NO GAS TAX THIS YEAR, SAYS VENIOT

PREMIER STATES GOVERNMENT IN FAVOR OF LEVY

Matter of Exemptions, However, Must Be Decided

DUE EVENTUALLY

Fishermen and Farmers Will Be Absolved On Fuel For Machines

By D. LEO DOLAN, Special Correspondent of The Evening Times-Star.

FREDERICTON, March 26.—New Brunswick will not have a provincial tax on gasoline this year. Premier Veniot this morning made that quite clear. The Premier, however, did say that in event of a gasoline tax being eventually decided upon in this province, a lowering in the rate now charged for licenses would undoubtedly be put into effect.

TAX IS FAVORED.

On the question of a gasoline tax for automobiles the Premier made this statement: "The government has given this matter serious consideration and approve of the policy of a gasoline tax, but before putting same in force the Minister of Public Works must work out a scheme by which gasoline used by fishermen, etc. in their motor boats, and by farmers for engines, tractors, etc., may be exempt. The system of refunding tax paid for gasoline used for other than automobiles has been suggested. Another system mentioned is an exemption given by means of an affidavit setting forth purpose for which gasoline is to be used at time of purchase."

The Premier expressed the view that as soon as this point would be settled the gasoline tax should come into effect but was convinced that it could not be done this year.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., MARCH 26, 1925.

A CRAZY RULING.

It may be assumed from Washington despatches that the recent action of customs appraisers at one or two American ports regarding the marking of Canadian shingles and laths has not yet been reversed by the Treasury department.

The absurd idea that the exporters might be compelled to resort to marking each lath or shingle is naturally causing indignation on both sides of the border.

The trouble, it must be inferred, can only be temporary, for the ruling has arisen from the folly of one or two appraisers who were either ignorant of the intention of the law or who had some notion of indirectly establishing an embargo against Canadian products.

FOREST CAPITAL.

Massachusetts to-day grows only twenty per cent. of the wood it uses. Every province in Canada should give thought frequently to what extent these American states which have cut away their forests and which to-day are not only experiencing a shortage of lumber but are making expensive but vitally necessary efforts at conservation and re-planting.

New Hampshire, which still has considerable forest wealth, has just completed a study of its resources and finds that its wood-using industries are now obliged to import forty per cent. of what they use in home-grown material.

Several New England states, finally sensible of the gravity of a wood famine, and of the ill effects of forest destruction upon stream flow and agriculture, have apparently determined to make a gallant effort to re-establish a reasonable degree of forest wealth, even though it will take them practically fifty years to do so.

Their condition and the drastic nature of the efforts at recovery that have been forced upon them must constitute a lesson for Canadians. We do not yet realize on this side of the border the real value of our forests and the pressing nature of the duty of protecting them against fire and insect pests and making sure that the annual cut, plus the diminution of timber from all other causes, does not exceed the growth.

The Example of Saint John

The following tribute to Saint John and the spirit of its people appeared in the editorial columns of yesterday's Halifax Herald.

THE EXAMPLE OF SAINT JOHN. When times are hard, fight all the harder! That seems to be the motto of the neighboring city of Saint John.

It is characteristic of the men they breed there, apparently. If it were not, Saint John would have been buried long ago; but one disaster after another has been met and overcome, and they still are being overcome.

Then came the Great Fire of 1877, which wiped out almost the entire city. But Saint John was rebuilt, by dint of hard work and boundless faith. Again, along in the nineties, when the lumber industry began to decline and the future seemed none too bright, Saint John dug down into the civic chest and spent several millions of dollars to construct deep water terminals in order to secure a share of the winter port business, and they succeeded.

QUEBEC HARBOR.

In the House of Commons on Wednesday last the Minister of Marine presented some information as to the amount of money advanced to the Quebec Harbor Commission.

Mr. Stevens has asked to what extent the Dominion Government had withdrawn its appropriation as provided for by Parliament.

Mr. Stevens asked: "Have the Harbor Commissioners of Quebec paid interest on the amount borrowed from the Dominion Government? If not, what is the total amount of the said accrued interest to date?"

On the same day Hon. Mr. Cardin, in reply to another question, said that the total liability of the Vancouver Harbor Commission to the Dominion Government at December 31, 1924, was $10,186,900.

Five million trees are being tapped by the maple sugar makers in Vermont this season, according to the Boston Transcript. It is an impressive total.

Ontario's total revenue in 1900 was $4,086,400. "In 1924," says the Toronto Star, "the total revenue was not four but forty millions."

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

More Romance Yet

It is comforting to open the newspaper and discover the mysterious secrets that the chemists are finding in the ston day by day and that the pre-historians are digging out fossil animals and ruined cities. It is reassuring because science in these days makes discoveries at such a horrendous rate that one becomes alarmed lest there be nothing new for our children to discover.

Some of our captious readers have complained of William Beebe that he was not the discoverer of the bottom of the ocean, and that the Sargasso Sea had been explored before.

There are always new worlds to conquer and there always will be. Our quest for certainty and the never present as steady as they were in the younger days.

The first recorded instance of spontaneous magnetism of iron was in 1887, when Rimini, an apothecary, found that an ornament on a church steeple possessed magnetism.

