the gastric juice have been confined entirely to removing the undigested undigested portions of food which they cannot properly digest as speedily as possible from the body, thereby only giving the blood a small percentage of nourishment with which to feed the tissues. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, makes pure blood, tones the stomach, and thus restores perfect health and strength to the debilitated system.

Mrs. D. A. Francisco, Roseland, B.C., writes: "I was suffering from stomach trouble of the worst kind for about four years. Everything I ate seemed a burden to carry. I always awoke in the morning with a sickening and feverish taste in my mouth and was also troubled with swellings in my hands and feet, which my physician said was due to the disordered state of my stomach. I tried everything that was purchasable, and also consulted two or three physicians, but could find no relief until one of my neighbors told me of a wonderful cure by Burdock Blood Bitters. I used altogether ten bottles and am now perfectly cured. I wish to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to anyone who may be so unfortunate as I was."

MR. HAZEN'S DILEMMA

The Montreal Star of Thursday contains a brief interview with Premier Hazen and makes this statement:—
"Premier Hazen has quite recovered from the fatigues of the strenuous campaign he conducted in October on behalf of Mr. R. L. Borden, and now returns to his own province to go on the stump again in the two provincial by-elections to be held shortly."

Mr. Hazen is at present on the boards in Carleton county, and playing to rather small business. The date of his visit to Northumberland has not been fixed, and he must make haste to make even one appearance before election day.
Mr. Morrissey has good reason to be flattered by the high estimation in which he is held by the premier. The latter is not sure that Provincial Secretary Fleming can get along without him in Carleton county, and so hurries to the rescue. He only sends telegrams to Mr. Morrissey. There is a rumor that Hon. Mr. McLeod may dash into Northumberland to create a diversion in favor of Mr. Swim, but this is not confirmed. In the general confusion of rumor and noise one fact stands out clear: The Liberals, Uphan and Burchill, will be elected on Tuesday.

WE LIVE TO EAT

Prof. Karl von Bulendorf, formerly of Heidelberg, but for many years in retirement is said to have shocked theological circles in Germany by asserting that the prime function of mankind is to eat, and that the art of eating is the ultimate achievement of human existence. It is said that the professor declines to admit any other raison d'être for the existence of animals than the consumption or destruction of material—a process of eternal combustion necessary to, or rather inalienable from, the endless motion which, in its turn, constitutes the function of the planetary system. Of course this theory discredits immortality.

Aside from the purely theological aspect of Prof. Bulendorf's theory, there is some reason to believe that he would be encouraged to hold it more firmly if he lived in this portion of the world at the present time. Even the theologians appear to discover an intimate relation between dinner and tea and the development of the spiritual side of man's nature. Feasts of pure reason are not well patronized. The man who is about to develop enthusiasm for the welfare of the heathen finds that the process is much aided by deglutition, and by the aroma of coffee after a well considered luncheon at fifty cents or one dollar per head.

A Montreal captain of police has decided that "The Devil" is a good enough play for Montreal audiences. Possibly the captain knows his audience, and has some sympathy for The Devil.
SUGGESTION FOR HAZEN
(Montreal Herald).
Sir Lomer Gouin will have the support of the whole community in the undertaking he proposes for the encouragement of the crusade against tuberculosis. The prime minister indicated to those at the exhibition that he would see to the introduction of measures in the legislature such as would meet the wishes of those who desire to give greater extension to the work of instruction, warning and prevention that has now been so well begun. There is mention of a Royal Commission with powers sufficient to enable its members to focus the attention of the population of Quebec province upon the subject, and there is mention also of a travelling exhibition, with lectures, for the benefit of those who are at a distance from the great centres of population. Both enterprises would be justified by what is known of present conditions, and would be many times if by their work they contributed to the saving of lives that are being needlessly and heedlessly sacrificed.

The Congo Problem
The Congo News Letter for November protests vehemently against the annexation of the Congo to Belgium under the terms adopted by the Belgian parliament, and calls upon the United States and Great Britain to intervene. Evidently the conditions in the Free State, after an-novation, would not be greatly improved, and they are today the shame of the world. The News-Letter says:

