TREADGOLD DEBATE CONTINUES

Opposition Leader Makes Inquiry as to Instructions Sent to Gold Commissioner Concerning Representation of Treadgold Claims—Directions Were Misconstrued by the Local Office—Concessionaire Must Pay Up.

misconstrued directions sent him and by mistake refunded money paid by Treadgold. A telegram was sent him June 5 stating that the department had deducted the necessary fees and that representation must be paid by Treadgold.

as being taken from the Treadgold concession. They claimed this was giving Treadgold's company exclusive advertising to which it had no right. Ministers Fielding and Fisher replied that the exhibits of gold were not voluntary and interest had to be allowed on them.

JUSTICE BRITTON WILL ACT

Has Accepted Appointment as Commissioner to Investigate Treadgold and Other Concessions—Justice Killam of Manitoba Also Appointed—Mr. Ross Said to be in the Northwest Looking for an Engineer—Premier Will Investigate Charges if Same Are Made Specific.

Special to the Daily Nugget. Ottawa, June 23.—Premier Laurier announced this afternoon that Judge Britton has consented to act on the Treadgold investigating commission. Chief Justice Killam of Manitoba has been asked to act with him, but has not yet replied.

jection to Britton because he voted with the government against former motions charging maladministration in the Yukon. Britton had too recently left the house not to be a strong partisan. There were ugly rumors about the large sums of money had been paid between the Treadgold concession grantees and certain gentlemen in authority.

cause Engineer Hardman of Montreal was unable to act and the government had to find another engineer. Although Britton voted against the motions mentioned previously, the premier said, was satisfied as to his impartiality and fairness. Regarding the bribery rumors, as soon as any formal charges were made, the government would have the fullest investigation.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Jack Dines, a member of the fire department, has gone outside on a short vacation.

The famous one-man band has again been prevailed upon to accept a limited engagement at the Auditorium.

A. P. Freimuth will on Monday resume his old position as musical director at the Exchange concert hall.

Dr. Madore, assistant surgeon of the N.W.M.P., located at Selkirk, returned to his post last night on the Yukoner.

C. K. Snell, the hardware, salesman and crack lacrosse man, was joined yesterday by Mrs. Snell, who arrived on the Whitehorse.

Mrs. J. A. Lester, wife of the chief of the fire department, left on the Yukoner last night for a short visit with friends in Vancouver.

Mrs. A. R. Boyes and little daughter, Shibley will leave in a few days for a visit to Montreal. They expect to return before the close of navigation.

Mrs. Clazy and Mrs. Dr. Grant have issued cards announcing an at home at St. Andrew's Manse, in honor of Mrs. F. T. Congdon on Friday evening, the 26th.

"Swiftwater Bill," accompanied by his sister and another lady will be on his old stamping ground in another day or two. The party arrived in Skagway Saturday night on the Cottage City.

Mrs. George Murphy while descending the mountain on Sunday night from the midnight celebration had the misfortune to wrench an ankle, causing her much pain during the balance of the journey.

The lower river companies do not expect a boat in from St. Michael before July 10. No word has as yet been received as to the date of the ice leaving the sea upon which the ability of the boats to get into the Yukon depends.

Corporal Haddock, a genial gentleman with fierce mustaches, will leave on the Vidette tonight to assume charge of the detachment at Ogilvie. The corporal has lately been acting as one of the quart orderlies.

Corporal E. Smith, who has but recently received his stripes, and who has been in charge at Ogilvie for some time, will return to headquarters. The latter has seen much active service both in India and the Sudan where he at one time was a regimental color sergeant.

Tonight promises to be the hottest game of baseball that has been played for a month. The two leading teams in the league, the Civil Service and Idyle Hour, will come together and that the game will be strenuous goes without saying.

The struggle will be mighty, probably the greatest of the season. "Sure-shot" Kennedy has severed his connection with the Idylers and will hereafter play with the Civil Service. He is one of the all round crackerjacks of the league.

