American Newspapers Declare the Treaty Terms Are Just and Will Help To Repair the Wrongs Done by Germany -German World Power Is Obliterated by Conditions

New York, May 8.—Following are extracts from editorial comments in some of the leading newspapers of the United States on the peace terms.

New York World, under the caption, "A Peace of Justice": "The sternest and most drastic terms of peace ever imposed on great nations were formally presented to the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles yesterday. Gertaliaries at Versailles yesterday. Gertaliaries at Versailles yesterday. Gertaliaries are versailles yesterday. The Philadelphia Public Ledger says:

"Forever the peace makers had before them the problem of demanding the full limit—and of stopping before adding the straw that would break the back of the German people. To determine that fine the been the chief mission of the thousand experts. On that point depends the verdict on this history-making document. Its virtue is measured by its length of life."

Premier Hughes of Australia Declares That While Clemen ceau Spoke Standing, Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau Made His Reply Without Rising From His Seat.

London, May 8 .- After the conference at Versailles yesterday, Wm. M. Hughes, premier of Australia, said, according to a Reuter dispatch: "The attitude of Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau was an intolerable insult to the conference, for while Premier Clemenceau spoke standing, the German spokesman did not rise while making his address. In spite of their intolerable arrogance, this has been a day of humiliation for the Germans, which we could see had entered into their souls."

Wm. F. Massey, premier of New Zealand, says, "The Germans were more impudent and aggressive than anything I have ever met." After the conference, the dispatch says, the fact that the members of the council of four did not appear made the crowd anxious, but it transpired they were holding a meeting and shortly after 4:30 o'clock they departed. M. Clemenceau's appearance was the signal for the first great wave of cheering of the day. Premier Orlando also received an ovation but Premier Lloyd George, the last to leave, was given a more generous reception from the throng. President Wilson smilingly saluted the crowd as he went to his automobile.

Robert Coates of the wholesalers, convener; James Gray of the retailers; Thomas Ames of the Grand Trunk car works; Col. I. Leonard of the manufacturers, and George H. Davis, as a representative of the general public, were chosen as a committee to interview the street railway in an effort to have the street cars operate on daylight saving time again.
Gordon Philip, who acted as secretary, declared that the meeting was called for the purpose of correcting the present time muddle. A canvass of the retailers had been made and they were almost unanimous for daylight saving, as were also the jewelers.
At McClarys, it was stated, the matter rested on what action the railways took. At White's the office was ward to the retailers had been made and they were almost unanimous for daylight.

Frank McCullough the detectives captured the criminal reads well in keeping with McCullough's previous amazing audacity. It appears McCullough has been in this house practically all the time since he escaped from jail. This morning the detectives, every one armed, as a fight had been anticipated proceeded to the Bathurst street house. Detective Cronin and Tuft went in at the front door, and were met by an elderly woman, who was quite deaf, and naturally did not hear the business of the detectives. Detectives Silverthorne and Armstrong went to the rear door so that McCullough would be covered in any rear exit. Going up stairs Cronin and Tuft located McCullough, but on hearing the officers coming up stairs he commenced in last effort to escape.

Tried to Make Escape.

Running from his room down a short hall to a window in the rear of the phouse, he jumped from there to the ground, a distance of about 20 feet. As he fell he was covered by Silverthorne and Armstrong with revolvers, who ordered him to throw up his hands. No struggle took place, and McCullough was promptly handcuffed. "Tve got mothing on me," were McCullough's only words. A motor was waiting outside, McCullough was handcuffed, placed inside and rushed to detective head-side and rushe

At first it was thought that it would be a good thing to send a resolution to the city council, showing that the meeting was in favor of it, but Ald. F. E. Harley declared that that would be of no use, as the council had no power to act on the question. According to the franchise, he said, the street railwas supposed to operate on standard time.

Sam Stevely said, "Personally, I think it was a great mistake that the Government did not act on the question."
W. H. Martin wondered why it was that London could not run on daylight-

Acting Mayor Not Worrying Over Board of Education Threat.

