The HONOR OF the BIG SNOWS

By James Oliver Curwood Author of THE DANGER TRAIL

(Synopsis of Previous Chapters) As Melissa, wife of John Cummins, lies dying...

"I should go away for ever," Jean snapped his fingers with a low laugh.

"There remain another week, Jan Thorau, and if it turns out as you say, I swear I will abandon my two Iowakas and little Jean to the wolves!"

"I am going the day after tomorrow," Melissa said gravely as she sat up as if on a pillow.

"A wonderful change has come over me," she said. "I do not know what it is, but I feel as if I could hardly stand the thought of leaving you."

"The following morning, before she was up, Jan had gone. She was deeply hurt, but she had to be content with the thought that she had seen her father and her son together."

"There will be plenty of it very soon," replied Jan, caught by the frankness of the other man.

"And will they take me?" "You may go with me if you can run. I leave the day after tomorrow."

"Thanks," said Dixon moving toward the door. Melissa did not lift her head as he went out.

"I had dinner with Gravois," he replied. "Jean said that you would hardly be prepared for five, Melissa, so I accepted his invitation."

"He took down from the wall a fur sledge-coat in which Melissa had needed a rent a day or two before, and throwing it over his arm, turned to leave."

"I faced her slowly, knowing that in spite of himself she was a stranger to him in her manner which she would not understand."

"Why are you going away the day after tomorrow—two weeks before the others?" "I'm going to the South."

"Over the Nelson House trail?" "Yes." "Oh! Her lips curled slightly as she looked at him. Then she laughed, and a bright spot leaped into either cheek."

"I don't know," said Iowaka simply, staring at him in amazed questioning. "Nor do I," said Jan, lighting his pipe.

"But there is enough of the devil in Jean de Gravois to make him break a thousand oaths if it was for you, my Iowaka!" Her eyes glowed upon him.

resting her dark head on Jean's shoulder. "That is what my people believe, Jean, and I have given my soul to you, why should I not break oath for you?"

"For me alone, Iowaka?" "For no one else in the world, Jean. You are the only one to whom the god of my people bids me make all sacrifice."

"That you do not believe in that god, Iowaka?" "Sometimes it is better to believe in the god of my people than in yours, the people of the North."

"I believe in him always, my Iowaka, and Jean de Gravois will cut the throat of any man who says you will not go to Paradise! But this other, you are sure that you would break oath for none but me?"

"And the children. They are a part of you, Jean." "I have started and barking dogs brought Gravois to the door. They could hear Gravois's raucous voice and the knock on the door."

"I'll be back soon," said Jean, closing the door after him, and the fighting dog, he went in the direction of Cummins's cabin.

"Devil take an oath! He growled and kept because of his growling, wondering what had come into my Jean?"

"Melissa was wondering the same of it, and a little of him during the day. At noon, Dixon told her that he had made up his mind not to accompany Thorau on the trip south."

"The following morning, before she was up, Jan had gone. She was deeply hurt, but she had to be content with the thought that she had seen her father and her son together."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

ONE of my letter friends, who was particularly interested in the talk about "God's delivery horses," has sent me a most interesting little document along this line.

This document was issued by authority of the Police Department of New York, and has been published in several cities. I do not think it can be published too widely or too often.

If you haven't seen it yet, I'm sure you'll find it a most food for thought, in regard to man's best animal friend.

If you have seen it before look it over again. It's worth it. Feed your water-carrying horse, and when the day's work is done provide me with shelter, a clean dry bed and a stall wide enough for me to lie down in comfort.

Your voice, often means as much to me as the reins. Put me sometimes, that I may serve you the more gladly and learn to love you. Do not jerk the reins and kick me when I do not understand what you want, but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me, and if I fail to do your bidding, see if something is not wrong with my harness or feet.

Examine my teeth when I do not eat. I may have an abscessed eye and a sore throat, and I may be very painful. Do not use my head in an unnatural position, or take away my best defense against flies and mosquitoes by cutting off my tail.

And, finally, O, my master, when my useful strength is gone, do not turn me out to starve or freeze, or sell me to a butcher, or take my life in the kindest way, and my God will reward you here and hereafter.

You will not consider me irreligious if I ask this in the name of Him who was born in a stable. Amen!

"What's the matter, you must be just about perfect, you write against so many faults," a woman said to me the other day.

Although she was polite enough to say "you must THINK you are about perfect," I was braced against the question, "You must THINK you are about perfect."

Just about once in a while, personal friends or letter-friends present this point of view to me—that by talking against so many faults, I seem to be saying that I must say a word for myself in this matter.

Dear friends—bear and far—if you please, I do not mean to imply that I do not possess a fault when I inveigh against it. Quite the contrary.

Half the time when I inveigh against a fault, I do so because the fault is right in my own heart and life. You see, having it as such close quarters, gives me both the ability to understand it thoroughly, and the reason to hate it bitterly.

Half the time I am inveighing against a fault, I am inveighing against a fault that I have myself more than any one else whom I am inveighing against.

And now that I've made this most humiliating confession, you will reward me by never thinking me a pig again, won't you?

A little girl went into an unlighted room to get something, and stood for a moment gazing intently into the darkest corner.

"I'm too old for that. But I always look into the darkest corner once, 'cause then everything else looks real bright."

It is wonderful if the little girl will take her philosophy of "looking into the darkest corner" into her grown-up life with her. I wonder if she will realize the analogy. For it seems to me there is one.

Let us suppose that the dark corner makes yourself face and be prepared for the least cheerful possibility, and then turn your back on the darkness and look towards the bright side, and see how very bright it seems—in other words, be prepared for the worst, but look for the best.

Don't you think that philosophy would be as good for life as for dark rooms?

Duke of Westminster. He is married to a sister of Sir Bache Comyns. Lady Lawley is a daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, and her mother, a daughter of George McEvers of New York.

Sir Arthur Lawley owed his private secretaryship to the late Duke of Westminster to the fact that he was his nephew. His mother, the late Lady Wenlock, was a sister of that duke.

The only mistake that I can ever recall the late Lord Wenlock making was his giving, while governor of Madras, the grand ball at Government House at which he appeared, not in uniform, but in the guise of Satan. His costume consisted of black evening dress, high fitting black lace breeches, black silk stockings, large black game wings attached to his shoulders, a couple of goat's horns on his head, and a long black tail.

