the Editor of The Telegraph.
—Permit me, through the courtesy of your columns, to make a plea on behalf of the work being undertaken towards the development of apple growing in New Brunswick. It has been the unfortunate experience of persons actively interested in apple growing in the province that we are as yet a great many unbelievers in the midst.
To these people the idea that high quality apples may be and are being grown in the province is neither credible nor acceptable. Just why we do not know; we certainly think they behave as if they were not over eager to concede to their native province the possession of such an agricultural possibility. True provincial patriotism as far as agriculture is concerned should not find many people ever willing to award the honour to other provinces and to overlook so doing the just merits of their own land. Doubtless we ourselves are inadequately responsible for that lack of true provincial spirit, in so much as we have not advertised sufficiently the results we have obtained in apple growing and the possibilities indicated thereby. We are, however, now alive to the necessity of instantly and attractively pleading before our own people and the people of other provinces the possibilities and the advantages of apple growing in New Brunswick, and believe that so far as our limited means permit that such is being done.
The apple show held in the St. Andrew's rink last year, while it attracted considerable attention and much favorable comment, did not receive the patronage it deserved. The explanation is that the people were aware that such a show is to be held, they did not think that it would be worth going to, or in other words, they did not have enough confidence in their own province to believe that such an apple show would be as well worth attending as one staged either in Nova Scotia or Ontario. To those who tended such a belief is no longer possible; they are converted to the cause which we are anxious to advance.
At the second annual apple show, which will open on the evening of Oct. 30, we will have and hope to have more than twice the attendance of last year. In this way one of the main objects of the hibition is attained, namely, the advertising at home and abroad of the apple producing powers of the province. The other main object of the exhibition is to encourage our apple growers by bringing them together socially and to foster with them the adoption of co-operation. This can not only will those in attendance be given a chance to view the results of the various apple growers, but they will be able to compare their own apples with those of others, as single apples of considerable quantities will be for sale.
Nova Scotia today has an apple industry worth millions of dollars, yet undoubtedly there was a time when the idea of such a valuable industry would be developed was laughed at. When we advance the same idea and hope for New Brunswick we meet with a good deal of the same derision, but those who feel that they are in a position to judge of the things are confident that that idea will be realized. Just as others in the now famous apple sections of this continent years ago laid the foundation of such success, so there are men here quietly and confidently laying the foundation for a large and prosperous apple industry in New Brunswick. By attending the second annual apple show you will contribute to the success of their efforts.
We wish to thank the press of the province for at all times to have contributed towards the spread of the work we are undertaking and our thanks are also to many public spirited citizens who in various ways have assisted the work of the association, and we hope for a continuance of their co-operation.
Yours truly,
See. N. B. Fruit Growers' Association.

CHINA'S EMPEROR GRANTS REFORMS

Issues Edict Promising a Constitution and Cabinet of the People

Declares He Has Been Bamboozled by His Advisers and Dismisses Them—Nobles to have No Part in New Government—Peking Sleeping on Its Arms, Fearing Attack—Foreign Legations Pre- pare for Trouble.

Canadian Press.
Peking, Oct. 30.—The demand of the national assembly for a complete constitutional government has been accepted by the throne. An imperial edict was issued today apologizing for the past neglect of the throne and granting an immediate constitution with a cabinet from which nobles shall be excluded.
A second edict grants pardons to political offenders connected with the revolution of 1911 and subsequent revolutions and those compelled to join in the present rebellion.
The imperial edict, which is from the hand of the Emperor Hsuan Tung, says: "I have reigned three years and have always acted conscientiously in the interests of the people. But I have not employed men properly, as I am without political skill. I have employed too many nobles in political positions, which contravenes constitutionalism."
"On railway matters, one whom I trusted deceived me, hence public opinion was antagonized. When I urge reform, officials and the gentry seize the opportunity to embezzle. Much of the people's money has been taken, but nothing to benefit the people has been achieved."
"On several occasions edicts have promulgated laws, but none of them have been obeyed. The people grumbling, yet I do not know; disasters loom ahead, but I do not see."
After referring to the uprisings in various places, the edict continues:
"The whole empire is seething. The spirit of our main business is to be able to carry out the sacrifices properly, while it is feared that the people will suffer grievously."
"All these things are my own fault, and I hereby announce to the world that I swear to reform, and, with our soldiers and people, to carry out the constitution faithfully, modifying legislation, promoting the interests of the people and abolishing their hardships, all in accordance with their wishes and interests. The old laws that are unsuitable will be abolished. The union of the Manchu and Chinese, mentioned by the late emperor, I shall carry out now. Finances and diplomacy have reached bed rock."
"Even if all unite, I still fear that we may fall. If the empire's subjects do not

STEEL TRUST HEADS AND PROSECUTORS

Presented herewith are portraits of the men most prominently identified in the government's suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation. The petition for the dissolution of the biggest of American trusts was prepared under the direction of Jacob M. Dickinson, formerly general counsel for the Illinois Central Railroad and later Secretary of War in the Taft Cabinet. He has been retained by the government as special counsel to handle the fight on the great J. Pierpont Morgan financial creation.
It was largely through the efforts of Attorney General Wickersham that the suit against the big corporation was brought. James A. Farrell, the president of the Steel Trust, and Judge E. H. Gary, the chairman, are mentioned in the suit.

HARD WORK TO DISSOLVE THE TOBACCO TRUST

Counsel for the Growers Argues That Proposed Plan to Carry Order of the Court is a Sham.

New York, Oct. 30.—The proposed plan for reorganization of the Tobacco Trust, submitted by the American Tobacco Company and co-defendants to the government's anti-trust suit, was both praised and condemned today before the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York.
After Attorney General Wickersham filed the government's answer to the plan, counsel for the defendants pleaded with the court to accept the dissolution proposal. Lewis Case Ledyard argued for the defendants and insisted that it was an honest plan to comply with the requirements in the mandate of the court for a reorganization that will restore competition in the trade in compliance with the terms of the Sherman Anti-Trust law.
Supporting the plan, representatives of the preferred stockholders and bondholders of the American Tobacco and constituent companies urged approval of the division of the trust into four principal segments to be operated and controlled by independent companies.
In support of these interests there appeared Joseph H. Chase and others, who insisted that the proposed reorganization plan was a sham, and that it was not a hostile element permitted absolutely to destroy it, though it might be subject to some amendments calculated to give protection to the property rights of citizens.
Independent manufacturers, dealers and producers of tobacco unanimously disapproved the plan on the ground that it is a sham proposal to divide the property, control of which still would be retained by the group of individuals now dominating that industry.
Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, made the principal argument against the proposal, and sought to convince the court that it would be impossible to bring about thereby a restoration of the competitive spirit in the trade in the tobacco industry.
The answer of the attorney general filed today did not express general opposition to the dissolution plan, but contained for the guidance of the court, many restrictions deemed necessary to assure restoration of competition in the tobacco industry.
Maintaining that it was impossible for the court to determine in advance whether or not a plan actually will accomplish effective competition, the attorney general requested that right be reserved so the government could apply to the court at any time within five years for other relief upon a showing that the plan did not result in a new condition in harmony with the law.
The Judges Lacombe, Ward, Cox and Ames, who are hearing the argument, took active part in the discussion of counsel by both sides. When the arguments are concluded it is expected that the judges will take the case under advisement for some time before announcing a decision.

