C.N.R. TO BRING WESTERN COAL

Ruined City of Santa Barbara Again Rocked By Quakes

THORNTON TO CARRY OUT PLANS

President of C. N. R. Announces Directors Have Reconsidered Recent Decision.

WOULD SPLIT COSTS

Experimental Shipment of 25,000 Tons of Alberta Coal To Be Made.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 30.—Experimental shipments of 25,000 tons of Alberta coal to Ontario will be made in accordance with the original understanding. Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, stated in an interview here this morning.

Sir Henry explained that since the statement made some weeks ago to the effect that in view of the pending reorganization of freight rates the National railway would not be able to carry out the experiment, there had been a conference with officials of the Ontario government.

In this conference, which was held last Friday, it was shown that many persons in Ontario had in good faith committed themselves to the handling of the Alberta coal. Sir Henry stated that when he learned that matters had gone so far and the actual commitment had been made, he felt that the Canadian National railway should carry out its agreements.

During the last day of the session the house of commons voted $25,000 to be used in the experiment. The initial cost of $7 per ton is to be paid by the operators. If it should happen that the cost runs $8 the federal government will pay $1 per ton, if, as estimated by the railways, the cost should be $9 the Alberta government will also contribute one dollar per ton. Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, said in the house at the time that all arrangements were made for the shipment three weeks ago.

WOULD SIMPLIFY SYSTEM OF ISSUING PASSPORTS

Associated Press Despatch.
Brussels, June 30.—Suppression of the passport system, or at least simplification of its attendant formalities, is one of the principal objects which the federation of touring associations meeting here has decided to push actively in the future. The federation will also seek international passes for automobiles, obviating the deposit of heavy sums as guarantees for customs duties.

BOARD LIKELY TO GET PROPERTY AT HOSPITAL

Hon. Lincoln Goldie Sees No Reason Why City Should Not Buy Land.

MATTER FOR TRUSTEES
Sir Adam Beck Accompanies Provincial Secretary in Tour Over Proposed Site.

Hon. Lincoln Goldie, provincial secretary, accompanied by Sir Adam Beck, paid a visit to the Ontario hospital this morning for the purpose of looking over the site at the west end of the hospital grounds which a special committee of the board of education is considering as a suitable site for the new East London college. Trustee B. N. Campbell, chairman of the committee, accompanied by Trustee George F. Copeland, had a conference with the provincial secretary and Sir Adam at the Ontario hospital, following their inspection of the property, as a result of which the chairman has called a meeting of his committee for 2:30 this afternoon.

According to Mr. Copeland, Mr. Goldie seemed very favorably impressed with the proposition to allow the board to purchase three acres of the hospital property as a site for the new school.

Now Up To Board.
"To my mind it is now only necessary to convince the board of the desirability of this site," Mr. Copeland stated, "and it is likely that today's meeting of the committee will result in a recommendation to the board that this site be purchased and the new school erected there."

Mr. Goldie, who is the guest of Sir Adam Beck at Headley, arrived in the city last evening and about 11 o'clock this morning motored out to the Ontario hospital. He was accompanied by Sir Adam, who was looking very fit, and who stepped out quite briskly in the morning. The two made a thorough examination of the site in question. Having got a thorough grip of the situation, their next step was to make a tour of all the property owned by the hospital, as a result of which, it is stated, the provincial secretary was convinced that the portion desired by the board might easily be spared. At any rate the impression gained by the trustees who talked with him this morning was that he would place no obstacles in the way of the purchase of the site if the board decides to locate the school there.

TARA BUSINESS BLOCK BURNED

Pumper From Owen Sound Alone Saves the Village From Destruction.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Owen Sound, June 30.—The business section of the village of Tara, Bruce county, was damaged to the extent of $40,000 or $50,000 and for a time the entire village was threatened with destruction by a fire which broke out in one of the stores about midnight.

The buildings destroyed included the Queen's hotel, one of the finest small hostels in this section of the country; H. H. Rushton's shoe and grocery store, the Hill building, the Oddfellows and Foresters halls, and the residence of Miss Lizzie Byers.

The Bank of Montreal building was on fire several times, but the flames were checked. All of the property on the west side of the main street from Matilda street to and including the Queen's hotel is a mass of smoldering ruins. But for the fact that the motor pumper from the Owen Sound fire department was rushed to Tara and pumped water for hours from the river to the burning buildings, the whole village would have been wiped out. Practically all of the burned property was owned by John Rudolph of the Queen's hotel and it is partially insured.

3 BRIDGES PASSED BY NEAR, REPORT COMING TONIGHT

No. 2 Committee Will Hear Findings of Engineer on City Structures.
NOTHING DRASTIC
Reports regarding the condition of York, King and Dundas street bridges will be provided for No. 2 committee of the city council at tonight's meeting. According to W. P. Near, city engineer, the condition of the King, Dundas and Wellington bridges is fairly good and there will be no drastic recommendations in his reports.

Police constables are continuing their patrol of Ridout street bridge. They have been checking traffic there for exactly a month now. Just how much longer this procedure will be followed cannot be ascertained but traffic is forced to crawl painfully across the ancient timbers, as a traffic officer "clocks" the snail's pace.

HAIRPIN CURVES SOON TO BE ELIMINATED

Two Weeks Will See Completion of New Road South of Mount Pleasant.
Work on the new road south of Mount Pleasant cemetery, which will do away with two hairpin curves on the river road to Springfield, will be completed in two weeks' time, County Engineer Charles Talbot stated this morning.

TOMORROW SEES NEW PER LAW

All Practitioners Notified of Thirty-a-Month Revision—Plan Foolproof.

CLEAR DATE DOUBTS

Still No Limit to Number of Six-Ounce Drug Store Prescriptions.

Limitations of liquor prescriptions to be issued by doctors throughout the province to thirty per month passed by the Ontario legislature at its last session, becomes effective tomorrow. This information is conveyed in an official notification sent to every practitioner in the province by the board of license commissioners for Ontario, and clears up all doubt as to just when the new amendment becomes law. Some doctors have expressed the thirty quota for May and June, while others kept below this figure under the impression that the amendment became valid with 4.4 beer on May 21 last.

Accompanying the information relative to the new prescription limit is a "per book" of new type for the month of July, there being thirty prescription blanks in the pad. In skeleton letters of large type "July 1925" is printed across each blank, thereby insuring the use of this blank in the proper month and as there are but thirty in the book the quota cannot be exceeded. Full information regarding the new law is inclosed at the request of the Ontario medical association.

Each Month Marked.
For months following July specially marked prescription blanks will be forwarded each doctor, but the next book will contain ninety prescriptions thirty each for August, September and October. The month will be printed in large skeleton type over each form in color, aiding compliance with the law.

"Should a mistake be made" the letter says, "the possibility of which is hardly conceivable the thirty-first or subsequent dispensary prescription will be void. Hence no excess of liquor prescriptions will be a thing of the past, and friction cannot arise between the board and any physician over the excess of the statutory limitation. Supply of these books will be renewed quarterly."

HAYMAN AWARDED TEMPLE CONTRACT

Addition to Masonic Building, With Alterations, Will Cost $24,000.

Henry Hayman, contractor, has secured the general contract for the building of a new addition to the Masonic Temple, Queen's avenue. Noble & Rich secured the heating and plumbing tender, while the Bowley Electric Company will do the electrical work. The total of the three contracts runs about $24,000 and as such an amount estimated by Wm. G. Murray, architect for the work.

Construction work will be begun immediately in order that the changes being made may be completed as soon as possible. When finished the auditorium of the temple will be very considerably enlarged, as well as the lodgerooms on all of the three floors of the building. The interior of the whole building will be redecorated.

DEADLOCK IS REACHED IN PACT NEGOTIATIONS

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, June 30.—The Franco-German negotiations looking to a new commercial treaty have reached a deadlock again with little prospect of a successful issue, it is said in official circles.

FINE AND JAIL TERM IMPOSED

First Penalty Under Revised Liquor Law Handed Out in London.

SIMCOE STREET RAID

Rocco Mangano, 29 years old, is the first in London to be fined and sentenced to a term of imprisonment for selling liquor contrary to new amendments of the O. T. A. He fell before three of Chief of Police Robert Birrell's charges in court this morning. He was charged with keeping a disorderly house, for having a loaded revolver in his possession without a police permit, and for selling Italian wine at his home, 260 Simcoe street.

Along with Mangano, three men and three women were arrested at his home last night, following a police raid. They were charged with keeping a disorderly house, for having a loaded revolver in his possession without a police permit, and for selling Italian wine at his home, 260 Simcoe street.

Fines imposed on Mangano this morning total $235, besides a 30-day term of imprisonment. Failure to pay will result in Mangano's confinement in the county jail for the next six months.

Saw Drinks Sold.
Loud talking, swearing and singing attracted the police to the Simcoe street house shortly after midnight. Through a side window they saw liquor concocted and sold to men and women. Mangano charged 50 cents for a small glass of alcohol. Constable Miles and McMaster entered the house shortly before 2 o'clock. Party-line glasses were found on kitchen and dining-room tables. In an upstairs bedroom a man and woman were found. In the excitement, Mangano snatched a small bottle of liquor and strove to hide it under a mattress. All were placed under arrest and taken to police station.

With a limited knowledge of English, Mangano treated the affair as a joke in this morning's court. "You're the boss," he laughingly told the magistrate when asked to present his defence. "I never know what to do. I give my friend drinks when they call. All the time I am good fellow. I am what you call generous guy."

Everybody Generous.
The court replied by imposing a fine of $25 and costs, or one month on the disorderly charge.

"Sure, I had a revolver," Mangano answered to a second charge. "But I never used it," he added smilingly. He was fined again $10 and costs or 10 days.

"Nope, I never sold no drinks," he said with emphasis when faced with the third and most serious charge. "You can't prove that. I give all the time, just ask my friend."

Constable McMaster's evidence, in imposing the fine of $200 and costs or the alternative of three months in jail, no mention was made by the court of the additional 30-day jail term which goes with convictions under the recent O. T. A. amendments for selling liquor.

Mangano was preparing to pay his fines and gain his freedom when the magistrate ordered him to be brought into court again. He was then informed that money could not gain his freedom. Even if he did pay his fines he would go to jail for 30 days.

St. David's Parishioners To Don Overalls and Wield Hammer and Saw on Hall

Men To Hold Carpentering Bee At Church Building in East London.

MAY FINISH ROOF

Extension Work Will Be Completed Soon At Cost of $9,000.

