H. W. de FOREST TEA CO'Y.

Your money back if Purity Flour does not prove entirely satisfactory in the baking.

DO NOT simply buy flour from the dollar and cent side of it. Buy high-quality flour. That means PURITY FLOUR. The first little extra cost is more than made up by the extra number of loaves of bread it makes—by the superiority of the bread and pastry in sweetness of flavor and nourishing qualities. Buying Purity Flour is a safe investment. You get large returns, not only on account of Purity's ability to produce more, but because Purity contains the greater nutriment and the vim of a strong hard wheat flour. Food made from Purity Flour gives the consumer health, snap and force, which cannot be gained from the use of the weaker soft wheat flour.

"MORE BREAD AND BETTER BREAD"
PURITY FLOUR
 You can buy as little as a 7 pound cotton bag or in 14, 24, 40, and 68 pound sacks. Also in barrels and half-barrels.
 Purity may cost a little more than some flours but you'll find its more than worth the difference. To be a true mark.

BEAVER

"BEAVER FLOUR" is the unfailing friend of the housewife. It saves her the trouble of keeping two kinds of flour—one for bread and another for pastry. Being a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, it gives to bread the rich, nutritious properties of the former and the lighter qualities of the latter, making a large white loaf of delicate texture and exquisite flavor. Pastry, biscuits and cakes, made with BEAVER FLOUR cannot be excelled. Ask your Grocer for it today.

CHAPTER XI.

"It is such a pretty New Year's song," she said, "and it was kind in Jack to think of it." And she began to sing with that frank satisfaction which a taking melody imparts:

"If I could find the little Year,
The happy Year, the glad New Year,
If I could find him setting forth
To seek the ancient track,
I'd bring him here, the little Year,
Like a peddler with his pack.

"And all of golden brightness,
And nothing dull or black,
And all that heart could fancy,
And all that heart could lack—
When he unaid his pack."

And the song took her captive, and she went about all day with it on the tip of her tongue; and when her father came home she challenged him with sending her the wish for—

"All the golden brightness,
And nothing dull or black,
And all that fancy could fancy,
And all that heart could lack—"

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of the uterus, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking your medicine. It has also helped other women to whom I have recommended it."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ontario.

Another Cure

Harvey Bank, N. B.—"I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me."—Mrs. DEVERE BARBOUR.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice, write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

ing, and to confessedly find him the right person.

Perhaps Ambrosia really did not intend to spoil her cousin's love-dream. She was not sure of her motive when she examined it. She could only say: "It was a pity to undecieve her. But, of course, her father knew all about it. Nobody would believe differently, and it would have been too absurd if she had told such a story to any one but me. And she was so offensively conceited about 'Jack,' and needed to have a little of her sail taken in, I am sure. People's courting expeditions ought not to be told; but then as Punch says, "Ought" stands for "nothing."

Yet, in spite of this decided opinion, Ambrosia at once repeated her cousin's romance to Will Carter. The night was a very stormy one, and Will came into the drawing-room before dinner and found Ambrosia sitting there in a very dissatisfied temper. She told him the story in a dull, monotonous manner, and asked in conclusion:

"Can you imagine a New York girl being such a little fool as to believe in an arrangement so particularly transparent?"

"Yes, I can. There are girls at New York who tarry in Arcadia willingly, and who have no desire to shake the last apple of the tree of knowledge—sweet, guileless maidens, who believe every word their fathers and mothers and lovers say. I wish with all my heart I could find one who would listen to me. I am sure I would believe anything improbable she chose to tell me."

There was a long pause, and both Will and Ambrosia looked silently into the fire. Presently Ambrosia said in a weary voice:

"It is long after dinner time. I suppose Robert is not coming home to dinner. It is very cruel of him."

"Robert is so busy. Amber! I wish I could make you understand how much he has to do."

"Only very silly people could have such a thought. It would be far queerer if Robert Carter, because he had married a wife, was to neglect his profession and give up the investigations which are making him both famous and rich. You would not wish him to do that, would you, Amber?"

"I wish him to pay a little more attention to me. I have been three nights alone this week."

"Last night Robert was with us, and you hardly opened your lips. You were reading a novel."

"Robert was making notes out of a book. Of course, you take Robert's part. Once you promised you would always take mine."

"Are your 'parts' different? Oh, no! Oh, no!"

"I think we will have dinner. Why should two be kept waiting for one?"

When dinner was nearly over Robert came in. He looked weary and strangely excited, and he said with enthusiasm:

"I have been detained by a very remarkable operation—one I have wished to see performed all my life. It was most interesting and successful."

