The Congregational Union has made the following pronouncement: That we reaffirm our conviction that total prohibition of the liquor traffic for beverage purposes is the goal at which we should aim in temperance work. That we strongly endorse and urge our people to aid the efforts being made by the Dominion Alliance, and kindred organizations looking to the abolition of the destructive traffic.

A KIND FAREWELL

The conversion of Athens Public School into a Model School may result in the loss to Athens of Mr. A. S. Morton's services as a teacher. This is contemplated only with regret by all identified with the work and management of the school as Mr. Morton, has been a most faithful and efficient principal.

To the Athens Boy Scouts, he has stood in the relation of an instructor, guide and friend, and he is held in the highest esteem by the boys of the troop. Since the inception of the troop last fall, Mr. Morton has been most active in promoting its welfare, devoting hours each week to training the boys in those arts which are calculated to promote good citizenship. Under his guidance, the boys have explored the woods and fields for miles around Athens, and their evening camp-fires have illuminated the darksome depths of the deepest woods. The Scouts, while hoping for the return of Mr. Morton, felt that they should honor his departure at this time, and accordingly mustered in full strength on Friday evening. After procuring a handsome gold-headed cane for a parting gift they marched to the home of Mr. Morton where Mr. W. G. Parish, president of the organization, with a few words of appreciation and farewell, presented the cane in behalf of the Scouts. The address was as follows:—

Mr. Andrew S. Morton, Scout Master
Dear Comrade,—We, the members of troop No. 1 Athens Boy Scouts, have learned with deep regret of your intended removal from Athens and of your consequent resignation of the command of this troop.

Our relations with you have ever been most cordial, and in parting we realize that your instructions and example have been of great physical and moral benefit to us.

We ask you acceptance of this cane, with the assurance that we shall ever bear you in kindly remembrance.

In behalf of the troop,
Edgar Sexton } Patrol Leaders
Winford Gifford }
Charles Greenham }

Mr. Morton replied in suitable terms, expressing his regret at parting from the boys, and said he hoped that some one would take up the work that he was leaving.

Midnight Marauders

Evidence that lawless people had been at work during the night was found by two of Athens merchants on Tuesday morning. A large pane of glass was shattered in the store of Miss Maude Addison, but no entry was made and apparently nothing had been taken from the window. At Lamb & Johnston's store entrance was effected by way of the office window, and a small quantity of groceries taken. A number of partly burned matches showed that the burglars had been bold in their operations. There is no clue as to their identity, but it is considered probable that an insolent professional hobo who has been in this section for a few days was responsible for the depredations.

Church Deliverance

The convention of the Baptist church says:

We re-assert our conviction that the liquor traffic is the greatest evil of our time, and that the prohibition of its sale and use would be a greater boon to our country than the triumph of either political party, or any of the issues they now champion.

In the meantime we believe the most should be made of the highest forms of Local Option legislation we now have or may be able to secure.

Good Citizens

In every community there are some folks who believe that they are serving their country well if they live sober and industrious lives, pay their taxes, settle all their accounts when they come due and keep out of brawls. But what would become of our laws and institutions and general prosperity of the country, if every man was to live for himself alone? The best kind of citizen is he who has a love for the common good, seeing in every man a brother, in whose welfare he is interested, but along with this he possesses an intelligent conception of what to do to promote that good. It is not enough to have a heart full of goodness we must have a head full of truth. As we love our fellow-men we must strive to maintain righteousness in all public affairs, in the making of our laws, and in the administration of our affairs.—Exchange.

LESSON II.—JULY 9, 1911.

The Suffering Servant of Jehovah. —Isa. 52: 13-53: 12.

Commentary.—I. A prophecy of Christ (vs. 13-15). The three closing verses of the fifty-third chapter introduce us to the Messiah and give a summary of what is more fully described in the following chapter. 13. My servant—Jehovah is speaking and calls attention to His servant, the Christ. Shall dead presently—Or, He shall act wisely. Coming from the bosom of Jehovah to redeem the race, He knows its condition and the means to recover it to Himself.—Whom. Exalted and extolled.—Through His work in behalf of a lost world He shall be "lifted up, and shall be very high." R. V. "God also hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name" (Phil. 2, 9). He is exalted by those who enthroned Him in their hearts, living the life He makes possible for men. 14. Like as many were astonished at thee (R. V.).—The astonishment was to arise from His lowliness and His sufferings. Visage.—marred.—This with the remainder of the verse is periphrastical and explains why many were astonished. His visage was marred by the sorrow and the suffering He endured for man's sins. Then the sons of men—An intensified repetition of the thought in the preceding clause. 15. So shall He sprinkle many nations.—"Many" were astonished by His humiliation and apparent degradation, so "many" shall be sprinkled or startled (R. V.) by His unparalleled work for the race. Kings shall shut their mouths at Him—in reverence and awe. See Job 29: 10, 4. Shall they see... shall they see.—These expressions portray unexpected greatness and exaltation of the Messiah.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the offerings of live stock this morning were 700 cattle, 700 sheep and lambs, 1,400 hogs, and 900 calves. Owing to the increased supplies of cattle, the same heat, and the somewhat limited demand from butchers, an easier feeling prevailed in the market, and prices generally ruled 1-4¢ per pound lower than on Monday, and even at this reduction a better tone of business was noted. Choice steers sold at 5 1/2-6¢, good at 6 to 6 1/4-4¢, fairly good at 5 1/2-6¢, and common at 4 1/2-4 3/4¢ per pound. Cows brought from 4¢ to 5 1/2¢ and bulls from 4 1/2-5 1/2¢ per pound. There was a good demand for small meats, and as the supplies of such were larger than they have been of late, a more active trade was done. The tone of the market for lambs was weaker, and prices declined with sales at $4 to $5 each, as to size. Sheep were steady at $4 to $5.50 each. A good trade was done in calves at prices ranging from $2 to $7 each. There continues to be a very unsettled feeling in the market for hogs, and prices in consequence are very irregular and at a wide range. The supply was considerably larger than on Monday, but at a reduction in price, the demand from packers was good, and sales of selected lots were made at $6.50, and mixed lots at $6 per cwt., weighed off cars.