St. David's Anglican church, East London, will be a busy place indeed tomorrow morning and afternoon when the members of the parish will hold a carpentering bee in connection with the building of the new parish hall.

It is the intention of the rector, Rev. R. D. Mess, M.M., and the members of the congregation to do practically all the work in the building of the hall, except perhaps the stuccoing.

The hall, which will be 65 feet by 30 feet, will adjoin the church proper, and will have an entrance from Hyla place. The present room of the church being used by the choir will be turned into a transept and thus considerably enlarged. Seating accommodation will be provided in the hall for about 350 people, while the seats of the church are being replaced and considerable redecoration done.

When completed the hall and renovations to the present church will have cost in the neighborhood of $9,000. The parish has received a grant of $2,000 from the diocese of Huron, has raised the sum of $3,000 on a mortgage and the remainder by subscriptions.

The carpentering work, which was begun last Friday, has progressed so that now the joists and beams are in position. Mr. Mess hopes that by tomorrow night, with the help of the small army of carpenters under W. H. Slade, Brislin street, the roof will be practically completed on the building.

VETERAN ENGINEER ON BRUCE RETIRES

Engineer J. Halpin, who has even a longer record, will retire when he brings his train in from the Windsor run tonight. He has a record of 46 years and is well and favorably known throughout the London division.

R. Wilson, transfer clerk of the freight sheds, was superannuated today. He has been 25 years in the service.

DEATH TOLL IN QUAKES NOW NINE

Santa Barbara Rocked by Three More Shocks This Morning.

TALES OF SURVIVORS

Loss in Property Values Will Exceed Thirty Millions.

Santa Barbara, Cal., June 30.—A violent earthquake shook this city at 1:22 o'clock this morning. This was the heaviest quake since the heavy tremor of yesterday morning.

A second severe shock again rocked the ruins at 4:39 o'clock. Another tremor struck this city at 5:54 a.m. The third shock was not so severe as the two previous ones.

Associated Press Despatch.

Santa Barbara, Cal., June 30.—A check-up this morning of the casualties and destruction resulting from the series of earthquakes which have laid waste a large portion of this city showed that nine persons lost their lives and thirty-five were seriously injured in the disaster. Conservative estimates of the material damage which cannot be definitely established until an architectural survey is completed today, fix the loss at $15,000,000. Other estimates place it as high as $30,000,000. The injured were treated at Cottage hospital, the only hospital remaining fit to receive patients. No check has been possible of those treated for injuries in their homes.

State street, the main artery of the town and a busy business district, presented a desolate appearance. Blocks of stone weighing 400 or 500 pounds each had crushed a small automobile, and in their fall ground out the life of William Proctor, a window cleaner, who had just driven to his early morning job when the first tremor came. Across the street stood a 5-ton truck crushed under a similar avalanche of stone, brick and mortar.

Exclusive Hotels Demolished.
In the crumpled ruins of the exclusive Hotel Arlington, the fall of a tank containing 60,000 gallons of water had sent to their deaths Mrs. H. Charles E. Parkins, aged millionaire widow of Burlington, Iowa, and Bertman B. Hancock, son of G. A. Hancock, wealthy Los Angeles.

TAKE EVIDENCE IN HOSPITAL ROOM

Important Witnesses in Wreck Probe Will Be Heard Tonight.

The adjourned inquest of last week into the street railway crash of Wednesday night, June 17, in which Inspector Charles Hoskins was killed and a score of others injured, when cars crashed at Riverview stop, will be continued and completed with the taking of additional evidence tonight. Two witnesses have yet to be heard.

Motorman Alden Paynter, driver of car No. 205, which crashed into the rear of 202, is still confined at Victoria hospital with his injuries. The jury will hear his evidence tonight in his bedroom at the hospital. Later at the police station the testimony of Robert Firth, who has also been confined to his home, 729 Central avenue, through injuries received in the accident, will be taken.

The evidence of the two witnesses will be the most important of the whole probe, according to Crown Attorney Albert M. Judd. Although more than thirteen witnesses were called at the jury's first sitting a week ago, nothing that would throw any definite light on the cause of the accident was revealed. Motorman Paynter, as driver of one of the cars would be in a position to describe accurately details of the crash.

The receipt of a number of anonymous letters has given Mr. Judd information which may lead to the solution of the cause of the mishap.

Immediately after the accident it was reported that the trolley pole had been pulled down by a passenger on the first car, leaving it stranded on the tracks in the path of another oncoming coach. The anonymous letters all point to certain individuals who are held responsible. This phase of the accident will be thoroughly probed.

Only the jury and others directly interested in the case will be permitted to hear Motorman Paynter's evidence at the hospital tonight.

School Results On Second Page

Results of written examinations in London public schools appear on Page 2 of this issue. Names of those promoted on term work do not appear. The results at the technical high school are also announced.

THREE CALLS UP AT PRESBYTERY

Two London Charges and One in St. Thomas To Be Dealt With.

The London Presbyterian presbytery will hold its first meeting since the consummation of union and the formation of the continuing Presbyterian church on Thursday morning next in New St. James' Presbyterian church, London.

Rev. James MacKay, D.D., who was chosen as moderator of the provisional presbytery about six weeks ago, and by whose direction the meeting has been called, will preside at the sessions, which will open at 10 a.m. Those on the full agenda of the meeting is not known it is quite probable that it will include consideration of the call extended last night to Rev. J. M. MacGillivray, Knox Presbyterian church, St. Thomas, by Chalmers Presbyterian church, Toronto, and the call extended to Rev. F. S. O'Neil, B.A., Leamington, former Methodist church minister, by Chalmers Presbyterian church, London.

There has been absolutely no change made in the boundaries of the presbytery as compared with those under the former regime, and the same applies to the synods, inasmuch as they concern the province of Ontario.

The Presbyterian synod for Western Ontario thus remains as the synod of Hamilton and London, and for Eastern Ontario the synod of Toronto and Kingston.

Rev. J. J. Paterson, D.D., St. Andrew's church, Sarnia, who was chosen as moderator of the provisional continuing Presbyterian synod of Hamilton and London, will call a meeting of that court very probably some time later on in the fall.

Rev. J. J. Paterson, D.D., London, ex-clerk of the former Presbyterian presbytery, is clerk of the new presbytery, while Rev. Austin L. Budge, M.A., Hamilton, is the clerk of the continuing Presbyterian synod of Hamilton and London.

HAMILTON CORONER WILL PROBE TRIPLE MURDER

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, June 29.—Coroner McIlwraith will start an inquest next Monday night into circumstances of the triple murder in the foreign quarter. The police admit the crime has no nearer solution now than the morning it was discovered. It is expected that the inquest will bring out considerable information regarding illicit liquor traffic in this city.

GLASSES FITTED AT INOPPORTUNE TIME

Londoner Finds They Will Not Work When Effect of "Ginger Ale" Works Off.

Strong beverage is credited by many with the power of coaxing to the surface all the hidden brilliancy of a person's social potentialities, but many will testify to its destructive qualities where business is involved.

Take the case of the Londoner who, a few days ago, decided that he needed spectacles and made his finding known to a reputable optician. Nothing strange about that. The only flaw in this particular incident was that action was hurried, unfortunately, by the insatiable urgencies of a spirit fondled by—ah, ginger ale.

Distinguishing a Roman "C" from a Gothic "O" at so many feet away, and separating the beautiful pri-matic colors, were passed, and the spectacles were duly handed over, paid for, and taken.

Came the dawn, and the stirring of a great city from its slumbers. Seated at his breakfast table, Mr. X adjusted his brand new appendage on the bridge of his nose. With just a trace of annoyance he adjusted the glasses again. Still the morning paper was a mere mass of black-flecked white.

Watches are adjusted to five and six positions. Some manage to get three out of spectacles. Mr. X stormed back to the optician after he had tried two adjustments. Both argued fluently, but finally agreed to try again. This time, the spectacles worked with one adjustment.

Many are the "ad-tons" suggested for the condition of ineptitude, but the logic of this is still undisputed. "Don't buy spectacles after drink-ing—ah, ginger ale."

OSTEOPATHS PREPARE FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Three Thousand Delegates Will Attend Gathering in Toronto Next Week.

Osteopathy, the science of healing by adjustment, will be very much in evidence in Toronto next week, when the international osteopathic conven-tion, 1925, will be held at the King Edward hotel. Toronto has been the scene of many conventions, but this great gathering of osteopaths will be a first monster gathering of the pro-fession, and it is expected that the States, where osteopathy originated, and where it is most widely prac-ticed.

The osteopaths of Toronto are up to the neck in the work of prepara-tion for the convention, which will be on a large scale. Some 3,000 delegates are expected to attend. There are no doubt no idea there were so many osteopaths in existence. These will be surprised to learn that there are over 8,000 practicing in the United States alone.

Two features of the convention will be distinctly novel, even in To-ronto, the city of many conventions. First comes the great health service, to be held in Massey hall on Sunday, July 5th, the night before the formal opening. This service will commence at 9, so that church folks may at-tend after the regular services. The Victoria choir will sing, and health sermons will be given by Dr. J. Gaddis of Chicago and Dr. Robert H. Nichols of Boston.

Novel feature number two will be the clinics, which will continue right through the convention. Thus the delegates will not merely discuss the problems of their calling. They will also demonstrate in the most prac-tical way, like commercial trav-el-lers showing their samples.

The benefits of the convention will not be confined to delegates and friends, for health talks will be given daily in the Crystal ballroom of the King Edward, to which the public will be invited. At several of the large factories and plants, health talks on health will be given to the workers.

Arrangements have been completed for a day of prayer on Thursday, for which the Central W. C. T. U. rooms on Clarence street are being opened up. The meetings have really nothing to do with the W. C. Dorothy Dix
Why Does a Woman Age?—Mother or Wife, Which Should Come First in a Man's Love?

Dear Miss Dix—I am engaged to be married to a young woman who is divorced. My father is very much opposed to my marrying her because her mother is divorced from her husband, and she has three sisters who are all divorcees. Do you think this makes any difference, or is it any indication that she will not make me a good wife?

Answer: Well, Charles personally I shouldn't care to marry into a family in which divorce seemed to be hereditary, as it seems to be in this case. Possibly the mother and the four daughters may be blameless. They may be merely the victims of bad luck, and have drawn blanks in the matrimonial lottery.

