

HISTORY IN CORNER STONE

All Saints' Church Stone Opened After Many Years. Few of Those Connected With It Are Living To-day.

New Corner Stone Will be Laid Probably Next Week.

An interesting event took place yesterday at All Saints' Church when, in the course of enlargement, the original corner-stone was removed.

The corner-stone as laid in 1872, contained a bottle in which were two coins, a fifty-cent piece and a quarter, dated 1870, and one copy each of the Times, Spectator, Daily Mail and Globe.

The reason for increasing the size of the church is that the number of communicants has increased alone to nearly 500, and the seating capacity is only 440.

The pipes of the organ are in the hands of the Mathews Organ Company, of Toronto, and are being returned so that the church when completed will be like new.

The services are being held in the Sunday school while the church is being altered, and are well attended.

The first marriage at which Archdeacon Forrester officiated in the Sunday school took place on Wednesday, when Chas. Thompson was united in marriage to Miss Edith Miller.

When the corner-stone is laid, which will be some time next week, new documents will be put in, together with the old ones.

NOT MARRIED. Charge of Bigamy Against Paterson Likely to Fail.

John Paterson, who was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of bigamy, will likely be acquitted.

It is announced by the police that the woman who was supposed to be his first wife was never married to him.

When he comes up next Wednesday he will likely be further charged with false representation as he gave his name as Paterson and it is said his right name is Cavino.

WANTS FINE REMITTED. Mr. A. M. Lewis, who has acted for Hugh Hayes in the ice cream appeal case, will request the City Council to make a remission of the fine imposed on Hayes of $20, and which appeal was thrown out by reason of security not being put up at the required time.

Ontario, Aug. 6.—Canada's Commercial Commissioner at Leeds reports the prospect of a considerable shortage in the British apple crop this year and a consequent increase in the demands for Canadian fruit.

WENT HUNGRY

Pat Ronan's Pigeons Knew There Was Something Wrong.

Pat Ronan, the friend of the pigeons, moved from his store on the Market square this morning to 12 York street, which is but a block distant, but up to noon his feathered friends had not discovered his whereabouts.

When seen this morning Mr. Ronan said he expected they would find his whereabouts by to-morrow, and when asked his reasons for believing it he replied, "They know my whistle, and as soon as a couple of them come up this way I will whistle and it will not be long before the whole flock will follow."

Mr. Ronan is spending his spare time in front of his new store watching for the first appearance of his feathered friends. When asked if he did not think the pigeons would get used to the new store much quicker if they were fed in front of the old store, then half way up and then in front of the new store, he replied that he did not think so, and seemed quite confident that they would soon find him.

CITY PARK ON BEACH.

Parks Board Is Considering an Extensive Purchase. Price Would be $35,000, Covered by Debentures.

Asphalt Plant Trouble Stands Until September 30.

The special committee of the Board of Education, selected to deal with the re-appointment of principals and staffs of the city schools met last night in the City Hall.

All the principals and teachers received good reports from Inspector Ballard and were re-appointed. The staff of Cannon Street School was not considered as the late principal, Mr. T. L. Kinrade, had not sent in an application to be re-installed.

The committee quietly passed the matter over and agreed to re-assemble to consider any new applications that may be sent in. It is necessary that all positions be filled by September, and the members of the committee expect to make a new appointment in the place of Mr. Kinrade before long.

Mr. F. J. Thorold, city engineer of Toronto, was in the city yesterday, looking over the sewage disposal plant and inspecting the pumps. Toronto is now working on plans for a plant and Mr. Thorold's visit was made with a view of getting ideas.

The building committee of the Board of Education met last night to deal with the purchase of more property for Barton street school. The extension of the building may make more land necessary. The committee decided to leave the matter in the hands of Messrs. George Allan and Secretary Forster, with power to make the purchase, if necessary.

The cheque from the Street Railway Company has not yet come in. The explanation that the cheque could not be got ready before Manager Hawkins (Continued on Page 12.)

SCANDALOUS METHODS OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC PEOPLE.

Wentworth Farmers Declare That They Are Serving Illegal Documents In Effort to Frighten the Land Owners.

Two Owners Who Consulted Hamilton Lawyers Refused the Offer of $60 and Received $850.

A sensation is developing in connection with the Hydro-Electric Commission's methods of obtaining easements from farmers in this locality.

The plain, blunt statement is made by Wentworth farmers, on high legal authority, that fraud is being practised. They also declare that illegal documents are being served upon farmers for the purpose of frightening them into accepting terms which are little better than the confiscation of their land.

A few weeks ago agents of the commission went through Glanford township endeavoring to get easements. They asserted their right, the farmers declare, to take the easements whether the owners wanted to give them or not, and told the farmers that they had no say in the price—they must accept $60 for a 30 year easement.

That is at the rate of $2 a year per pole, with no account taken of the great danger from the high voltage lines and the Commission's men to have the right to go on the land, at any time, through standing crops, without even having to ask permission.

Believing that they could do nothing else, some of the farmers signed. Some did not. Two well-known men of the township came to this city and took the advice of one firm of lawyers. Others came in and consulted other lawyers. Having been posted they returned home and when the agents called again, told them they would not sign and positively would not allow them on their lands.

What followed in the particular cases which came under the Times' notice should be an object lesson to all land owners. The price offered, $60, was increased to $200. Still the owners refused. Then they were served with arbitration notices—illegal notices their solicitor afterwards assured them, for the act makes no such provision. So the $200 was firmly refused. On the next visit it was $600, and still refused. Finally $850 was offered and accepted. The owners even at that figure consider themselves badly treated. They valued what they were giving up at $1,500, but accepted $850 rather than have any further trouble.

In the meantime Mr. Lewis went to Toronto, and in the interest of Messrs. Wesley Smith and Samuel Isaac Hannon, interviewed Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General, asking for a fiat to enable his clients to apply for an injunction to prevent the Hydro-Electric Commission's agents from going on or taking possession of their lands. He was put off, has not yet received the fiat, and does not expect it.

Mr. Geo. S. Kerr, K. C., who has been consulted by a number of the farmers, also asked for a fiat, but has been able to get no satisfaction.

To-day Mr. Samuel Kennedy, of St. Ann's, Clerk of the township of Gainsboro, is in Hamilton on similar business. He consulted Mr. Kerr this morning.

"I am worried almost to death," said Mr. Kennedy to the Times, "by these power line men. They came to me and offered $200 for 30 years' easement through my orchard. That meant $25 for each of two trees and $15 for each of ten apple trees which they proposed to cut down. I refused. Then they came again and increased the offer to $300, agreeing to allow me $10 more for each tree. I could not think of accepting such an offer. Then they came back on Wednesday last, and this time Mr. McCormack, the general agent, was there. He spoke of serving arbitration papers. I told them I had to go to Toronto on Thursday and to Hamilton on Friday, and asked them to let the matter stand until I returned. And now I am advised that the arbitration notice is an illegal document."

Mr. Kennedy says the farmers in that section, Tory and Liberal, will fight the scandalous proceedings to a finish. WHAT THE ACT PROVIDES. For the benefit of those who are being thus used the following is printed:

Under the power commission act of 1906 power is given by the Ontario Government to the Hydro-Electric Commission to acquire easements from the farmers for the power line. This act does not contain any method of procedure or (Continued on Page 5.)

TWO FINED.

Illegal Fishing Cases Tried by Department's Magistrate.

Captain Alfred Hunter, game and fishery magistrate for Ontario, was in this city this week, and tried two cases. One was that of Mr. Corey, of the Beach, who was charged with fishing with gill-nets in the waters of the county of Halton, outside of his own limits, without a license.

The case was to have been tried at Burlington, but Mr. Corey appeared at the Waldorf Hotel, and, considering the circumstances, asked for leniency. Magistrate Hunter fined him $25. The question of the confiscation of 1,200 yards of net was reserved. Mr. Corey will be allowed to continue fishing in his own limits.

The second case was that of H. Knapman, charged with fishing with a drag net and catching minnows for bait. He pleaded ignorance of the law and was fined $5. A license will be issued to him so that he can carry on business according to law.

Inspector Kerr announced that the department will strictly enforce the law, especially in and around Hamilton, by its own magistrates.

SABO SENT UP FOR TRIAL.

Bogus Money Case Heard In Police Court To-day.

Kathleen Sullivan, a Simcoe "Lady," Pays Another Visit.

Black Maria Disturbs Society at North End Park.

Those who crossed the bridge of sighs this morning from the police court annex to the undesirable seats numbered ten.

Louis Sabo again appeared on a charge of uttering unlawful currency. The first witness was Mary Kazengar, at whose house Sabo boarded. She said that on Saturday last Sabo gave her a $50 bill to change and deduct $10.36 due her. After purchasing two dollars' worth of goods at a King street store she received $48 in change, and did not know the $50 was a Confederate States bill and not good.

She first met the prisoner three weeks ago, when he came to board at her house. Louis Levervie, who keeps a refreshment store at 426 James street north, said about three weeks ago prisoner called at his store, and, after taking some refreshments, asked him to change a $50 bill. Witness examined the money, and his suspicions were aroused, and he said he thought it was "funny" money. A $50 Confederate States bill was then produced and was recognized by Levervie as the sort Sabo had tendered.

Witness said that Sabo, when asked where he got the money, said a man went into his store in Pittsburg and asked him to change a $50 bill, but Sabo told the man he only had $45. "That will do," said the stranger. On another visit that Sabo paid to Levervie witness said he told him that he got the bill from his partner in business in Pittsburg.

Budimir Protich said the prisoner told him he had a grocery store in Pittsburg. H. D. Petrie appeared for the defendant and on behalf of his client declined to elect. Sabo was committed for trial and the case will likely come before Judge Monck next week.

Kathleen Sullivan, a "lady," whose womanly charms have been sadly spoiled by too close a friendship with Bacchus, was again charged with being soaked. Kate came over from Simcoe yesterday and proceeded to imbibe. Before noon it was found necessary to take her to King William street to cool off. Kathleen tripped into court this morning and when charged with being drunk," she said, "Beg pardon, your Worship, I was not in any such condition." Kate made "goo goo" eyes at the Magistrate, but he fined her $5 or twenty-one days.

James Phillips, James Gordon, Alfred Hobbs and William Lyle were charged with being drunk. Phillips and Gordon were further charged with being disorderly. Phillips spoke for the contingent and said they all met in the North End Park and decided to follow the pursuit of Isaac Walton for the afternoon, but before doing so it would be necessary to have a "wee drap of the cratur." P. C. Cameron sent for the Black Maria. During the journey to King William street Phillips and Gordon demonstrated that the school of philology they attended made a specialty of teaching the use of descriptive adjectives. These they hurled at P. C. Cameron. They were fined $2 each. Hobbs and Lyle were dismissed.

James Edgar is a tiller of the soil at Ancaster, but quite frequently comes to Hamilton. Yesterday he came to the city and imbibed too much. He paid $2 for his visit.

On behalf of their canines, James Caldwell and Luke Copley paid $2 each. Patrick Jackson, Grimsby, and Robt. Francom, Waterdown, wandered on the G. T. R. tracks. They were fined $2 each.

FRIEND OF LIFE TIME. Here is another of the sort of notes which come to the Times office every day, showing how dear the Times is to its thousands of readers scattered all over the country:

Blackheath, Aug. 4, 1909. The Times, Hamilton: I am enclosing you $4 subscription to the Times, which I have been taking for over 40 years. I cannot get along without my old favorite. Wishing you success, I remain, yours, etc.

G. Grassie. KILLED 12 CATTLE. (Special Despatch to the Times.)

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 6.—A Grand Trunk freight, running between St. George and Paris on Wednesday night, crashed into thirty head of cattle, which had strayed from the farm of Mr. Simons and got into the tracks. Twelve were killed and four more so badly injured that they will have to be destroyed. A trench one hundred feet long was dug for the buried.

Put your own shoulder to the wheel and then call on Hercules.—French.

CHIEF BACK. INTERESTED IN THE SUTTON TRAGEDY AT ANNAPOLIS, MD.

Mrs. Smith Has Not Completely Recovered From Injuries.

Chief Smith was back on the job this morning. His return to duty to-day caused somewhat of a surprise as he was not expected till Monday. However, he walked into the police court looking recuperated. He told of the railway accident he was in three weeks ago and which was reported in the Times at the time. In company with Mrs. Smith he left Toronto for the north at 4.30 p. m., and when nearing Caledon the train began to jolt heavily. Realizing that something serious was the matter he held on to the seat firmly.

Just then the tender left the track and swerved around at a complete right angle to the engine, which did not leave the rails. The tender pulled the coaches off throwing them at an angle of 45. At the place where the accident happened the embankment was 30 feet high.

The Chief and his wife were in the last coach, and it left the track. Mrs. Smith at the moment was standing up and was thrown across the carriage and sustained terrible bruises. The Chief escaped injury.

Among the injured were the brakeman, whose wrist was broken, and the newsboy, who sustained a broken leg.

Mrs. Smith still suffers from the shattered condition of her nerves as a result of the accident.

A WELCOME.

Hearty One Given to Rev. J. M. MacDonald.

