FRENCH HAVE ARRIVED THE AD OF THE BRITISH

Line Bends Slightly; Is Restored Again

French Reported Heavily in Action on North Front British Hold Positions and Repulse Attacks; Enemy Hits Farther South, Probably Because of Advent of French Reinforcements

London, April 18—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—The French are heavily in action on the northern battle area.

Field Marshal Haig today reports his line on Lys battle front standing intact last night as it existed yesterday morning, following the British retirement east of Ypres, no ground having been lost in the battling of yesterday, despite heavy German attacks through the entire period.

A heavy bombardment of the British positions here between Locon and Robecq was reported in progress this morning.

THE LINE HOLDS London, April 18—Southeast of Kemmel Hill, on the northern battle front, the Germans pressed back the British line slightly, but the situation was restored by a counter-attack. This was the war office announces.

In the battlefront the Germans made attacks before noon yesterday and in each case suffered a complete repulse.

The Germans opened a heavy bombardment of the British positions on the southwestern part of the Lys battle front between Locon and Robecq during the night. The bombardment was still in progress at dawn today.

The enemy is finding himself cramped on the southern side of the wedge he has pushed into the British lines and seems on the eve of an effort to widen it out here. Furthermore, at Locon, the Germans are only some three miles north of Bethune, an important railway center, and at Robecq are within six miles of Lille, a junction point on the railway from Bethune to Hazebrouck.

The British have been holding this sector of the front as strongly as they are the northwestern edge of the salient, where they have held up the German attempt to advance further toward Hazebrouck, as was indicated anew in the repulse of fresh German attacks last night in the Merris sector, along the Baillet-Latour railway.

It seems not unlikely that the Entente high command has forecast a possible larger German purpose to drive determinedly southward, envelop Bethune, and push on to a point where they can compel the British to fall back from Givenchy and the region north of Arras, where the dominating Vimy Ridge is the German objective.

Whether, indeed, this is the larger German strategy has not yet been shown. The development of the enemy demonstration on the Locon-Robecq line, however, will be followed with close attention, in view of this possibility and its bearing upon the great struggle on the Somme front to the south, where the firm hold of the British on the Arras region and the line south to Albert has held up the enemy push on Amiens.

POWER COMPANY MATTER GOES TO SUB-COMMITTEE AT THE CAPITAL

Fredericton, N. B., April 18—The St. John Power Company bills occupied the corporations committee in private session today while the committee considered the evidence submitted and the arguments presented.

Their deliberations resulted in a decision to refer the matter to a sub-committee consisting of Hon. C. W. Robinson, Hon. Peter Veniot and Hon. J. A. Murray, who will confer with the solicitors representing the city and the company. It is understood that the committee is not unfavorably disposed towards the appointment of the investigating commission asked for by the citizens and the duty of the sub-committee will be to ascertain if any arrangement could be agreed upon between the company and the city regarding the course to be pursued during the time which would elapse before action could be taken on the report of the sub-committee.

This is in view of the company's representations that the situation is such that they would face disaster if the company had to wait so long for relief.

Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., for the city, and F. R. Taylor, K. C., and P. J. Hughes for the company, still are in arranging the proposed conference. The chairman of the committee, Hon. J. P. Burchill, said after the meeting that he expected a report from the sub-committee either tonight or tomorrow morning.

EMPLOYERS WARNED

Ottawa, April 18—In view of the impending call to the colors of all unmarried men and widowers between twenty and twenty-three, particular attention is directed to the duties of employers as laid down by the military service regulations. An employer is required to answer any questions put to him by his employer for this purpose. The employer is then required to "report to the minister, the names and addresses and whereabouts of all employees in his service called out who have failed to report."

Violation means a fine for each employee of not more than $100 and not less than $50 or to three months' imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment. Every employer who knowingly employs or retains in his service any man who has deserted or who is absent without leave from the Canadian Expeditionary Force is liable to imprisonment of not exceeding six months or to a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500. Further, every person is liable to a penalty of not less than $50 and not more than $500 who knowingly employs or engages in his service, or continues in his service for a period of seven days, any man who belongs to any class or sub-class which has been called out and who has not reported.

SAW HUSBAND SHOT DEAD

Mrs. Colombo Witnesses Slaying With Five-Hour-Old Babe

New York, April 18—Mrs. Rose Colombo, of 78 Colden street, Newark, lay in bed with her new-born infant and saw her husband shot and killed by Joseph Dalphio, thirty-two, a boarder. Dalphio was captured by the police in a cellar two blocks away. According to the police a revolver containing five cartridges and an empty shell was found in his pocket, with $88.25 in a wallet, identified as the property of the slain man. The baby was only five hours old when his father was killed.

NEW YORK SUN PAYS CANADA FINE TRIBUTE

"One of Stoutest Arms Raining Blows on Germans"

URGES FINANCING US

Says United States Has Every Reason to Have Dominion Her Debtor So Long as a Cent Can be Lensed to Any Power

New York, April 18—The Sun this morning in an editorial says: "While Canada is preparing for her new war credit we here in the United States can do nothing better for that heroic member of the allies and nothing better for ourselves than to play a large part in the financing of our neighbor. We need to do this to sustain one of the stoutest arms raining blows upon the advancing Germans in France. We need to do it to preserve a financial independence, peace or war, it is worth more to us, with the single exception of the United Kingdom, than that of any other domain on earth."

"Considering Canada's population, her quick cash assets, her distance from the fighting zone, and what she has done on the battle field is thus far the marvel of the war. With a population of about only 7,000,000 in round numbers—lower by some three millions than the population of the state of New York—she has maintained at the front a superb army of 300,000 men, whose fighting power, man for man, has been unequalled by any in the war. She has poured into the struggle upward of a billion and a half of funded treasure. And now she is to begin the raising of another five hundred millions, or two billions within four years. Our work for Canada is cut out for us both as a war measure and as a foreign trade measure. Why not finance Canada, heroic fighter and splendid ally, with loans to be spent in this country? Why not finance her above any other country? We lend Great Britain credits to spend in this country. We lend France, Italy, Belgium for the same purpose. We even lend Russia, Roumania and Greece. For all these nations $5,285,000,000, and not a penny yet for Canada!

"Why not, in truth, Canada, trusted as a good neighbor, esteemed as a neighbor, honored as a noble ally? Certainly we can do no less for Canada than we do for the others. Undoubtedly we ought to do more for her, making as an ally, for her industry building as our neighbor and next of kin. We must lend Canada willingly, generously, as long as we can lend a cent to any other power."

British People Anxious; Some Papers Critical

Eager For News of French Reinforcements—Vigorous Call for Return of General Sir Wm. Robertson as Chief of Staff

London, April 18—The British people have been ever anxious since the beginning of the war. There is no lack of confidence that the British soldiers will do all that is in their gallantry and their stubborn defence against great odds, but as the Germans have continued day after day nibbling away sectors of the English front, regaining towns won in the last two years by British, Canadian, Australian and South African with tremendous costs, the question has forced itself upon the public whether it is fair to expect them to continue fighting indefinitely against such superior masses. Another question is whether blame does not rest in high quarters that the soldiers are placed in the position of being outnumbered constantly.

In the meantime, the newspapers are discussing the situation with the greatest freedom. The war cabinet is being criticized sharply by some military experts and editors. Colonel Repington, in the Morning Post, says the British forces are greatly inferior in numbers to the French reinforcements. He says the French are operating with the British in the north gives hope so far as it goes.

A Call for Robertson. Several newspapers are calling for the return of Sir William Robertson, former chief of the 22nd battalion, who has been followed during the last week by that of Major-General Trenchard, chief of the air staff. General Trenchard was appointed only three months ago and was welcomed generally as the man for the work. He would be no surprise if that becomes a general demand tomorrow.

PTE. WM. HARRIS HAS BEEN WOUNDED John Harris of 14 Prince William street was advised yesterday that his brother, Private William Harris, a member of the 22nd battalion, had been wounded and admitted to a hospital in France. Private Harris is a former resident of this city but removed to the United States a few years ago.

FATHER O'DONOVAN BETTER. Reassuring news was received last evening when a telegram brought word that Rev. J. J. O'Donovan, who is ill in Boston, was reported slightly improved.

The cheering word will relieve considerably the anxiety felt by many friends in St. John and vicinity. Father O'Donovan was visiting in Boston when taken ill. He was a guest of Cardinal O'Connell.

THE ELECTION. H. E. Wardroper, common clerk, said this morning that the polling booths for Monday's election will be in the same quarters as they were for the primaries.

Budget Debate May End Tonight

P. E. ISLAND TO BE A SAHARA Four More Speakers To Be Heard THE TAX ON THEATRES

No One May Have Liquor Except From Vendor

Many Had Stocked up—New Act on Passage Through Committee in Legislature—Harder to Get Doctor's Prescription

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 18—Prince Edward Island went dry more than seventeen years ago, the first province in Canada to pass a prohibitory act. This act has been made more stringent year by year, but today there is before the legislature a brand new bill which will make of this province a regular Sahara. The new bill at time of writing is about half through committee, and it is receiving no opposition it will be passed practically in its entirety.

One change is the appointment of vendors whereby the handling of liquor is taken entirely out of the hands of the druggists. The latter are not allowed to keep it, except as it may be used in the manufacture of essences, liniments, etc. Provision is made for importation by one wholesale vendor.

Under the new act there will be more control exercised over the granting of prescriptions by doctors. A doctor must first officially have visited a patient before he can grant a prescription.

