BRITISH RAILWAYMEN TO STRIKE

LONDON WOULD HAVE THREE MEMBERS IN LEGISLATURE UNDER PROPORTIONAL PLAN

Even If New Proposition Does Not Carry, the City Will Endeavor To Secure Additional Representation — The Scheme Is Arousing Much Interest Among Citizens.

Increasing London's representation in the Provincial Legislature from one to three members would be the first step in establishing the proportional representation system here. Even if the new voting plan is not adopted there will be a strong effort to secure additional representation, Ald. W. A. Wilson said today that he would move at the next council meeting that the Legislature be petitioned to this effect.

Middlesex County, with a population which is approximately the same as London, is represented by three members. City councillors see no reason why the city should not have the same proportion.

Is it Feasible?

City Clerk Baker is an advocate of proportional representation, but was not prepared to say whether it would be feasible here. The suggestion coming from Toronto, that London and Middlesex County be the site of a trial of the plan, has not been explained in sufficient detail for an opinion to be expressed on it, he said. He pointed out that its adoption would require at least one more representative for the city, as the plan could not be worked where there was only one member.

Wants it Immediately.

Acting-Mayor John Bridge said that the Drury Government had pledged itself to inaugurate proportional representation, and should go about it immediately; instead of experimenting in one riding.

"Undoubtedly proportional representation would give the city a larger voice in the Legislature than they have at present. It begins to look as though the Government was trying to sidetrack the plan for that reason. They are pledged to it and they should go ahead with it without delay."

STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYEES MAY SUE RAILWAY BOARD

Believe That Board Has No Right To Use Earnings For the Retirement of Bonds Until Men Have Been Paid 52 Cents an Hour.

Legal action against the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board on the grounds that it has failed to keep its wage agreement may be taken by street railway employees, it was stated today. Color is lent to this by the admission of the board that it is retaining part of the September surplus in order to meet possible deficits in the winter months.

The attitude taken by the men may be that the board has no right to use earnings for the retirement of bonds until the men have been paid 52 cents an hour. The board agreed to pay 48 cents an hour and to turn over the surplus earnings to the men. Lately objection to payment of the interest is bonds has developed. The contention is made that payment of the interest is sufficient as the assets of the road are ample to meet the bonds at the expiration of the franchise.

Different means of securing the desired increase in wages are being considered by the executive. It is doubtful if it will decide on another strike. It may suggest a levy on all the employees to pay the expenses of court action to secure the money.

LIQUOR SALES IN B. C. WILL SHOW INCREASE

Present System of Prohibition Is Defeated.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 20.—W. L. Savage, president of the prohibition party in British Columbia, last night, said to the Canadian Press that the result of the referendum showed that there had been a confusion in the public mind on the term "Government control." Particularly was this so with regard to the women's vote. The women thought it meant a system whereby the Government would take better control of the liquor traffic than it had done under the present act, he said.

"We shall have to wait an experience of the new system," he concluded.

The question on which the people were asked to express themselves today was: Which do you prefer (1) the present prohibition act or (2) an act to provide for the Government control and sale in sealed packages of spirituous and malted liquors?

The vote will result, it is expected, in a generous policy of sale of liquor, not over the open bar, but in Government shops. The present act was amended at the last session of the Legislature to permit of the sale only of eight ounces of liquor from a druggist or Government dispensary under a medical prescription. The act in its original form allowed the sale of any quantity upon a doctor's prescription and the Government liquor stores in the various centres of population did a thriving business. Under the present act the illicit manufacture and the sale of liquor by bootleggers thrived, and this fact, moderationists say, was a determining factor in yesterday's result.

WILL CHANGE LEGISLATION.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 21.—Premier John Oliver, voicing surprise at the result of the liquor referendum, stated last night that in view of the expression of public opinion, the necessary legislation to repeal the existing act, and to bring into effect Government control, would be brought down by the Government. The will of the people would have to be met.

The premier had nothing to say on the possibility of an early election.

BRANTFORD BREAD PRICES LOWERED

Reduction Follows the Recent Drop in Flour Quotations.

Brantford, Oct. 21.—The bakers of Brantford announced this morning that the price of bread had dropped one cent, being now 13c. This voluntary reduction follows the drop in the price of flour, the bakers cutting off the cent as soon as the high-priced flour in stock was exhausted. The price of sugar also dropped this morning, consumers getting five instead of four and a half pounds for one dollar.

TRAIN IS HELD UP IN BUFFALO YARDS BY FIVE BANDITS

Robbers Secure Only $100 in Hold-Up of Passengers.

GIRL'S NARROW ESCAPE

Declined To Obey Instructions of Men, Bullet Clips Hair Braid.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 21.—A holdup of a New York Central railroad train that was being made up in the yards here early today resulted in the wounding of a trainman, and netted the bandits less than $100. A shot fired by one of the robbers grazed the head of Mary Jane Smith, 13 years old, of Cleveland, who, prompted by curiosity, disobeyed the command of the bandits that all the passengers remain in their seats or berths.

The holdup occurred in the switching yards at Clinton and Lord streets, an isolated section. Five men comprised the gang. Two covered the engine crew with revolvers, while the other three entered a Pullman coach that was being attached to the train, firing a volley of shots as they came in the door. George Sinclair, a brakeman, did not respond quickly enough to a command from the leader of the bandits, and was shot through the leg. A shot from another cut a braid of hair from the head of the Smith girl.

The thieves were apparently alarmed at their own noisy demonstration, and fled after collecting about $100 from the passengers in the coach.

John Depeka and his brother Stanley were arrested later, charged with taking part in the holdup.

CLERK PREVENTS ROBBERY.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Gustave Meckerman, express clerk, prevented three men from carrying out an attempt to rob the express car of train No. 13, the west-bound Detroit-Chicago flyer of the Michigan Central Railroad, last night.

The men boarded the train at Niles, Mich., and beat down part of the car entrance with an iron bar. Meckerman wounded one of the men in the hand which was groping for the spring lock. He braced packing cases against the door and exhausted his ammunition, holding the men off for more than an hour, when the three escaped in the Michigan City yards.

Jewelry and merchandise valued at $25,000 was on the train.

CHICAGO EDITOR IS ORDERED DEPORTED BY BRITISH POLICE

London, Oct. 21.—E. J. Costello, managing editor of the Federated Press of Chicago, comprising Labor and Socialist newspapers, was served with a deportation order by Scotland Yard officials this morning, following a search of his room and the seizure of his correspondence. As Mr. Costello had arranged to sail for the United States on October 23 he was allowed his freedom until that time.

Mr. Costello has been visiting Germany and the Baltic states, but says he did not attempt to enter Russia.

WOMAN IS ACQUITTED, BUT MAN ARRAIGNED ON MURDER CHARGE

Attorney-General Waives the Formality of Preliminary Examination.

St. Andrews, N. B., Oct. 21.—The case of the King vs. Albert Robinson was given to the grand jury yesterday afternoon. At the trial last week of Louise Matthews, charged with murdering her infant child, Mrs. Matthews was acquitted, and as the evidence adduced by Mrs. Matthews tended to implicate Albert Robinson, the attorney-general caused an indictment to be preferred against Robinson for the murder of the child.

The case is unique in that no preliminary examination was held into the charge against Robinson. The attorney-general exercising his prerogative and ordering the grand and petit juries summoned, waiving the necessity of a preliminary hearing in order to avoid the long delay which would necessarily be occasioned had such been held. The grand jury brought in a true bill after consulting for about two hours. Attorney-General J. P. Bryne is prosecuting for the crown, and A. R. Skipp of Fredericton is appearing on behalf of the prisoner. The court adjourned until Tuesday, October 26, at 2 p.m.

Attempt Was Made To Kill Peggy O'Neil

Noted Actress Nearly Died After Eating Candy.

London, Oct. 21.—Peggy O'Neil, the actress, who about a month ago was taken suddenly ill during the performance of her play at the Savoy Theatre, has just returned to her place in the cast, and declares her illness was due to an attempt to poison her. She says a box was sent to her dressing-room anonymously, and that upon opening it she found it contained chocolates. She ate some of the candy and was soon taken seriously ill. First aid was administered, but she was incapacitated for some time. One chocolate was given to a pet dog belonging to Miss O'Neil, and the animal soon died, and an analysis of the confectionery showed it contained arsenic and strychnine.

Police authorities were informed, but have failed to find the person who sent the box to Miss O'Neil.

WIFE'S CLAIM TO BODY OF HUSBAND UPHELD BY COURT

Judge Quotes Biblical Passage To Confirm Judgment.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—A most unusual lawsuit, which was ended here late yesterday, shows that a husband, though dead, is closer to his wife than to his parents. Presiding in the supreme court of Ontario, Judge Latchford dismissed the action of Louis and Mary K. Gallien against the widow of their son, Hermidas Gallien. The Roman Catholic Episcopal Corporation of the Diocese of Ottawa were also cited as defendants. The judge quoted the Biblical passage, "For this cause shall a man leave father and mother and shall cleave to his wife, and they twain shall be one flesh."

Mrs. Gallien, mother of the deceased, was absolutely refused the possession of her son's body, and her counsel, Mr. W. C. Greig, was repeatedly told by his lordship that his client could not get the body away from where the deceased's wife had placed it under the law.

M'NEAL PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE

Large Crowds Gather To Hear Evidence At the Welland Trial.

PRISONER IS NERVOUS

Twenty-Two Jurors Are Challenged Before Panel Is Drawn.

Welland, Oct. 21.—David McNeal, laborer, aged 29 years, was placed on trial at the assizes here this morning before Justice Kelly, charged with the murder of 4-year-old Margaret Boucock, who disappeared from her home at Thorold on July 13, and whose badly-decomposed body with its head severed was found covered with brush near the new Welland ship canal excavations at Thorold on August 4. Public indignation over the outrage remains at a fever point.

N. Jeffries of Guelph is crown prosecutor, and accused is defended by G. F. Peterson of St. Catharines and E. H. Lancaster.

The courtroom was filled to its utmost capacity an hour before the opening. The corridors were lined with spectators and crowds were unable to obtain admission. Breathless silence prevailed, when the accused, a good-looking man, of medium height, entered the dock. He appeared somewhat nervous and pale, and in a low, clear voice pleaded not guilty. After pleading, he smiled, and waved his hand to a friend in court, and then followed the selection of the jurymen with keen interest. The crown challenged eight jurors, and the defence fourteen.

In presenting the case for the crown, Mr. Jeffries emphasized that McNeal was the last person known to have been with the victim.

George Ross, Ontario land surveyor, the first witness, produced a blueprint showing the route alleged to have been taken by the prisoner and the child.

Mother Testifies.

The next witness was Mrs. Reuben Boucock, the mother of the child. She last saw her daughter alive at home, at 2 o'clock on July 13, when the little one told her she was going down to play with the Dunn children, who live near the Thorold Public Library, about 100 yards from her home.

She sent another child to Dunn's cottage about 4 o'clock and received a report that she had gone away with a man. Inquiries proved futile, and later the witness went to McNeal's house, but no one was at home. She proceeded further in her search, and in passing the McNeal house on returning, she saw the prisoner outside, and asked him if he had seen the child. He said: "Yes, I saw her this afternoon. She showed me her dolls, and I walked with her as far as the school corner. The next I saw of her she was going up Ormonde street."

Witness said she asked McNeal to assist in the search, but he did not reply, and Mrs. McNeal said: "Certainly, we will."

The McNeals went off in another direction, presumably to search for the child. Witness identified a fedora hat worn by accused and the child's clothing and belt that was around the body.

Woman Can Be Montreal Mayor Under Charter

Montreal, Oct. 21.—At the meeting of the charter commission yesterday, amendments to the proposed city charter were adopted, making it possible for a woman possessed of qualifications similar to those required in the case of a male candidate, to be elected a city councillor or even mayor of Montreal.

KING ALEXANDER'S CONDITION UNCHANGED.

Athens, Oct. 21.—No change of moment has taken place in the condition of King Alexander of Greece, according to the last bulletin on his condition issued last night. His general state remained stationary, it was said.

MACSWINEY IS GIVEN FOOD IN PERIOD WHILE UNCONSCIOUS

Prison Doctors Force Meat Juice Into Lord Mayor's Mouth.

FEEDING IS ADMITTED

The Irish Self-Determination League Claim First Nourishment in 69 Days.

CONTINUE FEEDING.

London, Oct. 21.—The Brixton Prison officials were continuing today to put liquid nutriment in Lord Mayor MacSwiney's mouth during his periods of delirium, it was declared in the noon bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League on the lord mayor's condition.

This bulletin stated the lord mayor continued in a delirious condition all morning, at times being violent and at others quite quiet. His limbs, it was said, worked spasmodically all the time. He was momentarily calm as the bulletin was issued.

The lord mayor, it was added, did not recognize relatives who visited him during the morning.

London, Oct. 21.—Official confirmation came from two sources this morning of the reports that Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork had been fed during a period of unconsciousness.

A bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League dealing with the condition of the lord mayor on the 70th day of his hunger strike in Brixton Prison, announced that the prison doctors had forced meat juice into MacSwiney's mouth during a fit of delirium which the prisoner suffered last night.

From the Government side, it was stated at the home office that the lord mayor had been fed last night. It was explained there that the prison doctors were under instructions to use any possible means to keep him alive, but that during consciousness he resisted attempts to administer nourishment. Their attitude is, it was stated, that when the lord mayor is unconscious and unable to resist they are carrying out their orders if they then give him food.

Feeding Is Admitted.

The Self-Determination League's account of the feeding said that the lord mayor, upon regaining consciousness, detected the taste of the meat juice, and said to a sister near him: "They tricked me and I didn't know it."

Lapsing into unconsciousness again,

Tom Moore Has No Sympathy For Refiners

Declares Manufacturers Have Brought Situation On Themselves.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—Intimating that the whole sugar situation was largely brought on by a "sugar ring" and that the refinery workers were paying the price of the "greed and market manipulations of the sugar barons," Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, in a statement yesterday told of the hardship being suffered by the workers following the abrupt shutting down of the industry and emphatically declared that it was just such situations that created revolt in the minds of honest toilers. Mr. Moore said refinery workers had been striving to improve their conditions, but without avail.

The president of the trades congress stoutly supported the action of the Dominion Government in making permanent the rescinding of the board of commerce order, and felt that sympathy should not be wasted on the refiners, but should be given to the unemployed refinery workers.

BAG CONTAINING BOMBS IS FOUND NEAR MILAN HOTEL

Milan, Italy, Oct. 21.—A bag containing five bombs, two tubes of explosives and several pounds of material for shrapnel, was found today under a bench in a public garden near the Hotel Cavour, where bombs recently exploded, while the delegates to the congress of the league of nations societies were stopping in the hotel.

Sympathetic Strike Of Railway And Transport Workers Will Commence At Midnight Sunday

Lloyd George's Government Is Warned That Walkout Will Become Effective Unless Measures Toward Settlement Are Commenced by Saturday—Orders Will Be Issued To Men To Cease Work If Negotiations Are Not Opened or Miners' Claims Granted, Declares the Union Secretary.

London, Oct. 21—The coal strike situation took an unexpected and grave turn this afternoon when the railwaymen and transport workers announced that they would strike in sympathy with the miners unless negotiations between the Government and the miners were reopened this week.

The railwaymen's delegates issued what was virtually an ultimatum to the Government that all members cease work Sunday at midnight unless the strike was settled or negotiations which would effect a settlement begun on Saturday.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, announced that the delegates of the railwaymen had decided "to instruct the general secretary to intimate to Premier Lloyd George that unless the miners' claims are granted or negotiations resumed by Saturday, which will result in a settlement, we shall be compelled to take the necessary steps to instruct our members in England, Scotland and Wales to cease work. In addition, a telegram is being dispatched to all members to be prepared to cease work at midnight of Sunday next unless they hear to the contrary.

It was reported there was a division of opinion among the National Union of Railwaymen delegates this morning, not so much on the issue of supporting the miners, to which there is little opposition, as on the question of whether action should be deferred a few days in the hope that some development might occur.

A section of the delegates urged a strike on Saturday, and a proposition to that effect was before the conference this afternoon, but there was a counter-proposal to wait until next week.

The transport workers delegates issued a statement along virtually the same lines as that of the railwaymen.

Pressure is also being exerted by the Trades Union Congress and the Parliamentary committee of the Labor men to force the Government to waive all prior considerations and call its own and the miners' representtives together immediately.

The Goernment is understood to be standing firm on the ground that any increase in wages must have reference to increased production, but is willing to open negotiations if the miners recognize this principle.

The Press Association this evening says it understands the district delegates of the miners have been summoned to a conference in London.

London, Oct. 21.—Decision on the question whether the National Union of Railwaymen and the Transport Workers' Union would join in the strike of miners which began last Saturday was expected at meetings held by the two organizations here today. Conferences of the executive officers of the two unions were held yesterday, and the situation was reviewed, but nothing definite was done, it being decided to wait another twenty-four hours before taking steps in the controversy. Should the railwaymen and transport

NEW SYSTEM LIKELY TO BE INAUGURATED AT KINGSTON "PEN"

Guards May Be Changed To Avoid Possibility of Influence.

TROUBLES EXAGGERATED

No Explosives Found After a Long Hunt by the Officials.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—By the Canadian Press.—Official reports on troubles in the Kingston penitentiary indicate that the disturbances have been much exaggerated. The reported attempt at jail delivery by means of dynamite is not borne out in the official dispatches. Rumors of some such attempt had, it is said, gone around, and there was a search for explosives, but none were found. Further detailed reports of the week-end disturbances are, however, now being obtained, and when these are secured decision will be reached as to the punishment to be inflicted on guilty parties.

Recent developments at Kingston will probably end in a revision of the system under which penitentiary guards are employed. In the past, guards have been indefinitely attached to a particular penitentiary, with the resultant possibility that they may be subjected to local influences. The suggestion is now being made that penitentiary guards should be constituted into more of a general force, so that a guard might be transferred from one penitentiary to another, much as a member of the permanent military force might be transferred from one district to another. One step has already been taken in this direction. Recent legislation authorized the employment of men as penitentiary guards in general, rather than as guards in any one particular penitentiary.

Every desire is expressed in official circles here that conditions in all penitentiaries shall be of the best character.

CHARLTON TO SPEAK AT PORT BURWELL

Liberal Rally Will Be Held On Friday Evening.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Port Burwell, Oct. 21.—Arrangements have been completed for a big Liberal rally here on Friday evening. W. G. Charlton will be present and discuss with the electors his platform. The keenest interest has developed all through the riding in the by-election. And Mr. Charlton's recent address at Straffordville and his attack on the barefaced sugar scandal and the Meighen policies in general have aroused wide interest. Several other meetings are being arranged.

There is apparently little doubt that East Elgin will for the first time in many years turn down a Conservative candidate. Everywhere is heard denunciation of the course which has been followed at Ottawa and the general slogan is "It's time for a change."

GOV. COX OPENS WAR ON CRITICS OF THE LEAGUE

Democratic Candidate For Governor Making a Special Drive.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 21.—A special drive against critics of article ten of the League of Nations and against false criticism they were said to have uttered was made here today by Governor Cox of Ohio.

Governor Cox's address here, referring specially to article ten, followed recent attacks from prominent Republicans against the league provision and opened his Delaware and Maryland campaign.

"We should never in the haze of wiggling statements and wobbling pronouncements, lose sight of the incontrovertible fact that, under article ten the council can render only advice. And that even this action cannot be taken unless and until every representative, including our own, votes in the affirmative."

"Some may say that if the council has no authority to order military forces into the field in defence of the covenant, the peace of the world would be no better secured with the league than without it," added Mr. Cox. "Such an inference would be entirely at variance with experience. Earl Grey, at the time the British secretary for British foreign affairs, said in 1914 that if in the critical days of July and August he could have got the statesmen of the great powers around a table in conference for nine days or nine hours the world war could have been averted."

HARDING DECLARES ATTITUDE UNALTERED ON LEAGUE ISSUE

Rochester, Oct. 21.—Making his first speech of the campaign in New York State, Senator Harding again challenged his Democratic opponents here today to show by his public utterances where he has changed his position on the League of Nations since he accepted the Republican nomination. Restating his stand, he declared the nation "cannot take seriously the Democratic insistence that the covenant shall be considered for acceptance as it stands," and added that for "such a rejection," he had stood unfaltringly. He also asserted that he had favored consistently an international association in the interest of peace, but could not under present conditions frame a definite and specific plan.

"I am not that kind of a man," he continued. "It is easy enough for a candidate, who is going to lose to say almost anything about the League of Nations or any future plans for America."

HARDING MAKES FLYING VISIT TO N. Y. CITY

On Board Senator Harding's Special Train, Oct. 21.—Entering New York for the first time since his nomination, Senator Harding placed the cause of Republicanism before the voters of the Empire State today in a flying visit, which gave time for only two set speeches.

A day meeting at Rochester, and an evening address in Buffalo, were the only definite speaking engagements on his program, which provided that in all he was to spend only four hours in the state. Without having visited New York City, he will leave Buffalo late tonight for Marion on the return of his last campaign trip outside Ohio.

At several smaller places along the way today crowds met the Harding train, and he exchanged greetings during short stops. His voice showed the strain of his recent vigorous campaigning, however, and he conserved it whenever possible for the larger meetings.

ERECTING $6,000 MEMORIAL.

EXPLOSIONS CAUSE DEATH OF SIX IN NEW YORK STATE

Chlorine Gas Tanks Blow Up At Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Three men were killed at 1 o'clock this morning at the plant of the Electric Bleaching Gas Company in Buffalo avenue, near Union street, when one of the tanks used in the process of manufacturing chlorine gas is said to have exploded.

The three men killed were: Patrick Murray, 50 years old; William Stafford, 49, and Philip Flora, 40. All were employed in the department where the explosion occurred.

THREE TRAINMEN KILLED.

Batavia, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Three trainmen were killed when the boiler of a New York Railroad engine exploded a mile east of the station here this morning. The explosion blew the boiler of the trucks and blocked three main line tracks.

Says Wet Vote Shows Weakening Of Moral Reform

"It Is One Step Away From Ben Spence," View of Judge Macbeth.

The British Columbia wet vote of yesterday, according to Judge Talbot Macbeth, senior judge of Middlesex County, indicates a weakening of the moral reform autocracy instituted in Canada by Rev. Ben Spence and his associates in Toronto.

"It is one step away from Ben Spence," said Judge Macbeth, in the course of a discussion of the issue by courthouse officials this morning.

Other officials expressed the opinion that the movement begun on the Pacific coast indicated that in the popular estimation the dry enthusiasts and moral reformers had gone a little too far and secured the enactment of slightly too rigid and drastic laws. A more moderate view of the liquor problem and its attendant evils is likely to spread to Eastern Canada also, in their opinion.

NEW BUILDINGS ARE PLANNED BY FAIR BOARD

Question Will Be Discussed by Directors Shortly.

Extent of the building operations which the Western Fair Association may undertake next spring is not yet determined, according to Secretary A. M. Hunt, and will rest largely with the new board to be appointed in February. Mr. Hunt admitted that in a vague way the present directors have in mind what these building operations will probably include, but nothing will be definitely decided upon for some time yet.

The erection of new sheep and swine barns, and new storage buildings west of the present cattle barns in the territory purchased early in the year, and used only as judging grounds at last month's fair, has been discussed as probably the best means of providing increased space in the old grounds. The removal of the present sheep and swine barns and the old storage building would leave more space for machinery and tractor exhibits, and possibly the present machinery building might be enlarged.

Midway Was Crowded.

The Johnny Jones Midway Shows were admitted generally to be the best yet secured by the Western Fair, but they were much larger than midway shows previously offered, and space was, as a result, pretty well crowded for the machinery and tractor exhibits. As it was, the Johnny Jones people had several shows that were crowded out altogether. Objections have been made to letting the midway take up too much space, but the smaller midways usually have some objectionable features, and have not always been satisfactory to deal with.

Connecting the old grounds with the new territory a large passageway will probably be cut through the cattle barns, or possibly an avenue opened to admit visitors to the new space without going through the cattle barns. How much building will be undertaken next spring is problematical, but in all probability a good beginning will be made in new and additional stock barns.

A New Feature.

A new feature of interest to the farm boys and girls will be added in the form of a calf competition. Lieut.-Col. Robert McEwen, Capt. T. E. Robson, Roscoe Finn, B.S.A., and I. B. Whale, B.S.A., are the committee handling this competition, and the Toronto packing interests have offered to donate valuable cups. Prizes will be offered for the best calves, not necessarily thoroughbreds, raised and exhibited by boys and girls.

Replying to criticisms that the stock judging takes place on days when comparatively few people are present to witness it, Mr. Hunt points out that it must be concluded Tuesday night, in order that the prize checks can be got ready for the exhibitors before they leave on Friday.

BUSY SESSIONS FOR CIVIC COMMITTEES

Four Meetings Are Scheduled At City Hall This Afternoon.

No dust will gather in the committee rooms at the city hall today. Four meetings are scheduled to take place between 3:30 p.m. and midnight. The members of the public utilities commission will be the first to gather in solemn conclave. They likely will have a further discussion on increasing the city's water supply, but little new business is expected.

No. 3 committee of the board of education will be the next at bat. Consideration of plans for the new collegiate will be their principal duty.

No. 2 committee of the council will be the next to step up to the plate. They will only be in session a few minutes to open tenders for a new paving plant. The bids will then be referred to the city engineer, who will bring in a recommendation regarding them at the regular meeting next Tuesday. It is expected that four or five tenders will be reserved.

The housing commission will be the last of the quartet to get busy. They will grapple with a number of the minor problems in connection with the housing situation.

FIFTY MILLION-DOLLAR PAPER MERGER NEAR.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Though lacking confirmation, it is believed in circles close to large scale developments in the pulp and paper industry that negotiations are rapidly approaching completion for the combination of Maritime Province lumber, pulp and paper interests that will bring together several existing pulp and paper mills with one of Canada's biggest lumber producers, and will, in addition, involve the purchase of the largest tract of freehold pulp lands in existence. It is believed that in volume of the output and in resources of raw materials, the new combination will stand in the very front rank of Canadian lumber and pulp and paper producers, comparing only with such concerns as Price Brothers, Riordon or Booths. The development is naturally one to which much significance is attached, for it is currently believed that financing of approximately $50,000,000 is involved in the project, a transaction of a magnitude that would at once indicate developments of major importance.

WOULD BUY BONDS OF STREET RAILWAY

Outstanding Issues Can Be Purchased For $150,000, Says W. G. Tite.

Buying outstanding street railway bonds instead of paying for the road at the hydro-electric valuation was suggested today by W. G. Tite, secretary of the Labor Representation Committee. According to Mr. Tite, the city council is anxious to buy the road at the valuation made by hydro engineers, which he claims is too great. This price would be about a million and a quarter dollars, while outstanding bonds could be bought for $150,000. The holders of the bonds own the road, he argues.

Mr. Tite pointed out that if the road was bought at its full valuation the shareholders would get their money out at par, whereas the shares are at a very low value at present, he claims. There was no talk of paying the full value for the London and Lake Erie Railway when the hydro system negotiated for its purchase, he said. All the offers made for it were so low that the directors finally sold it as scrap.

Linking up the railway with the London and Port Stanley road is the only means by which the hydro system can take it over, he asserts. It cannot operate it as a separate line. If freight cars are put on the lines, however, and a freight business developed within the city it can be regarded as part of the railroad. He is against this proposal, as he claims the city would lose control of both the streets and the car system.

LOCAL NEWS

—Edwin Newsome, editor of the Sanitary and Heating Journal, Toronto, is spending a couple of days in the city.

IS VERY WEAK.—Wilfred McColl of Glanworth, who was seriously injured by falling on a pitchfork last week, and was removed to Victoria Hospital, spent a very restless night. His condition is reported as being very weak.

FINE WINDOW DISPLAY.—Smallman & Ingram are showing this week in one of their Dundas street windows architects' drawings of London's new hotel and the Children's War Memorial Hospital, the display attracting wide attention.

RESUMES DUTY. — Col. Murphy, D.S.O., senior medical officer for Military District No. 1, has resumed his duties. He underwent an operation and has been on leave of absence for some time.

NEARLY RECOVERED.—The condition of Dr. Roy Farmer, who has been in St. Joseph's Hospital for some time, is reported by his attending physician to be most satisfactory. He has recovered to the extent that he will be discharged from the hospital shortly.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS. — Little George Hevey, who suffered internal injuries when he fell from a tree on Monday, is still in St. Joseph's Hospital in an unconscious state. So far it has been impossible to make known the extent of his injuries.

NO ONE HURT.—A collision between two motor cars occurred at King and Richmond streets at 9:45 o'clock today. The cars were slightly damaged, but no one was injured. The crash was caused through one of the drivers cutting the corner.

GO TO SARNIA.—Major Chrichton, commander of the Salvation Army for this district, has returned from Essex, where he was given a welcome as chief of the district. The major and Staff Captain Ritchie will go to Sarnia and Forest tonight, where the trip will be concluded.

BUILDING PERMITS.—Building figures continue to make steady progress. Eight permits have been issued to date for a total of $215,345. The larger ones today were: R. D. Purdy, 1½-story brick veneer dwelling, 38 Tecumseh avenue, $3,500; Mrs. V. Bucke, 1-story brick addition, 427 Dufferin avenue, $2,200.

CRITICALLY ILL.—Gus Coughlin of the Corbitt, Hall & Coughlin, probably the largest cattle brokers in Toronto, was stricken with paralysis yesterday while buying in Petrolea, and is at the point of death. Mr. Coughlin is a brother of Sister Patricia, head of the nurses' training school at St. Joseph's Hospital.

OFFICERS INITIATED.—The initiation of the officers of the Trail Rangers of the local Y. M. .Caashletadisew.a of the local Y. M. C. A. was held last evening, when about 75 boys attended. The examination of the boys into separate groups for the competitive work for the winter was completed. Mrs. W. Wigmore cooked the dinner for the banquet.

PRESENTING TROPHY.—C. B. Edwards, inspector of the public schools, will make the formal presentation of the trophy to the winners of the Public School Girls' Basketball League at the final game, to be held at Ealing School on Friday afternoon. The contestants in this game for the championship of all the public schools will be Ryerson and Empress Avenue schools. Both teams have an admirable record behind them.

NOT RESPONSIBLE.—It was learned today that A. Newnham, who alleged he had $20 stolen from him in the local "Y" last Saturday afternoon while he was swimming, was offered a safety box, where his valuables could be checked and if any of them were lost the Y. M. C. A. was respnsible. Mr. Newnham refused the box and kept his valuables in his clothes. In this case, the officials of the "Y" say, he is entirely responsible. They also said they knew nothing of the theft till it appeared in The Advertiser on Wednesday.

LONDON DOGS WIN.—At the Pomeranian Club specialty show, under K. C. rules, held in Toronto, Thanksgiving Day, for toy dogs only, Fred F. Simmons' brace of toy poodles made a clean sweep of the boards. His champion, Miss Snookie, a London-bred dog, won first, and winners in the open class, special for best of breed and special for best female, while her kennel mate, Snowflakes III., won first in open dogs and winners, and special for best male, being called on to beat the most consistent winning champion dogs in Canada to get his winners' points. They also won best brace.

BETTER HOUSING.—Dr. W. J. Tillmann, who has returned to the city after attending the Dominion Child Welfare conference at Ottawa, tells of an interesting paper on "Better Housing for Children." Here the suggestion was made that houses about the same square block should have a common garden in the centre and a common playhouse for the children of the block. It was further pointed out that while the housing commissions in the various towns were spending money in the erection of new houses, there was no money being expended in the repairing of old ones, so that they would be fit for habitation. This paper also referred to the advisability of the establishment of children's nurseries, somewhat similar to the day nursery in the large industrial plants.

