Salandra Ministry Empow- ered To Take Action Amid a Scene of Intense Enthusiasm --- Socialists and Giolitti Followers Only Dissenters--Rome Stirred to Depths.

ROME, May 20.—(Via Paris, 11:20 a.m.)—This day will be an historic one for the new Italy. The whole capital is in a state of expectation and ferment. In only the period of the wars of independence can a parallel be found. The names of those who contributed to the unification of the country—Victor Emmanuel III., Cavour, Garibaldi, Mazzini and a hundred other patriots—have been on the lips of the people; their praises have been sung, and the wish has been expressed by all to emulate them.

The action of the chamber of deputies in adopting the bill conferring full powers on the government made intervention a certainty, as the Salandra ministry is untied for a war policy. The vote was 407 to 74, the dissenters being Socialists and a few followers of former Premier Giolitti. One member abstained from voting.

When the sitting of the chamber of deputies began there were present 482 deputies, out of 500, the absentees remaining away on account of illness. The deputies specially applauded were those who wore military uniforms, and who had asked permission to leave from their military duties to be present in the chamber today.

All the tribunes were overflowing. In that for the diplomatic body were seated the American ambassador, Thomas Nelson Page, and his staff. The former ambassador of New York, Dean B. McClellan, occupied a seat in the president's tribune.

The scene in the chamber was most imposing. The tribunes occupied their places an hour before the opening and discussed the situation with the green animation of men who were waving everywhere, including the British, French, Russian, Serbian and Montenegro, which, frequently were cheered by the crowd.

The Irish party has long unbroken tradition of self-sacrificing devotion to the cause of Ireland, and probably many of Mr. Redmond's countrymen might think he would have broken that tradition, if he would at least be charged with breaking it were he to take any office in the government, but as this would involve a very great change, it is not likely to be considered."

CLAIM ASSESSMENT WRONGFULLY RAISED Complaints Aired at Trades and Labor Council Meeting by Ward One Delegates.

Complaints were registered at last night's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council by delegates from ward one, that the assessments of workingmen's properties were raised while their value decreased. It was asserted that the increase had been observed in houses whose value amounted to less than that of a year ago. The consensus of opinion was that these properties would not command such a high rental as was obtained last year and that the assessments being them were substantially decreased.

He stated that in reply to the commissioner of the city regarding the pollution of the bay, the international waterways commission had said that they had no jurisdiction over the matter.

BARN RAISING AT VICTORIA SQUARE

Almost Five Hundred People Gathered at Thomas Reed's Farm.

MANY LADIES PRESENT

Bert Saunderson Proved Victor in Event—District is Prosperous.

Nearly five hundred people attended the big barn raising on the farm of Thomas Reed at Victoria Square in the northern portion of Markham Township, yesterday afternoon. It was one of the finest exhibitions of an old-fashioned, neighborly interchange of work ever seen anywhere, and the presence of scores of ladies gave a certain charm to the whole proceedings.

RAISED WITHOUT HITCH.

It took exactly one hour and 40 minutes to raise the big barn, 100 x 50 feet, with the purlins placed in position, all of which was effected by the 200 active fellows on the job without a scratch. Ross Nichols and Bert Saunderson were the captains, victory resting with the latter by a comfortable margin.

Following the "raising," the willing workers fared sumptuously of the good things provided by Mrs. Reed and her fair assistants.

It was stated yesterday by farmers present from all parts of Markham Township, that building operations both in houses and barns, were lagging in years, and this was accounted for in part by the increased prosperity among the farming community, coupled with the lower cost of building material.

DEAL WAS FRAUD DEED SET ASIDE

Judgment in Action Brought Thru Alleged Pretended Property Sale.

