London, May 13.—The Standard has despatches confirming the reported messa-cre at Berber. The telegraph clerks who a short time ago applied for permission to leave their posts along the line between Berber and Assouan have deserted their stations rather than risk captivity. A dispatch received from Karosko at Cairo says that unless reinforcements are sent immediately the garrison will be compelled to surrender. Fourteen thousand troops at Assouan will be ordered to Karosko.

In the commons to-day in the debate on the Hicks Beach motion of censure, Henry Chaplin, conservative, pronounced the conduct of the government in relation to Gordon as "an undying disgrace and dishonor to England."

Randolph Churchill made a bitter attack upon the government's policy. He believed that all England would say "Aye" to the question whether Gordon should be rescued. Gladstone would either have to submit to this demand or resign.

Forster, liberal, madea vehement speech attacking the policy of the government. He was frequently interrupted by vociferous cheers.

The motion of censure was rejected by a vote of 303 to 275. The Parnellites voted with the minority. The small majority for the government is looked upon as the sensation of the present session.

Thousands vainly endeavored to gain admission to the galleries of the house during the debate. The popular expression of feeling is strongly in opposition to the government. Up to the last moment the liberals had relied on the Irish vote. This is the fourth motion for censure that has been voted on this sesson and shows a fast dwindling away of the government's majority.

He is to conquer or enlighten the whole world by means of His disciples. The rev. gentleman referred to the class who hold that in heathen countries where the bible is not known there can be no violation of the moral law, and consequently no sin. He said all believed in the salvation of infants, therefore according to the same reasoning said all believed in the salvation of infants, therefore according to the same reasoning all infants should be put to death. He argued that a knowledge of the bible improves the condition of a people socially as well as morally. In conclusion he said that Christ is to conquer the whole earth through His disciples, and that their weapon is to be the word of God.

The McKim Case.
The following is a copy of the judgment of the magistrates in the McKim case, which has excited so much comment in Wellington on account of Mr. Peterson's conduct:

"The court being divided in their opinion, Mr. Halley considers that a prima facie case has been made out and the accused held answerable for the charge. Mr. Buschlen differs from this view, and considers that the charge should be dismissed. The county attorney considers that in consequence of this the case should be dismissed, and advises accordingly. The case is therefore dismissed.

The Court House Site

The most important question before th citizens of Toronto at the present is the site for the new court house. which side of Yonge street it shall be, and next it will have to be settled in what particular block of the side selected.

We are convinced that the court house ought to remain an the east side of Yonge

The county council and the people of York favor the east side. The board of trade are like-minded.

The committee of the city council hav recommended a site on the east side. The city council itself favored the side on Monday night.

The east side has always had the court house and the city has adapted itself thereto. The farmers' hotels are all on the east side. The lawyers' officers are on the east side and the business communit is on the east side.

Furthermore there are several first-class sites available on the east side at reasonaadvanced for crossing Yonge. Some of the lawyers want it west of Yonge because it would be near Osgoode hall; but what little advantage would result therefrom would be more than counterbalanced by the other side of Yonge. The west side of Yonge street is going ahead so rapidly on its own account and merits that it needs not to be pushed on by robbing any other the site proposed on that side is also large.

to consult the convenience of the farmers of York. We want them to come to Toronto to do their law business; we want them most of all as honest jurymen ; and we want them to do their buying here; if we do not consult their interests they will withdraw from the city and thereby depriving us of their business and their service. They have spoken in favor of the east side, and we ought to oblige them. Many of them come legal business; they come in on the Northern at the city hall station; their hotels are near there; and just on from that ought to be the new court house.

Custom, convenience and cost all favor side. We think the one recommended by the city council on Monday night is the best. It is the best because it is the most convenient. It is adapted to the purpose.
It is comparatively cheap. If taken it will remove a sore spot in the city and assist to improve a neglected quarter. This block is bounded by Victoria, Richmond, Church and Lombard streets, is in the heart of the city, and accessible from every point. All that is wanted is the opening of a street from Adelaide to Lombard alongside of the postoffice property. We lay no stock in the argument that somebody will make money out of this site being chosen. So will someone out of any one that is chosen. But it is not those who own the property chosen, or those who own property adjacent to it, who will profit most, and it is not the duty of the conneil to look out for their interests.