But the probability is that they are the sort of women who are not adapted to matrimony, and who do not know how to get along with men. Otherwise, surely one of the five would have been a success. Have you salvaged a husband out of the general matrimonial wreckage. At any rate, if I were you, before I took a chance on one of these matrimonial mists I would hunt up one of the ex-husbands and see if I could find out why the whole bunch of in-laws got their walking papers.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Why does a woman age and fade so much sooner than her husband? I have in mind a man of 63, who is actually handsome. He is plump and pink with health, his hair merely streaked with gray.

His wife is also healthy, but pale and lined with care. Her hair is like drifted snow. Nor is this an exceptional case. In cases where the husbands and wives are nearly the same age, the husbands always look much younger than their wives. What is the reason we women can't keep fresh and fair with age as our husbands are sure to do?

MRS. G. C.

Answer: Because nature plays us women a scurvy trick by giving us a frailer physique than men, and then putting a double strain upon us. Because women have to do just as hard work in the world as men; work that is far more monotonous, and in addition have to go through the agony of bearing the race.

The first baby ages a woman five years. By the time she has got it through its second year, her skin looks ten years older. Every subsequent olive branch takes its toll of her youth and good looks, so that by the time she has accumulated a family of three or four she is middle-aged, and is either fat and frumpy, or skinny and washed out.

Her husband and father still retains his boyish figure and looks a mere lad.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am engaged to marry a man whom I love very dearly, but he insists that after we are married we must live with his mother. He says he loves his mother better than any woman on earth and will always put her before his wife. I told him that if he felt that way he had better give up the thought of marrying and devote his life to her, for though I am not jealous, I would want to take first place with my husband.

He doesn't want to give up and insists that we would be perfectly happy with his mother, but I know her and know that we could not live amicably together. What is your advice?

TRUBLED.

Answer: You have said it. If he loves his mother better than he does you, let him stay with her, and you find some man who prefers you. No woman in a marriage can be happy in a marriage in which she has to play second fiddle to another woman, even a mother-in-law.

Dorothy Dix
Why Does a Woman Age?—Mother or Wife, Which Should Come First in a Man's Love?

Dear Miss Dix—I am engaged to be married to a young woman who is divorced. My father is very much opposed to my marrying her because her mother is divorced from her husband, and she has three sisters who are all divorcees. Do you think this makes any difference, or is it any indication that she will not make me a good wife?

Answer: Well, Charles personally I shouldn't care to marry into a family in which divorce seemed to be hereditary, as it seems to be in this case. Possibly the mother and the four daughters may be blameless. They may be merely the victims of bad luck, and have drawn blanks in the matrimonial lottery.

But the probability is that they are the sort of women who are not adapted to matrimony, and who do not know how to get along with men. Otherwise, surely one of the five would have been a success. Have you salvaged a husband out of the general matrimonial wreckage. At any rate, if I were you, before I took a chance on one of these matrimonial mists I would hunt up one of the ex-husbands and see if I could find out why the whole bunch of in-laws got their walking papers.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Why does a woman age and fade so much sooner than her husband? I have in mind a man of 63, who is actually handsome. He is plump and pink with health, his hair merely streaked with gray.

His wife is also healthy, but pale and lined with care. Her hair is like drifted snow. Nor is this an exceptional case. In cases where the husbands and wives are nearly the same age, the husbands always look much younger than their wives. What is the reason we women can't keep fresh and fair with age as our husbands are sure to do?

MRS. G. C.

Answer: Because nature plays us women a scurvy trick by giving us a frailer physique than men, and then putting a double strain upon us. ### CONCERNING THE ACTION AND THE CHARACTERS.

STEPHEN LANE, wealthy, middle-aged, despot, has opposed his wife's marriage some twenty years before and now resents the guardianship of his orphaned niece, who has been reared in a French convent. Childless, he accepts her as the only Lane heir, but determines to rule her with a tyrant hand as he rules his household. He is a selfish, cold, and pitiless man, who sold himself into a loveless marriage and is pitted by ANN ORDWAY, spinster and lifelong family friend.

CHAPTER II.

Enter Madelon.

Barbara Lane was dressed for the street. Her costume was faultlessly in mode. Rich furs wrapped her slim, frail loveliness. "You are going out?" Lane's tone toward her was habitually grim. Her great purple-black eyes sought his face anxiously. "I was going to meet Madelon," she faltered. Lane drew himself up in his chair. His eyes were accusative. "You were going to a railway station, a public place, in that costume?" Barbara's glance travelled downward over her gown, then lifted upward toward him. A little flush crept through her warm pallor. "Is there anything wrong?" Lane fairly snorted. "Is there anything wrong with a costume that would be overdressed for an afternoon tea? My dear Barbara, you are either a child or a fool," he sank back in his chair. "Sometimes I think you are both."

"She made no reply. Indeed, she accepted the situation as though it were a customary procedure, which, perhaps, it was."

"Slipping the furs from her shoulders, she tossed them to a chair, moved her smart tongue, and, sitting quietly down before the fire, began to strip the long gloves from her hands."

Lane watched under shaggy, iron-gray brows, but he made no comment. Presently, he forgot her in the book he was reading.

The afternoon sunlight, that lay like golden on the window ledges, dared not penetrate the room's chamber, but the noise of the street traffic was deadened by thick, icy-hung walls. The chime of the cathedral clock off somewhere in the recesses of the house was the only sound that broke the stillness.

Barbara sat motionless, a beautiful lay figure, her slim white hands clasped in her lap. It seemed incredible that she even breathed.

Presently a car flashed by the window, following the driveway to the porte cochere. The door of the library opened, and a maid came to a stop and opened the entrance doors.

Lane looked up from his book. "I fancy Madelon has arrived," he murmured with swift grace. "Shall I be the one to welcome her?" He made a motion of dissent.

"That is unnecessary. Masters will show her in."

"But this is her home-coming," Barbara was beginning. "My dear Barbara, you waste too much time over trivial formalities."

Barbara sank back in her chair. After a moment, Masters appeared in the doorway. His bearing was faultlessly correct, utterly impassive.

"Miss Lane has arrived, sir," he said. "Before he had finished, and much to his discomfort, a slim, smiling girl, pushed past him and came eagerly to Lane, gloved hands outstretched."

"You're my Uncle Stephen, aren't you? You've no idea how happy I am to find a home and real kin halfway across the world!" Lane accepted one of the proffered hands.

"I am glad you have arrived safely, Madelon," he said stiffly. "Did you have a pleasant journey?" The girl stood waiting with upturned, expectant face. After a moment's hesitation, Lane bent and placed cold lips against her forehead. Then he turned to Barbara, lingering in the shadow.

"This is your aunt, Barbara," Madelon advanced hesitatingly. "My dear Barbara, you waste too much time over trivial formalities."

velvety blue they were. They contrasted oddly with hair that swirled round her pretty, plump face like an aureole. She was gowned in the height of Parisian fashion. "Uncle Stephen," he eyes flashed mischief, her pretty voice was archly pleading, "there is a young man waiting outside in the car, such a nice young man, who was so kind on ship-board. May he not come in?" Lane's face hardened. "Certainly not! Shipboard acquaintances are dangerous. Barbara, please tell Masters to ask this young person to excuse Miss Lane. The car will take him wherever he wishes to go."

A look of dismay crossed Madelon's expressive face. "But, Uncle Stephen, I was so sure he would be welcome. I asked him in myself. You see, he is not just a shipboard acquaintance. He is an old childhood friend of mine, whom I saw often at the convent. He was in the first place properly presented in Paris by my chaperone, Mrs. Gullbert, who was a schoolmate of his mother's. Mr. Farley is an American architect, who has been studying in Paris. You will find him—"

"Madelon," Lane's voice was hard as steel. "The first rule of this house is obedience. If you remain here, I shall expect you to observe it."

Madelon bowed her head mutely. Her eyes were dazed, half-frightened, like a child, unaccountably hurt. In the end it was Barbara who prevailed upon Lane to receive young Duane Farley.

Her Wonderful Teeth

Remove the dingy film that's clouding yours and you'll be surprised that your teeth are just as white and charming as any one's—make this unique test.

HERE is a simple test that proves the truth that most of us have pretty teeth without ever knowing it.

This is the reason: Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a film. A film which absorbs discoloration and hides the natural color of your teeth.

Remove it and your teeth take on a new beauty. May you have really beautiful teeth without realizing it.

Film is charged too with most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So, besides loss of tooth beauty, film is a serious danger to healthy teeth. You must remove and control it.

SMITH, KIRKWOOD BEAT BRITISHERS

Duncan and Mitchell Lose Out Two Up and One To Play.

Associated Press Despatch.
Glenageles, Scotland, June 29.—In an exhibition of superior golf that produced a score of birdies by the four players in a 36-hole match, MacDonald Smith and Joe Kirkwood defeated George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, 2 up and 1 to play.

A gallery of several thousand Scots saw their national pastime played in a masterly manner over the beautiful glens and moorlands of this Highland resort. At the end of the morning round Smith and Kirkwood were two down, while Duncan and Mitchell were one up. They were unable to get ahead until the 34th hole, where both Duncan and Mitchell took three putts.

At the 35th hole Mitchell for the first time during the day failed to find the fairway with his powerful drive, hooking the ball into an unplayable position among the yellow and brown beds of gorse atop the rolling hills. Duncan's drive landed under the low roof of the bunker. Both Smith and Kirkwood reached the green with their second, which neither of the other pair could do, and so they won the match.

DIAMOND GLINTS

Batters have been known to dive deep into the depths of a hitting slump for no obvious reason whatever. In fact, circumstances of this sort are fairly common in the big leagues and all other leagues.

It may be going along fine, hitting the evasive tar out of the fast ones and curves served up to him by the opposing pitchers. Then unaccountably he fouls them off, tops them, cuts under them or misses them entirely.

He thinks nothing of it at first. Nobody can drive out baseballs all the time, the batter reasons. But days pass by and still the hitter fails to hit. He begins to worry. He is in a slump.

Sometimes he regains his batting power in short order. Sometimes weeks have been standing up to the plate strong or perhaps he was swinging a fraction of a second too soon. They seldom know what ails them. When he does begin to hit once more he usually means that he has subconsciously worked the kink out of his batting system.

This sort of slump seldom lasts over the stretch of a full season, though it may affect a player's season's work to a considerable extent.

A game similar to baseball was played by the ancient Egyptians, archaeologists say, and it is likely that a year or two later players began to complain that there was no doubt that the ball skips along with more enthusiasm this year than ever before, and the cost of life insurance for infielders soars in proportion.