FATAL SMASH-UP ON I. C. R. DUE TO BLUNDER

Coroner's Inquest to Delve into the Cause Today— Special Freights Left Moncton Ten Minutes Apart—Trainmen Dispute as to Whether Signals Were Displayed—Driver Melanson's Terrible Death Not Known Till Long After Collision.

Special to The Telegraph.
Moncton, Oct. 30.—Gross carelessness on the part of somebody was responsible for a disastrous wreck at Sackville this morning, which resulted in the shocking death of Frank C. Melanson and the destruction of the I. C. R. rolling stock and freight. Just where the blame lies seems difficult to say, but the tragedy, which occurred at Sackville yesterday, may probably throw light on one of the most distressing wrecks on the I. C. R. for some time.
One thing seems clear, had there been a night operator at Evans, just west of Sackville, the wreck would probably have been avoided, as the train which crashed into the special at Sackville would likely have been held for the line to clear.
The crew of the head special, it seems, claims they put out signals for the train following, but the crew of the latter train allege they saw no signals after leaving Evans.
There is a curve just west of Sackville station, and Driver Price claims he was within ten or fifteen car lengths of Trueman's special before he saw red lights on the van. He applied the brakes, but was unable to bring his heavy train to a stand still. He was running about five miles an hour when he crashed into Trueman's van on the main line.
Price's engine practically went through the van which was thrown on top of the engine. In the excitement, it appears, no one seemed to think of the unfortunate Melanson who was in the van. About half an hour after the smash-up the van was in flames, and it was not until the car was burned up that Melanson's awful fate was discovered. His body, which was badly damaged, only the iron frame was left of the van.
Coroner Baird empaneled a jury and will begin the inquest at Sackville tomorrow. Melanson's remains were brought to Moncton, and will be buried Wednesday. Deceased left a wife and three small children. He was thirty-seven years old, and son of A. Melanson, Joggins Mines, and has been on the road eighteen years.
Thanksgiving was generally observed today, the weather being ideal for a holiday. The Humphrey Golf Club held a field day, distributing the season's prizes.
Mrs. Percy Morag died suddenly in the city hospital yesterday, after two days' illness. Peritonitis was the cause of death. Her husband and one child survive. Deceased was twenty-nine years old.

JOHN S. KENNEDY LEFT $30,000,000 IN PUBLIC GIFTS

Presbyterian Church Schemes to Get Big Slice of New York Banker's Vast Estate.

New York, Oct. 30.—Dignity State Comptroller Harburger filed Saturday in the state transfer tax office the second appraisal of the estate of John Stewart Kennedy. The first appraisal, which was rejected, gave the gross value of the estate as $65,568,788. The new appraisal gives the gross value as $67,437,783. Sirrogate Columbia rejected the first appraisal because certain securities were undervalued. Under the new appraisal the state will get a larger transfer tax. Some $20,000,000 of the estate goes to charitable and philanthropic institutions under the terms of the will, about $17,000,000 goes to the widow, Mrs. Emma B. Kennedy, and $15,000,000 more goes to relatives.
Among the bequests to institutions are: Amherst College, $100,000; Yale College, $100,000; Tufts College, $100,000; Glasgow University of Scotland, $100,000; Williams College, $100,000; Dartmouth College, $100,000; Hamilton College, $100,000; Hampden Normal School, $100,000; College of the City of New York, $275,000; Presbyterian Hospital, $1,514,888.02; New York Public Library, $2,778,190.73; Metropolitan Museum of Art, $2,929,943.79; Columbia University, $2,429,943.79; Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, $2,929,943.79; Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church, $2,929,943.79; Board of Church Extension Funds of the Presbyterian Church, $2,929,943.79; Presbyterian Board of Aid of Colleges and Academies, $976,647.93; Church Extension Committee

NEW EVIDENCE IN LINNELL TRAGEDY

Grand Jury Halts Work While Officials Start on Secret Mission

Heavily Veiled Young Woman and Man, Whose Identity Was Not Disclosed, Testified Yesterday --- Rev. Mr. Richeson to Be Arraigned in Court Today on Murder Charge and He May Demand an Immediate Examination.

Canadian Press.
Boston, Oct. 30.—The third day's session of the Suffolk county grand jury, which has heard the testimony of about thirty witnesses in connection with the government's attempt to secure an indictment against Rev. C. V. T. Richeson for the murder of Miss Linnell, a former sweetheart, was brought to an unexpected early adjournment today by the desire of the district attorney to look up what is believed to be important new evidence. The adjournment was taken until tomorrow afternoon.
The nature of the new testimony is not known. The probable importance may be judged from the fact that Assistant District Attorney Thomas D. Lavelle, Police Inspector Armstrong, and Police Slogographer W. A. Irving were sent by District Attorney Pelletier to secure it for presentation tomorrow. The identity of the persons to be examined is not known. It had been supposed that the place where the information was to be secured was Hyannis. Miss Linnell's former home, but indications tonight were that this was not so.
Secret Witnesses.
When the grand jurors returned from luncheon recess they found before them two witnesses, a woman, apparently about twenty-two years old, heavily veiled in public, and a man, probably twenty-eight years of age. Their identity was kept secret.
When their testimony was finished at 2:30 o'clock, the grand jurors filed out, followed by District Attorney Pelletier, who would say only that adjournment had been taken until 2 o'clock tomorrow.
Richeson's preliminary hearing is scheduled for tomorrow morning, the date on which he was to have been married to Miss Violet Edmonds, a wealthy Brookline housewife. It will be before Judge Michael J. Murray, in the municipal court. The defendant is expected to plead in person to the charge of murder, and it is probable that the government, in view of the fact that the grand jury is considering the case, will ask for a further continuance until such time as it may be supposed the grand jurors will have reported.
On the other hand, it is understood that the defense will press for an immediate hearing. An indictment reported by the grand jury would take the matter out of the hands of the grand jury, and the return "No Bill" however, the government may still demand a hearing in the lower court.
Secure Richeson's Love Letters.
Boston, Oct. 29.—Absolute proof that Miss Avis Linnell up to the time of her death was engaged to the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, who is accused of her murder, was furnished the district attorney today by the girl's brother, an unusually enthusiastic adherent of Republicanism. The evidence is in the shape of letters couched in endearing terms and purporting to have been written to the dead girl by the minister. Some of the letters are said to contain denials of an intended marriage to Miss Violet Edmonds.
Now we are at, some people think, the crisis in the Republican party with reference to its continuance in the guidance of the nation," the president said.
"I am hopeful that the good people of the country who know good things when they see they have only chastened us in an effort in order that we may be better hereafter—but with no intention of sifting from shoulders that are fitted to bear the burdens of the present problems and carry them to a successful solution, to those which are untried and which have new theories of action that we do not believe in, and that we don't believe the people believe in.