Ambrosia smiled and turned to Will,

and found him so patently innocent that she was able definitely to accuse Jack of the musical New Year's greeting.

His Old Age Made Free From Suffering

BY GIN PILLS

ANNAPOLIS, N.S.

"I am over 80 years of age and have been suffering with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for fifteen years. I took doctors' medicine but got no help. I want to thank you for sending me the sample box of GIN PILLS.

"I have taken six boxes of GIN PILLS altogether but got relief before I had taken nearly that amount. I had to get up some nights every fifteen minutes and had to use an instrument before I could urinate.

"I can lie in bed four or five hours without getting up. I can say that GIN PILLS have nearly cured me and I shall always keep a box in the house."

W. H. PRINCE.

Do as Mr. Prince did—write us for free sample box of GIN PILLS and see for yourself just how much they will do for you. Send by regular size boxes at your dealer's—50c, or 6 for $2.50. GIN PILLS are sold with a positive guarantee of money back if they fail to give prompt relief. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. N., Toronto, 51

Amber prefers to be alone. And I am often in Amber's way, too. I can feel it. If she had more solitude she might encourage Robert's company."

"Yet, after he had smoked his cigar, he went down to the drawing room. He was unhappy about this couple, who really loved each other and ought to be happy and were not. He wished to find them sitting together, laughing and chatting. Beside his love affair was to disclose, and he hoped that during the after-dinner interval its discussion would make peace. But the room was silent and forlorn-looking. The fire on the hearth had burned down. The lights had been purposely lowered, and Ambrosia was lying on a sofa, pallid with weeping and suffering from nervous headache. Will felt angry, and it is easy to be angry with the absent. At once he was certain that Robert was to blame.

"Where is Robert, Amber dear?" he asked.

"Gone to his study as usual," she answered in a faint voice, full of the infections of physical pain.

"And you are ill? It is too bad to leave you alone!"

"He had that 'case' so elaborate. I am nothing to a 'case'! Will, you are always good to me. Am I tiresome and cross? Tell me truly."

"You are the loveliest and kindest of sisters. You have never said a cross word to me, and as for being 'tiresome,' it is the most ridiculous of libels."

"Robert finds me so," and she began to sob with a passion that came hot from her heart and made Will's throbs sympathetically.

"Robert means nothing of the kind. He is cross to-night. He ought to be ashamed of himself, and I shall tell him so."

Then he ran for Amber's maid and persuaded her to go to bed, and promised, with a very serious intention, to plead her cause for her.

He went straight to his brother. The door of his study was locked, and Robert opened it with some impatience.

"What do you want, Will? It is so late now I hoped to be let alone and find some peace to do my writing."

"Your writing? One would think Robert, you had married an inkstand!"

The Evening Chit-Chat
 By RUTH CAMERON

A "Letter to Editor" which appeared the other day in a New York paper, interested me immensely because of a certain very common feminine foible which it shows up most excellently.

It is from a man who is struggling with the domestic help problem.

"During the last ten months," writes the sufferer, "I have been through a regular domestic 'hell' with no less than fourteen women houseworkers. To my several advertisements I have had over 700 replies. Of those selected, two proved to be drunkards, three were utterly incompetent as workers, two discharged themselves by remarking out overnight without either warning or permission, one admitted strange men to the house at two o'clock in the morning, and three left before their first week was out without giving either reason, notice or explanation; one proved to be subject to intermittent insanity; one was a runaway wife whose husband came to seek her, accompanied by a lawyer and a little child; one simply flatly refused to get up in the morning until half an hour after the breakfast hour, and still another was an incorrigible liar and thief."

The "common feminine foible" you may be looking for is in the next paragraph of the sufferer's plaint.

"The most exasperating part of it is that one and all of these failures came with seemingly first-class references from former employers and personal sponsors."

Isn't it a queer quirk of mind which permits otherwise conscientious and self-respecting women to do this sort of thing?

I wonder just how they can bring themselves to do it?

Perhaps because they find it's the only peaceable way to get rid of the discharged employee.

Perhaps they feel like Agnes Repplier, the well-known essayist and traveller, who, in her delightful fashion, tells of strewing recommendations of undesirable guides "broadcast over the earth to be a delusion and a snare to my fellow men," and naively explains her conduct by saying, "It never occurred to me that anyone would regard them seriously, until an acquaintance informed me with some asperity that he had employed a guide on my recommendation and had been cheated by him."

Most likely of all, they do it because they are sorry for the girl and just don't think far enough ahead to be sorry for the mistress they are foisting her upon.

