The Dependability of God In Time of Need.

A SERMON PREACHED IN THE UNITED BAPTIST CHURCH, WOLFVILLE, N. S., BY REV. N. A. HARKNESS, B. D.

Commit thy way unto Jehovah; trust also in him and he shall bring it to pass.—Ps. 37:5.

For a generation or two we have been hearing of the "Dependability of God" in time of need. We have heard of the "Dependability of God" in time of need. We have heard of the "Dependability of God" in time of need.

It requires experience to teach us that the end of life does not consist in human achievements, progress, inventions, and the bringing of things to pass. Great as man may be in organizing ability, inventive genius, and ability to direct the energy of others, yet he needs the power of God to accomplish those things which are alluring to him.

When we are in this world, men and women, to achieve not only in the realm of material, but to centre our minds and skill upon physical force alone, but to bring to pass the reign of righteousness first of all in our own lives and then in the life of the whole world. What material success worth after all, if the soul-life of man is not bettered, and if our civilization is not built upon the only foundation which can be laid, namely, Jesus Christ. And for the realization of these our highest hopes, the secret is revealed in our text—"Commit thy way unto Jehovah; trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass."

This is the solid ground for our faith—the dependability of God. "He shall bring it to pass." God can be counted on. He never fails. I can't explain how He brings things to pass. I know science has never found Him, but I know that "the pure in heart shall see God." I listen to a disciple who says: "That which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life, declare we unto you, and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with His son, Jesus Christ." I listen to Paul as he says: "I know whom I have believed, and... he is able." Yes, the dependability of God. This is our confidence.

I know we sometimes lose heart. Don't you? Do you know what it is to sit in the dungeon of Herod's prison with John the Baptist? Yes, I have met him there. We have become good friends in the few weeks that have gone; and I think I recognized some of your faces and voices as I have been there. Oh, will the sun be brighter to-morrow? Will the weather when we come out, and thank God our head has not yet been served upon a charger to satisfy the demons of Fear and Despair?

But at other times I know, and I know to-day, that God can be depended on. If we commit our way unto Jehovah and trust in Him, He shall bring it to pass. Nothing can stand in His way. See the tide yonder that bears aloft the vessel and brings our food and fuel to the wharf! Commit thy vessel to the tide; trust also in it, and it shall be brought to pass. God is as irresistible as the ocean tide. Commit thy way unto Jehovah.

There was an editorial in the New York Outlook not long ago which spoke of several disappointments. The salmon fisheries in Ohio were victorious. Tammany seemed supreme again in New York City. Various schemes in several states had been given a pat back. But it adds: "The sun still shines. The law of evolution is still on the statute book of the universe. The human race falls down occasionally, bruises itself, picks itself up and goes on walking, and persistently in the right direction. The world is better than it was fifty years ago. We are still cheerful." And I am reminded of the words of Longfellow:—

Stronger than steel Is the sword of the spirit! Swifter than arrows The light of the truth! Greater than anger Is love, and subdueth! The dawn is not distant Nor is the night starless— Love is eternal! God is still God, and His faith shall not fail! Christ is eternal!

Do we believe it? This is our confidence. Here also is the message for our people and Empire to-day. We have not learned it yet. We are still to a large extent depending on the "rocking tube and iron shard." Our boast is our navy and our fast enlarging army. Our way is not committed unto the Lord. If it were mighty things would be brought to pass. If God were sure he could trust us with victory and world-power the war might be brought to a speedier close. Could He trust the destiny of the race in the hands of the British Empire as we are to-day? Are we prepared? The worst thing which could befall us would be to be made victorious without being more virtuous, to be made conquerors without being more Christlike.

Has one of our national evils been "rooted out"? I fear the reaction toward viciousness which would follow in the wake of victory, far more than I fear the sorrow and the sacrifice of to-day, and the bloodshed of to-morrow.