ITALIAN NOBLES DIE IN BATTLE WITH THE TURKS

Former Ministers Return to Rome from Tripoli Well Pleased With the Work of the Army.

Rome, Oct. 30.—The Italian nobility, like the people, are paying tribute in blood in the African conquest. Word has reached here of the death in action at Homs, Tripoli, of Duke Riccardo Grazioli Lante Della Rovere, a lieutenant in the navy, and of the serious wounding of Count Pomeo Di Campello, a lieutenant of cavalry and gentleman-in-waiting to the king.
Both of these officers were well known sportsmen, the duke an exponent of tennis, and Count Di Campello as master of the fox hounds. The Duke Grazioli was only twenty-five years of age. He has served as a naval officer at Chinese ports since 1908. He returned a few weeks before for the outbreak of the war and expected to spend his vacation with his fiancée. When recalled aboard his ship he was far from his mother, lady-in-waiting to the queen, saying laughingly:
"I am going to fight the Turks."
The duchess fainted when notified by messenger that her son had been wounded, "kissing the faith." The duke, his father, who thus lost his only son, said: "I wish I had been in his place. I envy him."
Italian Army Well Organized.
Rome, Oct. 30.—Former Premier Sonnino, leader of the constitutional opposition in the chamber of deputies, and Count Guicciardini, who was minister of foreign affairs in the former cabinet, have returned from a visit to Tripoli, where they observed the operations of the Italian army and navy. They have refused to give public interviews, but in private conversation have frankly expressed opinions favorable to the Italian expedition.
This is interesting in view of their political positions. Both have declared that they could not have imagined anything so perfect as the organization of Italian forces. They studied the military and naval arrangements and found that preparation had been made to meet any emer-

ALLAN COMPANY ORDERS TWO LINERS

Will Be 15,000 Tons Each, Have Speed of 18 Knots, and Be Used in Montreal-Liverpool Service.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—The Allan line today placed orders for two new vessels which will be placed on the Montreal-Liverpool route. The vessels will be 570 feet in length, will have a tonnage of 15,000 and will be able to maintain a speed of eighteen knots.
Beardmore & Co. received the contract for one vessel and the Fairfield Shipbuilding & Engineering Company were the successful tenderers for the other. The expenditure is $1,000,000 steading.

STRANDED ST. M. LAKE CHAMPLAIN FLOATED

Montreal, Oct. 30.—The C. P. R. steamer Champlain, which had lain stranded on the south side of the channel opposite Lac Beauport for three days, was pulled off safely into deep water today by the united efforts of ten tugs and her own steam and now lies at her wharf.
An enquiry into the cause of the grounding will commence before Superintendent Reilly tomorrow morning. The vessel's hull is apparently unimpaired, it being evidently only the propeller and rudder which are damaged. Divers will make an examination of the vessel tomorrow.

REPORT THAT TURKS HAVE RECAPTURED PART OF TRIPOLI

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30.—The Turkish embassy received unofficial despatches today confirming reports that Turkish troops have recaptured part of the city of Tripoli. These messages come indirectly, and do not represent an official Turkish statement on the subject.
The state department received a message from Colonel John Wood at Tripoli stating that Italian forces have not treated the Arabs as severely as some reports have indicated.

TAFT IS NOT HOPEFUL THAT PARTY WILL WIN PRESIDENT, at Chicago, Inti- mates That the Tide is Strong Against the Repub- licans.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—President Taft surprised a large audience at the dinner of the Hamilton Club today by most of his hearers construed as an admission of the possibility of Republican defeat in the coming election. He was speaking to an unusually enthusiastic audience of Republicans. Those present hastened to ascribe the president's utterances to weariness after his long tour of speaking, and not to any intention of sifting from shoulders that are fitted to bear the burdens of the present problems and carry them to a successful solution, to those which are untried and which have new theories of action that we do not believe in, and that we don't believe the people believe in.

TWO BODIES IN MOTOR BOAT ON P. E. ISLAND SHORE

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 30.—Two bodies came ashore in a gasoline launch at Guernsey Cove this afternoon. The supposition is that they left New Glasgow (N. S.) on Sunday morning and that something went wrong with the engine and they perished. Nothing further can be learned.
"However, so be it, the desire to make a change, we shall loyally support the new government under any condition, with the hope it will insure to the benefit of the country with the condition that, if after one trial the people think they ought to go back to the old party that has served them so well in the progressive days of the nation, they will do so."
After an address, the president retired to his hotel for rest. Though he professed no weariness, the three days' steady strain had told on him and it was a tired man who led the presidential party out of Charlottetown at 5.30 p. m. over the Pennsylvania Railroad for Pittsburg.

BRITISH POLITICS The changes in the British ministry must be enough to shake Mr. Balfour's "foundations of belief." He will find it difficult to understand the significance of Mr. Churchill's accepting the Admiralty office as he does to understand the significance of the Canadian elections.

THE LAW CURE Our American neighbors are subjecting themselves to the discomfort attending a series of attempts to reform, by the sudden application of new laws, a great array of social and political evils which they have encouraged for the last generation or two.

THE STEEL TRUST When the so-called "billion-dollar steel combination" was formed just ten years ago, it took the place of nine other existing combinations in the steel trade.

A GREAT LONDON DIVINE The Reverend Reginald Campbell, pastor of the City Temple, London, has come to the United States to spend three months, and will preach in New York, Baltimore, Washington, Boston and Chicago.

HOW THEY MAKE ROADS IN ONTARIO "The Automobile" gives some information about road building in Ontario that should be of no little interest in New Brunswick where for years politics has kept the roads in bad condition.

WAIT TILL THEY GET ACQUAINTED There will be a great awakening when the tariff reformers of Great Britain and the Conservative leaders of Canada begin to compare notes about what ought to be done to "save" the Empire.

Province. These roads penetrate through 500 townships and 37 counties in Old Ontario; and eight counties in New Ontario.

There are portions of the townships in Old Ontario which still adhere to the feudalistic principle of keeping up the rural roads, the system literally corresponding with that in vogue in certain sections of the States, whereby the farmers "work out their poll-tax," by contributing each his respective share of manual labor.