These young men take the responsibility of being hazardous, but this billy of being hazardous is rapidly killing many of the nice points of the game which are lost in the hulloa of the slug.

It has been many a long day since the fans have seen an outfielder throw out a runner on a sacrifice fly. In fact, most of the boys who tend the gardens have given up in despair. A long fly with a man on third means a run, and argument is useless. The fielders can be blamed on the part of the ball for the most part. The fielder must catch the ball and throw it to the plate. A catapult to throw the ball to the plate. And the Texas leaguer grows common as the fielders retreat toward the fence.

STRATHROY TIED WITH IRISH NINE

Defeated Old Rivals 5-4. Borcher Winning Nice Duel.

Special to The Advertiser.
Strathroy, June 29.—Strathroy went into a tie with Lucan for first place in the second series of the Western Ontario championship. The game was a pitchers' duel throughout between Karl O'Neill and Strathroy's big pitcher, Borcher. Each only allowed six hits and walked two men, with Borcher having an advantage of two strike-outs. There was no score until the fourth when Strathroy notched one on a double by Borcher, the first of the game. In the fifth the locals added two, one earned by McCandless' single, followed by two sacrifices. The game was tied in the eighth by Watson's double and Griev's single. Strathroy's winning brace of runs came in the eighth. Wilkie walked. McCandless was pitched ball and not came in on G. Swales' lone single along the third base line. Stanley started in the ninth to even things up by hitting the first ball for a single. He died on the path, a Lucan struck out the next three. Lucan struck out in succession. ### Keep the Money Here.

Canadians have not become sufficiently seized with the idea of buying natural products grown in their own country. There are certain lines which we do not produce at all, such as oranges, bananas, lemons, grapefruit, etc., but after making allowance for these, there are large investments made for produce grown outside of Canada that can be duplicated here.

In the month of January we bought from United States 2,086,665 pounds of ordinary potatoes valued at $25,372, and at a time when there was a large supply of good Canadian potatoes to be had; in the same month we bought $2,342 worth of U. S. cabbages. In the fiscal year we secured outside of Canada 1,034,866 bushels of potatoes (not including sweet potatoes) valued at $335,497, and cabbages, $253,379, or in all $1,088,876 for vegetables of two sorts, when there was a plentiful supply at home, grown here by people who would have put the money back in circulation in Canada.

For canned vegetables, such as beans, peas, corn and tomatoes, all of which are grown here and canned in the best-known way, we spent $601,675 in the year for products grown and canned outside of Canada. From United States we bought 172,101 barrels of apples and paid for them $867,826, while right here in this land we can produce the finest apples in the world, and we also brought in $32,906 worth of dried apples.

Canada's banana bill was $4,194,017; oranges $6,409,805, and lemons $1,058,569. These lines are imported, and must always be so, but when it comes to such articles as cabbage, potatoes, apples and canned goods, there is room for a great deal more national consideration when we make our purchases. It is to the very decided advantage of all our people that those who are engaged in growing these staple lines should have the first call on the home market. It may be that they are not as keen in promoting their sales as producers from United States, who have tested out and proved the advantage of collective advertising to break into new markets and retain old ones. There is a plain known quantity for the producers of Canada to get out and capture—$2,539,283 worth of sales in apples, potatoes, cabbage and canned goods. The Canadian purchaser should be quick to respond to an appeal to buy the Canadian article because the spending and re-spending of that money is needed in this country.

Learning From the Blind.

"There are those who go through life with a wall, but let it be our part to sound a note of encouragement wherever we go."

That statement has a note of wholesome optimism that cannot be overlooked. It was not sounded by a politician, a preacher or the organizer of a new fraternal society. It is all the more notable because it was the utterance of a blind girl, Miss L. Nesbitt, presiding at the meeting of the alumni society of the Brantford school for the blind. One might wonder what reason a person who was blind, shut in from looking at all the things there are to see in this great world, unable to see people's faces, to note either smiles or sorrow as they are registered there—what reason could they have for sounding a note of encouragement wherever they go?

Yet that note of optimism was very much present all through the proceedings; at no place in the proceedings was there a wall of despair, or a protest that the handicap under which they labored was too great for them to bear.

Askelon Leppard of Queensville, a farmer of forty years, spoke on "Is it wise for the blind to spend much time in intellectual development?" Mr. Leppard referred to the blind poet, Homer, who in the age of paganism illumined the minds of those who had sight and yet were without spiritual vision; Milton's blindness he described as the blessing which freed his tongue into magnificent poetry.

Miss Kathryn Sells, touching on the more practical subject of how blind persons make a living, spoke of concert work, and it is notable that the trio of which she is a member had chosen the name "Sunbeam trio." Mr. Viets, very successful life underwriter in Toronto, blind during the war, told how he carried on his business, and there was no suggestion that he should ever secure a preference on account of his affliction; he was prepared to sell insurance on the basis of the worth of the proposition he had to offer, and in competition with others who had the advantage of sight. Miss Mary Common, Galt, took the subject of piano-tuning, and in her address found opportunity to step out of the commonplace to remark: "Pianos will wear out but there is a joy and a satisfaction in restoring a piano to the purity of its tone."

Robert Stewart, of Hamilton, brought out the idea in his own words, "Never accept blindness as an excuse for being idle. Find something to do. Make yourself useful to the community—work at your profession to the best of your ability and success will surely come with the years."

Surely these blind people, who are out carrying on bravely under the handicap of blindness, have taught a very real lesson to those who are inclined to do considerable complaining even in possession of all their faculties. Not a protest, not a word of despair—instead there was that persistent urge to make the very best of life, to further develop other faculties so that they might better serve the community with which they come in contact. If the Brantford school is responsible for giving its students that outlook on life then it is indeed doing a noble and a worthy work.

This Way Is Wrong.

Manitoba Free Press points to the further development of milling at Buffalo and asks why that industry is being driven across the border when it is Canadian wheat for the most part that is being used. The Winnipeg paper claims that "not only do the lake rates on grain charged by Canadian steamship companies tend to send the grain trade through Buffalo and American Atlantic ports, but the rates charged by the Canadian railways on export flour shipments from Ontario seem to be calculated to have an exactly similar effect."

The case is cited of a mill at present operating at Port Colborne negotiating for a plant at Buffalo. It is because the mill at Port Colborne is under the double handicap, as compared with similar mills in Buffalo, of paying a higher rate on their grain coming down the lakes and also a rail rate on flour to the seaboard which is about 15 per cent higher. Competition in export trade is keen and these differences mean the securing or losing of trade.

The weekly capacity of the Buffalo mills is reported as having grown in the last two years from 156,000 barrels to 238,000 barrels. If we can correctly interpret Canadian sentiment, there is a feeling that the people here want to see Canadian industry develop, and in order that this may be done they want to see Canadian milling industry get at least as favorable conditions as are granted to the Buffalo mills. It is not a case at all of asking for special favors, and the case has more force because it is Canadian wheat that is building up this Buffalo industry.

The raw product is Canadian, and it is Canadian because of its quality, but the payroll from turning it into wheat, and for the supplying of bags and barrels and all other activities that center around the business, belongs to United States. Not only that, but the by-products, the shorts and bran, are placed at the disposal of the live stock industry of the country where the mills operate.

This way of doing business is not going to get us very far. If we cannot use our own high quality natural resources, and hold them until we have applied Canadian labor to the various steps in manufacture, then there is something radically wrong with the way in which we are carrying on our business of development.

One Mighty Smash.

Thamesford and Beachville ball teams played a game in which a ticklish decision had to be given by the umpire. Using A and B in the case with Beachville at bat, A on first, B knocks the ball for a home run into the river, scoring A ahead of him. B failed to touch second and went back across the diamond to do so, but on the way in failed to touch third, whereupon a new ball was put in play and B was counted out because he had not gone around by third base on his way to touch second.

Rules of the game could be quoted to show that the umpire was right in his decision and that B should have run from home to third and then to second, yet there are officials who would have taken the view that it was a home run. B, who made the mighty drive, could have known right from the start that it was a home run, and that there was no need for him to hurry.

When there are no definite ground rules it is necessary to have recourse to a fair amount of common sense as to when the second ball, to replace the one fairly knocked out of the premises, shall be brought into play to replace the one so hit. It is a point on which ball fans can very easily become entangled in all manner of technical points, but the broad view is that when a batter meets the ball so mightily as to knock it clean out of the grounds he should not be lightly deprived of the ensuing run.

Londoners will welcome Hon. Arthur Meighen here for the Dominion Day celebration in Victoria park. The movement which has been steadily followed here year after year to have a real patriotic function to mark the day and impress young Canada with its significance, has advanced to the point where it is an established fact, and those who have persistently labored to bring the celebration to that standing have performed a worthy service.

The death of Chief Levi General near Niagara Falls, N.Y., marks the close of the activities of an erratic sort of genius whose energy and powers of agitation might have accomplished much had they been directed to channels that were not cut for self-glorification. Chief Levi paraded to the limit in United States, in Europe and even to the outside doors of the League of Nations the real and fancied grievances he entertained. He at least saw much of the world before he passed to the happy hunting ground and others followed the bills.

The Scandal Mob

They grabbed on Mr. A. at first and plastered mud upon his name, they leaped upon a Mrs. A. and smeared her up about the same.

One village gossip spread the word that Mr. A. had left his home, and hadn't told the folks around just why or where that he was going; so by the time he spread the news the rest began to speculate, and one recounted how he thought he'd been a stay-in' out too late.

And someone else he chipped in too that for the most part of the year, that Mr. A. in many ways had been a-actin' sort of queer.

The next day come the gossips met and had a piece of news quite new, that Mrs. B., a neighbor's wife, she'd gone and left the village too. And so they talked on her a spell, she was a flippant flirt for sure, she couldn't stand a livin' with a man who always would be poor.

They'd noticed how she'd had her ways, most likely she had grabbed a roll, and took the family purse away and left her husband in the hole.

The next day on the gossips grinned and turned a moel in their jaw, they had real scandal on their hands, a case that sure would test the law. For Mr. A., unhappy man, had tired of tuggin' at the tether, so he and Mrs. B. for sure had gone and left the town together.

Yes, they had seen, come think of it, how they had been around a lot, and they had schemed and fixed the thing, a deep and ghastly sort of plot.

And when the scandal crew got done, why Mr. A. and Mrs. B. was surely far away by now a-sailin' on a southern sea. It was a mean thing they had done a-bustin' up two homes like that, they should be tarred and feathered too and ridden on a hickory elat.

