

CHANGES MADE IN CONTRACT
VERY FEW AFFECTING LONDONCity Solicitor Meredith Returns From Toronto, Where He Went Over the Contracts Which Are To Be Made With Municipalities Taking Niagara Power.

City Solicitor Meredith returned last night from Toronto where he met the solicitors of the other municipalities to discuss the contract between the hydro-electric commission and the municipalities. Few changes were made in the contract, so Mr. Meredith informed The Advertiser.

"We discussed the contract and made a few changes," said Mr. Meredith. "The changes cannot be explained without a printed copy, which I have not now in my possession. However, the changes affecting London were very slight. The new contract will be sent to the councils right away, and will be considered by them. The changes so far as London is concerned are very slight."

A Rumor.

It was rumored that the new contract will not be very acceptable to the councils of the different municipalities.

Some time ago Mayor Stevely, declared that the contract would have to be amended considerably before it would be acceptable to the municipalities.

Judging from Mr. Meredith's statements, the amendments hoped for have not been made, slight changes being the best result.

"I do not know what was done in Toronto yesterday," said Mayor Stevely. "I have not seen Mr. Meredith, so I cannot tell what took place. We will know in a few days when the revised contract is sent to us. When that comes the committee appointed for that purpose will take the matter up."

City and County Come To Terms

Met on Wednesday Afternoon.

A new agreement between the city and county of Middlesex was drawn up yesterday afternoon at a joint meeting of No. 1 committee and the joint committee of the county council. The papers will be drawn up immediately and sent to the councils for ratification. There is not much change from the old agreement, and it will last five years.

Port Arthur Seat for Hon. Mr. Beck Suggestion Causes Trouble in PartySome Conservatives Who Heard of Rift Here, Move in His Behalf.

A special dispatch to the Globe from Port Arthur says:

Hon. Adam Beck is spoken of as a candidate in the Conservative division in the next electoral district of Port Arthur, and the mention of his name in this connection has stirred up considerable feeling in the Conservative camp. The riding being new, and no nomination yet having been made, the field is open. The idea of offering the nomination to Mr. Beck originated with three prominent local Conservatives while at Toronto as delegates from the city, appearing before the Government in connection with the Dog Lake power matters. They were Mr. A. R. Rutten and W. P. Cooke, chairman of the electric railway and light commission.

Rift in Party.

At Toronto they heard of a possible rift in the party at London, and considered the matter of approaching Mr. Beck to learn whether he would accept the nomination here. Instead, according to the statement now made by Mr. Keefe, they decided to wait and consult with the party here to learn whether the nomination of Mr. Beck would be generally agreeable. It appears that the possibility of Mr. Beck being named became public property before the matter was discussed before the Conservative Association, and now instead of being discussed quietly in the councils thereof and there disposed of it has become a matter of street talk. It is plain that Messrs. Keefe, Rutten and Cooke are not in their suggestion receiving the support of a united party here, as there is considerable objection to calling upon an outsider. Local aspirants do not, of course, favor the procedure, and their supporters are pressing the objections.

Trouble in Camp.

If Mr. Beck cannot find a united party behind him in London, it is plain that he cannot find a party here, united in his support, and considerable damage to Conservative interests appears to have been done by the introduction of his name in view of the strong feeling that have been created. Provided that have been the chances are the nomination will go to Mayor Carrick, who, besides being a strong man, is on the crest of a wave of popularity. Mr. George Mooring is also spoken of, as is also Ald. John Bowman. The convention will be held April 21. The date of the Liberal convention has not yet been set. The names most often mentioned now are F. B. Allen and I. L. Matthews.

Engineer Graydon Reads Riot Act

City Engineer Graydon was in a letter-writing mood, and he sent a few epistles on their way this morning.

Complaints have been sent to No. 2 committee that the London Electric Company has caused a great deal of trouble on Thames street. The walks have been covered with coal, and the fence has been unsightly. Ashes were thrown at the foot of Horton street and not properly looked after. A petition signed by Mr. R. T. Jones and others had been sent to the committee, calling attention to the nuisance, and suggesting that something be done to improve conditions.

The attention of the electric company was called to these complaints, and Mr. Graydon ordered the company to repair the fence, remove the coal from the sidewalks, and told the company not to block the streets. He also advised that if ashes are to be dumped at the foot of Horton street in future, the company must keep a man there to level them off, and keep the dump in proper repair.

READY FOR THE PAVEMENT REPAIRS

The Barber Asphalt Company has notified City Engineer Graydon that work can be commenced on the repairs to the Dundas street and Richmond street pavements as soon as the weather permits.

City Engineer Graydon declared that the work would begin probably next week or the week after.

In other years this repair work was generally done late in the fall, and was not satisfactory.

This year it was done very early, and will be completed before the Old Boys' reunion.

Wants Thames Street Tracks Raised

City Engineer Graydon this morning informed Mr. C. B. King, manager of the London street railway, that the company's tracks on Thames street have sunk eight inches, and that the result is a big mud hole. He requested the company to raise the tracks on this street at least a foot,

The police were summoned, and he was taken to the station.

Magistrate Love fined Lenahan $10 and gave him a long lecture.

Nell Fletcher, who has appeared frequently for being drunk, was fined $5. James Statie, who sells popcorn on the streets, paid $3 for blocking the street with his wagon.

Messrs. John Trebbelock and Gas Gustin, charged with obstructing the street, were allowed to go, as they gave satisfactory explanations.

Toronto, April 16.—Mr. W. A. Cameron, B. A., has accepted the invitation of Bloor Street Baptist Church to become their pastor. Last night he met the committee appointed by the congregation a week ago, consisting of Rev. Dr. W. J. McKay, Dr. Findlay, Mr. E. A. Hardy and Mr. H. L. Stark, and presented to them his decision, giving them a formal letter of acceptance.

At a subsequent business meeting of the congregation held after the regular prayer meeting, this was communicated to the congregation, who were much gratified.

The offer was the same as his predecessor's, viz., $2,600, including a vacation.

Mr. Cameron will assume charge of the pastoral duties on the second Sunday in September. In the meantime after his examination at McMaster is over, he will have the use of his father's farm near Palmyra to spend the summer in a quiet rest. The deacons will look after the supply of the pulpit until Mr. Cameron takes charge.

ENTIRE COUNTRY IS IN REVOLTIll-Armed Natives Attack the Mikado's Forces and Hundreds Are Killed After Desperate Fighting—Gates of Seoul Are Heavily Guarded.

Shanghai, April 15.—Reliable reports reveal appalling conditions in Korea. The movement against the Japanese is universal, and there have been sanguinary reprisals. Practically the whole country has risen against Japanese rule, which barely extends outside Seoul and the main coast ports. Parties a few miles inland are constantly out attacking the Japanese developments in the interior. Even the gates of Seoul are now guarded by strong forces, while the Koreans are not allowed to cross the river after 6 o'clock in the evening.

Details of fighting are suppressed in Korea's newspapers, but it is admitted the Japanese around the capital have resumed their aggressive attitude against the ill-armed natives, with results somewhat resembling massacres.

Three recent instances are given. In the first there were 24 Koreans killed and 7 wounded. In the second, 34 killed and none wounded; in the third, 45 killed and 54 wounded, while the Japanese casualties were only one killed and none wounded.

In two hours' fighting the Japanese in the garrison town of Machun repelled the Koreans, with severe losses on both sides.

East Middlesex School Teachers
Hear Teaching Methods DiscussedAddresses On Topics of Live Interest Given Yesterday
at Convention.

One of the most successful annual meetings that the East Middlesex Teachers' Association has ever held commenced yesterday morning at the courthouse.

Ninety-five teachers were present. The meeting opened with a short address by Rev. James Livingstone, who welcomed the visitors, and spoke briefly of the great work the teachers of the country are doing in the building up of the country, and pointed out the great opportunities there are in the rapid growth of Canada.

President P. J. Thompson addressed the meeting, calling attention to the objects for which the meeting was held, and pointing out that it was incumbent on all the teachers to attend regularly if they wished to profit by what was done.

Address on "Literature."

Miss Alice Duff delivered a short but extremely interesting lecture on "Literature," in which she deplored the tendency to read the very lightest kinds of literature instead of something higher and better.

Children get a wrong idea in this way right at the start, and it is an extremely hard matter to create, and then develop, in them a taste for something better.

The teacher for poor literature is often started in the home, and the teacher has to use all his or her efforts to correct the tendency the child has to poor literature.

Much depends on the manner in which the teacher presents her literature to her class, and the most important object to be aimed at is to arouse an interest in good literature, and then stimulate it until it is self-sustaining.

For the entrance classes, Miss Duff did not think the Fourth Reader met the requirements of a student. She advised the reading of Dickens or some other master.

All cramming should be discouraged, as the student does not understand what he or she is reading, and cannot appreciate the beauty of it.

If examiners at the entrance would confine their questions more to literature that has been studied, Miss Duff thought that there would be a great improvement.

London Lady Noted Journalist's Wife

A cable from London, Eng., says: The West Indian Club gave a banquet tonight to its secretary, W. A. M. Goode, on the occasion of his departure for Canada to start an imperialistic journal.

Lord, the high commissioner for Canada, extended to Mr. Goode a welcome to that country.

Joseph Chamberlain sent a message from Cannes, wishing him success.

Mr. Goode is well known in London, his wife being a daughter of the late Dr. Sippel, who was for many years bursar at the Insane Asylum. Mr. Goode was married in St. Paul's Cathedral ten years ago. He is a journalist of note, and was at one time a war correspondent.

During the Spanish-American war he had charge of the Associated Press service, and was with Admiral Sampson through the naval battles.

Subsequently he went to England, and became connected with Pearson's.

He wrote and published a history of the Spanish-American war, which has had a wide circulation.

EASTER TRAFFIC VERY HEAVY RAILWAYS DOING BIG BUSINESSAll Trains Are Equipped With Extra Coaches To Accommodate the Crowds—Many People Take Advantage of the Cheap Rates To Go Home.

"The heaviest Easter traffic we have had for years," said the Grand Trunk officials to The Advertiser this morning when asked.

"Every train has had from two to five special coaches put on to accommodate the crowds who are traveling. Traffic from the east is especially heavy, and every train that comes in is so crowded that passengers can with difficulty find seats.

"On several trains we have had to put on special coaches in addition to the ones which they had when they left their starting point.

"All along the line conductors report that they have picked up crowds of passengers.

On the Bruce.

"This afternoon and evening we expect a bigger rush than ever, as many will leave going home until the last minute. Two special coaches were put on the Bruce train this morning, and were filled long before the train got to Wingham, where another coach was put on. Traffic over the old main line through Stratford is also exceptionally heavy."

The C. P. R. also reports a big volume of business, and every train all day has been crowded.

Properties Offered For Fire Hall Sites Committee Will Make SelectionsNo. 3 Received Large Number of Offers Last Night.

No. 3 committee of the city council met last night and considered the following sites for fire hall:

John B. Moore, a lot on the corner of Hamilton road and Adelaide street, east side of Adelaide, north of Hamilton road, 60 feet by 148 feet.

B. A. Fitzmaurice, west side of Adelaide street, south of Grey; lot of 114 by 100 feet.

Moses Liff, a lot at the corner of Adelaide and Nelson streets.

P. Watts, lot on east side of Waterloo street, near St. George's school, on which the store of N. Kargus is situated.

Maurice Searrow, lot on the southwest corner of St. James and Colborne streets.

Edwin Scudlark, the Stoney estate, at 301 Piccadilly street.

John L. Flannagan, a property at the corner of William and Grey streets.

Chairman Greenlees and Chief Clerk were appointed a committee to select one of the first two lots mentioned for a south end fire hall.

North End Site.

The question of a site in the north end was rendered more difficult owing to the fact that few of the sites offered were as far north as it was deemed necessary they should be.

Ald. Armstrong objected strongly to all of the sites, as they are too far away from the St. Joseph's Hospital, and the other institutions which it is desired to protect.

