we learn, on the admission of those inter-minated, of rallway subsidies appropriated to private uses and of huge sums paid to party funds by contractors who were honored as "friends" of the department. As the result of these and similar admis-sions, suspension has followed suspension in the department concerned, and there are probably more to come. The whole tale is a most gruesome one.

The Church is becoming aroused to the condition of affairs at Ottawa, and the necessity for a change. In Toronto yesterday, several of the leading preachers spoke strongly in regard to the revelations. Rev. Dr. Galbrath (Methodist) speaking on "National and Political Sins," said that made at Ottawa. Canada had been scandalized and disgraced by these revelations, and it behooved all honest men to look into the causes of the trouble and endeavor to find a remedy therefor. One great remedy was to "turn the rascals out," but in addition to that changed conditions were necessary. In the school, in the home, at the ballot box, the work of purification should go on. The country needed a great revival of religion—two revivals, one beginning at the Atlantic and coming west, the other beginning at the Pacific and coming cast. Together they should roll over the land, cleanse the air of the moral malaria which now filled it, and purify the atmosphere of corruption from one end of the country to the other.

Rev. J. E. Starr (Methodist) had for his subject "Aristocratic Stealing." At the subject "Aristocratic Stealing." At the very top notch of aristocratic stealing very top notch of aristocratic stealing stood the frauds on our government and country. Of the existence of the fraud known as boodling there had been abundance of evidence lately brought to light. There never had been in the history of our nation such an exposition of rottenness and corruption in the body politic as that brought forth at the present time. And the deeper the probe of inquiry was forced the more corrupt were the disclosures brought forth. More than $1,000,000 had been taken from the public purse, and thousands of dollars had been used in corrupting officials. The matter was made thousands of dollars had been used in corrupting officials. The matter was made even worse by the fact that the money plunderid had been paid in taxes by people who suffered heavily by the burdens laid upon them, who had keenly felt the oppression of the taxes for years. The money was the price of blood, and it was an outrage that men should be allowed to live on their illgotten wealth, driving in carriages and enjoying holiday trips, while the taxpayers were made to suffer. The boy who would steal a loaf of bread to keep his mother from starving would be sent to prison, and the man who would furnish him with a false key to enter a store would be punished

as an accessory. The aristocratic thieves as an accessory. The aristocratic thieves who plundered the treasury, and those who furnished the keys whereby the schemes were carried out, should not escape by resignation, but should be punished like those practicing the more awkward forms of stealing. And the bribers who tempt officials to violate their oaths should be sent to keep them company.

Rev. W. F. Wilson (Agthodist) said that the property honest man should prock out in this low ebb. Stained hands were startlingly numerous and bribery and corruption flourished with unblushing effrontery. There were good men and true in both, parties, but the time had arrived when the electorate of all shades of political opinion ought to unite and sweep all bribers, bribe takers and such-like moral lepers into oblivion. Was it any wonder that when the head of a department accepted $1,000 in hard cash, his second in rank felt justified in accepting a gift in jewelry, and the

Mr. McMullen asked the Government in how they could explain the expenditure of money to put up a postoffice in Dartmouth, where the postal revenue was only $2,900 a year, while towns such as Woodstock, with $15,000 of an annual postal revenue, were refused. It could not be explained, he said, on any other ground than political requirements. The fact was that the Government had peddled postoffices on the country at election times, and their erection, as every one knew, was controlled by political and not public consideration, and where buildings were put up there had been the grossest extravagance, and their cost had been enormously increased. For example, the Minister of Public Works estimated that the Napanee postoffice would cost $25,000, and $50,000 had been expended. This was a specimen of the increases in the cost of every public work, railway, graving dock and harbor work which this Government had under the cost of every public work, railway, graving dock and harbor work which this Government had under the cost of every public work, railway, graving dock and harbor work which this Government had under the cost of every public work, railway, graving dock and harbor work which this Government had under the cost of every public work, railway, graving dock and harbor work which this Government had under the cost of every public work. by Canadian mency, will be the erection of plants throughout the United States and Canada for the manufacture of gas by the T. At the next meeting of the City Council the company will, it is said, ask for a franchise to lay mains and manufacture gas in Chicago. The company now owns or controls gas plants in Dayton, Columbus and Springfield, Ohio.

The Ministerialists laughed at what appeared to be a mistake on the part of the member for Bothwell, but a few minutes later Dr. Landerkin turned back the laugh by reading from the record that the Picton building was built in 1872.