NATURE STUDY EXCURSION.—The pupils of the two senior grades of Riverview School were greatly interested in a nature study excursion on Wednesday afternoon, when through the kindness of several auto owners of the district, they made a tour of one of the finest productive sections of Middlesex County. At 2 o'clock the cars assembled and started south to Brick street, thence to the reservoir, and on to Reservoir Hill, where the boys and girls stopped to view the new reservoir. Continuing, the cars passed through Byron and along the lower river road to Komoka, then north to Poplar Hill, returning by way of the Sarnia road. The students expressed their thanks to the following car owners for the outing: Messrs. W. Avey, G. Bycroft, J. Collison, R. Fowler, W. Jarmain, E. Jeffery, J. Orchard, Capt. T. Robson, N. Sanderson, W. Young, Mrs. J. Atcheson, Mrs. R. Morgan and Mrs. H. B. White.

REV. B. H. ROBINSON GOING TO LEAMINGTON

Accepts Call to the Methodist Church and Leaves in July.

Rev. B. H. Robinson, pastor of the Robinson Memorial Methodist Church, has accepted a call to the Leamington Methodist Church to succeed Rev. L. W. Hill. The change will be considered by the stationing committee of the London Conference next July. Mr. Robinson will continue his pastorate here until that time. No arrangements have been made to appoint a successor.

During the four years he has been stationed here Mr. Robinson has been active in the clerical and social life of the city. For the past two years he has been a lecturer in philosophy at Western University. He is an active member of the Ministerial Association, and was one of the principal workers in the Methodist Forward Movement last spring.

PLAN TO CONNECT INDUSTRIAL AND RESIDENTIAL AREAS

No. 2 Committee To Go Into the Question At Next Meeting.

Plans for connecting the East London industrial area with the residential district south of the Hamilton road will be made at the next meeting of No. 2 committee of the city council, Ald. E. R. Seabrook said today. This project was under advisement by the town planning committee. The present state of that body makes it impossible for it to deal with the matter. It will, therefore, be taken up directly by the committee.

Disagreements which finally led to the break-up of the committee commenced at a meeting called for the discussion of the scheme. The purpose of the gathering, to which a number of interested citizens had come, was obscured by a lively discussion between Ald. Seabrook and John Cottam as to the activity, or lack of it, on the part of the committee. The meeting adjourned without accomplishing its purpose. Since that time the plan has been in abeyance.

At present there are no thoroughfares connecting Dundas street and the Hamilton road between Egerton street and Highbury avenue. Several factories are located on Dundas street in this area, and many of their employees live in the southeast section of the city. In order to reach their work they have to go many blocks out of their way.

To remedy this it is suggested that Ashland avenue or Childers street be extended across the G. T. R. tracks. The cost of doing this for vehicular traffic might be too great, but it is thought that foot bridges for pedestrians would be well worth the expenditure.

HERE'S A NEW WAY OF GETTING LIQUOR

Aged Inebriate Says He Found Bottle While Raking Up Leaves.

An old man, poor and quite feeble, will be forced to spend the next ten days in jail, and perhaps lose his job with the city's street cleaning department, because he has not the $10 to pay a fine which was imposed upon him because he was intoxicated on Wednesday afternoon.

In a quavering voice he told a pathetic story to the magistrate in court this morning. He was scraping leaves on one of the pavements when his scraper unearthed a bottle half full of excellent whiskey. He did not have money enough to buy whiskey by the case like other people, and had not had a drink for some time. Evidently thinking that not to accept this offering of fortune would be flaunting "Fate" in the face, he yielded to the temptation and drank deeply.

He was found drunk a little later, and was taken to the police station.

After questioning the old man carefully the magistrate felt satisfied he was telling the truth, but he had no option other than to impose the fine or the term of imprisonment. The prisoner said he had no money.

An entirely different story was told by a much younger man who was found drunk, sitting on a curbing on Elmwood avenue. He indignantly denied the charge. He told the court that he had been gassed and shell-shocked. The magistrate reminded him that the war had been over for two years.

The police constable who made the arrest said the accused was sitting on the curbing because of his inability to stand up. When arrested he fought and swore, keeping it up until the station house was reached.

"Those are false statements," the young man yelled. "I never swore, and I wasn't drunk. It was the chap who was with me who was drunk, and they let him go."

The magistrate preferred to believe the constable, so the usual fine of $10 was imposed.

TORONTO POWER CO. BLAMED FOR SHORTAGE

Cut in Hydro Was First Attributed to Generator at Niagara.

Expiration of a contract under which the hydro-electric power commission received 13,000-horsepower from the Toronto Power Company caused the 25 per cent cut in London's power load this week, it is alleged. Trouble with a generator at Niagara was first advanced as the reason for the shortage.

General Manager Buchanan of the local system could not confirm the report.

According to information given to The Advertiser, the Toronto Power Company which is controlled by McKenzie & Mann was required by an order of the fuel controller to supply 13,000-horsepower to the H. E. P. C. This contract expired October 15. The company has showed no desire to renew it, but negotiations to this end are under way.

COURT OBJECTS TO USE OF TORPEDOES

High School Students Were Let Go With a Warning.

Only one small echo of the hilarious celebration the students of the Collegiate Institute staged throughout the city on Friday made its way into the police court. Harry White and a juvenile fellow-student were given a sound lecture by Magistrate Graydon this morning, because they exploded torpedoes in the crowded business section of the town while driving through the streets in an automobile. The magistrate told them the practice was a dangerous one, as the flying atoms menaced the safety of pedestrians. They were allowed to go.

Fred Johnston and Frank Brooks were charged with breaches of the school act, but the cases were adjourned for two weeks.

Gordon Robinson was fined $2 for the breach of the motor vehicle act, and W. Winder and W. L. Keene were assessed like amounts for breach of by-laws.

GETTING READY FOR JANUARY ELECTIONS

City Clerk Is Busy Revising His List of Assistants.

While the genial warmth of Old Sol has convinced most people that summer is still batting 100 per cent, and that Christmas is many moons in the offing, the city hall staff has its eye on the calendar and already is preparing for the next municipal election.

City Clerk Baker was busily engaged today in revising his list of deputy returning officers and assistants. Under the system he has followed for some years, a man is required to serve two years as a poll clerk before receiving an appointment as deputy returning officer. He may hold the latter appointment for ten years. A number who have served this length of time will be replaced this year by poll clerks and others will be engaged for the latter positions.

Public and separate schools will be used as polling places. There will be no booths in private residences. Present arrangements call for 78 deputy returning officers with an equal number of poll clerks. As some of the subdivisions have exceptionally large voting lists it is possible that seven or eight additional appointments may be made.

Compilation of the voters list has been practically completed. The city clerk's staff has been busy with it for several weeks past.

Group Meetings Bring Results

Chamber of Commerce Has Received Many Valuable Suggestions.

The group meetings of members of the Chamber of Commerce held last week, and still in progress, have indicated according to Chamber of Commerce officers, that there really is no lack of interest in London on the part of London's citizens. Hundreds of valuable suggestions for the improvement and advertising of the city, for the bettering of living conditions here, and increasing the activity of the Chamber of Commerce in public welfare movements have been made. These will shortly be tabulated and given publicity and a great many of them will, without doubt, be acted upon by the directors of the organization with the co-operation of the members making the suggestions.

SEVEN MINUTES' TALK ON PHONE COST $36

Long Distance Message From San Francisco Was Easily Heard.

Princeton, Oct. 21.—A few days ago the Princeton and Drumbo Telephone Company received a phone message from H. H. Fair, San Francisco to Robert Barr, Drumbo, the longest since the company was established here thirteen years ago. The message was distinctly heard. The price paid for it was $36, for seven minutes' conversation.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall had a happy family gathering of all their sons and daughters on Thanksgiving Day, the first for many years: James and wife from British Columbia; Thomas from Cleveland, Ohio; William and wife, Paris; Walter and wife, Norwich; George and wife, Governor's road, Princeton; Mrs. John Brooks and her husband and Mrs William Reid and her husband, Princeton, and Mrs. Marshall's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jane Wilson, from Burford. Some of their twelve grandchildren were amongst the party. A sumptuous dinner was served at noon and tea at 6, and the time passed happily with games, races, singing and talking. A photograph was taken of the group, 30 in number.

David Hoag held a very successful sale on Wednesday for Mrs. Harvey, much of the furniture, etc., bringing high prices from the large crowd. The property has not yet been sold.

Moose And Deer Hunting Season Opens Monday

Cobalt, Ont., Oct. 21.—The hunting season for moose and deer commences on Monday next, but indications are said to be that the sport will not be up to the average this year, on account of the exceptionally fine weather which has prevailed this fall. One Indian guide, an old-timer, familiar with the bush and its ways, says there will be no snow before Christmas, which will militate against success in the chase.

MACSWINEY

continued the account, the lord mayor waved his arms violently and shouted: "Take it away!"

MacSwiney was delirious during virtually all last night, the league bulletin declared, the delirium for the greater part of the time taking a violent form. After chronicling the incident of the feeding of the prisoner with meat juice, the bulletin concluded: "The meat juice given the lord mayor during his delirium on the 69th day of his fast was the first nourishment which had passed his lips since his arrest on August 12."

The league's mid-afternoon bulletin said: "The lord mayor continues in a delirious state, but is calmer. He still fails to recognize his relatives."

Doctors who have just visited him says there is a serious development of scurvy, which covers the whole body."

Condition is Serious.

In the House of Commons today Edward Shortt, the home secretary, said, in answer to a question, that the condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney was very serious. Until yesterday, added the home secretary, the doctors had given the lord mayor only medicine, but yesterday, during semi-consciousness, they gave him a little liquid food.

Mr. Shortt was asked whether this meant that the doctors were forcibly feeding the lord mayor. He replied that in this case forcible feeding consisted in holding the cup to his lips. The swallowing, he said, was voluntary.

Answering another question, Mr. Shortt said it was not true that evidence had recently come to light showing that nourishment had been administered on other occasions.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney, added the home secretary, was detained in the prison hospital.

GALWAY COUNCILLOR WAS MURDERED BY UNKNOWN MEN

Galway, Ireland, Oct. 21.—Sensational details of the shooting Monday night of Michael Walsh, urban councillor of Galway, in the Old Malthouse, of which he was the proprietor, were related yesterday by 17-year-old apprentice, who was the sole witness.

At 6 o'clock Monday night, five men in civilian clothes, said the apprentice, entered the "Old Malthouse," and cleared out the customers. Walsh was nervous and asked the apprentice for rum.

"That liquor is going to waste, for you will be dead within an hour," said one of the masked intruders.

Walsh asked permission to see a priest, but this was refused him. The strangers demanded to know how many policemen Walsh had shot. Protesting his innocence of crime, Walsh was led from the place, according to the boy.

The body of Walsh was found in the river Tuesday morning. There was a bullet wound in his temple.

A military inquiry has been ordered.

DISEASE IN BALKANS IS STILL REGARDED AS RESULT OF FATE

Peasants Educated in Superstitions Rather Than Sanitation Laws.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 20.—Disease in the Balkans is looked upon by the people as a result of fate. The peasantry has been educated in superstitions rather than in the laws of sanitation. They are opposed to the killing of mosquitos, rats, flies and vermin, believing that they are a part of life. They know nothing about the carriers of disease. The importance of protecting their food supplies from winged insects has not been impressed upon them. Little or no attempt is made to drain mosquito pools or marshes, so that the Balkan states claim the distinction of having some of the worst malarial sections on earth.

The peasant has little faith in medical science. "How can a bug give us typhus?" they ask. "Every living thing harbors insects. Why not man? If the good God sends us disease and misfortune, we believe that he knows best."

In most districts in the Balkans the houses of the rural population are small and poorly constructed. Many of them are built of mud and straw and have no provision for sanitation or ventilation. The only air admitted to the homes is obtained through accidental imperfection in construction. A few of the houses have two stories, the lower floor being occupied by the horses and cattle, the upper by the family. In such houses as these families lie crowded together under the most unhygienic conditions.

Years pass without a doctor entering the huts. Disease goes untreated. In the country districts dentistry is virtually unknown.

Bath tubs are rare in the Balkans, even in the larger cities. The people in that part of Europe rarely wash. "You must be very unclean people in the United States," said a well-to-do storekeeper of Sofia to an American, "if you find it necessary to bathe every day!"

JAPAN NOT LIKELY TO AGREE TO CUT IN NAVAL STRENGTH

Tokio, Oct. 20.—Japan is not likely to subscribe to the idea that the naval strength of nations which are members of the League of Nations, shall be cut down or their increase stopped, in the opinion of the leading daily, the Nichi Nichi.

"All powers are agreed on that proposition on principle," observes the Nichi Nichi in its political news column, "But the United States, which was the power that proposed curtailment of naval expansion, has not as yet joined the league, and she is fast increasing her naval strength. Even if other powers should strictly and faithfully adhere to the principle of reduction, the peace of the world will just the same be menaced by the powerful naval power of America.

"Thus, the general conference of the League of Nations will not accomplish anything, except that each of the members present will search into the heart of another." (The first meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations has been called at Geneva for November 15).

The Nichi Nichi therefore observed that the Japanese navy would consider the question from the peculiarly Japanese point of view regardless of whether any definite program be formulated by the conference as to the naval restriction and regardless of the attitude of France, England, Italy and other powers. Already an investigation had been conducted in the navy by such officials as Rear-Admiral Yasuiho, Captain Kiyokawa and other members of the investigation committee. A policy of the Japanese Empire has already been decided upon, but "owing to the lack of information as to what attitude England, France, Italy and other countries will be," the nature of the policy was not made public, the Nichi Nichi says.

"But, briefly speaking," the Nichi Nichi goes on, "the policy, it may be understood, may be summarized as follows:

"The eight battleships and eight cruisers plan, which had been a long-cherished idea, and which was approved by the recent session, is insufficient as the minimum strength to perfect the defence work of the Empire. In other words, in case the powers present in the conference propose to limit naval construction on the basis of its not going beyond the plans now in process of completion, the Imperial Japanese navy will have to maintain that the recent plan approved of (the eight and eight unit) is by no means its final plan of national defence. As was explained at the 41st session of the Diet by the navy minister, the Empire must have as the minimum naval strength necessary for defence of two units of eight battleships and four cruisers of a latest type and of the serviceable age—that is about eight years or younger—or three units of eight ships, totalling 24 principal vessels. This plan must be completed regardless of the time of completion.

"Because America is not a member of the League of Nations, the members present should consider any action made as useless and should content themselves with simply meeting each other in a conference, the Empire's representatives may not express the view of the Empire at all."

COST HIM MOUSTACHE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—Michael Mulligan McAuliffe, assistant bailiff at the south side municipal court last year lost a 27-year-old moustache, which he attributes to the alleged crookedness of Chicago White Sox players. McAuliffe did not have much money last fall, but he had much confidence in the White Sox. He bet Denny Costello, professional bondsman, his moustache against $25 the White Sox would win. McAuliffe shaved his moustache, gave it to Costello, and kept a clean-shaven upper lip seven months according to the articles of agreement.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

workers call a strike, a critical phase of the dispute between labor and the Government would immediately ensue, it is believed, as the ministry of labor has been exerting its utmost efforts to prevent such a step. Sentiment in the railwaymen's union seems to be divided over the course to be pursued by the organization, one wing opposing the calling of a strike, and the other favoring a walkout. Leaders of the Transport Workers' Union were in conference yesterday with the trades union committee, but nothing was learned as to the trend of the meeting.

At the conclusion of the morning session held by the executive committee of the National Union of Railwaymen, J. H. Thomas, the general secretary, announced that the railroad men were considering the question of sympathetic action with the miners. Mr. Thomas declared the industrial situation might develop into a dangerous one, and that efforts should be made immediately to bring the two sides together.

Early Action Expected.

The belief was expressed in labor circles during the forenoon that the Government would make some move within a few hours to call a fresh conference of miners and coal owners to examine the adjustment plan advanced in the House of Commons yesterday by Mr. Wm. Bruce, Labor member of Parliament, and president of the South Wales Miners' Federation. The labor unions other than the miners, it was declared in these circles, are against an extension of the strike if there is the slightest chance of negotiations being reopened.

No change was reported in the situation in South Wales, where the attitude of the miners is still a determined one. The only trouble chronicled was another small disturbance in the Tony-Pandy area last evening.

At Seghill, in Northumberland, several hundred men, women and children raided a colliery siding and took 100 tons of coal for their personal use.

The London correspondents of both the Manchester Guardian and the Sheffield Daily Telegraph state in their dispatches they were informed that at yesterday's meeting of the delegates of the National Union of Railwaymen, Secretary Thomas was defeated in his fight against a sympathetic strike, but succeeded in getting an adjournment of the meeting until today. Unless the negotiations are reopened, these accounts declare, the section of the railwaymen which gained control of the organization will propose a "lightning" strike, beginning at midnight tonight.

Mr. Thomas' attitude as he left today's conference was very grave, giving the impression that the discussions had reached a critical stage. Asked whether he had been defeated in the conference and a strike had been decided on he replied: "Oh, no," but refused to discuss the question further.

ALL THEATRES IN BRITAIN TO CLOSE IF STRIKE LASTS

Quebec, Oct. 21.—All the theatres in Great Britain will be closed if the coal strike lasts eight weeks, H. V. Esmond, noted British dramatist, stated on landing here from the liner Victorian last night. Mr. Esmond said that the shutting up of the theatres would probably bring about a revolution.

COAL STRIKE WILL INCREASE COST OF LIVING, PREDICTION

LONDON, Oct. 20.—One effect of the coal strike will be an increase in the cost of living, owing to the decline in the value of the pound sterling and the increased cost of inward-bound freights, caused by the diminution of exports, declared Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, in answering a question in the House of Commons today.

Increased production, remarked Mr. Chamberlain, was a necessary condition for a permanent reduction of the cost of living, and whatever the immediate effect of the strike might be on prices it must in the long run be injurious to the national well-being.

Official estimates of the number of people thrown out of employment in other industries as the result of the coal strike are lacking, but newspaper estimates place the number at 100,000 at least, with the total steadily growing.

Thomas Ashton, general secretary of the miners, in a speech at Manchester today, said that if the premier called the mine owners and miners' officials into conference with regard to getting more production out of the mines the first meeting would give the premier all the guarantees as to increased output he needed. The miners' leaders were willing, Mr. Ashton said, to attend such a conference.

A big increase in emigration to Canada may be one result of the strike of British coal miners. Reports received from Morristown, near Swansea, Wales, state that many workers there who have been made idle by the strike have decided to emigrate to Canada at an early date.

De Laval Separators
Are By Far the Most Economical!

Real economy is never short-sighted. It never confuses PRICE with VALUE.

PRICE is what you pay for an article.

VALUE depends upon the amount and quality of service the article gives you.

You get by far the greatest actual value for your money when you buy a De Laval—BECAUSE a De Laval will give you much better and longer service than any other cream separator.

From the standpoint of its greater durability alone the De Laval is the most economical cream separator to buy, and when you also take into consideration its cleaner skimming, easier running, greater capacity and less cost for repairs, the price of the "cheapest" machine on the market is most exorbitant compared with that of the De Laval.

And there is no reason why you should let its FIRST COST stand in the way either, because the De Laval may be purchased on such liberal terms that it will actually pay for itself out of its own savings.

Call on the nearest De Laval agent, or write our office.

WORK OF HOUSING BODY EXPLAINED TO TRADES UNION MEN

Questions, Criticisms Hurled At E. R. Dennis At Council Meeting.

COAL $20 PER TON

This Is City Price—Farmers Pay $15, Delegate Claims.

Work of the London Housing Commission to date was explained to the members of the London Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night by E. R. Dennis, chairman of the commission, and F. B. Lavender, business agent. The addresses of the housing commission representatives were followed by copious questions and criticisms, which crowded the remainder of the council's business over to a very late hour.

Delegate Stuart, who had inspected the Pine Lawn houses on Thanksgiving Day, complained that there were not enough bedrooms, whereupon Delegate R. Hessel, a member of the commission, explained that through an error the furniture company had furnished one house with parlor furniture in what ought to have been the third bedroom. Other delegates then protested against building workingmen's houses without any parlors. Hadn't the workingman as much right to a parlor as anybody else? Besides, the kitchens were too small, and if a kitchen cabinet and a cooking range could possibly be crowded in at best, there wouldn't be any room for the housewife.

Chairman Dennis explained that this year there is a big demand for small houses with only two or three bedrooms. Next year the commission may build houses with as many bedrooms as anybody desires.

Creative Thought.

Mr. Dennis opened his address by sketching the progress of evolution. At first man pictured progress in terms of physical force. Next, he turned to philosophy and advanced in this sphere. Later he came to art. The keynote of progress in the twentieth century, said Mr. Dennis, was the imperial power of thought. Thought is the only creative force in the world. The sane, constructive influence of creative thought was making the world better today.

Reference was made to the shortage of houses, which existed even before the war, and has been aggravated each succeeding year since the outbreak of hostilities, when building stopped. To date the housing commission has built or will have completed, when the public utilities commission gets the water mains laid, so that the construction work can be finished, a total of 116 houses.

Increase the number of houses in London and bring the rent profiteers to terms by more competition, was the advice of Mr. Dennis.

Delegate Keith reported for the coal committee that the public utilities coal department would be able to sell coal at not more than $20 a ton, probably less. One delegate declared he could get coal for $18, and Arthur Mould thought $13, which the committee is paying at the pit's mouth, was a high cost price to begin with. Another delegate stated that Clandeboye farmers who buy co-operatively are buying it at $15 or less.

Joseph Hill reported that the co-operative movement was meeting with success, and that the society would meet tonight instead of Friday night this week.

More Members.

Raymond Smith reported for the social service committee and Delegate Vinen for the juvenile court committee. Additional members were appointed to an educational committee to carry out ideas advanced by Delegate Stuart for formation of a workers' educational society in co-operation with the Western University authorities.

John F. Thomson, reporting for the high cost of living committee, intimated that if the city council does not take action on the question of rent profiteering, the committee will publish the names of the alleged rent profiteers in the local labor paper, "The Herald."

Announcement was also made by Mr. Thomson that J. M. Donahue, solicitor for the trades and labor council, had through George Murphy entered action against the City Gas Company on account of the "ready-to-serve" charges demanded. If the city will not join with the plaintiff, the city will be then named as co-defendant with the gas company to avoid technical stumbling-blocks through the individual consumer having no direct agreement with the company. Support was voted by the labor council in meeting the cost of litigation.

The labor day committee report submitted by Delegate Cummings showed a favorable balance of $676.02, out of which $300 was voted to subscribe for shares in the Labor Temple Company.

COLLEGIATE PLANS ARE NEARLY READY

Preliminary plans for the new collegiate may be presented to No. 3 committee of the board of education on Thursday afternoon. Architect L. E. Carrothers has been busy with them since the last meeting of the board, and is now in a position to give the committee general information regarding the building. There is no possibility of tenders being called for at this meeting, according to the chairman of the committee, Trustee Thomas Rowe. The department of education will be consulted about the plans before this is done.

THIS SOUNDS BETTER

A resident of London had occasion to call a few days since at the "Roycroft Shops," East Aurora, New York, and was more than pleased to see a prominent notice to the effect that "Canadians and their money are both welcome at par, being classed at 100 per cent."

This was in marked contrast to Black Rock and Buffalo, where Canadian money was being discounted anywhere from 9 to 20 per cent.

LONDON MAY TRY PROPORTIONAL VOTING SCHEME

Legislature Committee Favors Trial in Few Centres First.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Proportional representation may be tried in Ontario on a small scale at first, as was the case in Manitoba in the recent general elections in that province, according to the consensus of opinion of the members of the special committee of the Legislature appointed to look into the matter, as expressed at a meeting here today. No decision was arrived at, but a sub-committee was named to draw up recommendations to be submitted at the next meeting of the special committee on November 17.

The sub-committee consists of the following members of the Legislature: H. P. Hill, West Ottawa, chairman; Hon. George S. Henry, East York, and Damas Racine of Russell.

Five Rural Ridings.

Thomas Magladery, M. P. P. for Temiskaming, suggested that five rural ridings in Eastern Ontario, five in Western Ontario, and one urban centre be grouped for a trial of proportional representation

A suggestion that Ottawa and Hamilton be grouped with the rural ridings immediately adjacent was objected to by Hon. Mr. Henry, who contended that the cities would dominate in the representation in such a case. London was suggested, as the population of Middlesex was nearer equal to that of the city than the counties adjacent to Ottawa and Hamilton. Lieut.-Col. W. H. Price of Parkdale did not take kindly to the suggestion that Toronto be made a place for a trial of the new system.

Opposes Plan.

J. H. McNicoll of the British Imperial Association, this city, opposed proportional representation on the ground that it would abolish the old party system and establish a group system, which might include groups of aliens. He suggested that a vote of the people be taken as to whether they wanted the system or not.

Letters were produced from Winnipeg residents concerning the working of proportional representation in that city, all being favorable to the new system.

Hon. Thomas H. Johnson, attorney-general, wrote that "the proportional representation system gives a more truly representative legislature than the system of single member constituencies.

ALDA GIVEN GREAT OVATION BY LARGE AUDIENCE AT GRAND

Encore After Encore Greets Noted Soprano — Seneca Pierce, Accompanist, Delights.

A flash of blue upon the stage, then a golden rain of harmony, pulsating, vibrating, trilling! It is Alda upon the Grand Opera House stage rendering "The Singer" a second time to the entranced audience, gathered there last night under the auspices of the Musical Art Society for the first concert of the season. Possessing a soprano voice of marvellous richness, usually softened to melting sweetness, but capable of being drawn out into sparkling brilliancy, Madame Alda sang this song composed for her and dedicated to her by Maxwell, in a never-to-be-forgotten manner. Although striving to affirm with every note coming from her silver throat her own insignificance beside the songster of the trees, it was difficult for the singer to impress upon the listeners the verity of the enunciation of her song. The whole evening was one long-drawn-out applause, punctuated with most marvellous moments of song.

And "The Singer" was not the only number repeated. With a simple charm and graciousness of manner, Madame Alda consented to sing over again "The Birth of Morn" (Leoni), "My Little House" (Seneca Pierce), and "Minnetonka" (Lieurance), every one a gem, interpreted with an intensity of feeling and dramatic power. Indeed, the charming personality of the singer, her depth of feeling and her dramatic instinct, all added to an extraordinary vocal power, leave her standing high in the ranks of prima donnas. Her rendition alone of "The Birth of Morn," with its final succession of sustained notes, rising until they almost reach the skies, was sufficient guarantee of an unusually great artist.

"An Open Secret" finished the last group of wonderful songs, and then came the climax, "There Is No Death," and swift upon it the familiar bars of the National Anthem, sung with a patriotic fervor.

The aria from "Mefistofele" (Boito) was perhaps the biggest number of the evening, and for the first time in the program displayed the extraordinary versatility of the artist's voice. "The Star," which followed, was a delightful piece of colorful music and in this number the singer's voice flashed out into a more decided brilliancy than in any other group. A group of folk songs, Swedish, Finnish, Norwegian and French, sometimes jubilant, sometimes wild, passionate or sad were listened to with delight, as was the opening group, including "Lungi dal caro bene" (Secchi) "Je suis qu'une Bergere" (Philidor). "The Lass With a Delicate Air," (Arne), and most charming of all "My Lovely Celia" (Munro), in which was got the first glimpse of the really great artist.

Then there were encores a many "I Love the Moon," a pretty lullaby, a crooning negro melody and a sprightly humorous little thing about "If No One Ever Marries Me," not forgetting the last of all "There Is No Death."

With Madame Alda came Seneca Pierce, a youthful pianist of very great ability. As an accompanist he worked absolutely in harmony with the singer, playing through almost the entire program without music and with his eyes continually on every movement of the artist, as were his hands following her every mood. As a solo pianist Mr. Pierce also showed himself to be a master, and not less so in his own composition, "The Devil's Courtship," than in the other numbers, "Br'er Rabbit" (MacDowell), a waltz from Edward Collins, and Chopin's Nocturne in C Sharp Minor. His interpretation of the latter was delightful, but the favorite of all was his own, "The Devil's Courtship," a weird succession of harmonies, with here and there a series of unfinished chords, fascinating in their elusiveness.

A splendid house greeted this first Musical Art concert of the season, which is but one of a series of four, which will include Edward Johnson, known as "Canada's Caruso," and Vasa Prihoda, the celebrated Bohemian violinist, who makes his first Canadian appearance in London, and lastly the Musical Art Society orchestra under the direction of A. D. Jordan. Such concerts as these alone advertise London as a coming musical centre of prominence.

APPROVE PLANS TO ESTABLISH CLINICS IN LONDON DISTRICT

Social Service Organizations Say Great Need For Them —Interesting Lectures.

Plans to establish medical clinics throughout the surrounding district as suggested by social service organizations were approved by the general session of the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine, which was held in the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday afternoon. The executive of the university extension course committee was given full power to operate. Social organizations claim that there is a great need for clinics in this district, and although there was some objection at the meeting to the proposed clinics they are now an established fact. The university extension course committee will supervise the operations of the organizations that will estblish the clinics.

Dr. Le Count, professor of pathology Rush Medical College, coroner's physician city of Chicago, and director of Sprague Research Institute, gave an illustrated lecture on "Diseases Causing Sudden Death." The slides showed how post-mortems are made and the interesting data procured in each case. He claimed that great care should be taken in this work, as it supplies valuable information for the medical profession to work upon.

Dr. Charles G. Stockton, professor of medicine at the University of Buffalo, gastro enterologist, gave a clinic on a series of gastric and hepatic cases. More than 100 persons attended the session. Dr. Hoover of Cleveland will address the next meeting of the academy.

PROMOTIONS MADE ON POLICE FORCE

Thomas Nickle Is Appointed Inspector of Detectives.

Detective Bolton.

Several important changes were made on the local police force at a meeting of the police commission on Wednesday afternoon. Following the establishment of an inspectorship of detectives, a new office in the local force, to which Sergeant of Detectives Thomas Nickle was appointed, four other members of the force were promoted.

Detective Robt. Egelton will succeed Mr. Nickle as sergeant of detectives. Mr. Egelton has been on the local detective force for more than thirty years. Among those who are in a position to know of the consistently good work done by him during that time, there is a general feeling of approval.

Police Sergt. Thomas Bolton was appointed a detective to succeed Mr. Egelton. The appointment is a popular one, as during the time Mr. Bolton has been on the force, and especially during the few years he has been a sergeant, he has established himself firmly in the favor of everyone he came in contact with both on the staff and among civilians.

P. C. Roy Monteith was made a sergeant to succeed Sergt. Bolton. P. C. Elmer Walsh, who has been on station duty for some time, was appointed patrol sergeant, and will be in charge of all motor vehicles.

Little need be said regarding the appointment of Detective Nickle to the position of inspector of detectives. Mr. Nickle is one of the most popular officers who ever served on the local force, and undoubtedly the appointment will meet the approval of the citizens of London. He was prominently mentioned for the position of of police chief when Chief of Police Williams resigned.

SALE OF ABERDEEN ANGUS ASSOCIATION PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Thoroughbreds From All Parts of Ontario Offered —Prices High Enough.

The attendance at the first annual auction sale of Aberdeen Angus cattle, held at the fair grounds under the auspices of the Ontario Aberdeen Angus Association, was far from what had been anticipated by those at the head of the association. Because of the small attendance the prices were in many cases exceedingly low, but some of the buyers stated that the prices were high enough considering the fact that the majority of the cattle were only in the ordinary sale condition. However, considering both these drawbacks, the sale was a success.

Thoroughbreds from many parts of Ontario were sold. Several local buyers were present, and some very good stock was bought by them. Major J. E. Smallman paid $360 for Tro Pride of Alloway, a bull. He was junior champion and reserve grand champion at the London fair in 1918. His sire is Queen's Edward, and his dam Trojan's Pride. Rosebud's Leroy, another fine specimen of a bull, was bought by W. B. Dashmer of Fisherville. The price paid for him was $425. H. C. Soldan of Hensall paid $255 for the bull Prescott of Larkin Farm.

Sir Edmund Walker of Lefroy, Ont., bought several of the thoroughbreds. He also offered many for sale. Among those he purchased were Marguerite, $180; Alloway Pridette, $180, and Violet of Maplewood, $215. Elm Park Rosebud, one of the cows offered by Sir Edmund, brought $320. This was purchased by A. E. Edwards of Watford. Her bull calf was sold with her.