If victory were achieved what would England do with her labor and poverty and slum problems? What with her liquor interests? Would not the House of Lords—composed of many who are supposed to be the spiritual leaders of the people—continue to put liquor profits above the price of souls? Would the King and the royal household continue temperate or would the old days be ushered in? Has fear driven us to reform, or has the Grace of Christ driven us to Calvary? I am all too much afraid that our change of life has been the white-washing of the tree trunk, and that the life of the tree has not been renewed.

What would Canada do to-morrow if the report came that our boys had marched into Berlin? Would our altars be crowded by worshipping multitudes humbly thanking God for the victory, or would we be singing the praises of the man in khaki?

What would Canada do with her $181,000,000 yearly drink bill? (Direct and indirect. See Rev. D. C. MacGregor's "Canada's greatest Burden.") If in the face of the dire need, it is in the face of the common foe, if in the face of the call for men and yet more men we permit it to stand, what will we do when the strain is over, and we are drunk with victory? What would we do in these provinces by the sea? Would we not go on damaging the bodies and souls of men with this damnable business because we have committed our way unto the Demon of Drink as a means of raising our revenue? So long as our legislature, and our electorate, can be held up by the liquor interest, then, oh! God! keep us at it; make us sweat drops of blood, pierce our hearts with the spear of sorrow, until we are willing to commit our way unto God.

The tragedy of it all is that God has honored us as a nation in putting us on the right side of the tremendous struggle, and given us a vision of rightness—call a task and a vision which should call out the best that is in us—and we turn from the vision and cringe before the task and refuse to have the best called out.

Let us stop boasting of our army and navy. Let us thank God He has given them to us. But let us pray that the righteousness of God may prevail in the earth, that our Empire may so commit her way unto Jehovah that through her way unto Jehovah may so meet the like fate of the self-glorifying Israel; but rather heed her true prophets who have a wonderful message for the nations of today. So long as these conditions are permitted to exist—these crying evils—the spirit of injustice, the lack of true patriotism on the part of men in places of trust; and believing as we do that until they are righted God cannot bring to pass His righteous will, we must be driven to our knees, or seal our lips in the appeal for men and money.

I am not going to speak this morning of the "crimson specter" on the part of officials in regard to the sick soldiers in the barracks or of the unsanitary conditions under which some are forced to live. But of our great national evils one must speak. Our way must be committed unto Jehovah. There has been yet no great turning unto Him. We still have the men and money, and the silver bullet is going to win the war. Ah! so we think, but not the silver bullet unless it is tempered in the white heat of the Spirit of God. We have "yet felt the Penknives.

Nowadays we use penknives principally for sharpening pencils. There was a time, however, when they were used primarily for doing something else. They used to be just what their names would indicate—they were "penknives." The ancient used penknives made of goose quills, just as our forefathers did up to about a hundred years ago. The quill pen was made by hand, of course, and whenever the point of one would break or lose its elasticity it was up to the penman to put a new point or "rib" on the quill. This was done with a small knife, and hence we have the word that has outlived the quill pen—a hundred years—"penknife." In the olden times the penknife was a necessary accessory of the writing desk. When the clasp knife came in smaller sizes it took its name from the little desk knife, while the bigger ones were called "jackknives," signifying anything unutilized or big or strong. —Kansas City Star

As a Pick-me-up After Grip

To Restore Health, Vigor, Energy, There is Nothing to Compare to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

It is the older people who suffer most from grip. Finding them in a more or less weakened condition/grip breaks down their power of resistance and prepares the way for pneumonia, kidney troubles, or heart failure.

After every epidemic of grip the grim reaper makes a regular harvest, through the medium of these ailments. There is only one way to avoid such results, and that is by the regular use of such restorative treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure has proven a wonderful blessing to people in advanced years and all whose systems have become run down.

You need not linger in weakness, if you will but put this treatment to the test. By supplying the ingredients required by nature, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food hastens the process of upbuilding and you can depend on the results proving of lasting benefit.

Miss E. J. Buswell, Centralia, Ont., writes: "Last Winter my mother contracted a bad cold. She was bothered with shortness of breath, wheezing, fevered and too sore to cough. Our doctor prescribed treatment which brought relief from these symptoms, but when she got up she was tired, always tired and weak. I got her three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and she soon improved. Her eyes became clear and bright, the ashen hue left the face and she began once more to take up the reins and look after the household duties."