Mr. E. U. Gould, president of the Maine and New Brunswick Power Company, said this was accounted for by the fact that at the end of the year two companies, Gould Electric and Maine and New Brunswick, which were composed of the same people, pooled their profits and this brought the net price of the current to the Gould Company down.

COMPENSATION FOR MUSQUASH FLOOD VICTIMS

FREDERICTON, March 25—Compensation allowances amounting to $11,000 to be paid to certain people who suffered loss when the dam at Musquash burst in the spring of 1923, are provided for in a government measure which is ready for its third reading in the legislature.

MORE THAN 100 MOTHERS ATTEND

Festival Held in St. Paul's Union to Uphold Marriage Sanctity

A Mothers' Union festival was held in St. Paul's church yesterday afternoon. More than 100 mothers from local Anglican churches were present.

A branch was formed in St. Paul's in 1921, and last week a similar branch was organized in the Mission church. It is hoped to organize branches in other Anglican churches.

After the service an adjournment was made to the Sunday school, where Mrs. Patstone, wife of the rector of Westfield, spoke of the work of the Mothers' Union in England, where there are more than 2,000 branches with a membership of more than 400,000.

After the service tea was served in the schoolroom. Mrs. G. Herbert Lee and Mrs. Cortland Robinson presided at the tea table and were assisted by Mrs. Andrew Jack, Mrs. Newbury, Mrs. John Hickson, Mrs. James Magee and Mrs. P. T. Short.

Several telephone calls were received during the afternoon. Mrs. Sargison were on the reception committee, and the mothers of St. Paul's church waited on the guests.

There was considerable commotion among the residents in Leinster street about 7 o'clock last evening because a cat had climbed an electric light pole and could not descend.

Several telephone calls were received at police headquarters regarding the cat and Night Deskman Gator got in communication with J. Goggin, hydro light inspector, who responded. With a set of climbers he went up the pole and brought the cat to the ground without injury.

The frightened cat did not want to thank its rescuer but hastened away home.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.
JOHNNY SWEEP WAKES UP.

The March Hare looked over the edge of the big barrel where Johnny Sweep was peacefully sleeping beside the broom store.

FLAPPER FANNY says

THE hardest job in the world is trying to please a girl who doesn't know what she wants.

you please tell me what you are staring for—and why you are here, and what you woke me up for, and a few thousand other things besides?

"All explained in two words," said the March Hare. "Spring's here."

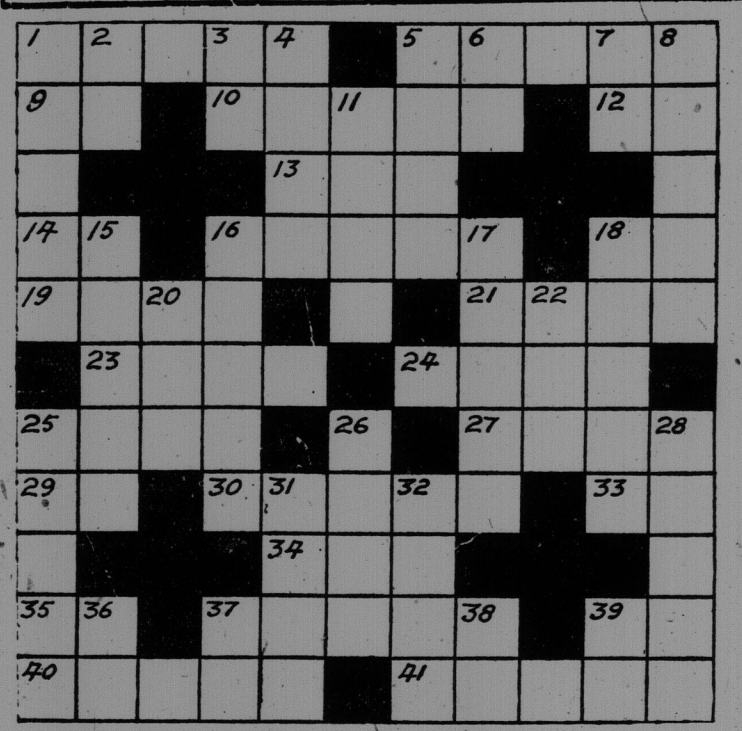

"Well, well, well! So it is!" grinned Johnny. "And that means work, doesn't it?"

SCANDALS ARE CAUSE OF WORRY IN ENGLAND

Socialist Party Is Using Revelations As Political Capital

LLOYD ALLAN, United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, March 26.—England is worried over its trilogy of scandals—the "Mr. A" case; the Dorothy Dennis-toun case and the Waterhouse case which ended last week.

for sermons showing corruption, debauchery and dishonor of every kind are their specialties," an editorial in the Daily Chronicle said today. The editorial says that "this orgy of scandal" may have its effect internationally and seems convinced that the effect within the nation is not good. It adds that already the anti-British press in Germany, France, Italy and Spain is attacking English society on the basis of the recent scandals.

Political Capital.
The Socialist party in Great Britain is making rich capital out of the recent revelations of the profligacy and extravagance of a certain section of England's smart set.

Labor attacks on the social conditions which produce such vicious results are arousing vigorous nation-wide discussion both on the political and sociological aspects.