A feature of the sale was the price paid by Lowe & Heiben of Elora for Pride of Sunny Acres II. This cow brought $550. This price was the highest any animal went during the sale.

Robert McEwen of London paid $475 for Alice of Fairbank, with her calf. He also bought Princess Iris of Fairbank for $310, and Edna Park Pride XVIII. for $310.

The purchasers will ship their cattle today. It is understood that there will be another sale here next year. John T. Kiely, Toledo, Iowa, was the auctioneer.

STREET CAR MEN'S EXECUTIVE SILENT

Decline To Give Out Statement of Doings Last Night.

Although the executive committee of the street railymen's union met last night, there was nothing for publication, President John Colbert told the press. He intimated that possibly there would not be anything given out regarding the meeting for a least another day.

On Saturday the union gave the executive committee the power of calling a strike if the men did not receive the desired wage of 52 cents and hour. It was thought at that time that such action would not be taken this week. Until the executive sees fit to give out a statement the public will not know the latest news on the situation.

WRONG ADDRESS.

Police here have been asked to locate relatives of John Howard, aged 12 years, who was found in Wellburn, a place located about five miles from St. Marys. The boy gave his address as 168 Dundas street. Investigation proved that this was the address of a local business establishment. At present the boy is being held by the Wellburn police.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

SUDDEN DISPOSITION OF SUGAR ORDERS IS CREATING SUSPICION

Rapidity of Govt. and Docilit y of Refiners Leaves Suspicion That Some Other "H elp" Is Under Way in Form of Loans or Rebate of Import Duties.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—The remarkable rapidity with which the Government has disposed of the sugar order of the board of commerce and the unexpected docility with which the sugar refiners have accepted the Government's ruling as to the board's functions, have left the capital in a condition of gasping wonderment.

That wonderment, be it said, is tempered with the "sneaking suspicion" that there is a nigger in the woodpile, and the way is simply being prepared for a more direct and efficacious method of granting relief to the suppliants. The right of the board of commerce to restrict methods of purchase and sale has been challenged by the Government, and the challenge, unexpectedly enough, was backed by the refiners, who admitted at the conclusion of a well-prepared brief that there was no warrant in law for such restrictions. But the function of price fixing has not yet been taken from the board. That function may be exercised. But that is a minor consideration

Public Hearing.

The fact remains that at the "public" hearing of the sugar situation held by the Government, the only persons heard were the refiners, and that they saw the Government before the public was admitted. They presented a carefully prepared memorial, at the conclusion of which they admitted that the board had been wrong and the Government right so far as the strict legal functions of the board were concerned, and then they commended their case to the mercy of the Government and the people and expressed absolute confidence that justice would be done.

Their case, it may be said, was based absolutely and utterly upon alleged unnatural restrictions by the former Board of Commerce and upon alleged mistaken orders by the Canadian Trade Commission. The former Board of Commerce had restricted prices on the promise that the refiners would be protected on a falling market. The trade commission had ordered the laying in of large supplies of raw sugar at a time when raw was selling high. Both are Government commissions.

O'Connor With Refiners.

Unfortunately, probably, for the public, W. F. O'Connor, former head of the Board of Commerce, is now, directly or indirectly in the employ of the refiners. Unfortunately also, Rhys Fairbairn, formerly of the Trade Board, appears to be in a similar position, for he was here today intent, if necessary, upon speaking on their behalf. What is left of the Trade Commission, however, declines to accept the responsibility laid upon it by the refiners. Questioned as to the charge today, J. H. Wilkie declared that: "In as far as the commission is concerned we decline to be made the scapegoat."

The commision declares that "never at any time did it direct the refiners to purchase various quantities of sugar, as stated. The only communication forwarded to the refiners in regard to sugar was one by Mr. Fairbairn, and which cannot by any stretch of imagination be construed as an order to buy raw sugar. "In any case," the commission points out, "the Canadian refiners knew perfectly well that the powers of the Canadian Trade Commission were limited to the granting of export and import licenses, and it appears ridiculous to say that their policy of buying should have been dictated to them by Mr. Fairbairn. It certainly does not seem likely that the refiners who have had long experience in the business should accept without demur any order issued by one who was entirely ignorant of the sugar business."

Simply Suggested.

The letter from Mr. Fairbairn referred to simply suggested that the refiners be prepared to make certain deliveries for the home market. If there were any objections or criticism to offer the refiners were invited to submit them. None were offered.

So that there is a distinct difference of opinion on the question.

In any case delegations of governmental functions to more or less irresponsible bodies, commissions, or boards such as have been carried to excess during the past few years, appears to have proven to be a farcical failure, resulting only in the training of special counsel for the interests, the curbing of which these bodies were ostensibly created to carry out.

The refiners expressed confidence that they would secure justice from the Government. What line that "justice" will take is conjectural. By some it is predicted that it will take the form of a loan to the refiners to help them meet their liabilities to the banks. Others predict that it will be in the form of a rebate of duty on raw sugar imported. It remains to be seen.

SUGAR WILL SELL AT 16 CENTS NEXT WEEK, IS PREDICTION

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—The news that the order of the Board of Commerce concerning the sugar trade had been permanently suspended by the Government was enthusiastically received by a number of local wholesalers and brokers this morning.

S. G. Bendon, a local broker, stated that, in his opinion, the effect of the Government's decision would mean that sugar could be imported from the United States on the New York basis, which would result in a considerable saving to the Canadian people. Refined sugar, he stated, is selling at 12½ cents per pound in New York today, an increase of a cent over the price of the last few days.

This would mean sugar at 17½ cents per pound for the Canadian consumer. The result will be that the refiners here will have to drop their prices to correspond with the American product, and, in the opinion of Mr. Bendon, there is little danger of the refiners going out of business as a result of the loss thus incurred.

COMMERCE BOARD MAKES NO COMMENT

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—Members of the Board of Commerce had no comment to make this afternoon when the cabinet's decision on the sugar situation was announced. Captain W. White, chairman of the Board of Commerce, declined to say anything on the matter for publication.

DRANK 232 BOTTLES OF REAL BEER DAILY FOR SIXTY DAYS

Claim of Two Violators of O. T. A. in Windsor Court.

28,000 BOTTLES VANISH

Fined $2,000 Each and One Month in Sandwich Jail.

WINDSOR, Oct. 20.—All previous records have been broken by John Mauransky and Frank Panther, residents of Sandwich West Township, according to their sworn testimony today, when they claimed to have drank 28,000 bottles of real beer within the past 60 days. The men appeared to answer charges of breaches of the Ontario temperance act, and each claimed that he and his wife had consumed 14,000 bottles.

The court figured it out that this represented approximately 116 bottles daily, or $40 worth each of amber fluid, and declined to believe them. The magistrate sentenced them to pay fines of $2,000 each, together with one month in Sandwich jail, or six months in default of payment.

The previous record claim for drinking made in Windsor police court was made by a women defendant recently, when she boasted of consuming five quarts of whiskey daily. She was convicted in the local court, but her story carried acquittal on appeal.

VETERAN TEACHER DIES IN HARNESS

Death Came Very Suddenly To Miss M. F. McCowell At Galt.

GALT, Oct. 20.—To die in the performance of her duty was the destiny of Miss M. F. McCowell, head teacher of St. Mary's separate school, who died very suddenly this afternoon. Miss McCowell was teaching her class as usual when she was suddenly taken ill and asked the school nurse, who was making her annual visit, to take her class while she took a rest. A few minutes later the nurse went to the rest room and found the veteran teacher dead, sitting in a chair.

Miss McCowell was a native of Hamilton, and had been head teacher of the local school for over 40 years, during which time she had won an enviable reputation as a teacher, her record in the entrance examinations being an exceptionally fine one, and she was admired by her students.

It is understood a brother and sister in Hamilton, survive, and until they could be communicated with no arrangements had been made for the funeral.

LYNX VISITS HEN HOUSE IN SYDENHAM TOWNSHIP

Farmers Are Anxious To Hear of the Brute's Death.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 20.—A large lynx has been seen at Silcotte, Sydenham Township, and local hunters are preparing to give it a warm reception the next time it is located. The last recorded view of the animal took place on Sunday night, when Newton Johnstone encountered it when he went to close the door of his henhouse. Assuring himself that the ugly-looking brute which faced him in the doorway was a lynx, Mr. Johnstone slammed the door to before it could spring, and, believing he had made it a prisoner, went to call a neighbor to come and shoot it, but on their return to the henhouse the animal had disappeared, apparently having escaped by a rear door.

Lynx, or wild cats, as they are popularly called, are quite rare in this section of the country, though one was recently heard of in Bruce County, and the farmers are anxious to hear of the death of the marauder before their henhouses receive a visit

FARMER CHOSEN AS FEDERAL CANDIDATE IN LAMBTON COUNTY

BRIGDEN, Oct. 20.—At the joint convention of the Lambton U. F. O. and Labor party, held there this evening, Robert J. White of Moore Township was elected as candidate for the Federal elections by a majority of 12 over his nearest opponent, Mr. Crawford of Sarnia, labor candidate in the last provincial elections.

There was a large attendance at the meeting and 20 names were placed in nomination, the vote for Mr. White and his runner-up being 98 and 86, respectively.

Mr. Moore has been a member of the Moore Township Council for fifteen years and reeve by acclamation for the last seven years.

NEW UNDER SECRETARY'S APPOINTMENT A BAR TO PEACE IN IRELAND

Nationalists Claim It an Indication of Government's Determined Policy.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—The appointment of Sir Ernest Clarke as a new undersecretary in Ireland, especially for the northeast area, is regarded here as showing the intention of the govcrnment to proceed with its home rule bill. The essential feature of that bill is the provision of two parliaments in Ireland; and so long as the coalition government lasts it is expected to insist on preserving the separate treatment of Northeast Ulster. Since it is contemplated to have a parliament in working order in Belfast early next year, whatever the rest of Ireland does, it is obviously convenient to have during the interval an official administration which will lead up to the change.

The plan of enrolling "well-disposed citizens in Belfast to assist the authorities," which means the recognition in some form of the Ulster Unionist organization and its Volunteers, is looked at here from the same point of view. It is vigorously denounced by the Nationalists throughout Ireland as a yielding by the government to Sir Edward Carson. In the view of the government it is merely an anticipation by a few months of the powers which the Belfast government will have when the home rule bill comes into operation. The belief is that the recognized existence of such a force would tend to check the rioting of irresponsible people. Though the government decisions will be agreeable to Unionist Belfast, they have disheartened southern Unionists, who see that they point to partition.

The Irish Times says: "So long as it is possible to assume that the appointment of an assistant under-secretary for Northeast Ulster implies the passage and enforcement of the partition bill, that appointment will be an obstacle in the path of peace."

The same paper objects also to the recognition of the Ulster Volunteers. It says:

"The Ulster Volunteers are well drilled and organized. Many of them are men of substance and education, accustomed to the exercise of large responsibilities. Our fear is, however, that the official recognition of the Northern Volunteers, or of any large number of them, would complete the unhappy marshaling of Ireland into two armed camps. If the northern forces are taken into the service of the crown, the republican armies will accept the challenge, and the stage will be set for a tragedy of civil war that, perhaps provoked by some trivial incident, may drown the last hopes of Irish settlement in a sea of blood."

DAIL EIREAN FAILS TO STOP EMIGRATION

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—The proclamation of Dail Eireann prohibiting emigration has only had a slight effect, and the American consulate is daily dealing with applications for passports. On a landing of the consul's office the Dail decree is displayed forbidding the emigration of Irishmen of military age, and of all citizens of the Irish Republic without the written consent of Dail Eireann.

Intending emigrants are supposed to apply to the local Sinn Fein justices, giving their reasons for leaving Ireland, and full explanations must be forwarded to the republican minister for home affairs. Nevertheless, the applications to the American consul continue, most of them, however, from women. From 100 to 150 is the daily average. Third class pasages to New York are said to be booked for months ahead.

HAS BRIGHT FUTURE.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20.—Harvard College gained a genius at studies and a potential batsman for its baseball nine when Frederick Santoo of Wapwallopen, Pa., 13 years of age, registered as a member of this year's freshman class. He has mastered five languages and works problems in calculus with facility. He is also reputed to be a budding Babe Ruth.

Toronto May Secede

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Denouncing the royal commission which is investigating the radial railway schemes of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission because "all the books and the private information of the hydro movement had been revealed in the witness-box," Mayor T. L. Church today declared that this sort of thing would "strangle and throttle the whole scheme," and he intimated further that if it went much further he would move that the city have an accounting with the province and secede from the province on hydro matters.

In this way, the mayor said, Toronto could handle its own light and power schemes, with Sir Adam Beck as trustee. He states that Toronto held 50 per cent of all hydro interests.

CONVICTS HAVE TELEGRAPHIC CODE FOR COMMUNICATING FROM CELL TO CELL, CLAIM

Kingston Prisoners Were Able To Stage Demonstration by Keeping in Touch With One Another in This Manner by Tapping On Walls.

KINGSTON, Oct. 20.—It was learned today that convicts at the Portsmouth Penitentiary have a complete system of tapping or "teleg raphy." Through it they carry on conversation from one cell to another, and that this has been the means through which they have combined their forces to create a disturbance by hooting and calling.

The tapping, it is stated, has been done on the walls of the cells, and at times on their drinking cups. People have been wondering how they could carry out their schemes with such great success, but it is stated that for some time the prisoners have had this system of telegraphy in their cells, and that as a result many a scheme has been hatched in this way.

It is stated on good authority that several years ago many of the convicts were allowed to have white mice as pets, and that they were used to carry messages arouad among the convicts. There are no white mice in the pen today.

It is believed that the disturbance was staged for the benefit of the investigators now working under Col. Biggar of Ottawa, the convicts taking this means of showing their disapproval of certain rules and regulations which have been put into effect since the new warden, J. C. Ponsford, took over the duties as head of the institution.

HOUSE-CLEANING IS NEEDED AT PRISON

KINGSTON, Oct. 20.—Referring to the "strike" in the Portsmouth penitentiary where a number of convicts refused to work and created considerable disturbances by loud and continuous shouting for a day or two, the Standard today stated that it was probable the strike was nearly over, and that the strikers would shortly return to work, as the offenders seemed more reasonable and were quieter today than on any previous day since the strike began.

So well planned was the strike and so far-reaching were its ramifications in the big prison, according to the Standard today, that the warden found it necessary to place in solitary confinement twelve or fifteen of the strikers.

The jail delivery plot is being investigated, the Standard says, and all implicated in it will be brought to justice.

In an editorial on the Portsmouth penitentiary, the Standard says that what is needed is a thorough housecleaning to the end that the smuggling, the illegal trafficking, and the vicious practices and rascalities which have prevailed in the penitentiary for months should be ended. It credits Warden Ponsford and "his trusted associates" with endeavoring to stamp out these evils.

CONVICTS MAKE BIGGAR'S JOB HARD

KINGSTON, Oct. 20. — Lieut.-Col. Biggar of Ottawa has completed his investigation for the department of justice at Ottawa into charges made by former officials of the Portsmouth Penitentiary of having been wrongfully dismissed. All day yesterday, while he was holding the investigation in the big prison, convicts who had been confined to their cells kept up an incessant shouting and yelling, so that it was with difficulty that Colonel Biggar and those assisting him in the investigation could carry on their work. Colonel Biggar declined to make a statement as to the result of his inquiry at the penitentiary.

FOREST PATROLS DO WORK BY AEROPLANE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Aeroplane forest patrols in California were able recently to reach the scene of a fire 45 hours sooner than had they proceeded by train and pack-mule, a report to the army service shows. An aerial observer spotted the blaze in Lassen forest while all foresters were engaged in fighting another fire in the Merced forest. Planes picked up the firefighters in the Merced and rushed them to the Lassen fire.

"In three hours," says the report, "the fire-fighting personnel was on the job fighting the flames, whereas had they proceeded by train and pack-mule 48 hours would have been consumed.

"The day will come when men and equipment will be carried by airships to the scene of fire, both men and equipment dropped by parachute, while the airship will rain down fire-extinguishing chemicals from above."

SEEK SITE FOR POLICE OFFICE.

WINDSOR, Oct. 20.—Members of Windsor City Council on Thursday afternoon will conduct a tour of inspection of the city's properties with a view to selecting a suitable site for the location of the proposed new police department headquarters. Vigorous objection was raised by Acting Mayor Jackson today to the proposal to acquire by purchase a site near the present city hall, was responsible for a change in plans.

GIN COST HIM DEAR.

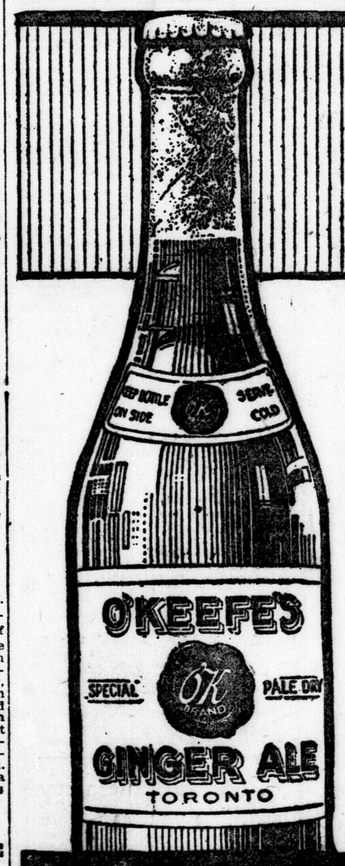

GUELPH, Oct. 20.—David Edwards, who says he has only been a resident of Guelph for about a month, this morning pleaded guilty in police court to the offence of being drunk, and was fined $10 and costs. A second charge of having liquor in his possession in other than his private dwelling was laid against him, and he also pleaded guilty to this and was fined $200 and costs. He swore that he obtained the liquor from a stranger, paying $6 a bottle for two bottles of gin, making the total cost a bottle over $133.

DON'T CROWD, GIRLS.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 20.—The following advertisement appeared in the "Help Wanted" column of an afternoon newspaper here:

"Housemaid with good appetite, food mostly rich fruit, steaks and chicken; perfumed bath and all toilet articles provided; every night off; limousine and amusement tickets provided; wages $35 weekly."

The advertising manager of the newspaper says the advertisement apparently was inserted in good faith.

Best For Everybody

When you order ginger ale, which every member of the family shares, you must have the best, because "best" means "purest"—and only O'Keefe's is best.

Misinformed people may imagine that certain imported brands come first, but tests prove that not only is O'Keefe's Pale Dry Ginger Ale more delicious, but made from the finest ginger and pure York Springs water, it is superior to any other Ginger Ale on the market.

CANADA DIVISION OF PERE MARQUETTE TO BE RECONSTRUCTED

Officials of Railway Looking Over Line.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Oct. 21.—The reconstruction of the Canada division of the Pere Marquette, which was held up during the war period, is again under definite consideration by the directors of the road. President Alfred and a dozen officials arrived this morning from Detroit, and they will proceed from here on a tour of investigation over the entire system in Canada. The proposed work will embrace a general and extensive improvement of the road, the laying of lengthened switches with a view of connecting them up in time, and double-tracking the road between St. Thomas and Blenheim, and later from there to Walkerville and Sarnia.

A roundhouse will be erected in St. Thomas; the facilities for freight interchange between the lines running into Blenheim will be extended, and the terminals at Rondeau and Sarnia will be improved. These provisions for facilitating the handling of the present increasing and prospective business has become imperative, said an official, that the work of reconstruction can no longer be delayed.

HAMILTON TIMES WILL BECOME MORNING PAPER

Toronto, Oct. 21.—The Hamilton Times will shortly leave the evening field and become a morning paper. The announcement was made this morning at the meeting of the directors of the Canadian Press, Limited. Conditional upon this change being made by the Hamilton Times, the proprietors of the Hamilton Spectator and the Hamilton Herald withdrew their applications for morning paper membership in Canadian Press, Limited.

NERVY THEFT OF SQUIRE'S AUTOMOBILE

Door of Garage Was Removed to Take Car Out.

Someone with more than an ordinary amount of nerve stole a car belonging to Squire H. Macklin, 106 Kent street, from a garage at the rear of his house, some time during Wednesday night. To get at the car the person or persons were forced to remove the garage doors from their hinges. Early this morning three young men with suitcases were seen in possession of the car. It was a Chevrolet, bearing license No. 53444, and serial number 27918. The police are working on the car.

TOOK WHEAT 480 MILES TO MARKET

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 21.—Unable to obtain cars in which to ship his wheat and finding local elevators filled to capacity, D. C. Hibbard, a Potter, Neb., farmer, carried 110 bushels of wheat on his two-ton truck to Omaha, 480 miles.

The trip required three days. The total expense was $22.09 or about 21 cents a bushel. The wheat sold on the Omaha market for $2 a bushel, which Hibbard said insured him a better profit than he would have received by selling at home.

MUST HAVE HIGHER RATES OR CEASE TO OPERATE VESSELS

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 21.—That the Royal Mail steam packet line is losing $15,000 to $20,000 per trip on its Canada-West Indies services, and will, if not granted an increase of freight rates to make up the deficit, have to cease the operation of this service, was the statement made today by John Allsop, Canadian general manager of the R. M. S. P. L. This situation he attributed to two main causes: One, that increased cost of operation, especially bunkering, and two, a heavy slump in northbound freights from the West Indies.

"Since July," said Mr. Allsop, "our boats have been returning almost empty."

SMALLPOX IN OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—An outbreak of smallpox, reported to be of a mild type, but of extensive proportions, has again occurred in this city. No fewer than 21 persons, found affected, were admitted to hospitals on Porters Island yesterday, bringing the total number of patients there up to 46. The majority of the cases admitted yesterday—14 to be exact—were from Ottawa College. The patients were youths from 16 to 18 years of age. Their cases were all reported to be mild in character.

DROP IN SUGAR DOES NOT MEAN CHEAPER CANDY

No Change Unless Five-Cent Reduction Is Made, Says Manufacturer.

"The price of candy will not be affected unless sugar drops five cents a pound," said Frank A. McCormick, vice-president of the McCormick Manufacturing Company, to The Advertiser.

There is any amount of sugar to be had, he said, and the refiners could sell it, but would have to be considerate.

Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles said that no price could be set locally for sugar. This would be done by the refiners in Montreal. He added that the refineries could set the price on their own sugar and the government would have nothing to do with it.

"There is an exceedingly large crop of sugar beets, and they are of the best quality," said Thomas McFarland, of the D. S. Perrin Company. "This alone is sufficient assurance that we will be able to get all the sugar we want. Canadian refineries will have to meet the prices set by the Americans."

"Sugar will not be any cheaper for some time in Canada," said George Wood, local agent for a sugar company, to The Advertiser today. He said that although the sugar beet crop in Canada this year has been far above that of past year, it would have no effect on lowering prices.

The big drop today, he said, was due to the open market set by the government. On Wednesday the price was $18.75 per cwt, but today local dealers were selling it at $17.95 per cwt. By the pound it was selling at 18c and 20c on Wednesday, but today quotations were 18c and 19c per pound.

Fire In British Capital Will Reach Millions

London, Oct. 21.—Fires which started last evening in the Hop Exchange in Southwark street, in the Borough district, were still burning this morning. Damage totalling many hundred thousands of pounds was done to the exchange. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

BELIEVE WISCONSIN WOMAN HAS CLUE TO A. J. SMALL MYSTERY

Toronto, Oct. 20.—Following receipt by the police department here of a letter from Madison, Wisconsin, from a woman whose name is withheld, Detective Austin Mitchell left tonight for that city with the expectation of obtaining some clue to the disappearance last December of Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatre proprietor, of Toronto. The letter stated that the writer could give the police some information which would assist in clearing up the mystery of Small's fate, and the executors of his estate were sufficiently impressed by the tenor of the letter to pay the cost of the detective's journey.

MILITIA STARS AWAIT CANADIAN SOLDIERS ENTITLED TO THEM

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—By Canadian Press.—Officials of the militia department stated today that the department has in its possession a considerable number of undistributed 1914-15 stars, the majority of which have been sent at least once, but have been returned through the mails. Ex-members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who are entitled to this award are requested to send their names and addresses to the secretary, military council, attention of the director of records, in order that the stars may be distributed to those entitled to them, at their present address.

NEW HOSPITAL IS PLANNED AT SEAFORTH

Seaforth, Oct. 21.—There was a good representation from various churches and organizations of the town at a public meeting held in Carnegie Hall last evening to discuss the establishment of a hospital in Seaforth.

The project was favorably considered, and a committee of six—Messrs. Sutherland, Neelin, Broderick, Paskes, Brown and Merner—was appointed to ascertain the cost of a hospital of not more than ten rooms, with the approximate cost of maintenance per year.

ARRANGE SITTINGS FOR TARIFF COMMISSION

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—(By the Canadian Press).—Dates for the eastern sittings of the tariff commission are now under consideration and will be announced in a day or two. Quebec, the maritime provinces, and the greater part of Ontario have still to be covered by the commission. The hearings will probably occupy as long a time as was occupied by the commission when touring the western provinces.

OBJECTION IS UPHELD.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 21.—An objection taken by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter against a recount of the votes in St. John County in the provincial general election of October 9 was upheld by Judge Armstrong in the county court yesterday afternoon. The declaration day totals showed that Hon. Mr. Baxter was elected by eight votes over A. F. Bentley.

CALGARY BUSINESS MEN OBJECTING TO ADVANCED RATES

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 21.—The manufacturers and wholesalers bureau of the Calgary Board of Trade presented a detailed argument before the railway commission yesterday against the increase of express rates by 40 per cent. No objection, it was stated, would be made to a reasonable increase. J. H. Hanna, representing the board, urged that the Dominion Express Company should make payments to the Canadian Pacific Railway on the same basis as the payments made by the Canadian Express Company to the C. N. R., 50 per cent of gross receipts, and points out that if this method were followed, the Dominion Express Company deficit would be shown to be cut in half.

AUSTRALIA MAY BORROW FROM U. S.

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 21.—Premier Storey, head of the Labor Government of New South Wales, in a speech in the Legislative Assembly today, referred to the reported readiness of the United States to lend money to Australia. He said that the Government preferred for the present to raise loans locally, but in the event of necessity would consider the question of raising money in the United States.

Replying to a question on the same subject, Sir Joseph Cook, the Commonwealth minister of the treasury, is reported to have said: "I should like to hear something about the terms of these American loans.

FORMER ENVOY PREFERS U. S. CELL TO RETURN HOME

Washington, Oct. 21.—Eckhardt von Schack, former German consul-general at San Francisco, has been granted a parole from Leavenworth penitentiary, but is adverse to leaving the prison, because a deportation warrant awaits him, Attorney-General Palmer said today, in explaining why von Schack had not left the prison. Franz von Bopp, former German vice-consul at San Francisco, indicted and convicted with von Schack, left Leavenworth on parole several weeks ago.

The paroles for the two Germans were issued, Palmer said, after the Swiss minister to the United States had agreed to stand as "first friend" to them and be responsible for their acts.

Von Bopp, the attorney-general added, had expressed a desire to return to Germany, but von Schack wished to stay in America, and for that reason apparently prefers to remain in prison to escape the deportation proceedings.

GABY EXPECTED BIG INCREASE IN REVENUE

Chief Engineer Submits Further Figures Before Commission.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Testifying before the Sutherland radial commission today, Chief Engineer Gaby dealt with figures in the reports on the Toronto suburban line now running to Woodbidge and Guelph.

Under hydro control he expected passenger revenue to jump from $445,000 in 1920 to $553,751 in 1921, and freight revenue from $37,206 in 1919 to $40,000 in 1921. This would result from better service and the fact that the line would be brought into a central Toronto terminal, and $287,900 would be spent on betterment. The line is 64 miles long, and is at present operated by the Canadian National Railway, and is to be purchased for $2,628,000, the amount of the road's bonded indebtedness.

Although a report of expenses and revenues of the road for the year 1918 showed net earnings of $53,200, Mr. Gaby said there really was a deficit in that year of $65,100, no account having been taken of fixed charges, amounting at 4½ per cent on the bonded indebtedness to $118,300 per annum. The Niagara Central Line was to be taken over on assuming $1,098,000 of bonds, payment of $2,446,874, and the hydro commission proposed to spend in betterment $819,450, bringing the total cost to $4,363,830. The itterest on this sum would be $214,154.

CAR CARRYING MAN TO OWN WEDDING IS STRUCK BY TRAIN

Belford, N. J., Oct. 21.—A touring car bearing a bridegroom-elect and others who were to attend a wedding was struck last night at Belford crossing by the Seabright express of the Central Railroad, and the sister of the bridegroom-elect, Miss Margaret Casler, aged 11, and Albert Norris, aged 50, were killed. Five were hurt, one probably fatally.

After the first shock of the tragedy had waned, Orville Casler and his parents journeyed to the home of Miss Norris, the expectant bride-elect, in another car, and after a family conference it was decided that the ceremony should go on.

The reception was cancelled, and the newly-married couple returned to mourn at the side of the groom's dead sister.

MUSEUM COMPANY IS FINED FOR DISPLAYING MURDERER'S FIGURE

Montreal, Oct. 21.—A wax-work show is a commercial institution and its display of figures which illustrate or call attention to a crime cannot be considered in the public interest and consequently cannot enjoy the privileges which the law accords, in certain conditions, to the historian, the critic and others. For these reasons, stated in a judgment which Mr. Justice Martineau delivered in the superior court yesterday, the International Shows, a limited liability company, which owns the Eden Museum, St. Lawrence Boulevard, was held to have committed a libel incurring damages to living relatives, by displaying the wax figure of Patrick Jean Baptiste Leamy, alias Delorme, who was hanged at Bordeaux jail on January 23, 1920, along with two others, for the murder of Alcide Payette, in 1917. The defendant company was condemned to pay to plaintiff $50 damages and the costs of an action of $200. The complainant was Delorme's brother-in-law, Henri Decelles of Longeuil, who sued for $5,000.

BLENHEIM WOMAN HURT.

Blenheim, Oct. 21.—Mrs. C. L. Von Gunten of Talbot street suffered a dislocation of her right shoulder Tuesday evening. She was preparing to go out, and just as she was leaving stumbled and fell, dislocating her shoulder and bruising herself otherwise.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

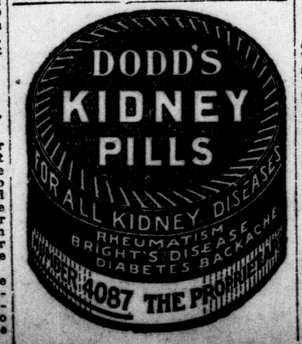

HAS SON IN LONDON.

Watford, Oct. 21.—Isaac Newell, aged 84, one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of Warwick Township, is dead at his home. Besides his wife, he leaves three sons and four daughters—John T. of Alberta, Jane of Toledo, E. F. of London, Mrs. Woolley of Strathroy, Ethel of Strathroy, Isaac H. of Watford, and Victoria at home.

BURIAL AT INGERSOLL.

Embro, Oct. 21.—The funeral of David McPherson, aged 62, held this afternoon from the family residence on Commissioner street, to Ingersoll Cemetery, was conducted by Rev. G. J. Hindley. He is survived by his wife, two sisters—Mrs. Alex. Kirk of Ingersoll, Mrs. Henry Sutherland, Saskatoon; two brothers—Donald and Hugh McPherson of West Zorra.

WRIT ISSUED.—A legal action has been entered in the county court by Carolina Klick against George Chantler. The plaintiff is alleged to have unlawfully removed a frame stable from the plaintiff's premises. The return of the stable is asked for, and in addition damages for detention of the stable. Both parties in the action reside in London.

SPAIN TO PRESENT EXPOSITION TO WORLD ON GRAND SCALE

Catalonia Makes Preparations For Show in 1924.

Barcelona, Oct. 20.—Catalonia has undertaken to present to the world's approval one of the most extensive and comprehensive expositions ever held, and, although it is not to open until 1924, the preparations already are far advanced. Under the supervision of Gen. Rubio, an engineer officer, recently retired from the Spanish army, the slopes of Montjuich are being transformed from an arid waste into an artistically laid out garden, in the centre of which the exposition buildings are being constructed.