Foreman Scalded. An accident which occurred at the Canadian Yukon Lumber Co.'s yard this morning resulted in Foreman Wm. Harrison being quite severely scalded.

A nipple blew out of the boiler and the steam enveloped the foreman before he could get out of the way.

His injuries are principally about the arms and shoulders. Harrison was taken to St. Mary's hospital and is resting easily. The damage to the machinery was inconsequential.

Mr. J. B. Charleson is in company with his daughter and niece left today on the Whitehorse for the outside.

CARE MUST BE TAKEN

To Prevent Starting of Forest Fires

Transient Trader Coleman Alleged to Have Caused Fire on Thirtymile.

Transient Trader Coleman whose scows arrived from Whitehorse a few days ago will be before Mr. Justice Macaulay in the police court this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the charge of having started a fire on the bank of the Thirtymile river while en route down that stream, which fire spread until it did a great amount of damage, destroying 100 cords of riched wood belonging to one wood cutter and destroying a large tract of heavily timbered country, thousands of cords of standing wood being destroyed on the latter.

It is alleged that Coleman built a camp fire within a few feet of the river and later continued his journey without having taken the precaution to throw a bucket of water on it. The wind coming up, the fire spread until almost countless damage resulted including the destruction of the government telegraph line for a long distance.

Major Luthbert has issued orders regarding the bringing to justice of all persons apprehended as having intentionally or carelessly started forest fires and in cases where conviction is secured the offenders will be severely dealt with. At the present time forest fires are burning along many of the creeks of the Klondike and at several points both up and down the Yukon, the destruction to timber being incalculable.

SEASON OPENED

Splendid Production of "The Christian"

Miss Gale and Mr. Fanning in the Leading Roles Carry Off the Honors.

Those who fail to witness the production of "The Christian," Hall's masterpiece, at the Auditorium this week will miss the best theatrical effort yet presented to the people of Dawson. It was a happy day on the part of the management of the Hall stock company to select so strong a play with which to introduce the new company, particularly so as they are capable of giving it as it should be given and do not make a burlesque out of it. Plays of the nature of "The Christian" are either very good or very poor, there can be no mediocre. In the hands of persons of indifferent talents things which to the average man or woman are sacred become vulgar and instead of holding the attention of the audience and of stirring every emotion that the human heart is capable of, they cause nothing but disgust. How well Mr. Fanning and his fellow players impressed the audience last night could have been seen on several occasions when the use of kerchiefs was most conspicuous.

The dramatization of "The Christian" is slightly different from the level of the same name, though the characters and general mise en scene are identical. When O'Case wrote, he did not have John Storm and Henry marry in the end, which made the finale rather gloomy, anything satisfactory to an audience, which was altered when the book passed through the hands of the dramatist for the benefit of Viola Allen, the original Glory. The theme is not a new one, in fact, it is as old as time itself, but there are new conditions interwoven which make it so powerful, new situations presented which so enthral the auditor that the role would indeed be past re-creation who could sit and watch the noble struggles, the self sacrifice and heroic efforts of John Storm without experiencing an emotion of repentance.

In the matter of little details it is highly creditable to the manager of the stage that such are not slighted or passed over as a matter of light consequence. The character of the play shows that. Three or four stage hands can not make a play as has sometimes been attempted from a matter of economy. At such time the mob becomes ridiculous. Last night it was of generous proportions and was properly handled, showing the ginger one expects from such a horde. The scenic effects and the placing of the calcium were excellent, depicting a knowledge of stagecraft refreshing to see.

Of the characters portrayed and the personnel of the new company. Not all the members are stars though some shine as stellar attractions of the first magnitude. Mr. Fanning is undoubtedly far the superior of any leading man yet to play an engagement in the city. He possesses the physique necessary for heroic parts, graceful, has a well modulated voice and reads his lines with exceptional distinctness. Another very striking feature is that he does not cultivate an English accent so common to the stage nor does he laugh the third person personation by saying "Do you love me?"