Mr. Stairs defended the erection of a postoffice at Dartmouth.

Province did not receive her proper share of the public buildings appropriations as compared with that which Ontario receives. On the item of $6,300 for the Lachine postoffice, Sir Richard Cartwright thought there should be some explanation given to the public why at Lachine it was necessary to expend $18,000 on a postoffice, the revenue derived from which was only about $700 and the rent now paid was $50 a year. He could not for the life of him understand why, except for the purpose of gratifying some political end, a sum of $18,000 should be demanded for a postoffice. The interest on that amount was far more than the revenue from the postoffice.

Mr. Gironard argued the expanding needs of the district rendered the new building necessary.

Mr. Mills said it was perfectly clear the expenditure was unjustifiable.

The Chief of Police and Six Men Killed at Nicaragua

While Making Arrests Ordered by the Government-The Ringlender of the Insurgents Arrested and About Fifty Persons Wounded During the Outburst.

New York, Aug. 24 .- The Herald's cable New York, Aug. 24.—The Herald's cable from Granada, Nicaragna, says: A desperate fight occurred bere to-day, in which the chief of police and six men were killed and many others were wounded. There had been more or less friction in the country for some time, and it was feared that a revolutionary movement was on foot. The Government had made all the overtures to the opposition which it thought consistent with ernment had made all the overtures to the opposition which it thought consistent with its dignky and safety, but they had been declined. Then it was decided to take measures which would prevent any possible attempt at rebellion. In pursuance of this policy, orders were issued to arrest Gen. Seavilla, Anselmo Rivas and Enrique Guzman. This order was executed this merning. As soon as the men were arrested and before they were gotten to the prison a number of their partisan went to their rescue. A volley was fired into the guards which wounded several and killed the chief of police. The guards returned the fire with fatal effect. The Government was fully prepared for just such an emute, and reinforcements were immediately sent to the beleaguered guards. Short work was then beleaguered guards. Short work was then made of the friends of the men under arrest, and the streets were quickly cleared; not, however, until several interchanges of shots had taken place, in which six men were killed outright and fully 50 more less invited. After order, had been reor less injured. After order had been re-stored, the streets were patrolled by bodies of troops, and to-night all is quiet. Sea-villa, Rivas and Guzman were sent to Managua in charge of a guard sufficient to render hopeless any possible attempt at rescue. An Italian hotel-keeper of this city, who appeared to be one of the ring-leaders in the trouble this morning, has been arrested, and accompanies the three first-mentioned to Managua. Other arrests are arrested. Concernment has taken first-mentioned to Managua. Other arrests are probable. The Government has taken every possible precaution, and there is ap-parently no reason now to fear any attempt to overthrow it.

McBain is a non-union tailor and has since the strike been employed by Latham & Pominville, and although he has been approached by the union men have made threats of his life, and time and again havé told him that if he would not walk out of town they would send him in a coffin. Mrs. James Manson, aged S3, died on Thursday in Malden.

An interesting occurrence took place on Sunday evening in All Saints Church, Windsor, being the baptism of the little daughter, Helen Major, of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Johnson, of Little Rock, Arkansas. The interest chiefly lay in the fact of the babe being the grandchild of the Rev. Canon Johnson, who performed the ceremony, and the water used on the occasion being from the Eiver Jordan, Holy Land. Wm. Lister, of the Windsor police force, registered his name at headquarters in Detroit when the Grand Army was there. A few days ago he received from Washington a blank application for a pension to fill up and return the address given. William's warlke experience has been confined to running in a few obstroperous persons around Windsor, and he couldn't understand why he should receive a pension from the United States Government. The explanation is that at the beginning of the Civil War, Policeman Lister had an uncle William living in Toronto who enlisted. The family heard that he was wounded in the early part of the war and nothing has been heard from him since. This incident shows how active the pension brokers are.

A DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT A call has been made on the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebes to dismiss his Ministers because of the charges of dishonesty lodged against them. The appeal is made by Ontario journals, and for the purposes of argument we shall admit that it is a proper one. But if the Lieutenant-Gov ernor may take his advisers to task for their shortcomings, with how much greater pro priety can Lord Stanley call the Government at Ottawa to account? The Dominion Ministers stand convicted of having gone to the country upon a fraudulent issue. They obtained the verdict of the people on a supposed offer of reciprocity which they had received from the United States Government, but which Secretary Blaine has conclusively proved was a de liberate misrepresentation concected by the Government to get it out of a hole. The late | boodling has been laid bare, the following high tax leader, upon the testimony of his own newspaper advocates, dissolved Parliament, not because of his desire to promote reciprocity negotiations, but in order to seize a renewed term of power before it was sible to lay have the wholesale robberies of the public treasury that he knew existed which he and his associates had refused to investigate, and which have been fully proved in spite of the opposition of at least ne-half of the Ministers. The Administration, having thus misled the Governor General and the people, now holds office because of these false pretenses. It does not represent the views of the majority of the electors-one good evidence of which is shown in the keeping back of the writ for a new election in Kingston.

What is the logical conclusion? That a fresh appeal should be made to the people If a Government has attained power by fraud and by a studied determination to hide away its inherent corruption, it cannot be said to represent the views of the electorate. We submit that the Governor-General should cut short his fishing season, return to Ottawa, and counsel his advisers to show fruits meet for repentance by at once exercising the virtue of resignation, and by giving the people opportunity to pronounce upon the questions so carefully hidden away in the fraudulent contest of a few months ago.

A PREMIER'S PATRONAGE.

To the Premier of Great Britain belong great and peculiar powers. Though the sovereign is supposed to be the head of the Church, the Premier is practically the head. and the 32 bishops of the church, 24 of whom have seats in the House of Peers, are appointed on the Prime Minister's advice. the good accomplished by the said in-The salaries of these church dignitaries range from $75,000 per annum (for the the Bishop of Sodor and Man.) The lord such an official is employed, and on the chancellorship, worth $50,000 a year, is farm of one of the councilors acres of one of the treasures within the gift of the Premier. Then there are three lords of When those occupying official positions in appeal, having 630,000 a year each; there is the lord chief justiceship at $40,000, and can be expected of the rank and file? many high judgeships at $25,000, not to speak of knighthoods, baroneteies and orders of the garter. The Premier appoints Canada in the hour of her need. J. H. orders of the garder. The Fremier appoints the Vicercy of India, the Lord Lieutenaut of Ireland, and the colonial governors.

Members of the Cabinet have $25,000 separ each, and basides these there are over 30 positions in the Ministry at from $7,000 upward. On the whole the Prime Ministry at the second positions of the whole the Prime Ministry at the second to the whole the Prime Ministry at the second to the whole the Prime Ministry at the second to the seco may be said to bead a long procession of titles and pounds sterling.

AT ONE WITH THE GLOBE papers have taken the ground that the clations of the Quebec Government to the Baie des Chaleurs Railway should not be investigated by the Dominion Senate, because such a proceeding in an invasion of the rights of the Province, and the Toronto Globe has been censured by the same papers for holding a different view.

The rights of the Provinces must be respected, but the honest people of Canada are at present not inclined to inquire very closely as to the regularity of methods of investigation, provided the truth is brought out, and the guilty are reached. The position which the Globe has taken is massailable. It is one from which no honest Liberal journal can dissent. Come what may of these investigations, the course pursued by our Toronto contemporary is the only proper one. The Dominion as well as the Provincial subsidies to the Baie des Chaleurs Railway have been boodled, the evidence on that point so far is strong. The company has applied to the Dominion Parliament for further powers. Who shall say that Parliament shall not get at the bottom of the way in which the powers hitherto granted have been exercised? That is the case in a nutshell.

If members of the Liberal party have joined the original Conservative syndicate making off with the money voted by either Parliament, surely the sooner the fact is made known and the party is purged of the boodlers the better. That is the position the Globe and every Liberal paper in this Province that has come under our notice has taken.

But we go further and say that the inquiry by the Senate should not be con fined, as has so far been the case, to the boodling charged against Mr. Pacaud and members of the Quebec Government. There is sworn testimony that $400,000 to $500,000 was made away with while Robitsille, Riopel and Mc-Greevy held control. The inquiry will not be complete if every possible light is not brought to bear on that gigantic steal. Instead of finding fault with the courageous course adopted by the Globe our Quebec contemporaries should join in the demand that the inquiry at Ottawa should be complete, and that no guilty man shall escape. The best interests of the country, the best party interests, demand that this view shall prevail. If, when the Quebec Legislature meets, it can lend a hand to still further expose and correct the grave abuses that have disgraced our land, so much better.