The official title of the exposition is to be the International Exposition of Electrical Industries and the General Spanish Exposition. The ground allotted by the Government for the purposes of the exposition is 270 acres in extent, and, if necessary, 220 acres will be added, this depending on the amount of space asked for by exhibitors. Up to the present arrangements have been made for the erection of buildings covering a space of 2,200,000 square feet, and the architects have finished the plans and begun the erection of the chief pavilions.

One of the features of the exposition is to be the Palace of Light, where will be shown the most recent inventions from all parts of the world in connection with electric lighting. Other pavilions are to be devoted to exhibits of electrically-propelled implements for agriculture and industry.

In the exclusively Spanish department a great display is to be made of the progress of Spain in industry, commerce, science, art and social life, while the South American republics are each to have a pavilion of their own.

"Dry" Convention Is Postponed

Temperance Workers Waiting For Publication of Voters' Lists.

The convention which was to have been held some time this month in the interests of the temperance workers of the county of Middlesex will be postponed indefinitely, Professor James H. Bowman, who is chairman of the county temperance organization announced today.

A meeting of the executive was held recently, and it was decided that the question on which to vote was not really known. The voters' list has not yet been made out, and the Middlesex Temperance Organization will not hold its convention until the list is out and the question to be voted on thoroughly understood.

Professor Bowman stated that at any rate the convention would not be held until Nova Scotia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and the other provinces had voted. The organization will then prepare literature and complete arrangements for a whirlwind campaign.

WEDDING BELLS

PALMER—HESSEL.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hessel, on Wednesday, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding, when their eldest daughter, Kathleen, was united in marriage to Colin Leroe Palmer, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Palmer of Emery street, in the presence of only immediate relatives. Rev. A. S. H. Cree officiated. The bride, wearing a lovely gown of ivory satin, with overdress of beaded georgette, and carrying an ivory prayer book, gifts of the bridegroom, entered the drawing-room, which was tastefully decorated with ferns and autumn foliage, on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Longherin, played by Miss Thelma Hessel, her cousin. Miss Isabell Hessel was maid of honor, gowned in sand georgette, with corsage of Russell roses; Miss Dorris and Iris Hessel were flower girls. The groom was attended by Lyle Bamford. During the signing of the register, Miss Grace Smith, cousin of the bride, sang "Because." After the ceremony a dainty breakfast was served. Gifts were presented to the maid of honor, pianist, soloist, and groomsman, by the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer left later for Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a smart costume of brown broadcloth, with hat to match. On their return they will reside in London.

SINN FEIN POLICE RESORT TO NOVEL PUNISHMENT METHOD

Belfast, Ireland, Oct. 20.—The Sinn Fein police resort to old or unusual methods of punishing minor offenders. They marched a prisoner to a telephone pole at the National Bank recently, and fastened him to the pole with a rope. A board fixed to his breast bore the inscription: "I am a thief. I stole eggs and this is my just punishment."

Crowds gathered around, and inspected the prisoner, who vainly tried to effect his release. Ultimately his sister, hearing of her brother's plight, came on the scene and liberated him. It is reported that she has also been placed under arrest.

An engine driver of a munition train was similarly served in Dublin. He was tied to a lamp post opposite the railway station in Amiens street, with the word "Scab!" on a card suspended around his neck. A large crowd gazed on him for half and hour, when the police released him after filing through a padlock and handcuffs.

AROUSES INTEREST OF FRENCH BLUEBEARD

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Henri Landru, who is shortly to be placed on trial on charges growing out of the disappearance of eleven women to whom he had promised marriage, and who has acquired quite a reputation as a dry wit since his incarceration eighteen months ago, showed deep interest in the health of the mayor of Cork, Terence MacSwiney, on a hunger strike in a British prison.

Every morning he inquired of the jailer whether MacSwiney were still alive.

For a few days Landru showed a strong disinclination to partake of the usual prison fare.

"Are you trying to do the MacSwiney stunt, starve yourself?" the jailer inquired.

"The innocent never commit suicide," responded Landru sententiously.

COAL IS COMING.—Three cars of chestnut and stove coal for the Central Veterans' Council will arrive in the city some time this week. These cars will be distributed among the returned soldiers who send their applications to F. B. Lavender, secretary of the Central Veterans' Council. He said the prices were not set, but when delivered would be less than $20 per ton. He thought it would be around $18. With duty and freight paid it would arrive in London and be sold for about $17 per ton, but he figured on $1 per ton for delivery.

STANDARD STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Trethewey, at prices ranging from 24½@25½, was the heaviest issue traded in at this morning's session of the mining exchange. 10,200 shares changing hands. Dome Extension sold up to 40, and Lake Shore to 105. Mining Corporation sagged 4 points to 170. Sales approximated 27,055 shares.

Trades Council Buys New Flag

Flag Will Be Displayed At All Meetings of the Organization.

London Trades and Labor Council will purchase a Union Jack and display it at all meetings of the council in the Labor Temple hereafter. The motion to obtain a flag was made by Raymond Smith and seconded by Delegate Vinen. It passed without any dissenting vote. Mr. Smith in moving the resolution pointed out that in most halls and public meeting places the Union Jack adorned one of the walls. He raised the question whether it was proper or lawful to hold a public meeting without either displaying the Union Jack or singing "God Save the King." President McKay observed that the labor council was not a public meeting, but that the displaying of the flag would be desirable in any event.

At the last preceding meeting the council voted to discontinue singing "God Save the King," but this, the officers of the council state, was due to the poor singing talents of the members rather than to any disloyalty to the monarchical form of government. It was not out of any disrespect to the King, but rather out of respect for the Imperial Anthem, which is sung throughout the British world, but which some of the labor council members sang very, very badly.

400 Barrels Of Wine Seized

New York, Oct. 20.—Federal prohibition enforcement agents made one of the largest hauls here today since the dry law went into effect when they seized four hundred barrels of wine valued at $125,000 at the wholesale store of E. Musco. Fifty cases of whiskey also were seized.

C. N. R. CHIEF DENIES REPORT.

Moncton, N. B., Oct. 21.—Chief Tingley of the C. N. R. police here, gave out a statement yesterday in regard to the reported suspension of C. N. R. employees in Truro and vicinity. He states that these rumors, which have been going the rounds for some time, are unfounded, but adds "one, and only one arrest has been made at Truro."

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—The local stock exchange was very quiet this morning, and with the exception of Sugar, the price changes were very slight. Sugar, after its violent uuctuations of the past week, appears to have for the present, at least, been stabilized. Opening at 90¾, this stock advanced to 92, later reacting to 91½ at the noon close. This is a net gain of half a point from yesterday's final quotation. Abitibi, for which 73 was bid yesterday, opened this morning at 71¾, but later advanced to 72½; with a slackening in the demand the price fell off to 72. An odd lote of Steel Corporation sold at 54, with 100 shares selling 2 points lower. Consolidated Smelters was fairly active, 245 shares changing hands at 24.

In the unlisted section 1,360 shares of oil per sold down from 565 at the opening to 560 at the close.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

Quebec, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—Arrived: Steamer Victorian, from Liverpool.

The Inevitable Choice

MR. A. D. JORDAN of the London Institute of Musical Art wanted to purchase a fine piano for recital and concert purposes. Of course, Mr. Jordan chose a Heintzman and Co. Grand Piano.

The tone supremacy of Ye Olde Firme Heintzman and Co. piano has been proven so often that it is always the inevitable choice to those discriminating people who want the best.

U. S. HEALTH OFFICERS WILL HOLD CONVENTION IN DETROIT NEXT MONTH

Detroit, Oct. 21.—Detroit has been selected as the meeting-place for a national conference of United States health officers, to open November 30. Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, health commissioner, announced today. The conference was called on recommendation of a senate committee which recently inquired into the relating of housing conditions to health problems.

"This city, being the most overcrowded city in the country," Dr. Vaughan said, "led to the selection for the meeting."

ATTACKS NAVY LEAGUE.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—The chamber of commerce meeting yesterday afternoon staged a violent attack on the Navy League campaign for funds in this city. J. N. Cabana claimed that the money collected by the league would be spent in fostering imperialism in Canada. Joseph Quintal, president of the chamber, defended the league and its work, and in this was supported by several other members.

The chamber approved a report from the transportation committee indorsing a canal project between Montreal and St. Johns, Que.

JUGO-SLAVIA WILL LEAVE TERRITORY

Rome, Oct. 21.—Jugo-Slavia has promised to evacuate the plebiscite district of Klagenfurt, in Carinthia, and as a result Premier Giolitti will participate in negotiations for the settlement of the Adriatic question, says the Giornal d'Italia. These negotiations are expected to begin immediately, and Premier Yeanitch will head the Jugo-Slavian delegation.

If the Jugo-Slavs refuse to accept the Italian proposals, the newspaper says, Italy will resume her complete liberty of action.

LACK OF PRECAUTION.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 20.—The coroner's jury summoned to inquire into the death of George Plant tonight brought in a verdict that death was caused by burns sustained by the lack of precaution on the part of the company. It was recommended that fire glass should be placed inside the cotton room concerned, so that contents could be seen without the necessity of a man going inside. It was also recommended that Joseph Quintal, president of the chamber, defended the league and its work, and in this was supported by several other members.

The chamber approved a report from the transportation committee indorsing a canal project between Montreal and St. Johns, Que.

Coffee that is Everlastingly Fresh

You will never know the taste of coffee made from the fresh roasted coffee bean until you try Thermokept Coffee. Because under ordinary methods of packing in tins or paper the coffee is exposed to the air—and fresh roasted coffee and air are deadly enemies.

Coffee begins to lose strength and flavor the moment air touches it.

Now science gives us the Thermokept process. Thermokept means kept fresh. Coffee straight from the oven, packed under vacuum, and double sealed in air-proof, germ-proof tins. It stays fresh—just as long as it remains in the original sealed container.

Thermokept Coffee is selected, blended and roasted by experts. It is a scientific combination of the world's finest coffees. It is steel cut by the most modern methods and guaranteed to retain its strength and flavor while in the original sealed Thermokept container.

COST OF PAPER.

One of the disquieting signs of the times is the mortality of newspapers. Many that have been discontinued or amalgamated or swallowed up in others were shaky or inferior in value, but many useful organs of opinion have disappeared.

Kipling tells a story about a decaying mining town in the Western States that had three newspapers. "I don't see how this town supports three papers," he remarked to an inhabitant. "It doesn't," was the reply; "it takes three papers to support the town." And this was not altogether folly, as newspapers are certainly a support in several ways to any community, if they are conducted with vigor, intelligence and a conscience, as usually they are.

The rise in cost of paper will tell against not only newspaperdom, but serious literature in book form as well. More and more publishers have had to consider the financial return of a book, as the cost of production rose apace, and become disposed to reject any ventures which promise more edification of the public than profit to the dealers. Free expression of opinion along various lines has been handicapped by enhanced cost of printing almost as much as by old systems of repression and censorship, and all the better elements of the community should be glad of a stop to the rising prices of newsprint. Cheap books and paper are a salutary protection to a democratic country against oligarchy, intrigue, compacts, superstition and reaction.

WHY BRITAIN CONTINUES SUPREME.

That the much-heralded program of the United States to make itself the supreme shipping nation of the world is causing no concern in England is vouched for by no less an authority than F. A. McKenzie. He points out very clearly why Britain is likely to continue her supremacy on the seas. Discussing the plans of America, he says:

"British shipowners and British shipbuilders show no signs of alarm. There are certain very satisfactory reasons for this. Shipping primarily depends on three things: the efficiency and economy of building, the existence of a satisfactory personnel, and the establishment of world connections. If a fourth principle were to be added it would be economy in operation.

"In all these things England still leads. This is not a question of national pride, but of cold fact. At a time when a nation is about to be engaged in a serious struggle to maintain one of its most important industries, it would be mere folly to shut our eyes to the strength of our friendly rivals. But it is true that British shipbuilding still leads the world. It is true that we have an enormous advantage in our personnel. The British sailor, from the master of a great liner to the humblest deck-hand, is our great asset. Now America is not primarily a land of seamen as ours is. She has a comparatively small coast line from which sailors can be drawn, the New England coast. The great mass of American young men are inland, and cannot be induced to take permanently to the sea. The efficiency of the average American crew does not come anything near that of the average British crew. The same class of men in America who form the backbone of our mercantile marine, have other and more promising openings.

"We run our ships more economically and more knowledgably, and our merchant adventures have built up for generations great connections all over the world which cannot be duplicated. America, with her vast new tonnage, will play a greater part in world shipping than ever before, but those who imagine that British sea supremacy is passing, are needlessly disturbing themselves."

A DELICATE SITUATION.

Because Canada has in British Columbia a problem that offers more or less similar possibilities to those which have developed in California in connection with the Japanese, a little more than particular interest is being taken in many quarters in the results of the vote in California on November 2. Not knowing either of the presidential candidates well enough to get fighting mad over them, and not having reached her usual state of high pressure over the senatorial campaign, California is primarily interested in the election, because it will afford opportunity for a referendum on whether aliens shall be permitted to own or control California land.

This question is the thing that interests California right now more than anything else. And it is a particularly lively question because the Japanese Government, the administration at Washington, propaganda by Japanese now living in the state, and all the newspapers have taken vigorous positions on it and even the threat of war has hung over the issue from time to time.

In 1913, under the gubernatorial dictation of Hiram Johnson, California enacted her first alien land law. The intent of that law was to prevent aliens who are ineligible to citizenship from owning land in this state. It, however, does not prevent American-born children of ineligible alien parents from owning land.

Such ineligible aliens could and did resort to the expedient of purchasing land in the names of their American-born children and thereby acquired entire control of the land thus purchased just as effectively as if purchased direct by themselves. Furthermore, under the old Johnson law it was necessary to procure a guardian for such alien-born children to act for each property-holding minor until he or she had reached legal age. And it has been found that many lawyers have acted in this capacity, using their talents the while toward securing land for aliens.

Tokio hints that California is heading toward war. Sacramento replies that California and she alone will decide whether it is war today in Tokio or tomorrow in California. Californians are going to decide whether to stand with Sacramento or to abide by the wishes of Tokio and Washington. And, at this time, it looks as if Sacramento, which is the state centre of legislative action, will get the vote, unless Washington vigorously and effectively intervenes.

STUDENTS ON JAZZ.

The Manitoban, organ of the undergraduates of the University of Manitoba, lets off a shout in favor of jazz music. The Manitoban is very severe on "professorial piffle," and music that is "all technique and no art." Listen, poor, anaemic, cheap, underpaid professors, to the wisdom of the mob.

"Art is the expression of nature," says the voice of youth. Where did it learn this? (From the piffling professor, of course.) Any expression is art, say Croce and his followers. But expression in fullness means a whole lot, and some things seem hardly worth expressing, or too indecent to exhibit. In the old saying that "art is long and life is fleeting," the thought is that full expression of what is worth expressing takes considerable study, even by genius.

The yell of a savage, the cry of a baby, are such trivial expressions that most people would call them not "expressions of nature," but nature itself. So here we are driven to think that art is expression, yes, but expression that has deliberate and conscious character, an intellectual as well as emotional aim, a humane as distinguished from merely animalic tenor.

Music, saith the Manitoban, must "spontaneously express some elemental natural desire, not follow by rote the rules of a hidebound Boston musical authority." "Jazz is the music of the African coon, and quite naturally expresses the delight he feels. It is crude, it is barbarous, it is ridiculous, but it is expression of an elemental passion, uncontaminated by professorial piffle." But where is the really savage music or poetry or etiquette that is not more rule-bound, more conventional than civilized art? Civilized professors have original notions, not so the tribal-bards, who do all by rote. Of course, if jazz is only a bogus imitation of the real primitive, it is welcome to its originality, which may be called a sort of musical slang, and is amusing in its way. Sometimes the slang verges upon profanity, or indecency, and the corruption of a noble art is most vile.

THE EFFECT OF SLAVERY.

By Professor Cole of Harvard.

Every student of history knows something of the effect of slavery. Slaves become shiftless, irresponsible, lazy. A nation in which men have no freedom of choice, no possible satisfaction of ambition except on the approval of an inescapable superior, no hope of establishing a "fixture" that is subject to their own control only, is doomed, for the springs of energy are destroyed. A man may struggle and work for another, a loved one, or even a stranger; but he will not do so when he fears that the fruit of his labor will be taken from him or will be squandered through wastefulness. Even the administrators, moreover, will have little incentive to be efficient.

All this means that under such a system of production wealth will heavily decline. When wealth is declining, none can get more wealthy. Even though a redistribution may take from some and give to others, the gain to the new owner cannot last long, for wealth is perishable. Little of our total wealth persists year after year; it is recreated year by year—new crops from the seed of the old, new machines to take the place of the old worn out, new goods to take the place of the old consumed in work and play. Unless the people work to recreate wealth annually, all will be poor together. Anything which destroys the motive to industry makes people poor, even if they should seize the wealth of the well-to-do, and actually leaves them poorer in the end than if they had not seized property but had continued to recreate wealth. The limit to all wealth is the production of wealth, and both rich and poor are soon reduced to extreme poverty if wealth is not recreated constantly.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Paper suits will hardly stand going to press.

British miners may learn that the whole is greater than any of its parts—or parties.

Americans are reported to have contracted for 70,000 tons of newsprint made in Germany. Not so long ago American soldiers were being killed by goods made in Germany.

The American Museum of Natural History, New York, will carry on a search in Asia, which will cost $250,000, just to find where man originated. If they could discover the place we are going to, we wouldn't object to adding our mite to help pay for the expedition.

It is rumored that a Chinese labor movement in this country is favored in some quarters. Judging from the experiences of a local cafe, which employed three different Chinamen on three successive nights to do to the same job, there would be more movement than labor in the organization.

Whatever atrocities the Sinn Feiners may be perpetrating in Ireland, it's rubbing it on a bit thick to mispronounce their name as many different ways as the average well-informed reader has a habit of doing. Still, we're getting used to it, and the other day when our favorite bootblack around the corner murmured something in a questioning tone of voice about a "shine fine," we answered instinctively, "No, black and tan."

From Here and There

ALL EQUAL IN THE EARTH.

[Toronto Star.]

Some of those who have visited military cemeteries where the Canadians sleep speak of the impressions made upon them with profound feeling, and strongly approve the high good sense of the war graves commission in denying to some the privilege they asked of setting up here and there over their own special dead outstanding monuments which would tend to disparage all the rest.

ATTRACTIONS OF PARIS.

[New York Times.]

When the armistice was signed nearly two years ago and the trenches were deserted, rats which had multiplied and fattened there decided to migrate to Paris.

Only the hardiest finished the journey, but these, once there, became the ancestors of the most abominable plague of their species the city has ever had. Old men declare that if there had been a quarter as many rats in 1871, Paris would never have surrendered to the famine. At night along the boulevards they swarm so thick that the cabs run over them, and passers-by kick them off the sidewalks.

Every cellar is a resting-place, and visitors no longer go on the roof of Notre Dame, for the rats have made it one of their favorite ballrooms, and when the doors to the roof are opened they come tumbling down on the visitors' heads.

PLANTING TIMBER TREES.

[Brockville Recorder.]

The Ontario Government has a commendable scheme for providing future generations with timber. It is preparing to co-operate with township councils in creating new woods. If the township will provide the land, the government will plant it with forest trees and take care of it in the early years of growth. It requires that the land should not be less than five acres in extent, and located on a well-traveled road.

A five-acre bush is not a forest, but with five acres of good bush in every township, the province would have a fairly large supply of timber, and what is better, a beginning will have been made in scientific reforestation. The townships should jump at this chance. All they are called upon to do is provide the land.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS TO JAIL.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

The sister Province of Ontario is to be congratulated upon having enforced its new law making the driving of a motor car while intoxicated an offence punishable by law without the option of a fine. The imposition of fines was not much of a deterrent to the drunken driver. The jail term will be. The term just imposed on two Ottawa offenders was only seven days. The lightness of the sentences was no doubt due to the fact that they were the first cases under the new law. The warning has now been given, and future offenders should be more severely punished. As an exchange remarks: "The law is a good one, and should be strictly enforced. No man should be permitted to drive an automobile when under the influence of liquor. In doing so he is endangering the life of himself and others. It may be contended that it is difficult to determine whether or not a man is under the influence of liquor, and that, therefore, injustice may be done by the strict enforcement of the law. There is little danger of such injustice, because the accusation of drunkenness while in charge of a car will come almost invariably through reckless driving. If the reckless driver is not under the influence of liquor he is even more deserving of punishment."

HIGH PRICES.

[Uxbridge Journal.]

A woman, we are told, was buying a pair of scissors at a departmental store, and the price asked was a dollar. She suggested that a dollar was a big price. The clerk explained that steel was higher. Steel is generally quoted by the ton, and the chances are there would not be ten cents worth of steel in the scissors. Clothing concerns in the United States and Canada that have recently discovered a falling off in buying, declare that people have reached the point where they won't buy at high prices, and that prices must come down. An American manufacturer claims that high wages have been the main cause of high prices. He stated that pocket makers got $100 a week. Whatever the cause, they certainly have been getting at the people's pockets.

A SEARCH FOR THE OLDEST MAN.

To search for the most primitive human remains, the "missing link" between man and the apes, will be the object of a great expedition to be sent out by the American Museum of Natural History in co-operation with the American Asiatic Association and Asia Magazine. The expedition will be the greatest of its kind which has ever been organized by any institution in the world, and will work for five years with a large party of scientists in various remote regions of Central Asia. It will be under the direction and leadership of Mr. Roy Chapman Andrews, associate curator of mammals in the American Museum of Natural History, who for the last ten years has been carrying on zoological explorations in various parts of the Far East. The expedition will be financed by a fund of $250,000, which is being provided by the American Museum of Natural History, the American Asiatic Association and Asia Magazine, and the private subscriptions of Mrs. Willard Straight, Messrs. J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker, Childs Frick, W. A. Harriman, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bernheimer.

When in the year 1891 a Dutch army surgeon, Eugene Dubois, while excavating for fossils in Central Java, discovered near Trinil part of a skull, two molar teeth and a thigh bone, he had unearthed one of the most perplexing conundrums in the study of human ancestry. Were the remains those of an extremely early type of prehuman man-like animal? If so, this ape-man must have lived approximately five hundred thousand years ago. This momentous discovery has been supplemented by that of other indisputably human remains, of which the most ancient, found in Southern Germany, is the jaw of the so-called Heidelberg man, who may be two hundred and fifty thousand years old.

With the exception of the Java specimen, all fossil human fragments have been discovered in Europe or England. Nevertheless, the leading scientists of the day believe that Asia was the early home of the human race, and that whatever light may be thrown upon the origin of man will come from the great Central Asian plateau.

The subject is one that makes a universal appeal to the imagination. The causes that led to man's evolution from the apes, how that evolution was first accomplished, what primitive man looked like, and how he lived—these are all subjects upon which there is much theory, but as yet very little fact.

Leaving about the first of next February, headquarters for the expedition will be established in Peking. The first year will be devoted to studies in palæontology and zoology in China; the second year the work will be carried into Mongolia, and a geologist will be added to the field staff; the third, fourth and fifth years archæologists and anthropologists will be sent out, who with the zoologists and palæontologists will carry on work in various parts of Asia.

The importance of this region long has been recognized, but no systematic study on a large scale ever has been attempted, and there is no similar area of the inhabited surface of the earth about which so little is known. Whether or not human remains are found, it will yield rich collections in all branches of science.

The material will be exhibited in the proposed Hall of Asiatic Life in the American Museum of Natural History, which it is hoped New York will add to the museum buildings in the near future. At the present time if one wishes seriously to study Asiatic zoology one must go to the British Museum of London. It is hoped that this expedition will bring to New York the greatest natural history collections which the world has ever seen, and will make New York the centre of Asiatic scientific activity.

One of the reasons why so little is known of the fossils of China and Interior Asia is that material of this sort is of considerable value to the Chinese. Fossils are supposed to have wonderful medicinal qualities. They are known as "dragons' bones," and whenever a fossil-yielding locality has been found, it is carefully concealed. Nevertheless, during the last three years, Dr. J. G. Andersson, mining adviser to the Chinese Republic, has been carrying on investigations on behalf of Swedish institutions, and has made some remarkable discoveries. Dr. Andersson is practically the first scientist who has ever collected fossils personally in China.

We know almost as little about some of the living natives of Asia as about the fossil history of the country. Long before the Chinese arrived, China was inhabited by aboriginal tribes, which were pushed south and west, just as the Indians were driven westward by the white men when they advanced across the American continent. The remnants of nearly thirty of these ancient tribes, such as the Lolos, Mosos, Lisos and others, are rapidly disappearing, and yet almost nothing is known of their origin, life or customs.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT CANADA?

Poetry and Jest

WATER SPORT.

[Edmund Blunden.]

"Come all who hear our song," say Yalding bells,
And dim "We bid you come" ring Hunton's four;
Then "Come, come, come" the dingling treble tells,
And still the echo drones a moment more.
The sunny music traveling out like bees
Was pleasant on the water's wide, blue glade,
Where Cheveney mill peers through the poplar trees—
Sweet fell the summons there, but none obeyed.

Loosed from the harness of the grumbling mill
Hungry for play, peal churchbells as they will,
The mill boy and his boon companions urge
Their crazy boat out from the bubbling verge
And up the broad flood, gabbling as they row,
They venture proud as Vikings long ago;
Where the red butterfly with sleights and whims
Mocks the stretched hand, and where the shallow skims
To gild his wing with floss of twinkling dew.
And in the hawthorn whence the young thrush flew
The chuff vole feeds, a very alderman,
Though scared below, that old leviathan
The pike shoots into surer solitude.

Pleasure is there in that old boat and rude,
And will be there, as long as the green planks
Hold each to each: as long as Sunday pranks
Startle the redhead motor hen into shelter
Or, on the sleeping hatch, the black weeds swelter.
Glorious will be the long adventurous day,
And sweet will vespers be, to hush their play,
When the slow ripples from the home course run
For seeming miles on miles to the dying sun,
The dying sun that even through the black
Sharp-jutting mill will burn with intense light;
Joy will fall deeper with the dews of night
And the new moon marred with no wraith or wrack.
Seem like an angel to the mill boy's sight.

DEFINITIONS.

A recent school examination in England elicited the following definitions: "Noah's wife," wrote one boy, "was called Joan of Arc." "Water," wrote another, "is composed of two gases, oxygen and cambrigen." "Lava," replied a third youth, "is what the barber puts on your face." "A blizzard," insisted another child, "is the inside of a fowl."

AUTUMN EVENINGS.

Apples on the table an' the grate-fire blazin' high;
Oh, I'm sure the whole world hasn't any man happier than I;
The mother sittin' mendin' little stockin's, toe an' knee,
An' tellin' all that's happened through the busy day to me;
Oh, I don't know how to say it, but these cosy autumn nights
Seem to glow with true contentment an' a thousand real delights.

The dog sprawled out before me, knowin' huntin' days are here,
Coz in dreams he seems to whimper that a flock of quail are near—
An' the children playin' checkers till it's time to go to bed,
Callin' me to settle questions whether black can take a red.
Oh, these nights are filled with gladness, an' I puff my pipe an' smile,
An' tell myself the struggle an' the work are much worth while.

The flames are full o' pictures that keep dancin' to an' fro,
Bringin' back the scenes o' gladness o' the happy long ago,
An' the whole wide world is silent, an' I tell myself just this—
That within these walls I cherish there is all my world there is!
Can I keep the love abiding in these hearts so close to me,
An' the laughter of these evenings, I shall gain life's victory.

FIRST SIGHT OF A PIG.

[London Chronicle.]

Along the hard, dry, wind-swept road in a suburb came a drove of pigs—a most unusual spectacle in London of recent years. From the by-streets the children of the poor came hurrying to see, and it was clear from their comments that many of them had never seen a pig before.

"Look, Lizer!" cried one of the smallest among them. "Look, there's a piebald one."

"Course there is, 'stoopid," said Lizer, who was clearly well versed in natural history. "Where else do yer think they get streaky bacon from!"

THE RIVER OF LIFE.

[Noel Brown in The Westminster Gazette.]

Life is a river flowing from its source,
And gathering speed and volume on its way
Until its varied desultory course
Merges at last, toward the end of day
Into the vast unfathomable deep.
Awhile through smiling countryside it flows,
With gentle lapping sound, then through the steep
Wild rocks of sorrow, where forever grows
Naught but rank, dreary weeds. Now little streams
Of stirring friendship and pure gentle love
Flow in to meet it, and the sunlight gleams
With radiant golden light, and all above
The skies are blue with joy; and now the rain
Blots out the pleasure of the distant sight
And lashes life with the fierce storms of pain
And winds of discontent all day and night,
The river flows its changing, ceaseless way,
Until it falls into the boundless sea,
Where Time's eternal whispering breezes play
With golden mists of dim infinity.

SOME REAL WORK.

"Well," said Farmer Corntossel, "I reckon I've done a pretty good afternoon's work."

"But all you did," commented Jud Tunkins contemptuously, "was to sit on the fence and whittle."

"Yes, but what I whittled up was the family ouija board."

OLDHAM.

[Caroline Russell Bispham.]

Old hands are not for kisses
Nor the gifts of long ago;
But old hands in a garden
Can make the flowers grow.

We look at them in wonder
One day, and sighing, see
Them changed and old and withered,
Surprised that this should be.

Such smooth, soft hands they once were,
Pink-tipped, pink-palmed, and now
So thin—or plump—and wrinkled,
But useful anyhow.

The flowers don't see the difference;
They only feel a touch
Of tender understanding
And blossom twice as much.

Old hands can hold a baby
And smooth a pillow,
Old hands can write a letter
Signed: "Grandma's love to you."

Old hands return the pressure
Of strong, big hands of sons,
Of grandsons and granddaughters—
The loving little ones.

So old hands do God's bidding
In gardens and highways,
And at evening in contentment
Old hands are clasped in praise.

Every Man For Himself

BY HOPKINS MOORHOUSE.

The air had cleared wonderfully by the time Detective McCorquodale arrived with Robert Clayton in tow—so much so that both anxious gentlemen were somewhat surprised at the smiles which greeted them. If anything further were needed to convince Nickleby that he had been too hasty in his conclusions, this frank, clean-cut young American supplied it, and as the brief interview progressed the president of the Interprovincial approached as near to geniality as his naturally suspicious and cynical nature ever ventured. The detective had found Clayton just preparing to descend the stairs to his train; but he had come readily enough when the circumstances were explained to him.

"I do hope none of you gentlemen suspect my young friend here in connection with this inexplicable matter," were his first words as he stood with a hand on Stiles' shoulder. He spoke earnestly, his grave eyes searching their faces, one after another. "I haven't known Jimmy very long, of course; but I know honesty when I see it and I'd stake my life that he has had no hand in this—this strange disappearance which I understand has upset you all. May I ask just what the contents of this satchel were? Was it a sum of money or—?"

"No, no, it's all right, Mr. Clayton," volunteered Nickleby rather hurriedly, "—just some legal documents which can be duplicated; the puzzle is why anybody should take them. The delay in connection with some business matters which their loss will entail is the only thing that concerned us; but we find that it is not as bad as we thought, and we regret very much causing you this inconvenience."

Robert Clayton made a gesture of deprecation.

"That's the last consideration, gentlemen," he smiled. "For my own satisfaction, I would like to state candidly a little about myself. Under the circumstances it is your right to know."

What he had to say merely substantiated what Jimmy Stiles had told them already. He was returning from a visit to his uncle on a Western Ontario farm, and had remained over in the city for a few days on his way home. While out for a Sunday morning constitutional he had been attracted to All Saints' Mission by its resemblance to the little church he attended at home. There he had been welcomed so cordially by Jimmy Stiles and others that it had been a great pleasure to him.