A garden party was held on the fair grounds at Watford on Wednesday evening in honor of Rev. J. M. MacDonald, the newly appointed Presbyterian minister of Knox Church. There was a large turnout and a very enjoyable time spent. Among the reverend gentlemen who were present and extended a most hearty welcome to the new pastor were Mr. Douglas, of the Anglican Church, Mr. Walker, Methodist minister, and the late pastor, Rev. James Anthony.

The programme was composed of selections from Mr. Walter Edwards, entertainer from Toronto; recitations by Miss Campbell, and music by the Burlington Brass band. Refreshments were served on the grounds and the social was a great financial success.

The new pastor, Mr. MacDonald, was lately assistant in New St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, and comes to his new field with strong recommendations.

PASSED ALL.

Dundas Recommended Candidates All Successful.

Dundas, Aug. 6.—A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last night, at which Miss Wilson, of Fergus, was appointed upon the public school teaching staff. The Board decided to put the senior and junior third classes of the public school in the rooms formerly occupied by the first and second evenings of the high school. During the coming year it is expected that at the recent entrance examinations Principal Moore recommended 28 pupils, all of whom passed. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Principal Lees and his staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lees returned from their old country trip yesterday. This forenoon Miss Bernice Donald had one of her fingers taken off at the first joint by a machine she was operating in the Canada Canister Works.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 5.—Advices are received from Yokohama that Dr. Sakow, former President of the Nippon Sugar Company, concerning whose suicide after the trials at Tokio news was published, left a pathetic will in which he stated that he had determined on suicide for some time, having been impressed by a newspaper report regarding the failure of a company in which he was President. Sakow said he had willed until the Nippon Sugar Company's directors could reorganize.

Addressing his children he said he regretted poverty was before them, but he adjured them to "fight vigorously instead of deploring and loyally serve the country." He said his soul would promote the development of agriculture.

BANDIT CORNERED.

William Haney Said to be in Los Angeles, Cal.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 5.—William Haney, who, it is believed, was one of the men concerned in the train robbery at Ducks, B. C., in June, has been cornered by the Los Angeles police. He is desperate, and it is feared will put up a stiff fight with his gun before he can be taken. Haney is thought to be the bandit who escaped when Constable Isaac Decker, of Ashcroft, and another robber were killed in a fight on the Thompson River near Ashcroft. He was traced after the murder of the constable to Red Gulch, but there eluded the officers. Both the Canadian Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have offered a reward for his capture.

Love Finds the Way

To all this Clarence Clifford, with unchanging countenance, bowed profoundly, murmured a few low words of acquiescence and sauntered back, perfectly aware of the hundred eyes fixed upon him and the continual whisper, "There's the Clarence Clifford!" as he passed gossiping groups.

Fred Dalton caught his arm and led him to the conservatory, eagerly. "Don't spoil my coat sleeve," said Clarence Clifford. "What is it, Dalton? Head over heels again?"

"Yes, confound it!" replied Mr. Dalton. "A regular cropper, this time, Clifford." "And you want me to help you?" "Well, I'm almost ashamed, but a thousand pounds would set me right. You shall have a bill."

"Thanks, no. Bills are of little use, save as curiosities, and I don't collect. No gratitude I don't give it you for that; indeed, I don't, you all know that; I give it you for—"

"Because you are such a jolly good fellow!" broke in the grateful Mr. Dalton. "There ain't another man in our set who would have done it without a bill. But you shall have the money, all right, Clifford, I swear it!" and he held out his hand.

Clarence Clifford took it with a smile, half scornful, half sad. "Man's friendship and woman's love can always be bought!" he muttered, inaudibly, and then turned aside.

At that moment Lord Harcourt entered the saloon. "Who is that just entered?" asked Clarence Clifford. "Lord Harcourt. Don't you know him? Ah, no. I remember he was asking you who you were yesterday. He saw you go by on that iron-gray horse of yours. Lord Harcourt said his mouth watered for it."

"He will drown his teeth and yet not get it," retorted Clarence Clifford, grimly. "Oh, he is not a bad sort of fellow, is Harcourt?" Mr. Dalton ran on, in very different spirits to those he enjoyed before the interview. "He's a very good sort; regular man of the world, you know. Don't care for women, and all that sort of thing. Look at him, talking to my sister; she's been trying for him these last two years; but she'll never get him. We were staying together at Besant Towers."

Clarence Clifford started, too slightly to attract attention, and his lips shut tightly. "Where?" he asked. "At Besant's Towers, Harry Besant's place in Berkshire. Do you know Harcourt? Ah, no, of course not, you only came to town a few months back, and Harry doesn't show in London often. He's a great F. M. H., and is going in for Lily Melville, of Rivershall."

But Mr. Clarence Clifford evidently saw some one at the end of the room to whom he wished to speak, for before Mr. Dalton's sentence was completed he had gone. He passed Lord Harcourt on his way and the eyes of the two met.

They measured each other's height and bearing with a flash of the eye, and on both sides sprang to life unreasoning instinctive dislike. "So that is the Mr. Clifford one hears so much about, is it?" said Lord Harcourt, to his companion. "Good air with him, but looks bad-tempered. Where does he come from?"

"Oh, don't know. He's all right, though. Fibbs, the lawyer—Fibbs & Cracknell is the firm—is answerable for him. A certain Mr. Clifford died in Switzerland and left him five thousand a year—some say it's fifty, but it's only five, I know."

"He rides a good horse," said Lord Harcourt. "And keeps a good cellar. Young Dalton dines at his chambers often, and draws upon him sometimes. I fancy he has just had something."

"Ah!" said Lord Harcourt. "A money lender, eh?" "No," said his friend. "No—takes no interest, quite for love."

Lord Harcourt stared—with a sneer: "I can't understand it," said he. "No," replied his friend. "Anyhow, this Clifford is a generous fellow. Look at him now, that is no pennum boy he has just made to the prince, and, see, he is talking to the old dowager as cool as a cucumber."

Lord Harcourt did look, and kept his eyes open. He was always suspicious of mysteries. The room was getting more crammed each half hour. The prince had arrived and was talking to the prettiest girl in a comfortable corner; the duchess was imploring Mr. Clifford to sing.

"Do?" she begged. "I almost promised the prince he should hear you." "But Mr. Clifford remained firm—obstinate, the duchess inwardly pronounced—when, suddenly, a little girl, who had been clinging to her grace's skirts, caught his hand, and looking up at him with wide-open, beseeching eyes, warbled:

"Do thing, when the pretty lady ath-keth you?" "Clarence Clifford started, and, stooping, caught up the child and looked it in the face.

As he did so his lips trembled and a slight shudder ran through him. The only other child he had held in his arms had died there.

With the bitter memory of that night and the dreadful day preceding it, the man of fortune walked moodily to the piano, and immediately commenced to sing in a low, deep, yet sweet voice, a little pastoral.

The child drew near to him and leaned her head on his breast. The prince stopped short in the middle of a sentence, and Lord Harcourt moved that he might see the singer and scowled.

"Hem!" he muttered. "Rides well, talks well, bows well and sings well—a promising lad!" "Lad!" repeated a voice near him. "He might return the compliment then. 'I am a keen observer, my dear Miss Dalton,' he said, carelessly. 'Mr. Clifford is not old, though he may look it.' Miss Dalton shook her well-made head and pouted.

In the middle of the second verse a lady had entered; he had looked up at the slight noise, met the lady's gaze, and the song died upon his lips.

He had thought that only one face had the power to move him, but to his surprise, eye, almost consternation, one other beside that still loved one had; and that one a stranger. He had never seen the face before, not even in his dreams, and yet as his eyes rested on it and met the deep, peculiar expression, half sad, half restless, and wholly proud, a something seemed to knock at his heart and send the blood leaping through his veins.

But he could not sit there, silent, staring, for long. "Why don't you sing?" asked the child, and with a start, he averted his gaze and finished his song, but in a dreamy, unconscious, absent way that robbed it of its charm and set the disappointed listeners talking again.

The song finished, he rose hastily; but the child clung to him, and, gentle at heart as a woman, although the sneer was so on his lips and the scorn so ready in his weary-looking eyes, he could not disentangle his arm, but sat down and talked to it until the duchess, having received her last guests, came and took it away, much against the little one's will.

Then Clarence Clifford rose and looked round the room. The face and its owner were gone. So had Lord Harcourt.

Recalled to his usual calm and indifferent bearing by the thrill of disappointment that ran through him at finding the lady had gone, he sauntered up to Mr. Dalton, who was sitting with a literary celebrity and trying to understand him, and proposed that they should go to the club.

"With all my heart," said the young spendthrift, eagerly. "I say, old fellow, how jolly you sang; but what was the matter with the middle verse? Forgot it, eh?"

"Forgot it—yes," replied Clarence Clifford, absently. "Come." Arm in arm the two gentlemen were leaving the room, when suddenly Clarence Clifford withdrew his arm and said:

"Wait for me half a minute on the stair, will you?" Then he walked away. He had caught a glimpse of the face in one of the dimly lit ante-rooms.

What he sought, what object was to be obtained by following her he knew not; he did not even ask himself. He was moved by an uncontrollable impulse, as unreasoning as that which had filled him with dislike for Lord Harcourt.

Pushing aside the curtain, he was about to enter when a voice stopped him. He drew back, not to listen, but simply because he was half unconscious of the object, and, therefore, full of hesitation.

The lady was not alone. It was a man's voice, a gentleman's, a hard, curt, metallic voice that proclaimed as hard and metallic a heart.

"Leonora," it said, "I warn you. The time is drawing near. I will not, if you implore me on your knees, grant you another day over the stipulated one. You know me, you know how I am placed, you know—"

"Enough," came the woman's voice, and at its sound the hand of Clarence Clifford, grasping the curtain, shook and grew cold. "Enough of taunts, enough of warnings. Would I were dead to be beyond their reach!"

"Dead!" sneered the man's voice; "that is an idiot's paradise. Better live and grow wise; better live and do as I bid."

"Silence!" came the woman's voice. "I will bear no more. Keep to your bargain, base hound; the time has not expired; until it has done not to breathe warning or threat to me, or I—"

"What?" he sneered, as she stepped to gain breath, as Clarence Clifford saw, for she had pressed one trembling hand against her heaving bosom.

"What? Oh, what that is not awful!" she answered him, fiercely. "Better be in the grave, better be an outcast on the world, than live your slave, subject to your taunts, your vile sneers, your viler commands!"

She made a movement as if to leave him, but the man, whoever he was, stretched out his hand and caught her arm.

Thus arrested, Clarence Clifford saw her shudder, shrink as if with loathing and disgust, and heard her utter a smothered cry.

The blood that had been bubbling and careering within his young veins boiled over red-hot at this, and with the spring of a lion, as powerful, bloodthirsty and noiseless, he grasped the man's throat, shook him as he would have done a dog, and buried him back.

The lady staggered for a moment, but by dint of grasping the back of one of the high chairs kept herself from falling or fainting.

MRS. SEAGRAM DIED SUDDENLY.

Was Taken by Heart Failure at Summer Resort.

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 6.—A wire announced the death, at the Hotel Ottawa, Cushing's Island, Portland, Maine, on Wednesday night, of Mrs. Seagram, wife of Joseph E. Seagram, ex-M.P., of Waterloo. She had been one of a party of six who have been at that summer resort for the past three weeks. Death was sudden and unexpected. The remains arrived here this evening and will be interred in the Waterloo cemetery. She was about 63 years of age and was for many years active in the Anglican Church and philanthropic work. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. G. H. Bowley, Berlin, and four sons, Ed. F. and Joseph H. of Waterloo; Norman, of Buchanan & Seagram, Toronto, and Thomas, of the Bank of Montreal, at Hamilton.

WIFE KILLED.

Her Husband Arrested and Charged With Homicide.

New York, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Mary Ahern, wife of a truckman, was found murdered in her bed in her home in Long Island City to-day. Her husband, James Ahern, was arrested and charged with homicide. He declined to make any statement of the circumstances of his wife's death. Mrs. Ahern's head was crushed by a heavy box, evidently as she slept. Her husband lay across the bed in which his wife's body was lying when a daughter discovered her mother's death.

THE DRUG MERGER.

The old firm of John Winer & Co., merged with the other big drug companies into the National Drug Co., about three years ago, but continued business here as a branch of the National Drug Company. As the Dominion Drug Company also merged with the other big companies it was not thought necessary to have the two branches in this city so the Winer house will close up their store on King street and move over with the Dominion Drug Co., on MacNab street.

COOKING IN THE HEAT For the balance of this summer over a red hot stove will be replaced by very few housewives. And very few would do it if they knew the comfort, the time and the money to be saved by the use of a 1909 Artificial Gas Range. It is right up-to-date, is very economical and very substantial. For this week only the price has been dropped to $17.00. Phone 89 to-day. Our representative will call at YOUR home. HAMILTON GAS LIGHT COMPANY PARK STREET NORTH LACROSSE. The juvenile Tiger lacrosse team will clash with the fast Burlington Juvenile Lacrosse Club on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, at Victoria Park. The grounds will be roped off and everything arranged to give both teams an equal chance, as this is a very important game. If the Tigers win, they will be declared winners and will be eligible to go into the finals, which were drawn up by the C. L. A. Executive. The Tigers made a fine showing against the Blues, who were runners-up in the Toronto district. If the Burlingtons win this game they will be in the running. The Burlington team has been practising, and they have had a man coaching them all the week, and are going in with the determination of putting a crimp in the winning streak of the Tigers. The Tigers are not over-confident and have been putting in a good week's practice under the careful coaching of Ratelle. From inquiries and interest shown in this game, it is quite apparent that there will be one of the largest crowds that have turned out to see lacrosse in Hamilton.

