New Chancellor Also Says Protection Must be Ruled Out

British Electors Likely to be Swayed by Personal Characteristics of the Leaders—Some Comment on the New Premier—A Notable Foursome at G.A.

(Canadian Press.) London, Oct. 30.—While Lloyd George in Glasgow on Saturday was deciding the personnel of the new ministry, Stanley Baldwin, president of the Board of Trade in the late Lloyd George government, and now chancellor of the Exchequer, was venturing an opinion on his new colleagues.

Mr. Baldwin put his leaders in a rather unfortunate position by intimating that they did not know definitely where they were. "One drawback in having to form a ministry hurriedly," he said, "was that the leaders had not time to formulate an elaborate, striking programme calculated to capture the wandering caprices of the electorate. I believe that my countrymen are tired of too much eloquence, too many promises."

W. D. MORROW IS DEAD AT EIGHTY

The Only Man Who Ever Defeated John McGoldrick in Stanley Ward.

Many friends in the city and elsewhere will regret to learn of the death of W. David Morrow, a former alderman of the city and for many years on the staff of the chamberlain's department at City Hall, which occurred this morning at the Home for Invalids.

Mr. Morrow was one of the best known men in the North End of the city, and held the record of being the only candidate for civic honors who ever defeated the late Alderman John McGoldrick in the contest for Stanley ward.

At this morning's council meeting the city chamberlain, Duncan G. Lingley, reported Mr. Morrow's death, and Commissioner Wigmore was authorized to send a suitable floral remembrance from the city council.

OVER NIAGARA FALLS TO DEATH

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 30.—A coast guard boat, a bank book and a note of farewell, were picked up on the river bank on Saturday and it is believed the owner had gone over the falls.

In a card case was found the name J. E. Leaman, Lancaster, N. Y., and a clipping referring to an account of divorce recently taken by his wife.

Might Be Applied In Solving Cases Of Murder in Province

"Scientific Detective" Review and Analysis of the Murder of Rev. Mr. Hall and Choir Singer in New Jersey—Many Chances of Solution Lost by Early Neglect or Bungling.

As St. John has several unsolved murder mysteries on its hands—three very peculiar cases will at once suggest themselves—the Times publishes herewith a rather remarkable article of the "scientific detective" sort, dealing with the famous New Jersey murder tragedy.

This article is of deep interest because of its searching analysis of the Jersey case, and also because it contains very practical suggestions which might usefully be applied by the law officers of the Crown and the police departments of towns and cities in this province.

NEW BRUNSWICK MURDER MYSTERY

(By E. E. Free, Fellow, American Association for the Advancement of Science.)

The Hall-Mills murder, which occurred on September 14, 1922, near the small city of New Brunswick, New Jersey, 33 miles south of New York City, is a case of extraordinary interest to the scientific detective. This is true, it must be confessed, more for what was left undone than for what was done, because of facts which were not found out although they might have been.

GERMANY SEEKS ORIENT TRADE

Canada Paying Too Little Attention to Possibilities in Far East—Definite Policy Needed. "German competition in China and Japan is serious, and is something that should receive the immediate attention of Great Britain and the dominions," declared Major G. G. Glog, a British trade missionary, when he arrived in Montreal last week from Vancouver. He is the last of a twelve-months' journey around the world, during which he investigated trade conditions and prospects in the principal non-European countries. "Canadians have apparently been paying very little attention to the trade possibilities of the Orient," Major Glog added. "There are wide fields of commerce there and I think it would be to the advantage of both Canada and the Orient countries if your business men took up the matter seriously. The Germans are becoming very aggressive in this field and are doing more and more attention to it. China and Japan have suffered, of course, the same reaction which has affected other parts of the world, although, perhaps, not in the same degree. Things appear to be on the mend now, however, and business men of those countries look for steady improvement."

Major Glog will sail for home next Tuesday on the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Britain, after having been away from England eighty more than two months. He left Liverpool on October 27, 1921, and under arrangements made by the Canadian Pacific in London, proceeded in turn to Rangoon, Colombo, Calcutta, Fremantle, Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, Hong Kong, Nagasaki, Kobe, Yokohama, Tokyo, Shanghai, Peking, Vancouver and Montreal. He spent considerable time in Australia, where he found present conditions very promising. "The Orient is a vast country, and it is well worth the attention of our business men," he said. "It is a vast country, and it is well worth the attention of our business men."

Major Glog referred to the "white Australia" policy and stated that circumstances appeared to be rapidly changing to the point where some departure from this policy would have to be made. "Australia is a vast country, and it is well worth the attention of our business men," he said. "It is a vast country, and it is well worth the attention of our business men."

Major Glog said that the Australian labor is not maintaining the volume of production that it did before the war. He stated, however, that it is due to the "deliberate 'go slow' policy" to which the workers have been openly incited by extremist agitators among the leadership of their party.

Turning again to conditions in the Far East, Major Glog said that Canada as well as China and Japan is destined to benefit largely by the improved Orient-to-England service recently established by the Canadian Pacific. It will undoubtedly mean the diversion of an immense amount of traffic to the dominion, as the distance from Vancouver to Yokohama or Hong Kong is about 400 miles shorter than from San Francisco," he stated.

Major Glog is a member of the staff of Messrs. Simon-Carr, Limited, of Manchester, consulting and contracting engineers.

THEY WILL NOT OPPOSE LLOYD GEORGE IN WALES

Carnarvon, Wales, Oct. 30.—In grateful recognition of his war work, the Carnarvonshire Conservatives decided not to oppose Mr. Lloyd George in the elections, upon receiving assurance that he will loyally serve under Bonar Law in resisting the communist attack.

Lloyd George is a member of parliament from the Carnarvon district, where as a coalition Liberal he received 15,993 votes in the 1918 election as against 1,093 votes for the independent candidate, his only opponent.