HOW TO AVOID GRIP

Rich, red blood is the greatest of germicides, and good vitality the strongest defence against disease. Keep the bodily vigor at high-water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you need have no fear of grip or other contagious diseases. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

An Open Letter

To D. B. Oakes, Esq., President of the Kings County Liberal Association: Sir—I have before me the Halifax Morning Chronicle of December 10th, last, in which we have a report of the annual meeting of the Kings County Liberal Association held at Kentville the previous day, and in this report we are told that two resolutions were passed.

With the first one, referring to Sir Frederick Borden and the promotion of Liberal principles, I am in hearty accord. With regard to the second resolution I have somewhat to say. Why was it necessary to bring the subject of temperance before this meeting? Heretofore it always seemed to me that the association tried to avoid this subject.

Now, Dr. Oakes, is that resolution true or false? Is the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor in the County being lessened by my dismission and the appointment of additional magistrates? I will leave it with those who are acquainted with the truth or falsity of this statement.

I certainly would like to be at home this spring but, though Fred is getting strapped in good shape at Verdun and where ever else he performs any of his funny stunts, it will take some time to get up to suit the adieu, but Kaiser Bill and his pals must go under before long.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Wickwire in his place in the house, under cover of relationship and personal and political friendship, "knifed me under the belt."

Now I wish to say, that I was not dismissed because my judgment in the Rand case was wrong. No Government would dismiss an official for a wrong decision in a suit, and it has not been decided by any court that my decision in this case was wrong.

Those who voted for that resolution "hold up their hands in holy horror" at the thought that respectable conservatives should think of supporting Mr. deWitt Foster after, as they say, he had taken graft in connection with the purchase of horses for war purposes, and yet uphold men who attempt to injure one's reputation, and on such evidence as was used in my case. Which deserves the most condemnation? I would ask you and those who voted for that resolution to put yourselves in my place and imagine how you would feel to have been treated as I have been.

Perhaps there is no better way of judging rightly in a matter than by putting oneself in the other fellow's place. EDWARD M. BRCKWITH, Crossing, April 3, '16.

From the Front

The following is a letter received by Miss Harriet Nowlin, of Swan, Mass., who is visiting at her old home at Gasperau, from her brother, Mr. John Nowlin, of the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles, now at the front in France:

France, March 12th, 1916. DEAR HARRY—Received your last letter dated Feb. 22nd, last night so that I can answer at once. Really you should not imagine your poor old brother Jack as being set on by Old Fritz in anything else, for outside the risk that has to be faced at this time, Jack Nowlin has too much to look forward to to take any unnecessary risks, so don't worry and in God's good time we'll be top of the list, boys say, meeting we will be victors, and then Canada for those who remain.

I have had no mail from Canada for some time but only a very scarce one twice a month. We have had dirty weather the last week or so and rain with freezing at night but it's about all gone now. I would like to see some other part of France besides this muck-hole of Flanders that is half under water and the other half in sand bags before I go home to kick out for good!

Well, it isn't finished this and had it mailed as I don't have chance again soon for we'll be leaving this place any time. The weather now is like May at home. The few warm fine days we have had have dried the roads and the farmers are doing spring work. I certainly would like to be at home this spring but, though Fred is getting strapped in good shape at Verdun and where ever else he performs any of his funny stunts, it will take some time to get up to suit the adieu, but Kaiser Bill and his pals must go under before long.

Hutchinson and I got passes to go to town yesterday and it just chanced to be the day that French and Canadian soldiers were being decorated with all sorts of French and English medals. It was a great sight and I wouldn't have missed it for anything. The French soldiers and band formed two sides of a square and our fellows the other two sides, while all around us were a mass of soldiers and civilians as dense as those to be decorated. Inside the square those to be decorated were lined up and in front were the generals. Directly behind them was the French standard surrounded by the guard. A French general was decorating some of the Canadians when we arrived. He would pin the medal on, then kiss the fellow on both cheeks, the soldier would salute, the MILK & CREAM.