To needlessly tattle to a prospective employer about a maid's small faults, such as inability to iron very well, or imperfection at cooking, is rather unkind.

To condemn a girl and give her a poor reference merely on suspicion is unfair.

To refuse to give a desirable girl a reference merely from irritation with her comes very near being criminal.

But to go to the other extreme and deliberately send out a girl whom you know to be a liar a thief or a drunkard, or in some other way untrustworthy, with a character that glosses over any of these charming little habits, seems to me to be just as unkind and unfair and near-criminal on the other side of the fence.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obtaining relief from coughs on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short, establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it just is better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised, up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Fads and Fashions.

Lace or velvet flowers are used to trim dresses and hats. A narrow edge of fur outlines each petal.

Bow-knots of brilliants are very smart, indeed, and have supplanted the pearl brooch of older days.

A fashionable coiffure is banded with gold tinsel, closing under a gold rose in back, slightly to the left side.

Plaid combined with plain cloth is an idea used by many of the French designers now.

Evening skirts are longer and have draped tunics. All lines are still Grecian and fabrics thin.

Gowns that combine white charmose with black satin are trimmed with jet and exemplify the vogue for black and white.

A coin-spotted tissue-weight gingham resembling the embroidered dotted Swisses is a novelty in this class of cotton goods.

Not for several seasons have Swisses been worn to any extent, but this year may appear, and entirely new patterns are to be found.

The big muffs of the season are not only very deep and wide, but the openings are large. They are not puckered or gathered as in the past.

The sheer materials, such as batiste, dainty and organdie, are even more sheer and dainty than last year—the organdies especially so.

Empire lines are the favorite ones of the best designers of evening gowns; and almost all of the waist lines are shortened, if not decidedly short.

A novelty is the Nottingham tulle. This a round mesh net which comes in white or tinted grounds, in floral designs resembling the organdie patterns.

And now the "trouser skirt," introduced by Paul Poiret, has received the name of the "Harem skirt," but it has not been seriously introduced anywhere.

Velvet, satin and tulle give the new note to the winter neck-fixings, though they are seemingly incongruous and unsuitable after several seasons of net and lace.

Many of the unusual colors and color combinations previously seen in only the costly silks are now to be had in the silk-and-cotton weaves and in cotton fabrics.

Enormously wide and closely encircling bands of velvet ribbon are in many cases being worn to secure and accentuate the "small head" effect of the new coiffure.

A simple velvet band, with straight ecclesiastical tabs to be worn over a stock, for black, in some manner gives the needed smart touch to almost every piece of neckwear.

A pretty ribbon girde is draped in soft folds around the waist, and tied in a short-looped rosette, in the form of a bow with long, fringed ends, drawn in loose knots.

Rubbish Heap Pictures That Have Brought Big Prices—Newbourn Grocer Gets a Raphael For Twenty-Four Shillings and Sells It for Four Thousand Pounds—A Rubens and a Sainsborough Turned up in a Pawnshop and a Landscape in a Kitchen.

The Newbourn grocer who has been fortunate enough to pick up at an auction sale for twenty-four shillings a Raphael, the value of which is at least 4,000 times the price he paid for it, has had many recent predecessors in similar lucky experiences, the stories of which quite outstrip romance.

A short time ago a second-hand dealer purchased a deplorably dirty canvas from a poor widow for a few shillings—a sum which brought tears of gratitude and joy to the woman's eyes. After carefully cleaning the picture the dealer was delighted, although not altogether surprised, to discover that he was the possessor of an undoubted Gainsborough, for which he found an eager purchaser for £3,500.

A few weeks earlier a carpenter presented himself at the shop of a picture dealer in the Rue St. Lazare, Paris, offering for sale a large and dirty canvas for the modest sum of 20 francs. "I don't suppose the picture is worth anything," he said, "but the frame ought to be worth the money." The dealer, who was in want of a frame of similar size, paid the 20 francs, and removing the canvas, he cast it aside in a corner of his shop.

Some weeks later an artist-customer chanced to notice the discarded canvas, and, after examining it, exclaimed, "Halloo, you've got a treasure here. It is a variant of one of Raphael's works, the Vatican 'Adam and Eve.'" The news of the "discovery" spread, and within a few days the dealer had sold his 20-franc picture for 10,000 francs.