HAIR DRESSING. Coiffeurs Trying to Bring Old Fashions Into Favor. The art of dressing the hair is passing through a transitional period at present. The profession of coiffure has pulled upon the advocates of frequent change, and the coiffeurs are endeavoring to introduce vague notions that used to be fashionable years ago. They are insisting upon the shape of the head being less disguised by protruding chignons and puffs than it was, and to that end are draping the hair closely round the head. Whether they will succeed in bringing back the horrible straight-cut fringe to the brow time alone will prove, although many girls will welcome the exact that it is fashionable to try for themselves whether this once universal mode of arranging the front locks is becoming to them or not.

SWIMMING. This week has been a very busy one with the swimmers, for what with the Hamilton championships last Monday (Civic Holiday), and the Dominion championships to-morrow at the R. H. Y. C., they have been practicing steadily. The club was well represented by the V. Y. C., and were fortunate in securing thirteen prizes out of the eighteen. Mr. E. Hall, one of the old stand-bys of the club, won the fifty-yard championship, and F. Lawrence, another favorite, won the hundred yard championship. They are also expected to make good in the Dominion championships.

WIFE KILLED. Her Husband Arrested and Charged With Homicide. New York, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Mary Ahern, wife of a truckman, was found murdered in her bed in her home in Long Island City to-day. Her husband, James Ahern, was arrested and charged with homicide. He declined to make any statement of the circumstances of his wife's death. Mrs. Ahern's head was crushed by a heavy box, evidently as she slept. Her husband lay across the bed in which his wife's body was lying when a daughter discovered her mother's death.

THE DRUG MERGER. The old firm of John Winer & Co., merged with the other big drug companies into the National Drug Co., about three years ago, but continued business here as a branch of the National Drug Company. As the Dominion Drug Company also merged with the other big companies it was not thought necessary to have the two branches in this city so the Winer house will close up their store on King street and move over with the Dominion Drug Co., on MacNab street.

PERSONAL. "Ma, what are the folks in our church getting up a subscription for?" "To send our minister on a vacation to Europe this summer." "Won't there be no church services while he's gone?" "No, dear." "Ma, I got $1.25 in my bank—can I give that?"—Cleveland Leader.

SATURDAY'S GAME. Manager Fred Bradley, of the West End Pleasure Club, is determined that no effort will be spared to enable the best of the Inter-city League, and with this purpose in view he has been hustling around all week in an effort to secure a couple of hard-hitting outfielders, with the result that at least two new men will be found on the Pleasure Club lineup at Britannia Park to-morrow afternoon in the game with the G. S. & M. team of Bradford, who are leading the second series. The Bradford team is the aggregation to beat, and the Pleasure Club will make every effort to overcome their one-game lead, with the result that a grand battle should result, resolving itself into a struggle between Southey and Southey and Willie Simpson. Both twirlers are in the best of form, and the Bradford team is showing a vim that was decidedly lacking in the first series, while the Pleasure Club supporters claim that the new JEFFRIES SETS SAIL ACROSS THE DEEP. He Issues Statement About Johnson and the Probable Fight—Johnson Fined in Toronto Police Court.

New York, Aug. 6.—James J. Jeffries sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamship George Washington, without waiting to have a personal interview with Jack Johnson. Neither did Jeffries show an inclination to be in a hurry about signing articles. He declared that he would leave everything to his manager, Sam Berger, who has absolute power to arrange every detail with the big negro.

"I will not throw a single obstacle in the way of this proposed fight," said Jeffries, before the big liner sailed. "I have posted my money simply to show that I mean business. Johnson has also posted $5,000, declaring that he wants to fight me. But, of course, that does not mean the match. I intend to be perfectly anxious to fight Johnson. I am naturally anxious to make all the money I can and want to have a $10,000 side bet, as well as the lion's share of the purse if I win, but you can say that if Johnson can raise the money to set aside a loser's end that will be ample to cover the follow-up expenses. But I am going to fight just the same and I am going to beat Johnson quickly. He has talked too much about the fight, but he is not a hard hitter. I never intended to return to the ring, but there has been so much talk about a negro holding the world's championship title that I have been forced to train again. As I have given my word I will not go back on it. I shall go to Carlsbad for about five weeks and will return here in the fall, when I will begin training in dead earnest. I am as hard as nails now and there is nothing the matter with my wind, in spite of statements to the contrary, and when I am ready to enter the ring I'll be exactly on edge. THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, AUG. 6, 1909.

A SPEC. FALSE PRETENCE.

A Reform contemporary objects to the Spectator claiming that the International Harvester Company settled in Canada because of the good old Conservative National Policy tariff that made it impossible for the Americans to do business in this country from across the border.

The "Reform contemporary" which look the organ to task for its fault was the Times. That its reproach was a merited one, all Hamilton and the Canadian public at large well know.

The N. P. tariff of 35 to 50 per cent. on agricultural machinery and implements prevailed for many years and not only did it fail to induce the United States to build establishments here, but under its blighting influence millions of capital invested in that line of industry was absolutely lost.

The old Mackenzie revenue tariff on agricultural implements was 17.12 per cent. And when the Liberal Government got the tariff into reformed and working shape it reduced Mr. Foster's "reduced" rate of 20 per cent. to 17.12 per cent.

The organ's assertions that the Laurier Government "abandoned its free trade professions, and turned Tory on the tariff question," and that "that is what brought the Harvester works to Canada," is about as false as any statements could be. The facts are open to all.

What fatuity led the organ to blunder into attacking the Laurier Government and policy in this matter? Could it not open its eyes to see the facts staring it in the face? The industry which went down to ruin under N. P., only a few representatives surviving its 35 to 50 per cent. might, now thrives and flourishes under a Liberal 17.12 per cent. revenue tariff.

A BIG DEAL ON.

The Ontario Government has abandoned its boastfully heralded policy of 1906 to keep that thirty acres of the Gillies limit on which the Provincial mine is situated, and will offer it for sale by tender on September 13.

This departure from the "vowed" policy of the Government, a policy introduced with much flourish of trumpet, is of the first importance. When announcing his policy on the floor of the Legislature Premier Whitney, on April 3, 1906, said: "It being ours, we are prepared to keep it, to use it, develop it and mine it for the benefit of the people of Ontario."

What has caused the Saul-like change indicated in the announcement now made? Two probable explanations are suggested: (1) The policy has proved a failure, the property failing to yield adequate returns upon the cost of operation; or (2) "The boys" want something, and they are to be given a chance, at the expense of the Province, to secure it in the sale of this Provincial mine.

There can be no excuse for sacrificing the immense wealth of the Province in any pinch for money. The Government boasts a large surplus, real or fictitious; it has imposed vast additional sums that are annually raised by the regular revenue, which it has in a few years about doubled; it has been diligent in its search for new subjects of taxation; and it has frequently, from time to time, floated millions in loans, two of which are now being peddled out to our own people.

What is the meaning of this haste to realize upon these assets of the Province? In whose interest is this latest departure? A recent sale of mining property which belonged to the Government has, it is said, been quickly followed by a very rich discovery thereon assuring the fortune of the purchaser.

SUNDAY ICE CREAM.

Judge Monck's view of the ice cream controversy is that the Lord's Day Act cannot be invoked to narrow the Sunday privileges of a bona fide restaurant keeper, and that if he serves meals, he is also entitled to serve to his customers any article or articles of food.

This may be regarded as opening wide the doors of the Sunday ice cream saloon, it being easy to adopt the restaurant shelter. But what of that? The opposite view involves even more difficulty. If a man may sell meals or lunches on Sunday—and we have not seen any proposal to forbid it—who shall be the judge of what is to appear on the bill of fare?

Judge Monck's decision is probably the only practicable one that could have been arrived at in the present condition of the law. And still something remains to be sought for. We do not think that it was the intention of the Legislature to establish the Sunday ice cream parlor; and that its wide-open establishment will be the result of the Judge's view prevailing is certain.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Now an expedition is to go to look for Captain Peary, the Arctic explorer. Some men never tire of being rescued.

The late Don Carlos has willed to the Pope cash and works of art to the value of $2,000,000. The business of pretenders to a crown would seem to be a paying one.

So all that picturesque yarn printed in a local contemporary about inland revenue officers looking for illicit stills in the vicinity of Dundas was a pure matter of fake. What do its deceived readers think of it?

An additional reason for the public fervently hoping that Thaw will have to stay in the asylum for criminal insane is that he contemplates "going into literature" if he obtains his liberty.

The "knocker" organ is now after Mr. A. B. Coleman, of the street railway, who it asserts has "not much but good intentions." Perhaps Mr. Coleman wishes he could honestly return even that compliment.

Last year the Dominion superannuation payments amounted to $372,841. The receipts on superannuation abatements with interest, amounted to $64,245. Superannuation appears to be a large-sized hole in the Dominion pocket.

Hamilton has been very lucky to escape a great calamity due to Hydro-jockeying for delay in the matter of the Beach pumps. How would the Stewarts and Hopkins feel if the city were to be overtaken because of their course?

"English," says a prominent Michigan man who has just returned from a tour around the globe, "is the business language of the world. One can get along in any port in the world with English." That is the experience of most world travellers. The "universal language" is already with us.

President Taft has signed the new U. S. tariff bill and Congress has adjourned. The conference report on the bill was agreed to by the Senate by a vote of 47 to 31. The bill is very far from being such a revision as the Republican party promised to the country, and President Taft himself frankly says so.

A local paper which is wedded to the advocacy of the frontage tax system of paving streets, points out the wretched condition of municipal morals in Montreal, but somehow or other it seems to think that the introduction of the frontage tax system would remedy the evil.

The United States tariff bill provision taxing foreign-built yachts $7 a ton annually, or 35 per cent. of their value, is raising much objection among the owners of pleasure craft, and there are threats of attacking the constitutionality of the measure. It is denounced as short-sighted and injurious to see the folly of such enactments made in the interests of those who cannot keep up with the procession.

Hon. Mr. Bower, Attorney-General of British Columbia, has returned from an enjoyable tour of the Mediterranean and the British Isles. He had a number of appeals before the Privy Council, in which he had set out to demolish the Dominion Government. He did not meet with a single success, however. But he talks just as big about the prospects of the Tory party as if he had scored in every case.

This is the centenary of the birth of Tennyson, one of the greatest, if not the greatest, poets of Queen Victoria's reign. He was one of the fortunate poets, living to win the regard of his country and the world, and to enjoy, during his life, the recognition of his abilities and worth.

The Toronto News has two commissioners visiting local municipalities, one writing up local opinion and the other writing it down. The peculiar feature of the matter is that each seems to regard it as his object in life to make out a case for the side which he champions, without caring very much whether the public gets a full and fair presentation of the subject.

Speaking at a dinner in British East Africa, Mr. Roosevelt spoke very highly of the country and prophesied for it a great future. Of British achievements he was particularly enthusiastic, remarking: "I believe that one of the best feats performed by members of the white race in the last ten years is the building of the Uganda railroad. I am convinced that this country has a great agricultural and industrial future, and it is the most attractive playground in the world."

The consolidation of telephone interests being brought about in the United States is expected to lead to great economies. One system of telephones with public regulation through commission control will save to the telephone users of the country millions of dollars annually; will avert the intolerable nuisance of double and triple telephone expenses and annoyance; will prevent a catastrophe to the country of a spread of municipal operation, and will secure to the public the cheapest and best service that it is possible to maintain.

Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, recently characterized the party which he leads as "the splendid, brave and fearless Opposition." The Toronto Telegram insists on amending this by introducing the following exceptions:

- A. The Opposition was not splendid.
B. The Opposition was not brave.
C. The Opposition was not fearless, being afraid to say that its soul was its own if Quebec, per a little crowd of Montreal strategists, said the contrary.
D. The splendid, brave and fearless Opposition was not an Opposition at all at the points where Laurierism most truly deserved to be opposed.

The only way that we can suggest to right things is that the Telegram retire Mr. Borden from the leadership of the Opposition and substitute John Ross Robertson. Perhaps he would be ready to sacrifice himself for his party and $10,000 a year.

That it will not be less in Canada are not available, but they must be in proportion to those of our neighbors. Using a Ring Life Preserver. On all steamships and many docks are life preservers of the ring type, to be thrown to persons struggling in the water. The proper way to approach or grasp such a life preserver in the water, says Popular Mechanics, is to take hold of the side and press down with all your weight. This causes the further side to fly up in the air and down over your head.

Origin of Tin Plate. The making of tin-plate originated in Bohemia, according to a recent paper by William E. Gray, hammered iron plates having been coated with tin in that country some time before the year 1600. Tin-plate making was introduced in England in 1665, the art being brought there from Saxony. In France the first tin-plate factory was established in 1714.