Mr. Fanning's conception of John Storm, the man whose noble and intense love nothing on earth can thwart, leaves little to be desired and especially is such true of the second and third acts. His dramatization of the pursuers of Glory would buy his little church property in order to increase her fame, driving them from his apartments and the thrilling and well deserved calls received. Such is really true of the third act when she succumbs to the charm of love.

Miss Gale in the character of Henry made many friends for her work in the interpretation of the difficult role. From the hoydenish girl in the prologue to the artist in the first act is a long step, yet in triumphs one can detect the same ambition, the desire to become famous which in the end is sacrificed for the man she loves. In the serious parts that call for magnetic power and real talent in order to carry her audience with her. To many fanatics who love art for art's sake it may seem a sacrifice to speak of beauty and grace in the same breath with that of histrionic ability, but it remains just the same that Miss Gale made a beautiful Glory and is the possessor of a handsome wardrobe. Another personage who quite surpassed himself was Mr. Montgomery. Never before has he been seen to a better advantage or never did he acquit himself with greater credit than in the character of young Drake. The part suited him exactly and he molded it in such a manner that he became in reality the part himself. Mr. McDonald in the character of Lord Ure was also excellent. He dressed the part and looked it in every particular, that of an asinine young sprig of nobility, a thorough degenerate in every respect. His accent favored of Pall Mall and the Row, though he did have some difficulty in handling his monologue. Mr. Moran, the favorite comedian of Dawson, seemed so incongruous garbed as a priest that every entrance and exit caused a smile. It reminded one of Hamlet doing a song and dance. The same thing is true of Mr. Wilson, also a comedian, and it would have required no very vivid stretch of the imagination to have conjured up thoughts of "Now, Bill, remember, no one takes a walk today."

Among the ladies in addition to Miss Gale were several who played their small parts acceptably. Miss Jocelyn does some very good character work in Mrs. Callender, and Miss Condon, the ingenue, enacts Polly Love. Miss Chandon plays Bettie and Miss Newman, Liza. According to an announcement made the company will be here until just before the close of navigation, changing the bill weekly. "The Christian" will be on all of this week and next week a turn at comedy will be taken in the presentation of Nat Goodwin's effort, "Turned Up." The harshest comment that could be offered on the production last night were the interminable waits between acts which really should be cut in two and then halved again. The following is the complete cast:

Long Chase Ahead
 Havre, Mont., June 8.—Later advice from Glasgow show the escaped prisoners to be William Hardee, condemned murderer to have been hanged June 26; George Pierce, accused of murder; Hardy Brown, gambler, doing time for assisting in Hardee's previous escape, and Fred McKenny, a short-term prisoner. The bend in the river where the men were thought to be hiding was raided by the posse early this morning, only to find that the desperadoes had made good their escape. Two horses were stolen from the Patton ranch, and it is supposed that the outlaws are riding double and making for the Bad Lands, where armed as they are then can stand off many men. Once there, their capture is almost an impossibility, as the country is filled with men who are avoiding justice.

The posse of twenty-five men is hot on the trail, and fifty more left Glasgow this morning. At daylight two of the men, thought to be Brown and Hardee, were seen near Milk river, going east and riding hard on their jaded horses. Another day must elapse before the bloodhounds can be put on the trail, owing to the delayed train service. Conditions have thus far been in favor of the outlaws, and it looks as if a long chase may be expected.

Many of the posse are liable to go down before the deadly rifles of the desperadoes before they can be taken or killed. Sheriff Buckley, of Fort Benton, and George Hall, United States inspector, have joined the posse, equipped with field glasses and heavy rifles. The manner in which the men slipped through the fingers of the patrol in the bend of the river shows them to be both cunning and daring. There is strong talk of lynching should any of them be taken alive, which, however, is hardly probable.