Waterproofing a Tent. There are various methods of waterproofing tents. One of the best is preparation consisting of sugar of lead and alum, equal parts, say about a pound of each to a gallon or more of tepid water. When dissolved put tent to soak in the solution and then thoroughly saturated hang up and dry. This will make a tent fairly waterproof, mildew-proof and to a certain extent fire-proof.

Another way is to dissolve paraffin in gasoline. out of doors, then point the preparation on the canvas. This will make a tent water-proof, but is not so easily applied, and a tent is more likely to catch fire from sparks from a camp fire. By Dr. G. E. Hathorne in Adventure Magazine.

RESULTS BUY SHADOW BROOK

Carnegie Estate at Stockbridge, with a 54 Room House, to be Used as Seminary. Pittsfield, Mass., Oct. 30.—Shadow Brook, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie's 387-acre estate at Stockbridge, has been sold to the religious community of Jesuits of the Province of New England for about $200,000. They are to take possession in December and will convert it into a seminary with 150 students.

Andrew Carnegie bought the property in 1916 and he died there in 1919. The fifty-four-room house of native gray stone is the second largest private dwelling in America, being exceeded in size only by Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt's Biltmore at Asheville, N. C. In 1922 the late Anson Phelps Stokes of New York acquired 1,000 acres on the side of Richmond Mountain and built a house at a cost of about $1,000,000. His interest in the place languished several years later when his right leg was crushed while riding a Kentucky thoroughbred through a mountain bridle path.

While some of the furnishings were sold to the Jesuits, the remainder were sold to the late Sycamore P. Shorter, turpentine king of Savannah, Ga. After Alfred G. Vanderbilt was lost on the Lusitania, his widow occupied the house for two summers. The view from the lookout tower is one of the finest in the hills. The music room, which will seat 500 persons, is finished in quartered oak and the dining room is in old English oak with English hunting scenes carved in oak panels over the mantels. While some of the furnishings have been sent to the Nineteenth street home in New York of Mrs. Carnegie's five children, the rest of the furnishings, the gardens and grounds have been kept up in the sale.

As they were during Mr. Carnegie's life, the five cottages, conservatories, boat-houses and other buildings are in excellent condition.

BALDWIN HOLDS OUT NO HOPE FOR LOWER TAXES

In high political quarters it is declared that if tranquility is what the nation wants it must be conceded that a better man could not be chosen to carry out this desire. These quarters assert that, however much his friends and enemies disagree on Bonar Law's personal characteristics, they are united in agreeing that he represents steadfastness, straightforwardness, staidness and integrity. He has all the attributes of tranquility.

There seems to be a considerable element of the population, however, who are well south in a temperate climate, part of it decidedly tropical," he said. "In the tropical parts of the world, white men can live, but they cannot bring up families. If the country is to be opened up and Australia is to prosper, provision of colored labor from the tropics will have to be made."

The new premier, to the surprise of many, has been humorously given voice to the other day by Lloyd George. He also plays an efficient game, but his devotion to this pastime is measured privately by the physical benefits he derives from it. Always, as has been declared, his and Lloyd George's policy are almost indistinguishable, the prevailing opinion is there will be a wide choice of the polls between the two personalities. Observers in comparing the two statesmen assert that it is not hard to see that they are of directly opposite temperaments. Whereas Lloyd George has warm geniality and a sort of "devilish twinkle" in his eyes, especially when scoring a humorous remark, Bonar Law on the other hand almost always wears an austere, thoughtful and somewhat morose expression. His strong and protruding jaw always gives the appearance of firmness, though not dominating decision.

Church and Golf. Mr. Lloyd George spent a quiet Sunday at the secluded estate of his host, the Earl of Balfour. He attended church in the morning with his host and the other guests and in the afternoon a unique foursome was played on the "Whittingham" golf links by Balfour, Lloyd George, Birkhead and Horn.

Bonar Law found it necessary to counteract the misapprehension alleged to have been spread by the Labor party to the effect that abolition of the pensions ministry would be detrimental to the position of pensioners. He issued a statement emphasizing strongly that the change in the method

Reflecting the Old Masters in Solid Mahogany

Although distinctly of the mid-Victorian period in furniture art, the four poster suite shown in our north window leans to the ideas of the Masters of two centuries before.

It is an objet d'art for a connoisseur who understands values. The stripping of the mahogany is accentuated in the English brown finish, and about the most striking things about it are the chiffrone and dressing table. The former is low set with two narrow half drawers above deep doors concealing removable trays. The dressing table can be called exquisite—it seems to spring up from two slender supports based on a curling stretcher whose underpinning are turned in inverted cups. The mirror is removable.

It is a suite to be seen personally if just for the educative value of the visit. The price for six pieces including a night table, is $416

MAY DELAY TRADE PACT WITH ITALY

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Italy's dramatic delay of government will probably delay conclusion of a projected trade arrangement with Canada. When Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, went to Europe, it was understood that following conclusion of a new trade treaty with France, an endeavor would be made to improve Canadian trade relations with Italy.

He declared positively that protection must be ruled out. This declaration is regarded as rather significant, seeing that much of Bonar Law's critics are suspicious as to his fiscal intentions. Mr. Baldwin suggested that help might come in the form of local taxation, "although neither agriculture nor any other industry can look to this government or any other for a direct or indirect subsidy of public money under any circumstances."

Stanley Baldwin in a speech on Saturday made a significant admission as chancellor of the exchequer, namely, that much as the government desired to relieve the burden of taxation, a great reduction in expenditure could be expected immediately—it would be in fact a squeeze to balance the next year's budget.

WOMEN TO BE CANDIDATES IN ONTARIO. Ottawa, Oct. 30.—It is expected that there will be several women in the field for honors in the forthcoming election in Lanark county made necessary by the death of Hon. J. A. Stewart. A meeting of the U. F. O., of Lanark county, on Saturday afternoon, definitely decided that they would present a candidate to stand for election at the holding of a nominating convention. The names of Mrs. John Stewart, a woman worker of the district, and Mrs. A. Buchanan, of Appleton, have been prominently mentioned as the probable choice of the U. F. O. meeting. T. A. Thompson, J. Ramsay, J. Gould of Smith's Falls, Hon. D. Preston and Major Hope of Smith's Falls, are mentioned as possible opponents in the field for honors in the forthcoming election in Lanark county made necessary by the death of Hon. J. A. Stewart.