THE WHITE PLAGUE. Albany, N. Y., Aug. 6.—State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss to-day denied the application of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for permission to acquire real estate for the purpose of erecting a hospital for its employees and selected policyholders afflicted with tuberculosis.

EXPECTING MILLENNIUM. Convention of "Dippers" in Ireland Attracting Attention. Two Thousand Pilgrims Have Big Time in County Fermanagh. The Leader is Energetic and Many Are Being Converted.

Dublin, Aug. 6.—The third annual convention of the "Dippers," as the Cooneyites' revival in progress at Ballinacallard, County Fermanagh, is called, presents strange scenes of religious enthusiasm. It is the belief of the sect that the millennium may be ushered in at any moment, and prayer meetings are being held almost continuously.

John West, a well-to-do member of the sect, has placed his large house and grounds, Crooknacreeve, at Ballinacallard, at the disposal of the convention. The house accommodates 100 persons and the others of the pilgrims utilize the outbuildings and the spacious marquees erected on the lawn for sleeping purposes. Over 2,000 pilgrims are attending the convention.

The little colony is the realization of the idea of simple, self-supporting communal life, and should go far to please a Tolstoy. Sunrise each morning finds the encampment full of life and activity. All the pilgrims are dressed in coarse, plain clothing. The men are unshaven and wear rubber collars. On the heads of the women are straw sailor hats. All are busily engaged in manual labor or domestic duties—milk-making, butter-making, cooking, sewing, boot-making, carpentering, etc.—every one being assigned a daily task. Then follow intervals of devotional meetings, preaching, hymn singing and baptism. Energy is the keynote of the campaign.

Edward Cooney, the leader of the sect, is the son of an Enniskillen magistrate. He has a wonderful flow of language and his sermons are interspersed with racy anecdotes. He easily holds his followers during his long discourses. He preaches on the unweariness of all existing churches and the uselessness of worldly possessions. One of the favorite hymns of the sect concludes: "Neither carry scrip nor raiment. Neither shoes nor staves; Walk unburdened through the deserts, Through the wilderness and the sea."

The baptismal ceremony is performed in an adjacent stream running along the valley. The leader dons his boots and wades in the water to the centre of the stream. Then he gently lowers the convert backward until the entire body is immersed, after which the convert is assisted to the shore, while the pilgrims sing "Who Will Be Next?"

No money collections are taken up. Dinner and tea are freely given to all visitors to the convention, crowds of whom flock daily to see the "dippers." Many persons are being converted to the sect or reason of the energetic sincerity of the campaign, and are promptly admitted to the brotherhood. Thus far the convention has suffered no molestation. The pilgrims claim they travel without money, earning their way by manual labor. The men and women are separated in the devotional meetings.

To-night the Hamilton Ferry Company will begin a series of pleasant moonlight cruises on the bay and lake. There will be music on board for dancing, and the brisk demand for tickets indicates that this will prove a very popular feature for the balance of the season. Beginning next week, moonlight cruises will be held every Friday and Saturday.

The company is well pleased with the way in which patrons have shown their appreciation of this feature.

NEXT FRIDAY CIRCUS DAY. Great Street Parade Promised by Barnum and Bailey.

Was there ever a herald like the man who announces the approach of the circus? Was there ever a more grandiloquent utterance than his? Was ever one heard more willingly or who held his audience more surely? He comes out of the winter with a superb confidence; he moves briskly, he talks boldly, he proclaims the wonders of his tents in convincing superlatives. Everybody reads his proclamations and practically everybody responds with a pleasant anticipation for all—the young because the experience is new, and for those who are older because of the memories awakened—the memories of a boy or girl who years ago stood before the billboards and marveled at the unfamiliar animals and acrobatic feats there pictured, who stood in the throng upon the street and saw the parade go by and who later saw the reality from some hard-earned seat under the canvas.

The circus is a purely democratic institution, giving alike for the same price to the rich and the poor, and holding them all in the same thrall of expectancy and wonder. It has gone on so long that there seems to be no reason why it should not go on forever.

The herald of the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, which will give two exhibitions in Hamilton on Friday, Aug. 13, announces that the performance this year, while retaining the interesting features of previous seasons, will present new and startling acts. Promises are made that the street pageant will prove a free carnival of entertaining merriment.

There will be music on board for dancing, and the brisk demand for tickets indicates that this will prove a very popular feature for the balance of the season. Beginning next week, moonlight cruises will be held every Friday and Saturday.

No successful has the weekly outing for private parties, limited in number to six, which has proved to be the numerous requests that another trip be added, and after this every Monday and Friday afternoon will be set apart for mothers and their babies. The steamer John R. leaves the dock at the foot of John street at 2:30, and makes a two-hour cruise of the bay. The charges are trivial and it makes a very pleasant outing for the little people. The company is well pleased with the way in which patrons have shown their appreciation of this feature.

SWEDISH STRIKE. Stockholm Not in Darkness—Troops Patrol Roads.

Stockholm, Aug. 6.—The situation with regard to the labor conflict was intensified to-day when the workmen employed in the power station which supplies the electricity for lighting the capital joined the strikers. The service now is being maintained by officials of the lighting department. As the strikers have been preventing farmers from bringing provisions into the city, troops have been detailed to patrol the country roads. The military authorities continue to dispose of milk from the railroad stations for the use of children.

FOUND CUTICURA INDISPENSABLE. For Her Children—Little Girls Suffered with Itching Eczema Which Simply Covered Back of Head—Baby Had a Tender Skin, Too.

ALL PROMPTLY CURED BY "WONDERFUL OINTMENT"

"Some years ago my three little girls had a very bad form of eczema. Itching eruptions formed on the backs of their heads, which were simply covered. Before I heard of Cuticura, I used to try almost everything, but they failed. Then my mother recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I washed my children's heads with Cuticura Soap and then applied the wonderful ointment, Cuticura. I did this four or five times and I can say that they have been entirely cured. I have another baby who is so plump that the folds of skin on his neck were broken and even bled. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and the next morning the trouble had disappeared. I am using the Cuticura Remedies every day, and I can never recommend Cuticura sufficiently; it is indispensable in every home. I cannot find its equal. PAINFUL ULCER. On Foot for a Year. Healed by Two Sets of Cuticura. "I had an ulcer on my foot for a year or more and it was very painful as it was a running sore. I had a doctor, but his treatment did not heal it. About eight months ago I commenced to use Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. I used two sets and it is now all healed up. Mrs. E. PASSED THE WATER GRANT.

Finance Committee Supports the Mountain People.

Small Grants Made to Two Labor Union Picnics.

Will Issue $10,000 Debentures For Hospital Enlargement.

At the meeting of the Civic Finance Committee yesterday afternoon City Solicitor Waddell and J. P. Macleod, Assessment Commissioner, appeared to outline the request of the Grand Trunk Railway regarding taxes. It was stated that the company had paid taxes on bridges which are not assessable, and that the excess amounted to $400.

Mr. Waddell said that under the Assessment Act they were entitled to a remission, which the committee recommended, and the company will be credited for the amount on future taxes.

A deputation from the Trades and Labor Council appeared with a request for a grant of $250 to aid in the Labor Day celebration at Dundurn Park. Mr. H. Halford, of the Council, asked them not to consider last year's grant in estimating the gift, as a large amount had been collected from gate receipts.

This year everything would be free. Picnics, he said, generally take place in the city. They were going to keep the people in the city this time, and have them spend their money at home. They would possibly have a procession and the 91st Band, by reason of which they would be under heavy expenses. He assured the committee that the money would be well spent, and thought $250 small enough.

The committee granted $150. A letter was read from B. J. Greenstreet, stating that he is an expert on public abattoirs and cold storage, and would be at the city's service if they required an inspector along this line. The letter stated that he came from Chicago, and had a wide experience. The letter was read on file.

The City Auditor's report was read, and showed everything in first-class order. It was approved and adopted.

The petition from the Fire and Water Committee for a special appropriation of $200 to pay for power for operating the electric motor for the mountain water system was considered. Ald. Hopkins objected to the appropriation on the ground that it was not a legal contract in the beginning, and they had no authority to grant money to such work until it had been put on a legal basis.

The committee, however, took a favorable view of the mountaineers' requirements, and resolved to support the Fire and Water Committee.

With respect to the hospital building, the committee recommended that $10,000 debentures be issued out of the sinking funds to aid in building another storey on the institution for infectious diseases, more particularly for scarlet fever, owing to the prevalence of that disease.

With respect to the change in the Municipal Act with regard to advertising for local improvements, it is necessary to advertise in one paper only.

The committee recommended that a by-law be passed by which advertising would be done in only one paper, instead of three, and that the by-law be sent on to the Council for a first reading at their next meeting.

A deputation from the International Iron Moulders' Union asked for a grant towards the demonstration to be held here on Aug. 14. This will be the 50th anniversary of the founding of the International Union, and at least 7,000 outsiders are expected from Toronto, Guelph and other points. The object of the picnic is to raise a death fund.

The deputation stated that if they were working they would not ask for a grant, but would assess themselves. This, they said, was the first organization to bring people into the city, and they asked for an unstated amount. They were granted $25.

A recommendation was made that a by-law be passed prohibiting people from picking rags, bones and bottles from the city dumps. Some of the members suggested that this was some people's means of living, and that a large asset was realized from it. It was thought, however, that there was danger of infection from rags, bones and bottles, and the committee will recommend the Council to pass the by-law.

The committee will spend $35 on advertisements in the journal of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which body is to meet in Hamilton next month.

The "Hamonic" is a new steamer put in commission this year, and is the finest and most up-to-date vessel on the upper lakes. The fresh water sea voyage through Lakes Huron and Superior to Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Fort William and Duluth is a magnificent trip, and unequalled in America.

Home-seekers' excursion tickets, August 11th and 26th; September 8th and 22nd are good via this route and the return rates from Ontario points are very low. Winnipeg and return, $32. Edmonton and return, $42.50. Proportionate rates to other points in Western Canada. Tickets and further information from Chas. E. Morgan, city agent; W. G. Webster, depot agent.

Borax. It softens water. It soothes the skin. It is valuable in laundering. Put in water it saves soap and labor. But it is not added in the rinsing water.

Three tablespoons of borax should be allowed to a boiler of water. In starching linen the addition of a teaspoonful of powdered borax to a quart of water is advisable. Porcelain pans may be whitened by adding borax to hot water. Add more and scour if necessary.

Platinum is a By-Product. In British Columbia platinum is found in many of the alluvial gold workings, where it can be saved as a by-product. The saving of it in a small way is, however, attended with so much trouble that it has been practically neglected and no appreciable production made recently.

By the way, when is that fall boat going to sail? The social whirl has opened and is really good. "Seriously, when are you coming back?" "Lovely."

Deep tucks at the shoulders contribute to the front fullness which may either hang loose or be held in place at the waist by a belt or ribbon. China silk, dimity, lawn, challis and cotton crepe are all suggested for the making. The pattern is cut in six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. Size 39 requires 4 yards of 24-inch material.

GOOD SERVICE. Engineers Appreciate the Street Railway's Efficiency.

Mr. Geo. E. Waller, general passenger agent of the Hamilton Electric Railway system, yesterday received from Mr. Jas. Oliver, chairman of the local committee of arrangements of the recent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers convention, a letter expressing the Brotherhood's appreciation of the service given the great army of delegates while here. The letter reads:

Dear Sir,—On behalf of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of Hamilton, I desire to thank you and all members of your staff for the care and kind treatment extended to us and our visitors while on the cars of your company. It certainly is a great credit to you, Mr. Miller, your superintendent, and the other officials and employees to handle so many without an accident or complaint.

Will you kindly let them know that it was greatly appreciated. Again thanking you, I beg to remain, yours sincerely, W. F. Baines.

Harry K. Thaw's Attorney Opens Up on Sanford White.

Mother Was Near to a Breakdown While Testifying.

David N. Carvalho Swears to Genuineness of Letters From White.

White Plains, Aug. 5.—More stories bearing on the alleged moral obliquity of Stanford White—stories designed to show that Harry Thaw was not laboring under any delusions when he tried to protect young girls from the famous architect—were told to a crowded courtroom here to-day. They were related first by witnesses called in Thaw's behalf and then by Thaw himself.

Between these unsavory accounts came an illustration of mother love and filial affection that brought tears even to the eyes of those women who had refused to leave the courtroom when warned of the kind of testimony that was to come. This was the appearance on the stand of Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, the prisoner's white-haired mother. Adjournment was taken to-day just after Thaw had left the stand. He may be called again to-morrow. The attorneys will sum up on Saturday, and Justice Mills hopes to render a decision some time next week.

Charles Morschauer, Thaw's attorney, started off the day by calling to the stand David N. Carvalho, the handwriting expert, who told of episodes connecting Stanford White with two young women whom, it is alleged, he tried to ruin. One was Miss Mae McKenzie, an actress, who appeared several times at the trials with Evelyn Nesbit Thaw; the other's name was given as Sue Parker.

LETTER FROM WHITE READ. From Miss McKenzie, Thaw's attorney had obtained a note which figured in the trials as a "mushroom letter." White was represented as the author. It was read in court to-day. It was concerning this letter that Miss McKenzie had said, according to Thaw, that her father would have killed both her and White if he had seen the contents.

