that the conclusion has been reached to abide by the first decision on this point, namely, to relinquish the islands. retaining a coaling station there, surmake it self-supporting. This decision, it is possible, though not probable, may be again changed before the cabinet disposes of the matter tomorrow, as strong influences are at work to induce the president to insist upon the substitution of at least an independent government over the Philippines for Spanish rule. If this point shall be difficult of settlement, answer to Spain may not be rendered. but may have to await upon another cabinet meeting next Tuesday. The report from Madrid towards the close of the day that the newspapers there had given their approval to the terms of peace described by the president went toward relieving a certain feel-ing of discouragement that was manifested at the opening of the day, for it was patent that members of the administration apprehended a rejection of our demands by Spain at the beginning. It may be pointed out in this connection that if really as near to peace as many people suppose, it will become necessary to issue a call for an extra session of the senate to act promptly upon the peace treaty. SPANISH SENTIMENT. Madrid, July 28-2 p.m.-With the understanding that no indemnity will be demanded and that Spanish sovereignty in the Philippines will be respected, the newspapers here consider the terms of peace attributed to President McKinley as being acceptable. The press, however, protest against a continuance of hostilities by the United States after Spain has sued for peace.

THE FEELING IN EUROPE. London, July 28 .- The Madrid correpondent of the Daily Mail, remarking the feeling of satisfaction and relief of the peace overtures have produced," There is little probability of popular discontent and none at all if Spain is allowed to retain the Philippines and is not compelled to pay indemnity. The attitude of the people makes the chances of Don Carlos small. Moreover, the Carlists are said to disagree about the advisability of rising. the Marquis de Corralbo and other leaders opposing the step. Nevertheless, it is feared that Don Carlos will insist upon it. The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: However unpalatable the terms of peace may be, they will not provoke the slightest disturbance in Spain, where listless in-

The National Gazette remarks that the United States have not won a victory signal enough to warrant such harsh terms, and exsure, pure and harmless, easily applied. presses the opinion that the prospects whole of his troops. Along the northern coast of Cuba. stretching from Nuevitas, in the district of Puerto Principe, to Cardenas, in that of Matanzas, is a long system of keys, or reefs. These are four miles or more from the shore, and the water within them is so shallow that only boats of light draught can use it. These keys, therefore, present a bulwark against the vessels of the squadron which seized the harbor of Nipe and destroyed the cruiser Jorge Juan. The Spaniards, however, have a large number of shallow draught vessels within the keys, which carry on a lively trade along the coast, and take quantities of provisions to Havana. When. Gen. Pando first came to the Province of Santiago, he used a number of these boats as transports, and it is stated that he has been successful in again reaching them and re-embarking his men for Cardenas, whence he will go to Havana by rail. It was in anticipation of some such move, and to cut off his retreat by this route, that the American vessels occupled Nipe, but their work was useless seeing that Pando had already sailed from Nuevitas farther to the west. He is now safely within the keys on his way to Cardenas, and there is no way of intercepting him, as the Americans have no light boats suitable for the purpose. Admiral Sampson has called the attention of the war department to the urgent need for river boats to be sent him, so that the keys may be entered and commerce with Havana stopped.

His Illness a Sore Trial for the Queen Regent.

Her Own Health Much Shaken-The King Is Cheerful.

New York July 29.-A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: Queen Christina is deeply distressed by her son's illness, coming in the midst of national reverses. Her own health is much shaken by cares and sleepless nights. The first attendant to notice that the youthful king was ailing was Col. Loriga, one of Alfonso's professors. Gen. Sanchez, the chief of the military household, immediately informed the queen, who sent for Drs. Candela, Bastos and Ledesna. put the king to bed, but for 24 hours could only say the fever was rising rapidly, his temperature was 39 centigrade (102.2 Fahrenheit), he had a headache, his face was flushed, and his eyes were abnormally brilliant. The queen watched her son for two nights. When told that the measles had developed, but presented only an ordinary character, she went to her private oratory and knelt on the floor, sobbing and crying bitterly. Then she recovered her composure, called the Infanta Isabella (her sister-in-law) and asked her to take care of her (the queen's) daughter, the Princess Asturia, and the Princess Teresa, whose quarters are at the other end of the palace, in order that they might escape the contagion. For fifteen days the queen will not see them, having resolved to remain by her son.

His faithful old valet, Antonio, and his English nurse, take turns with the officers in the sick room. The king is a very cheerful invalid, especially when his mother is with him. She reads aloud to him, despite the advice of the doctors, and takes little food or rest. Very considerately she told her min-isters who had children that she would dispense with their attendance.

His Report on Sewage Disposal Ignored.

Mayor Wilson Says the Engineer's Various Reports Do Not Jibe.

Council Will Be Again Asked to Adopt the International System -Mr. Chipman Says Delay Is Imperative.

The board of works "turned down" Consulting Engineer Willis Chipman last night. Despite his report that it seemed to him "imperative to delay the adoption of a scheme for sewage disposal for at least a few months," the board again decided to recommend the council to adopt the International (McDougail) system. It was on motion of the mayor that the "cold shoulder" was thus given the expert engineer, who has devised and superintended the new sewer system since Its inception, and who prepared the plans upon which the ratepayers voted for the sewerage bylaw. The mayor held that Mr. Chipman's latest report was at variance with his statements made in reply to certain quesproposed by his worship recently, and therefore should not be considered. He referred to the estimate of the cost of sewage disposal by filt-ration beds, or the "farm plan," and said this was given by Mr. Chipman in reply to the questions as much greater than he had given in the report presented last evening. Dr. Cl. T. Campbell disagreed with the mayor on this point. When ans-

Mr. Chipman had included in his estimate part of the work which was not included in the report of the evening. That accounted for the difference in the figures. The mayor still held that there were discrepancies in the two rewering the mayor's questions, he said,

Mr. J. McDougall was again heard, and repeated his offer to furnish the city with a chemical precipitation plant, known as the International System. The plants examined by Mr. Chipman were not at all such as his company offered to put down. They were old-fashioned tanks, the beds were different, and instead of "ferosome chemical which was a fad of Mr. Horetzky's was used. No "ferozone" was in use in the country, said the speaker. Continuing, he said there were a number of inaccuracies in Mr. Chipman's report. His statement that there were no specifications of the new system was wrong, for they had accompanied the plans. He also made a mistake about the water coming from the tanks being pumped back again. There was no double pumping, and he was in error about Huddersfield and Sutton. Mr. McDougall also said bacteriological treatment would ten times as much as his system. His system was the best in the world, and as he was willing to give the requisite guarantee the questions of cost or failure should not be con-

The mayor was greatly displeased because Mr. Chipman quoted Mr. Horetzky. It was Mr. Chipman, not Mr. Horetzky, they had asked to report, he said. It was stated that Mr. Horetzky recommended the scheme upon which the ratepayers had voted.

Dr. Campbell said that when the board of health were considering the matter he had no fads of his own. He favored chemical precipitation in theory, but it was not practical yet. The engineers had been asked simply to report on the disposal of the sewage, and their recommendations had adopted. Dr. Wilson-Was it the intention of board at any time to get filtration beds at all? Dr. Campbell-That was my idea. Some persons did say, what is the use of hurrying.

Dr. Campbell thought farms "A" and "B" would be all that was necessary to buy for some time. Wilson said it would not do to have the farm where proposed, because it would be a nuisance. then went on to speak of what would have to be done when London was a city of 100,000 inhabitants. His worship is thinking of posterity," said a couple of aldermen.

The Mayor—The trouble has been that the thought has been for present That's why the system is a bungle from beginning to end. Dr. Campbell—No, the object has been to have it so that it can be added to when needed. He thought the board could at least agree in view of the disputes, not to do anything at present. They should look into the bacteriological system. It was natural for Mr. McDougall to say his system was the best in the world, but Mr. Chipman and the other engineers were disinterested parties. But the mayor moved to recommend

Dr. Campbell called attention to the Ex-Ald. Skinner said if they wished to adopt a new system the people should vote on it. He and Dr. Campbell were there to justify the action of the board of health of last year. To adopt the International system was to be done with Mr. Chipman. It would be prudent to be more careful about throwing overboard Mr. Chipman's report, he thought.

Ald. Cooper was contradicted when he said Mr. Chipman was responsible only for the work on the streets.

