OPPOSITION WILLING TO HURRY LEGISLATION EXCEPT NAVY BILL SCHEMES TO HARASS BORDEN

It Is Now Reported That the Naval Aid Measure Will Stand Over Until Next Week and Meanwhile Government Is Making Headway With Other Important Business.

OTTAWA, April 27.—(Special).—When the house adjourned after midnight on Friday it was intimated by the government that the naval aid bill would not be taken up on Monday, and it is rumored that the bill may go over until next week. Just now the government is having great success in advancing and putting thru legislation and some progress may be made during the week with supply.

The caucus on Tuesday of Liberal senators and members of the house will be awaited with interest, and the result may to some extent influence the course of the government. The policy of the opposition seems to be to expedite all public business except the naval aid bill and business of the country. Indeed, it is said that the Liberals will carry the war into Africa and harry the government daily with demands for the introduction of the parcels post and other bills of which notice has been given. They will also urge that Mr. White make his budget speech and bring the Bank Act before the house at the earliest possible moment for consideration. Their policy, in a word, is to hurry everything thru the house except the naval bill, which they will require the government to put thru by closure.

Prorogation in May. The expectation of a special session in September is quite general. A prominent Conservative member said tonight: "This parliament will have five sessions. The present session will progress next month and there will be short extra sessions called for September and February respectively. Then will come a big session in November, 1914, leading up to the general elections of 1915."

SUBMARINE SIGNALS FOR LARGE VESSELS

Steamer in Distress Will Be Located Easily by Others.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 28.—(Copyright).—The Times says as a result of a series of successful trials in submarine signaling from the steamers, the North German Lloyd has decided to equip its principal steamers with submarine bells of a similar type to those fitted to the lightships. Steamers so equipped will not only receive signals from regular warning stations, but will themselves be able to send out sound signals, so that in the event of a vessel being in distress in fog its position could be easily located by other ships fitted with submarine receiving apparatus.

Duchess Has Turn for Better.

LONDON, April 28.—(C.A.P.).—The Duchess of Connaught, who was reported on Saturday to have had a disturbed night and to be "not so well," improved somewhat yesterday. The following bulletin was issued last night at Clarence House: "The Duchess had a good night, her strength is maintained and general condition remains the same."

GERMAN SOLDIER BEATEN TO DEATH

Outrageous Cruelty Is Practiced Habitually Upon Privates by Superior Officers Who Use Whips.

Social Cable to The World. BERLIN, April 27.—(Copyright).—The outrageous cruelty practiced habitually upon private soldiers of the German army by their superiors was brought vividly to mind again by the ordering of a court-martial to enquire into the death of a member of the Imperial Body Guard, caused by ill-treatment. This case brought to light the following letter from Private Bussian, who was serving in the crack Potsdam Regiment of Lancers, to his mother: "I am thrashed by everybody with whips. I am going mad. Let me see you once more before I die."

The mother hurried to Potsdam to complain, but the son urged her to keep silence, saying: "If you report the case nobody will believe you, and I shall be tormented worse." So the mother returned home, leaving her son to his tormentors. A year later Bussian was found one night lying dead across a guard-room bench. The court-martial revealed an appalling story of two years of martyrdom. Bussian had been treated with indescribable brutality by third-year men. The sergeant refused to forward his complaints, and at the trial declared that he had noticed nothing, altho Bussian's face was often black and blue from bruises.

MORE WHEAT LAND. This Year's Western Crop Will Exceed All Others.

More wheat land is being put under cultivation in the Canadian Northwest this spring than ever before. In making this statement, R. B. Bennett, M.P. of Calgary, when seen by The World at the King Edward Hotel yesterday, declared that never before in his life had he seen the sowing of wheat undertaken on so large a scale as was the case now. The seeding is well underway, and all indications point to a crop greatly in excess of all previous records.

SALONIKI IS LEFT IN HANDS OF GREEKS

Withdrawal of Bulgars Apparently Thru Fear of Attack Is Regarded as Serious Indication That Rupture Is Not Far Distant—Austria Growing More Restless.

LONDON, April 27.—(Can. Press).—Diplomatic circles in London regard the Bulgarian withdrawal from Saloniki as having a grave bearing on the Greco-Bulgarian differences regarding the possession of the town. Since the fall of Janina the Greeks have been concentrating considerable forces in the neighborhood of Saloniki, and it is thought probable that the Bulgarian commander at Seres became alarmed at the situation, as a comparatively small Bulgarian force was left isolated at Saloniki.

Altho a rupture is not believed to be imminent, developments are awaited with anxiety, as the withdrawal of the troops is not regarded as indicating any modification of Bulgaria's attitude on the subject of Saloniki.

POWERS NOT DIPLOMATIC.

VIENNA, April 27.—(Can. Press).—The official Fremdenblatt, discussing Scutari, says:

"If Austria-Hungary is to be really tranquilized, the great powers must not stop at a platonic declaration of their unanimous intentions; they must convert their good will into deeds without delay. In this connection the constant talk abroad of compensating Montenegro for her military successes makes an especially bad impression. The political and military prestige of Europe has suffered by the fall of Scutari. If this injury to their prestige, this check to their actions is a matter of indifference to the powers, Austria cannot follow them along such a path. She must insist that all the emphasis at her command on a remedy being found as speedily and thoroughly as possible."

FATALLY INJURED BY STEEL GIRDER

Peter Banaski Died From a Broken Back and Other Injuries.

Peter Banaski of 16 Stanley avenue, who was seriously injured when a girder fell on him at the Toronto Structural Steel Works, Atlantic avenue, on Saturday afternoon, died at the Western Hospital last night. Banaski, along with several others, was handling a steel girder when the chain slipped and he was caught under one end. He was removed in the police ambulance to the hospital, where it was found he sustained a broken back. His body was removed to the morgue and an inquest will be opened today.

Contempt of House.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(Can. Press).—The special house committee which investigated the assault by Charles C. Glover, a local banker, on Representative Sims of Tennessee, reported that it had found Glover in contempt of the house and recommended that the Speaker issue a warrant for his arrest to answer that charge. Chairman Davis of West Virginia said he would call it up for action as soon as the house disposed of the tariff bill.

BIGAMY CHARGE AGAINST WATSON

Police Magistrate of Oshawa Placed in Embarrassing Position by Certain Political Opponents.

OSHAWA, April 27.—(Special).—W. J. Watson, police magistrate of Oshawa, whose appointment was not greatly relished by some others who were anxious to secure the position, was arrested tonight on a charge of bigamy. It is stated that the arrest was made at the instigation of certain of his political opponents.

Ten or twelve years ago Mr. Watson's wife left him and went to live in California. After every effort to have her return, he went to Brooklands, South Dakota, and after a year's residence there, secured a divorce. He returned to Toronto, and later married the widow of ex-Alderman Farley of Toronto.

Since his appointment as police magistrate, Mr. Watson has met with every kind of opposition, and it is said that the attention of the attorney-general will be called to this attempt to embarrass him.

BALKAN ALLIES IN BOLD PLOT

Essad Pasha Will Proclaim Himself King of Independent Albania and Form Cabinet.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 28.—(Copyright).—(3.30 a.m.).—A Belgrade correspondent of The Mail cables:

"Essad Pasha, with 26,000 troops, is nearing Tirana, where he will, according to a plan elaborated at Scutari, proclaim himself King of Independent Albania."

Djavid Pasha, commander of the remnants of the Turkish army of Macedonia, will become war minister. There is already an alliance with King Nicholas. It is stipulated that Montenegro keeps the Tarabosh Ridge and the Boyana Valley, while Scutari town becomes Albanian.

Essad's Albanian standing assures his success.

The Daily News Belgrade correspondent describes Essad's move as the Balkan allies' trump card, being the outcome of a plot planned with the connivance of Serbia and Montenegro, who desire Albania to take vassal status of Turkey, so they may maintain with it intimate relations.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS TO OCCUPY TOWNS

Reports Circulated in Berlin That Montenegro Is Entered Already.

LONDON, April 27.—(Can. Press).—According to a report published in Berlin, an Austrian division has left Trieste with 10,000 troops, with the intention of occupying Antivari, Duleigno and San Giovanni di Medua, and advancing against Cetinje.

The Strassburg Post asserts that the German emperor has received a telegram to the effect that the Austrians have already entered Montenegro.

It Is Stated That Plans Are Definitely Made and That Only Outbreak of War or Family Bereavement Can Interfere—Visit Will Be Without Precedent.

NEW YORK, April 27.—(Can. Press).—The Brooklyn Eagle London correspondent, under date of April 12, writes as follows:

"I am able to announce definitely that King George will visit Canada in 1914. Only some such unexpected event as a European war involving England or a family bereavement will prevent this trip taking place.

"The king and his advisers are taking somewhat unnecessary pains to keep the proposed visit secret. They are so afraid that the Canadians will be disappointed that they dread the king's intentions being announced so distant a date. A meeting between King George and President Wilson at Niagara Falls is likely to be arranged within the near future.

"King George has intimated his willingness to open the Toronto Exhibition in August 1914, and preparations for this event are already being made in English court circles.

Queen May Come Also. "It will be the first time that any king of England has visited Canada. It is hoped that the Queen will accompany the King, but nothing is yet definitely settled as regards the subject. The Prince of Wales is likely to be with his father on this interesting trip.