But next day Mr. A. come home and went to work as heretofore, his wife she met him when he come and hugged him at the cottage door. And two days more come Mrs. B., her husband met the train that night, just when the scandal peddlers' stuff was reachin' to its finest height. And he was glad to see her come, most happy of all village men, for she had been to visit folks out on lot four, concession ten, while Mr. A. had been away to see his brother who was sick, the gossips never stopped to think a trip like that a decent trick.

But scandal has to have its fling and throw its mud on folks around, it don't seem happy like at all until it's bumped them on the ground. Those wigglin' tongues they can't keep still, nor take a rest by day or night, nor can those scandal mouths be mum nor keep their flappin' jaws shut tight.—ARK.

To the Editor

An Anthem Story.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—I read with some amusement your editorial on the anthem that told of Aaron's beard. Here is another story about an anthem that has gone the rounds before, but it is still good:

Speaking of anthems reminds me of the story of two old British sailors who were talking over shore experience. One had been to a cathedral and had heard some very fine music, and was describing particularly upon an anthem which gave him much pleasure. His shipmate listened for a while and then said: "I say, Bill, what's an anthem?" "What?" replied Bill, "do you mean to say you don't know what a hanthem is?" "Not me." "Well, then, I'll tell yer. If I was to say to yer, 'Ere, Bill, give me that 'andspike,' that wouldn't be a hanthem. But was I to say, 'Bill—Bill—Bill—give—give—give—give me, give me that—Bill, give me, give me that hand, give me that hand, handsake, spike—spike—Bill, give—give me that—hand—handsake, hand—hand—spike, spike, spike, spike, ah—men, ah—men; Bill, give methatandsake, spike, ah—men! why, that would be a hanthem.'"

RUSSIAN AGENTS ARE HELD AS KEY

Documents Found On Man and Wife May Prove Soviet Participation.

By PERCIVAL FINCH. Special Correspondent to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News.

Shanghai, June 29.—Revelations of Soviet Russian participation in the Chinese strikes in Shanghai, Hong Kong and Canton are expected to be made when translation of documents found on two Russians arrested here today are completed.

Zinovii Dossier and his wife, Ivna, were arrested on the British steamer Mantau, which arrived from Hong Kong today. The couple left Shanghai for Hong Kong on the French steamer Portos a week ago, but were refused permission to land at Hong Kong, where the police put them aboard the Mantau and sent them back to Shanghai.

Here the police raided the steamer and arrested the two and seized a quantity of literature. The documents included copies of telegrams addressed to the Soviet Consul in Shanghai and also with the Soviet Government regarding the strikes. One document stated the Canton strikes "were very good for Russian trade down there." Another acknowledged receipt of 60,000 gold roubles for fighting imperialism.

Dossier was released on huge bail.

GOVERNMENT PROFITS BY REAL ESTATE DEAL

C. N. R. Property Sold For $50,000 More—Retain Four Floors.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 29.—The property on the corner of King and Yonge streets in Toronto was purchased by the government and the Canadian National Railways two years ago for $1,200,000, and the government now proposes to sell it for $1,250,000 cash but to retain the right of the Canadian National Railways to have its offices where they now are located when the new building is erected by the company which proposes to buy the property.

This announcement was made in the House of Commons on Thursday by Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways. Through a typographical error he was reported as saying the government had paid $1,300,000, which made it appear the government had sold it at a loss instead of a profit.

Examinations Held in London Centre.

Twelve young doctors, graduated this year from the University of Western

The tests are difficult in the extreme, and include two subjects which are not required by the Ontario Council. The candidates were examined by outsiders. The passing of the dominion examination entitles a student to the use, after his name, letters, L. M. C. C., licentiate of the Medical Council of Canada, in addition to his M. D.

their inauguration, these examinations were held in London. Previously

ELMWOOD CHURCH CALLS MINISTER

Unanimous Invitation Extended to Rev. W. F. McConnell of Toronto.

Rev. (Major) W. F. McConnell,
B.A., Toronto, has been tendered a unanimous call to become pastor of Elmwood avenue Presbyterian church.

This decision, which was reached at a meeting of the congregation last night, will be given effect on Thursday morning next, when a delegation will press the call before the meeting of the London Presbyterian presbytery. Mr. McConnell, who has been dominion organizer of the anti-un-ion-ist Presbyterians for the past year or two, is at present in Manitoba.

Rev. Mr. McConnell, who preached in the Elmwood avenue church on the second Sunday after its organization last March, served as a chaplain overseas, seeing service in Gallipoli and also in France. Since the war he has been pastor of the Leau-nington Presbyterian church.

The congregation has heard many men during the past three months, several of whom have received calls elsewhere, but Mr. McConnell's name was the only one considered at the meeting last night.

It is understood that Mr. McConnell will complete his work in connection with the church union vote in Manitoba the latter part of next month, in which event, should he decide to accept the call, he will could take up his work August 1 as coordinator of the charge and preacher for that month to the Elmwood church and the Wortley road Baptist church, which two congregations will hold joint Sunday services during July and August.

C. J. Farr, member of session, will head the delegation to the presbytery on Thursday asking that the call, with stipend of $2,500 per annum, manse and one month's holidays, be passed on to Mr. McConnell for his consideration.

GREAT DOG SHOW FEATURE AT PORT

Animals Worth $200,000 Will Be On Display On Holiday.

Anticipating the heaviest travel in the history of the London & Port Stanley Railway to "The Coney Island of Western Ontario" for the extraordinary Dominion Day celebration tomorrow, the management has provided for extra equipment and special trains. The objective set is "a seat for every passenger."

The London & Port Stanley Railway by its annual program of its holiday program at Port Stanley, has fairly taken the breath from even the most blasé of amusement-seekers.
A $200,000 exhibition of the finest show-dogs ever exhibited in America, 250 in number, including many worth upwards of $5,000 each, three wolfhounds worth $15,000, a $4,300 bulldog, ten Boston terriers from Detroit of an average value of $2,000, and scores of dogs worth as much as a good house and lot or fine automobile, dogs from New York, Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburg, Huntington and Indiana;
Canadian aristocrats from all parts of Ontario and from Montreal and Quebec City, recent arrivals from England; dogs of every breed ever heard of—bloodhounds down to whippets.

The entries exceed, according to the best-informed experts, the most important shows in years. The show, held under the auspices of the Western Ontario Kennel Association, Inc., is to be held on Inverie Heights, with an array of officers of the highest reputation—Charles G. Hopton of New York as superintendent, and Frank E. Blakey of Buffalo, Mrs. W.
Wylie of Vineland and Dr. John Lehner of Pittsburg, Pa., as judges.

Softball followers are to see the greatest exhibition of the year, a clash between the Toronto major league K. and S. girls, who won the dominion of Canada championship, and the McCormick girls of London.
An added softball feature will be a battle between the Woolworths of London and the Thamesford girls.
The Toronto-London match will be staged at 3:45 and the second immediately following.

The casino will be open for dance lovers with Jack Pudney's famous orchestra, both afternoon and evening, and all of the big board walk attractions will be in full swing. The evening show will be capped with a big double bill at the beach movies and a grand finale of dazzling fireworks over Lake Erie.

The fact that everyone who goes to Port Stanley via the city railway receives a free chance to share in the grand distribution of $2,000 in prizes if it rains, even to the extent of a passing shower, between 2:30 and 5:30 p.m., guarantees "a good time, rain or shine." The prizes are a really amazing array, topped by a

U. S. R. HAS DEFICIT OF THREE MILLIONS

Detroit City Officials Surprised At Findings of Special Auditor.

Associated Press Despatch.
Detroit, June 30.—A deficiency of $3,185,227 was reported in an auditor's report of the financial condition of the Detroit street railway, which was given to Mayor J. W. Smith last night. The report surprised city officials in view of the fact that for several years reports have been made monthly purporting to show that the railways were making money.

W. W. Hauser, auditor for the Rapid Transit commission, was loaned to the Detroit street railway for the purpose of auditing their books. Hauser asserted that method will put an end to disputes about liquor prescriptions issued at the end of one month and being filled early in the following month as if prescriptions were written and dispensed promptly presented. It also points out that an amendment to the regulations stipulates the invariable use of the forms provided and no substitutes. The need of this amendment is more marked in the case of prescriptions on druggist for liquor where some physicians have utilized their own stationery. Any other than the board form presents a question of propriety. The board feels that these regular forms will help to the merit of reducing danger of forgery of a practitioner's signature.

TOMORROW TO SEE NEW LAW ON PRESCRIPTIONS

No Six-Ounce Limit.

There is no statutory provision regulating formally the number of drugs, or the quantity for "liquid" which may be issued by a physician.

"Some might argue," the board bulletin says, "that if thirty dispensary liquid prescriptions had been issued in 1934, the equivalent quantity would be two hundred, should be permitted in six-ounce prescriptions on druggists. This view cannot be accepted, any more than that thirty should be regarded as a monthly quota on the dispensaries. The judgment of the profession does not justify either conclusion. The board trusts the profession to observe the proper restraint in this matter. The board is not to be regarded as a board of medical need, but as a board when the principle of the act is disrespected, action will have to be taken. Co-operation, however, is preferred. "In some sections of the country," the board continues, "the board instructions regarding 'the abuse of excessive alcohol' and 'prescriptions obtrudes itself.' The board holds the intent of the act to be that liquor in any form, whether in the shape of brandy or whiskey, should be used in liquid prescribing, an exception being made of alcohol for medicinal bathing or rubbing purposes. The board may not be able to prevent the use of a drug, but it is to an imperial point. When alcohol prescriptions are unduly numerous, the inference is unavoidable that the

Drug Store Ban.

Concluding the license board panel's discussion was a motion by Dr. H. J. Conner, D.C., that a new amendment be promulgated whereby offending physicians can be prohibited from prescribing liquor at drug stores similar to the one ruling which would prevent farmers from dispensing service. Druggists will be notified such cases with instructions not to honor the signature of the guilty physician. A second amendment restricting liquor prescriptions physicians lawfully engaged in a province in the practice of their profession, thereby eliminating "floaters" who may only be in Ontario on a visit.

The board emphasizes the fact that the new amendment is "not an invitation to issue thirty prescriptions a day," which would be on the "per book" basis. However, as formerly, London physicians will use their own discretion in the matter. There is a story tone through the new amendment, the board being anxious to work with the medical profession of the province with no desire for friction or court proceedings.