Late this afternoon two of the escaped prisoners, one of them Hardee, abandoned their horses near Nashua, on the Great Northern. Hardee had a rifle. His head is bandaged. The posse is close behind. The appearance of the men showed they had traveled hard. Night being in their favor they may reach the bad lands, where they have friends.

Wants an Increase
 Paris, June 3.—Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, and Mrs. Elkins arrived here today from New York and will stay in Paris for some time. The senator says he intends to reintroduce next session a bill reducing by 10 per cent. the duties on goods brought to the United States in American ships, or increasing by 10 per cent. the duties on goods brought in foreign steamers.

Mr. Elkins claims the proposed measure is not open to the same objections as the shipping bill, as it will develop American shipping without the expenditure of a cent, large or small ships receiving the same benefit.

DISCUSSING THE SCANDAL

President is Taking Decisive Action

All Matters Pertaining to Crooked Work Will Soon be Investigated.

Washington, June 6.—The postal scandals were discussed at a special meeting of the cabinet this morning, and President Roosevelt was made acquainted with the details of the investigation in the post office department which has been going on during his absence from Washington.

Postmaster-General Payne explained very fully the ground covered in the inquiry, and in substance said that while the results had so far been surprising, he expected even more startling disclosures and would not be surprised if other arrests followed.

One phase of the post office matter which was discussed at the cabinet meeting was the necessity, as the president sees it, of carrying forward the present investigation with all possible speed, as well as thoroughness. It is desired to have the whole business wound up before congress assembles early next winter. It may be said that the president is confident, from what he has heard, that this can be done.

All the prosecutions of federal officers may not have been completed in the courts by the time indicated, but it is believed that matters in the post office department itself will have been pretty thoroughly sifted.

President Roosevelt has taken hold of this matter with rather more than his customary vigor, and there is no doubt that his arrival in Washington has been a source of inspiration to Postmaster-General Payne, who has naturally been much worried by the recent turn of events in his department. It is certain that Mr. Roosevelt will from this time on keep as close tab on the postal investigation in all its details as the postmaster-general himself.

Following a conference with the president this afternoon, Postmaster-General Payne told a reporter that the post office scandals had been thoroughly discussed and that he and Mr. Roosevelt were in perfect harmony.

Mr. Payne said: "I have been in conference with the president practically all day and the post office scandals received the greater share of our attention. They were discussed in detail and I made the president acquainted with all the developments of the last two months, with which he was familiar only through the medium of the newspapers. The president and myself are in perfect harmony. He has expressed himself as pleased with my conduct in the inquiry and has seconded my expressed intention to go to the bottom of things and give the postal service a thorough cleaning. He is with me in this matter, and there is absolutely no friction between us."

Mr. Payne said he had knowledge of the indictment now before the grand jury under the title of "The United States vs. John Doe," but would not throw any light on the subject. He denied, however, that the indictment refers to George E. Lorenz, postmaster at Toledo during the Cleveland administration, who has been mentioned as the go-between who transferred the money bribe from the Groff brothers of this city, manufacturers of the patent fastener in general use on street letter boxes, to former Supt. Machen, as payment for securing contracts for the firm.

"It is my impression that the John Doe indictment does not refer to Lorenz," said Mr. Payne. "Whom it does refer to I cannot say."

It is understood that Machen in his defence on the bribery charge will name Lorenz, his former chief in the Toledo post office, as a business partner, and will explain that the checks now in the hands of the post office department, which it is alleged, represent the money Machen received in bribes, were received from Lorenz in the ordinary course of business. It is also understood that Machen will point to the fact that Lorenz is a director in the National Capital Mining Company, of which Machen is president and E. S. Rand, the postmaster-general's confidential secretary, the vice-president.