The mayor wanted to know if the engineers knew there was a park near the proposed sewage farm.
Dr. Campbell said "Yes." The theory was that there would be no nu sance. The mayor said if they could get a 50 per cent guarantee the farm would be all right he would vote for it. The motion by the mayor was passed, and the recommendation will come before the council on Monday night. MR. CHIPMAN'S REPORT.

The report of the consulting engineer on the International system of sewage disposal was an exhaustive one, covering eight typewritten folios. It stated this system had been in operation in England for over ten years, and had been adopted by several towns and small cities, and a great number of barracks and other public institutions in Great Britain and abroad.

"The crude sewage," the report reads, "is treated to a solution of 'ferozone,' precipitated in tanks from which the upper liquid is drawn off to beds or tanks partially filled with sand, gravel and 'polarite,' through which the liquid filters, and the suspended mat-ter that settled in the precipitating tanks is drawn off and allowed to settle in a deep tank, the heavier part, known as sludge, sinking to the bottom, the liquid on upper parts being pumped back to the precipitating tanks.

"The wet sludge may be pressed to about one-fifth its weight by a sludge presser, the resulting cake being easily handled.

"This process differs from other chemical processes in the use of ferozone and polarite instead of other substances. The cost of the polarite alone is about equal to half the total cost of the filter beds or tanks. Polarite is worth, delivered in Canada, about $30 per ton, and weighs about 70 pounds to the cubic foot. It is claimed that it will last indefinitely. The cost of ferozone to treat 1,000,000 gallons of sewage varies from $5 to $12.

"The system was first introduced into Canada at the Guelph Agricultural College in 1891. It was also installed at the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Belle ville, and at the Mimico Asylum in the same year, and in 1894 at the Rockwood Asylum, Kingston.

"From personal inspection of the disoosal works at Guelph, Belleville and Mimico, I arrived at the following con-"(a) That the effluent from each of the works is generally satisfactory. "(b) That with ordinary management no nuisance is created by the "(c) That the handling of the sludge is occasionally offensive. "(d) That the sludge is disposed of on land as a manure; but has no commercial value. "(e) That the operating and maintenance charges are high.

"(f) That the authorities do not prefer ferozone to other precipitants; or polarite to other filtering materials. "All these works were erected by the Provincial Government between the years 1890 and 1895, upon the recom-mendation of Mr. C. E. Horetzky, engineer for the department of public works. Mr. Horetzky also reported upon the London sewage disposal problem

"If there be any person in Canada fully qualified to express an opinion upon this process, Mr. Horetzky is that "This is what he says in his report Artificial filters of polarite are far too expensive to be thought of in your case. * * The filter presses alluded to in the estimate would produce a weekly and unfailing supply of sludge cake amounting to 50 tons. How would you dispose of this? Burning does not from the experience of many places on appear to be a success, if we may judge the continent and in England, while burial would prove an equally abortive undertaking, as neighboring municipalities would have none of it.' Continuing, Mr. Chipman states the candy tank has probably increased the efficiency of the process. A good deal of information about the works in England was given in the report. At Acton eight tons of sludge cake were produced per 1,000,000 gallons of sewage, and at Chorley twenty tons of cake per 1,000,000 gallons. At two places-Huddersfield and Sutton-the International system had been abandoned, Mr. Chipman had been informed.

THE COST Regarding the cost of the proposed plant. Mr. Chipman estimated that works of a capacity sufficient to treat 1,000,000 gallons of sewage daily, which the company offers to construct for $41.800, exclusive of the site, could be built by the city for less than $33,000, exclusive of the polarite. The sludge pressing machine should be in duplicate, and this would increase the cost by about $3,000. If the polarite bed be made one foot deep, the polarite for the filters would probably cost about

A comparison is then given in the re-The cost of a filtration bed system to treat the same amount of sewage volume would be about $25,000. OPERATING EXPENSES.

In the company's proposal the annual perating expenses are given as $2,400 for labor and ferozone, and $1,400 for sludge pressing, the plant to be operated all the year. It is assumed that the disposal of the sludge cake will bring in some revenue, or at least that it will cost nothing. Mr. Chipman is of the opinion that it will be necessary to dispose of a great part of it on farms 'A" and "B" for some years, until the neighboring farmers become educated as to its value. It costs about 50 cents per ton for pressing sludge cake, the report states, and at the Belleville Institute 50 tons of wet sludge is produced from 1,000,000 gallons of sewage; at the Kingston asylum, 20 tons, and at Mimico, 8 tons. At Hamilton, with the alum-lime process only ten tons per 1,000,000 gallons are produced. The disposal of the sludge is the most important point in the successful working of a chemical precipitation plant. In land treatment the amount of sludge is trifling.

The cost of operating filtration beds twelve months, disposing of 1,000,000 gallons per day, Mr. Chipman estimated would be $3,600. Referring to bacteriological filters, the report states that within the last two or three years the treatment of sewage on bacteriological lines has made wonderful progress in England, so much so that it is now proposed to treat the sewage from London by this process.

A SUMMARY. The report, in conclusion, stated the first cost of the proposed plant was practically the same as that for a land filtration system, and the operating expenses were also about the same. Duplicating the capacity of the plant would cost about the same in each, case, and there would, therefore, be nothing to gain financially in adopting the system in preference to land filtration, which with careful and intelligent management, could doubtless be operated without creating a nuisance. At Mimico the results from the chemical precipitation were unsatisfactory, and it had been recommended by the superintendent that it should be abandoned and the land treatment adopted.

The annual operating expenses guaranteed by the company were so much less than the expenses in other places where the process was in operation, that they called for careful consideration and investigation before being adopted as correct. "Only after a personal inspection and investigation of the most recent works in England would I feet justified in remmending you to adopt this system in preference to intermittent filtration,' the report continued, and recommended that nothing be done until next year, as there would be no necessity for the purification of the sewage until next summer. "To me," wrote Mr. Chipman, in conclusion, "it appears imperative to at least delay the adoption of the scheme for a few months MR. CHIPMAN'S PREVIOUS RE-PORT. To show the alleged differences between the report and the answers recently given by Mr. Chipman to ten questions propounded by his Worship Mayor Wilson desired to have the questions and answers published. He moved to that effect, as he said it would enable the ratepayers to judge for themselves if the aldermen would be justified in not following the engineer. The questions and answers are: Question 1.-How many acres land will be required for the next ten years, the farm to be used all the year round? Answer. - If the sewage requires purifying six months of the year only, 30 acres of land should be laid out into beds immediately and two acres added yearly thereafter, the total at the end of the ten years to be fifty acres. This is upon the assumption that the population of the city tributary to, and connected with, the sewer system increases from 20,000 to 27,000 in ten years. The land in farm A should be sufficient for five years, possibly longer. (See pages 11 and 12 of my report of March 1, 1898.) If the beds operated all the year round, the above areas should be materially increased. Probably 40 acres would do for the present, this area to be increased' by about three acres per year. If it were necessary to treat the sewage all the year round, farms A and B should be secured at once.

Question 2.-What will be the cost per acre for preparing the farm for purifying the sewage? Answer.-The cost per acre for preparing filtration beds should not exceed six hundred dollars, exclusive of the cost of the land, which I have taken at two hundred dollars per acre. (See page 12 of report of March 1,

Question 3.—Was it your intention to use the farm all the year round or only for four months? Answer .- I do not believe that it will be necessary to operate the filtration beds for more than six months out of the twelve during any year, and that in all probability, from one month to four months will answer every requirement. (Extracts from page 13 of 1892, and if so, how many acres did report of March 1, 1898.) (Also see section 16, chap. 32, statutes Ontario, 1896.) The act of April 7, 1896, empowers the city of London to borrow money for the construction of sewers purchase of land for farm for constructing the farm, erect buildings, machinery, etc. By this act the establishment, maintenance, and operation of the farm are to be sub-ject to "such conditions, restrictions and regulations as to the areas of the same, the plan or system of sewage disposal to be adopted, and the mode of operation and precautions to be observed, as may be prescribed by the provincial board of health," etc. As the provincial board of health has within the last few years, and since my first report was made, permitted the city of Chatham to take its water supply from the River Thames, I would uggest that the board be requested to state the probable degree of purification that will now be demanded in the purification of the sewage and the proportion of the year that treatment will be necessary before the city proceeds with the construction of the disposal works. My own opinion is that the sewage from London cannot affect the water supply of Chatham, even if discharged untreated directly into the river, and if no local nuisance be created within the city limits, no nuisance can possibly arise beyond those limits. I have held from the first, and now maintain, that the works under construction for diverting sewage from Carling's Creek and the two branches of the river, and conveying it to a point some distance below the city before discharging it into river, whether purified or not, are for the benefit of London and its citizens.