It was decided to obtain prices on two lots on Grosvenor street, and Chairman Greenlees was appointed to look after the matter and report at the next meeting.

There were present: Chairman Greenlees, Ald. Booth, Ald. Armstrong, Ald. Moorhead, Assistant Engineer Kirkpatrick, and Chief Clerk.

The representatives of all the civic boards, and the chairman of committees were present, and the best that could be done was the above. Another session will be held tonight, when the rate will be finally struck. The rate will probably be 22 1/2 mills.

"Spools of Thread for Fishing Lines"

The Easter holidays for the school children began this afternoon, all the public and separate schools and Collegiate Institute being dismissed until Monday, April 27.

The schools in East Middlesex were dismissed yesterday, to enable the teachers to attend the convention being held in the city at this time.

The Easter holidays are specially agreeable to the small boy, as it is fishing time. As a disciple of Isaac Walton, the small boy is the most enthusiastic imaginable, and all the streams and creeks and rivers will be sought out by the little anglers with fishing poles and worms.

The maple sugar season is rather long this year, and many will take to the woods, to enjoy some old-fashioned "sugar-off parties."

It has been a long time between holidays to the small chaps, and they were anxiously awaiting the bell that started them on a week of solid enjoyment.

Librarian's Salary Is Now $1,200

The library board at a recent meeting increased the salary of Librarian W. O. Carson from $900 to $1,200.

The increase was brought up at the suggestion of ex-Ald. Gillean, who pointed out that the salary was inadequate for the position, and he thought that a $300 increase was not too much.

The rest of the board agreed to the proposition, paying tribute to the industry and ability of Mr. Carson.

At the meeting of No. 1 committee last night, when the estimates were considered, the question of salaries was discussed, and it was thought the increase was proper.

Among the speakers who took part in the general discussion on literature were Miss Fox, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Duncan, Miss McChesney, Miss Sutton, Mr. Brown, Mr. Dunn, Miss Carter.

Redmond Warns Premier Asquith Recalls the Fate of Roseberry

Dublin, April 15.—Speaking at a meeting this afternoon of the United Irish League, John E. Redmond, the Irish parliamentary leader, said the changes in the ministry, resulting from the assumption of the premiership of Mr. Asquith, had involved an alteration of the attitude of Ireland toward the Liberal party and he did not think that Irish voters could support Winston Churchill in the approaching by-election at Manchester.

Continuing Mr. Redmond declared that the attitude of the Premier and Secretary for Ireland Birrell toward home rule was a direct challenge to the people of Ireland, and he warned Mr. Asquith to remember the fate of Lord Roseberry. Ireland herself would have to force the home rule question to the front at the next general election, but there was nothing to be gained by withdrawing the Nationalists from Westminster.

PAT MCCARREN DOWN AND OUT

New York City Democrats Reject
His Credentials for Denver Convention.

New York, April 5.—State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, leader of the King's County democracy, was unseated from his place as a delegate to the party's state convention after a two days' contest before the committee on credentials. He was alternately greeted with cheers and derisive cries, and once was insulted by a man on the platform near him, to whom the senator replied that he would talk to him outside of the hall. In a scene that was tense and dramatic in the extreme he first made an appeal to the convention to refuse its sanction to the majority report on credentials, and of those, whom, he said, were excluding him from a place in the party councils to which he had been chosen by his constituents.

To the Tammany delegates he delivered a threat that if the plan to put him outside the party lines were carried out no one in the convention hall would live long enough to see the election of another Democratic mayor of New York.

The senator's speech was attended with unusual and picturesque attention. From the time he entered he received the cheers of his loyal followers, but the majority were against him, and the counter demonstrations were greater in volume, but he made his

G. T. R. PENSIONS GET THREE MONTHS' TRIAL

Officials Say They Will Result in the Saving of Damages From Accidents.

Montreal, April 15.—The new pension system put in force on the 1st of January by the Grand Trunk Railway, has had three months' trial, and the officials are fully convinced of the wisdom of the move. They believe that the money is well spent and that the company will save in damages from accidents alone, enough to cover the cost of carrying and providing the fund. It is no reflection upon the older employees who have been replaced by younger ones to say that the younger men are capable of rendering better service to the company in many cases than could be expected from men who are well on in years. Of course there are exceptions to this rule. There are some men, especially among the officials, who are near the age limit, who could scarcely be replaced because of their experience and long connection with the affairs of the company. On the whole, however, the thing is working very satisfactorily to the management.

"A RIDICULOUS AND VICIOUS LAW"

North Oxford's M. P. P. Comments On Whitney's Legislation.

Mount Elgin, April 15.—At the convention of South Oxford Conservatives at Mount Elgin this afternoon, the present member, Donald Sutherland, was again chosen to represent the Conservatives of this riding in the Legislature.

A Surprise.
Mr. Sutherland surprised the great majority of those present today, when, after being nominated, he told of two measures of the Whitney Government in which he did not concur, and thereupon requested that some other man be selected to represent the party in South Oxford. The feeling of the delegates, however, was that he was their most available candidate, and a resolution was passed urging him to accept the nomination, and at the same time endorsing his "acts of independence in dealing with public issues."

Upon calling for nominations the name of Donald Sutherland, the present member, was at once moved by Messrs. King and Haller, and the motion was greeted with cheers. Mr. Sutherland expressed his thanks for the unanimous nomination which had been tendered him. In defending the present Government against the charge of extravagance, Mr. Sutherland alleged that the manner in which the past Government had squandered the natural resources of forest and mine had made this expenditure necessary.

Where He Opposed Mr. Whitney.
Mr. Sutherland stated emphatically that he did not approve of the Government's grant of $2,500,000 to the Bay Railway. In 1904, when the Ross Government guaranteed $4,500,000 bonds for this road, Mr. Whitney and his supporters had opposed the measure, and he could not see that the Government should change its policy now.

Mr. Sutherland had also intended to introduce a bill putting more severe restriction on the operation of automobiles through the country. His idea was to make all drivers of such machines take out a license. The Government might thus have some bond for their careful driving. The committee in which this matter was brought up, Mr. Sutherland stated, met at an earlier hour than usual, and (Mr. Sutherland) had missed the meeting.

The bill, introduced into the House just on the eve of its breaking up, provided for paid drivers taking out a license.

"A Vicious Law."
"There never was a more ridiculous, more vicious law passed," asserted Mr. Sutherland. He had tried to introduce an amendment to the law at the last session, making it necessary for all drivers to have a license, but had been hindered.

In concluding his speech, Mr. Sutherland stated that the Whitney Government had done great things for the country and might be right in some of the things to which he took exception. He, however, could not see with them on these two points, and therefore would prefer not to be a candidate.

A Great Shock.
This request came as a great shock to the convention, but it was the general feeling that Mr. Sutherland should represent the riding, and that he should go back and continue the fight he had waged this session. Finally F. J. Walley and E. W. Hughes brought in a resolution as follows:

"We, the members of the Conservative Association, in convention assembled, do hereby unanimously tender the nomination for South Oxford for the Local Legislature to Mr. Donald Sutherland, and, in doing so, express our appreciation of his many acts of independence in dealing with public issues."

The resolution passed unanimously, and Mr. Sutherland thanked the convention for their confidence. At the same time he would have been better pleased had he been allowed to withdraw, but said that since the convention would not nominate anyone else, he supposed he must accept. He warned the electors, however, that they must do their duty and work.

The Dooks Themselves May Solve Fort William's Problem.

Port Arthur, April 15.—Magistrate Palling, who sentenced the nineteen Doukhobors in jail here, has been asked by A. Power, deputy minister of justice, to recommend a pardon for the convicts, that they, with others at Fort William, might be returned to Saskatchewan, from where they commenced their pilgrimage nearly a year ago.

In the meantime those in the jail refuse to eat regular food, to work or wear clothes. They are fed on peanuts, apples and prunes, raising the cost from about seven to thirty cents per day to feed each.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Insure Them Good Health.

Ninety per cent of children under twelve years of age are being poisoned and parents don't realize it. Irregular bowels are the chief cause. You parents know that your bowels should move every day. You know you must be as regular as clock-work, or the blood will become tainted.

Don't you realize that the children must be as orderly in getting rid of the waste matter of their system? Then, if you find that any of the little ones go two or three days without action of the bowels, don't run to castor oil, senna tea, calomel, cascara or harsh "liver pills." Those simply purge the child—strain the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the ideal medicine for children. They are fruit juices and tonics in the form of a pleasant tasting tablet. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulate the liver, causing more bile to flow. It is the bile, given up by the liver, which moves the bowels. "Fruit-a-tives" regulate the liver and bowels, and thus completely cure constipation. They sweeten the stomach, and are the finest tonic in the world to build up the system and make children plump and rosy, at a box—six for 25¢. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. "Fruit-a-tives" Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

"DOROTHY DODD" AND "REGAL" SHOES

Have Come to London and Will Be Sold at 148 Dundas Street.

Many a good thing comes to London, but none better than the combination at the new Regal Shoe Store, 148 Dundas street—Dorothy Dodd shoes for women, Regal shoes for men. These shoes are proverbial for their perfect fitting qualities and original design. There is a style for almost every possible occasion and each style is exclusive in itself. The variety of leathers used in these beautiful shoes is particularly extensive. Russian calfskin, several shades of soft, luxurious black and tan kid skins, gun metal, patent calf skin, patent kid, and oiled calf in many shades. Bringing these two shoes of worldwide repute to London means a great deal to lovers of correct footwear in this city and the adjoining towns. It means that you can now get the new, authentic styles six weeks after they are originated by the custom bootmakers.

Regal and Dorothy Dodd styles are dependable. The materials are top grade, the fit is absolute at every point.

You could not find a more complete stock of the new spring shoes in any of the Boston or New York agencies than is now on the shelves at the Regal shoe store, this city. Make your visit of inspection an early one, that you may see the lines in their

Tomorrow Good Friday Store Will Be Closed

Store will be closed all day Friday, but great preparation has been made to receive the throngs of visitors from outside points, who have come mainly to make their spring purchases of Drygoods at this store today, and many will remain over until Saturday or Monday, to have a little more time for their selecting, and take full advantage of our Easter Sale.

To every visitor we extend the freedom of our store. Make this your headquarters when down town, and we will do our best to make you feel at home.

Today and Saturday our Easter offerings will be most attractive, many of which may not appear in our newspaper advertisements, but our Easter Sale Cards will draw your attention to goods specially attractive or specially priced throughout the store.

We would also advise our friends from outside that it will be greatly to your advantage to shop in the morning, particularly at this busy time, as we are not so crowded, and you'll find more comfort, better service, better light, and our salespeople can give you their best attention then. "SOLDIERS OF CHRIST"

Oratorio Rendered in Christ Church Last Night by Choir.

A large audience was present at Christ Church last night, when the choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles Perry, rendered the oratorio by Farmer, "Soldiers of Christ."

The solo parts were taken by Miss Cullis, contralto; Miss Leila Proctor, soprano; Mr. George Rickard, tenor, and Messrs. John Wilson, Will Taylor and J. Abrams, basses.

The story of the oratorio is that of Christ's life on earth, and the work of the soloists and chorus brought out the beautiful story in a manner that appealed to all. Mr. Taylor and Miss Cullis rendered their parts exceptionally well, the latter's solo, "By Jesus' Grave," being greatly appreciated.

SHOT TO SCARE, KILLS

Policeman Accidentally Kills Bad Boy Whom He Was Chasing.

Philadelphia, April 4.—William McHugh was shot in the back and killed here early today by policeman Phillip Hoffman, who shot to frighten the boy, whom he was trying to capture.

McHugh and several other boys, it is said, attacked a party of Italians in the southern section of the city. Hoffman chased the boys and caught McHugh and a companion. The former broke away and the policeman, to frighten the boy, fired in the air, and again into the pavement. The second ball glanced up and struck McHugh in the back, passing through his body close to the heart.