Acting Mayor E. S. Little is not worrying any over the threat of the board of education that it will make an attempt to upset the tax rate.

"I was too ill to be present at the meetings when the rate was struck, and when the request of the board for a debenture issue was dealt with, and I am not acquainted with all the details," said he. "In any event Mayor C. R. Somerville will be home before any definite step can be taken by the board, so why should I worry," he jocularly continued.

Mrs. David Williams introduced a motion which was seconded by Edwin Smith to the effect that a committee should be appointed to which all salary questions should be referred before being presented to the board. In support of the motion, Mrs. Williams stated that this would free the board from the troubles which she pointed out it had faced all this year on account of salary increases. Trustee Smith suggested that the audit committee should be a suitable committee for this.

CONSTABLE RESIGNS AND RUMOR IS BUSY

Former Associates Say Protest Meeting Was Held.

Police Constable J. Procter, who has figured prominently in a number of motor act cases at the Carling police court sessions has resigned and handed in his clothes to Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams. The police officials say he is going to make way for a returned soldier, while his fellow constables claim soldier, while his fellow constables claim that his resignation is due to a meeting of protest held by them protesting against his being a police constable. What certain members of the police force had against Procter no member would say, while the officials would say nothing beyond the fact that he was leaving the force. The only light thrown on the subject was by Procter himself, when he appeared in court today charging John Coleman with running his motor car past a standing street car while passengers were being discharged.

"You are a policeman?" asked Ed-mund Meredith.
"No, I have resigned," was ex-Con-stable Procter's lone answer to the Subject.

During the hearing, some discussion arose regarding the theft of a dog. Procter most strongly denied all knowledge of any theft, but admitted that the dog had followed him home, and he did not report the matter until questioned by Sergt.-Major McGuire.

Cross-examined by Edmund Meredith, Procter, on giving rather sarcastic answers, met with a heated retort from Mr. Meredith.

Counsel Emphatic.
"Don't you dare be so impertinent about answering," shouted the veteran lawyer to the ex-member of London's

Coleman in the witness box denied passing a standing car, and Police Magistrate Graydon dismissed the case when he heard the evidence of Victor Collins, a street railway conductor, who stated that the power was "off," the car standing still and that as no person was getting on or off the car he motioned Coleman to come ahead after motioned Coleman to come ahead after the latter had been standing still for at least two minutes.

Police Constable Procter has been on the police force for some time, and recently has been most active in cases against motorists for speeding and the passing of standing street cars.

Motorists Continue To Help Police Court Income

CHARGES THAT CANADIAN NAVY OFFICERS ALLOWED HUNS TO KILL FISHERMEN

Strutting Around Halifax Attending Pink Teas While U-Boat Sent Nova Scotians to Davy Jones' Locker-Demands Investigation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, May 8.—A Parliamentary investigation into the affairs of the naval department of Canada was demanded in the House of Commons tonight by the Liberal member for Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, William Duff, who, in the course of a severe indictment, charged that there has been bungling mismanagement, and gross extravagance in the administration of the Canadian navy.

Mr. Duff is a large ship owner and was on familiar ground in discussing the conduct of the Dominion's naval department. He made the serious charge that two German liners, with marine, many of the crews being killed, were left at the mercy of the Hun pirates and had to row two days and two nights in open boats before reaching land, 140 miles from the spot where they were thrown into the sea.

About the same time, Mr. Duff declared, the Lady Evelyn, one of the best war vessels in the Canadian service, was dispatched to the Magdalene Islands with six leadpencils for the wireless operator there.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Why Madge Followed Miss Holcombe's Lead.

Of the three exclamations that simultaneously escaped Miss Holcombe, Mrs. Stockbridge and myself at the sight of my discolored dress that of our hostess was loudest, most piercing, seemingly most sincere.

"Oh! Oh!" she fairly shrieked. "How terrible! What can have happened? There is nothing on that wall, I know."