Answer—If the filtration beds be operated the year round, there is not a sufficient area of available land in farm "A," comprising the Learn, Norton and Trobridge and Griffiths' tracts for this purpose. Farm "B" should be secured. In about five years part of farm "C" or other additional lands will be required. Question 6-"Give statement in de-

London, July 28 .- The Gibraltar correspondent of the Daily News says: A curious exchange of civilities has passed between Great Britain and Spain. The Spanish consul here, under instructions from Madrid, called on Sir Robert Biddulph, governor and commander-in-chief at Gibraltar, expressing concern lest the Americans should find "facilities" at Gibraltar. The governor replied that the Spanish Government might rest quite easy, for if Commodore Watson came, the authorities would act strictly according to the Queen's proclamation, copies of which, he said, had just been distributed to all the chief officials of the garrison.

Spain for the last fortnight has been making extensive preparations in the Bay of Gibraltar. Twenty guns have just been shipped to Ceuta, and forty have been mounted around the bay. There are 11,000 men at Algeciras, and 1,000 engineers are daily working at the batteries and fortified trenches behind the cemetery of Linea, a mile north of the British lines. A couple of guns have been gragged up behind the Queen of Spain's Chair, commanding the north front of the works. Even if intended for the Americans, they might become, not a danger, but an eventful annovance to Gibraltar, and at any rate they are an infringment of the treaty cession stipulating that no guns should be placed within range of the rock. Sir Robert Biddulph is reporting the matter to the home government, and strong representations are being made at Madrid. As a result all the works there have been dis-

RUSSIA'S GAME

Sends Her Greatest Diplomat to Wash ington to Prevent a British-American Alliance

The arrival of Count De Cassini in Washington makes the number of ambassadors at the American capital five. Great Britain, Italy, Germany and France are represented by the other four, in the order of pred abroad. He is esteemed best-equipped diplomat in t Russian It was he who recently accomplished such wonderful things in China securing the concession for a railroad which is to connect the Trans-Siberian system with Port Arthur. By him was obtained the cession of Port Arthur, thus giving to the czar the icefree harbor on the Pacific, which has been so long and earnestly desired. The growth of British influence in this country has been viewed with disquietude by Russia, whose interests would be seriously menaced by any sort of an alliance between this country and England. It is believed that this is the reason why so famous and skillful a diplomat has been sent hither by the government of the czar. He has come to America to make friends. His business is to make it understood that Russia is, and always lowed by the gunboat Ersatz Hyaene has been, a better friend to America than Great Britain. The count is a widower, the only lady in his household being a grandniece-the nice of his nephew. Her name is Marguerite, and she is one of the most beautiful girls ever introduced to diplomatic circles in Washington. Big black eyes and a profusion of dark hair are among her attractions. She is not yet quite 17, and, of course, has not been presented in society. Among other attractions, she possesses a voice that would make a reputation for her on the operatic stage. Count Cassini is the first Russian representative in Washington to hold the rank of ambassador. Several years ago Congress gave the president authority to appoint ambassadors to Russia, but that country did not see fit to take the hint. Now, however, Washington has become a much more important post, diplomatically speaking, than it has ever been hitherto. Hence the change. Undoubtedly, the rank of ambassador has been bestowed upon Count Cassini in return for his eminent services.

The count is about 50 years old. He was born in St. Petersburg, and was educated at the Imperial Lyceum, a famous school, at which most of the sons of Russian noblemen received their training. He entered the Russian foreign office, and after a while was made consul at Berlin. Eventually he was raised to the rank of minister resident and stationed at Hamburg, whence he was transferred to Pekin He was in Pekin during the Japanese-Chinese war. The count is a very rich man, and fond of society. He speaks seven languages, including Chinese. Count Cassini's career has been a series of diplomatic successes, and his presence in Washington today is the best possible evidence of the confidence which the czar reposes in his discretion .- Chicago Times-Herald.

Yesterday's game at St. Thomas was a magnificent exhibition of fast ball playing. Lute Johnson, who figured in the box for London, made the St. Thomas cranks very weary by the easy manner in which he downed their heavy-hitting pets. It took them fence, and Smink might have got under it, but feared a collision with the fence. It was a great exhibition of pitching, and the local fans will be glad to see Lute getting into the game again. The fielding was sharp and enappy, the players being on the jump throughout the game. Robb was in the box for the Saints, and was effective at times, but London did not have much difficulty in connecting with the ball at critical times, which meant runs. He pit hed great ball, and the fielders behind him worked hard. Neither team had an error. It was a pitchers' battle, and Johnson proved one too many for the Calamity City ball-tossers.

> THE LOCAL TOURNAMENT. The third day of the Western Ontario bowling tournament was a lucky one for London, and they captured the prize in the association match. The trophy match was a close contest, and to lose the cup after so keen a fight need be no disparagement of Mr. Edmund Weld and his three players, John Stevenson, J. K. H. Pope and John Weld. In the association match there were many peculiar plays, and the majority of these took place in the finals. The score remained practically even throughout the 17 ends, and very seldom is a game won and lost in the same manner as this exciting contest. In the last end, Parfitt was 5 behind his opponent, Dr. Woolverton, but through expert bowling succeeded in placing 5 shots—sufficient to tie the score—in the immediate vicinity of the "kitty." Dr. Woolverton had but one bowl left at this juncture, while Parfitt had played to 1, 1; Ed Moore's br. g. Hat Wilson, 8 to 1, 1; Ed Moore's br. g. Hat Wilson, 8 his last shot. To displace the kitty or disturb the quintet of London bowls was Woolverton's only hope of winning. He chose the latter scheme, but his strong shot went a little wide, knocked against a London bowl, and rolled it in towards the kitty, giving Parfitt 6 shots up for the end, with a total of 19, and a majority of 1. A. Parfitt, sk'p, James S.McDougall, Thos. Blakeney and M. J. Kent were awarded the four solid silver salvers (first prize). and Dr. Woolverton, C. Glassco, Dr. J. Edgar and Dr. J. Rogers each a handsome set of military toilet brushes (second prize). The scores were:

GOOD READING

The August Magazines and Some of Their Contents.

Mr. Wells' nineteenth chapter, which will appear in Appleton's Popular Science Monthly for August, is entitled 'What Should Be Taxed, and How It Should Be Taxed." In view of the recent large increase of taxation, this subject should be one of extreme interest to all taxpayers, and Mr. Wells, by virtue of his close connection with the problems of taxation ever since his service in President Lincoln's tax commission, is probably better fitted than any other economist in the country to the respect and esteem of all the inhabitdiscuss these questions.

Two striking works of fiction are notable attractions of the August number of Harper's Magazine—"The Monster," by Stephen Crane, and "The Lord Chief Justice," by H. B. Marriott Watson. Mr. George W. Smalley contributes an interesting paper of reminiscences and anecdotes of Mr. Gladstone, and a valuable and suggestive estimate of the character of the Prince of Wales is contained in an article entitled "If the Queen Had Abdicated." The number also includes "The Convict System in Syberia," by Stephen Bonsal; "Under the Spell of the Grand Canon," by T. Mitchell Prudden, and the concluding chapters of "Roden's Corner," by Henry Seton Merriman. Three short stories, in addition to those already mentioned, the usual departments, and an abundance of artistic illustrations complete a particularly attractive number of this famous magazine. Sir Henry Irving's lecture on "The Theater and Its Relation to the State." delivered at the University of Cambridge, June 15, is reproduced in full in The Living Age for July 30. No one could be more competent than the distinguished actor to treat such a subject. In the same number is also an interior view of existing political con; ditions in Italy, and especially of the crushing financial burdens which are the cause of wide-spread discontent The naval problems to be solved in the war are discussed by the English ex-pert, Mr. H. W. Wilson.

The August number of McClure's Magazine will be a special fiction number, with a story of school life by Rudyard Kipling: a story of liners and icebergs by Cutcliffe Hyne; a new chapter in the life of the King of Boyville, showing the king in his first experience of love, by William Allen White; the story of a love adventure in a London fog, by Hester Caldwell Oakley; a railroad story by John A. Hill: and a characteristic story of rural life by Row land E. Robinson

Hon. Frank A. Vanderlip, assistant secretary of the treasury, has written an article for the August Century en-"Facts About the Philippines, with a Discussion of Pending Prob-lems." Mr. Vanderlip describes the agricultural and mineral resources of the archipelago, and shows the amount of commerce the islands will control by means of their position. The article will be illustrated.