Basal King in Halifax. Halifax, N. S., Oct. 30.—Basal King, author, arrived in Halifax on Saturday and will address a meeting tonight under the auspices of the Canadian Club. Mr. King, who is one of the foremost Canadian writers, was born in Prince Edward Island, and was at one time pastor of St. Luke's church here.

Barrel Rollers Have Reached Cobourg, Ont. Cobourg, Ont., Oct. 30.—Lawrence McElduff and Horace Negus, who started from Amherst, N. S., to each roll barrel to Vancouver (about 4,000 miles), passed through here Saturday afternoon. They have now been about seventy-five days on the way.

IN IRELAND. Belfast, Oct. 30.—Joseph Devlin, addressing his former constituents yesterday in response to a resolution regretting his severance from the constituency said that if 80,000 Catholic Nationalists wished to be down and submit to disenfranchisement and persecution, they could not rely on him. If, on the other hand, they were resolved to fight on, live and vote, he was still at their service.

Dublin, Oct. 30.—Two Irish castles were destroyed by fire during the week end. Antrim Castle, near Lough Neagh, home of Viscount Massereene, parliamentary secretary for the prime minister of northern Ireland, was burned yesterday morning and a maid servant caught in the flames perished. Others in the house had narrow escapes. Lydian Castle, in County Galway, was fired by armed men on Saturday and the family were kept under guard.

CIVIC OWNERSHIP A GREAT SUCCESS

(From "Overseas," October, 1922.)
"Nowadays cheap jibes at municipal-owned undertakings are very popular and we are told that the private-owned ones are the only ones which are efficiently managed. The recent report of the Glasgow City Council concerning its ownership and management of its huge tramway undertaking, affords very remarkable reading.
"In 1894 the Glasgow City Council bought out a private undertaking and in twenty-eight years it has achieved the following results:
"All the money borrowed to pay the original owners has been paid off, together with interest. The tramway undertaking, considerably enlarged, and valued at ten million pounds (approximately $50,000,000) is now the absolute property of the people of Glasgow, without a penny of debt. The undertaking has paid £15,000,000 in rates, £200,000 in income tax, and £1,147,000 has gone to the "Common Good Fund." In addition, fares are cheaper and working conditions and hours have been considerably improved.
"Certainly the City Fathers of Glasgow deserve the congratulations of the community in their wonderful achievement."

G. FRED FISHER'S PLATFORM

- No. 1—(a) The completion and signing of the contract with the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission for Musquash Power. (b) The appointment of an independent Civic Hydro Electric Commission to construct a Civic Distribution System and operate same.

THE HYDRO CONTRACT.

Why should there be any doubt in any mind concerning the supply of hydro-electric current from Musquash? Who doubts the ability of the province of New Brunswick to fulfill a contract?

The New Brunswick Electric Power Commission is ready to contract to supply St. John with ten to fifteen kilowatt hours. Behind that commission stands the government of the province.

Who has the hardihood to assert that the government of the province will not deliver the goods? And for what reason? Let the people ask themselves these questions.

Who has the most reason to try to implant a doubt in the public mind? Who but the New Brunswick Power Company and its advocates? There are no others.

If the people permit themselves to be deceived, and if they re-elect Mr. McLellan, what will happen? He is the candidate supported and aided in every way by those who want the power company to win.

The people need have no fear that the government of the province will not fulfill its contract. Their business is to get the contract closed as quickly as possible and get the full benefit of cheap light and power.

Why Not Rates and Services Like These In Saint John?

The Transformation Wrought by Hydro in Kitchener—Domestic Rates Cut From Eight Cents to 2.6 Cents—Average Family Using All Electrical Conveniences Pays $3.60 a Month—New Industries Established—Plant Paying For Itself and Further Reductions in Sight.

THE KITCHENER LIGHT COMMISSIONERS GAS AND ELECTRIC LIGHT DEPARTMENT Kitchener, Ont., Oct. 26, 1922.

To the Editors of The Telegraph and The Times, St. John, N. B.: Gentlemen,—I understand that your city is, at present, interested in municipally owned Hydro Power and, in this connection, beg leave to give you a few points regarding service and operation of Hydro in the city of Kitchener.

KITCHENER'S HYDRO HISTORY. The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power movement originated in Kitchener. The late Mr. E. W. B. Snyder, ex-M.P., started the ball rolling in February, 1920, by calling a meeting of the boards of trade of Waterloo and Kitchener.

Previous to the advent of hydro power in Kitchener, electricity was supplied the consumer from power generated by producer gas engines. The cost of power to the domestic consumer, previous to the advent of hydro power, was eight cents per k.w.h.

AS WE ADDED NEW ELECTRICAL CONSUMERS AND INCREASED THE AMOUNT OF POWER WE WERE PURCHASING FROM THE HYDRO POWER COMMISSION, OUR RATES WERE LOWERED.

HOW HOUSEHOLDERS BENEFIT. The increased number of customers and the decreased cost of service is due to the very extensive use of electricity for cooking, washing, ironing, lighting, etc.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH. DUE TO THE CHEAPNESS OF HYDRO POWER FOR MANUFACTURING PURPOSES A GREAT NUMBER OF INDUSTRIES HAVE LOCATED IN THIS CITY.

STEAM AUXILIARY NOT NECESSARY. From our experience of twelve years of operation of hydro power, we find that IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO MAINTAIN AN AUXILIARY STEAM PLANT.

MORE THAN PAYS ITS WAY. Notwithstanding the annual decrease in power rates to the consumers, our Commission has been able to operate for the last eight years and make the necessary extensions required by the growing demands without the issue of debentures, all capital expenditure being taken care of by the amounts written off as depreciation each year and the surplus reserves made each year.