A NEEDED POSTAL CHANGE The British Postmaster-General has made an important concession in letter postage that will be much appreciated by the public. Hitherto all letters have been carried at a uniform penny postage rate. Now the circulars of friendly societies, announcing meetings, giving notice of arrears and so forth will be sent by the halfpenny post. Time was when a similarly sensible policy held good in Canada, and a most profitable business was done by the postal authorities under the city letter rate of a cent. Now the friendly societies feel the burden of the doubled postage. It is time a change were effected. Will some one wake up Mr. Haggart?

FOR SPECIMEN JOBS. For four works, undertaken by the Doninion Government, in which extensive the actual cost:

The Toronto harbor job is far from completed, but it will have to be added to the scandalous, wasteful and corrupt agencies for getting away with public money. Our taxes are high. The people are kept poor. Is it any wonder?

THE WEED CROP.

The natural causes that have been productive of the season's splendid crops in Ontario have also promoted the growth of weeds. In many sections Canada thistles, ox-eye daisy, mustard and rag weed have never been more rampant, scores of grain fields being practically ruined by these intruders and pasture grass choked out of existence. The thistles are perhaps the most general curse. That they can be overcome has been demonstrated over and over again. What can be accomplished on one farm and hundreds of farms is surely possible on the rest. It is simply a matter of determination and intelligent, persistent effort. Farmers cannot afford the losses inflicted by weeds. In some townships what the people call a "thistle inspector" is appointed by the council. Early in the mer he drives round leaving a printed notice at each farm warning the occupant or owner to have all thistles, etc., cut before a certain date. This seems to be the He fills the archbishoprics and deaneries, last that is seen of him. Some heed the mandate at their convenience as to time others pay no attention to it whatever, so spector is practically nil, for the careful farmers who destroy the weeds on their farms would probably do so anyway. Archbishop of Canterbury) to $10,000 (for now we have in mind one township where municipalities set such an example what

Greer, ex-Conservative candidate in West Elgin, and one of the most pronounce opposents of reciprocity, has shaken the dust of Canada from his heels and taker up his residence in Arkanene, where he has invested his money. Yet in recent contests his loyalty to Canada knew no average member of the Domi-Cabinet now finds his brain haunted with the old refrain, "They're after me."

IT is just as well to remember in these days of awakening that good laws are of little avail if bad men are depended upon to enforce them.

WHEN the big crops go out, money or its equivalent will come in. All taxes that prevent a free exchange help to reduce the reward for the labor of production.

THE wheat crop in Manitoba has so far escaped damage by frost, though the cold spell on Friday and Saturday came alarmingly near doing injury. 111

SIR CHARLES TUPPER is getting ready visit Canada again, and it is understood that he comes to have a hand in the present crisis. The Halifax Chronicle points out that "his motto is, as it al ways has been, 'Let us have purity even if we have to corrupt the whole electorate in order to get it."

How MANY people are contented to live in a fool's paradise? The building that collapsed in New York on Saturday, with such dreadful loss of life, was condemned by the authorities thirteen years ago, but its greedy owner had no difficulty in secur-ing tenants for it right down to its tragic end. Verily, human life in a great city is held cheap.

MR. SENECAL, whose retirement from the head of the Government Printing Bureau at Ottawa was necessitated by the revelations brought out by Mr. Lister in spite of the opposition of Ministers Chapleau, Foster, Haggart and others, has written a letter. He more than hints that he had a perfect right to boodle because his salary was only $1,900 a year, whereas he values his services at from $4,000 to $5,000 a year! A dishonest servant is dear at any price.

THE appearances are that if Blaine is available the Republican party in the United States will gladly put the present President aside at the end of his term. The Republican State of Pennsylvania, State that, next to Kansas, gave him the largest plurality of all the States in the Presidential vote of 1888, and, next to New York, gave Harrison the larges number of votes, has virtually declared in the great council of the party that his chief rival must be preferred to him. Mr Harrison is an ardent aspirant for re nomination, and the new turn of affairs must tend to complicate affairs in the dominant party.

AN ATTRACTIVE PLANK.

[Boston Herald.]
Mrs. Lease, of Kansas, announces that all men who want to join her party will be received with open arms. Small wonder that the accessions are numerous. SECRET OF LAURIER'S STRENGTH.