Under the new amendment we have a simple and simple it is not the fact that there will be any trouble, a simplified arrangement of prescriptions.

tion pads eliminating the possibility of error or misinterpretation of the order. It is pointed out that the reduction in the number of prescriptions to thirty prescriptions has been accepted as reasonable by the medical profession, considerably fewer than of whom even in December last, the country was festively approaching not exceed 25 "pers". Two-thirds of the profession felt under the pressure limit of thirty and therefore the rules will not and therefore the rules will not be more than the third of the country's doctors. The rules are effective July 1.

CITY PAYS DEBTS UP TO $200,000

Treasurer Signs Checks For Soldier Insurance and Patriotic Fund.

The corporation of the city of London is paying up a few of its bills this week.

This morning City Treasurer Jas. S. Bell signed checks for more than $200,000, just a small fraction of the corporation's debt.

Some $110,000 is being paid out for debenture coupons this week. Another $90,000 or more is being set aside for maturing debentures.

One issue maturing today resulted in the paying in full of the city's soldier insurance debentures of 1915, together with patriotic fund debentures of the same year. The load of London's own war debt is lifting.

PRO PATRIA GOES UNDER TO COUNTY EXPERTS

Thrilling Ten-Inning Softball Game Ends in One Big Slug Fest.

The Hodgins and kindred spirits of Pro Patria Orange lodge, will have to forego any hopes they had of riding the white horse on the glorious 12th, as they were trimmed in a 10-inning softball contest at Thames park last night, by the county experts led by Manager Jack McLarty and Capt. Tom Robson.

The game was featured by many snappy plays. Capt. Hodgins, a lawyer when he isn't playing ball, told the umpire that he would make his play being busy at prayer at the time. He explained that he didn't see Bill start from first base, and thought a second California earthquake had arrived judging by the earth's trembling when Mr. Dyer started to move his "dodge."

Chantler, who heaved "em up for the orange crew for the first five innings in great style, retired in favor of Kenny, who was garbed in a purple shirt instead of the conventional orange. Mr. Kenny fooled around with the county boys until the 10th, when they got to him for seven runs.

White and Durdin, the jail battery, mowed the Crangemen down in fine style, while the fielding of Sheriff Graham, Bill Wiley and Jack Petrick could not be improved on. Freddy Last, Jack Morton and Jack McLarty also turned in a nice game for the winners.

Bill Dyer, Gordon Scott, Garrett, Legg, Johnston and Roy Burridge all took healthy wallops at the pill, while Capt. Ike Chantler and Kenny fielded in faultless style.

Pleads Guilty To Charge To Hasten Divorce Plea

Woman Admits Immorality To Facilitate Husband's Suit
in U. S. Court.

GIVES UP HER CHILD

Court Procedure Here Follows
Woman's First Effort To Obtain Freedom.

Mrs. Margaret Duncan, 21 years old, who fled with her baby child from her home in Jackson, Mich., last week, in company with another man, this morning gave up all claim to the infant in her desire to gain freedom from jail. In formally pleading guilty to an immorality charge in the belief that sentence would be suspended, she facilitates divorce proceedings which her husband claims he will commence in the United States.

Mrs. Duncan was arrested on a vagrancy charge here last week. At the same time Arthur J. Rawlings, also of Jackson, was taken into custody. Mrs. Duncan claimed that she fled from her home because her husband had threatened her life, but in leaving with Rawlings, the husband followed in pursuit.

Mrs. Duncan and Rawlings were remanded upon their appearance before Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon last week. The court was confronted with a question when the case came up today.

Inspector W. E. Kelly of the Children's Aid society signified intention of laying the immorality charge. Mrs. Duncan's husband, advised by his lawyer in the United States, should such a charge be laid and a conviction registered, divorce could be easily gained, favored the crown pressing the case on condition that his wife be freed on suspended sentence.

The court itself, although not favoring the plan as a means to facilitate divorce proceedings, agreed when Inspector Kelly declared that child would then be turned over in the father's care, and Mrs. Duncan and Rawlings returned to the United States.

Rawlings was remanded to jail for one week. He will be allowed his freedom during that time if he can secure money for his own deportation, if not the government will take action to see that he is returned to the United States. Mrs. Duncan the father's care, and Mrs. Duncan has custody of the baby child.

WESTMOUNT TENT GONE, POLICE ARE ON TRAIL

Somebody folded the tent of a Westmount fruit grower on Saturday night and like the Arab, silently melted away—with the tent. This was the information phoned to High Constable Wharton this afternoon by the owner who lives on Westmount drive on the crest of Springbank hill.

The tent is 14 feet by 8 feet and was to be used to house berry pickers next month.

High Constable Wharton was supplied with certain information by the owner and expects to have the tent back in Westmount within a few days.

DEATH TOLL IN QUAKE NOW PLACED AT NINE

reality dealer. The latter escaped with three broken ribs and scalp wounds after falling and sliding three stories to the ground from the room beside that in which his son met his death.

The San Marcos building, a block below the Arlington hotel, one of the finest buildings in the city, was a paradox of stability and ruins. The center caved in when the earth waves struck the community. The wing stood apparently intact, but close survey showed them to be badly cracked and twisted.

At the other end of the fourteen blocks of state street, which approximately marked the extent of the serious business district damage the new California hotel, a hostelry of 100 rooms, completed within the week, was a total wreck.

Another comparatively new hotel, the Carrillo, two large wings of filled concrete construction, was badly shaken in two lower floors, but above that the walls remain standing and good as new. The interior furnishings, however, were all scarred with the marks of the tremor.

Quake Plays Pranks. Here and there throughout the downtown section the pavement bulged and cracked, while in some locations it had been slashed and chopped into fragments a foot square by the grinding force of the successive tremors.

In the older and less pretentious residential districts the earthquake had played queer pranks with the wooden homes. One sagged crazily in front, its gable hanging two feet nearer the street than its foundation posts. Another had buckled in the middle and leered at the passing world through bare bay windows which until yesterday had been sheltered from the summer sun by an old-fashioned veranda.

Back on the hills the old mission of Santa Barbara still stood in part, defying its second earthquake. It had gone through a similar shake in the earthquake in the early eighties.

The mission's tower, with its sweet-toned bells, crashed while a kneeling congregation bowed within. Then the congregation walked out over the adobe wreckage, led by the priest.

Walls that could be saved were propped up with great timber stays and throughout the night, crews worked steadily clearing away the ruins.

Now and then a new tremor made itself felt, a reminder of the territory itself shaking that had started leading ashore that had started the work of damage, and the pickaxe and shovel squads sprang back for a moment, beyond the swaying piles, awaiting its passage before resuming work.

Nowhere, only in very rare instances, did the men, women and children of Santa Barbara spend last night within doors. Many whose homes were wrecked were forced to sleep in the open. Others slept in their lawns from choice, not knowing when a fresh earth tremor might bring their ceilings down about their ears.

Two facts stood out from many striking features in this city today. One was the continued, determined calm with which its citizens faced their destiny and their duty, and the other was the absence of any serious fire, which in earthquakes elsewhere had added to the horrors of stricken communities.

FLEE FROM CITY.

Associated Press Despatch.
Los Angeles, June 30.—A graphic account of the terror that overtook occupants of the buildings in the downtown districts of Santa Barbara in the earthquake zone was brought here today by W. R. Scott, Los Angeles, who had a narrow escape from death in the California hotel.

Awakened by the first shock, he said, he saw the walls of his room shaking. "They swayed sickeningly," he continued. "I leaped out of bed and raced downstairs, clad only in my pyjamas. In the lobby I overtook a man struggling toward the door with a small child. As they reached it the building gave way. Debris and wreckage piled upon them. I dived through a window into the street."

"When I looked back the hotel was a gaunt ruin, its outer wall fallen into the street. And standing on a heap of wreckage on the third floor I saw a fat man screaming at the top of his voice for a taxicab. Later I found most of the guests huddled in scanty attire in a vacant lot nearby. They had fled the building as soon as the shock began."

Still pyjama-clad, Scott met an automobilist bound for Hollywood. The man invited him to come along, and together they fled the city without additional garments.

CLOUDBURST FOLLOWS QUAKE.

Associated Press Despatch.
Bakersfield, Calif., June 30.—A cloudburst in Tejon Pass, 44 miles south of here on the Ridge route, yesterday delayed all traffic nearly three hours. Tons of debris were washed over the mountain highway and a crew of fifteen men with trucks and scrapers were necessary to open up a one-way passage. No lives were lost.

PRESSMEN ON THE JOB.

Associated Press Despatch.
Santa Barbara, June 30.—From a flimsy shack, eight by fourteen feet, furnished with five small empty packing cases and a make-believe table of discarded board, to which a wire had been hastily hooked, the first direct news of Santa Barbara's disaster was carried to the newspapers of the dominion by the Canadian Press yesterday.

This emergency headquarters, manned by staff writers and telegraph operators of the Associated Press, filed a steady stream of news on the seaside tremor which was relayed by the Canadian Press bureaus in Seattle and New York to the various news circuits in the dominion.

The obstacle of lack of light, due to the collapse of the electric power house, was surmounted by backing an automobile up to the door of the emergency news bureau and stringing a wire with a tiny bulb attached from the machine's battery to the operating table.

ORGANIST SCHERER RESIGNS POSITION

Quits Job at Metropolitan United To Take Post in Chatham Church.

Whitney Scherer has resigned as organist of Metropolitan United church, formerly First Methodist church, after one year in that position. He came to London from Christ church, Anglican, Chatham, to succeed Kingsley Ireland, who resigned to play the organ in the Capitol theatre here. Mr. Scherer goes back to Chatham, this time as organist and choirmaster of the Presbyterian United church.

Miss Iva Smith, who supplied so acceptably for several Sundays prior to Mr. Scherer's appointment, has been secured to take the organ again for a time until the committee appointed under Frank Harley has an opportunity to look round and select a new man for the position.

George C. Carlie, who has been the receipt of news late last night that shocks still were being felt near the scene of the disturbances of Saturday night and Sunday.

The Gallatin river valley stirred restlessly all day yesterday and distinct shocks were felt here at 10:30 and 11:35 o'clock last night. People were driven from their beds, and many spent the remainder of the night out of doors. Dozens of shocks have been felt between Bozeman and Three Forks, one of the three towns which suffered most, since Saturday night.

Shifting of the earth's surface yesterday was felt at Great Falls, Helena, Billings, Logan, Three Forks and Manhattan, but no material damage was done.