"Annexation of the Congo to Belgium on the terms proposed would be a complete thwarting, for the time, of the struggle of years to secure a genuine emancipation of conditions in this worst misgovernmented section of Africa. For the articles of transfer, consisting of the Treaty of Annexation, the Additional Treaty and the Colonial Charter, utterly fail to provide guarantees of the fundamental reforms which the best public opinion has demanded, which are: the abolition of forced labor; the dissolution of the concessionary companies; the restoration to the natives of the land and its produce; the establishment of freedom of trade."
"Not only do the articles of transfer fail to institute these indispensable reforms, but they actually perpetrate the abuses. The treaty of Annexation specifies that the concessionary companies, in which Leopold is chief stockholder, and which his own Commission of Inquiry testified 'have in view profits, and not civilization or humanitarian ends,' shall be continued intact. And the Colonial Charter provides that the colony shall be made entirely self-supporting, that Leopold's staff of corrupt officials shall be retained, and that all existing legislation in the Congo, not at variance with the terms of the articles of transfer, shall continue to have full force of law. The first of these provisions means that the miserable Congolese, already compelled to labor almost incessantly for their oppressors, would be driven to the point of death, under the lash of the chicotte and at the muzzle of the rifle, in a never-ending drudgery to save the state from incurring a deficit. The second provision means that the same men who under Leopold have perpetrated the abuses are under Belgium expected to carry out sweeping reforms. And finally, the clause providing that all existing Congo legislation shall continue to have full force of law means that—well, exactly what it says, that 'open sore of the world' will still run and fester, in all its disgusting horror."
"What will the powers signatory of the Acts of Berlin and Brussels say to Belgian annexation of the Congo on such terms, and particularly, what will be the attitude of the two powers which have most concerned themselves, the United States and Great Britain? As yet neither Mr. Root, our secretary of state, nor Sir Edward Grey, the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has spoken the decisive word. There is good ground for believing, however, that both these statesmen will insist on definite guarantees of reform, and that failing such guarantees, they will seek international settlement of the issue. The Congo Reform Association has registered the strongest possible protest against recognition of Belgian annexation on the present terms. It is known that this protest, representing people of all ranks and classes throughout the country, has been given the most serious consideration by the administration. The English Association has memorialized the British government no less strongly and to the same effect. For the time, Belgium's annexation of the Congo hangs in the balance, pending the announcement of policy of the United States and Great Britain."

The political situation in England has been further complicated by the rejection of the licensing bill by the House of Lords. The peers assert that they represent the real sentiment of the majority of the people, and the Conservatives challenge the Liberal government to put the question to the test of a general election. The Conservatives hope to defeat the government on the tariff reform issue, but would also expect to gain some strength from the support of Liberals opposed to the licensing bill. In some of the by-elections the latter measure operated adversely to the government. The Liberals will endeavor to divert attention from these matters by trying to focus attention on the question of curtailing the powers of the House of Lords. The cables state that there is little likelihood of an immediate appeal to the people.

We have closed hands again, ah, true
We have no quarrel--that is done--
But severing beneath the sun
Comes back to me that friend I knew.

We shall break bread together; me
Have you forgot? Who shall then surmise
But only through my yesterday,
The friend I loved shall walk again.

Have forgiven--and speak
That space between our hearts that lies Unbridged--beyond all sound of reach?

DID NOT ENVY HIM

It is not strange that the young lawyer congratulated himself when he married a young woman who was a beauty. A friend was introduced to the bridegroom and later on the bridegroom said to him:
"George, what do you think of her?"
George puffed thoughtfully on his cigar.
"Well," he said, "to tell you the truth, she isn't much to look at, is she?"
"The husband's face fell. 'Ah, but,' he said,
'I don't mind the looks. I married her because she is a beauty.' Returns he perhaps, she isn't all that could be desired, but within--"

A YANK WROTE THIS

"It is an invariable fact," said the professor of the club, "that the more of a man travels more rapidly than the sense of sound."
"I don't understand you," said a young man who was sitting next to him. "When you say that you see the puff of smoke that comes behind you with the speed of sound, what do you mean?"
"Not always," said the little Irish student from the corner. "I know of a man who bearing antedates seeing by really considerable degrees of light."
"I know of no such thing in the whole range of science," returned the professor, pompously. "Perhaps you can enlighten us."
"Well," said little O'Leary, "it's the case of an Englishman and a joke. In almost every case the Englishman bears a joke about a week before he sees it, and--"
"But the professor had gone, and they say that nowadays when he sees O'Leary he goes like a fishy horse in the presence of a motor car."