PRACTICAL SURVEY.

Topic.—Prophetic view of redemption. I. Christ as he appeared to the Jews. II. Christ as he suffered for all men. III. Christ as an interesting Saviour. 1. Christ as he appeared to the Jews. It is one of the wonders of divine love toward humanity that Isaiah was given this marvelous vision of the life and work of Christ at a time when the Jewish nation was reduced, the ten tribes being scattered in captivity for some time, and Judah nearing the time of captivity. The beacon light gleamed with hope for a perishing world. The gospel of Isaiah declares the circumstances of our Saviour's humiliation and work so exactly that it seems more a history of his passion than a prophecy. Nothing can be more marked and striking than the contrast between the character of Christ and the general character of the Jewish nation. His humble birth, his unattractive position in society, and the unfavorable career through life were their astonishment, indignation and disappointment. They were unwilling for truth to prevail over their prejudices and opinions. The humility of Christ brought to view the immensity of their sin. The old plan refers to the house of David, the dry soil to the barren, religious life of Israel and the tender plant to Christ. The root of such plants as grow in a dry garden is the most important part of their structure. The redemption work of Christ was the most important event that could come to a sinful world. All earth's spirits were resting upon him. His face was an index of his life and work. It told the story of his inner life. Men missed Christ's beauty through a spirit of contempt, disdain and scorn. Such a spirit sprang from a lack of understanding and a lack of love. No finite mind can conceive of the extent of Christ's sufferings. The sense of the world's guilt lay upon him. The great mystery of the atonement alone interprets his peculiar sorrow. II. Christ as he suffered for all men. Man can not of himself explain the mystery of Christ's unequalled abasement and sorrow. His sufferings were of God's appointment. His sorrow was not that men injured him, but that they destroyed themselves. As the Son of God he was heaven's representative on earth. As the Son of man he was earth's representative to heaven. Over against man's transgressions, iniquities and wanderings are set Christ's wounds, bruises, chastisement and stripes. Terrible as sin is it has been dealt with. The stripes which he upon his nobler inner nature when his soul was scourged for sin, are a universal remedy for all spiritual sickness. He came into the world to undergo the penalties of the law and to endure its curse. The laying of man's sins on Christ implies the taking of them off from man. Christ's silence was due to his consciousness of a divine solution of the mystery of human guilt. His silence told of the utter degradation of the men before whom he stood. Our Lord was not only guiltless and defenseless, but he came among his persecutors in love that the "arm of the Lord," the active, saving energy of the Most High might be revealed. Many and serious were the aspects of sin, yet God through the prophet let men know that the wanderings of earth are the care of heaven, and that there shall be a complete conquest of evil through the atonement of Christ. III. Christ as an interesting Saviour. "The travail of his soul" that profound and indescribable sympathy, that yearning pity for fallen men, that self-denying and soul-absorbing love for man, which led the eternal Son of God to surrender himself to humiliation and suffering, to empty himself and become obedient unto death, even the death of the cross, bespeak the worth of the human soul. The accomplishment of the most stupendous plan of God, the success of the gospel in winning the hearts of men to God, was realized in the travail of his soul. The salvation of man is the satisfaction of God in Christ. His was a completed work.—T. R. A.

FRUIT MARKET.

There were abundant supplies of all kinds of seasonal fruit at the local wholesale market yesterday, and prices in some instances were rather lower. Strawberries sold at from 8 to 10 cents, raspberries at 15 to 17¢, and gooseberries at 60 to 75¢ per basket. Because of the perishable condition of the fruit, holders of strawberries were obliged to make concessions, and many inferior lots released at 8 cents. There was little change in prices in the other lines. Latest quotations: Strawberries, crate, $ 8 to $ 10. Raspberries, 15 to 18. Cherries, 11-qt. bks., 1.00 to 1.50. Do, 6-qt. bks., 1.50 to 1.75. BREADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW.

Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say the week has been improvement in the movement of seasonal lines. Retail trade has shown a brisker tone and there has been evidence of greater and more widespread interest in sorting lines. The wheat demand for basis continues to hold considerable attention. Country trade has shown further improvement, although collections are still on the slow side. The hay crop is now promising well. Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say there continues an excellent business moving in general lines there. The sorting trade for summer dry goods is showing a better tone in the face of firm values. Business in ready-to-wear clothing has picked up and a better interest in summer millinery is making itself felt. Dry goods men are disposed to be very optimistic regarding the fall and winter trade. Crops in all parts of the country continue to look well, and barring unforeseen accidents, a record yield is promised. Winnipeg reports to Bradstreet's say the excellent condition of the crops in all parts of the country has considerably helped the general situation here. Retail stocks seem to be moving well in all directions and wholesalers are in receipt of a steady stream of sorting orders. Vancouver and Victoria reports say there continues excellent business moving in all parts of the province. Quebec reports to Bradstreet's say: Trade situation is about the same as the preceding week. Hamilton reports say summer trade is now moving well and for seasonal lines of goods there is an excellent demand both at wholesale and retail. The outlook for later trade is also considered excellent and factories have good orders on hand for fall delivery. Fruit crops in the district promise exceedingly well. Country trade is generally good. London reports say general business there is steady in character. Ottawa reports say a good local trade is moving there and business in the surrounding district is showing steady improvement.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE HOUSE FLY IS A PUBLIC DUTY.

Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him. His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the greatest enemies of the human race. If the housekeepers of Canada will use Wilson's Fly Pads persistently, this peril would be tremendously reduced. Every packet of Wilson's Fly Pads will kill more flies than can possibly be caught on three hundred sheets of sticky paper.

USE OF AXE JUSTIFIED.

Ottawa despatch says: According to Magistrate O'Keefe this morning, Mrs. A. Paquette was quite justified in using the axe on her husband last week to defend herself, but he did not believe in using an axe unless in extreme cases. The Magistrate let the accused go on suspended sentence. Paquette, arraigned on a charge of drunkenness, was also released in view of his punishment with the axe.

DAIRY RECORD CENTRES.

The new extension work of the Dairy Division, Ottawa, is causing many enquiries to be made. For the benefit of our readers it may be explained that officials are now located in Peterborough, Lanark and Oxford counties, Ontario; St. Hyacinthe and Brome, Quebec; and at Kensington, P. E. I., with a view of gathering specific information as to the exact standing of the dairying industry in the district. Each such district is termed a dairy record centre. Each farmer within a certain area will be called on, and there will be obtained from him a statement as to the number of cows, the type of sire, the weight of milk sent to the factory, the milk used at home, the cost of feed, and so on. When these statements are compiled there will be definite and valuable information for the encouragement of our dairymen. It is intended to follow up this work closely for some years, both in these and in other sections. The recorders are paying special attention to the improvement of cow testing in these districts; they are already collecting weights and tests of about four thousand cows, so that it is evident that a tremendous impetus is being given to cow testing by this new forward movement. A special bulletin on cow testing is available to all applicants. Forms for recording weights of milk are supplied free by the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa. When applying, state the number of cows, and whether forms are wanted for weighing daily, or on only three days each month. C. F. W.

AID TO THOROUGHbred STALLIONS.

During recent years many appeals have been made to the Honorable Secretary Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, by horsemen anxious to bring about an improvement in the quality of our light horse stock and who are of the opinion that for this purpose an infusion of thoroughbred blood is essential. Recognizing the force of these appeals as well as the importance of the subject, Mr. Fisher has decided to grant assistance under certain specified conditions to persons maintaining thoroughbred stallions for service in the various provinces. The conditions under which assistance will be given are as follows: (1) All horses on account of which aid is given by the Department must be registered in the Thoroughbred Stud Book of the Canadian National Live Stock Records. (2) Horses shall be of good size, quality and conformation and shall be free from all hereditary unsoundness; these conditions to be ensured by submission annually to a thorough, careful examination either at the hands of the veterinary director-general or such other members of the veterinary staff of the Department, or other persons as the Minister may from time to time appoint for this purpose. (3) Horses to be approved shall be duly and properly advertised to stand for service of mares, under the ordinary and general conditions usual in the districts in which they are to be kept, at an annual service fee (except in the case of thoroughbred mares) of not more than $10 to insure, such service fee to become due and payable when mares prove to be in foal. Any person, firm or corporation, owning or controlling any thoroughbred stallion in regard to which all of the conditions above set forth shall have been duly and properly fulfilled, shall, on production of satisfactory evidence, thereof, and of the fact that a reasonable number of mares, other than thoroughbred mares, have been served during the season, be entitled to receive at the close of each season the sum of $250 from the funds of the Live Stock Branch. If, in the event of a horse dying or becoming incapacitated for service during the season, an approved substitute is immediately placed in the same district, the Minister may, after due consideration of the circumstances, authorize the payment of the subsidy above mentioned. The necessary forms will be furnished on application to the Veterinary Director-General and Live Stock Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

RUSSIA LAUNCHES THE SEVASTOPOL FROM THE BALTIC WORKS.

St. Petersburg, July 3.—Russia's first Dreadnought, Sevastopol was launched successfully this noon from the Baltic works in the presence of the ministry of marine, naval attaches, a large representation of society, the legislative bodies and official-dom. Special precautions against a mishap had been taken as there was only a foot of space on either side of the slip and the cruiser Almaz was anchored athwart above the works to lessen the current. The battleship was laid down on June 16, 1906, and it is expected that another two years will be occupied in equipping the vessel. The Sevastopol has a displacement of 23,000 tons and with 42,000 horsepower is expected to have a speed of 23 knots an hour. Her length is 691 1/2 feet and the beam is 87 feet. The battleship will carry 3,000 tons of coal and 1,170 tons of naphtha. All of the vessel and its equipments has been or will be built in Russia. The Poltava, a sister ship of the Sevastopol, will be launched on July 10, the anniversary of the battle of Poltava. The keels of these two battleships and of two others, the Petropavlovsk and the Gangut, were laid on the same date and when commissioned will form the first squadron of the new Baltic fleet.

WILL TAKE TWO YEARS TO COMPLETE—TO FORM BALTIC FLEET.

TO DRAIN OR NOT TO DRAIN.

Prof. W. H. Day has recently been making some calculations on the financial side of drainage. A farmer has fifty acres that is rather wet, but although not drained it gives, say, $15 per acre. The value of the crop for five years in succession, together with compound interest, would be $4,144 at the end of the five years. If, however, he were to drain ten acres of the land each year, and if the drainage increased the value of the crop by $10 per acre (which is a low estimate), then the value of the crop for five years, with interest, would be $5,748. After paying for the drainage, with interest, he would have left $1,604. The same within $20 as if he had not drained, but he drained the whole 50 acres at once then the five crops, with interest, would be worth $6,908. Thus, after paying for the drainage would leave him a balance of $4,121, which is $977 more than if he had not drained. During the next five-year period drainage by the installation plan would not him $1,604 more than not to drain at all, and the complete drainage would enrich him by $2,764 more than no drainage.

DAIRY RECORD CENTRES.