Morning Post utters stern warning to Rasputin and his associates with the royalty and nobility of Russia played in the Russian revolution. It denounces the London newspaper habit of surrounding divorced women with a halo of romance and printing memoirs of blackmailers. It predicts with certainty that recent revelations will lead to a social upheaval.

An open letter from the President of the Pictorial Review Company

Dear Madam:
Now, for the first time in history, you can get a perfect PRINTED pattern—a pattern you can use without a moment's fear of making a mistake—without a possible chance of cutting your material wrong.

The new simplified, printed Pictorial Review Pattern almost talks to you as you go along. It tells you, right on the pattern itself, how to cut your material without waste—how to lengthen or shorten each piece to your individual lines—how to match the pieces and put them together easily and accurately.

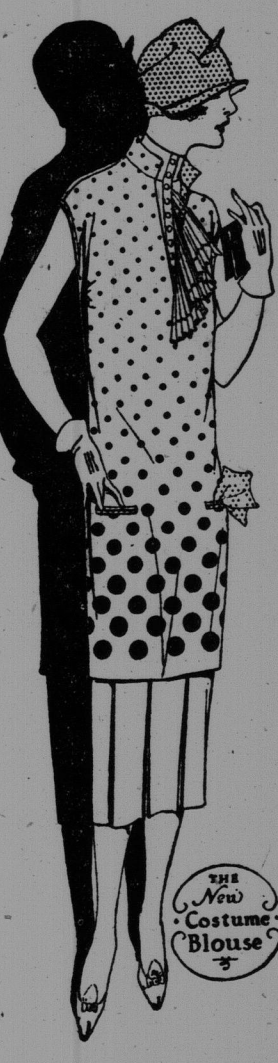

There are no superfluous margins on the Pictorial Review Pattern to confuse you, or trim off or fold over. Your material is always in sight while you are cutting it along the scientifically accurate edge of the pattern. You don't risk your material by having to cut through paper.

No other pattern in the world offers you all these advantages.

To illustrate our faith in the new Pictorial Review Printed Patterns we make you this unequivocal guarantee: Should a dress at any time be spoiled through any defect in our pattern, every cent you may have spent for materials will be refunded.

We urge you to go to the nearest Pictorial Review Pattern Agency and convince yourself.

Amdur's recently purchased the stock of a wholesale merchant who is retiring from business, and the goods will be quickly passed on to the public, at less than the wholesale cost, over the retail counter of the Amdur centre in King Square.

Not in many years has such an opportunity for getting goods at phenomenally low prices presented itself. The people should keep in mind that this sale is based not on retail prices, but on wholesale quotations, and the wholesale prices have been considerably cut.

The Wholesaler's Sale is unique, is timely and is the outstanding event of this year, and the most attractive of a decade.

AGNES M'PHAIL TALKS TO GLACE BAY MINERS

Is Amused at Relief Committees Refusal of Russian Donation COMES TO DEFENCE OF GROUP GOVERNMENT Urges Co-operative Effort as Settlement of Wage Difficulties

By Canadian Press. SYDNEY, March 26.—That their battle was not for themselves, but for their children and their children's children, that they might not be forced to live under similar conditions, conditions which language could not exaggerate, was the statement of Miss Agnes Macphail, Federal Member of Parliament for Southeast Grey, Ont., in addressing a mass meeting of over 1,500 miners at Glace Bay, yesterday. NO EXAGGERATION Miss Macphail stated that she came to Cape Breton primarily because she wished to see for herself if the stories of destitution and poverty were true, and not exaggerated. "I found them only too true, and as for exaggeration, language could not exaggerate the conditions I met within my brief tour of the district yesterday." "I feel that I am among my own folk, here in Cape Breton," said Miss Macphail, "the very names, Mac this and Mac that, is a bond between us and if I am not too presumptuous, I would like you to regard me as one with you in your afflictions." UNIQUE REQUEST Miss Macphail stated that two things had amused her during her stay in Cape Breton. "One" she said, "was a request from some ladies in Sydney, who had asked her to address them on conditions in Glace Bay when these conditions could be seen by themselves (Continued on page 11.)

MONCTON TRADE BODY INVITES A. M. BELDING TO ADDRESS MEETING

Feels Mission to West Will Be of Great Help in Promoting Inter-Sectional Amity and Understanding THE keen interest that has been aroused in the Maritime Provinces by the mission of A. M. Belding, of The Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star through Canada is illustrated by the following communications: Halifax, March 24, 1925 A. M. Belding, St. John, N. B. Very pleased to read of wonderful reception accorded you by fellow citizens. Accept my personal congratulations. (Sgd.) JOHN MURPHY, Mayor.