Provision is also made for the restrictions of the so-called tonics. A clause prohibits any one having liquor other than purchased from a vendor.

The leader of the opposition said that many in Charlottetown and Summerside in order to make provision against "the evil day of drought," had filled their cellars before the federal order-in-council prohibiting importation into a "dry" province had been passed. These will have to dispose of all their stock before July 1, when the new prohibition act will go into effect.

MILNER WAR SECRETARY Paris Announcement of Changes in British Cabinet—Derby to French Capital

Paris, April 18—Viscount Milner has been appointed secretary of state for war in the British cabinet, according to Le Matin. The Earl of Derby, who has been war secretary, the paper says, will come to Paris as ambassador in place of Lord Bertie, who retires. Premier Clemenceau had a long conference last night with Lord Milner.

Alfred Milner, First Viscount Milner, has been a member of the British war cabinet without portfolio since Dec. 1, 1916. The Earl of Derby has been at the head of the war office since the Lloyd George cabinet took office in December, 1916. It was announced some time ago that Lord Bertie was about to leave his post in Paris, where he has been ambassador since 1905.

LATER. London, April 18—It is officially announced that the Earl of Derby has been appointed ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary on a special mission to France, in succession to Lord Bertie. Viscount Milner becomes secretary for war, and J. Austen Chamberlain a member of the war cabinet.

Mr. Chamberlain, eldest son of the late Joseph Chamberlain, has been a prominent figure in public life for a score of years. His last previous post was secretary for India, which he resigned last July after being censured by a commission which investigated the disastrous first campaign of the British in Mesopotamia.

SAPPER F. J. STEEVES IN ENGLISH HOSPITAL Mrs. W. A. Smith of 11 Union street, West St. John, was advised this morning from Ottawa that her son, Sapper Fraser F. Steeves of the Canadian Railway Construction Battalion had been admitted to the Witte's Cross War Hospital in Surrey, England, suffering from rheumatism. Sapper Steeves is twenty-nine years old, and prior to going overseas was in the employ of the Union Foundry and Machine Works, West St. John.

Vienna newspapers report serious rioting in the meat market there on Sunday.

FALL OF HUNGARIAN MINISTRY REPORTED Amsterdam, April 18—The Hungarian ministry has resigned, says a despatch from Budapest.

A Copenhagen despatch says Premier Wexlerle had decided to resign owing to dissension in the ministry over the suffrage reform bill, and that King Charles was expected to request him to form a new cabinet, excluding the ministers who oppose a compromise on the suffrage measure.

RIOT IN BELFAST Trouble Attends on Breaking up Anti-Conscription Meeting London, April 18—Rioting attended the breaking up of an anti-conscription meeting in Belfast yesterday, according to a despatch to the Daily News. Revolvers were used and baton charges were made by the police, who were pelted with paving stones. Virtually every plate glass window in the street was smashed.

Fifteen thousand persons participated in the meeting, which was called by the labor party. The trouble was precipitated, the despatch says, by 200 young shipyard workmen.

HUNS BURN RUSSIAN VILLAGES AND KILL WOMEN AND CHILDREN Moscow, April 10—(By the Associated Press)—Because the peasants in the village of Novoselki, in the government of Mohilev, resisted an armed requisition of money by German troops and killed an officer in the resulting scuffle, the Germans burned the village and from machine guns placed around it they fired upon the inhabitants, including women and children, who tried to escape, killing many of them.

HARBOR COMMISSION Mayor Hayes, speaking this morning as what action the city would take in the matter of having a harbor commission, said that so far as he knew there was nothing as yet decided upon.

Commissioner Fisher, who was present at the time, said that he personally was very much in favor of the change and believed that the council should take the matter up immediately.

The commissioners are unanimous in their opinion that a harbor commission would be a good thing for the city, but as yet have not decided as to the mode of procedure. With Commissioner Wigmore's return from Ottawa on Saturday, it is understood that the matter will be gone more fully into.

TRAIN LATE. The Boston train was reported an hour and a half late today owing to a slight detention in the vicinity of McAdam Junction.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG OUTWITS HER HERO AGAIN

"The Marionettes," Clara Kimball Young's current release, under the direction of Emile Chautard, is an adaptation of the French play of the same name by Pierre Wolff. This production, which is being shown today at the Inland Theatre, gives her an opportunity to display to the fullest her great emotional powers. Fernande, a simple little country girl, marries Roger de Monclars; but her intense love for him is met with cold indifference. Distracted, she borrows an idea from the plot of "The Marionettes," a puppet show, and seeks to win his love by first making him jealous. How she plans her campaign and enlists the aid of numerous costumed, hairdressed, manicured, and the like; how her new attire seems to free her convent-bred mind and to release its natural sparkle; how her receptions attract scores of real "society folks" how she captivates a man who wants her to flee with him; and how her husband's jealousy is thus aroused and transformed into a consuming love—all this action, set in gorgeously beautiful surroundings and acted by a superlative cast, combines to make a superb film drama of heart interest.

CANADIAN PHOTOPLAY BY SIR GILBERT PARKER

A story that breathes the very essence of the out-of-doors and the charm of the gypsy life, together with a love story of unusual interest is Sir Gilbert Parker's "The World For Sale," which was chosen by J. Stuart Blackton for his release since transferring his activities to Paramount. The scenes are laid in Canada and deal with two small townships, one a French Canadian, the other strongly English, as well as with the advent of a gipsy, who is one of the three men in love with charming Fleda Dure, the heroine. How he wins out although handicapped by the temporary loss of his eyesight and the deep hatred of his two rivals, makes a thrilling photoplay which will linger in the memory as a fragment of wholesome breezy fun. "The World For Sale" is to be shown on Friday and Saturday at the Imperial Theatre.

ALL NEW TOMORROW; LAST CHANCES TONIGHT GEM'S PRESENT SHOW

This is the girl whom New York critics named "the girl with the $1,000,000 smile." The picture is a clean, sweet love story of youth and ambition. It is five big reels.

FRENCH HAVE ARRIVED TO AID OF THE BRITISH

(Continued from page 1.) British Statement. London, April 18—The text of the British statement follows: "There has been no change on the British front during the night. The hostile artillery has shown great activity on the southern portion of the Lys battle front, from Ghent to east of Rubeck. A heavy bombardment of our positions between Locon and Rubeck was still continuing at dawn. "Local attacks were repulsed by our troops last evening in the Merris sector. "More detailed accounts of the fighting of yesterday on the forest of Nieppe-Wytschaete front established the severity of the enemy's losses. Southeast of Kemmel Hill the Germans infantry attacked in three waves, and at one point pressed back our line slightly. In this locality the situation was restored by a counter-attack, and a little after midday the attack had been repulsed at all points. In the Baillieu sector the enemy attacked three times before midday, and in each case suffered a complete repulse. "Our line yesterday morning was reported intact on the whole front."

The Americans. With the American Army in France, April 17—(By the Associated Press)—American troops on the Loraine sector have taken over control of No Man's Land on this front. Patrolling parties are making almost nightly visits up to the German wire entanglements without encountering resistance. Twice in 24 hours an American company has assisted French troops to regain trenches temporarily taken by the Germans.

The Sturdy British Soldier. There was then no Allied reserve. That reserve now exists and has not yet been used. There will probably be continuous fluctuations in the northern area for some time to come, but the salient fact of the fighting is the staying power of the British soldier. He has withstood the severest tests for a month, and the frequency wherever the enemy has been repulsed at various points and is now being counter-attacked is the healthiest sign.

Fail Against French. Paris, April 18—After a preliminary bombardment a strong German detachment attempted to advance last night near Corbigny, on the Aisne front. Today's official statement says the attack was broken up by the French fire.

Check By Belgians. With the British Army in France, April 18—An effort made by the fourth German army, which holds the enemy's right flank to the sea, to drive in the front of the Allies from the coast was extended yesterday to the Yser region, held by the Belgians. The Germans attacked on a front of four miles between Langemarck and Kippe. They gained a footing in the Belgian advance position, but they were thrown out after a fight lasting nearly all day.

London More Cheerful. London, April 18—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—There is a somewhat more cheerful note in the newspapers today, following reports that the British are counter-attacking and indications, such as the German attack at Rubeck, that the enemy is diverting his main effort farther south, again threatening Bethune. This is probably due to the fact that French reinforcements are coming into the line, but there is still anxiety as to when General Foch will make the decisive stroke, now that the British have stood four weeks of hammering by the immense German reserves, estimated at 420,000 men, and in a fashion which led the French writers to describe the British armies as the "wing of sacrifice."

Experts do not endorse the opinion advanced in some quarters that the advance, critical in the northern theatre,

K. C. SUPPLIES FOR ATHLETES AT FRONT

The Knights of Columbus in the United States are to rush athletic supplies to France, so far as transportation facilities permit, according to an announcement made by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, in New York. He added that the Knights were sending the equipment at the direct request of Secretary of War Baker and General Pershing. According to Mr. Flaherty, Rev. P. J. McGivney of Bridgeport, Conn., supreme chaplain of the Knights of Columbus, together with William J. Mulligan of Thompsonville, Conn., supreme director, will leave for France soon, accompanied by two constructing men and six secretaries. These men will take as many baseballs, tennis rackets and balls, bats, checkers, dominoes, cards, and boxing gloves as possible.