She sprang to the wall of the closet, passed the palm of her hand over it, turned the palm, unspotted even by dust toward us. Miss Holcombe still stood holding the gown on its hanger at arm's length. She was gazing intently at Mrs. Stockbridge, and I noticed that my principal's wife far preferred meeting my eyes to those of her old schoolmate.

"Oh, dear, I see it all now." Mrs.

Canada, following the example of other Allied countries, has made it possible for wage earners-men and women-to invest in safe securities without effort.

These securities are called War Savings Stamps.

The cost now $4.04, but by compounding interest, the $4.04 you invest now will be worth $5.00 in 1924. There is no other security in which you can invest such a small amount that is as safe and that bears so high a rate of interest.

Or you can start with 25 cents, by buying a Thrift Stamp. When you have sixteen Thrift Stamps, you can exchange them for a War Savings Stamp.

You take no risks. The Government of Canada guarantees to pay you back your money-with interest-at any time during the five years, or to pay you in 1924 $5.00 for every $4.00 (and a fraction) you invest now.

Mrs. Stockbridge snapped at the bait so avidly that I suspected this was one of the things she had had in mind when she ruined the gown—that I should be forced to wear an unbecoming one of her own. These aides of Lenine and Trotzky are the ame type of "citizen" as were Lenine and rotzky when they lived in the east side of New ork. It is well known that these Bolshevists are perating in the country. They are operating ablicly, as in Montreal and Toronto, and priately in other places.

There are methods of reaching these men, nd when apprehended they should be made an xample of in as few days as possible after their rrest. They are as dangerous, if not more so, han any German spies could have been during he war, and far more dangerous than many of he misguided individuals apprehended in Canada t various times for state offences.

The Government's tacit toleration of the Bolshevist in this country makes him appear harmless—until he strikes.

Depends Whose Boy It Was

Certain newspapers have cried out in horror ver the criticism that touches any of its cabinet ninisters or M. P. friends who have had sons at he front. Hands off Michael Clark! Hands off every Unionist with a son in the war! Hands off Mr. Rowell, whose relatives went over. Hands off those (on our side) whose sons or brothers or orty-second cousins did their noble part!

But when it comes to Rodolphe Lemieux, M. 2.. who happens to come from that despised race beyond Ontario, and whose son was killed in ection at the front, it is a case of betraver of the nation and chuck him out of the country when he raises his voice in Canada's House of Commons!

Away From Sectionalism

Not only in the country as a whole, and in the province, but in many a community, the tendency s found to be sectional. Cities divide into two camps over certain problems and retard the best growth of all, the growth of spirit. People living on one street declare a street should be paved, but the next blockful declare it shall not be paved, and in some cases the effect of a crazyguilt in pavements is worked out.

London today has no clear-cut policy on anything-from daylight saving or municipal buildings to the question whether three blocks of a certain roadway shall retain a gravelled surface while all the other blocks have asphalt. We are striving toward new industries without much flourish, and in the chamber of commerce movement come closer to a realization of unity as citizens. The survey being made by a townplanning and railway expert should do much for

No one expects that we shall soon be applying to the parliamentary authorities to have our name changed to Utopia, Ont. But we may draw toward the point where backbiting, the personal kind blown into the civic kind, shall cease to be the chief stock in trade of council meetings. Some day there will be a movement away from sectionalism; we shall find there is no more occasion to bicker about a lot of things in one organization than to make an institution like the London Hortiultural Society, which aims at floral rather than lilacs bloom architectural or town building ideals, a battleground for vanities and jealousies. The advice of the expert now here should be regarded as seri- do. ously as the advice of a famous specialist regarding a personal rather than a civic ailment.

A Warning From Foch

When a few days ago Clemenceau declared the peace agreed upon at Versailles was a good one, the world felt certain the Hun was stripped of all power for further evils. To the "Tiger" a "good peace" could only be such as would guarantee France absolutely against another invasion.

This was reassuring. Now, however, comes Mar
The world felt certain the Hun was stripped of all power for further evils. To the "Tiger" a the outset the Germans promised the Germans promised the "We'll put off the evil day as long as sent for a minister and we'll the that would "stagger humanity." Yester a below the changing her mind I've you here."