The late Sir James Dornier, then in command of the military forces of Madras, was a ward killed by a tiger, and ten other officers of high rank, shipped with Lord Wenlock, were killed in the same way. The military forces of Madras were at the time of "Here comes the Booby Man!"

Following them were twelve ladies, beautifully costumed as usually customarily, and a species of diabolical rube of white, with silver stripes, bearing in their hair, great white wings, and long sprays of ivory plumes in their hats.

It is only fair to Lord Wenlock to state that the affair was entirely organized by Sir James Dornier, who was never so happy as when getting up affairs of this kind, to relieve the monotony of life in the tropics. Unfortunately, there were some French royal princes and likewise a number of native dignitaries present on the occasion, and owing to this Lord Wenlock was taken to task by Queen Victoria, who considered his appearance, and above all his costume, were calculated to impair the prestige of her representative in the eyes of the Indian people.

The new Lord Wenlock, like his brother, belonged to an old Burgundian family named Lawley. Thomas de Lawley succeeded, in 1471, to the estates, though not to the peerage, of his cousin, Lord Wenlock, K.G., who had no issue. Lord Wenlock's baronetcy was raised to the peerage as Baron Wenlock in 1831. He died without issue, whereupon his peerage expired, while his baronetcy went to his brother Francis. He, too, died without issue, leaving the baronetcy and estates to his brother Paul, who was raised to the House of Lords as Lord Wenlock by Queen Victoria in 1838. The new Lord Wenlock is his grandson and, as neither Lord Wenlock nor any of his still surviving brothers have sons, it looks very much as if both the Lawley baronetcy and the Wenlock peerage were doomed to extinction within the present generation.

Thomas de Lawley succeeded, in 1471, to the estates, though not to the peerage, of his cousin, Lord Wenlock, K.G., who had no issue. Lord Wenlock's baronetcy was raised to the peerage as Baron Wenlock in 1831. He died without issue, whereupon his peerage expired, while his baronetcy went to his brother Francis. He, too, died without issue, leaving the baronetcy and estates to his brother Paul, who was raised to the House of Lords as Lord Wenlock by Queen Victoria in 1838. The new Lord Wenlock is his grandson and, as neither Lord Wenlock nor any of his still surviving brothers have sons, it looks very much as if both the Lawley baronetcy and the Wenlock peerage were doomed to extinction within the present generation.

It is only fair to Lord Wenlock to state that the affair was entirely organized by Sir James Dornier, who was never so happy as when getting up affairs of this kind, to relieve the monotony of life in the tropics. Unfortunately, there were some French royal princes and likewise a number of native dignitaries present on the occasion, and owing to this Lord Wenlock was taken to task by Queen Victoria, who considered his appearance, and above all his costume, were calculated to impair the prestige of her representative in the eyes of the Indian people.

A GREAT CONGRESS

The spirit which animated the conference of members of the St. John and Fredericton boards of trade in this city yesterday is the spirit which will build up New Brunswick. It was well expressed by President Jennings of the Fredericton board when he said that the different localities must set aside all sectional feeling, work together to develop the province and each take its share of the fruits of that development without jealousy or discontent.

In that spirit the conference yesterday decided to call a great provincial congress at Fredericton, while the legislature is in session, and to invite representatives of boards of trade, towns and municipal councils, farmers' associations, transportation companies and the editors of the newspapers in the province. The movement is entirely non-political, and as heartily supported by men of one party as of another. It is recognized that this is the time for united action, and the purpose of those taking the lead in the movement is to get something definite in the line of public policy respecting immigration, and present it in such a manner that the legislature will realize that the whole province is behind the request, justifying them in taking up the proposals in the most generous non-partisan spirit.

It may be hoped that there will be a very general and hearty response to the invitations sent out by the joint committee, and that the most notable congress ever held in the province will be that which will assemble on this occasion. While the joint committee will present a skeleton programme, indicating the course of discussion, there is no set and dried plan. The congress will have a free hand, although any gentleman who might take advantage of the opportunity to air indifferent views at great length would probably discover a painful lack of sympathy in his audience.

This is to be a memorable business congress, with very important business to transact. It will have a great influence upon public sentiment and public policy, and should have such practical results as will bring a steadily increasing flow of desirable settlers and of capital into this province.

The boards of trade of other cities and towns will heartily co-operate with those of St. John and Fredericton, and the various municipalities should also be well represented at what will be a memorable meeting in the province's capital. It is anticipated that as the Canadian Pacific has large interests in the province, and is increasing them, and is about to establish a model farm, the company will heartily co-operate in promoting the aims of the congress.

FEDERAL ASSISTANCE
Some two years ago, Mr. T. H. Estabrook, then president of the St. John Board of Trade, made a forcible brief address on the unfair competition the eastern provinces had to meet because the policy of all federal governments had been to boom the west, and in this they had the sympathy and aid of the great transportation companies. Mr. Estabrook contended that the time had now come when the east, which had so cheerfully contributed to the upbuilding of the west, should receive a larger share of attention in regard to the appeal for immigrants.

The views so clearly expressed by Mr. Estabrook and others at that time gave an impetus to a movement which has steadily gained force. It was not a political movement. Mr. Estabrook spoke as a supporter of the government then in power, and had it remained in power the claims of the east were assured of recognition. The time for action had come.

A new government is in power at Ottawa, and a new premier at Fredericton. The announcement is now made that Mr. Rogers and Premier Fleming have arranged the terms on which the federal government will assist this province in securing immigrants. The terms are not stated, but will be made known, no doubt, as soon as Mr. Fleming has laid them before his colleagues, at the next meeting of the cabinet. If the aid proffered is not sufficiently large, all parties in the province will solidly back the demand for more. This is not a matter of party politics, but a forward movement which is greater than the designs of any party.

MR. FLEMING'S TROUBLES
While Premier Fleming was telling the people of Newcastle last evening that he wanted provincial politics kept independent of federal issues, Mr. John E. Wilson was telling the Conservative Club of St. John that when the elections come round again the Liberals will vote for Conservative candidates. Also Mr. Doherty was explaining that the Conservative party was the only one which could handle a crisis, and Mr. Baxter was sounding the praises of Mr. Hazen, and grieving over Hon. Dr. Papeley's unfulfilled promises.