There is now being built an automobile trunk-line road 300 miles long, from Sudbury to Sault Ste. Marie, and skirting the north shore of Lake Huron, the expense of which falls upon the shoulders of the provinces of Ontario, the counties contributing absolutely nothing.

This highway will constitute the finest automobile route in the Dominion of Canada. Independent of this highway, sixteen counties have put up one-third, the provincial government two-thirds, in an outlay of nearly $4,000,000 for the purpose of building roads. The result is that the highways of these counties are the best in the western portion of the Old Province of Ontario.

Toronto, with its superbly paved streets, took a hand in building outside of its own municipal limits. This is the only city in the Dominion of Canada that has ever extended financial aid for the purpose of constructing automobile roads not within its own confines. But in this case the city contributed $100,000, the Provincial Government gave $100,000 and the southern, or lower, half of York county put in $100,000, making a total of $300,000.

The $100,000 given by Toronto is absolutely independent of the appropriations made for augmenting and maintaining her own city roads. These comprise within the municipal limits 407.57 miles of streets and 115 miles of lanes. There are 292.13 miles of streets which are paved and 145.44 miles are unpaved.

The system of paving with asphalt was introduced in Toronto twenty years ago and every yard of this pavement is laid on a concrete foundation of from four to six inches with a one-third binder course. The specifications demand a two-inch surface of asphalt.

There is no sign yet of union or common purpose among the leaders of the United party. In the heat of the last conflict they threw over the issue of protection. In the past Mr. Balfour has been forced to admit that he preferred to tax the food of the poor than the land of the rich. The Liberals in 1904 raised the cry of "free food," and won their great victory by leading the country to fear that the return of the Conservatives to power would mean bread taxes. This was denied at the time by the Conservative leaders; but afterwards they were forced to confess that such was their programme. They had planned to begin with a scarcely perceptible tax, but all the same they were committed to the principle of desiring to tax the food of the people rather than the land of the rich, and this issue promises to be always unpopular with the English voters.

The inviolable Chamberlain is the only Conservative leader who has always appeared to have the courage of his convictions, and he has definitely committed the party to a tax of two shillings a quarter on foreign corn; five per cent. on foreign meat; five per cent. on foreign dairy produce, and an average of ten per cent. on completely manufactured foreign goods. But the vigorous leader has had no fellow in the anti-free trade campaign, and now one section of the party say they will not consider a tax on corn, another will favor it, and the "last ditchers" section are bent on demonstrating the futility of some other policy. Mr. Balfour is not proving himself an ideal leader for a party in such straits, and he hardly has a party to lead.

It is possible that in the next election little will be heard of the tariff policy of the Unionists. The government programme will take up all attention, and their Irish Home Rule Bill will put every other question into the background. In the meantime, while the opposition to the government are divided as to policy and purpose, the inhabitants of Ulster have demonstrated their eagerness for Home Rule by preparing for an experience of it, separate from the rest of the country.

ing to some extent, more thoughtfully, somewhat less impetuously, but perhaps more steady purpose, in Mr. Roosevelt's footsteps. Mr. Taft has given no force to the Sherman anti-trust law, and he and his advisers have devised other machinery for the cure of Uncle Sam's ailments. The world is still curious over Mr. Taft's venture and, like himself, is somewhat astonished at the magnitude of the task now that it begins to be disclosed clearly.

And things have come to this pass, that today people are asking whether, if Mr. Taft should enforce all the new laws to the full, there would be a sufficient number of jails in the United States to keep in prison all of those who had been convicted as offenders against one law or another. In fact, while Mr. Taft's activities seem to be necessary enough, there are many doctors outside the United States who are becoming afraid that he is like the man who wishes to cure his rheumatism or dyspepsia in a few hours, and who fear that he is treating the symptoms instead of going to the root of the disease.

Mr. Taft's recent efforts, his fusillade against public evils, his indictment of the trusts, his enlargement of certain of the Roosevelt policies, have really only resulted in dislodging more plainly to the world the fact that the raw civilization of the American people themselves are becoming doubtful as to what the verdict will be, and still more doubtful as to what they will do in the light of the verdict when it shall come.

There is less cause for rejoicing in the use to which the results are already being put in British party politics. Already it is being hailed, not only by level imperialists of the baser sort, but by sincere and self-respecting men such as Mr. Bonar Law and Mr. Amery, as a great victory for the order of the words is significant of their place in the affections of the party. Should the Unionists ever come into power, and endeavor to put into operation the Imperial side of the Tariff Reform, they will be rudely un-derceived; the men who financed the recent Conservative campaign are the very men who will fight to the last ditch and the last dollar any attempt to make the British preference a practical reality.

The professor, of course, is repeating an old truth to the effect that protection is alike in all countries, seeking the same objects in every place, and is, therefore, impossible as a force making for Imperial unity. On the contrary, it makes steady for Imperial disintegration.

Earl Grey's speech in London, quoted in yesterday's Telegraph, sheds the light of authoritative and common sense analysis upon the recent Canadian elections, making it clear to the British public that all the talk about the disloyalty of the Liberal party, or even of the disloyal tendencies of its principal policy, amounted merely to canonizing to cover up the attack of the protectionist legions upon the citadel of Canadian government.

That portion of our population which is given to thought about tariff matters has never been so much excited as it is now. There is no form which protection could take more different from that which we tolerate in Canada. There it is secured by the Labor party professedly for the masses of the people; here it is secured by the sinister interests really for their private advantage. Mr. Amery has always fought for that form of protection in this country, until now it is to be carried on by cliques for the benefit of cliques. In Australia they secure and operate the railways in the interests of the people, and to carry their products cheaply. Here the chief railways try to use the Conservative party to complete their power to charge monopoly prices for moving the people and their products. The new protection that Mr. Amery advocates is frankly Socialistic and secured by a collectivist party. Is he ready to form or lead such a party in Canada? The advantages which they secured for Australia are not just those which would expect a Conservative party to toil for in any country. He cannot secure that form of protection for the masses of the bourgeois and standstillers already in his ear. Mr. Amery is merely throwing dust to cover up a projected plan to raise the tariff while pretending to lower it. "Not an increase, but a readjustment of the tariff," said old Sir John. Is that trick to be tried again?

Why should Nova Scotia journals of the Halifax Herald type object to the "exodus" from the Maritime Provinces? They implore the people a few weeks ago to reject a measure that would have done much to increase the prosperity of the Atlantic Provinces—Toronto Globe.

The Right Rev. J. C. Farthing, D.D., Bishop of Montreal, says Ontario clergymen have much to learn from those of Quebec. "The politeness of the French even in the most country villages was a thing that impressed him. When they contrasted the boorishness of the fine bright faces of the English children with the wonderful courtesy of the French children, much as he loved the English children, he thought the comparison was very disadvantageous to them—they were not nearly so polite. Still he himself had yet to learn that he loved himself by being polite to his elders, and even today, as a matter of instinct, he took his hat off to his elders."