Mr. Flaherty said that with E. W. Buckley, supreme physician of the Knights, and many more construction men and secretaries he would be in France. Mr. McGivney, in talking on the war work of the Knights, Mr. Flaherty said that by July 1, 1918, about $28,000,000 would be required. Of this amount he said, he expected that by June 1 of this year there would be available for war activities $12,000,000.

IN WALL STREET

New York, April 18—(Wall Street)—Gains extending from fractions to a point at the opening of today's stock market measured the encouragement felt by traders at the more favorable tone of overnight war advice. The war issues, including equipments, again led the movement. Baldwin Locomotive, American Can, American Smelting and Industrial Alcohol displayed especial strength. Steels, shippings and motors also hardened appreciably. Liberty bonds were steady.

Noon Report.

Pools revealed themselves of the better feeling to extend their operations during the first hour. Various low priced specialties were brought forward at gains of 1 to 1 1/2 points, but investment stocks were again confined to limited areas. Among rails, for example, Reading was the only issue to show marked dividend, recovering its 1 per cent dividend. U. S. Steel failed to hold more than a part of its large fractional gain.

WAR NOTES

Nine women and two men among Tuesday's casualties due to the long range bombardment of Paris were killed by a shell falling in a courtyard outside a factory. Another shell fell in the middle of a large of the river, cutting it in two. The crew dived overboard and escaped unhurt. In the Reichstag a Socialist member suggested an agreement with the Allies to cease aerial attacks on open towns outside the war zone. Only one small French ship was sunk by the Germans in the last week. Three Italian vessels were lost. The British Red Cross fund has reached $10,000,000. Thousands of families in Bohemia, especially at Prague and vicinity, are reported starving.

THE FIGHT STILL ON.

Emissaries of the New Brunswick Railway Company are constantly on the job at Fredericton, seeking to influence members of the legislature and get the proposed increase of rates. It would pay the company handsomely to maintain a strong lobby at Fredericton if its advocates could persuade a majority of the members of the house that the increase should be granted. The support of the Fredericton Gleaser has been gained, and the St. John Standard is straddling the fence. Citizens of St. John went to the capital and stated their case, and it is unanswerable, but the power company's advocates are putting up the plan of impending bankruptcy and skillfully dodging every reference to watered stock. At the last hearing before the corporations committee Mr. Taylor had no answers to give to questions along that line, but kept talking away about other things to divert the attention of the members from the real cause of the demand for higher rates.

It cannot be believed that the members of the house will permit themselves to play into the hands of men whose sole purpose has been to enrich themselves by the deal which transferred the property from the St. John Railway Power Company. It would be a reflection not only upon the intelligence but upon the good faith of the people's representatives if the interests of the people of St. John were sacrificed for the benefit of a few profiteers.

The artful suggestion is put forth that even if a commission is appointed an increase in rates should meantime be granted, with provision for a rebate if the report went against the company. How could patrons of the street railway who had paid seven cents instead of five cents get back their money?

The people are being held up to provide dividends on watered stock. That is the whole story. If this is approved and endorsed by the people's representatives in the legislature the same game will be played wherever there is a public utility to be exploited. St. John is the first trench. The public interests which are endangered should be defended here and now. Any citizen who feels there is anything he can say to make the facts clearer to members of the house should go to Fredericton and say it. The power company is camping there, and is putting forth every effort that thorough organization renders possible. That is how the unorganized public so often fails to make good its case.

THE WAR SITUATION.

An Associated Press cable of yesterday's date, setting forth what the correspondent believes to be the prevalent views of the Allied commanders regarding the great German offensive, says: "As far as it has gone, the German offensive may be looked on as a failure, since none of its objectives have been attained and the Allied armies are still intact, while the Germans now, owing to the diminution of their forces through casualties, are in an inferior position to that which they occupied before the battle began. The only result they can show is the recapture of a large tract of country which they themselves devastated, where they may be compelled to dig themselves in."

We must assume that there is some ground for the optimistic tone which prevails in the face of a continued withdrawal of British troops under heavy pressure to new positions. It is certainly good news that French reinforcements have arrived. The British have been outnumbered but have fought superbly, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy. Each withdrawal has been made methodically to previously prepared positions, and the abandonment of the Ypres salient has shortened the line, which is of course desirable when the defenders are numerically inferior to the enemy. Another correspondent says: "Had anyone said months ago that there would soon be rejoicing to see the British withdraw and abandon the Passchendaele Ridge system, which was won with such difficulty last summer, it would have excited derision. But the whole British army is glad at this bold move. It not only lessens the danger from the enemy drive about Wytchate and Belleu, but it greatly shortens the defensive line. It seems hard in a way to give up ridges over which the British battled forward in such a fashion last summer, but it is decidedly for the best and will help defeat Prussianism. The retirement was a result of mature judgment and was a snap-shot affair, for it was known it was pending. The new lines had been prepared and artillery had been placed in position before the infantry quickly began to pull back under cover of darkness."

At no point have the Germans done more than force a withdrawal of the British, who yielded up shell-torn territory that the Germans themselves had previously devastated. They have still to defeat the British armies and their French and American Allies and we are told that fresh American as well as French contingents are arriving on the scene of the great British struggle. The great question, and the one which must cause profound anxiety for days to come, is whether enough French and American troops are available to check the enemy before he has forced a still further withdrawal, even to the Channel itself. The British have borne the full force of the second drive of the great offensive, and fought on knowing they were greatly outnumbered. Must this continue? Obviously there is a limit to what an outnumbered army can stand, and there is naturally a growing feeling of discontent and a questioning as to whether those in high quarters have done all they should and might have done to meet the crisis that has now developed. We may well believe that the last week in England has been the most anxious since the war began, and we cannot withhold our admiration for the calm determination of the people, which is as marked as the splendid courage of the soldiers fighting sternly on against heavy odds. They must win, because of that very quality of bull-dog tenacity and endurance, but it is weary waiting and the cost is staggering.

THE HEALTH ACT.

For nearly four years the energies of millions upon millions of people have been devoted to the task of destroying life or crippling and maiming millions who will never again be what they were before the war began.

What, on the other hand, are we doing to conserve life, apart from the activities of the Red Cross and the hospitals? The war taught us that an alarmingly large percentage of our young men were not physically sound. What steps are we taking to guarantee that the rising generation of young men and women will be physically found to a greater extent?

There is only one way to do it, and that is to have a well equipped public health department, carry on a province-wide educational campaign, and see to it that the infant death-rate is lowered, epidemics prevented, and physical defects of children removed before they become a serious handicap in the struggle of life.

It is greatly to be regretted that partisanship should enter into the discussion of this subject. It is of too great importance to be treated other than with a desire to achieve the best results. We have already delayed too long. This province must not forever lag behind in the march of progress. The bill now before the legislature should pass. The province must mobilize its health forces. The duty is pressing and imperative. The province today contains great numbers of persons who are handicapped because of some physical defect that might have been removed in childhood. Health lies at the basis of national efficiency. Money spent to promote the public health is wisely expended, and yields returns of the highest value.

It was a kindly and generous thought which prompted the officers of a Russian steamer in port to present to the Children's Aid Society of St. John a valuable piano that had given pleasure to themselves on shipboard during the past year. Their example should not be lost on our own people, as there is great need to take thought for the welfare of neglected and dependent children in our midst. These Russian officers by their generous act will bring brightness into many young lives now or in time to come to be under the care of the Children's Aid Society.

It is charged that there are some persons in this city who profess to believe that England could have had peace before the present time; that it is England's fault that the war goes on; that the Germans are as good as we are, and that they are going to win. Whoever hears any talk of that sort would be doing a public service to inform the police or the military authorities.

The civic candidates should make clear their attitude in relation to the New Brunswick Power Co.'s demands and the question of harbor commission.

The following is a Munchausen tale, showing the quality of the mud in Flanders at the present day.

A soldier walking along a road noticed a hat, which he attempted to kick out of the mud. What was his surprise to find a head under it, and to hear a voice calling for help. When the man was extricated, he said: "I was on horseback." So together they proceeded to dig out the horse. The horse's mouth was found to be full of hay taken from a wagon which had sunk still farther down.—Everybody's Magazine

URGES UNIONIZATION OF FEMALE LABOR

Women Workers at a Disadvantage, Says Professor MacIver—Not on Same Plane as Men

The curious development of women suffrage was touched upon by Prof. R. M. MacIver, speaking at Willard Hall in Toronto last week under the auspices of the Political Education League, during the course of an address in which he covered the momentous changes through which the world is passing and the dangers and opportunities connected with those changes.

Prof. MacIver, in comparing the work of men and women, showed three great disadvantages on the women's side: the average age of women in industries is much younger than men's; women enter industries which, as a rule, do not require skilled labor; and, lastly, the majority of women work for very low wages. The reason for the latter he explained as being the different relation of the women to the family, generally in the form of a contributor of which the man is the supporter.

The speaker stated that all these conditions will create a serious situation in the future. Women have replaced men on a wide scale, and when the time comes for restoration, what will become of the women? Because women work for less wages it will be difficult to replace them. One remedy may be equal pay for equal work and one standard for men and women, but Prof. MacIver gave as his opinion the best solution of the problem would be the unionization of women in industry.

Big New Camp For Airmen

Beansville, Ont., to be Home Of Hundreds in Training

For Aerial Gunnery—May Have Real Sub for Target—Boom Conditions in Old Town

(Special Correspondence of The Toronto Globe.)