Mr. Payne will not discuss this feature of the case, save to express the opinion that Mr. Rand is innocent of any wrongdoing, and that an acquaintance of thirty years has made him confident of his absolute integrity and honesty.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow is making a complete examination of all contracts made by the post office department, and it is said that he already has information supporting the theory that the government has been swindled out of large sums of money by arrangements between contractors and persons connected with the postal service. The purchase of an alleged "emergency order" of about 20,000 leather pouches for 90 cents each when they could have been bought for 50 cents is an indication of the methods pursued by those who have been buying some of the supplies for the post office department.

While President Roosevelt has kept in touch with the investigation of the post office department, he was not prepared, it is said, for the startling information given him by Postmaster-General Payne, and had thought that the worst had been discovered, when Machen was arrested.

Postmaster-General Payne this morning issued the formal order dismissing from the government service Thomas W. McGregor and C. Ellsworth Upton, the two employees of the rural free delivery service who were arrested yesterday on warrants charging them with having received $8,000 in bribes from Charles E. Smith, a leather manufacturer of Baltimore. The order dates the discharge of the two clerks from the time of their arrest, yesterday.

It is understood on high authority that Machen is implicated in the purchase of the rural mail pouches from the Baltimore firm, and that he participated in the 10 cents on the dollar which the leather manufacturer turned back to McGregor and Upton in pursuance of the collusive understanding.

OLDTIMER RETURNS

Founder of Town of Gold Bottom is Back.

Early in the spring of '98 Mr. A. H. Hilliard built the first cabin on the site where now stands the thrifty little town of Gold Bottom. For three years he conducted a roadhouse there as a village grew up around him. He made a fortune and two years ago he sold out and left for the outside to pass his remaining days in ease. He remained away until ten days ago when he arrived in the town started by himself. It looked good to him and the result was that he purchased from Jimmie Gordon the Athol hotel and is once more installed in business at the scene of former triumphs. The old-timers welcome him back to Gold Bottom.

GOLD RUN DOMINION

Hill Side Miners Getting Water

Immense Flume Built and Rich Claims Supplied—Will Celebrate.

Gold Run, June 22. George Hyot, proprietor of No. 26 roadhouse, has completed the renovation of his hotel and is now in a better position than ever to give to his numerous patrons, both local and transitory, a continuation of the excellent accommodation and treatment which has made this popular house under its popular host universally famous in the district.

At the time of writing many mining operators on this stream are hampered in the prosecution of their work by scarcity of water.

On 40 and 41 Zimmerman and Tompkins have a big force of men engaged in summer work. They are handling dirt that yields remarkably well. The winter dumps which are considered amongst the best that Gold Run has produced have not all been washed up yet but will be in a few days.

Morrison Bros. on 34 deserve especial mention for the minerlike activity they are displaying in pushing ahead the summer work on their rich claim.

The same laudable remarks might justly be said of Peterson and Swanson who are operating No. 32.

The new company operating the old Chute & Wells properties are working a force of 150 men. The richness of these properties and their enormous daily output of gold are too well known to need further comment.

Mrs. Curry, wife of the manager of the above mentioned company, accompanied by her mother, has gone to the outside to spend the summer. Miss Robinson and Miss McPheters of Dawson are visiting at the Gold Run hotel.

Immense activity in summer work is being manifested along the mile of rich benches of which Granville is the hub. These extra efforts are no doubt accelerated by the installation of the new dam built by Messrs. Injan and Day, as an enterprise of the local miners. This dam and immense flume which will turn the water of Dominion onto all the rich hillsides on the right, limit below the mouth of Gold Run is estimated to be the largest of its kind ever erected in the Yukon territory.

J. P. McLennan and his interesting daughter returned to Dawson on Monday last after visiting several of the creeks in this vicinity. While at Granville this McLennan was the guest of her former school mate, Miss Latimer.

At Granville on Friday night last the public spirited miners formed a Bachelors' Club which will under an efficient committee of management take charge in future of entertainments and dances. At this meeting James Lushbaugh was elected president, Joe Norris vice president, and C. Wood secretary.

Jack McGrath of 245 has found some extraordinary pay dirt on his claim and is operating this summer more vigorously than ever.