Of course Mr. Fleming can appeal with a good grace for Liberal support. The fine spirit of fairness with which he and Mr. Hazen have appointed Liberals to office and shared the patronage with Liberals must have appealed to all members of the latter party. The Liberals must also remember how neutral the Hazen and Fleming governments were during federal campaigns. The spectacle is most impressive. How could any people resist so fervent and well-grounded an appeal as that of Mr. Fleming? He makes it in Northumberland county, where trouble has been brewing for some time, and whether he was summoned to do what he could to encourage somebody to be willing to run as a government candidate.

"Will you walk into my parlor said the spider to the fly."

Newcastle board of trade will have a commercial orchard. That makes five. Next!

Recorder Baxter assured the Conservative Club last evening that they could bank on the development of Courtenay Bay.

Hon. Mr. Morrissey is credited by the Standard with saying that Mr. Hazen will eventually become premier of Canada. Hon. Mr. Morrissey lost faith in the Liberal party, or only in Mr. Borden?

The house of commons has adopted a resolution to the effect that the government should speedily inaugurate a better immigration and development policy with respect to the maritime provinces. This is another step in advance.

A Conservative caucus is to be held at Ottawa tomorrow to discuss the government programme for the session. This is the first intimation that there was any real programme, except head hunting and appointing commissions and keeping Mr. Bourassa quiet.

Hon. Robert Maxwell said last night that the policy of the government was not so much to bring immigration as to keep our own young men on the farms. In this a hint that the roads are to be improved, or a warning to the immigration congress?

The St. John business men who proved last year that there was money in potato culture, and who will demonstrate that there is money in commercial orchards, will also endeavor to prove that there is profit in sheep-raising in New Brunswick. Good luck to them. They are doing spade work for the good of the whole province.

Premier Fleming said some time ago that $20,000,000 would be spent in development work in New Brunswick in five years. He now places the figure at $25,000,000. If the developments at St. John are carried out in full, the Times believes Mr. Fleming is still below the mark.

This is the growing time for New Brunswick, and it will not be confined to St. John and the St. John valley.

The news comes from England that Sir Max Aitken has been chosen as the tariff expert of the Unionist party, because of his experience in tariff matters in Canada. No doubt Sir Max knows the duty on cement, and he may have a copy of the Canadian tariff concealed about his person. It may also be that there is no problem in the United Kingdom or the Empire which he cannot solve off-hand; but it may also be that Sir Max is becoming a bit of a joke.

The death of Baron Stammers recalls the stirring times just before confederation. As Arthur Hamilton Gordon he was governor of New Brunswick from 1861 until 1868, the year before the union of the provinces. He was born in 1820, and was the fourth son of the fourth Earl of Aberdeen. Educated at Oxford, he became private secretary to the British prime minister in 1852, and from 1854 till 1857 was a member of parliament. In 1858-59 he was secretary to a special mission to Cuba, and in 1861 came to New Brunswick. He was governor of Trinidad from 1866 till 1870, Mauritius, 1871-74; Fiji, 1875-80; New Zealand, 1880-82; high commissioner and colonial-general in the Southern Pacific, 1883-85; governor of Ceylon, 1888-90. Among his writings were Wilderness Journeys in New Brunswick, 1864; Story of a Little War, 1879, and a Life of Lord Aberdeen, 1881. He was created Baron Stammers in 1883.

Job had the measles, boils, mumps; For hard-luck tales he was a freight, But he never had, like modern chumps, A coal fire that went out at night.

Job had to fight his way through life, His hat-tales would fill a book, But still 'twas imitation strife, He never had to fire the cook.

Job thought that gossip was his curse, He was the most maligned of men, But still it might have been lots worse, There were no sewing circles then.

From place to place Job had to roam, At will and mercy of the fates, But when he had to move him home He struck no transfer combine rates.

Job's turkey was a scrawny pet, And on Thanksgiving day he found It was too little tough-and yet It cost no thirty cents a pound.

Job's troubles sought him everywhere, They came to him from near and far, But still he had no need, back there, To dodge the sporting motor car.

Job's woes camped right upon his trail, His lot was hard as any man's, And yet he never went to jail For throwing glass in garbage cans.

THEY GIFT TO ME
(By Margaret Roy Radcliffe)

These be the gifts of bygone years; The hand of love to wipe the tears Of grief that children know; A boon of simple tender care, And thought that follows everywhere, Wherever I should go.

A gladness in the shining sun, A peace at night from darkness won. So silent and so deep! A sound that throbs in summer glow; And thrills with whiteness of the snow Where nature lies in sleep.

Rich gifts of hope that reached higher Than e'er my vision could aspire To great or mighty deed, Sweet patience when the hope is flown, When older, wiser I have grown, And own a deeper need.

Dark gifts of sorrow and of pain; Low, silent sighs, and common pain, That shut the soul within The temple Christ's own love hath built, The fountain where His cleansing my guilt, And washed me white from sin.

Now, at Thy shrine, on bended knee, I thank Thee, Lord, for gifts to me Through Christ's atoning world! And now myself I bring to Thee That faith in I may ever be My Sovereign friend and Lord.

A CONVINCING NOTICE
The proprietors of a St. John newspaper have distributed handbills containing the following notice: "The news of England we tell the latest. Write in perfectly plain and most explicit. APPEAL TO BRITAIN ON BEHALF OF POLITICAL PRISONERS IN PORTUGAL

London, Jan. 30.—A committee of prominent British residents of Portugal, formed for the purpose of investigating the conditions of thousands of political prisoners awaiting trial in Lisbon and in various parts of the provinces, after examining two prisons containing 1000 prisoners, has issued a provisional report in which it makes a strong appeal to the British government for its good offices.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of those experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds his cow regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an untailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

MARITIME PROVINCES DISCUSSED IN COMMONS Reason For Lack of Growth in Population Theme of Debate—The Future

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—The government has a policy as yet on the navy. Mr. Hays, Mr. Devin, or Mr. Wright, that post-poned were still acting as recruiting officers. The day was given up to a debate on immigration to the maritime provinces, on a resolution by Thomas, of Amherst. He intimated the east had been neglected and the west boomed in the immigration literature. In ten years the population of the maritime provinces had increased by only 42,000, which was less than the natural increase.