British protectionists who shouted over the Conservative victory are now were capitalized at a still higher rate in the trust, made Steel Common a doubtful investment.

The Steel Corporation's acquisition of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company during the past year will probably create the most difficult during the present year. President Roosevelt always freely admitted his own infallibility, but it is generally understood that he was egregiously deceived by Gary and Frick, who came to him as a fountain of justice to get him to decide on the legality of buying up a competitor. The report of the Senate Judiciary Committee made this point very clear.

Mr. Gary is represented as saying: "I wish we could go to some respectable government source and say: 'Here are our facts, here is our property and the cost of production,' and could be told just what prices we could charge and what we could do." He did this after his company had effected its combination and watered its stock. It would be interesting to have seen a trust magazine going to the government at the time the Steel Corporation was formed and asking how much stock it might issue on the merged properties. Yet it is very possible that our governments may soon insist on that degree of oversight, and mark so plain a path for trusts and combines that the wayfarer might, though a fool need not err, or, if ignoring the danger signals, will go to jail.

So far as the evidence indicates, the jury had cause to suspect no one. Nevertheless the verdict, in view of the medical testimony, could not properly avoid a declaration that there was foul play. The law officers of the Crown, of course, will go on investigating. Sooner or later, in all probability, we shall know the whole story. Marley is not easily hidden; the saying that the blood of the victim cries from the ground is by no means a meaningless one.

Canada is now third among the out-growing countries of the world. Russia leads with 886,000,000 bushels, the United States is second with 792,000,000. Canada's crop this year is estimated at 389,000,000. Canada stands fifth among wheat-growing countries.

Canada led in 1901 a population of 5,400,000. Now it is reported to be 7,000,000. The Ottawa Journal carries this rate of increase through the next few decades, with the following results:

Table with 2 columns: Year and Population. 1921: 9,560,000; 1931: 12,580,000; 1941: 16,400,000; 1951: 21,830,000; 1961: 28,220,000.

Almost half the municipalities in Ontario have petitioned the Legislature for the right to tax land more and improvements less, the proportion to be fixed for itself by each municipality. Both rural and urban communities seek this reform. St. John has been assured that the new plan is safe only in rapidly growing towns and cities. Ontario does not believe that it is the customary argument of the reactionaries.

In Mr. Borden's absence, Hon. George E. Foster is acting premier, and an Ottawa newspaper has suggested that this spectacle was conditionally expected to give the Toronto Globe the apoplexy. The Globe denies any tendency in that direction, but says that Sir Mackenzie Bowell's collar must be choking him when he sees "the leader of the nest of traitors so glorified." Other reviewers will be disposed to point out once more that Mr. Foster is not Minister of Finance, and to ask why.

British protectionists who shouted over the Conservative victory are now

The most dangerous sin of the day, says Dr. Campbell, is the worship of Mammon. Clergymen who are seeking for texts may create some useful suggestions in what Dr. Campbell says. In religion he is something of an insurgent, but one is not sure that insurgents have not their uses in the field of the church, and in the much broader field of religion. The churches, fortunately, are beginning to act more and more upon their realization that this world exists and that its every day problems must be dealt with, even though in dealing with them we seem somewhat to neglect the world to come, at least from the standpoint of our fathers.

THE KIN'S COUNTY TRAGEDY The coroner's jury in the Ryder case has returned an "open" verdict. The public will agree with the jurors in deciding that the man is dead; but, important as that is from some viewpoints, it is neither new nor sufficient. As the surgeons who made the autopsy saw that the man could not have killed himself, it follows, beyond dispute, that someone else killed him, and hence we come to that ugly word that the jury did not care to pronounce—murder.

The evidence showed that he was murdered, but not who murdered him. To find the murderer is the business of the Crown's law officers, and the open verdict does not of course, relieve them from the duty of trying to do so. Somebody shot Ryder once, and seeing him still alive, shot him twice more, that he might not live to tell whose face it was he saw behind the pointed gun. The man who heard shots heard no outcry. Though the man lived, after the first shot he probably could not cry out.

NOTE AND COMMENT The doctors differ in regard to the nature of the Kings county tragedy; but those who argue for suicide have some very remarkable circumstances to account for.

The temptation to secure more and more game receipts was not strong enough to lead to a dishonest prolongation of the championship baseball series. Give credit where it is due.

By the recent census, the unit of representation, obtained by dividing Quebec's population of 2,000,079, by 65 (the fixed representation of that Province), is 30,780. On the basis of this unit the future representation of each of the Canadian Provinces will be as shown in the following table:

Table with 2 columns: Province and Representation. Alberta: 127; British Columbia: 127; New Brunswick: 31; Nova Scotia: 15; Ontario: 82; Prince Edward Island: 3; Quebec: 65; Saskatchewan: 15; Yukon: 1.

This gives 231 members, as contrasted with 221 in the present House—an increase of ten seats. The four Western Provinces increase their representation by five members each, while Ontario loses four and the Maritime Provinces six, leaving a net increase of ten.

Two Boats Running on Same Day With No Service Next Day. Saturday, Oct. 28. Many persons are complaining that a great injustice to the traveling public is being done by the present arrangement of the river steamers by which two boats, the Elaine and the Majestic, leave the same morning for Fredericton, both returning the next day, and leaving the people along the river with only a tri-weekly service. The Victoria has been taken off the route and the Elaine is still running on the same days as the Victoria. Dr. L. A. Curry and D. J. Purdy, the respective managers, each place upon the other the responsibility.

THE POPULAR VOTE OF CANADA Government's Majority 37, 774, With Many Places to Hear From ONTARIO DID IT Gave Tories 55,000 Majority, of Which Toronto Contributed 25,000—Five Provinces Went Strong for Liberals, With Parties Pretty Evenly Divided in Two Others.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—Official returns for 194 out of the 221 constituencies for the recent election show an aggregate Conservative vote of 569,670 and an aggregate Liberal vote of 531,286, giving a nominal popular majority for the new government, on the returns so far in, of 37,774.

This, however, will probably be considerably reduced when all the returns from Alberta and Saskatchewan are in. Of the missing constituencies fifteen went Liberal and ten gave Conservative majorities. In addition to this, it is important to note that there were three Liberal electors by acclamation.

If the net Conservative majority in Toronto, totalling some 25,000, were eliminated it is probable that the returns from the rest of the country, when finally completed, will show a popular majority in favor of the Liberals.