The house throughout was profusely decorated with palms and flowers. The gifts, which were both numerous and valuable, evidenced the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

The bride's traveling suit was brown Venetian broadcloth, with a handsome plumed hat. Mr. and Mrs. Brodie left for Buffalo, N. Y., amid showers of confetti, and with the best wishes of their numerous friends. On their return they will be at home at Gladstone after June 1.

The great Guadalupe artesian well at Guadalupe, Mex., which used to spout 100 feet high, only spouts half that now.

Detective Carpenter, of Montreal, who was shot with three others by the madman Dillon in a house last week, is in a critical condition, and his recovery is not expected.

LONDON, THURSDAY, APRIL 16.
THE LITTLE CANADA OUTCRY.

The cry against immigration has a strange sound in a country which through long, stagnant years desperately of attracting immigrants to its shores, although it had every element of wealth and greatness but population.

Thanks to the herculean efforts of a new and vigorous administration, people began, nearly ten years ago,
to stream Canada-ward in large numbers from the United States and nearly every country in Europe. The empty prairies, which mocked the hopes of Canadians for a generation, began to fill. The newcomers, by their labor and capital, gave an immense impetus to agricultural production, and the factories of the country were overtaxed to supply their manifold wants.
The cloud of depression lifted almost magically. Railway expansion on a grand scale followed to keep pace with the march of settlement. The eyes of the world were attracted by the Canadian phenomenon, and the stream of immigration, started only by the heroic energy of the Government, flowed of its own accord in an increasing volume.

Immigration has made Canada a new country in a period of ten years, and yet with only a fringe of her fertile lands occupied, and her natural resources scarcely scratched, some Canadians profess to have discovered that immigration is a calamity, and that every immigrant is merely a competitor, taking the bread and butter out of the mouths of those already in the country.

Would the Little Canada party, which is raising the cry, close the gates against the world, if it were possible?
That is the logical inference of the resolutions passed in various quarters, condemning the immigration policy of the Government. There is an assumption that the bonus system is entirely responsible for the great movement to this country. As a matter of fact no bonuses are paid to immigrants, but only to agents who direct farm laborers or domestic servants to Canada. The minister of the interior the other day pointed out that the "figures for 1905-06 showed an immigration of 189,000, and bonuses were paid on 33,608; in 1906-07 the immigration was 124,667, bonuses being paid on 14,094, or on about one in nine; in 1907 the immigration for nine months was 235,- 228, and bonuses were paid on 20,492 or on about one in twelve." For the year ending Feb. 22, 1908, bonuses were paid to agents for only 2,056 souls from the continent of Europe.

The immigration policy of the Government is at once active and restrictive. The utmost discrimination is being used to insure that immigrants shall be morally and economically fit.
Under a new regulation no one is allowed to land unless he has $50 in money. Will the agitators explain how the Government can turn back immigrants from the old world, the bulk of them British, who come here of their own accord or are assisted by non-official benevolent organizations on the other side of the water, if the newcomers are physically and morally excellent, and give no indication of becoming public charges?

NEW BRITISH NAVAL BASE.

Tenders for the construction of the works at the new naval establishment at Rosyth, Scotland, will be called for early this summer, and the contract will be let on a time limit to insure completion of the work at a given period. The total cost will be $15,000,- 000, though only $1,500,000, or about 1 per cent, has been voted for 1908-09, but this is probably adequate, as considerable time must elapse before the contractor's plant can be prepared.

According to Engineering, the site purchased by the Government embraces 1,184 acres of land and 235 acres of foreshore, the frontage to the Firth of Forth being slightly over two miles in length. The borings have shown that a suitable foundation, either on the rock or on boulder clay,
can be obtained at reasonable depths.
It is proposed to construct the outer wall of the basin with large concrete monoliths about 43 feet square, sunk through the upper strata until they reach the hard boulder clay.

These monoliths will be sunk from staging. The bottom or cutting edge will consist of a built-up steel shoe, on which successive layers of cement concrete will be built. The interior of each block will be divided into four square compartments, so that when the block has been built to a height to enable it to rest on the bottom, the material can be excavated. As the monolith sinks through the sand and slit, further layers will be built from the stage until the block reaches the boulder clay. It is anticipated that each monolith will weigh from 62 to 65 tons.

The intervening space between the blocks will afterwards be filled up with concrete. In this way the wall from end to end will of itself be a monolithic structure.

There is a splendid anchorage, protected from practically every direction. Although the idea has been suggested that the presence of the Forth bridge may prove an obstacle, this is straining a point, as there is a great depth of water, and in any case the British ships which might be in Rosyth would find it a fairly easy task to so effectively complete the destruction of the bridge as to enable them to go to sea. The existence of the bridge cannot materially assist the investment of any fleet within the new naval establishment.

From the geographical, as well as the strategical standpoints, the location of this naval establishment is commendable. There is to be constructed a basin with a large entrance lock, a graving-dock, a submarine and destroyer basin, with boat-slip for repairing these light craft. Adequate coaling accommodation in addition will be afforded, and the workshops provided will be such as to deal only with repairs. The approach channel is to have a depth of 36 feet at low water of spring tides, and the width at bottom will be 1,050 feet. There will be a pier about 800 feet long for guiding ships to the entrance lock. This lock, which is arranged for use also as a graving-dock, is to be 550 feet long and 110 feet wide at the entrance, with a depth over the sill at low water of ordinary spring tides of 26 feet. The longest warships now in the navy—the cruisers—the Invincible class—are 530 feet between perpendiculars, so that this lock is more than adequate.

The ships of greatest beam—the latest Dreadnoughts—are of 84 feet, while the greatest draft is probably not more than 29 feet, even with the maximum coal supply and all war stores on board. The basin is approximately square, and has a width of about 1,500 feet, and a length of 1,620 feet, the total area being 52½ acres.

On the landward, or northern, side of this basin there is to be a dry-dock of a total length of 750 feet, which is so designed as to be capable of being easily lengthened. Space is left to the east of this dock for the construction of two other docks of even greater length, but these are not provided for under the present scheme.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

Our local contemporary finds it difficult to square its opposition to the Komoka scheme with the support of the mayor's proposition. This is apparently what comes of dragging politics into its drinking water.—
London Free Press.

The Advertiser has stood consistently for spring water—and spring water only—for drinking purposes, and has all along advocated taking in springs adjacent to the city and to Springbank, instead of travelling to the region of Komoka. The various north branch springs and the Kilworth springs are comprised within a very small area, and may be safeguarded. The Komoka springs are scattered over a wide territory, eight to twelve miles from the city limits. As for the River Thames, sewage and drainage enter it along its whole course, and it is beyond the city's power to prevent this state of affairs.

Mr. Maury recommended taking in the north branch springs, and reported that if this were done, filtered water would not be needed for a period of time, except in the event of a conflagration. Our local contemporary extolled this scheme as a heaven-sent solution of the problem. The mayor proposes that the spring-water feature of the Maury report be adopted, and our contemporary now ridicules it. It looks as though "politics were behind its change of front. In the name of common sense, why drag partyism into a question of this kind?

It was impudence that wrote a defense of the gerrymander into the Lieutenant-Governor's speech. It is ignorance of the first principles of the constitution to say that the Lieutenant-Governor wrote his own opinions into the same document.

Congress has cut the President's naval programme in half. The President is usually in advance of Congress on all questions, but in this case Congress is in the right. What hope is there for relief from the crushing weight of militarism in Europe if the great American republic, dedicated to peace, sets a bad example?

Donald Sutherland, the Conservative candidate in South Oxford, condemned the Whitney Government for voting to guarantee the bonds of the Canadian Northern Railway to the extent of $2,- 500,000. The Opposition, which supported the deal, shares in the condemnation, but there is this difference:
the Liberals, when in power, voted for a similar measure, and the Conservatives, when in opposition, denounced it to a man.

A YOUNG MAN'S CABINET.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
The new British ministry can be described as a body of able men led by a trio of brilliant youngsters. With a premier of 55, a chancellor of the exchequer of 41, and a president of the board of trade of 28, the Asquith cabinet will go down to history as a ministry of young men.

[Country Life.]
The Germans are aware of the fact which for some time has been suspected in England—namely, that when railways were introduced the country was too

they would altogether supplant the water-

WHEN SHE LOOKED BEST.

[Lippincott's.]
A reader for New York publishing house gives the following, quoted from a story submitted by an Indiana authoress, as being about the choicest bit he has come across in many years:
"Reginald was bewitched. Never had the baroness seemed to him so beautiful as at this moment, when, in her dumb grief, she hid her face."

VERY NECESSARY.

he has ever done.

APRIL.

[Archibald Lampman.]
Pale season, watcher in unweaved suspense,
Still priestess of the patient middle day;
Betwixt wild March's humored petulance
And the wild wooing of green-kirtled
May,
Maid month of sunny peace and sober
gray,
Weaver of dowers in sunward glades that ring
With murmur of libation to the spring.
As memory of pain, all past is peace,
And joy, dream-tasted, hath the deepest cheer,
So art thou sweetest of all months that haste,
The twelve short spaces of the flying year.
The bloomless days are dead, and frozen fear
No more for many moons shall vex the earth,
Dreaming of summer and fruit-laden mirth.

NOT THE SAME NOAH.

[Toronto Star.]
Up in London they have given Noah twelve years for manslaughter. Noah, by the way, is an Indian murderer, not that other offender who made his ark so small that the whole world was drowned.

BRUTAL.

[Winnipeg Tribune.]
If the Douks get six months each for taking off their clothes, how much ought some of the leaders in our smart set re-

QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

HALF "DRY."

[Toronto Star.]
All told, 40,000,000 Americans, almost half the total population of the republic, are now living in states or municipalities from which the bar has been banished.
The possibility that the question of national prohibition may be forced to the front in the coming presidential election is rapidly becoming a probability.

IDENTIFIED.

[Baltimore American.] Absent-minded Wall Street Operator (at your face seems rather familiar. Haven't

I met you before?
Society Leader—Oh, yes; I remember you very well. We met in the church the day we were married.

WELL-INFORMED.

[Philadelphia Bulletin.]
"Is he a well-informed man?" was inquired during an allegro moment.
She smiled slightly.
"I should say so," she rejoined. "His wife tells him everything."

HE'LL FIND OUT.

[New Orleans Times-Democrat.]
"Yes," said the bachelor, "a fellow may think he's having a high old time at night, but something will surely tell him next morning that he simply made a fool of himself."
"Yes," replied the married man, "or somebody."

LOOKS LIKE 22 1-2 MILLS

figures were as close as could be drawn. The increase in the estimates over last year was largely due to the increase in the salaries. No reduction could possibly be made in that department.

When the figures for the public schools were considered, Chairman Graham said that a considerable saving could be made if the kindergarten was reorganized. He declared that the kindergarten in London was a gigantic extravagance.

The per capita cost of the kindergarten pupil was $34, while the per capita cost of the others was about $15.

The kindergarten put one mill all-most on the tax rate, and then there were five large sections of the city that are without kindergartens altogether.

He was of the opinion that $3,000 could be saved if the kindergarten was reorganized.

If the rearrangement were completed now, at least $3,500 could be saved after Sept. 1. There was, however, no prospect of a reduction this year, as it was not known what action the board of education was going to take.

Cost of Fuel.

The fuel estimates amounted to $9,- 000, and Ald. Beattie thought that something could be cut off that.

Chairman Graham explained that the furnaces in Chesley avenue had cost the board a considerable sum of money, and it was the intention of the board to install hot water heating in Lorne avenue and Chesley avenue schools, so he would agree to cut off $1,000 from that item.

The sum of $1,450 had been estimated for new seating, but as this included the seating of the Lorne avenue school, which could be taken out of the debentures he would reduce that $450. This was agreed to.

Another Cut.

It had been estimated that the model school expenses would amount to $700, but there was doubt that the model school would be used this year, as model schools had been abolished by the Government.

Chairman Graham agreed to cut off $550 of this and take chances on it.
This was agreed to, making the total reduction in the board of education figures to be $2,000.