WANT BETTER SERVICE ON STREET RAILWAY

Workmen's Tickets Advocated—Safety Board Has Important Session

The safety board met last evening in monthly session and devoted considerable time to offers for the sale and lease of city lots. The real estate boom came in for some attention and steps were taken to secure a better street car service. To allow for the reduction of $1,000 in the estimates it was decided to allow an additional $500 in the police court receipts and $300 additional from the sale of condemned horses. The reduction of $500 in the light fund was referred to the light committee for arrangement.

The application of T. S. Simms & Co. for Lot 19 in Lancaster and a portion of Lot No. 20 for the purpose of laying a railway spur to their new factory was referred to a committee. Later in the meeting the application of J. A. Barry, on behalf of the Sisters of Charity for the street lease of the McSorley lot in the Spar Cove road at $4 a year, the offer of J. J. Hennessy to purchase two lots at $200 and $100 respectively, and the offer of W. J. Linton to purchase two parcels of land, four acres in all, on the Gypsy Settlement road, at $200 and $250 respectively, were referred to the same committee, who will give the properties this afternoon.

The appointment of W. W. Gray as permanent engineer at $720 a year was recommended. The director's recommendation that W. J. Blackhouse & Son be allowed $1,200 a year instead of $800 for maintaining the ambulance and patrol wagon was rejected on the grounds that it would be unfair to the other tenders.

On motion the chief of police was instructed to be present at all meetings of the safety board. W. F. Barnhill's application for twelve acres of land in Lancaster for $2,500 was ordered filed. The application of Randolph & Baker for certain lots at Greenhead and of Beverly Stevens for several lots on the Mahogany Road were laid over for further consideration.

The director recommended that the Union Ice Company's offer of $1,500 for four lots on the west side, valued by the assessors at $400 a lot, be accepted. Several votes were taken on this offer. Mr. Scully not voting, and finally on the chairman's casting vote it was decided to offer the lots for $1,500. The chairman's recommendation to offer ten acres of land between the Mahogany road and Gypsy Settlement road, 300 feet wide, for $3,500, the city receiving three acres on the eastern side of the Gypsy Settlement road was adopted.

Renewals of following leases were granted: B. B. Britain, Nelson street, west, $15; G. W. Keegan, Princess street, $20; E. C. Woodworth and O. Silliphant, Gypsy ward, $12; Richard Lee, Brooks ward, $12. The action of the director in the matter of leases expiring without renewal was criticised and he was instructed to report all expirations a month in advance.

SERIOUS STRIKE IN PORTUGAL

Lisbon, Jan. 30.—The inauguration of a general strike in the Portuguese capital yesterday in sympathy with the agricultural strikers in the Fyros District, was accompanied speedily by disorder. The strikers stormed the street railway sheds and succeeded in preventing the military from sending out cars. Large numbers of workmen, including printers, are joining the strike. The government which fears the strike movement will spread to Oporto and to Santarem, in Zamora, has consigned all the regiments to barracks.

WAR DECLARED ON PATENT MEDICINE PRICES

A decisive forward movement at the store of better values—A substantial saving returned to the purse with every purchase at Wasson's. The elimination of high prices on popular patent medicines is to be another step forward by this store in the endeavor to provide its patrons with a still greater number of things they need at a minimum expenditure. While it will be possible to get at Wasson's the best of everything for less money than elsewhere, the thought should not creep in, that to maintain low prices it will ever be necessary to sacrifice quality. This establishment will continue to be the place where good things are sold. It will not descend to the level of cheapness except with the place where good things will become busier, and better known because of its ability to serve you courteously, satisfactorily, and most important of all—to save you money.

HERE IS A LONG LIST OF PATENT MEDICINES IN CONSTANT DEMAND

WHY HESITATE?

An Offer That Involves no Money Risk If You Accept It

I am so positive my remedy will completely relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that I offer to furnish it free of all cost if it fails.

Constipation is commonly caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine. To expect a cure you must absolutely tone up these structures.

I want you to try Royal Orderlies on my guarantee. They are taken like candy, and are particularly good for children.

They seem to act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on the other organs. They do not purge or cause other inconveniences. I will refund your money if they do not relieve your chronic or habitual constipation and thus aid to relieve the nervous and dependent conditions.

Apply Royal Orderlies at any drug store. Price 25c. per box. Sold only at my store—The Retail Store, Chas. R. Wasson, 100 King street.

Bangor, Wis., claims the twin championship of the world. In the last four months six sets of twins have been born there. Not counting the twins the town has a population of 688. All the twins are thriving.

There Is No Mystery About Our Premium Plan

We manufacture about 400 lines of our own and they are the goods that we are forcing the sale of. To sell these goods by the usual plan is to send out travelers and carry expense advertising, etc., which will cost over 40 per cent. We have discontinued all advertising except what applies to our store, and are taking our travelers off the road and are instead giving the purchaser of goods from us 25 per cent and making the other 20 per cent ourselves. Is this not a good business proposition?

Boot and Shoe Department

SAFE FROM TYPHOID

"Fruit-a-lives" the Best Preventative

There is practically no danger of Typhoid Fever as long as you keep the bowels regular with "Fruit-a-lives."

Typhoid is an inflammation of the bowels, due to a germ. This germ enters the body in milk, water or food. If the bowels are constipated, the germ remains in the body long enough to attack the delicate lining and thus Typhoid begins.

"Fruit-a-lives" acts directly on the liver, kidneys and skin, and cleans the system of all impurities. "Fruit-a-lives" will not cure Typhoid—but it will cure Constipation, assist Digestion and tone up the system—thus preventing Typhoid.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-lives, Ltd., Montreal, Ottawa.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not get on my feet. At last I was confined to my bed and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do.

A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and they are fine."

FRANK BRADLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

QUEBEC—BEGINNING TO FEEL CRAMPED

Desire to Stretch Out and Take in Ungaiva. But With no Change in Representation Unit

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—The province of Quebec, through the government of Sir Lomer Gouin, has entered the field as an applicant for wider boundaries. The request the Quebec government is practically identical with the one made to the Laurier government when a general re-constituting of boundaries was under consideration some years ago.

It was determined that time by resolution of the house of Quebec should not affect the unit of parliamentary representation as determined under the British North America Act.

MIGHT A BAD COLD.

DEVELOPED BRONCHITIS. E COULD HARDLY SPEAK.

bronchitis begins with a tightness in the chest, difficulty of breathing, and there is a dry, harsh, dry cough.

A few days more begins to be attacked with white, but later of a pink or yellow color and is occasionally streaked with blood.

are the first symptoms of bronchitis the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and thus prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning to consumption.