Another Raphael, "La Belle Jardiniere," was quite recently discovered at a second-hand shop in Paris, and purchased for 44 francs, probably less than a two-thousandth part of its real value; a Rubens, valued at £7,000, was picked up for a five-pound note at an auction sale at Carnarvonshire, and 25 shillings was the price paid at an old curiosity shop in Barmouth for a sea picture, painted in oils on an oak panel, which when cleaned proved to be a genuine Turner, worth at least £700.

More remarkable still was the good fortune of a picture lover who strolled one day into a shop on the Paris boulevards, and noticing among a lot of lumber a study in red chalk purchased it for half a franc. On examining his purchase more carefully he found to his delight that he was the possessor of Raphael's original design for his famous picture, "La Disputa del Sacramento," now in the Vatican, the value of which is little short of £1,000.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—An old lady who had lived under six British sovereigns, died yesterday in the person of Mrs. James Slenson, of 21 Aberdeen Ave. She was born at Magnin's Bridge, Ireland, in 1818, and was the daughter of a soldier, her father having fought through the Peninsula war and with Wellington at Waterloo. She was of a long-lived race, her grandfather having passed the century mark and each of her parents having lived almost one hundred years.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GOUT IN COWS.

Mr. Grace Notes.

Miss F. Ryan, has been confined to her hotel—the Cochrane—for the past four or five days suffering from la grippe. She is being attended by Dr. Parsons.

Miss Wallace, of Victoria St. School, is also kept indoors by a severe cold, and the scholars of her school are enjoying a sun bath to-day, but are hoping their teacher will be sufficiently recovered to-morrow to be able to attend to her school.

A young man entered one of our barbers rooms on Saturday with the strange request, "My hair needs to be cut badly." The barber set to work to please him, and apparently did so, as when the operation was finished the man said, "That is the best hair cut I ever had." The barber hardly knew what to say, as the man asked to have it cut "badly."

Mr. Robert Peddie, while coming from the woods on Saturday, met with an accident on Kitchen's Hill, his slide going to pieces under the heavy weight of wood. Mr. Peddie escaped injury.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quinn on Thursday last. Congratulations!

Yesterday morning we experienced a glitter storm, and everything around was coated with glitter. Walking was made very dangerous, and many people returning from church had quite a hard task to keep on their feet.

Several of the hands of the H. G. Boot and Shoe Factory are now laid off by la grippe, and the work of the factory is consequently delayed.

A banquet arranged for an individual is something to feel proud of. Such was our experience on Saturday. Yes, a banquet was given us, the principal item on the menu being tongue. It was all because we referred to that young lady falling on Water Street, and due to the too cold young man who was escorting her home. Let other young men take warning and be careful of the fair ones entrusted to their care, especially during slippery and treacherous walking. We were sorry for the accident, but we did enjoy the banquet.

8869. A New Frock for Mother's Girl.
 Girls' One-Piece Dress With Body and Skirt in One.

The little dress shown here is dainty enough for a "party" or "best" dress if made of soft pretty material, and will also prove a serviceable model for general wear if developed in gingham, galatea, cashmere, serge or flannel. With a trimming of embroidery or braid put on, as illustrated, the effect of a front closing may be simulated. The design may be finished with the tucker, or in low neck style. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes—2, 4, 6, 8 years. It requires 3/4 yards of 36 inch material for the 6 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heartburn and headache, I feel too tired to do anything, I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden."

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

DR. F. STAFFORD & SON,

8863. Lady's Waist,
 WITH OR WITHOUT YOKE AND YOKE TRIMMING.

This presents a pleasing and effective style. For general wear it may be finished with the yoke and high collar, while for dressy or evening wear, the yoke may be omitted, and the sleeve cut in short length. Challis, tafeta, satin, fawnstone or other similar fabrics are suitable for this design. All lingerie materials, linen and cashmere will also develop it nicely. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 inches bust measure. It requires 2 yards of 36 inch material for the 36 inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

STAR CARD TOURNEY.—Last night a large number of members of the Star of the Sea Association attended the card tourney held under the auspices of the R. R. & B. Committee. Mr. T. Thistle, who won 24 games, secured first prize, 1/2 ton coal; Mr. D. Demsey, who had 23 games, received the second prize, a ham; and Messrs. Knight, Knox, Sullivan, Maher and English played off for the third, a tub of butter. Mr. English secured it.

When Sleep Fails You

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD will bring rest, comfort and vitality by building up the nerves.

Mr. Jas. Wesley Weaver, a veteran of the Peninsular War, Fort Dushouse, Ont., writes: "For years I was afflicted with nervousness and dreaded insomnia, so that I never knew for three years what a full hour's sleep was, never more than dozing for a few minutes at a time. Heart pains and headaches almost drove me wild. I had spells of weakness and cramps in stomach and limbs.