TO THE CONSUMER.—Have you ever taken the precaution to look into the conditions under which your milk and cream are produced? Does your milkman provide the 300 cubic feet of air space and 6 square feet of glass per cow, considered essential by the best authorities?

Milk produced in dark, badly ventilated stables is unclean food, especially for young children. Do you get milk from cows that shed the winter's accumulation of dirt and dead skin with their coat of old hair in the spring, or are they regularly carded and brushed and their hair clipped short on the flanks and under?

I am regularly in the milk business, and in a position to supply you with CLEAN MILK THE YEAR ROUND, from cows stabled, fed, and tended in the most up-to-date manner. You are cordially invited to visit my barns and see for yourself. It costs more to produce milk under ideal conditions, but my prices are no higher in spite of this greater first cost. Visit the premises of your present milkman, and if you are not satisfied with his stables and surroundings, write or phone me. On and after April 1st, I will DELIVER milk and cream at the following prices, viz:— MILK per quart (in bottles) at .07 cts. MILK per pint (in bottles) at .04 " MILK per quart (in cans) at .06 1/2 " CREAM per pint (in bottles) at .15 " CREAM per pint (in cans) at .12 " CREAM, half pint (in bottles) at .08 "

Customers wishing milk in cans, will be required to supply cans of their own expense and wash and sterilize same themselves. I will attach metal name-plate to cans free of charge. Yours truly, J. D. Sherwood, Wolfville, March 24th, 1916.

Children's Aid Society. On Sunday evening, March 13th, a meeting was held in Canaan in the interests of the Children's Aid Society. The Baptist and Methodist congregations united for this purpose and the meeting was held in the Baptist church with Dr. Borden, of the Methodist church, presiding.

After devotional service, Mr. Stairs read his report for the year and followed it up with more details concerning his work. Rev. G. W. Miller then addressed the meeting on the great value to the country and the kingdom of the work done by the Stairs.

Mr. Beckwith, Mr. Eaton and Mr. Parker each in turn made a few remarks expressing the heartiest sympathies with the cause and there is no doubt but that Canaan will continue and increase its support to the Children's Aid Society.

Well Merited.

The following is a copy of a private letter received by Mrs. Cora Pierce Richmond from a leading citizen of Kentville:

Kentville, April 3rd, 1916. My DEAR Mrs. RICHMOND:—It was with so little regret that I learned yesterday that you were rather grievously disappointed at the failure of your production of "Pinafore" in Kentville, to reach the standard of your high musical and artistic ideals.

Having urged its production here, and having told my friends, a few of whom, like myself, had seen its presentation by the best companies of the world in London and New York, they might expect an amateur performance worth going to, may I assure you that the vast majority of your audience were far more than satisfied to the point of tolerance. They were in fact surprised and delighted at the excellence of the whole production. The principals were wonderfully good, and, beyond a seemingly unavoidable weakness of orchestra and chorus, which was really not appreciable to most of the audience, the opera went well from start to finish.

Having personally felt a strong fancy for both grand and comic opera since boyhood days, and having taken the parts of "Sir Joseph" in "Pinafore," "Colonel of Dragoons" in "Patience," and "Pirate King" in "The Pirates of Penzance," I naturally took a strong interest in the production of the former by your company, and I wish to express my sincere congratulations upon its general and individual excellence, and also think you are entitled to much gratitude from our people for the valuable work you have done and are doing, for the cultivation of the joy of music in our country.

I simply intended to assure you that you need not worry over the success of the opera, but have taken a long time to do it. With kind regards and thanks for a delightful evening. Sincerely yours.

Report of Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Kings County Temperance Alliance was held at Forrester's Hall, Berwick, on Friday, April 7th. By an unfortunate coincidence a meeting of the Fruit Growers Association convened at the same time; but notwithstanding this handicap the attendance of the Alliance meeting was well up to the average, about fifty being present.