Beansville, April 12.—Ayers are daily arriving from Texas at the Beansville aerial gunnery camp, which is being rapidly completed under the hands of an army of workers. The Beansville camp, when completed, it is said, will be the largest aerial gunnery camp in the world. It parallels the International highway, the Queenston and Grimby stone road, runs along it for over two miles and has a depth of about three-quarters of a mile along the next concession road. The block of land has all been cleared of fruit trees, bushes and fences. But all the farm buildings have been left standing and will be utilized.

All the side roads are being torn up and new solidly-built stone roads are being laid. New stone roads of good width are also being laid all through the camp. At present there are on the grounds at different points nine hangars for the housing of airplanes. Each of these hangars accommodates six machines, making a total housing space for fifty-four machines.

Many New Buildings. Machine shops have been built and are being equipped with all the latest and most modern machinery. Big garages with room enough for fifteen and more automobiles are up and in use. Office buildings have been built and some are still under construction. Buildings for the holding of lectures and other uses are built and still more are to be built. Cook houses and dining rooms for the mechanics that are already on the ground. Mess halls, having accommodations for thousands of men. Bunk houses are up and are being occupied by the mechanics that are already on the ground.

Up on the hill on the south side of the Q. & G. road will be found the hospital and it is a most modern one in every way.

All the buildings are of frame construction and covered with heavy tar paper, all the joints and cracks being lumbered. The number of carloads of cement, timber, shingles and paper used run into the hundreds, while the window frames and lights run into the thousands.

May Have a Real "Sub." Down at the lake a second big piece of land has been secured, and rifle ranges and targets are being built here. A large breakwater will be built out into the lake for about three-quarters of a mile, and will extend east and west for a distance of about three thousand yards. This will be used for bombing-dropping and aerial target work from the "planes." It is also rumored that a real submarine will be playing around in the lake for the cadets to shoot at.

The whole camp has been wired for electric lights and telephones. A special electric station was built on the grounds to step the electric power down from the D. P. & E. 40,000 volt lines which runs along the G. T. R. This power is also used for running machinery and charging batteries, as well as for lighting. Water mains have been laid from the village and placed all over the camp. Special springs were secured by the Beansville Council from land owners along the mountain to feed the reservoir in order to supply the camp with water.

Boom Conditions. A switch has been run in from the G. T. R., and runs all through the camp for the bringing in of supplies and equipment. Automobiles of every kind, size and description are now at the camp, and are used for all different kinds of work.

It is estimated that there will be at least a thousand men at the camp by the end of this month, and close on to four thousand by the end of May.

The erection of the camp in Beansville has given the village a great boost in every way. Houses to rent are at a premium, and during the past winter every householder who could accommodate men at all were jammed full.

COMMANDER WYATT ACQUITTED

Halifax, April 18.—Commander Frederick Wyatt, R. N., who was chief examining officer at the port of Halifax at the time of the Mont Blanc-Imo collision, and was arrested on a charge of manslaughter, was late yesterday afternoon acquitted in the supreme criminal court.

Judge Russell charged the jury strongly in favor of the defendant.

J. Stonewall Jackson, a descendant of the famous Confederate leader, joined the U. S. marines on his 18th birthday.

A switch has been run in from the G. T. R., and runs all through the camp for the bringing in of supplies and equipment. Automobiles of every kind, size and description are now at the camp, and are used for all different kinds of work.

It is estimated that there will be at least a thousand men at the camp by the end of this month, and close on to four thousand by the end of May.

The erection of the camp in Beansville has given the village a great boost in every way. Houses to rent are at a premium, and during the past winter every householder who could accommodate men at all were jammed full.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more yawning, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what suffers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

A Never Failing Way To Banish Ugly Hairs

(Aids to Beauty.)

No woman is immune to superfluous growths, and because these are likely to appear at any time, it is advisable to always have some depilatory powder handy to use when the occasion arises. A depilatory is made with some of the powder and water and spread upon the hairy surface; in about 2 minutes this is carefully removed and the skin washed. You will then find that your skin is entirely free from hair or fuzz. Be sure, however, to get real depilatory.

FINE PIANO PRESENTED TO CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Through the kindness of the officers of a Russian ship in port, who are returning to their own country, the wards of the Children's Aid Society of St. John for years to come will be gladdened by music.

These officers had purchased last year in New York a fine piano, with player attachment, for their own pleasure on board ship. Now that they are leaving the vessel they decided to give the instrument to some children and their mother. They consulted D. W. Ledingham, of William Thomson & Co., and he communicated with Mrs. H. A. McKeown, vice-president of the Children's Aid Society. The gift was gladly accepted. On Tuesday Mr. Ledingham and A. M. Belding, president of the society, with Ottawa, and under the special circumstances of the case the duty was re-assigned.

Yesterday afternoon President Belding and Rev. George Scott, with Mrs. D. McEllan, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. J. Willard Smith, Mrs. W. B. Tennant and Miss Grace Robertson, of the executive of the society, met the Russian officers at the offices of William Thomson & Co. and extended their hearty thanks for the very generous gift. The two officers who could speak English were told what the society does for neglected and dependent children, and interpreted to their fellows, who asked them to say to the visitors how greatly pleased they were to have a share in making the children happy. The members of the executive heartily shook hands with each officer and wished them bon voyage on their long journey to their own country.

The piano is now in the new home of the society, and will be one of the most highly prized among all its furnishings. The work of putting in the new heating plant, plumbing, lighting and other improvements has been begun, and ere many weeks have passed the children will be in their new quarters.

OFFICERS OF OLD 55TH IN RE-UNION

Twelve officers of the original 55th Battalion assembled in Bond's restaurant last evening and held an informal reunion. They are all men who reached France, and have been returned to Canada for various reasons. Many of them are still "carrying on."

Captain A. E. Gardner, of McAdam Junction, who was overseas with the 55th regiment as medical officer, presided, and others present were: Major H. S. Jones, of Apohaqui, who went over as second in command and later assumed the duties as O. C.; Major C. Donald, of Blackville, who was third in command of the regiment and is now in the depot which was his authority and work of the M. H. C. C. and who went across as Q. C. of "B" company; Major J. J. Bull, of Woodstock, now president of the League of Absence Board and who was O. C. of "A" company when the 55th landed in England; Major Rowe, now a medic at the depot; Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. Osborne, of Fredericton, now O. C. of the district depot; Major H. D. Warren, of Sussex, O. C. Special Service company, West St. John; Lieutenant H. S. Murray, of Port Elgin, Westmorland county, now officer in charge of records and statistics M. D. No. 7; and Lieutenant R. L. Murdoch, of Chatham, who is also to be an officer on the staff of the district depot.

Lewis Millett, of Windsor, N. S., has received news that his son, Flight Lieutenant Noble Millett had been killed in a battle over the enemy's lines. He was a member of the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada in Newcastle prior to going overseas.

"The Wings," a magazine published by the Canadian flyers in Felixstowe, Suffolk, has met its appearance in St. John. Lieut.-Commander Partridge, R. N. V. R., is the editor. He was born in Fredericton, and for some years was engaged in newspaper work in this city. Private Van Buren Keith, son of Doctor Keith of Lepraux, is listed as having made the supreme sacrifice for king and country. His father yesterday received official notification that he had been killed. Private Keith enlisted with a battalion from the west and had been in France fifteen months. His brother, Gray B. N. Keith, also overseas, was formerly connected with the advertising department of the Telegraph and Times. Mrs. William H. Dennis of 115 Britain street, has received word from Ottawa that her husband, Private Dennis, had succumbed to wounds in the chest on April 12 at 56 Clearing Station, France. He was wounded at Vimy Ridge and, recovering, was wounded again, fatal. Mrs. Dennis's brother, Private Vanwart of the depot battalion, died recently in military hospital here and the family is stricken with grief. COST OF PORK PRODUCTION
(Experimental Farms Note.)
The unprecedented price of pork for the last several months naturally causes the consumer to question whether or not the rise is legitimately due to increased cost of production or to manipulation by the market. The latter is frequently uncertain as to the actual cost of production when the various factors influencing costs have been accounted for. Induced charges against young pigs at six weeks of age, where the maintenance of the dam is properly charged, where present feed prices are used, and where no cheap by-product or refuse is available, and particularly where only one litter a year per sow is raised, are expected to bring about 92c per pig. The following figures are available from sowing breeding operations at the Experimental Farms, Ottawa, and elsewhere on the experimental farm system and may throw some light on the question. The cost of raising one pig to the feeding costs of not only the dam but also the grand-dam are necessary. In other words the full maintenance cost of the young sow together with her milking period charges, should be figured to arrive at the cost of the first litter. For succeeding litters a pro rata charge for each individual of the litter should be made of feeding and breeding charges incurred while the sow was carrying and later suckling the litters up to weaning time. Feed cost to raise a gilt to first farrowing $28.87
Cost per pig at weaning (seven in a litter) $5.48
If the cost were figured on the market value of three of Richardson's "Banger Circus" per pig would be considerably higher—$8.24.
If sold after raising one litter the sow might be expected to bring about $85, or nearly to pay the total cost of her first venture.
If retained as a brood sow, bred sow after weaning, and subsequently raising a second litter of seven pigs, the cost per pig would be in the vicinity of $29.22. The average cost per pig may be safely figured at $8.24, and the cost of raising one pig to weaning in Waltham Watch factory. T.T.