Public Library.

The public library figures were next discussed.
Mr. O. Labelle represented the board.

The only item that could be reduced was the appropriation of $2,500 for books.

Ald. Beattie asked if it could not be reduced $500, and Mr. Labelle said he would submit the matter to the board, and report tonight.

Hospital Trust.

There was little pruning done to the hospital trust figures, an item of $250 for cork matting for the wards being struck off. Mr. Screaton and Mr. J. C.
Judd represented the trust.

No. 3's Figures.

There was a considerable slashing of No. 3 committee's figures. The first item considered a grant of $650 for a new heating system for the central fire hall was cut out.

The street watering called for an expenditure of $7,000, and Ald. Beattie thought this could be reduced at least $1,000.

Ald. Greenlees declared that it could not well be touched, as this year was liable to be a dry season, and the result would be an overdraft. After considerable discussion, the item stood as it was.

The market expenses were estimated at $700, and Ald. Beattie cut $100 off that sum, as he thought that $500 would be sufficient.

The item of $600 for broken stone for the market was gently amputated without discussion.

The item calling for the expenditure of $5,000 for a new weigh scales and public conveniences was also cut off without debate.

There will be no civic drinking fountains this year, that item calling for an expenditure of $700, being chopped off without a friend at court.

A reduction of $7,050 was made in
No. 3 committee's estimates.

Board of Works.

The parks expenditure was next dealt with, and the greenhouse to cost $6,500 was the first killed.

Parks Superintendent Pearce estimated the general park work would cost $4,750. This was reduced to $4,- 000. The reductions were made in the following items: Queen's Park, sand boxes and conveniences for children, $150; painting bandstand, Queen's Park, $50; lighting Queen's Park bandstand, $50; C. P. R. sunken gardens, $50; play appliances Victoria Park, $150; wading pond, $75; remounting guns, $100.

The bandstand in Victoria Park will be repainted to cost $50.

The estimated expenditure for streets and general improvements was $27,000, although only $22,326 had been spent in this department last year.
City Engineer Graydon thought that it could not be reduced very much on account of the amount of street work to be done. Ald. Beattie wanted $5,000 cut off. A compromise was effected, and $2,000 was struck off.

The street cleaning estimate was $12,000. Last year $3,500 was spent on this work. Ald. Beattie thought $1,000 should come off this, and although City Engineer Graydon thought it should not be cut off, the estimates were reduced to $11,000.

The special grant for the exhibition grounds of $3,000 went through.

The bridges expenses were estimat-

Headache and neuralgia.

What hosts of people seek for cure of these ailments.

And in vain.

Because they are misled by going after medicines which only relieve.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food is not a mere relief for headaches and neuralgia but is a thorough cure in the only way these troubles can ever be really cured—by restoring the nervous system.

Mrs. James Clancy, 714 Water street, Peterboro, Ont., states: "I was troubled more or less with severe headaches and neuralgia for nearly twenty years. Besides suffering I was useless as far as work was concerned. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food built up my system generally and made a thorough cure of my old trouble. It succeeded in my case after a great many treatments had failed."

ed at $3,200. Mr. Graydon pointed out that the bridges of the city were in very bad shape, and he did not think that this item should be reduced. The Victoria bridge, Broughdale bridge, Dundas street bridge and Blackfriars bridge all needed repairing. It was agreed, however, to lop off $200 on this estimate, allowing $3,000 to repair the bridges.

The estimates for sewers and culverts were $6,000, the same as last year, and City Engineer Graydon thought this could be cut down $500.
This was agreed to.

The estimate of $1,200 for cost of repairs to courthouse and jail went through without discussion, as it was felt that the city was bound to pay that sum.

No Camp This Year.

The item for $210 for the militia camp was struck out, as there will be no camp this year, it is said.

The estimates for repairs to the city storage building were $200, but they were cut in half.

City Engineer Graydon thought that the item for $525 for the West London breakwater should go through.

The estimates for last year were $200 for this purpose, and Ald. Beattie thought this sum should suffice. This was agreed to, a saving of $225 resulting.

The asphalt repairs estimate was reduced from $3,000 to $2,700, the same as last year.

The estimate for a culvert on the Pipe Line road, amounting to $1500, was cut down to $1,000. City Engineer Graydon thought the work could be done for the lower figure.

The matter of new city hall lavatories, calling for an expenditure of $1,400, was left over until tonight.

Maitland Street Sewer.

The Maitland street storm sewer,
calling for an expenditure of $6,000,
was the cause of a vigorous debate.

City Engineer Graydon thought that it would be a serious mistake to cut this off, as there was no way of taking the water away in that district. There should be several of these sewers, and he did not think the committee should cut this out.

Ald. Stevenson declared that the sewer was a necessity, and must be laid.

Ald. Beattie agreed that in all probability this sewer was a necessity, but it should be taken out of the debentures.
A vote could be taken on it next January, and the matter could be settled that way. He was convinced that a series of such sewers were necessary, but by issuing debentures this could be overcome. He thought the item should come out, and out it came.

That ended the labors of the committee for the evening. A final effort will be made tonight to strike the rate.

Among the items to be discussed tonight will be the item calling for $7,- 000 sinking fund and interest on the Niagara power scheme, and $600 for the sinking fund for the tuberculosis hospital.

Ald. Beattie was of the opinion that both these items would have to go through, as the bylaw had been passed by the people. However, the opinion of the city solicitor will have to be obtained on this subject.

An effort will also be made to get the water commissioners to issue debentures for the sum of $15,000 for main extension, rather than take this sum out of current revenue, thus reducing the city's grant. This will probably be done.

In addition to the grants already made there will be $5,000 to the Western University, $1,000 or more to the Old Boys' Association, and several other grants that will aggregate $2,- 000. These have not appeared in the estimates as yet.

Judging from the figures presented, it will be impossible to get less than a 22½-mill rate.

Those present were Ald. Beattie, Ald.
Ferguson, Ald. Stevenson, Ald. Parsons, Mayor Stevely, Ald. Gerry, Ald.
Greenlees, S. Screaton and J. C. Judd of the hospital trust, O. Labelle of the library board, and C. M. R. Graham of the board of education.

Advertiser Patterns

DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAN.

A SMART WAIST OF CREPE DE CHINE—5984.

Blouse waists completed by guimpes are greatly in vogue this season, and a most attractive design is here sketched that will not prove at all difficult for the home dress-maker to attempt. It is a vest of crepe de chine, and an inner vest of heavy lace lends especial charm to the mode. Straps of the material effectively trim the short sleeves, but if long sleeves are desired they may be extended to the deep cuffs. Finely tucked batiste or net may be used for the guimpe as well as lace and embroidery. Satin, broadcloth or any of the soft draping fabrics will make-up prettily. For 36 inches bust measure 3½ yards of 44-inch material will be required.

Ladies' waist with guimpe. No. 5984. Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

A pattern of the accompanying illustration will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONT.

might start suspicion; and she dared not run the risk.

Bitterly chagrined at the interruption, and intensely disappointed, she slipped out of the recess and ran to the door. To explain her absence from the room she told of Mrs. Merridew's illness, and then set to work to continue her cleaning.

The housekeeper fussed round, giving a few directions, and went away. In a moment Olive was at the door between the rooms, listening with strained ears to what was passing on the other side.

They were talking in low tones, however, and only a word or two here and there reached her. Merridew was peering to be explaining that it was next to impossible that Purvis should find them, and that it would be easy to put him on a wrong track.

Mrs. Merridew's replies were quite inaudible; and a long, whispered conversation followed, the failure to hear which gnawed at Olive's teeth. Determined to risk a return to the recess, she slipped over the work, put the things back in their places, and whisked a duster over them to make it appear that she had finished.

"Get it at once," Merridew was saying, as she reached the recess again. "I must catch the eleven o'clock express. I shall send the cable to Chicago from town; and it will be back long before he is liberated."

"I shall know no peace till he's on the other side, Gilbert. I'll go and get it."

As Mrs. Merridew left the room, Olive heard someone else enter.

"I want you to take this wire, Dawleigh. I am going up to town this morning, and shall probably be back tonight. If I want any more wire, I'll write you."

Olive was divided between the desire to know the purport of the telegram and eagerness to hear more of the conversation between the Merridews. She decided in favor of the former, and leaving her hiding-place, ran downstairs after the valet. As she reached the hall, she saw that the door leading to the disused wing of the house stood open, and in an instant guessed what it meant.

Merridew was going to take the stolen papers to London, and his mother had gone to fetch them. Her trick would be discovered either at once, when Merridew saw them, or later, when they were delivered to the people for whom they had been obtained. There would be lively times at the Manor then.

She caught the valet just as he was on the point of starting, and affected great surprise. With a toss of the head she made as if to pass him.

"Aren't you going to speak to a fellow?" he asked.

"Shake to yez, is it? And why should I trouble my head about a gossamer who can't see a body go out for a breath of fresh air without thinking in all sorts of scandal and suspicions. More's the shame to yez."

"I was jealous, Mollie. I'm jealous of the very air that kisses you."

"Jealous! Ye green-eyed thing! I should think ye are jealous, begorra!"

"It's only because I care for you so much. I'd do anything in the world for you, Mollie. I'm sorry I spoke as I did. I didn't mean anything by it. I won't do it again."

"An' it's a glib tongue ye have wid them promises."

"You try me," he protested.

"I will that same. I'm just wid that tooth again, and am goin' to ask off for half an hour. Take me for a little walk."

"Of course I would. You know that. But I have to go out for Merridew, to take a telegram."

"Ah, now," cried Olive, shaking her head. "An' sure, didn't I know ye'd find some excuse. Go wid your old telegram; but don't ask me to believe ye."

"It's true as gospel. You can see it for yourself."

"Get away wid your lies, just de-cavin' a girl wid 'em."

"Here it is. Look. Taunton, Markham street, Mayfair, London. Bringing it up this morning. There can't you believe your own eyes?"

"You believed yours too readily last night," she retorted, sharply. Then, as if partially satisfied: "It looks all right," and she smiled up at him.

"It is all right; leastways, in that sense. But it's all wrong in another. Look here, Mollie, we'll have that walk later on, and I'll tell you things that'll make you open your eyes. That is, if you answer a question I mean to put to you as I want you to answer it."

"Arrah, it's you that knows how to make a body curious, Mr. Dawleigh."

"Mr. Dawleigh?" he repeated, insinuatingly.

"William," she said, dropping her voice, and her eyes after a swift glance.

"That's better. Now I must be off, or he'll be mad. Not that I care. I've had enough of him and his fan-tods. But I'll tell you all about it afterwards."

He went off then at a run, and Olive returned upstairs. She had learnt what she wished to know and from Dawleigh's hints, she was to learn a good deal more. It was clear that Merridew was taking the wire to Mr. Taunton; no doubt for it to be delivered to somebody else.

She learnt nothing more that morning. Merridew left in his motor car, and it was therefore certain that her trick had not been discovered by him. Later on she promised to go for a walk with Dawleigh in the evening.

But in the afternoon a telegram summoned him to London, and thus the walk was postponed and the information she had hoped to gain during it. They did not meet again that day nor the next. A telegram came to Mrs. Merridew which excited her intensely but what it was Olive could not find out. She had been in a condition of great nervous restlessness ever since she had read the paragraph about the release of Purvis; and Olive could only speculate as to whether the message had any connection with that.

But on the following evening Merridew and Dawleigh returned; and from the latter Olive soon learnt enough to give her a clue to what had happened.

Dawleigh was divided between furious anger at Merridew's treatment and his anxiety to get Olive to promise to marry him. She led him on very skillfully, and seeing that he was so bitter against his master, she affected to take the latter's part as a handsome, honorable gentleman, who would not be angry without a cause, and so put Dawleigh on his defense.