He described in detail his meeting with Jimmy, and their harmless chat in the Jessup Grill. He produced his traveling bag and insisted on opening it for inspection despite the fact that there was no possibility of confusing its travel-worn leather with the tan satchel. It contained merely the usual travel accessories, a magazine and a box of cigars. The latter Clayton insisted upon passing around. He then produced his business card and chatted for a moment with Alderson about conditions in the building trade in Pennsylvania, asking many questions about prospects in hardware lines in Ontario.

So that when at last he took his departure, laughing away apologies, he left behind him a most favorable impression. Detective McCorquodale departed next with a real cigar between his teeth and a feeling of satisfaction in the recognition that he was no longer a "blithering idiot." Stiles was told to "knock off for the day and go fishin'," and accepted Podmore's five-dollar bill only when it was forced on him.

When the trio were alone once more Alderson produced a bottle and three glasses.

"To the campaign fund," he laughed, holding his glass aloft.

"And the future of the government," added J. Cuthbert Nickleby.

"And of ourselves," said Podmore reverently.

It was thus that they parted for the second time that afternoon.

Mr. Hugh Podmore went directly to his hotel. Not until he was safe in his own room did he permit any unusual elation to show in his manner. Once he had locked the door, however, and pulled down the window blinds, he threw himself upon the bed and indulged in a toss of unrestrained mirth. Still very much amused, he felt in his pocket for the key of the old walnut wardrobe with which his room was furnished, unlocked it and lifted out a tan satchel.

Assuredly, in all fairness to himself he had to admit that it had been about as neat a piece of work as he had ever known. For a first attempt it had been carried through with credit, cleverly planned and as cleverly executed. Everything had gone like a clock. Robert Clayton, alias "Tuxedo Bob," had performed his end of it with commendable finish, and Podmore felt that he had made no mistake in letting him to come on from Chicago. Fifty thousand dollars! It wasn't a bad afternoon's work—not at all bad!

Setting the satchel upon the table, Mr. Podmore sank into the easy chair and lighted a cigarette with a slow smile of satisfaction. The smile lingered as he ran over the whole thing. Neat was not the word; artistic was better. Clayton had "happened" in at All Saints' Mission quite opportunely. Quite. It was proof of his ability that in three days he had established himself so firmly in the friendship of young Stiles. Poor, scared, white-faced kid!

And the duplicate satchels? An old trick, of course; but in simplicity lay success. Podmore had purchased those two identical imitation-leather satchels some days ago. In one he had placed the package of brown paper, cut to bank note size and held by rubber bands, and in a certain position on the outside of the satchel he had scratched a triangular identification mark with his pocket-knife; the other tan satchel he had delivered to the Alderson Construction Company's office. There it had received the currency in Alderson's elaborately sealed linen envelope, and there in front of the others Podmore had marked it ostentatiously for identification — the same triangular mark in the same position on the outside of the satchel.

When the bookkeeper went into the Jessup Grill Clayton had the duplicate satchel which contained the worthless brown wrapping paper—but hidden under his raincoat. When Stiles had dropped the other satchel close alongside the raincoat on the floor he had played right into Clayton's hand, that being the very position for which Clayton was manoeuvring; an unobtrusive kick of the foot flopped the raincoat over the satchel which contained the money, so that Clayton had picked it up quite simply, leaving the duplicate satchel for Stiles.

Clayton had made straight for the Union Station, first stopping at the hotel where Podmore had hurried from the construction company's office and was waiting to receive the money satchel. At the hotel Clayton had picked up his own personal travelling bag and had gone over to the depot to wait for the Bray detective to find him in due course.

Podmore had not opened the precious satchel, the 'phone having rung with Alderson's hurry-up message just as he had reached his room. Chucking the tan satchel inside the wardrobe, he had gone back to Alderson's office immediately to engineer the covering up and to quiet the troubled waters.

It was not every day that such a golden opportunity of acquiring fifty thousand dollars presented itself. It was rarely that it could be done without the risk of discovery. But Mr. Hugh Podmore had recognized in this very secret contribution for election purposes a sum of money which was outlawed for the time being, which for obvious reasons dare not be claimed publicly by either side in the secret transaction. Ergo, it was any man's money who could lay hands on it. Ergo, it belonged to Mr. Hughey Podmore.

The beauty of it was that the idea of Ferguson removing the contents to provide a denial of the whole contribution was so patently the clever thing to do, that it was a wonder Ferguson had not thought of it himself when there was such need of secrecy. Nickleby had accepted the suggestion at once as the solution of the mystery.

Mrs. Gordon Phillip, who is the secretary of the ball committee, has been instructed to write to the lieutenant-governor to secure his patronage, and it is possible that he may attend the ball. Mrs. Harry Bell is treasurer of the ball.

The reception held last ngiht in St. Peter's Hall by the St. Joseph Nurses' Alumnae for their friends and the city doctors and their wives, was an undoubted success. Autumn flowers and foliage had been used with delightful effect in the hall, where dancing was held, while upstairs in the tea-room yellow and white chrysanthemums carrying out the school colors, were prettily arranged on the teatable. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walcott, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Forristal, Dr. and Mrs. Crane, Miss K. C. McDonnell, Miss Caroline McKenna, and Miss Ruth Stephenson. Mrs. Stuart Wilson, president of the association, Mrs. Richard Forristal and Mrs. Tighe officiated at the teatable, assisted by Miss Kilgallon, Miss Lillian Morrison, Miss Nancy Moran and several undergraduates, and Miss Alice Butler and Mrs. Harry Walcott invited to the tea-room. The committee in charge of the cards included Miss K. C. McDonnell and Mrs. Joseph Henry, while Miss Stephenson and Miss McKenna were in charge of the dancing. Miss Ruth Stephenson was general convener of the reception.

During the evening delightful numbers were rendered by the St. Joseph's orchestra, composed of Miss Davidson, Miss Mullins, Miss Gibson and Miss Allen. These numbers were augmented by a violin solo by Miss Gibson, a reading by Miss Devlin, a vocal solo by Miss Woods and a piano solo by Miss Gerrard.

FOXWORTHY—COMBER.

An interesting wedding took place on October 7, when Lillian, daughter of Mr. Comber, Adelaide street, was united in marriage to Mr. Francis Foxworthy.

TAYLOR—MAXWELL.

The marriage was quietly solemnized on Monday, October 18, of Jesie Hume Maxwell, of this city, daughter of the late Mrs. Barbara Maxwell, formerly of Scotland, to John Taylor, also of London, son of Mrs. Elvira Taylor. Rev. W. R. McIntosh officiated at the King Street Presbyterian manse, and the young couple were unattended. Following the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. William Ray, West London. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside at 349 Glebe street.

MAY—OLIVER.

A pretty autumn wedding took place yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Oliver, Wellington street north, when her daughter, Gladys Alberta, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert May of Avon-by-the-Sea, New Jersey, formerly of this city, and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. May. The Rev. Judson Kelly performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives. After a dainty dejeuner the happy couple left on the 4:15 train for Niagara, Buffalo and New York City en route to New Jersey, where they will reside, the bride traveling in a midnight blue gown with smart French hat to match and wearing the gift of the groom, a handsome fur coat.

FERRIS—SMITH.

The Methodist Church at Harrow was the scene of a fashionable wedding on Wednesday, when Miss Muriel Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, was united in marriage to Mr. Otto L. Ferris of Harrow. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock, Rev. C. R. Durrant officiating. Mr. Vincent Adams of Windsor acted as groomsman, and Miss Ada Shaw of Walkerburg as bridesmaid. Little Miss Ruth Smith, sister of the bride, was flower girl, and Karl Smith, Lyall Richardson, Harry Ferris and Claire Adams ushers. Mrs. J. H. Madill presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register Mr. Lee, of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, sang the solo, "Because." The bride looked very pretty in a gown of white silk chiffon over pink silk and carried a handsome bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of white organdie over pink silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. A large number of guests were present from a distance, and the wedding presents were numerous and costly. Following the ceremony a buffet lunch was served by twelve girl friends of the bride, and after the usual toasts the happy couple left for Toronto and points east. On their return they will reside in Harrow. The bride's travelling costume was of navy broadcloth, trimmed with moleskin and hat to match. The groom's gifts were: To the bride a gold wrist watch, to the bridesmaid and pianist, gold bar pins; flower girl, a gold bracelet, and to the ushers, gold scarf pins.

WHEELER—HARVEY.

One of the prettiest of autumn weddings took place yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, Richmond street, when Mona Theodore Lillian, daughter of the late Dr. Frederic Naylor Harvey, became the bride of Gordon Alexander Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wheeler of Sarnia, the Rev. Clarence Foreman officiating at the ceremony. Throughout the house golden 'mums and other autumn flowers in yellow tones, were used in profusion, forming a pretty setting for the charming bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. D. C. Platt. Unattended, she appeared in a pretty gown of taupe charmeuse wearing a panne velvet hat of the same tone with feather mount in blue and taupe. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of Richmond roses, and for going-away donned the groom's gift, a handsome fur coat.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony, the bride's mother wearing black tricolette, richly embroidered in jet, and a corsage of crimson roses, while the mother of the groom wore black kitten's ear satin, with seal scarf, black hat, and corsage of orchids and roses. Mrs. Walter Cummings of Port Huron, who sang "Because" during the signing of the register, was wearing a peacock blue duvetyn gown with hat to match and Ophelia roses.

In the dining-room pink and white roses gleamed from the bride's table, and the orchestra, concealed behind a bank of ferns, played softly throughout the wedding breakfast. Later the bride and groom left for Buffalo and other eastern points, and on their return will reside in Sarnia.

Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present at the wedding, among the out-of-town guests being: Mr. and Mrs. Graham McIntosh of Kitchener, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cummings of Port Huron, Mr. Simmie of Sarnia, Mr. and Mrs. McPherson of Hamilton, Mrs. John W. Shore of Wilton Grove, Mrs. (Dr.) Sparks of St. Marys, Mrs. Penfold and her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence of St. Thomas.

LUBKE—HUGHES.

An interesting wedding took place on Wednesday, September 1, in the West Street Wesleyan Church, Durban, Natal, South Africa, when Olive Kathleen Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes, Ingersoil, Ont., became the bride of Otta F. J. Lubke, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. H. Lubke, Durban.

The bride, who was given away by Dr. O. H. Lubke, who had accompanied her from Canada and represented her father, looked charming in a gown of white taffeta with overdress of silk georgette handsomely embroidered. Over all fell the orthodox veil crowned with a wreath of real orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white azaleas and carnations, the gift of the bridegroom. The bride was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Alice Lubke, who wore a tunic frock of cream French crepe de chine, hand embroidered, with underblouse of silk georgette, wore a picture hat of cream lace with rose petal crown, and carried a dainty bouquet of pink sweet peas and carnations. The duties of best man were ably carried out by Dr. George Lubke.

The happy couple left the church amidst showers of confetti for the Kan Studio, where the bridal party were photographed, after which they proceeded to the Butterworth Hotel, where a reception took place. The health of the bride and bridegroom was proposed by Rev. G. H. P. Jacques, to which the bridegroom responded. The happy couple left by the 5:28 train for Port Stepstone, where the honeymoon is being spent, the bride traveling in a grey gabardine frock and smart grey hat to match. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a handsome silver mirror, brush and comb set, and to the bridesmaid, a handsome necklace and pendant. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a set of gold cuff-links suitably engraved.

Mr. and Mrs. Lubke were the recipients of a number of most useful and valuable presents and checks, including a handsome check from the bridegroom's parents, and two valuable gifts from the firm of Herbert, Davies & Co., in the form of a canteen of cutlery from the outside staff, and a silver tray and tea set from the office staff. The bridegroom has been employed in this firm for the past seventeen years

FERD. T. HOPKINS & SON, New York

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

XXXV.—A Receipt.

When we arrived in New York, we taxied to the bank, where I experienced not the slightest difficulty in transferring my bonds into actual money. They came to just sixteen hundred dollars!

It seemed a large sum to me. I slipped the thick envelope that contained so many bills into my handbag, and gripped it tight. How awful if I lost it!.

"Don't look so conscious of the money," Freddie teased, when we found ourselves out on the sunlit pavements of the city. "Someone will try to steal that bag and its precious contents if you wear that guilty air."

I smiled. I was feeling happy. I was in a beatific, generous sort of mood. For I was doing something for the man I loved.

All doubts of Freddie seemed for the moment stilled.

"What shall we do with the extra hundred dollars?" I asked, giving his hand a tiny squeeze, and looking surreptitiously about me to see if anyone had seen the foolish action.

"Buy a new frock, my dear," said Freddie.

But his voice lacked enthusiasm.

"I've heaps of frocks. Besides"—I eyed him archly—"I don't want to spend this money on myself. I'd like to make you a present, Freddie dear."

"What sort of present?"

"Oh, just anything you fancy. Cigars, or a new dressing-gown, or a silver cigarette case."

Was it my imagination or did Freddie's young face fall?

"Maybe none of these things are good enough," I added hastily. "Won't you choose something yourself, dear? something that you'd really like?"

We happened to be passing a jeweler's at that moment, and Freddie paused outside the window.

"Attractive display, isn't it, sweetheart?" he said to me.

"It is. Do please choose something, Freddie." I almost had to plead with him.

"It seems too darned extravagant, Anne, my dear."

"Nonsense!" I spoke briskly. "Jewelry is always convertible into money later on, if that is what you mean."

He brightened visibly.

"Jove! I'd forgotten that!" Then his faced changed, as he added, very gently:

"Of course, if you gave me a piece of jewelry, sweetheart, it would always have a sentimental value that would exceed any other kind of value—so that I wouldn't want to sell it, but to keep it always as your gift!"

That pleased me. That was the sort of thing I liked to hear—and didn't hear too often.

"But you mustn't spend the whole of the hundred dollars," he went on, almost childingly. "I'd just like to have a tiny little gift." His eye roamed to a handsome pearl tie pin. "There, that's just the sort of thing I like."

Dear, simple Freddie! The pearl tie-pin wasn't quite so simple as it looked, where prices were concerned. But not for worlds would I have told him so!

"Come on inside, and let me buy it for you," I said, pulling him by the arm. I was all eagerness to do the deed, before my generous impulse should die down.

And Freddie came.

A salesman bustled forward, officiously anxious to serve us. Yes, we both looked smart and well-groomed—the sort of customers who might purchase lavishly. Curious how clothes affect one's prestige in a shop these days!

"What can I do for you?" The salesman bowed suavely.

"We want to see the pearl tie-pin in the window—centre front—in the blue velvet case," I said.

The man moved off, and pretty soon returned with the velvet case in his hand.

"It's very cheap," he said, deprecatingly. "Wouldn't you rather look at something better?"

I eyed the pin. It certainly looked handsome.

"How much?" I queried.

"Oh, only seventy-five dollars!" His tone implied that for such a trivial sum one could only purchase the merest bauble!

Seventy-five dollars! I hadn't dreamt of giving Freddie such an expensive gift.

But I mustn't let him think me stingy. No, not I. And I'd never given him anything before.

Besides, I had his ring.

I was engaged to him. Engaged and about-to-be-married girls generally did give gifts to their fiances. I would do my duty. And that duty ought to be a pleasure.

"Do you like it, Freddie?"

Freddie nodded.

"But you mustn't spend the money, Anne."

"Of course I shall." I turned to the salesman. "Yes, I'll take it. Here's the money."

I opened my hand-bag, and counted out seventy-five in bills. And then I held my hand out for the precious pin.

"No, don't wrap it up, please. I'll take it. Thank you."

I moved towards Freddie, and carefully fastened the pearl pin in the centre of his blue-and-white striped tie.

"There, that looks splendid. Just see yourself in the mirror." I dragged him to a nearby glass.

And Freddie beamed. The salesman stood by, grinning.

"Come on. Let's go," I said. I felt a glow of generosity sweep over me. For I had been generous, and had made Fred happy.

"Wait a half a second, Anne." He turned to the salesman. "Will you make out a receipt for the money, please?"

The latter did so, and was about to hand the receipt to me, as I had been the purchaser, when Freddie interveied, stretched out his hand to take the scrap of paper, saying to my astonishment:

"I'd like to keep the receipt myself, if you don't mind, my dear!"

Tomorrow—Fred's Treat.

HYATT AVENUE LADIES' AID.

The Ladies' Aid of the Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church held a reception for the members of the congregation on Tuesday night. The church had been beautifully decorated with autumn fruit and flowers, and Mrs. A. E. Tutt, president of the aid, received the many guests who attended the function. Mrs. Chown was convener of the program committee, which program included interesting numbers by Mrs. Seofield, Carmen Learn, Mrs. A. D. Jordan, Fred Dowling, Miss Sybil Higman and little Nan Kelman, as well as by the Selby-Young orchestra of the church. Mrs. Stelk was convener of the refreshment committee.

OLD DOG BUD.

Part Six.

Little Bud was all aquiver. For three whole days his master had been working at Bud's coat, cutting and filing his nails, and cutting all his long whiskers off. Bud knew what that meant—he was getting ready for the show.

Old Brixo, the collie, limped about the next yard in great glee, too. One would have thought that it was he who was going to the show in the city to try to beat Bud's old master's young dogs—but truth to tell, he was every bit as excited about it as Bud, for he had taken a great fancy to the little dog from the city. He knew how to sympathize with Bud, for he, too, had been sent to the country to die by a master who had no use for him after he was six years old. Brixo would have forgotten how very old he was if it had not been for the limp he had had ever since his fall that day.

"I am going to take you to the show in the city, Bud," his new master told him. Bud wagged his tail, as if to say, "Well, I knew that all along."

"Tomorrow the show starts," his master went on, as he put the finishing brushes to Bud's coat. "You look very beautiful, and are quite ready now to go. What a lot of work it has caused me!"

Bud jumped off the box where he had been standing to get his coat brushed, and scampered around like a pup. "Now be careful you don't get dirty," his master told him, "for it is too late now to give you another bath. It would take all the shine off your coat."

Bud went scampering to the front in search of Brixo. The old dog was nowhere to be seen. Suddenly Bud heard a bark away up the road. It sounded again, and this time it was a frightened bark, and Bud recognized it as Brixo's. What was happening to the old dog? Bud ran as hard as he could to find out.

Up the road a little way was a muckey-muddy marsh. Old Brixo had chased a rabbit in there, had fallen into a puddle, and was stuck fast in the mud. If help had not come he would have been drowned, for he was sinking into the water and mud as fast as he could, and his old bones were too weak to help him. Bud stopped at the side of the marsh. If he went in there he would get all muddy and muckey. That would mean he couldn't go to the show. Just then Brixo barked again. Bud waded right in, the mud going over him as he went, but his little body wiggled out of it, and on he went. What a tugging it took to get Brixo out of the mud, but at last the old dog was dragged to safety.

"What a sight you are!" cried old Brixo after he had humbly thanked his little rescuer. "Why you are mud from head to foot, and the brambles have made big scratches all over you. You can never go to the show now."

"No," Bud cried in disappointment, "—but—" and the little dog choked all up.

"But—if you hadn't done it I would have been stuck in that mud and my old life would have come to an end," said Brixo gratefully. "Just you wait—you'll be rewarded for this."

It was a heavy-hearted little dog that started home with Brixo. What would his master say? How could Bud face him all mud and scratches as he was?

THE CHILD WELFARE ASSOCIATION APPEALS FOR FURNITURE GIFT

Prenatal Work and Nutrition Work To Be Emphasized.

The Child Welfare Association which has had its headquarters in the Red Cross rooms on Wellington street, is moving into new quarters for the winter and will take up its abode at the Institute of Public Health. A bare room has been given them here, but the work cannot be carried on without some form of office furniture, so Miss Bertha Smith, child welfare nurse, is appealing for furniture to the public of London. Miss Smith has just returned from a holiday spent visiting American cities, where pre-natal work and nutritional work is giving the greatest prominence, and the association hopes to lay prominence on that part of the work this year in London. At the present time there is a clinic for prenatal work at Victoria Hospital every Wednesday, and four child welfare clinics are now working in the city.

Real glory
Springs from the silent conquest of ourselves. —Thomson.

Another Dime.

Dear Miss Grey,—I enjoy reading the Mail-Box very much, but have never written before. Grandma would like to have the famous stocking-foot pattern, as we are terrible for wearing out the feet of our stockings, while the rest of them remain good.

I am staying out at my grandma's in the country and am having a fine time out here. You will find inclosed a dime for the hospital fund.

F. C.

Ans.—Pattern has been mailed to Grandma. Thank you for the hospital dime.

Knitting Mitts.

Dear Miss Grey,—Having received valuable aid from your column, I wonder if any person could send directions for knitting mitts for a ten-year-old girl. Isn't this beautiful autumn weather? It reminds me of the verse as follows:

When summer's verdant beauty flies
And autumn glows with richer dyes,
A softer charm beyond them lies,
In the sweet Indian summer.

Hoping I am not stealing anyone's penname, as I never stole anything in my life. Will sign myself,

SNOW APPLE.

Ans.—Not even a snow apple, when the farmer wasn't around? Please send your name and address, in case directions are sent in for you.

Happy's Mite.

Dear Cynthia,—I have intended to write to the Mail-Box for some time, but didn't take the time. Please accept mite for the sick children. I am going to bother you with some questions:

1. Am intending to take a course at McDonald College at Guelph. Please tell me where to write for information.

2. Are one-piece dresses being worn much this winter?

3. I have light blue eyes, fair complexion and dark brown hair. What is my color?

Thanking you in advance, I will sign what a very dear friend calls me,

HAPPY.

Ans.—1. Write to the superintendent, McDonald Hall, Guelph. 2. Yes. 3. Brown would be your color, or the lighter shades of blue. Thank you for your mite, which will go to help. Others claim your pen-name.

Requests.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—Am coming again for help. Can any of the Boxites supply me with a copy of the December number of the 1918 Everywoman's World"? There was a dear little bunny story in that number which I should love to have for my kiddies. Also would like some of the seeds, cosmos and poppy, sent in by some kind member.

How delightfully some members do write. It is a pleasure to read the letters. I will inclose a few dimes for the hospital fund. It is a real pleasure to see the interest taken in the dear sick wee folk.

My address is with Miss Grey. Sincerely,

MRS. J. D. G.

Ans.—The seeds have been mailed to you, and thank you very much for the lovely big mite.

Dear Miss Grey and Readers,—I read the letters every day. I saw in the Mail-Box where some readers asked for "When Huldy 'Spects Her Beau," "Say, Young Fellow, Where'd You Get That Gal?" and "When I Was Twenty-One and You Were Sweet Sixteen." Which was asked for by Blue-Eyed Aubrey, I, too, am sending an addressed envelope for them. Awhile ago some of the readers discussed their favorite authors. I am very fond of reading. Especially L. T. Meade's and Jane L. Stewart's books. Now for a question or two. 1. Is it proper for a girl if she receives a box of candy from her boy friend to open it and pass it around? 2. Are colored tams to be worn much this winter? Will you please send me the stocking-foot pattern? I need it badly for I am awfully hard on the feet of my stockings. I inclose a mite for the C. H. fund. Wishing the Mail-Box every success.

FAITHFUL DOBBYN.

Ans. — 1. Yes, certainly. 2. Yes. Thank you for the inclosures. Also the dime. The pattern has been mailed and when the recitations return to the Mail-Box I will forward them to you.

Coaches Take Works of Western University Squad Apart and Start Work on New Machine

Had Thirty-Two Men Out Yesterday Afternoon and Switches Brought Forth Different Looking Aggregation—Confident of Saturday's Tilt.

No small boys with a clock ever had any more surprises than Coach Brock and his assistant, Eric Reid, had when they peered through the works of the Western University squad yesterday afternoon over at Tecumseh Park during the course of a workout, and began to take the machine apart. When they had it all in pieces they began on the rebuilding and the rebuilt article wouldn't be recognized as the team which took to the field on the holiday against St. Mikes.

Thirty-two men were out in uniform, and Dyer, McPherson and Heard went to the mat in their civies. What Brock and Reid did with those 35 younk huskies was unrecognizable, for they changed everything around except their shoe laces. But the result shown in the workout afterwards gave the coaches reason for one long-drawn-out sigh of relief, and a coupla hoops for joy.

A couple of new men were changed into the wing positions, the scrimmage switched around, in fact, the whole front end of the machine was turned inside and out and then shook up. New signals, new formations, and some sound words of advice then followed and the workout was on in real earnest. A half-hour of signal practice wound up the proceedings.

What the Thanksgiving game established was that the men were in condition at least, and with that to build on the coaches saw enough flashes in the new switches to justify a lot of confidence in next Saturday's results at Varsity Stadium, when Blue and White Seconds are hooked up with.

The workouts will be kept up every afternoon this week, and the squad themselves know that they've got to keep at high tension to get working together in the new switch.

Word came through last night that Dr. Frank Park, star outside of the champion Varsity team of 1911 and 1912, will referee the game, and Eric Reid will act as umpire. This choice of officials should leave no kick in this regard.

MAN O' WAR IS GOING TO EAT AT WALDORF ASTORIA

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—With all the fervor displayed before the banqueting of princes and presidents, Oscar and his corps of assistants are flicking dust from the glazed floor of the great ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria in preparation for the forthcoming banquet in honor of his kingship, Man o' War.

And as he works, Oscar receives requests for tables, sent in by racing men and horse lovers throughout the east, who are willing to pay their $50 a plate in order to be "in" on the dinner of honor to the racing sensation of the age.

Many women have telephoned concerning the banquet, and in nearly every case have inquired as to whether Man o' War would be present. Upon being told he would be, they have engaged tables for themselves and friends.

Man o' War will be escorted to the Waldorf-Astoria through Thirty-Third street by a staff of well-known racing men, and then carried to the grand ballroom floor on an elevator in the rear of the hotel.

With the Trotters and Pacers

Dean Swift, 13 years old, now has a new record of 2:07¼.

Up to the time of his accident, "Pop" Geers had accumulated nearly $25,000 in winnings.

Tommy Murphy had won nearly $60,000 before he was forced by accident to quit the sulky for the season.

Sid H., owned by J. McIntosh of London, now carries a label of 2:13½, taken at Simcoe in the 2:14 pace.

Racing on Thanksgiving Day, Monday, October 18, at Kingston, Kitchener, Toronto, Penetang and Dresden.

Hal Boy, 2:01, was sold last week by W. P. Webber, Rochester, N. Y., to F. W. Clements, Batavia, N. Y.

Gene Marsh was second at Saginaw with Jimmy Price's good pacer, Ashlook, 2:05¼, to Grace Direct, 2:00¼, in 2:08¼, 2:08, 2:08.

J. Malcolm Forbes, 4, 2:08 has now passed the half-century mark as a sire of yearling trotters. Three more by him took marks last week, making his total to date 51.

Prince Loree, 2:02½, was given an airing in 2:00 for the mile in a workout at Columbus, O., by Mike McDevitt, trainer of Capt. David Shaw's harness horses.

General Watts, 3, 2:06¾, sire of more 2:10 performers than any other stallion, save Peter the Great, 2:07¼, will be sold at the coming Old Glory auction in New York.

Thus far but two trotting-bred horses have been named in the three hundred-mile endurance test to take place this fall, the two representatives being the property of John E. Madden, Lexington, Ky.

Jim Dompier won the 2:13 pace at Sioux City, Ia., with Phil Patch, 2:08¼, in three heats, after dropping the first heat. Best time 2:08¼. With Barsac he captured the 2:25 after five heats of hard racing.

J. T. Payette, the Penetang sportsman, won the 2:18 pacing stake for $1,000 at Simcoe last week with Lucy L., 2:13½, by Dallas M., Jr., and came right back the next day and annexed the $1,000 2:35 stake.

Trainer John F. Kennedy of Saskatoon, Sask., is mourning the death of his son, Merrill, who was fatally crushed the night of September 13 while coupling cars. Merrill Kennedy was 24 years old and excelled in athletic sports. In the spring of 1916 he enlisted in the 196th Canadian Battalion, and was wounded at Lens in August, 1917, and again at Passchendaele in November. He received the Military Medal for bravery and devotion to duty.

Loule, Teddy and Lady, all Grattans, still keep up their winning streak. What has become of Freddy and Roy of the same tribe? They have dropped from sight the past two months.

Nervolo Belle, whose 3-year-old daughter, The Great Miss Morris, trotted to a 2:08¼ record at Columbus, O., was given the enviable distinction of being the first matron in trotting history to record five 2:10 trotters—Peter Volo, 2:02; Volga (3), 2:04½; Axvolo, 2:07¾; The Great Miss Morris (3), 2:08¾, and Worthy Volo (2), 2:08.

Rising Tide (4), 2:08½; Sorrentino (3), 2:11¼; Petrol (2), 2:11½; Moccasin (2), 2:12½, and Improvement (3), 2:14¾, all by Baldwin (4), 2:06¾, bred at Fairland Farm, took their records the same day last week at Lexington, Ky. It was a wonderful showing.

J. S. Koch offers for sale a 5-months-old colt by Grattan Royal, 2:06¾, dam by Beau Ideal; also the dam of the colt, in foal to 2:13¼. Charlie Barrett, the owner of Grattan Royal, offered Mr. Koch $300 for the colt last summer, but he refused it.

Crex, 2:09¼, is the third trotter to enter the 2:10 list this season by Justice Brooke (3), 2:08¾, Alta Donovan, 2:06¾, and Uhlan Brooke, 2:08¾, having preceded him. The dam of Crex is Morena, by Moko, out of Czarevna (3), 2:07¼. As Czarevna is herself the dam of The Cossack (3), 2:09¾, and Charlotte Dillon (4), 2:09¾, the daughter of Peter the Great is entitled to high rank as a producer.

YANKEES WILL CONTINUE USE OF GIANTS' PARK

New York, Oct. 21.—The New York Yankees will continue to play their local baseball games at the Polo Grounds, the home of the New York Giants, at least through the 1922 season. An agreement to this effect by the managements of the two teams was announced today, reversing an earlier announcement that the Giants' management had decided to terminate joint use of the park after 1921.

The Yankees' plans for building a new baseball park here have been temporarily abandoned.

TODAY'S LAKEWOOD FEATURES.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.—Busy Lassie, E. Colorado and Peter June were listed as entries in the 2:08 trot, the feature event of today's Grand Circuit card at Lakewood Park track here.

Four other events were on today's program—a 2:07 pace, with Jay Brock among the entries; a 2:10 pace for southern horses; a 2:15 pace, and a trot for two-year-olds.

DEFECT IN O. R. F. U. RULES AFFECT SARNIA-PETROLEA GROUP

Two Team Groups On Double Schedule Must Win Three Out of Four Games.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—A defect has come to light in the constitution of the Ontario Rugby Football Union. It may be necessary to revise the rule which decides the winners of groups. President De Gruchy decided in the case of the Sarnia-Petrolea group that the winner would be decided by majority of points scored, but since that decision was communicated to those two clubs the rule has been looked up, and it has been found that decision by majority of points applies only to a two-game series. Now those two-club groups—Hamilton and Dundas compose another—are playing a double schedule, and it is likely the O. R. F. U. will notify all these clubs that the winner cannot be determined unless one team wins three games and has also a majority of the points. Sarnia and Petrolea have each won a game, but Sarnia has the lead in points at present.

A situation somewhat similar to this came up in the London-Sarnia-Petrolea group in 1912. London and Petrolea each defeated Sarnia twice and won their home games, finishing the regular schedule with three wins and a loss. The O. R. F. U. decided that Petrolea was the winner because they scored more points than did London in the games between the two teams.

BOXERS ARE SUSPENDED.

New York, Oct. 21.—The New York State boxing commission, in its first disciplinary action against boxers licensed under the Walker law, yesterday suspended for an indefinite period Tilly (Kid) Herman and (Knockout) Lew Williams. The commission's action resulted from the showing of the fighters in bouts before the Commonwealth Sporting Club here Tuesday night, Herman being charged with foul fighting, and Williams with quitting in his match with (Panama) Joe Gans.

The commission also suspended Johnny Reisler and Freddy Reese for 30 days.

Reisler was charged with using indecent language in a bout with Reese at Madison Square Garden October 15, and Reese with failing to make the agreed weight of 128 pounds for the same fight.