Edward Travers, Campbellton, writes—"I thought it my duty to let you know that your careful medicine has done for me. I had a very bad cold which developed into bronchitis. I was so choked up I hardly breathe. I tried many things but they did me no good. I had almost given up in despair, and advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle and it was a great relief. I was completely cured. I can assure you I cannot say too much in its praise, as it is all you claim and more."

Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is in a yellow wrapper, three pine tree trade mark, price 50 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Mill Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GOSSIP OF NEW YORK

The Child in the Divorce Case—Roosevelt Driven to the Auto—The Old Spanish Swindle Nearly Lands a Victim

(Times' Special Correspondence) New York, Jan. 27.—In her repudiation of stage life some of the former admirers of Edna May, the once sprightly diva of musical comedy discern a sly dig at Edith Roosevelt, Yale alumna and Margaret Hillington who, after marrying rich men and vowing that they would be happy ever after, are now turning their backs on the footlights, returned to the squalor of the city.

LATTER DAY ADVANCES IN AERIAL FLIGHT

English Aviator Tells of Progress Being Made—The Silent Journey Through Air

London, Jan. 28.—"People are afraid of aeroplanes, but when the aeroplane is flying frequently from town to town silence will become imperative. So says Lorry O'Grady, superintendent of the army aeroplanes factory at Farnborough, who has turned out the new all-British 'silence' aeroplanes that the experts have been demanding."

DUKE OF FIFE IS DEAD

Was Brother-in-law of King George—A Disaster Voyage

Assuan, Upper Egypt, Jan. 29.—The Duke of Fife died at 6 o'clock this evening.

The Duke of Fife who has just died of pleurisy and congestion at Assuan, Upper Egypt, was a nephew of the late King Edward, whose daughter, the Princess Louise Victoria, Alexandra Dagnair, he married in 1880. He succeeded his father as sixth Earl of Fife in 1879 and was created duke on his marriage.

He was born Nov. 10, 1849, and was educated at Eton. He afterwards took a great interest in business and was a partner in the London banking firm of Sir Samuel Scott & Company, as well as vice-president of the British South African Company.

He was a colonel of volunteers and deputy lieutenant of the Scottish Counties of Aberdeen and Banff. He was a Liberal member of parliament from 1874 to 1879. He leaves two daughters.

The duke's death will cause the curtailment or modification of all projected arrangements at Portsmouth and London for the reception of King George and Queen Mary on their return from India. It is probable that all the festivities will be shorn of military display and state ceremonial. The court functions in the early spring also will be modified.

PROVINCIAL POLITICS

Premier Fleming and Hon. John Morrisey on Platform—No Party Lines The Plea

Newcastle, N. B., Jan. 29.—Premier Fleming and Chief Commissioner Morrisey met a representative gathering of their followers in town hall this afternoon. Ald. Clark in the chair, with George McDade as secretary.

Premier Fleming expressed a desire to have the local government independent of federal issues. Provincial interests should be paramount. He would accept support from all who favored the provincial government asking no questions as to their federal affiliations.

He said the province was in line for great development. The St. John Valley Railway and Albert County shall indicate would cause the expenditure of $20,000,000. New Brunswick would develop as fast as the west.

Hon. Mr. Morrisey, D. P. McLachlan and T. W. Platt spoke along similar lines. Mr. H. Dolan, endorsed by Ald. F. W. Deiter, urged a new railway from Newcastle to Tracadie. Ald. Butler spoke in glowing terms of this province's agricultural capabilities.

J. M. Falconer wanted more industries established.

T. W. Platt asked why wool for pulp mills should pay more stampage than other lumber of the same quality.

The premier said it would be rectified. Messrs. Platt and J. W. Meresseau enquired about bridge matters. The chief commissioner said that soundings had been taken and he would recommend to the government a new bridge between Newcastle and Nelson to take the place of the present bridge over the Southwest.

Mr. Morrisey highly complimented Premier Fleming and Hon. Mr. Hagen and urged the early holding of a local government convention in this county to line up for emergencies.

Messrs. Beta, Meresseau, Weldon, O'Brien, of Rogersville, and Philip McIntyre were appointed a committee to enquire into the advisability of holding a convention. The meeting adopted their report and voted to hold a convention here on Feb. 13 at 3 o'clock.

The premier then outlined the government's policy, which favored developing of the lumber industry, building the Valley Railway, encouraging mining and other industries and demonstrating orchards. The government, if any company bought land for an orchard, and planted trees, would take over and run said orchard free for six years and hand it back to the company ready to bear fruit. St. John, Moncton and Woodstock had taken the offer.

Ald. Butler said he would accept the offer of a Northumberland orchard for Newcastle.

Transforms Complexion; Wins Social Favors

"Had I been unable to transform my complexion so quickly, so completely, by a unique process, I had just retired, I never could have attended the Charity Ball." A certain social favorite, a picture of loveliness at the great event, told me this. "I had been 'meh run down,'" she said. "When I looked myself in the mirror after a night's troubled sleep, I saw I was becoming heavy-eyed and pale. I could not take, and attend the ball, the long rest my physician advised. A friend suggested I get at once of mercurial wax at the druggist's and use it as I would cold cream. I did—the result is apparent."

"In a week I had a new complexion. The wax took off the old skin, with its wrinkles—so gradually, there was no discomfort. Now you see the fresh, bright under-skin, with its youthful glow and expression." Saturday Evening Herald (Chicago).

THE QUARREL DISCREET

"Why do you employ such elaborate circumlocution when you tell a man that you doubt his veracity?"

"I find it better to use the longest words possible. If I can compel a man to consult the dictionary to ascertain just what I mean, both our tempers get a chance to cool."

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2 and Fully Guaranteed.

Sixteen ounces of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $1.25—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of an obstinate cough more quickly, namely ending it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for croup, whooping cough, sore throats, colds, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 25 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualacol and all the natural healing pine properties. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe is now used by thousands of housewives throughout the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equalled.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Tuxco Co., Toronto, Ont.

THE FORESTRY CONVENTION

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Gifford Pinchot, president of the American Conservation Association, and formerly chief forester of the United States, is to be the chief speaker at the Canadian Forestry convention here on Feb. 7 and 8. This gathering, in which the government shows its interest by allowing it to be held in the railway committee room of the parliament buildings; and to the delegates of which the railways have granted special rates, will be one of the most important of this nature ever held in Canada. It will be attended by cabinet ministers, parliamentary leaders, bankers, manufacturers, lumbermen, forest administrators, heads of universities and by the representatives of that new profession, forest engineers.