"We'll put off the evil day as long as sent for a minister and we'll the that possible. Uncle, but don't you think there before you here."

So Mildred married the humble Prescott after all, and with her mother's full and free consent.

shal Foch with the disquieting declaration that the peace treaty should not be signed, as it does not supply a sufficiently strong military curb.

These diverse views of France's two biggest men may be explained to some extent by the different material they work with. Clemenceau, while fighting for adequate military protection, has concentrated his main effort on making Germany impotent through economic pressure. He has won for France control of the Saar Valley coal and iron deposits, which amount to French domination of German industry for many years. A Germany hampered financially by a stupendous indemnity, industrially cramped and crippled, cannot start another struggle no matter how militant in spirit she may be. This terrific pressure along with the stripping to the bone of her war machine in all its branches, the loss of her colonies and the scattering of her mercantile navy amongst the victor-nations, has reduced Germany to that anaemic condition she had promised France—she has been bled white. That is no doubt the source of Clemenceau's confidence.

On the other hand Foch considers the problem of future safety mainly from the military point of view. He believes the German intends to strike back some day and that the one sure means of turning the blow aside is a permanent control by powerful forces of the paths of invasion. He knows the strength or weakness of rivately is as guilty of criminal negligence as a every link in the chain of defences, and he thinks of them in relation to another jump by the enemy in as great force as before. Foch evidently believes it wisdom to keep in our minds a Germany restored to its old power for mischief. To consider the Teutons permanently down and out, because of their present helplessness, is an underestimation that might develop a dangerous unguardedness. Make assurance doubly sure appears to be the attitude of the generalissimo. It may be that in his determination to render his people safe from experiencing a third hell he has exaggerated the menace, but the delegates are sure to be impressed by his warning, and see to it that the military safeguards agreed upon shall be rigidly observed, never permitted to weaken.

To Hold the Young Men

In one large American city just across the Canadian border an Advertiser reporter in that Yet the Government permits them to have a city on a visit was approached several times, and vider freedom than a man who got up and dis- asked if he wished to secure work at wages of urbed the peace by singing a song too loudly on from $5 to $6 a day. It was not skilled labor he was asked to perform, but that which demanded a certain amount of strength and willingness to

> When such a magnet is felt by the young men of Canada a number will respond. It is the simplest fact of our whole interesting outlook that if we are to put up the bars to foreigners coming into Canada (as we certainly should in many instances), we must keep all the Canadian stock we have. All the imperialism in the world or all the aftermath flagwaving in parliaments will not hold the young man if his country offers him only $3 a day when a railway ticket and a short journey will land him in the place where he can make $6 a day. "Stay in Canada" is a fine slogan to sound, but if it is to become effective in the building of the nation it must have "Pay in Canada"

It is a tremendous problem manufacturers and other employers have to face in meeting the enormous competition of the United States. Protection by tariff is the big thing about which we quarrel, and largely it represents the selfish viewpoint, rather than the desire to build up the country. Protection to the whole of Canada by the creation of opportunity for the young men with the desire to hold them in Canada may be a problem quite as grave as tariffs or free trade. The United States means to bar a great many foreigners. It has all the foreign population it cares to have. But it will never regard Canadians as foreigners, and it will be glad to recruit them for its industrial armies and at wages that will attract

THE RAILWAY SITUATION

As seen by the Brockville Recorder-Times owned by Hon. George P.

It is unfair to blame the railway situation in Canada on the Grand Trunk. The one man most responsible for the acuteness of the situation is Hon. Frank Cochrane, who was allowed to proceed with the work of discrediting the Grand Trunk and all its connections, as soon as he came into office. He was largely assisted by Dr. Reid, and winked at by Sir Thomas White, until the last named assisted by Dr. Reid, and winked at by Sir Thomas White, until the last named of the Adriatic. There promises to be complete American unanimity on this awoke to the serious nature of what was being done. Then it was too late to complete American unanimity on this retrieve the situation, though Sir Thomas did his best to do so. The action of Hon. Frank Cochrane, solely for political purposes, is not only largely responsible for the present condition, but the finance minister felt the result of it in the money markets of the world. The situation today might have been much more hopeful had the Grand Trunk and G. T. P. been given half a chance, or had the Government respected the contract made between Canada and these companies.