RACCOON RITES

Their Washing of Food,

The coon home at the Cincinnati zoo consists simply of a plot of ground about as large as a barn door of extra generou size would cover. This is surrounded by a wire fence four feet high, topped with a broad up curving tin rail, which prevents the little clownlike creatures from escaping. In the center of this yard is a tree 20 feet high and having many and heavy limbs. Near the base of the tree is a several foot square pool of water. This pool marks two very exclusive, very notable characteristics that distinguish the coon now drawing to a close, there is apparently no diminution of interest in coon's christening and food cleansing

When a coon gives birth to young, almost the first thing she does is to take her babies one by one in her mouth, and, accompanied by the father coon, proceed slowly and solemnly to the pool. Arriving at its brink and while the dad coon stands thoughtfully by the mother baptizes the little one beneath the wave with all the decorum and solicitude of a Baptist clergyman immersing a candidate for church membership. After lowering it gently down beneath the surface and lifting it up again, Mrs. Coon and her husband wend their way back again to their family corner of the yard. This service, solemn and staid, is continued by Mr. and Mrs. Coon until every mother's son of their just arrived offspring has been duly christened. Viewed soberly, it is really one of the most unique, impressive processional performances imaginable. But the indescribable drollness of the picture made by the wee husband and wife as they go through with the performance is inimita-1; A. F. Brown's ch. g. L. B., 95 (Scher- chle, and smiles, if not laughter, come to almost every one who witnesses the serio comic bit of drama.

Almost any hour any day in the year you can find a group of people tossing bits of goodies to the coons. Upon picking up one of these Mr. or Mrs. Coon instantly, with the "goody" held daintily in its teeth, trots over to the pool and swashes the morsel back and fortn in the water crotch in the tree, the little chap sets to devouring it in a way so dainty and sedate as to put food gulping humans to the blush.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

LOUISIANA UNDER SPAIN.

How the Office of Hangman In the Colony

Went Begging. When the court martial that Don Alessandro O'Reilly, the second Spanish governor of Louisiana, in 1769, had organized to convict brought in a verdict of death against Lafreniere and six of his companions as the leaders of the Louisiana revolutionists against the authority of Spain, to which country Louis XV of France had ceded the colony, O'Reilly sought in vain steeplechase, short course—C. W. Penniston's ch. g. Mr. Dunlap, 153 (Dufresne), 5 to 1, 1; Rotherland Gorman's work of serving as hangman at the execuamong whites and blacks in Louisiana for work of serving as hangman at the execu-tion of the patriots. Not a man of the colony would answer the call. In this emergency O'Reilly was compelled to assign the congenial task of slaughtering the helpess creoles and Frenchmen to regular Spanish soldiers whom he had brought with him from Spain, and, instead of being hanged, Lafreniere and the others were shot to death by a platoon of grenadiers in a space of ground near the site of the present United States mint in New Orleans, which at that time was in the rear of the military garrison of the post. The failure of O'Reilly to secure a hangman in the case of these unfortunate men recalled to o' ! French residents of New Orleans of that day the interesting story of Jeannot, an African slave of the Mississippi company, or Company of the West, which 50 years previously had control of the colony of Louisiana under a charter granted by the regent of Orleans. The company offered Jeannot his freedom on condition that he would serve as public hangman of the colony. Jeannot appeared to agree to the proposition, but he afterward repaired to a secluded place and cut off his right arm with a hatchet. By this self inflicted mutilation Jeannot avoided the repulsive duties of hangman for the colony, but he also lost his opportunity for freedom. However, the agents of the company, not knowing in what way to utilize Jeannot as a laborer, appointed him overseer of all the slaves belonging to it. Poor Jeannot was rewarded for his sense of humanity and conscientiousness by receiving ants of the colony during the rest of his life.-New Orleans Picayune.

Women and Foreign Travel. The matter of sex need not affect in the slightest the question of foreign travel. If an American girl wants to study art, music or languages and has the means, there is not the least reason why she should not go alone to Paris or Berlin or Vienna to do it. There is no greater fear of insult abroad than at home. The only difference I have ever heard of is that in Europe unmarried women with regard for their reputations- do not go out in the evening of the larger cities here. In the mere matter of travel Europe offers far more comfort and convenience than America to women journeying alone or in parties without men. They need never touch their luggage unless they choose. At hotels and railway stations they will always be more courteously treated than men, and that is saying a good deal. And the "unprotected female" needs no protection. English women think nothing of taking their vacations on the continent, and a journey from New York to Los Angeles presents more terrors than one from London to Constantinople or Cairo.-Robert Luce in "Going Abroad."

A student asked the president of Oberlin college if he could not take a shorter course than that prescribed by the institution. "Oh, yes," was the reply, "but that depends upon what you want to make of yourself. When God wants to make an sak he takes 100 years, but when he wants to make a squash he takes six months."— New York Tribune.

One Way to Win Him Back. Mrs. Triggs-I'm afraid my husband is drifting away from me. What would you do to retain his love? Mrs. Paxton (who has had experience) —Give that sore eyed poodle dog of yours away and learn how to get up a square meal once in awhile.—Cleveland Leader.

Authorities differ as to the rate of growth of the human hair, and it is said to be very dissimilar in different individuals. The most usually accepted calcuation gives 61/2 inches per annum.

Anglo-American Relations. The arrival in the Dominion of Lord Herschell, the British representative on the Conference to meet in Quebec on the 10th of August, charged with the amicably settling, if possible, all outstanding differences between Canada and the United States, directs attention anew to the relations between Canada, the United States, and Great Britain

The questions to be discussed at Queinclude the following: Fur in Bering Sea and the North Paciac Oceans, Atlantic and Pacific coast fisheries, and fisheries in inland waters contiguous to the frontier, delineation of the Alaskan boundary, alien labor laws transportation of merchandise in bond through the United States and Canada, naval vessels on the lakes, mining rights of citizens of one country within the territory of the other, reciprocity of trade, and the conveyance of persons in the custody of officers of one country through the territory of the other.

The United States will be represented at the Quebec Conference by Mr. John W. Foster, Reciprocity Commissioner Kasson, Senators Gray and Fairbanks and Representative Dingley. The English, Canadian and Newfoundland arbitrators, of which Lord Herschell is the recognized head, are Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Louis Davies, Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. John Charlton, M.P., and Sir James Winter, premier of New-

On the large question of the relations between Great Britain at large and the United States, Right Hon, Mr. Bryce, president of the Anglo-American has been writing entertail ingly in the Atlantic Monthly. Mr. Bryce points out that the interests of the two countries are close together, and do not, in his opinion, conflict anywhere in the world.

There are difficulties in the way of an alliance, but they are not, Mr. Bryce thinks, insurmountable; "and if such an alliance were ultimately to be formed, instead of threatening other states, it would be a guarantee of peace to the world, for each nation would feel itself bound to justify its policy. to the public opinion of the other.

"Meantime, there are things which may be done at once to cement and perpetuate the good relations which happily prevail. One is the conclusion of a general arbitration treaty providing for the amicable settlement of all differences which may hereafter arise between the nations. Another is the agreement to render services to each other; such, for instance, as giving to a citizen of either nation the right to invoke the good offices of the diplomatic or consular representatives of the other in a place where his own Government has no representative; or such as the recognition of a common citizenship, securing to the citizens of each, in the country of the other, certain rights not enjoyed by other foreigners. But the greatest thing of all is that the two peoples should realize, as we may hope they are now coming to do, that, whether or no they have a formal alliance. they may have a league of the heart; that the sympathy of each is a tower of strength to the other; that the best and surest foundation of the future policy of each is to be found in relations of frank and cordial friendship with the other."

That the Powers of Continental Europe are not anxious to see an effective Anglo-American union, is shown by the dispatch to Washington of the noted Russian diplomatist, M. Cassini, who is specially charged with thwarting anything like closer relationship between Great Britain and the United States. One can easily believe the report that M. Cassini is even spending money freely to premote the object of his mis-

Bradstreet's report of business failures in Canada for the six months ending June 30, 1898, as compared with the corresponding six months of the previous year, shows in unmistakable fashion the improvement that is taking place in the times.