The principal men interested in forestry in Canada, and many from the United States will attend. The subject discussed will be how to get the most out of Canada's forests today, while leaving them in the best shape for future production. A social function will be a banquet on Feb. 7, which prominent men from all over Canada have signified their intention of attending.

The Seed Growers' Association will meet in the same week, so that delegates to the Forestry Convention can take in the most important sessions of that body if they so desire.

STEEL REVISION BILL PASSED

Washington, Jan. 29.—The steel revision bill reducing the duties of the Payne-Aldrich act from 25 to 30 per cent, passed the house late this afternoon. The Democrats had difficulty in shutting off a constant flow of amendments from the Republican leaders, but at 3.30 p. m. a record vote of the previous question. Then came another delay and another roll call when the Republicans moved to recommence the measure to await a report of the tariff board.

The bill was passed by 210 to 109, twenty insurgent Republicans voting with the Democrats.

RECENT DEATHS

Word has reached the city of the death of John Mann, on the 28th, of John Mann, for many years a leading foundryman in Holyoke (Mass.), a prominent captain of industry there, and formerly resident in this city whose activities are being today. Mr. Mann had attained the age of ninety-one, his death being merely a gradual decline due to his length of years. He possessed keen faculties to the end, and took an active interest in his community. He was a son of Donald Mann, who came to St. John many years ago from Dumfries, Scotland. His sisters were Mrs. W. H. Brown, mother of Mrs. J. N. Golding, St. John, and Mrs. Margaret Miles, wife of Captain John Miles. Mrs. Miles died in Chelsea (Eng.), four years ago. Mr. Mann served his time with the old firm of Harris, Allan & Co., in St. John, and after taking up residence in Massachusetts sprang into prominence in his line of trade. When Holyoke, the famous paper-making centre, was being built up, he did most of the ironwork for the canal and dam system which characterizes this city, work which involved large sums of money.

Eugene Mann, a prominent New England newspaper man, connected with the Springfield Union, is an only surviving child.

The death of Philo A. Northrup occurred at his home, Kings, Kings county, Monday afternoon, after a brief illness. He was eighty-two years of age, a life long resident of Kings and a man highly respected. He is survived by four sons, two daughters, and one sister.

The funeral will take place at Trinity church, Kings, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The death of Miss Euphemia Graham Hannah occurred in this city on Monday,

RECENT DEATHS

Jan. 29, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Richard Olive, after an illness of four months. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Martha Davidson, of Long Coule (Ailsa), and Mrs. Richard Olive of this city and six brothers, Charles, Thomas, Frederick, James and John of this city, and William of Mead, Spokane. The funeral is to take place this afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Olive, 4 Chubb street, the service commencing at 2.30 o'clock.

Mrs. Jonathan West of Moncton, an eighty-two year old man, died yesterday at his home there on Sunday last. He was sixty-nine years of age. His wife and children survive.

Kenneth W. Weeks seven years old, Marlboro is proud of the record his old father, White Wynndote held in being. During the thirty days ending Jan. 18 they laid 271 eggs. The boy tall entire care of the flock himself.

RECENT DEATHS

Robert Elkin, who passed away yesterday morning at his home, Cumberland Bay, Queens county, may well be described as an old resident. He was ninety-five years of age. He left Ireland when six weeks old, and he spent nearly all his life in Queens county. He was a man who was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. For sixty years he was a deacon in the Baptist church. In politics he was a pronounced Liberal. Notwithstanding his great age he was active physically until four or five months ago, and his mental faculties were not impaired to the end. His wife died two months ago when she was eighty-nine years of age. Mr. Elkin is survived by three daughters, Mrs. John B. Wason, Cambridge, Queens county; Mrs. Silas Fenwick, East Somerville (Mass.), and Mrs. (Capt.) Wm. McLean, Arlington (Mass.), also by four sons, Ald. E. C. Elkin, St. John; G. C. Elkin, St. John; Howard Elkin, Bangor, and G. Ernest Elkin, on the farm at Cumberland Bay. The funeral will probably take place tomorrow.

The death of S. A. Northrup of Kings, Kings county, occurred at his home there on Monday afternoon. He was eighty-two years of age. Four sons, two daughters and one sister survive.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 29.—(Special)—The death occurred this afternoon of Captain Charles W. Seeley, inspector of steam boats. Captain Seeley was one of the best known mariners sailing out of this port,

To Remove First Sign of Old Age

"The infallible first sign of age—sagging cheek muscles," says Mrs. Minnie Carver, whose fame as a beauty artist is scarcely outdone by that of the footlights. "These are as difficult and serious to treat as wrinkles," she continues. "The sagging muscles indicate that they have grown weak to remain in place; they must be stated, strengthened."

"The best way to strengthen and ban them is by using a weak lotion and dissolving an ounce of powdered yeast in a half pint of witch hazel. This exerts a free circulation to the affected part besides raising muscle and skin to contract. Sizable, procurable at every store, has long been known by complex specialists to possess remarkable properties, valuable in treating not only this tissue, but all wrinkles and furrows."

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

Local Notes. The 62nd hockey team will play the Maryville team here tomorrow night in the Queen's Rink. The only change in the local team is that Lee will play in goal instead of Cribbs. The Fredericton hockey team defeated the Maryville team 7 to 6 in their game in Fredericton last night. Mike Murphy appeared with the winners. The St. Francis Xavier hockey team passed through the city last night on their way to Boston, where they will play the Harvard College team tomorrow night. Currie to New Glasgow. Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 29.—Alex Currie, who was mentioned for a place on the Wanderers team, will probably go to New Glasgow to finish out the season.

KING GEORGE SHOOTING A TIGER

This picture shows His Majesty in Nepal, the emperor of India, meeting the king of the jungle. Six hundred elephants were used for this drive, by the Maharajah of Nepal and his guest, the King-Emperor. Sport was good from the first day, and the king's "bag" included three tigers and two rhinoceroses, the first day. The picture, from the Graphic by the paper's special artist, shows the Maharajah in the foreground and, on the next elephant, His Majesty cocking his rifle and preparing to aim. The tiger is first tracked by the native shikari, or woodman, and then rounded up by the hunters.