In brief, this was what happened. The Government constructed the National Transcontinental from Winnipeg to Moncton, N. B., and was to lease it tional Transcontinental from Winnipeg to Moncton, N. B., and was to lease it to the G. T. P. The road, according to contract, was to be approved by both the chief engineers of the Government commission and of the G. T. P. Noththe chief engineers of the Government commission and of the G. T. P. Nothing was to be done except by agreement. Under Mr. Cochrane the contract was how many days in twenty years its disregarded and a score of its most important provisions violated by the vast royal palace was used.

continued to violate the contract, the G. T. P. would not operate the road. He said that to this letter he did not get even a reply.

At Quebec, instead of G. T. P. terminals, the Government, against the protest of the G. T. P., and in direct viciation of the contract, handed the terminals over to the C. P. R. flAgainst this action Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Hays' successor, protested, and on May 28, 1914, he wrote: "Taking everything into consideration-with what limited knowledge

I have of what you have done in Quebec-it seems to me that you have practically not left undone anything that could be done to increase the expense and difficulties of operation."

The scheme was for the G. T. P. to have steamers on both the Atlantic and acific oceans, making the shortest transcontinental route. What is the situation? The Grand Trunk is cut off from any connection with the G. T. P. from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert, because the Government has taken over the Transcontinental. It has been made impossible to have the Pacific line of steamers to the Orient, and all there is in place of a transcontinental line to be operated by the G. T. P. with ocean steamers at either, is 1,700 miles of local railway from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert. If politics had not been allowed to interfere in an endeavor to strangle the G. T. P., and the Grand Trunk too, the situation av would have been mach different. P. E. Ryan, former secretary of the N. T. R., in writing on this question grees in every detail with the attitude taken by the R. and T. He concludes recent letter to the press in these words: "Sounds pretty reasonable, too, doesn't it? The Grand Trunk Railway Company evidently objects to being held responsible for its guarantees to G. T. P. bonds, when the whole scheme and conditions upon which such guarantee was given have been changed, so that the Grand Trunk Railway has not only no physical connection with the G. T. P. Railway, but is separated from it by nearly one thousand miles of country, and is not in a position to derive any benefit now or in the future "In conclusion, may I be permitted to repeat my original query;

How many millions of dollars is the vitiation of the contract, and the consequent splitting of a single connected system into two disconnected parts, going to cost the people of Canada in respect alone of the acquisition of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways?"

But after all is said and done, the situation is not as discouraging as son ople would make us believe. The United States railway situation is in a far worse state and day by day is adding to its difficulties. Rates, already outrageously high in the United States, must be further increased if deficits are to be met, and what the end is to be no one knows.

DOGS IN ALL AGES.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]
Dogs are the most widely distributed of animals. In few parts of the word are they absent or even rare.
There were none in Polynesia until long after Columbus discovered America, and at a much later period they were so unfamiliar in the Maldive Islands that the natives at sight of them took to the trees.
The dog was doubtless the first animal to be domesticated by man. But its earliest use was for food. Even today its flesh is far more widely utilized as meat than is commonly supposed.

TORONTO WANTS TO KNOW, TOO. [Toronto Star.]
Many people in Toronto are now using New Zealand butter. This butter crosses a wide ocean at a time when continent to get there, and sells at a price slightly below the market price of our own product. A retail dealer informed us the other day that this New Zealand butter could actually be profitably sold here at a price ten or twelve cents less than people are now paying for it—but those who import and sell it are not working on that basis, but get for it all that it will fetch on the market, so it sells at a price just a shade under that of the best home product. The charge is being made on every side that the butter market in Canada is being manipulated by means of the cold storage facilities which exist. It is expected that the Government will take war-like measures against the profiteers in this case.