EXCISE STAMP ON SMALL CHECKS NOW UNNECESSARY

That worrisome two-cent fixture, the excise stamp on checks of five dollars and under, will be no longer a bulletin issued by R. R. Farrow, deputy minister of customs and excise received here today by O. H. Talbot, collector.

The communication also defines a check saying that "A check as defined by the war revenue act, as now amended, is to include any document in writing not drawn upon or addressed to a bank in exchange for which the bank makes payment of a sum of money. This amendment provides for the taxation of any document which performs the function of a check."

From July 1, checks, bank deposit receipts, money orders and travel-office money orders will be exempt from taxation for amounts not exceeding five dollars.

STRICKEN ENGINEER A FORMER LONDONER

William McIntosh, veteran locomotive engineer who died at the throttle of his engine as it entered the yards near the Union station, Toronto on Sunday was a former Londoner.

Engineer McIntosh was well known here. He piloted the fast trains on the London-Toronto runs of the C. P. railway up till 18 months ago when he moved to Toronto. In London he lived on Princess avenue.

P. M. R. SHOWS JUMP IN FREIGHT BUSINESS

Thirty-Four Per Cent Increase
Noted in Road's Detroit Division.

An increase of 34 per cent in forwarding and received shipments in the Detroit territory of the Pere Marquette railway, was announced today. The figures are for the third week in June. The district embraces the Flint and Lansing industrial districts.

The Grand Rapids territory is taking on a more stable position. A significant feature of the increase in business is that it is not confined to any one line. Building materials, fruits, and vegetables are moving freely.

Buffalo's gateway movement is up 21 per cent. Other cities on the lines show a corresponding increase in business.

STUDENTS AT SUMMER SCHOOL OVER HUNDRED

Registrations at the summer school of the university of Western Ontario already total more than the attendance last year. Students are still registering.

It was hoped that the increase this year would put the total number of students above the 100 mark. Indications are that the objective will be exceeded.

It will be some days yet before the actual number of students attending will be known. A number came to the city today and further enrollments are expected during the week, although the lectures have started.

CITY WILL SEND OUT 15,000 POSTAL CARDS

Mailing List of London Old Boys and Girls Now Being Sought.

A pile of 15,000 post cards was left in the city clerk's office this morning.

The post cards have not yet become part of his majesty's mails. They will be addressed during the next week or two to city folk who want to co-operate in the centennial year celebration.

In order to secure a substantial mailing list of London old boys and girls, the mayor is sending out requests to all citizens to send in addresses of friends who are living away from home. Today a start was made on the big heap of postal reply cards.

BUSY PRISONERS NOW START ON NEW JOB

Having whitewashed the walls of the county jail, put a new hardwood floor in Governor Dawson's office and the adjoining waiting-room, the prisoners are now busy cleaning the floors with a sanding machine run by hydro power.

The jail is in apple-pie order should the Hon. Lincoln Goldie, provincial secretary, take it into his head to visit the jail in the course of his visit to London today.

A WOMAN'S SUFFERING

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Verdun, Montreal, Quebec.—"I am one of thousands who have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have great faith in it. I can safely say it has relieved my troubles and I shall never be without a bottle of it in my house. Since my last baby was born I suffered from pains and backache and would feel so tired I could not do anything in my home. Since I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine I feel so different. I recommend it to all my friends and hope it will cure other women who are suffering from the troubles I had."—Mrs. THOMAS H. GARDNER, 821 Evelyn Street, Verdun, Montreal, Quebec.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for the new mother. It is prepared from roots and herbs, contains no harmful drugs and can be taken by the nursing mother.

Its worth in restoring the mother to normal health and strength is told again and again in just such letters as Mrs. Gardner writes.

A recent canvass of women users of the Vegetable Compound shows that 98 out of every 100 women taking the medicine are benefited by it. They write and tell us so. Such evidence entitles us to call it a dependable medicine for women. It is for sale by druggists everywhere.

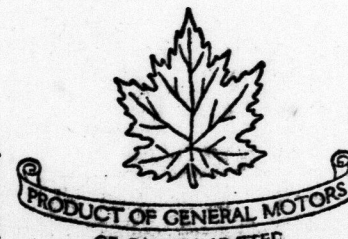

It has been the privilege of General Motors of Canada to smooth the road and speed the way of the Canadian people. ## DOCK LABORER RUNS AMUCK, SLAYS ONE, INJURES TWO

Joe Antoniuk, Fort William, Goes On Bloody Rampage.

SUBDUED BY FIVE
C. N. R. Signal Operator Killed in Lonely Part of Yards.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Fort William, June 29.—Joe Antoniuk, a crazed foreign dock laborer, is now lodged in jail on a charge of having slain one man and seriously injured two others in one of the bloodiest and most ferocious fights ever staged at the head of the lakes.

Antoniuk was knocked unconscious and carried to jail only after a terrific struggle with five men. The slain man is William James Morgan, C.N.R. signal operator. The injured are Robert McManus, operator, and John Gall, C.N.R. constable. Both are suffering terrible scalp injuries, and it is feared Gall may lose his right eye.

The fatal attack was staged early today in a lonely spot in the Canadian National Railway yards between Fort William and Port Arthur. Antoniuk encountered his victims one at a time. Instead of running when police arrived, he turned on the unconscious Gall and gave battle to five. Not until he was knocked unconscious was his capture effected. Morgan, who died from injuries received, was a married man with a large family, and was well known in Fort William.

GEORGE JONES BURIED.
The funeral of the late George E. Jones was held Sunday from Oatman's funeral home. Interment was made in Parkhill cemetery. Rev. J. M. Symington officiated. The late Mr. Jones was a former resident of Parkhill, but left 25 years ago to assume a position in the customs department at Ottawa. He died there suddenly Thursday night. Mrs. (Dr.) John Schram of this city is a daughter. The pallbearers were J. A. Sullivan, J. M. Brown, Gord. A. Brown, Dr. Sam Jones, J. A. Kennedy and Ezra Schram.

BALDWIN VICTOR IN CENSURE VOTE

MacDonald Motion Charged Failure To Meet Unemployment.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, June 29.—A motion of censure moved by Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader, against the government for failure to solve the unemployment problem was voted down in the House of Commons tonight, 373 to 143.

The motion declared that the government, "after a lengthy period of industrial depression, and confronted by an alarming growth in the number of unemployed, has failed to take measures to deal with a situation of unprecedented gravity."

The debate had a strong flavor of political controversy, the government speakers having the early report that the late Labor government had equally failed to solve the same problems. The report demonstrated that the government had no heroic measures to propose.

Population Increase.
Premier Baldwin argued that except in the coal, iron, steel, shipbuilding and engineering industries, which were more affected than others, unemployment was not much greater than a year ago, when Labor was in office. Moreover, it should be remembered that the population had increased and emigration had been greatly restricted, while the difficulties were aggravated by the growing foreign tariffs against British trade.

The premier laid stress on the fact that the British foreign policy was unwaveringly devoted to fostering peace in Europe, an absolutely essential concomitant of any industrial progress at home, and in this connection, he said, the government hoped for much from the efforts to secure an agreement between France, Germany, Belgium and Great Britain, which would go far to make foreign credits flourishing.

Consider Subsidies.
Mr. Baldwin then came to his point when he said the government had been considering, and asked the House to consider, the possibility of subsidies to industries which at the moment seemed to be beaten down

FIND BABY SUFFOCATED BY UNKNOWN PERSONS

Tillsonburg Jury Gives Verdict On Discovery of Infant in Shoe Box.

Special to The Advertiser.
Tillsonburg, June 29.—The jury impaneled by Coroner Dr. Bennett on the discovery of the body of a well-developed baby boy in a shoe box in the waterworks pond on June 7 returned an open verdict this evening that the child came to its death by suffocation at the hands of persons yet unknown.

Investigation has been in charge of Chief Coroner and Inspector Doyle of the provincial police, who followed several clues and made an arrest, with no definite results as yet. The jury was dismissed.

ENGINE JUMPS TRACKS.
Traffic on the C. P. R. was delayed for nearly an hour last evening when a switching engine jumped the track. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock on the "V" between Pall Mall and Waterloo streets, just east of the Waterloo street crossing.

The crossing had been closed to street traffic all day, while repairs were being made to the gates.

Soldier Organizations Are Scored For Separating Veterans of War

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 29.—"To me it is an appalling situation when men, who might have fought in the same platoon in France, and who might have slept in the same dugout, are hardy on speaking terms because they belong to different soldier organizations, and I rejoice that we have at least something tangible on which to form a union of the different organizations," said Lieut. General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., former commanding officer of the Canadian forces in England, recently elected president of the G. W. V. A. and who was formally installed in office this afternoon.

and is likely to face a manslaughter charge. The police claim that Mills failed to stop after the girl was knocked down. A passing motorist gave chase and overtook him, subsequently turning him over to police. The girl ran out from behind a street car near the Walkerville ferry dock, according to the police report. Dr. C. W. Hoare, coroner, has ordered an inquest for July 7.

Miner and Family Quit Land of Broken Dreams; Find Haven At St. Marys

Worked Only Seven Days Since Christmas—Hardships Caused Strike.

HUNGRY MEN RIOT

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Marys, June 29.—Some interesting light is thrown on the situation in the strike area in Nova Scotia through the arrival here of John Dillon, his wife and family, from Sydney Mines, N. S., where the former has worked as a miner for the past fourteen years.

Conditions there are indeed serious, said Mr. Dillon last night when questioned, and the miners are barely able to exist at all. At best the occupation of mining affords only a poor living and even before the strike living conditions were extremely bad. Mr. Dillon himself has worked only seven days since last Christmas and this was the general experience of hundreds of Nova Scotia miners. Work at any time was very uncertain with the miners averaging about four days a week at the busiest time, while during the winter times were generally slack every year.

Wages were paid on a straight rate of $1 per ton of coal mined, an exceptionally good day's pay being about $5, this amount being influenced of course by the number of break-downs or other unforeseen occurrences, which affected the output of the miners. Out of this amount the miners bought their own powder, boring machines and picks; besides paying their union fee of $1 per month, so that they made only enough for a bare living even before the strike.

Reduction Is Bowed.
The announcement of a 10 per cent reduction naturally came as a severe blow to the miners, who were only too glad to obey the union orders and go to work although at the time they were given to understand that they would receive the regular union strike benefits, which would amount to about $5 or $6 per week, depending upon the size of a man's family. Although President Lewis declared he would stand behind the men, all they ever received was $1 a week from the union, and it was because of the fact that the men had nothing to live on that the looting of stores commenced.