Morrison Bros., who own nearly a score of claims in the vicinity, are operating 250 on a large scale.

P. P. Trempe must be mentioned as having perhaps the richest claims, 248 and 249 hillsides, in this excellent district. A large company is now negotiating for the purchase of these properties. Should the sale be consummated Mr. Trempe will continue operations with a large force of men.

Fred Lahlod one of the best known miners in the community has been seriously ill and not able to leave his bed for many days.

Felix Barlden of Dawson is a guest of the Golden Flat hotel. A subsequent mass meeting has changed the date for holding the celebration in honor of the natal days of United States and Canada to be held at Sulphur City, No. 2 below. The event will be held on Wednesday, July 1st, instead of at a later date as previously announced. Messrs. Coffin, Ryan, Durham and Garbutt constitute the committee in charge of the sports. In the evening a dance will be given at the pavilion on No. 1 below. The good people of Gold Run and Granville will forego any home amusements on that day and have unanimously decided to attend the demonstration at Sulphur City. Their crack athletes will participate in the sports. It will be a gala day for Sulphur.

Immense bush fires are raging for many miles along the ridges and hillsides of Sulphur, Gold Run, Dominion and upper Hunker. Incalculable damage has already been done to the standing timber and large quantities of wood, cut and piled, have been destroyed. Up Friday gulch, a tributary of Sulphur, some choppers, among whom was Ike Henniker, lost not only their wood, tents, and outfits, but barely escaped with their lives.

DYING MAN KEPT DIARY

C. H. Hamilton Learns of Brother's Death

The Last Message Was Written on March 20th—Only Date Was Entered on 21st.

C. H. Hamilton arrived from the headwaters of the Stewart river yesterday and shortly after his arrival dropped into the store of Alderman La Lande in South Dawson where he learned the sad news of the death of his brother J. C. Hamilton, which occurred some time after March 21st, his body being later found in his cabin by Indians who reported it to some trappers who in turn buried the body and took charge of the dead man's effects which were brought to Dawson a few days ago by a man named St. Laurent.

Among the dead man's effects was a diary in which he had made an entry every day since he left Vancouver two years before and up to, supposedly, a day or two before his death. This diary was turned over to his brother yesterday and in it he read the account of his dead brother's sickness and his preparation for death alone in his cabin and miles away from a living being, he being back some miles from Pelly Forks, 300 miles from the mouth of the river, to which place he went with two years' outfit last year to engage in trapping.

From the entries in the diary the man evidently died from the effects of dropsy as almost daily mention is made of the writer's increased size, one saying, "In a few more days I will not be able to see my feet for my stomach." All along in the month of March mention was made of sickness which was daily growing worse. On the 20th a short entry was made in the diary in which the writer stated that death was near. On the 21st the only thing written was the date, the poor man evidently being too far gone to write more. It is supposed that death relieved him very shortly thereafter.

C. H. Hamilton, the brother, who arrived from the headwaters of the Stewart yesterday, is accompanied by his partner, Frank Fortain. The two men have been 200 miles up the Stewart for the past year. Both are in excellent health and have been in their voluntary isolation. They were engaged in trapping and brought with them to Dawson 216 martin skins and 37 beaver skins. They will probably spend next winter in the same locality which is about 200 miles up the Stewart river.

BONANZA ELDORADO

Lively Social Doings on the Creeks

New Hall to be Built on Eldorado—A Few Personal Mentions.

Mr. F. R. Burley of No. 26b above Bonanza is attending court in town this week.

Mrs. Falk, wife of Emil Falk who owns an interest in the Bonanza hotel and Skookum restaurant at the Forks, returned from Seattle last Thursday.

Miss Anna Langseth who went outside last fall, came back last week bringing with her a sister who has never been here before.