Mr. Carvalho testified as to an affidavit which he said Sue Parker made, describing an alleged attempt of White to ruin her when she first came to New York as a young chorus girl. He presented in evidence a number of letters, said to have been written by White to Miss Parker, which he said to Thaw's attorney bore the first trial for $500. She was to have received $500 more if the letters were used at the trials, but they never were.

When Mr. Carvalho began his testimony about White, District Attorney Jerome was reluctant to admit it. Defeated finally in his struggle to bar it, he expressed regret that evidence of this kind should once more mark a case already famous for its salacious details.

When Thaw himself took the stand, however, Mr. Jerome seemed anxious to let him tell all he knew, evidently with the idea that the witness' eagerness to talk on this theme would show him to be insane on the subject.

years she could not obtain an engagement at any theatre in New York. This incident occurred within a month of the events in the Madison Square tower room narrated at the trial by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

"This woman now," concluded Thaw, "is one of the foremost actresses on the American stage."

Mae McKenzie's story had been told earlier in the day, but Jerome evidently wanted to hear it from the lips of the prisoner. Thaw repeated it, beginning like a magazine story.

"During the fall of a certain year a girl came to New York from Boston," he said. "She was young and unsophisticated," etc.

According to Thaw, these were not all of the tales he could tell about the man he killed. He gave the location of four places he said White maintained for immoral purposes. One was in Maryland, near Baltimore. Thaw said it was called "the blind." The others were in New York.

Only once did the speaker say a word in his dead enemy's favor. "I believe," he said, at the conclusion of his narrative, "that White really was kind at times. He rather liked to be good than otherwise."

OLD MRS. THAW TESTIFIES. The aged Mrs. Thaw's appearance on the stand was pathetic. Before she had spoken two minutes her feelings overcame her and she wept. Thaw kept his seat, but his extreme agitation was very evident. A few minutes later his mother stopped again. Tears came to her eyes, she put her hand to her forehead and bowed her head.

Then Thaw could not restrain himself. Springing to his feet, he ran to the witness stand, put his arms about his mother's shoulders, patted her hair and whispered to her.

Mrs. Thaw nearly broke down on two other occasions before she finished, and once Josiah Thaw came to her assistance. But despite her tears, she insisted on "having it over."

She said that Delphin M. Delmas was engaged mainly for summing up in the first trial. He was to have received $25,000, but he got $50,000, she added, because Mr. Gleason told her son that Mr. Delmas would drop the case if he were not paid more.

"Was there considerable quarrelling among your son's lawyers?" asked Mr. Morschauer.

"Yes, I heard so. I think each of them wanted to be the greatest." "Did they resign?"

"No, I fancy a lawyer rarely resigns." Mrs. Thaw said that 38 members of the Thaw family were now living. Then she related her son's early life history, which she illustrated by two baby photographs. She said that his speech, instead of being nearly unintelligible, as former witnesses had testified, was defective only in the pronunciation of two letters.

The other witnesses to-day included two former teachers and a former friend of Thaw, who declared that he seemed perfectly normal when they knew him.

CARVALHO TAKES STAND. David N. Carvalho was the first witness when court opened this morning. Mr. Carvalho, who sat by Thaw all through the first trial, declared that Thaw was "worried" by his counsel. He spoke little, said the witness, and made his suggestions mainly by notes.

The witness said Thaw discussed with him a letter alleged to have been written by White to a girl whom Mr. Carvalho mentioned as May. Thaw said this girl told him that she had burned the letter because she feared, if her father saw it, he would kill both White and her.

The letter was offered in evidence and the audience figuratively stood on tip-toe while the attorneys wrangled over its admission. It was finally admitted, Jerome expressing regret that such testimony should be brought out.

The letter was dated April 11th and was as follows:

"I am the most awful fraud when it comes to letter writing. It is no use. I have what Peter Dooling calls 'write-phobia,' and a bad case at that. I am glad you are having such a good time. A dose of hope, after all, is the very best medicine any of us can take. Whatever you do, however, do not come back prettier or more alluring than you were, for under those circumstances, I could not be responsible for my actions, and there would be real trouble and COST HIM $55. Puglist Johnson Fined at London For Automobile Speeding.

Nearly Ran Down a Woodstock Auto in Histrory.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Woodstock, Ont., Aug. 6.—Puglist Jack Johnson's flying progress through the country from Toronto to Detroit was abruptly checked last night, when, at the request of the Woodstock police, he was arrested in London, charged with violating the speed limit, which is 10 miles an hour. Incidentally, between Woodstock and Ingersoll, while running forty miles an hour, Johnson's long-nosed racing car narrowly escaped colliding with W. D. Robson's more modest automobile, with what would have been disastrous results in all probability.

About 8 o'clock Johnson and his manager, Mr. Little, passed through Woodstock at a great speed. Johnson was driving. Five miles west the driver of Robson's car, which had been ahead of the fighter, turned to come back east. As they were turning on his road again Johnson whizzed by in a cloud of dust squarely in the centre of the road. The car was as nearly flying as could be and stay on the road," said Robson. The big car grazed Robson's automobile and passed at lightning speed. No apparent effort was made to avoid a collision.

Hobson returned to the city and informed the police, with the result that information was laid at once, and Chief Thompson wired London and other places to look out for the speeder. He was taken in charge at London and the local authorities were notified. Later he interceded with the authorities, leading an important engagement at Chicago. He was allowed to plead guilty to the charge in London, and was fined the maximum fine of fifty dollars and costs, $55 in all, which amount will be transferred to the local exchequer. Johnson was then allowed to proceed.

machinery whereby if the compensation is not satisfactory to the farmer, he can ask to have an arbitration board deal with the matter to fix what amount is fairly due to him for the land and for the easement which he gives up out of his farm for the Government use. Neither does the act contain any provision whereby the Hydro-Electric Commission can refer the question of compensation to arbitration or enter into possession of the lands or to enter upon the use and enjoyment of the easement.

The fact that the act does not contain these provisions has been pointed out to the Attorney-General of the Province and to the solicitor of the commission, and it has been commented upon freely in the Provincial press; notwithstanding this, the Government has served notices upon the farmers who would not consent to be deprived of their land upon what they thought were unfair terms, telling them that if they refuse or fail to convey the easements to the commission that the question would be submitted to arbitration and three days after the tender the commission would authorize possession to be taken of the easement.

It will, therefore, be seen that the Hydro-Electric Commission is apparently attempting by means of an illegal document to scare the farmers and to force them through fear of the consequences to accept terms which they have already refused to agree to.

The commission has gone a long way in validating illegal contracts, staying proceedings in pending suits, and denying access to the courts of justice, but this attempt to scare the farmers by fear of legal proceedings, arbitration, law costs and sheriff's officers, is far beyond anything that has previously been attempted.

One would have hesitated to believe that such a document could have been issued by the Government of the Province of Ontario through the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, had it not been that it bears the signature of a solicitor for the commission.

Under the circumstances, no farmer should parley or negotiate further with the agents of the commission, but simply refuse to sign any documents whatever, and in case of an attempt to enter into possession or to deposit any material on the farms, legal advice should be taken from the best solicitor available.

When a Provincial Government sets out to make such a deal with the people by such methods, it is high time that the farmers affected should look sharply after their own interests.

She Wasn't Sure. A famous baseball player has a younger sister, who is intensely proud of him, although not very familiar with the national game. Mentioning his name one day to a visitor, the latter asked her what position her brother played.

"Why," she stammered, "I'm not sure, but I think he's a batter."—Lippincott's.

ANDERSON BACK.

ALLEGED BANK SWINDLER ARRIVED YESTERDAY.

Man Wanted by Police of Four Countries—Will be Arraigned on Two Charges of Passing Worthless Cheques—Detective Murray's Story.

Toronto, Aug. 6.—John A. G. Anderson, the former ledgerkeeper of the Montreal street branch of the Bank of Montreal, whose arrest in Vancouver two weeks ago brought to an end a journey over two continents, in which he cashed worthless cheques to the value of several thousands of dollars, was brought back to Toronto yesterday afternoon by Detective Alex. Murray, of the local police force, who was sent out to the coast for him.

Detective Murray brings back with him evidence against Anderson in the form of two rubber stamps found on the ex-bank clerk when he was captured. One of these is the Bank of Montreal "accepted" stamp which Anderson is alleged to have used in passing his worthless cheques in England, France, the United States and Canada. The other is an "entered" stamp of the same bank.

Anderson's story of his wanderings since he left Toronto several months ago, as he told it to Detective Murray on the way down on the train, is a remarkable one, particularly with regard to the ground that he covered. On leaving Toronto on March 9 last he went to Buffalo, and from there to New York, where he booked passage to Liverpool. Next he visited London, where he stayed at the Hotel Cecil. Then he crossed the Channel, stopped long enough in Paris to cash a good-sized cheque and then came back to New York.

In the next few weeks he visited Denver, Col., Los Angeles and San Francisco, touching at Chicago on his way back to Toronto. He remained here but one day, when he passed the cheques on the T. Eaton Company. Then he started west, touching at Detroit, St. Paul, Seattle, and Victoria, B. C., winding up at Vancouver, where the hand of the law came upon him. In practically all of the places visited by Anderson he is alleged to have passed worthless cheques.

Some of Anderson's cheques were, according to his story told to Detective Murray, passed under rather amusing circumstances. At Chicago, just before he came back to Toronto, he was short of funds. Writing a cheque for $200 he went to a Hebrew second-hand dealer and told him a story of being penniless and forced to wait for identification papers before he could cash a cheque he had in his possession, winding up by offering his coat for sale. The Hebrew asked to see the cheque and upon inspection decided that it was all right. The chance of making a little easy money out of a man who was too "hard up" to make any decided objection was too good to pass by, so the Hebrew offered to cash the cheque at a discount of 10 per cent. Anderson appeared to demur at the rate, but finally accepted $180, leaving the Hebrew with a worthless piece of paper which he fondly believed represented a deal with a margin of 20 per cent profit.

THE WRONG WAY.

THINGS NOT RUNNING SMOOTHLY AT DEFENCE CONFERENCE.

Sir Frederick Borden at United Service Club Banquet Tells That Canada Could Put 50,000 Men in the Field at Once if Need Be.

London, Aug. 5.—A colonial delegate to the Imperial defence conference remarked today: "All we are doing is so far absolutely secret. All I can tell you is that things are going the wrong way, and I'm sorry for it."

At the United Service Club dinner to the delegates to the Imperial defence conference, Major-General Arbuthnot in the chair, Sir Frederick Borden, speaking in response to the toast "Guests," said:

"Some few years ago the forces of Canada were an unorganized mob. Now we have our different departments in the army, and we could at once put 50,000 men in the field and in a few weeks another 50,000." (Cheers.) They were also going to try to do their duty in regard to the navy. At the moment they in Canada were convinced that there was no danger of risk they would do as they did at the time of the South African war; they would come to the rescue of the Empire with all the money they could get and all the men that might be necessary in order to help this country man its fleets. (Cheers.) They in Canada were going to begin at once to do their duty, to lay the foundations in building up a navy which when trouble arose would co-operate with and be part of the great British navy. (Cheers.)

General Smutz, of South Africa, said: "Blood is thicker than water, yet in another sense there is something that is thicker than blood: the tie of honor was even greater and stronger." (Cheers.) He hoped as time went on it would be more and more realized that it was no tie of blood which held them together, but the tie of community of interests, justice, fair play, and equality. (Cheers.)

MINISTER DIES IN WOODS.

Rev. E. S. Morris Believed to Have Wandered to St. John.

St. John, N. S., Aug. 5.—The authorities have received information that the body of a man found in the woods some across from the city more than two months ago was that of the Rev. E. S. Morris, a Protestant Episcopal clergyman of Wrexham, Wales, who had come here while mentally deranged.

Intimation of the identity was received in a letter from Edward Morris, of Wrexham, telling of a lost son. A relative of the Morris family on this side of the water later practically confirmed the belief that the dead man was the missing clergyman. He had held several charges in South Wales. His health gave way about a year ago and his mind became unbalanced. Friends, after tracing him to Liverpool, found that he had sailed for Canada. He died by accident.

THE KICKING MAN.

If women should work and men should weep, And things should be turned around, If people should think with their noses, And their eyes have every sound; If cows were bipeds and went to school, And birds walked on their wings, Now, wouldn't that be a terrible stew, A ridiculous state of things?

The world is full of people who want The order of being switched; They'd have the hunted turn in to hunt And they want the foot-free hitched. There's nothing that seems to them just right, And they're always splitting hairs; If they had their way there surely would be A ridiculous state of affairs.

Now, personally, I have me doots That the world is exactly right, But I'm satisfied, if the day be fair, To have an indifferent night. I'm pleased, indeed, to admit the rain, If the sun shines now and then— And to meet a booster here and there I'll stand for the kicking man!

TORE UP FLAG.

An Erratic Detroit Let Loose in Windsor.

Windsor, Aug. 5.—Vincent Brennan, of Detroit, created a lot of excitement here late last night, when he attempted to run his automobile through the crowded streets. After he had nearly run down Chief of Police Willis he was placed under arrest.