Aggregate returns by provinces with the missing constituencies indicated are as follows: Nova Scotia—Government, 50,303; opposition, 52,234. Missing constituency, Cape Breton South. New Brunswick—Government, 34,134; opposition, 35,044. Missing constituencies, Northumberland, Queens-Sunbury. Prince Edward Island—Government, 14,633; opposition, 14,908. Quebec—Government, 149,305; opposition, 160,543. Missing constituencies, Montserrat, Nicolet, Joliet, Yamaska. Ontario—Government, 245,142; opposition, 190,288. Missing constituencies, Durham, Glengarry, W. Middlesex, S. York, E. Simcoe. Manitoba—Government, 28,278; opposition, 29,876. Missing constituencies, Macdonald, Provencher, Winnipeg. Saskatchewan—Government, 25,683; opposition, 38,043. Missing constituencies, Battleford, MacKenzie, Saskatoon. Alberta—Government, 4,875; opposition, 6,340. Constituencies all missing except Medicine Hat. British Columbia—Government, 23,812; opposition, 14,728. Missing constituency, Comox-Atlin. Total government, 509,670; opposition, 531,286.

INTERESTING AGRICULTURAL FEATURES FOR OUR COUNTRY REARERS

STOCK SHEEP TROUBLES

How to Treat for Ticks, Lice and Scab.

That some treatment of the flock for ticks and vermin should be regularly practiced, is conceded by most sheep breeders. It has been found profitable to dip at least once a year, and in most cases twice. Where there is no sign of vermin in the flock, it is always well to treat the sheep as a means of prevention. Ticks, lice and other parasites are quite common in many flocks, and few indeed are the flocks that are entirely free from the former. Scab also crops up from time to time. It is safe to say that the loss in nutrition and wool caused by the ravages of this disease, and the various other sheep parasites, is many times greater than the cost of dipping. It is also safe to state that if every sheep-owner in the country would treat his sheep thoroughly at proper, regular intervals with some good dip, such troubles as scab, ticks and lice would soon be unknown.

sheep loss in flesh. It is, therefore, of greatest importance that dipping be done just previous to the cold weather.

Two methods of treating the sheep have been and are common among sheepmen, dipping (actual immersing in a vat) and pouring, which can be done by the use of an old tea or coffee pot. The latter method is more economical of material, but will require more time to accomplish the work than the former. To do it properly requires three men, one to hold the sheep, one to open or "shed" the wool, and another to pour the liquid. The wool should be "shed" and the liquid applied at intervals of five or six inches over the entire body of the sheep. This will insure thorough work. This method is very good where small flocks are kept, and from 50 to 70 sheep may be treated by three men in a day. A quart of solution is enough for each sheep, if carefully applied, and it will run more freely on the skin if applied warm.

HORTICULTURE STORING CELERY

Trenching, Housing and Pitting Are Three Best Methods.

Celery storing is an occupation which is rather uncertain. Much depends on the condition of the celery at the time of storing, and the weather during the winter. Good healthy celery stored about the middle of October or to the first of November should keep to the middle of April or the first of May. There are three ways of storing celery, which according to my experience, have worked out satisfactorily, namely, trenching, housing and pitting.

FLANTING RHUBARB

Ground for rhubarb should be worked deep enough so that the soil comes to a level with the ground. When the weather becomes cold cover the celery with boards laid flat on the top supported with braces to keep them from pressing too heavily upon the celery. It should be watered and then until the weather becomes severe. Then cover the boards with a litter of straw. If you can have a little frost in the leaves at the time of covering with the little of straw the celery will keep better.

Monday, Oct. 30. Rev. W. W. He agreed heartily, he said, with the utterance of the conference that professional evangelists, who spend their time travelling about, did the church more harm than good. He also endorsed very strongly the condemnation of all believers in the higher criticism. In referring to the wave of feeling which swept the conference against union with the Presbyterians in Canada, he said that he believed that the same thing had taken place as had occurred in the last dominion election, and that the laymen and members cry raised by the English delegates had stamped the conference against merging into the larger body, but that when hard facts came to prevail the vote would be in favor of union.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 27.—Word comes from London that Captain James C. Ley, of H. M. S. Cornwall, has been exonerated by the admiralty from all blame in connection with the loss of a rock by the Cornwall last summer, when the warship went to the rescue of H. M. C. S. Niobe, ashore on the South West Ledges, off Cape Sable. Investigation by the dominion government service showed that the rock which the Cornwall struck was uncharted. The general impression was that the accident would be officially required until the Cornwall returned to her home waters, but the enquiry was made at once. The captain showed the location of the rock was forwarded to the British admiralty, and it showed no rock in the position. The result is the complete exoneration of Capt. Ley.

William Burke Dies in Barn Fire

George Stone Was Horribly Burned Before He Escaped

Men Rushed from Dinner to Release Animals From the Burning Building and Fort Fairfield Man, Blinded in Smoke, Perished Beside a Bullock.

Andover, N. B., Oct. 29.—William Burke, a prominent farmer of Fort Fairfield, was cremated and George Stone, his brother-in-law, was badly burned in a fire that destroyed the dwelling and barn of Mr. Stone, two miles from here, about noon today.

The men were trying to save some of the live stock in the burning barn. Mr. Stone made his escape with his hands and feet badly burned, but Mr. Burke lost his way in the burning building and perished.

Mr. Burke, with his wife and a child of four years, were spending Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Stone and were at dinner when the fire started. Seven horses were saved, when the two men rushed into the barn to save a bull and release a number of hogs.

Stone was driven back by a gust of flame. Burke, however, continued on and groping through the thick smoke for a chance to escape found himself in the basement. He tried to open a door but it was locked and he kicked at the door and shouldered his way out. After the fire the body was found beside the burned bull.

KENT COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE FINISHES BUSINESS

Buctouche, N. B., Oct. 28.—The third session of the Kent County Teachers' Institute opened on Friday morning with the reading of a paper on Neatness and Cleanliness of School Room and Premises, by Miss Mabel Goodfellow. The paper was discussed by Miss McDermott, Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Ferguson.

Miss Buckley next read a very interesting and suggestive paper on Spelling. This paper gave rise to a discussion which was both helpful and interesting.

W. T. Denham, principal of Richibucto Grammar school, then gave his paper on Nature Study, which gave many valuable suggestions for the carrying out of this branch of study.

The institute then divided into a French and English section. Inspector Hebert took the leadership of the French section, and Mr. Denham of the English. In the English section Miss Stella Burns read a very interesting and instructive paper on Methods of Securing a Larger and More Regular Attendance, prepared by Miss Flora Atkinson.

The institute then listened to an instructive paper by Miss McDermott, who was ably illustrated on the board, explaining clearly the elements of percentage. An animated discussion followed, in which the whole section took part.

An invitation from the trustees of Richibucto Grammar school to meet there next year, was accepted, and the following officers elected: W. T. Denham, president; Stella Burns, vice-president; R. P. Steves, secretary; executive committee, Miss Neve Ferguson, Miss Flora Johnson, Miss Conner, Miss Minnie Buckley and Miss Neve Richard.