One of the interesting features of these gatherings is the dinner provided in the Hall by the Berwick W. C. T. U. About forty hungry men did justice to the wholesome viands on this occasion. The Berwick W. C. T. U. is one of the most live organizations in the county, as is witnessed by the fact that the treasurer of the Alliance announced a gift from them of five dollars, which seems to mean that after furnishing dinner for the members at twenty-five cents, they gave the proceeds to the good of the cause.

The Alliance was privileged in having present two workers of more than local celebrity, Dr. H. R. Grant, General Secretary of the Provincial Alliance, and Dr. W. J. Smith, Field Secretary of the Methodist church. Dr. Smith, who said he was pleased to be enrolled as a member of this organization, spoke especially of conditions in Ontario and Quebec. Dr. Grant, whose name has been associated with all that is most effective in temperance work in the province for the last twenty-five years, besides giving wholesome advice on several topics under discussion, described the passage of the Corning amendment through the stormy seas of party and privilege to within sight of the desired haven. Two other new members were welcomed, and made appropriate remarks. Rev. G. D. Milburn and Rev. R. S. Meadows.

Considerable business was transacted. The forward movement, centering in the appointment of the secretary to devote his whole time to the interests of Alliance work, was ratified, and plans submitted by the executive for the support of the work were adopted. A committee was appointed to recommend such necessary changes in the constitution. It was on motion resolved that an effort be made to create a fund to be used for a stricter enforcement of the N. S. T. Act, and that the Provincial Government be requested to reinstate Mr. Edward M. Beckwith in the office of Stipendiary Magistrate and Justice of the Peace, from which he had been so unjustly dismissed. A letter was read from Mr. E. H. Archibald, of Wolfville, expressing his interest in the work, and his regret at being physically unable to attend, and a message of condolence was ordered sent in reply.

The following officers were appointed: Pres.—E. B. Newcombe Vice Pres.—J. H. Chipman Sec.—F. H. Beals Treas.—W. E. Porter Executive Committee—The officers together with C. C. Cogswell, N. W. Eaton, B. O. Davidson, Ira L. Cox, C. A. Campbell, C. I. Wolfe, S. B. Chute, S. V. Sanford, Geo. Hutchins, N. I. Bowley, T. N. Northrup, Rev. R. B. Layton, Rev. J. D. Spidell, Rev. F. J. Armitage and Rev. G. P. Raymond. E. H. BEALS, Secretary.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA MacDowell Recital.

The MacDowell recital given by Miss Margaret Woodworth in College Hall, Wolfville, Friday afternoon was a delightful musical event. Miss Woodworth rendered exceptionally well, a programme which included MacDowell's Sonatas Tragicas, eight numbers from the "Marianettes," two numbers from "Woodland Sketches," and the Concert Etude. The rendering of "To a Rose," was enhanced by the reading of a poem composed by Miss Woodworth and read by Miss Ethel MacLean, who also presented a well-written and discriminating paper on MacDowell's Life and Work. Miss Woodworth was also assisted by Miss Kathleen Prescott and Miss Jean Mackie. Miss Woodworth's musical career will be watched with interest.

Heart of Gold.

There's a boy we love in khaki, he has answered to the call, from the farm, from street and store, from office chair;

For the blood that bought our freedom flows in every British vein; 'Hearts of Oak' are beating true to do or dare;

Britain's blood-stained sword is flashing and the flag shall never fall, while the Sons of Empire rally o'er the brier.

But a heart I know is aching, and her eyes are wet to-night, I am thinking of the girl he left behind.

The stars were shining brightly the one night he held her close, and whispered in her ear the fatal day, When he must say a last good bye, her loving heart was wrung, but she never said a word to bid him stay; She only clung the closer, as the moon went sailing past, and he told her, "I am called to face the foe!"

My King and country need me, and I may come back to you, Good-night, dearie, kiss me sweet, heart, I must go!"

She is living on the prairie, she is dwelling in the town, she is working in the office and the store, She has gathered up the broken threads the boys have left behind, and the busy hands must do a little more;

But her heart is in the trenches, and it's beating all for him, like a hero she has answered to the roll, May God's angel's guide and guard, these as life's shadows come and go, Little girl with loving eyes and heart of gold.

—E. M. LADUKI, North Battleford, Sask.