INVITED TO MONCTON. A. M. Belding Esq., Saint John, N. B. My Dear Sir.—We have been reading of your western visit with pleasure, and feel it will be of great benefit to our whole Dominion in bringing about a better understanding and more kindly feeling between our different provinces. I am requested by our board to ask you to give us an address on your travels at an early date as possible and convenient to you. We propose making it open to the public and held in our City Hall. Trusting you will favor us, your early reply will greatly oblige. Sincerely yours, (Signed) GEO. B. WILLETT, Secretary. APPEARS SUCCESSFUL. Moncton, March 24. Dear Mr. Editor.—Probably one of the best movements ever made in the interests of the Maritime Provinces was the sending of Mr. Belding on the trip across the continent to tell the people of the West many things they did not know about us and to learn from them much of which we were ignorant. If we are to judge from reports his mission was successful, and when he returns we will get everything first hand from a reliable source and absolutely correct in every detail. WOULD HELP, HE SAYS. Would it not be well for Mr. Belding to continue the itinerary through the Maritime Provinces, telling the people what he has learned, and also what he thinks is the best course for us to pursue? We want to know from the most reliable source what is possible and how to bring it about. There are many things in addition to Canadian goods through Canadian ports that require our attention, and I feel sure that an education along all development lines introduced by Mr. Belding and men of like stamp will do much to show the people what we may do in the general improvement. Yours truly, (Signed) J. E. MASTERS. Moncton, March 24. RECEIVES NICE GIFT. Mrs. E. Atherton Smith delivered her travelogue on her recent cruise, at Sackville and Moncton on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. At Moncton, Mrs. Smith was the guest of Senator and Mrs. C. W. Robinson and at Sackville Dr. George J. Trueman and Mrs. Trueman were her host and hostess. At the latter place, she was presented a bound volume of the Oxford book of Canadian verse by the Sackville Women's Council, the presentation being made by Mrs. Beverly Tritts.

WAIK IS NOW HEIR TO CHINESE ESTATE

Son of Laundryman Adopted by Rich New York Merchant.

NEW YORK, March 26.—A waif 10 years old, offspring of a Chinese father and a white mother, turned over to the State of New Jersey for upbringing, is one of the three heirs to the fortune left by Chin Nom, wealthy Chinese merchant and peace-maker and sage of New York's Chinatown, who was buried with impressive rites this week.

News of the adoption by Chin Nom of the nameless child was confirmed Monday by Mrs. Francis Day of the New Jersey State Board of Guardians. It was through her good offices that Chin Nom went to the Hudson County Almshouse and saw the child to whom he afterward gave his name and whom he reared as his own son.

The boy, renamed and baptized Chin Bing Kan, has always been looked upon by Chin Bing Shang and Chin Lain, the elder son and daughter of Chin Nom, as their own brother.

Father, Laundryman
Chin Bing Kan's father was a Chinese laundryman. His mother was a white girl of Harrison, N. J., and the child was born in May, 1915. The father was sent to jail later and the child was turned over to the State. Through his friend, Judge Joseph Farmer, Chin Nom learned of the nameless child of his countryman. He visited the little boy and afterward arranged for his adoption. Then with elaborate ceremonies at Chinese Delmonico's, the adopted son of Chin Nom was baptized by a Christian minister and received his new father's name. Chin Nom was one of the wealthiest Chinese merchants in this city and some reports place his fortune near $1,000,000. According to Chinese custom the estate will pass to his widow and on her death will be equally divided among the three children.

On the Atlantic coast the total catch of cod, haddock, hake and pollock was 3,762,400 pounds as compared with 4,218,400 pounds in the preceding February. The total catch since the commencement of the lobster fishing season was 540,100 pounds compared with 404,900 in the preceding season.

Waterways Hearing Adjourns for U. S. Officials to Prepare Case

HYDRO COMMISSION TO PAY DAMAGES

Committee to Devise Means of Protection and Assess All Costs

VAN BUREN, Me., March 25

The meeting of the International Waterways Commission with representatives of various towns and other interested parties regarding the application of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission for permission to dam the Saint John River for its hydro-electric power development project at Grand Falls was adjourned this afternoon until a date which will be announced at the semi-annual meeting of the commission in Washington, April 7.

There was no real opposition to the project, the parties present agreeing for the most part, that an amicable settlement of all points of disagreement should be reached as early as possible.

Hon. J. E. Michaud, of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, declared that the commission would pay all damages arising out of the project.

A committee of eight or more members of the Joint International Commission to devise ways and means of protection and to assess damages was advocated by Mr. Hart.

only an hour's ride from their doors, and the other the refusal of the relief committee to accept the donation of $5,000 from Russia." With regard to the latter, Miss Macphail stated that there was no complaint to the intelligence of Canadians, that they should be afraid of being called "Reds."

Miss Macphail extolled the virtues of group government, and the Farmer-Labor movement, as a remedy for the ills of labor, and said that the trouble in Cape Breton was due to the miners' organization not being represented in Parliament, and said "I am not a member of the Progressive party, for the reason that it is endeavoring to lose its identity as a class movement under a political name," and that she preferred to remain loyal to her class, a Farmer-Labor representative.

WAGE QUESTION

Reverting to the wage difficulty, Miss Macphail stated that as she saw it, the greatest enemy to the independence of the miners lay in the company's store and citing the case of the Rockdale community of weavers in the Old Country, made a strong plea for co-operative effort as the only method of escape from what she termed the "clutch of the machine."

Referring to the increased tariff on American slack coal entering Canada as contained in the budget, Miss Macphail stated that it was a sad commentary on conditions at Ottawa, "when starvation and nakedness were needed to make a government do its duty."

URGES TENACITY.