The following resolutions were then passed: Resolved, that the thanks of the institute be extended to all those who have helped towards the success of the institute, to the teachers, trustees and people of Buctouche for their cordial hospitality.

Resolved, that all those who have contributed to the programme by papers and discussions, especially for the valuable presence and counsel of Inspector Hebert and others, as well as of Dr. Carter, are hereby referred to.

Resolved, that this institute put on record its opinion of the desirability of introducing a record in connection with the regular meetings of the institute.

Resolved, that the Kent county institute at Buctouche assembled, wishes to place on record its opinion of the desirability of introducing a text book for teachers on Canadian Civics, and would respectfully memorialize the board of education to procure such a text book as that of R. S. Jenkins (N. B. edition) for the use of teachers of this province.

"The funniest thing that Bill Nye—my brother-in-law—said," declared Representative Frank Nye, of Minnesota, "was about a sheep that ran away from him. Bill and I were boys when our parents moved to the west. We worked on father's farm. Bill got together enough money to buy a little steer, which we intended to break to harness and work. Several days after we got the steer home he disappeared and we never saw him again. We spent one entire day in the mountains hunting for him. That night, it so happened that when we got home, mother was in the road crying, thinking that we were lost. We had been lost and were hungry, tired and foot-sore."

"Twenty-five years later, when Bill was launching on his newspaper career, I received a letter from him. He was on his way to Europe to tell me that he had been offered a trip around the world by a big daily paper and thought he would accept it. For one particular reason I think I will take it," he wrote, "and that is to see if I can find that steer."—Exchange.

RYDER TRAGEDY STILL A MYSTERY

A kind word to me was the minister. Perhaps they thought that I did not start early enough to search, but I did the best I could. The quarrelling was not as frequent as some people would think it was. I was suspicious and would find fault and say unkind things, but goodness knows I repeat it of now. We always got along all right. He would forgive me, and generally he would think it was his own fault and would come and ask my forgiveness. If people had not talked it over, it would not seem to be nearly so bad. I never refused him food or sent him away. I feel so badly now, that if there was anything of that kind I would far rather tell about it than try to conceal it.

In reply to another question, Mrs. Ryder said that she had never pointed a gun at her husband and that she had never fired a gun or even a revolver in her life, and she would not be able to bear any shots if she had to be made to prove it, and if I can find out who did—

Mr. Fowler's "Nerve mind, don't make threats. It is only to give you an opportunity to set these things right that we ask about them."

With regard to the evidence of Mr. Perry as to the way in which she received the news, she said that her grief was more silent than that of some people.

Mr. explanation of why she had directed Melvin as she did, she said that it was because of the shots having been heard from that direction, and that if she had had time it would be down there. She had told them to be sure to look carefully, but not think she they would find him "dead or alive."

Mr. McDevitt told her on Wednesday evening about hearing the shots from the direction in which your husband had gone. Why did you not go to look for him on Thursday morning?

"Witness—"I can't tell you why, but I kept thinking that he would come home. He was always very kind to me, and if I went into the woods I would lose myself."

Mrs. Ryder said that she did not consider the noise with her husband's absence until Thursday, when the men began to search for him, and then she sent her little girl to McDevitt's shop to ask about the direction in which they were heard.

At this point Mrs. Ryder explained that the little girl had got her feet wet and as she had no rubbers the witness gave her a pair of her own boots to wear over her shoes, and said that would make the tracks so large. When reminded that the child would go to McDevitt's by way of the road and not through the woods, she said that she had told her to go through the woods and that she would make the tracks.

When asked if there was anything more that she would like to say, Mrs. Ryder paused for a few moments and then replied: "There is nothing I want to say except that I am sorry people feel about me the way they do."

Mrs. Fowler—"Nothing has been said by me."

In reply to the coroner, Mrs. Ryder reiterated her statement that she had not seen Fowler but was under the impression that he was under the impression that she had.

Ethel Ryder.

Ethel Ryder, daughter of the late William Ryder, was next called as a witness. The girl gave her age as fourteen, but she had two or three years older. The girl told about the incident when Mrs. Fowler was on the evening before her father's death. When asked about the remarks credited to her mother by O'Regan, she said that she could not remember the words that were used, but that they were mostly lies. She added that there was no quarrel, but her mother was worried because her father had to walk to work. Her father said something about staying home.

When asked if she had seen Mrs. Fowler on the evening before her father's death, she said that she had not.

MR. HAZEN ELECTED AFTER INTERESTING TIME IN COURT

Saturday, Oct. 28.

Hon. J. D. Hazen was declared elected as the representative of the City and County of St. John for the house of commons at 2 p. m. yesterday, his nomination papers being the only ones filed.

An effort was made to nominate Fred Hyatt as the Socialist candidate, but this failed, owing to his nomination papers being incomplete and incorrect.

It was about 120 when Fred Hyatt, who had been announced as the Socialist candidate arrived in the sheriff's office accompanied by J. W

President of Big Manufacturing Concern Says Semi-Weekly Telegraph is Best Advertising Medium He Uses

COST PER INQUIRY is always interesting to advertisers, and the medium that produces the most inquiries and closes the most sales at the smallest cost is the one that all advertisers want to know about.

Here's something interesting about the SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH:

The president of one of the largest concerns of its kind in the country—a firm making an article useful to farmers—said that the Semi-Weekly Telegraph produced better results at less cost per inquiry than any publication he was using—and he uses some 150 in the United States and Canada.

He had the facts and figures tabulated, and according to his figures the average cost per inquiry in the Semi-Weekly Telegraph was 57 1-2c; the next lowest, $1.22; and one of the highest priced farm magazines, over $5.00.

This certainly shows which way the wind blows—and what's more interesting, the Semi-Weekly Telegraph can produce like results for you.

The farmer's trade is well worth going after and progressive advertisers are quickly seeing the value of bidding for this class of business.

A 'phone message or postal to address below will bring you the desired information regarding circulation and rates.

Suppose we talk it over?

The Semi-Weekly Telegraph used in conjunction with the Daily Telegraph and Times makes one of the strongest advertising propositions in the east—and our combination rate makes the 28,000 circulation especially interesting.

WEDDINGS

Brown-Bright.

Friday, Oct. 27. The paragon of the Portland Methodist church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday morning when the pastor, Rev. H. D. Murray, officiated in the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Bright of Carleton, Newfoundland, and Judson H. Brown of Upper Gagetown. The wedding took place at 8:30 o'clock. The bride was handsomely attired in a dress of blue satin with lace trimmings and wore a large white picture hat. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lena Bright, who wore a cream tulle suit with lace trimmings. The groom was supported by John Green.

Hornbrook-Thompson.