line, when he met a rather pompous looking man of the region, who introduced himself as Colonel Higgins of Dodd's Kidney Pills.
"Do you know a Colonel in the Confederate army?" the traveler asked.
"Oh, yes."
"On the Union side, then?"
"No, sir; never was in no war."
"Belong to the Texas Rangers?"
"No, sir, I do not."
"What do you do for a living?"
"I am a Colonel in the Confederate army." "Do you know anything about Dodd's Kidney Pills?"
"I have never heard of them."
"I find Dodd's Kidney Pills the best medicine for Backache I have ever used."
"I only used two boxes and they cured me."
"Backache I had had for five years. It started through a strain. My father's back also bothered him, and he got some relief from one pill I gave him. They were too precious to give him more. All persons suffering from Backache should use Dodd's Kidney Pills."
"Why do Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Backache?" "Simply because Backache is Kidney ache, and Dodd's Kidney Pills positively cure all Kidney aches and ills.
This has been proved in thousands of cases in Canada. If you have a Backache, then yourself ask your neighbors."

APPLE PACKERS ROASTED

(Toronto World).
Written argument will be presented in three weeks to Justice Riddell in counsel in the apple-packing case brought by R. S. Lang of this city against L. H. Williams, fruit dealer of Glasgow, Scotland.
The sum of $10,000 is claimed by the Toronto firm because of refused shipments, while the Glasgow house counterclaimed for $25,000 because of losses through the failure of the Toronto firm to carry out their agreement.

Yesterday the evidence went to show that it had been the tendency of Canadian packers in the past to put good apples on the top of the barrel, after filling the barrel with lower grades.
Commenting on this Justice Riddell remarked that he had heard it was that system which had caused Canadian apples to fall into disrepute in the old country markets.

"I don't think," continued the bench,
"that a worm-holed apple should be placed in a barrel. I think a man who does so, not only violates the Fruit Market Act, but is dishonored as well. This kind of thing is responsible for the outcry against Canadian apples, and I think the attention of the Dominion inspectors should be called to it."

COMMISSION DID NOT GIVE OWEN A CHANCE

Ottawa Official Who Came Here to Explain Transactions With Mr. Harding Arrived Late to be Heard.

A. W. Owen, of Ottawa, chief accountant of the marine and fisheries department, arrived in the city yesterday. Mr. Owen's visit here was in consequence of his having read from the reports of the marine investigation here that his name had been connected with the inquiry as having endorsed some seventeen cheques made by F. J. Harding.

Immediately on learning of the matter he wired to Mr. Watson, one of the counsel, saying he was coming to explain the transactions, but no mention of the matter was made in court by Mr. Watson, and when Mr. Owen reached here, it was to find that the inquiry had adjourned. He hopes, however, to be given a chance to appear before the commission while it is in session in Nova Scotia. Mr. Owen was interviewed at the Dufferin last evening.

"I never was so surprised in my life," said he, "as when I read about those old personal checks being introduced in evidence. They had absolutely nothing to do with the departmental affairs. They were purely accommodation. Harding and I have been close personal friends for the last twenty-five years--intimate friends for many years. On a number of occasions, when in need of funds, he has made drafts on me for his own accommodation. These drafts I accepted, and when they came due he sent cheques to me to pay them. With my endorsement these cheques were always accepted by the banks in Ottawa, and the checks were always paid. I never received any money from Harding; he never received any from me. It was simply a method of arranging accommodation which on necessary occasions, adopted by many business men. Harding does not owe me anything, and there has been absolutely no connection between these personal affairs and departmental business."

"Mr. Harding made those drafts, of varying amounts, probably three or four times a year, and this had been going on for some years. The procedure in each case was the same, first a draft, and then a cheque to meet it. Mr. Watson spoke of some seventeen cheques sent by Mr. Harding and endorsed by me. These are far as I can remember are the whole of them. Now, as regards departmental affairs, I have always found the business in St. John, carried out in a most efficient office we very frequently find overcharges in the accounts. These we whittle down, using the published general price list as our guide. But I find that Mr. Harding rarely allowed an overcharge to pass him. We certainly had no fault to find with the manner in which he protected the department. Prices often vary considerably according to locality, but we endeavor to be perfectly fair to all. In fact, I think the majority of references to Mr. Harding have been from persons who complained that their prices were too heavily reduced."

Mr. Owen has been in the department for the past twenty-eight years, and is naturally familiar with every branch of the work.

Mr. Harding, against whose conduct the efforts of the commission were chiefly directed, was seen last evening and asked to make a statement in his own behalf. While appreciating that such a statement might be of value to him, Mr. Harding said that he is still under departmental authority and felt that any such action on his part should not be taken just at the present time.