[Toronto Mail.] Nobody doubts that Mr. Laurier is thoroughly honest and high-minded man. This is the great source of his influence. It makes him strong even in Ontario, where he is comparatively little known, but whither, since this revelation of the complete rottenness of Quebec, he will have to look for the basis of his party. NO GUESS IN THIS.

[Hamilton Times.]
If it is right, as it undoubtedly is, that If it is right, as it undoubtedly is, that the Senate Committee on Railways should go to the bottom of the Baie des Chalcurs Railway job and expose Mr. Mercier and Mr. Langelier, who are Quebec Cabinet Ministers, why is it wrong for the Public Accounts Committee to investigate thoroughly the cases against Ottawa Cabinet Ministers, such as Mr. Haggart, Mr. Dewdney and Mr. Chapleau? Six Cabinet Ministers, Messrs. Bowell Chapleau, Costigan, Foster, Haggart and Tupper, have been in almost constant attendance at the Public Accounts Committee for the purpose, apparently, of imtendance at the Public Accounts Commit-tee for the purpose, apparently, of im-mediately burking the inquiry whenever any of them seemed about to be involved. These six Ministers formed the majority of the committee which prevented an inquiry into the doings of Cabinet Ministers, and the public will hold that it was not in order to prevent their own innocence from being made manifest that they restricted the investigation.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

h a peculiar medicine. It is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandellon, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsiasewa, Juniper Berries, and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a seculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative power not possessed by other medicines. It offects remarkable cures where other preparations fail.

The Alterts, the Stars, the Grand Trunks and the Athletics are all lively amateur teams and honest competition in an organized league, worked on pure amateur principles, should give pleasure-seekers some first-class recreation, the local character of which would intensify the interest. A little too much borrowing of players is done at present. Saturday's game was highly enjoyable, neat ball being put up en both sides. Jennings and Sheere both did well, the latter having the best of it, if anything. Following was the score:

There is but little doubt that the National League at its fall meeting will take some action in the cases of McAleer and Latham. Making all due allowances for the fact that the men lost their temper, that the umpire was only figurehead, and that Latham was the player entirely at fault in the matter, as it occurred between him and McAleer, it still remains that the conduct of both men was such as to necessitate censure of some kind from the League. In the meantime it is to be hoped that dirty ball playing has been taught a lesson.

of a fine lot of fellows. This year they did not organize. It is proposed to get them together again for a trial with the Alerts next Saturday afternoon. Captain Eddie Parke, of Toronto, is home on a visit and will assume his old position. Messrs. Stanfield, Kirkpatrick, Bell, Gillespie, Pearce, Grey, Bob and Will Lind, and others, will likely fall in line, and a good game may be looked for.

The Delaware baseball team struck London and defeat Saturday. A picked nine from the city, hastily gathered for the occasion, played the visitors a hotly-contested game, both sides playing good ball. Either on account of remarkable pitching or limited batting ability, the hitting was very light, Delaware making four and the picked nine three. Score—London, 7; Delaware, 6. Players: London—Pearce, Turner, Webb, McNeil, McMillan, Kirkpatrick, Tallaferro, Thompson and Woonton. Delaware—Lucas, Watterworth, Hutton, Goff, Jackson, Wagner, Mahlin, Tomkins and Hammond.

The Buckeyes defeated Steven & Burns' toam in a five-inning game at Tecumsch Park Saturday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2. J. Hill umpired the game in a very satisfactory manner. The batteries were Howell and Stein, Bright and McGinnis.

In connection with Saturday's game the following has been received: The Grand Trunks are following in the steps of the Stars. They secured the services of Webber and Webb, of the Stars and Lepage, of the Galts. The Alerts played their own team as they always do. The fact of the matter is, the city clubs are afraid to play their own teams.

LOUIS PAULSEN.