"In Canadian circles here a visit from the King has long been anticipated. When Lord Grey was governor-general, powerful representations were made to the desire of the Canadian people to see in person the King. The appointment of the Duke of Connaught as governor-general was in no small degree due to the royal appreciation of this sentiment. It is understood that the Duke of Connaught has cordially endorsed that earnest solicitation, of the Canadian Government and people to which the King has now acceded, so far as his plans can be arranged in advance, a welcome assent.

May See Big Yacht Race. "Lord Strathcona, the veteran high commissioner of Canada, said yesterday:

"No people of the empire are more loyal or more attached to the King than the Canadians. His majesty received evidence of this in 1899—when the Boer war broke out. Should the King go now or any subsequent time, it would be impossible for him to receive a finer welcome in any part of the world than in Canada."

"As the yacht races for the America's cup take place in September, 1914, there is just a chance that the King, on his return trip home, may be a spectator of Sir Thomas Lipton's fourth attempt to 'lift the cup.' It has been suggested that the warship on which the King will make the trip to Canada should be diverted to Sandy Hook, so that King George can see in person what happens to the four-leaved Shamrock.

To Visit Other Dominions. "During the King's absence from England the royal prerogatives would be vested in a commission similar to that which was appointed when he went to India to receive the homage of his subjects in that empire. For reasons of state it may be decided that the Prince of Wales stay in England while his father is abroad.

"This trip to Canada is only the forerunner of others. It is King George's ambition to be the first King to visit not only Canada, but also Australia and South Africa."

TORONTO ARCHITECT IS TO DESIGN MONUMENT

HEAVY LOSS CAUSED BY BALTIMORE FIRE

Big Building Occupying the Entire Block Was Completely Destroyed.

BALTIMORE, April 27.—(Can. Press).—Fire early this morning wrecked a big brick building, almost the entire block of Sharp street, between West and Ostend streets, causing a loss of about $200,000. Half the building was occupied by George E. Selman & Co., manufacturers of picture frames and moldings, and the other part by the Chesapeake Manufacturing Co., furniture makers. All the damage is said to be covered by insurance.

SUFFS, NARROWLY MISSED DUCKING

Unchivalrous Mob in Hyde Park Tried to Drag Persistent Orators to Water.

LONDON, April 27.—(Can. Press).—Hyde Park was again turned into a bedlam by the suffragettes and their opponents this afternoon. The women, declining to recognize the police order that no suffragette meetings were to be held in the park, appeared with a wagonette and proceeded to address a small crowd. Immediately youths commenced to gather and an attempt was made to drag the wagonette the Serpentine for the purpose of ducking the women.

Mounted and foot police intervened just in time to save them, and the suffragettes were escorted from the park, followed by a jeering crowd, who pelleted them with turf and street refuse after they entered a cab.

Men supporters of the cause were similarly treated, the crowd refusing to allow any suffrage meeting, militant or otherwise.

The Perthshire Cricket Pavilion at Perth, together with a collection of valuable photographs, records and relics, was destroyed by fire today. Suffragettes are suspected, altho nothing of an incriminating nature has been found.

DOUBT STORY OF WOMAN'S DEATH

Insurance Company Is Investigating Facts Concerning Disappearance at the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 27.—(Special).—The Prudential Insurance Company is "holding out" on the payment of insurance policies on the life of Miss Josephine Kivittich, a Polish young woman of Buffalo, who was reported to have been swept to her death over the Luna Fall on March 16. The company is leaving no stone unturned in trying to establish that Miss Kivittich did not lose her life or that, if she did, it was neither thru accident nor suicide.

Philip A. Ross, inspector of insurance, is here investigating the alleged tragedy.

Treasurer C. L. Atwood of the reservation, told the inspector the story of Miss Kivittich's death as told him shortly after the accident by two women who claimed to have accompanied her here from Buffalo. The latter two were Mrs. Woyciecki Maciejewski and her daughter, Mary. Inspector Ross said that these two women both hold policies on the life of Miss Kivittich, one for $1000, and another for $250, which the company is refusing to pay, pending positive proof of her death.

A searching investigation for six weeks has failed to discover any one who saw the woman.

RAILROAD TRAIN SET ON FIRE BY WOMEN

Suffragettes Attempted Also to Burn Freight Shed and Grand Stands—Mrs. Pankhurst Must Return to Jail Today and Police Are Nervous, Fearing Conspiracy.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—Setting fire to a railroad train is the latest act of the "arson squad" of the militant suffragettes.

Three compartments of an empty London and Southwestern train, standing on a siding at Teddington station, were discovered on fire, and the flames were easily extinguished, the authorities are again much alarmed. No arrests were made.

In one of the cars was found a woman's cloak and near the cloak were a quantity of cards addressed to members of parliament with the customary suffrage messages on them and other suffrage literature.

Oil had been poured over the seats and floors of the cars, and it was apparent that the women had been frightened off before they had a chance to set fire to each car.

Two other suffragette attempts at arson were frustrated today by the timely discovery of inflammable materials which had been set alight. One was in the freight shed of the Great Northern Railroad station at Westmill, about thirty-five miles to the north of London, in Hertfordshire, and the other under the grandstands at the Preston football grounds.

The usual paraphernalia used by the suffragettes, consisting of kerosene, soaked rags and resin as well as a quantity of suffragette literature, were found, but the "fire fiends" escaped.

Mrs. Pankhurst's Case. Mrs. Pankhurst must return to Holloway jail on Monday when her license expires. The World was informed today that suffragette headquarters that she will not surrender, but must be rearrested. It was stated that she is still too unwell to be re-imprisoned with safety.

Until Thursday she was in a nursing home at Baywater, but was then removed to the residence of Mrs. Ayrton, an eminent scientist and one of the most munificent contributors to militant funds. The police guard which has been on duty outside the nursing home, day and night, since Mrs. Pankhurst's release followed her to Mrs. Ayrton's house, which is difficult to guard because it has a private entrance into the Mews at the rear. The police are very nervous, believing that there is some plot to spirit Mrs. Pankhurst away.

She Must Behave. Zelle Emerson, the American girl whose mother came over to petition Home Secretary McKenna to release her daughter, has gone with her mother to the Isle of Wight, where

TO PROMOTE HUNDREDS OF PEACE BETWEEN NATIONS

British Delegation of Anglo-American Peace Centenary Sail For New York to Complete Arrangements For Niagara Bridge.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—Lord Weardale, head of the British delegation to the Anglo-American Peace Centenary, said to The Toronto World before his departure from Euston Station that the delegation were leaving the best of spirits, with high hope for the fruitful consummation of their work for the future consolidation of the English-speaking people and the peace of the world.

Asked for his opinion of Secretary Bryan's proposals, Lord Weardale said that the Mr. Bryan was his great personal friend, he had not had an opportunity of considering the secretary of state's proposals, but no doubt they were framed in a way likely to realize the object devoutly desired by all nations.

The Hon. Nell Primrose, Earl Rosebery's second son, perhaps is the most interesting personality among the delegation. He is not only good looking, but has a distinguished and charming manner, with his father's musical voice and also something of his elusiveness. But while Lord Rosebery, beginning as a Liberal, gradually became a Tory, his son is reversing the process. He supports all the Liberal measures which his father has denounced, and, having marked parliamentary aptitude, he is an attractive speaker, with excellent abilities. He would be a much more prominent politician if he had not inherited the full measure of his father's passion for sport. Primrose is essentially a sportsman in every sense of the word.

Lord Weardale is the dean of the international peace arbitration movement, and is one of the most agreeable and clever of men. Springing from the noted Tory family of Stanhope, he developed the teeth of all caste and all family influences into an advanced radical. The Earl of Stanhope, another member of the delegation, is the present head of his family. He shares the peace proclivities of his uncle, the remaining true to the Tory principles of his family. Sir Henry Maxwell, former Tory member of parliament and the party whip, is an accomplished writer on Scottish history, archaeology and natural history.

The Hon. C. T. Mills, M.P., is the heir of Lord Hillington, millionaire, of the great banking firm of Glyn, Mills & Co. He is one of the youngest members of the house of commons and a scratch golfer. Moreton Frewen, who married one of the Jerome sisters, is as well known in America as in England. He is a general of the Australian Commonwealth. He is a clever speaker and is often described as "Taffy Bannister."

Shirley Benn is young Waldorf Astor's Tory colleague in the representation of Plymouth. He has large interests in Canada. The Hon. J. S. Ferris, secretary of the delegation, is one of the most ardent and devoted international peace propagandists in Great Britain.

"Save Me!" Cries Czarevitch. Special Cable to The World. ST. PETERSBURG, April 27.—(Copyright).—This pathetic story is told about the little, crippled Czarevitch. He recently went weeping to his father, Czar Nicholas, and said: "I have overheard that I am incurable. I want life and health. Save me. You are omnipotent."

KING HOPES FOR SUCCESSFUL END Of Negotiations For Celebration of Hundred Years' Peace.

HE KNOWS SPOT WELL Where Bridge Is to Be Erected Over the Niagara River.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—When receiving at Buckingham Palace members of the British delegation who were leaving on the Caronia for New York to make arrangements for the celebration of the centenary of Anglo-American peace, King George expressed his pleasure to meet the delegation and his earnest hope that its mission would be wholly successful. He said he hoped the deliberations would result, not only in a worthy celebration, but also in the perpetuation of the friendly relations now existing between all English speaking peoples.