ANOTHER NEW OPERA

New York Hears Versieghel By the Metropolitan Forces. It is well received. Melodious and Pleasing—Cadalki Triumphant in Principal Part—Hammerstein's London Venture Not All Plain Sailing.

(Times Special Correspondence) New York, Jan. 27.—The Metropolitan is busier than the proverbial bee in presenting "first-time" operas. Although the season is only half finished a third production has been made the newest and shortest yet heard. This opera is a one-act affair called "Versieghel" (Sealed Up) by Leo Blech, first conductor at the Berlin Royal Opera. Like the two previous new operas—"Lobentanz" and "Les Danaes Oublies"—already heard at the Metropolitan this year—it is humorous. Though it may seem strange, "Versieghel" is not modern in musical construction, nor does any page in the score breathe with the dissonances which the composer of today is so fond of using. On the contrary this charming little piece is melodious at all times, and though the orchestration is masterful and filled with color it is never heavy. This is largely due to the fact that Blech rarely uses the brass instruments.

round. The contest was one-sided throughout. Fixed in Toronto. Toronto, Jan. 28.—James P. Fitzgerald, president of the Canadian Baseball League and sporting editor of the Toronto Telegram was fixed and notes by Magistrate Denison this morning on a charge of permitting a prize fight to be held under auspices of the National Sporting Club, of which he is secretary. The case arises out of the Flynn-Williams bout a couple of weeks ago, and in the nature of a test to determine just how far local sporting organizations can go in presenting boxing exhibitions.

Not Much of a Boat. London, Jan. 28.—A sparring contest between two colored American pugilists, Jim Johnson of Georgetown, and Alf Longford, was a scrambling affair. It was scheduled to go twenty rounds, but Johnson was disqualified in the third.

NEW BRUNSWICK AT SPORTSMEN'S SHOW. The forests and streams of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, their game and game fish and quail will have a strong representation in the 1912 Sportsmen's Show which will open on March 1 at Madison Square Garden, New York. The New Brunswick government will have space in the garden and various organizations will be represented including the Provincial Gamekeepers' Association and the Provincial Gamekeepers' Association.

James Neary, who has been training for the Boston Nationals, will look after the physical condition of the Braves during the coming season. He has been with the club for several years under several managers, and has given perfect satisfaction. He was a very fast sprint runner, up to a few years ago, and is a perfect punter. He is in excellent performance and always in good condition.

THE NEW SPORTING ANNUAL. The best little sporting reference book of the year is the "Police Gazette Sporting Annual" for 1912 published by Richard K. Fox. It is a compilation of best performance in all branches of sports; ably compiled and edited by Sam C. Austin.

League Standings. The Commercial and City Bowling leagues are providing good sport for both players and spectators. The players are doing their utmost and surprising results are being achieved in almost every contest. These leagues seem to draw out the local talent more than any other line of sport and a spectators' space is crowded every night. The sporting editor of The Telegram has received many inquiries in regard to the different leagues in these lines so herewith is given the standing of the teams and the bowlers with the best averages in each league.

Baseball O'Toole Signs. South Framingham, Mass., Jan. 30.—Marty O'Toole, the $20,000 pitcher, today sent his signed contract to Barney Dreyfus, president of the Pittsburgh club. Marty refused to state the amount it called for, but said it was satisfactory.

BECAME WELL KNOWN. The "Black Watch" was raised in 1720 and consisted of six companies; three companies consisted of 100 men each and other three of seventy-five men each. To distinguish them from royal troops they wore tartans of a dark color, from which they derived the name of the "Black Watch". In 1730 the government determined to add to their number, which was raised to 1000 men, who ministered for the first time near Edinburgh, between Aberfeldy and West Perthshire. Up to this period each company was dressed in tartan selected by its commander, but as the companies were now to form a regiment it was necessary to have a uniform dress. The first colonel, Lord Crawford, being a Lowlander, and having no tartan of his own, a new tartan different from any other was manufactured for the whole regiment. This ultimately became the well known "Black Watch" tartan, the tartan is composed of various shades of black, green and blue.

HOME FOR INCURABLES.

A meeting of the women's committee of the Home for Incurables was held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Silas Alward presiding. The meeting was well attended. Reports were presented by Mrs. Thomas Walker, treasurer, dealing with Christmas work and Mrs. B. R. Harrison, dealing with the Sunday service.

SKATER HERE.

Among the arrivals today on the Boston express was William Merritt, who is well remembered here as a skater. He is being heartily welcomed by his old acquaintances. He will spend about a week in this city. He recently made a record against time at the St. Charles River carnival in Boston. It is possible that he will race here before returning to the "Hub."

HERE FROM VANCOUVER.

W. J. King, of Vancouver, vice-president of the Canada Home Investment Company, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city this morning on the Montreal train, and is at the Royal Hotel. His trip has to do with opening up of new offices in the maritime provinces, and it is probable that his company will install branches in Moncton and Fredericton before long.

THE STEAMERS.

The S. S. Empress of Britain is expected to arrive here on Friday. Besides her cargo she is bringing out 342 passengers—121 first cabin, 211 second cabin and 503 steerage. The S. S. Granplan, which is now unloading cargo at Sand Point, will sail on Friday afternoon. The S. S. Manchester Mariner, Captain Linton sailed this morning at half past nine o'clock for Philadelphia. She will load cargo there for the other side.

ACCIDENT AT SAND POINT.

Amos Christie, a longshoreman residing in Queen street, west end, met with a serious accident at Sand Point this morning, receiving a cut on the top of his head which required five stitches. Christie was working on the deck of the S. S. Monmouth receiving the slings of cargo from the hold of the steamer. While thus engaged a box worked loose and fell on his head. He was taken to the emergency hospital where Dr. W. L. Ellis put five stitches in the wound. When he was struck on the head, Christie almost fell down the hold of the steamer. After receiving treatment at the hospital he was removed to his home.

BURIED TODAY.