CONTAINS A CHARGE

Application to Wind Up Rowing Club Speaks of Money Division

At Ogogode Hall yesterday Mr. Justice Lennox gave judgment in the action of Diana Chambers, Woodstock, to have an alleged pretended sale of property set aside. The plaintiff gave a mortgage on her property to Susan Le Burts, the defendant, for $2400, but defaulted in payment of the interest and the defendant instituted sale proceedings. The property was not sold and a conveyance was made to Henry Sealey for $2400, was the plaintiff stated was less than was offered at the sale. It was alleged that Sealey never paid the money and that the sale was intended to defraud the plaintiff of her interest in the property.

Mr. Justice Lennox states that in addition to setting aside the sale, he would like, if he had the power, to give plaintiff two or three months for redemption. He declared that the pretended transaction was fraudulent and void as against the plaintiff, and set aside the deed.

Appeal Disposed Of.
 The appellate disposal of the appeal of the Toronto Power Co., which requested the $1000 paid for wages and hospital expenses to Frank Villitt of Niagara Falls should be deducted from the $3900 damages awarded him by Chancellor Boyd, Chief Justice Falconbridge said that the Workmen's Compensation Act provided that a judgment for damages should be set aside if no abatement. The court held that the company was liable for the full judgment.

Shareholders numbering 3219, of the National Railway Association, have been notified that they owe an aggregate of $21,928 for unpaid stock subscriptions. The date for the defence has been fixed, but remittances are coming in. When the winding-up order was granted it was said that $14,643.48 had been lost on operations from the inception of the company to Oct. 1, 1914.

Serious Charge Made.
 In an affidavit filed yesterday by George Milligan, in the application for the winding-up of the affairs of the Toronto Rowing Club, the charge is made that the shareholders and directors of the club divided $60,000 among them. According to Mr. Milligan, the club had an option on the property on King street which the directors and shareholders transferred to one Blaine, who in turn transferred it to the Securities Realty Co., which was a company composed of the directors and managers of the club. The property was then acquired by the Securities Realty Co. at the above mentioned figure.

There will be no appellate court sittings until Tuesday, when the following cases will come before the first division: Rex v. Nerlich; Rex v. Smith; Lamsden v. Dominion Soap Co.; Chapman v. Chapman; Hamilton Ideal Manufacturing Co.; Hartley v. Dixon.

WANT FULL PANEL OF JURORS READY
 Preparations for Hearing Nerlich Case Next Tuesday Are Under Way.

GIVEN SQUARE DEAL ANY MAN MAKES GOOD

View Taken by Local Real Estate Firm Selling Building Sites.

Robins Limited report a very brisk demand for building sites in North Toronto—they are devoting their efforts towards catering to the desires and ambitions of the workingman—that it is appreciated is best manifested by the record of sales during the past week. The cheapness of the land, its splendid location with transportation facilities added, is attracting no end of interest and is solving the question so long confronting the rent payers—how can I own a home with no capital at my command? F. B. Robins remarked: "We have always endeavored to assist the workingman; every man when a proposition is put to him fair and square, if he is given a start in the right direction, invariably makes good."

University Avenue Too Dark and Soldiers Are Drilled There.

The County Orange Association is still after the Toronto Hydro System for employing Germans or German sympathizers in April they wrote the mayor regarding this matter and at that time the charges were denied by E. The better lighting of University Avenue has been suggested by the Toronto Hydro-Electric System and the matter will be dealt with by the property committee. At present the street is poorly lighted and as the soldiers drill there every evening better lighting is very desirable.

TORONTO CHEMIST HAS DEvised GAS POISON

Method of Retaliation Against Enemies' Latest Innovation May Prove Successful.

A Toronto chemist has been conducting experiments in order to devise a method of retaliation against the German gas poisons. He is not permitting his name to be used, but he has been in correspondence with the war office and the Ottawa militia department.

Prof. G. A. Evans, director of analytic chemistry at the Ontario College of Pharmacy, says that the allies will have to use gases as well "in order to save the lives of our soldiers. The British chemist is every whit as capable as the German. Retaliation will not be difficult."