At the rectory, Sussex, on Wednesday, Oct. 25, George E. Hornbrook, of Mt. Middleton, and Miss Lucy, eldest daughter of Wm. Thompson, Keirstead Mountain, were united in marriage by Rev. Sewell Neales. The bride was attired in a traveling suit of blue broadcloth with hat to match. The couple were unattended. Many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain. Mr. and Mrs. Hornbrook will reside in Mt. Middleton.

Goldsworthy-Long.

A pretty wedding took place Thursday evening, Oct. 26, when Miss Gertrude Long of South Bay, was united in marriage to William Goldsworthy, of St. John, by Rev. William Townsend, at the home of the bride's parents at South Bay. Miss Long was given away by her brother, Arthur, and the groom was supported. The happy pair received many presents and a large number of their friends were present at the ceremony. They will reside in Military Road, North End. Mr. Goldsworthy is employed by Peters' Sons.

Wiswell-MacAlpine.

A very pretty wedding, which aroused much local interest, took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. MacAlpine, Upper Hammonds, N. B., on October 29, when Miss Ella Beatrice MacAlpine was united in marriage to James T. Wiswell, of Boston. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. C. G. Fincombe,

OBITUARY

Mrs. Isabel Brown.

Mrs. Isabel Brown, nee Oct. 24—At Glasville (N. B.), on Friday, Oct. 20, after a brief illness, Mrs. Isabel Brown, widow of Alex. Brown, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Welsh. Mrs. Brown's maiden name was Scott. She was born in Roxburghshire, Scotland, in November, 1836, and came to Glasville among the earliest settlers of that place, where she resided until her death. She was a member of the Presbyterian church. Besides her step-son, Alex. Brown, with whom she lived after the death of her husband, she is survived by two brothers, Archibald and John Scott, two sons, James and Charles; three daughters, Mrs. Edwin Welsh, Mrs. Hugh Elliott, Mrs. Peter Quinn, and several grandchildren, all of Glasville.

The funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon by Rev. M. H. Manuel, of Florenceville. A brief service was held at the house after a large concourse followed the body to the place of interment in the Glasville Presbyterian cemetery. After burial a sermon was preached in the church to a large and sympathetic audience.

Edward V. B. Foster.

Friday, Oct. 27. The death of Edward V. B. Foster occurred Wednesday night in the General Public Hospital. He had been confined here and had many friends in the city, who will hear with regret of his death. The body was taken to Danmouth (N. S.) on the Halifax express last night for burial.

Mrs. Laura Giles.

A London (Eng.) cable of the 23rd tells of the death of Mrs. Laura Giles, wife of Frank Giles, Mrs. Giles was a daughter of the late Hon. John Robertson of this city and sister-in-law of Mrs. D. D. Robertson of Roxbury, and of the late Mrs. Lewis J. Almon, also of Roxbury. Mr. Giles was one of the organizers of the European & North American Railway from Shelia to St. John, built previous to the L.C.C.R.

Muriel McCaw.

Saturday, Oct. 28. Kean sympathy is being felt for Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McCaw, of Rockland Road, in the death of their little daughter, Muriel, from injuries sustained about two weeks ago when she was burned while playing with matches. She was a twin daughter, and a bright little child of three years. Besides her parents, there are three sisters and one brother, at home.

The accident occurred on Saturday, two weeks ago today, quite early in the morning, when she managed to get some matches into her hand. She was washing her face and her hair when she was playing with them. Her clothing caught, and before the flames could be extinguished by her mother, she had been burned, and seriously burned. The funeral will take place from the home of her parents, 318 Rockland Road, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

She leaves a niece, Miss Sarah Leonard, who is a nurse in this city. The funeral will take place from her late residence, 17 Peters street, tomorrow, the service commencing at 2 o'clock.

GRAND LODGE, S. OF T., HIGHWAYMAN ROUTED

WAKE IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS

Horace Mitton, Knocked Down by Desperate in the Dark, Overcame Assault and Choked Him Into Insensibility and Left Him.

Newcastle, Oct. 27—The Grand Division S. of T. held a public mass meeting last night, addressed by Rev. S. J. McArthur, Mayor Penolin and Ald. Stuart and other members of grand division. There was a good musical and literary programme. Grand Division resumed yesterday forenoon. G. W. P. Elmet Staver was commissioned to enquire into a dispute over the ownership of Temperance Hall at Jacques River.

The semi-annual session was voted for next May, and next annual session for the fourth of the order—Rev. C. Flemington, Peitocadia; Rev. R. H. Staver, Harcourt; Rev. W. J. Kirby, Albert; Rev. W. R. Robinson, St. John. The report of the committee on the restriction of liquor sales to government vendors and demanded much more stringent regulations for such sale.

In the afternoon the report of the committee on the state of the order—Rev. C. Flemington, Peitocadia; Rev. R. H. Staver, Harcourt; Rev. W. J. Kirby, Albert; Rev. W. R. Robinson, St. John. The report of the committee on the restriction of liquor sales to government vendors and demanded much more stringent regulations for such sale.

Our energetic G. W. P. has been in labor abundant throughout the year, visiting many divisions and by constant correspondence keeping in touch with all parts of the work.

Our appointed grand scribe has also done a lot of effective work for the order and for the cause of temperance and social reform, and has proved a worthy successor in the noble and faithful office in the past.

We note with great satisfaction the good work done by our grand patron, and the fact that his membership the importance of young people's work.

Some of our district divisions have done excellent work holding successful public meetings and encouraging local divisions. We cordially welcome our workers in the districts of St. John and Kent and Northumberland on the recent local option victories in the parishes of Lancaster and Nicholbrook.

We realize how much our work could be strengthened and extended by the employment of a lecturer and organizer, and would recommend the Grand Division to authorize the propagation committee to take the matter into consideration at once and appoint such officer, if finances permit.

In many places in this province serious complaints are being made as to the enforcement of the liquor laws as being enforced. In too many cases where fines are imposed according to law, a fine system of periodical charges and fines amounting to a license fee is in vogue. Your committee are of the opinion that local option districts there should be strict enforcement of the law, and we recommend that prompt action be taken to place the responsibility for negligence upon the guilty parties and enforce compliance with the law. To this end we recommend the immediate appointment of a commission by the Grand Division, to consist of five members, St. John and corresponding members in the main centres of population throughout the province whose object shall be to thoroughly investigate all violations of the liquor laws, ascertain who are the guilty parties and make representations accordingly.

Now that three-fourths of the population of the province of N. B. is under local option, it is imperative that the amount of the liquor tax be reduced to a minimum. A strong determined effort should be made to secure complete triumph.

We recommend that the Grand Division call upon the executive of the N. B. Temperance Federation to convene a representative gathering of all temperance orders and societies for the purpose of the goal of prohibition.</