At the conclusion of his speech Lord Weardale presented each member of the delegation to His Majesty, who in conversation showed he was fully conversant with the work of the peace committees. He made it clear that he attached the greatest importance to the maintaining of the friendly relations between the United States and Canada. His Majesty observed that he had heard that one of the suggestions for commemorating the hundred years of peace was to erect a bridge over Niagara Falls, and he regretted this particular site should have been selected. A member of the delegation explained that the bridge was not to be erected over the Falls themselves, but over the rapids below them.

The King said he knew the spot well. The interview was arranged at His Majesty's own request.

MANY WOMEN EXHIBITORS IN PRESENT PARIS SALON. Special Cable to The World. PARIS, April 27.—(Copyright).—The twenty-third salon of the National Society of Fine Arts, which opened last Sunday, is notable only for the large number of women exhibitors of unusual merit. Thirty large rooms are filled with paintings and sculptures. The Rodin bust that was to have been one of the features of the exhibition has not yet been delivered.

George Bertrand's portrait of Mme. Poincaré sitting in a rustic chair in the open is a centre of interest, her charm and beauty provoking great admiration. The nude is prominent in the exhibition as usual, and "Naked Dancer," by Brin, is considered the limit. I. Berard's "Night of Nogen," the scene at the famous siege of the bandit's house, pleases the Parisian topical sense more than anything in the salon. It is always surrounded by a crowd.

Her small dinners are included in the list of exclusive hostesses like Mrs. Charles Schwab, Viscountess Maidstone and the Duchess of Portland. She has entertained the duchess this spring in Park Lane, where one evening she gave an impromptu party, a dinner of sixty, followed by a delightful entertainment in the winter garden carried out by children, the actors including her own small son and little daughter. The latter is one of the cleverest young people in society.

WAS TORMENTED BY REPORTERS

De Fouquieres Could Not Escape From Despotism of the Press.

THE PURSUIT OF MONEY Bergson Says It Is Done For What Cash Purposes.

Special Cable to The World. PARIS, April 27.—(Copyright).—Andre de Fouquieres, whom Elizabeth Manbury invited to the United States last December for a series of lectures, and who took with him 4000 letters of introduction society folk, publishes a long essay on America in The Figaro. In it he discusses almost every incident of his visit except the colored breast pocket handkerchiefs; the name of my personal tailor; a full list of my preferences as to necktie ties; the number of pieces of clothing in my wardrobe; and my habitual hour of rising in the morning.

De Fouquieres found, he says, that the magnificent approach to New York is ruined for an aesthetic foreigner by the stampe of bullying shippers reporters. "I warned," he continues, "by the Paris press of my sartorial importance, my ambassadorial of fashion, their insistence on extraordinary persistence on such minor details as white, colored breast pocket handkerchiefs; the name of my personal tailor; a full list of my preferences as to necktie ties; the number of pieces of clothing in my wardrobe; and my habitual hour of rising in the morning."

Of his social experience the Parisian says: "My impresario, Miss Marbury, who is one of the most charming business woman type, was severe, despotism, with my social engagements. Mrs. Clarence Mackay's country house was so annoying. The two most impressive features of New York are its obligation of complex noises and its kaleidoscope of swift movement. His Social Experience. PARISIANS PUZZLED BY STORIES ABOUT DIVORCE. Special Cable to The World. PARIS, April 27.—(Copyright).—The society papers differ as to the truth of the rumor that the daughter of ex-President Fallieres has sued her husband, named Lanes, for divorce. It was supposed that she was deferring legal action for separation until the expiration of her father's term as president. The report is both denied and affirmed in apparently authoritative quarters. The couple were married five years ago. The bride's dowry was $100,000.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—If any unmarried men in Canada had not received an invitation to the outdoor tea party and other festivities issued by the girls of Ecuassines Laid, a small village in Belgium not very far from Brussels, they may apply to the president of the Girls' Matrimonial Club for a long list of names. The girls are being invited as usual this year for Whit Monday (May 12). The program includes a reception of bachelors by the girls, a stone quarry, railway station, visits to the beauties (landscape) of the neighborhood, a procession of young men reviewed by the girls, signing of names in the Golden Book at the town hall, a parade of pretty girls all dressed in their best before the young men, outdoor tea party and then an open-air ball.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—"The Yellow Jacket" has proved such a success that Gaston Mayer has extended the program to embrace the whole London season. Prof. Max Reinhardt secured all the rights for Germany, Austria, Hungary and Bohemia. He intends to produce the piece in his Deutsches Theatre at Berlin at the beginning of the autumn season.

DELAY IN HEARING MRS. WEST'S SUIT

Action For Divorce Will Be Dealt With at the May Term.

FACTS SUBMITTED WILL COMPLY WITH FORMAL REQUIREMENTS OF LAW.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—There has been delay in the hearing of the suit for divorce of Mrs. George Cornwallis West, formerly Jennie Jerome of New York, who became Lady Randolph Churchill, and is the mother of Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty. Her suit against George Cornwallis West cannot be heard now until the May term, which begins the tenth of next month.

The case will be even more barren of features than is the usual English divorce action. The co-respondent is a woman of no social importance, and her name will not even be mentioned. In such a case it is only necessary to put in evidence the facts, such as clandestine visits to places under circumstances from which the court may deduce the conclusion of infidelity. Mrs. West will simply have to testify that her husband has refused to obey the court's order of March 3 for restoration of conjugal rights within fourteen days. In England, such an order amounts to formal proof of desertion when the defendant refuses to comply with it by returning to his or her family.

Detectives to Testify. Of infidelity upon which the divorce is sought, Sir Samuel Evans, president of the divorce division, will pass upon the evidence. The order for restoration of conjugal rights was granted by Sir Samuel in record time of five minutes, and the former Lady Randolph was spared by him all the formalities that possibly could be dispensed with.

ULSTER ASKING SPECIAL TERMS. British Cabinet May Agree to Desire of Some Irish Unionists. Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—Rumors of forthcoming proposals for a compromise in the partition of the Irish minority have been so persistent that Sir Edward Carson felt compelled to reiterate a statement issued to the press that he never believed in compromise, and would never agree to it. The large body of influential Unionists in Ireland, realizing that the passage of the home rule bill into law is humanly impossible, are preparing for the new order of things, and are anxious to have a hand in working for their country under it. Proposals for some special, but not separate treatment for Ulster have been presented to the cabinet in behalf of the Irish Unionists, and are now under consideration.

Special Cable to The World. WARSZAWA, Russian Poland, April 27.—(Copyright).—Paderewski, who recently gave a few concerts here, was treated by his enthusiastic Polish compatriots almost like a king. When he went calling or shopping crowds followed his automobile, cheering as he stepped in and out. One day a crowd of admirers waited fully an hour while he and his wife were calling on Prince Czertwinski, just for a glance at his auburn hair. At the Philharmonic rehearsals students inundated him with flowers. The enthusiasm at his concerts surpassed anything he had ever witnessed.

Special Cable to The World. WARSZAWA, Russian Poland, April 27.—(Copyright).—Paderewski is so patriotic that he refuses to play for the Czar. He is a great favorite with boys of his own age, who treat him with little ceremony. He is a good fencer and drives his own motor. Carousing Laid to Princes. The other night when he was at a ball, his chauffeur went to one of his own in his master's car with two masked girls. The scandal was great when the police began to complain and a rumor spread through the city that a future king of Roumania had been carousing with a couple of masked girls. Even now many refuse to believe that the prince was not there.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—"The Yellow Jacket" has proved such a success that Gaston Mayer has extended the program to embrace the whole London season. Prof. Max Reinhardt secured all the rights for Germany, Austria, Hungary and Bohemia. He intends to produce the piece in his Deutsches Theatre at Berlin at the beginning of the autumn season.

HOW A PRINCESS LOST HER HEART

Kaiser's Daughter Did Not Know She Had Fallen in Love.

HER FATHER FURIOUS BUT WILL GIVE HER A MILLION MARKS AS A WEDDING PRESENT.

Special Cable to The World. BERLIN, April 27.—(Copyright).—As the wedding day approaches, new facts, or, at least, new anecdotes, are coming to light in regard to the Hohenzollern-Guelph romance of Princess Victoria Louise and the Duke of Cumberland's heir. It seems that, far from it being a "diplomatic match" or a hasty and auspicious love affair, the betrothal was the result of a friendship extending over two years, for at least eighteen months of which Emperor William was in a vexatious dilemma.

The origin of the feud between William II. and the crown prince, of which so much has been written, is now clear for the first time. If the following story may be believed: Two winters ago the crown prince was staying in Celerina, a great winter sports resort in Switzerland. It had been arranged that his sister, Victoria Louise, was to stay with him there, and, as usual, the emperor first enquired of his son if there was anyone at Celerina whom the young princess ought not to meet. The prince replied that all was well. He did not mention the presence of the handsome and popular young "Count of Calenberg," with whom the young princess proceeded to fall desperately in love, ignorant that the "count" was Prince Ernest of Cumberland.

SHE STOPS RIDERS ON ROAD AND THEN DEMANDS KISSES

Princess Ileana of Roumania Is Most Popular Member of Crown Prince's Family, and Her Quaint Remarks at Movies Make Him Roar With Laughter.

Special Cable to The World. BUCHAREST, Roumania, April 27.—(Copyright).—Four-year-old Princess Ileana, the youngest of Crown Prince Ferdinand's five children, is his most popular member of the family. When she walks out with her English nurses in the Chausee, she stops the riders and demands kisses. When they are given, she exclaims in English: "I know why you kiss me; it is because I am so charming. Mother says so."