The new extension work of the Dairy Division, Ottawa, is causing many enquiries to be made. For the benefit of our readers it may be explained that officials are now located in Peterborough, Lanark and Oxford counties, Ontario; St. Hyacinthe and Brome, Quebec; and at Kensington, P. E. I., with a view of gathering specific information as to the exact standing of the dairying industry in the district. Each such district is termed a dairy record centre. Each farmer within a certain area will be called on, and there will be obtained from him a statement as to the number of cows, the type of sire, the weight of milk sent to the factory, the milk used at home, the cost of feed, and so on. When these statements are compiled there will be definite and valuable information for the encouragement of our dairymen. It is intended to follow up this work closely for some years, both in these and in other sections. The recorders are paying special attention to the improvement of cow testing in these districts; they are already collecting weights and tests of about four thousand cows, so that it is evident that a tremendous impetus is being given to cow testing by this new forward movement. A special bulletin on cow testing is available to all applicants. Forms for recording weights of milk are supplied free by the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa. When applying, state the number of cows, and whether forms are wanted for weighing daily, or on only three days each month. C. F. W.

A DRAINAGE ESTIMATE

Prof. H. Day who has recently been making some calculations on the financial side of drainage. A farmer has 50 acres of land that is rather wet but although not drained, it gives say $15 per acre. The value of the crop for five years in succession, to other with outpump interest, would be $4144 at the end of the five years. If however he were to drain 10 acres of the land each year, and if the drainage increased the value of the crop by $10 per acre (which is low estimate) then the value of the crop for 5 years, with interest, would be $5,748. After paying for the drainage, with interest, he would have left $4,124, the same within $20 as if he had not drained, but if he drained the whole 50 acres at once, then the five crops, with interest, would be worth $6,908. This after paying for the drainage would leave him a balance of $5,121, which is $977 more than if he had not drained. During the next five-year period, drainage by the installment plan would net him $1,604 more than not to drain at all, and the complete drainage would enrich him by $2,764 more than no drainage.

The price allowed for drainage in the calculation was $28 per acre, and the increase in the crop was placed at $10 per acre. As a matter of fact the increase is usually worth more than this, so that the computation is somewhat unfair to drainage, however it is better to err on the safe side.

But the increase in crop is not the only return from drainage. The value of the land is largely increased. This is illustrated in the case of a certain farm in Lincoln County. It was bought for $6000 about two years ago. Last year $2000 was spent in draining it, and it has since been sold for $12000.

The Department of Physics, O.A.C., over which Professor Day has charge, has a large staff engaged in making drainage surveys for farmers wishing to drain, but they are kept very busy. Those who wish surveys made this fall should apply at once, as there are nearly as many applications in as can be attended to this season.

The terms on which surveys are made are explained in Bulletins 174 and 175, which may be had free from the Department of Agriculture, Toronto.

NO BLUE RUIN

In the course of his address to the clergy of the Diocese of Ontario His Lordship Bishop Mills referred to the matter of reciprocity, speaking as follows:

"Of course, there are some people, going up and down the country now, professional politicians for the most part (though there are some others with them, who know just as little about the matter), who are singing a song about blue ruin, which is coming on our country, through reciprocity with the United States. Whether it would be in the general interest of the country is a question for debate, and about which different opinions may be held. But politicians have not devoted their attention so much to the discussion of this question, as in ringing changes on the cry, that if reciprocity were adopted, it would be the first step towards annexation; that the United States would be buying us and we would be selling ourselves. I think that is the greatest nonsense that ever came from the mouths of supposedly sane men; as a Canadian, I resent it. I would think little of my loyalty to the British crown, and the British empire, if it depended on tariff schedules. Those who think the national spirit in Canada is such a poor and uncertain thing, that her existence as a nation, would be imperilled by an increase of trade with the United States, do not know her. There is no part of the British empire in which there is truer loyalty than in Canada, and she can be neither bought nor sold. It is a strange thing that both parties, from Sir John A. Macdonald down, have sought for reciprocity with the United States, and looked upon it as desirable, but the United States would not agree to it, and I am not sure they will now. However when it is apparently within our reach, there is a cry raised against it, as though it meant the ruination of the country. Factories are to be closed, railways are to be tied up, steamship lines are to go out of business—wonderful pictures have been painted by those who never before were known to have any artistic talents, and by what they have said and done, are not likely to establish for themselves any great reputation in this respect. With all this prospect of ruin ahead of us, we find the C.P.R. advancing from about 200 to 252, and other stock in proportion. It shows how business men regard it. The opposition to reciprocity is simply a political one. That there are men of both parties opposed to it, simply means that men can be caught by a cry and can be led by sentiment. The thought of annexation makes many incapable of calmly judging the matter. Mr Borden, the leader of the opposition, like a sensible man, has, I believe, while opposing reciprocity on economical grounds, refused to take up the annexation cry, or to use it in any way as an argument."

The road commissioners of the Counties Council at their meeting in Brockville last week closed the purchase of two steam road rollers from

THE MERCHANT'S SNAP

"Yes," remarked a country merchant, "I certainly have a snap. Wholesale houses send 'dunners' every month, and draw on me at sight, but if I send a bill to a farmer, he comes in swearing mad, and quits trading at my store. While I am hard up for money, many of those who owe me money are sending money to mail order houses. If I contribute to any cause, people say I am batting for trade. If I don't, they say I'm a bog. Every day I am expected to dig up for everything that comes along, from a raffle ticket to a church fund, by people who claim I ought to do this, because they do part of their trading with me. But our friends, Simpson's and Eaton's, neither buy tickets nor help the church, and yet they get the cash in advance for goods that I sell. If I sell a pair of trousers, I must treat the family to cigars or candies, and if I buy a load of potatoes, I must do the same. Customers who are able to pay, hang on to their money, while I pay ten per cent. on my wholesale bills. I have a big business during the hard times, and poor crops, from people who are willing to trade with me, providing I can compete with catalogue prices and wait until harvest for my pay. My scales weigh too much when I sell sugar, and too little when I buy butter. I am a thief, a liar and a grafter. If I smile I am a soft soap hypocrite, and if I don't, I'm a grump. Yes, certainly, this is a snap, and when I look over $10,000 in accounts all supposed to be good, I wonder how I will raise $300 to pay a sight draft due to-morrow."