WITHIN THE NEXT FEW YEARS THE TOTAL DEBT AGAINST THE PLANT WILL BE WIPED OUT. WHEN THIS EVENT OCCURS, THE ELECTRICAL RATES IN THE CITY WILL BE DECREASED CONSIDERABLY.

Lesson No. 141. RADIO DICTIONARY.

Attenuation—When telephonic messages are transmitted over wires, either in ordinary wire telephony or using radio frequencies, increasing distances cause damping of the amplitude of the alternating current.

Radiation resistance—When power is supplied to a radio transmitting circuit, a portion of this power is radiated from the circuit in the form of electromagnetic waves, the remainder being dissipated in the circuit itself or in the immediate surroundings.

Capacity Coupled Receiver—A receiving set in which the coupling between the receiving apparatus and the antenna circuit is affected by the use of condensers.

Stand-by Circuits—Circuits so arranged as to respond to a wide variety of wave lengths. An ordinary inductively coupled set used with tight coupling will give broad tuning and receive signals from a number of stations.

Autodyne—Autodyne reception is produced in a regenerative circuit when the same vacuum tube is used as a detector and as a generator of local oscillations.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. James Drummond, widow of James Drummond, passed away this morning. Her death came as a great shock to her family as she has been in fairly good health until Friday evening when she had the misfortune to fall, fracturing her hip.

Frederick Smith, formerly of this city, but at the time of his death living in Drumheller, Alberta, occurred suddenly on October 11. Mr. Smith was killed instantly by a large rock falling through the roof of a mine where he was at work.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that averages in the family can use when constipated?"

Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin yourself. The next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps.

Many thousands of elderly people use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a mild, safe, and effective remedy for people of advancing years.

A CHILD FOR A CHILD.

(New York Times.) One Charles Buckley, a San Francisco electrician, drove his automobile while intoxicated, one day last week, and, as might have been expected, he ran over and killed Marion Newton, a child of four.

That, at any rate, is the police account of the affair, and Buckley is under arrest, with the prospect under the California law of serving a long term in prison.

Through his attorney he has made to the parents of the child a truly, remarkable proposal—that of giving to them in compensation or reparation his own little girl of about the same age as his victim!

Still more remarkable is it that Buckley's wife has not entered a vehement negative of his proposal. Instead, she has seconded it if the other mother thus can be comforted for her loss.

What the other mother says has not been made known, but it can be imagined, and both of the Buckley's must be aware, that the case cannot be settled in this way. Perhaps that is one reason why they made the offer.

EXECUTIONS
RECONSTRUCTION

Cracking of Rifles Mingles
With Tattoos of Workmen's Hammers—No Political Freedom in Russia.

Riga, Sept. 27.—(By Mail)—The cracking of the rifles of squads of executioners continue throughout Russia, and may be heard simultaneously with the tattoo of workmen's hammers engaged in the actual repair and reconstruction of buildings throughout the land.

That reconstruction has begun and is slowly continuing without important assistance from foreign countries, and that the Soviet has not changed its unrelenting and ruthless policy toward its political foes, are two outstanding phases of the Russian situation evident to the correspondent of the Associated Press, who has come to Riga after an eight-months' stay in Russia.

Hardly a day passes but somewhere in the country the death sentence for political offences is made effective, but at the same time no day dawns without the beginning of some new task, the purpose of which is to put in order buildings and streets that were wrecked during the revolution. Prisoners decanted to die look from their windows out on bustling street scenes and smiling people, who have forgotten politics in the pleasure of building new fortunes as trade opens up.

There have been no changes in the fundamental policies of the Soviet government, but its tactics now seem to be strikingly summed up in the phrase of a foreign observer at Moscow: "Assist or wink at anything which ultimately helps us in the reconstruction of Russia; relentlessly crush anyone who dares to raise his hand against us politically."

Speculators flourish. Speculators flourish, but mean to get their money away from them. These men pay heavy taxes; dine at stupendous prices in tax-burdened restaurants, and play bacarat for high stakes at night in the casinos from which the government takes the lion's share of the profits. To the speculators the government is like the gods of Olympus, permitting its children to play at business, but threatening them with a hand that if they dare to take part in the political game. The government makes no secret of its dictatorship, and the people are becoming accustomed to this and even happy in their daily lives under it. Under the iron hand of dictatorship the existence of the masses in Russia is beginning to run smoothly. While the correspondent was in Moscow he was assured by government leaders that no political freedom would be granted Russia. But this seems not to worry the people, and tired of war and strife, they now see ample food before them, coupled with the possibilities of personal advancement.

Throughout Soviet Russia there is not today, nor has there been for months, a single important uprising. The Communist control is tighter and more complete than ever. The Committee of Investigation is out-weeding, trying and convicting various minor officials who accepted bribes, and is thus endeavoring to build up a bureaucratic machine which will operate strictly in accordance with orders from the central government.

The old Cheka has been abolished, and in its stead there has come up the organization known as the Political Police. The latter does not interfere in men's private lives, but in politics they are as omnipotent as ever. At one time the political police could shoot people first and try them afterward. Today the method is to have a court trial first and then carry out the execution or to send suspects into exile without trial.

To foreigners in Russia the leaders make no effort to conceal their policy. They are not ashamed. They have confidence in the policy of doing wrong that good ultimately may come, and they apparently are succeeding, slowly and painfully, in reconstructing Russia, but along their own lines, and without any important sacrifice of principle.

Superficial activity. The evidence of reconstruction in the land is more superficial than really repaired, buildings reconstructed, and railroad passenger traffic becoming normal. Industrial plants, however, in no worse condition than a year ago, certainly are in no better shape. The plants need foreign capital, but lacking this on terms to which the Communist can consent, the government is ready to wait until it has a surplus of exports from agriculture. This it hopes for in 1923, and then thereafter it sees money with which it will be able to establish industries itself.