She tyrannizes her father, who takes her to "movies" every afternoon and roars with laughter at her funny remarks to the public. She has beautiful violet eyes and the walk of a little queen. Her eldest sister, Princess Elisabeth, is pronounced the handsomest of European younger princesses. She is eighteen years old, fair, has a dazzling complexion, beautiful violet eyes and an extraordinary charm of manner. Many think she is too good-natured, as she allows her girl companions to treat her like an equal.

There has been some talk of "arranging" a marriage between her and Crown Prince Boris of Bulgaria, who is a year older, but the strained relations between the two countries have caused the subject to be unpopular. King Charles, who is a matchmaker, would bring Bulgaria and Roumania together. On the other hand, rumors of Princess Elisabeth's great love for sports and pleasure reached Sofia, where a serious future queen would be welcome. Captivated by a Dashing Lieutenant. Princess Elisabeth does not want to marry yet. She is just now much taken with young Lieut. Davila, a dashing cavalry subaltern and a great friend of her brother, Prince Charles. She does not hide her preference, but the lieutenant is very nervous about it. He knows marriage with her is out of the question and fears being sent in disgrace to some provincial garrison.

It is amusing to see them skating together or talking at a ball. She is all vivacity and eagerness while in his admiration and fear are struggling. Like the rest of "the little court," as the crown prince's household is called, Princess Elisabeth goes about a great deal. If she is not at some reception, she is to be seen driving in the Calcea Victoria or the Chausee, or skating in the rink with her brothers and sisters. She has had little of her favorite bobbing this winter, owing to lack of snow up at Sinalia, where the royal family has a beautiful mountain castle. The queen vainly tried to persuade her to give it up altogether, as she had a painful accident last year and caused severe injuries to four friends, who ran over a precipice rather than into her as she lay injured on the road.

Her elder brother, Prince Charles, who is nineteen, goes out so much that people are beginning to complain as the Greeks do of their young princes, for the habit of royalty's popping in to four friends, who ran over a precipice rather than into her as she lay injured on the road. ## PRINCESS MARY HAS A WILL THAT AMUSES KING GEORGE

Just Sixteen, She Soon Will Overcome the Firmness of Her Mother, Whom She Lately Forced to Compromise on the Subject of Hair Dressing.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright).—Princess Mary is said to be the most determined lady in the royal household. Her royal highness, who celebrated her sixteenth birthday yesterday, is fast growing up, and she is forming her own circle of friends and her own manner of life. The one point of dispute between her and the Queen is her hair. Princess Mary desires to have it falling about. The Queen will not allow it up. Now a compromise has been made. Princess Mary usually ties it back in a small thick plait doubled up at the neck with a ribbon. The King is amused at his daughter's strong will, which seems likely to overcome even that of the Queen. A very special friend of the princess is Lady Rachel Capell, the pretty second daughter of the Countess of Essex. This friendship sprang up last year when Lady Rachel with a number of other young society girls was entertained by the princess to tea in the palace. Lady Rachel is a delightful little person, and both Queen and Queen Alexandra have always had an affection for her since quite a small child.

Lady Rachel rides in the park when in town, and to the young people who meet frequently during the coming season, as Princess Mary is now allowed to appear publicly by her majesty. Mrs. Frederick Guest, who was Miss Amy Phillips of New York, will be one of the most prominent American hostesses in London after Whitehall.

IS BRITISH ROYAL FAMILY AFTER THIS PRUSSIAN CROWN?

Prince of Wales' Visit to Stuttgart May Have Had an Object Apart From Learning the Language, According to Gossip in Berlin.

Special Cable to The World. STUTTGART, Germany, April 27.—The Prince of Wales has come and gone, taking with him the decoration of the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown of Wurtemberg, which his host bestowed upon him immediately after his arrival, and an autograph letter from the King of Wurtemberg to King George of England, promising to take Queen Charlotte on a visit to Windsor Castle in the near future.

The Prince of Wales' father is the first British sovereign since the Stuarts who has not spoken English with a German accent and every one knows that his son and heir has lost even more of the language of his Teutonic ancestors. It seemed plausible therefore at first to account for his visit to Stuttgart as the guest of the sovereign at the head of the house from which his mother springs with the statement that he was there to study the language. He certainly made diligent use of his time in that respect, taking a long walk every morning after his early breakfast, in company with a German professor for conversation and devoting an hour or two later in the day to German reading.

But a fortnight's residence in Germany was all he had finally, and the satisfaction and pleasure in the visit by naming everything, from cocktails to cigars to soap and chocolates, "Prince of Wales."

There are plenty of wisecracks at the Stuttgart court who see a deep political significance in the prince's visit with his unassuming equerry, Major Cadogan, who is, however, a trained diplomat, equal to any secret mission.

The evident hostility which the family of the ducal branch of Wurtemberg showed to the visitor of the Ringly house seems to indicate an acceptance on their part of political motives in the visit and an encroachment upon their ambitions for the Wurtemberg crown, from the English branch of the Ringly Wurtembergs, represented in Queen Mary and her brothers, Duke Adolphus and Prince Alexander of Teck.

Twice Married But No Son. King William II, who succeeded his great uncle, the first King of Wurtemberg in 1891, has been married twice. But he has never had a son. His only child, the offspring of his first marriage, is the wife of the Prince of Wied, nephew of the Queen of Roumania. The king's present wife, Queen Charlotte, a beautiful brunette, resembling somewhat the Queen of Italy, has never had any children. She is now nearing her fiftieth birthday. The king has no brothers or nephews, and the male line in his branch, the royal line, dies out with him.

If Queen Mary of England's paternal grandmother, the fascinating Polish Countess Claudine Rheday, had been of royal birth there would not be the slightest chance for any one but her brothers or her son becoming King of Wurtemberg after King William's death. Claudine Rheday's husband was Duke Alexander of Wurtemberg, the grandson of the reigning sovereign, and he solemnly adjured his right to his grandfather's throne when he made Claudine Rheday his morganatic wife. But his descendants are today the only heirs to the Wurtemberg throne in the direct royal line, and as his son, the first Duke of Teck, married the daughter of a British sovereign and his granddaughter is now the queen of another British sovereign, the strain plebian blood may be said to have been expiated.

A Protestant Kingdom. The situation in regard to the succession is aggravated even beyond the ordinary difficulties when there is no direct heir, by the fact that the King-

ENORMOUS PROFIT IN WAR SUPPLIES

Shameful Schemes Used to Increase Them, Says German Newspaper.

FIGURES ARE JUGGLED

But Stock Rose Three Hundred Per Cent. in a Few Months.

Special Cable to The World. BERLIN, April 27.—(Copyright.)—This whole thing is due to the gradual Americanization of Germany, says a well-known politician to the World correspondent today.

"If you want proof, consider those names which are so disgraceful to the name of the Kaiser, and his wife keeps open house for the young princes."

Frau Von Gontard leads the princesses' set. Her other-in-law is adjutant to Prince August Wilhelm, who, it is said, regularly frequents the Von Gontard palace on the Biederstein when he wants a gay evening. Berlin society is full of gossip concerning the gait of these special Von Gontard parties, where the fun breaks loose after midnight when the staid Geheimrats and other old-fashioned, ultra-puritan folk have gone home and to bed.

Turkey trots the "wallah" waiters are said to be more popular in the Von Gontard ballroom than the courtly minuet or the Kaiser's favorite "Frantische."

Enormous Profits. The Busch money, it is admitted, has brought an enormous interest. The Tagblatt says, in the Deutsche Munitionsfabrik, which makes such huge annual profits that it is obliged to resort to various schemes to conceal the actual facts and keep the value of the stock down to thirty per cent, while the true profit is really nearer sixty or seventy.

The enormous profits of the last five years are shown by the fact that, while in the 1907 annual balance sheet it showed a net profit of 1,000,000 marks, the company valued at over $2,000,000, and machinery at $500,000, in the balance sheet of 1912 the value of the land and buildings is written off, while the value of the machinery is written down to one-third.

"Finally," says the Tagblatt report, "there were no more hiding places within the limits of the balance sheet where the company could conceal its large profits, so the directors were obliged to raise the dividend to thirty per cent, and the value of the stock in the open market rose from 20 to 57 1/2 per hundred mark shares."

"These enormous profits clearly have been gained by selling war material to Germany and other nations, and now Herr Busch is turning to the manufacture of these profits, the factory resorts to shameful false statements in the foreign press."

For seashore and general country wear the cotton sponge has no equal. Its texture prohibits the wrinkles that afflict smoother materials. This design is new in effect, with many good points. ### EXERCISE

Children of their own accord take a proper amount of exercise. Indeed, the average child governs himself automatically in such matters as sleeping, eating and playing, which is exercising. Except in occasional cases, the only duty of the parent is not to restrain the natural impulses. The chief restraint we are apt to place upon the baby in the matter of exercising is that of clothing. It should be loose and permit free movements of the arms and legs. In this way baby gets his exercise, especially when he is crying.

But this is not enough. Twice a day, morning and evening, he should be laid on a bed or couch in a warm room, free of draughts, his diapers and stockings removed. You do not need to play with him or teach him how to exercise, he will play with his hands and toes and kick away to his heart's content.

Later on, when he creeps and then walks, you wonder he does not drop through weariness, he is so constantly on the go. Just let him please himself about how much creeping or walking he wants to do. Never persuade him to walk until he becomes over tired and excited. The baby who gets the necessary long hours of sleep and the regular daily naps, will not suffer from too much exercise.