If soldiers carried a small outfit of ammonia they would be armed against chlorine gas, the professor says. A mild solution on a sponge in a respirator would neutralize the chlorine.

REV. H. J. CANNING DIED YESTERDAY

Parish Priest of Our Lady of Lourdes Ill for Some Time.

AN EDUCATIONIST

Late Pastor Took Keen Interest in Children and Young Men.

After an illness of several months' duration the death occurred at five o'clock yesterday morning of Rev. Hugh John Canning, parish priest of the church of Our Lady of Lourdes, on Sherbourne street. The end, though unexpected, was somewhat sudden as there had been no noticeable change for some hours previous. It had even been hoped that the lull in the progress of the sickness might be indicative of a change for the better. Regret for the loss of Father Canning is general as he was regarded as one of the leaders in scholarly thought and educational progress and his interest in the children of his charge and in the young men of his parish made the time of his pastorate extremely fruitful.

Rev. Father Hugh J. Canning was born fifty years ago in Scarborough Township. After spending several years as a teacher in the rural schools he went to Ottawa University in preparation for the Grand Seminary in Montreal, where he pursued his theological studies. Upon his ordination in 1896 he served as a curate in St. Catharines and other parts of the diocese. He later came to Toronto and for two years was in charge of the schools of St. Columba, president of the Catholic Truth Society, and a director of the Catholic Missionary Society.

Pastor of St. Joseph's For several years he was pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Leslie street, and was later given charge in the parish in which he died. Here he built a fine addition to his church and erected the presbytery on Earl street.

When the end came Rev. Father Canning was in attendance and others present were the nurses; a brother, William Canning of Scarborough and sister, Miss Lily Canning. Another brother is Joseph Canning, of Seaforth, and Mrs. G. O'Brien, Mrs. P. Doherty and Mrs. W. Ebbon of Duluth are sisters.

Monseigneur McPann paid this tribute: "I am deeply pained to hear of the death of my good friend Father Canning. He has been seriously ill for many months, but still the news of his death comes as a great shock. Father Canning was a splendid type of Canadian priest. He was scholarly, conscientious, and devoted, and exercised a great influence over his parishioners, especially the men. The Diocese of Toronto, and the city, have lost a good priest and a splendid citizen in his demise. I sympathize most sincerely with his friends and parishioners."

Monseigneur Whalen, St. Michael's Cathedral: "The death of Father Canning will be a great loss to the diocese and to his own parish in particular. A zealous worker, Father Canning spent himself in the upbuilding of the different parishes with which he had been connected. He was a man with a strong sense of public responsibility as a citizen and it is unnecessary to say that he had the love and esteem of all who knew him. His parishioners will feel his loss as will his brother priests, to whom he was a brother indeed. Many things could be said of him, but I think it suffices to say that he was a man who feared God and loved his neighbors."

TORONTO OFFICERS KEPT UNDER GUARD

Comfortably Fixed Until End of War, But Monotony Trying.

A SPLENDID FIGHT

Canadians Only Surrendered When Entirely Cut Off, Says Lieut. Greene.

Nine Toronto officers are interned in a concentration camp in Germany, and at last word has reached this city giving particulars as to their welfare. In a particularly interesting letter, Lieut. G. E. D. Greene, of the 8th battalion, states that these soldiers, who will not be given another opportunity to fight, are comfortably fixed for the rest of the war, altho the monotony is very trying.

Short letters have also arrived from Capt. B. O. Johnson and Capt. Straight of the same battalion. The fact that nine officers of both Toronto regiments are prisoners indicates that many men yet unheard from and known to be missing are really prisoners of war. Lieut. Greene's letter follows:

"Have things not moved rapidly? Here I am comfortably settled in a cavalry barracks with my liberty curtailed by guards and barbed wire fences, and out of everything until the end of the war. And all this after our first big fight. I will not say so that because you will read all about it in the newspapers and in the letters from men who were with it. Suffice it to say that it was some battle and if ever one had a glimpse of hell it was then. We, none of us, can understand how we are here to tell the tale, and I put down my good luck to that heavy, husky shirt, which I have worn most of the time out here, and which I bought when I was out on that survey on the Nelson River. The German officers have told us to say that we put up a splendid fight.