"Your motto should at least be: 'What we have we hold,' for it is far more difficult to retrieve a loss than to hold what one already has. Stand by your guns, keep with one another, yours is a fight worth while, although it is so quiet one would never know there was a fight on. I hope you will continue that way. There is nothing to be gained by violence, remember you did not have the making of the laws. Be true to the heritage handed down to you by your ancestors, who also fought hard for their liberties, and as far as I am concerned and whatever help I may be able to give, believe me, I am with you to the last ditch."

BOYS OF EAST END CLUB ARE GUESTS

Good Time at Annual Treat Last Evening by Playgrounds Association.

The East End Boys' Club Juniors were given their annual treat last evening by the Saint John Playgrounds Association, under whose auspices the club is conducted. The boys rehearsed for the closing, Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy played the piano for the practice, doing dumbbells and flag drill. There were 100 boys present.

A show of lantern slides, mostly comedies, with a few boy scout and war pictures were thrown on the screen. Perry Laird managed the lantern. Leo McIntyre, assistant physical leader, put the boys through their drills. Miss Emma Heffer, general superintendent of the club, explained the pictures. She was assisted in the general arrangements by Miss Lillian Herwick.

Get Ice Cream and Cake.

Several of the leader corps boys made themselves generally useful and all received high praise. A. M. Belding made a short, bright address. Ice cream and cake were served by the association, the former donated by the men and the latter by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Belding, Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy, Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson, Hon. R. J. Ritchie and others were present.

Letters to The Editor

The Cape Breton Strike.

To the Editor of The Times-Star:

Sir—Without going into the merits of the dispute between the British Empire Steel Corporation and the miners in Cape Breton, I think it may safely be said that there is a feeling of sympathy with the men themselves, the greater majority of whom are honest and good workers. But that sympathy would be much more generally felt and more support given them if they had not been and were not at present controlled by the United Mine Workers of America and the American Federation of Labor. The necessity of a Canadian national spirit is constantly preached in the papers, and I laid stress on it by all public speakers on economic matters, and yet we find that the policy of the operation of one of our largest and most essential industries is dictated to a great extent by foreign organizations. Canadian working men are quite capable of managing their own affairs, and are or should be able to form any lawful organizations they may consider necessary for the protection of their own interests and to direct them without dictation or interference from any outsiders. One result of the stoppage of mining is that this part of Canada is now largely dependent on supplies from the United States. It is of course to the distinct advantage of the mine owners and miners in that country that our mines should be shut down, and there is more than a suspicion that the present dispute has been, if not originated, at least fomented by them.

There is another matter, much smaller, to which attention may be directed as showing how we are being controlled from the United States. At the moving picture houses our eyes are offended by a huge red cross shown on the screen, stating that the operator is a member of some union, with a lot of initials, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. If, over the line, a similar cross were shown, with a reference to a British or Canadian organization, the screen would probably be wrecked. It would not be permitted for a moment.

Yours truly,

F. T. SHORT.

SENSATIONAL SAINT JOHN RUNNER HOME WITH WORLD HONORS

ELDRIDGE EASTMAN WON FAME ON TRACK AND BATTLE FIELD

Established World's Professional Records in Famous Races Held in England—Recalls Sprints With O'Neill and Kiley

THE LURE OF THE old home town is irresistible and feet that have circled the globe, won fame in the British Isles as the fleetest possessed by any professional sprinter in the world, traveled over the battle fields of Belgium, France, Germany, the Balkans and Egypt, that have entertained audiences with intricate step dances in many countries, are now back on their native soil—Saint John. The feet that carried their human form through 23 years of travel and adventure are those of Eldridge Eastman, better known as Eastman, who is back home after nearly a quarter of a century abroad.

The famous colored sprinter's return will recall to mind many thrilling match races held on this old Shamrock and B. & A. grounds in which he vied for honors with the late "Tip" O'Neill, Kiley, Fish, Marsh, T. F. Keane and other star sprinters of that day.

Eastman became famous for his sprinting ability about 1900, and the following year started to demonstrate that he was one of the fastest 100 yard men in the world. After match races with "Tip" O'Neill and Kiley he was named as this city's representative in a big sport carnival staged in the B. and A. grounds, Marsh Bridge. He was pitted against Keane, the world's champion, Fish Marsh, the famous sprinter and high jumper; Ed Hobbs, Arch Wilcox, "Tip" O'Neill, and others. He was given a three-year handicap over the world's champion and won out by more than the distance allotted him. He later entered a match race with O'Neill for $200 a side and won out.

Left Here in 1903. In 1903 Eastman left for England and located at Newcastle on Tyne, George Dingley, a famous Scotch sportsman, learned that this colored boy had won the championship of Canada by defeating Humphries in Montreal and running the 100 in 10 seconds flat, and immediately took him under his wing. For seven months he was put through a course of training by the famous coach and trainer Bob Croyer. He was then entered in an All-England handicap race in which 150 runners competed. It was held on Christmas Day at Newcastle on Tyne, and the Saint John boy won the big classic in the fast time of 9.4 seconds, the first time in 20 years that any runner in the British Isles negotiated the distance under 10 seconds. After that he was matched to run for the championship of the British Isles against one of the great English runner Growcott of Manchester.