I should think that the farmers have no cause to grumble, as they get the very highest prices for their produce, and can grow nearly everything in the food line. I wonder does Spear Maiden consider that the town people, likewise the farm laborer, require clothes as well as the farmer, but they do not get $80 suits for their wives. I should say not, for it takes all they can earn to buy butter, eggs, etc., to eat. Just farmers and millionaires enjoy such luxuries. I do not know what sort of farmers there are in Spear Maiden's vicinity, but suppose they are mostly all alike. I know that the farmers here hiring day laborers just want them when they are mostly as a suppose they are mostly all alike. I know that the farmers here hiring day laborers just want them when they cannot possibly do without them, and then if you ask a decent living wage for your work you have to have a pail of cold water handy to restore them from their fainting fit. I for one think the farmer just as much entitled to a fair wage for his work as the "other fellow" In town. If the wage earner in town is going to get $6 or $7 a day, he must expect to pay a hig price for all the comforts of life, as it takes labor to is going to get $6 or $7 a day, he must expect to pay a big price for all the comforts of life, as it takes labor to produce everything, and therefore, as wages go up, so much everything else. Another thing I was going to speak about is the scarcity of domestic help; one great reason for this is because a large majority of the people who employ girls to do housework do not treat them properly. Besides this, there are the long hours and low social

GOD GIVES ETERNAL LIFE. There is nothing so sure, from the experience of mankind and from our individual experience, that "the wages of sin is death," and on the glorious contrary, there is nothing to be so depended upon as that the fift of God, to those who obey him, is life; life here, brimful of vigor and energy, and life eternal in a better country. Spiritual life, which is the free gift of God through Jesus Christ, connects us with the eternal source of life. THE LOCAL MARKET

There was a fair attendance at the local market this morning. Hay was a little slow owing to it being so plentiful in the last two days. It is now quoted at $20 to $24 per ton. The live hog market appears to be easier, prices now quoted being $20.75 to $21 per cwt. Dressed hogs are selling at $27 to $28 per cwt. The price of oats remain the same. Rhubarh was plentiful today, selling at $1 per dozen. There is an extra good demand for it at this time of year. One farmer sold a load of potatoes to day at $2 per bag, wholesale. A few bags of seed potatoes sold at $1.50 to $1.75 per bag. Butter is slow. Eggs remain firm in price.

The pride of the Clan," one of her most popular Arteraft pictures. In "Captain Kidd, Jun.," her new photoplay, which delighted large audiences at the Majestic yesterday, she is again Scotch, but transplanted from the land of the heather to somewhere in America, as the grand-daughter of Angus MacTavish, keeper of a curio and book store, where the buried treasure, which is the basic idea of the story, is first noised about.

And Mary is said to be the most winsome, close-fisted, lovable, and, at the same time, irritating little person you would find from one coast to the other. She keeps Jim Gleason, engaged in writing a novel, dangling till the very end. And she is a demon at a trade, so that when the book with the secret plan of the buried treasure appears she is one of the forewast in a west. or the search, which takes them to Cabbage Centre, and thereafter the tale is one of the most engrossing, amusing and whimsical character.

On the stage this play by Rida Johnson was a great success. In the film, with Mary Pickford in the lead, it seems destined to create even a greater furore. "Reilly's Wash Day," a Mack Sennett comedy, in which petite Marie Provost and funny Charlie Murray appear, brought out every smile, titter, laugh and roar that was in the possession of the audience. Such a barrage of fun confronts the audience and so much laughing gas is sent out from the screen that uproars of laughter can not be held back.

Frank Callan, "the Midnight Frolic boy," again won the audience with his singing. singing.
"The Return of the 1st Battalion," a ing the processes in the manufacture of oleomargarine, and a Gaumont Graphic film, the newspaper of the screen, complete this excellent performance, which is sure to draw crowds.