ANALYTICAL CHEMIST TELLS OF PATENT MEDICINES

A graduate in organic chemistry, who has made a study of many of the best-known patent medicines on the market, states that many have virtue, but as a rule people have to pay for a lot of unnecessary expense. The following is the recipe of a well-known secret preparation, and is known by authority to be one of the best stomach and liver tonics. It is prescribed by many of the best physicians.

This mixture cures constipation and biliousness. The recipe: Fluid Extract Cascara..... ¼ oz. Syrup Rhubarb..... 1 oz. Currania Compound..... 1 oz. Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla 5 oz. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

An eminent authority, who has made a careful and scientific study of the relative values of drugs having a specific action on the kidneys, bladder, and liver, pronounces this an excellent combination. You can buy the ingredients separately and mix at home. Get this formula out and save it.

HOLYROOD PALACE

Historic Castle Has Been the Scene of Stirring Episodes.

Few regal edifices have undergone more vicissitudes than Holyrood Palace, which is now being subjected to several alterations and improvements to fit it for the occupation of King George and Queen Mary when they stay there in July. It occupies the site of Holyrood Abbey, founded in 1128 by King David I., on the spot where he was supposed to have been saved from an infuriated stag. The legend goes that the King was hunting in the forest of Dunachie in the immediate vicinity of Edinburgh, and was assailed by an enraged stag, which unhorsed him, and probably would have put a very speedy end to his existence had not this Scottish monarch, like the first Christian Emperor, been favored of the saints. As a reward for his piety, and in consideration of his great liberality to churchmen, a cross descended from Heaven in the moment of his danger, with which he stoutly attacked the beast. The latter, finding itself overcome, quickly made its way out of the woods, and left the King and the cross masters of the situation. Thus to prove his gratitude to the saints who had interceded in his behalf, he founded the Abbey of Holyrood for the canonization of St. Augustine.

The canons were allowed many privileges, and succeeding monarchs added to the gifts of the founder, Holyrood Abbey becoming the most opulent of all religious institutions in Scotland. In due time a royal residence was erected close to it, although it is doubtful how soon it became the permanent home of the Kings of Scotland. Certain it is, however, that James IV. lived there. It was during his residence, on account of Mass having been celebrated in the chapel, that a revolutionary mob broke in and despoiled all the religious ornaments, leaving only the bare walls. The rioters even profaned the vault which had been used as the royal sepulchre, broke open the leaden coffins, and carried away the lids; but as the royal bones were not negotiable articles, the anti-Papists were forced to leave them behind.

But worse misfortunes were still to come, and they came with Queen Mary. Her Majesty's misfortunes commenced at a very early period. The first Sunday after her arrival a mob beset the palace for the purpose of instructing her in the proper way of worshipping God. To such a pitch of enthusiasm had the spirit of these religious instructors risen that it was only with difficulty they were restrained from hanging the priest who at that moment was officiating in the chapel. Mary locked herself in her apartments with her Mass book and her father-confessor, while tumultuous zealots assailed the gates and pronounced themselves certain Her Majesty was making for eternal perdition, and must soon be utterly lost unless she listened to John Knox and abjured beads and images.

Then came the historic night of March 9th, 1566. As Mary and a small party were having supper, Darnley and Ruthven, followed by other conspirators, entered for the purpose of seizing David Rizzio, the accomplished Italian secretary and skilful musician, who had gained the Queen's confidence and roused the jealousy of the Presbyterian lords and ministers of the Kirk. Anticipating their purpose, Rizzio threw himself behind the Queen and clung to her dress; but was stabbed by George Douglas, leaning over Mary's shoulders. During this exciting scene the Queen's husband held her fast in his arms, while the other conspirators held a pistol at her breast. The room in which the fatal supper-party took place is still in existence.

Queen Mary's Daily Life.

According to a letter published in The Yorkshire Post, and written by a lady holding a high position at court, the Queen at 9.30 a.m. begins the day's work by going through her large correspondence (which she has previously opened) with two secretaries. Then come interviews with the governess, nurse, housekeeper, and the heads of departments in the palace. Then appointments with furniture makers and various trades-people till 1.30. In the afternoon Her Majesty visits an hospital or some charitable institution, or a picture gallery, or visits some other interesting places in or near London, such as the City churches, the halls of the various City companies, etc. After tea the Queen again summons her secretaries for more correspondence, and gives one or two interviews. After dinner she reads till 10.30, and then retires to rest. In the country, expeditions to historical or other interesting places in the neighborhood with some of her children are arranged, or some local charities or institutions are visited.

Dangerous to Use "Esquire."

The recovery of a letter, which had been sent to a little town in Germany and never delivered to the person addressed cured the writer of the custom of adding "Esquire" to a name on the superscription of mail matter. The letter in question would probably have been promptly delivered had the address read simply, "Mr. John Brown." But the sender had addressed it, "John Brown, Esquire," and the communication rested comfortably in the post office compartment of the post rest department, waiting to be called for by "Mr. Esquire." One of the popular guide books warns against the use of "Esq." saying that it might be mistaken for a name.

Whole Wheat Bread.

London doctors interested in the nutritive value of foodstuffs have issued a document in which they recommend the use of whole meal in making bread instead of fine white flour. It is maintained that there are in the whole meal two and one-half times the amount of mineral substances that nourish the body.

Cannot Export Feathers.

Plumage, skins or eggs of native birds of Australia and New Guinea can no longer be exported, this having been prohibited by the Australian Commonwealth Government.