Others With Him. "I am very lucky in more ways than one. First is that a lot of my friends, who were left, are with me. They are Bob Cory, who is writing beside me at present, and George Osborne, Hugh Barwick, Gordie Allan, Johnson (used to play third base for the O.-O.-R.), George Alexander, Fred Macdonald, Frank Smith, Major Kirkpatrick. There are also quite a number of decent chaps in other battalions, whom you don't know. Gordie Allan, who had just come out from England to take Leake's place, and I, were the only two officers of my company left after the first day of the three days' battle so that left me in charge of the double company.

I trust that long before this reaches you, you will have had good news of Elliott. Tell me all about him and give me as much news as you think would not be uninteresting to me. We know nothing here of what has happened to our friends.

Very Comfortable Place. "This is a very comfortable place, and is full of the allies' prisoners. They are all represented, Russian in the majority, French, Belgian and British. We can augment our rations with stuff out of the canteen by paying for it, and am going to arrange to get some money from my bankers. Of course I have nothing absolutely, except the clothes I stand in, but we can buy clothing here, and I can arrange to have sent out to me what I want from time to time. I don't think there is a great deal that you can send me. Books would be the most useful, and I intend to study German and French. A few packs of cards would be useful, perhaps.

No Exchange of Prisoners. "I understand that there is no exchange of prisoners, so that we will be here until the end of the war. We are allowed to write two letters a month and a postcard a week. There is practically nothing here of interest to write about. Our routine consists of eating, walking in the rectangle, reading and playing bridge. You will be relieved to know that we are well and unwounded, and you may be happy to know that we acquitted ourselves honorably, and did not surrender until we had done our duty to the full and were completely cut off.

All ranks showed wonderful heroism. Address your letters this way: "For a British prisoner of war in Germany." Lieut. G. E. D. Greene, "Briegsfangesege, "Bischofswerde, "Sachsen, Germany."

Problems for Coalition

Patriotism is the first motive behind the pending reorganization of the British cabinet. But it will be asked why a demonstration in patriotism should be staged at the present moment. This ought to be sufficiently evident. There are great problems to be handled by the British Government at present which neither party would care to accept the responsibility of dealing with alone. When the leaders of both parties unite in accepting responsibility there will be no objection from the rank and file, except from these ardent and radical spirits who can never be quite satisfied with any action taken, and who always prefer to form the nucleus of a new and pioneer party of the radical future.

There are three problems at least concerning the war which neither party would desire to tackle alone. First of these is the drink problem. Mr. Lloyd George tried his hand at a bill and had to withdraw its main features. Both parties know the need of legislation, and the leaders on each side are probably agreed about the necessity for certain steps to be taken, but without a coalition any party government which attempted to legislate would lose support.

The statements are disputed in some quarters that the liquor question has anything to do with the failure to produce sufficient ammunition, or the delay so bitterly complained about in making repairs to transport and other war-vessels; but after the stand taken by the King himself and Lord Kitchener, and many other public men, the need for action is evidently urgent. But it cannot be taken without coalition.

The next problem is the general slackness in production, and the need for the organization of labor in Britain. There appears to be a lack of understanding on the part of many among the ranks of labor of the great interests at stake in the war. There is an element which frankly declares that it matters not to them whether they toil under a British or under a German flag. But while these are not specially influential, there is another class which does not understand that all the gains that have been made for democracy in generations past have been made by British statesmen inspired by British principles, in opposition to the old aristocratic ideals which are behind the Prussian irruption.