Now for Real Estate. In New York the bottom has fallen out of the stock market. People with inclination to speculate feel themselves knocked out of time by the shock of such events as the failure of Keene, of Grant & Ward, and of the Marine bank. One day a card castle, believed to represent millions, tumbles over, and is found to represent nothing at all. A few days more and another trouble comes, and several other supposed millions vanish like the baseless fabric of a vision. Of late the decline in stocks generally and railway stocks in particular, has been heavy and irresistable. One reason for this lies in the simple fact that two or three years ago stocks had been forced up far beyond their honest commercial value. There was really no margin for a rise, because all the rise that was in them had already been reached. A feature in the financial situation these few months past has been the large export of gold from New York to Europe. Some took this for a proof that American protection did not protect, and that the gold export was due to the success European manufacturers in ur derselling American manufacturers in spite of the tariff. But this, though partly true. was but a very small fraction of the whole trath; and the London Spectator hit the nail on the head when it said not long ago that the anxiety of European holders to ship American securities to New York and get rid of them was the main cause of the transfers of gold from west to east. Eu-says. Those who are bulls on wheat will landlords of Victoria are so regardless not be cheered on reading that, for the first time in the history of the grain trade, the largest quantity of wheat on passage from any one country to Great Britain is now on the way from Australia. In grain, s well as in stocks, the bears are in com mand of the situation.

Stock speculation is dull enough in Canada, though probably no duller than it ought to be for the good of the public. The fact that the market is dull and without cheerful movement of any kind causes many a hundred dollars, and many a five undred dollars, to remain in the possesion of the man who earned it, instead of going into the big blind pool of stock speclation. Thanks to the National Policy, the grain trade in Canada is saved from what would have been its proportion of the tremendous grain losses on the other side had there been no saving barrier to intervene. Our grain duties, so much condemned by some, have acted like the wire gauge of Davy's safety lamp in the hands of the miner deep down in he coal mine—they have prevented the explosive gas generated in Chicago from blowing up the grain trade here as well as over the berder. Our Canadian banks have good reason to be thankful for this particular result of the N. P.

Speculation both in stocks and in grain being knocked on the head, what follows? This, we should say, that the attention of investors will be more and more drawn to sound, solid investment in real estate. This will undoubtedly prove to be the case in Canada, as well as in the United States. And why not in Toronto, as well as in the next place, we may ask? The suggestion is surely worth turning over.

for votes. To the democrats he' offers an alliance with the greenbackers and workingmen, and to the latter a victory over the money power. The democrats have been so long out of office that even a moiety of the spoils would not come amiss to them, while, the third party would regard the defeat of the most powerful of the old organizations as a victory that would be rendered all the more glorious if it should cause the defection of the moneyed wing of the democracy. But Ben's biggest bid is to the soldiers, whether they fought for the true north or the sunny south. Few union veterans will refuse to the ex-confederates a moiety of the pension the movement inaugurated for his rehabilitation. This is the first time that he has ventured to show his face in London, since the memorable day upon which h imperilled the honor and the life of his fellow traveler, Miss Dickinson. He was very properly punished for his crime, and degraded from his proud position as the colonel of a crack regiment of hussars. Unlike the aristocratic blackguard Lord St. Leonard, Baker did not "go howling to his gods," and protest that it was an outrage to treat a gentleman as though he were made of vulgar common clay. By his candid admission of his fault, and his careful avoidance of anything that might reflect upon the fair fame of his prosecuter, and by his gallantry upon the pattlefield, Baker has done everything in his power to retrieve his forfeited position. His friends claim, and with some show of reason, that he has been sufficiently punished for an offence incited by over-indul gence in wine, and bitterly repented of They argue that the consequences should not pursue him through life. Neither human nor divine justice demands this. But it is thought that the queen and the commander-in-chief will remain inexorable, despite the entreaties of the Prince of Wales, and the eloquence of the yet unhealed wound received in his gallant but disa trous attempt to relieve Tokar. Baker's eturn occurs at an inopportune moment. English public feeling has been aroused by the gress misconduct of Baron St. Leonard and any leniency shown Baker would be criticised in many quarters as a discrimination in favor of the aristocracy against the Family Ties.

From the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin. A novel sight was witnessed at the Union depot a few days ago. There arrived on an early morning Chicago train an immigrant family from Denmark, consisting of husband, wife and fifteen children. When they alighted from the cars the man and woman each carried in their arms an infant, and were followed into the depot by the remainder of the numerous family. The thirteen children were all joined together by a small-sized rope, which was fastened around the arm of Demark, and in this manner the long-journey was made. The strangers re-mained at the depot until the afternoon, when they departed for Minnesota, where they will settle upon a farm. All were comfortably clothed, and the happy father appeared to be well supplied with money. The father and mother were apparently out 45 years of age.