Brennan's machine was decorated with American and British flags, and when one of the crowd grabbed the Stars and Stripes the Detroitier proceeded to tear the British emblem in shreds as a retaliatory measure, which, however, would have resulted in further trouble had not the police promptly surrounded the auto and kept the people back.

In the Police Court this morning Brennan was fined $25 for fast driving, and being without cash he left his $3,000 car as security for his liberty.

A VAIN SEARCH.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Lost in Woods Near Halifax.

Halifax, Aug. 5.—Earl Hines, the eight-year-old son of John Hines, foreman of Longard Bros., engineering firm, strayed into the woods at Prince's Lodge, six miles from the city, yesterday, and up to midnight had not been found, although hundreds of men, soldiers, police and citizens have been scouring the woods for thirty hours. The little fellow attended the picnic of the Park Street Presbyterian Church, which was held at Prince's Lodge yesterday, and about 2 o'clock he strayed into the woods and failed to return.

With a younger brother he was picking ferns, and after gathering a few, the smaller boy returned to his mother, who had accompanied them on the picnic. Earl did not come back, but continued on in the woods, so the boy who returned states, and that was the last seen of him. Soon after the boy was reported missing fifty men started back in the woods and they searched until dark, but failed to locate him. The police and a squad of soldiers were despatched from the city.

BOUNTY-FED IRON.

It Is Coming Into Competition With British Product.

London, Aug. 5.—Respecting Canadian bounty-fed steel, the Glasgow Herald asks gravely: "Is it right, from an Imperial view-point, that Canada should grant bounties on the production of material exported in competition with the mother country? Is it right that bountied Canadian iron should be shipped even to the mother country if it is to be there sold against British iron?"

"This question of bounties on manufactures within the empire will have to be fought out. It should be one of the subjects taken up with earnestness at the next Imperial Conference."

BOMB IN BOX.

Infernal Machine Discovered by Workmen at Victoria, B. C.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 5.—A sensation was caused at the Victoria Machinery Depot today by the discovery of an infernal machine in the toolbox where the boilerfakers store their tools. In a yeast tin, powder, rivet-heads, and iron filings were placed with matches, with the heads placed so that the slightest friction would explode the powder and scatter the missiles. The bomb was found by a boilermaker, who took off the top to investigate and, miraculously, the thing failed to explode.

No trace was found of the maker, nor can Mr. C. J. Vopratt, manager of the Victoria Machinery Depot, the police, or others give any explanation of the reason for placing the bomb in the tool chest. As far as can be learned there is no trouble among the men employed in the shops.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT OF CHAS. H. PLITCHER'S NEVER MADE MISTAKES.

San Francisco Bank Claimed to be Infallible.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—The Seaboard National Bank has had an experience that left its belief in its infallibility gasping for breath. Also the experience cost it a couple of hundred dollars. A man from the firm of Johnson & Nelson asked the paying teller for $6 in nickels. The teller showed over a paper roll of coin.

When the rolls were opened they were discovered to contain $5 gold pieces—120 of them, totalling $600. The customer nearly fainted. Then he asked the paying teller if he hadn't made a mistake.

The paying teller hadn't seen the contents of the package. Besides, it is the policy of every bank to inculcate the doctrine of its infallibility. "We never make mistakes," was the calm reply.

The customer left scratching his head. Some hours later he was reached by a frantic telephone call. But by that time the customer thoroughly understood that the bank never made mistakes. The bank got back all except $200 of its extra money by the process of buying it back.

ATTACKED BY MOB.

Militia at Dominion No. 1 Colliery Called Out.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 5.—The detachment of the Royal Canadian Regiment stationed at Dominion No. 1 was called out at 11.30 to-night to quell an attack made upon a train going from the Dominion to the Reserve. The attack was made in a lonely place, and sticks and stones were freely used by the mob. It was thought that the train had a number of men coming in to work on board. Word was telephoned to the military quarters at No. 1, and the troops there got under arms and went to the scene. The output of the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company to-day was very close to the ten-thousand-ton mark. The banking station was not quite up to the previous day's production, but about five hundred tons more were secured from the collieries. The company claim that a number of men came back to work to-day at the different mines, and they expect a very good production to-morrow.

DRINKS FOR ALL.

Charles Stitch Undertook to Treat Concert Hall Crowd.

New York, Aug. 5.—A dispute over a $29 bar-bill, which furnished drinks for 290 persons at a Coney Island concert hall this afternoon, ended with a shooting affray, in which Charles Stitch, a Brooklyn machinist, received a bullet wound from which he probably will die. Stitch, who had started out to "do" Coney Island, entered the concert hall in a jovial mood and invited everybody present to have a drink. According to the bartender, 290 persons responded, and a check for $29 was handed to Stitch. He declared that the amount was preposterous, and drew a revolver. Instantly the crowded hall was in an uproar, and a dozen waiters rushed upon him. In the struggle several shots were fired, one of which winged a waiter, while another entered Stitch's head.

DAMAGE BY STORMS.

Manitoba Crops in Many Places Destroyed—Storm at Winnipeg.

A Winnipeg correspondent telegraphs: Reports from the country to-day continue to tell of added ravages by hail, and the damage is much more widespread than ever before. Indeed, it is estimated to-night that at least 700,000 acres have been devastated. Two whole townships north of Langham were hailed out yesterday, and several more townships around Hanley suffered a similar fate. Storms of terrible intensity still continue, Winnipeg being swept by one of the fiercest of the season this afternoon, which was accompanied by hail and torrential rain.

PASSENGERS HURT.

C. P. R. Atlantic Express Derailed at Woman River.

North Bay, Aug. 5.—The C. P. R. Atlantic express, due at North Bay at 8.35 to-night, was derailed at Woman River, two hundred miles west of here, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The express was speeding along at a good rate, when without warning of any kind, the passengers were startled by a terrible shock and the crash of smashing timbers as the cars left the rails and rolled down a six-foot embankment. Two Pullmans, one observation car, and a first-class car were piled up at the bottom of the hill, and investigation revealed a number of passengers injured, but none seriously, as far as has been ascertained.

FOUR DROWNED.

Seven Were in Leaky Punt But Three Escaped.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 5.—Four men lost their lives by drowning to-day in Charlottetown, P. E. I. A lobster boat containing eight men left Charlottetown in the afternoon for Rocky Point, a pleasure resort opposite Charlottetown, to arrange for a picnic to be held there next Monday. On arrival at Rocky Point it was necessary to anchor the sailboat and land in a punt. This punt was a very leaky craft, and seven of the men boarded it and began rowing for the shore. The boat leaked badly, and when half the distance had been traversed it, notwithstanding all efforts to ball it, sank with its occupants.

Four of the men were unable to swim and were drowned. Their names were Ephram Gallant, Harry Gallant, James Bennett, of Charlottetown, and Daniel McAduly, of Tracadie. The other three reached land after a hard struggle. Ephram Gallant leaves a widow and one son. The others were young men, from 20 to 25 years, and unmarried. The bodies were recovered a short time after the accident.

STOLEN BILLS.

Last of Traders Bank Unsigned Notes Appear in Frontenac.

Kingston, Aug. 5.—Bills on the Traders Bank, and stolen from a C. P. R. train some months ago, are reported to be in circulation in North Frontenac. The bills are insufficiently signed, as they do not bear the name of the manager of the bank at Toronto.

Detectives are at work and are seeking to trace the bills back to the original passers. They have descriptions of men seeking to get rid of them at country stores and country stations.

LITTLE BOY KILLED.

Ten-Year-Old Son of Isaac Roberts Run Over at Vanessa.

Brantford, Aug. 5.—The ten-year-old son of Isaac Roberts, a farmer at Vanessa, Brant County, last night while playing with companions attempted to run a threshing machine standing on the road. As he did so a little girl struck at him as if to tag him. Her motion frightened the horses attached to the machine, with the result that they started up. The wheels passed over the boy's chest, killing him instantly.

INDIA'S BUDGET.

Statement in British House of Commons is Optimistic.

London, Aug. 5.—In introducing the Indian budget in the House of Commons to-day Hon. Alexander Murray, master of Ellbank, Parliamentary Under Secretary to the India Office, stated that India's present condition was very hopeful, though, owing to past depression, there was a deficit of $10,150,000. He eulogized Lord Kitchener's work as commander of the forces in India.

Referring to the murder of Sir William Curzon Wyllie, he said that amid all the froth and foam of a few sensationalists the mass of the peoples of India remained unmoved.

ROBBER KILLED

After a Battle in a Minnesota Lumber Yard.

White Bear, Minn., Aug. 5.—In a pitched battle, during which a posse exchanged five hundred revolver and rifle shots with Robert Pohl, who had robbed the State Bank here, Pohl was finally killed, but not until he, too, had shot dead Edward Larkin, one of the members of the posse. Pohl, who is believed to have been a former convict, took a small cheque to the bank early to-day, and while the cashier was examining it, Pohl produced an automatic rifle, demanding all the cash in the bank. He was given $500, and as the robber dashed out of the bank, the cashier spread an alarm and a large crowd was speedily armed and in pursuit.

THE GILLIES LIMIT MINE.

Other Portions of the Limit to Go at the Same Time.

Include Royalty of Ten Per Cent. at Mouth of the Pit.

This is the Mine Whitney Said They Would Not Sell.

Toronto, Aug. 6.—An announcement of great importance, and one which will occasion general surprise, though perhaps not among those who have closely followed developments in the northern mining region, was made by the Provincial Government yesterday.

Mr. Thomas W. Gibson, Deputy Minister of Mines, after a conference with Hon. Frank Cochrane, is preparing an official prospectus of the exact condition of the mine, its operations and the results attained, which will be placed at the disposal of prospective purchasers.

THE PLEDGE OF 1906.

The Mail and Empire's report on April 4, 1906, of the Premier's speech on the future of the limit was in part as follows: "There is another question on which the public mind should be set at rest—namely, in regard to the Gillies timber limit. It is understood that a portion of the limit consists of very valuable ore-producing lands.

The limit is now withdrawn from prospecting. The holders of the limit have disposed of the timber on that portion supposed to be rich in minerals, and it is now being removed. Of course there is great curiosity as to what the action of the Government will be, and there has been considerable discussion as to whether on October 1, the day by which the timber is to be removed, the Government will dispose of this mineral-bearing land in the usual way or divide it up in small lots and auction them off.

At the time the Premier made his statement in 1906 it was stated that the whole of the Gillies limit, which lies just south of the Cobalt ore-bearing area, was about 100 square miles in extent.

In the Legislature on April 9th, 1906, Mr. C. N. Smith, then member for South St. Marie, inquired as to the work done on Gillies Limit Mine. In the Globe of April 9th, 1906, the Premier is reported as follows: "Premier Whitney said that the mine on the Gillies limit belonging to the Government would be managed by the Government as a business proposition."

TRIED TO KISS HIM.

Homer Wells Escapes From Hospital, Scars Children on Streets.

Niagara Falls, Aug. 6.—Homer Wells, a patient at Mount Saint Mary's Hospital, suffering from delirium tremens, jumped from a window in the first floor yesterday afternoon in his night shirt and began a wild chase down Sixth street, falling into the arms of Chief Lyons at Niagara street.

He was arrested yesterday, and at police headquarters was in a bad way from a continued fight against the attempts of reptiles to kiss him. Now and again he would dart under the cell bed and fight off the advances of the reptiles. Finally, it was decided to remove him to Saint Mary's for treatment.

This afternoon he complained that the advances of the brass were more insistent than ever and during the absence of attendants, he made away.

His progress down the street was marked with several attacks of hysteria. Little children playing in the highway were sent scurrying to aprons pell-mell, finally gathering courage to join the company which took along in Wells' rear. The patrol wagon was called and Wells was returned to the institution.

BILLY SUNDAY.

Muncie, Ind., Merchants Protest Against Evangelistic Services.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 6.—The Muncie Merchants' association has adopted a protest against the bringing of Billy Sunday, the ex-ball player and present evangelist, to this city for a series of meetings.

The protest sets out that the merchants are not opposed to church services, but they don't need any undue excitement in the city, and above all things they want quiet and peace.

They say that for about two years business conditions in Muncie have not been as good as they formerly were, but that conditions are now much better and they are anxious that nothing be done to hurt the rapidly improving situation. The street car riots of a year and a half ago, the general election last fall, and the prospective city election next fall have all tended to disturb the city, and they are seeking to avoid anything else that would distract the public from normal things.

MAY SUTTON Breaks Troth With the Son of a Mexican Banker.

Pasadena, Cal., Aug. 6.—May Sutton, woman's tennis champion, has broken her engagement to Harry B. Ham, son of George L. Ham, a wealthy banker of Mexico City. The engagement was announced only last month.

"We will call it all a jolly," she said to-day. "It is all off, and I am glad I still am foot loose and fancy free."

"After defending my title in southern California next Saturday, I am going east to play the game of my life, forgetting such things as engagement and marriage. I am just a girl. Why, I won't be 'skiddoo' for a few months yet, and I don't think it's fashionable for a girl to marry before she is 25, anyway."

It is reported here that Miss Sutton recently heard young Ham was something of a gay deceiver in Mexico and has been engaged frequently before.