Previous to this everything had been peaceful and quiet, with no hostilities between the men and the company. The latter, apparently, was however, of the opinion that the miners wanted troops on the ground from the start, and the arrival of the first detachment about a month ago increased the miners and served to increase the bitter feelings of the men.

The call for relief sent out to Canada and the United States met with a generous response from the first and this was the only thing that allowed the miners to hang out, otherwise they would have been forced back to work at the point of starvation and made to accept the 10 per cent reduction with the company refusing to recognize their union.

Mr. Dillon's own opinion is that the miners will be able to beat the company if the relief continues the same since this is being handled very satisfactorily and the miners are enabled to live about as well as before the strike, but he does not believe that the company can stand the enforced idleness.

Union Faith Lost.
The miners themselves are just uncertain what to do since they have lost faith in the union because of its failure to keep its promises, and this is considerable talk of withdrawing from it altogether after the strike is settled, but at present they are awaiting the result of the negotiations being carried on.

Mr. Dillon was greatly pleased with the clean and beautiful appearance of St. Marys after coming such a long way from the mining district, and he states that large numbers of the miners would be only too willing to leave Nova Scotia were they able to do so, but hardly any of them have any money because of their long idleness, and only a few of them have left up to the present time. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon intend making their future home here.

AT THE THEATRES

LOEW'S THEATRE

Are Parents People.

"Are Parents People," the Paramount picture featuring Adolphe Menjou, Betty Bronson ("Peter Pan") and Florence Vidor, which opened at Loew's yesterday, is one of the best screen offerings seen at Loew's in some time.

The picture was adapted for the screen from the Saturday Evening Post serial by Alice Duer Miller, who also wrote "Manslaughter." The story is a domestic comedy drama in which Betty has the role of an only daughter whose parents suffer from a case of incompatibility. They quarrel about the smallest things and Betty is at her wit's end to know what to do with them. She scolds them, tries to shame them and then decides to give them a "mutual worry," which she does by presuming to fall, for a long-haired movie "shell."

Lawrence Gray, Paramount's greatest "find" since the discovery of Betty Bronson herself, heads the supporting cast.

Pathe news and the Spat family in "Rubberneck," complete the picture program.

It is hard to say which is the best of the vaudeville acts, as all three are mighty good. Beeman and Grace open the bill with a roller-skating and dance act, that brought them half a dozen curtain calls.

Bussey and Case have a bright little offering with a little bit of all-time everything in it from juggling to dancing. Miss Case has a sweet voice of great carrying qualities and was greeted with a storm of applause.

OUTLOOK IN WEST BETTER EACH DAY

Abundant Rainfall and Ideal Growing Weather Help Wheat.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, June 29.—Abundant rainfall and ideal growing weather throughout the Canadian West during the past week has greatly increased the prospects of a bumper yield of wheat and other grains this year, according to the weekly crop report of the Canadian Pacific Railway agricultural department.

Most of the wheat is now in shot blade and has reached a height ranging from 10 to 15 inches at many points. The stand generally is regarded as exceptionally good, although a few districts report slight discoloration due to excessive moisture.

Rust rumors prevalent during the week proved to be without foundation, the report states. The destruction from cutworms has not been extensive, and several areas hailed out have been reserved to other grains.

In Manitoba, the Westbourne, Rosenfeld, Niverville and Doguay districts report a considerable damage as the result from too much rain.

Police Mourn Death of Waif

Lodger of Three Years Was Montreal Resident.

Associated Press Despatch.

New Orleans, June 29.—"Old John," the city's most unusual guest, is dead, and policemen attached to the second precinct station are mourning the passing of a friend.

The old man drifted in three years ago and begged a night's lodging. That was granted as is customary, but the old fellow made himself so friendly and useful that he simply stayed on, although according to the law he should have been sent to a charity home.

He ran errands for policemen and prisoners and did odd jobs around the station house, picking up what change he could and wearing what friendly policemen gave him.

When he died an effort was made to learn something definite about him, but he had rarely talked about himself and all that could be learned was that he was John Francis, 74, native of Montreal, and had once been in Illinois. He said once he had not seen them in thirty years.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Quo Vadis.

Nothing more realistic has been produced in the motion picture art than the film version of "Quo Vadis," which was shown at the Capitol theatre yesterday, commencing a three-day run.

"Quo Vadis," is one of the most absorbingly interesting and thrilling productions that has ever been screened. It is correct historically, delightfully artistic and perfect in detail and perspective. It is a profound psychological study.

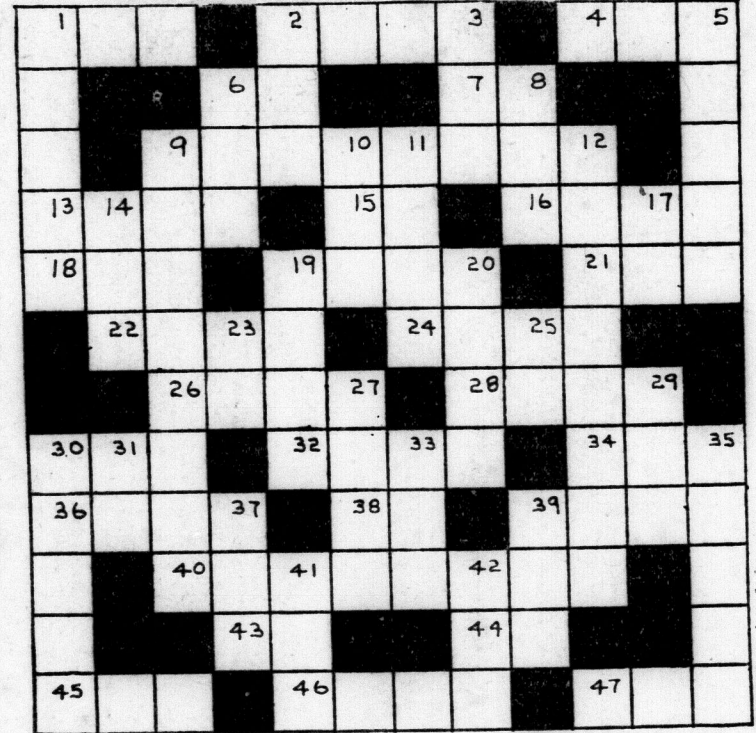

Portrayal of the great royal banquet of the time of Nero, more corrupt of the Caesars, the burning of Rome, and the scenes in the arena—the tossing of the Christians to the lions, the rescue of Lygia, the escape from the back of a raging bull, could not be more realistically presented in motion picture form. "Quo Vadis" is a masterpiece of a picture, a production which constitutes an educational treat. The principal actors and actresses are all finished ones, true to the character each portrays. More than 20,000 took part in the filming of the picture, making up thrilling mob scenes, which make the photography stand out as a triumph of direction.

Capitol presents inimitable Harry Langdon in "The Sea Squawk," a delightful comedy presentation, and a Pathe news reel of current interest for the remainder of the theatre's program of entertainment.

LEAGUE OF EMPIRE SERVICES WORK ON PLANS TO CHANGE EX-WARRIORS INTO SETTLERS

See Need of Fostering Emigration of British Men and Women.

MEETS AT OTTAWA

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 29.—"If we fail to develop the magnificent resources of this empire, may they not be taken away from us and given to somebody else?" asked General Sir Andrew Russell of New Zealand, addressing the British Empire Service League here today.

The question of migration of British ex-service men within the empire was under consideration, and Sir Andrew drew a comparison with the man who had one talent and buried it. It was taken away from him, Sir Andrew said, because he failed to use it. The great heritage of the British race might be lost to somebody else if it was not made use of.

After the opening ceremonies and the adoption of reports, the conference of ex-service men of the empire got down to resolutions and intended to settle and to appoint a committee of the conference to devise means of promoting more rapid migration of veterans.

Resolution Moved.
Commander A. P. Hett, of Great Britain, moved the resolution, Sir Andrew seconded it. Both urged the need for the settlement under the British Empire settlement act. Capt. W. Appleby, of Great Britain, promised that the British Legion would select for settlement overseas would be suitable men and, above all, its best women. He said the employment service of the legion regarded the selection of the women more important than that of the men. It was the women who would encourage and support the man in his early struggles in a new environment, and he said that the settlers now being sent to the colonies were intended to be the agreement with that government were being taken from the county of Northumberland, because they were most suited to the settlement scheme.

Major Dr. W. D. Sharpe, retiring president of the G. W. V. A., spoke for Canada. The dominion needed a greater number of settlers, and he said that the individual group settler could make a living in Canada. He suggested that the group system of migration was not as useful to Canada as the individual group settler.

While in Rome.
It was necessary that the immigrant adopt the customs and spirit of the country as soon as possible if he was going to be content and prosperous. If the British legion contemplated sending groups to Canada it would be

SPIRAL FIRE ESCAPES ORDERED FOR SCHOOLS

St. Thomas Council Committee Adopts Suggestion of Board.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, June 29.—At the meeting of number one committee of the city council tonight the request of the board of education that spiral fire escapes be erected at the collegiate institute and three public schools of the city was granted. The work will cost $11,803.64.

The resignation of Miss Gledhill, assistant to Assessment Commissioner Freck, was accepted, with a rider that in future the position be filled by a man. The capabilities of Mr. Freck as assessment commissioner also came in for considerable discussion. Aid. Jagoe expressed the opinion that a new assessment commissioner should be employed, claiming that the commissioner persists in raising the assessments of homes where improvements have not been made, despite the request of the city council that this practice be discontinued.

The opinion was expressed that having a man as assistant to the commissioner, would tend to clarify matters. Mayor Sloggett, Alderman

Prisoner Escapes To Raise Fine To Secure Permanent Liberty

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, June 29.—When Joe Pheasant told Magistrate Arnold today that he ran away from the gang of prisoners at work on Friday, to borrow money at his home in Moraviantown with which to make restitution for chickens he had stolen, and thereby gain his freedom, the court dealt leniently with him and remanded him to jail for a week.

Pheasant, a month ago, was sentenced with five other Indians to three months in jail for stealing chickens.
The others made restitution and secured their freedom. Pheasant was unable to do so.

With the first month of his term up on Friday, Pheasant decided to try and borrow the money. According to his story, he walked to Thamesville, the fact that he had $30 in his pocket
when arrested.