A Burning Question.

From the Montreal Gazette.

No little excitement has been caus It is interesting to learn that there are whisky sellers in the prohibitory state of Maine, and that they nearly all belong to too, when we have an immense quantity of tonnage in port begging for bread, and despatch was received from Chicago to-day by parties here stating that if the to-day by parties here stating that if the Kingston grain rate could be made 2c instead of 22c, as at present established, some large engagements might be consummated, and the knowledge that a good business was possible if concessions could any how be made created a lively discussion on 'change. Some favored the calling of a public meeting to agitate the rescinding of the canal tolls, while others thought the better plan would be to appoint a deputation to lay the matter at once before the authorities at Ottawa. From enquiries we learn that there is a disposition on the part of the forwarding companies to meet the government on the toll question by reducing the river rate ‡c. per bushel, and if the harbor commissioners would join in and the river rate 1c. per bushel, and if the harbor commissioners would join in and knock off 1c. wharfage, and the elevating company put back their charge to that of last year, there can be no doubt, with the assistance the government might see fit to give on the toll question, that the grain trade of the St. Lawrence would at once resume its wonted activity, despite the fact that Canada has comparatively little grain to export. It will be seen what our ship pers have to compete with, when it is known that the rate on corn to Buffalo today is 12c., and thence to New York 58c. per bushel, but with a little tact and some sacrifice on the part of the several interests at stake, even these obstacles are not insuperable. Some idea of the cost of operating the Canadian Pacific railway may be had from the amount of the monthly pay-rolls of employes. That for January of this year amounts to $217,000, February $192,000, March $180,000, and April probably $200,000, which would average about $175,000 in wages on the western division alone.

SLAVE SELLING IN TANGIER. Traffic in Human Beings Carried Openly in the African City.

From the Leeds Mercury. Sunday, I learned, was the day on which these human chattels were generally disposed of; so on the first Sunday after my arrival in Tangier I went for a walk, and presently found myself in the crowded little market. Just ahead of my conductor was a tall, turbaned Arab, with fine face and a long gray beard, whom I recognized as one of the auctioneers who patrol the High street of Tangier carrying pieces of calico, horse trappings, knives, or other articles on their arms, and crying the price at which they are offered to the public. He was moving stolidly along through the crowd of market people, who were all too busy to spare so much as a glance at him. My guide pointed to him. "Voila!" he cried. "But where is the slave?" I demanded. "Voila, monsieur, voila!" he repeated pointing again to the slave group.

Evening suits, which used to be worthless as a selling commodity, are now the most valuable, as lately a considerable trade has sprung up in letting dress suits out at so much per night. If you are erable trade has sprung up in letting dress suits out at so much per night. If you are introduced or make the necessary deposit you may now blossom out for one night only as one of the upper ten, clawhammer and all complete, for the small sum of $2. Old hats are ironed and relined, and in most cases sold as new, the trade in second-hand hats being almost nil.

The old clothes trade in this country, however, is not nearly as brisk as it, is on however, is not nearly as brisk as it is on the other side, as there is not the same market. The chief market for England is the colonies and the islands of the south Pacific. Thousands of cases of old clothes Pacific. Inousands of cases of old clothes are every year exported from England to India, Japan and Ceylon. In the hill districts of India a coolie has to wear something warmer than in the low country, something warmer than in the low country, and, although he cannot bear a leg covering, he has always an old coat on. It is ludicrous sometimes to see a coolie with not a stitch of clothing on except a clawhammer coat and a plug hat. The South Sea islands have lately been a great factor in the "old clo" trade. Whenever a heathen there is converted the first thing he is taught to believe is that it is wrong to go naked, and, as when a chief is conto go naked, and, as when a chief is converted, the whole tribe generally follow suit, there is often a great dearth of old clothes.