They do not realize that the triumph of Germany and the defeat of Britain would mean the repetition of the class struggles of the last three centuries. To face this labor situation in Britain, a coalition is needed. The best of the labor men see this, and while such a clever man as Mr. Philip Snowden dissects from the principle of coalition, he by no means necessarily dissents from the view that action must be taken such as a coalition government contemplates.

The third big problem is that of conscription. Neither party could attempt to impose any form of conscription upon the nation acting alone. That responsibility must be shared by both if the step is to be taken. Many authorities believe that some modified form of conscription is necessary, but we are inclined to think that it is not so much needed for the present struggle as in contemplation of what may occur in the event of an indecisive conclusion to the war. We believe that the war will be decisively ended, but prudent statesmen prepare for every contingency. It is such contingencies that have brought Britain to the point of coalition.

Kitchener and Churchill

The knockers are after Churchill in full cry, and they are even finding fault with Kitchener. A few months ago eulogies were being heaped upon these great men by everyone, and they were well deserved. The construction program so vigorously waged by the British admiralty in recent years, the mobilization at the critical time last summer, the splendid readiness of the fleet the moment war broke out, and the unquestioned mastery of the sea

A CANADIAN "SONG OF HATE."

By William Henry Taylor, author of "Canadian Seasons."

The Beaver is an animal pre-eminent for brains; For industry and patient pluck, above the rest he reigns. He is the emblem of our land—the last, the best, the free—Our God's Own Garden of the West, the School of Liberty; The Beaver has the artist power, to change, and take a part In world-wide war, and show the foe he has a lion's heart. The superhuman Pussian sneered, when he the Beavers met, But less he'll sneer, when more he meets, to his black soul's regret.

When Beavers build a dam they gnaw the trees until they fall, Then float them down the stream and build a scientific wall; So, Beaver Boys at Langemarck built a dam which "saved the day." They heaved and stayed the foe so well, that heaps on heaps they lay. Yes, and they gave their thousands, too, to guard that river's shore—The story of that human dam will live for evermore; Not Albuera's famous fight, nor Balacava's charge, Nor e'en Thermopylae itself, will read more bold and large.

The polecat is a hated beast, his German name is "skunk," Among all other animals his breed has always stunk; This helcat dines on rotten eggs, a chicken thief is he; He robbed the Belgian polecat to show he came from Germany. This cultured German polecat knows the art of showing hate, By calling Beavers odious names, most inappropriate; He calls the Beaver Brand of men the vile Canadian "rats." But what's a name? He teased and teat, when met by Princess Pats.

Not satisfied with submarine, balloon, and bomb, and shell, These Hunns now use a deadly gas, imported straight from hell; The Devil feared his eldest son, the Kaiser, could not win By baby-killing tactics, so he taught him how to sin Against the morals of the worst, the vilest of the vile Assassins of the human race, whose names our tongues defile; When Germans failed in open field, on sea, or in the trench, They gave a tuffetful of gas—their polecat's body stench.

Huns crucify in flesh again, the Man of Calvary. They nail our wounded to His Cross, with Jewish cruelty; By God's right hand! Sir Kaiser! you shall taste a cup of woe; Canadian blood is boiling o'er, and you its wrath shall know; Your "Songs of Hate," as well as deeds, your worthless Iron Cross, Make you of Butcher Pharisees, the Hohenzollern Boss; Forever off the Irish coast will stream moan with hate, And from sepulchral caves bewail the Lusitania's fate.

attack. Italy also made it plain that under no circumstances would she participate in any policy directed against Great Britain.

Italy, as a naval power in the Mediterranean, has to be reckoned with and the evident endeavor of Germany was to employ Italy as a factor in the control of that historic sea. In fact, the dilemma of Italy had always lain between reliance on the Italian frontier and reliance on the good faith of Britain and France. Italy's sea power was of incalculable value to Germany in the prosecution of its ambitious schemes and the Kaiser never got a more effectual protest against his methods than when Italy declined to enter the war on the side of her partners in the triple alliance and adopted a provisional attitude of neutrality. Italy clearly prefers to rely on the good faith of her natural allies rather than place herself at the mercy of the German Kaiser. That nothing could be more significant of the apprehensions the ambition of Germany has aroused.