DAINTY ICES AND DELICACIES

Having had it proven by actual experience, I wish to advocate the economy of keeping on hand a supply of the principal flavoring syrups used in soda fountain beverages.

The apparatus consisting of a milk-shaker in its simple form, and also a freezer for more elaborate delicacies. A siphon of soda is a useful addition.

MILK SHAKES. In the shaker, milk shakes, some of the simpler glaces, frappes, ades, punches and ices can be made.

ICED COFFEE MILK SHAKE. This is a delightful drink, made by shaking two ounces of coffee syrup, one egg and three ounces of cream in a shaker with shaved ice.

CLARET GLACE. Take one ounce each of claret and lemon (either juice or syrup), and a half-glassful of shaved ice.

PINEAPPLE SNOW. Pineapple snow made by mixing pineapple syrup with cream and shaved ice, with or without the addition of carbonated water.

MAKING GLACES WITH CRUSHED FRUITS. The following proportions: Crushed fruits, an ounce and a half; the juice of half a lemon, and shaved ice.

FRAPPE. Among the semi-frozen beverages the frappes are prime favorites.

COFFEE FRAPPE. To every quart of clear, good Mocha or Java coffee add one pound of sugar and freeze as above.

BLACKBERRY FRAPPE. To one-half ounce each of blackberry syrup and raspberry syrup add the juice of one lemon.

GRAPE EGG PHOSPHATE. Take two ounces of orange syrup, one ounce of grape juice, one egg and three dashes of phosphate.

LEMON FRAPPE. Make the ordinary lemon water iced, rich in fruit and well sweetened, and then freeze to a mushy consistency.

ORANGE FRAPPE. To one ounce of orange syrup, take one-half tumbler of shaved ice, one tablespoonful of powdered sugar.

WATERMELON SUNDAY. Take a long glass dish and lay on it a neat slice of the heart of a ripe watermelon that has been freed of seeds.

NEW USE FOR SOCKS IN CHICAGO. Henceforth socks will be worn on the feet, not around the family savings.

Clear Out Your Nostrils By Inhaling Catarrhoseone Free of the Germs of Consumption and Catarrh.

It's simply disgusting to keep on sniffing when Catarrhoseone cures so quickly; it clears away the mucous discharge, frees the nostrils and air passages of offensive matter, cures the catarrh thoroughly.

FOR THE THIN ARMED GIRL. The girl who frets because her arms are as thin as sticks should partake of a nourishing diet, even though she may want to maintain a slim figure.

A FLAT WORLD. The ancients thought the world was flat, I'm really not surprised that we'd find it flat, I dare say.

PILES CURED AT HOME BY New Absorption Method. If you suffer from bleeding, itching, blind or protruding Piles, send me your address, and I will tell you how to cure yourself at home by the new absorption treatment.

NEW BED NEEDED. "During the days of gold fever in California," said an old sea captain, "our ship was so crowded that you could hardly get a place to sleep."

HIS STAR OF MERCY HAD SET. Little Arthur was very proud of his membership in the "band of mercy." He wore the badge, a small star, as if it were a policeman's insignia.

THE FOREIGN KNIFE. The European foreign element in Ottawa, especially the Poles, have been getting somewhat out of hand lately, and on Friday night there was a serious stabbing affray.

MONEY WEARS OUT QUICKLY. Wastage Through Circulation on British Gold and Silver Coins.

It is the duty of each loyal subject not merely to refuse gold coin that is under a certain weight, but to break it. "Every gold coin tendered to him in payment and the person tendering the same shall bear the loss."

SAFETY FOR CHILDREN DURING HOT WEATHER. Every mother knows, or should know, the danger her baby runs during the hot summer months.

A MAN OF MANY JOBS. British Official a Sort of Universal Provider to the Public. The British Postmaster-General is what Londoners call a universal provider, a regular department store of public functions, says the Telephone Review.

AN AUTHOR'S PET. Signor Gabriel D'Annunzio is not only a great writer, but a man of great originality. At his villa at Settignano, near Florence, he had tamed a little salamander which would get upon the writing table, which he considered belonged to him and his master.

WIRE WOUNDS. My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines.

MAY'S PINK FLOWERS. You will find the wood lily in the woods. Turk's cap lily is blossoming in the lowlands.

LAMENTING THE GALLERY GOD. Daniel Frohman's lament for the gallery god is not altogether without justification. The "gallery gods" theatres are the poorer for his absence.

THEY CONDEMN THE PICTURES

This is Their Experience With City Children, the Chiefs Declare.

Lack of Proper Home Training Cause of Most Going Astray.

Ottawa despatch: A strong condemnation of moving picture shows, couched in a sane, logical, setting forth of their baneful influences upon the minds of the young based upon their own experiences in cities with juvenile criminals was the feature of last evening's session of the chief constables in the parliamentary committee rooms.

Seldom has this moot question been discussed in a more intelligent manner, and by men more capable of discussing it from the standpoint of actual everyday experience in the handling and the detection of the causes leading up to juvenile crime. And although there were no sweeping statements or intemperate condemnations, one and all seemed agreed that the moving picture, with the pool room and the cigarette, had very detrimental effects upon the moulding of the child into good citizenship.

A paper on "Juvenile delinquents," by Chief Detective Carpenter, of Montreal, was responsible for a general and thorough discussion of the subject. A splendid paper on the "Twentieth Century Policeman, and How to Retain His Services," was also read by Chief Constable, Siemsen, of Brantford. A motion of Chief Inspector Archibald, of Toronto, that the association of juvenile police in an official organ, was referred to the executive committee.