In the meantime, with evidence at hand of enough food to feed practically the entire population; with a fuel supply exceeding that of last year, and with textile works producing a considerable amount of clothing, the government expects the population to be fed, and warmed, and clad, not necessarily very well, but still well enough to weather another year without foreign loans.

To feed the few hundred thousands of people who still suffer from the Russian famine, the government still looks to foreign aid. This will permit it to devote most of the available famine and church treasure funds to constructive agricultural development and to the purchase of harvesting machinery, horses, etc.

Nikolai Lenin, Premier of Russia, though far from strong as the result of his recent illness, has been the guiding mind in these general policies.

TO BE REPRESENTED.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—McGill University will be represented at the semi-centennial celebration of Canterbury College, University of New Zealand, Christchurch, New Zealand, which will take place next May. McGill's representative will be one of her own graduates resident in New Zealand, perhaps the Hon. Thomas Wilson Leys, editor of the Auckland Star, who received an honorary degree from McGill during the Imperial Press Conference in Canada two years ago. It is more likely, however, that one of the graduates who actually studied at McGill, of whom there are several now resident in New Zealand, will be chosen.

SAY MURDERED

Husband Shows Marks of
Fight, But Denies Brutal
Crime Near Cleveland.

Cleveland, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Hazel Burns, aged twenty-nine, whose badly mutilated body was found buried in a shallow grave near Painesville on Wednesday, died from suffocation and strangulation, so Lake County authorities announced following a postmortem examination of the body.

Mrs. Burns was not shot, but was beaten with the butt of a small calibre revolver, then buried alive in a shallow grave in a marsh, the authorities declared. The marks at first believed to be bullet wounds, were made by the butt of a pistol, physicians said.

The examination was made while Prosecutor Ralph M. Oestander and Sheriff Spink were grilling the slain woman's husband, Harry Burns, in the prosecutor's office at Painesville.

Tangled in Mrs. Burns' hair was found a small spring from an old-fashioned revolver, physicians reported to the authorities. Authorities believe a revolver was used to beat her unconscious.

The grilling of Burns, begun after his arrest on Wednesday, was continued. Authorities have failed to secure a confession from the husband who denies he had anything to do with the murder.

Burns was taken to view his wife's body, and twice collapsed, falling on his knees at the side of the bier in the Painesville morgue, where he prayed and sobbed: "I didn't kill her, I didn't kill her." At the undertaking rooms where he encountered his wife's relatives he also maintained his innocence.

The authorities believe Mrs. Burns was killed on the spot where the rough grave was dug. Blood found near by, they say, is human blood.

As yet no motive for the crime has been put forward by authorities except jealousy over "another woman." Mrs. Burns was the third wife of Burns, his first wife having died and his second wife being divorced. Recently he had his name changed to Burns to simplify the pronunciation of his former name. He first made his appearance in the neighborhood where he lives as a porter, then he began his commercial career by establishing a popcorn stand. Today Burns is said to be worth between $60,000 and $70,000. He owns four business and apartment blocks.

Mrs. Burns had been married previously, being divorced from her first husband.

That Wednesday, Nov. 1, All Souls Day, will be a holy day of obligation, and Tuesday, the day preceding, a fast day of obligation, was announced in the Catholic churches yesterday. Thursday, Nov. 2, is All Soul's Day, when services will be offered for the repose of the souls of the faithful departed.

BOY DRIVER HURT

About eleven o'clock on Saturday night Haymarket street car No. 89, in charge of Motorman Frank Gilchrist, struck a delivery wagon driven by a small boy accompanied by another one and wrecked it. The wagon was said to belong to a Mr. Aranoff in Main street. It was loaded with groceries which were distributed over the street and sidewalks. One of the boys in the wagon, Hyman Kashefsky, 990 Main street, received a severe gash in the head and was taken to the General Public Hospital and later to his home. The horse escaped uninjured. Two slide windows, a step and the side of the street car were damaged and traffic was held up for fifteen minutes.

A shunting engine ran off the track near the site of the old C. N. R. elevator on Saturday afternoon and considerable difficulty was experienced in getting it back onto the track again. Finally two other engines were attached to it and the shunter was pulled back on the rails. It was undamaged by the mishap.

to work!

Maybe there's an old fellow working beside you—a sort of pensioner the firm keeps on. His productive years are gone. While he was a producer he didn't save.

If you could analyze that old fellow's thoughts, you'd find him sadly rueing the years when he spent all he made. Instead of being able to retire to a comfortable, independent old age, he's working for a mere pittance, to keep body and soul together.

Man! Don't let yourself come to that. Invest a few dollars each year now—when you can save the money—in an Imperial Endowment Policy. It will provide a regular monthly pension to keep you in comfortable independence when you are old.

Our interesting booklet, "Penniless Old Men," tells all about it. Ask for a free copy to-day—while you are in good health.

A SHIP'S KNEES.

In these days when flapper slang juggles with sayings like "the cat's pajamas" and "the bee's knees," how many boys and girls know anything about ship's knees. Ship's knees, however, are a fact and not a fancy. This exceedingly important item in the construction of a wooden ship is described as follows in the current American Forestry:

"A ship knee is a right-angled wooden brace used to give strength to the framing, and is fashioned from the natural crook of a tree formed by a heavy, shallow horizontal root and a section of the trunk. Knees when finished are sometimes as much as six or seven high and many of them are four feet high. The tremendous impetus to wooden shipbuilding brought about by the war has resulted in the establishment of a sawmill at Portland, Ore., designed exclusively for the finishing of ship knees. The timber preferred is second-growth Douglas fir, found growing in shallow soil, so that the roots turn off at right angles to the trunk and thus give the proper shape. The standardized wooden ship requires some 200 knees of all sizes, while other type of wooden ship, also under construction, requires more than 160 knees."

CHEQUERS.