Then he poured out his story amid abundant abuse of Merridew. The substitution of the wire for the real paper had been discovered, and Merridew had not hesitated to accuse Dawleigh of the trick. Once started, the valet went on to denounce Merridew as a thoroughbred scoundrel, saying that he had never known a man so much to quarrel with him, and that he could force him to give him any money he chose to demand.

But Olive could give little that was definite, and considerably astonished the valet by telling him she did not credit what he said, but that if it were all true, she would not quarrel with anyone who talked openly about the prospects of blackmailing his master, and wound up by refusing to listen any longer, and threatening to tell Merridew what he had said, if he worked her with any more.

"We Orlish stand by our master, whether he do right or wrong," Mr. Dawleigh, she declared, with her head in the air. "An' if you don't like the service you're in, you should leave it."

As for waitin' to get married till you've made some money in that way, it isn't Molly O'Brien wid her, is it? Standin' by your side before the parast. It's disappointed I am in yez, Mr. Dawleigh; an' ye may as well know it now."

That night she overheard part of a conversation between the Merridews. The mother declared that it was impossible that the paper could have been tampered with at the Manor. She told where she had hidden it, and a picture that no one had a suspicion that such a thing was even in the house. It must have been changed while in Mrs. Taunton's keeping; or else the wrong paper had been stolen in the first instance.

Merridew was bitterly angry. He was equally positive that Mrs. Taunton had had nothing to do with it, and even hinted that his mother, in her fear at having the thing in the house, had herself made the exchange. In this strain they wrangled for an hour.

Then she asked about Purvis. He answered surlily with an oath, and added that he had sent a cable to Chicago which would reach Purvis on leaving prison, together with money to take him across the Atlantic. But his thoughts were all of the mysterious change of the paper; and he continued to harp on the subject, repeating his belief that in some way Dawleigh had found out about it, and had served him this trick. He had always suspected the valet of being a spy on him.

All the next day this condition of storm continued. Merridew had a series of quarrels with everyone with whom he came in contact; his mother and the valet in particular. And in the afternoon, when starting for a ride in his car, he abused the chauffeur for some trifling fault, and ended by knocking the man out of the car, and starting alone.

Mrs. Merridew's nervous unrest was increased by all this until she was really ill. She lay on the couch in her room prostrate and miserable. Olive contrived to be chosen to take her tea up to her, and when she saw the miserable, hunted look in her eyes, she could almost have pitied her. The fortune which she had schemed to get had done her little good indeed, thought Olive.

"Wouldn't ye have the doctor, ma'am?"

"Or is there nothin' I can get yez?"

"I am not ill, girl," was the cross reply. "I haven't slept for a night or two through neuralgia. That's all."

"Would I be bathin' your face again, ma'am? It'd yez a power o' good the other mornin'."

"Yes, get the eau-de-cologne."

She fetched it and bathed Mrs. Merridew's forehead. "You have a gentle touch, girl, for all your roughness."

"That's what my dear old mither used to say when I rubbed her for the rheumatics, ma'am. Ah, she was a sufferer now, if you loike. Was ye ever in Orlend, ma'am?"

"Don't worry me," said Mrs. Merridew, testily.

Olive went on bathing her face without speaking, and in the silence they heard the sound of wheels on the gravel of the drive.

Mrs. Merridew sprang up on the instant. "What's that? Go and see. At once. Never mind anything else. Go and see," she cried, excitedly.

"Sure, it's only a cab, ma'am," said Olive, going to the window.

"Yes, but who is in it? Go and find out, and come and tell me at once. Quick, quick. Do what I say, and don't stand staring there like a baby."

Olive hurried out of the room, ran down the first flight of stairs, and looked into the hall.

The cab driver had just set down his passenger, and the two were wrangling about the fare. The quarrel ended by the passenger turning away with an oath, and entering the house with a shambling, dragging step.

Olive had a good view of him as he came up the steps. An old man of powerful frame, but bent and bowed, and wearing clothes that were new and ill-fitting; coarse features, clean shaven, wearing a wig which had no sort of color relationship with the bushy gray eyebrows from under which peered up a pair of small brown eyes, restless, furtive, and hunted in expression.

Old, harried, lined, and repugnant as the face was, Olive recognized it at once as that of the man whose photograph she had found in Mrs. Merridew's desk—George Purvis, and it suggested a resemblance to some other face she had seen recently, but could not place.

"I want to see Mrs. Merridew—Mrs. Rachel Merridew," said the man.

The use of the Christian name confirmed Olive in her belief.

"What name shall I say?" asked the footman.

Suffered From Heart and Nerve Troubles FOR THE Last Ten Years.

The heart has supplied to it two sets of nerves, one set which quickens, the other which slows its action. The proper action of these nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be nerve derangement of any kind it is bound to produce all the various phenomena of heart derangement.

Knowing the intricate structure of the heart, and being aware how diseases of the nerves affect the heart, we have combined in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a treatment that will cure all forms of nervous disorders as well as act on the heart itself, and in this is the secret of their success in curing so many cases of heart trouble which have baffled all other treatment.

Mrs. John Riley, Donno, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from heart and nerve troubles for the last ten years. It's Here, the Merry Widow Lid With Joy and Tragedy in Its Wake Famous Headpiece Has Arrived and Is Creating Something of a Sensation.

The "Merry Widow" millinery has arrived.

The balmy breezes and beautiful sunlight has brought this latest fearful and wonderful feminine adornment from its lair.

Several were seen upon the streets of London yesterday and today.

To describe them adequately would drive a mere man to turn mental handspins until his poor befuddled brain would feel like addled eggs.

This Is It

In general outlines, the hat looks like a cross between a ring around the moon and a hothouse.

The dimensions are tremendous. They are as a rule three feet across, with a crown or center elevation topped with flowers and much vegetation.

Any person appearing on the street with a hat just one foot wide below to the common or garden variety of humanity, and is in the wrong.

It must be admitted that this description is poor, but get some young lady with one of them to properly describe their entrancing beauties. She will furnish the gestures, and the technical expressions necessary for the proper explanation of the beauties.

Some of the popular in church on Sunday. One lone man was noticed sandwiched in between two of the hats. He slid down under cover with a broad expanse of hat and vegetation on either side of him. Nothing was visible from the front, but as the writer was behind him, he saw part of a head. There were just the three of them in a seat capable of holding seven people. That shows what kind of hats they were.

COME TO TERMS

The Proportion of Cost.

The ratio of the above is 84 per cent for the city and 16 per cent for the county.

As the agreement for the next five years is based on the figures of the past five years, it was agreed that the proportion, 84 per cent for the city and 16 per cent for the county, should govern the agreement for the next five years.

The former agreement was 78 per cent for the city and 22 per cent for the county, based on the figures for the five years previous to the date of agreement.

Growing Better.

"The number of days for county prisoners has decreased considerably," said County Auditor Stanley, "while the number of days for the city has increased a very great deal. However, our population has dropped from 51,000 five years ago to 46,000, while the city's population has increased from 39,000 to practically 50,000. So the position of the city relatively is better than it was then."

As the basis of the agreement is founded on the percentage of days in confinement, Ald. Beattie thought that the city was compelled to pay that percentage. This was agreed to, and for the next five years the city will pay 84 per cent of the cost of maintenance of prisoners and the county 16 per cent.

Repairs to Jail.

The next clause discussed was the cost of repairs for the jail and court house. Under the old agreement the city had to pay 25 per cent and the county 75 per cent.

There was also a clause in this agreement that provided that the city should pay the county $25 a year.

Worst Time for Catarrh Is April and May

HALF THE VICTIMS OF CATARRH, CONSUMPTION AND THROAT TROUBLE CONTRACT THE DIS- EASE IN APRIL.

The germs of these diseases that have accumulated during the winter months are warned into life by the sun-taken up in the strong winds and spread broadcast through the land.

There is but one known remedy for destroying the germs after they have entered the air passages—that method is "Catarrhose," which alone can be carried in the air you breathe to the minutest cells in the throat, nose and lungs, where soothing balsams and healing essences effect an immediate cure. From Bancroft, Ont., Mrs. H. W. Wilcox writes: "Catarrhose cleans the head and nose of catarrh and cold in a wonderful way. One-half bottle cured me after years of suffering. So quick to relieve and so sure to cure I certainly consider Catarrhose the best remedy for the nose, throat and bronchial tubes."

Remember, the earlier you treat catarrh the easier it is to cure. Catarrhose is guaranteed—get it today—all dealers—in three sizes.

IS THE DANGER REALIZED?

How few people realize the vast amount of ill-health that arises from absorption of catarrhal poisons into the system. Jaundice, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and indigestion are frequently caused by spring catarrh which if unchecked paves a plain road to tuberculosis. It's far better to inhale into the lungs, nose and air passages the purifying, healing vapor of Catarrhose. This simple treatment permanently stops catarrh, gives ease to asthma, bronchial irritation and chest colds. Head and throat are cleared of stuffiness in two minutes, bad breath and ringing ears are stopped—every trace of catarrhal cold is cured once and for all. Be advised, use Catarrhose this spring—clear all taints of winter conditions from your nose, throat and lungs. All dealers sell Catarrhose, 25c, 50c, and $1 sizes, the latter being guaranteed.

An amusing spectacle in which one of the new headpieces played a leading part, was viewed on the street yesterday. A young man had just returned to the city, and his sweetheart rushed to meet him, but alas, the rim of the hat caught him on the Adam's apple, cut it into quarters, and he bit off a mouthful of greens from the roof. At that the girl was two paces away.

It was stated to the reporter that a buggy wheel was broken in the north end yesterday, and a thoughtful young lady donated her "Merry Widow" to assist the unfortunate driver out of his plight.

This could not be verified, and is evidently the work of some spiteful person who wants to knock the lid.

How's This One?

Several boys were noticed sailing on the river in one of the hats this morning.

It was rigged as a two-master, and carried four rocks as ballast.

Short men are in great demand this season. If he is the proper dimensions he can slide under them, and be safe. A tall man is liable to have his head lacerated, and chopped off in the center.

Legislators are beginning to worry over the hat. Many mayors of cities and senators have written long letters on the subject, and have even passed acts prohibiting its use in public. It has been described as dangerous to life and limb.

Mayor Stevely, however, is too gallant to interfere and will not suggest legislation for the suppression of rudderless lids.

"Far be it from me to interfere," said the gallant young mayor. "My predecessors never objected to the hoop skirt, so why should I fool with the Merry Widow hats. Let the girls be."

So that goes. Let every man have his neck lacerated, but let him refrain from shouting.

rental, and 50 per cent of the cost of the repairs and other expenses.

"When this clause was considered in the old agreement, there was talk of a lawsuit, to determine the position of the city and county, said Mr. S. F. Glass. "The city was to pay the county $25 a year rental for the jail and 50 per cent of the cost of repairs, or in lieu of that, no rental and 65 per cent of the cost of repairs. The county members had determined to bring suit to find out what rent the city should pay, but decided to accept the 65 per cent of the cost of repairs. Had the county accepted the $25 rental and the 50 per cent repairs, it would have been a great deal ahead. Last year the repairs amounted to only $350, of which the city paid 65 per cent. Had the county taken the rental it would have received $700, a saving of a considerable amount of money. However, the county council was willing to accept 65 per cent of the cost of repairs, provided there was a clause enabling the county to make repairs to the jail and court house as required by the municipal act, up to the sum of $1,000 without consulting the city about it. We are continually held up by the city engineer, and it causes a great deal of inconvenience. No one can charge that the county council is extravagant in the matter of repairs. Perhaps the only year during the agreement that the repairs will reach the sum of $1,000 will be this year. Every other year it fell considerably below that figure. Any further cost or alteration could be brought to the attention of the city as required."

City Agreed.

Ald. Beattie thought this a reasonable proposition. He thought that a thousand-dollar limit was large enough, but he would not favor any more than that.

Mayor Stevely concurred in this view, and Mr. Glass' suggestion was accepted.

The agreement now is the same as the old, with the difference that the county may order repairs to cost $1,000 without consulting the city regarding it. The city will pay 65 per cent of the cost.