Licenses.

We understand that applications for two additional licenses-for what was formerly London West-are being now oushed with the License Commissioners. It will be remembered that recently the City Council, on the motion of Ald. Carrothers, and the casting vote of Mayor Wilson, recommended the Commissioners to grant two additional licenses, to operate in London

It is needless to say that the vote of the Council is not mandatory, not imperative, and has no more necessary weight with the Commissioners than wind that blew a thousand years ago. The responsibility rests on the Commissioners, and on them alone.

Public sentiment in Larger London, well as in what was formerly London West, is strongly against any addition to the number of licenses in any part of the city whatever. It is no argument to say the city has been increased in population by the addition of London West, and should therefore have additional licenses. The city's population is increasing every year, apart from London West, and yet no one would have the temerity to propose any increase of licenses in other portions of

This matter has no relation to the larger question of prohibition. There are many persons who cannot see the present practicability of prohibition, who are yet entirely opposed to any

The Mayor, who gave the casting vote, and those who voted with him in the Council "put their foot into it," up to the waist; but there is no reason why the License Commissioners should at one and the same time, defy public sentiment and become the instruments of pulling other people's chestnuts out of the fire.

The Veterans of the Fields.

In this column we reproduce, for the from the pen of "Bystander," in the Toronto Weekly Sun:

"It is a relief to turn from the columns which recount the glories of war, from trenches full of the bodies of dead Spaniards, floating on the water caused by the rains, and filling the air with sickening odors," or the picture of "multitudes dying of hunger or disease in blockaded Havana," to the columns which announce the coming of a bountiful harvest, with all the blessings, moral and social, as well as material, which it brings to our people. But why is it that to the producers of this harvest or to those who in any way add to the wealth of mankind, no special honor is paid, while honors are heaped on the destroyer? Spend your life in hard labor, increase the fruitfulness of the earth, and you will not be called a 'veteran' or bear any medal upon your breast. Put on a uniform, go on a military expedition, even if you never meet an enemy, and you are a veteran, are decorated and become an object of romantic admiration. It may be said that the soldier risks his life. The man who goes on a promenade without seeing a shot fired does not risk his life, yet he gets his medal. Firemen, policemen, seamen, miners, are always risking their lives, yet they get none. Some social philosopher will explain the phenomenon to us; perhaps he will class it as 'a survival.'

The result of the vote on the question of civic ownership of the street railway shows that Hamilton is a long way behind the Glasgow ideal.

Mr. Foster, in an interview at Winnipeg, declined to criticise Mr. Sifton's immigration policy, because it was only in its inception and he (Mr. Foster) had no desire to be unfair. Mr. Foster, it will be seen, takes a view very different from that of the Conservative press.

BINDER TWINE.

The advance in the price of binder twine was caused by the war, which cut off the supply from the Philippines at a time when there was an unusual demand for it. That's the whole story. THAT FINE COBDEN MEDAL. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's often mentioned Cobden Club medal has only now reached him, but it seems to be one too valuable to be sneezed at, as it is said to be of solid gold and twice as big as an American dollar. Cartwheels of that metal and size are not to be lightly spoken of, and such a one would be quite an appropriate attachment to Wilfrid's golden chariot of victory. -Aylmer Sun.

MERCHANT SHIPPING IN BRI-

TAIN. The annual returns just published by the Board of Trade regarding British merchant shipping are more interesting and instructive than usual. While specially relating to last year they also, for comparison, give the totals of the immediately preceding two years. It is simply surprising the increase in British merchant shipping during these three years. In 1895 the total entrances and clearances at the ports of the United Kingdom amounted 182.107.668 tons. Next year they increased to 189,688,509 tons. Last year, 1897, they aggregated no less than 196,134,838 tons. This year, 1898, they are confidently expected to exceed 200,-000,000 tons. And, remember, in 1850less than half a century ago-they did not reach 40,000,000 of tons. That is the gross trade, but there is almost as trade alone. In 1895 the British foreign shipping trade-entrances and clearamounted to 80,539,174 tons, th 1896 to 85,462,442 tons, and in 1897 to 90,198,863 tons, or more than double the gross coastwise and foreign trade of 50 years ago.—Scottish American.

PHYSICIANS ALLOWED TO AD-VERTISE.

We are informed that the medical council do not behead physicians for advertising, but behead them for faking. It is said that a doctor can advertise as much as he pleases, provided he does not misrepresent. That part of it no one can find any fault with. A doctor who gulls the public by falsehoods deserves neither defense nor sympathy. But why do not more physicians advertise? If a doctor has any particular specialty, why not let the public from end to end of the province know it? There are thousands of people, probably, who wish to find just such a man, but do not know where to look for him. He hides his light under a bushel and patent medicine dealer who knows the value of printers' ink step in, capture the patients he should have had and make a fortune. There is a newspaper field which medical leave wholly to patent medicine dealers, when they might occupy it themselves. Until they do occupy remedies will flourish. The fact that extensive advertising sells an enormous quantity of these medicines is excellent evidence of what papers can accomplish.—Chatham Planet.

PROFESSOR LOCHEAD

A Popular London Teacher Appointed to a Chair in the Guelph Agricultural College.

Mr. William Lochead, B.A., M.S., of London, has been appointed professor of biology and entomology of the Guelph Agricultural College, and Mr. M. W. Doherty, B.S.A., M.A., of Eglinton, Toronto, has been appointed as assistant. Both men come to their new positions with very high recommendations. Mr. Lochead graduated from Mc-Gill University in 1885 with first rank honors in natural science, after a brilliant four-year course. After working for a time as a fellow in the science department of Cornell University, he filled positions as science master in Galt, Napanee and London Perth, Collegiate Institutes, teaching eleven years in all. He returned to Cornell and took the degree of master of science in 1895. He has also been an active member of the Ontario Entomological Society, to which he has contributed some special studies.

Mr. Lochead's resignation will create a vacancy in the London Collegiate Institute which it will be hard to fill. He proved a most efficient and popular teacher, and has made many warm friends in London, who, though regretting his departure, congratulate him upon his promotion

COSTLY FIRES

The Villages of Robervale and Coteau Station, Que., Suffer Severely.

Robervale, Que., July 28. - About 3 clock this afternoon fire started in a stable belonging to G. B. A. Scott, of the Robervale sawmills. In two hours about 15 houses fell a prey to the flames, and as a result about families, all employed by Mr. Scott, are tonight without shelter. A great number lost most of their household effects. Tonight the fire is raging on the wharves, about 300 or 400 feet from the mills, and there is great danger of it spreading to them. A steam engine left Quebec tonight for the scene of the fire. Coteau Station, Que., July 28. - A disastrous fire occurred here yester-day, starting in Montpetit's sash and door factory, and quickly spreading to Bray's carriage factory, and then to several stores and dwellings in vicinity, completely destroying everything in its path, including lumber piles. Loss over $30,000; insurance about $5, 000. Fire will prove irreparable loss to the village. The fire burned from noon until 9 o'clock last night.

Miss Delia Campbell, of the 2nd line Warwick, who has been ill for some time with scarlet fever, is able to be around again. Berry season is almost over. Owing to the dry season black caps will not be much of a crop in this section. A RIDGETOWN FIRE.

Ridgetown, July 29.-The Queen's Hotel, corner of Main and Erie streets, Mr. Roach, proprietor, was damaged by fire last night. The building was insured for $9,000, divided between the Queen's, Caledonia, Mercantile and Lancashire. The contents and stock carried a separate insurance of $1,400. The loss has not been estimated. The fire was started by the carelessness of one of the guests of the house, who in some manner dropped a lighted lamp on the floor of his room.

to Arrive Before August 1.

Montreal, July 28.-Montreal importers are greatly excited over the nonof a number of vessels bringing goods from abroad. Owing to the abrogation of the Belgian and German treaties, which goes into effect on Aug. if the goods do not arrive Saturday at 1 o'clock, when the Montreal customs house closes, it will mean a difference of 25 per cent to the importers. Several of the vessels have been delayed by fog, and it is feared they will not arrive in time to allow of the goods being entered at customs.

A BIGAMIST

William Mitchell, a Horseman, Accused of the Crime-Married a Windsor Girl.