Montreal Man Who Has Objection to Killing Any of God's Creatures
Montreal, April 18—"I object to the killing of any of God's creatures," said James Rowland Blennerhasset to Mr. Justice Dumas yesterday in an examination duopartie appeal court. "What would you do if you saw your sister attacked in the street?" the judge asked. "It is impossible for me to imagine such a situation. As a Christian I believe God will look after all His creatures and permit them to harm," was the reply. "I shall give you an opportunity to test your theories in France," said the judge, and Mr. Blennerhasset will go to don khaki.

BROUGHT DOWN 50 GERMAN PLANES IN LESS THAN A YEAR
Rene Fonck Now Star Air Fighter of France
Has Fourteen Palms—Says the Chief Thing is Manoeuvring Opponent—Easy to Fight Seven at Same Time

(By Walter Duranty, special cable to the New York Times and Montreal Gazette.)
With the French Airman, April 11—If there be any truth in the theory of rebirth, the spirit of d'Artagnan may well live again in the body of Rene Fonck, star air fighter of France, who, in less than a year (he entered a battle-plane cockpit last May), has downed thirty-three German planes, officially certified by three independent witnesses, and more than fifty in actual fact. Your correspondent met the "Ace of Aces" in a small town in the war zone, where the work of the group of which he is the most famous member was suspended on account of the bad weather. Fonck, who has hitherto refused to talk for publication, consented to give his views on air fighting when reminded of what an important role the airmen were playing.

Like Garces, Fonck more resembles a college athlete than the average Frenchman. At first sight one might take him to be a short, stocky quarterback, swifter and all, were it not for his uniform and double row ribbons. He wears the Cross and the Military Medal, and is, at twenty-three, the youngest officer of the Legion of Honor. On his breast are a long row of fourteen gold palms for citations—he now has seven altogether—two English and two Belgian decorations. But his round face, with its fair complexion, budding moustache and long hair, brushed back from the forehead, has exactly the same expression of boyish confidence in proved ability as that of a hero of the track, diamond or gridiron.

Warfare requires no long years of training, as the land service does, and Fonck himself is so exactly the type of thousands of the young men joining the various Allied aerial corps, that it seems possible that they should not be equally successful, if given the same opportunities. Although he never mentioned the word swordsmanship, the whole tenor of his conversation suggested fighting of the d'Artagnan style—not one against one, but one against all, come simply because that one knew he was skilful enough to break off the combat at will and return to the attack at a moment's notice. The victor when he had manoeuvred his opponents into a dangerous position. For Fonck four things count as an air fighter's assets: Flying ability, accuracy of shooting, automatic swiftness of decision, and coolness. Unlike many great fliers, Gugnayer for example—he does not put shooting first.

Manoeuvring your opponent is the chief thing," said "Directly I engage an enemy I can judge what line to take. You can tell from the outset just what quality of pilot is opposed to you, and you must act accordingly. I have never fought Richthofen, but I am certain I should know in ten seconds that I was at grips with him if we met, and he would know, too. The way a pilot handles his machine is an unfailing indication of his calibre." The remark might have come from the mouth of d'Artagnan himself, talking about his battles. Fonck continued: "Don't believe the stories about the most successful airmen diving from a great height and abandoning the struggle if the enemy is missed. That may have been true once, but at present such tactics are impossible. You must fight and fight close. The victorious aviator is the man who knows best how to handle his machine, so as to meet changing situations most adequately, and who has the quickness of decision to translate that ability at once into action."

"But against heavy odds," I said, "surely you are at a disadvantage when several attack you at once." "Not in the least," he replied. "You just give ground and manoeuvre them." He emphasized the word—and then go for the one who is in the worst position." Again it was d'Artagnan speaking. Fonck continued: "The greatest advantage I ever fought alone was seven, at Verdun. I dodged around until I got my opportunity, and then went for one and downed him. A moment or two later I got another and gave a third more than he liked, so that he made off. That left four. I dived at one, and although I missed him, came so close" (Fonck began, but stopped) "that he continued until he is five yards distant, when he swerves for an instant to avoid a collision" that he decided to quit also. When I wheeled to tackle the rest they were streaks on the horizon." Fonck reckons that his best performance, but in the present battle he downed two out of three of Richthofen's "Banger Circus" in a five minute combat above the "Mortk" as the members of the crack French flying corps are called, wherever they go along the front. Last summer young pigs against which feeding charges at the average rate of 80c each must be levied at six weeks of age, will vary widely with the methods of feeding. Figures from the experimental farms records would indicate that three pounds of meal or the equivalent in other forms of food, per pound gain would be a safe basis. In the case of the bacon hog this would amount at present feed prices to $18 to $19 per pig. Adding to this the $3 charge up to weaning time the total feeding charge would be from $16 to $18. Where skim milk and pasture were both available to replace meal, $15 might be taken as a fair feeding charge. While the average overhead charge is relatively small in the case of the farmer who keeps but a few pigs, it is capable of wide variation depending entirely upon the intelligent understanding of the owner concerning the principles of swine husbandry. A range of from 20 per cent to 60 per cent of the feeding charges might be allowed. In most cases the overhead charges generally. The element of risk, much in evidence in swine raising, is also omitted. Under proper management there is a fair profit in hogs. To the consumer and the prospective swine grower the foregoing figures however, would indicate certainly that such profits are not excessive.

It's designed for the straight-back-bone-and-chin-up type of man. $15 to $35. Gilmore's 68 King Street

THEY met in Flanders, last August at Verdun, and a week ago near Mont Didier. I asked Fonck about his sensations while fighting. "It's very interesting," he said coolly, "in a tone that might have been borrowed from the swordman of Duomo. "One is so keen on the game that he never thinks about danger. Sometimes, after it is over, I find myself sweating, but I suppose that is pure excitement and physical exertion. It is hard work handling a fighting plane. You've got to be in tip-top condition. I know there are good pilots who play the fool on land, but they lose their nerve or get killed. You must be absolutely fit to stand the racket."

SAYS GERMANY IS MAKING OF FINLAND ANOTHER BELGIUM
New York, April 18—"Germany is turning Finland into another Belgium, another Armenia," declared Santari Nuorteva representative in this country of the "Red" or provisional government of the people's republic of Finland, in a statement issued here last night. Asserting that "in their lust for world empire the German Junkers" have reached a stage where wholesale murder is a commonplace of their plans," Nuorteva said also that "latest reports from Finland tell of horrible butcheries undertaken in conjunction with the Prussian allies." The White Guards, according to Nuorteva, comprise the army of that class in Finland which called upon the Germans to protect their feudal privileges, menaced by the highly organized working class.

GOT WET FEET TOOK AWFUL COLD COULD NOT SLEEP FOR COUGH
A bed cold accompanied by a distressing cough that keeps you awake at night is most aggravating, and unless it is attended to at once may develop into something very serious. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you should take. It heats the mucous surfaces, relieves oppression and tightness of the chest, removes the accumulation of phlegm, quiets the most obstinate and distressing coughs, and secures rest and sleep at night, not only to the sufferer, but to others whose rest would be otherwise broken. Mrs. Elizabeth Acker, Lake Pleasant, N. S., writes: "I got wet feet and took an awful cold; could not sleep at night, and would do nothing but cough. My husband got me a bottle of medicine, but it was not worth bringing home. I was going to call the doctor in when a friend asked me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told her I had little faith in it, but she urged me to get a bottle. I did, and I must say that of all the medicine I ever took, it is the best, and relieved me the quickest of anything I ever saw."

Turn To Right Will Be Order

Rule of the Road in New Brunswick to Be Changed; Highway Bill Agreed to; The Health Bill

Fredericton, N. B., April 17.—The rule of the road in New Brunswick will be changed. When a section of the new Highways act agreed upon in the committee of the whole house this evening, goes into effect, all drivers of vehicles will be required to turn to the right instead of the left when meeting another vehicle.

When the house resumed in the evening, meeting in committee as a whole, Mr. Veniot laid the question before the house, asking for a frank expression of opinion on this non-political subject.

Many members accepted the invitation to express their views. Some were frankly opposed to the change and others enthusiastically in favor of it. The principal opposition was voiced by members from Westmorland on account of confusion which would follow at the border with Nova Scotia when the change went into effect in only one province.

A motion to let the rule stand as it was defeated by a standing vote of twenty-three to nineteen.

Amendment Beaten. An amendment proposed by Fred. Magee that the change would not be effective until Nova Scotia took similar action also was defeated, there being only sixteen yeas. The motion to introduce the change was carried without division.

Additional sections were introduced by Mr. Veniot to provide for home rule in road matters in the parish of Lancaster. These sections make the parish a separate highway division, provided that the highway board shall consist of three county councillors and two other members appointed by the government.

Dr. Baxter moved an amendment to eliminate the government appointees from the board of health and to appoint chairman and secretary. Mr. Veniot thanked members.

Hon. Mr. Veniot explained that the councillors had waited on him but had not been able to agree among themselves and so he must ask the members to stand. On the vote being taken Dr. Baxter asked for a standing vote, which resulted practically in a division on party lines.

Additional sections were adopted and Hon. Mr. Veniot after the whole bill had been recommended, thanked the members of both sides of the house for their co-operation in putting the bill through.

The bill to provide for tax exemption on government war bonds was introduced and an amendment providing that the exemption should not apply to school taxes was adopted also. The bill provides that the exemption shall be at the discretion of the various municipal councils.

Mr. Potts—"I made the statement in good faith and if I find I am wrong I will be ready to apologize on the floor of the house."