Mr. Owen has seen also declined, in view of Mr. Harding's sentiment, to say anything on behalf of his client.

A Goodnight Thought.

After one has survived the happenings and hopes of each chiding day it is well before going to sleep to come in contact with a fine thought. The custom is a happy and helpful one for every woman who wishes to have a satisfactory sleep. A book of quotations or of favorite verses or essays can be kept on the little table that stands near the head of the bed in every well-appointed bedroom.

Every night before the light goes out consult this book. Choose a bright, beautiful bit to sleep and dream on and let its word-clouded thought sink deep into your mind--refreshing and controlling it.

In the morning you may awaken with the words on your lips as well as in your heart, and they will linger near you to help you make the new-born day more of a blessing.

A FALSE REPORT

St. John Despatch to Montreal Herald Misrepresents Testimony at Marine Enquiry Here.

In the Montreal Herald of Thursday there is printed a long despatch purporting to give the evidence heard here before Judge Casella in regard to the marine de- partment. In the Herald despatch the following absurd misrepresentation of the evidence occurs:
"Mr. Watson told you and Mr. Harding talk about having the accounts burned up?"
"Witness said they had talked about writing to Mr. Owen to get the accounts burned up."

About Your Persian Lamb Coat

During the past two or three years the price of Persian Lamb advanced about 30 p. c.—dealers were forced to buy skins for their needs, but when hard times and mild weather came last year, many were caught with heavy stocks of Persian Lamb at high prices, and were forced to sell at old prices.

We can supply you with a splendid wearing, small curl Persian Lamb coat 24 inches long at $85, or a heavy curl fine lustre and good wearing coat at $100. At $135, we can give you one made of the very best wearing Persian Lamb with fine lustre handsomely braided in the newest military models.

The Maritime Commercial Travellers' Association will hold its annual banquet at the Royal Hotel, here on Thursday evening, December 17th.

The regular monthly meetings of the various civic boards and committees will be held next week, and the common council will meet on Monday, Dec. 7.

Last night some of the fishermen near the Ballast wharf made a good haul of herring. Some Nova Scotia schooners took the herring to be used as bait. The fish have been very scarce all along the coast for some time.

Rev. Mr. Anthony will be the speaker in the gospel temperance meeting tomorrow afternoon in Tabernacle hall, at 4 o'clock under the auspices of Thorne Lodge, I. O. G. T. There will be special music.

The "Willing Workers" of Brussels street Baptist church will hold a bazaar and sale in the vestry of the church on Tuesday afternoon, December 2, from 1 to 5 p.m. Fancy work, dolls, candy, etc., will be on sale and an informal musical programme will be carried out.

The ladies of the Waterloo street United Baptist church will hold a tea in the Sunday school on Monday evening from 6 to 8 o'clock. A good programme has been prepared, and, as the ladies of Waterloo street are famous cooks, the tea will probably be largely attended.

C. L. Dodge inspector of concrete work on the Transcontinental Railway, who is in the city, says that the smallpox situation at Edmundston is under control. The disease, he said, was of a mild type. One case developed in a construction camp but the patient was promptly isolated and the danger he felt was all past.

There were sixteen deaths reported at the office of the board of health for the past week, as follows: Consumption, 3; senility and heart disease, 2 each; uraemia, apoplexy, senile gangrene, peritrititis, blood poisoning, cerebral hemorrhage, pernicious anaemia, capillary bronchitis, malignant disease of stomach, 1 each.

The discovery of two more boulders and some forty sticks of timber in No. 6 berth, and that in other places there is only 20 feet of water will prevent the new wharf being handed over to the Allan line for some days. The Victorian, which is down on Sunday will probably be shelled No. 1 berth. The dredge fielding is working on the site.

A. O. Skinner, president of the St. John Exhibition Association, speaking of the clash of dates for next year's fair at St. John and Fredericton said he was not aware that Fredericton had chosen dates and he had never received any communication from Secretary Howland. He did not think there would be any difficulty in arranging the matter satisfactorily.

Rev. L. B. McKell, of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, brought to the Times office this morning an exquisite bouquet of pansies, ten week stocks and daisies. The flowers were picked by him in his garden this morning and are as fresh and healthy as if of July production. Victoria may claim to grow roses out of doors in the winter, but pansies, stocks and daisies in November is going some for the winter port.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather during a part of the past week, the mission of Evangelist Williams in the Tabernacle church has maintained a good degree of interest. Last night at the close of the meeting four candidates presented themselves to the church for baptism, and others indicated their purpose to do so next week. The services at the Tabernacle church are expected to be of more than ordinary interest tomorrow. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Grasping at the only hope," and of the evening sermon, "The tragedy of Belshazzar's Feast." The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the close of the services tomorrow.