Jack Raymond, the creek hustler for the Cascade laundry, was made happy last Thursday over the arrival of his wife from Seattle. Mrs. Raymond has been in the Yukon before but went outside two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lamb have returned from the outside and are at their home on No. 8 Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crow, formerly of No. 21 Eldorado, will leave for the outside in a couple of days. Mr. Crow while working in the dump box on his claim about three weeks ago was taken sick and brought to St. Mary's hospital where he has been ever since. He has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital and will go outside for the benefit of his health. Mr. and Mrs. Crow expect to return in the fall or next winter.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Larson of No. 21 above Bonanza are erecting a hall 20x40 for dancing purposes. They will give the first dance in the new hall June 30th. It will be the aim of the owners to give only respectable and social dances and anyone who bears a shabby reputation will absolutely be refused admittance. Good music has been engaged for the opening dance. Ice cream and lemonade will be served in abundance. A stage will bring the dancers from Eldorado and everything will be free with the exception of an admission of 25.

The dance given by Mrs. Davis of the Elby on No. 30 below Bonanza last Friday night was a grand affair. The large tent was filled with pretty girls and homely men, the music was good, the floor was good, the management was good, the ice cream, cake and lemonade were good, the people were good, the dancing was good and everything was good, good, good.

Quite a number of the claims on the creeks are not being worked on account of the low water. In some instances the men will be laid off for a half day or a day. In other places work has been entirely abandoned until the water rises. The government road on Eldorado is in the best shape it has ever had. On the upper end seven or eight men are working steadily, widening the road and fixing the bad places. At present there is not a bad place from the Forks up as far as No. 49. The same may be said of Bonanza. A number of men are employed to keep the road in shape. The only place where there is any kick whatever is on Victoria gulch where there is no road at all and the miners there certainly need a wagon road and have been trying for the last year to get one.

BENEFIT BASEBALL

Gymnastics Will be Played on Saturday Night

On Saturday night of this week a couple of exhibition games of baseball will be played at the barracks, the contesting teams being the Gaudios vs. the Civil Service and the Idle Hours vs. the Amaranths.

Each game will consist of five innings and the proceeds will go to the aid of Constable Dundas whose leg was broken in one of the recent games.

The admission to the grand stand will be fifty cents. The games will be hotly contested and a big crowd is assured.

Another Police Post. The police steamer Vidette will leave this evening for Stewart river points, going up as far as Gordon's Landing. Major Howard goes to the latter place where he will be stationed temporarily.

Inspector Jarvis will accompany the steamer as far as Stewart Crossing where he will leave with a force of men, a team of horses and a wagon for the purpose of selecting a site for and erecting a police post on the government road between Stewart Crossing and Selkirk. It is likely the post will be located about halfway between the two points. The team will be used to haul construction material from Stewart Crossing to the new post.

About 25 tons of supplies will be carried on the Vidette for distribution at the various police posts.

Klondike Souvenirs, Goezman's, 200 photos, $1.00. 128 Second ave.

Mission Exercises. The mission exercises at St. Mary's church which were opened last Sunday by Rev. Father Smith will be continued every day this week at 6:30 a.m. and at 8 p.m. Tonight's sermon will consist in answering the inquiries put in the question box and the principal sermon will be on "The Individual Responsibility of Man."

The attendance is large and everybody is listening with marked attention to the plain and powerful preaching of the eloquent missionary who for long years exercised his ministry throughout the United States and Canada, especially in New York City and San Francisco.

Special music will be rendered by the choir of St. Mary's church consisting in Millard's famous quartet, "Come, Holy Spirit," and other selected hymns.

The sermons, are by their nature appropriate for everybody, Catholics as well as non-Catholics.

Charge Withdrawn. When the police court opens at 10 o'clock this evening the charge against Heiler of the Arcade cafe for violating the license ordinance will be withdrawn at request of City Attorney Donaghy for the prosecution.

AN EXPERT MIXOLOGIST

Gives Local Bartenders Pointers

But His Own Decoctions Put Him Out of Business—New York Drinks.