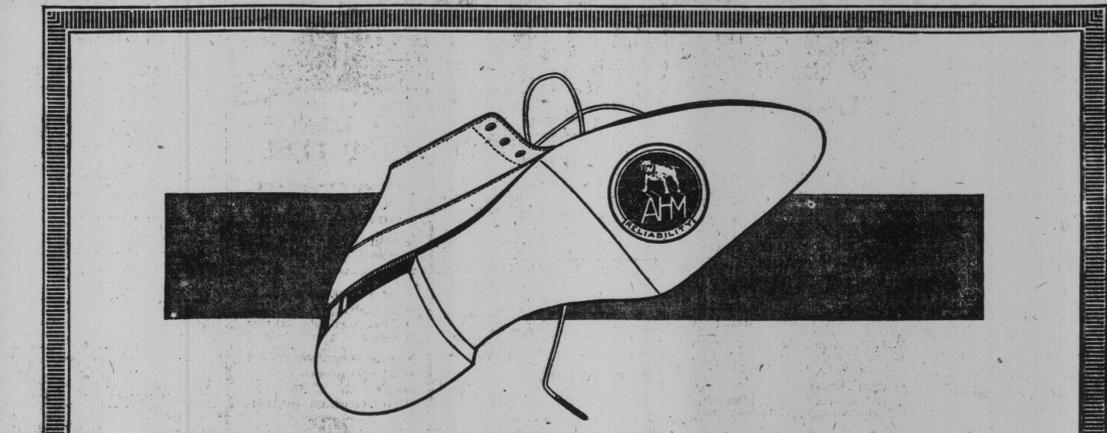

Dr. Roberts—"The point I wish to make is that the inference is untrue and misleading."

Dr. Roberts corrected another statement—that the act would do away with the board of health and the health staff in St. John—before moving the adjournment of the debate, which will resume tomorrow afternoon.

Why you should look for this Trade-mark on your Shoes

A TRADE-MARK is a manufacturer's signature. If a firm makes an article they are prepared to stand behind—they stamp it with their trade-mark. It is put on the goods so you may identify them.

It stands to reason, therefore, that it is safer for the public to always buy "known" and "trade-marked" shoes rather than "anonymous" shoes.

Each working day of the year, the A. H. M. trade-mark is stamped on the soles of thousands of pairs of shoes for men, women and children, because we want you to know our shoes when you see them.

We make such a large proportion of the boots and shoes that the Canadian people wear that you are probably wearing A. H. M. shoes now.

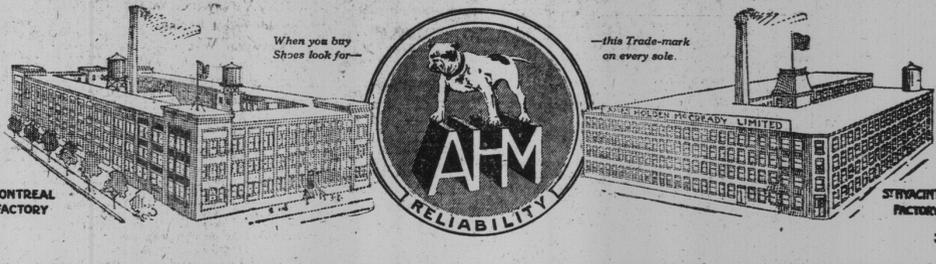

Ames Holden McCready are Canada's largest makers of shoes. A. H. M. footwear is sold by thousands of dealers in every part of Canada—and by the leading merchants in almost every city and town.

We make many grades and styles of footwear, but no matter what price you pay for them you will find them excellent value for the money.

Canada's War Parliament

Ottawa, April 17.—The House of Commons met in secret session yesterday afternoon for two hours. Beside members and officials there were present only members of the senate.

As to the position confronting this country, it was apparent that an attack upon the Canadian army corps in full force must be expected. No one could say when, but in view of the strategic value of their position there could be no doubt they must be prepared to meet any attack launched by the enemy and the country must be prepared to provide the reinforcements to make good all losses.

With regard to the shipping situation, the prime minister pointed out that allied and neutral ocean-going tonnage, estimated at 38,000,000 tons at the beginning of 1917, had been reduced at the end of 1917 by a net loss of 2,500,000 tons that is, about eight per cent.

LOOKING BETTER IS REPORT FROM BRITISH FRONT

Distinct Improvement as Result of Withdrawal in North

RETIREMENT BY NIGHT

Statement of Situation on Wednesday—Haig Continues to Expect Terrible Toll From Germans but Further Mighty Blows From Prussian Machine Expected

With the British Army in France, April 17—(By the Associated Press)—Things looked distinctly better today from the Allied standpoint as a result of the British withdrawal in the north, which eliminated the great salient which bulged out over the Passchendaele Ridge system. The defending troops this morning were sitting in snugly prepared positions along a line running a little east of Ypres, after a secret and orderly night retirement, with which the enemy interfered in no way.

In the meantime the British were more than holding their own in the fierce struggle in the Wytschaete-Bailleul sector, where the progress of the German troops had threatened the defenses of the wide-ranging salient to the north. Wytschaete today was reported to be again in British hands, but such was the nature of the struggle here that it would be unwise to make a definite claim at this time (2 p. m.).

(The British official report of last date announced its loss for the second time to the Germans.)

Certainly the men in khaki were fighting gallantly, and they were giving little ground here, according to the latest advices from the front lines. In all the northern fighting grievous casualties have been inflicted on the Germans.

Between Merville and Givenchy also there have been heavy engagements. In this section the invaders were hurled back. Further British successes are to be recorded for the zone below Arras, although this sector has retired to the background since the drive to Hazebrouck began.

Not only have the British scored numerous enemy masses at Bucquoy, but they have forced the Germans out of Boyelles and re-established themselves in this place.

All this was most heartening, although no delusions are held as to the prospects of further mighty blows by the Prussian machine.

Army Glad at Bold Move. Had anyone said months ago that there would soon be rejoicing in the British withdrawal and abandon the Passchendaele Ridge system, which was won with such difficulty last summer, it would have excited derision. But the whole British army is glad at this bold move. It not only lessens the danger from the enemy drive about Arras, but it greatly shortens the defensive line. It seems hard in a way to give up ridges over which the British battled forward in such a heroic manner, but it is decidedly for the best and will help defeat Prussians.

The retirement was a result of mature judgment and was no snap-shot affair, for it was known it was pending. The new lines had been prepared and artillery had been placed in position before the infantry quickly began to pull back under cover of darkness.

If the Germans anticipated any such move they did not look for it at the time it happened. They began to push cautiously forward when it became apparent that nothing unusual had happened. They found the forward positions vacant and then advanced in greater numbers. Then the British artillery opened at an opportune moment and deluged the whole territory with an inferno of fire, which worked havoc among the wandering infantry.

The Germans must now pull forward and once more man the ditch and shell, and they will have to drag their artillery up over bad ground to the positions which it occupied before the British offensive began last summer. It will be an undesirable task.

Coincidentally with their drives around Bailleul and to the north, the Germans have continued to push hard to the south.

Blinded by Indigestion

And Tortured by Headache—Spells Became More and More Frequent Until Cure Was Found

Ingonish Beach, N. S., April 17—Chronic indigestion is hard to get rid of because the treatments used aim at relief rather than at removing the cause. This letter shows how the trouble develops from constipation until the digestive system is upset, the food ferments, and headaches and blinding dizzy spells result.

In this case cure was effected by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Mrs. Donovan writes that she has never had a headache since. This seems to be conclusive evidence of the thoroughness of the cure.

Mrs. John J. Donovan, Ingonish Beach (N. S.), writes: "I wish to speak a word or two in praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was troubled for years with sick headache and constipation, and was so bad that when the pain would strike me, I would get blind, would have to drop everything and go to bed. These pills used to come very frequently—sometimes as often as twice a week. I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac of his Kidney-Liver Pills, and decided to try them. I hadn't used this medicine long until I was completely cured. I have never had a headache since, and find that I cannot speak too highly in praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

You cannot expect such results from substitutes and imitations, so be sure to see the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on the box you buy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c. a box, 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

of Merville in order to get to the line of La Basse Canal. The enemy had expected to get through Bethune and most of the waterway on the first or second day of the offensive in this sector, but the determined defence offered upset all their calculations. The Germans have only a few good roads in this region, over which they can send their transports, and these highways are kept under continual fire by the British artillery and are being bombed so constantly that they are filled with the wreckage of the enemy transport and dead horses.

Numerous enemy attacks have been delivered about Locon, but in every case they were repulsed. Yesterday at Pacaut Wood, northwest of Locon, an unusual engagement was staged, when the German and British infantry advanced at the same moment for an attack and clashed in the forest. Heavy hand-to-hand fighting ensued. The British claimed a slight advantage when the Germans had been repulsed. A battery of German field guns stationed on the eastern edge of the wood was completely smashed and all the crew either killed or captured.

The enemy bombardment of the region of Villers-Bretonneux has continued, but no attack in this region has developed. A prisoner captured near Hebuterne on April 14 says that the enemy has been on short rations and that the only food which some of the troops had was what they captured. All the Germans are surprised at the quality of the British rations, and the feeling generally is growing that the German troops have been deceived greatly by the supposed success of the submarine campaign. One prisoner admitted that the German losses were very heavy.

Not only have the British scored numerous enemy masses at Bucquoy, but they have forced the Germans out of Boyelles and re-established themselves in this place.

All this was most heartening, although no delusions are held as to the prospects of further mighty blows by the Prussian machine.