After the baby is 2 years old he gets sufficient exercise in play and walks. Do not use the go-cart too much after this age. It may take longer to go to the store if you let baby accompany you on his feet, but he needs the walk.

Baby has been wheeled around so long that it is difficult to change to walking, but the change should be made. Long walks on the street to the point of fatigue are, of course, unnecessary and harmful. A shovel and a sand pile in the back yard are splendid incentives to exercise.

No matter how attractive the backyard, there seems to be a wonderful attraction about the street, and most children slip away from the safety of the garden as often as possible. This becomes a personal matter with each mother. Either she must provide playmates for the back yard, or plan interesting games that can only be played there; or she must bear the anxiety of knowing her little ones are exposed to the dangers of contagion and accident on the street.

The delicate child must have his exercise regulated, for a child who tires easily usually has some particular

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

Porterhouse and Other Steaks

M R. WRIGHT SANFORD was one of the fervent disciples of the house of Delmonico, and an acknowledged epicurean. His favorite order was porterhouse steak prepared as follows: Cut a steak two and a quarter inches thick; this after being trimmed should weigh four pounds and a half. Brush over with melted butter and broil with steady heat for twenty-four minutes if wanted very rare; twenty-eight minutes to be properly done and thirty-two minutes if you do not appreciate broiled steak at its best and want it well done.

Arrange the steak on a very hot dish and garnish with ribbons of horseradish, cut as thin and as long as possible. Season with chopped parsley, melted butter, salt and pepper.

Round steak with crisp: Cut the steak from a round of young beef—it should be about an inch thick—pound with a mangle or dull-edged platter, and brush over with a mixture of vinegar and butter or oil and vinegar. Broil over an even high flame twelve minutes and dress with maitre d'hotel butter as above and garnish with fine crisp greens.

Rump steaks from young animals are of the more expensive cuts, but in their way very fine. Cooked "Village Style" this steak will give a welcome change. Broil the steak, after it is well mangled, about fourteen minutes. Dice cold boiled potatoes and fry them until a rich brown in hot butter. Season with salt, pepper, nutmeg, and pour over them a cup of sweet cream containing a level tablespoon of cornstarch. Continue cooking the potatoes until they are thick.

Place the creamed potatoes on a shallow platter and set beneath the flame of the broiler until brown over the top. Cut the steak into hellebar pieces and lay over the top of the potatoes. Over all pour the juice from the steak and melted butter. Garnish with parsley or crisp.

Twelve-ounce porterhouse or loin steaks will broil in eight to ten minutes. An excellent garnish for them is made from beef marrow. Cut the marrow in slices about one-half inch thick. Have water boiling briskly and when the steaks are on their heated platter, dip the marrow slices into the boiling water, drain almost immediately and arrange them over the steak. This may be finished with Borden's or Bernal's sauce.

Delmonico's recipe for hamburger steak is known under the high-sounding name of Steak a la Salisbury: Chop a pound and a half of tender lean steak and a half a pound of best bacon in a meat machine. Season with spices, or with salt, pepper and onion salt only, or in the way your family likes best.

Have a border mold very hot and well buttered and a hot oven waiting. Pack the ground, seasoned steak into the mold and spread with butter or oil. Put in the oven for ten minutes or until the top is a crusty brown. Invert on a serving platter. Fill the centre with creamed mushrooms, or well broiled, sliced tomatoes, or any vegetable that is liked with this form of beef. The meat should be well done on the top and outer sides, but quite rare in the centre. This mode of preparing Hamburg admits of many changes and combinations, besides making an attractive appearance.

FEMALE ELOQUENCE AT HIGHEST POINT

Miss Hageby Lost Libel Suit, But Made New Conversation Record.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright)—Viscountesses are elated because Miss Lindat Hageby lost her libel suit against The Pall Mall Gazette. After a trial lasting thirteen days she failed to prove her allegations regarding vivisection cruelties.

But she beat all records for feminine eloquence, having spoken in fifty-six hours about 350,000 words. The stenographic transcript of the whole suit foots up just a million words. She was condemned to pay about $30,000 costs. The entire costs of both sides amount to nearly $75,000.

She showed remarkable eloquence, ability, quickness and perfect temper throughout. The anti-viscountesses are getting up a testimonial to pay her costs.

BLOOD IS WATERY IN THE SPRING

It is lacking the essential, life-giving principle, which is best obtained by the use of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD—This great Food Cure brings new hope, new vigor, new energy and new health to overcome tired, languid and depressed feelings which come with Spring and are the outward indications of the weakened condition of the blood and the low state of vitality.

Everybody Needs a Spring Restorative

WHEN the blood gets thin and watery the waste of the human body is more rapid than the process of reconstruction. Gradually the action of the heart grows weaker and weaker, the lungs do not work to their full capacity, the stomach and other digestive organs fail to perform their duties, and the result is all sorts of bodily derangements. Aching head, dizzy spells, indigestion, feelings of weakness and despondency, lack of energy to perform the duties of the day, loss of appetite, failing memory and power of concentration of the mind, irritability, nervousness and sleeplessness are among the symptoms which distress you, and all can be avoided by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. There is no preparation to be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a spring restorative. It does not stimulate and so whip the organs of the body to overexertion, but by enriching the blood instills new vigor into the system. By noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added.

Mrs. J. Donnelly, 105 Portland Street, Toronto, and formerly of Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. My little girl's nerves were so bad that she would wake up nights in hysterics, and we could not get her quieted for a long time. Since taking a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she is greatly improved in health and her nerves are steady. "I knew of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food because I used it myself several years ago when the nervous system got run down and I could not sleep nights. I was also weak and suffered from dizzy spells. The Nerve Food made me strong and well."

Mrs. J. B. Berryman, 35 Bay Street, North Hamilton, states: "I was so very nervous that frequently I could not sleep at all, and would be so unsteady that I could not remain in bed, but would have to get up during the night in order to quiet my nerves. I also suffered considerably from faintness and dizzy spells, and though I had doctored for some years I never seemed to get anything that did me any real good until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It worked a great change in my condition almost immediately, and after a regular use of this preparation I believe that it has effected a permanent cure."

Mrs. Thomas Peacock, 23 Elvathia Street, St. Thomas, Ont., and whose husband is conductor on the Wabash Railway, states: "I was quite run down in health, was very nervous, did not sleep well and had frequent dizzy spells. Believing this to be the result of an exhausted nervous system, I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this medicine did me a world of good. It entirely freed me of the symptoms stated above, built up my health generally, so that to-day I feel that I am quite well again." Under date of Sept. 5, 1912, Mrs. Peacock writes: "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a world of good, and I would be pleased to tell everybody so."

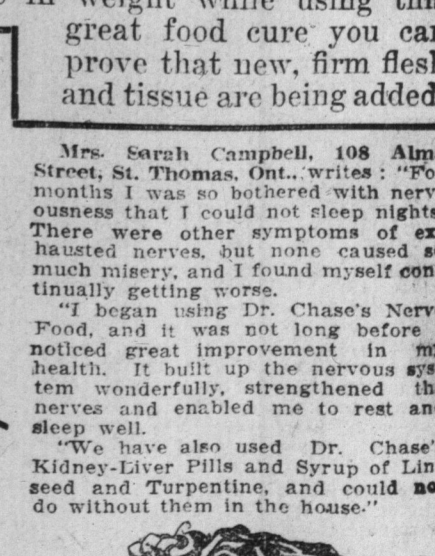

Mr. Henry Black, 81 Ste. Catherine Street East, Montreal, Que., writes: "The wonderful results I obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food constrains me to write this letter in order that others who suffer from nervous exhaustion and weakness may use this medicine with equally satisfactory results. As the result of overwork I became completely exhausted, and was unable to work for fourteen months. As I am the father of a family, these were sad days for me, but after I had used six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I had improved so greatly that I continued the treatment until I was completely restored to health and strength. I now work twelve to fifteen hours a day and keep in excellent health."

Mrs. John Waisfield, La Have Islands, Lunenburg Co., N.S., writes: "Two years ago my system became greatly run down, and I was awfully nervous. It was very difficult for me to do my housework, and I felt very miserable. I doctored, but did not receive any benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This medicine proved of wonderful benefit to me, building up the system and restoring health and strength. I always feel now that if I do get run down I can depend on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to make me strong and well." "My husband was troubled with dizziness and nervous headache, and was cured by the Nerve Food. He would not be without it in the home."

Mrs. Sarah Campbell, 108 Alma Street, St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "For months I was so bothered with nervousness that I could not sleep nights. There were other symptoms of exhausted nerves, but none caused so much misery, and I found myself continually getting worse." "I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and not long before I noticed great improvement in my health. It built up the nervous system wonderfully, strengthened the nerves and enabled me to rest and sleep well." "We have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and could not do without them in the house."

Mr. J. Hurlbert, 23 James Street, Brantford, Ont., writes: "I was very much run down in health, and as a consequence my nervous system was very much exhausted. Close confinement at my work, I think, brought on the trouble. I started using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and by the time I had used up one box I felt a great improvement. The continued use of this preparation has thoroughly restored my system, so that I feel strong and vigorous and fit for any amount of work. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment with splendid satisfaction, and recommend them at every opportunity."

The Body Feeds on Rich, Red Blood.

The blood is the medium by which nourishment is supplied to the various parts and organs of the body. When the blood fails to derive proper nourishment from the food, or is depleted by overwork, worry or disease, a general breakdown of the system is sure to follow.