Split in Kitchener Seniors Arrives

KITCHENER, Oct. 20.—The long-threatening split in the senior hockey aggregation here came today with the announcement by Snoozer Truchinski, Kitchener's senior crack defence man, that he will not play with the senior outfit this year. While Snoozer is somewhat reticent as to reasons, the general assumption in sporting circles here is that Ernie Parkes and Snoozer are not good pals. It is quietly known that Snoozer accuses Parkes of "clique spirit." Snoozer has intimated there are distinctly two factions in the senior team, and it is this division which is the direct cause of his announcement to withdraw. He declares he will line up with the intermediates. Developments are expected.

'MUDDERS' HAVE GOOD DAY IN HEAVY GOING AT ROCKPORT OVAL

Bingen Bold, Little Horse, Fools Betters On the Big Ponies.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 20. — This was a great day for "Mudders" at the Rockport track. The all-morning rain drenched the oval, and it was impossible to get it dried out sufficiently to race before 3:30.

As a result of the late start two races are unfinished, and two extra heats will be run in addition to the regular program of four races.

The three heat winners in the first event, Lady Waxford, Trebelle and Conroy Blake will decide their argument, while the third mile in the final number had to be postponed because of darkness. There will be no argument as to the winner in this number, Bingen Bold having already won two heats.

Bingen was quite a surprise. The fans were picking on the big horse, the Bingen, being no bigger than a restaurant portion, was slightly overlooked.

Flo V. held a favorite in the auctions, and Major Riser, Virginia and Fred Top got a good play in the mutuals.

Bingen Bold won the first mile easily, and the second after a hard stretch brush with Fred Jones that was second in each mile. Major Riser was fourth each mile, while Virginia showed in the first heat, and Flo V. in the third.

Dropwood was the one favorite of the afternoon to go over. Propwood took three heats in the 2:12 pace in handy fashion, neither Harley, Abbe Bond or the Jack Being able to furnish him stiff competition. Dropwood got away in front in each heat, and, despite the fact he was the pole horse and the mud was the deepest at the half, he always had the speed to stave off the other horses and finish in front. Summaries:

GERMAN PASSENGER LINERS LEAVE PORT FOR THE LAST TIME

New York, Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press).—Two former German passenger liners, the Imperator and the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, have left this port during the past few days on what may be their last voyage in the service of the Cunard Line.

The Imperator, next to the Leviathan the largest ship afloat, and the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, have been running in the Cunard service for the last year. They were taken over by the Inter-Allied maritime council at Hamburg following the signing of the armistice. With other ships, they were assigned to the British ministry of shipping, and then loaned to the United States for the purpose of transporting home troops. When this work was completed they were allocated by Great Britain to the Cunard Line for seven round-trip voyages.

Officers here of the Cunard Line say that the arrival of these two vessels in England on their present trip will end the term of their allocation.

The future of both ships is unknown here. Recent reports from London were that they were included among the seized German vessels to be offered for sale at auction in the near future. Whether the Cunard Line will make a bid for them is not known

HOSIERY MILLS CLOSED.

Franklin, N. H., Oct. 21.—The Sulloway Hosiery Mills have been closed for an indefinite period. Lack of orders was announced as the reason for the shutdown, which affects 650 operatives.

SARNIA RUGBY POT IS DOWN TO SIMMER AND TO BUSINESS

O. R. F. A. Champs' Affairs Reorganized Entirely—S. C. I. Grouped With St. Thomas and Woodstock.

SARNIA, Oct. 20.—The Sarnia Rugby Club at a meeting of the players and officers in the chamber of commerce building got down to business and put things on a working basis to carry on for the rest of the season. Different branches of necessary work were split up among a stipulated number to eliminate any confusion or "passing the buck." D. J. McIntosh was appointed trainer for the team, with Norman Fitzgibbon as his right hand.

Officers were as follows: Treasurer, W. H. Lott; buyer, H. Karn; field managers, Asa Vanalystyne, Geoff Garvey, Pete Glab, Harvey Douglas; gate, W. H. Lott, Reg. Savage, Tom McCann, Bill Smith; club physician, Dr. Logie; trainers, D. J. McIntosh, N. Fitzgibbon; advertising, O. N. Wilson.

Norman Forbes, who played end wing for McGill some years back, is the latest player to don the moleskins with the Blue and White. The ex-Shag end man is anxious to get back into the game, and will make an improvement if he rounds back into form. It will mean either Smith or Fitzgibbon will be shifted. Smith will likely take up his old position in the line if he is supplanted, Fitzgibbon wohld draw his old place at centre scrimmage. Practices will be resumed tonight at Bayview Park, though nothing strenuous will be attempted by the players. One or two minor shifts in the line-up will be made before the next game to further strengthen the offensive strength of the team.

DeGruchy and Burkhart, the Toronto men, who handled Monday's game here, will be back in Sarnia Saturday to handle Saturday's game between the Blue and White and the Hard Oils. Both clubs are agreeable to this move.

S. C. I. Grouped.

Sarnia Collegiate has been grouped with St. Thomas and Woodstock Collegiate for their 1920 district games, with Jack Newton, convener for the group.

Sarnia will likely get a bye in the winner of the St. Thomas-Woodstock series to decide the championship of the district. Points will count. This method of rushing the season through was put forward by one of the out-of-town clubs, who preferred to take on the other team in preference to Sarnia.

This will probably mean that the S. C. I. will play no O. R. F. U. games for two weeks, by which time a winner will be returned by the other two teams. An attempt will be made to have midweek as well as week-end games played to get the district settled in time to fit in with the semi-final games of the union.

City League.

The Wanderers, playing a hard game throughout, defeated the Bear Cats to-night, 15—0, in a city league fixture. McPherson, who does the punting for the Wanderers, outpunted the Bear Cats by ten and fifteen yards on every exchange. The sensational running back of kicks by McAllister and Copeland were the bright features of the losers. Dionne, the 210-pound lineman of the Wanderers, pounded over for the first touchdown. Millard and H. Maughan recovering blocked kicks and carrying them over the line. Jack Newton, coach of the S. C. I., and H. Karn handled the game. One fight marred the play. The teams:

IF STRENGTH DECLINES AS AGE ADVANCES, FOLLOW THIS SUGGESTION

So many women grow old before their time, perhaps your wife or sister. A little while ago, buoyant, full of vigor and activity—she enjoyed life and imparted pleasure to the whole family; but now in a few short years she has faded and lost color and strength. She is just ready to develop some disease that will further weaken and debilitate. You remember how it began, failure of appetite, tired in the morning, found housework burdensome, always nervous and a little irritable. It's a shame to let her go down hill further when you can build her up so quickly with Ferrozone. The change this nourishing tonic makes in a weak woman is surprising. It gives great zest for food, increases appetite and digestion enormously. The blood gets richer and stronger and adds new life to every organ in the body. A rebuilding process works through the entire system. The first week will show an improvement, and a month or two will fatten up the thinnest, most run-down woman you can think of. Take Ferrozone for lost color, for nervousness, for weakness—use it when run-down and feeling poorly—it will do you more lasting good, keep you in better health, than anything else. Just as good for men and children, too, because Ferrozone is harmless and safe, 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Ontario Football Assoc. To Be Formed For City and District on Nov. 10

New Soccer Unit Embracing Middlesex, Lambton and Elgin Opens Way To Connaught Cup Finals—Sarnia and St. Thomas Certain Entries.

The formation of an Ontario Football Association for London and Western counties takes definite form in the announcement that the new soccer unit will be formed at a meeting to be held in this city at the Hotel Richmond on November 10.

This will pave the way for teams from this end of the province directly into the Connaught Cup series—the highest amateur soccer honors in the Dominion—and as well into the Ontario finals.

The counties of Middlesex, Lambton and Elgin will be included in this association, and therefore the best football cities and towns in this western peninsula. Sarnia and St. Thomas are certain entries, and teams are looked for from the smaller towns, any number of which have at one time or another had good soccer teams.

For the first season it is probable that entries will mostly come from the cities in the area, but there seems no logical reason why football won't catch on again in some of the smaller places with the organization work facilitated by affiliation with the Ontario Football Association

Showed Way.

The defeat of the Westinghouse team, Dominion champions, on the holiday by the Galt W. F. A. Seniors shows conclusively that all the good football material is not coralled in Toronto and Hamilton, so that a Western Ontario team playing in the Connaught Cup finals is not at all an impossibility, even the first season. In this connection a movement is on foot to arrange a game locally between the conquerors of the Westinghouse and either the Public Utilities or a picked London and district team. Such a game would enable the local enthusiasts to size up the football material in the district.

All those football clubs desirous of affiliating with the O. F. A. are requested to communicate with R. G. Sim, secretary-treasurer of the London and District F. A.

The council of the L. and D. F. A. are desirous also of thanking the patrons who helped to make the Cup Tie final game last Saturday possible, and thereby helped swell a crowd which was a record in soccer attendances for the city.

Charles Green, the city player who was injured in the game with Toronto Scottish here on July 1, is still in the hospital. The fracture in his leg has been the subject of investigation by several bone specialists from Toronto, and also by local medical men. It constituted one of the freakiest fractures ever observed locally, but, however, has made a miraculous knit. Charlie will never be able to take up soccer again, but otherwise the broken member will be as useful as ever.

CAYUGA SOFT BALL.

CAYUGA, Oct. 20.—The Tuesday and Thursday soft ball games continue the centre of attraction in Cayuga, and the one played between the married men and the high school on the evening of October 19 drew a large crowd. The married men "Blocks," won by a score of 16 to 8. The high school "Chips" as usual kept ahead until about the middle of the game. They are putting up a good game against strong odds, and when they get their wind will probably sweep all before them.

TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDER POSTPONED

WELLAND, Oct. 20.—The trial of Rosario Sacco on a charge of murdering Dominico Sarafino at Thorold, Ont., on November 28, 1917, was to have been held at the present assizes here, but owing to the wife of the prisoner not being physically able to attend court the trial has been postponed until November 1. It is understood that she is to testify in her husband's behalf. A motion by the prisoner's counsel to change the venue from Welland to St. Catharines was refused by Mr. Justice Kelly, who is presiding at the assizes.

Annual Meeting of London Curlers On For Friday Night

Is First Move of Roarin' Game's Enthusiasts—President Frank Ashplant To Retire.

The London Curling Club's annual meeting at the Lyle street club-room on Friday night starts the organization of the curling season off. The Thistles will also hold theirs next week, it is understood, and then everything will be ready for the cold weather to set in.

Frank Ashplant has headed the east end organization for the past two seasons, and his tenure of office has been marked by two splendid seasons. He will retire this year and make way for another man, and in connection with the office several names are mentioned.

The question of hockey accommodation for the hockey teams will be touched on at the meeting, and the club as a whole are in favor of arrangements being made for hockey games. As in other years, the clubs will likely find that the curlers will go half way to meet their requirements.

RACE TRACK GAMBLING CHARGES DISMISSED

WINDSOR, Oct. 20.—The cases pending against the Windsor Jockey Club and the Western Racing Association, the latter, the proprietor of the Devonshire race track, were finally settled in the police court today, when Magistrate Miers ruled that charges against the two clubs of maintaining public gaming houses were without foundation.

Both were test cases, pending since the first meetings at the respective tracks, and were based on the charters under which the clubs operated which were alleged illegal. The decision of the local court in a report to the Western Racing Association found a precedent in the ruling of Justice Middleton in a civil case in which he declared the charter under which the Devonshire track operates to be legal.

WESTERN TOWN BURNS.

REGINA, Oct. 20.—Twelve stores, half of the business section of Wadena, Sask., are in ashes today, and flames of a fire that caused $300,000 damage to this town of 1,200 population last night are still smouldering. The cause of the fire is so far unknown.

Elmwoods To Stage Euchre Tourneys Through Winter

Holiday Games Closed Greens and Successful Silverware Hunt For Club.

The Elmwood Bowling Club have secured the use of the A. O. F. hall at the corner of Wortley road and Craig street Friday evenings and intend staging euchre tourneys there throughout the winter months. The first will be held this week, and all bowlers in the city will be made welcome. Prizes will be given each week and at varying periods inter-club tourneys will be put on.

Greens Close.

The friendly games on the holiday afternoon closed the greens for the season after one of the club's most successful years. Elmwood bowlers were prominent in every tournament throughout this end of the province, and the summer's collection of silverware makes a distinctly creditable showing.

The results of the holiday games were:

CHILD WELFARE COUNCIL COMES INTO EXISTENCE

Ottawa Conference Forms National Body For Work.

LONDONER HONORED

Dr. W. J. Tillmann Elected Secretary of Provisional Executive—Reforms Urged.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—The outcome of the Dominion Child Welfare conference held here during the last two days was the formation of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare. The objects of the new organization are to co-operate with the child welfare division of the department of health; to prepare and disseminate information on child welfare work, and to recommend a program for the work throughout the Dominion.

Any nationally organized bodies interested in child welfare work are to be represented on the council. The recommendation provided for two representatives from each of these bodies, but several delegates from Western Provinces and from Quebec thought this would mean a preponderance of Ontario people on the council, and on a vote being taken it was decided to make the representation for each national organization one.

Heated Discussion.

This was not decided on, however, until after a lengthy and at times heated discussion. Many of the delegates thought that the members from Ontario were trying to "hog" the representation on the council, and they were not backward in saying so.

A number of important resolutions were either adopted or referred to the Dominion Council of Health, which is to meet here next week. Among the latter was one recommending the appointment of a minister of parenthood for the Dominion. The resolution pointed out that the post would be no sinecure, and that it was a necessity.

A resolution was unanimously adopted calling for the compulsory registration of births within six weeks.

Rescind Legislation.

Another was adopted and referred to the provisional executive committee for action, calling on the Government to rescind the legislation which abolishes after April next the free postage of vital statistics. Resolutions were also adopted emphasizing the necessity for public health nurses in rural districts, and calling for the prohibition of the placing out of children either in free or boarding homes, except by adoption or Government sanction.

Wm. Todd of Orillia, Ont., was elected president; Mrs. Arthur Rodgers, Winnipeg, Man., vice-presidents, and Dr. W. J. Tillmann, London, Ont., secretary of the provisional executive committee to carry on the work until officers are regularly elected. Dr. Tillmann is also one of Ontario's representatives on the committee, with Dr. Allen Brown and Miss Charlotte Whitton, of Toronto.

CONFINED TO BED FOR TWO MONTHS

Was So Run Down After the "Flu" She Couldn't Do Her Housework—Grateful to Tanlac.

So many people throughout Canada have testified to having used Tanlac with such splendid results following influenza, grippe, operations, typhoid and pneumonia, and other troubles that result in a rundown condition, that it has become universally recognized as the most powerful reconstructive tonic of the present day.

Another very striking statement in connection with this fact was given recently by Lyman Williams, well-known farmer, living on R. F. D. No. 1, Vinemont, Ontario.

"Last February," said Mr. Williams, my wife was taken down with the 'flu, and was confined to her bed for two months. It left her in such a badly rundown condition that she wasn't able to do any of her housework whatever and nothing seemed to restore her strength. Her appetite was very poor, and her stomach was in such a bad fix that she could only eat the lightest kind of food. She had awful headaches lasting for a day or two at a time, and was simply in perfect misery.

"She saw Tanlac so highly recommended by others, that my wife decided it would be a good idea to try it, so we got her a bottle, and she began to improve from the very start. Her appetite picked right up, and after taking four bottles she says she never has an ache or pain of any kind. She has regained all her lost weight and can do her housework with perfect ease. My wife is so grateful for what Tanlac has done for her that she is always telling the neighbors about it, and I'm no less thankful than she is for her recovery."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy, Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and, moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion. —Advt.

SMALL DOCKET AT FALL ASSIZES IN THE RAILWAY CITY

Two Criminal Cases and Several Civil Hearings Are Listed.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 20.—The fall assizes for both civil and criminal cases will open on Monday afternoon before Justice Rose with a comparatively small docket. On the criminal list is a charge of rape, which will be about the first to come before the grand jury. Three indictments will possibly be found against the prisoners, Stanley Chappelle and Roy Roberts.

Among the civil suits are that of Elizabeth Antone against Abram Antone and Phillip Schuyler, all of Delaware, Middlesex County, who are the executors of the will of Elizabeth Cornelius. Mrs. Antone is claiming $1,120 for services as a nurse during the two years' illness of the deceased while living in St. Marys, Ont.; $30 advanced to Mary Antone, an assistant nurse, and that she is entitled to a share of the crops on the lands left by Mrs. Cornelius.

Jackson vs. Scharn.

William R. Jackson, St. Thomas, is suing Joseph and Mary Scharn of Southwold to recover the possession of a 26-acre farm in Southwold because of the default made by the defendants in the consideration of $4,300.

Welch vs. Welch.

Action is brought by Jane Welch, Mary Ann McVannell, Margaret Wight and Ellen Wight, who claim that William J. Welch of Dunwich has made an improper disposition of the estate of the late Thomas A. Welch, a farmer residing in Dunwich, who died intestate and unmarried in March, 1919, leaving as his sole heirs the plaintiffs.

Nobility Chocolate Company.

The Nobility Chocolate Company, with head offices in St. Thomas, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The promoters of the industry are Thomas J. Agar, Leo J. Phelan, Daniel P. J. Kelly (barristers at law), Toronto), Isadore Levinter and Frank Cronin (Toronto, students at law). Among the chief purposes of the company are to manufacture, buy, sell and deal in both wholesale and retail cholocate and cocoa, confectionery, ice cream, milk powder, dairy machinery, ice cream cabinets and tubs, etc. The capital stock is divided into 24,000; common shares at $25 each; 4,000 cumulative preference shares at $100 each.

To Increase Police Force.

The police commission at its next meeting will appoint a man to succeed Constable Small, who has secured a position in London. The commission will also consider an increase in the number of officers from eight to ten. The additional force is recommended by Chief Armstrong and Sergeant Ketchabaw as necessary and expedient in view of a possible criminal element passing through this end of the peninsula, because of industrial conditions and labor trouble. St. Thomas is the dropping-off centre for vagrants and others beating their way between Detroit and Buffalo. The area of patrol would be extended, as practically only Talbot street and a few blocks beyond it are directly protected by the police. The appointment of a plain clothesman and motor equipment for the department will also be considered.

East Elgin Memorial Hospital.

The East Elgin Memorial Hospital, which was recently incorporated without share capital, has appointed the following provisional directors: Frank L. Wagner, Horace H. Wright, James M. Wrong, Herson E. Armstrong and James L. Thayer, all of Aylmer. The objects set forth in the charter are to purchase, lease or otherwise lands or buildings in the town of Aylmer and any other necessary buildings, and to use, convert, adapt and maintain all or any of such lands, building and premises to and for the purpose of a hospital and to fit up and furnish the same.

The Leaves Are Failing.

The householders are waiting for directions from the poard of works as to how they may dispose of the big crop of leaves which is overflowing nearly every lawn in the city. There is a bylaw in operation preventing the people from burning them on the premises or banking them on the streets, and teams cannot be secured to remove them from the lawns.

Must Go To School.

Charged with not sending his children to school, Daniel Lucas, South Dorchester, was fined $5 and costs today under the truancy act. Truant Officer Mrs. Caughill is rounding up the offending heads of families throughout the rural sections. The excuse given is the busy season and the help famine amongst the farmers, but no excuse other than ill-health will be accepted by the prosecuting officer.

The Glad Hand.

Aylmer will erect four electric signs at the town limits with the legends "Aylmer Welcomes You," and "Thanks, Call Again."

Permission will be given the St. Thomas branch of the Navy League to hold a tag day on Saturday.

Support Soldiers' Monument.

The Regimental Chapter, I. O. D. E., has pledged itself to support any action that may be taken towards erecting a suitable monument on the soldiers' plot at the cemetery.

Mrs. F. Houston, Amherstburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Baker, St. Ann's Place.

STRANGER LEFT LIQUOR WHILE HE SOUGHT KEY

Strange Defence of Man Charged With Breach of O. T. A.

WINDSOR, Oct. 20.—Judgment was reserved in Windsor police court this afternoon in one of the most peculiar liquor cases yet heard, in which Napoleon LaCasse, faced with a charge of selling and illegally disposing of liquor, claimed that 26 cases of whiskey seized at his home by license officers, had been left there by a stranger, who had failed to return and claim it.

LaCasse was originally charged with having liquor illegally in his possession, but the charge was changed today. Evidence was introduced by the defence claiming that in the absence of the family with the exception of one son, a stranger had appeared and had been granted leave to store his liquor there temporarily until he could find the key to his own house.

Twenty-Three Consignments.

Information was tonight sworn out by License Officers Sykes and Coorian against F. Shadd of Tecumseh, following a seizure by them late today, of 235 cases of liquor at the residence of accused. Shadd is charged with ordering whiskey under fictitious names. The liquor seized consisted of 23 consignments, all addressed to different persons, while Shadd is alleged to be the real owner.

SHIP'S CREW STRIKES RATHER THAN BATHE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 20.—The crew of the Italian steamer Polacky went on strike upon the arrival of the ship here the other day because the health officers insisted that they should take a bath before landing, as first class passengers must do. The crew refused to bathe unless first-class passengers also were compelled to go swimming. The strike ended when first-class passengers agreed to this.

Crew, steerage and first-class passengers all entered Bosphorus taking sea bath then returning to the ship which proceeded to Naples.

AMENDMENTS TO LEAGUE COVENANT MAY BE TAKEN UP

Suggestions of Neutral Will Probably Be Heard by Geneva Assembly

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — Four amendments to the covenant of the League of Nations, suggested by the Danish, Norwegian and Swedish Governments, probably will be taken up at the first meeting of the assembly of the league at Geneva on November 15. They have already been submitted to all members of the league for study, and require the approval of the council and a majority vote of the assembly to become effective.

One suggestion proposes a fixed annual meeting of the assembly to be held either at the time provided for in the rules of procedure or on a specific date, such as the second Monday in September. It is also proposed that on the demand of ten members of the league a special meeting of the assembly shall be called at any time.

Another proposal would regularize the method of selecting the four nonpermanent members of the council. It is suggested that the assembly after the first selections shall name a new state each year to serve for a period of four years, which shall not be subject to re-election for the following period. The purpose is to secure successive representation on the council of a large number of states while making only one change in membership each year.

A third amendment proposed to omit the word "generally" from the following paragraph:

"Disputes as to the interpretation of a treaty as to any question of international law, as to the existence of any fact, which, if established, would constitute a breach of any international obligation, or as to the extent and nature of the reparation to be made for any such breach, are declared to be among those which are GENERLLY suitable for submission to arbitration."

The purpose is to make the obligation to resort to arbitration more absolute and precise.

The fourth amendment would permit the council to authorize a state in the vicinity of another state against which an economic blockade has been enforced to maintain a certain degree of intercourse with the covenant-breaking state, if this is considered necessary by the council to prevent the blockaded state from threatening or attacking its neighbor. It is contended that some measure of freedom should be allowed, especially in the case of smaller states where the fulfillment of the blockade obligation might lead to occupation of territory by the covenant-breaking state.

QUESTION OF LEVELS RAILWAY BOARD IN SESSION AT SARNIA

City's Engineer Ordered To Prepare Plans of Streets Affected.

SARNIA, Oct. 20.—In concluding the inquiry before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, sitting on the controversy between the corporation of the city of Sarnia and the Sarnia Street Railway Company respecting street grades and the levels of the company's tracks on streets traversed, the board directed the city engineer to prepare a cross-section plan of the streets on which the lines of the company are laid within two weeks, and that the same in tracings be then submitted to the street railway company, and either approved or disapproved by the latter within a period of ten days. If disapproved the company will cite their objections to the board, and the board's engineer, Mr. Middlemist, will be sent to this city to confer.

The board urged co-operation between the two engineers, Chairman McIntyre pointing out to the counsel for the city that the terms of the order issued by the board following their sitting here in February last indicated the procedure which should have been carried out. Determination of a new street level, it was pointed out, and the consequent alterations to the tracks to correspond, will be an extensive proposition for the railway company.

Fell Over Sandpile.

As the result of an unprotected sandpile being left on the roadway, George S. Karrat of Telfourd street was painfully injured this afternoon, when he struck the obstruction while riding his bicycle and was thrown over the handlebars, being knocked unconscious and severely lacerated about the face and head.

Violated Prohibition Law.

Word was received tonight from the Port Huron authorities that the cases of Edward Dietrich, Carl Pothke and John Cline, the trio lodged in the county jail on Tuesday following the seizure of 26 cases of contraband liquor by the police, will be turned over to the federal authorities. The liquor and the auto in which the wet goods was loaded will also go into the possession of government officials. Charges of violating the national prohibition law will be preferred against the men, who will be arraigned before the United States commissioner, Frank R. Schell, following the serving of warrants against them by a United States marshal.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CADET CORPS IN OWEN SOUND

Advantages of Physical Training Explained by Lieut.-Col. Higgins.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 20.—Lieut.-Col. Higgins, inspector of Cadet Corps in the province of Ontario, was in the city this afternoon in connection with the proposal to place cadet corps in the public schools, and at a meeting in the hall of the public library addressed the teachers and principals of the schools. He showed the benefits to be obtained physically and mentally from systematic training in Strathcona work and drill, and his remarks were received with hearty approbation. It is almost certain that public school cadet corps will be established here this spring. R. G. McKay, chairman of the board of education, said that the board would be behind any move to better the physical condition of the children by physical training or work of a similar nature.

MONSTER POTATO GROWN IN BRANT

Biggest Tuber in the District Weighs Two and a Quarter Pounds

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Elmwood, Oct. 20.—There are many large potatoes in this district this year, but the largest and finest specimens yet exhibited was grown by Fred Jacklin, con. 12, Brant Township. By actual measurement it is 13 inches by 17¼ inches, and weighs 2¼ pounds.

There is a record yield of fine potatoes. Prices at the present time are $1 per bag of 90 pounds. Indications point to considerably lower prices.

ODDS ON HARDING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—Prohibitive odds now being quoted on Senator Harding, Republican presidential candidate, to win the November election are reported practically to have brought Wall Street betting to a standstill. Plenty of Harding money is offered at 4 to 1, while those favoring Cox want 6 to 1.

GERMAN SOCIALIZATION COMMITTEE OPPOSED TO SEIZING COAL FIELDS

But Gives Government Control and Fixing of Coal Prices.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—(The Associated Press).—The socialization committee appointed by the Government, comprising 21 leaders of the industrial labor world and economic experts, has reported by a majority of one, that it is opposed to the immediate seizure of the nation's coal fields.

The commission was divided into two groups, the smaller of which demanded the nationalization of the entire production and distribution of coal. This group supports the findings of the first commission which has since been disbanded, but whose majority recommended immediate confiscation.

Eleven members of the newly organized commission indorsed Walter Rathenau's proposal to give the state absolute control over every ounce of coal produced, thus depriving the operators of any voice in determining the method of disposing of their product or fixing its price. The output of the mines would be taken over by an imperial coal council which would have authority to fix the prices and reimburse the operators.

The commission was unanimously in favor of "far-reaching elimination of capitalistic gains from coal production." The majority of the commission was also convinced of the desirability of withdrawing the nation's coal assets from private ownership, but it was divided over the method by which this is to be achieved.

Rathenau's plan, which was given a small majority of support, provides for the indemnification of the operators for the use of their plants, payment of interest on invested capital, allowances for wear and tear and new equipment, and fixed interest for actual capital required for operations.

The commission also favored allowing workers fixed bonus premiums for increased production and social welfare institutions, but also suggested penalties in the nature of deductions for decreased output due to the fault of the workers.

The majority group pointed out that if its recommendations were put into effect the operators would at once be deprived of the opportunity of juggling prices, as he would no longer be able to market the coal himself.

The majority of the commission designated the present plan to provisional procedure, which will logically terminate in complete socialization not later than 30 years, assuming that the ultimate confiscation is fully warranted by the progress of economic developments.

GALT'S POPULATION CONTINUES TO GROW

GALT, Oct. 20.—The assessment department today made known its returns, showing the city's population to have reached 13,192, an increase of 658 in the year, while the total assessment has now reached the grand total of $12,533,800, an increase of $1,715,790, while the taxable assessment is $10,558,240, an increase of $1,502,005. The delay in completing the returns was due to the new legislation in regard to incomes.

In his anxiety to have the north end of Jackson Park improved and the work gone on with as soon as possible, Dr. A. Soper, who has already submitted two propositions now under consideration, today came out with his third offer, which is to allow him to acquire this undeveloped piece of park land for a nominal figure, to substitute the name of Soper for Jackson Park, and then he would proceed to make a park, and when complete will turn it over to the people.

Two public health nurses, Miss M. I. Foy and Miss Elizabeth Castles, have arrived in the city and established a public health center and will give six weeks' demonstration of their work. The movement is part of the Provincial Government's scheme.

MEAN THIEVES TOOK PRIEST'S AUTOMOBILE

Car of Fr. Pinsonneault Found Burning By the Roadside.

Sandwich, Oct. 20.—One of the meanest auto thefts reported in this district in some time occurred when unknown parties entered the garage of Father Pinsonneault at McGregor, took his Ford car, presumably for the purpose of towing a disabled Maxwell to Windsor. Between midnight and 1 o'clock in the morning Wilfrid Knapp and Herman Paquette were awakened by a fire on the townline. They called help and ran to the place, where they discovered Father Pinsonault's car ablaze. Two men at the same time disappeared in a cornfield adjoining. They cut the rope and saved the Maxwell car, but the priest's flivver was a wreck. Upon investigation later, it was found that the big car belonged to a Windsor man, who said it had been stolen from his garage. The thieves apparently took Father Pinsonneault's car when their own grave out. It is thought that they were transferring some gasoline to the Ford tank when the fire occurred.

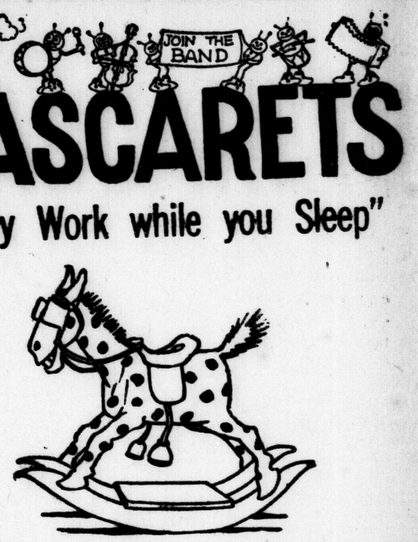

SWORD OF BONNIE PRINCE CHARLIE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The sword of "Bonnie Prince Charlie," worn by him at court, and one of the romantic blades of Scottish history, has come to the United States. It is the gift of Lord Garioch, only son of the Earl of Mar of Scotland, to Mr. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun of Washington, one of the descendants of the House of Mar on her mother's side. The historic sword was delivered through the British embassy, where it came in care of the ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes.

The words of presentation which accompanied the claymore declare it was sent "in view of the fact that it was for their adherence and loyalty to the cause of the Stewarts that the Earls of Mar suffered so greatly in their estates and fortunes that some of the family in exile sought refuge in America."

LIVED TEN YEARS AS HERMIT TO WIN WAGER

NORFOLK, W. Va., Oct. 20.—Charles H. Hardenburg of Trenton, N. J., has just returned to civilization after ten years spent as a hermit on Water Island, in Chesapeake Bay. In 1910 he made a wager that he could live for ten years on an island without human companionship. He won the wager and incidentally gained good health. When he left for the island his health was impaired. He returned hale and strong.

Congratulations—From the Commercial Travelers

NOT only in London and Western Ontario, but in all parts of Canada, Commercial Travelers are expressing the warmest appreciation of the civic spirit which is building the Forest City's new hotel.

No other class in the community is more whole-heartedly in favor of the new hotel, because to no other class does its coming mean so much.

There was a time when travelers spent the week-end in London because they liked the city, and that time will come again.

London, even now, is a great centre for the knights of the grip—both the outgoing and incoming emissaries of trade.

The new hotel will bring hundreds more commercial men to London—they will be glad to come and glad to stay. We, as citizens, will be able to extend to them the hospitality they deserve.