They found the forward positions vacant and then advanced in greater numbers. Then the British artillery opened at an opportune moment and deluged the whole territory with an inferno of fire, which worked havoc among the wandering infantry.

The Germans must now pull forward and once more man the ditch and shell, and they will have to drag their artillery up over bad ground to the positions which it occupied before the British offensive began last summer. It will be an undesirable task.

Coincidentally with their drives around Bailleul and to the north, the Germans have continued to push hard to the south.

WORSE OFF THAN BEFORE GREAT DRIVE BEGAN

French So Size Up Position Of The Germans

THIS NOT THE LAST BATTLE

Regarded, However, as Having Decisive Influence on the War—Enemy Now Suffering Effects of Former Vandalism

With the French Army in France, April 17—(By the Associated Press)—While the cannon continue to roar along the battle line, there has for some days been a virtual cessation of infantry combats, especially on the French part of the front. It is believed that the lull will prove temporary, and, despite their terrific losses and the exhaustion of many of their divisions, it is considered possible that the German general staff is merely pausing to gather forces for another effort to break through. Any such effort is awaited contentedly by the Allies.

Almost without exception it is thought the present battle will have a decisive influence on the result of the war, but it would be an error to regard it as the last battle. So far as it has gone, the German offensive may be looked on as a failure, since none of its objectives have been attained and the Allied armies are still intact, while the Germans now, owing to the diminution of their forces through casualties, are in an inferior position to that which they occupied before the battle began. They are doing this in some parts of their new front, but under continual harrying by the Allied commonwealth forces, the Germans are falling all the trees in the Somme sector before they retreated last year, the French and British gunners have a perfectly clear way for working parties. The Germans may decide, or be allowed, to remain there until all is in favor of the Allies, who are awaiting constant increase of their strength through the arrival of American contingents.

GERMAN INDUSTRY CAUSING GREATER CONQUEST SPIRIT

Need Military Victory and Annexations to Protect Against Economic War

Reprints in Trade—If U. S. Will Not Supply Raw Materials Germany Will Hold Potash and Dyes

The Hague, April 17—There has been a marked change in the German attitude toward the Central Powers. The Reichstag peace resolution and apparently the Socialist party has been unable to withstand the pressure of German labor opinion, which for some months has repeatedly given voice to its anger over the unconditional spirit of the Entente.

Much of this change in the public mind has been brought about by the menace of a commercial and industrial war after the world war, and in this respect America's attitude probably has been most effective.

"But what will be the situation between us and America afterward?" they ask. This question is asked not only in the industrial centres, but even oftener on the seacoast. The people are well willed to make every effort to harm German interest, especially by barring Germany from all the raw products that Germany bought from America before the war. Mercantile and industrial circles are busy making plans to forestall the danger of a boycott after the next time the pressure of German articles dealing with these problems. They say:

"If America sells us no cotton, she shall get no potash, which is a fertilizer almost indispensable to impoverished agricultural land. Germany has a world monopoly of potash. If America gives us no petrol and no grain she shall get no dye materials, no drugs, no glassware, no optical instruments and nothing else that Germany has exported to the United States in the past."

"It is as yet not known to Germany to what extent the United States will depend upon such imports after the war, but it is generally assumed that none of the other belligerents, nor any neutral country, will be able to take Germany's place as a producer of all the goods America used to buy from Germany."

Emigration to Europe. The Deutsche Zeitung makes the point that if America expects her industries to continue prosperous after the war she must encourage immigration, but says that because of the European war there will be none, and on the contrary a large emigration from the United States to Europe, especially to Germany. Thus the Zeitung argues, the United States cannot afford to conduct a commercial war with Germany.

Professor Troelch says commerce and industry will find themselves seriously handicapped after the war. Although heretofore one of the most indefatigable champions of a peace of conciliation without annexations, he now publishes an article in the Muenchener Neueste Nachrichten, in which he says: "As Brierly and Belfort appear in quite a different light today, so does the question of Belgium. Here we must demand an eye for an eye, and one necessity must count against another. It would never do for us to play general benefactor."

What Professor Troelch alludes to is openly demanding by Germany's captains of industry, who insist that Brierly and Longwy, besides a strip of French land wide enough to protect the iron mines from hostile guns in any future war be

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Well Known Lady Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair With Simple Home Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home-made remedy made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Olex Compound and 1-4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp; is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."

The Cologne Volks Zeitung calls Mr. Wilson the "force politician." It declares the speech worthless as an historical document, and says it was meant only to have a political and psychological effect on the Americans. PATRONAGE IN DEPARTMENT IS ABOLISHED

Minister of Militia so Announces in House of Commons at Ottawa

Ottawa, April 18—In the House of Commons yesterday, in supply on the military estimates, the government was questioned as to the existence of patronage lists. The minister of militia replied that patronage had been abolished, that he had given verbal orders to this effect at a conference attended by the commanders of the various military districts of the dominion.

A resolution of the minister of labor to encourage and aid the organization and co-ordination of employment offices and in this connection to appropriate $50,000 during 1918-19, $100,000 during the following year, and in subsequent years $150,000, was adopted and a bill based upon it was given first reading.

Second reading of a bill to provide salaries for the minister of the overseas military forces, the secretary of state for external affairs, the minister of immigration and colonization, and the minister of soldiers' civil re-establishment was given but there was some criticism.

Captain Read suggested the appointment of a minister of fisheries, if the government was considering dividing any more of the departments. The prime minister promised consideration and A. B. Cope recommended that if a minister were appointed he should be chosen from Prince Edward Island.

incorporated into the German Empire. Borsig, chief of the famous house of August Borsig, writes in the Vossische Zeitung, the menace of economical war after the war, as decided on by the Paris conference, has made it imperative for Germany to seek independent sources of raw products.

The Paris conference is merely used as an excuse to air the annexationist desires, which, however, are now no longer cloaked. "The deposits if iron ore in Longwy and Briey," Borsig says, "would make us quite independent of any importation of raw material. We could spare even the Swedish ore. Even if we were to treat France leniently and generously and leave her in possession of these districts, we have no security that it will serve us likewise."

Great Iron Industry. "The iron industry is wonderful, a great tree in the midst of the field of the German industry. Its roots are the supply of raw products; its trunk the iron mills and steel works, upon which spread flourishing branches of many-sided industry. During the war it has been very difficult to keep this splendid tree alive for half its roots extend to foreign countries. This tree has been growing close to the German border line. If we want to secure it we must take enough territory to make sure that in the future its roots need not wander beyond the German frontier."

The fact that President Wilson, in his recent Baltimore speech, gave prominence to his use of the word "force" impressed the German press, for most of the papers use his word in their headlines.

The Cologne Volks Zeitung calls Mr. Wilson the "force politician." It declares the speech worthless as an historical document, and says it was meant only to have a political and psychological effect on the Americans. Mr. Wilson, the paper asserts, has not been over-careful about keeping to the truth, as he is only considering immediate results.

This he was from the beginning, and he will remain true to the role to the end. It would go badly with him if he tried to resist the pressure put on him by the group of New York billionaires.

The paper scoffs at Mr. Wilson for continuing to talk of ideals, and says that when people remember the notes of the period of "neutrality," it is difficult to recognize the thoughtful, philosophical force of the man, who now cries "force, force to the utmost," but that only the tactics have changed and not the policy. It is contended that while Mr. Wilson talks of fighting for freedom, he is really fighting for the large sums invested in the war, as America's debtors must not go bankrupt. The paper asserts that the Americans will continue to throw good money after bad.

LIVER TROUBLE and HEARTBURN CURED BY MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

When the liver is torpid and inflamed it cannot furnish bile to the bowels, causing them to become bound and constive. The symptoms are a feeling of fullness or weight in the right side, and shooting pains in the same region, pains between the shoulders, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, heartburn, water brash, etc.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills gently unlock the secretions, clear away all obstructions, and give tone and vitality to the whole intestinal tract, and are by far the safest and most reliable remedy for all diseases or disorders of the liver.

Mrs. A. Cummings, Manchester, Ontario, writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills some time, and can faithfully recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried a great many other remedies, but they only relieved me for a time. I believe Laxa-Liver Pills to be a valuable remedy for all sufferers from liver trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BRITISH VICTORIES IN GERMAN EAST AFRICA

London, April 17—The official statement on military activities in East Africa says:

"On April 6 one of General Northey's columns occupied Mahua and pushed eastward. On April 11 this column heavily engaged a German main force and inflicted severe losses on them. On the same day General Edwards' troops executed a night march and seized Medowbom on April 12 after an all day engagement in which the German losses were severe. The enemy was driven in the direction of Mwalu."

FILL CANADA'S BUTT-HOLE WITH A NATIONAL FLOWER

Also Decorate Graves of Those Fallen in Flanders Field With Floral Emblem of This Country—First Choice Flower

(Toronto Globe.) Canada's buttonhole is empty. Fragrant foliage for Flanders fields that will mark the mounds that harbor all that is mortal of Canada's fallen heroes as Canada's and not Italy's or New Zealand is also wanted, and wanted now, or so soon as the people of this country can make up their minds.

The movement for a national flower, initiated by the Toronto Horticultural Society, is widening and the interest deepening in horticultural circles.

"Don't touch the Maple Leaf," cry those who fear its displacement.

"You cannot get a national flower by deliberations," says a western educator. "Wait for the unheralded day or event or little incident that will give sudden and glorious birth to a floral emblem of the nation."

perennial aster, the trillium, the iris, the delphinium and the peony—and they suggested that the matter should be freely discussed by horticultural societies, educational and other institutions, and in the press.