Because of the readiness with which it is taken into the blood stream, and because of its exceptional vitalizing powers, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest blood-builder and enricher which it is possible to obtain. Such ailments as anaemia, chlorosis or green sickness, general debility and physical exhaustion are overcome by this food cure.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Gradually but certainly Dr. Chase's Nerve Food increases the quantity and improves the quality of the blood, nourishes the nerves back to health and vigor, and through the blood and nerves carries new vitality to every part of the body. This great food cure brings health to the broken-down, energy to the worn-out, strength to the weak, sleep to the sleepless, and health and happiness to the sick and despondent.

CHEF THEATRE ATTRACTIONS

Tyrone Power as "Brutus" at the Princess, With a Wonderful Production at the Alexandra—"Seven Days" at the Grand, With Especially Good Vaudeville and Burlesque Offerings.

"Little Boy Blue," the great H. W. Savage musical production, which comes to the Royal Alexandra Theatre this week with matinees Thursday and Saturday, is not a musical nursery fests, but one of the most exquisite and first romances ever attuned to an entrancing musical score by eminent authors and composers, and interpreted by an extraordinary cast. Only one other traveling company in America requires more extraordinary railroad facilities and special trains, and that too, is a Henry W. Savage production. The company includes Otis Harlan, late of the "Baby Mine" Company and "The Broken Idol" Company; Kathleen Clifford, the cute operatic debutante; John Dunsmore, a singer and a character actor of distinction; Maude Odell, formerly with Frohman productions; Kathryn Stevenson, a western singing ingenue; Franklin Farnum, Roland Hogue, Charles Hines and Victor Kahn. Then, too, there is a special orchestra of grand opera proportions, which is carried by the company. Annie Russell's Old English Comedy Company.

On Monday evening, May 5, Annie Russell and her Old English Comedy Company will come to the Royal Alexandra Theatre for a week's engagement, where she will present her revival of the delightful old English comedy, "The Shoos to Conquer" and "The Rivals."

William Burruss and Company in the Headline Sketch at Shea's.

At Shea's this week the headline act is "The New Song Birds" with Wm. Burruss in the character of Oscar Hammershine. The New Song Birds is a travesty on grand opera, and the characters are the people concerned in its production. "The rivaling Hammershine and Gagagagagaz is the theme, and Victor Herbert and George V. Hobart are responsible for the production. The rivaling Hammershine and Gagagagagaz is the theme, and Victor Herbert and George V. Hobart are responsible for the production. The rivaling Hammershine and Gagagagagaz is the theme, and Victor Herbert and George V. Hobart are responsible for the production.

The Thomas A. Edison invention, the Kinetophone, will again be a feature of the show. The talking pictures are seen each week. The variety of subjects and perfection of the wonderful invention grows more evident as the diversity of subjects is shown.

Mae Melville and Robert Higgins are back after a long absence in their skit, "Just Married." Mae Melville is one of the very funny comedians of the stage. Mr. Higgins supports her splendidly, and the pair have to compare with any other team on the stage as they are by themselves. They are original and keep their songs and stories of the day. The eccentric violinist, is always welcome. He is a marvelous violinist and his eccentricities add a convulsing humor to the show. Frank Orth, the popular song writer, has one of the funniest talking and singing acts in the show. "The Wrong Hero." They sing a number of their own catch songs in their own delectable way, and a droll story is woven into the possibilities of a banner week so late in the season and he says the show is one that will be appreciated by the many visitors that will attend the home show days matinees. The exhibition is being held at the Royal Agricultural Hall in England, which was attended by hundreds of thousands of people, astounding all England by the fact that in spite of its being in religious "treats," it attracted more people to the same hall than any other social function patronized by royals. Owing to the great crowds expected the exhibition is to be held for three weeks.

All the churches of every denomination are contributing in the organization. The Rev. Samuel Schor, who was born in Jerusalem and is making this his life work, will personally supervise the Toronto presentation. The importance of the coming great exhibition is well shown by the list of the patrons, officers and executive who have consented to act: Patron, Duke of Connaught; vice-patron, Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-governor of Ontario; H. C. Hocken, mayor of Toronto; President, Right Rev. the lord bishop of Toronto; vice-presidents, Rev. W. J. Southam, Rev. Chancellor McCrimmon, Rev. Dr. Speer, Rev. Alexander MacMillan, Rev. C. J. Day; executive, chairman, Rev. C. J. James; hon. secretary, Rev. E. G. Burgess; hon. treasurer, Rev. T. G. Wallace; advertising, Evelyn Macrae; tickets, H. M. Robertson, Upper Canada Tract Co.; financial, P. W. Falls; elected members, Revs. W. L. Armistead, P. L. Borman, E. A. McIntyre, Wallace Christie, S. B. Rohold, Dr. Cook, Dr. Bates, Messrs. Ald. At the Princess Theatre for the week beginning today, players of this city will be offered the second time this season, the opportunity of seeing Mr. Tyrone Power, who is now regarded as one of America's greatest actors in Shakespeare's great historical tragedy, "Julius Caesar."

"Julius Caesar" marks the high tide of Shakespeare's genius. Undoubtedly it is the greatest historical play of any language and its simplicity and its greatness need no particular culture to grasp its meaning, and it is entirely free from any hint of pedantry. It was written to be understood by the masses, not the scholar alone, and its exposition of a great historical event is so plain that even a child can understand it.

It has served as a vehicle to present the four years of the great actor's life. Paris her headquarters henceforth.

Booth and Barrett, as well as Forrest, Keene, McCullough and the other great actors of past generations. The foreign stage also has come to regard it as necessary for their great players. No actor who has reached one of the higher places in his profession, regards his standing as entirely secure until he has demonstrated his greatness in the part of a man, a woman, a child, a simple as a child. Believing that he is doing a great good for his country, he permits a convincing, envious conspirator to induce him to kill his best friend. In war he has endured the shocks of an army, yet the slight of dishonorable bloodshed is repellant to him. Generous to a fault, even to his enemies, yet cruel as the grave to his betrayers because he would not have him ambitious and desirous of becoming king. Open-eyed as the day, unsuspecting in the face of danger, he is the contrivances and well-laid plans of the jealous and envious Cassius, every little act, word, or deed of Caesar's becomes magnified in his eyes as the shadow of guilt. He is a strong man even in the face of the greatest empire of the time in which he lived.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE POOR HORSE

(Copyright, 1913, by Howard R. Garis)

"Dear me!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly Longears, the old gentleman rabbit, as he hopped out of bed one morning and looked at the alarm clock on the mantel. "I am late for breakfast! I wonder how that could have happened!"

Then he went over to the clock, and looking at it, he saw that a little mouse had crawled up inside to sleep on one of the wheels that twirled about like a merry-go-round. And of course, the mouse had stopped the clock. So that's the reason Uncle Wiggly had overslept himself, not hearing the bell. "I must hurry and dress," said the old gentleman rabbit, and then he got up and went to his wardrobe.

"But first I will start my alarm clock," said Uncle Wiggly, for I don't want to be late tomorrow." So he gently took out the little mouse, whose name was Hickory Dickory Dock, and he put it in a little box under the bed.

"And now I will get on my new shoes," said Uncle Wiggly, and he slipped on his shoes and fastened them. "I will get on my new shoes," said Uncle Wiggly, and he slipped on his shoes and fastened them.

BACK YARD GARDENS

The time is now at hand when fertilizers must be considered. Of course, nothing can take the place of the nourishment to be obtained from a good mulching of stable manure, but this is not always obtainable, especially in city gardens. Unfortunately, for lack of other space, over what was undoubtedly fairly good earth, in the back yards or side lawns. This practice of dumping cellar earth around the newly-built houses has made the making of even the most unpretentious gardens a very difficult thing. To fertilize this heavy clay is almost an impossibility, unless one has unlimited loads of stable manure to put in, and this needs to be done year after year. What then to do?

A few loads of good top earth will have to be obtained to start with, and to help warm up the cold soil, a load or two of yellow sand will have to be brought in. Of course it will be more or less of an expense, but it is the only thing to do. The big seed houses will supply fertilizers in any quantity desired, and also give proper instructions to the purchasers as to the amount necessary for their special needs. Then large quantities, if obtainable, of wood ashes may be used from the kitchen pipes; all grass cuttings should be saved for the purpose of helping to lighten the soil.

I have found it an excellent plan to buy some ball hay, and straw bundles, for no other purpose than to help loosen up the soil. The way I worked the thing was thus: Palfull of hay or straw, next to the garden was dug out, until a good long bed, some two feet deep, was ready; then a layer of hay or straw, or grass cuttings, in the form of a mat, was laid down, and then in went the clay; next on the top my good earth in which the plants were planted. The roots gained plenty of air, the loose straw and hay held plenty of moisture and the growth even the first season, was not at all to be deplored. Every year this plan has been followed, and now, after nearly 20 years, it is just beginning to be fairly fertile.

WHEN ONE IS THIRTY

In the spring, when Mother Earth makes such alluring changes for youth and beauty, a mere human is apt to turn away, disheartened from the mirror, especially if he is past 30.

All winter long that old woman "earth" has been preparing for her spring burst of youth and freshness, while we have forgotten the sure effects of the vigorous winds of winter, the multiple little things of winter life that show up vividly with the coming of the spring.

It was while trying on a "spring creolizing" that I read suddenly, that I looked my 30 odd years and more. Dull eyes, dull complexion, dull hair, and a general air of "old" and "worn" were the result of my neglect. I was not a specialist of French renown, I had a general idea of the simplicity of her method, that stripped bare, the beauty in that little book of all the beauty-parlor artifices, and the result was a revelation of results to scores of eager patrons.