Windsor, July 29.-The police are looking for a colored man named Wm. Mitchell, who is accused of bigamy. Mitchell came to Windsor a few months ago with some running horses and made the acquaintance of Miss Bertha Haynes. He soon afterwards proposed marriage and the ceremony was performed. Some of his acquaintances stated that Mitchell was already married to a woman in New York. The Haynes family investigated the report and it is alleged, found it to be true. The reputed wife No. 1 arrived in the city a few days ago and at once a complaint was made against Mitchell on the charge of bigamy and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Several policemen were sent to the driving park reflection of tomorrow's to locate him, but it was found that he had received some intimation of the bargains. PLEBISCITE WORKERS

An Organization Meeting in West London-The Officers.

A meeting of plebiscite workers was held last evening in Empress Avenue Methodist Church, West London. Mr. W. J. Saunby was chairman. Organization for the coming campaign was the business of the meeting, and the following officers were chosen: Chairman, W. J. Saunby; secretary, Rev. A. G. Harris; treasurer, Fred An-

The wards were organized as follows: Chairman No. 1, Geo. Cooper; chairman No. 2, Wm. Spence; chairman No. 3, W. A. Nixon. Another meeting will be held in a week to perfect organization.

CITY HALL NOTES

A deputation of temperance workers will, it is understood appear before the city council Monday evening to protest against the action taken at the last meeting regarding the West London hotel licenses. Reconsideration would require a two-thirds vote.

If the council succeeds in disposing of the "sewage disposal" question Monday night the mayor says he will be happy. He's tired of it, he says, and he's not the only one.

The corporation laborers were paid today, the roll amounting to $537 22.

-Twice Arrested as a Murderer.

Sorrows of a Peg-Leg Tramp at Barrie

Barrie, July 28 .- A wooden-legged tramp, giving his name as Stermount, was fined $1 and costs here yesterday afternoon for being drunk and dis-orderly. He entered a pitiful appeal o Acting Magistrate King for leniency on the ground that he had been driven to drink by the public hue and cry against him as the London murderer. He said he had been twice arrested at Stratford and Listowel on the charge, and this, with other prosecutions, had nearly driven him out of his mind. The court extracted much amusement out of the affair.

PERISHING SHEEP. Fresno, Cal., July 29.-The dry sea son has caused great loss to the stockmen on the Sierra foothills. It is estimated that 175,000 sheep were driven into the forest reservations after the withdrawal of the United States cavalry some time ago. Recently a force of deputy marshals forced the stock owners to remove their cattle and sheep from the reserved land. . Some of the herders assert that there is no grass and little water to be found elsewhere. At least 100,000 sheep must perish of starvation or thirst.

WANT THE PHILIPPINES RE-

TAINED. San Francisco, July 29.—The Merchants' Association has adopted a resolution petitioning the president to retain the Philippine Islands. Similar action will prosably be taken within the next day or two by the Chamber of Commerce and other business or ganizations.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S TERMS. Washington, July 29.—The answer to the Spanish note, to se communicated by this government, as now made up for submission to the cabinet, makes the following general terms as our conditions of peace: The absolute cession of the Island of Porto Rico, relinquishment of Spanish sovereignty in Cuba, the cession of several small islands adjacent to Cuba and Porto Rico to the United States, leaving the disposition of the Philippines and the other islands in that quarter subject to further negotiations. The present aim, it is authoritatively stated, is to established and maintain a coaling station in the Philippines, with a full adequate land area, etc., in connection therewith, and to build up there an American city, possibly at

DEPORTING THE SPANISH. Santiago de Cuba, July 29.-General Shafter has received advices that two ENGLAND STORM SWEPT Spanish transports, one of them being a hospital ship, have left the Island of Martinique. They are expected here to-morrow. In addition, three Spanish transports left Cadiz yesterday, and four others are to leave Cadiz on July 30. These vessels are capable of carrying about 15,000 troops, and the embarkation will begin when all the vessals are here. It is expected that all linquish all their gear and nets, and the Spanish prisoners of war will be run to the harbors for shelter, where embarked by Aug. 15. The American commander has authorized the Spanish officers, who commanded the troops that came to Santiago during the siege from Manzanillo, to send for their wives and families. in order that they may be able to take them back to Spain at the govern-ment's expense. In all there are about 75 women and children. The telegraph operator at Manzan-Captain-General Blanco first refused to permit the delivery of messages sent by these officers to their families. But later, under a protest from General Shafter, the captain-general allowed the messages to be delivered.

NEW RIFLES FOR THE AMERI-Washington, July 29 .- Twenty thousand Krag-Jorgensen rifles have reached Newport News for shipment to Porto Rico for the use of the volunteers who compose the mass of the invading army. It is the understanding of the ordnance bureau that these arms were shipped on one of the transports that accompanied Gen. Brooke. If they did not go then they will be forwarded by the next boat that sails for Guanica. These rifles are the modern enagazine, 30 caliber guns that are used by the regulars, and the only guns that can compete with the Mausers. employed ronto, 10, vs. D. A. Forrester and W. by the Spaniards. They will be substituted for the old style 45 caliber Springfield rifles, with which the volunvs. A. Parfitt and James McDougall, 18. teers are now armed, and will put the new troops on an equality with the veterans so far as equipment is concerned. It is not expected that the total infantry and strength of the expedition will exceed 20,000 men, so that every man in it will have a modern arm, using the smokeless powder, that constitutes the superiority of the new

Mr. Chamberlain's Explanation-Sir Wilfrid Laurier Merely Obeyed Orders.

London, July 29.-The secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, replying in the House of Commons to Mr. Thomas Gibson Bowles, Conservative, said Senor de Bosc, the former Spanish charge de affairs at Washington was formally requested by the Canadian premier, St Wilfrid Laurier, to leave Canada. This, Mr. Chamberlain added, was done at the request of the Imperial Government, and on the ground that there was reason to believe that Senor de Bosc was using Canada for the purpose of belligerent operations against the United States. Continuing, Mr. Chamberlain remarked that the authority to expel aliens from Canada in such cases rests with the crown.

Answering another question, Mr. Chamberlain said the government could not undertake to lay on the table the papers bearing upon Seno de Bosc's expulsion.

A Mechanical Engineer Takes Gas-Hon. George Brown's Death

Recalled, [G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, July 29 .- A man came to the Union Hotel, corner of Bathurst street and Varley avenue, about 9:30 last night, and asked for a gaslight, as he had writing to do. This morning the man was found dead in the room, with the gas-jet turned on full. He had carefully spread his clothing about the door and window to prevent the escape of the gas. The body was identified this afternoon as that of James D. Banks, 431 Church street, mechanical engineer. Banks was employed on the Globe when the late Mr. George Brown was shot, and it was between him and Bennet the row started that ended in the fatal wounding of Mr. Brown.

MARRIED IN THE ROAD.

[Beauford, N. Y., Herald-Dispatch.] Last Thursday we had a novel wedding up the road from here. Mr. Elijah Smith, of Brown Sound, and Miss Lela Wilis, of Ward's Mill, took it into their heads to get married against the wishes of the old folks of Miss Lela. Of course they could run away, and they did it nicely in the daytime. Meeting Squire Henry Morton on the out of the buggy, which they did, and the squire joined them together in the middle of the road, while the squire sat in his buggy ready to put whip in case the irate parents came in sight; but all went well as far as tving the knot was concerned. We heard from the would-be happy couple that they were going through the woods like a greased streak of lightning with the old man not far behind with his double-barrel shotgun calling on them to stop, but they hadn't stopped the last we heard from them.

No Conversion of Africa Possible if Monogamy Is Required.

GORDON AND POLYGAMY.

A particularly interesting reminiscence of General Gordon was given recently at the Shoreditch town hall by the archbishop of Canterbury, who presided over a meeting convened in the interest of the universities mission to central Africa. Very shortly before starting for Khartum, in 1884, Gordon came to Dr. Temple to consult him on three problems, the first of which was whether as a mere layman he would be justified in endeavoring to convert the natives and even to baptize them. To that the archbishop answered certainly

-every Christian was at liberty alike to preach and to baptize.