In his paper, "Juvenile Delinquency," Chief Carpenter pointed out that ninety per cent. of the youth of the country who go wrong did so through defects in their home training. The future greatness of a nation lay in the training and education of its youth, and in the moral surroundings of the child in its home life. He pointed out that notwithstanding the increased efforts that are being put forth for the policing of juvenile crime statistics and police records showed that it was on the increase, and the source of this threatening evil could be traced to a lack of proper training in the home. Parents should exercise greater care about their children, and where they are allowed to go without guardians or protection. If they were irresponsible to their duties towards their children in bringing them up as God-fearing, law-abiding, and in making them into the highest type of citizenry then what could be expected? Moving picture shows, more especially of the cheaper sort, were having a baneful influence over the youth of our cities, and it was his belief that they should be regulated. The need of a more in-home regulation. The youth of playgrounds, where children could breathe the fresh pure air and spend their idle hours in healthy recreation and amusement was strongly emphasized and the plea was made for the more in-home regulation. The need of a more in-home regulation. The youth of playgrounds, where children could breathe the fresh pure air and spend their idle hours in healthy recreation and amusement was strongly emphasized and the plea was made for the more in-home regulation.

The child learns by imitation and will follow the example of its parents, in declared Chief Archibald of Toronto, in discussing the paper, and in laying emphasis upon the question of the home. He urged parents for their lack of modesty in thinking from discussing intimate questions with their children and declared that this in a great many instances was responsible for juvenile crime. Chief Constable Boyle, high constable of St. Catharines, strongly urged the necessity of children being kept in good, wholesome surroundings. He pointed out that the second fall and lapse from virtue always the greater and most fatal, and these were most frequent when the child was returned to the unworthy parents.

Chief Newton, of Belleville, condemned the cheap picture show and cheap playhouses where around the thief and criminal there is woven a halo of romance that makes him an idol hero in the eyes of the youth, and he traced considerable of juvenile crime to this source.

The clergy came in for some adverse criticism from Chief Sloan, of Gravenhurst. "They should exercise more care in ascertaining the character of those whom they marry," he declared. There were many persons who are not fit to be married or to be parents, and in many instances they do not intend to keep the marriage vows."

Chief Stark, of Toronto, declared that moving pictures were a curse to the community, and should be swept out of the community. In them are squandered the hard-earned savings of the working man.

Chief Siemsen's paper on the "Twentieth Century Policeman," was a clear concise description of the type of patrolman called for in this twentieth century. Brains and a keen knowledge of human nature were the essential requirements and the word failure should be effaced from his dictionary. The class of men required for the efficient protection of life and property required by cities could not be obtained through there-merit now offered, and the sooner police commissioners and others realized this the better. In the general discussion which followed the question of how to secure the highest standard of efficiency was thoroughly dealt with, and it was pointed out that better pay was an essential necessity in the securing of the best and most efficient service.

All of the officers express themselves in the heartiest fashion upon their reception in Ottawa, and are enjoying themselves immensely between business sessions.

Ill Only a Few Hours With an Affection of the Heart.

Waterloo, Ont., despatch: The citizens of this town were shocked this morning to hear of the death of Mayor Graybill. He was around town yesterday as usual, but on retiring at night said he was not feeling well. About 4 o'clock this morning he telephoned for the doctor, and by 5 o'clock he had passed away from angina pectoris, an affection of the heart.

PAINTER BURNED

Came Hand-Under-Hand Down Blazing Rope at Pittsburg.

Match Set Fire to Naphttha When He Was Atopt.

Pittsburg, July 3.—Two hundred and fifty feet above the ground, suspended by a rope that was burning and his face, Chris Sinkas, a stack painter, 35 years old, made his way down, hand-under-hand to earth, while a crowd of men stood horrified at the Westinghouse Electrical & Manufacturing Company's plant in East Pittsburg yesterday. He held a rope in his left hand to regulate the speed of his descent, at the same time using his right hand in an effort to blot out the flames which were eating at the rope. Sinkas was almost entirely burned from his body, he was terribly burned about the right hand and arm, chest and face, and his left hand was raw and bleeding from being torn by the rope as he made the scorching descent.

Sinkas was painting a smokestack built recently to a new addition to the power house. Before the tar was applied, a mixture of carbon oil and naphtha was applied to the stack to cut off the rust. Sinkas was at the top of the stack. Before starting to work he lighted a cigarette, and tossed the lighted match, he supposed, to the ground. Instead, the match dropped into a bucket of naphtha and oil. An instant later an explosion occurred at the top of the stack. The mine, it is said, will be practically ruined. Water has had little effect, and this morning every opening was being sealed within cement in an effort to smother the flames. The loss will be heavy. The state mine department will make a thorough investigation.

MINE ON FIRE.

Escape of Miners Through Emergency Hole — Was It Legerdemain?

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 3.—A fire of alleged incendiary origin is burning fiercely in the main mine of the Clarksburg Coal Co., at Clarksburg, near this city. Sixty miners escaped through an emergency opening, and it is believed every man who was at work succeeded in reaching the surface.

The mine, it is said, will be practically ruined. Water has had little effect, and this morning every opening was being sealed within cement in an effort to smother the flames. The loss will be heavy. The state mine department will make a thorough investigation.

NEW SOO LOCK.

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—The bid of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Co., of Chicago, was the lowest of three for the construction of the masonry work for the third American Lock at the Soo. The successful bid totaled $1,033,000. The new lock when completed will be 1,350 feet long, 80 feet wide. Two of the longest vessels on the lakes can be locked through at the same time.

CARRIED PASSENGER.

Berlin, July 3.—Hirth, the German aviator, who with a passenger in his monoplane, started from Munich at 2 o'clock last evening, arrived here at 9:08 this morning. His actual flying time was five hours and forty-one minutes for 345 miles. Hirth recently made a world's record for height, with a passenger, ascending 5,182 feet.

MORTLAKE TAPESTRIES.