Wins Big Handicap. The following year he entered the first big handicap professional invitation race ever held in England. Only 102 men were eligible to compete. Wm. Growcott represented England, B. B. Day, Ireland; A. B. Poole, Australia; Major Taylor, New Zealand; D. Williams, Wales; Roberts, Scotland; and Eastman, Canada. The race was run at Crew, and the distance was 110 yards. A swiftness of $100 a man was offered by the promoters, bringing the prize value up to $1,000. The Saint John boy won out by a wide margin and was proclaimed the professional champion of the world.

His next big race was at the stadium at the Franco-British Exhibition in London. In this race he made the acquaintance of Lord Londsdale. He defeated Postle and ran the 100 yards in 9.4 seconds, equalling his world's professional record. As a result he was invited by the famous sportsman to be his guest at the National Sporting Club and thus was given the distinction of being the first colored man that ever was received into this select circle.

Backed By British Isles. A few years later, in Cardiff, he was matched to race Taylor at 180 yards. This race was unique and was for $5 a yard, making a total of $850 a side. Eastman was not conceded a chance, as it was taken for granted his pet distance was 100 and 110 at the most. For this event he trained for weeks on the Marquis of Butte's estate, and his greatest friend and coach was the late Jim Driscoll, one of the idols of Isthmians, who recently died. He won this race in 12 1/2 seconds, and established a new world's record in the distance, according to English sport writers.

Defeats Wolferton. Later, in Manchester, he was matched with Wolferton of Olgham for $1,000 a side. He was forced to handicap him two yards. This race was staged on September 24, 1911. He defeated his opponent and broke the tape in 6.1 seconds, conceded to be a new world's professional record. He was timed by three different style stop watches, one a dog watch which has 32 beats to the second.

Has War Experience. He then sailed for America with an acrobatic troupe. In 1918 he challenged the great Howard Drew, but as the latter was an amateur he refused to meet Eastman. He visited his

Babe Ruth Fails To Hit Safely While Playing For Connie Mack

Along The Sport Trail

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that Bidlake, the star goalie of the Fredericton Club and his team mates Fleet and Colwell had been suspended by the amateur authorities came as a shock to local followers of the sport. Bidlake played several exhibition games for the Saint Johns and made a big hit with fans. He is without doubt one of the cleverest—if not the cleverest—net guardian in the Maritime Provinces. It is an open secret that the boys are placed under a ban until reports that they received remuneration for their services are investigated. Local hockey fans were greatly taken with Bidlake and were hoping that he would become a member of the local sextette next season. A hope is expressed that the charges are without foundation and that Bidlake will be in the net for the Saint Johns when the next hockey season starts.

KEEN INTEREST was manifested locally in the outcome of the Lincolnshire Handicap, which was run in Lincoln, England, yesterday over the mile course. Tapin, the French horse followed in the footsteps of Sir Galahad III, winner in 1924, and romped home a winner. Parth, owned by A. K. Macomber, was a strong favorite but failed to place. Dorsay and Grand Joy were also conceded a good chance, but the unexpected happened. The Grand National, which will be held on Friday will end the steeplechasing season. The King will miss this year's event as well as the Prince of Wales, the former being on a cruise on the Mediterranean and the latter is sailing for South Africa this week.

WHETHER OR NOT the one-wheel sulky will be seen at Moorepark Park this summer will largely depend on the result of an experiment being made by Tommy Murphy, the famous driver, at the New York State Fair grounds in Syracuse. If it is a success then Silas E. Rice of this city proposes to introduce one on the New Brunswick and Maine circuit. The new sulky has longer shafts than the present type in use, on account of the wheel being set back 10 inches. The points are also turned in so that there is nothing to catch when one horse is passing another. It is much narrower than the two wheel sulky and it is built so that a horse can go through an opening that is wide enough to allow his shoulders in. The driver's seat is similar to that used on motor cycles and is fastened to a slide so that its location can be changed to suit the height of the driver. The stirrups are set under the shafts making it more comfortable for the driver. It is balanced by girls on the harness and the wheel. It is said by the inventor that there will be no difficulty keeping it from tilting. If it is successful it should revolutionize harness racing.

REPORTS COMING from Paris indicate that Luis Angel Firpo will in all likelihood remain there until June as he has good prospects for a bout with either Erminio Spilla, the Italian heavyweight, or Paolo Uzcudun, a Spanish fighter. While attending a football match, recently Firpo was greatly impressed with the number of spectators present and said to some friends that if seats were placed on the playing field at least 50,000 spectators might turn out to see him fight. The "Wild Bull" still seems to think he is a big attraction. Unless he can show marked improvement he would find it a hard job to get 500 to witness him in any place in America unless it was just out of curiosity.