Ottawa Journal.—Three years ago Lord Lee presented "Chequers," a 600-acre estate, with magnificent buildings, to the British nation as a home for its prime ministers. Then Lloyd George made Lord Lee, First Lord of the Admiralty. And now Lord Lee loses his job at the Admiralty, and the man who makes him lose it replaces Lloyd George at Chequers. That is having it rubbed in with a vengeance. And the worst of it is that Lord Lee, under the terms of the gift, continues to pay for its upkeep.

LOCAL NEWS

An alarm from box 26 about 8 o'clock yesterday morning called the firemen to the Ritchie building at the corner of Princess and Canterbury streets. The fire was found to be among the books in the window to the ground, a distance of approximately twenty feet, and had been seriously injured. It was said that the woman had been discovered unclimbed upon the ground in the early morning by one of the barn attendants.

MIGHT BE APPLIED IN MURDER CASES

(Continued from page 1) The fact that the spot where the bodies were found is almost exactly on the line between two counties, with its resulting doubt as to the legal jurisdiction together with the uncertainty of the Phillips case, may be an explanation of this laxity in the early stages of the investigation. It is not an excuse for it. No excuse is possible.

A RESUME

Today, more than a month after the murder, the facts of this case must be pieced together as well as we can from the published accounts and from the more or less imperfect recollections of witnesses. Stripped of unessential and uncertain details, the story of the case is as follows:

THE BODIES FOUND

On the morning of September 15, 1922, at about 10 o'clock the young couple, Raymond Schneider and Pearl Barney, hunting outdoors in a field about a mile outside of New Brunswick, called to the attention of Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills, lying side by side under a small crabapple tree.

THE WOMAN'S LETTERS

Scattered between and around the bodies lay ten letters in Mrs. Mills' handwriting, not addressed or signed. These were love notes. It is presumed, from satisfactory evidence, that these letters were written by Mrs. Mills to Dr. Hall. It is believed that they were left for him in some hiding place, as was partly the custom of the couple. One of these letters had been written on the very day of the disappearance, Sept. 14. Others of the letters were days, probably weeks, older. A puzzle which remains unexplained is how these letters got to the place where the bodies were found. It is unlikely that Dr. Hall would have carried around with him a thick bundle of incriminating letters, some of them weeks old.

course, that the authorities possess information which has not been made public, but in consideration of their past behavior in this case, this possibility is not to be considered very probable.

THINGS MISSED

Who will observe that none of the usual positions in the crime scene were made. There was no effort to determine the exact sequence of the three bullet holes and the cut throat of Mrs. Mills. The surrounding ground was not examined for footprints or other traces. No photographs were taken of the bodies. The bodies were not looked for. The exact details of the wound in the throat were not studied nor photographed. No body tried, for instance, to determine whether the incision was made from left to right or the reverse, another the right cheek, and the third the right eye. Her throat had been cut by a hedge of bushes. Persons coming along the lane, that is, downward on the left side, then straight across, then upward on the right. The incision was made from left to right, the third the right eye.

On the morning of September 15, 1922, at about 10 o'clock the young couple, Raymond Schneider and Pearl Barney, hunting outdoors in a field about a mile outside of New Brunswick, called to the attention of Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills, lying side by side under a small crabapple tree.

But do not think that the answering of this question would necessarily solve the mystery. It is no crime to be an experienced hunter and probably there are a thousand such in New Brunswick. This third deduction and its consequences are merely a working theory, something to go on in looking for other facts.

THE NEW THEATRE MOVEMENT.

(Winnipeg Tribune.)
Much has been said of the new theatre movement, and as a consequence attention has been focussed upon the larger European and American cities where experimentation in the arts is ever going on. The new theatre movement, however, which is slowly but perceptibly working a revolution in modern conceptions of the stage and its functions, has taken root in Canada, and in so distant a place as Naramata, in the Okanagan Valley, British Columbia, where Mr. Carroll Aikins has his new famous Home Theatre.

feet," and was produced from July 31 to August 6 in Naramata. It is a study of spiritual progress in the life of Christ, and dedicated by the Canadian Players to the memory of Marjorie Pickthall. It portrays eleven episodes, and there are no words except reading from the Bible before each of the eleven scenes. The play is carried out in silhouette, the players appearing as dark figures against a background of changing color and light. By means of a careful lighting system, tonalistic effects are obtained. The silence which pervades everything during the performance serves to heighten the impressiveness of the scene.

As a result of Mr. Aikins' desire that the theatre should be "used by the young actor as a training-ground for his abilities, and by the young poet as a testing ground of his abilities...for the services of beauty and for a true expression of the Canadian spirit," men and women from many parts of Canada have journeyed to Naramata to take part. While the production was professional in the best sense of the word, it was not commercial. And the theatre cannot raise itself to its rightful status while it remains predominantly commercial. A leaf from the Canadian Players' book might be taken by other dramatic organizations in this country, many of whom are still wedded to the commercial methods of production. And all due praise and support should be given to Mr. Aikins and his associates.

WIGS IN THE BALLROOM.
No longer will the smart girl of today be able to excuse her unpunctuality to an attendant squire by saying that her hair "simply wouldn't go up!" With the new evening head-dresses now arriving in London from Paris, says a London paper, her hair is packed away in the smallest space possible. She can now cover it entirely with a wig made, not of hair, but of bright artificial silk or of gleaming metal threads twisted into stiff Hyperion curls.

The artificial silk wigs are usually in white. With her quaint wreaths of tiny roses they suggest a modern version of a Watteau shepherdess. More strange in their effect are the silk wigs in bright colors—blue, orange or purple.

If a whole wig is not considered becoming there are wide bandeaux of velvet ribbon to tie round the head. These have plaits of the thick strands of silk running across the brow and coiled in bosses over the ears, or perhaps the silk "hair" is allowed to hang on thick plaits at each side of the face to droop below the shoulders.

"To look well," says a famous dress designer now displaying them, "they require a special make-up for the face, and it is essential that the wearer should have fine eyebrows. Women whose eyebrows are naturally thick must have hairs plucked from them until they secure the fine swallow-shaped line which is now fashionable."