Jurors' Fees.

The former agreement as to jurors' fees provided that the city pay 60 per cent, and the county 40 per cent. Mr. Glass thought that this should be increased to 65 per cent for the city and 35 per cent for the county.

The increase of the city had increased a great deal since the last agreement, while the county population had decreased considerably. The city representatives agreed to this, as Ald. Beattie pointed out that the arrangement was equitable.

As to Fees.

There was considerable discussion as to the fees to the clerk of the peace and the sheriff's fees for discharging prisoners.

The city at present pays 25 per cent of the fees of the clerk, while the county pays 75 per cent. As there was no definite information on this matter, it was decided to leave it as it was. The arrangement had been worked for five years, and found equitable.

County Councilor Glass thought the city should pay more for the sheriff's fees than 75 per cent. It had been shown that the city furnished 84 per cent of the prisoners, and it should be required to pay at least 50 per cent of the fees of the sheriff. There was definite information on the subject, and he did not think the city could refuse this.

Mayor Stevely pointed out that the present arrangement had been made in connection with fees of the clerk of the peace, and if one was changed the other should be. He thought the two offset each other, and that was the opinion of the committee when the old agreement was drawn up. He thought that the sheriff's fees should remain the same.

This was agreed to finally, and the term of the agreement was set at five years, dating from Jan. 1, 1908.

Will Be Submitted.

The agreement will be submitted to the county council at its next session, and to the city council on Tuesday night next.

Those present were Ald. Beattie, chairman of No. 1; Mayor Stevely, Ald. Parsons, Secretary Pope, and

This Is Best Time For Spring Medicine

TAKEN, NOW THE BLOOD IS RE-NEWED, DISEASE GERMS ARE DESTROYED, GOOD SUMMER HEALTH IS ASSURED.

That peculiar weakness so common in the spring, is demoralizing to body and mind alike. Stupid, absent-minded and dull, you feel the need of a stimulating tonic. To impart quickness and great vitality to the entire system nothing acts like Ferrozone.

In a short time it makes you feel fit and fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.

Ferrozone revives and braces the sickly because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic, appetizer and blood-strengthening it is unequalled.

A well-known resident of Utopia, Ont., Mr. H. H. Postle, writes: "From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears up the system, gives you an appetite and makes you feel well. One winter I had serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches, and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health."

Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form—that's Ferrozone, 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

OFF FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Nearly All Out-of-Town Commons Members to Spend Easter at Home.

Ottawa, April 15.—Nearly all the out-of-town members of Parliament have already bidden good-bye to the parliament and are on their way home for the Easter holidays, with the exception of those who live at too great a distance from the capital to make it.

Mr. Borden left last night for New York and Atlantic City, to remain over Easter.

During the recess the cabinet will meet from day to day for the consideration of the business which is to be presented to the House.

MR. CHARLTON VERY ILL

The Venerable Ex-Member for Norfolk May Not Recover.

Lyndoch, April 15.—The condition of Mr. John Charlton, for so many years a member in the House of Commons for North Norfolk, has become so serious that his recovery is hardly expected. A few days ago Dr. A. R. Gordon, of Toronto, was taken up by Mr. William Charlton for a consultation with Dr. Tisdale, the family physician. For some weeks the patient has been in charge of the most experienced professional nurses.

Early in the year Mr. Charlton had a very serious attack of la grippe, and this was followed by a serious development about the middle of January. Since that time his condition has grown steadily worse, although he was able to drive out daily during the greater part of March.

Mr. Charlton is 79 years old, but up to now has hardly ever been confined to his bed, even with a day's illness. He is unquestionably the most outstanding figure in Norfolk, his political leader for a third of a century, and more prominent than any other man in its religious, educational and business affairs. As a parliamentary candidate he became invincible, and there was even a possibility that at the next general election he would be returned by acclamation for Norfolk.

Naturally there is great sympathy for Mr. Charlton in his very serious illness, and a general hope throughout the country that his life may be prolonged.

WOMAN WITH AXE DEMOLISHED FENCE

Chatham Clergyman's Fence Wrecked in the Presence of the Owner.

Chatham, April 15.—Madly swinging an axe, Mrs. James Finley, Princess street, quickly demolished the fence between the properties of Rev. J. C. Richards and Mrs. N. Anderson, on that street. The reverend gentleman objecting, rushed from his home and forcibly took the instrument of destruction from the woman, but found that the disciple of Carrie Nation would not quit until again given the axe, when she promptly completed the job. Mr. Richards lost his hat in the scrimmage. Mrs. Finley was landed in the lockup, where her mental condition will be investigated.

BREATHE HYOMEL AND BE CURED OF CATARRH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh, epidemic colds and bronchitis that is far better than dosing the stomach with medicine and drugs.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomel which mediate the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

Hyomel acts like a curative internal air bath, and has the same healing and antiseptic effect as the air where the Pine and Eucalyptus forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams. Breathe the healing Hyomel and see how quickly you will get relief from catarrh and head colds. If it does not help you there will not be a penny's expense, as W. T. Strong agrees to refund the money. The complete Hyomel outfit costs only $1.00.

A DEEP-LAID CONSPIRACY TO THROW OUT THE ANCHORS

Here's Another Account of the Trouble in the East End League—How It Was Intended To Hand Lemon and Why It Didn't Work.

That much-talked-of and much-abused (?) Anchor cat is out of the bag at last.

Mr. William Anderson, of the Somervilles, is out with a statement to the effect that a huge conspiracy was about to have been pulled off in East London, with one Mr. "Clucker" Dunn as the chief conspirator, and a certain manager, A. Fitzmaurice, of Somervilles, portraying the part of the innocent victim.

Mr. Anderson's tale is that it was proposed by Dunn and others, not including ex-manager Begg, of the Anchors, to throw the team out of the league and take the players over to the Somervilles. Dunn was to be manager and Fitzmaurice was to carry water or sell pop on the grounds. At all events, Fitz was to have been handed a huge lemon, according to Begg's story.

The story continues: The Anchors held a meeting and decided to drop out of the league. The Anchor players were then signed up by the Somervilles. Then the matter of handing Fitz a job in the center of his managerial aspirations was broached to Anderson and the rest of the Somerville main squeeze. They refused to fall for the game, and "Clucker" found himself up to his neck in difficulties of all kinds. The Anchors were out, the Somervilles had the Anchor players, and "Clucker" had no more job than a rabbit.

Couldn't Fool Fitz.

For a brief period the erstwhile Anchor captain was puzzled. Then he saw a light—or thought he did, which amounts to about the same, if one can get away with it. "Clucker" called another meeting of the Anchor club, without Mr. Begg being present, and rescinded the motion to withdraw from the league. Dunn was again appointed captain of the team. All that now remained to be done was to get the players back from the gum factory.

"Clucker" asked for them, Fitz said, "Nix!" The matter was placed in the hands of the executive of the league, and in the words of the poet, "There you be."

In the meantime, while the executive is pondering over the question, Manager Fitzmaurice is trying to figure out the percentage of wrong that has been inflicted on him, while Capt. Dunn has busy his job in high disgust, and is busy informing his supporters just how he was nearly handed "the double-cross."

HAMILTON, GUELPH SIGN GOOD MEN

Make-Up of All Four International Teams Points To Fast Ball.

Hamilton, April 16.—Manager Fred Paige has signed another player for the Hamilton Baseball Club in Bill Bryant, the crack third baseman of the Toronto City League. Bryant was highly recommended to the local club by Jack Toft, the old Toronto catcher, now managing a team in the Cotton League, and he will be given a thorough trial. Paige is also in correspondence with an outfielder who had an exceedingly good record in the Empire State League. With these two under his wing he will round out the team with the pick of the local candidates, if any of them show the form that is expected.

Start on Monday.

Work on the baseball grounds at Britannia Park will start on Monday, and the grounds are expected to be in good shape by the time the team reports on the 1st of May. Manager Paige is making arrangements to have a section of the field reserved for the use of owners of automobiles, etc., several requests having been made that this be done.

The Tigers' Uniforms.

It is likely that the Hamilton team's uniforms will consist of white with black trimmings and black cap, and either black stockings with a yellow band or red with a white band. The white and black effect, after the style of the old Maple Leaf uniforms of the Toronto team should be very natty.

Long Wants To Play.

Nelson Long, the local twirler, is very eager to sign up with Manager Paige, but the latter can hardly do anything with him, as Long has signed a contract with Albany, N. Y.

Guelph, April 16.—Manager Murray has signed a few players in the person of Jack (Brien), an outfielder of Lynchburg, Va. O'Brien is a six-footer, a dead sure bat, and a good hitter. Last year he played with Auburn, in the Empire State League, and held high averages, both for hitting and fielding. He may play on the first sack for the local club.

The Guelph Uniforms.

Manager Murray is now arranging for uniforms and outfits for the International League team. The suits will be light or dark gray with maroon trimmings. On the shirts will be either an old English G or an emblem signifying the name chosen for the team. The players will wear maroon stockings, and either Chicago or Boston style caps.

Toronto To Play.

Mr. Murray has received a letter from President McCaffrey, of the Torontos, in regard to exhibition games. The first open date of the Torontos is Aug. 19, and he promises Guelph the first chance.

Niagara Falls, April 16.—The Niagara Falls team has booked a game with Hugh Duffy's Providence Greys for May 17. Playing Sunday ball, the Yanks have an exceptionally good chance to book these big attractions, and from all appearances should be the money-making team of the four.

HACKENSCHMIDT WANTS MATCH WITH GOTCH

New York, April 16.—George Hackenschmidt, the wrestler, has changed his mind. A few days ago he gave him time to do some thinking, and he is now willing to wrestle Frank Gotch again.

"Upon landing at Plymouth yesterday afternoon Hackenschmidt said to the correspondents who boarded the steamer:

"I am quite prepared to wrestle Gotch, the American champion, with Robert Edgren, of the New York Evening World, as referee. Then we should have fair play.

"I understand Gotch's methods now and will be wiser next time we meet. Gotch never stopped for an instant his insulting remarks, abusing me all the time and spitting in my face, while with his jagged and untrimmed finger-nails he tried repeatedly to gouge out my eyes. Gotch is a good wrestler, not very strong, but of wonderful endurance and training."

HAMILTON RIPE.

The International Baseball League looks better every day. It is a common sight these days to witness faning bees in the hotel corners and on the streets. Hamilton is certainly ripe for baseball, and a good team will make money this summer.—Herald.

THE BANGTAILS.

Quite a number of runners from the south have struck the northern trail, many having already arrived at Windsor track. In view of the fine weather there, the owners of the track, the Partner-Hendrie syndicate, have practically decided to hold a short meeting prior to the opening of the Woodbine. The proposition is to open on May 4 and run till May 21, and the matter will likely be settled today or tomorrow.

"GLAD" GRANEY.

The excellent reports which come from the south concerning the showings made by Gladstone Graneey, in southpaw drafted from Wilkesbarre by the Cleveland Americans does not surprise me in the least. The one delinquency Graneey possesses is a tendency to wildness. All he needs is to conquer it, and then he is sure to be a big winner.—H. G. Merrill, in Sporting News.

TRAINED MAUD S.

Bair, Who Developed the Famous Mare, Has Passed Away.

Philadelphia, April 16.—William W. Bair, who trained and developed the famous trotting mare, Maud S., and drove her to the record of 2:08½, died here yesterday, aged 69 years.

Mr. Bair was one of the best known horsemen in the country. He purchased Maud S. in Ohio, as a 2-year-old, for $300. Her record of 2:08½ to a high-wheeled sulky, has, it is said, never been beaten. After the mare made the record she was purchased by William H. Vanderbilt for $21,000, and was later sold to Robert Bonner for $40,000, and retired from the track.

Mr. Bair was for a number of years the lessee of the Belmont track in this city and of similar tracks in other cities.

