The details of Fostmaster General Mo-Lelan's election scandal have been published. They reveal a shocking state of affairs. The Yarmouth scandal, about which the tory papers moralized so frequently and at great length, sinks into misignificance in the light of the McLelan outrage. Not only were local public works promised as bribes, but a fabulous sum of money was brought into the contest to purchase votes. Mr. McLelan's business partner, in his sworn testimony, averages the price of votes at five dollars each, and says that he spent fifteen hundred dollars in buying up electors in and about the vicinity of Mr. McLelan's company, the New York boodler and millionaire, is going to prison. The dred dollars in buying up electors in and of the contest he received from Mr. Mo-Lelan two thousand seven hundred dollars. He claims to have written to the minister for this sum in December. The minister was then in Ottawa. Cabinet ministers are invariably at the treasury when their partners demands for money

Other evidence equally as damaging as by one the public are being made aware of the true inwardness of the tory succ in the last election. There are not, we are confident, fifteen tories in parliament who can claim their election on the mer its of their political principles, and their own popularity. #### TEACHERS IN SESSION.

The Annual Meeting of the York Teachers Institute.

Resolution on Arbor Bay-Topics Under Discussion.

Proceedings of Thursday Afternoon and of Friday.

The Thursday afternoon session opened at half-past two o'clock, with the president, Mr. Parkin, in the chair. The attendance was large. The secretary, Mr. Kilburn, being absent, Mr. G. A. Inch, B. A., acted protein. An interesting and instructive paper on industrial drawing and writing was read by Mr. H. O. Creed, of the Normal School. A discussion of the paper followed, in which the president, Inspector Oakes, Mr. Inch and Miss Thorne took part. Mr. Rodgers, Principal of the Model School, followed with a paper on school ornamentation, which engaged the statention of the meeting adjourned until Friday morning.

On Friday morning.

On Friday morning.

Wherear it is the unanimous opinion of the teachers after which the meeting adjourned, seconded by Mr. G. Charles of the last two sessions which were approved. Mr. Brandscombe moved, seconded by Mr. G. Charles of the season.

After some discussion the resolution was adopted. Many were of the opinion that Arbor Day in York and Carleton Counties, at least, was too late in the season.

Mr. Kilburn moved a resolution in regard to the Educational Raview. The motion was seconded by Mr. Kelly in a few good remarks. Swearal members of the institute showed, very clearly, the undeniable claims of this journal on the teachers of this province. It was only one dollar a year; and it was more than compound interest in the investment. It was the best Educational paper printed in Canada.

Next came in order a very excellent address on "Teaching the principles of civil government in schools" by Mr. Geo. R. Parkin, A. M., principal of the Collegiate school. The speaker dealt with his subject in a masterly way and was closely followed throughout. Boys should be trained in such a way that when they came to manhood they would be in a position to deposit an intelligent, independent vote. They should clearly understand the basis of the government and the functions for which it existed. History and many other subjects should be utilized to instil a spirit of patriotism, which was the backbone of a nation's strength.

As Mr. Mullin, of the Normal school, could not well be present in the afternoon, it was thought advisable to defer discussion on this subject till the next session. Accordingly the president introduced that gentleman, who, not having had an opportunity of preparing a paper, delivered an extempors address on "What books should teachers read," which was well received. The Bible was the first great book to be read in and out of school. The Great Teacher of al

The fourth and last session was called to order by the president at 2 o'clock. After preliminary business, the discussion on Mr. Parkin's paper was commenced by Mr. B. C. Foster, B. A., a former teacher of this county, Mr. F. was followed by Mr. Geo. A. Inak, B. A., principal of the York Street school, Mr. Meagher and others.

Mr. Parkin then opened the discussion on Principal Mullin's address and was followed by Measz. Day, Meacher, Inch. and Miss.