The Creat Chess Player Who Has Died

Paul Morphy, probably the greatest chess player who ever lived, was an American, and while Paulsen was not a native of the States, he became famous there. Louis Paulsen was born June 14, 1833, in the principality of Lippe-Detmold, Germany. His father was a strong cliess player. When 4 years old Louis watched his father teaching the moves to his two elder brothers and his sister. Louis was intended to become a gentleman farmer, but in 1854 he emigrated with his brother Ernest to the States and established business in Dubuque, Iowa. He culti-Ernest to the States and established business in Dubuque, Iowa. He cultivated chess with such success that he received in 1857 an invitation from Chicago to take part in a tournament. Having beaten the strongest ment. Having beaten the strongest players in that city, he was persuaded to take part in the first American Chess Congress in New York in 1857. Paulsen wor the second prize, Morphy being first. Morphy was the only player who beat him. He lost against him five games, won one and drew two. In New York Paulsen first tried his skill as a blindfold player. Out of five games played simultaneously he won four and drew one. This achievment created such a sensation at that time that the New York Chess Club gave him a gold medal. Subsequently he played soven, then ten and finally fifteen games simultaneously. In 1860 he returned to Europe and challenged Morphy, who refused to play with him. He engaged in a number of contests, the most memorable one of which was with Kolisch. This match was drawn after Paulsen had This match was drawn after Paulsen had won seven, lost six; there were eighteen draws. In the London tournament of 1859. Paulsen won the second prize, but after wards beat the winner, Anderssen. Hillife almost up to the time of his death was a series of triumphs, and he was severa times first. In 1889 in Breslau he divided the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh prizes

Cast for Fortune

By Christian Reid.

AUTHOR OF "VALERIE AYLMER."

DAUGHTER OF BOHEMIA." "HEART OF STEEL," "BONNY KATE," ETC.

"I have a special reason for wishing to make the fortune of which I speak. It is not for myself, not merely for the accumulation of money, but to pay a debt of honor. If I do not pay it, others will suffer. And that must not be, if any exertion on my part can prevent it."

It was the first time that he had uttered even so much of his secret to any human car, and these people were strangers to him, But he was repaid by a quick glance of sympathy from Zarifa's eyes; while the priest said, kindly, "In that case, I hope you may soon find another Buena Esperanza. There are many rich lodes in these mountains, some of which are as yet untouched. Now, my ohild," he spoke to the girl, "I must really go on; but there is no reason why you should not allow Senor Derwent to rest himself fully and then bring him with you."

"No, no," said Derwent rising. "I cannot consent to detain the senorita, for I am really rested now. In this wonderful climate I perceive that one recuperates rapidly. I am equal to accompanying you."

"I the had never witnessed a more lovely sight than when, unconscious that any gaze was upon her, she bent over a woman tossying with fever renewed the cool bandages on her head, held a juicy lime to her parched lisps, and, clasping the bot, dry hand between her own cool, soft palms, talked soothingly as if to an infant.

"I think, senorita," he said, when they were walking away, "that if you had sent would have been as much as could be expected of you, and I should have been as much as could be expected of you, and I should have been as much as could be expected of you, and I should have been as much as could be expected of you, and I should have been as much as could be expected of you, and I should have been as much as could be expected of you, and I should have been only too thankful to find myself in such a place as your hospital."

"I hope you like your present quarters be the girl if and not k

"Beeno!" said the padre, approvingly.

"Then let us go."

They let the pavilion, and Dona Zarifa explained, as they crossed the pretty stream, that, a little lower, it turned the flouring-mills of the hacienda, which, Derwent found later, were the largest in that part of the country and supplied a wide district with their product.

"My father is very proud of his mills," is be said, "and will certainly insist on taking you over them. He has all the latest improvements. I sometimes wonder how he can maintain such keen interest in somany varied purauits."

"He is a wonderful man, Don Maurizio," and the priest. "His energy is indomitable, and his interest in everything that can develop the country and help the people is unflagging. Now, Senor Derwent, can you guess where we are taking you?"

Derwent confessed his inability to hazard a conjecture; for, skirting grounds, they now seemed approaching a village, composed of neatly-built adobe houses, scrupulously clean both within and without, as almost all Mexican houses are.

"This is where the laborers on the estate live," said Padre Francisco. "There were a taking you?"

"But such a need rarely occurs," said Dona Zarifa. "Few of our people ever wish to leave, and most of them have been orn on the estate. We know them all, we think for them all, they are, as it were, part of our family; why should they desire to go?"

to go?"

"There is something very charming in this feudal dependance of the employed upon their employers, something softening and humanizing on both sides," said Derwent. "How different from the wide chasm and the bitter strife between labor and capital with which we have replaced it! But what is this?"