I got out the diary, but when I found that the preparation for spring had been in my case at least, being past 30, consisted of hot water, soap and a little vinegar, I lost a great deal of my enthusiasm. Not that I called the material, that makes for success, so I took the little book and carefully studied those despised first steps.

And if you care to do as I did, your delight will surely be as great as mine, with barely 15 minutes spent.

GOLD DUST

The bathroom should be given a daily cleaning and a weekly scrubbing. Nothing is better than a solution made by dissolving Gold Dust washing powder in water.

Thoroughly scrub and scald basin and closet with the hot suds and pour down the pipes boiling water to which has been added Gold Dust in proportion of two tablespoons of Gold Dust to every gallon of water.

Clean the nickel and brass fixtures in bathroom by rubbing with equal parts of whiting and Gold Dust washing powder.

mares, and all her mules came worshipping along in court. There was a great mule in the biggest kicking you ever saw in your life.

"There was me lying on Face Rock like a little boy at a circus, and there was the performance proceeding so joyful that I never saw Brooke until he rode down right into the middle of the fun. Jehoshaphat got mad and Brooke galloped deliciously in all directions, and I laughed until I could hardly hold down the rocks.

"Of course, if Brooke hadn't been a mere mite on earth, he would have herded gently to the nearest corral, and cut the two outfits apart. But Brooke proceeded to lose his temper, pulled his gun, jumped his wretched corral behind a tree, and let drive. He missed the stallion. He shot Prue thru the heart.

"There was nothing after that to keep the sixty Star mules together. Some went up the canon, some down, a few even swam the Fraser, but the heft of them climbing high cliffs and vanished into the forest.

"I reckon Pete and his arrieros could collect those mules and break them to loving a new mule, but what the great Star Packtrain's numbered with the past, and Matson's partnership is scarce worth arguing.

"And do appoint the lady known as Madame Scotson my sole executress and trustee of all property which I may be possessed of.

"To pay my just debts, and to administer the remainder on behalf of my grandson, James Taylor.

"Until at his coming of age he shall receive the whole estate, if there is any."

"Save only that I bequeath to Madame Scotson my sword and the Victoria Cross.

"And with regard to burial, it is my will that no money whatever shall be spent, but that my body, wrapped in the flag by right of my majesty's commission, shall be consigned to the earth by my neighbors; that no friend of mine shall be allowed to stand uncovered catching cold, or to wear unseemly black clothing at the service of the resurrection, or to toll bells which should be rung when the soul passes to God, or to make pretence or parade of grief for one who is glad to go."

"The months of nursing were ended. My longer should Nurse Eanton and I be afraid when our patient was good, or rejoice when fractious whims and difficult absurdities marked those rales in which he fought very death. The last, after many hours of silence, he asked me in a boyish voice if he might go up-stairs to see his uniform. In his dressing he was leaving school to enter the royal navy.

Billy was away on an errand to the Falls, and it was Nurse Pantan's watch below, when at ten in the evening I saw the change come very suddenly. The face of my dear friend, no longer old, but timeless, reflected an unearthly majesty.

At the next hour I was busy rendering the last services. In haste, for the lamp had a most peculiar smell. I took it away and lighted candles, but it was not the lamp. Spreading, I saw the change come very suddenly. The face of my dear friend, no longer old, but timeless, reflected an unearthly majesty.

Note and Comment

When will the Leafs strike their stride? Easy question, the answer being when they shake the jinx you read about. And what is the jinx? or is there such a phantom? 'Eshaw, he is merely an excuse of the partisan. The Toronto champions are just now playing the kind of ball that merits defeat, and as long as they keep it up the bottom rung is ours. However, new life injected by the management may have the desired effect. The president, interviewed last night, had no excuses to offer, tho he was apparently not so cheerful as towards the finish of the season last autumn.

Watch the great American congress forget all about the baseball trust, now that Ty Cobb has once more fallen into line and the new president is a daily spectator at the games in Washington. However, according to the despatch Representative Gallagher of Illinois is conferring with members of the union committee at Washington to learn what the chances were for hearings on the resolution as soon as the tariff is disposed of. Representative Hardwick of Georgia declared he had abandoned his intention to introduce a similar resolution because of the agreement between Cobb and the Detroit management.

These are lively days at Woodbine Park. The railbirds are as merry as the horses, a little army seeking daily information whereby they'll bombard the iron men starting the campaign three weeks from today Saturday, which is Victoria Day and the King's Plate.

Montreal papers that stand for those wrestling souls have been harping foolishly ever since their boxers were fairly beaten at the recent tournament. The Star was exceedingly ridiculous on Saturday when it said among other things: "Only three sets of gloves were used throughout the whole tournament and they quickly reached such a state of disrepair that great lengths of electric tape were needed to protect the contestants' knuckles and as one competitor stated 'a man could have had a horse shoe in his gloves.'" It is said that in spite of the rules, the gloves were never inspected by the officials' previous to the bouts.

The betting on each bout, and more particularly on those important ones, was open. Nearly everybody was betting, the odds being called out all around the ring. While no one claims to have seen any of the officials themselves making any wagers, in many cases gentlemen with them are said to have done so. Some of the boxers from Buffalo, it is claimed, told the Montreal boxers that their expenses in coming to Toronto were being paid, and asked if there was any chance to arrange any press notices for matches in Montreal. On Tuesday night Mr. Hill of St. Patrick's A.A. defeated a man entered as Mench, Buffalo, in the 12 lb. class. Later this man gave Hill his card and it had the name Wolfe on it.

Fifty dressing rooms is but one other of the many unsatisfactory conditions the Montreal boxers had to put up with in the dressing rooms after Jackson of Toronto won one of his bouts, one of the Montreal boxers saw him receive $30 and $12 from two different men.

SHAW RUSHES TO SUPPORT OF BRYAN

Shocking Bad Form to Criticize Wineless Repast, Opines Oracle.

Special Cable to The World.
 LONDON, April 27.—(Copyright.)—George Bernard Shaw says the only mistake Secretary of State Bryan made was in offering his diplomatic guests unfermented grape-juice or anything else except plain water. Shaw would approve if the American secretary of state should go a step further and give a vegetarian dinner. All the criticism of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan's wireless banquet, Shaw condemns as a gross abuse of hospitality and an affront to the social decencies. He argues that if Secretary and Mrs. Bryan had given their dinner without fish or sweets, it would not have excited remark, but because they paid guests that they are not slaves to intoxicants, they are held up to the charge of inhospitality, and is insinuated that they obtained the presence of their guests by false pretenses.

Brutalizing Effect Show.
 Shaw caustically remarks that it only shows the brutalizing effect of the drink habit when all this pother is made by its votaries because a company of both sexes, composed presumably of intellectual and sober persons, deprived for one meal of the opportunity to consume alcoholic beverages.

Shaw expresses characteristically his antipathy for flesh diet by adding that if Mr. Bryan would also start the fashion of not supplying diplomats with meat, it might perhaps do something toward making them take a civilized and lucid view of international politics.

Commenting that the serving of even unfermented grape juice was a concession to the alcohol habit, Shaw says that it might be better to hold hidden possibilities of menace of the digestive system of the diplomatic body; that pure water does not contain.

Fifteen Games Played in the T. & D. With Only Three Ties.

Fifteen games were played Saturday in the T. & D. League with only three ties and several large scores. The Elms topped the list with eleven successful shots against St. Catharines. Scores:

A hard well-contested game resulted in the Old Country defeating C.N.R. by the solitary goal, scored one minute from time. For the C.N.R. Sutherland in goal at Hamilton at centre half put up a magnificent game, altho it must be said that every man on either side acquitted himself well. It looks as tho the railway men have now got into their stride, and should make any team in the league fight hard to win.

Ninth-Inning Rally Wins For White Sox

CHICAGO, April 26.—A good ninth inning finish gave Chicago the second game of the series with St. Louis today. Keith singled and went to second on a sacrifice, to third on a long fly and home on Collins' long single to center.

Pitcher Russell allowed the visitors but two hits, which came in the fifth inning, but perfect fielding prevented the visitors from scoring. Several times local fans had the bases full, but good fielding kept them from scoring.

President Comiskey of the local American League Club announced the sale of Pitches Morledge to the Minneapolis Club of the American Association. The score:

R. C. Y. C. ANNUAL MEETING ELECT BOARD OF MANAGEMENT

The annual meeting of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club was held Saturday evening in St. George's Hall and a large number of the members attended. Very little business of importance was done owing to the earliness of the season outside of the election of officers.

The flag officers were all elected by acclamation, and resulted as follows: Commodore, Aemelius Jarvis; vice-commodore, Wm. C. Brent; rear-commodore, Sidney Small; hon. treasurer, L. S. Murray.

The committee of management for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Geo. Higinbotham, C. A. B. Brown, E. G. Staunton, A. E. S. Roberts, S. B. Brush, Dr. A. A. MacDonald, Frank M. Gray, C. G. Marlett, Walter C. Laidlaw, J. B. McLeod.

Some small changes to the bylaws etc., were made, but the committees have been unable to get started as yet this year, and nothing has been attempted to date.

THE HORSE SHOW OPENS TOMORROW

Extra Performances Necessary to Take Care of All Entries.

The program for the nineteenth Canadian National Horse Show, which opens at the armories tomorrow evening, has a well balanced card for every performance. Owing to there being 78 entries in the open jumping class, this along with the thoroughbred and standard bred stallion classes, will be put on Wednesday morning as an extra performance.