STOLE CHILD. Bear Carries Off Baby in Northern Michigan.

Cheboygan, Mich., Aug. 6.—Reports reached the city this morning that a large black bear had carried away a baby 18 months old while the mother was picking huckleberries on the MacIntosh plains, about 10 miles out of town.

The mother, a Polish woman, whose name cannot be learned, led the child sleeping in charge of another child, eight years old. The bear suddenly appeared from the bushes and started away with the little one, frightening the older child nearly to death. The mother went into hysteria, and was scarcely able to tell what had really happened.

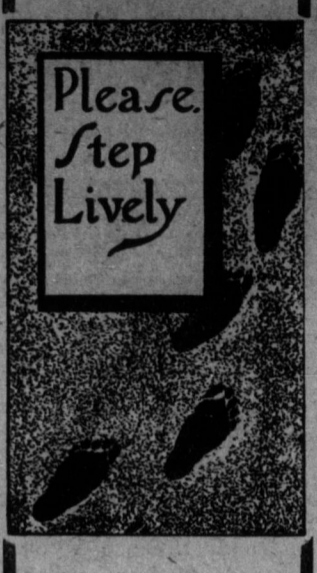

Sheriff Cline despatched a posse of 10 men in charge of Deputy Sheriff Finn and County Surveyor Bowen to the scene but they were unable to find any trace of the child or the bear.

For next week "The Middleman" will be the offering. This is no doubt one of the best plays ever written, and as new scenery and effects have been secured, a really good production will be given.

GOLD BRICKS. Seattle, Wash., Aug. 6.—Gold bricks weighing 2,400 pounds and worth more than half a million dollars were received in the Government assay office to-day, coming through the mail from Fairbanks, Alaska, via Vancouver, B.C. GOOD SHORT STORIES

AN OLD PHILOSOPHY. A Philadelphia man was in great distress one morning not long since by reason of the delay in serving his breakfast.

"I wish you'd go to the kitchen," said he to his wife, "and see what the trouble is. I've an appointment at 9." The wife complied with his request. When she returned to the dining room the husband observed a strangely melancholy expression on her face.

"Well," asked he, impatiently, "did you tell the cook that I wanted my breakfast immediately?" "I did."

"And what did she say?" "She said," responded the wife, "that we all have our disappointments."—Cleveland Leader.

A RARE TREAT. Dennis was doing his best to speak respectfully of the dead.

"Yes," he said, "Molke was a fine man. Honest, straightforward, hard-working, ginorous."

"Ginorous?" replied Barney, rather doubtfully. "Did you ever know of his treatin' any one in all his life?" "Well, he nearly treated one."

"Nearly treated?" "Yes," he remembered once he dropped into Cassidy's when th' boys were all there. "Well, lads," he sez, 'what'll we have?'—with a wave of his hand toward the bar. "What'll we have?—rain or snow?"

NON-PLUSSER MR. GLADSTONE. Miss Dorothy Drew, who was presented at court a few days ago, was the favorite granddaughter of the late W. E. Gladstone, and among the stories told of her childhood days is the following: One morning she refused to get up, and all other means failing, Mr. Gladstone was called to her. "Why don't you get up, my child?" he asked.

"Why, grandpa, didn't you tell me to do what the Bible says?" replied Dorothy. "Yes, certainly." "Well, it disapproves of early rising—says it's a waste of time," rejoined the child. Mr. Gladstone was unable to agree, but Dorothy was sure of her ground. "You listen, then," she said, in reply to his exclamation of astonishment, and taking up her Bible, she read verse 2 of Psalm 127, laying great emphasis on the words, "It is vain for you to rise up early."

RICH GOLD FIELD. Veins Discovered in Paying Quantities in Three Townships.

Matheson, Aug. 6.—A new gold field has been discovered, which promises to make this town a rival of the Silver City of Cobalt, and each investigation only serves to confirm the rumors which are leaking out, of an area rich in the yellow metal.

So far the discoveries have been kept for the most part a secret, while development was going on, but details in connection with a number of the claims which show rich possibilities are obtainable.

The centre of the gold discoveries is the townships of Guibord, Munroe and Beatty, east of Matheson. Here, 102 miles north of Cobalt, a new gold kingdom would seem to have been found, and the rush to new goldwands of last year and this promises to change into a rush to Matheson.

The principal discoveries in Munroe and Guibord townships are in the claims held by the Guelph Syndicate, Surprise, Green and Kennedy.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Samuel Moyer was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Mennonite Church in this place. Her death occurred on Monday morning after only a few hours' illness. She had been able to attend church on Sunday, and spend the day with friends, but returning home at night she took a chill which affected the heart, causing her death. Deceased was for a number of years a member of the Mennonite Church, and her faithful Christian life was an example for all with whom she came in contact. She leaves two sons, Levi and Albert, at the old home to mourn the loss of a loving mother, and one sister, Mrs. Couse, of Beamsville, besides many friends by whom she will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Saylor, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., is spending a few days with friends here.

Mrs. D. Hoover and Mrs. M. Hoover, of Selkirk, attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Moyer, yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Barker and wife, who have been resting for a few months from their labors as missionaries in Armenia, gave a farewell address in the Mennonite Church before returning to their home here.

Sunday next will be young men's day at the Methodist Church.

Miss Panemaker, a returned missionary from Africa, gave a short address in the Mennonite Church, called at Evergreen Villa on Sunday night.

Mrs. A. Honsberger and Mrs. Caskey, of Jordan Station, called in this place recently.

Miss Minnie Cline leaves on Monday for Seattle, Wash., to visit her brother, J. W. Cline, and wife, of that place.

Mrs. A. Kratz has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Troupe, of Jordan Station.

Rev. Mr. Warren has moved into the parsonage which has just been completed for him.

WATERDOWN WOMEN. The regular monthly meeting of the Waterdown Women's Institute was held in McGregor's Hall on August 4, with the president, Mrs. W. A. Hyckman, in the chair. Owing to the busy season the choir and the Presbyterian garden party, the attendance was small. Those present very much enjoyed an excellent paper on "Sunday Summer Dinners" by Mrs. Cook, which was followed by a lively discussion on the different methods of dressing meats and cooking Yorkshire pudding, in which Mesdames G. McGregor, E. Sawell, J. Artridge and W. Flatt took part. The current events for the month were ably handled by Mrs. J. O. McGregor. A larger attendance is looked for at next month's meeting, as there is to be a very interesting programme.

WANTED, BATHING BOXES.

To the Editor of the Times: Say, Mr. Editor, such an ideal spot for bathing is Hamilton Beach. Why don't some young "Enterprise" who owns a house, commence to make a fortune by putting a few bathing boxes down there, similar to other famous watering places?

Hundreds, I am sure, would enjoy the privacy of the little house on wheels for dressing, with its comforts of towel, etc., and willing to pay for the same. The present primitive arrangement needs no comment as it is 6,000 years old. True, you can rent a bathing suit from the gentleman who advertises hot water and tea, but, take the friendly shelter of the back wall of his premises for dressing. That is not the accommodation which the Beach should possess. Yours, a Hamiltonian.

COBALT STOCKS.

The mining market in Toronto was again without feature yesterday, with the exception of the trading in Foster, which was very heavy. The find on Foster has been proven to be exceptionally valuable, in places being eight inches wide, of solid metal assaying from 4,000 to 6,000 ounces to the ton. The stock continued to rise yesterday opening at 54 and touching 61. It sold off a little toward the close, and the last figure was 55 3-4. Ophir also made a strong advance, going to 151, but it eased up to some extent and closed at 126. Scotia was steady at a little better than 60,

BOTH DEAD.

Chinese Merchant Kills White Woman and Himself.

Frankfort, Aug. 6.--The murder of a white woman by a Chinese, somewhat similar to the murder of Elsie Sigel in New York last June, occurred in this city to-day. Tien Yui, a Chinese merchant of Berlin, actuated by jealousy, shot Hildegard Hoffman, a music hall singer, and then turned his revolver on himself. Both died within a few minutes.

GERMAN FLEET

To be Reviewed by the Czar

Kiel to-morrow.

Kiel, Aug. 6.--The German fleet, under the command of Admiral Prince Henry, returned here to-day from its cruise to the Spanish coast, and is now engaged in taking on coal, preparatory to putting in sea again to be reviewed off Kiel by Emperor Nicholas, who is expected here to-morrow on board the imperial yacht Starboard from Cowes. Sixteen battleships and fourteen cruisers will take part in the manoeuvres.

Emperor Nicholas is again to pass through the Kiel Canal, and the extraordinary precautions for his safety while so doing last week will be repeated.

CANADIAN FAILURES.

Insolvencies in the Dominion of Canada, as compiled for Dun's Review from statistics of R. G. Dun & Co., were 121 in number and $985,997 in amount of liabilities. This is a considerably better showing than in the same month last year, when there were 134 failures with liabilities of $1,218,132. The most marked feature of improvement as compared with previous months and last year is seen in the class including manufacturing lines, in which there were only 28 failures with defaults of $154,080. This compares with 35 failures with defaults of $481,180 in July last year, and 35 for $207,756 in 1907. Trading failures do not make nearly so good a showing, the number this year being 90, a slight decrease compared with the 94 of July last year, but the amount was $813,917 against only $717,732. In 1907 there were only 64 failures in this class with an indebtedness of $210,378. The increase in this class is accounted for by a single large failure for upwards of $900,000 in the electric supply industry. This was the only conspicuously large failure in the Dominion during the month. In addition to the manufacturing and trading failures there were five other commercial suspensions with liabilities of $18,000, compared with five for $19,320 last year.

ROOF GARDENS.

How the Philadelphia Department Stores Help Their Clerks.

Philadelphia's department stores are noted for the large measure of consideration accorded their employees. Not only are the clerks instructed in the general routine work of the establishment, but talent among them is brought out and encouraged, social intercourse is promoted, and frequently corners for rest and recreation are provided.

New features in the inside life of the big stores are constantly cropping out and, while last winter found the clerks during the early morning hours taking turns in delightful musical and literary entertainments, the warm days find them enjoying the noon period out of doors on cleverly arranged roof garden spots where conditions permit. To really appreciate the real pleasure of the open-air nooning the reader would have to step from behind the counter, take the elevator to the roof garden's shaded terraces, sit down with the crowd and partake of the day's special dish, the sandwiches, any sort you fancy, fruit, ice cream, tea, coffee, milk; and the fun of it is the big stores provide all these edibles at lost to their employees. Large plates of ice cream sell for five cents each, milk is two cents. Sandwiches cost four cents each and fruit is cheap in proportion. Each day a specialty is planned, some light warm preparation which is welcomed for its own or variety's sake. The clerks who prefer to bring their lunch from home gladly take it up to the roof garden and provide themselves with milk, tea or coffee.

The roof spot at Gimbel Brothers' has been made more inviting by the flower beds, the best awninged spaces, the hammock, see-saw, comfortable rockers, daily papers and last, but by no means least, a big phonograph which makes the luncheon time pass all too quickly.

Mrs. Craven, the social secretary, is probably the enthusiastic and prime moving spirit in most of the enjoyable features in the store life of the Gimbel employees. Her duties are manifold and a day with her would be a revelation to the uninformed.

Before Mrs. Craven became an influence in the store the heads of the various departments were looking out for their interests in the big store, but she seemed to be no one to exactly look out for the employee. It became a large part of the duties of the social secretary to take care of the clerks' interests, to act as mediator between the employer and the employed, to present difficult cases and to weigh information pro and con, to reason out difficulties with the clerks and adjust complaints. All this requires rare tact and diplomacy.

Mrs. Craven conducts a school of instruction each morning from 8.30 until 10 o'clock. Not only is the general routine work of the salespeople discussed, but aside from a knowledge of sales checks the employees have instilled into them the thought that they are of the utmost importance to the success of his establishment. The clerks of the various departments are taught to present their goods intelligently. Promptness, neatness and suggestive selling are earnestly inculcated.

New people are expected to attend these classes at least three times per week and the different departments go to the school on different days.

Each day Mrs. Craven makes a tour of the store and calls attention to anything that may have been overlooked along the line of improvement and confers with the employees at their posts. Each day she inspects the lunch rooms, particularly as to the quality and quantity of foods in stock, the sanitary condition of the work kitchen and refrigerators. Under her patronage the boy element is organizing an athletic club which promises well and in the fall the musical entertainments are to be taken up with a new viv--Philadelphia Record.

What Women Want.

What women want to-day, what they have always wanted, that they will want, as far as we can see, as long as human nature is human nature, is something to take care of. From the washwoman, with her half-dozen babies always underfoot and in the way, to the celebrated professor of geology, the dream is always the same--something to take care of. Learning does not quench the instinct nor wealth destroy it, nor independence deaden it, says Harper's Weekly. A woman at the very top of one of the learned professions recently explained her economics by saying she was investing in a little farm, upon which she intended to bring up a little adopted boy and girl, adding, with infinite pathos: "The part I will have to play will be the father's, and not the mother's, because of my work but it will be worth the while, anyway."--Buffalo Times.

Well--I wonder why on earth they ever married. Belle--Probably because there is no marrying in heaven.