"Though I tried several doctors, it was money uselessly spent. Finally Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was brought to me and eight boxes cured me. It is simply wonderful what benefit I have obtained from this treatment."

Sleeplessness and headaches are warnings of approaching nervous collapse. You can positively remove these symptoms and prevent prostration or paralysis by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Lords Back Down.

The overtures made by Lord Lansdowne yesterday that the Lords were prepared to come to terms on the composition and powers of the House of Lords were seen to open the way to an avoidance of the staggering possibility of calling upon the King to create 500 peers to bring the House of Lords to reason. With the backing of the Government obtained in January of last year on the Budget vs. the House of Lords, and in December on the Veto Bill, and the House of Lords there should be little difficulty in coming to an amicable understanding as to a composition of the Upper Chamber and a setting forth of its powers, which will give freer play to the Will of the Electorate.

The Clara Had Narrow Escape.

The schr. Invermay, which arrived this morning, reports that the schr. Clara, owned by R. McKee, of Harbor Grace, had a terrible time of it on her way home from Patras, Greece, and that she came near being lost at Cape St. Mary's about 3 weeks ago on the day when the wind, which had been N.W. and blowing a gale, chopped off the N.W. and a hurricane came, doing much damage both at sea and on shore. The vessel had terribly cold and stormy weather, and the Atlantic and became so badly fed up that her gear could not be kept running, and for days she was at the mercy of wind and wave, while her crew suffered terribly. On the day alluded to above she was driven in on Cape St. Mary's, and as sea after sea broke it showed that the ground was so shoal that as the waves receded the bottom could be seen, and kelp and sand were thrown in on her decks, while the log, towing astern was torn in pieces by scraping along the bottom. A terrible sea ran, and but for the fact that the wind suddenly veered to the N.W. and blew violently off shore, not a soul of the six men of a crew would have been left to tell the tale, and the danger of the situation the vessel's hull and rigging, and the running gear were so thickly coated with ice that she had settled over a foot in the water. Sails could not be shortened or made, as the ropes and blocks were frozen, and in raising a veritable iceberg she reached Trepassay. Her crew were completely exhausted and the men of the Invermay had to go on board and render them assistance, and with those of the ship had to engage chopping the ice off her decks and hull and beating it off the rigging and sails. The forecastle was so securely frozen that it had to remain up, and the crew had to bend a new jib and riding sail to get her out of Trepassay, at which she lay for about 14 days. The men had to cut away the frozen blocks and down-hauls to get the sails hoisted, and she left Trepassay for Harbor Grace yesterday. She must have been badly leed up again in last night's frost. Her crew escaped without injury, though they were nipped with the frost more than once about the face and hands.

Seals in Conception Bay

Passengers by to-day's train say that since Sunday thousand of old seals are in Conception Bay, mostly about Cupids, Porte de Grave and nearby places. Numbers of men have been out hunting them and a large number have been killed. They are old burps. This is an unusual happening in Conception Bay. This morning many men went out in boats to continue the work of killing them.

Breaks His Arm.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 21.—Abe Attell broke his arm in the fourth round of a scheduled ten-round bout with Tommy Kilbane here last night. The fight was at once stopped. The doctors say Attell may never enter the ring again. In the fourth round the boys were clinched and were striking when they fell. Attell had his arm around Kilbane's neck. When the champion fell to the floor he was carried out, and an X-ray examination showed that the humerus bone of the right arm was broken.

CURIOS REMOVED.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, This morning. The Morning Post gives currency to a rumour that the British Government is considering important changes in taxation to be made in the next Budget in the direction of large remissions in the import duties on tea, coffee, cocoa, dried fruits and similar products; and the imposition of a general ad valorem tax of five per cent. on all manufacturing goods for revenue purposes but not for protection. The Morning Post asserts the Government is making efforts to ascertain how the country would receive the proposals.

STEAM-TRAWLING RESOLUTIONS.