The Italian people have declared themselves with no uncertain sound, as on the side of the allies in this war. Their help will be important and may even be decisive in the sense that the victory of the allies will be brought appreciably nearer. In what form Italy's help may be made most effective will depend on the development of the German-American policy. The German allies are said to have a force of 700,000 men massed on the Italian frontier, and they may take the gambler's chance of a rapid invasion of Italy and the establishment at once of an actual superiority. If that fails, or if it does not eventuate, Italy will have several choices in developing her offensive. She may aid the allies in their attempt to force the Dardanelles, strengthen the front in France and Flanders, or attack Austria from the south and west. Italy possesses a powerful modern fleet, and her assistance will add largely to the strength of the allies in their maritime operations.

LICENSES STOPPED NEAR SUMMER CAMP

Provincial Board Closes All Places of Sale to Protect Soldiers.

A MILITARY REQUEST

Commanders in Charge Suggested Action for Board to Follow.

Niagara-on-the-Lake is made dry for a period of five months by an action of the Ontario License Board yesterday, on the solicitation of the military authorities. The fact that this district will be made a perpetual training-ground through the year for military units, and that a number of hotels were in close proximity, influenced Colonel W. A. Logie and H. M. Elliott to ask the support of the board in protecting the men. After considerable deliberation yesterday, Chairman Flaville and his colleagues decided to close all the hotels from June 1 to October 31.

Six Licenses Gone. There are five hotels and one shop concerned. The ones which will close are as follows: Queen's Royal (H. O'Neill); Wakeview (F. Addison); American House (T. Enright); Doyle Hotel (George E. Friswell); and the shop of H. R. Doyle. The action of the commissioners follows a statement made some time ago by the chairman to the effect that the board was prepared to co-operate with the wishes of the military authorities in protecting the soldiers from excessive drinking. It is not known whether similar steps will be taken in other quarters or not.

AUSTRO-GERMAN LIES REFUTED BY PETROGRAD

Successes Against Russians Shown to Have Been Grossly Exaggerated.

LONDON, May 20.—A Russian official statement, issued at Petrograd, received by the Reuter Telegram Co., says: "Until now the Germans dare not admit they were deluged from Shavil on the 11th, and they talk of repulsing all sorts of Russian attacks against that town. Nevertheless our front in this region passes to a considerable distance west of Shavil. German official communications augment more than fourfold the actual number of prisoners taken at the crossing of the Dubysa River. "All German efforts against our position east of Drohobyz, in Galicia, have failed. Up until the present time there was only a single regiment of Russian cavalry garrisoned in the town of Drohobyz. These troops fell quickly behind the infantry with insignificant losses. The Austrians, nevertheless, had the audacity to claim officially that they took 5000 prisoners at Drohobyz."

EUROPEAN WAR ABOUT TO BEGIN

May Month Marks the Actual Beginning of European War According to High Authority.

"I don't know when the war will end," replied Ritzcher, "but I know that it will begin in May"—and with David Lloyd George, chancellor of the English exchequer, admitting in response to questioning before parliament, that the British have three quarters of a million seasoned fighters now in France the import of Kitchener's reply receives new emphasis. England has landed without a single mishap on the continent the greatest expeditionary force and equipment in all her history, in spite of the submarine menace in the North Sea and even in the Irish Sea.

Imagine, if you can, more than 750,000 veterans under the Union Jack alone, ready at the word "go" to re-open the war upon Germany. Given a flag to every company more than ten thousand Union Jacks now float proudly over the battle camps in northern France alone. By the same token, more than a million Union Jacks should now be floating over the homes of the patriots of Canada.