LOCAL NEWS

DIED IN NEW YORK

There has come from New York the sad news of the death of John G. Moore of that city which occurred last week. Burial took place there on Saturday. Mr. Moore's wife was formerly Miss Irene Stewart of this city.

HELPED THE ORPHANS

The little girl, Beatrice McKinney, Helen McFarlane and Jean Johnston, held a bazaar quite recently, and the proceeds, $9, a very nice sum, were given to the British street orphanage to provide a Halloween treat for the children. It was a kindly and thoughtful act by little girl friends in remembering others less fortunate than themselves.

THE DREAM

The steamer Dream was partially raised on Saturday afternoon and towed to Indintown yesterday. She is now moored at Jordan's wharf, on the Pleasant Point side of the river, and is supported by two lighters. It was expected that she would be towed through the falls today and placed in Market slip where she will be repaired.

A GOOD STRING

The pin hitters on the Y. M. C. I. alleys are getting their start. It takes a pretty good string now to win the weekly prize which the manager, Joe Harrington, has been offering. Last week Waldo Reid climbed to 129 and a nice pipe was his. Next in order was J. Wall, with 123.

DOCTORS RETURN

Dr. John H. Allingham, Dr. L. D. V. Chipman and Dr. Albert E. Macaulay, three local physicians, who were recently admitted as fellows of the American College of Surgeons, at their congress held in Boston, arrived home at noon today. Dr. Donald C. and Mrs. Malcolm, who attended the congress, also arrived home. Dr. G. A. B. Addy, who was in attendance, returned home last week.

C. P. R. MEETING

The C. P. R. district monthly meeting is being held today at McAdams. Those in attendance from this city are J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the N. B. district, S. Elliott, divisional freight agent, D. H. Ryan, assistant superintendent of the Brownville division, D. W. Nescomb, local freight agent, and J. S. Clayton, agent in West St. John, in addition to some employees.

WILL PREACH IN LONDON

Rev. Dr. Hutchinson will leave tonight for Toronto to attend a meeting of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board. By special invitation he will preach the special anniversary sermon in the London South, Ont. Baptist church on next Sunday. While in that city he will be the guest of his son, who is manager for the Manufacturers' Life Association in that district.

AN ANNIVERSARY

Thirty-two years ago today, on October 30, 1890, John Frederick Young lost his life in a brave though futile endeavor to rescue Frederick E. Munder from the waters of Courtenay Bay. In King Square there stands a monument to the memory of that hero that all who pass may know that by that stone is commemorated an act which there is none other like. "Greater love hath no man than this; that a man lay down his life for his friend."

AWAY TO EUROPE

Among the passengers on the S. S. Majestic which sailed from New York on Saturday for Cherbourg and Southampton were Dr. J. E. Legger, Miss Anna McInnis and Miss Laura Gaudet of Moncton. Dr. Legger, was for some time on the staff of the General Public Hospital here to take a post graduate course in surgery at a Paris University in accordance with the terms of a scholarship which he won. The two young ladies will study music at a Parisian academy.

POLICE COURT

Four men were charged with drunkenness this morning, and all pleaded guilty. They were fined $8 for being drunk, and three of them were fined an additional $8 for being out late. A postponed case against Michael Michaeluk, charged with having liquor in his possession unlawfully was taken up in the police court this morning and again postponed until tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution and E. S. Ritchie for the defence. A case against Young Swanton, charged with assault was also postponed until tomorrow afternoon at the same hour. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defence.

A MOTHER'S DEFENCE

A juvenile, who gave his age as fourteen, was before the magistrate this morning, charged with the theft of coal on information laid by D. W. Land. The alleged theft occurred from a C. N. R. car. The boy pleaded guilty. His mother and father were in court, as well as his employer. The latter said he had always found the boy obedient and honest. The lad's mother told a story of attempts to bring her family up right in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles and broke down several times during the recital. The boy said there had been another one with him, whose name he gave. The magistrate said the father was liable to a fine of $20, and the boy to four years' imprisonment.

HERE THIS WEEK

Word was received at the local Board of Trade today that they might expect Major E. A. Belcher, C. B. E., manager of the British Empire Exhibition Association, on Friday on his way through the province on a tour of inspection. He has been touring the empire with the hope that it will be represented as well as possible at the empire exhibition in London. It is his purpose in Canada to acquaint the governments of the various provinces with good working knowledge of the exhibition and its aims and aspirations as well as to gather some word of what each province's natural products are. While Major Belcher is here the Board of Trade will co-operate with the government to see that he is given every opportunity to pick up the information he needs.

"Who Said Taxes?"

The N. B. Power Co. and its agents. Why? In an endeavor to stampede the citizens into a refusal of this great opportunity offered to them, and a continuance of the present high rates for light and power. Read the history of Windsor, Ont.

Population, 1915 ..... 22,000 Population, 1922 ..... 44,000 New power users, 1915-1922 ..... 255

This is a direct result of hydro, with its low rates for power attracting manufacturers. And remember that St. John can buy power 20 p.c. cheaper than Windsor.

What has been St. John's growth in the same period—practically nothing. Why? To a large extent the high cost of power.

Yet the N. B. Power Co., not satisfied with having denied low rates in the past, apparently wishes to prevent them today.

What would a growth similar to Windsor mean to St. John and your taxes and living conditions?

DELEGATIONS AT CITY HALL

Three Heard by the Commissioners This Morning

The Courtenay Bay Dredging, International Skating Meet and West Side Playgrounds—Guarantee Against Skating Meet Deficit.

The whole time of this morning's committee meeting of the city council was taken up with the hearing of delegations. One committee appeared to ask the city's aid relative to the building of a dredge working in Courtenay Bay; another was heard in connection with the securing of a playground for West St. John, while a third asked the city to guarantee any deficit from the holding of the International Skating Championships, should they be granted to St. John.

Courtenay Bay Noise Five residents of King street east appeared in connection with a petition from people living along Courtenay Bay, asking the city take action to have a bucket dredge cease operations during the night so as not to disturb the peace of the community.