Gordon then propounded a plan he had for buying slaves a thousand at a time, drilling them thoroughly, and perhaps making 10 per cent good soldiers, giving freedom ultimately to all, and asked whether slave buying could ever be justifiable. Again the archbishop could reassure his scruples and point out that if purchased with a view to giving them liberty the act would be compatible with the journed at 1:30 p.m., to meet again at highest Christianity. The ultimate difficulty, however, was polygamy, Gordon explaining that a man had rarely less than four wives, as this number sufficed to maintain him, and asking whether Christian tenets could possibly sanction a limited plurality of wives. But on this Dr. Temple admitted he could give no justifying permission whatever, and to establish a pseudo religion without so elementary a principle of morality would be highly reprehensible. "Then," said Gordon, "Africa is a long way from conversion if one wife is made an essential of it."-London Tele-

Those of the third class who can be trusted to work are employed. The women wash, iron, weave in the Tes-genda, and even do housework; the men work in the gardens, and perform various services about the place. The sum paid for their keeping is very small, only 50 life (about $10) a month,, and no remuneration is therefore made them for their labor, except some little indulgence, perhaps an extra dish at

The medical staff is admirably arranged. It consists of a medical director, and four regular assistants, two for the men and two for the women. These four make their visits every day and oftener if necessary. Of these two couples, one of each is fixed, the other attends alternate three months on the men and the women. it is no wonder; for the manner in which people usually treat an insane person would be insanity if addressed to a sane one. The patient, not believing himself insane, perceives this strangeness. The vague and careless answer, the evasions, the promises made in order to soothe and never meant to be fulfilled, the utter absence of any appeal to the reason, the disrereiterated prayers and requests-all these are frequently unnecessary and injurious. Few or none of they are capable of telling the truth. Their complaints may not be reasonable, but they may be a distorted image of a real grievance, and should sometimes receive attention. All of them think that they are the victims of a great wrong; but that is no proof that there may not be such a victim while the laws regarding their committal are hearing, and I might have been sick so criminally negligent. No murderer is condemned unheard, no vilest criminal is executed privately without a warning. But the unfortunate who is insane, or supposed to be, is hidden be away without defense. If he is seen afterwards and talked with, there is ever between him and the spectator the wall of his supposed or real insanity. He talks reasonably. What of What of that? They all talk reasonably some-times. He wants to go away? They all want to go away. He says that there is a plot against him? It is the old story. He begs you to have his case investigated, or to take a letter out for him? They all want justice, and to send out letters. It is not permitted to send letters out. In short, there is nothing that the victim of a plot can do

Valeria found one exception to this rule of victims in an old man of the third class, who helped to bring up the supper through the bridge. For the carriage came only with the dinner. She was seated in a great swing in one of the little flowery terraces as he came up. The gardener had given her a beautiful cane, cutting the dry leaves from the glistening yellow stalk, and leaving a faint ring of green above each knot, and she was dreamily push ing herself to and fro with it, and reading a newspaper, when she saw this old man looking through the fence at

When the First Train Started Over a Railway Built by the Natives.

Probably the cheapest railroad in the world was built in Oregon in 1872. During the preceding year the Northern Pacific Railroad company surveyed the line between Portland and Olympia, terminating at the latter place, but only for a short time. Then it was moved away to Tacoma, 35 miles farther north.

At that the people of Olympia arose in indignation, called a meeting, and after vigorously discussing ways and means resolved that, although the railroad had been both given and taken away, they were not bound to submit as unto the Lord, but would build one for themselves and build it with voluntary subscriptions of labor and material.

One bright morning in April the Olympia brass band halted at the corner of Main and Fourth streets. Charley Granger's bay mule Betty fell in behind. Then came the officials of both city and county, led by the governor and followed by the citizens, until the whole procession was half a mile in length. They marched to a high bluff above the capitol building, and there the mayor of the city and the governor both made speeches, and a prayer was offered. The first sod was turned, and the grading of the road began in earnest. One day in every week was set apart as field day, when the city and county officials came out as at first, the merchants closed their stores, and mechanics shut their shops, and young men and old men, boys and Indians plied the spade with hearty will, while the women spread the tables with all things needed for a midday feast. Week after week the work went on, and the road stretched out past the timber skirting the upper end of Puget sound, past the falls of Tumwater, between the Indian mounds of Mound Prairie through half a mile of timber to Bush Prairie. more timber, more prairie, across wide and shallow Scatter creek, 16 miles to Tenino. Then the ties were made and laid and not a dollar had yet been asked for. But the time had come to buy the rolling stock, and subscriptions came pouring in until everything was bought and ready.

What a day it was in the history of Olympia when the first train was started over the hard earned little railroad! Open cars were hung with evergreen, and again the people all came out, with music and rejoicing, this time to ride and not to

Many of the old soldiers who labored faithfully to build that little road, among them General Milroy, who was known all through the civil war as Gray Eagle, have crossed the silent river, but the road they built is still in use, and old settlers point to it with pride, the road the hardy pioneers made with their own hands, the cheapest railroad in the world .- San Francisco Chronicle.

DIED OF GRIEF.

A Horse That Could Not Stand the Pangs of Separation. 'Speaking of the emotional life of thought it necessary to speak to any horse," said an old trainer who had been listening to a story about an animal's death that was directly traced to grief. "I recall one remarkable instance of sorrow shown by a horse belonging to a circus with which I was traveling three years We were performing in the little town of Unionville, Pa., when one of the trick horses fell and sprained one of his legs so badly that he could not travel. He was taken to a livery stable and put in a box stall, the leg was bandaged and he was made as comfortable as possible.

"He ate his food and was apparently contented until about midnight, when the circus began moving out of town. Then he became restless and tramped and whinnied. As the caravans moved past the stable he seemed to realize that he was being deserted, and his anxiety and disbecame pitiful. He would stand with his ears pricked in an attitude of intense listening, and then as his ears caught the sounds of the retiring wagons he would rush as best he could with his injured leg from one side of the stall to the other, pushing at the door with his nose and making every effort to escape. The stableman, who was a stranger to him, tried to soothe him, but to no purpose. He would not be comforted. "Long after all sounds of the circus had ceased his agitation continued. The sweat poured from him, and he quivered in every part of his body. Finally the stableman went to his employer's house, woke him up and told him he believed the horse would die if some of the circus horses were not brought back to keep him company. At about daylight the proprietor of the stable mounted a horse and rode after the circus. He overtook us 10 or 12 miles away, and as I had charge of all the horses and was much attached to the injured animal I returned with him. When we reached the stall, the horse was dead. "The stableman said that he remained for nearly an hour perfectly still and with every sense apparently strained to the utmost tension, and then without making a sign fell and died with scarcely a struggle The veterinarian who was called remarked after the circumstances were told him that unquestionably the horse died from grief."-Washington Star.

Of course they were dear friends. "Did he kiss you when he proposed?" asked the one in pink.

"No-o, I believe not," answered the one "You were too quick for him, I suppose," suggested the one in pink, "but really I think you made a mistake. It is better to let the man initiate anything of that sort.

It is hardly necessary to explain why they are no longer dear friends.—Chicago

Board of Works Hears Both Sides-Claims for Damages - Bell Telephone

The board of works met last night. with all the members present, and outside of their special duties regarding sewage disposal, an unusual grist of ordinary business was up for consideration. Many petitions for and against the construction of artificial stone walks in certain localities have recently come before the board, and the granting of the petition either for or against depends upon the frontage and the number of ratepayers represented. Neighbors do not always agree on these matters, and there seems to be contests about sidewalks waging among the ratepayers of individual blocks in several parts of the city. Messrs. George Taylor and others petitioned against the construction of an artificial stone walk on the north side of Dundas street, between English and Elizabeth streets.

Ald. Dreaney said there had to be a sidewalk of some sort put there this Mr. Taylor strongly protested against the laying of a permanent walk, and the committee will recommend the granting of the petition. Mr. Alex. Johnston requested pernission to lower the road in front of his property on the Pipe Line road. Mr. Johnston is willing to do the work at his own expense. The matter was referred to the engineer and Ald. Greenlees, with power. Complaint was received of a defective sidewalk on the west side of William street, between Princess and Dufferin avenues. The engineer and Ald. Cooper will look at the sidewalk.

Mr. Wright asked that a fence on Ann street, adjoining his property, removed. The engineer said he thought the petitioner was raising a "tempest in a teapot." The fence had been put up by a ratepayer to protect his trees. The matter was referred to the engineer with power.