Special to Evening Telegram. OTTAWA, This Morning. Resolutions stating that it is expedient to bring about an international agreement to prohibit steam trawling on such spawning grounds of the deep sea fishery as the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, banks of the North Atlantic, adjacent to the coast of Canada and Newfoundland, were introduced into the House of Commons yesterday. Mr. Sinclair, of Guelph, criticized the report of Andrew Kalkett, appointed to investigate the matter by the Government, and who said that steam trawling was not decreasing the supply of fish. He said, steam trawling interfered with fine net fishing, destroyed fisherman's gear, and depleted the fisheries by catching a large number of young matured fish. Mr. Crosby of Halifax said the only effective remedy was to prohibit in Canada the sale of fish caught in steam trawlers. Minister Broderick said he and Sir Edward Morris had asked the Imperial Government in 1907 to take steps towards bringing about some agreement between Great Britain, France and the United States to prohibit steam trawling on the Grand Banks or near Canadian waters. Meanwhile, he did not believe it to be advisable to prohibit the sale of fish caught by steam trawlers' experiments of that kind had resulted disastrously to fishermen of Scotland and would be better to have the fish sold directly in Canada than to have them sold in the States first and imported from that country.

A Suggestion.

Our warning given yesterday of the possibility of typhus developing in the sealing steamers the coming spring, was commented on all over the city yesterday, and in a favourable manner. It was considered as being timely and to the point, and no doubt every precaution will be taken to prevent the contingency to which we alluded. We would now suggest that before the ships sail the crews going in them be examined by the doctors and given a certificate of health, and that no man with the slightest symptom of a high temperature be taken along. This would lead to minimize the danger of an outbreak, and though it might seem to bear hard on any who may be prevented from sailing, it may be the means of obviating a calamity which would appal the country and cost the lives of many people.

The members of the Board of Trade held a meeting last night in their rooms on Water Street to discuss the question of appointing an agent for Newfoundland in Italy. The names of several eligible gentlemen were named, but the matter will be decided at a future meeting.

NET PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Williams, foreman of the Reid Mfg. Co. carpenter shop, was endeavoring to prevent some plank from falling, they all came suddenly over him, pinning one of his hands, which was terribly lacerated. He was brought to Mr. P. O'Mara's drug store where Dr. Patterson was called and had to put 12 stitches in the wound to close it. Mr. Williams lost a deal of blood as a result of the accident.

A Complete Success.

The latest cure for all kinds of Headaches which W. T. COURTNEY, cor. Duckworth and Prescott Streets, is exploiting, bids fair to oust every other Headache Remedy on the market. The rapidity with which it cures, its harmlessness and the reasonable price commend it to everyone. His real sham pain (champagne) to its real friends and real pain to its sham friends.—Feb. 7.

Olson Denies Statement

In reference to last night's item in the Chronicle stating that Young Olm had called at the Bank of Nova Scotia and stopped payment of the $100 forfeit money in connection with the fight wrestling match, Olson stated to the Telegram this morning that he thought Olm had called at the Bank and received his money. The Bank refused to pay Olm unless they received a cheque signed by Olson for the amount, the sum being handed in in his name. As the forfeit money was held by the Bank authorities Olson was under the impression that Olm, having won the match, would merely have to call there and receive his money. On learning otherwise, Olson went to the Bank this morning and set matters right. It will thus be seen that Olson is in no way to blame, and is very sorry any trouble was given Olm in receiving the forfeit money.

DISCOVERY OF COAL.

Special Evening Telegram. OTTAWA, This morning. News of the discovery of coal in Saturn and Tumbo Islands, on the West Coast of British Columbia, has reached the Geological Survey.

WORRIED ABOUT RECIPROcity.

Special to Evening Telegram. MONTREAL, This morning. Rudyard Kipling in a letter to a friend written from Engelberg, Switzerland, says: "I am more worried than I like to be about this Canadian-United States Reciprocity game. It seems like a whole battalion of 'colored' persons in the wood-pile."

The Invermay Here.

The schr. Invermay, Capt. Barnes, an account of whose itinerary the Telegram gave a few days ago, arrived this morning to Jas. Baird, Ltd., with about 600 qts. fish on-board, and after a round trip to Woods' Island which occupied over 4 months in the making of which she was driven by storms across the Gulf to Port Hawkesbury and had also to put into LaPelle, Burgeo, Trepassay, Fermanesse, Bonne Bay, Port aux Basques and Woods' Island. It would tax the powers of Clarke Russell to describe with a sufficiency of detail the storms and trials through which the schooner and her crew of 5 hardy Newfoundlanders passed. As she lay in the stream this morning one could see that the elements had not dealt gently with her. She is badly leed up, and on getting into Port Hawkesbury all her sails were gone and they had to be later patched up after being blown partly away when she reached other ports where she harbored for shelter. She made three attempts to get to St. John's from Trepassay, but each time was overtaken by stormy weather and had to run back. Necessarily, after such a protracted period knocking about, her grub became short, but on arrival at the various ports it was replenished. The captain and crew are well but are heartily glad that the voyage is over.