In response to this suggestion meetings were held in the botany and forestry buildings of the University of Toronto last month, which were attended by representatives of the universities, the schools, library, College of Art, the press, the city parks department, the Ontario Horticultural Association and Toronto Horticultural Society.

The Toronto committee felt that nothing should be done to imperil the standing of the maple leaf as a national emblem, which it had become by national sentiment, though not by official sanction.

The fact was revealed that it does not enter into the dominion arms as a dominion emblem, but only as the emblem of the two provinces of Quebec and Ontario. This then they conceived to be the first step that should be taken, the extension of the authorized use of the maple leaf as a national emblem, and Prof. Smith of the McMaster University moved "That the maple leaf be officially recognized by the government as our national emblem, and come more definitely into national devices."

This motion was seconded by Prof. Keys of the University of Toronto, and was carried unanimously.

It Cannot Be a Weed. The advisability of selecting a national flower or of submitting a list of Canadian plants to be grown on the graves of our soldiers was next discussed, and here again the local committee saw the matter somewhat differently from the Ottawa committee.

It was thought inadvisable to select a plant before it had been tried out horticulturally on the spot where it was to be planted. It might not succeed and might prove a fiasco. There had been an example in America where sentiment had failed to gather round the golden rod, which was regarded by farmers as a pestiferous weed.

They therefore recommended, on motion of Owen P. Staples, seconded by Dr. Faull, "That we submit to the Ottawa authorities a list of Canadian plants suitable for planting on the graves of our heroes in France."

list of flowers comprised the columbine, the bunchberry, the hepatica and the trillium.

Dr. Faull moved and Dr. Coleman seconded: "That if a national flower be selected it be chosen from this list, but the final decision be postponed until its horticultural possibilities be determined by experience in cultivation."

Provincial Flower Wanted. There was one further step taken at the meeting of some importance. The principle of a provincial flower was approved, and it was recommended that if such a movement should meet with public interest and endorsement the flower should be selected from the list submitted. It was also decided to recommend that each of the provinces should submit a similar list.

GOLF. The Game and the War. High grade golf balls and clubs will cost more this season than ever before in the history of the ancient Scottish game, but innovations in manufacture are said to offset the increased cost by adding to the flight of the balls and the longevity of the clubs.

Several brands of golf balls that have sold heretofore for 75 cents each are to retail this season at 75 cents to 85 cents, advertised to fly further than last year's best balls, are to sell for a dollar.

MON.-TUES.-WED.—SPECIAL FEATURE Thurs.-Fri.-Sat.—"THE PRICE OF FOLLY"—Sequel to "WHO PAYS" Serial.

Discussion of a plan to make golf balls uniform, as to material and manufacture, so as to avoid the struggle for supremacy as to carrying qualities, has been renewed. This campaign is not based alone on the effort to standardize the price, but to avoid making useless the present courses, which have been elongated a thousand yards during the last few years.

To lengthen the links farther, it is argued, would not only demand more expensive land, but would make the playing of a round of 18 holes overlong and too tiresome for the average man or woman. On the present course, of 6,000 yards or so, a player has to walk some five or six miles, counting the extra steps for sliced or pulled shots, the distance from green to tee, in and out of bunkers, around ponds and the many steps crossing and recrossing the green while putting.

The scarcity of good, second growth hickory for shafts has caused the price of clubs to creep up during the last ten years, the best drivers and brassies now selling for from $4 to $6, as against a price of $2 or less when the game first began to grow rapidly in America. Iron clubs of the best grade have increased in price from $1.25 to upwards of $3 to $5 in the same period. Much of this increase in price has come about in the last three years. Added to this advance in the original cost is the higher price for replacing shafts, which lose their life, or income sprung from use, or misuse.

This season will see the advent of a steel shaft for irons. While the price of the metal shaft is higher than that of the hickory, it is said that the longevity is much greater, so that the amortized cost will be less a year. The steel gives the stiffness demanded by experts in the shafts of iron clubs, but whether the clubs will be as satisfactory as those with hickory shafts is not known. The new clubs retail for $5, or substantially double the price of their predecessors of the hickory tribe.

Gaddy bags have also increased in price, owing to the scarcity of canvas and leather, but golfers can still find all the implements of the game at comparatively low prices. Clubs may be purchased as cheaply as $1.50 for irons and $3 for wooden clubs. Balls are for sale as low as 25 cents and satisfactory gaddy bags are offered from $1 up. Golf clothes have not advanced in proportion with other garments as they require less material and tailoring.

BASKETBALL. LOYALISTS WIN. The Loyallists defeated the Intermediates in a basketball game at the Y. M. C. A. last evening by a score of 24 to 15.

THE RED BALL LINE. The taste-tickling, thirst-soothing blending of nature's garden products—different and delightful, with a wine flavor, everywhere. Made by George W. C. Oland, successor to Simcon Jones, Limited.

An entertainment was held last evening in the Orange Hall in Germain street under the auspices jointly of the Junior Aid of the Carmarthen street Methodist church and the Newfoundland Society. Those taking part were Ethel M. Causten, Ronald Causten, Laura Harding, Erma McAulay, Estella Fox, May Alchorn, Lillian Foster, Leonard Roberts and Stella Earle.

DEATH IN FAIRVILLE.
William Smullin, an old resident of Fairville, died at his home in Prospect street last night about eleven o'clock. Though ailing for some time, his death came unexpectedly as he seemed as well as usual in the last few days and had been out to church on last Sunday. Besides his sorrowing wife he leaves a daughter, Miss Blanche Smullin, and a son, William Smullin, both at home.

THE ELKS.
With the taking of the Elks Club by the G. W. V. A. the former are on the look-out for suitable quarters. A member of the club said today that the present quarters were rather large and expensive for their present needs, and under present conditions, but that they were in search of a likely location to keep the boys together. He stated that there were sixty-five of the Elks overseas and with their return something material would be worked out.

DEATH OF HUM FOO.
Hum Foo, a Chinese citizen who was employed at the Sanitary Cafe, Charlotte street, is dead. He was taken to the hospital on Sunday, suffering from pneumonia, and died yesterday. Hum Foo had lived some years in St. John, and was a faithful member of the old Brussels street Sunday school, in Mrs. A. F. Jenner's class. Later he went to Montreal for a time, but returned here to join in conducting the Sanitary Cafe. The funeral will take place tomorrow from M. N. Powers' undertaking parlors at 3 o'clock and his body will be laid to rest in the old Methodist cemetery.

COMES TO ST. JOHN.

We regret to part with Mr. Fraser, but heartily congratulate him on his well earned promotion and wish him all success in the new position."

He said that the machinery was working as well as could be expected and general results were good. Sergeant McAlinn of the local dominion squad, returned early this morning from Fredericton and vicinity, where he has been rounding up defaulters under the military act. He was successful in locating twenty-seven young alleged defaulters. He reports that he was subjected to some harsh treatment by parents of several of the boys for whom he was searching. He was threatened more than once but eventually succeeded in getting his men.

A dangerous runaway occurred on Tuesday afternoon when a double team with sledge belonging to A. E. McInerney of 76 St. Patrick street, becoming frightened while standing in Princess street, dashed away up Princess and turned down Wentworth towards their stables in St. Patrick street. The Wentworth street hill proving an extremely steep one, the animals lost their heads and dived at breakneck speed, tearing across Union into St. Patrick, where they collided with a large tree. In the heavy shock, one of the horses was badly injured in the shoulder and chest and the harness and part of the wagon was broken. Bark was torn from the tree trunk. Mr. McInerney and his driver were in a yard in Princess street when the horses took fright and although both rushed out to stop them, they were too late.

PROMOTED TO BE LIEUT. COLONEL

Good News for Major Jost's Many Friends—Other Local Military Matters

It was officially announced by local military authorities this morning that Major A. C. Jost, who has been acting as assistant director of medical services in this military district since its formation, has been granted the temporary rank of lieutenant-colonel. The news of Jost's promotion in rank will be read with keen pleasure by his many friends. He has been accomplishing excellent results since he became attached to M. D. No. 7 and his rise in rank is believed due in no small measure to the ability and proficiency which he has displayed in his department.

Captain Blanchard, commanding Royal Canadian Engineers in M. D. No. 7, has been in Fredericton for the last few days assisting in the transfer of the Military Hospital Commission Command to the new district depot. A board of officers of which Lieut.-Colonel J. L. McAvity is the president has been in Fredericton since Tuesday in connection with the taking over of the New Brunswick Military Hospital which was formerly the old Government House.

Captain Victor Heron, G. S. O., has returned to Fredericton from Woodstock, where he inspected a draft of the 66th Battalion. Captain Heron is also carrying out an inspection of the central Ontario regiment at Fredericton.

Captain R. B. Cox has been transferred from training depot No. 4 to No. 7.

POWER COMPANY STEADILY AT WORK IN FREDERICTON

Word comes from Fredericton today that special pleaders for the New Brunswick Power Company are extremely active, trying to persuade individual members of the legislature that the people of St. John are unreasonable, that the MacIntyre report is unfair, and that not to grant the company's demands would be to injure and destroy the credit of the province. It is hoped by this species of appeal to go sympathetically and support. The city, since its great delegation went up last week, has rested its case, but the power company, knowing the value of the prize it seeks, keeps up a constant canvass of members of the house, in the hope that it may yet win a majority and get out of the people the money to pay dividends on its watered stock.