The Jews are the chief if not the only The Jews are the chief if not the only dealers in old clothes, and they owe a good deal to the christians in this respect, as without the missionaries the heathen would still be going about in the state of our first parents. Last year there was some trade between Chicago, San Francisco and Japan in old clothes, about 150 cases being shipped. Ever since the Japs imbibed a taste for western civilization they have been great in European clothes. When the "disease" first broke out the streets of Yokohama more nearly resembled a street where a fancy dress ball was dispersing than anything else. The stores of all the old clothes dealers in Europe and America were put under requisition to supply Japan and continues of the street of the streets of supply s and America were put under requisition to supply Japan, and costumes of the days of the pilgrim fathers were common in the the pilgrim fathers were common in the streets.

Clothes that are too old and soiled, old socks, and underwear are all of use. Along with old paper they are sent to the mill to be made into new paper, and old cloth can be remade into "shoddy." In point of fact, most of the "this style for $7" is made out of this material. Lately chemistry has shown us how to make the most istry has shown us how to make the most delicious perfumes out of the refuse of the cow house, and there is really nothing that we throw away as "waste" but what s turned into useful purposes and enriches others.

In the discussion the members of the committee wandered over old ground. It was decided not to re-open the question of allowing switches to be placed on the new street, although Mr. Galbraith pressed for a reconsideration.

The solicitor's opinion was a synopsis of the Esplanade agreement of 1865, and held that the subscribing companies have a right to 100 cars' space on the Esplanade for unloading purposes each day. Messrs. Manning and Nairn held different views. Mr. Galbraith was opposed to the abolition of freight delivery on the Esplanade. All danger would he thought be averted if shunting were done at night. A resolution to this effect will be considered at next

Where the Astonishing Human Curiosit titles Come From.

From the Pittsburg Leader.

For years the public have been presented with all sorts of living wonders. They have assumed all shapes, colors, and are of every size. They seem to spring up in countless numbers, and yet they are in demand. Where do they come from? This question has been asked hundreds of times, yet the public seem to be as ignorant as ever upon this point. It was to gratify such curiosity that the writer dropped into the office of Harris' museum the other day and repeated the interrogation.

Solventide the dominion license act was better to 're member death.' There are no qualifications for the Trappist order. Any man who will obey the rules may stay seven years, giving his labor to the community and his thought to God, and, if he does not like it then, may withdraw. If he concludes to stay he takes the perpetual vow. The sin-sick and the warry are all here. Few desert, while many have been for years suring the concludes to stay he takes the perpetual vow. When he acquires the polish that comes from public experience and gains confidence he will command a great salary. He sings one verse at each entertainment even sings one verse at each entertainment even now, and it is received with shouts of laughter. I have a strong idea of advising him to become a clown. Thus you can readily observe that home talent exists to a great extent; it only requires to be dis covered and properly worked. VANITY OF THE RED MAN. The Baubles with Which the Wild Warriors Adorn Themselves.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Globe

Democrat writes from Ponca Agency, I.T.: "It is true these Osage, Kaw, Ponca and Otoc Indians nearly all wear leggins, moccasins and blankets and eschew the clothes of white men and women. They are also addicted to high colors and paint their faces, as many white women do. Occasionally a woman is seen in full dress, with a strip of vermillon an inch wide extending from the forehead past extending from the forehead past the crown of the head to the nape of the neck, the hair being specially parted for that purpose. But such vanity falls far below that which invents the towering pomaded head dresses of extra fashionable white women. Both men and women wear ear-rings and brooches. The ear-rings are generally in the form of bangles. Imagine a finger-ring of round silver wire and on this loosely strung by their smaller ends a half dozen little silver bangles about an inch long and shaped precisely as a tin dinner-horn, with a flange at the mouth and you have a fair description of the bangled rings. Those who can afford them wear gold instead of silver sometimes, but the Indian's fondness for the latter metal ornaments is never wholly overcome.

Indian's fondness for the latter metal ornaments is never wholly overcome.

'Holes are punched in the boys' ears, and as they grow the holes enlarge. They are also often torn larger by accidents, and many old men have slits in their ears an inch in length. Some have the rings on the tops of their ears instead of the lobes, but this is a matter of fancy, you know.

'Frequently bracelets of imitation wampum are worn by both sexes. The importation of genuine wampum has nearly ceased. It is very expensive, costing about $1 per inch at wholesale. The imitation is made of bone, and costs about 10 cents per piece, three inches in length. The genuine wampum is said to be imported wholly from China."

cation will make the most stubbornly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Re-member that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that will fill up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and that is iniurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Frockles, Wrimkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworm, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barbors' Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oll glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of 'powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness is prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicate softness; producing a per-