GANS WILL MEET JACK BLACKBURN

New York, April 16.—As Battling Nelson has declined to fight Joe Gans, the light-weight champion, a 20-round bout in San Francisco, Gans has decided to let Nelson wait a while now for a match, and in the meantime will take on either Jack Blackburn at 133 pounds ringside, or "Young Ernie" the Quaker City white light-weight, for six rounds, before the National A. C. Philadelphia, in two weeks. Blackburn will get the preference if he can make the weight suggested by Gans, as Joe is only too anxious to take him on and thereby put an end to his constant talking about a fight. Ernie has agreed to box Gans if Blackburn cannot make the weight.

JACK FLYNN MAY BE BACK AT FIRST

Toronto, April 16.—There is a whole lot of talk about another backstop for the Torontos. The Leafs have been going to get—according to rumor—every catcher the Boston Americans have from Carrigan up or down, whichever way you see.

Pat Donohue was talked of, but there does not seem to be anything doing, because McFarland, the crack of the Bostonese, will not keep in training. If he would stay right the champions would get Carrigan, or maybe Donohue, though Donohue is making good. But McFarland won't, so Boston is holding all three safe.

There is some talk of McFarland coming here, but it is a safe bet the Leafs don't want him if he won't toe the mark all the way. Anyway, we have a good one in young Pearson and Sam Brown if he rounds into hard shape will be right in the limelight, for he is a good one.

There is no little talk of Jack Flynn coming back to play first sack.

tionals by Toronto for $1,000, when it was learned that Mike Kelley intended to play first base himself. Mike is a big man, who has been out of the game for two years, and he finds it difficult to get back into his stride. His ability to play the bag has never been questioned, and when he was in the American Association "cover-up" tactics were resorted to each year to prevent his being drafted. The dope shows him to be a consistent 300 hitter in the association, too.

President McCaffrey said last night that he thought it would be a wise plan to have Flynn on deck until Kelley can round into his accustomed form.

PACKEY M'FARLAND NOW AFTER GANS

San Francisco, April 15.—Harry Gilmore, jun., manager of McFarland, announced today that Packey would leave for Chicago on Wednesday, where his admiring friends have arranged a reception in his honor.

"We will not stay in the middle west long—just a week or so—and then we will come back to the coast," said Gilmore. "Packey will not stay in the fighting game very long, and we want to meet the best in the business out here. A week or two's notice and we will be ready for any battle."

Despite Packey's announcement that he does not want to meet Gans for a year at least, it is reported that his next battle in the ring here will be with the old master if he is winner of the Gans-Nelson battle.

HOCKEY.

Although ice hockey is not included in the list of Olympic sports it is now proposed to hold a big hockey tournament on the Prince's rink in London in October. This rink has artificial ice, though from its dimensions it was hardly intended for a hockey arena. It is 200 feet long by 52 feet wide, and consequently there is not much room for combination work, though they try to whittle teams down to its size by allowing only six men a side. It is the intention to make this tournament of Olympic dimensions even though the powers that control Olympic prestige consider javelin throwing, etc., of greater importance than Canada's great national winter sport.

BOUQUETS FOR COVEY.

Jim Fitzgerald, sporting editor of the Toronto Telegram, and one of the best-versed baseball men in Canada, speaks very highly of Covey, the little southpaw secured by the Hamilton club. Fitzgerald is with the Toronto club on their training trip, and on Saturday he wrote his paper as follows: "Covey, the little left-handed pitcher, said to be signed by Hamilton, looks a very likely youngster. He is a little clip, and works much like McDermott, the old St. Michael's College man. In the game with Portsmouth, Toronto did nothing with him during three innings, but they had the game won in hand then."

When the Toronto writer praises a player, he is worth all that is coming, and the local fans can take it for a certainty that Covey will be the star of the International-Hamilton Spectator.

Staying out of lacrosse for the season means for the Shamrocks the loss of at least $5,000 profits and the Minto cup. But what care they for cash? What care they for silverware? Had a Brick Worth $5,000,000 So He Told Policeman Fysh

Also $9,000,000 in the Bank—Court Holds Him for Examination.

William Elliott, who says he comes from Dorchester, caused a lot of amusement in the police court this morning. Elliott is the man who was arrested yesterday afternoon by P. C. Fysh. While the latter was on duty on the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets, Elliott came along with a greasy-looking cigar box, which he carefully opened and disclosed to the officer a small piece of brick covered with mud. He assured Mr. Fysh that it was worth $5,000,000 at the very least. Mr. Fysh assured him that (Mr. Elliott) was a candidate for the dippy house, and took him in charge. This morning Elliott gravely told the magistrate that he had $9,000,000 in cash in the bank, and that he had a brick in a box downstairs that was worth $5,000,000 more. The magistrate has given orders that Elliott be detained until it can be learned whether he is sane or not.

To Rush Work on the Fire Halls

The work on the new fire halls will be pushed vigorously. Last night the committee dealt with the tenders for sites, and Chief Clark and the chairman will select two suitable sites forthwith.

Chief Clark and City Architect Nutter have had several consultations on the plans, and they will be prepared immediately.

Park School Students' Final Meeting

The usual meeting of the literary society of the Park School, held in the public library building, marked the closing of the winter term, the programme consisting of part of the annual dramatic contest, two French plays being presented, one entitled, "Le Plumeux ne fait pas le Bled," and the other, "The Plumeux Makes Not the Bird," was given by the following pupils of the intermediate and junior divisions: Barbara Brown, Hilda Smith, Ruth Young, Vera Tod, Mary Brown, Mildred McCracken, Kizzie McCormick, Katharine Cronyn, Lizzie Mitchell, Nora Nicholson, Lillian Johnson, Helen Moore, Honor Cronyn and Alice Graves.

Another play, "Stella," was given by the students of the first year senior division, as follows: Doris Yarker, Eucalie Young, Oliver Williams, Eula White, Muriel Butler and Nancy Niven.

Weekly Euchre in South London Club

The regular weekly card night will be held in the South London Liberal Club Friday evening, to which all are cordially invited.

Excellent prizes will be offered. It is expected that a very large crowd will be on hand.

No Breakwater for Front Street

The board of works will meet tonight. The matter of the breakwater for front street will come up, but the committee will decide against the proposition, as it is the opinion of the members of the committee that it is unwise to make any change.

The opening of Nelson street will also come up. The committee will not open this street, as the most of the street is in the river, and it would cost a great deal of money to open it up.

Work on Pavement Is Being Pushed

The London street railway have commenced work on the Dundas street pavement, and has a large gang of men removing blocks and fixing the road.

The north track will be lifted as soon as the blocks are removed, probably by the end of the week.

Improved Plans for Isolation Hospital

The improved plans for the new isolation hospital are rapidly nearing completion.

Several consultations have taken place between Ald. Stewart, chairman of the committee, and City Architect Nutter, with the result that a compromise plan has been adopted that will meet the needs of the hospital trust.

Will Take No Action Re Sunday Cars

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night, Mr. H. B. Archer, Mr. Joseph Marks and Mr. John D. Jacobs were named as delegates to the educational council convention to be held in Kingston on May 24.

The council will be discussed. It will probably be established in London. A request that the question of Sunday street cars be taken up with Mayor Whitney by the council was not entertained.

Oddfellows' Meeting in the East End

A big meeting of Oddfellows will be held in the east end hall tonight, when the members of Gore Lodge of Brantford will exemplify the initiatory and first degrees.

In the down-town hall the Daughters of Rebekah met tonight at Victoria Lodge to welcome and entertain their grand president, Mrs. Smith, of Toronto.

WELLAND CANAL OPENS

Steamer and Oil Barge, First of the Season To Go Through.

Port Colborne, April 16.—Navigation through the Welland Canal was practically opened at 7 o'clock this morning with the first arrival of the season's steamer Imperial and barge cl. Capt. Morrison stated that he arrived off the harbor last evening but owing to the heavy ice and fog did not attempt to enter the harbor until daylight. The ice extends for quite a distance up the lakes and towards Buffalo, and in places is very solid. The northerly wind has shifted the ice from the shore and a stretch of water is now visible, but the ice may return with a southwest wind. The slow arrival of boats here for the opening of the canal is something unusual.

CHESTER LANG DIES AT WINNIPEG

Popular Young Londoner Passed Away While On His Way To the South.

Word has just been received of the death of Mr. Chester Lang, son of Mrs. Mary Lang, 386 Horton street, city, at Winnipeg last night. Mr. Lang left London one year ago last June for Saskatoon to accept a position with the C. P. R. Telegraph Company there.

While in the west he contracted consumption, and a few weeks ago decided to go to Mexico in hope of regaining his health.

On the way, however, Mr. Lang was taken ill at Winnipeg, and the end came last night.

Mr. Lang was connected with the G. N. W. here for several years and was a popular member of The Hermitage.

AGED PEOPLE'S HOME FOR JOSEPH STOREY

Will Probably Be Committed This Afternoon.

Joseph Storey, an aged vagrant, who was picked up by the city police recently will probably be committed to the Aged People's Home or the House of Refuge this afternoon. Storey is a sufferer from rheumatism, and is at present in the county jail.

The jail physician says that Storey came to him for treatment many years ago. Storey would come around once a year for medicine, and was helped by Mr. Charles McManus of Petrolia, and the other by Mr. G. A. McManus, of this city. The contents of both buildings were completely destroyed. Cause of fire unknown; insured.

JOB PICKED OUT FOR ENGINEER GRAYDON

Asked to Inspect the Drinking Fountain in the East End.

Some day when the city engineer gets his new buggy he may find time to drive out to see the condition of the drinking fountain at the corners of Rectory and Dundas streets, and Hamilton road and Rectory street.

These troughs, which are now protected by battered-up posts, painted wood, present a good appearance.

At any rate it would be a good idea to turn the water on, as some horses are of the opinion that this is a local option town, where water is a prohibited beverage.

DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET SMALL

Lifelong Resident of London Passed Away Yesterday.

A lifelong resident of this city died at her home, 236 Dundas street, yesterday morning, in the person of Mrs. Margaret Small, widow of the late Thomas Small. Mrs. Small was 62 years old, and is survived by one son, William H. of Bay City; and two daughters, Miss Annie Small and Mrs. Stauffer, both of this city. She was the eldest daughter of the late Patrick Tierney.

Five brothers, Messrs. Edward, Peter, James, Henry and Thomas, of Bay City, and four sisters, Mrs. K. Hall, Mrs. Kay, of this city; Mrs. K. Hall, of Buffalo, and Misses Lizzie and Nellie Tierney, of this city, also survive.

The funeral will be held on Friday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, interment being made at St. Peter's Cemetery.

WANTS LARGER FIELD

Member for South Essex May Retire
From Provincial Politics.

Windsor, April 16.—Following the redistribution of the two Essex constituencies comes the announcement that John Auld, M. P. for South Essex, is to retire from the field of provincial politics altogether, and it probably will be necessary therefore for the Liberals of the riding at their convention in Kingsville on April 23 to select a new candidate. The loss of Tilbury North, which gave him 140 majority at the last election and which is now placed in the north riding, is supposed to have something to do with Mr. Auld's decision, but there is another cause. He is said to desire to enter into the larger field of politics, succeeding A. H. Clarke, M. P. of Windsor, as candidate for the Commons in South Essex.

COULDN'T BLOCK MINERVA.

Toronto, April 16.—Minerva, not the goddess, but a vaudeville performer who does a jail-breaking act, recently broke her engagement with J. S. Appleton, manager of the Savoy Theatre, Hamilton, to appear there on March 23. Appleton got a temporary injunction, restraining Minerva from breaking jail in any theater till April 16, and today she applied before Chief Justice Meredith to have the injunction continued. This was refused.

A FILIPINO BATTLE.

outlaws near Lanao, a town on the Island of Mindanao. Two members of the constabulary are reported killed, and three soldiers wounded. A column composed of a battalion of the Eighteenth Infantry and Constabulary under the command of Col. Davis, has been following a band of outlaws, and it is presumed that they overtook them and an engagement ensued.

Losses by Fire in Petrolia.