Some Salient Features of the Bond Issue

The necessity for a new hotel in London is beyond all doubt. Its construction is one of the stages in developing London to the status of a real city.

The property is one of the most valuable sites in London, and was secured for the reasonable sum of $100,000.

This property with the hotel building, together representing a value of one million dollars, will form the security for the $600,000 first mortgage 7 per cent bonds.

The bonds are to be issued in denominations as low as $250, and the payments are arranged on terms to extend from application until March, 1921. The investment is thus brought within reach of thousands of investors.

The annual net earnings are estimated at $140,000, being over three times the interest on the first mortgage issue, twice the interest on the first and second mortgage issue, or sufficient to pay interest on first and second mortgage issue and 14 per cent on the Common Stock.

A staff of London salesmen is at the service of all interested in the issue. Information may also be had from the Chamber of Commerce or any of the businessmen who have invested in the second mortgage bonds.

Call telephone No. 1537 for any information concerning the issue.

UNIONIST BACKS LIBERAL LEADER IN TARIFF PLAN

Buchanan, Federal Member For Lethbridge, Pledges His Support.

KING PLACES BLAME

Tells Audience Western Members Failed To Demand Revision.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Oct. 20.—A significant feature of the banquet tendered to the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and his party here last night, or rather early this morning, following the mass meeting at the theatre, was the presence at the speaker's table of W. A. Buchanan, the Federal member for this riding, formerly a Liberal, but returned to Ottawa in 1917 as a Unionist.

Mr. Buchanan in a short address spoke in terms of admiration of the manner in which Mr. King was conducting the present tour, and said that personally he had not changed his principles, although he had changed his affiliations. On the question of the tariff and the necessity for its revision in the interests of national production he stated that he adhered to the Liberal policy in this respect.

Thanks His Hosts.

The Liberal leader, in thanking his hosts for the courtesies they had extended to him during his stay in Lethbridge, took occasion to refer to the speech of Mr. Buchanan. Mr. King said that he was pleased to see that differences of opinion were gradually being eliminated and he reminded his audience that on the question of the tariff the Liberal party had adhered to its historical policy. At the last session of Parliament they had advanced several proposals for the amelioration of the conditions under which the farmers of the West were suffering.

These proposals had been supported by the Liberal block from the Eastern provinces, and failed only because the members from the West had not seen fit to come to their aid.

"The farmers of Western Canada," he said, "must not blame the Liberal party for what they had failed to achieve for them. They must blame the members from their own province who had placed more importance on temporary political affiliations than on the interests of those they represented."

DRIVER OF AUTO WHICH KILLED CHILD EXONERATED

Large Attendance Registered at Industrial School Night Classes.

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—The attendance at the night classes of the industriaf school has attained a new record, 231 now being registered. The nurses of the two hospitals are taking a keen interest in the course of dietetics, a class that has been added to the curriculum this year.

Miss Fanazick, who is leaving for the West shortly after serving several years as superintendent of Public General Hospital, was honored a few evenings ago by the assisting society, hospital board and physicians of the city, when she was presented with several valuable presents.

Chief of Police Groves today issues a warning to speeders, and says in the future those guilty of the offence will be severely dealt with. He says the speed in the cities should be limited to not more than 15 miles per hour.

Exonerated Driver.

The coroner's jury to inquire into the death of Gretta Beckett, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Beckett of Wallaceburg, who was killed late Friday afternoon by an automobile driven by Richard Curlis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Curlis, Chatham Township, returned a verdict of accidental death and entirely exonerated the driver of the car. The evidence adduced showed that the car was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when the accident happened. Dr. Harry A. Taylor, coroner, presided at the inquest, and Crown Attorney H. D. Smith represented the crown.

DOCTORS ELECT REPRESENTATIVES.

KITCHENER, Oct. 20.—Dr. J. J. Walters of this city was re-elected as representative of district No. 5 to the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. He was opposed by Dr. McKinnon of Guelph.

The first week of the activities of the Mothers' Pension Board here has resulted in 12 applications. Some of the applicants will be turned down owing to lack of proper qualifications.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GREY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, grey hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

GABY IS CONFIDENT RADIAL CAN LIVE WITH STEAM ROADS

Engineer Believes It Would Get Business Despite Competition.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Revised estimates of the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway and the Toronto and Suburban Lines was not ready at the sitting of the royal commission on hydro-electric radial railways today, and Mr. Justice Sutherland, the chairman, expressed displeasure because of this.

"We should have had these reports long ago," he said, "and we would have had them if our suggestions had been carried out. But our suggestions did not seem to suit some persons."

I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., counsel for the Government, explained that Chief Engineer F. A. Gaby of the hydro-electric power commission had been working hard since yesterday's adjournment, but had not had time to complete the data requested.

At Mr. Hellmuth's suggestion the sitting was adjourned until tomorrow in order to allow Mr. Gaby to get the estimates ready.

In connection with the proposed Toronto-to-St. Catharines radial lines, Mr. Gaby was asked by Mr. Hellmuth at a brief sitting today as to competition with the Grand Trunk Railway, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway, but Mr. Gaby expressed confidence that the radial railway would do a big freight business in spite of the competition with the steam railways.

TRENT WATER USED TO LIMIT IS CLAIM

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—Henry Holgate of Montreal, the hydraulic engineering expert, to whom was referred the question of the use and control of water for power purposes in the Trent district, has reported to the Government that the water in question has been judiciously handled, and that if reasonable security is to be insured discharge above the present flow, which is about 1,200 cubic feet per second, should not be permitted.

"You have," he states, "already drawn upon your storage in favor of power, and can afford to draw no more. Early rain will alter the whole situation."

ALBERTA CATTLE TO COME EAST FOR BIG WINTER FAIR

Directors of Guelph Exhibition Have Greatly Increased the Accommodation.

GUELPH, Oct. 20.—The executive committee of the Provincial Winter Fair met today and made final arrangements for the show on December 3 to 9. Although new buildings have been erected to house the fair, the executive after a trip through the various departments decided on several minor additions in an effort to accommodate the increased exhibits expected this year.

Largest Entry List.

According to J. E. Rettie, secretary of the fair, the indications point to the largest entry list in the history of the show. For the first time Alberta cattle will be shown in the Guelph ring this year, a number of prominent Alberta breeders having placed their stock in the hands of the Alberta Agricultural College officials, who will bring the stock east for exhibition. It is also likely that the Manitoba breeders will have some stock here. Inquiries for prize lists have been received by the secretary from points in the United States as far west as Minnesota and as far east as Rhode Island, mostly from poultry men and swine and sheep breeders.

Two New Features.

There will be two new features this year, the Dominion livestock branch having decided to give prizes for groups of livestock. These groups will be made up of three and five in cattle, five in lambs and four in bacon hogs. The other new awards will come from the Clydesdale Horse Association of Great Britain. Workmen are already getting the building in shape under the supervision of Superintendent Saunders of London. The directors present today were: President John Gardhouse, Weston; Secretary J. E. Rettie; Wm. McNeil, London; W. J. Lennox, Toronto; Dr. T. H. Hassard, Markham; Peter Christie, Manchester; W. Whitelaw, Guelph; R. H. Stevenson, Ancaster.

ARCHBISHOP McNEIL CELEBRATES JUBILEE

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—One of the greatest ceremonials of the Roman Catholic Church, the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the episcopal consecration of a prelate distinguished for ability and devotion to his episcopal duties, occupied the attention of representatives of the church from almost every section of the Dominion here today, when the episcopal silver jubilee of the ordination to the priesthood of the most Rev. Archbishop McNeil of this archdiocese of Toronto was celebrated.

The event was made doubly interesting by the presence of His Excellency Monsignor P. Di Maria, on his first official visit to Toronto as representative in Canada of His Holiness Pope Benedict XV.

Following the religious services in St. Michael's Cathedral, where the Roman Catholic ceremonial attending such functions was carried out in all its magnificence, the esteem in which Archbishop McNeil is held by his people was manifested in a personal way by the presentation to his grace of a purse of gold, amounting to $50,000. The presentation was made by Very Rev. Dean John L. Hand on behalf of the clergy and laity of the archdiocese.

FINE FALL WEATHER BENEFICIAL TO CROPS

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—From an agricultural viewpoint the wonderfully fine autumn weather which has prevailed during the last few weeks has been of the greatest benefit. This is the opinion of E. S. Archibald, director of the Dominion experimental farm, and is based on close observation of the fall conditions on agricultural products, livestock, trees, both fruit and foliage and plants.

DR. LAMONT FATALLY HURT.

Chesley, Oct. 20.—Word has been received of the death at Treherne, Manitoba, of Dr. T. J. Lamont, formerly of Malcolm, Bruce County, from injuries sustained when his team ran away. He was returning from attending a patient when, upon reaching a level crossing a part of the harness broke. The team became unmanageable, and owing to the broken harness was entirely out of control. Before the animals had gone far, the vehicle to which they were attached upset, and the doctor was thrown heavily to the roadway, striking his head. He died a few hours after. Dr. Lamont was 62 years old. For many years he was president of the Liberal Association and served as trustee of the school.

DEATH TOLL 7, INJURED 20, IN RAILWAY CRASH

Three of Injured Likely To Die At Erie—Switch Is Blamed.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 20.—Seven persons were killed, and 20 injured, three probably fatally, when New York Central train No. 60, eastbound, sideswiped train No. 23, westbound, 200 feet west of the Union Depot here at noon today.

A switch, thought to have been thrown by members of a section gang working at the scene of the wreck, is believed to have caused the accident.

The westbound train had just left the depot, and the eastbound train, a Cleveland-Buffalo express, was coasting into the station when the crash came. A car on the eastbound train suddenly leaped from the rails and crashed into the Pullman, tearing its steel sides away as if they were paper. The occupants of the car were hurled from their seats and thrown into a mass as the steel car tore into the side of the Pullman. Suddenly the heavy Pullman toppled over with the open side up in the air.

Police and firemen were forced to use ladders in taking the dead and injured from the wreckage. All of the dead were badly mangled.

The crew of the eastbound train declared that the switch was all right when they looked at it. Road officials are of the opinion that a member of the section gang, believing the switch open, and seeing the rapidly moving train, threw the lever, thinking to close it. Others are of the opinion that as the section gang was working on the switch they may have loosened the bolts in some way.

WET GOODS VALUED AT $120,000 SEIZED BY LICENSE OFFICER

Four Thousand Cases Shipped To Fictitious Names and Addresses.

WINDSOR, Oct. 20.—The coffers of the province were made richer to the extent of $120,000 tonight as a result of the seizure and confiscation of 4,000 cases of liquor seized at a local express company's office by Special License Inspector W. J. Connors. Action was taken following an investigation of shipments to 120 fictitious names, supposedly of persons residing mostly in the township of Sandwich West. Inquiry showed that the names were all either faked or wrongly used, for where correct addresses were given the occupants of the houses concerned denied all knowledge of the whiskey. The liquor is to be sent to Toronto, where it will be tested, rebottled and sold out through Government dispensaries.

GENERAL STRIKE AS PROTEST AGAINST NEW POLISH CONSTITUTION

WARSAW, Oct. 20.—A general strike throughout Poland has been proclaimed as a protest against the proposed creation of an upper parliamentary house under the new constitution on which a commission has been working for more than a year.

In Warsaw the street cars ceased running and restaurants and many stores were closed. Open-air mass meetings were held and a procession of several thousand persons marched to the Diet and presented resolutions.

TELEGRAPHERS OBJECT TO BONUS REDUCTION

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Operators in the local office of the Postal Telegraph Company walked out tonight after a reduction in bonuses had been announced. Company officials said "only about a dozen" quit, while the men claimed that the entire night force of about 300 had left.

WANT LAMBTON SEED CORN TO IMPROVE NEW MEXICO CROPS

Sample Sent To Albuquerque Fair Arrived Late—Judged Best.

PETROLEA, Oct. 20.—The box of corn shipped by W. P. Macdonald, secretary of the Lambton County Corn Growers' Association, to a corn show open to the world, held at Albuquerque, New Mexico, was delayed in transit. The corn arrived shortly after the judging was completed. H. B. Watkins, secretary of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce, has written Mr. Macdonald asking that he be allowed "to retain the corn and distribute it to their foremost farmers in order to improve the grade of corn that they are now growing."

The Albuquerque Herald, commenting on this exhibit, states: A fine exhibit of Canadian corn, sent by W. P. Macdonald, Petrolea, Ont., was declared by the judges to be the best general exhibit, but it arrived on the third day of the festival.

PREMIER AND MRS. DRURY HOLD RECEPTION AT O.A.C.

GUELPH, Oct. 20.—This evening at the O. A. C. Premier and Mrs. Drury were "at home" to the faculty, students and friends, and a large number of citizens took advantage of the occasion to pay their respects to the graduate of the college who has risen to be provincial premier.

A special meeting of the civic reception committee was held in the mayor's office today, when final arrangements were completed for the public reception to be tendered by the city to Lieutenant-Governor Sir Lionel Clark and Mrs. Clark, when they visit Guelph on Saturday, Oct. 30. They will be met at the station on their arrival by Mayor Westoby and the members of the reception committee, and will go to the O. A. C., where they will be the guests of President and Mrs. Reynolds.

MINISTER OF LABOR TRYING TO SETTLE TEXTILE STRIKE

Perth Teachers To Hold Conference At Stratford On Friday.

STRATFORD, Oct. 20.—In an effort to aid in the settlement of the textile workers' strike at the Avon Hosiery Company's plant, Hon Walter Rollo, minister of labor, and E. N. Compton of the Dominon department of labor, are in the city conferring with officers of the company.

Teachers from Perth County will be here Thursday and Friday for the annual teachers' convention. Among the speakers will be D. Walker, B.A., of Peterboro. Interesting addresses by county teachers will be given.

Current report here is to the effect that Chief of Police W. J. Laninin is an applicant for the vacancy as head of the Windsor police force. He would neither deny nor confirm the report today.

Rinso

Soak the clothes—that's all!

Cold water and a package of Rinso—a few hours' soaking—and the week's washing is done. No need to heat water—Rinso washes as well in cold water as in hot. And because there is no rubbing or boiling, your clothes last longer and are cleaner and more fresh in color than when washed in the old way.

At Night—
Soak the clothes in the rich cleansing Rinso suds.

Morning—
Rinse them out, that's all!

Is this hard to believe? ONE package of Rinso, enough for a week's wash, will prove it.

DR. LYNOTT, THE SPECIALIST, INVITES THE AILING TO CONSULT HIM

Chronic Blood, Skin and Nervous Diseases His Specialty

Keep Your Blood Pure and You Can Defy Disease

NERVES AND BLOOD ARE LIFE!

According to how you have lived your life are found the strength mentally and physically, so if you have weakened or poisoned either or both the nerves and blood better take care of yourself in time—go to a doctor at once, and when you pick your doctor go to a specialist who knows how to tell what ails you, and just what to do to get quick alleviation and at a reasonable cost.

DANGERS OF BAD BLOOD OVERCOME.

No matter the man, whether young or old, single or married, he can never feel safe as long as his blood is not healthy. The face, body, bones, nerves and brain may be affected any day without any warning, and the symptoms spring on you like a thief in the night. So if suffering, don't grow careless; remember the danger. Many times an innocent-looking little pimple left alone has become a serious running sore, which took months and years to heal, and then broke out later somewhere else.

BACTERINS, VACCINES, LYMPHS AND SERUMS.

Are means adopted today for certain quick and practically painless results that have succeeded admirably in overcoming conditions that act so directly upon the disease that one can almost look upon their action as that of a miracle, while in fact it is but a physiological action based upon scientific fact by a chemical and direct efficiency.

No Pain—No Loss of Time.

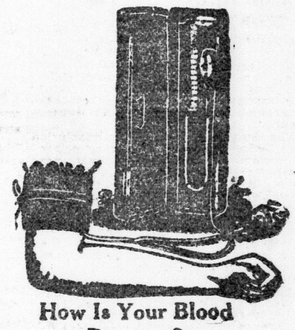

ELECTRICITY, MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

While not new, but as old as the art of healing, have not been behind in making progress in their respective fields, and today just as marvelous things can be written and told of them as of the other forms of treatment used in the alleviation of any and all ACUTE and CHRONIC DISEASES, so that new theories and practices do not take any laurels from them, but add to their means of remarkable cures.

FIND OUT WHAT AILS YOU

I locate disease and determine its nature by a thorough, searching examination with the microscope and chemical analysis. These make no mistake like the naked eye. They do not make guesses, based on symptoms. Therefore you will not be treated for some disease other than the one you have. This mistake has cost hundreds of lives. Don't help to swell the list of those who died as the result of a wrong diagnosis. You will find my fees reasonable, and you may arrange to pay same as convenient.

BRITISH HOUSE BACKS GOVT. IN RESISTING PROBE

Coalition Has Large Majority Refusing Inquiry Into Reprisals.

DUEL IN COMMONS

Labor and Liberals Press For Investigation—Military Raids in Dublin.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(By the Canadian Associated Press.)—The Irish question with special reference to reprisals by armed forces was debated in both Houses of Parliament today, motions being submitted calling for public inquiry in the House of Lords. The motion in the Commons was withdrawn. The Government, which firmly resisted the proposal, had a large majority.

DUEL IN COMMONS.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Irish debate in the House of Commons tonight resolved itself into a duel between the Opposition and the Government, the former demanding and the latter resisting an independent inquiry into the reprisals.

The defence of the Government set up by Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, was that "while the Asquithians put the emphasis on the reprisals, I put it on the provocation." He insisted that no case had been made out for what he characterized as Arthur Henderson's insulting resolution, demanding an inquiry into the reprisals by the police and soldiers in Ireland.

He incidentally remarked that the United States was no longer welcoming immigration from Ireland, because it did not desire to swell the vast total of disturbing elements in the republic, and he declared his intention to rake Ireland from end to end, including Ulster, in the search of arms.

Asquith and Cecil.

Lord Robert Cecil, former secretary of state for foreign affairs, and former Premier Asquith, both pressed urgently for an inquiry, Lord Robert Cecil declaring that administration in Ireland in the last eighteen months was one of the most disastrous and tactless things in the country's history. For the sake of the country's good name the Government ought to clear themselves of the charge of connivance in the reprisals.

Mr. Asquith asserted that there was prima facie evidence that some officers and servants of the executive in Ireland had far exceeded the limits of legitimate self-defence, and that until the perpetrators of the reprisals received condign punishment there would not be the shadow of respect for the authorities in Ireland.

Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader in the House, based his refusal of an inquiry on the necessity of supporting the officials and others responsible for the security of law and order. He declared the authorities had condemned the reprisals, which, since then had been greatly reduced. The Government, he added, could not be a party to any surrender to crime.

IRISH BISHOPS CONDEMN OPPRESSION

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—The Irish Catholic bishops met Wednesday at Maynooth, with Cardinal Logue presiding over them, and the entire hierarchy signed a strong resolution denouncing terrorism, partiality and failure as characteristics of the present Irish Government.

The bishops recall in the resolution that "when the country was crimeless" the bishops warned the government against oppressive measures. They declare "it is not a question of hasty reprisals but of indiscriminate hate of savages, deliberately wreaked on the whole countryside without any proof of complicity in crime by those ostensibly employed to protect lives and property."

The resolution declares that the press is gagged, the public meeting is interdicted and that inquests are suppressed. It also says there has been brutal treatment of clergymen, and that the preventing of Archbishop Mannix of Australia from visiting Ireland was one of the most unwise steps purblind and tyrannical oppression could take."

The bishops demand a full inquiry into the situation, and urge the right of Ireland to choose its own government.

WEAPONS DISCOVERED.

Belfast, Oct. 20.—A stock of revolvers, bombs, fuses and telephone apparatus was discovered by the police last night in a private house in the Ballynafeigh district, which is mainly a Protestant residential section. Search of the place followed the arrest of an armed man who had the address of the house in his pocket.

The police also reported to have discovered documentary evidence, but they display reticence concerning the seizure.

EXTENSIVE RAIDS MADE BY CONSTABLES

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—An auxiliary division of the Royal Irish Constabulary carried out an extensive raid in the heart of the city today. Business premises just off Sackville street were visited and searched, and two men were arrested. About noon all traffic was stopped, two armored cars and a large number of pickets being posted to prevent a disturbance.

Dublin Castle has issued a report that a number of raids were recently carried out by men in uniform who, however, were not connected with the military. In one case they were accompanied by women, who cut the hair off the wife of the tenant of the house and burned it.

The proprietor of "The Old Malt House" in Galway was taken from his residence last night and shot. His body was thrown into the river.

HENDERSON DEMANDS PROBE INTO REPRISALS

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The eagerly-awaited debate on the Irish situation was precipitated in the House of Commons today by Arthur Henderson, former Labor member of the cabinet, who offered a motion demanding an inquiry into reprisals by the police and soldiers in Ireland. While admitting that the armed forces of the crown had suffered provocation, Mr. Henderson declared the character of the reprisals they had taken were "quite in keeping with the aggressive policy which has been consistently pursued by the Government."

The policy of the Government, Mr. Henderson asserted, seemed to him to aim at stamping out Nationalism and to break the spirit of the Irish people.

Replying to Mr. Henderson's remarks, Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, declared Mr. Henderson had not produced a single case to justify his motion. The chief secretary stoutly defended the Government forces against the charges. He declared a great majority of the cases were alleged without known facts or were alleged against policemen or soldiers acting in self-defence.

Details Circumstances.

The chief secretary detailed the circumstances of the murder of Inspector Brady, which occurred recently. He admitted there had been reprisals in this case. Three shops belonging to notorious Sinn Feiners had been burned, he said, and seven of their shops smashed. He was convinced, however, that the persons who suffered from the reprisals had connived at or possibly helped in the murder of the inspector. He regretted the reprisals, but declared these men had no right to complain.

"The difficulty is," continued the chief secretary, "that there is a reign of terror which extends throughout the country. The Irish Republican army, organized in brigades, companies and platoons, armed throughout the country, with branches in England, Scotland and Wales, has terrorized until recently nearly the whole of Ireland. I am glad to say that terror is being broken by the forces of the crown. It is only the British Government acting through its forces in Ireland that can break this terror. The Irish people are helpless under it.

Admittedly Impotent.

"The Roman Catholic Church is admittedly impotent to break it."

Sir Hamar declared he believed the vast majority of the people of Ireland prayed for the cessation of murder and outrage.

"I foresee at no distant date the end of the rule of assassination in Ireland," he said.

Connected with terrorism was the boycott, and this also was being broken down, he asserted.

The chief secretary mentioned some other reprisals, and detailed graphically the provocation offered to the crown forces by the killing of their comrades. He referred to the reprisals at Balbriggan after the killing of two police constables, and expressed regret for it, "because it did mean a certain break in the splendid discipline of the Irish police."

He had paraded the men, he said, and told them that no matter what provocation there might be they must not give way, but he could not, in his heart of hearts—it might be right or it might be wrong—condemn in the same way those policemen who lost their heads as he condemned the assailants who gave provocation for this outrage.

SAYS PHYSICIAN THREATENED TO FORCE MACSWINEY TO DRINK

LONDON, Oct. 20.—On a motion to adjourn, Commander Joseph M. Kenworthy, independent Liberal member for Hull, raised the question of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, who is a hunger-striker in Brixton Prison. He said he had received a telegram from the lord mayor's wife and sister, saying the prison physician had threatened the patient with forcible feeding with lime juice.

Edward Shortt, secretary of state for home affairs, replied that he had no information, but if the doctor thought lime juice would ease MacSwiney and help him to live and give him another chance of seeing his senses, the doctor would be justified in trying to induce him to take it, and, indeed, to forcing it upon him.

Mr. Shortt added that he was aware that the prisoner had taken light medicines from time to time, but he was not aware whether he had taken lime juice.

IRISH VOLUNTEERS MARCH AT FUNERAL

CORK, Oct. 20.—Seven hundred Irish volunteers followed the body of Michael Fitzgerald from Fermoy Church today, but were turned back by a strong military force posted at the bridge leading to the cemetery. Admission to the cemetery was strictly limited to 50 persons, including the mourners.

Soldiers with fixed bayonets prevented any evasions, and there were no disorders.

The remaining hunger strikers in Cork jail are still alive, but it is reported that Murphy's death is expected hourly.

FLOATING DRY DOCK FOR PORT STANLEY

Will Be a Great Accommodation to the Fishermen.

Port Stanley, Oct. 21.—The floating drydock, which has been under construction for the past year, and which will replace the one destroyed by the freshet a couple of years ago, has been placed in the water, and when finished will prove a great acquisition to the fishing industry, as boats are now compelled with much loss of time and heavy expense to cross the lake for any needed repairs.

The tug Edward S. has been on the drydock in Cleveland for caulking for the past week, but is expected back today.

A meeting was held in the town hall Tuesday evening to make arrangements for the canvass for the navy league. Rev. J. W. J. Andrews of St. Thomas was the speaker for the occasion, and defined the navy league and its aims. Reeve N. S. Connell and Rev. Clifton Gifford spoke briefly. G. M. Grimmond has charge of the campaign in the village.

On Tuesday evening the congregation of St. John's Church met to organize a Young People's Guild. The meeting was opened by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Sales, who laid before the congregation the aims and objects of the organization, stressing the educational and social advantages to be gained by their mingling together. A splendid program was then carried out as follows: Solo, "Sweet and Low," choir; solo, with violin obligato, Messrs. Campbell and Jones; organ instrumental, Miss P. Thompson; solo, "Maxwellton's Braes," E. Earnshaw; reading, "Betsy and I Are Out," Rev. Mr. Sales; solo, "Neptune," Wm. Eastwick; solo, Mrs. F. O. Campbell, with violin obligato by Mrs. J. Jones.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Miss Agnes Hepburn, president; Mrs. T. Morgan, first vice-president; John Brumpton, second vice-president; Miss Ruby Williamson, secretary; Velma Brown, assistant secretary; and Audrey Brown, treasurer; Miss Nina Morgan and Elsie Williamson, organists.

The executive will meet at the home of the president on Monday evening next to arrange for the carrying on of the work.

Luncheon was served in the church parlors at the close of the meeting, and a social half hour spent.

CO-OPERATIVE FIRM IS IN DIFFICULTIES

Vegetable and Fruit Growers' Company Closed At Blenheim.

Blenheim, Oct. 21.—The Vegetable and Fruit Growers' Co-operative Company have experienced financial difficulties, and have been closed several days pending investigation. The shareholders are Messrs. E. A. Eastman, F. H. Macklin, W. M. Grant, Ed. Bonner, C. E. Rowe, Harold Presant and J. G. Fleming. The latter has been acting manager. The seven are also the directors of the company. It is estimated that they may lose considerable, and it is also stated that there are some fruit growers who shipped through the company who also stand to lose heavily. A large business was done by the company in the shipment of fruit and vegetables, especially berries and early tomatoes, and when all accounts are collected it is hoped the financial condition will be materially improved.

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Canadian Tobacco Growers' Association of Kingsville, the resignation of their president, J. G. Fleming was received and accepted. John Coghill of Kingsville was appointed president.

CALLED TO CHATHAM.

Chatham, Oct. 21.—Rev. (Capt.) David H. Marshall of Huntsville, Ont., was invited to become pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here at a largely attended meeting of the congregation last night. The salary is $2,500 per annum and manse. It is expected that Capt. Marshall will accept and fill the pastorate vacated by Rev. Dr. Dickie, now of Edmonton.

BANKERS' MEETING TO CONSIDER MANY FINANCE PROBLEMS

Scores of Committees At Work On Various Questions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Bankers from all parts of the country meet here tomorrow for the opening of the 46th annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, which will continue through the week. The program calls for consideration of all questions of finance, ranging from problems of the country bankers to international relations.

Cabinet officers as well as bankers of national prominence are to address the meetings, to be held morning, afternoon and night, some simultaneously, in three downtown hotels and a theatre. The program also calls for a daily round of entertainment, arranged particularly for women visitors.

More than a score of committees of the association meet tomorrow, each to consider the particular problem assigned to it, with a report to be made later to the convention proper, which will hold sessions Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings. The committees will consider questions of federal and state legislation, public relations, education, gold, Americanization and thrift, insurance and numerous other subjects.

Vice-President Marshall will deliver the address of welcome to the bankers at the opening session of the convention proper on Tuesday. The annual address of President Richard S. Hawes of the association will follow. Secretary Meredith of the agriculture department also will speak on "Banking and Agriculture," and John J. Pulleyn of New York will discuss "Transportation and Its Effect on Credit."

Secretary Houston of the treasury, with an address on "Government Finance," is to be the principal speaker Wednesday. Thursday's convention program calls for addresses by Joseph H. Defrees, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, on "Service Organizations"; Sol Wexler of New York on "Financing and Underwriting Big Business."

On Friday addresses will be made by H. W. Robinson of Los Angeles, on "Commodity Financing"; Oscar Wells of Birmingham, on "Federal Reserve Banks," and George Woodruff of Joliet, Ill., on "The Country Banker's Problems."

Particular problems of the bankers will be considered at sectional meetings held each afternoon.

The daily entertainment program will end on Friday with a golf tournament at the Chevy Chase Club.

REVIVAL OF EFFORT TO BETTER DETERMINE LABRADOR BOUNDARY

Discoveries of Immense Resources in Timber Have Been Cause.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 20.—Recent surveys of Labrador, which have disclosed immense resources of timber suitable for pulp and paper manufacture, have led to a revival of efforts to bring about a determination of the boundary line between Newfoundland and the Canadian Province of Quebec. This line has never been laid down by actual survey, and its various definitions as given in documents issued at intervals in the last century and a half are so vague that government officials do not know just how much of Labrador belongs to Newfoundland and how much to Canada.

That Labrador is rich in many natural resources, including enormous water-power, has long been known, but the practicability of utilizing its forests for paper-making was not demonstrated until the world-wide paper shortage led to exhaustive investigations of the territory. This resulted in applications by promoters to the Newfoundland Government for timber limits in Labrador. As these could not be acted upon until it was determined whether Newfoundland owned the land in question, representatives of this colony were sent to London late in the summer to discuss with eminent English counsel the preparation of a formal draft of Newfoundland's Labrador claims as opposed to those of Canada.

The coast of Labrador was annexed to Newfoundland in 1763. Ten years later, owing to difficulties arising out of grants made to a number of persons under the French rule, it was changed to Canadian jurisdiction. In 1809 it was again transferred to Newfoundland, and has since been attached to this colony.

The difficulty arises over different interpretations of the words "coast of Labrador." One view is that Newfoundland can claim only the coast between Blanc Sablon and Cape Chidley, with perhaps a half-mile inland, and that the rest of Labrador belongs to Canada. As defined in the letters patent constituting the office of Governor of Newfoundland, the boundary was described as a line drawn between Blanc Sablon and Cape Chidley, which would pass through the ocean in certain sections and leave large areas of the coast to the westward of the line, and therefore not under Newfoundland jurisdiction.

Many Newfoundland officials hold the view that the correct delimitation was made in a sessional paper issued in this colony in 1864. Under the phraseology of this document Newfoundland would be entitled to thousands of square miles of the interior of the Labrador peninsula in addition to the coast.

WOULD HONOR MULE FOR BUMPING AUTO

CHICAGO, Oct. 20—Persons who have been bumped by careless automobilists plan to have Fred Schmidt's mule decorated for the firm steps he took recently to make Western avenue "safe for democracy." The animal was wandering aimlessly across the street when he was bumped by an automobile. This annoyed him and he "kicked" about it. In fact he kicked in the hood of the machine, smashed the lamps and played a tattoo with his heels on the radiator. He resisted arrest and was dragged into custody behind a patrol wagon, leaving a trail of hide and hair on the cobbles.

Four Trains Stopped By "Bolshevik" Cow

Braintree, Mass, Oct. 20.—A cow, out for adventure, held up four trains on the New Haven Railroad and gave Chief of Police Jerry Gallivan a cross-country run before the "red terror" was safe in custody.