Loud praise from every side is enjoyed by The World for its meritorious achievements in providing flags for every home as set forth in the announcement appearing on another page of this issue, whereby loyal citizens can secure one or more complete flag outfits all ready for hanging from the housefront at practically no cost worth mentioning. To be had at either of The World's two offices, Toronto and Hamilton. Canadian patriots should lose no time in availing themselves of this opportunity and advantageous offer.

WILL MAKE NO MORE.

Robertson Candy Company gave assurance yesterday in court that they would not send out from their factory any more boards of lottery numbers, so Judge Coatsworth discharged W. J. Dean, A. Saylor and L. Wood, who were charged with carrying on a lottery in their stores.

LEAFS SLAM BALL ALL OVER THE LOT

Small Crowd Shiver Cheerfully as We Win Our First of Year at Hanlan's Point.

By actual count 150 persons, including dead heads and a dozen ladies, shivered cheerfully as the Leafs landed their first victory of the season at Hanlan's Point yesterday afternoon.

Without a knowledge of the fact not one of those present could have suspected that the home team occupied the lowly position they held at the bottom of the list. The score was 16 to 5.

Yesterdays was "McTigue" weather and a yellow pitched superb ball in the atmosphere that would make an Eskimo run for shelter.

At Buffalo - (International) - Buffalo opened the series with Jersey City by winning 4 to 1.

At Rochester - By a fine batting rally in the eighth inning Newark took the opening game of the series from Rochester 5 to 3.

At St. Louis - (Federal) - Buffalo slugged Groom and Herbert for 17 hits which netted them 11 runs, while Ford and Bedient held St. Louis safe.

STROMBOLI WINS THE METROPOLITAN

Huge Crowd Attend Opening of the Eastern Racing Season at Belmont Park.

NEW YORK, May 20.—August Belmont's four-year-old gelding, Stromboli, by Fair Play—St. Frisella, carrying 115 pounds, with jockey Turner in the saddle, won the Metropolitan Handicap at one mile, the feature of the card at the opening of the eastern racing season at the Belmont Park race track today.

These crowd watched the twenty-second running of the classic event, in which ten horses started, one of them being Rockview, a stable companion of the winner, which finished last, after running out at the turn into the stretch, jockey Dugan refraining from forcing him to further effort.
Schuyler L. Parsons Sharpshooter finished second, three-quarters of a length behind the winner, with Captain E. B. Cassatt's Flying Fairy third, five lengths away. The time, 1:29 4-5, is just two weeks faster than the track record for the race, made by the track record for second years ago and equaled by Buskin, last year's winner.
The public choice and both jockey and horse were vociferously cheered when they returned to the judges' stand after the contest. Summary:
FIRST RACE—Selling, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs, main course:
1. He Will, 105 (W. Ural), 11 to 10, 1 to 3 and out.
2. Hurakan, 110 (E. Dugan), 5 to 1, 4 to 5 and 1 to 2.
3. Uncle Jimmie, 111 (C. Byrne), 20 to 1, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1.
4. Time 1:12 2-5. Broom Leaf and Gnat also ran.

3. Broomvale, 105 (J. Groth), 4 to 1, 5 to 5 and 4 to 5.
4. Time 53 1-5. Ormesdale, Sun God, Tea Caddy, Danrook and Soonly also ran.

We went a long way to get this, the prize "buy" of the season for men. It's the floor stock of one of the best makers in Canada; to get values like this in spite of the way materials are soaring, is a very remarkable achievement.

The majority of these suits are fine navy blue English worsteds and serges; there are also some plain gray serges and English tweeds made-up in Norfolk style.

These are suits of sterling quality—the younger men and those who still feel young will be particularly pleased with the smart cut of the clothes.

A few are less, but $15.00, $18.00 and $18.00 are the prices these suits would sell for in the regular way. The sizes run from 33 to 44, and there are 400 suits to choose from—a magnificent chance for men to be "fixed up right" for the holiday. Saturday, $9.95.