The city solicitor said the city had no legal authority to stop the noise, but it might take the matter up with the federal government or the contractors. David M. Magee said that if the dredge was operating two shifts the night hours might be eliminated.

The mayor said that during the day the dredge was idle a great many hours, but seemed to operate all the time. The city solicitor said the city had no authority to stop the dredge.

The mayor thought the government should direct the contractors to relieve the city of the nuisance, even if it was necessary to compensate for any time lost.

Dr. Baxter further said that the city could not make by-laws to work outside its jurisdiction. He said individuals could get an injunction if it was shown that the working of the dredge interfered with their comfort.

He thought the best thing to do was to take the matter up with the government, or the petitioners might approach the contractor.

Commissioner Frink said that Mr. Ross, manager of the St. John Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Co. had given seventy-five carloads of gravel for road repairs free of cost to the city, and it might be approached in this matter.

Commissioner Frink moved that a communication be sent to the minister of public works, asking for a cessation of the noise at night. Carried. Commissioner Frink was authorized to see Mr. Ross and see what could be done.

The Skating Meet. A delegation representing the citizens' committee of Y. M. C. I., Y. M. C. A., Rotary Club and Gyrone Club in connection with the International Skating meet, was heard.

Frank White, on behalf of the committee, asked if the city would underwrite a loss, should such occur, if the meet came to St. John. He said that it was the plan to divide any surplus between the Protestant and Catholic orphanages. He said last year's meet cost about $5,000, with gross receipts of some $8,000. The expenses this year were estimated to be about $6,000.

To the mayor he said the meet would be under the Maritime Skating Association's auspices. R. D. Peterson and Donald Armstrong, other members of the delegation, also spoke briefly. To Dr. Frink, the city solicitor, said that any deficit could be taken from general revenue. Commissioner Wilmore said the meet last year did a big thing to put St. John on the map. He was willing to support the project.

Commissioner Bullock also spoke favorably. The mayor said he thought that he was sure the people would be willing to back up the idea, on account of the great advertising features in connection with such a meet. He was willing to support a $2,000 guarantee.

Commissioner Thornton said $2,000 might be spent in advertising with much less effect. He thought there was no fear of the city being called on to pay the amount. His motion that the city guarantee an amount not to exceed $2,000, to be taken from general revenue, was carried.

West Side Playground. A delegation from the west side was present to ask the city's assistance in establishing a playground. W. E. Scully, M. P. P., said he understood the city had in mind a property in Lancaster near the City Line, of the property required leveling. He thought an annual grant of about $1,000 a year would be required.

J. Fred Belyea and William Harding also spoke in favor of the matter. To the mayor, Mr. Scully said Queen square could be developed at less cost, but there was opposition to using the square for this purpose.

Reverting to the playgrounds matter, Commissioner Frink said the proposed new site was desirable, but was in the county and was taxed to the extent of $428 for two years. He thought $2,000 or $3,000 would be sufficient to put it into preliminary shape. A caretaker at a cost of at least $500 a year would also be required. He thought legislation should be secured to exempt playgrounds from taxation.

Generally he supported the proposal, as did also Commissioner Wilmore. Commissioner Bullock thought the municipal council should co-operate by exempting the property from taxation. The mayor said he would support any reasonable expenditure to solve the leisure time problem.

On motion of Dr. Frink the application of the committee of the whole to confer with the owners of the property and the councillors of Lancaster, and report back on Thursday.

Dr. Baxter said that to all intents and purposes, he was the sole executor of the will for the Hassan estate. It was about 10,000 feet deep and about 800 feet wide. He said the city would have to buy it on the open market as he, as city solicitor, could not make a private deal with the city.

ST. JOHN TO HULL WINTER SERVICE

Furness Steamships to Operate It—Manchester Line Announcement.

St. John's winterport business this season will be augmented by a new line of Furness steamships from here to Hull, England, starting on December 9 with the Lexington, it was announced at Furness, Withy Co's, this morning. There have been two assigned to this service and it is probable at least one more will be added later in the season.

The Lexington is expected to sail for this port from London on November 15 and to commence her winter sailings to Hull on December 9. She will be followed on December 23 by the Arion and probably by others. It is planned to make this service, which corresponds to the one formerly run from Portland to Hull, a fortnightly one.

The Manchester Line winter sailings will also commence on December 9 and will probably be a ten day service. The first will be the Manchester Producer, which is due to sail from Manchester for this port on November 18 and to make her first return voyage on December 9.

ALL ENJOYED IT Chorus sung by the St. Vincent High School girls were pleasing features of the Catholic Women's League meeting on last Friday night. They first sang O Canada and then another number both of which gave much pleasure.

180 New, Fresh W. G. & R. Regular $2.50

Shirts $1.50

A wonderful lot of fine Negligee Shirts that we procured at a big price concession; many different patterns and every one a winner.

With Shirts like these at this low price of $1.50, most men would buy them in half-dozen lots; consequently, to give as many of our customers as possible a chance to get in on this good thing we must strictly specify—

Not More Than Three Shirts to Any One Customer.

This price holds good for one day only. It's too good a bargain to miss. Who will be the lucky sixty men on hand early Tuesday. Remember, Wednesday will be too late.

See these in our Window.

OAK HALL - SCOVIL BROS., LTD. Germain St.—King St.

9-Piece Dining Room Suites $195.00

Not for many years have nine-piece dining-room suites been offered at prices anywhere near so low as those which are causing gasps of surprise on the part of nearly everyone who visits the new display room we have fitted for dining room furniture.

The suite quoted above is really finer than shown in illustration, with its massive 60 inch buffet, large china cabinet, generous-sized extension table and six chairs which have been very much improved since illustration was made. Naturally, we have many lower-priced suites and also higher-priced, but our very comprehensive showing will disclose something to suit every taste and every purse.

Electric Vacuum Cleaners to hire by the day.