A young man dropped into a First Avenue saloon between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning and thus addressed the bartender.

"You are doubtless all right but I know as much or more about the business of tending bar and mixing fine drinks as any four men in Dawson. For many years I was employed in one of the leading saloons of New York and what I do not know about mixing drinks is not worth knowing. With your consent I will mix a drink for each of us."

The man behind the bar consented and the eastern artist began. He had been mining and had money in every pocket and insisted on paying for all his drinks even if he did mix them himself. As the bar in question happened to be well stocked with ingredients for mixing drinks the stranger made himself at home and during the next hour he concocted no less than a score of fancy drinks many of which are never called for in Dawson. He continued mixing and drinking until he had paid over upwards of $10 and until the various mixtures began to work in battle array.

An hour later the mixologist from Gotham was asleep in a private box and late this afternoon he was suffering from a taste more dark and more brown than that cultivated by the very rawest brand of moonshine, but he demonstrated his knowledge of mixing drinks as they are served in New York.

To See His Family

Mr. W. H. Roselle left on the Whitehorse today on a visit to his family at Ferndale, near Whatcom, Wash. While on the outside Mr. Roselle will spend some time either at Harrison, B.C. hot springs or at the Green river hot springs in the Cascade mountains for the benefit of his right leg which he is now unable to straighten, owing to rheumatism. Mr. Roselle is a partner with E. H. Elwell and they have lately completed a profitable season's work on their claim, 34 below on Hunker.

Reserved seat tickets for Burley-Choyinski 10-round boxing contest are now on sale at office of Sears & Smith, brokers, Rochester building, Second Avenue near King street.

The Empire hotel now leads in wines, liquors, cordials and cigars.

SITTING EN BANC

Judgments Are Rendered This Morning

Argument Made in the Envoltdsen Mandamus Case, in Which Decision is Reserved.

The territorial court sitting en banc convened this morning and after delivering several judgments was engaged in hearing the argument in the libel case of McGrade vs. McConnell, which was appealed by the plaintiffs from a decision rendered by a jury before Mr. Justice Craig. In the findings of the jury there was one of the questions answered in such manner that it made it a matter of impossibility to render a judgment in accordance with the findings. It is to settle that point that the appeal was made. The opinion of the court was reserved.

Argument was also made in the case of Envoltdsen vs. Gosselin and Boyes, the famous mandamus proceedings brought by the plaintiff against the assistant gold commissioner and the mining recorder to compel them to issue to him a grant to a certain mining claim that he had staked and which he claimed as his own. The mining recorder had refused to issue the grant upon the ground that at the time of its staking it was not open to relocation. Envoltdsen, whose action was used as a precedent for some twenty or thirty others, brought action for a writ of mandamus to compel the recorder to issue the grant to him and at the hearing his lordship decided in his favor, holding that the duties of the mining recorder were merely clerical, perfunctory and that he had no discretion in the matter. The assistant gold commissioner and the recorder are the appellants in the case. Judgment was reserved.

In the case of Goldstein vs. Sawyer, an appeal from the decision of Mr. Justice Macaulay, the court upheld the decision of his lordship in the lower court, dismissing the appeal with costs. Mr. Justice Dugas read the judgment, his associates concurring. The action was concerning the delivery of some eggs to the plaintiff by the defendant last year from Whitehorse. Plaintiff claimed the eggs were not delivered in time and there was also a dispute as to the freight. Defendant refused to give up the eggs until the freight was paid and plaintiff reprieved. Decision in the lower court was in favor of the defendant as it is in the court en banc.

Judgment was also rendered in the case of Clark & Wilson vs. Williams, it likewise being dismissed with costs. In Raymond vs. Faulkner judgment was rendered on a motion previously argued some time ago. An application was made by the defendant to admit further evidence adduced after trial pending the appeal of the case. The decision of the court is that the application should be dismissed with costs.

Though his stomach is in a wretched state, Mr. Rockefeller's gall is in prime condition.