THREE FAVORITES WON AT WINDSOR.

Old Honesty Ran a Mile in 1.38.45 Beating Hanbridge by a Neck.

Maskette at 3 to 10 Easily Won the Alabama Stakes at Saratoga—Ballacalla Beat Steve Lane and Selectus in the Steeplechase.

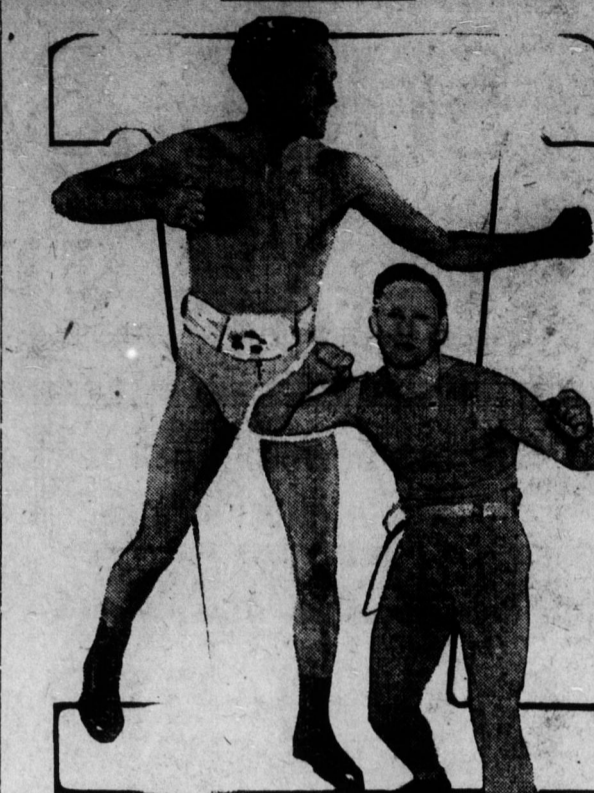

In the mile purse race, which featured yesterday's card at Windsor, the best rovers in this section met and furnished a thrilling contest, victory finally going to Old Honesty, by a short margin over Hanbridge, the favorite.

SARATOGA RACES.

Saratoga, Aug. 6.—Maskette, at the prohibitive odds of 3 to 10, easily won the Alabama stakes, 11 1/8 miles, here yesterday. The Keene filly so outclassed her field that she was practically held out in the betting.

GREAT FEATHERWEIGHTS.

Moran and Driscoll to Fight on September 13th.

JEM DRISCOLL OWEN MORAN.

London, Aug. 6.—As surely as beans is beans, Sept. 13 is going to be unlucky for either Jem Driscoll or Owen Moran. Also it is sure to be the date of the greatest battle of the year, from a scientific standpoint, when these great little men clash for the featherweight championship of Great Britain.

Both little fellows have met Abe Attell, the featherweight champion of the world, and that Driscoll outpointed him in ten rounds and Moran secured two draws in 20 and 23 rounds, would indicate they are beautifully matched in their coming engagement.

SUSPENDED FOR REST OF SEASON.

Montreal, Aug. 6.—Suspension for the balance of the season was the sentence pronounced on "Mickie" Ions, of the Teemusehs, at the special meeting of the N. L. U. held here last night in connection with Ions' attack on Kalls in the Teemuseh-Toronto match last Monday.

HAMILTON BOAT FIRST AT COBOURG.

Invader Beat Iroquois, of Rochester, Badly. Cobourg, Ont., Aug. 6.—A light east wind, which shifted and died away yesterday afternoon, left the racing L. Y. B. A. yachts drifting, with scarcely any headway. This prevented the completion of some of the races within the time limit and featured the opening days' racing of the Cobourg regatta.

General Marchmont, a recent arrival from Texas, took the measure of a fair band of sprinters in the fourth race, but his victory was a fluky one, his rider, Howard, contributing in a measure by his rough riding, Billy Boedmer being the principal sufferer.

The first disqualification of the meeting came with the running of the mile dash, in which maiden jockeys were the pilots. A. Burton, on Lucky Ford, landed his mount in front by a close margin over Mary Candelmas and Gwendolyn F., but was set back for fouling and the purse was given to Mary Candelmas.

General Marchmont, a recent arrival from Texas, took the measure of a fair band of sprinters in the fourth race, but his victory was a fluky one, his rider, Howard, contributing in a measure by his rough riding, Billy Boedmer being the principal sufferer.

The closing dash, also for maiden jockeys, was taken by Ceremonious, the favorite, in a tight fight with Uncle Toby, Posing landing in third place.

ATHLETICS.

The committee which is working on the games at Britannia Park next Wednesday evening are planning for one of the best meets of the season. Competition promises to be very keen, as the handicappers have got a pretty good line on their men. Some exciting finish will be the result. By special request, a one-mile bicycle race will be put on as an extra. The race is open to boys using a working wheel only. No special wheel will be allowed.

BEATTIE SECOND.

Gttawa, Aug. 6.—J. E. Jennings, Toronto, won the first prize at the Canadian Trap Shooting Association's meet here yesterday afternoon. He scored 367 out of a possible 400. George Beattie, of Hamilton, was second, with 363, and T. W. Barnes, also of Hamilton, third, with 361. Walter Ewing, of Montreal, the Canadian champion, was eighth.

How to Preserve and Beautify the Teeth

It's a good plan to make your own powder.

THE preservation of the teeth is a most important matter. A set of perfect teeth not only adds infinitely to the personal appearance, but their preservation saves much pain and expense, and actually prolongs life. Bad teeth are the cause of more troubles than people generally realize.

We usually have to accept whatever shape of face and feature Nature has bestowed upon us, but as regards the teeth, much can be done by care and attention to correct any imperfections. The care cannot begin too early, and the mother who does not see to it that baby's mouth is kept in perfect condition is criminally neglectful. Upon the care of the first set will depend largely the quality and beauty of the second, and from the eventful day of baby's first tooth until she is old enough to be taught to care for them, each little tooth should be carefully cleaned after each feeding.

When the first teeth are not especially good, either as to color, shape or arrangement, the matter can nearly always be corrected by careful attention to the cleanliness of both mouth and teeth and to diet.

Little lime water in milk, taken several times a day, will often aid in establishing good teeth. Very few people keep their teeth clean, although they would probably resent the accusation every day. Yet, but in nine cases out of ten it is not properly selected or prepared.

You should always select a brush with bristles of different lengths, so that the crevices may be reached.

SOME GOOD POINTS
Before using a new toothbrush soak it in cold water for several hours.
Always brush the teeth up and down—never across or against the grain, which not only destroys the lustre but fails to clean teeth thoroughly.

Be sure not to neglect the back teeth. The reason the front teeth usually last longer than the back ones is because they are more easily brushed.

The toothbrush should be thoroughly cleaned of powder after using, and at least once a week it should be powdered with chalk and half an ounce of powdered orris root. Mix well together by the aid of water and mortar, and you will have a most fragrant and pleasant preservative of the teeth, as well as a most satisfactory preservative for the breath.

Slight disorders of the stomach frequently give rise to an acidity in the mouth which is very harmful to the teeth, causing tartar to form, and in such cases it is well to rinse the mouth night and morning with an antiseptic solution.

There are many of these on the market, but if the expense is not desired, an excellent and inexpensive one may be made at home by dissolving a tablespoonful of prepared borax in a pint of hot water. Before the water is quite cold add a teaspoonful of spirits of camphor and a teaspoonful of tincture of myrrh. If the tartar has been permitted to grow, then it will need the skill of a good dentist to remove it without injuring the teeth.

It is a well-known fact that animals usually have beautifully white teeth that last as long as they live. This is no doubt due to the quality of their food, which, as a rule, requires thorough mastication.

There is no doubt but that the teeth are better for exercise, blood must be carried to them the same as to any other portion of the body. A prominent specialist says that the reason the people of the present day are annoyed by decay of the teeth is because they eat food that is unwholesome and does not require mastication sufficient to exercise the teeth.

He advises: "Chew beeswax when nobody is looking. Make it a dental exercise to be performed each morning and night. It is a genuine exercise. You can dig your teeth into it, and they will become tired in a short time. Wax is a substance that will resist the teeth, gently, and its use will aid the teeth to become white and clean and strong and attention.

Photographing Proper Way to Care for the Teeth
Inheritance, of course, may do much either for or against a rolling, beautiful set of teeth. But even a very poor inheritance in the matter of teeth may be improved upon by proper care and attention.

Inquires About Remedy
Will you kindly give me more particulars in regard to Dr. Vaucaire's hair remedy? Will it have any ill effect on the general health? Will the development be permanent to use it, and would it be likely to cover the spaces? What is meant by a couplet—1/2 tablespoon or a dessertspoon? Mrs. A. B. C.

Interested Correspondent
I am a stranger in this part of the country, and have only recently become acquainted with your department. I have the Sunday paper every week, and am much interested in what you say on the various topics regarding health, etc. I read in last Sunday's paper your article on the reduction of flesh. I am so fat that it is impossible for me to walk two squares without panting, as though I had heart disease (maybe I have). In an article on correspondents going to institutions, there are many things that I think I should like to reduce it? If so, how? I seem to have some kind of weakness about the back and limbs, and having little faith in doctors, I do not know but you might make a suggestion. In an article on "dry and harsh skin," you mention a cream of orange flower cream. I have not been able to find a recipe for it. I would be pleased to follow your suggestion, but do not find an orange cream. Is that just as good? Please tell me where to purchase the cream, and how to use it. I have a very fine grained skin, cannot use talcum powder, and I can use a little soap, but I have a very strong "black" mark on my face, which you suggest. Another thing I hope you may be able to help me in, and that is, my throat, right below the chin bone, is of a fatty nature, what you call a "lump," and it is so large that I am greatly in love with your physical culture, which I am sure will be of great benefit to me. To Stain the Hair Brown Herewith I enclose a self-administered and stamped envelope, hoping it is not presumed that you will be able to help me. From your description, I judge that some present-day undesirable conditions lies not with the doctor, but with the patient. There has been too great a tendency on the part of the laity to acquire a smattering of medical knowledge through the reading of so-called "health" magazines and pamphlets, and to put into practice, on their own account, that "little knowledge" which it cannot be denied, is a "dangerous thing."

The following of some most ridiculous fads along the lines of eating, drinking and exercise has assisted in swelling the mortality statistics. Our grandfathers would hold up their heads in horror at many of the foolish things we do in the name of "health." A little more of the comfortable nonchalance of our healthy ancestors would do no harm to the rising generation.

THE CORRECT USE OF FOMENTATIONS
FOMENTATIONS are cloths wrung out of hot water, which may be medicated or unmedicated. They have the advantage of being clean, light and quickly prepared, but they require constant attention, and should be changed every ten or fifteen minutes.

To avoid burning the hands in the hot water used the flannel cloths may be put between a towel folded in such a way that the towel may be dipped in boiling water and the ends remain dry. Wring out the surplus water and apply the hot flannels to the painful parts. This is often a great relief to pain.

If the hot flannel is covered with a piece of oilskin it will keep hot much longer than if left uncovered. Any polices or hot applications put on an unconscious patient should be watched, as a very hot one may burn or a cold one be left on, to the discomfort of the victim. In any application of mustard or turpentine care should be taken to watch the surface of the skin. If it gets too red it should be dusted with powder of a little vasoline applied.

Hot-water bottles should not be put too near an unconscious patient, as a bad burn may result. Cloths wrung out of ice water, or taken of the ice and applied frequently, are a great comfort in cases of fever or headache, or even a tired brain. But a headache that is caused by being in a cold wind is better treated by warm applications than by cold ones. Crushed ice in small indiarubber bags is a convenient and helpful cold application, only care should be taken to avoid the wet result of melting ice.

Ointments and liniments should be rubbed into the skin. The interior of the throat is treated by gargles or by fanning steam. Listerine and warm water make a fairly good gargle; also, warm water with a few drops of turpentine added, or warm water and salt, or warm water and lemon juice. Another way to reach the throat in cases of slight sore throat is to bandage it with a cloth soaked in alcohol, or to go to bed with a steaming poultice over the throat, an old-fashioned but efficacious remedy.

About Keeping Face Cream
Will you kindly let me know, through the paper, if a cream for the skin is injurious after it has turned a little rancid? M. S.

Grateful Correspondent
Could you suggest something for a sagging condition of the skin under the chin? I used massage for double chin, and it has left this disagreeable trouble. Fear, I fear, but do not look more than 25 but for this defect, please help me, if you can. Have used some of your remedies, and found them beneficial. Would you kindly republish recipe for shampoo which appeared about two years ago? It contained tincture of quinine—about the color of green tea. This is not the one I refer to, though somewhat similar. White castile soap, 3 ounces; potassium carbonate, 1 ounce; essence, 1 ounce. I tried this one, thinking it nearly the same, but it is very different in color, and not so good as the first. The one I want has only been published once, and was among your first writings. Would say to all who are annoyed with cracked and bleeding lips, that you can get lip salve in fine. I would not be without it for anything. If not asking too much of you, would you be so kind as to send me a tin of the lip salve, and a tin of the quinine shampoo? I would be very grateful. I am, Mrs. M. A.