It is indeed interesting to note the reductions on these lines of kitchen utensils, when it is considered that they are in many cases sold at such close profits, that the fact of reducing them even a little, brings them down to cost.

12 Workmen Trapped

Like Rats in a Sewer and Suffocated to Death.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 1.—Trapped like rats, twelve workmen, all negroes, were suffocated to death here last night in a caisson in the Passaic River. The victims constituted a night shift engaged in work preparatory to the reconstruction of the Centre St. Bridge between here and Harrison.

It is understood that the accident was directly due to the dropping of a huge metal bucket, loaded with mud and stone. This struck the caisson on top, breaking the door, thus cutting off the air and allowing the water and gravel to rush into the caisson from below.

IT'S OF INTEREST TO EVERY PERSON

How Ovilla Marcotte's Bright's Disease Was Caused and Cured.

A cold was the cause and Dodd's Kidney Pills the cure. His recommends them because he has proved them good.

Laford, Alta., Feb. 6.—(Special)—In these winter days, when nearly everybody has a cold, and the cold goes to the weak spot, backache and other symptoms of kidney disease are almost epidemic.

For this reason the statement of Ovilla Marcotte of this place is of interest to every one. I'm having a cold, I developed backache, kidney disease, and finally the dreaded Bright's Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him. Here is his full statement.

For three years, due to a cold I suffered with backache, kidney disease and Bright's Disease. I was treated by a doctor, who did me no good. It was four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills did the work. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all persons who suffer from diseased kidneys.

Neglected kidneys trouble brings suffering and disease, that too often proves fatal. When a cold shows you that your kidneys are weak or disordered the only safe plan is to tone them up with Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure all forms of kidney trouble.

THE EXPRESS ARRIVED.—The Bruce express did not arrive here until 1:15 this morning. The delay was caused by snow west of Bay of Islands. East of this there is little snow and the trains have no difficulty in getting over this section of the line.

That Destitution Case.

The exclusive reference in Saturday's Telegram to the destitute condition of the Davis family brought to them ample assistance, and yesterday they were visited by Mrs. John Harvey, Mayor Ellis, Rev. Dr. Greene, the Officers of the Salvation Army and the St. Vincent de Paul Society. When Head Dave discovered them he immediately relieved them at his own expense, and then I. G. Sullivan saw that they were provided with fuel and other necessaries also. Those who visited the unfortunate people first said that they never imagined human beings could live under such awful conditions. They reside in the upper flat of the house, which was open in several places, and in the under flat all the windows were out and the winds had full sway in it and sent draughts up through the open seams of the floor overhead. This under portion of the building was in a terrible condition of filth, and the wonder is that some disease had not broken out in the house long ago. The people had absolutely no bed or bedding and lived in this condition for over a year. Not only did the rats bite the woman as she slept, but her son was also gnawed about the arms by the rodents. Had they been left unnoticed for 24 hours longer they would have been found dead in their squalid home. Charitable people are now arranging to have them placed in a more comfortable house, and Dr. Fraser is attending them. There is more destitution in St. John's this winter than for many seasons past. Recently a case was brought under a man's notice where the father of a family of four was driven by sheer privation to ask a total stranger for coal which was given him. For several months he had been in hospital, and for two weeks had lived without fire despite the fact that one of his children was a newly born infant. The man was too proud to allow friends to know of his condition and when forced to do so felt it keenly. Some of the charitable societies will soon call on the well-to-do for funds, and no doubt will meet with the usual generous response. Succour for the deserving poor was never more needed than this winter.

"Absolutely Alright."

That is what an authority says of Magic Headache Powders. They cure—no ill after effects, which is all right. The price 10 cts. is all right. W. T. COURTENAY, corner Duckworth and Prescott Streets.—Jan 7, 11

Another Case of Typhus

Another case of typhus developed last evening at the residence of Mr. Albert Strong, who was stricken with it Sunday. The man who became ill yesterday is named Quinlan, and he was removed to Hospital to-day. He has been staying with the family for some time past. Six of the patients now in Hospital were dangerously ill last evening and raving in the delirium, which is a feature of this awful disease. The others are doing well, and Nurse Ellis has safely passed the critical stage. There are now 12 cases in Hospital.

Bankers Sailing Early.

As we stated a couple of days ago the bankers on the West Coast will leave for the grounds this year earlier than ever before. The Gertrude, Capt. W. Kennedy, will sail to-morrow, and most of the fleet about Burlington, St. Jacques and Harbor Breton will go in about ten days time. Bait is plenty and there is every evidence of plenty of cod on the grounds.