The funeral of Charles S. Everett took place this afternoon at half past two o'clock from the home of Donaldson Hunt 289 Charlotte street, and was attended by many. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. S. Porter, and interment was in Fernhill. The pall-bearers were—A. Dudgeon, F. A. Kimball, J. F. Snow, J. Moulton, George E. Day and R. Irwin. Delegates from the local lodges of Knights of Pythias, the Elks Club, the Odd Fellows and the Woodmen Fishing Club attended the funeral. Many handsome floral tributes were received. The funeral of Mrs. Ida Gertrude Turner, wife of J. Allan Turner, took place this afternoon at half past two o'clock from her late home in Smythe street. The body was taken to the Cathedral, where funeral services were conducted. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

ANOTHER CITY BAND

Temple of Honor Organization Being Revived—Talk of North End Band Stand

St. John, in the near future, should not want for a plentiful supply of band music, for in addition to the five large bands—the City Cornet, Artillery, 42nd Regiment, St. Mary's and Carleton—three new musical organizations are on the way, two of which at least have already met with much success. These are the Sons of England brass band and the one organized among the colored residents of the city. The formation of another band, or rather the revival of a former favorite body, the Temple of Honor Band, was the project considered at a meeting held last evening in Temple Building, north end, and committees were appointed and officers elected to arrange for the organization of a brass band among the members of the order. Already much encouragement has been met with, and it is expected that there will be twenty-nine instruments in the band. The officers elected last evening were: John Robinson, manager; Stanley Robinson, secretary; and William Akerley, treasurer. Committees were also chosen to further the work of organizing.

There is talk in Indian town of erecting a band stand in the square at the foot of Main street, and having concerts there at intervals, such as were given years ago on the old band stand near where the Alexandra school now stands. There is a feeling, however, that if a stand were erected it should be built on what is now known as "Victoria Square," after the promenade given to this place a little the dumping ground has been eliminated.

HUNGARIAN ARRIVES

The Allan liner Hungarian, Captain Henry, arrived in port this morning from London with a large general cargo. She anchored just inside the harbor and will come up to her berth at Long Wharf some time during the afternoon. She has been out seventeen days during which time considerable rough weather was encountered.

Miss Sadie McLaughlin returned today after a visit to Montreal.

OVERBOARD INTO HARBOR

Man Falls From Tug at Sand Point and is Rescued By Boatmen—Ladder Needed

There came very near being a drowning accident yesterday at Sand Point when a man from the tugboat Lord Wolsey fell overboard at No. 7 berth. Being unable to swim he would probably have gone to his death in the ice-cold waters had it not been for the promptness of three boatmen—William O'Brien, Edward Doherty and John Miller—in coming to his assistance.

It was quite early in the morning. As the sailor who fell into the water was a well-built man and rather heavy, it was with difficulty that the rescuers were able to get him into their boat. They succeeded, however, and with the aid of some of the crew of the tugboat had the man placed aboard where he was soon all right.

There is a strong feeling among those whose duties cause them to be much along the water front that there should be a ladder placed at No. 7 berth. If the man who fell overboard yesterday had been able to swim to the ladder it would have been impossible for him to have reached a place of safety, there being no ladder in position.

HARRY LEONARD WEDS

Bride is Also From St. John—Marriage in Victoria B. C.

Cards received in this city yesterday announce a marriage of much interest to St. John people. It was solemnized at Mount Zion, Victoria, B.C., on Jan. 18 when Harry Morhouse Leonard and Miss Mabel Reid Andrews were united in marriage.

The bride is a daughter of James Andrews, formerly a carriage builder of the North End. The groom is a son of the late Edward Leonard, formerly chief superintendent of the St. John fire alarm system and for several years was engaged in newspaper work here. He took up the study of law, and later went to the mid-west. Then he moved to Vancouver and he and his brother-in-law, are in the real estate business in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard reside at 1564 Gladstone avenue, Victoria.

HE IS DOING WELL

John McHugh, Formerly of This City, Rises to Position of Merchant

The following from a Tacoma newspaper of Jan. 21 of interest here, says: "John McHugh, who, for more than ten years previous to 1911, was head baker and manager of the Arcade store, has left for New York to purchase the spring stock of ladies' and children's clothes and for the latter store to be opened at 114 and 116 Pacific avenue by John McHugh."

Mr. McHugh belongs to St. John. He was for some years with Keese Bros. in their dry goods store at the corner of Snyde and Union streets. He went to Tacoma as a clerk in the business of Mr. Murphy, also of St. John, who has prospered there. Mr. McHugh rose to be chief buyer, and when Mr. Murphy sold his business a few years ago, Mr. McHugh was retained by the new owners in the same capacity. Now he branches out for himself.

McNALLY SENT UP

The case against Thomas McNally, charged with stealing two hats and a cap from the store of D. Magee & Sons in King street was continued in the police court this morning. Detective Kilian told of arresting the prisoner, after which McNally was sent up for trial.

Two young men, John Delany and Patrick Powers, charged with wandering about on King Square and not giving a satisfactory account of themselves were fined $8 each. The fine was allowed to stand. One prisoner charged with drunkenness was fined $8 or thirty days in jail.

FATHER BORGSMANN ADDRESSES ST. PETER'S S. S. TEACHERS

A well attended meeting of the Sunday school teachers of St. Peter's church, North End, was held last evening in the chapel of the Holy Childhood, when Rev. Henry Borgsmann, C. S. S. R., of Roxbury, addressed the teachers on points of interest to them in their work. He spoke of the necessity of having an able force of Sunday school teachers, and of the value of the work they performed among the children of a parish, in spreading the word of God and aiding the priests in the performance of their duties. He related a number of anecdotes showing where the work of Sunday school teachers had been fruitful.

Rev. Father Doyle of Milltown was also present and gave a brief address in which he complimented the teachers on their numbers and wished them the success which should accompany their efforts. The pastor, Rev. A. J. Duke, C. S. S. R., thanked the clergymen on behalf of the gathering, particularly Rev. Father Borgsmann, who had covered a wide range of matter of interest in his discourse.

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Keith's Theatre Assembly room was the scene of a very brilliant assembly last night when the members of the Norwegian Dancing Class and their friends brought their dancing season to a close. The rooms were very handsomely decorated for the occasion and there were several hundred people present. Music was supplied by an orchestra under the direction of M. F. Kelly, and a programme of fifteen dances was very much enjoyed. At midnight the guests sat down to supper, which was served in the room adjoining the assembly hall.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Frank V. Conlon, Dr. Alan L. Kelly, E. J. Simpson and A. Orens. Mr. Simpson was an able floor director. The chaperones were Mrs. F. I. McCafferty, Mrs. Wm. MacDonald and Mrs. P. J. Fitzpatrick.