The petition of Dr. Cl. T. Campbell and others against the laying of an artificial stone walk on the south side of Queen's avenue, between Waterloo and Wellington streets, will, if sufficiently signed, be granted

Catharine Keenan, of West London aged 70 years, claimed damages for injury caused by an alleged defective sidewalk in front of Hyman's tannery She was on her way to the train recently, and fell, owing to the sidewalk being in bad shape. Her arm was broken, thus for a time cutting off her means of making a livelihood by nursing. The petition was referred to the engineer and chairman. The committee were not long in filing M. F. O'Mara's letter asking damages for raising the street in front of his property, Dundas street, West London. He wanted a new sidewalk and $1,100 as compensation. The request of George Olmstead for permssion to put down a mosaic walk on Ridout street, west side, between Dundas and Carling streets, was granted, providing the work is done under the supervision of the engineer, and that the walk be guaranteed for five years. A report of the Boiler Inspection Company, recommending that new boilers be put in the city hall, was filed The assessment commissioner reported several local improvement petitions sufficiently signed, and they granted.

The sidewalk on the north side of King street, between Ridout and Thames streets, will be moved in line with the other walks on the street. The Bell Telephone Company asked for permission to trim trees where their wires run; offering also to trim the city's trees at the company's ex-pense, the work to be done under the supervision of the department. The request was granted.

Awarded to Messrs. Harding &

Whose Tender of $18,746 Was Below the Estimate-The Work Vill Complete the System to the "Farm" -Contractor Grant To Be Paid in

The special sewer committee of the council, last night awarded the contract for section "B" of the new sewer system to Messrs. Harding & Leathorn. The section is the syphon line extending from the west end of Evergreen avenue to the site of the proposed filtration beds, 3,500 feet. It is to be of steel pipe for 300 feet, and the balance of cast-iron pipe. The suc-cessful tender was $1,239 below the estimate of the engineer, who placed the cost of the work at $14,985. Only two tenders were received. J. H. McKnight, of Toronto, tendered at $14,545 and Messrs. Harding & Leathorne, of this city, at $13,746, which was accepted. E. Leonard & Son of-

per running foot.
The engineer was instructed to notify all sewer contractors to put street crossings torn up by them in proper repair within reasonable time. If they do not, the work will be done by the city and charged against the contrac-

fered to supply the steel pipe at $1 76

Solicitor George C. Gunn asked that his client, Contractor W. F. Grant, be allowed the $88 deducted from the amount of his contract on the Evergreen avenue sewer. Mr. Grant lost $2,000 on the job and had saved the city a great deal of money, said Mr. Gunn. The council will be asked to allow the sum. F. Wright, an unsuccessful tenderer, was present, and said such action would be unfair.

Detective Dougherty Believes Pare's Testimony Will Be a Surprise - Says the Right Parties Are Under Arrest.

Toronto, July 28 .- Detective Dougherty, of New York, assistant superintendent of the Pinkerton agency there, is in the city. He spent the greater part of yesterday with Mr. R. D. Gamble, general manager of the Do- Edison. minion Bank. Mr. Dougherty states that he has no intention of making any arrests in Toronto, and is confident that the right parties are under arrest at the present time. "When Pare gives his statement at the preliminary investigation, it will be a revelation to everyone," said he, "and I do not think anyone will have room for doubt that he is telling the truth.' Mr. Dougherty also intimated that Mackie's name was not so new in connection with the case as the public imagines. He says that Ponton was asked questions about his relations last fall, and that such queries embarrassed Ponton very seriously. In connection with the abuse which has been meted out to detectives in connection with this case, Mr. Dougherty says that the Dominion Bank, for which he has been acting, is performing a public duty in bringing to jus-

to believe, has violated his trust. The Elgin election trials will likely be held in the opera house at St. Thomas.

Some of the Best Ideas Come to

of "Lochiel" Was Written in This Way and There Are Other Cases. Most people, if asked the question, would say that "bed" was the place to rest in, not to work. And though this is true of the great majority of people, there is still a decent modicum left who find "bed" a very congenial place in which to do their work, or a great part of it, and who, in fact, do not disguise the truth that they can work there very effectively. This plan was followed by the great poet Campbell, who tells us that he lay awake thinking of his projected poem "Lochiel," when there came into his mind, with other poetic thoughts, the idea of the shadows in the room 'showing up" as the day began to break, and he at once jumped out of bed and wrote down what has since become a world-wide proverb: "Coming events cast their shadows before.' Many writers owe much of their suc ess to clever plots and articles which have been begun, worked out, and finally set into proper form during the time that their authors lay cetween the blankets. The writing afterwards has often been merely mechanical, and even much of that was done in bed; the setting of the plot and the dialogue was the chief thing, as most writers knew too well. "I trust you'll excuse me," said celebrated doctor lately, to a friend who had to see him early, and who,on being asked to go up to his bedroom, found the physician still enjoying the comfort of the sheets. "Kindly sit comfort of the sheets. down, my boy, for a minute, till I've reward his toil. Mr. S. Yelland, 80 Oak street, West done answering these letters. I have my letters brought up immediately when they arrive in the morning, and I go over them in bed, and put down the replies in pencil on the back of them. Then when my secretary arrives at 9, he has nothing to do but go and answer them. As you know, I am kept busy from 10 o'clock, when I first appear down stairs, till late at night, and this plan, you see, saves me nearly an hour's work with him." That students often "burn the midnight oil" in bed is a fact commonly known, but few are aware length to which this is carried out, especially in colleges. I know a college in London where any night one could find 30 or 40 men all working in bed, with notebooks, manuals, pencils and all in full rig-out, many of the men having their writing desks before them on the bed. The contrivances for turning out the gas, without getting out of bed, when work is done. would do credit to the ingenuity of an

"And where did you ever find time to get through your classical authors and do your mathematical problems so throughly as to gain such distinction? said I to a London University man, who had graduated a few years ago with For I knew he distinguished honors. had worked hard at his own business all the day, from 9 till 5.

"In bed, old fellow, in bed!" said he. "I used to lie awake in the morning for an hour before getting up, and em ployed the time in thinking over the Euclidian 'riders,' and 'conic' asked questions about his relations lems that had puzzled me. Almost inwith Mackie at the time of his troubles variably I worked their solution out in my brain, without paper or pencil, vhile lying in bed. And every night, before I went to sleep, I went over so many dozen Greek verbs and Latin annotations, till they were all just like the multiplication table to me." There is another class of men who work much in bed-viz., the legal fraternity. Not very long ago a leading Q. C. in an important case only got his brief delivered the night before the case came on for trial at Manchester

Assizes, and yet, to everybody's astonishment, he showed next day a most his chent successfully. Asked as to how he had been able to master such an intricate brief in one night, the Q. C. replied: "Took it to bed with me, and went over it this morning."-Pear. son's Weekly.

GLADSTONE'S GUIDE

His Tender Words in the People's Bible History-Faith in Scripture,

In his introduction to a "People's Bible History," published in the United States three years ago, Mr. Gladstone leaves on record words which may be accepted here as a farewell message from the lips of a great man who had no guide through life or hope in death that was not grounded on the "impregnable rock of Holy Scripture." "'Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. As they have lived and wrought, so they will live and work. From the teacher's chair and from the pastor's pulpit; in the humblest hymn that ever mounted to the ear of God from beneath a cottage roof, and in the rich, melodious choir of the noblest cathedral, 'their sound is gone out into all lands, and their words into the ends of the world' (Psalm xix., 4). Nor here alone, but in a thousand silent and unsuspected forms will they unwearied-

'Who doubts that, times without number, particular portions of Scriptures find their way to the human soul, as if embassies from on high, each with its own commission of comfort, of guidance, or of warning? What crisis, what trouble, what perplexity of life has failed or can fail to draw from this inexhaustible treasure-house its proper supply? What profession, what position is not daily and hourly enriched by these words, whose repetition never weakens, which carry with them now,

as in the days of their first utterance, the freshness of youth and immortal-

When the solitary student opens all his heart to drink them in, they will "And in forms yet more hidden and withdrawn, in the retirement of the chamber, in the stillness of the night season, upon the bed of sickness, and in the face of death, the Bible will be there, its several words, how often winged with their several and special messages, to deal and to soothe, to uplife and uphold, to invigorate and stir. Nay, more, perhaps, than this, amid the crowds of the court, or the forum, or the street, or the market-place, when every thought of every soul seems to be set upon the excitements of ambition, or of business, or of pleasure, there too, even there, the still small voice of the Holy Bible will be heard, and the soul, aided by some blessed word, may find wings like a dove, may flee away and be at rest.'

LIFE SAVED .- Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.