Holiday Notes for 1910.

I. C. MORRIS.
Chapter IV.—We Visit Fair Haven, and also A Scene of the Long Ago.

Every visitor to Manuels has seen the gateway by the waters of Long Pond which bear the name "Fair Haven." This secluded nook is the property of Captain Noble, and has been his abode since his retirement from his railway career. Like most people, we had only seen the spot, but had never been within its gates, nor did we expect to, but as is often the case the unexpected happened, and quite to our delight we found ourselves the guests of the Haven. This privilege was due to the kindness of Mrs. Squires, wife of our talented and popular citizen, Mr. R. A. Squires, M. H. A. We were sauntering along, when behind us we heard her kindly invitation to come and see the grounds. In such a case a second invitation was not in the least necessary, and in a moment we were inside the gates, and enshrouded in its trees, and were inhaling the aroma of its flowers. We noticed that the proprietor, Capt. Noble, had gone on a visit to some friends in Canada, and that Mr. Squires had rented the place for the summer months. We found the grounds smaller than we had expected, but finally up to the mark of our ideas of it as a haven of rest, and as a fitting spot for quiet and recreation.

We were well treated at Fair Haven by our hostess, and on leaving to continue our ramble, she presented my little daughter with a large bunch of rich lilacs. Flowers and children are amongst the most beautiful things that this life affords, and while on entering the grounds we felt rich in the company of our little daughter, on leaving we felt even more so, because the picture of the child was enhanced by the rich flowers which she held in her hand. And besides these, we felt richer in the friendship of the lady who had so liberally presented the flowers to the child; for we saw that the gift was not a niggardly one, but that it was given with a full heart and becoming grace. We have seen gifts given that were marred in the giving, but no so in this case, the giver and the receiver and the flowers, were all keeping with the name and record of the spot.

Thus it was that under conditions the most pleasing we left Fair Haven, not for a moment thinking the lilacs were going to be almost the cause of a tragedy. Now Long Pond is a much larger locality than the casual visitor may imagine, and as we had a few hours still at our disposal we leisurely continued our tour to the more western part of the district, and for the purpose of visiting an old homestead, where, in the long ago we had been entertained. Soon the slope came to view, and on arriving at the gate we halted and looked over the fence for a moment or two. It seemed but yesterday since our last visit to this property, and with the exception of an improved dwelling in the place of the old homestead, there was not much change—although we knew that the old couple who greeted us on our last visit had finished their course and had passed to the Great Beyond. One other person occupied the old homestead with them, but we had seen this lady at intervals, when passing in the city, since that time.

Bad Case of Eczema Cured by Zam-Buk.

Another case of the healing power of Zam-Buk, in cases of eczema, is to hand from Winnipeg. Mrs. H. Cross, of 176 McIntosh Ave., Elmwood, is the subject and gives the following facts with a view to leading other sufferers to a means of cure. "For five years," she says, "I was terribly afflicted with eczema on my legs, and despite all the doctoring and numerous remedies I tried, I seemed unable to get relief. The disease first started with watery blisters, which itched terribly, and when rubbed, burned and smarted very much. The pustules then spread and formed sores. These were irritable and very painful. One blister was no sooner rubbed—or I might say touched—than another started.

"They soon spread over both limbs, and I suffered much inconvenience. I tried various remedies, as they were recommended, but could find no relief. Ordinary salves and ointments seemed unequal to my case. "At last a friend suggested my using Zam-Buk. I acted on this advice and began the Zam-Buk treatment. A few applications gave me considerable ease, and the burning, smarting pains were reduced. I persevered with the balm, and in the course of a week the disease was under control and the sores healing. From that time forward I continued to improve, and the sores, too, became less and less troublesome, until in a wonderfully short time, considering the seriousness of my case and the long time I had been suffering, Zam-Buk worked a complete cure.

Such is the nature of the great cure which Zam-Buk is daily effecting. Purely herbal in composition, this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bites, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns and bruises. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful imitations and substitutes.

Died at 108.

Whitby, Ont., Jan. 31.—The oldest person in this vicinity, so far as known, died at the Ontario County House of Refuge on Saturday evening. Samuel Laughin, known as "Sammy Lone," was, as near as could be recorded, 108 years of age. He was an Irishman.

A Lady Says:

"Those Magic are wonderful powders for relieving headache. I don't think I ever took anything which relieved me so quickly and without any ill after effects." They can be had only at W. T. COURTENAY, corner of Duckworth and Prescott Streets.—Jan 7, 11