Eight events are scheduled for Tuesday, the opening night, with the four-in-hand, perhaps being the feature, altho thirty individual N.A.'s and men will perform over the jumps. On Wednesday afternoon six classes are on, with class 4 for fifteen pairs of hunters, shown abreast over the jumps being the feature.

Wednesday evening has seven classes, with ten open hunt teams, and the high jump over loose poles. The latter is the feature event of the evening.

The King Edward Hotel Cup, with nine high steppers entered, is down for decision on Thursday evening, while Friday evening the pen jump and nine hunt teams of qualified hunters (amateur) are two interesting events of the seven on the card.

GERMAN KAISER HAS GOOD THING

Special Cable to The World.
 BERLIN, April 27.—(Copyright.)—The Emperor William's energies have found a new outlet. On the excellent authority of a Dusseldorf trade publication, he is reported to be planning to visit the oil fields of the Ruhr, and to see the Kaiser's advisers, ever on the lookout for a "good thing" for their master, have seen the financial possibilities in supplying the Kaiser.

Oleomargarine manufacturers are highly elated at this imperial championing of their product, which quite recently the agrarian party in the Reichstag suggested should be dyed blue in order to disgust consumers from persisting in consuming so unwholesome a concoction.

It remains to be seen now whether William II. will once again have to put up with the taunts and sneers of his M. P.'s. His debut as an oleomargarine merchant is not a royal record. It is recalled that his brother-in-law, Duke Ernst of Schleswig-Holstein, for many years had a factory at Prattenau.

THE HORSE SHOW.

The greatest interest taken in the coming horse show at the armories tomorrow night was in evidence Saturday, when one well-known exhibitor made an offer of a fancy price for a high stepper entered in the King Edward Hotel Cup. This exhibitor intends to go to the other various shows, and evidently thought pretty well of this animal that will be shown here Thursday night.

WINNIPEG CRICKET CLUBS DIVIDE INTO TWO CAMPS

They Have a Row on in the Association—Four Teams Send in Their Resignations.

WINNIPEG, April 26.—The cricket situation in Winnipeg reached a crisis for the dissatisfied minor clubs of the Winnipeg Cricket Association on the eve of considering a motion by the Press C.C. to effect the expulsion of the four senior clubs—Wanderers, C.P.R., Civics and City of the association.

"We, the undersigned cricket clubs, at present members of the Winnipeg Cricket Association, hereby resign from membership in the said association on the following grounds: Firstly, the refusal of the management of the association to effect the management of their own affairs; secondly, the extraordinary action taken by a number of the clubs at a meeting held on Friday last."

C.P.R.—H. L. Wilesworth, secretary.

Civics—W. Rothwell, secretary.

Wanderers—C. G. Barnardo, secretary.

Efforts have been made in vain to clear the atmosphere in the cricket community of Winnipeg, and the creation of a more or less independent body, embracing the four big clubs which have now withdrawn from the association, has been expected for some time. Perhaps the rupture movement has been hastened by the recent action of the other clubs in the W.C.A., but the consensus of opinion among the cricketers of the city has been that such a movement would be a serious blow at the advancement of the game in the district.

The C.P.R., Wanderers, Civics and Winnipeg Cricket Clubs have made various attempts to form a premier division outside of the senior division of the Winnipeg Cricket Association. They conceived that by playing among themselves week after week they were meeting the best clubs of cricketers the city could produce, and by this means they expected to raise the standard of play in the whole district. But the other clubs connected with the W.C.A. could not see how they were to benefit from the scheme, and were of the opinion that the city could produce the league was losing the best teams in it, and that, while the clubs themselves might derive more satisfaction from the change and perhaps in time elevate the standard of play so far as they were concerned, the city as a whole would be suffering.

The move was put down as sheer selfishness, the few being favored at the expense of the many, and that such a scheme would do more harm than good to the game in the west. For these reasons any scheme of withdrawal or formation of other clubs connected with the association was fought and defeated time and again in the meetings of the association. What will come of the withdrawal of the cricketers is not yet known, but they think that all the other clubs will suffer as regards membership if a premier division, independent league is formed by the four clubs.

GLEEVER WIN BY TEN POINT

Wins Handicap at Havre de Grace Carrying Top Weight in Track Record Time.

HAVRE DE GRACE, April 26.—Ten Point led no room for doubt today that he is one of the best 3-year-olds of this year, if not the very best. He not only won the Philadelphia Handicap in the easiest kind of way from older horses, but he was in superb condition. Mr. Hallenbeck tried out Aste's Star with Adams Express, but both were beaten. Every horse that finished behind Ten Point was worn out, while Ten Point trotted up to the judges' stand showing very little fatigue. That he will be the favorite for the Kentucky Derby to be run on May 10 is positive, if he keeps in his present condition, and the westerners still have great faith in Hawthorn, their representative.

Gainer won the 2-year-old race from a nice lot of youngsters, and shows that J. L. Holland has at the least three good youngsters in Gainer, Goro and Gello. The former created a new track record by covering the 4 1/2 furlongs in 54 2-5, clipping a 1/16 and a second of the time made by his stablemate Gordon, four days before. Fometto Bleu and Executor performed very creditably in the race, both coming from far in the rear.

El Oro and Mary Ann K. had a diagonal race from beginning to end in the 11-16 event. While El Oro won only by a head it was due to Fairbrother not caring to show his mount up any more than was necessary. Summary:

FIRST RACE—Three-year-olds and up, selling, 5 1/2 furlongs:

1. Double Five, 107 (Halsey), 10 to 1, 3 to 1 and 8 to 5.

2. Spohn, 105 (Deronde), 8 to 5, 7 to 10 and 1 to 3.

3. Trifler, 99 (Wolfe), 2 to 1, even and 3 to 5.

LONG SHOT WINS FEATURE LEXINGTON OPENING DAY

LEXINGTON, April 26.—Racing on the Kentucky circuit for the season of 1913 opened amid a blaze of glory at the historic Kentucky Association course here this afternoon. Weather and track conditions were adverse to the sport, but despite these drawbacks, a big crowd in the grandstand and a big crowd in the paddocks were present.

The feature of the program was the 1213 renewal of the Phoenix Hotel Handicap, a brought but four starters into competition, and the winner turned up in a long shot, Flora Fina. She was cleverly ridden by Jockey Buxton. Any Port was second. Donera, heavily supported by the local talent, unseated his rider at the barrier, but was caught before any damage could be done. He quit badly in the early stages and finished in the rut.

The 2-year-old race, which was for this year's running of the Kentucky Oaks, won a very close victory over Daisy Flair in the hands of Jockey Buxton. Any Port, said to be the most promising youngster developed in these parts, tin-canned over in the early stages, but was caught before any damage could be done. He quit badly in the early stages and finished in the rut.

Two Runs Behind in First Inning

Portsider Hearne Was Good Enough For a Tie But For Boats by McConnell and Northern—Herbert to Pitch Today.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., April 27.—Costly errors by McConnell and Northern gave the Grays two runs in today's game at Rocky Point and the third victory over Kelley's men in the present series. With perfect play by the Leafs the score would have gone down into the ninth inning with a 2-2 score, but with a pair of counters handed to the Grays by McConnell and Northern, the Leafs were won by a score of 4 to 1. The game was played on the Rocky Point grounds, a dozen miles down Narragansett Bay, and was witnessed by a big crowd, nearly 7000 passing thru the gates. The day was ideal for baseball, and the outpouring of the fans resulted. Manager Kelley, who had been in the city for some time, was seen in the stands, and he was seen to send in Wheatley, the boy pitcher, who was used so badly by Rochester last week. His judgment proved of the best for the youngster as a block in the path of the Kelleyites that they could not pass him. SPECIALTIES IN CENTRE OF STAGE

Sudden Rally in St. Lawrence Navigation Only Feature of Toronto Market.

GENERAL LIST STEADY

Downturn in New York Has No Apparent Effect on Sentiment.

A resumption of bullish activity in St. Lawrence Navigation shares and a slight firming-up of prices for some others of the recent favorites were the only features in the Toronto Stock Exchange on Saturday.

The movement in St. Lawrence was taken to indicate that, despite the recent denials of President Caruthers of the R. and O., there was a fair chance of the company being taken into the Richelieu merger.

Two-sided Bank Statement. Although the cash gain of $4,000,000 shown yesterday was larger than has been predicted, the result of the week's operations was a decrease of nearly $1,000,000 in excess reserves.

The weekly trade review called attention to the effect on business of tariff legislation. Business for current or near delivery, it was said, remains active, but conservatism is being shown in regard to future orders.

Bonds were depressed in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $1,030,000.

Bank of England discount rate, 4 1/2 per cent. Open market discount rate in London for short bills, 3 1/2 per cent.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Prices were again depressed sharply today on the stock exchange.

MINING MARKET IS VERY TAME AFFAIR

Undertone Shows No Change in the Dealings at the Week-End.

Nothing new developed in the mining exchanges at the week-end and somewhat on Saturday continuing to show an almost entire lack of vivacity.

In view of the apathetic speculative movement in the markets, there has been nothing surprising in the restricted nature of the trading in the mining shares.

Reports of a serious flood in Porcupine were cited as responsible in some measure for the weakness of some of the gold stocks.

The Cobalt showed a steadier tone than they have of late, and in the majority of instances prices were firm at their recent levels.

At an auction in New York the other day six shares of the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company were sold for $1008 a share.