The chief was called to Washington Park, where "Bossie" was having a picnic in the carefully-tended gardens. When Gallivan got there he was unable to find the cow, but he did see a trail of ruined gardens. Then he heard a train come to a stop amid the shrieking of its whistle. The cow was on the tracks.

She fled before the law to Granite Branch Railroad, where she stopped another train. The cow doubled back and finally landed on the main line again, where she stopped two more trains before being arrested for disorderly conduct.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OATS ADVANCE TEN CENTS ON LOCAL MARKET

Sales Are Brisk At $1.90 to $2 Per Hundredweight.

Oats moved up ten cents on the local market today, and sales were brisk at $1.90 to $2 per cwt. Bushel quotations were 64 3-5c to 68c.

Potatoes were plentiful at $1.50 to $1.75, although some farmers wanted $2 a bag. At most points in the district prices are much lower, ranging from $1 to $1.25 per bag.

Prices at Lucan are from $1 to $1.20 per bag. At Stratford they can be bought for $1.20, while one local buyer bought several carloads at Clinton for $1. Whether they will be any lower for the remainder of the season is uncertain. Officials at the market say that many farmers declare they will keep them in their cellars till spring. The advice given by local buyers to the farmers is to bring them to market this year.

Carrots struck a new low level when they sold at from 50c to 75c per bushel. Lettuce was slightly firmer at 50c per dozen.

Pears went up to 60c per 11-quart basket, and grapes also were 5c higher, most sales being made at 45c to 50c per 6-quart basket.

Butter and eggs are firm and in good demand.

Although a shipment of live hogs was made to Toronto on Wednesday, prices did not change from those set a week before.

FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—Flour—Unchanged to 30c lower; carlots, family patents, per barrel, 98-lb. cotton sacks, $11.20@12.

Shipments—56,886 barrels.

Bran—$30@32.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Ontario Flour—Government standard, winter wheat, in jute bags, prompt shipment; Montreal, nominal; Toronto, nominal; bulk, seaboard, $9.

Manitoba Flour—Government standard, track, Toronto, cash prices; first patent, $12.40; do., second, $11.90; do., third, $11.30.

Millfeed—In carlots, delivered Toronto freights, bags included; bran, $40 per ton; shorts, $45 per ton; good feed flour, $3.25 per bag.

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—The flour market was without feature today.

The tone of the millfeed market was steady.

A moderate business was reported in the rolled oats market today.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat, new standard, $13.

Rolled Oats—Per bag, 90 lbs., $4.20.

Bran—$40.25.

Shorts—$45.25.

HAY.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Hay—Baled, on track, Toronto, carlots, $30@32 per ton; No. 1 loose, $38@39 per ton.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—Wheat opened 1c to 1½c higher for October at $2 34½@2 35; November 1⅝c up at $2 27⅞, and December ⅛c to ⅝c higher at $2 06@2 06½.

October opened unchanged for October at 70c; December ⅛c up at 63½, and May unchanged at 67½c.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Opening: Wheat—Dec., $2 04½; March, $1 95½.

Corn—Dec., 80⅞c; May, 86½c.

Oats—Dec., 53¼c; May, 58¼c.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Bears had some advantage in the wheat market today, largely as a result of strained economic conditions, the British coal strike in particular. Leaders on the bear side contended that buying power for all commodities, including food, was being reduced to a minimum. A large elevator interest, however, conspicuous of late in the selling side, reversed its position and helped rally the market. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's closing to 1c lower, were followed by moderate general upturns.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅛c lower, the market sagged a little more, but then recovered.

Oats were governed by sympathy with other grains, starting ⅛c off to ⅛c advance, the market later scoring slight general gains.

WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 21.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The stock market was steady on very light dealings at the outset of today's session. Changes among the usual leaders were limited to the smallest fractions. Oils, tobaccos and utilities, particularly the local tractions, overshadowed the steels, equipments and rails, some of the latter easing within the first half hour. Maintenance of the London rate of exchange at yesterday's high level offered hope of a favorable turn in the British industrial situation.

1:30 p.m.—The cheaper rails on the western and southwestern groups and local tractions extended their gains at midday, but steels, equipments, leathers and some of the food issues reacted 1 to 2 points. Reading second preferred dropped 5 points on comparatively few transactions.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—The stock exchange was weak during the first half hour this morning, practically all the issues declining fractionally. The feature of the early trading was Abitibi, which opened at 71¾c after closing at 74 last night. Brompton was also weaker, opening at 73⅞, a drop of 1⅝ points from its last night's close. Laurentide dropped a point to 107. Atlantic Sugar remained steady at 91. Breweries and Spanish River were the only stocks which made even fractional gains, the former going up ½ point to 65, and the latter ¼ point to 106⅜. Wayagamack remained unchanged at 147. Other issues were quiet.

START CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICULAR TUNNEL UNDER HUDSON RIVER

Officials Break Ground For Tube From New York To Jersey City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Construction of a vehicular tunnel under the Hudson River between New York and Jersey City starts today with the breaking of ground for one of the tube's big air-shafts. State, county and municipal officials from both states have been invited to participate in the ceremonies in Manhattan this afternoon.

Engineers expect to complete the structure by 1924. The cost, estimated at $29,000,000, is to be borne equally by the two states. Shore works, including shafts and approaches, will require 18 months to construct, after which actual work of boring under the river is to begin.

Continued congestion at the ferries between New York and New Jersey prompts the belief of tunnel engineers that 5,600,000 motor and horse drawn conveyances will use the tube in 1924, with traffic showing a steady increase, reaching an annual figure of 22,000,000 vehicles by 1943. Tolls based on the ferry rates will be levied for 20 years to pay for the tube, and then it would be free for the use of all.

Four driveways, two in each direction, will be provided. A sidewalk, two feet in width, also is planned. The tunnel, comprising twin cast iron tubes, each with an external diameter of 29 feet, will be six feet wider than the Pennsylvania Railroad tubes under the Hudson East Rivers.

Traffic blockades, now common on ferries, would be precluded by providing at each end of the tube derrick-equipped trucks to take stalled automobiles in tow. Three driveways in each direction will be furnished on the approaches, because slight inclines there are expected to slow down the movement of the vehicular queues.

Ventilation to rid the tunnel of carbon monoxide gases from automobile exhausts will be furnished by four large shafts and also by an air duct under the roadway and an exhaust above. Smoky vehicles circulate poisonous gas freely in closed places, but chemists working on the tunnel ventilation system estimate that at the highest point of saturation there will be only 3½ parts of carbon monoxide to 10,000 parts of air in the tube. It requires 8 parts of the gas to 10,000 parts of air, they figured, to give a man a headache.

AGED PATRIOT DIES.

WATERFORD, Ireland, Oct. 20.—Richard Power, who died here a few weeks ago at the age of 95, was closely identified with the Fenian movements in 1848 and 1867. In the latter year he assisted in the rescue of Daniel O'Brien from Clonmel prison and his escape to America.

Cheerful heat where needed

A Perfection Heater is a portable radiator that you can put anywhere you please. Strong and light, you can carry it from room to room with perfect safety.

In the Fall and Spring, a Perfection Heater saves burning unnecessary coal. It gives cheerful, cosy warmth just where you need it.

Saves in Winter, too. You can run the furnace low for general heat and then get comfort heat from a Perfection. Coal is hard to get and high in price. A Perfection Heater will be heat insurance this Winter.

A Perfection Oil Heater radiates ten hours of cheerful, comfort-giving warmth on every gallon of coal oil. Over 4,000,000 in use.

Hardware, housefurnishing and departmental stores sell Perfection Oil Heaters. New Perfection Oil Cookstoves and Perfection Water Heaters are just as widely used. See them, too, at the same store.

Get a copy of the new Perfection Heater folder.

QUESTION OF HOW LONG MAN MIGHT GO WITHOUT FOOD

Paris Doctors Tells of Prisoner Who Lived Sixty-Three Days.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—The long hunger strike of Mayor MacSwiney of Cork has caused much discussion here as to how long it is possible for a man to fast. Dr. Socquet has told the Paris Midi that the record is 63 days without food, set by William Granier in 1831.

"Granier had been sentenced to death and was confined in the prison of Toulouse," said Dr. Socquet. "He had a horror of the guillotine and to save himself from death by that instrument determined to starve, which he did after 63 days.

"Many hunger-strikers have lived longer than could have been expected," he went on. "There are the cases of Tanner, Succi and Merlatti, the latter of whom starved for 48 days, while he lost one-quarter of his weight. Taylor tells of the case of a worker who was imprisoned in a mine for 60 days without food. He lived three days after his rescue and died as a result of being excessively fed, many lunatics have refused to take food for 20, 30, or even 40 days.

No rule can be established as to length of time a man can fast. His endurance will depend upon his previous health, his constitution and also upon his spiritual condition, which is very important. It is well known that a starving man may increase his endurance a great deal by drinking water."

Shower Bath In Air Beats Jules Verne

New Plane Service Between Chicago, Gotham To Have Every Luxury.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Imagine taking one bath at 1,000 to 3,000 feet up in the air while traveling at a rate of approximately two miles a minute.

Well, it sounds like a dream, but it is to be a reality. Passengers will clamber aboard big airships at Ashburn field in Chicago in the evening. Before they have stored their bags beneath the sleeping berth, the powerful Packard-Detroit Liberty motors will be whirring and the passengers will be dashing eastward over Gary, Ind., about the time they settle back in their seats. A half-hour later the porter will make up the berths and when the passengers emerge from their shower baths early the following morning they will see from the window the Hudson River, New York City and Long Island and 20 minutes later they will be whirled to Wall street in taxicabs.

That is the dream of the busy businessman and the people who like to move swiftly. Alfred W. Lawson says is soon to be realized. Before the 1st of November the Lawson air liner No. 2 will set its wheels down on Ashburn field. Lawson says the ship will startle the world. Every modern luxury from the upper and lower berths, tiny dining-room and shower baths have been provided. The ship will make the trip from Chicago to New York in the night and the return trip will be at night. Three 400-horsepower motors will pull it through the air lines at terrific speed. It has a span of 110 feet. The plane will carry 20 passengers, a cargo of mail and a limited amount of baggage.

Airline ticket offices are to be opened in Chicago and New York shortly. The air liner No. 2 is a sister ship of the Lawson plane that flew from Chicago to New York and Washington last year, but is much more elaborate in its equipment. With the direct Chicago-New York line established air lines will be added to cover intermediate points—way stations—and the service will be extended all through the west to the Pacific coast.

SWAT THE BANDITS, SAYS GIRL; SHE DOES

Bristol, Pa., Oct. 20.—When two young men stopped Mrs. Lewis Bradway under the shadows of a tree at Radcliff and Washington streets last night and tried to snatch her handbag, they picked a "tartar."

Mrs. Bradway didn't do the usual feminine thing of giving up the handbag without a struggle and then crying for help.

Instead, she gave one of the fellows a right swing to the jaw that sent him reeling and running and at almost the same moment kicked the feet from beneath her other assailant. He went sprawling to the pavement, and while he was down the woman administered several healthy kicks in the ribs.

The young man finally scrambled out of the way of his viciously-fighting "victim" and dashed away after his companion. Mrs. Bradway then notified the police.

TURKISH RUGS.

Turkish rugs are made chiefly in Anatolia and Kurdestan in Asia Minor, and the designs are geometrical because Turkish Mohammedanism forbids the depiction of animal life.

The antique Turkish prayer rug is one of the most beautiful ever made. It is so rare and lovely that a genuine one is worthy of being hung on the wall where its beauty can be studied in detail. The centre is plain color, blue, green, yellow, red, or ivory. The mosque door of prayer point is supported on two columns and from it hangs a temple lamp. There are three borders usually, sometimes seven, or even more, and the rugs are not more than four by six feet. When the call of prayer comes, the rug is laid on the ground with the prayer point toward Mecca, and the true believer prostrates himself with his forehead on the point, and his hands outstretched. Many rugs have the hands worked into the design.

Other famous Turkish rugs are the Kulah and the Bergamo, and the Beluchistan, but the best known is the Bokhara. It has a uniform geometrical design repeated regularly over the field, and is finished with a border, usually the same design in a different size. The color is a rich dark red or wine color. Bokharas come in many sizes, though never very large, and they are beautiful for living-rooms, where a warm red is desired.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Self-Discipline—II.

There are two kinds of self-discipline, both good: mental and physical. Maybe there are three kinds, counting moral discipline, but isn't that covered pretty well by mental and physical self-discipline—could one be mentally and physically well disciplined, self-disciplined, without being morally sound?

Mental self-discipline is inflicted on the youth at school in the form of that most impracticable of all branches of science called algebra. If there is any purpose for algebra save cudgeling the wits I have never heard of it, although I made creditable marks in both plain and solid algebra and the gaseous variety, too, if I recollect.

Dime novelesque reading is all very well as an occasional diversion, but the reader with ambition to improve his mind will not squander much time on the trashy literature published in modern magazines. He will cultivate by exploration a taste for real literature, and once he has acquired such a taste he will find not merely entertainment, but also instruction in his reading.

Likewise a taste for olives, oysters, grapefruit, fresh air and physical self-discipline must be developed deliberately. Once you have acquired the cultivated taste for fresh air you simply can't sleep any more with your bedroom windows sealed. No more can you have ease of conscience without your daily stipend of physical exercise.

Until you have learned from experience the rejuvenating effect of your regular fifteen-minutes dose of exercise, there will be times when you feel so tired in body or mind, so sleepy, so unambitious or so mean that you are tempted to skip the medicine. But here is where self-discipline makes for physical well being. Drive yourself to take your regular exercise, and congratulate yourself afterward.

Self-discipline strengthens character. A man who smokes cannot fail to have greater self-respect and self-confidence if he will decide on one smokeless day each week and have that day smokeless; or if he will reserve his smoking until after dinner in the evening every day; or both. One smoke a day is a great deal more enjoyable then ten. Six or four smoke days a week are more enjoyable than seven. There is huge satisfaction in showing that you are your own master.

In the past there was a tacit acceptance of the "double standard of morals." Today the male is no more justified in "sowing his wild oats" than is the female. Indeed, purity is quite as essential, not only from the moral but also from the health point of view, for the man as it is for his daughter, wife or mother. The lack of self-discipline is the only reason in the world why some men have assumed a contrary view.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Rhubarb.

A contemporary in a recent issue, replying to a query about rhubarb, said that it was poisonous, as it contains oxalic acid. Kindly enlighten me to what extent this pronunciamento is to be regarded or disregarded. In our family we have consumed considerable rhubarb under the impression that it was wholesome.—W. E. K.

Ans.—It is true that rhubarb (pieplant) contains some oxalic acid. So do cocoa, tea, spinach, figs, potatoes, and even bread crust. According to quantitative analyses made by Eshach these are the quantities of oxalic acid present in 1,000 grams of each of the foods mentioned.

Rhubarb, 2.4 grams; cocoa 4.5; tea 3.7, spinach 3.2, figs 1.0, potatoes 0.4, bread crust 0.13, tomatoes 0.05, chocolate 0.9, beets 0.4, beans 0.3.

In certain conditions it may be advisable to limit the allowance of foods which happen to contain oxalic acid or even to prohibit their use altogether for a time. But I cannot understand why rhubarb or any of the other articles mentioned should be deemed "poisonous" for the average individual. At least, you may hand me a two-hand slab of rhubarb pie any old time.

Can Stay Under For Sixty Seconds At Seventy-Eight.

The other day, after reading one of your tests of a person's circulatory efficiency I took three or four long breaths and then held my breath. I found I was able to hold it just sixty seconds by the watch. I am 78 years old. Does that presage a long sojourn here on earth for me? (T. W. R.)

Answer—Well, yours is at least a good outlook. But 't 'aint quite fair to fill up on oxygen that way just before holding the breath. Try holding it without any preliminary deeper breathing. Then, if you can last 40 or more seconds you might look around for another wife or something.

HELPS A WEAK THROAT, STRENGTHENS THE VOICE, CURES BRONCHITIS

By Breathing the Healing Balsams of Catarrhozone You Are Cured Without Using Drugs.

You breathe through the Catarrhozone inhaler medicated air that is full of healing, soothing balsams, full of piney antiseptic essences that resemble the air of the pine woods in the Adirondacks. This piney vapor has a truly marvelous action on weak throats. It brings strength and health to the bronchitic, stops that hacking, irritating cough, prevents hoarseness and difficult breathing. You can't find anything for weak-throated people on earth more beneficial than Catarrhozone. It means heaven on earth to the man that has had bronchitis catarrh or throat irritation. You will realize this the first time you use Catarrhozone which is a scientific preparation specially designed for diseases of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. Get the large size, it lasts two months, costs $1.00; medium size 50c; sample size, 25c. All storekeepers and druggists or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

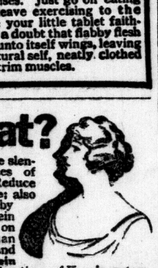

This is turning an old saying face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat; opposed to physical exertion; fond of the table and its good things, and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, go to your druggist (or write to the Marmola Co., 96 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich.) and give him, (or send them) one dollar, thus satisfying your ambition for a trim, slim figure, by receiving a good size box of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription); take one of these pleasant candy tablets after each meal and at bedtime, and you will lose your fat at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week.

Then continue the treatment until your weight is what you desire. Marmola Prescription Tablets are not only harmless but really beneficial to the general health. You don't need starvation diet or weakening exercises. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

ROSAMOND.

Rosamond has nothing to do with a rose, strange as it may seem. The name means "famed protection," and is of extremely ancient origin. The first Hrosmond was the fierce chieftainess of the Gepidae, whom her Lombard husband forced to drink his health in a grisly goblet composed of the skull of her slaughtered father, and who later averged the insult by a midnight murder.

Out of this tragedy, the name of Rosamond gained great popularity among the peasantry, and in some mysterious way penetrated the land of the Norman Cliffords, by whom it was bestowed upon Fair Rosamond of ballad lore. This lovely lady's history has been much changed by Cervantes, who makes his Persiles and Sigismunda encounter her in the Arctic regions, fulfilling a dreary penance among the wehr wolves.

Her name, in its supposed interpretation, gave rise to the Latin epigram, "Rosa mundi, sed non Rosa munda" (the rose of the world, but not a pure rose), according to one historian. The ballad, however, as well as the general aura of romance which surrounds the name of Rosamond, established her popularity in England and all English-speaking countries.

The ruby is Rosamond's talismanic gem. Its promise of power, bodily strength and haughty pride will be fulfilled in her. Saturday is her lucky day, and four her lucky number.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 1046g Marcellus avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

JURY'S VERDICT HOLDS LARSEN IS NOT GUILTY

Applause in Courtroom Follows Announcement of Decision.

Brampton, Oct. 20.—The jury in the case of Frank Larsen, charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, Jas. Davidson, this afternoon brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

Hand-clapping was heard in the court room, when the jury brought in the verdict after being out for one hour and forty minutes. The chief justice said "Prisoner, you are discharged."

Once out of the prisoners' box Larsen went over to his father and clasped the old man's hand. Joe Larsen kissed his brother on the cheek and the sister, Jim Davidson's widow, did likewise.

LEFT HIS CLOTHES IN CABBAGE PATCH; RAN AMUCK UNCLOTHED

GALT, Oct. 20.—The Preston police have in their custody an unknown man, evidently unbalanced, who, minus clothing, ran amuck on the streets of that town Tuesday night and attempted to gain entrance to several homes. His clothes were later found in a cabbage patch. His clothes were good, and he is about 30 years of age, clean shaven and rather good looking, but cannot give any information about himself.

At The Theaters

BIG DOUBLE-FEATURE PROGRAM AT ALLEN—PICTURES FOR KIDDIES AND GROWN-UPS. "THE COST," THRILLING ROMANCE OF WALL STREET, AND BOOTH TARKINGTON COMEDY OF SCHOOL DAYS.

A big double feature program—two pictures which are special attractions; that's the show at the Allen today, tomorrow and Saturday. First is the Paramount Artcraft Special, "The Cost," thrilling romance of Wall Street, of the frenzied stock exchange, of high finance, and love, and faithfulness, and just rewards of beauty to the victor. A picture which from beginning to end will hold you in its appeal, carrying your heart along through one of the strongest romances of love and finance ever pictured. Violet Hemming, the beautiful original star of "Everywoman," is featured amongst a cast of all-star Artcraft artists.

The second feature attraction is the special picture for the kiddies, which, though, will tickle the adults just as much. "Edgar and the Teacher's Pet," a romance of school days, of reading, writing and arithmetic, of that pest, the teacher's favorite pupil, a roaring laughable series of boy adventures, written by that man who knows boys so well, Booth Tarkington, author of "Penrod" and "Seventeen."

Overture will be a selection from "So Long, Letty." We will take a quick trip around the world with the Allen World News, and have a dozen laughs or so with Mutt and Jeff as they try to win the international yacht races. There'll be many added film attractions, and you'll enjoy every one of them; for they are all of the best.

"SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD" AT THE GRAND TODAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold," a beautiful comedy drame replete with laughs, tears and thrills, will be the attraction at the Grand for the balance of the week. The famous Baby Grands of Picturedom, Jane and Katherine Lee, will be seen in the exceptional cast of screen artists, which also includes Richard Jose. Silver Threads, like the little babbling brook, is destined to go on forever, and its reception in Ontario augurs well for its success throughout all of Canada. As clean and pure as new mown hay, Silver Threads will more than delight Grand patrons for the balance of the week. The entire family, both old and young, will enjoy every foot of celluloid in "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Morrison and Clifton, those versatile vaudeville entertainers, will offer something new and original in comedy patter and song.

Pathe Topics of the Day, with news events the world over, will be among the many added features, which include that ace of funsters, Larry Semon, in his latest scream "The Suitor," with its 2,000 laughs.

VALOR AND COURAGE IN NORTHERN ROMANCE.

The Royal Northwest Mounted Police, known the world over for their deeds of courage and bravery, and the romance attached to the members of the corps are the centre of interest in Jacques Jaccard's latest story, produced under his personal direction, "Under Northern Lights," which comes to the Patricia Theatre today, Friday and Saturday. Leonard Clapham, Virginia Faire and William Buckley have the leading roles in this romance of the north woods, playing roles typical of the locale.

Order is maintained throughout the entire Northwest, not only among the population, but among the Indians and the much more troublesome half-breeds, by the Northwest Mounted Police, a body of seven hundred and fifty men, whose record has for years received unqualified praise. The members of this force are armed like soldiers, so as to fight collectively, yet have the authority to act individually as constables. The officers in the service are also empowered to act as magistrates—the combination which makes it possible to extend law and order over such tremendous areas by such a small force of men.

Jacques Jaccard has taken as a basis for his story of "Under Northern Lights," just a few facts from the records of service in this noted constabulary. Jaccard is an honorary member of the R. N.-W. M. P., and his knowledge of their activities is vast and accurate.

It is a well known fact that one constable has been known to ride directly into an Indian camp containing hundreds of armed savages, and carry off, single-handed, a member of the tribe who was wanted on a charge of murder. The Indians are mortally afraid of the Mounted Police and prefer death to capture or sentence by them after committing a crime.

YOUNGSTER'S ICEMAN HERO TURNS OUT TO BE MERE FILM STAR.

Making Scenes for "Jack Straw," Robert Warwick Surprises His Little Friend.

A motion picture company at work in a residence district of Los Angeles never fails to draw a crowd of spectators from residents and passersby. During the filming of "Jack Straw," the Robert Warwick picture coming to Loew's today, the company drew up in front of an exclusive apartment house. Among the crowd that gathered was an iceman, dressed for the job and holding tongs in his hand.

"Where's your wagon?" asked a youngster.

"Up the street," said the iceman, with a broad smile.

"Would you rather be an iceman than a movin' picture actor?" was the kiddie's next question.

"No; I'd rather be an actor."

"Why don't you be one then?"

"I think I will," said the good natured iceman, and started to walk into the tradesman entrance to the apartment while the camera clicked and the director shouted instructions. The iceman was Robert Warwick. When his machine started away after the scene was finished, the youngster who had questioned him, jumped on the running board.

"What's the name of this picture, mister?" he asked. "I want to see it."

"'Jack Straw,'" said Mr. Warwick, "and that's my name too."

Carroll McComas is the leading woman in this delightful comedy. It was directed by William DeMille, and is a Paramount Artcraft.

YARD ENGINE HITS CAR; NOBODY HURT

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 20.—A Pere Marquette yard engine hit the vestibule of a street car last night at the Wilson avenue crossing and badly smashed the end of the car. The blame is placed on the railway employees, who are charged with backing out of the yard without a tender and no rear lights burning. The watchman gave the motorman the signal to proceed, not seeing the danger. No one was hurt.

PROTESTS CONTINUE AGAINST HOLDING IRISH GATHERINGS

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—A number of protests have reached the Government against the holding of further gatherings similar to the convention of the Self-Determination for Ireland League, which was held here on Saturday. In all cases the answer of the Government was that this was a matter for the municipal and provincial authorities to deal with.

NOT LIKELY TO PLACE VICTORY BONDS ON LIST

Drayton Confers With Dealers —Lifting Price Control Not Expected.

TORONTO, Oct. 20. — Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, who arrived here today from his tour of the West with the tariff commission, was in conference during the day with members of the market committee of the Bond Dealers' Association, which has charge of the sale of Victory bonds. The conference gave rise to discussion in financial circles as to possible development in the way of dissolving the market committee and listing the bonds on the stock exchanges, but so far as could be learned, although the situation was no doubt canvassed, it is not believed that any early change in the situation will take place.

On the street for some time past the trend of opinion has been that the relisting of Victory bonds was a probability at the end of the year, when the existing agreements between the Government and the stock exchanges and Bond Dealers' Association expires.

MURDER CHARGE MAY BE REDUCED TO ONE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Interest Revived in Simcoe Murder Trial As Day Draws Near.

PRISONER CONFIDENT

Young Man's Mother May Not Be At the Trial.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SIMCOE, Oct. 20.—With the near approach of the fall assizes, which open here on Monday next, interest is being revived in the trial of Lorne Helmer who is in the county jail charged with the murder of an aged farmer named Learn on his farm near here.

Dame rumor is again busy, and while no new developments are reported, it is generally believed that the murder charge will be reduced to manslaughter at the opening of the court. Stories to the effect that further evidence against the accused will be produced by the prosecution are not generally accepted as having any thruth in them.

Prisoner Is Confident.

The mother of the accused may, it is stated, be unable to attend the trial owing to injuries received about six weeks ago, when she was accidentally thrown out of a buggy. His wife and infant child, born since Helmer's arrest, are said to be in good health, though Mrs. Helmer is naturally much worried as to the outcome of the trial. The prisoner himself is bearing up well, and is confident that he will not be found guilty of the major charge.

NORFOLK WOMEN ARE PLANNING A COUNTY HOSPITAL AT SIMCOE

Preliminary Steps Taken At Enthusiastic Meeting—To Ask County Council.

SIMCOE, Oct. 20.—Delegates from Women's Institutes in Waterford, Simcoe, Port Dover, St. Williams, Beaton, Silverhill, Walsh, Lynnville, Woodhouse, Forestville and other places, to the number of 50, met here today to move for the early building of a county hospital in Simcoe. The question of costs and how to get the money was the theme. The opinion prevailed that the county council should shoulder a bulk of the burden. Mayor Carter, chairman, Ex-Ald. H. R. Crabb, Reeve T. E. Langford and several delegates spoke.

The consensus of opinion favored building a substntial hospital, and some urged that the funds to do so and provide some endowment should be first in sight.

Mr. Langford said that the attitude of the county council was more favorable of late, and at his suggestion a large delegation was appointed to interview the council at the December session. Simcoe women are out for a hospital, and they are confident that it is going to come and come soon, and they are determined that it shall.

PORCH-CLIMBERS GET VALUABLE JEWELRY FROM BORDEN'S HOME

Make Getaway At Dinner Hour — Loss Is $6,000.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—Porch-climbers who visited the home of Sir Robert Borden, 201 Wurtemburg street, during the dinner hour on Tuesday evening, made a complete getaway with the major portion of Lady Borden's personal jewelry, valued at $6,000.

The burglars conducted their job so skillfully that the robbery remained undiscovered until late last night. The police have absolutely no trace of the burglars, who did not leave any trace to work on. Lady Borden discovered the loss only last evening, when she had occasion to look for a small souvenir, and found all her jewelry gone. Nothing about her room was in disorder and the drawers had not been ransacked. Lady Borden thinks that the burglars must have climbed a tree, and thus obtained access to the veranda and then to her room.

Deep Waterway Lack Means End of Food Export, Says Hoover

Tells International Commission That United States Exports Would Cease in Ten Years Unless Farmers' Transport Costs Reduced —Admiral Benson Favors Plan.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Before the international joint waterways commission today Herbert Hoover was the principal speaker for the supporters of the proposal to build a deep sea waterway from the Great Lakes through the St. Lawrence River. His arguments were supported by an array of distinguished public men, including Admiral W. S. Benson, William C. Redfield (former secretary of commerce), Julius H. Barnes (president of the United States Grain Corporation), the presidents of two great trunk line railroads and an array of advocates who came out of the west to help fight the opposition led by representatives of New York commercial organizations. The project was urged as an economic necessity.

It was argued that the deep sea waterway would reduce the cost of the movement of United States grain exports, thus increasing the farmers' margin of saving. Unless this was accomplished, said Mr. Hoover, United States exports of food products would continue to diminish and cease altogether in ten years. Admiral Benson, in a prepared statement sent to the commission, declared it "very doubtful that sufficient railway facilities can ever be provided to care for the transportation demands of the middle west to the seaboard."

A delegation from Wisconsin made a statement declaring that the selfish character of the New York opposition to the project was straining to the utmost the friendly feeling held by shippers of the west towards New York.

Many Western Ontario Farmers To Test Skill in Plowing Competition

Plowmen's Association Official Expects 50,000 To Attend Opening Contests Today At Hamilton—Exhibits Most Numerous — Indian Plowmen To Enter.

HAMILTON, Oct. 20.—Every device used on a Canadian farm, from a tractor to a hay presser, was in operation at the international plowing match on the Ontario Hospital farm this afternoon and it was a busy scene. Many manufacturers of the United States, as well as Canada, have exhibits on the grounds. The opening plowing match competitions was devoted to getting the exhibits installed and in demonstrations, such as silo-filling, threshing, and potato digging. The big plowing matches, which will begin tomorrow, are expected to draw immense crowds of spectators.

J. Lockie Wilson, superintendent of the agricultural fairs for Ontario, and secretary and managing director of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, under whose auspices the plowing matches and exhibition of machinery are being held, predicted today that if the weather remains fair 50,000 persons will be here tomorrow to see the expert plowmen in operation.

An Ideal Location.

"Never before have we had such an ideal location as this," said Mr. Wilson.

"The large number of exhibits, I am sure, is the safest augury we have that this year's exhibition will be the greatest in the association's history. Among Ontario's champion plowmen who will participate in the contest are: A. E. Pay, Niagara, who won the sweepstakes championship at Chatham last year and who must win again this year if he is to retain the handsome trophy; Stanley Tindall, Richmond Hill; Clark Young, Markham, who recently won much coveted honors at Quebec; Thomas McLean, Toronto; Norman McLeod, Waterloo, who won the championship at Glenham; John L. Ely, Beeton, who has won the stubble championship for two years; Robert Watson, Vaughan; Davis Tran, Claremont, and Bert Kennedy, Scarboro, who has won the Canadian farm cup two years in succession.

Indian Plowmen.

Much interest centres on the two contests restricted to Indian plowmen only. R. H. Abraham, department of Indian affairs, Ottawa, said today that four of these contestants were coming from Deseronto, four from Muncey and seven from the Six Nations reserve at Brantford.

A banquet was tendered members of the association this afternoon on the Ontario Hospital farm. Brief speeches were delivered by J. Lockie Wilson and Wilson A. Crockett, M. P. P. for South Wentworth. Both speakers emphasized the great good that accrued from such plowing matches. Manufacturers and farmers were not only brought closer together, but agriculture was greatly advanced, they said.

It was stated that in all likelihood next year's match would be held at Woodstock.