A Newspaper Opinion.

A few weeks ago the 'Times' wrote upon the drink question as follows:—

"The whole question really turns upon the consciousness that alcoholic drinks satisfy some kind of temporary want, or produce some temporary comfort or exhilaration, coupled with a belief, which modern physiology is doing her best to dissipate, that they are at least essentially harmless when consumed in moderation. It may be stated as an opinion upon which most, if not all, physiologists are agreed, that alcohol contributes nothing to the permanent powers of the healthy organism, whether physical or intellectual. No man, it is said, is the stronger for taking it, and

WEAK, SORE LUNGS

Restored to Health by Vinol
Camden, N. J.—"I had a deep seated cough, was run-down, and my lungs were weak and sore. I had tried everything suggested without help. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to try it. Soon I noticed an improvement. I kept on taking it and today I am a well man. The weakness is all gone from my lungs, I do not have any cough and have gained fifteen pounds."

no man is the wiser. The experience, now very extensive, of insurance offices, seems to place it beyond doubt that even the moderate regular use of alcohol in any form is, on the whole, contributory to the shortening of life. When these views come to be fairly balanced against temporary gratification of the palate, or temporary stimulation of the brain, they will be likely to lead, not a single "weaver" of sobriety, but to a gradual change in the habits of the more intelligent portion of mankind.

Helpful Ideas.

Spend an hour or two each week in preparing the menus for the week. You will be pleased with the freedom from the constant strain of wondering, planning and guessing what you are going to get for dinner. It is a most fascinating game and one much more gratifying than that of "solitaire" or puzzle picture, for you are doing something really worth while, besides entertaining yourself. If for no other reason than economy a woman should follow this system, for you will be surprised with the saving in buying, as you can plan for left-overs and combinations that will give variety without extra cost.

For example if you are serving green peas as a vegetable on Monday take out two or three tablespoons to be used as a garnish for a salad on Tuesday. By placing these left-overs in a cool place and placing hot water over them you can make much more attractive.

A cupful of tomato saved in a tin can can go over some sliced roast beef sliced potatoes, a little gravy and a sprinkling of onion, garlic and the peas and bake. This is a dish called Spanish, but will be tried pre-American in any family that tries it once.

Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Charles Loevel, Agassiz, B. C., writes: "Seven of our nine children had whooping cough the same winter and we attribute their cure to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Licorice and Turpentine. We always have it in the house, and recommend it as the king of all medicines. I was formerly completely cured of prostrating piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment."

The Dependability of God in Time of Need.

pinch "Our own arm is sufficient," we have said "We shall win by might and by power, and not by His Spirit," we still are boasting. "Commit thy way unto Jehovah and He shall bring it to pass."

The same truth obtains for our church life. It may seem unnecessary to remind the church that her way to victory is through commitment of her life unto God. Yet she needs it hurried into her soul today. We boast of numbers, money, organization. But does our hope lie in these? Not unless they are cleansed through the word which Christ has spoken.

If this Church is to see things brought to pass it will be because she has committed her way unto the Lord. If there is any officer of this church who holds his or her office in any spirit save as a humble trust from God, there are just two ways open for him if he be wise—to get right with God and commit himself and his office to the Master, or to hand in his resignation. The Lord of the Church is calling today as He has always called, but to louder accent, "Commit thy way unto God and He will bring it to pass."

And what is the message of our text for the individual? "Commit thy way." See Abraham. He committed his way. He trusted; and under the oak in the promised land he worshipped his God in gladness. Have you perplexities and fears? Do you fear tomorrow and the long tomorrows which stretch before you? "Commit thy way." Has sorrow clouded the sky and you look for the path? Do you pray for an inner conquest? "Commit thy way up, to the Lord."

Some of you men are starting business tomorrow morning and you scarcely know how you are going to get through the week and meet your obligations. Give God a chance in your life.

Some one is burdened. You feel you cannot carry the load another day. The suspense is awful. Commit thy way?