When Gas House Champion Met J. L. Sullivan For $1,000 a Side. The recent death of Ned McAvoy recalls a famous bare-knuckle fight between John L. Sullivan and John Flood. McAvoy was a well-trained athlete himself and for many years was the Beau Brummel of sportdom. He was Gas House champion of New York, for $1,000 a side. The battle took place on a barge which had been towed up the river and anchored off Youkers. The molley gathering which was on board the barge was without any exception the toughest aggregation that ever attended any bout in the history of the ring. Flood was accompanied by 50 henchmen and every man Jack of them had a "Detsky," a blackjack or a set of knuckle dusters. When the argument arose over who was to referee, McAvoy was the first to suggest Al Smith of New York, who was recognized for his fairness and honesty both in England and America. When the Gas House mob found that Smith was to officiate, they started to intimidate the venerable sport and notified the official that his body would be found in the Hudson River unless Flood was returned the winner. Then like a catapult from a clear sky, McAvoy with eye flashing and hands clinched, brushed Smith aside and served notice that he would lick any and every man on the boat unless Sullivan was accorded a fair play. McAvoy meant every word he said

SHOWS EVILS OF SPENDING BEYOND MEANS

Judge Delivers Homily in Giving Judgment of Separation

DID NOT REALIZE VALUE OF MONEY

Position of Children Stated Because of Way Family Lived.

BUFFALO, March 26.—A remarkable homily on the evils of a family living extravagantly beyond their means was delivered by Supreme Court Justice Philip A. Sullivan in a decision handed down granted to Mrs. Mary Doody Goets a judgment of separation from Edward H. Goets and alimony of $12,000. Mrs. Goets had been receiving $3,000 a year temporary alimony. The case was tried in January. The alimony increase is retroactive to the beginning of the action.

Edward H. Goets, who was a nephew of former Mayor Philip Becker of Buffalo, married Mary Doody in May, 1914. They separated in October, 1915. Suit was brought by Mrs. Goets after she alleged that she had been ejected from her home in Delaware avenue in April, 1921.

Four Children. Mr. and Mrs. Goets had four children. E. Ray Goets, song writer and husband of Irene Bordani; Coleman Goets, actor; Marie Ethel Goets, who is a designer, and Dorothy Goets Berlin, the late wife of Irving Berlin, the song writer.

In awarding alimony, Justice Sullivan pointed out that Edward H. Goets's present fortune was estimated at $500,000. The Justice stated in his decision that circumstances which neither could control "drew them into quarrels and misunderstandings." He expressed an opinion that had Mr. Goets come into his present wealth sooner, the difficulties would not have arisen.

"All of the quarrels and misunderstandings between the parties arose," said the opinion over the expenditure of money by the plaintiff for the living expenses of the family. The defendant demanded the best of everything that money could buy. Disregarding wholly the wise counsel of his wife, he persisted in buying beyond his income.

"As the result of this mode of living, at intervals, days of reckoning came. The evidence shows that when bills were presented to him he was almost frantic. The time came when he was driven on many occasions to leave his wife and accept the galling alternative of borrowing money from his relatives or take advantage of bankruptcy.

"As the children grew up they entered the most exclusive and expensive boarding schools. None of them ever knew or cared for the value of a dollar. They were gifted and spoiled and that, coupled with the impetuosity of youth and their lavish spending of money, led some of them into the wildest life later to be visited by long periods of sickness and disease.

Justice Sullivan declared that responsibility for the quarrels which the plaintiff asserted had impaired her health rested upon the defendant, but added that he was "heavily crossed" by the burden of expense. "No word of censure of this Court shall fall upon the defendant," the opinion said. "He struggled valiantly, but he was overwhelmed. No doubt he did his best. It is regrettable that his great wealth or a portion of it at least did not fall to him sooner. If that had occurred the parties would never be in court now."

It is so full of thrills that it is hard to tell which one is productive of the greatest amount of goose flesh.

Standing out a little apart from the rest, however, is the scene of the blazing runaway train. You really fear for the life of Mildred June, who plays the part of the heroine in the film, as she clings to a bar on the rushing inferno.

How she is rescued is one of the most remarkable and during episodes ever photographed. See it and be convinced.

Robert Agnew, the hero, shows skill and daring in this scene and his death-defying actions will win for him the eternal admiration of screen fans.

MOVE TO REOPEN MATTER OF SITE FOR MEMORIAL

Advocates of Head of King Street Location Revive Subject.

ORGANIZATIONS ARE ASKED TO HELP

Matter of Expense Removing Fountain Apparent Obstacle.

Reconsideration of the decision to have the Saint John soldier war memorial placed on the southern side of King Square is being urged. A city merchant said today that money for the memorial had been collected with the understanding that the monument would be placed at the head of King street in the place now occupied by the drinking fountain. Now that the programme for the unveiling has been announced, attention is focused anew on the matter and opposition to the proposed site is showing itself.

When making a drive for funds, it was said, the committee in charge of the erection of the memorial approved of the site where the fountain stands, and it was believed that the fountain could be removed to a suitable place. The committee went ahead with the idea of using this location. Funds were collected and then the committee went before the City Council.

Expense of Removal.

There the expense of moving the fountain was advanced as a reason for selecting another site. The council decided against moving the present structure, and the committee on the southern side of King Square opposed the Admiral Beatty Hotel was selected.

At the council meeting, when the matter was considered, it was said that the probable cost of moving the fountain to another place would be $2,000, and then the question of where to place the fountain caused debate. The city commissioners did not assume the responsibility of moving the fountain, and the committee in charge of the memorial plans had not necessary funds to clear the site. It was pointed out this morning that the memorial committee propose spending $20,000 for the monument, and $2,000 of this is yet to be collected.

Situation Now.

As the matter stands now the citizens' committee favors moving the fountain and placing the memorial at the head of King street, while the city commissioners have decided that it will be placed on the plot opposite the new hotel.