THE EVERY DAY CLUB Rev. Gordon Dickie will be the speaker at the temperance meeting in the Every Day Club at 8.30 tomorrow evening. Waterloo street Baptist choir will sing.

FUNERAL OF PERCY N. LEE

Impressive Services Held This Morning in Mission Church of S. John Baptist.

Impressive services marked the burial of Percy Norman Lee, son of G. H. Lee, manager of the North End branch of the Bank of New Brunswick, which took place today from the Mission church of St. John Baptist, Paradise Row.

The body was, this morning, conveyed from the home of deceased's parents, Rockland Road, to the church, where there was a requiem celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 9.30 o'clock, the celebrant having been Rev. Father Conyers, priest-in-charge.

The funeral service was held at three o'clock this afternoon and was largely attended. The choir, under the direction of the organist and choromaster, Nell Blair, rendered the hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Jesus Lives," (omitting the alleluia), also the proper psalms, and, as the body was being taken from the church, the "Nunc Dimittis." The pallbearers were: R. J. H. Smith, H. L. Smith, F. C. Parke and three members of the Guild of St. Laurence.

The body was clothed in cassock and cotia, deceased having been a member of the Guild of St. Laurence, (the acolyte guild of the church), and from the hour of the requiem until that of the funeral service was guarded by his brother members of that organization.

A number of beautiful floral tributes attended the eastern in which the deceased young man was held. Among these may be mentioned a cross of white roses from the Guild of St. Laurence, a pillow of white roses bearing the name of the deceased, "Percy Norman Lee," a large crescent of white roses and carnations from G. Company, 62nd regiment.

Interment was made in Fernhill, Rev. Father Conyers also officiated at the grave.

OBITUARY

William Watt

Amherst, N. S., Nov. 28 (Special)—The death occurred at Napan Station this morning of William Watt at the age of 92. Deceased was born at River John, Pictou county, in 1816, where he resided carrying on farming until the death of his wife some years ago when he came to Napan to live with his only daughter, Mrs. David Langill. In politics Mr. Watt was a Joe Howe liberal and in religion a devoted Presbyterian. Having identified himself with that body at the age of 13 years, ever taking a deep interest in the affairs of his church. Besides Mrs. Langill he leaves three sons, George, I. C. R. car inspector at Springhill Junction, John, of Amherst, and Charles, in the States. The funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. B. M. Mullins

North Sydney, N. S., Nov. 28 (Special)—The death occurred at one o'clock this morning of Rev. Father B. M. Mullins, P. P., under very sad circumstances. Rev. Father Mullins who has been untiring in his efforts on behalf of those of his parishioners suffering from diphtheria, fell a victim to the dread disease thus giving to his life the faithful performance of his Master's duty. Father Mullins was a native of South Bar, C. B., and was aged 60 years. He studied at Sydney Academy, St. Francis Xavier College and the Grand Seminary, Montreal, from which place he was ordained twenty-five years ago. He is survived by one brother, Vincent, of Sydney, and one sister, Miss Annie, with whom he lived. Owing to the spread of the epidemic the council has ordered the closing of the schools and public places of amusement. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease. The funeral will be held at three o'clock today.

MISS HELEN DARLING TO GIVE CONCERT HERE

Miss Helen Darling, formerly of the Boston Grand Opera singers has accepted the role of prima donna in the new opera by Victor Herbert to be produced shortly. It will be very gratifying to Miss Darling's many friends in this city to hear that she is to give a recital in the Opera House in about a month. Miss Darling will bring with her for this occasion a very excellent baritone and a lady flutist, the latter having played before all the crowned heads of Europe. This will be a musical treat to the music lovers of St. John and judging from Miss Darling's popularity in this city there should be a packed house. Further particulars of this concert will be given in these columns later.

Miss Darling is at present visiting Mr. Frank Godose of Leinster street for a few days taking a much needed rest prior to starting her new work.

The Young Men's Society of St. Joseph will hold a literary afternoon in their rooms, tomorrow, when papers on "The Great English Cardinals," will be read by H. L. McInerney, N. L. McGowan, Joseph Lewis and E. J. Moran.

The Earl of Drogheda died recently at his residence, Moore Abbey, Co. Kildare, Ireland.