Fire in Petrolia on Wednesday morning destroyed two small frame buildings at the east end of the town, one owned by Mr. Charles McManus of Petrolia, and the other by Mr. G. A. McManus, of this city. The contents of both buildings were completely destroyed. Cause of fire unknown; insured.

Mrs. Baird was 53 years old, and came to this city from Shetland, Ont., many years ago. The funeral will be held on Monday morning at the C. P. R. station, interment taking place at Shetland.

London Fenders All Right.

"I do not know anything about the Toronto case, in which Manager Fleming is declared to be guilty of criminal negligence," said Treasurer Benson, of the London Street Railway Company, to The Advertiser, "but I do not think it effects us at all. Our fenders have been approved of by the provincial railway and municipal board, so they must be all right. We are not affected by the decision."

Burr-Perkins.

A pretty wedding was solemnized last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Perkins, 629 Dufferin avenue, when their daughter, Miss Mabel I. Perkins, of Detroit, was married to Mr. George E. Burr, also of Detroit. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about 40 friends and relatives, by Rev. T. T. Shields. Mr. and Mrs. Burr will reside at 1057 1/2 Wabash avenue, Detroit.

Newspaper advertising is a part of the McClary publicity programme and works hand in hand with an extensive follow-up by A. A. Briggs, advertising manager of the McClary Company, and placed by McConnell-Ferguson Advertising Agency, London.

Grand Avenue School's Ball Team.

A very interesting game of ball was played between the girls' teams of Grand avenue and Wortley road grounds, on the Grand avenue playground, which resulted in a score of 24 to 6 in favor of Grand avenue. The winners were as follows: Pitcher, Merle Palmer; backstopper, Maggie Watson; first base, Ada Snider; second base, Jennie Dickson; third base, Clara Rooke; with Ruth Campbell, Stella George, May Brighton, and Ella Polle as fielders. Umpires, Eddie Macletoft and Harry Down.

Praise for Londoner.

The Godesch Signal has the following to say of Miss Lillian Fowler, of this city, who recently sang in that place: Miss Lillian Fowler, of London, gave three solo numbers, and to demonstrate a great range of vocal ability. The first was that delightful bit of Scottish sentiment, "My Ain Folk," which was sung with excellent effect. The Waltz Song from "Carman" displayed the capabilities of a finely-cultivated voice, and in "The Swallows," delightfully rendered, she won her audience completely.

Queries Answered.

Q.—I would like to ask if someone would please give a recipe for almond icing, such as is used on wedding cakes. Also how to set a long table for a wedding, and if the bride and groom should be the first to be served.

Aylmer, April 9.
Here is a recipe for almond icing: One pound of confectioners' sugar, three-quarters of a pound of ground sweet almonds, two or three eggs, and a little rose or orange flower water. Mix sugar and almonds together. Make a hole in the center and stir in two eggs and rose-water. Wet to a firm paste, using a third egg if necessary. Turn the mixture out on a board that has been dusted with sugar to prevent sticking. Roll with rolling-pin to the size of the cake; place it on top and press smooth. Cover with a white boiled or unboiled icing.

The bride and groom should sit together at the head of the table, or the middle of a long table, and should be helped first. The bride should cut the wedding cake.

Red Feather" Tonight.

The prominence of Miss Cheridiah Simpson in the domain of comic opera is based upon a record of achievement far more solid than most prima donnas have found essential to their fame. Some years ago she was a member of the famous Casino Company, which produced "The Passing Show," "The Belle of New York" and other light musical works. Later she controlled under the banner of Henry W. Savage, and created the role of Paola in "King Dodo" and Prince Eagle in "Woodland," with great success.

In the "Red Feather," which comes to the Grand tonight, she is said to be at her best.

"Parsifal" on Holiday.

Judging from the heavy sale of seats for "Parsifal," the Grand will be at capacity tomorrow matinee and night, when Wagner's famous mystic drama will be presented. One of the most striking and beautiful scenes in the production is said to be the Flower Garden with its fascinating Flower Maidens. This garden is the creation of Klingsor for the deliberate purpose of seducing the knights of the Holy Grail from their lives of rectitude and holiness.

"We Are Kings."

Edmund Carroll will give two performances of "We Are Kings" at the Grand Saturday. It is described as a romantic comedy, and depicts a novel series of events, some strong acting and refreshing love scenes.

Supporting Mr. Carroll is said to be a company of merit, including Miss Maria Clifton, a Brantford girl, who has won laurels as a leading lady.

"Barber of Seville."

Few operas of recent years show the attractive combination of good qualities possessed by Rossini's masterpiece, "The Barber of Seville," which will be presented here for two performances Easter Monday by the Dunsmore Opera Company. The opera will be headed by the famous prima donna, Mme. Monti Baldini, late of the Manhattan Opera House, New York City. John Dunsmore, the celebrated bass, formerly with the Bostonians, Dr. Wolf Hopper, and "The Grand Mogul" company; Pierre Gherardi, late tenor of the Metropolitan Opera House; Miss Lucia Nola, also from the Metropolitan Opera House; Roman Klecko, baritone, from the Royal Opera Company, Milan, Italy.

WORTLEY ROAD MOTHERS' CLUB

Held a Well-Attended Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

A well-attended meeting of the Mothers' Club in connection with the kindergarten of Wortley road school was held in one of the rooms of that school yesterday afternoon.

A very pleasant feature of the meeting was the presentation to Miss Brenton, of the kindergarten, of a beautiful pearl sunburst and a large bouquet. The presentations were made by Dorothy Atkinson and Myrtle Richmond.

Mrs. Atkinson, president of the club, read an address to Miss Brenton, expressing the gratitude the mothers felt to her for the excellent care she has always showed the children.

"Problems Solved and Unsolved" was later the subject for discussion.

LEAVING LOBO FOR LONDON

Farewell Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. George Colvin.

On the evening of April 1, the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Colvin, gathered at their home in Lobo to spend a social evening with them, prior to their departure for London, where they intend making their home.

Early in the evening guests, young and old, to the number of one hundred and fifty, assembled and spent the time at cards and dancing. Later Mr. Hugh Crawford, on behalf of the friends, read a kindly-worded address and Miss Hattie Caverhill presented Mr. and Mrs. Colvin with a well-filled purse, as a token of esteem and good fellowship.

In the early morning hours the crowd dispersed for their homes, all delighted with the pleasant time they had spent, and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Colvin a long, prosperous and happy life.

Amusements

"Red Feather" Tonight.

The prominence of Miss Cheridiah Simpson in the domain of comic opera is based upon a record of achievement far more solid than most prima donnas have found essential to their fame. Some years ago she was a member of the famous Casino Company, which produced "The Passing Show," "The Belle of New York" and other light musical works. Later she controlled under the banner of Henry W. Savage, and created the role of Paola in "King Dodo" and Prince Eagle in "Woodland," with great success.

In the "Red Feather," which comes to the Grand tonight, she is said to be at her best.

"Parsifal" on Holiday.

Judging from the heavy sale of seats for "Parsifal," the Grand will be at capacity tomorrow matinee and night, when Wagner's famous mystic drama will be presented. One of the most striking and beautiful scenes in the production is said to be the Flower Garden with its fascinating Flower Maidens. This garden is the creation of Klingsor for the deliberate purpose of seducing the knights of the Holy Grail from their lives of rectitude and holiness.

"We Are Kings."

Edmund Carroll will give two performances of "We Are Kings" at the Grand Saturday. It is described as a romantic comedy, and depicts a novel series of events, some strong acting and refreshing love scenes.

Supporting Mr. Carroll is said to be a company of merit, including Miss Maria Clifton, a Brantford girl, who has won laurels as a leading lady.

"Barber of Seville."

Few operas of recent years show the attractive combination of good qualities possessed by Rossini's masterpiece, "The Barber of Seville," which will be presented here for two performances Easter Monday by the Dunsmore Opera Company. The opera will be headed by the famous prima donna, Mme. Monti Baldini, late of the Manhattan Opera House, New York City. John Dunsmore, the celebrated bass, formerly with the Bostonians, Dr. Wolf Hopper, and "The Grand Mogul" company; Pierre Gherardi, late tenor of the Metropolitan Opera House; Miss Lucia Nola, also from the Metropolitan Opera House; Roman Klecko, baritone, from the Royal Opera Company, Milan, Italy.

EAST MIDDLESEX TEACHERS

thought, more beneficial results would be obtained than by asking a candidate a lot of questions about various things which the pupil has to guess at. She strongly advocated that more attention be given to the study of Canadian literature and Canadian poets.

Dr. Merchant's Address.

Dr. Merchant spoke on "Attention," pointing out that the teacher must fulfill conditions in which he is placed. The mind of the average child is naturally receptive. It is the teacher's place to give it something to do. Children like to do something and pay close attention to things, and try to imitate things they see. Blackboard work has done much in this respect to start children, and arouses an interest in different lines of work. Education is like food. We must have it. Every child has certain tendencies. If the teacher succeeds in awakening them, he should at once pursue his advantage and keep the child's interest aroused. No teacher can gain attention without being attentive. The child naturally studies personality. If he sees the teacher is indifferent, he will become indifferent also.

Attention to Detail.

Teachers should pay more attention to detail. They should try to show things to their pupils in their relationship to other things. A teacher of literature should closely study all the parts of the work, and then go over the work once with his pupils in order that they may get a general idea of it. Then he should go over it separately with them, showing them the relationship one part bears to another. Things that are being studied should be grouped together first, and then analyzed. All things that are taught contain two distinct ideas. First, there is the individual idea. Everyone has an idea of some separate thing. If a dog, for instance, is mentioned one thinks of some particular dog that is familiar, and of its characteristics.

Then there is a general notion of things. One might think of dogs as a class, and of their general attributes. As there are two classes of things, in this way they must be taught along two lines.

The student must first be given a general notion and an individual picture of what he is about to study.

Teachers too often make the mistake of using too many words, and instead of the student having a definite picture of what it is desired to convey, he has his mind full of words and phrases which mean nothing to him.

The real object is thus frustrated. If success is to be achieved the student must take away with him a definite idea of what is essential in the lesson he has had.

A Great Mistake.

One of the greatest mistakes teachers make is trying to substitute some process of their own for the natural process.

They depend on what might be called the "crash" book, and the student goes away with his head filled with some pages of words and definitions all of which he learns off by heart, often like a mere machine.

When asked regarding them, he frequently mistakes one for the other, showing that he has a mistaken conception of the subject.

To make matters worse, the definitions are often wrong to start with. Dr. Merchant cited many instances of questions he had given elementary classes in geography, while visiting in different schools. The answers the student gave in the majority of instances showed what a state of chaos his mind was in regarding the subject.

Teaching a subject in this way is a mere waste of time for the teacher and student, while the effect on the student is unquestionably bad. The latter must be taught in such a manner that his ideas continually grow and widen, while his interest remains aroused. A student's ideas are liable to change, especially as he becomes more and more familiar with his subject.

A Danger.

A teacher is liable to stop the growth of a child's mind by giving him a set idea of any one thing.

Once he gets this set idea, he will cease to investigate for new facts, having formed his conception of what the thing is. This is particularly likely to occur in grammar classes.

Teachers frequently give a set of definitions to a student.

The next teacher who takes the pupil has an entirely different set of definitions, and so on, as he progresses through the school.

In the end the student's mind is a jumble of them all, and he knows his subject most imperfectly.

Instead of doing all this, the teacher should use the natural method that is to make use of the natural tendencies. This method is productive of the highest results.

Children should be taught to participate in all things as their understanding is greatly widened by the means of grouping and comparing this method offers.

Evening Session.

An evening session of the teachers was held in the Normal School.

The early part of the evening was spent in looking through the various rooms, at which a programme, consisting of a solo by Mr. F. Webster and recitations by Misses Stanley and Baker was rendered.

The evening was brought to a close by a short address by Dr. Merchant on "The Man of Tomorrow," in which he dealt with some of the teaching problems.