It is suggested this morning that the Rotary Club, Gyeo Club and other organizations take up the question and submit their opinion to the city commissioners. It was said that the fountain is in bad repair and the work of restoration could be better carried out if the structure were taken down and rebuilt.

The motorist quickly applied the brakes and only a slight dent in the rear mudguard was the damage caused. Sgt. Dykeman was quickly on the scene and straightened matters out.

As Hiram Sees It

Well, sir, Bill Robinson—he used to be in The Settlement an' up around Sussex way he took me out to dinner one day out to Winnipeg—an' he had a great time. I guess he had to order fer when we got down the orchestra began to play an' a gal began to sing. She looked right down at me—an' I was so flustered that I didn't know what to do. I hear one of the fellows in the Admiral Beatty—but when a fine looking gal sings right at a fellow when he's eatin' he can't do full justice to the vittles—no, sir, Bill was fella' good that day.

He sells things to the farmers an' he says the name of a furrier out a note is just as good an' as at better than the names of some folks that ain't furriers. He says if one of 'em can't pay the bill thing he'll come round with part of the money an' make a note till he gets it all paid. I heard another thing out here, too. The kids of these here furriers goes to school an' just eats up the lessons. AVENUE BRIDGE QUESTION ONCE MORE IS RAISED

Build Overhead or Extend Paving to Structure Across Falls.

COM. FRINK WILL SUBMIT DETAILS

Mill Street Work More Important, Asserts Com. Bullock.

Commissioner Frink this morning brought to the attention of the Common Council the matter of adopting a policy in regard to the construction of an overhead bridge at the western end of Douglas avenue or the extension of present pavement to the bridge, now that the decision of the Privy Council had cleared the air as to the level of the railway bridge. Commissioner Bullock referred to the need for an overhead bridge at Mill street.

Avenue Situation.

On the Douglas avenue question Commissioner Frink said it had been decided at one time by the council that this bridge should be constructed and an application had been made to the Board of Railway Commissioners for an order for the grade separation. The Railway Board had made the order and apportioned cost, to the city of Saint John, the New Brunswick Power Company and the C. P. R. Of the cost, after deducting $15,000 which the board would pay, the C. P. R. was to pay 50 per centum, and the city and Power Company 25 per centum each. The numerous appeals to the courts in the matter of the raising of the level of the railway bridge had delayed this matter and it was questioned now whether the city should construct the overhead bridge or pave the western end of Douglas avenue to the highway bridge.

If it was the wish of the council he would bring down all the reports as far as possible and have the council discuss the matter.

Favors Paving.

Commissioner Wigmore said he was in favor of continuing the pavement to the bridge and forgetting about the overhead bridge. If such a bridge was built he felt the city should not be called on to pay any part of the cost. It was the railway crossing the street made it necessary and the cost of removing the danger should be borne by the railway. Commissioner Bullock said he thought the overhead bridge at Mill street crossing was more necessary than one in Douglas avenue and should be considered first.

Mayor Potts said that as the railway was responsible for the conditions which made the bridge necessary they should remedy them.

It was decided to have Commissioner Frink bring down the correspondence. The Commissioner of Water and Sewerage was authorized to rent a shed in King street east, from month to month.

Hydro Figures.

Mayor Potts said he had been asked by Premier Vesot if the council had any objection to his answering a question asked in the House as to the amount of current actually used by the Civic Power Commission, purchased from Musquash. It was decided to inform the Premier that the council had no objection to the figures being given out.

Mayor Potts asked if there would be any water mains to be laid if it was decided to pave the western end of Douglas avenue and Commissioner Wigmore said a short stretch would have to be laid to connect with Cheley street but the main was already laid to the railway tracks.

SAYS EDMUNDSTON DUE FOR PROSPERITY

A. L. Stevens, Here Today, Tell of Big Building Programme For Summer.

That next summer Edmundston would be one of the busiest centres in New Brunswick was the opinion expressed this morning by A. L. Stevens, manager of the Edmundston branch of Baird and Peters. Mr. Stevens is the city for a few days consulting with his principals.

Boom Expected.

Business at present, he said, was just about normal, but with the coming of spring a boom was expected. During the summer there would be close to a million dollars worth of construction work going on and this was bound to reflect on business in general.

Among the new buildings to be erected in the town itself this summer were a church, at an estimated cost of $200,000; a pipe line to the new Fraser mill, estimated at $100,000, and a post office, the estimated cost of which was $75,000. This with a new mill to be erected by the Fraser Companies across the river would bring the total very nearly to $1,000,000.

ANNIVERSARY MASS.

In the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception this morning His Lordship Bishop E. A. LeBlanc was celebrating a pontifical high mass of requiem for Bishop Sweeney, who died on March 25, 1901. Rev. William Duke was high priest, Rev. E. P. Reynolds, deacon; Rev. J. Brown, sub-deacon; and Rev. C. Boyd, master of ceremonies.

NEW MEMBERS RECEIVED.

A reception of new members in the Third Order of St. Francis and profession of novices took place in the Cathedral last evening. Rev. William M. Duke officiated at an impressive ceremony. About 25 new members were received and 15 made their profession.