London, July 3.—The Standard says that the Duke of Rutland has received an offer from America of $75,000 for seven pieces of the famous Mortlake tapestries after Raphael's cartoons.

The tapestries were made for Charles I. and were sold by Oliver Cromwell to Lord Haddon.

Fear is expressed that England will be unable to retain them.

NEW SCHOLARSHIP.

Kingston, July 3.—A movement is afoot among the graduates and friends of Queen's University to found a scholarship to be called after Dean N. F. Dupuis, of the faculty of practical science, who is retiring from the university after forty-five years' service on the teaching staff.

Efforts will shortly be commenced to strengthen the theological faculty.

DR. CLIFFORD ON EPISCOPACY

British Baptist Divine Urges Suppression of Church in Canada.

Fight the Monster, for It Means Anti-Democracy, is His Advice.

"To Be a Non-Communist is to Be Placed on Lower Social Scale."

Toronto despatch: "I regret to see since my arrival in America evidences on every side of the growth of Episcopalianism. Beware of Episcopacy, be warned in time, for I quite anticipate that you will be made to suffer for many of its evils 20 or 30 years from now. Fight the monster, for Episcopacy means anti-democracy and social pressure on all of those without its fold."

Thus spoke Dr. John Clifford, the noted British Baptist divine.

Dr. Clifford ran concisely over a wide variety of subjects, explaining tersely his views without the least loss of time or waste of words and no visible trace of heat or emotion until he touched upon his pet aversion, clericalism. Then his keen eyes snapped and burned with excitement while he propounded his views in vigorous, forcible style.

"Clericalism! I despise it and will fight it with all the energy of my being. You in Canada must beware of its insidious growth and resist it with all the courage of your heart."

"In England I call myself a layman, and would seem to even appear in a garb that would indicate that I am a cleric. It is refreshing to come to Canada and see our ministers repudiate clerical attire and appear in white waistcoats. I rejoice to see them do so. I would not even wear a hat that looked clerical."

Speaking of the Free Church problem, Dr. Clifford said:

"We in England are penalized for being Baptists and are forever paying the price of our high ideals and strong convictions."

"The King is not a member of the Free Church, but of the State Church. Society belongs to the State Church, and I do not believe that it is to be placed on a lower social scale."

Then followed his warning for Canada as given above.

Four years past the allotted span of the late years and ten, Dr. Clifford, the noted Baptist divine, was a man possessed of wonderful vitality, combining the physical attributes of youth with the learning and experience of age.

"Activity," he explains, "is the secret of longevity," and to the active life he heads he attributes his prodigious vigor, mental and physical, marvellous in one so far advanced in life.

Small in stature and rather frail, he is not seen to the best advantage, except on the platform, when the fighting spirit becomes manifest and his character, aggressiveness and power are all compelling. Off the platform he is kindly, quiet spoken and mild-mannered, but he has a hearty handclasp and there is latent force in his every movement.

Dr. Clifford is in close touch with Premier Asquith, and in discussing the question of forthcoming legislation he readily spoke of the abolition of the veto of the House of Lords. The Liberals and Laborites would inevitably succeed, he claimed, legislation formerly passed would be reintroduced and the bills would be passed in about this order:

First—Abolition of plural voting.

Second—Gift of loans rule to Ireland.

Third—Disestablishment of the Anglican Church in Wales.

Fourth—Removal of educational disabilities from which we are now suffering.

Dr. Clifford explained that the educational bill of 1902 placed the Roman Catholic and Anglican schools upon the rates of the people, so that the rates they pay now are a direct contribution towards the maintenance of the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches through their schools.

Where there is a refusal to conform with laws, ratepayers have their goods seized and sold to satisfy the taxes, and in many cases resistance has resulted in imprisonment of the delinquents, although this drastic method is only followed where the offender has no goods of his own to seize. Dr. Clifford spoke of many cases where ratepayers have spent terms of from four days to one month in jail in defence of their principles.

"Were you ever imprisoned?"

"No, but I have been before the magistrate 23 times and am cited to appear for the 29th time early next month."

"What is your procedure when you appear in court on these occasions?"

"I cite facts illustrative of the inequalities of the system,"—here his square jaw protruded itself beneath his patriarchal beard—"I compel the magistrate to listen to me. In some places we have to appear twice a year before the courts, but in my borough I am required to face the magistrate once every quarter, four times a year."

Touching briefly upon the poor problem, the eminent English divine held out hopes that the measures to be introduced by Mr. Lloyd-George and Mr. John Burns would greatly ameliorate the condition of the classes it aimed to assist.

Interrogated regarding his views on the Non-Tenure decree, Dr. Clifford pointed out that the famous edict had received little attention in England.

"It is merely one of the normal perils of the Roman Catholic Church to secure and retain control over the minds and actions of its adherents and communicants. The machinations of the Church of Rome should be persistently resisted by Protestants, who must exercise eternal vigilance against the incursions of Roman Catholicism."

JUMPS FROM TRAIN

Woman Rolls Down 10-Foot Embankment and Escapes into Woods.

Toronto despatch: While the North Bay express was running south yesterday at a speed exceeding 35 miles an hour a woman prisoner, Rose Rae, being conveyed from North Bay to the Mercer Reformatory, escaped the custody of Mrs. Scott, the woman bailiff, by leaping from the train.

The woman was in a party of five, all being conveyed from the same jail to the city, one being an insane girl who took up most of the bailiff's attention.

The train had stopped at a small station near Gravenhurst

Who pays the enormous expense of those show-rooms in our towns and cities? Is it not the people who buy pianos there?

Why buy from them when you can get just as good, and in many cases better, from me, delivered Free from the factory to your door? This is one of the reasons I can sell you a piano for less money than you pay at any show-room.

All kinds of instruments taken in exchange. We defy competition for the money in all grades. Get my prices before purchasing, for they are certainly very low for strictly high grade pianos.