"The school house," said the priest, smiling, as they paused before the open door of a large room, where about fifty children sat at their desks and a teacher stood before a blackboard. There was a simultaneous movement, as all present rose to their feet. Derwent did not enter, but, leaning against the doorway, watched the scene, the pretty, dark faces, the shining eyes and gleaming teeth, the reverence with which the small scholars knelt for the padra's blessing, the caressing affectionateness with which those nearest Dona Zarifa pressed forward to touch her dress or kiss her hand. There was no servility in the last action. It was plainly as much an impulse of their admiring adoration as the same homage is from a lover. "Having the freedom to do so, how could they help it?" Derwent thought. Looking at the beautiful, gracious figure of the young lady, as she stood in the center of the room, smiling into the upturned faces, with one hand on the dark, silky curls of a riny boy, he envied the children their privilege to express the feeling which she inspired.

"We did not /linger long, on your account," she said, when they rejoined him. "Usually el padre hears the catechism and I distribute rewards to the deserving; but we let them off easily this morning, hecause I do not want to fatigue you, and I do want you to see our hospital, if you are equal to a little farther walk."

Derwent declared himself fully equal to it; and indeed his interest was so much roused that he forgot his fatigue. The adopted.

The work of pulling flax for the mills to Derwent declared himself fully equal to it; and indeed his interest was so much roused that he forgot his fatigue. The hospital—a rather imposing structure built around a pleasant court, with cleanliness and space and sunshine everywhere—was as perfect in its arrangements as everything else on the hacienda seemed to be. There were only one or two patients in it at present; but everything was so attractive in appearance, and so well managed, that it was evident sickness was as little a misfortune at Miraflores as care and kindness could make it. And here, too, Dona Zarifa was like a young queen among her subjects, The work of pulling flax for the mills to operate this scason in Sanilac county is completed. The Paster's Anniversary.
Sunday was the first anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. M. P. Talling at St. James' Presbyterian Church. The ladies had assiduously devoted their attention to the decoration of the interior of the edifice to mark the special services held on the occasion. Very pleasing and pretty were the results. The platform was buried under a magnificent collection of floral beauties while the gallery fronts were draped with evergreens. The lecture room was also handsomely ornamented. To a crowded congregation in the morning Rev. J. A. Murray, of St. Andrew's Church, preached an elequent and lengthy sermon. In the afternoon Dr. Ferguson and Rev. M. P. Talling addressed a large gathering, the latter incidentally referring to his vacation trip, from which he had just returned. The pastor occupied his own pulpit in the evening, taking his text from God's words to Moses in the book of Exodus: "My presence shall go with the and I will give thee rest." During the past year, the preacher thought, God's presence had been with the church.

past year, the preacher thought, God's presence had been with the church. Interesting Services at the New Church. The services in the Christian Church, corner Elizabeth and Dundas streets, were conducted both morning and evening by Rev. A. M. Gilbert, M. A., of Cleveland, Onio. At both meetings the edifice was crowded to the doors, extra seats having to be placed along the aisles in order to accommodate the large gatherings. This building has just been refitted at a cost of about $500, the funds for which were furnished by Dr. Leonard, U. S. consul, city. This sum has been repaid him with the exception of $100, by citizens of London. The church has now a pretty interior with a good-sized choir gallery. It will furnish seating accommodation for about 400 people. The attendance Sunday must have been encouraging to the adherents of the denomination. Rev. A. N. Gilbert, A. M., who preached, is one of the most prominent and widely known divines of the Disciples of Christ in the United States. He has just conducted a series of evangelistic meetings a: Bethany Park Assembly, near Indianapolis, Ind., the denominational Chautsuqua. He prepares every year the denominational commentary on the international Sunday school lessons, a companion volume to Peloubet's, published at Cincinnati. He has traveled on all the continents except Australia, and has recently been pastor of Euclid Avenue Church of the Disciples in Cleveland, Ohio, where he nas just resigned to enter the evangelistic field. At both services the reverend gentleman delivered powerful discourses, fully sustaining his reputation as an efficient minister of the Gospel. He will conduct two more meetings at the Christian Church, one this evening and the other this evening. On Wednesday he leaves for other fields of labor. Next Sunday Dr. McRat, of Cleveland, Ohio, secretary of the General Christian Mission Convention, will preach morning and evening, and will hold meetings in the church for a few evenings following. The musical portions of the gervices Sunday were Special line at 40 cents (very Interesting Services at the New Church.

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegtable preparation; its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrha and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children spanacea—the mother's friend. 25 doses, 55 cents.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer exeruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a bail of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, epen the secretions and conver the food partaken of inte healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsis.