Have your plans been thwarted? Has the sea wrecked your ship, and you seem as one drifting on a lifeless sea not knowing on what shore you may be driven, or hoping for a friendly vessel to appear? Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass, and out of your ruined hopes a stately mansion shall be built.

"Careless heeds the great avenger; history's pages but record One death-grapple in the darkness (twist old systems and the word; Truth forever on the scaffold, Wrong forever on the throne; Yet that scaffold sways the future, and behind the dim unknown, Star-dust God within the shadow, keeping watch above his own."

Unless the Lord had been my help, my soul had soon dwelt in silence. When I said, My foot slippeth; thy loving kindness O Lord, held me up. —Psa. 124:18.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer for a long time. A Reporter's Adventure.

Once upon a time, reporting for a daily paper used to be regarded almost as a profession. Nowadays the rapid pace of newspaper work in some Canadian cities is developing a being that is a cross between reporter and messenger boy. In other words one of the modern touches of the business is that the newspaper man has to scurry around over a city on the hunt for photographs which in the eyes of some editors are worth more than items of news.

Recently when the list of nurses who are to go overseas with the Ontario Hospital as announced, the Toronto dailies sent their men out to gather up the nurses' pictures. One man went to a large assembly for the purpose from which but one picture was going. He spoke to the pleasant little girl in the office, and told her his errand. "I'll send for the head nurse," said she. He waited patiently a half hour, or ten minutes. Then a nurse entered the office followed by another stately lady, who carried herself with certain dignity. The nurse expecting the photographer's camera and a flash for the pictures.

The Burden of Age.

The kidneys seem to be about the first organs to wear out, and will not properly perform their work. The result is weak, lame, aching back, rheumatic pains and failing eyesight. Many persons of advanced age have recovered health and comfort by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They ensure the healthful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

Constance's sister took him and expected her hand. Yet, of course he could have all the pictures in the place. The girl heard a giggle behind him and turned to see the fellow hiding her face behind her hand and slapping her mouth. He turned to the girl and said with a smile, "I'll admit it—it's a one on me."

Still shaking with a shiver, the girl replied as she held the portrait framed by a stately lady away. "You may consider yourself honored—She thinks she's the sister of King George."

Fragrance of a Gentle Life.

Once in crossing a meadow, I came to a spot that was filled with fragrance. Yet I could see no flowers and I wondered whence the fragrance came. At last I found, hidden by the tall grass, innumerable little flowers. It was from these that the fragrance came.

I enter some house. There is a rich perfume of love that pervades all the place. It may be a home of wealth and luxury, or it may be plain and bare. No matter, it is not the house nor the adornment that makes this air of sweetness. I look closely. It is a gentle woman, mother, or daughter, quiet, hiding self away, from whom the fragrance flows. There is a wondrous charm in a gentle spirit. The gentle girl in a home may not be educated, may not be musical or an artist or a "clever" in any way, but wherever she moves she leaves a here of sweetness.

Her sweet perfume is never disturbed by the sharp words that fall about her. The children love her, because she never tires of them. She helps them with their lessons, listens to their frets and worries, mends their broken toys, moks dolls' dresses, straightens out the tangles and settles their little quarrels, and finds time to play with them. When there is sickness in the home, she is the angel of comfort. Her face is always bright with the outshining of love. Her voice has music in it as it falls in cheerful tenderness on the sufferer's ear. Her hands are wondrous gentle as their soothing touch rests on the aching head or as they minister in countless ways about the bed of pain.

L. W. SLEEP, WOLFVILLE, N. S.

Note the Color of your flour—And the Bread it makes for you. Delicately creamy is FIVE ROSES flour. Because it is not bleached, don't you see, Clear—Immaculate—Desirable, A pure Manitoba wheat flour—FIVE ROSES.

And the healthy sun-ripened spring wheat berries are naturally of a golden glow. And the meaty heart of the polished kernels is creamy.

Milled from this cream, FIVE ROSES is delicately "creamy".

The only natural flour from Manitoba's prime wheat. Which gets whiter and whiter as you knead it. And your bread is most appetizing, unusually attractive in appearance.

Looks good. And is good. Bake this purest unbleached flour.
